Trojans Now in Winning Streak

By SPORTY

Talco Trojans, an unorganized young baseball team, have just pulled into the lead of their conference with 5 wins against 1 loss.

Last week's game, under superb pitching of Lefty (Schoolboy) Owens and Willie (Wildcat) Williams, found the Talco negroes behind 4-5 at the end of nine full innings.

Saturday's tilt proved to be the greatest of all time for the Trojans, when the "School Boy" and the "Hired Hand" went on the hill. The 14-5 win placed the Trojans in just place with .800 percentage.

There are three teams in conference, Johntown, The Negro team, and the Trojans.

C. W. Belcher is a patient in a Mt. Pleasant hospital.

Athletic Program For Teen-Agers at Talco School

A summer recreational program for boys in the Talco area will begin Monday morning, July 17, at 9 o'clock. Boys in the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades are invited to meet at the school building if they wish to play softball, baseball, basketball or touch football.

A program has been planned by the high school coaching staff that will allow the boys of the community to gather and play two or more days each week in the sports they like best, under the supervision of the coaches. Boys should bring their own gloves and shoes; other material will be furnished.

This program will run two or more days per week if enough interest is shown by the community. The meeting days at first are Monday and Thursday.

To the Voters of Titus County:

On July 22 it will be the privilege and duty of every citizen of Titus County to go to the polls and vote for someone to serve as your sheriff for the next two years. I would like to express my appreciation for the encouragement you have already given me in my race for sheriff. I have tried to see each of you personally but knowing that I have missed some I trust you will consider htis as a personal appeal for your vote and influence.

I realize the sheriff's office is a very important office—one in which much sound thought and careful consideration should be given in selecting a man to serve in this capacity and if the citizens of Titus County see fit to intrust the duties of this important office to my care for the next two years I pledge that I will endeavor to full fill these duties in such a manner that you may never have cause to regret that you had a part in helping to elect me to this office.

Yours respectfully,
LOYD SINCLAIR
(Pol. Adv.)

Mrs. A. L. Rodgers, Leon and Monty went to Gilmer Friday of last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Smart. Mr. Rodgers went for them Sunday.

Consolidation of Schools Caused By New Laws

AUSTIN.—Consolidation of 1,920 school districts the first year Texas' new education laws were in effect has resulted in larger school units and a better school program, J. K. Edgar, state commissioner of education declares.

Consolidations have made possible better building equipment and facilities, teachers giving instruction in fewer subjects and a vastly broadened program of vocational agriculture, trades and industries, and home economic instruction which means better schools for Texas children, Edgar pointed out.

The total number of school districts dropped from 4,412 in 1948-49 to 2,492 operating districts during the last school year. A total of 1,300 of these consolidations were mandatory under new school laws.

"Six hundred and twenty school districts, however, voluntarily merged with other districts," Edgar said.

In addition, the total number of county unit systems (one school system for an entire county) doubled, making the total twenty-four.

Edgar also predicted that consolidations for the 1950-51 school year would total an additional 400, bringing the total number in the state down to approximately 2,000.

Most of the smaller schools in the state could not afford adequate library and laboratory facilities, or equipment and teachers for vocational agriculture, trades and industries, and home economic courses, Edgar pointed out.

"While there has been commendable increases in library, visual aid and laboratory facilities, there has been a tremendous expansion in the vocational departments," Dr. Edgar said.

Buck Deer Trees Women Hikers

A 100-pound buck deer treed two women hikers in the Mt. Tamalpais game refuge near San Anselmo, Calif. They stayed up in the tree nine hours.

Two game wardens rescued the women before dawn but even they couldn't discourage the buck.

The animal gored Warden Albert Gilfillan of San Francisco, in the back and finally Gilfallan and his partner, Al Giddings, shot it.

The women, Pauline Praafteing, 30, of Colma, and Hazel Eggett, 38, Oakland, said that when the buck charged them about 6 o'clock Saturday night it knocked Miss Eggett's pack off her back.

There are now at least two women who will not waste their sympathy on dead bucks brought in by hunters.

MT. PLEASANT WOMAN BITEN BY SNAKE

Mrs. Marc O. May of Mt. Pleasant, was treated for poisoning after having been bitten by a copperhead snake. Mrs. May was bitten as she stepped from a car near the Matt Ward Fruit Farm, between Pittsburg and Gilmer.

Mrs. W. E. Duke left Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. French in Gilmer.

Shower in Honor Jaunita Smelley

On Saturday, July 8, at the Humble Recreation Hall, Mmes. Fred Coker, Eddie Ray, Cecil Griggs and Charles Collins entertained with a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Jaunita Smelley, bride-elect of Jack Byrd.

Guests were received by Mrs. Collins, the honoree, and her mother, Mrs. J. D. Smelley Jr.

Miss Joy Parker had charge of the guest book which rested on a small linen covered table. Adorning the table was a miniature bridal couple encircled by dainty pink flowers.

Miss Genevieve Stewart poured punch and Miss Joan Ford served pink iced angel food squares from the refreshment table, which was covered with a white maderia cloth caught at the side with a large white satin bow. White gladioli and daisies in a crystal bowl, flanked on either side by pink tapers in crystal holders formed the centerpiece.

Miss Bettye Coker attended the lace covered tables on which many gifts were displayed. Attractive arrangements of white and pink summer flowers were used at vantage points over the hall.

Mrs. Mack Pittman and Miss Bettye Coker, pianists provided music throughout the evening. Mrs. Pittman also gave two vocal numbers.

Rain Beneficial to Crops in This Area

A slow, easy, soaking rain began falling in this section early Monday morning and continued until noon.

Farmers welcomed the rain and plants took on new life. It was very beneficial to pastures, gardens, truck crops, feed and late cotton. An increased insect population is expected. But most farmers have been poisoning cotton for several weeks in the fight against the pests.

Crops are looking good and a good yield is in prospect, even if the cotton control program has greatly reduced the acreage in this area.

Oilers Beat Gilmer Lose to Atlanta

By JACK WINN

Talco Oilers defeated Gilmer Thursday night to even their series, but Atlanta put the skids under them in two games.

Atlanta shows signs of power at the plate, and behind it too, as they loosed two 15-hit attacks against the Oiler staff.

The Oilers were also defeated in the tournament at Pittsburg by Gilmer in a well played game. Ellis gave up only four hits, but the Bucks coupled a walk, hit batter, a hit and an error to score three runs.

The Oilers suffered another set back in Sunday's game when Landers' finger was broken on a line drive.

Good Progress on Howison Oil Test

Good progress has been made in drilling the oil test by L. W. Dennis on the Howison block, a mile south of Bogata, since the wheels started turning Wednesday of last week.

At 2,400 feet on Monday a core was taken but no information has been given out concerning it. Drilling was underway on Tuesday evening when a reporter visited the well and the bit was grinding away at about 2,500 feet. There was a large stack of drill on the rack and another load was enroute to the well.

FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1950

Democratic Beatitudes

You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

You cannot help small men by tearing big men down.

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

You cannot lift the wage-earner by pulling the wagepayer down.

You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income.

You cannot establish sound social security on borrowed money.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.

You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

REFLECTIONS

Two friends were always badgering each other. One was bald. the other said, "I never realized you were such a great man until I learned that they had named a town in Arkansas after you."

"I hadn't heard about it," was the reply.

"Yes," replied the other, "Bald Knob."

The bystander laughed and then the bald-headed man said, "You're a great man, too. There's a town in Massachusetts named for you."

"There is?"

"Yes—Marble Head."

THE CURE

A five-year-old boy had been having trouble at the hands of a small school-house fellow. One day on his return from school, he remarked to his mother: "Johnny isn't nasty to me any more. Every time I see him I hit him to keep him kind."

Whenever a foreign diplomat visits the United States you can bet your bottom dollar that his country is holding its hand out for a loan. P. S.—He always gets it.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

BURT LOCKHART
in Pittsburg Gazette

The milk of human kindness is always the Grade-A quality.

As we understand a political kick-off dinner, the guests are expected to kick in.

The president insists we are not in a war. Just a friendly game of canasta, perhaps.

For the first time in the history of the nation farmers own more automobiles than horses.

Overheard in a millinery store somewhere: "Isn't it just too sweet, dear?" "No—it's just too dear, sweet."

Don't worry over the little troubles of today. Wait ten years and maybe they will be big enough to worry over.

Those skeletons in the family closet wouldn't look so frightful if they were not dragged out into public view so often.

In the old fashioned days it was commendable to be economical, but nowadays one stands the risk of being called a tightwad.

Traffic accidents in Texas last year took 2,000 lives and caused a property damage of $227,000 a day. And 1950 is marching along in the same tracks as 1949.

Just about the time we were about to settle down for a nice, peaceful summer, along comes the Korean war. Peaceful living isn't what it used to be in the horse and buggy days.

The loss of fifteen American lives in the Korean war excites and alarms us. The loss of 700 lives over a holiday week end is taken as a matter-of-course, to be repeated probably on the next holiday week end.

"Laws can stop crime," is the heading of an article in a daily paper. Nobody denies the effectiveness of laws, but unless law enforcement officers and jurors do their duty laws are just another scrap of paper.

Census returns are revealing many red faces around chambers of commerce rooms. However, the big towns should not complain. When they need population they simply vote in a slice of surrounding territory.

A Congresswoman is dissatisfied with the congressional pay and wants salaries raised to $20,000 a year, besides the tax-free $2,500 allowed them for expenses. Five thousand dollars a year used to be considered a princely salary for a congressman, and it still is when we consider the kind of service we get from some of them.

CUTTING REWARD

A minister went to church with a bandage on his chin. After the close of the service he explained to a sister that while he was shoving he was concentrating on his sermon and cut his chin. She replied, "What a pity you didn't concentrate on your chin and cut your sermon."

KEEP IT QUIET

Farmer: "Let me tell you my friend, that horse knows as much as I do."

Friend: "Well, don't tell anybody else; ou might want to sell him some day."

New Gettysburg Lincoln Address

((Lincoln's Gettysburg Address—rewritten by E. William Grant, Box 42, DuBois, Pa.)

One score and six years ago our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game.

We are now engaged in a great mass of calculation, testing whether this taxpayer or any taxpayer so confused and so impoverished can long endure. We are met together on Form 1040—we have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men who here spend their lives that they may spend our money.

It is altogether anguish and torture that we should do this, but in the legal sense we can not evade, we can not cheat, we can not underestimate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly who computed here have gone far beyon our power to add or subtract.

Our creditors will little note nor long remember what we pay here but the Bureau of Internal Revenue will never forget what we report here. It is rather for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these vanished dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining, and that we here highly resolve that next year will not find us in a higher income bracket.

HIS PROBLEM

"My advice to you, Mr. Brown, is to go through the movements of driving without using the ball," said the golf instructor.

"My dear fellow," answered Mr. Brown, "that's precisely the trouble I'm trying to overcome!"

CONGRATULATIONS

I saw them waiting for a train,
He, distinguished, tall and slim,
With lightly frosted hair and she,
Just shoulder high, her hat a whim,
A fantasy. I heard their laughter
Mingling, rippling, like a song,
Saw the joy of their togetherness
And thought, they've not been married long.
A friend called out, "Congratulations"—
(I smugly thought, yes, I was right)
Then heard their happy, murmured,
"Thank you,"
And, "Twenty years ago tonight."

Texas Cotton Acreage Down 34 Per Cent

WASHINGTON — Texas had 7,200,000 acres of cotton in cultivation on July 1, the Agriculture Department reported Monday.

This was about 34 per cent less than the total acreage under cultivation for the same period last year. Total on July 1 for the nation was 19,032,000 acres. This was 31.3 per cent smaller than a year ago.

Should the acre yield equal last year's over-average figure of 284 pounds, production this year would be about 10,816,000 bales.

Production for the ten-year average is 11,306,000 bales. The estimate of this year's production will be given Aug. 8.

The acreage on July 1, last year, was 27, 719,000, indicated acreage and the percentage of last year's July 1 acres showed Texas 7,200,000 or 66 per cent.

The department said the number of boll weevils emerging this spring was the heaviest on record. Infestation of plants was very heavy, and intensive and widespread poisoning was begun earlier than ever.

Cattle and Hog Prices Higher

By TED GOULDY

Fort Worth. — Livestock trade opened on a brisk keynote this week and for the first time it was obvious that the trade was taking the "war news" seriously and was trying to plan operations accordingly.

Over the week end, there was enough long-distance telephoning between the livestock areas and the markets to almost heat the wires.

The general feeling seems to be that the Korean crisis is going to be with us awhile and whether it means full scale war or not, the demand for meat, leather and by-products is going to be large.

Stocker cattle and calves at Ft. Worth were strong to $1 per hundred higher than last week's close. Some of the plain to just fairly good grades of cattle and calves sold at levels $2 to $3 above prices of a couple of weeks ago. Fat stock was edging higher and boning types of animals, the canners, cutters, and sausage bulls were extremely active, fully $1 to $2.50 above values at the low point two weeks ago.

A report from the American Meat Institute over the week end pointed out that meat canning at the present time is up one-third. This means either canned meat products are increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds, or it means such products look like a good property in case of war. Probably the true picture lies somewhere between these two.

Supplementally fed steers such as those from Merle Waggoner, Wichita Falls, at $20 weighing, 1,315 pounds and a string of 1,360 pound $28.50 steers from Luther Wright, Wichita Falls; and some 1,330 pound steers from McLung Land & Cattle Co., Johnson County, at $28, and some 1,087 pound steers from G. C. Robinson, Meridian, at $26, represent new high prices for this time of year at Fort Worth.

Hogs are up again at the opening this week. Prices 50 to 75 cents higher at Fort Worth, Kansas City 50 cents to $1 up, Chicago 25 to 50 cents higher. Top at Fort Worth is the highest since December, 1948, and the trade still would not be surprised if in the near future, hogs top at $25. August is usually the high month.

LINES OF LEASE RESISTANCE

As cash gets somewhat tighter, and
New buildings rise across the land,
Apartment owners, doing penance,
Perhaps will rent at last to tenants
With dogs and cats, and even maybe
To luckless couples with a baby!

IN REVERSE?

"Judge, so help me, I wasn't going seventy miles an hour like the officer said. I wasn't even going sixty— I wasn't even going fifty—I wasn't even going—"

"Just a minute!" cried the judge, "We'd better dispose of this case before you start backing up and hurt someone. Ten dollars and costs!"

Living Costs Again Increase

Cost of living has gone up. Meat and bread prices were raised in retail stores.

Cotton soared $15 a bale. Cotton cloth prices moved upward. Cocoa, coffee, sugar, hides and tin continued upward.

The Korean war got much of the blame. But other factors entered in.

A short crop in cotton spurred a $10-a-bale advance on futures, the daily limit permitted on the New York Cotton Exchange, and sent the price for a bale in the actual cash market up $15 to $190 or 38c a pound, highest since May, 1948.

High consumer incomes and big appetites for meat got the credit for sending meat prices higher at retail. At the same time, pork chops on the hoof hit new highs for two years on some livestock markets. Cattle went to the highest price level in a year.

Increased meat prices went up 1c to 4c a pound.

Hog prices went to a top of $25.50 a hundred pounds. At Chicago the top hog price of $24.50 was the highest since Nov. 5, 1948.

Pork was up 4c to 6c a pound.

Army and Navy Enlistments Up

President Thuman again has authorized use of draft calls to fill the armed services quotas, but if other areas over the nation are reporting skyrocketing enlistment figures as this area is, there will be no need for a call.

Paris Army recruiting office reported 27 enlistments started in the past two weeks since the start of the Korean war. For the two weeks before that time, the office processed only six applications for enlistment.

The Navy recruiting office enlisted seven men, in addition to two who re-enlisted in the past two weeks. Only three had enlisted in the Navy in the three month period before the North Korean invasion.

KNEW THE ANSWERS, TOO

A bishop met a minister traveling on the same train, and before long they got into a conversation which turned on the subject of how the bishop had gotten his vocation.

He explained at length, and then asked the minister to tell the story of his calling. Self-complacently the divine replied in all brevity: "The Lord had need of me."

The bishop knitted his brow in thought, then turned to the young man. "I have read the Bible quite a few times, but so far as I know, there is only one occassion on which the Lord said He had need for anything. At His triumphal entry into Jerusalem, He said He had need of an ass."

GETS "BIG" SALARY

A well-known lawyer was always lecturing his office boy—whether he needed it or not. One day he chanced to hear the following conversation between the boy and the one employed next door:

"How much does he pay you?" asked the latter.

"I get $2,000 a year," replied the office boy — ten dollars a week in cash and the rest in legal advice."

FINANCIAL PROBLEM

Down south, colored man with a badly slashed face entered a doctor's office.

"Hello, Tom," the doctor greeted him. "Got cut up again?"

"Yassuh, I don got carved with a razor.'

"Why don't you keep out of bad company, Tom."

"I'd like to Doc," the victim complained, "but I ain't got enough money to get me a divorce."

TWO POPULAR BOOKS

Murray Morkan asked his readers to send in remarks on the subject "Books That Have Helped Me." One of the replies was: "My mother's cookbook and my father's checkbook."

THE TASK AT HAND

A rabid golfer said to Grantland Rice, the noted sports authority: "What is the most important stroke in golf?"

To which Mr. Rice instantly replied: "The next one."

THEIR NUMBER LEGION

The number of civilian employees on the Federal Government's payroll increased from 563,805 in Dec. 1932 to 1,981,156 in December 1949. Total annual salaries and wages paid to these Federal employees have soared from $1 billion in 1932 to over $6½ billion today.

When To Stop ADVERTISING...

WHEN EVERY MAN has become so thoroughly a creature of habit that he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year.

WHEN YOUNGER, and fresher, and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and using the newspapers to tell people how much better they can serve them than you can.

WHEN NOBODY ELSE thinks "it pays to advertise."

WHEN POPULATION ceases to multiply and the generations that crowd on after you, and never heard of you, cease to exist.

WHEN YOU HAVE convinced everybody whose life will touch yours, that you have better goods and lower prices than they can ever get anywhere outside of your store.

WHEN YOU PERCEIVE it to be the rule that men who never do and never did advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business.

WHEN MEN STOP making fortunes right in your sight, solely through the discreet use of this mighty agent.

WHEN YOU CAN FORGET the words of the shrewdest and most successful business men concerning the main cause of their prosperity.

WHEN YOU WOULD rather have your own way and fail than take advice and win.

Alcorn Says It's Not Red Tape That Keeps City Man Off Farm, It's Work

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, undertakes to answer a city writer this week, and his argument might be a good one if it came from somebody else.

Dear Editar: I got up the other mornin determined to do some work, there are some folks who claim loafin loses its edge if you loaf all the time but I ain't never found it that way, the only thing I know that'll take the edge off loafin is workin, however I stuck with my resolution and was gonna do some plowin when I noticed a spider had built a web from my plow to the barn door and I didn't have the heart to tear it down, it was an intricate outfit and made a pretty picture with the mornin sun glistenin on it, and the way I figure is there'll be plenty of days to plow, more'n I'll ever use up. Live and let live is my policy.

Consequently I went down to my neighbor's mail box and borrowed a newspaper and got out of sight and read where a city writer who is opposed to the farm program claims he "wouldn't dare buy a farm now and try to operate it, for fear he would be up to his neck in some sort of trouble with the Federal government" over all the red tape the farmer has to put up with.

It's perfectly all right with me if a man wants to be against the farm program, that's his business, but if you ask me the reason that city writer ain't out operatin a farm is that very few tractors is air-conditioned.

It ain't red tape that drives a man off a farm or keeps a city man from tacklin one, it's grass and weeds and the fact there ain't nothin between you and the hot sun except your hat.

If I was a city man, I'd think up some other reason besides red tape for not farmin. It ain't Washington that makes farmin hard. From what I understand, farmin wasn't no snap even before Washington was established.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

There it Was— Right in The Middle!

Easy Roberts mowed his lawn early last Saturday. Then he sat on the porch, and watched Handy Peterson cutting his grass.

The Roberts' property and the Peterson's border each other — with no hedge or fence between them. So, when Easy notices Handy had left about a four-foot strip unmowed along the boundary, he walks over and asks why.

"That's your land," says Handy. "Mine ends here. See, it lines up with that oak tree across the road!" Easy didn't think so, so they went up and down looking for the surveyor's marker. Where did they find it? Right in the middle of their "no man's land!"

Well, they both grin and take turns finishing the job and then retreat to Easy's for a friendly glass of beer together. From where I sit, a little searching around for the truth of the matter often shows that the other fellow is as much right as you are—at which point the whole thing doesn't seem as important anyway.

Home Top-Rated Accident Trap

Your home is the top-rated accident trap. At least, so say safety experts. But you can make it a less dangerous place with a few simple precautions recommended by Texas State College for Women physics director, Albert Ford.

You may live longer if you pay attention to Professor Ford's advice and don't use a chair for a stepladder; permit marbles, skates, cars and other small toys on floors or steps or have throw rugs on waxed floors.

You can also improve your chances for long life and good health by grounding such electrical appliances as mixers, washing machines, and refrigerators to a cold water pipe to prevent shock; by periodically examining wall plugs and extension cords and by keeping available an emergency supply of spare fuses of proper amperage.

"While you are at it," Ford says, "check those gas jets regularly. All this sounds very commonplace," Ford admits, "but a lot of people get hurt or killed for failure to take such simple precautions."
