New Jersey officers said Gorch was not implicated.

Dissention Spreads In Farm Strike Move

RETAIL PRICE LEVELS WILL BE FIXED

Self-Rule Seen For Industries

ENFORCEMENT POWERS WILL DEPEND ON RESPONSIBILITY

BY JAMES COPE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—NRA's code enforcement policy definitely manifested today that industries will be entrusted with self-government only to the extent that they show capacity and responsibility.

To help them so organize that they can be depended upon to do their own policing, Hugh S. Johnson has detailed General Thomas S. Hammond of Chicago, who until joining the NRA staff was president of the Illinois Manufacturers association.

Groups Held Too Weak

Out of the experience of the past four months, NRA officials do not, except in relatively few cases, regard existing trade associations as strong enough or sufficiently well integrated as yet to take over full government of their component firms in the small industrial republic created by each code.

This attitude was displayed clearly in the newly drafted regulations for the working of a nation-wide compliance network, whose operation essentially is based upon complaints filed by any aggrieved citizen.

Complaints are not to be referred to trade agencies by the district officers of the NRA compliance section except as the agencies have been named to them by Johnson. Furthermore, provision was made whereby the associations or trade committees will be given certain types of cases to adjust and not others, depending upon their capacity for regulating some particular type of activity.

Will Accept Complaints

For the present, instructions sent out to regional compliance officers disclose Johnson's intention to maintain a big staff to give thorough care to each complaint received. Every citizen will have access at his post office to blanks for filing complaints which preferably should be sworn to before a notary or witnessed by a party informed of the facts. These forms will go to district managers for action. Every complainant will receive a reply by mail.

The district managers have been warned that they are to act as adjusters rather than enforcement men—no strong arm stuff. If they get no adjustment, the case comes to Washington for action by the code authority of the industry involved, for further conciliation attempts, or for discipline.

Man Arrested For Hoarding $10,000

BOSTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Gerald T. Driscoll, 32, a city employe, was arrested today on a secret federal indictment charging him with hoarding $10,000 in gold.

The indictment charged Driscoll withdrew $5,000 in gold from the federal reserve bank on March 2 and $5,000 on March 3 and that he failed to file a return on the withdrawals with federal authorities.

Driscoll will be arraigned later today and federal authorities said they were prepared to serve a similar indictment on a second person.

MORE TROUBLE FOR HAVANA

AMERICAN IS HELD AS PRISONER; ANOTHER APPEALS FOR AID

By EDMUND A. CHESTER

HAVANA, Oct. 27. (AP)—Two Americans were involved today in strikes and uprisings against the government marked by widespread outbreaks of violence.

One, C. M. Jervis, was held prisoner by workers who took over the Alto Cedro sugar mill of which he was manager, in Oriente providence.

Asks For Protection

The other, Florencio Gerena, appealed for protection from gangs at a Mercedes sugar mill.

Fears of an island-wide general strike moved the government to renewed vigilance in the midst of continued disorders such as those in which the Americans were endangered.

Plans for the general strike, it was reported here, were being laid by communists.

Authorities Busy

But the current strike difficulties in Havana kept authorities busy as they sought to forestall moves toward further uprisings.

A huge bomb tossed from a speeding automobile did extensive damage to two buildings in midtown Havana at about 1:30 o'clock this morning. No one was injured.

A hosiery store in one of the damaged structures was owned by Angel Cambo, who also is owner of a radio station used by the government.

ORDER DUE TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—E. O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, said here today the commission would issue an order tonight in Austin cutting the state's allowable oil production to 875,000 barrels daily, a decrease of 90,000 barrels under the present figure.

Three Arrested On Indictments Here

Three persons indicted recently by a 99th district court grand jury were arrested Thursday.

Mrs. J. A. Ray, billed for liquor law violation, was freed Thursday in bail of $1,000 after being taken into custody at Slaton.

W. Duncan, indicted for forgery and passing, was arrested Thursday at Floydada, and posted bond of $1,000 before the day's end.

Dutch Burnett, arrested in Lubbock upon an indictment for burglary of a Slaton house, still was in county jail this morning in lieu of $1,000 bond.

MINIMUMS ARE TO BE MADE MANDATORY

RETAIL GROUP TO SET AMOUNT OF MARK-UP EARLY NEXT WEEK

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, said today at a press conference that the retail trade authority set up under the general code which becomes effective next Monday would fix during the first part of the week the amount of "mark-up" to be charged in all retail sales.

The minimum price provisions when fixed, he said, will be mandatory on all lines of trade coming under the code. This statement was made in reply to a question as to how phraseology of the code, which states that a retailer "should" charge an allowance for labor in his prices on top of the invoice cost of goods, was to be interpreted.

About 10 Per Cent

Johnson repeated a previous statement that the allowance above invoice would be approximately 10 per cent, saying the one advantage of this figure was that it definitely did not include any profit to any merchant whatsoever.

To a suggestion that chain interests might go to court if the mark-up were made mandatory, Johnson said:

"That's all right, we are not afraid of anyone taking it to court."

In reply to questions as to whether food or groceries sold in drug stores, department stores and other establishments not coming under the food code handled by the farm administration would be covered by the loss limitation provisions of the NRA retail code Johnson said:

Must Go All The Way

"I am going to insist that a store go all the way under a code and that its operations not be split up under more than one agreement."

He promised to appoint an authority of three members for the separate drug retail code as soon as possible, probably Monday or Tuesday.

HUGE PROFITS OF BANKS REVEALED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Evidence that Albert H. Wiggin's personal companies had profits of more than $10,000,000 from transactions in Chase National bank stock was presented today to senate investigators.

The figure was presented by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel but Wiggin said he would have to verify it later. He is retired chairman of the bank. Pecora said the profits covered the five year period 1928 to 1932 when the Chase Securities corporation, an affiliate of the bank, was active in pools in the bank stock.

Professor Says NRA Validity In Doubt

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 27. (AP)—The overwhelming weight of decisions of the United States supreme court for the past three decades is against the validity of the National Recovery act, Dr. Ashley Sellers Emory university law professor, said in a speech prepared for delivery today at the Southern Political Science association convention.

Professor Sellers said however there is a chance the high court will sustain the act, "prompted by a situation of fact and not of the law, . . . unless the court invokes such quaint authority as 'necessity knows no law,' or, more legally, 'the safety of the people is the supreme.'"

Mercury Drops To 37 Degrees Here

The mercury dropped to 37 degrees in Lubbock and vicinity last night, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment station east of town, reported. No evidence of frost was noted, he said.

ROOSEVELT STAYS NEGRO EXECUTION AT ELEVENTH HOUR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Two minutes before he was scheduled to die in the electric chair for murder, William Washington, negro, was granted a two-day reprieve today through a personal telephone call by President Roosevelt.

Edward Robinson, another negro convicted of the murder of Mannie Solomon, Washington taxicab driver shot in a holdup on July 28, 1931, was electrocuted a few minutes later without knowing the life of his companion had been spared temporarily.

Thomas M. Rives, superintendent of the District of Columbia jail, was waiting in his office while final preparations for the execution were made. The telephone jangled. It was the president speaking from his bed.

Mr. Roosevelt acted after receiving a recommendation from James C. Biggs, the solicitor general, that a reprieve be granted so that fresh evidence could be investigated.

GOLD PRICE IS HIKED AGAIN

RFC PURCHASE OFFER INCREASED BY 22 CENTS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—A price of $31.76 an ounce for Reconstruction corporation purchases of newly mined gold was announced today at the treasury, 22 cents higher than that of yesterday and 66 cents above the London quotation.

The price for the metal had been freshly advanced on the London market, to the equivalent of $31.10 an ounce on the basis of the $4.74-1-4 valuation of the pound at the opening there.

Price Hiked Daily

The Roosevelt administration, with each successive daily quotation, has set the domestic price higher.

Wednesday, with the inauguration of this policy, a price of $31.36 was established, and yesterday it was $31.54.

These figures compared with the following world prices: $31.09, $31.06 and $31.10.

Administration officials would not reveal whether any particular formula had been prescribed for the determination of the daily figure.

As on yesterday and the day before, today's quotation was decided upon by Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction corporation, and Henry Morgenthau, jr., representing the president, meeting with Acting Secretary Dean Acheson at the treasury.

ANTI-HOLIDAY UNIT FORMED BY FARMERS

MORE DAIRIES CLOSED AS PLANS ARE MADE FOR MILK EMBARGO

(By The Associated Press)

Dissention has entered the ranks of some farmers in the strike called by the National Farmers' Holiday association to boost prices.

An anti-holiday association was the object of a group of southwestern Iowa farmers. They met at Glenwood, and took preliminary steps yesterday to form an organization whose business would be to keep farm products going to market.

More Dairies Closed

Meanwhile, in Wisconsin, where the cooperative milk pool went ahead with preparations for a milk embargo, more dairies were closed and others were expected to shut down later.

The milk pool embargo, scheduled to start Tuesday, was opposed by the directors of the Milwaukee Cooperative Producers' association.

Other developments were:

The executive committee of the Iowa Farm Bureau federation approved the administration's corn-hog reduction program, offering aid.

Opposition to picketing was declared by the executive board of the Nebraska Farmers' Holiday association.

National guardsmen deputized by Sheriff William Demoss of Mills county to keep open a bridge over the Missouri river at Portsmouth, Neb., were withdrawn.

THACKER'S LIFE TERM IS UPHELD

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 27. (AP)—Dr. Richard E. Thacker's life imprisonment sentence for murder in connection with the death of Ruth Hall of Bethany, allegedly as a result of an illegal operation, was affirmed today by the criminal court of appeals.

The physician, formerly an army major, was convicted last November. He is in McAlester penitentiary.

COLD SPELL AND AMATEUR SLEUTHING CAUSE TARRANT NUDISTS TO DISBAND

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27.—Amateur sleuthing by curious persons who are using coon dogs and the further fact that "our bodies are not accustomed to the approaching cold spell" have influenced Tarrant county's nudists in their decision to disband until next spring.

The fact was revealed today by the "head man" in the colony, who issued a prepared statement through an intermediary who first announced the existence of the group, several miles from Benbrook.

The statement, dictated over the telephone by the intermediary, who himself has visited the colony, follows:

"Although we have none of the historic background for the yap-yap of bloodhounds at our heels as we dash across the river of ice floes, we know that our colony cannot remain private very long when it is being hunted for with packs of coon dogs. Also amateur sleuthing by news reporters may accidentally bring to light the exact location of the colony. Therefore, for this reason, and for the reason that we have not yet accustomed our bodies to the approaching cold spell, we are terminating our outdoor activities as an ensemble until early next spring.

"Meanwhile our entire membership will still be pursuing directed methods of indoor sunshine by basking under violet ray machines in homes and gymnasiums throughout the city.

"Our colony is not, as some uninformed people seem to think, a public fan dance. If it were, we would be only too glad to admit the 361 without delay and insist that 'each bring a friend'."

Lindy Returns To Paris Where He Became Hero; Hops Secretly In Storm

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 27—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, flying secretly through a storm, came back to Paris, where the world made him a hero six years ago, and today had his first normal glimpse of the city.

In contrast with his 1927 trip when he flew alone, he came out of the night shrouded foggy sky last night accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh to alight at the Les Mureaux naval airport on the Seine, 25 miles west of here.

The takeoff had been made at Inverness, Scotland.

The couple then was brought unnoticed to the Hotel Crillon in this city, recognized only by airport officers who had been ordered to maintain secrecy.

The colonel's first daylight view of Paris when it was not cheering him was a fleeting glimpse as he returned to Les Mureaux in the automobile of Pierre Cot, air minister, to look over his plane.

He slipped almost unobserved and bareheaded out a side door of the hotel, strode quickly to the automobile, crossed the city, remained twenty minutes at the airport and then returned to Paris.

The Lindberghs slept until nearly 9 o'clock and had breakfast in their room. Then they received a visit from American embassy officials and planned what Lindbergh was said to have described as a "few days" visit.

Lindbergh told friends that "I came to see Paris," adding that he did not know how long he would stay nor where he would go from here. He made it plain that he did not wish any official functions nor any public attention.

MARKETS FEAR REGULATIONS

WALL STREET HAS THE JITTERS AS FEDERAL CONTROL LOOMS

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP) — Wall Street is beginning to have the jitters over the prospect of federal legislation to regulate stock exchanges.

The conference of Richard Whitney, president of the exchange with President Roosevelt at the White House yesterday, although the subject of their discussion was not disclosed, caused not a few twinges of uneasiness in brokerage quarters, for Mr. Roosevelt is known to be preparing to ask congress for legislation to bring the exchange under government control.

Move To Canada Talked

Talk of "driving the business to Canada" is again heard in board rooms, but it is acknowledged the power of the government to control foreign exchange transactions which has actually been in use since the March banking holiday, might well tend to thwart a flight of the American security trading business across the border.

With the conviction definitely growing that the long abhorred regulation is on the way, some commission houses are preparing to be ready to alter their organizations if appears that the volume of trading is to be substantially reduced.

Some houses are understood to have refused to renew their leases, save with protecting clauses which will permit them to give up part of their office space on short notice.

Pension Given Up Due To Criticism

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Albert H. Wiggin said today one of the reasons he had given up his compensation of $100,000 a year as retired chairman of the Chase National bank was because of criticism from stockholders.

Chase officials said that many protests had been received from stockholders following disclosure by senate investigators that Wiggin was receiving $100,000 a year for life.

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today signed a bill appropriating $20,000 for defense against an appeal by the Lone Star Gas company from an order of the Texas railroad commission reducing city gate rates of the utility from 40 to 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

The bill would authorize employment of an additional assistant attorney general to represent the state.

OPPOSES INFLATION

OTTAWA, Oct. 27. (AP)—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett believes "no country that has once experienced inflation of its currency would ever want to go through it again," he said here last night.

RETAIL TRADE SHOWS GAIN

BUSINESS CONDITIONS GENERALLY BRIGHTER FOR THIS WEEK

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—While general business conditions were reported as somewhat brighter this week in nearly all districts, said the Dun & Bradstreet weekly trade review today, the most vigorous upturn occurred in retail distribution, which was stimulated by cooler weather.

Regarding the industrial trend, the review said that the indices are "somewhat more favorable although lacking sufficient uniformity to establish a definite trend."

Trade Takes Spurt

"Retail trade," continued the review, "responded to the first touch of wintry weather, which gave a sudden spurt to the movement of seasonal merchandise, although department store sales depended heavily on profit-sharing sales to move stocks.

"A further incentive to buying was provided by the continuous emphasis placed by store advertising on the imminence of higher prices. Textile lines still are the most active, with women's wear, including coats and suits, selling better than last week.

"Wholesale orders have fallen below the total for the corresponding week last year, even though the volume of merchandise moved was larger because of shipments on old contracts.

"Industrial operations are being increased gradually, as employment was slightly higher than a week earlier, but general operating schedules, however, are expected to continue at a diminished rate until labor disturbances will have been cleared up."

DEADLINE FOR NRA FIGURES TO BE SET

ATTORNEY GENERAL TO GET CASE IF DATA NOT FURNISHED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Hugh S. Johnson said today that if Henry Ford fails to submit figures requested by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce within the time to be set, "I'll turn the case over to the attorney general."

At a press conference, the NRA executive intimated that the deadline would be November 7; but cautioned he was not definitely certain that date would be the one fixed.

Ford Held Ineligible

However, he said, while a violation of that kind probably would be conclusive evidence of non compliance with the automobile code on the part of Ford, he does not consider the manufacturer now eligible to bid on government contracts.

He asserted in response to questions:

"No, I don't think he's eligible because Edsel Ford told me when I

INJUSTICE CLAIMED

DETROIT, Oct. 27. —(AP)—The Ford Motor Co., today described as "an act of injustice" the statement of Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator that he would "turn the case over to the attorney general" if Henry Ford fails to submit figures requested by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, under the terms of the NRA auto code.

Charging Johnson with assuming the "airs of a dictator," a company statement said that Johnson "should fortify himself with evidence that Henry Ford has refused compliance with government requirements."

TOY COLLECTION TO BE TOMORROW

Toys contributed by Lubbock residents will be collected Saturday morning by Boy Scouts, who will take them to the fire department, which will repair and renovate them for distribution to poor children at a Lions club-Lindsey theater party Christmas eve morning.

Few persons this morning had reported they had castaway or broken playthings to give. Leaders in the drive emphasized that whether or not many Lubbock children had toys for Christmas would depend upon public response in the campaign, the third here. Persons having toys were asked to telephone No. 695 and give their addresses. Collection of toys will begin at 9 a. m.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be controlled. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

Absolute Zero Is Almost Achieved

KHARKOV, U. S. S. R. (AP)—The "absolute zero" in low temperatures has been almost achieved by the Laboratory of Low Temperatures of the Ukrainian Physico-Technical Institute here. The known limit is about 274 degrees minus Centigrade, and the Soviet laboratory reports attaining 271 degrees minus. This previously has been exceeded by the low temperatures laboratory at Leyden, Holland, where 272.92 degrees was achieved. At 265 degrees, the Kharkiv savants report, hydrogen and helium gases liquify and then become solid, and the resistance of metals to electric current diminishes almost to zero.

The gravitational pull of the new planet, Pluto, which was discovered in 1930, was noted long before the planet was ever seen by telescope.

CALIFORNIA WINERIES AWAIT REPEAL PASSAGE WITH BIG STOCK ON HAND; 50,000,000 GALLONS NOW IN STORAGE

By W. A. WELLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27. (AP)—With the highways of the producing districts cluttered with grape-laden trucks bearing the 1933 crop to the wineries, the crushing season has reached its peak in California with prospects of a 30,000,000 gallon vintage.

Revised estimates of the Wine Producers' association may show a few million gallons below this latest calculation, but in any event the state would face repeal with an excess of 50,000,000 gallons in storage or process of fermentation.

The more than 170 bonded wineries have on hand approximately 12,700,000 gallons of dry wine (14 per cent of alcohol and under) and 10,250,000 sweet or fortified wines with an alcoholic content of 14 to 24 per cent by weight. This is in addition to about 55,000 gallons of champagne.

Investments Increase

Feverish activity in the state's wine-making industry has brought about investments of large sums in plants, warehouses and wine making machinery. Three of the larger plants have been enlarged to a storage capacity of approximately 3,000,000 gallons each, old wineries are being re-opened and some new ones being established.

As a result of the rush to stock up in contemplation of repeal and the perpendicular drop in fresh grape orders from the big consuming areas of the east railroad revenues for the transportation of wine grapes have decreased to approximately 50 per cent of last year. A somewhat smaller crop yield is a contributing factor.

The lessened demand from the east is attributed in wine-making circles here to the reluctance of the illicit trade to make wine in view of the uncertainty of disposing of their product in the event of repeal.

Claret Leads

If the wine in process goes into the same blends as usual, claret will be the ranking product. Of the wines in storage it leads by a considerable margin, there being approximately 5,220,000 gallons of aged vintages on hand.

Sherry comes next with 3,899,000 gallons, followed by 3,294,000 gallons of riesling, 3,727,000 gallons of port and from a million to a million and a half gallons each of angelica, muscatel and zinfandel. E. M. Sheehan, director of the Wine Producers' association, says California will be prepared to market a quantity this year which would fill the demands of a normal year prior to prohibition. The state used to produce about 94 per cent of the total amount made in the United States.

Millions of gallons of wine are being held by California wineries in anticipation of repeal—and the industry is booming. Miss Nancy Pellieri, of the Italian Swiss colony, displays some of the containers used to hold the California vintages.

NAZARENES PLAN SPECIAL EVENTS

Observance of a silver jubilee anniversary will be begun Sunday by the Lubbock Church of the Nazarene and other churches of the denomination, Rev. R. M. Hocker, pastor of the church here, announced.

The observance will mark the 25th anniversary of the merger at Pilot Point, Tex., of the Pentecostal churches of eastern United States, the Holiness Church of Christ of the Southern States, and the Nazarene church of the western states. The program will continue for five Sundays.

"After the union of the three bodies now composing the Church of the Nazarene, the total membership amounted to 10,414, with 606 ministers and 228 churches," said Rev. Mr. Hocker. "Now the membership is well over 100,000, there are 3,335 ministers and 1,661 churches."

According to the local minister the first Nazarene church was founded by the late Dr. Phineas F. Bresee at Los Angeles, Calif., in October, 1895. For many years Doctor Bresee was a Methodist minister.

Each of the five Sundays during the observance will be devoted to some phase of religious work. Rev. Mr. Hocker said he hoped to have 250 persons attending Sunday school at his church Sunday morning.

Sky High Gasoline Quality

"HIGHEST TEST" AND anti-knock at the price of ordinary gasoline

GRAVITY FROM 63.5° TO 69.5°

Phillips 66

EVERY speed and stunt plane at the International Air Races . . . every passenger plane in the country . . . fighting planes and private Pullmans of the air . . . all use high test gasoline!

When you wonder how to get airplane-engine efficiency out of the motor in your car, remember that "Highest Test" is the distinguishing characteristic of Phillips 66.

Every time you PHILL-UP with PHILLIPS, you get this higher test, plus higher anti-knock, plus CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. This is an unbeatable trio of premium qualities which cost you not a single penny of premium price.

Just one trial tankful will prove that this greater gasoline is different. And you can see this advertisement is unlike others, because we give you definite figures instead of indefinite claims. The figures at the left tell you accurately how high the test is, give you the exact anti-knock rating.

There is real zip and go in every drop of this quality gasoline, extra pep and knockless power. Longer mileage, too. No injurious chemicals to attack cylinder walls. No surplus gum to stick the valves. No excess carbon to foul the plugs.

Every gallon is scientifically pre-adjusted to match the weather when and where you buy it. That is how CONTROLLED VOLATILITY insures full power and mileage despite any changes in climate.

Because Phillips always gives exceptional value, sales of Phillips 66 products in the last twelve months averaged more than one million four hundred and forty-nine thousand (1,449,000) gallons per day. And these figures are headed steadily upward, as thousands of new customers discover the improvement in performance which proves that it saves money to get gas at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

Carlsbad Caverns' Bats Set A Record

CARLSBAD, N. M., Oct. 27—The daily flight of bats from the Carlsbad cavern during the late summer and early fall has been the greatest in years, Superintendent Thomas Boles believes.

Boles estimated there have been between 2,000,000 and 2,500,000 bats in recent flights. He said the number was probably 1,000,000 more than last year, and expressed the belief that many of the bats were "transients" attracted to this area by multitudes of moths and night insects.

The bats occupy a cavern half a mile long which branches to the left from the main entrance through which visitors are admitted to the cave. They spend the day inside, but emerge between sundown and dark to feed on insects, then return to the cave before daylight.

The number of divorces in England has increased 500 per cent in the past 20 years; one marriage in every 83 now ends in a break.

GLASS THAT WILL RESIST CORROSION IS USED AS A NEW AID FOR VISION

Since tears corrode, glass that resists corrosion is used in the new contact eyeball glasses. These fit directly over the eyeball, under the lids, as the picture above suggests. Below is a photograph of one type of the new glasses.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Tears of pity or anger alike are so corrosive that the new, contact eyeball glasses are made of corrosion-resistant glass.

These glasses are thin discs fitting under the eyelids, lying directly on the eyeball. Tear corrosion and aids to vision are described by Dr. Olga Sitchevska, one of the first American physicians to experiment with the new glasses.

The eyeball glasses are either colored to imitate real eyes, even down to the almost invisible veins, or transparent. In either case their effect is to add lustre to the eye without otherwise being conspicuous. They move with the eyeball.

Vision Aided

Dr. Sitchevska said that persons who barely could distinguish the number of fingers held in front of their eyes have regained normal vision with contact glasses. These patients all had conical cornea, a condition in which the cornea bulges in the center.

"Some actors and lecturers," she added, "wear them on the stage or platform for the sake of better appearance. The leader of a nationally known symphony orchestra in this country wears contact glasses while conducting.

For normal eyes they have one specialty full of possibilities, the widening of the field of vision. Ordinarily the eye can focus distinctly upon an area only about the size of a half dollar held at newspaper reading distance.

Because they enlarge the field of peripheral vision, Dr. Sitchevska says they will be useful to speed racers and aviators. Architects, she thinks, might find them useful to see a wider perspective.

Protect Eyes

Neither rain nor fog condenses on them. They keep dust from the eye and protect it from fumes and burns of chemicals. Tinted, the contact glasses shield against sun glare and snow blindness.

"I have never had a case of the glass breaking in the eye," the physician said. "The patient might fall and break it, but the danger is slight as the glass is so close to the cornea.

"However, I do not advise the extensive use of these glasses, as it means the presence of a foreign body in the eye which does not belong there. Recently one of my patients had his eyes irritated to such an extent that he had to discontinue the wearing of the glasses for a few weeks.

Taken Out At Night

"Patients have been able to wear them from six to 14 hours a day. Usually only one lens is worn at a time to prevent irritation, and the glass is removed at night."

The wearer, before donning one, dips it like a shallow cup in a saline solution, some of which remains between glass and eyeball. The fluid acts as a lubricant but it also fills out unevenness of the cornea and thereby eliminates some types of astigmatism.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 27 (AP) —Two Sundays a week, instead of one, when people will crowd the nation's street railway cars to amusement parks, ball grounds and the theater, and thus increase revenue to city transportation systems is foreseen by Walter A. CROP PLAN TO BE PROPOSED

FOREIGN SALES URGED IN EXCHANGE FOR SILVER MONEY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. —(AP)— Representative Dies (D-Tex.) said he would urge President Roosevelt to put into immediate effect a program for sale abroad of wheat and cotton in exchange for silver to be accepted by this country "at the agreed price of 75 cents an ounce."

Under the proposed plan, United States commercial attaches and trade commissioners abroad would act as selling agents against the 75 cent silver so obtained, silver certificates would be issued. American producers would be paid with the certificates at the rate of "two times the world market price" for cotton and wheat, Dies said.

Rejected By Congress

He unsuccessfully proposed a similar program in the last congress. It could be put into effect now, he asserted, by executive order.

Dies said the program would bring silver coin and bullion into the treasury at a rapid rate and would have the effect of immediately raising the price of silver.

"It cannot be said that this new money would be fiat money," he explained, "because it would be redeemable in silver."

The advantages of the plan he described as follows:

Would Cut Surplus

"The farmers could dispose of their surplus cotton and wheat abroad without the necessity of destroying it."

"The farmer would be paid two times the market price for his cotton and wheat.

"This would not cost the taxpayers anything because the government would issue new money based upon the silver bullion or coin obtained in exchange for cotton and wheat.

"The acceptance of this silver bullion or coin at more than twice the present market price and the removal of silver from the world market would immediately restore the normal price of silver."

STUDY VOCABULARY

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Should a South Bend policeman overhear a stranger speaking of "pegging the flattie," he probably would arrive at the conclusion that the speaker is a member of the underworld. The policemen have a new handbook, in which is a whole section devoted to gangland slang. "Pegging a flattie" is translated in the book to mean, "recognizing a policeman."

'Labor Day' Workers In Russian Wheat Belt

An abundant harvest coupled with a "piece-work" system which provides pay reckoned on the basis of a standardized "labor day" rewards peasants on the collective farms of the Ukraine and North Caucasus in the Soviet Union. A crew of women is shown operating a machine which cleans and sacks grain. At the left is a typical Caucasian peasant farm leader. The women at the right is a field worker.

POLITICAL GOSSIP AND DRAMATIZING NEWS STORIES DISCUSSED BY EDITORS

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Oct. 27. (AP) —Political gossip columns purporting to tell the story behind the news, and the dramatizing of news stories were topics under consideration by the managing editors of Associated Press newspapers, at their annual meeting here today.

Roy A. Roberts of the Kansas City Star and Times, a veteran Washington correspondent, declared that never before was it so difficult to determine which is news and which is ballyhoo, and said he believed the Associated Press should hold fast to its creed of accuracy and leave gossip columns to special writers.

Warns Against Gossip

Roy J. Dunlap of the St. Paul Dispatch-Pioneer Press also warned against the gossip type of news coverages. Byron Price, chief of the Washington bureau, told of some of the complexities of covering the national capital. Jackson S. Elliott assistant general manager of the Associated Press, compared the writing of Washington political news with that of thirty years ago.

In discussing the value of the organization's record for unbiased handling of news, Mr. Elliott told the managing editors that there never had been a libel suit verdict against the Associated Press during its more than forty years of existence.

Marvin Creager of the Milwaukee Journal made the observation that radio presentation of news events had developed the public appetite for a dramatic presentation of stories which the newspapers might well consider in the development of writing.

The managing editors, representing more than a hundred newspapers throughout the United States, went into numerous group sessions today to work out various problems of news coverage and development.

Canada and the United States together have more than 12,680 directed playgrounds in 1012 cities.

Drake Estate Fund Contributor Called

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 27 (AP)— A. M. Bragstad, secretary of the Canton, S. D., Chamber of Commerce, and a Drake estate fund contributor, was summoned to the witness stand today for cross-examination in the trial of Oscar M. Hartzell.

Hartzell is being tried on 13 counts of using the mails to defraud in connection with his activities in establishing a claim to the estate of the English sea captain.

Bagstad testified he made 18 contributions and attended three meetings of donors to the fund called by Amos Hartsock of Laurens, Ia., one of Hartzell's agents.

The narrative of meetings of "heirs" to the fabulous estate and of donators of a few dollars to several thousands by them also has been unfolded by a doctor, a washerwoman, a plumber and a blacksmith.

N. E. Landis, Mallard, Ia., blacksmith, testified he received $12,000 for the fund in addition to $700 he himself donated.

WINTRY VISIT PLAYING OUT

MODERATION SEEN IN EAST; MIDDLEWEST WILL BE COLDER

(By The Associated Press)

The weather man apparently was mixing a hodgepodge for the nation's meteorological maps today.

In the east there was a moderation of the premature attack of wintry weather, while in the middlewest lower temperatures were the order of the day.

Blustering winds that swept the northeastern states apparently were spending themselves far out in the Atlantic, but small craft on the Great Lakes were warned of fresh to strong winds. More moderate temperature readings in the south which also felt the touch of the cold snap, were promised, with a prediction they would be followed by rain.

Local rains and snow in some portions of the middlewest were also predicted.

A disturbance that was over North Dakota Wednesday night was reported advancing eastward over the Lake Superior region, with a trough extending south and southwestward to Arkansas and thence into the valley of the Rio Grande.

Young Demos Will Meet In Lubbock

A county-wide and regional meeting here the first two weeks of November was announced Thursday by Lubbock County Young Democrats.

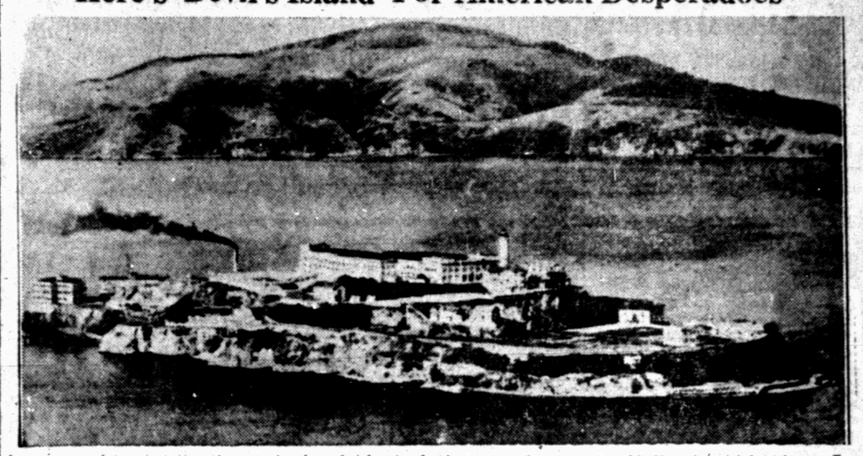

Judge Clark M. Mullican will be principal speaker at a meeting of the local organization next Thursday, at 7:30 p. m., in the ballroom at Lubbock hotel. J. Doyle Settle, club president, will preside. A report will be made on the Garner-Farley breakfast in Fort Worth, attended by 12 members of the local club. Musical numbers also are planned.

Organization of the entire West Texas area will be purpose of the district meeting here Nov. 11, Settle said. A young Democratic organization is to be formed in every county, it was said.

FROM REINDEER MILK

IRKUTSK (AP)—Experiments have shown that palatable butter can be made from reindeer milk and three reindeer butter farms have been established near here. They have produced about 4,000 pounds of butter in four months. Five quarts of reindeer milk will make about two pounds of butter.

IDEA OF DISCOVERING CANCER CURE TERMED ABSURD BY AMERICAN DOCTOR

MADRID, Oct. 27. (AP)—Dr. James Ewing, director of Memorial hospital, New York City, told delegates to the International Cancer congress today that the idea of discovering a cure for cancer is "absurd."

The only hope of reducing cancer fatalities, he added, lies in prevention.

In discussing prevention, Dr. Ewing charged nudism and other public movements toward exposure of the body with increasing cancer.

"Sunlight Causes Cancer"

"Sunlight," he said, "is one of the greatest causes of cancer. Even trips to the beach often result in skin cancer * * *"

Cancer exists in hundreds of forms, continued Dr. Ewing, one of two United States delegates to the congress, and it is unwise and unreasonable to expect one cure.

He said that in his opinion only lip, skin, mouth, and breast cancer is curable.

These, he went on, constitute 35 per cent of the cases, but the remaining 65 per cent are not curable.

He criticised physicians who hold forth a cure in the early stages of cancer, saying that early diagnosis seldom is possible and even when possible is useless if the cancer belongs in the incurable category.

Stomach cancer is the most deadly of all, he said, and only one in 1'000 cases survive. This cancer is impossible to diagnose in its early stages, he declared.

Europeans are less immune than Americans, Dr. Ewing said he believed, because they use more wine and beer and less water.

"This is not due to the alcohol, because alcohol is not a definite cause of cancer," he explained, "but rather to lack of sufficient diluent."

He advised moderation in smoking and drinking, avoidance of hot, irritating foods, exercise and hygiene and dissemination of all available information concerning the disease.

I keep coming back to that word "balanced" on the back of the Chesterfield package

YOU often hear the word balance—something is out of balance—top-heavy, not on an "even keel."

What you read, "Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend," means that the right amounts of the right kinds of tobacco are welded together; that is, home-grown tobaccos, the right kind, the right quantity—are blended and cross-blended with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece.

When these tobaccos are balanced one against the other, then you have a mild cigarette.

When they are in balance, then you have a better-tasting cigarette.

May we ask you to read again the statement on the back of the Chesterfield package?

May we ask you to try Chesterfield?

CATTLE SALES ON UPGRADE

ABOUT FOURTH OF THE CALVES IN STATE REPORTED SOLD

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 27.— (AP) — With cattle sales again on the pickup, it is estimated that about 25 per cent of the calves in the state have been sold, most sales being in the Mason, Llano and San Saba territory. Some calves also have been sold around Canadian.

Calves in Texas are 50 to 75 pounds lighter than last year.

The Gibbons estate of Richland Springs has sold around 1,500 mixed calves at prices of 4 cents for steer calves and 3 cents for heifers with delivery to northern points now under way. Roy Parks of Midland has sold Tom Hendricks of Odessa and Abilene 800 mixed yearlings at $27.50 a head. The C. ranch of Midland has sold 600 steer calves to Tom Goode, Big Spring, with delivery Nov. 15.

At the Marfa cattle auction the average for steer calves was 6 1-2 cents a pound with freight paid to the destination in the corn belt. On the basis of that price, W. B. Mitchell of Marfa says steer calves in that section should bring 5 1-2 cents, heifer calves and steer yearlings 4 1-2 cents a pound.

The Babicora ranch of William Randolph Hearst in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, will move 9,000 steer yearlings to Brownfield about Nov. 15 where they will be put on feed. Last year the Hearst ranch fed 6,000 head of cattle at Brownfield where there are extensive feeding pens. A good crop of bundle feed and grain sorghums, but not much corn, is reported from Brownfield.

HOUSTON TO LORENZO

CROSBYTON, (Special) — C. R. Houston, former owner of the Houston Dry Goods store here, has moved to Lorenzo where he is associated with the R. L. Durham Dry Goods store. After closing his store here, Mr. Houston went to Hamilton. He also operated a store at Floydada.

Happier Days For New York's Show World

The new Broadway theatrical season which has brought George M. Cohan (left) enthusiastic praise for his role in Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness,' also reserved star points for other luminaries of stage and screen. Nancy Carroll (upper center) of the movies is bidding for stage recognition in "Undesirable Lady." Lois Moran (below) is back in "Let 'Em Eat Cake," sequel to her starring "Of Thee I Sing," and Lyda Roberti (right) is cast in a Jerome Kern operetta, "Gowns by Roberta." Five of the first seven shows opening so far are rated hits.

CAR FATALITIES SHOW A DECLINE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—A sharp downward trend in the number of motor vehicle accident fatalities in three Texas cities during 1932 is noted by the department of commerce in a current report.

One Texas city, El Paso, showed a material increase, however, 32 deaths in 1932 as against 24 for the previous year, and another, Fort Worth, reported the same number of deaths for both years—57.

Fort Worth's rate of deaths per 100,000 population, however, dropped from 34.1 in 1931 to 33.4 for the next year.

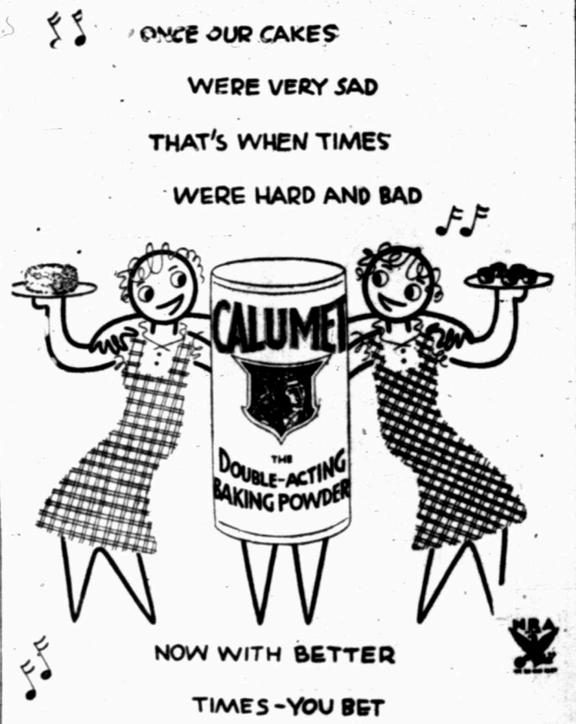

The number of deaths for 1932 and 1931 respectively and the rate for those years, in order, follows: Dallas, 74, and 88, 26.2 and 32.2; El Paso, 32 and 24, 29.9 and 22.9; Fort Worth, 57 and 57, 33.4 and 34.1; Houston 67 and 110, 20.6 and 35.5; San Antonio 54 and 67, 21.9 and 27.9

"Wealthy Merchant" Draws Many Women

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 27 (AP)—Dozens of women stormed a Lisbon hotel in answer to an advertisement in which a "wealthy merchant" announced he would make his choice of a life partner from those in the hotel at a certain time.

When the candidates arrived, they found no wealthy merchant to greet them. Neither did the police who had seen the advertisement. But they did find, and arrested a young man who admitted inserting the announcement after making a wager that at least a score of women would respond.

He won his bet—but the judge fined him three times the amount and ordered him to pay the women their fares home.

LITVINOFF ON WAY TO U.S.

RUSSIAN HEAD MAKES TRIP SECRETLY TO TALK RECOGNITION

MOSCOW, Oct. 27. (AP)—Maxim Litvinoff, to whom all Russia looks for the attainment of American recognition, was on his way to the United States today in an atmosphere of utmost secrecy.

A peep beneath a scarcely-raised blind from a window of his train was the only parting view of his associates the foreign commissar was seen to permit himself.

Crowds Barred

And the crowds which gladly would have cheered him off on the all-important journey to Washington were barred from the railroad station.

Hours after he had slipped away behind closely drawn shades on the Berlin train it was impossible even to learn whether his English-born wife had accompanied him.

To the time of his unheralded departure, he refused to break the silence in which he has locked his ideas about the forthcoming negotiations.

Associates Silent

Similar tighlipped were his associates in high government circles. They would discuss neither his plans for the talks with President Roosevelt nor his itinerary.

Accompanyig him were C. Oumanski, chief of the foreign office press section, and Ivan A. Divilkovski, secretary of the foreign office collegium.

The small party, accompanied by a handful of minor foreign office attaches, entered the station shortly before midnight and boarded the train 15 minutes before its scheduled departure.

AMERICANS FREED IN ATTACK CASE

PALMA, Mallorca, Oct. 27. (AP)—A single legal step stood today between five Americans and final exoneration on charges of assaulting a civil guard.

Their acquittal by the military court now must be confirmed by a military auditor. This, however, generally is merely a formality.

The prosecutor, presenting his case in a five-hour secret session, urged prison trems of six years and a day for each defendant.

Those on trial were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton B. Lockwood of West Springfield, Mass.; Rutherford Fullerton, of Columbus, O.; Roderick F. Mead of New York, and Edmund W. Blodgett of Stamford, Conn.

"Let's Quit Prison," Urges Poet, Planning A City For "Futurists"; Existing Order Of Things Would Be Changed

BY JOHN LLOYD

ROME, Oct. 27 (AP)—Wars fought by armies of old men, plans for building a "City of Tomorrow," interplanetary travel and art inspired in the clouds are topics that flash through a brief kaleidoscopic conversation with Filippo Tommaso Marinetti, "father of futurism."

"Freedom! Freedom!" is the theme song of his talk. "We must cast off our shackles. We must sever the cord that binds us to the clay and—soar."

This poet who chafes under the existing order of things has gathered around him doctors, inventors, chemists, architects. All believe as does he that man has built himself into a prison. His prestige in Italy is such that he belongs to the sedate Royal Academy, with Marconi, Pietro Mascagni and other world-famous figures.

To Start Work In Two Years

He dashes out of the room and returns with a futurist newspaper. "Our city of the future," he explains, jabbing a finger at one of the pictures. "It will rise just outside of Rome. In two years—maybe two and a half—we'll start work on it.

"It will be a permanent headquarters for all the futurists of the world. There we shall erect buildings of daring lines and colors—audacious spires of concrete and steel. There we shall have displays of unshackled art and literature—clothing with a new dash and sparkle. There we shall exalt the machine, in which the whole human drama of today is expressed."

Te financial problems incidental to such a project are being ironed out, he says.

Airplane Art

"Poetry," he enthuses, "was never free until the airplane came into being. We have a new term—aeropoetry.

"In the sky, where only vastness prevails—no contacts, no obstructions—seized by this and the thrill of speed the poet finally overcomes the law of literary gravity and can express hifself in free words.

"The same applies to painting. We shall soon acquire an extra-terrestrial sense of art."

He was asked about interplanetary voyages.

"They will come. Very serious experiments are being carried on by extremely competent men. They do not wish the extent of their work revealed until they have achieved definite results. But they will come. There have been most promising developments."

Wants Old Men Drafted

Marinetti reaches into the pocket of his sky-blue sport coat and brings out a clipping from the weekly "Futurismo." It contains a proposal to reverse the usual procedure in future wars and call to the colors men between 50 and 60 in the first draft.

"Thus youth would be conserved for the post-war necessities of reconstruction and reproducing the face," one reads. "Older, more experienced men are better fitted than youths to operate the mechanical contrivances with which wars will be fought henceforth. Why not give the old men an opportunity for a glorious and useful death?"

BRITISH OFFICE CLOSED

KANSAS CITY. (AP)—The British vice-consulate in Kansas City, established more than 30 years ago is to be closed at the end of the year. Its abolition was described as part of a general economy move.

Ten billion dollars in paper money is shoveled into a Washington, D. C., furnace every year.

Filippo Tommaso Marinetti, Italian poet, wears a "solar" helmet designed by futurists, of whom he is the leader. He plans a "city of tomorrow," to be built near Rome, where clothing, architecture and art all will be on unconventional lines.

HONDURAS FLOOD DAMAGES CROPS

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 27 (AP)—Crops were damaged heavily and towns imperiled by floods which swept northern and northwestern Honduras today.

Rains which fell over a wide area earlier in the week forced the Blanco, Chanelecon, Copan and Jila rivers out of their banks in many places.

Bridges and communication lines were carried away and tobacco plantations ruined near the town of Copan, on the Copan river.

Banana crops were washed out near Lalima.

FASCISM IS HELD "HOPE OF WORLD"

ROME, Oct. 27 (AP)—Fascism is "the hope of the world,' Premier Mussolini says in a message to the black-shirts which is to be read in every town in Italy tomorrow on the eleventh anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome.

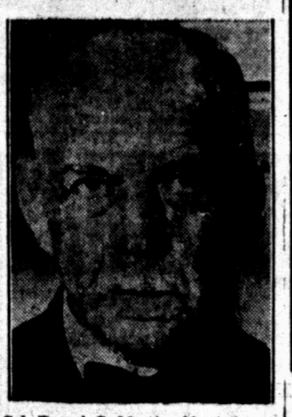

The message reads:

"The eleventn year of the regime closes with an imposing balance of works and events.

"You have seen them day by day. One of them is the decennial aerial cruise which has been the exaltation of the revolution in the skies and over twice across the ocean and demonstrated of what stuff is this new Fascist generation.

"The world of doctrines, against which even from March, 1919, Fascism rose, is retreating and capitulating everywhere: In Italy it is now far away and squelched even in memory."

Will one of you travel-minded fans who are leaving tonight or early tomorrow for El Paso clip this out and bring it to Coach Cawthon and the Matadors? They sneaked out of town this afternoon before this could be printed (fortunately, for us) and unless somebody tells 'em, they won't know when to stop making touchdowns tomorrow afternoon.

We may be lining ourself up for a good sock on the prognosticating chin as regards all three predictions. Were they in good physicial condition, the Westerners would have little trouble with the El Pasoans here tonight, but Coach Chapman may have to use a bunch of inexperienced help. He's having a lot of hard luck that way, but he's not saying much about it. He can't talk yet.

Austin High put on an offensive show last week to beat Pabens. The club was defeated by Tucson High three weeks ago, 7 to 0, after playing the Big Spring Steers to a 13-13 deadlock. It's hard to judge a team like that. We suggest you turn out and see for yourself tonight. So arranged is the scheduled that it is a privilege to see the Westerners at home this season, and they deserve the attendance and plaudits of the gang tonight. They have one other home game, that with the Pampa Harvesters on November 18. So give 'em a big hand tonight.

• • •

A precedent will be set if the above prediction regarding the Matadors comes through, because the Techsters never have put it over on Mack Saxon's bunch. We have a hunch that the Matador'll do it this time. They've looked pretty sweet in practice this week, and they're determined to overcome the Mucker jinx. Saxon has a team which, early in the season, he quickly pronounced the best in his history there. The Muckers have had their ups and downs, looking great in a couple of games, sorry in others. They'll be at their best against Texas Tech; they always are.

• • •

Don't forget the Tech freshman-Panhandle Aggie game tomorrow night here. There'll be plenty of color, a lot of action. The fish are improving from day to day, acquiring the old college touch and polish, bearing down with more earnestness. They aim to please you tomorrow night, and they want a lot of you out there.

• • •

Swede McMurry's fighting Cowhands are on the program tomorrow afternoon, meeting the Floydada High school Whirlwinds at the Tech field, at 3 o'clock. The Cowhands have a big following here, and there's not a harder working football team in Lubbock.

• • •

We've been dared to lay our head further up on the executioner's block by suggesting probable winners in other games this week: Texas Christian to outrun Centenary; Southern Methodist to complete enough passes to nose out Arkansas; Baylor Baptists to add further to the humiliation of Matty Bell and the Aggies; Rice to stop Texas and the Kutztown Teachers to smear Montclair.

Speaking of football, there are some good gridiron shots in the picher show now unreeling at the Lindsey. Hollywood artists have done right well by the author whose yarn recently closed a successful run in that heavy weekly publication founded in 1728 A. D. by Benjamin Franklin. Ernie Nevers and Erny Pinckert, who were no slouches when it came to lugging the leather, do a lot of the ball toting in "Saturday's Millions," a right good name. You can depend on Coach Brownie Akers to provide seasonal topics at his show houses.

• • •

As a result of parting with 25 bucks, Mel Ott now possesses the ball that wrote finis to the World Series. Johnny Watson, former shortstop in the NYP League, was sitting in the bleachers when the ball came sailing over the low fence. He gathered it out of the scramble and carried it to the club house, got Ott's attention and asked "What's it worth?" Ott suggested Watson name his price, then forked over the quarter-century.

LUBBOCK HIGH MEETS AUSTIN OF EL PASO HERE TONIGHT

In their first local appearance of the month, the third of the season, Coach Weldon Chapman's Lubbock High Westerners face El Paso's district favorites, Coach Patrick Murphy's Austin High school gridders, at the Tech field tonight. The kick-off is carded for 7:30 o'clock.

In a clash that rates a toss-up, the high scoring machine from the border city will match a swift and deceptive attack with Coach Chapmen's equally speedy and possibly heavier offensive. It will be speed against speed with both teams seeking to give the other the old razzle dazzle.

Practically the same cast, revamped before the Abilene game, will start tonight for Lubbock. The only exceptions will be at the left tackle berth with Wayne Prather, a better tackle than he thinks he is, getting the first call over big Wimberly, and at right half where Jesse Granbury will swat for Calhoun, who hit the hard earth too frequently at Borger for his health.

Flashy Wingmen

Whitehorne and Griggs take up their usual duties at the flanks. Whitehorne is showing considerably more ability at taking the passes out of the air, and Griggs who went into last week's game with a bad ankle, is in better shape for Friday's exhibition.

The race for the guard positions on the Westerner squad are becoming hotter as the season gains momentum. "Country" Phillips, and Hodges have thus far been the starters in most games, but any lapse on their part would be dangerous for they are being closely shadowed by "Squarehead" Barnes and Woodrow Aycock.

At center heavy and hard-working Howell Young should make it warm for the visitors all evening. Young is one of the most industrious men on the squad, and if he continues at his present pace may make strong bid for all-district honors.

Granbury For Calhoun

Granbury, taking the place of Calhoun at a half slot, will speed up the secondary and at the same time lower the heft. Although he only tickles the scale at around 140 pounds he is one of the fastest backs on the team, and ties the big boys into a love-knot when he connects for a tackle.

At the other half, Captain Ryan, speed-merchant of the troupe, will harass the El Paso wings, and possibly make a long jaunt for 6 points in the bag from his favorite starting block, the 20 yard line. Ryan bruised his shoulder rather badly against Borger tilt but has shown little effects of the injury during the week's practice.

Hale To Punt

Rayburn Hale will be back tonight in his role of field general and chief booter for the Westerners. Hale, in practice kicking during the week has had his eye on "coffin corner" and he may put a few punts there tonight.

At the fullback, Weymond Newton, sometimes a halfback and reformed end of last year, will be cracking the Austin line. Newton, not exceptionally fast, might be described as chamois-footed, and he is, in addition, the hardest running back of the outfit (come over and ask him some time).

The Westerner replacements, who saw a lot of service at Borger, may get in the battle tonight. Alderson, fullback or quarter, not so torrid in the other phases of the game, is the most accurate pass-heaver on the squad.

"Dago" Meador, a little boy with a badly skinned nose and more concentrated gall than One Eyed Connelly and Hambone Kelly merged into one, is a likely reserve at one of the flanks. Meador, light of build, nevertheless puts the Indian sign on the boys sometimes with his reckless and vicious tackling. He can also, maybe, catch a pass if its thrown at him.

Griner Recovering

Vergil Griner, diminutive but promising back, who was put in the shade after the Big Spring game, is now rapidly nursing his bad knee back to health and vigor. He won't be ready tonight, but next week should see him running without a hobble.

Rounding out Lubbock's high school football fare, Coach Swede McMurry's Cowhands will tackle Floydada's Whirlwind. The Cowhands, with a string of class B scalps at their belt, feature Halfback Morris White, a scampering and powerful little man, who can gain yardage with the tacklers strung around his neck like beads.

SOUTHWEST TO SEE CRUCIAL CONTESTS

HOGS MEET MUSTANGS, BEARS PLAY AGGIES, OWLS FACE STEERS

(By The Associated Press)

Crucial championship games will feature Saturday's Southwest conference football program. The University of Arkansas Razorbacks, with wins over Texas Christian and Baylor, will remain at home to battle the invading Southern Methodist Mustangs who have a victory over Rice. This clash means the tie for the conference leadership will be broken.

Southern Methodist, in great condition for a torrid game, will embark Friday night for Fayetteville.

Bears Meet Aggies

The Baylor Bears and the Texas Aggies clash at College Station. At Austin, the Rice Owls will battle the Longhorns. In the only non-conference setto, Texas Christian goes to Shreveport to play Centenary college.

Although defeated last week by Louisiana State, the Razorbacks are primed for the invasion of Southern Methodist. It will be homecoming day for Arkansas, and seldom do the Razorbacks lose on such an occasion. Both clubs will flash versatile attacks with Arkansas having a slight edge offensively. The Razorbacks have scored 114 points in five games against 61 scored by Southern Methodist.

Longhorns Face Task

Having failed to score in three consecutive games, the Longhorns face a tough assignment in trying to break their scoreless jinx against the Rice Owls. Rice has one of the most dangerous passing attacks in the conference, and the Owls are prepared to deal their opponents plenty of misery. Bohn Hilliard, ace Texas halfback, is not expected to play because of an injured ankle.

The Baylor and A. & M. tilt is expected to be a classic. These two teams played a scoreless tie last season. Texas A. & M. was a preseason favorite to win the conference championship but lost prestige last week by dropping a 13 to 7 conference game to Texas Christian. Baylor is in perfect condition, and the "good old Baylor line" that has become a conference tradition, is confident of stopping Bill Couser and Frenchy Domingue, the Aggies' chief ball luggers.

Texas Christian will be accompanied to Shreveport by the entire student body on a special train. No Southwest conference team defeated Centenary last year and none has so far this season.

HASHERS DEFEAT ROOFERS, 9 TO 6

The Lydick Roofers pushed across three tallies in the last inning last night, but they couldn't beat the Mitchell's Cafe team in the first game of a double indoor baseball bill at the Auditorium. Mitchell's men registered a 9 to 6 triumph.

Renford Taylor pitched good baseball for the Roofers, settling down after the first inning to hold the Hashers to nothing in three consecutive frames. Snappy infield work cut off would-be runs at the plate after the bases were loaded in the fifth and sixth innings, although the Cafe team scored once in each of these, and added two in the seventh. Richard Godeke, one of the outstanding hurlers of the league, was slightly off form, being wild at times to walk seven men. He struck out 11 batsmen, Taylor four.

The Avalanche-Journal team, in the second game, took a 4-1 lead in the first inning and held the edge during the rest of the game to defeat J. C. Penney Co. team 12-9.

Cummings and Abbott hit triples and Chism, Hewett, and Watson hit doubles for the department store. Hutson and Powers made two-base hits for the printers.

The lineups:

Lydick Roofers — L. Taylor, lf; Freland, 1b; R. Taylor, p; McClure, 3b; Littrell, ss; Kerr, c; Flake, cf; Hughett, 2b Wilson, rf.

POLO IS TAKING ROOT IN KANSAS

INDEPENDENCE, Kas., Oct. 27. (AP)—Polo, an aristocrat in sports, is taking root on the Kansas prairies where a decade ago only a courageous handful played golf, derisively termed by the majority "cow pasture pool."

Farmers in the Wakarusa valley near the state capital at Topeka a couple of years ago not only organized to play polo but also rode to hounds. Before that only a few, outside of army officers at Fort Leavenworth and Fort Riley, knew the significance of a chukker. But for rapid fire spreading of enthusiasm for the sport, one must look to southeastern Kansas.

Last summer Ed Hatcher, Independence's only traffic cop who is interested in horses, gathered together a few used mallets and balls and with his friends practiced in the evenings. A club was formed, a regular field obtained and stables built.

Coffeyville, chief of the Montgomery county seat town, organized a team this fall, challenged for a game and it ended in a tie. Parsons and Chanute have announced teams are in the formative stage. Enthusiasts are talking about buying genuine polo ponies and all necessary regalia.

Grid Forecasts Made For Week

HERE'S THE WAY THE FOOTBALL SCHEDULE LOOKS SATURDAY

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—It may be just another case of "fools rushing in" but the weekly guessing contest is an amusing pastime for football followers and, after all, it's his own neck the prognosticator risks.

With this in mind, and granting in advance that the chance for accurate comparison is lacking in many instances, here's the way the week-end's major engagements look:

Trojans Look Better

Southern California - California—Oregon State demonstrated last week that the Trojans could be held to a scoreless draw but Southern California still looks like the class of the Pacific Coast conference. California hasn't beaten its southern neighbor since 1929 and it seems as if the Golden Bears will have to wait for revenge.

Army-Yale—With Jack Buckler to match against Yale's Bob Lassiter, the Cadets rate a slight edge on the basis of what looks like a superior line.

Minnesota-Iowa—A match of Gopher power and Iowa speed personified mostly by young Joe Laws. This ballot for Minnesota is explained by the Gophers' fine showing against Pitt.

Georgia Is Defeated

Georgia-New York university — Undefeated Georgia is the logical favorite. The once violent Violets held Colgate to one touchdown last week but the Red Raider attack gaining over 200 yards from scrimmage, was checked by eight penalties.

Michigan - Chicago — Apparently the spot for Michigan's second Big Ten victory.

Fordham-Alabama — Two undefeated exponents of the Notre Dame system collide in this one with a break or two probably the decisive factor. This vote for Fordham is predicted on the Rams' advantage in playing at home.

Nebraska-Oklahoma—Within the Big Six at least, Nebraska's Cornhuskers seldom play a "prophet" false.

Tennessee-Florida — Beaten twice in a row, Tennessee seems likely to recover in time to spoil Florida's undefeated record.

Wildcats Given Edge

Ohio State-Northwestern—One of the toughest of them all but Northwestern's new-found attack may pull the Wildcats through.

Penn-Navy — The Tars have shown nothing so far to warrant their selection over Penn.

Notre Dame-Pitt—Notre Dame's poor showing against Carnegie inspires a vote for the Panther.

Louisiana State-Vanderbilt—Unless the Commodores show considerable improvement over last week, L. S. U. should open its southeastern conference campaign with a victory.

Princeton-Washington & Lee — The Generals are tougher than they've been in years but Princeton should win handily.

Harvard-Dartmouth — Dartmouth is the indicated favorite but a heavy casualty list may impair the Indians' effectiveness.

Boilermakers Picked

Wisconsin-Purdue — Wisconsin's something of a Purdue jinx but there's no alternative but to pick the Boilermakers on their record.

Kansas-Kansas State—By the toss of a coin, Kansas State.

Columbia-Penn State — The nittany Lions uncovered at attack last week but they don't rate with Columbia.

Michigan State-Syracuse — Syracuse looks strong enough to avenge a 1932 beating.

Arkansas-Southern Methodist — Playing in their own bailiwick, Arkansas overturned Texas Christian. Southern Methodist goes to Fayetteville expecting trouble and probably will get it.

Green Wave May Win

Tulane-Auburn—The Green Wave may roll over the Plainsmen of Auburn.

Texas-Rice — Texas starts its Southwest conference campaign, hopeful of victory.

North Carolina-Georgia Tech—A ballot for the Engineers.

Washington-Stanford— Somebody may beat Stanford soon but until then a vote for the team "Pop" Warner left behind him.

Denver-Colorado college—Denver, unless there's something rotten in the reports from the state of Colorado.

RING AND MAT DOUBLE BILL IS PLANNED

BOTH WRESTLING AND BOXING SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY NIGHT

Sponsored by the Lubbock National guardsmen and promoted by Dee Puckett, licensed promoter and match-maker for Lubbock, a double bill of boxing and wrestling will be staged Monday evening at the National Guard armory on College Avenue.

Monday night's card will find Woody Windham, the Abilene lightweight who won a decision over Nick Santos of Fort Worth last Saturday night here, matched with Lil Mickey, an up and coming lightweight from Oklahoma City, in the 10-round main event on the boxing show.

Moore Meets Magee

In a three-fall, no time limit, finish wrestling match, Bome Moore of Lubbock meets Pat Magee of Dallas. Both are popular grapplers and capable of putting on a good show.

Two other boxing bouts are slated. In a six-round semi-final, O. H. Brittain, local favorite, will tangle with Sonny Smyers in a return engagement. The two fought last Saturday night, Brittain winning by a technical K. O.

Harry Gutherie meets Jack Dodson in a four-round prelim.

Monday night has been designated as "ladies night" at the Armory, one lady being admitted free with each paid admission. Prices are 40 cents, general admission, 75 cents, tax included, for ring side. The armory will seat approximately 1,900 spectators.

SALE OF "LEFTY" GROVE TO BOSTON REPORTED, DENIED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—The Washington Post said today that Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, star of the Philadelphia Athletics pitching staff, has been sold to the Boston Red Sox.

While details of the trade were lacking, it was said to be an outright purchase by the Boston club with reports that Max Bishop, veteran infielder, and another pitcher will be included by Manager Connie Mack in shipment to Boston. The cash return to the Athletics was estimated at $200,000.

MACK DENIES REPORT

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27. —(AP)—Connie Mack today denied a report that he had sold "Lefty" Grove to the Boston Red Sox for $200,000.

"Burromobile" Used For Long Journey

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 27 (AP)—John Gossett, well past 70, traveled clear from the Black Hills of South Dakota to Berthoud, Colo., in his "burromobile"— a ramshackle vehicle drawn by two burros.

A discarded automobile wheel took the place of the wagon wheel Gossett couldn't find when he built his prairie schooner. The neck yoke was an odd piece of timber. It took him 40 days to cross Wyoming and reach the home of a son, Eli.

Matadors Leave For Miner Game

ENTIRE TECH VARSITY SQUAD TAKEN TO EL PASO FOR CLASH

Apparently determined to smother the Texas School of Mines gridders with reserve power, Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith bundled their entire Texas Tech Matador varsity squad into a train early this afternoon and set out for El Paso. They meet Mack Saxon's Muckers tomorrow afternoon. Thirty-nine gridders are making the trip, an unusually large road party.

Meanwhile, the Tech freshmen, coached by John O'Dell Morgan and Truett Owen, are getting ready for their home stand tomorrow night against the Panhandle Aggies of Oklahoma. Winners over Amarillo college last week, the Picadors are all pepped up over prospects of appearing before a Lubbock crowd, and practice sessions are full of life as they shoot through snappy offensive drills calculated to score against the varsity team of the Oklahoma senior institution.

Saturday night's local game will start at 8 o'clock, officials have announced. It will be the first home game of the season for the Picadors, with the exception of the early season public scrimmage with the varsity.

The Matadors will detrain at Sweetwater this afternoon for a brief workout on the Sweetwater High school lot before continuing on to the border city. The game with the Muckers is slated for 2:30 o'clock, mountain standard time, Saturday afternoon.

BROWNFIELD TEAM DEFEATS COWBOYS

A pass completed for a 40-yard gain and a touchdown was the margin by which Coach Mule Davis' Lubbock Junior high school Cowboys lost to the Brownfield Junior high school team here yesterday afternoon. The final score was 6 to 0.

Advancing down the field to the five-yard line, the Lubbock team was only kept from scoring by a fumble. The teams deadlocked for the next two periods, and then Brownfield scored their tally toward the close of the game.

Junior high's starting lineup follows:

Ends, Singer and Herbst; tackles, Ford and Cum; guards, Sessums and Tubbs; center, Brown; halves, Rutledge and Johnson; quarter, Robinson; fullback, Murray.

NEW MINISTRY STARTS WORK

FRENCH CABINET NEW IN LITTLE MORE THAN NAME

PARIS, Oct. 27 (AP)—Premier Albert Sarraut's budget cutting, gold-standard cabinet swung into action today.

The new cabinet—new in little more than name, since the personnel varies little from the old—was admitted to the presidential palace at 2 a. m., and presented to President Lebrun.

Although M. Sarraut revamped the old Daladier ministry, injecting little new blood, he brought to the difficult task of protecting the franc and reviving prosperity two things his supporters deemed highly important.

Has Novel Ideas

He brought what his financial advisors termed "new, even novel" financial ideas, along with a conviction that "almost anything can be done if necessary."

This attitude he gained during two years as minister of the interior under the Poincare cabinet which in 1926 saved the franc and finally stabilized it.

The outstanding name missing in the new ministry is that of the American-born Raymond Patenotre, undersecretary of the national economy, who had been subjected to heavy criticism by the opposition.

M. Sarraut became minister of marine, choosing M. Daladier as minister of war and Joseph Paul-Boncour to succeed himself as minister of foreign affairs.

It cost the government $2.66 per head for 25,000 animals to feed its elk herds in the Jackson Hole district of Wyoming last winter.

CENSUS OF OCEAN BACTERIA, HELPFUL TO PLANT EXISTENCE, SHOWS MOST DWELL IN MUD AT OCEAN'S BOTTOM

A study at the Oceanographic institution, Woods Hole, Mass., shows that ocean bacteria, most of them aiding health in sea life, are distributed most thickly in the bottom mud. Here is a mud sampler ready for lowering into the depths.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (AP) Oct. 27.—A census of bacterial in the sea, showing how they are distributed, is under way at the Oceanographic institution here.

These marine germs are part of the cycle of health in sea life, rather than of disease. They are mostly useful workers, converting the waste products of the ocean into chemicals which nourish sea plants.

If the pathological bacteria which cause disease are introduced into the sea they die rapidly. Low temperatures kill many. Others starve on the extremely small amounts of available organic material. And they are not well equipped to compete with the sea bacterial for food.

Comparatively Few In Water

The distribution studies are conducted by H. W. Reuszer, instructor in soil microbiology, Rutgers university.

The census shows that the bacteria population is thin in the water and dense in the bottom mud. The germs decrease rather rapidly as water deepens.

The methods used show that in summer in deep water there are frequently less than 20 bacteria to a cubic centimeter, or about a thimbleful of water. In shallow water where wave agitation extends to the bottom, there may be from 200 to thousands a cubic centimeter.

In the top layer of mud from one to five millions of bacteria have been found per gram of dried mud.

But an inch or two deep there are only 2,000 to 4,000 a gram.

Nearly all these bacteria act on the dead plant and animal materials descending at all levels, and from them form ammonia, nitrite, nitrate, phosphate and other substances essential to plant life in the sea. The available nitrogen and phosphorus often fixes the limits of plant luxuriance. The plants in turn limit the fish.

In this cycle bacteria populations increase and decrease with the other living marine factors.

Very few of the marine bacteria can do without oxygen. This differs from the land, where the non-oxygen using germ, called anaerobic, is fairly common. In bottom and polar waters it is believed that the marine germs live longer than their land cousins, because the extremely low temperatures slow down the metabolism rate.

Venezuela Studies Serums In Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Oct. 27 (AP)—Venezuela plans to borrow some pointers from Brazil's famous "snake farm," the Butantan institute, near here, whose snake-bite serums have saved thousands of lives.

The Caracas government plans to send a medical school graduate here for studies.

Butantan, which raises hundreds of venomous tropical snakes, sends serums for humans and animals to all parts of Brazil. The annual death roll from snake-bite used to average several thousand a year.

Because snakes in a San Antonio reptile garden showed a preference for brown rats, children collected 15 cents a pair for rodents delivered.

Hotel On Wheels Is Used In Manchuria

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Oct. 27 (AP)—This city, capital of the new state of Manchukuo, has a hotel on wheels.

Finding that it could not accommodate the increasing number of visitors here, the South Manchuria railway, which operates a chain of hotels along its lines, set out two sleeping cars and a diner on a siding.

A "room" there, the ordinary sleping compartment containing upper and lower berths, may be had for 75 cents a night.

When the New Zealand geyser, Waimangu, was in its prime, it flung black mud, stones and scalding water to a height of 1500 feet every 36 hours.

Credit Prospects

When the chances for a new war in Europe are discussed, the American is apt to have in the back of his head a notion not unlike that which possesses the mind of the village undertaker who watches by the door of a mortally sick friend.

He hopes nothing tragic happens, but he can't help knowing that if it does it at least will put some extra cash in his own pocket.

If Europe, that is to say, goes to war again, Europe will need an infinite variety of the commodities America produces—everything from wheat to poison gas, from auto trucks to shells. An American which has sold steadily diminishing amounts of these and other commodities for years hardly can be blamed for thinking about this.

• • •

But it might just as well be pointed out that this time those expectations might be disappointed very sharply. Europe would want to buy those things just as much as in the last war; but Europe might have a very hard time figuring out what to use for money.

In 1914, Europe held vast quantities of American securities. American railroads had used enormous amounts of foreign capital in their construction;, so had American mines, American factories, American street railway systems, and so on.

When the war broke out, Europe hurried to turn these securities into cash; with the cash, huge purchases of munitions and other commodities were financed. And when that money was used up, the Allied nations borrowed heavily in the American market to buy more.

• • •

But things are different today.

The amount of sound American securities held today by Europe could almost, as they say, be put in your eye. The shells that could be bought with the money these securities would bring wouldn't last a week. After that, Europe would have to borrow.

And anyone who looks at the present state of foreign loans in this country knows without being told that there would be a different story this time. European bonds would not go like hot cakes now; as a matter of fact, they probably wouldn't go at all.

There are various ways in which American prosperity might be restored. A new European war, however is not one of them.

BURNITT (Burnie to you) Phillips, the big tire and tube man, is back from a business trip to Kansas City and points in Oklahoma and North Texas. Being somewhat of a philosopher, Mr. Phillips has a report to make, as follows:

"If you're dissatisfied in Lubbock", cries he, "take a trip to where I've been. You'll come back thanking heaven that you're settled down to the business of making a living in Lubbock. It's better here than anywhere I've been—or heard of."

* * *

Mr. Phillips' observations are doubly important, since prior to coming to Lubbock last February he was in business in Oklahoma and Kansas City.

He is personally familiar with conditions at those points and has a lot of friends who have elected to stay in both places.

Few, if any of us, are making as much easy money in Lubbock today as we were four years ago but if we're making any at all we're a lot better off than citizens of most places.

* * *

HERE'S a news story from Lampasas which is worth more than just a casual glance. In fact, the National Recovery administration might take a tip from it:

"LAMPASAS Oct. 24.—The city council today passed an ordinance exempting from all city taxes structures built in Lampasas for a five-year period extending from January 1, 1933, to January 1, 1938. The moves was designated to encourage construction."

* * *

The same plan, of course, might to some extent encourage construction in Lubbock and in similar communities where growth is steady and sustained.

But it would work much better in communities which need artificial impetus in construction and in communities which have had practically no building in recent years.

Lampasas, of course, is an old, settled town and many of the buildings there are obsolete, or nearly so.

It appears that the Lampasas city dads have hit upon an idea which may provide increased employment as well as better buildings and homes.

* * *

MORE or less oldfashioned and hide-bound, The Plainsman none-the less clings to the idea that any organization essential to a city's well being can get along with local direction and management and should not find it necessary to bring in expert money-raisers in financial drives.

Perhaps you may disagree with this idea.

Many persons do.

They say "if you've a sick member in your family you call a doctor, because a doctor knows what to do. If your sink is stopped up, you call a plumber, because a plumber can do the job quicker and better than a bricklayer.

"Hence, if you have to raise money, you should call in an expert at raising money. It's all the same."

* * *

Maybe so. Maybe so. Yet your humble servant can't see it, simply because it costs money.

The Salvation army—a worthy organization—is embarking upon one of its periodical financial campaigns and has brought in a campaign director to head the thing up. Perhaps the director can do it better and quicker—but:

If the Salvation army had sold the citizenship of Lubbock upon its service to the community that would not have been essential—and none of the money raised would have had to be spent for anything save army work.

There would have been a saving there.

* * *

PROBABLY as good an indication as we have concerning the recession of the depression is in football crowds.

And, happily, they are better this year, on the whole, than they have been for a couple of seasons.

* * *

Among the things people can do without are football games—especially football games at all the way from $1.65 to $2.50 a throw.

And that's exactly what a lot of people have been doing since the going got tough—they've been doing without football.

* * *

BUT this year they've apparently got more money for amusements, or, at least, they're not worrying about the future.

Maybe they've just gotten used to normal times and have come to the conclusion that "there ain't no Santa Claus."

But whatever the reason is, they're going to football games in larger numbers than they have since 1929 or '30.

Take it whatever way you like it.

National Recovery And Agricultural Adjustment Groups At Odds Over Which Will Accept Blame For Price Jumps

By RODNEY DUTCHER
The Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—When dead cats fill the air, Farm Recovery officials want the corpses to fall where they belong.

It was General Johnson of NRA who predicted the cat barrage. He has plenty of worries, but so has the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, which among other things fears popular reaction to price rises in the necessities of life.

Butcher

Vigorously attempting to see to it that the farmer gets the full benefit of farm product price increases, AAA also is determined that retail increases caused by NRA and other factors shall not be attributed to the gradual artificial process of restoring farmers to pre-war purchasing power parity.

It called in the owners of Washington department stores the other day to see why clerks were blaming increases on bed sheets and other cotton goods on the cotton processing tax.

The department stores all agreed that the tax was a "negligible factor," which was what AAA wanted publicly admitted. Previously it had forced textile manufacturers to back down from the contention that the tax was ruining them.

• • •

Cost Variations Shown

No one here knows the ratio of the NRA and AAA added cost factors in processed, retailed farm products. But interesting figures on cotton cloth recently worked out by Gardner Means, brilliant brain trust economist, now may be revealed.

Means studied 17 types of cotton cloth, of which a given amount averaged 31.25 cents in price in 1929 and 27.88 cents last month.

Here's how the price varied at different dates, and how that cost was divided:

Date	Cotton	Wages	Profit, overhead	Total
1929	18.48	6.61	6.16	31.25
1933—
March 3	6.04	4.32	2.68	13.04
July 14	11.01	4.63	11.01	26.65
July 28	10.43	7.30	10.57	28.30
Sept. 15	13.08	7.30	7.50	27.88

• • •

Figures Change Fast

The July, 1933, jump was due to the pre-textile code spurt. On July 28, the textile code was in effect. In early August the processing tax added four cents to cost of the cotton itself, and by mid-September the division stood as indicated.

If there is any great variation in fact from these figures, the wage factor probably is lower, and the overhead-profit item higher, as there was no means of measuring the effect of stretchouts, speedups, and improved machinery since 1929.

Other NRA costs are added before the product reaches consumers in finished form. Store executives told how manufacturers, for instance, itemized the tax on a dozen boys' blouses at 60 cents a dozen and increased labor costs at $3. An invoice for cotton sheets billed $274, of which $107.81 was attributed to process tax and increased labor costs.

First Lady Is Tardy

Mrs. Roosevelt, who usually makes out her Christmas list in April, this year found time to do so only a few days ago. . . . Three nationally famous women have been intensely interested in the labor problem in the steel industry and in its "captive" coal mines. Secretary of Labor Perkins spoke for steel workers at the code hearing and insisted on addressing them in the field. Mrs. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvaania has defied obstructions to denounce steel barons in a speech to coal miners. And Mrs. Roosevelt, as isn't generally known, privately insists that mine and steel mill workers must have a square deal. . . . Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, dozed at the British-American conference the other day. . . . Secretary of the Treasury Will Woodin, not yet recovered in health, is away most of the time and doesn't work much when here. The Treasury hod is carried by keen-minded Under-secretary Dean Acheson.

In Spirited Plea for Co-operation

Renewing his appeal for a "spirit of cooperation" as farm unrest grew in the mid-west, President Roosevelt here is shown delivering an unexpected speech at the 150th anniversary celebration of Washington College, Chestertown, Md., whither he had come to receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree. He is the first President to visit the college since Washington founded it.

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—The swing of Postmaster General Jim Farley through Texas developed into a popularity contest for politicians of this state. It was an interesting endurance heat.

Those who traveled from place to place with the dignitaries became interesting in timing the demonstrations given for United States Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Joseph Weldon Bailey. Bailey is regarded as a sure opponent of Connally for the junior senatorship in the next election.

Receptions About Even

At Dallas there was merely a split second between the handclapping and cheers for the contenders. Both got a good sendoff but it was impossible to decide which got the better reception there.

One man in the audience did yell "we want him for senator," when Bailey was introduced.

It was the same all the way down the line—San Antonio, Uvalde, and Houston. Bailey would smile broadly and Connally would appear immensely pleased. Bailey would applaud Connally and Conally would clap his hands for Bailey.

No one seems to know exactly what "little Joe Bailey" will do about his political future. Some say he will run for governor while others contend he is certain to ask for the senatorship.

Jim Hides Feelings

While it all was going on former Governor James E. Ferguson sat with poker face concealing his innermost feelings. He never did get a chance at the Fort Worth and Dallas audiences. Always it was Governor Miriam A. Ferguson who was called on. Somehow one got the idea that Jim Ferguson yearned for an opportunity to stand and say something, just to see how many "boys from the forks of the creek" really were gathered around.

Attorney General James V. Allred got an opportunity to test his popularity at Houston, where he appeared as a guest at the Farley banquet and was introduced. Jimmie got a good hand. He is undecided, they say, whether to run for governor or against Connally for the senate.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

* * * * * * * * * * * *

DELINQUENT TAXPAYER ASKS SOME QUESTIONS

Dear Plainsman: As you seem to be the clearing house for the community problems, I am coming to you for some information that I hope you are in a position to give.

I am an ardent admirer of the way you handle your column — I don't always agree with you, but that doesn't keep you from being right.

I have noticed from time to time your urging payment of school taxes so that the teachers may be paid and the schools allowed to continue in a normal way. I have a child in school so of course I heartily agree with you. However, if the teachers cannot be paid, I am in favor of closing the schools until they can be as I see no reason for a teacher working for nothing any more than if they were in some other line of work, and they are the only class I know of who have plenty of work but get paid for it only semi-occasionally.

I own just enough property to keep me very poor, and while tax paying time has always been an event in my life, it has been met promptly and in full, until last year, when, on account of a hitch in my financial plans, I had to let them go by. Within the last few weeks I got some relief and was in a position to pay them and pay my city, county and state taxes with a very reasonable penalty for delinquency. But, when I got to the school taxes I was informed I would be compelled to pay a 10 per cent penalty, plus 6 per cent interest, plus $1 delinquent fee, which I won't say I will not pay, but say I cannot pay.

I don't mean to say I object to a just penalty as it is worth more to be allowed some time, but I don't feel like it should be piled on like that. I am told that the state requires a 2 per cent penalty on the school taxes (that is what I paid on my state and county taxes) but they leave it optional with the school board as to whether they charge the 2 per cent or charge the limit. Now this is hearsay with me and I want to know if it is a fact. All I know for sure is that they are charging the amounts before stated.

If it is true do you think the board is playing fair with either people or the teachers to put a bar between them and the payment of the taxes, for I know there are others besides me who are delinquent but who are now ready to pay, but either cannot or will not stand for being held up.

If this is not true, what is the reason the penalty is so very much higher for the school taxes than for the city, county and state?

I have not paid mine, as I said because I cannot at that price. Maybe they will eventually get my property, but they can't pay the teachers with property and if they don't have any better luck selling it than I have had, the joke will be on them.

Now, Mr. Plainsman, I am asking you—don't you think it would be under the stress of these times, but only fair to reduce the penalty to the minimum so we can pay these taxes and thus help the people, teachers and pupils as well, instead of blocking the way for everything? I don't mean to criticize anybody until I know the facts, but if I have been rightly informed it does look like we all, people, teachers and pupils alike, are getting a raw deal from the hands that are supposed to help us, and I do want to be set right on the facts.

One of Your Lady Customers.

(Dear Lady Customer: Thanks for your letter. I am not able to answer, completely, your questions. I conferred with Mr. A. C. Jackson, tax collector for the school district, and am of the opinion that you are correct in suggesting that the penalties were left up to the discretion of the school board. However, I have referred your questions to The Avalanche-Journal's attorney, Mr. Owen W. McWhorter, and will pass his findings on to you. Will you please send me your name and address so I can forward Mr. McWhorter's findings to you? Yours truly, The Plainsman.

Friends of the Family

LOOK at the packages on your pantry and bathroom shelves, and see what a multitude of brand names you recognize. Some of them have been familiar for years. You may have made the acquaintance of others only a few weeks ago. But even these are not suspected strangers. You have bought them confidently because they were advertised. And it is the same with your sheets and towels, your shoes and clothes, your electric appliances, the car in your garage—nearly everything you use.

Advertised products have a standing that commands respect. They are not nameless, but vouched for by responsible firms. The fact that they are advertised is in itself an indication that their standards of quality are strictly maintained, that they represent honest value.

As science and discovery go on, newly developed products are constantly being advertised—ready to help you save money and improve your standard of living. Every advertisement of such a product you read in our daily paper is a letter of introduction to a new and possibly useful friend.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in this paper every day. By so doing you will meet many choice products—worthy to become friends of the family.

UNRULY ARABS SHOT DOWN

POLICE IN PALESTINE OPEN FIRE; MANY REPORTED SLAIN

JAFFA, Palestine, Oct. 27 (AP)—Police today fired upon large unruly crowds of Arabs demonstrating against a recent increase in Jewish immigration, killing an undetermined number and wounding others. A number of police also were injured.

The situation became serious after the mid-day prayers when large crowds flocked from the mosques determined to form a procession which authorities had forbidden.

Police Open Fire

A crowd armed with firearms, clubs, stones and other missiles endeavored to break through a police cordon. After several baton charges, police opened fire.

It was believed in the early afternoon the disturbance had been brought in hand, although desultory firing continued.

All precautions had been taken against the feared attempts of the Arabs to defy an official prohibition to carry out the demonstration plans.

Steel-heimeted police patrolled the streets from an early hour. Military forces and members of the local air force were held in readiness. (Palestine is under a British mandate.)

Early in the forenoon the Arabs declared a general strike, closed their shops and went to the mosques.

in Detroit that they would never consent to any collective bargaining."

Johnson disclosed that Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation corps, had informed him that a low bid by a Ford dealer for a large number of trucks for the organization would be respected.

He asked "what about the Lincoln?" The quick-answering Johnson shot back:

"You mean the Lincoln I ride around in? Well, we are going to trade that in for a Cadillac."

Won't Delay Action

He was particularly emphatic that he would not let any time elapse, after definite evidence of code violation by Ford came to him, in taking action against the manufacturer.

In regard to collective bargaining with Ford, he said he was not familiar with circumstances at the Edgewater, New Jersey, assembly plant where strikers were received by Ford officials and their demands were forwarded to Dearborn for action by the company.

He indicated, however, that he regarded the statement which he said Edsel Ford had made to him as final.

In connection with the C. C. C. automobile contract, Johnson was asked whether the fact that the bid was submitted by a Ford dealer would not make a difference.

"I've taken a position that a great billion dollar corporation can not hide behind a $10,000 company," Johnson replied, adding, however that some legal technicality might conceivably alter the situation.

Release Of Plowup Options Is Opposed

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27 (AP)—The American Cotton Cooperative Association today protested to Washington officials against the release of "plow-up" options to cotton growers unless the options simultaneously are made eligible for the advance comparable to the 10-cent loan on actual or spot cotton.

The association recently urged that the option holders be advanced four cents a pound to prevent them from dumping the cotton on the market. The options were contracted on the basis of six cents a pound, and the four cents advance will bring it to around the present 10-cent market level, officials said.

Under the present plan, the farmers would be given four cents a pound in cash, which would furnish them with needed money and still permit them to hold the cotton for any possible additional market advance.

Amarilloan Named Home Loan Lawyer

AMARILLO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Rip C. Underwood, 28-year-old Amarillo attorney, today accepted the position of regional attorney of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, tendered him through H. A. Shaw, Dallas, state manager, to fill a vacancy created in the corporation's branch office here two months ago by the resignation of Garland Woodward of Big Spring.

Completion of loans in this region has been greatly hampered by lack of legal advice in closing the documents. According to J. C. Anderson, jr., branch manager, the appointment of Underwood will expedite completion of loans to the rate of 15 a day.

Nearly 2,000 applications have been submitted in the Amarillo district.

50 Cotton Pickers Are Wanted In Crosby

CROSBYTON, Oct. 27 (Special)—Fifty more cotton pickers are wanted in Crosby county this year. This is the statement of Edgar Hutchins, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

"There are 10 cotton pickers here for every job in Crosby county," he said. "No additional help will be needed."

The Crosby county crop is about one-third picked, according to best estimates. The yield is turning out good.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27. —(AP)—Cotton opened quiet and a shade easier today. While Liverpool was about as due, sterling was a little lower. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 5 points, with December at 9.52 and March at 9.73. The market rallied a little later owing to a further advance in the U. S. price of gold to $31.76 an ounce, December advancing to 9.56 and March to 9.76, a recovery of four to five points from the opening lows to levels net unchanged to two points above the close of yesterday.

Late in the first hour the market was very quiet but holding near the best.

Early in the second hour, cotton rallied on short covering and some trade buying, December advancing to 9.60 and March to 9.83, or 5 to 6 points above yesterday's close. Later in the morning the market turned easier on weakness of stocks and wheat, coupled with hedge-selling December dropped to 9.49 and March to 9.73, or 10 to 11 points under the highs and 5 points under the previous close.

The mill-takings for the week totaled 413,000 bales, against 416,000 last week and 379,000 in the corresponding week last year.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1-5 lower under overnight hedge selling and owing to the slow demand, Dec. 9.54; Jan. 9.60; Mar. 9.75; May 9.89; July 10.01; Oct. 10.15b.

There was only a moderate volume of business at the start and after some overnight selling orders from the south and scattering liquidation had been absorbed, prices steadied slightly on trade buying. Demand, however, was restricted by a disposition to await further developments and after selling up from 9.45 to 9.60 for December, prices eased slightly. The market at the end of the first half hour was quiet within a point or two either way of yesterday's close. Cables said offerings in that market had been absorbed by trade calling with the market steady.

The market remained quiet later in the morning. There was some Liverpool buying presumably on the differences during the first hour while there was a scattering trade and commission house demand and offerings from the south were light after the first half hour. December worked up to 9.63 and May to 10.00, making net advances of about 5 to 8 points but this advance seemed to bring out a little more selling and prices at midday were back within a point or two of yesterday's closing quotations on most of the active months.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Financial market thermometers today registered "dullness and caution," but prices generally showed a tendency to improve in the afternoon despite the apparent indecision of traders regarding the administration's gold control program.

Although the price of the yellow metal was moved up 22 cents an ounce to $31.76 by the R. F. C. foreign exchanges actually declined in terms of the dollar. This puzzling anomaly apparently left stocks and staples hanging on a doubtful ledge for a time and the activity during the early hours was at a low point for the past several weeks. Wheat rallied later, however, and stocks firmed sympathetically. Bonds were mixed.

Recoveries of 2 to around 3 points were recorded by shares of National Distillers, Case and Allied Chemical. American Smelting and Cerro De Pasco were up a point. Moderate advances were shown by Du Pont, Westinghouse, American Telephone, U. S. Smelting, Sears Roebuck, Alaska Juneau, New York Central, Chrysler and Pennsylvania. Most of the tobacco stocks eased.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Action of the gold market appearing to have temporarily exhausted itself as a stimulating factor, grain values underwent early downturns today. Wheat traders emphasized that for the first time Russian wheat exports were approaching 2,000,000 bushels a week. Opening 1-8@7-8 lower, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started 1-8@3-8 off, and continued downgrade.

MISSING-GIRL CASE BLAMED ON DAN CUPID

A missing-girl case was revealed this morning, after police found the girl here, as another instance of cupid finding the range and plunking away at a couple of 15-year-olds who decided to do something about it.

The couple—a girl of near Jayton and a boy of Spur—had not been married, as he mistakenly went to Littlefield instead of Shallowater, where they were to be married, after a marriage license was procured Thursday morning here, the girl explained. Policeman Bill Earnest and her brother, of Spur, found the girl in a boxcar. With her was a woman whose husband, not found by police, had sworn to the girl's age so the license would be issued.

Sheriff Bill Arthur of Dickens said the boy was held in jail at Dickens and the boy's uncle, who brought the couple to Lubbock, was in city jail here.

Grant-Lee Memorial Monument Opposed

VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 27 (AP)—A resolution opposing erection of a Grant-Lee memorial monument at Appomattox because "it commemorates" and memoralized "wrong over right" was adopted today by the Georgia division, United Confederate Veterans.

The resolution was similar, it was announced, to one passed by Sons of Confederate Veterans and United Daughters of the Confederacy of Georgia and Virginia and the Southern Confederate Memorial association.

Such a monument, the resolution said also, memorializes "the subjugation of the south, and of the institution of negro rule and carpet bagger supremacy in the south." It provided that a copy be sent to the president.

Ranchman Returns To Face Charges

MARSHALL, N. C., Oct. 27 (AP)—James Lunsford, 58-year old Louisiana rancher returned to Marshall Thursday to face a 33-year old murder charge.

Moved, he said, by a desire to "get it off his mind," Lunsford surrendered to officers here and told them he wanted to be tried in connection with the fatal shooting of his cousin, Bud Lunsford, in 1900.

"I know I was justified," Lunsford was quoted as saying, "but I want to get the thing cleared up."

He said that for almost 30 years he had been living in Louisiana, and had become well-to-do in the cattle business.

CLEAN FOOTBALL by JOCK SUTHERLAND, FAMOUS PITT COACH

A COUPLE of years ago officials banned the flying tackle, thinking it would reduce the number of grid accidents. But it's still used on rare occasions.

A flying tackle is somewhat similar in effect to clipping; unlike clipping, it is more likely to result in injury to the tackler as well as the runner. As used today, it is brought into play when a runner is loose in an open field and likely to score.

The runner, if the tackle is successful, is thrown heavily to the ground due to the momentum of the tackler and himself. Broken bones are common in this type of tackle, and not only that, but the tackler is threatened with the flying cleats of the runner, and with having a knee planted in his face if the tackle is made from the front or side.

The sketch shows a flying tackle from the rear.

Frank Carr And His Hollywood Orchestra

Have played continuously in Los Angeles and Hollywood for ten years past. Mr. Carr writes: "You have seen and heard us many times in both silent and talking pictures (ALL BIG FEATURE PICTURES) during this ten year period. Most every Movie Star has danced to our music".

Also—"I will give AUDITIONS to Vocal Soloists, Trios, Crooners, etc. Anyone of merit (THEY MUST BE GOOD) will be given opportunity to sing with the Orchestra in the Hotel (WITHOUT COMPENSATION). If I discover an EXCEPTIONAL voice with PERSONALITY, I will recommend that person to an Artist Bureau of a major Columbia Broadcasting System, Key Station, and to a famous producer of stage presentations in Hollywood. I do not promise employment of radio or stage work to anybody, but I will sincerely recommend, and then it is up to that party to produce their talents—IT'S UP TO THEM."

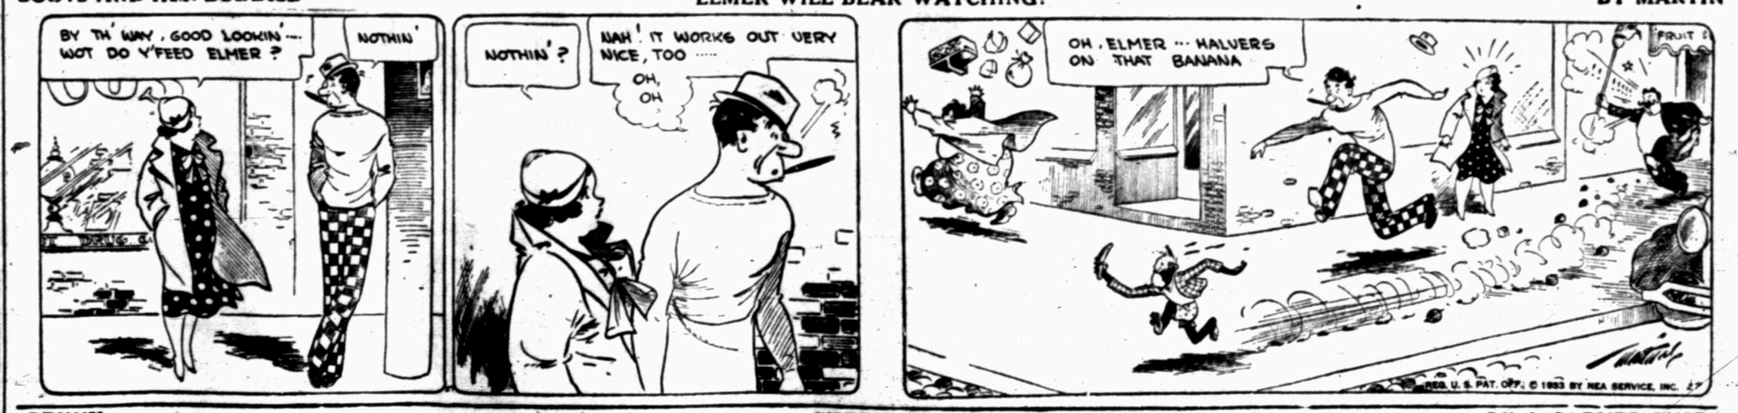

THE HILTON

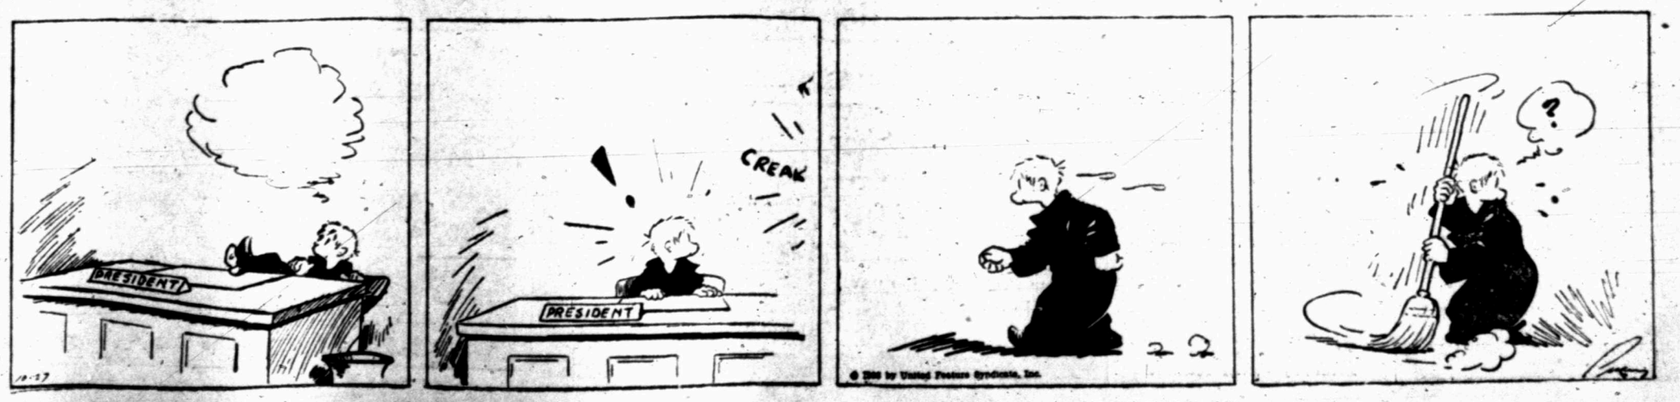

Mr. Carr and his Orchestra will appear in the HILTON Dining Room, and play their first dance, Saturday, November 4th in the Matador Ball Room.

Here And There ON COTTON ROW In Lubbock

COTTON SALES INCREASE

Sales of cotton the past several days have increased by leaps and bounds and cotton men are much more optimistic than they were last week. The increase was noticeable over the week-end and every day since the buyers have had more to do. Farmers are reported selling to gins and also to local buyers, with the price hovering around nine cents a pound.

TWO REASONS GIVEN

Cotton men attribute sudden increase in sales to two factors: first, the price, which is netting farmers and producers about nine cents a pound or $45 a bale for 500 pound bales. With many bales going well above that figure, the bale brings nearly $50; second, need for money. Farmers have pickers to pay and ginning costs to meet and in order to meet these, some cotton must be sold.

HOLDINGS ESTIMATED

R. L. Stephenson estimates the holding of cotton by farmers is around 25 per cent of the crop. While many producers had waited for the 10 cent government loan, the need for cash and the higher price has forced them to sell some and the holding is not as great as it was a week or two ago.

NEW BROKER HERE

Roe Akers, of Dallas, representing Major-Cleveland Co., is a new man along Cotton Row. This is Mr. Akers' first season here but the firm has been represented here for several years.

TO HANDLE LOANS

Royce Waters, representing John W. Hunt and Co., has received advices from his concern that they will handle the 10 cent loan proposal for the government. Mr. Waters has not received complete instructions and all necessary forms, he said yesterday.

GINNING SESTIMATED

George D. Smith, Madison, Fla., a statistician who issued estimates on cotton production, etc., two days before the last government report was issued, estimated the ginnings up to October 18 would be 8,605,000 bales. The government estimate was 8,624,000 bales. Harry Blocker, who corresponds for Mr. Smith from this territory, estimated on the basis of the Smith announcement of 67 per cent of the crop ginned to that date, the total would be 12,871,600 bales. This is the highest percentage of the crop being out since the 1930 crop when it was 67.3 per cent on October 18. The highest of all was for the 1922 crop when it was 71.7 per cent out on the mid-October report. The year before it was 68.9 per cent out.

BIG CROP PLANNED

J. W. McDonald of O'Donnell, gin owner, while here the other day, reported W. L. Palmer, O'Donnell business man, is planning to plant 2,000 acres in cotton next year. Mr. Palmer is taking all of his seed from his cotton back to the farm instead of selling it. He operates several sections of land, some four miles south of O'Donnell in Dawson county and some east of town, in Lynn county.

SHOWER DELAYS PICKING

T. C. Calley, Shallowater ginner, who was on Cotton Row the other day, reported a good light shower that morning that stopped picking. The crop is being gathered faster as more cotton is opening, he said.

DANIELS GIN BUSY

The Daniels gin at Wolfforth, owned and managed by W. T. Daniels, is one of the busiest places in this area, according to reports to buyers. The gin has a cotton house with a capacity of 130 bales and it is full. Each week as farmers with large acreages of cotton bring their seed cotton to the gin, they pile it on the ground. Last Sunday, with no farmers bringing in cotton, Mr. Daniel took the opportunity to gin this cotton and he had six large piles, each containing probably 10 to 20 bales. A suction pipe was out onto each pile and the cotton brought into the gin. Mr. Daniel has had as high as 240 bales on his yard and in his cotton house, at one time, awaiting ginning. Last Saturday after reporting his ginnings, he turned out 75 more bales by the time the Sunday Avalanche-Journal had reached his office, early Sunday morning.

TO HANDLE LOANS

Peter Evans and C. W. Booher, well known buyers, acting for Eugene B. Smith and Co., announce they are prepared to handle 10 cent government loans. Their office is in room 232 Wall building. Mr. Evans has made Lubbock his headquarters for several seasons and Mr. Booher has been here a number of years.

Note the cameramen in the background poised to record the jump.

Bulldog Wins Row With Traffic Cop

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 27 (AP)—Policeman B. J. Hudson has various tactics for enforcing the traffic laws but for once in his life all of them were wrong.

Spying a horse and buggy parked in a "no parking" zone, he approached with ticket in hand out retreated before the vicious growls of a bulldog lying on the seat.

The "bawling out" system, Officer Hudson reasoned, would not work So he tossed the ticket into the buggy.

The dog promptly chewed it up.

By now a crowd had gathered Some cheered for the officer, others for the dog.

Another ticket was tossed in, and then another and another.

The bulldog ate them all.

Officer Hudson glared at the bulldog. The bulldog glared at Officer Hudson and Officer Hudson walked away.

Laundrymen Choose Permanent Leaders

Lubbock laundry operators last night re-elected previously temporary officers to lead a permanent organization which will administer the industry's code here.

M. E. Heard is chairman and H. M. Ellsworth secretary. Ellsworth estimated that laundries doing 80 per cent of the local business were represented. Ben R. Eskridge and Lonnie Sanders were named members of a committee to invite other operators to join the association.

The association is to pave the way for administration of a permanent code here. At present laundries are operating under a temporary code. Ellsworth said that only about half of the 30 laundries listed here have reported they were operating under the code.

The next meeting will be in the textile building at Texas Technological college Nov. 2.
