CVAE Program Builds Futures

Students at Hart High School have discovered that being members of Cooperative-Vocational Education classes means more than "holding down a job" while attending school and earning credits toward high school graduation.

Demands for academic success, as well as doing one's best on the job, helps to train students for useful employment after graduation.

Many of HHS's ICT-CVAE students not only find time to work more than their minimum fifteen hours per week but also find time to participate in other school functions. Names of the participating students may also be found on the scholastic honor rolls, as well.

Cooperative training courses at Hart are designed to prepare students for gainful employment in industrial, business and professional occupations of their choice.

Hart schools receive federal funds for one-half unit CVAE (Coordinated Vocational Academic Education) and one-half unit ICT (Industrial Cooperative Training). Hart schools and Olton schools participate in a "shared vocation unit" in which Jack Burkhalter serves two and one-half days at each school as Vocational Counselor.

Willis Hedges is coordinator of the CVAE-ICT program in its third year for Hart High School seniors.

J.V. and Nancy Wescott are coordinators of the Junior High and High School CVAE program designed to meet the needs of students who lack interest or those who might be having difficulty with some or all of the academic courses.

Basic objectives of the Cooperative Education programs are to contribute to the educational preparation of youth, enabling them to accept the duties of responsible citizenship.

Cooperative training provides opportunities for these students to begin developing skills which will enable them to be assets to their community and fulfill their occupational responsibilities as self-support-

CVAE Homemakers Feed Lions, Program Described

Charbroiled steaks cooked on one of the newest pieces of commercial kitchen equipment in the Hart school's CVAE home economics lab were served Monday to members and guests of Hart Lions Club. Prepared and served by CVAE girls, the dinner menu also featured potato salad, baked beans, garlic toast and cherry shortcake.

Mrs. J.C. Wescott, sponsor, spoke briefly about the CVAE homemaking program and said HHS has some of the finest equipment for the homemaking program of any school in the area.

"We're kinda lucky here at Hart, some schools have only the kitchen equipment while others have the sewing equipment. We have some of both."

Hart school's have approximately $9,000 worth of commercial kitchen equipment; the charbroiler one of the newest items. The school also received four new sewing machines this year.

Home economics coop students begin with the seventh and eighth grades, starting in the "home kitchen" and learn in a home-like situation. By the end of the year, they have advanced to some experience in the commercial kitchen.

High school students get first hand experience in numerous fields as a preparation for earning a living for themselves after finishing high school.

Lions accepted a check for $100 to be contributed to the tennis court fund from the youth of the United Methodist Church. Presentation of the check to Lion Boss Ted Averitt was made by Karen Foster.

CVAE-ICT Program Offers On-Job Training, Credits

Classroom study and on-the-job work are combined in the CVAE-ICT program coordinated by Willis Hedges for students in Hart High School. Senior students receive credits plus invaluable training and experience for the future.

A minimum of 15 hours work is required each week but students may compile additional hours. Each student keeps his or her own record of hours worked and wages earned.

Hedges visits businesses and farmers in the Hart area prior to the start of school, learning what positions might be available to students participating in the program. Students the recent broom sale conducted by the Lions. A letter of thanks was read from the Caravan for the Blind for the participation of the club.

Lions voted to hold their annual Ladies Night Banquet in June with the Green Frog catering a steak supper. Next regular meeting of the club, May 24, was scheduled for the fellowship hall of United Methodist Church.

Lion Jim Werner announced that the hail suppression permit was issued Friday and dues should be paid now at Farmers State Bank.

Lack of water pressure in the city was explained by Mayor Richard Franks who showed pieces of clogged pipe which illustrates the cause. Accumulation of oil, he said, has caused the steady accumulation in the pipes, almost closing some in the city.

THIS IS THE COTTON FOR NEMATODE COUNTRY

Lockett BXL has excellent resistance to nematodes and fusarium wilt with the potential for big yields of long, strong fiber in all types of soil dry or irrigated. BXL is rugged enough to deal with the tough growing conditions you sometimes have. There are a lot of reasons you'll like it.

CHECK THESE CHARACTERISTICS:

- Germinates fast, comes up fast
- Excellent seedling vigor
- Excellent tolerance to cold weather
- Good root system for drouth resistance
- Early fruiting
- Resistant to nematode/fusarium wilt
- Moderately determinate
- Medium early maturity
- Storm resistant bolls
- Excellent stripper variety
- Well-adapted to one-time-over harvesting
- Staple length in the 1" and longer range
- Exceptional fiber strength
- Micronaire in the premium range
(under normal growing conditions)

CHECK THESE RESULTS:

- Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) at Lubbock shows dryland yield 394 lbs. and irrigated yield 544 lbs. of lint per acre over a five (5) year period along with 32 fiber length and very good fiber strength.
- Strip tests reported by Bill Taylor, Hockley County Agent, over the past three (3) years show that Lockett BXL has good nematode resistance.
- In 1974, Lynn County irrigated strip test conducted by the County Agent on Othell Meek farm, Lockett BXL outyielded the closest competitive variety more than 14% or 143 lbs. of lint per acre.
- Dawson County—1974 TAES Irrigated Cotton Variety Test—Lockett BXL had a lint yield of 36 lbs. per acre above the test average—staple length 34—87.1 PSI (X1000) fiber strength.

CVAE Girls Acquire Skills

The CVAE girls program has been taught at Hart for six years. It consists of seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grade girls who are interested in acquiring an occupational skill in order to help prepare them for the world of work.

They can go from this program into the Co op program and work the last two years while they are attending school to meet the requirements for graduation. Basic skills are taught and then adapted to fit the needs of the community during the first two years.

As the girls get into high school, a different approach is taken to prepare them for work. Individual needs are of concern in this program.

Hart has an advantage over some of the larger schools who have a program geared for food service, home furnishings, child care, clothing construction and packaging. At Hart we try to offer a variety of experiences to let the girls decide where their interest is and try to work toward a certain goal from this standpoint.

At present, a total of 19 girls are enrolled, but 20 to 25 are preferred. Fifteen is the maximum that can enroll in one class in order to give more individual help.

This past year the girls have had concessions, and on several occasions have fed the high school teachers, elementary teachers, school board and Lion's Club.

In sewing class, the girls made garments for themselves. They were allowed to sew at their own rate to complete and learn certain sewing techniques. Some girls completed as many as five projects in a designated time.

Recently the girls took a field trip to learn about home furnishings. Upon return they made curtains and laminated shade and cornice board from fabric they selected while on the trip. They have also undertaken the re-upholstering of a red velvet chair. They also will receive experience in refinishing furniture before school is out for the term.

"Success of the Cooperative - Vocational Education programs," Burkhalter says, "depends on the coordinators and teachers being able to understand the students and understand their problems - in being concerned."

Hart can feel deserved pride, he says, in those who work with the students in the local program. "They're the ones who make the program a success."

Cooperative education, Burkhalter explains, is "a motivating thing. It gives the student incentive to be better. It is a help for the student - they get recognition they would not otherwise receive."

Burkhalter points out, too, that a student may begin in the CVAE program and with applied incentive find themselves ready to move into the regular academic program and succeed in their goals.

"We've had a number that began in CVAE and then moved into the regular program and they've made it," he said.

"Students can go ahead in the program - participate in athletics - other activities."

If a student continues in the CVAE program, he may graduate through the program, completing the academic requirements and earning a diploma in four years.

Burkhalter also explained that the local school board last fall adopted a decision to allow a student entering high school who becomes 16 years of age before September 1 to graduate through the CVAE program in three years. "This provides the older student with the incentive to finish school and enable him to finish only one year behind in age."

Students in the CVAE program in junior high school may enter the CVAE-ICT program as juniors while others must wait until their senior year.

CVAE girls and boys are mixed in their academic classes and may participate in all school activities. Several have been active in Vo Ag, band, pep squad, school politics and athletics.

Some have been elected majorettes, cheerleaders, and class officers. Others have also achieved scholastically and been named to CVAE honor rolls.

Mrs. Wescott summarizes the program, "The objective of the CVAE program is to find an interest in school and then gain practical job experience, to graduate and obtain gainful employment or further their

"Our program," she said, "is set up to accommodate the students for two years in junior high and two years in high school. During this time they are able to try many new

Services Held For Mrs. Love

Funeral services were held Tuesday in First Baptist Church in Tulia for Mrs. Harold Love of Plainview.

The Rev. Charles Davenport, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery under the direction of Wallace Funeral Home.

Born Feb. 12, 1920 in Tulia, the former Marjorie Rice was married to Love Dec. 12, 1937 in Clovis. They lived a number of years in Tulia and then made their home in Oklahoma and Kansas before moving to Plainview two years ago.

Survivors include her husband, who is associated with Hart Auto Company; a son, Skippy Love of Plainview; one brother, Joe Dean Rice of Tulia and her mother, Mrs. John Rice of Tulia.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank local firms for support of the Co-operative Vocational Education Program of Hart Schools. Through employment of these students, business, industry and professionals are helping youngsters in career selection at a critical time in their lives.

The district would also like to salute the instructors and students themselves for their efforts in making the vocational program one of the best in the nation.

It is through the same effort that persons are becoming more aware of the value of professional tradesmen and women trained in a wide variety of skills that will be of value to a growing community.

The administration, board of trustees and staff are proud to be a part of such a joint program and are equally pleased to be involved through the employment of the students

Bridal Courtesy Fetes Miss Womble, Jim Steiert

Kerrie Womble and Jim Steiert of Hereford were feted Saturday afternoon with a pre-nuptial courtesy in the home of Mrs. Deryl Clevenger. Hospitalized and unable to attend, the honoree was represented by her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Bennie Womble and Mrs. Mary Brashear, both of Hereford. Mrs. Pete Steiert, mother of the prospective bridegroom, was also an honored guest.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Jack Dyer.

Laid with white lace over pink, the party table was centered with an arrangement of white daisies. Cookies and pink lemonade were served from crystal appointments by Mmes. Dyer and Dwight Miller.

Hostesses presented the betrothed couple with king sized bed linens, mattress cover and bedspread.

Mrs. Jones Is Honored

Mrs. Worth Jones of Happy, former Hart resident, was feted recently with a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Theron Morrison. Assisting with hostess duties were Mmes. Ed Bennett and Paul Armstrong Jr.

Centered with a candleholder with yellow candles and yellow roses, the dining table was laid with white linen and appointed with silver and crystal.

Mrs. Jones was presented with an arrangement of silk flowers in shades of orange, green and yellow in a brass bowl. She also received matching candleholders.

Attending the luncheon were Mmes. Willie Alexander, Willis Hawkins Sr., Ed Harris, C.B. Martin Jr., Ralph Futrell, Everette Heller and the honoree's daughters, Mmes. Roy Ethridge and Weldon Talley, both of Amarillo. A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Weldon Jones, called in the afternoon.

Helping with the gift were Mmes. Ila Haydon and Let McLain.

Memorial Day Tribute Slated

MRS. MELVIN MALONE

Cook Of The Week

Gardening is among the hobbies listed by our Cook of the Week, Mrs. Melvin Malone, but it's rapidly turning into a job rather than a fun thing, she says.

Mary finds little time for hobbies in her busy schedule as wife and mother. A booster of her children's activities, she served recently as secretary-treasurer for the Boys Little Dribblers. Nine-year-old Mike was a Little Dribbler basketballer. Marty is 13.

Born and reared in Hart, Mary and Melvin met in Plainview. They moved from Plainview to Hart two years ago, to her father's farm, the Roy Taack farm. Melvin, who grew up at Wolfe City near Dallas, is employed with Cargile Nutrena in the feed division.

Riding horses is another pleasure for which Mary finds too little time.

She is a member of the TOPS Club of Halfway and of College

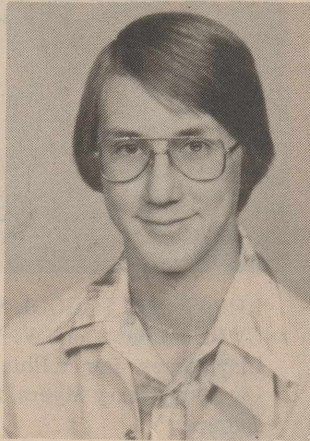

Heights Baptist Church in Plainview.

Mary got this delicious pie recipe from Melvin's mother.

Always Waiting List For Boys CVAE Program

The boys CVAE program is completing its seventh year in the Hart public schools. There is one class of 15 seventh and eighth grade boys and one class of between ten and fifteen ninth and tenth grade boys.

Fifteen is the maximum number of students for the lab classes. There is always a waiting list for membership in the junior high class.

Four-Year-Old Is Honored

Stoney Griffith was honored Apr. 29 with a party observing his fourth birthday. Hosted by his mother, Mrs. Randy Griffith, the party was held in the home of Mrs. Dewayne Brown, co-hostess.

"Snoopy" was the motif featured in decorations. Guests jumped on the trampoline.

Cup cakes, ice cream and Kool-aid were served to Stephanie and Adrian Farris, Misty Reed, Robyn Truelock, Jason and Amber Griffith, Randall and Bryan Huntsinger, Jill McLain, John Daryl and Amy McLain, Angie Dyer, Shelly Smith, Jay Davis, Jeremy Hawkins, and Ware and Blair Brown.

The boys enrolled in the 7th and 8th grade class at the present time are: John Barretero, Reynaldo Beanes, Alonso Carrasco, Mike Esquivel, Juan Minjarez, Rudy Perez, Luis Portello, Severo Ramirez, Joe Ramirez, Arthur Tenorio, Cruz Tenorio, Tommy Washington, Jesus Reyna, Danny Rodriguez, Rudy Perez, and Paul Reyas.

Luncheon Fetes Seniors

Members of the Class of 1976 were feted with a send-off luncheon Thursday in fellowship hall of First Baptist Church, held just prior to the group's departure for their senior trip to Colorado Springs, Colo.

Decorations carried out a bicentennial theme. Invocation was spoken by Teri King. The Rev. Joe Cariker gave a brief address. Benediction was by Vivian Davis.

Mexican casserole, chips and dips, tossed salad and strawberry shortcake were served to all 23 members of the senior class and sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Poarch, Rev. and Mrs. Cariker, Ted Averitt and Buddy Wharton.

Work Day Aids Park

Home Demonstration Club members and their husbands held a workday-picnic Saturday at the park north of the American Legion Hut.

Swings, tractor tires and a shade house were painted. Plans were made to build additional equipment for the park from the contributions of pipe, sheet iron and tires. CVAE boys of Hart schools are making some equipment. Ed Harris Lumber Company furnished paint and brushes.

Beta Sigma Phi Women Honor Mothers Thursday

Annual Founder's Day Banquet of Beta Sigma Phi was held Thursday evening, May 6, in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church. Group singing of the National Anthem set a patriotic mood for the evening. Red, white and blue decorations added to the Bicentennial spirit.

Following a salad supper, guest speaker Rena Witten gave a nostalgic look at family life through the poems of Edgar A. Guest. Humor and heartache unique to each stage of the life cycle, were delightfully presented in the reading of selected works.

Four ladies received special recognition and were presented with gifts. Lena Maples was honored as being the oldest mother in attendance; Suzanne Farris was recognized as the youngest mother present. Mrs. Royce Oxford of Zapata traveled the farthest to attend the banquet and Mabel Aven received recognition for having the largest number of children.

Highlighting the evening was the naming of the "Lady of the Year" by Margaurite McLain. Mrs. Max Stephens, this years recipient, was cited for her many contributions to her family, church, school and community. Also receiving recognition were Linda McLain and Laverne McLain who were named as the "Outstanding Woman" of their respective chapters.

Approximately 96 members and guests attended the event which was hosted by the Chi Psi and Xi Mu Iota Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi.

Local Women Attend THDA Luncheon Meet

Castro County's Singing '76'ers presented a musical salute featuring "God Bless America," "No Man Is An Island," and "Make Mine Country Style" at the THDA luncheon meeting in the County Exposition Building in Dimmitt.

Special guests included county commissioners and their wives and Judge and Mrs. Weldon Bradley.

Susan Ryan of New Zealand was guest speaker and spoke of her homeland and family.

Mrs. Jerry Allen was the winner of the 1976 Woman of the Year Award, presented by the Town and Country Club of Dimmitt. Door prizes were won by Mmes. Bob McLain and Lyndall Warren.

Decorations were furnished by "The Hen's Nest" of Finney.

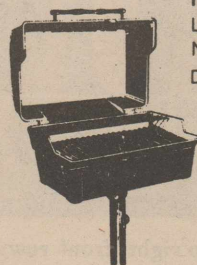

Attending were Mmes. Warren, Bob McLain, L.C. McLain, Kent, Kelly, Kim Williamson, Larry Lee, Quincy Hawkins, Don Moore, Greg Crosby and Daryl McLain.

A tempting offer on a gas grill.

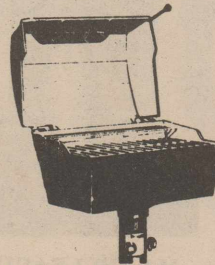

Right now, we're making you a tempting offer on gas grills with twin burners! Independently controlled twin burners never use more gas than you need. For big meals, use both burners. For smaller meals, save gas and money by using one burner and half the grill. A gas grill adds a new dimension to family meals and entertaining. It eliminates the fuss and bother of cooking outside while it keeps the flavor and the fun. And, because you take cooking heat out of the house and the burden off your air conditioning, you save energy, too.

GA's Honor Mothers With Luncheon Saturday

GA's of First Baptist Church honored their mothers with a luncheon Saturday in fellowship hall.

Table decorations featured small centerpieces of pink carnations with pink bows. Colorful placemats, made by the girls, added to the table decor. Each girl presented her mother with a corsage of pink carnations.

Invocation was given by Teresa Mapp. Girls presented a program following the luncheon. They sang "Sandals" and "For Those Tears I Died," accompanied by Miss Sherry Cozart. "Kiddles with pop-up Riddles" was next on the program.

Teresa Mapp read a poem, "A Mother's Love." Guest speaker was Mrs. Jerry Haley, wife of the pastor of Edmonson Baptist Church. She spoke of the joys and responsibilities of being a mother.

Mrs. Mack Davis recited a poem, "A Tribute to All Daughters." Mrs. Joe Cariker gave the benediction.

Attending were Mrs. Haley; Miss Cozart and Risha Ammons; Mrs. Richard Franks and Leslie; Mrs. Jerry Bonsal, Dora and Gracie; Mrs. Jerry Kittrell, Melissa and Gayla; Mrs. Jim Werner and Jana; Mrs. Don Johnson and JaDonna; Mrs. Max Marble and Karen Myers; Mrs. Joe Cariker and Christie; Mrs. Jimmy Ray Davis and Donna; Mrs. Joe Edd Carson and Kelly Poarch; Mrs. Vernon Mapp, Teresa and Mary Kay; Mrs. Weldon Davis, Jennifer and Julie; and Mrs. Mack Davis, Diane and Debra.

STRAWBERRY JELLO CAKE

Thaw 1 small box frozen strawberries. Save 2 T juice for glaze on cake.

1 small pkg strawberry Jello dissolved in 1/2 c hot water set aside to cool.

1 pkg Duncan Hines white cake mix

4 eggs added one at a time

3/4 c Crisco oil

Add cooled Jello and frozen strawberries with cake and above ingredients. Mix well. Pour into ungreased tube pan. Cook 1 hour at 350 degrees.

Remove from oven and let set 20 minutes. Remove from pan. Prepare glaze and put on cake while it is still warm.

GLAZE

GREEN ENCHILADAS

1 can Cream of Mushroom soup

1 lb hamburger meat

Grated Longhorn cheese

1 pkg tortillas

1 can Carnation milk

1 small can chopped green chilies

1 med onion

Combine soup and chilies and milk. Fry meat and drain off grease. Cut tortillas into quarters. Line baking dish, first with tortillas then meat, soup, onions and cheese. Ending with cheese, bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Cards Of Thanks

I would like to say thank you for all the kindness shown me during my stay in the hospital and after my return home, for your visits to the hospital and later, the food so beautifully prepared, the beautiful flowers and planters, cards and phone calls. Your thoughtfulness was greatly appreciated. May God bless you all.
