FEDERAL REGISTRATION OF MOTOR VEHICLES COULD HAVE FAR REACHING EFFECT

Two bills have recently been introduced in the Congress which can have far reaching effect.

The first bill, H.R. 7766, pertains to registering motor vehicles with the Clerk of the United States District Court. This bill should be studied very carefully and consideration should be given to the effect it might have in the future. It could mean that this is the opening wedge to Federal control of motor vehicle registration as well as control over maximum length and load. It could in time take from the State every vestige of control over our highways and motor vehicles.

The bill would provide for a nationally uniform system of automobile registration as there exists a wide variance among the laws of the several States governing the registration of automobiles, and that such variance leads frequently to injustice and uncertainty in commercial transactions involving automobiles, particularly in transactions which involve the movement of automobiles from one State to another. It is therefore declared to be the policy and objective of the Congress to encourage the development of a nationally uniform system for the registration of automobiles.

The bill provides that the director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts shall establish a uniform procedure and fix appropriate fees for the registration of automobiles by clerks of the United States District Courts.

The other bill to be considered is Bill S3424, which per-

Tracy and Stewart Head Cast Of 'Malaya'

Excitement and adventure provide the keynote for "Malaya" new M-G-M offering at the Surf Theatre Sunday and Monday, with Spencer Tracy and James Stewart playing a pair of reckless buddies in a pulse hitting drama laid against a sinister background of the Far East.

Stewart plays John Royer, ex-newspaper correspondent who succeeds in getting U.S. government backing for a daring project to smuggle raw rubber out of Jap-occupied Malaya during the war. He ties up with Tracy, enacting the adventurous and tough Carnahan, and the Dutchman (Sidney Greenstreet), proprietor of a bar in a Malayan coastal town. Gambling their odds against those of a crafty Jap commandant, Colonel Tomura, the adventurers contrive to make deals with two rubber growers to buy their hidden stockpiles of rubber. These are run out by a fishing fleet of sampans to waiting camouflaged ships that bring the much-needed rubber to the States. The play hits a snag in the person of a German rubber grower who doublecrosses Royer. Faced with almost certain death at the hands of the Japs, Royer and Carnahan are given a choice of continuing their dangerous mission or fleeing for their lives. Their decision and the ultimate consequences to each of the men make for a story denouement that is as dramatic and suspense-packed as it is logical.

Many Students Are Seeking Employment

Judging from the number of students who have applied for social security cards recently, many students are planning to work during the summer vacation, according to H. M. Cleveland, manager of the Corpus Christi social security office.

Cleveland explained that it is 30 day jail sentence for resisting arrest.

All surrendered their driver's license for a six months period.

Sinton's Plymouth Oilers To Sign Three Top-Notch Pitchers For Season

Sinton—Three top-flight pitchers from the collegiate ranks will join the Plymouth Oilers on or before June 1, it was announced this week by company officials. The three moundsmen are right-handers Norris (Knobby) Graves, the TCU ace, and Texas A & M's Pat Hubert, who last summer compiled a 6-1 record for the Oilers, and Frankie Miller, the University of Texas' promising freshman southpaw from Calallen. The addition of the youthful hurlers will greatly strengthen the Oilers' hill staff.

In addition, James (Buddy) Parker, the Baylor Bears' versatile baseballer, will again join the club, probably during the latter part of this month.

In the meantime, the Oilers resume their feud with the Victoria Rosebuds on Friday night when they travel to Riverside Park for the fourth game of the series. The contest is the only one on the Oilers' slate for this week. Harvey Krause, who last Friday evening hurled a no-hit, no-run masterpiece against the Carta Blanca Brewers of Monterrey, will probably start against the 'Buds.

Next Tuesday, May 16, the Plymouth club will again be at home for a game with the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station Comets. Other games on the Oilers' schedule for this month, to date, include one at the Naval Air Station on May 25, and two here with the strong Shell Oilers of Houston on May 27 and 28.

wise for students to secure their account number cards before applying for a job since most employers require new employees to show their cards when they start to work.

Many students are inclined to give little thought to social security because they regard it as something that will affect them only in the future. This is incorrect, Cleveland stated, since Federal family and retirement insurance is based on each worker's earnings during his working lifetime. Payments may be made to the family of a worker who dies at any age as well as to a retired worker after he reaches age 65.

A student who does not have a social security account number card should secure one now if he plans to work this summer. The cards may be secured either in person or by mail from the Social Security Administration, 424 Taylor Street, Corpus Christi, Texas. The application blanks can be secured from your local post office.

Rotary Challenges Rockport Lions To Softball Game

The Rotary Club is making elaborate preparations to twist the Rockport Lions tail. The teams have announced that bids will be accepted from the local drug stores who wish to furnish liniment and bandages after the game. Further details regarding the battle will be announced at a later date.

light many non-tuberculosis abnormalities, some of these have been heart conditions.

The three present major forms of heart trouble are: rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure and coronary heart disease. Rheumatic heart disease, the most common type of early life, occurs as the result of one or more attacks of rheumatic fever. It is a public health problem for which very little has been done, yet with early diagnosis and proper medical care during the acute and convalescent stages, children who develop rheumatic fever can be largely spared from rheumatic heart disease in later life.

Another major cause of heart trouble is high blood pressure or hypertension. This is the most common heart disease of middle age. There is a great deal that is not known about this disease, but we do know that it is most common in people who are overweight, and that it is associated with long, continuous nervous strain, high tension and constant worry. Treatment of high blood pressure is fairly successful in the majority of cases.

Coronary heart disease is a disease of the arteries which supply the heart muscle itself with blood. A majority of persons survive the first attack, and with good medical care, rest and common sense precautions, may even live a normal life span. Syphilitic heart disease can be prevented by early and adequate care of the systemic disease, a problem which has been simplified by the use of penicillin.

Research in the medical sciences is constantly improving the outlook for the cardiac patient, yet each individual must assume the responsibility for obtaining the benefits of this knowledge from his physician for himself and his family.

Texas' Treaty Oak in Austin, now between 500 and 600 years old, may live for several centuries yet, with proper care.

Non-Writers Welcome To Attend Meet In Corpus Christi

Readers as well as writers are invited to attend the seventh annual Southwest Writers Conference to be held in Corpus Christi June 3-6, according to Mrs. Chas. Lyman, president of the Byliners Club, sponsor of the conference.

There even will be a contest of interest to non-writing members, with a prize for the best "desert island list" of 10 books by living authors of the Southwest. In addition, the conference program provides behind-the-scenes picture of the writing profession and of the publishing world, Mrs. Lyman said.

Deadline for registering for the conference and for entering manuscripts in the 44 contests is May 25. Correspondence should be addressed to Southwest Writers Conference, 406 South Carancahua.

Two types of conference membership are offered. Auditory members may attend all lectures, workshops and other meetings, and enter one or more manuscripts in contest for an entry fee of $12. Contributing members have the above privileges in addition to criticism and appraisal of manuscripts, publishing advice and individual consultation with staff members for a $25 entry fee.

Staff members and consultants will include outstanding writers, editors, book publishers and magazine representatives of the Southwest.

Dr. Donald Day, field editor for Reader's Digest, will be acting director of the conference. Among other magazine editors and representatives scheduled to attend are Lou Henslee and Charleen McClain of Holland's; Dolores Lehr of Farm and Ranch and Southern Agriculturist; Sidney Bulla, Houston Chronicle Rotogravure magazine; Ruel McDaniel, Seafood Business; Paul Heard, Wildlife; and Lon Tinkle, Southwest Review.

Each division of the conference will have outstanding figures in the particular fields. For the poetry division, staff members and consultants will include Fania Kruger, Dr. Robert Rhode, Van Chandler and Cleve Leshkar.

Western writers will include Curtis Bishop and Thelma Knoles; junior literature, Carl Hoff, Virginia May Moffitt and Gena Shepperd; and comics, Charles P. Plumb, originator of the Ella Cinders comic strip.

Novelists who plan to attend include Dr. Rudolph Kieve, Jewel Gibson, Claud Garner, Donald Joseph, George Sessions Perry, Edward F. Murphy and Green Peyton. Non-fiction book authors will include Dr. C. E. Castanea of the University of Texas, Col. James Farber, Beulah Kay Hicks and Mary Toomey Tompkins.

All staff members will be professional writers in their fields, and will be qualified to give valuable advice to beginners, Mrs. Lyman said.

Representatives of book publishing companies will study manuscripts entered in the novel contest. Represented will be Banks Upshaw, Doubleday and Co., Story Book Press, Naylor Co., Random House, Whittlesey House, and University of Texas Press.

Mud Lake Gets "Cleared Up"

County officers got a notice from the government not long ago, asking them to change the name of Mud Lake. Seems it's a pond, not a lake, by government standards.

Because it lies entirely inside our town limits, we asked to do the name-changing ourselves. Figured we'd think up a brand-new name. Mud Lake's really not very muddy—sort of pretty, in fact.

County people said go ahead, so we held a Town Meeting. Everyone suggested something. Windy Taylor thought "Taylor Pond" would be nice, because his place borders it—for about 30 feet! But we finally decided to call it "Turtle Pond" in honor of the real owners.

From where I sit, naming that pond wasn't the most important thing in the world—but the way we did it was. Everyone offered his opinion and then the majority vote decided it. That's the way it should be—whether it concerns naming a pond, or having the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer or ale—if and when we choose.

Department of the Interior, and Dr. Stanley Arbingast, Resources Specialist with the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

All persons in Aransas County who plan to attend this meeting are asked to contact the Rockport Chamber of Commerce so that the Sinton organization can be informed of the number of persons they can expect to attend from here.

ARANSAS REFUGE IS IMPORTANT WINTERING AREA FOR WATERFOWL

The Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, located in Aransas and Refugio Counties on Blackjack Peninsula and containing 47,261 acres, was established December 31, 1937, as one of more than 200 National Wildlife Refuges administered by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Of interest historically as the home of the apparently cannibalistic Carancahua Indians, the peninsula was homesteaded early in the eighteenth century by various European nationals. Homes and townships were established along the San Antonio and St. Charles bays. Agriculture was none too successfully followed for many years and cattle raising became the primary usage.

Established for the production and protection of all forms of wildlife, the Aransas Refuge is an important link in the chain of waterfowl wintering areas along the Gulf Coast. It is the ancestral home and only remaining wintering site used by the almost extinct Whooping Crane. Here, under complete protection and encouragement a flock numbering only 14 in 1940 but increasing to 34 in 1949-50, spend the months from October to April before flying northward to unknown breeding grounds in Canada. Canada, White-fronted and Snow Geese are common residents together with many duck species including Pintail, Gadwall, Baldpate, Mallard and others. Shorebirds, wading birds, including the rare Roseate Spoonbill; songbirds; birds of prey and others bring the total list of birds found on the refuge in various seasons to 300 species.

White-tail deer have flourished and thousands have been live-trapped for re-stocking in Texas and other southern states. The native javelina hog or peccary, wild turkey and bob-white quail together with armadillos, raccoon, skunk, squirrels and occasional red wolf constitute the major upland species. The grazing of cattle is permitted when no conflict with wildlife results. Because of primitive terrain, visitors must not leave shells.

Refuge regulations include the following restrictions, designed to give maximum protection to the wildlife. Your cooperation is appreciated. All visitors will register at refuge headquarters prior to making a tour of the area. Visiting hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. Firearms must be left at headquarters prior to touring the refuge. Maximum speed of 30 miles per hour. Fishing from refuge shores is not permitted. Avoid disturbance of all wildlife. Keep pets in the car. Campfires are not permitted.

Refuge headquarters is located eight miles southeast of Austwell over hard surfaced and shell roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kelly and son have purchased a home in Rockport and will make their home here. Mr. Kelly will return to his former position at Kelly's Grocery. They formerly made their home in Roswell, New Mexico.

Twins born here recently to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Allen, colored, are undergoing treatment at the John Sealy hospital in Galveston. The infant girl is reported to be seriously ill.

roads. For Whooping Cranes: drive south from headquarters one-half mile and follow arrows to the tower. Deer are often seen by continuing southward past the Texas deer-trapping headquarters to the Dagger Point road and return. In season ducks and geese may be seen between headquarters and the trapping camp.

Deer and the general interior country may be seen by driving west from headquarters five miles to the Patrol Station, southward two miles to Spanish Village thence south six miles to the oil field and return. During the months of May to September, inclusive, visitors may continue past the oil field and return to headquarters via the East Shore Road closed during other months to reduce disturbance to the whooping cranes. A side trip may be made westward from Spanish Village to Burgentine Lake and return.

Dark Era For Wildlife Described By Biologist

The dark era for Texas wildlife back in the 1870's and 1880's is described by A. S. Jackson, wildlife biologist for the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, in the May issue of "Texas Game and Fish", soon to be distributed. His article, headed "When Game Was Plentiful," emphasizes that the doom of the once mighty herds was sealed by the advent of repeating rifles, models of 1873 and 1876.

Jackson's research yielded a Henrietta Journal item about a man "living near the Red River killing 278 head of deer in a circumference of ten miles from his house." The San Antonio News on August 31, 1877, told about two brothers, in two weeks time, shooting 67 deer, 219 turkeys (104 in one day), 3 bears, 46 ducks and 30 quail and that they also bagged 275 pounds of wild honey.

A Hardin County newspaper, on July 21, 1878, quoted venison hams at 25 cents each. A Mason County news item carried in the Galveston Daily News on August 24, 1879, reported a man killed more than 100 deer "so far this year." The article continued: "Our woods are alive with deer and other game. We hear of a number of men in this section who are following no other pursuit this year but that of killing deer (because) the skins when dressed bring a fancy price." One month later, a news report stated that a Mason man "made 112 this year from deer pelts."

The Brownsville Cosmopolitan on December 26, 1880, quoted the current price of mallard and teal ducks in the local markets "at a little over four cents each." The same month, the Henrietta Shield stated that "A load of wild turkeys was brought to town last Sunday and sold at fifty cents apiece." But, about the same time, another quotation for turkeys was 25 cents each.

Jackson, in his graphic account of the wanton destruction, continued: "Throughout the newspaper record of game slaughters was found no note sounding the word conservation. Indeed, public opinion seems to have been asleep to what was happening."

Then Jackson concludes: "If one is sickened after reading the entire collection of notes at one sitting, he must be at the same time heartened by the changes which have followed, changes which reflect by contrast, an awareness on the part of news editors to wildlife, values and needs, and an awakened public consciousness."

March Business Activity Surpasses March, 1949

Despite a slight decline from February, Texas business activity in March surpassed year-earlier levels, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

The Bureau's seasonally adjusted composite index stood at 197 (1935-39=100) in March, as compared with 200 in February and 196 in January. In March of last year, the index registered 188.

Four of the seven seasonally adjusted components of the index of business activity decreased from February, while three increased. Crude petroleum production declined 4 per cent; industrial power consumption, 5 per cent; electric power consumption, 8 per cent; and urban building permits adjusted for price change, 16 per cent.

Miscellaneous freight carloadings and crude oil runs to stills rose 4 per cent in March, and retail sales after adjustment for price changes gained 1 per cent.

The big increase in private investment during 1950 is expected to take place in housing which is showing substantial increases over all earlier periods. The Bureau's index of building permits in Texas for the first quarter of 1950 averaged 785 per cent of the 1935-29 base period as compared with 586 in 1948 and 558 in 1949.

Retail sales in Texas averaged 335 per cent of the 1935-39 base period during the first quarter of 1950, exceeding by a large margin the average of 320 for the year 1948 and 318 in 1949. With the exception of sales in jewelry stores, durable goods sales rose during the first quarter of 1950. Automobile dealers continued to sell cars at record rates. Household appliances, furniture, hardware, and building materials moved in large volume.

Manufacturing activity in Texas, as measured by the Bureau's index of electric power consumed by industrial concerns, averaged 272 per cent of the 1935-39 base during the first quarter of 1950, as compared with 294 in 1948 and 302 in 1949. The most significant decline in industrial activity in the State is in petroleum refining. Although crude oil runs to stills increased 3 per cent in March over February, the average for the Bureau's seasonally adjusted index during the first quarter of 1950 was 160, as compared with 180 in 1948 and 165 in 1949.

Court Clears Way For New MoPac Bus Service In Area

The Third Court of Civil Appeals yesterday dissolved a lower court order which had kept the Missouri Pacific Transportation Co. from starting new South Texas bus schedules.

The appellate court said the trial court had erred in granting the temporary injunction requested by the Continental Bus System, Transcontinental Bus System and Union Bus System.

Associate Justice Robert G. Hughes said the opposition bus lines could have filed exceptions to the commission's order allowing Missouri Pacific to initiate new service and the commission would have stayed in order until it considered the exceptions.

Reversal of the trial court apparently cleared the way for Missouri Pacific to start runs between Houston and Corpus Christi, between Corpus Christi, West Columbia and Old Ocean in Brazoria County, and from Bay City to Edna, from Victoria to Port Lavaca, and several other off-routes on the Houston-Corpus Christi run.

barrels of oil on perforations at 7,148-52 feet. There is wide acreage between the outpost and the Fulton Beach Field proper to the west.

Sun Oil Co. proposes to drill four wells in Copano Bay in State Tracts 68, 69 and 73, central to a point approximately 1 1/2 miles north from the northwest shore of Live Oak Peninsula. They also propose to erect a header platform and to lay a system of gathering lines at the same location.

The proposed header platform, 10 by 20 feet, would be located in State Tract No. 68 and would have a deck elevation of 5 feet above mean low water. The gathering lines would be placed two feet below the bed of the bay from the header platform to the location of the applicant's Wells No. 1, 2, and 3 in State Tract 68 and Wells No. 1 and 2 in State Tract No. 69. A 2 1/2 inch pipe line and a 4 1/2 inch pipeline would be placed 2 feet below the bed of the bay from the header platform in an easterly direction to shore at a point approximately 1,200 feet southeast from Fish Point.
