Cooper, Fred Primer and other Pinkerton detectives, charged with murder and conspiracy. The informations were made before Chief Justice Paxton, Friday, Sept. 30, by County Detective Betthoover against 34 others, charging them with treason. Warrants were issued the same day and so far about fifteen of the thirty-three have been found. Yesterday Chief Justice Paxton delivered his charge to the grand jury and about twenty witnesses were examined. The charges of murder and conspiracy against the Carnegie officials were preferred by Hugh Ross, one of the Homestead strikers, who himself is charged with the same crimes.

The newspapers of the old twin parties all over the country are continually telling their readers that the People's Party amounts to nothing, but at the same time not only nine-tenths of their columns are filled with abuse and lies on it—but many of them are issuing extras to contain their lies. Everybody knows they are lying, and their miserable course is doing great good for the cause of justice. —Jefferson Jimplecute.

Rev. J. T. Harris, of Dublin, spoke at Waco last Friday night in the interest of the candidacy of Geo. Clark for governor.

The Leslie Davis Company in Dublin.

The Leslie Davis Company played "Faust and Marguerite" at the opera hall last night to a small audience. The company failed in a very large degree to meet the expectation of the people, in fact this company is one of the weakest that has visited this section in some time. Dublin theatre goers will give it a wide berth should the company again visit this city.

Notice to Candidates.

It has been agreed to have all the tickets for the coming election printed at one office, this will secure uniformity in the arrangement and all parties who pay for having their names placed on the tickets will be assured of getting them on all tickets printed. This arrangement will be much more satisfactory than having seperate tickets printed at each office. To secure this it will be necessary for each candidate for county and district offices to pay the sum of $2.50, and each candidate for precinct offices the sum of $1.50 this sum must be paid not later than Thursday, the 27th, inst., as the printing will be commenced on that day, and only the names of those who have paid will appear. This of course does not apply to tickets printed on special order. Amounts must be paid to either of the undersigned.

The PROGRESS acknowledges the receipt of a season ticket to the Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition to be held at Dallas October 17th to 30th, next, inclusive. The management have neither spared time nor effort to make the fair a grand success and Texas should see that the fondest hopes of the enterprising prospectors are realized.

A MISQUOTATION.

In a recent debate in this city between the Hons. W. O. Hamilton, of Comanche, for the democrats and D. M. Rumph for the People's party, Mr. Hamilton undertook to prove by the Congressional Record that the democrats were not in any way responsible for the rechartering of the national banks, but on the other hand had went to record as opposed to the measure. He quoted the vote as 125 nays to 9 yeas, which is incortect. The vote quoted was on the Refunding act in place of the Rechartering act, nevertheless it had the effect on the hearers one would expect. Whether it was a concocted scheme or simply an oversight the PROGRESS does not attempt to say, but doubtless the later. Any way Mr. Hamilton must be more careful about quotations hereafter.

IS IT, OR ISN'T IT?

This Congress makes no attempt to repeal the McKinley tariff which they so much denounce. Isn't it strange?

This Congress has spent half a million dollars more than the billion dollar Congress up to this time. Isn't it strange?

This Congress refuses to put refined sugar on the free list and thus destroy the sugar trust which is levying its illegal tribute on every home in the land. Isn't it strange?

The House has instructed the committee on ways and means to report a bill to tax incomes, and the democratic leaders refuse to obey the House. Isn't it strange?

This Congress has been in session seven months and has passed no general laws except those to spend the people's money. Isn't it strange?—St. Louis Monitor.

THE TARIFF ISSUE.

One of the campaign lies that gives promise of being worn out with hard and constant service before November, is the assertion that the People's party "evades the tariff issue" in its platform. The People's party platform reads:

We demand a graduated income tax.

We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people and hence we demand that all state and national revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government, economically and honestly administered. The People's party believes in getting back from millionaires and billionaires by an income tax some of the money people earned and the millionaires and billionaires appropriated, and this tax will of course be revenue for the government.

The People's party believes in the government having no more revenue than it needs to economically administer its affairs, and would give it no source of revenue, tariff or other, beyond such needs.

The position of the People's party on this question is as plain as good English can make it, nor is that position misunderstood by our friends, the enemy. The trouble with them is that our position is not only plain but impregnable. The tariff is one of the pretended "issues" on which they hoped to divide us, while they conquered us once more, and their hope has gone glimmering. Hence these snarls over the "evasion" of the "issue."

DUBLIN vs. TEXAS.

For many years Dublin has held the crown as the king cotton market of Texas and the Southwest; for many years she has deserved and earned it and "by gatlins" she intends to continue in the favor of the people and the savior of their pocket books, nevertheless there are some who will, as a necessity for their own livelihood, cry out against Dublin and persistenty assert that "their town" is THE market. Even our own friends in Stephenville do this, yet Dublin pays from one-half to one cent more per pound for cotton than Stephenville does—that's as natural as pig tracks. Only last Saturday it was that cotton sold at from 7 to 7.27½ at Stephenville while at Dublin it was going right along at from 7.25 to 7.90 and some as high as 8. This is a common occurrence, yet our Stephenville friends are compelled to blow a little in order to keep up appearances and prevent a funeral.

In cotton seed alone Dublin lays it over Stephenville from one-half to 1½ cents per bushel; while it sells at Stephenville at 12½ cents, Dublin pays 13 and 13½ cents; and before Dublin put in her magnificent oil mill enterprise the merchants of Stephenville actually had the audacity to offer and pay our farmers only 6 cents for seed. They only got a small amount, however, as they are now doing in the cotton business, because the people of Erath are intelligent and can tell a fact from a hand saw.

Cleveland Insults "the Daughter of the South."

In 1886 Grover Cleveland refused to attend a reception given by Governor Lee, of Virginia, because Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of President Jefferson Davis, was a guest of Governor Lee and was to have taken part in the governor's reception given the President and Mrs. Cleveland. Twenty years after the war a president—a democratic president of the United States, refuses to meet the daughter of the man the whole South loved and revered. When Grover Cleveland insulted Miss Davis he insulted the South. The Truth does not mean to "wavethe bloody shirt" any, but it does propose to throw back that insult of Grover Cleveland's and to teach him exhangman, as he is, that he cannot insult a daughter of the South with impunity. We can respect a northern soldier who fought in the field fairly, put we have nothing but contempt for a man who hired a substitute and now takes advantage of his position to insult a Southern woman. Southern soldiers give Grover Cleveland your ballots right in the neck. You cannot vote for the republican Harrison. You will not vote for the man who insults your favorite daughter—your only course then is to vote the People's party ticket—the only ticket on which two brave soldiers from opposing armies clasp hands emblematic of a united country.—Truth.

The general purpose ring of our fairs is arranged for a class of horses that are not fit to show in any of the special rings, but breeders should realize the fact that there is in reality no general purpose horse and they should turn their attention to the raising of special purpose horses. When you get to market you want a draft, a saddler, a coacher or a roadster, etc., for the same horse cannot be first-class for more than one purpose.

Do You Know It?

A common cough is the most dangerous thing in the world to neglect; a slight hacking cough is also very dangerous, as it always leads to bronchitis and consumption. Don't neglect them. In selecting a remedy for coughs, colds and bronchitis, be sure and get one that is not full of opium and one that will not produce constipation. Ballard's Horehound Syrup does not constipate, remember this. It is perfectly harmless for children, and it's the most soothing and healing throat and lung medicine in the world. It cures consumption, coughs, colds, sore throat, astnma, whooping cough, croup, bronchitis, hoarseness, sore lungs, tickling in the throat and greatly strengthens the lungs after pneumona. Sold by S. S. Davis. 4

Turf, Field and Farm: The breaking and early training of the youngster will have a very important bearing on the future usefulness as regards road driving. it does not require a trainer at $5000 a year to break his colts, but it does require some brains considerable patience, and a man of more than ordinary intelligence. One hasty blow may do more harm than weeks of rational treatment can restore.

If you have done wrong, then go and confess it. If your lesson is taught, master it. If the garden is to be weeded, weed it first, and play afterwards. Do the things you don't like to do first, and then with a clear conscience, try the rest.

If the money spent by wage-earners for liquor were kept for home building, enough would be saved in a few years to put a roof over the heads of every workingman's family between Maine and Calafornia. The saloon is the cause of more strikes than are capitalists. The saloon keeper is a worse tyrant over laborers in this land than any other man can ever be. All the combines that can be formed cannot rob the wage-earner as heartlessly and systematically as the rumseller does.—Western Christian Advocate.

WHAT THE PAPER SAYS.

The hearts of the people are more in the question, What shall we do with the saloon and now save our youth, the pride and strength of our country? than any other, if only untrammelled expression could be given. The thieves are crying, "Fire! fire!" to draw the people away, while they rifle their houses. When will the press disabuse the people in regard to the question of real interest to the whole people? How long, how long shall it be till drunkenness be swept from the land?—Christian Instructor.

WHERE THE FIRST STEP IS TAKEN

Rev. S. M. Southgate, in an earnest and sensible talk to boys, says:

Do you want to know where a boy usually begins to be fast? With a cigarette! It is the lads first step in bravado, resistance of sober morality, and a bold step in disobediance. Just now take the matter on the scientific side. Tobacco blights a boy's finest powers, wit, muscle, conscience. Nations are legislating against it. Germany, with all her smoke, says: "No smoke in the schools." It spoils their brains and makes them too small for soldiers. Knock at the door of the great military institutions of France. "No tobacco" is the response. Try West Point and Annapolis—"Drop that cigarette" is the word. Indeed, smoking boys are not likely to get so far as that.

Major Huston, of the marine corps, who is in charge of the Washington navy barracks, says that one-fifth of all the boys examined are rejected for heart disease, of which ninety-nine cases in one hundred come from cigarettes. His first question is: "Do you smoke?" "No, sir," is the invariable reply. But the record is stamped on the very body of the lad, and out he goes. Apply for a position in a bank. If you use tobacco, beer, cards, the bank has no use for you.

Business life demands fine brain, steady nerve, firm conscience. Watch the boys. See one sixteen years in age, twelve in size, twenty in sin, and he smokes; probably chews and drinks. Babes of seven and eight are at it. The vice increases. I could pile up statistics by the hour, testimony from the highest medical authority, of the misery preparing and already come. The use of cigarettes increases enormously, but only increases the use of stronger tobacco. In August, 1889, sixteen million more cigars were made in this country than the year before, and the firm that made this statement credits the increase to the cigarette, and the fault to careless parents.

PASTOR KOENIGS TRADE MARK NERVE TONIC

St. Vitus Dance Cured. VIII

SAN ANDREAS, Cal. Co., Cal., Feb. 1889.
My boy, 13 years old, was so affected by St. Vitus Dance that he could not go to school for 2 years. Two bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic restored his health, and he is now attending school again.
MICHAEL O'CONNEL.

A Very Bad Case.

EAST NEWMARKET, Md., March 8, 1891.
My daughter had epilepsy so severe that she would have 6 or 7 fits every 24 hours. Immediately after using Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic the spasms decreased in number, and in less than two weeks from taking the first dose they entirely ceased. Before using this medicine her mind was very weak, but now mind and memory are fully restored, and she is entirely cured of the fits by the use of this great remedy.

FOR CASH.

PEOPLE OF DUBLIN:—

Behold the tyrant is killed—he has lived on the fat of the land for a long time, he has prospered by the sweat of your brow—but it is all up with him now. He should have known better than to remain in reach of our big cannons, when he saw that the RED STORE was coming he should have gone into the grocery business like they all do all over Texas. The noise of our artillery is echoing over the distant hills, and the people from Hamilton, from Hico and from Eastland have heard its thundering noise. Mr. High Price has had sufficient warning. He was a very bad man, he wanted to get rich, but he didn't want the people to share the prosperity of the country, the fruit of their labor—and the RED STORE came and there you see him where he now is—he will never recover and the people will now get a chance to get rich themselves. Everything is sold at the RED STORE at the wholesale prices—we buy our goods in large quantities direct from the factory for cash, and these large quantities are distributed in our 12 different stores and there we retail them to the people at the wholesale price. Each and every article by the price of the dozen.

Two Loafer Wolves.

Mr. J. C. Corbell recently killed two loafer wolves on Buck Creek Branch; between Cow creek and Armstrong about 8 miles from Dublin. He says they are very numerous in that country and bother the citizens continually.

If any body tells you they can sell you goods cheaper that J. L. Douthit, DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT.

Center Gin Burned.

The cotton gin at Wilson P. O. in Hamilton county caught fire last Wednesday night and was entirely consumed; together with one bale of cotton and six bales badly injured. The fire originated in the bottom of the press while the cotton was being put in it, but how it happened no one knows. The supposition is that a match had been in some way dropped in the press and was mashed until it lighted.

A Vindication.

This is to certify that Mr. Tom Stafford of Dublin, who was arrested by J. V. Rea, deputy sheriff of Hamilton county, being implicated in the theft of a horse from Mr. J. M. Crawford of Hico, was a mistake and that Mr. Stafford is entirely clear of the charge. This much in justice. J. M. CRAWFORD,
(Plaintiff.)
J. R. REA,
(Deputy Sheriff.)

At Coffeyville, Kan., on the 5th inst. the Dalton gang of robbers were all killed but one. They attempted to rob the two banks there but were found out, and the Sheriff's posse and a number of citizens surrounded them. Four citizens were killed in the fight that followed.

Place your orders for saddles and harness with me. I defy competition—everything cheap for cash.

J. L. DOUTHIT.

Another Accident.

Last Tuesday night while engine No. 4, northbound, on the Rio Grande road was switching in the yards at this place the engine ran off the track and came near doing some serious damage. A flying switch was being made and the switchman did not get the switch thrown in time, causing the engine to fly the track and run about 40 feet. No one was hurt and by the assistance of engine No. 20, No. 4 was soon put on the track again.

Don't Read This,

But remember that J. L. Douthit's is the place to get value received for your money. "Good goods, honest dealing, low prices" is their motto.

Mr. Milt Blalock, of near Lingleville, called this week and paid for the PROGRESS to be sent for a year to his father, W. T. Blalock, of Sonoraville, Ga.

Candidate's Withdrawal.

Mr. W. C. Reid, who has announced as a candidate for Justice of Peace, Precinct No. 8, has withdrawn from the race. Mr. R. concluded that he was unable to make the canvass and that the office required too much time from other business that he would be compelled to attend to.

See the half-page advertisement of Higginbotham Co. in this issue.

Why Not?

Buy custom made goods of J. L. Douthit; he is well equipped for doing all kinds of work and has the finest line of collars, bridles, blankets, harness, saddles, etc. ever in Dublin.

MRS. ELIZA TAYLOR, McKINNEY, Writes as follows: "May 14, 90.—Gents: My daughter, now 12 years old, has had a terrible form of skin disease ever since she was an infant. This spring it was worse than it ever had been. She has just finished taking one bottle of Saxet, and is now well; there is not a sign of the disease left. Saxet is a wonderful medicine"

Misses Nora Bailey and Nora Miller, two of Dublin's most popular young ladies, were welcome visitors at the PROGRESS office Wednesday afternoon. Call again, ladies.

Lecture Bureau.

Thos. Gaines, candidate for the State Senate on the People's party ticket, will speak at Proctor next Saturday night, Oct. 15th.

W. O. Hamilton, democrat, of Comanche, will respond.

J. J. Eager speaks at Coleman, Texas, Saturday, Oct. 15th.

Hon. T. L. Nugent will speak at Cleburne on Oct. 15th, Stephenville the 24th at 1 p. m., and at Comanche at night on the same day.

Comments.

J. W. Jarrott, People's party candidate for county attorney, and Major L. E. Gillett, democrat, candidate for J. P. Precinct No. 2, spoke jointly at Grange Hall, near Kiker's gin last Saturday night. County Judge Hardin also made a short talk.

Hon. Geo. L. Clark, People's party candidate for the legislature, and Hon. I. N. Chandler, democratic candidate for the same office, were to have spoken at Bunyan last Saturday night. Mr. Chandler failed to show up and sent Prof. Gibson, of Stephenville, to take his place. Mr. Clark, however, justly refused to accept the arrangement Mr. Chandler had made to meet him by sending another.

A. H. Ketteler, of Nebraska, was in the city yesterday looking for a location for a German colony of about one hundred families. He wishes to purchase fifteen or twenty thousand acres of land in one body for the colony, but is not yet certain whereabouts in Texas he will make the deal. He left yesterday evening for San Angelo.

LATER.—Mr. Ketteler has entered a deal for a tract of land west of Dublin a few miles and will take up settlement here. He will return to-morrow from San Angelo to close the deal.

From Stephenville.

To the Progress.

Mr. J. H. McMillan and Miss Amanda Oxford, of this city, were married here at the residence of the bride's parents on last Sunday, the 9th inst. The PROGRESS reporter, with their many warm friends, wish them boundless happiness.

Work was begun Tuesday removing the old office building at the corner of Frank & Devine's preparatory to commencing work on a two-story stone building.

Last Thursday night a ball was given at Berry's opera house. A nice time was enjoyed by all who participated. The following young ladies and gentlemen from Dublin were in attendance: Ruben Parker and Misses Mollie Dean and Jewell Parker, Frank Leslie and Miss May Morrison, Ben Lafferty and Miss——— and Val Keith and Miss Levonia Wright.

Read the letter from Brig.-Gen. VanZandt, published below. It has reference to the grand K. of P. ball and supper to be given at Stephenville on the 24th of October, and explains itself. Every one, whether K. of P. or not, is invited. There will be room for all, and more too:

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 8, '92.

GEN. WEAVER VINDICATED.

He Speaks at Pulaski, Tenn., to 3000 People--A Good Hearing.

Gen. Weaver spoke at Pulaski, Tenn., last Saturday and bearded the Ananias lion in his den despite the assertions that he would not show up there and was afraid. There was an attendance of 3000 persons and the best of attention was given him—not the least disturbance interfering, in fact the people of that place gave him a grand reception, which shows conclusively that the lies that have been published over the United States by the democratic press is entirely without foundation.

Mr. Lanham made this admission in an effort to justify his support of Governor Hogg. The truth is there is scarcely a plank in the entire platform which is not a straddle, an evasion, an equivocation and a deliberate attempt to mislead.—Exchange.

A democrat who is expecting the votes of populists to elect him to the lucrative position of a county office, said publically on the streets the other day that he would rather have the brand of "horse thief" placed on him, than to wear a People's party badge with the name of Weaver on it. It is only a matter of taste and principle, you know.—Exchange.

Another Candidate for District Clerk.

Mr. A. A. Venable, of Rocky Point, near Stephenville, has, it is said, entered the race for district clerk against Mr. J. J. Bennett, the present incumbent.

About 4 o'clock Wednesday morning the gin of Wasson & Miller was discovered to be on fire and despite the prompt response and heroic efforts of the fire company and citizens, the building and all contents were totally destroyed.

The loss as near as can be ascertained is about as follows: Gins, $1600; press $500, gin building and other gin property $2500. Total $4,600. No insurance.

Six or seven bales of cotton and about 1000 bushels of cotton seed were destroyed. The gin looses three bales of seed cotton. J. W. Conner, one bale ginned and pressed; Robt. Newton, ½-bale seed cotton; J. R. Miles, ½-bale seed cotton, and the balance belonging to parties whose names cannot be obtained just now.

The mill standing near the gin was badly damaged, both by water and fire, and only for the fact that the mill is a substantial stone building and that the wind was favorable it would have been utterly impossible to save it.

At the time the gin was discovered to be on fire four customers were sleeping in the building, and were sweetly slumbering, blissfully ignorant of the terrible danger so near their bunks till aroused by the gin hands.

As usual on such occasions, every thing goes wrong. There was a good pump and well at the gin but it was impossible to get the pump to work at all. There were four barrels of water, but not a bucket to be found. At the time the fire was discovered it was in the south room and had originated in the feeder and could water have been promptly had at the time the flames could have been extinguished easily, but the flames spread very rapidly and it was only a very few minutes until the whole building was enveloped and the fire entirely beyond control.

It is now believed that the fire was the work of an incendary. Mr. Tucker saw two men jump from the gin about the time the alarm of fire was given, and Mr. Hamilton took special notice of two men who were riding at breakneck speed and who separated just after passing his place, and while noticing them he heard the alarm of fire.

The loss is a severe blow to the interest of the town and this general section. This gin had ginned 705 bales and estimated its most reasonable output at 1750 for the season.

A Letter From Kansas.

To the Progress.

SANTA FE, Kan., Oct. 3.—We have a problem to be solved by the tariff "king cure all" school. I ask the P. P. friends to give it to the democratic clubs to explain to the people: The elevator men have put out word that they were unable to handle the wheat crop as fast as it was being sent in. The railroad men decided to limit the number of wheat cars to go west of Kansas City. The bankers are charging about 40 per cent for money—there are thousands of debts and mortgages to be met. What kind of a twist would the democratic party be likely to give the tariff, if placed in power, that would as effectively protect the farmers against such combinations of robbers as the government ownership of a few roads through the wheat belt, and loaning money thereon at 2 per cent, or upon real estate at the same price.

Last year wheat that weighed 59 pounds graded No. 2—this year it must weigh 62 pounds. The fact that it is uncertain about selling and shipping drives all buyers out of the market, except those who are in the ring.

All of the above named movements have a tendence to crowd the price of wheat down. If a man ships his own wheat he fares worse than if he sells to home robbers. Would the tariff remedy this grievance at all? Would not the People's party plan remedy it in a few days after beginning operation? If 2 per cent to the government would ruin the farmer, how long can he pay 40 per cent to the banks? Give us that peculiar twist of the tariff, gentlemen.

E. E. DAVIS.

"THE POWER OF MONEY TO OPPRESS."

By J. S. Brady.—No. 4.

Riots, strikes and various uprisings on the part of the people speak in unmistakable tones that the people have had enough, and we would suggest that wise and just legislation is a surer protection against riot, discord and revolution than a standing army or Pinkerton murderers with Gatling guns, for no man will after reviewing the preponderance of testimony we have produced will doubt for a moment the correctness of Abraham Lincoln's prophetic sentence. But the whole system of robbery was began and carried to its fullest extent, when the people's money was burned in 1873 and the national debt was funded. Jefferson says that "funding is simply robbing the people on a grand scale." We have seen how that combined monopolies have seized that which should be the agency of free government, and prostitute it to the base purpose of retiring a judge whose only fault is that he would not be their tool, and elevating in his stead a man whom they think they can use. And when conditions are like this labor must go from monopolist to millionaire pleading, "please for the sake of charity give me leave to work.' It is a dark hour for the land, indeed, but such is the true state of things in this country now. Yes, indeed, there is a class of competition the capitalist believes in, he believes in competition among the laboring class, and stands ready to accept the offer of those who will work for the lowest amount possible that will sustain human life. So much might be added to the account of false political economy, which is utterly at variance with true progress, and has led to the enactment of laws that is discriminaitng in its effects, and favors one class at the expense of all others. The time has come when economic theories must take a stride forward and keep pace with the development of modern science and general intelligence, but in order to plunder the country, it is as Abraham Lincoln said thirty years ago: "monarchy is sometimes hinted at as a possible refuge from the powers of the people. I would scarcely be justified were I to omit exercising a warning voice against returning to despotism. It is the effort to place capital above labor in the structure of government. I bid the laboring people to beware of surrendering a power which they now possess, and when surrendered their liberty will be lost."

But the laboring man has hesitated most too long already, for do we not in the signs of the time behold, while the workers and producers are complaining of poverty and an inadequate return for their labors, the banks and corporations never made money faster. Put this and that together and what is the natural conclusion. To settle this question between labor and capital I would suggest the enactment of the following laws: To remove all legislation that effects the free and unlimited coinage of silver on an equal footing with gold, and issue a sufficient amount of paper currency to supplement the amount of circulating medium to meet the demands of the people in their commercial transactions. to withold legislation in behalf of foreign syndicates and corporations. To inaugerate a system of accumulative income tax, and the government ownership of railroads and telegraph and telephone lines, to deprive the persons who operate said industries of the privilege of voting during their term of service for the government as same as a government soldier. That no banker or person connected in any way with a bank or other corporaor any person employed in the railway, telegraph, telephone or postal service shall hold office in the United States government during his term of service or under twelve months thereafter. That no speculator shall invest in lands amounting to more than 1000 acres at one time in the United Statee, and that the property of foreigners living in foreign lands, owning such lands in the United States, shall be confiscated to the government of the United States; and I think then that everything will revolve again on its own equilibrim.

[THE END.]

MOTHER & DAUGHTER

SAXET MED. CO., Dallas:—My little adopted daughter had hereditary blood poison; she was covered with boils and sores. I gave her Saxet and it cured her in a short time. And I had rheumatism twenty years and had tried every remedy that I heard of, but Saxet has done me more good than all of them and I believe it has cured me entirely. I know of several other wonderful cures it has made. Respectfully,
MRS. M. A. SMITH, Round Rock, Tex.

Another Record Broken.

The world's pacing record went to smash at Chicago on August 18, Old Johnson who paced in 2:06¼ October 3, 1884, at Chicago, was dethroned and Hal Pointer reigns in his stead. The game son of Tom Hal went around Washington Park track to-day in 2:05¼, making the fastest mile ever gone in harness.

As in the case of Nancy Hanks who on August the 16th, beat the universe as trotter, to-day's record breaker was hitched to a sulky with low wheels, pneumatic tires and ball bearings, weight 62½ pounds. Weather and track perfect. Starr waited behind with Abe Lincoln. There was not a very large crowd at the track, but it was composed of men deeply interested in the event, and a thousand watches clicked as Walker gave the word. The quarter pole was just ahead of Pointer beside and behind him in passing of a breath and he swung into the back stretch going fast and true there was no doubt in the minds of the majority of anxious watchers that another laurel was liabel to be gathered for Washington park. Past the half pole in 1:02¾ went Pointer without the faintest suspicion of distress going steadily as though it was his every day exercise. Going around the turn Geers drew in his reins slightly and Starr urging up Abe Lincoln, who had been stirring up the dust two lengths away, Pointer drew up alongside. He saw, however, as head and head two horses turned in the home stretch that there was no need for his service and was bulled back. Pointer in fact needed no urging beyond that of his driver, and Geers was content with the rate at which the bay gelding covered the ground. Pointer in fact bent to his work as though he knew that to hold the record without dispute he must not only surpass Johnston's time but the 2:06 made over the kite-shaped track by Diaect, the little black stallion, the one horse on earth who ever snatched victory from him. Not a sound was heard in the grand stand as steadily the great pacer came down to the wire. It was no burst, no mad spiriting touch that marked the fastest mile ever traveled by any horse in harness upon any track. He came from the distance flag as he started from it, level-headed full of business and dosng his best to accomplish all his driver asked. He came past the Judge's stand strong and fresh and to all appearance able to do so well or better some future time. The crowd gave the wonderful achievement no such enthusiastic welcome as was accorded Nancy Hanks. A few yells went up here and there, a round of applause went through the grand stand as 2:05¼ was hung out by the timers, and that was all. There was no ovation given Ed Greers such as greeted Doble, and he climed quietly from the sulky, turned the pacer over to the stable boy and walked slowly away. The official time for the mile was: Quarter, :31¾; half, 1:02¾; three-quarters, 1:34; mile, 2:05¼. Hal Pointer is a bay gelding, 16 hands high, sired by Tom Hal out of Snow Haven, owned by Henry Hamley of Buffalo, N. Y.

PEOPLE'S PARTY SHOT AND SHELL.

By T. A. Bland.—No. 3.

Sub-Treasury vs. National Bank!

The chief issue before the country is the financial issue. That money is absolutely necessary to business is admitted by all; that there is not gold and silver coin enough to furnish a basis for a sufficient volume of currency is also admitted. The question up for discussion is, what shall be the basis of our paper currency that is not based on coin. The present basis is United States bonds. The currency is issued to bank corporations by the government on their deposit of its own evidence of indebtedness. The banks pay 1 per cent interest per annum for the use of this currency. Under this system the bankers have waxed wealthy, while the farmers have grown poorer.

The farmers now propose that the currency be issued at 2 per cent a year on deposits of nonperishable farm products.

The bankers get 90 per cent of the value of their deposit. The farmers ask only 80. It would be difficult to find an objection to the sub-treasury plan that would not lie against the bank scheme; we could point out many faults in the bank scheme that are not to be found in the sub-treasury plan.

The national bank system puts the power to control the volume of currency into the hands of the men of money, bankers and speculators. This is a great power which they can and do use to enrich themselves at the expense of the farmers and other producers, by contracting the volume of currency when the farmers have produce to sell and debts to pay, and inflating it when the farmers have to purchase their supplies, etc. Thus the farmer has to sell at the lowest and buy at the highest prices.

The sub-treasury plan proposes the outflow and inflow of money. It proposes also that it shall flow out from the national treasury direct to the producers of wealth and from them back to the national treasury. Under the bank system money is scarce when it ought to be plenty, and abundant when the pressing want of a large volume has passed.

Under the sub-treasury plan money would come out of the United States treasury freely when needed by the people, and return to it when not needed.

There are other and strong arguments against the bank scheme and in favor of the sub-treasury plan; but the one here stated is sufficient to hold all money monopolists and speculators loyal to the national bank system, and cause them to oppose the sub-treasury plan. Should it not be sufficient to cause the farmers, manufacturers and all others engaged in legitimate business to oppose the bank system and support the sub-treasury plan?

Restore the Postal Currency.

At the close of the late war there were $45,000,000 of fractional paper currency, commonly called postal currency, in circulation in this country. This currency was in denominations of 5, 10, 15, 25 and 50 cent bills, and was very convenient as change, and especially so for remittances by mail of fractions of a dollar. The people liked this paper change. They did not ask to have it called in and destroyed. Who did ask it? "I," said the banker, "I demanded that the postal currency be withdrawn from circulation because I did not issue it or control its circulation, hence I could not make any profit on it, and because to withdraw it would increase the public debt $45,000,000, and the public debt is the basis of my business. A public debt is a public blessing to the banks, therefore, the larger it is the better for me."

When the People's party comes into power there will be at least $100,000,000 of fractional paper money issued by the treasury. Then the people will not be obliged to use postage stamps as change when subscribing for a paper that costs 50 cents or $1.25.

A Fictitious War Debt.

At the close of the late war, the national debt was about $3,000,000,000. The people generally suppose that this entire sum was necessarily spent in supporting the government and putting down the rebellion, in addition to the regular income of government. This is very far from the truth. Full one-half of this enormous debt represented commissions on bonds, interest on bonds, and discounts on government money in buying coin to pay interest, etc., etc.

The total expenditures of the government for 1862 was $475,000,000. According to the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, $13,000,000 of this was for interest on the public debt, $64,000,000 of it discount, and $57,000,000 received for taxes, leaving only $341,000,000 of a debt.

In 1863 the expense of the government was $715,000,000. Of this sum interest, discount and taxes made up $310,000,000, leaving a balance of actual debt of $405,000,000.

In 1864 the public expenditures were $865,000,000. Of this sum $78,000,000 was paid in interest, $505,000,000 on discounts, and $264,000,000 received from taxes, leaving only $18,000,000 legitimate public debt. The public expenditures for 1865 amounted to $1,297,000,000. Of this sum $77,000,000 was interest, $389,000,000 discount and $339,000,000 taxes received, leaving only $493,000,000 net honest public debt.

If the government had continued the policy inaugurated in 1861, of meeting the puplic expenditures, over and above taxes, by the issue of legal-tender currency, there would have been at the close of the war $1,275,000,000 government paper money in circulation, and not a dollar of public debt. From this showing it is clear that the people were robbed of over $2,000,000,000 during the war, that this robbery has been going on ever since in the form of interest on an unnecessary public debt, and that we still owe, after having paid over $5,000,000,000, principal and interest, nearly as much as the actual cost of the government during the war. This money has gone out of the pockets of the producing classes, into the pockets of the non-producing classes, through a system of financial legerdemain deliberately planned and persistently carried out.

Effects of Contraction of the Currency.

"Strangulation, suffocation, are words not too strong to explain the agony of the industrial body when embraced in the fast-tightening folds of a contracting money supply," said President Francis A. Walker, before the American Economic Association in his annual address before that body in 1891. This eminent scholar, in his book on "Money, Trade and Industry," already referred to, discusses the effect of the contraction of the currency. A few extracts will serve to show his views, and that they are in line with the views of the Farmers' Alliance, and the People's party on the effects of contraction. Here is what he says about the effect of that policy in the country in 1878:

"An immense labor power and capital power, only partially employed, while natural resources remain unexhausted, and even in a large degree undeveloped, to which labor and capital might be applied to the satisfaction of human wants. Those wants remain unsatisfied; poverty and suffering result to hundred of thousands, and diminution of comfort to millions more.

"There is no lack of disposition of capitalists to allow the use of their money in production, nor of laboreas to work. Yet we have enforced idleness, ond resulting poverty and squalor. In accounting for this state of things, speakers and newspapers employ two phrases. 'Overproduction,' says one party; 'underconsumption,' retorts another."

He says that each of these phrases contains a great deal of arrant nonsense, while they embody a vital truth, and that their meaning is exactly identical, for all producers are also consumers, hence if production is cut down, consumption must necessarily be cut down. The idea of overproduction is absurd, he says, and so is that of underconsumption. The diposition to consume wealth constantly runs ahead of the ability to produce it. Every man who spends $500 a year could spend $1,000 or $1,500 if he could get it. He would not use twice or three times as much of the same articles he now uses, but would buy others which he cannot afford to buy now.

"It is underproduction, not overproduction or underconsumption, which makes hard times. General underproduction is the real evil from which men suffer, is indeed the only economic evil from which men can suffer. Overproduction, general overproduction, is impossible, but could it occur, no one would be injured by it: But underproduction is an unmistakable evil. To large classes it means hunger, cold and squalor."

Our author proceeds to show that it is want of proper distribution of products that makes the appearance of overproduction, and it is here chiefly that contraction of the currency does its deadly work. It paralyzes commerce. Money is medium of exchange, the tool of trade, hence commerce or trade is impossible without money, and a sufficient supply of money is essential to its health and vigor.

Prof. Patten, of the University of Pennsylvania, says:

"The government has much more to do with money than most people think. Money is the leading factor in economics; and the volume of money is the supreme question in finance."

The editors and speakers of the old plutocratic parties charge us with being inflationists and calamity howlers; it is well to be prepared to reply by showing that we are sustained by the great scientists, and that therefore our doctrines are scientific, while they are either knaves or fools, and that they are constantly advertising their knavery or their folly.

CURED

"About seven or eight months ago I was attacked by a cough, and at once began to take a medicine much advertised as an expectorant, and continued using it until I had taken about six bottles. Instead of giving me relief, it only made me worse. I tried several other remedies, but all in vain, and I don't think I had three whole nights' rest during my illness. I began to think that had laid hold of me, and my hopes of recovery were all gone. I was a mere skeleton, but a friend of mine, who had been some time away, called to see me. He recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and kindly sending me a bottle, I took it, but with little hopes of recovery. I am thankful, however, to say that it cured me, and I am to-day enjoying the best of health."—J. Wilmot Payne, Monrovia, Liberia.

We wish to call the attention of Erath breeders to the fact that the way to build up the right kind of a public sentiment in the State is to keep the business before the people, and more particularly the class that at present takes little or no interest in the matter, and we would modestly suggest that if they will keep their advertisements in Dublin PROGRESS they will reach a very large class that are not touched by the horse papers of this country, and would, we think, be planting seed in good soil, that e're long would produce a bounteous harvest.

State Fair Notes.

German day has not been designated, but music, both vocal and instrumental, will play a prominent part. The German Societies will participate and National games and pastimes will be indulged in.

Drummers' day will occupy the 22nd and as these gentle pilgrims will make up their own program it is safe to say that there will be fun at the Fair for the Mercantile Millionaries, their wives and children and their friends within the gates of the city.

Alliance day will be on the 1st. and members of the order will be present from all parts of the State. Subjects of interest to Alliancemen will be discussed by able speakers and the tillers of the soil will be well taken care of by the citizens of Dallas.

Labor day will be the feature of the 28th, the arrangements are in the hands of the different labor organizations of the State, which will make up an interesting programme.

Confederate day which takes place on the 24th, and will occupy a part of the 25th, promises to be the grandest occasion of the sort ever held in the South. Judging from the interest being manifested every camp in the South will be represented. Veterans of the Texas war for Independence and the Mexican war, will also take part in the celebration. Many distinguished Confederates, among them being many famous generals will be present. Mrs. Jefferson Davis and Miss Winnie Davis, "the daughter of the Confederacy," will also attend. A part of the 25th, will be New Orleans day, when an interesting programme will be elaborated.
