Secret Sharing Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Durham (D-NC) of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said today Congress must approve the sharing of U. S. nuclear secrets with allies "if we expect NATO to stay together."

He promised speedy handling for President Eisenhower's proposals for sharing atomic data with friendly nations, and predicted congressional passage of the plan—but not without a fight.

"There is not much else we can do now," Durham said. "We have got to go along if we expect NATO to stay together and work with us."

The joint committee received Atomic Energy Commission recommendations for amending the Atomic Energy Act in line with Eisenhower's plans for making available to allies nuclear information, raw materials and weapons components—but not complete weapons.

Durham said he was impressed during a trip to Europe last summer by the extent to which neutralist sentiment had spread even in the NATO countries, and by the need for vigorous action to renew enthusiasm for the Atlantic Alliance.

"It ought to be made clear that this is not a proposal to give things away," Durham said. "It is a question whether we will cooperate with our own allies and make considerable savings by doing it."

The proposed amendments would give the President discretion to turn over weapons data to allies whenever he determined that the proposed cooperation and the communication of the proposed restricted data will promote and will not constitute an unreasonable risk to the common defense and security."

The amendments also would provide for transfer of atomic materials to allies without the present restriction that such materials may not be used for weapons manufacture.

As for actual weapons, the amendments would allow the nonnuclear components to be turned over to allies, but the United States would retain control over the atomic portions of its own weapons.

In a letter accompanying the legislative proposals, AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said the intention of the administration was not to encourage the entry of new countries into the field of atomic weapons manufacture.

Thus, he added, the emphasis would be on exchanges of information with countries which already had made some progress. Strauss made it clear the exchanges would not have to be simultaneous or of things equal in value.

So far as is publicly known, only the United States and Britain, of the Western Powers, have tested nuclear weapons.

France has announced a start in developing them, and Canada has worked closely with the United States and Britain but has not undertaken weapons manufacture.

Baghdad Pact Nations Okay Long-Term Plans

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Baghdad Pact Council of Ministers today approved long-term plans for a strategic system of roads, ports, airfields and radio communications. If carried out, the project will cost billions of dollars over a period of several years.

The five-nation conference — with Secretary of State Dulles sitting as an American observer —okayed the plan in approving the report of the pact's military committee.

Other aspects of the committee's report were not immediately disclosed.

Informed sources said the group was moving, however, toward turning the military planning group into a full-blown unified command. An Iranian move last year to set up a NATO-type command failed to go through because of proposals that Iran's King Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi become the supreme commander.

The conference continued a survey of the Middle East political scene.

Conference sources reported there was no unanimous support for Iraq's demand for a definition of its policy toward a Palestine settlement.

Premier Nuri Said of Iraq pressed the council to support Arab demands that Israel be forced back to the frontiers suggested by the United Nations in 1947.

The secret parts of the military committee's report were believed to have recommended:

1. That any major assault from the north must be met as far as possible in the craggy mountain passes between Russia and Turkey, Iraq and Iran.

2. National forces of the regional Moslem members, who also include Pakistan, must be developed and modernized although not necessarily with nuclear weapons.

3. The United States and Britain, the other two participating nations, will speed supply of conventional arms which may become surplus to needs of their own forces—including warships, fighter planes, radar warning equipment, antiaircraft missiles and tanks.

The military planners already have agreed on the broad strategic lines of Middle Eastern defense now that the United States has assumed a firm commitment to join in repulsing any attack from the north.

That commitment was reaffirmed by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, who told the opening session of the conference the alliance "can be confident that mobile power of great force would as needed be brought to bear against any Communist aggressor."

The United States is a member of the pact's military, economic and antisubversion committees, although it is not a member of the alliance itself.

As understood here, Baghdad Pact defense strategy now hinges firmly on American "mobile power" in the form of aircraft operating from the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, and from land bases in Turkey, Saudi Arabia, Libya and Morocco. Their capacity to carry H-bombs into the south central region of Russia—where there are many industrial and military targets — would undoubtedly be supported by British air power based in Cyprus, Iraq and Aden.

The conference moved into its second day after the premiers and foreign ministers late yesterday joined in a free-flowing session on the international situation as it affects the Middle East.

Delegates reported topics that came up included the extent of the spread of Soviet influence in the area, Russian ties with Egypt, Syria and Yemen, and Egyptian and Syrian policy trends and difficulties.

McElroy Says U. S. Military Is Sound

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy told senators today that "on the whole our military position is sound." He also urged speedy appropriation of more than a billion dollars to step up programs for ballistic missiles and related defenses.

McElroy was leadoff witness in a closed-door session of the Senate Appropriations Committee on an emergency money bill containing 1¼ billion dollars of new funds plus transfer authority on 150 million of old funds.

The measure won unanimous passage in the House last Thursday and is expected to get similar Senate treatment, possibly with some additions.

With McElroy were Assistant Secretary of Defense McNeil, sometimes called the financial manager of the Pentagon; and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In advance of the committee meeting Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said he is afraid President Eisenhower's defense budget does not provide enough military "strength in being." He predicted Congress will put up more money for the Strategic Air Command.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview he will support a move to provide funds for purchase of additional long-range bombers while missiles are being perfected.

"We have got to step up our Strategic Air Command to increase our strength in being," he said. "Despite the development of missiles, the manned bomber is not obsolete. It is going to be with us a long, long time."

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee had heard testimony that SAC remains the backbone of U. S. power to strike back. One of the subcommittee's 17 recommendations was to "modernize and strengthen the strategic air force."

While Eisenhower's new budget contains some funds for the faster-than-sound B58, which still is in the experimental stage, no money is provided for continued production of the slower B52 beyond the previous authorization for purchase of 601 of the latter craft.

Secretary of Defense McElroy told the subcommittee in censored testimony that the new budget calls for a "fairly limited" number of B58s.

In the Preparedness subcommittee hearings, Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles was pressed as to whether the department would order additional B52s.

Quarles said the Air Force had recommended about 400 million dollars above the budget for additional B52 orders in the next fiscal year. But he said a decision will not need to be made "before the fall of next year."

In reply to questions, Quarles said the Soviets are "very advanced" in the matter of equipping their ground forces, and have superiority over the United States in that respect.

"I think that in detail one might dispute some of these advantages but nevertheless that would be in detail and let us concede them general superiority in their present ground force equipment," he said.

Civilians Backing Venezuela's Junta

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela's ruling junta won the support today of the civilian group that sparked the overthrow of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The civilian "Patriotic Junta" issued a new manifesto declaring it had confidence in the national unity and was fully backing the new regime.

Order was being restored quickly. Only a few scattered rifle shots were heard in the capital last night.

The armed forces earlier promised their all-out support.

Damp Weather Back; Snow Hits Panhandle

More damp weather descended upon the Snyder area early today, as a new cool front sent chill north winds down from the Panhandle.

Light mist began falling here at mid-morning, as temperatures remained in the high thirties.

Weather Bureau forecasts for the area indicated that colder weather was in store for most of West Texas late today, with snow forecast for tonight in the Panhandle and South Plains area. Snow already had edged as far south as Lubbock this morning.

By The Associated Press

Snow blanketed much of the Panhandle and South Plains while light rains coursed deep into Central Texas Tuesday.

Up to 4 inches of snow covered the ground and the white flakes continued to sift down at Perryton.

Thunderstorms growled around Waco and College Station as a low pressure center pulled moist air inland off the Gulf of Mexico. Fog and drizzle extended into other areas, skipping only East Texas.

Snow depths elsewhere included Lubbock 2 inches, followed by sleet, and Dalhart and El Paso both 1 inch. Amarillo had moderate snowfall but only a trace on the ground.

Traces of snow were mixed with rain before dawn in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

As the weather front pushed eastward, skies cleared behind it in far West Texas.

Temperatures remained comparatively mild, but the Weather Bureau predicted a sharp freeze Tuesday night in the Panhandle-Plains with temperatures as low as 15. Readings down to 25 were predicted elsewhere in West Texas and in North Central Texas, and down to 30 in East and South Central Texas.

Moisture measurements from snow or rain, or both, for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. Tuesday ranged up to .42 inch at Dalhart and .42 at Childress. Other figures included Mineral Wells .19, Electra .15, Wichita Falls .09, Brownsville .07 and Amarillo and Dallas .03.

Light drizzle and fog was reported early Tuesday at Alice, Laredo, Cotulla and Kingsville. Visibility was reduced to one-sixteenth of a mile at Alice and Laredo.

Light rain showers fell at Mineral Wells, Childress and Dallas. Waco had a thunderstorm.

The Weather Bureau forecast clearing skies late Tuesday in North Central and West Texas. By Wednesday, fair skies were due over the entire state.

High temperatures Monday ranged from 49 at Dalhart to 75 at Laredo.

Predawn readings Tuesday ranged from 31 at Amarillo to 65 at Brownsville.

Actress Questioned On Suicide Attempt

ROME (AP) — Police questioned statuesque British actress Belinda Lee today about an overdose of sleeping pills which Rome papers said she took because of her hopeless love for married Prince Filippo Orsini.

The 38-year-old Prince Orsini was in a psychiatric clinic after taking too many sleeping pills and slashing his wrists, police said.

The Vatican was reported disturbed by the publicity over the blonde actress and Orsini, whose family has for centuries held the title of "assistant to the throne" of the Pope. As such, he attends Pope Pius XII at big formal functions.

Police said Orsini was admitted to a hospital last night suffering multiple superficial cuts of both wrists. He is expected to recover in a few days.

"Orsini declined to give any reason for his attempted suicide," a police statement said.

Police questioned Miss Lee at her home for 2½ hours. A police official said he was conviced there would be no judicial action.

Miss Lee arrived in Rome last Friday from South Africa, where she is making a movie.

Friday night the 22-year-old blonde was with Orsini, a wealthy industrialist who has sons 9 and 3 years old. Saturday morning she was rushed to the hospital suffering from what attendants called a serious overdose of sleeping pills.

Shortly after this news leaked out, Orsini was taken to the same hospital. He was transferred later to a psychiatric clinic.

Miss Lee's husband, British film cameraman Cornell Lucas, saw his wife for an hour after the police interrogation.

Asked if he planned a divorce, he replied: "I don't know yet." Lucas returned to London after seeing Miss Lee.

British Clash With Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British troops and Turkish Cypriots battled again today on Cyprus for the third successive day. The British opened fire for the first time, and four persons were killed.

Security forces were braced for still more trouble with the island's Turkish minority, which planned a mass protest in connection with the funerals of two of their people killed in the battling Monday between demonstrators and British forces.

Earlier demonstrations had been sparked by Turkish fears that Britain may cede the island to Greece.

But today the Turks were inflamed by the killing of an aged Turkish man and woman. Both were hit by military vehicles trying to push through stone-throwing mobs.

The British opened fire on a crowd of young Turks trying to enter the walled Turkish quarter of Nicosia to attend the funerals. A number of Turks were wounded.

4 Children Suffocate In Apartment

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Four young brothers and sisters suffocated early today in the bathroom of their home after fleeing from a fire they started playing with matches.

They were children of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Ned. They were Naomi, 1, Clayburn, 3, Frank, 4, and Mattabelle, 6.

The fire broke out in the clothes closet of the family's apartment. District Fire Chief Jake Amberg said the children apparently started the blaze playing with matches.

He said no one was in the apartment with the children.

Ambert said the four children apparently ran to the bathroom for safety and there suffocated. Damage to the apartment was about $500, he estimated.

Police said the father was in jail at the time and that they released him after notifying him of the tragedy.

Firemen said that the mother returned to the apartment house while they were fighting the blaze and was there when the bodies were found in the bathroom.

Refinery Fire Is Controlled

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—William Potts, plant manager of the Esso refinery in Havana, Cuba, today reported a gasoline fire there is under control although still smoking.

He said the origin of the blaze cannot be determined until it is completely extinguished.

Riddle Airlines here is flying 800 gallons of foamite to Havana to replace the refinery's exhausted supply. The chemical is used to fight gasoline fires.

Potts reported by telephone the Havana refinery has a 20,000 barrel capacity and is considered a small operation. It processes crude oil delivered by tankers.

The refinery is in Havana's Belloit industrial section. The fire started about 4 p.m. yesterday.

Red Weather Control Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard Orville, chairman of the advisory committee on weather control, says the Russians one day may be capable of freezing Florida or turning the Midwest into a permanent drought belt.

Orville attended the American Meteorological Society convention here.

He cited many suggestions by American physicists that might achieve intercontinental weather control.

One calls for spreading a material to increase the evaporation of the Gulf of Mexico, this would use up heat from the sun and alter the climate along the Gulf.

Army Jupiter C Missile Is Set For Launching Effort

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A mighty Jupiter-C missile stood poised on its launching pad here today, ready for its effort to propel a 30-pound American earth satellite into space. The blastoff is expected tomorrow or the next day.

This is a chance the Army has long awaited. It claims it could have fired a satellite into orbit as far back as 1955, long before the Soviet sputniks, if it had not been ordered to stand aside and let the Navy do the job with its Vanguard rocket.

Now, in the wake of the Navy's failure to get the temperamental Vanguard off the ground, there is furious activity around the Jupiter-C firing platform. Obviously, the Army has its go-ahead and is close to its zero hour.

The weather is perfect. The tall Jupiter tower stands in bright sunshine and workmen swarming over it can be seen clearly from the beaches outside the top-secret firing range.

Nobody talks officially but optimism is high.

Many experts have expressed the opinion that the Jupiter-C, a creation of the German scientist Wernher von Braun, has a better chance than the Vanguard to put the first American "moon" into orbit around the earth.

The first Vanguard blew up on its firing pad here Dec. 6 after an immense publicity buildup. Last week, a four-day effort to shoot a second Vanguard ended in failure. Bad weather and mechanical difficulties were blamed.

Following that attempt, the Vanguard was dismantled and there seemed no chance that it could be put back together and readied for shooting for several days. That cleared the way for the flight of the Jupiter-C.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, told a Senate committee after Sputnik I was launched that the Army could have done the same thing in 1955, if the Navy hadn't been given exclusive operating rights in the satellite field.

The Jupiter-C satellite will weigh 29.7 pounds, nine times more than the little aluminum sphere the Vanguard has tried to launch.

Labor Racket Probers Call Joey Fay For Questioning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators called labor racketeer Joey Fay for questioning today about the wealth and strongarm power he amassed in organized labor, business and politics.

The special Rackets Committee announced it also would explore charges that some Philadelphia officials of the Operating Engineers Union in which Fay rose to power have muscled in recently on organized gambling in that area on a "rather major" scale.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Louis Lattanzio of Wilmington, Del., will name under oath officials of the union who allegedly got into dice, numbers and organized gambling rackets as a sideline.

The committee heard testimony yesterday linking the union's International President William E. Maloney with Fay, who rose to power as boss of its Philadelphia and Newark, N. J. locals.

Witnesses told of bloody beatings inflicted, they said, by hired goons to keep Fay in power as the Maloney-backed, appointed boss of Philadelphia Local 542. They said Fay's reign ended only when he went to prison in 1948 after he had been convicted of a $368,000 shakedown from contractors on a New York City water project. By that time Fay also was an international vice president of the union.

Roy Underwood of Drexel Hill, Pa., the local's only elected president, testified that "someone" had pocketed millions of dollars of union funds under Fay's reign. He blamed some gory beatings on Fay's underlings, and said Maloney did "nothing whatsoever" to stop the beatings.

Underwood said he was ousted as president in 1952 by gun toting thugs sent in by Maloney from Fay's Newark Local 825. Underwood said he was fired for defying orders from Maloney to exempt the S. A. Healy Construction Co. from terms of collective bargaining contracts.

Ruling On Appeals Is Due By Benson

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson is expected to answer in a day or so appeals of cotton industry groups that he increase 1958 cotton planting allotments 25 per cent.

Most farm leaders expected him to say no.

The National Cotton Council, an organization representing growers, merchants, users and exporters of cotton, said there will be a critical shortage of better grades unless Benson eases rigid production controls to permit a larger crop than is now contemplated.

They say this potential shortage will flow from the fact that last year's weather-damaged crop was low in good qualities. From the total cotton supply standpoint there is still a surplus, but much of it is of low grade, picked over by buyers from government surplus stocks.

The reason Benson is expected by farmer leaders to reject the appeal is the fact that his department—acting under direction of law—is offering cotton farmers 180 million dollars to plant less than their 1958 allotments. This offer is made under provisions of the acreage reserve part of the soil bank program.

Faced with criticism over his farm policies, Benson could ill afford, these leaders say, to boost planting allotments while he is offering subsidies for reduction of plantings.

The cotton industry and the government got into this apparent paradoxical situation because the prospective shortage of better grades became apparent after the soil bank program for cotton was inaugurated. There is no way, officials said, for the secretary to call off the soil bank subsidy offers. Many farmers prefer it to increased planting allotments. Soil bank money is a sure thing, but income from a crop is a gamble. Many farmers learned this last year.

If there is any increase in 1958 allotments, it probably will have to come from congressional direction. But there is doubt that Congress would act in time.

TO OPPOSE NUCLEAR BOMB TESTS—Albert Bigelow, World War II Navy officer who represents a pacifist group, points to the area on a map of the Pacific Ocean where he said he will sail a 30-foot ketch in an effort to halt U. S. nuclear bomb tests in April. He told a news conference the tests are scheduled for near Eniwetok and that he and three companions will sail their boat to the site and remain there "come what may." The 51-year-old architect from Cos Cob, Conn., is a Quaker and represents an organization which calls itself "Non-violent Action Against Nuclear Weapons." (AP Wirephoto)

Four Youths Flee School

WACO (AP)—Four youths escaped from the State Training School for Boys at Gatesville in two separate attempts last night and early today. Three were captured at a roadblock and the other gave himself up.

Police held Bill Eason, 17, of Dallas, after the youth gave himself up to a service station attendant. Eason suffered a severe cut on the right forearm when he escaped through a window last night. His companion in this attempt was caught by attendants before he left the grounds, but Eason got away.

He told police he hitchhiked and walked into Waco.

The other three youths escaped sometime after midnight and stole a pickup truck at Turnersville. Officers captured them in the truck at a roadblock about eight miles north of Clifton, 28 miles from Turnersville, about an hour later.

These youths were returned to Gatesville.

Juveniles Questioned On Burglary Here

Three juveniles are being questioned by Bill Zimmerman, county probation officer, and T. L. Steele, police chief, today concerning a breakin at the Veterans Club building sometime yesterday.

Police who investigated said that some cigarets, candy and a small amount of money were taken from the building.

Entry to the building was apparently gained by breaking a window pane, then reaching and unlocking the window.

The breakin was discovered when the building was opened last night for a club meeting there.

Reuther Asks For Facts On Price Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Reuther urged today that Congress require large corporations to justify their price increases in advance before a special government agency. An independent consumers counsel would represent the public.

The United Automobile Workers president said that such an agency should not have powers to block the price boosts but should be able to lay all the facts before the public in advance of the effective date for the increases.

Reuther made the proposal at the opening session of a hearing on auto prices before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn).

Auto company presidents are to appear later.

The series of hearings is a part of a broad study of admmistered prices in major industries which the subcommittee began last year. Administered prices are those set by a company, rather than fluctuating on the basis of supply and demand.

Students Getting Too Close To Underworld

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Dr. Oliver Willham, president of Oklahoma State University, said bringing a prostitute to the campus to lecture to a criminology class was an error.

"I can assure the public it will not happen again," Willham said. "We must have academic freedom but information presented to the students must be carefully prepared."

Prof. Le C. May, in whose class of upperclassmen and graduate students the prostitute appeared, said he was going on with plans to bring the students first-hand knowledge of underworld characters.

Flying-Musical Family Now Living In Snyder

By KAYE POPE

It was our pleasure to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monford C. Obrecht, 3001 Forty-first Street. We say visit, although it started out to be an interview by appointment, but one welcomed so warmly could not feel it a business interview after meeting such a friendly family.

The Obrechts and their three lovely children are relatively newcomers to Snyder. Monty, as he is known by his friends, arrived in Snyder last February, with his wife and children moving here at the close of school in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Obrecht were born and reared in Black Earth, Wis., and were married there in their home town in 1940. Mrs. Obrecht is known to her firends as Juanita. Along with her home and church activities she is a room mother and a leader of a Brownie troop.

Mr. Obrecht is commercial executive pilot for Mr. C. T. McLaughlin. When we asked how long he had been a pilot he laughlingly answered, "Well, with 14,000 hours, you can see practically all my life." He had charge of training students at Augustana College, training Navy cadets in Milwaukee and was CAA-WTS flight supervisor in Noline, Ill. He was in the US Air Transport Command for nearly two years. After his military service he operated the Curtis Wright Air Port in Milwaukee for seven years.

The family shares in the enthusiasm of Mr. Obrecht's career. They own their own 170 Cessna and with Mrs. Obrecht a licensed pilot, also, she and the children make a trip back to Wisconsin each summer in their plane.

Besides their being a flying family we learned them to be a very musical one. Mr. Obrecht is a graduate from the University of Wisconsin, where he majored in music. He started playing the violin at the age of 9 years, and he also blows a true trumpet. Mrs. Obrecht plays the piano and clarinet. When in school she was accompanist for the school choir and played clarinet in the school band.

Following closely in their parents' footsteps are their children. Mike, 16, a 10th grade student in Snyder High School, plays drums in the high school band. Joan, 13, pianist at the Grace Lutheran Church here, plays clarinet in the Junior High band. Jean, 8, is a third grade student at West Elementary. She plays the piano and has ambitions of becoming an accordionist. Although she only has a toy instrument at present, she did very well in playing us a tune.

We asked the children what subjects they liked best in school. Mike said he guessed he liked algebra and band. Joan claimed the fifth amendment, and Jean said spelling, but she really enjoys the two recesses too.

Jean also has the knack for dog training. She showed us how Duchess, their toy Boston bull, played dead until her master told her to arise. Although Duchess was not up to par, having received her shots Monday morning, she was obedient.

The Obrecht family moved to Texas quite by chance. They came down for a visit with friends in Brownwood, and Jean and Joan, who were alergic to certain pollens in Wisconsin, seemed to do well in Texas so the family moved.

They came to Snyder from Abilene. We feel sure that anyone who knows the family will feel as we did, that it was Abilene's loss and Snyder's gain when they moved to our fair city.

Clubs Working Diligently On Follies Of '58 Show

A feature attraction entertainment wise in Snyder in 1958 will be the Snyder Follies of 1958, which will be produced on the Snyder High School stage Feb. 7 and 8.

A cast of about 100 Snyder adults will be the actors and actresses in the musical comedy, which is being sponsored by three Snyder women's clubs, the Cosmorama, Atheneum and Acacia study clubs.

Two of the clubs plan to use their shares of the profits from the Follies in their Scurry County Boy's Club work projects for this year, and the other club plans to use its share of the profits to continue its civic and charitable projects.

The Cosmorama Club was organized in 1946, under sponsorship of the Alpha Study Club. Its first meeting was held Oct. 9, 1946, with 21 active members and two substitute members present. Since then it has grown to a present membership of 35 women.

Presidents of the Cosmorama Club in this order have been Mrs. Scott Casey, Mrs. Richard Brice, Mrs. James Rosser, Mrs. W. J. Bryant, Mrs. Renal Rosson, Mrs. Ross Hemphill and Mrs. Clyde Hall, Jr.

The club has always supported civic projects, welfare aid for needy families, gifts for state hospitals, helped organize three other study clubs here, helped sponsor the building of a woman's club house in Snyder, and cooperated with other clubs in furnishing the Martha Ann Women's Club.

Purchasing new furnishings for the Scurry County Boys Club building will be the project for use of the profits from the Follies of the Atheneum Study Club.

The Atheneum Club was organized here in 1952 under sponsorship of the Cosmorama Study Club and became federated in 1952.

Welfare was the project of the club for its first five years, but for the 1957-58 years the club has the Scurry County Boy's Club as its project, and part of the proceeds of the Follies to the club will go to the Boy's Club.

Mrs. Bill Zimmerman is the president of the Atheneum Club now, and past presidents have been Mrs. B. J. Weaver, Mrs. R. L. Duggar and Mrs. M. F. Bell.

The Acacia Study Club was organized in 1952, also, under the sponsorship of the Cosmorama and Alpha Study Clubs. Self-improvement and community service are the objectives of the club.

Mrs. Houston Harte was the first president and the club had 22 members when organized. Subsequent presidents have been Mrs. Charles McCaleb, Mrs. Jack Gore, Mrs. Gene Dulaney, Mrs. Charles Hooser and the present president, Mrs. Carl Dillaha.

Membership has now grown to 30 women, who have a combined total of 49 children.

A Key To High Standards

The motion picture industry, which has encountered vast competition in the entertainment field in recent years, has called upon one of the large survey agencies to find out just where it stands.

The result: Movies are still popular, and despite the fact that any given movie-goer is likely to be led astray occasionally by fads, etc., most of them always come back to the movies, and few of them ever give up movie-going completely, no matter what the distraction of the moment may be.

The movie people found out a lot of things in the survey, of course. One, which they undoubtedly found rewarding was a definite preference for motion pictures shown in theaters over those shown on TV.

The basis for such preference was: 1. Age of the motion pictures shown on TV; 2. The TV commercials; and 3. The supefior quality of motion pictures projected by theater equipment on full sized screens.

In the course of the survey, they found out some things particularly rewarding to newspapers, too. Some 59 per cent of the movie-goers interviewed in the survey remembered seeing the picture they had selected for viewing advertised in a newspaper. No other medium of advertising scored even close to 50 per cent.

Ours is an age of marvelous expansion in virtually every field. It is heartening to note that the new marvels which come thick and fast these days are not necessarily supplanting older services and opportunities, but are adding to them instead.

That is one key to our relatively high standard of living.

Banks Are Wooing Women, Children

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—"Women and children first" is the slogan today of a growing sector of the banking fraternity.

Wooing their friendship and business has wrought changes in banking architecture both inside and out. It plays a part in locating new banking offices throughout the suburbs and particularly in shopping centers.

To please women customers and some small fry depositors too, the banks are offering special services and facilities. There are fashion shows and seminars on family finance, afternoon teas and such giveaways as jars of honey, flower seeds or potted plants.

Bankers have found that women, often with youngsters in tow, do an increasing share of the family's banking business. Competition for their business has hastened the changes away from the austere dignity of prewar years.

The American Bankers Assn. found in a survey of the public's banking habits and crotchets that today the housewife pays more family bills than her husband, often plays a top role in family budgeting, and enters the bank as often as her spouse. He tops her on going to the bank to put money in. She outstrips him in going to the bank to take it out.

Banks now compete with the most modern department stores and specialty shops in interior decorating. Comfortable chairs, lively murals, flower boxes and piped in music sometimes startle the old-timers.

The First National Bank of St. Louis offers safe deposit boxes in chartreuse, turquoise, citron yellow, fawn grey, desert tan and shocking pink. A Philadelphia bank decks out both its passbooks and its tellers in a duncan plaid.

The Philadelphia national bank opened its Conshohocken office with a garden party to show off its landscaping.

The Bank of New York's new 5th Avenue office has a generally modernistic decor, but its gold room is richly decked out in classical style as a retiring room for women to prepare deposit slips, clip coupons, meet one another in town, or maybe just rest their feet.

A woman vice president presides over it from an adjoining alcove.

Some banks provide high chairs in which to deposit junior while making out bank deposit slips.

Some have sections equipped with playpens, child-sized furniture, picture books, building blocks, jigsaw puzzles, dolls and free lolly-pops. You guessed it—these are usually located in the safe deposit department.

There are banks with baby car-parking lots, or walk-up windows for mothers with carriages in tow so that they don't have to enter the building.

And some, like the First National Bank in Geneva, Ill., have a hydraulic lift to boost junior depositors up to the window.

Banks weren't like that when grandma was a girl.

Tessa, Elwes Finally Wed

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Tessa Kennedy and Dominic Elwes, the young British couple who were foiled by her father in efforts to marry in Britain, finally were wed here last night, a Cuban notary public said.

Notary Oscar Rangel said he secretly married the 19-year-old runaway heiress and the 26-year-old son of a society painter at his downtown office. He refused to give any details.

Tessa's father, a sugar magnate, obtained court writs two months ago preventing their marriage in England or Scotland without his consent. After hiding in Scotland, they flew to the Caribbean last week.

Ike Has Power To Control Imports

HOUSTON (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex) told 650 oil and gas men yesterday at an oil forum that he has always supported the 27½ per cent depletion allowance.

He said he never has stated his views on the Harris-O'Hara Natural Gas Bill due to come before Congress this session. He said it was "impossible to tell what type bill will be before the Senate for final passage because a three or four week Senate committee hearing would be held on the bill.

Yarborough said a 1955 defense amendment to the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act gave President Eisenhower the authority he needed to impose controls over foreign oil imports.

"Two Cabinet committees have found that oil imports pose such a threat. The President has the power now to order mandatory controls," he said.

Raymond Reynolds, Houston independent, and representative of other oil and gas associations, outlined industry problems before Yarborough.

Reynolds said the domestic industry could not fulfill its responsibility to service the nation unless Congress spelled out legislation that would assure the limitation of imports.

Current efforts for voluntary controls of oil imports "could be described as one to prevent continued excessive growth of imports rather than curtailment," Reynolds said.

"So far, the domestic producer is still fenced in," he said.

The president of the American Assn. of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, J. U. Teague, Houston, said there was grave danger because the average number of drilling rigs operating in the nation has declined since the 1955 peak. He said neither "the contractor nor the producer is any too spry and if conditions didn't change we may be in for a serious illness.

Curtis Hankamer, vice president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said the outlook for natural gas discovery and production was extremely uncertain because of the confusion resulting from the court interpretation of the Natural Gas Act of 1938 as applied to producing and gathering of gas sold in interstate commerce.

Hankamer called for passage of the Harris-O'Hara bill and said the gas producing industry "will flourish or flounder, dependi on the outcome of this bill."

Old Whistle Not Missed

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—The passing of the venerable steam whistle atop the old Illinois Power Co. plant caused nary a ripple in Galesburg.

Only the old-timers remembered, and shook their heads sadly.

"I can remember the day when the whistle in its low mournful tone announced the assassination of President McKinley," one of them lamented.

"It sounded mournful on events like disasters, declaration of wars and the like," another recalled.

But the new generation didn't even miss it when that storied hunk of tin fell by the wayside recently. It had to go. The old power plant which supported it for something like 50 years or more was being razed.

Faces Murder Count

McALLEN (AP)—Pedro Cruz, 34, McAllen, was jailed in Edinburg in lieu of $3,000 bond after charges of murder without malice were filed. Police said he was the driver of a car which struck and killed Jesus Herrera, 59, of McAllen Sunday.

World Not A Kid, But It's Mixed Up

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world is a little too old to claim it's a crazy, mixed-up kid. And maybe it isn't crazy. But it's mixed up. The Baghdad Pact is an example.

Secretary of State Dulles right now is in Ankara, Turkey, at a meeting of the Baghdad Pact nations: Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan. We not only support this alliance with guns and money. We pushed the idea.

But we won't join it.

This alliance was created as a military defense against Russia along its southern flank. It is one more link in a chain of alliances this country sponsored around the world. Examples: NATO in Western Europe, SEATO in Southeast Asia.

The Arabs of the Middle East—but not all of them, since Iraq is an Arab country and is in the Baghdad Pact—don't like the pact arrangements.

Besides, after their years of experience with the colonial-minded British and French, they are justly sensitive on the subject of colonialism and suspicious of any big power wielding influence in the area.

So this country—and this seems to be the main reason for our not joining—stays out of the pact as added assurance to the Arab world that we have no colonial intentions but only want to help the area.

Since we're actually up to our necks in the Baghdad Pact we seem to be achieving what we want without exposing ourselves to the anti-American propaganda barrages of Egypt and Russia which would be stepped up if we joined.

Yet we could hardly be deeper in the pact if we did join, and this is something both the Russians and the Middle East Arabs know.

But things will really get heated if this country heeds the request of Pakistan, made yesterday at Ankara, for modern weapons as a defense against Russia. The most modern would be missiles.

If missile bases were set up just across the frontier from Russia in the Baghdad area, any complaints the Russians might have about our joining the pact would sound like mild complaints compared with their protests about the bases.

Krush Suggests Gradual Approach

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP)—Still plugging for a summit conference, Nikita Khrushchev proposed last night that government heads start with issues "we can agree on before tackling the tougher and more basic problems."

The Communist party boss was talking with Western ambassadors at an Indian National Day reception. He spoke with the good humor he usually displays on the Soviet capital's cocktail circuit, in considerable contrast to his blasts at the United States and the West in a speech last week in White Russia.

He did not say just how the Soviets and the Western Allies could agree on which smaller issues they are likely to agree on. The West has proposed that talks by ambassadors and foreign ministers work this out prior to any summit meeting.

Summit talks, Khrushchev said, "should be like a Russian meal. Let's start with zakuksa (hors d'oeuvres), proceed with soup and fish and end up with the main course."

The Soviet Union will not return to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee talks, Khrushchev reiterated, adding that "deliberations of the subcommittee were hypocritical."

Khrushchev also repeated the usual proposals for immediate halt of nuclear weapon tests, a reduction of armed forces on both sides of the Iron Curtain and a nonaggression pact with the West.

The guests at the reception included U. S. showman Mike Todd and his actress wife Elizabeth Taylor. They were not introduced to the party boss. Todd is in Moscow trying to arrange Soviet-American production of a film and movie exchanges.

Californian Is Checked By Dallas Police

DALLAS (AP)—John Louis (The Bat) Battaglia, 38, described by officers as a Los Angeles police character, was arrested for investigation of possible violation of the state narcotics law as he stepped off a plane here last night.

Police Capt. W. P. Gannaway said officers found approximately $10,000 cash and a small bottle of narcotics on him. Included were 98 one hundred dollar bills.

Battaglia later was released on a habeas corpus bond. No charge was filed immediately.

"He may be a big time hoodlum and gambler in California and Las Vegas," Gannaway said, "but in Dallas he is just an ordinary law violator."

He said detectives picked the man up first for vagrancy, then found the narcotics. The Dallas officers apparently were tipped that Battaglia was aboard the plane, which came from Wichita Falls. Officers said he was traveling under the name John Bennett.

Sgt. R. E. Myers of the Los Angeles Police Intelligence Division said Battaglia was sentenced to serve six months in federal prison during World War II for violation of OPA regulations. Myers said Battaglia had been arrested several times on suspicion of bookmaking.

Appointment Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate yesterday confirmed the appointment of Thomas Mann of Laredo, Tex., to be an assistant secretary of state.

Pact To Permit Hundreds Of Russians To Visit America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anywhere from 500 to 2,000 Soviet tourists, scientists, wrestlers and what-have you will be visiting the United States during the next two years under a monumental U.S.-Soviet exchanges agreement.

The accord, signed yesterday at the State Department by Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin and U.S. negotiator William S. B. Lacy was hailed on all sides as a possible thawing trend in the cold war.

President Eisenhower welcomed it and, in a statement, expressed hope that its carrying-out might "contribute substantially to the betterment of relations between the two countries, thereby also contributing to a lessening of international tensions."

Zarubin called it the most important achievement of his five years here as Soviet ambassador. He sails tomorrow for Moscow, reportedly to become a deputy foreign minister.

Capitol Hill was full of praise. Chairman Green (D-RI) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said it might prove the alternative to "development of the instruments of war." Senators Mansfield (D-Mont) and Humphrey (D-Minn) similarly applauded.

Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union got everything it wanted.

The United States had to settle for a half-measure on exchanging radio-television broadcasts. But officials said they were content with that because it showed the Soviets are willing to move, however cautiously, toward easing the Iron Curtain.

Agreement was reached to have sporadic censored radio-TV broadcasts on current events, with each side holding a veto over what could not be used.

Another U. S. disappointment was Soviet refusal to agree to quit jamming Voice of America broadcasts to the Soviet Union in the Russian language.

On the other hand, the Russians wanted a direct New York-Moscow air service so they could show off their sleek new TU104 jetliner. The United States demurred, pending, officials confided, the time when the United States also will have sleek new jetliners in service on commercial airlines.

The Soviets lost out too on their call for swapping visits by American Congress members and deputies of the Supreme Soviet. They also wanted, but did not get, a meeting of interparliamentary or United Nations groups.

All these things were left to possible future meetings.

The agreement was good news to many lovers of ballet, music, athletics and improvement of American industry, medicine and education. All told, 35 or more delegations in these and other fields will bring some 500 Soviet specialists to the United States during 1958-59. A like number of similar experts will go from the United States to Russia during the two years.

Tourist travel was hard to figure. But officials estimated some 1,500 Soviet tourists and possibly 3,000 American tourists will visit the respective foreign lands during 1958-59 as a result of the accord. Between 2,000 to 3,000 American tourists went to the U.S.S.R. last year. Soviet tourist travel here was nil.

One of the biggest bonuses was the projected visit next year of the 120-member Bolshoi ballet theater, considered the world's best. In exchange, the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra will go next May or June to Russia.

Delegations of Soviet scientists, teachers, students, doctors, veterinarians, writers, painters, sculptors, radio-TV technicians, movie stars and so on will swap visits with their American counterparts.

Hayworth, Hill Take Out License To Wed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Rita Hayworth and film producer James Hill have taken out a marriage license but plans for the wedding — her fifth, his first — still are tentative.

Hill, 41, and Miss Hayworth, 39, got the license yesterday, telling newsmen only that the ceremony would be sometime early next month.

The actress' previous husbands were oilman Ed Judson, actor-director Orson Welles, Moslem Prince Aly Khan and singer Dick Haymes.

Author To Patch Up Difficulties

GILMANTON, N. H. (AP) — Grace Metalious, author of the best seller "Peyton Place," said today she had patched up marital differences with the schoolteacher husband she once claimed was fired from his job because of her spicy book.

"I'm going back to live with my husband," Mrs. Metalious told newsmen.

Referring to reports linking her romantically with a radio disc jockey, Mrs. Metalious said, "My big love affair has blown up like a burst balloon."

"I've been in love once and I've been married once," added the 33-year-old author whose earthy book about life in a small New England town has been made into a movie.

She and her husband George, also 33, were married when they were 17. They separated shortly after her novel was published late in 1956.

Metalious, who had served as principal of Gilmanton Grammar School, obtained a $3,400-a-year position teaching history and commercial law in Stowe, Mass., high school.

Rossellini Files Annulment Suit

ROME (AP) — Roberto Rossellini has asked a Rome court to annul his marriage to Ingrid Bergman. The actress is not contesting the Italian film director's suit.

Rossellini claimed Miss Bergman was "still technically married" to Dr. Peter Lindstrom when she married the Italian film director by proxy in Mexico May 24, 1950. Fraudulent marriage is a legal ground for annulment in Italy, where divorce is not legal.

Miss Bergman received a Mexican divorce from Dr. Lindstrom Feb. 9, 1950, the week after the birth of her first child by Rossellini.

Miss Bergman's brief reply to Rossellini's suit admitted his claim and said she would submit to the findings of the court.

Her attorney Ercole Graziadei said no date had been set for a court hearing. He added that several months might elapse before a decision and that it would not be necessary for Miss Bergman or Rossellini to appear in court.

Miss Bergman received a Mexican divorce from Dr. Lindstrom Feb. 9, 1950, the week after the birth of her first child by Rossellini.

The couple was legally separated here Nov. 7 after Rossellini's name was linked with that of an Indian script writer, Sonali Das Gupta. He met her while making films in India and later unconfirmed reports said she had come to Europe.

Both Miss Bergman, who has been making a movie in London, and Rossellini were reported now in Paris. Neither was immediately available for comment on the suit.

Rossellini's attorney Antonio Corrao said in the suit neither Italian nor Swedish law considers a Mexican divorce legal. Therefore, he contended, the actress "was not in a free status" when she married Rossellini.

Although a native of Sweden, Miss Bergman became a naturalized American citizen in 1945.

Convicted Woman Found To Be Sane

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Suzanne Elaine Soule, found sane by the same jury which convicted her of second-degree murder in the slaying of her roommate, will be sentenced Feb. 10.

Her conviction carries a five-year to life sentence. The actual term is set by the State Adult Authority.

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum said at the end of the sanity trial yesterday he will recommend she be transferred from Corona State Prison for Women to a state mental hospital for extensive psychiatric treatment.

The sad-faced 20-year-old former typist from Freeport, N. Y., was convicted of the bludgeoning and stabbing of Catherine (Kit) Elvins, 19, Seattle, last July 24.

Foreman Robert J. Foster said the jury had stood at 11-1 for sanity for more than three hours. The lone holdout, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Cavanaugh of San Bruno, said later: "There's an awfully thin line between the definitions of medical and legal sanity."

Foster said: "We thought it was an impulsive act, a crime of passion. There was definitely malice but not premeditation."

Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson, in pleading for a first-degree murder verdict which would have meant death or life imprisonment, had argued Elaine had killed in order to get possession of a check for $160 Miss Elvins had.

Defense attorneys John A. Cost and G. Brooks Ice said they were disappointed but "it was a terribly difficult decision for the jury."

"We will have to talk with her parents and look at the record before we decide about a motion for a new trial," Cost said.

Zarubin Ends U. S. Tenure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Georgi Nikolaevich Zarubin, an engineer-turned-diplomat who looks like an ex-heavyweight fighter, leaves Washington today after five years and four months as the Soviet ambassor.

The burly, beetled-browed Zarubin leaves behind an auspicious portent of possibly eased East-West relations. This is the sweeping set of agreements in principle he signed at the State Department to swap about 500 Soviet and American experts in ballet, wrestling, science, education and virtually every field of human endeavor.

Of this agreement, reached in three months of painstaking negotiating, Zarubin said: "I think it is the most important achievement of my five years as ambassador to Washington."

Zarubin will sail for home tomorrow from New York. He is reported in line to become a deputy foreign minister to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. He will be replaced in Washington by Mikhail Menshikov, a trade expert.

India was freed from British rule in 1947, when the dominions of India and Pakistan were established.

Check Comes Too Late

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — George G. Haugen couldn't imagine why his Social Security checks stopped coming after July.

He thought maybe someone else had been picking them up at the general delivery window at the post office but postal workers said no. He asked the Social Security office to put out a tracer. No luck.

Haugen ran out of money. Friends offered him some but he refused. He was 69 and crippled but still he refused. He checked out of his room at a hotel when he couldn't pay the rent.

Two boys found the former cook's body Sunday in a crude shelter along the banks of the Weber River. He had frozen to death in a bed of grass and old newspapers.

His Social Security check for January was waiting for him at the post office.

Sentence Assessed

DALLAS (AP)—A 90-day jail sentence was assessed a former Dallas police warrant officer who pleaded guilty to stealing traffic ticket fines in 1956. Albert Wade, 42, now of Fort Worth, admitted he embezzled $145 in October and November 1956.

Trio Found Slain In Home

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—In shabby outbuildings behind a small home on the door of which was a hand-printed sign warning visitors to "stay away" the bodies of a father, his wife and their 2-year-old daughter were found last night.

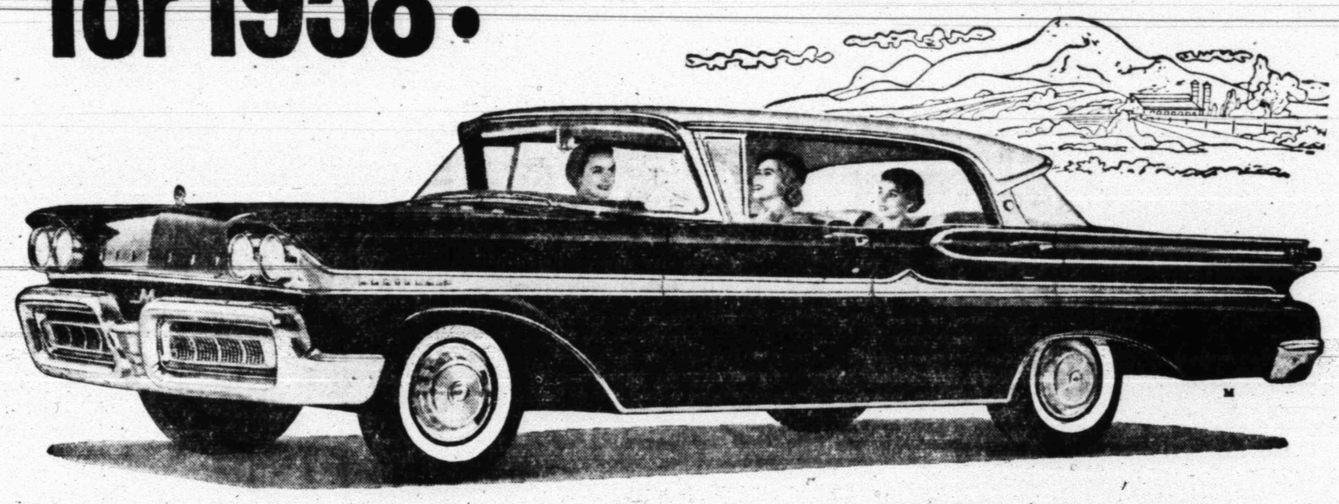

Marion Bartlett, 57, and his wife, Velda, 36, had been shot in the head. Their child apparently had died of a skull fracture. All three bodies bore lacerations that examining physicians said could be stab wounds. There was no report on the time of the deaths.

A general alarm was out for Carol Fugate, 15, a daughter of Mrs. Bartlett by a former marriage, and Charles Starkweather, 19, a friend of Carol. Carol, who lived at the Bartlett home, and her friend were believed to have left Lincoln headed south in a black car.

Tigers Host Mustangs Tonight In 'Game Of Year'

Winner To Take Lead In 3-AAA

The largest basketball crowd in Snyder's history is expected to pack Tiger Gym tonight where the Tigers take on arch rival Sweetwater in a crucial District 3-AAA contest.

Tipoff time is set for 8.

Both the Tigers and Mustangs are undefeated in two district starts and tonight's winner will take over sole leadership in the 3-AAA chase.

Tonight's game could very well turn into a high scoring affair. Four Mustangs and three Tigers are averaging in double figures for the two district games played by each team this far.

Paul Holcomb of the Mustangs owns the best average of the two teams with 32 points in two games for a 16.0 pace. But close on his heels are Bill Phillips of the Tigers and Johnny Clark of the Mustangs with 31 points each for a 15.5 average.

The other two Tigers averaging in double figures are John Ward and Israel Hinojos, each with 26 points for a 13.0 clip. Jerry Curry and Neilson Greer rounds out the Mustang top scorers with 21 points for 10.5 averages.

Sweetwater has averaged 66 points in her two district games to date to 57.5 average for the Tigers. The Mustangs have beaten Colorado City, 49-48, and Lake View, 83-68, in her two district outings.

The Tigers have downed Lamesa, 59-52, and Colorado City, 56-40, in their two conference starts. The Bengals, thus, own the best defensive mark of 92 for a 46 average to 116 and 58 for the Mustangs.

Both teams stack up just about even in height with neither club having a player above 6-3.

Sweetwater owns a 16-5 season record to 10-11 for the Tigers. The Bengals have won five of their last six starts.

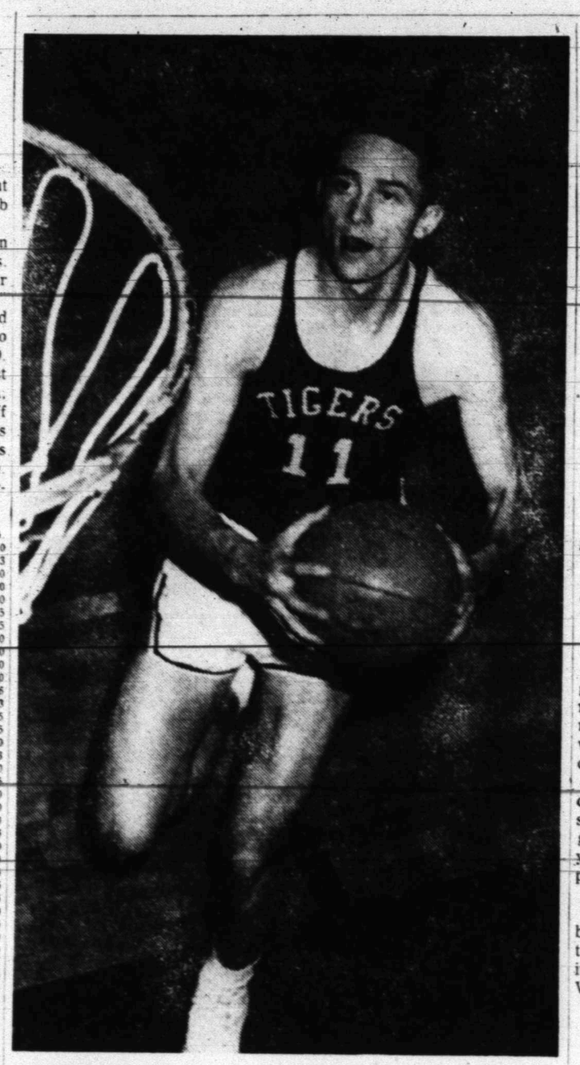

Tonight's game will be preceded by "B" game between the two schools, slated to begin at 6:30.

Rex Wilson, of Lake View, last year's scoring champ in 3-AAA, has picked up where he left off by leading the pack thus far this season. Wilson has scored 57 points in three games for a 19.0 average.

Following is the individual scoring in 3-AAA to date:

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IN CASE YOU MAY be wondering, the Tigers will play Lake View here Friday night as scheduled.

We erroneously wrote yesterday that the game would be played in Lake View.

Please excuse us for making the "blunder."

Pressure will be on both the Tigers and Mustangs in tonight's all-important cage clash here but guess most of the pressure will be on the Tigers.

For Sweetwater knows that if she fails tonight she will have a good opportunity to get even when the two clubs meet at Sweetwater later on.

The Tigers have reversed the usual procedure in this home-and-home business once this season. The Bengals lost to Kermit here but then turned around and beat the Yellow Jackets in Kermit.

But instances such as this don't happen too often.

Game Is A 'Must' For Both

Anyway you look at tonight's game, though, it is virtually a must for both clubs. The outcome no doubt wil go a long way toward determining the ultimate champion.

The team, winning tonight, of course, will take over the driver's seat in the 3-AAA chase which is a good place to be in. As long as you're leading the pack, then the pressure mounts on the other teams.

Sweetwater appears to have the best throwers in the schoolboy rank this season. The Mustangs poured in 35 of 43 attempts against Lake View Friday for an amazing 81 percent. We can't recall any college team that has hit at such a free throw percentage as the Mustangs did Friday.

If the Ponies continue their free throw accuracy at the gratis line tonight, then it may prove disastrous for the Tigers. The Tigers hit only 46 percent of their free shots at Colorado City Friday. This, however, is slightly below the season percentage of the Tigers at the charity line which is about 55 percent.

After all is said and done, tonight's game should be a real thriller. And there surely will be a packed house to watch it.

Kerbel In Surprise Move

When Amarillo coach Joe Kerbel signed on as assistant at Texas Tech Saturday, it probably surprised a lot of people around the state.

For almost everyone knows that Tech couldn't possibly match the salary Kerbel was getting at Amarillo. Nowadays a fellow, whether he be a coach or what, goes where he can make the most money.

Kerbel recently signed a three-year contract at Amarillo for $9,250 per annum. We don't know what his salary at Tech will be but it isn't likely that it's anything above $7,500.

But, there may be something in this deal that doesn't meet the general public's eye. Kerbel may not have been happy at Amarillo and it's been generally known that the Sandie prospects next year aren't too good, what with a third high school being erected in the Panhandle city.

Then Kerbel may figure his chances for landing the Tech head job in the future would be better by signing on as an assistant now. Who knows, Kerbel may have been promised the head job if and when Dewitt Weaver steps down.

Several things could enter into the picture but on the surface, it doesn't add up.

Campanella Breaks Neck

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Veteran Roy Campanella, a mainstay of the Los Angeles Dodgers, suffered a fractured neck early today when his car skidded, overturned and crashed into a pole.

He was pinned in the wreckage for half an hour after the accident at 3:30 a.m., and was pronounced in critical condition following his removal to Glen Cove Community Hospital.

At 7:30 a.m. he was taken to the operating room.

The exact nature of the operation was not immediately disclosed at the hospital. In Los Angeles, the Dodger vice president, Buzzy Bavasi, said he was informed the neck fracture pinched a nerve and the operation was to relieve pressure causing paralysis.

The 36-year-old Campanella, who has been beset by injuries of one kind or another during his long baseball career, was returning alone to his home here after a New York television appearance when the mishap occurred.

The crash made noise so great that a number of persons rushed from their homes in the vicinity to investigate. Among them was a physician, Dr. W. S. Gurnee.

Dr. Gurnee gave Campanella an injection but said later the baseball player felt no sensation from the needle and that "it doesn't look good for his baseball career."

Police informed Campanella's wife at home, and then took her to the hospital. The couple have six children, ranging in age from 4 to 18.

The 215-pound Campanella, a Negro, had undergone thumb surgery in November, 1956, to remove calcium deposits. Among other troubles he has had was a split finger suffered last June. Later in the season he still had difficulty gripping a bat.

Campanella signed his 1958 contract with the Dodgers for $36,000, a salary cut after a poor season in 1957.

He had batted .242 in 103 games. His 80 hits included 13 home runs, nine doubles and 62 runs batted in.

There has been much speculation as to his future. He had not been able to shake recurring injuries that have plagued him throughout his career with the Dodgers, and the possibility of his being traded or sold had often been discussed.

His weight had also been a problem, though Campanella insisted that he always was in shape.

Campanella had been preparing to leave for Los Angeles, where he had taken a tentative lease on a new home.

He is owner of a flourishing Harlem liquor store, and a $38,000 yacht which has been put up for sale.

Corpus Likely To Take Over O-City Club

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—It looks like Corpus Christi will take over the Oklahoma City franchise in the Texas League.

"Unless something unforeseen happens, Corpus Christi will be voted into the Texas League by members at a meeting in Houston next Saturday," said Bob Hamric, owner of baseball territorial rights for the city.

Hamric made the statement yesterday after conferring with attorneys.

E. J. Humphries, owner of the Oklahoma City franchise, who has been here several days checking facilities, stood by as Hamric spoke and didn't deny an effort would be made to get Corpus Christi into the league.

The Texas League still must wrestle with the problem of the Dallas franchise. A group headed by George Schepps raised the $40,000 the league wanted for the franchise, but couldn't find a playing site and had to let their option die.

The former owners of the franchise, the heirs of the late Dick Burnett, turned the Class AA franchise back after their request for permission to seek a Class AAA team was turned down.

IN CITY LEAGUE ACTION

Canyon Reef, Boys Club Win

Canyon Reef Sports Center and the Boys Club romped to victories in City League play last night at Junior High Gym.

The Sports Center five won its third game in as many outings with a 76-50 triumph over Brooks Oil in the first game last night and the Boys Club came back to outduel D&H Food Store, 94-71, in the second game.

Four Canyon Reef players hit in double figures with Howard Jones leading the attack with 19 points. Other Reefers hitting in twin figure were Bob Womack with 16 and Ken Sewell and Berman Corbell with 15 each.

Grady Gafford and Dwayne Prince shared scoring honors for Brooks with 13 points apiece.

Canyon Reef surged ahead 36-14 at halftime and then coasted home.

Ned Underwood scorched the nets for 39 points to lead the Boys Club past D&H. Underwood, thus, set a new individual high in league play this season.

Mickey Brous with 18 and Royce Burrows with 13 were next high scorers for the Boys Club.

Milton Ham, although he only entered the game in the second half, captured scoring honors for D&H with 18 points. He was followed by Durwood Hopper with 15 points.

The Boys Club only outscored the Foodmen by two points in the last half, 39-37, but the winners built up a commanding 55-34 halftime lead that stood up.

TWO OTHERS IN TOP 10 LOSE

Mountaineers Are Upset By Duke

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Time finally ran out on West Virginia's Cinderellas in college basketball.

Unranked Duke, only a so-so 7-5 for the season, put the ax to West Virginia's 14-game uneaten streak with a 72-68 upset last night. It was the No. 1 shocker on a night of surprises.

The Mountaineers are No. 1 in today's Associated Press poll, based on games through last Saturday.

Longshot Houston clipped six-ranked Oklahoma State, which had won 12 straight, 70-64, and ambitious Georgia Tech tripped eighth-ranked Kentucky 71-52.

That leaves Temple, No. 11 at 13-2, with the top winning streak (12), and untested St. John's of Brooklyn, ranked 13th, the only unbeaten (9-0) in major play.

West Virginia had the edge from the field, hitting 27 field goals to Duke's 26. But the Blue Devils, an Atlantic Coast Conference entry, connected on 20 of 25 free throws while West Virginia was blowing 8 of 22.

Duke's 6-8 Paul Schmidt, ldt bird-dogged 6-10 Lloyd Sharrar, the big man of the Southern Conference champs. Sharrar snared only 14 rebounds and scored but nine points.

Schmidt scored only 12 points, but there was no need for more. All but two of Duke's seven players scored — and those five hit double figures: Jim Newcome was high with 20.

Bob Smith scored 24 and Jerry West 20 for the Mountaineers, who got their first lead, 50-49 with nine minutes gone in the second half. But with little more than six minutes left, a jump shot by Bobby Joe Harris gave the lead to Duke for keeps at 60-59.

Houston, now 6-8 handed Oklahoma State its first defeat since a season-opening setback by Kansas, with a tight zone defense and a brilliant two-man performance from Russ Boone and Ed Erickson. They scored 40 points between them, 23 by Boone, and split 24 rebounds.

Georgia Tech, winner of six of its last seven, gained a share of the Southeastern Conference lead with Kentucky by smearing the Wildcats' unbeaten SEC record. Little guys Terry Randall, with 26, and Bud Blemker, with 21, led Engineers, who trailed by two at the half.

In non-SEC games, Jack Kubiszyn scored 41 points as Alabama mauled Howard 105-44. Mississippi State defeated Southeastern Louisiana 75-61 with Bailey Howell counting 35. Georgia whipped South Carolina 84-63, despite Dickie Prater's 25 points for the Gamecocks.

Ohio State came from behind and stood off a Purdue rally that counted seven points in the last 28 seconds for a 75-73 victory and second place in the Big Ten.

Duke's Win Nothing New To Schaus

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—"The pressure didn't beat us; Duke did," snapped West Virginia Coach Fred Schaus after a fast-breaking Duke team shattered West Virginia's 14-0 record with a 72-68 triumph.

Seeing Duke race to victory was nothing new for Schaus. Since taking over at West Virginia in 1954, he has met the Blue Devils six times—and has lost five of them.

Someone in the crowd asked Schaus: "Well, do you think the pressure's off now? Do you like it better?"

"Hell, no," he retorted. "There's no pressure off. We don't mind the pressure. Change the scoreboard, will you, we'd like it very much."

Later in the dressing room, reflecting over his record against Duke, Schaus mused: "This Carolina air is not too good for us.

"Someday we'd like to come down here and show them we have got a ball club up there."

The victory was Duke's seventh, against five losses.

"We didn't shoot or run enough," said Schaus.

Duke Coach Hal Bradley echoed: "West Virginia is supposed to be a running team, but we had as many fast breaks as they did."

Bradley, usually noncommital, added: "Right now, it looks like that was our greatest game. Yessir, that was our best. We didn't make very many offensive mistakes and the rebounding was just great."

Bradley credited much of the victory to 6-5 senior Paul Schmidt, who dogged the Mountaineers' 6-10 Lloyd Sharrar all the way, limiting him to 14 rebounds and 9 points while scoring 12 himself.

Defeat Comes Too Late To Effect W. Va.'s Top Rank

By The Associated Press

West Virginia's Mountaineers no longer are unbeaten, but they're still the top-heavy choice in today's Associated Press college basketball poll—based on games through Saturd

Duke's stunning 72-68 upset ended West Virginia's winning streak at 14 last night, but came too late to be reflected in the balloting by the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters.

There were two other upsets last night. Sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had climbed a notch by running its winning streak to 12, was beaten 70-64 by Houston.

Eighth-ranked Kentucky was trimmed 71-52 by Georgia Tech. Kentucky now is 12-4.

The Mountaineers totaled 1,008 points in the poll to 834 for runner-up Kansas. They were the first pick on 73 of 110 ballots.

Cincinnati, led by the nation's top scorer, Oscar Robertson, continued to advance, jumping past Kansas State into third place by a narrow margin.

The rest of the top 10 lists San Francisco, Oklahoma St., North Carolina, Kentucky, Maryland and North Carolina State.

N.C. State rejoined the top 10, off its 57-48 victory over Maryland last week, while Bradley slipped to 12th after losing to Portland.

Point totals are figured on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

Junior Editors Quiz on CINDERELLA

QUESTION: Was there a real Cinderella?

• • •

ANSWER: Cinderella is the beautiful, mistreated heroine of a fairy tale which has delighted children in almost every country. It is the story of a girl in ragged clothes whose jealous stepsisters made her sit among cinders in the chimney corner. But Cinderella's fairy godmother helps her attend a ball where she charms the prince of the kingdom, who manages finally to marry her.

Stories like that, of cinderella were known to the egyptians thousands of years ago and are found in German folk tales of the 16th Century. The English version is the translation of a story written by Charles Perrault, a Frenchman, in 1696. Sometime, someplace, there must have been a girl like Cinderella, but it doesn't seem probable that she had a fairy godmother, a pumpkin carriage and a glass slipper too.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a picture of Cinderella about to try on the glass slipper while the prince's men look on. As you know, the slipper fits, and the prince marries Cinderella. Cut out the picture and color it.

LONDON (AP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth, blowing kisses to her beaming family, flew off to Montreal today on the first leg of a trip to Australia and New Zealand.

She will return to London March 10, the first member of the royal family to have flown around the world.

Going Steady May Lead To Spinsterhood

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Going steady at too early an age can hurt a girl's chances of getting married, warns an expert on the subject of the unwed woman.

"It stunts her intellectual and social growth," says Dr. Richard H. Klemer, 39, associate general director of the American Institute of Family Relations.

"Suppose she doesn't marry this boy she's been going with since grammar school. She is then far less intellectually and socially equipped for marriage than girls who have been dating lots of boys.

"And women shouldn't be angry or upset about other girl friends their sweethearts or husbands may have had. They're the ones who polished that diamond in the rough the woman now loves."

Dr. Klemer, interviewed at the institute, added that after a girl passes her early 20s, going steady is desirable if she wants to get married.

"After that age, if she is still flirting from one casual acquaintance to another, it could indicate she is unable to develop the deep emotional relationship needed for marriage."

HOUSTON (AP)—Former Texas Gov. W. P. Hobby, 79, was reported in satisfactory condition today following an emergency throat operation last night.

He was stricken while having dinner at his home and was taken to Hermann Hospital by automobile. The operation, a trachetomy, was described as a success.

Hobby is chairman of the board of the Houston Post. His wife, Mrs. Oveta C. Hobby, was the first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the Eisenhower Administration.

Novel Watch Is Set Over Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal district judge arranged today to launch a novel monitor system to watch over James R. Hoffa's activities as president of the giant Teamsters Union.

The plan already has been approved by Judge F. Dickinson Letts as the compromise settlement of a lawsuit, and the jurist will sign necessary papers and name the monitors today.

The lawsuit, being dropped under the compromise, was filed by 13 Teamsters members from New York who sought to prevent Hoffa from taking over as union president. They contended his election at the union's Miami Beach convention last October was rigged.

Under the settlement, Hoffa was allowed to take over the presidency of the 1,400,000-member truckers union, the nation's largest labor organization, but with three monitors to advise him on democratic procedures and union fund safeguards.

Hoffa is not bound to take advice from the monitors, but has said he will give "serious consideration" to their views. The union's officers agreed to handle union money and property as legal trustees and to avoid any business ties that might compromise their union functions.

President's Education Plan Has Plenty Of Competition

By G. K. HODENFIELD

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower billion-dollar program of federal aid to education takes legislative form today, but the four-year plan must compete with at least seven other somewhat similar plans already presented or suggested.

A message outlining the plan, designed as a booster shot in the nation's scientific arm, was sent to Capitol Hill yesterday.

Eisenhower tied the program directly to security and national defense.

The country's national security aims, he said, "can be furthered only by the efforts of individuals whose training is already far advanced. But if we are to maintain our position of leadership, we must see to it that today's young people are prepared to contribute the maximum to our future progress."

Congressional reaction to the message was pretty well divided along party lines. The Republicans called it "forthright," "sound and sensible," and "a good basis for congressional consideration." The Democrats complained, for the most part, that it didn't go far enough—particularly since it had no mention of federal aid for school construction.

Generally speaking, the President's program calls for federal fellowships and scholarships, primarily to students studying the sciences, and federal grants to the states for improving the teaching of science and mathematics, and for steering apt pupils into those fields.

Already pending or proposed are these other competing plans:

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) wants to add 500 million dollars a year for school construction.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) will introduce legislation this week calling for a billion and a half dollars, spread over five years, for school construction.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) would grant 1,000 four-year college scholarships a year to the nation's brightest high school students, and scholarships for summer courses to 116,000 schoolteachers.

Senators Monroney and Kerr (D-Okla) and McNamara (D-Mich) are sponsoring a bill that would provide 10 million dollars annually to further scientific education along the same pattern as vocational education is now taught.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala) and Rep. Elliott (D-Ala) would provide 40,000 science scholarships a year to promising high school students.

The powerful National Education Assn. is asking direct federal aid to the states for school construction and higher teachers' salaries.

The Association of American Colleges suggests tax credits to individuals and corporations which support colleges and universities.

Hole Inching Toward House

HOUSTON (AP)—Teacher Arthur Goddard, who has watched a mysterious hole in his front yard spread menacingly toward his house for three days, said today he isn't really worried that it will gobble up his home.

But his wife and dog, Michele, aren't as confident.

"The city is going to have to do something when that street caves in," Mrs. Goddard warned. The dog sat beside the hole all day yesterday, backing away and howling as it spread, inching slowly toward the house.

The hole was discovered Saturday when it was four feet wide and five feet deep. The Goddards erected a fence around it, but the fence tumbled into the hole which has spread to a width of eight feet.

Guy Moss, an engineer for a utility company, thinks the hole is caused by a leak in a sewer which abs[illegible]dirt. Recent rains loosened the top soil, causing it to spread, he speculated.

Wylie Girl Has Champion Show Steer

FORT WORTH (AP)— The grand champion steer of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show is a 950-pound Hereford owned by Kay Holloway, 11, of Wylie.

Kay was too ill to accompany the animal, Jumbo, to the show, and arrived after judging was completed yesterday afternoon.

Her sister, Jane, stood in for Kay during the judging.

Jumbo won the junior division Saturday.

Just before the judge, Dr. Robert Black of New Mexico A&M, patted Jumbo to signify it had taken the title, Jane was presented a $500 check for her sister. The money came from George Wolff, president of a firm processing the feed Jumbo ate.

The reserve champion steer is an Angus shown by Mecom Angus Ranch of Hitchcock.

Rip's Little Masterpiece, owned by John Tolan of Pleasant Plains, Ill., won the grand championship for Shetland stallions under 42 inches. The reserve champion is Star Topper, owned by C-Jo Pony Farm of Sherman.

Taken To Lubbock

Mrs. J. L. Norris of the Hermleigh community was taken from her home by Bolger ambulance yesterday to Methodist Memorial Hospital in Lubbock.
