JUNCTION POSTER BOARDS INSPECTED.

W. H. Reaney, traveling inspector for the Poster Advertising Co., of New York City, a company which places a majority of the Poster Advertising of the United States, was here the first of the week checking up the local plant, which is composed of four double panel boards located along the main street of the town.

After carefully examining the individual boards, Mr. Reaney stated that these were the most perfect in construction that he had seen in this part of the State, and were as good as any in his territory, comprising the States of Texas, New Mexico and Colorado. The local boards are put together with bolts instead of nails, which makes the boards stronger and less liable to damage from windstorms. Only one other plant in this entire territory is built this way. This method of construction is more expensive, but is cheaper in the long run.

The advertising panels were found to be in perfect condition and the owners of the plant were complimented on the manner in which they were handling the advertising sent them.

While the plant is less than a year old, it has been filled with advertising practically all this year. Besides the foreign or national advertisers, Phillip Joseph and the Junction Tailor Shop have been using some of the panels to advertise their merchandise; Mr. Joseph having used some seven or eight months' showing.

MAY CHANGE NAMES OF TEXAS ASYLUMS.

Austin, Oct. 5.—Steps may be taken to change names of the several asylums in the State. The superintendent of these institutions are objecting to continued use of the words “insane asylum.” This fact was disclosed here when the superintendents of these institutions appeared before the board of control with their biennial budgets.

The objection to the use of asylums as designation of the wards for mental defectives is based primarily on the reaction it causes on the minds of the public. The change, if made, would designate these institutions as State hospitals.

Plans for holding quarterly or semi-annual meetings by the superintendents of these institutions was also taken up with the board. This plan was looked upon with favor by the board of control. If the plans are carried out these meetings will be held in Austin, as it is more centrally located. Then, too, it is pointed out, they could meet with the board of control so that body would know every phase and character of work being done by these corrective institutions.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PRO- MOTION DAY PROGRAM

Last Sunday morning at the Methodist Church a most interesting and entertaining children's day program was enjoyed. Each teacher of the primary department made a short but interesting talk. The pupils of each class were awarded promotion cards and the following Sunday will take their places in the next higher class.

The little folks' songs and readings were very much appreciated by those present and showed the value of Sunday School training.

STATE AND COUNTY TAX RATE IS $1.57.

Tax Assessor Joe Bissett gave us the following facts about taxes, lands, etc., taken from his official records:

County tax rate, 82c, State tax rate 75c. In School District No. 1, the special tax rate is 50c and the bond tax 25c, totaling 75c for school purposes. District road bond 12c, making a total for property tax payer of Junction $2.44. The rate in other parts of the county will, of course, vary with the amount of local school tax levied.

For this year the following renditions were made:

Lands rendered—(residents) 562,517; (non-residents) 209,106; unrendered, 24,123; total assessed land values is $2,084,322. Cattle, total number, 23,034, value $280,758; sheep, total number, 131,795, value $527,180; goats, total number, 138,794, value $277,588; horses and mules, total number, 2,948, value $68,802; Jacks 7, value $220; hogs 874, value $2,308.

The total assessed valuation of the county is $4,210,357.

The average land value rendered per acre is $2.87. The amount of taxes collected for the county is $34,522, and the total for the State is $31,597.

CASE SETTLED IN ROCKSPRINGS COURT.

The case of Edwards County vs. Real County, in which Edwards was suing Real concerning the Rocksprings bond issue, was compromised in the Edwards County term of District Court last week. The case was compromised by Edwards County accepting the money that had been collected by Real for that purpose and dismissing the case from the courts.

The Real County Commissioners and J. W. Haynes were in attendance at court there the latter part of last week.—Leakey Leader.

W. A. Bannowsky who was in town Monday stated that the rains of Sunday extended only a short distance north of his ranch on Bear Creek.

FOOT AND MOUTH DIS- EASE IN SOUTH TEXAS.

Houston, Oct. 5.—Thirteen hundred range cattle in four herds on pastures adjoining the premises where 1,900 were slaughtered Friday, will be killed in the second major operation of the federal government to check a spread of the foot and mouth disease in South Texas. An announcement at the office of Dr. Marion Imes, federal director of disease eradication, said that the four herds were known as contact herds and that it was deemed necessary to destroy them in order to create a space between the infected premises and the free territory.

“We feel confident,” the announcement recited, “that these cattle will soon break down with the disease. They have intermingled with the infected cattle killed, principally through gaps they made in poorly constructed fences. In some instances they have come in connection with them through a common water supply.”

A ditch for burying the 1,300 cattle marked for destruction was dug Saturday. Present plans contemplate shooting them Sunday.

Even if it is found necessary to kill the entire number, it was pointed out, the operation would not compare with the slaughter in the California epidemic when 125,000 cattle, hogs, sheep and goats were destroyed before the disease was checked. Moreover, it was added, in California there were four principal points of infection—in or near Oakland, Merced, Sonora and Los Angeles—whereas in South Texas the authorities are dealing as yet with but one.

M. B. Stockton and son were business visitors in Junction Tuesday. Mr. Stockton lives in the extreme northwest corner of the county and does not get down this way very often. Conditions out his way are very satisfactory, he says, as the recent rains have brought out a fine lot of grass and weeds and livestock are doing well.

COMPLETE STAGE EQUIP- MENT FOR AUDITORIUM.

The local school board, composed of Oren C. Reid, W. P. Riley and G. R. Ragland, met Monday night with a saleslady from an Oklahoma City Sign concern and purchased equipment for the stage in the local school auditorium.

The equipment consists of the following: One full size front curtain for front, a woodland scene curtain for rear of stage and an extra curtain to be used in front of the rear curtain to produce a parlor scene, two pairs of wings, a pair of tormentors or borders for entire front of stage, wing and ground drapery and all ropes, pulleys, etc., for properly handling the stage equipment.

The total cost will run about $700.00, and the trustees hope to make up this money by selling advertising space on the large front curtain.

With this equipment the stage will take on an entirely different appearance and will be ready for any kind of plays or other programs that may be rendered in the auditorium.

MRS. DAVIS DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER.

Mrs. J. E. Davis, a resident of this county for more than 35 years, died Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Bissett, in Junction. She has been ill for some time and during the last few days was moved here from her home east of town.

Deceased was born in Palo Pinto County in 1850 and spent most of her early life in Burnett County. In 1879, she married J. E. Davis, who with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Bissett, and seven sons, Ran, Black, Dennis, Ambrose, Loss, Ed, and Hays, survive her. Ed lives at Eldorado and Ambrose at Mountain Home. The other children live near Junction.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. E. Parker, Tuesday afternoon and interment made at the local cemetery.

LABORS OF P. BLOWHARD AND T. TIGHTWAD.

High taxes and hard times are the chief stock in trade of the peanut politician. As far back as we can remember, Peter Blowhard and Tickyus Tightwad have been loading the folks up with gruesome tales of high taxes and hard times. As far back as we can remember, a lot of people who refuse to allow their brain cells to function, get their systems so full of the rot which these two gents peddle out to them, that the habit of beefing and bellyaching because they are forced to perform a sacred, patriotic duty, becomes second nature with them.

Like young birds, their mouths are always open to take in whatever Ticky and Peter put into them, and they swallow it as a young bird swallows a worm—believing it is alright, and never doubting but that Ticky and Peter are feeding them the worms of wisdom and the juicy bugs of knowledge. In this way Ticky and Peter manage to keep these poor fish sore at the world, and when the time comes to “kick in” the tax money, the best money they ever paid out, they look on the tax collector as a highjacker.

Old Peter and Ticky tell them about “them good old times, way back yander” when taxes were low, good times and the geese hung at a great altitude; but Peter and Ticky never tell them that in “them good old times,” were the days of bad roads, ox carts, log houses; one-eyed mules, scooter plows, brogan shoes, yarn britches, hickory shirts, yarn gallsies, tallow candles, sugarless year, dirt floor school shacks, darned ignorance and superstition, for all of which we had to work like hell thirteen months in the year.

In “them good old times,” no one ever talked over a telephone “listened in” a radio, rode in a jitney, heard a phonograph, saw a man’s “innard” with the x-ray, read by an electric light, took more than one bath a year, ate ice cream or drank bevo.

Now if your disciples of Messrs Blowhard and Tightwad are so anxious to get back to “them good old times” when taxes were low, why don’t you sell your jitney, and go back to the ox cart, bad roads, one-eyed mules, scooter plows, hickory shirts, yarn britches, yarn gallsies, brogan shoes, tallow candles, wheatless months, sugarless years, dirt floor school shacks, darned ignorance and superstition? Now, why don’t you? There are no strings on you. You won’t do it; yet you kick because you have to pay a pitiful price for good roads, good schools and the upkeep of the best government the sun ever shone on.—Sterling City News-Record.

ADVERTISERS AND NON-ADVERTISERS.

Here’s the argument a Fort Worth business man used on an audience the other day:

“The man or firm who really pays the advertising bill is that man or firm who does not use it. The profits on sales taken away from him by the advertiser saddles the bill on the man who does not advertise.”

Needless to say the speaker is a consistent user of white space in newspapers. His thriving business has sold him on the value of consistent and judicious advertising.

ANNE COVINGTON
GOES TO CHURCH.

"This is my new dress, isn't it?" said Sallie Wright as she sat down at the breakfast table. "I bought it last week when I was in the city."

"The Evening Star" had been one of the most attractive and modern settlements in the South. It was a new town, built on a hillside, with a beautiful view of the city. Sallie had been there for a week, and she was very much interested in the people and the life there.

"I have been to the church," said Sallie. "The people there are very nice. I have met many of them, and they are all very kind and helpful."

OLDSMOBILE OF 1900 BEING USED IN EGYPT.

Still using the little one-cylinder Oldsmobile which he purchased in 1900 is the record of Dr. J. V. Faulkner, physician at Cairo, Egypt, formerly of New York City, according to V. H. Johnson of the General Supply Company.

"The little car is in perfect running condition," he stated. "It does not give me any more trouble than when first purchased. Although it may lack many of the modern accessories and features of the new car it gives perfect satisfaction. My little Oldsmobile has been a great aid to me throughout these last 24 years. It has been more like a pal. I would not care to part with it for any of the new models."

Dr. Faulkner is known in the neighborhood as the "Doctor of wheels."

Marla Edgeworth is regarded as the inventor of the novel with a purpose, of which kind "Castle Rackrent," which sent her name into immediate fame in 1800, is a typical example. Her success with her Irish novel had much to do with turning Sir Walter Scott to the writing of prose fiction.

Worth Living For

There is scarce any lot so low but there is something in it to satisfy the man whom it has befallen. "Sweet are the uses of adversity"

So sang Shakespeare in his immortal works. But that was long ago—back in the 15th Century. Times have changed greatly since the Bard of Avon wrote and directed his plays for the edification of virgin Queen Elizabeth and her gallants.

Adversity and hardships are certainly not "sweet" to anticipate nowadays. It is only the man who has had the wisdom and forethought to save part of his wages that finds adversity anything but a sad experience.

Don't wait for adversity to teach you the necessity of saving. Come in and start an account to-day with this bank.

RED CREEK "RALLY."

Elsie Gephart, of Yates returned home Sunday from Mercury, where she has been visiting for some time.

A large number of Red Creek people went to London Saturday to be present for the pie supper and "Negro Wedding," which was rendered at the Community Hall. The pie supper was very successful and the total amount of the proceeds was $51.70. A cake which was donated by Mrs. A. J. Ivy, was given to the couple weighing the most, and was won by Mrs. G. M. Pearl and J. W. Harrell. Another cake, which was donated by Mrs. J. S. Goodman, was sold to Eif Cummins for $14.50. It was again sold at auction to W. C. Jones.

The "Negro Wedding" was a very comical affair, and consisted of the following characters: Bride, Miss Arabella Sunset, (Mrs. Walter Hardesty); groom, Jamie Small, (Linville McKinney); bride's maid, Miss Kitty Butterly, (Mrs. W. L. Amaon); best man, George Washington Brown, (W. L. Amaon); preacher, Button Buster Foxie Doolittle, (James Furr); flower girls, Tessie Sunflower and Cora Apple, (Thelma Adams and Mona McKinney); Miss Daisy Black, (Mrs. E. F. Amaon) played the wedding march; Miss Prinkie Green, (Mrs. R. L. McKinney), sang the wedding song; Miss Bettie White, (Miss Bessie Rivers), sang the solo; Mrs. Peggy Sunset, (Mrs. G. T. May), the bride's mother; Rusty Sunset, (Edgar Furr), the bride's father; their children, Johnnie, (Raleigh Adams), Moses, (Raymond Furr), Sambo, (Louis Britton Amaon), the twins, Pep and Jex, (Ivy and George May Amaon), Rastus, (Ferrell McKinney), Shorty, (R. B. McKinney), and the baby, Susie, Mrs. Mandy Applecider, (Mrs. Mary Bell), the grand-mother, and Josiah Applecider, (G. T. May) the grand-father.

Prof. Hensley and wife of Junction came down to London Sunday afternoon to be with the people in a song rally. Mr. Hensley served as leader of the singing and all of our people are grateful to him for his assistance.

W. J. Docwra and C. M. Massey of Red Creek, had business at London Monday.

London-Red Creek school opened Monday with an enrollment of about 110 pupils. The school board and a large number of patrons were present. Short talks were made by Supt. Kountz and Orlan Stewart and Everett Stewart. Much interest was manifest and we feel confident of a very successful school term. Miss Lela Spruell has the first and second grades; Miss Nellie May Cummins, the third and fourth grades; Miss Victoria Brewer, fifth, sixth and seventh grades; Orlan Stewart, eighth and ninth grades; Supt. Kountz, tenth and eleventh grades.

Johnnie Vance of Red Creek, is sporting a new Ford touring. Simp Pearson of Yates is picking cotton for Taylor Walton this week.

Otis Bowers and wife visited Mr. Bower's relatives Saturday night and Sunday at the Beasley ranch near Junction.

NOXVILLE NOTES.

Jack Hoggett and Miss Anna Stapp were married in Kerrville Sunday, October 5th. Miss Stapp is the charming daughter of C. A. Stapp Sr., and she has spent most of her life in this community. She graduated in the class of 1921, and the P. & S. Hospital at San Antonio, and has followed her chosen profession as a nurse for the past three years. Her blithe, happy disposition endears her to all with whom she comes in contact. Their many friends here unite in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous married life.

Henry Bierschwaile has a crew of Mexicans shearing his sheep this week.

Fred Obenchain and wife of Waco left for their home Sunday after several days' visit with his sister, Mrs. A. T. Whetstone.

Proctor Rogers and wife of Harper are visiting Mrs. Rogers' father, Uncle John Coffey. Dillard Stapp and wife were visiting in Kerrville this week.

The wind-mill man has been much in demand in this community this week. C. A. Stapp Jr., William Parker and John W. Coffey needing his services at the same time.

The eastern portion of our country was visited by a copious rain last night from Sam Parkers' to Harper, the roads were rendered practically impassable.

The citizens of Noxville are building a new telephone line to the Gillespie County line; it will intersect the Fredericksburg line, hereby insuring us more direct communication with that town and other points.

as good as money
Yet some folks throw them away and others do not know about them

Every can of Sunset Coffee contains a double value. First, a full measure of the most completely satisfying coffee you ever drank from a cup.

An Added Value

In addition each can contains a metal advertising coupon. These coupons are like coins in shape and appearance and better than most coins of their weight in value to you. A few of them and a little cash will get many articles that are useful and nice to have. This is our way of advertising—sharing part of our advertising fund with you.

Full Particulars in Every Can

We do not offer something for nothing, but because of our purchasing power, we make it possible for users of Sunset Coffee to buy standard articles at much less than retail price.

And all this added value costs you no more than you usually pay for an ordinary high grade coffee that is probably no where near so completely satisfying as Sunset.

For Societies,
Religious, Civic and Fraternal

If your society is in need of money, find out about the Sunset Plan. Nothing to buy. No investment. Get your membership using Sunset Coffee. Co-operative saving of the Sunset coupons raises money rapidly. Full details in every can.

YATES YARNS.

Yates people are still very busy picking cotton. The weather has been very favorable last week for cotton picking and much cotton was gathered.

Misses Thelma Barrett and Victoria Brewer spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones.

Mrs. Ruth Guber from Camp Wood is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gephart.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wendel from Doss, Texas spent Saturday and Sunday with T. J. Lange and family. Mrs. Wendel is a sister of Mrs. Lange.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gephart, Lee and Elsie, returned Sunday from Mercury, where they have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Al-

HOW DOCTORS TREAT
COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of gripe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotab, the nameless Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomet, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

fred Stewart and Mrs. Hettie Stevens.

Miss Thelma Barrett of London is spending a few days with Miss Elsie Gephart.

T. J. Lange went to Brady Monday on business.

Mrs. J. D. Summers and her grandson, Luther, are visiting her brother, Dan Gephart, and also her daughter and son, Henry Summers and Mrs. Katie Stewart.

W. W. Paulk and wife were in Yates late Saturday on business.

No Mystery Here

Rain from a clear sky is an uncommon phenomenon, but there is no mystery about it, says Nature Magazine. Small raindrops fall very slowly. They may require several hours to reach the ground, and in the meantime the cloud from which they came may have dissolved or passed beyond the horizon.

THE CITY ELECTION PASSES OFF QUIETLY.

Rocksprings moved up another notch in its progress from a village to a city Monday, when a full complement of city officers were elected; and we now have a city government.

There was not a very large vote polled, as there were few contested offices and many did not trouble to go to the polls. Only for city marshal was there anything that looked like a contest. The other candidates had been nominated and they were all good men and there was practically no opposition to them. A total of 112 votes were cast as follows: For Mayor J. N. Lockley, 109; for marshal, L. W. Alexander 36; Page Car-41, W. F. Owens 36; for aldermen, A. E. Bueswell 102, W. T. Day 66, H. Fleischer Jr. 105, J. E. Rogers 100, J. L. Balentine 88, E. F. Cloutd 33, Mark Bean 20. There were some other scattering votes.

Asked what the city council was going to do first, Mayor Lockley said they would be sworn in first, and then they would get together and decide what to do.—Edwards County School Notes.

In publishing the names of the members of the Senior Class last week Irah Fleming's name was omitted.

Arthur Dunbar has been absent from school the past week, due to the fact that he went to San Antonio to have his knee operated on. The reports which we have received this tell that he is improving.

Bill Foley was absent from school few days last week.

Slight changes have been made in the primary rooms. The third grade was moved to the room on the right of the entrance to the building. The second grade now occupies the former third grade room. The boys' dressing room is the former second grade room.

Don Maddox has been absent this week, due to illness.

The Junior Class was organized last week. Norman Farmer was elected President, Natalie Lowry Vice President, Dennis Wallace secretary, and Bennett Kindrick reporter. Besides

The basket ball girls have ordered their balls. One for the intermediate grades, one for the junior girls, and one for the first team.

Most of the Physics laboratory equipment has arrived and the cabinet will soon be ready to be installed.

Maedelle Lowry, Jewel Riley, Ula and Lula Motley, and Viola Wahl were promoted to the fourth grade last week.

Schreiner High School was defeated last Saturday by Schreiner Institute of Kerrville by a score of 13 to 0.

We recommend Schreiner Institute for their great sportsmanship towards our boys. The game was a hard fought one, this being our first game and Institute's third one. We think our boys played a very nice game of foot ball.

The new men on the squad are showing up better every day.

The line-up:
Center—Urban; Guards—Farmer, Jobs; Tackle—Randle, Henderson; Ends—Watkins, J. Richardson; Quarter—"Buddy" Richardson; Halves—Fairchild, Dennis Wallace; Full Back—Wright; Substitution—Johnson for Jobs.

Reporters—Bill Wright and Elizabeth Murr.

This column will be edited next week by Vic. Urban and Verena Lawler.

TRUTHFUL(?) TO SAY
THE VERY LEAST.

A Kansas editor says that sudan grass in his part of the country is so rank and grows so fast that cattle can't find their way out of the fields. The same editor then asks: "What do you think of that?" Well, candidly, we think it's a lie. But we have seen corn grow so rank in the Colorado and Brazos bottoms that lightning bugs kept their lights burning all day and have seen pumpkin vines in those bottoms grow so fast that they actually dragged the little pumpkins to death. We also heard a potato grower say that he stuck a shovel into a hill of potatoes and at least half a bushel ran out before he could stop up the hole. Come to Texas.—Snyder Signal-Times.

And we think you're lying, too. There never was a half bushel of potatoes raised in one year under the cap-rock to our certain knowledge. Things were quiet when we left down there, and we suspect there has been no change. In fact, so quiet was business there under the cap-rock that you could hear the sun-set. Speaking of potatoes and lightning bugs, you ought to come to the Plains, where rains are so frequent that the chickens have become web footed. The Times-Signal editor kidded his people last week about the rain, saying they had another shower. There are children below the cap-rock that are almost grown that have never seen anything but showers. Come to the Plains.—Slato Times.

Harry Davenport and his wife and children, too, came down off the cap-rock to San Saba and experienced a "show-er" last week. The shower was two days falling and registered 5 to 7 inches. I guess both of you are telling the truth, but with this you have nothing on San Saba County, where the cotton opens so fast the gins can't gin it; where pecan trees grow so tall that some enthusiasts propose to use the trees, like Jacob's ladder, to climb from earth to heaven; the nuts so large that one fell off the tree the other day and went through the earth and the Chinese are now fighting for its possession. The San Saba river is so full of catfish that a man wading across last summer got his breeches so full that a button popped off and killed a deer half a mile away on the side of the mountain. When you come to Texas, come to San Saba.—San Saba News.

TO THE VOTERS OF COMMISSIONERS PRECINCT NO. 2.

After having given the matter very careful consideration, I have decided to resign as Commissioner at the expiration of my present term. I find that my own business affairs take so much of my time that I will not have the time to devote to the work of this office that I think one should give.

By announcing my intention this early, the voters of this precinct will have ample time to select a man for the place, instead of holding the office longer than that date and in any manner suggesting who might be appointed my successor.

I wish to thank those who have given me their hearty support in the past, while I have been your commissioner.

Very truly,
A. N. Wood.

MRS. GEO. VIERLING JR. HONORS MRS. SULLIVAN.

Mrs. George Vierling, Jr., honored Mrs. J. F. Sullivan of Flatonia with a two table bridge party Friday afternoon at the Vierling ranch.

The room was tastefully decorated in wild mountain sage. Mrs. C. R. Stevenson received high score and was awarded a pretty yellow linen handkerchief, while the honoree, Mrs. Sullivan, was presented with an attractive yellow corsage. Mrs. Otis Westervelt received a red stick of candy, the consolation.

Devil's food cake, topped with whipped cream and pecans, and hot tea were served to Mesdames J. F. Sullivan, the honoree, Conrad T. Holekamp, C. R. Stevenson, H. O. Patterson, Henry Hamer, H. G. Perry, Geo. Vierling, Sr. and hostess.

MRS. SKAGGS HONORED.

A pretty five-table Hallowe'en bridge party was given by Mrs. Lee J. Corkill, Monday afternoon, honoring Mrs. L. L. Skagg of San Antonio.

The Hallowe'en colors, orange and black, prevailed. The room was artistically decorated for the occasion; black cats, witches jack-o-lanterns and incense, all in the glow of the candle light, appeared very spooky.

As each couple progressed, a black cat or a pumpkin was placed on the back of the tally.

Mrs. Hez Denman received four of the stickers and was awarded two beautiful black and orange handkerchiefs. Mrs. George Braley received second prize, a black and orange handkerchief and the honoree's gift was also two black and orange voile handkerchiefs.

All during the game, orange-ade and orange and black mints were served.

Fruit salad in orange cases on lettuce leaves, chicken salad sandwiches, olives, and hot tea were served after the games.

The napkins and plate favors also carried out the Hallowe'en motif

GREGORY-WILLIAMS.

Dr. L. J. Gregory, Mayor of Boerne, was quietly married to Miss Vera Williams of Junction in that city on Saturday morning. After the wedding they motored back to Boerne and spent the day. Late in the evening they left in their car for Galveston and other cities for a honey-moon before returning to Boerne to make their home. Miss Williams spent the past two winters here teaching in the public school and was a popular member of the younger set.—Comfort News.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The ladies of the Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Livingston Friday afternoon, to sew for the Bazaar. Several articles were given. Refreshments were served and every one present enjoyed the afternoon.

The ladies will meet with Mrs. George Cavaness Friday, October 17th. All Methodists and visitors are welcome.
