Ask Us

Q—Does the law require that people riding a bicycle at night wear light-colored clothing and the bicycle have reflectors?

A—The law requires bicycles used at night to have a light which can been seen from at least 500 feet. It is suggested, but not law, that bike riders wear light-colored clothing at night.

In Brief

Siamese twins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Doctors this morning began a complex operation to separate 7-week-old Siamese twins Angela and Amy Lakeberg.

Before the operation began, the parents said goodbye to Amy, who was expected to die, and made cement imprints of the twins' hands, said mother Reitha Lakeberg's sister, Georgia Welsh.

County eyes 3% tax hike

Scurry County commissioners court, meeting only briefly this morning, tentatively agreed on a $5.8 million budget for 1994.

Pending further budget cuts, the budget would require a three percent tax increase, setting the tax rate at .49.87 cents which would generate revenues of $3.6 million. Other estimated revenue is $2.1 million, leaving a deficit of some $95,000, according to Eddie McHaney, auditor.

At this point, commissioners will likely use part of the $1.1 million in reserves to balance the 1994 budget which begins on Jan. 1.

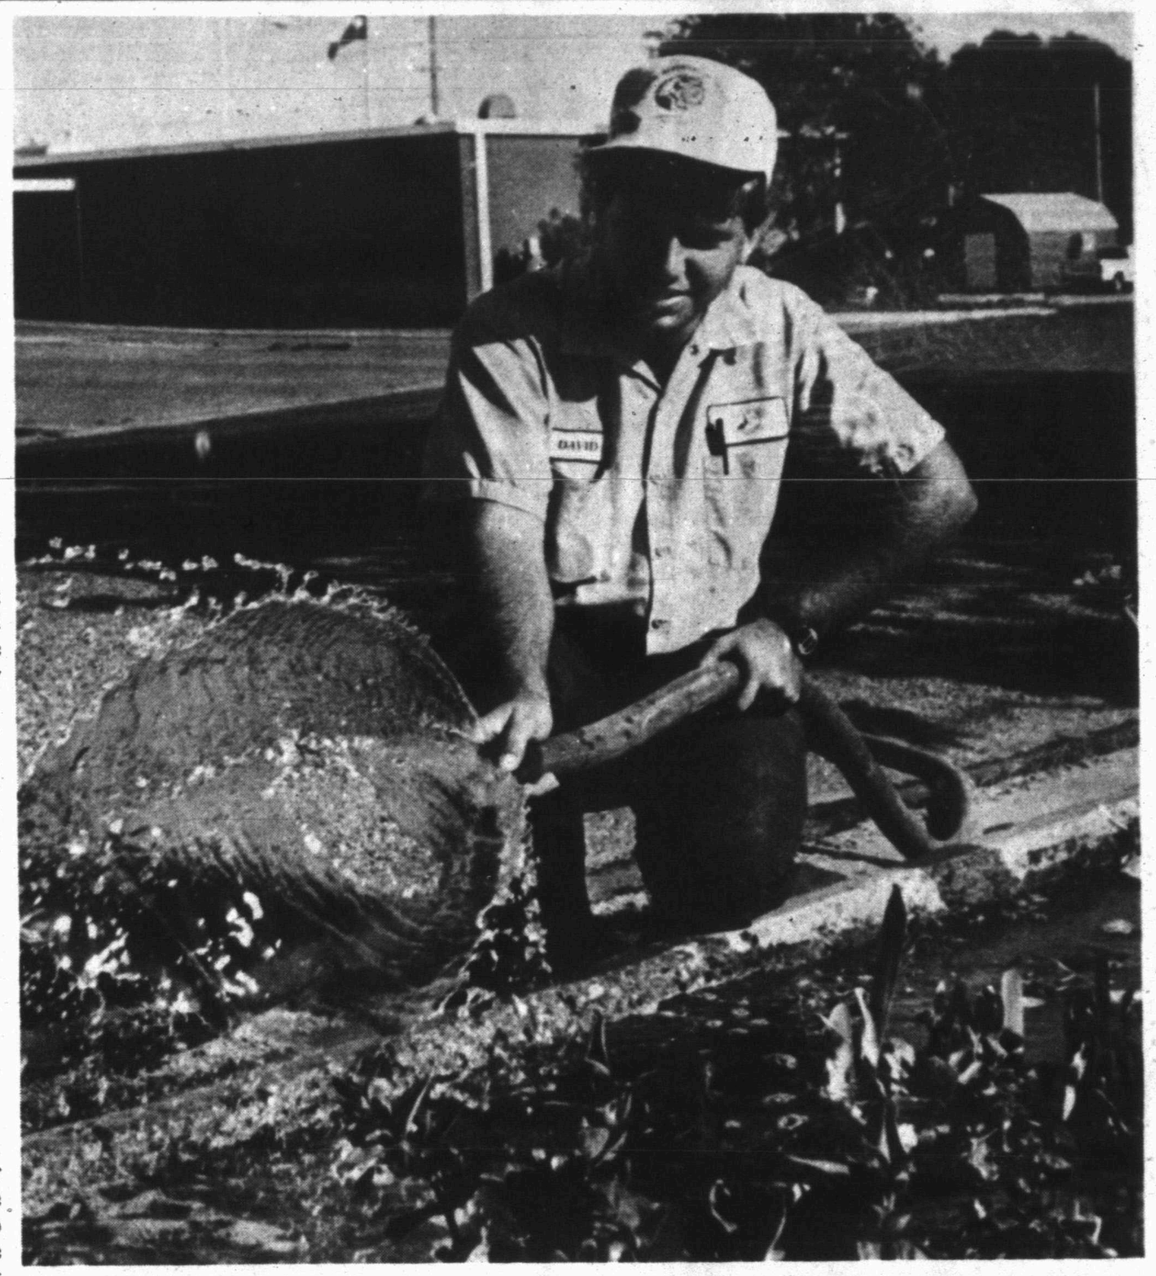

McHaney said that reserves are expected to increase by $139,000 during the current year, but the court may be faced with additional funding of the self-insurance plan.

The two big items in the 1994 budget are health insurance, an increase of approximately 25 percent, and $65,000 for a new county-wide computer system.

"The only place to cut is computers and health care," said Precinct 2 Commissioner Roy Idom. "We cut everything else to the bone two years ago."

Commissioners stressed that the budget remains tentative, and likely there will be changes. The tax rate must also be formally adopted.

Attending this morning's session were Commissioners Idom, C.D. Gray Jr., Ralph Trevey and Jerry Gannaway. Judge Bob Doolittle was absent.

HEAT WAVE CONTINUES — David Tate, city employee, waters plants along Hide Town Drive. Plant life suffers in the area due to a heat wave and lack of rain. CED board turns the books over to appraisal district

County Education District 11 trustees — meeting for perhaps the final time Thursday — appointed Scurry County Appraisal District as its successor-in-interest.

CED 11, mandated by the state two years ago and since struck down by the Texas Supreme Court, is composed of 11 area school districts, including Snyder, Ira and Hermleigh.

The Supreme Court ruled that the county education district (CED) system of school funding was unconstitutional more than a year ago. To avoid major chaos, the court allowed continuation of the system for the 1992-93 school year. That system has since been replaced for the 1993-94 school year.

The CED system ends Aug. 31, but records, handling of future assets and liabilities and collection of delinquent taxes must go on for several years. Therefore, the board met Thursday to appoint a successor to oversee the interests of the CED.

"I don't want it. I'd be glad for someone else, anyone else, to take it. But if you want me to have it, so be it," said Ray Peveler, the CED's administrator for the past two years and chief appraiser for the county appraisal district.

Scurry County Appraisal District will be paid for its time and out-of-pocket expense to serve as successor.

Most of Thursday's meeting was spent discussing the method of recovering and distributing delinquent taxes. In the end, trustees unanimously gave Peveler the authority to sell delinquent taxes back to the 11 school districts at the lowest possible rate.

All 11 individual school districts must also approve the method. If not, Scurry County Appraisal District will be in charge of disbursing delinquent taxes to the individual school districts.

In a series of motions, trustees approved the transfer of assets, liabilities and records to the successor-in-interest, as of Sept. 1. The board also approved payment of outstanding refunds to property owners and outstanding bills.

Peveler also released new information Thursday from the Texas Education Agency, based on average daily attendance, which will mandate a redistribution of some of the CED funds which have already been distributed to the individual districts.

Under the formula, Snyder ISD is to receive $176,324.06 additional funds for 1992-93 while Hermleigh is to receive $51,528.03. Ira will lose $38,238.03.

Perhaps most affected will be Post ISD, which will be required to return $152,009.06, due to a decline in average daily attendance.

Probation revoked in district court

Two sentences to be served in the Scurry County Jail were ordered by District Judge Gene Dulaney this week in 132nd District Court.

Joe Henry Anderson, 40, serving a six-year probated sentence for aggravated assault, saw his probation revoked. He was ordered to spend 180 days in the Scurry County Jail.

Probation was also revoked for Jerry P. Garza, serving a four-year probated sentence for forgery by passing. Garza, 27, was sentenced to one year in the county jail.

White appointed warden at Daniel prison facility

Snyder's newly-appointed warden, Robert White, is a 11-year veteran with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice.

White, 46, will assume his duties Sept. 1 as warden of the Price Daniel unit, replacing Les Woods who was promoted to senior warden at the McConnell maximum security unit in Beeville.

White is no stranger to West Texas. Before joining the TDCJ, for 10 years he was a special field investigator for the general counsel of the Veteran's Administration. Working out of Waco, White was responsible for the West Texas area, including Scurry County.

A graduate of Richfield High School in Waco, White served four years in the military and is a Vietnam veteran. He is a 1989 graduate of Sam Houston State University with a degree in criminology and corrections.

White began working with the TDCJ as a correctional officer trainee in June, 1982. He spent his first year at the Pack II unit in Navasota.

In June of 1984, White transferred to the training academy at Gatesvlle as a sergeant. At the training academy, he obtained the rank of captain and was then assigned to a women's unit in Gatesville. In October of 1990, he was assigned as a private prison monitor in Cleveland.

He was named warden of the Diboll Dentention Center in June of 1992. He and his wife, Kathy have three children. Lana is a high school senior and Jennifer a freshman. Son, Stephen, is a fourth grader.

Raymond Villarreal, 37, has been named the new assistant warden at the Price Daniel unit. He will replace James Black who has been promoted to warden at the Diboll Detention Center.

Villarreal, a native of San Antonio, will transfer from the Fort Stockton Detention Center where he was a major.

Villarreal joined the TDCJ in 1989 as a correctional officer at the Ferguson unit in Madison County. In 1981 he was promoted to sergeant and assigned to the Hilltop unit at Gatesville. In January of 1984, Villarreal became lieutenant at the Coffield unit at Palestine. Five months later he returned to Hilltop and was promoted to captain and began work at the Hughes unit in Gatesville. He had served as major at the Fort Stockton unit since June of 1992.

He also served in the U.S. Army for three years.

Grid tickets open to public

Season tickets for Snyder High School varsity home football games are still on sale to the general public at the ISD business office.

Tickets are $15 for the five home games, an average of $3 each. Tickets purchased at the gate will be $4 each.

Games scheduled at Tiger Stadium feature Abilene Wylie on Sept. 17, the homecoming contest against Big Spring on Sept. 24, Dumas on Oct. 1, Plainview on Oct. 22 and Frenship on Nov. 5.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A clean mind requires changing it once in a while."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Kim Pease, in the Rotan-Roby Advance, suggested in an editorial that Fisher County folks unhappy with Texas Monthly's Ten Worst Legislators list should call the magazine's headquarters in Austin to register their complaint.

You may recall that Rep. David Counts of Knox City and State Sen. Steve Carriker of Roby were rated poorly by the liberal monthly publication.

One Fisher County woman ended up talking with Texas Monthly Publisher Michael L. Levy. In true executive fashion, the publisher advised the woman to call back and talk to the editor.

Rick Craig, in the Hamlin Herald, told about a classified ad which appeared in the Casey County News in Liberty, Kan.:

"To the person who is so destitute as to be forced to take two lengths of garden hose and a sprinkler from the lawn of the First Christian Church — if you will call the pastor's study, he will give you the five-year guarantee for the hose, your dinner, and any religion that may rub off on you."

James Roberts, in the Andrews County News, says, "The trouble with telling a good story is that it always reminds the other person of a dull one."

O.G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, told the story about a powerful, but unpopular businessman, who died.

Two of his "friends" saw the obituary notice and decided to go to the funeral. Upon arrival, the pair found the church already packed.

"Look at all these people," one man exclaimed. "How do you explain it?"

"Well," replied the other, "give people what they want and they all show up."

Gun Show slated for two-day stand

Scurry County Coliseum doors will open at 9 a.m. Saturday for the start of the annual Canyon Gun Club Gun, Knife & Coin Show.

The public is invited to buy, sell, trade or browse through a variety of booths, which will be located on the coliseum floor. All types of firearms and related items will be offered, as well as some Western paraphernalia, knives and coins.

All firearms will be checked at the door.

Admittance to the show will be $2 per person. Children age 12 and under will be admitted free when accompanied by parents. The show will run from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and from 9 until 5 p.m. Saturday.

Snyder Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary will be operating the concession stand.

The 12th annual show also marks Canyon Gun Club's membership drive. Those wishing to join will have use of the club gun range, located near the Northeast Community Center.

Gun Club officers are Joe Cheyne, president; Steve Babcock, vice president; Nancy Bowlin, secretary; and Charles Fulks, treasurer.

Union leader assails NAFTA

AUSTIN (AP) — Agriculture and livestock producers are mounting campaigns against the North American Free Trade Agreement out of fear that cheaper, diseased cattle and crops will overwhelm American markets from Mexico, according to the president of the 250,000-member National Farmers Union.

"It's not just one segment of agriculture that could be negatively impacted," Lee Swenson, National Farmers Union president, said Thursday. "It's fruits and vegetables, it's sugar, it's peanuts, it's livestock, it's across the board where we find tremendous negative impacts."

Barry McBee, deputy commissioner at the Texas Department of Agriculture, said, "The free trade agreement is a tremendous plus for agriculture and for the Texas economy as a whole. Some folks just can't bring themselves to see that."

Swenson, whose group represents mostly family farmers, was attending a convention of the Texas Farmers Union.

Many farmers are outraged at what they feel is a pending trade agreement between the United States, Canada and Mexico that caters to big business grain operators and international traders as opposed to the family farmer.

American negotiators of the free trade pact sold out farmers by conceding in such areas as environmental safeguards and limits on imports, Swenson said.

Some producers fear cheaper commodities will be produced abroad and then flooded into the American market, driving prices down and threatening the single-family farm, Swenson said.

"As we take a look at NAFTA, it's a clear bottom line that the (preliminary) agreements signed off on by the Clinton administration did nothing to enhance the free trade agreement from either an agricultural production perception or from the area of protecting the quality of products that will be imported for our consumers," Swenson said.

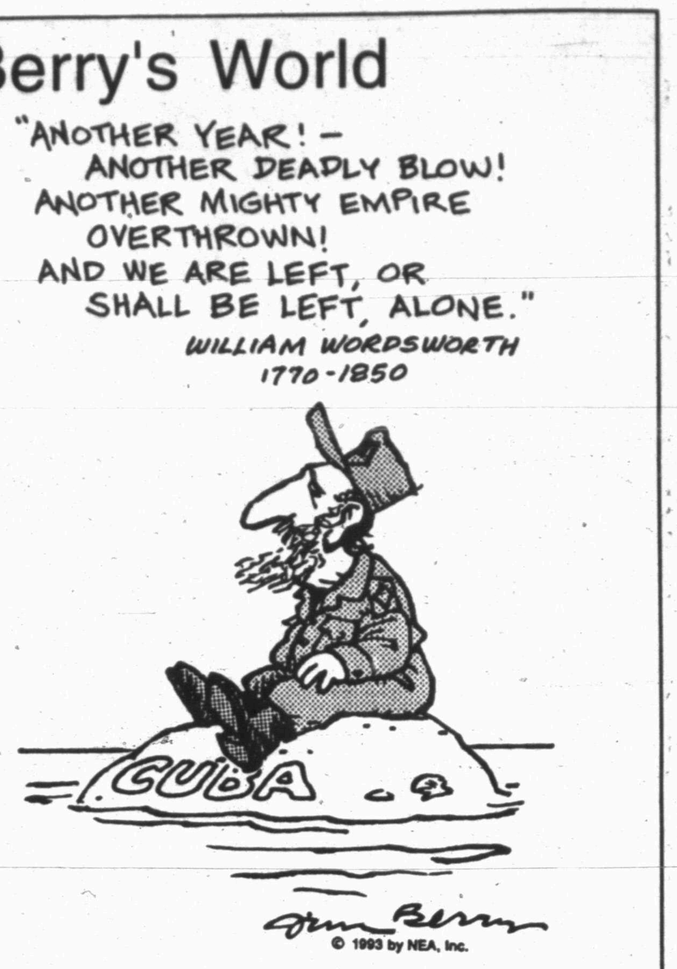

McBee disagreed, saying, "The agreement provides very strong safeguards."

"Each nation is allowed to examine and set its own health and safety standards," he added. "No one in the United States is talking about lessening its standards. The same requirements we have today will be there in the future providing the protections we have today."

Swenson said the United States has restrictions on 58 pesticides and insecticides that are allowed in Mexico.

American companies will be tempted to go to Mexico, lease large amounts of land, use cheap labor and the restricted pesticides to produce fruits and vegetables that can be purchased for less in the United States, Swenson said.

Pentecostals from Floydada thought devil was after them

VINTON, La. (AP) — The devil made them do it. That's what some of the 20 naked Pentecostals packed cheek-to-cheek into a car told police after the vehicle was chased into a tree.

Officers watched in disbelief as the group piled out of the 1990 Pontiac Grand Am after the wreck and began religious chants.

The passengers, relatives from Floydada, said they were en route to a religious retreat somewhere in Florida, Police Chief Dennis Drouillard said.

He said some passengers said they stripped because their clothes were possessed by the devil.

"Didn't have a stitch of clothes on. I mean, no socks, no underwear, no nothin'," he said. "They didn't say much. They mainly got out and chanted religious sayings."

The police stopped the car Thursday after getting a report that the car contained naked people. The driver got out wearing only a towel, but then jumped back in, sped off, and crashed into a tree, police said.

The car was totaled, but the injuries all were minor, Drouillard said.

"I guess when you're packed in that tight, there's not much room to move around," he said. A police officer gave the passengers clothes at the scene.

Drouillard said the group ranged in age from 1 to 65 and included three pregnant women and five children, who were stuffed into the trunk.

Some lawmakers gripe about insurance plans

AUSTIN (AP) — Several lawmakers said the State Board of Insurance is trying to rush approval of rules that are not needed and will cost consumers more money.

But consumer advocates said Thursday that the rules will protect policyholders.

The proposals will be considered by the State Board of Insurance on Aug. 30.

The changes include banning discrimination in the sale or continuation of insurance, and establishing a bill of rights attached to automobile, homeowners, and credit life policies.

But Joe Woods of the state insurance agency said the proposals have been under discussion for months. He said the board was not trying "to get in some last shots."

He also said the board wanted to resolve some issues before Sept. 1 to help the transition when it hands much of its power to a single insurance commissioner.

Rep. Kenneth "Kim" Brimer, R-Fort Worth, said the proposed bill of rights would not be read by policyholders and cost the industry $10 million in printing and postage, which would be heaped onto the consumer.

Rep. Robert Duncan, R-Lubbock, said the anti-discrimination rules could have unintended consequences of damaging some markets. "The remedy to deal with that is uncertain," he said.

The board requested the anti-discrimination rule after a study showed low-income and minority consumers pay higher rates for insurance even if they are a lower risk.

Rep. Leo Alvarado Jr., D-San Antonio, defended the proposals.

"If the insurance industry has something to hide, I could see why they object."

John Hildreth, executive director of the regional office of Consumers Union, said the measures would help consumers.

"It concerns me that there are some members of the committee who are merely doing the work of the insurance industry in trying to intimidate the board from prohibiting discrimination in the marketplace, and in keeping insurance consumers ignorant of their rights," he said.

Jerry Johns, an insurance industry spokesman, and Brimer also criticized board members for not attending the hearing.

"It appears suspect that the board did not attend the hearing if they truly believe that these rules benefit consumers. The committee took their time to meet only to be stonewalled by the board's apparent lack of interest in testifying," Johns said.

Board Chairwoman Claire Korioth was out of town on vacation, and board member Allene Evans was attending an insurance conference in San Antonio.

C. Texas plagued by rainless, 100-degree days

AUSTIN (AP) — Forecasters say odds are at 100 percent that Austin today will break records for consecutive days without rain and for 100-degree or hotter days.

A new record for rainless days also was expected to be set in San Antonio today.

"Tomorrow we'll set a new record and it looks like we're going to continue setting a new record each day for the next week or so," Lou Withrow, a National Weather Service meteorologist, said Thursday.

Withrow said Austin's 1962 record of 54 rainless days, and the 1962 and 1986 record of 11 straight days of high temperatures at 100 degrees or more, likely would fall today.

In Central Texas, firefighters, bats and even the Dallas Cowboys were looking for rain Thursday, when Austin tied the two records.

The 54-day dry spell has sparked about 220 brush fires, a lack of insects and nearly intolerable heat.

So far, there's little concern about the area water supply.

But hundreds of grass fires have been reported, including one Wednesday that burned about 1,000 acres in eastern Travis County and forced the evacuation of some 30 people.

Less rain means fewer insects. So the 1.5 million Mexican free-tailed bats, which normally leave their home under Austin's Congress Avenue bridge at sunset to forage for their nightly 25,000 pounds of bugs, are taking to the skies much earlier.

And the Super Bowl champion Cowboys, who have been practicing in Austin during the past month, would give a lot for a break from the sweltering heat.

"We sure could use some rain to cool things down," said fullback Tommie Agee. "Practice has been unbearably hot."

One Austin radio station Thursday was offering $937 to the first person who could make it rain.

Kim Hollins, a spokeswoman for KLBJ radio station, said the Tribal American Network Indian group planned a rain dance in an Austin park during the 18-hour contest.

The heat wave is widespread.

San Antonio had its longest dry spell since 1962, while daily temperature records in Houston were falling like beads of sweat. Dallas, too, hit 100 degrees for the 11th straight day.

Despite the dry spell, Central Texas has received more rainfall for the year than usual, said Dan Sobien, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service.

There hasn't been a problem providing water even though it's being pumped at record levels, said Mike Howe, community relations manager for the city of Austin Water and Wastewater Utility.

What could dry up, Howe said, is the cash of homeowners who want to keep their lawns green.

"They're using a lot more water and they're going to see it on their bills," he said.

Bill McCann, spokesman for the Lower Colorado River Authority, said the river and Central Texas area lakes are in "pretty good shape."

"We've been fortunate because we did have a fairly wet spring," McCann said. "The problem would occur for us if we had a dry fall and then we had a dry spring. Then we might have some problems next summer."

Brock Lawson, owner of Down to Earth Landscape Services in Austin, said the dry weather has prompted many people building new homes to put off their landscaping.

"We're getting quite a few calls for sprinkler systems and an enormous amount of calls for repairing sprinkler systems," Lawson said. There is a two- to four-week wait for sprinkler repair, he said.

In San Antonio, Mission Ice owner Jack Lewis said business is booming. "It's been great. It's unbelievable. Normally when kids go back to school, our business falls off. But not this year."

Houston broke a record when the temperature hit 101 degrees Monday, and it has tied three more daily temperature records this month.

Temperatures also are soaring in Dallas-Fort Worth. "As of yesterday, we've had 21, 100-degree or higher days at DFW (airport). The average is 16," said meteorologist Wes Browning.

Consider the implications

By Phillip Alder

When you spot a good line of play, don't automatically follow it. Always look for hidden risks. Also, remember that there may be an alternative line that is better.

Today's deal demonstrates this. How would you plan the play in four hearts, West leading the diamond jack?

Four diamonds was, of course, a transfer bid.

Most declarers at the Bridge Federation of Asia and Middle East Championships won the first trick and immediately tried to discard North's diamond losers on their spades. But East ruffed the third spade, cashed the diamond king and played a club to his partner's ace. A club return left declarer endplayed in the North hand. Declarer had to concede a trick to West's heart king: one down.

Walid El-Ahmady, one of the Egyptian players, foresaw this possibility. And even if the three spades do stand up, what next? Playing a fourth spade is dangerous. So do you finesse the heart nine or play low to the queen? If you run the nine and it loses, East will cash a diamond and return a trump to endplay North to lead away from the club king for one down. If you play low to the queen and West has king-third, you look pretty silly.

Walid ducked the first trick, won the diamond continuation and finessed the heart nine. If it had lost, he was hoping that East was out of diamonds. If so, and if East didn't hold the club ace, he was much more likely to switch to spades than to clubs. However, after the finesse worked, declarer picked up the trumps, ran the spades and ended with an overtrick. Nicely thought out.

Teenager shot for his sneakers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A 16-year-old on his way to class at Sam Houston High School was shot Thursday morning after he refused to give his year-old tennis shoes to a man who tried to steal them, police said.

Anthony King was in serious condition at Brooke Army Medical Center with a gunshot wound to the upper left chest, hospital officials said Thursday night.

King was walking to school with his sister and a cousin about 8 a.m. when a van drove up beside them. A man in the back slid open the side door, "grabbed King and told him to give him his tennis shoes," police spokeswoman Sandy Perez said.

The man tried to pull King into the van, but the boy resisted with the help of his sister, police and witnesses said. King refused to give up the shoes and turned to run when he was shot once in the chest, Ms. Perez said.

"Anthony came running across the yard and said 'Grandma, I've been shot,'" his grandmother Yvonne Lambert said.

"I believe it was the idea that 'you're not going to take anything that belongs to me,'" she said of her grandson's actions.

The Reebok tennis shoes were described by police as blue and suede. A San Antonio shoe store manager said that style of running shoe is very popular among youngsters and that most stores have a hard time keeping it in stock.

The shoes cost about $39 when purchased about a year ago, Ms. Lambert said.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't be too free and easy with money today. If you manage your resources carefully, you might be amazed at the mileage you can get from your dollars.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your best results today are likely to come from doing things along traditional lines with traditional methods and procedures. If you try to innovate, obstacles and delays are indicated.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The probabilities for things coming out the way you hope they will today are higher than usual in several areas. You know what needs to be finalize, so devote your efforts to them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) New values might be seen today in a relationship that you have been treating quite casually thus far. It's about time you see this person for what he/she is.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It might take some extra work on your behalf, but your material desires and expectations can be fulfilled in this cycle. Know exactly what you want and then press forward.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You may have to make a critical choice today between taking a shortcut or following a slower, but proven method. Select the latter, not the former.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You could be rather fortunate in this time frame where investments are concerned. However, before you jump into anything be sure to investigate its every aspect.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) The unexpected might annoy and frustrate you a bit today, but it's not apt to trip you up. You're capable of handling erratic people and erratic conditions.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Politely turn away from associates who have poor working habits and emphasize your productivity today. Be the one who influences them instead of letting them influence you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be cognizant of your behavior in social situations today. If you are mindful of your acts, you will make a very favorable, lasting impression on persons who meet you for the first time.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) An important objective is attainable today, but you might have to revise your attack plans a little. Be flexible and don't feel you have to stay on an unproductive approach.

Country club hosts weekend Blowout

Eleven 2-man teams will be vying for the championship of the Snyder Country Club Men's Golf Association Blowout Partnership, to be played Saturday and Sunday.

A total of 64 teams in six flights will compete at the fifth annual tournament.

Saturday play will be in a low-ball format, while Sunday's final 18 holes will be played as a scramble. Championship, President's and First Flights will begin with an 8 a.m. shotgun start Saturday and with a 1 p.m. shotgun start on Sunday. Golfers in Second, Third and Fourth Flights will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Sunday.

Registration, practice rounds and special activities open the tournament today.

Included in Saturday's festivites are a putting tournament, sponsored by the Women's Golf Association, closest to the pin competition, sponsored by West Texas State Bank and Snyder National Bank, and a shrimp and fish feast at dinner.

Saturday's fun winds up with a dance. Music will be provided by the Highway 67 Band.

The club's Men's Golf Association will sponsor hole-in-one prizes during Sunday's final round.

LEADING GROUND GAINER — Snyder tailback Terrell Jones finds a crease in the Fort Stockton defense Thursday. Jones wound up rushing for 109 yards, including TD dashes of 20 and 70 yards, as the Tigers posted a 3-0 win over the Panthers in both teams' first scrimmage. (SDN Staff Photo)

Tigers down Fort Stockton in opening grid scrimmage

STANTON — Running back Terrell Jones rushed for 109 yards and two touchdowns and the defense posted a shutout to lead the Snyder Tigers to a 3-0 scrimmage win over Fort Stockton Thursday.

"I thought it was a pretty typical first scrimmage," Snyder coach David Baugh said. "I thought we got after them. That's what I liked.

"I was pleased with our execution for a first scrimmage," he continued. "Terrell scored twice and he ran the ball well, our quarterbacks did a good job and Larry Thompson caught the ball well.

"The defense did a good job," Baugh continued. "We looked quicker than we've looked in practice. We had a lot of people going to the football."

Jones scored on runs of 20 and 70 yards, and averaged over 15 yards a carry Thursday even though he was working with a thigh bruise.

Jones' first TD run capped an eight-play drive that opened the scrimmage. The 70-yard burst came late in the practice game on a pitch to the right side.

The Tigers' other score came during goal-line drills, when Keith Orosco picked up a fumbled pitch and scooted 10 yards for a TD.

Orosco, Jones, Greg McAden and Chris Mitchell combined for 226 yards on 23 attempts from the tailback slot in the Tigers' revamped one-back offense.

McAden, a junior, injured a knee late in the action Thursday. It is thought to be a stretched ligament, but he will be sent to a San Angelo doctor for an examination to make sure.

SHS quarterbacks completed 11 of 23 tosses against the Panthers for an even 100 yards.

Unofficially, Jim Pat Griffin, running the Tigers' second unit, hit seven of eight throws tor 76 yards. Starter Matt Cave connected on four of 15 for 25 yards.

Thompson, a senior split end, was Snyder's leading receiver, snagging five passes for 43 yards. Sophomore flanker Marlowe Riggins grabbed three receptions for 35 yards, and slot receiver John Clinkinbeard, a junior, caught three for 22 yards.

The SHS defense limited Fort Stockton to 188 total yards, 142 on 33 rushing attempts and 46 yards on three pass completions in 13 tries.

The defense's highlight of the night was during goal-line drills when the Tiger line stopped the Panthers on five straight plays, three times from inside the two.

"We looked pretty good down there," Baugh admitted. "They may be like us and not have a great goal-line offense in yet, but we stopped them. I was real pleased with that."

The Tigers defense also swiped a pair of Panther fumbles, broke up seven passes and, during one 13-play stretch, held FSHS to just 13 yards.

Snyder's final preseason tuneup is slated for Friday, Aug. 27 at Ballinger. A time for the scrimmage has not been announced.

The Tigers open the 1993 campaign Sept. 3 at Sweetwater. Snyder will tangle with Abilene Wylie in its Sept. 17 home debut.

ESPN, A&M dicker over "12th Man"

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas A&M attorneys will complain to ESPN about the cable network's use of the term "12th Man" in a contest promotion, the school's athletic director said Thursday.

ESPN is sponsoring "ESPN's NFL 12th Man Contest," with the winner receiving tickets to attend NFL games next season.

Interim athletic director Wally Groff says Texas A&M holds the trademark on the term "12th Man," used to describe A&M fans who traditionally stand during games in support of their team.

"They (ESPN) have to have our permission to use 'The 12th Man,'" Groff said. "When it comes to the use of a trademark, if you don't protect your trademark, you lose it."

Groff and A&M assistant general counsel Scott Kelly said the university's attorneys were preparing Thursday to contact ESPN about use of the term for the contest.

Aikman expects start against Oilers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Dallas quarterback Troy Aikman has expectations for his first Cowboys start since the Super Bowl — he expects the offense to be sharp and he doesn't anticipate sympathy from Buddy Ryan.

Aikman, who had off-season back surgery, will play between one and two quarters Saturday when the Cowboys play the Houston Oilers in a soldout exhibition game in the 65,000-seat Alamodome.

"I really am expecting to go out and for us to look sharp, maybe not mid-season form, but I would like to think we will be able to move the football and put some points on the board," Aikman said.

"I'd like to make it look like we have some idea of knowing what we're doing. Whether or not that's going to happen, I don't know."

Aikman's return to action will be against the 46 defense devised by Oilers defensive coordinator Buddy Ryan.

"I don't think (Buddy Ryan) is going to come after me any more than any other quarterback," Aikman said. "It's a defensive scheme where he believes in putting a lot of pressure on the quarterback.

"He's going to do that and he's not going to pull back because of my back injury thinking he may get me hurt."

Ryan's blitz-oriented defense has had a shaky start with some spectacular successes and glaring failures. The Oilers are still learning the "thinking man's defense."

But Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson is thinking more about Aikman facing the Oiler blitz after observing Ryan's tactics in an early training camp scrimmage between the two teams.

"I'm concerned about it, because in the scrimmage they blitzed over half the time," Johnson said. "I am concerned about it, but our guys have done a good job pass protection-wise, and Troy feels like he's 100 percent ready to go, and so we're going to give him a shot."

While the Cowboys will monitor Aikman's health, the Oilers' critical need is to guard the health of their remaining offensive linemen.

Bruce Matthews, a first team All-Pro center last year, has been moved to left tackle and starting right guard Doug Dawson is now the center. John Flannery's knee injury and the late arrival in training camp of No. 1 draft choice Brad Hopkins has forced alterations.

"I just want to get my five best guys on the field at the same time," offensive line coach Bob Young said.

Unsigned Pro Bowl running back Lorenzo White has given backup Gary Brown a chance to perform. He was impressive in Monday night's loss to the Detroit Lions.

"I have more confidence in my abilities than I did my first year," Brown said. "The more reps I get the better I get. But I know what will happen when Lorenzo comes back."

Spikers begin season at Monahans tourney

MONAHANS — The Snyder Lady Tigers opened their 1993 spike season this morning with a 10 a.m. pool-play match against the host Lady Loboes at the Monahans Volleyball Tournament.

Snyder is to take on Odessa High at 2 p.m., then wind up the day squaring off against Crane at 4 p.m.

A total of 16 varsity teams will compete in four pools in today's opening round. The top two finishers in each pool will advance to the championship bracket tomorrow, while the third and fourth place teams in each pool will play in Saturday's consolation bracket.

Other teams in the tournament include Sweetwater, Big Spring, Alpine, Pecos, San Angelo Central, San Angelo Lake View, El Paso Burges, Fort Stockton, Midland Lee, Midland High and Denver City.

The junior varsity tourney here is bracketed both days. Snyder will face Pecos at 1 p.m. today in its first-round JV encounter.

TED E. ZECK

Ted E. Zeck

1925-1993

Services are set for 11 a.m. Monday in the chapel of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home for Ted E. Zeck, co-founder of Y-Z Industries, who died at 11:45 p.m. Thursday at his home after a lengthy illness. Burial will follow in Hillside Memorial Gardens.

Zeck, 67, had been a resident of Snyder since 1949, moving from Iowa Park to establish an oilfield related firm that later became known as Y-Z Industries.

Ted and his father, the late I.V. Zeck, invented and developed a gas sampling device that is marketed world-wide.

He was a 32nd Degree Mason and a member of the Scottish Rite, and a charter member of Trinity United Methodist Church. Mr. Zeck was a veteran of the Navy Air Corp. He married Jo Ann Seward on June 18, 1978, in Albuquerque, N.M.

Mr. Zeck was born Oct. 22, 1925 in Burkburnett. He was preceded in death by his father on Dec. 22, 1992, and his mother, Callie Zeck, on June 26, 1993.

Survivors include his wife, Jo Ann Zeck of Snyder; two sons, Paul Zeck and Mark Zeck of Snyder; two daughters, Margaret Edwards of Williamsburg, Va., and Tracie Lavender of Pampa, Fla.; two sisters, Sophie Michie of Snyder and Bonnie Hale of Hackett, Ariz.; a stepdaughter, Christy Wagenfuhref of San Antonio; a stepson, Kenny Hammond of Colorado City; and 15 grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to the Shriner Home for Crippled Children.

Alta Marie Jones

1931-1993

McKINNEY — Services were to be at 2 p.m. today in North Baptist Church for Alta Marie Jones, 62, of McKinney and burial was to follow in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Mrs. Jones, a homemaker, died Wednesday in McKinney's North Texas Medical Hospital.

Survivors include four children, Beth Evans of Snyder, Leroy Wall, Frankie Jones, Roger Jones and Patricia Acre, all of Dallas; 10 grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Evelyn Crawford

1908-1993

BROWNWOOD — Graveside services are set for 9 a.m. Saturday in the Howard Cemetery near Desdemona in Eastland County for Evelyn Oma Crawford, 85, who died Tuesday in a Brownwood nursing home.

A former resident of Snyder, Mrs. Crawford retired from the Snyder Independent School District and moved to Brownwood 12 years ago.

Born in Desdemona, Mrs. Crawford was a member of the Central United Methodist Church. Her husband, Robert H. Crawford, preceded her in death.

Survivors include two daughters, Edith Marie Pomroy of Corona, Calif., and Joann Meek of Brownwood; two sons, Rogell Herman Crawford of Brownwood and Richard Arlen Crawford of Graham; a brother, Doyle Johnson of Desdemona; two sisters, Ruth Bell of Fort Worth and Gladys Arnett of Portland, Ore.; 13 grandchildren; and 22 great-grandchildren.

S.J. Etheredge

1918-1993

ROTAN — Services are set for 10 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church in Rotan for S.J. (Schooner) Etheredge, 75, of the Hobbs Community in Fisher County. Burial will be in the Hobbs Cemetery. The Rev. T.O. Upshaw and the Rev. Wes Holland will officiate.

Mr. Etheredge died Thursday at his home.

Born on Feb. 16, 1918, in the Hobbs Community, he had farmed and ranched in Fisher and Scurry counties all his life. He married Lena Hamilton in 1937. She died in 1970. Mr. Etheredge married Irene Hefner Brown in 1973.

He was preceded in death by four brothers and one sister.

Survivors include his wife of the home; three sons, Don Etheredge of Pampa, Mac Etheredge of El Paso and Jerry Etheredge of Hermleigh; one stepdaughter, Juanelle Jordan of Friona; four brothers, T.E. Etheredge of Tyler, Sam Etheredge of Hermleigh, C.C. Etheredge of Roscoe and Bob Etheredge of Gorman; three sisters, Edna Ruth Cave and Fae Rinker, both of Snyder, and Lura Duke of Boswell, Okla.; nine grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; and six step-grandchildren.

Lois Ratheal

1911-1993

CROSBYTON — Services are set for 10 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church for Lois Ratheal, 82, of Crosbyton with the Rev. Lester B. Griffin, pastor, and the Rev. Melvin Ratheal, a Baptist minister in Sun City West, Ariz., officiating.

Burial will be in Crosbyton Cemetery.

She was the grandmother of Mrs. Larry (Wynola) Early and the great-grandmother of Tucker and Trent Early, all of Snyder.

Mrs. Ratheal died at 7:20 p.m. Wednesday in Lubbock's Quaker Villa Nursing Home.

She was born on June 21, 1911, in Hill County and married Otto Ratheal on July 11, 1931, in Crosby County. He died on Dec. 26, 1935. She was a school bus driver and a lunchroom worker for the Crosbyton schools. She also worked for Wallace Dry Goods and Lowrie Drug before retiring. She moved to Crosbyton from Childress in 1928 and was a member of Crosbyton First Baptist Church.

Other survivors include a son, Roy Ratheal of Crosbyton; a daughter, Rita Powell of Crosbyton; two sisters, Juanita Everett of Lancaster and Maxine Mitchell of Plano; eight other grandchildren; and six other great-grandchildren.

Abortion doctor shot and wounded in Wichita, Kan.

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — An abortion foe was arrested in Oklahoma City overnight in the wounding of a doctor shot outside his Wichita clinic, authorities said. She was jailed on charges of attempted murder.

Rachelle Renae Shannon, 37, Grants Pass, Ore., was taken into custody at Will Rogers Airport when she returned a rental car matching the one in which the assailant fled, said Capt. Bill Citty, Oklahoma City police spokesman.

Dr. George Tiller, who sometimes wore bulletproof gear and traveled with a guard dog, was shot on Thursday by a woman who had been seen passing out anti-abortion literature.

Shannon apparently had taken part in anti-abortion activities in the past. Citty said she had two outstanding warrants against her for trespassing at clinics in San Francisco and Milwaukee.

Tiller, 52, suffered minor wounds in both arms near the elbow, said Peggy Jarman, a spokeswoman for Tiller. He was treated at a hospital and released.

Tiller, one of the few U.S. doctors who perform late-term abortions, has been a frequent target of protests. His clinic was one of three picketed by Operation Rescue during protests two years ago that led to 2,700 arrests.

Witnesses told police the woman who fired the shots had joined a small demonstration Thursday outside the Women's Health Care Services Clinic, handing out literature and talking with the protesters.

When Tiller — still wearing his surgical scrubs — left the clinic and got into his car, she approached and fired four or five shots from a chrome semi-automatic pistol, Ms. Jarman and police said.

Clinic employees gave police a description of the car and the license plate number.

Pat Kraus of Wichita, who frequently pickets outside the clinic, said the woman had introduced herself as Ann from the Sacramento, Calif., area. The woman said she had flown to Oklahoma City, rented a car and driven to Wichita, Ms. Kraus said.

Police note three arrests

Snyder police made three arrests, closed three cases with the identification of suspects and handled routine calls during the past 24 hours.

Officers arrested a 22-year-old man at 10:17 p.m. Thursday in the 2300 block of Avenue C on DPS traffic warrants out of Abilene.

At 12:19 a.m. today, officers arrested a 39-year-old man for public intoxication and a 40-year-old woman for misdemeanor driving while intoxicated in the 1600 block of 37th Street.

An officer discovered a broken window at Stewart Surveying Co. at 5:12 a.m. today. A report for burglary of a building was submitted. An investigation is continuing.

Police closed three cases at 9 a.m. Thursday with the identification of juvenile suspects. On Aug. 11, criminal mischief was reported at Denson's Used Cars. A 15-year-old boy has been identified as a suspect.

On Aug. 13, bicycles were reported stolen in the 600 block of 25th Street and in the 2300 block of Avenue G. A 14-year-old boy and a 15-year-old boy have been identified as suspects.

All three cases will be forwarded to the district attorney.

At 11:03 p.m. Thursday, officers transported two individuals from Municipal Court to the county jail to lay out fines. They were a 17-year-old man for no insurance and no Texas driver's license, and a 24-year-old man for public intoxication.

Officers worked a two-vehicle accident at 11:48 a.m. Thursday at 20th Street and Avenue E. Involved were a 1993 Ford driven by Shanna Dea Block of 105 Browning and a 1990 Pontiac driven by Joyce Brown of 2915 Ave. B.

Police worked a second accident at 2:48 p.m. at 25th Street and Avenue Q. Involved were a 1990 Mercury driven by Brad William Snellgrove of O'Donnell and a 1992 Chevrolet driven by Mark Ellis McCormick of 3201 Houston.

Police submitted a family violence report after responding to a disturbance in the 2900 block of Avenue V at 1:19 p.m. Thursday.

At 10:03 p.m., a runaway report was filed for 14-year-old Annie Martinez.

Croats, Serbs approve plan

GENEVA (AP) — International mediators gave leaders of Bosnia's warring factions their peace proposal today and allowed them 10 days to give their final answer.

Conference spokesman John Mills said the package was based on a proposed map for dividing Bosnia into three ethnic states under a weak central government. A deadline for replies was set for Aug. 30.

"If they don't sign, the war will continue," Mills said.

The package was proposed by mediators Lord Owen and Thorvald Stoltenberg. All previous accords to end the 16-month-old conflict have quickly collapsed.

2 injured in accident

Two Snyder women were treated for injuries resulting from a vehicle accident which occurred just after 4 p.m. Thursday on U.S. Highway 84 near Hermleigh.

Hilaria Gutierrez, 51, of 1811 Ave. T was treated for contusions and abrasions at Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room and transferred at the request of family members to University Medical Center in Lubbock. She is in stable condition.

Thirty-three-year-old Ofelia Silva, also of 1811 Ave. T, was treated at Cogdell for a lower back strain. She was released following treatment.

Details of the accident are unknown.

Russian official rejects early legislative vote

MOSCOW (AP) — President Boris Yeltsin asked parliament today to call early legislative elections.

Congress speaker Ruslan Khasbulatov, one of Yeltsin's fiercest opponents, swiftly rejected the idea of early legislative elections and proposed an early presidential election instead.

Yeltsin and his hard-line enemies in parliament have been at war for months over who should hold the lion's share of power in post-Soviet Russia and direct the course of economic reform.

In a message to lawmakers today, Yeltsin said: "I understand that giving up power and facing voters is not an easy decision." But he urged them to take the "democratic and peaceful way out" of Russia's political stalemate and call such an election.

Legislative terms are not due to expire until 1995, and under the current constitution, adopted before the Soviet Union collapsed, Yeltsin does not have the authority to call elections.

Yeltsin's chief of staff, Sergei Filatov, said legislation was being drafted that would authorize the election, but it would require parliament's approval.

Yeltsin threatened last week to call elections this autumn if parliament refuses to do so. He said today a quick decision was essential.

"If we want to continue the course of reform ... and if we are concerned about the fate of Russia more than our own interests, we are obliged to give Russian citizens an opportunity" to elect a "viable" legislature, he said.

Lawmakers have in the past said they might agree to early legislative elections as long as they were accompanied by early presidential elections. Yeltsin's term expires in 1996 and he has said he won't run for a second term.

But today Khasbulatov said he was withdrawing the offer of simultaneous elections. Instead, he called for an early presidential election "in strict conformity with the law."

The Supreme Soviet, Russia's smaller standing legislature, and the larger Congress of People's Deputies are dominated by former Communists and nationalists who oppose Yeltsin's free-market reforms and tried to impeach him.

Don't suffer from chronic sinusitis

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I suffer from chronic sinusitis and nasal polyps. One Actifed daily keeps my allergies under control, but I'm concerned about the long-term side effects. I've experienced general fatigue, lethargy and a decrease in sex drive. Are my symptoms a result of the overuse of an antihistamine?

DEAR READER: Actifed, an over-the-counter antihistamine/decongestant, is generally safe when taken according to the manufacturer's directions. It does not have significant side effects and ordinarily does not cause the symptoms you describe.

More likely, your complaints stem from your chronic sinus infection. Nasal polyps are often associated with such infection because they may block the sinus openings. Therefore, I believe you ought to consider having them removed; this simple operation might solve your problem.

As an alternative, ask your doctor to prescribe stronger medicine, such as Seldane or cortisone nasal spray. Perhaps you may have become resistant to Actifed.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Two weeks ago I began feeling dizzy, nauseated and suffered headaches. My doctor said it was due to high blood pressure and put me on water pills. Is this enough medication or should she have given me something to lower the pressure also?

DEAR READER: Diuretics (water pills) do lower blood pressure, in part because they reduce the volume of blood by causing the kidneys to extract more fluid from the bloodstream. Therefore, your doctor prescribed appropriate "first step" medication for your problem.

Whether she will be successful in lowering your blood pressure depends on future pressure readings. In many instances, diuretics suffice. In others, additional medicine — such as beta-blockers, calcium-channel blockers or ACE inhibitors — may have to be substituted for (or added to) the diuretic therapy.

Follow your doctor's advice with respect to frequent monitoring of your blood pressure, which should not exceed 160/90 millimeters of mercury.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Hypertension." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a 10-month-old baby who has had a stroke and is affected on one side. The doctors can't confirm why this happened and I've never heard of it in an infant. Is this common and what factors could cause something like this to happen?

DEAR READER: This is a highly unusual circumstance, a real tragedy because it was unpredictable and is untreatable. Children who suffer strokes frequently have congenitally weak blood vessels in the brain. Such blood vessels may rupture without warning, causing bleeding into the brain, with resulting weakness in one part of the body.

Ask the pediatrician if this was the cause of your infant's stroke.

AIDS drug trial will use new concept in fight against illness

WASHINGTON (AP) — A controversial AIDS vaccine trial set for next year will be the largest test of a new concept of therapy: using a vaccine to bolster the immune system against an infection that already has taken hold.

The vaccine trial will test gp160, a genetically engineered protein, in 5,000 to 10,000 patients who already are infected with the HIV virus that causes AIDS.

MicroGeneSys Inc., a Meriden, Conn., company that lobbied Congress for a $20 million appropriation to conduct a national trial of gp160, announced Thursday that the test will start early next year under the guidance of the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research.

The announcement caught many researchers by surprise. A panel of AIDS experts had recommended earlier this year that the National Institutes of Health spend the $20 million on a trial that would test vaccine candidates from a number of companies instead of only the MicroGeneSys gp160 product.

In any case, AIDS experts said the trial will be the first major test of the idea of treating HIV infection with what is called a therapeutic vaccine.

Vaccines generally are given to prevent a disease infection. Childhood shots, for example, keep people from getting mumps, measles, polio, diphtheria, tetanus or whooping cough.

The vaccines cause the body to develop a defense against the microbes that cause the diseases. If a person is exposed after inoculation, the body's immune system immediately recognizes the invader as an enemy, then attacks and kills it before there is a disease.

In the gp160 trial, however, the patients will already have the AIDS-causing virus, with their immune systems under attack by a virus that preys on a type of lymphocyte that's a key soldier in the body's defenses.

MicroGeneSys' gp160 is a molecule that matches the protein that is on the coat, or outer envelope, of the HIV particle. By flooding the system with extra levels of this material, it's hoped the body will be stimulated to produce even stronger immune responses against the protein.

Army researchers have said that in small studies the gp160 stimulated antibodies and cellular immune system defenses that attacked the HIV virus anywhere it was found in the body.

Genentech Inc., a California drug company, also is testing a therapeutic vaccine in patients infected with HIV, but the trial is much smaller than the proposed test of the MicroGeneSys product.

The Genentech drug, gp120, is based on a sub-unit of the gp160 protein in the coat of the AIDS virus. The Genentech product already has been shown to protect chimpanzees against infection by HIV. Now the company is testing the drug in some 500 HIV patients to see if it helps them fight their infection.

"As people learn how it works, you'll see more of this therapeutic vaccine type of research," Jack Obijeski, a Genentech executive, said in an interview.

Basinger married Baldwin Thursday

EAST HAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Kim Basinger and Alec Baldwin are no longer one of Hollywood's most glamorous unmarried couples.

The two tied the knot Thursday night in a torchlight ceremony on a public beach.

Paul Newman, Billy Joel, Christie Brinkley, Chynna Phillips and Hollywood's Baldwin brothers — William, Stephen and Daniel — were among about 100 guests.

The wedding and reception were held at the Long Island home of fashion designer Josephine Chaus.

Basinger, 39, and Baldwin, 35, walked into a circle of smoothed sand at the edge of the Atlantic for the nuptials. Seven minutes later, rose petals flew in the air amid cheers and laughter as the bride and groom kissed.

Basinger wore a white, full-length dress and Baldwin a dinner jacket.

Their last joint venture, "The Marrying Man," flopped at the box office a few years ago. They are working on a remake of the 1972 movie "The Getaway," which starred the then-hot couple of Steve McQueen and Ali MacGraw.

Two Texas senators' actions analyzed

By Jill Lawrence
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Clinton administration tossed a nice little prize to two Republican senators this week, despite their relentless criticism of the president and the designs one of them has on his job.

What happened was that Texas won another federal contest, this one to be "host center" for the $22 billion space station project. The immediate gains include cachet and hundreds of government and private-sector jobs.

These things occur when your state has lots of electoral votes, highly placed Democrats and a respected science establishment — even if the president doesn't want to look like he's rewarding two of his sharpest detractors.

Slamming Clinton's economic plan was Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison's main strategy for winning a special election in June. Sen. Phil Gramm is making caustic attacks on the plan as a warm-up for his 1996 presidential run.

The two Texas Republicans appeared at the Capitol with Ross Perot to condemn federal spending the same day Clinton administration lobbyists were trying to contain a rising tide in the House against the multibillion-dollar superconducting super collider under construction in Texas.

Only a day earlier, Vice President Al Gore himself had been working the House floor to save the space station. Sentiment to kill it was so strong that the project survived by only one vote.

Clinton, now gearing up to revive the super collider in the Senate, vented his feelings about Gramm and Hutchison to a group of Texas reporters.

"The timing was amazing," the president said. "I couldn't believe that they would walk out on the steps of the Capitol with Ross Perot and beg the Congress to cut spending more and rail against taxes ... while we're doing our best not to get beat too bad in the House" on the super collider.

Clinton said it was hard enough to request votes benefiting Texas from California lawmakers coping with massive base closings, or members from Idaho and Utah where nobody's writing your federal checks every month. You don't have hundreds of scientists and engineers and high-tech employees."

He ended by scoring the two Texans for insensitivity. "At least they could have waited a day to do it, you know?" Clinton said. "They could have had the good grace to wait instead of just rubbing the Congress' face in their rhetoric."

Of course, Gramm and Hutchison argue that the space station and the super collider are science — not wasteful spending. And there were good reasons to consolidate the space station program at the Johnson Space Center in Houston, rather than at competing centers in Huntsville, Ala., Greenbelt, Md., or Cleveland.

But there were also reasons to choose someplace else. Officials could have argued that Boeing has a bigger presence in Huntsville than in Houston. And auditors recently found the Houston center was responsible for $1 billion in cost overruns on early space station work.

Case for Good Manners Is In Making Good Neighbors

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1993 Universal Press Syndicate

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dear Abby is on a two-week vacation. Following is a selection of some of her favorite past letters from 1977.)

DEAR ABBY: Why do people place so much importance on manners? From the time kids learn to walk and talk, adults hassle them about manners and being polite.

I don't see what good it does to stand up when an older person or a lady comes into the room. And there are dozens of other rules that come under the heading of "manners" that make no sense at all.

Maybe you can explain it to me.

DON'T GET IT

DEAR DON'T: To answer your question, no one said it better than the late and great Amy Vanderbilt:

"Good manners are the traffic rules for society in general. Without good manners, living would be chaotic, human beings unbearable to each other. Reduced to a phrase, good manners are consideration of other people in respect of their feelings, their safety, their privacy, and their full social rights and privileges."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a reasonably attractive, well-mannered bachelor in my late 30s who receives many social invitations. I recently turned down an invitation to a dinner party. I frankly told the hostess that I was no longer accepting invitations that did not allow me to bring my own date. Very irately, she told me that if I didn't want to go to parties alone, I should get married.

Why do so many people think a single person should be eager to accept invitations to go to a party alone? I always feel like a fifth wheel, or else I get stuck with a dateless woman who shares my embarrassment. Am I wrong?

SINGLE SIMON

DEAR SIMON: If you'd rather bring your own date than gamble on whom the hostess has paired you off with, say so. But most bachelors are invited to parties to provide escorts for the single women. And I'd like to see the dateless woman who would feel "embarrassed" to find her dinner companion a reasonably attractive, well-mannered bachelor.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: There is an old guy in our town who is driving everybody nuts. He's about 75 years old, and he can't keep his paws off women. No waitress will get within 6 feet of him. When he comes into the restaurant, the cashier has to take his order, and the cook comes out of the kitchen to serve it to him!

This guy went to a doctor for a checkup, and the nurse told me that if he ever came back, she was going to have a pair of handcuffs ready.

Everybody in town knows about him. I can't understand why they let a man like that run loose. Isn't he dangerous?

PASO ROBLES

DEAR PASO: Probably not. If everybody in town knows about him, they're safe. It's the ones they don't know about who are dangerous.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of the following situation:

When friends drop in, should the hostess excuse herself and put on a pot of coffee, or get a cold drink and serve it with a sandwich, cake, cookies or whatever she has on hand? Or should she ask her guests if they would like a hot drink, a cold one or a sandwich?

My husband and I are on opposite sides of this argument and need you to settle it for us.

MILLIE IN MARYLAND

DEAR MILLIE: The gracious hostess does not inquire. She acts. (P.S. Drop-in visitors should not expect a feed-in.)

Mental health advocates protest use of 'crazy'

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Ross Perot has offended advocates for the mentally ill by throwing around the word "crazy."

The Alliance for the Mentally Ill of New York State complained about Perot's playing of Patsy Cline's "Crazy" at political rallies to tweak Republicans. And it objected to his frequent likening of the federal deficit to "a crazy aunt we keep down in the basement."

"We would like an apology — an acknowledgement that he is, in a sense, very politically incorrect by saying what he is saying," spokesman Glen Liebman said.

Perot, who will be in New York state this weekend, apologized on Thursday.

"No one's ever brought that up before," he said. "If I offended anyone, I'm sorry."

In the closing days of his independent presidential campaign last year, Perot adopted Cline's country classic as a theme song to get back at Republicans who said he had made "crazy" allegations about their campaign.

LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD

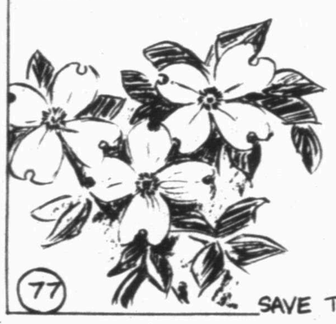

WHEN JESUS WAS CRUCIFIED HE FORGAVE ALL THOSE WHO TOOK PART IN THIS HORRIBLE EXECUTION (LUKE 23:34). AT SOMETIME IN THE EARLY YEARS OF CHRISTIANITY, A LEGEND STARTED THAT, SO COMPLETE WAS HIS FORGIVENESS, EVEN THE WOODEN CROSS WAS INCLUDED! IT WAS SUPPOSED THAT THE TREE FROM WHICH THE WOOD CAME WAS THE DOGWOOD AND BECAUSE OF THIS FORGIVENESS THE TREE NEVER AGAIN GREW LARGE ENOUGH TO SUPPLY WOOD FOR SUCH A TERRIBLE PURPOSE—AND, AS COMMEMORATION, ITS FLOWERS WOULD FORM A CROSS WITH A NAILPRINT AT EACH PETAL'S EDGE, WITH THE CENTER RESEMBLING A CROWN OF THORNS STAINED WITH BLOOD.

TODAY'S BEAUTIFUL DOGWOOD TREES GROW TO A HEIGHT OF EIGHT TO FIFTEEN FEET—NOWHERE NEAR THE SIXTY OR SEVENTY FEET THAT THEIR ANCESTORS ARE SAID TO HAVE ATTAINED, AND ALSO....
