County Attorney Files Second Gas Suit Today

Hearing on First Suit Set for Next Monday. Attorney Announces That Suits Will be Filed Without Costs to Gas Patrons

In his fight against the City Gas Company, County Attorney R. Y. King today filed a second recovery suit in justice court in behalf of G. F. Lane for overcharge on gas bills.

The second suit is additional fuel for the King test case filed last Thursday to determine whether the gas company must abide by the contract set out in the franchise granted in 1927 and reduce gas rates, or whether a 20-cent reduction ordinance passed by the city in 1933, rendered the contract invalid.

In a statement this morning, King said he considered this a community fight of Hedley and Clarendon, and while consumers would lose only a few cents each month, the yearly total would run into a large figure. The attorney said he realized patrons could not afford to hire counsel so he would represent anyone wishing to file, without attorney fees.

King indicated that if he won his case and the company is charged with court cost, he would file monthly until some action was taken by the company.

Killing a 190-pound deer on the run at 200 yards on the line of Wyoming was the feat performed by Willard Hudson recently. He submits proof by sending three photos. It would have been a feat in Texas much less in the snowy mountains where he was forced to carry the deer a mile and a half, then pack it on a horse to get it out.

MEMBER OF
PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION"THE REST OF THE RECORD"BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

I regret that the first ten days of the special session wound up in a bitter personal attack upon me. I have been called so many mean things that I just decided I couldn't possibly be as bad as I was painted.

Anyway, the people are not interested in personalities. They are interested in what the legislature does. The revenue-raising situation is more acute than even I had suspected.

This week the entire membership of the Board of Control issued a written statement that unless additional money was raised by the legislature at once for old age assistance, the board will have to suspend payments for two or three months after November 1st. They pointed out to the legislature, as I had done, that the old age assistance fund owes $1,627,000 to Dallas banks on past due warrants. This money has been due nearly a year and the banks have demanded payment.

The Board stated they felt as I do—that more money should be paid to the old folks so as to increase the amount of payments and add more people to the old age assistance rolls through the coming winter months. They said the present grants overage $14.00 a month, but unless the legislature provides more money the Board will have to reduce these payments.

That puts it squarely up to the legislature! I have called them in special session and have made my recommendations. As yet no bill has been passed, but I hope by the time you read this column that the lower house will have sent a tax bill to the Senate. You see, under the Constitution, tax bills must originate in the House; and the Senate has been marking time while some members were talking about the vast sums of money they could save by economies if appropriations were submitted. Last week a majority of the Senate ruled that I did submit appropriations and economies. It is up to them now to demonstrate to the taxpayers how the Senate can save all these millions they talk about by cutting down the very appropriations voted by them in the regular session against my recommendations. We shall see.

One fact remains: if they make any economies it will only help the general fund, which is more than fifteen million dollars overdrawn. We still must have more money for old age assistance and we can't economize there. We must have some money for aid to the blind and to dependent children; we have got to carry out our contract with the teachers.

Remember—unless some money is raised for these purposes by this legislature the old folks are going to suffer even more and we will have failed to carry out the President's program for the blind and for under-privileged children which was voted by the people. Those of you who are interested should let your senators and representatives know how you feel about the matter.

I was very happy last week when Senator Clay Cotten of Palestine made a speech on the Senate floor in defense of the President and his program. He said in part:

"In reply to a statement by the Governor of Texas that the issue now drawn before this Senate is one of human rights against property rights, the Senator from Galveston is quoted as having said: 'Every tyrant from Nero to Franklin D. Roosevelt has used that argument.'

"I am indeed sorry for him or any other man who becomes so wrapped up and warped in his own opinions that he would reach the point where he would brand not only the governor of this state, but our beloved President, as a tyrant comparable to Nero.

"I want and I think this Senate wants the people of the country to know that in his vicious assaults upon President Roosevelt the Senator from Galveston does not speak for the great masses of the people. - - He does not voice even the sentiments of the people of his own district.

"- - Franklin D. Roosevelt has not only brought back prosperity to the captains of industry, but through his social security program he has ministered to the aged needy and has provided funds which, if Texas will but do its part, will feed the hungry and clothe the naked throughout our borders.

"It is not going to be any pleasure to me to have to vote for taxes - - but we have no option. The people have spoken at the ballot box. They told this legislature to provide for the needy old people - - for aid to the blind - - to help unfortunate children.

"This state is rich in resources. We can provide these funds without substantial injury to anyone by taking only a small portion of the vast profits being made in this state - - I would respect the wishes of my people by voting for adequate tax revenues at this special session."

 TEMPLE OF TRUTH By the Apostle *****

While down the country some weeks back, I met up with a new idea. It was new to me, but some seemed to have known about it for a long, long time. Did you know that pokeberries are the best remedy for rheumatism? Neither did I until I saw Sam Hodges, GW's oldest brother near Bellevue. He had been laid up with rheumatism for years. Some times he had to lie down for days at a time. Finally, he met up with an old lady who suggested that he swallow six or eight pokeberries every day until he got well. He swallowed and he got well. After that a number tried the racket with the same effect. Now a lady right here is giving the idea a try-out, and she says she has already been helped. The berries are not poisonous, it seems, much as we have thought all our lives. Anyway, I'm planning on enlarging my pet pokeberry patch for the coming year, just to help out the rheumatic victims.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Daughtry of Worth were in to pay me their semi-annual visit a few days ago. Mr. Daughtry is the gentleman who has been tuning pianos in the Panhandle for some forty-odd years. He knows more about pianos than most any one. I say this because all his patrons are his friends. They are mighty fine folks and I am glad to be numbered among their friends. They read the Leader right along year after year and tell me they like it.

"What do you think about our State Senate? They don't seem to be interested in our aged, blind or homeless kids that are hungry and ragged with winter coming on. The people of Texas voted for something to be done for all three classes, but it has NOT been done to date. If they don't do their duty as the voters asked them to, each county and each town will have plenty to do taking care of the needy this winter. These old folks, many of them helpless and some of them almost blind, are sad as they sit helpless in their humble homes waiting for news from the Capitol. But fellows who draw a good salary, live on the fat of the land far removed from hunger and cold appear to prefer to play politics and curse the Governor rather than do their duty by their helpless charges—the aged, the blind and the needy children. Every cold-blooded senator ought to be out of a job when their term expires. Just a few of them, so far, have shown any interest in common humanity. Write your senator, C. C. Small, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas, and ask him to do something. The session expires next Tuesday and you will have to hurry. Gene Worley, our representative, is right on the job ready to help all the folks that the voters instructed him to help in the last election. You don't have to write Gene Worley.

A joke going the rounds in which Sheriff Pierce seems to be the spoke, has to do with a certain man who was said to be woozy and drove across the county "like the devil beating tan bark," and who was investigated by the grand jury. The sheriff says he had to screw his V-8 up to 90 to overtake the fellow. Later the Sheriff asked a lady near Ashtola if she saw the fast driver. The lady said she did, and that there were nine other homes on the party line along Highway 5, and they all saw the man at the same time. Then another fellow said county attorney R. Y. King donated the man a T-bone steak as big as a mule's lip and seven cups of hot coffee in an effort to sober him up trying to find out what kind of fuel the fast driver had in his gas tank. You will recall that King chased "Perchmouth" into the canyon and covered him with a gun. He figured that if he had some of the "Hellidy-Brindle" fuel in his gas tank, he could catch these bad men before they could reach a canyon.

I don't know how you feel about it, but I am sad about the slim chances our old people have to continue to get state and federal assistance. Call it a pension or whatever you like, but they need it just the same. If you were old and helpless, what would you want some one to do for you under present circumstances. Write post cards. Write letters. Send telegrams. It makes no difference whether you are even related to any one drawing a pension. They need your help, and need it RIGHT NOW.

Eyes grown dim
 With passing years,
 Are saddened now
 And filled with tears.
 Shall grand old Texas
 Bow her head in shame
 For promising help
 That never came?

I thank you, folks, for reading this column. Please help the old folks, and please don't forget the interests of the blind and the little folks.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest heartfelt thanks and appreciation to each and every one for the kindness shown our dear wife and mother during her illness, and the sympathy and christian spirit shown us at her passing. Your words of cheer and loyalty as friends and the beautiful flowers did much to lessen our grief and bring us to a better understanding of God's will. May God's blessings be upon you is our prayer.

The Line...

where economy stops and extravagance begins is a finely drawn one—and the reverse is equally true. Spending is not necessarily extravagance, neither not is spending money always economy. But between the two—spending and saving—surely saving is best. You can't be far wrong with the ready cash. Bank and save at least a part of your earnings for the day of need.

There is Always Worship

Fellowship :: Service

Wait a minute my friend, wait just one minute. Have you considered the value of eternal verities as compared with the vain vanities of vanishing visions of time? Crash! Crash! Crash!!! and your fondest ambitions flee away. Your aircastles go down. Your dreams fail to come true. You are disappointed. You are hurt. You wonder why it had to happen. Such is the case always with the temporal things of life. One needs to be fortified with a faith in the eternal God to stand up under the fleeting failures of time. What a blessed privilege it is to believe that you are connected with an institution that promulgates principles that shall never fail. Have faith in God, and you will be surprised at the poise you possess when you meet and overcome the difficulties of life. Your church service will help you greatly in every undertaking that is worth while.

The First Baptist Church is always happy to be a blessing to all who will come her way.

A TRIBUTE TO

CHARLIE A. JONES

To him, who has left us, we wish to pay our last tribute which he so deserves, for he was so loyal to his family, his community which he served, and his fellow man. He filled his place as a husband who was kind and true; a father and grandfather who was firm but gentle; a son who was loving and devoted; a brother who was cheerful and helpful; and an uncle whose life meant pleasant memories that cling in our minds and carry us back to the days spent in his home with him and his family where he was a joyful entertainer.

Uncle Charlie has gone on to his maker, who took him away from his intense suffering and pain, but his passing means so much sorrow to us, that our hearts ache and our eyes are dimmed with tears, for he left behind him a faithful wife, children, grandchildren, mother, sister and brothers besides a host of nieces and nephews who shall always remember their loved one as a remarkable man full of courage, strength and determination, for even while death was calling, he was hopeful that he might be spared yet a little while with his family to whom he was so dutiful and devoted.

To us Uncle Charlie was yet a young man, And it seemed that more years yet he had, But so soon was he called to cross over the span That it's left us all mournful and sad.

Our hearts are all bleeding; tear-stained are our cheeks For unwilling was he as he left us behind Yet the horror of suffering he spent those few weeks Is now gone and has thus left us peaceful of mind.

So, although it is hard to depart from him now, We give him up not with our will, But God knows what is best and to Him we must bow And let His rich blessings abide with us still.

His Niece,

Christine Wilkins.

NO WOUND CAN LAST FOREVER

No wound nor any pain can last forever;
Time brings a cure or forms a shield for grief;
It matters not how deep and dark the sorrow
The reconciling years will bring relief.

I have a little sorrow in my heart,
An old, old pain that I have known for years,
A pain that once slashed deep into my soul
And brought me sleepless nights and anguished tears.

But grief like that could never last forever
And mine has now become so very small
That only by the scar, inflamed and tender,
Do I know that I was ever hurt at all.

WIDOW LIVES YEAR WITH BODY OF HUSBAND, INVESTIGATOR FINDS

The strange circumstances of an aged New York woman living for almost a year with the dead body of her husband has been disclosed.

The macabre discovery was made when an investigator for the old age pension bureau called at the home of Frank Cudas, listed on pension rolls, and was denied the privilege by the man's wife, Emily, who insisted that her husband was ill.

On a second attempt to gain entrance to the Cudas apartment the investigator was informed that the husband was "in a coma."

The investigator called the police who forcibly entered the apartment.

Discovering the skeleton-like body, covered with an old blanket, the patrolman and other officers found also a death certificate, dated October 26, 1936.

She had not buried her husband, the police quoted Mrs. Cudas as saying, because "I was waiting for him to get up. I was told that I could keep him for a year, and it is not a year yet."

Before Mrs. Cudas was taken to Bellevue hospital for observation a $1,500 uncashed life-insurance policy upon her husband was found, as was a bank book showing a $300 savings account.

She had lived as a recluse and the neighbors spoke of having heard her carry on animated presumptive conversations in her little flat.

Less Smuggling Too, But Forgery of Checks Shows Increase Experts State

Counterfeiting and smuggling are on the decrease in this country according to the United States treasury, but check forging is increasing.

Arrest for making or passing counterfeit notes or coins totaled 1,247 last year, a decrease of 339. Arrests for check forgeries, however, increased from 879 in 1935-36 to 1,215 last year.

PIGSKINS PARAGRAPHS

By DICK COOKE

Everybody making the long wet trip to Lefors Friday were of the same opinion; Clarendon looked worse than they have all year.

Another agreed point was that the boys gave the fans the idea they would rather be home sitting and listening to a radio than sitting on the cold ground watching Lefors run by.

It was further agreed the club had absolutely no interest in the game.

To the few loyal supporters who still maintain all opponents are too big and experienced—the agreeing delegation voted these two sufficient facts. McNabb, junior high boy, ran 80 yards for a touchdown. It was his first game. Ellington, an end, had never played in the backfield before but managed to reel off yards and yards against Clarendon. The Lefors club was sprinkled with new talent.

But we are not blaming the boys, they really haven't much incentive to play.

McHenry Lane, end on the all-ways-to-be-remembered undefeated Clarendon College Bulldog team of a few years back, answered school officials pleas this week and is assisting coach the Bronchos.

At the rate they are going, the Clarendon juniors will perk up the Broncho even in the next two or three years. Two or three of the boys will be able to bolster the seniors next year.

L. B. Penick is starting the youngsters right and fans would be surprised at the blocking and tackling done by some of the kids. Remember they have only worked out about six times.

This department is hoping for some games for the future Bronchos and asking the backing of the entire town. Some regular schedule tilt with all the fan fare of a championship game would help the boys in keeping interest.

Another dire need is helmets for the Colts. They are the football hopes in Clarendon and deserve some attention.

The eyes of 3-B will be turned on McLean tomorrow night when the zooming Wellington 'Rockets aim at the canny cats. Don't expect a Tiger victory unless you are in a habit of being disappointed.

Hunters and Fishers May Break Into Jail 545 Ways In Texas

A sportsman so inclined wouldn't have much trouble landing in jail in Texas.

In addition to the general laws applicable to the entire state, there are 545 applications of special county laws on game, fish and trapping, according to a compilation made today by J. G. Burr, director of research of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission.

"That doesn't mean there are 545 separate county laws; one special law may be applicable to several counties. But the applications are the same as laws, so that there 545 ways of getting in jail, not including the general laws," Burr explained.

There are 212 applications of local laws affecting game, including 20 on squirrels, 20 on quails, 64 on turkeys, 121 on deer and nine on doves, Burr said. A total of 218 applications of local laws affect fresh water fishing, two affect the taking of oysters, and 91 govern trapping.

Virtually all of the state's special county laws have been passed since 1925, Burr said. In that year there were no special game laws, and only seven relating to fish. Most of the present special laws have been passed since 1930. The last regular and special sessions of the legislature contributed 47 special county laws relating to game and fish and one general trapping law.

Many of the special county laws provide closed seasons for various species. Four counties have closed seasons on doves, 15 on quails, 45 on wild turkeys, 54 on deer and 57 on foxes.

The game commission, under present statutes, does not have power to regulate open seasons on any species except ducks and geese.

Shamrock, Wellington And McLean Lead 3-B As Memphis Falls

SHAMROCK, Oct. 18. — The Shamrock Irishmen, the Wellington Skyrockets and the McLean Tigers came up with top-heavy scores in Friday night's District 3-B grid games to retain their 1000 per cent standing in the district race. The Memphis Cyclone dropped from the leading column.

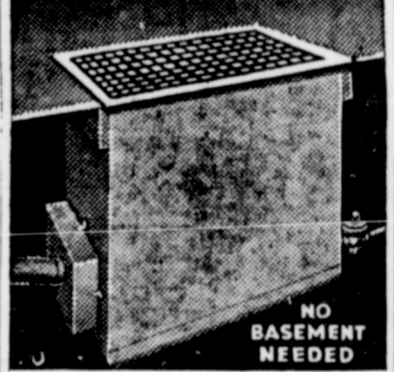

The three leaders had an easy time defeating their weaker opponents, the Irishmen running up 43 points to Mobeetie's 6 on Denver field. The Skyrockets of Wellington romped all over their home field downing the Paducah Dragons 47 to 0 in a nonconference tilt. McLean Tigers were held in check, defeating the Memphis Cyclone 21 to 6.

The Lakeview Eagles, with both their ace ball toters back in the line-up upset the dope with an 18-to-12 victory over Wheeler's Mustangs. The Clarendon Bronchos continued their bad streak of luck and took a 47-0 defeat from the Lefors Pirates.

Mrs. J. A. Warren arrived home Saturday from Amarillo where she had been for two weeks visiting and for medical attention.

LEFORS KEEPS CLARENDON RECORD CLEAN BY WINNING TILT FRIDAY, 47 to 0

Clarendon Bronchos failed to break their record for a scoreless season thus far in district 3-B Friday night, and the listless Ponies watched the Lefors Pirates run all over their home field for a 47 to 0 victory before a small chilled crowd.

The field was soggy from recent rains and intervals of mist dampened the few Clarendon supporters almost as much as the romping, rollicking Pirates.

Jackson and Ellington were the highlights of the Lefors defense in the first half before the Bronchos completely wilted. The Pirates chalked up seven points in the first period. Nine points in the second, three touchdowns in the third and two in the final.

All in all the Pirates rang up 7 touchdowns, one safety and three conversions. The safety came in the second when McGowen's punt was bounced behind the goal line when his blocker backed up into the kick.

Spiking the otherwise drab contest for Lefors' fans was the 80-yard touchdown run-back of a Clarendon punt by McNabb. The little reserve Pirate back, making his debut in football, grabbed the kick for his first time to handle a football in a game and scooted over without being touched.

The Clarendon crew started weak and finished weaker as most of the regulars left the field before the last whistle. Some of their duties were thrust on absolutely untried shoulders.

The line-up for Clarendon: Wilson, le; Reeves, lg; Huffman, lt; Lane, c; Taylor, rg; Green, rt; Davis, re; McGowen, qb; Mears, rh; McWhorter, lh; Vineard, f.

Texas in 1936 produced 13,400,000 of the nation's total mohair crop of 15,976,000 pounds, or 83.8 per cent. The Texas "per goat" clip average of 4.5 pounds is topped only by Utah's angoras, which average 4.6 pounds, says the All-South Development Council.

Samuel Goldwyn's "Stella Dallas" Due With Barbara Stanwyck in Title Role

Strong Cast Headed by John Boles Includes Anne Shirley, Alan Hale, Barbara O'Neil and Tim Holt

The Samuel Goldwyn production of "Stella Dallas," with Barbara Stanwyck in the title role, the next big attraction at the Pastime Theatre, beginning Sunday and continuing through Monday and Tuesday, is a tense drama of a mother who sacrifices her own right to happiness for the sake of her daughter. It gives Miss Stanwyck the strongest role in her entire career and one which was coveted by every leading actress in Hollywood.

Co-starred with Miss Stanwyck is John Boles with a distinguished supporting cast, including Anne Shirley, Alan Hale, Barbara O'Neil, Al Shean of the famous team of Gallagher and Shean and Tim Holt, son of Jack Holt.

"Stella Dallas" is without doubt one of the most poignant and gripping stories ever to be filmed. It was originally a best-selling novel by Olive Higgins Prouty, later a success on the Broadway stage and as a silent picture produced by Goldwyn twelve years ago, scored a sensational hit.

It brought to attention such stars as Constance Bennett, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who played his first adult role in the production, Lois Moran and Alice Joyce. Ronald Colman, whose picture career had just started, leaped to box-office prominence, and Belle Bennett, in the characterization of the mother, was catapulted from obscurity into the star class by her performance.

In the new sound version Mr. Goldwyn has utilized every facility of his tremendous production resources in the creation of what is regarded as one of the more important pictures of the current season. Two of filmland's finest writers, Sarah Mason and Victor Heerman, prepared the script, and the direction was in the hands of King Vidor, who made "Street Scene" for Mr. Goldwyn as well as a succession of other smash hits.

"Stella Dallas" is released thru United Artists.

* * * * * NAMES IS NAMES * * * * *

Mr. Tusha of Ralls and Mr. Gushwa of Dalhart evidently have names originating in a wet section—slushy, perhaps.

Although of the same age, Harold White of 1013 East Jefferson street, Dallas, is not the same Harold White of Ft. Worth, formerly of Clarendon.

W. C. Stewart of Ft. Worth handles oil well supplies, while W. C. Stewart of Clarendon is in the hardware business.

Rev. Peacock of Silverton, Rev. Swan of Wellington, Kansas; Rev. Bird of Talulah, Oklahoma; Rev. Lark of Cortez, Colorado ought to have a reunion in a 'bird sanctuary' some place.

And Rev. C. B. Shropshire of Tipton, Oklahoma is no sheep, though he leads many lambs to the fold.

Jack Coffee of Amarillo never saw coffee growing on a tree, except his family tree. Neither did Harry Flanders of the same town ever hear of Flanders Field until the World War. In fact he doubts having a field at all.

Truman Hadaway of Turkey never "had-a-way" to Clarendon over Highway 88.

Bill Ray of Vernon, aged 27, is about the calibre of Bill Ray, grocer of Clarendon. Except that Bill Ray of Vernon had an auto wreck last week near Crowell. With him was Joe Humphreys. Joe Humphreys of Clarendon denies having been out of town.

Near Oklaunion reside such men as Keys, Randal, Davenport and Rhodes. We can match them with men of the same names here.

Claude Wells of Tahoka has the flu, according to the News printed there. No, he's not the same Claude Wells of Memphis. He couldn't find time to have anything.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest and, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

MRS. DORA L. HOLLAND

The beloved wife of Joe Holland, Sr., passed away in Clarendon Friday afternoon, October 15, 1937 at the age of 76 years, 9 months and 11 days.

Death always comes with a shock, though momentarily expected. It is one of the profound mysteries which our limited knowledge cannot solve. She had been for a number of years almost a constant sufferer but bore her affliction bravely, leaving to those who follow her a clear testimony of a warm faith in christian living, and a sweet assurance in the life to come. May the thought that she is in the land of the blessed be a solace to those whose lives have been saddened.

Her home influence was a beacon light to both young and old interested in the needs of both body and soul, lightening many burdens with a friendly hand and kindly smile.

Aside from the multiplicity of duties in a frontier home in West Texas where she spent most of her life, she always found time to beautify a spot which blossomed into "an old-fashioned garden" where she loved to linger. Beautiful flowers beget beautiful thoughts; beautiful thoughts make for a beautiful and useful life. Thus it was with Mrs. Holland. Her life shed its fragrance upon all who chanced to come under her influence, and will be carried through the coming years by all who knew her. She lived a devoted christian life as a member of the Methodist church, and she loved her church and the grand old hymns taught her in early life.

The reverent attitude of the husband and children toward this sainted old mother bordered upon the divine. In all my previous experience have I seen mother worship so intensified as was to be readily recognized in the actions of her sons, Lee and Joe. A close association with these good men through a number of years when their mother was becoming an invalid despite all that tender care and science could do to prevent it, aroused a deep sense of reverence for their noble attitude. Their constant care and devotion bespoke the noble quality of the mother passed to the sons. The husband and other children were equally devoted. This bond of human love and sympathy may best be defined in, "The record of a generous life runs like a vine around the memory of our dead; and every sweet, unselfish act is now a perfumed flower."

"Immortal love, forever full,
Forever flowing free,
Forever shared, forever whole,
A never-ebbing sea."

This dear old mother left behind life's greatest monument, builded through her seventy-six years, in the form of undying affection and useful men and women who call her mother.
