EPIDEMIC THREATENS IN FLOOD AREA

CITY MANAGER FINDS $50,000 FOR FT. WORTH

Water Pipe Reclaimed At Huge Saving Under New Government

SYSTEM EFFICIENT

Better Service at Lower Cost Made Under Manager Plan of Rule

By ROBERT E. HICKS
City Editor, Fort Worth Star-Telegram

FORT WORTH, May 1.—In my article yesterday I told how the city manager form of government, after two years of operation, had eliminated million-dollar overdrafts for current expenses and how the civil service among city employees had increased the pay for the efficient and weeded out the inefficient.

There are other interesting accomplishments to be listed under this form of government and probably the most novel of them all is the story of the "lost pipe." This is the case where the city owned a quantity of pipe, but none of the officials, apparently were cognizant of the fact(nor were they aware of the value of the pipe.

A quantity of cast iron water pipe, buried and unused for 10 years, was located by the city, reclaimed and pressed into service in growing parts of the city. This pipe, at prevailing prices is worth $50,000.

The current budget for the water department is $15,000 a year less than in previous years, despite the fact that its business is increasing at the rate of one per cent per month.

Another $50,000

Still another $50,000 was obtained by the city from a bonding company which was surety for a former tax assessor and collector, and represented in his accounts which were not recovered until the city manager plan was inaugurated, although some of the short items ran back several years.

Nearly $1,000,000 in delinquent taxes, some of it owing for 20 years or more, has been collected by the city since the new administration went in.

A centralized purchasing department was inaugurated and a storeroom provided to permit quantity purchases which has resulted in savings of from 10 to 20 per cent on automobile tires, tubes and parts, $600 a year in the stationery bill and $6000 a year in gasoline contracts.

The council also made a new contract for electricity for street lighting under which the city saves $30,000 a year and forced a reduction in domestic light rates which is saving citizens $172,000 a year.

Bond Issue For Improvements

After the new administration has been in office only a few months it was successful in having approved by the voters a bond issue of $7,659,000, the largest municipal improvement bond issue ever authorized by a city in Texas. With funds derived from this issue, the city is carrying on an extensive campaign of street widening and paving, water and sewer extensions, park and recreation facilities expansion and is building a modern air port.

At the expiration of the first two-year term under the city manager plan, all members of the city council were re-elected. Four of the five councilmen had opponents in the election, and friends of the new form of government point with pride to the fact that the opposition campaign was directed against four members of the council individually and that not a single word of opposition was voiced against the city manager plan.

BEATEN TO DEATH

Boy Leads Way to Corpse As Choir Sings In Building

LITTLE ROCK, Ark, May 1. (AP)—A confession that he murdered 12-year-old Floella McDonald and concealed her body in the belfry of the First Presbyterian church, where it was found late yesterday was obtained today from Lonnie Dixon, 16-year-old son of Fred Dixon, negro janitor of the church, police announced tonight.

The young negro, who, with his father, had been held since the discovery of the body, told police where the library book which the girl was carrying home from the city library when she disappeared April 12 and a part of her clothing might be found in a garage. They were found there, the police said.

The confession of the youth did not implicate his father, who gave police information which led to the discovery of the body while the church choir was rehearsing in the church below.

The elder Dixon, who made the discovery, reported it to members of the choir and police were called.

A blood-stained brick, believed to have been used to kill the girl, was found beside her body.

Where Steamer Threatens New Orleans Levee

Just above the city of New Orleans, the steamship "Inspector" has crashed through the levee, so that the whole town is endangered. A break in the river barricade below the town is the only solution to the situation which threatens to completely flood the city, the authorities say. This picture shows the levee above above New Orleans, as it looks at present.

HEALTH PROGRAM

Texas "Bookkeeping on Human Life" Very Poor, He Says.

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—Lax "bookkeeping on human life" in Texas is working an injustice both to new born babies and to the state's chances for a constructive health program based on vital statistics, Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, said Saturday, announcing a campaign for more efficient birth regulation and record of deaths.

Dr. Anderson recently called attention to the fact that Texas not included in the federal book of vital statistics, because only 70 per cent of the births and 78 per cent of the deaths are reported.

Ninety per cent reports in each are required for federal recognition.

He measured 15 feet across; his weight estimated at more than a ton.

Country girls eager to get a glimpse of the popular heir to the throne, besieged the car despite the scandalized protest of the prince's attendants, and finally the harassed and embarrassed prince was compelled to clutch his garments and dash for the seclusion of a nearby lunch wagon where the door was promptly locked and the blinds drawn.

Man Sentenced To Death and Saved By Taft, Now Seeks His Freedom

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Vuco Perovich, who lived for four years in the shadow of the hangman's rope, and spent 16 more behind gray prison walls, will make a fight for liberty before the U. S. supreme court tomorrow on one of the strangest pleas ever heard by that august tribunal.

Perovich will argue, through his attorneys, that former President Taft had no right to commute to life imprisonment a death sentence which had hung over his head for four years. He objects to being doomed to spend a lifetime in prison, he says, and never gave his consent to it.

Asks Freedom

So to the very tribunal over which Taft now presides, Perovich's attorney will make the argument that because his "constitutional rights" have been violated he should be set free.

Perovich has convinced one court that he is right. The federal court of Kansas ordered him released for Leavenworth penitentiary on habeas corpus. He is now running a barber shop in Rochester while the supreme court grapples with this strange problem for which little precedent has been found.

The supreme court got the problem from the eighth circuit court of appeals. Instead of passing upon an appeal by the department of justice against the district court decision freeing Perovich, the appellate tribunal drew up a set of questions and asked the highest court to answer them. These questions involve the whole theory of executive clemency.

Did the president have authority to commute the sentence? If he did not, was the document he signed a conditional pardon? And if it was a conditional pardon was Perovich's express acceptance necessary to make it valid?

Upheld In Court

Perovich contends it was a conditional pardon, and that such a pardon was not effective unless expressly accepted.

"A convict has no power to reject or obstruct effect of any exercise of the pardoning power and force execution of his sentence, except in the case of a true conditional pardon, of such a nature as to require voluntary compliance," replied the department of justice in its brief.

"The public interest and not the whim of a convict should be paramount."

Perovich was convicted of murder in Alaska in 1905 and sentenced to be hanged. Even then his case travelled all the way to the supreme court, but the sentence was upheld. Respites were granted by various authorities until at last, in 1909, Taft commuted the sentence.

Perovich went to McNell Island, and later to Leavenworth. Twice he failed to win a pardon. Then, two years ago, he pushed constitutional questions with such force as to win at least temporary freedom.

PETITION FOR CHIEF

Electra Friends of Taylor Ask His Reinstatement.

ELECTRA, May 1.—Between 25 and 30 petitions were started in Electra Saturday afternoon for the restoration of James T. Taylor, as chief of police, and the restoration of A. C. Rippy, as police commissioner.

This came about the result of the action taken at the city council last Wednesday night, when Chief of Police James T. Taylor was released, and Tom Shook, local officer named as his successor, at the expiration of Taylor's term, June 1. Other and numerous changes were made in the city council, including the changing of Commissioner A. C. Rippy from the police commission to the finance and sanitary commission.

DIVORCE CASES

Cook Scheduled to Clean Docket Monday.

Ninety-three divorce cases filed in the 78th district court will be dropped from the court docket Monday, according to an announcement made several days ago by Judge W. W. Cook.

Judge Cook asserted that he would dismiss divorce cases that had been pending on his court docket for more than one year. The cases to be dismissed Monday were filed prior to May 1, 1926.

After the 93 cases are dismissed Judge Cook announced that there would be 168 divorce cases remaining on the 78th district court docket.

COOLIDGE TO GREET FLYERS

"Good Will" Tourists Back In Washington

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Bolling field was a beehive of industry today as preparations went forward swiftly for the homecoming tomorrow of the army "good-will" flyers from their 20,000-mile flight around Latin America.

Special grandstands and boxes were hastily erected for the accommodation of President Coolidge and other distinguished guests who will greet the weary birdmen as they complete the final leg of their arduous journey, which began at San Antonio, Texas, last December.

Meanwhile, the flyers enjoyed a complete day of rest at Langley field, Va., a short two hours "hop" by air from their final destination at Bolling field.

The four planes will leave for Washington tomorrow afternoon, escorted by a convoy of planes bearing Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davison and Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air corps.

A feature of the "homecoming" reception will be a flying exhibition participated in by army aviators from Bolling field.

$ 1500 ELECTRA FIRE $

Garage and Furniture Destroyed Early Sunday.

ELECTRA, May 1.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the garage belonging to Tom Grisham, prominent citizen, early Sunday morning. The garage and contents, which had a large amount of furniture stored in it, was valued at approximately $1500. Mr. Grisham was spending the week-end at Lake Kemp and until late Sunday did not know of his loss. One room of the building had been used for a bedroom for Mr. Grisham when he was in the city, his wife being in Fort Worth and Miss Jaunita, a daughter, a student in the College of Industrial Arts in Denton.

An alarm was given at 2:40 Sunday morning and the entire fire department was summoned. Neighbors were awakened by a night employe at the Electra Ice company who first discovered the blaze. From all indications the fire started on the south side of the two-room building.

MYSTERY BOX TO BE OPENED

Casket Closed in 1814 to Be Opened to Light

Special to The Record News.

LONDON, May 1.(AP)—Noctovision, television, and other most powerful visions will be brought into play to penetrate the inner secrets of Joanna Southcott's famous mystery box if X-ray tests next week fail to reveal its contents.

The mahogany box of the prophetess who had a large following on her death in 1814 is in the possession of Harry Price, secretary of the national laboratory of psysicial research and it will be opened if all other tests fail.

Mediums Invited

Mr. Price has invited 20 leading mediums, Conan Doyle, Sir Oliver Lodge and others interested in a psychical research to aid in solving the long standing puzzle of the contents of the box which have attracted much attention at intervals for more than 100 years.

Tradition has it that when Joanna, who has a domestic servant and later became a religious fanatic, died, she turned a mysterious box over to Rebecca Pengarth, her sole companion, who solemnly promised it never would be opened except in a national crisis and in the presence of 24 bishops. Rebecca married John Morgan and bequeathed the box to her son, John, who was a gardener for a Devonshire family. On his death bed, John turned the box over to his employer asking him to follow out Joanna's wishes. His last words were: "Don't forget the bishops."

The Devonshire man now has gone to Africa and has turned the box over to Mr. Price.

To X-ray Box

Prior to the X-ray tests, the box will be subjected to seances and mediums will "psychometrize" around it and then write their impressions of what is inside. After this the box will be X-rayed and placed under other rays such as the recently announced "noctovision" by which objects can be seen through fog. If the various tests fail to reveal all the contents of the box, Mr. Price says that it will be opened publicly.

FIRE ON SHIP

Chinese Direct Guns Against an American Boat

SHANGHAI, May 1. (AP)—The American steamer President Lincoln was fired on from the native city of Shanghai today. A dozen rifle shots rattled about the steamer, but there were no casualties.

The steamer, a passenger and freight liner plying between Seattle and Japanese and Chinese ports, was steaming from the harbor, bound for the sea, when the firing occurred.

DOCTORS AND NURSES RUSH TO TENT CITIES

Disaster in Form of Disease New Menace to Stricken Area

FOUR DROWN IN FLOOD

Small Boat Turns Over When Caught in Choppy Currents of River

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 1. (AP)—A negro was shot by a Mississippi national guardsman here tonight near the water front in an affray which arose over the question of whether the negro would aid in carrying relief supplies aboard a boat.

By Universal Service Staff.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 1.—With added disaster in the form of a nepidemic hovering over the inundated Mississippi valley, public health authorities today frantically pushed ahead preparations to combat this devastating monster.

Death from the onrushing waters so far have been low, but ominous warnings that nature run wild may throw into the wake of the flood waters grim pestilence, caused federal and state health authorities to organize on a war basis.

Houses Crowded

Emergency hospitals are rapidly being set up at refugee camps. Plans are made to rush medical corps to dry spots where hundreds of persons are huddled together like sheep, packed in upper stories of houses and barns like sardines.

Forecasts of rain for Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana game added impetus to the mobilization of doctors and nurses. A steady rain may be followed by pneumonia and other diseases, it was feared.

There are nurses aplenty in the Mississippi flood zone to meet first thrusts of a nepidemic and there are thousands of others scattered over the country ready to respond on an instant's notice, according to Dr. William R. Redden, national Red Cross medical officer.

As the flood waters roll southward, forcing added thousands to evacuate, it was feared they would leave pestilence behind. Insanitary conditions will be multiplied, health authorities said.

Came reports to relief headquarters here today that Vicksburg, Miss., was waring a great struggle to prevent a flooding of that city's industrial section along the water front.

Fight For Industries

Guards are posted there day and night, watching for evidence of breaks in the levee or "sand boils." As the pressure on the levees becomes stiffer, with the rising water, the raging stream already has forced water under the levee. This is called a sand boil. As soon as such a "boil" appears, a circle of sand bags is built around the rising water to the height of the main stream. Once the water rises to that point, the boil has been checked. Fear that a boil will break through before it can be remedied has resulted in the watch along the river.

As most of Vicksburg rests on a high bluff, there is no danger of a general flood there, but millions of dollars worth of property hang in the balance along the water front.

The water is steadily rising at Vicksburg, and the crest was said to be still several days away. The main crest in the Mississippi has yet to register its full force at Vicksburg, as well as the main swell in the Yazoo river.

Army engineers here today frankly admitted they expect more breaks in the main levee on the Mississippi river below Vicksburg.

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 1. (AP) Four white men were drowned when their small boat overturned in the overflow waters a few miles north of Vicksburg, according to a report made today to Red Cross headquarters here.

The dead:

S. D. Lee, Valley Park railroad section foreman.

William Beach, Valley Park, levee contractor.

C. S. Mullen, 18, Onward, Miss., and Roger Yates, Vicksburg, telephone lineman.

BREAKING OF LEVEES FAILS TO AID NEW ORLEANS
By Universal Service.

NEW ORLEANS, Maq 1.—The benefit to be realized by the city of New Orleans through the crumbling of the levees at Glasscock and Vidalia was minimized today in an official government statement issued by Dr. I. M. Cline, chief meteorologist of the district.

The water flowing through the crevasse above will eventually find its way back into the Mississippi and ..oin with the flood crest that will menace New Orleans during the next two weeks.

Dr. Cline's bulletin, which was the most important official communication given out today, follows:

"With other levees, below Vicksburg, holding, unless the Glasscock crevasse widens, the Natchez stage will reach 58.5 feet. The water flowing through the Glasscock crevasse will return to the main streams, joining the floods of the Ouachita and Red rivers and intensifying the flood situation in the Atchafalaya and Mississippi rivers below Old river.

Mississippi Steamboats Famed In Song and Story Play Epic Rescue Role

By Universal Service.

VICKSBURG, Miss., April 1.—The steamboat, in spite of all modern development, still stands in first place as the craft best adapted to the Mississippi river. Hundreds of these boats are today plying the river carrying thousands of flood refugees to safety.

The type has not changed in 50 years. Learned engineers and optimistic inventors have launched gasoline-driven barges on the bosom of the great river, but claims made for them have not held good in navigating the greatest flood the river has ever known.

The Mississippi steamboat, famed in song and story, is light, efficient and graceful. Most of these crafts contain three decks with pilot house and smokestack extending far above the hurricane deck.

Paddle Drives Ship

The hull is flat and the craft is driven by a paddle wheel usually mounted at the stern, although there are big boats with a paddle wheel on either side.

These boats can navigate in 18 inches to three feet of water. The paddle wheels merely skim over the surface and the "buckles" as the paddles are called, do not become entangled in obstructions as do the screw-propellers on more modern craft. A boat driven by screw-propeller requires from six to seven feet of water.

Steamboats bringing thousands of refugees into Vicksburg come from flooded regions far inland. They make their way over flooded plantations, ease among wooded islands and push over their way through cane breaks and tops of tall trees now all but covered by the flood.

Some of these boats tow great barges—flat-bottomed scows—capable of carrying from 500 to 1000 refugees. Some of the boats that have landed here have brought a total of 2000 refugees on a single trip.

Make 18 Miles Hour

The boats are capable of making from 12 to 18 miles an hour, a speed that cannot always be maintained because of floating obstructions. Off the beaten channel the boats "feel their wayy' at two or three miles an hour. It is dangerous navigation. Treetops, old stumps, corner posts in submerged fields, inundated houses, barns and summerged freight cars all offer a hazard to the pilots of these crafts penetrating the interior of the flooded region.

Powerful searchlights aid the pilot at night, but often the pilots become lost in this great inland sea and steam for hours, not knowing his location. It is on these excursions that marooned victims of the flood are often found and rescued.

Woman's Attorneys Ask Prosecution Of Two Witnesses For Judd Gray

LONG ISLAND CITY, May 1.—Henry Judd Gray, who with Mrs. Ruth Snyder is being tried for the murder of Albert Snyder, the latter's husband, on March 20, was restless in his cell at the county jail today. The balmy spring day gave Gray the wanderlust and he pined for the "outside."

Spring Calls Him

"This weather makes me feel like traveling," Gray said to his keeper when the sun broke through the gratings this morning.

Interest in the Snyder case proceedings today centered on the possibility of dragging in two Syracuse friends of Gray against whom Mrs. Snyder's lawyers have been urging action by the prosecuting officers both at Long Island City and Syracuse.

Dana Wallace of counsel for Mrs. Snyder wired the district attorney of Syracuse, urging that indictments be brought against Haddon Gray and Harry Platt, against whom charges of assisting in framing an alibi for Henry Judd Gray were made. In a statement this afternoon Richard S. Newcombe, district attorney of Queens county, said:

"If Haddon Gray and Harry Platt committed a crime, they will be prosecuted for it at the proper time by the district attorney in Syracuse, and in my office will see to that without any aid from the defendant Snyder's counsel.

"Whether Haddon Gray at Platt committed a crime in their efforts to cover up the movements of the defendant Gray has nothing to do with the fact that the defendants Snyder and Gray are charged with the murder of Albert Snyder in Queens Village on March 20.

"This is another attempt by the defendant Snyder's counsel to befog the issue. At present, I have no interest in Haddon Gray or Harry Platt other than as witnesses for the prosecution."

Newcombe denied today that he has employed detectives to shadow the two Syracuse men.

Literary Department Meets In Closing Session Saturday

Presenting a group of out-of-town speakers, Mrs. J. M. F. Gill of Burkburnett, Mrs. H. B. Criswell and Miss Elna Martin of Dallas, the literary department of the Woman's Forum met in the closing session of the club season Saturday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Mrs. Criswell talked on "The Literary Impulse," and read a group of Lew Sarett's poems, including "To a Grove of Silver Birches:" "God, Let Me Flower as I Will," and "Deep Wet Moss;" and Miss Martin, who was formerly head of the English department at a school in Soo Crow, China, talked on "Young China," and gave many personal glimpses into the lives of the people.

There were approximately 75 members of the department and of the Forum present. The session was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. J. C. Berney.

Young Wichita Falls

Master Allen P. Terrell is the 11 months old son of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Terrell. Needless to say that he is one of Wichita Falls most attractive children for when one takes a look at his big brown eyes and other attractive features that fact is evident. Master Terrell can't be bothered right now with the deep mysteries of medicine, but some day he may be Dr. A. P. Terrell Jr.

MODISH MITZI — Mitzi Almost Has A Relapse — By JAY V. JAY

This is terrible news. The friends of Dad's who were going to chaperon Mitzi in Paris can't go and Aunt Sophia is much concerned. Mitzi is a little too interested in Aunt Sophia's frock of sheer black with side jabot and skirt draped to care much about the lack of a chaperon.

Dad says Mitzi can't possibly go without a chaperon. As Mitzi says, that's absurd. One can easily go to Paris without a chaperon—of course, one can't go without a companion. Even in her sorrow Mitzi looks charming in a sheer frock of coral georgette with a white bodice.

Mitzi is feeling ill. She's really going to have a relapse. And Dad knows that the doctor said a trip abroad was what she needed. How can he be so cruel to her? All for lack of a chaperon! Mitzi is relapsing in a georgette frock with a scallopen cape of the very newest cut.

Dad capitulated. He always does. Mitzi perhaps is right about the chaperon and also about the companion. Mitzi might like to have Polly go with her? Mitzi would and Polly, who has just arrived in a coat of satin trimmed with moire ribbon, would like it very much indeed.

Tomorrow—SILK SUITS, TOO.

WHO MADE WOODROW WILSON?

NOW WE know who made Woodrow Wilson. Many books have been written on the subject by many authors. Edward N. Hurley of Chicago has given to his countrymen a book which carries the title "The Bridge to France." Edwin N. Hurley was wartime chairman of the United States Shipping Board. For years before the coming of the war he was the personal friend of Woodrow Wilson.

He says in his book that John Maynard Harlan of Chicago, republican and Princeton graduate, first suggested Woodrow Wilson for governor of New Jersey. Harlan's plan was to see Wilson governor of New Jersey and then president of the United States in 1912.

Roger C. Sullivan of Illinois was a noted democratic boss. Harlan called him in. Sullivan fell for the plan. James Smith of New Jersey was a democratic United States senator and boss. Sullivan was close to him.

Smith was reached. He agreed to back the proposition if Woodrow Wilson "would not start fighting the existing democratic organization in New Jersey."

Author Hurley says that Woodrow wilson gave Smith the pledge. Wilson was elected governor. He turned his back on Smith. He did not recognize the democratic organization. Then Col. Henry Waterson of Louisville, Ky., was called in after Wilson had been elected governor and was well on the way to political fame and fortune. Waterson backed the presidential end of the proposal.

Notwithstanding that Smith and his organization had been tossed overboard by Wilson, the time came when Roger C. Sullivan, head of the Illinois delegation at Baltimore, swung the delegation to Woodrow Wilson after Illinois had voted in the primary for Champ Clark of Missouri, and it was the votes of the Illinois delegates that made the nomination of Woodrow Wilson possible.

It is a matter of history that President Woodrow Wilson turned his back upon Roger C. Sullivan as he had turned his back upon James Smith of New Jersey. He turned his back upon Col. Henry Waterson. This is a matter of history. Smith did just the other day. Roger Sullivan has passed on to his reward. Colonel Waterson, for 50 years a southern idol and leader, is in his grave.

Not long ago the news organizations or agencies carried a story that the friends of Col. E. M. House were indignant because the face of House had been painted out of a Wilson picture.

Now Edwin N. Hurley, and his "Bridge to France" tells it to the wrold that John Maynard Harlan, a republican, was responsible for the political debut of Woodrow Wilson in order to make his president of the United States by first electing him governor of New Jersey.

Life is a queer game. Fame is fleeting. "Who made Woodrow Wilson?" Why, go ask Edward N. Hurley. He knows and he has printed all that he knows in a book.

GOOD FOR YOU DAN

(From the Waco Times Herald)

WE ARE glad to note the fact our Dan is getting acquainted with his constituency. A man serving Texas as governor might easily get to be, as they say back in Arkansas, stuck up, with his head in the clouds and his heart cold and cheerless as Pike's Peak. But not so our Dan. One day he is out there in El Paso shaking hands with those whom ever Claude Hudspeth might not have met by reason of being away from the city when they arrived and began talking lots for sale in Florida. The next day we find Dan in Texarkana trying to figure out if possibly Morris Shepherd doesn't live on the Arkansas side, but all the while shaking hands with the chaps from the Ozarks just as though they might be voters in Harris county, Texas. We like a governor like that, one who gets out among the people and tries to find out what they are thinking about—what they are planning for the future,—with words of encouragement. It will make him a better chief executive. We are hoping that Dan won't pass up any of Pat Neff's park sites, and here's hoping that $4000 salary hasn't already melted away.

SIR GEORGE HAS A MESSAGE

SIR GEORGE PAISON, a famous British editor crossed the Atlantic to the City of New York where he let lose an important interview. He recommended the cancellation of inter-allied debts and of German reparations, dismantling of tariff walls everywhere, and a wholesale building of railroads in undeveloped districts of South America, Australia and China and Russia.

After all this has been done, Sir. George, the London editor, is positive that the world's credit will be saved.

Sir George has an argument. He says every country in the world is in debt as never before and needs a vast expansion of income to enable it to meet its obligations. If there is a break down of credit, it will be a world break down of credit and that break down must be presented at all cost.

Sir George was caught by the spotlight. For an hour he held the center of the stage. Where do we go from here.

LAND LAID WASTE

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS dispatch tells the reader that more than 9000 square miles of fertile lands in Mississippi and Arkansas have been laid waste by the great valley flood, that thousands have been rendered homeless and the loss of crops and livestock and property is almost staggering to the mind. In the flooded area will be found the best cotton lands in the lower Mississippi Valley. Is this one of the reasons why the price of cotton is advancing.

HOOVER IN THE FLOOD COUNTRY

HERBERT HOOVER was dispatched to the flood country in the lower Mississippi valley by President Coolidge. Herbert Hoover is a great American. He is great in the field of business, in the field of finance, in any field where there is constructive work to be done. President Coolidge has issued his call for millions for Red Cross work. Hoover is his strong left arm. He knows how to handle gigantic disasters as well as gigantic problems of economics.

BO BROADWAY ..... By Joseph Van Raalte

NEW YORK, May 1. (EFS)—There are two Plaza hotels in New York. One fringes the sacrosanct precincts of Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, where Rolls-Royces purr and the sunlight slants with subdued brilliance in deference to the beauty and fashion and money foregathered there. The other is at No. 27 Bowery, where life is elemental and a dime is worth exactly 10 cents.

The down town caravansarie doesn't understand why the up-town joint doesn't change its name and thus avoid the confusion that daily ensues on the telephone when members of the Broad A Brigade get the Bowery on the wire when they want Fifth avenue.

"I am Mr. Weaver from Cleveland," says a voice on the phone. "I should like to talk to my wife in Suite 203, please. She—"

At this juncture Mr. Weaver's dulcet tones are interrupted:

"Hey, lissen! You may be a wise guy, but you ain't got no wife at dis hotel. We run a respec-able joint. No skirts ain't allowed to park here, see! You better call up dat dump on Fift' avenuoo!"

Here and there conservative prejudice rears its curly head along the Lane of Derelicts.

A deep-rooted impression prevails there that a hotel is no place for a woman. It isn't exactly a crime for a woman to live at a hotel, but it's a sort of disgrace. It just isn't done on the Bowery, that's all.

Every inn on the street, alongside its multi-colored rehearsal of rates, carries the legend: 'For Gents only."

There's a story to the effect that the manager of the uptown Plaza had his ears assailed once by a gruffy good-natured voice on the phone telling him he had a reg'lar room at his hotel, that it wasn't paid for, for just that night, and that "I picked meself a good job at a hash house on Toid Avenoo, an' be a good guy, will yer, an' hold me flop till I gets in."

The Fifth Avenue Plaza manager says it's a lie; but there's always the stock answer to that:

If on the facts you think I'm shy,
I do not care a darn.
It may be wrong to tell a lie,
But not to spin a yarn.

"Half de time," says the manager of the Bowery Plaza, "I c'n tell it's a mistake de min-yut dey opens de ol' trap. De foist woids dey say you know dey got de wrong dump—askin' fer some Moll or somebody; an' o' course, dis ain't dat kind of a place. Our joint is like all o' dem down here on de Bow'ry—fer gents on'y!"

All New York is acquainted with the roving Calliope that threads the city's thoroughfares towed by a taxi with a Keystone comedy chauffeur.

In the motoring musician's grizzled appearance there is a suggestion of the gun-totin' pianist who shot Dangerous Dan McGrew.

"In a buckskin shirt—" you remember—"that was glazed with dirt, he sat, an' I saw him sway. Then he touched the keys with his talon hands—my God, but that man could play!"

The Calliope is rented out each day for advertising purposes to different individuals and business concerns. It makes not the slightest difference to the gentleman at the keyboard what lettering the oilcloth signs on the sides of the Calliope bear.

He plays and chaws, and chaws and plays. When the Calliope hits a bump or a hollow in the asphalt he drops a bar or two of melody. But his recovery is perfect. His footwork is immense. His philosophic calm is superb. As a musician, he is there 17 ways from the ace.

It would be interesting to learn what his boyhood ambition was.

HEALTH AID DIET ADVICE
By Dr. Frank McCoy
Diet Specialist and Author of "The Fast Way to Health"
GOOD MENUS FOR A WEEK

Correspondents are constantly asking me for a complete list of menus to be used by all of the family, so I have decided to put a set of these menus in the daily health column from time to time. I advise the housewife to cut out today's article, paste it on a piece of cardboard and pin it up in a convenient place in the kitchen, so that it will be constantly in front of the eyes every time a meal is prepared.

These menus are not given with the object of curing any particular disease, but more for those who wish to stay well and who desire to use good food combinations. However, many of you who are suffering from digestive disturbances will find a steady improvement if you will follow these menus or others of a similar nature which are published from time to time.

QUESTION — Mrs. J. C. M. writes: "Is palpitation of the heart a serious heart ailment? If so, in what way? Would it cause a sudden death? What, of the three, are likely to cause palpitation: A leaking valve, weak muscles, or bade nerves? What treatment would you advise?"

ANSWER—The most common cause of your trouble is an excessive amount of gas pressure against the heart. This, in time, will cause valvular leakage, which you may not have developed at the present time. The treatment should be diet and exercise. Be especially careful to use good food combinations to prevent the formation of stomach gas.

QUESTION — Constant Reader writes: "Kindly tell me if there are any ill effects from the continued use of bitter cascara, one dram, every other night. My work is sedentary. I have a few blind hemorrhoids, and long daily walks are almost an impossibilit, also have several varicosey veins. I have many enlarged capillaries which are painful when I am on my feet so much."

ANSWER: I cannot advise the continued use of any laxative. As you have hemorrhoids, varicose veins, and enlarged capillaries, it is evident that your whole circulatory system is in a bad condition, and that you require a proper dietetic and exercise regime in order to bring about an improvement of your circulation.

QUESTION: M. P. R. writes: "Is snoring a disease? If it is, can it be cured?"

ANSWER: Snoring is a symptom of a certain condition of your system, and simply indicates that you have an excess of mucus which is being deposited in your nose, and the nose is thereby closed too much while you are sleeping, and you are forced to breathe through your mouth. The continual flapping of the soft palate makes the peculiar snoring noise. It can always be cured by the fasting and diet treatment.

QUANAH NOTES

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, May 1.—One of the largest community gatherings that Quanah ever held, was staged here Friday afternoon in celebration of National Child Health day. Miss Beatrice Avery, county health nurse, called the meeting and the affair was under her direction. Something like three thousand children took part in the parade and other activities. At 3 o'clock the children were formed in parade order and headed by the Municipal band, marched through the business section of the city. Many decorated automobiles and floats were in line, each representing some phase of child health. The children carried banners and songs as they passed. A health play and Maypole dances were given on the court house lawn. The children showed much interest and the country schools were all represented.

At the invitation of Mrs. Lon V. Smith of Floydada, who is general chairman of the biennial meeting of the Federated Club Women, which meets in San Antonio in 1928, the Ladies' band of Quanah has been asked to play. This is quite an honor, and the members of that organization feel it so. This is the only ladies' band in Texas, and was organized about three years ago. They furnished the music for the Seventh district of Federated clubs, which recently held their convention here.

At a meeting of the city council Tuesday night the contract was let for the paving of sixteen blocks. The contract was given the Burkhart Construction company of Wichita Falls, and is to be two and a half inch brick with reinforced five-inch concrete base. The work will begin at an early date. The streets to be paved are Seventh, Calf, Mercer and Fourth streets. Eddy and Green are ready with petitions, but were too late to be acted on at this meeting.

As a result of the $50,000 bond issue passed at an election in Quanah Tuesday, the high school of this city is to be enlarged and improved. An auditorium is to be added with a seating capacity of 1,500. Plans are to begin at once for the work, to be completed in time for the coming school year in October.

The Rotary club held their weekly luncheon at the Methodist church Tuesday. The board of directors were elected for the following year. The new board members are Emory Goss, George Simmons, C. E. Davis, Dr. Hanna, Bob Williams and Frank Kennerly. At the next meeting the officers for the coming year will be elected.

A wedding of interest to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Ethel Cass and Mr. Ross Rose of Bells, at Thursday morning. Miss Cass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Cass of Quanah, and has been employed in the office of the North Texas Utility company. Mr. Ross is a graduate of A. and M. college, and is with the Eugene Smith Cotton company.

The schools of Quanah will close May 13th. A large class o fgraduates will receive diplomas. Dr. Splawn of the University of Texas will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Methodist church.

"Be Yourself" First Step On Road To Popularity, Says Dorothy Dix

If You Want Boys to Flock Around Don't Be Too Eager, or Clever, or Imitate Some Other Girl Who Is Popular: Just Be Yourself; Have Welcome on the Mat, but Don't Kiss Him in Gratitude When He Calls.

A pretty young girl wants to know why she is more popular with old men and married men than she is with boys of her own age.

There may be several reasons for this, daughter. You may be more mature than the boys of your own age. Flapperism isn't a question of years. It is a matter of temperment. There are grandmothers who are still girlie-girlies and on a mental par with rah-rah college boys, and there are girls still in their teens who are settled and sedate and poised and who have nothing in common with lads in their salad days.

A woman much older than a boy can always attract him if she will, because she knows all of the arts and wiles of flirtation and how to play upon his vanity and rouse his emotions, but the young-old girl lacks this experience and wisdom. She is mentally too old to play childish games with a boy and yet not old enough to know how to play the love game, and so she falls between the stools. She is neither fish nor flesh nor good red herring —neither pal nor sweetheart to the youth of her own age, and so they pass her by for some girl who is as callow as they are or some woman years older than they are whom they worship as a divinity.

Perhaps you fail to attract the boys of your own age because you are more intelligent and better educated than they are. Grown-up men like women who have brains and who carry an interesting line of conversation. They enjoy as companions girls who read and think and are well informed, but the average youth would run faster from a girl with a high brow than he would from one afflicted with leprosy.

He wants a girl who will chatter as meaningiessly as a sparrow, who will giggle over his inane jokes, who has the latest hair bob and the shortest skirt, who can do the most wiggles in the Charlston and who is pretty and peppy and just as silly and ignorant and inconsequent as he is.

Indeed, his overweening sense of masculine superiority to everything feminine causes him to demand a girl who has less intelligence than he has, and that's why the less a girl knows the more popular she is.

She makes the boys feel big and wise and important, and they flock around her, while the clever, well-educated, well-read girl makes them feel at a disadvantage. So they leave her at home to contemplate her college degree while they date up the beautiful-but-dumb.

But most likely the reason why you attract old men and married men instead of boys your own age is because you are simple and natural and unaffected with the men whom you are not trying to please, while you are artificial with the boys you are trying to attract.

There are girls who, in their overanxiety to attract men, repulse them. With women or with married men they are delightful; they are natural, sincere—just themselves.

Let a young man come along however, and their whole manner changes. They pose for his benefit. They affect airs and grace that are foreign to them. They put on mannerisms that sit awakwardly on them. The very tones of their voice are altered.

I have seen girls, if they had been with another woman, wouldn't have batted an eye if they met a roaring lion coming down the road, but who went into hysterics of fright at the sight of a mouse if there was a man around. I have seen girls whom the very smell of tobacco smoke nauseated heorically smoking cigarettes with with an expression of agony on their faces because they thought men admired sports. I have seen quiet, demure, ladylike girls acting like hoodlums because they believed that that was the way to make a hit with men.

Now, there are men who like clinging vines to hang on to them and men who enjoy girls who are sports and men who like wild women, but the woman has to belong naturally to that type. She is only attractive when she is the real thing. Nobody wants her when she is a camouflged article. No man likes insincerity in a woman. No man admires the poser or the pretender.

And that's why the girl falls down who is so eager to please men that she tries to be what she thinks they want her to be. If she had just been herself they would have been attracted to her as are the old men and the married men, who know just how sweet and nice she is when she isn't strutting her stuff.

Or perhaps, daughter, the reason you do not attract men is because you are so eager for their attentions that you scare them away. Perhaps from being the pursued you have turned into the pursued and they flee from you as from a deadly peril.

It is not easy for a girl to strike just the right note, to show the exactly proper amount of psychological pleasure in a man's attentions and keep her welcome at the precise temperature where it neither freezes him out nor boils over in joy at his beginning to notice her. If there ever was a time when a maiden piqued a man's interest in her by flouting him and when the colder a woman was to a man the hotter his passion sizzled, that day has passed. Lady Disdain would never be asked to step out by the modern young man.

But on the other hand, a girl does queer her chances by running after a man too much and being too grateful for condescending attention. No man gets any thrill out of throwing an invitation to a girl who is sitting around waiting for it like a hungry dog for a bone. The date he gets the kicks out of is the one he has to scheme and struggle for.

And the only reaction that the man gets from the girl who hounds him from place to place on the telephone, demanding to know why he doesn't call and when he is going to call and won't he call tomorrow night or the next night, or the next night, is to make him determined not to be coerced into doing anything he doesn't want to do or to take any girl out until he gets good and ready.

So there you are, daughter. And if you want to attract a young man of your own age, the best advice I can give you is not to try to scintillate—just be yourself. Have welcome on you doormat, but don't fall on a boy's neck and kiss him in gratitude when he comes to see you.

GOTTA HURRY

The only unpleasantry stuck on the Steers yesterday is while Wichita Falls was winning one, her nearest pursuer, Houston, copped a couple.

* * *

And it begins to look like the only way we can outrun the Buffs is bill a bunch of doubleheaders ourselves, and win 'em all.

* * *

We get our initial glimpse of these busting Buffs next Monday. Houston follows into Wichita Falls on the heels of the Exporters for what looms like the first "crucial series" of the season.

* * *

The Spudders perform for the ladies this afternoon in Dallas and Manager Williams is at a loss which chunker to choose. Jim Roberts, of course, should be the selection. But the manager wasn't decided last night.

* * *

WACO HERE TUESDAY

Then back home Tuesday afternoon with the walloping Wacoans. Dell Pratt's combination has been, second to the Spudders, the greatest surprise team of the league. If Pratt's hurling corps can live up to anything near expectation, the Cubs will cause serious trouble for more than one would-be pennant contender.

* * *

Waco has surpassed expectations at bat and afield so far, but has not come through in the manner predicted from a pitching angle. The race is young, and Cub throwers may be right in there ere long.

* * *

What did I tell you about Fussell? He is credited with another victory over Dallas. Whenever a Fussell win over the Steers is predicted it is no idle guess. If this lefthander could hurl against Dallas every day, taking for granted a pitcher could work every day, in fair form, which, of course, he couldn't, Dallas never would break into the win column.

* * *

Fussell, if no serious injury happens to him, stands in a fair way of topping the league's lefthanders, if not the entire loop, in games won this year.

* * *

HOW THEY WALLOP

Your haughty Spudders this morning are packing a .310 team batting average in their bludgeon bag. Yesterday's nine blows brought the otal base knocks up to 190. That's almost an average of 11 safeties to a game, figuring in that seven-inning tie here with Shreveport on the other 17 games we've played.

The bulk of the bludgeoning has been carried by Turgeon, Lapan, Fitzgerald, Lamb and Swenson. That, of course, isn't taking in several of the pitchers such as Estell and Payne who have been walloping at a mean gait the times they have been in the game.

* * *

Statistics on the Spudders, including Sunday's game, as compiled by Ichabod:

Texas Electrics Capture Twilight League Opener

Francis' Double in Ninth Gives Kilowatts 5-4 Verdict Over Panhandle-Pitching Honors Even Between Conally and Andree

Charley Spragin's Texas Electric Service company nine copped the jump on the rest of the boys Sunday afternoon at Katy park, grabbing the Twilight league inaugural over Bill Hoehn's Panhandle refinery Longhorns by a score of 5 to 4.

The lads played bang-up baseball all the way, although hampered by a high wind that kept dust swirling from the diamond and made fly balls hard to judge.

A fair-sized crowd witnessed the melee. There were a number of notables present, among them being L. C. (Doc) Landon, league president; A. E. (Doc) Kelly, one of the ramrods; Hugh Cotner, the eminent league treasurer and baseball commissioner or something; Assistant Treasurer Leon Horn; and great men like Roy Carter, cop commish, and A. W. King, another politician.

Carter heaved the opening chunk and King did the catching, with Umpire Nealle Vaught explaining the maneuver in stentorian voice.

Francis Wins Game

Coyal Francis won the game for the Electrics, doubling in the ninth inning with Ross on base for the winning score.

The pitchers, Bill Andree and Snipe Connally, broke about even. Anyhow, each team tabbed only six base hits.

The work of Horton and Ross, catchers, was superb. Miller waged a sensational game at third base for the Kilowatts and Cox came through with perfect handling of 21 chances at first base.

Panhandle broke away to a lead in the first inning when Speck Roberts led off with a base on balls. Graves dumped a perfect sacrifice bunt down the first base line and was thrown out by Ross. Roberts then stole third and scored when Hinds rolled out to short. Rawls was hit with a pitched ball but was caught napping by Ross and was picked off first.

The Electrics came back and tied the count in their half of the first inning. Francis hit to short and was safe when Hinds booted the ball. Gordon laid down a sacrifice bunt to the box. Doc Allen ripped a single to left field and Francis scored.

The Longhorns again went into the lead in the second. Hohen beat out a high bouncer to the box. McMahon sacrificed him down a notch. Melear slashed a clean two-bagger to right into the cars parked along the outfield line and Hoehn scored. Miller came up with two nice catches to retire the Panhandle battery.

The Longhorns came back in the fifth inning for two more runs. Connally beat out an infield hit to short. Roberts poked a single past short and Connally checked up at second. Graves flied to right and Connally went to third after the catch. Roberts then stole second. Hinds fouled out to Ross. Rawls slashed a single between short and third and continued on to second when the ball got through Blue. Connally and Roberts scored. Francis tossed out Hoehn.

Tied in Fifth

The Kilowatts came back in their half of the fifth and tied the count by chasing over three runs. Ross walked. Andree hit to Roberts, who let the ball get through him. Ross went to third and Andree to second on the play. Hinds made a nice running stop of Francis' infield hit, but was unable to get the runner. Ross scored and Andree went to third. Gordon bunted to Roberts and was tossed out at first, Andree scoring and Francis taking third. Allen grounded out, short to first, with no advance. Francis scored on a passed ball for the tying run. Houseman fouled to Horton.

The two teams then battled along at a tied score until the last of the ninth, in which the Electrics won the game. Connally pulled out of one bad hole only to fall into another.

Maurice Cox opened the inning with a slashing triple to right center. Ross smashed one back at the box, which Connally knocked down and trapped Cox between third and the plate. Ross pulled up at second before Cox could be run down. Andree popped out to Horton. Francis then drove a double into right field and Ross raced home to end the game.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL
Keep On Top of the Ball
As Told by Stars of the Game

By "BABE" PINELLI, Third Baseman, Cincinnati Reds.

To play third base successfully the first thing to learn is to get in front of every ball possible. By doing so, a ball that takes a bad hop gives you a possible play. On the other hand, when played to either side, nine times out of ten the ball is not fielded or judged perfectly and the play is lost. The batter should be studied, noticing to which field he hits more often.

If the batter is a dead left field hitter, play closer to the line; if he hits mostly to right, move nearer the shortstop. Always be alert for bunts and until there are two out, play a few feet ahead of the bag, particularly with a left-handed hitter up, with a man on first and no outs. Try to handle a hard bunt with speed for a force play at second.

Study the different hitters who are fast. Look for a bunt then field accordingly. If a hitter is slow of foot and seldom bunts, play him a few feet back of third base. This enables you to cover more territory. Above all things have lots of pep and always bear in mind how many outs there are during the game.

Grip and Gorman Ready For Battles

Charles Declares He's Not Jealous of Bull, But—

"Who's the ugliest? Why, that doesn't matter," declares Charley Grip, the well-known Buffalo bullet-head. "I never claimed to be handsome. Now, they got it out I'm jealous of this guy Montana. Well, I ain't. Anyhow, if I really ain't quite as good-looking as he is, I'm going to attend to that right soon," and Charley grinned a self-satisfied grin.

Grip is matched with Bull Montana in the feature bout of the wrestling association's outdoor inaugural Tuesday night in the new arena on Indiana between Tenth and Eleventh. Grip, as every Wichita Falls fan who has seen them both knows, lacks quite a bit of being as handsome as the famous movie man. In fact, Charles has a much homelier mug than Bull, but Charles won't admit it. Says he isn't jealous, but those close to him declare he is.

Ever since Johnny Carlin, the Swede, wrote a letter in here saying that Grip would completely outclass Bull Montana in an ugly man's contest, Charley has been yapping for a whack at Bull. Just why he wants the bout, nobody knows for sure unless it be Charles really is beset by the green monster.

To make the sotry short, Montana worked in here a couple of weeks ago and Grip got a chance to look him over. He yapped for a match. He got it. Montana will outweigh Grip several pounds, and he proved himself a rough one in that other match, yet Charley seems anxious for the hour of the battle. Says he doesn't care how big Bull is, nor how rough. So there you are. Take your choice.

Jackie Gorman telephoned from San Angelo Sunday night, saying that he is in good shape for his match with Billy Gibson in the prelim and expects to drive overland from the West Texas city. Gorman never has failed to give the fans what they wanted—action!

SPUDDERS NIP STEERS AGAIN

Dallas Loses to Fussell By 9-3 Score

DALLAS, May 1—Obvious weakness of Dallas Steers Sunday in the outfield, coupled with tameness in the attack, lost the second game of the series to Wichita Falls Spudders, 9 to 3. Save for one promising inning, the eighth, which collapsed for lack of hits as suddenly as it had inflated, the Herd looked pale and anemic as compared with its old-time championship form.

Dallas bats were silenced almost totally by the good south paw wing of Fred Fussell, slim left-hander, who ever has been a jinx for the Steers. The Herd menaced Fussell late in the game when he slowed down, apparently irritated by a sore muscle caused from being hit by a batted ball. Herbert Cobb took a turn in the box and the Steers were just as helpless as ever.

Fussell led Wichita Falls' batting attack, connecting for a double and a single. There was only one other extra base blow, a two-bagger by Lapan. Dallas knocked out seven singles, but these were pretty widely scattered. Two hits by Brainard and a pair by Elsh went for naught.

Wichita Falls took a liking to the offerings of Perry and Pence, Dallas pitchers, and clustered nine hits at the most opportune scoring moments.

Crowell Poloists Wallop Sooners

CROWELL, May 1.—Oklahoma university took an easy victory from Crowell at the Minnick polo tournament by a score of 13 to 5 Saturday. The game was very hotly contested at the beginning, and neither team scored for the first two chuckers. However, Oklahoma got away with four goals in the third. In spite of outscoring their opponents, the Oklahoma boys had a two-point handicap in their favor. Oklahoma showed the best team work of the tournament and played together so well that it was difficult to distinguish an individual star, although Jimmy Minnick Jr. and Charlie Stanley scored four goals each — both showed unusual offensive work. Jimmy Minnick Jr. is a son of Jim Minnick, who is sponsoring the tournament, and while just 17 years of age, he has been one of the outstanding players of the tourney. The game was unusual in the fact that it was a case of the two leading opponents being father and son. Jim Minnick Sr., who has long been regarded as America's cowboy polo player, was the outstanding player for Crowell. Jimmy Jr. stopped a number of his father's plays that threatened to score by his flashy horsemanship and skill with the mallet. The lineup:—Oklahoma: Embree, Stanley, Harris and Minnick Jr. Crowell: Offield, Shirley, Minnic Sr. and Rogers.

SHREVEPORT, La., May 1. (AP)—Fancis Karpp held the Cats to six hits and three runs and Shreveport made it two in a row over Fort Worth winning Sunday's game 6 to 3. Denny Burns was driven from the hill in the second inning after allowing four runs and W. Moore succeeded him. The locals made five hits in the second inning. Fort Worth made it three runs in the third inning on four hits and Karpp retired the side with the bases full. Score:

Black Spudders Beat Dallas, 3-1

The Wichita Falls Black Spudders took the second and final game of the series Sunday at Spudder park from the Dallas Black Giants by a score of 3 to 1.

Slim Charley Anderson, elongated Wichita Falls pitcher, held the Giants to five scattered hits and was master of the situation at all times. At one stage of the game, with none out, a runner on third and another on first, Anderson retired the side in order and without a score, making one of the putouts himself and making one of the assists to first base.

Floyd Cooper, diminutive Spudder right fielder, was the hitting luminary of the locals. He tripled in the first inning and doubled in the sixth. Otis Carter followed with a triple in the first, scoring Cooper. Carter scored on Zollie Wright's double. Wichita Falls scored again in the sixth on Cooper's double after McDaniel had drawn a base on balls.

W. P. Davenport, Wichita Falls first sacker, thrilled the customers with a number of sensational plays. Wichita Falls pulled a lightning double play in the first inning. Gray bounded to the box and Anderson threw to McDaniel at third. McDaniel tagged out a runner, and then heaved to H. Wright at second to catch Gray. The play was a thriller.

Manager Wright Batie at shortstop for the Black Spudders played a great game, too.

The Legislature may confer original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs of quo warranto and mandamus in such cases as may be specified except as against the Governor of the State. The Supreme Court shall also have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as may by the Court may be determined, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capital for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by the Court. The present statutes defining the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court not in conflict herewith shall continue in effect until repealed or altered by the Legislature. The Supreme Court shall appoint a Clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he may hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by said Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

Section 4 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of three Judges, provided that the Legislature may increase the number to five, and a majority of the Judges shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of a majority of the Judges shall be necessary to the decision of any case. Said Judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as the Judges of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. The Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present Constitution and laws.

Section 5 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exception and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and the Legislature may confer original jurisdiction upon it to issue writs of mandamus, procedendo and certiorari in criminal cases. Said Court shall appoint a clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and said Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be prescribed by law.

Section 6 (of Article V): The Legislature shall, from time to time, divide the State into such number of Supreme Judicial Districts as to it may seem necessary, not exceeding twelve at any one time, and shall have the power to re-district the State at any time, and shall establish a Court of Civil Appeals in each of said Districts, which Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and not less than two Associate Justices as the Legislature may provide, who shall have the qualifications as herein prescribed for Justices of the Supreme Court, provided that the aggregate number of Judges of all of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall never at one time exceed thirty-six. Each of the existing Courts of Civil Appeals shall continue until otherwise provided by law. The Courts of Civil Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of their respective districts, which shall extend to all civil cases of which the District Courts or County Courts have original or appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the decisions of said Courts shall be conclusive on all questions of fact brought before them on appeal or error. Said Courts of Civil Appeals shall hold their sessions at such places as may be designated by the Legislature and at such times as may be prescribed by law. Said Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of their respective Districts, at a general election, for a term of six years, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. Said Courts shall have such other jurisdiction, original and appellate, as may be prescribed by law. Each Court of Civil Appeals shall appoint a Clerk in the same manner as the Clerk of the Supreme Court, which Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by law. The Judges of the Courts of Civil Appeals who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

Section 7 (of Article V): The State shall be divided into as many Judicial Districts as may now or hereafter be provided by law, which may be increased or diminished by law. For each district there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at a general election, a Judge, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of this State, who shall have been a licensed lawyer for four years next preceding his election, and during that time shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a Court of record or such practicing lawyer and Judge together, who shall have resided in the District in which he was elected for two years next preceding his election, who shall reside in his District during his term of office, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and shall receive for his service such compensation as may be prescribed by law. He shall hold the regular terms of his Court at the County seat of each county in his district at least twice in each year, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall have power, by general or special laws, to authorize the holding of special terms of the court or the holding of more than two terms in any County for the dispatch of business. The Legislature shall also provide for the holding of District Court when the Judge thereof is absent or is, from any cause, disabled or disqualified from presiding. The Supreme Court or the Chief Justice thereof may assign any District Judge to any District in the State other than that for which he was elected, with all the powers of a resident District Judge of the District to which he is assigned, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Legislature, or by the Supreme Court in the absence of such regulations enacted by the Legislature. The District Judges who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 30. Little Floella McDonald, one of two children who mysteriously disappeared during the week of April 11, is dead. Her body was found late today in the belfry of the First Presbyterian church. No trace has been found of Lonnie White, the other child.

That the child was slain and her body dragged to the dim church belfry is conceded by the authorities tonight but they are at a complete loss to account for the crime.

Frank Dixon, aged negro janitor, preparing the church for services tomorrow, detected a strange odor. He searched the building and finally his aged feet negotiated the 50-foot ladder leading to the towering, silent belfry. He had not been up there before in years.

Groping through the dark, his vision aided only by streaks of light that filtered through the loose lattice work, he saw the body huddled on the floor. It was stripped of clothing and decomposition had set in.

Trembling with fear, the aged negro descended the ladder and told white friends of his discovery. The authorities investigated.

The body was quickly identified as that of little Floella McDonald, 11 years old, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McDonald. The parents were prostrated.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of death. Police officers in searching the building late today discovered what appeared to be dried splotches of blood in the basement of the church where the stairs lead to the belfry.

Little Floella disappeared late in the afternoon of April 11, after leaving the city library for her home. The following day Lonnie White, a boy one year her senior, also disappeared. Floella and Lonnie were not acquainted. They attended schools located in widely separated points of the city. No trace of Lonnie has been found.

The authorities early tonight had several negroes under arrest and were cross-questioning them closely.

Large rewards raised through public subscription have been offered for the arrest and conviction of the abductors of the children.

Beer Drinkers In For Dry Summer Says Morgan, Between Raids

War on road houses was declared Saturday by Constable Frank Morgan, who declared that he was starting a vigorous campaign on beer joints operating in the Wichita Falls precinct.

A promise has been made by Mr. Morgan to citizens of Wichita Falls to rid the outlying districts of drinking places where beer and whiskey are sold and he intends to keep his promise, the constable declared.

"They will not operate this summer," Mr. Morgan said in speaking of beer traffic in Wichita Falls. "I make no idle boast when I say that—road houses may run for a while but my department will raid every one of them in time."

Constable Morgan led deputies on two raids Friday night and on one Saturday morning, making six arrests and capturing approximately 300 bottles of beer besides beer making parhphenalia.

Breaking up a "wild party" being staged on the Henrietta road the officers arrested five persons and seized about 100 bottles of beer Friday night.

Dairy Industry in $600,000 Class As Butter Moves in Carload Lots

A new source of income for Wichita Falls and its trade territory which at its initial rate will bring approximately $600,000 annually into the pockets of creameries and dairymen of the territory was started this week when the first solid carload of butter was loaded out for Chicago by creameries in Wichita Falls, Electra, Childress and Bowie, it was announced Saturday, by officials of the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad.

Four Cities Join.

Under a co-operative plan creameries in the four cities have contracted to load out a car of butter each week to Chicago markets. Butter has been shipped by express out of this district for several years, but it was not until this week that carload movements were inaugurated.

A half of a car was shipped the previous week by the Producers Creamery company of Wichita Falls and the Ferndale Creamery of Bowie, the latter concern placing in the car 2,800 pounds of the 15,548 pounds in the shipment.

The first full car which was started in Childress on Monday, completed its load at Bowie and was started on its way to furnish butter for diners on Chicago's famous loop by Monday night.

Of the total of 27,958 pounds in the car, the Gate City Creamery at Childress furnished 6,648 pounds, the Electra Creamery of Electra loaded 5,070 pounds, the Ferndale Creamery of Bowie put in 4,270 pounds and the Producers Creamery of Wichita Falls added 11,970 pounds. The local plant could have almost loaded out the car had it not made the shipment in the previous week.

Steady Growth.

The dairying industry has been steadily gaining along the Fort Worth and Denver south of Childress since the establishments of a number of modern creameries in cities along the road, M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Denver stated.

The growth of the industry in Childress county has been remarkable, Mr. Oates stated.

The Childress creamery is now paying $10,000 each month to the farmers and is now doubling its capacity.

Wichita and Montague counties have been dairying centers for several years, modern creameries being located in both Wichita Falls and Bowie, Mr. Oates stated.

The industry is gaining ground in Wilbarger, Hardeman, Clay and Baylor counties, Mr. Oates said. The Vernon Chamber of Commerce is preparing to bring in six carloads of fine cows for distribution to Wilbarger county farmers.

Oil Stocks Held To Quiet Role On Market As Result Of Pessimistic Tone of Oil Leaders

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 30—Chicago Great Western was again the outstanding feature in the stock market and in the two hours of trading sold up four points to a new high price for the year. Heavy trading accompanied the rise. Soft spots were again in evidence, particularly Steel which was affected by the ruling of the stock exchange in not permitting the old stock to sell ex the 40 per cent stock dividend tomorrow. Short covering in the oils held that group steady, although the Seminole pool continues to report increased production. Commodities and foreign exchanges were quiet.

Rails traversing the flooded area of the south were stronger, although the damage may grow. The enormous buying in Chicago Great Western is coming direct from banking circles. The estate that controls the property is in a position to force terms and has refused to sell less than a price considerably above the current market. On account of the big sum put back into the property and the high state of its physical development, Chicago Great Western is in a position to enjoy increasing earnings because of the big manufacturing plants and agricultural developments growing along its line. With a connection to the southwest this road will be in a position to increase its business threefold. The deal is understood to be nearer consumation than Wall street realizes. Chicago Great Western is regarded as a second Wheeling & Lake Erie.

Delaware and Hudson was quiet although segregation of its properties is scheduled. Quiet accumulation has been going on in this stock since attention was called to it in this column. The hidden assets will astound the most sanguine friends of the property.

On account of the aggressive campaign engineered by the big electrical supply manufacturers and their jobbers to the retail supply concerns, the latter that are making their own goods are finding competition keener. As the leading public utility companies only handle standard and fully tested goods, the small supply concerns are finding business poor. The public utility companies are only handling goods that can be bought in department stores and electrical contractor shops. This deprives certain small firms of business who try to force their goods at higher prices than the standard articles sold by the big companies.

On account of the warning sent out by E. W. Marland, president of the Marland Oil company, and "The Lamp," the publication of the Standard Oil of New Jersey, seems to have an effect in preventing any bullish speculation in the oils. There will be no let-up in the situation, practical oil men say, because there is a big profit in huge flush wells now being brought in and are likely to continue. The smaller wells of the older companies that have to pump, will be apt to shut down because their cost is beyond the price of the oil. This applies to some of the subsidiary companies who have increased their capital enormously within the last few years and not in a position to take advantage of these new fields.

Hudson & Manhattan reached a new peak. This stock is going up on the developments spoken of here. Some big plans may be given out soon in relation to this property. One reason why the stock is going up is that the company will extend to 42nd street and Sixth avenue and make a deal to get to Grand Central which right is in the company's charter. The Hudson & Manhattan gets a ten cent fare from up-town New York to Jersey City, a distance in the neighborhood of five miles and the fare is said to be worth 15 cents in convenience and speed on account of it being interstate. The growth in Jersey City has made that point one of the busiest centers, where land values are up tremendously and where store locations are in big demand.

Excellent buying is taking place in Timken roller bearing. Mr. Timken has been a frequent visitor in Wall street the past few days. Important developments are said to be pending. The company's roller bearing is likely to be used on all Pullman cars on the railroads. Earnings in the first quarter may show a gratifying increase over last year. General Motors continued firm on expectations of a $2 extra dividend at the coming meeting. Selling of Continental Baking followed rumors that the dividend may be sliced in half again. There were also rumors of a reorganization.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, April 30.(AP)—Largely as a result of surprising strength shown by the Liverpool market, wheat averaged higher today in early dealings here. Continued active demand for wheat both in Great Britain and European continental countries, was reported. Opening at ⅛c to 1 1-8c advance, Chicago wheat reacted under profit taking but gave evidence of power to rally. Corn and oats were firmer, corn starting unchanged to 1-2c up, and subsequently gaining all around. Provisions held steady.

Besides unusual strength of Liverpool quotations, indications here today pointed to good sized export business in North American wheat. Among the sales announced were 50,000 bushels of domestic red winter wheat and 120,000 of durum. On the other hand, whether conditions today for the growing winter crop southwest and west and for the seeding of spring wheat northwest were of a character to give encouragement to bears.

Corn traders showed interest today in estimates by a leading authority that the country's supply of corn is 28.8 per cent less than was the case a year ago. He figured that there has been a total disappearance of 2,116,000,000 bushels in the six months ending today as against 1,892,000,000 bushels during the like period last year.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—The stock market today opened with an outburst of strength, experienced a sharp sinking spell in the middle of the session, and then made irregular recovery. Final quotations, as a rule were lower, with net losses of 1 to 2 points rather numerous, but there were a number of conspicuous strong spots, particularly in the railroad group.

The shifting of speculative sentiment was not traceable to anything in the day's news developments, although a lowering of scrap steel prices at Pittsburgh may have influenced some selling of the steel shares. United States Steel common dropped over two points to a new low on the current decline at 165⅛ and then rallied slightly. Republic Steel sold down about a point and most of the others yielded fractionally.

A good rally developed in the oil shares when it became apparent that the short interest in many issues was becoming over-crowded, with California producers making the best showing. Houston Oil was freely liquidated, closing 2 3-8 points lower at 116, and General Asphalt, lost 1 3-8. Motors also were subjected to rather heavy selling, but most of them offered good resistance. General Motors closed fractionally lower at 190 after fluctuating between 189 1-8 and 192 3-8.

White Sewing Machine was run up over three points to a new top at 29 7-8 and moderate gains were recorded by American Brown Boveri, Barnet Leather, General American Tank preferred, General Outdoor Advertising certificates, McCrory Stores and Otis Elevator.

Rails were featured by a quick run-up in the Chicago Great Western issues to the highest levels in several years, and a revival of speculation for the advance in the Missouri Pacific shares.

Texas and Pacific jumped nearly 5 points to 79, but lost most of its gain.

Foreign exchanges were slightly easier in the usual quiet half holiday trading. Demand sterling ruled around 4.85 3-8 and French francs above 3.91.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 30. (AP)—Early advances in the cotton market today were followed by reactions under week-end realizing. There was a considerable demand at the start, but after selling up to 15.35 July eased off to 15.18 and closed at 15.22 the general market closing barely steady at net declines of one to four points.

The opening was seven to 11 points higher. Active months showed net gains of about 10 to 12 points in early trading, May advancing to 15.08 and October to 15.64 on buying stimulated by higher cables and unfavorable flood or weather news. Additional overflows were reported in the Mississippi valley, while private advices said there was anxiety over the state of some of the other levees.

These features, combined with the unsettled weather with showers or rains, and the unexpectedly firm showing of Liverpool brought in considerable buying. It was supplied at the advance by profit taking, however, while there was considerable southern and local selling, and prices turned easier during the forenoon.

Private cables said Liverpool had advanced on trade calling and buying stimulated by the flood and rain news from the south. Reports received from Manchester were to the effect that buyers of cotton cloths were holding off, but said there had been a better turnover in yarns made of Egyptian cotton.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 30.(AP)—Trading in today's cotton market was largely of an evening-up character, in sympathy with higher Liverpool cables, said to be due to a revival of speculation as a result of the floods in this country, the opening here showed gains of seven to 10 points and continued to advance all morning, reaching levels 14 points above the previous close. Later realizing set in and prices declined 17 to 18 points, but near the end there was a fair rally and the close showed net gains of one to five points.

NEW ORLEANS LIKE CITY ON BATTLE FRONT

Refugees By Thousands Rush To Town, As Other Thousands Flee

WATERS RISE HIGHER

Wichita Falls Men In Flood Area Tell Graphic Story of Horrors

Camped in the streets, parks crowded, sleeping on sidewalks, breakfasting on the curb!

That's New Orleans, a city upon whose mercy has been thrown thousands of homeless flood sufferers, a city sought for aid and yet a city that before the week is out may be seeking aid itself. So pictures Charles Spragins of Wichita Falls.

Thousands of people going out, abandoning their homes, fear crazed, using nearly every method of conveyance known to mankind. Yet thousands coming in. Thousands jammed in departing trains, auto caravans, on bicycles, in wagons, on foot, leaving the seaport of the south in fear of those swirling waters of Father Mississippi. Yet thousands struggling in, thousands scurrying from the flood-stricken areas further up the Mississippi!

Fight to Save City

That, in part, is New Orleans today, says Spragins upon return from the City of the Delta where he attended the past week convention of the National Electric Light association as representative of the Texas Electric Service company.

Hurrying workers, numbered in the tens of thousands, striving to increase the height of protecting levees as the swollen waters of the Mississippi whirl past, a scant six inches under the overflow point. The expected the middle of this week. An 18-inch rise! And defense barriers only partially completed. That's New Orleans again. New Orleans today from another angle, seething, rushing workmen in the thousands scurrying about crest expected the middle of this nest of ants.

Like War City

The city has taken on the aspect of a city during war time that fears almost immediate attack from enemy forces. New Orleans has this appearance, says Spragins, although there is no martial law. The people fleeing out and yet the steady incoming flow, in part produces this picture. Fully 50,000 have left New Orleans the past week, declares Spragins, in fear of the flood waters which have not arrived to their fullest extent yet, and may not if further dynamiting of levees suffices to abate the "brown torrent."

They're feeding Foydras people in lower Canal street. Regular bread lines. Families homeless, only too glad to camp under a corner street light or on a clump of gress in a nearby park, families that but await the abating of the waters to return to their stricken fields, their wrecked homes and start the rebuilding process, begin replanting their crops. That's the flood area.

FORMER WEST TEXAN TELLS OF HAVOC

First hand description of the Mississippi flood was given here Saturday by F. D. Futch, former West Texan whose home is now in Marks, Miss., a short distance north of Greenville, where the levee broke this week and allowed additional territory to be flooded. Mr. Futch is visiting his two sons here, J. M. and F. D. Futch Jr., local tailors.

As far as the eye can see there is water in the stricken district, Mr. Futch stated. Only the towns and farm homes situated on high ground are free from the flood.

Much Suffering

The entire distance from Memphis to Little Rock is inundated and refugees can be seen from the railroad huddled together in tents, box cars and any other available shelter on railroad dumps and small hills which have not yet been covered by water, he said.

Although there is much suffering in the valley now, Mr. Futch stated, it does not approach the deplorable conditions which will prevail after the main flood stage has receded. The lowlands will be left standing in water and a majority of the fields will not be tillable for several months while many of the homes have been washed entirely away and others practically wrecked.

Marooned Man Goes Insane

Negroes who comprise more than 50 per cent of the population in tracts nation-wide attention. Here is the heart of Dixie bleeding.

Homes Engulfed.

Accompanying Secretary of Commerce Hoover through the lower Mississippi valley I saw thousands of homes engulfed, hundreds of persons huddled together on high ground awaiting rescue, with Hundreds more of animals left behind in the exodus of entire communities.

Secretary Hoover conferred with relief chiefs here today. He said these forces were doing all that is humanly possible to rescue the people in the flood regions and feed them.

He left tonight for Washington, D. C., where he will make a personal report to President Coolidge. While there Hoover will address a Pan-American trade conference. Then he plans to return to the flood zone and give his expert aid.

With the "flood dictators" in command, one in Memphis, another in Mississippi and the third in Louisiana, and all organizations functioning directly under these men, Secretary Hoover feels that he has organized Dixie as he did Belgium, after the Boch over-ran that country, and as he fought the 1922 famine in Russia.

But the flood disaster in Dixie grows worse daily, now threatening to wind up in an epidemic of disease. There are thousands of persons still clinging to life in flooded areas; whole families are huddled in single rooms and on roof tops—they have been there for several days.

Food For Refugees.

The relief agencies, National Guard, Red Cross and co-operating civilians are combing these areas with loads of food. Close inspection of sanitary conditions there has not been attempted, so pressing have been other emergencies. Airplanes fly over the devastated regions, picking up information for the relief agencies.

Boats were rushed from here today for England, Monticello, Hamburg and Eudora in Arkansas, to be used in hauling in refugees from the surrounding country to refugee camps at these towns. The south bend break will force these people to flee for their lives.

Lake Village and McGehee in Arkansas are being evacuated. These people are being taken to Monticello and Eudora. Houses were reported to be crumbling at McGehee.

The Red Cross has 25 trained disaster workers in the south bend zone. They are organizing relief corps. Red Cross officials estimated that an additional 2000 persons would be immediately affected by the south bend levee break.

2715 On Levee

There are 2715 persons on a levee about 20 miles south of Eudora. They ran there when the flood waters drove them from the homes and means of a livelihood. Boats were ordered to go to them and take them to Eudora, where they will be ticketed and put in the refugee camp there.

Hundreds more are being flooded out by the Boeuf and Arkansas rivers. Waters from these rivers are heading for Oak Grove, La. Delhi, La., also has sent in a cry for boats to bring in refugees from the countryside. Delhi normally has a population of about 700. It expects 2500 refugees within 36 hours.

Baby Born in Box Car

Amid all this gruesomeness there come human interest reports. A baby was born in a box car at Helena, Ark., and at the same time a dog under the car gave birth to six puppies. The Red Cross nurse reported "all doing fine."

The coast guard today despatched a boat to Arkansas City with three smaller boats aboard. The small boats will be lifted over the levee there and used in searching the countryside for persons in distress.

The Red Cross today ordered shipping interests in the east to rush by rail 25,000 motor boats to Natchez. The coast guard was called upon to round up every available craft in the east for relief work in this section.

"The section immediately south of Natchez is the most critical today and we are doing all that man can do to prepare for the crushing hand of fate," declared James L. Fieser, acting national chairman of the Red Cross, who is accompanying Hoover.

Some idea of the size of the relief job in these parts may be gleaned from the fact that today 50 carloads of food and emergency supplies for refugees arrived here today.

Included in the receipts were 27 carloads of assorted vegetables, seven carloads of tomatoes, 30,000 pounds of rice, 16,000 mattresses, 10,000 mess kits, 20,000 blankets and 60,000 tents.

30,000 Refugees

Baton Rouge, La., is prepared to receive 30,000 refugees. That city is high and dry and will continue safe. A representative of Universal Service inspected the refugee camps being set up there.

C. W. Warburton of the federal department of agriculture, estimated that 2,500,000 acres of farm land had already been inundated by the floods. About 6,000,000 acres of land in all, woodland and marshes included, were engulfed. Arkansas has from 1,250,000 to 1,500,000 acres of farm lands under water. Eighty per cent of it is cotton land.

COAST GUARD BOATS TO FLOODED AREA.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Plans for the largest relief expedition in the history of the coast guard went forward today with the ordering of 40 boats with their crews to proceed to Natchez, Miss., from Lewes, Del., and Asbury Park, N. J.

In all, 150 craft will be assembled at New Orleans and approximately 80 will go to Natchez. The ships, together wth many privately owned craft, will be rent from eastern and southern seaboards and the great lakes.

All coast guard craft on the Gulf and Florida coasts have been ordered to New Orleans, along with picket boats, power surf boats and a number of customs vessels. Privately owned small boats will have been donated for use in the flood work will be motorized with a shipment of engines en route to New Orleans.

At the request of the Postoffice department, a coast guard vessel will establish mail service from New Orleans to points cut off from other communication.

A trainload of small boats which were sent from Chicago on flat cars arrived last night in the flood area and proceeded today under their own power down the river to join the fleet, starting refugee camps and cleaning-up the aftermath of the floods in districts where the waters have receded.

Twenty-seven power surf boats and their crews from the Great lakes, intended for service around Memphis, were diverted to Vicksburg and were reported today as having arrived "in time to be present at the crisis."

D. M. (Don) Bernard has returned to the Wichita Falls Record News as business manager, after three months with a national poster organization.

Mr. Bernard said Saturday night "I am returning to the Record News because I know that the morning newspaper of Wichita Falls has grown more steadily and more surely than any newspaper property in Texas and I believe in the future of Wichita Falls.

"I am well acquainted with the 131 per cent gain in circulation on the Record News over a period of four years—well acquainted with its superior editorial features and I am absolutely sold on this field. Therefore, I am glad to get back, rather than got to Fort Worth or Dallas. I expect to live in Wichita Falls the rest of my life and I hope to do some good for my town."

American Lawyer Retained By Soviet For Chinese Trials

By Universal Service.

PEKING, May 1.—Charles James Fox, an American lawyer, has been retained to defend the Russians arrested in the raid on the soviet embassy, in the event that the Chinese authorities decide to conduct an open trial.

In addition to the 14 Russians captured in Peking, Madame Borodin, three diplomatic couriers, the ship's captain and Russian sailors seized with the Russian ship, Pamiat Lenia, will likely be transferred from Tsinam for trial at Peking, making a total of approximately 60 soviet Russians now detained by the northern authorities.

Attorney Fox's appointment is due to the fear of the Russians following the reported strangulation of Chinese prisoners.

NO PANTS, NO PEACE

MANILA, P. I.—There's serious trouble among the Moro tribes because Datu Tahil, a rebel chieftain, permitted a comely young Moro flapper to scrub his back while he was bathing. Tahil is married to Princess Tarhata Kiram, a niece of the Sultan of Zulu, who was educated in America. When Tahil recently went on the rampage against the Philippine government, the sultan sent Princess Tarhata to his camp to summon him to the palace for a peace conference. The princess arriving, found her husband taking a plunge bath, while a good looking Moro girl, who was a total stranger to the princess, massaged his spine. The princess in a rage slashed to ribbons the only trousers the chief possessed, and threw a pail of water in the face of the back-scrubbing flapper. There was no conference, the Philippine constabulary attacked the rebels. Datu and the princess fled to the hills, and the disturbance is still going on.

RELIEF FUND TOTALS $3,800

Receipts At Matinee Total Over $600

Funds contributed by Wichita Falls residents for the relief of flood victims in the Mississippi valley climbed above the $3800 mark Saturday night when the Majestic theater opened its midnight matinee for the benefit of the fund.

A final check of the theater's receipts by T. B. Noble Jr., city manager of the Dent Theaters, Inc., showed the total to be $624, making the city's grand total for flood relief $3,824. N. M. Clifford, treasurer of the local Red Cross, announced contributions, totalling $3,500 Saturday afternoon. With additional contributions expected Monday, the total subscriped by Wichita Falls is expected to go well above the $4000 mark.

All proceeds of the Majestic matinee attended by more than 1000 persons, went to flood relief. Employes of the theater worked without pay, making their salaries a contribution to the fund.

NO PRIVACY, NO PRIVACY

OXFORD, Eng.—The Prince of Wales, after riding in a point to point race here, was obliged to change clothes in his automobile in order to keep an important engagement in London. Country girls eager to get a glimpse of the popular heir to the throne, beseiged the car despite the scandalized protest of the prince's attendants, and finally the harassed and embarrassed prince was compelled to clutch his garments and dash for the seclusion of a nearby lunch wagon where the door was promptly locked and the blinds drawn.

Peculiar Character Arrested At Local Railroad Station

There was somewhat a comotion at the local railroad station Monday morning as it seemed that the conductor on the south bound train out of St. Louis had been having trouble with a peculiar person all the way over from Denton. He had wired local officers to be on hand to take charge of the man. The report was that this man would get off the train every time it stopped and make a run ahead of the train. Always he was in such a hurry to get to Wichita Falls that he could not wait for the train. He was almost like an insane man as he walked the isles of the coaches and urging the conductor to give him more speed.

The local police arrested the man and put him through "The Third Degree" at headquarters and finally he admitted that he had come all the way from Chicago and being unable to hire an aeroplane, he had to come on the "Slow Katy" and that he had come to Wichita Falls for a stay of ten days. He gave his name as "Bargain-Bill," said that he was the "Original" and that he would be with Williams Department Store during his Stay here. "You'll hear more from me," he shouted as he left Police headquarters and headed for Seventh and Ohio streets.—Adv.

VOL. IX. NO. 252. WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, MONDAY, MAY 2, 1927 PRICE Daily 5c Per Copy. Sunday 5c Per Copy.

FLOOD BREAKS OVER RIVER LEVEE

Faith

City of Notables—
And We'll Be Ready—
Spokes in the Wheel—
Working For You—

WICHITA FALLS will be the destination of a flock of satellites of statecraft on May 15, when James J. Davis, secretary of labor; Senator Morris Sheppard, Gov. Dan Moody, Gov. R. S. Dillon of New Mexico, and Gov. A. S. Johnston of Oklahoma will personally appear at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

There are other names, other dignitaries, local, state and national, but these few are enough to impress one of the status of this convention and what it means to Wichita Falls.

* * *

AND in addition to all of these officials, Wichita Falls will be the mecca for thousands and thousands of others from all parts of Texas. This convention is worth thousands of dollars worth of publicity for this city. We will reap its benefits for five or 10 years afterward. And the momentary benefits will not be one iota of the real value that will return to Wichita Falls in able, stable, progressive citizens who will come here to live and prosper with this section.

* * *

WE MIGHT as well pat ourselves on the back for making ready for this convention and these thousands of visitors. Everywhere throughout the city streets are being repaired, homes repainted and renovated. We know the importance of making a good impression and quite fortunately, the people are already aroused to the task before them. They are not waiting until the last moment to be rushed off their feet and console themselves with a sigh of lost time regretted.

This convention is the biggest thing of its kind in the history of Wichita Falls. We cannot make too much preparations, nor can we be too ably prepared for it.

* * *

HOMER D. WADE, manager of the West Texas chamber, has been on the ground for several days, bringing the loose ends of the big convention together. He is picking up where W. B. Hamilton general chairman; C. E. McCutchen and Hubert M. Harrison left off. But it could hardly be said that the local men had finished their task of handling the preliminary arrangements. As a matter of fact, Wade has just arrived on the scene of action and joined the trio mentioned above. He is loud in his praise, especially for Mr. Harrison, who had borne the brunt of the big show, keeping well into the background himself.

* * *

AND THE COMMITTEE chairman should not be forgotten. P. A. Rogers with his numerous bands; Charles Bunnenberg, who is listing all available camp sites; Harry Gray, busy with concessions; Marvin Smith buried in a mass of details concerning city decorations; Jack Barnard on entertainment; J. W. Bradley, headquarters service; A. L. Huey, the important job of housing; C. E. Basham on finance; Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, head of the women's committee; Horrance Robbins, arranging floats for the parades; H. J. Adair, writing reams of publicity; R. E. Penick on the program; J. L. Jackson Jr., on registration, and N. M. Clifford, on street traffic.

These are the spokes in the big wheel of service pushing the greatest convention in the history of our city forward. Help them. They are tackling a job for you and your town. The least you can do is to offer your help and snap into action when any of these individuals call upon you.

* * *

D. M. BERNARD comes back to the Record News, after a few months with Bill Morrison in the poster business for himself.

"This is my town. I've spent three or four years here and I'd like to live here the rest of my life, spending all of my time with the Record News working for this newspaper and the city of Wichita Falls."

That's faith for you. This man, however, will raise nine different kinds of sand when he reads these lines this morning.

Incidentally, Bernard is hooked up with another aggressive young man in the business of printing a real morning newspaper for Wichita Falls. He is Henry C. Flucher, formerly managing editor of the Austin Statesman and a University of Texas graduate who is out here in West Texas to make his home.

* * *

THIS PAIR are fighting seven days a week for a bigger and better Wichita Falls and its trading territory. Young, progressive, friendly. They're not too big to snub a good news story or a little advertising business and either of them will smash into any project that looks forward to the betterment of Wichita Falls.

JURY DEADLOCKS

Oklahomans Unable to Agree On Poisoning Verdict

OKMULGEE, Okla., May 1.(AP)—The jury which late last night received the case of Mrs. Mae Hamilton, charged with poisoning her 14-year-old son, John Courtland Hamilton, reported to Judge John L. Norman this afternoon that they were hopelessly deadlocked.

The judge, however, instructed the baliff to make arrangements for the jury for tonight, indicating he would insist on further deliberation.

CITY MANAGER FINDS $50,000 FOR FT. WORTH

Water Pipe Reclaimed At Huge Saving Under New Government

SYSTEM EFFICIENT

Better Service at Lower Cost Made Under Manager Plan of Rule

By ROBERT E. HICKS
City Editor, Fort Worth Star-Telegram

FORT WORTH, May 1.—In my article yesterday I told how the city manager form of government, after two years of operation, had eliminated million-dollar overdrafts for current expenses and how the civil service among city employees had increased the pay for the efficient and weeded out the inefficient.

There are other interesting accomplishments to be listed under this form of government and probably the most novel of them all is the story of the "lost pipe." This is the case where the city owned a quantity of pipe, but none of the officials, apparently were cognizant of the fact(nor were they aware of the value of the pipe.

A quantity of cast iron water pipe, buried and unused for 10 years, was located by the city, reclaimed and pressed into service in growing parts of the city. This pipe, at prevailing prices is worth $50,000.

The current budget for the water department is $15,000 a year less than in previous years, despite the fact that its business is increasing at the rate of one per cent per month.

Another $50,000

Still another $50,000 was obtained by the city from a bonding company which was surety for a former tax assessor and collector, and represented in his accounts which were not recovered until the city manager plan was inaugurated, although some of the short items ran back several years.

Nearly $1,000,000 in delinquent taxes, some of it owing for 20 years or more, has been collected by the city since the new administration went in.

A centralized purchasing department was inaugurated and a storeroom provided to permit quantity purchases which has resulted in savings of from 10 to 20 per cent on automobile tires, tubes and parts, $600 a year in the stationery bill and $6000 a year in gasoline contracts.

The council also made a new contract for electricity for street lighting under which the city saves $30,000 a year and forced a reduction in domestic light rates which is saving citizens $173,000 a year.

Bond Issue For Improvements

After the new administration has been in office only a few months it was successful in having approved by the voters a bond issue of $7,659,000, the largest municipal improvement bond issue ever authorized by a city in Texas. With funds derived from this issue, the city is carrying on an extensive campaign of street widening and paving, water and sewer extensions, park and recreation facilities expansion and is building a modern air port.

At the expiration of the first two-year term under the city manager plan, all members of the city council were re-elected. Four of the five councilmen had opponents in the election, and friends of the new form of government point with pride to the fact that the opposition campaign was directed against four members of the council individually and that not a single word of opposition was voiced against the city manager plan.

Port Aransas Fisherman Harpoons 15-Foot Devilfish

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 1. (AP)—Three fishermen cast their lines for small fry in the surf near Port Aransas this morning. One man harpooned a devil fish from the bow of the motor launch. The fish turned seaward, making a speed boat out of the launch. After a wide ride of about a mile one of the fishermen shot the fish with a rifle. The finny steed was towed to port. He measured 15 feet across; his weight estimated at more than a ton.

NEGRO ADMITS SLAYING CHILD

Girl's Body Found Hidden In Church Belfry

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 1.(AP)—Refusing to believe the official announcement that Lonnie Dixon, confessed slayer of little 12-year-old Floella McDonald had been removed from Little Rock immediately after his confession, an angry mob of between 4000 and 5000 broke into the main door of the penitentiary, fired several shots and dispersed after failing to find the negro.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 1. (AP) A confession that he murdered 12-year-old Floella McDonald and concealed her body in the belfry of the First Presbyterian church, where it was found late yesterday was obtained today from Lonnie Dixon, 16-year-old son of Fred Dixon, negro janitor of the church, police announced tonight.

The young negro, who, with his father, had been held since the discovery of the body, told police where the library book which the girl was carrying home from the city library when she disappeared April 12 and a part of her clothing might be found in a garage. They were found there, the police said.

The confession of the youth did not implicate his father, who gave police information which led to the discovery of the body while the church choir was rehearsing in the church below.

The elder Dixon, who made the discovery, reported it to members of the choir and police were called.

A blood-stained brick, believed to have been used to kill the girl, was found beside her body.

BEAUTIES ARRIVE

Galveston Gives Royal Welcome To Foreign Girls

GALVESTON, May 1. (AP)—North American beauties had best look to their laurels in Galveston's International Pageant of Pulchritude if the five young European women who arrived Sunday mroning on the French liner, Niagara, are criterions of international entries.

With all the homage and acclaim that is paid to princesses of royal blood the charming representatives of five of the outstanding countries of Europe were welcomed by Galveston citizens. A golden key, representative of the friendship and hospitality of Treasure Island, was turned over to them by Mayor Jack E. Pearce.

The party, accompanied by their chaperones and several newspaper correspondents of foreign publications, included, "Miss France," Mlle Roberte Cusey; "Miss Italy," Signorina Maria Gallo; "Miss Luxemberg," Mlle Rosa Bang; "Miss Portugal," Senoria Margarida Ferreira; "Miss Cuba," Senoria Angelita.

City's Population Takes Record Drop As Fishing Season Opens

If the census man had been on the job Sunday he would have discovered the population of Wichita Falls decreased by several hundred, and maybe thousands.

The population would have been found at Lake Kemp, Diversion Lake and Lake Wichita trying to fool the fish into believing they were going to have a free lunch off of the minnow that dangled from the hook which promised no good to the finny tribe.

Literally the fisherman of Wichita Falls swallowed the first day of the fishing season, hook, line, singer and all. The only "fish" safe in Wichita county Sunday were those at the Junior college and only because the "sophs" were fishing for fish that lived in water.

LITTLE HOPE FOR RESCUE OF MINERS

Rescue Efforts Abandoned To Fight Flames In Tunnels

15 KNOWN DEAD

Troops Called to Protect Workers From Crowds Of Curious

FAIRMONT, W. Va., May 1. (AP) The fate of 76 miners entombed in the Everettsville mine for 24 hours was undetermined late today as rescue crews worked frantically to extinguish the fire in the blast torn tunnels.

All rescue work was suspended today while mining experts fought the flames.

The known dead numbered 15, and rescue leaders feared that when they conquered the blaze and reached the trapped men they too will be added to the list of fatalities. Nine injured men were in hospitals here, one in a critical condition.

Only two of the dead had been identified tonight. They were Harold Davis and Virgil Straight. No attempt will be made to identify the other bodies until later.

During the afternoon when the hundreds of sight-seers threatened to overrun the mine property and hamper the work of the fire fighters, a company of national guardsmen was called out. The troops pitched their tents nearby and cooperated with the state police in maintaining order.

Newspaper men at the mine found communication almost impossible. One party-line telephone leads from Everettsville and this was being used by rescue workers to order supplies, as well as by the reports. The mine is located two miles out from the railroad, over a muddy road.

Man Sentenced To Death and Saved By Taft, Now Seeks His Freedom

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Vuco Perovich, who lived for four years in the shadow of the hangman's rope, and spent 16 more behind gray prison walls, will make a fight for liberty before the U. S. supreme court tomorrow on one of the strangest pleas ever heard by that august tribunal.

Perovich will argue, through his attorneys, that former President Taft had no right to commute to life imprisonment a death sentence which had hung over his head for four years. He objects to being doomed to spend a lifetime in prison, he says, and never gave his consent to it.

Asks Freedom

So to the very tribunal over which Taft now presides, Perovich's attorney will make the argument that because his "constitutional rights" have been violated he should be set free.

Perovich has convinced one court that he is right. The federal court of Kansas ordered him released for Leavenworth penitentiary on habeas corpus. He is now running a barber shop in Rochester while the supreme court grapples with this strange problem for which little precedent has been found.

The supreme court got the problem from the eighth circuit court of appeals. Instead of passing upon an appeal by the department of justice against the district court decision freeing Perovich, the appellate tribunal drew up a set of questions and asked the highest court to answer them. These questions involve the whole theory of executive clemency.

Did the president have authority to commute the sentence? If he did not, was the document he signed a conditional pardon? And if it was a conditional pardon was Perovich's express acceptance necessary to make it valid?

Upheld In Court

Perovich contends it was a conditional pardon, and that such a pardon was not effective unless expressly accepted.

"A convict has no power to reject or obstruct effect of any exercise of the pardoning power and force execution of his sentence, except in the case of a true conditional pardon, of such a nature as to require voluntary compliance," replied the department of justice in its brief.

"The public interest and not the whim of a convict should be paramount."

Perovich was convicted of murder in Alaska in 1905 and sentenced to be hanged. Even then his case travelled all the way to the supreme court, but the sentence was upheld. Respites were granted by various authorities until at last, in 1909, Taft commuted the sentence.

Perovich went to McNeil Island, and later to Leavenworth. Twice he failed to win a pardon. Then, two years ago, he pushed constitutional questions with such force as to win at least temporary freedom.

COOLIDGE TO GREET FLYERS

"Good Will" Tourists Back In Washington

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Bolling field was a beehive of industry today as preparations went forward swiftly for the homecoming tomorrow of the army "good-will" flyers from their 20,000-mile flight around Latin America.

Special grandstands and boxes were hastily erected for the accommodation of President Coolidge and other distinguished guests who will greet the weary birdmen as they complete the final leg of their arduous journey, which began at San Antonio, Texas, last December.

Meanwhile, the flyers enjoyed a complete day of rest at Langley field, Va., a short two hours "hop" by air from their final destination at Bolling field.

The four planes will leave for Washington tomorrow afternoon, escorted by a convoy of planes bearing Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davison and Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air corps.

A feature of the "homecoming" reception will be a flying exhibition participated in by army aviators from Bolling field.

Garage and Furniture Destroyed Early Sunday.

ELECTRA, May 1.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the garage belonging to Tom Grisham, prominent citizen, early Sunday morning. The garage and contents, which had a large amount of furniture stored in it, was valued at approximately $1500. Mr. Grisham was spending the week-end at Lake Kemp and until late Sunday did not know of his loss. One room of the building had been used for a bedroom for Mr. Grisham when he was in the city, his wife being in Fort Worth and Miss Jaunita, a daughter, a student in the College of Industrial Arts in Denton.

An alarm was given at 2:40 Sunday morning and the entire fire department was summoned. Neighbors were awakened by a night employe at the Electra Ice company who first discovered the blaze. From all indications the fire started on the south side of the two-room building.

Woman's Attorneys Ask Prosecution Of Two Witnesses For Judd Gray

LONG ISLAND CITY, May 1.—Henry Judd Gray, who with Mrs. Ruth Snyder is being tried for the murder of Albert Snyder, the latter's husband, on March 20, was restless in his cell at the county jail today. The balmy spring day gave Gray the wanderlust and he pined for the "outside."

Spring Calls Him

"This weather makes me feel like traveling," Gray said to his keeper when the sun broke through the gratings this morning.

Interest in the Snyder case proceedings today centered on the possibility of dragging in two Syracuse friends of Gray against whom Mrs. Snyder's lawyers have been urging action by the prosecuting officers both at Long Island City and Syracuse.

Dana Wallace of counsel for Mrs. Snyder wired the district attorney of Syracuse, urging that indictments be brought against Haddon Gray and Harry Platt, against whom charges of assisting in framing an alibi for Henry Judd Gray were made. In a statement this afternoon Richard S. Newcombe, district attorney of Queens county, said:

"If Haddon Gray and Harry Platt committed a crime, they will be prosecuted for it at the proper time by the district attorney in Syracuse, and in my office will see to that without any aid from the defendant Snyder's counsel.

"Whether Haddon Gray at Platt committed a crime in their efforts to cover up the movements of the defendant Gray has nothing to do with the fact that the defendants Snyder and Gray are charged with the murder of Albert Snyder in Queens Village on March 20.

"This is another attempt by the defendant Snyder's counsel to befog the issue. At present, I have no interest in Haddon Gray or Harry Platt other than as witnesses for the prosecution."

Newcombe denied today that he has employed detectives to shadow the two Syracuse men.

WATER POURS THROUGH FOUR GREAT GAPS

Hundreds Flee For Lives Before Rush of River Torrents

70,000 QUIT HOMES

Epidemic Feared as New Horror in Flooded River Area

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 1. (AP)—A negro was shot by a Mississippi national guardsman here tonight near the water front in an affray which arose over the question of whether the negro would aid in carrying relief supplies aboard a boat.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 1.(AP) Louisiana today began feeling the full force of the floods which have devastated more than 10,000 square miles of territory and a score of towns in Arkansas, Mississippi and other valley states to the north.

Breaking through the protecting levees at four places south of Vidalia the rushing Mississippi torrent was completing the inundation of Concordia parish with prospects that it would overflow most of Catahoula, Northern Avoyelles and the low parts of Lasalle and Eastern Rapids parishes.

Hundreds Threatened

The threatened territory comprises about 3100 square miles with a population of 70,000 and a property value of more than $30,000,000.

While the main river flood water was claiming this new area, the overflow from the Arkansas river was spreading over Southeastern Arkansas and the flow from the Stop's Landing break over Greenville was widening over the Mississippi delta, adding hourly to the homeless and swelling the gigantic property loss.

The flood from the new breaks south of Vidalia endangered the lives of hundreds who had clung tenaciously to their homes in spite of the backwaters from the Black river which had spread over that territory.

Fight Fails

The four crevasses created by the river near the Glasscock levee came unexpectedly and at a time when the engineers had about won their fight to dam the waters flowing over the sleugh in the dyke at that place.

Making initial openings measuring from 150 to 200 yards wide the raging waters rushed to the lowlands adding to the backwater flood there and gradually pushing out the lake toward Vidalia and Ferriday, where barriers are being hastily constructed in an effort to protect those towns.

Former Governor John M. Parker in charge of all relief operations in the state, announced that the Red Cross had established a base at Marksville, 30 miles southwest of the new breaks.

THE FLOOD AT A GLANCE
(By The Associated Press)

The Mississippi river breaks through levees at four points south of Vidalia, loosing the full force of the flood on east-central Louisiana.

More than three thousand square miles of territory and 70,000 people in that section are in the path of the flood waters.

State engineers continue blasting of levee south of New Orleans in their effort to remove the flood threat from that city.

Yazoo river embankment at Eden goes out, with the flood there claiming an additional 10,000 acres in the rich Mississippi delta, and forcing several hundred persons from their homes.

Official warning given of threatened crevasse in the big bend levee of the Bayou Des Glaises in northeastern Louisiana, endangering nearly a dozen small towns.

Four white men are drowned in the flood north of Vicksburg, increasing to more than one hundred and ten the known casualties since the Mississippi and its tributaries began overflowing their banks three weeks ago.

The army of two hundred thousand homeless is increasing hourly as the flood waters inundated new sections of southeastern Arkansas and the northeastern and central parts of Louisiana.

NURSES AND PHYSICIANS TO FIGHT EPIDEMIC

By Universal Service Staff.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 1.—With added disaster in the form of an epidemic hovering over the inundated Mississippi valley, public health authorities today frantically pushed ahead preparations to combat this devastating monster.

Death from the onrushing waters so far have been low, but ominous warnings that nature run wild may throw into the wake of the flood waters grim pestilence, caused federal and state health authorities to organize on a war basis.

Houses Crowded

Emergency hospitals are rapidly being set up at refugee camps. Plans are made to rush medical corps to dry spots where hundreds of persons are huddled together like sheep, packed in upper stories of houses and barns like sardines.

Forecasts of rain for Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana gave added impetus to the mobilization of doctors and nurses. A steady rain may be followed by pneumonia and other diseases, it was feared.

There are nurses aplenty in the Mississippi flood zone to meet first thrusts of an epidemic and there are thousands of others scattered over the country ready to respond

Literary Department Meets In Closing Session Saturday

Presenting a group of out-of-town speakers, Mrs. J. M. F. Gill of Burkburnett, Mrs. H. B. Criswell and Miss Elna Martin of Dallas, the literary department of the Woman's Forum met in the closing session of the club season Saturday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. C. H. Clark with members of the Travel club hostesses.

Master Allen P. Terrell is the 11 months old son of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Terrell. Needless to say that he is one of Wichita Falls most attractive children for when one takes a look at his big brown eyes and other attractive features that fact is evident. Master Terrell can't be bothered right now with the deep mysteries of medicine, but some day he may be Dr. A. P. Terrell Jr.

MODISH MITZI — Mitzi Almost Has A Relapse — By JAY V. JAY

This is terrible news. The friends of Dad's who were going to chaperon Mitzi in Paris can't go and Aunt Sophia is much concerned. Mitzi is a little too interested in Aunt Sophia's frock of sheer black with side jabot and skirt draped to care much about the lack of a chaperon.

Dad says Mitzi can't possibly go without a chaperon. As Mitzi says, that's absurd. One can easily go to Paris without a chaperon—of course, one can't go without a companion. Even in her sorrow Mitzi looks charming in a sheer frock of coral georgette with a white bodice.

Mitzi is feeling ill. She's really going to have a relapse. And Dad knows that the doctor said a trip abroad was what she needed. How can he be so cruel to her? All for lack of a chaperon! Mitzi is relapsing in a georgette frock with a scallopen cape of the very newest cut.

Dad capitulated. He always does. Mitzi perhaps is right about the chaperon and also about the companion. Mitzi might like to have Polly go with her? Mitzi would and Polly, who has just arrived in a coat of satin trimmed with moire ribbon, would like it very much indeed.

WHO MADE WOODROW WILSON?

NOW WE know who made Woodrow Wilson. Many books have been written on the subject by many authors. Edward N. Hurley of Chicago has given to his countrymen a book which carries the title "The Bridge to France." Edwin N. Hurley was wartime chairman of the United States Shipping Board. For years before the coming of the war he was the personal friend of Woodrow Wilson.

He says in his book that John Maynard Harlan of Chicago, republican and Princeton graduate, first suggested Woodrow Wilson for governor of New Jersey. Harlan's plan was to see Wilson governor of New Jersey and then president of the United States in 1912.

Roger C. Sullivan of Illinois was a noted democratic boss. Harlan called him in. Sullivan fell for the plan. James Smith of New Jersey was a democratic United States senator and boss. Sullivan was close to him.

Smith was reached. He agreed to back the proposition if Woodrow Wilson "would not start fighting the existing democratic organization in New Jersey."

Author Hurley says that Woodrow wilson gave Smith the pledge. Wilson was elected governor. He turned his back on Smith. He did not recognize the democratic organization. Then Col. Henry Waterson of Louisville, Ky., was called in after Wilson had been elected governor and was well on the way to political fame and fortune. Waterson backed the presidential end of the proposal.

Notwithstanding that Smith and his organization had been tossed overboard by Wilson, the time came when Roger C. Sullivan, head of the Illinois delegation at Baltimore, swung the delegation to Woodrow Wilson after Illinois had voted in the primary for Champ Clark of Missouri, and it was the votes of the Illinois delegates that made the nomination of Woodrow Wilson possible.

It is a matter of history that President Woodrow Wilson turned his back upon Roger C. Sulliyan as he had turned his back upon James Smith of New Jersey. He turned his back upon Col. Henry Waterson. This is a matter of history. Smith did just the other day. Roger Sullivan has passed on to his reward. Colonel Waterson, for 50 years a southern idol and leader, is in his grave.

Not long ago the news organizations or agencies carried a story that the friends of Col. E. M. House were indignant because the face of House had been painted out ofa Wilson picture.

Now Edwin N. Hurley, and his "Bridge to France" tells it to the wrold that John Maynard Harlan, a republican, was responsible for the political debut of Woodrow Wilson in order to make his president of the United States by first electing him governor of New Jersey.

Life is a queer game. Fame is fleeting. "Who made Woodrow Wilson?" Why, go ask Edward N. Hurley. He knows and he has printed all that he knows in a book.

GOOD FOR YOU DAN

(From the Waco Times Herald)

WE ARE glad to note the fact our Dan is getting acquainted with his constituency. A man serving Texas as governor might easily get to be, as they say back in Arkansas, stuck-up, with his head in the clouds and his heart cold and cheerless as Pike's Peak. But not so our Dan. One day he is out there in El Paso shaking hands with those whom ever Claude Hudspeth might not have met by reason of being away from the city when they arrived and began talking lots for sale in Florida. The next day we find Dan in Texarkana trying to figure out if possibly Morris Shepherd doesn't live on the Arkansas side, but all the while shaking hands with the chaps from the Ozarks just as though they might be voters in Harris county, Texas. We like a governor like that, one who gets out among the people and tries to find out what they are thinking about—what they are planning for the future,—with words of encouragement. It will make him a better chief executive. We are hoping that Dan won't pass up any of Pat Neff's park sites, and here's hoping that $4000 salary hasn't already melted away.

SIR GEORGE HAS A MESSAGE

SIR GEORGE PAISON, a famous British editor crossed the Atlantic to the City of New York where he let lose an important interview. He recommended the cancellation of inter-allied debts and of German reparations, dismantling of tariff walls everywhere, and a wholesale building of railroads in undeveloped districts of South America, Australia and China and Russia.

After all this has been done, Sir. George, the London editor, is positive that the world's credit will be saved.

Sir George has an argument. He says every country in the world is in debt as never before and needs a vast expansion of income to enable it to meet its obligations. If there is a break down of credit, it will be a world break down of credit and that break down must be presented at all cost.

Sir George was caught by the spotlight. For an hour he held the center of the stage. Where do we go from here.

LAND LAID WASTE

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS dispatch tells the reader that more than 9000 square miles of fertile lands in Mississippi and Arkansas have been laid waste by the great valley flood, that thousands have been rendered homeless and the loss of crops and livestock and property is almost staggering to the mind. In the flooded area will be found the best cotton lands in the lower Mississippi Valley. Is this one of the reasons why the price of cotton is advancing.

HOOVER IN THE FLOOD COUNTRY

HERBERT HOOVER was dispatched to the flood country in the lower Mississippi valley by President Coolidge. Herbert Hoover is a great American. He is great in the field of business, in the field of finance, in any field where there is constructive work to be done. President Coolidge has issued his call for millions for Red Cross work. Hoover is his strong left arm. He knows how to handle gigantic disasters as well as gigantic problems of economics.

BO BROADWAY ..... By Joseph Van Raalte

NEW YORK, May 1. (EFS)—There are two Plaza hotels in New York. One fringes the sacrosanct precincts of Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, where Rolls-Royces purr and the sunlight slants with subdued brilliance in deference to the beauty and fashion and money foregathered there. The other is at No. 25 Bowery, where life is elemental and a dime is worth exactly 10 cents.

The down town caravansarie doesn't understand why the uptown joint doesn't change its name and thus avoid the confusion that daily ensues on the telephone when members of the Broad A Brigade get the Bowery on the wire when they want Fifth avenue.

"I am Mr. Weaver from Cleveland," says a voice on the phone. "I should like to talk to my wife in Suite 203, please. She—"

At this juncture Mr. Weaver's dulcet tones are interrupted:

"Hey, lissen! You may be a wise guy, but you ain't got no wife at dis hotel. We run a respec-able joint. No skirts ain't allowed to park here, see! You better call up dat dump on Fift' avenuoo!"

Here and there conservative prejudice rears its curly head along the Lane of Derelicts.

A deep-rooted impression prevails there that a hotel is no place for a woman. It isn't exactly a crime for a woman to live at a hotel, but it's a sort of disgrace. It just isn't done on the Bowery, that's all.

Every inn on the street, alongside its multi-colored rehearsal of rates, carries the legend: 'For Gents only."

There's a story to the effect that the manager of the uptown Plaza had his ears assailed once by a gruffy good-natured voice on the phone telling him he had a reg'lar room at his hotel, that it wasn't paid for, for just that night, and that "I picked meself a good job at a hash house on Toid Avenoo, an' be a good guy, will yer, an' hold me flop till I gets in."

The Fifth Avenue Plaza manager says it's a lie; but there's always the stock answer to that:

If on the facts you think I'm shy,
I do not care a darn.
It may be wrong to tell a lie,
But not to spin a yarn.

"Half de time," says the manager of the Bowery Plaza, "I c'n tell it's a mistake de min-yut dey opens de ol' trap. De foist words dey say you know dey got de wrong dump—askin' fer some Moll or somebody; an' o' course, dis ain't dat kind of a place. Our joint is like all o' dem down here on de Bow'ry—fer gents on'y!"

All New York is acquainted with the roving Calliope that threads the city's thoroughfares towed by a taxi with a Keystone comedy chauffeur.

In the motoring musician's grizzled appearance there is a suggestion of the gun-totin' pianist who shot Dangerous Dan McGrew.

"In a buckskin shirt—" you remember—"that was glazed with dirt, he sat, an' I saw him sway. Then he touched the keys with his talon hands—my God, but that man could play!"

The Calliope is rented out each day for advertising purposes to different individuals and business concerns. It makes not the slightest difference to the gentleman at the keyboard what lettering the oilcloth signs on the sides of the Calliope bear.

He plays and chaws, and chaws and plays. When the Calliope hits a bump or a hollow in the asphalt he drops a bar or two of melody. But his recovery is perfect. His footwork is immense. His philosophic calm is superb. As a musician, he is there 17 ways from the ace.

It would be interesting to learn what his boyhood ambition was.

GOOD MENUS FOR A WEEK

Correspondents are constantly asking me for a complete list of menus to be used by all of the family, so I have decided to put a set of these menus in the daily health column from time to time. I advise the housewife to cut out today's article, paste it on a piece of of cardboard and pin it up in a convenient place in the kitchen, so that it will be constantly in front of the eyes every time a meal is prepared.

These menus are not given with the object of curing any particular disease, but more for those who wish to stay well and who desire to use good food combinations. However, many of you who are suffering from digestive disturbances will find a steady improvement if you will follow these menus or others of a similar nature which are published from time to time.

QUESTION — Mrs. J. C. M. writes: "Is palpitation of the heart a serious heart ailment? If so, in what way? Would it cause a sudden death? What, of the three, are likely to cause palpitation: A leaking valve, weak muscles, or bade nerves? What treatment would you advise?"

ANSWER—The most common cause of your trouble is an excessive amount of gas pressure against the heart. This, in time, will cause valvular leakage, which you may not have developed at the present time. The treatment should be diet and exercise. Be especially careful to use good food combinations to prevent the formation of stomach gas.

QUESTION — Constant Reader writes: "Kindly tell me if there are any ill effects from the continued use of bitter cascara, one dram, every other night. My work is sedentary. I have a few blind hemorrhoids, and long daily walks are almost an impossibilit, also have several varicosey veins. I have many enlarged capillaries which are painful when I am on my feet so much."

ANSWER: I cannot advise the continued use of any laxative. As you have hemorrholds, varicose veins, and enlarged capillaries, it is evident that your whole circulatory system is in a bad condition, and that you require a proper dietetic and exercise regime in order to bring about an improvement of your circulation.

QUESTION: M. P. R. writes: "Is snoring a disease? If it is, can it be cured?"

ANSWER: Snoring is a symptom of a certain condition of your system, and simply indicates that you have an excess of mucus which is being deposited in your nose, and the nose is thereby closed too much while you are sleeping, and you are forced to breathe through your mouth. The continual flapping of the soft palate makes the peculiar snoring noise. It can always be cured by the fasting and diet treatment.

QUANAH NOTES

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, May 1.—One of the largest community gatherings that Quanah ever held was staged here Friday afternoon in celebration of National Child Health day. Miss Beatrice Avery, county health nurse, called the meeting and the affair was under her direction. Something like three thousand children took part in the parade and other activities. At 2 o'clock the children were formed in parade order nad headed by the Municipal band, marched through the business section of the city. Many decorated automobiles and floats were on hand, each representing some phase of child health. The children carried banners and sang songs as they passed. A health play and Maypole dances were given on the court house lawn. The children showed much interest and the country schools were all represented.

At the invitation of Mrs. Lon V. Smith of Floydada, who is general chairman of the biennial meeting of the Federated Club Women, which meets in San Antonio in 1928, the Ladies' band of Quanah has been asked to play. This is quite an honor, and the members of that organization feel it so. This is the only ladies' band in Texas, and was organized about three years ago. They furnished the music for the Seventh district of Federated clubs, which recently held their convention here.

At a meeting of the city council Tuesday night the contract was left for the paving of sixteen blocks. The contract was given the Burkhart Construction company of Wichita Falls, and is to be two and a half inch brick with reinforced five-inch concrete base. The work will begin at an early date. The streets to be paved are Seventh, Cain, Mercer and Fourth streets. Eddy and Green are ready with petitions, but were too late to be acted on at this meeting.

As a result of the $80,000 bond issue passed at an election in Quanah Tuesday, the high school of this city is to be enlarged and improved. An auditorium is to be added with a seating capacity of 1,500. Plans are to begin at once for the work, to be completed in time for the coming school year in October.

"Be Yourself" First Step On Road To Popularity, Says Dorothy Dix

If You Want Boys to Flock Around Don't Be Too Eager, or Clever, or Imitate Some Other Girl Who Is Popular: Just Be Yourself; Have Welcome on the Mat, but Don't Kiss Him in Gratitude When He Calls.

A pretty young girl wants to know why she is more popular with old men and married men than she is with boys of her own age.

There may be several reasons for this, daughter. You may be more mature than the boys of your own age. Flapperism isn't a question of years. It is a matter of temperment. There are grandmothers who are still girlie-girlies and on a mental par with rah-rah college boys, and there are girls still in their teens who are settled and sedate and poised and who have nothing in common with lads in their salad days.

A woman much older than a boy can always attract him if she will, because she knows all of the arts and wiles of flirtation and how to play upon his vanity and rouse his emotions, but the young-old girl lacks this experience and wisdom. She is mentally too old to play childish games with a boy and yet not old enough to know how to play the love game, and so she falls between the stools. She is neither fish nor flesh nor good red herring —neither pal nor sweetheart to the youth of her own age, and so they pass her by for some girl who is as callow as they are or some woman years older than they are whom they worship as a divinity.

Perhaps you fail to attract the boys of your own age because you are more intelligent and better educated than they are. Grown-up men like women who have brains and who carry an interesting line of conversation. They enjoy as companions girls who read and think and are well informed, but the average youth would run faster from a girl with a high brow than he would from one afflicted with leprosy.

He wants a girl who will chatter as meaningiessly as a sparrow, who will giggle over his inane jokes, who has the latest hair bob and the shortest skirt, who can do the most wiggles in the Charleston and who is pretty and peppy and just as silly and ignorant and inconsequent as he is.

Indeed, his overweening sense of masculine superiority to everything feminine causes him to demand a girl who has less intelligence than he has, and that's why the less a girl knows the more popular she is.

She makes the boys feel big and wise and important, and they flock around her, while the clever, well-educated, well-read girl makes them feel at a disadvantage. So they leave her at home to contemplate her college degree while they date up the beautiful-but-dumb.

But most likely the reason why you attract old men and married men instead of boys your own age is because you are simple and natural and unaffected with the men whom you are not trying to please, while you are artificial with the boys you are trying to attract.

There are girls who, in their overanxiety to attract men, repulse them. With women or with married men they are delightful; they are natural, sincere—just themselves.

Let a young man come along however, and their whole manner changes. They pose for his benefit. They affect airs and graces that are foreign to them. They put on mannerisms that sit awkwardly on them. The very tones of their voices are altered.

I have seen girls, if they had been with another woman, wouldn't have batted an eye if they met a roaring lion coming down the road, but who went into hysteries of fright at the sight of a mouse if there was a man around. I have seen girls whom the very smell of tobacco smoke nauseated heorically smoking cigarettes with an expression of agony on their faces because they thought men admired sports. I have seen quiet, demure, ladylike girls acting like hoodlums because they believed that that was the way to make a hit with men.

Now, there are men who, like clinging vines to hang on to them and men who enjoy girls wha are sports and men who like wild women, but the woman has to belong naturally to that type. She is only attractive when she is the real thing. Nobody wants her when she is a camouflged article. No man likes insincerity in a woman. No man admires the poser or the pretender.

And that's why the girl falls down who is so eager to please men that she tries to be what she thinks they want her to be. If she had just been herself they would have been acted to her as are the old men and the married men, who know just how sweet and nice she is when she isn't strutting her stuff.

Or perhaps, daughter, the reason you do not attract men is because you are so eager for their attentions that you scare them away. Perhaps from being the pursued you have turned into the pursued and they flee from you as from a deadly peril.

It is not easy for a girl to strike just the right note, to show the exactly proper amount of psychological pleasure in a man's attentions and keep her welcome at the precise temperature where it neither freezes him out nor boils over in joy at his beginning to notice her. If there ever was a time when a maiden piqued a man's interest in her by flouting him and when the colder a woman was to a man the hotter his passion sizzled, that day has passed. Lady Disdain would never be asked to step out by the modern young man.

But on the other hand, a girl does queer her chances by running after a man too much and being too grateful for condescending attention. No man gets any thrill out of throwing an invitation to a girl who is sitting around waiting for it like a hungry dog for a bone. The date he gets the kicks out of is the one he has to scheme and struggle for.

And the only reaction that the man gets from the girl who hounds him from place to place on the telephone, demanding to know why he doesn't call and when he is going to call and won't he call tomorrow night or the next night, or the next night, is to make him determined not to be coerced into doing anything he doesn't want to do or to take any girl out until he gets good and ready.

So there you are, daughter. And if you want to attract a young man of your own age, the best advice I can give you is not to try to scintillate—just be yourself. Have welcome on you doormat, but don't fall on a boy's neck and kiss him in gratitude when he comes to see you.

TROOP FOUR.

The Pirates, John Tevis, scoutmaster, won the Jamboree Friday night with fourteen pointes and carried off the plaque and two pennants. This troop is indeed proud of the boys who won the contests for Troop Four.

The troop came out with five points for visitors, three points for knife and axe, five points for The Laws, and one point for Advancements. Representatives of the Pirates were: L. D. Herbert, history of the flag; Herman Porterfield, compass; Thermon Conrey, flint and steel; Edwin White, knife and axe; and Bryant Creighton, the laws.

Plans are under way for a big overnight hike next Friday night and the Pirates expect to have an even beter time than they did on the last one.

TROOP TWENTY.

Troop Twenty, R. E. Davis, scoutmaster, will have the presentation of the troop charter May 8 at a special service at the Southern Presbyterian church. This will be an important event in the history of the troop.

A Parent's Night program is being planned for an early date.

Troop Twenty, a practically new troop, are justly proud of the record they made at the Jamboree. Three fourth places and one third place were taken and, although the fourth places did not count on the winning of the plaque, the boys feel highly elated.

The troop had as their guests Friday night at the Jamboree Mrs. R. E. Davis and her Camp Fire group.

TROOP EIGHY.

Troop Eight met at the Floral Heights Presbyterian church Friday evening and went in a body to the Presbyterian church, where the Jamboree was held. The troop did not win any points but there is always another time to look forward and some day before long Troop Eight is going to walk away with the plaque.

After the Jamboree the boys went back to the troop hall, where they were dismissed by Rev. McGaughey, assistant scoutmaster, with the pledge of allegiance and the scout laws and oath.

JAMBOREE.

The biggest Jamboree in the history of Wichita Falls was held Friday night at the First Presbyterian church. There were 316 Scouts, 392 visitors present.

The Jamboree was opened with a harmonica contest. Competition was strong and Bob Godfrey and Marvin Pierce were awarded prizes as being equally talented in the art of harmonica playing.

The contest in the history of the flag followed, with D. M. Burgan, scoutmaster of Troop Nine, in charge. Troop Eleven, Floyd Billingsby scoutmaster, took first place in this event, thus winning five points toward the plaque; Troop Ten, Bill Ward, scoutmaster, took second place, winning three points toward the plaque; Troop Fifteen took third place, winning one point toward the ploque.

The bugle contest was an interesting event and the judges had to do a good deal of thinking to decide whether Gordon Ellis, Harold Kimmell, or Red Allen was the best bugler in the city. They finally decided in favor of Red Allen and he was awarded the beautiful silver-plated bugle, awarded by the Rexcraft company to the best bugler in the city.

All the scoutmasters, although well known already, were introduced and the Scouts in each troop tried to see that their scoutmasters got the hardest applause.

Six boys, from Troops Ten and Thirteen, were initiated into the Boy Scouts by the Troop Thirteen initiation ceremony. John Kauffman, assistant scoutmaster, was in charge of the initiation. The most impressive part of the ceremony was at the last, when all the lights were turned out except a little one which illuminated the United States flag, and the entire assembly stood at attention and repeated the pledge off allegiance.

The Compass contest was to have been led by Leo Cook, scoutmaster of Troop 100, but, in his absence, the Scout executive conducted the game. Troop Twelve, Don Ross, scoutmaster, took first place in this event; Troop Three, Lee Loeffler, scoutmaster, took second place; and Troop Fifteen, A. King Davis, scoutmaster, took third place.

N. M. Clifford, treasurer of the Executive board of the Boy Scouts, made a brief talk in which he outlined plans for the camp to be constructed at Diversion dam. He stated that he was sure the scouts would like to have some part in the construction of this camp and that, if they wished, they might donate a small sum of money apiece.

Counts on attendance, uniforms, visitors, and advancements revealed the following results: Advancements, Troop Three first place; Troop Twelve, second place; Troop four third place. Attendance, Troop Fifteen, first place; Troop Sixteen, second place; Troop Twenty-two, third place. Uniforms, Troop Three, forst place; Troop Fifteen, second place; Troop Twenty, third place. Visitors, Troop Four, first place; Troop Thirteen, second place; Troop Two, third place.

Frank Isbell, head of the Boys' department of the Hub Clothing store, gave a talk on the bird house contest this department is putting on now. Over a hundred dollars worth of prizes will be given away and all the bird houses made for the contest will be put in the city parks.

A. King Davis, of Troop Fifteen, Kenneth Erwin of Troop Sixteen, and Floyd Billingsby of Troop Eleven were in charge of the first aid and steel contest. Troop Ten took first place, Troop Two, second place, and Troop Twelve third place.

The "Bird Boy", Marion Reesby of Troop Thirteen, delighted those present with his bird songs.

Bill McClure, scoutmaster of Troop Two, conducted the knife and axe contest in a manner that was educational to the spectators and showed some of the scouts that they could stand more study in that branch of Scouting. Troop Two took first place, Troop Four took second place, and Troop Sixteen took third place in this event.

Harold Naylor, second Eagle Scout of the city and representative of the Hoo-Hoo club, delivered a very interesting talk on forest preservation. In conclusion, all scouts present rose and pledged their loyalty to the forests of our country.

The last contest of the evening was the laws, with John Tevis, scoutmaster of Troop Four, in charge. Troop Four took first place, Troop Two second place, Troop Sixteen third place.

Final scoring was as follows: Troop Four, 14 points; Troop Three, 13 points; Troop Two, 12 points; Troop Fifteen, 10 points; Troop Twelve, five points; Troop Sixteen, five points; Troop Eleven, five points; Troop Thirteen, three points; Troop Twenty, one point; Troop Twenty-two, one point; Troops One, Five, Eight, Nine, Fourteen, Eighteen, Twenty-four, and One Hundred did not score at all.

TROOP THREE.

Troop Three met at the First Methodist church Friday evening and marched in a body to the Jamboree, where places were assigned.

The following boys represented Troop Three in the contests: Homer Lee, the flag; J. G. Dixon, bugling; Harold Kimmell, bugling. The troop had twenty-five scouts present and twenty-four were in uniform and won the pennant for attendance. The troop took first place in advancements and fourth in fire by flint and steel, in which Rollin Dixon represented the troop. Melvin Edmonds made a good showing in knife and axe, although he did not make any points for the troop. James Neal Walker represented the troop in the scout laws.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

James Boyle, scoutmaster of Troop Five, requests that the troop have a large attendance next Thursday, as final plans are to be made in regard to the troop hut which is to be erected on the four acres of land that were donated to the troop.

TROOP TEN.

The scouts of Troop Ten had a wonderful time last week-end, when they went to Craterville Park. As the boys were weary from the long ride and about to starve to death, according to their story, supper was the first thing on the program.

Officials who were in charge stated that the bunch was hard to get to sleep and hard to wake up the next morning. After breakfast Saturday morning they climbed Rattlesnake Mountain, one of the highest mountains in the range.

In the afternoon quite a number of tests were passed and skating was the favorite sport.

Sunday morning a baseball game was played between the scouts of Troop Ten and the Camp Fire Girls of Chillicothe, Okla. The score was 14-6 in favor of the scouts.

A nature study hike was taken, when Mr. Rush of Craterville Park described the wood and leaves of the following trees: Walnut, pecan, American white elm, sumac, dogwood, postoak, blackjark oak, chiltam wood. Upon their return from the nature study hike most of the boys went skating again but J. E. Parks and Frank Rush Jr., gathered specimens of woods for the troop museum.

Mr. Otis Stehlik donated the ticking and Mr. Robinson the making and the stuffing for some mats for athletics. This is a gift the troop appreciates very much, as some good may be gotten out of it.

TROOP THIRTEEN.

Troop Thirteen, John H. Kauffman, scoutmaster, held their regular meeting Wednesday night at Temple Israel.

The jamboree was discussed and spent the bigger part of the evening in assigning boys to patrols and passing tests. A feature of the meeting was a visit to the troop of a new troop committeeman, Mr. Franklin, who is also appointed Assistant Scoutmaster of the troop.

A hike was planned for 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when they will leave Temple Israel in the scout truck and go to a camping site and cook supper, after which they will have a camp fire program.

The scouts of Troop Thirteen wish to thank Troop One of Petrolia for coming to the jamboree in a body Friday night as guests of Troop Thirteen. This was a sure enough good turn and helped Troop Thirteen win second place in the pennant for visitors.

TROOP ELEVEN.

Troop Eleven, the live wire troop, had twenty-seven scouts in attendance at the jamboree Friday night. Bob Godfrey and A. R. Tyson entered the harmonica contest and both demonstrated unusual skill in this line. Red Allen, "The Flaming Youth," won the silver-plated bugle and the troop is just proud of him.

Allen Gough represented the troop in the laws contest and, although he failed, the troop is proud of him because he tried. Red Allen went out for knife and axe but was too lazy to put his knife in his pocket so lost out. Bod Godfrey went out for flint and steel.

TROOP TWENTY-FOUR.

Troop Twenty-four, the "Wolf Pack," Frank O'Neil, scoutmaster, held patrol meetings and instruction periods Thursday night at the East Side Presbyterian church. Do they know their Morse? "Dunt esk." There are sixteen points of the compass north and fifteen others.

Friday night Troop Twenty-four attended the jamboree and were duly impressed. Bugling is contagious and the Pack feels the need of a trumpeter—one who can show flaming youth his "do-mi-sol-do."

Saturday morning the Pack went on the trail of athletic glory. Running, jumping and panting were the events of the meet.

Outdoor meeting next Friday night. "Be Prepared," two matches, two potatoes, one-fourth pound of meat. (No weiners, please.)

Flag Presented.

A very lovely gift was received Saturday morning from Mr. Kennedy of Perkins-Timberlake company. A flag of the United States of America was presented to the Boy Scouts. This is a gift to be proud of and we are sure all scouts in the city will join in thanking Mr. Kennedy and Perkins-Timberlake for this gift.

Thousands Flee As Levees Fail

on an instant's notice, according to Dr. William R. Redden, national Red Cross medical officer.

As the flood waters roll southward, forcing added thousands to evacuate, it was feared they would leave pestilence behind. Insanitary conditions will be multiplied, health authorities said.

Came reports to relief headquarters here today that Vicksburg, Miss., was waring a great struggle to prevent a flooding of that city's industrial section along the water front.

Fight For Industries

Guards are posted there day and night, watching for evidence of breaks in the levee or "sand boils." As the pressure on the levees becomes stiffer, with the rising water, the raging stream already has forced water under the levee. This is called a sand boil. As soon as such a "boil" appears, a circle of sand bags is built around the rising water to the height of the main stream. Once the water rises to that point, the boil has been checked. Fear that a boil will break through before it can be remedied has resulted in the watch along the river.

As most of Vicksburg rests on a high bluff, there is no danger of a general flood there, but millions of dollars worth of property hang in the balance along the water front.

The water is steadily rising at Vicksburg, and the crest was said to be still several days away. The main crest in the Mississippi has yet to register its full force at Vicksburg, as well as the main swell in the Yazoo river.

Army engineers here today frankly admitted they expect more breaks in the main levee on the Mississippi river below Vicksburg.

FOUR DROWN AS BOAT TURNS OVER

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 1. (AP) Four white men were drowned when their small boat overturned in the overflow waters a few miles north of Vicksburg, according to a report made today to Red Cross headquarters here.

The dead:

S. D. Lee, Valley Park railroad section foreman.

William Beach, Valley Park, levee contractor.

C. S. Mullen, 18, Onward, Miss., and Roger Yates, Vicksburg, telephone lineman.

BREAKING OF LEVEES FAILS TO AID NEW ORLEANS

By Universal Service.

NEW ORLEANS, Maq 1.—The benefit to be realized by the city of New Orleans through the crumbling of the levees at Glasscock and Vidalia was minimized today in an official government statement issued by Dr. I. M. Cline, chief meteorologist of the district.

The water flowing through the crevasse above will eventually find its way back into the Mississippi and join with the flood crest that will menace New Orleans during the next two weeks.

Dr. Cline's bulletin, which was the most important official communication given out today, follows:

"With other levees, below Vicksburg, holding, unless the Glasscock crevasse widens, the Natchez stage will reach 58.5 feet. The water flowing through the Glasscock crevasse will return to the main streams, joining the floods of the Ouachita and Red rivers and intensifying the flood situation in the Atchafalaya and Mississippi rivers below Old river.

"The Mississippi at Vicksburg has raised six tenths of a foot in the last 24 hours, making 3.4 feet of rise in the last five days.

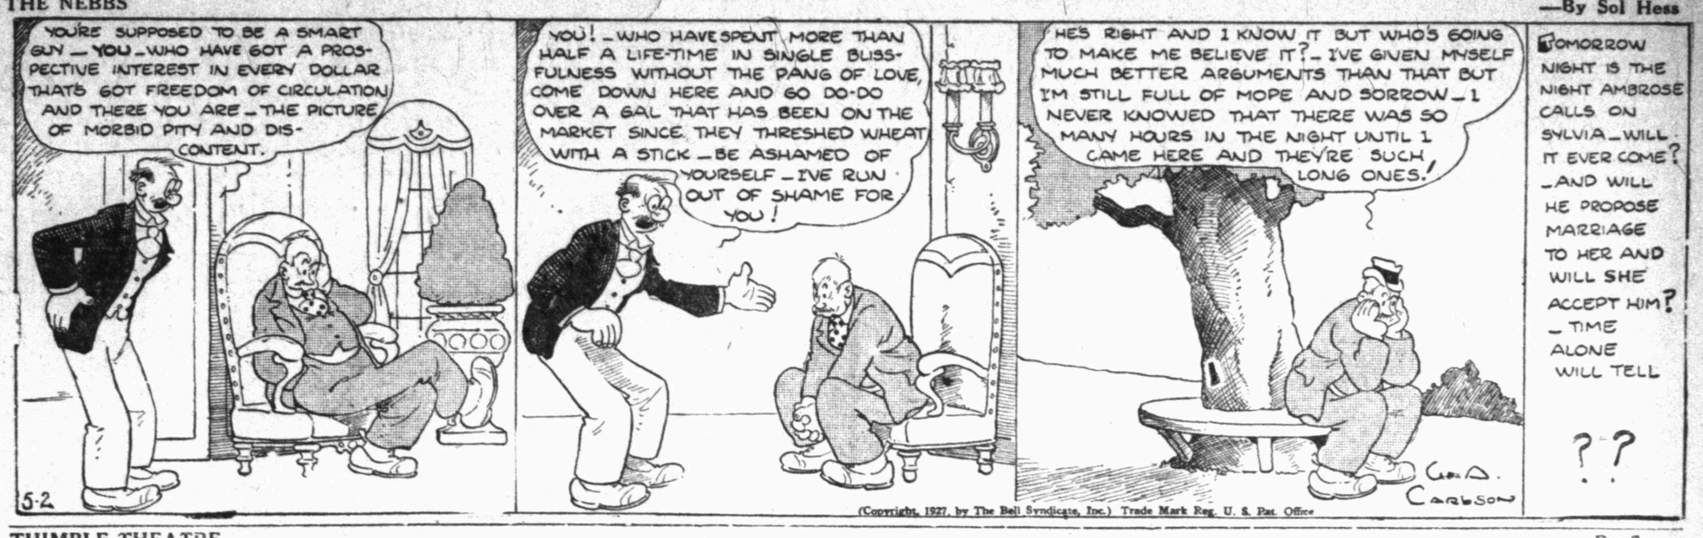

"With such conditions in sight all interests in the lowlands should take every precaution."

This message was telephoned to every city in the district and posted in conspicuous places in the state below Vidalia.

The crevasse at Poydras is now 1000 feet wide and both the government and engineers prediet that the river stage in New Orleans will show a marked drop by Monday or Tuesday.

YAZOO CITY, Miss., May 1. (AP) The Yazoo river levee at Eden, 20 miles north of here, broke this morning, flooding 10,000 acres of fertile fields and causing the evacuation of the countryside. Several hundred refugees were being brought to the camp here, which already sheltered 7,000 persons.

GOTTA HURRY

The only unpleasantry stuck on the Steers yesterday is while Wichita Falls was winning one, her nearest pursuer, Houston, copped a couple.

• • •

And it begins to look like the only way we can outrun the Buffs is bill a bunch of doubleheaders ourselves, and win 'em all.

• • •

We get our initial glimpse of these busting Buffs next Monday. Houston follows into Wichita Falls on the heels of the Exporters for what looms like the first "crucial series" of the season.

• • •

The Spudders perform for the ladies this afternoon in Dallas and Manager Williams is at a loss which chupker to choose. Jim Roberts, of course, should be the selection. But the manager wasn't decided last night.

• • •

Then back home Tuesday afternoon with the walloping Wacoans. Dell Pratt's combination has been, second to the Spudders, the greatest surprise team of the league. If Pratt's hurling corps can live up to anything near expectation, the Cubs will cause serious trouble for more than one would-be pennant contender.

• • •

Waco has surpassed expectations at bat and afield so far, but has not come through in the manner predicted from a pitching angle. The race is young, and Cub throwers may be right in there ere long.

• • •

What did I tell you about Fussell? He is credited with another victory over Dallas. Whenever a Fussell win over the Steers is predicted it is no idle guess. If this lefthander could hurl against Dallas every day, taking for granted a pitcher could work every day, in fair form, which, of course, he couldn't, Dallas never would break into the win column.

• • •

Fussell, if no serious injury happenes to him, stands in a fair way of topping the league's lefthanders, if not the entire loop, in games won this year.

• • •

MOW THEY WALLOP

Your haughty Spudders this morning are packing a .310 team batting average in their bludgeon bag. Yesterday's nine blows brought the otal base knocks up to 190. That's almost an average of 11 safeties to a game, figuring in that seven-inning tie here with Shreveport on the other 17 games we've played.

• • •

The bulk of the bludgeoning has been carried by Turgeon, Lapan, Fitzgerald, Lamb and Swenson. That, of course, isn't taking in several of the pitchers such as Estell and Payne who have been walloping at a mean gait the times they have been in the game.

Texas Electrics Capture Twilight League Opener

Francis' Double in Ninth Gives Kilowatts 5-4 Verdict Over Panhandle-Pitching Honors Even Between Conally and Andree

Charley Spragin's Texas Electric Service company nine copped the jump on the rest of the boys Sunday afternoon at Katy park, grabbing the Twilight league inaugural over Bill Hoehn's Panhandle refinery Longhorns by a score of 5 to 4.

The lads played bang-up baseball all the way, although hampered by a high wind that kept dust swirling from the diamond and made fly balls hard to judge.

A fair-sized crowd witnessed the melee. There were a number of notables present, among them being L. C. (Doc) Landon, league president; A. E. (Doc) Kelly, one of the ramrods; Hugh Cotner, the eminent league treasurer and baseball commissioner or something; Assistant Treasurer Leon Horn; and great men like Roy Carter, cop commish, and A. W. King, another politician.

Carter heaved the opening chunk and King did the catching, with Umpire Nealie Vaught explaining the maneuver in stentorian voice.

Francis Wins Game

Coyal Francis won the game for the Electrics, doubling in the ninth inning with Ross on base for the winning score.

The pitchers, Bill Andree and Snipe Connally, broke about even. Anyhow, each team tabbed only six base hits.

The work of Horton and Ross, catchers, was superb. Miller waged a sensational game at third base for the Kilowatts and Cox came through with perfect handling of 21 chances at first base.

Panhandle broke away to a lead in the first inning when Speck Roberts led off with a base on balls. Graves dumped a perfect sacrifice bunt down the first base line and was thrown out by Ross. Roberts then stole third and scored when Hinds rolled out to short. Rawls was hit with a pitched ball but was caught napping by Ross and was picked off first.

The Electrics came back and tied the count in their half of the first inning. Francis hit to short and was safe when Hinds booted the ball. Gordon laid down a sacrifice bunt to the box. Doc Allen ripped a single to left field and Francis scored.

The Longhorns again went into the lead in the second. Hohen beat out a high bouncer to the box. McMahon sacrificed him down a notch. Melear slashed a clean two-bagger to right into the cars parked along the outfield line nad Hoehn scored. Miller came up with two nice catches to retire the Panhandle battery.

The Longhorns came back in the fifth inning for two more runs. Connally beat out an infield hit to short. Roberts poked a single past short and Connally checked up at second. Graves flied to right and Connally went to third after the catch. Roberts then stole second. Hinds fouled out to Ross. Rawls slashed a single between short and third and continued on to second when the ball got through Blue. Connally and Roberts scored. Francis tossed out Hoehn.

Tied in Fifth

The Kilowatts came back in their half of the fifth and tied the count by chasing over three runs. Ross walked. Andree hit to Roberts, who let the ball get through him. Ross went to third and Andree to second on the play. Hinds made a nice running stop of Francis' infield hit, but was unable to get the runner. Ross scored and Andree went to third. Gordon bunted to Roberts and was tossed out at first, Andree scoring and Francis taking third. Allen grounded out, short to first, with no advance. Francis scored on a passed ball for the tying run. Houseman fouled to Horton.

The two teams then battled along at a tied score until the last of the ninth, in which the Electrics won the game. Connally pulled out of one bad hole only to fall into another.

Maurice Cox opened the inning with a slashing triple to right center. Ross smashed one back at the box, which Connally knocked down and trapped Cox between third and the plate. Ross pulled up at second before Cox could be run-down. Andree popped out to Horton. Francis then drove a double into right field and Ross raced home to end the game.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

Keep On Top of the Ball

As Told by Stars of the Game

By "BABE" PINELLI, Third Baseman, Cincinnati Reds.

To play third base successfully, the first thing to learn is to get in front of every ball possible. By doing so, a ball that takes a bad hop gives you a possible play. On the other hand, when played to either side, nine times out of ten the ball is not fielded or judged perfectly and the play is lost. The batter should be studied, noticing to which field he hits more often.

If the batter is a dead left field hitter, play closer to the line; if he hits mostly to right, move nearer the shortstop. Always be alert for bunts and until there are two out, play a few feet ahead of the bag, particularly with a left-handed hitter up, with a man on first and no outs. Try to handle a hard bunt with speed for a force play at second.

Study the different hitters who are fast. Look for a bunt then field accordingly. If a hitter is slow of foot and seldom bunts, play him a few feet back of third base. This enables you to cover more territory. Above all things have lots of pep and always bear in mind how many outs there are during the game.

Grip and Gorman Ready For Battles

Charles Declares He's Not Jealous of Bull, But—

"Who's the ugliest? Why, that doesn't matter," declares Charley Grip, the well-known Buffalo bullet-head. "I never claimed to be handsome. Now, they got it out I'm jealous of this guy Montana. Well, I ain't. Anyhow, if I really ain't quite as good-looking as he is, I'm going to attend to that right soon," and Charley grinned a self-satisfied grin.

Grip is matched with Bull Montana in the feature bout of the wrestling association's outdoor inaugural Tuesday night in the new arena on Indiana between Tenth and Eleventh. Grip, as every Wichita Falls fan who has seen them both knows, lacks quite a bit of being as handsome as the famous movie man. In fact, Charles has a much homelier mug than Bull, but Charles won't admit it. Says he isn't jealous, but those close to him declare he is.

Ever since Johnny Carlin, the Swede, wrote a letter in here saying that Grip would completely outclass Bull Montana in an ugly man's contest, Charley has been yapping for a whack at Bull. Just why he wants the bout, nobody knows for sure unless it be Charles really is beset by the green monster.

To make the sotry short, Montana worked in here a couple of weeks ago and Grip got a chance to look him over. He yapped for a match. He got it. Montana will outweigh Grip several pounds, and he proved himself a rough one in that other match, yet Charley seems anxious for the hour of the battle. Says he doesn't care how big Bull is, nor how rough. So there you are. Take your choice.

Jackie Gorman telephoned from San Angelo Sunday night, saying that he is in good shape for his match with Billy Gibson in the prelim and expects to drive overland from the West Texas city. Gorman never has failed to give the fans what they wanted—action!

Crowell Poloists Wallop Sooners

CROWELL, May 1.—Oklahoma university took an easy victory from Crowell at the Minnick polo tournament by a score of 13 to 5 Saturday. The game was very hotly contested at the beginning, and neither team scored for the first two chuckers. However, Oklahoma got away with four goals in the third. In spite of outscoring their opponents, the Oklahoma boys had a two-point handicap in their favor. Oklahoma showed the best team work of the tournament and played together so well that it was difficult to distinguish an individual star, although Jimmy Minnick Jr. and Charlie Stanley scored four goals each — both showed unusual offensive work. Jimmy Minnick Jr. is a son of Jim Minnick, who is sponsoring the tournament, and while just 17 years of age, he has been one of the outstanding players of the tourney. The game was unusual in the fact that it was a case of the two leading opponents bein— father and son. Jim Minnick Sr., who has long been regarded as America's cowboy polo player, was the outstanding player f— Crowell. Jimmy Jr. stopped a number of his father's plays that threatened to score by his flashy horsemanship and skill with the mallet. The lineup:—Oklahoma: Embree, Stanley, Harris and Minnick Jr. Crowell: Offield, Shirley, Minnic Sr. and Rogers.

SPUDDERS NIP STEERS AGAIN

Dallas Loses to Fussell By 9-3 Score

DALLAS, May 1—Obvious weakness of Dallas Steers Sunday in the outfield, coupled with tameness in the attack, lost the second game of the series to Wichita Falls Spudders, 9 to 3. Save for one promising inning, the eighth, which collapsed for lack of hits as suddenly as it had inflated, the Herd looked pale and anemic as compared with its old-time championship form.

Dallas bats were silenced almost totally by the good south paw wing of Fred Fussell, slim left-hander, who ever has been a jinx for the Steers. The Herd menaced Fussell late in the game when he slowed down, apparently irritated by a sore muscle caused from being hit by a batted ball. Herbert Cobb took a turn in the box and the Steers were just as helpless as ever.

Fussell led Wichita Falls' batting attack, connecting for a double and a single. There was only one other extra base blow, a two-bagger by Lapan. Dallas knocked out seven singles, but these were pretty widely scattered. Two hits by Brainard and a pair by Elsh went for naught.

Wichita Falls took a liking to the offerings of Perry and Pence, Dallas pitchers, and clustered nine hits at the most opportune scoring moments.

Black Spudders Beat Dallas, 3-1

The Wichita Falls Black Spudders took the second and final game of the series Sunday at Spudder park from the Dallas Black Giants by a score of 3 to 1.

Slim Charley Anderson, elongated Wichita Falls pitcher, held the Giants to five scattered hits and was master of the situation at all times. At one stage of the game, with none out, a runner on third and another on first, Anderson retired the side in order and without a score, making one of the putouts himself and making one of the assists to first base.

Floyd Cooper, diminutive Spudder right fielder, was the hitting luminary of the locals. He tripled in the first inning and doubled in the sixth. Otis Carter followed with a triple in the first, scoring Cooper. Carter scored on Zollie Wright's double. Wichita Falls scored again in the sixth on Cooper's double after McDaniel had drawn a base on balls.

W. P. Davenport, Wichita Falls first sacker, thrilled the customers with a number of sensational plays. Wichita Falls pulled a lightning double play in the first inning. Gray bounded to the box and Anderson threw to McDaniel at third. McDaniel tagged out a runner, and then heaved to H. Wright at second to catch Gray. The play was a thriller.

Manager Wright Batie at shortstop for the Black Spudders played a great game, too.

"POTATO CURE"

Shooting Follows Youth Forcing Mexican to Eat Stolen Tubers

BROWNSVILLE, May 1. (AP)—Retaliation for having administered the "potato cure" to a Mexican youth, is believed to have been the cause of a shot being fired across the Rio Grande which seriously wounded Richard Crow, a 16-year-old boy, residing on one of the big potato citrus fruit plantations below Brownsville.

A few days ago the boy caught a young Mexican stealing potatoes from the field. He forced the youthful Mexican to eat all the potatoes he could and then allowed him to return to his home on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. Saturday, while young Crow was grading potatoes close to the river bank the shot was fired from across the stream, the bullet striking him in the back of the neck. A number of field laborers heard the shot and saw the boy pitch forward on to the pile of freshly dug potatoes. They all aver that the shot was fired from the Mexican side of the stream.

Medical aid was called and the bullet which had lodged in the boy's throat was removed. Physicians stated that he would probably recover.

LOYALTY TO CALLES

May Day Celebration In Mexico Condemns Catholic Leaders.
By Universal Service.

MEXICO CITY, May 1.—Today's nation-wide May Day demonstration was one of loyalty to the Calles regime and of determined opposition to "forces of reaction."

The demonstration was held under the auspices of the Mexican Federation of Labor. It marked the launching of Secretary of Labor Morones' campaign to stimulate national industry through discrimination against products imported from abroad.

In the shadow of the massive Catholic cathedral, the oldest on the American continent, the workers paraded, bearing banners attacking "Catholic fanatics" who are held responsible for the religious uprisings against President Calles.

SOVIET BARS GENERAL.

MOSCOW, May 1.—The soviet government has refused Admiral Mark Bristol permission to travel through Russia anad Siberia enroute to his command in China on the grounds that the United States government would not allow Madame Kollontai, soviet ambassadress to Mexico, to enter America on her way to her post at Mexico City.

MILITIA UNIT TO BE MOVED

Frederick National Guard Company to Hobart

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, May 1—Company H, Oklahoma national guard, stationed in Frederick, will be moved to Hobart, according to information received Friday by Captain Tom T. McBride, from the office of Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett in Oklahoma City.

The edict follows a visit of Barrett to Frederick Thursday in which he checked activity of the company here and indicated it would be removed "for the good of the service at this time."

Government agents were transporting equipment to Hobart Friday.

Loss of interest in the unit was given by Barrett as his reason for its removal. The company has been in existence in Frederick nine years.

"Jac" Logan In Run Of Luck

Her Work in "King of Kings" Wins Star Fame

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—"The Kings of Kings" was a lucky break for Jacqueline Logan. It turned the eyes of every producer in filmland on her ability as a dramatic actress. Her work as Mary Magdalene is spoken of as an extraordinarily fine performance. What Miss Logan would do following the De Mille Biblical epic has been a mooted question. He has had many offers but it has remained for Columbia pictures to persuade her to cast her lot with them in "The Blood Ship."

Harry Cohn, the president of Columbia, has been determined to take some such definite step as this to prove that he has graduated from the quickies. "The Blood Ship" is the play which Hobart Bosworth has long had in mind as a screen drama. He will be featured and work will be started next week.

The Cohn boys are just itching to let the world see they are going in for bigger and better pictures. More power to them.

"Eastside, Westside," Al Smith's national anthem, is to be filmed within the next few weeks under the direction of Allan Dwan in New York. Governor Smith, who at this writing, is the choice of the democrats of the country for president, could use this film to exploit his cause, providing he does right by Tamanny. This is the song that is always sung whenever he appears.

Yet, in justice to truth, I must admit the stage play, "Eastside, Westside," upon which Fox will base its its opera, bears no relation to either Governor Smith nor politics. Still in the movies, they often change the theme to meet a title.

Virginia Valli, who seems to stand very well with the Fox company, ha sbeen engaged to play the leading feminine role. She will leave in a few days for New York. George O'Brien, who is to play the male lead is already on his way so is J. Farrell McDonald. He will stop in Chicago to be present at the motion picture theater owners' ball and Virginia Valli will do likewise, providing she finishes an F. B. O. picture which is now engaging her time and attention.

England is reaching out for its own. That is not surprising. I have often wondered why she did not try to get more of her people who have made good in this country. Arthur Maude, the producer of a series of colored short reelers based on famous paintings has been offered financial backing to come to London and make a tec arts colored film. Not only is Mr. Maude listening but he has made Francis X. Bushman an offer to star in his first London made film. Frank has come back strong. Canada is also making a bid for his services. He answers the question, "Can They Come Back?" Give the right roles. Frank knows his camera.

KAY SCORES QUITTER CLASS

Real Man Faces What World Brings, He Says

God hates a "quitter," John C. Kay said Sunday during his sermon to 292 attendants at the Kay Bible class in the Strand theater.

"Just so long as a man will look the world in the face," said the Rev. Kay, "and say, 'Bring on whatever you have got, I will face it,' he is a man."

A man can quit a job or resign from an office, but he cannot resign from life and still stay here, asserted the Rev. Kay.

"That is one job," he said, "that a man has got to face."

The sermon in full follows:

"We are glad, as we are always glad, to have these visitors here. Wichita Falls has somewhat of a cosmopolitan population. People come here from every where.

"I notice that the New York World says that the western people and the southern people are very slow mentally. That is, tha th takes six or eight months for a political question to soak through their heads. I think that is not true. The "world" said that they might read it and look at the pictures, but they would never understand it. They forgot, as a critic always forgets, that nearly a third of the population of New York City couldn't even read it at all. Criticism of one section of the country by another is one of the poorest things that you can indulge in. We have got one nation, and one people, and one flag. I have been over it a good deal in my time and it seems to me that most of them are doing the best they can. It is a mighty poor thing to think that our folks are the best folks or the wisest folks.

I see there is a gentleman here from Milwaukee. Those people up there took a frozen wilderness and made a great country out of it. They have got the best, and the most useful, and the most practical state university in this union. Their university enters into the lives of all their people and makes the whole business of the people its business. I think there is no state comparable to Wisconsin in its efforts in agriculture and in education. I want to say that to our friend from Wisconsin.

God Hates a Quitter.

Now, the lesson this morning is about a fellow who quit. Somebody said that God Almighty hates a quitter. I don't remember now who started that phrase, but I can think that it is true.

I think I mentioned it here before, but I will again. Do you know why the lion is called the king of beasts? In strength and ferocity he is not one-two-three to the grizzly bear. A big Bengal tiger can walk through a whole group of lions and, yet the lion is everywhere, in poetry, and in art, and in literature, used as a symbol of all that is the best in the animal kingdom. Why is that? I want to tell you why. It is because when a tiger makes a leap and misses his prey, he sneaks off. It is true with a great many other of the animals. But, the wounded lion, who is injured, and torn, and bleeding, and suffering, never quits coming forward as long as he can stretch one paw one inch forward. That is the lesson for humanity and the saying that the lion is the king among the beasts. He never, never quits and gives up.

Now, on this night of this lesson after Gethsemane, after Judas had sold his Lord, after the soldiers had taken away the King of Kings; this cold night Peter thought the end of all things in Christianity had come and he goes to where they had a fire burning to warm himself. Now, he was not a coward. He was not a physical coward, because that very night there, not two hours before, he took a sword right in the presence of the soldiers and the officers and cut off a man's ear. He wasn't that sort of a coward.

Don't Mind Physical Row.

Now, here are a lot of us fellows that don't mind a physical row. Some of us don't. We have got that kind of courage pretty universally in this country. Our war and all of our wars have proven that. And, while Peter had that kind of courage, he was lacking in another and more important kind of courage. His morale broke down. A man, I think, is all right as long as he doesn't give up. Just as long as he can look the world in the face and say: "Bring on whatever you have got, I will face it," he is a man. A great many more of us break down in that kind of courage than we do in the physical kind. Just quit. Quit, and, as the farmers say, "Take out and hang up the harness."

A lot of men have quit.

Now, you can quit a job of work, and you can resign an office, but you can't resign from life and still stay here. That is one job you have got to face. Men ought to face it cheerfully, boldly, having faith in the future. Have you got that! Why, I know a lot of fellows—not a lot, but I know some men that are afraid they are going to starve to death. I am satisfied there are men right under the sound of my voice that are wondering if they are ging to have enough to eat some time. Do you ever get that way! And, yet, in travelling over this country, you have never seen a tombstone over the grave of a man who starved to death in this country. Not that. Worrying about things like that is want of moral courage. It is worse. It is want of religious courage.

Peter was standing with his hands before the fire and a little girl came up before him and said: "Aren't you one of them?" "No, not me." "Were you not with this man of Galilee?" "No, somebody else." And don't make a good liar until he loses his moral courage and his stamina. And then this chicken commenced crowing. It seems to me that every time some of us hear a chicken crow, it is crowing to embarrass us. So, the next time you hear one crow, say to yourself, have, I—seven I—denied the Master! Have I run against his principles! Have I stood in the open places and said that I never knew Him! And, they said: "Oh, yes, you have got the language of the people of Galilee. You certainly were there." No," he said again. That is the trouble about a lie.

Two Lies for One.

If you tell one, every time you pass that place you have got to tell two more to get out of the first one. Now, what does he do when he tells this second one! Now, don't get to thinking Peter was a bad man. He was a better man than any of us. This is just an evil day of his. He said to himself: I must get away from this fire light. I am going out here on the porch in the dark, where they can't see me and where they can't know me. To bring that down to modern times, what Peter said was: "I am not going down to the church and face the preacher. I am not going to listen to people singing hymns. I am going out here with my sort of a gang and where the Christian people won't know me, and won't see me, and won't recognize me. A lot of fellows in the church do that. They say, I won't go down there. That white light that shines around the throne of God is shining too much in the church and I won't go down there. I feel more easy and more comfortable with a diffirent gang. "I am going out here where there isn't so much light." He did. And, then, the chicken commenced to crow again, and then he remembered that his Master had said that "Before the cock crows twice ye shall deny me thrice," and he commenced to cry. There is nothing breaks me up, like seeing a strong man cry. It is a terrible thing to see, to watch. But, out of his tears and out of his sorrow, and out of his weakness, came one of the strongest men of all times. It does a man good, sometimes, to get down a little bit low in his opinion of himself.

You know, Peter talks about this matter all through his gospel. He was always ashamed of it. He tells about what the Master had done for him and very little of what Peter had done for his religion. It seems to me it is better never to join the church, never to make any religious pretention, than it is to go in and enlist under that banner and then turn coward and quit. It seems to me that it might be safer never to join it at all; never to enlist at all. It might, I say, be safer to do that than to join and then quit.

Breaks Against It

Do you ever quit? Do you ever get to where you say: "It looks like everything is breaking against me?" You know how it is in baseball. When the shortstop lets one get by, they say that the breaks were against it. Or, three men strike out hand-running, or a fellow gets caught about eight feet off the base, the club and all the fans that belong in that particular section say that the "breaks were against them."

I am a believer in that doctrine that every man makes his own. I believe that I am just where I deserve to be in life. I am not of a fatalist along that line. I believe that every man makes his own way, and gets just as far in his heart of hearts he wants to go. I don't know whether that is so or not, but I do say that I believe it is so.

Yet, how easy it is for us to charge up our failures to somebody else. It is mighty easy to say that somebody didn't carry the load. Somebody failed me at the wrong time. Somebody didn't come clean, and therefore I failed. That is mighty easy. That is mighty human to do. I don't know how it is with you men out there, but with me, I would just a little rather charge it up to anybody in town than to myself. It was so with Martha and Mary when Lazarus died. They sent for the Savior, and He didn't come for a day or two, and the first thing they said to Him when He stepped up on the porch of this house where their dead brother lay was not that Lazarus ought to be living, not that he should not have died; not that his death was natural, nor anything like that, but they began to accuse the Lord, and said: "Lord, if thou hadst been here, this, our brother, had not died." And that has always been the cry of humanity. If somebody else had done his part; if somebody else had come up with his half of the load, we would have been better off.

Knowledge Necessary For Courage

Now, what does it take to make a courageous man—I mean a courageous religious man? What does it take? It takes some knowledge of the past, a knowledge of the Bible, a knowledge of humanity, to some extent, but more, and most of all, it takes faith in the future. Now, what does that mean? That means that the sun is going to rise in the morning right on time. It means that the grass is going to grow, and that the plant is going to mature in the wheat field, and that bees are going to dig the gold out of the mountains, and that the freight trains will run, carrying food, and that human labor will continue to perform its task, and that the teacher will continue to teach in the schools, and that the preacher will continue to preach religion in his pulpit, and that humanity is beating its way forward, onward and upward, and that the courageous man ought to look forward to the morrow as a better and brighter day.

BIBLE CHAUTAUQUA

Question of Creed Discussed at First Meeting Here.

"If God is the author of the hundreds of conflicting creeds which tear our world asunder into warring bands of sect and religion; then that God must be a God of confusion and the author of the same Babylon which the Christian Bible so strongly condemns. On the other hand, if creed is the author of God, a supreme being is a myth and not a reality."

Thus spoke Evangelist John D. Haynes at the Bible chautauqua tent located at Ninth and Brook, in his address entitled "Did God Make Creed, or Did Creed Make God." Mr. Haynes further declared, "If God be the author of creed or creed be the author of God, in either case the vicarious sacrifice of the only Begotten of the Father would be superfluous and a rank deception."

The speaker dealt quite extensively with what creed has done to separate man from man and race from race as well as to lead man away from the true God and divine truth. He said further "The needless divisions in the Protestant or Christian church is a shame, a disgrace and a hindrance to the work begun by the Reformation. I have spent more than seven years in Spanish-American republics and have felt the sting of just rebuke many, many times as the Catholic church cast at us Protestants the true accusation of claiming to be the true church and yet being at war on purely doctrinal and Biblical points."

QUIET DAY

Couples Seeking Marriage Licenses Only Court House Visitors

What's 20 miles when love's entered on the scene?

It t'wasn't nothing Sunday to the young ladies who had answered, "Yes," to the question pronounced by the two swains. "Ya' wanta hook up for life?"

To the court house went the quartet, of prospective entrants on the boat that sails the matrimonial seas in search of a brace of marriage licenses, but—

The county clerk's office was closed and the clerk was out of the city.

Sheriffs are allowed by law to do something else beside making arrests, and when Sheriff W. G. Bralley was called into conference by the prospective bridegrooms he suggested that Henrietta might have a few marriage licenses in stock.

So, to Henrietta, 20 miles away, swains and swainettes hied for the scrap of paper that only costs $1.75 but has cost many men thousands from what that scrap of paper started.

And that was the only event to break the routine at the sheriff's office.

NEGRO TO TRIAL

Allen is charged with shooting and killing Britton the latter part of 1926 during an argument between the two men. The accused man claims that he killed Britton in self defense.

Peculiar Character Arrested At Local Railroad Station

There was somewhat a comotion at the local railroad station Monday morning as it seemed that the conductor on the south bound train out of St. Louis had been having trouble with a peculiar person all the way over from Denton. He had wired local officers to be on hand to take charge of the man. The report was that this man would get off the train every time it stopped and make a run ahead of the train. Always he was in such a hurry to get to Wichita Falls that he could not wait for the train. He was almost like an insane man as he walked the isles of the coaches and urging the conductor to give him more speed.

The local police arrested the man and put him through "The Third Degree" at headquarters and finally he admitted that he had come all the way from Chicago and being unable to hire an aeroplane, he had to come on the "Slow Katy" and that he had come to Wichita Falls for a stay of ten days. He gave his name as "Bargain-Bill," said that he was the "Original" and that he would be with Williams Department Store during his Stay here. "You'll hear more from me," he shouted as he left Police headquarters and headed for Seventh and Ohio streets.—Adv.
