Chimp Orbit Test May Set Man's Attempt This Year

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States will try again next week to rocket a chimpanzee three times around the world in the last planned luanching before an American astronaut is flung into orbit.

If the shot goes as scheduled on Wednesday, hundreds of scientists, engineers and technicians will begin a 24-hour-a-day crash program to achieve the admittedly tough task of orbiting a man before the end of the year.

A minimum of four weeks is required between the two launchings to mate the Project Mercury spacecraft and Atlas missile and to completely check out their compatibility.

"On this schedule, you can see everything would have to proceed on a near-perfect basis," an official said. "We'll have crews working round the clock in an effort to make it."

The big delay in the chimp schedule occurred two weeks ago when a hydrogen peroxide gas line in the capsule sprung a leak. This necessitated removal of the spacecraft from atop the Atlas, causing a 15-day postponement.

Some sources report astronauts John H. Glenn and Malcolm S. Carpenter have been tapped by Mercury officials as the No. 1 pilot and the backup for the orbital shot.

Glenn served as backup pilot on the suborbital space rides of Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I Grissom. The Soviet Union already has orbited two cosmonauts, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration would like the history books to show the United States achieved this in the same year.

The Atlas is geared to boost the spacecraft into orbit at a speed of 17,400 miles an hour. After three orbits, lasting a total of 4½ hours, a ground signal will fire reverse rockets which will slow the capsule speed and bring it back to earth. A parachute is to ease the 2½-ton craft into the Atlantic Ocean 1,000 miles southeast of the Cape.

The chimpanzee has been trained to perform a series of lever-pushing tasks in response to flashing lights as he zips around the world. These will determine how well he is able to react to the stresses imposed by acceleration, weightlessness and re-entry.

Mac, De Gaulle May Agree To East-West Talk

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's talks Saturday night with French President Charles de Gaulle apparently increased the likelihood of an East-West foreign ministers' conference on Berlin early next year.

Diplomatic sources said the pendulum seemed to be swinging that way. They based their assessment on a patchwork of developments, none of them conclusive. This was the available evidence:

—Macmillan and De Gaulle obviously were having a friendly exchange of views in the English countryside. The two men themselves were the only ones to know how much progress they had made in knitting together an agreed policy line, but an impression prevailed that De Gaulle will agree to talks with the Soviet Union if these are limited as far as possible to the Berlin problem.

GERMAN VIEW

—West Germany's new foreign minister, Gerhard Schroeder, indicated that East-West talks may take place as early as January or February. Schroeder accompanied Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during discussions recently with President Kennedy in Washington. On returning to Bonn, Schroeder reported to a private meeting of the parliamentary delegation of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party.

The question before Macmillan and De Gaulle was whether to negotiate with the Soviet Union over Berlin or cold shoulder Khrushchev until he shows a more conciliatory attitude.

All along De Gaulle has maintained that Western talks with the Russians would serve no useful purpose so long as the Kremlin keeps increasing international tensions.

Macmillan's counter argument runs this way: the chances of successful East-West talks are better now than they would be if the Berlin crisis is allowed to drift on.

Moscow Eases Up On Finland For Time Being

Joint Defense Conference Is Delayed

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union eased the pressure Saturday on Finland, abruptly dropping demands for defense consultations with its little neighbor for the time being.

Returning from talks in Siberia with Premier Khrushchev, President Urho Kekkonen of Finland said he was gratified that the Soviet Union "wants to continue supporting the neutral foreign political line adopted by Finland."

Now that the demand is dropped for joint defense consultations against what the Russians call a rising West German military menace in northern Europe, Kekkonen can return home a hero.

BACKS DOWN

He got Khrushchev to back down from a demand that might have ended with Soviet bases installed on Finnish territory and Finland's neutrality seriously impaired.

A communique announcing the decision conceded that the launching of Finnish-Soviet defense talks would have aroused great concern among Finland's Scandinavian neighbors. It said the new decision should calm fears in Scandinavia.

The communique was announced 3½ hours after Kekkonen returned to Moscow from his meeting with Khrushchev at Novosibirsk in Siberia.

INTERNAL POLITICS

Withdrawal of the demand appeared to be connected with a development in Finland's internal politics. The Finnish Conservative politician, Olavi Honka, announced in Helsinki Friday night he was getting out of the presidential race. This left Kekkonen as the only serious contender.

Honka, 67, apparently bowed to internal pressure and to the will of Khrushchev. The premier told Kekkonen in Novosibirsk Friday that he suspected Finland's right-wingers wanted to unite with West Germany in a "brotherhood-in-arms" alliance.

He said "Tannerites"—followers of former Social Democrat Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner who supported Honka—were trying to upset the "Paasikivi-Kekkonen" line. Postwar President Juho Paasikivi first laid down the policy of neutrality and friendship with Russia as a necessity for Finland's survival, a policy since followed by Kekkonen.

FEARED CHANGE

Ever since the five main opposition parties in Finland formed a front behind Honka against Kekkonen early this year the Soviet Union has shown worry over a possible change of government in Finland.

The announcement said that Khrushchev, after "paying tribute to the political experience" of Kekkonen and his desire to strengthen Finnish neutrality, declared: "The Soviet government considers it possible, for the time being, to postpone the proposed military consultations."

But Khrushchev warned the Finns that they must "attentively watch" military developments in the Baltic—meaning the activities of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and West Germany in particular.

YOUR GIFT WELCOME

Christmas Cheer Fund Started

The door is open today for you to step into the real spirit of Christmas.

You are invited — just as has been the case for nearly 30 years — to help the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND. This is a project to finance the repair and renovation of toys that go, on Christmas, with a few delights in fruit and nuts, to children who otherwise never are visited by Santa Claus.

City firemen do all the work in repairing the toys. Volunteers check the applicant lists and see about the distribution. There is no administration cost in the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND. Every penny goes to help a destitute child, through the purchase of needed items to rebuild toys. And, importantly, if there is money left after Christmas, it is made available to the County Health Nurse to purchase food, medicine, and milk for any impoverished family in a case of emergency. This is Christmas the year around.

There will be no formal appeal, no direct solicitation. The CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND is simply an expression from the heart of Big Spring.

If you want to feel warm in heart by having played Santa Claus where Santa is welcomed, send your check — made to the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND — to The Herald, or hand it to any city fireman, for prompt and grateful acknowledgment.

The CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND starts today, and two donors have accounted for $15. Will you join them? No matter how small your gift, it will be appreciated.

Nuclear-Power Carrier Goes On Sea Duty

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—The giant carrier Enterprise went on active duty Saturday and Navy Secretary John B. Connally said she would reign, at least for the near future, as the country's only nuclear carrier.

Connally told more than 13,000 persons present for the formal commissioning ceremonies that the Navy, in its constant effort to economize, would recommend its next carrier be powered by conventional fuels.

"There is little doubt that we will desire more nuclear carriers at some date in the future," when a way is found to cut both the size and cost, the Navy secretary said. But until then, he said, the Enterprise "is one of a kind—not in any sense a prototype for a family of ever larger, more expensive sister ships."

Gasoline Tank Clue Spurs New Hunt For Rockefeller

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea (AP)—The discovery of a gasoline tank floating off New Guinea's southern coast Saturday intensified a massive air, land and sea search for Michael Rockefeller, 23.

It was the first possible clue to the fate of the missing son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

However, it was not immediately known whether the tank was the same one young Rockefeller coupled with an empty gasoline can to fashion a float when he set out last Sunday to swim the 3½ miles to shore from his capsized native craft.

The failure of the many planes and ships criss-crossing the sea search area to find the can and tank had spurred hopes that Rockefeller had made it safely to shore through the shark-infested waters.

The development prompted the governor to extend his stay for an undisclosed period in the area where his son vanished while on a relic hunting expedition in one of the remotest areas of the world. The governor had planned to fly home Sunday.

F. R. J. Eibrink Jansen, Dutch commissioner in southern New Guinea, said earlier that if Michael had not reached the shore the prevailing current was bound to carry the can and tank to the island. It would take about six days for the current to sweep the objects to the island, said Jansen, who is leading the search.

Even should the tank prove to be the one Rockefeller used, the possibility remained he reached the dense mangrove swamps along the shore and allowed the tank and can to drift out to sea again.

Michael's rescued Dutch companion, Rene S. Wassing, 34, said he and Michael left the village of Agats last Saturday morning and planned to sail down the coast to Ammankai village on the Eilenden River.

They ran into choppy waters and strong currents near the mouth of the river and the boat began to swamp. The boat drifted out to sea and finally capsized. After a night clinging to the hull, Rockefeller decided to try for shore, said Wassing, who was picked up Monday by a patrol boat.

A. J. Spraberry Dies; Name Linked With Oil Formation

LAMESA (SC)—Abner John Spraberry, 72, the man for whom the largest continuous oil producing formation in West Texas is named, died at his home Friday midnight after a short illness.

Mr. Spraberry was a prominent farmer and implement dealer and had taken an active part in civic affairs of Lamesa and Dawson County.

Services have been set for 2 p.m. Sunday the First Baptist Church with the pastor, the Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Troy Dale, pastor of the O'Donnell Baptist Church, and the Rev. Paris Barton, pastor of the Midway Baptist Church. Interment will be in Lamesa Memorial Park with Higginbotham Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Surviving him are his widow; one son, Carr Spraberry, O'Donnell; a brother, Vernon Spraberry, Anson; a sister, Mrs. E. G. Bartlett, Anson; two grandsons, Lt. John Spraberry, Bossier City, La., and David C. Spraberry, Abilene. County Judge R. F. Spraberry is a nephew.

Mr. Spraberry was born Oct. 19, 1889 in Jones County and he and Mrs. Spraberry moved here from Jones County in December of 1921. The homestead was established in eastern Dawson County near what came to be known as the Midway community.

It was on their farm that a discovery well was drilled into a sand with an odd fracturing pattern in 1950, and it was called the Spraberry pool. Later production was developed in this zone all the way into Reagan and Upton Counties, and it has been proven almost continuously over a distance of 75 miles on what is known as the Spraberry Trend.

Mr. Spraberry was active in farming and also was in partnership in an implement business in O'Donnell from 1948-58.

Although he took a leading role in many improvement projects, he was not associated formally with many organizations.

He and Mrs. Spraberry observed their Golden Wedding anniversary here April 9, 1961.

Pallbearers will be Leroy Holaday, Ed Aldridge, Richard Crawley, Bob Crawley, Otho Gilliam and Bob Ricker.

Rains, Snow Hit The West

By The Associated Press

Cold, gusty winds buffeted the Western states Saturday and snow or locally heavy rains drenched recently parched regions of California.

Snow fell in parts of southern Oregon on the heels of a rainstorm Friday that sent the South Umpqua River spilling out of its banks. Freezing weather nipped parts of Washington.

A total of 37 inches of snow piled up at Weed, Calif. A few television aerials were damaged but plows kept roads open.

To the north, snow continued to fall at Klamath, Ore., with 18 inches on the ground. The snow was generally in eastern Oregon.

The snow in Oregon brought one of the first good weekends for skiers. However, one of the best areas, Mt. Bachelor near Bend, Ore., was isolated until plows could clear a path through Sunday or Monday.

Los Angeles had from one-fourth to one-half inch of rain in six hours.

Snow fell on Montana and north Idaho and extended southward into portions of northern California.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

The current cotton crop is due to be one of the best Howard County has experienced. It also is due to go down in the books as one of the slowest to be gathered. More rain and heavy dews last week held the harvest to a snail's pace. What is now needed is dry, reasonably warm weather. Almost every week in November has brought rain, and last week was no exception—with a liberal dose of marble-size hail thrown in. Damage, however was light.

Mrs. Alford Wolf, the Philadelphia woman who took off from Hamilton a week ago, established a world's woman endurance record for sustained balloon flight. She finally brought down the big gas bag at Boley Okla. After 40 hours and 13 minutes in the air. She had added over 6 hours to a record previously held by Russian women. Later, Mrs. Wolf advised, she and her husband hope to return to Big Spring for a visit.

Violence continued its relentless hold. Airman 2.C. Richard Hake of Webb AFB was killed in a car mishap on IS 20 some 15 miles west. Janie Merritt, formerly of El Paso, took her own life. Friday Lee Hooper was killed in a fall from an oilfield derrick 20 miles to the north. Two others were critically hurt, one in carpedestrian mishap, the other in a fall from a horse.

Viet Nam Press Raps The U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Stern warnings are up in the Saigon press indicating a period of strained relations between the United States and South Viet Nam.

For the past several days, the government-controlled press has been firing an editorial broadside at U.S. policy in Southeast Asia. This comes at a time when U.S. Ambassador Frederick E. Nolting Jr. is negotiating with the government on new U.S. aid. Presumably, the editorials were published with the consent of the government.

Observers feel the editorial attacks may have resulted from U.S. insistence that President Ngo Dinh Diem make certain government reforms. While there have been no reports on the subject of current negotiations, it is believed that some types of new U.S. aid may be contingent upon these reforms.

Missing Girl's Body Is Found

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The body of a 14-year-old schoolgirl was found Saturday in a woods near her suburban Osceola home.

Police said Mary Koontz, described as quiet and highly religious, apparently had been raped, then strangled with her own red and white scarf. She had been missing since Thanksgiving evening.

Police said she was last seen by her father, Charles Koontz, 57, when she left home Thursday night. Koontz said his daughter told him she was going to a church supper.

The body was found by John W. Green, 15, and Gerald Hurst, 14, both of Osceola, who were hunting quail. It was at the foot of a tree just three blocks from the Koontz home.

Texas Counts 36 Violent Deaths

By The Associated Press

The Thanksgiving weekend violent death toll mounted to 36 Saturday with 17 of the deaths occurring in traffic mishaps.

The Associated Press count, started at 6 p.m. Wednesday, will continue through midnight Sunday.

Shootings and stabbings accounted for a large number of the fatalities.

Holiday Traffic Deaths Run Low

By The Associated Press

The long Thanksgiving holiday period approached its final quarter Saturday with traffic fatalities running comparatively low.

The nation's traffic deaths ran slightly behind other Thanksgiving weekends in recent years and also trailed the toll for a nonholiday period in the autumn.

The traffic death count since the holiday period started at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday reached 296. Fires claimed 30 lives and 57 others died in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 383 deaths.

Seven airmen were involved in a single car accident in California Saturday. Two were killed and five injured when their car skidded during a rainstorm and crashed into a tree near Perris.

The 102-hour holiday period ends, for tabulating purposes, at midnight Sunday.

The National Safety Council did not estimate the expected traffic fatalities during the holiday. It said traffic deaths for a nonholiday weekend of 102 hours would total 450 at this time of year.

For comparison, The Associated Press made a survey of traffic deaths for the 102-hour nonholiday period from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8 to midnight Sunday, Nov. 12. The survey showed 462 traffic deaths, 37 killed in fires and 106 fatalities in miscellaneous mishaps, and over-all total of 605.

During the 1960 Thanksgiving weekend there were 442 traffic deaths, 51 killed in fires and 115 fatalities from miscellaneous causes for an over-all total of 608.

Women Identify Rapist In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Two white women identified a 21-year-old Negro Saturday as the one who raped them by forcing his way into their cars on Nov. 14 and Friday night.

A dropped billfold led detectives to the suspect.

In the latest attack, an 18-year-old mother said the man threatened to kill her if she screamed and warned he would also slay her 9-month-old baby if it didn't stop crying.

On Nov. 14, a 43-year-old woman said he got into her car on North Pearl Street with a pistol and attacked her after driving a few blocks.

Local Stores See Brisk Buying As Christmas Season Opens

Christmas shopping interest is on the upbeat in Big Spring.

It manifest itself notably on Friday of last week.

The Thursday holiday closed down the town but on Friday, the streets filled with shoppers. Business was not so brisk early Saturday but as the day wore on, the throngs increased. Parking space which was nearly unattainable Friday again became hard to find Saturday afternoon.

Shops were ready for the buyers. Christmas decorations, gay with the holiday colors, were in place in most stores. Show windows were decked with gift suggestions and lavishly adorned with tinsel and ribbon.

Inside the stores, the shelves and counters were burdened with merchandise. This year's Christmas goods are gorgeously colorful and eye-catching.

Merchants said shoppers are turning to the "luxury" goods more than last year. They are looking for the gay and happy gifts as well as the utilitarian.

A prosperous year for the farmers marked by a bounteous crop, the continuation in general of steady employment and good wages has left the buyers in a good frame of mind for holiday purchases.

Merchants believe that this sense of well-being is the inspiration for the demand for luxury items.

The tempo of buying will steadily increase from now on. With Christmas just 24 shopping days away, it is imperative that shoppers bestir themselves.

The post office is shaping up for the grand rush of mail incidental to the Christmas season. Last December the post office handled nearly 3 million pieces of mail. This year, with the picture shaping up as it is, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, anticipates an even larger volume of mail. In two weeks or so, the post office will augment its regular crew with a small army of extra workers; it will expand its rolling stock with the addition of a fleet of extra trucks.

Merchants made the observation that buyers on Friday and Saturday were "buying and not shopping."

Hemphill - Wells Department Store said traffic Friday and Saturday was good. Its gift wrapping department is busy. However, the store management reported, Christmas buying at the store began nearly a month ago.

Zale's Jewelers said that there was a markedly heavy Christmas traffic this weekend. The buyers, the store reported, were investing in expensive goods — watches, rings, radios, record players, movie cameras. Hemphill-Wells likewise noted that the trend of the buyers was to the better merchandist this year.

Swartz was busy Friday and Saturday. Here too, the trend was toward the luxury items rather than the cheaper and utilitarian. A good business on Friday and an equally good day on Saturday was reported.

Toyland-Sportsman Center on Gregg was a mecca for parents and the dream spot for the young and those who are young in heart. This year's toy selection is the most exciting in a long time.

One item at this store which is not normally in much demand in this part of the country is snow sleds. The manager said he has a good stock of sleds. "I sold three sleds last July," he reported. "The buyers wanted to be ready in case it did snow."

J. C. Penney Co. said that its Friday and Saturday business was good and that the buying was steady and in the realm of better grade goods. Christmas buying here began, as it did in many stores, weeks ago. Penney's has been remodelling its store and the job is not yet completed. However, the job has been set aside now until the end of the holiday season.

Gibbs & Weeks Men's store and Prager's find the trend by buyers toward better merchandise.

"This year," observed one of the staff members, "where a man finds two sports coats offered and he likes both, he is inclined to take the pair."

Prager's reported that business all through November has been good. They look for a good Christmas buying season.

All over town, the same reports were heard. Stores, crammed with colorful and intriguing Yuletide merchandise are finding business good.

The fine weather of Friday and Saturday—it was a warm 71 degrees at 1 p.m. Saturday—was an added incentive to shoppers to get at their Yule buying.

JFK Talks To Red Newsman For 2 Hours

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy and Russian journalist Alexei T. Adzhubei talked together for more than two hours today, covering all major problems facing the world.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger described the atmosphere during the unprecedented interview as "very cordial."

Adzhubei, who is Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, said he hoped it might play some part in improving U.S.-Russian relations.

It was the first time an American president ever had granted a private interview to a Russian journalist.

Speaking with newsmen after leaving the President's summer home, Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, the Soviet Government's official newspaper, described his talk with the President as a mixture of discussion and question asking.

Asked his impression of Kennedy, Adzhubei said:

"You have a young president of a great country. You all should be proud of that."

Adzhubei said Kennedy remarked at the end of the interview that perhaps it took too long. Adzhubei said he replied that the people in his country were used to reading long stories.

Adzhubei began his talk with Kennedy about 10:15 a.m. It continued until after 12:15 p.m.

Through the interview Kennedy sat in a rocking chair, Adzhubei and his interpreter on a couch.

Florez Charged After Burglary

Jose Florez, arrested at 1:20 a.m. Thursday on suspicion of burglary, was charged Friday in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's Court, with burglary.

Florez and three other men were arrested on the north side Thursday morning when police recognized a car reported stolen in Arizona. Items found in the car were later identified as radios, a typewriter, and a violin reported taken from Fox's Pawn Shop by someone who broke out a plate glass window in the front.

Under questioning by Detective Jack Jones of the Big Spring Police Department, Florez was said to have admitted that he broke the glass. He told officers he hid the merchandise under the west viaduct. He contacted the other men, one of whom had the car, and asked for help in trying to dispose of the stolen articles, officers said.

The other men, questioned separately confirmed Florez's statement and were released, according to Jones. The car, reported stolen, was being driven by the owner's brother.

Fair Barn Readied For Hereford Sale

Workmen have been busy adding stalls to the north building at the County Fair Grounds. The building, which has been doubled in area this year, will have stalls for two times as many cattle as in the past, according to Herb Helbig, county farm agent. The additional stalls were built by road and bridge crew workmen on days when weather did not permit road work. The Howard County Commissioners Court provided the lumber. The next event at the fair grounds is the Annual Hereford Sale on Dec. 9.

Toy Manufacture In Japan A Deadly Serious Business

TOKYO (AP) — Growling menacingly, the spaceman advances. His arms wave, he breathes sparks, his eyes flash.

Overhead hoves the latest model U.S. helicopter, its rotor blades whirling.

In the background, someone laboriously chops out "How Dry I Am" on a tinkly piano.

Macy's toy department?

No, it's the toy counter of a huge store in Tokyo.

Japanese toy manufacturers have pulled out all the stops. They have created battery-operated toy washing machines that wash, sewing machines that sew, bears that answer telephones—if the correct number is dialed—ducks that waddle and quack on battery power, bulldozers that bulldoze.

Japanese by the thousands spend hours at the toy counters, happily pinching barking dogs and clucking chickens, punching buttons and watching red fire trucks complete with fireman waving red flag zoom around.

But the gay atmosphere of the toy shop is an illusion. Toy making in Japan is a deadly serious business.

Japan exported $105 million worth of toys last year—2.6 per cent of its total exports—the Ministry of International Trade and Industry reports.

In a nation hungry for export markets, that is something worth exploiting.

With a view toward finding new markets and exchanging information, manufacturers and exporters meet twice annually with government officials. Close cooperation is evident.

Though Japan exports toys to almost all countries outside the Communist bloc, the United States is the most important market. Last year $65 million worth of Japanese toys were exported to the United States.

Fuji produced more than a half million dollars worth of toys last year and exported 80 per cent of them. Japan's toy industry as a whole exports between 75 and 80 per cent of its production. Most of the exports are tailored specifically for the American market.

Toy makers in other countries plainly are upset by all this.

German, British and American manufacturers have complained the Japanese are copying their designs and flooding the market with cheap imitations produced with cheap labor.

U.S. toy makers have charged some Japanese have used subterfuge in attempts to disguise the fact a toy was made outside the United States.

A Fuji designer said many of his company's creations are original. But he acknowledged his firm buys foreign periodicals and foreign-made toys "for reference."

NOAH'S SALVATION

By T. B. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 2900 West Highway 80 P.O. Box 1383.

". . . When once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is eight souls were saved by water. The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the fresh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ" (I Pet. 3:20, 21).

Noah was saved by water; and this is a figure of our salvation. We are saved by baptism, the verse says. This salvation has to do with the conscience, and not the dirt on the body. The power is in the resurrection of Christ, and not in the water. Yet, we face the statement, "baptism doth also now save us"; and we believe it. We believe everything in the Bible.

Along with this we take the verses on grace and faiith; thus recognizing that all the virtue is with God. Yet we believe there is a true sense in which baptism saves; else the Bible would not say so.

Welcome to the services today. Sermon tonight at 7: "Salvation by Faith According to Matthew, Mark, Luke and John." —Adv.

Young Texan Under Bond In Bank Robbery

DALLAS (AP)—Ex-convict Jessie Marvin Caraway waived formal hearing before U.S. Commissioner William Madden Hill Saturday on charges of robbery of the Alvord National Bank last Wednesday.

The commissioner set his bond at $25,000. FBI agents said Caraway admitted taking $4,376 from the bank in the little Wise County town.

The 20-year-old suspect was arrested Friday night by FBI agents in a plush north Dallas motel. He appeared before the U. S. commissioner wearing a fancy pleated shirt.

"I believe there is sufficient evidence to hold me," Caraway agreed during the hearing.

Bond was recommended by U.S. Atty. Tim Timmins.

Special FBI Agent - in - charge Curtis O. Lynum said Caraway, a dairy farm worker in Denton County, had bought a pink 1959 Thunderbid in Dallas, but that most of the money was recovered.

A .38 caliber snub-nosed pistol was found in a coat in the car.

The FBI said Caraway gave a written statement to agents admitting the robbery.

Caraway had been charged with bank robbery in a complaint before U. S. Commissioner R. C. Van Orden in Fort Worth.

Lynum said the suspect was arrested after Denton County sheriff Wylie Barnes tipped them that Caraway had been working on a farm in his county since his release from Huntsville last July 5.

Cashier B. W. McClung and assistant cashier Mrs. Harold Boyd were alone in the bank when a smartly dressed gunman walked in.

They said he was polite and mild in his demands that the money be sacked up.

Needs A Little Straightening

Jimmy Ryals, Central Station fireman, examines the bent wheel of a bicycle brought in to be repaired by firemen for Christmas distribution to needy Big Spring children. All kinds of usable toys started rolling in to the four stations this week.

Firemen Begin Receiving Toys

Toys began to roll into Big Spring Fire Stations this week. A full pick-up truck load of toys backed into the Central Station at 3 p.m. Friday for firemen to repair, clean up, and repaint, for Christmas distribution to needy children of Big Spring.

Among toys received this week were eight bicycles, all in fair to excellent condition; four tricycles; two pedal-propelled cars; a couple of dozen dolls; spring- and battery-operated toys, and other items.

"They are in better shape than most of the items we get," firemen said as they unloaded the pickup, "and some of these won't have to have anything done to them."

From now until Christmas, firemen at all stations will be busy working over, sorting, and readying toys of all kinds. They will be turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution. Repairs, paint, and parts, are paid for from the Cheer Fund, raised annually.

Big Spring residents having usable toys, which they desire to donate for the needy children's program, are requested to take them to any of the four fire stations or call the fire department for pickups.

Farmers Ready To Finish Harvest With Machinery

West Texas cotton farmers are waiting for warm, dry weather and the opportunity to move into their fields with strippers.

They want to finish, as quickly as possible, the harvesting of this year's bumper crop.

Rains and cool weather of the past two weeks have terminated almost entirely the need for human labor in the fields. Some few pickers are still to be seen in some areas but many bus loads of braceros have left for their homes below the border.

Slightly more than half of Howard County's crop has been ginned but the fields are now 95 per cent open and this will mean that strippers can get to work as soon as dryness permits.

NO KILLING FROST

Jimmy Taylor, former county agent and now farm and ranch representative for the First National Bank, and Herb Helbig, county farm agent, are agreed that so far no real killing frost has hit this area. However, enough freezing weather has made itself evident that most Howard County fields have changed from the bright green they were early in November to dull, reddish brown.

Texas Employment Commission office here says there is no reason to change the 50,000 bale estimate for the county. Some more optimistic predictions have hiked the crop to 60,000 but this estimate is generally regarded as a little high.

Through Friday, gins had processed 26,151 bales of Howard County cotton—which represents 52 per cent of the crop.

OTHER COUNTIES

Martin County, with an estimated crop of 85,000 bales, has ginned 61,300 bales. It is said that 97 per cent of the crop is now open and ready to pick.

Glasscock County is within 500 bales of having its 1961 cotton crop harvested. It has already ginned 11,500 bales and it is estimated there are less than half a thousand still in the fields.

Ginning slowed sharply in Dawson County last week due to the damp weather conditions. However, the county is still more than 20,000 bales ahead of the ginning total at the same date a year ago. The county has already ginned 166,743 bales. Ninety-seven per cent of the cotton is estimated as being open. The crop estimate is 190,000 bales which it is agreed is a conservative figure for this county.

The counties served out of the Sweetwater office are still lagging far behind most of West Texas in cotton harvesting.

Nolan County, for example, ginned only 196 bales last week bringing its year's total to 3,705.

Fisher County ginned 1,373 bales and now has a total of 15,167. Total ginnings in Scurry County stood at 15,068 and in Mitchell County at 12,995.

Episcopal Church Plans Teaching Mission Tuesday

A teaching mission, scheduled to be held at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Big Spring, will feature three Episcopal lay leaders Nov. 28-Dec. 1, Don Hungerford, rector, has announced.

At a "moneyless canvass" started Nov. 19 in group meetings at the church, members learned of the church's need for help in the program to advance in stewardship of time and talent, the Rev. Hungerford said. This included urging members to attend, and to bring others to the teaching mission beginning Nov. 28.

The three lay leaders will be Michael Budzanosky, Diocese of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Ralph Spence, communicant of Christ Church, Tyler; and Peter Day, editor of the Episcopal magazine "Living Church."

Budzanosky, a native of Nova Scotia, is of Ukranian ancestry. His father was a coal miner. He is an executive board member of the 5th District United Mine Workers of America, has been an outstanding layman of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, has been deputy to three general conventions, and Episcopal delegate to National and World Councils of Churches. He is a member of important Episcopal Church commissions on social reconstruction and human affairs, and author of numerous articles on church and labor.

Spence, an independent oil operator and a leading layman of the Diocese of Texas, was a delegate to the 60th General Convention in Detroit. He is a member of the executive board of the Diocese of Texas and chairman of the department of promotion. He is a graduate of the University of Texas, a former Navy pilot, past president of the Tyler Petroleum Club, and is treasurer of the Rose Festival Association.

Day, editor of the "Living Church," Episcopal news magazine, has served five times as deputy to general conventions. He is past president of American Church Press, and is a member of the general board of the National Council of Churches. He has been chairman of the Diocesan Department of Christian Social Relations in the Diocese of Milwaukee. Day is also author of the 1960 Seabury Lenten Book, "Saints on Main Street."

The public is invited to attend the teaching mission at 7:30 p.m. beginning Tuesday at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Street Smoothing Job About Complete

The heater-planer used to work on some of the bumpy asphalt streets in Big Spring will soon be through with the job and shipped back to El Paso, Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said Friday. Some nine blocks have already been smoothed out and approximately three blocks remain.

"We have gone over sections of Second, Sixth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Scurry and Main," he said, "and have approximately three blocks left on Main, Runnels and North Second. Two to three runs are required on each place.

"Since we have to do the work at night to avoid blocking too much traffic, it has taken longer than it would have if we had been able to go straight through during the daytime."

Dunn said the cost of the 12 blocks of reworking would be done for about the cost of one block of overlay and another coat of pavement.

"The rent on the machine will run to about $650," he said. "The shipping charges will cost $400. Then we have had to pay overtime because of the night work. The labor and fuel will be approximately $650, or $1,700 in all."

The actual value to the streets will not be known until next summer, he said, because it will take some hot weather to finally get the streets sealed over. He also said that where there was an extra rich mixture applied in the paving, which caused the asphalt to bump up, the planer's heat drew out a lot of raw asphalt, and this would keep the same thing from occurring again.

The heater-planer is a custom-built machine for the specific job of smoothing out asphalt "pulls" in streets.

"There are only 10 or 12 of the machines in existence, since they are made on order only," Dunn said. "We are fortunate in having one so close to us and in being able to rent it from the city of El Paso."

Brief Agenda On Tap For Commission

The Big Spring City Commission will have a short agenda facing it Tuesday night unless supplemental items come up before the meeting.

Two ordinances, bids for gasoline purchase for the next six months, an amendment to the traffic code, and consideration of easements for the Beals Creek Trunk Sewer line, will be before the group.

The city buys gasoline, on a bid basis, for six calendar months, and will consider bids for the six months beginning Dec. 1, 1961.

An orrdinance to annex the second addition of Highland South (Ike Robb) will get second reading and consideration, and an ordinance requiring meters on all taxicabs operating in the city limits of Big Spring will receive third reading.

Thirty-minute parking on Third Street, between Goliad and Nolan, will be set up in the traffic code by amendment, if passed by the commission.

An appraisal, made by Cook and Talbot for the purchase of easements to be used in the construction of Beals Creek Trunk Sewer, will be read and considered. The trunk sewer line will be laid under the Master Plan bond program to provide better sewer drainage for the business district.

Texans To Talk Of Tourist Program

AUSTIN (AP)—About 500 persons will gather here Tuesday to talk about Texas' shortcomings in attracting tourists.

The "Texans for Tourists" conference was called by Gov. Price Daniel. The Highway Department and private agencies are participating.

Daniel's office said delegations will attend from San Angelo, San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, the Lower Rio Grande Valley and other sections.

Rig Builder Fatally Hurt In 25-Ft. Fall

Lee Von Hooper, 47, Odessa rig builder, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation Hospital at 4 p.m. Friday. He had fallen from an oil derrick he and his crew were demolishing on the Tom Good ranch north and east of Vealmoor in Borden County.

Hooper, who was an employe of the J. E. McCain Rig Building Co., was working about 25 feet up on the derrick when he slipped. He struck the ground at the base of the rig and when his fellow workers reached him, he was unconscious. However, it was said he regained consciousness in the Nalley-Pickle ambulance en route to Big Spring.

J. C. Pickle, ambulance driver, said he believed Hooper died about 8 miles north of Big Spring as the ambulance sped to the hospital.

The body was taken in charge by Nalley-Pickle Funeral home and later turned over to the Hubbard Funeral Home in Odessa.

Hooper, who had worked for McCain for 25 years, was born April 11, 1914, in McEwen Tenn. He was married in 1934 in Halsal, Texas.

He had lived in Odessa for nine years. He was a member of the Highland Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Eugenia, one son, and five stepdaughters, all of Odessa, his father, John A. Hooper, five sisters and two brothers.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Highland Methodist in the Sunset Memorial Gardens with Hubbard Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Report Fisher Reprisal For Demo Attacks

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Removal of Rep. Clark Fisher, D-Tex., from the House Armed Services committee is being considered, the San Antonio Light reported Saturday.

A story from the Light's Washington Bureau said Fisher, a member of the committee for 13 years, has drawn resentment from Democratic leaders by what the story called "his attacks on the Democratic-led Congress and Kennedy Administration during speeches at home the last two months."

Fisher is from San Angelo.

"Many Democrats haven't liked his crusade and this goes for members of the Texas delegation and some mighty important members from other states who will have the job of assigning all Democrats to all committees," the paper said.

The story said Fisher's "attacks on the entire Congress for passing some bills it did last session have been devastating, but have been topped by his denunciation of the entire Kennedy program—accompanied by colorful and sometimes humorous references to the Peace Corps."

Cuban Physician To Address Club

Kiwanians and their wives will hear an address on Thursday night by a Cuban physician driven from his home by the tyranny of the Castro Communist regime.

The speaker will be Dr. Aristides Menendez, now a member of the staff at the Veterans Administration Hospital here.

He will be guest of honor at the annual Ladies Night dinner of the Kiwanis Club at the Big Spring Country Club. The dinner is set for 7 p.m. Thursday. Ernest Welch, president of the club, urged all Kiwanians and their wives to attend.

J. C. Pickle is program chairman for the night.

Dr. Menendez is in wide demand in this area as an after-dinner speaker. He describes his adventures and problems in Cuba under the regime of Fidel Castro.

Here's How It's Done

Lads at Boys Ranch of West Texas get a rounded training, including how to help out. Some of this fits into vocational training, some into housekeeping, such as this instruction given by Pablo Erebia, right. Pablo is showing, left to right, Dewey Vanstory, Browfield, Boys' Ranch mayor, Horace Wayne Clark, Big Spring, and Martin Ortega, Sweetwater, how to operate floor cleaning equipment.

NEAR COMPLETION

New Dormitories For Boys Ranch

Construction of two new dormitories at Boys Ranch of West Texas is nearing completion, Roy A. Minear, Midland, board chairman, reported Saturday.

"We are glad that the time has come when we can provide permanent type buildings to house our boys and to do away with temporary buildings we have been using," he said.

The two structures, located on the ranch on Spring Creek, between San Angelo and Mertzon, were made possible by receipts from a flowage easement and from a gift.

Money due from the flowage easement for the new Three Rivers Dam downstream is being applied to one of the 32-bed units. The other of like size was provided by the Dora Cunningham Foundation of Snyder. Dan Gibson, a Scurry County rancher and vice president of the board for the ranch, is a son of the late Mrs. Cunningham, member of a well known ranching family.

Since the ranch was organized in 1947, something like 500 boys have been served by it. A substantial number have been from Howard County including Horace Clark, Marvin Dishman and Manuel Morales of Big Spring, who are currently at the ranch.

The institution, dependent wholly upon donations, is not an orphanage, or a detention home. Rather it is just what the name implies—a home for lads who have had hard luck. The youngsters are given a full program of general education, religious training, recreation, citizenship training, vocational planning and training, and a work experience. In Big Spring, Joe A. Moss and Bill Crooker are county advisory co-chairmen.

Rehab Center Has Troubles With Building

The Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children's) Center very likely will have to establish new quarters, and its board of directors is taking action toward such a circumstance.

The Center building, at Eighth and Owens, erected little more than a year ago as a community volunteer project, has been determined to be structurally unsound almost beyond repair. This is because the structure is on an old "fill", and its walls have given way.

After heavy rains last spring, the building sank badly, and wide crevasses came into the walls. Volunteers worked to shore up the building and repair the damage, but lately more settling has occurred, and bad wall ruptures have occurred again.

After consultation with builders, members of the Center Board have concluded that it would be economically unsound to put more money into reconstruction work, only to see continued sinking of the building.

At a board meeting Friday afternoon, President Sam Anderson appointed a committee to explore possibilities for a new site, and plans will be worked out later for a new building—making use, of all possible materials and fixtures from the present Center. The committee is headed by John Currie, and includes Dr. F. W. Lurting, John Burgess, Jim Bill Little and R. W. Whipkey.

The Center, under therapist Jim Thompson, is carrying a full work load, and every indication points to extending its service. Thus, directors said, it is a foregone conclusion that the community would want to have an adequate physical plant.

DRAIN OR NOT DRAIN?

Pool Maintenance Always Important

The weatherman has put a damper on swimming, but the pool still required consideration. It cannot be stored away into a drawer until next year.

Caring for a pool need not be a great problem, however, according to Jerry Worthy, official of WeatherWize Enclosure Corp. Only minimum care will keep it bright and shiny for next year.

A pool can be left filled and Worthy recommends this procedure. If it is left filled, an occasional check should be made on the chemical content of the water and on the dirt which may have collected.

"Whether you use the pool during the winter or not, keep it clean," Worthy stressed.

A dirty pool invites algae to flourish. If the pool is heated, growth of these organisms is even more rapid. Often they present a problem even in clean pools.

"Some persons keep the pool warm enough to derive therapeutic benefits from its use and you can almost see the algae multiply," he said.

ENCLOSURES

The use of enclosures to keep out leaves and other articles which may be blown in has gained popularity here, Worthy said. They minimize the maintenance problem both during the swimming season and during the winter months.

Many varieties of enclosures are on the market and soon one will be available for the "do-it-yourself" enthusiast. WeatherWize is the only manufacturer of this variety. It will consist of panels which can be assembled to build as large an enclosure as is needed.

Another way to protect a pool is to cover it with one of many types of covers available. Most are strong enough to hold up children should they stray out on the pool. They do have disadvantages, however. Covers which keep out all materials catch water which must be siphoned or bailed. Trying to roll the water off by lifting one edge often results in a torn cover.

CARE IN DRAINING

Pools can be drained without ill effects, and some persons drain their pools each year in the belief that they save money. Worthy disagrees with this, however, pointing out that a drained pool will usually require painting sooner. Water and trash must be cleaned out immediately or the marble finish may be stained. These and other maintenance problems can easily add up to more expense than covering a pool and adding chemicals as needed, he contends.

A pool which is to be drained should first be cleaned, the filter drained, back washing should be done thoroughly and finally the pool should be drained. All valves should be kept open and the pipes drained to prevent damage from freezing.

If water is kept in a pool, chemicals should be checked about every two weeks, Worthy said. Chlorine and other chemicals last longer during winter months than they do when the pool is used frequently, but they do not last indefinitely. Sunlight quickly neutralizes chlorine and even in cold weather the chlorine dissipates.

Other care includes occasional vacuuming to clear out debris.

Dominicans Looking For New Policy

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) —. Dominicans waited Saturday for President Joaquin Balaguer to unveil his plans to bring political tranquility to his turbulent Caribbean nation.

Balaguer scheduled another meeting with the leaders of the three major opposition political factions amid mounting reports he will announce his promised new government formula—apparently a coalition.

Leaders of the opposition factions—the National Civic Union, the 14th of June Movement and the Revolutionary party — met with Balaguer Friday in the wake of mob violence and looting of Trujillo family homes. What was discussed at the meeting was not disclosed.

The opposition rebuffed a number of earlier Balaguer attempts at a coalition government as long as relatives and friends of assassinated dictator Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo remained in key positions of the government.

The last of the Trujillos left last week after the Dominican air force thwarted a possible Trujillo resurgence and U.S. warships appeared off the coast.

The U.S. warships, still visible offshore for the seventh consecutive day, came under a leaflet attack by the pro-Castro revolutionary party.

Reports circulated that the Trujillos withdrew millions of dollars from Dominican banks before taking up exile in the United States and Europe.

The anti-Trujillo radio station Voz del Tropico charged that Gen. Jose Arizmendi Trujillo, a brother of the late dictator, withdrew $2 million in U.S. currency from the state-owned Bank of Reserves before flying to the United States last Monday. Other sources claimed it was $7 million.

Texas Tech students have voted Ben Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Faulkner, as the "most handsome man" on the campus. A couple of years ago, Delbert Shirey, who had been a star basketball player at HCJC, was accorded the same honor at Tech. We've always bragged about our pretty girls, but well—we may have to change our tune.

The Chamber of Commerce reached a new milestone in memberships last week. Fittingly, Jimmie Greene sold two memberships which passed the old mark of 711, when he was chamber manager, and boosted the new total to 713. Right now the chamber wants to make it 750—and keep on going.

The school situation at Vealmoor remained, unhappily, in a snarl. Voters turned down consolidation with Sands (Ackerly-Knott) by a 29-31 count. Sterling Road Job Is Begun

Work has started on a new construction project on US 87 in Sterling County, according to J. A. Snell, San Angelo, district No. 7 highway engineer.

The improvement project, which includes grading, drainage structures and resurfacing from Sterling City to a point 7.0 miles northwest, is due to be completed by April of 1962. Contractors are W. L. Barnes and L. R. Bowden Austin and Dallas.

H. L. Bailey, supervising resident engineer, will be in charge of construction on the project, said Snell. Bailey has arranged for adequate barricades and warning signs on the stretch and announced that traffic would be zoned for 45 miles per hour over the detour. Traffic will be routed through the construction on a caliche detour treated with emulsion.

Bailey appealed to the public to cooperate by obeying traffic signals, warning signs and speed zones.

Local Demos To Greet Senator

A delegation of Howard County Democrats, probably as many as 20 strong, will attend the reception planned Tuesday night at the Hotel Scharbauer in Midland for U. S. Senator and Mrs. Ralph Yarborough. The affair is from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Frank Hardesty, Howard County Democratic Central Committee chairman, said that he had talked with a number of local party members and that they indicated they would make the trip to see the senator and his wife. Ed Carpenter, county judge, will be one of the delegation.

Yarborough was in Abilene last Monday and Hardesty said he talked with the senator at that time. The senator had hoped he could include Big Spring on his trip this time but press of business prevented.

WATCH FOR PET POISON

There have been repeated reports of pet poisoners at work in the City Cemetery.

One dog in the area, taken to a veterinarian, was found to be suffering from strychnine poisoning. During the past week, T. L. White discovered his chickens eating scraps of wieners and subsequently they died. The veterinarian said it was another case of poisoning. Officials have alerted staff members to be on the watch out for anyone who might be distributing the poisoned scraps.

POLITICAL PURPOSE

Formby Friends Denied Armory

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Friends of Marshall Formby who plan a barbecue in his honor Tuesday said Saturday they were denied use of the National Guard Armory here.

Formby has not announced as a candidate but the barbecue is planned to give his campaign for the governor's office a big push. The former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission has said he will make a formal announcement in January as a Democratic candidate for governor.

Orders prohibiting use of the Armory came from Gen. Jim Taylor's adjutant general's department in Austin Saturday, officials said.

Hale County citizens have moved the site of the barbecue to the city auditorium which they said will not hold as many persons as the armory. They said they still expected to feed several hundred persons at the free barbecue which starts at 6 p.m. A musical program has also been arranged.

Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, assistant adjutant general, said in Austin that permission had been granted to Plainview citizens to hold the barbecue in the armory. When it was later learned that the event was planned to kick - off Formby's campaign permission was denied.

Bishop said no political or religious meetings can be held in National Guard armories.

Budget Before CRMWD Board

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here Monday in a brief but important meeting.

There will be the formality of final approval of the 1962 operating budget, which is up by about $52,000 over the current budget, principally in slightly higher power costs and in power required to serve a new oilfield repressuing customers.

Out of the meeting may come a decision by the board to ask the Texas Railroad Commission to take action to halt pollution of the upper Colorado River shed. At least, General Manager E. V. Spence is prepared to recommend that this course of action be taken. A year ago the district asked operators to work out a system of halting the disposition of oilfield brine in pits and to eliminate improperly plugged wells.

Until the situation is brought under control, said Spence, the State Board of Water Engineers will not finally issue a permit to the district to impound another lake on the Colorado River somewhere between Colorado City and Robert Lee. This reservoir will be needed by 1970 to supply this area, said Spence, and will need to be started soon in order to be ready by then.

Minor Accidents On Police Report

Two minor accidents were investigated by police Friday afternoon. No one was reported injured.

Accident locations and drivers of the vehicles involved were listed as: 200 N. Gregg, Kate Cauble Foster, 2415 Main, and Fred Wayne Houston, Stanton; and, Third and Johnson, Charles E. Kirkpatrick, 205 Wright, and Sue Sanders Burnett, 1403 Mesa.

Mishap Victim Taken To Lubbock

Ned Myers, employe on the Bill Currie ranch in Glasscock County, who was injured in a fall from his horse on Friday, has been removed to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Myers, found by fellow workers in the pasture at the Currie ranch seven miles from Garden City, was first brought to the Howard County Hospital Foundation. Later it was decided to move him to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Nalley-Pickle Ambulance took the man there. He is reported to be in a serious condition from neck injuries.

'Six Flags' Ends Its First Season

DALLAS (AP) — The colorful entertainment center between Dallas and Fort Worth, Six Flags Over Texas, ended its first season Saturday.

It will reopen April 20, 1962, at the outset of Easter school vacation "with such a heavy amount of expansion completed that 1961 visitors to Six Flags won't easily recognize it by next year," said the center's general manager, Dean Dauley.

More than 600,000 visitors have gone through Six Flags turnstiles, he said, since the amusement park opened Aug. 5. Eight per cent has come from out of the state.

Catholic Meeting Slated In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Some 10,000 Catholic clergy and laity are expected in Dallas next Tuesday for a four-day Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

They were to include delegates from the United States, Canada, Latin America and the Vatican. Religious education of Catholics outside church schools will be a main topic of forums and workshops during the meeting.

Swiss Isolated By Avalanche

GONDO, Switzerland (AP) — A giant avalanche blocked the Vaira Valley near the Italian border and completely cut off the 70 inhabitants of the village of Zwischbergen from the outside world. Workmen dug through the mass of snow Saturday while plans were made to supply the village by helicopter. No casualties were reported.

Church Groups Unable To Agree on Joint Communion

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The mixed hosts of Christianity were invited Saturday to come together to the Lord's table—Communion. But some made it clear in advance they would not share it with the others.

It underscored a basic dividing line among the churches as representatives of most denominations around the globe worked to find ways to heal the breaches.

"We do not believe in intercommunion," said Eastern Orthodox Bishop Anthony Bloom of London. "We believe it is the sacrament of unity and not the way of achieving it."

Different positions were brought out on the matter on the eve of an historic open Communion to be celebrated Sunday by an Anglican body. It is the Church of India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon.

Ordinarily, the Anglican (Church of England) services are closed except to members or those belonging to other churches with which specific concordats of intercommunion are established.

In this case, however, explained the Rt. Rev. Lakdasa de Mel, bishop of Ceylon, there will be a "temporary suspension of the regulations as an act of Christian charity."

The rite is the oldest in Christendom, ordained when Christ shared bread and wine with his apostles, calling the nourishment his body and blood and telling his followers to continue it in his memory.

This will be the first time an Anglican church has offered an open Communion at the World Council of Churches assembly.

Delegates are here from 198 denominations with more than 300 million members in 60 nations for the most widely varied church gathering ever held.

Obstacles In Way Of A 1962 Berlin Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials foresee the possibility of negotiations between the Western powers and the Soviet Union early next year on a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis.

But authorities said Saturday two problems must be dealt with before such negotiations can be considered reasonably certain. One problem is to win the agreement of French President Charles de Gaulle, who is in London this weekend conferring with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The other problem is to get some indication from Soviet Premier Khrushchev that he is prepared to negotiate for a compromise settlement instead of insisting on his demand that West Berlin be made a "free city."

The talks here last week between President Kennedy and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer gave the Western powers a major start on resolving disputes and misunderstandings in their own ranks—a step that had to be taken before they could seriously consider negotiations with the Soviet Union. Adenauer is scheduled to meet with De Gaulle in Paris next Thursday.

The 85-year-old West German leader, often regarded as the personification of rigid policy positions in relations with the Soviet Union, was represented after the Washington talks by both U.S. and German diplomats as having shown considerable flexibility here on Berlin issues.

This strengthened Kennedy administration hopes that a basis for fully agreed Western negotiating policies would be worked out by the middle of next month when U.S., British, French and West German foreign ministers meet in Paris.

The decisions of those four then would be presented to a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council with the aim of winning nationwide support.

Arrests May Solve Thefts

Police hope to clear up numerous petty thefts in the area with the arrest of seven persons Friday in Lamesa. The group is now being held in city jail on charges of theft under $50 on warrants issued in the court of justice of the peace Walter Grice.

Being held are Geraldine Bush, alias Earlene Devore; J. V. Gray, Forrest Dillworth, Eddie Blue, Ruth Gray, Carl King and Earl King.

They were arrested and taken to Lamesa before being transferred here by Police Chief Jay Banks and two other members of the department. The subjects are wanted by Lubbock and Snyder officials also.

Three persons are being held in city jail for investigation of a burglary of Shaw's Liquor Store, 500 block of NW 3rd, which occurred Sept. 8.

The men were arrested in connection with an investigation of an assault case and confessed the burglary, Banks said.

Suffers Cut In North Side Fight

Alberto Gonzales, Midland, was treated for a cut in the abdomen and released Friday night after a fracas at the Black Cat Lounge in the 300 block of N. Lancaster.

He told police he was attacked by an unknown person during an argument about a girl. He was taken to the Howard County Hospital Foundation.

The theft of a coin collection valued at about $20 and a .22 caliber rifle was reported by R. D. Rogers, 1209 E. 5th. He did not know when the items were stolen.

Raymond Hunt, Abilene, reported a tire stolen from his truck while it was parked at the Golden West Motel, 400 N. Gregg. The tire was valued at about $30. Hunt said the theft occurred Saturday.

W. T. Myers, 1409 Scurry, reported that two tires on his car were punctured with an ice pick while the car was parked at his home Friday night. No information was available on the vandals.

Heads Baylor Exes

WACO (AP) — Hart Nance, Waco banker, was elected president of the Baylor ex-students association Saturday. He succeeds Charles Crenshaw of Austin.

Second Party For Caroline; John Jr. Home With A Cold

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Caroline Kennedy, who will be 4 years old Monday, had a second birthday party Saturday.

Her grandfather, Joseph P. Kennedy, gave the party at his big oceanfront summer home.

Granddad Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain, was practically overwhelmed by the offspring of three sons and three daughters.

Blonde Caroline was the queen bee for the day—and, for that matter, almost any other day.

Fourteen of Caroline's cousins, including seven children of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, were on hand to present gifts and cheer as she blew out the four candles on her birthday cake.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., who was 1 year old Saturday, missed the festivities.

John Jr., who has a cold, remained in the White House in charge of nurse Maud Shaw.

The President and First Lady had planned to bring John Jr. here for his birthday, but his cold, described as slight, persisted. So his mother decided it would be best to let him stay home.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger continued to describe John Jr.'s cold as slight.

There was a White House party last Tuesday for both Caroline and John Jr., but proud Grandfather Kennedy had hoped both could be on hand for the second observance of the two birthdays.

Communist Areas Work To Erase All Trace Of Stalin

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Communist East Europe last week plunged into a frenzied purge of all remaining traces of Stalin's memory and flung bitter epithets at the Stalinist Albanians for refusing to join them.

Only Poland managed to maintain its composure and stand aloof from the feverish rush to get in line with the new Moscow campaign to erase the memory of Stalin.

The Poles pointed out that they had traveled this route five years before and were just waiting for the others to catch up with them.

Reports of the de-Stalinization drive reaching here from other satellite countries give this picture:

Czechoslovakia: The industrious Czechoslovaks busily set to work renaming hundreds of streets, squares and factories that had borne Stalin's name. The body of the late Stalinist president, Klement Gottwald, was ordered removed from his mausoleum. The massive statue of Stalin that has stood in Prague since 1955 was ordered razed. Communist chief Antonin Novotny revealed that his country had already cut off all economic assistance to Albania.

IN HUNGARY

Hungary: Appropriate measures to liquidate embarrassing monuments to Stalin were announced by a plenum of the Hungarian Communist party's Central Committee. The party delivered a thinly veiled slap at Red China, which supports the Albanians. The Hungarians declared this is no time for patience as far as Albania's party chief Enver Hoxha is concerned and called for tougher measures against dogmatists and sectarians.

East Germany: The old Stalinist, Walter Ulbricht, went through the motions of dishonoring his former mentor and patron by tearing down his image and name all over Communist East Germany. Propaganda organs denounced Stalinist measures, which they admitted had prevailed in the East German Communist party, but defended Ulbricht's leadership of the party.

INTERNAL TROUBLES

The East German Communists have not yet held a Central Committee meeting to talk over the Soviet party's 22nd congress. The delay has led some observers here to speculate about possible internal party difficulties.

Poland: The furor over Stalinism has caused hardly a ripple here and much mirthful comment on the problems it is causing the other Communist allies.

Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka contributed to the general attack on Albania. He declared that the Albanians are all alone in their struggle with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who he claimed is supported by all the world's Communist parties—including the Chinese.

Bulgaria: Bulgaria embarked on a large-scale de-Stalinization drive with the removal of a giant Stalin monument in the Black Sea port of Varna. In Sofia the Stalin District was renamed Lenin District as were a number of other places.

Romania: There has been no announcement from Romania of de-Stalinization measures but party leader Gheorghe Gheorgiu-dej recently denounced the personality cult and other Stalinist evils in an article published in Moscow's Pravda.

Another Fire At Wright-Patterson

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Three buildings of an eight-building complex housing the base orientation wing at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base burned to the ground Saturday and the others were damaged.

The fire was brought under control at about 5:40 p.m., after burning three hours. It was the second major fire at the base in four days.

No one was reported hurt in Saturday's blaze.

The base public information officer, Maj. Ronald Greene, said this fire was worse than Wednesday's $2-million blaze that destroyed an annex to the headquarters of the Air Force Logistics (supply) Command, killing two firemen.

The buildings were frame-type construction, typical of those built on military bases during World War II. Some effort had been made to make the two-story buildings permanent.

Reports from firemen said the fire apparently started in an electrical shop.

Promises To Keep Check On Foreign Aid Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fowler Hamilton's job is to spend $5.5 billion for foreign aid in the next year. And he says in spending it he'll stress the principle that recipient nations must do all they can to help themselves.

"No way has ever been found," he said in an interview, "to help people who do not want to help themselves."

Hamilton, 50, is a wealthy New York City lawyer who says he accepted the $22,500-a-year job because he was impressed by President Kennedy's concept of foreign aid, and because of the challenge of the job itself.

"Also, it is a great job when you think of it in terms of its real objectives: the building up of the military strength of countries we consider as our allies, particularly in the danger areas, and such help as we can give in strengthening the economy and accelerating improvement of living standards in countries that want to be independent."

Stories of some past boo-boos attributed to foreign aid officials seem quite well-known by Hamilton.

Hamilton says "We are going to make mistakes, too, but even a banker has losses some times. I couldn't possibly see every project we help on, but I told Congress I'm going to be accountable, and the test will come next spring when I go back to Congress to talk about future foreign aid programs."

The foreign aid bill carries $3,877,100,000 of new money for fiscal year 1962 starting last July 1. In addition, there was more than $100 million left from last year, $300 million available in military supplies and other funds bringing the total to nearly $5.5 billion.

Second Term For Second Slaying

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Edmund Demeritte, 39, who was released from Florida State Prison two years ago after serving 15 years for killing his girl friend, has been returned for killing another girl friend.

Circuit Judge Francis J. Christie sentenced the Negro to life imprisonment after he pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree murder rather than stand trial on a first degree murder charge and risk the death penalty. He was returned to prison Friday.

Demeritte was arrested last May after Carolyn Jane Booker, 25, was found in an alley, a victim of stab wounds.

Heavy Damage In San Angelo Fire

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Fire of unknown origin swept through the Troy-Patterson Sign Company building Saturday and caused damage estimated at $30,000 to $40,000.

The loss included a 38-by-72-foot Christmas sign valued at $4,000 which had been completed for a local department store.

A passerby discovered the fire shortly after the company had closed for the weekend.

Russians Claim 'Copter Record

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass said Saturday a Soviet designed vintokryl —a helicopter—had broken existing world records by lifting a payload of 16 tons to an altitude exceeding 8,310 feet.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said documents on the flight by pilots Dimitri Yefremov and Yladislav Gromov and flight engineer Yevgeni Filatov have been sent to the International Aeronautical Federation. The machine was designed by Nikolai Kamov.

Issues Warning On Dogs Wandering

Sheriff Miller Harris appealed Saturday to urban dwellers to make certain that their dogs do not roam the countryside at night.

There have been several cases of livestock destruction near town, these are clearly the results of dogs attacking the stock, he said.

Several sheep were killed recently north of town, and last week Tex Robinson lost some sheep and pigs.

"Farmers can be expected to kill stray dogs in protecting their property," said the sheriff. "Most owners of pets don't think their dogs are livestock killers, but some of them are. The wise thing to do is to make sure they can't roam away from the place at night."

No Injuries In Auto Collisions

Betty P. Rasco, 3707 US 80 west, and Louis McMurray, Hodges Camp, 2907 US 80 west, were drivers of cars involved in a collision at the intersection of Airport and Elm Drive Saturday afternoon. No one was injured in the accident.

The only other automobile accident investigated by police Saturday afternoon occurred about 7:30 p.m in the 2300 block of US 80 west. Kenneth E. Staten and Thomas Matterson Seats, both of Webb Air Force Base, were listed as drivers of vehicles involved.

Miners To Train

BONN, Germany (AP) — Fifteen hundred young Japanese coal miners will be sent in batches of 120 over a three-year period for training in West Germany under a deal made here by labor ministers Kenji Fukunana and Theodor Blank.

Rites Said For Estell Infant

Graveside rites were held Saturday afternoon for the infant stillborn son of Airman 2.C. and Mrs. Ruben Eugene Estell, 1003 Main. He was born Friday at a local hospital.

Services were at Trinity Memorial Park with the Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Airman Estell has been with the United States Air Force the past four years and has been stationed in Big Spring 14 months. He is with the 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron.

Survivors include his parents, maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grandville Ferguson, Stantonville, Tenn., and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Estell, Adamsville, Tenn.

Liberian Pefers Term Of African

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Roland Cooper, the Liberian delegate in the Special Political Committee, protested a reference Friday to Africans as Negroes.

"Let us get this straight," he said. "The word Negro is an artificial term that we detest. When you refer to us from Africa, call us 'black man' or 'African.'"

The word "Negro" comes from French or Spanish roots that means "black."

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Big Crowd Sees Balloon Ascension

Most of the activity around any airport in this area took place out at Hamilton Field last Saturday. Mrs. Alford Wolf took off into space in a hydrogen-filled balloon to try to set a world-record in sustained flight. She did it.

The estimated number of people from the area who witnessed the inflating, preparation, and take-off, was around 3,000. Possibly few of those had ever seen a balloon before, much less had watched preparations for a flight.

* * *

Anyhow, the world will hear something of Big Spring over the publishing of the official flight time of 40 hours and 13 minutes. Those who braved the bone-chilling wind to watch as a truck out of Houston attempted to put 34,000 cubic feet of hydrogen into the balloon through a quarter-inch copper tube, witnessed the beginning of a new record.

There were all kinds of questions and remarks about the event. Kids had blown up toy balloons many times. Some men had, during their military service, helped with or watched balloon inflations or ascensions, but not of the type that took off at 12:47 a.m. Sunday.

* * *

Now it appears that Mrs. Wolf set, not one record, but 15, according to figures released to her through the National Aeronautics Assn. So now, also, she wants to come back to Big Spring with her husband, president of the American Airplane Pilots and Owners Assn., and fly over the route she took in the balloon to see what the country looks like. Much of the time she spent in the air was at night, or above the clouds.

* * *

Business at Howard County Airport has been good over Thanksgiving and Friday, Ted McClung, manager, said Friday afternoon.

"The weather through Wednesday didn't encourage private and un-scheduled commercial flights," he said, "but a lot of local flying started Thursday and continued Friday."

* * *

The annual Thanksgiving football game between Texas University and Texas A&M drew Fred Kasch and his family, five in all, down to College Station Thursday.

* * *

Other flying during the two days included a couple from Maryland on their way back from California; Jo Broadrick on a cross country solo flight Thursday, and Betty Rae Clifton on a cross country solo Friday.

IT'S A LOT OF HARD WORK

Former Big Springer Now On The Thunderbird Team

Capt. Ralph Brooks, a former Big Spring man, is now a member of the world-famous Air Force Thunderbird team.

Chosen out of a large field of applicants, he was integrated into the precision acrobatics team and for the past month has been flying right wing in the troupe on a tour of South American countries. The schedule calls for the Thunderbirds to return to Nellis AFB at Las Vegas, Nev., on Dec. 12 and then back to South America in January to complete the good will tour.

Capt. Brooks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Brooks, who now reside in El Paso. He and his wife and their four children are spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blum, 610 George.

WINGS OVERLAP

In a recent feature for the Associated Press, John L. Flynn described some of the Thunderbirds' work.

"Four faster-than-sound jets scream through the sky, so close together their wings overlap," he wrote.

"They climb, they dive, they roll. On the ground spectators' heads whip back and forth, up and down, like the gallery at a tennis match. But what they are watching is anything but sport. It's business. Dangerous and spectacular, but business.

"The white-overalled men guiding the 15-ton fire-belching sky monsters are more than pilots. They are salesmen at work. Their job is selling the Air Force and—when overseas—the United States. They are the Air Force's official aerial demonstration team."

PLENTY OF APPLICANTS

Getting to be a Thunderbird isn't easy. For every vacancy that occurs, there are 50 or more applicants who have had a minimum of five years flying experience. The active pilots vote the field down to five. The leader takes these up for light aerobatics, then two finalists are selected to accompany the team for a month to see whether they fit in.

Psychology plays an important part, for the men are thrown in virtually constant contact. Wives are consulted, too, for the team is away from home about 300 days out of a year, and the tour of duty is for two years.

Of some 1,000 requests a year, the Thunderbirds are able to fill only about 90. But when they aren't putting on a show, they are practicing. On the no-show days, they try to get in a couple of sessions in the air. A man on the ground watches, lists errors individually in a loose leaf folder. Ground crew members become stern critics of the pilots' performances.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

Physical fitness plays a key part, also, and Capt. Brooks has found out that calisthenics and other conditioners are just as much a part of the day's routine as flying. This comes in handy, however, in working against the force of five G's, which one team member, described like digging a ditch sitting down.

The Thunderbirds learn to think and to act as one man, to anticipate their leader.

Besides their time in the air, they double as goodwill ambassadors, answering fan letters, talking with civic leaders, visiting dignitaries and perhaps high officials of foreign governments.

BSHS GRAD

Capt. Brooks graduated from high school here while his father was assigned to Big Spring as general agent for the Texas & Pacific Railway Company. He attended Hardin-Simmons University and the University of Texas before enlisting in the Air Force. He has flown just about every type of AF craft and has been an instructor in missiles. While on leave from Germany, he married Lynette Blum and she flew back to Germany with him.

They have four children, Laure Lynn, 5, who was born in Germany; Ralph Gregory, 4, who was born in California; Cynthia Lee, 2, who was born in Lubbock while her father was in Spain; and Michael Kent, born July 10 at Las Vegas.

When he finishes his tour with the Thunderbirds—and thus fulfilling a life's ambition—he plans to complete his college degree work in Nebraska. By the time he is 40, he will be eligible for retirement if he wants to take it. Right now he's too deeply engrossed in his work to even give that a thought.

Baylor Looks To Expansion

WACO, Tex. (AP) — It was announced at the meeting of the Baylor University board of trustees Saturday that final steps were being taken to acquire property for the university's multi-million dollar expansion program.

New buildings in immediate prospect are a $2 million chemistry-physics structure and a new women's dormitory. They will be built on a plot east of the Baylor campus.

It was announced that the Baylor - Waco Foundation filed a $545,000 bid for the property with the Urban Renewal Agency in Waco in behalf of the university. Agency approval is expected at its December meeting. Title to the 54-acre plot is expected about Feb. 1.

Randy Kerbow Leads Rice Past Purple

FORT WORTH (AP) — Randy Kerbow ran and passed for 186 yards Saturday in spearing Rice to a crushing 35-16 victory over Texas Christian. It kept the Owls' bowl hopes burning brightly.

Kerbow ran for 38 yards and passed for 37 in pushing one drive along to a touchdown and he rushed for 64 and threw for 10 in sparking another surge that ended with him racing 37 yards for the score.

A flat Texas Christian that didn't come alive until it was too late cashed in on recovered fumbles for its touchdowns, one on a 10-yard run by Garry Thomas and the other on a 45-yard pass from Sonny Gibbs to Buddy Iles.

Blue Bonnet Bowl scouts were in the stands and it was definitely known that Rice would get the bid for the Houston Post-season game by finishing out unbeaten. It has only Baylor left and has clinched third place in the Southwest Conference, boasting a season record of 6-3.

Rice ran up a 35-0 lead before the Horned Frogs could score. Twice the Frogs recovered fumbles to lead to touchdowns. Iles, the fellow who caught Gibbs' 50-yard pass in beating Texas 6-0 to knock the latter out of the No. 1 spot in the nation, was the big man on the second touchdown. First he hit John Eskridge of Rice so hard he dropped the ball. Then Iles fell on the oval. Gibbs then passed to Iles on the Rice seven and he trotted across.

TCU threatened mightily in the last minutes as it drove deep into Rice territory on the pass-receiving of Iles, but Lloyd Mynatt fumbled a lateral to surrender the ball to Rice on its 13.

A crowd of 22,000 saw the game.

It was the most points ever run up on TCU by Rice.

The Frogs, apparently in the throes of a letdown from their great showing against Texas, could do nothing right in the first half. Tommy Crutcher fumbled on TCU's first play from scrimmage and Gary Poage recovered on the TCU 33. Magnificient fullback Roland Jackson made three, Bill Cox passed to Gene Raesz for 14 and Jackson made eight in consecutive runs for the touchdown.

Kerbow ran three times for 38 yards and passed 3 times for 37 in an 83-yard surge that got Rice its second touchdown. Mike Bowen plowe the last yard.

Rice scored again in the second period when Bob Wayt ran a punt back to the TCU 42 and then gouged out 11 yards in two runs to get the drive moving. Lonnie Caddell ran for four. Cox passed to Tommy Rees on the TCU 20, then after two passes had fallen incomplete Cox pitched to Spencer Brown for the touchdown.

Rice made it 28-0 midway of the third period when it recovered a TCU fumble on its 47. Jackson picked up 23 yards in the drive, with his 18-yard smash over guard scoring the touchdown.

The final Owl score came with Kerbow running for 64 and passing for 10 in a surge set up when Robert Johnston recovered a Frog fumble on the Rice 27. Kerbow got the touchdown with a twisting 37-yard dash.

Butch Blume kicked all five extra points, giving him 17 in a row.

Rice rushed for 238 yards and passed for 107 for a 345 total offense. TCU got 134 rushing and 120 passing for 254. Crutcher led the TCU ground attack with 51 yards. Gibbs passed for 120 yards.

Jackson picked up 60 yards on 11 runs for the day and played his usual fine defensive game.

Bobcats Ramble Over Ysleta 11

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Hard-hitting San Angelo's Robcats rambled over the Ysleta Indians 28-8 Saturday to grab a bi-district playoff spot and to enter the quarter-finals of schoolboy football.

San Angelo's hefty line together with fullback Mike Tabor proved too much for the District 1 Class AAAA champions.

Larry Mullins fired a pass to Dennis Gray for the first San Angelo score. Frank Schiller's plunge try for the extra points failed.

Tabor scored on a 6-yard dive ending a 61-yard march and Bill Cameron scored the extra two points on conversion.

Cameron then tallied on a 7-yard run followed by a run for the extra points.

Ysleta's only score came in the last quarter on a 6-yard drive by Mike Sutherlan. He went over again for the extra points.

Hunt, Auburn Upend Gators

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—Quarterback Bobby Hunt ran and passed Auburn to a 32-15 football triumph over a luckless Florida team that was alternately brilliant and mediocre Saturday.

Penalties for almost every violation in the book marred the Southeastern Conference game which saw Auburn grab its sixth victory in nine decisions. The Tigers, off NCAA probation after five years, hopefully awaited a bowl invitation. Auburn still must play arch-rival Alabama, the nation's No. 1 team.

Hunt, a senior from Lanett, Ala., scored the first touchdown on an 11-yard run following a Florida fumble. His pass to end Dave Edwards set up the second, scored on a two-yard plunge by sophomore fullback Larry Rawson. More aerials to the spectacular Edwards paved the way for a 37-yard field goal by Woody Woodall, and a 12-yard Hunt pass to end Don Downs produced a third touchdown.

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP)—Clemson quarterback Jim Parker led Clemson to a convincing 20-0 Atlantic Coast Conference football victory here Saturday over ineffective North Carolina State.

Parker's keeper runs keyed a 41-yard drive for the first touchdown, scored from 2 yards out by fullback Bill McGuirt. Parker's consecutive 33 and 29-yard passes to halfback Elmo Lam chalked up another second period score.

McGuirt and fullback Ron Scrudato, with help from quarterback Joe Anderson, moved Clemson 80 yards on the ground for a final period touchdown by Scrudato from 4 yards away.

N.C. State never threatened, barely getting in Clemson territory a few times. Roman Gabriel, State's star quarterback, was ineffective. He was held to 11 yards on six passes completed out of 17 tried.

Mike Kelly Scores Twice As Coyotes Nudge Borger

BORGER, Tex. (AP)—Tailback Mike Kelly gained 119 yards in 14 plays and scored two touchdowns to pace Wichita Falls in a 14-0 victory over Borger Saturday in a Class AAAA bi-district contest.

The 160-pound senior sped through gaping holes for 7 and 3 yards to account for both touchdowns and tackle Ronnie Shields made it a perfect day for the unbeaten, untied Coyotes with two extra points by conversions.

The scoring plays capped drives of 66 and 40 yards and gave the state's No. 1 club its eleventh victory in a row. The loss was the second for Borger in 11 games.

It marked the third time the Bulldogs have dropped bi-district games to Wichita Falls.

All-state fullback Larry Shields was limited to 67 yards in 16 plays but picked up key yardage in both touchdown drives. Borger threatened to score only twice. A pass interception stopped one march at the Coyote 19 and a fourth down play at the five killed the other drive.

Abilene also won the B game, 75-39, Steve Fanning of Abilene and Fred Fox of Colorado City each tallied 13 points in that game.

LSU Accepts Bid To Orange Bowl

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State, the nation's fourth-ranked football team, slaughtered Tulane 62-0 in their 1961 football season finale Saturday and accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl at Miami New Year's Day.

The Bayou Bengals accepted the bid after winning their ninth straight game. Their only loss came in the season opener—16-3 to Rice.

The Colorado Buffaloes, 34-0 victors over Iowa State Saturday, will furnish the opposition for the Tigers. Both teams will be making their second appearance in the Orange Bowl.

Halfback Wendell Harris, making his final bid for All America honors, led the Tiger assault with 26 points.

Harris, a 195-pound senior from Baton Rouge, ran for two touchdowns and took a 23-yard pass from quarterback Jimmy Field for another. He booted six conversions and ran for a two-point conversion after the Tigers' final score.

LSU's point total equaled its all-time single game record, scored against Tulane in 1958.

Nederland Gets Playoff Spot Following Tie

CLEBURNE, Tex. (AP) — Cleburne and Nederland played to a 13-13 tie Saturday in Class AAA schoolboy football playoffs with Nederland advancing into the quarter-finals on the strength of its 11 first downs to Cleburne's 9.

Both teams had two penetrations and both gained 149 total yards forcing the decision to be made on downs.

Jake David made Nederland's first touchdown early in the game when he intercepted a pass and returned to the Nederland 19. Three plays later Jimmy Pennington went over left tackle for four yards and the score. David kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter, David intercepted another Cleburne pass and roamed 68 yards for a score. His try for extra point failed.

In the third quarter, a bad pass from center to Don Wilson gave Cleburne the ball on the four yard line. Two plays later, quarterback Bill Parks went over from the one and Howard Goad kicked the extra point.

Cleburne again took over in the last quarter on a fumbled punt from their own 45-yard line and eight plays later, Darrell Hill Hill went over from eight yards out to score. Goad's kick failed, and the game ended 13-13 two minutes later.

Trinity To Meet 3 SWC Quintets

Coach Leslie W. Robinson, who announced the schedule Saturday, will put a team on the court which will include only one of last year's starters, 6-foot-1 junior Gaylan Stroth.

Southwest Conference teams on the Tigers' schedule include Baylor Dec. 9 in Waco and Dec. 13 here, Rice here Jan 26 and Texas here Jan. 30.

Arkansas Turns Back Tech, Accepts Bid

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Ninth-ranked Arkansas beat Texas Tech 28-0 Saturday and immediately accepted an invitation to play in the Sugar Bowl, probably against Alabama.

The flashy Razorbacks clinched a tie with Texas for the Southwest Conference championship and became the second team in league history to win or tie for the title three years in a row.

Alabama's appearance in the Sugar Bowl is all but assured, Crimson Tide players have voted to accept a Sugar Bowl bid if one is extended and Sugar officials have said they'll go all out to get the Crimson Tide, No. 1 team in the nation.

The Razorbacks were tense for the ultra-important Tech game and their passing attack suffered, but a brutal Arkansas defense allowed Tech inside Arkansas territory only twice.

Arkansas quarterback George McKinney scored from the one after a 64-yard first quarter drive. He passed seven yards to end Jim John to cap a 62-yard push in the second period.

In the fourth quarter, Arkansas drove 56 yards and halfback Lance Alworth spurted the last 12. With 3:43 left, the Hogs went 51 yards and quarterback Billy Moore went in from the six.

At that point, Marshall J. David, a member of the Sugar Bowl Committee got up from his press box seat and said: "You've made the sale. You can quit now."

By beating Tech, Arkansas recorded its third straight 8-2 season under coach Frank Broyles. The Hogs won the Southwest Conference championship outright last year and tied for it with Texas and Texas Christian in 1959.

George E. Schneider, head of the Sugar Bowl Selection Committee, made the bowl bid to Arkansas on the stadium loudspeaker system moments after the game ended, and 41,000 fans roared their approval. Then George Cole, Arkansas' assistant athletic director, announced the Razorbacks' acceptance.

It will be the third straight bowl game for the Porkers. They beat Georgia Tech 14-7 in the Gator Bowl in 1959 and lost 7-6 to Duke in the Cotton Bowl last Jan. 2.

Baylor Easily Handles SMU

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor players set one school record and tied another Saturday as the Bears rolled over Southern Methodist 31-6.

The contest decided nothing in the Southwest Conference except that Baylor cannot end the season alone in the cellar.

The Bears now own a 2-4-0 league record and SMU 1-5-0. Each team has one game yet to play.

Three Baylor touchdowns and a field goal came in the first half. SMU summoned up enough strength near the end of a rough day to cross the Bears' goal line with 6:55 remaining in the game.

A fumble recovery on SMU's 9 set up the Bears' final touchdown with 2:05 left in the contest.

Ronnie Stanley set a Baylor three-year pass completion record with 201—four completions today.

And Carl Choate and his rifle-like toe equalled the school record of five field goals in one season.

Baylor scored from the opening kickoff, going 80 yards in 11 plays. Ronnie Bull, a pre-season all-America choice who faded after a back injury, crossed the goal from one yard out.

Bull scored again when he took a 6-yard pass from sophomore quarterback Don Trull.

And Ronnie Stanley the steady old senior, wrapped up the Baylor first-half touchdown surge with a 10-yard crash through center when he couldn't find a receiver in the end zone.

Billy Allen, a sophomore guard, recovered a Mustang fumble on the SMU 9 to set up Baylor's final touchdown. Bobby Ply passed to Jerry Harris for two yards and the tally after a Ply pass to Claude Pearson put the ball there.

It was the second fumble recovery by Allen which put Baylor in position to mark up more totals on the scoreboard. He recovered on SMU's 14 in the second quarter. Five plays later, Choate kicked his fifth field goal of the season.

Choate added another four points for Baylor with his extra-point kicks. He has toed 21 extra points without a miss.

The Mustang score came after a 70-yard drive in 13 plays. Bruce Long, converted from end to quarterback almost overnight, guided most of the drive. He pitched out to Doyce Waler, who went six yards for the score. A pass attempt for extra points failed.

Southern Methodist never knew it was beat. The Mustangs went to the Baylor 8, 15 and 27 before surrendering the ball, and after that scored.

Bull, apparently completely recovered from his back ailment, was the workhorse of the Baylor team.

He carried the ball 12 times for 63 yards, and scored one touchdown on the ground and one via the air route.

While Baylor chewed SMU to bits, Stanley and Choate grabbed themselves some fame in Baylor's record book.

A 12-yard pass from Stanley to Kenneth Hays, converted from guard, in the second quarter made the Port Arthur, Tex., senior No. 1 in Baylor pass completions in a three-year career with 200. He completed another later for 201.

This eclipsed Larry Isbell's 1949-51 record of 199.

Choate's 32-yard field goal gave him five for the season to equal the 40-year record held by Wesley Bradshaw.

LOCAL HORSE IS WINNER

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Merry-Bo, owned by J. T. Dillard of Big Spring, Tex., raced five furlongs in 58 seconds flat to win the feature race at Turf Paradise by a head Saturday.

Merry-Bo trailed through the first half-mile, then pulled even with the Rage, the early pace setter. The two horses ran head and head down the stretch.

The winner paid $15.50, $6.00 and $4.60. The Rage returned $7.00 and $4.60 and Amajack, the third horse, paid $4.80.

Bisons Sew Up Trip To Miami

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Stung by recent criticism, aroused Colorado unleashed its wrath on Iowa State 34-0 Saturday to sack up a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Halfback Bill Harris rambled 87 yards with a punt return for one touchdown, 59 yards from scrimmage for a second TD and 3 yards for another in highlighting the Colorado frolic.

Unbeaten in seven conference games, Colorado finished with a two-game lead for the Big Eight championship after Missouri knocked over Kansas 10-7. Those teams tied at 5-2 for runner-up honors behind Colorado at 7-0.

Immediately after the game, Van C. Kussrow, chairman of the Orange Bowl committee at Miami, telephoned an invitation for the Buffaloes to meet Louisiana State there Jan. 1. The players then voted unanimously to make the trip.

If spring football training among Class AAAA schools is outlawed in the April referendum, the superintendents in the multi-school systems around the state will probably swing the issue . . . They made the vote as close as it was in the last such election . . . The administrators in such places as Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio probably will vote in a bloc against the issue and there is no assurance that superintendents in Midland and Odessa prefer to continue the spring drills . . . I think the vote of each administrator in the referendum should be made public, just as are the votes of the legislators and the congressmen . . . They might be less apt to lower the hammer on football if they ran the possibility of facing the wrath of those school patrons who appreciate the excellence of Texas high school football . . . Once spring drills are voted out, it's unlikely it will ever be voted in again because it takes a two-third's majority to bring it up for decision even after a petition has been introduced . . . Doc Reeves, the former Coahoma athlete, is a freshman basketball player at McMurry College this year . . . Reeves stands 5-feet-10 . . . Tommy Watkins, coach of the Rotan football team that met Wink in that playoff game in Midland Thursday, was an end on the 1952 Odessa High School team . . . Watkins later made the Little All-America team for McMurry College . . . Odessa College's basketball tournament this week will be limited to Western JC Conference teams . . . Only Amarillo College, among the circuit's nine teams, will not compete in the Nov. 30-Dec. 1-2 meet . . . Odessa's high school tournament, incidentally, is scheduled for Dec. 7-8-9 . . . The three Odessa teams, along with the two from Midland, the two from Lubbock and El Paso Jefferson are entries . . . Northwestern may field the best football team in the Big Ten next year . . . Fourteen of the team's first 15 touchdowns this year were scored by players who will return in 1962.

Steers Are Relegated To Last Place

Larry McCulloch, the former Big Spring cage mentor who now holds a similar job at Odessa College, insists that HCJC "is head and shoulders the favorite (in Western Conference ball) this year" . . . San Angelo and NMMI, he adds, should battle it out for second place . . . McCulloch will build his own team around two sophomores, Nick Berzac, 6-3 letterman from East Chicago, Ind., and Richard Beavers, 5-9 vet who played high school ball in Odessa . . . At 6-feet-6, ex-Odessa player Bill Moore will be the tallest of the Wranglers . . . Big Spring High School has been relegated to last place in a preseason District 2-AAAA poll taken among conference coaches by Sam Payne, the Odessa writer . . . Midland and Odessa High tied in the balloting for first place while San Angelo was picked to wind up third, Permian fourth, Abilene fifth, Midland Lee sixth and Abilene Cooper seventh . . . Parks says the circuit's two new schools, Lee and Cooper, probably have been badly under-rated . . . Red Weaver, a member of that famous Centre College football team which beat Harvard 40 years ago, is a brother to Sam Weaver, who worked with Tom Rosson at one time here . . . Odessa's Ronnie Goodwin, who scored 36 points for Baylor University as a sophomore halfback last year, counted only one TD in the Bears' first eight games this fall . . . HCJC's Buddy Travis was principal speaker at the Southwest Basketball Officials Association's banquet in Snyder the other night . . . An estimated 60 coaches and officials attended the party . . . In Texas Western's first nine games this year, Big Spring's Jimmy Evans carried the ball 23 times for a net pickup of 115 yards and a five-yard average . . . He also caught six passes for 26 yards but had failed to score . . . Texas Western had won only three of the nine starts.

Dodgers Have Great Advance Sale

Big Spring's James Gilbert had the longest run from scrimmage of any football player in District 2-AAAA the past season—81 yards against Odessa High . . . Dory Funk, the well-known professional wrestler, has a son by the same name playing tackle on the West Texas State College football team this fall . . . Maybe you missed it: U. S. Golfer magazine recently named Texan Dudley Wysong to its All-America Amateur golf team in the medal-play division . . . Two linksters for the University of Houston, Homero Blancas and Richard Crawford, were selected to the 1961 All-America college golf team by the NCAA . . . Others on the six-man squad included Frank Beard, Louisville; Jack Nicklaus, Ohio State; Peter Green, North Carolina; and Stephen Smith, Stanford . . . Eastern New Mexico University, where Big Spring's B. B. Lees is an assistant coach, finished with a 5-4-1 won-lost-tied football record this fall . . . Of the 11 seniors on the Lamesa football team this year, ten were regulars either on defense or offense . . . Bert Gravitt of Denver City, who played quarterback in high school, has been moved to halfback on the University of Oklahoma freshman football team. He's been handicapped by injuries much of this season, as has another West Texan playing on the OU frosh, Norman Smith . . . The baseball season is still five months removed but the Los Angeles Dodgers have already had an advance ticket sale of more than $3,000,000 . . . Much of the increase in sales is attributed to the fact that the Dodgers will move into a new stadium next spring . . . Leo Fields, the former Stanton mentor, got his Kress team in the football playoffs this year . . . The Abilene Eagles will have only two offensive starters and six defensive starters from its 1961 football team back next fall . . . In all, 20 of this year's Eagles will not be around next year . . . When he was in high school at Elmira, N. Y., Syracuse's great Ernie Davis was an All-America in both football and basketball.

Illini Finish An All-Losing Grid Season

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Lightweight scatback Sherman Lewis and power runner Gary Ballman scored two touchdowns each here Saturday and sparked Michigan State to a 34-7 victory and doomed Illinois to its first first winless season in Illini football history.

Lewis, smallest of the brilliant array of Spartan backs at 156 pounds, scampered on a 54-yard broken field run for one touchdown and caught a pass on an end run for another in a 57-yard pass-run play.

Ballman, one of the 22 MSU seniors playing their last game before 38,344 fans in Spartan Stadium, made his scores on 56-yard and 3-yard runs.

Illinois now has lost 10 games in a row, nine this season and the final game of last year. Coach Pete Elliott earned the dubious distinction of coaching the Illini to their first all-losing season since they started football in 1890.

Michigan State, currently rated eighth in the nation, winds up the year with a 7-2 overall and 5-2 Big Ten record.

Quarterback Dave McGann carried in 12 yards for the only Illinois score in the third period.

Holiday Tourney Starts Dec. 22

HOUSTON (AP)— Lions clubs and the University of Houston will co-sponsor a holiday basketball doubleheader in Houston Dec. 22-23.

The two nights of basketball will be called the Lions Holiday Classic and the four teams this year will be Texas A&M, Auburn, UCLA and Houston.

The university sponsored a two-night round last year but this is the first year for a Houston civic club to join the school.

Officials of the Lions and the university, in announcing the tournament, said they hope it will grow into an eight-team tournament on the order of the Oklahoma City All-College Tournament.

"This will go," Houston Coach Guy Faulk said. "I've had letters and telephone calls from outstanding teams all over the country asking about the doubleheaders. I already have teams for the classic next year and the year after."

Midland Lashes Westerner Quint

LUBBOCK — Midland High pushed away in a big third-period performance Friday night, then coasted to a 67-62 hoop victory over Tom S. Lubbock.

Midland, who has only one Bulldog returning in its starting lineup, trailed for four minutes in the second period, then jumped ahead to stay with 2:15 left in the half. By the time the half was over, Midland was sitting on a 36-29 cushion. Lubbock scored 20 points in the fourth quarter to chop Midland's winning gap to five.

Bulldog guard, Dwain White, was the game's leading scorer with 24 points. Jim Oldham and Danny Davis were high for Lubbock with 18 and 17, respectively.

Score by quarters:

Midland High	14	22	16	15	—67
Tom S. Lubbock	8	21	13	20	—62

Abilene Cooper Slaps Wolves

ABILENE—Abilene Cooper hurried past the Colorado City Wolves, 58-28, in a basketball exhibition here Friday night.

Paul Lack paced the Cooper team with a 19-point effort. Colorado City was paced by Ronnie Lyon, who wound up with 14 points.

Cooper led at half time, 29-15.

Poised For Season's Debut

The HCJC Jayhawks, above, are poised to launch their 1916-62 basketball season in the Odessa Tournament next weekend. Left to right, back row, they are Coach Verdell Turner, Alan Wilson, Clark Jennings, Lou Baltenton, Walter Carter, Jerry Brooks, Elvis Spradling, Charles Stockton, Earnest Turner and coach D. E. (Buddy) Travis. Bottom row, Tommy Gilmore (manager), Jimmy Haynes, Jerry Tillman, Jimmy Wilburn, Larry McElyea, Bill Thompson, Skip Franklin, Conroy Lacy and Marvin Simmons (manager).

Hawks Draw Clarendon As Foe In Tournament

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks open what promises to be a prosperous season (win-wise) in Odessa Thursday, at which time they will be pitted against seven other Western JC Conference clubs in the annual Odessa College tournament.

San Angelo College is the defending titlist at Odessa and one of the favorites to take it all again this year. The Hawks, however, figure to give the Rams a run for the tournament money.

The Hawks see action against Clarendon at 4 p.m. Thursday in first round play at Odessa.

Frank Phillips and Odessa clash at 7 p.m. and the winner there meets the HCJC-Clarendon survivor at 7 p.m. Friday.

In the other bracket, Lubbock Christian opposes South Plains at 2 p.m. Thursday while NMMI of Roswell tries San Angelo at 9 p.m. The winners in those two contests clash at 9 p.m. Friday.

The championship game is carded for 9 p.m. Saturday.

HCJC, coached by Buddy Travis, will not be seen at home until Dec. 11, at which time they clash with Henderson County JC of Athens.

Travis will be assisted this year by Verdell Turner, former Texas Tech athlete and later head basketball coach at Schreiner Institute in Kerrville.

Tri-captains of the Hawks this year are Jerry Tillman, 6-1 guard from San Jom, N. M.; Larry McElyea, 6-2 guard from Abilene; and Elvis Spradling, 6-5 rebounder from Girard.

McElyea is the only returning regular from last year's club, although Spradling and Tillman piled up a lot of playing time.

New players on this year's team include Walter Carter, 6-5, from Gate City, Va.; Lou Balenton, 6-5, from El Paso; Earnest Turner, 6-2, Grand Prairie; Jim Wilburn, 6-2, Eunice, N. M.; Jimmy Haynes, 6-4, Big Spring; Conroy Lacy, 6-1, Turkey; and Bill Thompson, 6-0, Stamford.

Hold - overs from last year's team include Clark Jennings, 6-4, from Tulia; Charles Stockton, 6-3½, Texaco, N. M.; Pete Green, 6-0, Big Spring; and Jerry Brooks, 6-6, Big Spring.

Skip Franklin, 5-10, Snyder, is a sophomore in school but is out for the first time.

The Jayhawks have shown great potential in scrimmages against senior college teams to date.

HCJC will again play host to some of the state's finest juco outfits in a tournament Dec. 28-29-30.

The Hawks open their conference season as early as Jan. 2, at which time they oppose South Plains of Levelland here.

NMMI of Roswell is the defending champion in the circuit and a favorite to repeat its march to the title. The Cadets will probably have a height advantage on all other conference clubs.

The schedule:

Nov. 30-Dec. 1-2—Odessa Tournament.
Dec. 8-9—San Antonio Tournament.
Dec. 11—Henderson Co. JC (Athens) here.

Lou Henson A Big Winner On Court

LAS CRUCES, N. M. (AP)—New Mexico scholastic basketball coaches haven't much to gloat about this fall because Lou Henson's Las Cruces team, winner of three straight Class A titles, is loaded again.

The remarkable thing about the three straight is that they came in Henson's first three years as varsity coach. During that period Las Cruces has piled up 79 wins in 89 games. Six of the setbacks came the first season when the team had a 24-6 record.

The 1959-60 season was 27-3 and last spring it was a tidy 28-1. The Bulldogs will open the season with a 20-game winning streak. Under Henson, Cruces has had other streaks of 10, 14 and 15 games.

Henson admits that his 1961-62 team "will be as good as the last three and could possibly be a little better." The team is built around Dave Olsen, a 6-foot-4 senior who has been on the varsity ever since he hit town.

Long on rebounding and ball handling, Olsen is the envy of every coach in the state. "We'll get Henson," they mutter, "when he loses Olsen."

But it's not Olsen alone who has made the Bulldogs click. Henson has a number of other tall boys, has had 'em every year. The chief weapon of the Crucens is a defensive maneuver which the coach calls "stall-'em-along-and-let-'em-come-after-us." Cruces handles the ball in a manner reminiscent of the old New York Celtics.

They have kept control of the ball for as long as three minutes without taking a shot, a remarkable feat in these days of high scoring.

Henson has been coaching only five years since his graduation from New Mexico State University. The first two years following graduation he coached the high school junior varsity to records of 22-4 and 19-3.

FRIDAY COLLEGE

Miami Fla 10, Northwestern 6.

Jacket Coach Steps Down

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Athletic director and head football coach Bennie B. Williams has resigned at Howard Payne College.

He announced he is taking a leave of absence from the college's faculty, effective at the end of the current semester, to work toward a doctorate in mathematics.

He will enter the University of Texas for the spring semester. Williams received his master of arts degree from the University of Texas in 1953.

Howard Payne's president, Dr. Guy D. Newman, praised Williams' work at the college.

"Mr. Williams could have stayed on as our athletic director and head football coach as long as he desired and was offered a raise to keep the positions," Newman said. "His services at the college have been beyond any expectation of the administration."

Omaha Team Lets Two Players Go

OMAHA (AP) — Jay Dutler, Mankato, Minn., and Everett Collins, San Mateo, Calif., were given their release by the Omaha team of the National Bowling League Saturday.

League Commissioner Dick Charles said the two were put on waivers and made free agents when none of the other teams claimed them.

Phillips Winner In Aussie Open

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Sydney professional Frank Phillips, who led from the first round, held on in a dramatic finish for the Australian open golf championship Saturday.

Phillips shot final rounds of 72-70 over the 6,755-yard, par 73, Victoria Club course for an aggregate of 275, holding off a late rally by former British Open Champion Kel Nagle.

Nagle slipped back in the third round with 73 but battled through a high wind in the afternoon for a brilliant 67 and an aggregate of 277.

South Africa's Gary Player, the world's leading money winner this year, had rounds of 70-70 and tied former amateur star Bruce Devlin for third at 279.

In Possession, For The Moment

Michael Peters (30, in white) of Big Spring controls the ball for a moment in the above picture as Jerry Harvell (53) and Larry Thorn (13) of Andrews contest for it. The action occurred in Friday night's game between the Steers and Andrews, won by Big Spring in an overtime period, 56-50.

Bovines Defeat Andrews In Overtime, 56 To 50

By LARRY LAWRENCE

Big Spring opened its basketball season in electrifying fashion Friday night at Steer Gymnasium, by coming from behind to tie Andrews in regular play, and then defeating the Mustangs, 56-50 in overtime.

Closing seconds of the fourth quarter found a Mustang rally leading the Steer cagers by two points. The Steers had led throughout the period, until, with successive Mustang foul shots put them in front, 45-44. A hectic three minutes of play followed, and, with three seconds left, Big Spring's Jeff Brown found himself on the foul line for two shots with the score 47-49, in Andrews' favor. Brown sank both shots to tie the game, sending it into overtime play.

Dick Ebling took the tap-off and drove for two points to open the four-minute session, then sank a free throw, giving the Steers a 52-59 margin. Goals by Brown and DeeRoby Gartman closed out the scoring. Andrews' only overtime point was on a foul shot by Don Humphrey.

The game was a close battle all the way, neither team leading by over an eight-point margin at any time. The first quarter ended 14-14, and Big Sping led by scores of 25-24 at the half, and 35-32 at the end of the third frame. The lead changed hands rapidly and constantly throughout the contest.

Brown shared the scoring honors with Andrews' Emery Smith, each with 17 points. Brown played an alert game, scoring most of his goals on rebounds and follow-ups. Ebling was the only other Steer with double figures, scoring 16, eight of which came at the foul line.

Playmaker Coy Mitchell played outstanding ball for the local hoopsters. Although scoring only eight points, he played through the entire contest without relief, and sparked the offense with Cousy-like passes.

Eddie Nelson, Steer center, seemed to have rented the backboards for the night, hauling down numerous rebounds and blocking several Mustang shots from right under the bucket. Nelson left the game on fouls during the overtime period. Mike Peters was also a big rebounder for the Steers.

The Steers took 46 shots, making 17 for 37.0 average, and put in 22 counters from the free-throw line.

Coach Delnor Poss also got good performance from Gartman and Richard Bethell.

In the prelim, the Mustang B team edged the Dogies in a 43-41 thriller. High scorers were Jerry Tidwell for Andrews with 12, and Mike Peters for Big Spring with 8.

Houston Cougars Trounce Florida State, 28 To 8

HOUSTON (AP)—Don Sessions and Billy Rolland baffled Florida State with passes Saturday as the University of Houston Cougars beat Florida State, 28-8, in a non-conference football game.

Sessions passed for one touchdown and ran another as the Cougars won their fourth game against four losses and a tie. Roland passed 13 yards for one score and set up another.

The Cougars owned the first half as the stout Houston defense held the Seminoles to short yardage. Houston scored three times in the second quarter and Florida State didn't get a serious threat going until late in the fourth quarter.

Then they lost the ball on downs after getting a first down at Houston's 9.

Until that 64-yard drive—which ended on the Houston 1—the Seminoles went no further than the Cougar 32.

Three plays after they lost the ball at the one, Florida's Ken Russom intercepted his second pass of the game and returned it 18 yards for Florida's touchdown. Ed Trancygier passed to Tom Hillabrand for two points.

Houston started the scoring early in the second period when Sessions passed for 36 yards in a 51-yard drive. Larry Broussard plunged over from the one. Eddie Mitchamore converted successfully after all the Houston touchdowns.

Roland sighted Milton Perkins in the end zone for Houston's second score and the left end made a leaping catch for six points.

Sessions, who completed seven of seven passes before he missed one, hit Ben Howe in the end zone for another second quarter touchdown.

Sessions scored Houston's final touchdown on a one yard plunge.

A sparse crowd of about 7,000 rattled in huge, sunny Rice stadium.

Houston was in command the entire game, and had only one slight lapse. Florida took advantage of that and scored on the pass interception.

Florida had a drive going as the game ended, but Ken Bolin intercepted Trancygier's pass at the Cougar 3.

Purdue Crushes Indiana, 34-12

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Purdue poured over the dam after a scoreless first quarter and submerged Indiana 34-12 Saturday in their season-ending football battle for the Old Oaken Bucket.

Sophomore Purdue quarterback Ron Digravio threw two touchdown passes to senior end Jack Elwell. Fullback Roy Walker powered two more and halfback Tom Bloom raced 52 yards for the other. Skip Ohl kicked four extra points.

Indiana made its two touchdowns in the final period in a desperate but effective passing attack by senior quarterback Byron Broome. eH sneaked a foot for one of the Hoosier touchdowns and passed 10 yards to end Virgil Horne for the other.

Thus Indiana failed to pry the bucket away from Purdue for the 14th straight year.

Bucks Picked To Lead U.S. In Basketball

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio State's mighty Buckeyes are the pre-season pick to become the 1961-1962 national college basketball champions. The Buckeyes were given the top ranking by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Ohio State, which had a 28-game winning streak shattered last March when they were upset by the Cincinnati Bearcats 70-65 in overtime for the NCAA championship, received 27 first place votes of the 36 ballots cast. The Buckeyes totaled a high of 326 points.

Cincinnati was second with eight first place votes and 279 points. The University of Southern California was the only other school to get top mention, receiving one first place vote but placed fourth in point total with 140. Wake Forest rated third place with 174.

Providence placed fifth, followed by Purdue, Duke, Kansas State and St. John's of New York. Seattle rounded out the top ten.

Coach Fred Taylor will present almost the same Ohio State team that finished first in the final AP poll last season. Big Jerry Lucas the All-America center will return along with 6-5 John Havlicek and 6-2 Mel Howell. The only regulars lost by graduation are Larry Siegfried and Richie Hoyt. Their places will be filled by Bob Knight, 6-4, and Gary Gerhart, 6-2. The starting five are all seniors.

Cincinnati, also, has almost the same team back which captured the Missouri Valley Conference title last season. The Bearcats won 23 of their 26 regular season games. They finished second to Ohio State in last year's AP poll.

Southern California, Kansas State and Duke were on last year's top ten while Wake Forest and St. John's ranked 15th and 16th, respectively. Providence, Purdue and Seattle failed to make the top 20.

The top ten, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (27)	326
2. Cincinnati (8)	279
3. Wake Forest	174
4. Southern California (1)	140
5. Providence	106
6. Purdue	91
7. Duke	80
8. Kansas State	72
9. St. John's (NY)	71
10. Seattle	64

Vols Scramble Past Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Sophomore tailback Mallon Faircloth ran and passed Tennessee to a 26-16 victory over Kentucky Saturday in their traditional Southeastern Conference football battle.

Faircloth directed a diversified volunteer attack, passing for two touchdowns and running one over himself.

The victory for Tennessee broke a Kentucky jinx in Lexington. The Vols had not beaten the Wildcats here since 1951 and held only one victory over Kentucky since then—that in 1956.

After striking for two first half touchdowns, the Vols broke open the battle in the third period. Faircloth dashed around right end for 40 yards and a score. Later, he hurled a 15-yard payoff aerial to end Pat Augustine.

The Wildcats, unable to generate much of an offense most of the day, struck for two touchdowns in the final 11 minutes. One came on a 73-yard pass-run play from quarterback John Rampulla to end Tom Hutchinson. Bill Ransdell swept for a 2-yard touchdown three minutes earlier.

The loss for Kentucky snapped a string of 13-straight homecoming victories. The Vols last defeated Kentucky in a homecoming game in 1947.

Tennessee took advantage of a fumbled Kentucky lateral pass in the first quarter that pushed the Wildcats back to their own 4-yard line. After Darrell Cox punted from his own end zone, Tennessee drove 30 yards to the goal.

Faircloth passed to end Mike Stratton for the final 8 yards.

The Vols earlier attempted a field goal, but the 45-yard kick by George Shuford hit the cross bar and rebounded.

Glenn Glass, spelling Faircloth in the second quarter, found wingback Hubert McClain all alone on the 2-yard line with a pass and McClain fell into the end zone for the Vols' second touchdown. The play covered 26 yards.

Kentucky staged its last period comeback on the strength of Rampulla's passing and some great catching by Hutchinson. Rampulla had been ineffective with his aerials for the first three quarters, chiefly because of a hard-charging Tennessee line and flawless pass defense.

Wisconsin Shocks Minnesota, 23-21

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A 31-yard field goal by Wisconsin's Jim Bakken after he had missed five earlier attempts — and two touchdown passes by Ron Miller to Pat Richter shattered Minnesota's Big Ten football title bid 23-21 Saturday.

The Minnesota loss handed the conference title to Ohio State which lambasted Michigan 60-20 an hour earlier. OSU wound up with a 6-0 league record and Minnesota with 6-1.

Ohio State Winds Up Perfect Loop Season

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Ohio State, supplied with raw power by Bob Ferguson and electrifying running by Paul Warfield, completed a perfect Big Ten season Saturday by jolting arch-rival Michigan 50-20.

The second-ranked Buckeyes, who now have won or tied for 12 Western conference titles, finished with only an opening game tie with non-conference Texas Christian marring an otherwise untarnished nine-game season. They won all six of their Big Ten games.

Ferguson, last year's All-America fullback and a leading candidate to repeat, bore the burden of Ohio State's predominantly ground attack. He scored four touchdowns as a crowd of 80,444 and a regional television audience watched his awesome display.

The 214-pound bulldozer relied on his crunching strength to ram through the heavy Wolverine line for 160 yards in 30 carries. Ferguson scored the first two Buckeye touchdowns by rumbling 19 yards and battering one yard. Then, after Michigan scored to pull within nine points midway in the third period, Ferguson led a march that put the game out of Michigan's reach.

He capped the 80-yard drive by again scoring from the one.

OSU used passes infrequently but an 80-yard pass play from Joe Sparma to Bob Klein produced the Buckeyes fifth touchdown. Then Ferguson added an insurance tally on another one-yard burst in the final five minutes. OSU scored another touchdown in the final seconds on a Sparma to Tom Tidmore pass for 10 yards.

The Wolverines made it a contest only briefly, scoring for the first time on Dave Raimey's 90-yard kickoff return after Ferguson's second touchdown. But Warfield, a sophomore back with lightning legs, quickly nullified that run with a 69-yard scoring jaunt less than two minutes later and OSU was in command 21-6 at halftime.

Michigan used more than half of the third quarter in punching out its second touchdown on a 78-yard drive that took 14 plays. Bill Tunnicliff did the bulk of the work and Bruce McLenna went over from the one.

Michigan scored again in the final minute on Paul Ward's one-yard plunge.

This was the Buckeyes' 19th victory in a traditional and often heated 58-game series.

Crippled Michigan was forced to play without Bennie McCrae, its best runner and was able to use Raimey only sparingly.

WITH ATHLETES

Optician's New Glasses Popular

By LARRY LAWRENCE

A new type of protective eyeglass frame has been developed by Charles W. Neefe, an optician at the Hamilton Optometric Clinic here.

Neefe's Olympic Athletic Frame has a large soft-rubber nosepiece as its main feature, preventing damage to the wearer's nose on impact. The frame is made of plastic, an improvement over the forerunning metal frame which bends easily and becomes shapeless after successive jolts. The plastic however, springs back to its original shape when bent.

When Neefe first saw the need for the plastic frame, he wrote to a large optometric company, suggesting the switch. The answer stated that such a change would be impossible as the plastic would melt under the heat incurred during the molding process. He then took the project into his own hands.

It wasn't long before he came up with an answer. He made a solution of the rubber and water, then poured it into the mold. As the water evaporates, the rubber solidifies. Shrinkage takes place, but a steady flow of the liquid alleviates any harm done. As the piece shrinks, more liquid is emitted from the source, continuing to do so until the mold is filled.

As a finishing touch, an elastic head-band is added, preventing the glasses from falling, or being torn off.

Another development along this line is a contact lense made especially for athletes. The lens is larger than standard ones, and eliptical in shape. Tiny holes in it allow tears to pass through, making it more firm and preventing its loss.

Sooners Rally To Win, 21-14

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Oklahoma's late-blooming Sooners stormed from behind in the second half Saturday to conquer Nebraska 21-14 in a battle of Big Eight Conference also-rans.

Trailing 14-0 at intermission, the resurgent Oklahomans scored their first touchdown in the first 89 seconds of the second half. They added another 10 minutes later and ground out 98 yards in 24 plays in the final drive to victory.

It ran the Oklahoma win string to four games and gives the Sooners a chance for a break-even season in next week's finale against Oklahoma State.

For Nebraska, closing out what could be its last of five seasons under Coach Bill Jennings, the loss set the year's record at three wins, six losses and one tie, a shade worse than the 4-6 marks posted the last two years. Jennings' contract expires in January. Whether he will remain has not been told.

Nebraska unleashed a surprising aerial offense to score touchdowns in each of the first and second quarters on drives of 65 yards each.

Throws by Dennis Claridge accounted for 39 yards in the first drive, made good on a 2-yard plunge by Willie Ross.

A similar second quarter drive saw 64 yards covered on passes with Claridge's 25-yard throw to end Don Purcell providing the touchdown.

Monterey Batters Midland Rebels

LUBBOCK — Monterey's Plainsmen scored their second straight basketball victory Friday night by mauling Midland Lee, 70-47.

Lee jumped in front and stayed there until the Plainsmen tied the score at 8 all with 4:40 left in the first quarter. After sustained basket-swapping, John Crippen sank a free throw to put Monterey in front, 17-16, with all but eight seconds gone in the first quarter.

From then on, Monterey kept pulling ahead, adding three points to its lead in each ensuing quarter.

John Crippen and Russ Wilkinson were top scorers for Monterey with 18 and 16 points, respectively. John Adams had 11 to pace Midland Lee.

Score by quarters:

Monterey	19	19	14	17	—70
Midland Lee	16	16	11	14	—47

Kansas Upset By Missouri

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Halfback Bill Tobin whipped three yards around left end Saturday climaxing an 80-yard drive for the touchdown that brought underdog Missouri a 10-7 victory over nationally ranked Kansas.

After presenting the Jayhawks a touchdown early in the first quarter by fumbling the ball on their own 15, the Tigers dominated the contest practically all of the last three quarters.

The victory gave Missouri a tie with Kansas in the final Big Eight Conference standings, each with 5-2 records.

Fullback Ken Coleman scored for Kansas from the one-foot mark and Wallace Barnes converted to make it 7-0. The Tigers then counted on Tobin's 27-yard field goal to tighten the game early in the second quarter.

Kansas kept on top until the first minute of the fourth period when the Tigers hammered out 80 yards in 13 plays, Tobin getting the touchdown.

Houston Seeks To Firm Up Hold On Top Spot

By The Associated Press

Houston's Oilers, winners of five games in a row and looking toward a repeat as American Football League champions, meet Denver at Houston Sunday aiming at a half-game advance in the fight for the Eastern Division title.

The Oilers lead the division by a half-game over Boston, which is idle this week.

There are four games to go for Houston, which still must clash with the unbeaten champions of the Western Division, San Diego.

Boston also must tackle San Diego in the remaining three games on its schedule.

Denver, winner of only three games out of 11 and just a step out of the Western Division cellar, doesn't figure to give the high-riding Oilers a stout test. Houston is paced by its inimitable George Blanda, who leads the league in passing with 2,133 yards and 24 touchdowns.

Denver's most dangerous weapon is Frank Tripucka's passing, especially when aimed at Lionel Taylor, the pass-snaggingest wingman the AFL ever has had. Taylor has caught 82 throws this season but got only four touchdowns out of them. Houston's combination of Charley Hennigan and Bill Groman has caught only 14 more passes than Taylor but together they have turned them into 22 touchdowns.

While Houston and Denver battle at Houston, Oakland will be at Dallas in a fight of the also-rans.

Dallas has won only three games out of 10 while Oakland has just two victories. Both have long since been eliminated from championship consideration in the Western Division where San Diego has won 11 straight and boasts a 7½-game lead over second-place Dallas.

San Diego rests this week preparing for a big showdown clash with Houston at Houston Dec. 3. This game might be a preview of the championship playoff.

Dallas and Oakland shape up about even in the aerial department with Tom Flores doing the tossing for the Raiders and Cotton Davidson for Dallas. Abner Haynes leads a Texan ground-attack that appears far superior to Oakland.

The New York Titans kept alive their flickering hopes for League's Eastern Division title by defeating the Buffalo Bills 21-14 in a Thanksgiving Day game.

Seeks Heavyweight Title

Twenty-four years ago an Irish-American last fought for the world's heavyweight boxing title when Jim Braddock sustained an eight-round knockout at the hands of Joe Louis in Chicago. Tom McNeeley, above of Cambridge, Mass., hopes he can do better when he faces Floyd Patterson in Toronto on Monday, Dec. 4.

Chiefs, Seminole Suffer Defeats

By The Associated Press

Friday night Fort Worth Paschal, with Terry Cashion and Doug Cates combining on a 66-yard touchdown pass play in the final four minutes, rolled on undefeated and untied with a 14-8 victory over Dallas Woodrow Wilson in a Class AAAA playoff game.

Denison forged into the quarterfinals with a 20-0 triumph over Texarkana as Phil Shaffer ran 88 yards to a touchdown with a kickoff and Joe Parmley scored twice, once on a 46-yard dash.

Houston Milby also remained unbeaten and untied as the Buffs laced Spring Branch 13-3 behind Les Derrick, who passed for one touchdown and ran for the other.

Galena Park trimmed Port Neches 13-0 with Geron Graham breaking the game open with a 40-yard touchdown run in the third period.

San Antonio Jefferson showed awesome power in smashing San Antonio Brackenridge 41-7 with Donny Oefinger scoring twice and passing for another touchdown.

In Class AAA, Dumas shut out Seminole 14-0 and Breckenridge downed San Angelo Lakeview 20-14 to provide a Dumas-Breckenridge pairing in the Class AAA quarterfinals. Dumas is the state championship favorite. Breckenridge, four times state champion, had to use a fumbled punt and kickoff infraction to gain its narrow triumph over Lake View.

Gainesville, another top - rated AAA entry, outscored Carrollton 35-28 while Corsicana forged into the quarter-finals with a 19-6 victory over Carthage. Corsicana will face Gainesville next week.

Angleton walloped Bay City 32-14.

Port Lavaca, last year's runner-up, was kicked out by undefeated, untied San Benito 15-12.

Quanah, Jacksboro and Sweeny, all with 12-0 records, lead the Class AA teams in the drive toward the championship.

Quanah blasted Ballinger 28-0, Jacksboro beat Plano 20-12 in a battle of unbeaten, untied teams and Sweeny lashed Gonzales 27-13.

In other second round results in AA Dalhart took out the defending champion, Denver City, 29-8, Hooks trimmed Gilmer 14-6, Brady eased by undefeated, untied Hearne 30-20, Dayton nosed out Columbus 20-19 and Donna eliminated Devine 12-7.

In the quarter-finals Dalhart meets Quanah, Jacksboro engages Hooks, Brady plays Dayton and Sweeney jousts with Donna.

The Class A quarter-finals will have defending champion Albany, Kress, Wink, Forney, Groveton, Waco Connally, Hull-Daisetta and Three Rivers and five of those teams are undefeated and untied. Albany not only has a perfect record this season but has won 26 straight games.

Albany beat Crowell 21-0 Friday but had to score all its points in the last half. Johnny Agan finally broke it open with a 57-yard run and Roy Hogan ran for a touchdown and passed 51 yards for another.

Kress rolled on undefeated and untied with a 22-19 victory over Gruver, which also had a perfect record. Tony Palome recovered a Kress kickoff in the Gruver end zone to put his team over.

Wink ripped Rotan 22-6 to remain undefeated and untied. Forney did the same in downing Mt. Vernon 14-13 and Hull Daisetta kept its record clear with a 22-7 triumph over Sealy. In other games Grovetown downed Brownsboro 19-0, Waco Connally took out Thorndale 34-20 and Three Rivers walloped Rio Hondo 34-6.

In the quarter-finals Kress plays Wink, Albany takes on Forney, Grovetown engages Connally and Hull-Daisetta plays Three Rivers.

The Dragons honored were ends Ronnie Deatherage and Jerry Webb, center Lee Roman and backs Dan Lemon and Beaver Ramsey.

Hall Standout In Penn State Win Over Pitt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Senior quarterback Galen Hall, running and passing with sparkling versatility, engineered Penn State Saturday to a 47-26 football victory over Pitt.

Hall, who has sparked the Nittany Lions all season, ran for two touchdowns, passed for two others and set up another with his passes to end Jim Schwab. Throughout the game, Hall brilliantly mixed his calls.

The teams, playing their 61st game since 1893, battled on nearly even terms in the first half. But Penn State broke the wildly scoring game wide open in the second half with four touchdowns.

Hall romped 11 yards for one of them and teamed up with Al Powell on a 49-yard scoring pass for another.

The Lion quarterback also grabbed a Penn State fumble in mid-air in the first quarter and ran 6 yards for a touchdown and threw 23 yards to Gersky for a touchdown in the second period.

Pitt had a brief 14-13 lead in the second quarter, but scored only one touchdown after that. Rick Leeson, Pitt's leading ground-gainer, rambled 49 yards in the final period for that score. The sophomore fullback also tallied the Panthers' second touchdown on a 5-yard smash in the second quarter.

The Panthers' other two touchdowns came on Paul Martha's 8-yard pass to Don Jenkins in the first quarter and Jim Traficant's 6-yard heave to Steve Jazstrezembski in the fourth.

The Lions' two touchdowns in the third quarter climaxed long drives. Hall's pass to Roger Kochman, good for 26 yards, helped set up one touchdown which Hall himself scored on an 11-yard run. Kochman got the other six-pointer on an 8-yard jaunt.

Hall's aerials to Schwab helped set up Buddy Torris' one-yard touchdown plunge in the second frame. Hall hit Schwab first for 34 yards, then for 23.

In all, Hall competed 11 passes in 14 attempts for 266 yards.

Penn State, leading the Lambert Trophy ratings, has a 7-3 record while Pitt dropped its seventh in 10 games for its worst record under Coach John Michelosen.

Maryland Terps Beaten By Virginia Cavaliers

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Awakening Virginia apparently knocked Maryland out of the Gator Bowl Saturday with a shocking 28-16 football victory over the Terps accomplished on Gary Cuozzo's pinpoint passing and two critical pass interceptions.

Cuozzo pitched for three touchdowns to third-string halfback John Hepler, and halfback Ted Rzempoluch raced 95 yards with an intercepted pass for another another score as the Cavaliers came from behind with a rush after yielding Maryland a 7-0 lead before the half.

The victory apparently ended Maryland's hopes of a Gator Bowl appearance against Georgia Tech, for its acceptance of the bid seemed to be conditioned on victory in this game against Virginia, the last-place team in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

A 61-yard punt return by halfback Tom Brown staked Maryland to a 7-0 second-period advantage, but Virginia struck back before halftime for an 8-7 margin after a pass interception by Carl Kuhn had given the Cavaliers the ball on the Maryland 20.

The Cavaliers, struggling upward from the football depths under Coach Bill Elias, never trailed after that and led 28-10 late in the final period before Maryland made things more respectable with a 79-yard scoring push.

LONG STRING

RESERVE, La. (AP)—Reserve High Football Coach Joe Keller has lost the flip of a coin 14 straight times this season—12 to determine which team would receive the kickoff, once to settle the site of a game and the other to determine which team would wear what color uniforms.

C. J. Lamb, Forsan's Mayor, To Retire From Continental

By JOE PICKLE

Forsan's first and only mayor is retiring Friday—but not from being mayor.

In fact, C. J. (Jack) Lamb will have more time to devote to the affairs of the fledgling municipal government and its potential improvements. Lamb is taking his retirement from the Continental Oil Company.

Lamb has been with Conoco since Jan. 25, 1937, but it was Cosden that brought him to this area.

"I was working for Lone Star Gas Company digging ditches for 30 cents an hour," he recalled, "when my brother, who worked for Cosden, came to me with a tale that he had a job paying 55 cents an hour for me at Big Spring. I hitchhiked a ride on a Gaither Oil truck, making a run for gas, went to work for Cosden as a yard man in June of 1935.

TO FORSAN

He left that post in December of 1936 when the Conoco job as roustabout on the leases at Forsan loomed in the offing. Later he was made pumper and for many years has been head roustabout.

At first Mr. and Mrs. Lamb made their home in Forsan, then in 1942 moved into one of the houses on the lease camp. Six years ago, when the lease houses were being sold out, they moved back to Forsan. Lamb has been a leader in the move which resulted in incorporation of Forsan and steps to secure a more adequate water system. He was elected mayor when the initial council was formed.

There have been some changes in production methods since he went to work for Conoco, but few of them have been drastic. One of the most notable has been the disappearance of the steel derricks which once rose like a naked forest in the Howard-Glasscock field. Now Conoco doesn't have a one left—the well servicing is handled by portable workover units.

C. J. LAMB

CHANGES

"First we got rid of the bull wheels, then the derricks," he said. "One of the first leases I worked had one spider which worked pull rods to 11 different wells. There were a few which worked as high as 15 shallow wells from a central source of power. Some wells worked one or two others on the backside, but there are only five or six of these left and none of the multiple units off the spider. Nearly every unit has its own power plant (mostly electric)."

Chemical wizardry also has made a big difference. The field is notoriously bad for corrosion, and in the days when Lamb first went to work there were five crews working over wells.

"Even at that if we had no more than 20 wells down we were lucky," he said. Now there is not a single well crew. Most of this drastic cut in well maintenance has been due to use of anti-corrosives. The same is true in metal storage tank maintenance. For a time it looked like the water flooding of the field would step up corrosion problems again, but engineers promptly brought it back in balance.

Lamb was born and reared in Fort Worth. In 1918 he quit school (Paschal, then Central, High School) to enter the U. S. Navy. Four years later upon discharge, he returned to school.

He was married Aug. 18, 1923 in Fort Worth to Pearl Davis, and he and Mrs. Lamb have one daughter, Betty (Mrs. Wally Heideman), who lives with her husband and two children at Forsan. Both Mr. and Mrs. Heideman are employed at Webb AFB.

ACTIVE

Lamb has been active in community affairs. He and his wife are members of the Forsan Methodist Church. He is a past president of the Forsan Service Club, served as business manager of the Forsan baseball club, as president of the Tri-County Baseball league. He also was a member of the Forsan Country Club and of the IOOF lodge.

A veteran first aid instructor, Lamb probably has around 1,000 hours of Red Cross first aid instruction to his credit. During the war years and afterwards he was kept extremely busy in this work. For half a dozen years he was first aid chairman for the Howard - Glasscock Red Cross Chapter.

Had not the lure of "good money" interested him, Lamb likely would have still been with Texas Power & Light and still in Fort Worth. In the late 20's, however, he switched to Boswell Dairies and was making $50 to $60 a week, real good money in those days. The depression came along, and Lamb was working seldom if at all.

He is taking a disability retirement, having suffered a severe heart attack in January of 1959. For four months he was off the job. As soon as Freese & Nichols complete engineering on a distribution system for Forsan, Lamb will have plenty to do. There will be the matter of floating ample bonds, and this may necessitate another election for a charter change. Doubtless there will be other problems—just enough to keep him out of the rocking chair.

The Good, Southeast (Fusselman) field gained a new well with the completion of Pan American No. 32-A T. J. Good. It flowed 316.50 barrels of gravity oil, with no water and a gas-oil ratio of 420-1, through a 12-64 inch choke on initial potential. It bottomed at 9,906 feet and was plugged back to 9,860 feet for a pay topped at 9,838 feet. A 4½ inch string is at 9,906 feet and perforations are between 9,838-48 feet.

Elevation is 2,801 feet, the well bottomed at 8,510 feet, it was plugged back to 8,480 feet, pay was found at 8,249 feet and 4½ inch casing was set at 8,583 feet. No acidizing or fracturing was reported.

U.S. Drilling May Be Lowest Since 1952

HOUSTON (AP) — A cost-price squeeze apparently has had two major effects on oil and gas drilling operations.

The number of wells drilled this year in the United States may be the lowest since 1952.

The squeeze also has aided the arguments of oilmen who have advocated wider spacing regulations for drilling operations.

A bitter controversy has been in progress, particularly in Texas, over drilling permits being issued for tracts as small as one - third of an acre.

Advocates of wider spacing contend small tract wells are an unnecessary expense and prevent maximum efficiency in the recovery of oil and gas from the underground reservoir.

Opponents of wider spacing contend a property owner has the right to drill a well regardless of the size of the tract owned.

The Texas Railroad Commission in September adopted a 100 per cent acreage formula for allowables in the Normanna gas field, which has held a prominent role in the Texas controversy over wider spacing.

Area Rotary Count Rises

Permian Basin rotary activity climbed five above last week's pace, going from 225-230 active rigs, according to a Friday Reed Roller Bit Company survey.

This figure is the same as last year's total for the comparable date.

Lea County, N. M., continued to lead with 39 rotaries making hole, the same number it registered a week ago.

The eight-county area rose four, going to 27 rigs. Dawson County dropped four rigs, but Borden County gained two, Garza County gained three, Martin County gained three and Sterling and Glasscock counties each picked up two rigs.

The county-by-county survey, with the previous week's totals in parentheses, looks like this.

Andrews 15 (16), BORDEN 3 (1), Coke 3 (3), Chaves 1 (1), Concho 1 (4), Crane 19 (17), Crockett 8 (5), Crosby 1 (2), DAWSON 6 (10), Dickens 3 (3), Dona Anna 1 (1), Ector 8 (9); Eddy 12 (12), Fisher 4 (6), Gaines 7 (6), GARZA 3 (0), GLASSCOCK 1 (0), Hockley 5 (4), HOWARD 3 (3), Kent 2 (3), Lea 39 (39), Loving 2 (0), Lubbock 0 (2), MARTIN 10 (7), Midland 3 (2), MITCHELL 0 (2); Lynn 0 (1), Nolan 3 (3), Pecos 14 (13), Reeves 7 (5), Roosevelt 4 (5), Runnels 2 (3), Scurry 3 (4), Schleicher 3 (2), STERLING 1 (0), Sutton 2 (2), Terrell 2 (3), Tom Green 1 (2); Upton 6 (4), Val Verde 1 (0), Ward 5 (5), Winkler 10 (9), and Yoakum 6 (6).

Oil, Gas Wells Ahead Of 1960

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission reported Sunday 176 oil wells were completed last week, bringing the year's total to 8,587.

Last year at this time 8,831 oil wells had been drilled.

Forty gas wells were brought in, for a year's total of 2,832, compared with 1,866 this time last year.

Two wildcat oil wells were brought in, one each in Dists. 5 and 7-C. Of the week's 22 wildcat gas wells, eight were in Dist. 4, six in Dist. 2, five in Dist. 3, and one each in Dists. 6, 7-B and 7-C.

A total of 151 wells were plugged, including 91 dry holes.

Average calendar day allowable was 2,756,414 barrels a day, a 7,744-barrel increase over the previous week.

Basin Chapter Of API Sets Meeting

The Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will hold its annual membership meeting at the American Legion Hall in Odessa Tuesday beginning at 6:30 p.m.

A barbecue dinner at 7:30 p.m. highlights the final meeting of the year. The dinner will be followed by election of officers and a stage show.

LEONARD F. KINDER

This is the 7th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of these employes who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

15

Leonard F. Kinder and his bride from England came to Big Spring fifteen years ago to visit relatives. They liked the region so well they stayed. Last July 26 marked his fifteenth anniversary with Cosden.

He has been in utilities at the refinery boilers for most of his Cosden tenure. About a year ago Kinder transferred to operations; he is now assistant stillman at one of the Big Spring Refinery's newer installations, the Alkar Unit.

Born and educated in Bryson, Texas, Kinder saw faraway places during World War II. He was a sergeant in the anti-aircraft battalion overseas and was in the Army for four years. While on leave in England he met Joan Hibbs of Weston. He married her in her home village on March 22, 1944, but it was 1946 before she arrived in the States. Her nostalgia for family and friends is assuaged every five years, when the couple flies to England on vacation.

The Kinders reside at 502 North First Street in Coahoma. Both like to travel and enjoy spectator sports. He is Baptist. Kinder is a member of the Coahoma Lions Club, which he has served as a director and chairman of community betterment.

HO-HUM, ANOTHER DAY — but what a day it promises to be with fun of seeing friends, chatting between classes, a bit of study, perhaps, and possibly a date in the evening. That's just part of the round of catiivity in the school day of Janice Glaze, freshman at Howard County Junior College; she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glaze, Tarzan, and with three room mates, lives in the girls' dormitory at the college.

AT THE SUB, (top photo), Janice has a choice of ping pong, dominoes, card games, dancing, just visiting over a snack and Coke, but there's always a time when classes must be met. Here she is, after fun at the SUB, ready for a trip across the campus to one of the halls of learning.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1961

STUDY TIME, (right photo), is rather uninteresting, especially when there are pictures around to distract one's attention and send the thoughts skylarking off in another direction. One of Janice's cherished possessions is the picture of her prize steer, "Pretty Boy", with which she won at a recent county 4-H Club Show.

EXTRA RESEARCH, (left photo), in biology has never hurt anyone's scholastic record, says Janice, as she puts in some overtime working up an experiment with the help of a microscope. Her major is physical education, and it's the sessions in the gymnasium which she really enjoys.

★

Jaffes' Calypso Art

The Puerto Rican influence is noted in wall hangings made by Mrs. Richard Jaffe, who with her husband, Lt. Jaffe, resides at Park Hill Terrace. Although their permanent home is to be in Puerto Rico, the Jaffes expect to be in Big Spring for the next year while he is in jet training at Webb AFB.

Jaffes Will Return To Their Home, Puerto Rico

Industrial financing, the stock market, advertising, flying and various other related subjects were discussed during an interview with Lt. Richard Jaffe and his wife, Elaine, at their apartment, Park Hill Terrace.

Lt. Jaffee is here on leave from his position as legal advisor with an industrial finance firm, Tolcott Inter-American Corp., San Juan, Puerto Rico. As a member of the Puerto Rico National Air Guard, he is in jet training here at Webb AFB.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jaffe, Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., Jaffe's education was at Trinity College in Connecticut, the University of Virginia Law School, and New York University Graduate School of Business Administration.

Because of the rapid industrial growth in Puerto Rico and presentation of potential advancement, Jaffe accepted the position offered at San Juan. He and Mrs. Jaffe plan to make their permanent home in San Juan and will return there upon completion of his Air Force training.

Flying, particularly jet flying, is a challenge according to Jaffe. Now in the primary phase, he hopes to solo by next week. He will then be one of the pilots trained for the new T-38. "Jet flying is very precise, demanding coordination and fast thinking, and differs greatly from commercial flying," Jaffe pointed out.

Newspapers, their style and make-up are of interest to Mrs. Jaffe whose college majors were advertising and interior decorating. Her schools were Boston University and New York University.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Immanuel Siegel, South Orange, N. J., Mrs. Jaffe, a bride of six months, is vitally interested in all phases of advertising, the creative aspects involved, and its importance in relation to marketing and the public.

While in San Juan, her hobby might have been termed beachcombing, but now Mrs Jaffe would like very much to employ her knowledge in the fields she knows best. Her husband's hobbies are mainly sports, such as tennis, water skiing and sports car racing.

When Jaffe returns to Puerto Rico a year from now he will resume not only his position as a civilian employe, but also his military obligation, flying each weekend for the Air National Guard.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

The last of the visitors will likely be leaving today, and Big Spring will start back to work Monday looking forward to the Christmas season.

Many families chose this Thanksgiving holiday to gather because those with little ones like to have their Christmas tree at home . . . and too, grandparents with many grandchildren can't always find a tree big enough to hold old Santa's gifts . . . and they don't always have a house big enough to hold all the enthusiasm.

The holiday was a good one, and we are all most thankful.

MR. and MRS. W. C. BLANKENSHIP filled their home to overflowing with three of their four children and their families. CAPT. and MRS. BILLY V. CLARK (ANN) and their children, Katrinka and Patrick, were to leave today for their home in Albuquerque, N. M.; MR. and MRS. W. C. BLANKENSHIP JR., (MARY ELLEN HAYES) and their son, Clay, will return to Dallas. The MARK HARWELLS (SUSIE) and Annette joined the family group from their home here.

Other guests of the family were TOM BEASLEY of Midland and his son and daughter, Linda and Tommy Lee Beasley of Arlington.

MRS. T. J. WILLIAMSON and her sons, Franklin, Tim and Trent have been the guests of MRS. HENRY WILLIAMSON. Dr. Williamson was not able to leave his work in Kerrville.

CLYDE JOHNSON, a nephew of MISS ROSA TIMMERMAN, was a surprise visitor here Thanksgiving Day. He and his aunt and the E. V. SWIFTS joined the LEONARD EINSTEINS for the big meal on Thursday. Johnson was en route to his station at Ft. Sam Houston.

The men were in the majority when the W. F. TAYLORS had their Thanksgiving Day dinner. WAYLAND TAYLOR was down from O'Donnell, while the remainder of his family was in Farmington, N. M., visiting a relative. Brother JOHN brought his children over, but Mrs. John stayed home nursing a mumpy condition. MR. and MRS. O. B. CAVE and Jane were here from their home in Roby and were joined by most of the group in a trip to Midland to see the Wink-Rotan football game. Rotan is the Taylor family's home town and they were disheartened at the defeat—but not as disheartened as son John who stayed at home to watch the A&M-Texas game.

Deck The Halls With Elegance

Deck the halls with elegance such as the espaliers, above, and kissing ring which were designed and created by Mrs. Charles Carothers, 1110 E. 13th.

Holiday Art Patterned From Early Carvings

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

Following the great London fire in 1666, restoration of the city's many churches brought about recognition of the wood carver, Grinling Gibbons. His delicate and ornate carvings consisted mainly of flowers, birds, foliage, fruit and lace. It is said that many flowers he carved shook when wafted by a breeze.

In this pattern, Mrs. Charles Carothers designs madonna frames, globe trees, table medallions, babiche, wreaths, swags and double swags, kissing rings, crescents, corsages and other handsome ornaments symbolic of the Christmas season.

Instead of wood, Mrs. Carothers employs natural materials, using cotton burrs, tree cones, and dried pods, collected all along the East coast from Florida to Maine. Recently in New Mexico she gathered yucca burrs, new to her dried collection.

Originally from Boston, Mass., Mrs. Carothers came to Big Spring from Anderson, S. C., with her husband who is a cotton broker.

It was in Boston where, as a hobby, she first began designing and making the ornaments for decoration and for gifts. Although technique may be varied at times, she has found a basic method for creating her works of art.

Each piece of material is wired and secured to a foundation, resembling the Della Robbia technique. Mrs. Carothers learned the basic process while attending workshops held in Boston, and since that time she has lectured extensively for garden clubs in Boston and at Anderson.

When the Carothers moved to Anderson, they bought and restored one of the city's old homes. Their married children, a son and a daughter, and their grandchildren, two boys and two girls, have remained New Englanders.

The Carothers are attending St. Mary's Episcopal Church and are also interested in other activities of the city. They are residing at 1110 E. 13th, until cotton buying is completed when they will return to their home in Anderson. They plan to be back in Big Spring in the fall of '62.

MRS. THOMAS ARNOLD FARLOW

Cynthia Lee Cochran Is Bride Of Thomas Farlow

Double ring vows were taken Saturday evening by Cynthia Lee Cochran and Lt. Thomas Arnold Farlow in the Second Baptist Church of Odessa.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Cochran of Odessa; the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Farlow of Sanford, N.C.

The Rev. Richard H. Philpot read the ceremony before an arch of tapers in branched candelabra, based in rosette palms. Tapers and greenery lined the railing.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Mrs. Philpot, organist, and she accompanied Harlan Hall who sang Grieg's "I Love Thee" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride's gown of re-embroidered tulle over bouquet taffeta was fashioned with tiered skirt, which extended into a sweep train, and fitted bodice with sabrina neckline. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a pearlized orange blossom wreath.

White orchids surrounded by fugii mums were tied with cascades of satin streamers to make the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Bill Cogburn of Midland attended her sister as matron of honor; June Humes of Lamesa was bridesmaid.

Attendants were identically attired in gold satin sheaths with overskirts accented at the backs with flat bows. Their headdresses were gold pillbox hats and they carried bronze and gold mums in crescent designs.

J. Paul Davenport III of Pactolus, N.C., was best man; Lt. Daniel Hardage of Big Spring was groomsman. Ushers were Lt. Conrad Kay of Big Spring and Ross Cochran, brother of the bride.

For the reception, guests gathered in the fellowship hall of the church, where they were registered by Brenda Lea Smith of Big Spring, cousin of the bride. Others in the house party were Mrs. Clyde McCann. Mrs. Brooks Harmon, Mrs. J. F. Harrington and Mrs. J. V. Booth.

On the bride's table was a lace cloth of ivory, centered with a gold epergne with gold and bronze mums forming the base. Wedding bells topped the tiered cake.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a linen cloth and lighted with tapers in a brass candelabrum banked with mums.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride donned a suit of green tweed with walking coat; her accessories were green and she wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, the couple will be at home at 1806 Owens; Mrs. Farlow is a teacher in the local high school; her husband is stationed at Webb AFB.

She is a graduate of Odessa High School and Texas Tech; the bridegroom graduated from Sanford High School and East Carolina College.

Out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Boyle of Port Arthur; Mrs. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Rabb of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Clay Henderson of Lubbock; Mrs. Ted Watkins of Kerrville; Ella Watkins of Zapata; Mrs. Mary D. Smith of Big Spring; Bill Cogburn and Barri of Midland.

Boyce-Anderson Vows Exchanged In Stanton

STANTON (SC)—Nuptial vows were exchanged by Joyce Virginia Anderson and Robert Edward Boyce, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor, officiated, reading the double ring service. Baskets of gladioli and branched candelabra flanked the altar scene, which was centered with a prayer bench.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Anderson and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Boyce Jr., all of Stanton.

A program of organ music was presented by Phyllis Long, who also accompanied Mrs. Glenn L. Brown, vocalist, singing "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Accompanied to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of rosepoint lace over satin and tulle, fashioned with lace bodice, scoop neckline outlined in seed pearls, and long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. Panels of rosepoint were featured in the full sweep of the satin and tulle skirt. Her veil of illusion net was secured by a tiara of pearls and sequins.

For "something borrowed," she wore the wedding gown belonging to Mrs. Neal Sharpe of Chanute, Kan.; the white Bible which was carried with a cymbidium orchid and white roses, was "something old"; shoes were "new"; something "blue," her garter; birthdate pennies in her shoe.

Attending the bride was Donna Swanson, maid of honor, wearing a pastel blue sheath of cotton sateen, styled with scooped neckline and an overskirt of blue silk organza. Veronica Sorley, in identical attire, was bridesmaid. Both carried bouquets of pink roses mounted on white fans.

Royce Boyce served his brother as best man, and Carroll Anderson, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Ushers were John Greathouse of Midland and Jimmy Hamilton, who also lighted the tapers.

A reception was held afterward in Fellowship Hall of the church, where guests were received by the couple, their parents, and the bride's attendants.

Bouquets of the bride and her attendants were placed on the bride's table, where guests were served. The three-tiered white frosted cake was topped with bride and groom figurines.

Mrs. Nolan Simpson was in charge of the register, and others who made up the house party were Jean Mott, Glen Reid, Sandra Sale and Sharon Sale.

Out of town guests were from Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Brady, Amarillo, Lubbock, Waco and Colorado City.

With tentative plans to tour points in East Texas, the couple left on a wedding trip. For travel the bride chose a white and silver wool sheath, blue shoes, bag and jewelry. Her corsage was from the bridal bouquet.

Following the wedding trip, the couple will reside in Midland at 503 W. Estes, Apt. H.

A graduate of Stanton High School, the bride is also a 1960 graduate of the Commercial College of Midland. She was active in numerous high school organizations, serving four years as an FHA officer, three years as a member of the student council and as editor of the school yearbook, her senior year. Presently she is employed as a secretary with West Texas Oil Reports, Midland.

Boyce, a 1959 graduate of Stanton High School, was also active in many school organizations and in his senior year was editor of the school yearbook and the school newspaper. He is employed with Basin Engineering Corporation at Midland.

Voice More Effective Than Make-Up Aids

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Only someone with the great talent of Geraldine Page could be equally sensational in such contrasting roles as the sexy movie star in "Sweet Bird of Youth" and the inhibited spinster of "Summer and Smoke."

"How do you manage to be so different?" I wanted to know.

"The voice sets the key," Miss Page told me. "I work more on how I sound than how I look. I think people are unaware of the extent to which their reactions are influenced by the sound of a person. Voices are very revealing—a blind person will tell you that.

"I grew up in Chicago, but the mid-western twang isn't pleasant to listen to on stage. I wanted to change my voice. This isn't easy to do without sounding affected. When speech rings true, it can be beautiful," Miss Page exclaimed. "It's a pity that more people do not care about diction."

We were lunching in a little restaurant near Miss Page's apartment, and her freshly scrubbed face and simple suit made her look so unlike an actress.

"I was attracted to the theater because I was shy," she confessed. "After playing a role with an amateur group in my church, I found that acting was what I wanted to do. I had great difficulty, in real life, communicating with people, and so it was a great release for me to play a role and not have to reveal my true self.

"But this shyness made it difficult for me to get started in New York," she went on. "I had four lean winters there. I made the rounds of theatrical agents, but my special talent was not being noticed." Miss Page laughed. "But my father had taught me to take a long view and be patient. It was this advice and the odd jobs I found that kept me going.

"At that time I had no interest in fashion and paid too little attention to my appearance. I foolishly felt that it was a waste of time.

"I realize now no matter what your job is, no matter how many interests you may have, you should find time to present yourself as attractively as possible.

"I am not a Spartan, but I admire discipline. It makes you think of the lasting result rather than the emotion of the moment. I know that no matter how many other things I may prefer to do, I must take the effort to have my hair and my clothes neat. And now that I've formed the habit, I am more comfortable knowing that I look my best."

We talked of a mutual friend, an actress who was unhappy about her departing youth.

"When people hold a fixed image of themselves and don't allow their personalities to flower, it is painful for them to grow older, and I pity them for not being able to enjoy the advantages of maturity.

"No matter what your age is," she continued, "you can keep your body limber and active. I enjoy fencing lessons. It conditions muscular control with concentration. You have to be quick with your reactions and reflexes. It helps your balance and posture. I don't understand why it isn't more popular."

"It does seem to be a dying sport," I added. "At least it is in this vicinity. But tell me, what do you think of rejuvenating cosmetics?"

"I think they help," she replied. "The right cream will make you look better. I played around with a number of them and finally found a cream that has become my favorite. But no matter how much you cream your face, there is nothing that makes it feel cleaner than soap and water. I use a soap that comes from France. You can't get it here so I have a friend send it to me. When I am not working, I like to leave off makeup and give my skin a rest."

The voices of two women saying goodbye to each other shrilled across the room.

"It is so unattractive to shout," she observed. "I don't see why some women do it.

"The sounding board is in our upper gums. You can give your voice resonance when you take it out of the throat and carry it out on your breath. My grandfather was hard of hearing and one friend, who practiced this way of speaking, could make herself heard without shouting." And quoting Shakespeare Miss Page said, " 'Her voice was soft, gentle and low; something rare but excellent in a woman.' "

IMPROVE YOUR VOICE

You, too, may improve your voice. You can lower it, raise it, remove an accent. You can take out nasal sounds. You can pitch it where it's most pleasant to listen to. With Leaflet M-6, "Exercises to Improve the Speaking Voice," you will learn these things. For your copy of this important leaflet send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Holiday Dances Slated

The holiday schedule at Big Spring Country Club will include dancing, with "The Classics" of Odessa engaged for the younger crowd and Bob Goebert's orchestra for the club's annual Christmas dance.

"The Classics" provided music for the Friday night Thanksgiving dance at the club. Some 165 high school and college students attended, and arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Marge Ramsey, manager.

A return engagement for "The Classics" is scheduled Dec. 27, when they will play from 8 to 12 for the teens' holiday dance.

Dec. 23 is the date set for the club's Christmas dance, which will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with music provided by Bob Goebert.

Tree For Keeps

If you're tired of Christmas trees that dry out before the holidays end, but don't like the artificial ones, have you considered buying a living tree? Besides being beautiful at Christmas time, it will become a permanent addition to your landscaping when planted outdoors.

NFMC Sets Date For Music Event

For the eighth successive year the National Federation of Music Clubs will hold a month-long "Parade of American Music" during the month of February, 1962, it has been announced.

Although the National Federation of Music Clubs promotes and presents American music throughout the entire year, it is anticipated that the more than 5,500 member clubs and organizations and other musical groups will present at least one all-American program during the month of February.

Symphony orchestras, smaller instrumental ensembles, choruses, American opera companies, college music departments, and radio and TV stations are expected to join the federation in this worthy project.

The parade is designed to recognize and encourage American composers, to give their works a wider hearing, and to reaffirm for the American public that its culture equals the culture of other countries.

To honor unusual excellence in the parade, the NFMC presents awards of merit; over the years, a total of 2,594 awards has been given.

Celebrated Calf Roper Publishes First Book

By SAM BLACKBURN

Meet Toots Mansfield, author.

The celebrated star of the rodeo world, seven times' world champion calf roper, has now turned scribe.

He has written a book and the book is now on sale.

What's the book about?

Why calf roping, naturally. And that is the title, "Calf Roping."

"It's the first book I ever wrote and I guess it will be the last," Mansfield observed. "I suppose you could describe it as being somewhat like books that big time golf players write. You know—illustrated books in which they explain just how they make use of the clubs in their bag and how they play difficult shots.

"This book is about calf roping. How it's done, the equipment you need, the things not to do. It's illustrated, too."

Mansfield said that he was given an assist in writing the book by Dick Spencer, who came down from Colorado last spring and spent several weeks talking to Toots and making some of the numerous half-tone photos which illustrate the book.

Marie McDonald, owner of The Book Stall, believes that Mansfield's new book will be a best seller in Big Spring.

She pointed to the rapidly diminishing pile of copies she had left out of her original order. She has wired the publisher, "Western Horseman," for additional copies.

Obie Bristow, former state representative and enthusiastic golfer, bought the first copy of "Calf Roping" sold in Big Spring.

Mansfield inscribed the copy, "in case you ever decide to give up golf."

The famous calf roper has now retired from arena work. He operates a roping school here and would-be calf ropers come from far places to learn the art under the eye of the master.

Right now, Mansfield is nursing a broken right leg.

"My horse fell on me," he explained. "The horse was tougher than my leg."

Writing books, in the opinion of Big Spring's newest author, is harder than roping calves.

Precarious Spot For Exercising

BRANDON, Fla. (AP)— Deputy Sheriff Johnny Caccitore found an elderly resident of Tampa riding his wheelchair astraddle the centerline of State Route 60.

The man told the deputy he needed some exercise and the highway seemed a likely place to get it. He said he was staying on the center line so he would keep an eye on cars on both sides of him.

"I believe I convinced him that his thinking was in error and he promised not to do it again," said Caccitore.

GREETING POSTAGE

Extra Penny Recommended

An extra penny postage on your Christmas greeting cards can be money well invested, according to E. G. Boatler, postmaster.

"Most Christmas cards cost from 15 to as much as 50 cents," the postmaster pointed out. "it is false economy to send so valuable a card with a 3-cent stamp. One more penny (which means using a 4-cent stamp on your Christmas mail) can spell the difference between your card reaching the person to whom it is sent and not reaching its destination."

He also pointed out that when a 4-cent stamp is used on a Christmas card, the card can also include a personal handwritten message. Further, the card will be forwarded to the new address of the person to whom it was sent in the event that he is no longer at the address used. Those not delivered will be returned to the sender.

"Be sure," Boatler interpolated, "to always place your own return address on your Christmas card envelope."

It is socially correct to do this, he said, and it enables both you and your friends to keep mailing lists up to date.

Boatler reiterated that last year's Christmas mail totalled 2,888,000 pieces and that it is very likely this year's total will be even larger. A big share of this mail will be greeting cards.

He recommended that every one make plans to mail early, pointing out that because of the fine cooperation in this matter in recent Christmas seasons, his office has been able to get all Christmas cards and packages dispatched and delivered before Christmas Day.

Cards and packages to distant points should be in the mail by Dec. 10, he warned. Christmas packages for local destinations should be dispatched not later than Dec. 15. All Christmas cards and Christmas mail should be in the post office at least one full week before Christmas.

Retail Sales Take Drop

AUSTIN (AP)—The major indexes in the Texas business barometer on retail sales took sharp rises during October, the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas said Saturday.

The report said that after dropping 7 per cent in September, October retail sales rebounded and rose 3.8 per cent. Estimated October sales in Texas totaled $980.

The five major cities reported retail sales increased higher than the statewide average. Austin sales were up 8 per cent, Dallas 7 per cent, Fort Worth 11 per cent, Houston 14 per cent and San Antonio 12 per cent above September.

Durable goods increased 19.4 per cent in October. October sales of automotive stores were up 31 per cent from September and 7 per cent from October, 1960.

"Sales of motor vehicle dealers were up 36 per cent," the bureau said. "The new model automobiles are being well received by the public."

Furniture and household appliance stores had increases of 18 per cent. Sales of furniture stores were up 24 per cent.

Nationally, retail sales increased 2 per cent.

Jackson Case May Be First On Docket

W. C. Jackson, under several indictments for felony charges, will probably be the first defendant to face trial when 118th District Court criminal docket is called on Tuesday morning. A jury panel is to report to the court on Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The lengthy docket set for the week will be sounded by Judge Ralph Caton at 10 a.m. Monday. Several pleas of guilty are to be presented at that time.

Jackson was before the court at the last jury criminal docket but the case against him then—a charge of writing a worthless check—had to be dropped when the state's evidence failed to support the indictment.

Several other indictments are on file against the former Coahoma used car dealer and District Attorney Gil Jones said he wanted to dispose of one of these early in the new docket.

The docket will continue through Friday.

The cases set for trial include: Virgil L. Creel, worthless check; Geraldine Bush, habitual theft; Arthur Downs, forgery; Perry Connell, worthless check; John McCall, Jr., burglary of coin operated machine; George Henage, burglary of a coin operated machine; Robert William Jehring, burglary of a coin operated machine; Jack B. Hartwig, burglary of a coin operated machine; Ronald Gene Letcher, burglary of a coin operated machine; Evelyn Jackson, two counts, worthless check; Luther Dorsey, theft over $50; George Curry, theft over $50; Jim Buck Matthews, murder by automobile; Robert W. Self, worthless check; W. P. Land, indecent exposure to a minor; George W. Wright, habitual burglary; Richard L. Knight, habitual burglary; Joe Loera, DWI second offense; Eustice Huff, burglary; Steven D. Ray, burglary; Calvin Cody Tipton, theft over $50; Raymond Franklin Barron, repeater burglary.

Readings Slated

Readings for one act plays will be held in the Prairie Playhouse of the Big Spring Civic Theatre Monday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The one-act plays will be produced during the Christmas season, directed by Chuck Worley. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Toby's Adds Fourth Store

Another store has been obtained by Toby Cook, bringing his enterprises to four Toby's Drive In Groceries and a bakery in Big Spring. The purchase was made in conjunction with celebration of 10 years of growth in the city.

Location of the new store is at Marcy Drive (FM 700) and Birdwell Lane. It was opened in July by James R. Henderson and was acquired by Cook Nov. 15. Sam Talkington will operate the store.

All products and services available at the other Toby stores will be offered at the new location. This includes money orders, fresh baked pastries, a complete line of grocery items, hunting and fishing supplies and licenses.

The modern, red brick building contains shelves and counters to display merchandise and make it readily accessible for the convenience of customers. It has facilities for cold food, drinks, and frozen foods. Ice service will soon be added.

The ceiling is of paneling to reduce sound and the building is air conditioned.

Cook's expansion began in 1955 when he opened a second store in Big Spring with the location at 1600 E. 4th. The bakery at 1602 E. 4th was added in 1957. Two years later, with development of the Marcy School area, he added a store at 1806 Wasson Road.

Cook came to Big Spring from San Angelo in 1948 and opened his first store here at 1801 S. Gregg in 1951. He attended San Angelo College two years and spent 2½ years in the Navy.

He married the former Frances Wilson, a native of Big Spring. They have two children, Candice, 12, and Stanley, seven.

A Devotional for Today

I am the light of the world. (John 8:12.)
Ye are the light of the world. (Matthew 5:14.)
PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Jesus in whom we see Thy glory and Thy hope for mankind, as light that shines in darkness. Help us so that His light may shine through us, and men may glorify Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

This Should Fit Us Better

No one seems to know for sure, but it is assumed that the examiners report to the Civil Aeronautics Board will, if finally approved, result in improved air service for Big Spring.

The outlook, under plans previously talked by Trans-Texas Airways (the recommended carrier), is for a trio of three-way schedules (six flights) daily. Currently, we have a single two-way service, a total of two flights. The timing on these two is hardly opportune, coming as it does in the middle of the day.

Our traffic totals have not been too impressive, however, commensurate with the scheduling, the record is not bad. We feel that with better schedules, the volume will increase. Whether it will accelerate to the point that three flights will be profitable remains to be seen, but at least Trans-Texas will have something to sell. Moreover, the trend for airway travel will be upwards, not downward, in the long run.

The recommendation for revocation of the American Airlines permit is virtually meaningless for Big Spring inasmuch as American suspended its service approximately a decade ago. Similarly, the dropping of the permit to Continental Air Lines will be no problem, provided Trans-Texas takes up the service. Continental has become one of the nation's trunk carriers and to expect it to bid spiritedly for feeder traffic is not realistic.

So far as our immediate area is concerned, the examiners report seems to fit our situation.

A Posy To The Contact Club

When Jimmie Greene signed up Hila Weathers, who had been a former Chamber of Commerce manager at Stanton, and Boyd McDaniel, who had been a city manager here, as members of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, it broke the old membership record of 711 set when Mr. Greene was the chamber manager.

This, of course, is a significant milepost, for it takes manpower to make a community program such as the chamber go. This same manpower also represents more material resources, also a requisite of a virile chamber program.

It is certainly fitting that Mr. Greene should be the person to sign up the members which broke the old record, for none is more wrapped up in the success of the chamber than he is.

He would be the first, however, to give credit where credit is due. Since July, the Contact Club of the Chamber of Commerce has signed upwards of 260 members for the chamber. This new impetus, this new blood, this new support has given the chamber outlook a bright, new aspect. This record of achievement has expedited the period of transition and recovery so that the chamber is now in position to do more than ever before. When it does, as we have every faith that it will do, no small amount of the credit will be due the members of the Contact Club.

Finland: Our Achilles' Heel

WASHINGTON — Both persons and money from Finland are beginning to look for refuge. Finns in diplomatic positions, or with sharp historical perceptions, or with strong anti-Communist records, sense that in something like 100 days, their country will be jailed behind the Iron Curtain, ingested by the Soviet Empire.

FINLAND IS THE Achilles' heel of NATO. It is the joint, exposed and damageable, where the Western Alliance in Europe can be fatally injured. The Kennedy Administration has exhibited one of its worst spells of hesitation in the case of Finland.

Reporters have been gently brushed off the story with assurances that nothing's going to happen up there in the bitter Baltic terrain. It's too cold. Russia wouldn't dare repeat the awful error of the Winter War of 1939-40. Khrushchev won't offend "world opinion." He's too smart to make a move which would cause the NATO Baltic Command to counter with force. Look what happened in Korea when the last Democratic President was in the White House. A move by the Communists brought the United States and the United Nations into action, and sealed off the 38th parallel.

SECRETARY OF State Rusk, in a recent press conference, exhibited exactly the ambivalent do-nothingness for which the Administration is often criticized and which the President so deeply resents. First, Mr. Rusk expressed American concern for Finnish freedom. Then he cautioned that the best the U.S.A. could do and say right now was—nothing.

Perhaps it will take a surge of Finnish refugees into West Europe and across the Atlantic to make the Administration admit, and permit the American people to understand, what's happening. What's happening is the familiar Communist squeeze play with Scandinavian local color and local characters.

IT'S VERY UNLIKELY that Russian troops will march into Finland, and this will preserve the facade of "peace." There won't be any major fighting, unless it is commenced by NATO. And since everybody knows that NATO is nothing but a "defensive" alliance, the few Finns who may resist will be mowed down, but the symbolic "shield" of NATO will not be beaten into a javelin.

The key to the reading of the Finnish timetable is the calendar. By law the election season in Finland is April. But President Urho Kekkonen, reacting to pressures from Moscow, recently dissolved the Parliament and moved the election up to the first week of February.

IN FEBRUARY Finland will be ripe for revolution. The timbering industries, which supply most of the employment and income are at a standstill. Strikes are rampant. Agitators thrive. Radicalism goes on the rampage.

In February, then, there will be the familiar Communist coup. An emergency government, a coalition which is made up of all the democratic parties, of course, will take over. The Communists within the government will see to it that all Russian demands are met. As in Czechoslovakia, the most bare-handed Soviet grab after World War II, the Curtain will descend, with Soviet troops standing, in full propriety, just inside the Soviet border. But the deed will be done, and Finland's traditional neutrality will have ended, not on a bang, but a gulp.

IT IS NOT LIKELY, however, that we will have in Helsinki what we had in Prague—a dramatic, tragic protest in the suicide of the victim-country's first citizen. President Kekkonen is not that kind of patriot. He came to power as leader of the left-wing agrarian party. He very much likes his power and there is little doubt but that the Kremlin will keep him as a puppet President.

Kekkonen is a heavy drinker, a fast-and-loose player with the dissident elements of his troubled country's political conglomeration. In a heroic nation, Kekkonen is no hero. He has already taken the path of least resistance to the Soviet demands that Finland surrender neutrality and sovereignty to become Red-oriented and Red-allied.

THE RUSSIAN VICTORY, which is now all but inevitable, barring warlike action by the West, will not be confined to the forbidding capes of this small, far-north nation. NATO will be outflanked. Its northernmost members, Norway and Denmark, as well as the friendly neutral, Sweden, will be all-but-hopelessly compromised by the confrontation of the Soviet might. The Baltic Sea will become probably by a treaty of its littoral nations, a Russian pond.

But the biggest gain by the Russian power players will be the establishment of one of those ideas which truly shake the world — in this instance the Free World of the West.

THE IDEA is this—that Germany is once more a criminal nation. The idea is the excuse that Russia made for moving upon Finland. The idea is the pivot that Russia is using to outflank NATO.

There are a great many more things to be said about the idea of Germany (West) as the ravening villain of Europe, but it will suffice to say that it is turning out to be Russia's greatest gain since Mr. Kennedy came to office. It may be also the most serious setback, even including the humiliation in Cuba, that the U.S.A. has endured for a long, long while.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

One of two motion pictures which are now being shown to large crowds around the county carries this warning by its exhibitors: "No one under 16 will be admitted unless accompanied by an adult." The other, which is billed as a "shocker," is "not recommended for children"—or so say the advertisements. These are two of what strike us as many motion pictures, a large number of them foreign imports, whose themes emphasize sexual relationships and are thus shown only to adults.

The art of the cinema is too meaningful to be cheapened by the kind of "realism" that may only appeal to the prurient. On the contrary, it is significant enough as a means of education and recreation to accent wholesomeness as an American custom.

Detroit Talks Of Size, But Keeps Sales Going

DETROIT—When it comes to automobiles in this city, there are four points of prejudice—General Motors', Ford's, Chrysler's, and American's.

Right now, prejudices are working overtime on the question: What is a compact?

General Motors Corp. stand-offishly says there's no such thing—only small cars and standard-size cars.

"A BATTLE OF semantics," says Robert Anderson, Chrysler vice president in charge of product planning. "There are so many models and so much confusion that in almost any type car you can go from low-priced to high-priced."

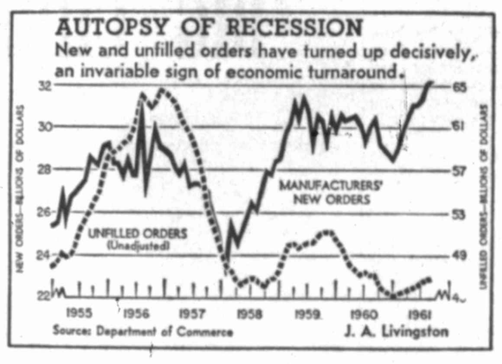

But at Ford, there's satisfaction. Automotive News, weekly trade newspaper, not only has broken out a third classification of cars, "intermediates" between the "compacts" and the "standards," but has put the Ford Fairlane in this new group, where Ford wanted it.

FORD IS ALREADY blazoning in electric lights in Detroit the message, "compact-priced Fairlane." Implication: More car for less money.

Howard E. Hallas, public relations director at American Motors, scornfully called the new class the "indeterminates." To him, a compact is any American car under 200 inches. This cut-off was arbitrarily chosen by George Romney, American Motors chairman and president, when he launched his assault on gas-guzzling dinosaurs. The Fairlane measures 197.6 inches and the Rambler Classic 190.

THE "INTERMEDIATE" classification not only sets the Fairlane apart from the small-sized compacts, Rambler American, Corvair, Falcon, Chevy II, Lark, and Valiant, but also from General Motors' F-85, Special, and Tempest, the Dodge Lancer, the Rambler Classic and Ambassador, and the Mercury Comet.

Despite the tempest over compacts, the four Detroit-based companies can merge their prejudices on the common business outlook. It's good. Once again, a seven-million-car year bobs up in forecasts. In earnest!

WHEN JAMES M. Roche, vice president in charge of distribution at General Motors, predicted sales of 7,200,000 for 1962 two months ago, business analysts—and even economists in the auto industry—regarded it as whistling in the new models. The all-time high was 7.2 million in '55.

But Robert J. Eggert, marketing research manager of the Ford division, told a meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board last week that a 7,000,000-car year (including about 400,000 foreigns) is possible. This tops the official Ford executive forecast by about 400,000.

AT AMERICAN Motors, Romney was in complete accord. And at Chrysler, a 6,500,000 to 7,000,000 range is used.

All companies with the exception of Chrysler, which is still in the throes of reorganization at the top, scored notable advances over a year ago in sales, which in the first ten days of November, seasonally adjusted, ran at an annual rate above seven million.

The good-business rationale is so simple that Dr. George H. Brown, another Ford economist, says it doesn't "demand any great intellectual effort to be optimistic on auto sales through the first half of '62."

USED-CAR PRICES have been strong, which will enable car buyers to get favorable trade-ins. Rising employment and rising personal income have increased capacity to buy. And many owners of three- and four-year-old cars have long been out of instalment debt.

Merely on the basis of economic history, the business recovery has plenty of follow-through. Industrial production made its low in February—102 in the Federal Reserve Board index. It's now 113. Since the average upturn from a recession lasts 18 to 20 months, good business ought to last, at a minimum, into July next year.

BROWN WOULD grant that there's nothing sacrosanct or automatic about the 18-to-20 month upcycle. However, the business cycle isn't an economic happenstance. It derives direction and duration from industrial habit. And after a period of inventory contraction ends, it usually takes at least 18 months for business men to become over-expanded.

As Brown puts it, "I'd have to see some definite evidence that the expansion wouldn't last for 18 months, before I'd be skeptical about it."

THE DECISIVE upturn in new and unfilled orders support his point of view (see chart). New orders are at an all-time high, and unfilled orders have climbed in seven of the last eight months.

As far as I can see, only a sudden adverse turn in foreign affairs—notably, in confidence in in the dollar — would upset these carefully calculated presumptions.

Gout Attack Can Come Without Warning

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What causes gout and how long does it last?—G.G."

Gout is one of the oldest diseases known to man—and we still don't know what causes it. Oh, we know it has something to do with the way the body metabolizes (or uses) protein and the uric acid which is a by-product. People with gout have a high level of uric acid in the blood. Lumps and crystals of uric acid and salts of the acid form in the tissues (called tophi.)

Mainly gout attacks the joints although these tophi may form anywhere—in the ear lobes, the skin and around affected joints.

The joint pain resembles arthritis—but it is different in that an attack can come on without warning, perhaps while you are asleep at night. Yet between attacks the patient is quite comfortable.

How long does an attack last? Anywhere from a few days to several weeks—unless recognized as being gout, and treated.

Colchicine, a very old drug, remains the most widely used and one of the most effective drugs for relieving an attack and sufferers learn to keep some on hand. It must be taken in adequate doses. However, it may upset the intestinal tract. Other drugs are phenylbutazone and its derivative, oxyphenbufazone, which are effective when colchicine may not be effective or may be too upsetting to the digestion. In severe cases the steroid hormone, ACTH, may be necessary.

With these various drugs used properly, attacks of gout can be terminated in from one to three days. There is no need to suffer longer. As any victim will tell you, gout can be very painful when an attack strikes.

Although there's no known cure, a great deal can be done to help the body get rid of excess uric acid between attacks. Among such drugs are small daily doses of colchicine, probenecid, and sulfinpyrazone.

There's no predicting how often attacks may come: Every month or two or three, or only once or twice a year. Some patients with careful use of drugs and by taking care of themselves go for years without an attack—so it's worthwhile to be careful.

Gout (which attacks men in a ratio of about 50 to 1) most commonly afflicts the joint of the big toe, but it can affect any other joint or joints, including the spine. All too often it isn't recognized, which is a great shame, because so much can be done to relieve it.

Sometimes we can see an obvious cause of a recurrence; sometimes not. Attacks are more likely in spring and fall; they may follow surgery, use of certain drugs or injections as liver extract; injury, alcoholic flings, excessive eating, infections.

I'm often asked about a "diet for gout." Diet no longer is considered as important as it once was. Excesses, of course, should be avoided. It is thought wise to cut down on protein and fat during an attack, and also purine foods (beans, peas, coffee, tea, and "organ meats" such as sweetbreads, etc.)

The rest of the time a perfectly normal, balanced diet appears to be as good as any.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is a brain wave?—N. E."

Tiny electrical impulses are constantly occurring in the brain, and can be detected and recorded by an electro-encephalogram, or E.E.G. These readings are useful in diagnosis of convulsions, suspected epilepsy, tumors, or brain injury, among other things.

NOTE TO J.H.: I don't know of any type of cataract that cannot be removed surgically at the appropriate time. Age is not a matter of any importance in such cases.

Around The Rim

Contribution To Latin Research

One of the most cheering reports to reach this column in many a moon is that some high school people are reading it. This is more than a fellow has a right to expect.

And they're not just reading to pass the time, either. They're researching! Can you imagine?

What they're doing is looking for Latin derivatives, and one never knows where you'll find one of these things.

But they are in the right place. I am an old Latin expert. Well do I remember that the first year was given over to conjugations, the next year to Caesar, the third year to Cicero, and the fourth year to Charles Laughton in Spartacus.

To tell the truth I never got beyond Caesar, but I am told that Cicero was just a big windbag. Caesar was the fellow who discovered that Gaul was trifurcated, and it ain't been the same since. (If you'll note the "conjugations" and the "trifurcated" you'll see that we're already pretty deep into this.)

Anyway, let's get to the derivatives. If these kids want 'em, by golly, I'm gonna throw some out:

Avuncular—Pertains to the old geezer you hope is going to send you a hefty check for Christmas.

Beatify—You begin to feel this way if the check does come through.

Connubial — Commonly used with the word bliss, but some men (not me!) at times wonder why.

Decrepit—What you eventually will be whether you have bliss or not.

Equanimity—The attitude to try to adopt toward getting decrepit.

Fugnacious—Well, I was looking in the dictionary and ran across it.

Gratuitous—Commonly used with the word insult, although there ought to be other ways to drop it into your conversation now and then.

Hallucination—Something that a lot of us have pretty often. They seldom pay off.

Inhibition—Something that most of us ought to have more of.

Juvenile — And let's leave delinquency out of this. I am a man who stands for juvenile achievement.

Lax — We're beginning to get a little loose here.

Magnify—But this makes it look bigger.

Narcolepsy — More of us are afflicted with this than we care to admit.

Obese—Now let's not get personal!

Pacify—If you say pacifistic, you get all the obeser.

Quinary—This sounds just awfully, awfully Latin.

Recuperate—There'll be time for this pretty soon now.

Sacroiliac—Not sure about this, but after all, it's made up of sacrum and ilium, and how do they sound?

Tutor—Simple enough. The Latin teacher who will be going nuts.

Unite—Students should do so in protest against excessive research.

Vista—A South Rome term, like the little girl on the front porch hollering in the house at her Mama, "Mama, better fix yore hair. There's vistas comin'."

You-all — When the vistas got there, Mama said, "Shore proud to see you-all."

If you're real alert you'll note that not all the letters of the alphabet have been used. Looked like to me that the Greeks monopolized the x's and z's. And as for the k's and w's, I figgered the kids and wives would do. After all, the old Romans had them, didn't they?

Another Battle Of The Bombers

WASHINGTON. — One of the significant political contests, promising to take the President's time and tax his patience in the coming session of Congress is over a decision by the civilian command of the Pentagon that steps on some very influential toes.

This is the decision against the spending of an additional $780,000,000 appropriated by Congress for more B-52 bombers and for the further development of the B-70 and the Dyna Soar. As so often in the past, the powerful aircraft industry is determined to resist any effort to cut back on the production of manned aircraft where a considerable proportion of plant and payrolls are concentrated.

BOTH PRESIDENTS Truman and Eisenhower made the same move and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara feels he is on strong ground. The Defense Department is circulating an analysis showing that the present fleet of bombers includes nearly 600 long-range B-52s, plus a number of supersonic B-58 medium bombers.

The cost of buying another B-52 wing, including the necessary air-refueling tankers and air-to-ground missiles, and operating them for five years would be $1 billion, according to a department estimate. This would mean an increase of only about seven per cent in B-52 bomber strength, which is only one element of the total nuclear striking force.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY in a recent review of the 1962 budget told members of his Cabinet and other agency heads that Congress has made it clear appropriations are only a ceiling and not a mandate to spend. Nevertheless, the forces opposing the stand of the President and his Secretary of Defense are mobilizing for a stiff fight.

A potent factor will be the Air Force Association. The 50,000 members of this group are former Air Force officers and men who resent any move reducing the service to which they give their loyalty.

BUT 75 PER CENT of the revenue of the Air Force Association comes directly from the aircraft and electronics industry. Of the total, 65 per cent is derived from advertising placed by industry in association publications and 10 per cent from a program financed by the "industrial associates" of the AFA. The result is a powerful combination of the fly boys and the men who make the manned aircraft and the missiles.

At the annual convention in Philadelphia in September the association issued a statement of policy that stirred considerable controversy. Calling for a wide range of immediate steps, including expansion of the manned-bomber program and the production of the B-70, the statement seemed to some critics to say that war was inevitable if Soviet communism is to be eliminated.

THIS HAS BEEN taken up by the extreme right apparently to the embarrassment of the association. An editorial in the group's magazine, Air Force and Space Digest, speaks of the "unwanted" approbation of what the editorial calls the "reactionary irresponsible."

The ideological lines of the struggle are clear enough. Less clear is the politics of defense spending and the pressures generated in Congress.

BUT IF THE President stands firm, as his two immediate predecessors did, it is apparently true that he cannot be compelled to spend the money. The case for America's combined nuclear striking power — bombers, land missiles, Polaris submarines — is to be put as effectively as possible to Congress and the Country. And on that case the President and his Secretary of Defense mean to stand.

The Old Story Of West's Hesitation

WASHINGTON. — The Soviet Union now has embarked on a far more dangerous aggression than in her current offensive around Berlin. The aim is to encircle Scandinavia and cut off Norway, Sweden and Denmark, as well as Finland, from association with the West in any military, political or economic ties.

This could mean the enforced withdrawal of Norway and Denmark from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It could mean the domination of hitherto neutral Sweden.

THE SOVIET procedure, as usual, is to move cautiously step by step to see how the West reacts. The West has been silent thus far. Several days have passed since the Moscow government put its heavy hand on Finland, but the rest of the world seems to have accepted without much protest this Soviet intrusion into the affairs of a sovereign independent nation.

Step by step also, as the Communists attempt to encircle Northern Europe and keep on pressing in East Berlin, they continue to provoke trouble in Southeast Asia. They are widening, moreover, their offensive in Latin America as they try to get a foothold in the Dominican Republic through a Castro-type revolution that would give them a dominant position there as in Cuba.

WHEN WILL the West wake up and call a halt? President Kennedy is reported to be toughening his position, which would be good news. His speech at Seattle last week, however, had in it a paragraph that was interpreted as the symptom of a wavering attitude. He said:

"But as long as we know precisely what comprises our vital interests and our long-range goals, we have nothing to fear from negotiations at the appropriate time, and nothing to gain by refusing them. At a time when a single clash could escalate overnight into a holocaust of mushroom clouds, a great power does not prove its firmness by leaving the task of exploring the other's intentions to sentries or those without full responsibility. Nor can ultimate weapons rightfully be employed, or the ultimate sacrifice rightfully demanded of our citizens, until every reasonable solution has been explored."

BUT AREN'T the Soviet "intentions" pretty clear already? What can negotiations by diplomats reveal that has not long since been disclosed? It is the "intentions" of the West that need to be fully proclaimed. The Moscow government broke faith on its pledge for a moratorium on nuclear testing and now, after having conducted the atmospheric tests it has needed, it is ready to enter negotiations on the condition that the United States refrain from testing.

Today, in fact, the big question is whether in a crisis the West will act in unison. Already there are strong and influential groups in the countries of Western Europe which want to appease the Soviets and take a chance on their being "reasonable."

THE REAL PROBLEM is whether to meet the crisis head on. Europeans hesitate to do so. Some American officials think such a course could be fatal and that the time to press hard and face a showdown with the Russians is now—when the nuclear power of the West is preponderant—and not three years hence when the Russians may not only have encircled much of Western Europe but when their nuclear strength may have come up to the level of the West.

It's the same old story of hesitation and timidity in international affairs which in the past have characterized the policies of Western Europe.

PLAINLY THE TIME is approaching when a major decision must be made by the West. A war limited to conventional forces means a Russian victory, as they have superiority in land troops. Mr. Eisenhower, as President, left no doubt that, if any conflict of arms of a major character arose, nuclear weapons would be used by the United States. An explicit reiteration of that policy is essential today if the Soviets are to be deterred in their program of aggression.

It Takes Winter To Make Car Owners Check Cooling System

It takes winter to make motorists do what they should do all year—look after the cooling system of their cars.

When the mercury dips below the freezing mark, they begin to ask if a couple of quarts of antifreeze need to be added.

Many versions of antifreeze have been marketed over the years. Immediately after World War II a salt base antifreeze was marketed, but the salt caused corrosion damage and its use was soon discontinued.

"Back in the days of the Model T, even kerosene was used occasionally," Stanley Peurifoy, Perco Radiator and Muffler Service, said. "But with the low cost of antifreeze products available today, anyone who can afford a car can well afford to protect it against freezing."

Alcohol base antifreezes are not used extensively in West Texas.

"Alcohol boils at a low temperature and the antifreeze protection will soon be gone," Peurifoy said. "With the weather as erratic as it is here, an alcohol base antifreeze is not economical."

Ethylene glycol base antifreezes, with rust inhibitors, are the most popular here.

The primary purpose of antifreeze is to protect against freezing and corrosion. Even with a hard freeze, if the system is adequately protected, the water will only turn mushy instead of freezing solid.

The rust inhibitor in most antifreeze products serves well for protection during winter, Peurifoy said, but the product should not be asked to do more than it is designed to do.

"Rust preventives wear out and they should be drained out with the antifreeze in the spring," he said. "New preventives should then be put in the radiator for good protection."

Even the brands labeled "permanent type" should be drained, he said. These products are permanent only in that they will not boil away during winter. Manufacturers of this type recommend draining each spring.

This does not apply to the extended-life products which are now on the market. These should be distinguished from the products which call for annual change.

The water in hoses which are exposed usually freeze first. If that is the only problem, water in the motor can be heated by running the car to warm it up and then turning off the ignition until the water in the hoses has melted.

"There are many ways to thaw out a frozen cooling system," Peurifoy said, "but the best thing is to eliminate the problem before it arises."

Ruth Chatterton, Famed Actress, Is Dead At 67

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—Ruth Chatterton, who took a dare at the age of 14 and went on to gain renown on the stage, screen and as a novelist, died in a hospital Friday. She was 67.

Miss Chatterton was hospitalized Tuesday after being stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage as she entertained friends in the large old farmhouse at nearby Redding, Conn., that had been her home for several years.

She had lived alone since the death last year of her third husband, Barry Thompson.

Miss Chatterton made her New York stage debut in 1911 when she appeared as Isolde Brand in "The Great Name." Some of her later performances were in "The Rainbow," "Daddy Long-Legs," "Come Out of the Kitchen," "A Marriage of Convenience," "Moonlight and Honeysuckle," and "Second Best Bed."

Her last Broadway appearance was in "Idiot's Delight," in 1951.

She began her film career in 1928 in "Sins of the Father" and later appeared in such movies as "The Doctor's Secret," "Madame X," "The Laughing Lady," "Sarah and Son," and "Dodsworth."

Jailed Minister Is Ending Fasting

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A jailed minister was gradually bringing his stomach back to normal today after 25 days of "fasting for justice."

The Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin, 55, of Cincinnati, sipped three cans of orange juice and four cans of soup Friday—his first food since he was arrested Oct. 29.

"He's just as spry as can be," said Ovid Lovelace, superintendent of the Haywood County Workhouse, where McCrackin is serving out $72.50 in fines at $2 a day.

The United Presbyterian minister contends he was convicted on a trumped up loitering charge because he came here to help Negroes involved in a civil rights drive. Sheriff S. T. Hunter contends the minister courted arrest in order to get publicity.

What Happens When We DIE?

At Grandmother's funeral the minister had finished speaking and the organist paused a moment. In the silence everyone heard Elsie ask,

"Mother, what happens when we die?"

It's a question grown-ups ask, too. Mr. Brown lost his beloved wife. Was she only in the grave? In hell? In heaven? Mrs. White lost her three-year-old boy. What happened to him when he died?

That evening Elsie's mother told her.

"Grandma believed in Jesus. She said to Him, 'Dear Jesus, I trust you. Take my soul and please take care of me.'"

"Did He take care of her?" Elsie asked.

"Oh, yes. He will do that for us, too. God takes our souls to heaven. The body stays buried until judgment day. Then God calls it back to life, makes us perfect and takes us to be with Him."

This happens to those who trust Jesus as the Savior from their sin. The others are forsaken by God, and that is what the Bible calls hell.

We'd like to tell you more about this. There isn't a more important subject. Will you visit our church and hear about it?

DEAR ABBY

'Performance' Out Of Place

DEAR ABBY: Last Sunday I attended a wedding, and would like to know if what happened there is customary and proper. After the bride and groom exchanged their marriage vows, he placed the wedding ring on her finger and then came the kiss, which was held much longer than I think was necessary. Here is what got me: After they let loose of each other, everyone started to applaud. I never have heard of such a thing in a church. What was the reason for it? HORRIFIED

DEAR HORRIFIED: The guests "performance," and responded accordingly. That kiss was out of place in church, and so was the applause.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When are we women going to learn to stick together? Someone should start a foundation for women who want to leave their husbands but have to stay put because they have small children to raise, no means of supporting themselves and no place to go. I wish I had a dollar for every case where the husband was chasing around and living it up while his wife had to pretend she didn't know it and just keep her mouth shut. We women should get together and help each other financially through thick and thin and tell the men to go jump in a lake. We could raise our children better without these phony fathers. AN ABBY FAN

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is an S.O.S. I am ready to blow my top. Ever since my daughter got an engagement ring, her boy friend has practically been living with us.

He comes here every morning for breakfast, and takes her to work. He calls for her at work and brings her home. Of course he stays for dinner every night. And he doesn't go home until it's light outside. He even brings me his laundry to do. I am fed up. Do I have to put up with this? Or is this the way all the young people are nowadays? READY TO SCREAM

DEAR READY: Evidently your future son-in-law doesn't know that if a working girl (engaged or otherwise) doesn't keep sensible hours, she is asking for nervous exhaustion. Your daughter should tell him, (1) to clear out by midnight; (2) to wait for a dinner invitation before staying; (3) to arrange his own laundry service. But be fair with him—perhaps this has been your daughter's doing. P.S. Too much togetherness is dynamite.

FG Dragons Win Regional Title

By CAROLE WADE

FLOWER GROVE—The Flower Grove Dragons played the Pyote Panthers on Thanksgiving Day for the Regional I (six man) football title. The Dragons defended their regional title with a score of 40-26. The game was played at Tornado Field in Lamesa at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday.

Our second six weeks of school has just been completed — that means one-third of the school year is over. The past week has been a short one but not so short in news. School dismissed Wednesday at 2 p.m. for the holidays.

Class favorites were elected and their pictures were made last week. The senior class favorites are Josie Landers and Ronnie Deatherage; juniors, Betty Langston, Glynn Caughman; sophomores, Veneta Oaks, Dannie Langham; freshmen, Naomi Caughman, Mike Roman.

The seniors are striving to meet their first deadline for the school annual. The seniors have requested that all snapshot pages be turned in by Nov. 27. If the snapshot pages are not in by that date, they will not be in the annual. The senior class has dedicated the 1961 annual to Mr. Newbury, our new superintendent.

Each class in school has donated to purchase a new projector for the school. The projector has arrived and everyone is proud of it. It is an excellent addition to the school.

The Flower Grove student council met and decided to have a Slave Day on Dec. 1. The student council also discussed Kid's Day, Ranch Day, Dress-Up Day, and Hobo Day. These will be at a future date. Boys, bring your money and buy yourself a slave.

Twelve lettermen were measured for football jackets Tuesday. The jackets are to be trimmed in leather.

Five football boys made the all district team from Flower Grove this season. Those receiving this honor are Jerry Webb, Beaver Ramsey, Dan Lemon, Ronnie Deatherage, and Lee Roman. Two of these, Ronnie Deatherage and Dan Lemon, will play in the all-star game next spring. Jerry, Dan, Ronnie and Burt Oaks are our senior football players and have done a good job this season. The Dragons won district this season with a record of four wins and no losses.

The teachers selected students last week for Who's Who. They are: mathematics, Beaver Ramsey; science, Lee Roman; English, Lawana Froman; world history, Dan Lemon; American history, Butch Howard; business, Martha Carmichael; typing, Mary Wilson; homemaking, Betty Langston; FFA, Glynn Caughman; FHA, Janette Barkowsky.

Saundra Griffith Crowned 1961 Fall Festival Queen

By BONNIE SIMPSON

FORSAN — We just finished taking our second six weeks exams Tuesday. Monday, the first, fourth, fifth and sixth period exams were given, and Tuesday, second and third period exams were taken. I hope everyone did well on them.

Nov. 12 an FHA meeting was held for the purpose of discussing the Christmas tea and breakfast. A program on Family Unity was given by Dena Parker and Glynda Roberts. The devotional was given by Paula Gordon. All members were urged to bring five Christmas cards to be sent to the State Hospital. A breakfast was given Nov. 17 for FHA members and their mothers.

A student council meeting was held for the purpose of discussing more projects. It was decided that a lamp will be bought for the piano. A committee was also appointed to look into the cost of a whirl-pool for the athletic department. Calendar sales were also counted. The two top salesmen were Dena Parker and Paula Gordon. The Junior High top salesman was Judy Hughes, who received a pen and pencil set.

The junior class is now selling Mrs. Snyder's Pecan Goodies. This is another one of their money-making projects, and it is really good candy. If anyone is interested, please see a junior soon. Sales will stop Dec. 12.

At the annual Fall Festival, Saundra Griffith was crowned Queen and Walter Fields, King. The High School Choir directed by Mrs. Tom Spell provided background music for the program which was put on by grade school. Among the songs they sang were "Oklahoma," "The Children's Marching Song," "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair," (all girls' voices) and "Seventy - Six Trombones," (all boys' voices). The choir was accompanied by Darla Dunagan at the piano. Mrs. Hughes won the turkey which was raffled off by the junior class.

Everyone in English III is busily working on an autobiography.

Tuesday the boys and girls basketball teams journeyed to Coahoma for their second game of the season. The girls won their game 43-37. The boys lost 45-37.

Attention seniors—Don't forget to bring $3.50 for invitation cards as soon as possible.

School was dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Thanksgiving Is Theme Of Program

By LINDA THOMAS

This was a very short week, for school let out Wednesday at 2:45 for Thanksgiving holidays.

Wednesday afternoon the seniors presented a play on the "Real Meaning of Thanksgiving." To begin with they had a panel discussion consisting of Jennine Hodnett, Joe Adams, Jim Whitaker, Margie Appleton, Frankie Frenza, Jonnie Wayland, and Ronnie Lindsey. Then other seniors put on a skit on how the poorer people may feel at Thanksgiving and how the richer people could help this.

The high school gymnasium floor is being refinished over the holidays.

Friday the Girls' Basketball "A" team worked out in the junior high gym. The girls and boys teams play Sands next Tuesday.

Last Tuesday the CHS teams played the Forsan Buffs. Both of the boys teams came out on top. The girls didn't win their game but they were ahead up until the end of the third quarter.

BSHSers Have Two Assemblies

By MARILYN GUM

I'm sure that everyone is thoroughly enjoying the Thanksgiving Holidays.

The annual Thanksgiving assembly was held Wednesday during fifth period. Rev. Donald Hungerford, minister of the Episcopal Church, was guest speaker. The BSHS Choir, led by Mr. Ellsworth Winden, sang two selections, "Thy Greatness Lord" and "Thanksgiving Proclamation and Harvest Hymn." A reading by Cal Boardman accompanied the last hymn. Following the assembly, school was dismissed for four glorious days.

An important date to remember is Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m. At this time the Amateur Talent Show will be presented. The program will include acts for family fun and entertainment. The show will be held at the high school auditorium. Tickets are 35 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Door prizes will be given away. Tickets can be purchased from any DE or ICT student. These two clubs are sponsoring the talent show. Local amateur talent will perform with songs, dancing, and instrumentals. First, second and third prizes will be given to the performers.

John Castleman, teacher of American history, government, and Texas history, was seriously injured in an accident on Nov. 12. His condition is reported to be comparatively better, and he will try to return to BSHS after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Fred Lowery, acclaimed everywhere as the world's foremost whistling artist, will be in BSHS Nov. 28. This is the second in a series of Southern School Assemblies to be held here this year. It will begin at 9:45. Admission price is 10 cents per person. Fred has appeared with such people as Bob Hope, Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan, Jackie Gleason, Edgar Bergen, Bing Crosby, and Stan Kenton. His records, such as "Indian Love Call" (which sold two million copies), "The High and the Mighty," "Theme from the Proud Ones," and countless others have reaped fantastic success.

Sara Homan was recently selected as the editor of the El Rodeo for the school year 1962-1963. Serving as co-editors of the Corral will be Connie Randel and Judy Williams. Jeannie Bolson will fill the place of associate editor for the coming year. The associate editor of the annual will be chosen later in the year. The editors and their associates will attend a workshop on the campus of Texas Tech for one week in August.

The senior class is now selling candy for the purpose of raising money for their gift to BSHS.

The Big Spring Chapter Future Farmers of America attended a leadership contest in Coahoma recently. Placing second in the Senior Chapter Conducting team were Johnny Turner, Jimmy Welch, Mike Houston, Ronnie Crownover, and Freddie White.

The basketball season opened Friday night here with Andrews as their first opponent.

The three chapters of the Homemaking Department held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Bo Bowen, county health nurse, was guest speaker.

The Big Spring Jaycees are sponsoring a Freedom Through Education Forum in the Howard County Junior College Auditorium. These programs are a combination of lectures and films. The programs explain to you how to deal with Communism and how to defeat its purpose, the enslavement of the free world. The last program will be on Monday, Nov. 27. The program will be "How to Save America, Your Responsibility." There is no admission price to these programs.

Tommy Loving Wins Megaphone Record

Tommy Loving, freshman at Runnels Junior High School, is this week's winner of the free record given away by the Record Shop through the Megaphone.

In addition to a free 45-rpm to be given away each week, Oscar Glickman, owner of the Record Shop, will offer a long-playing record as a bonus once a month.

Bulldogs Win Games

By MARSHA BRISTOW

STANTON — When I said last week that basketball season was starting, I couldn't have said a truer thing! When our season started, it started with a bang! We are very proud of our girls' "B" team. They won second place in the Howard County "B" tournament last weekend. Good going, girls! Also our "A" string girls beat the Coahoma Bulldogs last Friday night and our boys beat the Bulldogs. Saturday night both of the boys' teams beat the Roscoe team. Tuesday night our teams traveled to Sands to play their teams. Our teams are off to a rousing start. Here's hoping that we can keep on this winning streak!

The band goes to contest Dec. 2 at Odessa. Each morning you can see the band marching up and down the football field. They are working hard in order to get a better rating than they did last year. Also we have some girls entering the twirling contest. They are: Wilma Doshier, Nina Yater, Judy Doshier, and Marsha Bristow. Also Wilma, Nina, and Marsha are entering an ensemble routine.

Wednesday morning in honor of the Thanksgiving season, the Student Council sponsored an assembly. The High School Choir furnished music, and Rev. Uhlman of the First Baptist Church brought the devotional. It seemed to start our holidays out right.

This weekend will bring many of our college students home. We join in with their parents and relatives in welcoming them home. It is always nice to see our friends! Another thing for the college students is a warning to please drive carefully going to school again because we would like to see you at Christmas also!

I would like to say that I hope everyone had a nice Thanksgiving holiday, and that amid all the food and family, none of us lost the real meaning of our Thanksgiving celebration.

Runnels Band Sell Fruitcakes

By CANDY BACUS

I hope all of you are enjoying the Thanksgiving holidays.

Runnels students went all out to celebrate the holidays. They had a Thanksgiving assembly Wednesday afternoon. The Runnels Choir sang and the Rev. Robert Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church, spoke. We would like to thank him for his fine talk.

This was a short school week, but a very busy one for the Future Homemakers. They packed and mailed a lot of Christmas Cards to the patients at McKnight Hospital at Sanitorium, Texas. They also donated and delivered four boxes of food to a needy family so that they would have a thankful holiday. In addition to these activities, the girls served coffee and cookies to the teachers on Wednesday.

The Runnels band is preparing for their trip next Saturday to Odessa for the marching contest. Last Monday night films were made at the dress rehearsal at the new stadium. Wednesday the films were shown to the band members. The band is now in the process of selling fruit cakes. They have sold around 600 dollars worth. The purpose of this sale is to help pay for the new uniforms and other band expenses.

Goliad Names Class Favorites

By ROXANNE BOLTE

Proud possessors of the title, "Class Favorite," are Terry Cauble and David Landrum in the ninth grade, Jackie Crawford and Danny Kirby in the eighth grade, and Debbie Duncan and Richard Cauley in the seventh grade.

If you need fruitcake or candy for Christmas, be sure to buy yours from a member of Goliad's band. Fruitcakes sell for $3.70 for two pounds, $5.25 for three pounds, $8.25 for five pounds, and the candy is $1. The sales will continue until Christmas, and both candy and cake are delicious.

The freshman volleyball team, for the first year at Goliad, has its own mascot, Freckles. Freckles, part cocker spaniel, is owned by Roxanne Bolte, and true to the Goliad spirit, he's black and white in color.

A Thanksgiving play presented by the Curtain Club Tuesday proved very entertaining to several of the English classes. It was a modern Thanksgiving playlet entitled "A Note to Myself."

Mrs. Lucille Brokaw, Home Economics teacher, due to an unfortunate twist of fate, slipped and fell in the library and thereby broke two of her ankle bones. The accident occurred when Mrs. Brokaw stepped on a button. In spite of her heavy cast, she is continuing with her classes.

Movie Week Features Several Good Showings

Coming up this week are at least one each among new and returning films which are worth seeing.

Among the new films are a couple that look like they might be pretty fair, and among the returnees are two that will depend more on the individual moviegoer's taste.

* * *

Heading the new movies in promise is "Ring of Fire," written, produced and directed by Andrew and Virginia Stone, that amazing couple reponsible for some previous low-budget but entertaining pictures. The Stones are especially adept at the rising-suspense formula.

They also are adept at taking advantage of occurences which ordinarily would attract no more than usual attention. Their last picture was based on the sinking of an old, worn-out ocean liner whose owners had decreed death for the elderly sea lady. The Stones got aboard, filmed like mad, and spliced their actual ocean shots into scripted film strips—and came up with a real hair-raiser.

In "Ring of Fire," the Stones have whomped up a forest fire, a burning lumber mill and a train tumbling over a trestle, along with the fictional element of a deputy sheriff and a girl held by three hunted criminals.

One thing, however—the Stones haven't yet disappointed their audiences with an unhappy ending.

* * *

What happens when a critic takes a wild guess?

Last week, we took note of a film called "White Feather," starring Robert Wagner, and assumed it was a re-make of an old British classic. Turned out we were thinking of "Four Feathers," which concerned the conquest of the Sudan, whereas "White Feather" was a cowboys and redskins yarn.

At a time like this, one badly needs an alibi: When the studio publicity books aren't made available by regional distributors, one should never assume anything at no time about nothin'. Matter of fact, where Hollywood is concerned, one should never assume, period.

* * *

"Second Time Around" we haven't seen, but if one is to judge by the cast, it ought to be entertaining. Starred are Debbie Reynolds, Steve Forrest, Andy Griffith and Thelma Ritter. Many will want to see this film if only because they are fans of one or more of the actors involved.

* * *

If "X-15" is a failure, there won't be any excuses. The newly released film had the full cooperation of the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Authority, including usage of previously classified motion pictures of the X-15 in flight. The idea was conceived by aeronautics engineer Tony Lazzarino, picked up by Frank Sinatra's movie company. James Stewart, who is brigadier general in the U. S. Air Force as well as one of the nation's best actors, is narrator. At least one of the actors (Charles Bronson) has proved himself in TV's "Man With A Camera" and in the movie, "The Magnificent Seven." Expert advisors were all over the place during filming. And, there are scenes of outer space photographed from the actual X-15.

In any event, "X-15" will prove the contention that science has caught up with science fiction.

* * *

Leading the list of returning films is "The Bridges at Toko-Ri," a story of American fliers during the Korean unpleasantness, and based directly on the story by James A. Michener, who in turn was writing about nonfictional people and events.

It was one of the best films to come out of the Korean War. The battle scenes are realistic and exciting, and the characters, true to the Michener tradition, are warm and human.

* * *

If you like Bob Hope at all, you'll get a laugh out of "Alias Jesse James."

* * *

"The Buccaneer" was produced by the late Cecil B. DeMille, directed by his son-in-law Anthony Quinn, and starred Yul Brynner (with a hairpiece) as the famed pirate, Jean LaFitte.

As usual, liberties were taken with a rather obscure and controversial history — particularly the motivations of LaFitte in joining forces with Andrew Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans. It may or may not have been as depicted, but there is doubt as to the unwavering moral uprightness of LaFitte as depicted in the movie version—it just ain't so. Not that this would detract from his heroism.

Another point—the battle scene is pretty enough, but the film makers went too far in trying to show the courage of the British soldiers. They were brave enough, but not to the point of being mechanical toy soldiers that keep kicking even after being shot down.

Ring Of Fire

Joyce Taylor and David Janssen are held captiive by outlaw Jimmy Johnson in this scene from "Ring of Fire," a suspenseful production by the talented Stone family of Hollywood, playing this week at the State Theatre.

In Trouble

Bob Hope, who has become known, mistakenly, as Jesse James, is in big trouble in this scene from his comedy classic, "Alias Jesse James," returning this week to the State Theatre.

Debbie

Debbie Reynolds is starred with several other top-notch Hollywoodians in "Second Time Around," The film will show through Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.

War Drama

William Holden and Mickey Rooney are downed fliers standing off a Red assault in this scene from the classic film of the Korean War, "The Bridges at Toko-Ri." The picture returns to the screen of the Jet Drive-In Theatre beginning Wednesday.

Space Flight

Contact is maintained with the world's first pilot controlled space ship, the X15, in this scene from "X-15," beginning Thursday at the Jet Theatre. Shown are Kenneth Tobey (in service cap) as an Air Force colonel and James Gregory (seated, left) as the project director.

Real Star Of 'X-15' Is Fabulous Rocket Itself

The true star of "X-15", which opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre, through United Artists release, is the world's first pilot-controlled space vehicle itself: the sleek, swift, black and bold X-15. Filmed in Panavision and Technicolor, "X-15" tells the headline-hot story of the project to put America's manned rocket plane 100 miles above the earth at speeds of 4,000 miles per hour.

It was made with the full cooperation of The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, The Department of Defense, The Air Force, Navy and North American Aviation, Inc., under Frank Sinatra's E-C Productions banner. Howard W. Koch was executive producer for producers Henry Sanicola and Tony Lazzarino, and Richard Donner directed.

David McLean, Charles Bronson, James Gregory and Mary Tyler Moore were recruited from their busy television schedules to play the principal roles in "X-15," much of which was photographed at Edwards Air Force Base, near Lancaster, Calif., where the X-15 Air Force Flight Test Center is located. Because of the government's cooperation, moviegoers will actually see astonishing footage never before shown to the general public, taken during tests of the real X-15 in the fringes of outer space. They will also see F-100 jet fighters, used as "chase" planes, the B-52 "mother ship" from which the X-15 is launched in flight, and scores of thrilling, factual scenes calculated to instruct as well as entertain, in this drama of science fact.

The start of the picture was hailed in Congress by Rep. James C. Corman, Californian on the Science and Astronautics Committee, who stated that government cooperation would ". . . assure that this picture will be accurate and will put this entire area of our defense into its proper perspective."

Two years after Tony Lazzarino began to research the project and fifteen years after the X-15 began its fabulous career, Corman was proved correct. With both the approval and help of the U.S. Government, Lazzarino collaborated with James Warner Bellah to turn out a space thriller which not only depicts the true headline story of the X-15's history-making achievements, but that of the men and women behind those headlines; those who died to make science fiction science fact, and those pioneers who first witnessed the awesome spectacle of space: "black, deep unending, naked and overpoweringly beautiful."

Stamps In The News

Switzerland, the land of picturesque scenery and equally attractive postage stamps, has issued its 1961 Pro Juventute set, advises the Swiss Philatelic Agency in America.

There are five stamps in the 1961 set. The 5 centimes plus 5 dark blue depicts the portrait of Jona Furrer (1805-1865) who devoted his energies to the building and development of the young Swiss Republic. The other four denominations continue the "flowers" series begun in 1958.

The 10 centimes plus 10 shows the sunflower. The 20 c plus 10 features a lily of the valley. The 30 c plus 10 depicts an iris. The 50 c plus 10 illustrates silverweed.

Swiss postal officials have announced that 90 per cent of the net proceeds from the additional charge on each stamp goes to the Pro Juventute Foundation for its various youth relief work. The remaining 10 per cent is for building the Swiss Families and Children's Holiday Village of Pro Juventute.

Here are the latest details on the new United Nations stamp honoring the 15th anniversary of the United Nations Children's Fund for issuance on Dec. 4.

The stamp will be issued in 3-cent, 4-cent and 13-cent denominations. The design consists of a mother bird feeding its young and features the UNICEF Seal. There is a language border "United Nations" in English, Chinese, French, Spanish and Russian. In the upper right corner are the years "1946-1961."

The Republic of China has commemorated the 50th anniversary of the Chinese Institute of Engineers by issuing four new stamps. The new stamps help to publicize to the world the accelerated industrial development taking place on Taiwan and simultaneously celebrate the golden anniversary of Engineers. Depicted on the stamps are an oil refinery, modern steel works, aluminum manufacturing and a fertilizer plant.

Liberia has issued a bicolored set of stamps commemorating the sesquicentennial of the birth of Joseph L. Roberts, that country's first president. The 5 cent shows a portrait of Roberts and the Roberts memorial monument in Monrovia. The 10 cent features a portrait of Roberts, the first presidential residence and the present one. The 25 cent depicts a portrait of Roberts and a view of Providence Island where Liberia's first settlers landed.

Thou Shalt Nots For Santa Claus

NEW YORK (AP) — "Thou shalt nots" for Santa Clauses:

Drink; eat garlic or onions; lean against chimneys or doorways; promise the kids too much.

Forty-eight bearded and costumed sidewalk Santas took the oath Friday in front of a 12-foot papier mache Santa unveiled in Times Square.

Col. John Ford, national field secretary of the Volunteers of America, officially sent them on their way with this advice: "Never promise anything specific to the little boys and girls. Mom and pop may not be able to buy it. Get them all smiling, though. Good luck to you all."
