Major Battle In Progress On Indian Front

Enemy Suffering Heavy Casualties In Furious Attack

(By The United Press)

NEW DELHI, March 29—British imperial troops were reported falling back 15 miles inside the Indian frontier today under heavy attack by Japanese invasion forces swarming down through the Somra hills towards the Manipur state capital of Imphal.

A headquarters communique indicated the first major battle of the Indian campaign was in full swing along the western fringe of the wild Somra tract near Ukhrul.

Japs Ignore Casualties

The Japanese, ignoring heavy casualties piled up by the British frontier forces, were reported pressing their attack furiously and the communique acknowledged the defenders had "taken up new positions."

It was indicated that the British were battling to prevent a Japanese breakthrough onto the crude highway leading from Ukhrul to Imphal, little more than 30 miles to the southwest.

The main impetus of the four-pronged Japanese invasion of India appeared to be centered for the moment on the Ukhrul sector, but the Allied communique said enemy columns still were on the march further north, apparently striking toward Kohima and the upper end of the Manipur valley road.

Air Fighting Heavy

Heavy air fighting also was reported over northern and central Burma, where the Allied Air forces scored 10 to one victory Monday and Tuesday, shooting down 30 Japanese bombers and fighters to run their score for March to 130 enemy planes.

Three Allied planes were lost in the two-day action, making a total of 33 lost thus far in March.

In the upper Mogaung valley of North Burma, Chinese troops opened attacks on three sides of Japanese positions on A1 hill, south of Hkawngiaw river and east of the only road usable for motor travel.

Strong Postwar Defense Urged

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP) —Rep. Woodrum (D-Ga), named by Speaker Rayburn as chairman of the special House committee on post-war military policy, said today "there can be no secure peace unless we maintain, after the shooting stops, an adequate military establishment."

Woodrum praised the members of the committee as "eminently fitted." He said the committee will not be concerned with the "mechanics or details" of legislation, but rather with the broad scope of postwar military policy.

Importance Stressed

Describing that policy as "of the most vital importance," Woodrum said:

"We customarily speak of 'winning the war and winning the peace.' I would add to that—let us see to it that having won the war and the peace, we make the peace secure.

"After the last war, we lost no time in moving in to dismantle our Army and junk our Navy. We are paying now for that blunder. Let us not repeat it."

A partial agenda of the committee's studies will include:

1. Procurement and training of personnel, officers and men, for the military service.

2. Organization, military status and distribution of reserve components of the Army and Navy, including the National Guard of

Dies Committee Assails CIO's Political Group

Subversive Aims Against Congress Laid To Group

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 29. — The CIO political action committee was assailed by the House committee investigating un-American activities today as representing "in its main outlines a subversive Communist campaign to subvert the Congress of the United States to its totalitarian program."

In a 200-page report bristling with criticism of the CIO group and many of its leaders, the committee headed by Rep. Dies (D-Tex) asserted that in the coming elections the "communists will throw their entire weight into the CIO political action committee."

"Their political leader will be, in effect, Sidney Hillman instead of Earl Browder," the Dies committee said. "They will attempt by stealth and subterfuge to do through the political action committee what they have failed to do when functioning as a political party under their own name, to gain political leadership over millions of voters."

Chapter On Hillman

To Hillman, chairman of the political action committee and head of one of the CIO's most powerful unions, the report devoted an entire chapter. Also singled out for separate chapters were Lee Pressman, CIO general counsel; Harry Bridges, head of the CIO International Longshoremen's and warehousemen's union; Joseph Curran, president of the national maritime union of America, and other CIO and political action officials.

The Dies committee emphasized that it did not "allege that Sidney Hillman is a Communist or a Communist sympathizer" but said "there have been times when Hillman clearly deemed it expedient to collaborate with Communists for the attaining of his own political objectives."

The committee emphasized that it did not "challenge for one moment the right of organized labor to engage in political campaigns within the limits of the statutes which govern such activity," nor did it intend to criticize "the legitimate activities of organized labor."

By Hillman's own admission, the report said, the political action committee expects to raise and spend $2,000,000 in this year's elections, with CIO unions — a majority of which it said "have

Billy Meers Dies After Game Fight

DALLAS, March 29 (AP)—Billy Meers, 4-year-old victim of chronic nephritis whose case received nation-wide attention in January, died today despite continuous plasma transfusions equivalent to two pints of blood daily.

He was too weak today to receive another transfusion.

A total of 352 pints was shown on his hospital record, believed to be the largest amount ever prescribed for a victim of this disease.

Despite his daily quota of blood Billy continued to lose his fight against the disease for which physicians admit there yet is no known cure. He lapsed into a coma Monday.

WOULD ADD TO VALUE

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—A federal subsidy of 35 cents per barrel for production of stripper oil wells would add $40,605 per day to the value of stripper production in Texas, Railroad Commission Chairman Beauford Jester estimated today.

San Francisco Fire Bug Active Again

Apartment House Blaze Cut Short

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29 (AP)—A firebug, believed by police to be the same man who yesterday sent 22 persons to their death in the flaming New Amsterdam hotel struck early today at an apartment house in another part of the city.

Quick action by a woman tenant, coming in late from work, prevented the flames from doing more than slight damage.

"It was the same type of work as that of the man who set the other blazes," said Inspector Arthur Finnegan of the fire marshal's office.

11 Other Incendiary Fires

There had been 11 other incendiary fires here in two days, climaxed by the New Amsterdam hotel blaze early Tuesday in which 22 persons were killed and 30 injured — the city's heaviest toll of life by fire since 1906.

Doubled police patrols crusied the city's streets overnight. An appeal was made to all hotel and apartment house operators to be on the alert.

About 1 a. m. today Nellie Bury was riding up to her apartment in the five-story apartment building at 537 Hyde street when she noticed flames spreading from papers scattered along the second-floor hall and against the stairway and elevator well.

She stopped the elevator, jerked off a shoe and beat the fire into embers, then hurried to her third-floor apartment, got a pail of water and doused the embers.

WASTE PAPER
For The City Wide
PICKUP
Friday, March 31

(Pickups for rural areas will be at the schools on Thursday, March 30. Watch The Evening Journal for instructions.)

Paper Salvage Set Thursday

After two weeks' of preparation, waste paper salvage actually will be started in Lubbock county tomorrow.

The first pickups in the first salvage drive of this kind in the county will be at the rural schools, and at Dunbar negro schools within the city, early tomorrow afternoon.

Pickups within white districts of the city are scheduled Friday afternoon and in Slaton Saturday afternoon.

Army Trucks Available

Lt. Col. Frederick W. Franke, quartermaster officer at South Plains Army Air field and area salvage coordinator, reiterated previous assurances that enough Army trucks will be available from LAAF and SPAAF to get the job done.

The trucks, he announced, will leave the fields shortly after noon. Each truck, he added, will be used to make the pickup at two rural schools. This means, he explained, that calls will be made at rural and Dunbar schools between 1 and 2 o'clock. The paper should be ready for loading by 1 o'clock.

Pupils in all these schools, according to reports to the paper salvage committee headed by Will Lowrimore, sr., have been cooper-

Germans Recapture Island Off Croatia

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—German troops have recaptured the island of Rab off the Croatian coast about 30 miles south of Fiume, a communique broadcast from the headquarters of Marshal Tito (Josip Broz) acknowledged last night.

Snow storms have been curtailing fighting in eastern Bosnia, the communique added.

Russians Take Rail City Near Czechoslovakia

Other Red Forces Driving Toward Port Of Odessa

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 29—Russian troops have captured Kolomea on the Lwow-Czernowitz railway in an 11 mile advance southeast toward Czechoslovakia, Premier-Marshal Stalin announced tonight in an order of the day. Kolomea is 30 miles northeast of the Czechoslovakian border.

Kolomea, in old Poland on the north bank of the Prut river, fell to a column of the First Ukrainian army stabbing into the Carpathian foothills.

Meanwhile to the southeast, other Red army forces were driving across the south Russian steppes from fallen Nikolaev in a push upon the great Black sea port of Odessa.

The Russians were advancing on Odessa along a curving 175-mile front. Further west in Bessarabia, a Soviet communique said, units of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian army were within eight miles of the Odessa-Tiraspol-Iasi railroad—last principal escape artery from the port.

Spearheads Cross Bug

Spearheads of Malinovsky's forces which captured Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug already were reported across the Bug estuary, driving along the coastal roads that lead to Odessa, 75 miles to the west. Other columns were plunging south from bridgeheads 60 to 80 miles upstream, where, the Russians said, Domanevka and 40 other towns and villages fell to Soviet arms. Domanevka is 77 miles north of Odessa.

Berlin asserted that Konev's army, stretched along the east bank of the Prut river boundary line of old Rumania, had crossed that stream to assault the strategic rail junction city of Iasi, but neither the Russian communique nor front dispatches confirmed this report of the first Soviet invasion of Axis territory.

Other Forces Driving South

The Second Ukranian army was busy on other sectors of the center, however, driving south to take the towns of Tsyra and Koshen not from from the lateral

Farmers' Draft Plan Changed

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) —Yielding to demands from agricultural state senators, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, agreed today to leave local draft boards the responsibility for deferment of farm workers.

Emerging from a closed conference with Hershey and Marvin Jones, war food administrator, Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of a Senate agriculture committee, announced that Hershey had agreed to scrap the unit system which long had been the basis for farm deferments.

Russell and Senator Tydings (D-Md) said the decision, which Hershey promised to put into operation immediately, should have the effect of stemming "military inroads upon farms which imperial war food production."

New Yardstick Set

Instead of the unit system, under which farm worker deferments are based on the extent of production of livestock or commodities in which the employe is engaged, the so-called Tydings amendment, passed by Congress two years ago, will be the new yardstick, Russell and Tydings reported.

Under it, local draft boards may defer workers if they are "regularly engaged" in the production of essential farm commodities and they can not be replaced on the farms where they are employed.

"We also are going to consider new legislation under which a farmer rejected for military service because of physical handicaps can not leave his farm to go to work in a war plant without the permission of his draft board," Russell announced.

UNRRA BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the bill authorizing United States participation in activities of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration to the extent of $1,350,000,000. Specific appropriation of the funds remains to be made by Congress.

Allies Withdraw From Cassino Positions

Strategic Importance Of Features Lost When Offensive Against Germans Failed

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS Naples, March 29 — Indian gurkha troops who had clung stubbornly to Hangman's hill, an exposed knob just below the peak of Monastery hill overlooking Cassino, have been withdrawn, headquarters disclosed today as violent artillery and mortar duels thundered in and around the town.

At the same time Allied photographic interpreters reported that medium bombers had cut all the rail lines from northern Italy to the German frontline area.

Hangman's hill had been occupied by the gurkha troops for nearly two weeks, and they could be fed and supplied sufficiently only by air. Withdrawal of New Zealanders from Hill 202 on the slopes of Monastery hill also was disclosed.

Strategic Importance Lost

The strategic importance of the two features was lost when the general offensive against Cassino failed to dislodge the Germans, it was explained.

This, plus the difficulties of removing the wounded and bringing airborne supplies made continued retention of the high ground valueless, headquarter officers said.

Allied heavy guns laid down a barrage on German positions in the vicinity of the strongly defended Continental hotel, smashing a German troop concentration forming up near the ruins of the hostelry. German multi-barrel guns, with tank artillery supporting, hammered at Hill 193.

French troops also smashed another small assault on Hill 915, which they are holding.

Nazi Formation Scattered

Allied artillery scattered a German infantry formation taking positions for an attack three miles west of Cisterna in the beachhead below Rome. Anti-aircraft batteries downed four out of 25 air raiders and Spitfire patrols destroyed three more. All of the German bombs fell into the sea without hitting any ships.

Allied planes flew more than 1,500 sorties yesterday, shooting down a total of 13 enemy craft against a loss of 10. About 40 German planes were sighted over the battle area.

Blalock Urges Party Loyalty

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 29 — Myron Blalock of Marshall, Democratic national committeeman for Texas, today urged the state executive committee "to go down the line with the party in the November general election for national candidates."

"I believe in putting the best man in office regardless of party but I also believe along with Governor Hogg (former Texas governor) that the best men are Democrats," Blalock told members of the committee.

He said he felt sure that under leadership of state committee members Texas would cast her customary Democratic vote in November.

Negro Question Arises

The question of negro participation in Democratic primary elections flared briefly when E. B. Germany of Dallas, former chairman of the state executive committee, said he had no objection to Texas negroes organizing their own Democratic party and receiving advice and counsel from white Democrats.

"But," asserted Germany, "this is the white Democratic party of Texas and by the eternal I am going to do all I can to see that it remains so."

Court Upholds Juvenile Law

Retrial Ordered In Lubbock Case

AUSTIN, March 29 (U.P) — The state supreme court today upheld constitutionality of Texas' new law changing juvenile control from a criminal to a civil procedure.

The ruling was made in an appeal from Lubbock county in which two boys had been committed to the state training school at Gatesville.

While upholding the act, the state supreme court held that juvenile authorities had exceeded it in requiring the boys to give testimony against themselves, and sent the case back to Lubbock county for retrial.

Court Lays Down Rule

Discussing the act, the court laid down the rule that a juvenile court is not a criminal court; the trial need not be public; a trial by jury may be demanded and the act does not require the juvenile to testify against himself.

There had been no jury in the Lubbock county case, but the court said proper request for a jury had not been made so that did not affect the decision.

The proceeding had been brought in appeal from the action of Juvenile Officer John W. Wilson.

COURT'S DECISION UPHOLDS JUSTICE E. L. PITTS

This morning's opinion of the Texas Supreme court in regard to the new juvenile delinquency law upholds Chief Justice E. L. Pitts of the court of civil appeals of the 7th supreme judicial district, of Amarillo, in entirety, on basis of announcements received in Lubbock.

The two minors, Billy Dendy and L. J. King, jr., both of Amarillo and both 15 at the time of their trial, were charged in a consolidated civil suit with having stolen an automobile. They were tried under rules of civil procedure, or guardianship, by Judge G. V. Pardue, sitting as a juvenile judge, without a jury, having failed to pay a jury fee as provided under civil procedure rules.

Counsel Objected

They were called by John W. Wilson, city-county juvenile officer, and the state to testify, and

After Completing 75 Missions Fort Is Coming Home

A U. S. FORTRESS BASE IN ENGLAND, March 29. (AP)—The Flying Fortress "Knockout Dropper," which Tuesday became the first U. S. heavy bomber in the European theater of operations to complete 75 missions, will be retired from combat and returned to the United States, it was announced yesterday.

"Knockout Dropper" was also the first American heavy bomber to finish 50 missions in this theater. She beat "Hell's Angels" to this mark Nov. 16, 1943. "Hell's Angels," with 48 missions to her credit, left here in January to tour the United States.

The "Dutchess," a Fortress with 60 raids, the second highest number of missions, also probably will be returned home soon.

She achieved promience a year ago when her bombardier, Lt. Jack Mathis of San Angelo, although mortally wounded, climbed back to his bombsight to hit a target at Vegesack. He was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal.

The combat crewmen on the 75th mission were headed by Lt. John Savage of Coffeyville, Kas.

Others include Warren G. Rogers of Cisco.

Mid-Germany, French Coast Are Blasted

Guns Still Warm As "Forts" Roar Back To England

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 29—The German air force came up fighting today for the first time in six days to battle American Flying Fortresses which shot their way through to bomb central Germany while American Liberators pounded the Pas-de-Calais invasion coast area for the 68th time in 106 days.

The Fortresses roared home with guns still warm, and their crews told of bitter engagements over a German target where the flak was moderate and 60 per cent cloud cover required overcast bombing technique.

News of hard fought sky battles over Westphalia was broadcast by the Germans as the American Air force pressed the campaign described officially as "aimed primarily against the luftwaffe on the ground and in the air."

It was this month's 24th great assault by the U. S. bombers, a new monthly record in the offensive which Lt.-Gen. James H. Doolittle announced last night had destroyed more than 2,100 German planes in the last eight weeks. This toll was taken by American airmen flying from Britain alone.

Fighter escorts accompanied the Fortresses into central Germany.

Four Airdromes Lashed

The double-barreled strike against Germany and France followed a lashing of four airdromes in France Tuesday by 250 to 500 American heavy bombers.

The German targets were not identified, but the preliminary announcement from U. S. headquarters said "today's attacks followed two days of bombings of luftwaffe airfields in France where the Germans did not put up serious aerial defense.'

Berlin asserted that violent air combats were being fought over northwestern Germany by midday.

One broadcast declared "several enemy aircraft were brought down shortly after the enemy had flown over the reich frontier.

Berlin Reports Attack

Berlin first reported bombers over central Germany, and said they were over northwest Germany on their flight outward.

Rally Here To Stress Harmony

Appearance of Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri at a gigantic political rally at Senior High school auditorium here on April 8 will be for party harmony and not for the purpose of furthering a fourth term or for rallying 'New Deal' Democrats, leaders in charge of the rally declared today.

"Republican charges to the contrary, Senator Truman is not using the chairmanship of the Senate Committee to Investigate the National Defense program to promote a fourth term for President Roosevelt," Arch S. Underwood, who invited Senator Truman to come here and speak, said.

No "New Deal" Rally

"Some folks have branded this rally here as a New Deal or Fourth Term rally," Underwood said. "Such is not the case. The Senator's talk here will be for West Texas Democrats—the old garden variety of Democrats — those who don't want to see the Republicans in power in spite of who is nominated for the presidency . . . He said a lot of things down at Dallas which refreshed the memories of a lot of folks of what went on during Republican administrations and I believe he will do the same in his talk here."

Pennsylvania Joins Texas In Oil Fight

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania today joined Texas in a move to return to the states exclusive regulation of spacing, drilling and operation of oil and gas wells.

Governor Edward Martin advised Texas Governor Coke Stevenson he is in "full accord" with the latter's statement that "the time has come for the states to recover their sovereign rights" in oil matters.

The Texas Railroad commission has prepared a resolution calling on the federal government to relinquish control over oil and gas drilling and production and will present it at a meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact commission at New Orleans April 3-4. The commission regulates the oil industry.

Three American Nurses Safe After Playing Hide And Seek In Nazi Territory 4 Months

(EDITOR'S NOTE: 2nd Lt. Ava Ann Maness, one of the three nurses who were rescued from the Germans as related in the following story, was on duty at the Lubbock Army Air field post hospital for a time before going overseas for service with the Army Nurses corps).

TWELFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Italy, March 25 — Delayed) (AP) — They didn't look like three American girls who had been playing hide and seek for four months in German territory and had hoofed it across snow-covered Albanian mountain ranges to safety, but there they were—nurses' uniforms clean and neatly pressed, ties in place, just the right amount of lipstick.

"In some parts of Albania America is a magic word," 2nd Lt. Helen Porter, 30, brunette, and pretty, of Hanksville, Utah, was saying. "That is how we won out."

Her two companions, 2nd Lt. Ava Ann Maness, 32, of Paris, Tex., and 2nd Lt. Wilma Bale Lytle, 32, of Butler, Ky., nodded their blonde heads in agreement.

Last Of Group To Return

The three were the last of a group of 13 nurses, 15 enlisted men and two air officers to get back to Allied soil after losing their way in bad weather and landing deep in German-held Albania last Nov. 8 while on a routine flight from Sicily to Italy. The others reached Italy by boat Jan. 9.

Much of their strange saga will have to be kept under lock and key until the war is ended in order to prevent German reprisals against those who befriended the girls.

"We separated from the others," said Lt. Lytle. "We started out, walking, riding horseback. Once we were only a few minutes ahead of the Germans. We crossed a

Check Reveals FDR Can Win Renomination On First Ballot

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) —President Roosevelt apparently can say the word and win renomination on the first ballot at the Democratic national convention, a check of preliminary delegate lineups indicated today.

With strength manifest in all sections of the country, fourth term backers figured that as of today they could count on a minimum of 604 of the convention's 1,176 votes if the President decides to run.

Thus far Mr. Roosevelt has the public support of 116 of the 142 Democratic delegates chosen, including 10 each from Maine, Arizona and New Hampshire and 86 elected yesterday in New York's primaries. He also apparently will be backed by 10 more New York delegates to be chosen at a state convention.

To this nucleus of 126, the fourth term adherents are adding 478 from 17 states which they believe will send delegations that will vote almost solidly for the President if he becomes a candidate. A few defections here and there would almost certainly be made up from other states not in-

Labor Turnover Down In Texas

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—There has been a 38 per cent drop in labor turnover in Texas during the last six months and the state War Manpower commission credits war industry for the accomplishment.

C. E. Belk, state director of the War Manpower commission, said that the improvement had been made while the number of workers in war industry had increased approximately seven per cent.

"Most plant managers in Texas have cooperated fully with WMC employment stabilization plans," he said. "More satisfactory methods of dealing with workers within the plants have resulted from WMC utilization surveys and recommendations. These have corrected many situations which caused indiscriminate quitting.

Workers' Attitude Better

"At the same time workers are showing a more understanding attitude toward many problems which, under the exigencies of war, cannot be corrected overnight. A large part of this reduction can be directly attributed to the organization of labor-management committees within the war plants.

"Communities have also contributed to the reduction by tackling problems outside the plants. Our most outstanding accomplishments in keeping workers on the job have been made in those communities where the war plants, the workers, civic organizations and the War Manpower commission have held regular joint meetings."

Winchell Is Walking One-Way Street In Feuds With Solons

BY MARLOW AND ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, March 29 — When he feuds with congressmen, Radio Commentator Walter Winchell walks a one way street.

He can be held accountable for what he says about them any place. They can't be prosecuted for what they say, so long as they say it in Congress.

This congressional immunity, violated sometimes by punched noses, has always been upheld. It's guaranteed in the constitution.

It doesn't hold true, of course, for statements made by congressmen outside Congress.

Three Congressmen Involved

Winchell currently is tangling with Congressmen Martin Dies, John Rankin and Clare Hoffman. On the air, he's said things that pained them. In Congress they haven't minced words about him.

Dies' committee on un-American activities will investigate all Winchell has said for the past two years. Dies has demanded—and is getting — equal radio time to answer Winchell on the air in order to reach his same listening audience.

Kidding about Dies' demand for air time, the Washington Post editorially wonders: Would Congress be willing to give equal time to a citizen on the floor of Congress to answer charges made against him there?

Solons Can't Be Prosecuted

This is part of the constitution—verified by federal court—which says congressmen can't be prosecuted for anything they say in Congress, and that includes libel and slander.

"The senators and representatives for any speech or debate in either house shall not be questioned in any other place."

Historian Charles A. Beard interprets this immunity further as extending to anything said "in committees, in official publications, or in the legitimate discharge of their legislative duties."

The constitution's words are taken almost exactly from the British bill of rights in which the Parliament in 1689, to protect members from arbitrary arrest for criticism of the king, declared:

"The freedom of speech and debate on proceedings in Parliament ought not to be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of Parliament."

Solons Sometimes Slugged

But immunity to prosecution has not saved congressmen from bodily harm for utterances on the floor. Private citizens occasionally have slugged or caned a congressman critic outside the capitol.

In not one case of assault for criticism have we been able to find after diligent search — although the records seem incomplete — that a congressman's assailant was jailed.

In each case the assailant was arrested, tried before the house involved and released after a reprimand although both House and Senate can impose prison penalties.

Have Exchanged Punches

(Congressmen have punched each other in Congress and dueled to the death elsewhere for statements made on the floor. In one duel, fought with rifles, a congressman was killed but the House took no action against the victor).

Sometimes Congress has felt that a member has transcended all bounds and ordered stricken from the record statements he made on the floor.

Several years ago a congressman sought to set up a committee to investigate complaints of citizens who felt they had been slandered by a speaker on the floor. The offending member was to be censured if the complaint was found true. Nothing came of the idea.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Benefits To Jobless May Soar After War

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—Executive Director Claude Williams of the Unemployment Compensation commission says it is possible Texas may be called upon to pay out as much as $120,000,000 in benefits to the jobless during the first year of the post-war period.

Williams, announcing that an additional 4,000 Texas employers will benefit from a lowered tax rate in 1944 because of their good employment records (experience ratings), had this comment on pending social security legislation in Congress:

"If the recommendations of the social security board as embodied in the Wagner-Murray-Dingle bill are made law, then experience rating will be abolished and the employers of Texas will be called upon to pay a much higher tax —probably six per cent of their pay rolls for unemployment compensation and old age and survivors' insurance.

"The old age and survivors' insurance rate is now one per cent. In addition, the employees will be called upon to pay six per cent. Employees pay only one per cent now for federal social security."

Under the experience-rating system now in effect, 10,000 of the total of 18,000 employers subject to the Texas act will receive a tax rate of one-half of one per cent for 1944. During 1943, only 6,000 employers paid this rate. The maximum is 2.7 per cent.

Williams said the balance in the commission's trust fund as of March 25 was $117,342,090 and that it would probably reach $120,000,000 when first quarter collections are tabulated.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

Mary isn't enough—
you're needed too!

WHEN MARY JOINED the WAC, you thought it was pretty fine. You knew she was just the type to make a good soldier.

The first time she came home in uniform, remember how proud she looked, and the lively way she talked about the places she'd been, the interesting people she'd met, and her job as an Army airplane and engine mechanic? You couldn't help feeling envious.

Mary's having an important share in this war. She's doing a really vital job.

But there aren't enough "Marys" to do all the Army jobs which must be done. You are needed too.

If you're not good at mechanics, perhaps you know how to type, or you like to drive a car. Or you want to learn a new job—something you've never done before. Even if you've never had any kind of job, the Army can train you, and you'll fill a vital spot in whichever branch you choose to serve—the Army Ground Forces, Army Air Forces, or Army Service Forces.

Wacs do 239 different types of Army jobs. And it takes all types of women with all kinds of abilities to do them. There is important and interesting work waiting for you to do.

Don't leave it to Mary. The need is urgent. If you're between 20 and 50 years of age, without children under 14—get full details about joining the WAC today! (Women in essential war industry must have release from the U.S. Employment Service.)

And, whichever it is . . . it is alert, ready to serve the bidding of fingers the instant the plug makes contact with the convenience outlet.

No women in all the world enjoy the benefits of electric service to the full extent American women enjoy them. The lady in the cottage and the lady in the mansion have equal rights in their claims for electric service. The dainty fingers of each summon him instantly and with might and thoroughness it bends to the task until dainty fingers bid otherwise. There is no other servant like your electric servant and how convincingly it has proved this during these days when domestic maids have gone to work in war plants . . . and with all this your electricity still serves and works in the average home for the paltry wage of a DIME A DAY . . . the same low wage as before war was declared!

Public Talk Due On Italian Situation

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

British Prime Minister Churchill's expression of disappointment in the progress of the Italian campaign, and his refusal to debate the subject in the house of Commons, rather invites public discussion of a politico-military situation which has been regarded as belonging to the hush-hush variety.

The premier's blunt declaration of disappointment may help clear the air. He isn't the only one disappointed. What then are the facts about the Italian show?

The operations in their present stage are subsidiary to the main assault on the continent proper. It was essential at the outset that the Allies conquer the lower part of the Italian peninsula. It was vital that we possess the great port of Naples and the thirteen airfields of Foggia.

More For Moral Effect

However, the subsequent offensive which has had Rome as its objective would seem to have been more for its moral effect than for military reasons, although there obviously would be military advantages in possessing the Eternal City. The point is that we don't have to take it.

Progress in the winter campaign has been slow for several reasons. The Germans have been holding mountain positions which are so strong that they could have withstood the attack of far greater forces than have been sent against them. The Allied position has been made much more difficult by the winter weather.

Probably the real key to Allied difficulties lies in the fact that the vast preparations for the invasion of western Europe have prevented the high command from devoting more men and equipment to the Italian campaign. Apparently somebody understimated the difficulties of an offensive up the peninsula to Rome.

Readers Were Warned

As for the failure to take Cassino after the big blitz, this column warned readers at the time of the unprecedented bombardment not to jump to the conclusion that there had been success, because it looked as though there was a lot of hard fighting still to be done there. It was a lesson not to overestimate the efficacy of airpower.

The Anzio beachhead attack was advertised as a three-ring circus when it was only a sideshow. It was intended as a diversion, to stampede the Nazis into withdrawing troops from the Cassino sector in the Allied line to the south. It didn't work — and that was that. We didn't fool the Germans. Nothing more could be made of it without extending it into a major amphibious invasion.

It can be added that the Allied positions seem to be secure, despite the lack of progres.

GOATS EAT LICENSE PLATES

Oil was discovered as a fuel and a lubricant at about the time whale oil, which was the main standby, was becoming scarce because of the wide dispersal of the whale.

QUOT-A. UNQUOT-A

MARTINSBURG, W. Va.—A draft board scanned the report on a quota of 12 inductees called last week. One of the 12 was injured in an accident and was delayed until a future quota. Another failed to get his notice to report and was referred to a later call.

Of the 10 who got to the Clarksburg induction station, seven were rejected and two were sent to a hospital for clinical study.

Actually accepted—one.

Then the other Richard Murphy joined the Seabees, and the Navy has a new headache. They're at the same base, work in the same office as storekeepers and—

Each is a Petty Officer Richard Murphy.

STREET SCENE

TOPEKA, Kas. — An unidentified woman who was crawling across an ice-coated Topeka street, presumably to keep from falling, was struck by two cars, police reported.

They concluded she wasn't hurt seriously. When she reached the curb, she rose and walked away.

KISS AND RUN

SEATTLE — Miss Carol White, 18, told police she was walking home when she was seized by a youth who spun her around, kissed her soundly and sprinted away.

GOOD FISHING

BELGRADE, Neb.—A stubborn drain pipe prompted Mrs. Adelia Ward to summon the plumber.

Undaunted, the plumber routed 60 garter and bull snakes from the pipe where they had crawled to hibernate for the winter. The pipe empties into Cedar river.

HOTFOOT

FRONT ROYAL, Va. — In the future, Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, public education superintendent in Virginia, will be cautious in choosing his figures of speech.

"Senator, I've come up here to build a fire under you," he told State Senator Aubrey Weaver, when he called to enlist Weaver's support for teacher salary boost legislation.

While they were talking, the telephone rang. The schoolhouse, two doors from the senator's house, was on fire. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

Sea Covers For Guns Fit Service Bibles

ATLANTA, Ga., March 29 (U.P.)—The Bibles and guns of American fighting men are, by a strange coincidence, being protected from the effects of salt water by the same covering.

Chaplain John O. Lindquest, chief of the chaplain bureau, Fourth Service Command, explained that the Army recently discovered that the covering designed to keep sea water from damaging rifles, machine guns and pistols is exactly the size of the government-issued Bibles.

The covering, made of pliable, transparent, waterproof vinyl, is buoyant enough to float the books and guns if accidentally dropped or washed overboard.

Archeological Field Found In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, March 29 (AP)—Discovery of an important "Archeological field" in the heart of Mexico City was reported today by Juan Valenxuela, chief archaeologist for the national institute of anthropology.

Several skeletons, three huge stone figures, and considerable jewelry have been unearthed at what is believed to be the site of the old palace of Cuauhtemotzin, prince of the Aztec indians conquered by the Spaniards under Cortes.

The "field" was discovered when workers excavated to erect a new building where an old one had been torn down.

Archaeologists are undecided whether the three stone figures represent serpents, tigers or the rain god. Nor are they decided on the date, but estimate it as the fourteenth of fifteenth century.

In World War I, each soldier accepted by the Army had to have a minimum of 12 teeth.

How JIMMY & JUDY Made The Music Go 'Round and 'Round for UNCLE SAM

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP!

Our boys in camp and overseas need musical instruments of all kinds—harmonicas, flutes, accordions, ocarinas, bazookas, pocket-size music-makers. Be a sport like Jimmy and Judy—ransack your home—and ask your neighbors for any unused instruments. Take them to your Coca-Cola dealer. Then the "Coke" truck will send them to Uncle Sam for our boys. Do it today!

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

What's this about sharing our party line?

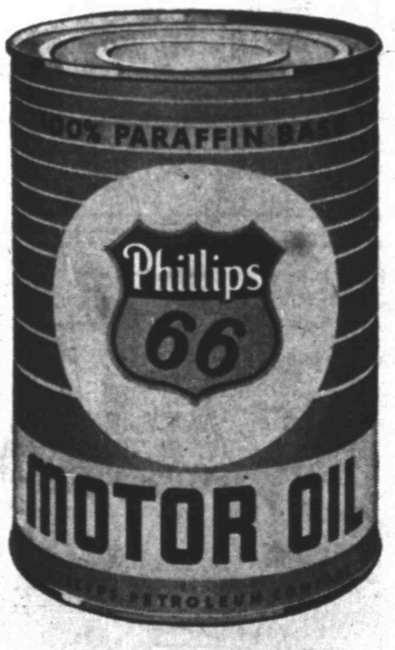

Mary'd been holding the watch on me. She said I talked eighteen minutes. And I'm the boy who's been complaining. I honestly thought we never got to use our party-line telephone.

Right then and there Mary and I decided that telephone service has to be shared these days just like food and gasoline and other things. Decided we'd do our part. Not talk too long. Allow plenty of time between calls. Give other people time to finish theirs.

The idea caught on . . . sort of contagious. There's telephone room for all of us . . . now that we're sharing our party line.

Mister: Could you use TWINS?

It's Phillips Finest Quality

Every car owner, these days, has a double reason for protecting and preserving his automobile: His own interest, and the nation's interest in keeping every possible car running as a vital link in our country's transportation system.

That is why we remind loyal users of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline that the twin product which really goes with it is Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

Here is a lubricant, 100% paraffin base, which answers the question every motorist wants to know: How can I quickly and confidently select a high quality oil?

To help you choose, Phillips makes this frank statement: If you want our best oil, remember we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality . . . the highest grade and greatest value . . . among all the oils we offer to average motorists.

Good oil has always been a good investment. Today, good oil is the only kind any thinking car owner will use. Play safe and save by asking for Phillips 66 Motor Oil, when draining winter-worn lubricant or making the recommended every-two-months oil change.

Mercury Here Drops To 19

Lubbock citizens were still shivering this morning as Old Man Winter was reluctant to leave this section after filling a return engagement. Low temperature of 19 was recorded by the pipeline station of the West Texas Gas company at 7 and 8 o'clock this morning.

Don L. Jones of the Lubbock experiment station said it seems now that those who planted early gardens will have the job to do all over. All hope for a fruit crop in this section was abandoned following the deluge of hail and sleet early Tuesday, he said. The hail and sleet was interspersed with rain and a trace of snow.

The weather man predicts fair weather for this afternoon, tonight and Thursday, however, and warmer weather seems to be in the offing.

COLD SNAP DUE TO ABATE BY TONIGHT

(By The United Press)

Sub-freezing temperatures chilled East and West Texas last night and early today and promised to continue through most of Wednesday.

Weather bureau officials expected the unseasonal cold snap to abate by tonight. Light snow fell throughout the Panhandle yesterday but failed to continue through the night.

Temperatures ranging from 25 to 30 degrees were anticipated in the north and west central portions of East Texas and 28 to 32 degrees in the east central portion.

In the El Paso area, Big Bend country and Del Rio-Eagle Pass area, the temperature was expected to drop sharply during the day but climb back tonight and Thursday.

Minimum temperatures in the state during the night: Abilene 24, Big Spring 19, Wink 17, Amarillo 14, Clarendon 13, Fort Worth 29, Dallas 30, Austin 35, San Antonio 38, El Paso 26, and Houston 40.

Some sleet mixed with a light rain was observed in Houston shortly after 7 a. m. today.

Property In Zone 5 Registered Today

A total of 541 landlords braved the wintry winds Tuesday to register their rental property at the area rent office, 1415 Avenue Q, according to Earl W. Heath, area rent director of the OPA. The over-all total now stands at 3985 registrants.

Registration of Zone No. 5 began this morning and will continue through Thursday. This zone is bounded on the south by Nineteenth street, on the west by Avenue Q to Fourth street where it makes a jog to Avenue P then north to the city limits, and takes in all territory north and east of these boundaries.

Registration of the sixth and final zone of the city will be held Friday and Saturday. This zone is bounded on the east by Avenue P, on the south by Fourth street, and takes in all territory west and north of these boundaries.

Heath said he wished to make it clear that landlords throughout Lubbock county must register all property rented for living accommodations. Those with property in the rest of the county are required to register this property and should do this without delay.

Registration will be held in Slaton on April 4, 5 and 6, he said.

Slim Audience Hears Oratorio

Smallest audience ever to attend the annual presentation of "The Seven Last Words of Christ" (DuBois) gathered at Senior High school auditorium Tuesday night to hear the Tech Chorus and guests sing the Easter oratorio for the tenth time in Lubbock. Inclement weather and the fact the program was broadcast over KFYO were given as reasons for the small gathering.

Dr. Julien Paul Blitz directed the chorus and Mrs. Blitz was at the piano.

Soloists were 1st Lt. Chas. E. Prescott, jr., of Midland Army Air field who returned to repeat the baritone role he sang last year; Rev. W. H. Foster, jr., tenor and Misses Joyce Watson, Marion Chandler and Betty Floyd, soprano trio.

The well-trained chorus of 400 voices provided excellent background for the soloists.

Wesley Youngblood, KFYO announcer, was the reader. Benediction was given by Dean James M. Gordon.

Installation Is Conducted

First Baptist Ruth class attended an installation Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the teacher, Mrs. C. J. Cowan, 2218 Broadway, with Mrs. J. E. Ward, teacher of the Truth Seekers class, in charge.

Taking office were: Mrs. C. A. White, president; Mrs. R. H. Fulton, first vice president, assisted by Mrs. M. M. Ewing; Mrs. G. A. Kelly, second vice president, assisted by Mrs. B. B. Williams; Mrs. Erton Tate, third vice president, assisted by Mrs. O. E. Joiner; Mrs. H. E. Ewing, secretary; Mrs. Garland Head, treasurer; Mrs. Jim Bledsoe, chairman of members in service.

Group captains installed were Mesdames M. F. McDaniels, E. C. Pool, Earl Burnett and Roy Cornelius.

Mrs. G. R. Saverance, a former member, was a visitor.

Mexican Workers Are Smuggled Into U. S.

MEXICO CITY, March 29 (AP)—Mexican workers are being "smuggled" into the United States, the Mexican consul at McAllen reported today to the foreign relations ministry.

The consul said he interviewed 19 Mexicans held in Edinburg for U. S. immigration authorities, and that all told him they had entered the country illegally.

Some said they crossed the Rio Grande by boat, paying two pesos each to the boat owners and others said they swam across.

Those held added that the had gone to the United States because of unemployment, and that they had been told U. S. authorities would let them across because of the need of workers in Texas. The consul reported that on the contrary U. S. authorities are guarding closely against illegal entries.

Russians, Germans and Lithuanians were squabbling for Pskov in the 11th and 12th centuries.

Great Plains Wheat Crop Has Improved

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP) — All over the southwestern Great Plains — an area which can either be a dust bowl or the source of food for millions — crop reporters commented today upon the amazing improvement in the outlook for this year's wheat crop.

Snow and rain in the past sixty days have given the Southwest the moisture which it so badly needed, and did not get, late last autumn and in the early part of the winter. The gloomy prospects of last December has disappeared with the coming of spring.

This southwestern territory — embracing Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas — gives the nation the major part of its wheat supply. Yields fluctuate greatly in parts of this area, largely because of variable rainfall, and the nation's total wheat production depends greatly upon good or poor yields in this territory.

In Oklahoma, according to reports received by the Uhlmann Grain company, "moisture conditions over the entire state are wonderful. Crop prospects are good everywhere and it looks now like one of the best crops in years for Oklahoma."

A report received by the company from Fort Worth, stated "crop conditions in our territory are very good and we have had ample moisture. We could stand several weeks of sunshine, which would help considerably."

Contract For New Pipeline Unsigned

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) —A Petroleum Reserve corp. contract to finance the proposed 1250-mile Arabian oil pipeline is still unsigned because the three companies involved are unable to agree on terms, it was learned today.

The contract originally was to be completed by about April 1, but the three firms—Standard Oil of California, the Texas Co., and Gulf Exploration Co. — are in disagreement on several clauses, and are not prepared to sign and submit the document to the government for approval and subsequent negotiations with Saudi Arabia. Nature of the differences was not revealed.

RAYBURN TO SPEAK

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29 (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) of the House of representatives will be the principal speaker for the northern California Democrats' Jackson day dinner here Thursday. Prominent Democrats expected to attend the $25 a plate affair include Postmaster General Frank C. Walker and Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the U. S. mint.

MAYBE... rear-view Periscopes on future cars

BUT...OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE is like outdoing the future—today

Pre-war cars were excellent. And America's urge for progress means further advancements—not fantastic, hence ready for you sooner. Main thing meanwhile is to make the car you've got hold its own. The less you're using it till you can trade, the less heat there is that might at least partway curb engine acid. Every explosion in every engine forms acid inside. But even without heat's help, you'll get defense against acid by having your engine OIL-PLATED.

You need a Spring oil change anyway—that's a "must!"—and changing to Conoco N*th* motor oil brings your engine the big advance of acid-resistant OIL-PLATING.

Before synthetics were everyday talk, the one that's in Conoco N*th* was invented. And how it worked!...sort of like "magnetism"... joining OIL-PLATING to inner surfaces as if to stay—not quickly letting them drain bone-dry at every stop—not exposing them freely to contact with acid during every standstill. Then's when acid likes to take its biggest "chaw" at fine metals, but you can do something about it. You can OIL-PLATE today with Conoco N*th* for Spring—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Noted Imposter Apprehended

NEW YORK, March 29 (U.P.) — Roger Lewis Gardner, dapper imposter sought by Los Angeles police in connection with the "crushed gardenia" murder of a red-haired Army wife eight months ago faced arraignment today on charges of impersonating a federal officer.

Gardner, described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the "most wanted man" the FBI had sought in many years, was named in a warrant as the slayer of Mrs. Ora E. Murray, whose nude and beaten body was found on a Los Angeles golf course last July 27, a crushed gardenia corsage beneath her chest.

E. E. Conroy, New York director of the FBI, said that a conversation between two women led to the arrest of the 25-year-old prisoner last night in an upper East Side apartment but did not disclose any other details. His apprehension first was revealed in Washington by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI.

Identified By Women

Other sources disclosed that Gardner's apprehension followed the identification by the two women of his photograph. They said he had represented himself to them as a "Donald Douglas, a federal attorney," and that he had defrauded them of $1,500. The women gave federal agents "Douglas'" address and he was picked up.

Conroy described Gardner as a Lothario who went about the country impersonating federal officers and preying on women.

Los Angeles police have identified Gardner as slayer of Mrs. Murray. When her body was found, her lavender print dress was draped sarong-like about her waist, and a pair of green frenchheeled dancing pumps were tossed aside nearby.

Mrs. Murray, 42, but who looked younger than her years, was the wife of Sgt. William Murray.

Posed As Attorney

Subsequent investigation of "Paul" by Los Angeles police and the FBI revealed Gardner also was known as "Grant Wyatt Terry," who, according to authorities, had been posing as an attorney for the lands division of the War department.

Gardner was born in Philadelphia and attended public schools in Passaic, N. J., where he was arrested as a sex offender. The charge was dismissed.

He victimized more than 20 women, Hoover said. He cited as "typical" of Gardner's operations, "the whirlwind courtship with his last wife whom he left after taking her life's savings."

Gardner, the FBI said, had married women in Passaic, Lexington and Williamston, Ky., Okmulgee, Okla., St. Louis, Mo., New Orleans, Alamagordo, N. M., Indianapolis, Ind., and Newton Upper Falls, Mass.

Fort Logan Is To Be Convalescent Center

FORT LOGAN, Colo., March 29 (U.P.)—Fort Logan, an Army post for 57 years, is to be turned into a convalescent training center for wounded members of the air forces, it has been learned.

For the past three years, Fort Logan has been an air force technical school, training men for clerical work. This school is being disbanded.

The Army Air forces Western Technical training command also announced in Denver that the air base at Lincoln, Neb., which has been a basic training center and also the largest school in the nation for training mechanics for fighter planes, would become a part of the Second Air force on May 1. The personnel of the mechanics' school will be divided between Amarillo Army Air base and Keesler Field at Biloxi, Miss.

Daily Market Reports

Stock Market

STOCKS LOSE GROUND

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Stocks lost further ground today on a resumption of general selling in the late proceedings.

Declines ranged from fractions to more than a point in the rail and principal industrial groups. Some volatile specialties, down 3 or more at one time, cut their declines just before the close.

Although a bit unsettled from the start by reason of yesterday's last-hour flood of selling, the list today displayed no actual weakness until the sudden collapse of a boomlet which had been going on in the whisky shares. Rails and the alcohols paced the retreat. Dealings approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Among issues in the losing ranks were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, Park & Tilford, Dunhill, American Can, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, Kansas City Southern and Atlantic Coast Line.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP) — Small advances were scored by grains in a quiet trade today. The scarcity of feed grains in major markets, news dispatches asserting corn processors were planning to close additional plants and allocation of increased government wheat supplies for feeders in April combined to give the market a strong undertone.

At the close wheat was ⅛-¼ higher, May $1.73⅜, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, May 82, and rye was ahead ½-1 cent, May $1.29⅝-¾. May barley closed at its ceiling of $1.28 while deferred deliveries were up ⅝-¾.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 29 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 1.71½-77.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo or No. 2 white kafir per 100 lbs. 2.40-47.

Oats, corn and barley at northern shipping point ceiling price, plus freight.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — Cotton futures fluctuated over a wide range in a nervous market today attributed to the uncertainty of the war situation. After opening with modest gains the market was subjected to recurrent bursts of commission house and New Orleans liquidation which encountered only scale-down mill price fixing and short covering.

Futures closed 10 to 40 cents a bale lower.

cluded in the survey, they said.

Others To Be Lined Up

Preliminary steps already have been taken by party leaders in 11 of the 17 states to line up solid delegations for a fourth term. These include Pennsylvania with 72 votes, California with 52, Illinois with 58, Ohio with 52, New Jersey with 34, Wisconsin with 26, Oklahoma, 22, Connecticut, 18, West Virginia 18, Nebraska, 12, and Vermont, six.

In six states where the delegate selecting machinery is only now beginning to function, the fourth term supporters are confident they can get another 108 votes. These include Tennessee's 26, Alabama's 24, Iowa's 20, Washington's 18, Colorado's 12 and Wyoming's eight.

Rites To Be Read For Miss Tinker Today

Last rites will be read for Miss Mary Tinker at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at the C. J. Wagner residence, 1644 Broadway, with Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

Miss Tinker, sister of Mrs. Wagner, died at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wagner late Tuesday afternoon.

The body will be sent by Rix Funeral home to Dallas tonight for cremation.

Miss Tinker was born at Altoona, Ill., and her home in recent years was at Monmouth, Ill., but she had spent a portion of her time here, where she has many friends.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Wagner, include two sisters, Mrs. Helen Smith of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Glen Wilson of Monmouth.

mountain range in a snowstorm but it wasn't bad, really." They played three-handed bridge, smoked Albanian cigarets, ate rice, figs, spinach, mutton, chicken, turkey, water buffalo; drank vermouth and goat's milk for the better part of three months.

Lt. Maness Gained Weight

"I even gained weight," Lt. Maness acknowledged.

An Albanian messenger to Garcia finally put Allied authorities in touch with them. Instructions were sent and the nurses followed them to the letter, walking all the way. When they reached a designated point they looked for a man who would answer their sign with the correct countersign.

The arrangements clicked perfectly and in a matter of only a few days they were back in Allied hands.

The three soon will be homeward bound on special leaves although they agree they just as soon would "stay and go back to work."

They have an urgent mission in the United States besides a reunion with their families, however — spreading a little good will for the Albanian people.

"A lot of those people are putting all their hopes in America," Lt. Porter said.

Oklahoma Win Cheers Demos

(By The Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 29—Democrats laid claim today to a nationally-significant triumph in Oklahoma's special congressional election. Republicans blamed the New Deal machine, minimized the results of yesterday's balloting and predicted it'll be different in November.

The state's Second district, traditionally Democratic, was made a major battle-ground. National party leaders joined the fray. The Roosevelt administration was called the issue by both sides.

With only 19 of the eight-county district's 331 precincts still unreported today, and those sparsely-populated, Democrat W. G. Stigler led E. O. Clark, Republican, 21,405 to 17,678 votes.

Try To Appraise Result

As politicians tried to appraise the result — looking toward what Oklahoma and other normally-Democratic border states may do in November — these were the immediate tangible developments:

1. The victory had given the Democrats 217 seats in the House of representatives against 210 for the Republicans, four for minor parties, four vacancies.

2. The Democrats had recorded their third triumph in 11 special congressional elections since 1942—against eight for the Republicans. (In these 11 races, Democrats have retained two Democratic seats, including the one here, and have taken one from the Republicans. The Republicans have gained three Democratic seats and have kept five already theirs).

Myth Said Exploded

In Washington, Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, said today Stigler's victory "exploded completely and decisively the myth of a nation-wide Republican trend."

Said Oklahoma's Republican senator Ed H. Moore, former Democrat who was elected on an anti-New Deal platform in 1942:

"Both the federal and state New Deal machines were in the district plugging every minute. The organization got the job done."

Bond Not Posted In Bank Robbery Case

Bill Lambert who, with Jimmy Leroy Pennick, is charged with entering a national bank with intent to commit robbery and an assault to commit hank robbery, was still in the county jail here this morning, not having posted bond, according to Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner of the Lubbock division of the Northern Federal district.

Pennick was released from the county jail Tuesday upon posting $5,000 bond, she said.

They were recently released from the state penitentiary at the completion of state penal terms, at which time they were served with new warrants by federal authorities from Houston. They were removed here by the Houston marshal.

The pair were indicted by a federal grand jury in Fort Worth May 29, 1942, the indictment being held here awaiting the expiration of the state's mandate. The charges are in connection with the robbery Jan. 5, 1942, of the Sudan First National bank.

Service By 4-Fs Is Urged By Patterson

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told the House military committee today the time had arrived for 3,500,000 4-F's between the ages of 18 and 37 to be assigned to essential industry or to be inducted into the Army in labor battalions.

"We face an actual danger," Patterson said as the committee continued its study of the manpower situation. "It seems quite plain that some method of controlling the utilization of 4-F's in essential war work more extensively than under existing practice would promote the winning of the war."

One method to utilize the 4-F's, he explained, would be by enactment of national service legislation applicable to men between 18 and 37 who have been classified as physically disqualified to perform military service. He said assignment of such men to essential activities could be under control of a director of national service.

Extension Proposed

"Another method would be by extension of the present selective service mechanism," he said. "The 4-F's in war activity or other essential activity would be given occupational deferments and would remain as before. The 4-F's not in war activity or other essential activity and found by the local boards to be qualified for such activity would be inducted and placed in the enlisted reserve."

As the need for additional workers in an essential activity became evident, he explained, the men assigned to the enlisted reserve would be directed by local boards to take employment in such activity, retaining their civilian status and receiving the wages and "other ordinary incidents of civilian employment."

Men directed into essential employment and refusing to go, he declared, "would be called by the Army to active military service and would be used in special labor units."

Patterson — whose department was represented yesterday by Paul V. McNutt, War Manpower chairman, as not favoring induction of 4-Fs, — recently made a survey of the situation, Chairman Costello (D-Calif) disclosed, and may be ready to agree to use of rejected men for non-general service.

Many Disabilities Not Grave

"Some method must be worked out to use these men," Costello said. "Thousands of them are younger men whose disabilities, while sufficient to prevent their acceptance for combat duty, are not grave enough to prevent them from taking a nessential war job and releasing a physically-fit young man for combat."

Costello said testimony given the committee in recent days — including a suggestion by WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson that effective controls be established over 4-Fs — has influenced many of his colleagues to believe that the time has arrived to "put many of these men in uniform so they can be used where they are needed in a non-combat capacity."

an entrenched Communist leadership"—contributing a large part of the total.

Many CIO members, it charged, will be coerced into contributing to "this Hillman-Communist conspiracy" whose major objective "is to discredit the Congress"and the method of obtaining contributions "is a piece of tyrannical taxation" on workers.

The committee listed these CIO unions as one in which "Communist leadership is strongly entrenched:" American Communications association, International Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists, and Technicians; International Fur and Leather Workers union; International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union; International Union of Fishermen and Allied Workers of America; International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers; International Woodworkers of America; Marine Cooks and Stewards Association of the Pacific coast; National Maritime Union of America; State, County and Municipal Workers of America; Transport Workers Union of America; United Cannery, Agriculture, Packing and Allied Workers of America; United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers of America; United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers of America; United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers of America; United Office and Professional Workers of America; United Shoe Workers of America; United Stone and Allied Products Workers of America.

Training Unit Glee Club On Program

Applause was enthusiastic following the program presented by the glee club of the 309th College Training detachment of Texas Technological college at the luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club today noon in the Hilton hotel. The glee club was under the direction of E. M. DeCristofaro. A few feats of magic were offered by a member of the glee club, James Ratcliff.

Special guests following the luncheon were members of the Business and Professional Women's club who were meeting in another part of the hotel.

J. A. Raley, program chairman, introduced Dr. H. M. Kent, administrative executive of the college, who in turn introduced the singers. W. W. Rix, president of the Rotary club, presided.

War Against Japs

lied airmen were playing an increasingly decisive role—in offense, defense and supply.

Associated Press War Correspondent William Boni reported from New Delhi that transport planes were now striving to supply no less than five separate Allied forces, variously engaged in halting the Japanese invasion of India or pressing their offensive against Myitkyina, principal enemy base in north-central Burma. These planes were serving not only as supply carriers but were evacuating wounded from fighting areas.

Dozen Jap Bases Raided

The aerial pattern was even more obvious in the war against Japanese-held islands in the Pacific ocean. Over a 1,500-mile stretch from Dutch New Guinea to Bougainville Americans and Australians battered a dozen enemy bases with 292 tons of bombs. They hit Rabaul on New Britain, Wewak and Hansa bay on New Guinea, Kavieng on New Ireland, and Bougainville in the Solomons.

The only attack not pressed from the air was a destroyer shelling of Pityilu island in the Admiralties, which Americans now have virtually under their thumb.

Boni reported nearly all the dive and fighter bombers available were being thrown into the fight to halt the Japanese drives into India, the most serious of which appeared to be a double movement against Imphal and Kohima.

Ground Fighting Obscure

The ground fighting in this region remained obscure, with latest Allied reports crediting the enemy with determined assaults to break British lines guarding the Imphal-Kohima road. Two other Japanese columns headed toward Imphal were being contained, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters reported.

Radio Tokyo boasted its forces were wiping out British-American airborne troops in north-central Burma. There was no confirming Allied report.

Gen. Stilwell's infantrymen pushed down the Mogaung valley. His Americans wiped out suicide squads with bayonet and grenade. His Chinese fighters captured Hkawnglawyang, a village.

Truman's Talk Here

Democrats, headed by L. C. Ellis, county Democratic committee chairman, made plans for reception and entertainment of Senator Truman while he is here.

General Committee Named

Members of the general steering and invitation committee will be: Ellis, Mark Halsey, member of the state Democratic executive committee from this district; Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins, vice chairman of the county committee; and Mayor Carl E. Slaton of Lubbock.

Entertainment, reception, transportation and other committees will be named later.

Official invitations are to be sent to all Democratic county chairmen and committee members from over West Texas and Eastern New Mexico for the rally but leaders said they also wanted every citizen of the area to consider himself invited to the rally. Newspapermen from the same area are also invited here for the program and a press conference with Senator Truman.

Texas two United States' Senators, Congressman Geo. Mahon, other congressmen and state officials and party leaders are also to be extended official invitations to the program here.

According to tentative plans, an open house will be held at the Hilton hotel in the afternoon prior to the Senator's talk at the high school that night at 8:30 o'clock.

Besides being chairman of the investigating committee, Senator Truman is a member of the Appropriations committee, Military Affairs committee, Interstate Commerce committee, Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds in the Senate. He is author of a bill for the federal licensing of operators of motor vehicles used in inter-state traffic. He was also chairman of the subcommittee of the Interstate Commerce committee which drafted the Civil Aeronautics act under which all civil aviation was brought under control of the Civil Aeronautics authority.

U. S. Combat Troops Serve With Partisans

BARI, Italy, March 3 (Delayed) (AP)—American combat troops specially trained for guerrilla warfare are operating with Yugoslav partisans and British forces in the Dalmatian coastal zone, it can now be revealed.

Special American raider groups were first sent across the Adriatic several months ago.

In frequent brushes with German patrols, mixed British-American and partisan detachments have taken scores of prisoners and inflicted considerable casualties. Their own losses are authoritatively described as extremely light.

An unidentified veteran of the First World war heads an American outfit whose Dalmatian operations are coordinated under a senior British officer in the field.

Important commando-type missions have been completed successfully by the troops.

Juvenile Law Upheld

their counsel objected to their testimony.

At conclusion of the trial, the court entered a judgment finding they were delinquent children and it was ordered that they be placed in the boys reformatory at Gatesville until they became 21.

Defendants excepted to judgment and action of the trial court and appealed to the Amarillo court, which reversed and remanded the case, holding among other contentions that the juvenile court erred in refusing a jury trial and permitting Wilson and the state to call the minors to testify. Motion for a rehearing was denied.

State's Contentions Quoted

Wilson's and state's assignments of error, prepared by Eyrian E. Marbut, county attorney, included:

"No. 2. The court of civil appeals erred in holding, in effect, that the trial court erred in permitting appellees (Wilson and the state) under rules of civil procedure to call the appellants (Dendy and King) to the stand to testify and there interrogate them regarding the conversion of the automobile, to which interrogation appellants answered without claiming, personally, privilege of refusing to so answer . . . upon grounds of self-incrimination.

"No. 3. The court of civil appeals erred in holding, in effect, that the trial court erred in requiring appellants to give testimony, on the grounds that (it) incriminated the appellants, after an objection to such testimony had been made by appellants' counsel, because (authority cited) no juvenile can be guilty of any crime; therefore such testimony could not under law have incriminated appellants . . .

Not Criminal Procedure

"No. 4. The court of civil appeals erred in holding, in effect, that the trial court erred in permitting appellees . . . to call the appellants to testify, because, this not being a criminal procedure, no party may complain if a witness either voluntarily or by compulsion of the court, answers question which it is his privilege not to answer."

Marbut, in discussion of second, third and fourth assignments of error, pointed out that ". . . neither Dendy nor King personally objected to give such testimony . . . complained of by defendants, but such objection was made . . . through their counsel . . . before each of the appellants took the stand."

He contended that ". . . in any suit that is not a criminal procedure, any party to the suit may be called as a witness by the opposite party and interrogated about material matters concerning the case (authority cited) . . . and that the privilege of refusing to answer such . . . only extends to the party giving the evidence and only when such answers . . . may incriminate the witness in some criminal prosecution, and that upon claiming such privilege, such witness cannot be held in contempt of court, but if such witness answers such questions and even though they do incriminate him in some other prosecution, such would not be error in any case that is not a criminal procedure."

Privilege Of Witness Only

The issue apparently turns on the state's contention that, "The privilege of not answering in such a case is the privilege of the witness only . . . Only the witness can take advantage of the right to decline to testify on the grounds that his testimony will incriminate him . . ."

The attorney general and Marbut represented Wilson and the state, and Charles C. Crenshaw and James O. Cade were counsel for the juveniles. All argued the case in the Supreme court, Crenshaw and Cade striking at the constitutionality of the law as well as the juveniles' having been required to testify against themselves.

The case went to the Supreme court on writs of error granted both sides.

Corpus Printers Not Available For Work

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 29 (AP)—The Corpus Christi Caller appeared in abbreviated form this morning and the Times, afternoon publication, was to follow suit because union printers were not available for work.

Members of the executive committee of local 528, international typographical union, still were in session—a session started yesterdal afternoon at 3:10 o'clock.

Joseph S. Myers, commissioner of the United States Conciliation service, arrived today to seek a settlement of the dispute.

Union committeemen said members of the union were "going to have more money." They said this amount would be approximately $10 weekly.

President Fighting Case Of Bronchitis

WASHINGTON, March 29 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt was on a cough syrup diet today, fighting an annoying case of bronchitis and awaiting results of an exhaustive physical examination.

Shortly before meeting with reporters yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt went to the naval medical center at nearby Bethesda, Md., where the doctors, under the guidance of Admiral Ross T. McIntire, made a complete physical check-up, including many X-rays. The results of this examination will not be known to Mr. Roosevelt for a day or two, but his physicians did not expect to find anything more serious than bronchitis.

S. Eighth Air force in Britain declared that more than 37,000 tons of bombs were rained down on Germany and occupied territory by the Americans since Feb. 1 and that 16 major aircraft or plane parts factories had been destroyed or severely damaged since Feb. 20.

These terrific blows, Doolittle said, were delivered by an "invading force" of 170,000 men of the 8th and 9th Air forces who fought some of the fiercest air battles of the war and "are prepared for even greater ones if they come."

Two American bombers and three fighters failed to return yesterday from raids directed against Charters, 40 miles southwest of Paris: Chateaudun, 30 miles farther southwest, Reims, 80 miles northeast and Dijon, 160 miles southeast of Paris.

Doolittle, who made his disclosures in a speech broadcast to the national press club in Washington, D. C., said that "the goal of strategic bombing was, and still is, the destruction of Germany's vital war industries."

William E. Herring Dies In Panhandle

AMARILLO, March 29 (AP)—William E. Herring, 73, Panhandle rancher, died suddenly last night.

He ranched with his father, the late Col. C. T. Herring, in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and owned the 90,000-acre La Ranch in Potter and Oldham counties, the Herring ranch in the heart of the Panhandle oil field in Hutchinson county, and other ranches.

A native of Smith county, Herring, who was graduated from Baylor university at Waco, came to the Panhandle in 1909.

Survivors include the widow, a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Ware, Amarillo; and a sister, Mrs. L. K. Johnson of Amarillo and Vernon.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Newspapers Had Big Role In Bond Drives

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—American newspapers in the last three Treasury war loans carried a total of 386,609 sponsored or donated advertisements occupying an aggregate of 138,322 pages with a space value of $21,053,052.

Frank Tripp, chairman of the Allied Newspaper council, cited those figures today to underscore anew, he said, newspaper advertising's dominant role in selling $67,175,000,000 worth of war bonds and other government securities.

Compiled for the Treasury's war finance division by the Advertising Checking Bureau, Iinnc., the figures, Tripp said, cover neither the millions of dollars spent for war bond promotion between the drives nor in the first war loan in 1942, for which no similar measurements were made. Neither, he added, do they include "the enormous total of news and editorial support which newspapers themselves have contributed to the cause," estimated to be the equivalent of more than 51,000 standard size pages.

Despite the growing paper shortage, newspaper war bond promotion hit a new high during the recent fourth war loan with 159,878 individual ads — 89,048 in daily papers and 70,830 in weeklies — compared with 152,793 ads during the third loan and 73,859.

Schools Recess Friday

In the city of Lubbock, schools will recess Friday. Students and Boy Scouts are to cooperate in moving bundled paper, which should be left on front porches Friday morning, to the nearest street corners. The Army truck collections from the street corners are set for 1 o'clock.

In Slaton, the same plan will be followed Saturday of picking up the paper at street corners. However, drive officials were advised that more than a ton of bundled paper will be awaiting collection at Slaton schools.

Instructions in this drive are simple. Newspapers, magazines and other types of paper should be bundled separately, securely and in packages not exceeding 20 pounds in weight. It will help if magazines are sorted according to size. Those who can in the city are asked to take the bundles to the nearest street corner. Those who cannot are urged to have their bundles in place on their front porches as soon as convenient Friday morning because the Boy Scouts will start work early.

Labor Appeal Trial Case Set For May 24

AUSTIN, March 29 (U.P.) — Submission of the appeal of CIO and AF of L unions from the decision of Dist. Judge J. D. Moore in 98th district court upholding all but three sections of the Manford labor act of the last Texas legislature was set today for May 24 in the third court of civil appeals here.

The act includes a requirement that labor union organizers register and obtain a permit from the secretary of state.

Validity of the same act is before the U. S. Supreme court which last Monday decided to hear the appeal of R. J. Thomas of Detroit, national head of the Automobile Workers union. Thomas was held in contempt of court by Judge Harris Gardner here for violating an injunction against organizing in Texas without the permit required under the Manford act.

One Count On Chaplin Will Be Given Jury

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (AP)—Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor announced today that the first of two counts against Charlie Chaplin, charging violation of the Mann act in connection with a trip of Joan Berry to New York in 1942, would be submitted to a jury.

When the actor's attorney, Jerry Giesler, rose to answer U. S. Atty. Charles Carr's argument against a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, Judge O'Connor told him:

"Please confine yourself to count 2. I am satisfied that count one should go to the jury."

Taking up one by one the decisions cited by Giesler to bolster his acquittal argument, Carr contended that they did not apply to the Chaplain case.

If Judge O'Connor rejects his motion for a directed acquittal, Giesler is expected to call his first witness immediately. The defense attorney so far has given no indication who that will be and has even declined to say whether or not he will place Chaplain on the stand.

Sent to the resolutions committee—where they died—resolutions by C. C. Gibson of Amarillo on soldier absentee voting in primary elections, by E. M. Lou Novikoff Up To Old Holdout Tricks

"Mad Russian" May Be Traded

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — Lou Novikoff, the "Mad Russian," apparently is up to his old trick of giving the Chicago Cubs a headache.

The slugging outfielder is among the absentees from the Bruins' spring camp at French Lick, Ind. It can be taken for granted that the James boys — Manager Wilson and General Manager Gallagher — do not like his tactics one bit.

Just a year ago Lou stayed away until after the season started. Rumors involving a Novikoff trade have started. Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is reported trying to talk Wilson into a swap for the outfielder.

Warneke, Gilbert Pass Exams

Meantime the Cubs learned that Pitcher Lon Warneke and Outfielder Charlie Gilbert had passed their pre-induction physical exams and that slugger Jimmy Foxx will report Saturday ready to start his comeback.

The Chicago White Sox, also training at French Lick, were told by Johnny Humphries, one of their best pitchers, that he has been reclassified 1-A by his New Orleans draft board.

News from other big league camps:

Boston Braves — Pitcher Al Javery cut loose for first time. He pitched the equivalent of three full games during batting practice.

Lanier To Be Back Soon

St. Louis Cardinals — Pitcher Max Lanier, out from an appendicitis attack, is expected to be back in uniform in a day or so.

New York Yankees — Team purchased Second Baseman Mike Milosevich from Kansas City. Pitcher Bill Zuber reported.

New York Giants—Ace Adams, veteran relief pitcher, worked out for first time this season. He pitched batting practice.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Curt Davis, Bob Chipman, Bill Tanner and Hal Gregg were selected to pitch today's first exhibition game against Army team.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 29—Nearly 68 per cent of the 347 men who played in national football league games in 1941 are in the armed forces and Tub-Thumper George Strickler, who has been trying to list the service footballers who retired before that time complains because he has only been able to get about 150 names . . . The league's service roster now contains 421 names and 47 per cent of the men hold commissions.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Birmingham, Ala., has invited Judge W. G. Bramh to move his offices there from Durham, N. C., so that minor league headquarters will be in a city with a ball club . . . West Point will get Shot-Putter Dewitt Coulter, the Fort Worth kid who did better than 59 feet with the 12-pound shot last spring and has been reaching around 51 feet with the 16-pound sphere while doing preparatory work at Cornell . . . General Manager Bill Kyne recently reported that Bay Meadows hasn't sent the Army a bill for taking over the race track for ten months after Pearl Harbor "and never will."

Lt. Walter (Booty) Payne, who led the nation's football kickers in 1941, has just been reported missing since March 9 after a bombing mission over Germany. He is one of four brothers, all Army officers, who starred in football at Clemson . . . Commander Joe Ruddy, jr., former Naval Academy and New York A. C. swimming and water polo star, has been cited for gallantry and superb flying skill in leading an aerial raid on enemy shipping off Norway last October . . . Capt. Floyd Burdette, the Army officer who played basketball this season for Oklahoma A. and M., also sat in on the coaches' meetings last week-end, which gives you an idea of his importance to the team.

TITTLE TO L.S.U.

MARSHALL, March 29 (AP)—Y. A. Tittle, star backfield man with Marshall High school last fall, will go to Louisiana State university in June.

RAJAH SWINGS AGAIN—Rogers Hornsby, one-time star of the big leagues, wears the uniform of the Mexico league's Vera Cruz team—of which he is manager and pinch hitter—as he takes a turn in the batter's box during practice at Mexico City. (AP Wirephoto).

Badminton Tourney Is Due To Be Fast

WACO, March 29 (AP)—Because most of the outstanding amateur badminton players of the country now are located in some branch of the service in the Southwest, the seventh annual championships of the Texas badminton association at Dallas April 28 and 29 is due to be one of the fastest meets ever held, L. N. Douglas, state president, said today.

Douglas announced that the tournament would be held at Perkins gymnasium of Southern Methodist university, that all players who are members of clubs affiliated with the Texas Badminton association were eligible to compete, that all members of clubs affiliated with the Oklahoma Badminton association would be guests and that all service men and women regardless of whether they belong to affiliated clubs would be eligible to play if they meet the amateur requirements of the American association.

Entries must be filed by 6 p. m. April 25 with either Douglas, who is at Baylor university here, or with Miss Paralee Lander, 506 Continental building, Dallas.

BYRD BOOSTERS TO MEET

DALLAS, March 29 (U.P.)—Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana boosters of Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia for the Democratic presidential nomination will meet here April 20-21, according to J. J. Kramer of New Orleans, executive secretary of the Draft Byrd-for-President campaign.

Zurita Boosted By Mike Delia

Milton Berle Buys Into Fight Game

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 29—Mike Delia, on the biggest day of his life, says, "I believe Juan Zurita can lick Beau Jack at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Delia speaks with authority of the lightweight division — the golden division of boxing today —because (1) he is a lightweight who figures he can beat anyone in the 135-pound class, and (2) he has seen both Beau Jack and Zurita in several bouts.

This is the most important day in Delia's life because half of his contract was bought last night by Milton Berle, comedy star of stage, screen and radio; and because he was matched for an all-important fight with young Ike Williams at the Philadelphia arena on April 17.

To Meet Ruby Garcia

Delia, a sharp-featured, rangy California youngster departed today for Detroit, where he is slated for 10 rounds after one Ruby Garcia of Puerto Rico Friday night. Delia, who carries a knockout punch in either hand, regards Garcia and Ike Williams as just two more opponents. He says, "all that I ask is that Garcia or Williams will stand up and swap punches with me. I'll belt them both out, and then maybe get a crack at Beau Jack, who has been getting away with murder because he never met anyone who would slug with him intelligently. I'll guarantee that Beau Jack doesn't go the distance."

Milton Berle, the screwball actor-man, says, "I've been a lifelong fight fan; but never before did I see a pug who I'd let operate under my aegis. Nope, I don't know what it means, either. But, anyway, he looked like a million dollars to me when I saw him in California a few months ago."

Delia is a busy scrapper. On Monday night he registered his 34th victory in 39 professional fights. He took a lop-sided decision over Leo Francis of Panama, a guy who refused to be knocked out at Holyoke, Mass. Previously Dynamite Mike had belted out 29 opponents.

Delia's manager, Freddie Sommers, said, "Sure, I sold half of Mike's contract to Milton Berle, because Milton offered a lot of money and because Berle has a lot of influence that will be used in forcing a title fight with Bob Montgomery or Zurita."

Zurita of Mexico, the National Boxing association's champion, has been offered a guarantee of $20,000 to defend his title under the promotion of Nick Londes of Detroit.

Milton Berle says, "Zurita is curazy if he doesn't accept. For twenty grand, I'd fight Joe Louis if my mother would let me—and I hope she doesn't change her mind. After all, why should Zurita be afraid of Delia—just an unknown California kid who might accidentally knock his brains out —I hope."

Woodshed Sessions May Be In Offing

Billy Lynch, Son Of Amarillo Coach, Turns Sports Writer

AMARILLO, March 29 (AP) — Next fall, when the football campaign gets hot, there may be some warm "discussions" in the woodshed at the Lynch home.

That is, if a certain sports writer gets too severe in his criticism of the efforts of Howard Lynch, who coaches Amarillo High school's Golden Sandies.

The certain sports writer in this case would be Billy Lynch, who starred on his dad's football team before becoming a member of the staff of The Amarillo News.

But not just criticism might cause woodshed talks. If Billy gives out too much information on Amarillo so that opposing coaches can scout the Sandies through the newspapers, he may hear from home in a hurry.

Registering With A Bang

But take it from Putt Powell, sports editor of The News. Billy is stepping into his job like he did into football. He's registering with a bang.

And thus far he's treating his Dad pretty well. Wrote Billy the other day: "The boys have been working out for the past two weeks under the direction of Howard Lynch. 'Bull' Lynch is a capable man for this job because in his old days he was quite a track star himself. Incidentally, he treats all the boys like a father."

Powell sent Billy to cover a track meet at Lubbock. While he was about it, Billy entered three events, finishing sixth in the 100-yard dash. Sixth in the discus and fourth in the shot put.

Putt assigned Lynch to a meeting of the junior golf association. That was an easy story for Billy to cover. You see, he was elected president.

Utah, St. John's To Clash For Cage Title

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — Utah and St. John's of Brooklyn, the two most surprising teams of the postseason championship college basketball tournaments, will clash at Madison Square Garden Thursday night in a recognized national championship game for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Utah, a seven-point underdog, upset mighty Dartmouth, 42 to 40, to win the N. C. A. A. title in an exciting extra period game before 14,990 at the Garden last night. St. John's, a similar underdog, toppled favored DePaul, 47-39, on Sunday to win the national invitation tourney.

An enterprising Yankee fur trader on the west coast once swapped a rusty iron chisel for $8,000 worth of furs.

Buck Fausett, Who Muffed Chance In Big Leagues Nine Years Ago, Back Up Again

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 29 (AP)—The first time 36-year-old Buck Fausett had a chance for the major leagues he got in a money squabble with Connie Mack, boss of the Philadelphia A's and he has sent back to the bushes. It has taken him nine years to climb back up the ladder.

Fausett now has all the willingness and ambition of a young rookie as he makes a bid for third base chores for the Cincinnati Reds. Last year, as player-manager for Little Rock, Ark., of the Southern Association, he had his best season in a long term in the minors which began in 1932 with Galveston, of the Texas circuit and took him to Indianapolis and Minneapolis of the American Association and finally to Little Rock in 1942.

Mack Taught Him Lesson

"Old Connie Mack taught me a lesson I'll never forget, and that's not to be bullheaded," drawls Fausett. "I reported to the A's in the spring of 1935 from Galveston along with Wally Moses, now of the White Sox. Two days before spring camp broke up I get stubborn and squabble with Mack over money. Then—bingo—I'm back at Galveston."

Fausett believes he will have a good season with Cincinnati.

"Physically I'm probably past my peak," he says "but I figure that at the age of 36 a fellow has picked up a lot of baseball savvy and judgment that he can put to good use.

"Then, too, I'd like to show Mr. Mack that maybe he made a mistake."

Pan-American Polo Tournament Slated

MEXICO CITY, March 29 (AP) —A 30-goal United States polo team will oppose a 31-goal outfit from Argentina and a still-to-be selected foursome from Mexico in the second Pan-American tournament here next month.

Cecil Smith, Harry Evinger, Bill Barry and Bill Skidmore, all of Texas, make up the U. S. team which will ride its own ponies. The Argentine squad includes Heriberto Duggan, Manuel Andrada, Juan Rodriguez and Mario Inchauspe.

President Avila Camacho of Mexico, rated at eight goals in his younger days, started last year's tourney and saw all the games.

At last! A consolidation of two ancient gags into one new one

"Who was that woman I saw you with last night?"

"That wasn't last night. It was yesterday in Pittsburgh!"

READERS of this stint over the past couple of years will remember that sometime in 1941 the Home Economics department at Texas Tech followed a suggestion voiced here and did considerable research work in the matter of using South Plains grain sorghums in the concoction of human foods.

Dean Margaret Weeks and her aides at Texas Tech did a fine job from the laboratory on up to the table and as a result of the experimentation served to a group of town and college people various types of muffins, rolls, bread and even cake in which flour from grain sorghums was used either exclusively, or mixed with wheat flour. The food thus concocted was delicious and authorities on nutrition testified that it had all the elements essential to good health.

The Tech Home Economics department issued a printed report of the findings in this regard and many schools and colleges over the country wrote for the report.

It occurs to us that the results of the experimentation be laid before Marvin Jones, War Food administrator, and Herbert Lehman, who has charge of feeding the world's hungry millions.

No matter how much, or what kinds, of food we can raise in this country, there is a place for all of it in the world today. There will continue to be a place for it for years to come.

If South Plains grain sorghums can play a part in this great and essential undertaking, why shouldn't they? Remember, experts say they can play a part.

Therefore, The Plainsman is sending to Rep. George Mahon copies of the complete report of Tech's findings with the suggestion and request that they be given to Messrs. Jones and Lehman.

Perhaps we can't feed the world on ambrosia and nectar, but we can help feed it on good, nourishing flour from the fertile soil of the South Plains—and, at the same time, open up a new market for our farmers at the same tme.

* * *

ANENT the upcoming presidential campaign, Dr. Fred W. Standefer offers this suggestion:

"Let the Republicans nominate Fulton Lewis, joonyer, and the Democrats run Walter Winchell."

If that happens, we're going to promote a write-in campaign for Vera Vague!

What with the war and all, this decade should go down in history as the Roaring Forties!

* * *

EVERYTHING was serene at our house the other night. The Little Woman was improving her mind with "Good Night, Sweet Prince," where-in Gene Fowler strives mightily to gild a halo for an imp. The brats, ages 8 and 12, were playing "Go Fishing," and The Plainsman was locked in a tournament with Old Sol.

Suddenly the radio, via the voice of Fred Allen, introduced Ted Lewis and across the air waves came the old familiar baritone with "Is Ev'rybody Happy?"

Before the orchestra had played two bars of "The Sunny Side of the Street"—which was only one of many songs made famous by the veteran entertainer — The Plainsman's mind whipped back a quarter century and, with the same delicious feeling of anticipation, he sat again in the old Empress theater at Tulsa. Before Ted Lewis had interpolated his second, "Yes, sirrr!" we were whispering to the kids: "Listen to this boys! Here's one of the greatest and most famous orchestra leaders and vocalists the country has ever seen!"

With little pin-pricks running up and down our spine, we traveled Memory Lane with Ted Lewis, his ridiculous, battered old hat and his clarinet.

How we kids used to love him—and the oldsters, too!

How we looked forward to his semi-annual visits on the old Orpheum vaudeville circuit!

How we used to remind each other, days in advance of his every appearance: "See you Saturday afternoon at the Empress!"

Yes, the same Ted Lewis, the sunshine man—the incurable optimist of the baton!

"Listen, boys!" we repeated to the kids. "Listen! Here it comes—Ted Lewis giving out with 'When My Baby Smiles at Me!' I used to hear him do that many years ago!"

The kids momentarily stopped their play, bent an ear—then continued their game.

"Humph," said the 12-year old. "That sounds pretty corny to me."

WE sighed as the program ended and Ted Lewis—who now must be nearly 60 — went back to his mid-Manhattan engagement where his comeback is bringing him even more money and popularity than he's ever had before.

Yeah, the Lewis touch would be corny to kids brought up on Harry James and Frank Sinatra, and Spike Jones and Count Basie. Just as corny as the James, Sinatra, Jones and Basie touches will seem—if any of them last that long—to the sons of the little boys now growing up at our house.

Times change, and with them taste in entertainment. The world moves, and all that. But when we hear Ted Lewis we're steeped in nostalgia. He makes us try, however vainly, to clutch again at the wraith-like robes of the easy days that used to be—and never will be again.

* * *

Every adult of middle age and past, we suppose, is similarly affected by something.

Maybe it's the lilt of an old tune which brings back memories of ukuleles, or a girl in a boat.

Maybe it's the smell of a horse, or of saddle soap.

Maybe it's the creaking of new boots; a picture of a woman in a sunbonnet, a man with a hoe in his hand, a mother, placidly knitting, a fine, old hymn.

Maybe it's the fleeting view of a country-side from a speeding train, or the smell of good damp earth from a park flower bed.

But there's something — something that erases the unpleasantness and magnifies the happiness of days gone by.

For us, Ted Lewis is one of those "somethings." Ted Lewis, "When My Baby Smiles at Me;" "Cuddle Up a Little Closer;" "You're Nobody's Sweetheart Now," and all his old masterpieces which, for millions, have chased the blues away!

That Man on Avenue Q says no matter how old a man may be, he considers himself as young as he thinks he'll be next week.

* * *

Sincere Christians and their opposites, confirmed atheists, have one thing in common. Neither will permit themselves to use profanity.

The sincere Christian will not stoop to it; the confirmed atheist sees no point in it.

Only the "in-betweeners" break the commandment contained in the seventh verse of the 20th chapter of Exodus.

"ALL we have to fear is fear," said President Roosevelt almost a dozen years ago — and he's still right, although he is causing a good deal of fear himself by not coming out and saying whether he's running for a fourth term.

The Republicans, it seems, fear he will run.

The Democrats fear he won't!

PROLOGUE: A Colorado farmer, looking for some strayed calves on a September evening in 1919, comes upon a sick stranger who burdens him with an important written message. Seeking help, the farmer falls and knocks himself out. When he revives both stranger and message are gone. No one believes his tale.

THE STORY: Jan Mesrik, Czechoslovak, comes to America in 1894 in search of personal freedom.

LITTLE JAN

V

JAN had a friend in America, a young man in New York. Frequent letters came from him, describing in radiant language the wonders of living in the United States. In 1894 Jan arrived in New York, bringing with him his bride, Maria, the daughter of a neighbor of Jan's parents.

Jan was a personable young man, tall, husky, with a squarely chiseled face that shone honest and friendly. He soon secured employment in a hotel.

Two children were born to Jan and Maria in New York. The first was a son, named for his father, Jan. The second was my mother. Loss of his son, from diptheria at the age of 6, was probably the most acute sorrow that ever entered my grandfather's life.

The idea of securing a farm in southeastern Colorado was implanted in Jan Mesrik's mind by a guest of the hotel. This guest became acquainted with Jan in the course of several visits. With a westerner's distate of the crowded city, he preached the gospel of the wide open spaces.

My grandfather was convinced. He took his savings and his family west, and in the course of a few years had developed a satisfying farming enterprise which consisted of feeding and grazing cattle and sheep.

JAN MESRIK was somewhat older than most of his neighbors. There were no other Czechs in the neighborhood and, though my grandfather mastered the language well, my grandmother was not so readily adjusted to America or to Colorado, their speech or customs. Never robust, her health appeared to suffer from her grief at the loss of her son. She seldom left the farm. For these reasons my grandfather developed few close friendships. Yet he loved Colorado, the bracing air of the fairly high altitude, and most of all, the chance of creating a little world of his own.

During the World War the federal government pleaded for food with which to win the struggle, and Jan Mesrik responded by diverting a considerable acreage to wheat. He did this on a temporary basis, for he had already seen drought in Colorado. But during the emergency of the war and the coincidence of high prices and abundant rainfall, Jan found that fighting with food was a most profitable endeavor. With his earnings he was able to pay fully for several square miles of brown Colorado soil and to improve his land with fences and fine buildings.

All of this happened before I was born or old enough to be a thoroughly qualified observer. My first connected impressions of my grandfather and his farm began when I was about 6 years old. At this time an incident occurred which created between my grandfather and me a bond that had more of friendship and comradeship in it than is customary between grandfather and grandson.

My grandmother had died the year before, in October of 1921.

My father, mother, and I were living in town, where father had a job selling cars for an enterprising local automobile agency. Grandfather and a hired man lived on the farm, cooked their own meals, did the housework in bachelor fashion. The hired man ran more to muscle than mentality, and other than for amiable grunts, offered little company. It was suggested that I spend some of the summer with them.

ONE evening, after I had been on the farm for several weeks, my grandfather was herding cattle into the feed lot near the barn. He was on horseback. I was hanging on the outside of the lot fence, my feet on a rail, my head over the top, watching the operation. Suddenly a bellowing steer ran at the horse carrying my grandfather. I was frightened.

"Old Jan!" I yelled, "Old Jan! Look out! He's after you."

He gave me a glance, then looked down at the steer. He gave the steer a kick which sent it lumbering in another direction. Then he rode over to the fence on the other side of which I was clinging.

He looked at me for a few seconds, smiling.

"Old Jan," he repeated softly. "Old Jan. So that's it! All right, that's not so bad. Let it be Old Jan. And you'll be Little Jan."

The summer following this incident I spent the entire school vacation with Old Jan on the farm. It was during this summer that grandfather and my father, George Flain, had their first difficulty. My mother and father had come out for dinner.

"You bachelors need a square meal," my mother announced when they arrived. They brought with them fresh vegetables and several thick steaks. It was going to be a real banquet.

Throughout the meal my father was unusually affable, extraordinarily solicitous of the business of the farm. He was a little to obvious and it was not long before my grandfather realized that it was not so much the "square meal" that was the purpose of the dinner. It was salesmanship. Get them well fed and into a pleasant mood, then sell them. And after the meal, after we had all pitched in on the dishes, the sales talk began.

REAL PUNISHMENT DEMANDED

If charges are true that treats have been used to compel farmers to endorse and support Agricultural Adjustment administration policies, then the practice has been one that few people in this nation will condone openly.

It is something that practically everyone condemns if farmers have been told that they had better get behind the AAA or expect troubles from the draft, from ration boards, or the like.

Therefore, the steps that have been considered in Congress to forbid such practices will meet with overwhelming approval. Acts of the kind charged, and which seem to have no small foundation of fact, should not be tolerated in the United States.

However, the method proposed as a means of combatting the alleged practices will appeal to a great many people as being no better than a half-way measure. This is the proposal that payment of salaries be refused to those guilty of attempting intimidation of farmers in the manners that have been charged. Surely, some stronger method of dealing with such "commissars" should be provided. The possibility of time behind the bars and/or a stiff fine would seem more appropriate to the offense.

About all that can be said for the relief as now proposed is that it might be better than nothing at all. Definitely it is not the protection to which farmers are entitled in matters of this kind.

Today's Thought

Out of the mouth of babes and suckling has thou ordained strength.—Psalms 8:2.

A child—a sweet, new blosssom of humanity,
Fresh fallen from God's own home to flower on earth.
—Gerald Massey.

Walter Winchell

ON BROADWAY
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

SOLDIERS of the Press—Every crusading newspaperman has discovered that his life is just a bed of thorns. Truth is as a red flag to the bull in certain groups. . . . During the Revolution a great American aimed his pungent pen at those who obstructed the battle for freedom. The powerful men he irked launched a campaign of vilification against him and drove him out of the country. He later returned and died in poverty . . . Now he is remembered as one of the most eloquent voices of American liberty: Thomas Paine.

Like all two-fisted newspapermen, Horace Greeley's reputation was a target for mud-slingers. One of his detractors howled that Greeley was influenced by powerful interests—a low blow that is still popular today . . . Greeley's reply to that was simply: "Yes, I am influenced by powerful interests, but please keep my wife's name out of this."

James Gordon Bennett was another fighting newspaperman. . . He refused to compromise with his opponents, no matter how influential they were. He insisted that a free press must serve as a shield of liberty by wielding a sword against its enemies . . . When friends urged him to soften his blows he roared: "I will enter the Hall of Fame by breaking down the door with my bare fists!"

WINCHELL

No man had a healthier influence on American journalism than William Allen White. He was as American as the Liberty Bell . . . But not even that great man was above the low blows of politicians. A certain congressional committee once charged that White was a member of an un-American organization!

Joseph Pulitzer once stated: "There is not a crime, a swindle, a vice which does not live by secrecy" . . . That's also why some politicos consider fearless newspapermen their most bitter enemies. When the N. Y. Times spotlighted the notorious Tweed Ring, Times editor George Jones had his reputation dragged through the mud. His political targets threatened and cajoled him in an effort to stop the exposes. . . . Finally a Tweed ringleader offered him a five million dollar bribe, pointing out: "With that much money in Europe you could live like a prince" . . . Jones pushed him out of his office, replying: "Yes, but in my heart I would know that I was a snake."

JACOB RIIS, the famed reporter, never stopped slugging the dirty elements in our society. . . . Many times his work seemed futile, but he never gave up. Later in life he always advised cub reporters: "Never become discouraged. When nothing seems to help, go and look at a stone-cutter hammering away at his rock, perhaps one hundred times without as much as a crack showing in it. Yet, at the 101st blow it will split in two, and you know that it was not the last blow that did it, but all that had gone before."

It took place before the Bill of Rights was born. But it's as timely as a raid on Berlin: We mean the famous case involving John Peter Zenger . . . During Colonial times he published a newspaper without fear or favor. His honesty, naturally, got him into trouble. He was sued for libel, but a courageous jury acquitted him . . . That case marks the birth of America's free press . . . And why was he sued for libel? Because he had criticized some politicians who claimed that he had discredited and insulted them!

Lincoln Steffens is one of the great heroes of American journalism. A few decades ago he spotlighted the festering corruption in politics and other powerful American institutions . . . But he wasn't labeled a smearer. At that time they used another word that meant the same thing: Muckraker. Yes, Steffens was a muckraker . . . But no one can dispute history's verdict: Steffens' exposes played a vital role in making a better America.

* * *

HEYWOOD BROUN never stopped hammering demagogues . . . When one headline-hunter challenged Broun to a debate, he put him in his place by printing this fable: A skunk once challenged a lion to a fight. The lion promptly declined the honor of such a meeting . . . "Why?" asked the skunk. "Are you afraid?" . . . "Very much so," replied the lion, "for you would only gain fame by having the honor to fight a lion, while every one who met me for a month to come would know that I had been near a skunk."

Veteran Correspondents Experienced At Dodging Bombs

Artillery Fire, Too, Rakes Anzio Beachhead

By ERNIE PYLE
Journal War Correspondent

WITH The Allied Beachhead Forces In Italy, March 28. (By Wireless) — When you get to Anzio you waste no time getting off the boat, for you have been feeling pretty much like a clay pigeon in a shooting gallery. But after a few hours in Anzio you wish you were back on the boat, for you could hardly describe being ashore as any haven of peacefulness.

ERNIE PYLE

As we came into the harbor, shells skipped the water within 100 yards of us.

In our first day ashore, a bomb exploded so close to the place where I was sitting that a fragment came through the window of the room next to mine.

On our second evening ashore a screamer slammed into the hill so suddenly that it almost knocked us down with fright. It smacked into the trees a short distance away.

And on the third day ashore, an 88 went off within 20 yards of us. I wished I was in New York.

All In Same Boat

When I write about my own occasional association with shells and bombs, there is one thing I want you folks at home to be sure to get straight. And that is that the other correspondents are in the same boat — many of them much more so. You know about my own small experiences, because it's my job to write about how these things sound and feel. But you don't know what the other reporters go through, because it usually isn't their job to write about themselves.

There are correspondents here on the beachhead, and on the Cassino front also, who have had dozens of close shaves. I know of one correspondent who was knocked down four times by near misses on his first day here.

Two correspondents, Reynolds Packard of the United Press and Homer Bigart of the New York Herald-Tribune, have been on the beachhead since D-day without a moment's respite. They've become so veteran that they don't even mention a shell striking 20 yards away.

ON this beachhead every inch of our territory is under German artillery fire. There is no rear area that is immune, as in most battle zones. They can reach us with their 88s, and they use everything from that on up.

I don't mean to suggest that they keep every foot of our territory drenched with shells all the time, for they certainly don't. They are short of ammunition, for one thing. But they can reach us, and you never know where they'll shoot next. You're just as liable to get hit standing in the doorway of the villa where you sleep at night, as you are in a command post five miles out in the field.

Some days they shell us hard, and some days hours will go by without a single shell coming over. Yet nobody is wholly safe, and anybody who says he has been around Anzio two days without having a shell hit within a hundred yards of him is just bragging.

Sounds Are Puzzling

People who know the sounds of warfare intimately are puzzled and irritated by the sounds up here. For some reason, you can't tell anything about anything.

The Germans shoot shells of half a dozen sizes, each of which make a different sound of explosion. You can't gauge distance at all. One shell may land within your block and sound not much louder than a shotgun. Another landing a quarter mile away makes the earth tremble as in an earthquake, and starts your heart to pounding.

You can't gauge direction, either. The 88 that hit within 20 yards of us didn't make so much noise. I would have sworn it was 200 yards away and in the opposite direction.

Sometimes you hear them coming, and sometimes you don't. Sometimes you hear the shell whine after you've heard it explode. Sometimes you hear it whine and it never explodes. Sometimes the house trembles and shakes and you hear no explosion at all.

BUT I've found one thing here that's just the same as anywhere else—and that's that old weakness in the joints when they get to landing close. I've been weak all over Tunisia and Sicily, and in parts of Italy, and I get weaker than ever up here.

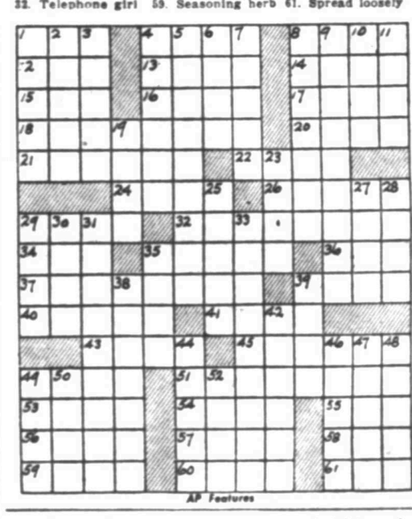

When the German raiders come over at night, and the sky lights up bright as day with flares, and ack-ack guns set up a turmoil and pretty soon you hear and feel the terrible power of exploding bombs—well, your elbows get flabby and you breathe in little short jerks, and your chest feels empty, and you're too excited to do anything but hope.

OFF TO A FLYING START

On the Road to High Production with
STANTON'S MANAMAR CHICK STARTER
Most poultry authorities agree that profitable poultry raising depends largely on three important factors . . . good chicks, good management and good feed. Our job is to produce good feed that will combine with your good chicks and good management to get your flocks off to a flying start on the road to high production and profit. We have just such a feed in Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter. A blend of locally-grown grains, ManAmar and B-G plus, it is rich in the vitamins, minerals and proteins which promote vigorous growth in baby chicks.
B-G PLUS
—is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's ManAmar Chick starter.
MANAMAR
—in Stanton's ManAmar Chick starter supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "complex."
• • •
ManAmar and B-G plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

COTTON SEED
D. & P. L. No. 14
TEXAS STATE CERTIFIED
This is the new, early, high yielding strain now grown exclusively by Deltapine originators of D. and P. L. Made inch-staple and high gin turnouts on the Plains. Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed, germination 96% $12 per 100 lbs.
CHAMPION SNAPPER 140
Grown by R. E. Karper from breeding block seed furnished by Chillicothe Experiment Station where the 140 strain originated. This is an early maturing, lightweight bur cotton bred by Texas Experiment Stations for the South Plains where cotton is snapped. Its light burs enable gins to make better grades from snaps and give higher turnouts. Made ⅞ to 31-32 staple. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $10.50 per 100 lbs.
Send your order with deposit of $2 per 100 lbs. and we will hold seed for May delivery. Other varieties of Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed can be supplied by Kemgas delinting plants in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. For further information address—

FRUITS OF THE GAS SHORTAGE—Scenes like that above may become more common all over the country as the gasoline shortage becomes more acute. Southern California is rapidly going dry of gas, and more and more gas service stations, like the Los Angeles one above, are becoming roadside fruit and vegetable stands.

Left Wing Forces Control New York's American Labor Party

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP) — Left wing forces held control of the American Labor party today after a bitter intraparty fight which the losing right wing had said might affect Franklin D. Roosevelt's chances as a presidential candidate of winning New York's 47 electoral votes.

The ALP, always an important factor in New York elections, provided the margin by which the President carried New York in 1940. A month ago today the ALP teamed up with the Democrats again to give a Tammany district leader victory in a special congressional election.

Hillman Supports Left Wing

The left wing, which had the support of Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO political action committee, claimed to have elected in yesterday's primary 625 of the 750 members of the state committee — the body which nominates the party's presidential candidate.

Both factions had urged a fourth term for President Roosevelt, but the controlling right wing contended a left wing victory would mean "our party is being invaded by . . . the Communist party." A right wing election eve statement had said "we wanted to hand President Roosevelt . . . a nomination immune from criticism and attack."

Democrats elected 86 and Republicans 85 district delegates to the national conventions. Most of them are believed by politicians to favor President Roosevelt and Governor Thomas E. Dewey for the presidential nominations. The state committees will name delegates-at-large to give New York 96 votes in the Democratic and 93 in the Republican conventions.

Bulgaria, Rumania Warned By Soviets

MOSCOW, March 29 (U.P.) — The government newspaper Izvestia warned Bulgaria and Rumania today to make an immediate choice between breaking with the Nazis and joining the Allies or "becoming a battlefield and sharing the fate of Germany."

Directed primarily to Rumania and Bulgaria, the official organ also mentioned Finland as among the Nazi satellites on which time is running out. Peace negotiations between Russian and Finland collapsed recently, and that was believed to have been a closed issue.

"Time will not wait," Izvestia said editorially, "there is little time left for long bargaining. That is what events in Hungary (recently occupied by the Germans) show such countries as Finland, Rumania and Bulgaria. The example of Hungary shows the satellites that they have less time to make up their minds than they thought."

Bulgaria alone of the Nazi satellites named by Izvestia is not at war with Russia.

Lonergan Defense Rests Case Today

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)— The defense of Wayne Lonergan, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of his heiress wife, Patricia, suddenly rested its case today after calling only three witnesses.

The aircraftman defendant was not called to the stand.

Edward V. Broderick's sudden move came after he had called to the witness stand Mario Gabellini, interior decorator who escorted Mrs. Lonergan on a round of night clubs the night before the state contends she was slain, and Dr. Isidore Michel, the Lonergans' physician.

He had questioned Detective William Pendergast yesterday.

Rites Set For Member Of Houston Law Firm

DALLAS, March 29 (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held here Thursday for Tom Scurry, 45, member of a prominent Houston law firm, who died of a heart attack in New York Tuesday.

A native of Dallas, he was the son of the late Spanish-American war general Tom Scurry and Emma Ganno Scurry.

As much as two-thirds of the North American continent once was covered by inland seas.

Harry Hopkins Has Undergone Operation

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 29 (AP)—Harry Hopkins, a presidential adviser, underwent an operation today at St. Mary's hospital, the Mayo clinic announced.

The nature of the operation was not disclosed but a clinic spokesman said that a bulletin probably would be issued later.

Hopkins has been in Rochester several weeks while under observation of Mayo clinic physicians, who said he was suffering from a "nutritional disturbance."

Petroleum products constitute half the supplies sent to the U. S. Army abroad.

Challenge Met By Churchill

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill stalked into Commons today to ringing cheers from the members and, taking up the challenge posed by a one-vote defeat Tuesday, demanded a vote of confidence in his government.

Churchill turned immediately to the teacher wage issue on which an opposition amendment was carried over the government's recommendation, declared bluntly:

"Events of yesterday require an alteration in government business. It would not be possible for the government to leave matters where they stood.

Asks Definite Stand

"At this very serious time in the progress of the war there must be no doubt of the support which the government enjoy from the House."

"Accordingly," said the prime minister, "we have decided as the first business of the next sitting day to resume the committee stage on the education bill, and to delete clause 82 as amended entirely from the bill."

This was the amendment providing equal pay for women and men teachers, a provision which the House as a committee approved 117 to 116.

Regarded As Confidence Vote

"This act of deletion," Churchill declared, "will be regarded as a vote of confidence in the present administration."

The setback yesterday, overriding the opposition of Education Minister Harold Butler, was the first defeat of Churchill's government since it was formed four years ago.

The rebuff, which followed an angry debate, brought immediate repercussions, although there was no question of the government resigning because only one-third of the House membership was recorded in the voting.

Three Are Sentenced For Draft Evasion

SANTA FE, N. M., March 29 (U.P.) —Three youths, all of whom have been convicted on charges of failure to report for induction, today faced sentences of five years each in a federal penitentiary.

Fines of $5,000 were imposed yesterday by U. S. District Judge Colin Neblett on the youths, who claimed they were members of the Jehovah's Witnesses' sect. The youths were Davis M. Smith, Charles W. Pirkle and Clarence M. Mayhan.

The conviction of Jack C. A. Harrell, who also claimed to be a member of the sect, was set aside. He was convicted on a charge of failure to report for physical examination to the Silver City, N. M., draft board, but it later was found that he was registered with a Los Angeles board.

Judge Neblett also sentenced Sam Blanchard of Hot Springs, N. M., to six years for the attempted extortion of $2,000 from a Hot Springs banker.

Levelland Couple's Infant Son Dies

Harold Brock Gregory, almost two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Gregory of route 2 Levelland, died at 2 o'clock this morning in Lubbock General hospital.

The baby is survived by his parents, a sister, Marjorie Pearl; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Gregory of Lubbock; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Landis of Lubbock.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Plains Funeral chapel with Rev. W. E. Peterson of Levelland, officiating. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery by Plains Funeral home.

Baruch Report Concerns Area

AUSTIN, March 29 (AP)—At least three of the provisions of the Baruch-Hancock report on war and post-war adjustment policies have a special interest to Texas and the Gulf Southwest says Dr. F. A. Buechel, University of Texas business analyst.

A large percentage of Texas industry is carried on in small establishments and distributed over the state, he said, which means that the report is of vital concern to Texas industrial, business, labor and civic leaders.

Provisions Cited

The surpluses (of war materials) be disposed of in small lots to permit small as well as large business to participate;

Effective representation of small business on industry advisory committees;

Special credit to assist small business in the changeover and to encourage new enterprises.

Great Influence Due

"The Baruch - Hancock report will doubtless exercise a great deal of influence in shaping the policy of the government toward industry and trade during the period of transition from war to peace and long after peace has been finally established," Dr. Buechel explained.

"Texas industrial, business, labor and civic leaders will therefore wish to become thoroughly familiar with the report because of the practical bearing government policy will have on the affairs of industrial concerns, and on community development throughout the state."

Rayburn Urges Care In Choice Of Leaders

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn declared last night that in these critical times "we must choose our leadership for the years ahead on the basis of what those leaders have shown they can do, rather than who they are."

Speaking at a Jackson day dinner, the Texan said he was "not in a mood" to discuss politics, but wished, instead, to stress the "huge problems that our people will face when this war is over."

"When we know what needs to be done," he added, then and only then shall we know who is fittest to do it."

Answer Due Soon On Steel Application

MARSHALL, March 29 (AP)—War Production board (WPB) Chairman Donald Nelson says the WPB "will have the answer" soon to an application by the Lone Star Steel corporation for a steel mill addition to the firm's iron ore plant at Daingerfield.

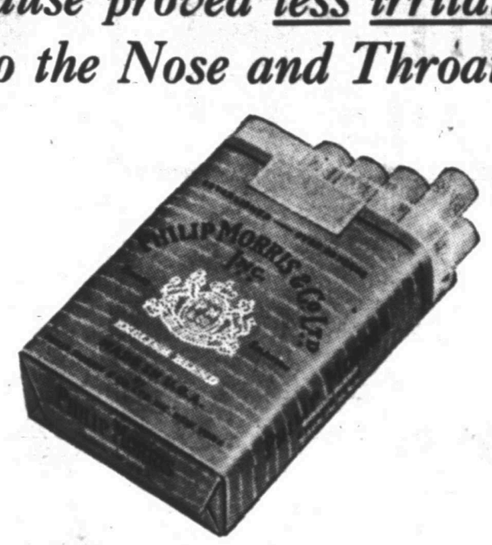

Nelson's remark was in the form of a telegram sent to a banquet honoring John W. Carpenter, president, and other officials of the corporation. Nelson had been invited to attend but was unable to do so.

The average load of freight per train in 1943 was 1,116 tons, the highest on record.

Farm Sales Booming, Land Prices Higher

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Farmers are buying more farm land and prices are going up, according to the Department of Agriculture, which declared farm real estate values rose 15 per cent during the year ending March 1 and now are 38 per cent above the 1935-39 average.

Land sales for 1943 surpassed the previous high of 1919.

Compared with the 1935-39 average, farm real estate values have increased almost three-fifths in the east-south-central states, almost one-half in the east-north-central, and more than two-fifths in the south Atlantic, Mountain and Pacific states. In other divisions, the rise in values ranged from one-third in the west-south-central to one-sixth in New England.

STRAWBERRIES SHIPPED

HAMMOND, La., March 29 (AP)—Twenty-two carloads of strawberries moved from the district last night, bringing the season's total to 175 cars.

Points On Frozen Fruits And Vegetables May Be Removed Soon; Meat Values To Continue

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The government is expected to remove all frozen fruits and vegetables from the ration list soon and to continue present ration values on meats during April.

The action on frozen commodities is designed to clear crowded cold storage facilities for this year's production.

Point values on many beef cuts and most pork items were reduced this month to relieve freezer space filled to near capacity by record slaughternigs of January and February.

Meat Stocks Reduced

Because meat stocks have not been materially reduced, the March values will be continued through April, authoritative sources at the War Food administration said.

Frozen fruits which may be made ration free include blackberries, blueberries, cherries, logan berries, raspberries, strawberries and some others. Frozen fruits which now do not require points include apples, applesauce and rhubarb.

Frozen vegetables which are expected to be taken off the ration list include lima beans, sweet corn and green peas. Most other frozen vegetables were removed from the list this month.

Meat rationing entered its second year today with civilian supplies still sufficient to maintain the nation's health standards but with little possibility the program can be suspended this year.

OPA Administrator Chester Bowles commented:

Consumption Sets Record

"Odd as it may seem, total civilian consumption of meat during the first year of rationing was at one of the highest levels in the country's history. The nation's farmers produced during 1943 almost 23 billion pounds of meat, a record amount."

Of the total output, Bowles reported, about six billion pounds helped feed American military personnel and fighting men of the Allies. Some 17 billion pounds found its way to civilian tables.

"But even with these large supplies, rationing was necessary because of the tremendous increase in civilian buying power," Bowles said.

The War Food administration estimates there will be slightly more meat this year than last. WFA predicted a total production of 25 billion pounds for 1944, or about 132 pounds for each civilian, one pound more per person than was available in 1943.

Federal Complaint On Billings Is Prepared

KANSAS CITY, March 29 (AP)—U. S. District Attorney George H. West says a federal complaint has been prepared charging Arthur Goodwyn Billings, former University of Texas instructor with intent to evade induction into the armed forces.

Billings, in military custody at Ft. Leavenworth, refused to take the induction oath after his physical examination in August, 1942. On Monday the U. S. Supreme court ruled he was not officially under military supervision.

West said a detainer would be sent to Leavenworth as a "precaution that he (Billings) is not released without answering the new civil charge."

Advisory Committee On Meat Created

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The national meat advisory committee was created today, Col. Bryan Houston said, to serve as a "board of directors" on meat rationing problem.

Houston, deputy administrator for rationing, said the committee will "offer suggestions to OPA for improvement in rationing methods and it will thoroughly discuss any changes offered by OPA officials having a bearing on the meat industry."

No Texans were listed on the 15-member committee. Six members were listed as having livestock production affiliations. The remainder represent processors and dealers.

SOME HOPE, ANYWAY

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The country will soon go barefoot unless some of the 83,000,000 cattle on hand are slaughtered for leather, Rep. Edwin A. Hall (R-NY) told the House today. "Well, it'll soon be warm," interjected Rep. Rankin (D-Miss).
