JOBLESS TEXAS VETS FLOCK TO BONUS MARCH

Night Session Of Congress Brings Agreement On Taxes To Balance Budget

COMPLETE BILL GOES TO HOUSE TODAY AT NOON

Determined Drive of Weary Conferees Results In Tax Agreements

TARIFFS RETAINED

Revenue Measure to Reach President by End Of Week, Is Hope

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—In record breaking time, unequalled on Capitol hill, even during war days, congressional conferees tonight completed the billion dollar revenue bill.

The representatives of the senate and house reached a complete agreement in 13½ hours on the measure carrying the new taxes to balance the government budget for next year.

Through the day, in shirt sleeves, they worked while their senatorial colleagues struggled over the major item of the economy bill which is to aid the budget balancing program—a 10 per cent cut in pay for all government workers.

Conferees Weary

Weary and almost exhausted, the conferees left the committee room at 10:30 o'clock tonight with the simple statement they had reached a complete agreement assuring a balance of revenue and expenditures for 1933.

Details of the final form of the bill were withheld pending its submission in the house tomorrow at noon, but it was learned that the increased income tax rates voted by the senate were accepted, with enough new levys to make certain that the budget balancing goal was accomplished.

Balance Assured

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, the Democratic tax leader, joined in the firm assertion: "We have balanced the budget absolutely."

Under Secretary Ballantine of the treasury and a corps of legislative clerks worked on into the night, summarizing the revised bill and putting it into shape for introduction to the house.

So swift was the action of the conferees that leaders had hopes of the compromise bill's getting to the White House for the signature of President Hoover by Saturday night, or early next week at the latest.

The bill will be submitted in the house tomorrow and will be taken up Saturday. It must be accepted or rejected without amendment. So complex are its provisions that it is unlikely a printed draft of the revised measure will be ready before late tomorrow, thus forestalling probabilities of immediate house action.

It was reported with some authority that all foreign tariff items—the import taxes on oil, coal, copper and lumber were kept in the bill—but the exact rates were withheld.

Co-Ed Killed, Flier Hurt, In Crash at Airport

ALAMEDA, Calif., June 2. (US)—A Stanford university co-ed was killed and her companion critically injured today when the plane in which they had flown from Palo Alto crashed at the airport here.

The dead girl was Miss Lucy Brown, 21, daughter of Dr. Walter Brown, member of the physical education faculty at Stanford.

Her companion was Fred Harvey, 21, employed by the Associated Air Services at Palo Alto. He is in a hospital with internal injuries.

AUTO CRUSHES TAILOR

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 2. (US)—Harry Markarin, 47-year-old tailor, was killed by his own automobile today when it gained momentum as he was pushing it, and crushed him against a pole. The machine was wrecked against a second pole.

The Voice of "Results" Again from Stations WDT and WFRN

WHEN Mrs. Carl Dabb who resides at 1846 Keeler avenue, this city, discovered that she had lost her white gold bracelet, she immediately stepped to her phone and called Miss "AD-TAKER" at "Classified" 4-3-9-1 and gave her a good description of same.

When Mrs. Dabb instructed Miss "AD-TAKER" to run the ad which appears below, she (Mrs. Dabb) seemed to be very worried about the loss of her bracelet, and wished to get in touch with the finder. She succeeded in doing this within less than 24 hours. The evening of the same day Mrs. Dabb had this descriptive ad to appear in our papers, the finder immediately got in touch with her and returned the bracelet to her.

EVERY DAY "Lost and Found" Ads in the Classified Section are tracking down missing articles and returning them to their owners.

Japan's New Premier Declares For Peace In Solving Problems

BY FRAZIER HUNT
(Copyright, 1932, by Universal Service, Inc.)

TOKYO, June 2.—In the same residence where a little over two weeks ago Premier Inukai was shot to death by a band of young military officers, Viscount Admiral Makoto Saito today granted the first interview he has given since he assumed the premiership May 26.

The old sea dog, now Japan's man of the hour, received me graciously. He is a sturdy, broad-shouldered gentleman, and does not look his 74 years.

Known as Conciliator

He is known as a conciliator and a man of unimpeachable integrity. He might be called "Japan's Von Hindenburg." If Japan's grave internal problems and trying international affairs can be solved peacefully, Admiral Saito can do it.

He dates back to the feudal age of the Samurai and all his life he has served his country. After 30 years of active sea duty, he became minister of navy; then he took the dangerous and difficult post of governor-general of Korea.

When he entered Korea at first they threw bombs; but when he left they threw flowers. Now he is out of retirement, called to form a coalition government and brings reforms and a return of confidence. He said:

"There is much to be done, first of all for Japan. We are now working night and day on the details of reforms to help relieve the farmers of their high interest rates and heavy debts. We are trying also to solve that most important problem of low-price silk which affects four million families. We are studying methods for political and election reforms. These all are very difficult, but we shall find a way out."

External Affairs

"And Japan's external affairs—Manchuria, for instance?" I questioned. The premier answered:

"We are formulating our policy there, too. We are interested only in peace and order. We want Manchukuo to work out her own type of government and manage her own affairs. We desire only a strong, peaceful buffer state. But we will not permit either China or Soviet Russia to interfere in Manchukuo affairs."

I asked the premier about his attitude towards the possible findings of the League of Nations' Manchurian commission. He said:

"I hope to have a long conference with the commission here. But Japan cannot allow the league or any one to dictate her actions in Manchuria. We must make our own decisions."

Round Table Parley

At this point I asked:

"What is Japan's position as regards the proposed round table conference of great powers to discuss Asiatic problems?" Admiral Saito answered frankly:

"It is useless to talk of a round-table conference unless China takes part. If she consents to do so we would probably find short cuts to certain problems. We are anxious to confer with China, but we feel that the Manchuria and Shanghai problems must be handled separately. They have little relationship with each other—they are independent problems. We propose to be very patient with China."

Carefully I raised the question of Russo-Japanese relations. The premier replied:

"We are both apparently anxious and determined to preserve peaceful relations. No man of common sense can think anything else. Japan will do absolutely nothing to stir up trouble.

Troops Cause Friction

"Soviet troop concentration on the Manchurian border causes some friction, as do also the actions of the White Russians, but the difficulties are exaggerated."

I told the premier that Kenkichi Yoshisawa, foreign minister in the Inukai cabinet, had called the Russo-Japanese situation "a war of ink." Saito laughed, adding "that's right—'a war of ink.'"

My time was up. But as I started to say good-bye I asked a final question regarding American-Japanese relations. Answering me directly, Saito said:

"There are no differences our statesmen cannot settle. There are some differences in public opinion, but time will straighten them out."

Possibly only men of the age, experience, and wisdom of this grand old man of Japan know the real value of time, patience, and conciliation. Certainly, he knows them all.

HUNT FOR TWO BOYS GOES ON

Clues Fail to Produce Sons Of Suicide

PERRYTON, Texas, June 2. (AP)—Baffled by the strange disappearance of two children of J. M. Cone, 41, who shot himself yesterday, investigators tonight admitted they were without tangible clues as to the whereabouts of the missing children.

Searchers spent most of today in the brushy area along Wolf creek 30 miles southeast of Perryton where it was considered likely that Cone might have gone after he took the children from their home Tuesday night.

Tire tracks similar to those made by his car were found, as well as a man's footprints. Searchers waded the creek for miles and combed the brakes along its banks, but found no trace of the children, J. M. Cone Jr., 9, and Vernon Cone, 6.

Their father was found in the garage at his home here yesterday with two bullet wounds in his chest. He died at a hospital. A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned.

A note left by Cone indicated he might have been contemplating suicide but it gave no hint as to what had been done with the children. The note was addressed to his wife.

Investigators this afternoon received a message from a storekeeper living north of Perryton, saying if the children had not been located he had some information which might be worthy of consideration.

Oswald Jacoby Resigns From 'Four Horsemen'

NEW YORK, June 2. (US)—The famous four horsemen of bridge, who have piled up grand slams in a manner that has caused the most gallant contract players to underbid, now number only three.

Oswald Jacoby has resigned from the combine, leaving Philip Hal Sims, Willard Karn and David Burnstine to find a new partner.

That is, Jacobey says he resigned.

The other three horsemen say he was dropped "because he attempted to use his position for the purpose of promoting his own ends to our detriment."

Howard Schenken, who played as a partner to Ely Culbertson in the Culbertson-Lenz "battle of the century" last winter, will replace Jacobey as the fourth horseman.

Ruling of Court May Give Work to Thousands

LOS ANGELES, June 2. (US)—Employment for thousands of workmen within the near future was viewed as assured through a state supreme court decision today in San Francisco upholding the validity of the $220,000,000 bond issue for construction of an aqueduct to bring water from the Colorado river to southern California cities.

Wife Files Charges When Husband Bites Her Nose

NEW YORK, June 2. (US)—Accused by his wife, Lena, 29, of having bitten her nose, Henry Surowitz, 46, was held in $500 bail today. The charge is simple assault.

WIND AND HAIL CAUSE DAMAGE AT WELLINGTON

Three Inches of Rain Fall In 40 Minutes, Flooding Scores of Homes

CROPS SUFFER LOSS

Citizens Seek Refuge In Courthouse When Cloud Threatens Tornado

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, June 2.—A cloudburst which during 40 minutes dropped three inches of rain and heavy hail, accompanied by writhing storm clouds, drove a large part of the city's population to the courthouse for safety late this afternoon.

The downpour started at 5 o'clock and before the deluge ceased water more than five inches deep filled the streets, and in the south part of town, backed up under the floors of many homes.

Huge Hailstones

Hail measuring one and a half inches in diameter beat down heavily, crushing in automobile tops, and crashing window panes and windshields. The beating rain and hail was believed to have left heavy crop damage in its wake, although no definite check of loss could be made today.

Hail and a high, raging wind, caused considerable damage to the home of D. C. Brooks in the south part of town.

In fear of a tornado, 150 townspeople took refuge in the courthouse as the dark, overhanging clouds increased in size and blackness.

Wires Blown Down

A wind of gale intensity sprung up after the rain, taking before it telephone and telegraph wires. For a brief period following the storm, which began at 5 o'clock, telegraphic communications were disrupted.

Heavy rain, accompanied by hail and strong wind, fell over practically all of Collingsworth and Wheeler counties, although not as severely as here.

CHILDRESS RECEIVES HEAVY RAIN AND HAIL

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, June 2.—Childress and surrounding territory tonight received its heaviest rain in several weeks.

Rain, accompanied by hail of size and quantity believed insufficient to cause damage, started falling shortly after 7:30 o'clock. About half an inch of precipitation was registered in the first 30 minutes.

The moisture will prove of much benefit to growing crops, farmers reported.

TELEGRAPH WIRES BLOWN DOWN IN HALL

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, June 2.—Telegraph wires in Hall county were down tonight following a strong wind which accompanied rain and hail in this and surrounding counties late this afternoon. Some damage, in addition to loss to telegraph wires, was believed to have been caused.

Court Asked to Dismiss Appeal of Lew Wentz

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 2. (UP)—A motion to dismiss the appeal of Lew H. Wentz, ousted highway commissioner, from the ruling of the Oklahoma county district court was filed in the state supreme court today by Miss Maude O. Thomas, named by Gov. W. H. Murray to the Ponca City oil man's place on the commission.

The motion contended Wentz's appeal should be dismissed because the district court order did not refuse to render judgment on Wentz's cross petition as alleged, and does not show any motion for a new trial filed on behalf of Wentz.

McAdoo and Demo Leaders To Discuss Race Issues

LOS ANGELES, June 2. (US)—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, accompanied by Dr. D. T. Malaby of Pasadena, chairman of the Democratic state committee, and George W. Lynn of Santa Barbara left today by plane for a tour of northern California cities. They will discuss with Democratic leaders the issues of the coming campaign.

McAdoo, leader of the California delegation to the national convention, will be a member of the platform committee. He is making this tour to get in close touch with opinion of leaders throughout the state.

Amelia Earhart Boards Yacht for Cherbourg

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 2. (US)—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, American transatlantic flyer, tonight sailed aboard a private yacht from Hamble for Cherbourg, France, where she will meet her husband, George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher, when he disembarks from the Olympic tomorrow.

Mrs. Putnam is aboard the yacht Evadne as the guest of C. R. Fairey, president of the Royal Aeronautical society. The airwoman motored to Hamble after launching in London with Lady Astor.

Garner Goes After House Ways And Means Committee

For a speaker of the house of representatives to appear as a witness before one of the house committees was an unheard of event in Washington until Speaker Garner upset the precedent. Shortly before President Hoover delivered his message to the senate, Garner appeared before the ways and means committe of the house, urging the committee to take action for direct relief "of the starving and suffering people of this country." Shown in this photo are, from left to right, Congressmen James W. Collier of Mississippi, chairman of the committee; Willis C. Hawley of Oregon; Allen T. Treadway of Massachusetts; and, standing before the bench, Speaker Garner.

CREDIT GROUP MEETS TODAY

Texas Leaders to Plan Aid For Business

Definite plans designed to expand credit facilities for legitimate business enterprises in the Dallas federal reserve district will be formed Friday in Dallas at a meeting of 12 prominent Texas business men named Tuesday by E. A. McKinney, governor of the district, it was announced Thursday morning by Frank Kell of this city, chairman of the group.

Friday's assembly at Dallas will be the first meeting of committee named by Mr. McKinney, according to Mr. Kell, and will be devoted to outlining procedure by which further aid may be given to business concerns in this area.

Further Credit Extension

Mr. Kell declined to predict what definite plans the 12 bankers and business men might formulate, but expressed his opinion that efforts will be made to extend the services of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to holders of securities not heretofore eligible for acceptance.

"Since the reconstruction corporation was formed," Mr. Kell said, "its regulations have been amended sufficiently to permit the handling of certain securities which at first were not eligible for acceptance. That step improved conditions materially. Without the capital thus made available to business, conditions now would be more stringent than they are. A further extension of such credit, in my opinion, will stimulate much additional business—business which will show a profit above the small interest-burden assumed, and which will relieve unemployment for many people."

Business Leaders

Besides Mr. Kell, the group to convene in Dallas Friday is composed of Nathan Adams, president of the First National bank of Dallas; F. F. Florence of Dallas, president of the Republic National bank and Trust company; R. L. Thornton of Dallas, president of the Mercantile Bank and Trust company; J. G. Wilkinson, chairman of the board of the Continental National bank of Fort Worth; F. M. Law, president of the First National bank of Houston; Walter N. Napier, president of the Alamo National bank of San Antonio; B. L. Anderson of Neil P. Anderson & Co., cotton merchants of Fort Worth; H. O. Wooten, Abilene wholesale grocer; H. L. Kokernot of San Antonio, long connected with the livestock industry; W. S. Farish of Houston, president of the Humble Oil company, and Arthur L. Kramer, president of A. Harris & Co., Dallas department store.

Supreme Court to Hear Plea for School Election

AUSTIN, June 2. (UP)—The state supreme court has set a hearing for Monday on a mandamus application of I. W. Popham who seeks to force Travis County Democratic Chairman J. M. Patterson to include a race for county school superintendent on the ballot for the Democratic primary election on July 23.

Both the attorney general and the state Democratic executive committee have ruled that county school superintendents elected two years ago have four year terms. County candidates have until June 18 to file so a decision can be made in time for such races if the court holds present county superintendents must run this year.

Babies Born in Texas In 1931 Total 108,900

AUSTIN, June 2. (UP)—There were 108,900 babies born in Texas in 1931, the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health reported tonight. The birth rate was 18.2 per thousand population. Brooks county had the highest rate, 37.7 per thousand.

Democrats and Administration 'War' Over Garner Public Works Measure

Speaker, Wagner and Sanders Return Fire of Hoover, Mills And Hurley; Relief Program to Pass House

WASHINGTON, June 2. (US)—President Hoover today slung his big guns into action against the Democratic unemployment relief programs of congress, and met with a heavy counter-barrage.

Secretary of War Hurley was under a constant drum fire of attack when he opposed the Garner $2,300,000,000 unemployment program before the house ways and means committee.

Mills "Fired On"

Secretary of the Treasury Mills was bombarded in a double salvo, first before the senate banking and currency committee when he opposed the Wagner unemployment relief measure, and later when he fought the Garner program before the house committee.

Public hearings on the Garner bill were concluded by the ways and means committee this afternoon. Tomorrow morning the committee will begin executive sessions to perfect the measure, with a view to reporting it to the house Saturday.

Action on the bill in the house Monday or Tuesday was the goal of the Democratic leadership.

Man Dies Penniless After Spending Fortune on Poor

LOS ANGELES, June 2. (US)—For more than a year and a half Irving W. McClumphy had worked night and day to help feed the hungry.

He organized his own distribution station and supplied the essentials of life to some 2,500 persons a month, spending his moderate fortune in carrying on the work.

He collected food from markets and groceries, but bore the incidental expenses himself.

Today Irving W. McClumphy was dead, utterly destitute, his last cent having been spent to relieve suffering among unfortunates.

His wife and four children are penniless, a county charity investigator reported, and lack money for McClumphy's burial expenses.

Senate to Reopen Query Of Stock Market Today

WASHINGTON, June 2. (US)—Sensational developments in the senate's investigation of Wall street were promised today by Senator Peter Norbeck, chairman of the banking and currency committee.

The committee will resume public hearings tomorrow to bring out evidence gathered by William A. Gray, committee counsel, in New York. Norbeck said:

"We are gradually getting deeper into the question and uncovering some of the big wrong-doers."

'ACT OF GOD' MOTHER SUED

Helen Hayes Named In $100,000 Damage Claim

CHICAGO, June 2. (US)—A $100,000 damage suit against Helen Hayes (Mrs. Charles MacArthur), noted stage and screen actress, brought by Mrs. Carol Frink MacArthur, motion picture critic writing under the name of Carol Frink, was revealed by the court records here today.

Carol Frink is the first wife of MacArthur, the playwright. They were married in New York Aug. 29, 1920, after a romance which began in a Chicago newspaper office.

Divorced in 1926

In 1926, Miss Frink was granted a divorce which she contended later was obtained against her wishes and over her objections. She sought in 1928 to have the decree set aside, but without avail. At this time, Helen Hayes and MacArthur were married.

Miss Frink and her attorneys refused to discuss the case today, but it was understood that an alleged alienation of affections was the basis for the damage suit.

The action against Miss Hayes, famous mother of the "Act of God" baby, was taken Friday, although it remained secret until today.

Miss Hayes Served

It was learned that Miss Hayes was served with a notice of the suit as she stepped onto a Chicago stage Friday night for her final appearance in "The Good Fairy." She left at once for the East by way of Canada and announced that she would spend her summer vacation in Europe.

At the time of Miss Frink's divorce, it was said that a settlement had been reached by which she would receive 10 per cent of the royalties on MacArthur's first stage hit, "Lulu Belle." She has, however, refused to accept $4,000 held in escrow for this purpose, the implication being that she would follow her present damage suit for a more favorable alimony settlement from MacArthur.

'RED' ACTIVITY AT WASHINGTON UNDER INQUIRY

Capital Police Find That Communists Plan To 'Rule Show'

LEGION HEADS FROWN

Hundreds of Texans Move Toward Concentration Points of Trek

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—The government today turned an inquiring eye on Communistic activities as thousands of war veterans marched and rode toward the nation's capital to demand immediate payment of their bonus.

A tented city was arranged to house the former soldiers who were on the move in Texas, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio, Louisiana, Florida and Oklahoma.

Veterans in Denial

Government agencies are turning over to police in cities through which the marchers pass, their reports which indicate that Communists have seized upon the movement to promote their doctrine.

Leaders of the veterans already here—some 600 billeted in vacant buildings and an estimated 900 more "floating" through charity houses—vehemently deny that Communists have inspired their march.

Meanwhile, Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, asked detectives to contact Emanuel Levin, a Communist leader, and "invite" him to confer with the police head on his activities in Washington.

Funds Running Low

Levin, who came here from New York yesterday, claims the bonus march originated with the Workers Ex-Service Men's league, a Communist affiliate.

Glassford has about $400 now. He is feeding the campers on six cents a day. As long as funds and food are available they can stay, he says.

Thus far there has been no difficulty or disorder.

Press and private reports to police say more than 5,000 veterans have started or about to start for Washington.

TEXAS VETERANS JOIN EXPEDITION

(By The Associated Press)

Hundreds of former service men from many sections of Texas moved by trains, automobiles and trucks toward Washington Thursday in a gigantic demonstration in favor of immediate cash payment of bonus certificates. Reports were the advance guard would be joined by other hundreds en route.

Attempts of the veterans to procure transportation on freight trains were orderly, in general, although some opposition was encountered from railway employes. Some groups of former service men bound themselves to abide by strict military discipline while the "march" progressed.

Criticism Voiced

Criticism of the movement was voiced by several local officials of the veteran's organizations. J. W. Wray, commander of the Waco post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, called the march a step toward "mob law." George O. Jones, commander of the Waco American Legion post, expressed disapproval. Billy Burnett, commander of the Brownsville American Legion post, said he was strongly opposed to the "march." At the same time, these critics said they favored the bonus bill.

About 500 veterans left Texarkana late Thursday for Washington after being delayed by refusal of railroad officials to move a freight train with veterans aboard. The bulk of this group had arrived on a freight train at 3 p. m.

Railroad officials in Texarkana endeavored to supply passenger coaches for the travelers, but other officials in St. Louis overruled the proposed action. Joined by about 200 other veterans from Fort Worth, Los Angeles and the Texarkana area, the bonus seekers clung obstinately to the tops and sides of the cars as the freight finally departed for the East.

Parade Falls

A parade planned in Texarkana in honor of Congressman Wright Patman, champion of the bonus bill, failed to materialize. Mayor A. B. Clark denied permission for a

DeMolays Win Praise of Officials In Efficient Handling of City Posts

The old juvenile game of cops and robbers became reality for a group of Wichita Falls DeMolays Thursday with the pastime assuming a dignified aspect and the players bearing commissions as law enforcement officers and carrying firearms to back up their authority.

Early Thursday afternoon Detective Millicent Smith and Traffic Officer George Thorburn arrested three youths in an automobile on Austin street near the Wichita river when they became suspicious of the car and the occupants. The three prisoners were confined in the city jail while officers investigated the case. A large quantity of women's clothing was found in the machine. The defendants said the clothing was obtained at Breckenridge.

Eighty bottles of "home brew" and four prisoners, one a woman, resulted from a raid conducted by Traffic Sergeant Mack Taylor and Traffic Officer Bob Souther at 4:30 o'clock in the 1500 block on North Ninth. The raid netted several empty bottles and other equipment for operation of a "beer joint," the officers reported.

Detective J. W. Collins and Traffic Officer George Thorburn answered a theft call at 512 Waco

Ex-Doughboys Have Grown Paunches And Flat Feet But Retain Old Pep

By SIDNEY C. LEE

DALLAS, June 2. (UP)—Three hundred and fifty Texas heroes, 14 years removed from the time they fought on Flanders' field to "save democracy for the world," marked time here tonight awaiting reinforcements for a march on Washington to demand immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus.

Leaders estimated their strength would approximate 1,000 before the long trek begins Sunday. The exdoughboys are noticeably older and not as well-conditioned as they were when they impatiently whiled away hours in 1917 waiting to entrain for camp or transports.

Some have developed paunches, others flat feet. But all still have their gift of repartee, their old nonchalance in the face of adversity—and some of them still have their old O. D. army clothing.

They haven't turned Communist, and they want that made known.

"If occasion arose, we'd fight for our country again," they said but they have no intention of fighting their way to Washington. The leaders have said there must be no disorders.

"When railroad detectives order us off their freight trains, we'll get off—and get on another train," they explained.

They are just as sure as they were that they would win the war that their presence in Washington will be effectual.

DEMOS DEFEND RELIEF BILL

Administration Executives Launch Bitter Attack

penditure of $15,335,000 on needed army housing—barracks, officers' quarters, mess halls, etc., all over the country—will be included in the measure.

Thousands of men would be put to work by accelerating army housing while at the same time meeting a need and taking advantage of low price for materials, the speaker pointed out.

The administration strategy was plainly outlined. Mr. Hoover remains stiffly in opposition to any relief plan which includes a public works program outside the scope of income producing projects.

Garner's bill, however, will pass the house.

Wagner Makes Appeal

Senator Wagner tonight carried his appeal for unemployment relief to the people in a coast-to-coast radio address over the National system. Urging adoption of his program for aid to the destitute, and for public works construction, he said:

"The time has come for us to stop chewing the cud of despair. We cannot stint, starve and frighten ourselves into prosperity. The key to recovery lies in intelligent investment. The schedule of construction, both local and federal, written into the bill constitutes an altogether proper and moderate program of national investment.

"The program represented in this bill will foster the confidence that the great power of the United States is now enlisted in the fight to check the depression."

Called "Dole"

Secretary of War Hurley's attack on the Garner program centered on the river and harbor projects and against the $100,000,000 item for direct aid to the destitute under presidential authority. Hurley called this a "dole."

Only 34,178 additional men could be put to work directly on river and harbor work in the fiscal year 1933 under the waterway development called for in the Garner bill, Hurley claimed.

Questioned by Representative Vinson, Democrat, of Kentucky, Hurley agreed with a statement by Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, that 54 per cent of the money spent on river and harbor work goes to labor.

Repeatedly Hurley shouted that the bill was unsound financially and that it called for a drain on an already-depleted federal treasury.

Hurley Evades Question

Representative Sanders, Democrat, of Texas, observed the Garner bill provides for a gasoline tax of one-fourth of a cent a gallon, which, he said, would bring more than enough revenue to meet the interest and sinking fund charges on the entire public works program.

Sanders sought in vain to have the secretary say whether he thought an army housing program costing $22,500,000 and approved by the house military affairs committee and ranking army officers, would be a wise expenditure at this time to give employment and provide needed quarters.

The Texan said this construction would put more than 20,000 men to work and quoted army officials to that effect.

Nation Needs Receiver to 'Cut Red Tape, Slash Expenses,' Murray Says

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 2. (UP)—What the nation needs is a "receiver who will cut the red tape, slash expenses, and abolish this and that," Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray asserted today.

Expressing his sympathy with the "bonus" marchers now converging on Washington, Murray said he believed there would be a nation-wide march of hungry men and women on the capital by next fall.

"The government needs a dictator now," he continued. "The favoritism that controls our federal government can never be broken down unless a president has the guts to go before congress and lead the fight.

"If he does, he'll never be re-elected.

"The only trouble with a dictatorship would be the difficulty in getting back to a republic when the distressful condition is ended."

The executive declared that the Democrats were mistaken in not allowing President Hoover's request to give him a chance to reorganize the government. If the president were given this power and would "do what should be done," his name would go down in history, he added.

He criticized congress for failure to give permanent relief, and said that Mr. Hoover was working along the psychological theory that to talk good times would mean the end of the depression.

"This is an impressive thing the veterans are doing," he concluded, "but it doesn't hold a candle to the nation-wide march we will see by next fall."

street when Fred Muse, negro, reported the loss of an automobile wheel. The missing property was recovered in the 400 block on Fort Worth but no arrest was made.

Motorcycle Captain Rocky Robinson and Officer Raymond Costillow answered the urgent plea of two Wichita Falls mothers Thursday afternoon and located their missing children. The youngsters were found enjoying themselves in Bellevue park and the officers furnished transportation on their motorcycles in taking the children home.

Loss of nine bundles of binder twine from the warehouse of the Wichita Hardware company sometime after noon Wednesday was reported Thursday and investigations were opened by the DeMolay detective force. Loss of an airhose was reported by J. T. Holbrook, 115 North Burnett.

The Hope order of DeMolay in Wichita Falls heralded its activity as city administrators Thursday with a banner, "Wichita Falls DeMolays" flung across the front of the city hall at Ninth and Ohio.

City officials were loud in their praises of the work of the boys Thursday and were assisting in every way possible to make the day an occasion for conducting a school in citizenship for the DeMolays. In the past the boys have been given full charge with regular officers taking a holiday.

The youths will handle corporation court cases Friday morning with William Donnell as prosecuting attorney and W. A. Bachman as judge.

At the Memorial auditorium City Manager Claris Corder spent his first half hour studying the city charter with Manager V. R. Smithram and went into his duties in examining bids received June 1 for purchase of new street cleaners for Wichita Falls.

PONSELL LEAVES HOSPITAL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 2 (US)—Rosa Ponselle, Metropolitan opera star, who was operated on three weeks ago, was discharged today from St. Rapahel's hospital.

Oil Well Blast Injures Two In Albany Field

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, June 2.—Two men, one of them in a critical condition, are in a hospital here with burns received early this morning when an explosion occurred on the oil test they were putting down near Albany, 40 miles from here.

Tom James, co-owner of the test, is given little chance to live. His partner, Warren Klinger, is seriously burned, but has a chance to recover. Other members of the drilling crew escaped unhurt.

The blast, set off through causes unexplained, occurred unexpectedly. The drill bit suddenly struck gas sand at a depth above where it was expected.

Flames instantly shot over the entire rig. James, at the moment in the drill house, was trapped. He was surrounded on all sides by fire.

Taking his only chance for life, he ran through the blaze. His clothing caught fire, literally making his body a torch.

Klinger's severest burns were received in efforts to extinguish James' blazing clothing.

The rig was completely destroyed by the fire, which raged for hours after the blast. It was finally extinguished during the day by filling the hole with mud.

The two men reached the hospital here about 3 o'clock this morning after being rushed to Stamford in an automobile. The blast occurred between 12 and 1 o'clock.

Two boys, who were driving past the scene when the explosion occurred, assisted with the injured.

Both James and Klinger are residents of Albany.

Veteran Newspaper Man Of Oklahoma Succumbs

TULSA, Okla., June 2. (AP)—Richard S. Gravek, pioneer Oklahoma newspaper man, died today at his home here of acute indigestion. He was 70 years old.

He was an editorial writer for the Oklahoma City Times several years. In 1915 he came to Tulsa to join the staff of the Tulsa Times, published by the late Charles Page. Later he was an editorial writer for the Tulsa Democrat until it was discontinued in 1919.

WORLD PACT ON OIL DELAYED

Soviet Holds Out for 10-Year Agreement

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—An international attempt to direct and dam the flow of hundreds of millions of gallons of oil on world export markets ended today without agreement, but with improved understanding of mutual problems.

Only a brief formal announcement by C. E. Arnott, president of the Socony-Vacuum corporation, and Philip Rabinovitch, Soviet Russian executive, signalized investigation into the world oil markets by its most important interests.

The announcement said simply that after "carefully studying the problems created by the lack of balance between production and consumption" the conference regretted "to announce that it had been impossible at this stage to reach any mutually satisfactory agreement towards the solutions of these problems."

Neither the Russian representatives on the one side, nor the delegates of American, English and Dutch producers on the other, had any official comment to make on the lack of agreement. The words "at this stage" in the announcement, however, indicated possibility of other negotiations, perhaps between separate countries, in the future.

Reported points at issue which apparently caused the breakdown included the refusal of the Russians to enter into an agreement for only three years. They preferred a 10-year agreement with provision for an increase in their annual export quota in case of growth of consumptive demand.

Noted Lawyer Suspected Of Woman's Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2. (UP)—Frank J. Egan, veteran public defender of San Francisco and famed as a defense attorney in murder cases, should be held to answer on suspicion of slaying Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, his friend and benefactor, a coroner's jury recommended today.

Vern Doran, ex-convict whom witnesses named as the man who borrowed the automobile believed to have crushed Mrs. Hughes to death, should also be held, the jury recommended.

The jury decided Mrs. Hughes was murdered.

A. P. I. Directors Oppose Federal Tax on Gasoline

TULSA, Okla., June 2. (AP)—Directors of the American Petroleum institute meeting here today petitioned congress not to impose a gasoline tax, pointing out that such taxes in some states already average the refinery price of the product.

A committee was authorized to study a proposed program for development of new uses for petroleum products.

Wichita Falls

Folks, Facts and Fancies

Fishing Tackle Stolen

Burglars Thursday morning equipped themselves for a sporting vacation and probably are planning a fishing party, according to E. C. deMontel, 1304 Austin, who reported his boathouse at Lake Wichita had been raided. The loot included a .22 caliber rifle, two rods and two reels, a battery lantern, and a boat and oars.

Treated for Injury

Charles E. Lutz, employe of the Fritz Motor company, was admitted to the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital about noon Thursday for emergency treatment after a blood vessel was severed in his arm when he was struck by a piece of steel. He was released after first aid treatment.

Undergoes Operation

Bill McKinney of Burkburnett underwent a major operation Thursday at the Hargrave-Walker hospital.

SENATOR OUT OF RACE

AUSTIN, June 2. (UP)—State Senator Carl Hardin of Stephenville announced here tonight that he will not seek re-election. He has been a member of the past four state sehates and served in the house of representatives before that.

SHERMAN RIOT CASES DROPPED

Gainesville Court Closes Notorious Incident

GAINESVILLE, Texas, June 2. (UP)—The state wrote the last chapter in its books today on the spectacular and notorious Sherman riot and courthouse burining of May 9, 1930.

District Judge Ben W. Boyd dismissed cases against three Sherman men—Jeff Jones, Webb Purdon and Jess Roper—charged with arson in connection with the courthouse fire, on the ground there was insuficient evidence to convict.

The cases were sent here nearly a year ago on a change of venue from Austin, where they had been sent earlier on a change of venue from Sherman. Only one conviction was obtained on all the indictments.

"GENESIS" AROUSES SCOTS

"Genesis," Epstein's piece of sculpture which has aroused the hostility of many English critics, is causing a warm discussion among art lovers of Edinburgh, Scotland, where it was shown at the recent Royal Scottish academy. Art lovers of Scotland are strongly divided as to the merits of the piece, and have not hesitated to speak out.

RAIL LOANS REPORT MADE

Requirements for June To Give More for July

WASHINGTON, June 2. (INS)—Loans consummated or authorized by the Railroad Credit corporation to railroads to meet their fixed interest obligations totaled $21,944,217, according to the corporation's monthly statement filed with the Interstate commerce commission today.

Of that amount $7,221,574 represented loans actually made, leaving a balance of $14,722,643 to which the corporation is committed. E. G. Buckland, president of the corporation, said this liability would, in due course, probably be reduced by $6,069,687.

Cash Balance Up

"The March reports of emergency charges (accruing to the corporation in May) approximately $6,000,000 and, together with the relatively small June 1 requirements, made possible the building up of the cash balance available for loans in anticipation of July 1 needs," Buckland said.

Revenues under the December rate increases authorized by the commission have been considerably below the original estimates, he added.

"Assuming that net receipts are $5,250,000 during June, the cash available for July 1 requirements would be $11,700,000," he said. "According to present indications, this amount, together with the cooperation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, should prove adequate."

Bronx Grand Jury Hears 'Go-Betweens'

NEW YORK, June 2. (INS)—Three intermediaries in the baby Lindbergh kidnaping told their stories today to the Bronx grand jury investigating the payment of $50,000 ransom by Dr. John F. Condon, (Jafsie).

First to testify was Salvatore Spitale, selected by Col. Charles Lindbergh because of underworld contacts that, however, led nowhere. Spitale's henchman, Irving Bitz, also was a witness.

The third witness was believed more important. He was Morris Rosner who, it has been revealed, was permitted to make a copy of the original ransom note to use in his "negotiations."

No action will be taken by the grand jury as yet, but it will be held ready to reconvene "when the facts warrant," according to District Attorney McLaughlin.

Boy Scout Park at Vernon To Be Opened Friday

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, June 2.—The new Vernon Boy Scout park located in a grove of trees on the old Gilliland place at the south end of Houston street will be officially opened Friday night at a joint meeting of the six troops of the city, according to plans announced today by Scout Commissioner J. H. Garrett. Approximately 120 scouts of the six troops here are expected to participate in the opening ceremonies.

A court of honor will be held at the meeting with Mr. Garrett in charge.

A council ring with a fire altar in the center has been arranged at the new park. Two outdoor furnaces will be built soon. A track is to be provided for the holding of relay races.

Girl scouts of Vernon will be allowed to use the park.

Chicago Auto Theft Ring Broken Up at Laredo

HOUSTON, June 2. (AP)—Four men and a woman, held in the Laredo, Texas, jail, will be transferred to Chicago for trial in connection with an automobile theft "ring" case, Assistant U. S. Attorney Albert Thomas said today.

They are Juan Tovar, Cecilio Ramos, Felipe Ramos, Isabel Tovar and Jose Flores. They were arrested in Laredo several weeks ago by department of justice agents.

The group used Chicago as headquarters and transported stolen motor cars into Mexico by way of Laredo, for disposal in that country, Thomas was advised.

Paddle Wheel Plane

WASHINGTON.—One of the queerest planes ever seen is the "paddle wheel" craft, which is furnished its motive power by a pair of paddle wheels similar to those of an old river boat. The covering of the paddles are similar to birds' wings. When the paddle rises the covering of the wing opens. When it descends the covering closes and its "push" on the air produces a lifting effect.

Electra Boy Makes Highest Grades During Four Years At Trinity U.

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, June 2.—Horace Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Harrison, graduated last month from Trinity university at Waxahachie, with the highest average among the boys for the entire four years of work.

He received the Samuel H. Con'e gold medal which is offered each year to the boy and girl making the highest average for the entire four years. The Magna Cum Laude honor also was bestowed on him. A minimum of 330 quality points providing no grade less than B was required for the honor. Harrison is also a member of the Scholarship society which is confined to juniors and seniors among the highest ranking tenth of the Pi Gamma Mu honor society.

During his work at Trinity university he had been student assistant in the history department. He received his B. A. degree with history as his major and English as his minor.

Harrison was graduated from the Electra High school in 1928 with highest honors, and was a member of the spelling team that won county titles for several years. His father served as principal of the Waggoner Ward school nine years, resigning last May to engage in private business.

Honor Student

Horace Harrison of Electra graduated last month from Trinity university with the highest grade average of boys for the four years of work. He was awarded the Samuel H. Con'e medal for excellence of his grades.

Stone Opposes Plan of Giving Cotton to Needy

WASHINGTON, June 2. (UP)—Chairman Stone of the federal farm board considers impractical the suggestion that 500,000 bales of stabilization cotton be given charitable organizations for use in clothing the needy. Moreover, he said today, he will vigorously oppose such a move unless provision is made to reimburse the farm board's revolving fund for the cotton used.

Railway Built

STOCKHOLM.—Sweden has enlisted the factory of the Swedish State railway at Linkoping to build special training planes for the Swedish air service. The plant has turned out a number of planes in the past, but by modernizing the factory, production is expected to be considerably increased.

WITNESSES IN TRIAL GUARDED

Threats Cause Armed Patrol to Watch Homes

LOWELL, Mich., June 2. (AP)—Riflemen guarded the homes of witnesses in the Henry Marshall murder case today and vigilantes planned to continue an armed night patrol of the village to thwart reputed gangsters who have intimidated one witness in the case, causing his flight.

Ten men carrying rifles, shotguns and pistols walked "beats" in the streets or cruised about in motor cars last night, while others stood guard at the homes of Paul Kellogg, who has fled, Deputy Sheriff Pat Bowes, William Boyton and Edward Devries, all of whom have told of seeing Marshall shoot to death Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp in the main street a week ago when the officer attempted to halt a car in which Marshall and an unidentified companion were fleeing from the holdup of a Grand Rapids bank.

Verne E. Ashley, village president, said an armed patrol would be maintained by the vigilantes "as long as is deemed necessary."

The guard was ordered after Kellogg reported two men had told him that if he testified against Marshall "it would be the last trial I ever will go to." Two men answering the description of the men threatening Kellogg also visited Bowes home but the deputy was not there.

Banks Withdraw From St. Louis Stock Exchange

ST. LOUIS, June 2. (INS)—St. Louis banks have withdrawn their stock from the listing on the local stock exchange, a statement issued by the exchange board of governor reveals today.

The statement follows:

"Under the present conditions the quoted value of securities has little or no relation to their intrinsic value and therefore the clearing house banks and trust companies of the city of St. Louis have requested that their respective stocks be withdrawn from listing on the local stock exchange."

Pretty Morning Ceremony Unites Popular Couple

A wedding beautiful in quiet simplicity was solemnized at the Church of the Good Shepherd Thursday morning when Miss Dorothea Knight became the bride of Temple Shell, Rev. Wm. D. Bratton, rector, reading the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate family and close friends. The altar was banked with shell pink rose buds.

The bride who was given in marriage by her uncle, Harry S. Davis, was a pretty picture of brunet beauty in her white crepe frock with white accessories and carried a white prayer book.

A wedding breakfast for the family followed at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stanford Davis on Hayes street, directly after which Mr. and Mrs. Shell left for New Orleans for a wedding trip. They will be at home to their friends on their return at 1605 Beverly drive.

Mrs. Davis, who is a charming member of the younger social set, has been a teacher for several years in Reagan Junior high school. The faculty entertained in her honor before the wedding and issued a little booklet announcing her graduation at Ward-Belmont and Vanderbilt colleges, Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Shell is a graduate of Cumberland univesity of law at Lebanon, Tenn.

Mrs. P. P. Langford was also hostess honoring Mrs. Shell in a pretty tea as a pre-nuptial courtesy. Spring flowers were used in the handsome rooms and the receiving line included Mesdames Harry Davis, Langford, Misses Dorothea Knight, Virginia Tabb, Jeanette Moore, Marietta Hunt, Marguerite Peery, Elizabeth Carrigan and Mesdames Ted Smith, Allan Montgomery, O. E. Maer, P. P. Langford, Jr., Marvin Smith and T. A. Hicks.

Misses Margaret Staniforth and Joan Hoffman assisted in the dining room when an ice course was served.

About 70 guests called.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

A man came into the little cafe where I was having lunch. All other men were spick and span, groomed to a fine point. This man wore a polo coat turned up round his neck (it was a hot evening), and his shirt was open at the throat. He wore high-heeled boots that clicked across the floor and his hair stood up in unruly curls.

◇ ◇ ◇

He seemed to know what he wanted to eat, chose it at once and went alone to a little table where he ate voraciously. I kept my eye on him, thinking that directly he would get up, dart for the door and escape. He looked so unkempt and was apparently so hungry.

◇ ◇ ◇

But when he finished his meal, he clattered back on the high heels to the cashier's desk, insouciantly gave her a bill too large for her to change, then wandered out without a glance of interest at any one in the room.

◇ ◇ ◇

Disappointed that I had not seen a hungry "get-a-way" and due excitement, I asked, when I went up to the cashier's desk, who the cavalier was. I was informed he was an artist from New York and had been out playing polo.

◇ ◇ ◇

Such is life; it is all right to dress in Wichita Falls as he might have dressed in the village in New York, and I doubt if he considered that little inland towns such as ours had anything worthy of note in them—unless it was a polo pony—of a sort. (I have no idea of the standing of our polo ponies.)

◇ ◇ ◇

"That's it," I muttered to myself; that's the New York viewpoint. We are just pilgrims in a desert land; he doesn't realize there are men and women here who do things quite as well as some of the lesser lights of New York.

◇ ◇ ◇

I thought of Frieda Van Emden, a descendant of a noble old family in Holland, who followed her heart to Wichita Falls; who went through days of miserable adjustment before she left New York, where she did musical and artistic features. Of this woman, helping along now with a cleaning establishment that she runs herself, but at the same time doing little bits of writing that spell real genius. If she only had time to find herself! She wrote a Russian play that was given at the last manuscript club which showed knowledge of more than entertainment and she won, at the same luncheon, a prize for the best poem on Russia—a poem that expressed the mystic meaning of that country for many minds in the best form I have heard.

◇ ◇ ◇

Then, there's Mrs. J. T. Harrell. Mrs. Harrell, an ardent supporter of theatrical work, made an appearance here not so long ago in "The Worm," that set tongues wagging. She personified magnificently the sad and suppressed old woman of Mrs. Ben Oneal's play. And not only does Mrs. Harrell, who by profession is a housewife, a well known club woman and member of an old Wichita Falls family—but she is acquainted with stage craft. She would make an excellent stage manager and has that treasure beyond comparison, a sense of the full value of sincerity and truthfulness.

◇ ◇ ◇

There's Polly Hoffman, a lawyer's wife and housekeeper and homemaker in one of the lovely homes in the country club estates. But she is known all over the United States as an artist. A glimpse of Weeks park over my mantel makes me know she is an artist. It pulls at my heart strings each day of my life with its russet and gold and rich browns that only an artist might reproduce.

◇ ◇ ◇

Children Learn Tolerance From Acts of Parents

By ANGELO PATRI

Children are by nature intolerant. They are strict individualists. Their own business is what counts to them. Their own ways are always the best ways. What they think is always the only way to think. That is the way nature starts them. They must first consider self preservation. It is for us to teach consideration for other people and tolerance of all opinions.

One of the family sports is criticism of all and sundry. A family gathering is usually a signal for a thorough review of the failings of friends and relatives and neighbors. "Did you ever hear such nonsense as Aunt Emily talks? Isn't she just about the limit? If you listened to her you'd live a cloistered life. I wonder how she thinks we're to get along in this world living like that—all by oneself, going to bed before the chickens, working like a dog all day and serving the community. It would be a great sight better if she served herself and Uncle Steven a little."

Round eyed Puss listens—takes that all in. Woe betide Aunt Emily next time she comes this way. Puss is armed with opinions not her own and an intolerance accentuated by that of the entire family.

"That boy you were with today, Mary Ann, was a picture out of the comic strip, wasn't he? Where did you pick him up? School? Well, school takes them all in of course, but you might have a little discrimination. One look at his face ought to have told you something. He doesn't belong to your church. You're in the wrong pew, my girl."

Mary Ann says nothing. Her feelings have been hurt. But in her mind there has been set a thought of intolerance. This boy who goes to another church, who belongs to another tradition, won't do. This is not what American principles would teach. It is not what Mary Ann needs. She is already tight minded. What she needs is association with children of other traditions, of other opinions. The world is getting to be a small place. We are touching elbows with people our ancestors never dreamed of meeting. We must rise and stretch if we are to live comfortably with them.

It is about time that we in America got over the notion, got over our surprise in the fact that foreigners were intelligent, cultured people. It is time that we opened up our minds to all that was fine in every tradition, every culture, and learned to tolerate differences.

It is well to begin in the family. Listen to Aunt Emily without pain. Know that she has something that makes her happy and that indicates good. Learn to differ with the relatives about this and that without bitterness. Learn to accept people with hearty good will and with no carping, no condescension.

This attitude of acceptance of the good in all people, this attitude of affectionate equality among us, will lift our children out of the narrow ugly rut of criticism and antagonism that intolerance sets. Free interchange of thought and opinion, freedom from all dislike and personal antagonism will enable them to grow sweetly and with great strength. The strength that is the offshoot of good will, love and tolerant liking is the strength that is never failing. Tolerance is a quality we must covet for our coming generation as never before.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Fowler Bible Class To Honor Classes

Members of the Fowler Bible class of the First Presbyterian church will be joint hostesses with Mrs. J. W. Culbertson on the Culbertson lawn Friday evening at 8 o'clock to members of the Fowler Bible class, junior and their husbands and to members of the Carrigan Bible class and their wives.

Since the American style drug store has not penetrated Finland, the country's young women must go to the old-time barber shop for their lipsticks.

Missionary From China Is Speaker For Presbyterians

A woman of striking personality with a light in her eyes that made her audience forget the commonsense dress worn by missionary women was speaker at Floral Heights Presbyterian Woman's Missionary society Thursday morning when Miss Ada Russell, who has been a representative of the Presbyterian mission board of the U. S. A. in China for the past 19 years, was the speaker.

Her talk was notable for the light it cast on conditions of missionaries as affected by the war, though at the conclusion of her talk, she invited questions and made the meeting a delightful informal round table discussion.

She paid tribute to the Fitch Memorial church named for one of the first Presbyterian missionaries to China. Miss Russell said that in the late war, when the Japanese came to the mission gate in Shanghai and knocked for admission, they administered a beating to the native Chinese missionary's wife who opened the gate for them. The woman was finally killed and her husband and all her children except one 9-year-old girl who managed to hide were taken away and have never yet been heard from. When the American consul questioned Japanese soldiers concerning the affair, they stated, according to Miss Russell, that they knew nothing of it.

"The Chinese," Miss Russell said, "were notified that the Japanese would enter in 30 minutes and as it was impossible for them to leave in that time, thousands of homes were burned, though the owners had complied with all the demands of war."

Trips to Province

Miss Russell, who works in Shanghai, a city of some 800,000 people, where seven different branches of the Chinese language are spoken, told of the trips she made into the provinces each spring to teach Bible classes for three months in three different languages. She sang a number of Chinese songs in different dialects, then translated them into English for her interested audience.

Authorities, she stated, are trying to pass a law to do away with rickshas, thinking it wrong that a man should be a beast of burden. The rickasha system, however, the speaker said, had become Americanized so that riders had to pay exorbitant prices. Rickshas are rented out to men for a certain amount each day and they must clear something over the rent for their living. She told of a recent three-day rickshа strike and stated that in the city of 800,000 there were now three buses, but no street cars.

Women doing mission work, Miss Russell said, receive $15 in American money per month, which according to the rate of exchange is a little less than $3.50 per month. They furnish their own tea, a requisite for every day of Chinese life.

Mrs. Frank Ray, president of the Missionary society, gave the devotional after the opening song service. Mrs. B. L. Fain of the First Presbyterian Woman's Missionary society led in prayer, after which Mrs. Ray presented the speaker.

At the close of the talk, Mrs. Ray gave the Year Book of Prayer and the service was closed with a prayer for the mission work by Miss Cora Lee Morrow.

Approximately 40 members and guests were present. Miss Russell is the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. B. Bruner, Petrolia road. She is on nine months' furlough.

Moving Pictures Illustrate Report Of D.A.R. Congress

Members of the Maj. Francis Grice chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, when Mrs. Carrigan gave the official report from the 41st Continental congress which met in Washington for a week in May. Mrs. Carrigan was delegate from the Maj. Francis Grice chapter and Miss Elizabeth Carrigan went as one of the five pages named from the state of Texas.

Among the major points noted by Mrs. Carrigan were the fact that Texas payed all her pledges; that two medals were awarded the state, one in history and one in conservation and thrift. The Lucy Meriwether chapter of Laredo won the best chapter historian's report out of a total of 2,463; Texas took fifth place in the York Town Essay contest and in conservation and thrift over the widest area. Texas shared honors with Massachusetts, falling short only of Ohio, which state stood first.

Mrs. Carrigan told of the splendid speakers chosen to address the congress. She stated that Texas pledged $500 toward the new stone balustrade in the driveway leading to Constitution hall, which was named for Mrs. N. T. Sanderson, of Texarkana, vice regent of Texas. Texas also pledged $250 to the Sunshine fund. She spoke of the distinguished guests and of the national board meeting where several members wore costumes they had worn 25 years ago.

It was announced that the state regent, Mrs. P. H. McFaddin of Beaumont, will be a guest of the chapter Saturday, June 11, when an informal tea will be given at the home of Mrs. Luke McCrory.

Mrs. Carrigan presented Mrs. E. C. de Montel, retiring regent and Mrs. E. T. Duff, regent for the coming year, with exquisite dusk pink souvenir plates of Wakefield.

Miss Elizabeth Carrigan told of the courtesies shown the pages and showed beautiful moving pictures she took during the trip. Beginning at home, they completed the trip, but notable among them were pictures of Washington, of the Folger Shakespeare library; of the president; of the famous cherry blossoms and the Texas delegations.

Refreshments noting a patriotic theme in red, white and blue were served in the social hour. The Carrigan home on Austin was beautiful with vari-colored flowers.

Floor Show Scheduled At Junior C-C Lunch

A floor show will be presented in night club style at the Junior chamber of commerce membership luncheon Friday at the Wichita club as the organization features amusements in Wichita Falls for the program theme. Plans for the golden jubilee party on Sept. 26-28, will be brought up to date for the membership in an address by Walter D. Cline, 50th anniversary association head.

The floor show numbers will present artists on the current bill at Lakeside park and Art LeMan will be master of ceremonies. Joe Betty Sell, who is recalled as the "rhumba girl" of Paul Christensen's radio night club, will be starred as will acts by "Smiles" Maison, Jere Durant, Marie and Cherie Anderson and Iris Tinsley.

Women said:

A fast working soap can't be safe!

BUT they didn't know about the New Oxydol then

● If sad experience with other soaps has convinced you that a soap able to soak dirt out quickly is too strong for colors and fine materials—try Oxydol. No longer need you spend extra time washing lingerie because you're afraid to use the same soap that whisks dirt out of sheets!

Women know now that rich suds are what do the extra work for them—that suds are the secret of all easy washing.

The New Oxydol's as mild as May—as kind to hands as it is to dainty things—yet it takes dirt out faster than any soap you've ever seen. Because it makes 50% more suds—richer, longer lasting suds that float dirt out and hold it out so clothes are fresh and fragrant—clean smelling suds that don't ball up or leave a scum.

Use it for dishes too. See how quickly those extra suds cut the grease—how easily they rinse off so dishes are sparkling clean—how much work they save you. And remember that Oxydol softens water. Even the softest water turns hard when you put in dirty clothes or dishes.

Ask your grocer today for a big package of the New Oxydol. Use enough to make rich suds—it dissolves instantly—and see how it lightens all your household tasks.

"Bring 'Em Back Alive"

By FRANK BUCK with EDWARD ANTHONY

Dead animals mean nothing to Frank Buck—he brings 'em back alive! He hunts them barehanded; with snare and coil; in jungle, and mountainfastness, in wildest Africa, in darkest Thibet—but always he brings 'em back alive. Many of his living trophies can be seen today in the New York Zoological park, in the Lincoln park zoo in Chicago, in municipal collections all over America, in circuses throughout the world. He has crossed the Pacific 40 times, encircled the world five times, knocked out an orang-utan in fair fight, walked the width of Borneo, and delivered to the city of Dallas one complete zoo.

Buck has just obtained, in Singapore, the largest orang-utan ever captured. He asks the natives how they accomplished the capture. Buck has just witnessed a battle between a tiger and a buffalo. Buck's friend, Wendell, who works for a rich Indian maharajah, invites him to witness a cruel performance staged for the potentate's amusement. A tiger's claws have been pulled out.

For 18 exciting years, Frank Buck has been gathering live animals, reptiles and birds for American zoos, circuses, and dealers. He hunts them barehanded in jungle and mountain-fastness, in wildest Africa, in darkest Thibet—but he always brings 'em back alive.

CHAPTER VII

Wanted: Two Rhinos

I was in the office of Dr. William T. Hornaday, then director of the New York zoological park. This was back in 1922.

After discussing some lesser assignments, Dr. Hornaday reopened a subject that had been close to his heart for some time. "Isn't there some way we can secure an Indian rhinoceros?" he asked. "You know I've always wanted one."

I appreciated the confidence that this eminent zoologist displayed in me in discussing the possibility of securing one of these rare animals, the great single-horned, armor-plated rhinoceros of India which is now practically extinct in that country.

Dr. Hornaday, with the zeal of the honest-to-goodness zoologist who will not take no for an answer, pressed his point. I did not feel very optimistic about the prospects but I found myself weakening. Dr. Hornaday's faith in me made me feel that I ought to make a strenuous effort to secure for him the prize he sought.

The Indian rhino, as far as India itself is concerned, is virtually a non-existent animal. In former years it ranged all over northern India, away up into the United Provinces and as far south as southern Bengal, and it was, in those palmy days, the greatest of all big game known to man. It is the largest, the most awe-inspiring of all rhinos, an Indian bull rhinoceros being much greater in size than the common African variety.

In the little state of Nepal, which in size is the Asiatic equivalent for a country like Montenegro in Europe, the Indian rhino has always been regarded as royal game, no one except the maharajah and those friends and associates to whom he gave special permission being allowed to hunt it. For this reason the species has survived in Nepal and quite a number of them are to be found in the southeastern part of the country, which comprises the foothills of the Himalayas.

The more I thought of the project the more it fascinated me—and the more I was stumped by the problem of Nepal's ironclad governmental regulations which not only forbade strangers to hunt the Indian rhino but actually did not permit foreigners to enter the country! These were the difficulties that had floored me in the past on those occasions when my ambitions as a collector had betrayed me into visualizing myself as the proud possessor of one of these rare animals that very few hunters, including the greatest, have even seen, much less shot or captured.

It was a diplomatic mission as well as a collecting trip. It involved getting in right with some one close to the ruler of this powerful little kingdom that brooks no interference in its affairs and lets the whole world go hang as it goes about its business, demanding nothing of other countries except that they do the same thing.

Even England, with the tremendous power she exercises in Asiatic affairs, has only the faintest kind of look-in in Nepal. By a special arrangement whose negotiations taxed the diplomatic talents of the foreign office—(for the Nepalese are a stubborn people to deal with)—a lone British attache hangs his hat, and does little else, in Khatmandu, the capital. His role is that of "adviser" to the maharajah, having utterly no connection with or control over any of Nepal's official business or its law-making. This unofficial representative contents himself with keeping a watchful eye on the Russian bear and doesn't challenge the wisdom of letting the Nepalese severely alone.

The only other white man permitted in Nepal is an electrical engineer who supervises the maharajah's powerhouse in Khatmandu. Sometimes his highness craves for his primitive country some of the benefits of modern civilization, like electrically lighted streets, which are to be found in the capital. But as soon as the white men who crossed the border by special permission to make the installation had completed their task, they were hustled out of the country. Only one was allowed to remain, the engineer in charge of the plant, and he is as carefully watched as if he were constantly plotting to run away with his royal master's favorite wife or to carry off on his back the wall of Himalayas which give Nepal the greatest natural fortifications in the world.

As I sat in Dr. Hornaday's office that day there flashed through my mind the many obstacles that had to be surmounted before I could hope to bring any Indian rhinos out of Nepal. I like tough jobs, as evidenced by the stubbornness with which I pursued my quest for some of the "firsts" that I have brought back to America. (By "firsts" I mean specimens never before seen in America alive, among my contributions being the anoa, or pigmy water buffalo of Celebes; the babirussa, rarest and least known of the wild swine; the proboscis monkey, the long-nosed monkey of Borneo; the siamang gibbon, largest of the gibbon apes, and others.)

But the search for Indian rhinos was so much tougher an assignment than any I had ever had before that I had a momentary feeling of blueness over the possibility of disappointing Dr. Hornaday, who had succeeded in interesting another well-known zoologist in his Indian rhino project, Dr. Charles Penrose, president of the Philadelphia Zoological society, and a brother of the late Boise Penrose. They had decided between them that if I would undertake an expedition with the object of securing two rhinos, one for each of the zoos, their institutions would assist in financing the project. These two men knew as well as I did that the expense of such an expedition would be too great to render it practicable from a profitable standpoint, so that the only way I could possibly have accepted the proposition was for them to share in the expense in case of failure and to pay me liberally for the animals if I delivered them.

They adopted so sporting an attitude toward the venture that I found myself taking a more optimistic view; and when, in addition, Dr. Hornaday said, "You have never failed me and I'm sure you won't fail me now," I made up my mind that I was going to make a success of the enterprise if I had to tunnel my way into Nepal and drag a couple of Indian rhinos out of the country on my back.

After all, Dr. Hornaday had never expressed a wish for any specimen that I had not been able to bring to him sooner or later. The anoas mentioned above were a striking example. Three years before I had been in this same office and the director had expressed a desire for specimens of these pigmy water buffalo for the New York zoo. Like the Indian rhino, there were none in the whole length and breadth of America. I had gone all the way into the interior of Celebes after an almost two years' search and brought out a pair of these rare little bovines, which are still on view in the Bronx park zoo.

On May 20 of that year I sailed for Hong Kong, on the first leg of one of the most important collecting trips I have ever undertaken. While the Nepal expedition for the Indian rhinos was my big objective, I also had other important orders. The St. Louis zoo had commissioned me to secure for them a collection of Indian waders (cranes, storks, flamingoes), also some gibbons and antelope. Then there was an order for a whole zoo which I had contracted for with the city of Dallas. I had spent three days in Texas, not long before I sailed, consulting with the Dallas authorities. I outlined plans for a moderate-sized zoo, naming a complete list of animals and birds with which to stock it and making suggestions as to the cages, pens and paddocks. I left the city with a contract to deliver within one year's time about 500 specimens of birds, mammals and reptiles.

I also had an order from Al G. Barnes, the circus man, for three elephants, two tigers, two tapirs and two orang-utans.

The New York zoo, in addition to the Indian rhino, had commissioned me to get a pair of snow leopards, a pair of markhor goats and a few smaller animals. Philadelphia, too, did not confine its order to the rhino, my supplementary commission from Dr. Penrose being for a pair of anoas, a pair of snow leopards, one orang-utan and a pair of binturongs.

I also had a few smaller orders. I merely mention these additional orders to give you an idea of the extent to which my business had developed and the scale on which I was operating. In this chapter I shall confine myself to the expedition into Nepal for the rhinos.

My diary reveals that I arrived in Singapore on the 28th of June. There I made preliminary arrangements for the trapping, and, in some cases, the purchase of the specimens I was after. Then I sailed for Calcutta.

At Calcutta I had a stroke of good luck. One of the many inquiries designed to help me discover some one who could be helpful in getting me on the right side of the maharajah of Nepal resulted in the information that General Kaiser Shum Shere, a nephew of the maharajah, was in town. He had come down from Khatmandu in his official capacity and had established a sort of Nepalese headquarters in Middletown row, in the European section of Calcutta, where he had taken a large house for the season.

I had to get an introduction to this Nepalese prince; that was obvious. Various schemes popped into my head. I finally hit upon a very simple plan that involved an old friend of mine, a lady of considerable social standing who lived in Calcutta. I was fairly sure that if I asked her to invite General Shum Shere for tea and include me among those invited, she would do so.

She cheerfully fell in with my plans and the tea was arranged.

Shum Shere proved to be a dapper little man of about 35, with a dapper little beard. He was neatly attired in white flannel trousers and a tweed coat. When one remembers how many native princes of all sorts and varieties in that part of the world never miss an opportunity to deck themselves out like musical comedy field marshals in the grand finale when the king enters, you will realize how agreeably surprised I was on finding General Shum Shere to be an unpretentious, businesslike sort.

Rather casually—for I did not want to press my business too hard—I mentioned the fact that I was after a pair of Indian rhinos. All I wanted to find out for the moment was whether I was right in my belief that there were some left in Nepal. To my delight I learned that the Nepalese borders sheltered what were practically the last survivors of the species. As I thought, they were royal game, controlled by the maharajah. The prince evinced interest in my expedition, did not encourage or discourage me, and wound up by inviting me to call on him at his house in Middleton row. This was real progress.

In the Park street section of Calcutta which takes in Middleton row, most of the houses and grounds are enclosed within a high wall, with great iron gates at the entrances. On arriving at the gate of Shum Shere's house a few days later—(I didn't waste much time in taking him at his word)—I found ferocious-looking Gurkha troops on sentinel duty. In his scabbard each of the fierce-visaged devils had three ominous knives. As I eyed the barbaric roughnecks I decided on a polite approach.

But my honeyed tones availed me nothing. They didn't understand what I was saying. I had made the mistake of calling without an interpreter. I tried sign language. This was also a dismal failure. Then one of the Gurka lads made a gesture of his own. He used one of his knives for the purpose. With it he pointed to the street. A second Gurkha removed a knife from his scabbard and pointed streetward. Obviously the boys were inviting me to take the air. I decided to leave.

The next day I returned, accompanied by Lal Bahudar, my No. 1 Indian boy, a native of the Nepalese border country, who spoke the language as fluently as he did Hindustani. He shouldered his way right past those fierce-looking Gurkha sentinels, shouting to them in a queer dialect as he ploughed ahead. I learned later that he told them I had come all the way from America at the general's request and that if they interfered they'd get into trouble.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter—

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way.

I have received of my dressmaker my measurements which in August last were: Bust 40, hips 45½, waist 33½ inches, which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 3 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet.

(Mrs.) S. R., London, England."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle—take as directed every morning. When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—

But remember to take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Allison's Drug Store or any drug store in the world, and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not joyfully satisfy you—why money back.—Adv.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and it is the moment doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Don't let them count you out!

Because of unsightly skin blemishes

An ugly skin just will not attract

"I am so happy my skin is now clear"

"Of course, I am overjoyed . . . why shouldn't I be . . . my friends don't secretly pity me . . . fewer evenings alone . . . more dance and bridge invitations—all because I have back my beautiful, clear skin and I really revel in the joy of living."

So often a poor complexion, pallor of the skin, pimples and boils are associated with lack of strength, underweight, poor appetite and digestive disturbances, and are symptoms of a deficiency of hemoglobin in the blood.

If your skin is not clear and you do not feel well and strong why not try S.S.S.? It is a tonic with rare qualities . . . palatable and easily assimiliated because it is liquid. It stimulates the secretions of the stomach . . . aids digestion . . . restores the appetite . . . regenerates hemoglobin—builds up the red-blood-cells—and gives greater resistance against infection and disease.

S.S.S. helpfulness is illustrated by the fact that nearly one-half of those who have taken it for the first time do so upon the recommendation of some friend who has been benefited.

Why not start on the road to better health and more happiness today? Get S.S.S. from any drug store. In two sizes: regular and double—the latter is more economical and is sufficient for a two weeks treatment.

S.S.S. builds sturdy health

Answers to Questions

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Have we had the pleasure of serving you through our Washington information bureau? Can't we be of some help to you in your problems? Our business is to furnish you with authoritative information, and we invite you to ask us any question of fact in which you are interested. Send your inquiry to The Record News Information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Enclose two cents in coin or stamps for return postage.

Q.—Should a bride carry a bouquet or a prayer book at her wedding?—E. A.

A.—Either is correct. The choice rests with the individual.

Q.—Which are the 10 largest cities in Canada?—C. B.

A.—In order of size they are Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Hamilton, Quebec, Ottawa, Calgary, Edmonton and London.

Q.—Who went on the American tour with Lindbergh?—D. H.

A.—Phillip Love and Donald Keyhoe accompanied Colonel Lindbergh on his American tour in another plane.

Q.—Did Enrico Caruso ever broadcast over the radio?—L. M.

A.—He did sing over the radio for Lee De Forest in 1909 from the Metropolitan Opera house, singing Siciliana.

Q.—When was electricity first used in a theater?—L. H.

A.—This occurred in the Savoy theater, New York City, in 1882. The play was Iolanthe and King Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, was present.

Q.—Will sharks follow a ship for many days?—F. G.

A.—They have a most extraordinary power of swimming, great endurance, and rapidity of motion. Many large ones inhabit the open ocean, following ships for weeks.

Q.—Who was taller, George Washington or Abraham Lincoln?—M. S.

A.—Abraham Lincoln was six feet four inches in height. At the time of his death, George Washington was six feet three and one-half inches. He doubtless was at least six feet four inches in his prime.

Q.—What was Briand's oath that there should be no war?—E. K.

A.—The famous oath pronounced by Aristide Briand in an address to the assembly of the League of Nations on Sept. 11, 1930, was: "Tant que je serai ou je suis, il n'y aura pas de guerre. (So long as I am where I am, there shall not be war).

Q.—Does the prohibition amendment apply to the Philippines?—S. A.

A.—The bureau of prohibition says that the eighteenth amendment does apply to the Philippine Islands but that the Volstead act does not. This is due to the fact that in section 5 of the Jones act, an act of congress passed in 1916, the statement is made that thereafter no laws passed by congress shall apply to the Philippine islands.

Q.—Has Soviet Russia entirely scrapped the literature of prerevolution days?—M. M.

A.—By no means. While literature glorifying the capitalist system and the old royalty and nobility is not permitted to be circulated, pure classics of certain kinds continue to be admired. This being the centennial of the death of Goethe, the Soviets are celebrating the occasion with appreciative observances and the State Publishing House has just issued a memorial edition of Goethe's works in 13 volumes.

Q.—How is Turkey governed?—R. A.

A.—In October, 1925, a new constitution was adopted proclaiming the Republic of Turkey. The president is elected for four years. The national assembly is composed of 283 deputies elected for four years, and has legislative powers only. The executive power is intrusted to a cabinet responsible to the assembly. A council of state, the members appointed by the president, fulfill the functions usually met by the upper house of the legislature. The franchise is limited to males over 18 years of age.

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

From this distance it looks as if the man who said the Democrats would have no trouble in "getting together at Chicago" forgot to add the words "for a battle royal."

A New York jury awarded a young dancer $6,000 because a young man had "cast a spell on her." Evidently, the spell didn't work on the jury.

If television is really perfected soon, a lot of our soprano crooners will create a run on the beauty parlors.

The Bonus Marchers

BEFORE men had learned to write there must have been "armies" in march, not against enemies without, but to petition chiefs and kings and rulers for favors or the redress of wrongs. Certainly history records many instances of such marchers. In some cases the "armies" gained what they petitioned. In others their leaders were beheaded or put to death by other methods and their followers scattered or imprisoned.

The several "armies" of bonus marchers being organized for a trek to Washington to remain until the bonus is paid are in no danger of being imprisoned or put to death nor is there much chance of them gaining their objective—cash payment—for before most of these armies can reach Washington congress will have adjourned.

Times of depression and unemployment nearly always see groups in march. Coxey's army of 1893 was an example. Such marches are in the nature of an adventure. If those who participate are often hungry it is no worse being hungry in a group than by one's self. In fact hunger and all other forms of misery likes company.

So there will likely be plenty of recruits for all the armies that start to march to Washington to get cash payment of the bonus. But those who are more serious in their plans will remain at home and vote in the primaries and elections the marchers will miss.

A Surprise For Farmers

THIS story comes from Sydney, New South Wales, and it is of interest to southern cotton growers as well as to Americans who are growers of tobacco."

"Australia, which 10 years ago grew practically no tobacco or cotton, expects to supply all her domestic requirements this year and to have an exportable surplus next year. Formerly Australia imported the bulk of her cotton and tobacco from the United States. Australian tobacco growers with an estimated crop of 10,000,000 pounds will be guaranteed an average price of 55 cents a pound by the government. Australian cotton growers will receive no bounty this year but have been guaranteed 19 cents a pound."

It is interesting to be told that the cotton bounty formerly cost the Australian government about $600,000 annually while the industry was being established. John Bull and his children in the British dominions are blundering through.

Governor Bill and Senator Jake

SENATOR JACOB J. LOY of the Sherman district wired Gov. William Henry Murray of Oklahoma soliciting the help of the majestic William in gaining the 22 Oklahoma votes for Speaker John Nance Garner. Alfalfa William is a very mild spoken individual. This is the return message he shot in the direction of Senator Jake:

"Press reports of withdrawal were reported by enemies. My name will be presented to the national convention. I am against any New Yorker. Do not see any hope for Garner."

Now in order that honors should be even, a nervy grower of alfalfa in Oklahoma should wire the speaker soliciting his favor in obtaining the 46 Texas votes for the native son of Grayson county, who moved to Oklahoma when the movement hinted there was fame and fortune to be found at the golden rainbow end in the Ouachita mountain country.

Raiding Uncle Sam's Gold Cellars

FOREIGN nations which are poverty stricken and unable to meet annual payments of war debts are raiding the cellars of Uncle Sam where his huge supply of gold reserves is stored. Think of it, the United States lost roughly $100,000,000 in monetary gold in 10 days, the largest outflow since last autumn when the British lapse from the gold standard sent other European central banks scampering for metals. New York bankers advised that Americans should reconcile themselves to a considerable further outflow during the next few weeks. They say that since the passage of the Glass-Steagall act the supply of free gold in the United States, or gold in excess of the amount required for currency backing, has been increased and is estimated at around $1,200,000,000, "so some hundreds of millions can be readily spared" Then why worry about it?

SO THEY SAY!

I believe that we are on the threshold of a fundamental change in our popular economic thought, that in the future we are going to think less about the producer and more about the consumer.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential possibility.

The back of the depression cannot be broken by any single government undertaking. That can be done only with the cooperation of business, industry and agriculture in conjunction with the government. —President Herbert Hoover.

Unless the people take the matter into their own hands and refuse to manufacture arms, transport materials or serve in the armies, they are not likely to avert another disaster.—Dr. Albert Einstein, scientist.

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

(Copyright, 1932, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

(During illness of Mr. Winchell this column is being conducted by Paul Yawitz)

Things That Get in My Hair!

(That is, what little there is left of it.)

The hobby of Louis XVI of France was filing keys, oiling bolts and tinkering with locks. (Golden locks?)

That women suffer seasickness more often than men. (Well, there must have been a lot of them disguised in men's clothing on the last trip I made across.)

A cockroach, when falling, spreads its wings and glides to the ground. (So as to be in good condition for the guy who steps on him.)

That if a lobster loses a leg, a new one will grow in its place. (Was that dame who pulled my leg last night experimenting?)

That the earliest coin in existence is dated 500 B. C., and comes from Asia Minor. (And I thought all along that it came from Calvin Coolidge.)

That if a dog has white hair on any part of his body, the tip of his tail will also be white. (Now, there is something to worry about!)

That every sea captain gets a third of the value of every ship, wreck or cargo he saves. (But suppose he saves your wife?)

That the longest line across the U. S. is between West Quoddy, Maine, and Cape Alva, a distance of 2,607 miles. (Ask my office boy, he thinks the longest distance is from my desk to the composing room.)

That of all the symptoms that are manifested by kidney trouble there is none that results in a pain in the back. (Maybe those pains in my back last night were caused by eye-strain!)

That a cuttle-fish is not a fish; it is a mollusk, and, therefore, it is of the animal family. (But why bring a fellow's family into a discussion like this?)

That tortoise shell is not obtained from the tortoise. (And a lot of people have learned that you don't get money from a money-man.)

That pigeon fanciers consider all the New York park pigeons undesirable and leave them unmolested, because if they are put in with the private flocks they will lure the females away with them. (You see, folks, it's the same the whole world over.)

That parrots are not the only talking birds. Ravens, magpies and mynas frequently develop superior human voice imitations.

That earth-worms are all of one sex. (They probably have figured it out and come to the conclusion that it's all a lot of apple sauce, anyway.)

That Benjamin Franklin fell madly in love when he was past 70. (A fellow who fooled around with lightning all his life should have known better.)

That glass eyes are hollow and that they do not last indefinitely. (But a hollow head usually lasts a lifetime.)

That lead is lighter than gold and only half as heavy as platinum. (I'd still rather be hit by a lump of platinum.)

That metal objects are never colder than wooden ones, but that they appear so because metal is a better conductor than wood. (The best conductor of cold, however, is a sheet of paper saying: "Beginning next week your salary will be cut 10 per cent.")

That a grasshopper's ears are located in his front legs. (Qualifying him for the job of columnist with seniority rights.)

That the palaces of Crete had running water over 2,000 years ago. (Some of our local hotels must have been built before that.)

That Shoemakersville, Pa., does not number a single shoemaker in its entire population.

That the peach was first grown in China.

That U. S. currency was once printed by private concerns. (But why speak about the dead?)

That the French national anthem was dedicated to the grandfather of Count Von Luckner, Germany's naval war ace. (I don't want to brag, but while we're on the subject, I'd like to tell you that they once dedicated something to me, too. I think it was leprosy.)

That when Ovid, who lived in 43 B. C., was asked why he favored women over 40 years of age, he replied, "No new wine for me."

That the average healthy individual can live 10 full days without food or water. (And there's been plenty of proof of this lately.)

That a female fish is distinguished from a male fish of its species by its darker color.

That Marie Antoinette frequently interviewed people while in her bath tub. (When you took a bath in those days, you advertised it.)

It wouldn't harm you to do the same thing.—Editor.

Simmons U. Confers Two Honorary Degrees

ABILENE, Texas, June 2. (AP)—Two honorary degrees were conferred at the 40th annual commencement of Simmons university here today. Dean W. S. Allen of Baylor university, who addressed the graduates, was made a doctor of laws. Charles Francis Horner of Kansas City was given the degree of doctor of music in education.

Degrees were conferred on 66 members of the class, and 27 others who are to receive their diplomas in August, were recognized in the ceremonies.

Almost Flies Self

MIAMI, Fla.—A research professor of the University of Miami has designed the "vacuplane" which, due to a partial vacuum created by baffle fins, is said to have a very low take-off and landing speeds. The wing is hollow and open on top. This opening creates the vacuum.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE TRAGEDY OF ROBERT MORRIS—At the beginning of the American revolution, Robert Morris headed one of the largest and most prosperous commercial houses in Philadelphia. He is one of the signers of the declaration of independence.

As the financier of the American revolution he gave the government of his cash and credit so unstintingly that it is said that the American campaigns in 1780 would have been impossible without Morris' aid. He procured the munitions for General Green, he raised a federal loan of $1,400,000 to finance Washington's army in 1781, and organized the Bank of North America.

He refused the post of secretary of the treasury and eventually returned to his business. But his private undertakings failed ultimately and the great financier of the American revolution was clapped into a debtor's jail to spend the declining years of his useful life in a cell. (1798-1802).

Review Of U. S. Governmental Finance Shows 47 Years Of 'Red Ink' Budgets

Greatest Concern In Connection With Present Deficit in Fact That Figure Is Larger Than Any Other Year

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, June 2.—While it is annoying to officials charged with the conduct of the nation's fiscal affairs, and to the people as a whole, to have a treasury deficit, there is nothing new or startling about such a situation and it does not forecast the end of the republic. The actual fact is that the treasury has in 47 out of 144 years of functioning shown a deficit.

The balancing of the books at the close of 47 years has shown that treasury warrants or checks have been drawn for more money than taxes and other dues have brought in to the public coffers. In other words, the check stubs have added up to more than there has been in the treasury. This means an unbalanced budget. Yet we've always paid out.

Largest Deficit

The deficit by the end of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1932, will be not less than $2,500,000,000. This is by far the largest peace-time deficit the treasury has ever revealed, and it is that fact which is causing congress and the president a good deal of worry.

While it is true that most of the years showing treasury deficits have been years of peace, war years have created, as a rule, our heaviest shortages. The largest deficit ever shown was in 1919. When the world war was over, the effects of war finance were wholly responsible for the deficit which amounted to the staggering total of $14,297,760,281. The war year of 1918 registered a deficit of $9,611,482,739, and 1917 showed an excess of expenditures over receipts of $961,717,309.

U. S. Lending Money

It must be remembered that in these years the United States was lending billions to the allies, was equipping and transporting overseas an army of 4,000,000 men, was building a merchant fleet as well as strengthening the navy, and was engaged in a variety of other expensive war activities.

Money flowed out of the treasury like water through a sieve. The amazing fact is that this greatest of all conflicts caused a treasury deficit in only three years. The year 1920 showed the tables turned and the account books of the public exchequer revealing an actual surplus of tax receipts over expenditures of $562,669,197.

Long Stretch of Prosperity

For a solid 10 years after 1920, the treasury showed an unbroken record of annual surpluses, some running over half a billion. From a surplus of $228,090,587 in 1920, in spite of the fact that it was a depression year, the tide reversed and 1931 showed a deficit of $975,838,220. Only twice before in our century and a half of history has there been such an unbroken stretch of treasury prosperity. In the period from 1825 to 1836, inclusive, there was a spell of 12 years of treasury surpluses.

The most amazing record, however, is found in the period following the civil war. From a heavy deficit of $963,540,619 in 1865, the last year of the war between the states, treasury finance switched to a surplus in 1866 of $37,223,208, beginning an unbroken run of no less than 28 years without a deficit.

Scarcely a nation in the world can match this record. The panic of 1893 ended this generation of ease in the public funds. It may be significant that it was in the civil war that the liquor tax was levied, after years of freedom from taxation and, thereafter, receipts from liquor and tobacco, indirect taxes of a sales tax variety, kept the national budget balanced.

Tariff Only Revenue

The nation does not yet know how long the existing deficit will plague treasury officials. The president and some leaders in congress have taken the position that the budget must be balanced this year. Whether that will prove possible remains to be seen. It is one of the chief points of pride in the history of American finance that the United States never has permitted a war to upset the balance of its fiscal affairs for long. Peace-time deficits have lasted longer in this country than those produced by war.

The surplus with which the treasury started was a small one—only $140,886—but it was a surplus. That figure is given for the years 1789 to 1791. The next year, 1792, showed a deficit of $1,409,572. The tariff was the sole source of federal revenue at that time, it being known that internal taxation by a federal government would drive the states from the newborn union.

Good Years and Bad

Surpluses and deficits practically alternated while the treasury was finding itself until 1801 when a prosperous period arrived. In 1801 there was a surplus of $3,540,749 and thereafter for the next seven years a surplus was shown. The top year was 1807 when the surplus exceeded $8,000,000, a mint of money in those days. Meantime, the revolutionary war debt had been paid off.

Then came a deficit, then two years of surplus and next the heavy deficit of $10,478,836, the largest the country had yet known, in the year 1812. The United States had been under heavy annual expense in paying tribute to the pirates of Algiers, and then went into a naval war with Great Britain on shipping issues.

Deficit Mounted

The deficit mounted to $17,000,000, to $25,000,000; then fell to $17,000,000. By 1816 it had been switched to a surplus of $17,090,000, the largest surplus we had ever enjoyed, only two years after the war. The genius of Albert Gallatin, the aged Swiss immigrant who was secretary of the treasury at this period, wiped the war debt clear.

Deficits and surpluses alternated again until 1825 when a 12-year period of surpluses was registered. It was in this period that the federal government began a free distribution of its extra funds to the states in the shape of dividends on their membership in the union.

Hard times came again in 1837 when the Bank of the United States incident caused panic to sweep the country. In the next seven years there were six deficits and then came the Mexican war. It produced the largest deficit to date, $30,785,000 in the second year of the war, the first year having shown a surplus.

Deficits of $9,000,000 and $13,000,000 followed and then, following the habit of snapping quickly out of war finance difficulties, the treasury again reported a surplus. Eight years of surpluses followed and then, following the devastating panic of 1857 which affected England or was caused by an English panic—it might be difficult to determine—there came the heavy peace-time deficit of $27,529,000. Thereafter, for eight years, the treasury had a deficit, because before recovery could be effected, the nation found itself in the furnace of civil war.

That event is interesting as an answer to those who hold that the poverty of a national government prevents war. The United States had had a treasury deficit four years when the nation sprang into the bloodiest and bitterest conflict in its entire history before or since. Although it cost so much more in money, the world war, so far as American participation is concerned, was a skirmish compared with the civil war.

On Right Side

A curiosity of American treasury finance is that perhaps the worst panic did not create a deficit. The great panic of 1873 dragged the surplus from over $100,000,000 to $2,000,000, but did not create a deficit. The panic of 1893 did and there were five years in red ink.

Lean years and fat, the treasury has been on the right side of the ledger most of the time. Less than a third of treasury history has been written in red.

Dire Need of Livestock Producers Described

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—Representatives of three national agricultural organizations told the house banking committee that livestock producers and dairy farmers, who could not receive aid from the reconstruction corporation, are in dire need of assistance.

Representative Davis, Democrat, Tennessee, asking the committee to approve his bill to permit loans to these groups, presented a letter from the National Grange endorsing the idea and A. A. Loomis, secretary of the National Dairy Union, and Chester H. Gray, of the American Farm Bureau federation, testified in support of it.

Texas Tech Summer School To Offer Farm Courses

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 2.—Two courses in farm management, designed especially to aid vocational agriculture teachers in their work with boys studying farm methods, will be offered at the summer school at the Texas Technological college this summer, it has been announced.

The courses were approved by the vocational agriculture department at Austin, C. L. Davis, head of the department, having asked that the courses be given.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

SIMEON FESS

WASHINGTON, June 2.—With the Chicago conventions drawing nearer, nobody in Washington has been able to say definitely what congress might do.

Would it, in a last furious flurry, rush through some sort of a budget-balancing program, cap that with somebody's relief plan and then shut up shop until December; or would it drag through a summer session, marking time while the conventions were meeting and resuming legislative business afterward?

The obvious thing, despite statements that congress is fully prepared to deny itself the pleasure of attending the conventions, is that the political future of a good many senators and representatives might be tied up with mixing in with those convention crowds.

There is every reason for the great majority of the legislators to have some sort of place in the convention picture, at least in the news sent home about their own state delegations.

Repairing the Fences

Beyond that lies the election campaign itself. Except for men retiring voluntarily or involuntarily from congress on March 4 next, July, August, September and October will be vital for fence-mending at home.

Most of those who have gone down in the primaries believe that the necessity of being in Washington while their successful opponents were free to roam the stumps at home was an important factor in their defeat.

Yet few dared openly to abandon their legislative duties in fear of criticism for that.

There has never been a time when the congressional circle was more torn by opposing requirements of the vote-getting art.

Just how sensitive everybody is was illustrated by the reception in the senate of a news account of what happened when that body took to meeting an hour or so earlier to speed things up. There were no senators at all on hand when the gavel fell. It took some minutes to rustle them out of committee rooms to form a quorum.

Fess' Uneasiness

Senator Fess, whose dual role of Republican whip and chairman of the national committee involved him particularly, said the news accounts conveyed an impression that the senate was "tardy, indifferent and unsolicitous" of the public interest in times of stress. He feared it would not be corrected.

Defenders of congress say that senators and house members, by and large, are working harder and are more anxiously keeping their ears to the ground for echoes from home than in many years. That very fact, they contend, accounts for much of the delay.

Once Prosperous Darky Beset By Series Of Trouble

DALLAS, June 2. (INS)—Once upon a time Eddie Walker, 32-year-old negro, had a good job, a good income, and his wife was wearing a $3,500 diamond ring. But trouble is coming to him now in large doses.

Two years ago, while acting as chauffeur for Ben Linz, wealthy Dallas jeweler, he stole the ring from Linz's store when passing through it and gave it to his wife.

With the passing of time, Walker lost his job and took up bootlegging, officers say. He was jailed the other day for violating the prohibition law, and his wife was trying desperately to bail him out.

As a last resort, she offered the ring to a pawnbroker. He refused to make a loan on it, and instead notified city detectives. The sleuths recovered the ring. Now Walker will face a charge of theft. And there is no bond for him in sight.

Denton Youth Sentenced For Firearm Robberies

M'KINNEY, Texas, June 2. (AP)—Ralph Howard Alsup was convicted today on a charge of robbery with firearms and was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

The 22-year-old Denton man was tried in connection with a series of store robberies at Celina the night of April 20 when Mayor Francis and several other citizens were held captive.

Alsup and a companion were arrested near Denton several days after the robberies. A companion case against Jack Hammett, facing a similar charge, has been set for tomorrow.

The jury deliberated about 45 minutes in reaching its verdict against Alsup.

COUNTY TAX MEET CALLED

Rally at Iowa Park Set For June 16

Plans for a county-wide rally of taxpayers to be held at Iowa Park on the night of Thursday, June 16, were adopted Thursday night at a meeting of the Wichita County Taxpayers association held in the 78th district courtroom with about 45 persons present.

Tom J. Pace, secretary of the meeting, and C. C. Hudson were appointed by general chairman Judge John C. Kay as a committee to obtain an out of town speaker for the occasion, and to plan other details of the program.

County Committee

Tentative formation of a county committee to encourage the attendance of taxpayers from every community in the county was begun Thursday night, and is to be completed this week. Among those named were the following:

Iowa Park—J. A. Tanner, F. E. Hill, Jess Van Horn, Ernest Birk, and A. H. Smith; Valley View—W. L. Hodges, John Yarborough, J. C. Strauss, and J. W. Carter; Burkburnett—A. Lohoefener, I. Harwell, Hi Willis, and Paul Browning; Electra—J. G. B. Totten, Edward Schlaffke and E. R. Brown. Committeemen to represent Wichita Falls are to be named this week by Judge Kay.

The meeting for Iowa Park two weeks hence was planned by those present Thursday night as a means of enlisting in the program of the taxpayers association the support of the entire county. Lack of interest as reflected in small attendance at the meetings held thus far at the courthouse was deplored by Judge Kay, Mr. Hudson and others in the talks given Thursday night.

People Apathetic

"I have been discouraged at the seeming apathy of the people in this county," Judge Kay said. "Maybe it is the fault of the leadership. I have never seen anything like it. People are prone to cuss the government, and then do nothing about it. I have worked at this campaign to reduce taxes until, with so few converts, I am beginning to feel like Gen. Smedley Butler said he felt about Philadelphia—that he 'had spells when he did not give a d—— whether the people were safe or not.' I can see why he said it.

"This is the most serious situation this country ever has faced," Judge Kay continued. "I do not know what you are going to do about it. Congress is stretching it's soles trying to find some new place to tax us. There must be a halt somewhere."

Those present Thursday night unanimously voted endorsement of the questionnaire put out by the state association for submission to all legislative candidates. Such candidates, and candidates for county commissioners, are to be given an opportunity at the Iowa Park meeting to express themselves on the questionnaire, it was announced.

Drug Clerk Freed In Death Of Girl

LAREDO, Texas, June 2. (INS)—On recommendation of state's attorney's Olie Carter, 19-year-old drug store clerk, was acquitted today of murder charges in connection with the death of Mary Ellis, young divorcee.

The girl was shot through the neck as she sat in the back seat of Carter's automobile. Carter, who brought her body to police station, said he had his arm around her neck when she was shot.

After the final defense witness today, attorneys for both sides withdrew for a conference. Then District Attorney John A. Valls told the jury he had a reasonable doubt as to Carter's guilt and asked that he be acquitted.

The final witness was W. E. Mayberry, customs official, who said he had been told by Capt. Frank Hamer of the Texas rangers, that the girl died, not of a pistol wound, but of a wound caused by a .410 gauge shotgun.

Fire Department's Mascot Has Rival

"Mac" has an understudy, but late Thursday night the veteran mascot of the Wichita Falls fire department central station was not aware of the fact. The new dog has been named "Little Mac" and bears a remarkable resemblance to "Mac." The understudy is much younger and is not as large as "Mac," but his immediate ability to make friends with the firemen on duty assures him a place on the station staff.

"Little Mac" was found on Sibley street Thursday morning by Police Traffic Officer Dick Chapman, who noticed the resemblance and took the pup to the fire station. The new staff member was enjoying numerous bones Thursday night while the veteran mascot was visiting friends in hopes of a banquet down town.

Fort Worth Plane Starts On Globe-Circling Flight

FORT WORTH, June 2. (UP)—Jimmy Mattern took off from Meacham field in his red, white and blue monoplane at 6 p. m. today on a flight that will take him some time tomorrow to New York to begin a globe-circling attempt.

His immediate destination was Oklahoma City, where he will pick up his flying partner, Bennett Griffin, and leave tomorrow morning for Floyd Bennett field, New York City.

All Prison Guards Sick; Inmates Miss Rare Chance

TRENTON, N. J., June 2. (US)—Two thousand convicts in the state prison might have escaped last Tuesday night—if they had known that all the guards were stricken simultaneously with sickness.

They had eaten tainted chicken salad. The keepers all have recovered. E. B. Stone, principal keeper, said today that none of the prisoners learned of the epidemic until too late to take advantage of it.

Wichita Bonus Army Dwindles Away To Lone Marine—And He's on His Way

Plans for a local delegation to join the "Lone Star expedition" of the bonus army now gathering in and marching on Washington, D. C., were resolved into a minor matter Thursday night at the regular meeting of the American Legion post. The post voted to disapprove any recognition of such a move, "believing the bonus army method to be the wrong way to secure passage of the desired legislation."

Ex-Marine on His Way

Homer Billings of this city, former U. S. marine, was in evidence at the meeting with arguments for the bonus army and following a heated discussion of the plan left the meeting declaring "I've got to get going to catch a freight to Washington." A telegram was read at the meeting announcing mobilization of the "Lone Star expedition" in the 500 block on North Akard street in Dallas. The wire was signed by San Antonio bonus army recruits who announced intentions of leaving that city Friday morning.

It had previously been announced here that 25 recruits were certain to join the bonus army with representatives also expected from Burkburnett and Electra. Announcement was made in the open discussion of the matter that if recruits desired they might hold an election to choose a leader after the legion adjourned. The meeting failed to materialize.

Former Senator W. D. McFarlane of Graham was the featured speaker at the meeting and pictured the work of lobbyists as the strongest factor in hurting legislation for the issuing of the remainder of adjusted compensation certificate funds.

Senator McFarlane declared that such legislation can yet be secured and that in his belief the cause is not lost.

"Former soldiers of the world war have been called treasury raiders while former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon approved tax refunds amounting to millions of dollars for relief of railroads, defunct banks and insurance companies," the speaker declared.

Committees Named

Mr. McFarlane described payments to railroads and war contractors at the close of the world war and added that if veterans were paid in the same proportion each would receive approximately $8,000.

Post Commander Roy J. Daniel announced the nominating and auditing committees of the post at the meeting. The nominating group includes Victor Nobles, chairman; L. M. Thayer, Milton J. Gaines and Voyle N. Armstrong. The auditing committee includes Vernon Leggett, chairman; Bill Curd and Gus Hecht.

HUNDREDS JOIN BONUS MARCH

Texas Veterans Leave For Washington

Executives of the Texarkana American Legion post adopted a resolution expressing stern disapproval of the "on to Washington" campaign and any parades or demonstrations favoring the bonus payment. Some of the officials said Congressman Patman, whose home is in Texarkana, looked with disfavor on the veterans' trek.

San Antonio reported 120 veterans planned to leave Thursday at midnight by automobiles and trucks and 350 would depart Friday at 6 a. m., probably by train, for Dallas after a breakfast tendered by the Salvation Army and a blessing by the Rev. Louis Davis. The veterans there furnished records of world war service and agreed to subject themselves to strict discipline.

One of the automobiles carried the service men's records, while another was rigged up as a first aid car. It was planned to carry along a donkey to present to Congressman Patman in Washington, as well as a goat mascot.

Fort Worth Group

At Fort Worth, where leaders of a group of veterans were put off a freight train Wednesday night but some 50 men clung to the train as it left for Texarkana, another contingent was organized to follow the early starters.

Two automobiles of veterans left Amarillo for a concentration point. R. R. Nation, commander of the Amarillo post of the American Legion, declared he believed the march would do more harm to the bonus cause than good.

About 200 veterans left Houston over a route not announced after services at the Independent church conducted by the Rev. William States Jacobs, who admonished the men to be orderly and never to resort to violence.

At Longview, several hundred veterans paraded to the railroad yards to meet a group from Houston which arrived on a freight train.

Ferguson to Speak

Hiram Williamson, president of the War Veterans Relief association of Dallas, announced former Gov. James E. Ferguson would speak Saturday night to former service men expected to concentrate in Dallas. He said a parade of an expected 1,100 to 1,300 "marchers" would be held prior to the former governor's address.

Appealing for funds to provide food for the visitors, Williamson said about 300 veterans moving toward Washington already had arrived in Dallas. They were fed by the association and given sleeping quarters at its dormitory. Veterans from Paris, Cisco, Greenville, Weatherford and other Texas cities were among early arrivals.

"I am opposed to the idea of this march on Washington because I believe we should work purely through political channels," Williamson said. "However, these boys are pouring into Dallas, they have made up their minds to go on to Washington, and our organization is doing everything to help them while they are here."

Plans formed tentatively in Dallas called for stops in Paris and Texarkana for peaceful demonstrations and parades in honor of Congressman Patman.

P. Viola, chairman of an executive committee of five directing the marchers at San Antonio, said the expedition was not connected in any way with Communistic activities.

"The Lone Star bonus expedition is not a mob," he said. "It is an orderly march by veterans to petition the government for which we fought during the world war."

He declared every effort had been made to insure success of the expedition. Members were required to show service certificates and agree to military discipline. None but the physically fit were accepted, Viola said a blind man and three men believed undesirable were rejected.

In an effort to prevent bonus "marchers" from boarding either passenger or freight trains, police at San Antonio were detailed to watch all northbound trains scheduled to leave after 8:30 p. m. Thursday.

Dietrich and Sternberg Trailed by Bodyguards

LOS ANGELES, June 2. (UP)—Stalwart bodyguards shadowing Marlene Dietrich and Josef von Sternberg, film celebrities, were disclosed today as part of an attempt to trap extortionists who demanded $20,000 on threats to kidnap the German actress' 11-year-old daughter.

U. S. INCREASES PUBLIC DEBT

Uncle Sam Borrows Eight Billions in 11 Months

WASHINGTON, June 2. (INS)—Uncle Sam borrowed $8,598,328,000 the first 11 months of the 1932 fiscal year, increasing the public debt $2,236,000,000 to a total of $19,036,916,000, the treasury announced today.

The debt was increased $440,000,000 in a month and on May 31 was $2,509,000,000 higher than on the same date last year. A week before the United States entered the war the public debt was $1,282,044,000, while the peak was reached Aug. 31, 1919, at $26,596,701,000.

Another sharp increase will take place June 15. There will be a maturity of $324,878,500 in 2½ per cent certificates and a new issue of a substantially larger amount.

The deficit May 31 was $2,654,950,000 as compared with $1,044,910,000 at the end of May, 1931. Expenditures for the 11 months were $4,455,219,000, an increase of $726,000,000 and receipts, $1,770,269,000, a loss of $914,000,000.

Income taxes yielded $895,978,000, a loss of $669,000,000 from last year and for the 12 months will total approximately $1,000,000,000.

Receipts declined $74,747,000 as a result of the suspension of the war debts for the year. On June 15, $157,254,000 in war debts would be due.

In the expense column there was a net increase of $500,000,000 as a result of the treasury's stock subscription in the Reconstruction Finance corporation. In addition loans of $22,824,000 have been paid out of the treasury for the corporation, this amount being charged to the public debt.

The United States imported more than 48,800,000 goat and kid skins in 1931.

$246,000 Friend

Testifying before the Hofstadter committee in New York City, Paul Block, publisher, said he had opened a joint brokerage account for Mayor Walker from which the mayor received $246,000 profits without investing anything. Block, who is shown on the stand, said the money was just a friendly gift. "When I told my son Walker earned $25,000 a year, he asked, 'Can he live on that?'" Block testified. "It was at that moment I made up my mind to do something for Jimmy."

TRIAL CONTINUED

BRYAN, Texas, June 2. (AP)—The murder trial of Wayne Davis, Brazos county dairyman, was continued today until Oct. 6, due to the illness of two defense witnesses. It was the second time the trial has been postponed. Davis was charged with the shooting last January of his son-in-law, Willie Lowell, 20.

PENAL SYSTEM DRAWS ATTACK

Psychiatrist Says Reform Impossible

PHILADELPHIA, June 2. (INS)—Rehabilitation of the American criminal under the present penal system is an impossibility and imprisonment itself is a most powerful stimulant to further crimes.

Dr. Benjamin Karpman of Washington expressed these views before the 88th convention of the American Association of Psychiatrists today. He added:

"Psychiatrists find themselves hampered in their work with convicts by a wall of resistance, a wall of hatred and resentment, which the criminals have built around themselves."

Erection of this moral barrier was attributed by Dr. Karpman to the rigid discipline and punishment of the inmates. He said:

"Constant discipline—discipline that is driven into the very flesh and bone—creates an atmosphere of revolt. This sort of thing taxes all human endurance. It makes meek men act like beasts. The convict is never allowed to forget he is a social outcast."

Not only does the present penal system fail to correct and reform, Dr. Karpman said, it contributes toward the continuation of criminal activities.

Infant's Appendix Removed Shortly After Its Birth

NEW YORK, June 2. (UP)—The removal of an infant's appendix immediately after its birth, believed to be the first successful operation of its kind on record, was revealed today at a Brooklyn hospital.

The operation was performed on a boy born on May 23 to Mrs. Florence Bryan, Brooklyn. At the child's birth physicians noticed a serious hernia involving the appendix and decided upon immediate surgery.

The baby, weighing three pounds at birth, has gained one pound and one ounce since the operation.

If you know your SILENCE and SAFETY

UNLESS you're willing to pay your good money for a back number when you buy tires—here are two pictures of vital interest to you.

In these pictures you see the two types of treads used on all the tires offered for sale today.

At the left is the smooth center tread, politely called by the tire industry a "rib center."

At the right—the Goodyear All-Weather.

Look at the "rib center" tire and you see gripless sled-runners of rubber in the middle of the tread where the tire contacts the road.

Look at this new Goodyear and you see traction in the tread center—big husky blocks of rubber—keen-edged—deep-slotted at an angle which means grip and stop, no matter which way a car wants to slide.

Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tires give you the type of tread shown at the right—Goodyears provide the complete and sure-footed safety of traction in the center of the tread where it belongs.

But this year Goodyears give even more. They give you safety and silence both in the first noiseless non-skid tread, the new Silent All-Weather.

Prices Record-breakingly Low!

Never in Goodyear experience—never in all tire history—have the prices of Goodyear Tires been as low as they are today. Don't try to guess them by what you last paid for tires. They're 50% lower than they were five years ago—30% lower than in 1929. And your money today buys the handsomest, toughest, longest-wearing Goodyear All-Weather ever built. Think of that, and ask yourself: Why buy any second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more!

TUNE IN on the Goodyear Program every Wednesday night over N. B. C. Red Network, WEAF and Associated Stations

What with new cars becoming faster, more powerful every year, it's well to remember that brakes may stop the wheels, but only TIRES can stop the car—and those tires must have traction.

What with engines and bodies built quieter than ever before, it's worth while to watch the tires you buy, and make sure they roll without rumble or hum.

Millions of motorists have discovered the superior safety of the All-Weather Tread. That is one of the big reasons why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

When you buy tires, get the newest and safest and best. All you need to do is ask yourself the simple question: "Why be satisfied with any second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more?"

GUS MORELAND ELIMINATED IN RIVER CREST TOURNAMENT

ONE WICHITAN SURVIVES TEST

Bobby Burns Advances To Quarterfinals

E. T. (Bobby) Burns was Wichita Falls' sole surviving representative in the River Crest invitation golf tournament at Fort Worth after two hectic first rounds yesterday featured by the elimination of Gus Moreland, state amateur champion, according to a United Press dispatch to The Record News.

Moreland's defeat, one of the biggest upsets of the year, was administered by Earl D. Irons, 40-year-old bandmaster of North Texas Agricultural college, in the second round. The score was 3 up and two to play. The defeat of the young champion leaves Byron Nelson of Fort Worth the outstanding favorite.

Bobby Burns went to the quarterfinals by a 7-6 victory over M. A. Thomas of Dallas.

Morris Norton lost in the first round to Johnny Avon of Dallas, 5 and 4. Bob Peck was defeated in the same round by John Falconer of Dallas, 3 and 2; and Byron Nelson defeated Stayton Bonner 4 and 3.

Louis Nowlin of Dallas beat W. L. Coleman Jr., of Fort Worth, 4 and 3.

Burns in the quarterfinals today will play Pat Kelly of Texon. The 36-hole finals will be played Saturday.

TRI-COUNTY MEET AT MUNDAY JUNE 11-17

Special to The Record News.

MUNDAY, Texas, June 2.—Dates for the annual tournament of the Tri-County Golf association have been set for June 11-17. The qualifying rounds are to be played on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, June 11, 12 and 13, the match play to be on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 14, 15 and 16, and the finals on Friday, June 17. All match games are to go 18 holes and finals 36 holes.

An attractive premium list is being arranged by the local tournament committee, and a larger number of entries is expected from Seymour, Haskell, Knox City and other clubs in Knox, Baylor and Haskell counties.

In preparation for the tournament the sand greens of the local course are being given special attention and new sand and oil are being added, the fairways are being mowed closely and the course will be in excellent condition for the tournament.

DALHART TOURNAMENT OPENS SATURDAY

DALHART, Texas, June 2.—More than 100 golfers from five states are expected here Saturday when the annual Dalhart Country club invitation tournament begins. Preparations are being made by the tournament committee to entertain this number at the annual banquet which will be held Saturday evening. The tournament is in charge of Guy McGee, Dick Coon and Buren Reynolds.

Qualifying rounds will be played Saturday and the tournament proper will begin Sunday morning, with the finals to be played Monday. A long driving contest will take place just before the banquet Saturday evening.

Prizes totaling more than $300 have been selected by the committee and are on display at local stores. Invitations thus far have been accepted by players from Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, and Kansas.

Shippers Down Pirates, 11 to 6

GALVESTON, June 2. (AP)—With extra base hits and accidents featuring, the Beaumont Exporters maintained their Texas league lead tonight, by outslugging the Galveston Bucs to win 11-6.

The game was halted for 15 minutes because of rain and the later innings were played in wind that amounted almost to a gale. Keith Molesworth, Buc shortstop and Tony Governor, centerfielder figured in a double knockout in the seventh when Governor crashed into the shortstop as he came in after Greenberg's high fly but both men were able to continue. Fox was taken from the game in the eighth with a sprained ankle hurt as he tried to make second on a double play ball. Score:

Eddie Moore Released; Ulmont Baker Sold

FORT WORTH, June 2. (AP)—Release of Eddie Moore, sale of Ulmont Baker and the leaving of Lil Stoner behind when the Panthers departed tonight for a three-day trip to Tyler were announced this afternoon by Ted Robinson, president of the Fort Worth baseball club.

Moore, veteran of seven seasons with the Panthers, was handed his unconditional release while Baker was sold to the San Antonio Indians.

Moore who joined the Panthers in 1926 was handed his release upon the arrival of Tom Nash, rookie oufielder who was with the San Antonio Indians last year and the Dallas Steers early during 1931. Baker also came to the Panthers in 1931, from Shreveport and failed to get going at third base this season.

SENS WIN TWO FROM BOSTON

Sox Drop First 4-6, And Second 1-8

BOSTON, June 2. (AP)—The Washington Senators took a double-header from the lowly Red Sox today by scores of 6-4 and 8-1.

Monte Weaver annexed his eighth victory of the season in the opener although he was taken out for a pinch hitter. Fred Marberry finished.

Bob Burke's left-handed slants puzzled the Sox in the second contest and they never were in the running.

Sam West was hit on the head by a pitched ball in the last frame of the nightcap and was forced to retire. Scores:

LEE CHECKS IN 150 NEW DONORS

Fund to Repair Rearing Ponds Grows

Half-dollars, dollars and even larger contributions rolled into the treasury of the Izaak Walton league Thursday as Wichita Falls anglers responded to the appeal for 50-cent donations to repair the league's rearing ponds at Lake Wichita and Lake Kemp.

Bill Lee, eminent tackle salesman and secretary of the Walton league, had made no check of funds received late Thursday. He was too busy enrolling the names of more than 150 new contributors to the fund. While anglers were turning in their gifts, a committee appointed at a meeting of sportsmen Tuesday night was completing plans for the proposed stamp tax on admissions to Lake Kemp and Diversion lake. This tax, if approved by the Waggoner estate, would provide a permanent fund for stocking the lakes on a scale which would assure good fishing. The funds being raised by the voluntary campaign are to provide for the immediate needs of rearing ponds already constructed.

Two leading Wichita Falls anglers, Newt Maer and Ray Hanks, were waging a hot unofficial battle Thursday to determine who would turn in the greatest number of contributions. Maer had more than 80 on the last count and Hanks was not far behind. From the list turned in, it appeared that Maer failed to carry any change with him as he accosted his friends, so that many of the gifts turned in were larger than the 50-cent quota set for each angler. Among the names on the Maer list was that of J. S. Bridwell, who recently gave $25 to the fund. Mr. Bridwell lost another dollar to the cause of good fishing when he encountered Maer on the streets.

Names added to the roll Thursday afternoon were:

R. B. Parker, Grady Payne, Ed B. Gorsline Jr., Roscoe Davis, G. D. Fox, Ben Lockhart, Bill Mitchell, John Coffey, J. R. Bachman, John Boswell, Shucks Lesley, E. B. Lehrack, Jim Biggs, Chas. NOBLE-LITTLE WINS AGAIN

Leaders Down Four Way Nine, 2 to 1

Little Willard Hillin bested Hubert Scott in one of the greatest pitchers' battles of the year Thursday afternoon on Harrison field and Noble-Little won a 2 to 1 decision over Four Way filling station. Each pitcher allowed only five hits and these were well scattered, and some were very scratchy.

On Debus field, the runner-up E-Z All Stars were held to a 5-5 tie by Dixon Sign company. Norvan Presley featured this game with four hits in four times up.

Enid Wilson Captures British Amateur Title

GOLF STARS IN GREENBELT

City Walker to Defend His Crown at Electra

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, June 2.—Among the prominent golfers who have announced their intentions of participating in the seventh annual tourney of the Greenbelt Golf association to be held at the local golf and country club are L. S. (City) Walker, of Quanah, present titleholder; Ira Merchant of Clarendon, runnerup last year; Frank Foxhall, Memphis, medalist; Al Cook, Clarendon; Roy Farrell, Whitney Anderson, Bill Rogers, all of Vernon; Clarence Haynes, Frederick, Okla.; and John Marriott, Bud Marriott, James Parr, Jack Parr, Roy LeBus, all of Electra.

Handsome and appropriate prizes and trophies will be awarded for the following events: Low medal qualifying round, winner of club team match, winner of each flight, runnerup of each flight, winner each consolation flight, runnerup of consolation flight, winner driving contest, each hole in one, first two eagles, and first 10 birdies.

Clubs to Select Teams

Each club, prior to playing the qualifying round, it was announced, should select a team of six players who will constitute a club team competing for the club team trophy. The club team having the low aggregate medal score will be awarded the trophy in this event.

Beginning Monday, June 13, qualifying rounds of 18-hole medal play will be held. A driving contest will take place at 5 o'clock from No. 1 tee. At 8 o'clock a barbecue and Calcutta pool will conclude the first day of entertainment at the clubhouse. Tuesday morning at 7:30, 18-hole match play will begin in all flights. At 1 p. m. match play will continue in all flights and consolations. At 9 o'clock the visitors will be honored with a dance at the clubhouse.

Finals on Thursday

Wednesday at 7:30 a. m., quarterfinals will begin in all flights with the semifinals slated at 1:30. Thursday morning, championship finals of 36 holes will take place while other finals will consist of 18 holes. The presentation of prizes will follow. Rufus Greene of Memphis, president of the association, will present the prizes to the winners.

Ladies are especially invited to the tournament. They will be guests at a bridge tournament to be held in the clubhouse. A driving contest will be sponsored for them Monday at 6 p. m. They are also invited to the barbecue and Calcutta pool.

Bill Strachan of Wichita Falls will be the starter. The tournament committee is composed of U. G. White, chairman; G. R. Davidson, and J. H. Marriott Jr.

RAILROADERS WIN

Seabury Won't Make Any Recommendations

By SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE

NEW YORK, June 2. (UP)—The delicate political question of Mayor James J. Walker's removal from office, offspring of the Hofstadter committee's investigation of the New York City government, will be left on the door step of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It will be left there, in all probability, shortly before the governor makes his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, and also very probably without any suggestions, instructions, or demands concerning its disposition.

Seabury Confident

Samuel Seabury, counsel for the committee, is said to believe that the record, the volumes of testimony now completed, and the circumstantial evidence linking Walker to unexplained and gigantic funds, should be sufficient to bring definite action from the governor.

Any charges brought against Mayor Walker would fall within two classes, it was pointed out today in legal circles.

Walker could be charged, as Seabury pointed out to the committee, with violation of the city charter for possession of securities in a concern holding a contract with the city.

Or the mayor could be charged, more generally, with having accepted gifts from persons who might expect favors in return, and with having violated the "standard of conduct set for public officials" by the governor himself.

Results Shown

A review of the accomplishments in New York's political housecleaning during the 21 months in which Samuel Seabury has been engaged in his investigations shows many tangible results.

Actually, there have been two separate inquiries. The first, begun 21 months ago under an order of the appellate division of the state court, with Seabury as referee, applied only to the magistrates' courts.

But out of that investigation grew the major inquiry, authorized by the state legislature.

The second inquiry was blocked throughout, first in the legislature and then in the open hearings, by the Democratic minority.

Despite these obstacles, the committee has shown, as a public record, that "wherever the wand of Tammany struck the city government, streams of gold gushed forth," in the words of the investigators.

Monday Last Day for State Candidates to File

Next Monday, June 6, will be the last day on which candidates for judicial, supreme judicial, representative, senatorial and congressional offices may file applications for places on the Democratic ballot for the primary to be held July 22, according to a notice given Thursday by Bert King, chairman of the Democratic county executive committee.

Precinct and county candidates may file such applications up and including June 18, it was announced.

Meteor Illuminates City

BANK BANDIT KILLS HIMSELF

Retired Banker's Son Shot Near Stanton

STANTON, Texas, June 2. (UP)—Surrounded by pursuers, Clinton Hair, 29, jobless son of a retired banker, killed himself today rather than submit to arrest after an unsuccessful attempt to hold up the First National bank here.

He sent three bullets into his body when a tire blew out on the automobile in which he led 10 miles south with Sheriff Milt Yater's posse in close pursuit.

John Lewis, president of the bank said Hair, member of a respected Big Spring family, appeared at the bank before the timelock on the vault opened and when told it could not be opened waved Lewis and George Davis, an employe, into a back room.

Despite a warning to be quiet and a menacing German pistol, Lewis called for help and the gunman fled out a side door to a parked automobile without firing a shot and drove south. Officers organized a hot pursuit.

Hair was a member of one of the first families of Big Spring. His father, J. J. Hair was formerly a banker. A brother is a teacher of Spanish. The body will be taken to Big Spring.

Hair formerly was employed in filling stations at Big Spring but had not worked in several months. He had been separated from his wife for some time and friends said he appeared nervous recently over financial difficulties.

Before burial the body will be viewed by the cashier of a Seagraves, Texas, bank held up a few days ago.

Paris Opera Beautified

Paris' famous opera is being improved and beautified. The attractive facade is now hidden by a scaffolding for men who are replacing the steelwork which supports the copper cupola, the steel having been eaten by rust. The statuary is to be cleaned and covered with a thin oily substance on which water has no effect. Four elevators are to be installed, and the hydrants, which are considered inadequate in case of fire, are to be replaced. The stone work of the front will be overhauled. Performances are to be continued as usual during the renovation.

Variety Of Party Menus Suggested By Emily Post

By EMILY POST
Author of "The Blue Book of Social Usage"

A buffet supper: Fish baked in pudding dish, cold cuts, vegetable salad. Creamed oysters, or crabmeat Newburgh, chicken croquettes and vegetable salad. Scrambled eggs and sausages, baked macaroni, chicken salad. Buttered rolls and sandwiches, coffee and fruit cup, ice cream and cake or two parieties of pie with each menu.

Buffet (or sit-down at little tables) menus for men: Pepperpot soup, boiled fowl stuffed with spaghetti and liver paste or beef stew with dumplings, scalloped tomatoes or fish chowder, Hungarian goulash and baked macaroni or a veal and ham pie or spaghetti milanaise. Buttered rolls, a hot pudding, or pies, or ice cream or macedoine of fruit, and coffee with each menu.

A child's party: Puree of lima beans or peas, scrambled eggs, ice cream and cake, milk, bread and butter.

A young child invites another young child in for supper: Cup of soup, a green vegetable, bread and butter, milk, prune pulp, sponge cake or cookies.

A wedding breakfast: Tomato bouillion, chicken or lobster or crabmeat Newburgh, creamed potatoes, hearts of lettuce, ice cream or egg croquettes, broiled chicken and celery salad, ice cream or scrambled eggs and sausage, chicken salad, ice cream; sandwiches, rolls, cake and coffee and fruit punch with each menu.

A tea party: Two or three varieties of "party" sandwiches, two or three varieties of cake, tea or coffee, fruit punch. (Wedding cake, if it is a tea following a wedding).

Any urgent request to which a personal reply from Mrs. Post is requested must be accompanied by a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Insurance Concern Asks Receivership for Railroad

ST. LOUIS, June 2. (AP)—A petition for receivership for the Mobile and Ohio railroad was filed in federal court here today by Gatch, Tennant and company, an insurance firm.

The petition was based on a claim by the insurance firm for $6,855 which it said represented unpaid insurance premiums.

Lower Phone Rates Denied

Efforts to bring down the high cost of telephoning in Britain have failed, the government, which owns and operates the lines, declaring such a move unwise. "In view of the relatively small surplus of the telephone account, I regret that a reduction in the charge for rental is at present impracticable," said Sir Kingsley Wood, the postmaster-general. "During the last 10 years reductions in telephone rates have totaled in the aggregate over $30,000,000 a year."

INDICTMENT OF FALL DROPPED

Remaining Cases Against Ex-Secretary Killed

WASHINGTON, June 2. (INS)—Three indictments which were returned against Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, in connection with the Teapot Dome oil cases, were nolle prossed in District of Columbia supreme court today.

Special Prosecutor Atlee Pomerene appeared before Justice James M. Proctor to request that the cases be dropped, and the court directed that they be taken from the docket.

One indictment charged Fall and Harry F. Sinclair with conspiracy. Sinclair was tried and acquitted, but Fall was never tried under that indictment.

Another indictment charging Fall and Sinclair with conspiracy was dropped because while an appellate court had sustained it, the prosecutors had obtained another indictment covering the same offense.

Fall, Edward L. Doheny and his son, Edward L. Doheny Jr., were named in the third indictment. Fall and the Dohenys were tried under another indictment covering the same offense, and were acquitted.

421 MIDDIES GET DIPLOMAS

Relatives and Sweethearts See Exercises

ANNAPOLIS, June 2. (AP)—Before their admiring relatives and best girls, 421 midshipmen of the naval academy today received diplomas from Secretary of the Navy Adams to end their careers as students of sea and air.

Only the usual quick step march from Dahlgren hall, where the commencement exercises were staged, to the academy chapel, where in the past so many of the middies have been married immediately after graduating, was missing from the traditional affair. Marriages were barred until later.

As the last diploma was handed out, the graduates flung their caps into the crowd to be scrambled for eagerly by relatives and friends as souvenirs.

From Dahlgren hall the newly graduated class, minus 42 who resigned to enter civilian life, marched to Bancroft hall where they were commissioned and sworn in as ensigns of the line officially to begin their navy career.

Early tomorrow half of the first and third class men will go aboard the battleship Wyoming, lying at anchor off Annapolis roads, for their annual six weeks cruise. The other half will be given leave during that period, at the close of which they will make the same cruise, while those of the first cruise will go on leave.

North Texans to Receive M. A. Degrees From T. U.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 2.—Seven University of Texas students from Northwest Texas will receive master of arts degrees at commencement exercises here June 6.

They are Sam Beal Barton of Plainview, Rena Dorough of Bellevue, La Thagger Green Jr., of Levelland, Mary Pittard of Anson; Neil Edward Rigler of Plainview, Helen Joyce Schroeter of Plainview, and Carma Athleen Thomas of Lockney.

Retail grocers of Georgia imported $48,919,405 worth of food products from outside the state in 1931.

$200,000 Robbery Laid to St. Louis Hayes-Shelton Gang

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3. (AP)—The Hayes-Shelton gang of St. Louis was named by C. D. Brown today as the band responsible for the $200,000 robbery March 29, last, of a Northwestern National branch bank here.

Brown, manager of the protective department of the Minnesota Bankers association, also implicated the nine men in the $2,500,000 robbery of the Lincoln, Neb., National bank and the $130,000 holdup of the Kraft State bank at Menomonie, Wis.

The disclosures were made as a result of investigations of the killing of Tommy Hayes and two others after the Minneapolis robbery. During this inquiry an unidentified informant gave authorities a statement blaming the gang for crimes in three states.

Six cooperative hog sales in a month netted Covington county, Alabama, farmers $7,992.57.

MILNOR CITES WHEAT GAINS

Grain Corporation Leader Answers Charge

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—George S. Milnor, president of the Grain Stabilization corporation, telegraphed Mayor H. A. Hart of Dodge City, Kan., today that wheat prices at markets west of Chicago have held 5 to 15 cents a bushel higher than the world basis since fall.

His wire was in answer to a message from Mayor Hart, which had asked if the board would hold its wheat and "continue to be the antagonizing element?"

Milnor answered in part:

"Facts are that prices of wheat in all markets west of Chicago have been maintained at from five to 15 cents higher than world basis since last fall, thereby greatly benefiting producers. Also please note that in past eight months wheat has advanced 20 per cent, which is more than can be said about any other commodity and most securities. In view of above we consider our handling and selling policy has been very beneficial to producers and entire country."

San Angelo Man Gets Term for Embezzlement

SAN ANGELO, Texas, June 2. (AP)—B. L. Birt, former postal employe here, pleaded guilty in 51st district court here this afternoon to a charge of embezzlement of $122.42 from the John Porch estate, of which he was guardian, and was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

The defense had asked two years and the state had indicated this would be satisfactory. There were two other counts in the indictment against Birt. Another indictment, it is indicated, will be dismissed.

Girl Earns Flying Lessons

Miss Jeune Scott Kemball, who made her first flight at 14, has just been granted her pilot's license, and now is the youngest air pilot in Australia. To raise funds for flying lessons she made and sold in Adelaide, her home city, vases, powder boxes and bowls of Australian wood. Jeune has been ready to fly for three years, but the stern law demanded that she wait until she was 17 before she could obtain a license.

Bernt Balcher Flies In Search of Missing Men

CHARLOTTETOWN, Prince Edward Island, June 2. (US)—Bernt Balchen, famous transatlantic pilot, took off from here late this afternoon for Newfoundland with two co-pilots to aid in the search for a Grenfell mission worker and a mail pilot, missing since Monday. Balchen, piloting a seaplane flew to Prince Edward island from Boston today and pushed on toward Harbor Grace.

He will join three young Boston aviators who took off on the 1,300 mile flight early today to search for Dr. Karl A. Luehnert, of Crystal Lake, Ill., dental surgeon attached to the Grenfell mission at St. Anthony, and Arthur Sullivan, of St. John's, N. F., his pilot.

Scott Expedition Man Dead

Dr. Hartley T. Ferrar, one of those who accompanied Captain Scott on his first expedition to the south polar regions, has died in Wellington, N. Z. He was the geologist of the expedition, and did very valuable work in the exploration of Ross island and the great ice barrier of the antarctic continent. At the time of his death Dr. Ferrar was assistant director of geological survey for New Zealand.

Lack of Ready Cash Hurts Reno Business

RENO, Nev., June 2. (US)—Reno's divorce mill is not doing so well these days, due, perhaps, to the scarcity of ready cash.

Divorce filings here dropped nearly 300 in May of this year as compared with May of 1931, records today revealed.

May, 1932, saw only 226 divorce cases filed, while 524 was the score for the same period last year.

Marriage licenses also have slumped. Only 397 licenses were issued during the May just passed, compared with 548 issued in May, 1931.

Town Square in Long War

Lossiemouth, Scotland, birthplace of Sir Ramsay MacDonald, has a war as to who has control over the public square. Capt. J. B. Dunbar of Pitganey, the laird, claims that the square is his and that he can rent it to circuses and carnivals if he wishes. Recently the town council, which also claims control, put up a "Keep Off" sign. While the mayor was ill in bed Captain Dunbar sent a man to plough up the square. The plow broke after three furrows, but the captain says his action will bring matters to a head and the courts probably will settle the dispute.

POLING QUITS AS DRY LEADER

Allied Forces Chairman Wants to See Test

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—In a statement issued just prior to announcement of his resignation as chairman of the allied forces for prohibition, Dr. Daniel A. Poling predicted today that the Republican party would go farther this year in a plank for solution of the wet and dry problem than it did in 1928.

He thought the Republican party "too political minded" to adopt any plank calling for submission of a proposition for repeal but he said he would be glad to see a test based on the Raskob plan, for he believed it could be easily defeated by the dry forces.

One Plank for Both

Dr. Poling's resignation is effective June 6 and it came as no surprise since he had set June 5, 1932, as a retirement date when he became chairman in May, 1931. He said his regular activities had been neglected.

Any plank dealing with the 18th amendment, which does not first declare for the enforcement of law and for loyalty to the constitution would be entirely inadequate," he said.

"I can see where it would be altogether feasible to write one plank for both party platforms—a plank at once loyal to the constitution and representative government, fair to both sides and offering to each full opportunity to win on merit."

British Ships Halt Smuggling Of Guns

LONDON, June 2. (INS)—British destroyers were used to frustrate an attempt to smuggle arms into the Irish Free State during the last week-end, the Daily Express stated today.

The Express said the destroyers were ordered to search for certain ships flying the flags of foreign merchantmen, which were understood to have been chartered by a group of Irish rebels.

The rebels, according to the Express, planned to heavily equip the Irish republican army in preparedness for a conflict between southern and northern Ireland.

The hunted foreign vessels, the paper reported, were equipped with wireless, and through radio messages radio messages were warned of their danger and returned to their foreign ports before being discovered by the British destroyers.

Business Leaders Warn Taxes May Destroy Nation

CHICAGO, June 2. (INS)—Commercial leaders from 21 states were warned here today that taxation may destroy the nation.

George W. Rossetter, head of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, said:

"From the beginning of civilization nations have fallen because of unjust and unbearable taxation. Taxation was the basis of the French revolution. Taxation caused our separation from the mother country. Taxation may yet destroy us."

Rossetter's address opened the national conference for the reduction of federal, state and local expenditures.

Mystery Of Jack Dempsey's Pretty Brunet Girl Friend Is Cleared Up

RENO, Nev., June 2. (AP)—All the mystery surrounding the identity of Jack Dempsey's pretty dark-eyed companion disappeared today when the Old Manassa mauler himself revealed that she is none other than Lina Basquette, screen actress.

"But there's no romance involved," he hastened to add.

Until today Dempsey had been introducing Miss Basquette as "Rosita Gonzales," but when the actress' mother said in Hollywood that the two are actually one and the same person he decided to reveal her true identity.

"I like Miss Basquette a lot," Dempsey said, "and I think she cares for me, too, but there's no romance involved."

Miss Basquette came to Reno several days ago and will remain all summer, according to Dempsey. She has rented a house here, he said, and expects to enjoy a long rest.

Southwestern Railroads Denied RFC Loan Funds

WASHINGTON, June 2. (INS)—The Interstate Commerce commission today denied the application of the Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern railroad for approval of a loan of $217,447 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and that of the Oklahoma and Rich Mountain railroad of $32,296.

In each instance the commission said that the prospective earning power of the applicants and the security offered for the proposed loans, were not such as to afford reasonable assurance of their ability to repay the loan within the specified time.

El Paso Smelter Closes Until Business Improves

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—The American Smelting and Refining Co. has closed down its smelter at El Paso, Texas, and will keep it idle for two months, the company announced today.

It is the company's plan to operate the smelter one month and suspend for two months until the lead situation improves. Curtailment also will extend to the company's mines in the Santa Eulalia district, Chihuahua, Mexico, which will be operated at a reduced rate until the lead and zinc situation abroad improves.

Boy Leads Orchestra of 60

Eight-year-old Andre Guetta conducted an orchestra of 60 in a public hall in Alexandria, Egypt, recently. The governor of Alexandria and other prominent people attended the concert. Andre's effective interpretations astonished the music critics.

MELLON DONS COURT ATTIRE

Ambassador Wears Silken Knee Breeches

LONDON, June 2. (INS)—Andrew W. Melion, American ambassador to Britain, stepped out in silken knee breeches at a private dinner party last night even though he refused to wear this formal attire at the recent royal courts at Buckingham palace, it was learned today.

The occasion was a Derby day banquet at the palatial London mansion of Lady Ellesmere, one of the British capital's most prominent society hostesses.

A spokesman at the American embassy declared Mellon wore the short pants out of respect to Queen Mary, who was present. All the other male guests were similarly attired.

Along with this revelation came the news that Ambassador Mellon actually made his knee-breeched debut at St. James' palace on Monday, when he attended a levee given by King George.

The embassy spokesman pointed out that Ambassador Mellon attended the dinner in a "private capacity"—this seemingly accounting for his use of the formal "plus fours." At future public and ambassadorial functions, he will adhere to the less picturesque attire of regular long-trousered evening clothes.

Fathers Fight Over Sons' Row; One Killed

MORRISTOWN, Tenn., June 2. (AP)—Two fathers took up a fight of their sons over a love affair last night and one was killed and the other was imprisoned on a charge of homicide.

William M. Raines, 32-year-old father, and John Sentar, a neighbor, came upon the youths battling over attention young Raines had been paying to the other's sister.

Shots were fired and William Raines fell dead.

VERNON LAWN CONTEST OPENS

Home Owners to Get Prizes For Well-Kept Yards

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, June 2.—Plans for a city-wide lawn contest to stimulate interest in city beautification were formulated at a meeting Wednesday evening of a special committee of the junior council at the chamber of commerce offices. The contest will open immediately and all entries must be filed by July 1.

In order to insure competition on an equal basis, the contestants will be divided into three classifications and the judging will be based on both improvement during the period of the contest and general attractiveness. Awards will be made in each of the three classifications, which will be determined as follows: (1) Where all work is done by immediate family. (2) where only unskilled labor is employed. (3) where an experienced yard man is employed. Three prizes of $10, $7.50, and $5 will be given in the first classification, two of $7.50 and $5 in the second, and a national award of merit will be given the winner in the third division. Prizes in the first and second divisions will be given in cash or merchandise.

The lawns will be graded on a basis of 40 per cent for attractiveness and 60 per cent for improvement, in order to stimulate improvement this year. Under attractiveness 15 per cent will be allotted to general impression, including hospitality, homelikeness, appearance from the street, and 25 per cent will be allotted to details, including plantings to boundaries, in framing house, foundation plantings, shades, all-season bloom, maintenance, permanency and features.

The largest hog ever butchered in Halifax county, North Carolina, was killed this winter by C. M. Cotten. It weighed 1,136 pounds.

Heath and Diet Advice

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"
By DR. FRANK McCOY

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1932, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Daily Menus

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, June 5:

Sunday

Breakfast—Poached eggs on toasted cereal biscuit; stewed raisins.

Lunch—French artichoke; combination salad of lettuce, cucumber, small green peas and tomatoes.

Dinner—Jellied tomato bouillon; roast veal; asparagus; baked grated carrots; celery; pineapple whip.

Monday

Breakfast—French omelet made of the whites of two eggs and two ounces of milk, served on melba toast; pear sauce.

Lunch—One kind of fresh fruit; glass of milk.

Dinner—Boiled fresh beef tongue; cooked celery; spinach; salad of shredded raw cabbage; baked apple a la mode.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Wholewheat muffins; peanut butter; stewed prunes.

Lunch—Cooked string beans; salad of grated raw carrots; glass of milk.

Dinner—Leg of mutton; buttered beets; cauliflower; head of lettuce; jello or jell-well with whipped cream.

Wednesday

Breakfast—Coddled eggs; melba toast; stewed apricots.

Lunch—Dish of cooked carrots and peas; raw celery.

Dinner—Broiled steak; cooked zucchini; green peas; salad; of sliced tomatoes; ice cream (small portions).

Thursday

Breakfast—Waffles; small slice of broiled ham; applesauce.

Lunch—Raw fruit as desired; glass of milk.

Dinner—Roast pork; cooked celery; spinach; salad of quarter cucumbers (unpeeled); apricot whip.

Friday

Breakfast—Baked stuffed apple with cream.

Lunch—*Zucchini omelet; celery.

Dinner—Broiled filet of sole; cooked cucumbers; string beans; salad of sliced tomatoes with parsley; no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast—Eight ounce glass of orange juice 30 minutes before breakfast.

Lunch—Ice cream, with a raw acid fruit.

Dinner—Broiled lamb chops; steamed carrots with parsley; celery, and nut salad, (nuts to be toasted); raspberry whip.

*Zucchini or Italian Squash Omelet—Zucchini are the little Italian squashes found at most vegetable stands, and of very delicate flavor. Without scraping off any of the bright outer skin, boil in a small amount of water until tender. Cut in slices and add to the desired number of beaten eggs—about six to a pound of zucchini. Turn into a well oiled omelet pan or skillet, folding over when lightly browned on the underside. Serve on a hot platter, seasoned with butter and chopped parsley.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Are Acorns Food?

Question—G. G. writes: "I was wondering if acorns can be used for food. I have read that the Indians ate them, but I have tried some and found them too bitter."

Answer—There are both sweet and bitter acorns. The former are still widely used in the southern part of Europe and are roasted in the same manner as chestnuts. The bitter acorns are not much used as food at the present time. However, they are quite nutritious once the tannic acid has been removed. They may be treated in a manner similar to olives. The bitterness can also be removed by grinding them and mixing with water and allowing the mixture to ferment.

Migraine

Question—Miss Yvette asks: "What is the cause of migraine and what can one do to prevent it?

Answer—Migraine is the name given to periodic headaches which occur only on one side of the head at a time. It is due to various disturbances of the nervous system and from the common cause of toxemia which is usually present with all headaches except those resulting from an accident. Colitis, constipation, and extreme prolapsus of the abdominal organs are also contributing causes.

Tubercular Gland

Question—C. T. asks: "What treatment do you recommend for bovine tubercular gland of the neck?"

Answer—The treatment consists first in creating a healthier condition of all the glands of the body through a proper dietic treatment; then, along with this, certain local treatments can be used over the affected gland. These are given with hot compresses and the application of certain electrical treatments.

Alma Rubens' Doctor Faces New Charges

LOS ANGELES, June 2. (AP)—Acquitted on a federal narcotic charge, Dr. I. Jesse Citron, Hollywood physician, faced possible action today by the state board of medical examiners.

Dr. Citron had been charged with prescribing narcotics for the late Alma Rubens, motion picture star. United States District Judge William P. James, in acquitting Dr. Citron, ruled the Harrison narcotic act, under which the physician was brought to trial, is "essentially a revenue measure."

"Direct control of medical practice in the states is beyond the power of the federal government," said Judge James.

An official of the state board of medical examiners said that on the evidence brought out at the trial Dr. Citron would be brought before that body in an effort to revoke his license.

Dr. Citron claimed he prescribed the narcotics for Miss Rubens, an addict, in the manner he thought her condition required.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

L. Y., Wichita Falls, Texas.—I own some shares of Standard Oil of Kentucky and would like to know if you think the dividend is safe.

The Record News presents an Investor's Service to provide from the most authoritative sources, information for its readers. Inquiries of general interest will be answered on the financial page of The Record News.

Every letter of inquiry must contain the name and address of the writer and a two-cent stamped envelope. All communications will be held in strictest confidence. This service is entirely without charge. Write—do not telephone—because such inquiries can not be answered by telephone.

Address your inquiries to
Charles W. Storm,
Financial Department,
Wichita Falls Record News.

Answer—Although Standard Oil of Kentucky did not earn the $1.60 annual dividend last year (net amounting to $1.28 a share, against $2.03 in 1930) the writer is fairly optimistic concerning maintenance of the rate. With a rapidly spreading increase in gasoline prices, earnings prospects are brightened, and, given a stable price structure during the remainder of the year, the company might well cover dividend requirements. Moderate improvement was reported in business of the early months of this year. Kentucky Standard's revenue is derived largely from marketing of refined products, so that its production and inventory worries are negligible. There is no capital obligation senior to the stock, of which 2,606,963 shares are outstanding, and current asset position at the close of 1931 was sound.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 2. (AP)—Cotton was steadier today, prices advancing over $1 per bale from the previous close in response to a better demand.

July sold at 5.07 at the outset, declined to 5.01 rallied to 5.28 and closed at 5.22, a net advance of 22 points, while the general market closed steady at 20 to 24 points net higher.

The rally in the stock market seemed to bring in some active Wall street buying and as the day progressed shorts covered quite freely. The October position at one time sold at the previous closing level of 5.26 but advanced to 5.51 and closed at 5.46.

It was the prevailing impression in the trade that the liquidating movement had about run its course, barring unforeseen unfavorable developments, and that the technical position of the market had been materially strengthened by the recent heavy selling.

There was no especially encouraging news relative to the general cotton situation, however, and continued favorable weather and prospects of July liquidation gaining in volume, seemed to check new buying although there seemed to be some scattered buying for a reaction. Crop accounts were generally satisfactory although there were some complaints received of the appearance of an increased number of boll weevils in portions of South Carolina.

Liverpool cabled that the market there had been influenced by liquidation but that covering appeared on the decline, while Manchester was nervous and disorganized. Exports today 29,127, making 8,007,049 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 3,831,627.

Futures closed steady, 20 to 24 points higher. Spot, quiet; middling, 5.30.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 2. (AP)—Cotton scored a fair advance of a little more than a dollar a bale today in fairly active trading.

Private cables stated that liquidation met short covering and reactionary buying. The failure of J. R. Brooke company was announced at Liverpool. Manchester cabled that the cloth and yarn markets were nervous and business disorganized.

July dropped to 5.03, October to 5.23 and December to 5.37, or down 6 to 7 points from the opening highs.

The market continued fairly firm all afternoon, making new highs for the session in the late trading with July up to 5.25, October to 5.49 and December at 5.61, up 22 to 26 points above the lows of the morning. Prices reacted 3 to 6 points at the end on realizing and July and October closed 22 points net higher for the day and December 21 points net up.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 7 penny points up.

Port receipts 19,129, for week 55,046, for season 9,718,834. Last season 8,835,467. Exports 25,963, for week 73,144, for season 7,941,938, last season 6,317,679. Port stock 3,853,743, last year 3,211,963. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 102,721. Last year 82,619. Spot sales at southern markets 6,641, last year 3,366.

Futures closed steady at net advances of 21 to 23 points:

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—The cotton market was active and advanced slightly more than $1.00 per bale and closed steady, 22 to 25 points net higher. The opening was 5 to 8 points up on favorable cables and higher openings at New York and New Orleans. A setback occurred in early business, but the market soon turned upward again, when stocks and grain strengthened. Light precipitation was recorded in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. The forecast is for generally clear east of the Mississippi and the southeast. The failure of two more firms at Liverpool contributed to easiness in cotton.

Bond Rally Carries Stocks Higher After Both Markets Nearly Faint

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 2. (US)—Despite a sinking-spell which carried stocks and bonds down to record low levels, both markets today closed with net gains which in many instances were quite substantial. Early weakness apparently reflected continuance of the heavy selling wave which produced on Wednesday a sudden reversal of the sharply higher opening trend. The movement today was directly opposite.

Initial transactions witnessed sizable further depreciation but the market seemed to absorb offerings in a fashion which was rather impressive. The new bear interest which was being built up on the belief the reactionary trend would continue found itself suddenly up against increased buying and covering from this source helped along the price rally. All the while, however, bond prices were displaying genuine support.

When the bond list began to show rather sizable advances the stock market turned completely around and rallied vigorously. In bonds the gains were decidedly impressive, especially among the highest-grade rails. Lower-grade rails closed down on the day, but other sections of the market were generally higher.

Strength in bond prices was more genuinely encouraging than the rally in stocks. It is becoming increasingly evident that the bond market has reached a point where large-scale buying would be attracted if only a slight change in sentiment occurred. It is more a matter of fright that liquidation still is overhanging, rather than failure to appreciate the investment opportunities.

All day long the financial district heard stories of a bond pool, and no doubt both markets were reflecting these rumors. There is little doubt that concerted buying of bonds is under consideration by the banks, but the policy seems to be to await actual adoption of a federal fiscal program which insures a balanced budget or at the most a relatively small deficit rather than the immense deficit which has been overhanging. In other words, the financial leaders are holding out this promise of concerted support to the bond list—with its stimulating prospects to the entire industrial and financial structure—as the price for "governmental fiscal sanity."

Ease with which some bonds recovered under only modest buying demand should emphasize that the reports of "heavy offerings overhanging the market" have been somewhat of a bogey. The fact is that careful, independent investors have been scanning the bond list for genuine opportunities. As so frequently remarked here, it is the opinion of these independent investors, free from the restraints of institutional procedure and free from political influences, that the most favorable time to accumulate bonds would be prior to the formation of any concerted banking attempt. Actually, a good many such investors, whose buying is careful and not hurried, are motivated entirely by their belief in the fundamental integrity of the bonds they are carefully purchasing. They welcome just such periods of price demoralization as have recently been witnessed.

It seems to be true that too many people still are stock-conscious and that they anticipate an overnight swing from a great bear swing into a raging bull market. The most conservative interests who were fortunate to have escaped the violent price depreciation are now more partial to bonds than stocks, even though the speculative tinge favors stocks. The investor must determine the end of the long cycle of deflation.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 2. (AP)—Fair demand continued Thursday for the light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market. Frederick, Okla., was reported to have loaded the first carload of 1932 crop wheat, bringing the new grain that much nearer to market.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads, freight paid. Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 57¾@58¾c; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 58¼@59¼c; 14 per cent 59¼@60¼c; 15 per cent 60¼@62c; 16 per cent 61¼@64c. Barley, No. 2 nominally 31@32c. Sorghums, No. 2 yellow milo or No. 2 white kafir 80@81c.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 39@39½c; No. 2 white 39½@40c; No. 2 yellow 47½@48c.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 22½@23½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Broader demand for wheat to be shipped overseas from North America helped give a vigorous lift to grain values today.

It was estimated Europe took 1,500,000 bushels of Canadian and United States wheat, and that the purchases from this country were at prices as cheap as could be obtained in Argentina. New York reports that bond buying stabilization operations would begin at once had a further stimulating effect.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅝@1c above yesterday's finish, corn ⅝@1c up, oats varying from ⅛c decline to ⅛c advance, and provisions unchanged to a setback of two cents.

Strength that developed in wheat prices toward the last formed a striking contrast to fresh downturns which earlier had paralleled setbacks of securities. The late advances of wheat accompanied an improved showing made by the stock market, and there was a notable letup of the selling pressure, which yesterday had dominated grains. Much attention also was given to comment that with the 1932 domestic harvest impending it looked as though five winter crop states which produced 440,000,000 bushels of wheat last season would yield but 140,000,000 this season.

Contributing to renewal of bullish sentiment was announcement that no wheat whatever had been shipped from Russia or India in the last week and only 80,000 bushels from the Danube valley, with Argentine exports curtailed to 2,386,000 bushels. On the other hand, rains were general over the greater part of the North American wheat region, removing any cause for concern about moisture conditions at present. Reports from the spring crop belt were especially favorable. Although uneasiness was still apparent relative to menace from grasshoppers throughout big stretches of territory.

Corn displayed more resistance to selling pressure than has been the rule of late. The country showed less disposition to sell, and eastern demand was a little better. Oats and rye temporarily dipped to fresh bottom price records for the season.

Provisions underwent a transient sag with cereals, lard dipping to within 50 cents a hundred weight of the lowest figures since 1870.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July 55⅝@55¾, 57@57⅛c; Sept. 57⅝@57½c, 59@59⅛c; Dec. 60⅛c, 62c. Corn—July 29⅝@29⅛c, 30¼@30⅝c; Sept. 32⅛@32⅛c, 33⅛c; Dec. 33⅝, offers.

SLOGAN WINNER STARTS TOUR

Wichita Youth Guest On Okla. Air Trip

An official sendoff for Robert McMinn, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McMinn, 2107 Princeton, was given at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Municipal airport as the youth left for Oklahoma City on the Reed air lines as a guest. The trip, to close Saturday afternoon on his return to Wichita Falls, was awarded young McMinn as first prize winner in the "aviation week" contest last week.

The prize winning slogan, "Cities grow where air lines go," is being used in retail advertising this week. "Use air mail" pennants are being flown in the downtown district as part of the air mail crusaders program to increase use of the service now offered in Wichita Falls. Gus Hecht is chairman of the Junior chamber of commerce committee in charge.

Plans for the air show Sunday afternoon at the airport are going forward in charge of W. S. Abbott and Airport Manager Fulcher Armstrong and air circus performers are to arrive Saturday. Mr. Armstrong will take the third prize winner in the slogan contest on a mile-high cruise over Wichita Falls during the show. C. L. Hammond took the third place honors.

Mrs. Bentley Nelson plans to take the second prize, a round trip to Dallas on the American Airways lines, sometime in July.

134 CASES ON DOCKET

Debt and foreclosure cases predominate in the docket of 134 cases for the 78th district court's new term, opening next Monday, according to Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, district clerk. A total of 53 suits are for debt and foreclosure; 30 are for divorce. Trial of this docket will begin next week before Judge W. W. Cook.

Aviation Contest Winner Leaves On Trip

Robert McMinn, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McMinn, 2107 Princeton, left Thursday afternoon for a visit in Oklahoma City as guest of the Reed Air Lines as a result of his winning the aviation week slogan contest last week. In the above picture young McMinn is pictured as Chairman C. E. McCutchen congratulates him. Nearby from left to right are Chairman Gus Hecht of the Junior chamber of commerce air mail crusaders, Secretary Wilburn Page of the chamber aviation committee of which Mr. McCutchen is chairman, and Airport Manager Fulcher Armstrong.

Rotarians Shown Home Products

Classification talks given by products themselves were introduced as a program innovation at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club at the Kemp hotel.

Articles of manufacture of merchandising were handed by Chairman Ed Bebb to various members. The Rotarians first identifying the owner of the article received it as an award. Among the items which quickly changed hands were a loaf of bread received by Ben Donnell, president; a padlock won by George Mobley, and several sacks of flour given to J. M. Isbell.

Members of the club also were presented with lead pencils by Ed Railey, who made a brief talk on the manufacture of pencils. In a mock debate, Dr. Q. B. Lee, J. S. Hargett and Jim Spoonts defended the club against a charge of being used for advertising purposes.

Dr. O. T. Kimbrough made a short talk on juvenile delinquency, referring to charts showing the distribution of delinquency cases in this city. He eulogized the influence of such organizations as the Boys' club and the Boy Scouts.

Linton Estes and Paul Putty were named by Mr. Donnell as delegates to the Rotary International convention to be held next week in Seattle, Wash.

Retail Division of C-C to Meet Friday

A meeting of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce retail merchants division directors has been called at the offices of the organization at 9 o'clock Friday morning to consider sales promotion plans for the approaching summer months, Chairman Jack Barnard said.

Boy Scouts Leave on Annual Summer Tour

Forty-nine boy scouts representing almost as many homes in Byers, Electra, Rock Crossing and Wichita Falls embarked in two large motor buses Thursday morning shortly after 8 o'clock on the annual education tour arranged and conducted by Frank B. Creighton, local scout executive.

Spending their first night in pup tents pitched in the Cotton Palace grounds at Waco, the traveling scouts were to begin their actual sightseeing at Austin Friday. The tour will take them to San Antonio, Galveston, and Houston, and will be concluded on Sunday, June 12.

TAXI DRIVERS FIGHT CHARGES

Two Acquitted in Trials In City Court

Two acquittals and continuance of one case when it resulted in a hung jury featured trials of three dime taxi operators in corporation court Thursday. A motion by defense attorneys to continue the remaing cases was overruled by Judge Edgar Scurry who declared, "we have all summer to fight it out." The defense motion asked that a continuance be granted until after the meeting of the city council Monday night when the attorneys hope to reach a compromise.

Double Charge

The trial of J. W. McCutchen ended in a hung jury with the verdict standing 4 to 8, attorneys said. Frank Campbell was acquitted as was O. T. Robinson. McCutchen and Campbell were tried on a double charge of operating without licenses and with violation of the city's minimum taxi-fare ordinance, fixing the charge at 25 cents. Robinson was tried on a charge of violating the minimum fare ruling. Robinson was fined $1 and costs, totaling $4, Wednesday afternoon on a charge of operating without a license. A motion for a new trial will be made in the case, attorneys said.

William and Russell Ballard were defense attorneys and City Attorney Thelbert Martin handled the prosecution. In six trials to date, four defendants have been acquitted, one fined and one case resulted in a hung jury.

Licenses Revoked

Licenses of seven operators for Hamp's taxi service were revoked in corporation court Thursday morning when attorneys John Davenport and George Smoot appeared for the defendants, J. C. Hampton, Joe Amos, G. W. McWilliams, B. L. Sullins, W. C. Burges, W. P. Mitchell and E. B. Bourland.

The seven operators cut their former minimum price from 15 cents to 10 cents, effective with the court ruling revoking the licenses to operate.

Saul's to Mark 18th Anniversary With Sale Opening Friday Morning

Presenting a complete new stock after intensive preparations Saul's store in Wichita Falls will launch its 18th anniversary sale at 8 o'clock Friday morning. The sale will mark 18 years of forward development in supplying seasonable merchandise to meet the needs of Wichitans, Manager August G. Nagel declared Thursday.

Enough merchandise was especially purchased for the occasion to continue the sale for some months, Mr. Nagel announced, and in consequence no set date of terminating the presentation of goods has been set.

"Only the cream of the market has been selected for our sale," declared Mr. Nagel, who came to Wichita Falls from San Antonio in March, 1931.

"Great preparations," the manager continued, "have been made for this sale, the greatest preparations ever made for any Saul's sale. And in line with the arrangements for the event, we expect to have our greatest sale. Extra sales persons have been employed to care for the unusual crowds.

"Perhaps not every one realizes it, but the local unit of Saul's is owned by Wichita Falls residents, who, as the only officers and directors of the store, direct the policy of the store."

Mr. Nagel has spent practically his entire life in retail and wholesale sales work and, because of such wide experience, is well fitted to properly lead the Wichita Falls Saul's store.

Highway Patrol Opens District Headquarters

Capt. Fred Hickman of the state highway patrol has returned to Wichita Falls and effective June 1, district headquarters for the motor organization were re-established in this city. Hickman first came here with the organization of the patrol but was later transferred to south Texas when the patrol was increased.

Directs Sale

August G. Nagel, manager of Saul's store in Wichita Falls, is a veteran in retail and wholesale merchandising and has announced that best buys on the markets have been obtained to offer Wichitans for the 18th anniversary sale here.

Gust K. Mark, Hattiesburg, Miss., was carried in an ambulance to the voting booth to cast his ballot on an important local issue.

Underhill Company Seeks To Recover Lost Time

Every effort will be made to make up lost time in construction of the federal building in Wichita Falls, it was announced Thursday by Robert S. Barneyback, vice president of the H. W. Underhill Construction company, which holds the general contract for the structure. Mr. Barneyback arrived from the Amarillo office of the company and immediately took over supervision of the project.

No definite change in the supervising force has been made and Construction Superintendent O. D. Milligan is continuing on the job under Mr. Barneyback. "Some changes may be made later," the vice president said.

"It is possible to make up the lost time of two months in construction and we intend to do so," Mr. Barneyback said in commenting on the monthly report issued June 1, which showed the project to be 41.6 per cent complete as compared with a normal percentage of 56 per cent for that date.

The construction is facing a delay at present in securing the type of stone ordered, as much of the Leuders stone received is not of the quality desired, Mr. Barneyback added.

A motor caravan has started from north of Peiping, China, in an effort to discover a satisfactory motor route across the inner Mongolian desert.

THEY'RE MADE of ripe, sweet, mellow tobaccos.

These tobaccos are blended and cross-blended . . . "welded" together in such a way as to bring out the best in each kind of tobacco.

CHESTERFIELDS are seasoned with just the right amount of fine aromatic Turkish tobacco. Not too much, but just enough.

CHESTERFIELDS are made right—the right size—to give a cool and smooth smoke. They're mild—yet not flat. They're not oversweet—but sweet enough.

They're as pure as the water you drink.
