Army Officers, U. S. Officials Are Victims

Announcement Is Made Today Of Jan. 15 Crash

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The crash of a transport plane under contract to the Army, with 26 passengers and nine crew members killed January 15 near the coast of Dutch Guiana in South America was announced today by Major General Harold L. George, commanding general of the Air Transport command.

Complete identification of the passengers has not been established, and their home addresses have not been learned, but their names were:

Major Eric M. Knight, of Pleasant Valley, Pa., well-known author; William Hodson, of New York, attached to the State department; P. E. Foxworth, Federal Bureau of Investigation; H. D. Haberfeld, also of the FBI; James W. Seeger; Captain Albert L. Seeman; O. E. Henryson, State department; Dr. S. S. Dorrance, flight surgeon; First Lt. Charles W. Campbell; Second Lt. Robert B. Walker; Second Lt. John P. Girline; Second Lt. Thomas L. Gallagher; Staff Sgt. Russell A. Baughman; Staff Sgt. Robert M. Stoflet; Staff Sgt. Ellis M. Roberts, jr.; Second Lt. Call A. Matteo; Flight Officer Charles S. Shively; Second Lt. Max Solomon; Sgt. Charles S. Roberts, jr.; Staff Sgt. Heyward O. Wylie; Sgt. Oscar Spahr; Capt. Basil D. Gallagher; First Lt. Donald C. Martin; First Lt. Peter D. Barnhart; Morris Lewis, and Charles H. Brown of the Californa-Arabian oil company.

Members of the crew were: Crew Captain and Pilot B. H. Dally; First officer T. M. Wagner; Second officer E. L. Bacon; First navigator J. E. Voss; Second navigator J. M. Kane; Flight engineer C. E. Quisenberry; First radio operator Leonard La Frank; Second radio operator L. J. Moriarity and Flight purser E. Dempf.

No Survivors Of Crash

There were no survivors of the crash, which General George said occurred in a remote section of the Guiana coast. The next of kin of all the military personnel aboard the plane have been notified, he said, and the announcement of the crash was delayed only because of the time required to reach the scene and determine the extent of the casualties.

The plane was flying south, having left this country about a week ago, George said, and all those aboard were on their way overseas, some probably going to North Africa.

Crew Members Civilians

The plane was operated by an air line which George did not identify, but which is one of the American commercial lines operating planes on regular schedules for the air transport command to all parts of the world.

Members of the crew were all civilians employed by the air line.

The number of casualties in a single crash, George explained, was due to the great size of the plane.

Oil Allowable Is Decreased

Long Distance Rates Are To Be Reduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. (AP)—Long distance telephone users who require more than three minutes to complete a call will save about $22,800,000 a year, the Federal Communications commission estimates, through new rate reductions.

The FCC announced last night that the American Telephone and Telegraph company agreed to cut its overtime rates by making the charge for each additional minute one-fourth of the charge for the first three minutes instead of a third as at present. The charge for the first three minutes remains the same.

Strikers Back At Jobs Today In Collieries

Only About 3,000 Miners Not Yet Back At Work

(By The Associated Press)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 21.—The wildcat strike in Pennsylvania anthracite mines appeared ended today when strikers returned to their jobs in all major collieries a few hours before a back-to-work deadline set by President Roosevelt.

FDR GRATIFIED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — The White House said today that President Roosevelt, learning of the general resumption of work in the anthracite mines, was gratified at the response to his appeal to the miners to end their strike "and is confident that the comparatively few who have not returned to work will join their associates in the mines."

Only about 3,000 miners were known to be still idle. They were members of four locals, two of which announced meetings this morning to consider a back-to-work vote.

Strikers returned to the south Wilkes-Barre, Woodward, Huber and Lance collieries of the Glen Alden company and the Prospect-Henry colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company.

Meeting This Morning

David Cummings, president of the United Mine Workers' Lance colliery local, said two miners not members of the local appeared at the mouth of the colliery before the starting whistle blew but left at his request.

The Exeter colliery local of Payne Coal company, with 800 members, and the old Washington colliery, with 400 workers, scheduled voting meetings this morning.

President Roosevelt had said the government would take the "necessary steps" to reopen the mines this afternoon unless the 22-day unauthorized walkout ended at noon. The warning was widely interpreted to mean that troops would be used.

The ranks of the strikers, once numbering 23,000, were thinned again last night when three unions decided to return.

State Officials Re-Appointed

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 21—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today asked the state Senate to confirm the re-appointment of three state department heads—Secretary of State William J. Lawson, Adjutant General J. Watt Page and Labor Commissioner John D. Reed.

All were appointed by former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, and were continued in office by Gov. Stevenson when he took O'Daniel's place.

Others Re-Appointed

Page will receive no pay as adjutant general. He is serving also as state selective service director, receiving federal pay for that position.

The governor transmitted to the Senate also the re-appointment of seven members each of the Brazos and Nueces river boards, selected by the state board of water engineers.

Jap Positions Reduced More In New Guinea

'Whole Thing Is Crumbling' Says Allied Spokesman

(By The Associated Press)

Trapped survivors of a 15,000-man Japanese army were reported making desperate attempts to break out of dwindling pockets in the Papuan coastal jungles of New Guinea today, but Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that American and Australian fighters "further reduced the enemy's remaining positions."

Heavy fighting was reported as the Japanese, half starved and in imminent danger of annihilation, sought to escape into the jungle.

'The whole thing is crumbling," an Allied spokesman said.

In the Solomon islands, the Navy reported that U. S. Flying Fortresses scored a bomb hit on a Japanese destroyer off Bougainville island and shot down eight enemy planes during an attack on two Japanese cargo ships and two destroyers in the Shortland island group.

The Navy's communique said American planes twice bombed Japanese positions on Munda island, 200 miles north of Guadalcanal, where the enemy has been constructing a new air field.

Air War Intensified

Meanwhile, United Nations warplanes blasted the enemy from Burma to the south seas, striking on a rising scale against Japanese bases on the northwest approaches to Australia and spread-eagling hundreds of miles of skyway.

A communique said Allied bombers set big fires in a heavy attack on Lae, and pounded enemy targets at Finschhafen and Madang, in northern New Guinea; Cape Gloucester and Gasmata, New Britain; and points in the Aroe

Axis Diplomats Leaving Chile

(By The United Press)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 21 — Axis diplomats in Chile were packing today to leave for Argentina, their only remaining refuge in the Western hemisphere.

Chile broke diplomatic relations with the Axis yesterday, and the 31 German, Japanese and Italian diplomats in Santiago were expected to clear out quickly. The Japanese minister, Kiyoshi Ymaata, said his farewells to members of the Chilean Foreign office at once.

President Explains Action

President Juan Antonio Rios explained last night in a speech broadcast in Spanish, English, French and Portuguese, that relations had been broken for the good of the nation and in response to a public mandate.

"This is not a war between countries but a conflict of universal values," he said.

Chile realized, he said, that the Allies were fighting for the good of all humanity, and that by breaking diplomatic relations with the Axis, Chile fulfilled its obligations to the other American nations.

Rios asked the nation to remain quiet in the face of the new re-

More Farm Machinery Needed To Reach Goals, Senators Warn

Program Called A Stepchild In War Production

BY SPENCER KLAW
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — The Senate committee investigating the war effort warned today that 1943 and 1944 food production goals may not be reached unless more agricultural machinery is allotted to farmers.

Although farmers are being called on this year to exceed 1942's record crop by four per cent, the committee said, "the farm machinery program for 1943 has been made the red-headed stepchild of the war production effort—despite the fact that food as a weapon is equal in importance to guns, tanks and planes."

The War Production board's action in permitting only 23 per cent as much new farm machinery to be manufactured in 1943 as was made in 1940, the senators said in a special report, threatens to deprive farmers of essential equipment at a time when labor is also being rapidly drained from the farms.

Truman Heads Group

The Senate committee is headed by Sen. Harry S. Truman, D., Mo.

The WPB's decision, the report said, was based on a recommendation by the WPB office of civilian supply despite the insistence of the Agriculture department and WPB's own farm machinery and equipment branch that produc-

Senate Approves Bill Giving Legislature Power To Name Auditor Instead Of Governor

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 21—By overwhelming vote the Senate today approved a bill giving a joint legislative committee authority to appoint the state auditor, a power now held by the governor.

By Senator Weaver Moore of Houston, the measure which was recommended by Governor Coke R. Stevenson as part of his plan for state fiscal reform, now goes to the House.

It was approved, 23 to 2.

Named By Committee

Under its terms the state auditor would be named by a committee of the presiding officers of House and Senate, the chairman of the Senate finance and state affairs committees and the chairmen of the House appropriations and revenue committees.

The theory underlying the governor's recommendation is that the state auditor should be named by and be responsible directly to the agency which appropriates money for state spend-

EX-TECH RESCUED — For First Lt. J. C. Lentz, 25, above, Paris man and former student of Texas Technological college, this man's war has been a succession of excitement. Forced down in Tunisia when his fighter plane ran out of fuel after a fight with three Messerschmitts, he was taken prisoner, loaded into an Italian sub and started across the Mediterranean for Italy. A depth bomb surfaced the U-boat and its crew, paralyzed with fright, dashed out via the conning tower and plunged into the sea. Lt. Lentz and six other prisoners overpowered three mechanics to escape from the forward torpedo compartment, just before deadly gas and sea water flooded it. Then they took charge of the jittery Italians, surrendering them to a destroyer crew just as the U-boat sank. Lentz formerly was a Hilton hotel employe.

Credit Purchases Of Gas And Oil Banned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — The Petroleum administration today prohibited all credit buying of gasoline and other petroleum products for private motor cars, effective February 1.

The order provides that retail gasoline marketers or suppliers may not "grant, accept or participate in the granting or accepting, directly or indirectly of credit in connection with the sale of any petroleum product," but makes exceptions for sale to federal, state or local governments, for commercial use of motor boats, and motor vehicles displaying "T" ration stickers.

With Prayer For Six Sons In War, Woman Christens Vessel

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Jan. 21 — Mrs. Charity Deason, 60 - year - old mother of 13 children, whispered a silent prayer for her six sons now in service and a seventh who was killed in action, cracked a bottle of champagne on the U. S. S. Sloat and sent the trim destroyer escort down the ways of the Brown Shipyards.

Still bewildered by the honor of being chosen to christen one of the nation's fighting ships, her first thought after the ceremony was to get back to her home in Clanton, Ala.

"There's the winter slaughtering to be done and a world of work on the farm that is awaiting me," she said. "I had better get back and roll up my sleeves. You can't win a war sitting around a lovely hotel room and riding around town in fancy automobiles."

She was given a suite of rooms and an automobile placed at her disposal when she arrived yesterday.

She said her son, George Warren Deason, 21, went down with the aircraft carrier Wasp in the

Italy's African Realm Is Facing Final Collapse

Rommel Is Reported Heading Away From Tripoli Toward Tunisia; Soviet Forces Are Closing In On Kharkov And Rostov

BY ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Final collapse of Premier Mussolini's African empire appeared to be only a matter of hours today amid signs that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was hastily abandoning the burning city of Tripoli, and British 8th army columns stormed forward within 30 miles of the Axis stronghold.

Tripoli is the last citadel of Italy's dark continent domain which once embraced Eritrea, Italian Somaliland, Abyssinia, Cirenaica and Tripolitania.

A bulletin from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th army headquarters said British troops yesterday captured the towns of Tarhuna and Homs, respectively 40 and 56 miles from Tripoli, and continued their pursuit of Rommel's fleeing armies.

Rommel Heads For Tunisia

Frontline dispatches said Rommel's troops and equipment were already streaming westward from Tripoli toward the Tunisian frontier, 100 miles away, with Allied planes making a shambles of the enemy's line of retreat.

A 50-mile stretch of coastal road between Tripoli and Zuara was described as littered with the bombed and bullet-smashed wreckage of trucks and other equipment.

In widespread aerial activities extending from the Tunisian shores to the Aegean, Allied planes sank two more Axis supply ships and badly damaged two others, the communique said.

Retreating Axis Blasted

Allied airmen also blasted by day and night at the retreating Axis forces and hammered at targets in the Tripoli area, including docks and the Casteel Benito airdrome, 13 miles to the south.

For the moment, the downfall of Mussolini's once proud African realm eclipsed other events, but vital developments were shaping elsewhere in the global war:

Russia—Red army troops, now driving 50 miles into the Ukraine, were reported forging a new pincers threat to the big steel city of Kharkov, the Soviet "Pittsburgh," after a 17-mile advance to the southeast.

Other Soviet columns were reported sweeping through the southeastern Ukraine toward the sea of Azov in a move to close a

Soviets Close In On Five Key German Points

Red Spearheads Driving Nearer Rostov, Kharkov

BY HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Jan. 21—Red armies closed in on five key Nazi-held cities between the Ukraine and the north Caucasus today.

NAZI CASUALTIES HIGH

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP) — Reuters quoted a Moscow radio broadcast today as saying that German casualties on the Soviet Russian front in the past six weeks totaled 750,000 men, including 250,000 dead.

Their spearheads were within 79 miles of Kharkov, 50 miles of Rostov, 30 miles of Voroshilovgrad, Donets basin industrial center, 18 miles of Salsk railroad junction and 48 miles of Armavir, where the Baku-Rostov oil railroad joins with that to the Maikop oil fields and Tuapse, oil port on the Black sea.

Today's noon communique revealed that in a ferocious three-day battle for Proletarskaya, 20 miles east-northeast of Salsk on the Stalingrad-Tikhoretsk railroad, the Russians smashed the famous German SS troop combat regiment "Germany" and remnants of other regiments concentrated there, before the Manych, with big artillery, mortar and tank forces.

Germans Routed

Russian storm troops led by the guards broke into the town and the railroad station yesterday. They routed the Germans in street fighting, the communique said, and threw the remnants beyond the Manych.

In another sector the guards at once drove ahead, occupied two inhabited places, captured an artillery battery and nine machine-

Gasoline coupon No. 3, that little postage stamp-size permit in your "A" mileage book, good for four gallons of motor fuel, will not be recognized at your filling station after today. Its validity passes with Jan. 21.

Each A book carried eight of these coupons, good for a total of 32 gallons of gasoline from Dec. 1 to Jan. 21. Number four coupon, which becomes valid tomorrow, Jan. 22, is good for 60 days, or until March 22.

Coupons in supplemental ration books, B and D have no expiration date, and are good as long as the vehicle for which they were issued is entitled to supplemental gasoline above the 4 gallons a week allowed in basic "A" book.

Wave Of Panic Hits Hungary

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Turkish dispatches said today that a wave of panic had swept Hungary as the result of official revelations of frightful Hungarian losses on the Russian front and the cancellation of army leaves which was apparently taken as warning that more thousands were to be sacrificed.

Reports had reached London yesterday that six of nine Hungarian divisions had been smashed. Today, according to the Turkish advices, three of the divisions were named—the third from Budapest, the sixth from Komarom and the seventh from Sopron.

Hungarians Surrender

Turkey received reports that Hungarian soldiers were surrendering wholesale "in face of superior Russian forces from Siberia with excellent equipment."

The Rumanian army, largest of the satellite forces, had been broken and recent Russian communiques had told of Italians surrendering, with their officers, in groups of up to 5,000.

British radio listeners heard the German radio speak vaguely of a Russian break-through in the western Caucasus, in the area around Tuapse oil port and Novorossisk naval base on the Black sea.

Bill On Continuous 72nd Court Signed

AUSTIN, Jan. 21. (AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today signed a bill permitting a continuous term of court in the 72nd judicial district of Judge Daniel A. Blair.

The district embraces the four counties of Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran and Crosby.

A continuous term would, according to those who drafted the bill, facilitate more expeditious handling of litigation in the four counties.

Doughboys Will Bring Home New Words For Vocabulary

(By The Associated Press)

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 21 — When Johnny Doughboy comes marching home from war from the far corners of the world he'll bring, among other things, many new words and phrases which will enrich the English language, in the opinion of Prof. Walker K. Smart of Northwestern university.

"Contacts with other races and other peoples invariably bring in additions to the language," said Smart, professor of the Medill school of journalism.

Already, he said, the war has produced a number of words and phrases that seem destined to attain a lasting place in the language. He referred specifically to "Quisling" when used to designate a person who betrays his own people. It derives from Vidkung Quisling of Norway who supported the Nazi invasion.

Other words which have sprung from the war or related activities, he said, were "commando," "blitz," "fifth column," "fox hole," "jeep," "ersatz" "spearhead," "gremlin," "blackout," "paratroops," and "ceiling,"—the latter acquiring a new meaning when referring to "top limit."

Tripoli Facing Early Collapse

steel arc around Rostov, whose fall would cut off the land "escape corridor" of perhaps 500,000 Axis troops fighting in southern Russia.

Below Rostov, Red army shock troops were reported pouring westward across the Manych river within 15 miles of the rail junction at Salsk in a drive to cut off Adolf Hitler's Caucasian armies.

Salsk lies about 90 miles southeast of Rostov.

German Efforts Falling

Field dispatches said feverish German efforts to establish a stable line along the left bank of the Manych were failing and declared Russian troops were capturing point after point while the Germans were blowing up bridges in rapid retreat.

Far Pacific—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that American and Australian jungle fighters "further reduced the enemy's remaining positions" on the Papuan peninsula in New Guinea, and a spokesman declared:

"The whole thing is crumbling."

Japs Are Trapped

Dispatches said survivors of a 15,000-man Japanese army, now reduced to a hungry mere hundreds, were making desperate attempts to break out of the Allied traps. There was heavy fighting.

Western air war—London counted a known toll of 44 children and teachers killed yesterday when German raiders, attacking in the biggest daylight raid since the battle of Britain, bombed a school in the capital. Three teachers were killed, the rest were children. Fifty others were injured, and rescue workers dug in the wreckage for victims still pinned under tons of masonry.

Scattered German night raiders touched off four alarms in London before dawn today, and two Nazi planes were shot down.

Rommel's Route Narrowed

In the African campaign, Rommel's battered forces were now pinned down to a narrow strip along the Mediterranean coast as the British 8th army moved swiftly upon Tripoli from the east and Brig.-Gen. Jacques Leclerc's Fighting French troops drove up from the south after a 1,000-mile march across the Sahara desert from lake Chad, in the heart of equatorial Africa.

Gen. Leclerc said his forces were in firm contact with the onrushing 8th army, "brilliantly taking part with their British allies in the advance on Tripoli," thus effectively sealing the arc which the Allies have thrown around the last Axis foothold in north Africa.

Liaison had previously been established between Leclerc's columns and American-British-French forces on the western flank in Tunisia.

To Abandon Tripoli

Multiple signs indicated that Rommel might abandon Tripoli without a fight in his urgency to reach Tunisia. The Berlin radio reported that the city was ablaze and under incessant Allied bombing attack.

Moreover, violent fighting in central Tunisia, where strongly reinforced German troops smashed at French positions southwest of Pont Du Fahs, suggested an effort to clear the way for Rommel's weary forces en route to the Tunis-Bizerte zone in northern Tunisia.

Italian headquarters asserted that in the last three days the Axis had captured 1,500 Allied prisoners in Tunisia—evidently referring to the fighting around Pont Du Fahs—and the French admitted yesterday that they had fallen back about seven miles in this sector.

Narrow Front Seen

Military analysts predicted that if Rommel fled Tripoli, he would probably try to hold a narrow coastal front on the Gulf of Gabes extending from Bizerte, in the north, to the French-built Mareth line inside the Tunisian frontier in the south.

In Russia, the paramount news was the increasing Soviet threat to recapture Kharkov as two Red army forces converged on the city from the east and southeast. One column was reported only 79 miles east of the big steel city, the other 115 miles southeast.

At the same time, other Soviet troops moved along rail lines and river routes to narrow the arc on Rostov from the north, east and south.

Whole Region Cleared

Red army headquarters said the capture of Proletarskaya, 23 miles northeast of the German-held rail junction at Salsk, marked the clearing of the entire region north of the Manych waterway.

Salsk lies about 90 miles southeast of Rostov and 80 miles below the Don river. Thus the Red armies driving toward Rostov along the Don were pictured as advancing on an 80-mile front, with the nearest force reported only 65 miles away.

Deeper in the Caucasus, Soviet dispatches reported the capture of Nevinnomysskaya, only 50 miles from the Nazi-held strongpoint at Armavir, the gateway to the entire Kuban valley defense zone south of Rostov.

In Abilene, El Paso, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio and Wichita Falls, payrolls declined slightly from November. All 14 cities listed on the bureau's selected list shared in the gains over December a year ago, ranging from 5.5 per cent in Amarillo to 178.6 per cent in Beaumont.

Slacks To Be Made Legal In Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP) — The thousands of Chicago women who wear slacks soon may do so without fear of being arrested.

The city council's judiciary and legislative committee, anxious to keep abreast of the times, today recommended that the council make it legal for a woman to wear the feminized trousers provided that she still looks like a woman in them.

One interested citizen sent in a letter containing what he said was a revelant Biblical passage reading:

"The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man. Neither shall a man put on a woman's garment."

The committee decided that didn't cover slacks.

HUNGRY—Leo and Leona, six-weeks-old lion cubs at a Los Angeles zoo, didn't like posing for a picture until refreshments were offered. Ann Morley acts as hostess for the occasion, to help the camera man.

"Airmobile" May Replace Old Family Jalopy After The War

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Jan. 20—Can you imagine backing your plastic helicopter out of the garage some Sunday morning, taking your family for a spin above the countryside, and then, on your way home, stopping at a "roadside" stand to eat hot dogs,

It sounds like a pipedream, especially now, when the old family jalopy stays in the garage most of the time.

However, William A. Safka, design engineer on plastics of the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft company and instructor at the Plastics Industries' Technical institute, predicts that "someday a plastic helicopter will be in every garage."

After the war of course.

Here's his idea of the "family plane" of the post-war era:

This "airmobile" will be constructed largely of plastic materials one-fifth as heavy as the materials used in present-day passenger planes, but will have a tensile strength greater than steel.

You will be able to order your helicopter in any color and shade your wife selects, and it will be fade, rust and dent-proof.

It will cost about $1,200 and fly for six miles on a gallon of gasoline.

Practically Foolproof

It will be more maneuverable than present-day automobiles.

It will contain safety devices making it practically foolproof.

The size of an automobile, the helicopter will be able to park in any space an automobile can back into.

If Safka's prediction comes true, the old melody "Come Josephine In My Flying Machine" may become the theme song of the post-war generation.

Quinine Substitute Developed In U. S.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 21 (U.P.)—Although the Japanese invasion of the East Indies a year ago cut off the United Nations' supply of quinine, the laboratory technicians of the United States have developed a substitute and this year will turn out one billion tablets for Allied armies, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association, said last night.

Dr. Fishbein said the substitute is better than the German factory substitute for quinine. He said this year's production of the quinine substitute will be enough to supply all Allied armies.

There are 15 divorces to every 100 marriages in the United States normally. Most wives who divorce their husbands do so on the plea of cruelty or desertion.

Uniform Laws Urged On Marriage, Divorce

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. (U.P.) — Sen. Arthur Capper, R., Kan., today introduced a constitutional amendment that would pave the way to uniform federal marriage and divorce laws.

The proposed amendment reads: "The Congress shall have the power to make laws, which shall be uniform throughout the United States, on marriage and divorce, the legitimization of children, and the care and custody of children affected by annulment of marriage or by divorce."

Capper has been urging adoption of such an amendment for 20 years.

"Chile will continue to be a free country whose laws and government will protect men who search for hospitality and came with love and respect for the law," he said.

The minister of interior said pro-Axis newspapers and news agencies would be punished under internal security laws if they published anything against the Chilean international policy. The German propaganda newspaper, Suplemento Aleman, and the Italian organ, Radio Expreso, were published yesterday, but they ignored the diplomatic break.

Axis owned or controlled banks and other commercial enterprises could continue functioning so long as they obeyed the law, the minister of interior said.

A reliable source said the government had handed Axis diplomats here notes saying that they had nothing to fear for their fellow nationals in Chile, as long as Chilean nationals and interests abroad are protected.

Texas School Closes After Teachers Quit

SILSBEE, Jan. 21. (U.P.)—The Saratoga (Hardin county) high school was closed today after the resignation of Superintendent C. A. Welborn and seven of his 10 teachers as result of a dispute over discipline of a student.

Resignations followed a demand by Welborn at a school board meeting that boys who became unruly after one defiant student was slapped by a teacher should be dismissed from school. The board instead decided to give them another chance and the teachers quit.

"It is a disciplinary problem which has existed for some time," Welborn said. However, J. O. Eakins, board chairman, disagreed and said the dispute was "a little thing," and he predicted the faculty would be reassembled and school opened before the end of the week for the 100 students.

guns and took prisoners.

In overnight fighting the Russians tok nearly 1,700 prisoners by specific claim, including a battalion of 1,000 Hungarians who with their officers downed arms and surrendered, in addition to many taken in local fighting.

Prisoners Captured

The midnight communique had announced the capture of more than 10,000 prisoners yesterday, including 3,000 in one group and an entire German artillery regiment, perhaps 1,500 men, in another.

One giant Red army pincers claw, last reported 79 miles from Kharkov, industrial capital of the Ukraine and fourth city of Russia, was believed to be advancing steadily.

West of Stalingrad city, where the Russians are liquidating the remainder of 22 trapped German divisions, a Red army unit during the night stormed and captured a strongly fortified defense point.

Nazi Trains Captured

In capturing Kamensk, 90 miles north of Rostov on this southwestern front, the Russians took three trains loaded with motor trucks, war material and food dumps and many parked trucks and other spoils.

The noon communique said of the situation on the south-Voronezh front where the Russians threatened Kharkov, that rings were being tightened around encircled divisions.

On this front there were many broken groups of satellite troops and it was indicated that there might be mass surrenders soon.

Warning On Food

tion of farm equipment be maintained at 38 per cent of the 1940 level.

The OCS, the committee said, "has gambled dangerously and unwisely with our nation's food supply" on the assumption "that most farmers, by making repairs and resorting to various makeshifts, can keep up substantial production for a year or so."

"Even if this assumption were true," the report continued, "the committee cannot approve such a short-sighted policy. We cannot lower our sights on food goals to such a brief period of time.

"Even if the United Nations should win the war this year, winning the peace will require the feeding of vast populations of large areas devastated by Axis powers."

To alleviate the machinery shortage, the committee recommended:

1. That Food Administrator Claude R. Wickard's determinations of non-food materials needed for the food production program be given "maximum consideration in allotting materials."

Would Raise Output

2. That farm machinery now scheduled for manufacture during the year ending Oct. 31, 1943, be completed instead by June 30, 1943. This would in effect amount to a production increase of 33 1-3 per cent.

3. That for the year beginning July 1, 1943, "a new and more adequate program for farm machinery production" be immediately put into effect.

ARMY TROOPS REPLACE MARINES IN SOLOMONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson disclosed today that Army ground troops have replaced the Marines in the Solomons and are commanded by Major General Alexander Patch, who has moved his headquarters from New Caledonia to Guadalcanal.

"The Marines who fought so long and so well in the Solomons are now getting a chance to rest," Patterson said at a press conference.

Patch Is Commander

Patch, who commanded the Army troops which landed in New Caledonia last year, relieved Major General Alexander A. Vandegrift of the Marines not quite a month ago, Patterson said.

The Army troops and Patch are under the general command of Major General Millard F. Harmon, who commands all army troops in the south Pacific, but the operations in that entire area are still under the command of Admiral William F. Halsey, Patterson said.

The American position in the Solomons has improved further during the last week, Patterson said, but the Japanese are expected to make new efforts to reinforce their troops on Guadalcanal.

Girl's Parents And Sister To Testify In Flynn Trial Today

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21. (AP)—The parents and sister of Peggy Larue Satterlee were summoned to testify in the statutory rape trial of Screen Actor Errol Flynn today, as police officers declared they would demand investigation of her statement that she underwent an operation which the state stipulates was an abortion.

Miss Satterlee, tall, graceful and brunette, who charges she was twice ravished by Flynn, admitted under driving cross-examination yesterday that an operation had been performed upon her, inferentially during the period between the week-end cruise she made aboard Flynn's yacht Sirocco in August, 1941, and the time of her questioning last fall concerning that episode.

Lieut. Robert W. Bolling and Sgt. Edward Walker, of the police juvenile control division, who were investigators in the Flynn case, stated after the close of the day's court session they would take action as soon as the Flynn trial is concluded.

"We questioned the Satterlee girl again and again about other men in her life, and she denied there had been any," said Lieut. Bolling. "Now this comes as a complete surprise to us. We certainly shall do something about it. If her statement is true, a crime was committed and an investigation is imperative."

The name of the man involved was not mentioned in her cross-examination by Jerry Giesler, Flynn's attorney, which elicited testimony on Miss Satterlee's part that she had told Deputy District Attorney Thomas W. Cochran of the operation in relating incidents of her life. The latter stipulated that the operation in question was an abortion.

Employment Agency Gaining In Stature

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 — The U. S. Employment Service was reaching manhood today after a turbulent childhood.

Born in 1918 and mothered by the Labor department, it had a lively time until shortly after the Armistice when it entered a long period of neglect. During the years of prosperity it had no one to place in available jobs; during the depression it had no jobs in which to place available workers.

U. S. E. S. became the foster child of the Federal Security Agency in 1939, but its effectiveness was negligible as the Social Security and Walsh-Peyser Acts still left the major employment problems to the states, even providing the states with federal funds to carry out their work.

While under the FSA, it concentrated on implementing provisions of the Walsh-Peyser act for maintenance of a farm placement service; a service devoted to securing employment for veterans; and maintaining a public employment service for the District of Columbia.

Federalized All Services

The U. S. E. S. appeared to be headed for a more fruitful career after the attack on Pearl Harbor when President Roosevelt ordered federalization of public employment services, a move which became effective Jan. 1, 1942.

In preparing for the conversion, Mr. Roosevelt informed state authorities a year ago that it was essential that all separate employment services become a uniformly and nationally operated employment service in order that there be "complete responsiveness to the demands of the national defense, and speedy, uniform, effective action to meet rapidly changing needs."

The outlook was good, but as labor shortages began to crop up in the industrial centers the U. S. E. S. found itself without necessary funds and personnel to meet the resultant call upon services by employers.

Just how bad a situation existed was revealed by War Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt recently. During the first 10 months of 1942, the service, with 17,710 persons on its rolls, had lost 8,128 employes and had 2,641 vacancies at the end of October.

In attempting to meet the demand for their services the employes of the service worked an average of 39,945 hours overtime monthly without compensation.

McNutt attributed the heavy turnover in personnel to lack of funds and long hours. He said that at the time the service was transferred to the War Manpower Commission by Mr. Roosevelt Dec. 5, conditions were deplorable, that the spirit of the service was broken.

"We expect to do everything in our power to strengthen it — not only to strengthen but enlarge the employment service to do the job we expect of it," McNutt said. "I haven't been happy about it and I have been particularly unhappy because of the injustice which these people have suffered."

McNutt has said he will go to the new Congress as soon as it convenes to ask for more funds so that employes of the service can get better pay and their working conditions improved.

As the center of all hiring in the war effort as provided in the President's manpower order, it will channel men to the places where they are most needed. It will call upon existing agencies, such as union hiring halls and company employment offices, but these agencies will be required to operate on a systematic and orderly basis under supervision of the service.

Behind The War News

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON

With Russian forces reported almost as close to Kharkov in the upper Don region as they are to Rostov on the lower Don approaches, apprehension is rising in Berlin. This anxiety is reflected by Nazi military and other commentators whose words are recorded by British and American listening posts.

KIRKE SIMPSON

However misleading the German war bulletins from Russia continue to be, it cannot be doubted that an attempt is being made on the home front to prepare the German public for worse news than it heard last winter. Russian armies which Hitler boastfully told his people had been smashed beyond recovery are now being described to German listeners as bigger, better armed, better led and more aggressive than ever.

Morale Of People

Just what this conflict between Nazi military and civil authority means to the state of German morale is unfathomable at this distance.

The theme of the broadcast from Berlin and other German cities is that Germans must again tighten their belts, increase their war effort, match the courage and suffering of the armies in Russia and hang on to the bitter end.

Here and there hints creep in that great Axis retreats in Russia than marked the dark hours of last winter may be necessary. There is little effort either by these home-front propagandists or by German prisoners interviewed by American news writers in Russia to conceal another costly Hitler underestimate of Russian morale and fighting resources.

In the upper Don theater, below the Voronezh bulge, a new and critical threat to the whole southern end of the German battle line appears to be developing. The Russian offensive there seems to have caught the foe napping.

The Nazi high command obviously did not expect a heavy blow there; it left defense of that critical front largely to secondary Allied troops. German divisions on the now broken line below Voronezh must have been withdrawn southward to bolster the narrow Rostov defense arc.

Italian press reports depict the Russian drive below the Voronezh hinge as a major offensive by itself, not merely a northward extension of the Don-Caucasus battle front. If it is aimed not at Kharkov but at severing the network of railroads in the Donets valley and between the Donets and the lower Dnieper, it would justify that appraisal. Success could close a vaster Russian trap on the foe than any yet developed or threatened.

"...WILL MY CALL DELAY A WAR CALL?"

A good time to think about the war is when you're starting to telephone.

A good thing to remember then is that war calls overcrowd the telephone system here. And that new switchboard and lines can't be built to meet this load, because copper and other telephone materials must go these days to arm the nation's fighting men.

So, in the interest of the war effort, please decide if you possibly can . . .

1. Not to call unless you must.
2. To make your calls short.
3. And to avoid if you can the busy hours from 9 to 11 a.m.

Any one of these decisions will help clear the way for important war calls. We know you'll be glad to help. Thank you.

Bock-Norton Marriage Takes Place At Pickle Residence

Before an altar of gladioli and palms, lighted by candelabra, Miss Faye Norton of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Norton of Norman, Okla., and Warrant Officer Granville Bock of the Lubbock Army Flying school and son of H. W. Bock of Lockhart, pledged their wedding vows in a single ring service read by Dr. H. I. Robinson Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pickle, 2115 Main street.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mary Evelyn Pickle played a piano medley of "Indian Love Call" and "Because" and after the wedding march she offered "Liebestraum."

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a blue dressmaker suit with pink blouse and a corsage of camellias.

Miss Pauline Barrow of Abilene, maid of honor, chose a pink frock and her flowers were blue.

Lt. Harry M. Davis of LAFS attended Mr. Bock as best man.

At a reception that followed, Misses Mary Elizabeth Morgan and Quata Barrow served individual wedding cakes, embossed with the initials of the couple, and punch from a table centered with white gladioli and candles.

The couple is at home at 2308 Broadway.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

In the past it hasn't always been a girl's fault she spent four years in college and came out unprepared for any kind of job.

Educators and her family often encouraged her to get a liberal arts education, even though the most literary thing she would ever do in later life would be to give a book review now and then at some woman's club.

In the "good old days" college was deemed worthwhile for a girl if it gave her a smattering of knowledge and a chance to get a husband. But it isn't that way any more, with most of the country's colleges intent on training girls for specific jobs.

If a girl spends four years in college in wartime and comes out unprepared for earning a living, it is her own fault—since she can get whatever kind of training she wants and since she knows the jobs are open if she has the proper training.

Furthermore, with young men being called from the campuses—the "find a husband" angle of feminine education will necessarily have to be dropped, at least by many of the girls. So, the girls can settle down to getting an education. It may not be as much fun as the old days, but Dad will be getting more out of what he puts into a daughter's higher education than he used to.

THAT SECURE FEELING

And the girls will appreciate it in time. For there is nothing in the world that gives a woman such a deep feeling of security as the knowledge that she is trained to work and can support herself.

The girl who marries needs that sense of security just as much as the girl who doesn't. For marriage don't always last; neither does a husband's capacity to earn a living.

Church Class Has Social

Following Wednesday prayer services, First Methodist Maids and Mens class met for a social hour in the church parlor. Games were played, and Miss Ruth Monk gave two readings. Piano selections were offered by Miss Ruth Dupree, and later the group had a "taffy pull."

The class is composed of single business and professional men and women. Soldiers at both Army Flying schools are especially welcome. Twenty-five guests were present for the social.

Canada is financing more than half its 1943 war budget with tax revenues—the only major country to pay so large a proportion from current revenues.

Deputy Matron OES Visitor

Mrs. Eltha Russell of Morton, deputy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star, paid an official visit to the Lubbock chaper Tuesday night and 75 members were present.

A covered dish supper at 6:30 o'clock preceded the stated program. Mrs. Levi Duncan, chairman of arrangements for the supper, was assisted by Mesdames Charles Duncan, R. A. Metcalfe, Esther Starr.

A drill team gave a "friendship program" honoring the distinguished visitor who was presented with a set of water glasses in her chosen crystal pattern by the chapter. On the team were Mesdames Morris Cranford, Early Daniel, A. L. Lane, Herrald Abels, W. L. Stephens, H. B. Bryan, Max T. Davis, James B. O'Connell, J. R. Potts, Paul Sherrod, Florence Sanderson and Miss Ruby Stewart.

Mrs. Ruby Skinner of Minnesota was presented.

Pictures taken of the chapter's Christmas party were shown by Mrs. Cranford.

Miss Robnett Is Married

Word was received here this morning of the marriage of Miss Naomi Lee Robnett of 2023 Sixteenth street, to Staff Sgt. Cecil R. Thompson, formerly of Lubbock Army Flying school, and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Thompson of 2423 Seventh street. The service was read in the First Methodist church parsonage in Pueblo, Colo., with Rev. William Bell, pastor, officiating at a single ring ceremony.

Mrs. Thompson attended East Texas State Teachers college at Commerce, and received her B. S. degree and Masters degree from Texas Technological college.

She will continue her duties as math teacher at Senior High school after January 27. Sgt. Thompson is stationed at the Pueblo Army Flying school.

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN

SALISBURY, N. C.—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Hearne Swink are doing nicely, thank you—but the parents are keeping their fingers crossed.

Hearne, jr., 14, fell off his new motor bike and broke his ankle. Several days later he developed abdominal pains, and an appendix operation was found necessary.

Then, while he was recuperating, his sister Eleanor, 11, developed appendicitis and underwent an operation.

And now Sabra, 9, has joined the others—also with an appendectomy.

Many Soldiers And Sailors Not To Come Home After War, Prof. Pitkin Predicts

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 — Prof. Walter Pitkin, who contends that "life begins at forty" and wrote a best-seller by that name when in his fifties to prove it, is retiring at the age of 65 after 30 years on the faculty of the Columbia university graduate school of journalism.

He's retiring from the academic life but not from the active life, he said, explaining that he plans to tour the country and study consumer problems and the potential post-war picture of American life.

He cocked an eye at the future and prognosticated that many soldiers and sailors won't come home after the war "because they will find better jobs overseas than await them here."

Never one to shy from figures, Professor Pitkin estimated that 50,000 men will remain in Australia, 75,000 in Africa and 15,000 in New Zealand. He had nothing to say about Paris, but added that "a terrific mob of Americans will go into Latin America."

American municipal and county parks contain 10,891 tennis courts, 9,103 picnic fireplaces, and 3,587 baseball diamonds.

SPAFS Turns Out Another Pilot Class

It was the second class to be graduated within two weeks for SPAFS.

Chickering, director of training, awarded wings to the graduates. Chaplain Kenneth B. Combs asked the invocation and pronounced the benediction. The post band, directed by Warrant Officer Harry Dunham, played.

House 'Liquor Traffic' Group Gets Face Lifted; It's Now The Liquor Regulation Committee

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 — The House liquor traffic committee is no more.

Members yesterday unanimously agreed to change the name of that group to the committee on liquor regulation.

Rep. Ennis Favors of Pampa explained to colleagues:

"There are some dry members who want to serve on the committee but they resent having the name 'liquor traffic' printed on their stationery."

Several Rules Altered

The change in name was one of several rules alterations in a report of the temporary rules committee which the House adopted.

Standing committees of the House probably will be named next week by Speaker Price Daniel of Liberty. This will clear the way for public hearings on bills. More than 120 bills have been introduced in the House.

The House voted to split the highways and motor transportation committee into two groups this session—one on highways and roads and another on motor transportation.

Proposal Is Defeated

It defeated a proposal by Rep. Paul Donald of Bowie to bar from membership on the appropriations committee any representative whose district contains a state supported educational, eleemosynary or penal institution.

The House adjourned until Monday after adopting the rules report.

Senate standing committees appointed by Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith went to work immediately, the state affairs group favorably reporting a bill by Senator Weaver Moore of Houston giving the legislature instead of the governor authority to appoint the state auditor.

Flow Of 20 Barrels An Hour Recorded In Leaverton Test

A flow of 20 barrels of oil plus 40 per cent of water was claimed for Shell No. 1 D. N. Leaverton Wednesday during the first hour after treatment with 10,000 gallons of acid. The well, bottomed at 7,772 feet, is in section 458, block G, CCSD and RGNG survey, four miles southwest of the Wasson field in Gaines county.

On the Yoakum side of the Wasson field, the Drilling and Exploration company's No. 3-A W. S. Knight flowed 242.88 barrels of 32.8-gravity oil per day, with a gas-oil ratio of 523-1, after acidizing with 9,000 in pay lime from 4,985 to 5,248 feet, the total depth.

Yoakum Wildcat

The Barnsdall Oil company's No. 1 H. D. Heath, northeast central Yoakum county wildcat six miles northeast of Plains, is drilling at 5,366 feet in lime. It logged a slight showing of oil at 5,349 feet, and a showing of water from 5,359 to 5,362 feet.

Jerry C. Hawkins' No. 57-A Mallet Land and Cattle company, scheduled 6,500-foot wildcat more than a mile north of the Slaughter field in Hockley county, is drilling below 5,892 feet in lime. It indicated production in the regular pay zone of the field, but is being carried to deeper horizons.

Hawkins' No. 46-A Mallet Land and Cattle company, a Slaughter field well in Hockley county, flowed 358.80 barrels daily after acidizing with 11,500 gallons in pay from 4,911 to 4,960 feet, total depth. The oil is 32-gravity and the gas-oil ratio 412-1. On the Cochran county side of the field, Hawkins' No. 41-A Mallet made 480.24 barrels daily, after treatment with 10,000 gallons in the pay zone from 4,895 to 4,939 feet. Its oil is 32-gravity and the gas-oil ratio is 236-1.

More Officers Being Sought By The Navy

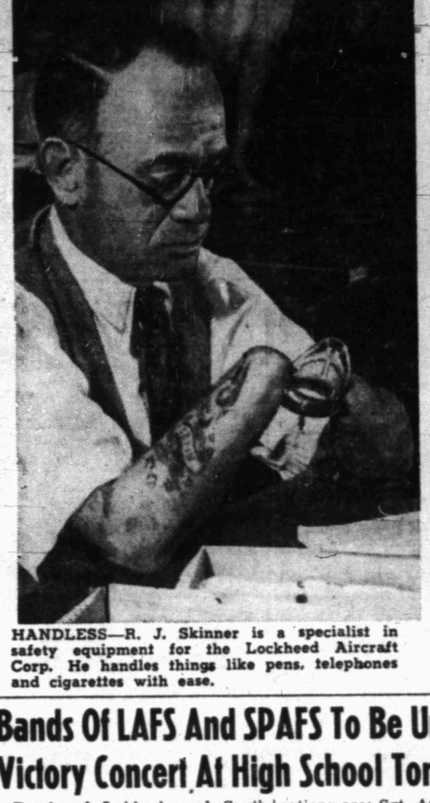

A group of Navy officers headed by Lt. Herman P. McBride arrived in Lubbock Wednesday to interview applicants for commissions.

The procurement party which will be here through today with Lt. McBride consists of Lt. Lyman King, Lt. Joseph D. Roberts, Lt. Tulon L. Jackson, and Ensign Katherine Brook. Dr. Roberts and staff will conduct medical examinations for the men. Ensign Brook will interview Applicants for Navy WAVES and SPARS. Eleven women made application Wednesday to become WAVES.

Lt. McBride said the President's recent order banning voluntary enlistments of men 18 to 37 does not bar those seeking commissions in the Naval Reserve. Men officers in the Navy are badly needed, he said.

Those with engineering and construction experience are needed in the Seabees. Men also are needed who have ability to teach aerology, meteorology, physics, mathematics, radio electronics, navigation, and various aviation ground school subjects. Men qualified by their knowledge of art, photography, advertising layout, architectural design, optometry, and so on are needed as instructors in Naval pre-flight schools. Ordained ministers of all Faiths, with degrees, are needed as Chaplains.

The party will be at the Navy recruiting office in the postoffice building during today, except the interviewing of women interested in the WAVES and SPARS. Ensign Brook will remain at the Hilton hotel for this purpose during today. No provision is made for physical examinations of the women, who will be asked to assemble in Abilene as a group at a later date, where enlistments will be completed.

HANDICAPPED WORKERS AID THE WAR EFFORT—As America's production swings into high gear, attention is being paid for the first time to work that can be done by the physically handicapped—the deaf, the blind, the crippled—to increase output of equipment for the fighting forces and serve in home front defense. To ease labor shortages, manufacturing plants throughout the country are employing increasing numbers of the handicapped and in many cases finding their work spectacularly successful. These photos show some ways they are doing their part.

BLIND—Jim Burns tests accuracy of parts for bomb fuses. His sensitive hands are ideal for the job.

BLIND—Julius Cota, Jr., plane spotter near Santa Barbara, Cal., distinguishes craft by their motor sounds.

Bands Of LAFS And SPAFS To Be United In Victory Concert At High School Tonight

Bands of Lubbock and South Plains Army Flying schools will join in a Victory concert in Senior High school auditorium tonight at 8:15 o'clock. Purchasers of war bonds or stamps will be admitted.

Warrant Officer George P. Attridge of LAFS, Warrant Officer H. Durham of SPAFS, Charles S. Eskridge, high school band director, and Prof. D. O. Wiley, Texas Tech band director, will each take over the baton for a few numbers.

Many Professionals

There will be sixty-five musicians from the two bands taking part in the program, many of them professional musicians in civilian life, with symphony orchestras and big name dance bands. Among the men from LAFS who have played with well known organizations are: Sgt. Attilio Poto, Metropolitan Opera company and NBC symphony; Bill Harrod, who played with Don Bestor and Vincent Lopez; Pvt. Robert Hughes, Michigan symphony and the Detroit symphony; Marvin Glassman, New York Philharmonic and NBC orchestras; Sgt. Edward Carney, staff arranger for several well known orchestras; Pvt. Sigmund P. Lucas, Illinois symphony, Chicago symphony; Pvt. Bishop, Tulsa and Chicago symphony orchestras.

The concert is a part of a state program among high schools for the promotion of sales of war bonds and stamps. Local bond and stamp officials have made a plea for the public to attend.

Back Yard Gardens Urged By Miss Pratt

Back yard gardens as a means of supplementing food supplies were urged Wednesday by Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent.

Home supplies of canned, dried, and preserved foods, as well as the supply taken daily from the backyard gardens, will not have to be declared and will not count against the food rationing program.

Garden tools and small implements and hardware items which fit the home gardener's needs are not severely rationed and are not entirely out of the retail picture. Soils here are rich and capable of producing without fertilizers, if necessary. Planting seeds are available to all, even though the supply may be more limited than in the past.

Can openers are going out at a time when bread knives are coming in. Fresh vegetables from the home garden ought to be more tempting and popular than they have been in past years of plenty, leaders in the movement say.

Course For Women Announced By Tech

A course in engineering fundamentals for women who have had one to three years of college training is planned at Texas Technological college, according to J. H. Murdough, head professor of civil engineering.

Murdough has received information recently amending former prerequisites for the course, which included a college degree. He added that he expects enough applicants to justify offering the course soon after Feb. 2. It is to be an evening course, running 12 hours per week for 27 weeks and admittance will be granted following aptitude tests and interviews to measure the students' ability to pass the course.

It is designed to prepare women for civil service examinations for junior engineers and technical assistants.

Students In Army Program To Number 150,000 Yearly

(By The Associated Press)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 21 — The Army's college program will be available only to approximately 150,000 young men each year, Brig. Gen. Joe N. Dalton disclosed today.

Dalton, assistant chief of staff for personnel, services of supply, said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Knoxville Junior Chamber of Commerce that the program "is not designed to offer a nice, soft spot for young men who have been inducted into the service."

On Contract Basis

At colleges selected for participation in the Army specialized training program, the soldier-students will be organized into a cadet corps under a commandant whose military authority will be final, he said.

The Army, Dalton added, will sign a contract with the governing body of each selected college, under which the school will furnish a prescribed course of instruction under its own professors, house and feed the soldiers in a manner meeting army regulations, and provide textbooks, laboratory supplies and other academic equipment. Beyond that, the Army will supervise and discipline its men, and give them instruction in military subjects.

STAR LADDER — These six young lovelies have been picked as the group most most likely to achieve stardom during 1943. From top to bottom, they are Jennifer Holt, Grace McDonald, Marjorie Lord, Elyse Knox, Peggy Ryan and Louise Allbritton.

Everybody Glad That Shooting Was Poor

HOUSTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — They're all glad that none was a good shot.

Bernard Leiser, 32, found a prowler on the porch of his garage apartment, went inside for his gun, returned and fired four times when he saw someone with a light in the driveway next door.

The someone with the light was Patrolman J. E. Adams, who thought Leiser was the prowler and returned the fire. T. C. Cohen, an auxiliary policeman, came up about this time and joined in the battle with three blasts from his own gun directed at Adams.

Finally they realized their mistakes, but not before Leiser had creased a finger on the patrolman's hand.

P. S. The burglar got away.

War Fails To Dim Track, Field Meet

Indoor Event Is Drawing Big List Of Contestants

By PAUL SCHEFFELS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Wartime hazards apparently will have less effect on track and field than any other sport, it was indicated today as outstanding athletes from all sections of the nation filed entries for the Millrose games at Madison Square garden on Feb. 6.

Most of the track world's crack performers have been lined up for this opening show of the indoor cinder season with transportation furnishing no particular problem to competitors who plan to journey here singly or in small groups.

Hopes For 16 Feet

Cornelius Warmerdam, the California school-teacher who plans to shoot for a 16-foot pole vault record, tops an early list of athletes which includes Private Barney Ewell, former Penn State sprint champion; little Greg Rice, perpetual motion distance runner; Gene Venzke, veteran middle-distance star and a host of hurdlers headed by Ensign Fred Wolcott.

Only vaulter ever to clear 15 feet, Warmerdam has announced he will try to better his world indoor mark of 15 feet, 7¼ inches. Early opposition included Jack Defield, Minnesota's NCAA champion, and Dick Morcom, the University of New Hampshire's one-man track team who holds the national AAU and IC-4A titles.

A fast hurdles field is headed by Wolcott, former Rice institute ace now stationed at the Georgia pre-flight school, and also includes Bob Wright of Ohio State; Charley Hlad, Michigan; Tom Todd of Virginia and Jack Saunders, Miami university of Ohio. Wolcott, who won 14 national AAU and NCAA titles in 17 attempts, recently took the New Orleans Sugar Bowl hurdles event in record figures. Todd is the IC-4A indoor and Southern conference champion.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—One reason major league baseball clubs are around after various minor leagues fold up . . . An official who naturally doesn't want to be quoted says a lot of these circuits still are hanging on only because their presidents want to keep collecting salary checks . . . Doc Prothall, the harness hoss trainer, has applied for a post as an army veterinarian. If he gets it, you'll probably see cavalry horses trotting a mile in 2:01 . . . Bummy Davis will be celebrating his birthday when he fights Carmen Notch at Pittsburgh Feb. 26.

PUTTING ON THE BITE

Al Kawal, Michigan State college boxing coach, must have wondered whether his charges were taking tips from wrestlers or applying the "get tough" idea too thoroughly when Middleweight Charlie Calkins reported he had suffered a severe bite on his arm in a training bout . . . When Charlie's opponent rushed in, his mouth wide open, Calkins swung for the paw, missed and his arm was caught between the other fellow's teeth.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

There'll be a natural for that Red Cross basketball game in Madison Square garden in March if Ned Irish can match the N. C. A. A. champion against the winner of New York's own invitation tournament . . . Jimmy Smith, who had that famous kitchen campionship scrap with Son-In-Law Billy Conn, once got into the same kind of fuss with his old pal Harry Greb—and never would say what caused it . . . Chancellor John Stewart Bryan, who was honorary captain of the successful William and Mary football team last fall, has been elected to that position for life . . . Outfielder Hal Peck, who accidentally shot off a couple of toes last fall before Milwaukee sold him to the Dodgers, has been summoned by his draft board for examination. Hal figures he'll be able to navigate around a ball field since he kept pace with his wife on a Christmas shopping tour.

In China, clocks as wedding presents are considered a bad omen.

Ritchie To Coach 12-Man LAFS Team In Golden Gloves

It's back to the ring for "Babe" Ritchie, Lubbock's veteran heavyweight.

No, the former Texas state amateur—and later pro — titleholder isn't planning an active comeback, but he will coach the 12-man team entered by Lubbock Army Flying school in the 1943 district Golden Gloves tourney at Tech gymnasium January 29-30.

Ritchie, himself a former state Golden Gloves champion and now boxing instructor at LAFS, yesterday announced the members of the Army post's team who will compete in the Glove tourney here.

The entrance of the dozen Army fighters boosted the tourney's total number of entries to 48, with a complete team still to come from South Plains Army Flying school, cross-town service rival of LAFS.

In addition to the 12 soldiers who entered yesterday, two more civilian simon pures submitted their entries. They are Louis Hobbs, 125-pounder from Littlefield, and Maurice McCarty, another Littlefield featherweight.

The LAFS entrants are: Leron Warren, featherweight; Ralph Nardella, Phillip J. Mauro, Glenn Hicks and Tony Martino, all welterweights (although the 140-pound Nardella may come down to the 135-pound lightweight limit by tourney time); Harry Bell, Ollie Freer, and Don Newell, lightweights; Ben Wilson and Frincona Eicke, middleweight, and Warren Stephens and Bing Bingham, both light heavyweights.

Tickets for the event will be placed on sale within the next few days, with ringside seats going for $1.10, general admission seat at 75 cents, and a special price of 50 cents for soldiers and women.

There'll Always Be Baseball, Klem Says

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 21 (AP)—Bill Klem, boss National league umpire who has been calling 'em from behind the plate for 40 years, took a look into the future today and predicted:

"There'll always be baseball. You can't keep down a sport that is bred into the heart and soul of America. What's a few wartime restrictions to a grand old game like that?"

Cowboy Five Downs Daniel Baker 58-28

ABILENE, Jan. 25 (AP)—Hardin-Simmons scored its first basketball victory over a college quintet this season here last night by beating Daniel Baker, 58-28.

It was the third straight defeat the Baker team has suffered at the hands of Abilene teams.

HOWARD PAYNE WINS

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 21 (AP) — Smooth teamwork and consistent ball handling gave the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets a 60-50 win over the Goodfellow field Bombers from San Angelo in a basketball game here last night.

Rice Quintet Downs Aggies

Bill Closs Leads Owls' Onslaught

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Jan. 21.—Long Bill Closs, Rice center, led his team to a brilliant basketball victory last night over a furiously battling Texas A. and M. quintet. The score was Rice 42, Aggies 33.

Closs, back in shape after a siege of flu which hit him shortly after the start of the basketball season, hit the basket for 24 points, despite a close watch kept on him by the visitors.

It was a rough, sometimes wild game. Several times the score was tied. Three times the Aggies went out in front and Rice had to put on extra steam to pull ahead.

Watkins, Huffman Shine

Pete Watkins, Aggie forward, and Leland Huffman, Aggie guard, gave the Rice five the most trouble. Watkins, who with Leo Peden, forward, played the entire game, was high man for the Aggies with 14 points, which also made him second high for both teams. Huffman was the game's third highest scorer with 12 points.

Bill Cummins, the El Paso hurdler who turned out for basketball for the first time since he came to college, was the outstanding defensive player for Rice. David Cook tossed in 11 points, most of them in the final minutes of play when they were most needed.

Buffs Leave Today On Eastern Jaunt

CANYON, Jan. 21 (Special) — Always one of the country's top basketball quintets, West Texas State Teachers college's Buffaloes left today on their annual journey to eastern basketball centers.

Opponents of the Buffs will be Canisius at Buffalo January 23, Long Island at Madison Square Garden, January 27, and St. Joseph's at Philadelphia January 30.

Seven straight wins indicate that the towering Texans are hitting a fast pace despite loss of more than half of their 1941-42 starters. Top scorers this year are the sensational Johnson brothers. Clark at center and Charles at guard, and William Stockman, another guard.

Forwards available for the trip will include Jack Maddox, who ranked next to All American Price Brookfield last season, Ledru Jacobs, and Douglas Groom.

Last year the colorful Texans defeated New York State at Buffalo, 105 to 42 and St. Joseph's at Philadelphia, 59-56, but lost two thrillers in the Garden—a 58-56 tussle with Long Island and a 59-58 contest with Creighton.

Name May Change On Open Golf Tourney

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP) — The Hale American open golf tournament, successor last year to the war shelved national open, in turn may be succeeded this year—but perhaps in name only.

The Chicago district golf association said today it planned an open tournament, national in scope and with proceeds going to some war relief agency, but indicated that the event probably would be identified by a name other than Hale America.

Woman Referee Proves Popular In Handling California Boxing

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—A whirl on the sports-go-round:

California boxing fans were given an unexpected and pleasant surprise when Belle Martell, only woman in the world ever to hold a state license to referee boxing stepped in and handled an entire show . . . Miss Martell was forced into action when the State Athletic commission referee ran out of gas and couldn't keep his appointment . . . She also is licensed as a timekeeper and announcer and timed, refereed and announced the entire card . . . She worked the first half of the card in evening clothes but changed into a more practical outfit during the intermission . . . It definitely made boxing history—of a pleasant sort, for a change.

Yanks Need Outfielders

For the first time in the memory of many a veteran baseball man, the New York Yankees are in a bad way for outfielders . . . The Yankees may have been short of pitchers at times and their infield may have needed a replacement once in a while, but not for years has the club been beset by the picket-line problem it now faces . . . Manager Joe McCarthy lost Tommy Henrich to the services in the middle of last season and is now faced with the loss of one-man-team, Joe DiMaggio, leaving only the veteran Charley Keller to carry the load and Roy Weatherly, formerly of Cleveland, for another spot . . . Two rookies, Russ Derry and Bud Metheny, are to fight it out for the remaining outfield position. . . Both are inexperienced.

Basketball's personal foul rule feud is waxing hotter than ever in local circles, at least . . . All coaches agree that a new rule to replace the four-personal statute is necessary because of the shortage of manpower but none can agree on its exact makeup . . . A five-foul idea has been broached but Nat Holman offers the best suggestion yet . . . Holman believes that the limit should be removed entirely but to protect players from indiscriminate fouling, the opposing team should be awarded an additional free throw for every foul a player commits after he has been charged with four . . . "Players will be kept in the game that way and a deliberately malicious type of play will be prevented," he says.

Sens To Train At Home

Speaking of the baseball training camp situation, the most humorous item concerns the Washington Senators, who plan to train at home . . . It will be a good trick if they can do it . . . The way the nation's capital is jammed, the Senators won't be able to lay down a bunt without fouling somebody official. . . . Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, won't tip his mitt as far as bidding for either Johnny Cooney or Paul Waner, ex-Boston Brave outfielders, but it isn't hard to guess that it's Cooney he is after . . . Next to Terry Moore of the St. Louis Cardinals, Cooney is one of the best defensive centerfielders in the game and defense was always a Brooklyn weakness.

Funny thing about Dolph Camilli, of the Dodgers and Bill Terry, once of the Giants, two of the best first basemen the game has ever seen. Dolph wants to get out of baseball and Terry wants to get back in . . . If you feel like a good long shot, risk a fiver that Terry will wind up in some executive capacity with the Philadelphia Phils. . . . He conferred recently with Prexy Gerry Nugent and it wasn't about the weather.

IDALOU CAGERS WIN

Idalou High school cagers scored a twin bill victory over Cooper last night at Idalou, with the boys copping a 36-20 verdict and the girls scoring a 23-12 triumph.

Cronin Hopes Army Keeps DiMaggio 4 Years After War

(By The United Press)

HONOLULU, Jan. 21.—Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox, who is here as a special representative of the Red Cross, said today that the service will do a "great deal" for Ted Williams and the rest of the American league—"particularly if they keep Joe DiMaggio for four years after the war."

"Joe may or may not go into the Army," Cronin said, "I don't know but I do believe he is the greatest all-around ball player of all time. From a Red Sox standpoint, I hope they keep him in at least four years after the war is over."

The Red Sox were hard hit by losses to the services, he added, but DiMaggio's loss would "weaken the Yankees a great deal."

As for Williams, the Red Sox' power-hitting outfielder, Cronin classed him as a "great hitter who needs a kick in the pants because of his doggone moods."

BAYLOR CAGERS WIN

WACO, Jan. 20. (AP)—Overcoming a desperate drive by East Texas State Teachers college in the final minutes, Baylor university's Bears nosed out the Commerce lads 35-33 in a basketball game here last night that saw the lead change hands frequently.

CUBS WANT DERRINGER

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP) — Big Paul Derringer, Cincinnati Red pitcher for 10 seasons, may find himself wearing a Chicago Cub uniform this season. Reports circulating here say the Cubs want him and the Reds would be willing to part with him.

FIGHTS POSTPONED

Everything Moved Back One Week In Major League Season, Even 'Holdout' Campaign; Opening Games Are Scheduled On April 21

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP) — Everything is being set back a week in the coming major league baseball season — including the opening, the close and the all-star game—and even the "holdout" campaign, which precedes each pennant fight, may be in for an enforced delay.

This was indicated yesterday when President William Harridge of the American league met with President Ford Frick of the National loop to complete the schedule adjustments brought about by wartime necessity.

Harridge disclosed that all clubs in his circuit had been asked to hold up player contracts until the director of economic stabilization rules whether baseball comes under the salary freezing order. Frick said National league clubs were withholding contracts for the same reason, with the exception of the New York Giants, who are proceeding under a regional ruling.

To Open April 21

The 1943 season, the league presidents agreed, will open on Wednesday, April 21, and close Sunday, Oct. 3. The annual all-star game will be played Tuesday, July 13, at Shibe park in Philadelphia, with the Athletics of the American league as sponsors.

Since the Washington Senators open on the road, they will be hosts to the Philadelphia Athletics in a preliminary game, April 20, under a time-honored arrangement of having a special opening game at the nation's capital every other year.

Openers Announced

Here is the schedule for the April 21 opening:

American league — Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia, Chicago at St. Louis, Detroit at Cleveland. National league—New York at Brooklyn, Philadelphia at Boston, St. Louis at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Chicago.

Home openers for the teams that start on the road will be Tuesday, April 27, in the National league and either April 26 or 27 in the American league. The schedule for these games:

Race Tracks Plan To Operate Despite Wartime Problems

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The two-buck bettors may have to walk for the privilege of feeding the "iron men," and things generally are going to be tough, but the nation's race tracks have about decided to put on a reasonable facsimile of "business as usual" this spring and summer.

They've looked the whole thing over and made up their minds on the simple theory that transportation and one thing and another can't get any tougher.

Changes Indicated

Naturally, something new will be added here and there, like changes in state legislation and shifting of some meetings to different tracks to make the whole layout fit into the war scheme of things. There's a possibility, too, a couple of the plants won't open their doors. But, generally speaking, the major horse havens will be available to anyone with the price of admission—and a way of getting to the track.

From reports reaching the thoroughbred racing associations, inc. —the clearing-house for the country's horse parks—as well as announcements by tracks themselves, it appears that the only outfits on the "Big Apple" about which there are still some doubts are Saratoga, Delaware Park and the neat Garden State set-up in New Jersey.

With Your Cooperation, We got 'em home & back for the holidays

Thanks to you, a most critical period in wartime but transportation has been passed with flying colors.

Just before Christmas . . . during the fall of the year, you were reminded that bus travel was not rationed and that the prospects of rationing was not even being considered. You were told also, when you wanted to travel, Texas-New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches stood ready to serve you as in the past. As a result of your cooperation . . . arranging your trips for mid-week, etc., thousands of men and women in uniform were able to go home by bus for holiday leaves and furloughs. While helping members of the armed forces, you also made it possible for agricultural workers in this territory to remain on the job until it was done before returning home.

Texas-New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches will make every effort to see that the service you count on is available when you need it during 1943.

Due to the heavy passenger traffic on all lines, we are compelled to limit all baggage to one piece for each paid fare. May we have your cooperation!

Wall Doxey Is New Senate Sgt.-At-Arms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — The Senate's new sergeant at arms is a former member, Wall Doxey of Mississippi.

Doxey, who was defeated for re-election last November by Senator James O. Eastland after serving about 15 months in the Senate, was selected at a caucus of Democratic senators yesterday to replace Chesley W. Jurney, 65, former resident of Waco, Tex., who resigned the $8,000 a year post.

Sergeant at arms since 1933, Jurney had incurred the wrath of some Senators at the last session when he served warrants of arrest on absent Senators to force their attendance at debate on the controversial anti-poll tax bill. The Senate directed his action on motion of Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky.

The resignation averted a contest at the caucus but Jurney, employed in various capitol posts for 46 years, is entitled to retirement pay of about $3,600 a year, Secretary Maloney (D-Conn) the caucus secretary said.

AN investigation into the likes and dislikes which people have for certain names, conducted by Nathan Schoenfeld, assistant in Columbia university's department of psychology, reveals that when the average person hears a common name he associates it with a definite personality trait, which generally is quite fanciful.

"Where these general or stereotype ideas originate is a matter for discussion," Mr. Schoenfeld said. "Perhaps they are a fashion and change with the times. At any rate, they are not to be accepted as truth."

Men and women agree pretty well in their ideas, Mr. Schoenfeld found in questioning 300 individuals about their attitudes toward a list of thirty-two masculine and faminine names.

Herman Patterson, Dick MacDuffie, of Brownfield, W. Cuthbert Clark and Minibel Johnson are going to hate us for this, but even so, in the interests of science, we're going right ahead with Bro. Schoenfeld's findings.

"'Most people questioned,' said Mr. Schoenfeld, 'thought Herman stupid, Rex athletic while Richards and Cuthberts were considered good-looking but sissies.'

"Agatha seemed middle-aged to most people, but Joan was young and good-looking. Adrian was thought to be the artistic sort, and Edward friendly. Austin was culturred, Minnie was 'slightly dumb.' Vincent was a brunet.

"The investigation also showed that men think that Mary is the quiet type. Bertha is plump, but Barbara is expected to be charming.

"Most women associate Oscar with stupidity and consider Horace studious and Thomas conservative. The female reaction to women's names was as follows: Linda, sophisticated; Mary, religious; Rita, brunette; Maizie, talkative."

Apparently Mr. Schoenfeld did not ask people for their reactions to such names as Adolf, Benito, Yamashita or Hirohito. If he had, the answers would have been unprintable anyway!

WE have remarked in this space here-to-fore that when this war is over we Americans will have learned to do without a lot of things we were used to before the outbreak of the conflagration; and, what is more, we will have learned to provide for ourselves many necessities and luxuries we previously got from other lands.

These necessities and luxuries which we will produce for ourselves will cover numerous articles, running from rubber—a necessity—to caviar—a luxury. We use caviar as an example because of what to us is an interesting story.

Probably not 10 per cent of the American people have ever tasted caviar—the little, black fish eggs imported, prior to the war, from Russia.

Of the 10 per cent of our people who have tasted caviar, not very many of them eat it frequently. The reason is, even in ordinary times, imported caviar is so high that most of us can't afford it; or, if we can occasionally afford it, we'd rather take the same amount of money and buy something else.

But, never-the-less, caviar tastes good to most people. Like various cheeses, spices, pickles, etc., it is a luxury food, but we Americans normally operate on the theory that luxuries should be for us all and not for just the favored few.

When the war blocked imports of caviar from Russia, it was discovered that right here in North America are numerous sources of the product.

The Great Lakes, for instance, have sturgeon and sturgeon eggs are caviar. So the sturdy Great Lakes fishermen went to work on caviar gathering and, as a result, began furnishing the product for the U. S. market.

Currently, North American caviar is "higher'n a cat's back."

Great Lakes fishermen get $3 per pound for it and by the time it reaches New York and Chicago tables, the consumer pays $1.15 per ounce.

But that's because Russia is out of the caviar market, being busy with more important things. And when the war is over, and Russia goes back to the caviar importing business, you can bet your bottom dollar that its price will be within reach of millions of American "Sweeneys," instead of being economically available to the "Van Gotrocks" clique.

WHAT will be true of post-war caviar will be true of many, many other things—edibles and otherwise.

And while doubtless this nation could run, expand and improve forever without cheap caviar, and many other items, we might just as well have caviar and all these other items if we can get them.

It's The Plainsman's guess that the post-war period will bring to this country and the rest of the world a new civilization and a new economic era in which life may be more gracefully lived.

We use the story of caviar here merely as an example of a better, brighter day to come.

* * *

"You can control an unruly dog by biting him," declares a professional animal trainer.

Uh-huh. And you can get, get your name in the paper!

BECAUSE there are many bumptious people in the world, The Plainsman has always liked the story of how Mark Twain put the squelch on a couple of them.

The great humorist-philosopher was preparing to have dinner in a restaurant at a table next to two young wise guys, both of whom ordered in a most impressive fashion. Then one of them told the waiter to tell the cook for whom the food was ordered. "Yes," agreed the other, "and write our names down, so there can be no mistake."

When the waiter came to Twain, the latter said, in a stage whisper audible to all nearby:

"I'll have a dozen raw oysters—and whisper my name to each of them as you put them on the plate!"

We know some guys around here we'd like to pull that on!

Pacific Patrol

YESTERDAY: Mary Garthwaite's introduction to Lieut. Dan Sherman, U.S.N., was a little disconcerting. But in spite of that, and in spite of her fiance's reluctant jealousy, Mary keeps seeing Dan and usually at times when his cool, simetimes impudent efficiency is helpful. Now, after a Jap submarine attack near Santa Phillipa, Mary has gone to work at her listening post, regretfully looking forward to a reception at her fiance's house that night.

Chapter Five
Very Much Alone

It was a lonely spot, Mary admitted when her predecessors' car drew out of sight. She'd watched them down the curving, arrow steps hewn out of solid rock to the beach below with a nameless misgiving. The post, in a abandoned lighthouse, stood high on a rocky promentory thrust like a bony finger across the sands, out into the great surf. In the days before the great breakwater had made a fine harbor at the mouth of the Santa Phillipa River, a few small boats had used this little, treacherous bay. Then this lighthouse had guided many a ship to safety.

This little rock-strewn harbor was deserted and the lighthouse left for the gulls until December 7, '41. Since then, it had been a listening post.

"Funny that nobody has shown up," she said aloud and her voice rattled around the tiny glassed-in cage.

She shivered a little, stood close by the tiny oil heater, tried to rub warmth back into her icy fingers. It was just getting light now, but the fog crouched so low over the water that only the rocks immediately below her, the narrow strip of white sand were visible. The surf smashed against the rocks with monotonous rhythm and occasionally a gull swooped out of grey shadow, disappeared again.

At seven, Headquarters telephoned that no one had been found to substitute for Mary's regular assistant.

"Sorry, you'll have to manage alone. Everything okay?"

"Everything okay," Mary said calmly and tried to believe that herself.

But as the early morning hours dragged along, she became increasingly aware of a premonition of danger. The usual planes went by on schedule—the inland to Fresno, the coastal to Los Angeles from San Francisco, six Army planes in formation, the patrol planes. Everything as usual—and yet the feeling persisted.

Strange Plane

She had to admit to a little terror when, about ten o'clock, the fog lifted a little. Skittishly, like a flirtatious girl with a big fan, the wind pushed aside the fog curtain for a few moments, then flung it back again. On the alert because she thought she heard a plane's engine, Mary strained her eyes to see through the murk. Once she thought she saw the outlines of a small boat just at the mouth of the bay. But the fog closed down again and she couldn't be sure.

Besides, she thought reasonably, if it were really a boat and not a figment of her imagination, it was probably a Coast Guard patrol. The enemy would never be able to get in this close. Or would they! This fog made anything possible! the bay was treacherous all right — still, the enemy was known to have better maps of these tiny coastal bays than they did!

She was still trying vainly to see the bay below when she heard the sound of the plane again. Ears trained now to identify directions, she listened carefully. Very high, it was, flying very fast. Above the fog, probably. Gradually the sound came nearer. She picked up the telephone, dialed a number swiftly.

"Fourth Interceptor Command. Santa Phillipa calling. Plane flying due east passing now," she said crisply and gave the rest of the information swiftly. "It is proceeding due east now — inland."

The voice on the wire repeated the message carefully.

"That's right," Mary said and hung up.

But was it right? She listened until the plane was out of range. Never in all the months she'd been listening here had a plane come in directly from the ocean, flown directly to the mountains lying like giant buttresses behind Santa Phillipa. She entered the report carefully on the time record. It could be an enemy plane. Some submarines were supposed to carry one or two. It could also be, she caught herself up sharply, that she was imagining things again. She glanced at her watch. only one more hour and then she'd be relieved of her duty.

Caught Out

The hour dragged painfully. More than once she was a little sorry she hadn't heeded Porter's advice to go home and rest. Still, someone had to be here. And was a little ashamed of herself immediately.

She held her breath a little later as a police car pulled to a stop on the spur of beach highway just below. Then she smiled slowly as she recognized the tall blue-uniformed figure that jumped out, started up the steep stairs two at a time.

A moment later she heard him on the short ladder just below, saw him thrust his head up through the trap-door.

"Hiyah," Dan Sherman grinned, climbed into the tiny room, seemed instantly to fill up with that smile, with nice, earthly, sane common-placeness.

Mary smiled much more warmly than she'd intended. "Hello."

"Nice cozy little spot you've got here," he said, peering out toward the cruelly jagged rocks falling away to the ocean below. "Cozy like an eagle's nest. Aren't you afraid the trolls will ge you?"

Mary laughed at him. "Silly, trolls live under the water. Didn't you know?"

"The smart ones don't. They haunt old lighthouses looking for girls with big brown eyes and a cute smile."

Mary twisted the cute smile into a little grimace. "It couldn't be trolls sailing a boat down in the cove now, could it." She pointed down to the narrow inlet

ANOTHER STRAW IN THE WIND

If reports are true that Sweden's unbroken peace of more than a century is in danger of being violated, then it adds to the mounting evidence of the growing desperation of the Axis position.

Thus far, Sweden has been more useful to the Axis as à neutral than the nation could have been as an ally. Only the Axis has had access to the raw materials in which Sweden abounds. In addition it is a fact admitted by the United Nations that a considerable quantity of material shipped into Sweden from the outside world actually is intended for Germany. As a neutral Sweden is permitted to carry on a limited foreign trade which would be stopped instantly if the nation either should become an ally or should be overrun by the Axis. Thus, Germany gets limited quantities of vital materials through Sweden so long as the nation remains an official neutral. That supply would be shut off if Sweden's status should change.

An Axis attempt to disturb the relationship that has existed with Sweden would be filled with the most profoundly favorable significance for the United Nations. It would be a confession that conditions have arisen which have forced the Axis to assume the responsibility of subjugating and keeping another unwilling nation under surveillance. It would compel the Axis to spread its available and diminishing forces even thinner than at present. It would be proof that the Axis no longer trusts the Swedes.

It would be another straw to prove that the direction of the wind is toward Axis annihilation.

A Time for Greatness

Why The Army Has Purchased Fine Hotels . . .

Cheaper To Buy Them Than To Lease Them

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

SOMEBODY will probably want the matter investigated before or after the war is over now that the Army has become the world's biggest hotel owner and operator. Statler and Harvey and the other chains are pikers by comparison, for Uncle Sam has in his possession, either by purchase or lease, more than 50,000 rooms in 484 hotels—bridal suites and all.

When and if an investigation does come, Army men have their answer for all the long-term leases and outright purchases of some of the biggest and most luxurious of hotel properties in the country.

EDSON

And one thing is sure, they'll be morally backed up by many of the owners and mortgage holders, for with travel curtailed and vacations away from home not quite de rigeur nowadays, a lot of resort people were interpreting the handwriting on the walls of the empty lobby as an ultimatum to fold up.

Only nine of the 848 hotels were purchased outright, and included among them are some of the most de luxe white elephants outside an Indian maharajah's zoo. To arguments against these purchases, Army men answer that the purchase prices of these nine were so low that it was cheaper to buy than to lease. The list:

THE BIG STEVENS

IN Chicago, the 3000-room Stevens, which is being used as a Signal Corps training school, and the 600-room Chicago Beach, now an Air Force hospital.

At White Sulphur Springs, the swank 700-room Greenbrier, which housed the German and Jap diplomats for a time but is now an Army general hospital.

At Palm Springs, the 150-room El Mirador itself, formerly playground for the movie stars but now a general hospital.

At Miami, the 400-room exclusive Miami-Biltmore and the 280-room Nautilus, both Air Force hospitals.

At Hot Springs, Ark., the 500-room Eastman, likewise a general hospital.

At Augusta, Ga., the 300-room Forest Hills, and at St. Petersburg, Fla., the 263-room Don Cesar, both general hospitals.

Biggest deal in this bunch is the purchase of the Stevens for something under $6 million. The Army thinks it got a bargain. A few years ago the Stevens had a $15 million mortgage on it, and today it would have cost $20 million to duplicate, provided the critical building materials could be secured. It was appraised at $7 million, with a storage building thrown in. But the Stevens has long been a financial Jonah to its backers. It went through bankruptcy in 1936 and did squeeze out some dividends on its reduced valuation.

The eight hotels purchased for hospitals were acquired for a total of just under $4.2 million, which was $2.8 million under appraisals.

What the Army figures as it biggest economy was the saving in critical materials. Plumbing for hospitals with a combined capacity of 12,000 beds simply wasn't to be had. Pipes and structural steel were needed for ship building and even if such materials could have been allocated, Army engineers doubt if they could have duplicated the facilities for equal or less money.

SAVED LOT OF TIME

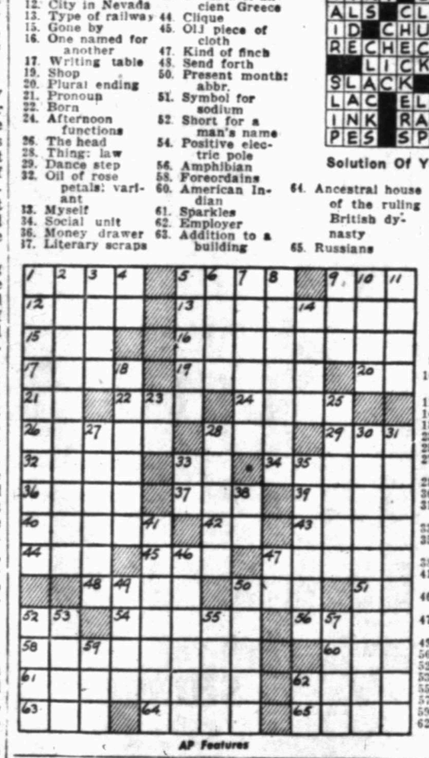

THE time element was also important. Instead of waiting six months or a year for the construction of barracks, the Army was able to move right in. A lot of the fixtures were sold at public auction, and that money was applied towards refitting the hotels for Army use.

Purpose to which the Army is putting all these hotels falls mainly in four classifications. Nearly 40,000 of the 50,000 rooms secured have been assigned to the expanding Army Air Forces for schools and dormitories. Five thousand rooms are used by Signal Corps schools, 2000 as hospital wards, and most of the other 3000 are being fitted as training schools for the WAACS.

Of the 473 hotels which the government leased, nearly all were in east coast resorts. Miami alone surrendered 328 hotels with 20,000 rooms to the Army Air Force. In St. Pete there were 56, in Atlantic City 47, Asbury Park three. The WAACS took over 23 hotels in Des Moines and 22 in Daytona Beach.

The Army started moving in even before the leases were signed. In leasing two hotels in Grand Rapids, Mich., for instance, the Army began taking over, a room and a floor at a time, several days before formal transfer. The final guests were routed out of bed at 7:30 one morning and half an hour later soldiers started attending classes in improvised laboratories.

Flynn Probe To Resume Friday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—The Senate's investigation of the qualifications of Edward J. Flynn to be minister to Australia will be resumed tomorrow with six additional New York witnesses invited to appear. Among them is Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the foreign relations committee, which is conducting the inquiry into Republican charges of unfitness against President Roosevelt's nominee, said witnesses would continue to be asked to appear voluntarily and that subpoenas would be resorted to only when the committee deems it necessary.

The Flynn investigation, conducted by the Senate foreign relations committee on Republican charges the President's nominee is unqualified for the diplomatic post, drew a capacity crowd at yesterday's opening session.

Connally refused today to venture a forecast of the outcome although there were indications the vote would be almost along party lines. Democrats outnumber Republicans on the committee 16 to seven.

"Perjury" Is Cry

The initial hearing was marked by a cry of "perjury" against Flynn's own disclaimer of any wrongdoing while he was Bronx county sheriff and New York City chamberlain, plus a running conflict between Connally and Sidney Baron, 30 year old Brooklyn public relations counsel and secretary of a Committee to Reopen the Flynn (paving block) Case.

Baron testified that Flynn had perjured himself in earlier testimony and declared more than 20 persons, whom he asked be called as witnesses, would prove that the former Democratic national chairman lied on every main point of his defense.

Fighters Must Be Inured To Hardships—

Donovan Scores Fund Raising To Pamper Men In Army Camps

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 21—Efforts of well-meaning men and women who raise funds to pamper men in the army training camps were politely scored by Major Gen. Richard Donovan, commanding the eighth service command, at a luncheon welcoming the command to Dallas.

"Your sons and younger brothers take pride in leading the spartan life of the Army, if for no other reason than to show you folks at home they can take it," said General Donovan. "Furthermore, we are endeavoring to get our men inured to hardship.

"We use every possible means to harden their physical condition and to inure them to hardships, so when they are sent to foreign battlefields they will be physically fit and able to adjust themselves to the conditions under which they will have to fight."

Saying he knew he was sticking his neck out, General Donovan said he had in mind groups which have concerned themselves with furnishing equipment for the enlisted men's day room, their recreation rooms.

"The men on Guadalcanal and on New Guinea don't know what it is to have a day room or a recreation room of any kind, much less one with curtained windows," said the general. "Those in North Africa are getting along without those luxuries."

Lions Club Banquet For Members, Ladies Scheduled Tonight

Lions and their ladies of Lubbock and this area will join around the banquet table in Hilton hotel at 8 o'clock tonight for their annual celebration and also to give welcome to the president of Lions International and to the service club's district governor. Both are to be honor guests.

Officials of the local club and special committees have worked for several days arranging an appropriate program. About 150 attendants are expected. Special guests have been invited from other civic and service organizations. The observance takes the place of the regular Tuesday luncheon meeting which was dispensed with this week.

The meeting will be held in the ballroom, mezzanine floor, with appropriate music, patriotic songs, and the main address by the guests of honor Edward H. Paine, international president, and Murray H. Fly of Odessa, district governor.

The Lubbock club, which is one of only three in this district of Texas Paine will visit on his present tour, has not had opportunity in several years before to honor the Lions International president.

Weather To Be Windy, Report

(By The Associated Press)

Warmer weather in Texas, and windy in the western part, was the forecast for today after a cold blast that took five lives and caused uncounted damage to crops, automobiles and plumbing.

There were two deaths near Wichita Falls. Ray and Roy Shackelford, 6-year-old twins drowned when the ice broke while they were skating on a pond. Previously John Pitts, 84, of Gladewater, had died of injuries and exposure and Mrs. Jennie K. Sawyer, 65, of Dallas, died of "freezing and exposure," according to an official report. Jennings McLean, 9, drowned at Dallas when he fell through thin ice in a creek.

Temple, with a population almost double that of a year ago and with only 8 plumbers of 35 who were there before the war, had hundreds of homes without water because of frozen and cracked pipes.

A heavy cloud bank that came in from the Gulf covered the Rio Grande valley, raised the temperature and prevented serious damage to the $15,000,000 citrus crop, but the late fall vegetables not destroyed by the Dec. 29 freeze were wiped out, along with the early planting of spring tomatoes.

The CHIROPRACTOR-and You

No. 1 of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of Chropractic.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC?

The Chiropractor teaches that the brain and nervous system is the root of health. From the brain, nerve energy is distributed through the nervous system to control all parts of the body. When this nerve energy is shut off even slightly between brain and body (by bone displacement in the spine), one or more body functions are interfered with and ill health results. By X-ray, analysis and spinal adjustment the Chiropractor is able to relieve nerve interference and restore normalcy to the affected part. No drugs. No surgery. Nature is the healer.

CASE HISTORY No. 303. A child of eight years who had never walked since birth. Both legs were paralyzed. The case had been described as "hopeless." Chiropractic analysis revealed nerve pressure which was interfering with the flow of nerve force to the limbs. A series of specific adjustments relieved the pressure. Today the child can walk normally.

CASE HISTORY No. 741. This patient had been involved in a motorcycle accident. No serious injury was apparent. However, head pains developed and became so violent that sleep was impossible, and failing health forced the patient to give up his job. Prolonged treatment for "nerves" had failed to achieve improvement, and finally, in desperation, Chiropractic aid was sought. X-ray analysis indicated a displacement of the top vertebra. Adjustment was given and within two days the head pains (continuous for ten months) ceased completely and within two weeks the patient was anticipating returning to work.

CASE HISTORY No. 279. A youngster who had begun to take epileptic seizures when 2½ years old. At the age of 3 he was taking as many as 30 to 40 spells a day, at which time he was brought to a Chiropractor. Within a few days after analysis and spinal adjustment the spells began to decrease. After two months they had seemingly ceased. However, 10 months later he took one more spell, a further adjustment was given, and since that time this boy has enjoyed a normal healthy life.

where a ship had seemed to appear and then disappear in the fog this morning.

He followed her glance. "Could be. Even a troll would have a tough time getting through that spot."

The fog had lifted now and save for the jagged black rocks like giant stepping stones through the foaming surf, there was nothing. Probably never had been anything, Mary amended silently, and wondered if she'd just imagined that strange plane, too.

"Here comes your relief," Dan said now as a second car pulled up, stopped, and two uniformed women started up the steps. "Now, your'e having luncheon with me."

"Oh, no I'm not," Mary said, really without thinking. "I — I have a date."

"Sure—" calmly taking her arm, pulling her down the stairladder behind him, "—with me."

She was too tired to protest much although something inside tinkled a warning. She should really go on home. But it was nice to be bundled into a car, to relax in the big comfortable car seat.

The savory warmth of the Mission Hotel dining room revived her even before she tasted the excellent luncheon Dan ordered.

"Just what I needed," she smiled at him across the bowl of steaming soup.

"Sure!" That infectious grin again. "Papa always knows best."

Mary's answering smile bloomed, then faltered a little. The great revolving door was bringing Porter Lloyd into the dining room. The next instant, he caught sight of her and in the same moment Mary knew that he was hurt and angry.

Frances Farmer Is Put In Sanitarium

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 21 (U.P.) — Superior Judge Dudley S. Valentine ordered film actress Frances Farmer placed in a sanitarium Wednesday after hearing testimony that she was "mentally ill."

Mrs. Genevieve Dodge, chief probation officer of the psychopathic ward at general hospital, testified in a sanity hearing that the blonde former star was "mentally ill."

"She's a sick girl and she needs quiet and rest," Mrs. Dodge said. "She has great talent."

The officer said she had received a call from a representative of the Hollywood motion picture relief agency promising to be responsible for Miss Farmer and to finance her stay in the sanitarium as long as recommended.

Dr. George M. Thompson, county psychiatrist, told Judge Valentine that he concurred in Mrs. Dodge's testimony.

State's Suit Against Ford Is Reinstated

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (U.P.)—The state today had its suit against Ford Motor company for alleged violation of the state anti-trust laws reinstated.

The suit asking for statutory penalties and an injunction against continuance of practices which Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann said violated the state law had been dismissed in 53rd district court here.

Today the third court of civil appeals reversed Dist. Judge Roy Archer's decision and remanded the case for trial.

Mann's petition had complained that certain agency contracts amounted to a forbidden conspiracy against trade.

Woman Says Turnkey Fatally Beat Mate

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21 (AP) — Mrs. Maxine Beebe, widow of Stanley H. Beebe, who died, allegedly after a beating administered by police officers, Wednesday told a coroner's jury the name of the officer she believes fatally beat her husband.

Closing her testimony at the inquest, Mrs. Beebe wa sasked if she had formed any opinion of "who wronged your husband." Schlinske." Schlinske is turnkey at Central jail, where Beebe 44 year old accountant, was taken after his arrest Dec. 19 on a drunk charge. He died in general hospital, from the effects of a ruptured gall bladder, 10 days later.

More than a score of uniformed officers, witnesses at the inquest listened partly as Mrs. Beebe told her story. Present, too, was district Attorney John Dockweiler, whose office is investigating the Beebe case and other reported instances of police brutality.

Frozen pipes prevented efforts to extinguish the blaze.

Anasthesia Provides Painless Childbirth

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Comfortable and painless childbirth, safe for both mother and child, is provided by a new type of spinal anesthesia, the Journal of the American Medical association announced today.

Physicians who have used it described it as "the best method yet devised," "100 per cent effective," "perfect painless childbirth," and apparently "the last word in obstetric analgesia."

Both the physicians who developed it and the AMA journal cautioned, however, that the method should be used only in hospitals and only by doctors specially trained in this particular technique, and that there are certain types of cases in which it should not be used.

The technique is called "continuous caudal analgesia" and involves injection of a solution of metycaine, a cocaine substitute, into the cauda, which is at the lower tip of the spine.
