Sixth Crewman Hurt As Plane Falls In Pennsylvania Field

READING, PA. (AP)—Five crewmen were killed and a sixth injured Thursday as a Transcontinental and Western Airlines Constellation training plane caught fire in the air and crashed into an alfalfa field a mile north of the Reading airport.

A man identified at Community General Hospital as Capt. Norman A. Nilsen of Norfolk, Mass., died a short time after he was admitted. Before he died he told hospital attendants six persons had been aboard the plane, on a routine training flight from a base at Reading.

Fire Prevention Inspector Charles Ohlinger, Reading, told newsman four charred bodies remained in the plane which burned for nearly 90 minutes after the crash about 12:40 p. m. (EDT). The sixth occupant, as yet unidentified, was reported in serious condition at Reading hospital.

Burning in Air

M. C. J. Markle, an instructor of the Reading Aviation Service, at the airport, said he saw the plane approaching as though trying to make an emergency landing on the north runway. It was after the time, he said, adding that it suddenly lost altitude and crashed into the field.

The burning plane skidded several hundred yards before coming to a stop atop a hill, leaving a trail of charred alfalfa.

Coming in to Land

"From what we can determine the plane was coming in for a landing and crashed about two miles north of the airport," he said. "The plane burst into flames immediately after crashing. The fire department is there now and hundreds of people are blocking all highways leading to the scene," he reported about noon (CST).

CSOC 1 Parker Made Water And Oil In 'Burger'

By JAMES C. WATSON

Oil Editor

Cities Service Oil Company, and others, No. 1 Parker, Central East County wildcat, in northeast corner of section 20, block 44, TP survey, T-2-S, was slated to make more hole after running a drillstem test at 12,473-529 feet, in the top of the Ellenburger.

Unofficial Marker

The tool was open one hour. Recovery was the 2,000-foot water blanket; 1,200 feet of oil, and 4,210 feet of salty, sulphur water.

Unofficial Marker

Unofficial sources reveal that top of the Ellenburger has been tentatively called at 12,480 feet, on an elevation of 3,117 feet.

E. P. Fawcett and Gosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1-D-C

University, in northwest quarter of section 1, block 35, University survey, Ellenburger wildcat in Penwell shallow field, of Southwest Ector, was making hole under 7,490 feet in lime.

The section is now being called Devonian by many geologists.

Operator representatives have not yet officially reported their name for the current section.

Kent Project Tests

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Moore, Southwest Kent County semi-wildcat, in section 45, block 5, H&G-N survey, and one half mile west of the discovery for Ellenburger production in the Polar field, was at total depth of 7,903 feet, in lime, and was to take a drillstem test.

Unofficial reports that this prospect topped Ellenburger at 7,840 feet, on an elevation of 2,328 feet, have not been confirmed.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B G. H. Cowden, East Crane County prospector, in section 14, block X, CSOC&RGNG survey, was to run a drillstem test to total depth at 9,996 feet, in a lime section.

Another Taking DST

Humble No. 1 R. B. Cowden, in southwest quarter of section 3, block 45, TP survey, T-1-N, Northwest Ector County exploration, about three quarters of a mile south of the discovery for Devonian production.

State Auditor Reports Possible Illegal Payments By Department

AUSTIN (AP)—"Apparently illegal" payments of salaries to certain employees or former employees of the State Department of Agriculture were reported Thursday to the governor, the attorney general, and the legislative audit committee by State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

This brought a prompt rejoinder from an individual named that the auditor's report was misleading and that he "is obviously confused by the reports of the crash, said he believed the plane was being used to train trans-ocean crews.

Russians Favor Unified Reich, Ministers Told

PARIS (AP)—Russia emerged Thursday as the champion of a reunified and self-sufficient Germany on the basis of a policy charting speech Wednesday by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Addressing his colleagues on the Foreign Ministers Council, Molotov flatly opposed the dismemberment or federalization of Germany or reduction of the Reich to an agricultural state.

The speech was the first clear cut expression of the Kremlin's attitude toward Germany since the end of the war.

Some quarters here were inclined to write off the address as a Russian bid for popularity within the Reich, and as a move to strengthen the forces of German Communists.

It was generally conceded that Molotov, in the eyes of the average German, now stood for a Germany governed by Germans, and for the return of a decent standard of living.

French official quarters expressed dismay that the Russian policy of unification was in direct conflict with the French proposal to separate the Ruhr, the Saar and the Rhineland from the remainder of the Reich.

But France's foreign minister and president, Georges Bidault, won a counter-victory at home in the conference backyard.

The French cabinet unanimously voted Monday to uphold his stand on Germany to date, which included a demand for internationalizing the Ruhr and contributed to holding up a unified four-power German policy.

The information ministry said Communist ministers voted for the Bidault motion.

Weather

Scattered clouds and possible thundershowers Friday. Not much change in temperature. Maximum temperature Wednesday was 99 degrees, minimum 72 degrees.

Recording Of Phone Call By May Released

Congressman Protests Production Cutback For Munitions Firm

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new telephone transcription was released at the Senate munitions investigation Thursday, depicting Representative May (D-Ky.) as protesting a production cutback ordered for "a friend of mine."

The transcript was placed before the Senate War Investigation Committee as it sought details from Brig. Gen. Roswell Hardy, wartime chief of the ordnance ammunition division, on the extent of May's activities in behalf of certain munitions makers.

Offered as evidence by Committee Counsel George Meader, it covered a telephone conversation between May and Hardy on May 7, 1945, on a "cutback" in an eight-inch shell contract.

Conversation Recorded

In it, May, chairman of the House Military Committee, was quoted as saying at the outset that he had just seen "a friend of mine"—Henry Garson, one of the promoters of 19 closely-linked corporations now under investigation.

He told Hardy that Garson had informed him of the cutback for the Batavia Metal Products Company's order for shell production, and said "I am not interested in the company, he is a friend of mine."

The Kentucky congressman, who has denied that he profited in any way from his activities on behalf of Garson, then was recorded as having told Hardy:

"Let me assure you of one thing, Mr. Garson wasn't complaining, x x x He is mighty appreciative of what your branch has done for him."

Denies Charge

Hardy, still in uniform, insisted that Army ordnance gave the Garson interests no better treatment than that accorded others.

He denied, in reply to questions by Meader, that the Batavia Metal Products Company had been given a $10,879,203 contract for eight-inch shells "on instructions from Washington."

Hardy testified in similar vein Wednesday, saying he could recall no case in which May interceded to get preferential treatment for companies making up the so-called "paper empire" of an Illinois munitions combine in which Garson was active.

Offers Memoranda

But he said he became convinced influence was being employed on behalf of Batavia Metal Products Company late in the fall of 1944 or early in 1945.

Hardy asserted he would furnish the committee memoranda on which this conclusion was based. He offered first a notation relating to a telephone conversation between May and Maj. Gen. L. H. Campbell, then chief of ordnance, but his testimony was cut short by a committee recess for the day.

Meanwhile, George Meader, chief counsel for the committee, expressed doubt that any action would be taken toward compelling May's appearance as a formal witness. It is probable, Meader told a reporter, that May could not be required to appear, even by congressional action.

Petition Charges Ban Of Georgia Negro Vote

BRUNSWICK, GA. (AP)—A petition charging a statewide conspiracy to ban negroes from voting in Georgia's July 17 Democratic primary election was filed in U. S. District Court Thursday.

The suit was filed by Attorney Rufus Moore of Douglas, Ga., representing voters in four South Georgia counties. He asked that registrars in the four counties be restrained from further disqualification of negroes.

A recent U. S. Supreme Court decision gave negroes the right to vote in the Georgia primary and about 120,000 have registered.

Mihailovic Trial Moving Swiftly Toward Climax

BELGRADE (AP)—The trial of Gen. Draja Mihailovic moved swiftly toward its climax Thursday following the former Yugoslav war minister's final plea for his life, in which he voiced "an absolute hatred for the Germans" and denied charges that he had collaborated with them.

In a four-hour address Wednesday to the war crimes tribunal before which he and 23 co-defendants are on trial, Mihailovic reviewed his career as leader of the Chetniks and asked the court "to be fair in its evaluation of my work."

"I do not say that I made no mistakes but everyone was making mistakes," Mihailovic declared as he pictured for the tribunal the "whirlpool of events and difficulties" with which he was confronted.

The Chetnik chieftain, hailed by the Allied world as the leader of Yugoslav resistance forces in 1941, referred frequently to his notes as he sought to refute the testimony of prosecution witnesses that his men had fought side by side with the Germans against Marshal Tito's Partisans.

He declared that he had "never made an agreement with any enemy," that he had always maintained a hostile attitude toward the Germans and had fought constantly for the Balkan unity of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Albania, Romania, Greece and Hungary.

Cold Front Due In West Texas

By The Associated Press

There is a cold front due in West Texas Thursday.

The U. S. weather bureau reported Thursday that the front which moved into the Panhandle Wednesday is "very weak" and shows little indication of spreading throughout the state. Its only relief will be very slight temperature drop in the Panhandle and South Plains.

Seymour took the lead with 108, followed by Childress and Haskell with 106, and Henrietta and Memphis with 105.

Wednesday night's low was 62 degrees at Muleshoe and Plainview.

Other 100-plus reports for Wednesday were Enclinal and Quanah 103; Bridgeport, Carrizo Springs, Muleshoe and Wichita Falls 102; and Uvalde, Clarendon, Llano and Mission 101; Greenville, San Angelo, Spur, Big Spring and Alice reported 100.

Van Horn had a one-inch rainfall, while showers fell at Crosbyton, Lubbock, Muleshoe, Plainview, Memphis, Miami, Clarendon, Hereford and Midland.

Steelman Asks New Slashes In Federal Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reconversion Director John R. Steelman Thursday demanded new slashes in federal spending and pointed at the Army and Navy as the places to cut deepest.

Economy may be achieved there, Steelman told President Truman and Congress, without hampering operations aimed at fulfilling world obligations, furthering American interests and keeping global peace.

While terming the revival of price control the No. 1 essential in warding off "costly and irrevocable" inflation, the reconversion boss said this action should be coupled with lower government costs, continued high taxes and credit controls, and, if possible, a federal budget surplus.

Less spending by the civilian agencies and postponement of public works would help to halt the flow of government dollars to private hands, Steelman said in his first quarterly report as director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

The armed forces, he said, represented 45 per cent of all proposed outlays in a 1947 budget which was intended to total $35,800,000,000 but which has risen an estimated 10 to 15 per cent to $40,000,000,000 or more.

On the other hand, the civilian agencies—legislative, judicial and executive—will cost "a little more than $2,000,000,000 or six per cent of total expenditures." If major economies are to come, Steelman said, they "must be sought elsewhere."

Man Admits Stealing Checks From Mother

BOSTON (AP)—A 31-year-old South Boston man, who posed as a dutiful son by giving his ailing mother a little financial assistance, confessed, police reported Thursday, to stealing her old age assistance checks.

They said only a small part of the $144 he stole was turned over to her.

Johnny Oeschner's Second Stowaway Admirer Is Sentenced To Term In Corrective Institution

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Oil-rich Johnny Oeschner's second stowaway girl-admirer was headed for a federal corrective institution Thursday.

Theresa Ann Briston, 16, pleaded guilty Wednesday to theft of $2,060 from Mrs. Dorothy Munson of Honolulu aboard the liner Matsania en route from Hawaii to the United States. Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman sentenced her to three years in an institution of the "training type" to be selected by Attorney General Tom Clark.

Theresa came to this country, she said, to be with Johnny after a romance among the palms of Hawaii, where he was stationed with the U. S. Navy.

The Hawaiian romances of the Oakland, Calif., 20-year-old oil heir began when he was followed there by his stowaway pursuer No. 1, Marguerite Human.

Johnny and Marguerite announced their marriage was impending, but territorial authorities said last winter Oeschner wasn't old enough to marry in Hawaii without his parent's consent. His mother packed her lawyer off to Honolulu with instructions to oppose the marriage. Johnny later was quoted by his mother as saying he never wanted to see Marguerite again.

Barkley Presses For Final Vote On Act By Senate Thursday

Additional Touch-Not Provisions Injected Into Price Control Measure By Opponents

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undaunted by open talk of another veto, Democratic Leader Barkley pressed the Senate Thursday for final action on a new OPA bill even if it means working into the night again.

Cheerful despite rapid setbacks in the form of hands-off amendments, covering meats, milk, butter, salad oils and gasoline, the Kentuckian told reporters he still is hopeful of getting a price control revival measure that the President could sign.

"We got a better bill than either the Senate or House passed last time from a conference," Barkley said. "Maybe we can still improve on that this time."

But another Administration House veto rule by the United Nations General Assembly occupied the attention of UN delegates Thursday after Soviet Russia had tried to use the veto Wednesday to bar Canada from security council deliberations on atomic energy.

Demand For Veto Review Occupies Attention Of UN

NEW YORK (AP)—A formal Australian demand for review of the veto rule by the United Nations General Assembly occupied the attention of UN delegates Thursday after Soviet Russia had tried to use the veto Wednesday to bar Canada from security council deliberations on atomic energy.

The Russian move was blocked by a ruling by Council Chairman Francisco Castillo Najera of Mexico, but Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko's grim insistence that he would again seek to veto Canada's attendance spurred a campaign for restriction of the veto power to major questions bearing the most serious, and urgent matters affecting the peace.

Australian Foreign Minister Herbert V. Evatt, who sought to convince Gromyko in heated debate on and off the council floor Wednesday that he could not exclude Canada willy-nilly, led the campaign by formally requesting that the veto rule be listed for discussion by the general assembly in September.

Visibly elated over the success of challenging maneuvers he led to block Gromyko's latest veto attempt, Evatt indulged in a whimsical phrase before the council: "Sufficient to the day is the veto thereof."

The remark prefaced his salutation to Dr. Castillo Najera, who is retiring from the council presidency after Mexico's one-month term in the chair—a month in which the council experienced its stormiest session two weeks ago when Gromyko fired a volley of three vetoes on the Spanish issue.

Newsprint Prices Increased Again

MONTREAL (AP)—The price of newsprint began to jump Thursday and may reach a point 20 per cent higher than Wednesday's rate within the near future.

The Abitibi Power and Paper Company, one of Canada's three largest producers, announced an increase of $6.80 a ton over the previous price of $67 in New York, and other companies are expected to follow suit.

Another increase of about 10 per cent to bring the price to around $80 is looked for in the near future to cover increased labor costs. The $6.80 increase announced by Abitibi was said to cover only the company's loss of the change in the value of the Canadian dollar, effected last Friday.

The newsprint industry says it is determined to avoid such a price sky-rocketing as occurred in the early 1920's when a peak of $120 was reached in the spot market.

However, it feels it can no longer delay a substantial increase over the regulated ceilings in effect during the war.

The way was paved with the death of the CPA and the end of the $67 ceiling which American consumers were permitted to pay. About 77 per cent of Canadian production goes to the United States.

Boy's Condition Not Serious After Stick Pierces Lung Cavity

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP)—A tree limb 1 1/4 inches in diameter pierced the lung cavity six inches when 13-year-old Joseph Bickel, Jr., fell from a swinging cable into a brush-filled ravine in suburban Ingoles Park here Wednesday.

Almost miraculously, said Dr. J. S. Harter, the stick spread the ribs without breaking them as it entered the lung cavity and pushed the lung aside. X-rays failed to disclose even a serious bruise internally, the doctor added.

Dr. Harter, who removed the one-foot long stick, closed the wound and inserted a suction tube to keep the lung expanded until the puncture heals.

The boy was reported resting comfortably at St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday. He explained he fell as he and three other boys were returning from a hike and picnic.

"The others started to pull it out but I told them to let it alone," said Joseph. That probably prevented serious shock, said Dr. Harter.

Tire Output Reaches All-Time High In June

AKRON, OHIO (AP)—The tire industry, which has set itself a 1946 goal of 69,150,000 tires, finished the first half of the year with a total of approximately 32,000,000, a survey of major firms shows.

Tire production hit an all-time high in June, the Civilian Production Administration estimating it at 5,800,000, up 200,000 from May in 1941, the best pre-war year, the monthly average was 4,200,000.

Bad Bargain

The right to veto, says Trygve Lie, is "the price ... which the United Nations paid for big power collaboration. In return, the nations of the world expected and demanded one thing from the Big Five: they required that the big powers would seek and find agreement among themselves."

Well, the nations of the world didn't get their money's worth. They didn't get collaboration or agreement among the great powers. They were even cheated out of an unofficial guarantee that the veto would not be used "willfully to obstruct" the Security Council's operations, and that it would be employed only in a crisis where approval of the Council's majority wishes might lead to war.

Instead, they have seen the Russian Security Council representative, Gromyko, veto the potentially powerful, peace-protecting council into a state of virtual impotence. Russia, instead of saving the veto for a crisis, has exercised that right five times in six months, and has threatened its use on two other occasions.

The climax came, of course, when Gromyko used the veto three times in the stormy council session which ended in disagreement and an indefinite recess. Gromyko, ostensibly protesting majority proposals for action in the Spanish question, actually did more. He vetoed once more the idea of majority rule. He vetoed away any semblance of authority in the almost powerless General Assembly. He even insisted on the right to veto the question of whether matters before the council are subject to veto.

What next? Guillermo Belt, Cuba's representative in the UN Assembly, has said that he will try to call a conference of all UN members in an effort to eliminate the veto power. It was inevitable that one of the smaller nations would make this proposal sooner or later. And it is probably just as well that Gromyko's abuse of his veto power has forced the showdown early in the second year of the UN's existence.

It seems unlikely that Belt will get very far with his idea. At least one might guess, from Russian policy in the past year, that the USSR might walk out of the United Nations rather than give up this right.

But suppose this highly desirable miracle should take place. Would it solve everything? The chances do not seem very hopeful. We need only look at the recurrent and largely unproductive meetings of the Big Four foreign ministers to see that serious disagreements would not be eliminated. Molotov can be just as adamant without a veto as can Gromyko with that weapon in his pocket.

For whatever the rules, it seems that big-power agreement is the only hope, however it may be achieved. The situations in the Security Council and the Big Four meetings are identical in essence. And the only visible solution lies in the long and painful process of attrition by which some minor differences among the foreign ministers have already been adjusted.

In the meantime, we might end this editorial on a note of "cautious optimism," according to the current custom in discussing international relations. Gromyko, be it noted, has leased for a year the palatial Long Island house and elegantly manicured grounds of the late, Republican, anti-Russian Ogden Mills. That isn't the typical behavior of a man who is expecting his walking papers.

Some Record

The oil industry has made a remarkable record, so remarkable in fact that the public does not realize it. Almost the day the war ended it switched to civilian production and the automobile owner could drive up and say "Fill her up," as in the past. It has had its troubles over equipment, prices, and labor, not to mention the OPA, but it has kept right on serving the public.

Oil production is a continuous, longterm operation involving geological and geophysical exploration, acquisition of leasehold, drilling of wildcat wells, and development of proven fields.

About the only thing the public has to fear to interrupt its oil supplies is any important change in the national policy which would cause a disruption of this continuity, and above all which would cause a serious diminution in the exploratory effort. That would have most serious consequences for our security in the unhappy event of another emergency. It was the fact of our having in times of peace developed a strong, vigorous, healthy oil industry that enabled us to supply the oil needed for the last war. If, as a result of any unwise change in national policy, the oil industry should be allowed to languish and deteriorate, the consequences to our security would be serious indeed, not to mention our personal domestic life.

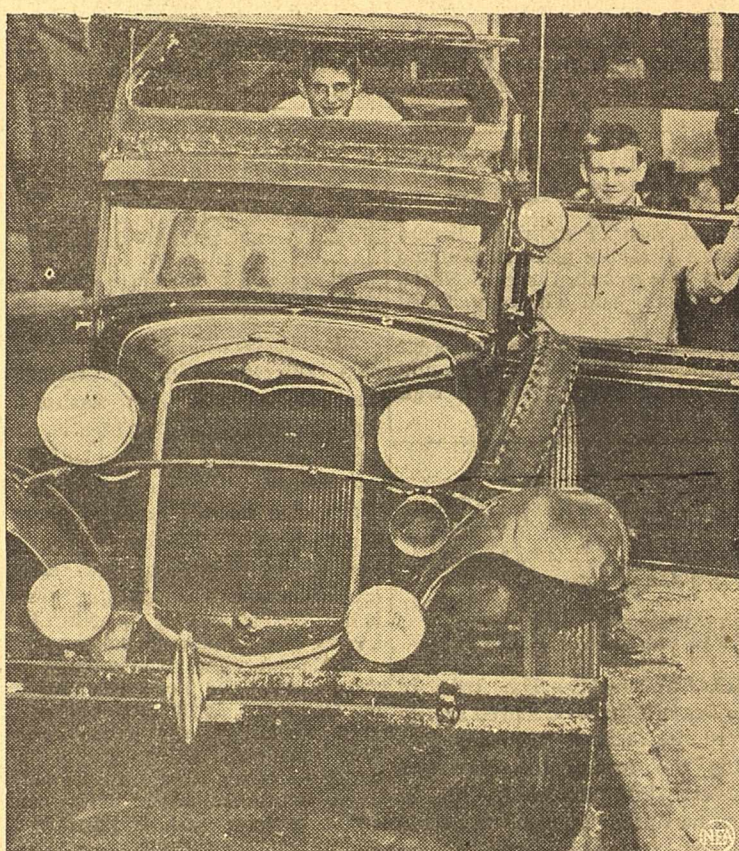

New oil fields cannot be delivered on short notice in case of emergency no matter how much money the country is willing to spend.

Many Texas Workers Placed In Jobs Under Newly Devised Plan

EL PASO.—Several hundred Texas workers have been placed on jobs under a newly inaugurated USES program, Fred C. Wendt, district supervisor, reported Thursday.

The new regional clearance program is operated to assist employers who need special types of workers not available at close range as well as to benefit communities having high unemployment units.

The plan involves shifting of unemployed workers in labor surplus areas into localities where employers indicate need for their skills. Each USES office in the El Paso district is integrated with all others in the region, which includes Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico, to provide a maximum amount of information on labor supplies and demands.

The Midland area is always given first attention in the placement programs as the process of matching workers and jobs locally is the primary aim of USES offices.

Following are examples of some of the clearance openings now listed with the Midland office of the USES in various parts of the region:

Stitcher machine operator wanted at Amarillo, to operate Landis No. 3 on heavy material.

Airplane mechanic wanted at Levelland (CAA and A & E license).

Linotype operator wanted at Lubbock.

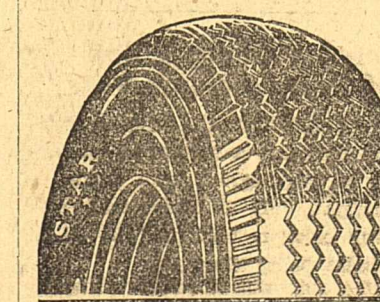

Aeronautical engineers wanted at Fort Worth.

Three Comptometer and three key punch operators wanted with a major oil company at Houston.

One hundred tons of bituminous coal will furnish 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas which will operate 625 gas burning household refrigerators for one month.

GROCER SUCCEEDS IN SELLING NON-BUYING

CENTRALIA, ILL.—(AP)—Grocer John Stedelin posted this sign on his stock of butter, priced at 80 cents a pound:

"Butter raised 14 cents—don't buy."
"We can all help by refusing to buy high-priced items. Butter should be a 'don't buy' item."

Wednesday Stedelin reported happily, "We didn't sell a stick of butter."

There is enough bituminous coal in the United States to cover an area the size of the state of Ohio to a depth of 45 feet.

Lively Styles For Teen-Age

Talented teen-agers in schools of fashion design are turning out patterns to encourage their youthful contemporaries to sew their own duds. Typical example is the whirl-skirted play dress, left, that bares one shoulder and has contrasting color bands at waist and hem. Right, a starchily white paneled pique front, which buttons on at the shoulders, dresses up the full-skirted play frock with its polka-dotted stripes.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. ### Mrs. Nettie Messick Gives Helpful Hints For Canning Peaches

In selecting peaches for canning or other methods of preservation, color and texture are sometimes misleading, for the best tasting peaches ripen from the seed out, reported Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent.

Ripe peaches should be canned as soon as possible after picking. If they must be kept for several days, put them in cold storage at 36 to 40 degrees F.

A standard bushel of peaches weighs 48 pounds and should yield 30 No. 2 cans or pint jars, or 15 No. 3 cans or quart jars. Three pounds of sugar, if a light syrup is used, is sufficient to sweeten one bushel of peaches. For making a light syrup add three cups of water to one cup sugar.

Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for all or part of the sugar. One cup of sugar and two cups of corn syrup to six cups of water makes a desirable thin syrup. Brown sugar or syrups that have strong flavor are not desirable for canning. Honey may be used to replace a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup.

Mrs. Messick said, "Never use saccharin in canning as heat makes it bitter. If used at all, add when fruit is served. A physician should be consulted before using saccharin as too much may be harmful."

Rotary Committees For 1946 Announced At Club's Meeting

Midland Rotary Club committees for 1946 were announced at the club's regular meeting Thursday noon in the Scharbauer Hotel by Dick Prather, new president.

The club's financial report was presented by Dan H. Griffith, secretary-treasurer, and Fred Wemple, a past president and past district governor, reported on the recent Rotary International convention in Atlantic City. Wemple was delegate from the Midland club.

"Rotary International doesn't know its strength," Wemple commented after telling of the work of the convention.

Herb Cheshire was in charge of the program.

The Midland club now has 86 members. Prather and Griffith will attend the annual Rotary Assembly in Childress Monday. Other Midland Rotarians are invited to attend the sessions.

Other new officers of the club are Guy Breneman, vice president; and Cheshire, Addison Wadley, Glenn Mershon and William L. Kerr, directors.

Committee Heads
Floyd Bales is chairman of the club service committee; R. L. Miller, chairman of the vocational service committee; Delbert Downing heads the community service group; and Tom Sealy is chairman of the international service committee.

Downing will be in charge of programs during August, September and October. Cheshire heads the attendance committee; Mershon fellowship; Kerr classification; Percy Bridgewater membership; Ily Pratt Rotary information; James N. Allison public information; Hilton Kad-erli, magazine.

Other committee chairman include Harry Gossett, veterans' activities; Barnes Milam, youth service; Bill Martin, Boy Scouts; T.

LITTLE CHARMERS

Little charmers curtsy to fashion in lady-like summer cotton dresses. Left, the full skirt of pink-checked gingham with its ruffled, ric-rac trimmed suspenders is topped by a solid colored bodice. Frilly blouse is white cotton. Center, striped chambray ruffles over the shoulders give a pinafore look to this blue chambray with its full skirt and slightly gathered bodice. Right, linen-like fabric, sun fast and washable, makes a pretty yellow jumper. The blouse is banded with cross-stitching.

Thomas Elected Concert-Lecture Group President

Leonard C. Thomas was elected president of the Concert-Lecture Association at a meeting of members Wednesday night in the county courtroom of the courthouse. The association recently was formed to provide the city with a civic arts program.

Frank C. Ashby was named vice-president, and Mrs. George Turner was elected secretary. Roy McKee was elected treasurer. Members of the board of directors are Mrs. Gland Kargl, Wendell Sanford, Mrs. Fred Fuhrman, Mrs. Alma Thomas and Winston Hull.

The elected officers will draw up a constitution and by-laws to be voted on by members. Additional memberships in the organization will be accepted, the group decided, but membership is to be closed by the board soon. Persons who have purchased dual tickets are to be permitted to obtain single memberships.

M. C. Turner, Jr., of Dallas presented a list of programs available for the fall and winter season. The list will be mailed to members for voting, and selections are to be returned by July 24 when the seasonal program will be booked. Tickets will be mailed to the members at the time the lists are sent out.

Certificates Awarded To 54 Foodhandlers At Close Of School

Certificates were awarded 54 employees of eating and drinking establishments at the close of a three-day food handlers school in the City-County Auditorium Thursday morning. The employees now are eligible for permanent foodhandlers licenses required by city ordinance.

M. Graham Smoot, acting director of the City-County Health Unit and instructor in the school, said a similar course will be conducted in a few weeks. Persons who failed to obtain certificates and new employees of the establishments are urged to attend.

New workers in eating and drinking establishments are urged by Smoot to register at the health unit and obtain temporary licenses.

Army Unable To Keep Up With Marrying GI's In Transporting Dependents From Europe To U. S.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Army's program of bringing European war brides and children to America, originally scheduled to end in June, has been extended through December and probably will be extended further if GI's continue to trip to the altar in far off lands.

The New York Port of Embarkation said this week that more than 12,000 brides in the European and Mediterranean theaters had been certified and were awaiting passage to the U. S. Approximately 40,000 brides already have been brought to this country. The list will be increased with new marriages and with certification of girls already married to soldiers who delayed bringing them here because of the housing shortage.

On the opposite side of the ledger, the wives and children of American soldiers stationed overseas are leaving America in a slow trickle compared to the rush of foreign brides here. Of some 30,000 eligible to go to Europe, only 400 wives and 2,500 children—a total of 3,900—have sailed from New York to Europe to date. Army officials say there has been no delay in this program, that all demands have been met.

duction in the North Goldsmith area, was at total depth of 7,982 feet, in lime and chert taking a drillstem test.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-E-A TXL, West Ector County discovery for production from the Clear Fork-Permian, and located one and one-quarter miles southeast of nearest production in the TXL field, has completed for a 24-hour flowing production of 138.22 barrels of pipe line oil.

It is located at center of northwest quarter of northwest quarter of section 39, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S. The project drilled to total depth of 11,536 feet, and found the Devonian, Silurian and Ellenburger barren. It plugged back to 5,835 feet and completed through perforations above that point.

T. W. and J. M. Luffland, Jr., of Fort Worth, have filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas to drill their No. 1 Vernon B. Cox, in South-Central Crockett County to a possible depth of 9,000 feet, starting at once.

Might Test Ellenburger

These operators filed an application on this prospect in August 1945. At that time they planned to drill it to 1,500 feet.

It was started, and made some hole. Location is 1,980 feet from south and 690 feet from west lines of section 40, block ST. E. Foster survey, and 25 miles west-southwest of Ozona. If it goes to 9,000 feet it should encounter Ellenburger.

Bennett and Sorrels No. 1 Sanders, Tom Green County wildcat, 11 miles northwest of San Angelo, had reached 4,370 feet, in Canyon lime, topped at 4,030 feet, and was drilling ahead. On that marker it is 1,991 feet below sea level.

Still Making Hole

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 Roberts, Southeast Reeves County wildcat, 13 miles northeast of Balmorhea, had progressed past 12,103 feet, in hard sand and was continuing.

LARGE CITRUS CROPS DUE

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Large citrus crops for the 1946-47 season were predicted Wednesday by the Agriculture Department with the orange condition on July 1 at 80 per cent against 69 per cent in 1945. Orchards in Texas are starting the summer period in good condition, the department said.

ORDER STILL IN EFFECT

AMARILLO—(AP)—The off-limits order prohibiting servicemen from downtown Amarillo at night is still in effect.

No recent drillstem tests have been reported by the operator.

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Sealy-Smith, Southeast Winkler County wildcat, was making hole below 4,263 feet, in San Andres lime. There was an odor of oil, and good porosity, at 4,040 feet and sulphur water, with some dead oil, was encountered at 4,140 feet.

Court Convicts 33 SS Men For Bulge Atrocities

DACHAU, GERMANY — (AP) — Seventy-three Waffen SS veterans, including three generals, were found guilty by an American military court Thursday of the slaughter of 900 American war prisoners and Belgian civilians in the Battle of the Bulge.

The president of the court, speaking after an hour's deliberation, announced all 73 defendants were "found guilty of the particulars and charges."

The defendants included Gen. Josef (Sepp) Dietrich, commander of the 6th Panzer Army and survivor of Hitler's original beer hall putsch in nearby Munich; Lt. Gen. Hermann Priess, commander of the 1st SS Panzer Corps; Brig. Gen. Fritz Kraemer, chief of staff of the 6th Panzer Army.

The burden of prosecution evidence was directed against Col. Joachim Peiper, daredevil commander of "Task Force Peiper," whose men participated in the massacre of unarmed American prisoners at Malmédy.

Investigation Is Started In Death Of Dallas Lawyer

DALLAS — (AP) — Formal investigation began Thursday in the death of Will R. Allen, 48, wealthy retired Dallas attorney, whose badly decomposed body was found Wednesday night in a ransacked bedroom of his home here.

Justice of Peace W. L. Sterrett ordered an autopsy Thursday morning and withheld his inquest verdict pending a report. He said the condition of the body, enclosed for a month in the locked house, made it impossible to determine if there was any sign of violence.

The body was found by Assistant District Attorney Robert B. Allen, a cousin. Allen said he became alarmed by the continued absence of the retired bachelor, and decided to investigate. Allen said he found the pajama clad body in one of the beds.

Sterrett placed the time of death at about June 3. Police said the last newspaper that had been opened in the house was dated June 3. Mail had accumulated since that date also.

Detective Chief Will Fritz said burglary appeared to have been committed after the man's death. Every room of the residence had been ransacked. All drawers were open, the closets had been searched, and the man's clothing found beside his bed had been gone through, Fritz said.

Change In American Airlines East-West Route Is Proposed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Establishment of direct air service between Waco, Texas, and the east will be brought before the Civil Aeronautics Board, Rep. Poage (D-Texas) said.

Poage said the deed for direct air service for Waco with the East was so great that he proposes a change in routes of trans-continental flights of American Airlines and an extension of the Pennsylvania Central Airlines westward to Waco.

The American Airlines proposal would alter the flights which now go from Memphis, Tenn., via Little Rock, Ark., Fort Worth and Dallas, Big Spring and Midland to go from Memphis to the west via Shreveport, La., Waco, and San Angelo.

American Airlines does not have a stop in Midland, but has applied to the CAB for inclusion of Midland on its east-west route.

Two Men Held In Slaying Of Texan

LILLINGTON, N. C. — (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Ken Matthews said Wednesday night that Roy Roberts and Worth Weaver, both of Coats, N. C., were confined in the Harnett County jail without bond in connection with the knife slaying of Pvt. Roy L. King of Longview, Texas.

King, stationed at Fort Bragg, died at the post hospital Sunday of knife wounds received in a road-house near Coats.

Candidates Making Strong Bids For Votes Of Farm And Old-Age Classes

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff

With only 14 more campaigning days until election, Texas candidates are making strong bids for two of the most coveted voting blocs of the state—the farm vote and the old-age vote.

Grover Sellers says the first objective of the next Texas legislature should be to provide funds for immediate and sustained payment to the aged of "the full $40 monthly due them under constitutional mandate of the people."

"Texas has the money and the duty," Sellers said in a speech prepared for delivery at Hearne Thursday, "to provide those in the twilight of life with funds ordered for them by a vast majority of the people."

"The farmer is the displaced person in Texas today," Beauford Jester said in Sherman. He called on Texans to create a farmers' income equal to industrial incomes.

Improvement of crop qualities and per-acre field yield, together with creation of new industries through application of chemistry to farm products, were the methods he suggested to boost farm incomes.

Rayney Hits "Division"
"The financial interests want Texas to remain a colony of the north and east," Homer P. Rayney told Sweetwater voters.

"We have the greatest storehouse of natural resources of any place in the world," he said, "but a recent Department of Commerce report showed that more than 80 per cent of Texas' citizens earn less than $1,600 a year, which the government considers the minimum for a decent standard of living."

Jerry Sadler told Victoria citizens "I had rather tax the mouths of oil, gas and sulphur wells than tax the mouths of people."

In Dallas, John Lee Smith warned voters against Communists, FEPC, CIO and PAC.

Share the Wheat to save the world!

It's as simple as that.

Wheat, wheat, America's wheat, is the white hope of the world.

Wheat—because no other food is such a vital source of basic strength and sustenance. Wheat—because, of all bread-stuffs, it can best be transported and put to immediate use in famine countries.

What can you do?

Buy less flour at a time. Emergency flour may not keep as well as white flour. So buy in small quantities, store in a covered container in a cool, dry place.

Save and use every scrap of bread. Bread is the basic food of every American meal. No one is asking you to give it up. But—just for the emergency—try to figure out ways to make the supply go further. Eat ALL the crusts. Use leftovers in nourishing puddings, soup croutons. Count your bread precious—don't waste it.

Try other foods! Wheat and fats are needed to feed a starving world. If everyone in your house will save a teaspoon of fat, a couple of slices of bread every day in weeks to come, you'll help to save the world.

Right now is the emergency. Right now is the time to ration yourself on WHEAT.

3 ways to share a meal and save a life!

1. Share wheat and fat products

Go light on all foods that take wheat, fats and oils. Conserve breads, macaroni, cakes, cookies, pastries and deep-fried foods. Use drippings for pan-frying. Conserve salad oil—use boiled dressings instead.

2. Buy and serve more plentiful foods

Balance diets with the more plentiful foods such as potatoes, fruits and vegetables, eggs, fresh poultry and fish.

3. Waste NO food

Dress up today's leftovers for tomorrow. Make every crust count, as melba toast, crumb-toppings, bread puddings and stuffings. Take no more than you can eat. Clean your plate. Turn in every drop of unusable fat to the fat salvage program.

In addition, you can help by keeping your Victory Garden producing, and by contributing to your local emergency food collections.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JULY 11, 1946

Midland Girls Lose Tough Game To McCamey Team 9-8

By TANNER LAINE
Lady Luck Wednesday night frowned at Midland's All-Star girls softball team and they dropped a close 9-8 decision to McCamey.

Lucy Simmons, Midland twirler, struck out 12 McCamey batters, but Pate's fickle finger crooked at Lucy and although she struck out two in the extra inning of play, she erred and the winning run came in.

McCamey got two runs in the first inning on two Midland errors and one hit by Pauline Powell, right fielder. The visitors were scoreless in the second and third, then rapped out three hits in the fourth and got two runs. They added one in the fifth. Three up and three down in the sixth, the visitors got three runs in the seventh and the winning tally in the eighth.

The Midland team was scoreless in the first, got three runs in the second with hits by Jones and Williams helping. The team went scoreless in the third and fourth but in the fifth inning got four runs to go ahead. Hits by Dale, Ware (homer), and Armstead helped. Without a run in the sixth, the Midland girls got one in the seventh but couldn't find one in the eighth, when it was sorely needed.

First McCamey led 2-0, then Midland was ahead 3-2, then McCamey again 5-3, then Midland 7 to 5. McCamey edged ahead 8 to 7 in the 7th but Midland got one and it was tied going into extra inning play, at 8-all.

Cardinals Seem Ready To Start Stretch Drive

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals, owners of more pennants and first division finishes than any other club in the National League during the past 20 years, appear ready to start another of their famous stretch drives as the second half of the major league season begins Thursday.

Trailing the crippled Brooklyn Dodgers by five games, the runner-up Red Birds enter the crucial stage of the flag race boasting a five-game winning streak.

The New York Giants grapple with Manager Eddie Dyer's challenging crew under the arcs Thursday night while the Dodgers, hampered by the loss of Pee Wee Reese, tangle with the defending champion Chicago Cubs in the Windy City.

Dodger Plight Dark
The Cards, who have won eight pennants and wound up 17 times in the first division since 1925, have come from behind after trailing in July to win four of their pennants during the late stages of the campaigns.

The plight of the Dodgers is dark for in addition to Reese, who is not counted on for the Chicago or St. Louis series, the status of Pete Reiser is in doubt.

Reiser, who along with Reese and Dixie Walker has been highly responsible for the Dodgers' present berth, is troubled with a shoulder separation.

The American League spotlight will be focused on the Yankee Stadium where Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians and Spud Chandler of the second place New York Yankees are slated to oppose each other in a night contest.

Bilbo Seeks Halt To Balloting By Negroes

JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—As a step to prohibit negroes from voting in the 1947 gubernatorial primary, Sen. Theo G. Bilbo has announced he will "go all out in advocating an extraordinary session of the Mississippi legislature."

Bilbo has announced that the reason for the session will be to "repel all Democratic primary election laws."

The senator's headquarters has said that delegations of Bilbo supporters from every county in the state are expected to be on hand for a gigantic "celebration" of his nomination to a third term.

NEW YORK —(AP)—The moans about the $100 price for the recent Joe Louis-Billy Conn waltz apparently didn't disturb your Uncle Mike Jacobs one bit. . . . The $300 top he set Wednesday for Louis vs. Tami Mauriello is just as big an over-charge, considering the records and what you can expect. . . . Tami is the best opponent available for Louis if there has to be a September fight. He can hit fairly hard (51 knockouts in 77 fights) and never has been flattened, but he never had to take the kind of punches that Joe dishes out. . . . Mauriello runs a tavern in the Bronx (and his weight trouble comes from eating there, too). . . . Louis is about to open a restaurant in Harlem. . . . Why not have them meet in neutral territory—say the back room of Tony Galento's New Jersey filling station?

One Convict Killed, 24 Others Are Recaptured After Prison Farm Break

HOUSTON —(AP)—Twenty-four of the 25 convicts who made a desperate break for freedom Wednesday at Harlem Prison Farm No. 2 were back in confinement. The 25th convict was dead.

Walter Elliott, 24, serving a nine-year term from Cherokee County for robbery by assault, was killed by a single shot from a guard's rifle as he fled in a stolen car.

The car, occupied by four other fugitives, went out of control and the others were captured.

A few minutes before, the fugitives' car crashed through a group of highway laborers, injuring one.

In the convicts' car, beside Elliott, were Ralph Anglin, serving five years for robbery from Dallas County; Ralph Field, five years for theft from Harris County; Charles Belner, two years for theft from El Paso; and Harry L. Buchies, two years from El Paso for burglary.

Capt. M. H. Thomas, the farm's assistant manager, said the break began when 25 convicts in one cell block sawed out bars and improvised a key to the door. Eight of them managed to slip through the front door before being seen.

The fleeing convicts were sighted by J. A. Morgan, farm prison guard. He sent a burst of gunfire at the door and drove the rest of the felons back.

Two of the eight who slipped through the door were recaptured under some blankets being aired outside the prison building. They were Kenneth Aughton, 20, serving two years for burglary from Tarrant and Wichita counties, and Joe Atkins, six years for burglary from Harris County.

Allen J. Forbes, serving five years for theft from Dallas and Kaufman counties, was apprehended in the yard.

Meanwhile, the remaining five convicts jumped into a prison guard's car and raced toward Richmond. Close behind them were two guards, one of them Steward Rader.

It was the single shot from Rader's rifle which ended the chase near Richmond.

After the last of the felons was rounded up, Capt. Thomas immediately instituted a probe.

Rainey Attacks Rumor Mongers In Speech Here

"This campaign has become the most vicious, the dirtiest, the most malicious in memory," Dr. Homer P. Rainey, candidate for governor, told a crowd assembled on the courthouse lawn in Midland Thursday morning. "The interests fighting me have worked day and night against me."

The former University of Texas president declared that he had been warned that if he entered the campaign he would be the subject of malicious whispers, misrepresentations, slanders and lies.

"But," he declared, "these slander-mongers and their masters, who do not believe in democracy—these men who fear democracy—have made a great mistake. They have underrated the intelligence of the voters of Texas. The people have recognized these slanders for what they are."

Rainey was taking cognizance of the name-calling injected into the campaigns of many other gubernatorial candidates. He has been the subject for most of the attacks.

The candidate declared he resented the "dragging of the University of Texas into the campaign," and cited several records of the University of which Texans might well be proud.

"Texas is Shackled"

"Texas," he said in his speech which also was broadcast, "is a mighty giant, shackled by monopolies. Too long has Texas been controlled and dominated by great corporations, most of them owned outside the state."

He called upon the voters to ensure their leadership was the best to enable the state to break the stranglehold before it is too late.

The candidate, first to make a political talk in Midland during the present campaign, devoted most of his speech to condemning the "sordid, malicious and misrepresentative" charges of his opponents and that what he termed "the interests fighting Rainey." He called no names.

He declared that he had run his campaign on the basis of issues, not of slander, feeling that the people of Texas wanted to know facts rather than charges.

Rainey was scheduled to speak at Odessa Thursday morning, at Lamesa in the afternoon, and at Brownfield Thursday night. He was accompanied by Jim Lindsay, newspaperman, who is serving as his public relations assistant.

Troops On Guard As Mexican Vote Count Is Started

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—Federal troops stood guard Thursday as counting juntas in each of Mexico's 148 congressional districts began the official tabulation of votes cast in last Sunday's presidential election.

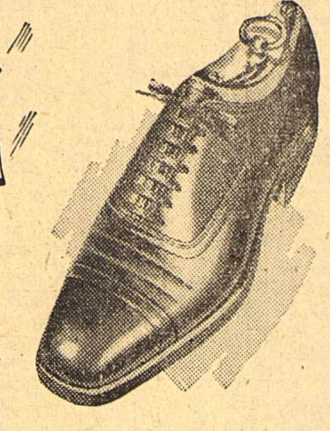

Streets leading to each counting place were roped off and the only persons permitted to enter were election officials, a representative of each candidate, newsmen and photographers. After the votes are tabulated the boxes will be sealed and handed over to the army for delivery in September to congress, which will declare the winners.

Unofficial returns compiled by the government Party (PRA) indicated a sweeping victory for its candidate, Miguel Aleman. Former Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla, candidate of the Mexican democratic party, continued, however, to predict that the final count would show him in the lead.

Also at stake in the election was the composition of both houses of Congress, in which the PRI now has heavy majorities. The new president will take office at the end of the year.

United States On Way To Sixth Bumper Harvest Crop In Row

WASHINGTON —(AP)—This country is well on the way toward its sixth consecutive bumper harvest. In fact, the Agriculture Department in its latest monthly crop report said the current outlook for total farm production has seldom been surpassed.

The report issued Wednesday said conditions prevailing July 1 indicated a record corn crop, near-record crops of wheat, oats, potatoes and rice, and large crops of vegetables and most fruits.

The outlook on grains was particularly gratifying to food officials.

because supplies have been largely depleted in meeting foreign relief demands and in feeding a near-record livestock population.

If the grain crops turn out as now indicated, the nation will be in a position to carry out its commitment to send 250,000,000 bushels of wheat to shortage areas during the next 12 months and still maintain production of livestock products—meats, milk, eggs and poultry—at levels near those of the past year.

Need Stressed
The fact that there will be need for all that can be produced was emphasized anew by Chairman Chester C. Davis of President Truman's famine emergency committee.

In a statement issued Thursday, Davis said the United States will meet its goal for cereal exports from the 1945 crop. But he emphasized that there should be no feeling that the world food crisis is over. He said exports must continue on a large scale at least through September to hold the famine-prevention gains already made.

Foreign demands upon this country after September will depend very largely, he said, upon harvests in shortage areas. He added, however, that exports of grain and other foods undoubtedly will be required during the 12 months beginning October 1, although probably not in the volume of the past year.

Corn
While the corn crop—the key material in the production of livestock products—may be the largest ever harvested, it is unlikely, officials said, that supplies will be sufficient to allow any material increase in its use in making whiskey.

The crops outlook was not without its dark spots. The production of oilseeds—soybeans, peanuts and flaxseed—will be below wartime levels and elbow demands. Margarine, shortening, salad oils and paints are principal products made from the oilseeds.

Likewise, the rye and barely crops may be the smallest since the droughts of the 30s.

On the brighter side was a forecast that the domestic sugar crop may be 25 per cent larger than last year's abnormally small crop. This increase does not mean, however, that rationing can be abandoned this year. The United States depends upon imports for about two-thirds of its sugar supply, and world production is still far short of demands.

The report said farmers are maintaining the production of milk and eggs at near record levels. Favorable pastures and ranges are contributing to the high level of milk production.

Crawford Ties Druggists 12-12

Time caught up with Midland Drug girls softball team Wednesday night and the team was tied 12-all by Crawford Hotel.

This was the first blemish on the league record of Mattabel Downing's lassies.

Crawford has been threatening Midland Drug all summer and this was the time. Beasley, who has decided to stay with Crawford, pitched for them. Rosie Hart tossed for M-D.

The Druggists were steady. They scored in every inning but the first. They got two runs in seventh inning to gain the tie.

Crawford went scoreless in the first two innings and then punched runs of two in the third, three in the fourth and fifth, and four in the sixth, none in the last.

Hart hit a home run for Midland Drug.

Coptics May Break With Egyptian Primate

CAIRO —(P)— Leaders of Ethiopia's 4,500,000 Coptic Christians are threatening to sever their affiliation with Egypt's Patriarch of Alexandria in a dispute over appointment of bishops.

The Patriarch agreed to appoint an Ethiopian as the next Metropolitan of Ethiopia and also to consecrate six more Ethiopian bishops.

But the Ethiopians want their next Metropolitan to have the power to appoint and consecrate his own Ethiopian bishops. To this the Patriarch would not agree.

Iced Juices Drain Summer Heat

Delicious cooling beverage—Iced tea with grape juice.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Canned or bottled fruit juices take the heat out of summer days. Keep them chilled in your refrigerator, ready to serve plain or combined. The addition of fresh berries, mint, lemon juice, or even sherbets or ice cream gives extra interest and flavor—and more heat-combating vitamins.

The combination of 2 quarts tomato juice and 1 part unsweetened grapefruit juice makes a refreshing, healthful cooler.

Concord Party Punch
(Makes 24 small glasses)

One quart grape juice, 1/3 cup lemon juice, 1 pint orange juice, 2/3 cup white corn syrup, block of ice, 4 (12-ounce) bottles ginger ale. Combine grape juice with other fruit juices and corn syrup, blending well. Pour over block of ice in large punch bowl. Just before serving add ginger ale, stirring to mix.

Golden Soda

For each soda, combine 2/3 cup chilled blended orange and grapefruit juice with 1/3 cup chilled ginger ale in a tall glass. Add a large scoop of vanilla ice cream and 2 straws, and you have a treat in any weather.

Warm Weather Tea
(Serves 6)

Three cups boiling water, 2 tea-spoons tea leaves, juice of 2 lemons, 1 pint grape juice, 4 tea-spoons sugar. Pour boiling water over tea leaves; cover closely and allow to stand 5 minutes. Strain. Add sugar, lemon juice, and grape juice. Chill thoroughly. Pour into tall glasses over ice.

English Constables Debunking Writers Of Mystery Fiction

BRIGHTON, ENGLAND —(P)— The plodding British cop-on-the-beat who has been the butt of detective story writers since the days of Sherlock Holmes—wants no more of it.

He's tired of being depicted as the lackwit who stumbles over clues while Lord Peter Wimsey or some other talented amateur solves the mystery and collars the culprit between tea and dinner.

He has chosen this jubilee year of the Chief Constables' Association to open an exhibition showing that the "bobby" is no slouch himself in bloodstains, fingerprints and high-power detection generally.

It's a sort of Black Museum, full of actual murder weapons, truncheons, tipstaves, handcuffs, gruesome photographs, grade-A certified clues—and records of one conviction after another.

"It should be of enormous interest to the public who seem to delight in reading about crime and criminals," said Home Secretary Clutter Ede, in opening the exhibition.

"Those who profess to make a special study of crime," he added, "mainly detective story writers, are apt with great consistency to fall into major errors when they come to describe how the police actually do their work.

"I hope that some of them will come to this exhibition and learn what to avoid."

FISHERMAN GETS BIRDIE

SINCLAIR, WYO. —(P)— Whipping his line back while casting for trout, B. A. Fredericks hooked and landed—or maybe he was grounded—a nighthawk. The bird nabbed the artificial fly and was hooked firmly but was able to fly away after Fredericks reeled it in and removed the hook.

Don't Fondle Fawns; Mothers Know Best

CASPER, WYO. —(P)— "Please don't" is the Wyoming Game Department's plea to travelers who see apparently lost little deer and antelope and have a kindly urge to stop and do something for them.

Because, Game Warden Dick Adkins explained, these animals usually aren't lost at all but have been left temporarily by their mothers—with stern injunctions to "stay put." In almost all cases the does will return and claim their young, provided the fawns haven't been handled by humans.

This Caps Everything In Line Of Larceny

BALTIMORE —(P)— Some people collect stamps, pipes or war souvenirs.

Someone in South Baltimore apparently collects hubcaps. The latest addition to his collection were eight garnered from a single block.

Eastern district police have served notice they may become collectors themselves. They plan to collect a hubcap collector.

The human heart pumps five to six quarts of blood through nearly 4,000 circuits of the body.

Greenback Party Now Coming Out Of Hibernation

INDIANAPOLIS —(NEA)— The American Greenback Party, which has lain dormant in a political winter three generations long, is coming out of hibernation.

And, its ambitious plans "reseed" national Greenback candidates in every state in 1948 on a platform of economic salvation through a return to the simple life. The Greenback Party's definition of the simple life includes a house and an acre of ground for every American family and plenty of greenbacks for each citizen to spend.

This is the word from the summer headquarters of John Zahnd, the 74-year-old party leader and perennial write-in candidate for president of the United States.

"Uncle John" sets the party line example for 5,000 oldsters, who form the old guard of the party in Indiana, by cultivating his acre with "the finest tomatoes and mustard greens you can find in the country, south of the national road."

Retired Salesman
"Uncle John" is a retired real estate and farm wagon salesman, and he remembers the day when the Greenbacks were the power in the middle west.

"Folks don't know it," he said, "but we still swing elections around here, and in Kansas, too."

His summer headquarters is a chair on the Kentucky bluegrass lawn of his suburban farmhouse here, and ensconced therein, he divulged plans for the party's first major effort to become a third party since 1932.

The party will enter the lists with a program opposing capitalism, socialism, communism, fascism, bankers, loan companies and the atomic bomb.

"The atomic bomb," he said, slapping a mosquito to death against the arm of his lawn chair, "is the most miserable thing we ever made. It ought to be quashed and thrown away."

The elder Greenback statesman, who has offered himself for the presidency more times than probably anybody else, is personally opposed to the draft and radio commercials. Both make people do things against their will, he said.

Under the Greenback program,

Salesman Eggs Way To Dotted Line By Magic

By MARIANNE PACHNER

NEA Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND, O.—Today's lesson in salesmanship: When the customer starts to give that big deal the fishy eye, grab his hat and pull out a rabbit, and he'll reach for the dotted line.

At least that's what "Professor" John Isely says. He always carries a rabbit around with him for just such emergencies.

"You'd be surprised," adds this baldish man who looks like a magician, and as a matter of fact, is one, "how easy it is to break down sales resistance by reaching over and suddenly taking an egg from a prospect's vest pocket."

Of course, there's the slight problem of how to get the egg in your client's vest pocket in the first place. But Isely the salesman has solved that little difficulty. As Isely the magician he has sold corporation officers, manufacturers, engineers, doctors and housewives on the idea of taking a course (at $5 a weekly lesson) on how to deposit the egg and remove it, with interest.

Vanishing Girls
He teaches beginners how to tear a newspaper into shreds and restore it before the wide eyes of an audience, how to defy gravity, how to bake an egg in a victim's coat pocket. Advanced students are taught how to shoot through a woman without damaging her, how to make beautiful girls vanish into thin air, how to take the proverbial rabbit out of a hat.

Results have been proven. After a two months' course, an orchestra leader was able to get double billing as both musician and magician at double pay. A fruit "trafficker" managed to uncover important information on crops from taciturn plantation workers by confounding them with sleight-of-hand.

Showmanship is the angle the professor emphasizes. "Anyone can go into a store and buy a magic trick, but it takes skillful presentation to put it over," he says. "Buy your trick, study it, think up ' patter' and work out your timing perfectly before you try to amaze people with it."

the draft would be an academic subject, anyway, because there wouldn't be any war.

Army's Going Ditch Digging

Yachts steam through one of two locks in Great Dismal Swamp canal which take care of nine-foot drop in terrain.

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.—(NEA)—The Army Engineers are going digging in George Washington's ditch, the oldest man-made waterway in the United States.

The ditch is the Great Dismal Swamp Canal, which connects the Elizabeth River in Virginia with Albemarle Sound in North Carolina. Washington himself surveyed it in 1763, but it was not until 1822 that the slave labor project finally was navigable.

For many years it carried a brisk traffic in lumber, shingles and agricultural products, and although still in use, it has had little recent engineering attention.

Now the Army, which has the care of the nation's inland waterways, is going to bring in dredgers and restore the canal to its standard nine-foot channel depth. Although there still is a trickle of commercial traffic along the canal, its biggest users are pleasure craft. A smaller canal, navigable only to small boats, branches off to Lake Drummond, the heart of Great Dismal Swamp, and feeds water to the main canal.

Most of the water that feeds into the canal from Lake Drummond is deep red—juniper water—and once it was bottled and sold in Baltimore as a tonic. Today's navigators aren't as interested in the color of the water as they are the center of the channel, for as a non-ionic value along the banks, copperhead snakes sometimes reportedly flourish and sometimes drop into boats from overhanging boughs.

Hard rubber can now be made from synthetic rubber by adding a coal-derived liquid plastic.

Venus De Milo Was Lucky Compared To Statue Of Sea Urchin In Baltimore

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Venus de Milo was lucky—she only had her arms wrenched off. If any statue has a just complaint, it's the little "Sea Urchin," a diminutive figure of a small boy, which has adorned Baltimore's staid Washington Square for 20 punishing years.

It is an original bronze by a Baltimore sculptor, the late Edward Berge. An anonymous donor presented the statue to the city in 1926—and it has been the object of verbal and physical brickbats ever since.

The first attack came from a school of art-lovers who poo-pooed the urchin's artistic merits. A second group resented the urchin's position so near to the city's massive and prided monument to George Washington—the first ever erected.

A third group argued the urchin's sex—in open debate—and hasn't yet decided definitely whether it's a he or she, although the general opinion now is that the figure is that of a boy. Still others turned smugly to the dictionary and said that although an urchin might be a mischievous little boy, a sea urchin is "an echinoderm with a variously shaped shell bearing numerous spines."

When the verbal lashings finally ceased, the physical abuse began.

Escapades of a Statue

Here's the sad chronology:

1932—The statue was stolen and was missing for three days. Damages: A badly twisted arm.

1934—Smashed from head to foot with a can of red paint.

1935—Stolen again. Damages: A fractured back, cracked shoulder, minor abrasions, contusions and lacerations.

1943—Vandals again inflicted injuries.

1944—Wrested from its base, twisted and broken almost irreparably.

1944—City officials threw in the towel. The urchin was removed to a warehouse for the duration.

1946—Park Director R. Brooke Maxwell decided a little reluctantly to give the urchin—or perhaps the city—another chance.

Things looked encouraging for awhile. Trysters were observed tossing pennies to the urchin as good luck tokens. The more optimistic speculated that maybe—after 20 years—the urchin would achieve a measure of popularity.

They were wrong.

The pennies are now being outnumbered by scraps of paper, slugs, cigarette butts—even a dead fish one day.

The urchin just can't win.

SUNNY SKINS WILL GO SALLOW AT NIGHT

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Many girls whose skins have a sunny warmth by daylight go sallow under artificial lights—the very time, too, when Cinderellas want to glow.

If that's you, give that beige-toned make-up which you're using the night off. Bring out an out-and-out pink powder and foundation. See that the pink tint of each is absolutely free of yellow undertone.

The best shade of lipstick to use to counteract the yellowing effect of night light is a rich fuchsia.

Be warned, too, that dress colors go temperamental at night. Those which don't, because they effectively counteract the sallowing effect of light on the skin, are muted blue-greens, gray-pinks and chalk white.

Rocky Ford Firm Plans Expansion To Present Warehouse Storage Here

As an expression of its faith in the future of Midland and the Permian Basin area, the Rocky Ford Moving Vans Company has announced plans for construction of an addition to its new warehouse at 510 South Big Spring Street, providing an additional 8,000 feet of floor space for storage of commercial and household articles.

A railroad siding will be run to the new warehouse, thus providing an opportunity for distributors to utilize the building and to help the city become a warehouse and distributing center for West Texas and Southern New Mexico. The original warehouse, built a year ago, has 12,000 feet of storage space, is equipped with a balcony, and has all modern facilities. It is of brick and tile.

Building of the modern warehouse is another step in the Rocky Ford company's growth along with West Texas. The company was established by the late Rocky Ford in 1927 and was the first moving van service in West Texas. It has maintained its headquarters in Midland during the 19 years of operation. The main office is located at 1111 West Wall Street.

Haskell J. Dunn, manager, said it has always been the Rocky Ford policy to maintain the most modern equipment available and to render prompt, reliable and courteous service. The company's fleet of trucks has grown from a modest beginning to seven late model, modern vans ranging from a 5-ton size down to one and a half ton pickups. Many of the drivers have been in the employ of the firm for 15 years, and all are experienced.

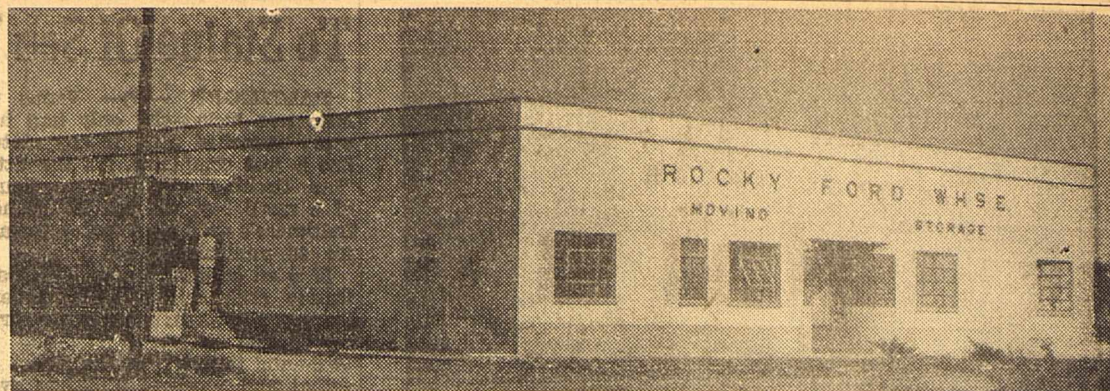

The warehouse is sealed throughout, and a cool temperature is maintained throughout the summer months. Household furniture and other articles are accepted for storage, and merchants are taking good advantage of the storage space. Clarence Kerth is warehouse manager.

The company holds operating permits to any point in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, California, Kansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. In addition, it has reliable connections to any point in the United States.

The company does all kinds of hauling, crating, storage and shipping.

Iowan Builds Clock From Cathedral Photo

BURLINGTON, IOWA—(P)—Herbert Ahlberg, 72, has a lot of time on his hands—8 feet, 6 inches of it—in the form of a magnificent, home-made, hand-tooled clock. Pattered after a postcard photo of a cathedral in Norway, the time piece towers in the corner of his living room, its cross-adorned spires nearly reaching to the ceiling.

Ahlberg began the clock's construction in 1928, spending 800 hours of spare time and painstaking effort to complete the clock.

LIKES RABBITS

The chief food of the fisher is rabbit meat, which the animal procures either by running the rabbits down, or by stalking them cat-fashion. Even the bristling porcupine is not safe from this little killer, which seems to be immune to the ill effects of porcupine quills.

Screwworm Fly Menace Causing Loss Of Profits

AUSTIN—The spreading menace of the screwworm fly to livestock profits, brought an appeal to farmers Thursday for a renewed fight against this pest during the coming summer months.

"Screwworms are causing serious losses among livestock in many localities right now," says a report issued Thursday by the American Foundation for Animal Health. "The fly lays its eggs in scratches and wounds; the eggs hatch out, and the tiny larvae bore into the animal's flesh, setting up a whole chain of serious complications."

"For this reason, in screwworm territories, such operations as de-horning, castrating, shearing and docking should be postponed until cooler weather, unless proper precautions against screwworm flies can be taken. During the fly season, livestock should be observed daily. Any animals having scratches or wounds should be placed in the barnyard where they can be watched and given treatment."

"If screwworm infestation does occur, it is well to have a veterinarian check the animals and set up a course of treatment to eradicate the parasites before the damage has progressed too far. Several chemicals have been developed which are highly effective, but the most important measures are fly-prevention campaigns, and careful watching of all farm animals throughout the fly season."

Amazon Valley Future Hopeful, Higgins Says

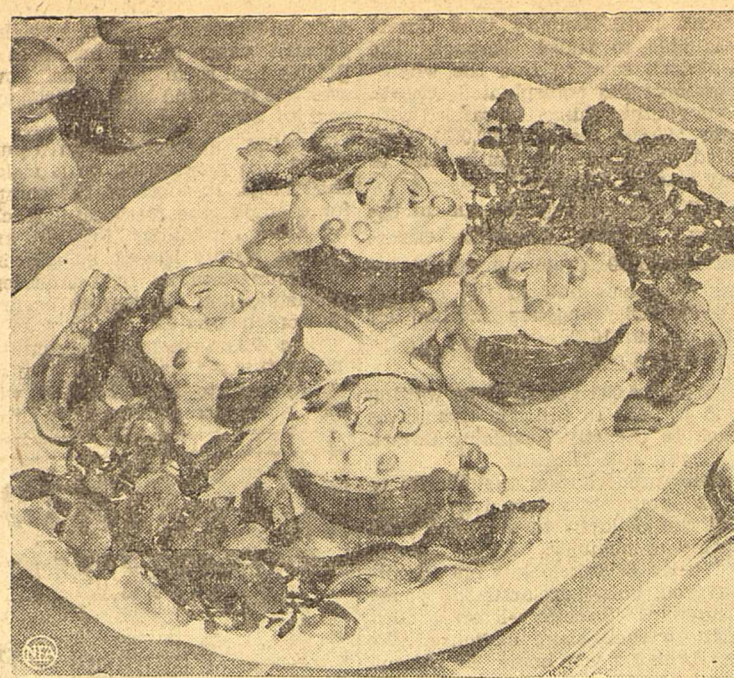

RIO DE JANEIRO—(P)—Brazil's vast Amazon Valley jungle could be reclaimed in 30 years to become a valuable shipping and production center, says Andrew J. Higgins, New Orleans ship and airplane builder.

In a press conference on a visit to Brazil, he compared the region with the Mississippi Valley of the United States. He said much progress could be made in Brazil with little capital.

Higgins, asked if he were negotiating to buy land in Brazil, replied smilingly, "I'm just looking."

Tomatoe Use Aids Starving

Summer luncheon treat—fried tomatoes with mushroom sauce.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Make the most of the tomato crop. The more use we make of available garden crops, the more wheat and other needed foods can be used to prevent famine in war-ravaged areas.

Fried Tomatoes with Mushroom Sauce
(Serves 4-6)

Three slices bacon, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 3/4 cups warm milk, 1/4 cup mushroom liquid, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1 4-ounce can (3/4 cup) mushroom stems and pieces, drained, 1/2 cup cooked green peas, 3 large half-ripe tomatoes, 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine, 6 slices toast, parsley or watercress.

Cut bacon slices in half. Saute until golden brown. Remove from frying pan. Into the fat in the frying pan stir the flour, milk, mushroom liquid, and seasonings. Cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thick.

Add mushrooms and green peas. Heat thoroughly. Cut tomatoes in half. Brush cut sides with butter or margarine and place on shallow pan. Place pan about 3 to 4 inches from heat in moderately hot broiler. Broil for about 8 to 10 minutes, or until tomato is slightly brown.

Place broiled tomato halves on toast on serving plate and top with a generous serving of mushroom sauce. Garnish with cooked bacon and parsley or watercress and serve immediately.

Peppers Stuffed with Lima Beans
(Serves 4)

Two cups lima beans, 4 large green peppers, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 3/4 cup top milk, 1/4 cup mushroom liquid, 1 chicken bouillon cube, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 4-ounce can (3/4 cup) sliced mushrooms, drained.

Cook lima beans in salted boiling water until tender. Cook green peppers in salted boiling water until just tender. Melt butter in a saucepot and blend in flour. Add top milk gradually.

Blend together mushroom liquid, bouillon cube, minced onion, salt, celery salt, and Worcestershire sauce and add to butter, flour, and milk.

Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thick. Add sliced mushrooms. Add cooked lima beans and heat thoroughly. Serve in hot green-pepper cups. Garnish with paprika.

Saga Of Helgoland Will Be Ended By British Demolition Squad Soon

By ROBERT N. COOL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The saga of Helgoland, ancient dwelling place of gods and Germany's North Sea Gibraltar in two wars, will be ended abruptly this summer by a British demolition squad.

The mile-long island fortress, 30 miles off the estuaries of the Elbe and the Weser, is to be blown from the earth's surface in one gigantic explosion which will leave only a few barren rocks for sea birds to rest on.

This, a senior naval officer has said, will be Britain's answer to the Helgoland dilemma. It is also expected to satisfy English ornithologists who contended the island was essential to migratory birds. After V-E Day, Allied bombers kept right on pasting Helgoland and its satellite sand spit, Duene. Their airfields and submarine pens were used as targets for devastating practice raids. The island's normal 3,000 inhabitants had been evacuated, of course. The final coup de grace will be delivered with several hundred tons of planted explosives, rendering the island permanently uninhabitable.

British naval strategists have not liked Helgoland ever since Whitehall traded it to Germany in 1890, for Zanzibar in the Indian Ocean. The British had seized Helgoland from the Danes in 1807.

Red sandstone cliffs, rising to a green plateau 200 feet above the sea, made the island a natural outpost guarding the German ports of Hamburg, Cuxhaven, Bremerhaven, Emden and the Wilhelmshaven naval base.

A Threat to Britain

Unfortunately Helgoland could also be viewed as an offensive spearhead pointed at the British Isles.

Under the Versailles treaty, the fortress was dismantled and Germany was told to keep Helgoland as a resort for birds, sunbathers and fishermen.

Nevertheless, Hitler commenced its rearmament as early as 1936. In ancient times, before the sea eroded it to one-fifth its former size, Helgoland was believed to have been a favored haunt of the northland gods whom the Nazis later revered. Its name in German means "Holy Land."

In addition to guns, the Nazis girdled the island with granite slabs and an iron chain as protection against the ocean's whittling.

EARLY DISCHARGE PAPERS

Discharge papers of a Roman soldier, consisting of two bronze plates, and dating from 122 A. D., are exhibited in the British Museum.

Save Stale Bread For Puddings

Delicious wheat-saver—fruit cubed pudding. By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Staff Writer

Waste not a crumb of bread so that more wheat can be rushed to famine-stricken areas. Save those crusts and stale slices, dry them slightly in the oven, then roll them into crumbs. Store the crumbs in a sealed jar in the refrigerator.

Fruit Cubed Pudding (Serves 6-8)

One cup toasted bread cubes (cut into 1/2-inch cubes), 1/2 cup bran, 1/4 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup chopped dates or figs, 2 eggs, 2 cups milk, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons melted butter or fortified margarine.

Combine bread cubes, bran, nuts, and fruit; turn into greased shallow baking dish. Beat eggs well; add milk, sugar, salt, vanilla and butter or margarine. Pour over bread cubes. Place dish in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 50 to 60 minutes.

Serve warm or cold, with whipped cream, if desired.

Jelly Bread Pudding (Serves 6-8)

Two cups stale bread, 1 quart milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup raisins, if desired, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Soak the bread in the milk until it is very soft, then mash it finely. Heat together until nearly boiling. Beat the eggs until light and add to them the sugar, salt, and vanilla. When well mixed, stir this into the bread and milk, pour into a baking dish, either heat-resistant glass or earthenware, set in a pan of hot water and bake 1 to 1 1/2 hours at 325 degrees F.

To test, insert knife in center. If it comes out clean, the custard is done.

Dot with cubes of tart jelly.

Yank Tells German Kids Of U. S. Way As He Returns Them To Berlin

By IRENE ANGERSTEIN

BERLIN — (AP) — Hitler ordered them away from the bomb-racked Reich capital in 1943, and now a smiling young American lieutenant is shepherding back 3,000 evacuated Berlin school children to safe reunion with parents they have not seen for years.

To soft-spoken Lt. David L. Cozart, Jr., 28-year-old former Raleigh, N. C., high school teacher, has fallen the dubious pleasure of serving as temporary mother, father and guardian angel to the "exiled" teachers and students who have been residing at complete school groups in Bavaria since the capitulation.

"We're creating 3,000 unofficial exponents of the American way of doing things," explains Cozart in detailing the careful preparations behind the dispatching of the 29-car special train which now travels between Berlin and the American zone to pick up the school groups. The hospital train, captured from the Wehrmacht, has been lent to Berlin Military government by the Third Army.

Negotiations for return of the children began on a four-power basis in Berlin last October, and it wasn't until January that Cozart was able to travel through the American zone to find the whereabouts of the transplanted schools. Among other things, he carried with him 200,000 marks ($20,000) supplied by Berlin city authorities to pay teacher salaries.

Nestled on the peaks and in the valleys of scenic Bavaria, Cozart discovered 30 school camps containing less than half of the original 8,000 school youngsters who had left the city in 1943.

5,000 Left Schools

"About 5,000 got tired of waiting and decided to smuggle themselves back to the city," explains Cozart. "They're still trickling in."

The wanderlust of the "Berlin or Bust" youngsters forced Cozart to tell the children to stay put until spring or summer.

"Berlin definitely has not forgotten you, kids," declared the young lieutenant in college-learned German to each camp audience. "We are bringing you home. Be patient. Berlin has not forgotten you."

Generations of discipline-conscious German pedants probably would have shuddered at the sight of the gangling American seated with crossed legs atop teacher's desk and speaking in an engaging German never before heard in a Reich school room. The "kids," however, ate it up and took Cozart's appeal to heart.

In the generally clean camps school was progressing on a makeshift basis. In most of the camps, for example, the resourceful teachers were combining English and current history lessons by allowing the youngsters to read American magazines and newspapers borrowed from nearby GI outfits.

"The kids were mainly interested in two things," states Cozart, in recalling private talks he had with the youngsters. "Naturally they wanted to know about Berlin. They asked about the Tiergarten, the Botanical Gardens, and the animals in the zoo. I was able to tell them there was one elephant left in the zoo, but I didn't have the heart to tell them their Central Park has been turned into a potato patch. Secondly, they wanted to know about New York City."

What did he tell them about New York?

"Of course," explains the lieutenant, "I told them about the 102-story Empire State Building, but you can be sure I also put in a plug for my home state, North Carolina."

Chemical Speeds Cleaning

By NEA Service

If the barbecue is your al fresco stove for this summer, you know that the pleasure of devouring a steak broiled over hot charcoal is partly offset by the nuisance of cleaning up the blackened and grease-spattered grids, skillets and utensils.

Ending this problem of picnic pan-polishing, outdoor chefs will cheer the arrival of a chemically formulated liquid, available at local hardware and department stores, which banishes the stubborn greasy residue from barbecue equipment.

To clean the grids, all that's needed is to pour a generous dab of the clean-smelling stuff on a cloth and wipe it over all surfaces. After it has stood for five minutes, the grid can be given the once-over with a dry cloth and the greasy black coating will flake away. After degreasing small hand grids or cooking forks that come in direct contact with the food, they should be dunked in clean water and dried.

More of this new marvel added to hot dishwasher dissolves grease on dishes, silver and glasses and after a 10-minute soak they are ready to be rinsed and dried. Gummy pots and pans, too, will shine like Dutch tiles if they are given the same kind of treatment.

Walkie-Talkie Talkers Who Talk Sans Licenses Bothering FCC Men

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The walkie-talkie, which has taken a terrific going-over from comedians and cartoonists, is no joke to the Federal Communications Commission.

Along with other surplus government radio equipment, the walkie-talkie is a large headache that has been magnified ever since a young ex-Navy radioman, and a trio of accomplices, parlayed one of those portable two-way radios, safe-cracking, and youthful daring into a large haul of folding money lifted from a number of New York concerns.

The New York walkie-talkie gang was nabbed, to be sure, and thus far it is the only successful case of such utilization of this type of radio. But the FCC, which has the job of policing the air waves for illegal broadcasts, doesn't feel any better.

One precaution set down by the FCC was side-stepped by the New York youths because the leader built his own walkie-talkie. Actually, you can't buy one unless you get a license to use it, although the alluring advertisements for walkie-talkies often omit that qualification. And no license will be issued by the FCC except in the amateur service. This requires special examinations which the average person could not pass.

The cheering thought that this will prevent your wife from calling you up on your way to the corner store, however, is chilled by the fact that FCC is studying a plan which would permit ordinary citizens to use walkie-talkies on a special band set aside just for the purpose.

The job of the FCC in constantly monitoring the air for illegal broadcasts is complicated by military developments during the war which discovered, along with the walkie-talkie, that there was 300 times more room in the ether than previously had been known.

Must Be Licensed
And it is further complicated by youngsters who are buying the surplus radio equipment cheaply but don't understand how to use it. They don't know that all forms of broadcasting—regardless of wavelength used or how weak the signals might be—have to be licensed by the government. The result is interference with regular broadcasts, plane communications, and other legitimate uses.

The FCC has nine primary stations all over the U. S., and 13 secondary stations constantly policing the ether. In addition there are 100 mobile direction finder units in operation which can locate the exact spot of unlicensed radio sending.

IRON HUNT IN BRAZIL

MACAPA, AMAPA, BRAZIL—(AP)—Geologists and cameramen are accompanying engineers from the M. A. Hanna Company of Cleveland to prospect for iron ore in this northern area of Brazil where the Hanna firm owns exploration rights.

Hard-of-hearing? Nope. FCC Engineer John C. Peterson is demonstrating a transmitter confiscated at Laurel, Md., race track. This walkie-talkie, with the microphone worn as a round disk on the wrist, was a nightmare to bookies until the FCC caught up with it.

High Fliers Warned Not To Grit Teeth

NEW YORK—(AP)—If and when you take a high altitude airplane ride, remember not to grit your teeth.

That's the advice of a symposium of AAF dental officers whose conclusions are reported in the Journal of the American Dental Association.

They found that nervous and muscle tension during flight was often associated with excessive biting or grinding of the teeth, and this extra force was likely to dislodge tooth fillings.

Gritting the teeth at ground level isn't apt to have such results because ordinarily you get a pain before any harm can be done. Pre-occupation with other things during flight makes a person overlook the pain and do a lot more severe grinding.

WARSAW, POLAND—(AP)—The Central Committee of Trade Unions has requested the government to boost the pay of "state employees, the militia, secret police, railway workers and pensioners."

Jap Women Get Navy Surpluses

YOKOSUKA—(AP)—The U. S. Navy and the Shinsai women's society of Yokosuka are combining forces to battle food shortages. The Navy is supplying surplus and surveyed foods and the women are rationing it to the townspeople.

Candy, nuts, flour and edible waste food which the Navy rejected for its own use are being trucked by the Navy to stores already acquired by the women.

The president of the Shinsai society early last month approached Navy base commander, Capt. B. W. Decker of Washington, D. C., with a proposal for education in democracy of the society's 12,000 women members. Decker agreed to their plan and sent six truck loads of rejected Navy food which the women distributed satisfactorily.

The cooperation has one noticeable effect—membership in the Shinsai society has leaped to 40,000.

'Go-West' Movement Underway In Poland

WARSAW—(AP)—Wladyslaw Gomulka, vice-premier and minister for recovered territories, announced returning Polish military personnel who wished to resettle in the western territories would receive land free of cost up to about 22 acres. Repatriates who left their farms beyond the Bug River to the east also will receive free farms in the west.

Gomulka reported 3,000,000 Poles had settled in the western areas.

Defrosting In A Hurry

Time consuming task of defrosting the refrigerator—often a weekly chore in summertime—can be done in minutes instead of hours when an infra red lamp is used to melt the ice from the freezing unit. After the refrigerator current is turned off, the light is held a few inches from the unit and in about five minutes the ice has dissolved into the drip pan. Warning to those who adopt this speedy short cut: don't let the hot lamp touch the icy water or the glass shield may shatter.

Chinese Communists Founding University

PEIPING—(AP)—The Chinese Communists are founding a university to which students preferring capitalism will be welcome—provided they unlimber their capital and pay their own way.

Students and professors who dote on Communism will practice it by living under a communal system.

but the capitalists in their midst will have to live "on their own means."

That is the way Chancellor Fan Wan-lan put it in explaining the operations of North Fan Tah University, soon to be established at Shantung, in southern Hupeh Province of central China.

The party line will be heeded in feeding the mouths of the students, but in feeding the intellects of the students the party line will be pitched out the window, says the chancellor.

Fan says that the university will not be interested in the political tinge of the professors, since absolute freedom of thought and action are the first requirement of progressive education.

Deaths Exceed Births In Poland, Paper Says

WARSAW—(AP)—The newspaper Rzeczpospolita says 30 per cent more people die in Poland each month than are born. Infant mortality is 25 per cent, and a health ministry official estimated between 18,000 and 20,000 Poles, mostly children, died monthly of tuberculosis.

SALLY had drawn night duty on another special case and was still in bed one afternoon when Bess Hamilton dropped in to her room.

She sat up and reached for a robe and slippers. "Stay here, if you like, while I shower," she told her caller. "I won't be more than a minute. I want to take a long walk before I go back on duty. It seems good to have the sun shine again, doesn't it?"

"It's only 3 o'clock, Sally," Bess pointed out when the girl returned. "Why not come over to the lake with me for a swim? I'm on call tonight and we can be back in plenty of time to change."

"Okay," Sally nodded. "I'm game. Stuff my swim suit in the bag there and I'll be ready in a jiffy."

A few minutes later the two nurses reached the bus stop at the foot of Main Street hill. The sun was warm on their bare heads and there was little or no shade on that corner.

A shabby coupe slipped down the hill and stopped for a red light. Sally tried to make herself invisible with little success for the car door opened and a voice called:

"Hi, there! Going somewhere, you two? Hop in and I'll take you."

"We're going to the lake, Doctor," Bess answered, and waved him on his way. But he lingered. "Swell! That's where I'm bound. Hop in. That bus will be crowded to its doors and probably won't be along for an hour."

MUCH against her better judgment, Sally followed Bess

Hamilton into Jim Hallock's battered car. The seat was wide but Miss Hamilton was plump and there was barely room for the three; but they reached the lake much more quickly than if they had waited for the bus. Doctor Hallock parked his car and the three walked the short distance to the beach.

"Why, there's Holden!" Bess exclaimed as she espied Norma in a brief bathing suit talking to a young man. "I hope she doesn't see us in your company, Doctor," she laughed. "I just don't trust that baby."

"Let her do her worst," muttered Jim Hallock, casting an inquiring glance at Sally. "You're not afraid of her, are you, Sally?"

"I don't know why I should be," Sally told him not quite truthfully. "Oh, isn't that Doctor Bacon? What is she doing here? I thought they had gone to the mountains for the summer."

Carolyn Bacon caught sight of them and hurried forward. "Jim, you're darling to bring them!" she cried enthusiastically. "This is wonderful! You know, Sally, Mother and I have taken the Sloane cabin for the season and just now we're all alone. I'm so glad you came. We have a fine beach and we can have a picnic supper later—hot hamburgers and coffee or ice cold ginger ale—whatever you prefer. Sound attractive?"

"Wonderful!" Sally said. The Sloane cabin proved to be rather large and rambling, tree shaded and with a private beach adjoining that of an exclusive club. Wide screened porches extended all round it while inside were all the comforts of home.

"He was my favorite of all the he-men movie stars until I read that he could cook!"

Sally immediately fell in love with the place and Carolyn urged her to make use of it whenever it was possible. Bess and Mrs. Bacon found they had a great deal to discuss and Carolyn was suddenly busy preparing for the picnic supper. So Sally, eager to take advantage of this rare opportunity to swim, changed quickly and dived from the edge of the long pier.

She wasn't aware she was being followed and drew herself up on the float where she lay on her back with closed eyes, breathing in the invigorating piney air while the sun poured new life into her body.

"MIND IF I join you?" Jim Hallock asked as he slid down beside her on the swaying float. "Gosh I'm tired! I've had only three hours' sleep since night before last. What a life!"

"And I was just thinking how wonderful it is," Sally laughed. She waved a comprehensive hand to include their surroundings. "All this—"

"—and Heaven too—with you here beside me," the young man murmured. "I should like to stay right here indefinitely. Why go back at all, Sally?"

"Not even for hamburgers and coffee, Doctor?" she teased.

"I like to hear you laugh, Sally," he told her, raising himself on one elbow to look into her face. "You're going to get a fine sunburn."

Sally laughed again. Somehow she felt light and carefree. "How quickly you change from the ethereal to the practical, Doctor Hallock," she chided. Silence, blissful and satisfying, prevailed for some time. Then, "But I'm afraid we're not being very appreciative guests, are we, coming off here by ourselves like this? There's Bess waving to us. She hasn't even been in and it was she who suggested coming here."

"Why can't you always be like this, Sally?" he asked.

"Like what?" she countered and was away before he could answer.

Sunburned Trout No Worry For Hatchery

DURANGO, COLO.—(AP)—Sunburned trout had John Henderson worried for a while but now the Durango fish hatchery superintendent is resting more easily because he's figured out that the fish get over their sore backs, just like people. He explained that when the hatchery's Lochleven trout occupy very crowded quarters they push and shove each other enough so their backs are out of water and exposed to the summer sun. Then comes burning, peeling and raw spots—but these heal over two to three weeks after the fish are planted in streams.

America's Card Authority

Mrs. Benjamin (Peggy) Golder and Charles J. Solomon of Philadelphia have won a great many tournaments together. Their bidding is exceptionally accurate, and they employ two bidding conventions which have worked out very well.

Their bid of four clubs asks for aces, the same as the four no trump Blackwood bid. An example of their other convention is given in today's hand. This particular artificial bid was used by some members of

The Four Aces at one time, and it is surprising that it is not more generally employed by good players.

When South opens the bidding with one no trump and North goes to two no trump, South's natural bid is three no trump, which would be defeated quickly with a diamond opening. Instead, Mrs. Golder and Solomon use the bid of three clubs, which asks partner if he has a four-card major, and if so, to bid it. In today's hand North has two four-card majors, which calls for another artificial response of three diamonds, asking partner to select the major.

It is a well-known fact that many hands that can be held to three no trump or even defeated at that contract can easily make four of a major. The artificial bid of three clubs costs nothing because, if there is no fit in a major, the final contract becomes three no trump.

The Big Secret

This little girl is telling her playmate a "big" secret. It is nothing important, of course; merely the innocent fun of happy childhood. Soon these care-free days will pass and the two little girls will face the sterner problems of life.

Much of the simplicity and innocence of childhood can be preserved in a favorable environment. The dross that so often appears in later life is due to wrong impressions gained during these early years, when the little minds are plastic.

It is the task of the home to inculcate ideals of right thinking and right living in the minds of children; for the homes of our children build the characters of the people and shape the destinies of the nation.

We must build again our family life in America, and re-establish its foundations on the solid virtues which make lives beautiful and strong. We must create conditions in which the simplicity and innocence of childhood will be reflected in the after years.

Religion is the guiding light of such a home, and God is its eternal inspiration.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Flying Missionaries

The first "flying" missionaries of today's air age soon will be heading for their new parish—the vast jungles and mountainous regions of New Britain. Rev. A. M. Stemper, right, 33, Caledonia, Minn., and Rev. Anthony Gendusa, 31, Chicago, were the first Catholic priests to answer the plea of Bishop G. J. Vesters, former Vicar Apostolic of Rabaul, who asked for flying priests to cover the 280,000 square miles of wild, war-devastated New Britain.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcon Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science demonstrates that none but the pure in heart can see

Tennis Balls With Catsup Main Course

WASHINGTON—(P)—The wife of an American Foreign Service officer in Poland was giving her first formal luncheon.

Like many American wives abroad, she had no knowledge of the language and had to resort to pantomime when giving orders to her servants.

She thought she had put over the idea that she wanted baked beans served with catsup by pointing out the appropriate cans to the cook. Apparently the cook didn't think the bean cans looked important enough, so she opened the adjacent ones on the shelf.

When the entree was brought in on a silver platter, the hostess with a cry of dismay looked upon a year's supply of tennis balls, well-balled and smothered in bright red catsup.

Museum Group Seeks Rarest Of Animals

BULAWAYO, SOUTHERN RHODESIA—(P)—A bongo, a rare type of bushbuck, and an okapi, a giraffe-like creature of Central Africa and one of the rarest of all animals, are some of the animals sought by an American expedition on a Cape-to-Cairo tour.

Hugo Rutherford is managing the expedition for the American Museum of Natural History, to fill gaps in the collection of small rare African mammals and photograph African animals and native life in educational films.

God, as the gospel teaches. In proportion to his purity is man perfect; and perfection is the order of celestial being which demonstrates Life in Christ. Life's spiritual ideal" (page 337).

Deals In Berlin Real Estate Slow

BERLIN—(P)—Nobody wants to buy ruins, inquiry among Berlin real estate dealers reveals.

This fact somewhat surprised real estate brokers, who at first blush thought investors might want to acquire ruins cheaply, tear them down and rear new structures.

Investors, however, reasoned differently. First of all they don't know what is to be the position of mortgages on property now standing in ruins. Next, there is the question of whether real estate valuations will undergo a change in view of the unprecedented situation created by mass destruction of entire city sections through bomb and artillery action.

City Faces Problem

Take downtown Berlin, for instance. Real estate before the war naturally commanded top prices. But can the center of the city, which "has had it," ever be rebuilt? If so, will it again become the commercial center or will it, as some city planners have it, be turned into a series of settlement projects? The uncertainty about the future of the city is putting a curb on speculative buying or purchase for investment.

On the other hand, anybody who has a roof over his house is anxious to hold onto his property. Hence, although countless would-be purchasers of homes are registered with real estate agents, properties are being offered for sale only by people who need cash badly or by heirs who have no use for the real estate.

Vacant lots, like ruins, are not wanted. One main reason is the dearth of building materials outside of bricks. Bricks are as plentiful as the sands on the sea.

Poor Pomeranians

Peeking out of a paper sack at a cold, cruel world, these Pomeranian pups look longingly for someone who will provide a home. The abandoned puppies, about a year old, found a safe haven in the Chicago Animal Shelter, where they will receive tender care until some animal lover puts in a bid for them.
