Negro Woman Is Expelled By Alabama University Officials

Blood Drive Terminates Here Tonight

Tonight is the last night of the Optimist Club's drive to encourage Snyder citizens to have their blood typed.

Registration and typing is being held at the Scurry County Health Unit, located at 911 Twenty-sixth Street. The hours for getting blood typed tonight will be from 7 to 9.

Tonight is the third of a three-night all-out drive being conducted by the Snyder Optimist Club to get as many local citizens as possible to have their blood typed.

"The service is free and it will take only three or four minutes of each person's time to register their blood," Jim McLeod, an Optimist club member and chairman of the drive, said today.

Last night's response was heavy with about 100 persons registering their blood.

McLeod points out that even though a person may know his own type of blood, it is still important for these people to register.

"The primary purpose of the drive is so that the local hospitals will have on record the types of blood of local citizens in case of emergency cases that may arise," McLeod emphasized.

All local citizens who registered their blood here several years ago are asked to re-register tonight.

The Optimists are attempting to bring the blood bank list up-to date.

"It's to each person's own benefit that he have his blood typed," McLeod added.

All persons between the ages of 16-60 are urged to have their blood typed.

Follows Orders To Readmit Her

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Autherine Lucy, Negro coed, today was expelled from the University of Alabama for unproved charges that school authorities conspired in mob action against her.

There was no official announcement from the Board of Trustees, but members confirmed that the action was agreed upon at a meeting last night. They asked that their names not be used.

The action came within hours after U. S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms yesterday ordered the board to vacate an order excluding the 26-year-old Birmingham woman from the campus for safety reasons. He gave the university until Monday to take the action readmitting her.

There was no immediate comment from the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, which had sponsored her 2½-year legal battle to get admittance to the all-white school.

The action took NAACP officials here by surprise.

A hasty effort was made to reach Thurgood Marshall, NAACP legal counsel who represented Miss Lucy at the hearing before Judge Grooms yesterday. He had planned to leave here today.

At the start of the hearing yesterday, Marshall was allowed to drop allegations that the trustees and university officials nam d as defendants had conspired with outsiders in mob rioting that drove Miss Lucy from the campus at Tuscaloosa Feb. 6.

Marshall told the court that "after careful investigation we are unable to produce any evidence to support these allegations. This amendment takes out every single allegation of conspiracy."

Attorney Andrew Thomas called the conspiracy charges "scurrilous." He objected heatedly when Judge Grooms eliminated them from the action, saying that the university should be given an opportunity to answer them.

Miss Lucy had said she was "naturally pleased" when the judge ruled in her favor yesterday.

In Birmingham, the Lucy decision was bigger news in the Birmingham Post-Herald than President Eisenhower's announcement that he was available for renomination.

The first major reaction came from Ace Carter, executive secretary of the North Alabama White Citizens Councils, an affiliation of 45 prosegregation organizations.

Carter called a mass meeting here for March 9 and predicted an attendance of 15,000.

"We believe we have found a solution to Grooms' ruling," said the anti-integration leader, but he would not say what the solution was. He added: "We believe in fundamental correction."

On the university campus at Tuscaloosa, scene of the rioting which drove Miss Lucy from the school, all was quiet during the night.

Grooms sent Miss Lucy back to school despite dire predictions from defense witnesses during a hearing yesterday in his small, walnut-paneled courtroom that her reappearance would be met with violence, and possibly by assassination.

Last July, the Kentucky-born judge ordered the university to accept the onetime Birmingham secretary as a coed in the wake of a Supreme Court decision that she was entitled to admission.

Miss Lucy actually enrolled in the school Feb. 2 but when she attempted to attend classes, four days of rioting broke out among 3,000 students and others described by university officials and police as "outsiders."

On Feb. 6, the university's Board of Trustees barred Miss Lucy from the campus for "her own safety" and for "the safety of others."

With the legal assistance of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, Miss Lucy asked Grooms to cite 13 university trustees and officials for contempt of his July order.

In his decision, Grooms vacated the contempt motion. He ruled that the university officials had "acted in good faith" under the riotous circumstances.

Information Plans Mapped For Chamber

What the Chamber of Commerce is, how it functions, and its operating structure, along with how these facts can be presented to residents, were discussed yesterday in the first meeting of the chamber's education committee for this work year.

The committee, headed by Fred Auforth, discussed proposed objectives of the panel for the year, and heading the list was a general broadening of the scope and framework of activity, including its function as a general conduit of public information relating to the principle projects of all the chamber committees.

This should be done in the future committeemen felt, to enlighten residents of the county as to what the chamber is doing for them, what it represents to them, and how it is functioning to make the city and county a better place in which to live.

The committee decided to send delegations of the committee to visit other standing committees of the chamber toward an end of explaining pros and cons of principle projects of each committee.

Next meeting of the committee will be held March 15 at 7:30 a.m. at the Hilander.

Preparations Made For Music Festival

Three of the six clinicians for the second annual West Texas Music Festival are due to arrive here, tonight, and they will begin tomorrow to work with Snyder music organizations for one day before the festival is held.

Those due in Snyder tonight are composer Paul Yoder of Chicago, Dr. Olaf C. Christiansen, director of the famed St. Olaf College Choir at Northfield, Minn.; and Raymond Rhea, coordinator of music for the Corpus Christi public schools. Coming early tomorrow morning from Los Angeles will be Clarence Sawhill, director of bands for UCLA.

These men will work with the high school and junior high concert bands and high school and junior high choirs all day tomorrow and they will be conductors tomorrow at 8 p.m. in a pre-festival concert at the high school auditorium.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at 75 cents each by members of both bands and choirs or at the Snyder Drug or Chamber of Commerce. Proceeds from the concert will help to pay for the huge festival, which is sponsored jointly by the Snyder schools and Chamber of Commerce.

Working with these four as clinicians during the music festival will be Jerry Newman, director of bands for West Texas State College, and R. E. McKiski, director of bands for Midwestern University.

Coming here for the festival will be some 2,500 high school and junior high students with 41 band and choral organizations, not including students in the Snyder groups. The bands and choirs are from cities and towns throughout Texas, largely West Texas and the Panhandle.

In addition to the concert Friday night, other activities in connection will be open for public observance. No admission will be charged for any of the Saturday activities. Bands will be working throughout the day at the high school, while choirs will be at the First Baptist Church.

Three mass concerts are scheduled for Saturday afternoon as part of the festival activities. The first will be at 1 p.m., when all the bands in the festival will parade downtown and will play three numbers on the courthouse square under direction of Sawhill, Yoder, and Christiansen.

At that time, a welcome address will be made by Jake Phillips, mayor pro-tem. A brief talk will also be made by Grady Elder, Chamber of Commerce manager. Trophy awards will be presented to the top marching bands in each of the four classes.

At 2 p.m., a mass choir concert with all high school choirs participating, will be held at the First Baptist Church under direction of Christiansen.

At 3 p.m., a mass choir concert with all junior high choirs participating, will be held at the First Methodist Church.

Host directors are Melvin Montgomery, school instrumental director; Bob Clinton, school choral director; Tim Dennis, junior high band director, Phil Cherry, associate school band director, and Mrs. Landis Lee, junior high choral director.

Study Slated By Chamber On Projects

The health and sanitation committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday scheduled study on several projects set up for the panel in its work program.

Ernest Sears heads the committee.

After discusion on promotion of securing state approval on the Snyder water supply, Sears appointed Roy Dunlap and J. E. Craven to make further studies. It was expressed by the committee that such state approval can be accomplished this year. It was brought out that before the city water supply can be approved, the city water wells which formerly supplied all the water must be disconnected and used only in emergencies. The city now gets its water from Lake J. B. Thomas.

The panel discussed the 1956 cleanup campaign, and Sears appointed Craven, Jimmy Tatum, and Howard Harrington to work with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in planning its annual city cleanup campaign.

After a short discussion on pest control, it was decided that Craven would report back to the committee on what aid the Snyder-Scurry County Health Unit would need in promotion of pest control here. Craven is chief of sanitation at the health unit.

On establishment of a fire prevention week here, B. F. Pinnell and F. G. Hoefer were appointed to work with Fire Chief Durwood Porter and report back to the committee.

Reminder On Vehicle Registration Given

About 7,000 or more vehicles which must be registered here for this year have not been issued license plates yet, according to Jim Ikard, county tax assessor-collector, who reminded county residents that the registration deadline is March 31.

By this morning, a total of 1,648 vehicles had been registered here. By the deadline last year, there were 8,691 registrations, so there must be about 7,000 more before there are as many vehicles registered here this year by deadline as last year.

Receivership Action Taken

AUSTIN (AP) — District Judge Charles Betts put American Home Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Dallas into permanent receivership today.

The firm did not contest the state's allegations. The suit was filed Feb. 21.

The state charged the company was insolvent had done unlicensed business out of the state and that officers and directors had withdrawn cash for activities not connected with the company's business.

Other charges were that the firm had failed to pay the cost of an examination by agents of the Insurance Commission and had failed to carry fire insurance on property on which it had made mortgage loans and had circulated information to the public calculated to show that it was connected with the United States government.

Carl Jordan is listed as president and E. M. Jordan, secretary.

Permanent receivership was ordered yesterday for another Dallas insuance company and the Insurance Commission postponed a show cause hearing against a Denton firm.

Ordered into receivership was the Trans-County Mutual Insurance Co. of Dallas, Dist. Judge Jack Roberts also ordered the charter forfeited.

The commission moved the show cause hearing to March 6 at 10 a.m. for Merchants National Life Insurance Co. of Denton, after talking with the company's attorney, Ned McDaniel.

The Insurance Board issued its show cause order Feb. 6 in which it alleged that the value of real estate which secured a first lien of a note of $240,000 was not worth what the company claimed.

To increase its capital stock, Merchants National entered into an agreement with Mercantile Investment Corp. of Dallas, by which the Dallas corporation would receive shares of no-par stock in exchange for a promissory note for $240,000.

The note was secured by Montague County properties, which, McDaniel said were six commercial buildings at Nocona.

The Insurance Commission said the firm represented to the board that the note was "secured by a first lien on real estate, the value of which was at least 40 per cent more than the amount of said note. In truth, and in fact, the value of such real estate was less than 40 per cent more than the amount of said note."

McDaniel, arguing for a postponement, said the company "believes the property is worth something more than $240,000 and is willing to demonstrate a belief that the property is valuable, by payment of $100,000 on the mortgage to reserve the equity in the property."

Shivers Ready To Disclose Plans Tonight

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas politics, vibrating wildly from yesterday's events, will hardly have time to settle down before Gov. Shivers takes to television tonight to disclose his plans for 1956.

Still echoing today was Ralph Yarborough's disclosure that he accepted $1,000 in cash in recent months from Elmer Patman, now probably the best known Austin attorney in Washington.

Patman is the Superior Oil Co. lawyer who passed along $2,500 as a campaign contribution for Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) prior to the vote on the Natural Gas Bill. Case reported the offer during Senate debate, said he refused the money, and voted against the bill. A Senate committee is investigating the matter and has questioned Patman.

Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba, a candidate for governor, promptly seized on Yarborough's disclosure that he took money from Patman to meet travel expenses while trying to decide whether to run for governor a third time.

Senterfitt said Texas Senate and House investigators should subpoena Patman for questioning. He suggested sworn testimony also be received from Sen. Price Daniel since Daniel supported the gas bill and is a potential candidate for governor.

Another candidate jumped into the gubernatorial contest. He is Evetts Haley, 55, of Canyon, a rancher, writer, and Texas Tech regent by appointment from Shivers.

2 Indictments Facing State Press Official

WACO (AP)—Vernon Sanford, general manager of the Texas Press Assn., faced two indictments today in the state's first effort to enforce a new political campaign spending law.

Sanford was free on bonds totaling $2,000 on two indictments charging he made unlawful campaign expenditures by placing newspaper advertisements in behalf of Ben Ramsey in the 1954 lieutenant governor's race which Ramsey won.

The indictments were returned by a grand jury to Judge D. W. Bartlett in 54th District Court without comment. The grand jury had questioned Sanford, Ramsey and C. T. Johnson, who ran third against Ramsey in 1954. Johnson has sued Ramsey, Sanford and the press association for $36,500, alleging election law violation.

The allegedly unlawful expenditures were cited by the grand jury only as newspaper ads costing $35 on June 25, 1954, and $41.25 on July 25, 1954.

A section of the new election code, which Sanford was charged with violating, limits the amount any individual may spend for advertising in behalf of a candidate to $25. If a person spends any more than that, except for his own traveling expenses, he must have authorization by the candidate or his campaign manager.

Sanford said in a deposition filed in Johnson's civil suit that the records of the placing of advertisements for Ramsey were disposed of after the bills for the ads were paid. He said it was the policy to dispose of such records because of the large volume of advertising, both political and otherwise, that the TPA handles.

Ramsey has said he had no knowledge of the ads, that he authorized no advertisements placed by the TPA, and that he had reported all the campaign expenses he knew about.

Plans Shaping Up On School Meeting

Eight persons have accepted invitations to attend the Snyder Conference on Education here March 13 as consultants.

Along with acceptances, the Snyder schools have received notification from 146 local citizens that they will participate in the conference. Invitations were mailed to more than 400 persons here, although the conference is open to all citizens.

Several activities have been scheduled in conjunction with the conference including presentation of the musical comedy, "Seventeen," by the schools' drama and music departments on the nights of March 12 and 13 in the high school education exhitib in the high auditorium and including a special education exhibit in the high school gymnasium.

Those who have accepted bids as consultants in the conference are Morris Wallace, head of the education department of Texas Technological College; Nat Williams, superintendent of the Lubbock schools; W. I. Kocurek, former president of the Texas School Board Association and Austin school board; Mrs. Leon Price, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers; Dr. J. C. Matthews, president of North Texas State College; Mrs. Julian D. Weeks, coordinator of the Texas Conference on Education which was held in Austin last fall; Fred Buford, member of the Dallas Architectural-engineering firm of Buford & Feinberg; and Donald G. Nugent, executive director of the Texas School Board Association.

On the day before the educational conference and on the morning of the conference day, a visitation program will be conducted in the schools. Those participating will be asked to visit specific places in the school at designated times.

The conference on education will open with orientation of leaders and consultants at 11 a.m. March 13, followed by lunch in the high school cafeteria. At 1 p.m., participants will visit the exhibits in the gym.

The conference will actually begin with a general session at 1:30 p.m., followed by discusion groups at 3:15 p.m. and a summary meeting afterward.

In the discussion groups, subjects to be covered will be how to secure and keep good teachers, taking stock of the schools' accomplishments, looking at teaching techniques, planning future needs, and strengthening school-community relations.

Numerous school committees are now working toward the conference, which will be similar to state conferences and the National Conference on Education held last year and will be designed to acquaint citizens with school problems and to use them to help determine solutions.

Hall Predicts Nixon Will Be Named As Ike's Running Mate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall today predicted that Vice President Nixon will be President Eisenhower's running mate for another term and called them "the greatest team" in the country.

Hall made the prediction to a jammed news conference at which he also said that if the Democrats make the President's health an issue in the campaign it will "backfire on them and cost them votes."

"The American people simply won't stand for tactics of that kind," he declared.

Hall also announced the national committee expects to spend upward of two million dollars on a television-radio campaign.

In line with Eisenhower's speech last night in which the President said he would rely heavily on mass communication media with no barnstorming Hall said "whistle stop campaigning is out."

He said if there is any extensive campaign traveling to be done, the party has a big organization and could send out members of the Cabinet except for Secretary of State Dulles "whom we wouldn't ask to make political speeches."

Hall said he would call a meeting of the national committee, state chairmen and legislators to meet in Washington soon to discuss "the type of campaign we intend to wage."

In a formal statement he read, Hall said Eisenhower's decision to run for a second term "has been hailed from coast to coast by the greatest outpouring of cheers and expressions of good will we have ever seen."

"I know," he said, "that our party to a man will unite behind President Eisenhower and work harder than ever for a complete Republican victory this fall."

Dale Carnegie Class Slated Friday Night

After two telling blows administered by the elements, the first session of another Dale Carnegie course will get underway here Friday night, and the initial class session will be free.

Bob McKinnon of Abilene, who will be instructor for the course, said that anyone interested in taking the course is invited to attend the first session free of charge. Arrangements for the free lesson were made after weather conditions interfered with two demonstration sessions scheduled earlier. The worst snow storm of the season raged on the original date for the demonstration, while the worst sandstorm of the season hit when another attempt was made.

"We still need some more students to complete the class, and we hope anyone who is interested will come out Friday night and take part in the first actual lesson," McKinnon said.

The class will meet in the central wing of the West Elementary school at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

One class finished the Carnegie course here several weeks ago, and steps were taken immediately to organize another class when several persons who were unable to attend the first series expressed interest in the course.

Fine Assessed Here On Driving Charge

A fine of $50 plus $23.50 court costs has been paid in county court for Guy A Sutherland by his attorney, Jay Ray Martin on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The charge was filed last June.

DAYTONA MOB—Two members of a mob that took over downtown Daytona Beach, Fla., streets aim kicks at a late-model car as it surges past them, leaving skid marks on the street, in an attempt to get by. The mob formed when police tried to break up drag races on city streets, and for four hours they slashed tires, broke windows, threw rocks, and tore down signs. The National Guard was called out to restore order.

Shoemake Is Indicted By Special Jury

WACO (AP)—A special grand jury charged yesterday the Texas Insurance Commission was negligent when it failed to heed "red flag warnings" of trouble ahead for U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. more than 18 months ago.

It brought two indictments against A. B. Shoemake, calling him an "ambitious promoter" who sold investment securities without a permit, juggled the assets of his insurance-banking empire to make it look good, and apparently sought to "curry the favor" of legislators by hiring them for legal work.

"The grand jury has not been able to determine whether the payment of money to the senators and legislators affected their action" on legislators affected their action" on bills vitally affecting Shoemake's operations, the grand jury reported to Judge D. W. Bartlett in 54th District Court. Shoemake was president of the defunct seven million dollar firm.

"The only person who can throw further light on this problem is A. B. Shoemake himself, and he is unable to testify," the grand jury said.

Soon after Shoemake's involved financial empire was forced into receivership by the state, he tried to kill himself. He is in the veteran's hospital at McKinney with a bullet wound in the head. Dist. Atty. Tom Moore said no effort would be made at once to place him under bond because of his condition.

The grand jurors said that while the indictment against Shoemake for violation of the Insurance Securities Act is the only one for which it has "complete evidence," there are indictions of other violations. It recommended continued investigation. A new grand jury goes to work Monday and Moore indicated it would take up where this one left off.

The grand jury also made it plain that it felt there was no politics in its action critical of the Insurance Commission. It said it had made a strong effort to find and state facts only.

In a postscript to the report, foreman Abner McCall, dean of the Baylor Law School, said the grand jury appreciated the "thoroughness and impartiality" of the work done by Moore and his staff.

"Contrary to rumors, their conduct in this investigation has been free of political bias in their relationship to this grand jury," he said.

Moore and McCall have been on opposite sides of the political fence. Moore is an official of the anti-Gov. Allan Shivers Democratic Advisory Council. McCall was campaign manager for Shivers here in 1954.

Interposition Plan Set By Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Legislature, hinting it might later invoke the stronger doctrine of nullification, adopted an interposition resolution condemning the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation.

Representatives voted 123-7 yesterday against including in the carefully worded Senate resolution a section stating: "This resolution rejects the doctrine of nullification."

Gov. J. P. Coleman favored interposition over nullification on the grounds that nullification implies use of force to become effective.

House Speaker Walter Sillers cautioned: "There is no reason to reject any doctrine that might be of some great benefit to us."

As soon as the resolution passed 136-0, a quartet sang "Dixie." The House cheered.

Then, Rep. Russell Fox got $5,000 of library commission appropriations earmarked for books pointing up white supremacy.

Rep. Bennett Smith introduced a bill prohibiting whites and Negroes from using the same recreational facilities.

Sillers told the House:

"We take the position that the Supreme Court has, to all intents and purposes, amended the Constitution by saying when and how states will maintain public schools. We do not defy the authority of the federal government. We protest because unless we protest, we will be considered to have approved."

The resolution calls upon Congress to initiate a constitutional amendment halting what legislators called the invasion of Mississippi's rights.

Until the amendment is considered, the measure continues, Mississippi considers the Supreme Court decisions of 1954 and 1955 outlawing segregation "unconstitutional, invalid, and of no lawful effect" within Mississippi.

Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin told the Senate the resolution declares the states "reserved the right to maintain, operate and control their school systems. The government has taken away those rights.

"We are not willing to sit idly by and be trampled underfoot by the Supreme Court of this nation. We are calling upon other states to join and ask Congress for redress."

About 5 per cent of Americans over 65 years old have incomes less than $2,000 a year.

Weight Fight Is Called Off

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Korzen, 44, who shed about 55 pounds in six months after a judge suggested she seek to regain her girlish figure and win back her husband, shed her husband yesterday.

Mrs. Korzen weighed 195 pounds on May 3, 1955, when her husband, Michael, 43, said he would take her back if she would reduce to 127 pounds, her weight when they married in 1937.

She was down to 140 pounds last October but she said yesterday she lost her zest for further reducing when she became convinced her husband was not sincere. She said her weight now is 140.

Korzen, a Chicago transit authority employe, said he would not take her back at 195 pounds. At the time of the divorce filing, a judge had suggested a weight reducing program in hope of saving the marriage.

Circuit Judge Charles S. Dougherty granted Mrs. Korsen a divorce on grounds of desertion and ordered Korzen to pay $25 weekly for support of two children, Dolores, 12, and Michael, 11.

Man Is Not Ready For New Wife Soon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When Superior Judge Burnett Wolfson granted a divorce to William A. Linsky, 81, he advised the former New York and Boston clothing merchant:

"Don't be in a hurry to marry again."

Leaning on his cane, Linsky grinned and replied: "No, I think I'll wait awhile."

Pupils Honor Teacher With Birthday Party

Mrs. Frank Weaver celebrated her ninth birthday on Wednesday. Mrs. Weaver, who teaches the fifth grade at West Elementary, was given a birthday party by her class of nine boys and 15 girls.

As a rule only four parties are allowed to be given during the course of the school year; one at Halloween, one on Christmas, Valentines Day and at the end of school. Silas Devenport, principal, decided, however, that since Mrs. Weaver had had so few birthdays in her life, as a special event the children could give her a birthday party.

The remarkable factor about this party is that the children did all the work with little or no help from their parents. Mrs. Sam Joyce, whose daughter, Helen, was one of the 15 hostesses, reported that for a month past, the telephone wires had been hot with communication concerning party plans.

All the hostesses wore paper aprons, two cakes were baked by the students, one to be eaten at the party and the other for Mrs. Weaver to take home. Party punch was served to all and Mrs. Weaver was given a desk set by the entire class.

Feldman Art Collection Show Slated

The D. D. Feldman Collection of Contemporary Texas Art, a 100 painting collection owned privately by Mr. Feldman, a well known Dallas oil man, will begin a 14-day showing at the Museum on the Texas Tech campus at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The public opening will be preceded by a press reception on Friday night and an invitational preview at the Museum on Saturday from 8 p.m. until 10 p.m.

The Feldman Collection has been called "the most unusual collection in the history of art." All of the 100 pictures are by a Texas artist, the ages of the artists ranges from 18 to 82 and every school of painting from the realistic to the abstractionist is represented.

In addition, this is believed to be the first time an art collection of this magnitude has ever been taken on such an extensive tour. The tour, which began in early November, will cover all of the larger Texas cities and many of the small towns. Later, it will be taken on a tour of the United States, Canada and the art centers of Europe.

West Texas artists represented in the collection are John Meigs of Abilene, Mrs. Bernice Fix and Mrs. Billy Jo Everton, both of Lubbock, and Chester Toney, who was born in Littlefield and was raised at Slaton.

Snyder's Elementary 4-H Club Has Meeting

The Snyder Elementary 4-H Club met Tuesday with 18 members and one guest, Miss Ruby Butts, Scurry County Home Demonstration Agent, present.

For recreation the group played a game of questions and answers, then Miss Butts gave a talk on how to fill out a report on clothing.

Leadership Training Course Begins Here

Scouters of the Lone Buffalo Boy Scout District of Scurry, Borden, and Mitchell Counties will be participating in leadership training courses which open at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Snyder High School and will last for several weeks.

The courses will be held each Thursday evening, alternating between Snyder and Colorado City, according to T. D. Wiman, Jr., chairman of the district's leadership training committee.

Leaders and others interested in Explorer Scouting, Boy Scouting, and Cub Scouting have been invited to attend the sessions. They will be broken into two main divisions, one for Boy Scouting and the other for Cub Scouting.

Calorie Counting

Someone in the family counting calories these days? We advice a cup of clear soup—broth or bouillon—simmered to bring out the flavor and served hot at the beginning of the meal is sound nutritionally and means that the "no seconds" rule for dieters will be easier to follow throughout the rest of the meal.

That Added Touch

Next time you make chicken soup, we suggest you try sprinkling some grated nutmeg over the soup when you turn the flame off. Serve immediately.

Have Lovelier Hands

To protect your hands when working with hot suds and rinses, we suggest that you try using a cellulose sponge set into a long or short handle.

Banana Whip

Whip bananas into vanilla ice cream, add chopped nuts or fresh fruit, put into freezing tray of the refrigerator and serve when firm as dessert with brownies.

Highway Patrolman Speaks To B&PW Club In Snyder

H. B. Slaughter, highway patrolman for Mitchell County, was guest speaker for a dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday night, keynoting the program theme of Safety. The committee presenting this program was composed of Mrs. Laura Holloday, chairman, Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton and Mrs. Leona Weathers.

Slaughter stressed the value of a sane approach to the use of modern gadgets designed to cope with the speed of the American public. Much emphasis was placed upon the value of the total approach to safe driving, including the home, the school and the public. He outlined engineering projects, which are designed to help eliminate traffic deaths upon the Texas highways.

The speaker pointed out that this age could not survive with the automobile, yet traffic accidents take more lives than any other hazard in our state. This was attributed to excessive speed, carelessness, failure to give proper turning signals and a disregard for highway signs. Forty-four per cent of the deaths among children in Texas during 1955 were caused by traffic accidents.

The solution to this problem is not simple, Slaughter stated, but means are being taken to cope with the situation which must begin with the people cooperating with the Texas Legislature by enacting proper traffic laws. The most important step is drivers' education. This should be taught in all public schools of Texas and should be compulsory.

Apprehension was given special emphasis because many traffic violators who should be puished are set free to commit the same offense again. To further stress the value of safe driving, Texas Public Safety Department driving handbooks were given to each of the 20 members present.

Mrs. Johnnie Goss was introduced as a new member and Mrs. Bernice Shearer and Mr. Slaughter were guests.

Curtain! Camera!

Should court trials be treated as public spectacles, complete with built-in radio and television coverage? And can such coverage be justified on the ground that the ends of justice will be served thereby?

It would seem that the ends of justice should be the determining factor, but it would be next to impossible to prove beyond peradventure of doubt that making a "show" of a court trial could increase the respect in which courts are held or enhance the dignity and decorum of the judicial processes.

Be that as it may the Colorado Supreme Court held this week that trials in that state may be radioed and televised at the discretion of the presiding judge. If he believes such coverage would not distract from the dignity and decorum of his court, he may grant such permission. He may also hold that no juror or witness may be photographed or his testimony broadcast unless the court has granted permission. It is not clear, but apparently the judge may exclude some photographs or some testimony for reasons that seem sufficient to him, but nothing is said as to whether a juror or a witness may by simple objection be granted immunity from the searching camera eye or the microphone thrust into his face.

If not, some interesting legal angles may develop now and then in Colorado courts. A defendant may stand on shaky ground in objecting to being photographed or microphoned, but what of the juror or the witness who for reasons best known to himself would prefer not to be televised or broadcast? A witness, perhaps an upright citizen, innocent of any wrongdoing himself, and telling the truth to the best of his ability, can be made to look like a low-grade moron by a shrewd lawyer. The knowledge that up to a million pairs of eyes and a million pairs of ears are upon him, so to speak, is not calculated to put him at his ease. A sympathic court could regard his ordeal as constituting cruel and unusual punishment.

Dulles On The Grid

Disclosure that only a scant handful of minor changes were made in the top hierarchy of the Soviet Union's all-powerful Communist Party at its recent session indicates clearly that no shift in policy is planned or contemplated, and that the Kremlin is still in business at the same old stand. The attack on Stalin becomes hardly more than an incident without special significance, for if it foreshadowed any material change in policy or program, the subsequent purging would normally start within the ranks of the higher-ups.

But nothing even hinting of that can be discerned; on the contrary it is "business as usual" at the top.

This makes Mr. Dulles' recent sensational announcement that the administration's foreign policy has forced the Kremlin to change its world policy and become "more like us" sound even more like a pipe-dream, and the Democrats moved at once to blast the Dulles theme. Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) accused Dulles of withholding the truth about "our present peril" from the Soviets, and what is worse that the Dulles remarks may endanger administration hopes for passage of the foreign aid program by implying that "the battle against the Soviet bid for world domination has been won".

The Foreign Relations committee followed up the Democratic blast at Dulles by calling in for secret examination Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and Adm. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Specifically, these two were questioned about the military situation in the Middle East in view of Dulles' optimistic world outlook, for the Middle East got to be a redhot seat of trouble only in the last few months—largely because of Communists meddling.

If Russia is indeed becoming "more like us" it has been scoring some sensational successes at it; and since these successes spell disaster for the West, it is difficult to see how Mr. Dulles can regard the situation with such apparent optimism.

Medical Mileposts Show President Made Steady Recovery From His Heart Attack

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Medical mileposts the doctors erected along the road back to improving health have figured in President Eisenhower's mental tussling over his second-term decision. They show this:

An almost steady pace toward recovery from his heart attack, although a slower one than was expected at first.

Considerable wavering and weaving at times over whether Eisenhower would be able to run again.

At the start, Eisenhower's heart mended more slowly than in the average case. Eventually it caught up to schedule. The chief executive was in a Denver hospital longer than early forecasts indicated, at least in part because of his desire not to be rushed and to leave on his own power rather than on a stretcher. He lagged a bit behind predictions too in getting back into working harness at the White House.

But no real complications or setbacks developed at any point.

In order of time, these are some of the major and minor events that may have helped Eisenhower make up his mind on the big question:

Sept. 24—In early morning hours, searing pain of clot-clogged heart artery surges through President's chest. Early afternoon, his doctor takes him to Denver hospital, attack described at first as digestive upset, then mild coronary thrombosis. World shocked; stock market slumps.

Sept. 25—Attack now called moderate—neither serious nor mild. Boston heart specialist Paul Dudley White flies to Denver after declaring another term "quite conceivable." Justice Department asked for legal opinion on delegating presidential powers to others.

Sept. 26—Dr. White tells news conference: patient progressing satisfactorily; might be able to go to Gettysburg, Pa., farm in about three weeks; barring complications, chances are "reasonably good" for complete recovery within two months; first two weeks are maximum danger period.

Sept. 27—Eisenhower "comfortable and cheerful"—no complications.

Sept. 28—Tension easing; President listens to tape-recorded music, wants Brahms and Bach, some recorded Shakespeare and Westerns. Doctors limit diet to 1,600 calories a day to hold down weight.

Sept. 29—Delegation of powers shelved; nurse reads to Eisenhower from magazine.

Sept. 30—Had first "excellent" night—no oxygen tent; perks up enough to ask for beef bacon for breakfast, get fill-in on World Series; signs two papers—first official business since attack.

The second week since the attack:

Oct. 1—The first "excellent" day.

Oct. 2—President is "a little tired this evening," not feeling "as well as usual," otherwise condition "is good."

Oct. 3—Eisenhower "rested and refreshed" again, no indication of complications; but heart healing rate slower than average—electrocardiogram showing "slow, progressive evolution;" X-ray in bed discloses no heart enlargement.

Oct. 4—Hilarious time opening 'get well" gift packages from grandchildren — all with bubblegum; to sleep for first time without sedatives.

Oct. 7—Allowed to read for first time.

Third week:

Oct. 8—Fortnight of greatest danger ends without complications. Vice President Nixon, first visitor outside family and staff, says no mention of politics.

Oct. 9—White's second news conference: confirms slowness, but heart is healing; Eisenhower to remain in hospital at least four, maybe five, more weeks—he doesn't want to be rushed or be carried aboard a plane; may resume White House job about Jan. 1.

Oct. 10—Bed rolled to terrace for first sunning.

Oct. 11—First business conference, with Secretary of State Dulles.

Oct. 14—Eisenhower's 65th birthday—gifts, good wishes, a bit of a party, good news from the doctors; electrocardiogram "stabilied at a satisfactory level."

Fourth week:

Oct. 15—No longer completely bedridden; President lifted into chair; doctors drop daily electrocardiograms.

Oct. 19—Tries hand at painting again.

Fifth week:

Oct. 22—Another White News conference: Eisenhower "on the road back to good health," heart healing faster.

Oct. 23—Stands erect unaided and takes first steps, onto scales; he's lost four pounds. He and Mamie work crossword puzzles.

Oct. 25—Walks for first time, a step or two to a chair; cheerful and chatty, poses for pictures on sun deck.

Oct. 27—Shaves himself first time, sees first movie—a Western; works on State of Union message to Congress.

Oct. 28—Laboratory X-ray and fluoroscope show no heart enlargement with increased activity; diet upped to 1,800 calories; allowed to walk, sit up and work as pleases.

Sixth week:

Nov. 2—Walking freely, to Mrs. Eisenhower's room, down corridor to paint.

Nov. 4—Another X-ray; doctors "very pleased," no enlargement.

Seventh week:

Nov. 5—Tries legs on stair steps.

Nov. 7—Gets report on complete physical checkup; decides to fly to Washington Nov. 11. White tells news conference he has "only good news again" but it may be late January or February before Eisenhower can make second-term decision; heart first must be exposed to "total strain" of White House duties.

Nov. 9—Final medical bulletin from hospital: "The President's condition continues to be satisfactory."

Nov. 11—Flies to Washington.

More Advance Hold

Eighth week:

Nov. 14—Drives to Gettysburg.

Nov. 15—Doctors find no fatigue from Denver sendoff, Washington and Gettysburg welcomes.

Nov. 17—Doctors say progress satisfactory, "no signs of fatigue or symptoms" from increased activity.

Ninth week:

Nov. 23—Another checkup; again no symptoms or fatigue.

Tenth week:

Nov. 30—Convalescence continues satisfactory.

Twelfth week:

Dec. 10—Eisenhower examined at Washington hospital; doctors report condition good, he looks and feels well. But official conferences have been tiring, work has taxed him. "No harm has resulted"; but he ought to "slow down," get a midday rest.

Thirteenth week:

Dec. 17—White tells Gettysburg news conference: fatigue wasn't due to heart, but probably "a nervous symptom"; President has made "excellent encouraging progress," he's "out of danger."

Dec. 20—Back to White House for Christmas, and birth of a new granddaughter.

Fourteenth week:

Dec. 28—Off by air for Key West, Fla.

Fifteenth week:

Jan. 6—Florida vacation doing "a world of good."

Sixteenth week:

Jan. 8—Eisenhower's first public statement on second term, at informal news conference: "My mind is not fixed" but "I feel very much better—stronger—and much more able to get about." He flies back to Washington.

Jan. 9—takes on what he calls "full duties" of White House.

Jan. 11—Doctors report health "excellent."

Seventeenth week:

Jan. 19—Eisenhower's first White House news conference since attack; doctors tell hime, he says, he's making "normal and satisfactory progress," but "it would be foolish to pretend that my health can be fully restored."

Twentieth week.

Feb. 2—Personal physician says Eisenhower "should have more time—all the time he needs" on second-term decision.

Feb. 8—President rounds out a month back on job; tells news conference that unquestionably at times he feels "more tired than, I think, I would have in the past, but that may be also just advancing years."

Twenty-first week:

Feb. 14—He's fit to run, the doctors say. White tells news conference he "should be able to carry on an active life" in the presidency "for another 5 to 10 years," his health is satisfactory, he's "made a good recovery," but the big decision still is his alone.

"BETTER RELOAD, POP!"

Dulles Faces Dilemma In Trying To Solve A Problem Without Making Another Worse

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles—who says his foreign policy combines "enlightened self-interest" and "missionary spirit"—faces the endless dilemma of trying to solve one problem without making another one worse.

He has to worry not only about foreign affairs—like keeping the Russians away from the Egyptians—but also local affairs, like cotton farmers and votes in Congress, when they affected the foreign field.

These two fields can get pretty tangled, and they just did.

Tuesday Secretary of Agriculture Benson, with White House and State Department approval, announced the government will sell some of its surplus cotton abroad at cut - rate prices. Whether this drives Egypt closer to Russia remains to be seen.

The announcement came just as the Senate was debating President Eisenhower's new farm program and some legislators were blaming the administration for "failure" to work harder to get rid of cotton and other farm surpluses.

The government, which artificially keeps up the American cotton price at home by taking cotton off the farmers' hands when it falls below a certain price, now has 12 million bales in which it has invested two billion dollars.

At once the Egyptian Embassy criticized Benson's announcement as a "very unfortunate step at this time." Egypt is not only in the cotton business too but has a big surplus and depends almost entirely on cotton sales for its foreign income.

If American cotton sold competively on the world market cuts into the Egyptians' sales, they may be forced to do more business with Russia, which has shown a willingness to accept Egyptian cotton in exchange for things Egypt needs.

Yet, the United States doesn't want Egypt or any other Middle Eastern country to get closer to Russia. This country just came out on the short end, diplomatically, of an Egyptian - Russian deal.

Recently, when Egypt asked the United States to sell it arms, this country, as Dulles has explained, wanted cash. Egypt is short on American dollars and couldn't pay the price. So it bartered some of its cotton with the Communists for arms.

Since the Egyptians sold their cotton to Russia, this country has been pushing hard the sale of American cotton abroad. As a result the Egyptians may be puzzled by Dulles' statements about "self-interest" and the "missionary spirit."

In his first broadcast to the American public in 1953 Dulles said his foreign policy would be based on "enlightened self-interest." Later, and again in a broadcast last Sunday, he added these ideas:

"We need to recapture the spirit which animated our missionaries, doctors, educators and merchants who during the last century went throughout the world carrying the benefits of a new way of life.

"For the most part these persons were not seeking to make money for themselves . . . What they sought . . . and gained was the unique joy that comes from creating and sharing."

He said it would be "tragic" if Americans now "became so attracted by mercenary considerations, by the lure of the market place, that they lost the missionary spirit."

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The Methodist Church has launched a series of dramatic television programs that should have a wider appeal than any TV dramas yet produced under the leadership of any church.

In both concept and execution the series of 13 films entitled "The Way" represents a significant step in organized religion's growing consciousness of the TV medium. The series shuns preaching, is nondenominational in its appeal, and is solely concerned with dramatizing various aspects of Christian principles of living.

The series is offered free to any TV station anywhere with only these provisions: They will be shown in specified sequence at any desired regular weekly time except an hour that might interfere with church attendance. There shall be no commercial in connection with them—not even a "Go to church."

The first drama, "An Eye for an Eye," was shown here last Saturday afternoon on the ABC network's local station. Distinguished by superior acting, it told this story:

A gang of boys wreck a church recreation room. The minister, a calm, strong man, loses an eye when the boys gang up on him as he tries to restore order. The police regard the boys as "wild animals" who cannot be tamed; to fail to prosecute them, the police maintain, is to turn their viciousness loose on society. But the minister opposes prosecution. At his request the boys are released in probation in his custody. The failures and the success are delineated in down-to-earth fashion.

A viewer is left with the conviction that the answer to delinquency is no simple matter. One sees the power of the gang over its members. But the strong influence of people who care is shown in a most convincing manner.

It's not a subtle story. But it gives a feeling of reality—in sharp contrast to many TV "religious" dramas which leave one with a reaction of unreality and sentimentality. In no formal sense is it preaching. But it is the best kind of preaching in the sense that what one is and does speaks more clearly than any words. Through the excellent characterizations of the minister and his wife there flows a strong practical idealism.

Market Still Responding To Political Predictions

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Elections—and election uncertainties—always give business a certain amount of the jitters. And this year the stock market has been particularly quick to respond to political predictions.

But the old belief that business—as distinct from stock trading—slows down in an election year to await results may have to be revived. In several of the more recent election years the opposite has happened.

And while many businessmen this year are particularly nervous lest something happen politically that would rock the boat and upset the current neat balance of good times, probably as many others believe that business activity will continue at a high clip despite all the political hullabaloo in coming months.

The President's decision should clear the air—as far as stock trading is concerned. But it's effect on business should be very slight for awhile, many businessmen hold. Their argument is that business activity is already so high that it couldn't go much higher right away no matter how "good" the news seems. Nor could "bad" news have immediate effect.

Some businessmen point out that increasingly of recent years the presidential election has given little evidence of being the important factor in which way business activity went.

They note that stock prices rose after the elections of Coolidge and Hoover and after the first, second and fourth elections of Roosevelt. Stock prices turned down after the election of Truman but rose again by the end of that year. Stock prices were rising with the Eisenhower election but later started a long slide downward, only to begin climbing again a year later.

Business activity rose during the campaign preceding the elections of Coolidge and Hoover and the second and third elections of Roosevelt. It rose before the Truman election, sliding off afterwards, and rose before the Eisenhower election, starting down the following summer.

About all you can conclude from these examples is that political ups and downs can have quick reflection in the stock market, but that other factors—war, peace, or long-term economic adjustments—have much more weight with business activity.

One reason, perhaps, is that business planning can't be as emotional as stock trading and that consumer buying—a major factor just now—isn't affected very much by political haranguing.

Much Money Required To Make Little Atom Produce

By INEZ ROBB

PITTSBURGH—In all probability, the peaceful atom can transform the world and make even the Sahara bloom as the rose.

But one prior requirement is as certain as death and more taxes: It's going to take a mint of money in addition to the 88,000 pounds of Uranium 235 that President Eisenhower last week released for promotion of peaceful uses of atomic energy here and abroad.

United States industry gets 44,000 pounsds of the Uranium 235, with the other 44,000 pounds allocated for peaceful uses abroad. But the hard fact that it will take vast amounts of money to translate this billion dollars worth of uranium into electric power here and abroad is demonstrated by the cost of the first full-scale, utility-type atom-fueled, power-producing plant in the United States, now rising on the banks of the Ohio River 22 miles, as the crow flies, from Pittsburgh.

It is estimated that the nuclear power plant will cost 45 to 50 million dollars when completed late in 1957, when it will begin producing a minimum of 60,000 kilowatts of power at a cost far, far in excess of electricity produce by conventional means.

So far Duquesne Light Company is the first and only public utility to dig down into its sock and peel off the millions required to build such an experimental, revolutionary and expensive plant.

There are other atomic power plants, backed by American industries, in the works. But they are all in the talking and planning stages, with eyes focused on Duquene's pioneer Shippingport plant on the Ohio in hope of picking up pointers in construction, know-how and operation.

Five nuclear power plants now in the planning stage for this country include those to be financed by:

(1) Yankee Atomic Power, a non-profit group of New England utilities, planning a 134,000-kilowatt station in Western Massachusetts.

2) Detroit Edison and Associates, contemplating a fast breeder reactor to produce 100,000 kilowatts, outside Detroit.

(3) Commonwealth Edison and Associates, discussing a boiling water reactor at the Desden station, outside Chicago.

4) Consolidated Edison, planning an atomic power plant at Indian Point on the Hudson River.

(5) Consumers Power of Columbus, Neb., discussing with North American Aviation the erection of a sodium-cooled graphite moderator.

The Atomic Energy Commission, as distinguished from private industry, has three power projects under way: (1) at Arco, Idaho, where the first power plant, for the submarine Nautilus, was tried and tested; (2) at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and (3) near Los Angeles, in conjunction with North American Aviation.

But if the experimental nature and great cost of nuclear power plans, as well as the exceedingly high price of such electricity, has restrained American industry so far from rushing into action, it probably will be necessary for Uncle Sam to ante up hard cash as well as Uranium 235 to get nuclear power plants going in the "have not" nations which now dream of transforming their lands and their economy through the peaceful atom.

Texans Serve Bean Dip At Washington Dinners

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON - Texas bean dip is the concoction served up to tempt guests at parties given by U. S. Court of Claims Commissioner and Mrs. Mastin G. White, who hail from that part of the world.

Mrs. White makes the dip of pinto beans, cooked six hours, mashed with garlic, cumin seed and chili power, and served up in a tureen kept hot over a flame. Guests scoop the dip up with tortillas which Mrs. Mastin buys in tins at her neighborhood market.

British Ambassador Sir Roger Makin says he finds the best way to keep face while on a grueling capital cocktail round is to take one drink in hand, take one sip, exchange a few greetings and leave.

"Tea and Symphony" was the theme of the part Mrs. Munthe de Morgenstierne, wife of the Norwegian ambassador, gave at the embassy for women leaders in the National Symphony Orchestra's 25th sustaining fund campaign. Mrs. Sherman Adams, wife of the presidential assistant; Mrs. Arleigh Burke, wife of the chief of naval operations; Mrs. Alben Barkley, wife of the senator from Kentucky; Mrs. Ralph Flanders, wife of the senator from Vermont; Mrs. John Marshall Harlan, wife of the associate justice, and Mrs. Maxwell Taylor, wife of the Army chief of staff, were among those assisting the hostess.

Dapper Magill James, retiring assistant director of the National Gallery, wears a deep rose vest with matching bow tie at late afternoon parties.

Libyan Ambassador Saddigh Muntasser, entertaining at his handsome new embassy here, loaded his buffet with whole lambs stuffed with savory rice; whole broiled chicken halves, kibeh, or meat balls and other lavish dishes. The bread, which was baked in enormous rings, was meant to be torn to bits, but few guests attempted that feat.

At the dinner given by Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles for British Prime Minister Anthony Eden, floral decorations bore out the national colors of both England and the United States- which are the same. There were red roses, white snapdragon and blue iris.

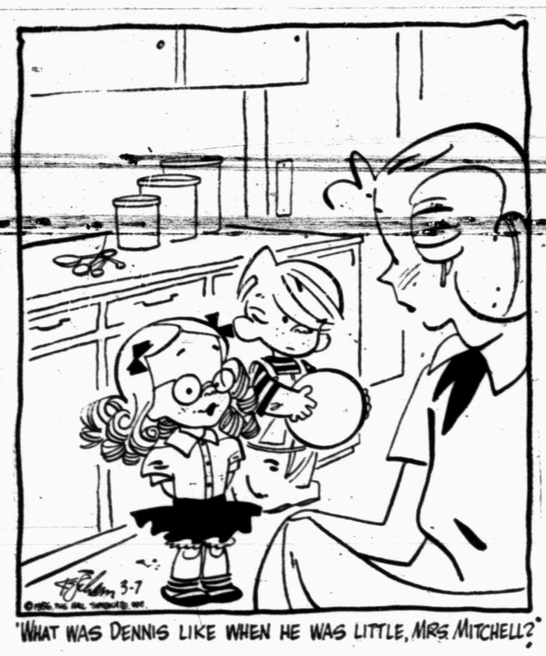
DENNIS THE MENACE



"WHAT WAS DENNIS LIKE WHEN HE WAS LITTLE, MRS. MITCHELL?"

Question Of Rhee Replacement Aired

By ROBERT EUNSON

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Who will succeed wily old Syngman Rhee as leader of the Republic of Korea?

The question, important in world affairs, may be answered by South Korea's 20 millions when they choose a vice president in the elections this summer.

Although active and sharp for all his 80 years, Rhee might not survive another four-year term. So business and government leaders are particularly anxious to see who gets the vice presidential nomination at the Liberal (government) party convention opening in Seoul next Tuesday.

There are half a dozen hot candidates.

At this date, however, you can get even money or better on Lee Ki Poong, 59, American-educated speaker of the House of Representatives. His backers say his honesty and integrity seem to be the cornerstone younger Korean leaders are searching for today.

"If Lee runs against a single candidate he has a 50-50 chance," said the publisher of one of Korea's leading newspapers. "If he runs against two or more rivals, he should win hands down."

There is still some hedging, however, because Rhee hasn't announced his own candidacy yet—although there is little doubt here he will. He will have the major voice in picking his running mate.

Lee's gentleness impresses visitors. It contrasts with the rough and ready characteristics of most Korean politicians.

His wife Maria Pak is vice president of Iwa Women's University, one of Korea's finest.

Both were educated in the United States and met there. They married in Korea, after Mrs. Lee returned from college. They have two sons.

"During the Pacific war," Lee said, "I had to hide out. The Japanese were especially hard on Koreans who had been to school in the United States. I spent most of my time in mining areas in central Korea, although I had to occasionally report to the police."

When the American troops landed in Korea after the war ended, Lee offered his services as interpreter. He left to join Rhee when Rhee returned to head the provisional government.

Since then he has been mayor of Seoul, defense minister and now speaker.

Asked point-blank if he wanted to be vice president, Lee said:

"I don't think I will ever be a good politician. I would prefer to be working with young people. I know, however, that a man can't always do what he wants. Sometimes he has to do something simply because he must do it for others. That is how I feel about politics."

He sounded like a candidate, if a reluctant one. He could be the next president of Korea.

Farm Support Issue Raised By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's second - term decision was claimed as an advantage by opposing sides today in the close Senate fight over farm price supports.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), leading forces advocating a return to rigid price supports, said Eisenhower will sign the omnibus measure even if it includes "90 per cent of parity supports."

"He won't want to alienate the farm vote now that he's a politician once more," he said.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), backing the administration soil bank program, pointed in a separate interview to Eisenhower's news conference statement yesterday that "I am unalterably opposed to rigid price supports."

Ellender is chairman and Aiken senior Republican member of the Senate Agriculture Committee. A committee bill, under Senate debate, includes the soil bank plan to provide subsidies for farmers who agree to take land out of production of crops already in surplus.

Over administration objections, the committee voted 8-7 to combine with the soil bank a return to mandatory price supports on basic crops at 90 per cent of parity—a legal standard said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The administration - backed flexible system now in effect calls for supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity depending upon available supplies, for cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts.

ARABIAN'S NIGHT—Ginger, an Arabian mare owned by Dorys Crow in Pendleton, Ore., made a night-time mis-step and here looks sadly from the hole into which she dropped. The hole in a ranch field is one of many in the area, caused by heavy rains washing out soil beneath the surface. Ginger was dug out unhurt.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

SEVERAL SNYDERITES will be moving on to Austin this weekend to take in the big basketball show at Gregory Gym on the University of Texas campus—the annual state high school basketball tournament.

Coaches J. P. Ward and V. V. Shearburn left yesterday and will take in the whole show which started this morning.

Dan Cotton, J. B. Davidson, R L. Duck and "Blue" Lowery are leaving tomorrow for Austin as is yours truly and the spouse. There may be several others going from here.

You don't have to have a "favorite" team to enjoy the state basketball tournament. All the teams that make the tournament have fought a long, tough schedule to get there and consequently the brand of play is always on a very high plane.

We'll be pulling for Palo Duro in the Triple-A division, of course. By the Dons winning the title it will add prestige to our own District 1-AAA.

Then in Class 4A, Odessa our neighboring city, will be "our" team in this bracket. The Broncs, it seems, are too shy on height to win the title, though.

If you've never seen one of these Texas schoolboy tournaments, you can take it from us that you certainly can't go wrong in going down this weekend for this year's show. If you have been to a previous state tourney, then we don't have to tell you what a fine show is in the offing.

There'll be five state championship games unreeled Saturday afternoon and night. What more could a basketball fan ask?

Certainly would like to see the Tigers make it to Austin next year.

Ham Named On Another All-Foe Team

Milton Ham, the Tigers' leading scorer the past season, has been named on the Big Spring all-opponent team for the past season.

It is the second such honor for Ham. He was previously named on Monterey's all-foe team.

Congratulations are in order to the Ira girls basketball team upon winning their second consecutive bi-district championship.

We got our first look at the Ira team Tuesday night when the Bulldogettes clipped Blackwell, 56-41, for the bi-district crown. We might say we weren't disappointed in what we saw.

The Ira lasses probably could have defeated Blackwell by a much wider margin had they so desired.

Blackwell, it appeared, gave up early in the game when she refused to come out of her zone defense. Trailing by 10-12 points most of the time, the Blackwell team stood "pat" in its zone defensive setup while the Bulldogettes just passed the ball around for minutes at a time without even making a shooting gesture.

Maybe Blackwell was primarily interested in just hodling the score down. If Blackwell was out to win, it's lifficult to understand what she thought she was gaining by letting the Ira team kill several precious minutes of playing time with her deliberate stall.

Baleria Eubanks Top Gal Cager

This Baleria Eubanks, Ira star, is possibly one of the finest gal cagers in the state. She moves well on the court and has a smooth shooting form.

Against Blackwell, Baleria drove past her defender time and again. If she wasn't fouled going by, she was in for a layup. It didn't make much difference if her defender fouled her or not in preventing the layup because she was deadly from the free throw line.

She hit 13 of 18 free shots given her Tuesday night.

The Ira team will be in fast company this week at the regional meet in Canyon. But don't sell the Bulldogettes short. They could very well bring back the big prizes and a ticket to the state tournament at Austin next week.

Majors Officially Open Drills Today

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

It's "batter up" for real today as baseball's spring training season officially gets under way in 16 major league camps.

And from the looks of things this one's not going to be any different from the others.

Optimism? it's rampant.

The rookies are sure to make the grade. The vets are certain to come back with a good year and if you take some predictions at face value, they're liable to have eight first-division clubs in each league this season.

Let's start with the veterans.

Willie Jones, a nine-year man with the Philadelphia Phillies, reports he's in the best shape of his career.

"Just six pounds overweight," he gloated. "I'll be a streamlined gazelle when the season opens. Best shape you'll ever see. I'm the Phillies third baseman. Don't forget that."

Dale Mitchell, who's been around even longer than Jones, showed up in Cleveland's camp yesterday and worked out at first base.

"Just so I stay in shape. Then maybe they'll use me somewhere," he said.

And in the Chicago Cubs' quarters in Mesa, Ariz. pitcher Russ Meyer, obtained from brooklyn during the winter, indicated he was ready to work in one of the intrasquad games this weekend. This despite some arm trouble he developed earlier this week.

Jim Hearn, Johnny Antonelli and Hoyt Wilhelm, three veteran pitchers, were named to pitch in the New York Giants' first camp game Sunday.

Now for the rookies:

Bonus pitcher Jim Brady pitched three more hitless innings in Lakeland, Fla. and Detroit Manager Bucky Harris called him "impressive." Brady now has hurled six hitless in camp contests.

Glen Cox, a big right-hander the Kansas City A's bought from Brooklyn, figures his knuckle ball will help him make the grade in the majors. He was 11-5 for Montreal in 1955.

In Vero Beach, Fla., Bob Wilson, 28-year-old outfielder who hit .317 for Montreal, was touted as the newcomer most likely to make the Dodgers.

Houston 1st TL Club In Camp

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Houston opens spring training at Daytona Beach, Fla., Thursday—first of the Texas League clubs to start the baseball season.

Dallas will be the second. The Eagles open training at Melbourne, Fla., Sunday.

All the other clubs wait a week. Shreveport and Fort Worth swing into action March 10 at Shreveport and Vero Beach, Fla., respectively. Austin begins practice at Austin March 11, Oklahoma City at Longview and Tulsa at Alexandria, La., March 12 and San Antonio at Dunedin, Fla., March 13.

As the clubs prepare to start the season, President Dick Butler has optimistic reports from the various cities over attendance prospects. Fort Worth says it will sell more tickets than ever before. San Antonio reports more pre-season tickets to be sold than last year and Austin, a newcomer to the league, already has $45,000 in the bank from the sale of boxes and reserved seats.

Ira Gal Cagers Off To Regional Meet

The Ira girls basketball team will play McAdoo in the first round of the Region 1 tournament at Canyon Friday. Game time is 3 p.m.

Ira, coached by Roy Sallee, won its second bi-district title in succession Tuesday night with a 56-41 victory over Blackwell.

Ira will carry a 26-0 record into the regional tournament. McAdoo, the Bulldogette's first round foe, owns a 25-9 season record.

Winner of the Ira-McAdoo game will play in the semi-finals at 9:45 a.m. Saturday. The finals will be held Saturday night 8:30.

The Ira delegation was to depart at 1 p.m. today for Canyon. The

Besides Ira and McAdoo, other teams competing for regional honors at Canyon will be Spearman of District 2-B; Amherst, 4-B; Roosevelt, 6-B; Ropesville, 7-B; Claude, Bulldogettes will be quartered at the Canyon Courts during their Panhandle stay.

12-B; and Paint Creek, 14-B.

McAdoo is the 10-B champ and Ira 16-B.

Baleria Eubanks will lead the Ira team into the regional meet. Miss Eubanks has scored 684 points in 26 games for a 26.4 average. Peggy Taylor is the second leading scorer for the Ira team with 484 points for an 18.6 average.

The other Ira forward, Joan Ford, has scored 272 points for a 10.4 average.

Ira's three starting guards are Mary Turner, Nita Thomas and Margaret Clinkenbeard.

Remainder of the Ira travelling troupe to Canyon consists of Joan Brooks, Neva Carlisle, Darla Bryant, Mary Jennings, Joe Nell Eubanks, Peggy Brown, Marylan Moore, Barbara Martin and Olivia Vinson.

Accompanying the squad will be Coach Sallee, Mrs. I. O. Maupin and student manager Maggie Boatman.

Tribe Sold For Near 4-Million

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sale of the Cleveland Indians for $3,961,800 was approved last night at a meeting of the baseball club's stockholders.

Formally ratifying action club directors took Feb. 14, the stockholders voted to sell at $1,550 a share to a new company headed by William R. Daley, 63, president of Otis & Co., an investment firm; Ignatius A. O'Shaughnessy of St. Paul, president of the Globe Oil Co. and Hank Greenberg, Tribe general manager since 1950.

The name of the property will be changed from the Cleveland Baseball Co. to the Cleveland Indians Baseball Co. involved in the sale are the American League franchise, a 19-year lease for use of Municipal Stadium, players' contracts, current assets, radio and television contracts, and stock of the Reading Pa., club in the Class A Eastern League.

The deal represents a profit of around three million dollars to holders who paid $100 a share for stock when Bill Veeck purchased the club 10 years ago.

It's Official Now; Spikes In All-Star Game

EDNA, Tex., (AP)—Eight all-state players are on the squad of 28 that will play for the North in the Texas Coaching School all-star football game this year.

The game, matching schoolboy standouts from the northern districts of the Texas Interscholastic League football plan with a squad from the South, will be played as a feature of the Texas coaching school in Lubbock in August.

Bobby Boyd of Garland, Edwin McDaniel of Midland, Bennett Watts of Breckenridge and James Shurbet of Ralls are backfield all-staters picked on the squad as announced today by L. W. McConachie, secretary of the Texas High School Coaches Assn.

Sam Caudle, Abilene guard; Jerry Graves, Big Spring center; Charles Mc McKenzie, Grand Prairie tackle, and James Shillingburg, Kermit tackle, are the all-state linemen picked on the squad.

The others include Marvin Lassater, San Angelo; Jack Spikes, Snyder, back; Billy Davenport, Lufkin; Robert Herrin, Lubbock Monterey; ends; and Biill Turnbow Burkburnett, center.

Midwestern, Wayland In NAIA Playoff

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Midwestern meets Wayland here tonight night for the right to play in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City.

Midwestern beat Howard Payne 109-86 last night to win the first round of the district playoff. Wayland, an independent, qualified for the playoff with a 17-7 record.

Russell, Freeman Dominate AP All-American Cage Five

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP)—Dominated by big Bill Russell and little Robin Freeman, five seniors from San Francisco, Ohio State, Duquesne, Furman and Holy Cross were named today to the 1956 Associated Press collegiate All-America basketball team.

Selected with Russell and Freeman by a vote of 329 sports writers and broadcasters were Sihugo (Si) Green of Duquesne, Darrell Floyd of Furman and Tom Heinsohn of Holy Cross. Russell, Freeman and Floyd are repeaters from the 1955 All-America while Green moves up from the 1955 second team and Heinsohn from the 1955 third team.

The 6-10 Russell, who awed fans all over the country during the Don's early season cross-country trek en route to third string of 48 straight victories, received 308 first-team votes and seven second team marks for a total of 1,554 points. Freeman, only 5-11 but one of the nation's best shooters, polled 233 firsts and 46 seconds for 1,257 points.

Green was third in the voting with 81 points on 153 firsts and 48 seconds followed by Floyd with 813 on 125-94 and Heinsohn with 624 on 92-82.

Ronnie Shavlik, North Carolina State star who fractured his wrist last Saturday; K.C. Jones, Russell's teammate at San Francisco; Rod (Hot Rod) Hundley of West Virginia; Len Rosenbluth of North Carolina and 7-foot Bill Uhl of Dayton were picked up as a second team.

George Washington's 6-6 star, Joe Holup; Julius McCoy of Michigan State; little 5-9 Bill Ridley of Illinois; Bob Burrow of Kentucky, and Willie Naulls of UCLA make up a third team.

The honorable mention list included two players from Texas—Jim Krebs of Southern Methodist and Don Boldebuck of Houston University.

AVOCA B FAVORITE

Schoolboy Cage Tourney Starts

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Avoca's Mustangs, among the heavy favorites at the Texas schoolboy basketball tournament, opened this five-ring circus of the court today with lightly regarded Pawnee as the foe.

Twenty-four teams were in Austin for the thirty-sixth annual tournament that runs three days and nights and which has established North Dallas, Beaumont French, Jacksonville, Buna and Avoca as the quintets most likely to carry off championships.

Buna and Avoca are defending their titles in Class A and Class B respectively.

North Dallas heads the prize division—Class AAAA—where play begins tomorrow night with North Dallas meeting Odessa and Laredo clashing with Houston, Milby.

Avoca and Pawnee launched the tournament and the Class B division this morning. Class B, the only one with eight teams, plays until midafternoon running off its four games. Avoca, featuring its great Max Williams, thrice all-state, wasn't expected to encounter trouble before the semi-finals if at all.

Central of Pollok, boasting a great 42-4 record and considered team that might tumble mighty Avoca, meets Gruver in the second Class B game. Then Krum plays Laneville and Van Horn battles Kyle.

Class A, in which Buna is a solid choice to repeat with the championship, swings into action at 3:10 p.m. Buna gets tough little Deer Park in the opening game. Troup plays Big Lake in the next one.

Class AA, in which Jacksonville is a tremendous favorite, starts play tonight with Phillips meeting Webster at 7:30 and Jacksonville taking on Waxahachie at 8:50. Webster is the only undefeated team in the entire tournament, boasting a 32-0 record, and is favored to beat Phillips and advance to the finals against Jacksonville, a heavy choice over Waxahachie.

Classes B, A and AA take up tomorrow morning while class AAA, in which Beaumont French is the only repeater from last year's tournament, gets going tomorrow afternoon with Amarillo Palo Duro meeting Marshall at 3:10 and French clashing with Harlingen at 4:35.

Saturday will be championship day with the big one—Class AAAA—coming at 3:45 p.m. before a television audience.

Middlecoff, Kroll Favorites In Tourney

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Cary Middlecoff and Ted Kroll, double winners in the winter tournament trail, today open their bids for a third victory as they tee off in the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open.

Kroll took over as top money winner last Sunday with a three-stroke victory in the Houston Open. He also won the Tucson Open.

Middlecoff was a winner in the Bing Crosby Tournament and the Phoenix Open, and was runner-up to Jimmy Demaret in the Thunderbird Open.

The two face top opposition, including DeMaret and Mike Souchak each with a victory in the 1955-56 winter tour.

Three of the four past winners of the Baton Rouge Open are entered—Jackie Burke Jr., who won in 1952; Bob Toski, 1954 winner and Bo Wininger, who won last year for his first major tournament victory. Only Sam Snead, 1953 winner, is missing.

In addition to Middlecoff, winner of the 1955 Augusta Masters, Jack Fleck, 1955 U.S. Open champ and Doug Ford, PGA winner, are entered.

LSU Team Competing

The Louisiana State University golf team, defending NCAA champion, is out to keep its record clean and produce the low amateur for the fifth straight year.

Last year's low amateur, Johnny Pott who was also NCAA medalist, graduated, but LSU team members fill three of the nine amateur spots in the 160-player field.

E. H. Arend Jr. of Allenhurst, N.J., led the qualifiers yesterday with a two-under par 70. Two strokes back was Eddie Ross of LSU with par 72 and LSU Capt. Bert Weaver was tied at 73 with Bill Rist of Cleveland, Ohio.

Other qualifiers included Jim Tom Blair of Jefferson City, Mo., and Luca Barbato of Lafayette, La., with 74; Rod Funseth of Spokane, Wash., with 75, and Tommy Wulff of LSU And Oran Whittington of Shreveport, both with 76.

All professionals were exempt from qualifying.

Flying Queens To Nashville For Two

PLAINVIEW (AP)-The Hutcherson Flying Queens of Wayland College go to Nashville Friday to open a series that might ruin their fabulous record of 69 straight victories.

The Queens beat Clarendon College 51-38 the other night to wind up the home schedule. Now they play Nashville Business College in two games before going to the national AAU to defend their championship.

In two games earlier this season the Queens beat Nashville Business College 41-40 and 35-23.

They will be seeking their third straight national AAU title when they go to St. Joseph, Mo., March 11-16.

Dartmouth's freshman track coach, Edmund Styrna, won the New England intercollegiate javelin title three times while at the University of New Hampshire.

CLIP AGGIES, 87-66

Raiders Capture BC Cage Crown

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Si Green, named today to the Associated Press basketball All America, is a jumping jack-of-all trades for Duquesne, shooting, rebounding, passing and defending, but the springy-legged 6-2 kid from Brooklyn practically has made a trade-mark of cutting Dayton down to size.

A year ago in the title game of the National Invitation Tournament, it was Si who canned 33 points and paired with All-America Dick Ricketts to score all of Duquesne's points in the first 27½ minutes while belting the Flyers 70-58.

With Ricketts graduated, it finally looked as if Dayton was too much for Green, beating the Dukes 68-52 last month despite Si's 30 points.

But last night Si was back at the old stand, peppering home 40 points—including the clinching basket on an easy layup with 10 seconds left—as the Dukes rallied to upset the Flyers, ranked No. 3 in the AP poll, 87-86. It was only the third defeat in 25 games for Dayton this season while upping Duquesne's so-so record to 14-9. Both again are headed for the NIT.

The upset doesn't change the NIT picture much. Dayton and Louisville still rate the favorites with the Dukes a bit too thin, perhaps, for a tough tourney grind.

Louisville wrapped up its best regular season ever with a 23-3 record last night, avenging an earlier 40-point thumping by belting NIT-bound Xavier of Ohio 83-70. Phil Rollins and Jim Morgan hit 7 of 8 jump shots in the first 10 minutes of the second half as Louisville spurted to a 68-51 lead.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia came a step closer to gaining the Mid-Atlantic berth in the NCAA Tournament by outlasting Muhlenberg 74-63 for a 19-4 record.

Texas Tech made it to the NCAA by clinching an undisputed Border Conference championship in its final league game, 87-66, over New Mexico A&M.

Canisius, an NCAA at-large entry, defeated Syracuse 76-73 by sinking 42 of 52 from the foul line. Niagara, headed for the NIT, breezed past Siena 78-44, but Marquette, another NIT entry, was dumped by Notre Dame for the second time in nine days 87-69.

Cincinnati's Redlegs set a new team record for home runs in 1955 when they clouted 181 four baggers.

Tex Sullivan Stripped Of Boxing License

NEW YORK (AP) — Matchmaker Tex Sullivan and his London Sporting Club put their newly won stay of execution to the test today, applying for approval by the New York State Athletic Commission for a proposed boxing match March 12 at St. Nick's Arena.

Just 24 hours earlier, Sullivan and the London S.C. appeared to be out of business, effective next Tuesday, under a commission ruling stripping them of their licenses.

But the State Supreme Court, at Sullivan's petition, intervened yesterday, granting a stay of enforcement against the commission order pending a hearing March 13.

Sullivan's petition argued he had been denied "due process" in the commission decision, which also levied a $5,000 fine against the club and Willie Gilzenberg, its treasurer, who also lost his boxing license.

The commission, headed by Julius Helfand, probably will approve Sullivan's request to stage the March 12 bout between lightweights Carlos Ortiz and Paolo Rosi, unless one of its three members believes it to be a poor match.

At least three possibilities lay ahead at the March 13 hearing:

1. The case may be sent to the Appellate Court for a review of the evidence.

2. The case may be reviewed on the ground the commission's edict was arbitrary and capricious.

3. The case may be dismissed, in effect upholding the commission order.

Bill Voiselle, who appeared in 72 International League games for Richmond, Va., last season, will pitch for the Virginians again this year.

More Than Two Million Given Increase In Pay Check Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than two million lower-paid workers got a pay increase today, courtesy of the U.S. government.

The pay hikes came through a boost in the federal minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour. It was voted by Congress last year to become effective today.

An estimated 24 million workers are covered by terms of the Fair Labor Standards Act—generally those engaged or whose work is connected with interstate commerce—but only about 2,100,000 have been making less than the new $1 minimum.

Although the maximum required pay boost could be 25 cents an hour, the Labor Department figured the average increase would be 13 cents an hour, or an estimated 560 million dollars a year. Many of those benefiting have been making more than the old 75-cent minimum, which had been in effect for six years.

More than half the increases were in Southern states, from Maryland to Texas. This means Dixie's annual payroll will be hoisted for more than a million workers by a sum of more than 250 million dollars.

Some of the industries most widely affected are lumbering, textiles, candymaking, furniture and clothing manufacturing.

President Eisenhower had recommended that Congress boost 75-cent minimum to 90 cents. He said that anything higher might cause some sudden unemployment. However, Congress voted for an even $1.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said in a statement the new minimum would cr ate a better standard of living for workers affected by it, and would mean new purchasing power helpful to the entire economy.

Newell Brown, wage hour administrator for the Labor Department, said his agency is stepping up its enforcement staff and activities to see that the new law is observed.

Union Pays Bills Of Catholic School

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Little Roman Catholic Bellarmine High School has $193.61 in the bank, its bills are paid and its automobile, "thank God, runs well for a change."

And all because the wealthy International Teamsters Union gave the Jesuit - sponsored school $9,125. The story came out with the current issue of the International Teamster, official magazine of the big union headed by Dave Beck.

The accounting was in the form of a letter from the Rev. Father F. A. Toner, S. J., head of the school of 400 students.

"During the past month," Father Toner wrote, "I have paid off bills, many of which have been outstanding for the greater part of a year. For example, $2,256 went to support the young men of our faculty who are not yet ordained and must attend summer school each year; $1,150 paid in full the tables we purchased in December for our cafeteria; $1,307.69 was paid on the amount that remained on the bill for kitchen equipment installed a year and a half ago.

"$480—For a new motor and repairs on a car that now, thank God, runs well for a change.

"$600—A grocery bill that is paid in full for the first time in 20 months.

"$300—Insurance. Actually, we were delinquent on two policies because we just didn't have the money to pay the premiums.

"$5,000—A loan made a couple of years ago on which we were paying interest.

"In short, for the first time since I came here, our bills are paid in full and we still have money in the bank. Actually, my bank balance today is $193.61. No doubt, such a bank balance would be cause of concern to you or someone in business, but to me it is a beautiful sight . . . I want to tell you how sincerely grateful I am to you and to all the teamsters who helped us out."

Small Revolt Of Brazilians Is Winding Up

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—The first small rebellion against the government of President Juscelino Kubitschek has ended after 18 days of low-keyed activity. Shots were fired only twice during the revolt and only one death was reported.

The rebellion leader, Air Force Maj. Haroldo Veloso, was captured yesterday by government troops.

His handful of active supporters holding a small airstrip at Jacare-Acanga, deep in the Amazon jungle 1,500 miles northwest of Rio de Janeiro, had surrendered a short time earlier.

The rebel forces were said to number no more than 200 men.

But the revolt apparently aroused plenty of sympathy among officers of the air force.

A source here close to the air force said some 200 officers—about 13 per cent of the total commissioned men—had been arrested for refusing to fly against the rebels or for expressing sympathy with their aims.

Elements of the air force are known to be dissatisfied with Kubitschek, who took office Jan. 31.

The surrender at Jacare-Acanga came after several government planes circled the airstrip. The rebels waved white handkerchiefs towels and sheets and the government planes landed and took control.

A government patrol captured Veloso in a jungle cabin at Parnamirim, a few miles from Jacare-Acanga. The major attempted at first to pose as a reporter but offered no resistance when identified. Later he told newsmen his capture would not end the revolt and "the movement will continue."

Apparently only five declared rebels remained at large.

West Confers On Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Western Big Three and West Germany opened negotiations today on the thorny issue of German financial support for Western troops in this country.

Western officials predicted at least two weeks of hard bargaining would follow before any agreement could be reached.

The American, British and French ambassadors met in the first session at the West German Foreign Office with Deputy Foreign Minister Walter Hallstein.

Lower-level experts will take over the negotiations tomorrow.

The United States, Britain and France insist that West Germany continue to contribute toward the cost of their forces in Germany until Bonn's defense spending becomes comparable to that of the other NATO powers.

They maintain that West Germany has no armed forces, that its rearmament program is a year behind schedule and that it depends entirely on Allied forces for protection. For the year ending May 5 the Germans are paying 760 million dollars to the three Allies.

West German leaders are divided over the issue.

There are about 325,000 pronghorn antelope in the United States.

Estes Enters Wisconsin's Primary Race

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), the only Democratic candidate in Wisconsin's presidential primary, says that race could be "considered a popularity contest" with President Eisenhower.

Kefauver left here today for Washington. During a 30-hour campaign visit he made five speeches, filed his slate of national convention delegates with the secretary of state and learned that Adlai Stevenson will not enter the Wisconsin primary.

Stevenson, also seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, announced his decision yesterday. In a letter to Elliott Walstead—former Democratic state chairman and head of the Wisconsin for Stevenson Club—he said his schedule would not permit time "for genuine opportunities to express my views on public policy."

The decision assured Kefauver of the support of the state's 28 delegates to the national Democratic convention.

Kefauver evaluated the Wisconsin race as "a popularity contest" with Eisenhower as he filed his slate of delegates, but added:

"I am not trying to compete with the President in charm and personality and I don't think the American people want me to compete with him on that basis.

"I am thinking about what the American people want in the way of government. Those are the only issues I will take to the people."

In answer to a question, Kefauver said he would "not bring up the question of the President's health" during the campaign. The President announced yesterday that despite his heart attack last September he would seek re-election.

Europe Has Pleased Reaction To Announcement By Ike

LONDON (AP)—Western Europe's non-Communist press gave warm welcome today to President Eisenhower's decision to run again. Officials on both sides of the Iron Curtain were noncommittal, but the Russians said smilingly they had expected it.

Editorial comment over the announcement ranged from sober reflection to open jubilation.

The Times of London mused: "It is impossible not to admire the devotion to duty which has led him, after prolonged private debate, to this decision."

Morgenbladet of Oslo declared: "The whole free world will greet the President's decision with satisfaction." But Copenhagen's Dagens Nyheter—a conservative paper—found it "almost historical irony that at a time when authoritarian Russia goes in for collective leadership, one should see the Democratic United States depending on the decision of one man."

"This is news we have expected for some time," said Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who has spent much time in the United States as a Soviet representative at the United Nations.

West European officials had little or nothing to say officially. But many expressed the private view that Eisenhower's decision was good for the free world.

The British were obviously pleased but made plain they did not believe the move would rule out the chances for a Democratic victory next November. However, the British see little difference between the two U.S. parties on foreign policy—the major concern to Britain.

French officials indicated their pleasure. Associates of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said he was "highly pleased." Italy's Premier Antonio Segni said the announcement was "happy news because it means that President Eisenhower has completely recovered." Vatican circles also expressed pleasure.

Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab and Canada's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent both said they were pleased at the President's decision.

Ideas Studied On Sunspots

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The value of sunspots as a weather vane touched off a mild storm today between two veteran weather prophets—one a government meteorologist and the other a university professor of geophysics.

It started when Prof. Edward M. Brooks of St. Louis University predicted an unusually windy March with the likelihood of more tornadoes, all on the basis of increased sunspot activity.

"I think the sun just got in his eyes," said government forecaster Harry F. Wahlgren, who termed it "poppycock."

As recently as Feb. 12, Brooks forecast rougher than usual weather for this area, including the possibility of tornadoes and floods during the next three or four years. He said then it could start within the next few weeks.

Brooks contends that extreme weather coincides with spots on the sun and that the period of maximum sunspot activity is approaching. In his March forecast, Brooks pointed to the early appearance of this year's first tornado which killed six and injured a dozen in nearby Illinois towns Saturday.

But Wahlgren doesn't go along with the sunspot theory. He said Brooks "knows no more as to whether or not there will be any tornadoes in March than I do, and that is practically nothing."

This week, Safeway introduces a Hawaiian idea—the rich and gay feast called a luau. This new "Food-and-Fun Adventures" guide gives you detailed information. Gives you a complete luau menu, tells authentic ways to cook and serve, gives decorating ideas for making your luau a real happy-talk event! Get yours today!

Whether you go "all-out Hawaiian" with a complete luau, or choose to serve only one or two of these exotic, delicious foods ... we think we can promise you some real food-fun! Your luau—traditional feast of happy Hawaiian Islanders — will reflect the mood of the Islands: white sand beaches, rolling surf, sighing palm trees. And you'll serve a feast that friends will talk about for weeks!

You can do it at so little cost, with so little fuss! We planned it that way as we gathered all the information, menus, recipes and foods...enabling you to enjoy your version of a colorful luau...right in your own home. (Many of these Hawaiian touches will add variety to your everyday meals, too!) Come in today. We're here to help you make it perfect.

Easy to Create Hawaiian Mood

The foods you serve at your luau are bound to be a success in themselves. You can heighten the Island feeling with a few "native" touches. Instead of using a table, simply roll out straw matting on the floor—or use a colorful tablecloth. Decorate this "beach" with ferns, flowers, and tropical fruits. Keep some Hawaiian music playing in the background. You're on the beach at Waikiki—your luau is under way!

This week's top meat value!
