TEXAS CANDIDATE SLAIN AFTER CAMPAIGN TALK

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The driver who cuts through a filling station to get past a traffic light is a trespasser on private property and is endangering the lives of filling station attendants. It is a dangerous practice and should meet the condemnation of all who have regard for safety.

At least nine times out of 10 the fellow who is in such a hurry doesn't know what he is in a hurry about and it wouldn't make much difference if he never got to where he is going, if he knows where that is.

Maybe the court of appeals at Fort Worth will tell us today what requirements can be imposed upon those who aspire for places on the Democratic ballot as candidates for party offices. The Wichita county Democratic committee will appear before the court to answer the citation of J. R. Ogle and others in an action to mandamus the committee to place their names on the ballot for voting in the primary on July 26.

The rejected applicants will doubtless contend that the action of the committee was arbitrary and without warrant of law or right. The committee will doubtless contend that it has the right of rejecting candidates for party office whose loyalty to the party and support of the ticket it may question. The duty of the court will be to determine the facts and to apply the law to the case. The decision in this case ought to go far toward establishing what the law is regarding party organizations.

So far there has been nothing in this campaign to get hot over except the weather. Talker hasn't even heard a good campaign lie. Why, even the candidates are not saying anything very bad about each other. The most amusing thing in the campaign has been the effort of some of the candidates to make the people believe somebody has said something about them. Here's one candidate who tries to make the voters think somebody has charged him with being a poor man and raised on a farm, another who alleges it is being whispered he is from North Texas, another that he is lacking the support of powerful influences and must depend upon the common people.

No Sir and Mam, there hasn't been a good enough lie told yet in this campaign to make it interesting, so the candidates, in order to get anybody to pay any attention to them, are compelled to invent some about themselves. There is this about a candidate inventing his or her own lie, they can make one that will not hurt.

Ross Sterling has a big advantage in this campaign, if he is able to use it; he is being attacked by all the other candidates for governor and is the center of attention. Earlier in the campaign Tom Love had somewhat the same position but he was so boresome and showed himself so contentious that he lost the spotlight and is not likely to regain it.

Sterling is being attacked on a number of grounds. One of them is because he advocates submission to a vote of a state bond issue for highway improvements. Another is that he is a rich man and sold out to the Standard Oil company. Still another is that considerable money is being spent to present his candidacy to the people. These are the worst things that are being said about Sterling.

Now with the advantage of having his candidacy the center of interest in the campaign, made so largely by the other candidates themselves, it will be up to Sterling whether he has the merit and force to capitalize this advantage. A man of force who could speak convincingly could take Sterling's position and get into the second primary. We shall see whether Sterling can do this. If he cannot he will have no one to blame but himself.

There is now a slab of concrete from Wichita Falls to the Haskell county line through Wichita, Archer, Baylor and Knox counties. The last stretch of concrete completing the pavement was poured in Baylor county yesterday. Haskell county has voted bonds which will carry the pavement across that county to the Jones county line from whence it is paved through Jones and Baylor counties to Abilene.

One by one unpaved stretches in the highways are being paved connecting up a great system of state and international paved highways. Many of the highways in this section of Texas are already paved or have appropriations made for that work. An exception is the highway running east from Henrietta through Nocona, Gainesville and on east to Texarkana. There is a considerable break, however, between the paved highways of Texas and those of Oklahoma all the country north and east through the lack of paving in Southwestern Oklahoma. That situation, we are promised, will be remedied within the next year or two and by the time that is done several gaps will be filled in West Texas so that there will be paved outlets in every direction, east, west, north and south.

WIRE NOTIFIES BULLINGTON OF FEDERAL PLAN

Property Owners Asked To Prepare Proposals On Building Sites

PROGRAM SPEEDED UP

Construction Work Expected to Start Here Before End of Year

Bids for a site for the new $750,000 Wichita Falls federal building recently authorized by congress will be sought in advertisements to be issued by the treasury department within the next week, according to an official telegram received Wednesday by Orville Bullington, vice chairman of the Republican state committee.

Owners of property available for the site should prepare to submit proposals in response to the advertisements and in accordance with the specifications to be outlined, the telegram advised. Sites offered will be inspected by inter-departmental representatives after the expiration of the term set out in the advertisements.

Appropriations for the new building here were passed about two months ago and Republican leaders have expressed the opinion that work on the actual construction will begin before the first of the year.

Texas Florists Name Candidates for President

SAN ANTONIO, July 9. (AP)—F. V. Huffmeyer of San Antonio, E. W. Judge of Tyler and W. M. Morgan of San Angelo were named today as the choices of the nominating committee of the Texas State Florist's association for the presidency of the association to be elected tomorrow.

The board of directors favors the 1931 convention being held on a boat from Houston to Havana. The trip would take several days. The cost was estimated at $40,000.

Other nominations included second vice president, Harry Donnelly of Wichita Falls.

Itasca Farmers Sign Cooperative Contracts

WACO, Texas, July 9. (AP)—More than 100 contracts had been signed by farmers residing near Itasca where a branch office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association will be located, it was announced from district three headquarters here today. The membership drive in Hill county started this morning.

A representative of the Waco headquarters returned from Cameron after a meeting last night, reporting 75 contracts signed by leading farmers of Milam county, who produce approximately 15,000 acres of cotton.

Officers Attacked By Striking Teamsters

BUTTE, Mont., July 9. (UP)—Two deputy sheriffs were attacked by a mob of 50 striking union teamsters and machinists in front of a downtown hotel here late today.

The deputies, Charles Olsen and Gilbert Lane, escaped serious injury when police came to their rescue and hurried them away in an automobile.

Rioting between strikers and non-union workers has flared up periodically since the teamsters and machinists declared a walkout Monday, after a wage cut.

Lamesa Truck Rate Application Heard

LUBBOCK, Texas, July 9. (AP)—Application of the Kuykendall Transfer and Storage company of Lamesa and others to set aside the reclassification of truck rates was heard here today by Pat M. Neff, chairman of the Texas railroad commission.

The applicants asked that the Western classification of railroad rates not be used and also asked that the order for classification of freight be abrogated.

Bandits' 'Brains' Awaits Gallows

An echo of the bloodiest crime in history of the modern West—the $238,000 robbery of a bank at Lamar, Colo., the murder of two bank officials and the subsequent slaying of two other men—will be heard Thursday when the first member of the notorious Fleagle gang goes to his death on the gallows. Ralph Fleagle, upper right, the "brains" of the gang of outlaws, was scheduled to die early this morning, while Howard Royston, lower right, and George Abshier, left, are to hang during the week ending July 19.

Governor Silent on Pleas for Life Of Bandit as Hour of Hanging Nears

Leader of Lamar, Colo., Bank Robbers Scheduled to Die On Gallows in First Hour of Thursday

DENVER, July 9. (AP)—Gov. W. H. Adams said he would have no statement to make tonight on the petitions of attorneys for Ralph Fleagle for a commutation of the death sentence.

The governor said no action was contemplated tonight, if ever, and added unless the commutation were granted he would have no statement to make regarding the leader of the bandit gang which killed four persons in the robbery of the First National bank of Lamar, Colo., in 1928.

"Fleagle's attorneys have asked for a commutation of the death sentence," said Governor Adams. "If I decide to grant a reprieve, the announcement will come from me. Otherwise, I will have no statement to make in this case."

The governor's attitude was interpreted to mean he had heard no evidence of a nature to interfere with the decree of the trial jury and the supreme court.

Appeals for executive clemency in behalf of Howard L. Royston and George J. Abshier also had not been acted upon by the governor tonight.

The last minute legal fight to save the Lamar trio from the gallows at the state penitentiary centered today on points of law and on a confession and agreement signed and witnessed in Colorado Springs.

L. W. Cunningham, representing all three bandits, argued in Fleagle's behalf that the gang leader signed his confession with the understanding he would be given life imprisonment. The confession, he pointed out, resulted in the arrest and conviction of Abshier and Royston. Cunningham said the state

HUSTON DENIES HE'LL RESIGN

G. O. P. Chairman to Keep Post for Present

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—Returning to the capital tonight for a conference with Republican leaders, Claudius Huston emphatically stated he did not intend to resign his chairmanship of the Republican National committee at tomorrow's meeting.

Mr. Huston held to his determination not to discuss the many stories which have been printed about his resignation, but he made it clear he had no thought of resigning at tomorrow's conference of party officers which he has called to discuss plans for the fall campaign.

Asked if he had any thought of resigning in the immediate future, the harassed chairman replied: "I have not given it any thought since my talks early in the week." Then he made it plain that he did not intend to resign.

Huston had hardly reached the city before his telephone was busy as Republican leaders sought conferences with him—some to plead that he give assurance of an early withdrawal to avert the threatened blow-off tomorrow at the party powwow.

Earle Kinsley, national committeemen for Vermont, who is a personal friend of Huston and who conferred earlier in the day with President Hoover was among the first to get in touch with Huston to

W. T. Waggoner to Put Thoroughbreds on Block

CHICAGO, July 9. (AP)—W. T. Waggoner of Arlington, Texas, whose horses race under the name of the Three D stable, announced today that he will sell off at public auction all his thoroughbreds which are not home breeds.

The auction will be held at Saratoga Spring, N. Y., some time next month, and two years old as well as aged horses will go on the block. Paul Waggoner, a son, left today for Saratoga to arrange for the sale.

Motor Trouble Brings Mermoz Seaplane Down

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 9. (UP)—The frequently delayed attempt of Jean Mermoz, French aviator, to prove practical an airmail service linking Europe with South America was frustrated in mid-flight today.

Engine trouble forced Mermoz to bring his giant seaplane to rest on the placid surface of the Atlantic about 300 miles from Dakar, Senegal, Africa, his goal, and this evening he was being towed over the water by the Aeropostale steamship Phocee, toward port.

Student Flier Drowns As Ship Falls Into Bay

OAKLAND, Calif., July 9. (AP)—O. A. Smith, Syracuse, N. Y., student flier, drowned in the bay near Oakland airport today after the plane in which he was practicing tail spins plunged 3,000 feet into shallow water one-quarter mile off shore.

Numerous Candidates Battle State's Apathy In Vain

By FRANK O. HALL
United Press Staff Correspondent

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9.—Oklahomans apparently have refused to accept the prohibition question as an issue in the state's 1930 political campaign.

Although former Gov. J. B. A. Robertson, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, has campaigned practically every section of the state, advocating repeal of both the Volstead law and the 18th amendment, no marked interest has been shown in his efforts.

Robertson, standard bearer of prohibition modification, is one of Oklahoma's several governors who have been caught in the state's political maelstroms that have swept two governors from office.

Ex-Governors in Race

An unsuccessful attempt was made to impeach Robertson when he was governor.

Robertson is one of the four former governors who have entered the United States senate race in Oklahoma this year. Two of that number have been impeached.

The other three are Lee Cruce, Henry S. Johnson and J. C. (Jack) Walton. Walton and Johnston were those impeached. All are Democrats except Walton who is running on the Independent ticket.

Johnston, self-styled "country lawyer" is seeking the nomination for vindication of his governorship record.

Other Entrants

Other senate entrants include former Senator T. P. Gore, known as "the blind senator from Oklahoma," and famous for his campaign stump speeches which he is using again this summer; Kathryn Van Leuven, the first woman to serve as an assistant attorney general of Oklahoma; Charles J. Wrightsman, wealthy Tulsan; Woodson E. Norvell; Charles W. Harris; E. G. Barnard and William L. McCann.

Senator W. B. Pine, incumbent, is conceded the Republican nomina-

MacDonald Government Has Narrow Escape

LONDON, July 9. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald's Labor government had its narrowest escape from defeat during its present tenure of office tonight, defeating by a bare majority of three votes—and these all Liberals—a Liberal amendment to the finance bill.

With the aid of the Liberals themselves, the prime minister managed to muster 278 votes to 275. His previous narrow escape was several months ago on a coal mines measure when the government got a majority of only eight.

Communist Inquiry Scheduled Next Week

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—To investigate Communist activities in the United States, a congressional committee, headed by Representative Hamilton Fish Jr., will inaugurate here a series of public hearings next Tuesday. Subsequent hearings will be conducted in Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago and Philadelphia, the findings to be laid before congress.

J. Ben Critz Named Dallas C.-C. Manager

DALLAS, July 9. (UP)—J. Ben Critz, Dallas cotton merchant and mayor of an exclusive suburban municipality, today was elected manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Homer D. Wade, resigned.

American Girl's Struggle To Escape Drowning After Crash Of Plane Revealed

By WILLIAM HILLMAN
(Copyright, 1930, by Universal Service, Inc.)

BERLIN, July 9.—All trace of the plucky American girl, Miss Ruth Patricia Northrop, 30, of Philadelphia, her companion, Dr. John L. Burkholder, 42, of Mount Pleasant, Pa., and three German passengers of the ill-fated Lufthansa liner, Dornier-Wahl, forced down Monday on a stormy sea, had been swallowed up by the waters of the Baltic tonight.

All search for the wreckage of the plane was abandoned late today and hope of finding the bodies has been given up. Only three days after the airplane, bound from Stettin to Stockholm, was forced to descend because of a damaged motor and a broken propeller was the identity of two of the passengers as Americans established.

Story of Struggle

A brief but graphic tale of Miss Northrop's brave struggle to save her life was given by Captain Bern of the Dutch motor yacht Spes, which was at first reported to have saved two survivors, but which today radioed that it had been unable to rescue anyone from the high-running seas.

The Spes discovered the wreckage of the plane seven miles from Bornholm. Clinging to the sides of the pontoon of the seaplane was Miss Northrop, the only woman passenger, desperately trying to keep her head above the pounding waves, but showing no signs of hysteria.

It being impossible to maneuver the boat to the side of the wreckage, Miss Northrop released her hold, hanging on a lifebelt to keep her afloat until she could be pulled out of the water.

Life Belt Snaps

Captain Bern said that an attempt to drag her from the water was made with a boat hook. The life preserver snapped under the strain and the American woman disappeared beneath the water, never to reappear.

Captain Karl Kuring, pilot of the wrecked plane, who with three members of the crew, was picked

Legion's Legislative Slate Wiped Clean

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—The legislative slate of the American Legion virtually has been wiped clean by the recently enacted laws that have been placed upon the nation's statute books.

O. L. Bodenhamer, national commander of the organization, speaking over a nation-wide hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting company, said tonight "practically every important and outstanding legislative request of the American Legion has been enacted into law."

Expressing gratitude to congress and President Hoover for their consideration and attitude, he said "the president has not been as liberal as some had hoped," but "he has shown a sympathetic attitude with reference to this legislation."

Socialist Chairman Flays Mooney Action

NEW YORK, July 9. (UP)—Morris Hillquit, national chairman of the Socialist party, today characterized the refusal of pardons to Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings as a "thinly disguised act of vengeance."

The statement was issued after a meeting of Socialist party leaders, at which it was decided to start a campign to free the two labor leaders. Hoping to rouse popular interest in the men, convicted of throwing a bomb into a preparedness crowd in San Francisco, the Socialist chiefs will hold mass meetings in the New York area July 15, 16 and 17.

115 KILLED IN GERMAN MINE

Coal Gas Takes Lives Of Trapped Men

NEUROBE, Silesia, July 9. (UP)—An explosion in a coal mine here today trapped scores of miners in the shattered pits, killing many.

Authentic figures showed at least 57 had been killed and that 49 rescued had been poisoned badly by gas in the stifling shafts.

A check up showed 65 men were still buried. Frantic efforts to rescue them had been futile at midnight.

Relatives of the missing assembled at the pithead. Hurrying automobiles and trucks carried the dead and injured from the scene.

The crews of all neighboring mines went to aid in the rescue work.

NEURODE, Germany, July 9. (AP)—Bodies of 67 miners tonight were removed from the Wenceslaus mine near here which today was wrecked by an explosion of coal gas. About 50 others suffering from gas poisoning have been taken out of the mine by rescuing parties. Authorities tonight hoped to save a majority of 73 others still entombed.

NEURODE, Germany, July 9. (AP)—The number of casualties in the Wenceslaus mine catastrophe tonight was expected to far exceed early reports of 20 dead. Relief work had barely started this evening, in an effort to save the 200 miners entombed.

Many bodies were taken out by the rescue parties, but they were so disfigured as to be beyond identification, so quickly had the carbonic acid gas acted.

Fire brigades and first aid squads were loaded into motor trucks from many towns surrounding the scene.

The rescue work proceeded rapidly.

Dallas Man Sues Actor For $25,000 Heart Balm

DALLAS, July 9. (UP)—Claiming personal and mental injury, alienation of his wife's affections, false imprisonment and insult, Jacques Loree, of Dallas, today filed a $25,000 suit against M. Alphonse Berg, appearing on the bill of a vaudeville house here.

The trouble started, Loree declared, when he appeared behind the scenes of the theater stage and attempted to persuade his wife to quit vaudeville and return home. Mrs. Loree does a dance number in M. Berg's act and refused to quit.

When Loree refused to leave, Berg called police and had him placed in jail for the night, Loree alleged in his suit.

Hit-Run Automobile Seriously Injures Girl

DALLAS, July 9. (UP)—Police tonight were searching for the hit-and-run driver who struck Rowena Connor, 22, and drove from the scene leaving her with a fractured skull. She still was in a critical condition and unable to give a coherent account of the accident.

AUTOPSY OVER BODY REVEALS STAB WOUNDS

Huntsville District Attorney Aspirant Found Dead In Automobile

CAR GOES IN CREEK

Tragedy at First Blamed On Accident; Knife Pierces Chest

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, July 9. (UP)—Earl R. Swanger, 37, candidate for district attorney of the 12th judicial district, who was found dead in his wrecked automobile early today, was murdered, officers said late today after an inquest had been held.

Swanger at first was thought to have gone asleep at the wheel of his car. The auto fell 50 feet into Harmon creek while Swanger was returning to Huntsville after campaigning in Trinity county. He had been dead several hours when found at 7 a. m. today.

This afternoon Dr. J. R. Martin, Walker county health officer, held an autopsy and found three stab wounds in Swanger's body.

One pierced his chest and two were in the politician's right shoulder. There were a few scratches on the man's throat and a bruise on his head, evidently caused by the fall. Dr. Martin said, however, that the head injury did not fracture Swanger's skull and was not necessarily fatal.

Justice R. I. Camp withheld his inquest verdict pending additional investigation.

TRIPLE SHOOTING

SAN ANTONIO, July 9. (AP)—Dr. H. H. Ogilive, prominent surgeon, and his wife were wounded, and Mrs. W. R. Spence, wife of a patrolman and a former patient of Dr. Ogilive, was killed in a triple shooting at the home of Dr. Ogilive tonight.

WOMAN QUIZZED AFTER RIDE IN CAR

HOUSTON, July 9. (AP)—A woman who left Huntsville last night with Earl R. Swanger in his car for Trinity was questioned today at her home in Trinity by Sheriff N. L. Speer.

Swanger's body with three stab wounds was found beneath a wrecked car near Huntsville this morning.

She said she had been to Huntsville on business, and had accepted Mr. Swanger's invitation to ride back to Trinity with him.

She said that en route to her home a man whom she knew drove up behind them and that she decided to complete the trip with him instead of Mr. Swanger. She said that she got out of the car and that Mr. Swanger proceeded to Trinity.

She did not even know that Mr. Swanger was dead until informed by the sheriff, she said.

The county attorney's force, headed by County Attorney R. T. Burns, and Justice of the Peace R. J. Camp, in addition to Sheriff Speer and his deputies are conducting a probe into the candidate's mysterious death.

Neville to Rest In Arlington Cemetery

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—Arlington National cemetery, resting place of the nation's warrior dead, Friday will receive the body of another soldier, Maj. Gen. Wendell C. Neville of the marines.

General Neville, commandant of the marine corps, died at the home of his daughter at Edgewater Beach, Md., yesterday.

Before the burial Sydney K. Evans, chief of chaplains of the navy, will conduct service at the Neville home.

Personal Remarks Begin to Crop Out in Gubernatorial Marathon

(By The Associated Press)

Texas' Democratic gubernatorial campaign had reached the "personalities" stage today, with some of the aspirants lambasting their fellow-candidate, R. S. Sterling of Houston, for what they claimed was a too generous use of money in his effort to sell himself to the people.

Sterling had not "spoken up" as yet on that point, but he was busy telling the electorate that the other candidates, with few exceptions, were misrepresenting his proposed plan to issue state bonds for highway construction purposes, making special reference to Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, whom, he said, was getting himself "into hotter and hotter water" every time he discusses the bond idea.

Earle B. Mayfield and Clint C. Small were the first to speak of Sterling's alleged display of cash in the campaign. Speaking at Nacogdoches Small said Sterling would find out on July 26 that the governor's office was not for sale and Mayfield complained that it was possible to come in contact with "a paid agent of Sterling" in almost every town and charged that the Houston Man's organization had spent $125,000 already.

Mayfield was to campaign among familiar faces Thursday, appearing at Lockhart and Austin, where he was an occupant of the state house as railroad commissioner before he was sent to the United States senate, where he studied in the University of Texas and where he served in the state senate years ago. Small also was to be in the Central Texas

Freedom and Guns Restored To Lingle Suspect After Arrest

LOS ANGELES, July 9. (AP)—Fred Fodsythe, wanted in Chicago for the slaying of Alfred Lingle, newspaperman, was arrested here, it was revealed today, by three policemen who let him go after returning his gun.

Ed C. King of the district attorney's office said the three policemen gave unsatisfactory explanations of why they released Forsythe.

King said two sergeants and a patrolman entered an apartment occupied by Frank Foster, under indictment for Lingle's slaying, a week before Foster and four other Chicago men were arrested.

The officers found Forsythe and Marvin Hart, gangster suspect, talked with them all night, confiscated three guns and left, but later returned with the weapons.

Chicago police charge Lingle was shot by Forsythe with Foster's gun. Foster will be given a hearing next week on extradition proceedings. He claimed he was not in Chicago when Lingle was shot.

"NEWS RACKET" PROBE DEADLOCKED

CHICAGO, July 9. TREATY FIGHT DELAYS VOTE

No Action Taken on McKellar Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—Five more hours of feverish debate by the senate ended today without action on the McKellar resolution requesting production of the diplomatic correspondence leading up to negotiation of the London naval treaty.

Treaty proponents were openly disturbed over the delay, but predicted a vote tomorrow and a resumption of debate on the treaty itself.

All sides seemed agreed that the resolution would pass, but with some modification. Pending at adjournment were three amendments.

One, by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader and a delegate to London, would request the papers "if not compatible with the public interest." Another, by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, would call for their consideration by the senate in "closed executive session." A third, by Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, would permit President Hoover, in transmitting the documents, to make such recommendations as he saw fit as to how they should be considered.

Advocates of the resolution contended it was not a question of publicity, but one of asserting one of the senate's constitutional privileges in obtaining the papers before voting on the treaty. One of them, Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, said unless he could see the documents he would "either refuse to vote or vote against the treaty."

All of the leading senatorial debaters got into action before adjournment, with both senators Robinson and Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, another member of the American delegation to London, arguing the president had a right to withhold that portion of the correspondence which he might regard as of a strictly confidential nature.

At one point, Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, a treaty opponent, charged Reed was "wrongfully in possession" of the secret papers, his right to them having ended with the termination of his foreign mission.

Reed, who has invited any senator to inspect the documents on condition they hold them in confidence and who renewed that offer today, proposed to have Secretary Stimson present them to Moses in a very formal manner if the New Hampshire senator refused to receive them "from my tainted hands."

Moses declined the offer. With a smile he said he would "not put the 'laird of Stanmore' to that much trouble." He apparently referred to the fact that Secretary Stimson occupied while abroad a residence near London called "Stanmore."

Arguing for his amendment, Senator Robinson of Arkansas asserted many of the messages exchanged between the president and the state department on the one hand and Ambassador Dawes and other diplomats abroad were in code and if made public would "provoke resentment on the part of the signatories of the treaty."

He added that the documents were "absolutely trivial so far as reflecting any light on the treaty after it was negotiated," and to him there was "an element of comedy in the matter that would be apparent if senators could read some of these secret messages."

108-Year-Old Teacher Awaits Former Pupil, 91

WASHINGTON, Conn., July 9. (AP)—The pages of time will be rolled back several scores of years this week when a former pupil, 91, meets his former teacher, 108.

Merritt Haviland, of Colora, Md., will arrive here tonight to help his sister, Mrs. Phoebe McMahon, 89, celebrate her birthday, and to visit the scenes of his childhood. Among those he will meet is Stanley Warner, now boasting 108 years, who taught Haviland the three R's in a country schoolhouse.

Commencement Exercises For Summer Seniors Set for July 23

The annual summer commencement exercises of the Junior college, high school and the two junior high schools will be held in the college auditorium Wednesday morning, July 23, at 10 o'clock, according to an announcement from the registrar's office Wednesday. A speaker for the exercises had not been selected late Wednesday.

A total of 58 graduates, five from the college, 29 from high school, 16 from Zundelowitz junior high and eight from Reagan junior high, will receive their diplomas at that time. The baccalaureate service will be held at the First Methodist church Sunday morning, July 20, with Dr. H. A. Boaz, formerly a bishop in the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and now in missionary work, as the speaker.

The period between baccalaureate Sunday and the morning of the commencement exercises will be devoted to a series of activities being planned by the officers of a joint organization of the college and high school seniors. The small number in each class led to the formation of a joint class organization, it was explained. Two activities have been held each week throughout the summer by the seniors and the climaxing events are planned for the days before commencement.

Summer school classes will meet for the last time Saturday, July 19, with examinations scheduled for the Monday and Tuesday following. Report cards will be issued immediately after the commencement exercises Wednesday morning.

Officers of the joint class organization are: Betsy Lee, president; Bryant Creighton, vice president; Fritz McDonald, secretary and treasurer; Maurice Hudgens, reporter, and A. F. Edwards, faculty sponsor.

up by other rescue ships, today sent a detailed telegraphic report of the accident to the Lufthansa. His report said that the plane was forced to descend Monday 10 miles off the coast in a heavy sea.

"A crankshaft of the rear engine broke, shattering the propeller, whose splinters injured the wings," Captain Kuring reported. "The radio was also wrecked and we were forced to make a landing on the water, which was successful.

SOS Picked Up

"A previous SOS sent out before landing was picked up by the motored sailboat Maje, which was the first to appear on the scene, but the transfer of passengers was impossible because of the heavy seas.

"I ordered the passengers equipped with swimming vests and instructed them in their use. The Maje towed us for two and a half hours when a big wave caught the wing and we were capsized. I saw it coming and ordered 'all overboard!' Everyone jumped.

"When the plane came up we saw it upside down 15 feet away. Miss Northrop was nearby and I tried to lift her atop the wreck but the waves were too big. The Maje turned back, cut the towing ropes and threw us life preservers."

Captain Kuring and a Swedish passenger named Ericson were saved by the Maje after Ericson had made a futile effort to save one of the German passengers. The Maje was forced to leave the scene on account of a damaged propeller. Her master was under the impression at the time, Captain Kuring said, that the Spes had saved two other passengers.

It was announced here tonight that Dr. Burkholder had been persuaded to take the plane only at the instance of Miss Northrop with whom he was traveling.

They arrived in this city from Prague on July 1, both registering at the Hotel Continental. It was raining when they went to the flying field. In the presence of hotel attendants, Dr. Burkholder said: "We had better not fly."

Miss Northrop is then reported to have answered: "All right, let's walk to Stockholm."

C. J. Coffey to Head Salvation Army Board

The regular monthly meeting of the advisory board of the Salvation Army was held Tuesday and C. J. Coffey, for seven years a member of the board, was elected president. He will succeed Dr. F. R. Collard, who has served as president for the past four years. W. L. Robertson was named treasurer at the meeting.

The advisory board is composed of the following members: Mr. Coffey, Mr. Robertson, Dr. Collard, James King, Jerry Schaefer, Ray Puckett, J. N. Sherrill, W. P. Ferguson, K. C. Spell, Joe Carrigan, Sam Hord, Eli Morgan, Sol Laskey, John Friley and T. O. Shappell.

tion. His opponents are J. J. Bebout and Charles J. Benson.

Nine candidates are contesting for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Among these is W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, president of the constitutional convention, who is carrying his campaign to the "common people" again this year.

Voters Apathetic

Murray, considered one of the state's "fire-eating politicians," apparently has lost none of his old-time vigor since he has been making from two to four speeches daily.

Other Democratic gubernatorial candidates are Frank Buttram, wealthy Oklahoma City oil man; M. E. Trapp, who became governor when Walton was impeached; former Supreme Court Justice Frank M. Bailey, State Auditor A. S. J. Shaw, former Congressman E. B. Howard, Jess L. Pullen, Sulphur; L. M. Overton, Duncan, and E. R. Powers, Sapulpa.

Oklahoma voters have maintained an apathetic attitude.

Many political observers believe that the run-off primary, in effect in Oklahoma for the first time this year, has caused the voters to lose interest, apparently assuming that the majority of the nominations will be decided in the second primary.

The first primary is July 29. The run-off is two weeks later.

plead that he listen to the opposition to him from Capitol hill.

In the meantime party leaders began a series of secret conferences in an effort to decide upon some outstanding Republican to restore harmony within the ranks and to raise a large fund for the November elections in districts where administration candidates have strong opposition.

Will R. Wood, Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, was the first visitor at the White House to tell the president Huston should resign, following the agreement previously reached that he would do so if the president desired. He said:

"I feel Mr. Huston has been unjustly treated and persecuted. But things have reached such a pass that it would be unwise for him to insist upon remaining in office. Senator Watson, Republican leader, told me that 32 of his colleagues insist Huston must resign. I think that practically the whole Republican membership of the house has the same view."

James Francis Burke, national counsel for the party, followed representative Wood to the White House. He said that while he is a personal friend of the chairman, the situation has developed to the point where party welfare must be considered regardless of Huston's feelings. The meeting tomorrow in his opinion, will see the resignation.

Reports persist that a chairman is to be tentatively selected tomorrow. Although the Old Guard in the Senate has urged selection of Senator Fess, Ohio, Senator Moses, it is learned, is in strong opposition to him.

Mexican Officials Honored by Stimson

WASHINGTON, July 9. (US) — Luis Montes de Oca, minister of finance of Mexico and a distinguished group of officials from that republic, here to discuss fiscal relations, were guests at a lunch given in their honor at the Pan-American union by Secretary of State Stimson today.

The occasion further cemented the friendship and good relations promoted by Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador, and President Ortiz Rubio. While the occasion was entirely sociable, it was learned that other conferences will follow at which financial matters, particularly Mexican-American claims, are to be discussed.

had broken its promise. This promise, the state supreme court has ruled, was kept to the letter.

Governor Adams told Cunningham and S. Harrison White, special counsel employed by Fleagle's mother, points of law involved should have been settled in the courts.

It was generally believed that Fleagle, sentenced to die this week, would be hanged shortly after midnight Thursday. Lewis N. Scherf, head of the Colorado state police, and Roy Best, his assistant, had not been called to the penitentiary at Canon City tonight, and as the state's representatives they are to attend the execution.

Fleagle's span of life, barring intervention, expires at midnight Saturday.

Three Hurt in Kansas Steel Strike Rioting

KANSAS CITY, July 9. (UP) — Rioting occurred here late today when striking steel workers attempted to persuade nonunion men to abandon their work on a viaduct being built across the Kansas river.

Three persons were severely injured, 35 received minor injuries and 26 union workmen were arrested before police restored order.

Arkansas Governor Honored in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9. (UP) —Former Gov. C. H. Brough of Arkansas was the special guest of Gov. W. J. Holloway at a luncheon today at the state capitol. High state officials attended.

Brough is in Oklahoma City attending the U. S. Good Roads association convention.

mation unless he could go directly to a grand jury.

Harry T. Brundige, the St. Louis newspaper man, has offered to talk to the Cook county grand jury, not to the prosecutors.

William A. Rittenkhouse, assistant state's attorney, said the grand jury could not be burdened with rumors and that the reporter must show his hand.

"Brundige must go through the usual procedure before appearing before the grand jury," the prosecutor said. "He must first be questioned by a member of my staff to see if he has knowledge of violation of the criminal code. If he shows he has this knowledge, he will be taken before the grand jury in five minutes. It is a hard-working body, and we cannot burden it with rumors."

To this, the St. Louis Star replied in an editor's note that in view of Rittenhouse's unwillingness to send Brundige before the jurors without preliminary questioning the newspaper regarded the incident as closed.

In his published articles Brundige has referred to the slain Tribune reporter as not the only Chicago newspaper man holding a questionable liaison with gangland.

Renfro Drug Store No. 1 Damaged $200 in Fire

A blaze of undetermined origin and water and chemicals used by the fire department caused damage estimated at $200 in the store room of the Renfro Drug company store No. 1 at Eighth street and Scott avenue about 7:40 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to the report of fire department officials. Smoke issuing from the rear of the store gave employes warning of the fire, none of them having been in that portion of the store at the time. Dense clouds of smoke prevented firemen from reaching the heart of the blaze at once and a part of the prescription materials stored in the room were ruined by the water and chemicals before the flames were extinguished.

COLE DENIES DEATH CHARGE

Former Election Official Takes Stand

WEWOKA, Okla., July 9. (AP)—Declaring he was not in Wewoka the night of March 24, Paul D. Cole, former secretary of the county election board, told a jury in district court here today he did not murder Ernest Irby, former Texas banker and drug store owner.

He is on trial charged with the murder.

Frank Hunt, former Tulsa lawyer, said from the witness stand yesterday that he and Cole plotted to kill Irby because he would be a witness against them in a liquor charge pending against the two men in federal court. Hunt declared that although he purchased a pistol, shells, knife and rope, that Cole did the shooting on March 24.

Cole, appearing calm, and dressed in a neatly pressed suit, said the first time he knew Irby was dead was on April 10 when he read of the discovery of the body in Lake Wewoka, where it was sunk after the shooting. He and Hunt had gone to a motion picture show in Tulsa, Cole testified, and bought a newspaper to take to their room to read. Hunt read the story in the paper first, the witness added, and jumped up with a startled expression.

Cole declared that Irby had agreed to leave Oklahoma and go to Arizona for $300 to be paid by Cole. He testified that he actually paid the money and that it had been his belief that Irby was in Arizona after the money was paid.

Mexico Boundary Parleys to Open

MEXICO CITY, July 9. (AP)—The Mexican boundary commission will begin a series of meetings here tomorrow to determine matters in connection with the frontier line especially in the region of El Paso.

The sessions will be held in the foreign relations building, Foreign Minister Estrada presiding at the opening meeting. L. M. Lawson heads the American members of the commission here for the session, while the Mexican members are headed by Gustavo Herran.

S. M. Ainsworth, consulting engineer, and M. D. Moore, secretary, are here with the American delegation, which is accompanied by W. E. Robertson, a member of the El Paso board of aldermen.

Liberty League Asks Prohibition Referendum

BOSTON, July 9. (AP)—The Constitutional Liberty league today filed at the state house a referendum petition containing 8,882 supplementary signatures, thus insuring placement on the ballot at the fall election of the question whether the state prohibition enforcement act shall be repealed.

Of the total number of signatures, 6,038 were those of women, league officials said the authenticity of each woman's signature had been passed upon by a handwriting expert in anticipation of possible claim of fraud.

Only 5,000 signatures were necessary.

Famous Old Bell Again Used to Open and Close Grain Exchange

CHICAGO, July 9. (AP)—The deep voice of Chicago's most famous bell resounded again through the board of trade today. The jangle of a modern electric bell system had proved incapable of making itself heard above the din of the trading pits.

Back in the time of the great fire of 1871 the old bell had swung above the city hall.

Partly melted by the fire, the 800-pound bell was recast in 1873 and for 55 years thence it hung in the board of trade, booming out the morning and afternoon commands to open and cease trading on the world's chief commodity market.

When the old board of trade home was razed two years ago the famous bell went to the Chicago Historical society and a new system was installed in the board of trade skyscraper recently opened on the same site at La Salle and Jackson. But the electric gong proved inadequate and today the veteran was brought back from retirement.

Pennsylvania Faces Loss of Congressmen Under New Census

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 9. (AP)—A population increase insufficient to preserve for Pennsylvania the present total of 36 members in the house of representatives is indicated by the Associated Press compilation of 1930 census returns.

On the basis of complete preliminary figures for three-quarters of the state, a new population total of slightly less than 9,900,000 is promised. This aggregate, in accordance with the provision of the house reapportionment bill, is only slightly greater than the figure required for 35 congressmen and is more than 200,000 below the total necessary to retain the existing quota of 36 representatives.

HIGHWAY FATALITY

SHREVEPORT, La., July 9. (AP)—Leon Johnson, 5-year-old son of Robert Johnson of Alazan, near Nacogdoches, Texas, was killed while riding on the running board of a truck loaded with wood being hauled by his father. His head was caught between a limb of a projecting tree and the body of the truck, said advices received here.

Methodist Church Formed in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, July 9. (AP)—The Methodist Church of Mexico, an independent of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States, has been formed here, it was announced today.

About 100 Methodist congregations are affected. They will all be joined in this new federation which will work along the same lines as other Methodists, but will be directed autonomously with cordiality and in order to give the Methodists of Mexico an opportunity to work out their program in their own way.

Arson Suspect Marked for Death

BUFFALO, July 9. (AP)—Harry Bennett, alleged "touch off" man for western New York's million-dollar-a-year arson racket, was taken secretly from police headquarters to supreme court chambers today when police claimed to have learned of a plan to kill him as he was being taken to the court for a hearing on a charge of arson.

Bennett, the first of 15 persons to be arrested by police of Buffalo and Niagara Falls in a roundup of those alleged to have taken part in the arson racket, has told many details according to police, which resulted in several of the arrests.

CALOMEL ROBBED OF NAUSEATING QUALITIES

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved — Unpleasant and Dangerous Qualities Removed — New Tablet Named "Calotab."

A recent triumph of modern pharmacy is the "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug stores as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, freed from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the one successful remedy but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant medicine to take. One tablet at bedtime, with a glass of water, that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no danger. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver and a big appetite. Eat what you please.

Beware of imitations! Genuine Calotabs are sold only in "checkerboard" (black and white) packages bearing the copyrighted trademark "Calotabs." The large, family size sells for 35 cents; vest-pocket size, 10 cents. All dealers are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with Calotabs.—Adv.

CAJON PRISON AFFAIRS AIRED

Charges of Inefficiency Are Hurled by Committee

BATON ROUGE, La., July 9. (AP)—The management of the Louisiana state penitentiary is "inefficient," salaries of employes have been indiscriminately raised, and financial affairs of the prison are in a "deplorable condition," the standing senate committee on the penitentiary reported in a formal document filed with the state senate today.

The contract of the penitentiary with J. P. Burgin for the joint cultivation of a rice farm in Pointe Coupee parish was declared "illegal" by the committee report. The committee also condemned the penitentiary for purchasing various materials and machinery from the Henderson Iron and Supply company of Shreveport, "in most instances without competitive bids." The committee after condemning "favoritism," recommended that in the future no materials in amounts in excess of $500 be purchased without competitive bids.

Referring to the financial condition of the prison the committee reported "that there is absolutely no doubt that the financial affairs of the penitentiary are in a deplorable condition."

"The penitentiary is not self-sustaining," the report stated. "As far as we know or have been able to ascertain, the penitentiary has never been self-sustaining."

Blowout-Proof GENERALS

Hailed as the Greatest Safety Advancement in Modern Motoring

THERE'S only one reason for the amazing, instantaneous landslide of the public to the new Blowout-Proof Dual-Balloon—it's the one and only way to keep safe with today's cars and driving conditions—more power, more speed, crowded traffic and always the ditch only a couple feet away.

Traveling at 44 to 88 feet a second, when a tire blows without warning, you're wrecked in a split second.

It's a chance you need never take again. You can trust your life to the Blowout-Proof Dual-Balloon.

Safe against the sudden impact of road holes and bumps that shatter the carcasses of ordinary tires at today's highway speed.

Safe, too, against that equally dangerous tire hazard—the unseen, inside wear of heat and friction in tires of reclaimed rubber. General's policy is pure rubber and more of it. General's patented Dual-Balloon design eliminates breaker strips and sharp bending. Unmatched, all-over flexibility allows lower air pressure and no premature wear. That's why it's Blowout-Proof and easier riding, too.

Everything in the whole General line included. Nothing reserved. 6-Ply and 8-Ply Blowout-Proof Dual-Balloons, 4-Ply and 6-Ply General Dual-Grip Balloons, all at cost reductions that make this the year's outstanding sale event of the whole industry.

We've let down the bars—cut costs to the lowest level of all time—increased our always-liberal trade-in allowance. . . . . .

Hundreds are cashing in the uncertain miles left in their old tires and driving away in sure safety on Blowout-Proof Generals. Sensationally reduced costs and increased trade-in allowances are setting new records in tire buying. The unequalled safety, the matchless comfort and economy of Generals can now be yours at cost reductions never before offered.

Drastic Reductions Set New Low Cost Records

For every dollar spent at this huge Trade-in Sale, you'll get more miles than you could buy in other tires. You start on the free miles your old tires buy—then pay less for the following miles than you ever paid before. And right to the last mile, the absolute safety and also luxurious comfort of Generals are yours without extra cost.

Open evenings until 9:00 to accommodate all sale customers. Come at the first convenient moment and get our unequalled offer. Without the slightest obligation, learn how much more your old tires are worth during this Trade-In Sale.

Extra help to serve you instantly. No waiting for your trade-in estimate—no delay in mounting your new Generals. Come today—don't risk another day without the extra safety and economy of the world's only Blowout-Proof Tires.

Miss Mildred Mays Honored With Beautiful Breakfast

Miss Mildred Mays, of Atlanta, Texas, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Joe B. McClung of that city has been announced as an event of July 16, was honoree Wednesday morning at another lovely social event when Mrs. J. B. Ferguson entertained in her honor with a breakfast at the Woman's Forum clubhouse.

Three long ivory tinted baskets placed at intervals on the long table were filled with shasta daisies tinted in the pretty colors named as the bride-elect's favorite, pink and green, and the feathery masses of sea lavender emphasized the chosen effect. Long fronds of ferns lay the length of the table and silver branched candle holders held pastel green candles. The bride's place was marked with a miniature figure in ivory and place cards were brides and their maids encircled with flowers in the pastel shades.

A delicious four course breakfast was served to the following guests: Miss Mildred Mayes, the honoree; Miss Madelyne McCarty; Mesdames Lester Jones, Harold Murph and Merle Waggoner; Misses Mary Tancred, Dolores Peavy, Reva Ray Brown, Mary Catherine Gould, Katherine Kay, Mesdames Jimmie Echols, Ray Hirschi, Clifford Deaton, Jim Gant, Mack Taylor, C. V. Reynolds, Jasper Ferguson, John Ebner, Jimmy Gibbs, Holmes Richter of Ithaca, N. Y., J. H. Johnson and the hostess, Mrs. McCarty.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We quoted Dr. Francis Benedict of the Carnegie Institute to a member of our family one evening lately. "How many hours of mental labor per day do you put in?" we asked. "Well," she said, "I'm in school three hours and I study about two hours." "All right," we told her. "Dr. Benedict says one oyster cracker or one half a salted peanut per hour will furnish sufficient calories for an hour's mental work; so after this, we will allow you two whole salted peanuts and one whole oyster cracker."

Then there was a howl. "What about the physical strength I need to get to school and home again?" We had no answer ready.

There isn't much answer ready for the ruthless sincerity of youth. Boys and girls say what they please where they please and as they please. And we believe they are more open in their actions than at any stage in the world's history.

Driving along the highways of Texas, one may see daughters of the farmers wearing broad brimmed hats and long gloves, trying to protect themselves from the sun and wind of Texas.

And out at the bathing pools in the city, one may see the fresh, fair girls of the city going into the water with bathing suits that don't count for clothes, then coming out to lie in the sun and get a coat of sunburn. The darker they are, the happier. We saw a girl the other day exhibiting the deep brown curve made in her back by a sun back bathing suit and exclaiming "Oh mother, itn't it pretty."

They will walk miles bareheaded in the sun to acquire that coat of tan. "Oh, gee," one girl said in disguest, "white legs make me think of worms."

And that is the way it goes. Youth is so bored unless youth runs things as desired, that it is usually less of a struggle to yield. If one will notice, the older people have grown into the "suntan" habit. Pictures of fashions show the models looking like mulattoes. It is simply not the style to be fair and one must be brave, if one would be fashionable, and even risk blistering.

The last extremity of fashion is shown in one other fad. No matter how brown a girl's arms and hands have become, she must wear long white or pastel shaded gloves on the streets downtown.

Oh well, as an old fashion magazine used to run at its head, "As well be out of the world as be out of fashion."

Pretty Shower Honors Mrs. Solon Humphries

A pink and white color scheme was noted when Mrs. Solon Humphries was honored Tuesday evening with a pretty miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Homer Humphries, with Mrs. Cameron Carpenter co-hostess.

The unique feature of the shower was a treasure hunt. The honoree was given directions that led her through the house until she reached the dining room where many lovely gifts were on the table.

Out-door games were played, after which refreshments were served to Mesdames Humphries, George Holstead, Ricks, Spencer, Gilliam, Minnie Neal, Ernest Emmert, Clint Humphries, Ben Kinard, Andrew Humphries, A. J. Humphries, M. K. Emmert, Goodson and Miss Elizabeth Kinard.

Pretty Dinner Is Given Bride-Elect

Miss Elizabeth Duke entertained Tuesday evening with an announcement dinner honoring her sister, Mrs. Hattie Gaffield, whose marriage to Billy Wood of Wichita, Kan., will take place Saturday afternoon, July 19.

The table was decorated in pastel colors with summer flowers used profusely and covers were laid for the honoree and for Mr. Wood and Messrs. Emmett Cardwell and Art Sands of Wichita, Kan.; Miss Tillie Mae Schafer, Miss Duke and Messrs. Ambrose Gibson and Tom Coats.

Woman's Forum To Give Ice Cream Supper

Woman's Forum members and their friends will have the opportunity of joining in a "get-together" old-fashioned ice cream supper when members of the Forum will serve home-made ice cream and cake at the Forum Tuesday evening, July 15.

The supper will be served on the east lawn of the Forum where the ivied walls and beds of roses make the grounds most attractive. Card tables will be placed there and unless it is necessary, no light will be used.

Members of the Forum are urged to be present.

Hoover May Drop Western Tour Plans

WASHINGTON, July 9. (US)—President Hoover may abandon his proposed vacation tour of the West for a quiet stay at some resort on the New England coast, possibly the home of John Hays Hammond, at Gloucester, Mass., it was indicated today.

Uncertainty as to when the senate may adjourn, recent political developments and the health of Mrs. Hoover have combined to make him temporarily halt arrangements for the long western tour and consider a quiet rest in which he will be removed from politics and the forthcoming campaign.

He has been told by party leaders it would be unwise for him to venture into the West, where he would be called upon to make speeches and to project himself into various campaigns. There is also the uncertainty of what the senate may do in regard to the naval treaty.

Above all, however, is consideration for Mrs. Hoover, just convalescing from a serious injury to her back sustained in a fall in the White House more than three months ago.

Miss Neely's Work Praised in Audit

In a report of the special audit made of the community chest books due to the resignation of Miss Myrle Neely, executive secretary who leaves Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to accept a position as secretary to the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., chest, it was revealed that all money was properly accounted for and all financial transactions correct. The report also stated that all records were found to be in excellent condition.

Miss Neely was the recipient of many beautiful handkerchiefs at a shower Wednesday given by members of the office force at the Memorial auditorium.

Police Break Up Riot In Rhineland Town

TREVES, Germany, July 9. (AP)—Police armed with tear gas bombs were kept busy all night restoring order here, after anti-separatist rioting in which windows of several shops and homes were shattered and a number of demonstrants arrested.

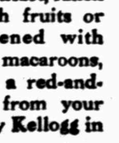

Former service men, with long memories, meanwhile seized the opportunity to raid a villa on the outskirts of the town not belonging to a separatist but owned by a cigar handler who as a war time sergeant was alleged to have been rough with recruits.

Skill in Making Love Can't Repay Philanderer's Wife

The Born Philanderer Deceives Himself When He Believes That His Wife Condones His Conduct, or That His Skill in the Art of Making Love Can Ever Make Up for a Broken Heart

A man who goes in for philandering in a serious way, so to speak, has this to say in favor of the love pirate: "I am a born philanderer. I was married in my teens and am now almost 35. I love my wife very dearly; work eight to 10 hours a day for her; know that she still gets a kick out of flowers and candy and I send and take them to her often; when the biscuits are good, I rave about them; when the steak is tough, I keep my mouth shut. I give her a generous allowance for the housekeeping and for her own personal use.

"She knows that I philander, but she also knows that she has a place in my heart that no other woman in this or the next world could ever fill, and I believe that she is far happier than most of the wives whose husbands would never dream of having an affair. She is such an understanding soul that she realizes I could no more stop philandering than a born gambler could stay away from the green-top tables.

"My experience in love-making has been both large and world-wide Like all true philanderers, I have made a real study of it and tried to develop it into an art. I am constantly studying the effect of this or that move, and endeavoring to improve my technique.

"The lure of philandering comes from the battle of wits between a man and a woman and the skill it takes to make a woman tremble to his touch. Therefore, the philanderer does not care for young girls who are amateurs in love. The true philanderer would get the same thrill from matching wits with a young girl, who lacked the experience with her own passions to enable her to develop skill, that an expert checker player would find in playing with a 3-year-old child. As to her love-making, it would bore the man who was at all adept at it to death.

"No. A real philanderer seeks the woman of the world who is neither to be had for the asking nor easily won. He may enjoy the company of a young girl for an evening, but she is as safe with him, perhaps safer, than she would be with a preacher. Then, too, most philanderers are good sports. They do not play with women to whom the game would not be worth the candle. I know of many cases where they have gone far out of their way to save young girls or silly wives from committing some folly.

"The married men who have affairs with the girls who work for them are not often bona fide philanderers. In most cases these men are the husbands of women who have nagged them into desperation. The poor fellows have always been so good they did not know how to go about an affair, or realize their danger, and they made it a tragedy. Instead of being adepts at playing at love, they were such novices that they did not realize that the close daily contact they had with the girls in their offices, plus the sharing of little confidences, was rousing passions that neither they nor the girls had the experience to control. I think these men suffer as much as the girls do.

"In reality men who are adept at love-making are almost as scarce as women, and I have found that it takes a real perseverance to find a woman who has mastered the art."

Doubtless this is true. Possibly just as few men and women play a really scientific love game as play a professional game of golf or tennis or bridge, but why prostitute the noblest emotion that can animate the human breast by substituting for it a synthetic passion?

Why amuse oneself with a sport whose counters are bleeding hearts? The philandering husbands and wives live too late. They belong in the days when men and women took their pleasure in watching the agonies of those torn to pieces by wild beasts.

Certainly there are men who are born philanderers, gay butterflies who flit from flower to flower in the rosebud garden of pretty girls, gathering honey from every lip. It may be that it is not in their light and frivolous natures to be true to any woman, or to have any sense of responsibility, and that no woman, no matter what her charms and vritues, could hold one of them long.

Such a man must always have change, variety, something to give him a new thrill, but this being the case, why does he ever marry? What makes him cruel enough to take a woman's life into his hands only to break it?

For the philanderer deceives himself when he thinks he pays his wife for his disloyalty by giving her a good home and a liberal dress allowance and ordering the confectioner and the florist to send her up a box of chocolates or a bunch of posies.

No woman so dull as not to know conscience money. No woman so humble as to have an appetite for the crumbs of attention that fall from another woman's table. No woman on earth who willingly shares her husband with other women.

Let no philanderer fool himself for a minute by thinking that his wife condones his affairs with other women. Pride may keep her from reproaching him with them, but every one rankles in her memory as an unforgivable insult. She may welcome him back with a smile, but there is death in her heart, and when she has come to understand him well enough not to care about his flirtations, it is because she knows him for so poor a thing that she has ceased to care for him at all.

And what price philandering? Real love slain by treachery. A wife who has a contempt for you because she regards you as a weakling who cannot resist women. A wife who has no faith in you. Men looking upon you as a petticoat-chaser. Jaded emotions. The taste of a thousand lipsticks on your mouth, and at last an old man trying to rejuvenate his exhausted passions, combing his thin hair over the bald spot on his head, trying still to be a lady-killer after his technique is outmoded.

Believe me, Mr. Philanderer, philandering doesn't pay.

Christian Division Elects Officers At Summer Lunch

Members of division four of the Woman's council of the First Christian church were entertained Wednesday at a lovely summer luncheon at the home of Mrs. Chester Wynne, their leader, in Country Club estates with Mrs. Wynne's mother, Mrs. J. A. Staley, associate hostess.

Luncheon was served at card tables where bud vases filled with daisies and marigolds were pretty centers on the handsome cloths. The same summer flowers made the entire house beautiful.

In a business session, officers were elected and plans were made for the next year's work.

Mrs. Chester Wynne was elected leader and Mrs. J. A. Staley, assistant leader. Mrs. T. M. Conrey was elected corresponding secretary and treasurer; Mrs. H. B. Dudley, program chairman; Mrs. J. V. C. T. Christensen, librarian; Mrs. W. H. Penix, calling chairman; Mrs. Van Lesley, telephone chairman.

Members of the division present were Mesdames Van Lesley, M. P. Rogers, W. H. Penix, W. T. Willis, J. V. C. T. Christensen, T. M. Conrey, H. G. Lewis, G. D. Rigsby, C. E. Bailey, G. R. Ellis and H. B. Dudley, and guests were Mrs. E. A. Hennig of New Brunswick, N. J., Miss Lucy Allen Anderson of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. C. W. McLomas of Denison, with Jo Alice Wynne.

Perfect Comfort in warmest weather

because Kotex is so light and cool

KOTEX absorbs in a very wonderful way, which makes it especially comfortable in summer, when other forms of sanitary protection so quickly become uncomfortable and chafing.

Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding, which absorbs 5 times as much as an equal weight of cotton.

And Cellucotton absorbs away from the surface. It is made of sheer layers, laid lengthwise. Moisture is carried along the entire length. The surface stays light, fluffy.

Kotex is never conspicuous under thin dresses. And it deodorizes completely. Dispose of Kotex like tissue.

Hostesses Honor Two Guests At Bridge Party

Mrs. Robert F. Moore and Mrs. H. E. Irwin were joint hostesses in a lovely bridge party Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Moore when their house guests, Mrs. Wallace Curry of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Olan Tanner of Dallas, were named honorees.

A pink and orchid color motif was noted in the tallies, score cards and even in the refreshment plates. Masses of summer flowers in the same colors were used in decorations.

In the games, Mrs. E. A. Talmage received the high score favor, a dainty boudoir lamp; Mrs. George Merkle, second high, a salad set; Mrs. William McKinney received the cut favor, a box of pink and orchid French soap.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to Mesdames Curry, Tanner, C. W. Staley, Ewing Clagett, Robert W. Reynolds, E. A. Talmage, Gordon C. Shay, T. P. Lynch, William, McKinney and George Merkle.

Suit Asks Order Against Corsicana Incinerator

Three Members of Byrd Expedition Decorated

WASHINGTON, July 9. (INS)—Three reserve fliers who shared the perils of the South Pole adventure with Admiral Richard E. Bird were decorated today by the army for "unusual heroism in the face of danger."

Capt. Ashley C. McKinley of St. Louis, and Second Lieut. Dean Hull of Cove, Ore., were awarded distinguished flying crosses, and Master Sergeant Benjamin Roth of Brooklyn, was given the soldiers' medal, recently authorized by congress. The awards were made by Brig. Gen. Fechet, chief of army air service.

The citations did not specify the nature of the "unusual heroism in face of danger."

Bruises Nourish Wrath of Dancer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 9. (INS)—Vivian Duncan, the taller of the sisters of Topsy and Eva fame, today from her hospital cot indicated that she would not forgive as long as she could not forget and expected to appear in court tomorrow against Rex Lease, motion picture actor, on charges of battery growing out of a week-end fight.

So long as she suffers from a badly swollen face, a knee swollen to twice its natural size and many black and blue marks as the result of a fistic encounter with Lease that threw the Malibu Beach film colony into a flutter, she cannot forget, friends pointed out.

Lease's hearing on battery charges is scheduled for 10 a. m. tomorrow. In the meantime, Miss Duncan's hospital suite has been made more cheerful by a large bouquet of flowers bearing Lease's card.

Runaway Automobile Kills Winnipeg Woman

WINNIPEG, Man., July 9. (UP)—A runaway car backed 50 feet across an alley and into a garden last night, killing Mrs. Ellen Pearce as she sat by a flower bed, chatting with friends.

Farm Board Asked To Widen Activity For Texas Cotton

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—Inclusion of all Texas cotton farmers in farm board activities was recommended today to President Hoover by M. H. Wolfe, of Dallas, general manager of the Farmers Marketing Association of America.

At present farm board loans are made only to cooperative associations receiving board approval.

Wolfe said on leaving the White House that there were two schools of cooperative marketing in Texas.

He added that one, favored by the farm board, stressed collective marketing of cotton while the other believed in cooperative marketing with special stress on reasonable profit to the farmer.

Wolfe said only two per cent of Texas cotton is sold through cooperatives affiliated with the board and added the farm board's policy should be made broad enough to include the "other 98 per cent."

Rejuvenation Expert Selects Big Castle

VENTIMIGLIA, Italy, July 9. (AP)—Professor Voronoff, the rejuvenation expert, has chosen for his permanent residence and laboratory the magnificent castle of Grimaldi, near the French frontier. Here he has provided quarters for the 27 monkeys who serve as "patients" for his experiments. The monkeys originally from French Guiana, find the climate here much to their liking.

Voronoff is not limiting himself to rejuvenation methods by using glands, but is also studying means of combatting tuberculosis, diabetes and cancer. He uses rabbits, dogs and other animals in his research, but prefers monkeys because of their physiological resemblance to man. He is aided by his brother and an assistant.

RITES SAID FOR JOE MAYFIELD

Scores Attend Services For Oil Operator

While scores stood with bowed head in the Floral Heights Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, last rites were held over the body of Joseph L. Mayfield, widely known Wichita Falls oil operator, who died following an extended illness shortly after noon Tuesday. Huge banks of floral offerings surrounded the casket in the church and at the cemetery, where brief services were held before the casket was lowered into the ground.

Dr. S. A. Barnes of Dallas, former pastor of the Floral Heights church here, with Dr. C. M. Simpson, present pastor of the church, and Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian and the Ray Community churches, officiated at the rites.

Special music for the services included "In the Land of Fadeless Day," sung by a mixed quartet composed of W. E. Young, R. E. Shepherd, Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes and Mrs. Fred Sehmann Jr. A violin duet, "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me," was played by Mrs. Jouette M. Bonner and Mrs. Gerald Gose. R. E. Shepherd sang a solo, "In the Garden."

Active pallbearers were J. S. Bridwell, C. C. McDonald, J. C. Strauss, W. M. McGregor, Dr. L. Mackechney, C. D. Shamburger, W. J. Morgareidge, Dr. Bailey, R. Collins, Dr. J. A. Heyman and J. I. Staley. Interment was in Riverside cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Mr. Mayfield succumbed to a long illness Tuesday after two operations and four blood transfusions had failed to save his life. He had been a resident of Wichita Falls for the past 16 years and was well known throughout this part of the state for his activities in the petroleum industry.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Herbert; a daughter, Mrs. Nathan Reynolds, and several brothers and sisters.

Last Services For Vaughn T. Jones Held at Decatur

Funeral services for Vaughn T. Jones, Wichita Falls oil operator who died at his home here Monday night, were held Wednesday afternoon from the First Baptist church in Decatur with J. L. Ward, president of the Decatur Baptist college, officiating. Rites at the grave in the Decatur cemetery were conducted by members of Decatur Masonic lodge No. 445, of which Mr. Jones was a member.

Special music at the services was given by a quartet, composed of members of the Baptist church choir, which sang "Nearer My God to Thee." R. E. Shepherd of Wichita Falls, who with other Wichita Falls friends attended the services, sang a solo, "Crossing the Bar." Pallbearers for the rites were members of the Decatur Masonic lodge.

Mr. Jones had been a resident of this city for the past 13 years. He was a native of Tennessee, having moved to Wichita Falls from Denison. He was first interested in a mercantile business here, later entering the oil industry.

He is survived by his father, C. C. Jones Sr.; two brothers, Lawrence and C. C. Jones Jr.; a sister, Mrs. A. L. McIlhenny, all of this city, and another sister, Mrs. C. M. Cates of Fort Worth. All were at the bedside at the time of his death.

Wichita Falls K. T. To Confer Degree

A special conclave for the purpose of conferring the degree of Malta and the degree of the temple upon William N. Barringer, will be held by the Wichita Falls Commandary No. 5, Knights Templar, at the Masonic temple Thursday evening beginning at 5 o'clock. Refreshments will be served at 6:30. All members of the order are requested to be present.

DEATHS

LOU GLYNN HARMON

Lou Glenn Harmon, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Harmon, 2408 Polk street, died in a local hospital about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary. Funeral arrangements had not been completed late Wednesday night, but the services were tentatively set for Thursday afternoon.

Willie Sherdel, traded to Boston this season by the St. Louis Cardinals, won 153 games while losing 131 with the latter club.

LEADING LAMBS TO SLAUGHTER

THAT'S a good comparison for washing fine silks and woolens in hot water. They were never made to stand such treatment. Perhaps you think there's no other way to get them clean. Then you've never tried White King Granulated Soap.

White King is made from the finest vegetable and nut oils—pure enough to eat. You'll find that it doesn't need hot water to produce rich, creamy suds, thorough cleansing and swift rinsing. Wash your fine fabrics in lukewarm water. It will add years to their lives and at the same time spare your hands from hot-water irritation.

White King Granulated Soap fills every household need. It's economical too. A teaspoonful for the wash basin, a cupful for the washing machine—plenty, even in Kansas hard water. Try it. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Prohibition "a Sham, Fraud And Joke", Says Henry in Address Here

Sheppard's Bill to Jail Purchasers Scored by Opponent Here; "Hoover Prosperity" Derided

"I challenge the 18th amendment and arraign its purport and intent as unsound, ruinous, and utterly impracticable," declared R. L. Henry of Waco, former congressman, and now a candidate for the United States senate, before a crowd of 12 at the courthouse Wednesday night.

"In my campaign I have found national prohibition an empty and idle dream, a sham and fraud, and a huge joke. We have no national prohibition. We have whisky to the right of us, whisky to the left of us; whisky to the rear, whisky all around us; whisky everywhere!"

The issue of state's rights and that of farm relief entered into Mr. Henry's address, but for the most part, his speech was devoted to an attack of "prohibition without prohibition," and upon Senator Morris Sheppard, a staunch advocate of the 18th amendment.

Raps Central Control

"With a century gone, the ghost of Alexander Hamilton stalks abroad in the land to reincarnate the doctrine of a consolidated federal government," he said. "Against the heresy of his teaching, I invoke the spirit of Thomas Jefferson, the immortal Democrat. Gentlemen have undertaken to brush aside the principle of state rights and state sovereignty, and have addressed themselves solely to the question of the baneful effects of alcohol, and the evils of intemperance. I am not willing for the issue thus formed to be the test."

Relative to farm relief, Mr. Henry granted that President Hoover's relief board has accomplished some good, but declared that much improvement could be demanded. He urged the extension of credit "provided by the federal reserve act for industrialists and commercialists to benefit farmers and stock raisers."

Relating to Senator Sheppard and the prohibition question, the speaker said:

"Senator Morris Sheppard has been in congress now 28 years—most of that time as United States senator.

"He is holding the exalted office of United States senator—the highest office within the gift of the Texas voters; and also the collateral job of sovereign banker and treasurer of the Woodmen of the World, and that collateral job has been administered by him for more than 28 years, and during all the time he has been United States senator.

Opposes Saloons

"I am not now asking that he give up the collateral job; but that he relinquish the office of United States senator after holding it for about 24 years.

"From Washington we learn that about 5,000,000 idle men and women are walking the streets and highways seeking work to support their worthy families, while the so-called 'Hoover prosperity' is blessing this country. And some of us think the job should be divided up and passed around.

"I am only asking for the United States senatorship.

"Senator Sheppard's hobby is national prohibition. He now seeks by the bill he introduced to make the 'purchaser of intoxicants equally guilty with the seller.'

"If he should succeed in passing his bill and could secure convictions he would crowd the jails and penitentiaries until the federal and state governments could not possibly house and feed them. They are already crowded to suffocation with riot and murder.

"Senator Sheppard's colleague, Senator Charles A. Culberson, that great lawyer and real Democrat, while in the senate voted against Senator Sheppard on his fight for the 18th amendment, and the Volstead law; and also refused to vote with those over-riding Woodrow Wilson's veto of the nefarious Volstead law.

"So, tonight, I am standing with and by the record of Senator Charles A. Culberson in his position against national prohibition. And also, with Woodrow Wilson.

"I here now produce and exhibit a telegram from C. W. Jurney, former secretary of Senator Culbertson, and now secretary to that great senator from New York—Royal S. Copeland—in which telegram Mr. Jurney states that Senator Culberson voted against national prohibition.

"Senator Copeland on the Fourth of July made a ringing address against national prohibition and in favor of state's rights, and state control in dealing with the liquor problem. Such is my position. I would never cast a vote to bring back the saloon. I want that perfectly understood, and give my pledge to the Texas people to that effect.

"My record in congress for 20 years shows that I faithfully kept every promise and pledge made to my constituency."

VALLEY VIEW TAXES UPHELD

Board Refuses Protests On Oil Valuations

The board of equalization for the Valley View Independent school district Wednesday morning declined to lower its valuations of oil leases and royalty within the district at the close of a final conference between the board and attorneys for about 20 oil companies who are protesting the assessments on the claim of unfair discrimination.

The board has placed a $800 a barrel valuation on approximately 2,900 barrels of production against the lease holders and a $1,200 value on the royalty, representing a total valuation well over $2,000,000. The 21,000 acres of land within the district have been valued at an average rate of $36 an acre. The oil companies are protesting that the oil rate is relatively higher than the land valuation. The board has completed valuations totaling slightly more than $4,000,000 to raise a budget of $41,000 for the district.

Guy Rogers, attorney for the majority of the companies, Wednesday morning prepared a record of the proceedings for his future use through questioning of S. W. Wood, chairman of the board. He sought to ascertain the method through which the valuations had been reached. B. M. Bullard, special assessor for the district, was also questioned. Informal witnesses called in the inquiry were cross-examined by P. B. Cox, attorney for the board.

Mr. Rogers said the companies had not yet determined on their next step, but that the records, taken by an official court stenographer, were obtained in order to lay a necessary legal predicate for whatever measures might be adopted. The valuations may be contested through the district court, but the attorney was not prepared to state whether or not such action would be taken. The taxes do not become delinquent until February of next year.

State Department Moves to Assist Father's Fight for Common-Law Baby

WASHINGTON, July 9. (INS)—Formal action by the state department to aid James Welch, American citizen, in gaining control of his 20-month-old common-law baby, held in Venezuela, was considered by Secretary of State Stimson today.

Stimson had before him a telegram to the American legation at Venezuela inquiring if there was any reason why Welch should not be allowed to go to Venezuela and get the child. It was regarded as a preliminary move to prepare the way for Welch to visit Venezuela under a safe conduct guarantee and claim his baby.

Today's developments followed congressional criticism of inactivity in the Welch case on the part of the state department by Representative Gasque, Democrat, of South Carolina, and Senator Ransdell, Democrat, Louisiana. Ransdell aired the whole affair through insertion in the congressional record a sworn statement purporting to be Welch's life history.

Welch, who is an oil prospector, told a strange story of how he, a Protestant, unable to arrange a formal marriage with Anna Salazar, a Catholic, lived with her as his common-law wife, and had born to them a baby which they named Irma Francisco Welch.

"It was necessary for me to be away from home during a large part of my time," his statement continued, "During one of these absences I learned that Anna had become a victim of the Gomez regime who prey upon the women of Venezuela."

Welch said that his wife abandoned the child to him and that after obtaining custody of the baby he left Ciuadad, Bolivar. On the way out of the country, however, he was arrested, taken back to Ciuadad and thrown into jail. Appeals to the consul resulted only in his gaining advice to buy his freedom by giving up his daughter, which he refused to do. Later he said his child was forcibly taken from him. Since then efforts to obtain custody of the child have been fruitless and he came to the United States to appeal for aid.

IS THIS YOUR FUTURE SHADOW?

When tempted to over-indulge

"Reach for a Lucky instead"

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Lucky Strike has an extra, secret heating process. Everyone knows that heat purifies and so 20,679 physicians say that Luckies are less irritating to your throat.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday and Thursday evening, over N. B. C. networks.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

*In his famous book entitled "Foods For the Fat," Dr. Yorke-Davies gives this advice: "Any system for reducing fat will be of no avail if the patient persists in eating between meals." We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Portrait of a Man Thinking Out Loud

Well, it serves Gina (Janet Flynn) Malo right . . . She's carrying that gag about "no spik English" too far. . . Over at the costumer's, the fitter no spik French, it appears, and believing that she couldn't mouth or understand American, he made a profane crack about her charms to his assistant, and did she open up in New Yorkese! . . . Well, it serves us right, too . . . Mustn't clown over the air any more . . . The crack about the lad who punched the girl in the night club only to be walloped by a defender half his size served as a boomerang . . . Shouldn't have said "down he went the way he should have went!" . . . Strictly clowning, but you can't kid with radio listeners, who take their grammar seriously . . . Wonder if the Cleveland nurse who wrote that letter which caused all the excitement here is happier now, and if the Cleveland News editor can do anything further, considering that the hosp out there fired her for speaking her mind . . . Wonder if J. G. Ryder's only rival, knows that the gel he financed all these years, and probably still is, was married secretly last week.

The bird who approaches locals for coins, saying: "I am fighting Jack Moran, the former welterweight champion," has his nerve . . . Never was such a ringman . . . So Peggy Allenby is going to marry him in Paris via the Europa . . . Nice girl, that Allenby, and a good actress . . . Never would have known Dolores Brown in that color hair . . . She wasn't that pretty, anyhow, when she was a blonde . . . Patou said a tongueful, at that . . . "The trouble with the American women is that they bleach their hair, which robs them of the personality God gave them." . . . That harem on West Seventy-third street is plenty amusing . . . Dozens of femmes from the shows sun-bathe on the roof and tan the skins lads love to clutch . . . Too bad about Betty Burns and her husband losing all that coin in Sarasota . . . John Ringling doesn't know yet that he was indirectly responsible . . . Mickey Alpert sings delightfully . . . So they tried to kidnap Connie and coin . . . Lucky to escape those four shots.

Lou Holtz certainly has the best act of his career at the Palace this week" . . . Plenty comical and a sweet routine . . . The stooge being the funniest of the "plants" in anybody's act, too . . . Ruth Etting's torch tales stopped the proceedings cold, but she always does, anyhow . . . And what a person! . . . Gus Edwards hasn't aged at all . . . My, my Gus, it's 20 years ago! . . . The lads who dress the electric bulbs on the front of the theaters must arrange them purposely to flip . . . Loew's State, frixample . . . "Clara Bow in 'True to the Navy' and Three Sailors" . . . So Mary Masher, of "Frenchmen," and Ray Adams have Called It a Day . . . Wonder if she returned his jools . . . Georgia Payne . . . Once a Ziegfeld clothes-horse now Abbeying it in this many beads . . . Say, lotsa girls haven't as many reasons to parade that way . . . Jean Maitin should watch those last high notes . . . They call tht constructive criticism, old boy.

Oakie will do anything for a laugh, at that . . . At the "Flying High" chorus boy call, they say, he went back stage to mingle with his old mob and got in line for inspection with them . . . And wasn't picked! . . . That Agnes (Washington) Hill eyeful is back again, with a new six-karat kleig light on her fingers and a mess of sunbern persening . . . And we wish her gentlemen admirers here wouldn't call up to ask "Inasmuch as you are always mentioning her, can you tell me where she is? . . . This means you! . . . So the Pathfinder is claiming the simile: "As tiresome as a nice girl who brags about it," eh? . . . Somebody down there is paying for materal they may borrow by merely using a set of quotation marks . . . It was nice to bump into the Fred Stones . . . Been married over 20 years . . . Add Broadway records! . . . Nothing unusual in the Lindberghs not naming him . . . The William A. Drakes haven't named their 2½-year-old son yet, preferring to let him select his own later on.

It remained for E. Carroll to put a nude man and woman dancing combination on the American stage . . . In the New Amsterdam Theater programs, however, Mr. Carroll explains why . . . "Meeting the American Demand for Sophisticated Entertainment," . . . he says . . . So that's what "sophistication" means, see? . . . It is a first rate revusical, even with its abundant supply of highly seasoned sketches, so be sure and bring the kiddies . . . They'll adore it all . . . Those who witnessed Mr. Carroll's "Profanities" at the seashore, report that the "Bottle" dancing number had been polished up. . . The so-called "sophisticates" of New York, devoured almost every moment of the show, but, as Percy Hammond explains: "A smoking car story, if amusing, is good for you, but it becomes monotonous listening at the same joke for three hours."

Boys Will Be Bores

Harry Bestry, the clothing store dummy that walks like a man, was boasting of his golf game in the Appollo theater lobby. He was accompanied by one of his yes-men, who chimed in with: "Oh, yeah, Bestry plays a terrific game. Why, he broke an 80 yesterday. What does George White break?"

To which White's lawyer, Abe Berman, replied: "He will break Bestry's nose if he hears him boasting of an eighty!"

These are the days when your life in the country begins to agree heartily with the relatives from the city.

Wonder how long before the Lindberghs will fly and take the heir.

Not Too Many People

THE state of Nevada has gained approximately 11,000 inhabitants during the last 10 years, according to the census figures, and now has a total of 88,000 people within its borders. The state's area is 110,000 square miles, and its popular slogan—"one square man to each square mile of territory"—is still a long way from fulfillment.

Now the state's boosters may have excellent reasons for wanting to make this slogan come true; but one who is compelled to spend most of his time where there are a great many more people to the square mile than Nevada ever dreamed of having may be pardoned, surely, for wondering if the state really knows when it is well off.

Having a numerous population is very likely a good thing. But there can be such a thing as having one that is altogether too numerous for any earthly use. There are worse things in the world than vast, empty plains and lonely, uninhabited mountains; teeming tenement districts, for instance, or down-at-the-heels suburban villages where jerry-built houses are all jammed against each other in maddening propinquity.

The citizen of Nevada, in other words, is luckier than he perhaps realizes. That arid western state has a tremendous charm, and a good part of it is due to the fact that it is so empty. The motorist who struggles wearily with heavy traffic in metropolitan neighborhoods should drive through Nevada some day; Nevada, where it is half a day's drive between towns, where one can drive for hours, sometimes, without seeing a house or a tree or a fence, where the air is clear and the magnificent plains roll to infinite distances, empty and lonely, peaceful and quiet as nothing in an urban state ever is.

We have scriptural authority for the belief that it is not good for man to be alone; but, quite plainly, it is not good, either, for man to be too crowded. And no one is ever too crowded in Nevada. There is room, there, for a man to get away from his fellows—which, if he is the right sort of man, is a good thing for him.

Nevada's boosters are fine people, and we wish them well; but we hope this particular slogan of theirs never reaches fulfillment.

A Lagging Program

THE average citizen probably takes it for granted that the federal government, with its string of national forests, is doing all that need be done in the direction of reforestation. However, Charles Lathrop Pack, the well known president of the American Tree association, declares in the July Review of Reviews that insufficient appropriations and decentralized organization are keeping the program from being put forward at anywhere near the proper pace.

"At our present snail's pace of planting," he says, "it will take over 1,000 years to reforest the areas that we devastated in less than a century. We are witnessing today the progressive pauperization of townships and counties that thrived so long as timber lasted, and which are now slowly dying and literally going into bankruptcy."

Mr. Pack knows the situation, probably, as well as any man in the country. His words are not at all comforting. Apparently we need an entire new reforestation program if our forest resources are to endure.

The Reporter's Responsibility

THE name of Alfred Lingle probably will exist in public memory for a long time. Not because he was murdered by a Chicago gangster—the list of men who share that distinction is too long for memory—but because he was unfaithful to his trust as a newspaper reporter.

The reporter occupies a peculiar position. He works hard, he is occasionally poorly paid, and he is now and then thrust up against temptations against his integrity; and through it all there rests on him a binding, if unwritten, obligation—to serve the public, although he is not a public servant, by telling it the exact truth, as far as lies within his power, about what is going on in the world.

It is a tribute to the class of men who work for American newspapers that so very, very few of them are faithless to this trust. Lingle was one of the exceptions. He will be remembered as a man who was so ill-advised as to take money from the underworld that he was hired to report.

Gangland Breaks Out Again

CHICAGO'S gangs do not seem to tame easily. Their latest outbreak marks a new step in insolent daring—the attempt to kill a rival gangster while he was riding in a police squad car, after he had been questioned by detectives in connection with the Lingle murder.

The gangster escaped unhurt, but an innocent bystander was killed; and the killing emphasizes once more the fatuousness of saying that these gang wars do not really harm the city since the victims are all gangsters. In this case, a law-abiding citizen, strolling along a downtown street, was shot dead.

To be sure, the gangsters didn't mean to kill him. But the episode shows clearly how dangerous it is for any city to harbor unrestrained gang warfare in its midst. The deaths of the murdered gangsters are not lamentable, of course; but law-abiding citizens have a right to look for safety on downtown streets.

We Have Good Idols

THE American nation seems to be under the necessity of finding an idol every so often and putting him up on a high pedestal. The idol is generally a young man, and the nation—which usually admires him as much for his modesty as for anything—does its level best to destroy his modesty and give him a very badly swollen head.

As it happens, we've been extremely fortunate in our choice of idols lately. First there was Lindbergh, who stood up under the ordeal as well as any young man possibly could have. Now it seems to be Bobby Jones; and he, too, seems to be just the sort of stuff that the nation needs in a popular figure.

Really, we owe these two young men a good deal. They have given us, and especially our youngsters, very worthy targets for hero worship. They have, too, set a pretty high standard for future national idols to live up to.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

This is a special department devoted solely to the handling of queries. This paper puts at your disposal the services of an extensive organization in Washington to serve you in any capacity that relates to information. This service is free. Failure to make use of it deprives you of benefits to which you are entitled. Your obligation is only two cents in coin or stamps enclosed with your inquiry for direct reply. Address The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Does an automobile have much more power with the cut-out open?—F. N.

A.—The bureau of standards says the power is slightly increased by opening the cut-out on an automobile, but at ordinarily speeds there is very little gain.

Q.—If Betelgeuze were in our solar system, how much larger than our sun would it be?—N. O.

A.—It would occupy all the space within the orbit of the planet Mars.

Q.—What ship lines name their boats with names ending in ia and ic?—C. D.

A.—All Cunard and Anchor liners bear names ending in ia, while White Star liners end in ic.

Q.—What French holiday in July compares with our Fourth?—P. B.

A.—July 14 is the French holiday commemorating the fall of the Bastile in 1789.

Q.—How are pigeons used to take pictures?—S. N.

A.—In Germany carrier pigeons are used in making aerial photographs. A small automatic camera is fastened to the bird's body and as it flies the shutter opens and closes, thus making pictures which are later used as guides in the drafting of accurate maps for the army.

Q.—Have colored sidewalks ever been used in city paving?—N. G.

A.—Canal street, New Orleans, La., is said to be one of the first cities to use colored pavements. They are terrazzo-like made of chipped rock, laid in a series of diamonds, shaped with brass stripping and then sanded down and polished.

Q.—What is an endemic disease? —B. B.

A.—An endemic disease is one which is constantly present to a greater or less degree in any place, as distinguished from an epidemic disease, which prevails widely at some one time, or periodically, and from a sporadic disease, of which a few instances occur now and then.

Q.—How many times does the word Sunday appear in the Bible? —W. S.

A.—It does not appear in the Bible. This name given to the first day of the week is of pagan origin, it being the day anciently dedicated to the sun or to its worship. The word Sabbath is listed in the concordances of the American Standard Revised Version 160 times.

Q.—Has Great Britain modified her view on free trade?—E. A. B.

A.—Shortly after the outbreak of the world war in 1915, Great Britain imposed certain duties on luxuries. In 1920 the imports of dye stuffs and coal tar dyes were completely prohibited. In 1921 a duty of 33 1-3 per cent was imposed on the products of the so-called key industries such as optical instruments, barometers and wireless apparatus. In 1925 some of the duties which had been removed, were restored although in the advocacy of this more was said about the desirability of preventing unemployment through the protection of established industries than about lowering rates. Although the import duties are not to be compared with the great volume of Great Britain's trade, they are of great substantive consequence. There has been unmistakably a departure from the plans of British trade as it existed before 1914.

Q.—Is it proper to break a soft-boiled egg into a cup or should it be eaten from the shell?—L. P.

A.—In Europe boiled eggs are eaten from the shell and Europeans do not consider our method of serving soft-boiled eggs correct. Nevertheless, in the United States an egg cup or glass is the usual accompaniment of boiled eggs and its use is generally countenanced.

Q.—What is the name of the posthumous Victor Herbert operetta?—C. E. B.

A.—It is called The First Lady.

Q.—What is a clerical linen collar called?—W. W.

A.—It is called a rabat.

Q.—Who originated the chambermaid or parlormaid comedy character?—G. F.

A.—Kitty Clive, who flourished in the early part of the 18th century, was famed for depicting such a character.

ROADS GROUP NAMES HEADS

North Carolinan Elected President

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9. (AP)—T. L. Kirkpatrick of Charlotte, N. C., was unanimously elected president of the United States Good Roads association and Charlotte was selected as the 1931 meeting place of the organization in its session here today.

Because of an increase in nationwide travel and transportation, the need and absolute necessity for a number of continuous major routes completed to a high standard is universally apparent and a national system offers the only solution, A. R. Losh, state highway engineer of Oklahoma, told the convention today.

Lew Wentz, president of the Oklahoma state highway commission, was elected first vice president of the association.

The report of the resolutions committee was read, in which the association commended President Hoover and congress for their "generosity and vision" in increasing the annual appropriation for federal aid to good roads from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000, and recommended the annual appropriation be increased to $200,000,000 and placed on a continuing basis, as an investment proposition.

The association went on record as requesting that congress create a secretary of highways as a cabinet officer, in the belief that "the importance of good roads is such and transcontinental highways are so vital to the welfare of the republic" as to make such an office a necessity.

MERGER OF TWO GROUPS URGED

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9. (UP)—The Carlsbad Cavern Highway association passed a resolution recommending merger of the Carlsbad Highway association with the United States 62 Highway association today in a meeting held in connection with the United States Good Roads association. The merged groups will be known as Carlsbad Cavern U. S. 62 Highway Association, Inc.

The resolution made the present officers of the Carlsbad highway group officers of the combined association for the ensuing year. J. H. Hankin, Lubbock, Texas, is president; J. J. Kirkpatrick is treasurer, and R. A. Singletary, Oklahoma City, secretary.

The action was taken because of the recent federal designation of the Carlsbad route as U. S. No. 62 highway. Other resolutions passed by the group included a resolution of thanks to Chairman Lew Wentz of the Oklahoma highway commission for his efforts in obtaining the designation. The No. 62 Highway association pledged its support in erecting markers on the route.

Members of two other national highway associations re-elected their officers for next year. Dr. W. E. Grisso, Seminole, will continue to head the National Parks Highway association. J. J. Kirkpatrick and R. A. Singletary, Oklahoma City, were re-elected treasurer and secretary.

John D. Morse, Oklahoma City, was retained as president of the Highway 77 association and Kirkpatrick and Singletary were re-elected treasurer and secretary.

Producers Son Killed In Automobile Crash

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 9. (INS)—Archie Selwyn, 19, son of the New York stage producer of that name, died today from injuries received in an automobile wreck last Friday.

His father was at his bedside. Young Selwyn had been associated with Samuel Goldwyn, motion picture producer.

Printing Suit To Reach High Court

AUSTIN, July 9. (AP)—The third court of civil appeals today certified to the supreme court a question to determine the proper venue of the suit brought by Roy I. Tennant, member of the state board of control, against the Houston Printing company and affirmed the trial court's order which held the venue was in Bell county.

Tennant sued the printing company for $100,000 damages as the result of alleged libelous articles printed by the concern.

The court of appeals stated it was in some doubt on the question because of conflicting rulings by the Texarkana and Galveston courts. A previous ruling of the commission of appeals in the suit of Hiram Evans against the American Publishing company held the proper venue was in the county of the plaintiff's domicile.

In his petition against the printing company, Tennant claimed the articles accused him of corrupt practices in awarding state contracts. He asked $50,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages.

Argentina exported 1,650,000 cases of corned beef to the United States last year, the equivalent of 450,000 head of cattle.

BANDITS RAID SOONER BANK

$1,000 in Currency Taken At Hunter, Okla.

ENID, Okla., July 9. (AP)—The bank of Hunter, 14 miles northeast of Enid, was robbed today by two unmasked men who held up officials and four customers and escaped in a waiting coupe with approximately $1,000 in currency.

One of the officials was able to give the alarm but due to confusion outside, the robbers, both apparently in their late teens, had little difficulty in getting out of town. They drove eastward toward Garber.

The officials and customers were ordered to lie on the floor face down and later were shoved into the vault while the robbers scooped up the money.

In the bank when the robbers entered were the four customers, and O. E. Wells, cashier; D. L. Compson, first vice president; Mrs. D. L. Compson and Keith Compson, assistant cashier. S. P. Thomas, president, came in during the robbery and was held at bay with the others in the bank.

Children Roam Jailyard Where Mothers Are Held

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9. (UP)—Assistant State Charities and Corrections Commissioner Pauline Thrower was faced with the task today of finding homes for 13 children who have been roaming about the yard surrounding the Pottawatomie county jail at Tecumseh.

The three mothers of the 13 children are charged with liquor law violation. The children are fed at the jail but county officials have been unable to find homes for them.

The husband of one of the women is in jail now while the husbands of the other two cannot be found, Miss Thrower said.

The children sleep in the jail.

MONEY IN USE SHOWS DECLINE

Circulating Tender Slumps $224,464,491

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—Money in circulation in the United States at the end of the 1930 fiscal year amounted to $224,464,491 less than that in circulation a year before.

Figures issued by the treasury today showed that on June 30 total money in circulation amounted to $4,521,832,133, compared with $4,746,296,562 a year before. The figures also showed there was a drop of $29,635,000 during June, for on last May 31 it totaled $4,551,467,934.

The treasury, estimating there were 121,213,000 persons in the United States, said the per capital circulation for June was $37.50, a decrease of 29 cents from the previous month and the lowest per capita circulation since June 30, 1914, when it was $34.92.

The total amount of money in the country on June 30 was $8,305,769,657, a decrease from $8,538,796,192 in the year. Of the money $4,534,181,387 was in gold coin and bullion and $539,960,344 in silver dollars.

Open Underground Highway

Carved through a mile of solid rock along the side of Mt. Carmel in Zion National park, the Zion Park-Mt. Carmel highway tunnel was opened officially on Friday, July 4. Impressive ceremonies attended the opening, which came when a pony express rider dashed up and presented the keys to the tunnel to an official, who in turn opened a huge padlock barring the west gate. The ceremonies were attended by about 6,000. Two of the galleries opening from the tunnel are shown here.

New York Gains On London in Census

NEW YORK, July 9. (UP)—New York may expect to pass London in population and become the largest city in the world by 1940, if the two cities continue to increase at their present rate.

The 1930 population of New York is 6,955,363, an increase of 1,335,315 since 1920, according to the official census figures announced yesterday. This is the largest decennial growth the city has ever had. For the first time, also, New York now has four boroughs with a population of more than a million each. Richmond, the fifth borough, has 15,630.

Greater London had a population of 7,480,201 in 1921 as against New York's 5,620,048 in 1920. Since then London has increased at an average rate of 52,000 a year and New York at an average of 133,531. In 1927 New York was only 840,990 behind London in population.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 9. (AP)—Queen Marie, with Princess Ileana, today left for the summer palace at Sinaia where they will visit with Queen Helen and the Grand Voivode of Alba Julia, Michael. King Carol and Prince Nicholas accompanied them to the station.

Olustee Lets New School Contract

Special to The Record News

OLUSTEE, Okla., July 9.—Contract for a new Olustee school building has been let to John A. Heiskill of Dallas. Heiskill's bid was the lowest of the seven sealed bids received by the school board.

The new structure will contain 18 class rooms, auditorium, gymnasium and superintendent's office.

Work was begun Monday, July 6, removing furniture and fixtures from the old two-story grade building and razing it preparatory to starting the new modern plant which will be piped for burning gas.

Local labor will be used as far as possible on the job. A crew of foremen from Dallas, who have worked with Heiskill before, will arrive as needed to take charge of their respective jobs.

A $35,000 bond issue was voted to finance the new school building.

Candidate for Governor Speaks to Hollis Crowd

Special to The Record News

HOLLIS, Okla., July 9.—Approximately 300 enthusiastic supporters of M. E. Trapp, candidate for governor, heard him in a campaign address here Monday. After pleading for his program of highway legislation, on which he is staking all in the campaign, Mr. Trapp outlined his past record in politics. With the political situation becoming more acute daily in Harmon county, the crowd which heard Mr. Trapp was not as large as had been expected.

LOUISIANA DROWNING

ARCADIA, La., July 9. (AP)—Charley Griffen, 30, of Fryeburg, Bienville parish, was drowned in Lake Bisteneau when he stepped into a deep hole while seining for minnows with two companions. One of them almost lost his life trying to save Griffen who caught him in his dying grasp.

HILL COUNTY HEARS ALLRED

Wichitan Speaks in Home Area of Bobbitt

Special to The Record News

HILLSBORO, Texas, July 9.—James V. Allred of Wichita Falls, candidate for attorney general, invaded the home territory of Robert Lee Bobbitt," incumbent, and a candidate for re-election, in an address on the courthouse at Hillsboro, Bobbitt's home town, Wednesday afternoon.

The speaker made a plea for "fair play" in the coming election, claiming that he had failed to get a "fair deal at the hands of the politicians of the state." He reminded his hearers that in 1926 he was nosed out of the election by Claude Pollard by a bare 4,000 votes, and asserted that the choice of 356,000 people of the state should not have been ignored in the appointment of Pollard's successor. Governor Moody put Robert Lee Bobbitt in the office following Pollard's resignation 16 months ago.

"While I do not criticize the governor for giving that office to his political friend, yet at the time he made the appointment he stated that he wanted to appoint someone who could be elected to the office," Allred declared.

"Personally, I feel that both of them should have been satisfied with holding that office for the unexpired term without trying to look down the line and control it in the future."

The speaker quoted a recently published statement in which Bobbitt was credited with having the "inside track" to the office because of the backing of Moody.

"I am grateful to him and his press agent for reminding you of the fact that I am the 'underdog' in this campaign," Allred commented. "But why should he have the 'inside track'? Why should the choice of one man, Dan Moody, have the 'inside track' over the choice of 356,000 people who voted for me? I submit that it was most unfair to try to give him that 'inside track.'

"I haven't been given that advantage," the candidate concluded. "I don't want any 'inside track.' If I couldn't win this race on a straightaway, with everyone having an equal chance and a fair break, I don't want the office. Citizens of Hill county, I am appealing to your sense of fairness."

Stephens School Map Approved by State

Special to The Record News

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, July 9.—The county-wide map of Stephens county, compiled during the recent school term for high school purposes has been approved by the state department of education at Austin.

With the approval of the map, it is possible for every rural student to have access to a high school, since the map provides for five high school centers in Stephens county. The plan is an aid to rural schools in that each student has the advantage of a high school without moving to another district to attend. High school centers of the county as approved by the state department are Breckenridge, Caddo, Parks, Ivan and Frankell.

free wheeling is here!

STUDEBAKER, Builder of Champions, presents improved, enlarged, more powerful editions of seasoned Eights—the world champion President, the world famous Commander—plus free wheeling.

Free wheeling is a triumph of that same Studebaker progressiveness that pioneered the popular priced Eight—seasoned it and proved it to the satisfaction of over 100,000 owners. Today the whole industry is following the Eight trend that Studebaker inaugurated three years ago.

A New Experience

Prepare to drive the most unfettered, yet most obedient car in the world—a car that literally floats along, in gear and fully controlled, yet free and silent as though there were no gears!

You shift with silence and safety from high to second, back and forth, at any speed—forty, fifty miles an hour—and never touch the clutch!

The instant you lift your foot from the throttle, no matter how swiftly you may be traveling, your engine drops to idling speed—with no forcing of the engine by car momentum—with no sensation of "piling up".

You know, of course, that Studebaker Eights hold many world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined. But the increased power of the great Studebaker Eight engines which drive these new cars is a revelation.

Save Money, Too

With free wheeling, you save 12% on gasoline, 20% on oil—and the heavier the traffic the greater the saving. Carbon is reduced. The terrific reversional strains thrown on rear axle, clutch and transmission of an ordinary car are utterly unknown.

You are ready for any emergency of road or traffic on the instant. No sudden grabbing of the new Duo Servo brakes—no swerving. Instead, a smooth and reassuring drop in speed—swift as your need dictates.

Your steering gear rights itself after a turn—automatically the car swings to "straight ahead". Your car, floating at each spring-end on oil-sealed ball bearings, rides friction-free.

Enviable in Appearance

All the new delights of free wheeling are yours as the crowning achievement of Studebaker's 78 years of manufacturing integrity. They are yours in new bodies, utterly bewitching in eye appeal. Visit the nearest Studebaker salesroom. Drive one of the New Series Studebaker President or Commander Eights. Get a first hand experience with free wheeling. We promise you the thrill of your life!

Shift from high to second at Forty···Fifty miles per hour and never touch the clutch!

Saves 12% on gas, 20% on oil—even more in heavy traffic···· Reduces carbon, lessens strain on engine and transmission

You don't have to touch the clutch except to start or back up

Your car momentum never forces your engine — no sensation of "piling up" when you decelerate···You literally glide along

Your car is surprisingly quiet in every speed···· uncannily silent when you're free wheeling

You are safer because you have absolute control of your car··· You can shift at any speed···· There is less hazard of skidding!

Do I look like an Enthusiast? I AM!

Listerine usually removes loose dandruff in 3 days

DOWN at the office the men under me say I'm a kill-joy. I seldom get enthusiastic about anything. But I want to tell you about my experience getting rid of dandruff. I have always had a good head of hair, and when I first began to be troubled by dandruff, I felt pretty worried. It's a humiliating thing at best. You feel guilty with those telltale flakes on your coat collar. Sort of ashamed to meet people. It's bad business.

Of course, the first thing I did was to go to my barber. "Nothing to it," he said. "I'll have you over that in a couple of weeks." You have probably heard that line yourself. Well, I let him wreak his vengeance on my scalp and hair with a lot of funny treatments that were a nuisance. Net result: just as much dandruff, if not more. Net loss: $12.

Then somebody said, "See a specialist."

Well, what that fellow did to my scalp was worse than the great war itself. He thumped it. He beat it. He photographed it. He rubbed it. He anointed it. He baked it. He dried it. He fanned it. Net cost: $25. And give him some credit—he did get rid of the dandruff—but only for a little while.

Then one morning my wife said to me, "Everett," she said, "why don't you try Listerine? A lot of the girls at the club have tried it and they say it gets rid of ordinary loose dandruff in no time."

Well, sir, I tried it. Just doused it on full strength, as they say in their ads, and massaged the scalp with the finger tips. And, by George, after the first treatment dandruff began to disappear. Right away my scalp began to feel like a million dollars. After another treatment, I couldn't find any dandruff at all, and my scalp was just as cool and healthy as a baby's. None of that old itching and burning. Net cost: 50¢. What's more, dandruff hasn't returned. Can you blame me for being enthusiastic about Listerine?

Enthusiastic comments like the above are the rule rather than the exception.

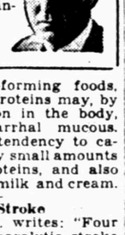

You can understand Listerine's success against dandruff when you realize that dandruff is a germ disease, and full strength Listerine kills germs in 15 seconds. Even the Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) yield to it in counts ranging to 200,000,000.

Listerine first dislodges and dissolves the tiny scales which are the outward evidence of dandruff, then it soothes, cools, and heals the troubled scalp. The flesh tingles and glows with new health and invigoration.

If you have any evidence of this humiliating and dangerous condition, begin with Listerine at once. Remember that it is entirely safe, and douse it on the scalp full strength, then massage vigorously with the finger tips. Keep the treatment up as a part of the regular soap and water shampoo, or independent of it, until dandruff is under control. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Missouri, U. S. A.

Dangers of the Parlor and Bath

Almost 50 per cent of all accidents occur in and around the home. One out of every eight deaths from falls is caused by falling on a floor; one out of every 20 is from falling off, or over a chair; one out of 10, out of a window.

Most of the dangerous falls are on the sidewalk about the home or on rough ground in the back yard. Then come falls from stairs or steps; falling on rugs or slipping on waxed floors; falls over furniture; falls from ladders; from tables and chairs by people who were in too much of a hurry to get a ladder; falls out of beds; and falls from bathtubs. Mark Twain, the famous author, said that he would certainly avoid "those deadly beds," when told that most people die in them. But many people hasten their ends by rolling out of them onto the floor. The bed is now more dangerous than the bathtub.

Bathrooms possess peculiar perils of their own. People slip on the soap and fall in the tub. They skid on the tiles. They scald themselves with hot water. They touch the electric lights while standing in the tub and are electrocuted. Some with heart disease faint in the tub and are drowned.

Common accidents to children at home are cutting the hands or feet with glass; playing with matches or setting the clothes on fire from a stove without a guard; swallowing open safety pins; swallowing poison, such as medicines or rat poisons; scalding themselves by upsetting boiling water on their bodies. Many children play with guns when "they didn't know they were loaded," and kill other children. Some die from infections from running nails into the feet. Many children's fingers are smashed from sticking them into that crack behind the door or from catching them in the doors of cars as they are slammed shut.

Grown-up accidents include walking off the porch in the dark; exploding gasoline while cleaning clothes; trying to lift heavy objects; and some people even hurt themselves while taking off their shoes.

Most home accidents are strictly preventable. If you watch your step at home, keep a sharp eye out for falls, mind the stairs and the chairs, you will form the habit of being as careful at home as you are elsewhere, and may live to see the neighbors going to the hospital for needed stitches, while you keep safe and sound.

Staying up late at night, rushing off without any breakfast, drinking alcohol, poor hearing, poor eyesight, and mental fatigue will make you prone to accidents. People are not alert at home and this is the big reason that so many dangerous accidents occur while there. See if you cannot make it as safe to live at home as to travel on a train.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Oily Skin

Question—Mrs. D. asks: "What would cause oily skin and hair when plenty of vegetables and milk are taken, and sweets and pastry but seldom? How can this be overcome?"

Answer—The butterfat from milk or cream, and the oil from olives, avocados and such oily fruit may tend to promote the oily skin if these foods are used in excess. Stop all vegetable, animal and fruit fats for a short time and then learn to use the right amount which your system needs.

Non-mucous-forming Foods

Question—H. G. asks: "Will you kindly publish a list of non-mucous-forming foods? I have catarrh in the head and it has made me a bit hard of hearing in the left ear."

Answer—Fresh fruits and non-starchy vegetables can be truly considered non-mucous-forming foods, while starches and proteins may, by their chemical action in the body, produce more catarrhal mucous. Those who have a tendency to catarrh should use only small amounts of starches and proteins, and also limited amounts of milk and cream.

Paralytic Stroke

Question—P. J. H. writes: "Four years ago I had a paralytic stroke which left my left eye almost blind. Is there any known remedy that will dissolve the clot?"

Answer—The surest remedy for dissolving a blood clot is to take a fairly long fast. During the fast the blood re-absorbs the deposited mass of coagulated blood, and the pressure of this clot is thus removed from the brain or spinal cord. This is the way paralysis can be cured. I have known of some cases getting well without fasting, where the blood was able to absorb the clot while the patient was on a restricted diet. There are no remedies which are effective—only fasting and diet.

Wrangle Delays Trial of Capone

MIAMI, Fla., July 9. (INS)—The perjury trial of Alphonse (Scarface Al) Capone, generalissimo of Chicago gangland, today was continued until tomorrow shortly after it was called in criminal court.

Judge E. C. Collins ordered the continuance of the case after charges and counter charges had been flung at each side by defense and prosecuting attorneys.

During the heated argument, Judge Collins held valid three of the four counts which were filed against Capone by County Solicitor George F. McCaskill.

After Capone refused to plead guilty to the charges, he was arrested in the courtroom by deputy sheriffs. This started an acrimonious wrangle between opposing counsel, and Judge Collins stopped the heated debate and recessed court until tomorrow.

The perjury charges grew out of Capone's testimony at the recent hearing of Public Safety Director S. D. McCreary on a charge of falsely arresting the gang leader.

Woolworth Heiress Weds London Lawyer

LONDON, July 9. (INS)—In one of the most splendid weddings of the year, Miss Maysie Gasque of New York and London, the 20-year-old heiress of some of the Woolworth chain store millions, today became the bride of John Roland Robinson, a 23-year-old London barrister and Cambridge graduate. The marriage took place at St. Margaret's church, Westminster.

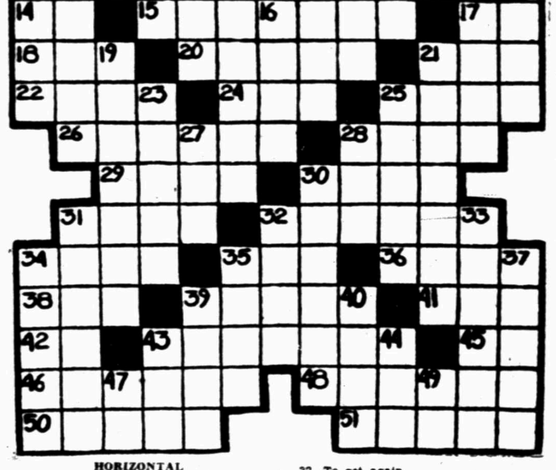

Daughter of the late Clarence Warren Gasque, head of the English division of Woolworth's, Miss Gasque was left a million dollars, a magnificent mansion in Hampstead suburb, and 30 per cent of her father's Woolworth holdings in his will.

Finds Old Coin

DANVILLE, Pa.—A rare coin, believed to be of Roman origin, was recently found by George Yerrick in a trench near here. It was buried about three feet deep and bore the date of 1517. The only word legible, aside from the date, was "Fortissima." It was slightly larger than a silver dollar.

Exports of American medicinal products to Asia have grown in value from $2,600,000 to $3,700,000 since 1927.

HOME RUNS SCORE EVERY TALLY AS SPUDDERS BEAT CUBS, 6-2

WILTSE STOPS NIGHT TERRORS

Kloza Swats Two Over Fence

By FRED D. THOMPSON

The Waco Cubs, away from their night lair, came out in the sunlight and fought like men Wednesday afternoon and were soundly trounced by the Spudders, 6 to 2.

Meanwhile the Houston Buffs, until now the Spudders' most feared foe, were defeated by the Shreveport club, and were replaced in second place by the Fort Worth Cats, who defeated Beaumont. The Spudders now stand one game ahead of the Cats and one and one-half games ahead of the Buffs.

All Scored on Homers

A galaxy of home runs accounted for every Spudder tally. Bettencourt slammed one over the left field wall in the fourth with Burns aboard to tie the score, the Cubs having scored two in the first half of the inning. In the fifth Storti lifted one over the right field wall. In the sixth Kloza zoomed one over the left center palisades and in the eighth he socked another one over and was followed by Burns, who slammed out the final circuit drive.

Hal Wiltse was at the helm, and limited the Cubs to eight hits. The victim of the home run attack was Mr. Ketchum, who somehow went the route, though he dropped 11 hits at regular intervals. Wiltse turned in a sensational game, holding his foes scoreless in the last five innings and giving up but two hits in that period.

The only scoring done off Wiltse was in the fourth, when the Prattmen bunched four hits. Munson, first up, was thrown out by Wiltse. Robbin singled to center. Rye blazed a hot one through the box for a single, a ball knocking Wiltse's glove off as the latter tried to stop it. Stuvengen singled to short, scoring Robbin and advancing Rye to third. Molesworth fanned. Piet hit a hot grounder to short, scoring Rye and advancing Stuvengen to third. Ketchum grounded out, Storti to Burns, closing the half.

Spider Spikes 'Em

Both Stuvengen's and Piet's grounders to short were terrific clouts but the nimble shortfielder didn't let them go by. He paid the penalty of a blistered arm when he stopped Piet's. In all, Levey turned in another one of his stellar days. In the first inning his two assists to first threw two men out, and both of the stops were flashy.

The two teams close the short series today.

'Battle of Bunkered Hills' Opens Today With Jones Facing Bitter Task

INTERLACHEN COUNTRY Club, Minneapolis, July 9. (AP)—The battle of the Bunkered hills of Interlachen, with Bobby Jones defending his national open golf crown against the cream of the America amateur and professional crop, begins tomorrow with every prospect that the king of the royal ancient realm will have a fight on his hands as hot as the heat wave that has gripped these wide open parts of the Northwest.

Once again, on the eve of the greatest of American golf classics, it is "Jones against the field." With the monarch of the fairways back from an all-conquering invasion of Great Britain, fit for another struggle, his followers are confident he will sustain his triumphant march.

The sweltering ringside experts, in addition to a fair share of the field of 142 scheduled starters themselves, were not so sure that Bobby would win. Quite naturally they regarded the great Georgian as the man to beat, under any and all circumstances. Jones has demonstrated often enough for them that laws of averages, precedents and all that sort of thing can be tossed out so far as his golfing achievements are concerned. On the other hand, the professional challenge to Bobby's domination looms as the strongest combined attack mustered in many years.

CHEAPER TO DIE SAYS UNDERTAKER

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—It's cheaper to die than it is to live, is the opinion of a group of men holding a convention here recently. No, they weren't bent on suicide, but they were just members of the Ohio Funeral Directors association discussing present day undertaking methods. While the cost of living has gone up sky-high, funeral expenses are as low as they were 10 years ago, according to Fred B. Handel, secretary and treasurer of the organization. Hence the belief that death's cheaper.

When does one "Wise Apple" make three dates?

Every "little apple" that's a "wise little apple" makes at least three dates a day; one in the morning at 10, and two in the afternoon at 2 and 4 o'clock. Who can blame her if she reverses the rule: that "The woman always pays"? Dr. Pepper at 10, 2 and 4 o'clock is a happy, healthful, harmless habit and it helps like an ace in the hole.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Early declines under some further July liquidation and selling in anticipation on a favorable weekly weather report were followed by rallies in cotton today.

July, after selling off to 12.93, advanced to 13.11 or 7 points net higher and closed at that figure while new October advanced from 12.68 to 12.84 and closed at 12.78 compared with 12.79 at the close of yesterday. The general market closed steady net 7 points higher on July but generally net unchanged to 4 points lower on new crop positions.

The weekly report of the weather bureau was generally commented upon as favorable but appeared to be no more so than anticiptaed as it failed materially to stimulate offerings, and after early selling had been absorbed contracts became comparatively scarce.

A private report issued by a Memphis authority was published placing the condition of the crop as of July 1 at 73.3 and the indicated yield at 14,450,000 bales, which was without apparent effect on the immediate market.

Exports today 14,000, making 6,717,157 so far this season. Port receipts 1,433. U. S. port stocks 1,619,722.

Futures closed steady, 7 points higher to 3 lower. Spot steady, middling 13.20.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 9. (AP)—Cotton was very quiet today, and price fluctuations were narrow. With cables about as due the market opened 2 to 3 points down and after a further decline to levels 7 to 8 points below yesterday's closing price rallied mainly on shorts covering. This rally, which was helped by a steadier stock market, carried prices up to levels 12 to 15 points above the lows. The market continued quiet in the late trading and prices kept within the earlier range, but eased off 6 to 7 points in the late trading on realizing. The general market closed steady, net 1 point up to 1 point down.

Rails Lead List in Recovery Under Aggressive Sponsorship

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, July 9. (US)—Stock prices enjoyed additional recovery today in reflection of the market's improved technical position and somewhat less gloomy sentiment prevailing in financial circles. More aggressive sponsorship was afforded leading stocks and there was a continued disposition to ignore the unfavorable news developments of the day. Short covering was an important factor in the day's strength. A particular cheerful feature of the market was the maintained strength in the railroad list, which in reality furnished the chief stimulus to the remainder of the market. Various of the best-grade rails were up several points each in response to the favorable decision on classified rates whereby the railroad systems will receive many millions of dollars additional revenue. Disclosure by the Iron Age that steel mill operations have shown only modest recovery from the extreme holiday decline in activities had only minor influence on Steel shares and the market generally. Call money remained in free supply at 2½ per cent, although bankers' acceptances of long maturities were advanced ⅛ of 1 per cent. The latter development, the first firming up in such rates in months, was accepted cheerfully as possibly evidencing greater demand for business funds. The wheat and cotton markets helped sentiment somewhat by price improvement. The foreign exchanges were under pressure.

It was evident from the opening that bullishly-inclined operators had taken heart by the recent resistance to pressure displayed by the market. All of the leading stocks closed higher, and it was reported that new bull pools, supposedly of $10,000,000 capital funds each, had been formed in U. S. Steel, American Can, General Electric and General Motors. Bullish propaganda was freely offered, the name of Durant cropping up in many. The story that he was heading a huge bull pool, however, failed of confirmation in banking quarters, where it was pointed out he might be running operations in a few issues. Chesapeake & Ohio gained almost 7 points, Union Pacific over 3, Atchison 2¾, Erie 2, Pennsylvania 1⅝, and Chesapeake corporation 4¼. Missouri Pacific gained three points on small volume. Chesapeake & Ohio and Missouri Pacific, both of which are controlled by the Van Sweringen's Alleghany corporation, are making about the best comparable showing among the railroads in the way of current earnings.

The steel news failed to influence steel common, Bethlehem and the rest of the steel group. The Steel corporation will tomorrow issue its monthly unfilled tonnage report which will make a cheerful showing when contrasted with the sharp drop in May. Copper shares showed price improvement despite continued talk of the next statistical report on the industry showing no improvement in its position, and also additional talk of probable further drop in price of the metal. Anaconda and Kennecott each closed up half a point and American Smelting a full point. The utility group shared in the improvement with Consolidated Gas gaining a few points and the Electric Bond and Share issues strong, with talk that the parent organization was adding to holdings of subsidiary stocks. Some cheer was also received by the market by advices to the effect construction activities are beginning to show increase.

Although the speculative element is still inclined to vew with caution the market's rallying tendencies, there is evidence that banking buying of the very highest grade stocks appears on setbacks. The largest bank is reported to be a steady buyer on a scale downward. Such buying is for long-term investment account and is understood to be partly inspired by a desire to prevent undue demoralization when the market declines. Cheered by such evidence, however, the speculative interests are gradually becoming more active and aggressive. In a few stocks new pools are being formed and attempt may be made to mark up favorite issues. Waldorf system is said to be meeting better demand from people close to its situation. Yellow Truck continued to be absorbed by interests who believe the company is destined to become one of the principal contributors to General Motors' income. General Motors itself continued active and showed a small gain on the day. Short covering in radio put the stock up over a point. Proctor & Gamble responded to the increased dividend by advancing 2½ points.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, July 9. (AP)—Wheat, corn and oats were all sharply higher on the Fort Worth cash grain market Wednesday with demand good for wheat and fair for corn and oats. Stronger contract markets were reflected in the upturn in cash grain values. Both exporters and mills increased their bids and neither interest was reported getting much wheat. Export bids were 93@93½c for ordinary export wheat delivered gulf ports; while mills were bidding 93@93½c for ordinary No. 1 hard delivered Texas common points, with usual premiums for high protein content.

Barley was dull with offerings very light. Demand for sorghums was easily supplied and the trade reported that prices would have to be shaded to move much of these gains.

Barley was dull with offerings very light. Demand for sorghums was easily supplied and the trade reported that prices would have to be shaded to move much of these grains.

Estimated receipts for the day: Wheat, 251 cars; corn, 2, and oats, 9 cars.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 95@96c; No. 2 white $1.01@1.02; No. 2 yellow 98@99c.

Oats—No. 2 red 44½@45½c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally 58@60c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds, nominally $1.68@1.70; No. 2 kaffir $1.50@1.55.

Dealers also quoted basis delivery Texas group one points: No. 2 mixed corn 93½@94½c; No. 2 white corn 99½@1.01½; No. 2 yellow corn 93½@94½c; No. 2 white corn 99½c@$1.01½; No. 3 yellow corn 96½@97½c; No. 3 white oats 45@45½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 9. (AP)—Heat waves robbing the soil of moisture and leaving burnt areas in grain fields over wide stretches northwest, hoisted wheat and corn values today

Broadened buying of future deliveries both of wheat and corn exceeded any volume attained of late, but the bulge in prices led to heavy selling, and the wheat market underwent considerable reaction before the close.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ⅝@¾c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅞@1⅛c advanced, oats ¼@¾c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 17c.

Corn displayed independent strength today from start to finish. Evidence pointed to a shortage of some millions of bushels of corn to fill July contracts. There were also reports here that owing to severe heat unaccompanied by rain hundreds of miles of the Dakotas showed the leaves of corn to be curling, and adverse conditions were noted in important areas elsewhere, Ohio in particular. Oats sympathized with the upward course of corn and wheat.

Provisions owed their strength to the rise of cereals, notwithstanding downturns in the value of hogs.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July 87¾c, 92c; Sept. 91½@91¼c, 94⅝@94½c; Dec. 97⅛@97¼c, $1.00⅝@1.00½. Corn—July 76¼c, 78⅞c; Sept. 74½@74⅝c, 74½@74⅝c, 77⅛c; Dec. 67⅝c, 70¼@70⅝c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, July 9. (US)—Pit observers said there was selling toward close today on private reports of rains in the Northwest. Confirmation was lacking, but this led to reluctance to stay long overnight and at the time privilege trading started sentiment was somewhat bearish, the bid and offer spread indicating expectation for lower prices tomorrow.

Liverpool's advance on North American crop advices was made despite increasing pressure of Russian and Indian wheat which had been noted by Broomhall in the early trading there.

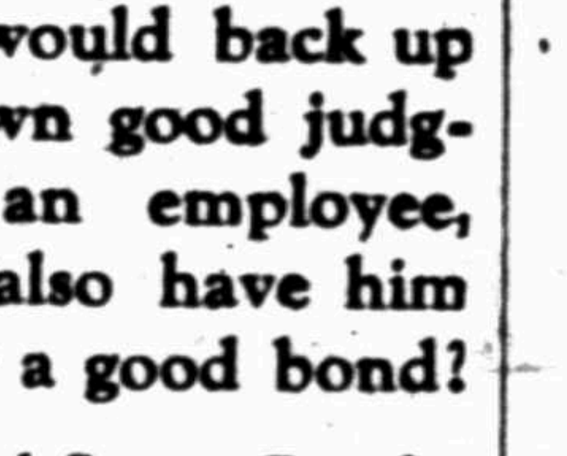

An unexpected feature in the wheat trading of the past two days has been the lack of hedging pressure until prices register a good advance.

Broomhall said abundant and timely rains had been received throughout Siberia and it is now predicted that the wheat crop there will exceed last year's. He added that Russia continues offering old crop wheat for prompt shipment from Black Sea ports at low prices.

Corn is attracting independent buying interest and the market is displaying strength at times when the wheat market does not offer encouragement. The relatively high price of corn compared with wheat attracts local pressure, but it is cautious in view of the short interest which is assumed to be large and the terminal stocks which are known to be small.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Cotton goods were little changed today, demand being confined to goods for early shipment and bids often being under an already low market. Raw silk continued dull and weak and silk goods for fall were quiet. Some filling in business was done on suitings and coatings for fall in the wool goods division. Burlaps were easier on reports of large acreage sowed to jute.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, July 9. (AP)—(USDA)—Cattle trade around the 11-market circuit was featured by continued activity on fed yearlings at firm prices, but matured steers along with grassy and short fed westerns found a slow demand at weak to lower rates. Mature fed steers were tendered another jolt of fully 25 cents. Heavy steers were at some markets as much as 50c lower. Choice heavy steers at Chicago stopped at $11.60, and at the same market light weight steers made $11.40. Plain grass steers at the river markets cashed around $5.50 to $7.00 with winters and short fed kinds at $7.50 to $8.75. Country demand for replacement stock was very slow and supplies light. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 37,500, an increase of 7,500 over a week ago and 5,000 less than the corresponding day last year.

A few markets reported a decline on strong weight butchers, but at most centers trade on hogs was fairly active at steady to 15c higher prices. The day's extreme top of $9.80 was paid at Chicago. Total offerings were around 78,800 against 78,116 last Wednesday and 91,841 a year ago.

Sheep approximately 51,600, an increase of 13,500 over a week ago but 1,000 short of a year ago. Fat lambs were steady to 25c higher, most of the upturn taken by range offerings. Mature classes of sheep were little changed. Choice range lambs in Chicago topped at $11.10 and at several of the river markets western sold up to $10.75.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, July 9. (AP)—Bidding on cows and steers was on a lower basis today. Very few morning sales, and demand was indifferent.

About 10 loads of slaughter steers arrived. Some were plain grass cattle and sold under $5.00, while four loads were good well finished beeves from a nearby feed lot. Bidding around $8.00 at noon.

Good fat cows were received at $5.50 while butcher cows sold around $4.00.

Supply of slaughter yearlings was light and most were plain and common. One lot sold up to $10.25.

Calves sold a little better than a load of good light veals at $8.50 and some medium and heavy weight calves from $7.50 to $7.85.

Stocker cattle found a narrow demand with very few offered.

No rail hogs offered. Truck hogs steady to a dime lower with a top of $9.00.

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Preliminary reports to the federal reserve system by 490 stores in leading cities of all federal reserve districts show that department store sales in June were 9 per cent smaller than in the corresponding month a year ago. Sales for the first half of the year were 4 per cent below the level and the like period last year.

Max Epstein, chairman of the board of the General American Tank Car corporation, said today on his return from Europe that the company completed a good six months business and that earnings for the first half show an appreciable gain over the corresponding period of last year and should approximate $4,000,000. He said the third quarter shows evidence of being the best in the company's fiscal year. Mr. Epstein added his company is establishing a refrigeration car system throughout Europe connecting by boat with London.

The Otis Steel company reports improved operating conditions for the present week, with current operations in the sheet and hot and cold strip departments at the Riverside plant openhearth furnaces operating and a seventh scheduled to be lighted this week, and plate output at the Lakeside plant being increased by the addition of another mill in production.

Directors of DeForest Radio company have authorized an issue of $800,000 three year 6 per cent notes to provide funds for expected increases in business during the next few months and to payment of $300,000 in 6 per cent notes. Offerings will be made to stockholders of record July 14.

TURKEY FLOCKS SHOW INCREASE

Better Birds Expected On 1930 Market

Evidence pointing to a larger crop of high-grade turkeys for the Thanksgiving market this fall from Wichita Falls than in any former year may be seen in addition of new flocks and increase in the size of others for the current season.

Considerable increase in the flocks raised on the Perfection (Randolph) Turkey farm on the Seymour road has been reported. In 1929, this ranch marketed about 1700 unusually large No. 1 birds, and will have several hundred more than that figure ready for the 1930 Thanksgiving and Christmas market, it was said.

Among the new flocks to be raised in this community, one of the largest will be that of Arthur Clark, oil operator, who recently established a turkey ranch near the Perfection farm on the Seymour road, stocking it with about 400 high-bred birds. They will be penned in small groups, it was said, and fed carefully for the production of market stock.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Cotton goods were very little changed today. Raw silk continued dull and weak, silk goods for fall were quiet. Some filling in business was done on suitings and coatings for fall in the wool goods division. Burlaps were easier.

REPAIR PERMIT

A repair permit for $1,200, was issued Wednesday to W. F. Davis, 1823 McGregor street by City Engineer F. M. Rugeley, for the purpose of repairing his residence. Work will begin at once.

With a swing the girl was in his arms...

A second before he was driving through the wind and rain. It was a devilish night. Then something in front of him. He couldn't see .... Four brakes shrieked, above them a scream that sharply pierced the roar of the storm.

Swinging the girl in his arms he put her on the back seat of the car and dashed through the rain to the nearest hospital. The girl opened her eyes, looked around but could remember nothing. Not even her name. Who was she?

When health came back she was lost ... no one knew her ... no one claimed her .... just a step-child of Fate! What happened to her is dramatically told in

GASOLINE 'WAR' STIRS COAST

Prices Range From Eight to 14 Cents in West

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9. (AP)—While gasoline prices ranged from eight to 14 cents a gallon on the Pacific coast today, rumors indicated the price slashing was a fight to the finish with the extermination of weaker retailers as a possibility.

Tacoma motorists were buying gasoline at eight cents, at Los Angeles it sold at 10 cents, Seattle at 11 to 13 cents with similar prices here. It was slightly higher at other points.

Oil company officials admitted the "war" was the most serious ever faced by distributors on the Pacific coast. An independent dealers' association here asked Governor Young to class oil companies and gasoline distributors as public utilities under jurisdiction of the state railroad commission. The group also threatened to sell gasoline at wholesale prices next week unless prices were stabilized.

Herbert H. McMillan, vice president of the McMillan Petroleum company, announced he would ask for federal intervention. Charging gasoline was being hold 7½ cents below production cost "obviously to injure competitors and lessen competition through unfair trade tactics," McMillan said the Clayton act and code of ethics of the federal trade commission were being violated.

Graham Wildcat Shows Big Flow

The Green Production company No. 1 Marshall located in T. E. & L. survey, abstract 1223, about three miles north of the city of Graham in south Young county, drilled five feet into a sand topped at 3850 feet and in the first one hour flowed 75 barrels.

The well, which is showing considerable gas and is flowing by heads, is at present underreaming to set eight inch.

The bringing in of the well here will be the means of opening up another vast scope of new and unexplored territory in this section of the county, it being an absolute wildcat. The nearest production is the old Mercer well in the P. Vivian survey, abstract 1265, approximately 1650 feet to the north, and a producer for several years past.

Three Children Burn To Death in Residence

CALGARY, Alta, July 9. (AP)—Three children, left alone while their mother went to a neighbor's for milk, were burned to death last night by a fire which destroyed the family's home.

The dead are Birdie Gillard, 4; Eileen, 2, and Allan, 1.

Henry Gillard, father of the children, had gone to the booth of the unemployed at the fair grounds to sell frankfurters.

Two musical programs of unusual promise are announced for presentation Thursday night from New York over national broadcasting chains.

At 7:30 p. m., an all-Wagerian program of instrumental numbers will be heard from the Columbia studios through station KRLD, Dallas. Toscha Seidel, concert violinist, will be soloist with the Columbia Symphony orchestra. Among the selections to be given are the seldom-heard Prize Song from "Die Meistersinger," and the "Ride of the Walkeure." The program will last 30 minutes.

From 8 to 8:30 p. m. Della Baker, one of the newly arrived radio stars, will be featured as soloist with the Shilkret orchestra, to be heard through station WRR, Dallas. George Rasely and Victor Edmunds, tenors, will also be heard in solos. A group of Herbert melodies by the orchestra will conclude the program, with the program ensemble on the closing number.

The Conoco Adventurers, from WFAA, Dallas, NBC, will portray the settlement of Salt Lake City by the Mormons.

REFINED OIL MART BETTER

Runs Reduced as Drafts On Stocks Gains

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., July 9.—The improvement in the wholesale refinery markets of the Mid-Continent was also reflected in a betterment of the production phase of the refinery situation.

Refiners not only curtailed crude oil runs to the stills but produced less gasoline and kerosene and drew heavily upon stored gasoline and kerosene. Stocks of gasoline were lowered 5,883,000 gallons, and it is expected that next week's figures will show a continued draft.

Crude oil runs averaged 333,862 barrels a day for the province, made up of Kansas, Oklahoma, North, Central and West Texas, North Louisiana and Arkansas. The daily runs showed a loss of 28,151 barrels a day over the previous week. Other oils, such as semi-refined oils, averaged 33,125 barrels a day showing an increase of 15,037 barrels a day.

Daily crude runs by states for the week of July 5 and also for June 28, follow:

State—	Week, July 5	Week, June 28
Oklahoma	115,025	123,577
Kansas	62,878	64,198
North Texas	69,859	75,880
West Texas	43,482	37,458
Louisiana-Arkansas	42,618	58,902

Gasoline production totalled 48,974,000 gallons in comparison with 52,221,000 gallons the week before. Shipments totaled 54,857,000 gallons, against 56,548,000 gallons the week previous and stocks fell off from 153,934,000 gallons the week of June 28 to 148,051,000 gallons the week of July 5.

Production of kerosene totaled 5,734,000 gallons as compared with 5,805,000 gallons the week before, and shipments fell off from 5,252,000 gallons to 4,980,000 gallons and stocks totaled 26,066,000 gallons, showing a loss of 447,000 gallons.

Sales managers report that jobbers are buying freely and shipments are good. Spot prices of U. S. motor grade is reported one-eighth to one-fourth of a cent a gallon higher than over the previous 10 days' period.

Atlantic Refining company has finished purchasing 1,500,000 gallons of 64-66, 375 and 64-66, 390 endpoint gasoline for export of North and Central Texas refiners and another exporter is now negotiating for 1,500,000 gallons.

When You Set Out to Get Something Done, Use a Want Ad

Houses and apartments HAVE been rented by just waiting for a tenant to appear; and race horses HAVE won with the odds 1,000 to 1 against them. Used cars and furniture HAVE been sold to chance buyers; and we HAVE had snow in April. But the chances are always against such happenings—they are unusual, to say the least. Whenever you broadcast the news of your offer through the Daily Times-Record News Want Ad Columns, you KNOW that you're going to get results in the shortest possible time.

BOBBITT TOURS WEST TEXAS

Childress and Memphis To Hear Candidate

Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt, candidate for his first elective term to the office he has served eight months, left Wichita Falls Wednesday night for a West Texas speaking tour which he opens Thursday afternoon in Childress and Memphis.

Mr. Bobbitt, who was in conference with friends here several hours Wednesday, said arrangements had been completed for a night engagement Thursday in Amarillo. From there he will penetrate the Panhandle section, speaking in Canyon Friday night.

Devoting only three weeks to his campaign due to press of business in the attorney general's department at Austin, Mr. Bobbitt arrived here from a Northeast Texas speaking tour which ended Tuesday night at Gainesville.

He stated he was making the campaign on his own merits as a lawyer able to serve approximately six million Texans and on the record he has established during his eight months as attorney general.

Besides speaking at Plainview and Lockney Saturday afternoon, Mr. Bobbott will address voters at Lubbock that night. From Lubbock he will swing over to Sweetwater and then to Abilene. He will wind up his campaign speaking in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio.

By ELEANOR FLEMING

MAJESTIC: "The Big House" with Robert Montgomery, Chester Morris, Wallace Beery, Leila Hyams and George F. Marion. Comedy, "Dangerous Females," with Marie Dressler and Polly Moran.

STATE: William Collier Sr., Rex Bell and Dixie Lee in "Harmony at Home." Comedy, "Don't Get Excited." Universal sound news.

STRAND: "The Texan," with Gary Cooper and Fay Wray. Our Gang comedy, "Tough Winters." Eddie Cantor novelty, "Getting a Ticket," and Paramount sound news.

GEM: Nancy Carroll and Richard Arlen in "Dangerous Paradise." Comedy, "Post Mortem."

"Mullins, have you said your prayers?" It might be a news story of the Colorado prison outbreak, but it's not. It is Wallace Beery's shout at the big-jawed warden in "The Big House" at the Majestic.

The short, sullen reply of Mullins is scarcely finished before the rattle of the machine gun is heard. There is the horror reminiscent of the actual newspaper account, except that the director is more merciful than the reporters. Only two bodies are tossed out as challenges to the prison officials in the picture.

The constant machine gun fire, incidentally, is a great aid to realism in more ways than one. The chief advantage of the stage over the screen is the fact that the language is less strictly censored and therefore more real. What Wallace Beery and Chester Morris spit forth at each other is covered by the noise, and therefore got by Mr. Hays, who does not know lip-reading. A censored conversation, without benefit of gunfire, would have ruined the entire riot scene.

It is interesting to speculate what would have been the result of producing such a picture as "The Big House" without the still fresh memory of the Colorado disaster. Of course, the picture would not have been produced without the actual happening, but for the sake of comparison, one might imagine such an occurrence.

Without the free advertising given it in 72-pt. black capitals on the front page in the nation, it would not be the box office success that it has been from Broadway to Los Angeles. Critics would howl, "Impossible plot!" The idea of seeing prison life would be distasteful if its sordidness and horror had not been kept constantly on the front page for the past several months.

Theater critics may give five stars to a picture and is still is a box-office flop. It takes a headline writer to put it over.

106-Year-Old Goose Dies After Career of Service

ERIE, Ill., July 9. (AP)—The old gray goose is dead. Said by its owners to be 106 years old, a goose belonging to Sara and Katherine Allen, died today. Geese are noted for longevity, but the Allen sisters said they had never heard of another centenarian.

The sisters said the goose was brought from the East to Rock Falls, Ill., by pioneers and later was taken to Nebraska. In 1884 the gander became the property of William H. Allen and was returned to Illinois.

Originally gray in color, the plumage turned white with advancing age.

Entertainment Proves Feature of Luncheon

Varied entertainment by vocalists and readers of Electra and Wichita Falls comprised the program given before members of the Optimist club Wednesday.

Vocal numbers were given by Misses Ocilee Terry and Velma Hannah, of Electra, accompanied by their coach, Miss Letrice Wofford, and by Mrs. J. L. Harvey, soprano of this city, who sang "The Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss with Mrs. Lester Jones as her accompanist. Readings were given by W. R. Little Jr. and Joe Burt Hunt.

The program was arranged by L. E. Stone, and the entertainers were introduced by Harry Gross.

Appointment of Clifford Deaton as a member of the boys' work committee, succeeding the late Frank Humphries, was announced.

Announcement of the bathing revue to be sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce at Lakeside park on Friday evening, July 18, was made by Ralph Pond.

Grand Jury to File First Report Today

The grand jury for the July term of the 30th district court adjourned Wednesday afternoon at the completion of its third day in session until 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when it will begin the preparation of its first partial report to Judge Allan D. Montgomery, according to information given in the office of the district attorney.

Trials of criminal cases will begin in the 30th district court Monday, it was said. The barratry charge against E. A. Martin, former Wichita Falls attorney, and a hearing on the lunacy complaint filed against Otis Akers, now a life prisoner from Wichita county in the state penitentiary, will occupy the attention of the district attorney's department on the same date. Trials on indictments returned in the grand jury report will begin when these cases have been disposed of. After filing its first report Thursday afternoon the jury will adjourn until later in the month, when its final report will be issued.

BATHING REVUE ENTRIES MADE

Additional Contestants Sought Here

Registration of sponsoring merchants and selection of "bathing beauties" for the revue to be held at the Lakeside park pavilion on Friday night, July 18, got under way actively on Wednesday, according to Will McKemie, chairman of the Junior chamber of commerce bathing revue committee.

At its weekly meeting Wednesday noon, the Optimist club voted to sponsor a contestant, and named Joe Bailey to select the young lady for whom the Optimists will supply not only the entrance fee of $5 but the beach attire with which they hope to tickle the judges' collective fancy.

Others who will sponsor entries, according to Mr. McKemie, are the Langford-Hooker Insurance company, the New Ice company, Dural-Jones Rubber company, and the management of Lakeside park. Miss Jewell Keene will represent Lakeside park in the revue, it was announced.

Hours for making photographs of the prospective contestants at Bartlett's studio, 710½ Ohio avenue, were changed Wednesday. Aspirants to honors in the parade of beautiful mermaids will be photographed free of charge from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. it was announced. For the benefit of merchants who wish to sponsor entries, but who have not chosen the girl, pictures of young ladies who offer their services will be shown by the committee upon request. Members of the committee issued a call Wednesday for more girls, of from 16 to 25 years of age, to enter the contest.

First prize in the revue to be held here will be $25 in cash, and a free trip to Fort Worth on July 20 to compete in the Southwest pageant of pulchritude there.

GHOST DANCE TONIGHT

A regular jazz hades, with skeletons glowing like fire and ghosts wandering about the place, will be staged as the feature event at Lakeside Park Thursday night. The dance floor at the pavilion will be the special attraction for the ghost night, with the management promising "spirited" music and unusual features throughout the dance.

England Asks $1,000,000 For Naval Building

LONDON, July 9. (INS)—An additional $1,000,000 for completion of this year's share of the 1930 naval building program was asked by the admiralty in estimates published today.

The funds will be used for construction allowed to Great Britain under terms of the London naval treaty.

All-steel railroad trains have been put in service on Alaskan lines.

Date Changed For Burk Political Rally

The date for the Wichita county political rally at Burkburnett, originally scheduled for Tuesday evening, July 15, has been changed to Monday night, July 14, because of conflict with a special program of the Burkburnett Lions club on the date first selected, according to an announcement Wednesday of the arrangements committee of the county candidates organization.

The change of date was made by the committee but its action will be presented to the candidates for their approval or rejection at the rally here Friday evening, when all candidates will make five-minute talks from the platform at the Memorial auditorium grounds, where the weekly vaudeville programs are held.

Extensive plans, including the provision of adequate seating arrangements and the installation of loud speakers to make the speeches audible to the crowd, have been made for the first and last speaking engagements at the auditorium here, it was announced.

Auto Dealers to Meet Here Thursday Night

The bi-monthly conference of automobile dealers and finance companies will be held at the Kemp hotel at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening with D. L. Fritz, president of the Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers association, presiding, it was announced Wednesday.

The program for the banquet as announced Wednesday includes musical numbers by an orchestra and other entertainers, vaudeville numbers under the direction of R. E. Shepherd, a talk on "Business Management" by C. E. McCutchen, vice president of the First National bank, and a talk, "Humorisque," by C. A. Rogers. Suggested topics for discussion by the entire assembly will include "Finance Companies' Service," "Should Dealers Sell Paper With or Without Recourse?" "Should Dealers Pay Cash for Good Used Cars When They Can Get Them at the Right Price?"

Republican Chairmen Meet Thursday Night

Plans for the coming primary will be formulated Thursday evening at a meeting of Republican precinct chairmen at the courthouse here, according to the announcement Wednesday of O. R. Hartt, county and congressional district chairman of the Republican executive committee. Republican candidates have been named for a large number of Wichita county offices and important plans will be discussed at the meeting, Mr. Hartt said in urging that all precinct chairmen be present. The session will open at 7:45 o'clock.

The Methodist Episcopal church increased its temperance education fund by $50,000 this year.

The hearing on the application of J. R. Ogle and 45 others for a mandamus injunction to compel the Wichita county Democratic executive committee to print their names on the primary ballot will open in the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Attorneys for both sides and a large number of the members of the committee and of the group whose names were barred from the ticket were to leave Wichita Falls early Thursday morning in time to reach Fort Worth for the hearing. F. W. Fischer, Wichita Falls attorney representing the executive committee, will file his answer to the petition on the barred group shortly before the hearing opens, he said Wednesday.

George Smoot, also a local attorney, with W. M. Taylor of Dallas, will represent the candidate group before the court. The legal controversy arose when the county committee refused the application of Mr. Ogle and the others to have their names placed on the primary ballot as candidates for county chairman and precinct chairmen.

Lions Hear Talk On Business College Work

Methods of teaching used in the modern business college were discussed by Cecil Metzger of the Draughons' Commercial college before members of the Lions club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon.

Citing data assembled from several years of observation of graduates of this and similar institutions, Mr. Metzger stated that a considerable percentage of those who finish such courses attain to positions as executives with established business concerns.

Entertainment consisted of vocal numbers by Misses Ocillee Terry and Velma Hannah of Electra, accompanied by Miss Letrice Wofford.

Jim King was presented with a past-president's pin during Wednesday's meeting.

11 ACTS ON VODVIL BILL

Program Completed for Free Show Tonight

The 11-number vaudeville program to be presented at the Memorial auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock has been completed, it was announced Wednesday afternoon by C. C. Bunnenberg, park superintendent.

The Lions club band will give several numbers which will be followed by a flapperette dance by Peggy Jo Pond and Martha Lee Harvey. Miss Billy Ralph Hyer will offer a saxophone solo after which R. A. Covington will give a vocal solo. Special numbers will be given by the Rhythm Symphony orchestra under the direction of Jimmie Giddings, and Pauline Levrett will give a specialty dance.

Two different acts will be offered by Jack Kukuna and his pupils when two groups will give selections of Hawaiian music and songs. Following a dance duet by LaFaun Duncan and Emmy Taylor, accompanied at the guitar by George Taylor, "Slim and Bim" will entertain for several minutes with blackface comedy. The last number will be tap dance numbers by Truston Fox.

Last Services Held For Canal Victim

Funeral services of J. T. Bius, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bius of the Valley View community, who was drowned in an irrigation canal near his home Tuesday afternoon, were held from the First Christian church in Iowa Park at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. George A. Weems officiated.

The child was caught by the swift waters of the stream when he fell from a highway culvert after a swim about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. The body was recovered within seven minutes but efforts at resuscitation, continued for about two hours, failed.

He is survived by his parents, two brothers, J. O. Bius of Olney and E. D. Bius of Iowa Park, and three sisters, Beulah, Ollie, and Irene.

School Tax Payments For June Gain $3,314

A total of $3,314.44 more in school taxes was collected during the month of June in 1930 than for the same month in the previous year, it was revealed in a report given Wednesday by G. Wayne Barker, assistant tax collector. The figures for June this year reached $8,152.88 while those for the same month last year were only $2,838.44.

The figures for delinquent city taxes collected in June this year are $7,299.37 and the total for occupation taxes were $250. Last year's figures for delinquent city taxes for the same month were $3,970.42 and the occupation tax receipts were only $140.

TEXAS homes have purchased more Maytag Aluminum Washers since January 1st, 1930, than ever before in a like period of time—each month has seen a steady increase and orders from the factory have become larger and larger. NOW comes the largest shipment of Maytags ever sent to the Southwest. A SOLID TRAINLOAD ... valued at over a quarter million dollars.
Here is indisputable evidence of prosperity in Texas ... EVIDENCE of thrift, because the Maytag pays for itself in time, clothes and money saved ... EVIDENCE that the New Maytag is the choice of the majority of homes in Texas as well as all over the world.
YOU will want a Maytag too, after you see how much more satisfactory it is to have the clothes washed at home where you can give them the thoughtful care that they deserve—when you find that you can wash your daintiest lingerie with care and speed, wash the grimiest clothes clean without hand-rubbing.
FARM HOMES TOO prefer the New Maytag, and for homes without electric current, the Maytag is equipped with in-built gasoline multi-motor—the simplest, most compact washer engine built.
