County superintendents attend Austin meeting

Local school superintendents met Monday in Austin with officials of the Texas Education Agency (TEA) to discuss the operations of the Mitchell County Education District (CED).

The meeting was the result of an invitation extended from TEA to the component school districts of the Mitchell CED, reported TEA public information director George Anna Price.

The meeting was held as an effort for the component school districts to work out their differences, she said, in hopes that the CED can operate with a spirit of cooperation.

Don Nimmo, superintendent of the Colorado Independent School

District (ISD); Glenn Sanders, superintendent of the Loraine ISD; and Sonny Hollis, superintendent of the Westbrook ISD; were all in attendance at the hour-and-a-half long meeting.

TEA officials including Julian Shaddix, assistant commissioner of school administration; Tom Anderson, deputy commissioner of operations and service; and Kevin O'Hanlon, general counsel representative, met with the local school district representatives.

The areas that were reported to have been discussed include the CED budget and business meeting procedure.

After discussing and explaining the issues and differences, TEA officials note, that it boiled down to the level and assessment of the Mitchell CED budget.

Shaddix and other TEA staffers asked the local superintendents to look carefully at the CED budget, after the meeting, to ensure that it is fair and equitable and also to look at the costs assessed to the component ISD's, to see if there is a better way.

TEA officials also discussed the manner in which CED business meetings are conducted, requested that the members refrain from the inferences and name calling that has made its way into the business sessions.

CED lawsuit heard by Texas Supreme Court

The lawsuit brought by 25 Mitchell County residents of the Westbrook Independent School District area against the Mitchell County Education District, which had been appealed, was heard by the Supreme Court of Texas on Tuesday morning.

Jim George, Jr. of the firm Graves, Dougherty, Hearon and Moody of Austin, represented the Mitchell County residents in the two and one-half hour hearing held in Austin.

George has previously said that the case is not a class action suit trying to shut down the school systems, but that 25 taxpayers are "telling the Legislature that they did wrong."

Defending the constitutionality of the taxing authority of the County Education Districts (CED) are attorney's Toni Hunter, assistant attorney general from Austin and Stephen Suttle of the Abilene firm, McMahon, Surovskittle, Buhmann, Cobb and Hicks, who is representing the Mitchell CED.

Much of Tuesday's court hearing involved the attorney's answering the judges' questions.

The Supreme Court is not bound by any time requirement in reaching an opinion on the case.

Community wide Thanksgiving service set for Sunday night

The annual Community Thanksgiving Service, sponsored by the Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance, will be held at 6 p.m. on Sunday, Nov 24, at the First Baptist Church, at the corner of Third and Chestnut Streets in Colorado City.

Rev Lloyd Johnson, pastor of the Saint Luke United Methodist Church of Colorado City, will deliver the sermon.

James McLeod, minister of the First Baptist Church of Loraine, will lead the singing at the community service.

Special music will be provided by a Community Choir and by the First Baptist Church Handbells.

Over a dozen Christian churches participate in the Ministerial

Alliance and support the special services of Christiana worship in an effort to demonstrate the unity of spirit.

A special offering will be taken at the service, the funds of which will be used to support benevolent ministries for the poor and needy in this area.

"The need has been great this year," said Ministerial Alliance president Dr. Travis Monday, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church. "All of our local helping agencies are in desperate need of the generosity of Mitchell County residents."

A fellowship with punch and cookies to be served will be held in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church after the service.

Kelley Fall Festival slated for Saturday

The annual Kelley Elementary Fall Festival is set for Saturday, November 23. Meals will be served beginning at 5:30 p.m. and the other festivities of the evening will begin at 6 p.m.

This year's meal will consist of a choice of turkey and dressing or steak fingers. Either of the main entrees are served with green beans, mashed potatoes, rolls and iced tea. Adult tickets for the meal are $3.50 and children/senior citizen tickets are $2.50.

Other activities to be conducted as part of the festival include face painting, balloon characters, Bingo, treasure hunt, obstacle course, golf, clown toss, cake walk and candyland. Helium filled balloons, popcorn and cokes will also be offered.

All activities, other than the meal, will require 25 cent tickets and most of the games require only one ticket.

Festivities for the evening will conclude at 8 p.m. sharp, so event organizers urge those attending to show up early.

Christmas Parade plans underway

The annual Christmas Parade featuring an appearance by Santa Claus, which is sponsored by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, will be in conjunction with other local activities on Sat, Dec 7.

The theme of this year's Christmas parade will be, "Twas the night before Christmas," and chamber officials are urging float entrants to incorporate this theme in their presentations.

"There is room for more participants," said chamber president Marsha Burrus-Jordan.

Those groups or individuals who have, or are interested in constructing, floats as well as the owners of antique cars and tractors, are encouraged to enter them into the parade which will begin forming at the parking lot of the First Baptist Church at 3:15 p.m. on Dec 7.

Several local businesses are staying open until 7 p.m. on that day in recognition of Christmas shoppers. They include:

Sports Card and Crafts, Higginbotham-Bartlett Company, Sears Roebuck and Company, Colorado Floral, Free's, Ramage Appliance and TV, Perry Brothers, C R Anthony and Company, Cotton Patch Casuals, Rowe's and Corky's True Value Hardware and Automotive.

At 7 p.m. on Dec 7, the Christmas tree lighting ceremony will be conducted at the Mitchell County Courthouse.

MUSEUM DONATIONS: Staff Seargent Mark Miles, Desert Storm veteran, donated artifacts from the War to the Heart of West Texas Museum which included the uniform he wore, an Iraqi helmet, a Russian made-Iraqi gas mask and a piece of the propaganda material that was used during the days of war.

Desert Storm soldier shares war experiences

Mark Miles, staff seargent in the United States Army, has returned to Colorado City following duty for which he received the Army Commendation Medal for his involvement in the action of Operation Desert Storm.

Miles was deployed to the gulf region for a total of 131 days, during a period which the battalion traveled over 176 miles into Iraq territory.

He was assigned to the 4th Battalion, 5th Field Artillery Regiment of the 1st Infantry Division which was stationed in Fort Riley, Kansas, before the deployment.

The First Division is commonly known as the Big Red One, a division which has served the country since the Revolutionary War.

The Big Red One was called upon to prepare for deployment to Saudi Arabia on Nov 8, 1990.

The staff seargent served as the Ammo Seargent for the division and was in command of the Charlie and Foxtro sections of the platoon during the gulf war, which extensively used the Copperhead weapons system during the days of the war.

On Jan 4, 1991, Miles was among the advance party that landed in Saudi Arabia as preparations for Desert Shield/Desert Storm were taking place.

The flights from Topeka,

Kansas to Damman, Saudi Arabia took approximately 20 hours.

The Division stayed at Khobar Towers - referred to as 'the MGM' - until approximately Jan 21, four days after the air strike by the coalition forces had begun on Iraq.

During this time the soldiers were under several SCUD attacks.

The battalion conveyed out of the port of Damman and traveled 340 miles to Tactical Assembly Area Roosevelt which was in the Arabian desert. From that position they prepared their equipment and themselves for the ground assault.

On February 17, Miles was among the Division 1 men who entered into combat operations with

Road work continues year-round in county

The work of a county commissioner is controlled by a variety of state and federal regulations which are apt to change, as they have from day-to-day, but a commissioners' assignment to lead road repairs in his precinct has been one of the longest standing duties delegated by the state constitution.

Mitchell County has approximately 135 miles of county roads in each of the four precincts, which makes the road-work process a never-ending job, commissioners' noted.

The procedures used in

rebuilding a road comprise a slow process. Commissioners' noted that approximately 10 miles per precinct a year of county roads are rebuilt, which equals about a mile per month.

The process involved with the rebuilding of road was explained by precinct 4 commissioner Bill Preston at an on-site location of work which is currently being done at a five-mile stretch of county road

ROAD WORK: County employees are shown using the equipment which grades, background, and the grid-roller, foreground, to crush the mounds of road material which has been stationed at the section of county road 464, in eastern Mitchell County, that is currently being repaired.

COMPLETED ROAD: The result of the county employees road crew efforts result in a road with the condition of this section of county road 464. Approximately 10 miles of renovation work is completed per precinct each year.

New books at library

Among the new books available for check-out at the Mitchell County Public Library are "Scarlett," "Me," and "Flowers In The Rain."

Even though any novelist might have a hard time living up to the expectations for a sequel to "Gone With The Wind," Alexandra Ripley is a talented author who has written a good story entitled "Scarlett."

"Scarlett" takes up where "Gone With The Wind" left off. The Civil War is over and the South is trying to get back on its financial feet.

Rhett and Scarlett continue to squabble as they did in the first years of their marriage. Scarlett moves to Charleston and then to Savannah sampling the social life, and even takes a trip to Ireland to visit the O'Hara clan.

Along the way, Scarlett receives a writ of divorce from Rhett just as she discovers she is expecting his child. Fans of "Gone With The Wind" will not want to miss this sequel.

In "Me," an autobiography, Katharine Hepburn begins with her early years surrounded by a strong but, perhaps, eccentric family, moves through the ups and downs of her early career, spotlights her most famous movies, and concludes with her relationship with Spencer Tracy.

Hepburn delivers all kinds of wry moments and a most interesting cast of characters.

While "The Shell Seekers" and "September" have made Rosamund Pilcher famous as a novelist, she has been writing short stories for over forty years.

In "Flowers In The Rain," Pilcher is sure to please old and new followers with a collection of short fiction.

Local superintendents were also reminded of their duties and the professional responsibility involved with their job and were urged to conduct the business of the CED in as a professional of a manner as possible.

TEA officials noted that the meeting was voluntary on the part of all participants and stressed that nothing illegal or any violation of the law had resulted in the mediation effort.

464. The current project began in August with the preparation of the surface and right of ways so that equipment could be brought in, Preston explained.

After the preparations have been completed, road material from the pit is hauled to the location where it is mounded along the roadside.

From that point, a grader slices the mounds of material for the grid roller to run over so that the larger pieces of stone are broken.

The roller makes several passes over the material, which is usually done in one-mile sections, before the grader makes another pass to take another slice from the mounds of road material.

This procedure is repeated by the precinct crew of 4 regular and 2 part-time employees until the road is rebuilt.

Without interferences to their work, such as bad weather, the crew will be able to complete the rebuilding of a mile of road in one month.

an artillery raid that went 4 kilometers into Iraq.

The purpose of the raid was to locate and kill the indirect fire capabilities of the Iraqis.

Several days later, on February 24, the battalion was sent into Iraq to provide direct support to spear head the ground offensive.

Iraqi prisoners of war would later describe the artillery fire during this period as terrifying and had labeled it as "steel rain."

Division 1 struck hard and deep into Iraq, covering over 200 miles of desert in only 100 hours. During this period over 5000 rounds of artillery was fired and over 6000 enemy prisoners of war were captured.

Following the cease-fire on Feb 27, the division moved into an occupation role just south of Safwan, Iraq. The mission at this point included participating as the security force for General Schwarzkopf's cease-fire talks with the Iraqi military.

The Division left the gulf region on May 17 to return to Fort Riley, Kansas.

At the completion of his leave, the fourteen year service veteran will travel to a new duty assignment in Germany.

All students and faculty members at Colorado Middle School personalized a paper hand for Red Ribbon Week. These hands were linked together on a first floor wall in the school building. They symbolize that "CMS JOINS HANDS AGAINST DRUGS".

Tony Coronado was a simulated fatality of a drunk driver at CMS.

CMS students experience drunk driver tragedies

Every 22 minutes somebody, somewhere in the United States, is killed by a driver who is under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

During Red Ribbon Week at CMS, teacher's aide, Leigh Ann Erwin, pretended to be a "Drunk Driver". At 8:30 on Tuesday, October 22nd she began her hit on innocent victims. Every 22 minutes a student or teacher was randomly chosen to have their face painted white and their forehead branded with a black X. This was to symbolize that they were a fatality of a wreckless, drunk driver. The voluntary victims were: Edward Rosas, Frieda McKnight, Krissy

Crawford, Jessica Sanford, Jill Willingham, Dan Morgan, Larry Garrett, Adam Wood, Sonia Garrett, Lori Nail, Louisa Silva, Robert Garza, John Richardson, Tony Coronado, Joe Watlington, Gabe Vasquez, Veronica Silva, Caci Joiner, Josh Stone, and Linzee Hammond.

The following day at CMS the victim's names were announced over the intercom and the student body reflected on what their school would actually be like if these persons were really dead. From 8:30-3:30 there were 20 people killed because of drivers influenced by drugs or alcohol. Please join CMS in their fight against drunk driving.

1200 drilling permits issued in October

AUSTIN, Texas -- A total of 1,235 drilling permits were issued by the Railroad Commission in October, compared to 1,474 in October 1990, according to RRC Chairman Lena Guerrero. In September the total was 951.

The October total included 712 permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 42 to re-enter existing well bores, 43 to deepen existing holes, 166 to plugback existing holes, and 85 for other wells. Operators were also issued 187 amended drilling permits.

Guerrero said permits issued for new oil and gas holes in October included 39 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 25 in the Refugio area (District 2), 48 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 50 in deep South Texas (District 4), 16 in East Central Texas (District 5), 50 in East Texas (District 6), 83 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 96 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 104 in the Midland area (District 8), 81 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 87 in North Texas (District 9), and 33 in the Panhandle (District 10).

In the first ten months of 1991, the Commission has issued 11,697 drilling permits, a nine percent decrease from the 12,884 issued during the same period of 1990.

The 1,235 permits issued in October included 599 oil permits, 202 gas permits, 377 oil and gas permits, 35 injection permits, five disposal permits, and 17 other permits.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas:

- Always have qualified service people install, regularly check and maintain all gas heaters and appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation, ventilation, and operation.
- Always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.
- Always keep flammable materials and substances away from gas heaters and appliances. Remember, a pilot light is constantly burning.
- If you smell gas in your home, or know you have a gas leak, follow these rules:
 - Everyone should leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
 - Do not switch anything electrical on or off.
 - Do not use your telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity).

- Do not strike a match or do anything else that might cause a spark.
- Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.
- Since gas lines run underground, you should take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to:
 - Put in a new fence.
 - Install an underground sprinkler system.
 - Perform any major landscape renovation.
- Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas Office, and we'll help you avoid any potential problems.
- If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

At Lone Star Gas Company the safety of our customers is important. Please follow these simple guidelines and enjoy the benefits of natural gas.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

It was November 12, 1947, when newlyweds Joe and Carol Fellner pulled into Colorado City, Texas. They were on their honeymoon after leaving Minnesota, en route to California.

Unfortunately, the trip was stopped short just west of Colorado City when their 1946 Ford, driven by Mrs. Fellner, overturned.

"I hit the red gumbo clay that was across the road," Mrs. Fellner recalls, "and I didn't know that stuff was as slippery as ice in Minnesota."

The honeymooners ended up in Colorado City while their car was taken to Big Spring for repairs. Fortunately, neither of the Fellners was seriously injured.

"We did a lot of walking around town and I remember taking in a dance," Mrs. Fellner said smiling.

Neither Carol nor her husband could remember the name of the hotel in which they stayed. And, they estimated they were here for "about a week". The bride of four days remembers she "swiped an ashtray" from the hotel. It was a "little black metal one."

And she laughingly recalled "the place we used to go eat was just a small place down on Main Street with .99¢ T-bone steak dinners. We would buy food and take it back to our room."

Well, that was 44 years ago and as the Fellners wedding anniversary neared this year, they decided to re-trace their route of 1947. And that's how they happened back in Colorado City earlier this month.

Does the town look anything like they remembered it?

"Kinda, because we expected big changes, but we knew there would probably be old buildings (still standing) you know," Carol said.

"We just wanted to see what the town was like after 44 years," her husband, Joe, added.

When the Fellners checked into the Villa Inn, they by chance mentioned to desk clerk, Jo Yancy, why they were here. Ms. Yancy later notified Mayor Jim Baum who paid a visit to welcome the Fellners back to Colorado City.

And to present them with a key to the City.

In the meantime, Helen Ezell heard an interview on the radio with the Fellners and her mind snapped back 44 years ago when she remembered a young couple eating at the Best Yet Cafe, where Helen worked. The newlyweds were marooned in Colorado City while their car was being repaired. They were the Fellners.

"They had a car wreck and they would come in the Best Yet and get orders to carry out, Helen remembered. "We didn't have styrofoam containers in those days, so I let them take the food back to the hotel on plates. But I made 'em sign a ticket for the plates!"

Helen knows the couple was the Fellners because she and her husband, Charles, had just recently returned from their own honeymoon. (The Ezells had eloped, but that's another story).

When Helen tried to reach the Fellners at the Villa, alas, they had already departed for Minnesota.

This past Monday, Mayor Baum received a warm letter from the Fellners. Since returning home, Carol has located that "black metal ashtray" and she knows she and her husband stayed at the "Gasnell Hotel," which was located where the C.C. Thompson room currently stands.

Also, the Fellners related that they had kept a daily log of their travels in 1947. Instead of staying in Colorado City a week, as they had remembered, they were here for 16 exciting days and nights. And Mrs. Fellner says she would like to return the Gasnell ashtray, if the museum wants it.

As for the key to the City, she writes, "It will have a special place in our home and our hearts. Thanks again for making our 44th anniversary a very memorable one!"

And so ends our saga of Joe and Carol. He's a retired carpenter and she recently retired as a teacher's aid.

For a brief period of time last week they re-lived a part of their lives. This time, Joe Fellner did the driving.

And Carol didn't have to swipe the key to the City. Come back y'all, we're our kind of folks.

Hill is chosen finalist for recycling award

Bambi Hill, leader of Brownie Girl Scout Troop #148 in Colorado City, was recently judged one of 15 finalists out of 180 entries in the 1991 Keep America Beautiful Recycling Awards. Ms. Hill, who was nominated for the award by the West Texas Girl Scout Council, began the recycling effort as a troop project back in 1990 to make the girls in the troop aware of how much waste an average family generated. Each girl brought her family's newspapers, aluminum cans, plastic and glass disposables to the weekly troop meeting where they were loaded onto a horse trailer to be transported to Abilene, the nearest recycling center.

Aware that the Colorado City landfill was slowly filling to capacity, Ms. Hill decided to expand the troop program and invite the public to learn about improving their waste-handling practices. Using City National Bank's parking lot as the designated drop-off, the troop began unloading recyclables from the trunks of resident's cars once per month in a drive-through type format. Today, an average trailer-load weighs in with 1,000 pounds of glass and 400 pounds of aluminum cans, and two more stock trailers take other recyclables to a center in Odessa.

Although the profits seldom pay for anything but gas, Bambi believes firmly in the project and the troop's efforts to help keep Texas and America more beautiful, to reduce litter, and to use our precious resources more wisely. The collective dream of the girls in Troop #148 is to go to Washington this March to participate in a National Recycling Seminar that will be held there.

According to Maxine Cockrall, Director of Public Relations for the West Texas Girl Scout Council, Bambi Hill epitomizes the type of leader that girls need today. "She (Ms. Hill) tackles current issues and makes the girls aware of the big changes they can make working together as a team. Nothing has a more profound effect on young people than realizing that they can make a difference -- that through their efforts they truly can change the world."

Deadline nears to apply for LDZ youth session

The application deadline of Dec. 6 has been set for those interested in attending next summer's, Lorenzo de Zavala (LDZ) youth legislative session, an eight day training program that provides students with a basic understanding of leadership and motivates the students to compete with peers in a demanding student forum on Hispanic public policy.

The LDZ leadership training program is to identify the top Hispanic students in Texas who are interested in pursuing post secondary studies, said Sara Ortiz.

The program consists of an intensive eight day legislative and Supreme Court simulation where students learn to take decisive action, develop an appreciation for the skills of communication, gain valuable insight into working with organized efforts and acquire motivation in personal growth.

The program will be held at four universities: Southwestern University in Georgetown, July 26 - Aug 2; University of New Mexico, June 14-21; Colorado State University, June 28 - July 5; and DePaul University, July 12-19.

Applicants for the program must have a school certified grade point average of 88; be a high school sophomore or junior; rank in the top 25 percent of their class; and have demonstrated leadership ability through school, church or community activities.

For more information contact Sara Ortiz at 728-8302 or Gilbert Rodriguez at (512) 677-8591.

Page applicants now being accepted

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- High school sophomores interested in serving as Congressional Pages for the 1992-93 school year can now apply to Congressman Charles Stenholm's office.

Eligible students are those who reside in the 17th Congressional District, will be juniors in September 1992, and have a "B" average in four major courses, excluding electives.

"The Congressional Page program offers young people a unique opportunity to see how Congress works," said Stenholm.

The pages perform a variety of duties, including delivering correspondence or small packages to offices within the Capitol complex, answering telephones in the Members' Cloakrooms and the Page Phone Banks, and taking messages to Members. The pages work on a rotation system so they all have an opportunity to experience all aspects of the job. The work does include a monthly salary, which covers basic living expenses.

School remains a part of the page's life because pages do study junior level curriculum at the U.S. Capitol Page School in the Library of Congress. Students are expected to maintain at least a "B" average while serving as a page.

Dormitories are located on the capitol grounds. Pages are supervised while in their quarters, which are guarded by the Capitol Police, 24 hours a day.

Congressman Stenholm will not be the page's employer, or will have daily contact with the page. Pages all answer directly to the Director of Page Services.

The deadline to apply for a page position is January 17, 1992. Applications will be forwarded to a Selection Committee who will notify finalists by February 21, 1992. Interviews will be conducted in Abilene on March 14, 1992 and pages will be selected on that date.

Application forms and additional information are available from the Congressman's Abilene office at (915) 673-7221.

Toy drive continues

The program is designed to meet the holiday needs of children who range in age from birth to 16 years of age.

The Optimist Club requests your assistance in meeting the need. Toys - new or in good condition - and cash donations will assist in the effort and will be accepted until Friday, December 20.

Drop-off locations for this year's Toy Drive program are the Lone Star Gas Company, 257 East Second; Pac N' Ship, 12th and Hickory; Free's, 1004 Hickory; and the Water Department, 180 West Third.

KRISTI LEE NEWS

Here it is all ready November and getting close to Thanksgiving. Everyone is very excited about having turkey and dressing and getting to visit with family.

All of our residents have been real busy making Christmas decorations to decorate their tables for Christmas. They have made Christmas trees out of Reader's Digest books, and made Christmas wreaths out of plastic bags to decorate each resident door.

We are having a bake sale on November 22, 1991 from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. We would like to invite everyone who would be interested in buying some home made goodies to stop by. The goodies will be set up in our front lobby. We look forward in seeing you.

Our residents who celebrated their birthdays in November are Odie Richardson, Norman Childress, Concepcion Gardea, Waldo Anderson, Ellen Piehl, Irene Jackson.

The resident of the month is Archie Brock. Archie was born October 17, 1917 in Lubbock County. He was a decorated hero from WWII. Archie has been a resident at Kristi Lee since 1976.

Congratulations to Marvin Hale and Belen Garza for winning 1st place, Minnie Anderson & Myrl Robinson for 2nd place and Jerry McCain & Joe Jones for 3rd place in the Domino Tournament held at Loraine Manor last month. A Domino Tournament will be held at Kristi Lee on November 20th at 2:30.

LORAIN PERSONALS

...BY LOIS PHILLIPS

Today looks like we will get some cold weather for the next several days. Hope it doesn't get too bad. Maybe if it soon clears up our farmer friends can get some stripping done.

Our Pastor has just come home from the convention in Waco. He gave a real nice report on it in a real nice way.

Edwin & Doris Harris of El Paso visited Nannie Hallmark Sunday at the Loraine Nursing Home. They are relatives of Mrs. Hallmark.

Kenny Sue Irwin and daughter, Tama, visited Kenneth & Jaunice over the weekend. Scott Irwin and Matt Preston of Waco met them here. Matt visited with his grandmother, Iris Preston.

Also Scott Irwin visited with his grandmother and grandad, Kenneth and Jaunice Butler. Both boys are from Waco where they attend Baylor University.

I saw two of the Tartt sisters in town visiting their mother, Billie.

Ruth Ebernathy.

Top & Modess are home from Houston where they received a medical checkup. Said Modess was doing fine. She does look like she has improved a lot. We hope she can improve real nicely from here on.

In last weeks paper, I wrote how well Earl looks to be working at 89 years old. In a few days he received a phone call from Eldon Graham.

He said anyone who had lived 80 years and still gets a paycheck surely needed someone to talk to. Thanks Eldon, he really appreciated talking to you.

As you know Ruby Nayfa had a leg amputated just below her knee. She is doing very well and will probably leave the hospital. She will go home with a daughter and when she is well enough they will take her to Dallas to be fitted for a new leg & foot. She is real pleased about the whole situation since she has no more pain. We are happy that you are doing so well. Mrs. Nayfa is Maz Webb's mother.

Firearms leading cause of death in Texas

Firearms surpassed motor vehicle accidents as the state's leading cause of injury-related deaths in 1990, according to an article in the November issue of Texas Medicine, the official news magazine of the Texas Medical Association. The authors of that article contend gun control measures should be considered to reduce firearm fatalities.

"We recognize that the prevention of firearm-related fatalities is a very emotional and controversial issue," the authors of the Texas Medicine article state. "However, as with any major public health problem, risk factors, interventions and preventive strategies need to be vigorously evaluated."

The recent incident at a Killeen cafeteria in which a lone gunman shot and killed 23 people has intensified debate gun control issues. It prompted a Waco congressman to change his position during a congressional vote in October on gun control measures. Those measures, however, were defeated.

According to the Texas Medicine article, there were 3,443 deaths related to firearms in Texas in 1990, compared to 3,309 motor vehicle-related deaths. That marked the first time in at least 27 years that motor vehicle deaths did not rank as the state's leading cause of injury deaths, say authors David F. Zane, Mary Jo Preece, Dr. Patti J. Patterson and Dr. Erik K. Svenkerud.

"Motor vehicles have been the leading injury killer in the state since vital records were computerized in 1964," the authors state.

All four authors are employed with the Texas Department of Health. Zane and Preece work in the Injury Control Program of the TDH Epidemiology Division. Dr. Patterson holds an associateship for personal health services. Dr. Svenkerud works in the Bureau of Disease Control and Epidemiology.

A recent health department study that examined all firearm deaths in Texas between 1985 and 1990 found that 19,184 Texans died from gunshot wounds during the six-year period, including 408 children. Those between the ages of 25 and 34 had the highest death rate from firearms.

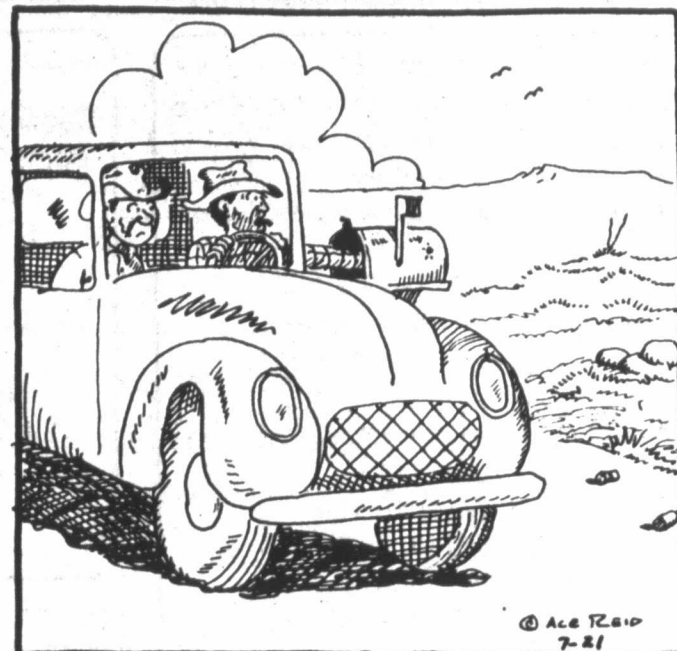

The TDH study also found that males were five times more likely to be killed by a firearm than females and blacks were 1.9 times as likely to be killed by a firearm than whites or Hispanics. Black males had the highest firearm death rate.

The authors note that the National Committee for Injury Prevention and Control has recommended that states consider firearm licensing alternatives, such as restrictive licensing and permissive licensing with waiting periods and background checks. The committee also says cities and states should consider prohibiting the carrying of firearms except by law enforcement and security personnel in areas where people are at high risk for firearm injuries; that priority should be given to strictly enforcing current laws at the federal, state and local levels; and that local, state and federal initiatives to restrict the manufacture, sale, possession and carrying of handguns should be supported and evaluated for their impact on firearm injuries.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 30,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 119 component county medical societies around the state.

Season comes to end for Bulldogs

On Friday, November 8, 1991, the Loraine Bulldogs played their last district football game of the 1991 season against the Ira Bulldogs. The score did not reflect the type of game that was played. Our Loraine team can be proud of their accomplishments during this game and the entire season. The Bulldogs went into the dressing room at halftime with Ira leading 6-0. The Bulldogs came roaring back the second half, and gained a 20-6 lead; at this point three controversial calls turned the game. I have never been one to accuse the officials of losing ballgames for me but this was one time I thought they lost it for us. I believe that the officials should call the game as they see the plays. However, they should remember that all these young men work hard all week preparing for each ballgame, and how they call the game is important to both teams; even the team with the losing record.

I would like to thank my seniors Frank Garcia, David Madrid, Clayton Lee, and Darrell Decker for helping to make this an exciting season. I look forward to coaching the rest of my varsity players Adam Madrid, Adrian Garcia, James Lopez, Steve Gutierrez, David Mitchell, Ben Wilkinson, Matt Givens, Jesse Rico, Craig Finley, Jason Shy and Chris Phillips next year. Thanks also to my 2 managers Geory Martin and Michael Moore; our cheerleaders Dawn Butler, and Debbie Banks, and our fine band, led by Mr. Hubert Seale.

Thanks to everyone for an interesting, unusual and exciting year. Hope to see you next year. Sincerely Coach Bob Loy.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Editor,

The membership of the First United Methodist Church of Colorado City would like to thank the community for making their first 'Lord's Acre' church festival a success.

Event organizers noted that over 260 people were fed and that a large crowd was in attendance for the days activities including the auction.

Among those items auctioned were quilts which had been made by the First United Methodist Quilters.

The group of approximately 10 women had worked since last January on the quilts that were auctioned off during the 'Lord's Acre' celebration.

The Quilters will continue to work on quilts for next year's anticipated festival.

A festival which included a country store, displaying and sell homemade wares of church members; and booths that featured a variety of games and activities.

The emphasis of the festival was to develop a co-operative spirit among the church membership and to share the fruits of their labor with the community.

The 'Lord's Acre' celebration is patterned after the harvest festivals mentioned in the Old Testament, where the fruits of their labors were gathered by church members.

This method of stewardship resurfaced as part of an interdenominational movement in the 1930's, encouraging members to set aside the first fruits of their labor's and dedicate them to God.

Another 'bigger and better' festival is tentatively planned by the church membership for next year.

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, I want to say a special "thank you" to the people of Colorado City and the surrounding area for their support of the 1991 Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children sale. This was the first Round-Up sale held in Colorado City and the response was tremendous.

The hard work and contributions by local chairmen Bill Ellis and Waddell Strain, other volunteers, donors and buyers are sincerely appreciated.

The end result of these efforts is that the Round-Up has generated more than $320,000 to date which will help provide rehabilitation services for hundreds of children and adults. It is reassuring to know the Rehab Center is surrounded by such generous, caring communities.

Sincerely,
Bill Snowden
President

Breckenridge beats D.C. in bi-district here Friday

Breckenridge beat Denver City, 21-6, in 3A bi-district football playoff action held last Friday night at Colorado City's Wolf stadium.

The Buckaroos, 7-3-1, were able to put more points on the scoreboard than the Mustangs, even though they trailed in total yards and first downs.

Denver City, the District 3-3A champion, ended its season with a record of 6-5 under the direction of Coach Alan Cornelius.

It was the second year in a row that the contenders had been pitted against each other in bi-district action. The Mustangs and Buckaroos played to a 24-24 tie last year and Denver City had advanced on the basis of penetrations.

Coach Jerry Taylor, who is in his first year at the helm of the green-and-white Buckaroo attack will lead Breckenridge against Childress this Friday night.

Breckenridge advanced by overcoming first half fumbling problems, but were still able to take a 14-6 lead to the dressing room at halftime.

The Buckaroos' fumbled the ball away on the first play of the game at their 15 yard line.

J. K. Rogers, who led the Denver City rushing attack with 145 yards accumulated on 27 carries, scored the Mustangs only touchdown to cap off the 15 yard drive.

Breckenridge answered the score with Randy Willis returning a punt for 69 yards and Darby Brockway connected with Willis for a 37 yard touchdown.

The game was put out of reach when with 7:04 remaining in the game, the Buckaroos' capped off a 58 yard drive with Dwight Smart taking the ball the final 5 yards for a touchdown.

ON DUTY: Jay McCollum began work on Monday in his new position as manager of the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce. He has returned to the area after 32 of working in various sales positions for oil related companies.

Pearl Harbor vets eligible for medal

Military veterans and certain contract civilians who served on Hawaii during the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor are eligible to receive a congressional medal commemorating the 50th anniversary of the event, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has announced.

Members of the armed forces who were in Hawaii on December 7, 1941, and civilian employees of the War Department or Navy Department who were wounded in the attack, or survivors of those who were killed are eligible to receive the Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal.

Eligible veterans or their survivors should call the toll-free number established by the Defense Department for additional information and forms, 1-800-545-4052.

Copies of the application forms also are available from VA Regional Offices.

Those not eligible for the medal include Navy personnel who were on ships stationed at Pearl Harbor but who were at sea during the attack. Personnel on board ships that were patrolling just outside the harbor entrance are authorized to receive the medal.

Christmas basket applications sought

Christmas food basket applications are now being accepted by the 'Helping Hands' organization that is sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance, and the Community Mission.

All applications will be handled by the Community Mission during the hours of 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Monday through Fridays until Wednesday, December 18.

No application will be accepted under any circumstances after Dec. 18. This is required to allow time for the preparation of the baskets that are to be delivered.

Applicants will be screened according to income and extent of need. Those applying should bring their social security number and a verification of income.

There is no guarantee that those applying for a basket will qualify to receive one.

Persons or organizations who desire to 'adopt' a family for a Christmas basket should contact Dolores Wood at 728-5170. A family that is being provided for by any person, church or organization should also contact her to prevent the duplication of baskets and allow more needy families to be reached through the program.

The community is asked to support the needs of the 'Helping Hands' organization by donating food. Drop-off locations include: Great Western Inn, Higginbotham, Henderson's, Dairy Queen, Key Brothers, Costin Ford, Colorado Feed and Seed, Villa Restaurant, Villa Motel, Fuller's, McMichaels, Gas and Grub and the Fort Wood Cafe. For more information call 728-5067 or 728-5170.
