Squalls Lash Texas As Gulf Storm Grows

By The Associated Press
Squall weather moved through Texas' Rio Grande Valley Saturday night as a baby hurricane blew toward the Tampico, Mex., area with slowly gathering strength.

The Brownsville weather bureau measured more than four inches of rain during 24-hour period. By night, the weather was generally squally throughout the Valley. The overcast had spread as far north as San Antonio.

1,963 Bales Of Cotton Ginned Here Last Week

Harvest laborers stepped up the tempo in Howard county cotton fields last week, and prospects pointed to heavier demands on ginning facilities within the next few days.

By Saturday eight gins in Big Spring had processed 1,963 bales, more than the total for the entire county at the first of the week.

Meanwhile, farmers were seeking more field hands to speed the harvest. A number of harvest laborers arrived here during the past week, but the Texas Employment Commission office estimated that over 2,500 more are needed immediately.

The labor problem is expected to ease some next week when the first crews from Mexico are scheduled to arrive here to fulfill a contract negotiated with the Howard County Farm Bureau.

Observers believe that something over one fourth of the Howard county crop is open and ready for harvest.

Some crops were damaged to a moderate extent by rains which fell several days ago. In some instances it is requiring 100 to 200 more pounds of seed cotton to make a bale in those sections than in others where showers were light.

Tito Says Hungary Menaces His Regime

BEIGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 24 (AP)—Marshal Tito bluntly and personally accused Hungary tonight of aiding a "warmer" plot to replace his government with a Yugoslav regime servile to Russia.

In a note which Tito himself handed to the Hungarian ambassador, the Yugoslav chief charged that the trial of Laslo Rak, former Hungarian foreign minister, and seven associates at Budapest, was part of the plot.

Rak and two former Hungarian Communist Party officials, Dr. R. R. Szoenyi and Andras Szalai, were sentenced to death by hanging at Budapest today. Two others were sentenced to life and another to nine years imprisonment, while two more, including the former Hungarian army chief, Lt. Gen. Gyorgy Faltay, were ordered held for court martial.

The Hungarian government had charged the eight with plotting with Yugoslav and American agents to assassinate leading Hungarian Communists and overthrow the Hungarian government.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—A Yugoslav diplomat accused Russia again tonight of plotting to crush his country. But he said Yugoslavia would not vote against Soviet moves in the United Nations Assembly just because they were Soviet-inspired.

Deputy Foreign Minister Ales Rehler made his statement off the floor of the United Nations, where Chile threw the issue into the Assembly with a charge that Russia was "hatefully imperialist."

Rehler said in a UN radio broadcast that a treason trial in Budapest, which was intended to prove the existence of a Yugoslav plot against Hungary, has proved in fact the opposite: the existence of a Soviet plot against the independence of Yugoslavia.

One week from today and the big show, the biggest celebration in Big Spring's history, will be underway. There will be big parades, contests, speaking, Centennial ball and square dance festival, a radio industry bazaar, the Howard County Fair presentation of the cantata "Big Spring" and a mass religious service.

And don't forget Centurama. It's no elementary school play affair. There will be some 500 characters all in gaudy period costumes, going through a historical tapestry accompanied by fast moving narration. And a fireworks display will cap it off each of the three nights.

A campaign has been launched for another big thing for Big Spring. The one in use for the past four years is a going excellent service, but many people want to get away from the possibility of having to remove one patient to make way for another. Many checks into the Herald or KBST made out to VFW from Lung Fund.

Cotton harvest is beginning to hit full stride. The total ginnings are now around 3,000 for the county. Last week the TEC said 2,600 harvest hands could be placed. Other counties in the area are short handed, too. If brackets can be brought in sufficient volume, the

Crowd Of 3,500 Attends Second Jamboree Here

Some 3,500 persons crowded Main street Saturday night for Big Spring's big pre-Centennial Jamboree.

Imitations by J. C. Mittel, music, square dancing, and a couple of polkas to which the crowd was invited to dance highlighted the Saturday night celebration as Big Springers warmed up for the week-long Centennial to start Oct. 2.

Cecil McDonald, master of ceremonies for the shindig, introduced seven Centennial Queen nominees who circulated through the crowd selling tickets to Centurama, historical production to be presented at the City park amphitheatre on three Centennial days.

Two sets of exhibition square dancers led by Jimmie Fells, caller, opened the second weekly celebration. Tommie Whitley's "teen-aged square dancers followed with some snappy steps as Whitley called the turns.

Songs by Munson Compton, backed up with the music of the Rhythm Rascals and the Sons of the Golden West, were featured during the program. Dan Conley's Barbershop Quartet rendered a number of selections.

The Jamboree was held from a platform constructed in the middle of the block on Main between 3rd and 4th streets. Traffic and parked vehicles were cleared from the area ahead of time, leaving the entire street for performers and spectators.

The crowd was almost double that attending the first of the pre-Centennial Jamborees held last Saturday. The final show will be held next Saturday.

Sunbeam Morrison, executive secretary of the Centennial association, invited visitors to return for the Big Spring Centennial and gave a brief outline of the week's activities to start next Sunday. Mrs. Charlie Watson, Centennial Queen contest chairman, directed nominees in the sale of Centurama tickets to the crowd.

Nominees introduced were Wanda Richardson, Janice Yates, Pat McDonald, Bobby Green, Frances Weir Joyce Howard and Marie Floyd.

The 20 episodes to be re-enacted include a pitched battle between the Kiowas and Comanches Indian tribes over the "big spring" and ranges from extremely serious incidents to humorous portrayals of Big Spring life in the "Gay Nineties," he said.

Pantomime actors will go through scenes from the life of the Earl of Aylesford and other early Big Springers. Capt. Marcy will re-discover the "big spring" on the stage of the amphitheatre, and immigrant wagon trains will again camp around the famous water hole.

The first train to arrive in Big Spring will be greeted again during the Centurama and skits on pioneer customs and personalities will be presented.

Throughout the performance, narrators chosen with voices that blend with the tones of the various scenes will explain the actions of the male actors in Centurama.

One of the highlights of the historical spectacle will be the performance of parts of the Big Spring Cantata by its composer, Frank Granstaff, who will come here from a Tennessee prison. A large wheel of progress with spokes representing historical events will revolve into the future to round

Possession Of A-Bomb Is Admitted By Russia

U. S. Girds To Meet Possible Red Atom Threat

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—America's answer to Russia's new atomic weapon, administration officials made clear today, will be speeded up and reinforced the total military, political and economic unity of the West.

Responsible informants said the Truman administration is more concerned than ever.

To rebuild this country's rickety atomic partnership with Britain and Canada, hold the four-year American edge over Russia in bombs and any other atomic weapons and speed the creation of a unified defense strategy for America and Western Europe under the North Atlantic Treaty.

Top officials worked on the strategy of getting ready for whatever the Russian development may involve.

Secretary of State Acheson was in New York at the United Nations in contact with foreign secretaries Bevin of Britain and Schuman of France.

Democratic leaders in Congress expressed hope the House would go along with the Senate in approving a $1,000,000,000 first year arms aid program for European members of the Atlantic Pact. The House voted only $580,495,000.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) predicted a new drive to build up the U. S. Air Force.

The Evening News of London said U. S. atomic bombs soon may be stored in England, under American control. This was not confirmed. The paper also forecast a greater sharing of atomic secrets between the United States, Britain and Canada—partners in the original atomic fission project.

A rash of reports said Russia had staged more than one atomic explosion.

But officially, the only word on this point was that given yesterday by President Truman. There is evidence that in recent weeks an atomic explosion occurred in Russia.

Highly placed informants said today the explosion which the President reported was the only atomic explosion which has occurred in Russia to date so far as the United States government knows.

INDIANS DANCING WAR DANCE

Old West Will Live Again In Centurama

Covered wagons, battles with the Indians, and the first train will parade before spectators in Centurama, the historical spectacle of the Big Spring Centennial.

There will be a host of other colorful events significant episodes in the history of the city and area according to Sam Gregg, pageant master. Centurama is scheduled at the amphitheatre for the evenings of Oct. 3-4-5.

The 20 episodes to be re-enacted include a pitched battle between the Kiowas and Comanches Indian tribes over the "big spring" and ranges from extremely serious incidents to humorous portrayals of Big Spring life in the "Gay Nineties," he said.

Pantomime actors will go through scenes from the life of the Earl of Aylesford and other early Big Springers. Capt. Marcy will re-discover the "big spring" on the stage of the amphitheatre, and immigrant wagon trains will again camp around the famous water hole.

ATOMIC NEWS HITS THE HILL—Coming from an emergency, closed-door session of Senate-atomic energy committee on Capitol Hill, three senators read the headlined disclosure of President Truman that Russia apparently has the atomic bomb. JUDGE DENIES BOND

Five Indicted In Rape Of Girl Here

Indictments against five teen-agers charged with the rape of a 17-year-old girl were returned by the grand jury at 3:30 p. m. here Saturday.

The five are Tom Norman (Tooter) King, alleged leader of the group, James Tindol, James Faucett, Tommy Morgan and Charles Echols who police said repeatedly assaulted the young woman against her wishes in an automobile here the night of Saturday, Sept. 18.

The victim, who was visiting her father, a plasterer on the Veterans hospital project here, was hospitalized following the attack and was under a doctor's care for several days.

Judge Paul Moss denied the five bond after the grand jury had reported. He stated he would not allow bond, but would leave that matter to the new judge in the new court.

(Moss was referring to Judge Charles Sullivan) who has been named judge of the newly created 11th judicial district. First term of that court has not yet been set.

County Attorney Elton Gilliland, who becomes district attorney of the new district, said he would seek an early trial of the case and would press it in October, if the new court is activated at that time.

The accused have been in jail here since the day following the attacks. Justice of Peace Oren Leonard denied them bond until the grand jury met.

The grand jury also returned an additional indictment against Earl on Knight, this time for forgery. He previously had been indicted for burglary.

The jury convened at 10 a. m. Saturday and was out nearly five and one half hours. All principals in the rape case appeared before the group.

Charles Miller, 61, Pecos Commission Member, Succumbs

PECOS, Tex., Sept. 24 (AP)—Charles Miller, 61 member of the Pecos River Compact Commission died today at his home at Barstow, six miles east of here.

Death was believed to have resulted from a heart ailment. He had been a member of the Pecos River Compact Commission for several years, and had been reappointed as the Texas member by the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester. The compact is between Texas and New Mexico in the division of Pecos river waters.

Miller was a director of the Security State Bank here and had fairly large ranch holdings. Survivors include the widow and a son, William of Big Spring. Funeral services had not been arranged.

Mr. Miller visited here on several occasions. He also collected here at times with E. V. Spence, then a member of the state board of water engineers and who accompanied him on the compact negotiations with New Mexico. Spence frequently lauded him for his work and attributed the conclusion of an agreement on the Pecos water distribution in a large measure to Mr. Miller's work.

Blast Report Not Confirmed, However

LONDON, Sunday, Sept. 24 (AP)—Russia said today she has the atom bomb at her disposal but she neither denied nor confirmed President Truman's statement that an atomic explosion had occurred on Soviet soil.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, in a broadcast dispatch recalled the statement by former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov Nov. 6, 1947, that the atom bomb secret "was already long ago non-existent." Tass added:

"This statement signified that the Soviet Union had already discovered the secret of the atomic weapon and that it had at its disposal this weapon."

Tass, referred to President Truman's statement Friday that an atomic explosion had occurred in Russia. Then Tass said:

"In this connection, Tass is empowered to declare: 'In the Soviet Union, as is known, building work on a large scale is in progress: the building of hydro-electric stations, mines, canals, roads, which evoke the necessity of large scale work with the use of the latest technical means.'"

"Insofar as this blasting work has taken place and is taking place pretty frequently in various parts of the country, it is possible this might draw attention beyond the confines of the Soviet Union."

Tass also said that Russia "intends to continue demanding the prohibition of the use of atomic weapons."

The text of the Tass statement: "On Sept. 23, Mr. Truman, President of the U.S.A. announced that according to data of the government of the U.S.A., during one of the recent weeks there had occurred in the U.S.S.R. an atomic explosion. Simultaneously, a similar statement was made by the British and Canadian governments."

"Following the publication of these statements in the American, British and Canadian press and also in the press of other countries, there appeared numerous utterances which spread alarm among broad social circles."

"As for the production of atomic energy, Tass considers it necessary to recall that already on Nov. 6, 1947, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the U.S.S.R. V. M. Molotov, made a statement concerning the secret of the atom bomb, when he declared that this secret was already long ago non-existent."

"This statement signified the Soviet Union already had discovered the secret of the atomic weapon and that it had at its disposal this weapon."

"Scientific circles of the United States of America took this statement by V. M. Molotov for a bluff, considering that the Russians could not possess an atomic weapon earlier than the year 1952."

"They however were mistaken, since the Soviet Union possessed the secret of the atomic bomb already in 1947."

"As for the alarm that is being spread on this account by certain foreign circles, there are not the slightest grounds for alarm."

"It should be pointed out that the Soviet government, despite the existence in its country of an atomic weapon, adopts and intends adopting in the future its former position in favor of the absolute prohibition of the use of the atomic weapon."

"Concerning control of the atomic weapon it has to be said that control will be essential in order to check up on fulfillment of a decision on the prohibition of production of the atomic weapon."

TRYING TO ELIMINATE HAZARDS

Birds, Sand And Ice Add To Woes Of Jet Fighter Pilot

By JAMES J. STREIB

Associated Press Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 — Air Force Lt. John E. Tuchen felt a jolt.

He had just let fly with two small practice bombs from his jet fighter. He called his wingman by radio as he pulled away at 300 miles an hour. The wingman replied:

"There's a bomb lodged in your left air scoop."

Tuchen landed safely and found the nose and air inlet of his F-80 Shooting Star only slightly damaged. But the small explosive charge in the bouncing bomb could have gone off and made it a tragic incident.

The big, hungry mouths of jet engines give aeronautical engineers gray hairs.

Jets gulp air by the thousands of pounds—about 55 pounds of air for every pound of fuel they burn. The finely machined rotating element—compressor and turbine wheel—turn over as many as 12,000 times a minute. Balance must border on perfection.

Wear from dust and grit on take-off and from rain or hail in flight damage fine finishes and distort the shapes of engine parts by erosion. Rain drops exert a force equivalent to 3,000 pounds a square inch when encountered at 600 miles an hour.

Another serious danger is the occasional scooping up of sand, gravel, stones, nuts, bolts, nails, metal scraps, lunch boxes, wrist watches and tools. The Air Force and the major producers of jet engines—Allison, General Electric, Westinghouse and Pratt & Whitney—are doing extensive research in laboratories, in operations and in simulated operations searching for ways to eliminate these hazards.

Imagine how much dirt a vacuum sweeper would collect in filling a bag one foot in diameter and 800 miles long! That much air passes through a jet engine in one hour.

During the usual five-minute engine test on the ground before takeoff, a jet engine breathes enough air to fill a one-story building covering a small city block. And bombers have up to eight engines, with appetites growing bigger on every model.

Axial flow type engines, in which the air is compressed straight back along the line of the shaft—have the largest problem. Air enters the compressor in a straight line from the scoop. This type engine, incidentally, is by far the most widely used.

The centrifugal type, in which air enters at an angle in the shaft, has less difficulty because the air can be directed first into a large chamber, as in the F-80, before being pulled into the compressor. An obvious answer for the axial flow engine is a screen to block foreign matter. But such a screen causes a loss of at least five per cent in power during takeoff, when power is precious. The screens can be retracted after takeoff with no loss of power during flight.

Engineers are seeking a screen that will not cost too much in power, be effective against all types of foreign matter, and will dispose of the objects it catches.

The suction of a jet engine at close range is tremendous. At least one man has been killed when drawn into the nose inlet as he walked in front of a fighter.

Stones or other loose objects are sometimes kicked by a taxing aircraft's wheels into the path of its own air inlets or those of a following plane. An engine once guzzled a 20-inch metal hoop which wrapped around the compressor while the engine continued to run.

Air scoop problems in flight include the danger of empty cartridges split out into space, although some Air Force jets are shielded. Or the plane might hit a bird, as at least six Air Force and Navy fighters have done. On one occasion an F-80 swallowed debris from a target the pilot had strafed. Another damaged both scoops by flying through hail.

Ice is the most serious of the worries concerning air inlets while flying. The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, which is doing a large share of the anti-icing research, has found that formation of ice inside the engine can cause serious loss of power. The typical result of flying into ice areas is blocking of the air inlet and a change in the shape of compressor blades due to an ice coating.

Three general approaches to the ice problem are being made. A long range one likely to be worked into jet engine designs calls for heating the air scoop mouth and some compressor blades with hot air from the combustion chamber.

Another approach is to mix hot air with the outside air as it comes through the scoop. The third is to have a trap for ice, with the air diverted in a sharp turn around the trap.

Truman Calls For Still More War Materials

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—President Truman has asked Congress to keep the nation's military stockpile of strategic materials growing.

In a letter to Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) and McKeellar (D-Tenn.) of the House and Senate appropriations committees, the President called for "rapid and steady progress toward the attainment of our stockpile objectives."

Specifically, he asked Senate and House conferees on the pending military appropriations bill not to wipe out a $275 million fund for buying strategic materials. The Senate had voted to rescind this authorization. The House had approved continuing it.

The Senate's action would reduce the nation's ability to acquire such critical items as tin, cobalt and manganese, Mr. Truman said.

He added that manganese is essential in steel production and cobalt is used for construction of jet aircraft engines.

In the event of an emergency, the President said, any shortage of such items would represent absolute limitations upon our mobilization capabilities and therefore upon the magnitude of our war effort.

Mr. Truman's letter, dated Sept. 20 was made public by Rep. Cannon yesterday after the White House announced that an atomic explosion had been fired in Russia.

WTU Is Ordered To Bargain On Labor Contract

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The West Texas Utilities Co., Abilene, Tex., has been ordered by the National Labor Relations Board to bargain on a labor contract with the AFL Electrical Workers Union.

The firm, which distributes power, water and ice service to 48 counties violated the labor laws by refusing to bargain with the union since Sept. 19, 1947, the NLRB ruled yesterday.

The union won an NLRB election in mid-1946 to determine the bargaining agent. In October and November, 1947, some employees petitioned to remove the union's certification.

But the company's failure to bargain with the union before these petitions was responsible for some workers becoming disgruntled with the union, the NLRB ruled. It added:

"The only way by which the effect of the respondent's (company's) unlawful refusal to bargain can be remedied is to require the respondent to bargain with the union at this time, even though the union may possibly have lost its majority membership."

"To the extent that the 'first' and 'second' petitions (for removal of the union's bargaining authority) suggests that the union may have lost its prior majority, we find that loss to be attributable to the respondent's antecedent unfair labor practices."

The utility had conceded it refused to bargain during a period in 1947 after the NLRB's general counsel ruled that officers of the parent AFL were required to file non-Communist affidavits before an AFL union could have compulsory bargaining privileges.

The NLRB, noting that it had ruled otherwise, then its general counsel on this matter said:

"One who commits an unlawful act because of an honest but mistaken understanding of the law is not absolved from responsibility of his unlawful conduct."

Announcement from the company officers of Abilene last week indicated the company had been advised of major changes. However, one court record relating to the failure to bargain with the AFL Union between Sept. 19 and Nov. 8.

Company officials have indicated that the order to bargain may be taken to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Why All The Fuss Over Soviet Atomic Blast?

By ED CREAUGH

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—It may have been the biggest news since Hiroshima.

But that familiar figure, the man in the street, took it with calmness, indifference or resignation.

"So they got the bomb. So what?" said a fat little man in Times Square. "Everybody knew they'd have it sooner or later. What's all the excitement about?"

"If there's going to be a war, well, there's going to be one, that's all. My worrying won't help any."

A Greenwich Village housewife said, "It's just as well. Now maybe both sides will think twice before starting anything," declared a door-man walking two Sealshams on Madison Avenue.

But mostly New Yorkers didn't talk about the news that was in every headline and on every news broadcast. Instead they went about their business or pleasure.

"Just as if they didn't know that all these buildings could come tumbling on their heads some fine morning," said a thin, nervous man perched on a lunch-counter stool.

The actors in front of the Palace Theater ignored the news. They talked about television. In St. Patrick's cathedral the usual wringing of worshippers—no more than usual—kneel in prayer.

From behind the bar in a Lexington Ave. Cafe, a midjet radio gave out in metallic spurts, "atomic fixation."

A customer snapped, "Who wants to hear that stuff? Get the ball game, Frank. The Yanks are playing Washington."

Raidin' Dale Raids Again

HOUSTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Raidin' Dale Richardson raided again last night and raked in 11 more one-half marble machines.

The La Porte constable, who came to stamp out gambling in Houston by himself, presented 10 tavern operators with search warrants, then took the tables.

Richardson earlier this month rounded up 70 tables and was named defendant in a court suit alleging such devices were seized illegally because of the absence of search warrants.

The search warrants last night were issued by Justice of the Peace Calder Ewing of La Porte, home precinct for Richardson and 25 miles southeast of Houston.

The cowboy-booted constable called up newspapers, told them he had a good story in the making, posed for photographers among the 70 seized tables he has stored in a warehouse, then started.

SIZE OF BOMB IMMATERIAL

U.S., Russia On Equal Footing For Atom War

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Russia need not possess atom bombs as powerful as American atomic weapons to be on about equal footing for atomic war.

If the Soviets have the bomb, it is probably not as powerful as this country's newest bombs. But the power of the bomb usually does not determine its effectiveness. A small bomb often can do just as much damage as a big one. A ruling factor in governing the extent of damage is the terrain—the hills and shape of the earth in the area where the bomb is dropped.

The more powerful atom bombs, if only two or three times more destructive than a small bomb, will not destroy an area noticeably greater than the smallest possible atom bomb.

The United States today has a bomb more powerful than our Japanese and Bikini bombs. That has been announced by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The U. S. bomb may be two or three times, or even ten times more powerful than any bomb the Russians may have. However, ten times is unlikely so soon.

But, depending on the terrain, the more powerful American bomb might not do any more damage than our first "baby" bombs.

However, if terrain is just right, the greater destruction of the big bombs would be noticeable.

It is possible to produce dud atom bombs, but in science, nobody expects Russia or anyone else to be handicapped seriously by dud bombs.

Shah To Be Honored

Black Panther Reported Loose In Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24 (AP)—A black panther may have prowled the streets of South Indianapolis last night. Police aren't sure.

Armed officers combed the area where several residents reported seeing the silky mauler. But the big cat, if it was there, stayed beyond the eyes of its pursuers.

Indianapolis radio stations related police appeals for persons to stay indoors. Strollers were asked to return to their homes.

The woman who first told police of seeing the cat also said she had seen a truck belonging to the Cole Brothers' Circus nearby. A police check showed the circus now is playing at Liberal, Kan.

Dirt Farmer Says Day Wasted At GOP Farm Meeting

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 24 (AP)—One man figured he wasted a day by attending the Republican farm conference here.

The man, who identified himself as a tenant farmer but refused to give his name, rose at the conference yesterday, shouting "atop." Then he added:

"I came here to hear dirt farmer talk. I have wasted the day. All I have heard is long statements that I can't understand."

Up to that time, most of the session had been devoted to presentation statements by farm organization spokesmen.

Conference Chairman, Axel J. Beck of Elk Point, S. D., told the man he and other farmers would be given a chance to be heard later.

"I won't be here," the man replied and left the hall.

Newsmen followed and tried to learn his name. A police officer oftered the man protection and the man left in a squad car without identifying himself.

Medical Training Aid Bill Given Senate Approval

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Senate has taken a long step toward meeting the nation's growing shortage of doctors, dentists, nurses and trained health personnel.

It sent to the House late yesterday a $280 million bill to aid schools in training more people in the field of health over the next five years.

The measure's main purpose is to step up the training in medicine, dentistry, dental hygiene, public health, nursing and sanitary engineering professions. It would authorize the spending of $40 million in the first year. Average spending each year would be about $56 million.

The measure divides the aid this way:

(1) Grants to public and non-profit private schools based on the number of students enrolled.

(2) Grants to qualified schools for increasing their training facilities or for new buildings which would step up enrollment.

(3) Scholarships to carry students through a full course of training in their chosen field.

The bill would set up a 10-member council to be named by the President. This group would direct the program and determine which schools and students might qualify for help.

16,000 EXPERTS TO BE LISTED

'Who's Who' Companion Is Slated For Early Publication

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
AP Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—"Who's Who" soon will have a new bookshelf brother named "Who Knows—And What."

The purpose of the new book is to put people who want to know something about a certain subject in touch with somebody who knows.

It will contain the names and brief biographies of 16,000 authorities, experts and specially informed persons.

Among them are experts on such things as peeling chipped pearls, icebergs, home life of turtles, weed control, grasshoppers, feat her colors, diseases of onion and fair expositions, submarine cables, uses for peanut hulls, crossword puzzles—even the pop ability of popcorn.

The A. N. Marquis Company, publisher of "Who's Who in America" and other biographical dictionaries for 30 years, plans to bring out "Who Knows" late in November.

"Almost everyone," the editors point out, "is especially informed about something."

So it won't list everybody who knows something. Nor will it list all specialists. Take doctors, for example. They work in a special field. But there are standard directories for them. A dermatologist would not be listed just because he is a skin specialist. But he would be if he also is a high ranking authority on poison ivy.

The book was limited to subjects "likely to be asked about," and to knowers who "cannot be easily traced through existing reference sources."

Thus "Who Knows" was designed as a handy guide to sought-after but hard-to-find specialists in an era of increasing specialization.

"There never has been anything like it before," says Wheeler Sammons, Jr., assistant publisher.

Gathering material took two years. Then a staff under Paul Kruse, the directing editor, spent six additional months selecting names and subjects.

The 800-page book will cover about 25,000 subjects. That's more than twice the number of listed specialists. Most of the men and women in it are listed at least twice. For instance: One man got in under pomology (the science of fruit growing), and also under shipping and storing delicious fruits.

Another was entered as an expert in both Confederate history and the Hatfield-McCoy feud.

nobody can buy a place in the book. Those who are listed pay nothing.

How do you use it? Suppose you want to get in touch with an expert on artesian wells. You run down the index to "artesian wells." Rests it at the page and biography numbers of a couple of them. You read the biographies and make your choice.

The biographies set forth the expert's name, specialty, age, education, where he has worked, what he has done in his particular field and his address.

A glance through the "B" section of the index gives you an idea of the scope of the subjects. They range from isotopes to everyday items. From physics to the doctrine of a religious sect in Persia. Baconian Theory (the theory that Francis Bacon wrote Shakespeare's plays) and Baroque art to bananas, ham-jos, berries and beer.

FIRST BOMBS WERE DUDS

Intelligence Knew Of Red Atom Work

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—American and British intelligence agents for at least nine weeks have known of steps leading to Russia's "use and perfection" of the atom bomb, the New York Daily News said today.

In a dispatch from Rome by Robert Conway, the News said the first two Soviet bombs were dropped in an area near the Caspian sea, and failed to explode.

"However, it was obvious," the story added, "that it was merely a matter of time before the Russian atom bomb would be successfully detonated."

The dispatch said Premier Stalin determined to witness the first explosion was on hand when the two duds were dropped and "presumably was present when the third—and successful—bomb went off."

The recent movement of Soviet troops into Southern Russia may have been in connection with security measures taken both with regard to Stalin and to prevent foreign agents from catching a glimpse of the explosion, even at a distance, the dispatch said.

It added that American and British agents were said to have had German contacts set up in Turkey and Greece and the Near East "with a view to a certain amount of espionage, even though the explosion occurred where witnesses would be unavailable."

Conway wrote that he was asked to withhold information on the British and American agents' "savagery" that the experiments were in progress because it was hoped that attempts to obtain detailed data would be facilitated if the Russians were caught off their guard.

Mexican Labor Ban Extended To Nueces County

AUSTIN, Sept. 24 (AP)—Nueces County today made the eleventh Texas county to refuse use of Mexican national labor because of alleged discrimination against persons of Latin-American extraction, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

The commission said yesterday that more counties may be added later.

Ten counties under the ban until the alleged discrimination has ceased were listed by TEC Thursday. Officials said the allegations were under investigation.

Altogether, TEC said, requests for some 8,000 Mexican nationals to fill 8 separate requests for labor in the 11 counties have been refused by Mexico. Refusals are always made on a county-wide basis in the United States government, the report added.

Removal of the ban requires a complete investigation, submission of detailed reports to Mexico and possible community pledges, that there will be no further discrimination in the particular community, TEC reported.

Counties besides Nueces listed by TEC as being under the labor ban are Dawson, Williamson, Pecos, Johnson, Bowie, Live Oak, Matagorda, McLennan, Victoria and San Patricio.

MASTEN NOW OWNS 20,000 ACRES

Wellington Farmer Began As $20-A-Month Farm Laborer

By WENDELL BEDICHEK
By The Associated Press

WELLINGTON, Sept. 24.—Farming operations of F. O. Masten are among the largest of any individual in the Southwest.

Masten, of Wellington and Sudan, owns more than 20,000 acres of cultivated land in Collingsworth, Lamb, Bailey and Cochran Counties. He is a quiet, blue-eyed man who began his career working for $20 a month on a Hardeman County farm in 1909.

He expects to harvest 5,000 to 10,000 bales of cotton this year. In December 1946 he bought a 24,000-acre Cochran County ranch as highest bidder in a Federal Government auction in Dallas, but he doesn't "feed one cow." People tell him he can see a cotton stalk farther than an oil derrick. He leases the grass and there are four producing oil wells on the ranch.

Masten was the first farmer on the South Plains to use pneumatic tires on a tractor.

A magazine a few years ago carried a double-page picture of a dozen of Masten's tractors pulling plows without drivers. The picture was done with a "guide" that he contrived as he "projected" with the plows. He had noticed that the "lead-in" plows stayed in the furrows easily. He couldn't find efficient drivers. The "guide" was the result. It still is used in flat-breaking and lister bedding. Men are needed only to turn tractors at the row ends.

Friends wonder why Masten so often stores large quantities of cotton, Sudan and other crops over periods as long as eight years. His explanation is simple.

A firm of auditors in Lubbock informs him when his income reaches a certain tax bracket.

"That's when I quit selling and start storing; that's a substitute bank account," he explained.

Once he threshed Sudan grown on 6,000 acres, stored it until the market advanced and controlled the market for a season. It filled nearly 100 freight cars.

Masten is co-chairman of the development fund of Abilene Christian College and has contributed heavily to the fund.

Through the years he has taken great interest in community affairs and especially in school boys. He made possible the building of the high school stadium at Wellington, Sudan and Morton and several times has taken their football teams to the Cotton Bowl games in Dallas.

This former president of the Master Farmers of America doesn't see anything unusual about his extensive operations. To him the transition from "intensive" farming to "extensive intensive" farming is a natural development.

Masten worked on that Hardeman County farm two years before he became a tenant farmer near Wellington. In 1916 he bought a small piece of worn-out land and a little later a farm near Wellington and began spreading upon it cotton waste, burrs and manure. He says a contest conducted by The Dallas Morning News started him and his wife toward big scale farming.

He read one morning that the News was offering cash prizes for highest yields of cotton on 5-acre tracts in various parts of the state. He began hauling manure from his neighbors' places on two 5-acre tracts.

The Mastens entered the contest four years and won prizes two years. One was $500 for the best yield in West Texas. The other, on land entered by Mrs. Masten's name, was $2,500 for cotton of highest value grown on the 5 acres.

After the contest one year he had a nine-acre fertilized tract that yielded 77 bales and 132 pounds of lint.

It was in 1929 that he went west of Lubbock and bought land near Sudan. His farm just north of that town is his "hobby."

He stays there most of the time with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Frazier. Also living there is his 89-year-old father who is hale and hearty and hustles himself everyday on the farm.

Masten's operations really began spreading out in 1932. He began buying and breaking more South Plains land. He also began deep plowing 12 to 16 inches.

He says the deep plowing started when a gas line was laid across some of his land. He noticed that the up-turned sub-soil did not blow.

His farming took another broad stretch in 1937 when he bought 6,000 acres next to the New Mexico border in Cochran County.

In February a dozen tractors and several loads of lumber were moved to the geographical center of the 6,000 acres. Some of the men began building the houses and others started plowing. By May the land had been broken twice and was ready for planting. A good crop of cotton was grown that first season.

Near the warehouse in the center of the 6,000-acre farm is a few of long, queer-looking structures. They are half dug-out affairs built of sheet iron quilted fashion with double-decked bunks inside that will take care of 200 workers.

Masten was chosen a Texas Master Farmer in 1939. He has been president of the Master Farmers of Texas twice and of the Master Farmers of America once.

Stepout Staked In Water Valley Area

York & Harper, Inc. and J. P. Gibbons have staked their son L. C. Clark as a stepout to production in the Water Valley area in Southeast Sterling county.

Location is 2,332 feet from north and 1,756 feet from east lines of section 6, block A, R. 2E, Wade survey. It is also 660 feet east of the same operator's No. 1 L. C. Clark, completed several weeks ago as a major extension to the shallow Water Valley field.

If production is encountered in the San Andres pay above 1,100 feet the prospector will stop and complete from that zone. However, if that horizon does not produce the venture will likely be carried on to 2,000 feet.

Cable tools will be used to drill this venture and operations will begin in the near future.

Six Injured In Highway Mishap

DALLAS, Sept. 24 (AP)—Six Dallas persons were injured last night in a three-vehicle collision as they were en route to Galveston for a high school football game.

Mrs. Glenn Previtt and the Rev. Thomas A. Carey were the most seriously injured.

State highway patrolmen said the accident occurred ten miles south of Galveston when a Hill-born Ford coupe hit a car parked on the highway. After hitting the car, the coupe swung across the road on the path of the car driven by Glenn Previtt, Dallas banker.

Total Of Polio Cases Reported Here Hits 28

Cumulative total of polio cases reported here this year has reached 28, the Big Spring-Howard county division of the Midland-Pecos-Howard health unit announced Saturday.

Of the number 19 of the cases have been from Howard county, six from Martin, Ward and Ector counties.

Five of the cases have ended in fatalities, unit officials said. Four were from Howard county, the other from Martin.

Seventeen of the county total came from Big Spring. Three of the fatalities were Big Spring residents. They were Clarence Brown, Perry Ann Hernandez and D. D. Douglass, Sr. Other victims were Domingo Torres, Coahoma, who succumbed the past week, and Bobby Priett, Andrews, who died in January.

Although the total number of cases has rarely exceeded two a week, the persistence has been almost continuous since early summer.

While comparative figures are not available immediately, the cumulative total probably stands as a record for Howard county. During the war, Big Spring suffered an outbreak, but a score of cases were compressed into the space of two weeks.

DOWER RIGHTS BLOCK CUPID

FLEISCHMANN'S, N. Y. Sept. 24 (AP)—Miss Silvia Gould says she called off her engagement to a Navy officer because he refused to give up his dower rights to her fortune.

Mrs. Gould was to have married LT. Comdr. Ernst Hoefler, Jr., today at Furlough Lodge, the Gould family estate near here.

Twice-married Mrs. Gould is a great granddaughter of Financier Jay Gould, and an heiress to the fortune he built up.

Newspapers had reported the heiress called off the engagement because she didn't want to follow the naval officer to some post on foreign duty. But Mrs. Gould said last night it was because Hoefler refused to sign away his right as a husband to her fortune.

COMMUTER HAS HIS REWARD

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 24 (AP)—A. Clinton Wilmerding has achieved what is the dream of every commuter.

Wilmerding, as he has been doing every day for 66 years, rode to work yesterday on the Central Railroad of New Jersey—but with a difference.

To honor his long commuting career and his 90th birthday, the railroad hooked its president's luxurious special Pullman on the back of the regular 9:07 to Jersey City—just for him.

When the spry old gentleman climbed aboard he was greeted with a special breakfast, a birthday cake, and numerous newspapermen and photographers.

Then Conductor Stephen Geneske asked him for his ticket.

Guess who's losing sleep over this one?

FOR years, folks have talked about the "low-priced three" in the car business.

For a generation these have been the same three cars, unchallenged for position simply because they were lowest priced.

But take a look at the beauty pictured here and ask yourself:

How would you like to sell against it, with its wealth of Buick features?

How would you like to compete with it when it wears a price tag any new-car buyer can reach, gives you straight-eight performance for less than many sixes?

Truth is, this one sets a lot of standards that are going to be hard to match.

This styling is certainly something to start other designers tossing in their sleep.

This handy size—a dream in traffic yet generous in interior room—is a "must" for cars yet to come.

The lift of high-pressure Fireball power—the level-going comfort of the Buick ride—the luxury of Dynaflo Drive, here optional at modest extra cost—all these are wanted things others just can't overlook.

So why not do the obvious thing and go see the car that's causing sleepless nights in Detroit?

Study its smartness, test its room and comfort, try its handling, note the precise figures of its delivered prices.

You can do all that on a single trip to your Buick dealer's—and make your selection of a wide choice of equipment and colors at the same time.

TEN-STRIKE!

Only Buick SPECIAL has all these Features!

500 WILL GO TO MARTIN COUNTY

1,700 Cotton Pickers Slated To Arrive In City This Week

Some 1,700 immigrant cotton harvesters—1,200 for Howard county and 500 for Martin—are expected to arrive in Big Spring during the coming week. County Agent Durward Lewter stated Saturday.

First shipment of the workers, about 300, is expected to reach Big Spring late Tuesday or early Wednesday, Lewter said. The balance should arrive here on subsequent days.

The laborers, being imported from Mexico by the Howard County Farm Bureau, will go into cotton fields of 66 Howard and 29 Martin county farmers if no further difficulty is encountered in immigration proceedings, Lewter said. They are now in Chihuahua City, Mexico.

Farm Bureau President Dale Puckett has been in El Paso a week, processing the cotton pickers and making necessary arrangements with the Mexican government for their release to work here.

The Mexican consul at El Paso promised Puckett that 297 of the workers would be released to his custody Tuesday morning, Lewter said.

Several hundred are to be available daily after Tuesday with Howard and Martin counties' total order to be filled by the latter part of the week. They will be transported here in trucks provided by the Farm Bureau.

Most Howard farmers who had placed orders for the immigrant laborers were anxiously awaiting their arrival Saturday. The Howard county crop was estimated at more than 25 per cent open, with fair weather helping the bolls to pop more rapidly.

Howard and Martin counties are the only two in this area which have been approved by the Mexican government for release of the immigrant labor, Lewter said. The local Farm Bureau is handling requests from farmers in Borden, Mitchell, Glasscock, Scurry, Andrews, Dawson and Midland counties, but no workers will be available for distribution there until the area is approved by Mexican authorities.

Farmers requesting the cotton harvesters must provide insurance for the number wanted, pay their travel and living expenses to their fields, meet the costs of processing workers, and place a deposit with the Mexican government guaranteeing fair treatment of the workers until their return to Mexico, Lewter said.

Total expense of securing the 1,700 workers for Howard county is expected to run to $27,260, he stated. Of the amount, $4,500 is for insurance, $6,000 for processing the workers, $6,000 deposit with the Mexican government, $8,400 for transportation to Big Spring from Chihuahua City, $900 immigration fees, and the rest for Farm Bureau expense insuring the cotton pickers.

On arrival in Big Spring, the laborers will be in groups of 100. Farmers in the order that they were requested, Lewter said. Each farmer must pay the workers the prevailing wage, now $1.50 per 100 pounds picked, and provide them with shelter.

Two Boys Burned In Garage Blaze

DALLAS, Sept. 24 (P. M.)—Two four-year-old boys were badly burned today when fire razed a private garage.

Fireman F. A. Calbert said Tommy Hollingsworth suffered third degree burns over his entire body and was not expected to live. His playmate, Glen Gaudin, was less seriously burned.

The boys were said to have been playing with matches in a narrow passage between the garage and an adjacent house. W. W. Rimmer, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Naomi Nail, he father of the boys, was nearby.

Mrs. Nail suffered burns about the face and hands in pulling the children from flaming planks that had collapsed them.

UNDERWATER PHOTOGRAPHER FINDS SILVER BARS IN SUNKEN VESSEL

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24 (P. M.)—A recreation director whose hobby is underwater photography today told how he found a group of solid silver bars in the wreckage of a Spanish galleon in the Florida Keys.

Arthur McKee, city recreation director of Homestead, Fla., recovered the bars on Memorial Day, May 30, while photographing old cannon.

McKee would not divulge the number of ingots recovered, but there were at least three, and he admitted "many more than that."

It was less than a hundred, he added.

Dr. Alexander Wetmore, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, said the ingots of silver bars authentic Spanish marks ings and were "more than 200 years old."

The institution purchased one weighing 70 pounds and offered to buy another for $1,000 but McKee wouldn't sell. McKee displayed one bar weighing 60 pounds and another of 80 pounds.

The wreckage was found off Plantation Key, five miles south of the village of Tavernier. McKee could not identify the vessel.

Martin County To Get 1,000 More Braceros

STANTON, Sept. 24—Clearance for 1,000 additional braceros for northern Martin county was announced here Saturday by County Judge James McMorris.

Judge McMorris had just returned from Mexico City, D. C., where he got approval on contracts for the cotton harvest hands. The contracts are in the name of the Tarzan-Martin association, a group of producers in central and northern Martin county.

He anticipated that these harvest workers would be processed and passed on the border by the middle or the latter part of the week.

Meantime, other producers in Martin county, working through the Howard County Farm Bureau were due to receive 300 workers this week.

Hope of relief came after Martin county ran into an unexpected blockade on alleged discrimination. McMorris said Martin countians were surprised to learn last week that that county had been placed on a black list.

At El Paso he cleared through the Mexican consul and flew to Mexico City. At the U. S. embassy at Mexico City he was given aid in obtaining release of workers for the Martin harvest, which is expected to establish a record.

If the pickers come out of Chihuahua City, it may be the last of the week before they arrive. Cotton is opening fast in Martin county and the need for hands is critical.

Martin County Fair Attended By 3,000

STANTON, Sept. 24.—Some 3,000 visitors were on hand here Friday and Saturday to participate in a busy schedule of activities associated with Martin county's annual fair.

In addition to the regular fair exhibits, which featured agricultural, livestock and miscellaneous displays, a two-performance rodeo, the annual fair parade and other sidegigs helped round-out a brisk program.

Stanton's community booth was named champion of the show in that division, while the Tarzan community's display was second and Valley View's booth took third place.

The Cap Rock REA Co-Op's float took first place in the parade judging.

Five Injured As Awning Falls During Parade At Stanton

STANTON, Sept. 24.—Sadness invaded a festive celebration here Friday afternoon when an awning collapsed on a sidewalk in the midst of a parade crowd, sending five persons to a hospital with serious injuries.

Admitted to Martin County Memorial hospital were Mrs. T. W. Edleman, who suffered fractures of both legs; Mrs. Curtis Campbell, fractured pelvis; Mrs. Dan Renfro, fractured right knee; and Carolyn Russell, cuts and bruises.

The victims were pinned beneath the frame and sheeting awning in front of the Renfro Jewelry store, at the corner of St. Anna and St. Peter streets. The awning fell when portions of a brick wall on the store front gave way, losing the awning supports. Several youngsters had climbed atop the awning in search of vantage points to watch the annual Martin county fair parade.

Bystanders raised the awning quickly and carried the injured to the Martin County Memorial hospital, which is located about half a block from the scene of the mishap.

Princeton Prof Plunges To Death

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 24.—Prof. Frank D. Graham of Princeton University plunged from the top of Palmer Stadium to his death today minutes after watching the end of a football game, police said.

He plummeted 50 feet from the top of the stadium, only a few minutes after Princeton concluded a 26-14 victory over Lafayette College.

flow of cotton to go will hit perhaps the tightest place since 1937.

The city planning and zoning commission last week reminded residents of restrictions on signs in residential areas. Except for rental or sale purposes, the area is one square foot in apartment districts two square feet. The commission feels that it people know this the residents to unsightly signs will be curbed.

Martin county had another fun last Friday and Saturday. Each year the institution has managed to put on a bigger and better show. Collapse of an awning produced some injuries at parade time in Stanton Friday, but that didn't keep the fair from drawing big crowds.

The Good pass in southwestern Borden county gradually is spreading. Last week two wells were completed adding approximately 940 barrels to the potential. A deep well in the Coahoma area is being removed. Standard No. 1 Dunn in north-west Mitchell county will be tested in a Coahoma district this week. The pace of oil development is making headway.

One traffic mishap east of Coahoma claimed a life last week. Three were injured Saturday night in a collision in the same vicinity. All three died in the hospital. For greater caution in Big Spring drivers need to be in less of a hurry and more alert.

William Leroy Martin, who stuck a pistol in the face of T. S. Currie, Jr. at the State National bank in December 1947 may get a new trial in federal district court. He got 15 years when his case was tried last year. There is no information that there is now existence in the back. Perhaps he simply wants to hear it again.

Aggies Power Over Raiders

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 24.—The Texas Aggies broke a long losing streak tonight, power driving to a 26 to 7 victory over Texas Tech before 20,000 at Alamo stadium.

Speedy sophomores led by Robert Smith of Houston, 192-pound full back, ran the Tech Red Raiders ragged and gouged the Tech line for 370 yards of pay-off yardage.

Smith climaxed a great night with an 80-yard run for a touchdown in the game's closing moments. Tech had the ball deep in Aggie territory. Then John Cristensen of Galveston intercepted over the goal line and A. M. had the ball on their own 20.

Smith smashed through the entire Tech team for his 80-yard sprint and Charles Hodge kicked the extra point.

A and M—winless in 15 games until tonight—got Tech on the run early with a touchdown in the first period. The second quarter was scoreless. The Aggies added two touchdowns in the third and Tech's lone tally came in the same period on a 71-yard drive with James Conley of unah scoring the touch down.

The game was seven minutes gone in the first period when the high-scoring Smith pounded over for the first Aggie touchdown. Bobby Coff and Glenn Lippman helped. The Aggies had taken the ball from the Tech 23 when Ike Stuver got off a poor punt deep in his own territory. Bob Shaeffer's place kick was wide.

The third period saw three touchdowns drives from kickoffs.

Checks Received For Big Spring VFW Iron Lung Fund

First checks have been received for the VFW iron lung fund, now underway here.

No tabulation had been made Saturday, but the VFW post, which sponsored purchase of an iron lung in 1945 through a public campaign, has put up a $100 nest egg as a starter.

The iron lung now in use has given good service and was used on several occasions during the summer. However, there have been times when one mechanical respirator was not sufficient.

Because of an extra iron lung to meet all emergencies, the current appeal has been made.

No concerted solicitation is contemplated but individuals, organizations and firms wishing to have a part are urged to mail or leave their contributions to the Herald or KBST, or give them to junior chamber of commerce and VFW members. The junior chamber of commerce is co-operating in the $2,000 project. Checks should be made to the VFW Iron Lung Fund.

Irish Swamp Indiana, 49-6

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 24.—It was the same old juggernaut Notre Dame, plus some frisky hands, as the Fighting Irish touched off a bid for a fourth straight unbeaten season with a 49-6 slugging victory over Indiana's outmanned Hoosiers Saturday.

From a modest 16-6 halftime advantage, the Irish rolled up 20 points in a devastating third period and 13 more in the final quarter for their 29th straight game without defeat.

An inaugural crowd of 53,844 watched the Hoosiers start gamely and then collapse under the rapier thrusts of Notre Dame backs and bludgeoning defensive play of Irish forwards.

New Quarterback Bob Williams did a commendable quarterbacking job, but it was old "Old Timer" Emlen Tilton who led the heavy shillslag for the Irish.

Sooners To Cast Votes On Repeal In Election Tuesday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 24.—A 40-year-old argument over whether Oklahoma shall remain dry or join 46 other states in legalizing liquor will come to a showdown Tuesday in a special state repeal election.

Voters will approve or reject a constitutional amendment permitting the sale of intoxicants. Oklahoma has been dry since 1907.

They will vote also on a $36,000,000 building bond issue. The bonds, if approved, would be retired from two cents of the present revenue.

If repeal wins the legislature will draft control laws except where the proposed amendment specifically prohibits the sale of liquor to minors, on Sundays or in open saloons.

Lonely Hearts Trial Recessed

HOVER, Del., Sept. 24.—The sentence last out of witnesses reads to testify in the lonely hearts murder trial of Mrs. Inez Brennan and her husband, Robert, 35, and the trial was recessed two hours ahead of schedule today.

Superior court judge, chief defense counsel, said he expects to complete his case Monday when he calls Robert to the stand. Robert is charged with murdering Wade H. N. Woodbridge, his mother's allegedly suitor. Mrs. Brennan is on trial as an accomplice.

Denton Girl Dies Of Wreck Injuries

DENTON, Sept. 24.—Maxine Huyen, 20, Denton, died today from injuries received in an auto wreck Friday night.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Ray Garcia, who received a broken leg. The car rolled over on a gravel shoulder.

MASONIC LODGE LOANS LAMPS FOR CENTENNIAL

Four items of unusual interest have been placed at the disposal of the West Texas Historical museum for the Centennial celebration.

The Masonic lodge has loaned the museum three kerosene lamps with brackets and brass bowls. These gave illumination for the temple when first opened here. W. W. Inkman and Lee Porter said. The lamps will be hung in the museum for inspection today.

Another item of interest is the 1893 register of the T&P hotel operated by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Birdwell. R. L. Evans, who has looked over the register many times, says that in those days ranchers from Dawson, Borden and other counties coming here for supplies frequently spent the night at the hotel.

Pampa Airmen Stop Here On Survey

Four Pampa airmen stopped at Municipal airport Friday on a survey of West Texas airfields being studied as Pampa chamber of commerce plans flying facilities for that city.

The quartet piloted the local field as the best at which they had landed on the tour. H. J. Morrison, assistant manager of the Big Spring chamber who met their plane, said. Making the flight were E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa chamber of commerce, Ralph Brock, pilot for the Cabot Carbon company, Hugh Burdette, Cabot general manager, and Henry Gordon, staff writer for the Pampa Daily News.

Buildings for the Howard County Fair are now virtually ready to receive exhibits.

During the past week, the commercial exhibits unit, the western-most structure, was cleared and is now ready for exhibitors to begin preliminary preparations for displays.

The general agricultural building on the east end, and the livestock and poultry unit in the center section are ready. Volunteer workers under Durward Lewter, county agent and general agricultural superintendent, have been working over a period of two weeks.

Tuesday evening tentatively has been set as the time for volunteer workers to help in the final cleaning. Harvey P. Wooten, general fair superintendent, urged any man who will to report at the fair buildings in the airport area after 6 o'clock Tuesday. Last year, the volunteer brigade helped make the fair possible with its last minute work.

Catalogues are now off the press and can be secured at the county agent's office.

Division heads are: Textiles, quilts, and bedspreads, rugs, embroidery, elderly ladies' work, women's clothing, Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Culinary, canning of fruits and vegetables, pickle preserves, jellies, frozen goods, breads, cakes, Mrs. I. Pegasus Extender Swabs Open Hole

Republic Natural Gas company No. 1 Powell, central-north Upton county wildcat which has apparently extended to Ellenburger producing area of the Pegasus field two miles to the southeast was swabbing the open hole at 12,945 feet and was showing a little gas and some free oil.

Operator had about swabbed to bottom. Plans were being made to treat the open hole section with acid in an effort to make the Ellenburger pay flow.

This well had a recovery of 910 feet of gas cut mud, 6,643 feet of clean oil, and 1,000 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud, with no formation water, during a 14-hour drillstem test at 12,945-13,019 feet.

Practically all of the recovered fluid unloaded from the drill pipe while it was being pulled.

Mitchell Canyon Venture Due Test

Production tests of a possible discovery from the Canyon-Pennsylvanian lime are due to be started by the middle of the week at the Standard Oil company of Texas No. 1 Dunn, in northwest Mitchell county.

This prospect, located 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 64, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey, five miles east of Vincent, and eight miles south of the nearest Canyon production in the Sharon Ridge field in Southwest Scurry county, is preparing to

Lion Files For Diamond M Test

Lion Oil Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill its No. 22 McLaughlin in the Diamond-M field of Southwest Scurry county.

Contracted depth of the venture is 6,800 feet to explore the Canyon lime with rotary tools.

The drillsite will be 665 feet from north and 1,984.30 feet from east lines of section 198, block 97, H&TC survey.

That makes it ten miles southwest of Snyder. Operations are to start in the near future.

Locations have been staked and drilling is to start in the near future on two new operations in the Kelly field of Central Scurry county, and one new exploration in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county. Two of the ventures will drill to 7,000 feet to test the Canyon lime reef and the third will try for that zone at 6,875 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum is to drill two of the explorations.

Magnolia No. 2 P. J. Collins will be 660 feet from north and east lines of tract 16, section 16, block 1, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank Sub-Division, will be in the North Snyder field. Rotary tools will be used.

In the Kelly field Magnolia No. 2 Ray Haney will be a 6,875-foot project and the drill will be 660 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it two miles west of Snyder.

Sherman Jr. & Stewart Hunt of Dallas No. 1 Union Baptist Church is to be 85 feet from east and south lines of the southeast quarter of section 248, block 97, H&TC survey and four miles west Snyder.

Using rotary tools it will drill to 7,000 feet.

Southern Midland Stepout To Test

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 2-30 Glass, central-south Midland county stepout from the operator of the Pegasus-Ellenburger field across the line in Central-north Upton county, had reached 12,810 feet in the Ellenburger.

It was to dig to 12,828 feet, and run a drillstem test on the section between 12,727 feet and the new bottom.

This project flowed 82 barrels of 50.8 gravity oil, in one hour, through a five-eighth inch bottom hole choke, by heads from the zone at 12,661-727 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 2,735-1.

This exploration entered the Ellenburger at 12,611 feet—78 feet low to the discovery of the Pegasus field. It has already shown for production from the Pennsylvanian and the Devonian and the Fuselman and is assured of commercial production in the Ellenburger.

Location is 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 30, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S.

Pecos Ellenburger Discovery Deepens

Fullerton Oil company No. 1 D Kone, North Pecos county wildcat discovery for flowing oil from the Ellenburger was making new hole below 8,168 feet.

This development has shown for good production from the section between 7,969 feet the top of the Ellenburger and 9,118 feet.

The venture is now drilling ahead below 8,178 feet and is to go to approximately 8,218 feet and make another swabbing test of the lowest 50 feet of hole.

This wildcat is adjacent to the shallow Pecos Valley field. It is 660 feet from the southwest and southeast lines of the east quarter of section 36-3 H&TC survey. It is ten miles south of Grandfalls, and four miles east of the Santa-Rosa Ellenburger gas and distillate field.

Borden Outposts Are Near Critical Zone

Three tests in northwestern Borden county, near the Ellenburger discovery were nearing the prospective pay zone.

Sinclair No. 1 Bryan, 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 40-32-6n, T&P, EL&RR survey, was down to 9,640 feet in time and chert.

Sinclair No. 1 Pratt, SE NE section 44-32-6n, EL&RR, drilled to 9,822 feet in time and chert. Sinclair No. 1 Turner, was below 9,629 feet. It is 660 feet from the north and west lines of the north half of section 46-32-6n, EL&RR. No. 1 Turner is an offset to Sinclair No. 1 Sterling Williams completed for an Ellenburger producer of 663 barrels from 9,915-45.

WEST TEXAS OIL

Crockett, Irion Tests Hit, Upton Venture Unloads

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 24—Clear Fork discovery for Irion county in an old, reworked failure, unloading of oil from the Ellenburger in a northern Upton county wildcat the news of West Texas oil the past week.

Republic No. 1 V J Powell, two miles southeast of the Pegasus discovery in Upton county, unloaded oil for 45 minutes while drill pipe was being pulled after a 3 1/2-hour drillstem test of the Ellenburger from 12,945-13,019 feet. Total recovery was estimated at 910 feet of gas cut mud, 6,643 feet of free oil and 1,000 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud. Operator will treat with acid and try for production. The test is 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 44-40-4s, T&P.

Prospects for extending the Pegasus pool into southern Midland county was pushed when Magnolia No. 2-30 Dr. Roy Glass of San Angelo headed oil and flowed to pits steadily. In a 3 1/2-hour test from 12,661-727 feet it had gas in 6 minutes, oil in 2 hours, 27 minutes, and cleaned to pits in 30 minutes. It was heading as it flowed, then turned to tanks. Oil reached tank in three hours, 2 minutes and the first 15 minutes it flowed 3.4 barrels of oil and was still flowing. A diagonal northeast offset to the Pegasus pool opener, No. 2-30 Glass is 660 feet from the south, 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 30-40-4s, T&P.

C. M. Page No. 1 Mrs. Ella T. Murphy, south central Irion county wildcat, gave the area its first Clear Fork production when it was shot from 1,297,305 feet and 1,320-26 feet. Following the perforation shots, the well was installed preparatory to completion. The well is a retest of an abandoned failure by John I. Moore of Midland in 1945. It is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 1,227 GC&SF survey.

Cities Service No. 1-C Owens, Crockett county wildcat nine miles northeast of Sheffield has recovered distillate in tests from 3,784-6,005 feet. On the most recent

Pay Possibility Logged In New Scurry Sector

Good possibilities of petroleum production have been indicated for the undeveloped area in Scurry County between the North Snyder and the Kelly fields.

Standard-Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 Wilkinson, about three miles southwest of the southwest side of the North Snyder field, and six miles north of the initial producer in the Kelly field, found the Canyon reef lime, the pay section in both the North Snyder and in the Kelly, at 6,602 feet, on an elevation of 2,375 feet.

The project is drilling ahead into that formation. Samples in the top of the reef showed porosity and oil stains.

According to some geologist the Standard-Fryer wildcat encountered the top of the reef 323 feet above the top of the Canyon water in the Kelly field.

All showings so far developed at this prospect point to it making an oil well.

The project is at the center of the southwest quarter of lot 24, section 17, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, and two miles northwest of the town of Snyder.

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 Rentall, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, two miles east of the closest completed oil wells on the south side of the North Snyder field, had progressed below 6,957 feet in shale, and was drilling deeper.

The venture had not found the Canyon lime reef. It is nearing the Canyon water level.

Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank sub-division of the Grimes ranch in block 1, J. P. Smith survey. It is seven miles northeast of the town of Snyder.

Flow from 5,965-6,005 feet. It flowed 29.66 barrels of distillate the first hour, 23 the second hour and 25 barrels the third hour. The oil was 54.4 gravity. It is located 410 ft. from the south, 810 ft. from the east lines of section 18, block GG.

Daughter Kills Father Stricken With Cancer

STAMFORD, Conn., Sept. 24 (AP)—A police sergeant died today in his hospital bed after being shot by his 20-year-old daughter because he was hopelessly ill with cancer. "She didn't want to see him suffer," said Police Chief John B. Brennan.

Sgt. Carl Paigh, 50, died at Stamford Hospital of a head wound. Brennan said the daughter, Carol, shot her father with his own service revolver yesterday, a few hours after she learned his case was inoperable.

No one in the hospital heard the shot, Leroy Brown, hospital superintendent, said the girl had been left alone with her father when a nurse's aide left the room. When the aide returned, Brown said, she found Miss Paigh standing in the hallway sobbing. "Please look at my father! Please look at my father!" she cried. The aide found Paigh unconscious on his blood-stained bed. The girl collapsed in hysteria after the shooting and was put to bed in the hospital, not far from her father's room. A police guard watched at her bedside. Chief Brennan said no charge has been placed against her. Sgt. Paigh underwent an exploratory operation for cancer at the hospital yesterday afternoon. The surgeon, Dr. William H. Smith, reported Carol was with her mother when he informed them that Paigh was "riddled with cancer" and the case was inoperable.

Police Rescue Hold-Up Man From Butchers

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—Police came to the rescue last night of a Californian menaced by four knife-wielding butchers who cut short an attempted holdup. The butchers were pummeling James B. Peterson, 19, of Oakland, Calif., when Detectives John Tardall and Joseph Porekko arrived at the Clark Super Mart, 720 N. Clark St.

The detectives said Peterson held his hand in his pocket as though armed in trying to rob a woman clerk. Then he tried to use another employee, Miss Helen Fort as a shield. But the butchers, led by Edward Smolinski, nabbed Peterson.

Peterson was taken to a hospital where 15 stitches were required to close a cut in his arm. He was locked up and held without charge.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

Most people had plenty to talk about Friday when the news of an atomic blast in Russia was released. It had been expected since the discovery of an atom bomb by the United States before the close of World War II, but we seem to have a habit of being complacent until circumstances demand that we be otherwise. We're not a bit worse off than we were before the announcement was made. We just realize our position a little better.

If you've been bothered by mosquitoes for the past couple of months and have wanted to murder some of your associates because they are never bothered, there's a reason. A Corn II authority on insects, Dr. Morton C. Kahn, has found that whether you are constantly bitten by mosquitoes depends a great deal on your bodily odors. Some people are singularly let alone by "skeeters," he says, while others, because of the way they smell to insects, are natural targets. If you're a target, try smelling different.

By this time next week, the Big Spring Centennial will have begun and two weeks from today we'll know the result. Most of the celebration will depend on the average citizen of the community for its success or failure. So it's up to everyone to work for success.

Sunday's a good day to sleep and relax, but it's also a good day to attend the church of your choice. The latter might make a difference in your outlook for the remainder of the week. It may also help someone else if you take them with you.

Stories of Famous Hymns

By HORACE B. POWELL

Rock of Ages

Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood,
From Thy wounded side which flowed,
Be of sin the double cure,
Save from wrath and make me pure.

Could my tears forever flow,
Could my zeal no longer glow,
Thou must save, and Thou alone;
In my hand no price I bring;
Simply to Thy cross I cling.

While I draw this fleeting breath,
When my eyes shall close in death,
When I rise to worlds unknown,
And behold Thee on Thy throne,
Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee.

Ask anyone to set down his favorite hymns, and, in nine cases out of ten, "Rock of Ages" will head the list.

It has proved its popularity again and again. On one occasion, when more than 3,500 persons sent in lists of favorite hymns to an English magazine, all but 300 gave first place to "Rock of Ages."

The author of this much-loved hymn, Augustus Montague Toplady, was born at Farnham, England, in 1740. He was scarcely a year old when, his father, a major in the English army, was killed at Carthagena. Later, with his widowed mother, Augustus moved to Ireland and was educated at Trinity College, in Dublin.

When he was only 16 years old, he chanced one day to attend a simple evangelistic service in a barn near Codrington, Ireland. The evangelist was an unlettered preacher, but his message, based on the Bible passage in Ephesians 2:13, made such an impression on the young lad that Toplady was converted.

Commenting in later years on this spiritual experience, the author of "Rock of Ages" said: "Strange that I who had so long sat under the means of grace in England should be brought nigh unto God in an obscure part of Ireland, amidst a handful of people met together in a barn, and my the ministry of one who could scarcely spell his own name. Surely, it was the Lord's doing and is marvelous."

Six years after he gave his heart to God in that barn prayer service, Augustus Toplady was ordained a minister in the Church of England. But, frail of body as he was, he was stricken with tuberculosis early in his preaching career and when he wrote his famous hymn, just two years before his death, he was wrestling with this disease.

"Rock of Ages" first appeared in the Gospel Magazine, of which Toplady was editor, in March, 1776. It came at the end of a rather remarkable religious article in which the author discussed the overwhelming weight of the sins committed by a man in an ordinary life-time, and the consequent value of Christ's atonement for sin.

For some years, Toplady had been engaged in a sharp theological dispute with the famous Wesley Brothers, John and Charles, and it is generally agreed that he wrote "Rock of Ages" to bolster arguments made for John Wesley's benefit in the religious article to which the hymn was appended.

Today, no one remembers the controversy and Toplady's "Rock of Ages" and Charles Wesley's "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" appear side by side in many church song books as the two hymns which, in the opinion of most clergymen, have been more effective than any others in winning men and women to Christ.

Russian Sees U. S. Facing Depression

MOSCOW (U. S. A. as a guest of the All-American Congress in Defense of Peace has summed up his impressions of the country in "Znamya".

"The American people," he said, "sense that they are on the eve of an economic depression by comparison with which the 1931 catastrophe will seem utterly trivial." Discussing the impressions of Culture and Life, said the Soviet writer talked with many representatives of progressive American intelligentsia. Their statements reduced the Russian to one. Genuine cultural life in the U. S. A. is being trampled by reaction.

In the absence of the pastor, Mr. L. H. Tapscott, Secretary of Brotherhood work for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the speaker.

This will be Promotion Day in the Sunday school.

I'm Serious!

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind.

There's something wrong in America . . . and I'm the chap who is getting hurt!

Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend Church School and Church—MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yessir, I'm serious! Instead of talking about juvenile delinquency, we ought to do something about it. We ought to crowd our churches with children . . . and parents! And we ought to start Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Join to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ATTLEE ASKS FIRM STAND

Britons Warned Of Inflation Danger

LLANDUDNO, Wales, Sept. 24, AP—Prime Minister Attlee today told Britons that inflation threatens to wipe out the benefits of cheapening the pound.

"There is no occasion for general price increases," he declared. "It is the duty of every good citizen to co-operate with the government in preventing inflation."

In a speech prepared for a Labor Party rally here, the prime minister said his government is more than ever determined to hold down prices, wages and profits.

To let them get out of line he asserted, would jeopardize the economic survival of the country.

"Such rises," Attlee added, "would do nothing to increase the sum total of the wealth on which incomes have a claim. It would only alter its distribution."

"Some would gain at the expense of others, but the general effect would be inflationary and by raising the cost of production, would make it harder for us to sell our goods abroad.

"It would, therefore, defeat the whole object which we have in view."

The prime minister said devaluation of the pound "is no magic wand which is going to get us out of our difficulties."

"It is just one of the things which have to be done."

Attlee spoke against a background of industrial and political uncertainty churned up by last Sunday's decree to devalue the pound from $4.03 to $2.80.

Parliament has been called for a three-day emergency session beginning Tuesday to thresh out the implications of the devaluation. The cabinet has decided to force a vote of confidence on the closing date of debate. If it loses—which is unlikely—there will have to be a general election immediately.

International Control Of Atomic Energy Now A 'Must'

News that there has occurred an atomic explosion in Russia may come as a shock to many of us, but actually the development should not occasion much surprise.

There have been too many hints, both from observers in this country, and from Soviet officials, that indicated Russia had developed some control of nuclear energy. Whether this extends to the same fine perfection of the atomic bomb of the U. S. is another matter. But at least it is established that the atom-splitting knowledge is no longer an exclusive matter.

This should not change U. S. policy, should not cause this country to deviate from its stand of firmness against aggression. There is no cause for yielding any further to Russia, nor is there cause for girding up in arms forthwith.

What the world must work more diligently for is adequate and foolproof international control over atomic energy. In other words, this country has the same job to do it always had, but now must be stirred to more immediate and definite action.

18th-Gregg Intersection Still Traffic Problem To Be Solved

The matter of stop-and-go traffic light for 18th and Gregg streets is coming up again.

This time, the board of trustees of the Big Spring school district has taken the initiative in attempting to persuade the State Highway Department that the cause of safety — particularly for school children — would be served by the installation of such a signal.

Back in 1948, this newspaper joined other elements, including the American Legion and the city administration, in advocating the 18th-Gregg traffic control. The state department made a traffic count in June of that year, found that there was insufficient volume of traffic to justify the light. At the insistence of the city, another count was made in December of last year, and again the survey showed that, according to the department's requirements, the traffic volume did not justify the signal.

The Highway Department has advocated, instead of the automatic time signal, a traffic-actuated signal which, when cross traffic approached, would change to red on the Gregg street channel, stopping through traffic, while cross traffic moves. For pedestrians, the Gregg channel would be changed to red at the push of a button.

This would eliminate, says the Department, the feature of a fixed-time signal which would delay traffic on Gregg (U. S. 87) when there is no traffic on the cross street. "Such unnecessary stopping and delaying of traffic only creates a public contempt for signals in general and often results in serious accidents when motorists run 'the red signal,'" said a Highway Department letter.

By this reasoning, if there is contempt for signals, then there will be contempt for a temporary-change signal, and it seems to us serious accidents could result if a child pedestrian pushed the button to get a green light for an 18th street crossing, stepped innocently out into the federal highway only to be run down by a vehicle that could not or would not stop in time.

The whole matter is open to careful scrutiny from the standpoint of traffic science. The fact remains that still a third traffic count probably will be made at the insistence of the school board, and it could change the situation. Certainly here is a congested area that demands attention, and the trustees are to be congratulated for turning to the matter along with other public officials who have been interested.

Sun-Yat-sen's Widow Honored At Creation Of Red Republic

ONE OF THE MOST SENSATIONAL POLITICAL developments of the whole Chinese civil war is the appearance of Madame Sun Yat-sen as an honored figure at the creation of the Communist "People's Republic of China" in the old capital of Peking.

Madame Sun is widow of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, father of the Republic. She also is sister-in-law of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek who is leading the Nationalist forces in the life and death struggle against the Communists.

GENERAL MAO TZE-TUNG, CHIEF OF the Red revolution, obviously has achieved a grand coup, for in the minds of millions of Chinese the spirit of the revered Dr. Sun speaks through Madame Sun. The influence of her example is likely to be vast. One of the strangest aspects of this situation is that both the Communists and the Nationalists claim to be building their governments on the principles of Dr. Sun. What a dish that is for the Chinese man in the street to digest!

To complete the cycle, there is speculation that the new Red republic will appeal for United Nations membership after the anniversary of the Sun Yat-sen revolution, Oct. 10. And only Thursday Nationalist China's chief delegate to the UN, Dr. T. F. Tsiang, called on the peace organization to act quickly to prevent Communists from engulfing China and the entire Far East. He declared in a sensational blunt speech before the General Assembly that Russia is directing the Chinese Communists.

MADAME SUN PROBABLY GOT HER introduction to communism about 1921 when her husband, in his search for ideas on which to build a new China, invited Moscow to send him some advisers. This was done, and of course they promptly started a drive to establish a Communist Party.

At that time General Chiang Kai-shek was one of Dr. Sun's most trusted lieutenants and disciples. When Dr. Sun died in 1925 Chiang succeeded to the leadership. In 1927 the general broke with the Communists, and out of that grew the civil war which now has brought the country to chaos, with the Communists controlling the major portion of the nation. As Chiang said in Tuesday's appeal, "The whole Chinese race is in a critical condition."

Now the big question arises: Who speaks with the tongue of Dr. Sun Yat-sen—the Nationalists or the Communists?

Hawaiian Labor-Industry Fight Hurts Them Least, Public Most

HONOLULU, T. H.—BY WHAT SEEMS tactic consent, though it is denied, labor and industry are staging their bitter end fight here in the area which squeezes them the least and the public the most.

The smallest of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILA) — 2,000 dockworkers — are on strike in sugar and pineapples, the other vital elements of the Hawaiian economy. "6,000 union members are at work and its business as usual with stocks piling up. Profits for the owners and work for the now idle longshoremen are thus only postponed, not irrevocably destroyed.

This situation leads to the charge that the strike is not really over the ostensible issue of wages but over who ships, run the show. The pattern now set will certainly determine the sugar-pineapple labor relations of the future.

IN THIS ISLAND ECONOMY A SHIPPING stoppage means strangulation and the territorial government has therefore stepped in with government stevedoring to keep things going on a limited scale. The union also wisely continues to work for the military, which avoids angering Washington and puts some money in the stevedores' pockets. But the tourist stream is a trickle, the grocery bill for the average resident is up $25 a month due to scarcities, and a great uneasiness swirls behind the beach at Waikiki.

The Truman administration seems satisfied to stand aloof from the war of attrition. The Conciliation Service and Cyrus Chang were finally induced to lend their services but Chang could not leave his East and a meeting there of the strike principals failed.

Labor says privately that the President could intervene under the Taft-Hartley Act. It insists it would welcome appointment of a fact-finding board.

FOR DOMESTIC POLITICAL REASONS President Truman, of course, has a deep aversion to employing Taft-Hartley. As a New Deal Democrat but as an anti-Communist he probably has a plague on both your-houses psychology toward a struggle between a financial oligarchy and a left-wing union.

Nevertheless, inconvenient as it is for the President, Hawaii, headquarters of the United States forces in the Pacific and symbol of U. S. democracy at work in the Asian half of the world, still stands with all her problems.

To Joseph B. Farrington, Hawaiian delegate to Congress, it seems unwise, even perilous, for the federal government to persist in its isolationism regarding Hawaiian labor troubles when its own vital interests are so clearly involved. He has suggested that, as a clear matter of self-defense, the government should undertake to keep the flow of commerce moving uninterrupted through the islands if it had itself to get into the shipping business.

HE HAS HOWEVER WARNED THE legislature that Washington seems not inclined now to move to them and that Hawaii must solve today's problem.

What Farrington perceives is the larger threat to the United States in Communist control of the maritime unions which mean the ports of the world. The part of the ILWU is expected to play in case of a hot war was tipped off at Marquette recently when Harry Bridges, its president, was elected President of the World Federation of Trade Unions, a Soviet satellite.

The United States is a big country with many ports and not to be easily thwarted but Hawaii is an archipelago with two main crops and entirely dependent upon imports through few harbors. In a sense, its shipping is a public utility as vital to the public interest as New York's subways are to that great city.

And the public is being damned in the longest maritime strike ever staged.

Lewis Wanted Excuse For General Coal Strike Without Risking Court Action

WASHINGTON — When John L. Lewis sent the strike call down the line, "no welfare payments, no work," it was one of the biggest boasts he has ever pulled on both his miners and the American public.

For, actually, the welfare payments were being made. Not a single northern operator had suspended payments. They were living up to the spirit of the contract, even when no contract existed.

And in the South only three or four operators, including the Island Creek and the Pond Creek Companies of West Virginia, had stopped the payments.

In other words, Lewis penalized all the operators who were co-operating, which was 90 percent of them on the false pretext that the southern operators were not contributing to the welfare fund.

Real fact, however, is that Lewis wanted an excuse for a general walkout without leaving himself open to possible court action by personally calling a strike. Thus, he made it appear that a great many operators were withholding the welfare payments on coal mine.

LEWIS VS. MURRAY

The real reason for Lewis' tactics, in launching the strike at this particular time, were:

1. He has always wanted to bargain in the fall at the end of the season, rather than in the spring when demand for coal diminishes.

2. Lewis has spent the welfare portion of his coal operators' dues on extra pay, even though he has no more money. It has not been the fact of the operators that this fund has been dissipated.

3. Lewis wanted to humiliate and embarrass his old friend and fellow miner, CIO Chief Phil Murray.

The President's fact-finding board in the steel dispute has already recommended 10 cents an hour in welfare fund contributions for steelworkers. This is relatively the same amount as Lewis gets from the coal operators.

Theoretically, if Lewis is striking now, he is striking against the fact that all but three out of four of the coal operators will be able to pay his teachers at Murray and that he is a much better friend of labor.

Meanwhile, the entire nation will soon be short of coal despite the fact that all but three out of four of the coal operators were continuing to make payments into the miners welfare fund even though they had signed no contracts.

LEGION DAYS

When Legion Days, Lewis called on the White House the other day, President Truman was completely taken by surprise. The President had to leave before the entertainment and apologized to Lewis before the thing.

Red-Suction was a kid on the "Achilles" that set off the "Achilles" last summer. "You had lost some pounds," said the kid, "but you had gained a lot of weight."

Then he recalled that during an American Legion convention in Kansas City some years back he and a few friends had a bull in the lobby of the Muehlbach Hotel.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

In private conversation, President Truman refers to the "first lady" as "the madam."

Mrs. Eugene Anderson of Red Wing, Minn., is slated for an ambassadorial post soon.

Dynamic India Edwards, who heads the women's division of the Democratic Party, spends much of her spare time collecting new clothes.

She turned her hobby through her recent reducing diet in which she lost 34 pounds.

hold no grudges. He was standing in front of his desk when Taylor was ushered into the office and gestured it to welcome back the prodigal son.

After a cordial handshake, the President greeted Taylor over to a globe of the world and gave it a spin to Iran.

"I'm expecting a visit from the Shah of Persia," explained Truman. Then he turned, half to himself, "I'll probably have to send him, plane for him."

"You'll probably be criticized," warned Taylor.

"I'll be criticized whatever I do," retorted the President.

As they sauntered back to the presidential desk, the senator from Idaho congratulated Truman on his "great victory."

"I was happy to see you elected," declared Taylor, earnestly.

The President replied that he had been through the same thing before in Moscow where he wasn't supposed to have a chance. But by going to the people with his case he always won.

The presidential campaign, remarked Truman, "was the same thing as before only on a bigger scale."

When the subject of more recent troubles was brought up, Taylor observed, "I have voted with you on every domestic issue, but I still can't agree with your get-tough foreign policy."

That is the only way to handle the Russians, declared the President with conviction.

Later, as the senatorial aide from Idaho departed, the President called after him, "See you again."

LEGION DAYS

When Legion Days, Lewis called on the White House the other day, President Truman was completely taken by surprise. The President had to leave before the entertainment and apologized to Lewis before the thing.

Red-Suction was a kid on the "Achilles" that set off the "Achilles" last summer. "You had lost some pounds," said the kid, "but you had gained a lot of weight."

Then he recalled that during an American Legion convention in Kansas City some years back he and a few friends had a bull in the lobby of the Muehlbach Hotel.

And do you know what the critter did? continued the President in mock horror. He had an accident right on the floor. The spot's still on the hotel rug."

NOTE — Lewis whose politics differ from Truman's, remarked afterward to friends, "I'm a rock-rubber Republican but you can't help liking Mr. Truman."

EVER THINK OF SELLING YOUR FLOWER GARDEN FOR HAY?

Around The Rim-The Herald Staff

Newspaper Week Ahead; Herald Offers Its Biggest Issue Yet

Within a week, there will be observed in varying fashion over the country National Newspaper Week. The dates are October 1-8, and since they coincide with Big Spring's Centennial Week, the chances are that the newspaper observance is going to take a back seat around these parts.

Last year, The Herald held an open house in the hope of allowing more of its friends what all it takes to make a newspaper tick. Most of the people who visited the office were admittedly surprised to learn how many hands are involved and how complicated a process is followed in getting a news item from its origin to the ultimate consumer, the reader.

This year, about the best this particular paper can do about Newspaper Week is to start it off with by far the biggest edition that has ever come out of The Herald's shop. I refer to the Centennial Edition, which is scheduled for next Sunday, October 2. And if we succeed in pleasing the ultimate consumer — the reader — as we hope to, perhaps that in itself will bring some recognition of what newspapers generally mean to this country of ours.

Just to talk about the physical aspects of the edition, I might say that when it goes ker-plunk on your front porch next Sunday morning, it is going to make quite a plunk. There will be around 200 pages, and an issue of that size will weigh right at three pounds.

Some 14 or 15 tons of newsprint is going into the total output for the day.

Consider your newsboy. If he ordinarily handles 150 papers on his route, he will have about 450 pounds of dead weight to distribute. This is going to take him several trips, so please be as patient as you can if delivery is necessarily slowed down a bit.

Practically every section of the issue carries extra color, which has made press work a doubled-up job throughout the production. There is such a volume of pictures that nobody has had time to count them yet.

Planning on the Centennial Edition dates back to last spring, when staff meetings were held to determine the general organization of the issue. And after this was mapped out, many members of the force had to start in on some intensive research. Some of this carried out inquiries and requests to Washington, Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, and other distant points.

Although the edition bears a strong touch of local history throughout, the staff people here have tried also to prepare a complete picture of what Big Spring is today, how it has developed through the years, and what its position is with regard to the future. There will be some omissions, of course, probably some major ones. But they will be unintentional, because a great many hours of blood and sweat and yes, some tears — have gone into the preparation, writing, editing and production of this tremendous volume of reading matter.

The Herald staff has had wonderful co-operation from all sources, from advertisers, whose participation has made such an edition possible, from countless friends who have assisted in digging out dim facts, in supplying interesting pictures and in helping organize various articles. All of us here are deeply indebted to all of them.

So, if you find next week's Centennial edition an interesting and informative one, and one that helps this community in any way, then we at The Herald will feel well compensated. — BOB WHIPKEY.

Congress Soon May Take Steps Toward A World Government

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, (U. S. —) BEFORE LONG Congress may take what some members consider the first hesitant step toward a world government.

Of course it will be a long time before nations band together in any sort of international united states. Maybe they never will.

But many congressmen, and many other people who want this world to be a peaceful one, think that eventually a single world government must be established, strong enough to settle any disputes that might cause war. Maybe, they say, the United Nations could be strengthened enough to do the job.

To get the ball rolling at least, more than 100 House members and 19 senators have introduced or given their support to a resolution. And now the House Foreign Affairs Committee is planning some hearings on this resolution.

"THAT," SAYS REP. MIKE MANSFIELD (D-Mont.), a member of the committee, "will be a step in the direction of a world government."

Should the Senate and House adopt the one-sentence resolution, it would put Congress on record as saying:

"It should be a fundamental objective of the foreign policy of the United States to support and strengthen the United Nations and to seek its development into a world federation open to all nations with defined and limited powers adequate to preserve peace and prevent aggression through the enactment interpretation and enforcement of world law."

What does that mean? What would it lead to?

Mansfield and Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn.), another member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, think it might result in an international conference to change the charter under which UN operates.

RUSSIA AND THE COUNTRIES THAT trail along with her might refuse to cooperate. But nations might join together in a sort of enlarged version of the North Atlantic Alliance that would be powerful enough to insist on peace among all countries — including Russia.

Judd and Mansfield agree that there must be an international police force and international court.

They agree no nation should have veto power over steps designed to stop aggression and to maintain or restore peace.

Ultimately something like world government has got to come into existence, Judd says, because:

"It's intolerable for us to go on indefinitely in two worlds. It's got to become one world."

IT MUST BE AN ORGANIZATION, Judd says, which will recognize there are differences between nations and provide a way of handling and reconciling the differences.

"I don't believe Russia is going to give up communism and become Democratic any more than we are going to give up democracy and turn Communist," he says. "But I do believe we can live together on a reasonable basis."

A working agreement will be possible, he says, when a set of circumstances is developed that will make it advantageous for Russia to come in and "dangerous to stay out."

That will be brought about, he believes, when:

1. Enough nations get together to guarantee that Russia and any other country can obtain justice without going to war.

2. These nations establish "such a preponderance of force that Russia can't win if she does go to war."

Autumn Air Feels Like Salary Hike In Bagdad-On-The-Subway

NEW YORK, (U. S. —) THERE'S A STRANGE in the land today, and the stranger is — autumn.

Welcome stranger? He came to our town exactly at 4:04:06 o'clock (EST) Friday morning, an hour after the last saloon closed.

The only one who saw him arrive was the milkman, as our official greeter, Grover Whalen, rarely has his orange juice ready — let alone a speech — so early in the day.

But everyone knew autumn was here. The air felt like a raise in salary.

THE FARMER'S CROP IS IN, AND now he has time to write letters to his congressman. The fisherman casts a final fly, the hunter oils his gun. And the wary duck along the Canadian border quacks, "Oh, hell, oh hell, oh hell, knowing he is the target of tomorrow."

At night the moon is a yellow madness. The fox barks on the hill, the lonesome moose shakes his antlers and bellows in the woods for a tall dark lady — any tall dark lady on four legs. The rabbits in the grass review their multiplication tables. Aint' nature grand?

The maple turns again into a scarlet lass, blushing to see the staid oak shed its leaves and dance around in its shaggy skeleton. The squirrel begins his annual thrift, and wonders if the rest of the world is nuts.

OH, IT'S A WONDERFUL SEASON — fall is. The pigskin float through the air before the last baseball has been knocked over the fence. Topcoats replace sports jackets in the department store windows.

The movies quit bragging. It's 20 degrees cooler inside and start showing "A" pictures again. It's a desperate measure to lure customers indoors.

Autumn is a fine thing everywhere. It's a spring with a water lock, treasured because it passes so soon. The boys smith, the workman gives a full day's — I mean day's — toil and cometh home at eventide to a cheerful wife. She forgetteth to find fault!

There's no tax on it. Kid, so spend it while you have it. No autumn lasts forever, and there is no real guarantee it will ever come again.

THE FARMER'S CROP IS IN, AND now he has time to write letters to his congressman. The fisherman casts a final fly, the hunter oils his gun. And the wary duck along the Canadian border quacks, "Oh, hell, oh hell, oh hell, knowing he is the target of tomorrow."

At night the moon is a yellow madness. The fox barks on the hill, the lonesome moose shakes his antlers and bellows in the woods for a tall dark lady — any tall dark lady on four legs. The rabbits in the grass review their multiplication tables. Aint' nature grand?

Big Spring Herald, Sun, Sept. 25, 1949

'FREDDIE' DOES ABLE SELLING JOB

Animated Cartoon Character Teaching U. S. Way Of Life

By HARLEY PERSHING

AP Staff Writer
SEARCY, Ark., Sept. 24. — A blonde-haired moppet called "Freddie Fudde" is seeking to sell Americans on the American economic system.

He was conceived by the president of a little Arkansas church college and brought to life on Hollywood drawing boards with the aid of eastern capital. Freddie is an animated cartoon character. He is the star of the second of four movie shorts designed to carry out the idea of Dr. George S. Benson, president of Harding College in Searcy. The idea is that Americans aren't doing so badly under the American free enterprise system.

The movies are geared to hold the attention of the average family through drama and humor while the message is being put over.

"We're not trying to teach economics," explained Col. Nater, an associate of Dr. Benson. "All we want to do is remind Americans what a great country this is and remind them that freedom is everybody's job."

DOING ABLE JOB

Dr. Benson is satisfied that Freddie is doing an able job of selling. He is an appealing little fellow who makes mistakes in his business operations but winds up on the right track. The story is a 10-minute fast-moving performance on the screen.

The films are the product of a four-way play—a bit of American business enterprise in itself. The credits run this way: plots by Dr. Benson and his staff, financing by Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, artistry by John Sutherland, animated cartoon producer, and distribution by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer out of Hollywood.

The general theme of the cartoon is that profits have helped develop American business and industry and therefore profits have helped develop the nation. But there is no profit connected with the movies.

"We didn't do it to make money," Nater explained, adding that to his knowledge M-G-M "just about breaks even" on distribution costs after charging movie theaters a rental fee. The shorts are available without cost to clubs, business firms and schools.

The first of the animated color films, "Make Mine Freedom," deals with a workman, capitalist, politician and a farmer with problems. A quack tries to give them a cure-all called "isms" in exchange for their freedom. Then John Q. Public puts into the picture, exposes the peddler, and all turn on him.

"Going Places," the second short, which features "Freddie Fudde," traces him from a boy, who by the sweat of his brow eventually becomes a successful soap maker. Then he gets big ideas and with a competitor forms a combine to corner the market. This brings down the wrath of Uncle Sam and Freddie runs into more trouble when another soap is put on the market at a lower price. But true to Hollywood tradition, everything turns out all right at the end for our sadder but wiser hero.

The third strip, "Met King Joe," recently was released and the fourth, "Why Flax Leaf-Trip," is to be shown for the first time in December.

The story behind the story of this endeavor is Dr. Benson. The small-statured, native Oklahoman (he'll be 51 Sept. 26) was a missionary in China when he was named president of his alma mater in this famed slavery-producing area in 1906. Harding College is supported by the Church of Christ.

When he took the job, Dr. Benson expressed dismay at the change he found upon his return to his country. He said his fellow-countrymen "had lost their old confidence; lacked faith in their destiny."

He launched a campaign to persuade Americans to appreciate what he considered the good things about free enterprise as practiced in the United States.

He began speaking, writing a newspaper column, and delivering a radio commentary on the accomplishments of capitalism as he saw them.

Later Dr. Benson developed what he calls "Freedom Forums"—a series of seminars at the college on economic subjects. He encouraged several of the nation's top-ranking industrialists to attend. Now these seminars attract hundreds of business and industrial executives.

He still wasn't satisfied with results. He wasn't reaching the average man—the worker who preferred something else to forum discussions.

This brought on the idea of animated cartoons—and production of financing, producing and distributing them. Dr. Benson organized the first hurdle when the Sloan Foundation, an organization devoted to financing the program. The merit of economic education to granting money for advance amount wasn't discussed. The education he needed for the film capital and completed his mission.

POLE-SITTER OFF TO STADIUM

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24. — Charley Lupton took a last view of his surroundings today then waited for the moving man to take him and his flag pole to Cleveland Stadium.

The plans were to haul Charley atop his pole and transplant him at the ball yard. Tomorrow, he will come down and place his feet on the ground for the first time since May 21.

In deference to his loyalty to the Indians, who kept him up there all that time because they could not reach first place, his feet will land on home plate.

Charley hates to see that comfortable pole perch go to waste. "Anybody looking for a place to live? Tell 'em to see Charley Lupton," he said.

Opening Of Second Venture Announced By Miss Buena Page

Miss Buena Page, who made her business entry in Big Spring a year ago, is announcing the opening of a second venture here Monday.

It is to be known as the Fashion Center and will be located at 201 E. 3rd Street.

Miss Page last year purchased the Coleman Courts from L. E. Coleman. Previously, she had developed women's apparel shops in Mount Pleasant and Midland, the latter also offering children's wear.

Miss Page announced that Mr. and Mrs. Al Gilberry would be owners and operators of the shoe and bag department of Fashion Center. They come from Midland. He has considerable experience in wholes and retail shoe trade and has managed many shoe departments. Among them are Meacham's in Fort Worth, W. D. McClurken, Wichita Falls. For a time he was connected with the Wohl Shoe company in St. Louis as a general merchandising manager.

7,000,000 Houses Wanted In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. — The Federal Reserve Board has found a buyers' demand for 7,000,000 houses—existing or new ones—in the next five years.

In a report yesterday, the agency said this means that roughly every fourth family in the country is planning to buy or build a home during the period 1949 through 1953.

The board decided this on the basis of a sample survey. It added, however, that buying plans were "contingent on the continuation of favorable economic conditions and the availability of suitable houses at acceptable prices and on favorable financing terms."

ORANGES PROVE APES' DOWNFALL

DALLAS, Sept. 24. — Sliced oranges made monkeys out of a couple of apes.

They fell for the bait and thus ended a spell of freedom that had lasted since Monday.

The monkeys were a pair of Indian gibbons who escaped as they were being delivered to Dr. Noble Hamiter, a veterinarian, for vaccination.

They had a sort of sentry system at a trap Hamiter set in a cottonwood tree. One would watch a long cord—which Hamiter planned to jerk as soon as they were in the trap—while the other snatched out food which was to have tempted them inside.

Very affectionate, they only had a row once—over an orange slice. Yesterday, Hamiter put sliced oranges inside the trap.

No one watched the cord—except Hamiter.

IRISH FILM AT RITZ

Bing And Barry Together Again

One of film's smash-hit combinations comes this way again, as Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald appear at the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday.

Their offering this time is "Top O' The Morning" which probably is as Irish as you would want. The comedy with music is about the theft of the famous Blarney Stone from the little town of Cork, Ireland where Fitzgerald presides as police officer. Bing, investigator for an American firm which has insured the stone for a fabulous amount of money, is sent to Ireland to solve the mystery. He and Barry are, of course, immediately at sword's point, a situation highly complicated by the romantic interest Bing has in the old man's beautiful daughter.

Ann Blyth, as the daughter, is co-starred with Bing, Barry and Humie Cronin. Not only does she achieve the enviable height of having the romantic feminine lead opposite Crosby, but "Top O' The Morning" gives her her first opportunity to sing in an adult role. There are eight songs in the picture, two new ones by the Academy Award-winning tune team of Johnny Burke and James Van Heusen, and six traditional Irish songs. The new songs are the title tune, "Top O' The Morning" and the popular ballad, "You're In Love With Someone." To introduce them logically, the latter songs are presumably tunes which Crosby has brought with him from America; the Irish airs include "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and those distinctive tunes of old Erin considered the most popular.

Wives Wondering About Husbands

A mature story that carries emotional impact plus suspense in the Terrace Drive-In theatre's offering for tonight and Monday night.

The immediate action of the story takes place in a single day, when the three girls leave on a picnic excursion with the upsetting news that their suburban town's most attractive unattached female has left town with one of their husbands. This feminine menace is never seen, but her taunting voice rings in the ears of each wife as the latter reviews her own married life in search of clues or events which would establish whether or not her own husband is the departing one. Sharp glimpses into different phases of married life are furnished in the study of the three couples through the wives' reminiscences. The story builds to an unusual climax, with the audience wondering, too, along with the girls, which husband has been the deserter.

American Style Currie Perks Autumn Menus

"Salt of the Orient," or curry is just as good on these mild days as when a wet norther chills the bones, say the local curry fans.

A low-cost chutney, which substitutes the available cranberry for the more customary Indian mango, usually accompanies it.

Curry powder, the basis of the sauce, is a blend of about 16 natural spices, whose synthesis produces the single exotic and aromatic flavor we know as curry. This flavor is equally delicious with lamb, veal, pork, poultry, fish, game, eggs or vegetables.

It is served with rice and a great variety of relishes. These little side dishes always served as an accompaniment are one of the reasons why curry dishes are becoming increasingly popular here.

If you've been making watermelon pickle or have some on hand, be sure to include the crisp sweet-sour chunks on the side-dish tray. Grated fresh or canned moist coconut, crumbled bits of crisp cooked bacon, peanuts put through a food chopper or left whole, and chutneys of various kinds can also go on it. If it's a seafood curry, hard-cooked eggs that have been put through a ricer are also delicious to serve as accompaniments.

Relish for Curry

A delicious relish that goes well with any curry is easy to make. Mix diced fresh tomatoes, finely-diced onion and lots of salt and freshly ground pepper: use about one-third as much onion as you do tomato. You can also add strips of green pepper if you like, and other seasonings such as celery salt. Men in particular go for this relish.

If you're a true curry devotee, you will find Bombay Duck—dried fish—indispensable. But if you want something crisp that isn't as expensive or as salty or as hard a texture, you might use fried onion rings. Let the onion rings stand in milk, then drain them, dip in seasoned flour and fry in shallow or deep fat. You can do this a little while before serving time and keep them hot in a low oven.

Here is a recipe for a mild American-style shrimp curry. It is basically a cream sauce flavored with curry.

Shrimp Curry (American Style)

3/4 tablespoons butter or margarine
3/4 tablespoons flour
4 teaspoons curry powder
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ginger
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 pound shrimp (cooked)
Hot cooked rice
Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Remove from heat and add the flour, curry powder, pepper and ginger. Blend well. Add milk gradually, stirring until smooth after each addition. Return to moderate heat and cook until thickened and bubbly, stirring constantly. Fold in shrimp and heat thoroughly. Serve with rice.

Since fryers are always on the list of favorite foods, now is the time to look for new or different recipes for fried chicken.

Here is one that uses curry to give unusual and pleasant flavor.

Fried Chicken Curry

1 1/2 to 2 1/2 pounds cut up fryer
1/2 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/2 cup fat
2 cups finely chopped peeled apple
1/3 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup finely chopped or grated fresh coconut

2 cups chicken broth or water
1/2 cup top milk
Roll chicken in flour and seasonings mixed together. Set aside left over flour for gravy. Brown chicken in the fat in a skillet. (Remember to turn chicken occasionally so that it will brown evenly.) Cover skillet. Continue cooking until chicken is tender (about 20 to 30 minutes). Remove chicken from skillet. Keep hot while preparing gravy. Add apples, onions and coconut to drippings. Cook, stirring occasionally until onion is transparent. Add 1/2 cup flour (the left over seasoned flour and additional flour). Cook until bubbly. Add broth and top milk all at once. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Season with additional curry and salt if desired. If apples are very sweet and mild flavored add a teaspoon of lemon juice just before serving. Serve with hot rice.

A curry dish that is adaptable to any kind of left over meat follows:

Lamb Curry

1 1/2 pounds lean lamb, cut in inch-square pieces
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 small onions, chopped fine
1 tablespoon curry powder (more if desired)
1 clove garlic
1 apple, peeled, cored and cut in pieces
3 tomatoes, peeled and cut in pieces

2 cups water or stock
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons flour

Brown lamb lightly in butter or fortified margarine with onions. Add curry powder, garlic, apple and tomatoes. Add water, salt and pepper. Stir well. Simmer, covered, until lamb is tender, about 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Remove lamb. Strain sauce and thicken with flour mixed to smooth paste with little cold water. Return meat to sauce. Serve with plain boiled rice or rice pilaf. Serve cranberry chutney as an accompaniment.

Cranberry Chutney

1 1/2 pounds (1 1/2 cans) whole cranberry sauce
1/4 pint vinegar
1/4 pound seedless raisins
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 teaspoon red pepper
To the cranberries add the vinegar and other ingredients, boil slowly, stirring occasionally, until the chutney is fairly thick. Pour the mixture into hot sterile jars and seal them immediately.

Lightning Kills Two Schoolboys

DU BOIS, Pa., Sept. 24 (AP)—A bolt of lightning crashed into a group of children playing in a grade school yard during the noon lunch recess. Two were killed and four were stunned by the bolt.

The victims were Jimmy Proake, 11, and John Hillard, 11. Deputy Coroner F. I. Gillung said the lightning went down the school chimney and then traveled out on the wet grass of the playground where the children were playing yesterday. The bolt struck following a heavy rainstorm.
