Olton-Morton Clash Opens Grid Season

Mustangs Try New Offensive

While most farmers are taking it easy now until cotton and grain do their final ripening, one patch of greenery will be a beehive of activity Friday night.

That spot will be the Olton football field, as the Mustangs tackle Morton's Indians in the season's grid opener.

Coach John Paul Jones' Indians saw the Mustangs run past them in last year's season opener 21-6, but is more optimistic about his charges chances this year.

The Indians compiled a 7-3 record last year and the Olton game was the only non-district tilt they dropped.

Coach Jones said the team would be the smallest team in Morton in several years, but center Jerry Elliott weighs in at 195 , while defensive tackle Larry Smith hefts 185 when he stands up, and the other tackle, Kenny Coats tips the scales at an even 190.

Olton Coach Otis Holladay is not giving anything away, though. Holladay said he was well-pleased after the Mustangs' scrimmage against Post last week.

During the scrimmage, the Ponies rolled up a 7.8 yard per carry offensive average, covered 12 Post fumbles, and scored four times.

In the meantime, the Post team scored but once, and recovered three Olton fumbles.

Holladay's main worry is size, but said he was pleased with the Olton team's quickness and hustle.

Touching again on the Morton team's size, Holladay said he thought their team was fairly large for AA, and said he understood the Indians played even ball in a scrimmage with AAA Littlefield.

Nine of the Mustangs will go both ways during the first game, and 10 of the 13 boys on the offensive and defensive team will be seniors.

On the offensive team will be Larry Neinast, 160-pound junior at one end of the line, with Burney Hooper, 150-pound senior on the other end.

At tackles will be Don Mitchell, 215-pound senior, and Steve Moss, 182-pound senior.

Curtis Hall, 165-pound senior, and Joe Bob Smith, 160-pound senior, will hold down the offensive guard spots.

At center will be Gail Bizzell, 150-pound senior.

In the starting backfield will be Tommy Hall, 155-pound senior at quarterback. Joe Priest, 160-pound senior will be the tailback, while Jackie Burkhalter, 140-pound senior will be the fullback, and Charles Church, 150-pound senior will be at wingback.

On the defensive team, Ricky Smith, 145-pound sophomore, and Albert Key, 150-pound junior, will move into the linebacker spots to replace the two ends, Hooper and Neinast.

For the Indians, Eddie Holloway, 180-pound senior will man one end position, while either Danny Culpepper, 157-pound junior and LaMell Abbe, 168-pound sophomore, are still battling for the other end starting berth.

At tackle its the same story, with Kenny Coats, 190-pound senior, set at one side, and Larry Shaw, 187-pound junior, and Larry Smith, 185-pound junior, battling for the other spot.

No contest exists for the guard spot, with Mike Irwin, 169-pound senior, and Eddie Lyons, 162-pound senior holding down the two positions.

Jerry Elliott, 195-pound senior holds down the center of the line.

In the backfield, Johnny St. Clair, 165-pound junior will be at quarterback, while Jimmy Joyce, 150-pound senior is at one halfback spot.

Three players are battling for the other halfback slot. Randall Tanner, 152-pound junior, Donnie Harvey, 141-pound sophomore and Timmy Petree, 149-pound senior, are all trying for the spot.

Returning halfback Kenny Palmer, who was shifted to fullback this year, will miss at least the first two Indian games because of a shoulder separation.

Jones was counting heavily on the 180-pound senior letterman for handling the heavy rushing chores.

Another fullback, Bill Laws, moved away, so the spot may be the weak link in the Morton backfield.

Damage High In Four-Car Pile-Up Here

A four-car pileup at the intersection of U. S. 70 and Main Street Monday afternoon heavily damaged all the autos involved, but no serious injury to any of the cars' occupants was reported.

The accident occured when an auto driven by George R. Thomas Jr., from a South Dakota Air Force Base, traveled across the intersection going north on Main.

His car hit a car driven by Lucy Gunter, bounced off it into a guard post by the side of the road, then hit a second car driven by Albert Foster.

The Foster car in turn was knocked into a station wagon driven by Jose Summergill.

All of the other persons involved in the accident were from Olton.

The only injury reported was to Foster's young son, who had several stitches taken for a gash on his face.

After the accident, Thomas' car came to rest approximately 75 feet north of the intersection.

Police Chief Emmett Burrows, who investigated the accident, said Thomas' car was totaled.

He estimated damage to the Gunter car at $300, to the Foster car at $300, and to the station wagon driven by Summergill at $500.

Lions' Carnival Lights Olton

A merry-go-round, cotton candy and loud music. Top that with a cool fall air and brightly colored lights and you have just a little of what makes up the appeal of a carnival for youngsters from one to 91.

And the annual Lions Club carnival on the city square this week was no exception.

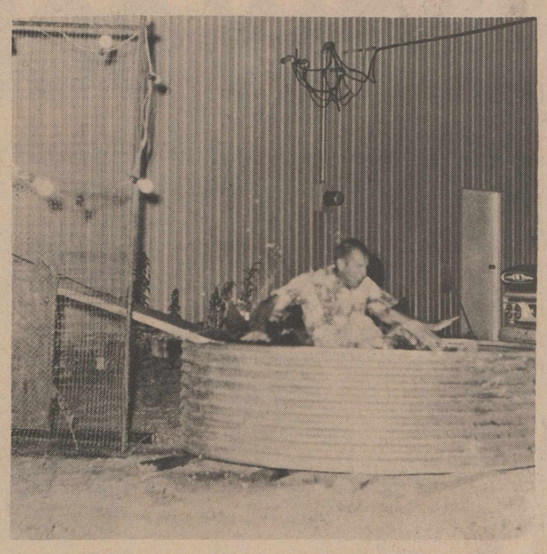

While younger children rode the merry-go-round and drove miniature sports cars around a tiny track, older youngsters took their chances on the faster rides.

And other people got a chance to air their grievances against whoever happened to be sitting on the dunking board. City council members took their spills with the other board sitters—as witness Councilman Robert Dennis' sudden splash while he sat on the device Tuesday night.

Perhaps the whole atmosphere could best be summed up by the picture of the whirling, brightly lighted ride above.

Proceeds from the project go into the Lions Club projects fund.

Trustees Re-Submit Desegregation Plan

Olton schools' desegregation plan—which officials here believed had federal approval five weeks ago—is still unapproved, the school board learned this week.

But the plan, as re-submitted by the board Tuesday night, should receive federal sanction shortly.

Supt. Ray Schultz was told by telephone on July 27 by an official of the U. S. Department of Education that the Olton plan had been approved.

Schultz was told at that time that the approval was in the mail and should be received here within the next few days.

When the approval notice failed to arrive, Schultz again called Washington and was told by another official that the Olton plan had not been approved.

The Olton superintendent said the local plan had not received the go-ahead because it had no provision for a letter to be mailed to parents explaining the desegregation plan in detail.

"We are in a good position, however," Schultz told the board, because the plan was given full public notice with front-page coverage in the local newspaper at the time it was adopted."

The local desegregation plan was re-adopted by the trustees Tuesday night, with the provision for the letter to parents added, and was re-submitted for federal approval.

In other activity at the meeting, the board:

1. Approved employment of Homer Whisenand as attendance officer for 1965-66, at a nine-month salary totaling $675.

2. Agreed to permit the Whitharral school district to tie on to the Olton Neighborhood Youth Corps Project on a 4-2 vote.

Board members were told that Whitharral had asked to join the Olton unit because its own unit would be small and possibly would be delayed in being approved, if it were approved at all.

Trustees were assured that they could drop Whitharral later if the tie-on project did not work out to suit the local district.

Voting for the tie-on were Owen Jones, Gilbert Roberson, O. J. Neeley and John Norfleet. Against were Elmer McGill and Ed Thompson. Board President Winston Bley announced he would have voted "for" in the event there had been a tie.

Supt. Schultz, in explaining the proposal, said the question was not whether the board approved of the NYC project in general, but whether it wished to extend the Whitharral district the courtesy of tying on with the Olton unit.

Schultz said the addition of Whitharral would allow the unit here to qualify for a full-time person to administer the project, and to be paid by federal funds.

Swinebreeders Slate Meeting

A swinebreeders meeting is scheduled Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Olton High School Agriculture Building.

The meeting is open to the public, and anyone interested in consigning pigs to the annual pig sale is especially invited to attend the meeting.

Farmers Waiting, Watching As Crops Near Harvest Time

About all there is to do now is to sit back and wait, if a short sampling of area farmers is any indication on crop conditions in the Olton area.

Despite the fact that the first milo was cut two weeks ago, little other feed crops seem to be ready to harvest.

Grain elevator operators report little or no activity so far, but they expect operations to begin heavily in one to two weeks.

The cucumber harvest will be completed in approximately 10 days, with a somewhat disappointing season nearly behind this year. Reduced acreage caused some loss in total production, but yield per acre appears to have been lower than in previous years.

Most cucumber raisers attribute the yield loss to cooler than average weahter in August.

Although no farmers in the immediate Olton area report any extra insect activity, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association and the Texas A&M Research Project report an increase in midge.

The report says adult midge populations are continuing to increase in favorable fields. Although midge movement as detected by traps has decreased, midge emergence from grain sorghum head samples has increased greatly.

Infestations are spotted over the area in late blooming fields and in fields having large numbers of sucker heads. Midge activity in late blooming fields has been more noticeable in Floyd, Hale and Lamb Counties.

Although the majority of sorghum in the area has escaped damage, sorghum which is blooming now or will bloom later may suffer midge damage.

No estimate was made by farmers on cotton production, but returning to milo conditions, a bumper crop seems in the making.

In the nation as a whole, a record high of 624 million bushels is expected in 1965.

This would be 27 per cent up from last year, and 13 per cent above average for all recorded years.

All of this is coming partly because acreage is approximately 11 percent above last year, but more because of favorable growing conditions.

In Texas, approximately 33 million more bushels are expected this year over last year's production.

Cotton seems to be as good or better than last year, although early hail retarded much growth, and area cotton raisers are hoping for a late frost.

On the Delmer Givens farm, southeast of town, conditions appear to be representative.

Watering has just been finished. Early hail damaged cotton, but it came out well, and things look, "As well as any other year."

And Mrs. Givens echoed the sentiment of many farmers. "We've been lucky with weather and insects this year. We hope our luck keeps up for a little longer."

Season Tickets Still Available

Season tickets for the Mustang home football games are still available at the high school business office.

Secretary Virginia Moss reports 30-35 seats still available.

Adult tickets for the year are $7.75, and include tickets to all five home games and the cost of a reserved seat.

Student tickets are $4, including reserved seat and five game tickets.

Pep Rally Set Friday

First pep rally of the year is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Friday at the High School.

The cheerleaders invited everyone to attend.

New Year Brings Growth, Integration

The continuing growth of Olton schools and the first step in integration here were pointed up at a meeting of the school board Tuesday night.

Enrollment as of Tuesday totaled 1,332, including 70 students at Bohner and three other Negro students who have enrolled in the previously all-white part of the system.

This was the result of Olton's plan of desegregation adopted by the board during the last school term, which gave students the choice of which campus they would attend this fall.

Two Negro girls, both ninth graders, chose to attend classes as freshmen at Olton High, and one Negro student was enrolled in the special education class at H. P. Webb Elementary. No white students chose to attend Bohner school.

Supt. Ray Schultz also announced that school bus routes are now integrated for the Olton system.

Although total enrollment for the beginning of school is up by one one student over the 1,331 enrolling at the beginning of school last year, there is a marked increase in the number of white students.

Some 1,259 white students were enrolled as of Tuesday, compared to about 1,208 at the start of school last year. The total of 70 students at Bohner is down from 123 at the start of last year.

This loss is mainly of Negro students who had been transferring into the Olton district from the Hart, Springlake and Spade districts, but who have returned to their home districts with desegregation plans now in effect.

Larger numbers throughout the elementary school are pointed up by the fact that three fifth grade section are in classrooms in the junior high building this year.

"This is something that needs correcting as soon as possible." Supt. Schultz told the board.

Board members noted they have had complaints from parents about fifth graders attending classes in the junior high.

The superintendent received the board's approval to investigate the possibilities of remodeling the elementary all-purpose room into four classrooms, thus taking care of growth problems in that part of the system.

Board members pointed out that when the all-purpose room was built, it was designed so that it could be converted into classroom space when the need arose.

"I'm not sure whether this can be done immediately," Supt. Schultz said, "but we certainly should get additional classroom space for elementary before opening of school next year."

Enrollment figures as of Tuesday showed 670 students —356 Latin and 314 white— at H. P. Webb, a total of 304 at the junior high and 288 at the high school.

Of the 163 first graders, 100 are Latin. There are 82 Latin Americans in the second grade, compared to 42 whites. Exactly half the 126 third graders are white, while 73 of the 133 fourth graders are white. There are 68 white and 51 Latins in the fifth grade.

FOR Rural Representation

Most voters have heard about the amendment to the Texas Constitution to be voted on Tuesday, Sept. 7, which would increase the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members. Few, however, apparently understand what it implies or what is at stake.

We feel that rural voters, in particular, should be concerned and should not fail to go to the polls Sept. 7 and vote FOR this amendment. They have a great deal at stake.

Farmers and ranchers were well organized and had a strong voice in the drafting of the Constitution of 1876. It follows that the document they adopted protected rural interests. One of the devices they employed was a provision which limited any one county to one state senator.

This, of course, has been nullified by the Supreme Court ruling that the one-man, one-vote principle must be adhered to. As a result, the Legislature has dutifully redrawn the 31 senatorial districts so their respective populations approximate the average of 309,022 each. This has necessitated the establishment of a number of districst which are absolutely tremendous in size.

As a result, we can see the voice of the rural people becoming weaker and weaker. This is the voice which, it is generally conceded, has through the years been a virile, responsible, and sensible voice and has given our great state good, efficient, and economical government.

The new plan for 31 senatorial districts, which will be in effect in 1967 if this amendment fails, will have several major negative aspects as far as rural population is concerned. One is the obviously diluted relationship between senators and their constituents. A senator simply cannot communicate effectively with his people when they are scattered over areas larger than a number of states--one larger than Tennessee, Ohio, Kentucky, or Virginia.

Secondly, there will be less consideration given to common or community interests. For example, one district combines the rugged ranch country north and west of San Antonio with the industrialized and farming country just south and east of Dallas.

Thirdly, because of contests generated by the 31-member plan, no less than seven of the Senate's experienced and able lawmakers will be turned out.

Addition of eight new districts will alleviate all of these circumstances while still giving the urban areas their proper representation. Moreover, community of interest differences within cities will more nearly be recognized and accommodated by representation.

Another plus would be to provide workload relief in the Senate. Each senator is assigned from nine to 14 committees, and, as legislative problems become more numerous and complex, it has become increasingly difficult for senators to study vital matters before them as carefully as they should and would like.

In 1876 the Constitution provided 90 members to the House of Representatives, and the people have long since decided that demands of vastly increased population and complex, modern society could better be served by increasing House membership to 150. The same common sense approach, it seems to us, should apply to the Texas Senate where nearly 90 years ago each senator was responsible for 26,000 Texans and compared to 309,022 today.

It is clearly in the best interest of all Texans — and particularly those in the rural areas—to vote FOR the enlarged Senate amendment on Sept. 7.

Machinery, Experiments Will Highlight Field Day

The Ninth Annual Field Day of the High Plains Research Foundation will highlight many items of interest to area farms and businessmen.

Among the items to be displayed Sept. 9, will be a machinery exhibit hosted by members of the Foundation's Board of Trustees under the leadership of Orville Nash of Guymon, Okla.

There will be four field stops in the farm tours during the field day. Large truck equipped with seats will transport visitors over the research farm.

The tours will continue from 1 to 5 p.m. and will give the guests an opportunity see many of the 54 research projects underway. The trucks are loaned to the Foundation for the day by many firms handling agricultural products in the area.

Members of the staff at the Foundation will explain the research underway at the various stops. Guides will accompnay each truck and will explain many of the research programs seen enroute.

The guides will be men who are professional agricultural leaders familiar with the farm problems of the area. Included among the guides will be county agents, soil conservation and farm home administration personnel.

Some of the research that will be shown are the High Plains Foundation farming system; soy beans and sesame variety breeding programs; water conservation, bench levelling and recharge wells; rotation systems; cotton varieties, grain and forage sorghum fertilizer and irrigation tests and weed control by flame and chemicals.

The tour will end at the farm equipment exhibit at the Halfway Community Center.

Shortly after 5 p.m., a barbecue will be provided for all registered guests of the Foundation through the courtesy of the Hale County State Bank and the Plainview Co-op Compress. The Lions' Clubs of the area will perform their traditional task of serving the barbecue.

Following the barbecue, an interesting program of entertainment will be presented by the Hale County Barbershop Ensemble, and will be enhanced by an address by Dr. Oliver S. Willham, president of Oklahoma State University.

A drawing for prizes will conclude the evening program. Registration slips will be drawn to determine the winner of each prize.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FIVE AND TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

FIVE YEARS AGO IN OLTON

Start of Olton's cotton and grain harvests appeared to be just around the corner this week as the first open cotton bolls were reported. The grain men have figured that the first milo probably will come in next week, but that the harvest won't really get going until the latter part of the month. The first cotton bale is expected within the next week to two weeks, gin men say.

Enrollment in Olton Public Schools, with figures still incomplete Thursday at noon, totaled 1,045, an increase over last year. Supt. Joe Harper said he expects this figure to reach 1,100 when all students have registered.

Olton continued its fight against mosquitoes this week, with Uncle Sam footing the bill for the latest attacks on the pests. Federal aid in the mosquito war, totaling $5,850 in Lamb County, was made available after the country was declared a part of a "disaster area."

TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

Olton's post office took on a new look this week with the replacement of 286 old postoffice boxes, and the addition of 100 new boxes.

Classwork in the Olton public schools got underway this week with an estimated 1,000 students in attendance. Of the estimated 1,000 now in class, about 700 are in grade school (grades 1 thru 7) and about 300 are in junior high and high school. The estimated figure does not include attendance at Bohner.

Olton's new city well was tied in this week, and water was in such abundance that the water tower overflowed Tuesday night.

Joe Cooper of Pan-Ama Homes of Amarillo turned a shovel of dirt Wednesday and Hillcrest Addition became a fact. The shovel of dirt was the ground breaking for the first of three sample homes to be constructed in the addition at the western outskirts of Olton by Pan-Ama.

Fire Department Gets Cash Award

The Olton Fire Department, along with the Littlefield Fire Department, recently received a cash award for efforts in fighting a fire at the Leonard Stamps home last month.

Kenneth Burgess, president of the Lamb County Farm Bureau presented checks for $75 to Olton Fire Chief Tom Smith and Littlefield Fire Chief Leon Durham for the work done by the two fire departments at the blaze.

Bookmobile Here Saturday

The Texas State Library High Plains Bookmobile will be in the Olton area Friday and Saturday.

Spade will be visited by the bookmobile from noon until 1:30 p.m. Friday. On the same day, the library will be in Hart Camp from 1:45 to 2:30 p.m., and at Fieldton from 2:45 to 3:30 p.m.

Olton will be visited Saturday from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

SHE'S GOT "MILT"

Dear Amy:

I am 17 years old and I've been married one year and we've always lived with my mother-in-law. Well, we (my husband and I) bought a farm which we've had about 7 months. But, my mother-in-law took the house over, she took the yard over, she took the garden over, and she's taken over everything but my husband and she's almost got him, too.

I want what every married woman wants. I want a home that's mine and to live alone with my husband. We do not have any privacy here in our supposed 'home'. Many times I have wanted to tell my mother-in-law off but I haven't the nerve to say anything and it's driving me crazy. I liked her a lot when we were married, but when she claimed my house, I felt myself beginning to hate her. I've tried and tried to get along with her but I can't.

She has other children with whom she could live. But she doesn't. Please tell me what to do?

Had It!!

Dear Had It:

According to the results of a recent survey, young marrieds were warned to watch out for marriage wrecker — MILT — mother-in-law trouble.

Urge your husband to put his mother up elsewhere . . . far enough so that she can't visit too often. The sooner done the better. (It's surprising, but distance lends enchantment.)

* * * *

Dear Amy:

I read in a recent column of yours that to point at someone is not proper. Why? The late President Kennedy during his press conferences pointed to the men. I had seen it many times on TV so I know what I'm talking about.

A Reader

Dear Reader:

You are so right! Our beloved president was probably the only man who could point and do so in such a grand manner that it was accepted because he was so loved and respected . . . and because he was he.

* * * *

Dear Amy:

I'm 12 years old. Previous to last February, my mother and I didn't get along together, but there were times, I admit, that I loved her.

In February of this year she told me about the facts of life, some of them at least, and gave me my first bra. It had been my older sister's. Twice before I had asked her for one and when she gave it to me, I thought the relationship between us would change.

Well, the bra was too big, and the relationship between us didn't change. I've asked her 3 times to either take in my bra or get me a smaller one. Each time she said, "We'll see."

When she first gave it to me she told me it would fit me by March, or at least April . . . and now it's already August. In March she told me I'd be better off wearing nothing, but now she tells me I have to wear an undershirt. None of my friends do.

What should I do? Ask her again or what?

J.G.

Dear J.G.:

Your parents need not and should not be concerned about what your friends do and have. They are only concerned with you . . . and they are right.

If you want this bra to make you look and feel more grown up, you are wrong. But if you are developing and really need a bra, you should have one that fits you properly.

Talk to mother again . . . she's really your bosom friend!

* * * *

Dear Amy:

I've known this boy for a whole year. He is very cute but shy. He likes me and I like him. I know that he wants to ask me to go steady, but every time we get a chance together, there is always some kind of interruption. What do you suggest I do?

Tired of Interruptions

Dear Tired:

Since you both like each other so well, why not keep it that way. Happy-go-lucky . . . and saved by the bell!

MR. AND MRS. DEWAYNE PARISH

Thompson-Parish Vows Solemnized At Olton First Methodist Church

In a double-ring ceremony solemnized Aug. 29 at 2:30 p.m at the First Methodist Church, Deanna Kay Thompson became the bride of Jimmy Dewayne Parish. Rev. Cecil Hardaway officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thompson are parents of the bride and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Parish, Earth.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional bridal gown fashioned of white silk and overlaid with sheer white lace. It was styled with a princess neckline and wrist-length petal-pointed sleeves. The full skirt ended in three tiers ruffled in bridal tulle.

Her chapel-length train was fashioned of cascading tiers of ruffled lace, and her veil of illusion fell from a white pearl tiara. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white feathered mums and stylized leaves surrounding a white orchid.

Cherie Thompson, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a dress of pale blue satin featuring a sleeveless bodice, scoop neckline and low-cut back. Her bouquet was of blue carnations encircled by pink feathered mums.

Bridesmaids were Debra Parish, sister of the groom, and Janet Chester. They wore pink dresses styled like that worn by the maid of honor. Their bouquets were pink carnations and blue feathered mums. All the attendants wore hats matching the color of their dresses, and fashioned of gathered petals of organza with tulle veils.

Best man was Larry Parish of Earth, brother of the groom, Groomsmen were Terry Parish and Gary Cowley, both of Earth. Ushers were Denny Parish, Bobby Brown and Harold Powell, all of Earth.

Flower girl was Cynthia Newton, cousin of the bride, from Oklahoma City, Okla. Candlelighters were Jeana Chester of Olton and Kent Parish, brother of the groom, of Earth.

The church was decorated with 30 white tall tapers held in two spiral candelabra, with large standing baskets of greenery, large white mums and white gladioli.

Mrs. Delmer Givens, organist, accompanied soloist Richard Hall with selections, "Walk, Hand in Hand," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The mother of the bride wore a dress of smoke taupe and light taupe accessories. She wore a hat of blue feathers and a corsage of blue carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a beige dress with pink accessories and a hat of pink feathers. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

At the reception held immediately after the ceremony in Fellowship Hall of the church, the serving table was covered with white ruffled tulle tablecloth. It was centered with a three tiered wedding cake. Crystal appointments and candleholders with four white tall tapes and the bridal attendants' bouquets completed the arrangement.

Cindy Cross and Deena De Berry assisted in serving at the punch bowl, and Janet Chester and Linda Collins served the cake. Guests were registered by Jackie Parish.

For a wedding trip to Oklahoma City, Okla. where the newlyweds will reside, the bride chose a blue silk linen suit, a pink ostrich-feather hat and other pink accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid taken from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Olton High School and plans to attend Draughons Business School in Oklahoma City. Her husband is a graduate of Earth-Springlake High School and will attend Lewis School of Electronics in Oklahoma City.

The painting will be completed in flourescent colors against a back ground of religious music depicting the theme of the painting. PRODUCERS WINNING

Battle of the Boll Weevil!

BOLL WEEVIL CAN BE BEAT

The efficiency and effectiveness of the 1964 weevil control program, together with the continued support of producers, strongly points toward a complete High Plains victory over this most dreaded and costly of all cotton insects.

20% LESS REQUESTED FOR WAR CHEST

Economies effected in the first year's spraying, plus the fact that over 97% of producers helped finance it, made possible a substantial carryover of funds from 1964 to be used in 1965. This in turn has made it possible to reduce the requested producer contribution in 1965 from 50 cents to 40 cents a bale. And there is hope this can be further reduced in 1966.

The following is a financial report from the Boll Weevil Steering Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to those who are so wisely investing in this vital program:

BOLL WEEVIL STEERING COMMITTEE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Statement of Revenue and Expense	July 1, 1964 to June 30, 1965
REVENUE FROM PRODUCERS
Boll Weevil Eradication		$919,655.00 (1)
EXPENSES PAID BY PRODUCERS
Boll Weevil Control – U.S. Department of Agriculture	$500,000.00 (2)
Boll Weevil Control – Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.	39,454.46 (3)
Refunds	27,191.23 (4)
Interest	6,124.90 (5)
Check Books	6.02	$572,776.61 (6)
NET INCREASE IN FUNDS		$346,878.39
REQUIRED ESCROW FUND		$100,000.00 (7)
AVAILABLE FOR 1965 OPERATIONS		$246,878.39

(1) Producer investments at 50 cents per bale
(2) Paid to USDA in October and November, 1964, pending final audit
(3) Reimbursed expenditures from PCG general fund
(4) Less than 3% of total contributions
(5) Interest on money borrowed to begin spraying before contributions started
(6) Total cost of program in 1964 was $1,188,435.20, with the difference paid from Federal and State funds
(7) Required escrow fund to remain 2 years beyond termination of the program

These figures are taken from the complete audit supplied by the Certified Public Accounting Firm of Campbell & Robinson. The complete audit is available for inspection in the office of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Tourism Touch Found In New Auto Sticker

AUSTIN---"There is a touch of Texas tourism in the 1966 Texas vehicle inspection sticker," said Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, as he announced the new vehicle inspection period to begin on Sept. 1, 1965.

"On that date, all official inspection stations will begin issuing the colorful new sticker, a part of which is a replica of the flag of the Lone Star State," he continued.

In making this announcement, Garrison urged motorist to secure new stickers as soon as possible even though they are not required by law until April 16, 1966.

Garrison noted that this new inspection period marks the beginning of the 16th year of compulsory vehicle inspection in Texas and that during that time, vehicle defects as causative factors in motor vehicle traffic accidents have decreased continually.

During 1965, the reduction brought this rate to an all-time low, which compares most favorable with the lowest rates in the nation.
