Cotton Crop Pegged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated this year's government-controlled cotton crop today at 14,262,000 bales.

This estimate is 344,000 bales more than last month's forecast of 13,918,000 bales. It compares with 14,272,000 produced last year and 135,553,000 for the 10-year (1950-59) average.

The crop is being grown under federal acreage allotments and marketing quotas designed to help prevent overproduction.

The crop will be supplemented by a reserve and surplus of 7,200,000 bales from past crops.

The department estimated the yield per harvested acre at 437 pounds compared with 446 last year and 64,300 for the 10-year average.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 685,932 bales from this year's crop had been ginned prior to Sept. 1, compared with 818,969 to the like date last year.

The yield per acre and production, respectively, by states included:

Oklahoma 308 pounds per acre and 440,000 bales; Texas 337 and 4,600,000, and New Mexico 767 and 310,000.

Lamesa Man Dies In Crash Near Kermit

LAMESA (SC) — Ted Lavoy Hope, 26, was killed instantly at about 7:30 p. m. Thursday when a loaded dynamite truck he was driving ran off the highway seven miles northeast of Kermit on Texas 115.

There was no explosion. Dynamite sticks and caps were scattered for 200 yards as Hope's big truck went out of control and rolled several times, ending in a ditch on the right side of the road.

Hope was thrown clear of the wreckage. Officers said his body was found 49 feet from the vehicle. He has been tossed over a four-stand barbed wire fence into a pasture.

Highway Patrolman D. D. Locklear and Winkler County deputy H. O. White were the first to reach the accident after it was found by a Kermit resident hauling a load of braceros into Kermit. Justice of the Peace Jeff Worley pronounced Hope dead at 8:10 p. m.

Officials placed the damage to the truck at more than $5,000. This was the first trip for the truck.

Hope had been an employe of West Texas Explosives, Inc. since Dec. 28, 1959 and was a resident of Lamesa for eight years. He was born Mar. 12, 1935 in Sweetwater.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Survivors include his widow; three sons, Ted Jr., Randy and David, all of Lamesa; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arselle Hope, Borger; three sisters, Mrs. Betty Sue Jackson, Little Rock, Ark., Diana Hope and Dena Hope, both of Borger, and four brothers, A. C. and Wesley Hope, Borger, Gerald Hope, Riverside, Calif., and Kenneth Hope, Roscoe.

Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Ester Hope, Midland, and maternal grandmother is Mrs. A. C. Turk, Roscoe.

Lamesa Schools Count 3,416

LAMESA (SC) — Enrollment during the first week of school here hit 3,416 students, Supt. Abe Holder reported.

The figure represented an increase of 112 students over last year's initial enrollment. Holder said that 1,897 of the pupils registered in the four elementary schools.

The enrollment is expected to peak above 3,500 in the next few weeks.

Texas Coast Alerted As Storm Grows Dangerous

Post Commander

Getting acquainted with the local Salvation Army Corps are Maj. and Mrs. Robert L. Short, who are replacing Capt. and Mrs. James Jay. They arrived from Dallas this week. Both hold the rank of Major in the Corps and have given 19½ years of service to it. Their work has taken them to several Texas cities since 1951. They worked 10 years in Alabama and Georgia.

Shorts Take Over Salvation Army Post

Maj. and Mrs. Robert L. Short, replacing Capt. and Mrs. James Jay as heads of the local Salvation Army Post, have arrived and taken over their duties.

They come from Dallas where they worked the past year with the downtown corps.

Capt. and Mrs. Jay had been here the past two years. They were unexpectedly transferred to Tyler to fill a vacancy created there. Maj. and Mrs. Short are on permanent assignment here.

Maj. and Mrs. Short have spent 10 years of their service in Alabama and Georgia and have been in Texas since 1951. Their duties have taken them to Houston, Plainview, Pasadena, Dallas, and now Big Spring.

The Major was born Feb. 9, 1920 in Tulsa, Okla. and attended school at Sand Springs, Okla., on the outskirts of Tulsa. Mrs. Short was born Dec. 4, 1921 in Greenville, N. C.

They have been in Big Spring on several occasions for brief visits, but have never become acquainted with the city or its people.

"I am sure we will like it here," Maj. Short said. "We have both lived in West Texas before and enjoyed it."

Mrs. Short also holds a Major commission by virtue of her husband's rank and also because she has devoted enough time to Salvation Army work to earn the rank. They were commissioned April 27, 1942, giving them 19½ years service.

"We have two anniversaries on April 27," Maj. Short said. "We were married April 27, 1945."

Maj. Short has in the past been a member of the Evening Lions, Rotary, and Civitan Clubs.

Being a football viewer when his workload permits, the Major will try to see the High School football game between the Longhorns and Plainview tonight. Undoubtedly, he will view it with mixed allegiance, having been in Plainview for a time.

Nearly 500 Tickets Sold For Barbecue

Almost 500 advance tickets have been sold for the chicken barbecue to be held at the High School cafeteria tonight before the football game, according to Squeaky Thompson, chairman of the ticket sales committee of the Evening Lions Club.

The dinner has become an annual affair sponsored by the club. Barbecue chicken, potato salad, beans and other trimmings will be served.

"We expect about 1,000 persons to buy plates and almost half that number have already bought advance tickets," Thompson said. "Usually only about 25 per cent of the plates are bought in advance."

R. S. Tawater, president of the Evening Lions, urged all fans of the Steers to come out early and stock up on barbecue before settling down to watch the game.

Dinners will be served from 5 p. m. until 7 p. m. Advance tickets are available at $1 each from club members and at business establishments in the city.

"Pick up a ticket for a barbecue plate with each ticket to the game," he said. Don Crockett, game ticket agent at the Tax Office, has dinner tickets available.

Proceeds from the dinner go toward purchase of glasses, the Crippled Childrens Camp at Kerrville and other boys activities sponsored by the club.

Tickets are available from club members and at Thompson Furniture Co., Sherwin-Williams Co., Smith Tea Room, Hull and Phillips No. 1, Coker's Restaurant, J and J Auto Spply and Hardware and the Snac-A-Ritz.

New Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France today gave the Soviet Union a new warning "in the most solemn terms" against any interference with Allied flights in the air corridors between West Germany and West Berlin.

Hurricane Warnings Due Tonight

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau included all the Texas coast in the alert for Hurricane Carla Friday and boosted the ranking of the storm to that of a major hurricane.

The hurricane churned through the Gulf of Mexico with winds of 125 miles an hour about 460 miles south of New Orleans at midmorning.

It was moving at 10 miles an hour toward the northwest.

The Weather Bureau said it expected hurricane warnings to be issued for the general coastal area of the storm by Friday night or Saturday.

The bureau said, "all residents of islands and low coastal areas especially along the Louisiana and upper Texas coasts where escape routes can be flooded by high tides should watch the rising tides and move to higher grounds before escape routes are closed.

"Small craft along the entire Gulf Coast should remain in port as seas will be rough."

Highest winds of 125 m.p.h. are near the center and hurricane force winds extend outward about 100 miles to the north and 50 miles south. Gales extend outward 300 miles north and east of the center and 125 miles southwest.

Heavy rainfall measuring 2.5 inches struck Rockport on the Texas coast during the night. Around Karnes City and Kennedy, about a half inch fell.

Houston's 24-hour rainfall to 7 a.m. Friday totaled .64 inch and Amarillo .24.

Dr. Harrison Finds Myers Not Insane

Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, said that John Edwin Myers, who goes on trieal for murder Sept. 18, feels no real remorse for the four murders he admits committing.

"John Edwin Myers is immature, emotionally unstable, possesed of the same moral reaction one would expect in (one of) low intellectual level," the doctor said.

"However, the man is not insane—neither by the legal definition nor by the medical version.

"He has an IQ of perhaps 90 or 95. He says he reached the eighth grade in school.

"He wept some when we were talking to him but this was a shallow indication of any remorse or revulsion he might feel; rather it was a reflection of self-pity—a reaction to the realization that he is in dire difficulty.

"I guess I deserve the chair for what I did,' he said, in his talk with our staff. This is not an indication of remorse—it is not the thing that a remorseful person would say. Rather it is a sort of (an indirect) plea for sympathy.

"As he saw it, (his action) was the easiest way to dispose of whatever stood in his way.

"We gave the man numerous tests and subjected him to numerous examinations before we handed down our finding.

"All of us are convinced that he is not insane."

Former Webb AFB Officer Vies For Top Honor

A former Webb AFB officer is in the running for national honors in the Air Force 1961 Short Story Contest.

He is Capt. Allen R. Robertson, now with the USAF Recruiting Service, Wright-Patterson AFB, for three years in charge of the Office of Information Services at Webb.

He first won $25 for his first place entry at Wright-Patterson, then this was followed by a $150 award for having the best story in the Air Force Logistical Command. This honor automatically put the entry in contention for the total Air Force contest.

Capt. Robertson and Ed Conwell (retired) may be visiting here the latter part of the month.

Berlin Paar Show Lashed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon, with the approval of the White House, has launched an investigation of the U.S. Army's part in the staging of the Jack Paar TV show Thursday at a crossing between West and East Berlin.

The incident took place at the Friedrichstrasse crossing between West and East Berlin.

In recent days this crossing had been manned by about a squad of GIs. But Thursday the Jack Paar TV cameras moved up, and so did two colonels, one lieutenant colonel, a major, a captain, two lieutenants and about 50 enlisted men, some in bulletproof vests.

There were also seven jeeps, some with machine guns, and one with the new recoilless rifle mounted on it. Four TV cameras were trained on the scene as a jeep with a machine gun was run right up to the border line.

Across the line, East German Reds, who have pictured the United States as a trouble maker, trained their own TV cameras on all the American brass and weapons.

Officials, making known that an investigation has been ordered, said the incident as reported was potentially dangerous and reflected poorly on the American Army.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., assistant majority leader, declared that this sort of thing "is intolerable and should not be done." He said Soviet Premier Khrushchev can use "this kind of incident" for propaganda around the world "and beat us over the head with it."

Furious Carla A Threat To 500 Miles Of Coastline

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Carla's outer gales spun close to Louisiana shores today and her 125-mile-an-hour fury threatened residents along at least 500 miles of coastline.

Residents of islands and low coastal areas subject to flooding by high tides were warned to be prepared for evacuation before escape routes are closed by rising waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

A curve to a more northwesterly course during the night brought Texas into the danger zone and forecasters considered extending the hurricane watch to the Lone Star State. The coastline from the Louisiana-Texas border across Mississippi and Alabama and eastward to Apalachicola, Fla., already had been placed on watch.

The hurricane watch is expected to give way to full hurricane warnings tonight as gale force winds reach the coast.

A 9 a.m. bulletin located Carla about 400 miles south-southeast of the mouth of the Mississippi River. She was moving between northwest and north-northwest at about 10 miles an hour.

Highest winds were estimated at about 125 miles per hour near the center and Carla was moving between northwest and north-northwest at 10 miles per hour.

"Winds will gradually increase along the northern Gulf Coast and will reach gale force in a few squalls tonight," the Weather Bureau said.

The weather map was smudged with two other storms—Hurricane Betsy, spinning north in the Atlantic 700 miles southeast of Cape Cod, Mass., and Tropical Storm Debbie, 650 miles west of the Cape Verde Islands off the West African Coast.

Betsy offered no threat to the U.S. mainland and Debbie was too far away to be scouted by reconnaissance aircraft.

But Carla was an immediate threat to offshore oil operations in the Gulf of Mexico and to cities and towns on the coast.

Just where it would move inland was still a guess, but forecasters said Carla would continue moving between northwest and north-northwest for the next 12 to 18 hours.

Carla smashed into Cuba's western Pinar del Rio Province Thursday flattening 70 buildings and injuring 10 persons. Flood waters spread over a wide area and winds and water caused extensive crop damage as the storm moved out of the Caribbean Sea where it was spawned last Sunday and swept into the Gulf of Mexico.

Niki Says He's Ready To Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said today he was ready for "businesslike talks" with President Kennedy on urgent world problems.

At a friendship meeting for Indian Prime Minister Nehru he went on to denounce President Kennedy's decision to resume nuclear testing, and declared "mankind is on the brink of another military tragedy."

"Aggressive forces want to plunge the world into another war," he said, "as a pretext for this they are using the question of the peace treaty with Germany.

"Our aim is to put out the remaining fires of war by concluding a peace treaty with Germany. All sober-thinking people realize that on the question of the peace treaty one must proceed from the fact of existence of two German states."

He warned that the Soviet Union "has enough strength to give a destructive blow to any aggressor."

Khrushchev said that the most vital item to be taken up was the conclusion of a German peace treaty.

He warned President Kennedy not to use negotiations to delay signing a treaty and again said: "If the Western powers do not sign, the treaty will be signed between the German Democratic Republic and such other states as wish to do so."

Khrushchev said that "if the Western powers are ready for businesslike talks" on the German problem, "the Soviet government welcomes talks which would result in the conclusion of a peace treaty."

"It is impossible," he asserted "to postpone the German settlement any longer.

"The peoples will not forgive us for any more postponements."

Speaking earlier at the meeting in the Kremlin, Nehru called "on the great powers who hold the key to war and peace to remove the threat of war and lead the world to peace."

Nehru, on a three-day official visit to the Soviet Union, came from the conference of nonaligned nations in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, which urged talks between the U.S.S.R. and the United States.

The conference, Nehru said, "expressed the minds of hundreds of millions of people. Every effort must be made to settle these problems. Only talks can lead to fruitful results.

"Today we face the last possibility. A wrong step could wipe out the future for mankind."

Nehru said that if the danger of war could be removed in talks between the two major powers, "the way would be opened toward examining the problem of disarmament."

"We call for the discontinuation of nuclear tests. Whatever the military considerations for these tests, they increase the danger of mankind."

Nehru spoke for only 16 minutes before yielding the platform to Khrushchev.

Khrushchev then made the first public reference in the Soviet Union to the four recent nuclear weapon tests which the United States has reported made in central Asia. The tests breached the East-West moratorium on such experiments.

"Military preparations in the West have been stepped up," he said. "Taking this into account we could not ignore the interests of the security of our country and the Socialist camp.

"The Soviet Union had to defer demobilization and to increase military expenditure. Because of direct threats we had to face the necessity to carry out nuclear tests."

Myers Will Not Be Able To Offer Plea Of Insanity

John Edwin Myers, 33-year-old Chicagoan who goes on trial Sept. 18 for murder with malice, will not be able to offer a plea of insanity as his defense.

Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, Thursday afternoon said that he and his staff, after a long interview with Myers, had concluded that the man is "legally and medically sane." The psychiatrists and psychologists at the hospital subjected Myers to extensive scientific tests in their study of his mental status and it was their unanimous finding that Myers cannot be regarded as a mentally ill person.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that he had Myers taken to the hospital at the request of the defense attorneys.

CLARIFIED

"I was happy to have this issue clarified ahead of the trial," Jones resaid. "I am sure that Dr. Harrison and his staff were most thorough in their examination of the defendant."

The statement of the doctor that Myers was both "medically and legally sane" was exceptionally far reaching. In general law, to be held legally sane basically requires only that the person implicated knows right from wrong. To be medically sane implies there is no physical disablement of the person's mental faculties. Many persons are medically insane, it is pointed out, and still are legally sane. In most courts today, the legally sane requirement is overlooked and the aspect of medical insanity utilized to evaluate the patient's mental status.

Meantime, Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, said that it was probable the 200 special veniremen to be called for Myers trial on Sept. 18 would be drawn sometime Friday. John Richard Coffee and Hartman Hooser, defense attorneys appointed to represent Myers by the court, have requested a special venire. They have agreed to file a written motion for such action. As soon as this motion is before Judge Caton, he said he would order the venire drawn from the jury wheel.

VENIRE

Wade Choate, district court clerk, said that he had all arrangements made for the drawing of the special venire.

Myers, who has confessed to killing four persons in three days, is to go on trial here for the pistol slaying last Friday night of Arthur Lee DeKraai, 33, Ottuma, Ia., hitchhiker.

DeKraai's body was dumped in a mesquite thicket on the Quinn Ranch south of IS 20. Myers and his 13-year-old sweetheart, Donna Marie Stone, were arrested in Midland a few hours later and returned here.

A Howard County grand jury Wednesday, called into special session, indicted Myers for murder with malice.

Meantime, Jones is seeing to it that Donna Marie Stone is kept in Big Spring despite pressure by Missouri, where she and Myers slew Miss Margaret Wernicker, a hostage they had seized in Illinois, and by Illinois, where the pair killed a 10-year-old girl and her father.

MAY DROP CASE

This morning, however, it was indicated that Missouri may drop any efforts to get Donna Marje back in Oregon County.

The attorney general of Missouri has ruled that if Donna Marie is just 13 years old, as evidence indicates is the case, she cannot be tried for first degree murder as an adult—which had been the original intention of Patrick Freeman, district attorney of Thayer, Mo.

If she was 14, the Missouri attorney general pointed out, she could be tried as an adult.

Ed Carpenter, Howard County judge here, has said he is perfectly willing to allow Missouri to have Donna Marie, after she has appeared here as a witness.

However, at the time, Carpenter was depending on the plans of Freeman to handle the girl as an adult. It is doubtful now if Missouri would want her as a juvenile or that Carpenter would see any reason to send her there. The only course open to Missouri is to confine her in a reformatory until she is 21—the same as would be the case here.

Illinois, on the other hand, has broader methods of dealing with juveniles and may be able to push ahead with its plans to try the girl as an adult.

Ackerly Man Dies In Wreck

Patrick James Hale, 22, whose home is in Ackerly, died at 10:45 a.m. today in Cowper Hospital of injuries he received at midnight Thursday in a truck-car collision on IS 20 east of Big Spring.

Hale is the 13th person to die in traffic accidents in Howard County this year. The most recent was John R. Fontenot, who succumbed last Friday.

Body of Hale was taken in charge by River Funeral Home, who said it would be turned over to Kiker and Son Funeral Home of Colorado City sometime today. River ambulance brought the injured man from the scene of the wreck to the hospital last night.

Kel Davis, highway patrol officer who investigated the accident, said that Hale was in a 1960 model sedan travelling east on the north side of IS 20.

At a point 5.2 miles east of Big Spring, the car and a 1958 model tractor dragging a heavy trailer loaded with soy bean meal, collided. The truck, driven by Melvin Elzie, Memphis, Tenn., was travelling west. Davis said the truck was proceeding in the proper direction on the highway.

The impact was so terrific, the highway patrolman said, that Hale's car was demolished and the trailer was almost destroyed. Property damage resulting from the collision will run close to $15,000, Davis estimated.

Elzie was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation where his condition is not regarded as serious.

Mr. Hale was born on Sept. 15, 1938 in Gorman. River Funeral Home said they were told his home address is Ackerly, where he is survived by his widow, Evelyn. His parents, whose address was not available this morning, also survive him.

Funeral arrangements will be in charge of Kiker and Son Funeral Home, Colorado City.

TESCO Boosts Lamesa Power

LAMESA (SC)—Installation of a new transformer that will make more electric power available in Lamesa is nearing completion at the Texas Electric Service Co. substation here.

The new unit will increase by 50 per cent the amount of power available in Lamesa. It was planned because of increased use of electricity and growth of the area.

Two mobile substations were moved to the grounds of the local plant to provide customers with service while work is in progress.

The transformer contains 8,800 gallons of special cooling and insulating oil and weighs nearly 80 tons. It is nearly 20 feet tall and two railroad cars were required to transport it here.

Transformers in the Lamesa substation step down the electric power voltage from 69,000 volts used in the transmission system to 12,500 volts required by the distribution system serving Lamesa customers.

Shelter Problem Is Being Attacked

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Bluff or no, Soviet threats and the reappearance of nuclear fallout in American skies are forcing many reluctant citizens today to consider what to do.

They are asking: Are home shelters worthwhile? How can they be financed? How can we tell we aren't being fleeced? Should we have community shelters instead? What supplies should be stored? How will we learn in time if nuclear fallout is reaching the danger point?

The majority of Americans have turned a deaf ear to past Civil Defense pleas. There is still a massive block of public apathy, based on belief nuclear bombs spell certain death or just a prolonged and losing fight against radiation or starvation.

But Civil Defense officials report inquiries are now spurting in many parts of the country. Some come from home handymen. Others are from those puzzled about what kind of shelter to buy—protection against both blast and fallout or against fallout alone. Some are from communities thinking of public shelters.

Government agencies offer some of the answers. But many critics hold the government must be more explicit and tighten its standards if the public is to be guarded from sharp operators attracted by the new interest.

A number of business firms are working on the practical problems of survival—construction, financing, stocking.

The Federal Housing Administration is reported to have approved 265 loans to individuals to construct shelters. Most are in the Midwest and have both atomic and tornado emergencies in mind.

Frank B. Ellis, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, has told congressmen that federal tax incentives and other financial aid for shelters built by individuals and private groups are under consideration.

Various corporations are moving into the field of providing special equipment. General Foods, General Mills and others are experimenting with dry packed foods, offering varied diets for shelter soujourns. Universal Container Corp. talks of a large steel drum that can handle both wet and dry food products.

A. C. Sparkplug division of General Motors has a National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR), a small black box plugged into home or office electrical systems. It would sound an alarm when the local utility superimposes a special 240-cycle signal on the regular 60-cycle current.

Civil Defense officials are asking Congress to vote money for the special generator-transformers the utilities would need to operate the system.

CD offices also would offer fallout measurement instruments to the 800 members of the U.S. Independent Association of Telephone Companies. They would alert their customers if the need arises.

Rayburn Honor Coinage Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coinage of a medal to honor Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn has been requested of the Senate by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Rayburn, 79, has served in the House more than 48½ years, longer than any man in history and has been speaker twice as long as any man in history, 17 years next week.

Rayburn recently went to his Bonham, Tex., home for treatment of a back ailment and rest.

Plans For Survival

Engineers for a bomb shelter manufacturer, Vincent Carubia, left, and Edward Klein, study specifications for a fiber glass dome shelter being installed on an estate in Locust Valley, N.Y. The dome is designed to cover an excavation, being dug in the background, which is to be floored, walled and outfitted for emergency living.

Soviet Fallout Due In U.S. By Weekend

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government fallout expert said today the cloud of radioactive debris from the first of four recent Soviet nuclear tests is expected to cross the northern United States by this weekend.

Dr. Lester Machta of the U.S. Weather Bureau said he could not estimate when debris from the three later tests would reach this country. But that debris, together with some more from the first test, may pass over the entire country, he said.

Machta said some fallout will reach the earth wherever the radioactive cloud passes over—and will continue to as the cloud keeps circling the earth.

But he offered a qualified view that the amount of fallout deposited on the United States would be no greater from the first four Soviet tests "than it has been from any of our own test series in Nevada in the past."

He said this estimate is based on a hopeful assumption that none of the four devices exceeded 50,000 tons of TNT equivalent in explosive yield. He pointed out that the Atomic Energy Commission has given no specific figures on the estimated yields of the Soviet tests.

Machta, one of the nation's foremost researchers on fallout distribution, made the comments in explaining a map he prepared projecting the course of the fallout cloud from the first test last Friday.

The map traces the path of the cloud from west to east through a high level of the troposphere—the part of the atmosphere from the surface of the earth to about 50,000 feet.

Machta chose the 30,000 to 40,000 foot level because it has the strongest winds.

He said the cloud passed in a generally easterly direction from the Central Asian detonation site—spanning the Asian mainland, then crossing the Bering Sea.

It crossed all of Alaska Monday and Tuesday and at the same time went over Western Canada.

Machta estimated that by Thursday, the cloud passed over Montana, Washington, Idaho and northern Nevada and the southern part of Canada.

Thereafter, he forecasts, it will move east over at least the northern half of the United States. By Sunday, it should begin passing over the Atlantic toward Europe.

The Weather Bureau scientist said he believed that fallout spewn by the three latest tests still is moving across Asia.

He declared that fallout from weapons of less than 50,000 tons TNT equivalent essentially would be limited to tropospheric travel—as distinguished from travel in the stratosphere, which is above 40,000 feet.

And half of any given amount of debris at tropospheric levels would be expected to fall to the earth in 20 to 30 days, although much of it would have lost its radioactivity before reaching the earth. Rainfall increases the speed of fallout.

Solons Exchange Cloudy Arguments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas Curtis, R-Mo., Thursday questioned the propriety and source of finance of questionnaires sent by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., to various foundations.

Curtis called them the work of an individual congressman "with preconceived notions."

Patman denied Curtis' charges and demanded that the Republican congressman withdraw them.

The hot exchange on the House floor continued for almost an hour.

The entire exchange did not make clear exactly what Patman was investigating, or why Curtis was objecting to it.

But Patman spoke at length about tax deductions of foundations like the Hartford Foundation, set up by the heirs of the A&P grocery stores.

AF Misses Schedule On Readying Of Titan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has missed its summer target for getting the first potent Titan intercontinental missiles in place.

But it expects to have the first nine Titans in firing position at Lowry Air Force Base in Colorado within the next few months.

In a test of the missile's inertial guidance system for a future more powerful model, the Air Force Thursday night successfully launched its second Titan in two nights from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Officials said the bullet-shaped projectile performed as planned, sending its nose cone racing at more than 15,000 miles an hour into a target area 5,000 miles down the Atlantic Tracking Range.

The launching followed Wednesday night's successful Titan flight over a 6,100-mile course.

The flights brought the total of successful Titan tests to 28 in 40 attempts. Eight of the others were rated as partial successes.

The Titan is the second U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile. Its estimated 380,000-pound thrust engines make it somewhat more potent than the Atlas, the first U.S. ICBM. The Atlas has been combat-ready for some time.

The 98-foot, two-stage Titan will mount a nuclear warhead packing the explosive equivalent of between 2 million and 3 million tons of TNT.

In the past, the Air Force has said it expected to bring the Titan to fighting status this summer.

Asked about this, the Air Force said it now anticipates the mighty rocket to become operational before the end of this year.

A spokesman said the delay was attributable in part to labor difficulties and weather.

The first nine Titans, plus a spare, will be installed in 165-foot-deep reinforced concrete silos at Lowry Air Force Base near Denver. If word is given for firing, concrete doors at ground level will slide open and the Titans will be raised to launch position above the surface.

The underground emplacement is designed to protect the missiles from enemy nuclear assault.

Another nine-missile squadron at Lowry and four other Titan I squadrons in South Dakota, California, Washington state, and Idaho are due to swell the nation's nuclear striking strength next year.

Also scheduled to be mounted next year are advance models of the Titan—missiles packing above 430,000 pounds of thrust. Six of these Titan II Squadrons are planned.

In all, the United States will array 108 Titans, plus 12 spares.

The first nine Titans at Lowry will join 27 Atlases in this country's ready-to-fire arsenal of missiles able to span oceans and strike at the Soviet Union heartland. Before long, nine more Atlas missiles are expected to be poised in new launch sites in Wyoming.

Water Works School Slated

A water works school, sponsored by Permian Basin district, of the extension service of A&M College, the City of Big Spring, and the State Health Department, will get under way at the Big Spring Filter Plant at 7 p.m. Sept. 11, Roy Hester, superintendent, said Thursday.

James A. Wilson with the engineering extension service of Texas A&M College, will be the instructor. The course will cover Water Works Operation (Service and Treatment), Hester said.

"Those taking the course may earn 20 hours of credit, on the 40 hours plus a year's experience, toward a Class C certificate, Hester said, "and I am hoping to have six or seven men in on the course."

He said there would be around 20 men from the area taking the courses which would run for two hours, through Sept. 21.

"With short notice given of the school we are looking for representatives of departments from several towns in the area. We already have word that there will be three from Snyder, two from Colorado City, and one from Coahoma," he said.

A classroom will be set up on the lower floor at the filter plant so that the laboratory will be available for use if needed by the instructor.

"PERFECTLY SATISFIED"

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher,
Church of Christ, 3500 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1383.

Many a person says, "I am perfectly satisfied," and with that, refuses to re-consider his religious position in the light of the Scriptures. Thus he refuses to be taught. He avoids hearing anything which might disturb his mind. For he thinks that all God expects of him is that he be satisfied with the religion he espouses.

But God expects people to love the truth, and to seek after it. To "buy the truth, and sell it not" (Prov. 23:23).

"And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish, because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie. That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness" (II Thess. 2:10-12).

If the Scriptures disturb your mind, you had better be glad to be distrubed.

Plan to be in our services Sunday. Do not be afraid of what you might hear. We promise you will hear nothing but the Bible. —adv.

DEAR ABBY

Time For A Check-Up

DEAR ABBY: I am terribly worried about my mother. It all started about two years ago. She started talking to herself. I thought it was just nothing, but it kept getting worse. The other day she locked herself in the lavatory for about an hour. I became worried, and asked her what was taking her so long. She said she was making contact with her brother in California. (That brother has been dead for about ten years.) Now she tells me that she makes contact with her parents (they are both dead), and she talks to herself more than ever. I love my mother very much, and want to know how I can help her. When I ask her how she feels she tells me she feels fine, so I can't suddenly rush her to a doctor. She is 53, and the nervous type.

WORRIED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Even people who feel "fine" need an occasional physical check-up. It is obvious that your mother needs the help of a doctor immediately. Make an appointment for her, and tell her it is merely a routine examination.

DEAR ABBY: My parents gave me a bicycle for my twelfth birthday. They won't let me ride it on the highway. Why?

MAD

DEAR MAD: Because they want to see you celebrate your thirteenth!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: At present I am doing some secretarial work for my church. I am trying to bring the file cards of each member of the congregation up to date. This involves calling the members and asking them questions about themselves. One of the questions is, "When were you born?"

To my surprise many of the older members have told me that this question is too personal and have refused to give me this information. They act as though I am prying and snooping for my own benefit.

HURT CHURCH-WORKER

DEAR HURT: Assure those who are reluctant to reveal their ages that the information will be kept strictly confidential, and explain why the date of one's birth is necessary for the official church records.

First Winners

Miss Texas, Linda Jacklyn Loftis, of Fort Worth, left, and Miss Minnesota, Nancee Ann Parkinson, of West St. Paul, pose with their trophies after they were named first night winners in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City. Miss Loftis won the talent portion with her vocal numbers while Miss Parkinson was adjudged best in the preliminary swim suit competition.

Blondes Leading In Beauty Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Blondes are continuing to lead their brunette and red-haired competitors in the Miss America Pageant with Miss Utah and Miss Arkansas the winners in the second round of preliminary competition.

Carolyn Lasater, Miss Utah, won the talent contest Thursday night with a pantomime dance. She wore a dress which she designed, that converts from a nightgown to a business dress to an evening gown.

Miss Arkansas, Frances Jane Anderson, caught the judges' nods in the swimsuit contest as she strolled down the 120-foot runway before an audience of 7,157.

Both girls are 19, they're listed as 5 feet 9 inches tall, and they are blondes. (Miss Anderson said she's really 5-9½).

Blondes also won in the swimsuit and talent categories in the first round of preliminary competition Wednesday night. Miss Minnesota, Nancee Parkinson, received the swimsuit honors and Miss Texas, Linda Loftis, won the talent award with an operatic aria.

The third and final round of the preliminary judging will be completed tonight. Then 10 semifinalists will be selected to enter the finals. Miss America of 1962 will be crowned Saturday night.

The selection of semifinalists is based on overall competition plus interviews with the 11 judges, and a preliminary winner is not assured of being among the final 10.

Winners in the evening gown competition are not announced to increase the mystery about the final selection of the nation's beauty queen.

Miss Utah, from Salt Lake City, said she had worked on her pantomime act for two years while touring as a dancer with a theatrical group.

Miss Arkansas, from Pine Bluff, Ark., has completed her sophomore year at Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Virginia but she plans to transfer to the University of Arkansas this fall unless she's named Miss America.

Pollution Discussed

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Industrial pollution of water was called both a public relations and a technical problem by a chemical firm official Thursday.

Thomas Powers of the Dow Chemical Co. Industrial Service Division at Cleveland spoke at the Texas A&M annual Water for Texas Conference which ends Friday.

Powers said the enlightened industry "tries by any and all means to control its wastes so that public awareness is not aroused."

This takes constant surveillance of the waste discharge and waste receiving water.

Powers said that when Dow established its Freeport operation, one of the first projects was to know more about the Brazos River and possible pollution than anyone else.

Dr. Donald Cowan, physics department chairman of the University of Dallas, said that brackish water can extend present supplies and can be economically desalted.

Brackish water, by definition, contains 1,000 or more parts per million of salt. Roughly, a thousand parts per million is three drops in a 55-gallon drum of water.

Cowan said a better method of desalting may some day be found so that sea water can be used. But for brackish water, electrodialysis is adequate and economically feasible.

Band Performance Slated Tonight During Intermission

Fans at the football game this evening in Memorial Stadium will be treated to regular half-time activities.

Doug Wiehe, director of the Big Spring High School band, said that his troupe had been working out under the lights in preparation for an intermission marching exhibition.

Eric Brewster is the drum major this year, and majorettes are Dean Terrazas, Cynthia Vaughn and Beverley Dobbins. Pat Bishop again will be the featured twirler.

Plainview has advised that it also will have its band ready for a half-time performance.

Big Spring Band Boosters, getting behind the schoolboy musicians from the start, have called a meeting for Monday evening in the band room of the senior high school. All parents and others interested in the program are urged to attend the meeting.

Meet Postponed

The Elks Lodge 1386 postponed its chicken barbecue scheduled for Friday night, due to the Steers home football game. The event will be held Sept. 15 instead. All lodge members are urged to turn out and support the local team.

Wagner Wins Big Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—A smashing victory by Mayor Robert F. Wagner on an "anti-bossism" platform today wrecked the city's old line Democratic organization, led by Tammany Hall Chief Carmine G. DeSapio.

Wagner, backed by insurgents, defeated the organization candidate, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, in a record outpouring of voters for a Democratic primary.

The final vote was 451,458 to 291,672. The total vote of 743,130 bettered the previous Democratic primary mark of 718,000 set in 1937.

Wagner will face State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, unopposed for the Republican nomination, in the Nov. 7 general election.

Other insurgents won sufficient district leadership fights to have a good chance of control of Tammany, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

To top it off, DeSapio lost his own district leadership in Greenwich Village to James S. Lanigan, a Harvard-educated lawyer.

That in itself sent DeSapio into political eclipse because the New York County, or Tammany, leader is chosen only from among district leaders.

Wagner said in a victory statement shortly after midnight that the outcome was a triumph for "Democrats who want decency to rule their party."

He said the voters had repudiated DeSapio and that "the other party bosses must go as quickly as possible."

Chief among the others are Rep. Charles A. Buckley of the Bronx and Joseph T. Sharkey of Brooklyn, the City Council majority leader.

Wagner had the support of all the organization leaders in winning the mayoralty in 1953 and 1957, but split with them this year in favor of the insurgents.

Wagner also broke with City Council President Abe Stark and chose Deputy Mayor Paul R. Screvane as his running mate for that post; Screvane and Budget Director Abraham Beame, Wagner's choice for comptroller, also won nomination.

Stark sought the Democratic nomination for Brooklyn borough president and won easily. Lawrence E. Gerosa, the present city comptroller whom Wagner also dropped, is running for mayor in November as an independent Democrat.

The insurgent forces backing Wagner were headed by former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Lehman declared at a Wagner victory celebration: "We are going to get rid of the bosses, as I have urged for many years, and have honest officials and unbossed government."

Lanigan, a former Nebraskan closely associated politically with Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations and former Democratic presidential candidate, emerged as a new figure on the political horizon in defeating DeSapio.

Baptist Church Takes New Name

The Northside Baptist Church will assume a new name—Crestview Baptist Church — Sunday morning when the congregation moves into the new building on Hilltop Road and Gatesville Street.

The Rev. R. B. Murray, pastor, said a formal opening date will be announced later.

Sunday School will begin at 9:45 a.m., morning worship will be at 10:55 a.m., Training Union at 7 p.m., and evening worship at 8 p.m.

The Latin-American work will begin on the same date in the Northside Baptist Mission, at the corner of North Tenth and North Scurry, with a full-time schedule, and services will be held at the same hours as those at Crestview, Rev. Murray announced.

Parleys Asked

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—The council of Europe's political committee approved a resolution Thursday urging the West to open negotiations with the Soviet Union on "the whole German problem." A Devotional for Today

Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another. (Romans 12: 10.)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, fill my heart with Thy divine love in order that I may be able to love all members of Thy family — my brothers and sisters — with an unceasing, unquenchable love. In the name of the Lord Jesus I ask. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

All May Include The Unwanted

Over - simplification has its problems.

Carlos Prio Socarras, an ex-president of Cuba, is attempting to establish a Cuban government in exile as a springboard for possible future concerted action against the Castro regime. For maximum effectiveness, the appeal was voiced to all anti - Castro elements.

But now some exile leaders are threatening to boycott the organization meeting on the ground that some influential officials in the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship were worming into the act.

Hence the problem: How to unite all anti-Castro forces and yet not embrace symbols which stimulated the revolution that brought on Castro? The movement may require near unanimous support, yet it cannot take the asp to its breast. If the Batistianos can be relegated to the role of sympathizers or helpers rather than that of leaders, the matter may be resolved. Otherwise, the government-in-exile will have to jettison that element just as would a captain to save his ship. The movement cannot survive unless it is dedicated to freedom.

What A Difference One Per Cent Can Make

American people must engage in mass spending if there is to be mass production and mass employment. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said this week in an address to the American Society of Association Executives.

The secretary obviously was not advocating prodigality, but underlining that neither government spending nor even the investments of business can sustain strength in our economic machinery. The fuel upon which prosperity feeds is consumer boldness.

"We cannot have mass production, mass employment, unless we first have mass stimulation of our latent wants," said Mr. Hodges. Noting that individual savings had increased .6 of one per cent (or up 10 per cent while sales lagged, the secretary added: "If we could convince people right now to spend at retail 1 per centage point more of their disposable income, we could raise sales more than $3.5 billion on an annual basis."

Just about the best way to stimulate those latent wants is to advertise. Most operators agree with it; the difficulty is that so many of them want the other person or firm to carry the burden so they may be carried along with the tide.

The funds are available for increased sales, as the savings statistics will indicate. Those who can convince buyers that now is the time to act are those who will help oil the national economic machinery.

RUSSIAN ROULETTE—WITH NEW RULES

David Lawrence

Double-Dealing 'Neutral' Nations

WASHINGTON—Maybe the 25 so-called "non-aligned" nations thought they were building up their prestige by their "summit" conference just held at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, but the truth is they gave the world an example of why double-dealing doesn't pay.

This group of nations can hardly be called "neutral," for they do take a position on issues which affect them directly. They cannot truly describe themselves as "non-aligned" because they have for the most part sought favors, financial and otherwise, from both sides—the East and the West.

THE 25 NATIONS sought to give the impression that they are not only against war but have become the chief exponents of all that is good and virtuous in international relations. The sad fact is, however, that when the Soviet Union broke faith with the world and abandoned its pledges that it would not resume nuclear tests unless the West did so first, the voices of protest from the "non-aligned" group were soft and almost inaudible. It was indeed proof that they were "aligned" with the Soviets. For they failed to denounce the steps taken by Moscow—three nuclear tests in the air—during the very time the "non-aligned" nations were actually in conference at Belgrade.

Former President Truman, who is by no means inarticulate on these matters, put it this way:

"THE ONLY THING that pleases me is the jolt the neutralists got. They got what is coming to them. They ought to take sides with the free world if they're going to survive. They're free now because we made them free. The Russians didn't do that. All the satellites they (the Russians) took after World War II are slave states now. You name one that isn't."

The conference of the "non-aligned" was, however, a useful event in one respect. It exposed the hypocrisy of the "uncommitted" nations. They are "uncommitted" primarily because they want to derive benefits from both sides—the East and the West, but when the subsidies and donations and grants are added up, it will be found that these nations got many times more from the United States and its allies than from the Russians.

THE IMPRESSION made here by the Belgrade conference is a painful one. Officials in Washington were shocked to note that, in the resolutions adopted, there was no denunciation of the Soviets for resuming nuclear tests in the air. Despite all the talk by Nehru of India about the importance of preserving peace, he himself was restrained in his comments.

The mission of President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Keita of Mali, in coming to Washington on a special trip to persuade President Kennedy to negotiate with Khrushchev at a "summit" conference, is something of an anticlimax.

HERE WAS A group of nations which profess to be against war and especially against colonialism. Yet they fail to stand up to the biggest practitioner of colonialism in the modern world—the Soviet Union. If ever a moral issue has presented itself to challenge the peace-loving elements of the whole world, it is in the Berlin issue—especially in the fate of the people of the divided sectors of Germany. Despite all the pious words about "liquidating colonialism wherever it exists," not a word was spoken or written at the Belgrade conference in favor of liberating the East German people from the colonial yoke imposed upon them by Moscow.

Also, despite all the many words denouncing nuclear tests, the action of the Soviet goernment in resuming such tests in the atmosphere was glossed over.

THE CONCLUSION is inescapable that most of the so-called "non-aligned" nations are not idealistic but materialistic, that they will play the West against the East and vice versa in order to get funds. As between right and wrong, there can be no neutrality. Countries like Sweden and Switzerland, which shunned the Belgrade conference, are neutral, too, but only in the sense that they stay out of international disputes on the political front. Their newspapers, however, are far from neutral, and the sharpest denunciation of Khrushchev's policy in resuming nuclear tests in the air has come from Swedish and Swiss newspapers.

THE "NON-ALIGNED" may have thought they would gain prestige by the Belgrade conference. In truth, they have lost the respect of many other governments. For most of the group of "non-aligned" now are considered "aligned" with the position of Moscow, though professing not to accept its doctrines. The Belgrade group seems to be willing to equate the evils of aggression—as evidenced in the Berlin issue—with the heroic efforts of the West to preserve peace and save the "non-aligned" nations themselves from being enslaved.

Life An Infection?

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A Cornell University astronomer suggests that life on earth may have started from micro-organisms brought here by travelers from other planets.

"Perhaps our life here started from such an 'infection' as we will in turn possibly create on another planet," writes Prof. Thomas Gold in the quarterly publication of Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Sometimes we get a trifle upset with our holier-than-thou friends who contend that those "trouble-making students" in foreign countries are "dyed in the Red" by nature. It just ain't so. These are kids. Impressionable. Corruptible. Bored.

A college student who needs a collaborative text in engineering, printed in Spanish, can go out, and buy it in a bookstore for one of two prices: Twenty-nine cents, or the Latin equivalent, if he chooses a volume printed behind the Iron Curtain. Seven dollars if it's a U.S. edition. We use, of course, approximate figures, but the analogy is valid.

The Communists are spending by conservative estimates, $100 million a year to indoctrinate South Americans in their communal ideology. They practically give away texts and tracts, novels, and doctorated histories. They recruit "volunteers" for educational tours of Moscow, all expenses paid.

You know what this means to kids who've got 44 cents a day to live and learn on? It "converts" 'em. It impels them to chant "Russia si; Yanqui, no" when a U. S. official comes calling. We spend in South America, for "education and information," one-seventh as much. About $15 million. And we've spent it thus far ineptly.

The Mish-Mash Of Berlin Thinking

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ominous jockeying over Berlin has its roots in one of the strangest combinations of upside-down contradictions in modern history.

The United States persists in treating as a myth a fact it has long accepted as a reality: that the East German Communists are the sovereign government of East Germany.

Chancellor Adenauer's West German government persists in wanting East and West Germany unified while knowing Premier Khrushchev won't permit it and many of his allies' people don't want it because they fear a new, single Germany.

Khrushchev persists in picturing the East German Red regime as what the East Germans want while fearing to test it in free elections and knowing it could not last a day without the help of Soviet tanks which set it up in the first place.

IT'S OUT OF this mish-mash that some kind of settlement must come if war is to be avoided. What Khrushchev is really after, when you brush aside the speeches and maneuvering, seems to come down to this:

He wants the West to recognize—admit openly—that communism not only dominates Central Europe up to the West German frontier, as it does, but in effect not to challenge it further by arguing about it.

He wants Berlin cut off from the West. On this he can take his time, over months, snatching bit by bit. This Western outpost, 110 miles inside Red Germany, is truly a bone in his throat, as he says.

He wants, judging from his harsh and ruthless tactics now, not only to force the Allies to recognize East Germany but to bring them to their knees with their confidence in themselves and one another shattered.

THIS COULD pay fantastic dividends for him by breaking up the Western alliance eventually. What he says he wants—in demanding recognition for East Germany—is security in Central Europe.

He'd get that and more if he forced the Allies into recognition.

Any satellite peoples who still hoped to shake off the Russian yoke some day—hope based on bygone American talk of liberation for them—would see their last hope gone.

Strange Adventures

NEW YORK (AP)—"Some sat, some stood, some slowly strayed," said the man as he walked along. The words were like whistles.

He shook his head despairingly. He thrust two fists full of fingers into his mouth and tugged. Then he again said in that half-loud voice people use when talking to themselves:

"Some sat, some stood, some slowly strayed. Some sat, some stood, some slowly strayed."

A few passers-by edged away from the stranger nervously. But not me. I fell into step beside him as he muttered once more in whistlying monotone, "Some sat, some stood, some slowly strayed."

"You had 'em long?" I asked.

For a split second he looked at me in startled wonder, then replied: "Four days."

"They still hurt much?" I asked.

"Something awful."

"I've had mine almost four years," I volunteered.

"Yours still hurt much?" he inquired.

"Only when I eat too much corn on the cob," I told him.

"Corn on the cob!" he shuddered visibly. "I wouldn't dare try."

"You will," I assured him. "In time you will. You'll know you've got 'em whipped when you can sit down, eat corn on the cob, sirloin steak and a raw apple—and get up laughing."

He looked at me in hopeless envy.

"I'll never be able to do that," he sighed.

"You will," I assured him again. "It's all just a matter of time—and a fighting spirit."

"Can you say Mississippi?" he asked.

"Certainly," I replied. "Mississippi, Mississippi, Mississippi."

He looked at me in hopeless envy and admiration.

"Now you try it," I urged, as we paused for a traffic light.

"I'm afraid to."

"Aw, go ahead."

He took a deep breath and then said more loudly than he intended, "Missss-issss-ssssippi!"

Three nearby women turned and glared at him indignantly.

"You see," he said, "They think I'm whistling at them. "That letter 'S' throws me every time. I'll never whip it."

"Of course you will," I said. Why don't you practice first on South Dakota, work your way up to Kansas, then go on to Mississippi?"

"Thanks," he said. We shook hands and he left, muttering, "South Dakota, some sat, some stood, some slowly strayed."

Feeling rather proud of myself I said out loud and clear, "Mississippi!" Then something in my mouth slipped and the third time it came out whistling.

A middle-aged lady passing by turned at the sound, smiled tentatively, and then as she brushed past me whispered in my ear, "Gramercy 7-8959—but don't call before 6 o'clock."

Yep, people with dentures sure do have strange adventures.

Starts Rolling Young

VINELAND, N. J. (AP)—An attractive young mother with a yen to go roller skating has solved her baby-sitting problem. She doesn't hire one.

Instead, Mrs. George Phifer takes her year-old baby, Mark, along to the rink when she and her husband go.

What's more, she lets the child skate. She's equipped him with special roller skates which enable him to glide around the floor, with a gentle assist from mother.

Mrs. Phifer says Mark is the youngest boy ever to roll around the local rink.

To Your Good Health

Word 'Incurable' Not Spoken Lightly

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: If a patient's mind deteriorates and he is diagnosed as insane, outside of a miracle what would be the chance of recovery?

"Can such a patient who has deteriorated mentally ever improve to the extent of being able to return to society? And just how is mental deterioration diagnosed? —J. F."

Let's straighten out one important point to begin with: "Mental illness" can come from two broad general classes. However, there are many variations within these.

One is actual physical damage to the brain—disease or injury destroys or damages some parts of the brain. These are what we know as "brain damage" cases, and little can be done except, possibly, train the patient to a modest desgree to get along with the active brain which remains.

The other, and more usual type of "mental illness" ought better be called "emotional illness," because in any of our mental hospitals you will find countless patients in whom we can detect nothing physically wrong with the brain.

True, current experiments are pointing more and more to the belief that some chemical changes probably occur in cases of schizophrenia (the most common type of mental illness). But this is no occasion for hopelessness; quite the reverse. It gives rise to hope that someday we may be able to treat such cases with medicines. I mean more specific medicines than, for example, tranquilizers, which simply allay anxiety but do not get at the root of the trouble.

Let's put it this way: A person may have anemia. The blood shows distinct changes. But these can be corrected and the blood will be as healthy as it was before. On the other hand, take some physical destruction of a part of the body—say a leg being terribly mangled in an accident. It may heal, but it cannot be restored to its original condition again.

If there is actual physical damage or deterioration of the brain cells, we have no way of replacing them, and a doctor can be just as positive in his predictions as he can be when he says that a mangled limb cannot become straight again.

In emotional illness, where there is no brain damage, a prediction is more difficult. However, psychiatrists, having seen and studied and followed many patients, can tell from repeated experience that some individuals, generally those long mentally ill, have scant prospect of getting better.

The testing is quite involved and includes such things as observing patterns of behavior, responses to questions, attitudes toward whatever occurs, and a history of the patient's illness.

When, or if, a doctor has to tell relatives that a patient is incurably ill, the words are not spoken lightly. It is better for relatives to know that their Uncle John is pretty certain to remain emotionally ill for the rest of his life, than it is to let them go on grasping at straws, hoping for things that won't happen. Believe me, there is no pleasure in telling people to stop futile hoping, but sometimes it is the honest thing to do.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is one tablespoon of pure olive oil daily harmful to the system?—J. K."

No—but why take it? If it's just because you like it, that's a good reason, but if you think it's medicine in some sense, I think you're wrong. (It adds extra calories!)

"You Can Stop Sinue Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus suffers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Around The Rim

The Worst Pun Of The Year

Now, why can't we settle our differences comic opera style, instead of atomizing each other?

No one would get hurt — at least, not very many and most of them not too seriously. And it would give the world's population an exciting new kind of game to watch Sunday afternoons on TV.

The East German Communists have built a huge wall across the West Berlin border, like it was medieval, man, and the chief weapon they use against American patrols who venture too close is a new kind of armored car with a "gun" that shoots water. Americans fight back with tear gas.

UNDERSTAND, IT can be a rough, though not fatal, game. A water cannon can knock a man sprawling at a hundred feet, and tear gas is as unpleasant as the very dickens. But it's better than irradiating the entire earth, or even trading lead.

This manner of solving the world's problems could result in a world rivalry no more serious than that between West Texas towns during football season.

ONCE UPON A TIME, scientists succeeded in making a "clean" hydrogen bomb, also known as a "pure" bomb. A pure bomb is one which still packs as much explosive power, but leaves no radioactive residue, otherwise knows as "fallout."

Hydrogen bombs, pure or impure, all are based on the "fusion" reaction in which four hydrogen atoms are fused into one helium atom, and an H-bomb explosion also fuses a lot of material near it.

Well, to get on with the story: A bunch of convicts (also known as "cons") took over the island of Alcatraz at about the same time that the new pure bomb was ready to fire. Because the island turned out to be impregnable the U. S. government finally ordered that the bomb be dropped on the rebellious cons, since a pure bomb would leave no fallout over the Bay area, and since by fusing both cons and island it would solve the revolt.

The result, as you might have known, was pure con fusion.

AND YET ANOTHER yarn, but this one is true:

This new sales tax actually is saving me money. Used to be, I never had pennies to put in the parking meter, whereas now I always have a pocketful. Those overparking tickets I used to get were beginning to become bothersome.

Good Americans Are Ready

Polls and pollsters are never more solemn or pontifical than when asking questions to which the answers are as plain as a pikestaff.

At the moment the pollsters are earnestly reassuring the nation that Americans are unanimous in agreement that they would "rather be dead than Red."

Who, in his right mind, ever doubted that?

The phrase "rather be dead than Red" is a catchy but fundamentally shoddy expression that conceals the passionate American determination to be free at all costs and never, God help us, live under any dictatorship whatsoever, be it of the right or the left.

AMERICANS DO not wear their emotions on their sleeves, and the phrase helps conceal the terrible emotional intensity with which we are dedicated to preserving the liberties we received from the Founding Fathers.

In these days of crisis, Americans cannot help but be sobered by events. But I have yet to see any of my fellow citizens running scared or readying the white flag. If there is any despair it is that there is no answer yet when we ask what we can do for our country.

IT WAS MY observation during World War II that people on the home front were always eager to do more than was asked of them; to make some sacrifice more fundamental than that implied in meat, cigarette, shoe and gas rationing.

At the moment I don't think very many Americans are asking what the country can do for them.

ANY POLL, I wager, will find millions of citizens eager to know what, in this continuing crisis, we can do for our country. Patriotism may not find the same expression in 1961 as it did 40 years ago, when Fourth of July oratory and fireworks filled the heavens. But patriotism runs deep in the United States.

If there is a feeling of frustration in the nation today, it is not because we are unwilling to stand firm, but because we would like to know how we can best help our country in these savage times. Even higher taxes, if needed for national security, won't offend a nation that has probably realized by this time that in case of nuclear holocaust no one can take it with him.

TODAY, IN A nation of 180,000,000 persons, Communist party membership is down to about 10,000 persons. The party apparatus has recruited a few spies and enlisted a few prominent nitwits from time to time, but it never, at any time, has had any wide, popular appeal for any segment of the American people.

Americans have never been either sweet or soft on communism. If all the nation had to worry about was internal subversion by native Reds, we could sleep peacefully, with the FBI standing guard against the hard-core handful.

It should surprise no one that Americans would rather be dead than Red or, more important even, that we are grimly united in our determination that the nation shall stay alive and free.

Marquis Childs

Don't Push The Panic Button Yet

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON. — As crisis week succeeds crisis week in this uneasy time, one question is heard again and again from ordinary people and again and again is raised in their letters.

"What can I do to help?"

THE BEST HELP any man or woman can give to the country just now is to keep steadily at work, to stay as calm as possible and, above all, not to worry too much.

This is no Pollyanna advice. It is based on a roundup of information direct from the highest sources in this government. For our top leaders now see the situation realistically to be as follows:

The greatest and most basic of all facts in the cold war is that the United States is wholly confident—Does not merely guess or hope—that our atomic striking power is at least four times that of the Soviet Union, and possibly 10 times.

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV in breaking the ban on testing of new nuclear weapons for which he himself had agitated so long, was acting more from reckless weakness than strength. In the process, he has practically written off the years of effort given by international communism to promoting anti-Western attitudes among the neutral countries.

If he has not now altogether lost the neutrals, he has at any rate lost them as stooges for his anti-Western propaganda. They are well and truly on to him at last. We cannot bank on their doing anything affirmatively to help us; but we are reasonably sure they are through helping Khrushchev.

LOOKING BACK over the last score of urgent days the estimate of highly responsible men here is that Khrushchev broke the nuclear test agreement with us in the spirit of a man who begins to hit about wildly because things are not going well for him.

Because we have a tendency to give the devil even more than his due, the cruicial point has been largely lost that matters have really not gone well with him since he sealed the East-West Berlin border.

WHEN, TWO WEEKS AGO, President Kennedy sent fresh American troops into Berlin—and sent Vice President Johnson in to symbolize them—the real showdown began. What the United States did was not merely to call Khrushchev's opening bet; we raised that bet, our chips being the troop reinforcements. He had his chance to try to halt those troops at the Communist-controlled checkpoints leading into Berlin. That bost went to us.

The Republican leaders of Congress, notably Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, backed the President all the way. This, too, is a fact of great significance of which not enough note has been taken. It is also a fact deeply appreciated by the Democratic Administration in the White House.

THEN THERE followed the President's appointment as his personal representative to Berlin of the man who smashed the Soviet effort to blockade the city a decade and a half ago, Gen. Lucuis Clay.

Finally, Mr. Kennedy offered yet another nuclear armaments control plan which, by its obvious reasonablesness, gave Khrushchev the alternative of accepting it or doing what he has now done. This is to lash out recklessly to resume the nuclear testing which he had sworn never to resume first.

THE SITUATION now comes to this: our atomic predominance over the Soviet Union—never mind Khrushchev's boasts of super-super bombs—is so vast as to be almost decisive. Moreover, this predominance will increase as we resume testing—which we can do with great speed and ease.

Every rational estimate therefore, is that Khrushchev is not really going to challenge this power by war. He will go on trying to do elsewhere what he nearly did in West Germany at the beginning—to break Allied morale. Kennedy, Johnson, Clay and the troops restored West German morale.

IT IS VITAL now that our own morale—not to mention that of the British and the French—not be shaken by fear techniques. Thus, to worry oneself into something like panic would be the worst possible thing. The odds are better than even that calmness and firmness will win the game.

Key To Problem

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP) — Police Chief John Thomas feels there is a key to the city's parking meter problem.

About 35 parking meters were opened and the coin boxes stolen. The meters weren't damaged, so Thomas figures the thief had a key that worked.

Another problem: The key would fit every parking meter in town.

Spaders Hear Three Speakers

Three speakers presented the program for members of the Spaders Garden Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. F. D. Williams.

Mrs. Dale Smith, using as her subject, "How Plants Travel", told the group that seeds are distributed by the wind and floods, by birds, the wool of sheep and by people's clothing.

"Vines—Annual and Perennial" were discussed by Mrs. D. A. Miller, who designated roses as perennials that weave around their own stems; honeysuckle as one which runs by twining, grapes as a vine with tendrills. She warned against running twiners around trees. English ivy is an example of a vine which carries its roots as it grows, Mrs. Miller stated.

Mrs. Bob Carlile, in telling of pests, diseases and problems of mums, named aphids, red spider and the lack of organic matter as the cause of falling and discoloration of leaves; she suggested malathion as a good remedy for this problem. Rust, blight and mildew are caused by too much water or too close spacing of the plants, the speaker said, and recommended that sulphur or Bordeaux mixture be applied.

Yearbooks and schedules for the fall flower show were distributed to the 13 attending.

The next meeting was announced for Sept. 21 in the home of Mrs. Carlile, 1000 E. 20th, at 2 p. m.

Design The Kids' Room For Kids

Pre-school tots may find their quarters livened up by some innovations for their lollipop set. It isn't just new furniture designs.

It's the effort to give the furnishings juvenile rather than adult interest that strikes the right bell.

Until recently, little people's rooms were designed to please parents rather than children. Mom couldn't understand why her darling didn't appreciate her expensive Regency crib or her Louis XV armoir.

Children have found it's more fun to hang clothing on a toy soldier or milkmaid clothes tree than throw it on a chair.

An attractive wastepaper basket decorated with animals, clowns or what have you is an inducement to a child's disposal of trivia.

New rugs for indoor play have been added to the list of fun furnishings in a child's room.

A hopscotch rug has the traditional staggered eight blocks numbered with Roman numerals in each corner. There is a curved "home space" at the top. Orange with deep brown lines and numbers, the textured nylon can take hard wear, one reason the game rug is made possible.

Ideal for a boy's room is a companion "marble" rug. There is a six-foot circle with regulation marble ring with a small circle in the center where the marbles are placed before starting the game, making it all authentic for the boy who has a supply of agates, immies and what have you.

A mother who complains that she can't keep children in their rooms might solve the problem with proper room planning, especially for the pre-schooler who loves to play.

A long table where clay and finger paints may be used to their heart's content can't fail but keep small fry busy for frequent spells of contentment.

An easel is another favorite for pre-schoolers who love to paint.

Let It Rain

Doesn't matter if it's pouring outside, there's always the fun of hopscotch inside when a youngster's room is fitted with a rug in orange and brown design for that perennial favorite.

Gardeners To Be Helped With Drying Flowers

CHICAGO — W. R. Grace & Co. introduced a new consumer product for preserving fresh flowers at the National Chemical Exposition this week.

The product - Flower - Dri - when applied to fresh flowers, preserves their original appearance indefinitely. A demonstration of the product and the method has been held daily at the Grace booth.

The National Chemical Exposition was held at the International Amphitheatre Tuesday through today.

A unique way of drying flowers, to keep them as fresh looking and colorful as when first picked, employs silica gel, an industrial chemical used in baby powders and for the preservation of dry freshness in foods and pharmaceutical preparations.

The method takes advantage of the affinity of the silica gel for moisture. In about a week of contact with the chemical, moisture is almost completely removed from the flowers, leaving their appearance unchanged and preserving them for months.

A special blend of silica gel has been prepared for this use, known as "Flower-Dri." It is an admixture of blue and white particles. When it becomes saturated with moisture from the flowers, it turns entirely white and is then reactivated by baking in an oven, until the blue returns. With reactivation, the Flower-Dri retains its usefulness indefinitely.

Instructions for use of Flower-Dri give the full details of the method:

1. Pour Flower - Dri into a cake tin or other sealable container to a depth of 2 inches. Insert short - stemmed flowers, face up. Space them so they're not touching.

2. Sprinkle Flower - Dri over flowers until completely covered, gently working it up and around them so contact is made on all parts of the flowers.

3. Cover cake tin or other container with tight top and seal it with freezer or masking tape. Put it away for one week - in a place where the contents will not be disturbed.

4. To remove flowers, pour off mixture slowly until they are uncovered. Lift out gently and blow away any particles that adhere-or, you may dust carefully with an artist's brush.

5. To make stems, insert a length of medium weight florists' wire into the short flower stem and fasten it with a small piece of masking or freezer tape.

6. Cover the wire by spiral-wrapping it with green floral tape, and the flower is ready for arranging and for many uses in decorating.

Previous methods of drying include burying in borax, borax and cornmeal, sand, and hanging in a dry place.

State Co-Op Leader Cap Rock Guest

STANTON—Members of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, convening here Saturday afternoon for the 22nd annual meeting, will hear the top man in the state electric cooperative movement.

J. R. (Jim) Cobb, Austin, general manager of the Texas Electric Cooperative, Inc., is to deliver the address to the joint meeting of the electric co-op and the Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative in the business session starting at 2 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Willie Wiredhand room of the enlarged headquarters building here.

Registration starts at 1:30 p.m. and cash prizes totalling $500 will be distributed. Announcement will be made of the award of college scholarships to two outstanding students whose families are served by the cooperative's line.

Three directors will be named by each unit to 3-year terms. Those whose terms expire on the Cap Rock board are Paul Adams, D. W. McDonald and Mrs. Lee Castle; those whose terms expire on the telephone board are Lawrence Adkins, Cecil Wilkerson and Mrs. L. C. Hazelwood.

Manager O. B. Bryan's report will highlight the meeting. Recently the electric cooperative made a capital credit refund, pushing the amount thus distributed to members in the past five years to more than $200,000.

Assets of Cap Rock increased 8.89 per cent to reach $5,508,879. In 1960, the unit sold 48,076,327 KWH of power, a gain of 16.16 per cent over the previous year. Total operating revenue was $976,160, up 12.31 per cent.

Although the assets gained by nearly half a million, the debt to REA increased but 6.13 per cent, to $3,754,040, or up by $217,000. The total of original REA loans for the 22 years is $5,008,480, reflecting repayment of $1,254,439 on the capital account. Of this, $550,095 has been repaid.

J. R. COBB

Records show 25 per cent of the electric co-op's revenue comes from farm and home, 42 per cent from irrigation wells, 10 per cent large commercial, 5 per cent nonfarm, 17 per cent small commercial, 1 per cent public buildings.

The telephone cooperative now has over 1,100 members in five counties, and is installing 200 more miles in Glasscock County.

Cobb started his electrification work in 1936 when he was with the Louisiana State Agricultural extension service, organizing one at Lafayette, which is the largest in the world. Later he did organizational work in Texas then went to Washington to head the REA installment loan division, being made assistant chief of the applications and loan division in 1946. He spent four years with General Motors Frigidaire division and since 1958 has been the cooperative general manager in Texas.

District Scouters Planning Round Up

District Boy Scout leaders mapped plans Thursday evening for the fall Round Up with emphasis on getting more boys into units with a solid program.

Byron Alexander has accepted the chairmanship of the Round Up effort and will be working closely with the organization and extension committee as with other groups. Surveys will be made in schools concerning potentials of membership.

Joe Jackson, organization and extension chairman, said that district membership was 1,128, practically the same as a year ago. Emphasis will be placed on rechartering units as well as enlisting new boys, he added. Ben Johnson, leadership training chairman, said training sessions would be set up every third Tuesday of the month, starting Sept. 21. Cub leadership training will be stressed along with the outdoor program.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, advancement chairman, said that a district court of honor has been planned for Oct. 24 and urged unit leaders to encourage boys to complete advancement requirements prior to that time. The affair will be in the HCJC auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Cub and upper rank Scouting advancement is showing gains, but the middle bracket is weak, he reported.

Jack Alexander, district commissioner, said efforts are being made to recruit additional neighborhood commissioners, also to attend the council commissioners meeting on Sept. 14 in Midland. D. D. Johnson, speaking for the camping and activities group, said a district camporee will be held Oct. 27-28. It was reported that vandals have stolen wires to the electric outlet at the Roundup grounds south of town. George Foster reminded unit leaders that certain surplus properties are available to them at Webb AFB. Lige Fox told of plans to organize a "lost person" hike sometime in November.

The Lone Star district is way out in front in its sustaining membership effort, council reports show. Champ Rainwater, finance chairman, said 106 new sustaining members had subscribed $2,076, which gives $3,751 for the district. Rainwater also urged all Scouters to do their utmost in support of the United Fund campaign.

A resolution commending Doug Orme for organizing the first council Explorer whing ding was adopted. The affair drew 106 senior boys and visitors from other points said the weekend affair at Webb AFB equalled or excelled the regional and national Explorer meets.

'62 VW Here; Little Change

The 1962 version of the Volkswagen is currently on display at Western Car Company, 2114 West 3rd; but you may have to look closely to see changes.

That's because the Volkswagen is traditionally constant in its design, although it does make refinements from time to time. Its makers feel that the big appeal of the VW is that one year's model (in looks) is much like another's, and depreciation is at a minimum.

The taillights in the '62 model are a bit larger. Work has been done to make the car run more quietly. There are heater outlets front and rear.

And perhaps the big news is that the '62 VW has added a gasoline gauge. That's one way to tell you're in the latest model.

Three Enter Guilty Pleas

Floyd Wayne Black, Louis Kubat and Johnnie Brinson, indicted Monday in Garden City for burglary of a service station there, entered guilty pleas in 118th District Court on Thursday afternoon and were sentenced to five years each in the state penitentiary.

The same three men are under indictment in Howard County for attempted burglary. They allegedly attempted to get into the Hull and Phillips food store by boring holes in the roof. The offense here was on June 23—about the same time as the Glasscock County incident.

Georgia Police Quiz Local Youth

DALTON, Ga. (AP)—A youth picked up in an auto containing a pair of blood stained pants told investigators today the blood was his own.

The youth identified himself as Richard C. Seaman Jr. of Big Spring, Tex. He said he had been driving back and forth to Canada and New York on an oil company credit card issued to his father, who he named as Sgt. Richard C. Seaman of Webb AFB, Big Spring.

It was on one of these trips, he told authorities, that he met Barbara Ann Shaw of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., whose shawl, purse and social security card were in the car.

Sheriff Donald McArthur and others had been concerned about the safety of Miss Shaw. However, she was reported safe in Poughkeepsie Thursday night, although she had lost her purse.

The sheriff quoted the youth as saying he and the girl had gone swimming together.

He said the bloodstains on the pants came from a cut which he received on his hand while freeing his car after it became stuck.

The youth was picked up here in a routine check of his car by sheriff's officers.

The youth said his address at Big Spring was Apt. 4, Bldg. 5, Ellis Homes.

* * *

The young man is in reality Ronda Joe Reid, 20, step-son of S.Sgt. Richard C. Seaman. Sgt. Seaman said he had talked today with Agent Horton of the FBI in Abilene regarding Ronda Joe's difficulty. He was disturbed over the report but does not presently plan to go to Georgia.

A car, ostensibly taken on a tryout by Ronda Joe at Waco on Aug. 20, was said to have been taken by Georgia authorities. Sgt. Seaman thought the youth, who was on parole, might have been attempting to come home at the time he was taken into custody.

Police Checking On Three Thefts

Big Spring police were called to investigate three thefts Thursday and Friday, involving locks, clothing, and liquor.

Thomason Enterprises, Abilene, developers of an addition in Southwest Big Spring, had a car parked at 3710 Connally, from which building door locks, valued at $200, were taken Thursday evening. These included three sets of two exterior locks, eight sets of exterior locks, 24 passage locks, and 19 bolt locks.

Joyce Shafer reported that clothing was taken from her car, which was left unlocked for about 20 minutes, at 11 p. m. Thursday when she went into the Nite Lite on East Thrd.

Some one entered Shaw's Liquor Store, 301 N. Bell, some time during the night and took out an unknown number of bottles of liquor. Five bottles were left on a counter. The subject removed a south window on the east side of the building to enter.

Hazing Activities Are Investigated

Police were called to two different locations Thursday night because juveniles were ganging up. One report said a group was gathered just outside the city limits on Marcy and Eleventh Place east of the city. Officers broke up the gang.

Another report said youngsters were ganging up in a north side park, but they were not located. A check at the city park located them and officers sent them away. Police stated they were groups of school youngsters hazing.

No Pay Hike Now For County Work Crew, Commission Rules

Any pay raises which may be forthcoming for the 40 employes of the county road and bridge crew will be decided later—possibly after the new year has begun.

Meantime, the Howard County Commissioners Court has decided to forego any action on pay boosts suggested for the workers and the 1962 county budget has been approved as originally drawn by the county auditor.

The commissioners were considering a $15 per month pay raise for the road and bridge crew at their session Thursday morning—the funds to be provided by cutting back on other appropriations in the department budget. It was estimated about $8,000 would have to be found if the pay raises could be adopted.

Later the court decided to pass on the matter and take another look at the proposal later on when the financial picture can be more closely evaluated.

The budget as approved calls for $940,492.41. This year will require $924,224.41 which means that the expenses of the county will be about $16,268 greater than for the present year.

The estimated value of the county for tax purposes is set at $56,000,000 and the budget figured on $52,080,000. The valuation this year is $104,692 greater than for 1961. It is estimated that ad valorem taxes will produce $539,280 in 1962 which is a $29,790 increase over the present year. Total receipts for the new year will be $929,892.41 and beginning balances are pegged at $10,600. This allows total expenditures of $931,384.91 and ending balances will be $9,107.50 to provide total expenditures at balances for 1962 of $940,492.41.

Tax rates for the year are: Operating funds, jury 6 cents; road and bridge 15 cents; road and bridge special 15 cents; general 38 cents; permanent improvement 5 cents; Total 79 cents.

Interest and sinking fund rates: Courthouse and jail, 11 cents; 1954 road bond, 7 cents; airport fund 5 cents; 1961 road bonds 5 cents. Total 28 cents.

Overall tax rate $1.07 — five cents greater than for the present year.

Funds and the amounts earmarked for each:

Jury fund: total expenditures and balance $31,160, an increase of $4,560 over the funds this year. The increases are accounted for in allocation of $10,000 for petit jurors, compared with $7,500 for 1961; $1,200 for county appointed attorneys, compared with $1,000; $1,200 for special investigator car allowance, compared with $1,020; $2,200 probation officer's salary, compared with $1,500; other items reduced slightly. The fund serves both district and county courts.

Road and bridge: total expenditures and balance $346,420. This represents an increase of less than $4,000 over the current year.

General fund calls for $157,000 which is $15,000 less than estimated expenditures from the fund this year.

Officer salary fund: $191,000 compared with $191,500 estimated for this year.

Permanent improvement fund: $7,000 compared with $10,600.

Lateral road fund: $27,162.41 compared with $25,884.41.

Library fund: $19,500 compared with $17,100. The increases are accounted for in a small increase in the librarian's salary from $3,900 $4,080 annually; slight increases in allowances for electricity, landscaping and new equipment. Other items on the budget have been slightly reduced.

Law library: $3,000 as compared with $2,800.

Airport sinking fund: $26,300 compared with $27,000.

1954 road bond sinking fund: $39,500 compared with $39,400.

Courthouse and jail sinking fund: $59,350 as compared with $58,700.

1961 road bond sinking fund: $25,200 (not on the budget for the current year).

Airport operating: $7,200 compared with $8,040.

Kids' Day Is Planned

Big Spring Kiwanis Club will observe Kids' Day on Sept. 30, it was announced at the club meeting Thursday. As has been the custom in the past, the club will cooperate with Webb AFB and most of the activities will be centered at the base.

Soc Walker is general chairman for arrangements. He will be assisted by Capt. Charles Smith, public information officer at the base, who is also a member of the club.

This year, the kid commander for the day and the kid WAF commander will be selected from the junior high school student bodies rather than from the high school as has been the past practice.

The winners will be selected by an essay contest on some subject pertaining to "Americanism." Details are to be worked out later.

The Kiwanis Clubs and the Air Force have cooperatively observed Kid's Day for a number of years. Full plans for the local observation will be announced later.

Molesting Report Made Wednesday

A man tried twice Wednesday to pick up a girl on her way to and from school, police were told. The mother of the girl told police patrolman L. E. Smith of the incident and gave a description of the car.

Police Chief Jay Banks repeated that it is important that any attempt, (no matter how trivial it may seem at the time), by a stranger to pick up a child should be reported.

"I hope that parents will inform their children about this and encourage a report of any such act to their teachers, principal, parents, or police, as soon as possible after it is done," Banks said. "The sooner a report is made, giving all possible information about the person, car, and license number, the better we will be able to do something about apprehension."

Briton Agrees To Trade Of Rebel Banners

LONDON (AP) — The British owner of a battle-scarred Confederate flag wanted in Texas says he is ready to surrender it. But he suggested that an Englishman take it to the United States.

"A group of Texans have arranged to send me a Confederate flag in exchange for mine," said David Shure. "I'll be delighted to get it."

In an interview, he added:

"The Texans assure me that the flag I'll receive once flew over the Confederate Capitol in Richmond."

Shure, who runs an antique store, said he would give up his banner but he thought H. L. Bamber, of Wisebach, in Surrey, should be appointed to deliver the Stars and Bars to Texas.

"I have a touching letter from Mr. Bamber," said Shure. "He wants to buy my battle flag for sentimental reasons. One of his ancestors was a Virginian.

"I can't sell my flag because the Americans think it belongs in the United States. I think that we should compromise by sending Mr. Bamber to the States with it."

Shure said Richard E. Dwelle Jr., publisher of the Athens, Tex., Review, had written him:

"Since I can't come to your country, I am taking this means to ask you if you would entrust the flag to the British and American mails, that it might be returned to this country.

"The flag—along with the information you have about it — would be forwarded from Athens by the Howdy Martin Brigade of the Sons of the Confederacy to the museum (Confederate) in Richmond."

The publisher said Frank La Rue Jr. of the Howdy Martin Brigade had informed him a Confederate flag—though not a battle flag—was being sent to Shure.

"Mr. Bamber says he's a British working man," said Shure, "and I'm trying some way to get him over with the flag. Maybe the Texans can help."

Alger Domestic Troubles Break Into Light Again

DALLAS (AP)—Rep. Bruce Alger's domestic troubles broke into the limelight again Thursday when attorneys for the Dallas Republican's former mother-in-law asked that he be held in contempt of court.

The legal action followed a move Tuesday which transferred custody of Alger's three children from their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Antoine, to the congressman.

The custody transfer was ordered by Dist. Judge Looney Lindsey of Gilmer, Upshur County.

In January, Judge Lindsey ordered that the children, Linda Jill Alger, David Bruce Alger and Steven Alger, should remain in Mrs. Antoine's custody until they entered boarding schools this fall.

Domestic Relations Judge John Mead granted a writ of habeas corpus and ordered that the girl appear in his courtroom at 9 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Antoine's attorneys charged that Alger sought to alienate the girl's affections for her grandmother. They pointed out that a Dallas couple brought her to Gilmer Tuesday for a conference with Judge Lindsey.

Lindsey's order said that Alger should have custody of the children and that the girl should live with the Dallas couple. He ordered that the boys should remain with their father in Washington before entering a boarding school near Denton after Congress adjourns.

Judge Mead set a hearing on the contempt of court charges for Sept. 22. The affidavit charges that Alger is $197 in arrears in his child support payments to Mrs. Antoine and seeks to alienate the affections of the girl from her grandmother.

Judge Lindsey's ruling was sought by Alger and is temporary pending a hearing in Gilmer on Oct. 5.

Peace Corps Contingent Leaves

NEW YORK (AP)—A 62-man Peace Corps group left Thursday for a two year assignment in Colombia as tension mounted between East and West.

Among the group was Albert William Lewis Jr., 22, of McAllen, Tex.

"I'm very excited about going and will try to do my part," Lewis said. "The state of affairs gives me more of an incentive to fight to help people. I'll be glad to tell about the benefits of democracy and freedom."

All the group had a working knowledge of Spanish. They ranged in age from 19 to 31.

The group trained for two months at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J.

Lewis and the other corpsmen empnasized that their job was community development, not politics.

Manufacturers, Bottlers Get Ruling On Sales Tax

AUSTIN (AP)—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert held Thursday that Texas manufacturers must collect the new sales tax unless they get a resale or exemption certificate from their customers.

The ruling was one of two new administrative interpretations issued by Calvert to make a total of 19 such rulings on the 2 per cent levy on most articles over 24 cents which became effective Sept. 1.

Thursday's interpretations concerned general manufacturing (No. 16) and bottlers (No. 21).

"Sales of all manufactured products shall be subject to this tax unless such sales are made under either a resale or exemption certificate or are otherwise exempt by this law," said Calvert in the manufacturing ruling. His interpretation followed closely the actual language of the legislative act.

Calvert said that any item which becomes an ingredient or component part of a manufactured product which is intended for resale is exempt from the tax. This includes chemicals such as catalytic agents which become an ingredient of the product. However, if chemicals and catalytic agents are largely recoverable and can be used over and over, then they become supplies instead of ingredients and are taxable to the manufacturer.

The comptroller said the "predominant use" theory will govern in determining the amount of gas or electricity used for manufacturing. "Where such a utility from a given meter is used predominantly in a direct manufacturing process, then the entire utility bill from such a meter reading shall be exempt from this tax," the ruling said. If the utility from a given meter is used mostly for purposes other than direct manufacturing, then the total bill from the meter is taxable.

The ruling on bottlers said that vending machines used to dispense soft drinks are taxable to the bottler if he owns and operates them. However, if he purchases the machines with the intention of reselling them or renting or leasing them to another person, then the bottler may avoid the tax by signing a resale certificate. The tax subsequently will be collected from the person who pays the bottler's sales price or the rental or lease charge.

Supplies and equipment purchased by a bottler, such as wooden or metal cases, and bottling machines, are taxable to the bottler. However, ingredients which become a part of the drink to be sold are exempt from the tax at the time purchased by the bottler.

Calvert added that bottlers of beer and alcoholic beverages are exempted from paying the tax on the products but still have to pay the tax on supplies and equipment, the same as the soft drink bottler.

McNamara Shields Names, Agrees To Censorship Look

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told a Senate committee Thursday that if it finds censoring of speeches by military men is "inappropriate" he will eliminate it.

McNamara also supplied to the Armed Services Committee the names of 14 men—11 of them military officers — who do the actual censoring.

But he stuck to his earlier refusal to disclose the name of any individual who was responsible for reviewing any particular speech.

The secretary also told the senators he regards several films prescribed for troop training more effective for showing the menace of communism than the controversial "Operation Abolition."

That was his reply to Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who asked why "Operation Abolition" had been dropped from the prescribed list for troop training.

The committee wound up two days of hearings on charges by Thurmond that military officers have been censored and muzzled in trying to make blunt warnings against communism.

"If the committee finds any pattern of action which you believe inappropriate, I would be happy to take any action that you believe appropriate to eliminate the pattern," McNamara said.

McNamara later will submit for the record texts of 1,200 speeches which have been reviewed by the Pentagon since he took office Jan. 20. Thurmond has charged that time and again talks were revised by censors to eliminate or soften references to the Communist threat.

McNamara said that some remarks were softened on the advice of the State Department earlier this year, because of international negotiations. He contended that Pentagon censors did permit strong and repeated attacks on communism as a general rule.

McNamara said that as the $450,000-a-year president of the Ford Motor Co.—the job he left in January—he found that a manager cannot operate successfully if he allows subordinates to bear criticism for which he is responsible.

McNamara said he would not be able to command the respect and loyalty of 3.5 million members of the armed services if he failed to bear the full burden of his responsibility.

Thurmond has introduced a resolution which would authorize a broadinvestigation of the Pentagon's speech review work. The committee chairman, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., indicated the committee might act on the resolution Monday.

"Operation Abolition" is a documentary type film about rioting during a hearing in San Francisco by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. A controversy has raged over whether the sequence of events as shown gives an accurate picture of what happened.

McNamara said the Defense Department is now "developing a magnificient film on this subject" to be called "Communist Target: Youth."

He said it is based on an FBI report and will be placed on the prescribed list for troop training. McNamara said it treats the subject "far more broadly and far more effectively" than "Operation Abolition."

White Enrolls In Negro School

DOVER, Del. (AP) — A white pupil has enrolled at a previously all-Negro high school here. He is believed to be the first white student in the school's history, officials say.

James C. Hardcastle, supervising principal of the William W. M. Henry Comprehensive High School, said there "was no tension whatsoever" Thursday when the 15-year-old white boy enrolled along with some 600 Negroes.

Hardcastle declined to reveal the boy's name. He called the action "a healthy sign" and said he hoped more white students would enroll.

No point showing the '62 Volkswagen. It still looks the same.

No heads will turn when you drive a '62 Volkswagen home. (An eagle-eyed neighbor may notice the taillights are a little bigger. But that's the only clue.)

We don't give car watchers much help. There are no fins on our '62 model. No new chrome. Everything is right where we left it in '61. Including the price.

Inside is another story.

We've put all our time and effort into improvements that matter. The '62 VW runs more quietly. There are new clutch and brake cables as well as steering parts that never need maintenance. Heater outlets front and rear. Easier braking. And 24 more.

There's one change that's a gasser. Literally.

We've added a gas gauge. Our first.

A few die-hards may think we've stolen some of the sporting flavor from VW driving. But the gas gauge is more useful than you'd imagine. It will not only show whether your tank is E or F; it will prove you're driving a '62.

1962 may go down in VW history as the year of the big change.

HOW A MAN AND WIFE, DRIVEN FROM THEIR HOME CITY, FOUND A NEW LIFE THROUGH A GOD-SENT FRIENDSHIP

Scripture—Acts 18:1-3, 18-21, 24-28; Romans 16:3-5.

By N. SPEER JONES

IN THE opening of today's lesson we are shown how Paul was able to sustain himself physically throughout his long missionary journeys.

Scribes or rabbis were not supposed to accept payment for their teachings, so it was quite customary for many of them to carry on a regular trade or profession in addition to their teaching. Such was the case with Paul, who earned his living wherever he was by making tents. He had probably learned this because the chief product of his native province was a coarse goat's-hair cloth suitable for cloaks, tents, etc.

It was this trade which led Paul to his close association with Aquila and Priscilla, two of 99 companions of his mentioned in the New Testament.

Aquila was a Jew from Pontus, a country in Asia Minor, who had come to Rome either as a free citizen or as a political slave who was later freed by his master. In Rome he had won the love of a high-born Roman girl named Priscilla (or Prisca); this is indicated by the mention of her name before his several times in the Scriptures—an order so rare in that day as to imply well-born position.

The two apparently embraced Christianity while in Rome, for judging from historians' comments on Claudius' expulsion of the Jews, it was instigated by tumults in the Jewish quarter brought on by Christian teachings there. Furthermore, no mention is made of Paul's converting them when he meets them, yet they are later called his "fellow-workers in Christ Jesus."

It was natural that the couple should head for Corinth when they were expelled from Rome, for Corinth was the business metropolis of Greece, just as Athens was the cultural center.

Paul's shaving of his head (Acts 18:18) and subsequent departure from Ephesus (Acts 18:21) would indicate that he had taken a certain vow (Num. 6:13-21), according to which he should shave his head at Jerusalem or carry the shaven hair with him to Jerusalem.

Apollos, the eloquent Alexandrian who preached Christianity in Ephesus (Acts 18:24-25), bore an odd name for a Jew, as he was named for a pagan god and Jews abhorred idolatry. It is suggested ("Peloubet's Select Notes," p. 302) that his parents were Gentiles converted to Judaism after their son's birth.

Apparently Apollos was a zealous Christian preacher "though he knew only the baptism of John" (the Baptist). Thus he was obviously delighted to meet Aquila and Priscilla, a couple who had been so close to the great apostle Paul. They apparently were able to tell him much more about Christianity than he had known.

The lesson's final reference to this couple is somewhat enigmatic. Paul has written to the Christians he knew in Rome—28 of them—before he has ever been in Rome.

Two whom he greets specially are our couple, now returned to Rome after the "heat was off."

The mystery is when and how they had "laid down their own necks" for Paul's life (Romans 16:4). No mention is made of the incident anywhere else in the Scriptures.

Aquila and Priscilla, despite their different backgrounds, were a singularly devoted couple. They built a fine marriage on their mutual faith in Christianity, which they passed on to others with quiet teaching.

The Lutherans
Honor the Virgin Mary as the handmaiden of the Lord.
This was her own claim!
In that portion of Scripture called The Magnificat, she said, "For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden."
She was humble.
She was responsive to the will of God.
She was willing to let God use her.
She is an example to every Christian—female and male.
The Lutherans honor Mary as an unusual—but human—Christian.

Elbert R. Garretson, Evangelist

"Man is a worker. If he is not that, he is nothing." This declaration of Joseph Conrad is correct whether the matter be mental, moral or physical. The second chapter of Romans reveals that men have often despised the riches and goodness of God, not knowing that the goodness of God leads them to repentance — for God "will render to every man according to his deeds" — Rom. 2:6. Then verse 7 declares, "To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality—" they receive "eternal life." Verse 8 says, "But unto them that are contentious and obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness—" they receive "indignation and wrath, tribulation and anguish upon every soul of man that doeth evil, to the Jew first and also of the gentile, Verse 10 "but glory honour and peace to every man that worketh good—." The word "Contentious" is here applied to those who are disobedient. The disobedient will be judged like everyone else, "According to their deeds." Man and some of them who are filling pulpits constantly undervalue and disparage and ridicule "Obedience" and "deeds" and "works." What these people are doing, and of course without Bible approval or scriptural ratification is to "SEPARATE" a man's "deeds" from his "faith." In this they lack conviction and conception of the truth, namely that a man's "works" and "deeds" and "obedience" IS his faith. His "Faith" is what he does, works and obeys!!!! Without an understanding that this is true begets the unfounded doctrine that a "man is justified by faith only," calling it often a most wholesome doctrine and most full of comfort!! The Word of God in James 2:20 says that "faith without works is dead." What works? The works and obedience of faith. Dead faith is NOT real! "By the deeds of the law no flesh shall be justified" meaning then that faith does not involve the Old Testament but IT most certainly does involve the New Testament works and obedience that Christ has commanded. To teach people that they need not obey Christ is water baptism as the New Testament teaches in the (9) cases of Conversion recorded in the book of Acts is to fly into the face of Christ with "No" when he says "Yes." People need to learn James 2:26, "For as the body without the Spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also." Another thing that would assist many men, even in the pulpits is an understanding of the DIFFERENCE between the works of the LAW OF MOSES and having the Jewish flesh as recorded in Romans 4: and the works of the Gospel of Christ involving obedience to the commands of Christ as recorded in James 2: "Draw nigh to God, James 4:8 that requires both your faith and your works "Let not the sun go down on your wrath" Eph. 4:26 This requires both your faith and your works. "See then that you walk circumspectly, not as fools but as wise—" Eph. 5:15 this involves both your faith and your works. Thus it is through the whole New Testament.

Faceless Gang Leaders Tell Citizens Why They Went Bad

CHICAGO (AP)— "Little Man" stood in darkness behind a wooden screen. His audience couldn't see him, but they knew him by reputation as boss of a gang of young neighborhood toughs.

And they paid close attention to what he said.

"If we had a better police department," his high-pitched voice broke into the stillness, "I wouldn't be an ex-con today."

"Little Man," who is about 5 feet, 3 inches tall, was in a reformatory at 15, and later was in prison.

"And let me tell you something," the 20-year-old youth said, "we're not a gang. We're a group and we need your help."

About 200 persons—shop owners, residents, mothers and fathers—heard three South Side gang lords, known only as "Little Man," "Frank" and "George"—plead Thursday night for understanding and compassion.

A spokesman for the audience which gathered because they want to stop juvenile gang activity in their middle-class, reasonably tidy neighborhood, said the youths came willingly, on the stipulation they not be identified.

They spoke from a dark corridor, a wooden screen separating the audience, which was silent except for applause after each youth spoke.

Another gang leader, "Frank," 19, said the gangs have too much idle time.

"We go out at night and scrape up enough change to get a little drunk because there's nothing to do," the boyish voice said.

"Lack of firmness when we were young got us into trouble—and now it's too late."

George, 18, stepped to the screen.

"What's our problem?" asked the deep voice. "Simple. We want to be wanted, to be loved. When we don't get it at home, we get it from the gang."

Members of the three white gangs silently stood around the perimeter of the racially mixed crowd.

"Why, they look just like normal boys," one woman murmured.

One gang member talked freely with a reporter.

"I was in my senior year of high school and got arrested," he said. "Then nobody would have anything to do with me. Now the Air Force has accepted me and I'm happy."

When asked his name, the dark-haired youth replied stonily, "What's a name?"

Then he held up a thin arm and displayed a pair of tattoos. One said "Mother." Below it was his name, "Hunk."

Rescued

A woman, identified as Mrs. Jacqueline Jones, 19, clings to a makeshift rope and balances precariously on the ninth floor window sill of a Kansas City apartment house. A fireman climbs a ladder to rescue her. Police said Mrs. Jones locked herself into the bedroom after an argument with her husband and made the rope. They said her husband forced his way into the room and found her supported by the sill and rope a floor below.

Wilson Studies Chicken Prices

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Wilson and his staff began study Friday of the transcript taken at a special court of inquiry into below-cost chicken prices in Texas.

Thursday 10 witnesses appeared at the inquiry in Gonzales and testified that overproduction in other states has caused the problem of depressed prices in the Texas broiler industry.

Phil Friberg, manager of the Western Hatcheries in Gonzales, told the court that hatchery cutbacks would force producers out of business. He predicted that 50 per cent of Texas broiler producers would be out of business soon.

Ledbetter Faces Another Trial

BRADY, Tex. (AP) — Rollie White Ledbetter, who already has faced three trials for the murder of his wife, was indicted for murder again Thursday by the McCulloch County Grand Jury.

Ledbetter was accused in 1958 of mixing strychnine with liquor which he then gave to his wife, Gladys Ray Ledbetter, to drink. The incident occurred at the couple's ranch home near here.

In two trials, juries were unable to agree on a verdict, but at a third trial in Austin about four months ago, however, he was declared sane and was released from the institution.

Ledbetter pleaded innocent Thursday when arraigned and went free on a $10,000 bond. No date was set for a new trial.

Conservative Is In Line For Brazilian Power Post

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — A balding businessman with conservative political tendencies was in line today for the post of prime minister, the man who will wield the power in Brazil's government.

Tancredo Neves, 51, was approved for the post by his party, the Social Democrats, who control Congress with the right-of-center National Democratic Union in a bloc of 200 votes.

President Joao Goulart, wealthy rancher and key figure in the 14-day crisis that began with the resignation of President Janio Quadros, made the official choice with an eye cocked on the political makeup of Congress.

When Quadros quit, making the vice president heir to the presidency, the office was stripped of virtually all power by Congress, acting under pressure from military leaders who regard Goulart as a dangerous leftist.

Goulart took the oath of office Thursday, promising that "all public freedom will be assured."

Even though Goulart, the professed champion of Brazil's working man, cannot issue a decree unless it is signed by the prime minister and another member of the government, he quickly joined the political scramble for whatever power was at stake in the makeup of Neves' cabinet.

Neves has indicated he may order a switch in the foreign policy decreed by Quadros, who took a sharp turn from Brazil's traditional ties with the United States and coolness toward Communist countries.

"Our foreign policy will represent the pure tradition of Brazil," Neves said, apparently meaning he would go back to cooperating with Washington in international politics.

Grand Jury Claims No Law Failure

AMARILLO (AP)—The Randall County Grand Jury said Thursday that "there has been no failure of law enforcement in Randall County."

The grand jury also denied charges it said were made in a report several weeks ago by Rep. Tom James of Dallas that Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair was lax in prosecuting former Randall County Judge Roy Joe Stevens.

Stevens resigned his office and later was dismissed after an investigation by a House General Investigating Committee of which James was vice chairman.

Stevens was never indicted in Randall County and no criminal charges were filed against him.

The grand jury said Rep. James "did not bother to contact the office of the district attorney before he (James) made the report" several weeks ago.

GM, Auto Union Have Hopes Of Wrapping Up A Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Barring further wildcat strikes, General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers hope to wrap up over the weekend a labor contract the union estimates would give GM's 350,000 hourly employes an increase of more than 12 cents an hour each year in take-home pay. It will be a three-year contract.

The company and the union late Thursday—in a move to calm restive workers—disclosed details of their national agreement. Unauthorized walkouts Thursday had idled 12,800 men at six plants.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther sent troubleshooters by chartered planes to Fisher body stamping plants in Mansfield, Ohio; Marion, Ind.; and Pittsburgh, Pa., to get workers back on the job. Reuther blamed the strikes on confusion and misunderstanding. He said workers at Mansfield and Marion had ended their strikes.

The walkouts followed the announcement Wednesday of agreement on a national economic package contingent on settlement of non-economic problems at both the corporation and plant level. Some of the strikers complained of a lack of progress in negotiations on local issues.

Reuther said GM hourly workers are giving up three cents hourly this year to help pay for expanded benefits but he called it "a very fine arrangement" because he said they will get a net pay increase of 12.04 cents an hour.

General Motors will improve pensions from a maximum of $2.50 to $2.80 per month for each year of service and pay one-half the cost of hospital-medical benefits for pensioners and their wives. To help pay for this, the workers will give up a one-cent cost-of-living allowance due this month.

Workers also will give up for a year two cents of an annual improvement factor which raises wages an average of seven cents an hour. Reuther said the workers traded the two cents for 6.7 cents per hour to cover the full cost of improved hospital-medical coverage. The workers have been paying half the cost. Reuther said the workers also would gain on income tax adjustments with the company taking over the full cost of medical care premiums.

Jet Barge Trial Set

DENISON (AP) — Barney Holland of Fort Worth said today he expected to start jet barge service on the Red River within 60 days.

Holland's Heart of Texas Transportation Co. this week received Interstate Commerce Commission approval for barge service from New Orleans to Denison.

The ICC labeled the undertaking a "pioneer venture" and told Holland to go ahead and see what he can do with his idea.

Holland says he has his first load "pretty well firmed up." He said it will originate at New Orleans and will move up the Mississippi and Red Rivers.

"I'm going to start out as carefully as possible," he said. "I intend to let the barge service prove itself and let it grow with them."

Holland's home port will be Greenville, Miss., the nearest drydock to the Red River.

He said he will use a 450-horsepower jet plant capable of pushing 20 barges. He explained that each barge load would be the equivalent of five box car loads.

He said emphasis will be placed on "piggy back loads"—cargo loaded in trailer trucks.

"I'll have no sense of futility for my destination since, if the discharge of water in the Red River should at times force me to tie up, I can merely have trucks meet the barge along the route and speed the cargo to its destination," he said in detailing his plans.

Berserk Woman Sets Several Fires

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Helen Vernon screamed, "My children are buried in the gas sewer!" after setting fires Thursday in her own home and those of eight neighbors.

Police subdued Mrs. Vernon, 44, wife of an insurance agent, and put her under guard in St. Joseph Hospital. Her children actually were in school at the time.

Two other women were hospitalized along with Mrs. Vernon. Mrs. Wilbur Warner suffered burns on the neck and face after Mrs. Vernon poured gasoline on her. Mrs. Roger O. Valdiserri became hysterical after Mrs. Vernon started a fire at her home.

20,000 Men To Be Drafted

5 Die In Crash

MANILA (AP)—A bus plunged 170 feet down a mountain pass near the mountain resort of Baguio in the central Philippines Thursday, killing 5 persons and injuring 25 others. The driver told police the road, weakened by landslides, gave way and the bus made four somersaults before landing.

Explorers Plan Fund Projects

Members of Explorer Post 1, at the Tuesday meeting, discussed means of earning money for a proposed European trip next summer if world conditions permit.

Several ways of earning the money were discussed, with collection of Coke and pop bottles being the main item. The boys will meet at the club room Saturday morning at 8:30 and will begin the collection about 9 a.m. from Ellis Homes west.

All boys will have identification as members of Explorer Post 1. Plans are to work the city in areas until completed.

Another means of earning money will be by picking peas to be sold unshelled at $2 per bushel.

Boys will be assisted in the bottle collection by W. S. Goodlett.

Other means of earning money will be by washing cars and securing concessions at various events during the school year.

Cost of the trip will be around $350 for each boy for the six weeks, and a prize will be presented to the boy earning the most money.

Song, Scripture In Schools Okayed

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger, state education commissioner has said that local school boards can allow children to sing Christmas carols and Hannukah songs or recite Old Testament psalms in classrooms.

He dismissed a complaint Thursday by John J. Gould of Freehold which objected to these practices in the Freehold public schools.

Gould's two young daughters attend the Freehold schools. In his complaint Gould said he does not believe in a personal god and finds it offensive to have anyone forced into religious worship against his wishes.

Raubinger said in his decision that Old Testament psalms have been ruled nonsectarian by the State Legislature and are legal under New Jersey law.

He said the songs are part of America's national heritage and culture.

Hannukah songs celebrate the Jewish Festival of Lights.

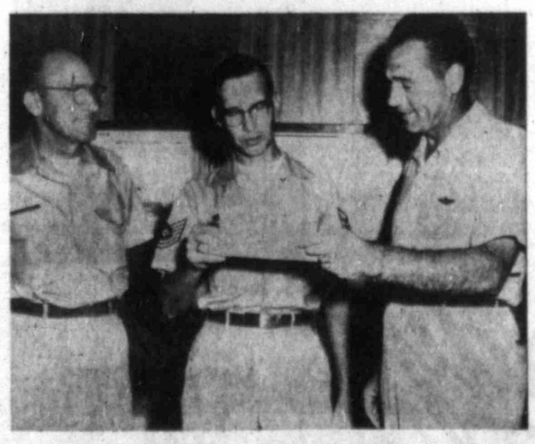

Webb Reports A New Acorn

The Air Force - wide campaign to reduce waste, which was responsible for the operation known as Money - Tree, received added emphasis recently with the use of the word "acorn" as a substitute for the word "suggestion."

The term "money-tree" was taken from the statement that "money doesn't grow on trees." Because acorns grow into oaks, little suggestions on how much can be saved are being referred to as acorns.

Each organization is expected to turn in as many acorns each week for consideration as possible. Every activity at Webb AFB will have a monitor who will be responsible for the submission of suggestions for that activity.

One such acorn was submitted recently by T. Sgt. Robert G. Burkhalter, and received command - wide approval. Sgt. Burkhalter is on the staff of the equipment review board, and was paid $25 for his suggestion that a plastic tape bearing the stock number of the item be used for identification of UAL (Unit Authorization List) equipment.

From Little Acorns

Col. A. F. Taute, chairman of the project "Money-Tree" (right) and WO Joe Brown of the Base Equipment Review Activity, review with T.Sgt. Robert G. Burkhalter the progress of his management-improvement suggestion. "It could be an Acorn," it was agreed.

J. C. Pickle Nominated For Kiwanis Presidency

J. C. Pickle, who has served as first vice president for the past year, has been nominated for president of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club. He will succeed Ernest Welch whose term as president is expiring.

Pickle headed the slate of candidates drawn up by the club nominating committee which was presented to the club on Thursday. Election will be on Sept. 21. Nomination is tantamount to election.

The nominating committee, composed of Jack Roden as chairman, H. W. Smith, Nat Shick, Wendal Parks and Dr. Roscoe Cowper, submitted the following nominees in addition to Pickle:

S. A. Walker, first vice president; Bruce Dunn, second vice president; Clyde Hollingsworth, secretary-treasurer; Walter Eubanks, Harvey Clay, Ward Jackson, and Bob Travis, directors for 2-year terms; Len Einstein and Robert Stripling, directors for one-year terms.

Announcement was also made on Thursday that Bill Johnson has been appointed to serve out the unexpired time of Jim Jay, who has been transferred from Big Spring, Jay's term would have extended through 1962.

Big Spring Kiwanians, it was announced, are pushing to have Jack Alexander, a member of the local club, elected as lieutenant governor for Dist. 22. The election will be at the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis Convention to be held in San Angelo early next month.

Delegates to this convention from the Big Spring club are Welch, Pickle and Walker. Alternates are Dunn, J. E. Smith and Alexander. The club is toying with a plan to charter a bus and take a large group of local members to the two-state meeting for one day.

Program on Thursday featured a short talk by Emmett McKenzie, Big Spring High School football coach.

McKenzie, speaking on the eve of the initial grid game of the current year, angled his remarks largely along a humorous line rather than following the standardized formula usually adopted by football coaches on such occasions.

He said he had confidence the team this year will make a good presentation and he urged all citizens to attend the games.

Wendal Parks, member of the Big Spring School board, introduced McKenzie.

Astronaut Note Help To Youth

KEARNEY, N.J. (AP)—A letter from America's first astronaut, Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., has brought encouragement and resolve to a 10-year-old boy who needs a second open-heart operation.

The boy, Louis Laurich, had begun to despair when he learned that a patch placed on his heart to correct a leak didn't hold properly. Doctors had scheduled a second operation for Oct. 10 at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

The letter, accompanied by an autographed picture of Shepard, was the result of an attempt by the boy's father to encourage his son to take the operation.

Shepard urged the boy to follow the doctors' advice, wished him every success, and offered to provide him with information he might want about space.

With letter in hand, Louis said Thursday: "I'm going to take that operation. That's one thing for sure."

Bank Of Zapata Creditors Meeting Goes Into Recess

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—A meeting of creditors of the defunct Bank of Zapata was in recess Friday until further notice.

The two-day hearing before a bankruptcy referee, James Easterling of Corpus Christi, ended Thursday following testimony about heavy losses in stocks and grain futures speculation by the bank's president, Manuel Medina.

Medina's brother, former Zapata County Judge Santos Medina, testified about heavy losses in stocks and grain futures speculation that the pair engaged in at San Antonio. Santos Medina said the operations resulted in heavy losses.

The bank had overdrafts totaling $424,350.98 and of this total $329,519.12 represented overdrafts of the Medina family and Medina companies. Proceedings filed in San Antonio by the bank showed liabilities of $811,771.78 and total assets of $919,043.94.

Bank receiver George Byfield testified that $28,000 in checks that were in transit at the time the bank closed have been returned to the forwarding banks.

The creditors elected a trustee, Frank Maher, a Laredo lawyer, who said the next step will be for the federal court to decide on such upcoming problems as the checks in transit.

Caldwell contended that the $28,000 in checks should be debited to the accounts of the depositors of the bank.

Maher said it was decided to return the checks to make an issue for the courts to decide.

"We had to get this thing down into issues so that people could present claims," Maher said.

Caldwell said, "That's a cruel blow."

Santos Medina was asked by Byfield, whether he knew his brother was using some of the bank's money for political activities.

He answered, "No sir, I did not."

Manuel Medina had testified that he used some of the bank's money in 15 or 20 election contests.

Longhorns Launch Season With Plainview Tonight

As ready as they'll ever be, the Big Spring Steers plunge into their 1961 football season in an 8 o'clock appearance here this evening. Guests of the Steers will be the Plainview Bulldogs of District 3-AAAA.

The teams have common problems. They were down-trodden by conference opponents last year. They are green. They lack depth on the bench. And they're not very big.

However, both clubs have exhibited fine spirit and a positive attitude in early drills. They should prove interesting to watch, especially against each other.

Coach Emmett McKenzie has had nothing but praise in speaking about his team this year. They've done everything he's asked them to do thus far, with a spirit and enthusiasm reminiscent of some of the Steer clubs of yore.

To date, the Longhorns haven't been able to mount much of a ground attack but their passing and their defense has been very good.

If they win tonight, and they're hairline favorites, much of the credit, no doubt, will go to their stubborn defense, which has yielded yardage grudgingly in scrimmages today.

The Longhorns won't be at full strength when they take the field this evening. James Gilbert, one of their better running backs, probably is out. He hurt a knee in a scrimmage against Levelland and Amarillo last week and hasn't been able to go at top speed since that time.

Jerry Tucker, a cool gambler, will be at the controls for the Steers this evening. His favorite passing targets have been Willie Mendoza and Eddie Everett.

The Steers expect to get a lot of mileage from fullback Jack Irons, a tried and true hand, and such newcomers to the squad as Rickey Wisener, Tommy Young and Dickie Spier.

Negro boys will be performing on the local squad for the first time in history, the high school having been integrated for the first time this year.

Negroes on the squad include Walter Minter, a halfback; Sam Hartfield, a halfback; and Rodgers Henry, a tackle. Several others are on the B team.

Timmy Benefield runs the show for Plainview from the quarterback spot and he's supposed to be a comer. Among the leading running threats for the 3-AAAA team are Joe Scott, Dale Crooks, Larry Haydon, Kenny Gordon, Trent Jordan and Jimmy Harding.

Herman Smith, the Plainview coach, had only four letter winners back from last season—two of which were linemen and the others backs.

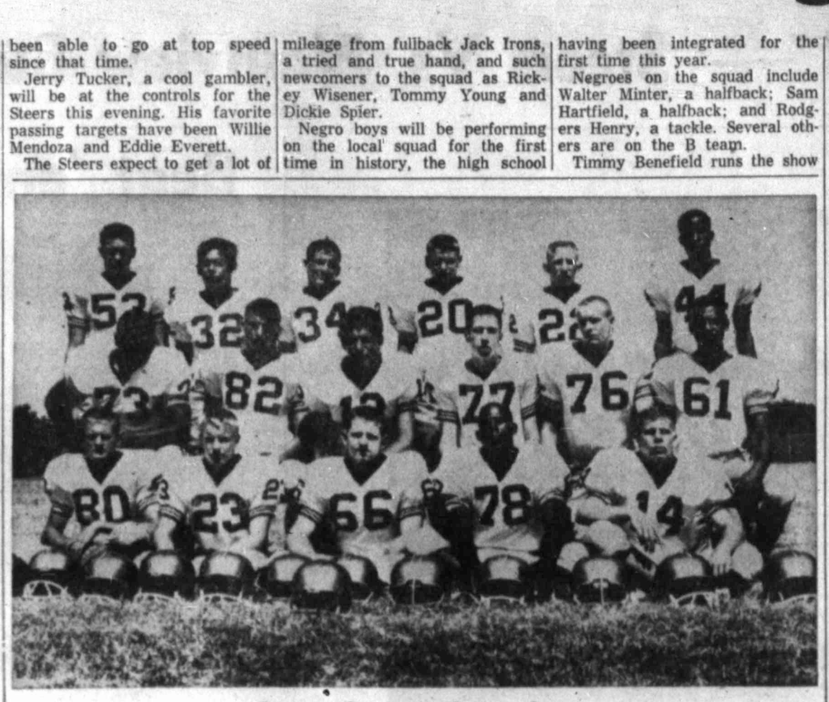

He was faced with a huge rebuilding job but reportedly made fine progress in the spring.

The Steers finished the 1960 season with a 3-7 record, having beaten Pecos, Snyder and Pampa.

Plainview finished with a 1-9 record, having measured only Pampa and that foe by one touchdown.

Little Doubt Rog Can Set Homer Mark

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Never were Roger Maris' chances of breaking Babe Ruth's home run record brighter than today.

The Yankee slugger smashed another four - bagger Thursday night in New York's 7-3 triumph over Cleveland to increase his season output to 55, only five shy of the mark Ruth set with the Yankees of 1927. He is seven games ahead of the Babe's record pace.

It seems no longer a question as to whether the left-handed half of the Mantle-Maris socking duo will break the homer record, but how soon?

Maris remains firm in his refusal to discuss the possibilities, but even Mantle and manager Ralph Houk acknowledged Rog's chances were "excellent."

Houk, in fact, hinted broadly that Maris might even do it before the Indians leave town Sunday night. Before the game, that became the Yankees' eighth triumph in a row, Houk said: "I would have to say Rog's chances are excellent. He may not hit any homers tonight because they're using a left-hander (Dick Stigman), but he should be able to hit a few off the right-handers Dykes (Cleveland Manager Jimmy Dykes) will throw at us in the remaining four games.

"Undoubtedly, we'll see Bell, Perry, Grant and Latman. Maris and Mantle, too, hit the stuffings out of those guys."

Houk was wrong about Stigman (Maris socked him for a home run and two singles in three times at bat) but the records bear the manager out regarding the others. Maris has slugged Perry for three home runs and Bell for two. He's faced Grant twice and Latman only once this year, not hitting any off either.

Mantle's best Thursday was a two-bagger in four times at bat but in the first inning Willie Kirkland caught his drive with his back against the right-field barrier. He has 51 homers.

"I thought it was in," said Mantle afterward, "but the wind held it up. Under normal conditions, it would have been a home run but the wind was blowing in. I know I hit this one harder than some others that did go in."

Maris got his homer in the third inning. He hit Stigman's second pitch, a curve ball after the southpaw had brushed him back with a high inside fast ball. In the first inning, after Tony Kubek tripled, Maris surprised every one in the park by bunting. The Indians were so astonished that Rog was able to beat it out. Kubek scoring easily.

"I guess this ought to prove to everyone that Maris, as well as Mantle, are out there primarily to win ball games, not to break home run records," said Houk.

The manager scotched reports that he intended, after the pennant clinching, to move his twin sluggers up in the batting order to enable them to get more chances to hit.

Houk did say he probably would give either or both instructions to swing for the fences once the Yankees had the championship clinched.

Yearling Teams Defeat Sweetwater In A Pair

Runnels Junior High kicked the lid off its 1961 football season with two victories here Thursday evening.

Sweetwater Junior Highl fielding teams which came to play, was the victim in both instances.

The Yearling ninth graders won, 14-0, after the local eighth graders had prevailed, 16-0.

In the ninth grade engagement, Felix Hilario put the locals out in front early on an 80-yard punt return. A wave of blockers cleared the way for him.

Runnels didn't score again until the fourth period, when fullback Roy Billings finally went over from the four-yard line.

Rey Navarrete earlier had shaken loose after taking a pass from Jerry Power and booming 70 yards but the play was called back.

A short time later, Billings bolted for 40 yards on a trap play, moving down to Sweetwater's 20. Navarrete caught a pass from Power while diving and wound up on the five. A penalty moved the Yearlings back to the ten but Billings finally went over from the ten.

Power added the two extra points on a quarterback sneak.

Sweetwater threatened twice during the game but the Big Spring defense rose up to hold. On one occasion, the locals gained possession on a fumble.

On offense, Hilario, Navarrete, Billings and Power glistened. Center Bill Wood and guard Howard Bain stood out in the line but all the boys played well.

The Yearlings were held scoreless until the third period in the eighth grade contest.

In the third, Joe Jaure bounced outside after starting off tackle and ran 25 yards to pay dirt. He added the extra point on a run.

In the fourth, Bobby Griffin hit the line on a dive play but whipped outside and shook himself loose for 60 yards and an insurance score. Jaure again added the extra points on a run.

Sweetwater threatened twice in that particular game but was stopped. On one occasion, Ronnie Smith intercepted a Colt aerial.

On offense, Jaure, Sammy Mims and Griffin were among the Big Spring standouts. On defense, Freddie Stiehl, guard; Ruben Martinez, guard; and two ends, Mel Daves and Bobby Baker, distinguished themselves.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

They've got them coming on in Odessa.

The ex-Big Spring football great, Jerry Graves, who was here over the Labor Day weekend, says the Crockett Junior High School team he is helping develop in Odessa is one of the biggest junior high teams he's ever seen. It averages out to about 180 pounds per boy, he says.

Graves compared it to the great junior high team here in the early '50's, which went on to become a finalist in the state playoffs after it reached high school.

The former Rice center says he probably won't get to see the Owls but once this fall. He hopes to be in the stands when the Houston team visits Lubbock. He looks for Jess Neely to field a great team but says the Flock may have problems at center.

* * * *

Dean Cole, who rated the championship flight in the Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament here last weekend, sells golf carts for a livelihood.

In his qualifying round last Friday, the El Paso man came in with an eagle two on the 441-yard 15th hole for one of the more impressive feats in the tournament.

* * * *

Marcelino Moreno, the little linkster from Monterrey, Mexico, had planned to play in the Invitational but instead went to Midland, his former home, for a conference with his banker.

* * * *

Glen Selbo and Edwin Nixon, two Midland coaches, were among the entries in the golf tournament. Selbo formerly coached baseball and basketball at Midland. Nixon is still the track mentor at Midland High.

* * * *

Ted Battles, the Midland scribe, says the two Midland teams have been rated too low in the pre-season football predictions.

Midland High was relegated to sixth place in most of the polls. Midland Lee was fingered as the team likeliest to finish eighth in the eight-man race.

Lee has the makings of an excellent line, according to Battles. Midland High appeared to have inherited most of the backs returning from last year's team, when the two schools were consolidated.

Both schools will benefit from an excellent B team Midland fielded in 1960, however.

Midland High opens against Lamesa Friday night and local fans who saw the Tornadoes in their scrimmage here will be watching to see how the Bulldogs fare against Al Langford's Lamesa club. The Midland Rebels wait until Sept. 15 to launch play, at which time they go against El Paso High.

* * * *

Some of the papers around the state are putting too much emphasis on scoring in pre-season football scrimmages. So reasons Emmett McKenzie, the local high school coach.

Scrimmages are held primarily so that teams can experiment and spot weaknesses, McKenzie said. In no way should they be regarded as regular games.

However, some coaches go so far as to insist that the scrimmages be played under regular game conditions, even to kicking off and trying for extra points.

Invariably, the papers report them as such and McKenzie reasons that the Texas Interscholastic League will take a dim view of such things, could even ban all scrimmages.

Redlegs Trying Too Hard, Says Freddy Hutchinson

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds are too eager for their own good to win the National League pennant, according to a man who ought to know—Manager Fred Hutchinson.

The Reds have been playing only .500 ball since regaining first place from the Los Angeles Dodgers on August 16. The Dodgers have been right at their heels ever since. The two teams are separated now by only one game.

Hutchinson says the trouble is "too many players are trying too hard."

"I suppose it's only natural, especially at this period of the pennant race," said the usually dour Hutchinson whose team is due to start a three-game series tonight against the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards and Reds each won one game of a two-night stand at Busch Stadium earlier this week.

Dave Hill Low In Tourney

DENVER (AP) — Dave Hill, an up-and-down youngster on the circuit, came home to Denver Thursday and shot an 8-under par 32-31—63 that was good for a two-stroke lead in the first round of the $30,000 Denver Open Golf Tournament.

The 24-year-old transplanted Jackson, Mich., swinger carded six birdies and an eagle over the 6,843-yard Meadow Hills course.

Trailing Hill was Bob Rosburg of Portland, Ore., with a 34-31—65. Four players were bunched behind him with 66s, and seven others had 67s.

Stanford Sets Up Recruiting Plan

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—First returns from Stanford's nationwide football recruiting program for brawn with brains show up this fall.

Nine sophomores are from out of state with one, Frank Dubofsky, a 218-pound guard from Washington, D.C., listed as a starter. The widespread recruiting went into effect to find outstanding athletes who can meet Stanford's high scholastic requirements.

"This is the best group of sophomores since I've been here," says Coach Jack Curtice, starting his fourth season at Stanford.

The Indians, who lost all 10 of their games last year, have only 18 returning veterans.

Stanford opens the season Sept. 23 against Tulane here.

Moss Catch

Kathy Atchley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Atchley of Midland, holds up a 30½ inch yellow catfish caught last weekend at Moss Creek Lake. The fish weighed nearly 15 pounds.

Forsan Visits Patton Springs

FORSAN—The green but willing Forsan Buffaloes visit Afton tonight to play the Patton Springs Cowboys. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Patton Springs will field a bigger ball club than Forsan and in Ron Clay, 172 pounds, have one of the better eight - man backs around.

Larry Stroud of the Buffs suffered a lick on the head in last week's game with Wellman and may not see action tonight.

Buff fans following their team can go by way of Snyder, Clairmont, Spur and Dickens. Afton is about 20 miles from Dickens.

Probable starters:

PATTON SPRINGS—C—Jimmy Bennett 155; G — Dwight Cagle 154 and Jimmy Hext 158; E—Don Foard 162 and Gene Legg 151; QB — Larry Roberts 165; FB — Boyd Epting 185; HB—Ron Clay 172.

AFL To Open This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football League shoves off on its second season Saturday and Sunday with the repeat of an exhibition game headlining the opening schedule.

Dallas will be out for revenge the first crack out of the box because the Texans clash with San Diego in a televised game in the Dallas Cotton Bowl Sunday afternoon. It was San Diego that dimmed the Texans' bright hopes last Sunday with a 31-10 strapping.

Prospects aren't good for Dallas to do any better in the league game since it still is crippled up. So desperate is the situation that Max Boydston, who retired this year but has been doing some temporary coaching, has been put on the eligible list for this one game. He is an end.

Abner Haynes, the heart of the Texans' offense, is problematical—he's still trying to shake off a shoulder dislocation.

San Diego, led by ace passer Jack Kemp and talented runner Paul Lowe, has a minimum of injuries, none to key men.

Houston, the defending champion, gets the league race started Saturday night in a clash with Oakland. New York and Boston tangle at Boston.

Houston beat Oakland 35-17 in the exhibition race but the latter showed definite signs of trouble for the Oilers with a 49-12 victory over Denver last Monday. Houston beat Denver 42-10. The Oilers are somewhat crippled for the game with rookie Bob McLeod having to be used at right end, what with the first two men at that position—John White and Willard Dewveall—out with injuries.

Boston beat New York 14-3 the first time the teams met but the next time New York came through 17-7, so it is difficult to figure out the favorite in this one.

Denver plays Buffalo at Buffalo Sunday afternoon in the other league opener. Each club has a 1-4 record and they haven't met each other.

40,000 May View Contest Tonight

By The Associated Press

A crowd of 40,000 will watch Coaches Buddy Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers and George Halas of the Chicago Bears match wits tonight in Chicago's Soldier Field in an effort to give their respective teams a winning National Football League exhibition season.

The Steelers-Bears clash is the 16th annual Armed Forces Benefit game and will be the closing exhibition contest for both clubs.

Pittsburgh and Chicago enter tonight's tilt with 2-2 NFL records and the memory of a 21-21 deadlock in the same Armed Forces scrap last year.

No other games are on the schedule tonight, but all the remaining 14 clubs wind up their exhibition campaigns either Saturday night or Sunday. The regular season begins Sept. 17.

In Saturday games, Washington plays Green Bay at Columbus, Ga.; Philadelphia meets St. Louis at Hershey, Pa.; San Francisco plays Dallas at Sacramento, Calif.; and Detroit is at Cleveland.

Sunday, Los Angeles plays the Minnesota Vikings at St. Paul-Minneapolis; and New York meets Baltimore at the Yale Bowl in New Haven.

Army Of Hunters

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Ten thousand hunters were expected Friday for the opening of Whitewing Dove season in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

'Dogs Oppose Ozona At 8

COAHOMA—Winner over Hermleigh in their opener last weekend, the Coahoma Bulldogs host the Ozona Lions in an exhibition football game at 8 o'clock tonight.

Ozona fell before McCamey, 23-6, in its opening contest last week.

Hopes are high in Coahoma that this will be one of the most successful seasons since coach Jimmy Spann arrived on the scene. The Bulldogs showed fine pursuit against Hermleigh, which has always been tough for the Bulldogs to handle.

Ozona didn't score until the final period against McCamey, at which time quarterback Phillip Carnes went over from the one at the end of a 75-yard march.

Ozona made 161 yards rushing but only 19 passing against the powerful Badgers.

Mavericks Suffer Two Grid Losses

Both Big Spring Goliad teams in action Thursday experienced defeats.

The Maverick ninth graders yielded to Snyder Lamar here, 14-0, while the eighth graders visited Snyder and lost a heart breaker to Lamar, 8-6.

In the game here, Lamar went into the end zones in the first period and again in the fourth.

A fumble around the Snyder 20 early in the fourth robbed the Mavericks of the chance of a possible tying touchdown. After that, the locals sagged and the visitors quickly drove to the clinching TD, aided by two 15-yard penalties.

Rickie Earle, Benny Kirkland and Skipper Sabbato were among the standouts for Big Spring.

Following the game, head coach R. E. Dodson of the Mavericks said:

"The boys tried real hard, but we need a lot more work."

In the eighth grade contest at Snyder, the Mavs scored in the first period when left halfback raced 65 yards off tackle across the double stripes.

The Big Springers fumbled the extra point try, however.

Snyder score 90 seconds before the half was out, then ran across the vital extra points on a pitchout.

Snyder never got inside Big Spring's 30 in the last half. Big Spring was inside Snyder's 20 on three occasions but penalties and fumbles damaged its cause.

Kirby and fullback Terry Smith stood out on offense for the Mavericks while halfback Gary Gressett and Cecil Hudgins, end Woody Martensen and guards Ronnie Caldwell and Gary Phillips starred on defense.

Maris Moves Nearer To Bambino Record

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris, an old hand at busting down barriers (he once crashed through a wooden fence chasing a fly ball), now is within five home runs of powering through to tie Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record of 60.

Maris hit No. 55, his second in two games, as the New York Yankees cracked the Cleveland Indians 7-3 Thursday night. Only three other challengers to Ruth's supreme 60 in 1927 ever have been this close—Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg and Hack Wilson.

Foxx got to 58 with the old Philadelphia A's in 1932. Greenberg also finished with 58, for Detroit in 1938. Wilson stopped at 56 with the Chicago Cubs when he set the National League record in 1930.

Maris, who startled Cleveland defenses with a drag bunt that brought in a run his first at-bat Thursday night, still is seven games ahead of the Babe's record pace. He has 14 games in which to break Ruth's mark within the limit of 154 team decisions set by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Teammate Mickey Mantle, his total still at 51, fell two games behind Ruth's pace when he failed to connect for the second straight game. But the Mick doubled home the tie-breaking run that gave the Yanks their eighth straight victory and a run-away, nine-game lead over Detroit.

The second place Tigers lost their seventh in a row, 8-4 at Boston, in an afternoon game. Third place Baltimore edged within 3½ games of Detroit by whipping Washington 6-3 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-5 in the lone NL game.

Maris, whose solo homer came in the third inning on a 1-0 pitch by losing left-hander Dick Stigman, shrugged off his earlier sacrifice of a swing for the bunt. "I was up there to get the run in," he said. "That was my job."

Job Ahead Is Tough: Paul

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul Richards believes the job of developing new teams in an expanded National League will be tougher than in the American League.

The new general manager of the National League Houston Colts said today the 1961 expansion by the American gave new clubs in Washington and Los Angeles a head start on acquiring young players.

"That means we plan to force feed our young players," he said. "The minute they show signs of making the major leagues they will be given a chance. The answer to Houston's problems is in young players."

Houston and the New York Mets move into the National League next year.

Richards ended two months of speculation Thursday by signing a three-year Colt contract at a reported $60,000 a year. He had resigned last Friday as field manager of the American League Baltimore Orioles.

His old Baltimore contract prevents him from ever being field manager of any other club but he said he definitely will have on a Colt uniform during spring training.

"I plan to do considerable work, especially with young players," he said.

Richards said this year's abrupt expansion by the American created problems but actually worked to the advantage of Washington and Los Angeles.

"Many of the American League clubs already had cut their rosters to 36 players," he said. "This strengthened the quality of players available through the league pool to the new clubs. Each existing National League club will be controlling 40 players when Houston and New York made their selections the day after the World Series ends next month."

Isa Mae Cox Is Named Prexy

The Commuters league will open its 1961-62 season at 9 p.m. Monday at the Bowl-A-Rama.

Several of the teams are still in need of keglers. Anyone who would like to bowl can report Monday, league officials have stated.

Isa Mae Cox, Stanton, is president of the circuit. Other officers named included: Lee Chapman, Coahoma, vice president; Marie Turner, Coahoma, secretary; Patsy Hays, Coahoma, treasurer; Nell Roberts, Coahoma, sergeant at arms; and Devanna Robertson, Big Spring, reporter.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of any County of the State of Texas—GREETING:
WHEREAS, on the 4th day of August 1961, in cause No. 12860 Hattie Pitman, ET AL recovered in the District Court of Howard County, a judgment against Gloria Nell Volkert and husband, Richard Volkert; Shirley Gene Phillips and husband, Coton Phillips; Jackie Ernest Awtry; Sarah Louis Awtry; and Pamela Ernestine Awtry; for the sum of Two-thousand, Three-hundred Thirteen and eleven cents ($2313.11) Interest, Costs and Attorney's fees of $231.31 with interest thereon from the 7th day of September 1960, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum and costs of suit; and, whereas, the said judgment is a foreclosure of a Vendors lien on the following described property, to-wit:

But if said property should not sell for enough to pay off said sums of money, the balance due shall be made as under execution, and such order of sale shall have the force and effect of a writ of possession, and the officer executing same shall make a good and sufficient deed, and place the purchaser of said property in possession thereof within 30 days from date of sale.

Therefore, you are hereby commanded that you proceed to seize and sell the above described property, as under execution, and make a good and sufficient deed and to place the purchaser of the same in possession thereof within 30 days after the day of sale, and you apply the proceeds thereof to the payment and satisfaction of said sum of $2544.42 including Attorney's fees plus interest that may be due thereon, and the further sum of $59.00 (Fifty-nine dollars), costs of suit, together with your legal fees and commissions for executing this writ. And if the said property shall sell for more than sufficient to pay off and satisfy said sums of money, then you are hereby directed to pay over the excess thereof to the defendant

But if you fail to find said property, or if the proceeds of such sale be insufficient to satisfy said judgment, then you are directed to make the money, or any balance thereof remaining unpaid, out of any other property of the defendant, as in case of ordinary executions.

Herein Fail Not, but due return make hereof within 60 days, showing how you have executed the same.
