County Agent Advises On Care Of Chickens

County Agent W. R. Lacey has been called out to examine a number of poultry flocks that were not doing their best and losses were occurring. In practically every case the chickens were found to have lots of lice and stomach worms. It is urged that the farmers examine their flocks from time to time, for heavy losses are likely to occur if they are not controlled.

Poultry lice are easily controlled by either dusting with a good lice powder or, now with the coming of warm weather, dipping in a sodium fluoride solution will give still better results. To make up this dip, use one half pound of sodium fluoride to 8 gallons of water. This should be used on a warm, dry day if possible. Poultrymen are cautioned not to use a cresote dip because it is likely to burn the skin of the chicken when strong enough to kill the lice. Sodium fluoride is the most effective dip.

The common stomach worms are rather easily controlled by the use of a good worm tablet. There are a number of good remedies for sale at our drug stores and feed stores. These merchants are ready to help you. The County Agent will be glad to help with any poultry troubles at any time.

With the coming of warm weather more care is needed about the hen houses and stricter sanitation must be used. Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that you must keep your poultry houses and yards clean. A filthy place is the best breeding ground for disease and parasites, such as worms, mites, etc.

It looks like a better day ahead for the farmer with a good flock of chickens. Let's take the best of care possible and you will get the eggs.

Those of you who are raising pullets this year don't stop feeding them a good growing mash now that they are big enough to rustle their feed. You will be rewarded with good egg production this fall when we are likely to see a good price. Give them the best chance possible.

The newly organized club is determined to continue the good records made in the past. It was a very enthusiastic meeting and one is planned for next Tuesday night, May 30, at which time a permanent organization will be perfected and officers elected.

The County Agent is considering organizing other clubs in communities where there is sufficient interest shown and it is suggested that leaders in different communities see him in his office next Tuesday if they are interested. The time limit for the organization of these clubs will soon expire but the agent is anxious to have a strong group of clubs in this county.

Home Ec Class To Continue Another Month

Our local home economics department is to be run on a ten months basis and during the next month the girls enrolled will carry on worthwhile home projects which are supervised by Miss Ragle.

The home projects should grow out of normal home conditions and out of school work. These projects should be real problems of the girls. During the work last summer there were found many problems which were successfully met by the girls.

This work includes (1) Class work consisting of demonstrations, discussions, lectures, conferences and short programs; (2) field trips, etc. The mornings are taken up in this manner and the afternoons are devoted to work on home projects by the teacher.

This work starts May 29, and lasts for one month. Very interesting work is expected.

Berry O. (Bunk) Best, 30, was shot to death and his brother, Grady, seriously injured Wednesday, shortly after noon, on the Lubbock highway one mile north of Arvana. Deputy Sheriff John Johnson of O'Donnell in Lynn County, was charged with murder and assault today in a preliminary hearing, and is out on a bond of $9,500 in both cases.

Johnson stated in the hearing today that he shot in defense of his companion, D. A. Barnhart. Johnson and Barnhart it seems were in Johnson's car coming toward Lamesa, when they met the Best boys and Hazel Hancock and Lee Davis going toward O'Donnell. Both cars stopped and the Best boys got out of their car and talked with Barnhart and Johnson about a calf that Barnhart had lost.

It was brought out in the inquest that the Best boys started to fight Barnhart for the remarks he made. Johnson drew his gun and the Best boys began to say "Don't shoot", witnessed reported. Johnson fired two shots, Hazel Hancock then brought the men to Lamesa Sanitarium.

Bunk Best died shortly after being brought to the hospital, being shot through the heart, and Grady, who is still in a serious condition, from the shot which entered below the collarbone, passing cleanly through the body in a downward path which tore a lung. However, doctors have hopes for his recovery.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon for Bunk Best at Hancock cemetery. He is survived by his widow and four children, the oldest 7 years old.

Saturday, May 27, Is 'Poppy Day' Here

Poppies, "Row on row" and box on box, filled the headquarters of Allen Houston Post unit of the American Legion at Lamesa today after the arrival of the memorial flowers to be distributed by the Auxiliary on Poppy Day, May 27. The little red blossoms were received from Legion, Texas where they were made by disabled war veterans employed by the Auxiliary.

Auxiliary members are putting in busy hours at their headquarters counting and arranging the flowers in readiness for the women who will offer them on the streets, Saturday which is Poppy Day. The poppies are exact replicas of the wild poppies which grew in such profusion along the battle front in France and Belgium during the World War. Each little flower has been painstakingly shaped by the hands of some disabled veteran.

"Only disabled men who are in real need are given employment making poppies," Mrs. T. B. Fulkerson, President of the Auxiliary said. "The men receiving sufficient government compensation to provide the necessities of life for themselves and for their families are not employed. Preference is given to men with no compensation who have families to support."

"For shaping each of the little flowers and attaching the official American Legion and Auxiliary label, the veteran is paid one cent. A limit of from 200 to 300 is placed on the number of poppies each man to prevent the veterans from overtaxing their strength and to spread the work among as many men as possible. The Auxiliary supplies the materials and advances the money to pay the veterans as the work goes forward through the winter and spring."

Volunteer workers from the American Legion Auxiliary will offer the poppies on the streets all day Saturday. So lets buy one in remembrance of those who lie in Flanders Field today.

TAXES! TAXES! TAXES!
 By E. B. Warren

Taxes! Taxes! Taxes! The ever recurring and all-absorbing question is Taxes. Let us look this question squarely in the face. Our school tax is merely a charge or assessment for the carrying on of a huge enterprise in which we are all most vitally interested, fact is we are all stockholders and benefit directly or indirectly. It is for our school and every cent collected as School Tax is expended in connection with the school work, not a penny is disbursed or allocated to any agency, bureau or governmental undertaking. The education of our children is man's biggest undertaking and he can not afford to be derelict; an educated citizenship is the only way out. Some contend the Teacher is over paid, that his salary is out of line; those who would argue this with you remind you that in post war inflating days the teachers salary was the last to receive consideration and that it is just and fitting that his salary should be the last to be lowered, and too the teacher does not occupy the vantage seat for the reason that while his contract reads in figures which might be argued as little higher than ought, the fact of the matter is he does not receive his pay like your Uncle Samuel's over a million employees in the coin of the realm, but he is paid about one half in legal tender, the remaining one half of his salary pay is in the form of what Bankers call "Scrip", tokens or mementos of the District's obligation to pay, and this said "Scrip" is about as liquid as concrete and about as salable as a blind mule on a slow market. Let's continue to urge our Board of Education to employ none but the best teachers, contracting with them to pay a fair salary, there is nothing too good for our children, and remember, a well chosen and capable faculty is something which can not be measured in terms of dollars like ricks of cordwood and loads of hay. State and County taxes. There is really not much grounds for our loud lamentations over our State and County taxes. These are not so high as not to be paid without agonizing. Municipal or City Taxes. Here is the bete noir of our tax worries. Year in and year out cities list, assess and levy values on urban property without regard to fair market value and pay no attention to rents and revenues therefrom, bent upon creating a mountain of money with which to pay off a debt for bonds which were issued with reckless abandon—at a rate of interest which was far too high and which which bonds were issued and sold with what is known in bond parlance as a easy "promotion" cost. Millions of municipal or city taxes are dug and unpaid and will never be paid. The people of America had the idea for generations back that to fail to pay your taxes was just a little short of les majeste but now the delinquent tax payer is in the majority and shows his teeth to the powers that be when a call is made to the delinquent tax payer to pay up. It is now pretty generally the idea that city of fungus growth on the body of government is an excrescence, a sort of, and thinking men say that when our people awake to a full realization of their silly folly, municipal or city government will be consigned to the limbo of things forgotten and passed. You are thinking of "reputation", it is an ugly word, but really is not "confiscation" more distasteful. We are down to choosing between practical salvation or legal damnation. The only way out of it if there is in fact any way out for cities is to cut operation costs by half, practice religiously the most rigid economy and bring into the personnel of our official family and governmental operatives, a much higher degree of efficiency and train ing than has been our wont in years gone by.

 But back to School taxes. These are a binding moral and legal obligation, inescapable and inevitable, for they are bound up with the future welfare of our boys and girls; let's pay them and the generation just around the corner will rise up and call us blessed.

MELLOWED 80 MILLION YEARS

While brutes grew coats of mail in OKLAHOMA

Today the drills of Sinclair oil men have bitten deep into the soil of Oklahoma and tapped that treasure trove of the ages, the Cambro-Ordovician oil pool—the pool that was already old when the age of dinosaurs came upon the world. Piped into the great Sinclair refineries and carefully refined and blended, this oldest of Mid-continent crudes becomes Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil, a product averaging more than 80 million years of Nature's priceless mellowing and filtering. In process of manufacture, Sinclair Opaline is de-waxed and freed from non-lubricating petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero. Note how Sinclair Opaline lasts in the heat of hard, fast driving—observe at draining time how little oil has been used up. A sure proof of quality! Ask for Sinclair Opaline.

Betrothal Announcement Given At Luncheon

The betrothal of Miss Clara Belle Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. T. D. Goodwin of Anson to Joe H. Mims Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mims of Ft. Worth was cleverly announced to twenty four guests Saturday, May 20 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Yates. Mrs. Yates, Misses Helen Massengale and Eleanor Ragle being hostesses for this lovely affair.

The bride's chosen colors, orchid and pink were tastefully used throughout the reception suite, in artistic arrangement of roses, sweet peas, delphinium, intermingled with ferns. The table was laid with lace over orchid, and attractively centered with a huge engagement ring, with pink tapers in silver holders, and was presided over by Miss Eleanor Ragle. Individual covers were marked by overlapping orchid and pink hearts pierced with Cupid's darts.

Following a two course luncheon, a very interesting contest of "Famous Lovers" was enjoyed, and culminated in a clever arrangement of heart-shaped sweetheart scenes in a jigsaw creation, revealing the announcement "Clara Belle and Joe Mims, June 1". Misses Thelma Merrick and Thelma Lee Norman received favors as winners in these contests, and the honoree was presented a lovely silver tray as guest prize.

Mrs. W. J. Beckham, in her usual charming manner gave an original story in song telling of the bride and groom's college life, after which Miss Helen Massengale gave a very effective toast to the bride-to-be, presenting her with miniature wedding bells. Then Mrs. J. H. Harp humorously toasted the married ladies, giving them small favors representing household articles. After this Miss Thelma Lee Norman gave a very pathetic toast "The Girls Left Behind" their favors being three good luck pieces.

Miss Asalie Key delighted the guests with a vocal solo "Indian Love Call," accompanied by Mrs. Matt McCall.

Then came the familiar strains of Lohengrin Wedding March, as Mrs. E. R. Yates entered and presented the bride-to-be with a miniature bride and groom, which was a very fitting climax to this lovely party.

The bride and groom are both former students of Simmons University, where they received their A. B. degrees. Miss Goodwin has for the past two years been a teacher in the local schools, having recently resigned. She possesses unusual talent, and has been very active in church activities as well as civic and social affairs and will be greatly missed by all.

Mr. Mims has for four years served as principal in North Plains schools.

The wedding of wide interest, will take place at Anson. The marriage vows will be said in the First Baptist church of that city on June 1st 8:15 P. M. Rev. Douglas Carver officiating.
