Plans Taking Shape For Annual Jamboree

We can tell that school has begun, we saw our kids at the breakfast table the other morning then it was two days later that we saw all of them at one time again!

The hustle and bustle of these first few days of school is always a time of organized confusion at our house. We reckon we aren't really the only ones that feel this way. But, it is nice to know they are all home again, even if it is for a few days.

Our eldest will be leaving for college this week and the others are busy with their many activities in Stratford. Lieu is still at McMurry in Abilene so reckon we are getting all ready for the whole school year.

Speaking of the first of school, we have been ready for football season for a couple of months. We would encourage all of you to come up and watch the Elks this fall. They had their first scrimmage Friday night against Claude and will go over to Phillips this Friday for another scrimmage. They open on the road over at Spearman then meet Guymon at Guymon before having their first home game with Texhoma on September 19.

Make plans now to boost the Elks at every game, they need and deserve your support.

XXXX

Have you been registering every time you can for the Stratford Merchants' Disney World Trip?

If you haven't you are missing an opportunity to cash in on a chance to win prizes each Friday then a chance for a free trip to Disney World. Each Friday at 5:15 p.m. there is a drawing in each of the 42 participating merchant's stores and you have a chance to win $50 in trade plus keeping your name in the big pot for the Grand Prize!

Register each time you can. If you are not present at one of the stores each Friday at 5:15 p.m. who knows who will win next!

XXXX

Time is drawing near for this year's Fair & Jamboree, set for the weekend of September 12-13. Make your plans now to be on hand for all the events.

All residents are reminded to get their crafts, arts, flowers, antiques, [husbands don't count], agriculture exhibits all ready to go.

By the way, if your club, organization or business wishes to enter a float in the parade, contact the county agent's office. Or if you wish to have an exhibit booth, see the county agent. Booth space is quickly running out, so get yours reserved now!

XXXX

Next Monday is Labor Day and most folks will be getting in that last weekend of vacation. We urge everyone who gets on the road to please drive carefully. The Texas Safety Association has predicted a total of 42 will be killed on our highways. Please don't be one of these 42 this coming weekend. Drive Friendly!

Small businesses make small towns and we are happy that Stratford has some of the finest businessmen and businesswomen we know.

We noticed last week that Ann Landers is also aware of the impact of the small businessman and woman on the economy of our nation. We include this letter which was received by Ann Landers for your info...

"Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to ask the American people a few questions. It's a matter of economic survival to me as well as millions of other 'little people' who have small stores.

"Who do you ask to cash your checks? Who do you ask for credit when things are tight? Who do you ask to take ads for your organizations, yearbooks and programs? Who do you ask for contributions for your church suppers, raffles, etc? Who do you call after hours when you need a special item? Who do you ask to put up your posters

With time drawing closer to the annual Sherman County Fair & Stratford Jamboree set for September 11-12-13 over two dozen members of the Jamboree Committee were on hand to make plans Thursday night at the County Barn.

Superintendents voted to make a couple of changes in the way they receive entries. The group okayed a plan to allow all youths to bring entries in any division after school on Thursday rather than to wait until Friday morning before school. The group thought this would be easier on the superintendents and the youngsters than in previous years.

The group also made a couple of minor changes in the Fair Catalogues as to times for registration of Old Timers and for the dances. Old Timers may register at 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 13 at the First State Bank then at the School Cafeteria beginning at 1:30 p.m. prior to the Old Timers Reunion.

The Western Dance will begin at 9 p.m. until 1 p.m. and Teen Dance will be from 9 p.m. until midnight.

County Agent Jim An asked that any group, individual, business or organization wishing to have entries in the Parade is urged to contact County Agent's office prior to September 13 in order to facilitate planning on that morning.

Also, anyone wishing to have a booth for an educational or commercial exhibit should contact Allison's office as soon as possible so there can be made to facilitate the need.

This year's Jamboree Committee is headed by Poe Keer, chairman, with Clyde Trer, assistant chairman.

Other Jamboree Committee officers include Sharon Artman, secretary treasurer; Jerry D. Johnson, Parade Chairman; Karen Pulliam, community

Boys Ranch Rodeo Set Sunday, Monday

Two performances of the 31st Annual Boys Ranch Rodeo are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. the Labor Day weekend, Sunday and Monday, with approximately 10,000 people expected to drive to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch for the event.

All of the 370 boys of the Ranch will have some part in the rodeo, with about 150 competing with each other on the Brahma bulls, bareback broncos, steers and calves. The rodeo is the only kind in the nation that has boys as the only contestants riding professional rodeo stock under RCA rules. Top honors of the rodeo are the titles of Seniors and Junior All-Around Cowboys.

The rodeo is also a traditional homecoming for graduates of the Ranch who are members of the Boys Ranch Alumni Association. Some will travel long distances with their families to attend. More than 3,000 boys have lived at the Ranch since its founding by Cal Farley in 1939.

An added attraction will be bar-be-que beef plates and other refreshments sold by the boys. Reserve box seat tickets are on sale at the Boys Ranch

Office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo and can be obtained by writing P.O. Box 1890 or calling 806-372-2341. The reserved box seat tickets are $2.50 and general admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. Proceeds of the rodeo are used for the operation and expansion of the Ranch.

"It's your local, hometown small businessman. After all, he's your friend and your neighbor.

"But when you want to make a purchase, how often do you drive past his place of business and go to a giant store thinking you might save a few cents without giving your local merchant a chance or even comparing his prices?

"We are competitive with the biggest stores price-wise and our services are often better. But we can't survive much longer. When we go, you'll miss us." Stratford businesses contribute thousands of dollars each year to local organizations, Boy Scouts, churches, Little League, FFA, FHA, 4-H, Senior Citizens and a host of others.

We would urge all our readers to remember that when you are on that church committee to gather money for a special purpose, who do you see? The local business or do you go to Dumas, or Amarillo to see if they will contribute?

You betcha you see the local man, for you know he will support you, just remember, it works both ways! Without your local businesses, Stratford would be a mighty lonesome place in which to live.

A well of water...

Many important events have taken place at the well. In days long ago it was a meeting place, where all came because of the necessity to obtain life-sustaining water.

Jacob met his beloved Rachel at the well. Moses met the daughters of his future father-in-law at the well in Midian. Much later Jesus Christ met a woman of Samaria at the well and said, "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water that shall up into everlasting life."

The church of God is a meeting place where men come to obtain this life-giving and life-sustaining water of which Jesus spoke.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

CENSUS BUREAU ADVISES OF DEADLINE FOR 1980 CENSUS

Already well into the planning phases for the 1980 census, the Census Bureau is trying to make certain that all eligible areas are included in the 1980 census tract program.

Although all metro areas (Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas or SMSA's) in the country are included, certain other areas are being encouraged by the Bureau to submit tract plans. These other areas are:

*Cities of 40,000 or more according to latest census data, and the county or counties in which they're located.

*Counties with 100,000 or more, according to the latest data, if at least 50 percent of the population is urban.

The Bureau, part of the U.S. Department of Commerce, advises county and city government officials, professional planners, civic and community leaders, university faculty members and other interested persons in such previously untraced areas that tract plans must be submitted to the Bureau by December 31, this year, in order for the areas to be included in the 1980 census tract program.

Tract statistics are of great value to these officials and other leaders because they make possible fine grains socio-economic analysis of neighborhoods in metropolitan areas.

Census tracts are small, permanently established, geographical areas into which large cities and their environs are divided for statistical purposes.

Minister's Wife

Our cook for this week is a native of the Panhandle area and the wife of Stratford's new Methodist minister. Mrs. Juanita Hardaway and Rev. Cecil Hardaway moved to Stratford from O'Donnell recently to replace Rev. Frank Peery in the Methodist Church.

Juanita was raised near Channing and attended high school in Dumas. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ham, were engaged in farming in the area.

Juanita and Cecil met when Cecil was employed by her father on the farm. They have been married for 34 years and have four children, Royce of Dallas, who works in the Highland Park Church; Henry of Tulsa, who is an adjuster for Farmer's Insurance; Janice of Lubbock, who teaches in the Lubbock School System; and Debbie of Lubbock, who just recently graduated from Texas Tech and is employed at Texas International.

Juanita and Cecil have five lovely grandchildren, Brent and Kimberly of Dallas and Kyp, Kyle and Kent of Tulsa.

Our cook enjoys canning and has worked with youth all of her life. She is a certified associate director of Christian education and laboratory leader for junior highs. She served as district coordinator of youth in the Big Spring district and has worked as educational associate at FUMC in Levelland, Trinity UMC in Amarillo and as program co-ordinator at FUMC in O'Donnell.

Manure Study Shows Help For Soils

Ten tons of feedlot manure annually will supply nutrients for grain sorghum as well as anhydrous ammonia or other commercial fertilizer. This amount of manure does not have a detrimental effect on crop or soil quality. These results, from five years of research, were summarized by Dr. A.C. Mathers. USDA soil scientists assisted Mathers with the experiment conducted at the USDA Research Center at Bushland.

The experiment was started in 1969 when large piles of manure were collecting adjacent to feedlots, and managers were looking for an inexpensive method of disposal. The researchers viewed feedlot waste as a valuable by-product and set out to determine its usefulness. Manure used in the research contained 50 percent water, and contained 30 pounds of nitrogen, 6 pounds of phosphorus, 20 pounds of potassium, and 8 pounds of sodium per ton.

SIX YEAR STUDY

From 1969 through 1973, manure was applied annually to Pullman clay loam soil at 10,30,60, and 120 tons per acre. Other treatments were 240 tons per acre for the first 3 years of the study. These treatments were compared to annual applications of 120 pounds of nitrogen combined with 50 pounds each of potassium and phosphorus per acre. Manure and commercial fertilizer were applied and mixed with the soil prior to preplant irrigation. Soil tests showed that the commercial fertilizer rates were adequate for maximum yields. "All of the treatments were irrigated enough for maximum sorghum yields," Mathers stated.

TEN TONS BEST

The greatest five year yield average 7446 pounds per acre, was from 10 tons of manure annually. Thirty tons of manure annually and the two treatments with commercial fertilizer yielded a little over 7200 pounds of grain per acre. Increasing manure applications to 60 or 120 tons per acre annually decreased yields 1000 and 2000 pounds per acre, respectively. Applying 240 tons per acre increased salt content of the soil enough to inhibit germination and growth of seedlings. Grain yield was about 1000 pounds per acre. Toxic effects from 240 tons of manure for either one or three years diminished over two years. On the third year after application, normal grain yields were produced.

Mathers explained the conversion of manure to usable plant nutrients. When manure was mixed into soil, organic forms of nitrogen were converted into ammonia. Under aerobic conditions in the soil, ammonia was converted into nitrate which could be utilized by plants. Excess nitrate could accumulate in soil, be leached with water or be converted into nitrogen gas and escape into the air. Nitrate nitrogen did not accumulate to dangerous amounts with 10 tons of manure per acre. Too much nitrate in soil can be dangerous because plant forage accumulates nitrates and becomes poisonous to livestock. With higher rates of manure, nitrate accumulated in the top six feet of soil and moved below 10 feet. When 240 tons of manure was applied for three years, a total nitrate in the soil was over 1200 pounds per acre. Nitrates increased in soil for one year after manure applications ceased, but then started to decrease gradually.

Dr. Mathers said that large piles of manure are a eyesore and a health hazard. He said that about 100,000 tons of manure are produced annually in the state. He said that about 10,000 tons of manure are burned annually, but that the rest is piled up or dumped. He said that the manure can be used as a fertilizer, but that it must be applied properly. He said that the manure can be used as a soil conditioner, but that it must be applied properly. He said that the manure can be used as a soil amendment, but that it must be applied properly.

Congress who have been playing politics with the price decontrol issue," Hunt said.

The 25 companies surveyed account for approximately 74 percent of Texas crude oil production and 77 percent of the No. 1 energy state's total refining capacity.

Texas feels the effect of profit cuts of this magnitude because of the largescale investments and employee payrolls these companies have here, Hunt said. Likewise, Texas production and refining operations play a big part in determining most U.S. oil company's profit and loss figures. Texas operations of these companies represent 29 percent of U.S. oil production and over 20 percent of the nation's refining capacity.

"Texas government operations and the state's economy generally suffer when so much Texas crude oil is sold at a federally-dictated price several dollars below its market value," Hunt added.

The survey also showed the net income as a percentage of sales to be only 4.9 percent for the petroleum industry for the second quarter. The oil companies ranked below savings and loan associations, 10.8 percent; utilities, 10.4; drug makers, 9.4; office equipment manufacturers, 9.2; instrument firms, 7.8; banks, 7.7; broadcasting, 7.6; oil service and supply, 7.2; chemicals, 6.6; special machinery and nonbank financial institutions, both 6.1; publishing, 6.0; personal care product makers and paper firms, both 5.8; food and lodging establishments, 5.5; leisure time industries and metals and mining companies, both 5.2, and tobacco companies, 5.1.

Six Wrecks Reported By DPS Unit

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Sherman County during the month of July, 1975, according to John Hood, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area. The accidents resulted in two deaths and four persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first seven months of 1975, shows a total of 23 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 18 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for July, 1975, shows a total of 568 accidents resulting in 22 persons killed and 398 persons injured as compared to July, 1974, with 485 accidents resulting in 18 persons killed and 280 persons injured. This was 83 more accidents, four more killed, and 118 more injured in 1975 at the same period of time.

The 22 traffic deaths for the month of July, 1975, occurred in the following counties: two each in Clay, Haskell, Randall, Jack, and Sherman; and one each in Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Montague, Carson, Collingsworth, Moore, Parmer, Potter, and Wheeler.

Oil Company Income Down During 1974

DALLAS, TEX.--A 35 percent drop in earnings for 25 leading oil companies most with substantial operations in Texas--"contradicts the scare talk about obscene profits" which congressional advocates of oil price controls have been using, the president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association said.

Sherman Hunt, Dallas independent oil man, pointed out that recently announced second quarter earnings reports followed the same downward trend established during the first six months of 1975, when earnings fell 37 percent from 1974.

Hunt said that current returns on investment in petroleum companies are only about 10 percent, which he said is "not obscene profits." He said that the oil companies are not making as much money as they did in 1974, but that they are still making a profit. He said that the oil companies are still making a profit, but that they are not making as much money as they did in 1974.

GETTING SAMPLES--John Shipley, Associate Professor, collects grain sorghum head samples to be used in research studies at the North Plains Research Field at Etter. Head samples are collected twice a week in an effort to determine the influence of average daily temperatures on the rate of grain fill and the length of the grain filling period.

Field Day Set Sept. 4 At Etter

Preparation is underway at the North Plains Research Field at Etter for a field day scheduled for Thursday, September 4 at 1 p.m. Everyone interested in the latest developments in agricultural research is invited. The Texas A&M Research Field is located one mile east and a half-mile north of Etter.

According to Dr. John Shipley, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Project Leader, visitors will have an opportunity to confer with nine area scientists about current research on wheat and small grains, weed control, forage crops, sunflowers, sugar beets, fall grazing, animal health and irrigation water management. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the USDA Agricultural Research Service will cooperate in the field day activities. A guided tour of the Research Field is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Tour stops will include water response studies with grain sorghum and corn. Research includes irrigation size, frequency and application timing studies based on stage of plant growth, calendar dates and soil water potential as measured by tensiometers. Other stops of interest will be grain sorghum and sunflower planting date studies and the regional corn and grain sorghum variety trials.

The theme of the field day will be "Greater Profits Through Irrigation Water Management". The economics of water use has been studied at the North Plains Research Field since it was established in 1964," Dr. Shipley stated. "This information is important, not only in terms of water conservation, but can improve the profitability of irrigated farming during the period of rising costs."

FORMER RESIDENT NAMED TO DEAN'S LIST AT OSU

Lloyd McDaniel of Boise City, former Stratford resident, is among 1,238 Oklahoma State University students named to the first summer session Dean's Honor Roll ever.

Of that number, exactly 350 achieved straight A's and were named to the President's Honor Roll.

McDaniel is a teacher in the Boise City School System and the brother of Mrs. June Frizzell of Stratford.

Feedyard Runoff Subject Of Study

Research at eight locations in five states has shown that runoff quantity and quality can be fairly well predicted from beef cattle feedyards in the Great Plains. This knowledge will enable feedlot operators to design adequate holding ponds for feedlots and develop systems for disposing water that accumulates. This will eliminate the hazard of polluting nearby streams or lakes.

This was the conclusion of a study presented at the Third International Symposium on Livestock Wastes by Dr. R.N. Clark, USDA Agricultural Engineer from the USDA Research Center at Bushland, Texas. Co-authors on the paper were Drs. C.B. Gilbertson and H.R. Duke, USDA Engineers located at the University of Nebraska and Colorado State University. Engineers from Texas A&M University, Kansas State University, and South Dakota

State University contributed information for the presentation. The symposium was attended by scientists, educators, public officials, industry representatives, and engineers from around the world. The American Society of Agricultural Engineers sponsored the meeting and the University of Illinois was host.

Research to determine the amount of runoff started in 1967 on the first of 8 locations in the Great Plains. Results from Sioux Falls, South Dakota; Fort Collins, Colorado; Gretna and Mead, Nebraska; Pratt, Kansas; and Bellville, McKinney, and Bushland, Texas, were compared. "There was a linear relationship at all locations between precipitation and runoff," Clark stated. "In all feedyards studied, 0.4 inches of precipitation was required to initiate runoff. The amount of rainfall ending up as runoff from runoff-producing storms varied from 30 percent at Bushland, Texas, to 73 percent at Bellville, Texas." For example, the moisture deficit at Wichita, Kansas, is 24 (56 inches of evaporation - 32 inches rain). Under these conditions, about 50 percent of the rainfall from runoff-producing storms would run off from a feedlot in that area.

"The quality of feedyard runoff was extremely variable even at a single location," Clark stated. The amount of organic solids in the runoff was higher than municipal sewage and was proportional to the number of animals per acre rather than the slope of the feedyards. Spreading the water on land was considered a more practical method of disposal than a treatment similar to that given municipal sewage. Total salts were closely related to the annual rainfall and were highest in areas with the last rain. Runoff from all locations was too salty to be used continuously as irrigation water without dilution. Runoff from snow was more salty than water loss after rain. Dr. Clark proposed that mixing four parts well or lake water with one part feedyard runoff would make feedlot runoff suitable for irrigating crops.

ON ALL SALES Wheat Producers Call For Total Moratorium

A total moratorium on the sale of wheat by Producers into the grain marketing system was called for today by Leo Witkowski, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association in response to action of Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, which placed an embargo on further grain exports until the next crop report due September 11.

Witkowski said that "The action of the Secretary serves to distort downward the true value of the new crop now in producers' hands despite a growing world demand." He said that, "unless producers maintain control over the ownership of their grain stocks, speculators and international conglomerate grain trading firms stand to gain control of the grain at depressed prices and gouge the American and foreign consumers as the firms then demand excess profits at a later date of resale."

The veteran farm leader pointed out that "the Secretary of Agriculture called today's crop report 'inconclusive' as to the U.S. ability to export despite the fact that the report indicated record crops of wheat and other grains far bigger than a year ago—wheat up 19 per cent corn up 26 percent milo up 29 percent soybeans up 18 percent."

Witkowski said that "even though wheat prices had strengthened some over pre-harvest lows under pressure of rigid farmer 'orderly marketing' techniques and growing export prospects, but at today's $3.60 per bushel in the Plains area prior to the USDA announcement, are $1.27 cents a bushel below the price last October when the wheat was planted for domestic and export use. The price of wheat to the farmer is a full dollar below the parity level of $4.60 per bushel—a figure showing relationships to that comparable to other goods and services."

Witkowski said "its regrettable that the Secretary of Agriculture is yielding to the big labor bosses who are guised as 'protectors of the consumer cost of living' by advocating stopping exports. In fact, while wheat producers are receiving $1.27 a bushel less for wheat now than last October, longshoremen who load grain on ships received 85 cents an hour base pay increase at that time and are scheduled by contract for another 60 cents per hour increase this October 1. These are the true inflationary inputs to the cost of living in this country—and not the sagging prices of wheat and other agricultural raw materials."

"The wheat producers' call for a moratorium on producer sales will be lifted", according to the Association President, "when the Secretary lifts the export embargo."

Labor Day Traffic May Kill 42

AUSTIN—State Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir today estimated that Labor Day Weekend traffic in Texas will claim 42 lives.

The holiday period extends from 6 p.m. Friday, August 29 through midnight Monday, September 1. During a comparable period last year, Texas traffic killed 51 persons.

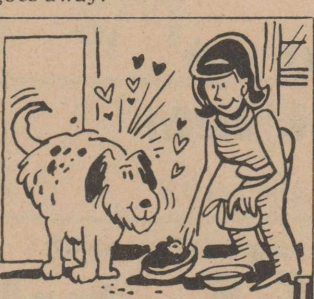

"Traffic will be particularly heavy near recreational areas such as beaches, lakes and campgrounds. Actually, in these situations, motorists need to be extra watchful for children playing and other pedestrians. Also persons towing recreational vehicles and boats should be mindful of extra stopping distances and other problems unique to trailers," Speir said.

The DPS director called on motorists to cooperate in law enforcement efforts to hold speeds down during the holiday, noting that "excessive speed is still our top accident problem".

He also urged motorists to work with officers to eliminate the serious threat posed by drunk drivers.

In an effort to reduce the toll, Speir said extra DPS troopers will be on duty statewide. He said troopers and local officers will be especially watchful for speeding, reckless and drunk drivers.

In addition to these efforts, the Texas Department of Public Safety will also work with the news media in its "Operation Motorcade" accident awareness program. This program is designed to provide motorists with current information on accident dangers during the holiday period.

Careers which will be surveyed include those in health services, sciences, professional careers, transportation and communications services, business occupations, machining and mechanic occupations, sales and service occupations, trade occupations and manufacturing and agriculture.

Anyone interested in viewing the career van is welcome to attend on September 2.

Elks Slated For Scrimmage At Phillips

Stratford's Elks scrimmaged the Claude Mustangs Friday evening in a three-hour event which saw the Elks completely outclass the Mustangs.

"We were real pleased with our youngsters," said Head Coach David Bornstein. "The overall team balance was good as we had six runners who could gain yardage and seven pass receivers who could catch the ball," he added.

The team worked well together and our condition paid off handsomely," Bornstein added. "Overall we thought the Elks did a good job and we were happy with the results."

This Friday the Elks will face a sterner task as they travel to the lair of the Phillips Blackhawks for a scrimmage which will get underway at 6:30 p.m.

The Elk Junior Varsity will open the scrimmage with the varsity teams following probably around 7:30 p.m.

The Elks will open their regular 1975 Football season on September 5 as they meet the Spearman Lynx at Spearman.

New Rates Outlined For Telephones

A one-minute rate for all hours and all days, and special calling periods with up to 40 per cent savings over day time rates for customer dialed station-to-station long distance calls placed within Texas can help telephone customers save on toll calls even though all rates have been increased, according to L.L. Porter, traffic director for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Porter said the rates General Telephone charges customers for intrastate long distance calls were increased Aug. 11 when Southwestern Bell placed new rates in effect. He explained that Bell operates most of the long distance facilities in Texas and establish statewide rates.

"Even though all of the intrastate rates have increased, customers can save money by taking advantage of the new one-minute rate which is in effect at all times," Porter said. He explained that prior to Aug. 11 intrastate calls were charged for a minimum of three minutes plus charges for each additional minute except between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. when the one-minute rate was in effect. Under the one-minute rate, customers are charged for each minute or fraction of minute they talk.

He continued by saying the day rate in effect from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, is the highest dial it yourself rate in effect. However, he added, the day rate is reduced 30 per cent when the call is placed during the evening hours between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m., Sunday through Friday. In addition, the day rate is lowered 40 per cent for additional savings when the call is dialed by the customer under the night calling period in effect from 11 p.m. until 8 a.m., Monday through Friday, all hours on Saturday and Sunday.

Porter said for one minute or less, the charge is one cent. For longer calls, the charge is based on the number of minutes, plus a station-to-station charge.

Blanche's Blabs by Blanche Soules

Today I want to share little interesting bits of information about the foods found in today's supermarkets.

Historians report that pasta is one of the oldest and most revered foods eaten as early as 5,000 B.C.

Just as popular today, pasta adds interest, variety and economy to meals.

"The term 'pasta' includes macaroni spaghetti and noodles in a wide variety of shapes, sizes and even color."

Pasta is made from semolina, farina or wheat flour and water. Noodles are made with the addition of eggs. More than 150 shapes are characteristic of pasta, and some are colored green by adding spinach.

There are also pasta rolling pins one can buy in specialty shops in Amarillo.

"Many popular convenience foods contain pasta combined with sauce mixes of canned sauces. Most pasta products are enriched with thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and iron." Well-cooked pasta is tender, but firm and not sticky. "To cook, add pasta to rapidly boiling salt water and cook until just tender."

"Cooking time should be shortened slightly if pasta is to be used in combination dish that needs further cooking."

"If pasta is to be cooked ahead of time, sticking will be reduced if the pasta is kept in a strainer over hot water."

Nectarines developed from little more than a curiosity to an increasingly popular favorite fruit.

"Glossy-skinned and juicy, the nectarine is good eaten out of the hand with peeling left on, or they can be substituted for apples in most recipes."

Buying nectarines, indicate ations of quality are general plumpness, firmness, good color and fresh appearance.

The fruit ranges from red to a golden color. Most are clingstones, but there are some freestone varieties, too. Flesh varies from a light whitish amber to an amber yellow, often coloring to a deep red near the stone.

Underripe fruit may be left at room temperature to ripen.

Goggles are believed to derive their name from the old English term for squinting.

SCOTT BUCKLES NAMED TO CADRE

Scott L. Buckles, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chesmer of Stratford, has been named to the cadre in charge of the supervision and guidance of new cadets at New Mexico Military Institute.

According to Colonel George B. Robbins, Commander of the Cadets, an appointment reflects a high degree of trust in the leadership abilities of those chosen for a cadre position. Prior to the time the new cadets arrive on post for matriculation, the 92 members of the cadre prepare themselves to conduct the new cadets through the lines and schedule of their first week on post.

Each of NMMI's returning old cadets report one week after the new cadets and cadre arrive on campus.
