5,000 TO MAKE TRIP; DRIVE SAFELY! HIGHWAY OFFICIALS WARN

Lubbock Fans To Invade Amarillo

ALMOST every mode of transportation available will be pressed into service today as more than 5,000 Lubbock football fans make a mass exodus to Amarillo, scene tonight of this year's traditional Lubbock Westerner-Golden Sandie gridiron clash.

Between 15 and 20 special buses, a special train and plane and hundreds of cars are expected to jam the highway northward from about noon on in one of the largest such treks in the long rivalry between the two cities.

Because of the certain heavy traffic on the highway throughout this afternoon and late tonight, State Highway patrol officials Thursday issued an extra special plea that everyone drive carefully and warned that additional patrol cars would be assigned to the dangerous stretch of highway from both the Lubbock and Amarillo districts.

Capt. E. L. Posey of the State Highway patrol offices in Lubbock said that the heavy traffic should make motorists realize that today their co-operation is following traffic regulations and safety rules is needed more than ever.

He announced that the Lubbock district office would have six patrol cars on the highway to enforce traffic regulations, and that the Amarillo district office also would have a number of extra patrol cars on duty.

"But we could have 100 cars patrolling the Lubbock-Amarillo highway and still fail if we don't get co-operation from the motorists," he said.

Capt. Posey said the heaviest traffic probably would be after the game, as most motorists will be starting back to Lubbock at about the same time.

Possible after-game revelry and the limited vision of night driving combined with this surge of automobiles returning to Lubbock increases considerably the danger of accidents, he warned.

He said traffic this afternoon probably would be heaviest shortly after lunch, and about 5 p. m.

Drivers should take extra precautions to see that they keep within the speed limit, stay well over on the right side of the highway, and pass only when there is plenty of room to do so, said Capt. Posey.

Indications are that perfect

FIRE DESTROYS COTTON — Lubbock firemen with the aid of a "booster-type" pump truck are shown above as they pour water on a smouldering bale of cotton while Highway patrolmen and passing motorists look on. The cotton, part of a load of 16 bales on its way by truck from an Idalou gin to a Lubbock compress, caught fire about six miles east of the city on the Lubbock-Idalou highway about 5:20 p.m. Thursday. The burning cotton was thrown to the ground by the driver, Orvie Hicks, of Idalou, with the aid of Highway patrolmen and nearby farm laborers. The owner, R. T. Lambert, of Idalou, estimated the loss at about $1,500. (Staff Photo by Hank McKee.)

Ike Asks Quick End To Armed Services Feud

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower told the nation's quarreling military chiefs today that a unified America "can lick the world" — and he councelled them to stop "name calling."

Setbacks must be expected in unification as in war, Eisenhower said, but he declared with great earnestness:

"I just believe that from this moment on we can make unification work."

"Elimination" Urged

Testifying with Eisenhower before the House Armed Services committee today, Gen. Mark Clark urged the "ruthless elimination" from the nation's military establishment of those who do not believe in unification of the armed forces.

With tempers growing ever shorter in the House hearings, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) turned his fire against Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Vinson accused the civilian defense chief of putting the cart before the horse in working out military budget requirements in an "arbitrary" manner dangerous to national defense.

Vinson Raps Defense Chief

"I think the Congress is going to take the reins in its own hands and decide defense needs," Vinson announced at the end of the day's session.

Referring to Johnson's economy campaign, Vinson hinted that the secretary was evading budget-making orders from Congress based on national defense requirements.

He said Johnson and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder were getting together and fixing arbitrary ceilings on the services without regard to "the capabilities of a potential enemy."

Cottonseed Relief Sought

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — A delegation of West Texans conferred today at the Agriculture department, trying to iron out what they described as problems of the new cottonseed price support program.

Still without a solution after a long afternoon conference with Production and Marketing administration officials, they planned to resume talks tomorrow.

Spokesman was George A. Simmons, manager of the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill.

Says Plan Not Working

He said the government's recently announced plan to guarantee farmers $49.50 per ton for their cottonseed is not working out.

"There is a great confusion all along the line in the handling of cottonseed," Simmons said. "Very few farmers are getting $49.50, because they don't have the necessary storage. Ginners and millers are just as unhappy, because they cannot pay higher prices for cottonseed and still compete with products made from corn, soybeans, and animal fats."

Total Purchase Low

The government through the Commodity Credit C[illegible]ration is willing to buy Texas [illegible]ottonseed outright for $46.50 a ton but is actually taking over only a small percen[illegible] of the crop because buying [illegible]sters are convenient to only a relatively small percentage of West Texas farmers, Simmons said.

He added that ginners now [illegible] giving farmers from $41 to [illegible] per ton for their cottonseed [illegible] pared with about $40 wh[illegible] had been paying before [illegible] ernment launched its [illegible] to bring the price up [illegible]

U. S. May Transfer Bombers To Britain

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—A Defense department spokesman said tonight that "consideration" is being given to providing B-29 bombers for the United Kingdom under the new $1,314,010,000 military aid program.

There was no immediate indication how many Superfortresses might be turned over to the Royal Air Force if the American government decides definitely on equipping England with such planes to augment its striking force.

However, the United States Air Force now has more than 1,000 B-29s in cocoon storage, a pool from which it could draw for arming the RAF or other members of the Atlantic pact.

Presumably, negotiations for transfer of B-29s to Britain are being conducted at diplomatic levels between the State department and British foreign office, with the USAF and RAF sitting in as interested parties.

The wartime-designed Superfortresses would give the RAF a reaching distance to virtually any point in Europe from bases in England.

ICY BLASTS HIT MIDWEST

Showers Fall In Area As Cold Front Misses South Plains

CLOUDY weather and light showers hit Lubbock and parts of the South Plains late Thursday night and early today as a cold front lost its punch shortly before moving into the area.

Partly cloudy weather and cooler temperatures were expected to continue throughout the early morning hours, through today and tonight, the Weather Bureau said. Temperatures in the low 40s was the forecast for this morning with the mercury rising to 63 or 70 degrees this afternoon.

Football fans making the trip to Amarillo and South Plains grid fans planning to attend games in this area could look forward to partly cloudy weather with temperatures in the 50s for tonight's contests.

Weathermen and newsmen alike, who donned their fur-lined mittens and ear muffs in preparation for the arrival of the season's first cold blast, instead turned up with red faces Thursday morning when the "icy blasts" which had

Tito Rebuffs Russia With U. S. Support

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. — The United Nations overrode Russian protests today and elected Yugoslavia to a Security Council seat that the Soviet Union coveted for satellite Czechoslovakia.

Two-thirds of the UN in effect gave a vote of confidence to Marshall Tito's regime, and rebuked the Cominform. The vote was Yugoslavia 39, Czechoslovakia 19.

It deepened the East-West rift and left Russia to make good on her prediction that "painful consequences" to the UN would follow election of Yugoslavia.

Rift Not Expected

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson said he sees little danger of a rift in the UN because Czechoslovakia lost out.

In London, a spokesman for the Czechoslovak embassy said there was no prospect of pro-Soviet Communist nations in the UN walking out as a result of the election. He added: "No doubt this is what many western countries would like us to do."

American support was a big factor in Yugoslavia's victory. It was a calculated support — aimed at strengthening Tito in his struggle with Moscow. The vote came less than a day after Yugoslavia declared that Russia had moved troops into neighboring Cominform countries, toward the Yugoslav frontier.

The voting provided a Red-faced outburst from Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister. Speaking in Russian, he said:

"The Soviet Union delegation declared with full determination that Yugoslava shall not, cannot, be considered as a representative of the eastern European countries, and that the introduction of Yugoslavia to the Security Council shall be considered by the Soviet Union delegation as a new violation of the UN charter, undermining the very foundations of co-operation in the United Nations."

Russia contended she and associated nations have the right to designate the eastern European delegation to the council. Their choice was Czechoslovakia.

No delegation would speculate whether Visinsky's declaration meant Russia would refuse to sit

MAP TO FUTURE UNAVAILABLE

Methodist Conference Hears Address By Bishop Werner

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

"YOU can't find a map to the future at a gas station and you can't stop the ache in the soul with something you buy at the drug store," Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Columbus, O., said in an address in the Thursday night session of a Northwest Texas conference meeting of ministers and laymen of Methodist churches.

Man must look to the divine for help, he said.

"Civilization and democracy will not work until we have restored divine meaning to human personality."

The speaker is one of three bishops appearing on the program of the conference meeting, which will close at noon today at First Methodist church. Both Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas and Bishop Ralph S. Cushman of St. Paul, Minn., will speak in the session opening at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Bishop Werner spoke on "Our Christian Conception of the Worth of Man."

Approximately 900 persons attended the night session, increasing total attendance in Thursday's sessions to an estimated 2400. A youth meeting led by Bishop Werner at St. John's Methodist church preceded the night general meeting at First Methodist church.

Human Beings 'Sacred'

With divine meaning restored to human personality, "There shall be no exploitation of human beings," Bishop Werner said in the general session address. "They are sacred. Husbands cannot degrade wives without suffering vastly. Corporations cannot degrade persons—not only in the phase of treatment of employes but in the whole ramification of the distribution and consumption of goods. The liquor industry cannot degrade individuals. Christianity will never cease to wage this cause. Human beings are children of God: The man who drives the bus you ride on, leaves milk at your door, the woman who answers when you dial 'O' on the 'phone—They are all human beings, children of God.

Will It Do Good?

"We need to carry this idea of the divine worth of persons into the world of vocation so that man confronted with possible vocations asks not only, 'Will it make money?' but 'Will it do good?' He asks not only 'How much will it pay a week?' but 'Will it advance the Kingdom of God?' If we are sacred, all we do is sacred. This must function at the heart of democracy and motivate us in world missions. This practice must

Texas Ends First Day Without Rent Curbs Since War

(By The Associated Press)

Thursday midnight, [illegible] ended its first day [illegible]ut statewide rent control [illegible]most seven years.

[illegible]ederal rent controls were [illegible]ed from all 254 counties at [illegible]idnight Wednesday, although previous action by the federal housing expediter and city governing bodies freed many cities of the controls earlier.

The decontrol came as the result of a law passed by the recent state legislature under authority given it by the 1949 federal rent control law.

Over a month ago federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods unofficially ended control in Texas by closing down 21 administrative rent offices.

Under authority given by the 1949 law, 28 cities freed themselves of federal rent controls by action of their governing bodies. Woods lifted controls from 34 counties of his own initiative.

The state measure gives cities authority to reinstate rent controls under their own administration if they feel it is necessary. So far there have been no moves in that direction.

At 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon, workers had reported $7,850.50 collected during the first three days of the drive. The goal is $98,850.

Good news [illegible] to campaign leaders from L[illegible]bock Air Force Base, where officers and personnel launched a Red Feather drive [illegible]eir own, proceeds of which [illegible] be turned over to the Lubbock Community Chest. Only a scattering of workers had reported their collections in the drive, Earl Kerr, Chest manager, said. Most of these workers were among the men's and women's sales divisions.

Truman Will Request Boost In Atom Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (INS)—President Truman today said he will ask the next session of Congress to finance a huge expansion program designed to maintain United States supremacy in the field of atomic energy.

Mr. Truman said the plan, which Atomic Energy commission experts estimate will cost more than a quarter billion dollars, was drafted prior to the discovery of Russia's atomic accomplishments and was not affected by that development.

Congress is expected to give speedy approval to the Chief Executive's request, which would swell the billion dollar AEC appropriation passed by the lawmakers in the session just ended.

HST To Seek Tax Increase

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. —President Truman announced today he will ask the next session of Congress in January to increase taxes to keep the U. S. from going an estimated $5 billion in the red.

A Republican-Democrat coalition which blocked Mr. Truman's last tax request in the just-ended first meeting of the 81st Congress immediately opposed the new move.

Mr. Truman at a news conference declared that only a tax boost can wipe out the federal deficit which is equal to $33 for every person in the country if the red ink says $5 billion.

The President said the deficit must be met to obtain money to meet government expenses.

To Renew Labor Law Fight

The President also told newsmen that he will again ask Congress when it reconvenes Jan 3, to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor act. A new labor law was Mr. Truman's top campaign pledge, but the legislators who adjourned Wednesday would not redeem it.

Thus, only 14 hours after the 289-day first session of the 81st Congress quit, the President served notice he will renew his demands for approval of his domestic legislative program.

Mr. Truman did not say how much of a tax boost he will ask, but last January he proposed a $4 billion increase on which Congress failed to act.

Opponents of any boost wasted no time in firing back at the President.

Chinese Red Troops Reported Nearing Key Nationalist City

HONG KONG, Oct. 21. (Friday). (AP)—Chinese Communist troops today were believed nearing Kweilin, headquarters for Nationalist Gen. Pai Chunk-Hski's last-ditch defense in southwest China.

The hint came from an announcement that the China National Aviation Corp. was pulling out of Kweilin, capital of Kwangsi province 250 miles northwest of Canton.

A second Red drive against Pai's 200,000 man army rolled up 160 miles southeast of Kweilin. The CNAC also pulled out personnel from Wuchow (Tsangwu), on the Kwangsi boder there.

Press dispatches from the Nationalist island fortress of Formosa said the Nationalists intended to back up their sea blockade of Canton with air attacks.

Cotton Destroyed In Blaze Near City

Three Suffer Burns In Blast At Home

By HANK McKEE
Avalanche Staff Writer

THREE persons were seriously burned and property damaged to an amount ranging above $13,000 in two spectacular fires in and near the city Thursday.

The three fire victims, all tenants of an apartment house at 2215 Thirteenth, were injured when flames which followed the explosion of a gas range at 6:15 p. m. gutted the entire second story of the structure, causing damage estimated at a minimum of $12,000.

In the other fire, 12 bales of an 16-bale load of cotton valued at $1,800 were completely destroyed by flames which broke out six miles east of the city in the bed of a truck transporting the fiber to Lubbock.

Standing At Stairway

Most seriously burned in the explosion were Bill Lee Robinson, 25, and Mrs. Burt Maze, 24, who were standing at the head of a stairway only a few feet from the stove at the time of the blast.

Another tenant, W. D. Haynie, 51, occupant with his wife of an apartment in the northwest corner of the frame building, suffered burns of the back, arms and head.

Witnesses said Haynie and his wife dropped to the ground from a second story window of their apartment. Mrs. Haynie escaped injury.

Condition "Fair"

Condition of Robinson and Mrs. Maze was described as "fair." Attendants at Lubbock Memorial hospital where they were taken by the woman's husband, Burt Maze, said both had suffered first and second degree burns over the body and face, and possible third degree burns of the hands.

Robinson's hair was badly singed, his eyebrows completely burned off.

Reports from St. Mary's hospital indicated that Haynie was in "good" condition.

Robinson, in a statement to newsmen from his bed at the hospital said he was unable to remember how he made his way from the blazing house.

Lynn County To Open Fair Today

TAHOKA, Oct. 20 (Special)—Lynn county residents will take time out Friday and Saturday from their busy chore of gathering a bumper crop to visit Tahoka and the Lynn County Fair, which opens Friday at 9 a. m. and continues through Saturday.

Preparations for the fair have been under way for several weeks and everything was all set this afternoon for tomorrow morning's opening, which will be featured by a big parade through downtown Tahoka at 1 o'clock.

To Name Queen

At 10 a. m., a queen contest will be conducted and the winner will ride in an honor position in the parade. Candidates for the queen were selected from among girl students of Lynn county schools.

Exhibits were being arranged at the fairgrounds, in northeast Tahoka, this afternoon and indications were that the show would be the best in history. The fair was revived last year after having been closed during the war years.

Judging of swine will start at 9 a. m. Friday with Jack Cleveland of Brownfield as judge. At 10 a. m., Geo. Samson of Post will start judging of agricultural exhibits; 1:30 p. m. Dave Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, will

TRUMAN PLANS NO INTERVENTION

Mediation Chief Says Situation In Steel Strike 'Not Hopeless'

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 — Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching, in a brief statement issued tonight, said the situation in the 20-day-old steel strike "is not hopeless."

Ching's statement said:

"We do not want to create the impression that there is a basis for optimism. But the situation certainly is not hopeless and we are continuing with our conferences tomorrow."

Ching's statement was issued after a long conference today with U. S. steel representatives.

At Washington, President Truman earlier made clear that he has no present intention of intervening personally in the steel or coal strikes, nor any plans for government seizure of those industries.

But, he said, the sooner those strikes are ended the better for the country, labor and management.

About 1,500,000 workers have been made idle since the mine strike began Sept. 19 and the steel walkout started Oct. 1.

The President said he is depending on current conciliation ef-

SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN AGAIN ECHOES IN COURT

Sen. Johnson Cleared By Grand Jury On Charge Of False Swearing Filed By Stevenson Backer

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—A Travis county grand jury no-billed Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) who had been charged earlier today with false swearing in an affidavit.

The decision was handed to Judge J. Harris Gardner by jury foreman Oswald Wolf at 5:45 p. m.

Gardner was sitting in 98th District court for Judge Charles O. Betts.

Frank Hamer of Austin, who filed the complaint against Johnson, had appeared before the grand jury at 4:40 p. m. and came out 12 minutes later.

The complaint had been filed in Justice of the Peace P. L. Nairn's court in connection with the court battle between Johnson and former Governor Coke Stevenson over last year's Democratic nomination for the U. S. senatorship. Nairn set bond at $500 and sent the case to the 98th District court grand jury currently in session.

Hamer charged that the "false statement" was in an affidavit filed by Johnson in 126th District court Sept. 10, 1948, in an injunction suit against Stevenson and a number of his supporters, including Hamer.

Hamer said he was accused of going into Jim Wells county and "by threat and intimidation" attempting to have the voting results changed.

Specifically, the year-old affidavit referred to said Hamer and others "have gone into Jim Wells county and by threats and intimidations have attempted to have the vote of one or more of the voting boxes there eliminated from the official canvass and official returns and to have the new returns forwarded to the state exe-

O'Donnell Man Is Shooting Victim

O'DONNELL, Oct. 20. (Special) Johnny Milner Johnson, 51-year-old O'Donnell farmer, was found dead of a gunshot wound about 1:30 p.m. today, in a cotton field eight miles southeast of here.

A verdict of suicide was rendered by Justice of the Peace D. M. Campbell of Lamesa, at 4:30 p.m., after an inquest at Lamesa.

The body was discovered on part of a farm owned by G. C. Aten that Johnson had been sharecropping.

Search Party Organized

Cleve Barrington, deputy sheriff from O'Donnell, led a party in search of Johnson after he failed to appear at the Aten farmhouse for dinner.

Barrington said that Johnson, with his wife, had gone to the farm this morning to pick cotton, but it was too damp.

Johnson then borrowed a 20-gauge shotgun from Joe Vanhouten, living on the Aten farm, saying he was going rabbit hunting, said Barrington.

Found Near Farm Home

Johnson's wife became worried when he did not return, and Barrington was called to aid in the search. Barrington, Aten, and Vanhouten found the body shortly afterward only half a mile from the farmhouse. Johnson had been shot in the head with a single blast from the shotgun. The body was not near field workers, and no one reported hearing a shot,

Shivers Warns Against Increasing Expense Of Boosted State Services

MINERAL WELLS, Oct. 20. (AP) Gov. Allan Shivers warned tonight that Texans can't support a champagne appetite on a beer-buying income.

Shivers, in a speech prepared for delivery at the closing convention session of the Texas Manufacturers association, said that the cost of state government will continue to rise so long as the people demand more and better state services.

They should also expect to get the bill.

He said that if there was "any significant point to my discussion here this evening, let it be this:

"The cost of state government has risen and will continue to rise as long as the Texas Legislature and the state administration are responsive to the requests of the people for more and better state services."

He said that the requests would would continue to come "until the public is aroused to an intelligent awareness of the money cost of a responsive government."

His statement, the governor said, was "both an explanation—and a warning."

He reminded his listeners of the statement from Thomas Jefferson that "no more good should be attempted than the nation can bear."

"That statement," the governor added, "might well be paraphrased to fit the state of Texas."

The governor devoted about half his talk to a comparison of state costs in 1909 with those of the present.

In 1909, the two-year general revenue budget for state services was $4,600,000. The governor said the figure now is $290 million.

He asked if the state government is worth, "to the people of Texas, 60 times its cost in 1909?"

It was up to the taxpayers, he said, to decide.

The governor, at the same time, urged "a prompt, businesslike and courageous solution" to the building needs of the state hospitals and other institutions.

Texas, he said has not fulfilled its obligations to those of its citizens who are not able to care for themselves.

The responsibility, he said, is "urgent and inescapable."

Texas, the governor urged, "must provide what is needed—and no more. To do more would not be good business for the state of Texas; to do less would not be worthy of Texas."

Woman Was Killed By Gun, Doctor Says

GREENVILLE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Dr. S. F. Blair of Cooper testified in former Delta county Sheriff Nolan Maynord's murder trial today Miss Dorothy Palmer died of a gun shot wound, not from auto injuries.

Maynard is on trial in the death of the 22-year-old Cooper woman on May 26, 1948.

Dr. Blair testified Maynard brought Miss Palmer to the Reed Memorial hospital at Cooper. He said he helped take her from the sheriff's car. She had been dead 15 to 20 minutes at the time, he said.

District Attorney Eugene Brady of Greenville asked the physician if he asked Maynard what happened.

Blair replied Maynard told him the woman had been in an auto accident. The physician said death resulted from a bullet wound near the throat. He testified he found no other injuries.

Texas Highway Patrolman Ross Kemp of Paris told of arresting Maynard after Miss Palmer's death. He said he found Maynard slumped over the wheel of his car two miles northeast of Cooper on the Cooper-Paris highway.

The officer said a .38 caliber revolver was lying in the middle of the front seat.

Howard Dawson and C. E. Holland, both of Cooper, told of helping take Miss Palmer's body from Maynard's car. They said they saw a gun in it.

Dawson testified he smelled liquor on Maynard's breath.

Mrs. Bessie Reed, owner of the building in which the Reed Memorial hospital is located, testified of seeing Maynard drive up to the hospital the day of Miss Palmer's death.

38 Lubbock Firms Take Part In Plan

Students Learn, Make Money With Business Training Jobs

Fifty-four students of Senior High school are using down-town and suburban business firms as laboratories for gaining practical experience along with their required three R's and, at the same time are making a total of $1,024 per week in training wages, according to A. B. Reese, coordinator of the distributive education program in Lubbock.

This means that each of the 54 students averages making more than $19 per week, Reese said.

The distributive educaional program is not new to the Lubbock school system. It was begun 20 years ago and each year the program has made it possible for students to gain fundamental knowledge while receiving practical experience. The course is open to all students who plan to make their careers in retail, wholesale or service selling businesses.

This year 38 business firms are cooperating in the training program, main objective of which is to bridge the gap between school and employment for high school graduates. Students receiving that type training receive laboratory credit as well as their training wage for work done in down-town stores. Work done outside of school is carefully supervised by Reese who also gives students classroom instruction in special distributive education subjects and works with training sponsors and managers during the afternoon to improve the working ability and performance of the students.

Advice Is Offered

Of prime importance in the distributive education program is the advisory committee which is composed of seven members of business firms whose purpose it is to offer advice to school authorities and assist in the program. This year the advisory committee includes: A. W. Lawrance, Mrs. Gladys Workman, M.L. Zukav, Arnold Behrend, J. D. Thomas, A. B. Watkins, and Elmer V. East.

This program is closely related with the business education classes offered in Senior High school. Students who are enrolled receive training in additional subjects to the bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand offered in the commercial department since they study stock control, buying, merchandising, selling, advertising, display, personnel work, credit office work, interior decoration, and any other fields associated with retail, wholesale, or service selling work, Reese explained.

This year the firms taking part represent a variety of business firms from retail clothing stores, department stores, theatre, to an advertising agency and an aircraft company.

Danish Fishing Boat, Crew, Feared Lost By Coast Guard

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Coast Guard said today that the 72-ton Danish fishing boat Elsa apparently had been sunk with the loss of 10 men somewhere between Greenland and Iceland on the storm-tossed Atlantic.

The vessel left Tokusak, Greenland Oct. 10 and has not been reported since. She carried no radio.

Meanwhile, two gales pounded shipping on the north Atlantic for the fourth straight day and storm-damaged ships began limping into port.

Full-grown minnows usually reach a length of three to four inches.

Edward W. Smith, Chief Justice Of Appeals Court, To Resign

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Chief Justice Edward W. Smith of the fourth court of civil appeals today announced his resignation.

He is the first judge in this area to retire under the recent retirement act.

RECORD CROP EXPECTED

Turkeys At Reduced Prices To Be Plentiful For Holiday Feasts

By MAX KOCINSKI
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Turkeys will be plentiful for the approaching holiday season, with prices expected to be a good deal lower than they were in 1948.

This cheering news for the nation's housewives was based today on government estimates that farmers are producing approximately 40 million turkeys, an increase of 29 per cent over a year ago and the second largest crop on record.

To illustrate reduced prices, dressed turkeys in the New York market currently are listed at 11 to 14 cents a pound under a year ago. Tom turkeys at wholesale are bringing 37 to 38 cents a pound while hens are quoted at 48 to 49 cents a pound.

Some advance in prices between now and the holidays is expected as the seasonable demand picks up but prices still point to be lower than a year ago.

Highly profitable prices which prevailed during 1948 apparently brought this year's large production of turkeys.

Other factors were cheaper feed costs and assurance from the government that prices would be supported at a fair level.

Iowa farmers were producing the third largest turkey crop on record in that state—2,658,000, or an increase of 40 per cent over last year.

Ralph Baker, Iowa state college economist, stated that midwestern price supports will be on a weight and grade basis on live birds, with hens being supported at 36 cents per pound and heavy toms ranging as low as 26 cents per pound.

Price Range Given

Turkey prices ranged from 27 to 40 cents a pound in the Chicago wholesale live market today.

Storage stocks of turkeys on Oct. 1 aggregated 33,824,000 pounds compared to 15,145,000 pounds a year ago and an average of 29,634,000 pounds.

Tending to temper season advances in turkey prices will be the more liberal supply of red meats and a probable reduction in the number of turkey purchasers.

Many families apparently are feeling the pinch of smaller paychecks than they received a year ago. Strikes and other factors have entered into this situation.

Los Angeles has more television stations than any other city, seven. New York is second with six.

Denver Post Editor Opposes Move To Have Circulation Bureau Determine Readership

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of The Denver Post, today opposed proposals that the Audit Bureau of Circulations attempt to determine newspaper readership.

Hoyt, addressing the ABC's 35th annual meeting, also opposed suggestions that the bureau take into consideration the publication times of morning and evening newspapers, their trading area zones and unpaid circulation.

"I can well appreciate and do appreciate that this is a changing world," Hoyt said, "but I am not convinced that the Audit Bureau of Circulations should allow any set of conditions to change the original concept of the extremely important, function of the bureau —namely the verification of circulations."

He said it would be "highly improper" for the ABC to "invade the trading area zones."

Praises Past ABC Work

"I believe that the bureau would do well to forget the whole matter of times of publication," he said, "and I am sure that if ABC ever gets into the measurement of unpaid circulations by whatever name or under whatever guise, that it will become something different from that great and worthwhile organization which we have supported so loyally through the years.

"After a good many years in the newspaper business, I have come more and more to the conclusion that the important thing about newspaper circulation is that it be paid for. If people buy a newspaper, they read it. I fail to see where the time of publication can greatly interest or affect the advertiser.

Stresses Readership

"Readership after all is a thing with which we are concerned, whether the paper be published at midnight, or at high noon."

But he said the function of determining readership is not the ABC's.

"The function there is to determine whether or not it is paid for," he said. "If it is paid for consistently, it is reasonable to assume that it is read. If it is read, it is further reasonable to assume that it produces results for the advertisers."

Hoyt said the ABC should not become a combination of "a verification unit, or a George Gallup prediction unit, or a continuing study foundation."

FAMILY PROBLEM

A YOUNG matron friend of ours was discussing her idea of a problem in the American family the other day and we were greatly interested. Perhaps you will be also.

"I don't worry about increased taxes, or the quarrel between the Navy and the Army top brass or the knowledge that the Russians have an A-bomb," she said. "These are problems over which I have no control anyway. My life is wrapped up in my home. My chief worry is obtaining any spiritual basis for contact with the family.

"It's an effort to get a blessing said at the table, even.

"In the mornings my husband leaves for work at 7 o'clock and the children get up about an hour later and fly around dressing and grabbing a hasty breakfast. They eat lunch at the school cafeterias and my husband eats down town.

"At supper everyone is hurrying for some reason or another. It's [illegible] in the ward or a committee or church matter for my husband [illegible] radio and home study for the children."

"On Sunday we have a later breakfast and go to Sunday school. On return it's lunch and then the funnies and radio programs and naps in the afternoon. Friends drop in or come by to ask us to go for rides. I cook, wash, sweep and clean house day after day—but I feel a moral and spiritual burden, too. My husband seems to feel that as he feeds the family and pays the bills he has done all that is necessary."

AMERICAN SINGER

LEONARD WARREN, Metropolitan opera baritone, who is to appear with the Lubbock Symphony orchestra Monday and Tuesday nights in concerts at Senior High school auditorium, is described by Clyde Whitlock, Fort Worth Star-Telegram columnist, as "an American with emotional processes that we as Americans understand."

Warren is said to have a spontaneous sense of humor and moreover, he can sing, according to Whitlock and other critics. The Fort Worth writer says his voice has much of a bass quality, but with a high baritone range which is invaluable to the operatic singer.

Writes Whitlock:

"The baritone who can repeatedly and effortlessly sing Gs and As has available everything in the repertoire. The anomaly is that the virile bass quality does not in the slightest impair a dynamic gamut and flexibility of expression which is delicacy of nuance and sensitive projection of text does not often go with the male voice." Whew!

WARREN will sing with orchestral accompaniment, Eri Tu from Verdi's "The Masked Ball"; the "Pagliacci" prologue by Leoncavallo and Largo al Factotum from Rossini's "Barber of Seville."

Other numbers will be "None But the Lonely Heart" (Tschaikowsky) and "In the Road to Mandalay" (Kipling.)

Encore numbers will be sung to piano accompaniment by Willard Sektberg. The musicians will arrive in Lubbock Saturday afternoon and will spend the weekend here.

Tickets to the second concert are on sale at Adair's and Varsity Book stores.

WORKING HARD

SOMEONE asked an 84 year old year old woman for the secret of her ability to work hard at her time of life. Her reply was:

"I went early to bed, and spent ten hours in quiet and darkness."

Then she added: "That is what most folks lack in this busy world, is quiet and darkness."

Mrs. Breaux Will Speak

Mrs. A. J. Breaux of Beaumont, state president of the American Legion auxiliary, will address a dinner meeting of the Lubbock Legion and auxiliary and their wives and husbands at 7 o'clock tonight in Phil's Ranch House.

She will talk on the rehabilitation program of the Legion and auxiliary in Texas. Mrs. Breaux spent Wednesday in Amarillo checking the work of the auxiliary at the Veterans hospital.

Reservations may be made until noon today with Mrs. Orville Drake, auxiliary president, who will preside at the dinner tonight.

Good Neighbor Club Conducts Election

Mrs. C. T. McLain was elected president of Arnett-Benson Good Neighbor club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. W. Hilton, 2724 North Second. Other new officers are:

Mesdames C. D. Bevers, vice president; E. W. Taylor, secretary-treasurer; P. H. Nall and A. E. Jones, recreation committee; Burl Walker, flower and card chairman; and J. P. Legg, reporter.

Others present were Mesdames I. T. Weed, W. N. Boyd, Ed Branch and a guest, Mrs. G. L. Hazzard

The club has made plans to take a quilt made by members to Girlstown next Tuesday. The next regular meeting will be Nov. 3 at 2:30 p.m. with Mrs. Jones, 3013 North Fifth.

Mary Martha Class Luncheon Is Given

Mrs. Walter Wright presided for the following program given at the church annex.

A solo, "An Evening Prayer," Mrs. J. W. Dennison; devotion, "Calling the Class to Prayer," Mrs. Joe George; and reports by chairmen and group captains. The invocation was by Mrs. J. F. Nix.

Mrs. D. O. Hartsfield and associate members, Mrs. J. H. McLeod, class mother, and Mrs. Ossie Coalson of Brownfield, a guest, attended.

Mrs. Berry Will Attend Service

Mrs. George Berry and her sister, Mrs. J. M. Webb of Amarillo flew to Las Vegas, N. M., to attend the funeral of Reid B. Hughes, sr., which will be conducted this afternoon. Survivors include a son, Reid B. Hughes, jr., of Salt Lake City and a nephew, Hugh English, of Lubbock.

Town Talk

A GAME PARTY was given Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Ernest L. Tarkenton as a courtesy to Mrs. Dennis Dillard of San Diego and Mrs. Donald Kling of Wahoo, Neb. Mrs. A. R. Golding, jr., and Mrs. Eugene Miller were cohostesses.

Centerpiece for the refreshment hour was a lighted Hallowe'en lantern, flanked with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums.

Guests were Mesdames Wayne Bain, Jimmie Williams, Johnny Gamble, Misses Iva Lindsey, Lareta Maner, Cecile Butler and Margaret Ann West.

The young women are visiting in Lubbock as the guests of Mrs. Dillard's mother and Mrs. Kling's aunt, Mrs. Carol Rogers, 2015 Sixteenth.

Family night activities will be staged tonight at the Lubbock Country club. Saturday night's entertainment at the club will feature a square dance.

Both events are for members of the club only.

Visiting in Lubbock Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard of Decatur, former residents of this city. The couple has gone on to Pampa for a short stay before returning home. While visiting in Lubbock they were guests in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young, 1908 Sixteenth.

DFD club will have an introductory tea Sunday from 2:30 until 5:30 p. m. honoring new members and pledges of the club. Although invitations which were sent out said the entertainment is to be held at the J. D. Leftwich home on the Levelland highway, plans have been changed since that time, and the tea will be staged in the F. W. Groce home 1210 Ave. R.

All Tech social club members and pledges, members of the Double-T association, DFD alumnae, DFD patronesses and their husbands, members of the Tech faculty and active DFD club members and pledges are invited to attend the tea.

The Houston chapter of the Texas Tech Alumni association will have an openhouse on Friday, Oct. 28, at 8 p. m. in the Normandy room of the Shamrock hotel. This function for local and out-of-town ex-students is precede the Texas Tech-Rice game to be played at Rice stadium Saturday, Oct. 29.

Approximately 150 ex-Techsans are expected at the openhouse. Guests will include former students from Lubbock, Bryan, Beaumont and San Antonio.

Officers of the Houston chapter are Kenneth W. Robbins, president; Gilbert W. Knox, vice-president; Herbert R. Belcher, treasurer; and Mrs. Gilbert W. Knox, secretary.

Holiday Dance club will entertain with a dinner-dance Saturday night from 7:30 until 12 o'clock in the Hilton hotel ballroom. Carrying out a Hallowe'en theme masks and false faces will mark each place, and pyracantha and jack-o'-lanterns will decorate the tables. Lighting the room will be orange tapers in crystal candelabra.

Hosts for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Olan Key and Messrs. and Mesdames Neil H. Wright, jr., Tom Duggan, jr., R. C. Tucker, Dick Jennings, George Livermore, James Cochran, Marion Key and John Vickers, jr.

Wedding Is Set Today

Miss LaWanda Carter, who is to marry Alton W. Herring at noon today, was honored at a party given by Mrs. D. C. Zeh and Mrs. D. L. Hawn in the Zeh home Wednesday.

The honoree received a shower of miscellaneous gifts.

Chrysanthemums and fern were table decorations. Favors were baskets, tied with wedding bands, filled with green mints and topped with lovebirds. Twenty-five guests called.

Annual Carnivals Scheduled Tonight

Dupre Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring an annual Hallowe'en carnival at the school tonight from 6 until 9 o'clock. Parents are urged to accompany their children to the school for an evening of fun and refreshments.

The Hallowe'en carnival for George M. Hunt Parent-Teacher association will be held tonight, beginning at 6 o'clock, at the school and will feature Indian dances by Frank Runkles and his Boy Scout troop. Mr. Runkles, who grew up with the Sioux Indians, will also discuss Indian customs.

A cafeteria style supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Other entertainment will include a magician show, two movies, a house of magic, a country store and a house of horrors.

European Trip Is Outlined For Club By Three Teachers

Guest speakers for Book-of-the-Month club Wednesday afternoon were three Lubbock school teachers who traveled and studied in Europe this summer. Mrs. Parker F. Prouty and Mrs. Reuby S. Rhodes were hostesses in the Prouty home at 3019 Twenty-first.

Mrs. Pearl Watson described the trip by air across the Atlantic ocean and told of incidents in England and France.

Miss Mildred Boone showed slides she took in Neuchatel, studied, and Miss Evelyn Jones served as narrator.

Mrs. W. T. Bradbury introduced guests.

Mrs. George Langford presided for a business session and the club voted to purchase several books.

Others attending were Mesdames O. L. Byrd, C. M. Ballenger, J. O. Cade, H. G. Denman, DeWitt Landis, Charles Read, Ivy Savage, Raymond Marshall, C. I. Wall, W. C. Wood and Ameral Payne.

Seasonal Decor Is Featured At Dinner Of Service Guild

Hallowe'en decorations were featured at a dinner meeting of Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist church Wednesday night. Mrs. W. P. Garvin and her committee served a Mexican meal to 46 members and guests.

Mrs. T. J. Lovett sang "I Walked With Jesus," accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Butler, Mrs. Ethel Terrell directed a Week of Prayer program, assisted by Mesdames B. L. Cogdill, Claude Dalton, Evelyn Myrick, Misses Nevada Baker, Anna Casey and Trula Maude Jetton.

Guests and new members were Mesdames Bert Gray, Collingsville, T. J. Lovett, Evelyn Thomas, Dick Green, Misses Barbara Lowry, conference director of youth work of the Methodist church, Lucille Collier, Georgina Conner and Rev. E. D. Crandall.

'WE' DECIDED

Texan Led 'Away' By Georgia Wac

TOKYO, Oct. 20. (AP)—A Texas Army private and a Wac sergeant from Georgia are going to be married—and live in Georgia.

"There's nothing wrong with Texas," said Pfc. Robert E. Noble, of Dallas. "We just decided we'd live in Georgia when we leave the service."

He and Sgt. Montez Hardy of Williamson, Ga., have set their wedding for Oct. 29 in the Tokyo chapel center. The couple met when the girl's family was visiting in Texas two years ago. They didn't see each other again until about six months ago in Japan.

North Texas Visitor Arrives In Lubbock

Miss Frances Ann Dalmasso, student at North Texas State college, Denton, will arrive in Lubbock this morning for a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dalmasso, of 2410 Twentieth.

Miss Dalmasso will sing at the Loveless-Cook wedding.

Other guests in the Dalmasso home are Mrs. Dalmasso's sister, Mrs. Martin Burkhart, and daughters, Mary and Sarah, of Jacksboro.

The Burkharts will return to their home Sunday. They are to depart for Manila, P. I., in December for a two-year stay. Mr. Burkhart is a highway engineer for the U. S. Government.

India's commercial air lines carried more passengers last year than ever before.

Rites For Plainview Polio Victim Slated

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 20 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. W. E. Whitfill, 29, of near Plainview, who died about noon today at Lubbock Memorial hospital of polio, will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday at the Plainview First Baptist church. Rev. Hope Owen, pastor, will officiate, asisted by Rev. Cobb, Lockney. Burial will be in Plainview cemetery under direction of the Lemon Funeral home.

Mrs. Whitfill became ill Sunday and was moved to Lubbock Memorial hopsital Wednesday. It was not discovered she had contacted polio until shortly before her death, hospital attendants said.

She is survived by her husband, a farmer; two children, a son, Jimmie, 5; and a daughter, Judy, 15 months; her mother, Mrs. Ruth Swann of Plainview; and a sister, Mrs. Virgil Cloyd of Omaha, Neb.

She was a graduate of Plainview High school and attended Texas Tech.

Crowd Attends Barbecue Dinner At K. Carter Elementary School

Patrons and friends of the K. Carter elementary school attended a chuck wagon barbecue dinner in the school cafeteria last night. The barbecue dinner was arranged by the K. Carter Parent-Teacher association.

An estimated 375 to 400 persons were served during a two-hour period.

Members of the P-TA and several teachers in K. Carter school supervised the preparation and serving of the meal.

A four-piece orchestra composed of Hershel Cunningham, D. V. Matheny, Paul Golden, and R. C. Matheny played.

Proceeds from the chuck wagon dinner will be used by the P-TA to buy school equipment, Mrs. L. C. Peveto, P-TA president, said.

Mystery Mallow Cake—Mixed in just 3 minutes because SNOWDRIFT is Emulsorized!

ONLY AN EMULSORIZED SHORTENING GIVES YOU SUCH SPEEDY AND EASY CAKE SUCCESS!

MYSTERY MALLOW CAKE
Quick-method recipe
No creaming! No egg-beating! Mixing time 3 minutes!

Sift together into a large bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour — 1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. soda — 1½ cups sugar
Add:
½ cup Snowdrift (Emulsorized—quick-blending)
¾ cup milk
Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer, use "low speed"; scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.
Add:
¼ cup milk — 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs

Beat 1 minute for Snowdrift-smooth batter. Turn into 2 greased 8" layer pans, lined with plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes. Cool and frost with—

MYSTERY MALLOW ICING: Combine 2 egg whites, 1½ cups sugar, ⅓ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. cream of tartar and ⅓ cup water in top of double boiler over boiling water. Beat with rotary beater 7 minutes, or until icing peaks. Add 1 tsp. vanilla. Spread between layers. "Spike" 8 marshmallow halves on top with toothpicks, leaving enough toothpick exposed to remove easily. Then frost all over. Remove toothpicks. Melt 1 square chocolate with ½ teaspoon Snowdrift and drip over top.

Compliments come thick and fast when folks taste this new Mystery Mallow Cake. So rich and chocolaty! Surprisingly different! Yet quick and easy to make with Emulsorized Snowdrift.

All ingredients mixed in the same bowl in just 3 minutes. No creaming! No egg-beating! Only an emulsorized shortening can blend these cakes so quickly and successfully—and Snowdrift is emulsorized. For finer-grained, richer-tasting cakes so moist they stay fresh for days, for fluffy biscuits and flaky pie crust, for crisp, digestible fried foods, rely on Snowdrift!

Oberammergau Revives Famed Old Passion Play With American Aid

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany, Oct. 20 (NEA)—This tiny Bavarian village's 300-year-old Passion Play, which has not been presented since 1934, will be given in 1950, with the help of American authorities.

A $300,000 loan to finance the play will go toward repairing the Play House and repairing and constructing other buildings, such as guest houses. Some will be spent on the roads and water supply of the village, both in need of expansion.

Since the war, refugees have boosted Oberammergau's population from 3000 to 5200. So the Passion Play will draw on a much larger pool for its talent. All the actors are villagers, who are chosen for their roles by a committee made up of the village priest, burgomaster, village council and members selected by popular vote.

Oberammergau's Passion Play, the most famous of the surviving medieval miracle plays, dates from 1633. The village in the shadow of the Kofel Mountains was stricken with the Black Plague. When the plague had run its course, the villagers gratefully vowed to present the play every 10 years.

The production, which re-enacts the events of Christ's last few days on earth was first given in 1634. In 1860, it was switched to the decimal years, and has been given every 10 years since then, with three exceptions because of the Franco-Prussian and the two World Wars.

All the villagers, young and old, try out for parts. Throughout this fall, members of the selection committee will listen to them read the parts, then choose the actors who will portray the Christus, the Twelve Disciples, Mary, the Mother of Jesus, Mary Magdalene and the other roles.

This year, the expectation is that many new faces will be seen in the cast, inasmuch as 16 years have elapsed since the last presentation.

The Play will be presented, according to custom, every Sunday beginning with the first Sunday in May. A few extra performances are given each week. The performances consisting of 18 acts and a number of tableaux, last all day, with time out for lunch. They start at eight in the morning.

Counting the 50-piece orchestra and chorus of about 45, more than 700 villagers participate. And the play, a world-renowned tourist attraction, was witnessed by more than 300,000 persons during each season before the war. The Play House seats 6000.

Although the details of the Passion Play have not, of course, changed, minor revisions in the script are made every decade. The music has not been altered, however, since its composition by an Oberammergau school - teacher, Rochus Dedler, in 1814.

While the needed repairs on the Play House and physical plant are proceeding with the American funds, the industrious Bavarians are making ready for the tourist invasion. They expect that there will be accommodations, in the village proper, for 3000 playgoers.

They explain that they like to see the visitors living in the midst of the village and close to the players, because that way they will have a better opportunity of absorbing something of the Play's special spirit.

Latin-America Told To Make Bid For U. S. Tourists By Sawyer

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20. (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer today gave Latin-American countries two tips on how to earn badly-needed dollars.

He suggested (1) That they stage a big international trade fair, and (2) That they plug harder on their "color and romance" to attract tourists.

The Marshall plan, or some similar plan for Latin-America could not solve the dollar shortage problem, Sawyer said in a speech prepared for the 19th annual convention of the American Society of Travel agents.

Exports To U. S. Urged

"In the long run," he said, "we must find ways to enable other countries to earn dollars they need by exporting their goods and selling their services to the United States."

A trade fair, Sawyer said, would display Latin-American goods to the world, and, citing Mexico as an example of the importance of encouraging tourism, he added: "Travel between our two countires is one of the most promising means of closing the export-import gap."

The commerce secretary also suggested that United States capital spent in business enterprises south of the border might help. He pointed out that Export-Import bank loans to Latin-American countries — mostly for developing basic industries—have topped a billion dollars in the past ten years.

State Refuses Reinstatement Of Lease On Ransom Island

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP) — Reinstatement of Port Aransas' lease on Ransom island has been refused.

State general land office Commissioner Bascom Giles announced the refusal yesterday on grounds that contract requirements had not been met during the year allowed since cancellation of the lease.

Port Aransas had subleased the island to Ray E. Kier.

Giles said a causeway that linked the island to the mainland had not been restored to usable condition and that the island had been commercialized instead of having been maintained as a public park and vacation center as was the intent of the legislative act of 1927.

MAMA'S SMART NEW DRESS!...by George'

Feeding The Family kept Mama broke!—till she learned to save $4 to $10 a month, serving delicious "meaty" meals with Skinner's macaroni, spaghetti, and pure egg noodles instead of costly meat dishes. Of course, she'd tried macaroni meals before—but the family didn't go for them!

"Then I tried Skinner's," says Mama. "It's the deluxe macaroni—so good that thousands love it, just boiled with salt and butter. Now my family asks for two Skinner one-dish dinners a week—and I save enough on groceries so now I can get a nice new dress now and then."

More Nice Things For You. If food bills keep you broke, try giving your family Skinner's. Don't ruin your good recipes with cheap macaroni or spaghetti, when Skinner's can turn them into family favorites! Southern women know: Skinner's macaroni is the best macaroni money can buy!

Art Originals Go Into Homes Through Circulating Library

By ROB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The best description I ever read about the reason for living in New York was coined by the guy who said, "I live here because it's the only place in the country where you can buy things late at night."

The wonder of what one can buy or rent in New York will never cease. I've lived here 13 years now, man and man, and there isn't a day passes that this bloke doesn't run into something he never knew existed, in New York.

The New York Circulating Library of Paintings, for instance. Ran across it on a plush second floor on 60th street today, just off Madison, and the nice young lady inside seemed surprised that I was surprised, though it is the only organization of its kind in the country... and probably the world. Maybe it couldn't happen anywhere else.

It's A Gainsborough

If you want to impress a client tonight by pointing idly to the wall of your living room and saying, with a buff of the nails, "Oh, that little thing. It's a Gainsborough...as you probably know," then you'd better see a Mrs. Eleanor Sadowsky or Mrs. Ruth Butler. They run the joi...I mean the salon.

The sisters jumped into their interesting profession as amateurs. They are lovers of good paintings and had to spend a lot to build up their collections. In time they had so many that they were forced, by the limitations of their apartments, to keep some in storage, and, now and then, they'd dip into their reserves and change the new decorations.

"It burned up some of our friends," Mrs. Sadowsky was telling me, "to think that we could change paintings as one might change a dress...to suit the mood and occasion. But we were burned up, too, because few people seemed interested in buying the work of the fine young artists we have in this country.

Dreamed It Up

"We had other friends, too, who wished they could have this or that painting in their home, and couldn't afford it. So one morning I woke up and there the idea was, as if I had been thinking of it all my life. 'We'll open a place and rent good paintings, cheaply,' I said."

Mr. Sadowsky thought it was a pretty daffy idea, at first. And Mrs. Sadowsky's father, H. L. Simmons, thought so, too. But he let the girls have the basement of his plushy fur shoppe on 57th, in the center of the art district, and they waited to see if the dream was a nightmare.

Turned out to be a prophetic one instead. That was nearly four years ago. Last summer they moved into their own studio and expanded. They have about 1,400 fine originals, and they rent them to people in California, the state of Washington, Washington, D. C., Florida, Texas, Connecticut and just about every other state in the union.

New Art Lovers Found

They are somewhat prosperously hounded by people who want to load their walls with very good paintings for a certain party or dinner or meeting, and this is one of the reasons why they insist that rentals be for no less than one month. They get people, too, who write in for a blue one." But they also have unearthed a wholly new field of art lovers, generally couples of moderate means who rent paintings as avidly as they rent books from their circulating libraries.

Some of them rent for as little as $3 a month, a figure based on the prevailing fee of one and one half per cent of the neutrally assessed value of the painting. The Gainsborough and the better clowns of the slightly mad French genius, Rouault (who last year burned 50 of his paintings because they didn't suit him) cost about $80 a month. Robert Philipp, Robert Brockman, Jon Corbino, Ernest Lawson are especially popular and much cheaper.

"I think we've achieved one thing," Mrs. Sadowsky told me. "We don't sell paintings but we've stimulated interest in art. A large percentage of persons who rent from us eventually buy art of their own."

Dean Allen To Explain Tech Guidance Plan At Meeting

Results of the dormitory supervisory program inaugurated at Texas Technological college last fall will be given by Dean of Men James G. Allen Saturday morning at a meeting of the Texas Association of Deans and Advisors of Men at College Station.

Dean Allen left last night for College Station and the two-day conference which begins this morning.

Other dormitory heads from colleges throughout Texas have indicated a great interest in the advisory program since it was begun at Tech last year, Dean Allen said. It is the only college in the southwest to have such a program.

Under the setup, a student counselor is placed in each wing and on each floor of all the dormitories, the dean explained. It is his duty to act as an information center for the other students and give them guidance should their grades fall below the danger mark.

Dean Allen said the program has been quite successful during its first year of operation.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped of wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. adv

Wife Of Screen Tarzan Gets Divorce From Actor Husband

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20 (INS)—Lex Barker, Leopard skin clad Tarzan of the screen, and his New York socialite wife, Connie Barker, joined Hollywood's divorced couples' ranks today.

Mrs. Barker obtained an interlocutary divorce decree from the actor on Oct. 11 in Santa Monica. She filed under the actor's real name, Alexander Critchlow Barker, jr., and managed to keep the development secret for nine days.

When the couple separated last Aug. 31, Mrs. Barker blamed the actor's film career for their marital discord.

She obtained custody of their two children. A property settlement was reached out of court.

Westerners Go After Victory Over Sandstorm Tonight

Lubbock Eleven Seeks To End Nine Year Sandie Reign

BY AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

Thousands of words have been written and many more have been spoken about the game between the Lubbock Westerners and Amarillo Sandies, and now a period of waiting has set in before the two grid squads meet at 8 p. m. in Amarillo Stadium.

For Lubbock it is another chance to break the nine-year hold of the Sandstorm in the victory column. It is the chance to remain undefeated in schoolboy grid circles and prove that the five prevous wins against underdog teams were not flukes.

The Amarillo eleven will be out to wreck the Westerners' victory string and preserve an undefeated season on home sod, although one game was lost away from home to Odessa.

Unless bad weather makes its appearance, Amarillo Stadium should be filled to its 15,150 capacity, and another 1,200 temporary bleachers are expected to be filled to overflowing.

The annual battle between the two schools will be in its 28th year under the Texas Interscholastic league, and Amarillo has a decided edge with 22 wins while Lubbock has won but four times. One game was a tie.

On the basis of earlier games this season, Lubbock has been ruled as the favorite because of its undefeated season, scoring 202 points while limiting the opposition to but 38 in five games. The victories were over Childress, North Side, Plainview, Vernon and Pampa.

The Sandies, meanwhile, have totaled 147 points while giving up 73 in five contests. Amarillo victories were over Denton, Abilene, Paschal and Forest of Dallas. The defeat was to Odessa, which last week was thumped soundly by Abilene.

Westerner Coach Pat Pattison is expecting a hard game with the former District 1-AA rivals. Only in his second year at the helm of the Cowpokes, Coach Pattison would like to end the Amarillo victory string and begin one of his own, but during practice this week he gave little appearance of being optimistic about Lubbock chances and pushed his club through long workouts in preparation for the trip.

Sandies Will Be Ready

In reference to reports from Amarillo that the Sandy squad is in bad shape physically and expecting to get beat, Coach Pattison replied, "They would like for us to believe that, but Amarillo will be ready." He isn't selling them short.

The Westerner squad appears to be in fine shape from one end of the starting lineup to the other. Ends Garnet Reeves and Billy Wright, Tackles Joe Brock and Douglas, Guards Freddie Gray and Douglas Ross, Guards Freddie Gray and Sammy Modrall and Center Douglas Wienke have performed well in previous games and can be counted on to continue their good work.

In the backfield the four regulars are ready to go, with Bobby Brown at quarterback, Wayne Stroud at left half, Charlie Williams at right half and Malcolm Young at fullback. This quartet of speedsters has seen limited service in games prior to the one against Pampa last week, but in that tilt they were forced to play the limit. And the linemen too came in for 48-minute ball.

Work this week has hinged largely around offensive play practices and defensive work. Thursday afternoon the Hub City eleven ran through its repetoire of offensive plays in a dummy scrimmage against another combination until all had participated in the drills on offense and defense.

In the Golden Sandies the Westerners meet a team running from the T-formation and single wing, usually shifting to the single wing from the T.

Ace backfield performer has been Tailback Jack Newby, and the sterling performer is one of the outstanding backs in schoolboy football circles at present, breaking away for 11 touchdowns and kicking 13 extra points to amass a 78 point total, more than half of the team's scoring.

At fullback is Moody Alexander, the son of a Lubbock star in the mid 20's, on offense, with E. G. Sanders at wingback and Bob Beverly at blocking back.

Curtis, Israiel Out

Both regular ends and a starting guard will be on the sidelines at least part of the time. Tommy Curtis has a chipped hip bone and Clyde Israiel has a bad ankle. The wingmen have been ailing since the Paschal game and will be used on offense alone. Guard Tom Edwards has a bad ankle and is not expected to play.

In weight the Sandies and Westerners compare favorably, with Lubbock having a slight advantage. The Cowboy's starting line will average 188, while the tentative Amarillo forward wall hits 175. In the backfield the Sandies are heavier with the exception of 121-pound Sanders, and his weight brings the average down to 150. Newby weighs 162, Beverly 165, and Alexander, 153. Lubbock's four starters average approximately 158 pounds per man.

Morning Avalanche Will Bring Readers Complete Coverage

The Morning Avalanche is going all out to give its readers complete coverage of the important Lubbock-Amarillo High school football game tonight.

Three staff sports writers will cover the game in Amarillo and staff photographers will be on hand to capture action through the camera eye.

Avalanche Teamwork

Al Williams, Avalanche Sports writer, will bring to the public the story of the battle as it occurs in Amarillo.

Choc Hutcheson, another staff sports writer, will bring readers the graphic account of the Golden Sandies' dressing-room after the game.

Earl Scudday, staff sports writer, will tell the public Westerner dressingroom reactions.

If Pioneer Airlines has a chartered flight, pictures of the game will be brought back for use Saturday morning. Other game photographs will be through the courtesy of the Amarillo Globe-News.

Complete Friday Sports

In addition to coverage of the Lubbock-Amarillo game, staff sports writers will cover other games on the South Plains and special correspondents will bring readers detailed accounts of many other grid battles. All these games will be recorded in The Morning Avalanche Saturday.

Read The Morning Avalanche Saturday morning for complete coverage of ALL sports news occurring Friday night.

Riggs' Pro Debut To Be Minus Television

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (INS)—The grand opening of Bobby Riggs' big-time professional tennis troupe at Madison Square Garden next Tuesday night will not be televised despite a whopping offer, reportedly $8,000 for one night, from a video network.

Promoter Riggs announced today that the no-television decision which puts tennis in a category with all Madison Square Garden sports except boxing, had been reached.

One boxing official said he failed to understand the Garden's television policy. Boxing, the sport which televises best and the only attraction in which the participants' earnings are directly dependent on the size of the gate, has the Garden's green light, he said, while all other sports are shut out.

It had been said earlier that the Garden agreed to grant television rights to boxing as a part of its deal in buying out the television-owned Tournament of Champions last spring. Credence was lent to this report when the International Boxing Club, which fused with the Garden to run big time boxing, refused to televise its outdoor summer shows in New York, but announced the indoor Garden shows would be telecast.

In announcing the television ban on pro tennis, Riggs also said today that the doubles portion of the opening tennis show will pit the two Pancho's — Gonzales and Segura — against Jack Kramer and Frank Parker. In singles, Amateur Champ Gonzales plays Pro Champ Kramer and Parker opposes Segura.

Gophers, Texas Picked To Win

Slim Vote Goes To Wildcat Team

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. — Now that we've learned our annual lesson—i.e., nobody in his right mind picks against Notre Dame—we'll take our weekly stab at the football forecast with a crystal ball that gets cloudier by the hour and an average that has slumped to .781 on 193 correct guesses and 54 misses:

Minnesota vs. Michigan—Minnesota isn't likely to let down, with the nine titles and Rose Bowl trip in sight. A healthy vote for Minnesota.

Rice vs. Texas — this ought to be a hum-dinger. Somebody is going to get bounced out of the top ten. Rice is rated ninth and Texas tenth in this week's AP poll, but this corner looks for a Texas triumph despite some Longhorn injuries. One shaky vote for Texas.

Columbia vs. Army — the usual vote for Army.

Oregon vs. Southern California—the loser here can write off its chances of winning the Pacific Coast title and start thinking about next year. Off its showing against California, the nod to Southern Cal.

North Carolina vs. Louisiana State — the unbeaten Tarheels figure to stay that way until they run into Notre Dame Nov. 12. What happens then? That's another story. Right now, a big vote for North Carolina.

Kentucky vs. Southern Methodist — maybe we'll find out how good high-scoring, unbeaten Kentucky really is. SMU has lost Doak Walker at a time when it needs to be at full strength. A slim vote for Kentucky.

Northwestern vs. Iowa—Northwestern pulled the surprise of the year last week in upsetting Michigan after losing to Pitt as well as Minnesota. A team that can beat Michigan should handle Iowa. Northwestern.

Princeton vs. Cornell—Princeton collapsed Brown's bubble last week but hardly figures to pull an upset here. Mark it down for Cornell.

Arkansas vs. Vanderbilt—Vandy has won three in a row since losing its opener. Arkansas has been beaten twice straight. So, Vanderbilt.

Washington vs. California — A team that has won five in a row should have little trouble with one that has lost four straight. California.

Ohio State vs. Wisconsin — The Buckeyes should come back from their shutout by Minnesota, but it won't be easy. Ohio State.

Navy vs. Pennsylvania — the Middies were awakened rudely from their beautiful dream by Wisconsin and suffered injury losses. Pennsylvania.

Oklahoma vs. Nebraska — no trouble in sight for the powerful Sooners until they smack into Missouri. Oklahoma.

Running rapidly over the rest of the weekend's better games:

Southwest and far west.

Baylor over Texas A. and M., Texas Christian over Mississippi, Texas Tech over Arizona, Hardin-Simmons over Houston, Texas Western over New Mexico.

BAKER QUITS SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 20. (AP)—Del Baker quit today as manager of the Sacramento baseball club in the Pacific Coast League. His resignation came in a telegram from San Antonio, Texas.

Homecoming To Spur Cougar Eleven

Cowboys To Oppose Taped Up Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 20. (Special)—University of Houston's Cougars may be well below full strength when they meet Hardin-Simmons' explosive Cowboys here Saturday.

Cougar Trainer Jim Ausley indicated half the team will enter the game taped up like mummies. However, Clyde Lee, head man of football at the University, still can't be called "Cryin' Clyde."

Defense Looked Ragged

"We'll play 'em a ball game," he says. "Sure they'll be tough. They've got it over us in weight, experience and speed. Except in spots our defense looked ragged against West Texas last weekend. We have a lot of work ahead of us this week but we'll be turning every stone to be ready for Hardin-Simmons. At least if the tape holds out."

One factor sure to help the homlings is the game will be played before a University of Houston homecoming crowd.

Records Are Identical

The Cougars this season have won three and lost one. William and Mary's Indians, who opened the Cougars' season, crept away with a 14-13 win. University of Wichita fell 26-6. Southwestern and West Texas state went home short a tie by one point, 13-14.

Hardin - Simmons has an identical record, beating North Texas state, Wyoming university and New Mexico University and losing only to mighty Cincinnati 27-21.

Kickoff At 2 P. M.

The game will be both broadcast and telecast but it is expected to be one of the most heavily attended games in the Cougars' three-year grid history.

Kickoff time is 2 p. m. in Houston's huge Public School stadium.

O. L. Slaton Juniors Defeat Brownfield Eleven, 19 To 7

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 20 (Special)—O. L. Slaton Junior High of Lubbock defeated the local juniors, 19-7, here today in a football contest decided in the third quarter.

O. L. Slaton scored first, with Buddy Ferris plunging 10-yards for the score, but in the third period Brownfield went ahead, 7-6. Following the Brownfield kickoff Lubbock marched 70 yards for a score, with Jimmy Crawford taking a Ferris aerial for the counter.

In the fourth stanza the visitors scored again, with Ferris again passing to Crawford for the six-pointer. Jimmy Welch converted.

RECORD BREAKER

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Every time Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins gains a yard through the air, or scores a touchdown via the aerial route, he sets an all-time National Football League record. The Redskin passing ace holds all of the all-time records in these departments.

South Carolina Gridders Whip Clemson 27-13 In Startling Upset

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 20 (AP)—Underdog South Carolina scored twice in the last period to whip Clemson, 27-13, here today in their 47th annual State Fair football classic.

Quarterback Bo Hagan sneaked over for two South Carolina scores and passed 40 yards to End Jim Pinkerton for a third touchdown and the first Gamecock victory in four games this year.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

SANTA CLARA, Calif., (AP) — Occasionally relations become strained between collegians and residents of a small college town, but not in this city of 10,000, home of Santa Clara University. During summer school vacations the University swimming pool, only one in town, is thrown open to the town's children for recreational purposes.

Levelland Beats Pioneers, 12-7

LEVELLAND, Oct. 20 (Special)—A hard-hitting Levelland B team came from behind a 7 to 0 deficit here tonight and went on to score single touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to defeat Lubbock's Pioneers, 12 to 7, at Lobo Stadium.

The game was highlighted by the sparkling passing of Pioneer Quarterback Sammy Sayers and Levelland's Jack Reid, each turning in a fine performance.

March 85 Yards

After a penalty nullified a Levelland score in the second quarter, the Pioneers took the ball on their own 15-yard line and marched 85 yards to score. A pass from Sayers to Halfback Billy Tucker set up the tally on the 14. Fullback Charles Northington plunged over from four yards out for the tally, with the conversion being made to put the Lubbock eleven out in front, 7-0, shortly before the half.

Second Pioneer Loss

The young Lobos came back strong in the third stanza, driving 70 yards for their first touchdown, with J. B. Lauderdale plunging over from the one-yard marker for the six-pointer. A 28-yard run by Joe Hayes and a pass from Ried to Hayes for 17 yards made the score possible.

After exchanging the ball several times, Levelland put on another drive, with a pass from Reid to Frank Burnet carrying 45 yards to the two, from which point Reid plowed over.

The loss was the second for the Pioneers, who also have three victories and one tie this year.

Twenty-Nine Grid Captains To Pay Honor To Coach Bob Zuppke

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 20 (INS)—Twenty-nine football captains or their representatives will honor Bob Zuppke, their former University of Illinois football coach, at a dinner in Champaign next Thursday.

On Friday, Oct. 28, Zuppke's championship teams of 1914 and 1919 will hold a reunion dinner in honor of the retired 70-year-old coach.

Zuppke's greatest star, Harold (Red) Grange, will be present the following day for the 25th anniversary of Illinois' memorial stadium dedication and will introduce his ex-coach to the crowd attending the Illinois-Michigan game.

Television receiving antennas are comparatively short in length because of the frequencies on which the pictures are sent.

Dunbar Takes 25-0 Victory

Dunbar's Panthers rolled to an easy, 25 to 0, victory over Odessa's Steers last night at Chapman field before an estimated 400 persons in a non-conference football contest.

The Panthers were never in danger of losing, getting the kickoff and rushing to a touchdown in four plays. Following a 30-yard runback of the kickoff by Halfback Otis Walker, Halfback Lawrence Robinson moved the ball to the two yard line on a 15-yard jaunt on the third play of the game. Fullback Eddie Bullock plunged over. Robinson ran with the ball for the conversion.

Colorful Center Returns

Standout center for the Panthers all season — Odell Gary — returned to the lineup in the third quarter after a seige of pneumonia following last week's contest in Abilene. He continued his colorful antics of arm-waving and zigzagging out of the huddle.

The half ended with the local team owning a 13-0 decision, and this margin was increased to 25-0 in the third quarter. The last stanza was scoreless.

Robinson displayed some fleet and fancy running in the second quarter, scampering 70 yards for a touchdown following an Odessa punt that died on the Dunbar 10 yard stripe. Two plays advanced the ball to the 30 and Robinson too the ball around left end for the tally.

The halftime intermission halted another Dunbar drive on the Blackshear High school 15-yard line, a pass from Robert Oliver to Arthur Jones carrying 25-yards to that spot.

Odessa Stymied Completely

Wasting no time in the third stanza, Joe Billy Hewing covered the fumble of an attempted Odessa pass on the Steer 15-yard stripe, and Robinson went over left tackle for the score.

Odessa punted to Oliver on the Dunbar 40 later in the third period, and he returned to the Steer 30. A few plays later he scored on a quarterback sneak from the 15-yard line.

On the last play of the third quarter Dunbar's Walker intercepted a pass. He returned it 30 yards to the Odessa 30, but Lubbock's drive was halted by penalties and an interception by R. B. Rand of Odessa, who was injured on the play and removed from the game.

Odessa never was able to threaten seriously. Their passes were wide and the ground game was unable to make headway. Defensive Guard C. R. Hamilton was a standout for the Steers.

Next week Dunbar plays Vernon here.

ALL TICKETS TO GAME SOLD

All 2,682 of the adult tickets allotted Lubbock for Friday night's Westerner-Sandie game were sold between 7 a. m. and noon today, Athletic Department Business Manager E. J. (Pinkey) Lowrey announced this afternoon. Lowrey said he had wired Amarillo officials a request for additional ducats, but had not yet received an answer. One thousand student tickets for Lubbock followers have not yet been placed on sale, Lowery said.

Raiders Meet Arizona Here Saturday

Techsans Polish Passing Attack

Football fans may see a Texas Tech team, usually resorting to ground gaining, take to the air extensively Saturday when Arizona's Wildcats furnish the competition in Jones Stadium.

The Red Raiders spent a long time yesterday polishing their passing attack and working on defense for the passer. Neither Coach Dell Morgan or Line Coach G. B. Morris were too pleased over either phase of the game in the past and work was intense yesterday.

As a result, the freshmen were trying to rush the passer and the only resemblance to dummy scrimmage was the absence of tackling. By the time Coach Morgan called off that portion of the drill, the passer was being given ironclad protection and the aerial game was working pretty well.

Defenses Look Better

When it ended, Coach Morgan shifted to defense for his offensive units, freshmen running Arizona plays under the direction of Coach Polk Robison. The Wildcats probably will complete passes, but the Raider defenses looked better before darkness halted continued drills.

Work today will be light as the Raiders rest for their second Border conference test of the year on Saturday.

Arizona wound up practice yesterday also and the 37-man Wildcat squad was due to board a train today, with a light workout planned in El Paso at noon. The squad arrives in Lubbock early Saturday morning.

Following are thumbnail sketches of some of the more outstanding players that Tech will have to watch Saturday:

Oscar Carrillo. A junior this year, Carrillo is a right halfback. He stands five feet 10, weighs 177 pounds and is rated as one of the top blocking backs in the conference. Led team with four pass interceptions in 1948.

Fowler Top Punter

John Fowler. Transferred from Orange Coast Junior college in California and is the top punter on the team. He is a right halfback and also is a tricky runner.

Bill Glazier. A sophomore end who has made the varsity in a big way. He stands an even six feet, weighs 175 pounds. Is one of two top pass receivers on the squad.

Charles Hall. Raider players haven't forgotten him. He pounds the line and last year ranked 28th nationally in rushing with 641 yards in 150 carries. He was sixth in the conference. A second all-conference selection in 1948, Hall is a line backer on defense and a ball-carrying demon on offense.

John Kelly. Kelly starred in spring practice and has moved into the quarterback slot on the basis of his ball handling and passing. He's a cool field general and an excellent passer.

Hal Richardson. A senior this year and one of top guards on Arizona squad. Richardson charges hard, is aggressive and will be after all-conference recognition this season.

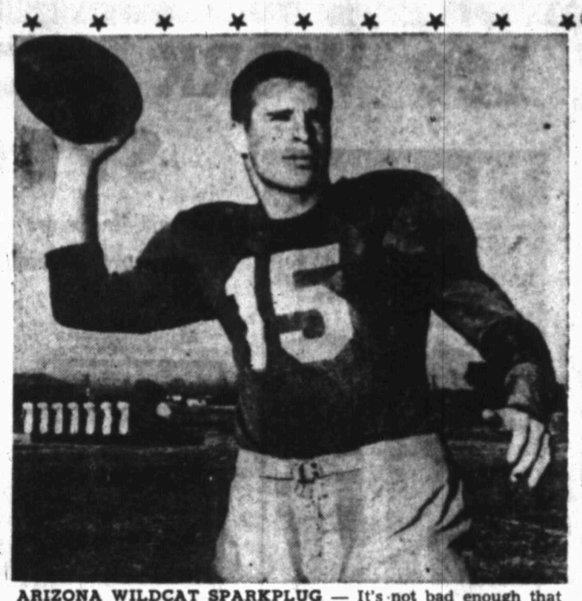

Spilsbury Pass Snatcher

Max Spilsbury. Arizona's top defensive end and a good pass snatcher as well. He is 6-2 and weighs 175 pounds. Likes to crash offensive formations. Is university heavyweight boxing champ and has been top point winner in several rodeos.

Ed Wolgast. Three-letterman at left halfback and a star performer. Wolgast resembles Doak Walker in size, weighing 165 pounds and standing five feet, 11 inches. He ranked 21st nationally in total offense last year (third in the conference) with 1022 yards in 206 plays. His 41 pass completions in 85 attempts ranked him third in the conference last year. Wolgast is good on pass defense, is a deadly tackler and is exceptionally fast, with a good change of pace. He had 10 punt returns for 171 yards in 1948.

HAVE INDIANS SIGN

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—The Washington Redskins are the only team in the Eastern Division of the National Football League to hold a decided advantage over western members. Since they joined the loop in 1937, the Redskins have beaten western teams 23 times and lost only 10 times. The next best eastern team is New York, with 16 victories, 13 losses and four ties in intersectional play.

ARIZONA WILDCAT SPARKPLUG — It's not bad enough that Arizona has a Joe Kelley, a tackle, on its ball club, the Wildcats also have John, pictured above, a quarterback, and Roy, a fullback. John Kelly is the man who makes the T work for Coach Bob Winslow and Texas Tech will see a lot of this passing, running signal caller Saturday afternoon in the Red Raiders' second Border Conference game of the year.

SPORTS Slants

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

Lubbock's Westerners reach their "hour of crisis" tonight when they meet Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm at Amarillo.

I, for one, believe the Westerners are prepared—mentally and physically — for the assignment confronting them.

Coach Pat Pattison has spared no effort in drilling his boys for this one. Elaborate pains have been taken in preparation for every foreseeable possibility.

The Lubbock team is near top physical form. There are, of course, a few of the usual minor ailments, but nothing serious.

The Westerners appear to be in fine fettle mentally. They are not cocky concerning their chances, but they're assuringly confident that they can do the job facing them tonight.

Pattison himself remarked earlier this week, "If the Sandies beat us, it will be because they have a better ball club. We are ready."

That's just the way it looks to me.

In view of the fact that tonight's game has no bearing whatsoever on the state schoolboy race, the tremendous interest in the tussle emphasizes the great natural Lubbock-Amarillo rivalry that has developed over the years.

Barring inclement weather, a packed house of more than 16,000 fans is virtually assured for the scrap. More than 4,000 Lubbock rooters will be on hand, with high hopes of seeing their Westerners end that nine-game victory drouth against the Sandies.

No, the game doesn't count a thing in the official standings, but the fact remains that it is THE game of the year insofar as both cities are concerned. And, no matter how they juggle the Interscholastic league arrangement, it always will remain so.

There has been considerable talk of tonight's show being a case of "Jack Newby vs. the entire Lubbock backfield."

Without question, Amarillo's chances hinge largely on Newby's performance. The tailback is the key man in any single-wing attack. Last year, at tailback, Bobby Brown was at times a "one-man offense" for Lubbock. This season, as a T quarterback, he has became a valuable cog in a well-balanced unit. So. It's only natural that Newby has gained practically all the individual glory for the 1949 Sandies.

Observers who have seen him in action assure me that Newby is indeed a truly fine back—versatile, canny and a good competitor. And, of course, he gets considerable help from his mates in the secondary.

But, as good as Newby is said to be, I don't believe he can equal Stroud, Brown, Young & Williams, the Lubbock firm that specializes in mass production of touchdowns.

As I view it, the game boils down to a question of a unit against an individual.

I'm taking the unit (meaning Lubbock) by a score of 27-7.

Texas Western Sets Border Pace

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 20. (AP)—Texas Western sets a mad offensive race in the hurly-burly Border Conference football race.

The Miners have rolled up 2,161 yards rushing and passing to boast a wide margin over the next top offensive unit, Arizona State of Tempe, which has made 1880 yards.

The amazing ground attack of Texas Western provided the margin. The Muckers have made 1851 yards rushing. The leading passing team is Arizona State of Flagstaff, with 697 yards.

Harvey (Pug) Gabrel of Texas Western is the leading ball-carrier. He has made 467 yards on 68 runs. Second is Wilton Davis of Hardin-Simmons with 395 yards on 54 carries.

In passing it's Cecil Coleman of Arizona State of Tempe, who has completed 28 out of 58 passes for 518 yards. Second is Sam McGowan of New Mexico A. and M. with 40 out of 79 for 498 yards. The best average is held by John Ford of Hardin-Simmons — 23 out of 42 for a percentage of completions of .548.

Coleman is tops in total offense with 544 yards while Gabrel is second with 467.

Bob McChesney of Hardin-Simmons has caught 17 passes for 261 yards to lead in that department and the No. 1 punter is Charles Styron of New Mexico A. and M. with a 43.00 average on 21 kicks.

Veteran And Youngster Will Meet Today In Hardscrabble Semi-Finals

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 20 (AP)—A veteran of the fairways and one of the youngest and brightest stars of women's golf will meet in the semi-finals of the Hardscrabble Women's Open Golf tourney here tomorrow.

The match will pit Mrs. Mildred "Babe" Zaharias, Grossingers, N. Y., against Marlene Bauer, 15-year-old Los Angeles campaigner.

Navy 21, Penn 17 — Navy passes should click this time for upset.

Boston College 21, Georgetown 14 — B. C. rebounding with more power.

Stadium Will Be Dedicated Today

SUNDOWN, Oct. 20. (Spl.)—Slaughter field, Sundown High's new $65,000 football stadium, will be formally dedicated in a pre-game ceremony at Friday night's clash here.

Hockley County Attorney Bill Boedeker will make the dedication address at 7:45 o'clock. The Sundown High band and pep squad also will participate in the dedication ceremony.

As a special feature of the dedication, Miss Betty Seabolt is to be crowned "Sundown Football Queen" by Capt. Bobby Clark of the Sundown grid squad.

The new grandstand, seating 3,000 persons, has been used for earlier games this season, but this will mark the first time that the new fieldhouse has been used. The modernistic fieldhouse has two fully-equipped dressing rooms.

The Sundown-Muleshoe game, in which both teams are seeking their first conference win of the year, will start at 8 o'clock.

Rice Meets Texas In Feature SWC Tilt

Baylor's Bears Go To Aggieland

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Southwest Conference returns to intersectional competition Saturday but the feature is the Rice-Texas family squabble at Austin.

From this battle may come the Conference champion and the Cotton Bowl host team.

Texas, conqueror of Arkansas, is a 6½-point favorite among the gentry who lay the cash on the line. This is surprising in view of the fact that Rice beat the team generally picked to win the Conference title — Southern Methodist.

Baylor Meets Aggies

One other conference game also is on the schedule, with Baylor, the only undefeated, untied outfit left in the circuit, meeting hitherto impotent Texas A. and M. at College Station. The Baylors are solid 14-point favorites to wham the Aggies and kick them definitely out of the Conference race.

Arkansas journeys to Nashville to battle Vanderbilt, Southern Methodist meets Kentucky at Dallas and Texas Christian tackles Mississippi at Fort Worth in a night game.

Walker Won't Play

The SMU-Kentucky game is one of the nation's features and the boys from the Blue Grass State have been established as seven-point favorites. They now hold the seventh spot in the national poll and should be granted a better margin than that considering SMU's low standing. Also, Southern Methodist definitely will play without the services of All-America Doak Walker, who took the count from a flu germ.

Arkansas is an even bet against Vanderbilt and Texas Christian ought to beat Mississippi, a team that was slaughtered by Kentucky. Anyway, this game and SMU's joust with Kentucky should serve as a comparison between TCU and SMU.

Owls Have Advantage

Thus far in intersectional play this season, the Southwest Conference has won nine, lost five and tied one, so it can not drop behind this week even if it loses all three games against outside foes.

If Rice is "up" as high as it was against Southern Methodist, Texas won't win the ball game. But it is hardly likely that the Owls can reach that state two weeks in a row. Texas also had rather beat Rice than most anybody.

The Owls have the advantage in experience and should boast a better running game. But Texas passing is something to behold —even better than Rice's. The Texas line should match the Rice forward wall. It looks like another high scoring game.

A. and M. has about as much chance against Baylor as it had against Texas Christian. Enough said.

Minnesota's Gophers Head For Ann Arbor And Michigan Tilt

MINNESOTA, Oct. 20. (AP) — Minnesota's football team headed for Ann Arbor tonight to find out whether this year will be a success for the Gophers, who will be at near-peak physical condition for Saturday's game.

So far as the Gophers are concerned, the season will be a success if they can beat Michigan — even if they lose a game or two the rest of the year. On the other hand, if Michigan should win, Minnesota's year will be a flop from the players' standpoint.

So far, Michigan has had the better of the series, winning 24 to the Gophers' 13. Two games have ended in ties.

Reports from Michigan indicated that star Halfback Leo Koceski and Center Bob Erben will be "doubtful starters" according to coach Bennie Oosterbaan, because of injuries.

Minnesota's squad is near top form physically. Only three players are below their best, but even they will be available if the going gets rough.

Otherwise, the squad appears to be ready to go at top speed. Right half Ralph McAlister and Fullback Ken Beirsdorf, injured early in the season, are listed as recovered.

The team will arrive at Jackson, Mich., tomorrow. It will workout and remain there overnight, going to Ann Arbor by bus Saturday morning.

WAR HURTS BOTH FOOTBALL LOOPS

Yankees, Forty-Niners Tangle In Top Pro Grid Game Sunday

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 — New York is going to find out Sunday what happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable object.

That will be the occasion when San Francisco's 49ers of the All-America Football conference, representing the irresistible force, crashes head-on into the immovable object, as exemplified by the New York Yankees.

At least, that's the impression we got today from Red Strader, who might be a mite prejudiced since he coaches the Yankees.

"The Yanks," said Red, and we won't dispute him, "have the strongest defense of any team in the land. The 49ers are beyond all doubt the greatest offensive club in football."

Cutting Each Other's Throats

George Halas, who controls the monsters of the midway, otherwise known to fame as the Chicago Bears of the rival National Football league, might be disposed to dispute Red's appraisal. George thinks his Bears are top hands at toting or tossing an inflated pigskin from here to there.

The Bears hope to convince everybody his boys are best when they mangle the New York Giants in the Polo Grounds.

These two games stress the folly of the current war between the two major leagues. Here are the two prime attractions of professional football cutting each other's financial throats.

Every pro club needs an attendance of 30,000 a game merely to break even. Now here we have two games, either of which could draw 60,000 if the other weren't playing on the same date. As it is, either will be lucky to draw 30,000.

The warfare is a boon to the players but it's a financial headache to the owners. What it must be for Ted Collins we will leave to your imagination.

Ted owns the New York Bulldogs of the NFL and he has drawn a total of 17,000 (by charitable count) in three games. Now Ted makes plenty as agent for Kate Smith, the thrush, and others but, as one sage remarked, he'll be in a dubious spot if Kate ever gets a prolonged attack of laryngitis.

And while we are on the subject, we are reminded that virtually every pro team is angling to land Leon Hart, Notre Dame's 262-pound end. And if that young man plays hard to get he may wind up with one of the largest salaries ever handed a collegian to play pro football.

"Anybody could use him," says Strader. "Of course, I think a fellow weighing, say, 220, is big enough to compete with anybody. But when you get a lad weighing 262 and who combines great speed and mobility with his size and power, you really have something."

Red also spoke lovingly and longingly of Minnesota's two giant linesmen. Nomellini and Tonnemaker, Syracuse's great passer, Bernie Custis and Boston university's sterling quarterback, Agganis.

These fellows also are due to receive some nice bids from the pro ranks when and if they decide to give the pro game a whirl.

It must be nice to have brains but you'll note it doesn't hurt to have brawn.

Redskins Lead NFL In Offense

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20 (Special)—Washington, for the second successive week, leads the National Football league clubs in total offense according to the latest team statistics.

The Redskins, with the peerless Sammy Baugh enjoying one of his greatest seasons, have gained 1655 yards with one-third of the season completed. They have made 1026 yards passing and 629 running.

Second to Washington is the Chicago Bears who have an even 1500 yards divided among 893 passing, 593 running and 14 yards on laterals. Los Angeles is third with 1409 and Philadelphia fourth with 1210.

In rushing Pittsburgh's single wing attack shows the way with 753 yards gained, with Green Bay second with 745, the Cards third with 721, Philadelphia next with 717, Washington fifth with 629, and Los Angeles sixth with 626.

Washington has the best percentage completing passes with 52.2; Philadelphia is second with 50.7 followed by the Bears with 49.6, the New York Giants with 49.5, and the New York Bulldogs with 49.4.

Los Angeles supplanted the Bears as the punting leader with an average of 46.8 to 46.2 for the Chicagoans.

Los Angeles also continues to hold the lead in scoring with 127 points followed by Washington and the New York Giants, each with 107 points. Los Angeles has 16 touchdowns to 15 for Washington and 14 for the Giants.

Yankee Outfielder, Hank Bauer To Marry Miss Charlene Friede

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20 (INS)—Outfielder Hank Bauer of the world champion New York Yankees and Miss Charlene Rriede will be married Saturday at the Annuniciation church in Kansas City.

The couple met while Bauer played with the Kansas City Blues of the American Association. Miss Friede was a secretary in the club's office. They became engaged last December.

Bishop Werner Speaks At Meet

be integrated into our way of life."

Prior to the evening meeting, speakers were Dr. Evelyn M. Duvall of Chicago, executive secretary of the National Council on Family relations; Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, who substituted for Dr. Warren Johnston of Fort Worth, who was unable to attend; Mrs. B. B. Wedemeyer of Waco, president of the Woman's Society of Christian service in the Central Texas conference, and Carl S. McFall of Frederick, Okla.

In her speech, Mrs. Wedemeyer referred to 'woman's unique position and far-reaching influence" in three particular areas; Home, the social life of the community, and the church.

Dr. McFall spoke on "Methodist Men in a Day of Christian Advance." The afternoon program also included a forum, "Where We Are and Where We Go Next in the Advance," with missionary emphasis.

The two-day program is a part of the Methodist four-year program, "The Advance for Christ and His Church." Bishop Martin is presiding at sessions.

A communion service will be conducted from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock this morning, followed by the closing session from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon. The program follows: 8:30-8:45, opening worship; 8:45-9:15, address by Bishop Martin; 9:15-10:15, forum, "Where We Are and Where We Go Next in the Advance," with teaching and preaching emphasis; 10:15-10:30, recess; 10:30-11:15, address, "Our Faith in Christ," Bishop Ralph S. Cushman of St. Paul, Minn.; 11:15-12, closing worship, benediction.

Both speakers in Thursday morning's opening session, speaking on different subjects, referred to confusion and bewilderment.

Dr. Duvall spoke on changes in family life and resultant confusion and bewilderment and Dr. Robinson spoke on theological confusion and bewilderment.

Speaking on "Why Do We Need Renewed Emphasis on Our Faith?", Dr. Robinson said, "I think it its about time we stop talking about what the war has done for people and face the fact that it is confusion and bewilderment in religion," he said. The war had its effect indirectly, but many good people are confused and bewildered theologically, he said.

"The place for most of them to get their help," he added, "is at the altar—in church or at home.

"I beg you today for your sake, your friends' sake, the world's sake and for Christ's sake to forget, in your preaching at least, for awhile that the atom bomb may end all living. Let us stress the fact that there is no great living without faith in God. If the atom bomb did come, it would kill many, but it is my idea the brush, the forest (used as synonyms for confusion and bewilderment) will devour more than the bomb or sword."

Dr. Duvall speaking on "Rearing Our Children in the Christian Faith," said, "There has been more change in family life in our generation than ever before in the history of mankind."

She said, "My whole philosophy is that our trouble in family living comes from disruption being in a transition age."

She listed three rules parents may follow in rearing children in the Christian faith: "By living it vitally themselves, realizing nothing a child hears is as important as what he sees; by sharing opportunities for spiritual development, letting a child take part in activities and share not only family successes but family problems, and by giving children basic security through love, time and attention.

She listed several changes that have taken place in family life.

As result of the industrialized age, families no longer are held together by economic necessity. Another factor in the change is that families "are more on the go," not being rooted on the old home site as they once were. A third factor is that families "are considerably more democratic," having moved away from the autocratic age when papa was undisputed head of the house, children were to be seen and not heard and frequently were hushed when the father arrived.

The trend toward numerous activities outside the home has led to "more individualization in living" and each family member needs a place—in the home—where he can be accepted and heard and therefore talk through and feel his anxieties and disappointments and worries and dreams.

In that respect, the modern family has more opportunity than the family in grandmother's day. Grandmother was busy making her bread and churning her milk and doing many other duties and did not have time to listen to talk and consider the emotional security of her family. "Rearing children is not a job for parents alone, but is a community project," she said.

To strengthen family life, churches can provide more adequate pre-marital counseling, she said. She suggested pastors equip themselves for such counseling. They can provide more adequate marriage counseling, so married couples may find a place to get the kind of help they need.

Churches can provide wholesome recreation for teen-age boys and girls to get acquainted and develop patterns of social life, she said.

Further, specific education should be offered, especially in the church, where those taking part can learn what it means to be a husband or wife; to be a father or mother.

Churches can expand parent education, getting groups of parents of children of given ages together with the object of getting parents to think through their own confusion on child rearing.

Such courses might be taught by a pastor, a director of religious education or a mother with advanced training. Excellent materials for such courses are available, she said.

The speaker has two children. Her husband, Dr. Sylvanus M. Duvall, is professor of social science and religion at George Williams college in Chicago.

Slavs Win UN Post

in the 11-nation Security Council with Yugoslavia.

Vishinsky charged Yugoslavia's election was part of a plot by the western powers. Edvard Kardelj, Tito's foreign minister told reporters later that he was astonished at this charge.

Kardelj said a "torrent of threats" from the Cominform countries is harming the cause of peace. He described Yugoslavia's election as a powerful contribution to peace and to the authority of the Security Council.

Vishinsky attacked Yugoslavia both before and after the election.

When Romulo called for the voting, Vishinsky was recognized on a point of order, a device often used by delegates to bring up anything they desire. He launched an attack on a Yugoslav statement to the press which he said distorted the Soviet position in the election.

Romulo pounded the gavel, calling him out of order. But Vishinsky persisted until he had completed a short statement.

After the balloting Vishinsky was recognized again, to "explain his vote." The Russian foreign minister, obviously angry and more red-faced than usual, shouted his charges of an American plot.

Again the President's gavel banged, but Vishinsky kept on until he completed his statement.

The assembly next elected members to the economic and social council in routine fashion. Those members are:

Mexico, Iran, United States, States, Pakistan, Canada, and Czechoslovakia.

The Security Council is set up to maintain peace. It is only organizatio in the UN in which the veto exists. The Russians have used the veto 14 times to defeat decision of the majority of the council.

The election of Yugoslavia to the council means mainly that Russia loses a puppet teammate in debate. It will have no effect on major decisions.

been forecast missed the city by 30 miles and slid off to the northeast.

However, no one was really mad about it, especially farmers, cotton pullers and football fans. Besides, it served warning that cold weather is on the way and the time is near to get homes, cars and personal belongings in shape for winter months ahead.

Meanwhile, the cold wave continued to send temperatures skidding over the Midwest and plains states with three dead and one missing, the Associated Press reported.

The cold front, much weakened, did move over the Lubbock area, dropping temperatures some, but failed to live up to previous expectations.

Late last night, the front backed up from the southeast, causing a line of thunderstorms to develop that dropped showers in the Lubbock area shortly before midnight, and in scattered points near Crosbyton, Spur, near Floydada and Dickens and in the Post section. No heavy rain was reported.

The front was not severe in any part of the state, the Amarillo area reporting 42 degrees.

Early today, Brownfield and points to the southwest of Lubbock reported considerable thunderstorm activity although no heavy precipitation had been reported to a late hour.

The Associated Press gave this picture over the rest of the nation.

Snow swirled into the great plains on icy winds Thursday, leaving three dead and one missing in the snow blanketed Rockies.

The wintry blasts brought overcoat weather to an entire quarter of the country—from the Dakotas Nebraska and Kansas westward to the Pacific ocean.

In the Atlantic, storm damaged craft began limping into American ports. Two gales pounded the sea lanes for the fourth straight day. The Coast Guard reported the 72-ton Danish fishing boat Elsa apparently sank with the loss of 10 men between Greenland and Iceland.

Barrington said.

Barrington called authorities at Lamesa.

Justice Campbell said Johnson's wife told him that the farmer had been in ill health for some time, and had been released from a veteran's hospital only a few weeks ago.

Lived In Area Three Years

Johnson had been a resident of Dawson county for the past three years.

The body was brought to Lamesa by a Higgenbotham Funeral home ambulance. Services will be Saturday afternoon at the Rock Springs Baptist church in Mills county near Brownwood. Burial will be in the Rock Springs cemetery.

Survivors are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Ovella Orr of O'Donnell; a son, Herbert L. of Odessa; seven brothers, Fred and Buster of Comanche, Jim of Crystal City, Earl of Dallas, Sam of Corpus Christi, Tom of Alvarado, and Ause of Millette; and three sisters, Mrs. Sudie Walvaren, and Mrs. Mattie Throckmorton, both of Grandview, and Mrs. Bessie Dale, Dallas.

APARTMENT HOUSE GUTTED BY FIRE—Only charred black walls and a badly-scorched icebox remain at the spot of an explosion which injured three persons in an apartment house at 2215 Thirteenth about 6:15 p.m. Thursday. The blast was blamed on a small gas stove, removed by firemen, which stood beneath the window opening onto the hallway from which the picture was taken. Two of the fire victims were standing at the head of a small stairway to the right of the window when the blast occurred. Loss was estimated by the owner at $12,000. (Staff Photo.)

Three Burned In Explosion Here

the gas fumes exploded," he said.

When asked about the explosion, he replied: "I don't remember—just a big flame. I didn't wait around to see."

Robinson and Mrs. Maze apparently left the house through an outside door opening off the stairs on the east side of the house near the point where they had fallen.

Several other occupants of the structure, owned by William A. Wilbanks, of 3022 Twentieth, were absent at the time of the fire.

Calls For Ambulance

Reeves Stewart, who lives on the bottom floor of the place, returned home from a nearby drugstore with his two children just as firemen arrived. Mrs. Stewart called for an ambulance and notified the fire department before running from the house when she heard the explosion.

Maze said he had just driven up to the house when the explosion occurred. He immediately placed Robinson and his wife in the car and drove them to the hospital. Haynie and his wife were taken to St. Mary's hospital by a passing taxicab.

Occupants of the lower floor of a connecting garage apartment, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shea and their infant daughter, were absent at the time of the fire. Wilbanks said the second floor of the garage apartment had been vacated Wednesday.

The owner said Robinson had been redecorating his apartment, located in the west-center portion of the second floor, in preparation for his wife's return from Portland Me., today. It was believed the gas pipe connection to the stove may have been loosened when the floor was covered with linoleum, a spark of unknown origin setting off the blast.

A witness to the fire, Bob Ramsay, told newsmen flames "about 30 feet high" were shooting through the roof of the house when he arrived at the scene a brief time after the explosion.

Damage to personal property of the tenants had not been set last night. Most furniture not totally destroyed was badly warped and blistered, however, and all clothing was burned. The entire lower floor of the structure was damaged by water, and sections of the ceiling were sagging precariously.

Several hundred spectators gathered in the roped off street to watch efforts of firemen. Wilbanks said the loss was only partially covered by insurance.

The fire which destroyed the cotton about 5:20 p. m. was blamed on sparks from a perforated section of a truck's exhaust pipe, "or possibly a cigaret which had been left on the truck bed prior to loading, firemen said.

Orvie Hicks, of Idalou, driver of the truck, told firemen he was driving toward Lubbock about four miles west of Idalou when he looked back and saw flames in the rear of the truck.

Hicks pulled to a stop beside a highway patrol car driving east on the highway, and jumped from the truck. The patrolmen and farm laborers in nearby fields ran to the truck and aided in toppling the heavy bales from the bed of the vehicle in to the barrow pit beside the road.

Firemen arrived at the scene less than 10 minutes after the fire was discovered, but were unable to save the majority of the bales from destruction.

The cotton, owned by R. T. Lambert, of Idalou, was enroute from the nearby Wienke and Lambert gin to the West Texas compress in Lubbock.

Lambert said a major part of the four slightly-burned bales could be salvaged.

sign of trouble.

Taking no sides in the bitter inter-service row that has flamed out from Capitol Hill during the past two weeks, Eisenhower said the admirals and the generals who have testified at cross purposes against each other are "all distinguished Americans."

He said the President agreed with him.

Top Brass Named

Following Eisenhower to the witness chair, Gen. Clark, chief of the Army's field forces, pinned the blame for inter-service squabbling on the top brass in Washington.

Clark, who led American troops in the Italian campaign during World War II, told the committee bluntly:

"There's more unification in the field than there is in Washington. There must be some decentralization of control from Washington if we are going to get unification."

Earlier today, the committee heard Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, deny that the Army is plotting to whittle the U. S. Marines down to a mere "police force" and to deprive the famed Leathernecks of their "right to fight."

the used car dealers had reported their collections about 50 per cent complete, Kerr said. Their totals were not included in the above figure, however.

More Reports Seen Today

Additional reports from workers were expected today and within a week or ten days campaign leaders were hoping for complete reports from all of the teams if possible.

J. Ray Dickey, general chairman of the drive, urged workers to complete their contacts of prospective donors as soon as possible.

"We hope to be able to wind up the campaign within a week or ten days," Dickey said. "A long drawn-out campaign is discouraging to solicitors as well as donors."

Masons Stage Program Here

One hundred and two Scottish Rite Masons attended the Feast of Tabernacles last night in the Masonic temple, Main and Ave. K.

Principal speaker was George W. McClesky, Lubbock attorney, who spoke on "The Significance of Feast of Tabernacles." Vaughn E. Wilson, Lubbock city attorney, was master of ceremonies for the gathering.

Ed Parker, who has served 15 years as secretary of the South Plains Scottish Rite club, was recognized for his long tenure with the presentation of a fountain pen and pencil set.

Other Speakers Listed

Speakers other than McClesky and Wilson included R. L. Durham, John D. Haygood, James A. Bowron, Gerald E. Jarvis, W. L. Joosten, sr., Alton L. Abbott, Frank G. Campbell, W. R. McDuffie, Ollie Lanham, Edwin H. Boedeker and Syrian E. Marbut.

The food was prepared and served by members of Lubbock chapter 76, Order of Eastern Star. Mrs. Cliff Elliott was chairman of the kitchen and Mrs. Lester Ericson was co-chairman.

Area Towns Represented

Scottish Rite Masons within this area who attended were from Brownfield, Levelland, Idalou, Petersburg, Sundown, Morton, Clarendon, Richardson, Post, Roswell, N. M., Lubbock and from LAFB.

Also attending were Scottish Rite Masons from the Dallas Consistory, Jacksonville, Fla., Charleston, S. C., Galveston, Houston Consistory, Topeka, Kan., Shreveport, La., Santa Fe, N. M., Guthrie, Okla., Dayton, O., Little Rock, Ark., and Austin Consistory.

Tax Hike Request

country's fiscal dilemma is reduction of government expenditures along with readjustment of the tax structure—not an overall increase.

George declared that elimination of "burdensome" taxes could stimulate business and production and create a gross national income of "260 to 300 billion dollars a year." He added that, despite the record $50 billion spending mark of the last Congress "necessity will compel" reduction of expenditures next year.

Republican spokesmen fired a broadside.

Cash Basis Advocated

Sen. Republican leader Wherry, Neb., said the "government must be cut down to size" as a partial step toward the "pay-as-you-go" operating basis he advocated. He added:

"The Truman administration has taken the easy road—borrow and spend, charge it to the national debt, mortgage the future of America."

Rep. Doughton (D-NC) chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, said "the President's recommendations will be carefully studied."

The President said the country is in its financial dilemma because the 80th Congress passed the $4 billion "rich man's tax reduction bill" over his veto, without taking into consideration the $35 billion fixed obligations of the government.

It seemed obvious that the President—by his negative replies to questions about his plans—means to allow as much non-governmental pressure as possible to build up for settlement of the disputes.

A reporter asked what he intends to do if mediation efforts break down. The President said we'll cross that bridge when we come to it.

Fans Invade Amarillo

football weather will shape up for the fans by gametime.

Skies should be partly cloudy today, and temperatures tonight at Amarillo should be between 50 and 60 degrees by game time, according to the Weather Bureau station at the Municipal airport here.

Judging from advance sales Thursday, R. H. Forbes, Sant aFe passenger agent, said that about 300 persons would ride a special train to leave for Amarillo at 4 p. m. "However, we could handle at least twice that number, should there be a last minute rush for seats," he added.

Courtesy Cars Planned

The train is scheduled to arrive in Amarillo at 6:30 p. m., where Amarillo fans will meet the train with "courtesy cars" to take Lubbock fans to their destinations.

Pioneer Airlines announced a special flight for air-minded fans leaving for Amarillo at 1:45 p.m. The 24-passenger plane will arrive in Amarillo at 2:30 p. m., and will leave for the return trip about 10 p.m., arriving in Lubbock by 11:15 p.m.

About 15 chartered T.N.M. and O. buses will take the football team, the band, and many Senior High school students to the game. The football team will leave shortly after a pep rally this morning in the auditroium, reported Floyd Toney, high school principal.

The band and about 400 students will leave from the Eighteenth street side of the high school at 2 p.m., and will arrive in Amarillo shortly before 6 p.m. The students are scheduled to arrive back in Lubbock sometime between 1:30 and 2 a.m., Saturday.

Students were advised by Honey to take lunches with them on the buses, as they may not have time to eat in downtown restaurants in Amarillo.

"We are asking the co-operation of parents in not requesting that students be allowed to leave early today," Honey said. "We are making a special concession in letting out school at 1:30," he explained.

Princess Denounces Falling Moral Code

British Marriage Specialists Split Over Attack On Divorce

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Specialists on British marriage problems split up today over Princess Elizabeth's attack against evils of divorce.

Another problem involving British morals was aired publicly when the Labor government promised to help outlaw slot machines dispensing contraceptives.

Britain's Marriage Reform committee deplored a warning by Princess Elizabeth to the Mothers' union Tuesday that divorce threatens the stability of British family life.

But the Marriage Guidance council, whose 100 branches throughout England attempt to build happy marriages, defended the rayol speaker.

Buckingham palace declined comment. Nothing further was heard on the subject from the Princess, 22-year-old heiress apparent to the British throne who is married and a mother herself.

Her statement against what she called Britain's falling moral standards was one of the strongest ever made by British royalty, which usually avoids discussing social or political problems in public.

The case of the sale of contraceptives by slot machines came up in Parliament.

"I have concluded that the social mischief involved is so serious as to require immediate action," Home Secretary James Chuter Ede told the House of Commons.

He said a model law will be drafted for consideration of all county and borough councils. This approach was chosen rather than a national law, he said, because enforcement will be largely a local matter.

Funeral Services Are Slated Today For Levelland Man

LEVELLAND, Oct. 20 (Special) — Funeral services are to be conducted at 3:30 p. m. Friday in Whitharral Baptist church for Francis Vinyard, 21, of Levelland route 3, who was killed Wednesday morning when he was crushed between a collapsing gin pole and "headache" post while loading an oil rig truck about eight miles southwest of Whiteface.

Burial will be in Whitharral cemetery under direction of Geo. C. Price Funeral home of Levelland.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vinyard of Levelland route 3.

Texan To Quit Post As Young Demo Head

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Roy Baker, 35-year-old Sherman, Tex., lawyer, said today he is retiring as president of the young Democratic club. His successor will be elected at a convention in Chattanooga Nov. 17-19.

Baker recalled to reporters that he tried to quit last April, at the end of his two year term, but the national committee wanted him to stay until next month's meeting.

He said the young Democrats now have 5,000,000 members in every state except Louisiana and Mississippi, and they hope to organize in those states "when the time comes."

Asked if there are any states righters among the Young Democrats in the South which would make it difficult to organize in states like Louisiana and Mississippi, Baker replied:

"You don't find many young Dixiecrats. All young people there are young Democrats. It is significant that there is not as much difference of opinion among young people as in times past. They are getting away from sectionalism."

Finely diced peeled apples may be added to griddle cake batter. Serve with crisp strips of bacon or grilled ham. And pass the maple syrup, of course!

CANDIDATES ARE UNDER STUDY

HST Faces Problem Of Naming New Top Economic Official

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—President Truman was reported today combing through a list of candidates to take over the top spot on his economic advisory council following the resignation of Dr. Edwin G. Nourse.

Unless the President finds a successor to Nourse by Nov. 1, the role of ranking government economist will fall to Leo Keyserling, 41, a former New Deal lawyer who is now the council's vice chairman.

A high official said it is considered almost certan, however, that Keyserling will not be the final appointee.

No Choice Made

There was mention, among other possibilities, of Winfield William Riefler, 52, federal reserve economist. The White House said no choice has been made.

Another source, reporting that several persons have been sounded out, forecast privately there may be difficulty in filling the top spot in view of past conflict within the three-man council.

If Keyserling remains long in the acting chairmanship, some change in council policy seems certain.

Nourse was generally rated the council's most "conservative member; Keyserling is proud to have been among the earliest of the young men who rallied to the standard of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Nourse resigned, associates say because he felt the council should not mix in politics in such ways as promoting administration programs before Congress. This to Nourse was vital —while a President might have to temper his economics in the light of politics, he held, the council should stand as an institution, not identified with any party and serving any administration.

Keyserling and the third council member, Dr. John D. Clark, held that the council had the same obligation to press for Mr. Truman's economic policies as, for instance, the secretary of state had to support foreign policy proposals.

Thus, Keyserling and Clark, after outvoting Nourse 2 to 1 for strict anti-inflation controls a year ago, went before Congress to press their view. Nourse would not testify.

Three days ago it became known that Nourse was urging Mr. Truman to accept his year-old resignation. Two days ago, in an address, he spoke his alarm at seeing "government slipping back into deficits as a way of life." Yesterday his resignation was accepted.

Nourse will not return to the Brookings institution, of which he was formerly vice president and senior economist. He is one year past the institution's retirement age of 65.

The council is now starting work on its fourth annual report, which forms the basis for the President's economic message each January to the new session of Congress. Nourse, in view of his planned departure, notified his colleagues a month ago he would not take leadership in drafting the new report.

In his letter accepting Nourse's resignation Mr. Truman was friendly. He offered "my thanks and my appreciation of the valuable service you have rendered."

Nourse voiced "surprise and distress" that his criticism of federal deficits should have been construed by some as an attack on the Truman administration. He noted that Congress, too, had a big hand in the federal deficit—as shown in last year's decision to cut taxes.

If Riefler is chosen as the chairman, informed officials said, the council will be led by an economist whose outlook in general jibes with Nourse's. Riefler once quit the treasury because he disagreed with certain policies of former Secretary Henry Morgenthau.

CANYON REEF LIME IS GOAL

Four New Scurry Tests Slated By Henry Ford II, Associates

Thomas W. Doswell, Henry Ford II, and others, have staked locations for four new explorations on the west side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County. All are to explore the Canyon reef lime at about 7,200 feet.

No. 4 C. W. Addison will be located 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

Their No. 5 C. W. Addison will be 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

Location for No. 6 C. W. Addison is to be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

The fourth project will be 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

All of the ventures are about one-half mile south of Knapp. Drilling is to begin immediately with rotary tools.

DRILLING TO 7,000 FEET IS PLANNED

N. G. Landrum of Dallas No. 1 Crowder School is to be a stepout from production from the Canyon reef on the southwest side of the furtherest northwest extension to the Kelly field of Central Scurry county.

It is to drill 7,000 feet, using rotary tools.

The proposed drillsite will be 147.580 feet from south and east lines of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey, and five miles southwest of Snyder.

NO. 7 JOLLY COMPLETED FOR 1,745 POTENTIAL

Cities Service Oil Company No. 7 Jolly has been completed in the North Snyder field for a calculated daily potential of 1,745 barrels of 42.5-gravity oil.

The 24-hour potential was based on a six hour flow through a three-quarter inch tubing choke, natural with no water.

Gas-oil ratio of the new oil was 769-1.

It was completed from open hole between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 6,546 feet and the total depth at 6,856 feet in the Cayon reef.

The new producer is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey.

GARZA COUNTY TEST TO BE ABANDONED

R. S. Anderson of Midland, and others, No. 1 L. A. Nance, Southeast Garza county wildcat, two and one-half miles northwest of Justiceburg, has been plugged and abandoned as a failure in the San Andres.

It had a slight show of gas and a rainbow of oil in a drillstem test at 2,395-2,410 feet, a slight show of oil at 2,450-60 feet. It made sulphur water at 2,525 feet. It drilled to a total depth at 2,555 feet.

This failure is 330 feet from north and west lines of section 42, block 6, H&GN survey, and one mile south of Post Development Company No. 1 Payne, a San Andres failure drilled in 1921. The dry hole is also one and three-quarter miles northwest of P. W. Anderson No. 1-A Miller, which was recently plugged and abandoned.

DRILLSTEM TEST FOR GAINES WELL SET

A drillstem test is to be run in the Canyon reef lime of the Pennsylvanian at Forest Oil Corporation and Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-A Parmer, slated deep wildcat in Southeast Gaines county, 15 miles southeast of Seminole.

The prospector encountered soft drilling at approximately 11,222 feet. The zone from there down to the current bottom had shown porosity and some oil stains.

Operators have not officially picked the top of the Canyon reef.

The wildcat is scheduled to dig to 15,000 feet, if necessary, to find and explore the Ellenburger. Location is 860 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of labor 12, league 317, Parmer County School Land survey.

Sister Persuades Surrender Of Man Indicted For Murder

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Lynn Stephens, under a 20-year old indictment for murder of a prohibition agent, revealed today the woman who persuaded him to surrender is his sister.

Stephens terms his sister, now living in suburban Alamo Heights, a "very fine woman." He said she shunned publicity and had not been to see him since she turned him over to Sheriff Owen Kilday early this week.

At the time of the ambush slaying of Prohibition Agent Charles Stevens during a gun battle his sister owned and operated a Nueces cafe.

She was not implicated in the ring, which was broken up when the state indicated about 50 persons for conspiracy.

She testified at the trial of another sister, who under the alias of Alice Smith, was alleged to have flagged down the prohibition agent's car the night of the slaying.

At her trial the sister now residing here testified Stephens compelled the two sisters to go with him the night of the roadside battle, and that she thought her brother was insane.

Stephens, recuperating in a hospital here from an operation in an Alice hospital, said the sister known under the alias of Alice Smith at the time of the killing now "lives thousands of miles from here."

Onions left in the ground over winter will sprout of themselves in the spring, even before all the snow is gone, giving tasty early greens.

Official Makes Quick Trips To Major Cities

Cochran County Judge Flies Own Plane Throughout State

BY EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

MORTON, Oct. 20. — When Cochran county Judge Glenn W. Thompson wants to go any place, he likes to get there in a hurry. The Judge is one public official who owns and operates his own airplane. He has been flying since 1931 and received his first pilot's license in 1933 at Dallas Aviation school.

At the present time Judge Thompson owns a four-place Piper Super-Cruiser which he keeps at the Morton airport on the east side of town. His business trips take him to Austin, Dallas, El Paso and Roswell. He is often accompanied by his family, one or more of the county commissioners, and sometimes Sheriff H. D. Crockett.

Judge Feels At Ease

Judge Thompson says he feels perfectly at ease in the air at all times. He prefers flying to any other method of travel, especially when he has to go any distance.

The Judge took up flying at a private school when a change in the Air Force requirements prevented him from entering military aviation. When he completed his course at Dallas, a course which also qualified him as a master mechanic, he went Wichita Falls with the old Long and Harmon airline.

"In that job I did a little bit of everything," Judge Thompson said. "I was weather observer, traffic manager and ticket seller — everything but pilot."

Political History Given

Judge Thompson came to Cochran county in 1935 where he engaged in farming until 1940. In that year he entered politics as a county commissioner. He served two terms in that office and was elected judge in 1946. He was re-elected in 1948. He still has 700 acres of land which is being farmed by Howard Johnson and B. H. Tucker.

The Judge has done most of his flying as a pilot since taking office. Official business accounts for many of his trips, especially those to Austin.

Judge Thompson has never had a forced landing or any serious difficulty with his airplane. He is a conservative pilot and is careful in planning his flights. He checks the weather and route meticulously.

Bad Weather Prevails

Once the Judge took off from Austin when the ceiling was down to about 700 feet. He thought they would run out of bad weather when they got away from the capital. After taking off it was apparent that the ceiling was no higher in any direction so the Judge decided to return to the

New Picture Of World Presented By First New Atlas Produced In More Than Decade

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—You look at a new set of maps and you see a lot of places you'd like to visit.

Like Lake Cargoggagoggmanch auggoggchaubunagungamaugg; 45 letters.

It's in Massachusetts and is pronounced: "You fish on your side; I'll fish on my side, and nobody fish in the middle."

Chargogg—etc., which has given newspaper typesetters occupational cramps across the wearisome years, is the longest word in the atlas just issued by Rand McNally & Company, which specializes in getting out new maps and throwing new words at the people in the form of dictionaries.

New Picture Presented

The new map book is called the "Cosmopolitan World Atlas."

It presents an entirely new picture of the world we live in. A staff of experts toiled more than 125,000 hours during an eight-year period to produce the first new atlas in more than a decade.

It's like going to school all over again to finger through the 352 pages, 111 of which are maps.

"We tried in this book to conform to world conditions," says Andrew McNally III, president of the publishing company.

The world had done a lot of changing since the last atlas was put out, so this one has a "new look," which, according to the publishers, has a "world approach."

National Units Shown

For example, foreign maps precede American maps, which reverses the usual form. The international approach gets the emphasis.

In the foreign section, the editors and draftsmen display maps that show areas that are closely knit. Like the Benelux nations, such as Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg, which are a natural unit, even though they are separate countries.

All of this is designed to help busy correspondents who view the situation from Washington and dads who do homework for little kids who have to take a lot of sass from teacher if they don't know one country from another.

Americans have come to realize that World war II kicked the maps around as far as geography was concerned. Boundaries were bloated and whole areas disappeared while new ones sprang up in their place.

The Cosmopolitan doesn't miss any of these bets. In additon it includes tables showing air and steamship distances; climatic and economic tables; world facts and comparisons, as well as geographical and historical information, and glossaries.

It is interesting to note how maps are made. In the old days a map maker did it the hard way. He traveled the area and measured his ground, almost foot by foot. For information from distant lands, the old-timer relied on sketchy information (often inaccurate) that came in from travelers. Hence, if you care to go to the library of Congress, as I did, you will find North and South America in all varieties of shapes and sizes in the old books.

The modern maker of maps has it much easier. He knows that his information is correct, thanks to science. His problem is to sift through the files and find the best of a pretty fine lot.

School District Gets Authority To Buy Equipment Independently

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)— The Odessa independent school district does not have to buy buses and equipment through the Board of Control, the attorney general ruled today.

The opinion by Chester E. Ollision, assistant attorney general, said that a school district not eligible to participate in foundation program funds under Senate Bill 116 of the Gilmer-Aikin plan is not required to make such purchases through the state agency.

The Ector county independent district has been declared ineligible to participate in the foundation school program.

The opinion was requested by State School Superintendent L. A. Woods after the question was raised by the Ector county independent.

Scientists have kept accurate records of sunspots since 1749.

Slaton Man Cited For Distinguished Service

J. B. Huckabay Wins Award For Boosting Canadian Dam

SLATON, Oct. 20.—In recognition of his untiring work in promotion of the Canadian river dam project and other civic contributions, J. B. Huckabay of Slaton was awarded a certificate of distinguished service for the third quarter of 1949.

Making the presentation at a called meeting of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night was George W. Brassell, jr., president of the chamber. Among others present were Mayor L. B. Wootton, P. G. Meading, manager of the chamber of commerce, and J. J. Maxey, city secretary.

Mr. Huckabay, a professional engineer with the Santa Fe railroad, is a veteran of both World Wars and in the last war served in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters as a major in the Army Engineers.

He was vitally interested in submitting the Canadian river project to Congress and made a trip to Washington with a party for that purpose. He also takes active part in other community enterprises in Slaton.

He is married and has two sons, Jerry and Jack.

New, Homogenized Swift's Jewel Shortening Gives "Magic" Results in Cooking, Baking and Frying!

JEWEL CAMERA INTERVIEWS

TODAY'S QUESTION:
Have you tried the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening?

Mrs. Karen J. Stotts, 2126 Browder, Dallas, Texas. "Yes, I have. I like the new Jewel especially for smokeless frying of steak and french fries. It's also better for piecrusts. I save 3¢ or 4¢ always when I buy a pound."

Mrs. W. D. Nikels, 1208 Peach Ave., Memphis, Tenn. "The new Jewel makes perfect biscuits and we have them every morning because my husband likes them so much. It's also good for frying. Certain shortenings like to smoke when you fry, but Jewel never smokes up my house. What's more, I save every time I buy and those pennies add up."

Mrs. Virginia Barnes, 513 Bourbon St., New Orleans, La. "Yes! The new, homogenized Jewel is just grand for everything—fried chicken, potatoes, lovely cakes and real good lemon pie. And oh, those hot biscuits! My husband can eat 8 or 10 every morning. I prefer Jewel to any shortening regardless of cost."

Mrs. R. G. Slaughter, 3409 W. Fourth St., Fort Worth, Texas. "I like it best of any I've tried—it goes farther and costs less. I save about 23¢ every time I buy Jewel in the large size. Although I've used Jewel for a long time, the new is even better. I use it for all baking and frying."

JEWEL'S HIGH QUALITY NEVER VARIES

Rigid Swift Quality Control and U. S. Government Inspection Assure Uniformity

When it comes to uniformity, the proverbial "peas in a pod" have nothing on new Jewel.

Its unvarying uniformity is due to two main achievements. First, because all Jewel Shortening is tested for quality at the refineries. A thorough, continuing system of Quality Control is constantly on the alert for any deviation in the Jewel formula.

Secondly, the new Jewel must pass a rigid U. S. Government inspection. Thus, each carton or tin of Jewel bears a U. S. Inspected stamp of approval.

In either event, it must be the best or it never gets to market.

MAN AND WIFE AGREE:

"JEWEL CAKES TASTE PERFECT!"

LIGHT, TENDER, FLUFFY . . . AND THEY COST LESS TO MAKE!

Faced with the problem of keeping hubby happy—and cutting down on food costs, too? Then here's good news!

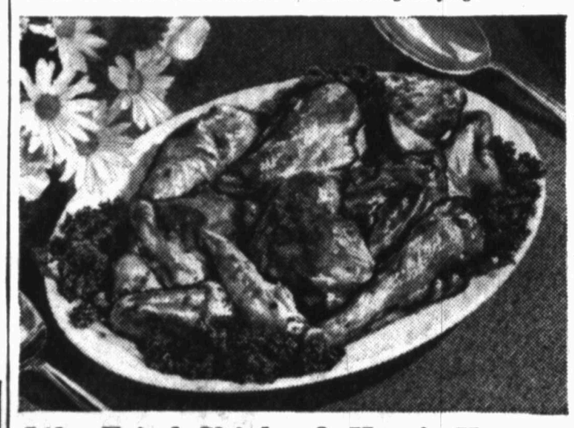

With the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening you can cook to his heart's desire—and save money while you do. For new Jewel—although it costs much less than costliest brands of shortenings—challenges them all when it comes to results.

Praise from Homemakers

How true this is, has been borne out by extensive interviews among housewives throughout the South. In every case, enthusiasm for the new Jewel has been most gratifying.

In Memphis, for example, Mrs. J. A. Perry reported making a Jam Cake that would "just melt in your mouth!" While in New Orleans, another homemaker, Mrs. Alice H. Langston stated that her husband "just loves his biscuits made with Jewel!" Mrs. Langston added this further comment: "With the amount of shortening we use, we figure our savings on Jewel at about $8.00 a year. That'd buy plenty of eggs!"

As Swift's famous test kitchens have discovered however, Jewel's magic is not restricted to cakes and biscuits. Piecrusts, cookies, fried foods of all kinds, also benefit when Jewel is used.

Like Fried Chicken? Here's How to Add a Touch of "Magic"!

Developed by Swift's famous Martha Logan, here's a special fried chicken recipe featuring new Jewel Shortening. Just follow the 6 magic steps indicated for your convenience.

1. Clean, wash and drain a 2½ to 3 lb. (dressed) chicken. 2. Cut into serving pieces. 3. Measure ¼ cup flour and 2 tsp. salt into a clean paper bag. 4. Drop in each piece of chicken separately and shake until coated. 5. Heat enough Jewel Shortening to make ¼ inch depth in a large skillet. 6. Fry chicken over medium heat, turning until all sides are golden brown. Reduce heat, cover and cook about ½ hour, until tender. Uncover and cook ten minutes.

NO OTHER SHORTENING IS MORE DIGESTIBLE OR MORE NUTRITIOUS!

Don't be fooled—say scientists.

Just because a shortening costs more doesn't make it any more nutritious or digestible.

Actually, any fats—including the fine vegetable and meat-food fats found in Jewel—are among the most completely digested foods.

Furthermore, all fats are important in good nutrition. For they yield 2¼ times as many energy units per pound as either carbohydrates or proteins.

In other words, money can't buy a more nutritious or digestible shortening than new Jewel. Not even if you pay $10 a pound!

CHALLENGES THE COSTLIEST . . . COSTS MUCH LESS! SAVINGS OF 5¢ TO 7¢ A POUND REPORTED

There's a new "headliner" in the shortening field! The product is Swift's new, homogenized Jewel Shortening. Only recently introduced, it challenges all costliest brands. Yet it costs 5¢ to 7¢ less per pound.

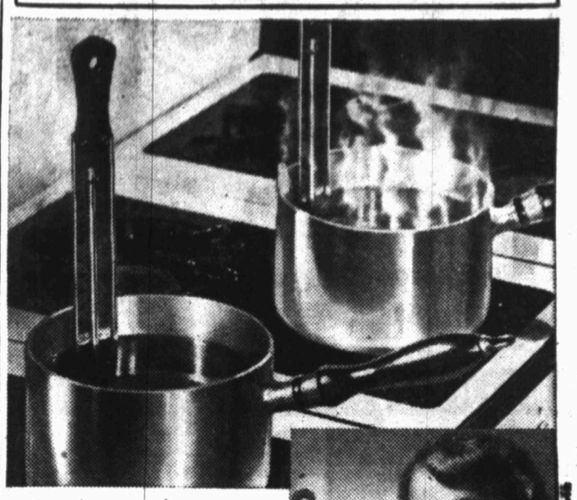

The new Jewel has been created to a new formula and employs a controlled homogenization process in the blending of its fine vegetable oils and meat-food fats. The result is a product of highest quality with a remarkable smooth and even texture. No other shortening—regardless of price—is more nutritious or more digestible.

According to Martha Logan, Swift's nationally-known Home Economist, the new Jewel is ideal for cooking, baking and frying. Exhaustive tests in the famous Swift Test Kitchens show that Jewel-made cakes, pies, biscuits, doughnuts and fried foods rival those made with shortenings costing much, much more.

The magic results claimed for this new shortening have been substantiated by actual reports from homemakers. Scores have paid glowing tribute to tender, light cakes and flaky piecrusts made with the new Jewel.

The thriftiness of the new product has also come in for its share of homemaker's applause. Reports show that in many stores, the price for a pound of Jewel is from 5¢ to 7¢ less than for the costliest brands. Even those who use only moderate amounts of shortening thus save considerably.

JEWEL'S "SMOKE-POINT" 40° HIGHER!

Simple test proves it won't smoke up or smell up your kitchen like costliest shortenings!

Dramatic proof that Jewel is smokeless is offered by a recent test. In this test, Jewel was compared with the three costliest shortenings. And in every single instance, Jewel demonstrated a marked superiority.

The test consists merely of placing equal amounts of Jewel and any costliest shortening in two separate pans of the same size. To verify temperatures reached, a cooking thermometer (preferably two) is used.

As identical heat is applied to both pans the expensive brand will begin to smoke and give off odors.

Not until long after the other shortening has been removed from the heat, does new Jewel show any evidence of smoke or smell. Jewel can, in fact, be left over the heat until its temperature is 40° higher than its competitors.

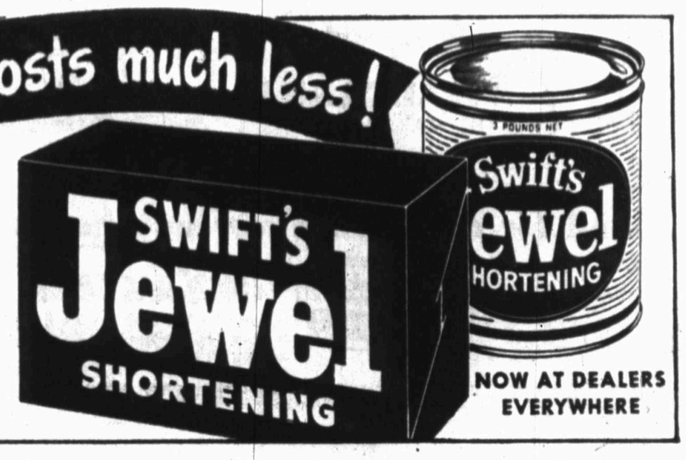

Home economists agree that the perfect deep-fat frying temperature is 365° to 375°. Expensive shortenings will begin to smoke at 360°. Jewel, however, could be heated to 400° before even a noticeable trace of smoke or odor would appear.

Challenges the costliest...costs much less!

A superior shortening for use in cakes, pies, biscuits and fried foods. Based on a new and different formula—blended by homogenization for extra smoothness and even-texture. So economical you can purchase 4 pounds for the same price you usually pay for 3 pounds of costliest brands.

NEW! HOMOGENIZED! THRIFTY!

IT'S DIGESTIBLE . . . AND NUTRITIOUS TOO!

THUNDERING ATTACKS CEASE

Soviet Delegates Adopt Attitude Of Unyielding Affability In UN

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 20 —The Soviets have developed new tactics for confusing the western delegations at the United Nations General assembly.

The Soviet team has quit its blustering, its shouted "warmongering" attacks on the Anglo-Americans. It has even stopped boycotting decisions adopted by majority votes in committee or plenary sessions.

The Russian group now is amiable and smiling in public while insisting in private that they cannot yield a single inch.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky employed the new devices from the moment he arrived in New York for the fourth General Assembly session.

To newsmen he displayed a surprising affability. To delegates at the UN he held out an olive branch —except to the Yugoslavs—and hinted that Russia now sought a solution to problems that had been an the agenda for two and three years.

Many delegates were astonished when Vishinsky spoke gently from the rostrum and in committee, in contrast to his slashing attacks of the past.

Vishinsky offered the West a peace pact, dropping his smile only to lash out at Nationalist China's spokesman, Dr. Tingfu F. Tsiang.

Western delegates or UN officials who approached him for consultations in private found Vishinsky eager to join in any closed-door meeting to settle this or that problem.

Then the catch began to show. A source closely connected with the Austrian talks which took place among the Big Four powers at the Waldorf Astoria in New York said that Vishinsky demonstrated eagerness to get together for negotiating the peace treaty. But then he told the three foreign ministers from the West, "we cannot yield one inch on any point of Russian policy in this matter."

As an American source who heard the statement observed afterwards: "The only mystery now is why Vishinsky met with the West at all. From our standpoint, why sit down and waste hours in talking about a problem which the other fellow is unwilling to settle or yield one inch. Everything boils down to a farce."

In the parlance of the diplomat, that is what they call the policy of "anticipation." You take aprt in everything and anything but you let the other fellow know in advance that its no dice. Then they can't expect you to give in and make compromise deals which cost you ground.

The same policy is being practiced by other Russian delegates in the committees.

A year ago the Russians and their satellites huffed in fury whenever the question of Korea came up. This year, in the special political committee, they scarcely voiced an objection and let the committee speedily approve a new resolution designed to strengthen the UN Korean commission and give it powers to observe the border warfare between North and South Koreans.

The Russians were almost apologetic about their opposition but quietly informed the delegates that no members of the UN commission would ever be allowed to set foot on North Korea. The boycott of UN activities, they let it be known around the corridors, will go on more stiffly than last year.

Vishinsky so far holds the record for brevity of speech in the current session. He introduced his proposal for a big five peace pact in a twenty-minute speech devoid of the fire of previous years.

In the lounges and corridors of UN, he made himself easily accessible to reporters and delegates alike, except for the Yugoslavs. His reply to everybody on prospects of the current session is that Russia is willing to cooperate if the others are. But he adds that since Russia is right on all things, there can be no yielding.

It will be used by General Motors in Lansing, Mich., to move huge automotive dies.

Fight To Save Life Of Youth Frozen In Early Blizzard Fails

SELBY, Mont., Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Two country doctors admitted defeat last night after fighting for seven and one-half hours to save the life of a 12-year-old Polish refugee boy found frozen in a blizzard.

Drs. L. J. Salan and Steve Adasakavich worked long—but vainly—to revive young Bruno Kristoviak, son of a displaced Polish couple.

They had conceded there was "only one in a thousand" chance to save the youngster, but their hopes soared in mid-afternoon when a faint heart murmur was detected. The Doctors said then that the boy's lungs had not frozen.

Young Bruno and his 15-year-old brother, Stanislaw, wandered away from their ranch home near here Tuesday during the unseasonal blizzard. A search party of 100 men found the older boy first huddled down in an exhibition building at the Marias fairgrounds here nearly 24 hours later. He suffered exposure, but will recover, doctors said.

Bruno was found shortly afterward on an open prairie about a mile and a half from his home. Searchers said he was "apparently dead."

Examination by physicians showed the boy had no heart-beat and no respiration, but Drs. Salan and Adasakavich said they believed there was still hope because the youngster apparently had been dead only a short time.

They immediately began the prolonged treatment, consisting of artificial respiration in a mechanical respirator and simultaneous injection of stimulating drugs.

A spokesman for the American Medical association at Chicago explained there is a "twilight" period of about ten minutes following "death" when a chance of revival is present. AMA records show that one person who apparently had "died" during an operation was revived 19 minutes later.

The Kristoviak family of mother and father and the two boys have lived and worked on the John Hasquet sheep ranch near Shelby since arriving in Montana as displaced persons.

New Father's First Duty To Statistics

SEATTLE, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—The expectant father pacing the hospital corridor is traditionally pictured as a man with a lot on his mind and not much to do.

The Washington State Health Department wants to change that. And it has named two duties it feels that father should take over at this critical period.

The new father's first duty: Write down previously-selected names for both a boy and a girl. This is so the youngster won't go through life with a birth certificate made out only to "baby girl" Jones.

Secondly, write down both his and his wife's birth place and birth date. This information also goes on the birth certificate and is frequently garbled or guessed at if it isn't put into writing beforehand.

Father's new assignment is the result of a recent survey in which the department got parents to check information of 23,000 newly filled-out certificates. About 25 per cent were either wrong or incomplete. Most errors were traced to excitement at the time of the new arrival.

It will take Russia 50 years to bring the standard of its workers up to that enjoyed by Australian workers, thinks Australia's Prime Minister.

Sick of reading stuff like this?

There is a remedy for these headlines . . . but it isn't easy.

Records of thousands of juvenile delinquents show that what they lacked was the attention and love of a normal, secure and happy home life.

They also needed a decent place to blow off steam. A chance to grow up with healthy, sturdy bodies. (An astonishing number of young "criminals" were just trying to compensate for a minor physical handicap . . . like poor eyesight, for instance . . . just trying to prove they were "as good as anybody.")

Here's what you can do to help:

Red Feather contributions work wonders . . . through services that offer family counsel, child guidance—services that provide interesting places to play under the eye of wise and understanding adults . . . gyms, clubs, craft shops, scouting, and neighborhood centers.

So when your neighbor calls for your Red Feather pledge, be sure to give enough. Give enough to keep some basically fine boy or girl in this town from making headlines that make you sick.

Juvenile delinquency spreads like a disease. One mind influences another. You never know but what the child you help may be your own.

WORLD PEACE IS MAJOR THEME

Big International Exposition Will Open In Haiti On Dec. 9

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Oct. 20 (NEA)—Haiti's gigantic international exposition, which will cost almost twice as much as the little republic's annual budget, is about ready to be unveiled.

For a year and a half, more than 2000 men have been worktive, President Estime, "and it is ing on the grounds and buildings, and the opening date has now been set for Dec. 9. With the participation of 22 nations, including the United States, a 60-acre site on La Gonave Bay has been transformed into a display of elaborate palaces and carefully-landscaped grounds.

Built around a theme of world peace and friendship, the exposition will feature a chapel built by Vatican City and a display of the United Nations. Other foreign pavilions will be those of the United States, the Pan-American Union, Mexico, Argentina, France, Italy. Displays and entertainment are coming from Panama, Guatemala, Uruguay, Belgium, Honduras, the French Antilles, Curacao and Jamaica.

"The exposition," said President Dumarsais Estime, "will be the greatest celebration ever held in the Caribbean countries to spread the ideals of peace, friendship and peaceful progress throughout the world. It will also, I think, strike a new note in the exotic beauty of its architecture and its tropical marine setting."

The most elaborate structure on the grounds will be the Tourist Palace, built at a cost of $500,000. Another showplace of the exposition, which will run until June, 1950, is the Presidential Palace which will be ornamented by a luminous fountain.

Along the palm-shaded boulevard are the palaces and pavillions of the foreign countries—the Cuban Palace, faced with Cuban marble; the 50,000,000 franc French Pavilion; the Italian Pavilion; and the $170,000 Pavilion of the United States of America, highlighted by displays of the Department of Agriculture and the Cultural Section of the Department of State.

One of the chief attractions of Haiti's big party will be the folk lore and amusement sections. Set in a grove of lofty palms will be many buildings, the majority of them with characteristic thatched roofs. Entertainment will be presented in an open-air auditorium and stage, shaped like a huge piano and surrounded by water fringed with lilies.

Haiti's native voodoo dances will be one of the main presentations in the folk lore department. In addition, other native customs, sports and dances will be shown.

The exposition will occupy the greater part of the sea front of Port-au-Prince and will comprise four principal sections—national, international, heavy industry and machines.

"Here we are at one of the most important crossroads of the great maritime and aerial routes of the Atlantic," said Haiti's chief executive, "and it is our hope that the exposition will contribute to freer world trade by displaying and stimulating the works of the industries and arts in this important location."

Drop Cookies

For HALLOWE'EN

HAVE plenty of these delicious melt-in-your-mouth "Drop Cookies" on hand when the young folks come romping in this Hallowe'en and make them with Texas' own 100% pure cane sugar.

(Yield 4 doz.)

- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ cup butter
- ¾ cup Imperial Old Time Brown Sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon flavoring
- 1 cup broken nuts
- 1 cup bran flakes
- 1 cup raisins

Sift flour once; measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter, add sugar, eggs and beat well. Add flour, flavoring, nuts and raisins. Drop onto greased baking sheet and bake in hot oven 10 minutes.

Indiana Motorists Drive Carefully On Buttered Highway

LA PORTE, Ind., Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Residents along highway 6 near here drove carefully to avoid skidding in butter.

The butter poured in a 14-ton stream from a passing trailer truck last night after fire broke out in the refrigeration motor.

Norris Roth, 26, the driver, said the flames spread so quickly that he could not put them out with a hand extinguisher.

Negro Soldier Shot To Death In Home Of Couple In Austin

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—A negro soldier was shot to death here last night after he reportedly rushed into the home of a white couple and pushed the husband into a back room.

The soldier was identified by police from a pass in his pocket as Charles L. Clark of Detroit, Mich., and Camp Hood, near Killeen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Riley were being questioned by police in connection with the shooting.

Riley told police that he and his wife were in their bedroom when someone came to the front door. He said he got up and opened the door and a negro man rushed in, and pushed him into a back room.

The shooting occurred seconds later, he told the police.

State Hospital Survey Planned

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—Plans to begin a survey of needs in state hospitals with professional federal aid Nov. 7 were announced here today.

Gov. Allan Shivers said he had been advised that two teams from the U. S. Public Health service have been assigned to assist.

Dr. Riley Guthrie and Miss Mary E. Corcoran, registered nurse, were expected on Nov. 7 to visit tuberculosis institutions.

Solons To Hear Report

Survey results are to be incorporated into a report to the legislature meeting in January on present and future needs of the state's hospitals and eleemosynary institutions.

Claud Gilmer, chairman of the new board for state hospitals and special schools, advised the governor that whatever transportation necessary would be provided for the surveyors.

"This survey will not answer all our questions, but I am sure it will be most helpful," Gilmer said. He added that the board's own personnel and other agencies would be used in studying other phases of the problem.

The executive committee of the hospital board met here last night on survey matters. Called into the conference was George E. Quick of St. Louis, partner in a firm of hospital and institutional consultants.

Whiping In Arkansas School Ordered By 'Kangaroo Court'

BENTON, Ark., Oct. 20. (AP)—The whipping of a 16-year-old inmate at the Arkansas Girls' Training school was ordered by a "kangaroo court" and not by authorities, a former matron said yesterday at her trial for assault and battery.

A circuit court jury promptly acquitted Mrs. Carrie Toland, who was charged with beating the teen-ager.

Mrs. Toland testified that the girl, Rita Pickens of Fort Smith, Ark., was given ten licks with a small strap and five blows with a larger one after a group of girls recommended that she be whipped.

Other indictments against Mrs. Toland and Mrs. Fannie Goodman, former superintendent at the school, were dropped immediately after Mrs. Toland's acquittal.

The two women were indicted on 17 counts last August after escapes, riots, and numerous disorderly demonstrations occurred at the school. Each resigned.

Unpaid Telephone Bill Results In Cut Service For Constable

LA PORTE, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Constable Dale Richardson's telephone connection with the "outside" was quickly severed today because of a default of an $18.15 bill.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. informed commissioner court that the raiding officer's telephone service to his office was discontinued because of the $18.15 in long distance tolls and other costs amounting to $54.15.

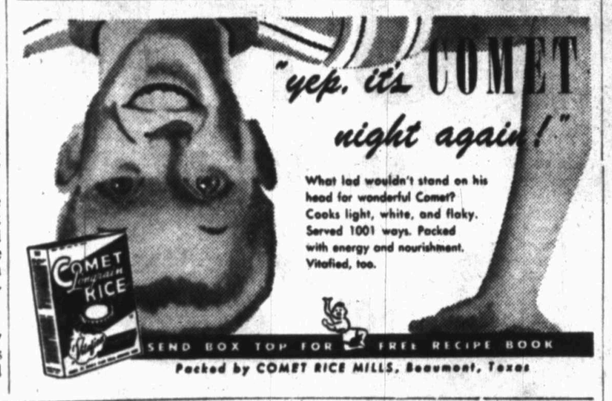

The bill had accrued since Jan. 1, the company said.

The court agreed to pay the regular $4.50 per month for the constable's telephone service, but declined to pay the long distance charges.

"Those long distance calls are not covered in our budget. Richardson did not have any appropriation to cover them," said County Judge Glenn Perry.

The bill showed that a large number of the calls were to Houston newspapers.

Constable Richardson could not be reached by telephone for comment.

DEFIANCE BRINGS RED ANGER

Tito Considered One Of Most Colorful Dictators In Europe

BY J. KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

BELGRADE, Oct. 20. — One of the most colorful personalities in Europe today is Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Renowed in his country as a courageous fighter, adventurous lover and ruthless Communist dictator, he has become world famous as the man who dares to defy the Kremlin.

The Soviet government, in one of its recent threatening diplomatic notes to Yugoslavia, referred to Tito as the "puppy" barking at an "elephant."

Russia Mixes Fables

A Yugoslav newspaper replied that Russia had its fables mixed up; what it meant was the lamb and the wolf.

Tito, however, is no lamb. It would be more appropriate to describe him metaphorically as a terrier snaping boldly at a growling bear.

Although Yugoslavia would be virtually defenceless against Soviet military might if Russia decided to invade the country, Tito talks back to Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin more sharply than the head of any little nation has ever before dared to do.

Western Aid Uncertain

He does so without any certainty that he would get any effective help from the western powers if Russia attacked Yugoslavia. He does it also with the knowledge that if the Red army did move into Yugoslavia, it would doubtless occupy all of the country except possibly the mountains before the western powers were able to render any effective assistance, even if they were disposed to do so.

What sort of a person is this man who plays today such a prominent role on the world's stage? In an effort to find out, this correspondent talked with many people in Belgrade, including Yugoslavs who claimed to have been with Tito during the war, diplomats who have made a careful study of his career and just ordinary people who have lived under his rigid rule for four years.

Tito Called 'Dwarf'

The Moscow Literary Gazette recently called him the "Balkan Dwarf." Although heavy set and of medium height, he is no dwarf, physically, mentally or politically.

He has rather handsome features, blue eyes, naturally wavy hair which is begining to turn grey, and a dynamic personality. He is noted for his personal charm and sense of humor, but this can change quickly into a cold, hard and merciless disposition.

He is a fairly good orator, with a direct and forceful manner of speaking. Not the intellectual type, he thinks in practical rather than in theoretical terms.

Life History Given

Believed to be about 57 years old, his official biography lists his birthplace as a village called Zagorije in the mountains near Zagreb. His father was a Crotian metal worker, and this was the trade he first learned. His mother is said to have been Slovene and he was brought up as a Catholic.

Much mystery surrounds his youth. He was in Vienna at the outbreak of the first world war and was drafted into the Austro-Hungarian army, captured by the Russians in 1915 and spent the next three years in a war prisoners camp at czarist Russia. He was freed during the revolution and fought with the Bolsheviks in the civil war.

This appears to have been the beginning of his careers as a Communist. He attended revolutionary schools in Russia for several years and returned to Yugoslavia in the early twenties. Resuming his trade as a metal worker, he became an active Communist agitator; was arrested in 1924 and sentenced to five years imprisonment. While in jail he established close ties with some of the men who later became high ranking members of his regime, including Mosa Pijade, the intellectual leader of the Yugoslavian Communist party.

Following his release from prison in 1929, he disappeared from the Yugoslavian scene. His official biography makes no mention of his activities for eight years. During that time, he is believed to have returned to Russia and also spent some time in France.

He returned to Yugoslavia in the mid-thirties and became secretary-general of the underground Yugoslavian Communist party. When the Germans attacked the country in 1941, he organized the first partisan resistance movement in Belgrade.

Taking to the mountains, he waged guerrilla warfare against the Germans until the end of the war. In 1943 he became president of the national liberation movement and assumed the title of marshal of the Yugoslavian liberation army which, by 1945, had chased the Germans out of more than half the country.

Born Josip Broz, he adopted the nickname Tito during the war. This is similar to a Yugoslavian phrase for action. In Serbian, it means Titus, which was the name of the Roman emperor.

Romantically gallant with women, he is reported to have had many amorous adventures. He is believed to have been married twice, first to a Russian woman who bore him a son. The latter fought in the Red army during the last war and lost an arm. He now lives in Belgrade.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED

Six Soil Conservation Meetings Planned For West Texas Towns

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (Special) — Arrangements committees have been named for a series of soil conservation meetings throughout West Texas under the sponsorship of Burlington Lines and the Second National Bank of Houston.

The meetings are being held in co-operation with the U. S. Soil Conservation service and Texas A. and M. college extension service at selected points along the lines of the Fort Worth and Denver and Wichita Valley railways.

Schedules Listed

The first of the series will be in Shamrock on Nov. 14, folloyed by meetings at Childress, Nov. 15; Quanah, Nov. 16; Henrietta, Nov. 17; Spur and Stamford, Nov. 18.

Arrangements committees were announced last week for Shamrock, Quanah and Henrietta.

V. E. Hafner, county agent, will head the Childress committee as chairman, with C. J. Lyons of Burlington Lines as co-chairman. Other members of the committee are Iley Compton, Doyle Thomas, A. D. Shaw, Ronald Davis, George Taylor, Chester Hufstetler, J. L. Brooks, Raymond Scott, John Glover, J. H. Harrison, W. C. Harp, Mayor L. W. McClendon, R. A. Yarbrough, J. E. Corlett and Allen Shahan.

Spur Group Named

Charles A. Taylor, county agent at Spur, heads the committee there, with J. H. Taylor, T. D. McKinney, Mayor Ned Hogan, J. Fike Godfrey, R. E. Dickson, O. C. Arthur, W. T. Andrews, A. E. Drake of Burlington Lines in Abilene, and O. M. McGinty as members of the committee.

Co-chairmen of the committee at Stamford are Cecil Eager and A. J. Mills. Members are Gerald Proctor, Sam Baize, G. C. Carothers, jr., Bland Harrison, jr., Dr. Dave Ballard, Weldon Walker, Ray Moritz, Roland Kelley, J. L. Hill, jr., N. M. Phy, Wayne Cooper, C. M. Lester, George Smith, Jim McCullogh, B. P. Davenport, jr., R. E. Johnson, County Agent W. H. Lemberg, E. A. Russell, A. E. Drake, and J. F. Dominy.

At Stamford the meeting will be held in Round-Up hall at the Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds beginning at 7:30 p.m. At Spur the group will meet in the Spur theater at 2 p.m. and the Childress meeting will be in the high school auditorium beginning at 2 p.m.

P. G. Haines, soil and water conservation specialist of Texas A. and M., and A. K. Hepperly, agricultural agent of Burlington Lines of Denver, will make an advance tour of the towns the week of Oct. 24.

New Milk Distributor To Start Deliveries In Lubbock Today

Another milk distributor will start home deliveries of milk in Lubbock today.

The distributor is Maurice Cowan, 1937 graduate of the department of dairy manufacturers, who is representing the Tennessee Daries of Dallas.

The milk is processed in Dallas, packed in paper cartons and delivered to Lubbock in huge refrigerated storage vans. Specially-built Divco refrigerated retail delivery trucks will operate out of Cowan's storage plant at Fourth and Idalou highway over residence routes in Lubbock.

Cowan, who formerly worked for ten years with a local milk company, has been wholesaling milk in this area since last summer. Trucks operate out of Lubbock to Tahoka, O'Donnell, Post, Brownfield, Levelland and Sundown.

In addition to the company's Gold Seal brand homogenized and cream line milk, other dairy products including buttermilk, whipping cream, coffee cream, half and half cereal milk, chocolate beverage, orange drink, cottage cheese, and butter will be sold here.

The dry refrigerated delivery trucks are insulated with four inches of cork and keep the dairy products at low temperatures throughout.

Cowan, who has a permit from the City Health department, has a total of eight employes here. He will operate three wholesale trucks and two retail delivery trucks at present.

The name Tennessee Dairies comes from the fact that a Tennessee farm boy established a dairy in Dallas in 1900 and four lack of a better name called it the Tennessee Farm Boy's dairy. It was later changed to Tennessee Dairies, Cowan said.

airport.

"I told my passenger that the tower operator at the field would probabaly laugh at us for returning," the Judge recalled

"Let them laugh," the passenger said, "I'm ready to get back on the ground."

"I almost made one of those mercy flights," Judge Thompson said. "I was already to take a boy to a Dallas hospital for an operation but he got better and the trip was cancelled."

Officials Accompany Judge

Two of Judge Thompson's most frequent passengers are C. G. Shaw and John Kennedy, both county commissioners. The other two commissioners, E. C. White and L. M. Baldwin prefer to stay on the ground.

"If I'm in a hurry to get there I'll start a day sooner," Baldwin said.

Judge Thompson was born at Wellington, Texas, Sept. 24, 1911. He received most of his schooling in Childress county and graduated from Loco High school. He married Naomi Hunt at White Deer, Dec 31, 1933. He has two children, Treba Jo, 10, and R. E. 6.

"I don't think I'll ever be satisfied to travel anyway except by air," the Judge concluded. "I have two-way radio in my plane so I have contact with airway stations all the time. In this way I can get the latest weather reports."

The chances are that if you can't find the judge in his office he will literally be "up in the air."

CULTURAL CHANGES FAVORED

Soviet Expands Effort Toward Assuring 'Friendship' Of China

BY HOWARD HANDLEMAN
Far Eastern Director, INS

TOKYO, Oct. 20. — The Soviets are using everybody from Soviet movie directors to rat killers today in insure that Communist China is a "good neighbor" of Communist Russia.

Since the recent proclamation of the Communist Chinese regime in Peking the Communist news agency has broadcast story after story about the cultural inroads the Russians are making in China.

The biggest single step was the protracted visit of the 44-member Soviet delegation of "culture, arts and science workers," including "big name" people.

Delegation Feted In Cities

The delegation, feted in Manchuria, Peking, Nanking, and Shanghai, was headed by Alexander Fadeyev, secretary-general of the Union of Soviet writers.

With him were the chairmen of several Russian scientific academies, several movie directors, the president of Russia's so-called "Soviet Cinema workers will help China produce two technicolor films portraying the heroic struggle of the Chinese peoples."

L. V. Dubrovina, vice-minister of education in the dominant Russian Socialist Federation Soviet republic, which governs more than one hundred million Russians, told the Chinese about Russian educational methods.

Student Exchange Planned

The 400 Chinese educators who heard him in Peking, the Communist capital, were much impressed. The Communist broadcast said they "agreed to request" that Russia and Communist China exchange large numbers of educators and students.

Another broadcast item Oct. 14 said Soviet experts on town planning, public health, building, and water supply, were invited to "attend a cadres meeting by the Peking city committee of the Chinese Communist party."

The broadcast story added that after Soviet town planning expert T. V. Abramov lectured, the Chinese decided to do their work "on the basis of Soviet experience."

Among those who heard Abramov was Gen. Chen Yi, Communist mayor of Shanghai and commander of one of the five field armies.

Chen Yi is the only non-military man commanding a Communist field army. His background is in political science, which he studied in France.

District Clerk Prevented From Bringing Suit Against County

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—The two-year statute of limitations will prevent the district clerk of Jefferson county from bringing suit against the county to collect delinquent fees due him in 1933.

An attorney general's opinion to this effect was released today.

The district clerk was elected in 1933. He received $2,210 that year, which was less than the maximum set by law. Later, within the time fixed by law, he reported as delinquent fees for 1933 an amount exceeding $2,210.

In 1934 the district clerk collected $2,410 in delinquent fees which were charged and reported in 1933. He retained only one-fourth of this amount at the direction of the county auditor and has been permitted to retain only one-fourth of delinquent fees for 1933 collected in subsequent years.

The statute of limitations began to run on whatever date the district clerk collected delinquent fees reported for a previous year, assistant Attorney General John Reeves said in writing the opinion.

HIZZONER THE MAYOR: MULESHOE—Will Harper was appointed mayor of Muleshoe to replace Connie Gupton who resigned last spring. Harper owns an electrical appliance business. He was born at Kossie, Limestone county, Texas, May 8, 1885. He came to Muleshoe in 1925. His schooling was obtained in Limestone county. Harper married Myrtle Pace at Ball Prairie, Dec. 11, 1915. He has two daughters, Mrs. Eva Harris, Sudan; and Mrs. Naomi Crowley, Amarillo. His hobby is dominoes. Harper estimates the present population of Muleshoe to be 3,500. He heads a three man council and belongs to the Masonic lodge. (Staff Photo by Edward Welsh).

Laborer Admits Setting Fire In Which Seven Persons Died

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20. (AP)— Police Lt. Charles Welch said that charges of first degree murder probably would be filed today against a 43-year-old laborer who late yesterday signed a statement admitting he set fire to an ancient rooming house Sept. 30.

Seven persons lost their lives in the fire. Two of the victims were babies. Another was their mother.

Welch said that Alva O'Merritt signed a statement admitting he started the fire by "tossing a lighted match into a box of rubbish."

Welch said O'Merritt explained he had had an argument with Mrs. Aurora Bayse, the owner of the house occupied largely by old-age pensioners.

DEPORT PIONEER DIES

PARIS, Oct. 20 (AP)—J. I. Lawler, 95, the oldest resident of Deport, died in his home this morning. He is survived by his widow, four children, nine grand children, five great-grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

LAFB In Need Of Woman's Touch On Decorative Features

The "woman's touch" is needed in some decorative features at Lubbock Air Force base.

Curtains are not available either for wards or individual rooms in the base hospital.

Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross offered to receive calls from persons volunteering to donate services in sewing curtains, to give material for curtains or to give discarded curtains in good condition.

Gifts Are Sought

The Red Cross also will receive gifts of current magazines and pocket editions or books for delivery to the base hospital.

No funds are available at present for curtains for the hospital, the library or for several dayrooms at the base.

Curtains for the base chapel are expected to be sent here from the inactivated Smoky Hills Air Force base at Salina, Kans.

Wives of several city mail carriers serving as volunteer workers from the Red Cross sewed hospital supplies at the base Wednesday. Another group worked Thursday.

Miss Leah Jackson, field representative of the Red Cross representing the midwestern area office, St. Louis, visited the base Wednesday. She plans to seek help of chapters in surrounding counties in providing curtains for the hospital.

Missouri Plunged Into Last-Ditch Fight Against Underworld Revival

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INS)—Collier's magazine said today that the revival of the boss Tom Pendergast machine in Kansas City has plunged Missouri into a last-ditch fight against an organized underworld threat to seize political control of the "show me state."

An article in the current issue of the magazine entitled "The New Menace in Missouri" declared:

"Kansas City and Missouri are a battleground to test whether the underworld can dominate a great city and a rich state."

It warned:

Open Seizure Possible

"The underworld may show the country something even bolder than corruption; the open seizure of political power."

Collier's sent investigator-writer Lester Velie to Missouri for a survey of the situation that has been building up for months and he returned with a report on the heir to the Pendergast machine—quiet, bespectacled and powerful Charles Binaggio.

Velie, who delved into the so-called "new menace" by interviewing Binaggio as a starter, said of him:

"So powerful has Binaggio become that already within a year of his rise, Democratic aspirants have little chance to win an election without his approval.

Police Tremble At Power

"He is so powerful that an officer of his choosing controls the city and taxing powers. His influence is so great that the Kansas City police department trembles at what he may do . . ."

According to Velie, Binaggio, who admits to running gambling joints and selling beer, but no more, made an outright but abortive demand on one of Kansas City's four police commissioners early this year to "go along with me and make some changes." The changes included a new police chief.

The writer said Binaggio—one-time leader of half a ward in the north side—summed up his own progress and aspirations thus:

Organization Politics Return

"This is the first return to organization politics here since Pendergast days. That's correct.

"We have a good block of votes in the state legislature. About 30 or 40 votes in the lower house. We can get through any legislation."

According to Velie, there was a resurgence of commercial gambling and gangland homicide as Binaggio rose to power and added:

"Overnight, in downtown Kansas City, in St. Louis and St. Joseph, the gambling fraternity took leases on likely sites and began to outfit them for dice and card games and horse parlor operations.

In St. Louis a county grand jury reported efforts . . . to lease . . . premises . . . with the openly announced intention of opening gambling establishments.

Gamblers Take Over

"At St. Joseph, where licensed gambling flourishes, Kansas City gamblers simply moved in and took over from the local talent.

"At Jefferson City, Missouri's capital, gamblers showed up at state officials' offices. They had a simple request: Tell the Public Service commission to keep hands off of multiple telephone installations in prospective bookie joints."

Velie reported that according to the police, Binaggio is interested in the "bookie wire" which would "link him to a nation-wide syndicate of racketeers."

And according to Velie, Kansas City is developing a non-partisan movement to prepare for the reform administration's decisive fight in 1950.

Kansas City and St. Louis newspapers, Velie said, have assigned their top talent to ferreting out Binaggio's non-political activities and top federal officials are understood to have ordered government law enforcement agencies to investigate organized crime there.

Ochoa Indicted On Charge Of Murder

LAREDO, Oct. 20 (U.P.) — A Webb county grand jury has indicted George W. Ochoa, debonair customs broker, for the July 31 murders of two men in a Laredo hotel.

But scar-faced Ochoa still had his freedom. He vanished into Mexico, shortly after the slayings, and there his trail was lost.

He was indicted yesterday in the deaths of Henry D. Whittenburg, jr., a prominent Rio Grande valley cotton ginner, and ex-Air Force Cpl. James Lindsay, of Fort Worth, and Oneida, Tenn.

Twenty-six witnesses appeared before the grand jury.

Among them were Rose Mary Cruse, San Antonio, who was in Whittenburg's hotel room when the killer walked in and abruptly opened fire, and Armando Jalomo, a bellboy at the Hotel Plaza.

Jalomo has said that he directed Ochoa to Whittenburg's room shortly before the fatal shooting.

Both Miss Cruse and Jalomo are under bond, as material witnesses for the state.

Police Chief David O. Gallagher said that both Lindsay and Whittenburg were acquainted with Ochoa's wife, who has remained at the Laredo home while the search for her husband goes on in Mexico. Mrs. Ochoa, an attractive brunette, declined to talk with reporters yesterday.

"I'm sorry, I have no statement for publication," she told them.

Texas Liveoak Trees Suffer From Disease Without Known Cure

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 20. (INS)—The plant pathologists at Texas A&M college are perplexed by a disease that is reportedly killing thousands of liveoak trees in some 20 Central Texas counties.

Dr. D. A. Dunlap, head of the A&M plant physiology and pathology, said that the trees are dying from a trouble commonly known as "liveoak disease'" but the cause of the ailment is unknown.

Since the liveoak is a valuable shade tree in many parts of Texas, Dr. Dunlap pointed out that the disease is of great economic importance.

Environment Has Little Effect

The environment in which the trees are growing appears to have little effect on the disease, Dunlap observed.

Inquiries usually concern valuable trees near residences or trees that provide shade for livestock. The disease has been noted in forest land and even among trees growing near creeks where there is an abundance of moisture.

In surveys made in 1941 and 1942, covering several south-central Texas counties, affected trees were found on both acid and highly alkaline soils, on sandy and heavy clay soils, on dry and wet soils, on hills and in valleys.

Some of the trees were covered with Spanish moss and others were not. Young trees as well as the older ones are affected.

The disease, said Dunlap, occurs in somewhat restricted local areas and seems to spread slowly to nearby trees either in the same clump or in the same general locality.

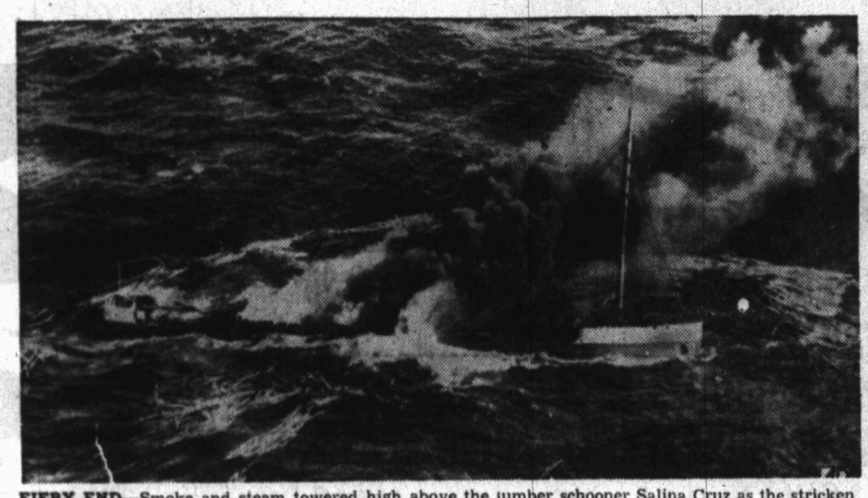

Symptoms are a yellowing or mottling of the leaves followed by death of certain branches or of the entire tree. If the whole tree becomes affected, it may die within a few weeks. But if the disease hits only one branch at a time, one or two seasons may elapse before the tree is completely killed.

Dunlap said that severe pruning of the main branches at the first appearance of the symptoms has in many instances resulted in complete recovery of the tree.

In some cases, however, only the main trunk of the tree is left standing after the pruning job has been completed.

During the fall of 1940, a serious outbreak of the disease occurred in Bosque county and more than 20 affected trees were severely pruned.

Only three were dead seven and a half years later. In the three dead trees, Dunlap declared, it was presumed that the disease was too far advanced at the time of topping to permit recovery.

FIERY END—Smoke and steam towered high above the lumber schooner Salina Cruz as the stricken vessel wallowed low in the North Pacific 140 miles off the Washington coast. Seventeen crew members fled the ship when an engine room fire spread to the deck cargo of lumber. They were saved in a dramatic after dark rescue. (AP Wirephoto.)

Del Rio Minister Elected As Western Presbytery Moderator

McALLEN, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Rev. M. H. Applewhite of Del Rio is the new moderator of the western presbytery.

One hundred fifty ministers and members of the presbytery elected him yesterday at a three-day meeting. Seventy seven churches are represented.

Four new members received into the presbytery are the Revs. Charles G. Gruce of Kenedy, Paul C. Edgar of La Feria, J. Crowin of Harlingen, retired supply pastor, and George Sullivan of San Marcos.

REGULAR WINNER

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State's football coach, Clarence L. (Biggie) Munn, has a record as assistant or head coach of college teams since 1932 of 107 victories, 30 defeats and ten ties. Only one of those 17 seasons was a losing one.

Dallas, Other Cities Eyed By Hilton Hotel

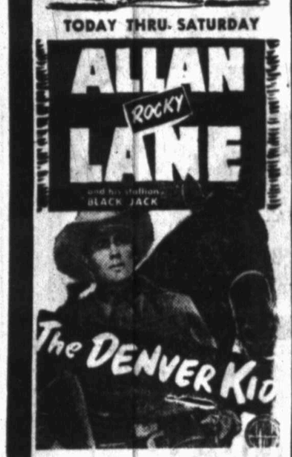

NEW YORK, Oct. 20, (AP)—A spokesman for the Hilton hotel says the chain is planning to build new hotels in New Orleans, Portland, Ore., Oakland, Calif., and Dallas.

The spokesman, Fred Joyce, said last night plans are still "nebulous" but that Conrad Hilton, head of a chain of 16 hotels throughout the country, is "seriously considering" the four cities as hotel sites.

He said Hilton believes these cities "need a new hotel."

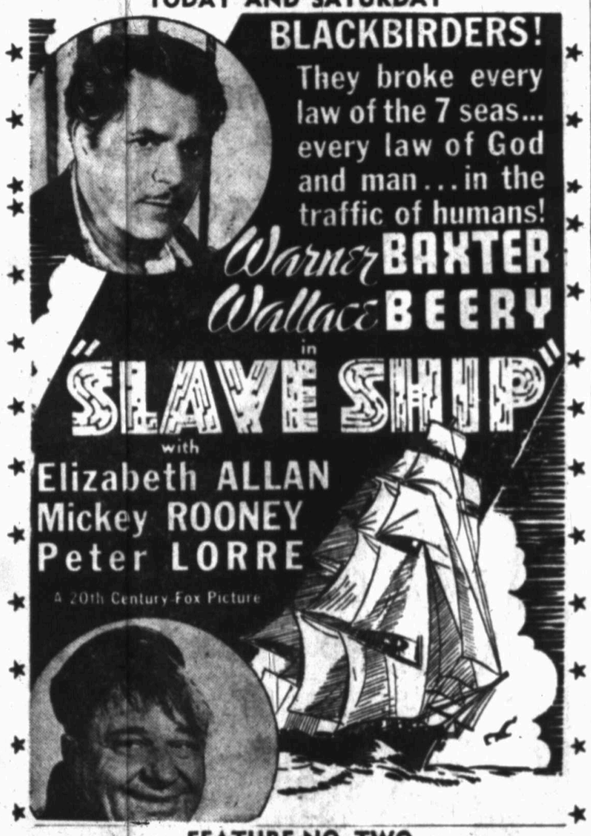

DIVIDEND IS DECLARED

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (AP)—International Harvester company today declared a special dividend of 40 cents and a regular quarterly dividend of 35 cents a share on the common stock, both payable January 16 to stockholders of record Dec. 15. The previous special dividend was 30 cents a share in January.

Area Dentists Meet Here Today

Society To Hear Guest Speakers

The annual fall meeting of the South Plains District Dental society will convene here at 9 a. m. today and continue through Saturday morning. Sessions are to be held in Hilton hotel.

Guest speakers will be Dr. Sam R. Parks of Dallas and Dr. George Ingham of Amarillo.

Some 40 dentists from over the South Plains area and from Eastern New Mexico are expected to attend. The district society is a component of the State Dental society.

Program Is Given

The program is as follows:

8 to 9 a.m. today—registration.

9 to 12 noon—Dr. Parks will speak to the group on "Peridontia."

12 noon — Luncheon in Hilton hotel.

1 to 3 p.m. — Continuation of Dr. Parks' lecture.

3 to 5 p.m.—Dr. Ingham will speak on "Oral Surgery."

Banquet Is Slated

7:30 p.m. — Banquet in Hilton hotel for dentists, their wives, and dental assistants. The program is being arranged by the ladies auxiliary of the dental society.

9 to 11 a.m. Saturday—Continuation of lecture on "Oral Surgery," by Dr. Ingham.

11 a.m. to 12 noon — Business session, after which the meeting will be adjourned.

Dr. Elmer Moore of Lubbock and Dr. W. A. Roberson of Brownfield are in charge of the program.

Officers of the South Plains Dental society are Dr. Kenenth R. Durham of Tahoka, president; Dr. Walter J. Howard of Lubbock, president-elect; Dr. J. O. Hollingsworth of Plainview, vice-president; and Dr. J. M. O'Rear of Lubbock, secretary.

Official delegate for the district society is Dr. F. A. Green of Crosbyton. Alternate delegate is Dr. J. B. McCorkle of Lubbock.

U. S. Airman Shot To Death In Front Of German Home

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 20 (AP) — A handsome U. S. Air Force lieutenant was killed early today on the threshold of his home by a bullet from a .45 caliber service pistol.

His wife, a striking brunette in her early 20s, was placed in protective custody by U. S. military police. She was treated for prostration at the U. S. Air Force hospital and held for questioning.

American authorities would not reveal their names until the lieutenant's mother in the United States had been notified.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Friday, October 21, 1949

Tech Petroleum Meeting Slated

Evaluation of the work and plans for the future for the petroleum engineering department at Texas Technological college will be discussed at a 10 a. m. meeting today of the Board of Directors minerals committee and the Petroleum Advisory committee for the college.

A disucssion of the work done by the department since it was raised to that status one year ago and plans for its expansion is the chief purpose of the meeting, Frank Junell, assistant to the president, said. The conference will be held in the President's office.

Others Are Invited

All those who have made contributions to the Petroleum Foundation fund at Tech have also been invited to the meeting. The Petroleum Advisory committee is made up of leaders in the industrial oil companies.

The petroleum engineering department was raised to department status last fall after formerly being only a sort of step-child in the geology department, W. L. Ducker, head, reminded. Since that time thousands of dollars in oil field and laboratory equipment have been donated to it. Plans are underway to eventually offer graduate research.

Board Members Named

Members on the Board of Directors minerals committee are C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder; Mark McGee, Fort Worth; and C. E. Weymouth, Amarillo. The Petroleum Advisory committee is composed of George P. Livermore, chairman, president of George P. Livermore, Inc.; Wallace Pratt, Carlsbad, N. M.; H. E. Chiles, jr., president of the Western Company at Seagraves; Max K. Watson, Natural Gas consultant at Amarillo; Owen Thornton, The Texas company at Houston; Joe S. Bridwell, president of the Bridwell Oil company at Wichita Falls; Dr. H. D. Wilde, vice-president of Humble Oil and Refining company at Houston; Dr. C. W. Seibel, supervising engineer for the Bureau of Mines Helium plants at Amarillo; H. M. Bayer of the Gulf Oil corporation at Fort Worth; and W. H. Mecom, educational director for Freeport Sulphur company at New Orleans.

Chiles and Dr. Wilde have sent word they are unable to attend the conference personally and will send W. M. Osburn, manager of the geological and engineering department for the Western company, and W. B. Everett, jr., of the Humble company, as their respective representatives.

Youths To Set Up Camp On Tech Campus

Boy Scouts To Begin Roundup Here Today

Boy Scouts from troops in 20 counties will arrive this afternoon to pitch camp on Texas Technological college campus for the first annual roundup held in the South Plains council since 1942.

Approximately 450 boys are expected to arrived today. My noon Saturday, probably 1,000 boys will have arrived, said W. R. Postma, council executive.

A program will be conducted at 8 p. m. today in Tech gymnasium. Troops will be "mortgaged" for specified numbers of Scouts. To get from under the "mortgage" they are to register new Scouts in the numbers specified by Dec. 1.

The college movie, "Futures Unlimited will be shown tonight.

Tech members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will guide Scouts to different parts of the college they want to see Saturday morning.

The group will attend the Texas Tech-University of Arizona football game Saturday afternoon, as guests of the college.

Boys will take sack picnic meals to eat Saturday night. Breakfast and lunch will be served to them Saturday.

The committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Dr. C. C. Schmidt, chairman of the council camping committee, which is working in cooperation with George Long of the college building and grounds department and Morley Jennings, college athletic director. D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Ex-Students association, made the movie available.

Tents will be set up near the gymnasium.

Missouri-Pacific Advances New Strike Settlement Offer

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20. (AP)—The management advanced another proposal today for ending the Missouri Pacific strike, which enters its seventh week tomorrow. Union officers were drafting a reply and there were indications they will reject the offer.

Negotiations which began Oct. 10 bogged down this week after the 282 union claims which led to the walkout had been reduced to 93.

Poor Seed Dumped Into State, Official At Texas Tech, Says

Texas has for years been the dumping ground for inferior seeds which would not be bought in other states, Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry at Texas Tech, said Thursday.

This condition, however, may be on the road to improvement, according to Dr. Young, who outlined work expected to be taken up at a meeting Nov. 5 of the Texas Seed council in Austin.

"We have had a law, but its enforcement has been so lax that seed companies could afford to risk being caught with mislabeled seeds a few times and still make money," the Tech professor asserted.

Wrong Label Hit

Dr. Young said that many not-too-scrupulous seed companies will label farm seed as perhaps 98 per cent germination tested when it is really only 60 per cent and perhaps also mis-label the weed content.

He said that although Texas has a very good law covering such violations, its enforcement has not heretofore been adequate and as a result Texas farmers have suffered.

The 18-member seed council will probably discuss ways of enforcing the law, particularly in working out a plan to get adequate inspectors to cover the state, Dr. Young said. He plans to attend the meeting himself.

Greater Care Expected

In the face of heavy fines and a greater probability that they would be caught, seed companies will probably refrain from dumping inferior seeds onto the Texas market, he said.

Previously the companies have known it unwise to try to sell such seeds in other states and have shipped them to Texas. He blamed many weedy crops and poor stands of grains and other crops on the inferiority of mis-labeled seeds.

Dr. Young is scheduled to speak in Oklahoma City on Nov. 3 to a meeting of the Southwest Livestock clinic, at which he will discuss ways of getting sub-marginal lands back into grass. He will go from Oklahoma direct to Austin for a conference Nov. 4 of the Texas Seedsmen association, followed the next day by the seed council meeting.

Teamwork In Education Stressed At Roscoe Wilson P-TA Meeting

Mrs. M. Norvel Young spoke Thursday afternoon to the P-TA of Roscoe Wilson school on "Teamwork in School, Home and Church."

She pointed out the need of a coordinated effort among these organizations for the proper development in a child of: (1) A strong, healthy body and sound mind, (2) Happy home life, (3) The ability to read, write, think, study and act, (4) An informed citizenship, (5) Knowledge and skill to earn a living, (6) Use of free time for worthy activities, and (7) Spiritual character.

With each of the "vital" agencies there is a certain time in the child's development when he can best be reached, Mrs. Young pointed out to the 180 women attending the meeting held in the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school auditorium.

Plans were made in a brief business meeting for the coming Hallowe'en carnival to be held Oct. 28. The proposed budget was adopted and delegates were appointed to the state P-TA convention to be held in Waco. Representatives will be Mrs. Ivy Savage and Mrs. L. E. Parsons, with Mrs. Leo Healer as an alternate.

'STUDENTS' SOLVE CRIMES

Lubbock Police To End Special FBI Course Of Instruction Today

A five-day FBI-taught school of instruction will be concluded today when members of Lubbock Police department attend classes from 1 to 3 and 4 to 6 p.m.

But the new type of criminological study—which plops "students" squarely into a simulated burglary or homicide or safe-cracking and lets them deduce their way out by collection of evidence—will be repeated in other South Plains cities.

Similar School Completed

Such a school will be convened Monday in Littlefield, the following Monday in Plainview, then in San Angelo and Big Spring. A similar school was completed last week in Borger. Within the next 12 months, approximately 50 of them will have been conducted within the Dallas field division of the FBI.

Here's the way such a learn-by-doing school operates: A "burglar" goes up to the window of a store and breaks in, managing to leave footprints, fingerprints, a smudge of blood, a button and other clues well scattered. He breaks into a safe, takes money and a pistol and makes his exit.

Conflicting Clues Found

Each patrolman is called upon to work out the identity of the burglar. But conflicting clues begin to be encountered after footprints and fingerprints are lifted and other evidence collected and classified.

An entirely new suspect takes shape in a maze of conflicting clues. Thus elimination of one set of clues is required along with recognition and assembly of others. Later, evidence so gained is presented in a full fledged simulated court.

Such a school first was staged by the FBI before the Sweetwater police. It became so popular that the FBI began getting increasing requests for similar ones.

Special Agents Instructed

Since it is difficult to find experts who can effectively teach such subjects, the FBI called in some of its special agents to Washington and gave them exhaustive courses that police departments might be interested in.

Through the resultant increase in schools of instruction, police personnel learned quickly some of the most evasive lessons of investigations, laws of arrests and points of court procedure.

The FBI has always evidenced a readiness to assist any qualified law enforcement group, and stands ready at any time, at its own expense, to furnish instructors to assist in any problems that arise.

FBI Agents Listed

Instructors of the Lubbock department are Special Agent Dwight M. Brightman, former resident agent here; Special Agent R. David O'Brien, former All-America grid star of TCU and winner of the Heisman and the Maxwell trophies in 1938; and two FBI special agents of Lubbock, Curtis L. Perryman and Edwin C. Dorris.

The FBI agents commended Lubbock Police Chief Lewis Kittrell upon the aptitude of his personnel.

"It is easy to determine that the men make up one of the state's better police departments," one of the agents said.

L. E. Weathers, 67, Lubbock Man, Dies

L. E. Weathers, 67, of 2408 Fifteenth, died at 9:20 p. m., today, in West Texas hospital, after suffering a heart attack earlier in the evening.

Weathers came to Lubbock from Hobbs in 1946, where he had moved after having lived in Tahoka for about 30 years. He had been in ill health for several years.

Funeral services are pending the arrival of relatives. The body is at Sanders Funeral home.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Tony Gilson of Lubbock, and Mrs. Roy Walker of Fort Worth; and one son, Orvis, of Portland, Ore.

Dallas Men Purchase Huge Colorado Ranch

DENVER, Oct. 20. (AP)— Purchase of Goffhelf Investment company, operators of one of the largest Colorado Hereford ranches, by three Dallas men was disclosed yesterday.

The Denver Post identified the three as Frank S. Hofues, John B. Mills and Richard Dean Hawn. It said the sale price was understood to be more than $1,000,000.

The ranch properties include 20,000 acres of land centered in Saguache county plus grazing permits for more than 200,000 acres in Rio Grande and Gunnison National forests.

ECA OFFICIALS PUSH PROGRAM TO SAVE MONEY

European Nations Likely To Take Steps Toward Economic Union To Keep Up Marshall Plan Fund

(EDITOR'S NOTE: American and European economic and political experts are agreed that the full effectiveness of the Marshall plan, and European recovery itself, cannot be achieved unless the democratic nations of Europe cooperate in an economic union.

In the following article—first of a series of two—veteran International News Service correspondent Joseph L. Ranft traces the progress towards economic union in what is applauded as the forerunner of a United States of Europe.)

By JOSEPH L. RANFT
INS Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Long strides will soon be taken in the direction of European economic union, partly to avert the possibility that a critical U. S. Congress may drastically prune Marshall plan funds next year.

Under the direction of the Economic Cooperation administration, spectacular proofs of intra-European mutual aid and common purpose will be presented to the many U. S. lawmakers who are known to be irritated by what they regard as Europe's failure to deliver on its promises to "get together" in return for large-scale American aid.

Top ECA officials have long been haunted by the dread that congressmen may wield the knife on funds for the gigantic recovery program when they examine the record for signs that European nations are taking steps in the direction of economic union. Hitherto that record has been almost bare of accomplishment.

But now, it is learned, things are at last about to get under way—primarily as a result of the recent general revaluation of European currencies. Hints which the ECA leaders dropped in high European quarters on the temper of Congress have also contributed powerfully to accelerating the trend.

Projects which will be translated into reality in the next few weeks include:

1. Sweeping liberalization of trade exchanges by the removal of quantitative restrictions on a list of commodities representing 50 per cent of intra-European imports.

2. Virtual economic and monetary union of France, Italy and Belgium (and possibly the Netherlands and Luxembourg).

3. A Scandinavian customs union similar to the Benelux arrangement.

ECA officials believe that when Congress realizes the scope of these soon-to-be-realized achievements and the consequences which will inevitably flow from them, it will be convinced that much progress has been made in the direction of European economic—and eventual political—union, despite an admittedly late start.

When the ERP was inaugurated a year and a half ago, many fair words were spoken and promises given that Europe had at last "seen the light"—that it was ready to put aside its fratricidal economic and political nationalisms and federate along the pattern of the American states.

But the herculean job of unsnarling and inter-relating the war-wracked, inflation-ridden economic and monetary systems took time, and disillusionment was certain to flower when action did not result immediately.

ECA technicians believe that Americans—and particularly congressmen—have been "too impatient" and have shown insufficient understanding of the massively complex problem of uniting nations, one technician complained:

"What congressmen seem to want right away is the kind of market unity we have in the U. S., in which there is a free flow of goods, capital and labor across state lines. They lose sight of the fact that federation of the 13 American colonies was comparatively simple because the population was homogeneous and the economy and organically harmonious whole."

Another factor in stalling moves toward European economic union thus far has been the very nature of the Marshall plan's basic strategy.

"It was necessary to do first things first," said one ECA official. "Thus we had to fight the 'battle of production' in our first year in order to overcome the shortages still hanging over from the war. Then we had to fight the 'battle of inflation.'

"It is now possible to say that we have won both those battles. Production in most of the ERP nations is today appreciably above pre-war levels, And inflation has been stemmed.

Murder Verdict Returned In Death Of Man Near Ardmore

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 20 (AP)—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of murder in the death of Samuel Eugene Woodruff, 44, whose body was found beside U.S. highway 77 south of Ardmore, Aug. 27.

Officers found Woodruff's empty billfold, a shaving kit and a scribbled note near the body.

The note read: "2 men in car got mask on—Buick car—tag bent up—both got guns—got $650, clothes. Made get in car. I started Nailors."

Officers later decided the name "Nailors" could have referred to Woodruff's sister, Mrs. Dick Naylor of Ardmore.

The last address given for Woodruff on papers found in the billfold was Alpine, Texas.

Kiwanians Get Progress Report On Oil Industry From Engineer

The Lubbock Kiwanis club Thursday observed Oil Progress Week by listening to a speech by C. F. Simes, division engineer for Stanolind Pipe Line company.

He was introduced by G. L. Maciula, area engineer for the same company.

Rev. A. H. Carlton, former pastor of St. John's Methodist church here and now pastor of the First Methodist church at Big Spring, gave the invocation.

Fred Sparks presided.

In the Sequoia National Park there are 8,722 giant redwood trees more than 10 feet in diameter.

About one fourth of the nation's vegetables are grown in California.

At least one no-hit game has been pitched each year in the major leagues since 1944.

MURDER TRIAL BEGINS MONDAY

Smithwick Loses Court Fight For Freedom In Plea For Bail

ALICE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Former Deputy Sheriff Sam Smithwick lost his court fight today for freedom on bail and went back to the Bell county jail to await trial Monday on a murder charge.

Judge Paul A. Martineau listened to two hours of testimony in a habeas corpus hearing here and immediately afterwards turned down Smithwick's plea for freedom.

Smithwick is charged with shooting down radio commentator W. H. (Bill) Mason on an Alice street July 29. Smithwick surrendered after the shooting and has been in jail since.

Attorney's To Appeal

Attorneys for Smithwick said they would appeal today's ruling. Judge Martineau granted them 30 days to prepare.

Henry Taylor of Temple, one of Smithwick's attorneys, told newsmen the defense would not use the habeas corpus appeal as a basis for a continuance in the murder trial.

He declined to say if a continuance would be asked on other grounds. He said he would be in court Monday at Belton where Judge Martineau ordered the case tried.

Smithwick was represented by two others, Byron Skelton, Temple attorney, and W. M. Wilder, county judge of Live Oak county.

Officials Oppose Bond

District Attorney Sam Reams and county Attorney Homer E. Dean, jr., opposed granting of bond. They said the state would be ready for trial Monday on the murder charge.

The state called three witnesses at the habeas corpus hearing, the defense seven.

Zaragosa Garcia, Alice policeman, the first officer on the scene of the shooting, was called by the defense.

Asked if he had seen a gun clip and a pair of glasses at the scene, Garcia replied, "Yes."

Spectators took this as a defense move to show there was a scuffle.

Mason was 51. He had carried on a crusade campaign over the radio. In his last program he leveled a broadside at Smithwick.

He accused the then deputy sheriff of being owner of property on which a night club was situated. He charged prostitution was practiced at the spot.

Kansas Woman Claims Secret Marriage To Wealthy Oilman

HAYS, Kans., Oct. 20 (U.P.)—A prominent milliner here claimed today that she had been married secretly to Mark Hadley, wealthy oilman and rancher, for 43 years and said she would contest his will.

Hadley died of a heart attack last week, leaving his entire estate to local institutions.

Decilia Deane said she and Hadley were married in a Catholic church in Damar, Kans., in 1906.

"The marriage was kept secret because I would not have been welcome in the Hadley home," she said.

The estate's worth is indefinite, based on oil royalties from the Hadley pool which has produced for more than 20 years.

The will provided that 85 per cent of the estate go to trustees of Hadley Memorial hospital and 15 per cent to the retired ministers' fund of the Methodist church here. It also provided for a $20,000 cash gift to the local Methodist church for purchasing a pipe organ.

Hadley left no known survivors, his lawyer said.

Two Sisters From Chicago Die In Truck Wreck Near Thorndale

TAYLOR, Oct. 20 (AP) — Two young sisters were killed and five persons injured in a truck wreck near Thorndale yesterday.

Dead were Margie Ramirez, 12, and her sister, Angelina, 13.

Injured were the sisters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Ramirez; their two brothers, Macedonio, 11, and Lorenzo, 14, and Joe Mendoza, owner and driver of the truck. All were from Chicago.

Chaplain Wears Out Voice In World War Service, VA Reveals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (INS) The Veterans Administration disclosed to day the strange case of an Army chaplain who literally wore out a vocal cord in World War II and who has been forced to learn a new profession.

The clergyman is the Rev. W. Z. Henline of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, an ordained minister for 21 years and a veteran of 27 months with combat troops in Europe.

New Occupation Planned

Unable to speak above a whisper, Henline now is enrolled as a GI bill of rights student at Coe college, Cedar Rapids, taking courses in preparation for becoming a magazine writer, specializing in religious topics.

The VA said that as a front-line chaplain, Henline delivered five sermons every Sunday, held as many as nine services a day, and had more than 70,000 personal talks with soldiers.

When he returned to the United States, a growth was discovered on one of his vocal cords. The cord was removed. He has been able to speak only in whispers ever since.

San Antonio Man Among Six To Escape From Kansas Jail

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 20 (AP)—A Texan was among six prisoners who broke out of the city jail here last night and escaped.

He is Nathaniel Johnson, 25, of San Antonio, under five-year prison sentence for attempted burglary and possession of explosives. He was sentenced in Kansas and also had been indicted in Amarillo for burglary.

The prisoners pried bars loose from the "bullpen" window on the second floor, tied blankets into a rope and climbed down to a garage roof, officers said.

Texas School Districts Burdened By Military Installations To Get Hearing By House Panel

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — School districts in Central and North Texas that are overburdened by adjacent military or national defense populations and seek federal government aid will have a hearing before the House Education and Labor sub-committee in Fort Worth on Nov. 2.

School superintendents from Killeen Independent School district, Hooks, New Boston, Grand Prairie and Castleberry will be heard, as well as representatives of Red River Ordnance plant, Camp Hood and Carswell Air Force base.

Study Planned

The congressional group will study the impact of the federal government's installations on local school districts. Amplifying purposes of the committee, a committee spokesman said: "In some places the committee has found that one half of county property has been taken over by the government. It is not taxable, therefore, and the effect of this condition on school revenue in some cases has been drastic. We want to help these local school districts."

The hearings are to get testimony looking to permanent legislation for federal aid to schools under these special situations. For several years, starting during the war, emergency funds have been handed out to these districts. Each year it became necessary for school men to go to Washington to "lobby" to get extensions of these funds.

Group Is Named

Congressmen who will come to Fort Worth and later conduct hearings at San Antonio and Orange, are: Reps. Cleveland M. Bailey (D-WV), Tom Steed (D-Okla), Richard M. Nixon (D-Calif.), Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky), and Leonard Irving (D-Mo.).

They will be accompanied by Col. Leland A. Yumpkin, representing the armed services; Frank E. Boyer, committee professional staff; Dr. H. F. Alves, formerly of Austin, director of the division of school administration, U. S. Office of Education; B. A. Lylywhite, school analyst, Government Services administration, which administers the federal funds for the covered schools.

The group will arrive in Fort Worth on the morning of Nov. 2, by train from Oklahoma City and spend the day at hearings and in looking over Grand Prairie and Carswell Air base. They will leave by train for San Antonio, that night.

Tokyo Rose To Seek Release On Tuesday

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20 (INS) —A motion to free Tokyo Rose on bail will be argued next Tuesday morning before the ninth circuit court of appeal in San Francisco.

The court placed the bail motion on its calendar today and defense attorneys announced they will seek to have Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino released on bail until the court rules on her appeal from a treason conviction.

The Los Angeles-born Japanese-American woman was found guilty Sept. 29 on one count of treason in an eight-count federal grand jury indictment.

She has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment but is being held at the San Francisco county jail pending court action on her appeal.

A jury found her guilty of broadcasting treasonous statements over Tokyo Radio during the war.

Scientists classify electronics as a tool "more versatile than any previously known."

ONLY TWO MADE IT

CHICAGO. (AP)—Only two players ever have hit homers into Chicago's Comiskey Park's center field bleachers. Jimmy Foxx and Hank Greenberg, both right-handed power hitters turned the trick during their American League careers. The wall is 440 feet away from home plate and is 35 feet high.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 209 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back. Adv.

Veteran Oilman G. S. Bays Dies

TULSA, Oct. 20. (Special)—George Samuel Bays, 60, consulting engineer for Stanolind Oil and Gas company, died Wednesday night in his home at 2221 North Denver place in Tulsa. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Well known throughout the oil industry, Bays had devoted nearly all his working career to the petroleum business. A staunch supporter of strict conservation policies, he was one of the first in the business to advocate such practices in the production of oil and gas.

Native Of Kansas

A native of Kansas, Bays would have been 61 years old on Oct. 28. He was born in 1888 in Severy, Kan., and attended school at Conway Spring High school in Independence and the University of Kansas, where he studied civil engineering.

Bays' association with the oil business began in 1912 when he joined the Magnolia Petroleum company after receiving his discharge from the Kansas National guard. Later he was chief engineer for the Trinity Contruction company. In that capacity he supervised the reclamation project that included rechanneling the Trinity river and its tributaries around Dallas.

Held Many Posts

In 1919 Bays went to work for the McMan Oil and Gas company, which he left in 1920 to become vice president and manager of the Shamrock Oil company. He returned to McMan in 1922 as general superintendent, and has been with Stanolind since McMan merged with it in 1931. At that time he became superintendent of gas and gasoline production.

Later he served as chief engineer, chief research engineer, and finally, consulting engineer in the company's administrative department. He had been a resident of Tulsa for more than 25 years.

Invented Equipment

During his long career in the oil business, Bays became known for several of his inventions that were adopted as oil field equipment. Design and construction of new pieces of equipment was one of his hobbies.

Bays is survived by a son, George S. Bays, jr., of Baytown, and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Bays Holt of Kingsville.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Stanley Funeral service in Tulsa.

Yugoslav Election To UN Council Represents World Rebuff To Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

World public opinion laid a heavy hand on Soviet Russia Thursday in the election of Yugoslavia to the UN Security council.

Russia has taken rebuff after rebuff in the peace organization. In the case of the Iranian dispute immediately after the war, for instance, the pressure proved so great that she changed her policy for once and withdrew her troops.

UN Passes Judgment

The Yugoslav election represents the passing of judgment by the UN on a quarrel within Communist ranks.

The passion with which Russia views this quarrel was personified in Andrei Vishinsky's last-ditch effort to stave off defeat, and by his defiance of the rules of procedure to take the assembly floor in denunciation after the vote.

Vishinsky, for those two minutes of pre-election protest, was a man fighting desperately, as he had been doing publicly and privately for weeks, against defeat on a matter which was to him truly vital.

Minister Puts Up Fight

The Russian foreign minister had put up a good fight, obtaining more votes for Czechoslovakia then observers had anticipated. He had considerable precedent on his side, although the United States could make a good show of technical correctness in its stand for Tito. Vishinsky lost, but this is one time when there is no unanimity of opinion that he was wrong on the matter of procedure.

Vishinsky's statement that Yugoslavia "cannot and will not" be accepted as representing eastern Europe, whose seat she fills under the charter provision for regional representation, is one of fact. Yugoslavia cannot, of course, represent a group of nations with which she has virtually no diplomatic relations, and with which she is conducting a private "cold war."

Yugoslavia is a member of the council only in preference to a Czechoslovakia which is a Moscow puppet, and because she took advantage of western feeling against Russia to stage a coup in her conflict with the cominform. Her insistence caught the western powers so much between the devil and the deep blue sea that England, wanting no breach in the regional system which might interfere with commonwealth membership some day, voted on the Russian side.

Just how much the possibilities of ultimate compromise will be affected is hard to foresee. But there is a new hardening of hearts at Lake Success today.

Oklahoma Telephone Rate Fight May Return To Top State Court

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone company may take its fight for additional rate increases back to the state supreme court.

The Corporation commission refused yesterday to allow the increases.

The commission denied a company petition for supersedeas bond to put the requested increases into effect pending a state supreme court or federal district court ruling.

Monday the commission awarded Bell $5,750,000 in annual increases. The firm had sought increases of $7,500,000.

POPULARITY SHOWS SLIGHT DROP

Majority Of Voters Continue To Approve Truman For Job

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 20—As the longest peacetime session of Congress ended, President Truman's personal popularity with the nation's voters has slumped a little in comparison to last summer.

But he is handling his job as President in a way that still meets with the approval of most voters questioned by interviewers in a national survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

Here is what the survey found during the period Sept. 25 to Oct. 5, before the steel strike hit the nation. The results of a similar survey in July are also shown.

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Truman is handling his job as President?"

	Oct.	Last July
Approve	51%	57%
Disapprove	31	26
No opinion	18	17

The above results are in sharp contrast to the situation found three years ago this month, when only 32 per cent of voters questioned by the Institute said they approved of the way Mr. Truman was handling his job. That was October, 1946, and the following month the Democratic party lost control of both houses of Congress in the Congressional elections.

"Five Per Centers"

Political observers casting about for an explanation of the current drop in President Truman's popularity will probably note several likely reasons.

One may be the effect of the investigation of the "five per centers," a series of hearings which occupied the headlines during a good part of September and involved President Truman's own close friend and aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan.

Or perhaps the drop in the President's personal popularity was occasioned by bickerings and party squabbles in Congress. When Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the White House, Institute surveys found a general tendency for him to lose popularity when Congress was in session and politics were boiling.

Since President Truman took office in 1945 his popularity as measured in surveys of the type reported today has fluctuated widely. The trend for the year 1949 to date is more or less typical, as follows:

	Approve	Disapprove	No Opinion
January	69%	17%	14%
March	57	24	19
July	57	26	17
October	51	31	18

Union Approval

The two groups in the electorate who had a great deal to do with Mr. Truman's reelection — labor unions and farmers—both express approval of him today—union members by an overwhelming vote, farmers in a more moderate proportion.

Here is the vote of the two groups:

	Approve	Disapprove	No Opinion
Union Members	57%	27%	16%
Farmers	45	40	15

The independent voters—those who prefer to classify themselves as neither Democrats nor Republicans—look favorably upon Mr. Truman's handling of his job, although the vote is closely divided —42 per cent approve, 38 per cent disapprove and 20 per cent undecided.

Progress Made In Housing Program

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 20. (INS)—Federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods said today that some progress has been made in meeting the national demand for housing but a "definite shortage" of low-cost rentals still exists.

Woods spoke before the 54th annual encampment of the Jewish War Veterans of America in Miami Beach. Some 4,000 veterans are attending.

The housing official remarked:

"The housing act of 1949 is a move in the right direction, although it has not been on the statute books long enough to have made a dent in the housing demand."

He acknowledged that more housing legislation is needed and pointed out that some measures are still pending in Congress.

Woods said his office is now concentrating on the decontrol of rents in rural or sparsely populated sections and in cities of less than 25,000 population.

He described the present rent law as a "good one" but said lack of funds forced many area rent offices to close or sharply reduce their staffs.

FREE WINE AT GRAPE FETE—From this fountain flowed more than 1,000 gallons of wine during the annual grape festival at Marino, Italy, wine-producing center near Rome.

Phone Weddings Fail To Speed Trip To U. S. For Brides

FRANKFURT, Germany Oct. 20 (AP)—Telephones can speed a bride's wedding, but they won't get her to the United States any faster, the U. S. Army reported today.

The statement came after several soldiers in the United States had married girls in Germany by long-distance telephone.

"The U. S. State department does not recognize marriage by proxy as valid for the purpose of issuing a non-quota visa to an alien," the Army chaplain's division announced.

'Timing' Softens Impact Of Strikes

BY FRANK SNYDER
INS Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, Oct. 20. — Projected model changeovers, inventories and production cutbacks will help to balance the ill effects of a continued coal and steel strike on the auto industry's 667,000 factory employes.

In fact, industry observers pointed out today that "timing" of the strike so that the full impact will not reach the automotive plants until next month "could not have been any better."

For at that time, Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, Hudson and other automobile manufacturers will begin laying off large numbers of their employes while they take inventories and retool for 1950 models.

These layoffs will range from two to four weeks during which periods very little will be lost in the way of production due to lack of steel and coal.

Seasonal layoffs because of production cutbacks are already in effect, even though the number of idle employes is small at the moment. Indefinite furloughs have already been given to 4,000 at Packard, 2,500 at Briggs manufacturing company and next Monday Kaiser-Frazer will lay off 5,000.

Ford has announced plans to begin shutting its plants and furloughing 115,000 production workers by Nov. 11 if the steel and coal strike continues. General Motors plans to start putting some of its 400,000 workers on a four-day week around Nov. 1. and Chrysler expects to curtail production about the same time.

Record In Making

The old law of "supply and demand" is catching up with the automobile industry. A new all-time production record is in the making, with the industry expected by next week to pass the 1929 mark of 4,587,400 passenger cars and 771,020 trucks. And this record will be accomplished with two months to spare.

The "buyers" market also is making the industry a little apprehensive. Although no sizeable cut is expected in the price of the smaller models, the industry at the moment is going all-out to bring the cost of the middle-size car below $2,000.

Ford and Chevrolet are planning to introduce the automatic transmission on their 1950 models, while manufacturers like Hudson are preparing to announce cutdown versions of present high-priced models.

New automobile sales reached their peak in August and dropped an estimated 50,000 vehicles in September. The October through December drop will be even greater as prospective purchasers await the new cars.

All these factors point out the timeliness of the current strikes as they affect the biggest user of coal and steel.

TAFT IS RIGHT

Guard Our Freedom!

FOOD for solemn meditation was contained in the warning this week by Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, that the extensions of federal authority must be checked "or our free enterprise system is lost."

It was not a new warning. Many have cried it during the last 17 years. But each time the alarm is shouted becomes increasingly important because of the clear demand for swift action to halt the trend toward centralization of government if free enterprise is to survive.

It is not necessary to be an expert to appreciate that, if the liberties implied by the term, "free enterprise," are lost, most of our other freedoms are likely to go with them.

One simple example illustrates. Governmental control of enterprise would mean, among other things, government control of jobs. The fellow with such a job either would do exactly as the government's bureaucratic official over him said in all things, or he would be, at best, out of work. He would not be able to find other employment — or go in business for himself — because the government would be in control wherever he might turn. He would obey or, if lucky, slowly starve. More probably he would wind up in jail, or a concentration camp, or in some sort of forced labor under some trumped up charge of disobedience reminiscent of the Nazis and of the Russia of today.

In short, if the government ever can gain control of enterprise, it will control everything. Few individuals would have the courage to insist upon such freedoms as speech, workship and movement if they thereby imperiled the wage or business upon which they relied for food, shelter and the other necessities of life.

Indeed, a great deal more than enterprise is involved when men like Senator Taft cry such warnings. Much more than free enterprise is at stake. All freedoms are in danger.

Music And Law

THE application for a pardon for Frank Grandstaff from the life sentence he is serving in Tennessee as an habitual criminal was an expected sequel to the widespread publicity he received recently as the composer of the cantata, "Big Spring."

Grandstaff was a guest of honor during the recent Big Spring centennial celebration when the musical composition was presented publicly for the first time. Among other distinctions, he shared with Gov. Allan Shivers the place of honor in the prade reviewing stand.

Everyone agreed that Grandstaff's conduct was exemplary during his brief holiday from the Tennessee prison. The consensus of critics also was that his contata, while perhaps not a masterpiece, reflected musical talents of a high order.

But these properly are not factors for consideration in connection with the pardon application except for the bearing they might have upon the probability that Grandstaff might be a lawfully self-supporting citizen if released from prison. He has had three chances already to "go straight." He is under a life sentence now because of three previous convictions of felony charges — the fourth conviction branded him as an habitual criminal and made the life term mandatory.

It is all right to feel sorry for Grandstaff, or for any person in prison. He has earned recognition because of his composition.

But no man should be released from prison just because he has composed a contata, or can play shortstop.

Grandstaff should be freed only if the Tennessee Board of Pardons feels he has been punished sufficiently and, of greater importance, that he can be trusted not to abuse another — his fourth-chance as a free man.

After reading the current happenings we doubt if our posterity will look back on us and point with pride.

Things Age Fast In This Atomic Age

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Tod Duncan married Jenny after his fiancee jilted him. Both have tried to make a success of this marriage "on the rebound," but Tod's family, which is inhospitable to Jenny, and financial difficulties contrive to make life one complication after another. Then Jenny finds that she is to become a mother. Tod thoughtlessly leaves her one night to visit his own mother, and Jenny's time is at hand. Fortunately an old chum of Tod's, Rick Morris, drops in.)

XVII

JENNY heard Rick's unhurried voice with a hint of laughter in it. "I'm not the proud father, really. He's — well I didn't have time to find out just where he had gone, but—"

She couldn't seem to control her thoughts. They swam around crazily, just as she herself was swimming now through pale green mist. Tod hadn't really wanted this baby. He hadn't even wanted to talk about it. And he couldn't be bothered with sitting around with her every evening until it came. Ma was lonely.

Ma's face was there all at once, very real, dancing before her, wearing an expression of mockery. "You schemed and finagled to get him to marry you, and you knew all the time he was still in love with Liz."

"No!" she cried out. "I didn't scheme and finagle. I only loved him."

Rick's voice interrupted gently. "Jenny!" Jenny opened her eyes, and through the mist his face emerged. The room came into focus, pale green walls, venetian blinds, and on the metal bureau a huge bouquet.

"Have I been talking crazy, Rick?" she asked weakly. She twisted her fingers around his warm hand.

Rick flushed and looked embarrassed. "You're supposed to rest, Jenny," he said gravely.

A nurse bustled in. "So, she's finally come out of it. Well, dearie, has your husband told you about those two bouncing boys?"

"I'm not the father." Rick's face reddened again.

"Oh, yes." The nurse bustled around. "They told me that, but I forgot."

"Tod will be here any minute," Rick explained. "I phoned the office at the trailer camp, and they'll catch him when he comes in."

Jenny found her voice. "Two boys?"

"Twins, darling."

"Oh, no." She couldn't quite comprehend it.

TOD came at last. He leaned over her, and she looked up at him, her eyes blurred and sleepy. Then she smiled faintly and said, "It was a dirty trick of me—twins—can you imagine?"

"It's wonderful, Jenny. Wonderful to think it's all over." He hated himself for having gone away and left her. He tried in every way possible to make up for it. Magazines, books, candy, flowers—he fairly outdid himself. He spoke with hearty enthusiasm of his two future football players out in the nursery, and assured Jenny over and over again that they were the cutest two infants among the lot.

Jenny pondered a long time over the names. She made out a long list and Tod approved of two of them: Dale and Philip.

They went in Rick's car one fine sunny March day back to Homecroft camp. Jenny's neighbors had gone together to buy the needed extra bassinet and layette, for the unexpected twin. It was a joyful homecoming. And for a time things ran very smoothly. Ruth Hansen helped for a while with the morning baths. After all, two babies for a brand-new mother and no help in the crowded quarters, was quite an order.

In May the twins decided to be colicky at precisely the same time Tod began working on his term papers. The trailer became a madhouse, a crowded, hectic 12 by 20 space full of squalls and the smell of wet diapers and spilled milk, and the sound of sharp adult voices. Those nights, Jenny walked back and forth the length of the trailer with one of the babies to keep him from waking his brother and Tod.

Tod was worried about a job after his graduation. Business administration had seemed a good thing to take when he started to college. He really hadn't been too interested in anything but football in the beginning. Now he learned that jobs available to graduates were neither too well paid nor plentiful, especially from a small college like Markwood.

"All I'm interested in," Jenny said wearily as they discussed it, "is getting out of this trailer and into an apartment or a house."

THEN Rick came to their rescue with what seemed to Jenny a delightful solution. He had stopped by the trailer for a few moments one Friday afternoon. He was on his way home for the weekend. She had been telling Rick about her hopeless hunt for a place to live.

"Gosh, you'll have to come down to Centerville! You can stay two weeks or even a month. We've got a big house, four bedrooms, and mother'd be tickled pink to get her hands on the twins. And she'd be nuts about you, Jenny."

Tod looked up from his studies. "We'll find a place. Jenny's just discouraged."

"Yes, but there's no reason why you shouldn't all come down for a vacation. Of course it's a little town, awfully quiet, but—nice."

"But, Rick," Jenny protested, "are you sure your mother wouldn't be appalled at having such a houseful descend on her?"

"Nonsense!" Rick cried. "She'd love it!"

After Rick left, Tod's voice was strangely harsh.

"Rick's in love with you, isn't he?"

(To Be Continued)

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

A violent controversy is raging over a remark made by Madame Schiaparelli, the Paris fashion designer, who is visiting our country.

BRANDEIS

Madam S. (I want to spare the typesetter the trouble of having to set name twice) said that women dress to please men.

Women who dress for other women, she maintains, do so only because they are cats.

They want to make their fellow females feel bad and show them that they are superior.

As a mere man I am disqualified to decide this weighty problem.

All I can do is to make my own observations.

I know too many women, alas, who dressed in the height of fashion before they were married.

After they got their man, all the cosmetics, all the silks and satins, were put away and comfort and utility were substituted for style.

Many a man has complained that his wife didn't continue to be the girl he married.

At a recent divorce trial the husband insisted that, by neglecting her appearance, his wife had not only driven him into the arms of other women but had actually committed a crime — "obtaining money under false pretenses."

These are only opinions—and opinions of a man at that.

In my mind I can already read some of the letters I shall receive as a result of this column.

"How can I dress in fashion" they will say, "when I have to spend hours in the kitchen and over a tub?"

Of course, of course.

But may I, again as a mere man, make a suggestion to the ladies?

A man's wife, if the marriage it to be successful, should try, as much as possible, to be ever the girl whom he married.

She is the symbol of his success or of his failure.

And she is also, by her attire, a symbol of the respect she has for him.

WHY do successful people patronize expensive restaurants and resorts?

Because the atmosphere of these places, the people they see in them, the service they get, are outward evidences of their own standing.

A slovenly wife makes a man feel that he does not rate neatness, attractiveness, personal care.

"Anything is good enough for you" is the implication of disarray and carelessness.

We men are vain, although we don't admit it.

We want to be proud of our women. We like to show them off, because through them we also show ourselves off.

A well-dressed woman is a billboard proclaiming to the world "See what a fine husband I have."

Lest you consider me unqualified

AS RESULT OF FEUD

Defense Changes Seen

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON: — Although revolutionary changes in the nation's warmaking machine will not result overnight from the current Navy-Air Force controversy on Capitol Hill, even the extremists in both camps look for certain fundamental revisions when Congress frames the 1950-1951 military budget. They will come far faster than they did when the late "Billy" Mitchell exploded his bomb beneath the brass and braid more than 20 years ago.

In general, changes are envisaged along these broad lines:

(1). The theory that wars can be won overnight with a quick-striking, atomic air squadron of big bombers will disappear, and emphasis will be placed on smaller machines in fighter and bomber types, as well as in jet and guided missiles. Like the monstrous battleships and supercarriers, the B-36 or any machine of that size will probably become a museum piece.

TUCKER

(2). The disputed Key West decision to restrict the Navy to purely tactical operations in the skies, protecting convoys, providing an umbrella for landings and ferreting out hostile submarines, will be modified. There will be no such sharp division of assignments and responsibility. The lessons of Midway, where naval aviator wrecked the Japanese fleet, will be recalled.

COST: (3). As both Britain and Russia are doing now, the U. S. will spend more money on defensive equipment such as radar screens around vital areas. A start has been made on building such a listening wall, but screens are extremely costly, and Congress has been somewhat stingy in this field.

(4). The U. S. may have to pour out many billions in strengthening England, Japan, the Philippines, and possibly India, as outposts. An outer ring of a defensive and offensive nature may make Moscow think twice about bombing targets over here.

(5). Assuming that the "cold war" continues, the cost of such a program will be terrific, but the shift to less bulky weapons may permit some savings after the initial expenditure. However, recent expectations of cutting the overall military budget from fifteen to ten billions a year seem to have vanished.

PROPHESIES: Public and private economists' prophesies for the last quarter of 1949 and the first few months of 1950 reveal no general change in the business situation with respect to prices, wages, business activity etc. Despite a slight October sag due to strikes and resultant uncertainty, they anticipate no recession of any depth.

Prices may fall in some lines such as clothing and a few foods, but purchasing pressure based on an increased money supply will tend to hold them near their present level. Landlords and public utilities, whose charges remained fairly stable during and since the war, are now demanding their cut, and seem to be getting it.

Despite the outcome of the steel and coal strikes, with the shutdown of some factories dependent on those and allied products, industrial employees may feel the pinch from loss of work and salary.

Even if they win higher wages and pensions, they will lose their gains in prices, and, of course, they derive no immediate benefit from welfare and pension grants, unless they fall sick or die.

MONEY: One factor disturbing the economists for its possible effect on the economy is the tremendous amount of money that should flow into business and industrial channels next year. It could be an upsetting influence, depending on how people use and spend it.

World War II veterans, for instance, will begin to collect almost three billion dollars in accumulated insurance dividends in December or January. Government pensions and disability payments to men of earlier wars were increased by this Congress. The farmers will continue to receive federal subsidies.

Public and private construction is on the increase, and should go even higher. Numerous states are starting to distribute pension and welfare funds that were approved by the voters in the last few years. Marshall Plan outlays will aid business and industry.

And Robert F. Rich, wealthy Republican manufacturer from Pennsylvania, will have more reason to rise in the House each morning, and shout: "Where is all the money coming from?"

HAPPY: Nevertheless, leaders of the business community seem to be in a fairly happy mood, although worried over the long-range prospects.

Although President Truman has complimented the Eighty-First Congress on its achievements, as expected, the legislators rebuffed his more extreme demands. The "Fair Deal" is still only a political talking point for future campaigns.

Not a comma of the Taft-Hartley Act was changed. Income and corporation taxes were not boosted in accord with the White House demand, and they may be lowered next year. Few employers of labor will be hurt by the increase of the minimum wage to 75 cents, in view of present wage scales.

Presidents may propose and propagandize, but it is Congress which disposes. And, as of today and probably on their return next January, the boys and girls on Capitol Hill seem willing to let well enough alone.

Mrs. James H. Goodman was hostess to the Browning club of Plainview yesterday afternoon at her home at 2401 Nineteenth. Associate hostesses were Mrs. W. B. Price and Mrs. W. P. Clement. The three hostesses are former members of the Plainview club.

The regular study lesson was held with Mrs. Mary Gene Owen of this city giving a program of Browning's poems. Following the program an informal tea was held.

There were 18 members in attendance and special guests were Mrs. J. Walter Day of Chicago and Mrs. Tom Carter of Plainview.

Believe It Or Not--

PEACE TALK NOT OUT OF PLACE

Indian Leader Sounds Warning

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — It is good that we have provided a forum for a visitor from the other side of the world to talk about peace, even though he has some difficulty making himself heard above the jangle of arms, the swish of jet planes, and the angry bickering about whether a certain type airplane can deliver atom bombs the necessary distance.

STOKES

The voice of Pandit Nehru, prime minister of India, is the still small voice of spiritual values in a mad world, and, sad to relate, it is almost as if he were a visitor from another planet speaking a language that nobody can understand.

Others Could Speak

Why has not someone of our own leaders in this nation with the greatest potential moral influence in the world said the very simple truths that he spoke at Columbia university — that mankind can never get peace by dividing up the world into two armed camps, that peace does not come through armament races, that peace is not possible so long as we do not provide for the simple, daily needs of human beings all over the world and lift the pall of poverty and hunger and fear?

Why not Harry Truman who knows these truths and could speak with a voice that would be heard all over the world?

IT WOULD be most interesting to know what our Indian visitor really thinks of us at this moment as we are presented to him in the noises that go on about him wherever he goes in our country.

When he spoke here before Congress, the Army and Navy were at each other's throats in a nearby committee room pursuing that war of the Pentagon, so that the headlines were full of talk about "the next war." Astute as he is, and more aware of western ways than he professes, he may have reacted as did a philosopher friend of ours who observed that since the Army and Navy are so busy fighting each other they must not be too concerned about another war. Which is a consoling way to look at it. Or another explanation — from the cynics — which is to recall that every year about this time when the appropriations are up for action in Congress the Army and the Navy stage a public war among themselves to make the best cases they can for as big a slice of the money as they can get.

Whatever the reason, this constant "next war" talk can't be too healthy.

While Pandit Nehru was here, too, angry and embittered men in a committee room were trying to stop the bill to increase the number of desperate, homeless displaced persons from Europe who might come here where there's so much room to make a new start for themselves, which somehow seems a contradiction of those words on the Statue of Liberty about a haven which is the first thing that visitors to our shores see. That bill now is held up until next year.

Our visitor is saying frankly some things that indicate he is discovering our current attitude and mood, of which we can't be very proud, and of which it is well for us to be reminded by someone from afar who can take the long look, such as:

"The very process of a marshaling of the world into two hostile armed camps precipitates the conflict which it is sought to avoid. It produces a sense of terrible fear and that fear darkens men's minds and leads them into wrong courses. There is perhaps nothing so bad and so dangerous in life as fear. As a great President of the United States said: There is nothing really to fear except fear itself.

"OUR problem, therefore, becomes one of lessening fear and ultimately putting an end to this fear. That will not happen if the world takes sides and talks of war. War becomes almost certain then. . . .

"The collossal expenditures of energy and resources on armaments, that is an outstanding feature of many national budgets today, does not solve the problem of world peace. Perhaps even a fraction of that outlay in other ways and for other purposes will provide a more enduring basis for peace and happiness."

A point well taken. Right here in Congress we vote seventeen billions for Army and Navy without the bat of an eye and quarrel like angry cats about comparatively negligible sums for hospitals and schools and the more enduring bases for peace and happiness.

There are one trillion feet of timber standing in the three west coast states — Washington, Oregon and California.

GOVERNMENT WORK CONTINUES

Adjournment Of Congress Fails To End Activities In Washington

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—What happens in Washington, now that Congress has quit for the rest of 1949?

True, the town will quiet down a little. No more laws can be passed until Congress comes back into session again.

Until then there can be no more speeches or debates on the floors of House and Senate.

This won't stop congressmen from issuing statements or making speeches wherever they are, if only at dinner or over the radio.

Some To Remain

But—a number of congressmen will be here all the time, working in their offices or scooting around town.

Others will stay here to serve on committees which will be holding hearings.

For instance, the House Armed Services committee was continuing today its hearings on the usefulness of the B-36 bomber.

In spite of the congressional shutdown, a heavy volume of news out of Washington probably will continue.

It always seems that way when Congress goes home. That's because the rest of the government still will be doing business.

Congress Tops News

With Congress here, a lot of the other Washington news gets crowded out a bit or swamped because the congressional news is bigger or, at least, noiser.

Now the news about the rest of the government will get less competition.

One thing is sure: A lot of government officials will get a little rest.

There's been a steady parade of them all year to testify before the various congressional committees that were holding hearings on government spending, foreign affairs, or military doings.

If you were here and watched some of the top government officials again and again forced to leave their desks and troop up to the Capitol to face a committee, you'd wonder how they ever had time to get any work of their own done.

Perhaps the best example of that was the case of David Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission, who—day after day before Congress' joint Atomic Energy committee—defended himself against the charge of "incredible mismanagement" in the AEC made by Sen. Hickenlooper, Iowa Republican.

For 45 days this committee heard Lilienthal and others. Then the Democrats on the committee, outnumbering the Republicans, cast a vote clearing the AEC of the charge.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson held the record for government officials who had to shuttle back and forth at the Capital.

Since foreign affairs took such a lot of Congress time this year, Acheson had to give his views on one problem after another: The Marshall plan, the Atlantic pact, arms for Europe and other things.

Anyway, whatever peace, and quiet seems to have settled over Washington won't last for more than two and a half months.

Congress comes back in January to start the whole thing all over again.

C. D. Scarborough, 80, Idalou Resident, To Be Buried Today

IDALOU, Oct. 20. (Special)—Funeral rites for C. D. Scarborough, 80, resident of this area for the past 21 years, are to be read at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist church of Petersburg.

Burial will be in Petersburg cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home of Lubbock.

Mr. Scarborough died Wednesday afternoon at his home in Idalou after an illness of five months.

Travel Agents May Decide Where Tourist Dollars Go

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20. (AP)—Shares of nearly a billion scarce U. S. dollars underlies the annual meeting of the American Society of Travel agents which opens today.

Charles Sawyer, U. S. Secretary of commerce, said yesterday tourists will spend about $825 million abroad this year. The 600 or more members of the society will have a lot to say about where some $400 million of this is spent. They are the men who will advise tourists where to go and how long to stay.

Mexico, which needs dollars, offered the agents special attractions to come here.

WE ARE AS NEAR AS YOUR TELEPHONE

Call us about our listings, try your best to get the locations, so you can just drive by, but it's a two to one bet that won't have any success. We're just naturally friendly at our office and just enjoy "driving-by" with our customers. Anyway we often go out to show a certain piece of property and end up by selling an entirely different property. Won't you call us, tell us your troubles and we'll tell you ours.

Wall Street

MARKET HITS SNAG

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The stock market ran into tax troubles today and finished on the losing side.

Losses were small for the most part. A substantial number of issues crept a little higher.

In early dealings the market showed signs of getting ahead. In mid-morning, though, President Truman, speaking at a press conference, indicated he would be forced to ask Congress for higher taxes when the legislators reconvene in January. Demand flagged immediately.

For most of the balance of the session quotations were persistently shaded. In the last few minutes of business the market leveled off.

Business for the day contracted to 1,270,000 shares from 1,370,000 Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 2 of one point to 67.1. The railroad group showed the largest setback, flollowed by the rail division. Utilities were a little ahead.

A total of 1,088 individual issues changed hands, of which 469 declined and 328 advanced.

Another rise in the short interest to the highest total June 1932 was considered a bullish influence. If prices moved up much more, it was argued, short operators might be forced to cover their sales— that is, buy back the same amount of stock they sold short.

Douglas Aircraft was against a strong spot, rising 2 points to 69. Demand was stimulated by news, released after the close yesterday, that the board had voted a special dividend. United Aircraft improved a trifle at 24⅜. But Boeing at 22¼ and Lockheed at 23⅜ were a little lower.

Motion picture and air line issues also made a good showing Warner Bros. at 13 was up 1⅛.

Up fractions were 20th-Century-Fox at 22, Paramount (Old) 21⅜, American Airlines 9⅛ and United Air Lines 14⅛.

U. S. Steel finished unchanged at 24¼.

Lower were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Admiral Corp., American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, American Can, American Woolen, Santa Fe, Union Pacific and Texas Co.

Higher were ackard, Phelps Dodge, Granby Consolidated Mining, Standard Oil (NJ), Barnsdall Oil, and Consolidated Natural Gas.

Lower in the curb were Kaiser-Frazer, American Natural Gas, and Cities Service. Royalite Oil improved, along with American Republics, and American Maracaibo. Sales of 310,000 shares compared with 360,000 Wednesday.

Demand for corporate bonds were highly selective. U. S. governments showed only minor variations in over-the-counter dealings.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Cotton futures were irregular in slow trading today. With the new farm bill discounted as a market factor for the time being, traders awaited fresh incentives. Nearby deliveries were steady on mill buying while new crop months sagged on profit taking.

Futures closed 35 cents a bale higher to 25 lower than the previous close.

Body Of Ohioan Who Died Here To Start Journey To Toledo

The body of John C. Blohm today will be carried overland to Amarillo and sent by air to Toledo, Ohio, McDonald Funeral home announced last night.

Blohm, 72, a resident of Toledo, was found dead in a local tourist court early Thursday morning. An inquest verdict of death resulting from natural causes was to be returned by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace and ex-officio coroner.

Blohm, who had stopped overnight in Lubbock enroute from a hospital in Florida to Portland, Ore., was accompanied here by Mrs. Blohm and his nurse, Mrs. Mildred Cory. Mrs. Corey found the body at 4:30 a. m. Thursday. Death may have been two hours earlier, Dr. Fred P. Kallina, county health officer, said. The victim had suffered high blood pressure.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Grains marched upward again today on the board of trade, gathering their strength from congressional passage of new farm legislation providing high support prices next year.

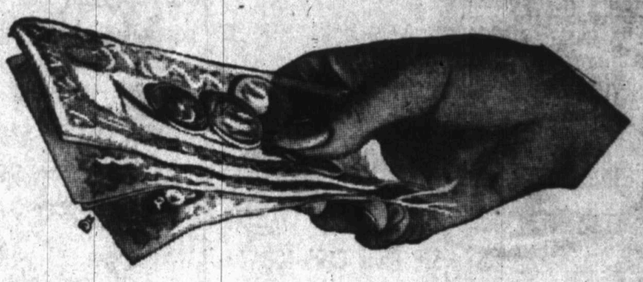

The market opened strong, retreated a bit around mid-day on profit taking, and then resumed its march in the last half of the session.

May and July wheat eked out new seasonal tops. December oats went sailing through the 70 cent level to its best price since last January.

Wheat closed ¼-⅞ higher, December $2.13⅞-2.14, corn was ¾-1⅛ higher, December $1.17⅞-¾, oats were ⅝-1⅛ higher, December 70⅞-71, rye was ⅛ higher, December $1.47½-¾, soybeans were ½-¾ higher, November $2.31½-$2.31, and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, October $11.85.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK:

Section 1. That Section 15 of Ordinance No. 564, is hereby amended so that said section shall hereafter include the following section designated as Section 15A, which shall read as follows:

Section 15A. That it shall be unlawful and an offense for any person, firm or corporation operating a vehicle to permit such vehicle to remain standing or parked upon any of the streets within any of the parking spaces hereinafter designated for a longer continuous period than the time limit stated in Section Two, between the hours of 9:00 o'clock a. m. and 6:00 o'clock p. m. on any day except Sundays and holidays officially designated by the City Commission of the City of Lubbock, Texas."

Section 2. That Section 23 of Ordinance No. 564, is hereby amended so as to change and modify the parking meters therein referred to and to adjust the time limit of parking vehicles on that part of the streets herein designated, and said Section 23 is hereby amended to include the following provisions:

That a parking meter zone is hereby designated and established in the City of Lubbock, Texas, and said parking meter zone shall embrace that part of the streets hereinafter designated and limit the time of parking as follows, to-wit:

20-MINUTE ZONE

(a) TEXAS AVENUE on the East side between 10th Street and Main Street.

(b) TEXAS AVENUE on the West side from 10th Street to the North to the South boundary line of the American Legion property.

(c) BROADWAY on the South side the first 3 spaces West of Texas Avenue.

(d) 10TH STREET on the South side, parking space nearest the Southeast corner of the intersection of 10th Street and Texas Avenue.

(e) BROADWAY on the North side between Avenue "H" and Avenue "L".

(f) AVENUE "H" on both sides between Broadway and 13th Street.

TWO HOUR ONE

(a) BROADWAY on both sides between Avenue "L" and Avenue "M".

(b) AVENUE "H" on the West side between 9th Street and Main Street.

(c) Avenue "H" on the East side between 10th Street and Main Street.

(d) AVENUE "H", both sides between 13th Street and 14th Street.

Section 3. All provisions of other ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance relating to parking meters are hereby repealed PROVIDED nothing herein shall ever be construed as repealing any part of Ordinance No. 564 except as herein expressly provided.

Section 4. That any person, firm or corporation who shall violate, or aid or abet another to violate any of the provisions of this ordinance and Ordinance No. 564 which it amends, shall upon conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS.

Section 5. This ordinance is passed concurrently with an ordinance regulating parallel parking and shall be construed consistent with the provisions of said ordinance.

Section 6. Whereas, congested traffic conditions on the streets in the area above designated as a parking meter zone has created a traffic hazard with overtime parking in said areas directly contributing to existing traffic hazards, and the need exists to adjust parking time limits within such designated parts of the streets named, concurrently with the passage of a parallel parking ordinance, all of which creates and constitutes a public emergency, which public emergency is hereby declaerd to exist and creates an imperative public necessity that this ordinance take effect from and after its passage and publication for one time in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the City of Lubbock, Texas.

Section 7. The City Secretary is hereby directed to cause publication of the descriptive caption of this ordinance together with the penalty clause as an alternative provided by Chapter 10, Page 112, Acts 1939 of the 46th Legislature, as amended by Chapter 264, Page 463, Acts 1947 of the 50th Legislature.

AND IT SO ORDERED.

Passed and approved first reading this 22nd day of September, 1949, by unanimous vote of the City Commission.

Passed and approved second reading this 13th day of October, 1949, by unanimous vote of the City Commission.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK.

SECTION 1. DEFINITIONS:

(a) 30 DEGREE ANGLE PARKING is here defined to be the standing of a vehicle whether occupied or not when the righthand side of said vehicle (or the longitudinal axis of said vehicle) is standing at an angle of 30 degrees with the face of the curb or the center line of the street.

(b) CITY LIMITS — The term City Limits as herein used shall mean the City limits of the City of Lubbock as they now exist or as such City limits may exist by reason of any extension or annexation of additional areas to the City of Lubbock.

SECTION 2. It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person to park any vehicle on that part of any street hereinafter designated unless such vehicle be parked parallel to the curb and the righthand front and rear wheels of such vehicle be within one foot (1') of the curb line, or unless such vehicle be otherwise parked in compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 3. Parallel parking as provided in Section 2 of this ordinance is required on that part of the following highways, avenues and streets in the City of Lubbock, to-wit:

(1) BROADWAY—On both sides between College Avenue and the East City limits PROVIDED that 30 degree angle parking is required on the North side of Broadway between Avenue "G" and Avenue "H", to serve the Post Office.

(2) TEXAS AVENUE — On the West side between 10th Street and Main Street.

(3) AVENUE "H"—On both sides between the North and South City limits.

(4) COLLEGE AVENUE—On both sides between the North and South City limits.

(5) 19TH STREET—On both sides between Texas Avenue and the West City limits.

(6) AVENUE "A" extended—On both sides, to include all parts of U. S. Highway No. 87 (truck route through Lubbock) between the North and South City limits.

(7) AVENUE "Q" extended—On both sides, to include all of U. S. Highway No. 84 between the North and South City limits.

(8) 4TH STREET—On both sides between the East and West City limits.

(9) 13TH STREET—On both sides between Avenue "G" and Avenue "Q".

SECTION 4. 30 degree angle parking as defined in Section 1 of this ordinance is required on that part of the following highways, avenues and streets in the City of Lubbock, to-wit:

(1) TEXAS AVENUE — On the West side between 9th Street and 10th Street.

(2) AVENUE "G"—On the West side from Broadway North one-half block to the alley.

SECTION 5. On any street in the City of Lubbock where parallel parking is required or permitted and where the curb is removed and the parkway used for angle parking, 30 degree angle parking, as that term is herein defined in Section 1, is permitted PROVIDED that no part of the parked vehicle extends more than 7½ feet into the street measured from the face of the curb line extended.

SECTION 6. Where a parkway is used in common with a street and designed for parking purposes, parallel parking is required EXCEPT where adequate parking space is provided in the parkway to permit 30 degree angle parking and no part of a parked vehicle extends more than 7½ feet into the street measured from the face of the curb line extended.

SECTION 7. The Chief of Police is authorized and directed to mark all parking spaces on the streets named herein to indicate parallel parking or 30 degree angle parking consistent with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 8. The Chief of Police is authorized and directed to place marks of uniform color and size at the location of all parkway parking areas, 7½ feet into the street and parallel to the curb line extended so as to indicate to the motorist the boundaries of vehicular parking limits as herein provided for.

SECTION 9. Any person who shall violate any provision of this ordinance shall upon conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding TWO HUNDRED ($200.00) DOLLARS.

SECTION 10. Any person who shall park or permit the parking of any vehicle in any manner except according to the marks placed on the streets pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance shall upon conviction, be fined not exceeding TWO HUNDRED ($200.00) DOLLARS.

SECTION 11. All ordinances regulating parking on that part of the streets herein designated, are hereby repealed, EXCEPT that the provisions of this ordinance shall not be construed to eliminate or in any manner affect "loading zones" heretofore or hereafter authorized by the Governing Body, and the provisions of this ordinance shall be construed consistent with Parking Meter Ordinance No. 564 and amendments thereto affecting the highways, streets and avenues herein designated.

SECTION 12. The Governing Body of the City of Lubbock finds that increased vehicular traffic in the City of Lubbock has created a condition requiring the immediate readjustment of parking on that part of the streets designated by the provisions of this ordinance and that immediate changes in traffic control and parking are needed in that such vehicular traffic creates an emergency requiring the immediate passage of this ordinance, the provisions of which shall become effective on each street when 30 degree angle parking lines and parallel parking lines or marks have been placed upon the streets designated in compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 13. The City Secretary is hereby directed to cause publication of the descriptive caption of this ordinance together with the penalty clause as an alternative provided by Chapter 10, Page 112, Acts 1939 of the 46th Legislature, as amended by Chapter 264, Page 463, Acts 1947 of the 50th Legislature.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

Passed and approved by unanimous vote of the City Commission this 22nd day of Sept., 1949.

Passed and approved by unanimous vote of the City Commission this 13th day of October, 1949.

'QUITE A SKILLED LAD'

Prison Head Tells How Convict Operated Secret Radio Station

PARCHMAN, Miss., Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Marvin Wiggins, superintendent of the Parchman state prison farm, disclosed today that a 27-year-old convict had secretely operated an outlaw home-made radio transmitter within the confines of the prison.

Federal Communications commission investigators traced the clandestine transmitter to William F. Moody, serving approximately 50 years for a series of crimes, including armed robbery.

Wiggins said that he couldn't recognize a radio transmitter until federal investigators arrived at the prison farm here last week.

Mobile Units Used

FCC mobile units and engineers had localized the transmitter to this north Mississippi region.

"I didn't know what a transmitter looked like," Wiggins admitted. "Otherwise, I would have been suspicious, of course."

Wiggins said the illicit transmitter was taken out last Sunday, almost a week after authorities had discovered the short wave set. The delay was to enable authorities to track down other amateur outlaws who might have been communicating with Moody.

The transmitter was discovered in a tiny shack, four by six feet outside the prison fence. The sprawling prison covers some 35 square miles.

Wiggins described Moody as an "intelligent lad," who took correspondence courses including one that taught him how to assemble radio sets, "and evidently how to operate the transmitter," Wiggins added.

"Moody built this set himself," Wiggins said. "He's quite a skilled lad, all right."

Wiggins said that as far as he knows, Moody did not broadcast anything "harmful" to the prison.

He declined to permit newspapermen to interview the prisoner.

Wiggins said that Moody, a prison guard trusty, had three transmitters available, two near his bunk, and the other in the shack near where he guarded other convicts at work.

He said that he was not suspicious when Moody asked for various radio parts.

"We thought they were elements of his training, and he sure made the most of it," Wiggins said.

"I'm not mechanically inclined," Wiggins added, "and it never had occurred to me that he was operating an illicit radio set."

Looking At Life

to expatiate on so weighty a problem as this, let me quote from a letter written by Thomas Jefferson to his daughter Martha:

Some ladies think that they may, under the privilege of deshabille, be loose and negligent of their dress in the morning. But be you, from the moment you rise till you go to bed, as cleanly and properly dressed as at the hours of dinner or tea."

The County Clare, Eire, Vocational Committee has ordered instructresses to pay more attention to cooking by the open hearth method.

Hunters Push Search For Man Missing In Colorado

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Private hunters banded together today to search for a 53-year-old Oklahoma man who has been missing in the wild Grand Mesa country south of here since early Monday.

Ernest Dooley, Cushing, Okla., was the object of the search. He disappeared at daybreak Monday while on a lone foray. The search was centered between High Tower mountain and Buzzard creek ranger station, termed Colorado's most desolate area.

One of the men in Dooley's hunting party said the Oklahoma man had "absolutely no sense of direction." The hunting parties were led by Game Warden Arthur Rogers of Paonio.

Van Heusen Century

The shirt you've dreamed about is here! Its collar is soft and comfortable as a fine linen handkerchief—yet stays neat, wrinkle-free all day . . . WITHOUT STARCH or stays! Can't wilt, can't wrinkle . . . and the collar points can't curl up!
Not fused, not stitched—the patented, can't-be-copied Van Heusen Century collar is one woven piece of special fabric. Wrinkles can't even be ironed in . . . woven in fold line, can't be ironed wrong. Easy to launder . . . requires less ironing, no starch—that means more comfort, more wear.
