Public Employees' Assn. Holds Annual Picnic

South Texas Chapter No. 18 of the Texas Public Employees' Association held their annual picnic in Rockport last Saturday.

The affair started in the early afternoon with refreshments served at the beach from mobile carts. Swimming was enjoyed; also a tour through the Marine Laboratory nearby.

At the close of day, a barbecue supper was served at the Woman's Club, catered by Brocato's.

Principal speakers for the occasion were John Hollyfield, State President, of the Department of Public Safety, and Executive Director W. P. Watts of the Highway Department.

About fifty people attended from towns throughout South Texas.

High School Students Must Complete Schedules

All high school pupils who have not yet completed their schedules for the 1960-1961 school year, should report to the high school principal's office Friday of Aug. 26, or not later than Monday of Aug. 29, to complete registrations.

On Thursday, September 1, all classes will meet for a full school day. Pupils who have not completed registration prior to Sept. 1, will not be able to meet all of their classes and get all the necessary instructions, which are very essential to all pupils.

NEW BAND MEMBER PROCEDURE DETAILED

If any Junior high school student wishes to begin band during the coming year, he is asked to contact Mr. C. R. Barre or Mr. Joe Randow no later than Aug. 29. This does not apply to students who participated in the band program last year.

Also, if any transfer student has participated in band in the school he previously attended, he is asked to contact Joe Randow, band director.

Rockport's Worst Disaster Occurred 41 Years Ago

Forty-one years ago Sept. 15, this city suffered its greatest disaster—one that almost wiped it from the face of the earth.

"A tidal wave of great magnitude swept into Rockport from the Gulf of Mexico Sunday morning and completely inundated the entire city. The water was accompanied by wind which reached an estimated 100 miles an hour. The barometer stood at 29.45 at 11 o'clock Sunday morning when the first hard wind from the north-west swept over the city, at this hour the tide was higher than ever before. Eight bodies have been found in the wreckage."

The above paragraph comes from an old copy of the Rockport Pilot, printed in San Antonio five days after the catastrophe because a press and a gasoline engine was all that was left of the local newspaper.

But Editor Tom W. Lillie refused to be stopped. Most of the news published was taken from the San Antonio daily papers, but it had been written by Lillie "as the only news and the first news" from the disaster-torn city.

Not a mercantile establishment in town escaped the fury of the wind and water. Hooper Brothers' store collapsed; everything in Sorenson and Sons was washed to the front of the building and lay in the mud and water among debris of wall cases, counters, and boxes.

Sorenson's loss, estimated at $50,000, was the highest, followed by $40,000 for the Rockport Mercantile Company. A. L. Bruhl's Drug Store, the Moore Dry Goods Co., and the La Playa Hotel suffered losses of $30,000 each; R. P. Bracht Furniture lost $25,000; the Johnson Lumber Co. and C. G. Johnson lost $20,000, part of which included the town's ice plant. And those were the days when amounts like these were important money.

Eleven persons spent the day and night in the La Playa Hotel. They witnessed the destruction of every building in the vicinity, and

Rockport Will Have Floats, Band In Parade

When September 3 rolls around the big parade gets underway at 11 a.m. for the Twelfth Annual Aransas Pass Shrimpooree, it promises to be one of the longest and most colorful in the entire history of the fiesta.

Two top bands, one from the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi and the other from the Fourth Army at San Antonio will furnish part of the music, assisted by high school bands from Aransas Pass, Rockport, and other towns in the area.

Landing craft will roll, marine and air force color guards will furnish notes of color ahead of the bands, while there is an array of floats, beauties, and horsemen from most of South Texas that will take part.

Among the more colorful floats expected are a Navy submarine from that arm's recruiting service, Central Power and Light, the Fiesta San Antonio float, others from Lone Star Beer, City of Cuero, the Wilson County Centennial, Corpus Christi's Bucaaner Days organization, and the Rockport Chamber of Commerce.

The Mathis Ski and Boat Club will have a float in the parade, and give a show the following day in Conn Brown Harbor. Fire engines from Aransas Pass, transport units from the 136th Transport Battalion of the Texas National Guard and Pearl Beer floats will add variety.

Horsemen's unit include the Bexas County Sheriff's Posse, the Victoria County Sherif and Spur Club, various mounted beauties competing for the cup given to the prettiest cow girl, and Shetland ponies from the Old Plantation Pony Farm at Tivoli and Mrs. Loyd Richard's ranch near Goliad.

Another feature of the parade will be snappy, precision motorcycle patrol from Corpus Christi, belonging to the Alzafar Temple of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Also entered are floats from the Refugio County Fair, and the Grandmother's Club of Aransas Pass floats will include those of the 4-H Club, the First Christian Church, Rainbow Girls, Police Department, Fire Department, Manning's Jewelry, Pert's Fantasy of Fashion, Naylor Hardware, the Aransas Motel and Kaufman's.

City Council Hears Reports, Deals With Routine Business

The City Council, at its regular meeting Monday night, heard reports and dealt with routine business.

A request by Fred A. Bracht Jr., that North Street be opened, was approved and councilmen said that they would get in touch with County Commissioners and ask them to do the work.

Mayor Johnson reported that the new garbage truck the city is buying had been delivered in San Antonio for addition of a body, and would be here on Friday, Oct. 26.

Seale, McCarty and Millikin, of Beeville, have been retained to audit the city's books.

Water Superintendent Tom Shults reported that Slovak Brothers had almost completed laying sewer line in the south end of town.

Councilmen voted to participate with the county on a fifty-fifty basis in cleaning ditches along the railroad, up to the amount of $500.

City Secretary Jean Tuer also read the following letter: Mr. Herman Johnson, Mayor, City of Rockport, Texas.

Subject: Public Water System, Rockport, Texas.

Dear Mayor Johnson:

On August 12, 1960, our representative, Mr. James W. Wilson Senior Engineer, accompanied by Mr. Joe Teller, Regional Engineer, inspected the water plant facilities serving the residents of Rockport, Texas, in company with your water superintendent, Tom W. Shults.

The inspection revealed the fact that the plant facilities presented an attractive appearance and that the acceptable operating practices and mandatory items for continued state approval have been complied with. It therefore gives us pleasure to advise you that this Department continues to recognize your city as being served by a Class A system or State Approved water facility.

In conclusion, we wish to express our appreciation for your interest in matters of public health significance, and would like to convey the thanks of our representatives for the courtesies extended them at the time of the inspection.

Very truly yours,
G. R. HERZIK, JR., C.E.,

NEW CAFETERIA READY TO SERVE

The new cafeteria at Rockport Elementary School, built by members of the school maintenance staff under Maintenance Supt. Glen Martin at a considerable saving to Aransas County taxpayers, will be ready for use when school opens, according to School Supt. J. D. Gray.

Children at Fulton school will also be fed from this facility through use of a portable steam table and an enclosed panel delivery wagon.

Trustees of the Aransas County Independent School District and their wives will inspect the new building and equipment on Tuesday night, Aug. 30, at 7:30 p.m.

Personnel of the school system cafeterias includes Mrs. James Cruser, dietitian and director of cafeterias; Mrs. Annie Evans, head cook for the high school cafeteria; Mrs. Lillian Ballou, head cook at Rockport; and Mrs. O. B. Reed, Mrs. Erna Koehler, Mrs. Violet Brundrett, Mrs. Jessie Mundine, and Mrs. Cipy Flores.

The Cadillac delivery wagon will be driven by Mrs. Mattie Benningfield, who will have charge of the serving at Fulton school. Lunches for high school students will remain at 35 cents, and those for elementary students at Rockport and Fulton will be 30 cents each.

All the school lunch rooms will begin serving meals on Thursday, Sept. 1. The first day of school. Meal tickets may be purchased on a monthly or weekly basis from the principal's office in each school. No meals will be charged to students.

Rockport elementary students will be served on a schedule which will begin at 11:30 a.m., and be staggered according to grades. This will be done in an effort to prevent the children standing in a long line. The Fulton elementary students will be served on a schedule beginning at 11:45 a.m., and the high school and junior high schools will follow the schedules which were followed last year.

Mrs. Edith Cruser states that it is the school's desire to provide wholesome, nourishing meals in a pleasant atmosphere, and to have many students participate in the school lunch program. These menus are set up for all lunch rooms for the first two days of school:

Menus for the first two days of school are:

Thursday, Sept. 1.
Chicken Fried Steak, Gravy
Mashed Potatoes
Tossed Green Salad, with French Dressing
Butter

MRS. HAGAR SPEAKS AT INSTITUTE OF MARINE SCIENCE

Mrs. Jack Hagar spoke before an audience of 35 or 40 people last Wednesday night, at the Institute of Marine Science of the University of Texas, at Port Aransas. She discussed the birds of the area and problems in their behavior that she has noted during more than twenty years of observations.

"We have been following with interest the progress being made in an effort to improve Highway 35 north of Rockport."

"The fact that the Highway Department chose to repair this portion of road was certainly pleasing, but we are sorry to hear that this work is being delayed."

"Highway 35 is a vital link for vacation travel in this state, as it is the major artery for such cities as Rockport, Aransas and Port Aransas."

"We want to express to you our appreciation for the excellent work the Highway Department has done on behalf of the Coastal Bend region, and we sincerely hope you will do everything possible to expedite the needed improvements on Highway 35."

Judge John D. Wendell, when contacted, knew nothing of the delay, but suggested that it might be caused by the fact that the State Highway Department had only received one bid, that made by Heldenfels, on the project.

"As a general rule," Judge Wendell said, "the Highway Department prefers to have two or three bids on a project, and it may be that they intend to re-advertise the work."

JARBOE TALKS ON HIGHWAYS

James A. Jarboe was in charge of the Rotary program Wednesday, and talked about highway construction in the area.

Visitors to the luncheon were H. H. Starcke, Seguin, Bill Workman, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, and Dr. John Crutcher, Mineral Wells.

TIDWELL BOAT SINKS TUESDAY

M. A. Tidwell's shrimper sunk Tuesday just off of the rocks at the entrance to Rockport harbor, and is apparently almost a complete loss.

Local Developer Pushes Work In Redfish Bay Area

Dr. George D. Strickhausen III, local developer of Copano Ridge and Copano Cove, is pushing work on another big Florida-type marina in the Redfish Bay area, and has applied for a permit from the U.S. Engineers for extensive dredging.

In partnership with W. D. Johnson of Dayton, Ohio, he proposes to dredge an area and fill two areas at the above location. The channel would be deepened to 13 feet at mean low tide over a bottom of 50 feet for distance of 3,440 feet, extending southwesterly from the northeasterly side of Nelson Avenue extended, which is approximately 120 feet southwesterly from the Texas Highway 361 bridge across the channel.

Part of the dredged material would be placed on City Block 690 which is bounded by Nelson and Greenwood Avenues, Atlantic Street and Ocean Drive. The remainder of the dredged material would be placed in an area bounded by the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, the Seawall Channel, Ransom Island Channel and the owners' property line near the south side of the new Texas Highway 361.

No material would be allowed nearer than 200 feet to the near bottom edge of any channel in this area. No dredging would be performed nearer than 60 feet to the existing bulkhead which is parallel to the channel.

Flying Tour to Be Here In October

According to Buster Coward, manager of the local airport, the Twelfth Annual All Texas Air Tour plans call for a stop at Rockport during the tour, which begins Saturday, Oct. 8 at Temple, and ends Saturday, Oct. 15, at McAllen.

The tours are sponsored by the Texas State Aviation Association, Texas Private Fliers Association, Texas Flying Farmers, Texas Ninety-nines, Texas Wing, Civil Air Patrol, and coordinated by the Texas Aeronautics Commission for the purpose of promoting civil aviation and getting feller flyers better acquainted.

The theme this year will be "The March of Dimes" together with "Good Neighbor Relations."

In order to further this good neighbor policy, every effort is being made to get as many participants as possible from out of state and Mexico to join the gala week-long flight through Texas. Last year, 18 states and Mexico were represented.

During the tour, 43 Texas towns will be visited, necessitating some 2,946 miles of travel.

The towns to be visited are Temple, Kerrville, Castrovilla, Uvalde, Ft. Clark Ranch at Brackettville, Sonora, Fort Stockton, Van Horn, Fabens, El Paso, Pecos, Wink, Midland, Brownfield, Lamesa; Littlefield, Plainview, Hereford, Amarillo, Pampa, Childress, Vernon, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, Denton, Sherman, Mt. Pleasant, Sulphur Springs, Marshall, Longview, Tyler, Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Jasper, Beaumont, Conroe, Sugarland, Galveston, Palacios, Rockport, Alice, Harlingen, Brownsville and McAllen.

As Buster pointed out, this is near the end of the tour, when the number of traveling planes is greatest, as a result, he said, many more would become acquainted with our facilities here than if Rockport had been near the beginning of the flight.

PHILLIPS SLATES ARANSAS PROJECT

Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 72 Copano Bay State, slated 6,600-foot Aransas County West Fulton Beach (A-5 and B) Field test 7 1/2 miles northwest of Rockport, is 2,500 feet from the south line and 660 feet from the west line of Tract 46, Copano Bay.

There are 66 wells on the 6,073-acre lease and this test is 401 feet southwest of the No. 70, gas-gar, and scales 1,425 feet northwest of the No. 62, oil well.

FALL ART SESSIONS START SEPTEMBER 12

The fall session of the Rockport School of Fine Arts will start Monday, Sept. 12, according to Simon G. Michael, director.

Two classes are scheduled for every Monday, Michael said. The adult class will be at 9 a.m. and the youth class starts immediately after school the same day.

Registrations may be made by calling Mrs. A. L. Holland at SO-4-6354.

Total Value of Co. Property Reaches $94,058,117

Under the revaluation program recently completed, taxable properties in the county were found to total $94,058,249, while those in Aransas County Independent School District, because of its smaller area, totalled only $89,665,674.

Of these values, the county assesses on one-fifth of the total value, or $19,787,117, which is approximately $287,000 more than last year, while the school district uses a ratio of 25 per cent of the true value.

Acresage properties within the county (not subdivided) totaled $14,576,479 for land and improvements; subdivided properties were valued at $9,806,551 and the improvements upon them added another $13,811,856, for an aggregate of $23,618,407, making the total for real property amount to $38,194,886.

Personal property, including cattle, farm equipment, store stocks and similar items came to $2,022,653.

Grand total for the above was $40,217,539.

Oil and gas properties were valued at $47,375,690; other industries at $5,452,800, and marine equipment at $1,012,220.

Acreage and improvements within the school district came to $13,170,093; subdivisions and their improvements $21,852,488. This gave a total for real property of $35,022,581.

Personal property within the school district amounted to $1,980,453; oil and gas, $46,629,590; other industrial properties, including plants, utilities, pipelines, power lines, phone lines and similar items, totaled $5,283,050; and marine equipment added another $840,000.

The grand total for the school district was $89,665,674.

Of this, the district uses a ratio of 25 per cent for assessment.

In explaining the basis on which the valuations were computed, a member of the firm of Thomas Y. Pickett, which conducted the survey said:

"We went back for three years and studied the record of all property sales in the county, and then we classified the residential property in twelve categories."

"We had men on the ground, measuring and making a record of the various buildings, then their information was relayed to us in the office where we had valuation experts set the final value."

"Land was valued by location and desirability, and we ran a comparison with more than 150 sales of similar property. In computing personal property, we called on every merchant."

Band Chosen To Perform at Dallas Fair

The Aransas County High School Band has been selected to represent Region XVI, at the State Fair in Dallas, on Oct. 11. This date has been designated as Music Day. Aransas County will be one of the seventeen bands to perform a concert and to march in the Cotton Bowl as part of the music program for the day. This trip will be co-sponsored by the school and the Band Boosters.

The Band Boosters club and the band members will work together to raise sufficient funds to send the band to Dallas. Several projects are being undertaken to raise the money.

The band considers it an honor to represent Region XVI and our community at the State Fair, and hopes to secure favorable publicity for them.

3 OVERDUE PERSONS LOCATED BY POLICE

The Sheriff's Department located three persons in an outboard motor boat Monday after they were reported overdue, the Coast Guard said.

George Adams of Bryan and his two sons were found on Copano Reef about 6 p.m.

A coast Guard plane from Corpus Christi was called out to search at 4:20 p.m., but saw no signs of the boat and returned to its base.

SEPTEMBER DRAFT CALLS FOR 406 TEXANS

Austin.—The state quota for Texas draft boards in September calls for 406 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced Tuesday.

The state's September call of 106 compares with a quota of 359 for August and 290 for July. The September call is the state's share of a national quota of 8,000 men, all for the Army.

Colonel Schwartz also announced pre-induction physical and mental examinations for 1,190 men in September.

Local Boards for the September

call already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The September quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on September 1, 1960, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

CORRECTION

Last week we stated that the First Baptist Church, colored, had a new church under construction. This was a mistake. The new church being erected just off Highway 35 belongs to the Colored Assembly of God.

Carter Family Of Tyler Enjoy Their Vacation Here

The Carter family of Tyler enjoyed their recent vacation here, as the following letter to the Pilot shows:

Mrs. Carter says: "My husband, daughter Carol, her buddy Molly Torrains (both sixteen-year-olds) and I, drove from Tyler to Rockport Aug. 1, this year, for our first stay there. We spent 3½ days full of real enjoyment. Your town is so very attractive, neat, accommodating, and friendly. We were most comfortable and received no "bum steers" about where to go, what to do, what to eat, and where.

"On Wednesday morning we took a trip out into the bay waters with Capt. Frazier Cantrell, who was honest enough to say the wind was wrong and we'd probably be disappointed in our fishing. We took the trip anyway and had a wonderful time and caught what was to be a lot of fish. That was Aug. 3, which happened to be Cantrell's birthday. My daughter took enclosed snaps of him wearing my fishing hat, an elegant, hand-made milam straw, trimmed in daisies. The hat belongs to Carol's buddy, who was with us.

"To you from all four of us, for all of your people we contacted, we send our sincere thanks for a memorable vacation.

Mrs. Howard Carter
608 S. Chilton,
Tyler, Texas

P. S. The girls very much approved of the town's choice of life Guard at the beach across from the Tropics and his buddy."

Victoria Wheel and Spur Club Will Be At Aransas Pass

Men and horses have been inseparable since fore the dawn of time. The cave man crouched in his den and died but his son found that the world was wide, when first he straddled a horse's back.

And today, despite the fact that this in an age of horse power instead of horses, the 50 or 60 members of Victoria's Wheel and Spur Club do the same thing.

They are men, women and children who have a hankering to turn the clock back to the boots-and-saddles era that is the proud heritage of Texans, and all of them love to hear the echoes of yesterday's pioneers on their trail rides.

These are composed of many things: the whinnying of tired horses at sundown; the crackling of fires under bean pots, as the fragrant mesquite smoke writes lazily upward; the tinkle-tunk of guitars as a couple of balladeers harmonize on "The Streets of Laredo," or some other ancient cowboy classic.

And, at the camp settles for the evening, the high bird-like voices of the children playing in the dusk, are heard as their daddies discuss the need for rain in rumbling bass while the contralto voices of the women swap recipes around the campfire.

Members of the club are from all walks of life. Few can describe themselves as bonafide Texas ranchers, complete with Cadillacs, oil well and helicopter, and no other interests but horses and cattle.

Gene Geistman, "Wagon Master" or president of the club, does some ranching, but he also operates an insurance agency. Ed Gossett, "Trail Boss" or vice president, lives in the country but runs a pipe supply company.

Neil Murray is a laboratory technician at Citizen's Memorial Hospital; Clifford Morris deals in oil field supplies; Norman Lumpkin works for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

But to all of them, horses and wagons and the attendant trappings, patching up old buggies and harness and seeking authentic vehicles to use on their trail rides, has been proved an absorbing passion.

B. G. Henry, an Edna member, has a chuck wagon pulled by a pair of the shiniest, sleekest, sassiest sorrel mules you ever saw. J. H. Sugg, 74-year-old member from CDT Ranch, goes along in a buggy.

Geistman has recently unearthed a two-wheeled gig which he swears will be in the Shrimpooree parade at Aransas Pass Sept. 3, and has his eye on some exotic conveyances.

"I know where there's on old-fashioned, horse-drawn hearse," he said, "complete with plate glass sides and black plumes. And a brougham, and a sort of town coach, with the driver's seat out in front, as well as an old-time stage coach."

But, as there is keen rivalry among club members over rehabilitation and acquisition of such relics, he clammed up when asked where they were.

"Some of those guys will do anything to beat another fellow out of something like that," he said dorkily. "Just wait 'till I get 'em in the barn, and then you can see them."

CALLER HAS ITEM FROM ROCKPORT 75 YEARS AGO

Among other items in the Corpus Christi Caller of Sunday, Aug. 9, 1885, was the appointment of C. F. Bailey of Rockport as collector of customs for the Corpus Christi District.

"This was news to many and, especially, to the present incumbent, Mr. Jerome," the Caller said. The paper added that Mr. Bailey's appointment was a sign that President Grover Cleveland and his Democratic administration planned to place men of ability in responsible positions. The Caller didn't care for Mr. Jerome.

Of the 501 arrests made by game wardens last month, 400 of them were for fishing without the $2.15 license required. Unlucky hunters also were arrested for hunting from automobiles, killing deer, ducks, quail and curlew out of season. Two more fishermen also paid fines for "telephoning," which is the use of electrical device for taking fish. The 501 arrested paid fines and costs totaling $8,514.80 according to the director of law enforcement, Game and Fish Commission. SNAKES ALIVE Austin.—Watch out for snakes. This is the warning of game wardens to persons going into woods or on the waters for the next few weeks. Cooling rains have put poisonous snakes on the move again and almost everyday, someone suffers a painful snakebite through negligence.	EARL'S DRIVE IN Grocery and ice house, open until midnight. HUNT, FISHING LICENSE READY TO SEND OUT

Austin.—New hunting and fishing licenses for the 1960-61 season will be mailed to licensed deputies throughout the state next week according to C. L. Friou, fiscal director of the Game and Fish Commission.

The license will reach these deputies in time for buying by Sept. 1, when a new license is required. They will be available at most sporting goods stores, from county clerks and game wardens.

Fishing licenses will sell for $2.15 for either resident or non-resident. A license is required of anyone between the ages of 16 and 65 who fishes outside his home county or fishing anywhere with a rod and reel.

A new hunting license form has been prepared for the up-coming season. The resident license will sell for 3.15 and is required for all persons between 16 and 65 who hunt outside their own counties.

The new license will not be effective until Sept. 1, and persons caught hunting or fishing between now and that time without their old license will be subject to prosecution.

The new licenses are expected to go on sale after Aug. 25.

ROCKPORT HITS THE HEADLINES OVER WEEKEND

Rockport hit the headlines a gratifying number of times over the weekend.

Two stories on Coach Dave Segler's Pirate football team appeared in the San Antonio Light and the Houston Chronicle, while there were four other stories in the Sunday Chronicle.

Among them were stories on Caspary and Wendell's fleet, the 1919 storm and another on the Cadillac splendor with which Fulton's school children will be fed this fall.

And, in the Caller were a number of stories on the drop in school taxes and various other happenings here.

JAYCEE DANCE VERY SUCCESSFUL

The Jaycee dance at the Boat Barn in Fulton Saturday night was most successful according to Charles Roe Jr. Close to 200 attended. Profits will go to the various projects sponsored by the Jaycees, such as the Junior Road-e-o, Jaycee Tennis Tournament, and to aid the Toast of the Coast Relays.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Baughman were in Houston over the weekend.

OLD ROCKPORT—

of vocal and instrumental music, as well as German, French and Spanish.

John Young, hero of Dobie's "Vaquero of the Brush Country," was a Concrete scholar; so was the late W. W. (Bill) Jones, of Corpus Christi and Beeville, and George W. Saunders, who for many years was president of the Old Trail Drivers' Association.

Discipline and religious training were strict; no frivolity was tolerated. Tuition and board, including washing and all regular expenses with the exception of bed, bedding, lights for the dormitories and a contingent fee, was $100 for a five-month's course.

This was payable in gold at face value, or in U. S. currency at the prevailing rate of exchange, for greenbacks in those days were sometimes worth less than the paper they were printed on.

At one time, Concrete College was the largest boarding school in the state. But development of public schools and flu and measles epidemics were too much for Dr. Covey. So, some time in 1881, he said "To heck with it all," and closed down dear old concrete for good.

ROCKPORT'S WORST—

every once in a while the building would shudder and another room or two would slip into the water.

At the height of the storm, the water dashed against the third floor windows of the hotel and the First National Bank. The latter, along with the real estate office immediately behind it, was practically demolished, while fish and oyster houses along the bay front were swept away early.

Two thousand head of Herefords from the Lucas Ranch on St. Joseph's Island were washed away and drowned as waves swept over the low-lying spit of land. Their bodies lined the shore in front of Rockport and Fulton.

Heldenfels Shipyard was ruined; the Rockport-Corpus Christi Drilling Company's test on the island was completely obliterated, and Harry Traylor, long-time resident, said they hunted for a week or more before locating some of the equipment.

Monday, the dazed citizens, still reeling from the shock of the gale, appointed Mayor A. R. A.

Bruce and Roy Jackson, who now lives in Sinton, to direct rescue and rehabilitation efforts.

They in turn organized a vigilance committee to stop looting. Guards with loaded shotguns struck terror to the hearts of thieves, and by the time the National Guard arrived the situation was well in hand.

All shipping was paralyzed; the beach was covered with wreckage. No drugs were available except a few one of the local doctors had in his medicine case. All food stuffs were commandeered; provisions could be obtained only through requisitions from the proper authorities.

The first supplies to reach the stricken town were brought by D. M. Picton. He drove a four-up to Gregory, bought a wagon-load of supplies with his own money and returned to Rockport so loaded that the four mules could hardly pull the wagon. The supplies he gave to the needy.

A relief train from Houston, in charge of Colonel John Bonner, was originally headed for Corpus Christi but later reconsigned to Sinton, and supplies from this were the first outside help Rockport and Aransas Pass (also stricken) received.

The first of these provisions reached Rockport via wagons under direction of Mr. Carter, of the Houston Young Men's Business League, and he stayed on the job continuously.

"And," said Editor Lillie, "the principle needs of the people, such as bread and bacon and potatoes were furnished quickly."

Steel Does Many Farm Tasks Today

Modern steel tools have given the farmer muscles of a Paul Bunyan by helping him increase his volume, lower his costs, and increase his profits.

Steel—5½ million tons of it annually—has been one of the farmer's greatest allies in helping to lighten his work, brighten his leisure and widen his world.

And products of the steel mills and related steel industry manufactures, such as coal tar chemicals, limestone and slag, have enabled today's farmer to make farming more and more a comfortable way of life and less and less the sunup-to-sundown, chore-filled existence it was a scant fifty years ago.

Horse liniment and harness have given way to coal chemicals and combines in a revolution that has transformed American farms into the most productive in the world. Output per man-hour is up 180% since 1940, according to the Department of Agriculture.

In China, despite the boasted Communist progress, it takes about 80% of the people, tilling the soil by the most primitive means, to provide food for the nation. In Russia, although 45% of the working force cultivates the land, ample food for workers and soldier's remains one of the Soviet Union's greatest concerns.

In America, one farm worker provides more than enough food for himself and 23 others with an efficiency of operation that has played a key role in making the American standard of living one of the highest in the world.

The modern farmer in this country has become 10 to 20 times more productive than his counterpart elsewhere because he has been willing and able to take quick advantage of a great number of technical improvements within the past 20 years.

With a 6-row planter he plants sixty acres a day. His 7-foot combine cuts a twenty-acre swath from sunup to sundown. A one-man hay baler knocks out 1,000 bales a day.

Giant bulldozers carve chunks out of the South Texas brush, helping ranchers to raise more cattle.

Where it once took 72 minutes of labor to grow a bushel of corn during the horse age, the efficient farmer today, using modern machines, is able to produce the same results with only five minutes of labor per bushel.

Today's farm tools are geared, framed, shafted, muffled and strengthened by steel. In one shape or another steel goes into the manufacture of engines, mowers, combines, corn pickers, balers, field choppers, tractors, fertilizer spreaders, wagons, loaders, plows, discs, harrows, planters, cultivators, livestock equipment, utility attachments like buckets, scrapers, scoops, dozers, post hole diggers—and into scores of other farm and ranch labor-saving gadgets.

So great has the surge towards mechanization on the farm—automatic machinery for practically every purpose—that the farm industry ranks among the largest in the United States in terms of investment in equipment, which has increased 470%—from $3.1 billions in 1940 to nearly $18 billions at the present.

Today these tools and machines made of steel are helping the farm industry to produce 74% more food than in 1930, with a 31% smaller farm population. At the same time, mechanization of the farm has freed the man behind the plow, and enabled him to enjoy the good things of life once beyond his time and energy.
