Fed action asked

Verdict enrages Latins

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Mexican-American leaders, enraged over light verdicts returned against two former Houston policemen charged in the death of a Mexican-American prisoner, have begun seeking immediate federal intervention in the case.

Jerry Denson, 27, and Stephen Orlando, 21, originally indicted for murder, awaited sentencing today after their conviction Thursday on criminal negligent homicide — a misdemeanor — in the drowning of, Joe Campos Torres, 23.

The jury listened to characters witnesses Thursday and then deliberated for several hours on the punishment phase before recessing until today. They reported to the judge several times they were deadlocked but were urged to reach a decision.

The two were accused of beating and pushing Campos Torres off a 16-foot embankment into the murky waters of Buffalo Bayou in the predawn hours of May 6.

Testimony showed he was beaten by a group of police officers following his arrest for drunkeness before he ended up in the bayou. Campos Torres' body was found two days later.

Houston Police Chief Harry Caldwell said justice prevailed over demogoguery in the case.

"The Mexican-American community is angry," said Ruben Bonilla, state director of the League of United Latin American Citizens, who added that the Justice Department should immediately prosecute the case under civil rights statutes.

"They treated the case as if they (the officers) had killed a dog," he added. "If the federal government takes no action, we will know that Washington does not give a damn about our interests and we will remember that in the next election."

"What a farce," said State Rep. Ben Reyes, D-Houston, who said federal prosecution is needed "to calm the folks down."

'Gays have no place in schools'

DALLAS (AP) — A homosexual has no place in the Dallas Independent School District either as a teacher or as an administrator, according to a policy announced today by school officials.

"Anyone that is a known homosexual and is so identified would be asked to resign by me," said Supt. Nolan Estes. "It's an unwritten part of our district policy."

Estes aded: "The moral values that we're attempting to teach, our whole process of character education is inconsistent with this type of activity (homosexuality). Anytime a teacher's outside activities infringe upon his or her effectiveness in the classroom it is a matter of concern."

Estes said the policy will be changed only on orders from the school board.

School board president Bill Hunter said:

"I don't buy the bit that anything goes as far as a teacher's lifestyle. The schools have a responsibility to deal with certain things with the students and that is one of them. It's my personal opinion that homosexuality does have a bearing upon whether he or she was in a proper position of being a model to teach young people."

'No policy' for gay teachers in Big Spring

The Big Spring Independent School has no special policy at this time regarding teachers who may be found to be homosexual, according to Lynn Hise, superintendent.

In light of the recent Supreme Court ruling allowing discrimination against gays in hiring, several school districts in the state have announced new policy rulings. The Dallas Independent School District, for example, has announced that gay teachers, if identified, will be asked to resign.

"We have no such policy at this time, but we have had no precedent to go on," said Hise this morning. "We are, however, in the process of revising our policy handbook, and we will certainly consult our legal counsel on any new areas such as this. A poliey would have to be established in accordance with the wishes of the board," he added.

SIGNING CONTRACT — Mayor Wade Choate, and Clyde McMahon wished Harry Shaeffer the best of luck as they signed contracts which would lease Shaeffer, owner of Able Construction Company, three buildings from the Webb Industrial Complex.

Two new industries for Webb

By BILL WERRELL

Members of the Big Spring Industrial team formally announced two new industries which will set up operations in the Big Spring Industrial Park at a news conference held in the Chamber offices this morning.

The Cage Corporation, a refurbisher of aerospace equipment for the armed services, and Able Construction Company which specializes in renewing and cleaning oilfield equipment comprise the new industries which will occupy several buildings at Webb AFB Industrial Park.

Cage Corporation, formed in 1975 and operated by Owen Cook Jr., is from Abilene and specializes in refurbishing aerospace ground equipment and electronics for the Army, Air Force, and Navy.

The company hopes to hire a staff of 20 to 30 people from the Big Spring area in the next seven months, as well as five to ten persons from Abilene.

Wage determination for the new employes will start at a minimum of $4.25 an hour and will go up correspondingly to skill levels.

According to Lee Hillyer, who will be head of the Big Spring plant, the company should be in full operation by October 20.

Retired from the Air Force himself, Hillyer said that 75 per cent of the company's employes would be made up of ex-Air Force or Army personnel because of their familiarity with the equipment being handled.

Cook said that activities of the corporation will range from microwave equipment to equipment with no moving parts. He stated the only thing the industry would not touch were be aircraft engines and frames.

Cook is very excited about moving part of his operations to Big Spring and expects a long and beneficial stay.

The Able Construction Company, owned and operated by Harry Shaeffer, is presently located at 1102 Stanford, and has been in business since 1975.

The business started out building and remodeling homes but has now progressed into sandblasting, painting and coating of oilfield equipment.

Shaeffer, who retired after 20 years in the Air Force, said that his company would not be in any competition with any interests in Big Spring, stating that local oilfield companies usually send to Odessa for his kind of services.

Able Construction will occupy buildings 1034, 1035, and 1036 at the Industrial Park site.

The company which currently employs three people, has already contracted to clean a number of tanks for Lubbock Manufacturing Company which is also a new industrial arrival to the former Air Force Base.

WELCOME — Owen Cook Jr., president of Cage Corporation which will set up operations on Webb October 20, is welcomed to Big Spring by Winston Wrinkle, head of the Big Spring Industrial Team.

Robbery suspects charged

Charges were officially filed at 2:15 p.m. Thursday on the two men involved in the armed robberies at Carver's and Wright's drug stores.

Scotty Lee Moore, 21, 1503 E. 3rd, Apt. 1 and formerly of Lamesa and Scott Anthony Hoch, 19, St. Lawrence Route, Garden City, were charged on two counts each of aggravated robbery.

Bond was set at $50,000 on each count for a total of $100,000 on each man. Justice of the Peace Bobby West set bonds. The two men are still in Howard County jail in lieu of the bonds.

Hitchhiker rapist sought in manhunt

STERLING CITY — A 19-year-old Lubbock woman, was raped while hitchhiking with two male cousins through Sterling County Thursday, and she was raped and dumped out of a pickup near the Mitchell County line.

Sterling and Mitchell County law enforcement officers have asked other West Texas law enforcement officers to join them in a manhunt in connection with the incident.

The Lubbock woman was taken to Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City and given a medical examination according to Mitchell County Sheriff Bill McGuire.

The woman and her two male cousins were hitchhiking from San Antonio back to Lubbock and were picked up by a man in his 50s driving a light green Chevrolet pickup. He also had what was believed to be a .32 caliber crome-plated pistol.

He forced the two males out of the pickup and drove on with the woman. He is alleged to have raped her on an oilfield road in Sterling County about three miles from the Mitchell County line.

The two men were brought in to Sheriff Jim Cantrell at Sterling City by Billy McClellan, an employe of a Sterling County ranch. The highway patrol units then began to hunt the pickup.

They discovered the woman walking down the highway near the Mitchell County line. The suspect being sought is reported to be over six feet tall and has a front tooth missing, according to Sheriff McGuire.

Seized plane checked, may be local

Sheriff Aubrey Standard was checking this morning to see if the twin engine Piper Navajo aircraft which was seized Thursday by U.S. Customs Service Agents might be the one that has been missing for several weeks from Trans Regional Airlines, Big Spring.

The twin-engine plane was seized near Junction Thursday loaded with 30 gallons of Mescaline, a hallucinogen, and 1,200 pounds of marijuana.

Customs Supervisor Al Wenzlaff said agents tracked the plane from Corpus Christi to Mexico on Wednesday, then used air surveillance gear and three other planes to follow it when it re-entered the U.S. between Brownsville and McAllen on Thursday.

Street value of the Mescaline is set at $100,000 according to a pharmacology expert.

Wenzlaff said the two suspects were jailed and were to be brought before a federal magistrate today in San Antonio.

Large crowds attend short court hearing

By MARJ CARPENTER

STANTON — One of the largest crowds in the 118th District courtroom in Martin County in recent years watched the changing of a temporary restraining order to a temporary injunction Wednesday. The injunction was against persons who inflicted a beating on the county agent, Preston Faris.

The beating arose following the killing of an apparently vicious dog, which belonged to Malcolm and Ann Irvin.

A number of farmers stood out in the hall and talked in small groups most of the afternoon.

The trial in progress was a civil action suit by Texas Employers Insurance Assocation against Harold (Bill) Sears, former Stanton basketball coach, who apparently fell out of the press box in 1975.

But the crowd was waiting for the results of the injunction hearing in connection with the beating of the county agent.

Shortly before the appointed hour for the injunction hearing, Judge Ralph Caton recessed the civil trial in progress.

The attorneys for the parties involved in the injunction hearing approached the bench and although the audience strained their ears, they could not hear the results. They could only see the judge signing an order.

The restraining order was changed officially to a temporary injunction. One name was removed. It was the name of Nicky Wagoner.

Originally the restraining order was against Guy and Nicky Wagoner and their mother and her husband, Malcolm and Ann Irvin.

The name of Nicky Wagoner was removed, according to Judge Caton "because he was apparently not involved."

The other three persons are restrained from harrassing or harming either Faris and his wife. They are also restrained from appearing on their premises or harrassing them on the telephone or in any manner interferring with their daily lives.

The temporary injunction remains active as long as the suit is filed, according to the judge. Violations of the order would cause immediate jailing.

Dick Milstead and Mike McKinney from Big Spring represented Faris and his wife and the defendants were represented by Jack Bundrant of San Angelo.

The civil trial resumed and the small groups in the hall dispersed as word of the action moved from group to group. Two Department of Public Safety Troops, who were on standby duty in the hall, went on about their other duties.

Action/reaction: Boy in danger?

Q. Why was the picture of the boy who reported the license number of armed robbers run in the Big Spring Herald? Would this be dangerous?

A. The boy was brought to the newspaper by his family for the photograph, said Publisher J. Tom Graham. The Herald felt that there was little danger because there were numerous witnesses in both drug stores who saw the crimes committed. Graham said that the newspaper also feels that the youth deserves recognition and treatment as a hero for his courage and intelligence in assisting law enforcement officers with the crimes.

Offbeat: Singer awarded $300,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Kitty Kallen, a top singer in the big band era, was awarded $300,000 by a Manhattan jury on her claim that birth control pills prescribed for cosmetic purposes by her doctor caused a dangerous blood clot.

The award granted Thursday by a jury of five women and one man came after a three-week trial.

Miss Kallen's lawyer, Alfred S. Julien, said she was taking the pills on the advice of her doctor to prevent wrinkles.

Defendants were Dr. Norman Orentreich, her physician, who must pay 60 per cent of the award, and Ayers Laboratories, manufacturers of a contraceptive called Premarin, which will pay the remaining 40 per cent.

Orentreich claimed at the trial that he warned the singer of possible side effects when he prescribed the drug in 1966 and 1967.

Miss Kallen, who sang with such name bands as Tommy Dorsey, Harry James and David Rose, won the "Singer of the Year" award in 1955.

Shortly afterward she lost her voice during a concert at the Palladium in London and was unable to sing again until 1959.

TV's best: Texas movie

Two made-for-TV movies premiere at the same time, 8 p.m., today, and little is known about either. If you have the urge to watch a movie entitled, "Black Market Baby" on ABC, go ahead. "Escape From Bogen County," featuring Angel Jaclyn Smith on CBS sounds better. And besides, it is set in Texas.

Inside: OU-Texas scalping

THE TICKET SCALPERS of Texas and Oklahoma have a booming business with this year's Texas-OU game — which won't be televised live in the Dallas area. See p. 8B.

COMMUNIST VIETNAMESE and Cambodian troops are battling over ground American troops once fought for, sending peasants again fleeing to escape death and injury. See p. 10A.

Woolly bear forecast

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania is in for another cold winter if you can believe the woolly bear caterpillar.

Herb Krone, an 83-year-old retired reporter, has been looking to the woolly bears for 68 years to tell him what kind of winter is coming up.

As any woolly bear aficionado knows, the darker their coats the more severe the winter that follows.

So what's it like this year?

"Every one that I have found is either very dark brown or an inky black from nose to tail tip." said Krone.

"Based on this observation, my best advice would be don't throw away your snow shovels or retire your snow plows."

Although there will be some "miserable periods" of weather and cold, they won't be as bad as the record-breaking weather last winter, said Krone.

Krone's woolly bear forecast was not quite accurate last year — "The little devils fooled me" — but Krone is convinced that was a fluke.

The uniformity of the caterpillars' coats "tells me they've gotten it all together again," said Krone.

Jobless rate slips down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate edged down to 6.9 per cent in September from the August level of 7.1 per cent, showing little change for the fifth consecutive month, the government reported today.

The jobless rate has hovered stubbornly around the 7 per cent level since April, an indication of the slowdown in the economy following the period of rapid growth early in the year.

Most of the improvement in unemployment last month was enjoyed by black workers following a sharp increase in their joblessness the previous month.

Unemployment among blacks had risen to 14.5 per cent in August but fell to 13.1 per cent last month. However, analysts said there was some indication the August increase was caused by a "quirk" in the statistics than an actual rise in unemployment.

Iceberg in your future

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Prince Mohamed Al-Faisal thinks there is "an iceberg in everybody's future."

But he admits "I still have to convince the whole world" it's feasible to tow icebergs from polar regions to water-poor nations.

"We can do it," he told a news conference Thursday at the end of the first International Conference on Iceberg Utilization. "If we put the effort into it, perhaps we will tow an iceberg in three to five years."

The Saudi Arabian prince put up $50,000 to finance the conference at Iowa State University.

Chrysler prices listed

DETROIT (AP) — Consumers who buy a 1978 American-made car will be paying nearly $400 more on the average than for a similar 1977 model.

That prospect became certain Thursday when Chrysler Corp., the No. 3 U.S. automaker, announced it is boosting prices on its new cars by an average $372.

Chrysler was the last of the Big Three automakers to announce an increase of about 6 per cent. The three companies sell 98 per cent of all American-made cars in this country. American Motors Corp., which accounts for the other 2 per cent, has not issued a formal price list for all of its 1978 cars.

Ford Motor Co. said Wednesday it was boosting prices an average $387 or 5.8 per cent. General Motors announced an average $405, or 6 per cent, boost last month.

Blonde witness defends shooting spree statement

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A blonde state witness in the Cullen Davis murder trial angrily defended today a sworn statement she gave investigators last year after a shooting spree at Davis' Fort Worth mansion.

"They typed up that statement at five o'clock in the morning...I was crying...Bubba was shot and crippled...what did you expect?" Beverly Bass, 19, declared.

At that point, Miss Bass told defense lawyer Richard "Racehorse" Haynes: "If you are asking me if I was lying, no, sir. You're making it very difficult for me."

Haynes pointed out that Miss Bass said in her statement of Aug. 3, 1976, "I heard a woman scream. I think I heard one shot. The man was walking in front of me."

Miss Bass testified previously she and her boyfriend heard a woman scream and other noises upon arriving at the mansion but before encountering the gunman.

"You are now telling the jury your sworn statement was not true?" Haynes asked.

"It was out of sequence," she replied.

The witness tearfully testified Thursday she used her sister's name to falsify records at a Fort Worth pregnancy clinic in 1975.

Harding sworn in as state treasurer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Warren G. — for Glen, not Gamaliel — Harding was sworn in as state treasurer today and received a warm endorsement from the man who appointed him, Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

"Seldom does the opportunity come to appoint such a qualified man or one so widely recommended," Briscoe said in his introduction of Harding to an enthusiastic crowd in the Senate Chamber.

Harding succeeds Jesse James, who died last Thursday at the age of 73. Fifteen months remained on James's term.

Harding, 56, has been Dallas County treasurer since 1951 and is expected to announce as a candidate for a full four-year term as state treasurer.

As a candidate, he would be blessed with the same kind of name familiarity that helped James win election and re-election for 36 years to an office that gets little publicity.

Warren G. for Gamaliel Harding was president when the new treasurer was born.

The new treasurer said he said he had some policy changes in mind for the treasury, which frequently has been criticized for not obtaining a maximum return on the state's bank deposits. But he said he would hold off announcing his ideas until he has "completed the necessary transition to this high office."

"The office of state treasurer of Texas is a position of high honor and great public trust. I assure all of the people of Texas I shall treat it as such," Harding said after Chief Justice Joe Greenhill of the Texas Supreme Court administered the oath of office.

Briscoe called the treasurer's job "one of the greatest trusts to be found anywhere in the United States."

Gas leak forcing evacuation

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Toxic chlorine gas billowed from a section of the Dow Chemical Co. plant today, forcing evacuation of thousands of persons from schools, homes and businesses. They were able to begin returning after about 2½ hours.

At least six chemical workers were treated and released at Midland Hospital in this eastcentral Michigan city, a company spokesman said.

The spokesman said a valve on a liquid chlorine tank opened allowing the liquid to escape and vaporize. It was not known how the valve opened or if human error was involved, the spokesman said.

Fifty workers went to the plant's infirmary, but only six were taken to the hospital, the spokesman added.

Most of those evacuated were in Midland and Homer townships south of the city.

Lad faces 25 years in prison

TV insanity decision

MIAMI (AP) — The foreman of the jury which convicted a 15-year-old boy in the murder of an elderly woman said today the defense's claim that the youth was driven insane by seeing too much violence on television was ridiculous.

The convicted boy, Ronny Zamora, faces at least 25 years in prison. His attorney still contends his defense strategy which focused on "television insanity" blazed a legal frontier.

After deliberating for about two hours, the jury returned to the courtroom, with its glare of television lights, just after midnight Thursday to pronounce Zamora guilty of first-degree murder.

Today, jurors said they couldn't accept the theory that Zamora's addiction to violent TV programs drove him insane.

"This TV thing — that's ridiculous," said jury foreman John Kateb. "There were a lot of things (that made jurors sympathetic) — his childhood upbringing and all of that. I was brought up without a father. I wasn't led down the wrong path."

"The facts just did not prove he was intoxicated by television. We were pretty much in consensus," said another juror, Irvin Winer.

"It's very unfortunate that the jury is sending this very young boy to a state penitentary where he will become a target of horrible offenses," said defense attorney Ellis Rubin.

"The appellate court should hear and consider this case because I think the issue presented will forge a new frontier in American jurisprudence," Rubin said in announcing that he will appeal the verdict.

Zamora, a slender junior high school student, appeared pale and shaken as he heard an assistant court clerk read the jury's decisions.

He was also found guilty of burglary, armed robbery and possession of a firearm during commission of a felony. Circuit Judge Paul Baker set sentencing for Nov. 7.

"She's lost her child," said Rubin as he led Yolanda Zamora, the boy's mother, from the courtroom. "It's time to go home."

Exciting men selected

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Secretaries Association has chosen four entertainers, three government figures, two athletes and one businessman as the 10 most exciting men in the country.

A survey released Thursday listed the top 10, in no particular order, as energy chief James Schlesinger; comedian Mel Brooks; singer Tom Jones; Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley; former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger; talk show host Mike Douglas; actor Steve McQueen; Los Angeles Rams quarterback Joe Namath; St. Louis Cardinals baseball player Lou Brock and Cutty Sark board chairman Edward A. Horrigan.

Pancreas transplant

DALLAS (AP) — A 22-year-old blind diabetic was in good condition today while doctors who placed part of a pancreas in his body expressed guarded optimism over the success of the operation.

Following the Wednesday operation, physicians said the blood sugar levels of Dennis Hammer remained in the normal range without injections of insulin for the first time in 12 years.

Dr. William Fry, chairman of the department of surgery at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, said the next three months will be critical for Hammer because of the dangers of infection and rejection of the transplant.

Hammer received the transplant at Parkland Memorial Hospital from an unidentified stroke victim who died shortly before the transplant operation.

Weather

Rain continues in West Texas

By the Associated Press

Rainfall continued in West Texas early today and forecasters predicted it would spread over the eastern half of the state during the day and night.

Most areas of West Texas got only about .50 of an inch of rainfall, but the National Weather Service said some areas got as much as one inch.

Elsewhere, skies were generally clear except for the Lower Rio Grande Valley where some light shower activity was reported.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 60s and 70s with extremes ranging from 61 at Dalhart in the Panhandle to 79 at Galveston on the gulf coast. Forecasters said highs today should reach the 80s statewide and lows tonight should be in the 60s and 70s.

Temperatures were expected to drop in Northwest Texas during the night as a cool front moves through that area.

Trying to limit taxing power

A Big Spring man is doing his best to limit the ability of Congress to tax the American people.

Max Green, a certified public accountant, notes that the 16th Amendment gives Congress the right to impose the income tax.

Before it is too late, Green argues that Americans should limit how much the government can tax its people.

He proposes that this be done by an amendment to the Constitution. Below is a short statement in which Green makes his case for a new Constitutional Convention:

By MAX GREEN

The Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution grants our Congress unlimited power to assess taxes against our income.

Congress is actually in a position to take all of our income for the benefit of government or some special interest group. We have in effect placed too much trust in the individuals who are our representatives.

The Fifth Article of the Constitution grants the States the right to call a constitutional convention. Two thirds of the states can do this by passing resolutions calling for a Constitutional Convention and submitting this resolution to the Congress of the United States.

The representatives sent to the convention should be taxpayers. They should not hold any type of governmental office. This, too, is covered by the Constitution whereby an individual cannot serve in more than one capacity of government.

The representatives should have unlimited power to propose any amendment that they wish to submit to the convention as a whole. We would submit two basic proposals to the convention. Our reasons for the proposals follow the proposed amendments.

Proposed Amendment:

The Congress shall not assess taxes greater than 15 per cent of the net income of any individual, partnership, corporation or other legal entity. This tax shall be reduced by the amount of any other tax paid to any local state or federal governmental agency, regardless of the name given the assessment.

Our congress has consistently increased our tax burden. They have given various names to these taxes in order to hide these assessments from the general public. Our only hope of controlling our central government is to place a limit on the amount of money they can take away from us.

Proposed Amendment:

The national debt shall not exceed six hundred fifty billions dollars. This debt shall be reduced annually at the rate of two and one-half per cent of six hundred fifty billion dollars. In the event of a formally declared war, then Congress may borrow money for purchasing only materials of war. Congress shall not borrow money for any other purpose.

It will not do any good to place a limit on taxes unless we place a limit on debt. By limiting debt to war materials we can raise the funds that are necessary to protect our nation from an outside aggressor.

We wish to encourage each citizen to contact his state representative and senator requesting that he vote for a resolution calling for a national Constitutional Convention.

This may be our last chance of regaining control of our federal government. Lets restore our individual rights and keep our nation the true land of opportunity.

As the reader can tell by the tone of the article, Green is serious about this. He says he will not stop trying until another amendment is added to the U.S. Constitution.

This, of course, is an incredibly difficult goal to achieve, as the leaders of the women's movement have discovered in their efforts to see the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) adopted.

The odds against Green being able to spark a revision of the Constitution are higher than Jimmy the Greek can count, but who can know what one determined man might do?

An albatross

Around the rim

Bob Burton

An albatross is a seagoing bird, capable of staying in the air for long periods of time. It is also, due to the "Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner" a weight or penalty, derived from the dead albatross which that mariner was obliged to sport hanging from a rope about his neck.

The Texas State Legislature has, with all the usual lofty intentions, placed an albatross very carefully about the necks of Texas prosecutors.

It came, as the original albatross did, attractively packaged in a bill intended to protect some civilian rights and to effectively needle the prosecutors into taking more action.

What it amounts to is a speedy trial law enacted by the last legislature. The law calls for prosecution of felony grade crimes within 120 days of arrest, of county misdemeanor crimes within 90 days, and of justice court crimes within 60 days.

The legislators cooked up the bill, despite some ineffectual protest from the state bar association, and found that what resulted looked and smelled like a really good idea. Unfortunately, it will probably begin to taste like turkey shortly after it goes into effect next year, and it may eventually end up as crow for some of the big boosters.

What the speedy trial bird was supposed to do is not a bad idea. Legislators figured to move the accused criminals along faster, obliterating backlog in the courts and lengthy waits by persons still only accused for their cases to come to trial.

For those state hondos who were built on law and order there was the lure of putting 'em behind bars 120 days after they stepped out of bounds. For the liberal officials, there was the highly touted claim that the wrongfully accused would be cleared just that much faster.

It looks like a prize-winning idea, but any gift horse that pleases both liberal and conservative politicians deserves a complete dental check-up.

What it will really do, according to the people who know, is cause mass dismissals of normally acceptable cases, deny the right of lawsuit to citizens, and provide a relaxed atmosphere for accused criminals to barter for a reduced plea.

The problem is this: criminal law, in its infinite wisdom, is girded with rights and cloaked in complicated procedures to provide a fair trial. All that takes times, especially in cases where the accused was not discovered with his hand in the cookie jar, but painstakingly traced by a law enforcement agency.

If a prosecutor is forced to go to trial without adequate preparation, it will show up in a not guilty verdict or a reduced sentence. If a prosecutor is under a 120-day deadline, then in those cases he does not make it, there will be a dismissal. If the 120-day deadline stands, the guilty criminal can wait patiently for the sands to run down, and even offer the D.A. a sentence acceptable to himself as the deadline nears.

For persons trying to press for a civil suit, the courtrooms will be filled with criminal trials which are under the gun, and will effectively stifle the chances of a civil suit to get into the courtroom.

The cost of the 120-day rule is certain to be high as district attorneys apply for additional manpower to ready cases for court, and probation offices gear up to handle the additional sentences mandated by the pressure of the deadline.

In short, the idea is an albatross. It hangs around and stinks.

But rather than simply snipe, here is an alternate suggestion. Wouldn't the creation of additional judicial districts have the same effect of reducing the backlog in the courts? Would the cost be worth it? And isn't trying to goad district attorneys and judges who are not trying to keep up with the case load into action by releasing criminals onto the streets rather like cutting off your hand to spite your face?

Castro's dilemma

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — Despite his commitment to Third World buccaneering, Fidel Castro is desperate to reduce his military involvement and embrassing losses in Angola by seeking a Communist partner, East Germany — so far with no success.

Castro certainly does not want to weaken the world's perception of Communist Cuba's desire to export Marxist revolution. Rather, he asked help from the East Germans because he badly needs a temporary reprieve from an increasingly impossible mission: stamping out the civil war waged in Angola by Lucas Savimibi's guerrillas against the Soviet-backed Marxist government of Agostinho Neto. The only reason Neto has survived is intervention by Castro's Africa Corps.

In return for castro's indispensable help in propping up the Kremlin's shaky man in Angola, the Soviet Union sends massive subisdies to prop up the shaky Cuban economy. Yet, in President Carter's State Department, this crucial serviceperformed by Castro for the Soviet Union is deemed inconsequential. It is "no burning issue," Assistant Secretary of State Richard Moose recently toldreporter.

What is "no burning issue" to Moose, top U.S. African policymaker, is mosow's indispensable tool to penetrate deeper into black Africa at Western expense. But the tool, Fidel Castro, is getting rapped trapped in a poltical gauagmire from which he can find no way to withdraw.

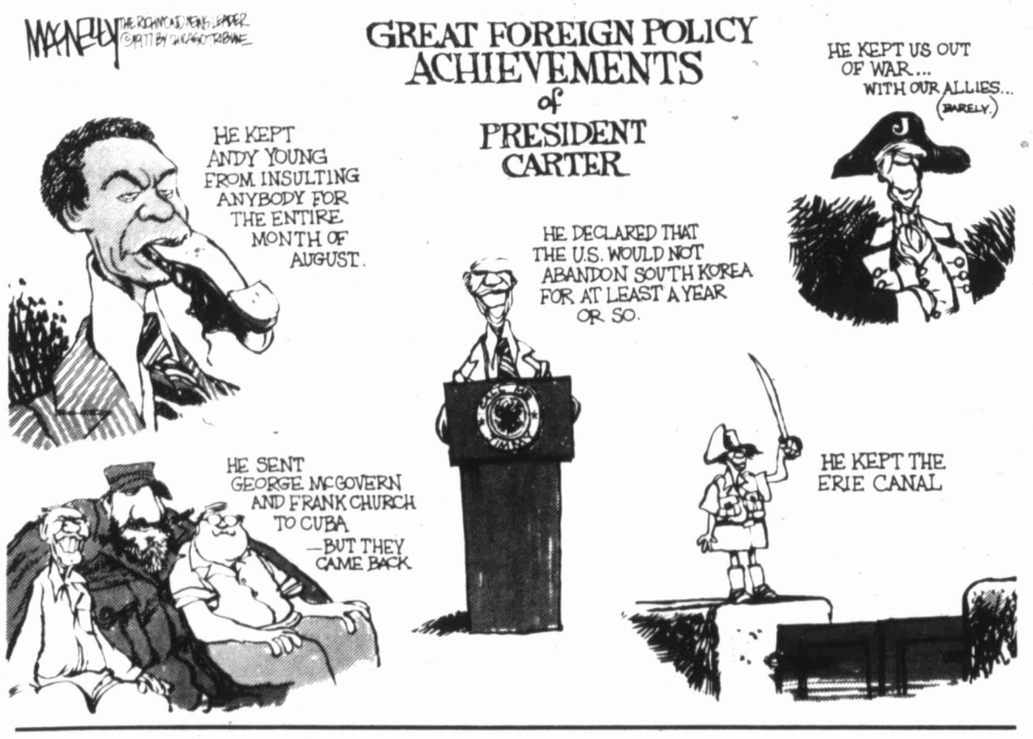

Instead of fulfilling his "pledge" last year to then Swedish Prime Minister Olaf Palme to withdraw his 13,000 to 15,000 Cuban troops at a 200-s-week rate, Castro actually has been increasing his military commitment. During this past summer, five Cuban transport convoys are believed to have sailed to Angola from Cuba with troops and both military and civilian advisers.

There is little doubt here that this was a net reinforcement to Bolster Neto's precarious situation following the barely aborted coup attempted against Neto last May. Cuban help was vital for Neto.

The troop reinforcements probably put Castro's Africa Corps close to 20,000. Despite the increase Castro's shrouded efforts to reduce his staggering commitment are no longer doubted by Cuban experts here; nor is his growing concern about the domestic political impact of his Angolan escapade.

Castro's brother and power-sharer, Raoul, is believed to have made a direct approach for help to East Germany during his visit there two months ago. One argument: the dispatch of tough, pro-Western Moroccan troops to protect pro-Western Zaire from a Soviet-financed invasion by mercenaries based in Angola poses a new threat to Castro's own troops in Angola. Fraternal Communist forces — principally East German — were accordingly needed to share the burden with Castro. So far, there have been no takers in East Germany.

Castro is showing signs of deep concern over Cuban casualties in Angola, and the polticial impact on 9 million Cubans at home.

'Self-renewal' can feather empty nest

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Gland malfunction and chemical imbalance are thought to cause many physical illnesses. Could they also cause unexplained emotional depression? I am long past menopause. Now I find I am deeply depressed. I break into tears at the slightest frustration. This may last from 12 to 48 hours. Annual physicals show I'm in general good health. I do not smoke, drink, or use drugs. I am not on any medication. I'm into outside activities — golf, bowling, volunteer work, the church, etc. Reminding myself that I have everything I could want — family harmony, no financial worries, good health — does nothing to relieve the doldrums. I guess I'm seeking a physical cause for an unexplainable problem. — Mrs. J.B.

Your fatigue could be an important clue. Have you mentioned this, plus your general depression to your physician during those physical examinations? He would want to look for such problems as thyroid underfunction or blood chemistry imbalance.

However, it doesn't take much reading between the lines of your letter to suspect a different cause. Call it "situational" depression. You say that you have financial security, good family relationships. The ship is, so to speak, on an even keel. But it may seem to be drifting.

Women are more prone to such depression than men, by a 30 per cent margin. Are you experiencing the "empty nest" syndrome, a phrase I don't believe needs any explanation? Your outside activty may expend your time and energy, but probably is not providing the day-to-day rewards you formerly got from being the needed full-time mother and wife. Perhaps now is the time to begin planning for the future rather than longing for the past.

In a recent discussion on how to overcome middle-aged depression, the term "self-control" was used. This might apply to you. Many doctors are trained these days to understand depression as a vital part of a person's total health, part of the trend toward treating the "whole person." The state of the mind can be reflected in the state of the body.

On the other hand, depression is featured by negativism, disinterest, and a tendency to be a loner. These characteristics do not appear in your letter. Hence, looking for a physical cause may be important for you.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Through the mists

William F. Buckley, Jr.

In the tumult and the shouting of the past ten days one has the sense of having lost all idea of economic integration. Highly intelligent people are going about confused over what is going on in the complicated quarrels in Washington having to do with energy. Quite understandably. Concerning all of which, a few comments:

1. The fundamental problem is untouched by all the wrangling over Mr. Carter's energy bill. That problem is the oligopolistic leverage of OPEC over world oil. Since the crack of doom sounded from Saudi Arabia after the Yom Kippur War in 1973, no policy has been arrived at to cope with the quadrupled price of oil coming from the OPEC nations.

At a political level, there is an accommodationist fatalism that is absolutely startling. It is as though God had announced, in November of 1973, that He was going to change the seasons around a bit. One professor from Johns Hopkins proposed we should consider military action against Saudi Arabia if absolutely necessary. He was put in Coventry.

The Dutch were finally forgiven by the Arabs for siding so conspicuously with Israel during the engagement, and were magnanimously permitted to buy oil at $12 per barrel. The British were secretly enjoying the whole operation because they knew that very soon they would themselves be fellow-profiteers of the great oil gouge. The United States meanwhile did nothing, and calmly permitted its imports of foreign oil to rise from one-third national consumption to one-half.

Everyone in Washington is nowadays arguing whether gas prices should be deregulated. Nobody appears to be concerned about the effect the oligopoly is having on the United States dollar, which is retreating all over the world. And quite rightly, inasmuch as we are predicting for this year a balance of trade deficit approximately four times as large as the largest in our history. We are arguing about windfall profits for a few oil and gas producers from Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana, while apparently resigned forever to permitting a couple of sheiks to decide, according to their pleasure, the cost of oil, and therefore the value of the dollar.

2. As long as we continue to force American producers to sell oil at a lesser price than we pay for foreign oil, we are in effect subsidizing the purchase of foreign oil. By selling our oil at an artificially low price, we simultaneously increase demand and diminish supply. If oil taken from the ground is sold at less than the price of replacing that oil through fresh discoveries, a subsidy acts to encourage the expenditure of energy-dollars — and to increase general consumption; resulting in a greater importation of oil.

3. The Senate reasons correctly that if oil is taxed at the wellhead (for the purpose of reimbursing certain purchasers some of the cost of oil), there will be no increased incentive to discover fresh oil. President Carter threatens (through Mr. Schlesinger) retaliation, proposing to invoke the authority granted to President Ford to impose a tax on imported oil, and then figure out some way to get that money back to the consumers through general tax relief.

The whole thing is a mess, subsidizing economic archaeologists who seek to trace the movements of dollars through tariff barriers, entitlement redistributions, wellhead subsidies: a mare's nest of bureaucratic interference. Reminding us that:

4. Economic problems are best solved by the market place doing its impartial duty. Political problems are the preserve of the state. It is the job of American enterprise to find oil and gas and make it available.

Turning in on Seoul

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — The supersecret National Security Agency intercepted some fascinating communications between the South Korean government in Seoul and its embassy in Washington, outlining grandiose plans to influence Congress.

The incriminating transcripts are being reviewed by the Senate Intelligence Committee, which is conducting a secret inquiry into the government's strange failure to do anything about it.

Copies of the transcripts were distributed over the years to key Washington authorities, including officials of both the Justice Department and the White House. Yet for years, the Korean lobbying effort was ignored by officials who could have intervened.

The intercepted messages do not criminally implicate any specific congressmen and do not mention Korean payoff man Tongsun Park by name. But Park's name was mentioned in classified State Department cables, which we obtained in early 1974.

Our investigation established that Park was engaged in political lobbying and that he had developed a close, curious relationship with then-Rep. Richard Hanna, D-Calif. — a story we broke on April 1, 1974. The Justice Department has now indicted Park and named Hanna as an unindicted co-conspirator.

The 1974 cables showed that the State Department gave special treatment to Tongsun Park during his travels in the Middle East, probably because he was in the company of the congressman.

In a classified cable to U.S. embassies in the Middle East, the department requested "each post except Cario" to ensconce Park "in a single room next to or near room reserved for" Rep. Hanna. In Cairo, telegrammed State, "Mr. Park requests a suite on the (Nile) river side of the Hilton."

Not until the following year did the Justice Department begin to investigate the South Korean effort to compromise Congress, although the evidence had been gathering dust in its files for years. Then it took a private letter from Rep. Donald Fraser, D-Minn., to then-Attorney General Edward Levi to get action. The congressman sent Levi a summary of testimony his House international organizations subcommittee had developed.

Finally, on July 17, 1975, we were able to break the explosive story that "the Justice Department is quietly investigating charges that the Korean Central Intelligence Agency, modeled after our own embattled spy agency, has set up illegal front groups to manipulate U.S. public opinion and has even tried to 'buy off' U.S. congressmen."

MORE BOMBINGS? Sources close to the anti-Castro movement warn that Cuban extremists plan a rash of bombings early next week to protest the Panama Canal treaty. The targets are expected to be public structures, such as bridges in New York City and Washington, D.C.

Justice Department sources believe the Cuban terrorist, Orlando Bosch, has participated in the plotting from his jail cell in Venezuela. He was clapped into jail on suspicion of bombing a Cuban airliner, causing 73 deaths.

He has also been linked to the dynamite death of Chilean exile leader Orlando Letelier in Washington last September. According to secret Senate testimony, Bosch also intended to assassinate Secretary of State Henry Kissinger during his February 1976 visit to Costa Rica.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor,

We want to take this opportunity to say thanks for a job well done by the Big Spring Police Department. I guess nothing upsets me more than to hear someone say how sorry the police department is in Big Spring and how they are never around when you need them.

If people only knew what problems the police department faces with the manpower they have available, they would understand why there can't be a policeman right on the spot when they need one. The next time someone wants to know why there are only two patrol cars on the street at night, don't blame the police department, call your City Council and ask why.

We at Carver Pharmacy support and appreciate very much the job that is done by the Big Spring Police Department and hope that other businesses and people will realize they are doing the best possible job with the manpower and equipment they have available.

Also we want to commend Bobby Roy on his alertness to get the license number of the car. We think it's great to see an 11-year-old boy who is willing to help the police rather than run them down and think they are bad people.

Last, but not least, we want to thank our employe Linda Holland for her quick thinking in getting out of store at the time of the robbery and calling the police department for help.

Again thanks to everyone who helped in catching the two men who held up our store.

Dear Editor,

In the September 19, 1977 Action-Reaction, it was stated that Goliad Junior High School was air-conditioned. The September 29 column reported that some classrooms were air-conditioned with coolers donated by teachers. Of 30 regular classrooms and one library, only ten classrooms (one-third) are air-conditioned with evaporative coolers. While we are grateful to have some air-conditioning, we feel the facts should be known.

Thank you,

Coal: America's ace in the hole

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's an industry advertisement describing coal as America's ace in the hole, but now a government report suggests that it may be a hard card to play.

That assessment by the General Accounting Office is subject to debate, for the administration insists that coal production can be more than doubled by 1985, to help curb the demand for imported oil.

In asserting that the administration target probably is beyond the nation's reach, the GAO study points to the fragile balance of programs, proposals and assumptions that make up President Carter's national energy plan, and concludes that the odds are against all of them working at once.

And that may be the most significant point in the watchdog agency's report to Congress on coal prospects.

The administration energy plan anticipates the production and use of 1.2 billion tons of coal a year by 1985, up from 665 million tons in 1976.

"So many interrelated elements would have to work to double coal production by 1985 that GAO does not believe it could happen," the agency said, adding that it will be very difficult to push production to one billion tons by 1985. The difference is the equivalent of 2.2 million barrels of oil a day.

That's based entirely on the technical, industrial and environmental problems of producing and burning more coal as a substitute for oil and natural gas.

It doesn't take into account the political difficulties confronting President Carter as the Senate works over his energy bill.

The Senate already has watered down House-approved measures to require that most utilities and industrial users of natural gas and oil convert to coal.

There are signs of trouble ahead for another Carter proposal, to use tax penalties and incentives to prod industry to speed a shift to coal.

Carter is pressing for both, listing them among his "vital measures to conserve energy and to replace our precious oil and gas with more abundant fuels such as coal."

But whatever Congress decides, it can't make a law to erase the problems the GAO foresees. The study forecasts a substantial increase in U.S. coal production and consumption, but says that it will take time and a lot of money.

For openers, the GAO says it will take between 400 and 825 new coal mines, and 288,000 to 532,000 new miners to sharply increase production levels. The higher figures are about what it would take to get to meet administration targets.

That would cost up to $45.5 billion in new capital.

The GAO said it checked with 11 major coal producers, all of whom said they thought the industry could double production by 1985 and triple it by 2000.

But the coal isn't where the consumers are. It would have to be hauled, primarily by rail, which means more money — $5.2 billion by GAO estimate to provide the cars, equipment and facilities to move coal.

The railroads say they can handle the traffic, which leads into the next question: what about the environment?

"We cannot use one billion tons of coal in one year without harming our environment ... the GAO concludes. "We're relinquishing some of our environmental quality to reduce our energy imports and extend the life of our dwindling oil and gas reserves."

That also will be expensive.

The devices that control air pollution from the burning of coal generate solid waste — sludge — in the process. According to the GAO, if coal consumption approaches the administration target by 1985, the amount of sludge generated that way could be about equal to the total municipal solid waste produced in the United States in a year.

The questions and problems go on and on, for more than 450 pages in that GAO study. That's no argument against the use of coal, which, after all, is the one energy source in which the United States has a corner on the market.

U.S. coal reserves contain about three times as much potentil energy as do Middle East oil reserves.

Coal represents 90 per cent of U.S. fuel reserves, but now supplies only 18 per cent of energy needs. That will have to change, but it won't be easily accomplished.

Prices in London lure tourists

LONDON (AP) — London is bursting at the seams as the tail end of this year's estimated all-time record total of 8.5 million tourists jet into Heathrow and Gatwick airports.

The British capital is filled with the babble of foreign languages and accents, its streets are filled with exotic foreign clothes, its hotels are filled with visitors, its stores are filled with their money and its 8.5 million native Londoners are filling with something approaching xenophobia.

Egon Ronay, author of a famous guide to good eating, summed up the opinion of many Londoners facing a daily crush on streets, trains, buses and the subway resulting from the huge increase in tourist numbers this year.

"Let's be clear about tourists," he said. "They are vital to our financial well-being, and they are a bloody nuisance, polluting our quality of life."

One big reason for the heavy flow of tourists is the cheaper prices in London since the pound sterling fell in value from $2.40 last year to $1.75.

The tourist crush is so big that the hotels are filled, and some foreign visitors have been sleeping in tents on the outskirts of London, in church halls, in church crypts and even in flophouses run by local authorities for the down and out, according to the London Tourist Board.

Of course Londoners like the 1.9 billion pounds that the Tourist Board expects this year's visitors to have spent here. With the British pound at $1.75 that works out at around $3.3 billion.

Last year's 7.6 million foreign visitors spent the equivalent of about $2.2 billion in London.

The boom has made tourism Britain's fastest-growing currency earner, fourth largest employer of labor and fifth most important industry for the nation's balance of payments.

But that does not stop the natives from complaining about the overcrowding.

The Times of London wrote of "the irritation increasingly being caused to the native population by the ubiquitous tourist."

Sir Malby Crofton, a member of the Greater London Council, urged a tax to deter so many tourists coming to London.

Father 'Comforts' Son's Lover With Dinner

DEAR ABBY: Ralph and I got a call at 5 a.m. from Vera, the 30-year-old woman our 19-year-old son is living with. We had never met Vera, but we threw Junior out of our house because he was over her place all the time, anyway.

Vera was frantic because Junior hadn't been "home" for two nights. Imagine the gall! Ralph said Vera was hysterical, so he thought he should get dressed, go to her place and calm her down. Meanwhile, I went back to sleep.

Well, Ralph was gone for 18 hours and I was half-crazy worrying about him. When he came home, I noticed he had worn his best suit and shoes.

He told me he had taken Vera to dinner, and Junior never did show up.

What do you call a man who leaves his wife's bed to pacify a woman he's never met because his son didn't come "home" to her? His excuse was that he wanted to see the environment his son was living in.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: How about a "C.P.E." (Concerned Pacifying Environmentalist)?

DEAR ABBY: When a friend has taken his own life, out of kindness and consideration for the family, should the whole thing be ignored as though it had never happened? I mean, should there be no flowers, letters of condolence, or mention of it at all?

Some I have spoken to about this seem to feel that this is the best way to handle suicide deaths. What is your opinion?

ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: When a dear one dies, his family suffers a loss, whether he has taken his own life or not. Friends should express their sorrow and offer words of comfort to the family without reference to the circumstances.

DEAR ABBY: When some poor, ignorant, unimaginative dolt points to the work of a serious modern artist and asks, "What is THAT supposed to be?" how should the artist respond?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: The artist tells the dolt what he had in mind when he put the brush to the canvas. (If he can remember, that is.)

DEAR ABBY: You often print letters from telephone operators complaining about what they have to put up with from the public. As a member of the "public," may I get in my 2 cents' worth?

I have never called directory assistance to find out whether I should use 10 large eggs instead of 12 small ones in an angel food cake, how to spell "conscientious objector," what Pat Nixon's real first name is, or the answer to any other such questions.

When I call MR. Jones person-to-person at home, and his wife answers saying he is not in, the operator inevitably asks, "Would you like to speak to MRS. Jones?"

Why on earth would I be calling MR. Jones if I wanted to speak to his wife? And with Mrs. Jones right on the line listening, what am I supposed to say, "No, I don't want to talk to her?" So I end up not speaking to the person I called, and paying person-to-person rates for it.

I realize that not all operators are alike, but customers aren't, either.

Hospital has new service

Parents who have their baby at Malone-Hogan Hospital now can have pictures taken of their newborn while they are still in the hospital.

This service is operated by hospital volunteers in cooperation with nursing service who take pictures in the nursery, under completely sanitary conditions.

Parents who wish to have their baby photographed are given a card to sign, indicating authorization for the pictures to be sent to their home about two weeks after leaving the hospital. They have the option to take as little as two units, or the complete package, if they so desire.

The package includes five units: (1) seven wallet-size photos with birth announcement cards and envelopes; (2) one 5 by 7 for parents; (3) two photos for grandparents in standup frames; (4) twelve miniature photos with thank-you notes and envelopes; and (5) a photo key chain and photo charm bracelet.

They may purchase an 8 by 10 for an additional $5 if they buy all five units, or for $8 with any other purchase.

All photos are in full color, and are shot with a professional camera, installed by the photo company in the nursery especially for positioned photography.

First Foto, a Kansas City-based service, provides the equipment and developing service for the hospital. No pictures are taken without the signed permission of the parent.

All five units may be purchased for $23, including the 8 by 10, or parents may purchase as little as two units for $9.

Council hears of convention

A report from the state convention in September highlighted the regular session of the Home Demonstration Council Monday.

Delegates to the state meeting who reported to the council were Mrs. R.D. Soles, Mrs. Waymon Etchison, Mrs. Bob Wren, Mrs. Francis Zant and Home Demonstration Agent Janet Rogers.

At the meeting, hosted by the Airport Club, council committees brought program ideas for the coming year—many of which had been recommended at the state convention.

Mrs. Leroy Dolan presented safety recommendations, and Mrs. Etchison read citizenship, family life, cultural arts and recreation and health recommendations.

The council on finance offered a proposed budget for the year and outlined plans to meet these expenses. Deannie Riffe headed this committee.

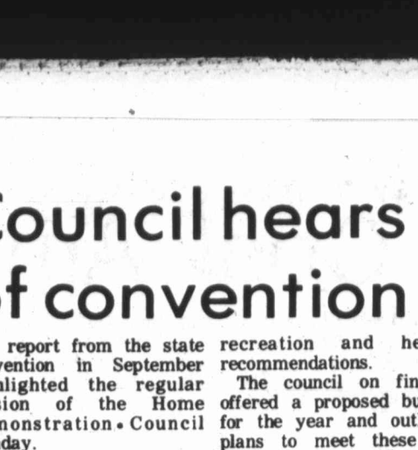

Mrs. B.A. Bunn gave the devotional.

In the home demonstration agent's report, it was noted that an all-day seminar on "Estate Planning" will be Oct. 25 at a place to be announced.

The 4-H Award Banquet will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Big Spring High School Cafeteria.

Each club was asked to send its roll before Nov. 1, and award records are available to each club working toward a "Scarlet Rose" award to be given at spring district meeting.

with Marj Carpenter

Most folks nowadays think Sterling City is the only town that ever was strong in Sterling County. But there was a day when Cummings and Sterling City had a rip roaring battle to decide which would be the county seat.

Cummings was located right where Will Durham's home stands. That's on the edge of Sterling City as you head back on Highway 87 past the Y and start toward Big Spring.

In the backyard of the Durham's home, which they built in 1925 and which they have now occupied for over 50 years, is a water well which at one time was the Cummings Community well.

In 1891, it looked as though Cummings was the up and coming place around. R.B. Cummings had originally operated a saddle and harness shop at a place called Montvale. He had then moved his feed lot to what was later Cummings.

The new community had a North Concho News and the Concho Valley Saloon, operated by F.C. Sparkman. Swift and Reeves had a dry goods store and grocery and J.E. Armstrong ran a grocery store.

THE WILL DURHAM HOME
. . . where Cummings once stood

A.J. Kellis had a blacksmith shop and there was a barber shop owned by A.G. McGee. The prosperous little village had a meat market, a post office and school.

A fellow named W.L. Thurman operated the newspaper in the thriving community.

On April 10, 1891, Sterling County was officially broken away from Tom Green County and there was an election held to decide where the county seat would be.

The voting places included Pollick's Store at Cummings, the D.E. Holloway Ranch, L.M. Lenam Ranch, W.T. Lewis Ranch, J.H. Kellis Ranch, J.L. Latham's house in Sterling City, W.N. Hilers Ranch, Jackson Ranch and a place on Sterling Creek.

In the North Concho News, the editor claimed that Cummings had better drainage, a clearer land title and progressive items such as a mill and gin.

Cummings won the election with 98 votes for Cummings to 94 for Sterling City. The election was contested and turned out to have so many invalid votes that it was set to be held again.

Then the two newspapers really began a battle. They claimed, what sounds like environmentalists today — such things as who had the most mosquitoes and who had the deepest mud.

At one point, one of the two editors boldly called the other one a braying jackass.

Cummings backers held a barbecue. But when the second vote was counted it 116 for Sterling City and 103 for Cummings. There are still some Sterling County residents descended from early Cummings backers, who maintain, "Some folks voted twice. There wasn't that many people in the county."

And that was the day that Cummings died. Nearly everything moved on down the river to Sterling City and Cummings was no more.

But the well is still there and a few of the early trees, that are among the many beautiful trees in the Durham yard, remain out where I ride fence and there once was a town called Cummings.

Doug Henry takes over Gibson's

Doug Henry has officially begun his duties as manager of Gibson's Discount Store in Big spring.

Henry has worked for the store here for 14 years, beginning as a clerk, then department manager, store supervisor and assistant manager.

He replaces Al Stephens, who purchased the store in Seagoville.

Henry says, "The future of our city and Gibson's looks bright to me. The entire trade territory is getting ready to prosper. We are very pleased with our business and the way it is growing."

Henry was raised in Shamrock and joined the Army when he got out of high school in January 1943, serving in Europe in four major campaigns with the 34th Army. He returned to Big Spring and began work for an insurance firm where he worked eight years prior to going to work for Gibson's.

Renee Wash in Dallas

Renee Wash, daughter of Charles Wash, who was injured in a wreck last week near Hillsboro, was transferred this week to a Dallas Hospital.

She is in Truitt Hospital, 3500 Gason, Room 6219 Dallas, 75246. She is being kept there for observation and will then come to Big Spring for a convalescent period.

Hair removal ruling made

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Cosmetology Commission has the authority to regulate the use of a machine called a "depilatron" for hair removal, the attorney general ruled today.

The opinion went to Ron Resech, executive director of the commission.

He noted that the depilatron "is a device for the removal of hair by use of a pair of tweezers which carry an electric current."

The commission regulates removal of hair by means of tweezers or depilatories, and the ruling said, "Since the statute makes no distinction between mechanical and electric tweezers, the use of a depilatron machine is within the regulatory jurisdiction of the Texas Cosmetology Commission."

BSHS Band presents 'Circus Spectacular'

The Steer Band travels to Midland tonight to back the Steers in the Midland High game. The band has been working hard and has put together an exciting half-time show.

The band will take the field with the ever popular "Circus Spectacular," featuring soloists Alan Bristol and Larry Wheat. This will lead into an all-time favorite, "Send in the Clowns". Next the pace will quicken to "Black Saddle", featuring Scott Shortes, Joni Jones, and Mark Key. The climax will be reached as the band performs "Russian Sailor's Dance."

The flag corps, rifles and twirlers add to the color and excitement with their difficult routines and precision.

Bad timing by bandit

GUYMON, Okla. (AP) — Court officials said charges of attempted armed robbery were expected to be filed today against two suspects in connection with a trouble-plagued robbery attempt.

A regional police seminar was being held in this Oklahoma Panhandle town Thursday when a masked gunman entered the Parkview Pharmacy, police said.

Pharmacist Forrest Grider, who was working in the rear of the building, said he saw the man enter the drugstore. He called police before the gunman could stop him.

The gunman, apparently frustrated because the four store employes were scattered and couldn't be covered at once by his pistol, ran outside without demanding anything, Grider said.

Another pharmacy employe, Kim Harris, said she took down the license plate number of a car the gunman jumped into. The car was driven by another man, she said.

The law officers from Oklahoma and Texas who were in town for the regional police seminar then joined the search for the car.

HAPPINESS IS PARENTS YOU TRUST

Being a baby must be a frightening existence — that is, if viewed objectively with adult minds. New things are always happening to you . . . things too involved to understand . . . people are so big . . . and there are such strange sounds.

Yet the experts tell us that the natural frights of babyhood dissolve as the child realizes he is loved. Every new experience takes on happy dimensions because he has such complete trust in those who love him.

Discovering God's love for all His children is what the Christian religion is about. Men's fears and tensions give way to the realization that the Creator is someone we can trust.

This Jesus stresses when He teaches His followers to pray to the Almighty with the same confidence loving parents inspire in their child . . . OUR FATHER!

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF TALKING PICTURES — Former movie greats Ruby Keeler and William Demarest attend a celebration in Los Angeles Thursday marking the first 50 years of talkind pictures. Ceremonies were held at the old Warner Brothers Studio site on Sunset Blvd. where the first talking picture, "The Jazz Singer," was filmed. Miss Keeler was at one time married to the star of the film, Al Jolson. The United States Post Office commemorated the day with a special stamp issue.

50th anniversary of talking pictures

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifty years ago, Al Jolson muttered into a microphone, "You ain't heard nothin' yet!" and started a movie revolution. So the half-century anniversary of talking movies seemed like a good reason to revive some old-time Hollywood hoopla.

Vintage stars paraded down Sunset Boulevard in 1920s cars. The postmaster general issued a commemorative stamp. And the birthplace of "talkies" — now Gene Autry's television station — was named Cultural Landmark No. 187 by the Los Angeles Cultural Heritage Board.

It's hard for today's generation to realize that movies were born speechless. It wasn't until Oct. 6, 1927 that Warner Bros. premiered "The Jazz Singer," with Jolson speaking and singing the first synchronized words ever heard in a feature film.

Thursday's ceremonies began at Stage 6 of KTLA, where Warners filmed "The Jazz Singer." Ernest Borgnine introduced May McAvoy, William Demarest and Bobby Gordon of the film's cast.

Postmaster General Benjamin Bailar issued the stamp in honor of talking pictures and remarked that the film world has had five other stamps — for Will Rogers, George Eastman, Walt Disney, D.W. Griffith and the movies' 50th anniversary in 1944.

Earlier, Miss McAvoy, who started film acting in 1921 and starred in the silent "Ben-Hur," recalled what it was like to pioneer sound:

"It was all done on records, enormous platters made of wax. The cameras were noisy in those days so the studio had to build soundproof booths with glass windows imported from Germany for their clarity.

"The biggest problem was where to put the microphones. They were placed under pillows and in flower pots and we actors had to stay close to them so our dialogue could be heard.

"We had to make a lot of takes because of the problems and because it was Jolson's first picture and he was very broad in his gestures. We were all anxious to make a good picture, but frankly, I didn't think talkies would last."

Pretrial hearing set

COLORADO CITY — A pre-trial hearing was scheduled this morning in Judge Weldon Kirk's court for Benny del Real, charged with sale of heroin.

The sale allegedly occurred in Mitchell County in February. The man was later arrested working on a construction site in Big Spring.

'Big Time' producer dies

SPRINGTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Fred F. Finklehoffe, producer of the plays "The Heiress" and "Big Time," co-author of the Broadway play "Brother Rat" and filmwriter of "The Egg and I", died Tuesday. He was 67.

Peasants flee to escape death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist Vietnamese and Cambodian troops, allies in the Indochina war, are now battling over ground American troops once fought for, U.S. intelligence sources say.

The recent battalion-sized engagements are sending peasants who have already lived through years of war fleeing once more for their lives.

The sources said fighting flared in Tay Ninh and Dalat provinces late last month when Cambodian troops attacked inside Vietnam.

The Vietnamese reportedly committed elements of several divisions, along with fighterbombers, in an apparent flareup of their long-simmering border dispute.

One source said there were heavy casualties.

Neither Cambodia nor Vietnam, Communist neighbors that have maintained outwardly friendly diplomatic relations, has publicly mentioned the fighting.

The two countries have been squabbling over their common border since shortly after the collapse of the South Vietnamese government in the spring of 1975.

Less than two months after North Vietnam completed its conquest of the South, Hanoi's forces reportedly grabbed several small islands that Cambodia also claimed in the Gulf of Thailand.

In that action, the Vietnamese were said to have used American-built light bombers and naval vessels captured from Saigon's defeated troops.

Although the long Indochina war has been over for more than two years, Hanoi still maintains its army at wartime strength, with most of its 24 or 25 divisions kept in the conquered South.

While a few have returned North, sources have said, most have been kept in the South for security reasons and to help in the economic reconstruction.

U.S. intelligence sources have received reports of persistent hit-and-run warfare waged against the victors by holdout South Vietnamese soldiers and other resisters.

U.S. analysts say it is only a matter of time before the Vietnamese army eliminates the bands, but these analysts believe the problem will be around for years to come.

Webb police get training

Sergeant Ed Kissinger, Big Spring Police Department's Crime Prevention Officer, presented an eight-hour National Crime Prevention Program to 26 Webb AFB Policemen. This group included 20 new Department of the Air Force Civilian Security Officers. The Crime Prevention Program concludes two weeks of intensive training in Law Enforcement for these men and women. Subjects taught by Security Police Academy personnel from Lackland AFB, Texas included: police investigation, patrol techniques, search and seizure, and traffic enforcement.

The additional Civilian Security Police officers will assume duties Monday, October 11. They will work along side their military counterparts and will perform the same duties as the Military Police officers. Both Civiilan and Military Security Police officers will be on the job at Webb until the City of Big Spring assumes responsibility for Webb.

Vet clubs to meet

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, American Legion and World War I Barracks who are on the Veterans Planning council will meet at 7 p.m. today.

The meeting will be held at the VFW post. Plans are to be made for Armistice Day programs. All council members are urged to attend.

TOUGH YARDAGE — Steer quarterback Ricky Myers hands off to fullback Robbie Wegner on a short yardage play against the Abilene Eagles last week, in a 30-14 upending of the locals. Tonight, the Bovines travel to Midland to fight the brawny Midland Bulldogs in what should be a much closer contest.

'The Battle of Big D' is approaching

By the Associated Press

Every time Texas plays Oklahoma, it seems that both teams are undefeated, ranked high in the national poll and ready to tear each other's throats out.

The "Battle of Big D" will be no different this Saturday, when the Longhorns meet the second-ranked Sooners in a showdown of college football superpowers.

"They have more talent than they've ever had," says Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, talking about the fifth-ranked Longhorns. "They have a bigplay offense. They have more speed than any Texas team — or for that matter — any team we've played."

Despite a high-powered Texas offense that has produced the biggest point production in the country, Oklahoma is a threepoint favorite in the traditional game at Dallas. But obviously the Sooners will have to corral that blazing Longhorn speed if they hope to wear the bronze Cowboy Hat trophy that annually goes to the winner.

This is the 20th time in the distinguished series stretching back to 1900 that both teams have gone into the game unbeaten. The Longhorns spoiled the Sooners' undefeated season 17 times in the past, while Oklahoma has turned the trick on Texas seven times.

Texas Coach Darrel Royal retired last season after posting a 12-7-1 record against the Sooners. Now, as athletic director at Texas, he'll be watching Saturday's game from the press box instead of worrying on the field. In Royal's place will be Fred Akers, an old temmate of Switzer's at Arkansas.

Switzer has helped improve Oklahoma's record against Texas with three victories and last year's 6-6 tie. The series now stands at 42-26-3 in the Longhorns' favor.

In another big game involving two of the nation's Top Ten teams, top-ranked Southern Cal entertains No. 7 Alabama in the Los Angeles Coliseum and neither coach knows what to expect.

"One of the problems of a young team like ours is you can be great one week and lousy the next," said Southern Cal Coach John Robinson, whose team is 4-0 this season and has won its last 15 games.

"Maybe we can do it, maybe we can't do it and maybe even we'll be terrible," says Alabama's Bear Bryant. "But I'm glad we're going to play them."

Alabama, a 31-24 loser to Nebraska three weeks ago, brings a 3-1 record into the nationallytelevised game.

Michigan, the nation's No. 3 team, plays a traditional game with Michigan State, although the fierce rivalry has been more competitive in past years.

Purdue Coach Jim Young says he will live or die with the pass when his team meets No. 4 Ohio State.

"You have to go with your strength," says Young, meeting his old college tutor, Woody Hayes, for the first time.

Young was a defensive back on Hayes' first national championship team at Ohio State in 1954.

In other games involving Top Ten teams, Oklahoma State will play No. 6 Colorado; No. 9 Nebraska meets Kansas State and Utah State visits No. 10 Penn State.

Elsewhere, it's No. 13 Brigham Young at Oregon State; No. 14 California at Washington; No. 15 Pitt at No. 20 Florida; Mississippi State at No. 16 Kentucky; No. 17 Texas Tech at Arizona; No. 18 LSU at Vanderbilt and Illinois at No. 19 Wisconsin.

Forsan ready!

FORSAN — The Buffaloes are fired up and ready to open their district with the Jayton Jaybirds in Forsan tonight in the conference opener for both squads.

Both teams are four and one. The Buffaloes have defeated Bronte, Sands, Dawson County, and Borden County and lost by one point to Robert Lee, an A school.

On defense, Ernie Morgan replaces Gressett as linebacker and the other youths go both ways.

Coach George White said this morning, simply, "We're ready."

SECTION B SECTION B

Yanks win 'hafta,' but worried

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees, led by their stopper and their starter, won the game they had to win, evening their American League playoff series with the Kansas City Royals at one victory apiece.

The stopper was Ron Guidry, who overpowered the Royals with a tidy three-hitter. The starter was Cliff Johnson, who ignited the Yankees' dormant bats with a home run and a run-scoring double.

The efforts of the slender Guidry and the massive Johnson propelled the Yankees to a 6-2 triumph Thursday night and turned the best-of-five AL pennant series into a two-out-ofthree affair.

The first of those three games at Kansas City's Royals Stadium is tonight, with righthander Dennis Leonard, Kansas City's 20-game winner, against Mike Torrez, 17-13 this season.

Guidry, the ragin' Cajun from Carencro, La., almost didn't make the Yankees in spring training, only going north with the team because New York didn't have any other left-handed relievers. At one point in spring training, Yankee manager Billy Martin joked to the 27-year-old: "If there's anybody in the American League you can get out, tell me and I'll let you pitch to him."

Once the season started and Guidry was forced into the starting rotation, the lanky lefthander was getting everybody in the AL out.

Guidry, 16-7 this year and a winner of 11 of his last 14 decisions, was coveted by the Royals, and two years ago he was all but on his way to Kansas City.

Kansas City Manager Whitey Herzog would have loved to have Guidry wearing Kansas City blue rather than the Yankee pinstripes Thursday night.

"He pitched a great ballgame. He had great stuff, a great breaking ball," said Herzog, whose club was limited to Frank White's single in the third, Freddie Patek's double in the sixth and George Brett's single in the ninth. "He's a really good pitcher."

Although the Royals never went after the 6-foot-4, 225-pound Johnson, they would have preferred if he played for somebody besides the Yankees.

Called "The Monster" by Martin, Johnson creates excitement at the plate, swinging from the heels on every pitch. The only thing that keeps his body from toppling over is the contact of bat and ball.

With the Yankees trailing 1-0 in the fifth, Johnson hit a towering pop behind home plate which catcher Darrell Porter misplayed, giving the Yankees designated hitter a second life.

Several pitches later, Johnson hit the ball in the opposite direction, more than 430 feet to straightaway center field. Not only did he have to battle one of starter Andy Hassler's fastballs, Johnson had to squint through tearing eyes that were irritated by the wind.

Johnson also laced a tie-breaking double in the sixth inning, prompting a standing ovation from the crowd.

THROUGH the fieldglasses

By Danny Reagan

Soothsaying and tidbitting

Last Friday in this space, Starbuck's favorite master got 11 of 14 right for a whopping .785 winning percentage. Did so well, thought I'd try it again this week.

First of all, tonight's contest in Mildand against the Bulldogs should be the best chance the Steers have of winning a District 5-4A game this season. The 'Dogs are big and tuff, but definitely beatable.

The Steers need to be mad, however, to win. That's why yours truly was the only one to pick against them in the Crystal Ball. I know that's not much incentive — proving me wrong — but every little bit helps. Here's hoping that the ol' Reagan Reverse Curse works again . . . Midland 14, BIG SPRING 7. (Would definitely like to lose that prediction.)

STANTON 36, Anson 13. The Buffs will be going into the contest as healthy as they've been since the beginning of the season. After this, they have an open date and a two-week wait for Seagraves. They'll want to win big to keep the momentum going.

The Wolfpack finally got on the boards last week, and they had to like it. With the tough pre-district games out of the way, the Pack can concentrate on business at hand—going into the Coahoma contest down the road undefeated, so they can challenge the Dogs for the district cap. But it's Wylie on tap tonight . . . COLORADO CITY 31, Wylie 15.

Roy Winters' crew is ditto the above paragraph, only more so and with the names reversed. From Junkyard Dogs to leader of the Pack, Coahoma again has a chance to prove itself at home. Believe they've learned enough to handle themselves . . . COAHOMA 24, Crane 6.

Dangit! Sure would like to see Travis Mulanax and his boys win one. And believe they will do it next week against New Home. But tonight it's Wilson on the road and outnumbering. The Mustangs have been chipping away at those lopsided scores as each week goes on, and it'll be close tonight . . . Wilson 28, SANDS 6.

Many see tonight's game in Forsan as the one that will decide the eventual zone champ in 3-B. Nope, it'll be the Forsan-Garden City duel two weeks from now. But tonight, the Buffaloes of George White and company will do a number on the over-publicized and over-rated Jayton Jaybirds . . . FORSAN 30, Jayton 14.

And in other games tonight, quickly: Permian 45, Abilene 6 (Dang Eagles didn't show me anything last week); Cooper 21, Odessa 14 (No last minute heroics for the Ponies tonight folks); San Angelo 24, Midland Lee 20 (Bobcats are at home, 'nuff said); Snyder 27, Lamesa 15; Highland 54, Ira 38; Borden County 35, Dawson 27; Garden City 15, Roby 14 (This one will be a thriller!); and Loraine 13, Sterling City 0.

Closest guess last week: The Midland Lee at Odessa last-second pacemaker-popper. Final score was 13-7. Predicted score was 10-7.

* * *

The Steers finally found a place to eat after the Midland game tonight . . . The Blue Star Inn in Midland.

Reserve quarterback Billy Johnson walked into the Athletic Offices Thursday with his throwing arm in a sling. The a-c knob on the top of his shoulder has been hurting him. Johnson worked out yesterday though and will probably be capable of entering the game tonight if he's needed.

Gutsy Joey Vasquez is finally going to suit up for a game this year. After a string of bad luck with his knee and ankle, the talented defensive secondary player will be wearing the home colors for the first time since the Sweetwater scrimmage in August.

"Joey probably won't play," said Don Robbins, "but he wants to do what he can for the team. He's still limping, but he wants to play. He's a good kid, and he hasn't been just standing around while he was hurt."

By the way, Ricky Torres' knee is much better, and he will be in the lineup tonight.

* * *

The Howard College Hawks scrimmaged Odessa College Thursday afternoon in Hawk Gym, and the experience was a rewarding one, according to Hawk mentor Harold Wilder.

"I knew what the sophomores could do," said Wilder, "but I was really pleased with all the freshmen. They really played well.

"It was pretty productive. We found areas we were weak in and need to work on, and we saw where we were good. Everyone got to play," concluded the coach.

Even though scores were not kept, Odessa gave the Hawks a good tussle, and the scrimmage turned out as close as the Western Junior College Athletic Conference race will be this year (probably between the same two teams.)

* * *

Attention Tom Sorley followers: The ex-Big Spring quarterback currently leads the Nebraska Cornhuskers in passing percentage. His 19 of 37 for .514 and 243 yards nudges out Garcia's 15 of 33 for .455 and 267 markers.

Sorley also leads his team in most passes attempted (16 against WSU), most passes completed (9 against WSU) and most yards passing (159 against WSU).

Ref laid off

NEW YORK — The National Football League has suspended an official for two games because of a mechanical error he made in last Sunday's Buffalo-Baltimore contest.

The league office said that Gerry Hart, an umpire with the NFL for 10 years, was suspended for a goof that cost Buffalo the last six seconds to get off a final play. The Bills lost the game 17-14.

The suspension, following a complaint by the Bills and a review of video tapes and films, will cost Hart $1,050, or $525 a game.

Pro cigars up for grabs

By the Associated Press

Pity the poor Cleveland Browns. After surviving collisions with the Cincinnati Bengals and New England Patriots, they ran into the Pittsburgh Steelers. And now they're confronted by the Oakland Raiders.

Oh, well. A 2-2 record, after a murderous four weeks like that, is nothing to be ashamed of.

What we're saying, in other words, is that the Raiders will win.

We're also saying Baltimore will knock Miami from the National Football League's unbeaten ranks, that the New York Jets, Atlanta Falcons and Philadelphia Eagles will pull off mild upsets and that Joe Namath finally will win a Monday night game.

Last week's 10-4 mark put the season record at 28-14, .667. This week's picks:

Raiders 27, Browns 19

Calling Oakland a juggernaut is understating the case. The Raiders are capable of doing almost anything to anybody on a football field. The Browns have got to be just plain exhausted, mentally and physically.

Colts 28, Dolphins 14

Baltimore has looked strangely unimpressive thus far while Miami has built its record with victories over nobodies. Both teams will be high for this meeting, but the Colts have the manpower to get higher.

Jets 23, Bills 13

New York's young defense is beginning to put things together. The only thing the Bills have been able to put together is the league's longest current losing streak.

Falcons 20, 49ers 12

The 49ers have shown virtually nothing up to now. Atlanta will show them the same sound defense they showed the equally inept Giants, with the same results.

Eagles 1., Giants 10

All a team has to do to beat the Giants is rush the quarterback. Philadelphia will take the cue from Atlanta.

Rams 31, Bears 16

With the Jets, Namath was 0-7 under ABC's lights. He may not be as electrifying with Los Angeles as he was with New York, but at least he's a winner again. Chicago's going nowhere against the Battering Rams.

Bengals 24, Packers 10

Cincinnati, which thought it had a breather and got strangled last Sunday by San Diego, finally will get its act together. Green Bay can stop the other guys only for a while.

Steelers 27, Oilers 6

Playing the Steelers is like walking down a d rk street with $20 bills hanging out of your pockets. It's an invitation to a mugging. The Oilers will RSVP.

Vikings 26, Lions 14

Minnesota may never look back the rest of the season after this game — unless the Lions or Bears can put hot streaks and upsets on the board. And Detroit simply doesn't win the big ones.

Chargers 17, Saints 16

Or it could be the other way around. We happen to think the defense San Diego showed last Sunday is a touch more real than the offense New Orleans showed.

Cowboys 34, Cardinals 17

Before the season began, we'd have guessed this game would be a wild shoot-out. But it seems Dallas now has all the bullets.

Broncos 20, Chiefs 10

It's Denver's last time to live it up this season before the Broncos get busted by Oakland next Sunday.

Patriots 30, Seahawks 13

There's nothing like a so-so expansion team to make a sick contender well again ...

Redskins 23, Bucs 3

... and nothing like a crummy one to make a so-so team feel great.

Owls and Frogs ready to yawn

By the Associated Press

While fifth-ranked Texas tangles with second-ranked Oklahoma Saturday in the Cotton Bowl, there will be two Southwest Conference clashes that rank second to none on the competitive scale.

Winless Texas Christian is at Rice and the two teams produced a 26-23 thriller last year won by the Owls and their All-American quarterback Tommy Kramer.

And what about last year's Baylor-Southern Methodist encounter? Baylor beat the Mustangs 27-20 in a wild battle that produced over 600 yards of offense.

SMU again visits Baylor Stadium and offensive fireworks are expected.

"Baylor has a fine team with a great secondary," said SMU Coach Ron Meyer. "Our exhibition season is over and we are 2-2 and .500. We've solidified our personnel and our program. We feel good about our progress."

Meyer added "Baylor has the best 1-3 team in the country."

TCU Coach F.A. Dry visualizes a passing blitz in Houston when the Horned Frogs take on the Owls.

"Rice is a passing team and this will be different from what we've played the last two weeks," said Dry. "Arkansas and Southern California both rely heavily on the run. we'll really have to emphasize pass defense."

Against Arkansas, Dry played 23 freshmen.

"We are playing a lot of youngsters, but in every game they gain confidence in themselves," said Dry. "The more game experience they get, the more poise they will get."

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff said "SMU is a very good football team. They have skilled people and they are very enthusiastic, and they are playing good, solid teams."

In the only other game on the card, Texas Tech travels to Arizona where the Red Raiders hope to win while injured quarterback Rodney Allison is mending a small broken bone in his leg.

The oddsmakers rate Baylor a six-point favorite, Texas Tech a touchdown choice, Oklahoma a three-point favorite over Texas, and TCU a field goal nod over Rice.

Bears shuffle

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor Coach Grant Teaff has shuffled his defensive lineup for Saturday's Southwest Conference clash with Southern Methodist.

Teaff said Thursday that James Rowell, who started at nose guard last week against Houston, will start at defensive end Saturday, while freshman Joe Campbell will start at nose guard and Rick Rand will replace Allen Stone at the other defensive end.

"We've had some key injuries to our defense that forced us to make the changes," said Teaff.

Marsh leads match play

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Steady Graham Marsh of Australia threw a 5-underpar 68 at Hale Irwin and established a 3-up lead today after 18 holes of their semifinal in the $225,000 World Match Play golf championship.

Ray Floyd held a 1-up advantage over Severiano Ballesteros of Spain in the other match.

The 36-hole semifinals over the rain-soaked, 6,969-yard, par-73 "Burma Road" course at the Wentworth Golf Club were to be completed with another 18 holes after a lunch break.

Irwin, who has finished first, first and second in his last three appearances in this international classic, opened up bogey-bogey, lost both holes and never led against the 33-yearold Marsh, winner of the Heritage Classic this season, his first year on the American tour.

Little Steers meet Saturday

Good news for basketball fans this season. Steer Coach Tommy Collins has organized the "Little Steers Drill Team" for local kids in the first through sixth grades.

Approximately 100 youngsters showed up last Saturday for the initial session of basketball-handling drills, and more are expected this Saturday, when they meet again from 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. at the Steer Gym.

Separate groups of the "Little Dribblers" will perform at halftime at Steer and Hawk games, as well as other area high school games this season. All interested kids are urged to attend the session Saturday.

Pee Wees on tap Saturday

After three weeks of play in the Pee Wee Football League, the undefeated Cowboys of Leo Williams get a well deserved breather this weekend.

Fourth round games Saturday find the Eagles leading off the day's action against the Vikings at 1:30 p.m. Then at 3 p.m., the Packers tangle with the Dolphins. The 4:30 p.m. encounter between the resurgent Oilers and the Bulldogs wrap up things.

All Pee Wee League games are played on the football field behind Howard College, and the public is welcome to attend the Saturday triple-headed.

Pokes must face desperate St. Louis Cardinals

COWBOYS FACT SHEET

THIS WEEK — The Dallas Cowboys (3-0) visit the St. Louis Cardinals (1-2) on Sunday in an early showdown between National Football Conference Eastern Division centenders. Last Sunday, the Cowboys remained the only unbeaten NFC team with a 23-7 victory over Tampa Bay, while the Cardinals dropped a 24-14 decision at Washington. Dallas hasn't won in St. Louis since 1973, the teams having split their series each of the past three seasons.

LAST SUNDAY'S RESULTS — Dallas 23, Tampa Bay 7; Washington 24, St. Louis 14; Detroit 17, Philadelphia 13; Atlanta 17, N.Y. Giants 3.

THIS SUNDAY'S GAMES — Dallas at St. Louis; Washington at Tampa Bay; Philadelphia at N.Y. Giants.

KICKOFF — 3 p.m. (CDT) Sunday at Busch Stadium. Crowd: A sellout, capacity 51,392.

TELEVISION — Telecast nationally by CBS (Channel 4 in Dallas) with Vin Scully and Alex Hawkins.

RADIO — KRLD (1080 in Dallas), KFJZ (1270 in Fort Worth) and the 10-state Cowboys Radio Network with Verne Lundquist and Brad Sham.

SERIES STANDING — The Cowboys own a 16-13-1 lead in the series, which dates back to 1960. Over the past three seasons, however, each team has won three. Last year, St. Louis won in St. Louis, 21-17, and Dallas won in Dallas, 19-14. Only one of the past six games (St. Louis 31-17 in 1975) has been decided by more than six points.

THE COACHES — The Cowboys' victory over Tampa Bay last Sunday was the team's and Coach Tom Landry's 140th. Dallas and Landry have lost 93 and tied six since opening for business in 1960. There have been 11 straight winning seasons, 10 trips to the playoffs, three Super Bowls and one World Championship.

Don Coryell is in his fifth season at St. Louis, and owns a career record of 36-22-1. The Cardinals have won 10 or more games in each of the past three seasons.

HOW IT SHAPES UP — Coach Landry said the Cowboys came out of the victory over Tampa Bay without any serious injuries. He added that starting left guard Herbert Scott, who missed the game with a pulled hamstring muscle and was replaced by Burton Lawless, should be back in the lineup against St. Louis.

Game balls went to Robert Newhouse (offense), Thomas Henderson (defense) and Benny Barnes (special teams).

In discussing the Cardinals, Landry said:

"St. Louis is playing better defense than last year. Otherwise, I see very little difference. Their offense hasn't really gotten untracked, but the weapons are still there. They're going to explode sooner or later.

"We've had some great football games with St. Louis, and I would say this one will probably be the same type."

Asked if the St. Louis game and the one at home the following week against second-place Washington were critical to the Cowboys' season, Landry replied:

"I don't know how critical they are. The season is young yet, and we just want to play well. We're improving each week. I see a lot of things going better.

"But, championships are won in the second half of the season. As long as we're in striking distance after seven games, I'll be satisfied."

The coach turned humorist a couple of times during his weekly press luncheon.

Would he settle for a split of the St. Louis-Washington games?

"If the alternative is losing both of 'em."

How did he feel about the Cowboys wearing jerseys at St. Louis this week? (Dallas, which wears white at home and for the vast majority of its road games, has lost in blue jerseys three straight years at St. Louis.)

"I feel fine, because I don't have to wear 'em. Seriously, we don't worry about it.

"But if we lose, it'll be because of the blue jerseys. Remember that next week."

NEXT WEEK — The Cowboys host the Washington Redskins (2-1) in Texas Stadium on Sunday, Oct. 16, in another nationally televised game.

Runnels Red team beats Snyder Gold

The Runnels Red football unit kept to its winning ways Thursday afternoon by handing the visiting Snyder Gold team a 22-6 drubbing on Blankenship Field.

The Reds scored on the second play of their first possession, with Robert Floyd scampering 43 yards to paydirt with 5:49 remaining in the first stanza. Kip McLaughlin passed to Rusty Churchwell for the point after.

In the second period, Marcus Armandariz, on an end-around play, tossed a 40-yard scoring bomb to Wayne Coffey. That was with 1:10 left in the first half. The PAT failed.

The locals tallied their final points on a six-yard run by Tom Olague, with 2:03 remaining in the third quarter. That play capped a 31-yard, three-play drive. McLaughlin and Churchwell again combined for the two points.

Snyder scored its only TD in the fourth quarter on a 41-yard, eight-play drive.

The coaches had praise for offensive players Greg Franklin, Floyd, Bill Pollard, Coffey, Olague and McLaughlin, and defensive standouts Mike Burrough, Moe Rubio, Franklin, Olague, McLaughlin, Floyd and Armandariz.

Runnels Red plays Snyder Black on the road next Thursday, while Runnels White entertains Sweetwater.

Runnels VBers beat Andrews

The Runnels Red volleyball team was defeated by Andrews Thursday evening, 15-5, 14-16, 14-16, even though the locals showed "their best team effort of the season," according to coach Jane Upton.

Leading scorers were Kris Paul (15), Shanna Hohertz (10), Lisa Majers (7) and Dawn Estes (7). Jamie Phillips, Sissy Doss and Pam Caudill were also applauded for their efforts. Next game is against Snyder on the road Monday

Volleyballers beat Odessa

ODESSA — The Big Spring varsity volleyball team upped its season and district records to 18-4 and 5-1, respectively, Thursday night by defeating the Odessa squad 15-8, 9-15, 15-7.

Karen Tibbs (15), Casie Green (6) and Sherri Kelley (7) led the locals in scoring. "We started strong in the second game, with a 6-0 lead, but let down," said Coach Nancy Deason.

Permian defeated San Angelo Thursday to take sole possession of first place in the first half of the loop whiteball race. The locals can clinch second place Tuesday night at home against San Angelo with a win.

The JV's also beat Odessa Thursday, 15-7, 15-1. Brenda Beil and Debbie Wiggins with 10 points each, and Penny Ray with six, led the top scorers. The team, which sports an 11-1 and 6-0 showing, is getting stronger each week, and will be entered in the Seminole tournament this Saturday against Kermit at 10 a.m.

Mean Green faces test

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — North Texas State's Mean Green, winners of four straight games since an opening twopoint loss to Mississippi State, bump heads Saturday night with Southern Mississippi in a pivotal contest for both teams.

Southern's Golden Eagles, whose season already has been spiced with upset victories over Mississippi and Auburn, ran headlong into a powerful Cincinnati squad last week and saw their record drop to 3-2. A victory over NTSU would restore the team's confidence and give the Eagles the inside track toward a winning season.

A North Texas triumph, on the other hand, would propel the Mean Green on its way toward what could be an outstanding season. A look at the NTSU schedule indicates the Mean Green could close strongly and possibly vye for national rankings, but the players know a loss Saturday night would all but ruin such hopes.

Both teams feature a top-notch rusher — Southern's Ben Garry has gained 425 yards while NTSU's Mike Jones has 554, including seven touchdowns and a sparkling six yards-percarry average.

But North Texas possesses a more potent aerial attack than the Eagles. Quarterback Ken Washington and backup Ken Smith have teamed for 51 completions on 89 tosses for 661 yards, almost twice as much as Southern's 335 yards in the air.

TUMBLING DOWN — In last Saturday's game between the Oilers and Cowboys, Oilers Erik Sherman is tackled hard by a crowd of white-shirted Cowboys. Upended Sherman fumbled the football. The Cowboys went on to win the game. This Saturday, a full slate of Pee Wee games is on tap at the field behind Howard College.

Cosell and guv in duel

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A comment on a National Football League player has escalated into a cross-country verbal duel between New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thomson and ABC sportscaster Howard Cosell.

The fight started before an audience of millions watching "Monday Night Football" this week, when Cosell commented on a "superb play" by Kansas City linebacker Dave Rozumek, who played for the University of New Hampshire Wildcats. In doing so, Cosell allegedly implied New Hampshire is "nowhere."

In minutes Thomson had launched an assault on what he called Cosell's "derogatory affront to the colleges, football teams and citizens of New Hampshire."

With the help of Western Union, Thomson quickly presented Cosell with a report on how good the Wildcats were when Rozumek was their captain, and just how good they are now.

"The Wildcats are second in the nation in NCAA Division II and first in the East in the Lambert Cup standings," Thomson lectured.

In addition to the numerous facts offered by the governor, Thomson suggested Cosell "spend less time in his dictionary and more time analyzing NCAA Division II results."

When Cosell was questioned about the telegram on ABC's "Good Morning America" show Wednesday, he said, "The governor forsook his dignity ... and he needs a sense of humor."

Cosell said that when he commented Rozumek came from nowhere, he meant the linebacker "is one of very few players who have come from New Hampshire and gone into the National Football League."

But the network star wouldn't let it drop there.

Referring to Thomson's hoisting of the Taiwanese flag to protest the exclusion of the Asian island's team from the 1976 Olympics in Montreal, Cosell said, "I would think the governor of New Hampshire ... would have learned to stay out of sports and stick to affairs of state."

Thomson fired off another telegram. "I'm disappointed that you can't be a good sportsman as well as a good sportscaster," he said.

"Remember," Thomson warned, "smart alecs in broadcasting, as in politics, can come up a cropper (failure)."

Officials meet here Wednesday

A meeting of the local chapter of Southwest Basketball Officials Association will be held Wednesday, Oct. 12, at the Western Sizzler at 6:30 p.m.

Tom Adams announced today that old members, new members and "want-to-be" members are urged to attend. All area coaches are invited to be present, as new rules will be discussed.

LOCAL WINNERS — Peter Porras, Freddy Martinez and Michael Hernandez, winners in the local Hot Shot Contest, receive medals and patches from Contest Director Guy Griffith. The national contest is sponsored by the National Basketball Association and the Pepsi Company. These three winners will journey to San Antonio this weekend to compete in an area playoff.'

Cleveland highlights NFL

By the Associated Press

It's not tough enough that the Cleveland Browns had to face Cincinnati, New England and Pittsburgh in their first three games this season. Now, having come out of that grinder with a surprising 2-1 mark, they face no less than the Super Bowl champions, the Oakland Raiders.

"I know this sounds like an echo," Cleveland Coach Forrest Gregg said, "but these guys are another football team without an apparent weakness. That's just what the other three were.

"We watched them play Monday night (when Oakland beat Kansas City 37-28), but that hurts our preparation a bit because we didn't get the films for a day or two after that. Of course, it also poses some problems for them."

Oakland Coach John Madden agreed. "If you play the Monday night game on the road, you should play the next week at home. This is the second straight year we've played a Monday night game away from home and been on the road the next Sunday, too. That gives us one day less preparation time and means we still have to spend the traveling time."

Also on Sunday's National Football League schedule are Pittsburgh at Houston, Detroit at Minnesota, Atlanta at San Francisco, Miami at Baltimore, the New York Jets at Buffalo, Philadelphia at the New York Giants, Seattle at New England, Washington at Tampa Bay, Cincinnati vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Dallas at St. Louis, San Diego at New Orleans and Kansas City at Denver. On Monday night, it's Los Angeles at Chicago.

It is the Oilers' turn to face Pittsburgh's defensive wall. They're trying to penetrate it with a collection of youngsterss, 17 first-year players, the most of any NFL team.

"When you decide to go with youth, you've got to suffer," says Houston assistant coach Ken Shipp. "I think this is the way to go. They've already gone the other way," trying to win with veterans.

Says Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll: "Houston is very similar to our team. They're very aggressive and physical football and they like to go out and play basic football. The team that wins the battle of hitting will win this game."

As usual, Minnesota and Detroit are fighting for first place in the National Conference's Central Division. The Vikings have won eight of the last nine NFC Central crowns. Until last year, when they slipped to third, the Lions had finished second seven straight times.

San Francisco has finished second to Los Angeles in the NFC West three straight years, and the 49ers' 8-6 record last year had fans hoping for a title this time. But they're winless so far this year, while Atlanta, 4-10 the past two years, is a surprising 2-1.

Stanton hosts tuff Anson

By TERRY NEILL

STANTON — Stanton's Buffaloes rolled for almost 500 yards in total offense against a game, but outnamed New Home team last Friday night. This evening in Buffalo Stadium the "Big Red" squad will face perhaps its biggest challenge yet, the Anson Tigers.

Anson started the season on a strong note, defeating Hamlin and Haskell, but have dropped outings to Stamford and Clyde. "Don't let their record fool you, they have a fine football team. They are extremely large and have good backs," Coach David Thompson, Buffalo head man said Wednesday.

The Buffs racked up a lot of yardage between the goal lines last Friday, but had too many turnovers and mistakes to score more than 21 points against the Leopards. Last year Stanton bopped the NH team 77-6, and some of the Buffs may have had a hard time getting up for the homecoming tilt last week.

"We were pleased with our defense and our offense moved the ball well, but we just had too many turnovers," Thompson injected.

The "Big Red" team should not have any trouble getting ready for Anson, which will probably field the best football team the Buffs have seen this year. Stanton is open next week and then entertains Seagraves in what could be the District 5-A title showdown game in Buffalo Stadium.

"Outstanding defensive players against New Home were Larry Carroll, Mike Swinson, Bob Jones, Mitch Elmore, Craig Graves and Ben Bowlin. Offensively the entire line blocked well and Richard Perez and Jones ran well.

Perez, only a sophomore, picked up 144 yards rushing on 24 carries. This week high school All American tailback Marvin Jones will be back in action for Stanton, as well as quarterback Todd Smith and end Collerson Huffman.

"Marvin got the okay from his doctor to play Tuesday, and he looked real good in practice. He will be 100 per cent. Todd and Oscar Perez both have their hands out of the casts and Smith will play some Friday night, probably seeing spot duty at quarterback and tailback. We don't know about Perez," Thompson said.

Stanton's offense will apparently be back to full strength for the first time this season and the Buffs will probably need every weapon they can muster against a good Anson defense.

"Anson has two of the best linebackers around, Levens and Gilbert, who both weigh over 180. They play 5-2 on defense and are extremely physical," Thompson opinioned.

The Tigers rely on a veer offense and have two capable backs in Guffy and Owens. Guffy is a good-sized athlete, while Owens is small and quick, the scouting report shows.

"We would like to encourage our fans to turn out and support our team. It should be a real good football game," Thompson concluded.

'Beat Texas' proclamation

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Gov. David Boren has proclaimed Saturday as "Beat Texas Day," referring to the University of Oklahoma's football contest with Texas University in Dallas.

Boren, issued the proclamation Thursday, saying said the Sooners "annually cross the Red River in order to expose Longhorn fans to an exhibition of football excellence..."

The governor will be joined by thousands of other Sooner football fans in traveling to Dallas Friday afternoon. A spokesman for his office said Boren will be accompanied to the Cotton Bowl game by Molly Shi, a special district court judge from Ada.

Judge Shi has frequently appeared in public with Boren in recent months.

Game won't be televised live in Dallas area

OU-Texas scalpers scoring big

DALLAS (AP) — The ticket scalpers of Texas and Oklahoma would like to take this moment to thank ABC-TV for not televising the annual Texas-OU classic.

With no live television in the Dallas area this year, the scalping business is booming for Saturday's game in the Cotton Bowl between the Sooners, ranked No. 2 in the nation, and the fifth-ranked Longhorns.

Expert scalpers, whose business was legalized by the Texas Legislature in 1975, predict desperate fans will pay as much as $200 for one of precious 72,000 seats to the perennially sold-out game.

"They're going higher than last year because there's no live TV," observed one man who said he'd been selling the tickets for several years. "There is a remote chance that some are going for $200 and the $150 range is for your choice seats.

"But I would say the average price for a ticket is from $75 to $90 or $100."

Tickets for the 72nd renewal of the bitter rivalry have been exhausted since June 6. The game has been sold out for the last 33 years.

There is no public sale of Texas-OU tickets — they are sold for the regular price of $12 only to lucky season ticket holders and students.

"Our season ticket holders have first crack at the Oklahoma game," said Greg Hager, director of events for the University of Texas athletic department. "We begin taking season ticket applications in early summer and normally we get more applications than we can fill. This year we returned about 1,500 applications, most of them for two or more tickets."

"This is the 33rd straight year the game has been sold out, and I can safely say next year's game will be sold out by June 1," added Hager. "This is one game we never have to worry about selling out."

Autumn in Dallas is usually marked by the classified ads either offering tickets for exorbitant prices or piteously begging to pay top dollar for them.

"I would say this year the tickets are as high as I've ever seen them," said Tom Smith, who has sold 17 of his 25 tickets since Monday, the highest going for "about $125."

"They're going from about $65-$85 in the end zone and $200 on the fifty," he added. "But I don't know of any who have bought the $200 tickets yet."

Jeweler Paul Morgan says he is desperate, but not $150 desperate.

"I've been trying to get two groups of four tickets together for my customers," he said. 'I've been offering to buy them for $75 a ticket, but so far no one has been willing to sell. Callers have asked anywhere from $100 to $150."

Meanwhile, State Fair spokesmen warned that's it's important to know your scalper.

Prisoner transfer comments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill told federal lawmakers today that it is not unconstitutional for Americans in Mexican prisons to give up their right to appeal in United States courts their convictions in Mexico.

Hill's comments were contained in a statement prepared for presentation to the House subcommittee on immigration citizenship and international law.

The attorney general urged the panel to approve the final Congressional step necessary to allow the transfer of about 600 Americans now in Mexican jails to prisons in the United States.

Arts, crafts show plan progressing

The first Arts and Crafts Festival will be held in Comanche Trail park in the area of the Dora Roberts Community Center on Oct. 22 and 23.

The steering committee, headed by Mel Prather and Mike Paul, finalized plans for the event at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

All entries dated by Saturday, Oct. 8 will be accepted, even if received later in the mail, according to Prather.

Two of the top exhibitors who will be here for the event include Walter Dick of Austin and George Boutwell of Austin, both of whom are listed in the blue book of Austin artists.

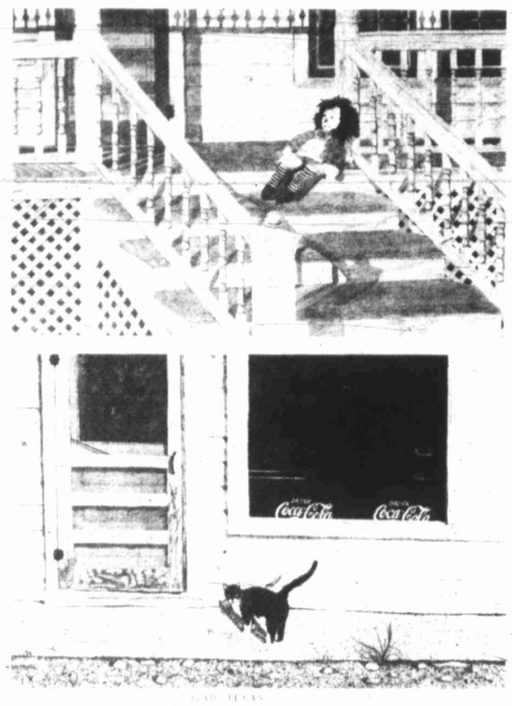

Thus far, some of the other exhibitors include Leslie D'Allesandro, Midland, art; Marie Gillean, Odessa, decoupage and tole; R.C. Utley, Big Spring, watercolors; LaRue DeViney, Big Spring, painting, wooden toys and other items; and Bess Wagner, Big Spring, oil paintings and pen and ink drawings.

Others include Bonnie Hale, Big Spring, paintings; Lue Wilson, Big Spring, metal craft, paintings and sketches; Pete Witte, Big Spring, handwork and paintings; Mary Woodruff, Big Spring, macrame tables, hangers, owls and other items; Star Shelton, Lamesa, handwoven items and wall plaques.

The list includes Pauline Long, Knott, paintings; Dalmar (M.K. Conway), Big Spring paintings, sketches and sculpture; and Mrs. E.D. Parker, Garden City, afghan, string art, macrame, painted plaster and shadow boxes.

Other exhibitors will be Opal Jones, Big Spring, paintings; Roberta Ross, Big Spring, paintings and crafts; Paul Warren, Big Spring; signs; Al Scott, Big Spring, paintings, framed and matted; Mrs. Glenna Hughes, Big Spring, ink etchings, oils and crafts; and Caroline Rekoff, Big Spring, needlecraft and arts and crafts.

There will be food and drinks served at the event by several different groups and organizations and it looks like Big Spring's first arts and crafts festival is well on its way to becoming one of the big ones in the area.

AUSTIN ARTIST — The two paintings shown above are by George Boutwell of Austin, who will be one of the top artists showing at the Arts and Crafts festival here Oct. 22 and 23. The one on top is called "Back Porch Annie" and the bottom one is called "Gail, Texas."

Jurors may not determine guilt based on voodoo or rolling dice

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A prosecutor told a prospective juror in the Jerry Joe Bird murder trial Wednesday that jurors may not determine guilt based on voodoo rites or gambling.

The moment of levity came from Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Neal.

You can't go in there and perform a voodoo rite...roll the bones," Neal told the woman. "And you can't go in there and throw the dice to decide if the man is guilty, as has been done in the past."

"Are you serious?" the woman asked.

"Yes ma'am," Neal said. "Cases have been decided like that in the past."

The exchange came after the third and fourth jurors were selcted in the third trial of the 38-year-old Bird.

He is accused in the 1974 slaying of Harlingen farmer and gun collector Victor Trammell.

Bird was convicted and sentenced once, but the verdict was thrown out on a technicality.

A second trial was aborted because of an irregularity in jury selection.

McBeath wins ABC promotion

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — W.S. "Sherman" McBeath, a 20-year employe of state liquor agencies, was promoted Thursday from acting administrator to administrator of the Texas Alcohlic Beverage Commission.

Chairman Tom Gordon of Abilene announced the appointment after a special commission meeting.

McBeath joined the TABC's predecessor, the Texas Liquor Control Board, as an inspector in 1957 and held four other jobs with the agency, including chief of enforcement, before he was made acting administrator in July 1976.

Newspaper tax bill introduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill designed to preserve family ownership of newspapers by making it easier to pay inheritance taxes was introduced Thursday by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.

The measure would authorize setting up trusts to finance future tax liabilities and also provide for extension of time to pay estate taxes.

"Almost two-thirds of the daily newspapers in the United States are owned by chains," Udall said in a statement. "One of the major reasons for the decline in the number of independent local newspapers is the devastating effect of estate taxes...

"More and more newspaper owners, in contemplation of the fact that their estates will not be able to both pay the estate taxes and maintain their newspapers, have opted to sell their newspapers in tax free exchanges for the stock of chains and other publicly traded corporations," Udall added.

The bill would allow owners of an independent local newspaper to establish an advance estate tax payment trust during their lifetimes. Up to 50 per cent of the newspaper's pretax income could be placed in such a trust, which would have to be invested in government obligations.

The funds could be used only to pay the estate taxes. If the owners sold the newspaper after establishing the trust, there would be a penalty of 118 per cent of the funds in the trust.
