Bond Issue Petitions Circulated

Petitions are being circulated today for both the proposed $850,000 bond issue for modernization of Highland General Hospital and the proposed $250,000 bond issue for expansion at Perry Lefors Airfield.

The law requires signatures of ten per cent of the county's qualified voters to sign the petition for the hospital improvements before county commissioners can call the bond election. Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. said approximately 1,100 signatures will be needed to initiate the election. Petitions must be property owners, the Judge said.

Commissioners have gone on record as saying they would be ready to call the election at a meeting Oct. 16. If the needed petitions are secured, Judge Lenning said the local bond elections would coincide with the Nov. 11 constitutional amendments to be voted on.

Petitions are not required by law to call an election on the proposed bond issue for improvements at Perry Lefors Airfield, but petitions are being circulated to gauge public reaction to the proposed $250,000 issue.

The petitions are being circulated by the Chamber of Commerce and several civic organizations.

Commissioners have gone on record as saying that no increase in the current property valuation would be necessary to support the bond elections.

Bank Robber Recaptured

TAHLEQUAH, Okla. (UPI)—Highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies today captured Gary Wendall Fryar, 27, who escaped from jail while awaiting trial on charges of robbing the Vian, Okla., State Bank of $2,400 last June.

Fryar and Calvin Freeman, 21, and Kerma Sue Walters, 34, and Fern Howell, 42, both of Oklahoma City, were arrested in their car in Cookson Hills Game Refuge.

Fryar and Freeman, charged with probation violation and transportation of a stolen car, escaped from the new federal jail in Muskogee Sept. 29.

Highway Patrolmen Loy Lee and Dean Neal got a telephone call that the Marble City, Okla., marshal had seen them.

The group had a .25 caliber automatic pistol in their car but offered no resistance. Fryar ran into the woods and Miss Howell fled to a ravine when officers approached but were quickly rounded up.

Amarillo Man Held for Rape

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—An intruder raped an 18-year-old girl in a mobile home Wednesday night and police charged Joe Christian Salazar, a 29-year-old ex-convict, with the crime. He was denied bond.

The girl said she was dozing on a couch in the living room, waiting for her roommate to come home, when the lights went out. A man came in, held a knife at her throat, forced her into the bedroom and raped her.

Physicians at a hospital confirmed she had been forcibly raped.

Salazar was convicted in 1960 of aggravated assault and given a seven-year sentence. While on parole in 1963, he was convicted of assault with intent to rape and returned to prison.

He was sentenced to Potter county jail for a year in 1966 for aggravated assault.

American Planes Stage Heaviest Raid of War

SAIGON (UPI)—American warplanes battled through swarms of Communist MIG jet interceptors today to bomb previously untouched fuel dumps, destroy a bridge and silence at least 20 anti-aircraft sites in one of the heaviest raids of the war on the vital North Vietnamese port of Haiphong.

A huge fireball bounced 200 feet into the sky from one of the oil depots, and thick black smoke curled up two miles.

The raids in the intensifying air war came on the heels of 134 missions Thursday that also included strikes in the heart of Haiphong as well as attacks for the third consecutive day against bridges and rail facilities near the Communist Chinese border.

Pilots said they clashed with the MIGs in a swirling four minute super-sonic dogfight. No American planes were reported damaged, but one of the MIGs was hit.

U.S. military headquarters announced, however, that an Air Force F105 Thunderchief was shot down by ground fire elsewhere to become the 690th plane lost over North Vietnam.

Cmdr. Richard A. Wingent, 38, of Hillsdale, Mich., flying a

U.S. Navy 44 Skyhawk, reported damaging one of the MIGs.

"I knocked some pieces off one of them," he said. "I could see something come tumbling off, him. I imagine it was a piece of metal."

"First, we saw one MIG," said Lt. Cmdr. James E. Gilreath, 32, Birmingham, Ala. "I shot at him and at his buddies who joined him. We haseled with them for a few minutes, then we headed for the coast and they headed north."

Navy pilots streaked in through heavy ground fire to knock off 20 anti-aircraft guns defending the city. A short time later, more raiders streaked in and hit the Vinh Son and Duc Nong oil dumps about six miles northwest of Haiphong which between them store 1,300 metric tons of oil.

The campaign to choke off war supplies apparently was having excellent results.

Informed sources said intelligence estimates indicate the flow of guns, ammunition and other battle supplies to Communist troops near the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and down the Ho Chi Minh trail into South Vietnam have been cut as much as 30 to 50 per cent.

U.S. Air Force B52 bombers flew two more raids early today against North Vietnamese positions in the DMZ, part of the continuing massive bombardment that has sent 35,000 Communist troops massed in theater staggering in retreat.

De Gaulle Seeks Support to Fight Communist Move

PARIS (UPI)—Facing new demonstrations by angry farmers and a censure motion from the Communists and leftists, the government of President Charles de Gaulle today turned to minority parties for support.

Premier Georges Pompidou met the chairman of the Modern Democracy Parliamentary (PDM) party, Jacques Duhamel, Thursday to try to enlist the PDM support in Tuesday's censure vote. The PDM was expected to announce how it will vote later today.

Duhamel said before the meeting that his group would support the government only if Pompidou promised to put recent social and economic decrees back before parliament for further discussion.

But the brevity of Thursday's meeting between Duhamel and Pompidou made observers believe the premier's answer was a flat "no." The government also was expected to appeal to the Center Progress party.

De Gaulle, displaying a typically unperturbed attitude toward the government faced, planned to take the day off today and visit the Paris International Automobile Show but even there he could expect to hear complaints about his policies.

Auto manufacturers have recently expressed complaints about foreign competition and they were expected to repeat their worries to de Gaulle today.

De Gaulle's current troubles began Monday when more than 100,000 French farmers rioted throughout France to protest the government's farm policies.

The farmers, who are demanding an immediate across-the-board price increase of 5 per cent for farm products and 10 per cent for meat products, called another strike for next Thursday.

Marine Captain Dies From Lack of Oxygen

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Marine Capt. Chifor C. Williams plunged to his death in a jet plane Thursday, the eighth U.S. astronaut to die violently. Oxygen has been a factor in half the deaths.

The 35-year-old Williams, known as "CC," radioed that he had an oxygen deficiency in his T38 trainer during a flight from Cape Kennedy to Brookley Air Force Base near Mobile, Ala.

He must have blacked out from a lack of oxygen," said an informed source who asked not to be identified. "The plane must have nosed over and hit the ground at almost full throttle."

The plane plummeted onto a plantation about 15 miles northeast of Tallahassee, gouging a crater in the center of a triangle of three tall pines. The fall was so straight, witnesses said, that the pines were unscathed.

Vertical Crash
The crash appeared to be a "near vertical collision with explosion on impact," said Maj. Joe Johnson, an Air Force investigator.

A team of investigators headed by astronaut Alan Shepard, America's first man in space and now second in command of the astronaut corps, was to inspect the wreckage today.

Williams, a native of Mobile, was a member of the Apollo 1 moon-noon program, but his exact mission was not clear because of the reshuffling following the "flash fire" that killed astronauts Virgil Grissom, Roger Chafee and Edward White in their spacecraft during a ground test at Cape Kennedy Jan. 27.

The Apollo 1 capsule was filled with pure oxygen and authorities said the astronauts were engulfed by flames before they could escape.

Williams, on a routine flight, apparently intended to visit his parents at Mobile before returning to the space center at Houston. His father, Clifton C. Williams Sr., is superintendent of the Mobile water works.

Radio Distress
A flight controller at Tallahassee said he heard a "mayday"—distress signal on the emergency frequency at 1:24 p.m. EDT. Later, he said, he heard the pilot say, "I'm ejecting."

B. R. Thompson, owner of a construction firm, and W. A. Hall were cutting wood on the G. W. Humphrey plantation when they saw the plane falling "straight down."

"It didn't even hit a tree (and crashed) right on top of a tall pine and clay hill," said Thompson. He and Hall rushed to the scene and stamped out a small grass fire.

Thompson said the plane was

Student Groups Demand Break With Red China

JAKARTA (UPI)—Angry Indonesian students who sack the Communist Chinese Embassy warned the government in ultimatum today to break relations with Red China will 96 hours or they will sack Chinese diplomats themselves.

A government spokesman said the students' demand was "quite reasonable" but such action was a matter to be considered by foreign ministry officials and parliament.

More than 400 anti-Communist students gathered in front of the foreign ministry shouting the demands. It was the latest development in the steady worsening relations between Peking and Indonesia.

The trouble stems from Communist-backed coup in 1948 that tried to overthrow the government and put in power regime subservient to Peking.

Right-wing army officers foiled the plot and in the days that followed thousands of Communist and Communist sympathizers were massacred in many areas of the country, number of high-ranking officers were arrested and many have gone before firing squads.

Even as the students demonstrated today, the official government news agency Antara reported one of the 19 65 coup leaders died before a firing squad singling the Communist "internationalist" at the top of his lung. The leader was Lt. Col. Untung, former head of the presidential palace guards.

Students are a powerful political force in Indonesia. Student agitation was a major factor in the downfall of President Sukarno and his replacement by a military junta headed by Gen. Suharto who has been named acting president.

Three Killed In Auto Crash

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—An automobile smashed into the rear of another car on the Texas 360 bridge over U.S. 80 Thursday, killing three persons and injuring two others.

The dead were Mrs. Eduarda Lea Lynch, 44, of 204 Gaston Ave. Dallas; Willie Nelson, 24, of 309 Southwest 15th St., Grand Prairie; and Lamon Harrison, 23, of St. John's Medallion Apartments, Grand Prairie.

Injured were Mrs. Lynch's husband, Edgar, 44, a retired Army lieutenant colonel and Charles Thursty, 22, of 1802 Highland, Arlington.

Space Varmint Accused Of 'Stripping' A Horse

ALAMOSA, Colo. (UPI)—Out in the West, where the culprit always goes "thataway," fingers are beginning to point to the skies.

Snippy, a 3-year-old Appaloosa, was done in, and a growing theory is that the varmint who did it was riding a flying saucer.

Sheriff Ben Phillips said he had received the report of the dead horse and a flying saucer. Phillips said he was told that all the flesh from the front legs of the horse to its head was "stripped clear to the bone."

The dead animal was found Sept. 9 in an open meadow on the Harry King Ranch, 20 miles northeast of Alamosa near 14,316-foot mount Blanca. A forestry aide also reported high radiation readings on the ground near the body of the horse.

Mrs. Berle Lewis of Alamosa, sister of the ranch owner, said she went to the scene to investigate herself and found a strange "blob" that oozed a light green paste. It was near the body.

In addition, she found a three-foot-tall chico bush that had been crushed to within three inches of the ground. "For a 10-foot radius around the bush, the sandy ground appeared to have been smoothed out," she said. "There were no tracks."

Her boots were later found to be radioactive and the palm of her hand began to turn red and had a burning sensation after she picked up a horse hair tuft, she said.

Phillips said he had received at least four or five reports of flying saucers over the area during the past year and one just prior to the death of the animal.

He agreed something from the sky might have killed the Appaloosa, but he said he wasn't buying the flying saucer theory. "I don't believe in flying saucers," Phillips said. "I believe the horse was killed by lightning."

The campaign to choke off war supplies apparently was having excellent results.

Informed sources said intelligence estimates indicate the flow of guns, ammunition and other battle supplies to Communist troops near the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and down the Ho Chi Minh trail into South Vietnam have been cut as much as 30 to 50 per cent.

DU PONT TO DECIDE

$Million Ransom Asked for Coins

MIAMI (UPI)—Millionaire Willis Harrington du Pont today offered to pay $200,000 in cash to ransom his $1 million Russian coin collection taken by five bandits who forced their way into his estate.

Du Pont said he has hired private detective William Stanton to act as a go-between in attempts to recover the coins.

The FBI, in charge of the investigation of the theft early Thursday, had no comment.

A sophisticated infrared warning system guarding Du Pont's $3 million estate on the Coconut Grove bayfront was not in operation when the robbery took place. Du Pont said the elaborate electronic burglar alarm had not been on for several weeks, but he refused to say why.

Coins a Bonus
The coin collection may have been an unexpected bonus for five hooded gunmen who invaded the 42-room Du Pont mansion early Thursday and made off with the largest haul in Miami history.

The wise-cracking bandits, held Du Pont, his beautiful Spanish wife, their son and two servants at gunpoint while spending two hours ransacking the showplace estate.

Another son, a year-old, slept through the robbery. While rounding up rare U.S. coins valued at about half a million dollars, jewelry and other valuables, the bandits ran across material describing the Russian collection.

Du Pont said he believes the bandits did not know about the collection and thought up the ransom scheme as they went about their looting. They told him he could have the coins back for $200,000 in cash, with the arrangements to be made through his lawyer.

The ransom set by the bandits, if paid, would be one of the largest ever collected.

Coins Priceless
Authorities say fencing several hundred priceless Russian coins and medals would be virtually impossible. Selling them back to the owner would be the only way the thieves could show a profit.

Friends said Du Pont had the warning system installed more out of fear of kidnapers than burglars. He and his wife, Miren, 29, have two sons, Victor, 4, and Lammot, 1. Police had few clues but a scrap of red material, believed to be off a mask, was left behind.

Du Pont said the intruders could have come in through an unlocked patio door.

The bandits, sometimes polite, sometimes gruff, chided Du Pont for not working for a living "like everybody else" as they loaded up his valuables.

On their way out, one dropped a $10,000 bill. They also forgot to take one of the suitcases filled with rare coins. They made their getaway in a red Cadillac owned by Du Pont. It was abandoned a few blocks from the mansion.

Writer Suggests Ideas For Appliance Buying

By AILEEN SNOODY NEA Consumer Affairs Specialist. Young couples buying their first refrigerator, freezer, range, automatic washer or other major appliance are lucky. There is a wide-open world of choice. The appliances are easier to operate and do more work for the user than models five years ago. Each new market introduction brings some improvement: As a result it also means confusion for the buyer who is inexperienced as an appliance shopper and as a user.

There are basic points to keep in mind when you want to buy a labor-saving appliance. Many of these are covered in Smart Shopper's Guide, a book written as an aid to cut through the confusing maze that faces today's consumer when shopping for the home.

Since an appliance takes a big bite from the family budget, you want to get one suited to your needs and ability to pay. You need to consider where you now live, the space you have for the unit and whether your family size will continue to grow in the next few years.

Appliance turnover is from 10 to 15 years, so it may not be wise to save a refrigerator or washer that a baby or two will make inadequate very soon.

Here are some questions to ask before you buy a specific appliance: Is the model unused but being sold at a reduced price because new models are being introduced? It's a good time to buy.

Can you make a high down payment and save on finance charges? Does the installment contract itemize all charges and describe the appliance?

Does the price include delivery, installation, warranty and service? What is the dealer's specific delivery agreement? Did you ask for a demonstration of the new appliance? This can save on service calls, especially with washers, dryers and garbage disposals.

If a secondhand appliance, is it "reconditioned," "reconstructed," or "rebuilt"? What repairs or parts were involved? Was it done by the dealer's serviceman or was it factory rebuilt? What are the guarantees?

By using a question approach to your buying needs, you will be surprised at how much you can sharpen your shopping. Just answering the question of what size you need opens a whole new world of what a manufacturer offers in a variety of models.

The second conference session opened with a panel speaking on "Social Forces in the Southwest and the Girl Scouts." Four forums of two sessions each followed the panel and explored aspects of leadership as they relate to Girl Scout programs, personnel, administration and membership.

Dr. Eva Schindler-Rainman, community organization consultant, Los Angeles, Calif., was the consultant working with forum leaders and summarized forum findings at the final luncheon.

POLLY'S POINTERS Cure Perspiring Hands With Scouting Trick

By POLLY CRAMER. DEAR POLLY — Winifred's problem of sweaty hands made me remember my Girl Scout days and how we used to dry our hands by swinging them in the air until dry. Then keep the hands open and moving and they will stay dry. When the problem is really severe, a cotton ball dipped in alcohol cuts oil and quickly evaporates. Keep up the good work, Polly. — SANDY, AN AVID READER

DEAR POLLY — The reader whose hands perspire excessively should try the occasional use of an antiperspirant in the palms of the hands. This should help, but do look for one that checks to be sure ALL windows erates moisture evaporation rather than one that closes the pores completely. Do not use if there is any break in the skin. — E.A.Q.

DEAR POLLY — I want to pass on some safety reminders: Keep your doors locked day and night. Never open a door to a stranger. When it is dark enough to turn on the lights, pull the shades and drapes all the way closed as even 1/4 inch of space encourages Peeping Toms.

On leaving home, always check to be sure all windows and doors are locked. Leave one or two small lights on. Never leave the key in the mailbox, under the door mat or over the door. You may think such places are safe, but that is not the case.

One cannot be too careful. —H.L.R. POLLY'S PROBLEM DEAR POLLY — I would like to paint our guitar but someone told me that would affect the sound. Is there any way we could do this at home without retuning the guitar? —KAYE DEAR POLLY — I have new upholstered furniture and small children so it is necessary to protect the furniture during the day. I have found that standard fitted crib sheets make good covers for most upholstered chairs. Slip one fitted end around the cushion and the other over the back. Tuck the slack down behind the cushion and it will stay neatly in place. I intend to dye mine the same colors as the chairs for an even neater appearance. At the same time I will dye extra squares to cover the arms. —POLLY

MRS. C. R. GIRLS — After pushing the extra part of the slip cover seat down between the back and seat follow with tightly rolled newspaper. Push it down out of sight and your cover will stay neat for a much longer time. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — After reading Elsie's letter about the nylon net tablecloths they used over sheets I want to pass on an idea of mine. Being chairman of the mother-daughter banquet at our church, I asked each of the ladies in our circle to bring a new colored sheet to be used as a tablecloth on a long table. Appropriate centerpieces were used and the dining room looked beautiful with the varicolored cloths. The ladies took their sheets home and added them to their linen supplies. —LORENDA

DEAR GIRLS — Some group trying this idea might like to ask each other to donate the cloth she bought to the church or club so there is a supply of rainbow-colored cloths always on hand. —POLLY

Dear Abby

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am desperate. After nearly 20 years of marriage my husband has asked me for a divorce. He says he needs a wife not a housekeeper.

Two years ago, in the middle of a heated argument, I told my husband that his love-making did nothing for me — that I had only been putting on an act.

Abby, it wasn't exactly the truth. I only said it to hurt him. I never realized that he would take it so to heart. He hasn't touched me or kissed me since that day and now he wants a divorce.

I would do anything to have my husband back the way he was. I have a fine home, wonderful children, a car of my own and I don't want a divorce. Please, please, tell me what to do.

SUNK DEAR SUNK: Unless you can convince your husband that what you said was not true, and you only tried to hurt him, I am afraid you are indeed sunk. There may not be much help for you in my reply, but it may serve to let others know that one seldom regrets unspoken words.

GOP Task Force on Crime Urges Ending of Debate

WASHINGTON, D.C. (S P)—Bob Price, a member of the house Republican Task Force on crime, this week introduced legislation which would amend its Electronic Surveillance Act to bring it within the framework outlined by the Supreme Court in the BERGER case, and recently supported by the Judicial Conference of the United States. The Task Force credited Notre Dame University Professor G. Robert Blakey with drafting the amendments.

Congressman Price and the COP crime group called upon the President to instruct the U.S. Attorney General "to withdraw his opposition" to use of court approved electronic surveillance in the investigation of organized crime by federal and state law enforcement officers.

Man and Wife Fatally Shot

ENID, Okla. (UPI)—A man and his estranged wife were shot to death late Thursday night and police said it was apparent murder and suicide.

The dead were Tommy McMahon and his wife, June. They were shot to death while sitting in an automobile parked outside a cafe service station on the north side of town.

Police said McMahon was dead on arrival at a hospital and his wife died five minutes later. Officers said McMahon picked up his wife at a house trailer and told a man who was with her the couple could talk out their differences and if they could not, he would kill her.

Raid

(Continued From Page 1) guerrillas blew up a bridge making Highway One, the vital north-south route used to supply Marine forward posts, impassable. The cut was about two miles from the big Marine base at Phu Bai, headquarters of the 3rd Marine Division.

Engineers rushed to the site to repair the damage as quickly as possible, but it was expected to take several days.

South of Da Nang, a carefully laid Viet Cong booby trap killed 18 civilians today and wounded 10 other persons including two U.S. Marines.

Double Trap
Shortly after dawn today, a Marine jeep hit a Viet Cong mine. The two Marines inside were wounded and the jeep was destroyed. A Vietnamese bus took a bypass around the burning wreckage.

But, a spokesman said, the bypass had been mined too. The second explosion destroyed the bus, killed 18 passengers and wounded eight.

(In Washington, the Pentagon followed up reports that American war casualties have climbed to 101,034, including 13,634 dead, by pointing out about half the wounded do not require hospital treatment, and of the ones that do, 80 per cent are returned to active duty.)

(The American deaths are still far short of those in the three-year Korean conflict in which 33,629 were killed in combat. About 6 million men served in Korea. There have been about 1 million American servicemen in Vietnam.)

AMARILLO MAN KILLED

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI)—Travis M. Bradley, 35, of (2423 Orange) Amarillo, Tex., was killed Thursday when a tractor-trailer truck loaded with plows plunged into the median strip of Interstate 44 near Springfield and overturned.

$50,000 Suit Filed in Death

D. C. Palmer and his wife Dorothy, residents of Pampa, have filed suit against I. W. Tinney of Pampa for $50,000, alleging that Tinney was responsible for the drowning death of their two and a-half year old daughter last Aug. 30.

The plaintiffs allege that Tinney, who was the owner and operator of an apartment complex at 800 N. Nelson St., was negligent in failing to keep the gate of a swimming pool enclosure shut and failed to have an attendant on duty at the pool when the gate was unlocked. This negligence was responsible for the death of their daughter, the plaintiffs allege.

The plaintiffs also have asked for $500 funeral costs for the child's burial.

Administration In Squeeze Play On Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is mounting a massive squeeze play on Congress, clamping down on politically popular spending projects to get the lawmakers to make the money-saving cuts they talk about and pass his tax increase.

The President laid down what amounted to a challenge Thursday during a hastily organized news conference in his White House office. He said that every day's delay on his proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge was costing the government $20 million in rising prices and interest rates.

The House Ways & Means Committee voted Monday to shelve the tax measure until Johnson and Congress could get together on cuts in federal spending.

But the Chief Executive said he could not "exercise an intelligent decision" on spending reductions until Congress decides where it wants him to trim appropriations. He said it was up to the Army Corps of Engineers.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, citing the "uncertain state of federal finances," first announced a freeze on contract awards for all new military construction, starting Monday.

ESTIMATED 1 1/2% MILLION IN PROJECTS APPROVED BY Congress last year and in prior budgets, but for which contracts have not been freed.

McNamara's freeze applies to construction of military housing, barracks and other installations located in scores of congressional districts — except those involving new weapons systems of directly affecting the Vietnam war.

Stall Future Appropriations
Depending on how long the freeze lasts, a $2 billion military construction appropriations bill for the current fiscal year that is still in Congress also may be affected.

Later, Army Secretary Stanley B. Resor halted "until further notice" all new contract awards in the $1.2 billion civil works program, familiarly known as Capitol Hill as the "porkbarrel" program, affecting nearly every state.

Johnson's refusal to budge from his previous stand on spending cuts left it up to Congress to launch the major economy drive. He promised full cooperation with appropriate Senate and House committees in their search.

House members have discovered, however, that saving money is easier to talk about than to accomplish. One major target beginning to emerge is the $17 billion earmarked by a dozen or more federal agencies for research for the current 12 months ending June 30.

Bird Dog Retrievec From Angry Pheasant

LAKENHEATH, England (UPI)—Kaiser Wilhelm, a supposedly fearless hunter, came home today chased into disgrace by an unpleasant pheasant.

But Kaiser doesn't mind the doghouse. He's an 18-month old pointer pup. And as far as he's concerned, hunting is for the birds.

The trouble began a couple of weeks ago when his master, Capt. John M. Bashaw, an intelligence officer at the U.S. Air Force Base here, took him to the fields.

It was a frolic for Kaiser, until a pheasant popped up out of a bush. Kaiser looked at the bird. The bird looked at him. And while Bashaw watched both of them, Kaiser beat a hasty retreat toward the nearest village with the pheasant hot in pursuit.

Bashaw, disgusted, finally gave up the hunt—for Kaiser and went home. The following day, he put up a notice at his air base. It said:

"Lost on first day of hunting season—one fearless hunting dog last seen being chased by a cock pheasant. Finder please shoot pheasant; save dog. My children love him."

Bashaw said today Kaiser was found in Brandon—five miles away—and was brought home to the kids. And there he'll stay.

"What you gonna do?" Bashaw said. "When he first saw that bird, he nearly went over backwards trying to get away."

Pastor — Bethel Assembly of God
PROPHECY FULFILLED

Two very significant Bible prophecies have been fulfilled only this past summer before our very eyes. The first one made by the Old Testament prophet Ezekiel concerning Israel. It is found in Ezekiel 36:11 "—and I will settle you after your old estates. —" Over 2500 years have passed since this statement was made. And those who did not live to see the return of the Jews to the Israeli state and were not Bible believers could not have been convinced that it would happen. Yet the short war in June between the Jews and Arabs brought about the fulfillment of this prophetic utterance.

The other passage is a statement made by Jesus himself in the gospel by Luke 21:24 "— and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled." The impetus of the fact that this fulfillment of scripture has happened in our day should stir every Christian to greater activity for Christ. Almost 1900 years have passed since the Jews lost their beloved city of Jerusalem but as of June 1967 when the Jews recovered the "Old Jerusalem" section of Jerusalem it has once again become their city. Jerusalem is now in the hands of the Jews.

Even more significant to Christians is the statement "until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled." Jesus spoke this in a series of other things which would characterize the end of the age and the return of the Lord Jesus Christ. Around the turn of the century the Jews began returning to what is now Israel. But it was not until 1948 that they were recognized as the Israeli nation. And now nineteen years later they have regained their "former estates" including all of Jerusalem. How soon will the prophetic utterances concerning Christ's return take place? We do not know but we should live, serve and witness with renewed intensity anticipating his return.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Putting People Out of Work

It is truly amazing the number of economic fallacies that abound in this country where compulsory "education" has been a way of life within the memory of most still living people.

As an example of the things people "know" that are not true is the belief entertained by a great number of individuals that businesses can compel their customers to pay almost any price for goods and services.

The fact is, that only when the government intervenes with dictated prices or other legislation giving one business or industry an advantage over others is this true. For in an open market, where the forces of competition are permitted free play of market activity which command a higher price than that established by the interplay of market activity which find the final analysis, means the freedom of people, the consuming public, to say either "yes" or "no."

And it is precisely this effective, ruthlessly fair, built-in regulator always present and active in a free market that the politically-motivated, vested interests do not trust. They fear and often rightly so that what they have to offer might not attract the price they would like to receive in a market controlled by consumers with the freedom to choose. Such people welcome government intervention — provided it acts to their advantage.

Such things we "know" that are not true thinking prevails to an even greater degree in the labor field. In fact, without this economic fallacy to blemish their dues-paying memberships, non-productive labor bosses would not be able to exist in unearned opulence.

The cry here, in the labor field is that "greedy" business and industry can "force" workers to labor at "slave" wages; therefore, so goes the labor boss refrain, wage legislation is required.

Such an argument glosses over an irrefutable fact of life. The human energy which a worker exchanges for wage or salary is a market commodity like everything else. The worker like the consuming public, also has the freedom in a free market to say either "yes" or "no."

Earlier this year, when the minimum wage was raised again by political edict, legislators and union spokesmen claimed the millions of workers would finally be "pulled upward into the American way of life."

For an examination of that claim, let's turn to the latest report, dated Sept. 25, of the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc. which has been doing an extensive survey of unemployment caused by the minimum wage laws which, by making it uneconomical to employ marginal and sub-marginal workers who cannot produce at a level commensurate with the dictated wage, are throwing men out of work in droves and, thus, onto the backs of still productive taxpayers.

The apparent ANNUAL rate of job loss by marginal and submarginal workers, states the federation report, "has now reached 687,360 due to the new wage-hour law, with a rate of attrition not yet showing any signs of leveling off."

So much for union boss and vested interest claims and arguments for the necessity for governmental intervention in the free market which can only function efficiently when free and uncoerced.

"INCITEMENT TO RIOT"

H. Rap Brown, fiery young leader of SNCC, has been indicted in Cambridge, Maryland for the "crime" of "incitement to riot." There are few of us who have sat down to analyze what exactly this "Crime" is supposed to be. Suppose that Mr. A tells Mr. B: "Go out and shoot the mayor." Suppose, then, that Mr. B, pondering this suggestion, decides it's a darn good idea and goes out and shoots the mayor. Now obviously, B is responsible for the shooting. But in what sense can A be held responsible? A did not do the shooting, and didn't take part, we will assume, in any of the planning or executing of the act itself. The very fact that he made the suggestion cannot really mean that A should be held responsible. For does not B have free will? Is he not a free agent? And if he is, then B and B alone is responsible for the shooting.

If we attribute any responsibility at all to A, we have fallen into the trap of determinism. We are then assuming that B has no will of his own, that he is then only a tool in some way manipulated by A. Now I dare say that most of the people who are anxious to prosecute Rap Brown for "incitement to riot" are religious people. But if they are religious, they must believe in the individual's freedom of Jewish and Christian religions. But if the will is free then no man is determined by another; then just because some body shouts "burn, baby, burn," no one hearing this advice is thereby compelled or determined to go and carry the suggestion out. Anybody who does carry out the advice is responsible for his own actions, and solely responsible. Therefore, the "inciter" cannot be held in any way responsible. In the nature of man and morality, there is no such crime as "incitement to riot," and therefore the very concept of such a "crime" should be stricken from the statute books.

Cracking down on "incitement to riot," then, is simply and purely cracking down on one's natural and crucial right to freedom of speech. Speech is not a crime. And hence the injustice, not only of the crime of incitement, but also of such other "Crimes" as "criminal sedition" (Sharp criticism of the government), or "conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government" — in other words planning somebody to exercise one's basic and natural right to freedom of speech and advocacy.

The direct vote plan was considered, much criticized and finally rejected by the Constitutional Convention of 1787. One of the delegates, George Mason of Virginia, said of his plan: "It has been proposed that the election would be made by the people themselves; that is that an act which ought to be performed by those who know best. Later a motion in the Convention that the President be elected by direct vote was rejected, seven states to three."

Under the Congressional District Plan, the qualifications of the nominees for the two electors representing the state and the elector from the district would be well known to the electorate. These electors would add to the prestige of the candidates of their respective parties.

After the election, the electors could constitute an unofficial committee influential in rendering important public services. Such a committee, with a wide range of activities open to it, would be a great force for good and a source of strength for the country's future. Full use would thus be made of the qualified men and women serving as presidential electors.

DELEGATES OF GREAT STATURE

Amending the U.S. Constitution to provide direct voting for President would dispense completely with presidential electors, thus destroying their tremendous potential as public servants. The present Electoral College needs to be reformed; under it, electors are only straw men. But under the Congressional District Plan of naming presidential electors, they would be chosen by people who know them best and they would be citizens of stature instead of nonentities.

The direct vote plan was considered, much criticized and finally rejected by the Constitutional Convention of 1787. One of the delegates, George Mason of Virginia, said of his plan: "It has been proposed that the election would be made by the people themselves; that is that an act which ought to be performed by those who know best. When Lawlessness Is Rewarded

(Chicago Tribune)

Members of the New York teachers union have voted, 6 to 1, to accept a new contract and to end the strike that has crippled the school system since Sept. 11. The new contract, described by the union president as "a fantastically good package," will add 135 million dollars to the teachers' wages in the next 26 months.

The most fantastic thing about this strike was not the wage benefits won by the union but the way the union won the benefits by defying the law. New York state has just put into effect a new law forbidding strikes by public employees and establishing machinery to settle disputes. A mediation panel composed of three distinguished law professors recommended wage increases which by any standards were generous. Nevertheless the teachers struck.

The school board obtained a court order banning the walk-out. When the union ignored this order three union officers were charged with criminal contempt of court. The judge hearing the case stalled his decision, and presumably the charges now will be dismissed.

This shoddy performance recalls how the New York transit workers paralyzed the city for 12 days until they got what they wanted, a package of benefits worth 60 million dollars. They, too, were striking in violation of a law and a judge had the courage to say that on this account the settlement was illegal. Eventually the state legislature passed a law exempting the transit workers from the law's penalties.

After this fiasco a new law, named the Taylor law after one George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania, was enacted and hailed as a model for all states. The teachers union has now shown that it is worthless, at least until the courts get up enough spunk to enforce it.

Soon the transit workers union will begin negotiations with New York City on a contract to replace the one that expires at the end of the year. The teachers union has shown that there is nothing to prevent the transit workers from holding the city for ransom.

More teachers strikes may be expected in other cities as a result of the success of lawlessness in New York. The teachers union is engaged in a competition for members with the National Education Association and an older organization, and is eager to prove that militance pays.

Well, it paid, all right, in New York. When teachers can prove that they can break the law with impunity, why be surprised if other groups of people riot, pillage, and shoot up the nation's cities?

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARREY

We frequently read of some child prodigy who can do wondrous things, but most of them are confined to their expertise in one thing, such as playing a musical instrument. Recently a short biography of John Stuart Mill, the English philosopher, came to our attention, and he is our nominee for the ultimate champ of child prodigies. He studied Greek at the age of 3, Latin at 7, and Algebra, geometry and calculus at 12. At that age he also commenced studying logic and at 13 was considered qualified to study political philosophy. Imagine trying to help with his homework. Many can't even fathom the new math.

Today's smilie: A Marine drill sergeant asked: "What is the first thing you do when you clear a rifle?" The "boot" replied: "Look at the number, sir." "What's that got to do with it?" demanded the D.I. The "boot" answered: "I just want to make sure I'm cleaning my own gun."

Perhaps some ornithologist will correct us, but we believe the Arctic tern has a longer migration than any other bird. It breeds in Arctic Circle close to the North Pole, yet it is found during the northern winter some 11,000 miles away on the Antarctic coast. We don't recommend it, girls, but in a recent article it was brought out that the women of ancient Babylon used a mixture of beer and olive oil as a shampoo. Makes us wonder why some U.S. toiletry or soap manufacturer hasn't put something like that on the market.

Thoughts while shaving: It is believed by many that chowders were invented by the wives of early New England fishermen, the dish is actually of French origin. Centuries ago fisher folk in Brittany frequently cooked in a common cauldron with each contributing something to the concoction. The name "chowd-ker" derives from the French word for cauldron, "chaudiere." Colonists in America learned to cook chowder from the early French settlers and it soon became a regular dish on New England tables. You can rent anything these days, even engineers. Many firms that have need for engineering or technical services for a single day or even a year have found it easier and cheaper to call an agency that specializes in renting brains. The only other way to get them would be the time-consuming and expensive method of advertising and then interviewing applicants. The engineering-rental agencies regularly advertise their "wares." It's just another of the newer businesses that have been created in recent years. Lawyers maintain that you cannot dispute facts, but many of them never read Mark Twain's observation on that subject. He wrote: "First get your facts; and then you can distort them at your leisure."

The idea of marching soldiers keeping in step was a Roman innovation in military matters. The drum, probably the oldest of musical instruments, was used by Roman armies to beat cadence. Roman generals believed much of their military success resulted from the fast foot marches and system of battlefield control of troops by cadence-marching. The Lowell (Mass.) Sun headlined a story: "Children Can Be Too Obedient." Not many of them are these days.

Country Editor speaking: "Any young parent will tell you his offspring never gets thirsty until he's sound asleep."

Sandies, Dons Look Like Winners

By RON CROSS

Last week's record wasn't perfect but 11-6 isn't bad and a season record of 29-17-2 isn't bad either. It isn't bad but is not good.

Several good games are on tap this week making the picks even harder but here we go for a perfect record.

PALO DURO 12, PAMPA 6—This could be the other way around. This should be the defensive battle of the night in District 3-4A. Pampa is improving.

BORGER 14, DUMAS 0—The Bulldogs came up with a defense good enough to halt for a while, the Lubbock Coronado express. Dumas is hurting.

LUBBOCK CORONADO 50, CAPROCK 0—The Mustangs can just about name their own score here. The second and third teams should get a little experience.

YSLETA BELAIR 20, LUBBOCK 14—The Westerners are improving every week and when four regulars get off the injured list will be hard to stop.

AMARILLO 21, TASCOSA 6—The Sandies look the best. Probably only Monterey has a chance to stop their bid for the crown. Tascosa can't do it.

MONTEREY 26, PLAINVIEW 12—The Plainsmen are getting better every week. Every club they've played has been unbeaten, except Plainview.

PERRYTON 16, PAN HAN 0—The Rangers can name their own scorer but coach Don Smith isn't one to run it up. His reserves will get a little experience tonight.

MIAMI 32, ESTELLINE 30—This comes from believing the Warriors are improving every week and not knowing how good Estelline is.

WHEELER 21, CANADIAN 0—The Wildcats may find out Class A teams are a little tougher than Class B. Dwayne Currie insists his boys aren't playing as good as they can. The Mustangs should be rated, with or without Fred Goad.

WHITE DEER 16, BOVINA 0—Something is lacking in the Buck scoring punch but the defense is still intact and getting better. Watch for the Bucks to jump a notch or two in the Class A rankings.

McLEAN 16, GROOM 8—The Tigers of Groom are still picking on those Class A teams. Good experience when conference play opens, two weeks hence.

PERRYTON B 22, LEFORS 10—The Pirates are stepping way out of class here, even playing a B team. But like Groom, its all good experience.

We missed two of our three upsets last week but we'll try to do better this week.

DALLAS 35, WASHINGTON 20—The Cowboys aren't all that bad and the Rams weren't all that good. Watch the running game run this week and Bobby Hayes work for a change.

TEXAS A&M 21, FLORIDA ST. 13—Don't laugh. Florida St. tied Alabama and when you do that and score 37 points against Bear Bryant you've got to be pretty good.

OKLAHOMA STATE 14, TEXAS 7—If the Cowboys can beat Arkansas, why not Texas? Everybody else has.

Shockers Waltz To 30-6 Victory

The Pampa Shockers should take a week off more often.

Coach El Lehnick's griders, beaten in their first three games, took last week off to bop up on mistakes they were making.

It helped. Thursday the Shockers rode the running of Larry Kotara, Denny Johnson, Ross Holman, John D. Young, Mike Heiskell, Wyatt Earp, and everybody that played, to a 30-6 victory over Lubbock B.

The Shockers were improved in every department, limiting Lubbock to 129 yards rushing and only nine first downs, two in the second half.

Holman, who didn't have his best day passing he hit only two of six and had two intercepted, hit Earp with a 46-yard pass the first time the Shockers got the ball. The run for the conversion try failed but with 10:11 still to go in the first quarter it was 6-0.

Just two minutes later, Young plunged over from the one yard stripe to as it 12-0. Six minutes later Holman went in from the same distance and at the first quarter end the Shockers led 18-0.

Lubbock scored in the second period with 11:03 left but Kotara tallied four minutes later to make it 24-6 at halftime.

After a scoreless third period Marc Gann climaxed a 33-yard drive by going in from the one with 4:36 left to play to make it the final 30-6.

The Shockers ground out 20 first downs and 289 yards rushing plus 46 in the air.

Pampa's defense recovered two fumbles and intercepted a pass.

Three of the six Pampa Junior High teams were in action Thursday with Pampa Junior High eighth having the day off and seventh grade teams from both schools seeing action today.

Lee seventh plays at Borger, Austin and Pampa seventh goes to Dumas.

Pampa Junior High ninth lost their fourth game, to Memphis 12-0.

Memphis scored once in the second period and in the fourth quarter, both touchdowns on runs of 47 and 45 yards.

Lee ninth lost an 8-0 decision to Borger Houston. Houston scored in the final period to hand Lee their third loss without a win.

Jerry Turner punted three times for Lee and averaged 48 yards per kick. Lee had two

Briles, Bell Go Next

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — They've each raked in a pot with an ace, so now it's an even up world Series as they switch to the home of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jim Lonborg took care of that with his one-hit, 5-0 victory for the Boston Red Sox in Thursday's second game in Boston and the Cardinals' big chance to take command of the series now is gone—at least, for the present.

When the series resumes here with the third game Saturday, the Cards still will be the series favorites but the 3-1 odds now have slipped to 9-5.

With Nelson Briles hurrying for St. Louis and Gary Bell for Boston in the third straight matchup of righthanders in this World Series, the Cards will be favored to win the third game at 3-2.

The Cards can only regret the big chance that's gone—swept away by Lonborg's whiplash right arm as he yielded only an eighth-inning double to Julian Javier, and by Carl Yazostremski's flashing bat which detonated two homers worth four runs.

Had the Cards won that one, they would have come home needing to win only two of three in their own ball yard to win the series for the second time in four years.

In the opener, the Cards' Bob Gibson was the ace as he hurled a six-hit victory, but this time the "miracle" Sox were the ones who had their ace ready.

Boston, its belief in the "miracle of 1967" rejuvenated, was booming with optimism.

Manager Dick Williams put it this way as he named his pitchers for all the St. Louis games:

"Bell will pitch Saturday, Jose Santiago on Sunday—and then Lonnie (Lonborg) will wrap it up for us on Monday."

TEXAS, AGGIES FAVORED

'Hogs, Frogs to Clash

UPI Sports Writer

Things are expected to begin looking up on the intersectional front for Southwest Conference football teams this weekend while Arkansas and Texas Christian open their league title bids against each other at Fayetteville.

Dismal has been the word for conference action against outsiders up to now with only a 2-11 won-loss record, but four of the five teams involved in intersectional play this week are expected to win.

Expected is the word here, too, since there has been little but the unexpected about all of the games played to date.

While Arkansas is a 7½-point choice to resume its winning ways at the expense of winless TCU, Texas is a 13-point choice to snap a two-game losing streak against Oklahoma State, the Texas Aggies are favored by 4 to break into the win column against Florida State. Baylor is a 3-point favorite to get victory No. 1 at the expense of Washington State and Texas Tech is a 19-point favorite to whip Mississippi State. All of these games are being played on conference soil.

The only game in which a league team will be the underdog is one on the road—SMU at Minnesota with the giant Gophers a 7-point choice. This contest, like the Arkansas-TCU clash—is adaylight affair. Rice takes the week off.

Despite the hopes abuilding along the intersectional front, the focal point of interest will be at Fayetteville where rivals will be watching to see if Coach Frank Broyles' Razorbacks can shake loose of the jinx that has seen them lose their first two games by only three points in all.

Broyles had said earlier that there would be "a long line of folks" waiting to beat his club, which has compiled a 28-2 record over the three previous seasons.

He probably was thinking back to the fog end of the 1966 campaign when Texas Tech broke a nine-game Arkansas-Tech win streak. But, he hardly expected what happened at the start of this season when Oklahoma State broke a 10-game losing streak and Tulsa an 8-game losing skein at the expense of the Hogs.

Now, here's TCU with eight years of steady frustration as a spur to continuing the trend. SMU and Baylor will be returning to action after a week of inaction, but among the others only Texas Tech canpoint back to victory—its 19-13 shocker over Texas, right in keeping with the upset pattern that has marked play all along this fall.

Tech's foe, Mississippi State, has been beaten soundly by Georgia and Florida; Baylor's opponent, Washington State, has been mauled by Southern California, Oklahoma and UCLA; Oklahoma State beat Arkansas and tied the Air Force; Florida State was beaten by Houston, pulled a shocker of its own in tying Alabama and then lost to North Carolina State; Minnesota nipped Utah, but lost to Nebraska.

Colts, Chicago Battle Shapes Up as Dull Once

By United Press International

Chalk up Sunday's Baltimore-Chicago game as just another ho-hummer for the Colts.

Ballyhooed as a must contest in the past whenever there was talk about somebody catching the Green Bay Packers, this one appears made for Johnny Unitas' passing parade of touchdown makers. His radar arm has passed for six touchdowns this year and accounted for 1,021 yards—best in the West, or East.

Whenever Unitas goes back to throw three's always targeted, well, almost always. He found rookie Ray Perkins for two touchdowns against San Francisco last week and regularly aims for Willie Richardson and John Mackey when the situation develops.

Cougars Host Unbeaten Team

By United Press International

The University of Houston Cougars seek to improve their national image, already near the peak as the nation's No. 3-ranked football team, against unbeaten North Carolina State Saturday night to highlight the Texas grid schedule outside the Southwest Conference.

The Cougars, who smothered Wake Forest 50-6 last week after earlier romps past Florida State and Michigan State, will play to stalling room only in the Astrodom Saturday night when they meet the nation's 20th ranking team.

The weekend also will have three other major games of note—North Texas State at New Mexico State, Texas El Paso at Arizona State and West Texas State entertaining Colorado State in its fifth straight weekend at home.

It will mark the first action of the Texas Miners since they pummeled Santa Barbara 63-14 in mid-September. Their Sept. 23 date with San Jose state was cancelled and they had an open date last week.

North Texas will be after its third consecutive victory at Las Cruces, while the West Texas Cougars will carry a 3-1 record into their game with the Rams, whose two losses do not indicate their true strength.

'Cats, Mustangs Collide Tonight

WHEELER — Coach J. T. Hills Wheeler Mustangs do something different tonight when they play the Canadian Wildcats.

They play at home for a change. The Mustangs have played their first four games of the 1967 football season on the road and have won three of the four, losing last week to District 2-AA and unbeaten Wellington.

A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand tonight to see this battle between Wheeler of District 2-A and Canadian of District 1-A.

Wheeler was a pre-season favorite to be in the thick of things for the district crown and has shown every indication they will be.

Canadian was the pre-season choice to replace White Deer as District 2-A's champion and has shown promise they might do just that.

Both teams have 3-1 records and Canadian has won three in a row, all by shutouts and all over Class B teams.

The Wildcats, while having a good defensive team, also has backfield dynamite in Gary Purser and Johnny Curtis.

The pair currently rank as the two top scorers in the Top O' Texas area. Curtis has 26 points and Purser has 25.

Wheeler had the top scorer in the area last year and he started out to be this year. But full-back Fred Goad has been on the injured list for three weeks and will remain there tonight.

White Deer, who has given up just 10 points in four games while posting a 3-1 record hosts fellow Class A club Bovina.

Groom (0-4) hosts McLean (1-3) of District 2-A; Lefors (0-4) plays ar-ther 3-E district game at Estelline and Perryton (3-0) plays at Panhandle.

Dons, PHS Go Tonight

By RON CROSS

Pampa, still seeking the victory column for the first time, will try for the fifth time this season to get there when they go up against Palo Duro's rock-like defense at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Dick Bivins Stadium.

The Harvesters (0-4) and Palo Duro (1-2-1) may put on quite a defensive show. They have scored a combined total of 40 points this season. The Dons have 22 and Pampa 18.

The already weak Harvesters suffered four more hard blows Wednesday when four starters came up limping, and two that had been limping, then stopped, then started limping again.

Guard Eddie Hopkins and halfback Scotty King came up with bad ankles while Halfback Gary Parrish pulled a muscle in his leg and quarterback Dwight Rogers had a bad thigh bruise.

To make matters worse, senior Dickie Henley and Steve Summers, both out since the Perryton game; and whom coach Eural Ramsey thought he might be able to use some this week, reinjured their ankles.

Besides all this, Pampa will be meeting a team that has given up only an average of 106.2

yards per game rushing, while grounding out an average of 150.5 yards per contest.

Passing seems to be the way to get around or over the Dons. Palo Duro has had 21 of 41 aerial attempts completed on them for an average of 81 yards per contest. But the Dons have intercepted four.

Rogers has completed 14 of 50 air tries and has had seven intercepted. He's thrown for one touchdown. The Dons have given up two touchdowns through the air.

Pampa will have to stop the Dons Mike Bundy, a 154-pound senior halfback who is their top rusher. Bundy has picked up 262 yards in 54 carries for a 4.8 per yard average.

Two other Dons have done quite well in the rushing department. Roger Smith, 196-pound halfback, has 135 yards on 42 jaunts and Danny Abel, 161-pound halfback has 102 yards on 26 carries for a 3.9 per carry average.

The Harvesters will have to contend with Bobby Wilson, who runs at quarterback and full-back and who broke Pampa's back last year.

Wilson passed for one touchdown a nd scored two others himself in the Dons 2-0 victory over Pampa a year ago.

The Harvesters are led in rushing by halfback Chris Kenney. The 173-pound senior has picked up 241 yards on 27 carries and scored two of the three Pampa touchdowns.

The Dons have size, experience, with six returning starters and speed. The Palo Duro defense will average 182 pounds per man offensively—the average weight per player is 185.

To Bomb or Not to Bomb Poses Question

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Would a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam cost or save American lives in the South?

Advocates of the bombing say there is no doubt it saves lives, that the more the north is hurt, the less its force can hurt U.S. fighting men in the South.

Those who would stop the bombing argue that the more the North is bombed, the more it steps up the war and hence increases the risk to American fighting men.

The air campaign, its supporters say, has made it much more difficult for North Vietnam to support enemy forces in the South. North Vietnam has had to divert more than half a million people to offer the effects of the bombing.

That's half a million fewer available for direct support of the fighting in the South.

A Risk Involved
The arguments for the bombing can be summed up in the words of Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who told the Senate Armed Services Committee:

"The air campaign against North Vietnam is an integral and indispensable part of the over-all strategy. Air strikes in North Vietnam have an important influence on combat operations in South Vietnam. I believe the air campaign against North Vietnam is achieving its objectives and saving American and Allied lives in South Vietnam."

Then, in direct answer to a question whether he felt that "reduction or restriction" of the bombing would increase Allied casualties in the south, Wheeler replied: "That is correct. That is my belief."

The advocates of the bombing half acknowledge that there is some risk in calling an end to the air campaign against North Vietnam. They insist, however, the risk of loss of American and other lives is even greater by continuing the bombing.

They point out that since the bombing started, North Vietnam has merely stepped up its infiltration of the South. Before the bombing, it required only 24,000 American soldiers to contain the enemy. Now half a million are needed.

Prefer Alternatives
Moreover, the bombing is an effort to bring about a military decision, which President Johnson says is not the U.S. policy. And in fact, no military decision is possible in Vietnam short of destroying the country or enlarging the war.

The hard truth is that the air campaign has not brought the other side to the negotiating table.
