AUSTRIANS SEEK ESCAPE FROM NAZIS TO NEW HAVEN

South Is Termed No. 1 Economic Problem Of U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 6—A committee of Southerners approved today a 17-point diagnosis of the South's economic ills as a step toward solving what President Roosevelt has termed the nation's "No. 1 economic problem."

The analysis of conditions in 14 states had been prepared by government experts for the National Emergency council. The Dixie delegation of 23 businessmen and educators went over it in detail yesterday.

Lowell C. Mellett, NEC director, who arranged the conference at Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion, joined the delegates in explaining that the survey did not contain recommendations. Corrective measures, they added, could be suggested at another time.

The analysis included soil and water resources, ownership of industries, and wage and hour standards. The delegates did not refer specifically, however, to the new wage-hour law.

To Go To President

Mellett said the survey would be submitted to the president for transmission to congress.

Mr. Roosevelt said in a message of greeting to the conference:

"It is my conviction that the South presents right now the nation's No. 1 economic problem—the nation's problem, not merely the South's. For we have an economic unbalance in the nation as a whole, due to this very condition of the South. It is an unbalance that can and must be righted, for the sake of the South and of the nation."

Hamilton Makes Statement

Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee, commenting on the president's message, said today he "sincerely hoped that Mr. Roosevelt's concern over the South is not dictated by partisan political motives."

Details of the 17-point analysis approved by the Southerners will not be made public for about 10 days. However, the survey said generally that:

1. No other similar area in the world gambles on a single crop as the South does on cotton. Southern farmers receive less than one-third of the total farm income, although they constitute one-half the total rural population.

Unable To Provide

2. Agriculture is unable to provide an adequate income for the South's workers. Expansion of industry there has been inadequate to absorb workers who have moved from farms to cities.

3. Widespread unemployment is not a depression phenomenon in the South. Absentee ownership of industry and land has added to this problem.

4. The South has a greater excess of population than any other sector.

KAI-SHEK MAKES APPEAL

HANKOW, July 6 (AP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, China's supreme leader, today appealed to the Japanese people "to rise and halt the madness of their militarists."

"What benefit are you receiving from this war?" he asked the Japanese in a statement marking the end of the first year of the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

CASUALTIES ARE COUNTED

TOKYO, July 6 (AP) — Marking the end of the first year of the "China incident," the war office announced today that Japanese had occupied 175,000 square miles of territory and caused 1,300,000 casualties.

The war office said this was estimated on the basis of 370,000 bodies left on battlefields. The announcement said 85,000 bodies were found in Nanking and the vicinity during December, or 2,000 more than it claimed were found around Shanghai during fighting there the previous three months.

Japanese losses were listed at 36,429.

ly planned offensive toward Hankow, the provisional capital of China.

A defensive boom was strengthened across the Yangtze, between Wusueh and Tienkiacheng, 30 miles above Kiukiang which is the next objective of that offensive.

Along the Yellow river, where disastrous floods halted a Japanese push toward Hankow in June, Chinese asserted they had inflicted 700 casualties and forced Japanese to retreat between Yuanku and Puchang, in southern Shansi province, after three days of fighting.

Along the coast, northeast of Nanking in Kiangsu province, Chinese said they had captured the towns of Powning, 90 miles south of Haighow, and Yencheng, 130 miles south.

Japanese were reported to have retreated to Tungtai, reversing their offensive to establish a stronger grip on the province.

Fugitives Said Texas Bound

(By The Associated Press)

ENID, Okla., July 6—An automobile seized by five Kansas state reformatory convicts at Hutchinson after they slugged a guard and fled was found abandoned today in the south part of Enid.

Captain Earl Moore of the Enid police department said after a telephone call to the Hutchinson reformatory that he believed two of the five fugitives drove the car here, probably Bluford Smiddy, 23, Kilgore, Tex., and Floyd O. Kraus, 28, Topeka.

Stopped At Station

From a filling station operator five miles north of here Moore said he learned that two men driving a car answering the description of that abandoned here had stopped at the station about 1 a. m. and tried to trade a spare tire for gasoline.

Moore said that although the filling station operator did not obtain a description of the pair, Kansas authorities advised him they were certain one of the men was Smiddy, heading toward his home state.

Kraus Was Ringleader

Kraus, Moore said, was a ringleader of the break with Smiddy and probably was accompanying him.

The pair were believed continuing their flight in an automobile stolen early today from Clarence White, Enid lunch stand operator.

State patrolmen and Garfield county officers immediately began a widespread hunt in northwestern Oklahoma.

Escaped From Tailor Shop

The abandoned car belonged to Capt. J. J. Coffman of the Kansas reformatory. It was taken after the

Plane Is To Search For River Expedition

LEE'S FERRY, Ariz., July 6 (AP)—If a six-member scientific expedition en route down the Colorado river does not arrive here by Friday, two government employes indicated today they would request that an airplane scout the stream closely in an attempt to locate the over-due party.

"The river is dropping almost perceptibly daily," the government men, F. S. Anderson and A. J. Hanson of the U. S. Bureau of Geological survey, said. "Unusually high water might have forced the expedition to use greater caution and probably retarded them. Now that the water's dropping, they should arrive here at least by July 8."

When the scientists left Green River, Utah, June 20, Expedition Leader Norman Nevills of Utah announced they planned to reach Lee's Ferry July 4. Because the party, two women and four men, are traveling through one of the nation's most isolated regions, no word has been heard from them.

National All-Stars Defeat Americans, 4-1

Errors Costly To American League Crew

Good Pitching And Brilliant Hitting Wins For Nationals; Americans Make 4 Bobbles

(By The Associated Press)

CROSLEY FIELD, Cincinnati, July 6—Brilliant pitching and timely hitting gave the National league all-stars a 4 to 1 victory over their American league rivals in the sixth annual charity battle between the two circuits before 28,000 spectators here today.

In scoring their second victory in the brief history of the series, the Nationals upset expert opinion and their pitchers throttled a batting array that had promised to pepper base hits all over the Ohio valley. The Americans made four costly errors.

The three National pitchers, Johnny Vander Meer, Bill Lee, and Mace Brown, allowed the formidable American sluggers only seven hits and had them shut out until the last of the ninth.

Vander Meer, Lee Stingy

Vander Meer and Lee, who divided pitching duties for the first six innings, limited the Americans to a pair of hits. Brown gave up five in the final three and was slugged hard, but was saved by brilliant fielding.

The Nationals drew blood in the first innng when Hack lined a single over Cronin's head; Herman's sharp grounder went through Cronin for an error and Hack scored as Medwick drove a long fly to Averill.

Johnny Vander Meer allowed only one hit in the three innings he toiled, it was a single by Cronin over Hack's head. Gomez was touched for two hits in the same period by the Nationals.

Johnny Allen of Cleveland took the mound for the Americans in the fourth inning and Bill Lee of the Cubs pitched the next three innings for the Nationals. Allen was touched for only two hits in his turn on the plate while the Americans got only one off Lee.

The Nats' second score was in the fourth inning when Ott tripled and scored on Lombardi's one-base smash to left.

Bob Grove took the mound for the Americans in the seventh and was touched for two hits and two runs as his teammates made two errors. McCormick singled to center; on Durocher's bunt off the third base line, Foxx was slow scooping up the ball and threw wildly as Gehrig came up late to take the ball. McCormick galloped home, followed by Durocher as DiMaggio, retrieving the ball in rightfield foul territory, threw into the Nationals' dugout.

Tahoka Editor Hurt When Struck By Car

When struck by an automobile in Tahoka this morning, E. I. Hill, 63, editor and publisher of the Lynn County News, suffered a broken left leg and was rushed in an ambulance to Lubbock sanitarium.

He was considered in satisfactory condition shortly after noon. The injury was described as a comminuted fracture of the fibula, just below the knee.

The accident happened about 11 o'clock. Hill said he stepped from a curb at the north edge of the Tahoka business section and did not see the approaching car, driven by a friend. He was struck by a fender.

A Harris ambulance brought him to Lubbock, a Texas highway patrol meeting the ambulance near the city and escorting it to the sanitarium.

Hill has been editor of the Lynn County News more than 14 years. Mrs. Hill, WPA housekeeping aid supervisor, sister of Mark and John Halsey of Lubbock, followed the ambulance to Lubbock with Mrs. R. O. Forrester.

Frank Hill, son of E. I. Hill and assistant to his father on the newspaper, and Mrs. Hill and their daughter, Patricia, had left Sunday for South Texas for a vacation.

JAPANESE PORT FLOODED

Civil War's Veterans On Way Home

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 6 (AP)—The ring of demolition hammers resounded forlornly across the historic battlefield today as the last of 2,000 aged wearers of the Blue and Gray bid a final adieu to Gettysburg.

Hands that never again will be raised in salute to flags fluttering over a joint reunion of the old soldiers clasped in peace as the last contingent of 1,200 veterans boarded their special trains.

Soldier laughter died in taverns; crowds disappeared from the little town's cobblestone streets. And for those who roam the broad fields there were new souvenirs—cartridges fired in salute to the 75th anniversary of the great battle.

Two detachments of the army—the medical corps and the quartermaster general's "clean-up" squad—will remain another week.

The medical corps is charged with the safe return of 54 veterans still confined at various nearby hospitals. Only one, John W. Cooper, 91, of Largo, Fla., was reported in a serious condition.

Death Toll Is Expected To Be Near Thousand

Number Of Dead Already Between 400 And 480 As Waters Surge Into City

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, July 6—A disastrous flood surged tonight through Kobe, principal port of western Japan, and reliable estimates placed the number of dead at between 400 and 480 persons.

A Kobe resident telephoned to Tokyo that destruction was heavy. He said the final death toll might reach 1,000.

The Kobe inundation came on the heels of serious floods which swept widespread areas of Japan, including Tokyo, last week, the result of extremely heavy rains.

The home ministry announced that 861 persons were killed, injured or missing in last week's floods and in western Japan up to yesterday.

At Least 600 Children Said Drowned In Kobe Disaster

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6 (AP)—The Dollar liner President Cleveland reported today at least 600 Japanese school children and 40 Europeans were drowned in Kobe Japan, when three water reservoirs overtaxed by heavy rains collapsed.

In a message to Globe Wireless in San Francisco, H. Estep, chief operator aboard the Cleveland, said the tragedy occurred at 9 a. m., July 5 (6 p. m. CST Monday.)

Reservoirs Give Way

"Three water reservoirs gave way," he said, "sending a deluge of water down the streets of Kobe, carrying before it all that was movable, leaving in its wake death, disaster and destruction."

Estep said the death toll included 40 Europeans caught in the path of the swirling water. He said the 600 school children were drowned and crushed by wreckage when a schoolhouse collapsed. He said hundreds of other Japanese were believed drowned.

Because of the collapse of the water reservoirs, Estep reported Kobe faced a water shortage.

Senate Trio Is Said Marked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Senator Burke (D-Neb) predicted today that administration efforts to defeat anti-Roosevelt Democrats would be limited to three senatorial primaries.

The trio marked for elimination, he said, are Senators George of Georgia, Smith of South Carolina, and Tydings of Maryland. Like Burke, whose term does not expire this year, they fought the Roosevelt court bill and several other White House measures.

To Speak On Tour

Burke's prediction came on the eve of President Roosevelt's departure on a transcontinental tour, during which he will speak some good words for four or five administration senators up for renomination.

There were indications the president would not utilize the journey, however, to voice opposition to individual Democrats who opposed parts of his program. He told reporters yesterday he did not know whether he even would stop in South Carolina, where Smith is running against two New Dealers.

No Opinion Formed

Mr. Roosevelt also said he had formed no opinion on the Democratic primary in Colorado. Senator Adams, who has criticized some ad-

Punch Drunkenness Gets New Name--Dementia Pugilistica

BY EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Lieut. J. A. Millspaugh of the Naval Medical corps has dealt the boxing business a scholastic wallop with a brand new treatise on punch drunkenness.

Punch drunkenness isn't a condition you get into from drinking punch, but a condition you get into from absorbing too many punches.

Writing in the naval medical bulletin, Lieut. Millspaugh proposes a new name for it—dementia pugilistica.

That's all right, lieutenant, but you gave the boxing trade a verbal knockout with this punchy paragraph:

"Patently the etiology of dementia pugilistica is trauma."

After the budding heavyweight has waded through that bit of business on what might happen to him if he gets hit too much, the lieutenant lashes out with:

"The metacarpophalangeal articulations are usually hypertrophied."

Barbara Planning Another Marriage!

Heiress' Name Is Linked With Another Titled Personage In Third Romance; Second Is Off

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 6.—Countess Barbara Haugwitz-Reventlow's marital dispute with her Danish husband shifted today from police court talk of duels and huge money settlements to society speculation whether the American-born heiress was planning another marriage.

The case against Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow for alleged threats against his blonde wife stood adjourned in Bow street court until a week from today.

"I Told You So's" Heard

But hints of a new romance at his hearing yesterday—when her lawyers alleged he demanded $5,-

000,000 from her for a divorce and threatened her with "three years of hell with headlines"—caused many "I told you so's" among gossips in London's fashionable West End.

They had linked her name with that of another titled personage—mentioned guardedly at the hearing as a "London society gentleman"—whom the count allegedly talked of shooting from the hip or challenging to a duel.

Count's Actions Related

The countess' lawyers also testified the count had called her obscene names, threatened to seize their young son Lance, engaged in talk of blackmail, and threatened to "shoot himself and others" to put the Woolworth heiress "on the spot" so "everyone would know Barbara had driven him to it."

His attorneys indicated his defense would be complete denials of allegations he had threatened her.

Early Termination Seen

The police court sensations, however, pointed to an early termination of their Reno marriage of May 14, 1935—the day after her divorce from the late Prince Alexis Mdivani.

In a letter to the count, the former Barbara Hutton told him she feund happy life with him was impossible.

Meanwhile, she remained at luxurious, heavily-guarded Winfield mansion in London's Regent's park, and the count stayed at a fashionable West End hotel.

He Denies It

Prince Frederick of Prussia, below, emphatically denied European rumors which linked his name romantically with that of the Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former American heiress Barbara Hutton, who is currently involved in marital difficulties with her Danish count husband over custody of their child, Lance. Prince Frederick—grandson of the former Kaiser—said he knew the Count and Countess only slightly.

Reorganization Is To Be Issue Again

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt's assertion that the country wants—and will get—a government reorganization law indicated today he might point up the issue during his cross-country speaking tour.

The president told reporters yesterday that the executive branch of the government should be put on a business basis, that the people want it done, and that it is only a matter of working out details to accomplish it.

A new measure is expected to be presented to the 1939 congress, probably combining features of the bill passed by the senate last spring and the one shelved by the house after a hard-fought battle.

Senator Byrd (D-Va), who opposed the administration's reorganization program, agreed today that some sort of a measure probably would be enacted next year.

Man Aspiring To Be 'Hungary's Hitler' Sentenced To Prison

BUDAPEST, July 6. (AP)—Ferenc Szalasi, World war major who aspired to be "Hungary's Hitler," today was sent to prison for a three-year term for "incitement," the mild Hungarian term for illegal attempts to overthrow the government.

Three judges of the court of appeals hearing the Nazi leader's appeal from a lower court's sentence of 10 months affirmed his conviction and meted out the heavier punishment.

This was generally accepted as an indication that Nazis using illegal means would be dealt with sharply under the new government of Premier Bela Imredy.

Wage-Hour Administrator Said Between Nelson And Mellett

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt studied a list of candidates for wage-hour administrator today, presumably intent on filling the new post before starting westward tomorrow night.

Capital speculation over his possible choice for the $10,000-a-year job centered on two persons — Don Nelson, vice-president of Sears, Roebuck and company and a former NRA official, and Lowell Mellett, executive director of the National Emergency council.

The wage-hour law will become operative October 24, when basic standards of 25 cents an hour and 44 hours a week will be applied to all workers in interstate commerce.

TAYLOR GIVES WARNING

EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France, July 6 (AP)—Myron C. Taylor, head of the United States delegation, gave a blunt warning to the 32-nation conference on refugees today that forced migration of political and racial groups can bring "catastrophic suffering" upon the world.

Addressing the opening session of the meeting, result of President Roosevelt's invitation to other nations to discuss the refugee problem, Taylor said "general unrest and international strain" were unavoidable results of this migration.

He named only one country—Germany.

Britain Sends Messengers

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 6.—Great Britain sent special messengers to Spanish government and insurgent capitals today with the European non-intervention committee's $13,750,000 plan for evacuating foreign volunteers from war-scarred Spain.

Urgent consideration by both sides was asked for the project unanimously approved by representatives of the countries and hailed as a big step toward pacifying Europe. Its details are to be published here Friday.

Work On Details

London officials worked on preliminary details of the appointment of two neutral commissions to be sent to Spain to count the outsiders fighting for both factions so the plan could be operative immediately upon approval by insurgent and government leaders. Such approval has been forecast.

Under the plan adopted yesterday by the full nonintervention committee, volunteers in the civil war would be taken to four Spanish ports, thence sent home as fast as possible.

Russians fighting on the government side, under the scheme, would be brought to London with Italians and Germans among the insurgents going to Genoa and Hamburg, respectively. Others would be sent to Marseille.

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP) — Seventy-eight more Texas pensioners will receive subsistence checks this month than in June.

First Oil Production On State Hospital Lands Is Reported

AUSTIN, July 6. (AP)—The first oil production on state insane hospital lands was reported today to the board of control.

The hospital will receive 1/8 royalty on the well's output. The Petroleum Producers company of Wichita Falls is the lessee.

Gigantic Hauling Job Is Under Way

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—Twenty-five trucks, each carrying nearly 12 tons of Uncle Sam's silver, started today one of the biggest hauling jobs ever undertaken—the removal of $1,290,000,000 worth of bar silver to the government's new storage vault at West Point.

Soon after dawn, the trucks left the U. S. assay office here with a convoy of 50 coastguardsmen, carrying rifles.

Amid milk wagons and produce trucks, they rumbled off with their silver cargo on the 50-mile trip that included 10 miles of hills.

Ten months will be required to transfer approximately 1,000,000 bars of silver to the bullion vault on the edge of the United States Military academy at West Point.

The treasury awarded the contract to Peter J. Malley's Trucking company, which has never been hijacked since Malley's father started the business 70 years ago with horse-drays.

The firm's bid was $157,000 for transporting the silver. To complete the job, the trucks will travel a combined mileage equal to 30 times around the world.

"The other morning I woke up with a cold. My nose was running—my eyes were running—and everything seemed to be running but my bowels. Right there mama figured I was temporarily constipated, which made me feel worse. She gave me Teethina, because mama says Teethina is the nicest, kindest laxative for little fellows like me. It cleansed my bowels and helped to relieve my acid condition. I feel better now and I want to thank my drug store for always keeping a big supply of Teethina on hand. Teethina costs only 30c for twelve nice-tasting powders." TEETHINA.

Wonderful How Calotabs the Nauseless Calomel Compound Tablet Makes you Feel so Fine the Next Morning.

The old-time calomel was the doctor's favorite remedy for Biliousness or so-called "Torpid Liver," so prevalent in hot weather, but it had some serious draw-backs from the standpoint of the patient. The nauseating and sickening after-effects and the necessity to follow it with a dose of Epsom salts made many of us hate to take it. Now you can really enjoy your calomel, for Calotabs make calomel-taking a pleasure. They give you the combined effects of calomel and salts without the disagreeable sensations.

When you feel grouchy and bilious take one or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of water or sweet milk. Next morning your system feels clean and refreshed, your head is clear, your spirit is bright, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish and go about your work or pleasure.

Genuine Calotabs are sold only in checker-board (black and white) packages bearing the trade mark "Calotabs." Avoid imitations. Family package only twenty-five cents; trial package ten cents, at your dealer's. (Adv.)

McNutt Plans Seen In Move

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 6 — Politicians here believe the presidential aspirations of Paul V. McNutt of Indiana may account for the complete about-face of Indiana Democratic leaders on the Van Nuys issue.

Up to recently, the state leaders were reported to be bent on purging Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) from public life, because of his opposition to the Roosevelt court reorganization bill. Now Van Nuys has been invited by Governor Townsend to seek renomination in a "wide open" Democratic convention July 11-12.

Aimed At Independent Race

It can hardly be doubted that this harmony move is aimed at forestalling an independent race by Van Nuys that might split Democratic ranks in November and interfere with the effort to obtain the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940 for McNutt, prominent Indianan who is now high commissioner to the Philippines.

At the time of the court fight a year ago, other Democratic senators of the anti-court bill group rallied to Van Nuys' support. They openly threatened to campaign in his behalf if he were forced to run as an independent.

Swing To Van Nuys Reaches 'Band Wagon' Proportions

INDIANAPOLIS, July 6 (AP) — A swing of state administration support in favor of the Democratic renomination of Senator Frederick Van Nuys, fiery foe of President Roosevelt's court and governmental reorganization bills, flourished into "band wagon" proportions today and apparently eliminated the possibility of a confusing, three-way senatorial struggle in Indiana.

Two of three announced candidates for the Democratic nomination to succeed Van Nuys, who, long at odds with the party's state organization, had made plans to seek reelection as an independent, lost no time in joining the harmony movement which Governor M. Clifford Townsend started Monday night by inviting Van Nuys to "become a candite" for the nomination.

'Box That Speaks' Brings Aid To Diphtheria-Infested Colony

KAYENTA, Ariz., July 6 (AP)—The "box that speaks" called white man's medicine today to isolated outposts of the Navajo Indian reservation, where an outbreak of diphtheria was reported to have taken three lives and menaced many others.

A newly-installed short-wave radio system was initiated by Dr. W. W. Peters, Navajo service medical head, to request serum with which to combat the disease.

Telephones were out of order, but the "box that speaks"—Navajo idiom for radio—had the needed medicine dispatched within half an hour.

Judge Atwell Rules Annuities Were Property Of John Hardin

DALLAS, July 6 (AP)—At the time of John G. Hardin's death, the annuities accruing to him were his property, Judge W. H. Atwell ruled Tuesday as demurrers were being heard in a suit brought by the estate of the wealthy philanthropist against W. A. Thomas, collector of internal revenue.

The suit itself will be heard in Judge Atwell's court Sept. 15 and is a case in which the plaintiffs seek to recover tax amounts paid in inheritance and other taxes.

The case is of unusual interest in that it will probably present a panorama of the benefactions of Hardin, who bequeathed enormous sums to schools, hospitals, orphanages and other institutions.

Almost twice as many men were killed in the World war than in all the wars from 1790 to 1913.

If You Lived The Life Of Barbara Hutton ---

Could you stand the life Barbara Hutton has been living as Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow? So much of the life of the very rich is lived these days before cameramen that news pictures give you a pretty good idea of what it is like. Do they give you a clew why Babs hasn't been agreeing with her Danish count?

YOU'D EAT HIGH PRICED FOOD in ritzy surroundings and with plenty of attention from waiters if you lived the life of Barbara. Here she and Count Court von Haugwitz-Reventlow dine in San Francisco in May, 1935, shortly after their marriage.

YOU'D SUN YOURSELF on the Lido sands, Venice, as Babs and her count are doing during their honeymoon.

YOU'D DANCE at fashionable St. Moritz with apparently not a care in the world. This is Barbara early in 1938.

YOUR DOG would pose for its portrait by a London artist, as Barbara's pet, Snookie, is doing.

YOUR SON could spend Christmas playing in the snow at St. Moritz. This is Lance, now a little more than two years old.

After Sixteen Years, Badge No. 13 Is Pinned On Officer In Chicago; No Reason Given

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—For 16 years the custodian of equipment had endeavored to give police badge No. 13 to an officer.

He found none who would accept it.

Tuesday Marshall Pidgeon, member of the bomb squad, turned in his old and worn star, numbered 6088, and asked for a new one.

He was asked if he would take No. 13.

"Why not?" he inquired.

Nobody could think of any reason why he shouldn't.

So he pinned it on his uniform.

Shown between Shirley and Mei-Mei is Mary Bean, the baby panda's nurse.

IS GOING PLACES

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The much maligned black member of the sheep family is coming into his own, says Dr. Karl Jahn, sheep expert from the karakul research institute of Halle, Germany.

Dr. Jahn told furriers here that the black karakul lamb skins, in the guise of Persian lamb, broadtail and caracul, have caught women's fancy. Last year, he said, more than 2,000,000 skins were imported, the United States producing only 10,000 annually.

A Driving Range At Last

By Collier Parris

GOLFERS of the city and suburbs doubtless will display considerable interest in the driving range soon to be opened off College Avenue at 4th street.

The town has long felt the need of such an addition to its sports program, and it is surprising that someone has not installed a driving range long before now.

Although strictly a commercial enterprise, the driving range should take its place in the local setup as a source of news and a place where sportsmen and sportswomen congregate.

Particulars of the tee-shot course will be described in an early issue. To this bureau has come information that approximately ten tee-boxes will be installed, meaning that ten golfers may practice their driving at the same time, and that lights will be fixed over the range to permit nocturnal practice.

Financed by Clarence Fox and associates, the course will be operated and managed by Joe Bihl, and this is one of the nicest items about the whole thing. There never was a more deserving chap than Bihl, the 1938 West Texas Golf association champion. It will be "Joe Bihl's Driving Range", and we can not think of a more appropriate name, nor a more generous gesture on the part of the men behind the scheme.

The course will be opened within the next few days, probably by tomorrow. It will afford all golfers, average and otherwise, a fine opportunity to improve their tee games, as well as recreation and exercise, and at hours when regulation golf is out of the question.

This corner wishes to be among the first to congratulate the range owners and Bihl for the movement, and to wish Joe the best of luck and the mostest of customers.

LOCAL LINKSMEN home from Vernon and the invitation tournament there report a swell time by one and all, despite the hard luck attached to the scores of Lubbock delegates.

The Vernon Country club, where this par smasher witnessed and played his first golf, is by way of beginning a whoop-it-up campaign to claim its place in West Texas golf — and doing a better than fair job of it, too. The recent tournament, engineered principally by Roy Farrell, a golfer of note for several years, was a large success, take it from the local boys who came home yesterday. Hospitality and entertainment ranked high indeed; the course, a nine-hole, sand greens layout, was in the pink, and the calibre of golf was of the highest.

Although failing to bring home any championship honors, Lubbock golfers provided the tournament and gallery with the hottest brand of the game. Joe Bihl and Alfred Holton showed the boys something. Bihl was snapped off in the early rounds of the championship flight, but played great golf, losing on the last green.

They cheered Holton as the best golfer of the Vernon tournament, although he failed to make the championship flight. A 72 was required to crash the upper bracket, and Holton came in with a 73. Ever hear of a tournament where a 73 didn't make the championship flight?

But here's what Al did: After posting a 73 to qualify — his score was officially but erroneously posted as 75 — he waded through the second flight swingsters with ease, winning the last three matches in only 40 holes! For those 40 holes, he was 17 under par, which shaded any other scoring in the tournament, championship flight or otherwise. We would call that considerable golf.

A streak of wildness during the qualifying round in which he batted a few over the fence knocked him from the upper circle, but he settled down and had his merry way in the matches.

COMES A COUPLE of interesting notes by post. One is from the Mizes, Pope and Kathleen, of Georgia. The erstwhile Lubbock Hubber slugger, released because of inability to overcome physical ailments here, and the missus returned home to Georgia. Enroute they stopped off at Cordele, Ga., and Pope immediately was snapped up by Manager Bob Hasty of the Cordele club, a unit in the Georgia-Florida Class D league.

So Pope's got a job, playing regularly in the Cordele outfield, and "hitting nearly .400," Mrs. Mize advises. "Cordele is in fourth place now, but at the rate they're winning, they'll be near the top right away."

We're pleased to hear from the Mizes. Had Pope been able to overcome a sore hand and a bit of back trouble, he would have made the Hubbers a workhorse.

The other communication comes from one of our favorite boxing persons, shaggy-haired little Wayne Penn, formerly of the local CCC, city and district Golden Gloves featherweight champion, and a repeater in the AAU tournaments.

Penn has gravitated to California, and writes from Seal Beach, where he has been appearing on amateur cards. He sends a clipping from a Seal Beach newspaper:

"Wayne Penn, one of the most popular leather pushers to perform at the local stadium, uses a style similar to Henry Armstrong's. And like the great negro champion, Penn is a terrific puncher for his size. . . . In Castro, his opponent this week, Penn will run up against one of his toughest foes. . . . Last week Penn showed he could take it when he got off the floor to knock Willie Sanchez down four times and win easily. . . ."

In his letter, Penn says he's booked to meet the state featherweight champion July 11.

Wilson Cleaners Eke Out Victory Over Still-Guess

Wilson Cleaners had only victory in the American softball league Tuesday, while T. and P. Oilers and Dalby Motor freight ten were winners in the National league.

The Cleaners eked out a 1-0 triumph over Still and Guess in the most thrilling game of the season. Earl Ince walked in the third inning, stole second and scored when Country Webb, Still and Guess receiver, threw wild to second. Webb got only two hits collected by the losers. Wilson had only one bingle.

Lefty Sollis held KFYO to three hits as the Oilers won, 11 to 3. Cowboy Kyle gave up nine hits. Allen of the Oilers clouted a homer. Dalby won a slugfest from American Optical, 17 to 14.

Tulsa Oilers Still On Top But Get Rough Handling Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

Tulsa's Oilers still rode the top of the Texas league today despite rough handling at the hands of Oklahoma City in which the Indians laid down a barrage of 18 hits to win 9-1.

The Oilers, back home from a long road trip, found Hurler Olsen going to the showers last night under a six-run rally in the third, and Kimsey, who relieved him, almost as ineffective.

Second place Beaumont trounced Houston, 5-1; the San Antonio Missions, in third place behind Oklahoma City, gained the edge in a three game series in defeating Shreveport, 7-5, and Dallas closed out a home stand against Fort Worth by taking the Cats, 5-3.

BABY SABAN WINS

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Salvy (Baby) Saban, 140, of New York rallied in the last four rounds to gain the decision over Bobby Pacho, 146 1-2, of California, in an eight-round bout at Dyckman oval last night.

Gomez, Vander Meer Hurling At The Start

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, July 6—The heroes of 1001 homeruns, the elite of the baseball world as of the current year, clash on Crosley field today in the sixth annual all-star game between the American and National leagues.

At 1:30 o'clock (E. S. T.) they come together, with Senor Lefty Gomez of the New York Yankees smoking them across for the American leaguers and the sensational young Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati's own Reds pitching for the Nationals. It is the fifth time that Gomez, the curving Castilian, has started for the Americans, and he has three victories to his credit. Vander Meer, the only pitcher in big league history to hurl two no-hit, no-run games in rapid succession, is making his first appearance in the mid-season classic.

Hot Contest Promised

It promised a hot contest in perfect baseball weather. The American leaguers, with four victories in five previous shotgun encounters, were pronounced favorites at 8-to-5 to trim their inter-league rivals again. The Nationals, their ears still burning from a magazine article this spring that classified them as minor-leaguers, were pretty grim about the whole business.

There wasn't any doubt about the crowd. The home-like little field was certain to be packed-jammed to the utmost of its 28,000 capacity, with the last 2,000 standing in the aisles There have been applications for a total of 142,000 seats, which gives an idea of the tremendous appeal of today's tableau.

Lead Powerful Forces

The rival managers for the second straight year, Bill Terry of the Nationals and Joe McCarthy of the Americans, announced their starting line-ups yesterday. They lead powerful forces on the field today, each club with an over-all batting average of well over .300, and with the cream of the country's pitchers ready for duty.

Terry's line-up is the obvious one, including as it does the leading sluggers of the National league. McCarthy crossed up the experts somewhat by appointing Mike Kreevich of the Chicago White Sox, a comparatively weak hitter, to start in left field, when he might have used either Roger Cramer of Boston or Bob Johnson of the Athletics, both superior hitters, in the position.

Has Customary Bulge

Even with Kreevich taking his cut at the top of the batting order, however, the American leaguers had their customary bulge in the hitting department. Following him were such vaunted sluggers as Gehringer of Detroit, Averill of Cleveland, Foxx of Boston, DiMaggio and Dickey of the Yankees, and Cronin of Boston. The Nationals, on paper at least, couldn't quite match this array of base-hit merchants.

Bill Terry's main threat was tied up in Ival Goodman, Cincinnati's home run hero, and the following big bats of Joe Medwick of St. Louis, Mel Ott of New York, and Ernie Lombardi and Frank McCormick of Cincinnati. It didn't, off-hand, look like quite an even match in the hitting department, but the National league adherents consoled themselves with the possibility that Vander Meer, Carl Hubbell and then Mace Brown of the Pirates would stand their big-muscled adversaries on their collective ears.

Other Pitchers Good Too

The difficulty seems to be that the American league forces, who admit quite openly that they would like to win this game, have some better than passable pitchers, themselves. Following Gomez today, for instance, is Johnny Allen of Cleveland. He pitches the second three innings. Johnny happens to have won 27 of his last 29 games. Then there is Bob "Lefty" Grove, the greying Boston veteran, to fling the last three frames, if he wants the assignment.

Here is how they will line-up at the outset today, with the individual batting averages:

Hubbers Are Still In Throes Of Slump

In Full Flight

With Coach Aileen Allen prompting them, these west coast diving stars are caught in midair as they practice for an aquatic show in Los Angeles. From top to bottom are Johnny Riley, Ruth Jump, Astrid Lissol, Anita Lhoest, and Barbara Schouler. The last two are 7-year-olds of great promise.

Remember the days of the runaway horses — how a man could make a hero of himself by stepping in front of and stopping a team of nags on the loose?

The Hubbers thought they were far enough ahead of the pack to stop off at Grandma's to eat dinner and spend the night, but some heroic run-away stopping has been done by three baseball clubs.

First Big Spring bowled over the locals two out of three times in Howard county, Midland won three of four played here, and Clovis frightened the babies and made papa jittery by taking the first game here Sunday.

Ratliff Leads Victory

Those same pesky Pioneers, led by Dick Ratliff, the daddy of the Littlefield Ratliffs, took another yesterday from Lubbock, 11 to 6. All Richard did was club out a pair of homers and two doubles and roam all over rightfield for four hard catches.

Seven runs he batted in and another he scored.

Joe Gedsius, with a homer, and Mal Stevens, with four for four, were only Hubbers pleased with the contest in any measure. Italo Angaran, signed to a new Lubbock contract Saturday after his original had been scrapped three weeks ago, started for Lubbock, but was unable to get nary a single Pioneer out.

Charlie Bryan and Big Bill Terry followed him to the mound in that order.

Midland remained two percentage points ahead of Clovis by dropping a melee to Hobbs, 3 to 2. Marshall Scott won his tenth game of the campaign, holding the Cards to four hits and whiffing 12.

Big Spring banged out a 13-to-9 win over Wink at Baronville.

Palestine Provides Fireworks In East Texas Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Palestine provided fireworks in the East Texas league last night by fighting off a rally by Henderson in the ninth to defeat the Oilers, 9-8.

Shortstop Sublette of the Oilers poled a homer with the bases loaded, but the spurt fell short. Kosy, Volpi and Leary of the Pals and Davis of the Oilers also hit for the circuit.

Meanwhile, Tyler's Trojans tripped the Texarkana Liners, 8-5, but the Liners remained at the top of the league through Marshall's loss to Longview, 7-2. Kilgore pounded out an 8-1 victory over Jacksonville.

CONTRACTS RECEIVED

PHILADELPHIA, July 6 (AP) — Bert Bell, president of the Philadelphia National league professional football club, announced today the receipt of three signed contracts, including one from "Bull" Talbert, halfback, of Texas A. and M.

Youngster From Georgia Tech Is Given Outside Chance To Win

HAVERFORD, Pa., July 6 (AP) — A 20-year-old youth from Atlanta, Ga., representing Georgia Tech, today was given an outside chance to win the National Intercollegiate tennis title.

The youth, Russell Bobbitt, yesterday won over the favored Isadore Bellis, of the University of Pennsylvania, 6-4, 6-3, for his second surprise win. His first came against the second seeded Don McNeill, of Kenyon college.

Bobbitt's performances again dominated play as the top-seeded players, Joseph Hunt, of Southern California; Frank D. Guernsey, jr., of Rice, Julius Heldman, of the University of California at Los Angeles; Robert Kamrath, University of Texas, and Robert Harmon, of California, advanced without difficulty.

Three Or Four Teams Within Reach Of Top

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

This three-day suspension of regular major-league activities for the all-star game affords, among other things, a good chance to checkup on the state of the pennant races.

Right now it looks like a case of pay your money and take your choice with three or four teams in each league within striking distance of the top and the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates playing the best ball in their respective circuits.

Giants Still Leading

The New York Giants, still leading the National league by 3 1-2 games, and the Cleveland Indians, tied with the Yanks for first in the American, still are reaping the benefits of early-season spurts. Chicago and Cincinnati and possibly Boston in the National league are close enough to be dangerous while the Boston Red Sox in the American may start going places any day.

The Giants won 18 out of their first 21 games and the effects have been far reaching. They have played only .551 ball since then, but they've managed to come through every time the competition has begun to look serious.

Pirate Threat More Serious

Although the Cubs managed to take first place at one time the current Pittsburgh threat is the most serious the Giants have had to face. On June 7, the Buccos had a .500 average. Since then they've won 18 games and lost five—and just at the time when they're supposed to take their annual nose dive.

The Yankees' current war cry is "We've just begun to fight," and, in the light of previous performances, that looks like enough. They won nine straight before the Senators checked them with a tie Monday.

Counting out their early rush, the Indians have been playing close to the .600 mark, enough to keep them in the fight anyway. Their greatest trouble, rounding out a complete set of starting pitchers who can last the route, hasn't been settled yet. Johnny Allen and Bob Feller have done practically all the work lately.

The Red Sox, after a brief fling at the lead, settled back to a steady third-place gait until last week. They've started coming again with six victories in their last seven starts and the spurt has left them only 2 1-2 games out of the lead.

Sports Roundup

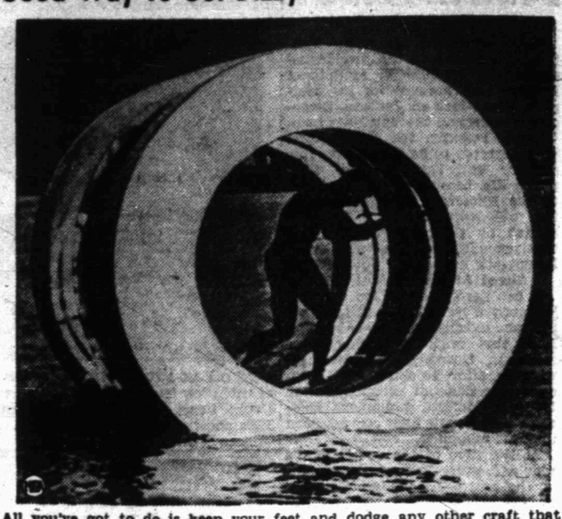

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 6 — Here's the way the Southwest conference football race shapes up in the summer books: Rice will be as strong as last year. . . . Texas Christian again will have the best line in the league and is counted the No. 1 team to upset Rice. . . . Texas A. and M. has a flock of nifty freshmen coming up. . . . Southern Methodist figures to be tough, with one of its best frosh teams in history ready to go. . . . Texas U. will have a stouter line and better-balanced backfield. . . . Baylor lost too many stars by graduation. . . . Arkansas can't be counted out, but how they're going to miss those tall ends!

The Giants and Yanks aren't accepting reservations for a subway world series, but Colgate football officials have shifted the Colgate-Duke game scheduled October 8 from the Yankee stadium to Buffalo just in case. . . . The sports editor of the Nevada State Journal at Reno is named Ty Cobb and his contemporary on the Reno Evening Gazette answers to Joe Jackson. . . . (P. S. This Joe wears shoes) . . . Because Larry Gilbert, manager of the seventh-place New Orleans Pelicans in the Southern association, didn't get expected help from the Cleveland Indians, he may sell his star twirler, Russell (Red) Evans, to the Giants, who already have sent four players to New Orleans.

If this isn't some sort of record you can sue yours truly. . . . In a game between Detroit and Philadelphia the other day, no less than five former Duke university stars were in the Athletics' line-up. . . . They were Bill Werber, at third; Ace Parker, the well-known footballer, at second; Wayne Ambler, at short; Chubby Dean, pinch-hitter de luxe, and Pitcher Dave Smith.

Good Way To Get Dizzy

All you've got to do is keep your feet and dodge any other craft that might be in the vicinity. Then, maybe, you can operate the water wheel. Made of wood and light metal and accommodating anywhere from one to four persons, the contraption is the new sports thrill at German resorts.

Johnson Faces Pedigo Tonight

Winner of a couple of main events, Gus Johnson is back for another tonight at the Auditorium. Preliminaries start at 8:30 o'clock.

The Barefoot Blacksmith, of the Kentucky blacksmiths, is down as Gussie-Wussie's opponent tonight. The smithy is getting sort of veteranish like, from the standpoint of years as well as experience, and maybe isn't as strong as when, with his brawny arms, he fashioned the famous Floyd Collins rescue cage, but he still possesses a lot of get-up-and-go when it comes to cavorting around the ring. He'll give the Swede considerable trouble.

Pogi, Davis Here

Johnson's newly-found strength and victory streak has the customers wondering what'll happen next in this grappling game. On previous visits, Gus was no better, and sometimes worse, than the ordinary preliminary punk, but he has been cutting capers right along this trip, and has come to be a man feared.

The supporting card promises interest and action, with Soldier Thomas, who held the top spot for several weeks, down on the prelim with Gorilla Pogi, the earnest workman from the Argentine. Pogi, who appeared on the first pro wrestling card ever promoted by Allen here, is always worth watching. Sometimes he's got a mad on and fights like a king gorilla. At other times, he settles down and turns out some nice grappling.

George Hartay, industrious and ever plugging Hungarian, is in for a rough evening against Dizzy Dilly Davis, the rope artist, in the semi-final. If and when Hartay gets rilled, he can take care of himself in almost any situation. He'll need to get sore tonight if he pleases the fans and saves his neck.

Babe Didrickson Has Been Hot On St. Louis Courses This Week

ST. LOUIS, July 6 (AP) — Babe Didrickson, the former Olympic star and all-around woman athlete, has been burning up St. Louis golf courses the last few days.

She teamed with Johnny Manion, Meadowbrook pro, yesterday to beat Alex Ayton, Country club pro, and Jim Cockburn, Westwood pro, 2 and 1, in an exhibition match. It was her third match here since Saturday.

A crowd estimated at nearly 2,000 gathered at a driving tee last night for an exhibition by the Babe. She placed several shots to the 275-yard marker.

Dutcher's News Of Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 6. — Although the Senate Campaign Expenses committee offers partial sanctuary for any WPA project worker who is subjected to political "intimidation," it is not yet cramping the style of President Roosevelt and other New Dealers who insist on supporting "liberal" candidates as distinguished from "conservatives."

Rodney Dutcher

There may be some backdown on one side or the other, but it looks as if the committee and the administration might engage in a running skirmish for the rest of the campaign season. The committee is dominated by anti-New Deal senators.

A curious sequence of statements began when Chairman Morris Sheppard announced that government officials who supported congressional candidates would be summoned before the committee. Roosevelt then flatly told the country he would support certain candidates in the primaries. Instead of suggesting that the president be called before the committee, Sheppard complimented the "fireside chat" and said:

"He is entirely within his rights in discussing candidates for office."

What To Do?

Other officials will insist on their right to speak or work for certain candidates in their capacity as "private citizens." Committee members haven't made up their minds exactly what to do about it.

"All government agencies must keep hands off primaries and elections," it said originally, conspicuously failing to say "all officials." Now it has described Deputy WPA Administrator Aubrey Williams' speech to the Workers' Alliance as "unfortunate" and warned against political speeches by "dispensers of funds."

Members of the committee besides Sheppard are Dave Walsh of Massachusetts, consistent New Deal foe, and Pat Harrison of Mississippi, conservative administration critic, both recently named to the committee by Vice-President Garner, who hopes to wrest control of the Democratic party from Roosevelt; Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who is firmly opposed to Roosevelt's efforts to "split" the party, and Wallace White of Maine, a Republican.

The president's confidence in the theory that the depression's bottom has been reached and that all will be upturn from now on is partly inspired by optimistic assurances given him by two of the administration's most business-minded conservatives, Ambassador Joe Kennedy and RFC Chairman Jesse Jones.

"The boys in Wall street are all cried out," Kennedy told Roosevelt, reporting signs of "let's go" sentiment among big men.

The committee will find, if it doesn't know it, that WPA directors in most states owe their political allegiance to sitting Democratic senators rather than to Harry Hopkins. In primaries to date this fact has favored Senators Pepper in Florida and Gillette in Iowa and Senator Joe Guffey's defeated ticket in Pennsylvania. It seriously handicaps Roosevelt's efforts to defeat certain senators up this year for re-election, although it aids New Deal incumbents such as "Dear Alben" Barkley of Kentucky.

About F. D. R. And Garner

Mr. Henry M. Hyde visits and chats with Jack Garner early every morning when the Vice-President is in Washington. Garner calls him "the old farmer" and Hyde is closer to him than any other Washington correspondent. That's why it was most significant when Hyde wrote in the Saturday Evening Post, after citing an old report of a definite Garner-Roosevelt break:

"Sooner or later, such a break seems inevitable. . . . The open break may come—may be forced—at any time. For instance, if the precedent-breaker should announce his candidacy for a third presidential term, it is certain the old Texas cowhand will give a 'Yip!' and start shooting from the hip.

"But deeper and more fundamental than such political differences is the gulf between the economic and social philosophies of the two men."

The Story So Far: Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has enraged Quanomet. She was killed by a left handed blow from the knife of her sister, Pam Frye. Interested parties are: Tim Carr, once married to Marina; Roddy Strutt, whose all-lying plane crash was deliberate; Peggy Boone, an artist; Jennings, an irate plumber; and persons unknown who burned down the Frye's barn, biffed Asey, Tim and Pam's father, destroyed Jack Lorne's mural sketches and defaced the mural itself. Missing is a $50,000 lump of ambergris belonging to Pam, which several people saw on the beach from Roddy's plane. Then Roddy disappears.

Chapter 41

The Big, Bad Biffer

"All I got to say," Asey twirled the Colt, "is that you better find him an' bring him back in just fifteen minutes, Brother Strutt, or you'll be struttin' into a jail. Do I make myself clear?"

Roddy's father was almost in tears. "But I tell you—"

"Neither Elliott nor me," Asey said, "was born yesterday. You find Roddy, an' find him quick, or the house of Strutt'll be cold turkey—"

"He's gone," Carveth sobbed. "He was here before you came, an' now he's gone. That man's got him!"

"If this is an act," Asey said, "it's one of the best I ever seen outside a theater. Elliott, will you explain to him that I want Roddy without any more tears or squeaks?"

"But it's that man Jennings!" Carveth said. "It's that man Jennings!"

"Oho it is? You mean Earl Jennings, the plumber?"

"Yes," Carveth said. "Yes. It—it was most unfortunate. I'm sure we did everything in our power to make things right, and then this mural—"

"What's this?" Asey asked.

"Jennings' daughter," Elliott explained while Carveth blew his nose.

"And now," Carveth said, "he's done what he threatened—he's kidnaped Roddy—and why don't you two do something about it?"

"Earl Jennings," Asey said "is over in the Pochet hospital. I seen him there myself—"

"Most unfortunate his being hurt in that plane crash," Carveth said. "Most unfortunate, as I told Roddy, why couldn't he have picked someone else. But of course that would have been satisfactorily adjusted by the family, just as the other unfortunate incident was adjusted. I told Jennings that myself, last night."

"He was in the hospital last night," Asey said.

"Oh, no, he was not!" Carveth retorted with a show of spirit. "He was there, here, threatening us! After I saw you at Octagon House. And threatening Roddy, too. He seemed to think that he had been put into that mural because Roddy told Mar—I mean, told Lorne to put him in. And that accident—"

"You mean to say that Jennings, Earl Jennings the plumber—he was here last night?" Asey's eyes lighted up.

"He was," Carveth said.

Asey smiled, and remembered the conversation he had had with the nurse about Jennings. If he had had the slightest bit of intelligence, he should have guessed. What was it she'd said? Something about "So Asey had heard what went on about Jennings—"

On The Loose

"It seems to me," Elliott said, "that I did hear something about Jennings on the loose last night. He goes off on busts, you know. They're the talk of Quanomet. They used to be the talk even of Company B, in the old days."

"Listen to me," Asey said to Carveth; "I'm comin' back here in an hour, an' you produce Roddy for me. Elliott's goin' to stay here with you an' see that you do, ain't you, Elliott? Right. You see he finds Roddy, if you have to fight another Chateau Thierry. Here," he handed over the forty-five. "You take this, an' find Roddy. I'm goin' over to the Pochet hospital an' see Jennings. I happen to know that he'll be there."

The nurses crowded around him by the desk.

"Asey," Susan said, "you certainly did the trick! We haven't had a peek out of Jennings since you were here. He went to sleep like a little lamb—"

"I want to see him," Asey said. "Quick—tell me if he got out last night."

"Yesterday afternoon, shortly after you were here. They say he was on a tear, but he really hadn't had much to drink. His wife and the doctor made him come back this morning—they simply couldn't quiet him down. It's that mural and the pipes that have got on his nerves—" she opened the door carefully. "I think he's asleep—" She flicked on the light. "Oh, Mr. Jennings—Mis—"

She and Asey stared at the empty room.

Asey brushed past Susan into the hall, and raced back to the desk.

"'Scuse me," he said, and grabbed the telephone. "Hello, this is Asey Mayo. I want to talk with Hanson of the state police—that's right. Ask the Quanomet exchange where he is—right."

Susan whispered breathlessly to the other nurse.

"Hello, Hanson? Oh, Lane. Listen. Take some men, go over to the Strutt place by the beach. Hunt for a fellow named Earl Jennings, and for the young Strutt boy. There's a Congressman there named Elliott. He'll explain everything to you. You want Earl Jennings, an' Roddy Strutt. Got that?"

He listened for a moment.

"That's it, Lane. What do you do when you get them? You sit on them both. Oh, an' phone to the barracks—get Jennings' car plate numbers from someone. Have the roads watched, for fun. That's right. I'll be over."

He put the phone down, stared reflectively at a chart on the desk and then picked up the receiver again.

"I want Octagon House, over in Quanomet," he said.

He whistled under his breath as he waited.

"Octagon House—that you, Tim? Tim, have you got troopers there? Well, leave one at the house, take the other an' go over to Jack Lorne's—he's still there? Okay. Take a trooper an' go over an' stay. The biffer's loose again, an' he might come for Lorne. That's right. No chases, this time, Tim. Tell those fellers to get him."

"What—" Susan began.

"I ain't got time to tell you," Asey said. "Oh, why didn't we tie that fellow up!"

Sus-spup-panked!

He hurried out to Tim's car and swung it back toward Quanomet. At the cross roads he hesitated the fraction of a second. It would be a little longer to go past the Octagon House but, on the other hand, it might be wise to drop in there on his way back to the Strutt's.

Tim howled at him as he turned up the Lornes' drive.

"Asey! Come here—my God, come here—"

"What's happened?" Asey didn't even bother to turn off the engine.

"Lorne—"

"Lorne, what? What?"

"Come and see," Tim held open the door. "In the studio."

Lorne lay face down on the couch, his shoulders shaking convulsively.

"What's the matter?" Asey demanded.

Lorne lifted up a tear-stained face, looked at Asey, and then dove back into a pillow.

"He's been spanked," Tim explained cheerfully.

"What?"

"Believe it or not, he's been spanked. It took me ten minutes to get the information out of him. I thought he was having convulsions when we first came in."

"Who spanked him?"

"That," Tim said, "is something I don't know. I haven't got that far yet. He's terribly reticent. You'd think he'd had his tongue spanked."

Asey walked over and shook Lorne by the shoulder.

"Come to! What happened, an' who done it?"

Lorne sobbed bitterly.

"See here," Asey said, "you told me that artists had to suffer. This ain't no way to take a spankin'. You'd ought to consider it a thrillin' experience that'll prob'ly make you another Mike Angelo."

"He—he sus-spup-panked me!"

"Sooner or later," Tim said, "spankings come to all men. Brace up. We want to know who the hero was."

"Earl Jennings!"

Asey sat down. "How long ago," he asked, "did this happen? Come on, come to, Lorne! When did he do it?"

"I don't know. A long time. Two hours. Maybe less. I don't know. Eut," Lorne sat up, "I know one thing, if I ever see the man again, I'll kill him, d'you hear me? I'll kill him! I'll tear him apart with my bare hands!"

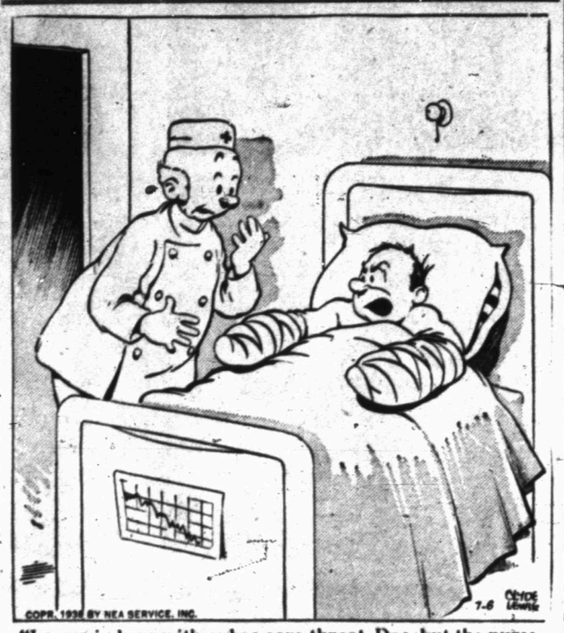

The idea of the slender Jack Lorne tearing Jennings apart was somehow irresistibly funny to Asey. It appealed also to Timothy.

"Does he mean he'll do that to the biffer?" the latter wanted to know. "He does? Oh, no, Jack! No. I've had some brief experience with your spanker, and I'll tell you for your own good, just you let him have his way, and forgive him freely."

Jennings is nabbed, tomorrow.

REAL PUNISHMENT

The criminal mind is a puzzle the average man finds difficult to understand. There are judges, legislators, penologists, even, who do not understand it. Conceiving of mental attitudes and behavior alien to itself is a task which the normal mind never finds easy.

But some of the conduct of the criminal mind is so apparent an exaggeration of processes with which every normal human is familiar that the task of understanding is considerably lightened. James A. Johnston, warden of Alcatraz, disclosed something illuminating about the criminal during a recent talk in Springfield, Mo.

The chief task at Alcatraz, he disclosed, is to make the incurables housed there "really forgotten men." The job is to make them aware that the world is not interested in them, no matter what they do. The men who have not been made to understand that, Johnston said, are likely to perform the most outrageous acts of violence, for no other reason than to attract notoriety.

Humiliate a man, punish him physically, degrade him, ridicule him; and he may be able to take it. But what he cannot stand is being forgotten—ignored. An exaggerated affection for attention played no small part in the lives of the men who wound up on "the island."

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 — Short takes: A group of executives and the writer of a picture assembled the other afternoon to hear recordings of the much-ballyhooed star's songs. The author was asked what he thought of her voice.

"I'd describe it," he said, "as a cultivated scream."

Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane have allowed their romance to cool in preparation for new pairings engineered by the publicity department.

Rosemary Lane and Jeffrey Lynn, who have just finished a picture together, have consented to play a heart-throb role for the gossip columns.

Although press agents have engineered scores of widely-noted attachments, a precedent will be set when one of them is made the defendant in a suit for alienation of affections. The husband, an obscure actor, will claim that his wife was estranged by her build-up as an unattached glamor gal, and that she was forbidden to see him.

Myrna Wants To Hiss, Alice Wants To Sing

Myrna Loy has served notice on her bosses that she is tired of perfect wife pictures and wants to be a meanie for a change. . . . And Alice Faye, somewhat to her own consternation, will be shifted into straight drama as quickly as possible. She still thinks she's a better singer than an actress. . . . Leo Carrillo hasn't given up the idea of playing, in real life, the role of the governor of California.

A picture previewed the other night, was so bad that the footprints are said to have walked out of the forecourt of the theater. . . . That film will join the list compiled by Martin Greene in a scheme to increase box office receipts throughout the nation. He plans to show movies in the streets, thus driving people into the theaters. . . . All Hollywood seems pleased by the comeback of Lew Ayres, who stole "Holiday" at Columbia and was being fought over by Paramount producers when he moved to M-G-M. . . . Truth about William Wyler's removal from the directorship of Gary Cooper and Merle Oberon in "The Lady and the Cowboy" is that he refused to attend a conference with Producer Goldwyn. Summarily ousted, he then wanted to discuss it, but by that time Goldwyn didn't want to talk.

Actors Go Choochoo, Montague Upsiedaisies

They whistle while they work: Employes of Walt Disney have been given a five-day, 40-hour week, and a two-week vacation with pay. . . . Tyrone Power, Gary Cooper, Harold Lloyd and Director Lloyd Bacon have gone crazy over miniature trains. And Al Jolson is studying plans for a costly toy-gauge railroad system to be installed in his garden. . . . John Montague is still around town, golfing and lifting ends of automobiles. Night clubbing, he creeps up behind friends and lifts them, chair and all, up on their tables.

An American producer, Robert Goldstein, went to London and prepared to film "All the Living," a play dealing almost exclusively with insane people and adapted from the book, "I Knew 10,000 Lunatics."

But the Lord Chamberlain, who's the boss censor, ordered a change in the script — he decreed that all the lunatics had to be taken out of the story.

Two Are Charged In Theft Of Galveston Auxiliary Sailboat

GALVESTON, July 6 (AP)—Marion Ryan and Edgar Peel, Galveston seamen arrested in the Gulf of Mexico aboard the stolen auxiliary sailboat Artemis, Tuesday were charged with theft of the yawl under state laws, and preliminary hearings on charges of violating federal laws were continued until Thursday afternoon.

Harry Hawley jr., owner of the boat, filed the new charges in the court of Justice of the Peace R. M. Kupsa. Examining trials will be held today.

United States Commissioner George W. Coltzer continued hearings on charges alleging conspiracy to take the boat by force from its place in the harbor onto the high seas after Peel entered a plea of guilty. Ryan denied the federal charges.

Both men were returned to the Galveston county jail in default of $2000 bonds set in a preliminary hearing Sunday.

Approximately 2000 carloads of potatoes are used in the United States daily.

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP)—A wall clock in Zion Evangelical Sunday school at Forest Junction has been in continuous service 53 years and keeps good time. Manrow Schubring, 75, bought it for $5 when he was the 22-year-old superintendent.

FUSES DIE IN STORM

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—Motorists on two-mile-high Berthoud pass, near here, recently reported that an electrical storm burned out the fuses of automobiles, leaving dozens of cars stranded. The storm seemed to fill the air with so much electricity the fuses blew without being struck.

19—Livestock For Sale

Lubbock Auction And Commission Co.
AUCTION SALE EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

LUBBOCK AUCTION AND COMMISSION COMPANY is the logical place to sell your livestock for it is a conceded fact that this is the greatest livestock market in West Texas.

Ample pen room, feeding and weighing facilities provide a service which enables sellers to find a DEPENDABLE auction market every Tuesday and Friday.

Active demand for all classes of cattle this week forced the market to remain fully steady to 25c higher. Large and small packers have created a demand for beef and butcher cattle. Order buyers insure a steady outlet for stocker and feeder cattle.

During the hot summer months, our Tuesday sale will begin promptly at 12:00 o'clock, rather than 10:00 a. m., but Friday's sale will continue to start as usual.

Phone or wire us for trucks if you have no way to get your cattle in for the sale.

We are bonded for your protection!

Snyder Livestock Market
Of Lubbock, Texas

Since the recent general rain there is a broad demand for stocker cattle and the market for butcher cattle continues good. We had about 500 cattle in our sale Thursday of this week which sold on an active market at good prices. In addition to cattle going through the sales ring we sent out 250 head of stocker cattle on order to Illinois and Indiana. We feel safe in telling you to bring your cattle to this market and they will sell as high or higher than on any other market. We will have cattle to sell at private sale every day in the week. We are well equipped to take care of your cattle and have competent yard men and salesmen. For best results consign your cattle to —

Negroes Leave South's Cities

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 6—The National Resources committee reported today the proportion of negroes in the population of most Southern cities has been decreasing.

The committee's section on population problems found: "The northward migration of negroes has been almost entirely to large urban centers.

A Striking Contrast

"In 1930, 88 per cent of the negro population of the North lived in cities. The situation in the South presents a striking contrast to this; only 32 per cent of all Southern negroes live in cities.

"The percentage of Southern negroes who are found in cities has been rising, but the proportion of the Southern white population living in cities has been increasing still more rapidly so that the proportion of negroes in the population of most Southern cities has been decreasing."

The committee in its annual report cited a new characteristic of the South: "Rapid reduction in reproductive tendency among both whites and negroes with decreases in net fertility between 20 and 40 per cent in most of the Southern states."

Kansas Fugitives

fugitives slugged Harold Waldecker, reformatory tailor shop foreman, locked him in a closet, sawed away bars of the shop, and fled.

With Smiddy and Kraus were Robert and Ralph Durbin, 23, Topeka, serving bank robbery sentences, and Clarence Brown, Kansas City, serving time for robbery with firearms.

Kraus was convicted of murder and Smiddy of bank robbery.

Moore said Kansas authorities were convinced Smiddy was heading back toward familiar haunts, probably around Kilgore.

Three Prisoners Saw Way Out Of Greenville Jail

GREENVILLE, July 6 (AP)—Three prisoners sawed their way out of the Hunt county jail laundry last night, slid down a rope blanket and escaped.

The prisoners were Melvin Haley and Woodrow Haley, brothers given two years each in two cases of burglary, and V. C. (Cotton) Wolford, given two years for automobile theft and two years for burglary.

The Haley brothers also were held for trial in another burglary case.

Officers believed the trio, which escaped from the third floor of the jail, fled in a stolen automobile.

South Is Problem

Excess of births is 10 per thousand, compared with a national average of seven per thousand.

5. The South is wealthy in natural resources and advantages, but is poor in ownership and control of those assets.

6. Southern states are compelled to educate one-third of the nation's children on one-sixth of the nation's educational expenditure.

Wise elephants flee from the jungles at the approach of the driver ants; no living thing can resist the organized attack of these South African insects.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP) — The buying urge came to the surface of the stock market again today after a moderate set back from the steep midyear advance had run its course.

A late wave of orders, concentrated mostly on coppers, oils and other industrial groups, gave the market a vigorous shove upward, overcoming the hesitancy that prevailed most of the session.

Early losses running to more than 2 points in representative issues were replaced by gains that ranged to 4 points in the strongest movers.

Trading slowed almost to a standstill on the sell-off, making a noticeable contrast with the buying stampede, then picked up when the rally got going. Transactions approximated 1,600,000 shares.

Some stocks swept ahead to new highs for the bull movement on the late buying wave, notably among the mining, oil and miscellaneous industrial groups.

Motor shares also forged to the front, giving expression to remaining months of this year. General Motors and Chrysler touched the best prices recorded this year.

Among the outstanding gainers were Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Westinghouse Electric, Anaconda Copper, Kennecott, Cerro de Pasco, Johns Manville, Allis Chalmers, Santa Fe, Montgomery Ward, Union Carbide, Dow Chemical, Great Northern Preferred, International Harvester, Bethlehem Steel and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Setons To Lecture At College Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton of Santa Fe, N. M., will lecture on Indian culture at 8 o'clock tonight, a motion picture show will be presented Thursday night and a band concert and dance Friday night as the concluding numbers on the first summer term's recreational program at Texas Technological college.

Recreational program officials announced this morning that "Abraham Lincoln", motion picture tracing the life of the Great Emancipator from his log cabin birth to his death in the presidential box of a theater, will be presented Thursday night. Joan Blondell, Walter Huston and H. B. Walthall are included in the cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Seton, who will lecture on the south lawn of the administration building, are authors and authorities on Indian lore. They conduct Seton institute, a summer school in Santa Fe in which approximately 70 kinds of Indian handicraft are taught. Seton is author of more than 30 books and Mrs. Seton of three. Summer recreational program officials arranged for the lectures because of interest students evinced in lectures presented by the couple at Tech last spring.

The Thursday night program also will be presented on the administration building lawn. Time has been changed from 8 to 8:15 o'clock.

R. A. Dhossche, director of Beaumont High school band and first assistant in the Tech summer band school, announced this morning the concluding concert by the intermediate band of the summer school will be presented at 7:30 o'clock Friday night on the lawn. The dance will be conducted afterward in the women's dormitory. The senior band will present its final concert next week.

Regulations To Be Fair

Stations will not have the right to censor material broadcast by any candidate.

Marland Promises To Try To Make FDR's Visit Pleasant

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 6. (AP)—Gov. E. W. Marland promised today he would try to make President Roosevelt's visit here Saturday pleasant "even though the president be coming to Oklahoma for the sole purpose of helping Senator Thomas, as Senator Thomas says."

Marland, an avowed New Dealer; Thomas and Rep. Gomer Smith are rivals for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Tuesday's primary.

Marland Made Request

Mr. Roosevelt has reported he would say a few kind words. Many Oklahomans think they'll be a pat for Thomas.

Several weeks ago, when the president's western tour was announced, Marland wrote Roosevelt urging him not to come to Oklahoma until after the primary. But should the president come earlier, Marland suggested that he receive every Democratic senatorial and congressional candidate on an equal basis.

Thomas To Board Train

Thomas men have announced the senator would board the president's train before it entered Oklahoma and be official host.

Marvin H. McIntyre, a presidential secretary, asked Marland if he expected to meet the president "on arrival at Oklahoma City or where?"

It'll be Oklahoma City, Marland wired back. "You have left me no opportunity to meet him elsewhere."

Last night Marland told a crowd at Shawnee:

"I don't want the president to come here and endorse me.

"You all know me a durn sight better than he does. I don't want his endorsement. I want yours."

Smith will be on the host committee to greet the president. He hasn't had much to say in the controversy.

Refugees Session

liminary negotiations for settling the refugee problem—made acute by the Austro-German union March 13.

The Americans made it plain, however, that the United States' attitude was one of helpfulness rather than direction. Officials said they were trying to help shape plans but "we do not intend to be the final judges of whatever may be done."

Taylor Inclined To Refuse

Consequently some hesitation was shown in considering French plans to make Taylor chairman of the conference, officially known as the intergovernmental committee on political refugees.

Taylor said he was inclined to refuse to serve and other Americans said frankly they hoped "it would not happen."

Four Items On Program

The conference program listed four important items:

1. Steps to facilitate settlement in other countries of German political refugees who, for the purposes of the conference, were defined as "persons desiring to leave Germany as well as those who have left already."

2. Immediate assistance for the most urgent cases within existing emigration laws.

3. A system of registering refugees who lack official papers and are unable to obtain any.

4. Establishment of a permanent intergovernmental committee to work out long-range refugee problems in cooperation with existing agencies.

It's Birthday Time For The World's Two Wars

The world's two wars have their birthdays in July. The civil war in Spain is two years old—it started July 18, 1936, in Spanish Morocco and quickly swept to the mainland. With Germany and Italy openly helping the insurgents, all Europe has had a jittery two years. The undeclared war in China is one year old—it started July 7, 1937. The Japanese have been having things pretty much their own way so far as occupying territory is concerned. But the deeper they advance, the more difficulties they run into. For the first 11 months of the war in China, casualties were estimated at 300,000 for the Japanese, more than 1,000,000 for the Chinese. The war cost to Japan has been put at $5,000,000 a day. Total casualties in Spain during the first 18 months of war were estimated at 2,000,000. The war has been costing the loyalist government about $1,410,000 a day. These maps give the highlights of the two conflicts.

In Spain the insurgents apparently have the upper hand.

In China the Japanese continue to go places.

Hull Answers Trade Charges

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Secretary Hull challenged as "fundamentally unsound" today an assertion by Rep. Schneider (Prog-Wis) that the trade agreements program had brought a flood of agricultural products into this country.

In a letter to Schneider, the secretary of state said that during the first five months of 1938 exports of corn had risen to 84,168,000 bushels compared with 66,000 bushels in the same period of 1937, wheat exports had increased to 43,275,000 bushels from 665,000, while imports of corn had dropped from 38,341,000 to 227,000 and of wheat from 6,772,000 to 5,000.

Agreements Criticized

The Wisconsin representative had criticized the trade agreements in a letter to President Roosevelt, published in the congressional record.

Noting that Schneider had included wood, paper and textiles in his agricultural figures, Hull said that our most important agricultural imports are commodities such as rubber, coffee, tea and sugar which either cannot be produced here, or cannot be produced in volume at reasonable cost.

MARTIN CHARGES PARTY

DETROIT, July 6 (AP) — Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, charged the "communist party" today with a "mad effort to gain control" of the union to promote "their alien and dangerous philosophy."

Forest fires, in the United States alone, burned over a total area larger than the entire state of Illinois in 1935.

In his race for Governor four years ago 457,821 votes were cast for Tom Hunter—within 2% of his election. An intensive survey of the State indicates that in this race more than a half million votes will be cast for his election. Join these half million citizens with your vote in the interest of a fair, sound, sensible, economical State Government.

Mexico To Hike Export Duties

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—An authoritative source said today Finance Minister Eduardo Suarez had decided in principle to increase export duties by 12 per cent.

He was reported to have decided upon this course after abandoning most other proposals for creating revenue needed increasingly since government expropriation of foreign-owned oil properties March 18.

It was said Suarez had not decided whether the 12 per cent would be a horizontal increase on present export taxes—which vary widely—or a blanket tax to replace all present taxes.

Will Add $20,000,000

In any case, he was said to have estimated the increase would bring the government 100,000,000 pesos (about $20,000,000) yearly in increased revenues.

At the same time it was asserted that the government is at the point of signing a contract with Davis and Co., New York and European oil firm, to sell oil which would come for the most part from properties expropriated from British and American companies.

One usually well-informed quarter said the contract would involve the sale of $10,000,000 worth of oil during the remainder of this year.

From Lubbock Meinzer and Turner went to Plainview to confer several days with Walter N. White, senior engineer, W. L. Broadhurst and J. W. Lang of the Texas State Board of Water Engineers and authorities of the Oklahoma state engineers' board.

"The South Plains has an almost inexhaustible underground water supply," Meinzer said.

Color Pigment Taken From One Animal And Given To Another In New Operation; New Idea Of Skin Coloring Is Obtained

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 6.—Color pigment taken from one animal and given to another by a scientific operation developed at Stanford university here and as a result science has a new idea of the nature of skin coloring.

Pigment, it was found, has a certain degree of independence from the skin it marks, and the patterns which pigments make are caused by something in the pigment itself.

Salamanders Change Stripes

In the new operation salamanders have been made to change their stripes, a feat comparable to causing a leopard to change his spots. The operation was developed by Dr. Victor C. Twitty, professor of biology.

It is done in the embryonic stage of development, when the salamander is still tiny and colorless. None of its organs has appeared yet, except in rudimentary form.

Out of one of these rudiments, called the neural tube because it will later become the animal's brain and nervous system, Dr. Twitty takes a tiny bit of tissue. His instruments are the delicate scissors used by eye surgeons. The colorless cells they pick up are the ones that later becomes the salamander's black skin pigment.

Forms Pattern On Skin

If left alone the pigment migrates from the nerve center, and, forms a pattern on the salamander's skin. This pattern is either a long black stripe along each side of the back, or a darkening of the entire body, like the pigment which overspreads the human skin in tanning.

When the operation transfers this future pigment protoplasm to another salamander, in substitution for its own the coloring matter continues to make the same pattern. This happens even when the pigment is transferred to another species of salamander, whose natural color pattern is different. The "stripe" pigment will make a stripe on an unstriped salamander. The "unstriped" pigment will spread all over the body of a striped salamander so that his stripe disappears.

To prove that it is the pigment and not the animal which possesses the power over the pattern, Dr. Twitty has used artificial insemination to cross-breed striped and dark salamanders.

At the height of Lancashire's cotton famine during the Civil war, the British government gave relief to 485,434 cotton mill workers.

Sailplanes Go High Tuesday In National Soaring Competition

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—A millionaire sportsman sent a fragile sailplane more than a mile above the earth Tuesday to break unofficially his own American altitude record of 6,223 feet.

Richard C. duPont of Wilmington, Del., reported he reached a height of 6,700 feet above his starting point (Harris Hill, approximately 1,600 feet) in a 24-mile flight in the National Soaring meet.

DuPont had scarcely reported his flight before Peter Riedel, German soaring ace, phoned from New York City where he landed after a 182-mile flight from Elmira.

Riedel said he reached 8,600 feet, but his mark will not count as an American record because he is not a United States citizen.

Although Jefferson's Declaration of Independence was adopted on July 4, 1776, the colonies had adopted the resolution of independence July 2.
