Demos Cheer Jabs At Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a prime-time unity show, the Democrats have handed their vice-presidential nomination to Sargent Shriver and cheered the ticket's opening swings at President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

"I'm not embarrassed to be George McGovern's seventh choice for vice president," Shriver said Tuesday after the Democratic National Committee added him to the ticket. "We Democrats may be short of money. We're not short of talent. Think of the comparison and then you can pity poor Mr. Nixon—his first and only choice was Spiro Agnew."

The Democrats loved it.

"If we have used valuable time in the selection of a vice-presidential nominee," McGovern said, "the nation must wish the Republicans had made their choice with greater care."

And thus the lines were drawn again, this time with McGovern teamed with Shriver in place of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri, who withdrew last week after disclosing that he had undergone shock treatment for mental depression in the 1960s.

McGovern and Shriver were to try and sustain the momentum at a unity luncheon today with members of the Democratic National Committee, which winds up its extraordinary three-day meeting today with some ordinary business.

In addition, Latin and women's caucuses were to meet separately with McGovern to air grievances that they—and their favorite issues—aren't being represented in his campaign.

In the balloting, Shriver was given 2,936 of the committee's authorized 3,016 votes.

It appeared he might be elected unanimously. But then, Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes cast his state's 73 votes for Eagleton, and Oregon cast four of its 74 votes for maverick Democrat Wayne Morse who is trying for a Senate comeback. Guam had nobody present and its three votes weren't counted.

Shriver, 56, former director of the Peace Corps and of the antipoverty program, a former ambassador to France, and a Kennedy in-law, outlined the Democratic campaign in accepting the nomination:

KEEP EYES OPEN
You Can Help Fight Crime

Do you want to help fight crime? One way would be to take part in Crime Check.

Crime Check is the Big Spring Police Department's new program that solicits the help of citizens in the ceaseless war against crime. And it's as close as your telephone.

You could call Crime Check if:

- Someone offers to sell you merchandise at a ridiculously low price. Odds are good that individual is trying to get rid of goods he came by dishonestly.
- You should see someone walking along the street, peering into parked automobiles. Chances are he is seeking cars whose owners have left their keys behind.
- You see strangers or slow-moving cars that are unfamiliar to your neighborhood. Such vehicles don't always contain people who are casing neighborhoods for future robberies but it is a good idea to check them out.
- You hear someone screaming. It could be a child playing but again it could be a person in deep trouble.
- You hear the sound of breaking glass, an explosion or a crunch of wood, as if a door were giving way. If the owner of the house from which the sound emanates is away, you have all the more right to be suspicious.

The Crime Check's number is 263-7311. Paste the number near your telephone. Sooner or later, it will come in handy.

Jail Riot In Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — A disturbance at the Travis County jail was broken up with tear gas Tuesday after inmates, according to Sheriff T. O. Lang, began "tearing up the place and raising hell."

About 100 inmates took part in the disturbance, which began around noon and ended around 2½ hours later. No injuries to officers or prisoners were reported.

Lang said he ordered deputies to fire several volleys of tear gas into cell blocks on the north side of the jail.

Clear Rape Suspect

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police have cleared a 24-year-old man suspected of being a rapist who gained access to two victims' apartments by claiming he was a police officer.

The man was arrested Tuesday after he flashed a police identification card. Police said he probably will be charged with impersonating an officer and carrying a prohibited weapon.

Detectives said the suspect was cleared of two rape cases by a polygraph test and also because both victims had failed to identify him.

SKYJACKING INDICTMENTS

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A man and woman now in a Argentina prison for hijacking an airliner on a flight from Mexico City to San Antonio have been indicted by a federal grand jury on similar charges here.

The indictments for air piracy against Robert Lee Jackson, 37, of Townsend, Fla., and Ligia Lucretia Sanchez-Archila, 24, grew out of the July 2, 1971 hijacking of a Braniff International jet.

TO PROHIBIT USE OF DDT

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — DDT use in Texas will be prohibited for the most part after Aug. 31, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White announced Tuesday.

Individuals will be allowed to use DDT only on stored sweet potatoes and in prescription drugs. Health officials will be able to continue use for disease control and quarantine purposes.

ASTROS MISS FEMALES

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Three astronauts in an altitude chamber at the Manned Spacecraft Center actually are in better health now than they were when they started their long-term confinement two weeks ago.

Astronauts Robert L. Crippen, Dr. William Thornton and Karol Bobko started their third week in a test program called the Skylab Medical Evaluation Altitude Test (SMEAT) today.

Asked what he missed most, Crippen said: "I think the answer to that would be obvious."

"The most obvious thing I miss is females. And for me that's four in particular — my wife and daughters."

Irish Youths Hijack Buses, 'Bomb' Train

BELFAST (AP) — Gunfire, explosions and massive street demonstrations gave Northern Ireland a tumultuous day of Roman Catholic protest today against the British internment policy.

Buses were hijacked in Belfast and the border town of Newry. A gang of youths stopped a freight train outside Lurgan and bombarded it with gasoline grenades.

British troops said they shot two guerrilla gunmen in the capital, and three soldiers were slightly wounded.

Several thousand Catholics took to the streets of Belfast at 4 a.m., the hour when the British Army a year ago today began rounding up men suspected of being activists of the Irish Republican Army.

In the year since, more than 700 men were interned without trial, but the roundups did not stop the IRA. Nearly 300 are still held, and the British released 47 more Tuesday. But the Catholics demand freedom for all and the end of the internment law.

North Howard Is Blessed By Rain

Heavy showers, accompanied by a lovely electrical display, brought timely relief to an area in north central Howard County Tuesday afternoon.

Light showers continued in the area and into southern Borden County until noon Wednesday. Weather observers said there was a good prospect for afternoon showers.

Lake E. V. Spence had approximately an inch and the Colorado River at the upper end of the lake ran a few inches deep. Lake J. B. Thomas reported only light showers Wednesday morning.

Mrs. John Couch reported 1.6 inches of rain Tuesday afternoon and said it came at precisely the right time to help the cotton crop. Carl Lockhart, east of Vealmoor had 1.5 and Sonny Anderson 1.7 inches. Near Vealmoor Wednesday morning there was a brief, but intense downpour.

Mobile Home Firm Sold; Operations Stepped Up

Sale of Eagles Homes, a division of Addison Industries, to Lancer Homes, Inc. was announced here today by Ben Woody, chairman of the board for Lancer.

The transaction takes effect immediately, and Lancer, has assumed operations of the plant here with Edd Pruitt, president, in charge.

The plant, fifth for Lancer, will produce under the name of Berkeley Homes. The designs, quality and size of the homes will be basically the same, said Pruitt.

Operations will be stepped up steadily until there will be approximately 100 persons employed to turn out six units per day. During the period when Lander was negotiating for the purchase of the Eagle facilites, production has been curtailed to about two units per day. Eagle, at peak production, had a payroll of over a million dollars and it is anticipated that Lancer will equal or exceed this.

The Lancer operation here will be completely separate and will have no connection with the previous management, said Woody. Personnel of the plant, however, will continue the same under Pruitt's direction, and Ronnie Freeman, present plant manager, will continue in that capacity.

BIG INCOME

Lancer is listed as an over-the-counter stock on the national markets at 15. Last fiscal year said Woody, is exceeded $18,000,000 in sales. He hopes that this year, with more plants producing, the company will top $30 million.

Lancer is headquartered in Wichita Falls and was organized nearly four years ago. Woody, who has spent his adult life in contracting and constructing, was convinced that this type of housing offered a great potential for the future and organized the company. Subsequently, he combined with Charter Industries, which had been founded and headed by Pruitt, who has "been in mobile home building practically all my life."

Lancer markets under the trade names of Lancer, Trailway, Charter, Sunflower and now, Berkeley. It distributes principally in a 15-state Southwest and Western market area.

"The Big Spring Industrial Foundation is to be commended for its constant and constructive efforts that is bringing us to the city," said Woody. "There was nothing at anytime that we needed in the way of information and assistance that the foundation did not immediately supply.

"I also want to thank Denton Marsailes (D&C Mobile Homes) for having instituted this contact and for keeping the lines of communication open in the consumation of this trade. He has handled our products for years, and in this transaction he has been invaluable."

Lancer operates plants in Childress, Henrietta, Graham and at Wellington, Kan. in addition to its new facility here. In addition to mobile homes,the Kansas unit turns out a trail mobile. The largest facility is at Childress, the newest (besides of Big Spring) is at Graham, just opened. The range of cost of unit is from $4,000 to $17,000, depending on size, the furnishings and luxury of appointments. The plant here will manfacture out two basic models — 12x65 and 14x80-ft.

Tom Locke, vice president, and John Currie, treasurer, represented Big Spring Industrial Foundation, in the negotiations with Lancer. The foundation constructed and owns the 53,000-square-foot building at the intersection of FM-700 and Eleventh Place which has been leased to Eagles Homes. Winston Wrinkle, president of the Foundation, participated in the negotiations until he was hospitalized last week.

Eagle was brought here May 5, 1971 by the Foundation, which agreed to provide the building and obtain interim financing. The plant became operative in August and reached steady production status in September, gradually stepping up production from that point.

Under terms of the transaction, Addison (Ala). Industries, Inc. (Eagle Homes) agreed to retired all indebtedness of $1,000 or less to all creditors, and to pay approximately $415,000 on all other outstanding obligations at closing, plus paying the remaining 35 per cent within 12 months.

Ag Agents Elect Garden City Man

EL PASO (AP) — The Texas Agricultural Agents Association has elected Oliver F. Werst of Garden City as the new president of the organization.

Frank Stockton, Gonzales County agent, was named vice president at the agricultural agents' convention here. Mark A. Geeslin of Jayton in Kent County was named secretary-treasurer.

The new officers will assume duties following the annual meeting of the national association in Atlanta Nov. 5-9.

CLOUDY

Cloudy to partly cloudy today through Thursday, with a chance of afternoon and nighttime thunderstorms. High today and Thursday near 90, low tonight near 70.

ANNOUNCE PURCHASE OF EAGLE HOMES — Ben Woody, left, chairman, and Edd Pruitt, center, president of Lancer Homes, Inc., Tuesday afternoon announced that Lancer had acquired the physical assets here of Eagle Mobile Homes plant and had assumed its own operations under the name of Berkley Homes. Assisting in negotiations for the transaction was Tom Locke, vice president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation.

'Fort Worth 5' Receive Setback

FORT WORTH (AP) — The "Fort Worth 5," who were jailed here after refusing to testify before a federal grand jury about an alleged gun-running conspiracy involving Northern Ireland, have received another setback.

The five, all of whom are New York Irishmen, had a motion by their attorneys turned down Tuesday by the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. The motion asked the court to reconsider an appeal of their contempt sentences, rejected last week, especially "the significance of the wire-tapping." Justice Department attorneys admitted the surveillance in an earlier brief.

Defense lawyer Paul O'Dwyer said he was preparing to take the issue to the Supreme Court.

The five men who remain in jail here are Paschal Morahan, Daniel Crawford, Mathias Reilly, Kenneth Tierney and Thomas Laffey.

Farm Workers May Join Boycott

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Farm labor leader Cesar Chavez said Tuesday his United Farm Workers Union may join a boycott of Farah Manufacturing Co. products in support of a strike by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union.

Chavez came here at the invitation of the clothing workers, who struck Farah three months ago to protest alleged unfair labor practices in trying to keep the union from organizing the workers.

Farah manufactures men's apparel in several plants in Texas and New Mexico.

Overpasses Toppled

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Two traffic overpasses mysteriously collapsed here early today and a woman motorist had a narrow escape from serious injury when her car plunged an estimated 35 feet on to the Texas & Pacific railroad tracks below.

Mrs. Agnes Hammon Graff, 54, was on the Virginia Street bridge when it collapsed under her car. She was taken to Memorial Hospital, where she was later reported in good condition with shoulder injuries and multiple bruises.

It appeared that a section of the bridge had been knocked out bodily.

The other bridge which collapsed was on East Avenue. This one sagged down onto the track.

A passing train reported the collapse of the overpasses to police about 6:40 a.m. One theory was that a wide load of a freight train might have knocked out the supports of both bridges, but railroad officials were not immediately available for comment.

DESPERATE DESIRE TO BECOME A COP

DETROIT (AP) — "All through life," says Sashiro Miyamoto, "the shorter person always has to do more to prove himself."

For Miyamoto, that little something extra includes whacks on the head. And sleep in traction, with weights hung from his feet. And a neck brace.

No medical problem confronts Miyamoto, but rather a desperate desire to become a cop.

When he applied for a spot on the Detroit force in April, Miyamoto was found to be two inches short of the 67-inch height required of city policemen.

But he said his decision had been made: "I woke up and realized I was 30 and that half of my life was over. For the rest of my life I want to be a policeman. I've made up my mind and that's it."

For two months, his wife pulled daily at a chain on his ankles, he slept in traction with weights hung from his feet and he wore a brace to push up his neck — all in an attempt to straighten his spine and put more space between his vertebrae.

Ex-Husband One Of Two Charged In Homicide

LAMESA — The body of Mrs. Linda Delgado, a 19-year-old divorcee who disappeared here June 3, was discovered early Tuesday in a shallow grave in a caliche pit four miles southwest of the Welch community.

Charges of murder with malice were filed against her former husband, Eugene Garcia Jr., 22, Tuesday afternoon in connection with the woman's death.

His 19-year-old brother, Johnny, also was taken into custody late Tuesday and also charged with murder.

Results of an autopsy ordered to determine the case of death for the woman are expected later today, according to Dawson County Sheriff Guy Kinnison.

The Dawson County sheriff and his deputies discovered the woman's decomposed body about 1 a.m. Tuesday, buried in the abandoned caliche pit used as the Welch community's dump. The body was buried in a shallow grave covered by a few inches of dirt and a pile of boards and other trash.

Welch is in the northwestern corner of Dawson County, 17 miles from Lamesa.

The young woman's mother, Mrs. Susie Rodriquez of Lamesa, reported the disappearance June 5.

A countywide search, aided by helicopter, was begun by the sheriff's office, Lamesa police and Texas Rangers in early June. Kinnison's office posted a $500 reward June 28 for any information leading to the discovery of the woman.

The reward has not been claimed.

The woman reportedly was last seen in Lamesa shortly before midnight June 3. Her body was found approximately 20 miles from the service station on Bryan Avenue where an attendant reported seeing her.

Garcia was arrested late Sunday on a charge of malicious destruction of private property after he was allegedly involved in a fracas at a drive-in theater here. Bond on that felony charge was set at $1,500, Kinnison said.

Services for Mrs. Delgado, a life-long resident of Lamesa, are set for 10 a.m. Thursday in the St. Margaret-Mary's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Jerome Vitek will officiate with burial in the Lamesa Cemetery under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs Aucencio Rodriquez of Lamesa; a sister, Mrs. Delores Vasquez of Austin; and two step-brothers, Eddie Rodriquez and Tony Rodriquez, both of Lamesa.

Fiesta Night Lures 1,400

More than 1,400 spectators defied the threat of rain Tuesday evening and were entertained by fine local talent during Fiesta Night of Starlight Specials.

The evening of Mexican music and singing was warmly received, reported Mrs. Lydia Molina, chairman for the evening.

The entertainment included a duet of George and Margaret Bustamante, the Mexican Hat Dance by Jesse and Rosa Nevarez, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Nevarez, Stanton, a vocal solo by Mrs. Molina music by Louie Puga's band with Willie Mendoza, soloist, a trumpet solo by Eliseo Garcia, accompanied by Joe Puga's band, and a comedy routine by Chico Rubio.

Tonight's Starlight Special is a children's play produced by the American Association of University Women, directed by Cecelia Arcand. The play is a melodrama, light, family comedy, titled "Egad, What A Cad!"

Assisting Mrs. Arcand are Patti Myers and Ruth Barnhardt. Pianist is Margaret Balm. Emcee for the presentation is Barry Rosson. Starring in the play are Sheri Snodgrass, Lisa Fort, David Timmins, Ricky Myers, Michelle Couvillion, Brian Rosson and Celeste Grenier.

Schedule for the rest of the week includes Western Night, Thursday; Teen Night, Friday; Band Night, Saturday (serving ice cream at 6:30); and a gospel sing-song, Sunday.

Budget Hearing Set Thursday

Public hearing on the proposed Howard County Junior College budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 will be held at 5 p.m., Thursday in the faculty conference room of the college administration building.

The budget anticipates total revenues of $1,380,778, expenditures of $1,401,269. The projected beginning balance is $47,033 and ending balance $27,532.

WEATHER

NORTHWEST AND SOUTHWEST TEXAS: Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers and thunderstorms south partly cloudy and widely scattered mainly afternoon and night thunderstorms north through Thursday. Not quite so warm south. Low tonight 60 to 69 except mid 50s mountains. High Thursday 78 to 94.

City Facing Damage Suit

City officials may face a damage suit, as the result of the Thursday raid on the Mini-flick Theater Club.

City Attorney James Gregg reported today that a suit has not been filed, but he feels that it eventually will be.

Gregg received a call Monday from a Dallas attorney, John Coyle. Coyle told him that he intended to file a suit in Federal Court, Fort Worth, for damages, asking for an injunction enjoining City Manager Harry Nagel, Chief of Police Vance Chisum and County Judge A. G. Mitchell from violating the civil rights of the owner of the Mini-Flick Theater Club, according to Gregg. The amount of the damages was not revealed, said Gregg.

Under the Civil Rights Act of 1970, damages may be collected when they result from the violation of civil rights.

Gregg reported that he went to Fort Worth Tuesday to meet with Coyle in federal court as the Dallas attorney filed the suit. Coyle had said that he would file at 9 a.m. Tuesday. By 11 a.m., Gregg said, Coyle had not appeared.

Gregg said that he did not know the names of individuals whom Coyle represented. An assumed-name certificate was filed in Howard County Court last week for the theater by Jackie Bert Kirk, 3103 W. Hwy. 80.

Captain of Police Detectives Jack Jones, today reported that the Mini-Flick Theater Club may be in operation again. He said that the sign on the establishment indicates that the club is open again, but he does not know that for a fact.

He reported that a decision to close the club again rests with the county attorney.

DOUBLING COMMITMENT — Cuin Grigsby (right), manager of the C. R. Anthony firm here, hands a check to Adolph Swartz of the Rotary Club for the 1972 United Way drive. Anthony's is doubling its financial commitment to the agency. The Rotarians are not only contacting their members but soliciting other businessmen in order to get the drive off to a booming start.

Local Officials Bidding For Grant In Meeting

County Judge A. G. Mitchell, City Manager Harry Nagel and Keith Jones, county juvenile officer, met today with the Permian Basin Regional Governmental Council executive board at Terminal between Odessa and Midland, seeking approval of a federal grant for the juvenile department in Howard County.

The $24,720 being sought for Howard County was one of several grants expected to be approved today at Terminal, according to Ernie Crawford, regional director of the board.

"I cannot say for sure whether or not the executive board will approve the grant," Crawford stated Wednesday morning, "But it is very likely since it has already received approval of the criminal justice council which is headed by Judge C. B. Melborn of Odessa."

INCLUDES JUDGES

The executive board before which the Big Spring delegation was to appear to make the request is made up of the county judges of the counties that are members of the regional planning group.

Howard County is one of five counties in this part of the state that do not belong to regional governmental councils. The other four include Glasscock, Loving, Winkler and Crane.

Also to come before the board today was a request for a water and sewer study for these five non-member counties. The Farmers Home Administration has agreed to provide funds for water and sewer studies in the rural areas of the 26 counties in the state who do not participate in regional governmental groups, according to Crawford.

The FHA has offered to provide five cents per person in rural areas in these counties outside of towns, with over 5,000 population. In Howard County, this would include every person outside the Big Spring city limits.

OK LIKELY

The water and sewer study was also expected to receive approval today at the meeting at Terminal. A similar study in the counties, that are members of the council is already underway.

Howard County commissioners approved seeking the grant for the juvenile department in a meeting here July 10. The grant also received approval of the city council and school board, since the three governmental agencies share the cost of operating the juvenile office here. The county and city provide 40 per cent each and the school district adds 20 per cent of the loss.

The grant is under a three phase program with the county to pay 25 per cent of the operation the first year, 50 per cent the second year and assume fullscale support in the third year of the additional costs.

Purpose of the funds is to upgrade and improve juvenile service here and provide funds for two additional salaries within the department.

Plans are to hire a female juvenile worker and a fulltime secretary in place of the part time secretary now shared with the county welfare department.

Sales Tax Coming Up For Vote Soon

SNYDER — Snyder residents will get an opportunity to vote on a one-cent sales tax Sept. 28. Date of the election was set by the city council Monday.

The commission elected to seek that source of revenue rather than raise the property tax rate which three years ago was set at $1.85 per $100 evaluation at 40 per cent of assessed value.

Many Areas Are Sinking Wildcats

Wednesday turned out to be wildcat day in this area's oil activities.

Dawson and Sterling Counties had deep wildcat locations, and Howard and Martin County stepouts from deep producing areas. Testing was beginning on another Howard venture, Mobil No. 15 Chalk, which has given assurance of becoming the third Wolfcamp producer in the Howard-Glasscock field.

The Sterling wildcat will be a plugged back well and will be H. L. Brown Jr. No. 1-A Ellwood, 15 miles north of Sterling City and northeast of the depelted Spade Ellenberger field.

The Dawson exploration will be Continental Oil No. 1 Gonzell Hogg, 11 miles southeast of Lamesa, and is scheduled to 10,500 feet.

Financial Statement Asked Of Pioneer Representative

By CHARLES TEAGUE

Besides having a hard time at Tuesday's City Commission meeting, Pioneer Natural Gas Company's request for a reading of its cost-of-gas adjustment clause ordinance was shortstopped in city hall, resulting in an agenda entry of a mere request for audience with the commission.

Pioneer's vice president and secretary, W. N. Lampe, Amarillo, returned to Big Spring for what he said was his sixth address to the commission in an attempt to satisfactorily answer the questions of commissioners.

Lampe was questioned by Mayor Pro-Tem Eddie Acri, Commissioner Jack Watkins and D. A. Brazel. Acri stated that questions concerning Pioneer's profit picture in Big Spring had been answered Aug. 4, four months after the original April request.

HIGH PROFITS

Watkins and Brazel read from stock market publications and from articles published in The Herald which cite Pioneer as perhaps the most profitable of companies marketing natural gas, and, moreover, as having attained in 1971 the most lucrative return of profit per investment in the history of its operation.

Lampe explained that in his original talk with the commission he had noted the low return of less than 2.63 per cent in profit from the Big Spring investment. Over-all Pioneer profits of more than 10 per cent as quoted in stock market publication applied to the company as a whole and not to the individual Big Spring situation. He noted that the rate increase in 1969 was predicted to bring for the local installation revenues slightly in excess of $1.2 million, whereas, the actual generation of the increase exceeded slightly only $1.1 million, resulting in a low profit return on the investment.

The expectation of return was in the neighborhood of six per cent.

ONLY SOURCE

Brazel and Watkins replied that their only source of information was stock market publications and what they have read in the newspaper. They suggested strongly, concurring with Acri's request, that Pioneer submit a financial statement listing rates, gross revenues, expenditures, taxes paid and net profit, applying net profit against the local investment.

City Manager Harry Nagel suggested to Lampe that future confusion and delay could be avoided if Pioneer will revise its bookkeeping system in order that such information be readily available for scrutiny of the commission. Effecting a rate increase, he added, should be justified by documents citing the basic information requested by the commission.

TO RETURN

Lampe said that he will compile the information requested and return for another audience with the commission. He asked that his return be entered on the agenda as a reading of the ordinance. Mayor Wade Choate directed that the entry be made as a reading.

Lampe noted that the rate as increase computed in the adjustment clause ordinance will be six tenths of one cent per thousand cubic feet of gas, increasing the monthly bill of the average residential customer by five cents.

All Red Tape Is Cleared For Credit Union Home

Pending action on a possible change in zone laws, two public hearings on specific-use permits which would have allowed the placement of mobile homes in general residence areas as fixed dwellings was tabled by the City Commission in regular session Tuesday at 5:15 p.m.

The last stumbling block of red tape has been passed by Jack Shaffer in his quest for rezoning of two blocks south of the high school. The area is to be site of construction of an all-metal office building for the school employes credit union. A public hearing offered no objections, and the commission gave final approval of the zone change.

CHLORINATION

A bid opening for labor in the construction of the sewage treatment plant's chlorine contact chamber resulted in a single bid from Jones Construction Co. of $16,000. The commission approved the bid with the provision that city administrators seek information on the feasibility of an alternative method to chlorinate sewage sludge. Bill Brown, manager of public utilities, had learned of a pond for the purpose of chlorination as used by the city of Amarillo. The method is considerably less expensive than the proposed contact chamber. City Manager Harry Nagel and Brown were directed to investigate the method and seek approval of the Water Quality Board for its employment at Big Spring.

Other action by the commission includes:

—Approval of a specific-use permit for Felipe T. Ramirez for the Blue Moon Lounge to serve beer.

—Approval of payment for damages resulting from a shootout at the OK Trailer Court between policemen and a resident of the court. Damages amounted to $387.50.

—Approval of payment for damages to the automobile of A. F. Kasch resulting from a collision with a city vehicle. Damages amounted to $129.75.

—Hearing of complaint by Albert Leon White, 200 Circle Dr., concerning odors coming from a beauty shop at 202 Circle Dr. The commission instructed White to request Health Officer Buck Kirksey to come inside White's house when the odor is present.

—Approval of a curb cut and parking layout for 11th Place Church of Christ.

TRUCK AUTHORIZED

—Authorization of city manager to purchase a government issue truck of ¾ ton capacity when available from a surplus firm at a price near $388. The city had priced a similar truck at $388, but was unable to purchase the vehicle within the time limit of the company without authorization from the commission.

—Permission to the city manager to acquire bids and proposals for a new public address system in the council chamber at an estimated cost of $600.

—Establishment of the city tax rate for the coming fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 as the same as the present tax rate.

—Approval of a bid from Broughton Truck and Implement Co. for a 1973 half-ton pickup truck at $1,999.

—Approval of a bid from Price Construction Co. for asphalt for the tennis center amounting to $5,800 conditional on reducing the areas to be paved and rebidding on a square yard basis.

—Referral of section 17 to the Section 17 Committee because no bids were received on the quarter, half or full section division as advertised.

—Approval of a grant of land to the YMCA for the purpose of expanding its building.

—Permission to the purchasing department to advertise for bids on group health and life insurance to replace workman's compensation insurance at a reduced expense.

4-H Workshop Slated Here

Members of the 4-H Council of District 2 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will hold a leadership workshop at the Ramada Inn here, Aug. 10-11.

The workshop is designed to further develop the leadership qualities of the 4-H boys and girls who are serving on the District 2 4-H Council. The council is composed of one boy and girl from each of the 20 counties on the South Plains.

Workshop participants will meet for lunch at the Spanish Inn in Big Spring on Aug. 10 and will then register at the Ramada Inn at 12:30 p.m., according to Ed Garnett of Amarillo, area 4-H and youth specialist with the Extension Service.

The first general assembly will be at 1 p.m. The afternoon will be highlighted by various reports given by council members who participated in recent state and national 4-H events. The group will have a picnic in the state park that evening.

Activities for the second day of the workshop will include leadership and citizenship training, a business meeting and committee reports. Group discussions will be featured on "Leadership, Citizenship, Community Resource Development and 4-H in the 1970's." Respective discussion leaders will be Mrs. Linda Huffaker, Lynn County home demonstration agent; Mrs. Catherine Crawford, district home demonstration agent; Joe Wise, Crosby County agricultural agent; and Garnett.

The workshop will adjourn at 3 p.m. on Aug. 11.

Howard County representatives are Joey Shaw of Big Spring and Darla Buchanan of Luther.

Stone Is Leaving Police Force For New Position

Sgt. Pete Stone, identification officer for the Big Spring police department, has resigned to accept a position with the San Marcos department in order to enter Southwest Texas University.

He expressed regret at leaving the Big Spring department, with which he has been associated since 1964, but said he wanted to complete his degree in law enforcement with a major in modern police management. He will be leaving Aug. 17 but added that "we are keeping our home in Big Spring."

Stone, a native of Thomaston, Maine, came here in 1960 as an airman at Webb AFB. Upon separation from service, he became a patrolman with the Big Spring police and enrolled as a member of the first class of the Southwest Academy for Law Enforcement at Howard County Junor College.

Since then he has completed 640 hours in police course, plus earning 45 semester hours credit at HCJC and Hardin-Simmons University. Last summer he earned six hours credit in the Southwest Texas University police records computer course.

Stone also has been active in community work, serving the past two years as president of the West Side Community Center board, has served as a photography merit badge counselor for Boy Scouts, on the council at Trinity Lutheran, chairmen of a newly formed Chamber of Commerce drug education committee, and on the March of Dimes committee. He and his wife, Carol, have one son, Alan, 3.

MRS. JOHN ROBERT DOUGLASS

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Rebecca Lynn Boggess of Lakewood, Colo., and John Robert Douglass of Wheatridge, Colo., exchanged wedding vows at 4 p.m., Sunday in the Applewood Valley Methodist Church, Denver, Colo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Boggess Sr., and Douglass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Douglass Jr., all of Denver, Colo. The bridegroom is also the grandson of Roy Phillips, 401 Pennsylvania, Big Spring, and the late Mrs. Phillips, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Douglass Sr.

The Rev. James E. Barnes performed the ceremony. A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore a formal-length gown fashioned in candlelight silk organza with Alencon lace accents. Lace overlaid the empire bodice which featured a high neckline and long sheer sleeves. The full circle skirt extended to a short train, and a chapel-length mantilla fell from a coronet of lace and pearls. A wide border of lace edged the mantilla. She carried a single long-stemmed rose.

Miss Barbara Cross served as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Susan Johnson, Miss Kristen Olson and Miss Pamela Sindt. Miss Stacey Newton of Fort Collins, Colo., was flower girl, and Patrick Boggess of Golden, Colo., the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

Johnny Roy Phillips of Lubbock, the bridegroom's uncle, was best man. Groomsmen were Emery Butler, Dan Cherry, Josh Kennedy and James Newton.

Following a trip to Vail, Colo., the couple will reside in Boulder where Douglass is a student at the University of Colorado.

Attending the ceremony from Big Spring were Roy Phillips and Mrs. Lillian Spalding.

Forsan Families Entertain Guests

FORSAN (SC) — Miss Wendy Monroney of Snyder is visiting her grandparents, the G. L. Monroneys, and her aunt, the Bob Cowleys.

The D. D. Baggetts are visiting her parents in East Texas.

The Lee Yarbroughs and the J. B. Andersons have returned from a fishing trip to the Pecos River.

Word was received recently by Mrs. L. B. McElrath of the birth of her first grandchild. An infant girl was born to her son and daughter-in-law, the Jimmy Tylers of Naples, Italy. Mrs. McElrath visited friends and relatives in Brownwood Lake and Coleman recently. She was joined by her daughter, Mrs. Al White of Austin. The annual McElrath reunion was planned.

The S. J. Willis' have returned from a trip to Kanai, Alaska.

Mrs. J. E. Hagar of Pecos recently visited her parents, the S. C. Cowleys. Mrs. Hagar and Mrs. Amy Reid went to San Angelo for a day.

Recent guests of the J. D. Gilmores were their children and families, the Richard Gilmores, Teheran, Iran; Mrs. F. J. Griffith, Los Angeles, Calif.; the Tom Gilmores, Tyler; and Mrs. Charlie McGuire, Monahans. The Tom Gilmores also visited her mother, Mrs. T. M. Dunnigan.

Senior Citizens Invited To Picnic At Pavilion

Howard County senior citizens are invited to attend a picnic at the Old Settlers' Pavilion in Comanche Trail Park Aug. 16. Dominoes will begin at 10 a.m., followed by a covered dish lunch at noon. Participants are asked to bring dominoes and a covered dish if possible.

"If you can't bring a dish, bring a friend," says John Clancy, president of Howard County Council on Aging. Plates, napkins, utensils and cold drinks will be furnished. Anyone needing a ride is encouraged to call the office of the home demonstration agent, 267-8469.

The picnic is one of a series of get-togethers held the third Wednesday of each month, normally at the county fair barns. Regular activities include dominoes and other recreation. A local home demonstration club assists with the luncheon each month.

The annual senior citizen's talent fair is slated Nov. 11 at Highland Center Mall. The fair provides an opportunity for individuals to display and sell homemade articles including edibles, wearable, household items, decorative items and gifts. The seller keeps all proceeds.

Anyone desiring more information concerning the fair or other activities may call the HD agent's office.

Men's Club Views HCJC Greenhouse

J. T. Broseh, grounds superintendent at Howard County Junior College, conducted members of Men's Garden Club on a tour of the college grounds Monday evening. The tour included the HCJC greenhouse and boiler room.

Broseh said that Jim Owens, agricultural teacher at the college, is trying to get the greenhouse back into operation after several years of inactivity.

Prior to the tour, members met for a short business session at Broseh's home, 1906 Eleventh Place, agreeing to help plant shrubbery at Westside Community Center in the fall.

Dr. Paul Koshi displayed diseased plants from various places in the city, and members endeavored to determined what was wrong with them.

Observes Founding

Mrs. A. G. Eitzen, a past president of Big Spring Desk and Derrick Club, showed slides taken during the club's early years, at a dinner meeting Monday evening in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

The program was in observance of the local club's 18th anniversary. Former members were invited as guests. Mrs. Everett Barnett presided, and hostesses were Mrs. W. H. Kay, Mrs. J. E. Parker and Miss Helen Hurt. Fourteen charter members and seven former presidents were present.

Guests included Mrs. Dennis Bruneau, Calumet City, Ill.; Mrs. Bob Asbury, Mrs. Will Barron, Mrs. Ed Black, Mrs. Perry Chandler, Mrs. John Damron, Mrs. Eitzen, Mrs. Glenn Guthrie, Mrs. M. B. Kountz, Mrs. Mamie Roberts, Mrs. Bob Satterwhite and Mrs. R. E. Stringfellow, all former members; and Mrs. Betty McAdams.

Party Held For Bride

Mrs. Sammy Chappell was honored at a bridal shower Friday evening in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. She is the former Becky James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert James, Snyder Highway.

Hostesses were Miss Gay Harris, Miss Sue Fortenberry, Miss Susan Trim, Miss Sherry Wickline and Miss Denise Bryant.

The honoree was attired in a lavender knit dress fashioned empire-style with long sleeves and a scooped neckline. She was presented a corsage of lavender carnations. White carnations with lavender trim were given to her mother and to the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Paul Chappell.

The serving table was covered with purple linen and overlaid with a white cutwork cloth. An arrangement of lavender and purple chrysanthemums and candles centered the table.

Mr and Mrs. Chappell were married July 28 at St. John's Methodist Church, Lubbock.

AUGUST WEDDING

Complimentary Shower Honors Miss Campbell

Miss Betsy Campbell, bride-elect of Tommy Rutledge, was honored at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in the First Federal Community Room.

Hostesses were Miss Linda Affleck, Mrs. John Affleck, Miss Cecilia Coffey, Mrs. Aubrey Weaver, Mrs. Richard Posey and Mrs. Lois E. Madison.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with floor-length white satin overlaid with white lace and edged with red and white decorative ribbon. An arrangement of white spider chrysanthemums, red carnations and babies'-breath, flanked with red candles in crystal holders, centered the table. Other appointments were crystal and silver.

The registry table was covered with a floor-length white satin cloth with lace overlaid and trimmed with red ribbons. Miss Affleck presided at the guest register.

Miss Campbell was attired in a red cotton pantdress with a low round neckline fashioned with long puffed sleeves. She was presented a white orchid corsage. Corsages of red and white carnations were presented to the honoree's mother, Mrs. Windred R. Campbell, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Raleigh Rutledge.

Miss Campbell and Rutledge will be married Aug. 19 at the First Christian Church.

Certificates Given To Rebekahs

Certificates of perfection in unwritten work were presented to Mrs. W. E. Rayburn and Mrs. Charles Boland at the Tuesday meeting of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 in the IOOF Hall. Mrs. Lee Thackrey, lodge deputy, made the presentation.

Mrs. W. C. Beechly received a certificate of merit from the Rebekah Assembly of Texas for sending in a perfect semi-annual report. The award came from Mrs. Nettie Morris, Rebekah state secretary.

Mrs. Boland was installed as left support to the vice grand in a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Thackrey and Mrs. LaVerne Rogers. It was announced that Mrs. Betty Adams, Rebekah state president, is selling small violet pins to raise money to send a boy or girl to visit the United Nations.

Mrs. Rayburn presided, and the 21 members present reported 24 visits to the sick. Mrs. Rayburn was honored for her birthday. The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday at the IOOF Hall.

Uncle Sam Comes Courting -- Will Girls Play Hard To Get?

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — You've come a long way, baby, and now Uncle Sam wants you—in the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marines.

As an enticement, long-standing sex barriers to promotion and assignments have been dropped as the armed forces, though somewhat reluctantly, have begun to recognize women as equals.

With a changing eye toward motherhood, the military recently allowed female officers and enlisted women to do what many women do—have children and raise a family.

There are female generals and admirals. Women soon will serve aboard ships at sea, and there may even be the rustle of skirts at West Point and Annapolis in the not-too-distant future.

Four years ago, this was unheard of at the Pentagon.

If they weren't nurses, women were limited mostly to being secretaries in uniform. The highest rank was colonel. Pregnancy meant automatic discharge, whether married or single.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is responsible for many of the changes. Since taking office in 1969, he has pushed hard for equal opportunity, not only for blacks and other minorities, but for women as well.

The women's liberation movement has had some influence, but the military also has realized that as draft calls wind down, the services will need women to help meet their needs in the transition to an all-volunteer force next year.

At present, 34,000 women serve in the armed forces, accounting for about 1.5 per cent of the total number of Americans in unifom.

"By bringing in more women, the Army will be able to reduce the number of men required in noncombat jobs," explained Brig. Gen. Mildred C. Bailey, director of the Women's Army Corps.

She announced Monday that WAC strength will double to put to work as missile-repair crewmen, radar technicians and virtually all other jobs except those involved in combat.

The Navy went a step further Tuesday with orders from Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr. to prepare to welcome women aboard fighting ships at sea. Ratification of the amendment guaranteeing equal crights to women will sink nearly 200 years of Navy tradition, Zumwalt predicted. As a start, the admiral ordered all Navy billets opened to women along with the midshipmen programs on college campuses offering the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps program.

The Air Force was the first to open ROTC programs to women and the Army will do so in September.

While the Marines have issued no recent public announcements of their attitude toward women, they too are recruiting females.

The new, liberal approach to women in uniform has produced one reverse twist: civilian husbands of servicewomen were recently given the OK to shop in the commissary and Post Exchange, just like military wives.

Informal Dinner Dance Slated At Country Club

A Mexican buffet and get-acquainted party is scheduled Friday evening at Big Spring Country Club for club members and their guests. "Happy Hour" will begin at 7 o'clock. At 8 p.m., dinner will be served, followed by dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. A band will be provided, and charge for the dinner will be $2.50 per person. Dress will be casual. Reservations should be made by calling the club, 267-7701, by noon Thursday. The event is being arranged by the entertainment committee, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Cook, chairmen.

Miss Cook Feted At Kitchen Shower

Miss Sharon Cook, bride-elect of David Lammers, was honored at a kitchen shower Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Green, 1749 Purdue.

The honoree was attired in a two-toned pink pantsuit.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a hot pink cloth overlaid with white lace. A branched candelabrum centered the table, and appointments were of crystal.

Cohostesses with Mrs. Green were Miss Teresa Griffin, Miss Barbara Eason and Mrs. Jack Griffin.

During the evening guests made rice bags for the wedding scheduled Aug. 11 at East Fourth Baptist Church.

What's In A Word?

Insight into how the meaning of words comes to be distorted can be found in an episode which arose in an Arizona school district and came to a head in the Arizona Court of Appeals. The word in question was "dissident."

There is nothing in the least dishonorable about being a dissident. On the contrary, one who dissents from the established or generally accepted view of things may perform a great service to society. Dissent and counter-argument and the rest of that complex process by which decisions are reached in a democracy — all this is of the utmost importance, and the dissident plays a vital role.

In recent years, however, "dissident" has been perceived by many to connote something bad, or at very least rather disreputable. Apparently this was the view of five teachers of Mexican-American origin in the Wilson Elementary School District in Arizona's Maricopa County.

They had filed a recall petition against the school board on grounds that it discriminated against Mexican-Americans in hiring teachers. In its response the school board described the five as "dissidents." The teachers then filed suit alleging that calling them dissidents was defamatory.

Well, it is nothing of the sort. We maintain this even while recognizing the possibility that it was so intended by the school board; its members, too, may hold this view of what the word means. To say that someone is a dissident was, as the Court of Appeals held, "within proper bounds of response" to the teachers' statement accompanying the recall petition. But all in all it's an interesting example of how the import of a word can be distorted by improper usage.

Line Of Succession

Sen. James O. Eastland, 68, the Mississippi lawyer-plantation owner, is the new president pro tempore of the U.S. Senate. He succeeds Sen. Allen J. Ellender, who died recently at age 81.

The office is mostly honorary. Custom dictates the election of the senior majority member to the position as a sort of salute to seniority.

Eastland has been in the Senate since 1943.

The 1947 Presidential Succession Act was passed because of concern in the country for improving the succession. The form finally adopted changed successors from cabinet members to senior elected officials in the Congress. After the vice president comes the speaker of the House and then the president pro tempore of the Senate.

The odds on the line of succession reaching the Senate are very long, of course, but we'd never thought of anyone ever getting to the presidency through an honorary position. We still ought to have a better, clearer law concerning disability and succession.

Moment Of Excitement

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Unfortunately I never had the thrill of having an oil well of my own "come in," but I've experienced the thrill vicariously over the years. Long since, I've been reduced to writing about it, relaying precise information on tests, but I still get a little excited in passing on the information about a wildcat that makes or promises to make a producer.

FOR THAT matter, the news of plans to drill an exploratory test sort of gets me worked up. This probably is a flash back to the day that flambouyant oil promoters moved in to town, picked out a likely area, quietly blocked up a suitable amount of acreage and then announced that they were about to drill a wildcat that couldn't miss. Knowing what an oilfield could mean to a town as well as individuals, this makes you sit up and take notice — and secretly pray that this promoter knew what he was talking about.

I WASN'T around when S.E.J. Cox staged his fairy-tale one-man boom, but it was his magic that brought my family to Big Spring. After he faded from the scene (not before, as history will attest, he actually found the first oil on the eastern platform of the Permian Basin), there were sporadic efforts to find oil, including one by the name of Home Development Company, as I remember. This was supported by local friends who invested at first, then chipped in week by week to keep things going.

MY FATHER, in the grocery business at the time, was like the rest. He kept kicking in grub week by week because reports always said the well "was running high and looking good."

After Fred Hyer hit the first commercial well in 1925 and Steve Owens and Sam Sloan found the bigger pay the next spring on the Chalk ranch, followed by prolific wells by Magnolia, Humble, Roxana (Shell) and others on the Roberts Ranch, brought in wells so frequently it almost lost its excitement.

But not quite. When the heavy initial gas pressure subsided with a rush to produce all the oil a well could make, and when new and tighter oil formations were tapped, it took a little nudging to complete or bring in a producer.

A CALL went out for the torpedo men or well shooters — fellows like Charlie Dublin and Roby Robinson — who handled nitroglycerin. They loaded up a truck bed full of soup, and although the cans slipped into rubber sleeves for cushioning, it's a miracle that they ever got safely to a well, considering the cow trails that passed for roads.

BASED ON the number of feet of hole the driller wanted cracked with the subterraneoun blast, the shooter filled the tubes or torpedoes, lowered them away, and then capped with a time bomb (originally they dropped a heavy tool or some heavy object to detonate the charge). Over this was placed a load of oil, or perhaps a bridge (a plug of gravel) which was enough to force the blast into the walls of the hole but not too heavy to keep the load or bridge from blowing out and letting the well clean itself.

AT THE appointed time, you could hear a dull thump in soles of your shoes. In a minute or so (seemed like an hour) gas fumed from the well head, then there was a whoosh, as a column of oil snaked out of the hole, danced erratically as it mounted, and then went with a mighty roar as it plumed over the crownblock into the wind. You never forget a sight like that or to be excited by it.

Moonshiners

Robert E. Ford

The revenuers busted a moonshiner in the middle of Dallas the other day. He had his still in his garage.

THAT WOULDN'T have been worth a line in the local press a few years ago. This time it made page one of the newspapers — well, the first page of the local sections, anyway.

This is because stills are becoming virtual artifacts in Texas these days. We know of one ex-liquor maker who has hidden his away for historical purposes only.

Moonshiners draw mixed reactions.

The Dallas fellow had a still that could turn out 12 gallons in three to five days depending on how hard he worked at it.

At the going rate of $8 a gallon, he was adding $190 to $200 a week to his income. Strangely, he was well employed elsewhere at $7.37 an hour.

ABOUT THE time of this incident, the annual pamphlet called "Moonshine, the Poison Business" dropped on the desk. It is published by Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc.

Among those who have no affection for the moonshiner is the Treasury Department accountants and the field men who try to find illicit stills.

For instance, official sources say that more revenue officers have been killed in line of duty than all other government agents combined. The total is 155.

IF YOU consider official figures, you see how outdated moonshining is in Texas.

In 1970, the last year reports were available, only 12 stills were found. The previous year, the Texas total was twice that.

Surrounding states have a spotty picture. New Mexico apparently does not know the joys or sorrows of moonshining or else the stills are well hidden in the hills. Louisiana revenuers seized only six stills, while the total in Arkansas was 40 and Oklahoma 39.

The Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., booklet says 6.4 per cent of the liquor drunk in America is moonshine, which if taxed would bring in $326 million.

Meanwhile, the legitimate segment of the industry pays $5.1 billion in taxes, which, says the beverage publication, is second only to corporation and income taxes.

WHAT KEEPS the moonshiner in business when a drinker can buy all the legal liquor he wants?

The economics of the thing are pretty clear. At a going rate of $8 a gallon, this means the usual "fifth" of illegally made liquor costs $1.60. You'll pay a lot more than that for legitimate liquor, on which the tax is about $2.40 a fifth depending on where you buy it.

Licensed distillers and doctors can provide quantities of official reports on how moonshine can cause blindness, paralysis and even death.

This is because some indifferent moonshiners are not careful about the metal they use in their stills, resulting in excessive amounts of lead and other chemicals in the liquor which cause grave or fatal illnesses.

IN PROHIBITION days, your contact would whisper the name of his bootlegger, always commenting that "His still is solid copper and he ages the whisky in charred barrels." We doubt it. The product tasted more like gasoline than anything else.

There is what revenuers call a "moonshine belt" in the United States, all southern states except West Virginia and Oklahoma, and excluding Texas and Louisiana.

In these states and some fringe areas, revenuers and local officers found 9,522 stills and 23,657,000 gallons of moonshine in 1970.

Coming Campaign

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Nixon is likely to campaign this time with less travel and speechmaking than in other years. In the first place, he has the responsibility of conducting foreign and domestic policy and cannot be away from his desk for extended journeys to various states. Republican strategists think that, if the voters note his fidelity to the tasks in Washington, this will help him to gain support.

BUT THE main reason why Mr. Nixon will not travel around very much is hat he can speak directly by television to local audiences or over national networks during the campaign and get across basic principles that he has in mind for the next term if he is re-elected.

There will be quite a number of Nixon associates, however, who will be making personal appearances throughout the country, and doubtless they will be drawing large crowds. Vice President Agnew, for instance, has always had good attendance when he has made speeches, and he will probably be one of the big attractions during the campaign.

ON THE WHOLE, Mr. Nixon will have a fighting team seeking to win the electoral votes of several states which are leaning in his direction. For those who map the strategy will recognize that it is necessary to explain clearly the meaning of governmental policies and not depend on the generalities and abstractions which have hitherto characterized the debate on the wisdom or unwisdom or certain policies of the administration. The belief prevails here among the Nixon planners that there is a huge vote obtainable among the younger groups as they become better and better informed about the programs that are being proposed for the future.

MANY OF THE 18-to-25-year-old voters will follow the lead of their parents, but the important thing is that a greater number than ever will be going to the voting booths. The Republican party is planning an intensive effort to get young people to the polls and also will try to make sure that more of the older persons who have not been voting will register and cast their ballots on election day. It could happen that a bigger percentage of citizens who are over 25 may vote this time than before.

Sen. McGovern probably will visit every state, and the Democratic vice presidential candidate, Sargent Shriver, will do a lot of campaigning, too.

BUT THE outcome of the campaign will turn very largely on what the voters think of the personality of the candidates and of the programs that they offer for the next four years. Mr. Nixon, of course, has the benefit of widespread publicity apart from politics because of the news developing in public affairs from day to day in which he plays an important role.

Keeping The Peace

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon for the Nobel Peace Prize?

A proposal now being circulated is gathering thousands of signatures toward that end, and may be included in a petition sent to the prize committee in Oslo, Norway.

Even if it isn't, the solicitation of signatures is causing quite a flap in busness and financal circles, where the proposal was first circulated by the magazine "Finance."

Finance's publisher, Elizabeth MacDonald Manning, claims that in about one month after her proposal was made in the issue published July 5 she has received 3,486 concurring messages and just 29 dissents.

Many of the responses are from prominent government and business officials, and some are accompanied by fervid statements.

Among signatures claimed so far are G. Keith Funston, Olin Corp. chairman, Arthur Burns, Federal Reserve chairman, and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D—S.C.

But those dissents! Some might best remain unpublished, the kindest of them being, "You've got to be kidding," and the more sophisticated being constructed of words like "an unparalleled effrontery."

Some suggested that Mrs. Manning, who once was a public relations executive and who has a reputation for imagination and innovation, has self-interest at heart, a thought she dismisses as too petty to consider.

Mrs. Manning, whose magazine is widely circulated among U.S. and foreign diplomats, bankers, finance officers, government officials and money managers, claims the motivation is sincere. "He is building a lastng peace," she states.

"What the world has witnessed this year was the sudden conversion of an idealistic vision of peace into a more realistic version of workng together instead of fighting wars," she wrote in her proposal.

She explained later that in her view the President is carefully evolving a strategy of peace that ties the world into a trading whole in which each nation will benefit and each will have a stake in keeping the peace.

By implication, she suggests that American businessmen, having so much to offer, can only benefit, as will the entire American economy through the opening of markets and the introduction of new goods.

Her peace prize proposal was first published in the June issue but since then has been reproduced widely. Another copy was published recently as an ad in the Wall Street Journal.

Author Dies

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — Edward Barry Roberts, 71, a New York City author and former faculty member of the Yale School of Drama, where he taught television writing, died Sunday. He wrote the play, "Forsaking All Others," and a textbook, "How to Write for Television."

Scalped Girl Needing Help

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — The local junior chamber of commerce has started a fund to help 11-year-old Cindy Hall have a series of expensive skin graft operations over the next several years.

The girl is in Baylor Hospital, Dallas, having lost all her hair when she was scalped as her hair caught in a power-driven posthole digger at her father's dairy farm. The machine also ripped away the skin from her left eye.

Doctors say they can save her sight, but a number of skin grafts are needed.

WASHINGTON — Some of President Nixon's best friends in the Senate believe that a little progress toward a political settlement of the Vietnam war is being made in the secret peace talks in Paris.

THEY SEE the possibility of an agreement upon some variation of the President's peace offer to Hanoi before the November election — assuming the North Vietnamese realize, by mid-October, that Nixon really is going to be in the White House for four years more.

Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania sees a basis for cautious optimism in Henry Kissinger's private talks with North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris on two separate trips only two weeks apart.

KISSINGER had authority to consider any political proposal with one exception: The President will never allow a Communist regime to be imposed by force upon the 17 million people of South Vietnam.

Through Kissinger, the President has reiterated his offers to stop all air and naval action in Southeast Asia within four months after an internationally supervised cease-fire throughout Indochina, and after the release of all American prisoners. Nixon stressed, at his July 27 press conference, that these offers were not made "on a take-it-or-leave-it bais." This was a clear bid to Hanoi for some counterproposal other than its old demand that the United States must first help to kick out President Nguyen Van Thieu and withdraw all military and economic aid from the Saigon regime even before a ceasefire.

SEN. STROM THURMOND contends the Administration is "on the verge" of some success in the private talks, although the critics on the Democratic side of the Senate aisle say they cannot see any evidence to support the South Carolina Republican's optimism.

SEN. HOWARD BAKER, who also has close ties to the White House, said: "Hanoi has two alternatives: (1) To accept some variation of President Nixon's offer, on the assumption that he will be re-elected; or (2) to take a 'wait-and-see' stand until after the election.

Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern promises to end the bombing of North Vietnam on his inaugural day; withdraw all U.S. forces within 90 days; and stop aiding the Thieu regime.

BAKER, a Tennessee Republican, said North Vietnam has an incentive to negotiate seriously now because it is being hurt by the current bombing, is suffering heavy losses in its bogged-down offensive in the South, and its "two principal allies," Russia and China, have shifted their policy and now "favor a negotiated settlement."

Hey, Loudmouth Harry

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks that throw straw bosses for losses:

"What do you have to do around here to get a merit raise besides work yourself into an early grave?"

"They just told me to report to somebody they call Loudmouth Harry. Are you the guy?"

"How's that again, chief? You'll have to run that order by me once more. I didn't get it the first time."

"He'd dock his own mother an hour's pay if she were two minutes late."

"Is this really my paycheck, Harry, or something you planned to give to the poor?"

"He's so cheap that after he gets to knowing you better, he'll start borrowing a sandwich from you every day for his lunch."

"I don't know why everybody ii always picking on you, Loudmouth. It could have been is always picking on you, ample, they'd given us a boss with brains?"

Don't worry too much about Harry. Ever since he got his store teeth, his bark has been worse than his bite."

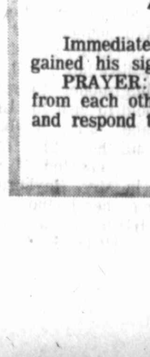

"How about it, Loudmouth? Do you put another bar of soap in the shower room, or do you want a strike on your hands?"

"If there is anything in the factory you want to steal, just put it in a wheelbarrow and wheel it out the gates. You'll never get caught. As long as you're pushing a wheelbarrow, Harry thinks you are working."

"Harry started as an executive trainee 30 years ago, but he never managed to get out of basic training."

"Harry, when you tell me something you want me to do, should I kneel and say thank you, or is it all right if I just throw you a salute?"

"Hey, Harry, wake up—it's quitting time!"

My Answer

Billy Graham

My unsaved husband died of brain damage. But before he passed away he told me he was ready, and that God was going to take him home. But in spite of that I am worried sick over his soul, and sometimes I feel I will go out of my mind. Pray for me that I will have the assurance that he is with the Lord. D.A.

I can appreciate your concern, but be assured that your husband is in the hands of the fairest, most just, and merciful person in the universe, God.

Since you say your husband had brain damage, you should know that he wasn't saying he was "ready" to meet God just to make you feel better. The deathbed is a poor place to transact such important business as accepting Christ. We know that God is always willing, ready, and able to receive anyone who comes to Him humbly and with faith. The thief on the cross, suffering the agonies of crucifixion prayed a prayer, and Christ said: "This day thou shalt be with me in paradise." (Luke 23:43.)

I know a man, however, who says that he wants to know Christ, but that he is going to wait until the last moment to receive him. Such an attitude is both dangerous and cowardly. How does this man know he will not be killed in an accident, or have a sudden heart attack, and be unable to pray and confess his sin?

It is cowardly because if Christ is important in death, he is important in life. It is equivalent to trying to buy life insurance after one finds he has cancer. It just isn't practical.

May God bless you and give you assurance in regard to your husband. You can trust him with God.

A Devotion For Today . .

Immediately something like scales fell from his eyes and he regained his sight. (Acts 9:18, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, save us from the blindness which keeps us from each other. Help us to see all persons as a "divine happening" and respond to them as Thy children. Amen.

Slow Thyroid

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am being treated for an underactive thyroid and would like to know just what the thyroid is for and what harm it can do when it is underactive. — Mrs. K.

The thyroid gland, located in the neck, is most directly associated with your metabolism Metabolism, to give you as simple a definition as I can, is the total process of making energy available for your body's needs.

The gland governs this activity by producing thyroid hormones. (There are, of course, other hormones, for other purposes, produced in other glands.)

When the thyroid gland is underactive, it means that the body itself slows down. The patient with such trouble is logy, slow-moving and tires easily. The draft on the fire is low, so to speak.

For outward signs, too great a lack of thyroid will result in dry skin, absence of luster in the hair, in extreme cases loss of hair. For another example, women with underactive thyroid glands may experience great difficulty in becoming pregnant.

The above are just some of the salient items involved, but actually you will have difficulty in finding any of the normal activities of the human system that isn't affected to some extent by lack of enough thyroid hormone.

Fortunately, it is possible to compensate quite effectively with medication taken by mouth.

The degree of thyroid activity, or lack of it, can vary tremendously — maybe seriously off, maybe only a little. In extreme cases it is sometimes possible, just by looking at a patient, to suspect strongly that the thyroid is at fault.

But in other cases, the patient may not feel ill but have some vague symptoms of tiring too easily, or picking up infections more readily than should be, or just feeling "slowed down."

In such cases, metabolism tests can give an accurate picture of thyroid activity. Even rather slight medication often can afford a marked improvement in the way the patient feels.

* * *

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife and I are both 74 and have been married 51 years. Until two years ago we always lived in a house. No trouble.

We bought a mobile home, and for the last eight months my wife has been getting a terrific headache, mostly at night. She has had X-rays and two doctors gave her pain pills which don't help.

I was wondering if the mobile home could cause it? Last winter we were in California and Colorado, and she never had a headache. Do you think climate could cause it? Or could it be our mattress and pillows, although these are the same ones we had when we lived in a house. Maybe you can suggest something. — J.M.M.

The one thing that occurs to me is that you may be accumulating traces of carbon monoxide, which can cause headaches but won't show on X-ray.

Some of these mobile homes are more tightly enclosed than a house — and if you use some sort of heater that isn't thoroughly vented, you can get some monoxide.

Perhaps when you were in California you used the heater less, or perhaps had the bedroom window open more. That would fit with what you've told me.

So check carefully as to heater venting and ventilation at night. And let me know if it bears any fruit.

You can lose weight if you really want to! Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and without gimmicks — to the level that best suits your individual needs. For a copy, write to him, care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Surprise, Surprise

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Hank Traugott sprang a birthday surprise on his wife, Lony.

By prearrangement, the Palo Alto interior decorator steered his wife into a new department store here Monday night "to look for a gadget for her birthday."

They wound up in the fashion section, where soft lights illuminated a guitarist, buckets of champagne, a dozen close friends and professional models parading in a size 12 wardrobe, complete from at-home gowns through travel clothes to evening apparel with jewelry.

Mrs. Traugott at first burst into tears, said Adalene Ross, who staged the fashion show.

Then, told she could take her choice of the 28 items, she sprang her own birthday surprise.

"I'll take them all," she said.

She said later she and her husband have been "sort of competing" in surprising each other on their birthdays.

Parks Arrives In 'Poke Camp

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif., (AP) — Billy Parks is in the Dallas Cowboy camp and now all he has to do is compete with Bob Hayes, Lance Alworth and Ron Sellers for a starting job.

"They (the Cowboys) have fantastic receivers . . . exceptional receivers," said Parks, who straggled into the Cowboy camp Tuesday almost a week after Duane Thomas was traded to San Diego for running back Mike Montgomery and Parks, a gifted receiver.

"You can't go anywhere without facing tremendous competition," said Parks. "I won't know where I fit in until I go out there and show what I can do."

Parks caught 41 passes for the Chargers last year before he broke an arm.

He gave his reasons for a delayed appearance at the Cowboy camp as "personal." Former Charger Coach Sid Gillman, now a Cowboy assistant, talked with Parks Sunday.

"I wasn't surprised to be traded," Parks said. "When I first reported to camp, there were rumors I would be traded to Baltimore. So when this happened I was more or less prepared. They have some great ends at San Diego and I'm sure Coach Harland Svare thought Thomas could help the Chargers."

Parks added "I'm looking forward to Dallas. It's almost exciting."

He said the pulled hamstring trouble which bothered him last year was gone.

"It feels good now," said the 6-foot-1, 185-pounder from Long Beach State.

FEATURED SPEAKER — Former Big Spring head coach Spike Dykes will be the featured speaker at the annual Quarterback Club Barbecue Aug. 24. Dykes is currently head freshman coach at the University of Texas.

QUARTERBACK CLUB AFFAIR

Dykes To Speak At Barbeque

Spike Dykes, former head coach at Big Spring High School, will be the featured speaker at the annual Quarterback Club Barbeque Aug. 24. The barbeque will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Comanche Trail Park Amphitheatre.

Dykes coached the Steers for three seasons. After the 1969 season, he left Big Spring to be the head coach at Alice.

Prior to coaching at Big Spring, Dykes was coach at Belton and Coahoma. Presently, he is head freshman coach for Darrell Royal at the University of Texas.

Tickets for the barbeque are five dollars. The five dollars includes both the barbeque and the membership fee for the Quarterback Club.

According to Quarterback Club president Al Valdes, the 1972-73 membership drive is "going real well."

Valdes urged the people whom the club has contacted by mail to send in their checks for membership to the Quarterback Club "as soon as possible so that we will have a good idea how many people to expect for the barbeque."

The club will hold its first regularly-scheduled meeting Tuesday, Sept. 5. The Big Spring football season opens Sept. 9 when the Steers travel to Lubbock to face Monterey High.

MATHEWS' HOME DEBUT SUCCESSFUL

McLain Hurls Braves Past Astros

ATLANTA (AP) — Denny McLain, relying on "the ole at 'em pitch," recorded his first National League complete game victory Tuesday night, providing a successful home debut for new Atlanta Braves Manager Eddie Mathews.

McLain, 3-2, breezed to the triumph after the Braves exploded for five runs in the first and another in the second.

He had a one-hitter going into the eighth when the Astros spoiled his shutout bid with three straight singles. Houston added three more hits in the ninth, including a home run by Doug Rader, before the Braves closed out their 8-4 victory, only their second in the last 10 games.

The late outburst by the Astros didn't bother McLain, who said he wasn't tired.

"I was just trying to get it over with an eight-run lead. You just can't walk anybody in that situation."

Dusty Baker, who smacked a two-run homer in the first, made a trio of fine running catches in center field and Felix Millan had a pair of outstanding plays at second base.

"Yep," McLain said, grinning, "the ole at 'em pitch is the best pitch in baseball because it's the quickest out."

Mathews, one of baseball's top sluggers during his playing days with the Braves, quipped, "There's nothing to this managing."

Mathews took over the Braves in Cincinnati Monday when Luman Harris was fired. The former third baseman took a 9-1 shelling from the Reds in his nationall televised managerial debut.

Mathews said the biggest difference in the two games was "everybody on the team was a little more relaxed and feeling a little better. I know I was.

"Anytime there's a change it's not a real pleasant situation," he said. "A lot of these guys had never been through one before."

The loss was pinned on Don Wilson, 7-8, who yielded three walks, a two-run wild pitch and the home run to Baker before leaving in the first inning.

Earl Williams belted his 19th homer of the year in the second.

NY Teams In 'Serious Talks'

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New York Knicks and New York Rangers have been conducting "serious talks" with the New Jersey Sports Authority concerning a possible switch to the proposed sports complex in the Hackensack Meadowlands.

A source close to the Sports Authority confirmed Tuesday night that the talks were started two months ago with the approval of Gov. William T. Cahill.

The source discounted that Madison Square Garden, Inc., which owns the two successful teams, was using the talks as a squeeze play to get property tax relief in New York City.

19 INNING MARATHON

Cincinnati Outlasts Los Angeles, 2-1

By The Associated Press

In National League games, Cincinnati outlasted Los Angeles 2-1 in 19 innings — the longest game in the league this season—Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 4-2, the Chicago Cubs nipped Montreal 6-5, St Louis edged the New York Mets 6-5, San Francisco swept a twi-night doubleheader from San Diego 15-4 and 7-3 and Atlanta dropped Houston 8-4.

In the American League, the New York Yankees beat Detroit 4-2, Boston turned back Cleveland 4-1, Baltimore topped Milwaukee 4-2, Kansas City slipped past Oakland 4-3, the Chicago White Sox held off California 4-3 and, in 10 innings, Minnesota tripped Texas 6-5.

Tuesday night's triumph for Mathews was quite a switch from Monday night, when the Braves were clobbered 9-1 in Cincinnati only hours after he'd replaced the fired Luman Harris.

"The big difference," Eddie explained, "was that everybody on the team was a little more relaxed and feeling a little better. I know I was."

A two-run wild pitch by Don Wilson followed by Dusty Baker's two-run homer did the heavy first-inning damage and Earl Williams homered in the second.

Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston was stoical after his marathon loss to the Reds that dumped the Dodgers, third in the West, a full 10 games back of Cincinnati.

"By simple deduction," he said, "we have to win 10 more than them to tie them and one more than that if we're gonna beat 'em out. I'd say we were in about the same position we were a year ago—or maybe a little worse off." In fact, the Dodgers were only 4½ games back of San Francisco a year ago before falling one game short of catching the Giants.

Yanks Dump Tigers, 4-2; Climb To Within 3 Games

By The Associated Press

The managers of the contending teams in the American League East are almost as confusing as the race itself.

"This has to be the best for us since 1964," said New York's Ralph Houk after the third-place Yankees beat pace-setting Detroit 4-2 Tuesday and climbed within three games of the top. "We're only two back in the loss column and our guys think they can win the pennant."

"We'll beat them the next three games and they'll be right back where they belong," snapped Detroit's Billy Martin. "As far as I'm concerned it's between Baltimore, Boston and us—and Baltimore is the one we have to worry about."

"We have the best pitching day in and day out," commented Baltimore's Earl Weaver after the Orioles downed Milwaukee by a similar 4-2 score, "and if we get some hitting at all it should be ours."

Meanwhile, the Oakland A's sank slowly in the West and had their lead chopped to two games over Chicago following a 4-3 loss to Kansas City. Manager Dick Williams growled "No comment" for the second consecutive night when queried about a skid that has seen his club drop three in a row and six of its last seven starts.

Elsewhere, the White Sox held off California 4-3, Boston defeated Cleveland 4-1 and Minnesota nosed out Texas 6-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 2-1 in 19 innings, Atlanta whipped Houston 8-4, Pittsburgh shaded Philadelphia 4-2, St. Louis nipped the New York Mets 6-5, the Chicago Cubs beat Montreal 6-5 and San Francisco took two from San Diego 15-4 and 7-3.

Detroit's Mickey Lolich failed for the second time to become baseball's first 19-game winner when the Yankees broke a 2-2 tie with two unearned runs in the eighth inning following Lolich's bobble of Roy White's bunt.

Celerino Sanchez drove in the go-ahead run with a bases-loaded sacrifice fly and White, who homered in the fourth, scored on Ron Swoboda's second run-scoring single.

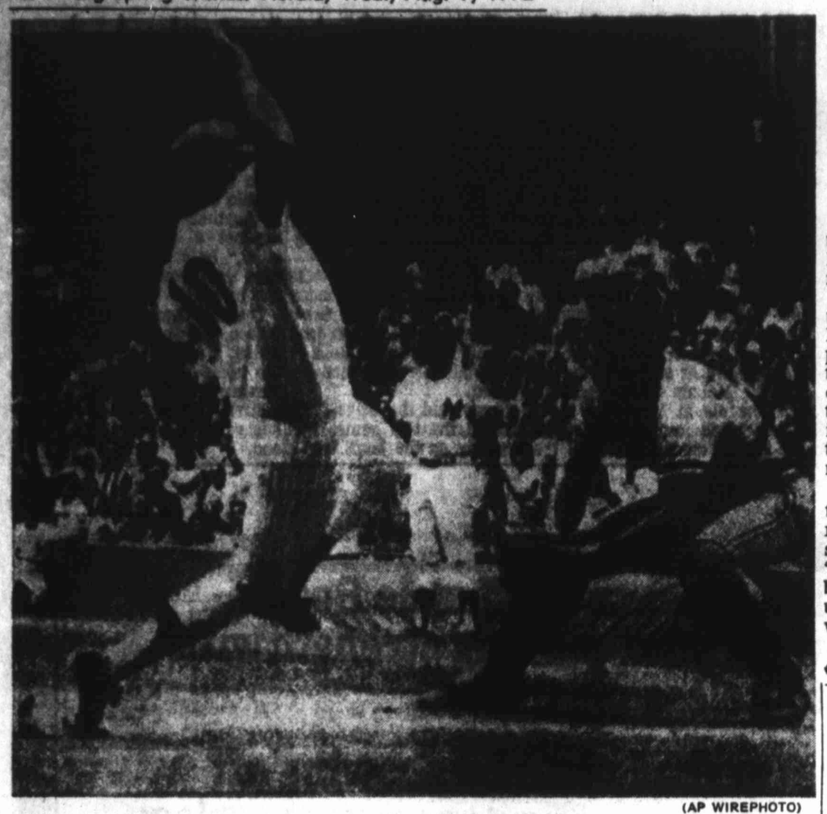

Boog Powell drove in all Baltimore's runs with a single and a three-run homer and Pat Dobson blanked the Brewers until the eighth when Dave May lashed a two-run single. Powell, who has raised his batting average from .159 on June 28 to .233, had a perfect 4-for-4 game.

"They haven't really been pitching around me," the first baseman said of his lengthy slump. "As a matter of fact, they've been waiting for me to get up there."

Oakland's Williams, who spewed profanities in the clubhouse after Monday night's loss, was in a sour mood again after Kansas City's Fred Patek delivered a tie-breaking two-out single in the ninth inning.

"No interviews," he snarled at one writer. "I've got nothing to say. Get out. I saw what you wrote today."

The writer replied softly, "Do you want to see it again tomorrow?" and Williams cooled off long enough to warn, "I pity the club we come out of it against."

BELATED BALLET — New York Yankees' Celerino Sanchez (10) slides into home plate after Fritz Peterson singled in fourth inning of Yanks' 4-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers Tuesday. Sanchez, trying to score from second, was too late, and Tigers' catcher Bill Freehan was waiting to make the play, at New York's Yankee Stadium.

'BIGGEST CHARGE'

Monzon's Pinchhit Lifts Twins To Win

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Pinch-hitter Danny Monzon called it his "biggest charge in life" when he hit a single in the 10th inning Tuesday night to give Minnesota a 6-5 victory over the Texas Rangers.

Monzon, usually a pinch-runner at best, was called in with the bases loaded and two outs in the 5-5 stalemate with Paul Lindblad pitching for Texas.

He ran the count to three balls and two strikes before sending a solid single to left field to score Steve Braun from third base with the winning run. It was Monzon's first game-winning hit in the major leagues.

The victory moved the third-place Twins within six games of slumping Oakland in the American League's West Division.

Monzon said Twins Manager Frank Quilici came off the top step of the dugout when it came time for pitcher Jim Strickland, 2-0, to hit and said, 'Who have I got here?'

"Someone said, 'Possum,' which is my nickname," Monzon added. And Quilici agreed.

"I knew I could hit Lindblad," Monzon said.

Quilici explained after the game why he picked Monzon, at bat only 22 times in 100 games, when Rick Renick, Eric Soderholm and George Mitterwald were available.

"I knew Lindblad as a guty pitcher who will challenge the hitter," Quilici said. "I know Monzon as a tough out, a selective hitter with a short stroke and tough to strike out. I had Monzon in mind all the time, and he did the job for us."

Lindblad, now 4-6, said of his pitch: "It was a fast ball. At 3-2 I'm just thinking of throwing a strike. And he's right about hitting me because I think he is 2-for-3 against me this season."

DASH WINNER AT OLYMPICS

Raiders Cut Jimmy Hines

By The Associated Press

"I knew they had a lot of receivers and my chances were slim," said a dejected Jimmy Hines.

"But I thought I deserved a better chance. I worked hard," added Hines, acclaimed the world's fastest human after winning the 100-meter dash in the 1968 Summer Olympic Games at Mexico City.

Hines' Olympic glory faded into disappointment Tuesday, when he was cut by the Oakland Raiders of the National Football League. It probably ended his brief and undistinguished pro football career.

After two unproductive seasons as a wide receiver and a kick returner, he was cut by the Miami Dolphins in 1970. The Kansas City Chiefs picked him up, then dropped him last season.

Tuesday was the day NFL clubs had to reach the 60-player limit—not counting players who participated in the recent College All-Star game against the Dallas Cowboys—and there were other notable additions and subtractions.

The New England Patriots cut nine players, including eight-year veteran quarterback Mike Taliaferro.

Taliaferro, who fired 19 touchdown passes in 1969, tying him with Joe Namath for the lead in the old American Football League, did not participate in a single play last season. Rookie Jim Plunkett called every offensive play for the Pats.

Little Dick Post, the AFL's rushing leader in 1969 with 853 yards, was waived by the Pittsburgh Steelers. He was attempting a comeback after undergoing a third operation on his right knee.

The Philadelphia Eagles cut veteran linebacker Doug Woodlief and placed linebacker Adrian Young and rookie safety Bobby Majors on the injured reserve list. Young has a sprained ankle and Majors is recuperating from tonsilitis.

Horoscope Forecast

CARROL RIGHTER

THURSDAY, AUG. 10

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A confusing set of conditions now exists. If you want to get the best out of today's planetary vibrations, be sure to remain charming, magnetic and accept nothing at face value. Giving others the benefit of the doubt places you far ahead of whatever unfavorable aspects may develop.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are undecided whether to carry through with tasks ahead of you or engage in a new activity, but the former is right for you. Study correspondence, but don't let the hidden meaning elude you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have an unexpected opportunity for recreation, so seize it, since present obligations can be handled better later on. Your intuition is not particularly good now, so don't follow it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Remain neutral in an argument between one at home and an outsider since you are not sure what it's all about. Keep busy at own tasks. Evening is best for conferring with others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Do your work as quickly and efficiently as you can, and then go after whatever interests you the most. A coworker is acting strangely, but make no comment. A smile can help.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are unable to comprehend monetary maters well now, so postpone handling them until they are explained more clearly to you. Show more affection for mate, who also wants more of your time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take time to become reconciled with yourself so that unfavorable conditions around you do not perturb you. Politeness is the answer now, since others are highly sensitive, especially tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have private anxieties that require calm thinking instead of fretting and fuming, which make matters worse. Keep an important appointment you have set up. Good results follow.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are now able to get together with a clever pal who can help you obtain the right results. Engage in personal affairs of importance and forget the monetary for the time being.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't permit a higher-up to deter you from carrying through with certain arrangements you want to make. Work objectively and safeguard your reputation. Show affection to mate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You want to attend an important activity, so do just that instead of waiting on those who like to waste your time. Forget a personal worry. Time will take care of it nicely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Once your work is done, be sure to see friends whose experience has been similar to yours and gain the answer to your problem. A group activity tonight brings excellent results.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Listening to what an associate has to suggest is wise before you step out to the civic activities that are ahead of you. An associate and a higher-up have an altercation, but you keep neutral.

Altrusa Club Making Plans For Busy Year

The Altrusa Club of Big Spring has been active in local service projects since it was organized in July 1950. Altrusa is an international service organization for professional women and women holding executive positions in business. Each Altrusa club limits itself to only one representative from a specific business or profession.

Local officers are Mrs. W. H. Kay, president; Mrs. Willard Sullivan, vice president; Mrs. Homer Petty, recording secretary; Mrs. M. S. Knowles, treasurer; Mrs. V. F. Michael, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Dorothy Ragan, Mrs. Lloyd Wooten and Mrs. A. O. Vanderford, directors.

Completing the roster are Mrs. A. C. Bass, Mrs. Ruby Billings, Mrs. G. C. Broughton, Mrs. Houston Cowden, Mrs. George Dawson, Mrs. Willard Hendrick, Mrs. Milton Knowles, Mrs. Morgan Martin, Mrs. C. O. Nalley, Mrs. G. T. Orenbaun, Mrs. Hervey Perry, Mrs. Norman H. Read, Mrs. Faye Stratton and Miss Jeannette Barnett, the latter a member at large.

MRS. W. H. KAY

As the club prepares for its fall season, special projects will be Big Spring State Hospital, Boys' Club of Big Spring and Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Contributions willbe made to Altrusa's Grants-in-Aid project, wherein women graduate students from foreign countries are assisted financially in completing their training, and the Founders Fund Vocational Aid project, through which women of all ages are assisted in becoming self-supporting. In the latter program, the emphasis is on training which will enable the woman to enter the labor market in a skilled occupation.

Altrusa, which derives its name from 'altruism,' is devoted to the interests of others. Drawing upon the leadership abilities of its members, Altrusa seeks out and attempts to meet the needs of the community, not only with monetary gifts, but with the time and talents of members. The local club has contributed to countless worthy causes during past years, at one time, contributing over $1,000 to the YMCA.

Ambucs Now Number 84

The local chapter of the American Business Club, which has consistently been honored by the national organization in the past for its membership drives and its accomplishments, now boasts 84 members.

Smith, Mrs. Rip Smith, Mrs. Willard Sullivan, Mrs. W. H. Ward Jr., Mrs. M. A. Webb, Mrs. Jewel Wheeler, Mrs. Sherman Whitaker, Mrs. Dora Ruth Carter and Mrs. Grady Sudberry.

The national organization was founded in 1919 to promote the interest of business women in industrial, scientific and vocational activities, as well as in community and public affairs.

For the second consecutive

year, the local chapter has provided one of its members, Mrs. Laura Boubek, with a scholarship to Howard County Junior College. In addition, the club contributes to state and national foundation scholarships which further the careers of other women. This year, the state winner in the Young Career Women competition was Mrs. Gene Moffatt of Seminole which is in District 8.

Club members sponsor an annual picnic for patients at Big Spring State Hospital, as well as hosting a ward party at Christmas and providing needed items such as clothing, luggage and bridge cards.

Planned Sale Is Called Off

ODESSA — The proposed sale of the Inn of the Golden West to the Sharon Hotel Corp., a new Texas corporation set up to purchase and operate the eight - story, 150-room facility, "failed to be consummated," according to Tom (Pinkie) Roden, owner of the hotel.

Negotiations had been pending since the end of May when John Martin, general manager of the Inn, announced that the sale to the newly organized corporation with officers in Arizona and California was in the mill.

No purchase price was announced. According to Roden, the Sharon Corporation failed to comply with the requirements of the option they held to buy the hotel. No other buyers are in sight, he said.

Roden purchased the hotel in 1967 from the Civic Hotel Corporation. More than $1 million was spent to remodel the hotel after Roden purchased it. The hotel, then called the Lincoln Hotel, was built in 1949.

Homecoming Set

The ninth annual homecoming of the Polar community in Kent County will be held Sunday, Aug. 20. There will be prizes for the oldest returning resident, and the youngest, as well as the one travelling the farthest. Each family is to bring a basket lunch for the meal at 12 noon.

MRS. DALE FRYAR

Fem Elevation Aim Of Club

Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association, was organized July 26, 1970. Nationally, ABWA was founded in 1949 to elevate the social and business standards of women by uniting them for training and education.

The goal of ABWA is to make business women more efficient, considerate and cooperative in both social and business atmospheres, thereby increasing their earning and success ability.

Mrs. Dale Fryar is president of the Spring City Chapter. Serving with her are Mrs. Fred Butler, vice president; Mrs. Malcolm West, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Ferguson, recording secretary; and Mrs. Bobby James Nobles, treasurer.

During the past club year the chapter awrded scholarships to five high school girls. Members assist annually with the Starlight Specials, serve refreshments to patients at Big Spring State Hopital and enterain children at Westside Community Center.

The chapter holds an annual "bosses night" to choose a "boss of the year" and a "woman of the year." The chapter recently won first place for its scrap book at a district meeting in Houston. Two members, Miss Ramona Molina and Mrs. Fred Butler, will attend the national ABWA convention in October in Miami Beach, Fla.

Membership in Spring City Chapter includes Mrs. O. A. Badwick, Mrs. Harold Bentley, Mrs. James Cox Jr., Miss Mary Curtis, Mrs. Ruby Fowler, Mrs. Robert Holmes, Mrs. William Jackson, Mrs. Jimmy Jennings, Mrs. Robert Lowe, Mrs. Barbara Martin, Mrs. Ray Marques, Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell, Mrs. Peggy McDonald, Mrs. Vernon Schroeder, Mrs. Coley Smart and Mrs. Bob Taylor.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 NT	Dble.	4 ♡	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Six of ◇

When North's opening one no trump bid was doubled by East who held equivalent values himself [17 high card points and a five card suit], South was confronted with a problem.

Direct action with his distributional holding appeared to be indicated and yet a two heart call was apt to sound like a mere rescue attempt and partner could hardly be expected to visualize the playing strength that South actually held. Mentally transporting the deuce of diamonds over to his heart suit, he finally decided to make the call he would have made with six hearts and four diamonds—four hearts. Altho this was an unorthodox action on a five card suit, he was reluctant to consign the hand to a part score and chose to gamble that his partner would produce fitting values in the red suits.

If West had opened a club, declarer's defeat would have become assured, for after East cashes two tricks in that suit, his side must still score a diamond as well as a heart. No blame is to be placed on West for leading his singleton diamond, holding three trumps, for there was good reason to hope for a ruff or two if East held a top control in either red suit.

North's king of diamonds won the first trick and a heart was led. South covered East's jack of hearts with the queen and cashed the ace next, dropping the king. West's established ten was permitted to remain at large while declarer went about his chores.

A spade was led to the ace and a small spade was continued, as East's queen was ruffed in the closed hand. A diamond was led and since it would not have availed West to trump in, inasmuch as he would be ruffing his partner's trick in that suit, he chose instead to discard a club. The ace of diamonds was played from dummy and another spade lead fetched East's king and South trumped with the eight of hearts.

A third diamond was led and East was permitted to win the trick with the queen as West shed another club. Inasmuch as East had only clubs left, his forced return of the ace established North's king for the game fulfilling trick. Diamonds were now led until West ruffed in with the ten of hearts. South had the rest, losing one trick each in hearts, diamonds, and clubs.

Keep The Maid

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago the day lady who came to do my laundry once a week told me she had to quit working. I tried to find a replacement for her, but no luck.

Out of the blue, the laundress of one of my friends phoned to tell me she had a free day and would love to work for me. I grabbed her!

Yesterday I received a call from this friend whose laundress is now working for me. She said she was disappointed to learn that I had hired "her" maid without first consulting her. She said had I consulted her she would not let me have her because it is a bad policy for friends to share a maid. (She uses this maid twice a week.)

I cannot understand my friend's attitude. Did I commit a crime by hiring this woman? She called me. I didn't call her.

Should I now let the maid go to satisfy my friend? And what kind of a "friend" would rather have her maid work for a stranger than for me?

NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: She doesn't "own" the maid, neither has she a voice in where the maid shall or shall not work. If you must make a choice, keep the maid and let the friend go.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: One night not long ago I picked up the telephone to make a call, and my younger brother (I'll call him Irving) was talking to a friend. The first thing I heard him say was, "Guess what I stole today!"

I was stunned and heard a little more which I don't want to repeat. I quickly hung up. I am really stuck now. I'm afraid to tell our parents because they are the type who hit first and ask questions later. But I don't want my little brother, who is only 11 to start out on a life of crime.

Help me, Abby.

IRVING'S SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Tell Irving what you heard accidentally. Then urge him to return whatever he has stolen to its rightful owner. Explain that shoplifting is a crime, punishable by law.

Locked Tank Stops Thief's Adventure

A locked gas tank might have prevented a stolen Big Spring truck from getting any further away than Colorado City.

Sheriff's officials here reported that a 1952 light green Ford truck stolen Saturday from Cactus Paint in Big Spring was located Tuesday night abandoned near Colorado City.

Apparently the truck had run out of gas and with a locked gas tank was not too easy to refill. It was to be returned to Rodney Roberts, owner of the vehicle, today, according to sheriff's deputies here.

In other action, Dennie Swift was reported arrested in San Angelo in connection with a charge on threatening to take a life. He was released there under a $500 bond.

'Everything Is Beautiful' Is Theme For CR '73 Here

By DAVID PICKLE

The Big Spring High School Steer Band has scheduled a busy year for itself, the most ambitious undertaking being a six-day, seven-night trip to Mexico.

The trip will be the longest one the band has made since Bill Bradley took over as band director in 1966. Prior to that, Doug Weihe had taken one of his bands to Seattle, Wash., for the World Fair.

Of course, as has been the case for the last five years, the band will present the annual Campus Review Show. The theme for CR '73 will be "Everything is Beautiful."

The opening will feature selections from "The Music Man." Next will be some of the hit songs from "Hello, Dolly," followed by "I Want To Be Happy" from "No, No, Nanette."

"Then we do a G-rated 'mini-show'," Bradley said. "It's G-rated even though we got the idea from Bottoms-Up in Las Vegas."

First night for CR '73 will be Jan. 23. Other shows are slated Jan. 25, 26 and 27. "If all of the shows sell out, we'll have one on the 24th," Bradley said.

Also, the band plans to attend all of the football games in the fall, both at home and away. Bradley said the first two shows of the season (Lubbock Monterey in Lubbock and Hobbs, N.M., in Big Spring) will be of the patriotic variety.

Songs to be played include "Stars and Stripes Forever," "America the Beautiful," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "America."

Bradley said the band is currently trying to secure flags of each of the 50 states, but he is unsure whether or not he will be able to do it before Sept. 9, date of the first game.

Both shows will be concluded with a firework display of the flag.

RAISING THE MONEY

Campus Review and the halftime shows notwithstanding, the big event of the year will be the trip to Mexico. The band will leave at 4 p.m. April 10 and return late April 17.

All band members will be required to raise $140.25 for the trip. This charge will cover all expenses except incidentals and a few meals. Band members will be able to pay for the trip either with their own money or they can raise the cash through various projects. The projects include selling Band Booster Club memberships, sustaining memberships, bumper stickers, tickets to a dinner, fruit cakes, cakes at a bake sale and many CR '73 tickets.

Bradley said that the cost of the meals for the trip will be slightly higher than he had originally anticipated. "This is because we will have such a large group (180 students). The only places that will be able to accommodate us will be the places that are used to American money," he said.

As large as the group is, it is smaller than most of the bands in recent years. It is this fact, plus some extra money the Booster Club had left over from last year, that will enable the band to make the trip.

After departure here on April 10, the band will travel straight to Monterrey, Mexico, arriving there at approximately 2 a.m. The next morning, the Golden Horns will play for a girls school in the city. After a noon meal at the Santa Rosa Restaurant, the band will perform before the 2,000-member Lions Club of Monterrey, which, incidentally, is the largest Lions Club in the world.

Early the next morning, the band will leave for Mexico City and arrive about 12 hours later.

The next day, April 13, will be a busy one as the band is scheduled to play two or three concerts in the city. Bradley said the number of concerts will depend exclusively on time factors.

SIGHTSEEING

On the next day, the band will finally get a chance to relax. The group will be divided into four different sections which will tour the city. "We divided it up because we don't want to have 180 kids in the same place at the same time," Bradley said.

The sightseeing will feature trips to the Mexico City Cathedral and Plaza Shrine of Guadalupe, the University of Mexico, Chapultepec Park including the anthropology museum, the Plaza of Three Cultures, a flower market and a general market. The group will reassemble that night at the Pyramids where it will watch a light show.

The next morning, the band will watch the National Folk Ballet of Mexico before starting back toward Big Spring. The busses will drive to San Luis Potisi, halfway point between Mexico City and Monterrey. There, the band will stay in the Hotel Panorama.

LONG TRIP HOME

That night, the Golden Horns will play in the Plaza. At 7:30 a.m. the next day, the band will leave for Monterrey and arrive in time to do a concert that night. On April 17, the group will make the long trip back to Big Spring, leaving at 8 a.m. and arriving here at approximately 12:30 a.m.

While the band is in Monterrey, it will be quartered at the Holiday Inn. In Mexico City, it will stay at the Holiday Inn Centro Zona Rosa.

Sightseeing arrangements will be made by Sanborn's Travel, Eddie E. Pennos, manager.

In Monterrey the band will be under the sponsorship of the "Mexican North American Institute of Cultural Relations," a division of the United States Information Agency. Peter Karakitsos, executive director of the institute, will travel with the band.

Plans Completed For Convention

Plans for the upcoming District 19 American Legion Convention were announced Sunday by convention chairman George Zachariah.

He met with District 19 Commander Harold Boston and Ladies Auxiliary President Venta Mae Wheeler and her vice president, Kathryn McKinsey, to set the dates for the convention at Oct. 14 and 15.

The Settles Hotel will serve as convention headquarters. The main event will be a banquet Saturday night followed by a dance.

You Control It

Jean Adams'

TEEN FORUM

PURSUED: (Q.) Almost every night my girl friend and I sit outside. Two neighborhood boys often come to sit with us. Well, once we ended up in the barn with them and made out. Now every time we go out they think we want to make out with them.

But they want more than just kissing and hugging. They want heavy petting, and we just don't want to risk our reputations for a little fun.

Why can't guys just settle for kissing and hugging? — Once Is Enough in Massachusetts.

(A.) They don't want to settle for less because you have already given them more — and without their even having to ask you for a date. Let them ask you for dates if they want to go out with you. And you control the situation on the dates.

Sex is a natural instinct, and in most teen-age boys it is strong. Some of them have a policy of getting it where they can. They are serious about it, but in a different way from your meaning of serious.

* * *

DISCOVERY: (Q.) Bob and I have been going together for three years — off and on. We go together and break up and go together again and break up again. We go together more than we stay broken up.

Well, I have found out that he has been going out with someone else, too. I discovered it by accident. He said that he was planning to tell me, but after I found out there wasn't any use.

Right now he won't even talk to me. It makes me feel as if I'm to blame, when I didn't do anything! Should I talk to him or what? — Hurt in Maine.

(A.) Talk to him? Of course. But not angrily. He thinks you are mad at him and are going to give him a hard time. Surprise him. Be sweet, and friendly. That may win him back.

Robert Lee Scene Of Bureau Meet

Newly elected county Farm Bureau queen, Kayla Gaskins of Knott, will compete in the district contest Aug. 25 at Robert Lee High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

She was selected to represent Howard County in a contest here Saturday. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, she is 16 years old.

The county queen will compete with other girls in the district, with the winner there to compete at a state level in November.

Menswear Mix-Mastery

. . . It's the what's next look; men's wear pin-stripes. In a multi-choice collection of parts to mate this way and that for a career whirl, dinner for two, or a grand tour. Confident classics totally at ease with the world, fastidiously fashioned by Act III in double knit cord-textured Dacron polyester. Teamed with color-attuned interlock knit polyester polka-dot and solid switch-abouts. Sizes 8 to 18.
