

District 4-H Champions

These three Mitchell youths won first place in 2 events Saturday in 4-H Club District 2 methods demonstration contests. Mary Margaret Sparks, left, and Bruce Hill, center, teamed for first in natural resources and Susan Blassingame, right, scored first in home improvement. All three winners and Leslie Anderson, who was second in public speaking, go to State 4-H Roundup contests June 2-4 in College Station.

Golf Event Set Chairmen Busy For June 19

Committees already are at work preparing for Colorado Country Club's third annual 25th Partnership Golf Tournament, June 19-20.

Eddie Piland, 1971 tournament chairman, said approximately $2,500 in golf prizes will go to winners in 4 flights.

The tourney, limited to players at least 25 years of age, has proved one of the most popular in this area of West Texas.

Heading up key phases of the tournament program are Johnny Grubbs, Dr. Bill Bridgford and Philip Berman, Gary Baker and Bob Stricklin and Mrs. Bob Shamburger.

Grubbs, who as usually will serve as official starter for the 2 days of competition, is co-chairman for the tournament.

Bridgford, assisted by Berman, will chairman the concessions while Baker and Stricklin will be in charge of the annual tourney barbecue.

The tournament will be limited to the first 50 teams, according to Piland. Entry fee is $40 per team.

A club house reception is scheduled Saturday evening, June 19, followed by barbecue and putting contest.

Bridge and other entertainment is scheduled for women during the tourney.

Members of the championship team each will receive a set of professional irons. Other championship flight prizes will include sets of woods for second, golf bags for third and putters for fourth.

Second, third and fourth flight champions will receive sets of woods with second receiving bags and putters, third receiving bags and fourth flight receiving putters.

Ingram 'Fills' Staff Throckmorton Winner To Coach Basketball

Dean Ingram, 27, who led Throckmorton to district and bi-district championships his first 2 years of high school coaching, will be Colorado High's new basketball mentor.

His appointment completes the principal coaching staff of new Athletic Director Weldon Brevard for the 1971-72 school year.

Ingram told the Record Wednesday he planned to move here about July 1.

The former Abilene High and McMurry basketball standout, is fifth coach to be named by Brevard, who moved here this spring to take over head coaching duties after producing a district champion and being named his district's coach of the year at AAA Boswell.

He will bring to Colorado City a 2-year high school coaching record of 41 wins against 12 losses.

His Throckmorton teams won District 28-B his first season last year, repeated again this year. Both seasons, Ingram's club continued onward with bi-district titles.

They were beaten in-region both years by Midway, regional finalist.

Ingram also doubled as girls basketball coach at Throckmorton and made it a district double in 1971 with his girls also winning District 28-B.

Throckmorton wasn't the first coaching experience. After ending his playing career at McMurry, Ingram served one year as assistant to his college mentor, Herschell Kimbrell.

While in McMurry, where he was graduated with physical education major in '67, Ingram received Lone Star Conference player of the week honors and also was honorable mention all-conference guard.

In Abilene High under Coach Nat Gleanon, he was all-District 2-AAAA.

After his McMurry graduation and his assistantship under Coach Kimbrell, Ingram was associated 2 years in Lubbock with Ford Motor Credit Corporation before returning to basketball.

"I like to use a fast break and a full court press," Ingram said, "but that will depend upon the type of material we have in Colorado City."

"If we have the kids for it, we will try to run and press. If we don't, then we will adjust."

Ingram, who is married to the former Sue Richards of Abilene, is teaching driver education at Throckmorton and will be busy with that assignment through June.

Brevard did not attempt to hide the fact he was happy over Ingram's decision to join his Colorado High staff.

"We are fortunate to get him," said Brevard. "He comes highly recommended both as a capable athlete and a knowledgeable coach."

"Dean Ingram believes in an overall sports program for a school and that is important for our staff."

"He is strong on discipline and I like that, too."

Brevard said Ingram was highly recommended by his former coaches and also by opposing coaches who termed him a "fine basketball coach."

Ingram will join a Brevard staff for 1971-72 that includes Jim Slaughter and Mike Farda, key assistants to Brevard at Boswell; Dell Riley and Cullen Davis, already at Colorado High.

Record Into New Home It's Newspaper Moving Day Today

It's moving day for the Colorado City Record.

The newspaper Thursday (today) will change its location for the first time in more than 60 years.

New home for the Record will be in a 1,700 square foot building at 156 East Second, west across the alley from Sam L. Majors Jewelers.

Beginning Friday the newspaper will be in normal operation at the new East Second address and the former location, 136 Walnut, will be closed.

The Record has contracted to purchase the building from Billy Joe Wood, who had previously renovated the building for commercial development.

Three previous business tenants have moved from the building so that the newspaper could occupy the 1,700 feet of floor space. Willis Taylor Insurance to 200 block of Elm next door to Wood's Boots; Retail Merchants Association to 100 block West Second next door to Colorado City Abstract Company, and Vogue Beauty Shop to 13th St. and Walnut.

A fourth occupant of the building, The Buckboard, had previously vacated the front.

Additional improvements have been in progress for several weeks in preparation for the Record.

New refrigerated air-conditioning has been installed; business, advertising and news offices carpeted; additional lighting installed with new entrance door and other facilities to coordinate with interior paneling.

The Record has been at 136 Walnut since pioneer years when the paper was established by the Whiskey brothers, Fred and Abe.

7 Voting Boxes In Election

Mitchell County voters will cast their ballots at 7 precinct polling places in the May 18 election for 4 proposed state constitution amendments.

An eighth voting box is the absentee balloting that is being conducted in County Clerk's offices in the Courthouse.

County Judge Bill F. Carter said the following election judges will be in charge of the voting precincts:

O. B. Trulock with George Witten as alternate at Precinct 1, Courthouse.

Doug Barber with Willie Bell, alternate, at Precinct 2, Westbrook Agriculture Building.

R. B. Baker with Gene Parker, alternate, at Precinct 3, Civic House.

Willis Taylor with Ted Lefevre, alternate, at Precinct 4, Lorraine Agriculture Building.

Thurston T. Smith with Murrell Blassingame, alternate, at Precinct 5, Buford Co-op Gin Office.

Mrs. J. C. Womack with Mrs. R. E. McMillan, alternate, Precinct 6 at Fairview Church Annex.

Mrs. Lee Ruddick with Mrs. Emmett Banks Jr., alternate, Precinct 7 at Oak Street Church Annex.

Judge for absentee is Bob Ratliff.

Proposed amendments to be decided in the election concern the establishment of a state ethics committee, presentation of constitutional amendments in special sessions of the Legislature, welfare funding and issuance of state water bonds.

Scholars Are Champs, Too

Lorraine High's top graduating scholars tacked state honors to their records in Austin. Diana Baumann, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Baumann, is valedictorian of her Class of '71 with 97.26 average and last week was No. 2 in State Class B shorthand with 96.6 per cent. Becky Hudgins, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hudgins, is salutatorian with 96.17 average and won first in shorthand over her classmate with 98 per cent. At right is Jay Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Manuel Lee, highest ranking boy scholar for the Lorraine class.

Burglary Tries Fail

Two service station burglaries ended in failure here Monday night.

At A. J. Mitchell's Fina Station on Hickory a glass door was smashed to gain entry into the office.

But when the burglar broke open the cash register, he discovered it empty.

The same night a glass was broken to enter Pace Phillips 66 Station on Interstate 20, but no loot was taken.

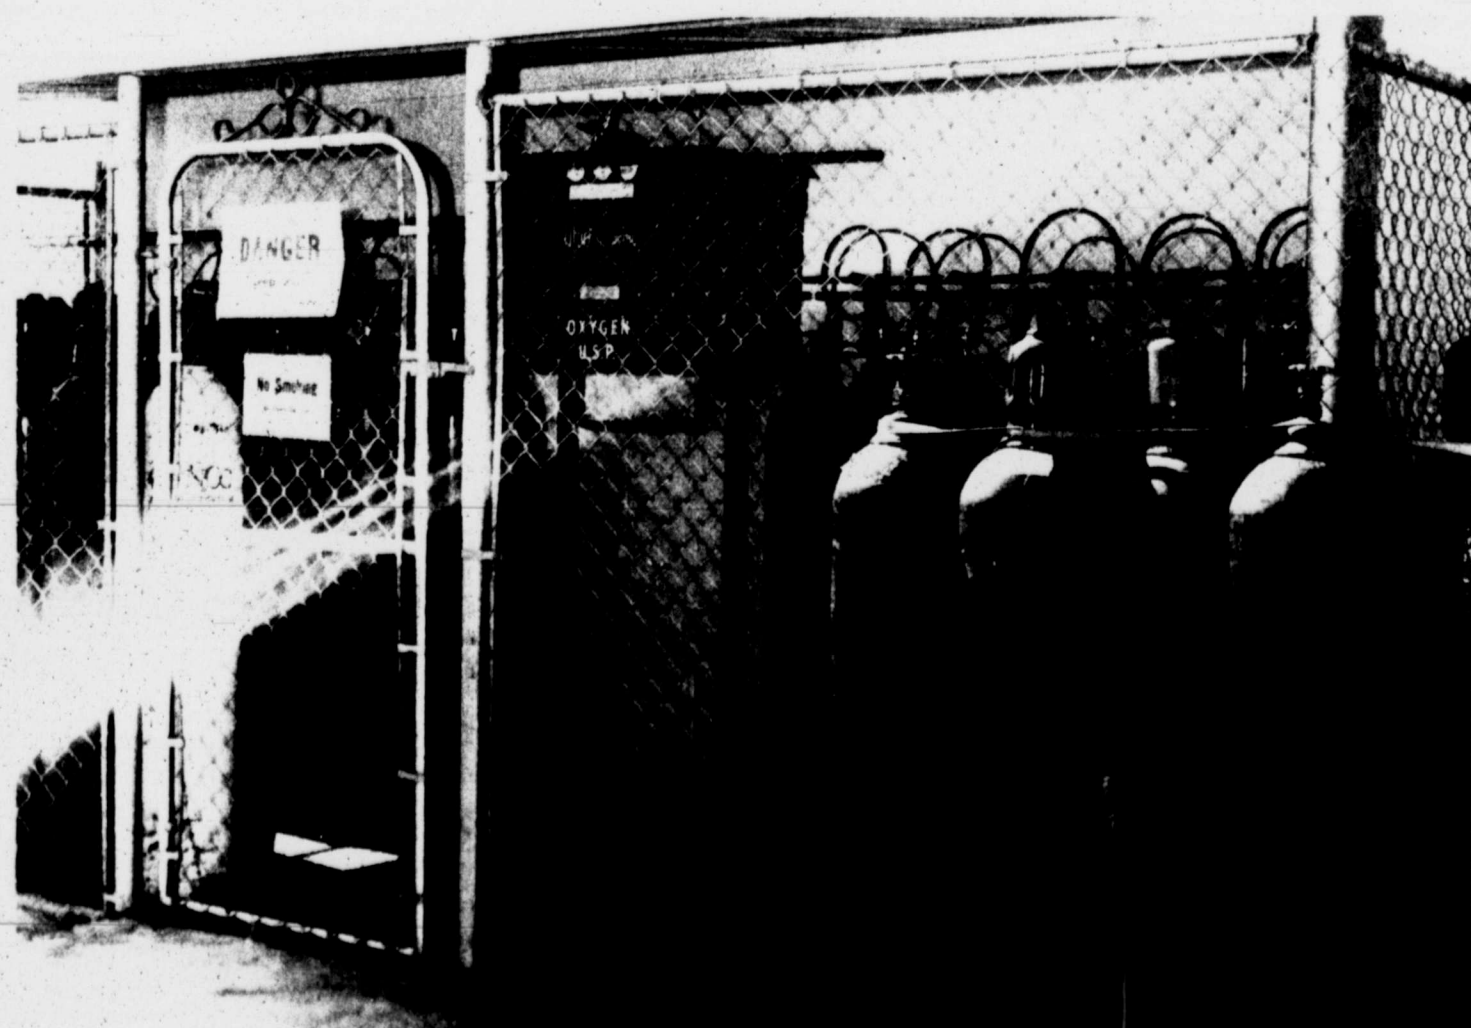

Glass breaking, apparently vandalism, was reported Tuesday night at 2 downtown locations. A large 8 foot window on vacant Baker Hotel's southside was broken with rocks.

Rocks were thrown also to break windows at Russell Furniture at its new location in 300 block of East Second.

Losses were reported in two separate thefts of articles from parked cars.

While Bob Dement parked his car at Colorado High Monday morning, a thief broke into the auto and stole 20 music tapes. Fifteen of the tapes were in a black alligator case and 5 were on the car seat, police were told.

Mrs. Bill Carter informed police that a double knit jacket and other items were taken from her auto while it was parked outside a grocery store.

Oxygen Supply For Hospital

Root Memorial Hospital's new central piped oxygen system sends life-saving oxygen to individual hospital rooms from this big central supply. Individual

B&PW Style Show Saturday To Feature Old, New, In-Between

The 1971 fashion, a beige cable knit two-piece midi worn by Donna Free, left, is shown with an 1880's costume worn by Mrs. Margaret Ann Williams. In-between the two is Mrs. Rick Perkin in 1920 satin and chiffon attire. The trio is among more than 20 models taking part in Saturday's B&PW fashion parade in Civic House.

Mrs. George Lay Powell wears a new party pants costume fashioned with black satin pants topped by a black lace overblouse. A green satin belt is accented by a rhinestone pin. Mrs. Powell will model the frock in Saturday's B&PW seminar fashion parade to begin 3 p. m. in Civic House.

Other eras of fashions to be shown in B&PW's "Fads in Fashion" Saturday afternoon are 1960 and 1940. Mrs. Rick Perkin, left, will show a chiffon and lace party dress, a version of the "sack" fad of 1960's when hemlines first started their upward climb. Mrs. Lena Porter wears a navy and white polka dot silk dress from 1940's which features a shawl collar and tight fitting belt.

A parade of fashions contrasting early day fashions with modern day will conclude District 7 Business and Professional Women's Club seminar Saturday in Civic House.

"Fads in Fashion", will feature fashions of the 1880's through today "proving everything women are wearing in 1971 goes back to another era", said Mrs. Margaret Aden, show chairman.

In the fashion parade will be Mrs. Margaret Ann Williams, Miss Lisa Thrift, Miss Jean Costin, Mrs. Kent Womack, Mrs. Joe Weaver, Mrs. Donald Fite, Miss Brenda Bodine, Mrs. Maurice Kirschbaum, Mrs. Lona Pritchett, Mrs. Lena Porter.

Mrs. Dwain Williams, Mrs. Don DeLaney, Mrs. George Lay Powell, Miss Jerene Roenfeldt, Mrs. H. Jene Steakley.

Miss Donna Free, Mrs. Rick Perkin, Mrs. Betty Norris, Mrs. Chester Hart, Miss Carla Roenfeldt, Miss Terre Pawkett and Miss Mary Margaret Sparks.

Mrs. Aden will be commentator. Mrs. Joe Coldewey will provide program music.

Working backstage will be Mrs. J. A. Sadler Jr., Mrs.

Eula Cupp and Mrs. Willis Jones.

The fashion program will end an all-day seminar meeting for Business and Professional Women hosted here by local B&PW.

The event is to begin Saturday morning with registration at 9:30 a. m. Welcome by Miss Nelda Garrett, local club president, will come at 10 a. m., followed by Sweetwater attorney Johnny Moore discussion wills and probate of wills.

A coffee break is scheduled for 10:50 a. m. J. A. City Manager Sadler Jr., will talk of duties and responsibilities of employer and employee prior to 12:30 luncheon.

Principal speaker for the affair will be Bill Minick, Dyna Group Leader, Goals, Inc., of Snyder whose topic is "Program Yourself for Success".

Ed Thrift, local department store owner, will discuss "Modern Trends of Personal Appearance".

Miss Garrett is seminar chairman. Mrs. Margaret Oyler, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Jones and Mrs. Thelma Tidwell are members of program planning committee.

CONVERSATION CORNER

A SOB SISTER, according to well-worn American slang, is a woman journalist who writes sentimental news articles. Also according to Webster.

Could qualify for the term on occasions too numerous to mention. You can't take sentiment out of news articles altogether any more than you can remove all sentimental feelings from the human heart.

But you don't have to write news to feel like a sob sister, sometimes. All you have to do is read some of the news some of the time or listen to the oral reviews of the news via air waves, sometimes.

Not all sob sisters are women. Some of them are great big strong masculine news commentators, though if you care to be technical about it maybe they are sob brothers. Networks are full of 'em.

FELT LIKE sobbing all over the house over televised events in Washington D. C. Monday morning. . . with protesters sworn to do away with the United States Government in order to do away with war in Southeast Asia.

Wat manner of reasoning is that? Kept hearing echoes of the song "This Is MY Country. . . land that I love" while blinking back the tears.

Then, out of the past, came the echo of the way some of the kindergarten class used to insist on singing "My Country, TEARS of thee," a childish mistake which now appears to be a truism out of the mouths of babes.

You do not have to write to be a sob sister. You just have to feel. And if you feel strongly enough about this land that we love then you, too, may be a sob sister—even if your self control makes you a silent member of the sob sisterhood.

SENTIMENT, at least any obvious expression of sentiment, is out of style in America.

Weeping is considered a sign of weakness no matter how much a heart may ache. Weeping, even with just cause, is frowned upon in this age of "face reality."

Wonder why. When the Son of God looked down on Jerusalem, the Bible says, "Jesus wept."

SENTIMENT has a place in human experience. Take away tender sensitivity toward a beloved person, place, or chain of events and you might as well be a computer.

With Mother's Day on the calendar for Sunday, there will be a deluge of sentiment of the once-a-year variety. Sentimental cards, gifts, long distance calls, and sentimental journeys are quite acceptable on Mother's Day. Only. . . loving a mother and some expression of that love was never meant to be saved up for the second Sunday in the month of May. It should be a constant thing.

SENTIMENT over things—possessions—has never been this sob sister's "cup of tea."

Have a way of losing old photographs though the heart is full of pictures. Nearly all the breakable wedding gifts were broken through frequent use years and years ago.

An exquisite gown gets slept in. Fine linens have never had a chance to yellow with age in this household. Books get read, then re-read, and shared because that's what good books are for.

People are another matter. Roses and music and stars and rivers and babies and raindrops are another matter.

So is my country. If wanting to cry out loud over fighting and tear gas in the streets of Washington D. C. makes this woman journalist a sob sister, so be it.

Born a pacifist without portfolio, was somehow born a patriot, too. And "This is MY Country. . . land that I love. . . My Country, tears of thee."

SEEN LATELYS this time include Mrs. Adolph Wood on the down town scene. . . Kack Price McClelland (Mrs. Fred) at her morning coffee break. . . Mrs. Gene Bassham. . . Luke and Lucy Thomas. . . J. A. Sadler, Jr., city manager.

Saw Parnesa (Mrs. Chester) Hart. . . Dark-haired Esther Fuelker (Mrs. Jay) little mother of two tall sons and two pretty little daughters. . . Mayme and Eli May. . . Sibyl (Mrs. Dennis) Walding. . . Paul Beeman. . . Gladys Howard.

Betty (Mrs. John M.) Worrell was on the Monday morning grocery gathering trail. . . Billy Joe Wood was with his handsome small son whose little boy smile brightened the whole day. . . Gwen (Mrs. Dick) Wistrand, FP (favorite person) came calling.

Lucille Bauer Bowman (nee Bodine) and found out that her father Jim Bodine planted the bluebonnet seeds along that FM road. Jim grew up in Bosque County which lies in the valleys of the Bosque and the Brazos Rivers in East Central Texas. That makes him a sentimental bluebonnet fancier by birth and gentle nature.

FAMILIAR FACES in some home town places, belonged to Glenn Roenfeldt, First Baptist pastor. . . The Wayne Shaws. . . Blanche (Mrs. Willie A.) Bell and Mrs. Bob Brooks together. . . John Billings. . . Truman Bodine. . . Two FP's (favorite preachers) Weems Dykes and Billy Wilkinson sharing a coffee booth.

Lovess (Mrs. Tandy) Curlee, at a refreshment break, was saying that she has finished making the new red velvet draperies for C-City Playhouse, assisted by Ada (Mrs. Eli) Womack. That Playhouse, when completely renovated, is gonna be what kids are calling "somethin' else" or "out of sight!"

Curlee first daughter Candy, by the way, completes this week her third college year toward her nursing degree, with the past term spent training in Texas University Hospital at San Antonio. After a short vacation trip to Gulf Coast with class friends, Candy will work this summer in a hospital maternity ward at San Antonio.

OFF THE CUFF--Did you happen to see the recent excellent review of "While the Iron Is Hot," volume of verse by Isabel Smith Ratliff? Review was by George Near in Sunday's Abilene Reporter-News.

Lil (Mrs. Earl) Brown was saying that she expects son Lee of Baird and daughter Earline of Brownfield for Mother's Day. . . Hear tell Lt. Colonel C. A. Wilkins and his family of Austin will visit his mother Lucille (Mrs. Oren) Trulock, too.

Elizabeth Elliott and Evelyn Helm were presented in readings of their original verses for Odessa Poetry Society this week.

Mrs. Elliott was saying that she and husband Lewis were among relatives visited by Max Martin this week, too. Max, who grew up in Loraine and C-City lives in California but is vacationing for now in Texas.

Ted Burgoon, Texas State Welfare Dept. worker and Mitchell County Boys Club enthusiast, is the bachelor renting the little home of Mary Post Hart (Mrs. Bruce) who moved from Chestnut St. to Odessa.

GOOD REMINDER

Mark your calendar for Tuesday, May 11.

Make it a reminder to buy your tickets for the annual festival of bands that night in Colorado High Gym.

It is a sort of annual review of all our school bands--Colorado High, Junior High, Fifth and Sixth Grade.

More than that, however. Money from the ticket sale goes into the fund that buys new equipment for the band program.

In other words, with your tickets and attendance you provide an assist to a valuable student program within our community.

Federation Hears CAP Co-Ordinator

Current activities and future plans for Mitchell County Community Action Program was discussed by CAP co-ordinator Mrs. Bob Shamburger during April program of Mitchell County Federation of Women's Club.

Mrs. Shamburger presented projected ideas of CAP concerning summer teenage activities for all youths in the community.

She also told of baby sitting, sewing, cooking classes and Well Baby Clinic being sponsored by CAP as well as drivers license course now in progress.

The co-ordinator reported that CAP activities provide jobs for dropout and college students.

In closing remarks Mrs. Shamburger explained that main objective of CAP is "to teach people to help themselves." She urged Federation women to support the community program.

Afternoon meeting in Mitchell County Public Library Hesperian Room was opened with members repeating club collect and pledge to US flag, led by Mrs. John Brown.

Mrs. Jim Johnson of Loraine read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. J. A. Smith Jr., Mesquite District president, regarding recent district convention hosted by local Federation.

Mrs. Dona Reed was appointed Federation representative to Council of Big Spring State Hospital.

Clubs reporting work in previous month were Athenium Study Club of Loraine, Hesperian Study Club, Maranatha Club and Self Culture Study Club.

Tech Pair Complete Practice Teaching at Colorado High

Diana Kinslow and Linda Mullin this week are completing student teaching at Colorado High School.

The two, senior students at Texas Tech University, have been here for the past six weeks teaching in CHS home economics department under guidance of local instructors, Mrs. Jay Craddock and Mrs. Caddo Matthews.

In addition to the newness of teaching, the young women have had the experience of living in a small town.

Both residents of Lubbock, Miss Kinslow and Miss Mullin have shared an apartment in Loraine during their practice teaching in Colorado High.

"People here picked us out as newcomers and made us welcome," said Miss Mullin.

Miss Kinslow, a candidate for a degree in August, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kinslow. Youngest of three children, she chose home economics teaching because she is interested in teaching students how to have better family living.

She sews most of her clothes, likes to read and participate in most sports.

She is a member of Home

Economics Association at Tech and Beta Sigma Phi, an international professional sorority. She was graduated from Lubbock's Coronado High School where she was an officer of Future Homemakers of America and received her state FHA degree.

A 1967 graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock, Miss Mullin is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Mullin of Lubbock. She is oldest of three children.

Her hobbies include cooking, sewing and watching football and golf. She, too, is a member of Beta Sigma Phi.

At Monterey High she was an officer of Future Teachers Chapter, Drama Club, honor society and participated in University Interscholastic League speech and typing. She is to graduate this month from Tech.

Home From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lankford returned last Saturday from a vacation trip to El Paso, Arizona and Las Vegas, Nev.

Accompanying the couple to El Paso were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pirkle Jr. and son, Jay.

Both young women have a double major-home economics education and clothing and textile.

You may call the Hamilton Optometric Clinic of Big Spring for an appointment at no cost to you.

The number is in your Colorado City Telephone book.

Teaching

Linda Mullin and Diana Kinslow, both of Lubbock, this week complete practice teaching here in Colorado High School. The two, students at Texas Tech University, have been teaching under direction of Mrs. Caddo Matthews and Mrs. Jay Craddock in CHS home economic department.

House Guests

Guests in home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sweatt last week were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hardin of Brownfield, Mrs. Sandra Turner and daughter, Lisa, of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. Dener Hays of Coahoma.

Mrs. A. L. Young visited Monday in home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Oglesby.

Jo Annette Sturdevant Is Bride of Travis N. Conaway

First Baptist Church of Westbrook Saturday was setting for the mid-afternoon marriage of Miss Jo Annette Sturdevant of Big Spring and Travis Neill Conaway of Westbrook.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sturdevant of Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Conaway of Westbrook are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. Frank Hodnett, church

pastor, read double ring vows in four o'clock nuptials. Mrs. Charles Ranne, pianist, played wedding music and accompanied Louis Loveless, soloist, as he sang "Because" and "Lord's Prayer".

Altar was marked with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gladioli and bunches of green palms.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie fashioned with princess lines. Panels of beaded lace accented dress front and bands of short puffed sleeves.

Her veil of illusion was attached to a band of white flowers. Her costume was complimented by pearl necklace and earrings, gifts from the bridegroom.

Bridal bouquet was a cascading arrangement of white gladioli.

Miss Linda Massey of Big Spring and Williams Conaway, brother of the groom, were honor attendants.

Miss Massey wore a formal gown of pink chiffon, styled with an empire waist. Her headpiece was of matching chiffon. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Ushering guests were Jerry Hancock and Phillip Hancock, nephews of the bridegroom.

Bridal couple was honored at a reception following their marriage.

Bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a bouquet of pink and white flowers.

In the houseparty were Mrs. Andrew Hancock, groom's sister, Mrs. Charles Porch and Mrs. Larry Harp.

The newlyweds will be at home in Westbrook after a wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College. Her husband, a Westbrook School graduate, also attended Howard County Junior College.

Rehearsal dinner honoring the bridal couple and members of wedding party was hosted Friday night by the bridegroom's parents in their Westbrook Community home.

Women To Hear Midland Pair

Two Midland women will be guest speakers for a luncheon meeting of Church Women United Friday in First United Methodist Church.

BOYD
in Annapolis, Md., had accepted him, too.

It was a tough decision. But Boyd had applied to the Navy first. In addition, the Naval Academy offers studies in nuclear science—a field with special interest for the graduating senior. And the Air Force doesn't.

So, the decision went for Navy.

Boyd, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boyd, will join the admissions class June 30 at the Naval Academy.

They are Mrs. Carl Bearden of Christian Church and Mrs. Ola Farlow of Presbyterian Church.

Host churches for the covered dish affair will be First United Methodist, All Saints' Episcopal Church, First Christian and First Presbyterian.

All women of the community are invited to attend the 11 a.m. meeting, according to Mrs. Rick Perkin, Church Women president.

Other recently elected officers are Mrs. Don Schollenbarger, vice president; Mrs. Jack Parse, secretary, and Mrs. Don Powell, treasurer.

HD Club Elects New Officers

Mrs. R. E. McMillan is incoming president of Fairview Home Demonstration Club.

She was elected to head a new slate of officers in a recent meeting of club members in home of Mrs. E. T. Strain.

Named to serve with Mrs. McMillan in 1971-72 club year were Mrs. Strain, vice president; Mrs. P. H. Pace, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. C. P. Wiggins, reporter, and Mrs. Don Forbes, council delegate.

Program for the afternoon concerning making and re-making lampshades was presented by Mrs. Earl Hunter and Mrs. Pace.

The two itemized notions required in re-finishing lampshades including fingernail polish, pins, clothes pins, glue, twill tape, braid or bias tape for trim.

They demonstrated ways of wrapping tape around top and bottom lampshade frames, suggesting members use old lampshade for pattern to cut new fabric.

The speaker discussed step by step methods of finishing a shade.

Attending the session were Mrs. Muriel Thurman, Mrs. Weldon McMillan, Mrs. Wilma Womack, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Pace, Mrs. Strain and visitors Mrs. E. S. Womack and Mrs. Delfo Clark.

Square Dance To Benefit Boys Club

A dance Saturday night, hosted by Do-Si-Do Square Dance Club, will benefit Mitchell County Boys Club.

C. L. Woods, president, will be master of ceremonies for the evening. Area callers will be featured.

Because of the benefit donation spectators will be asked to donate 50 cents, according to Woods. Dancers will pay regular admission.
