FUMC celebrates 125th with 3-day gala

Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

More than 100 church members and local residents participated in the church's 125th anniversary gala this past weekend. The three-day celebration ran from Friday, April 13, to Sunday, April 15.

The 125th anniversary gala began on Friday with a "Friday Night Celebration" service lead by Pastor James Edwards. Members of the FUMC choir performed, leading a large group of church members through several Gospel songs, including "Shall We Gather at the River," "Church in the Wildwood," and "Amazing Grace." A reception was held following the service in the FUMC Fellowship Hall.

On Saturday, the church held a "Youth Service" in which the younger members of the congregation participated.

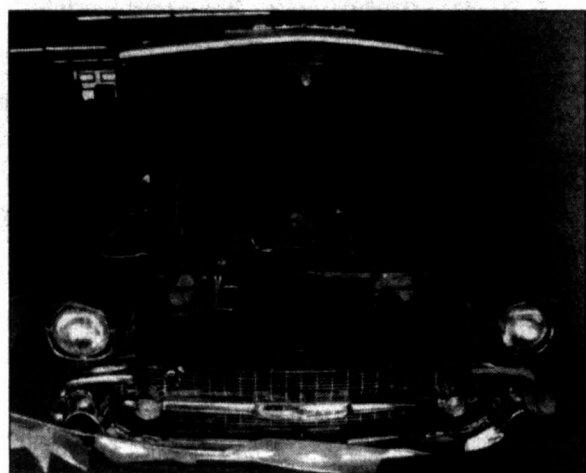

The church continued its celebration on Sunday by holding two events, including a morning worship and special catered luncheon. The morning worship began at 10:40 a.m. The luncheon was held at noon.

Currently sporting 443 members, the church began with just 11 members in 1882 after Rev. Annis and Rev. Dunn had received permission from the 1881 Annual Conference leaders to create the church in the Abilene District. Prior to the start of the church, See FUMC, Page 2

If you have the need to see some cars built for speed -- and even some that weren't -- then Colorado City will be the place to be on May 11-13 when the CC Riders, the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department and the Mitchell County 4-H Club stage their annual car show, burn-out and "Mud Bog" events.

"It's going to be a big weekend, that's for sure," said CC Riders member Mike Ratliff. "There are going to be a lot of things going on. Our car show, the fire department's burn-out and the 4-H's Mud Bog."

THE CCVFD BURN-OUT is scheduled for May 12 in downtown Colorado City. The 4-H Mud Bog will be held on Sunday, May 13, at the Mitchell County Fairgrounds.

When Snyder businessman Max Von Roder decided he was ready to retire from his delinting operation, many Lorraine residents feared the small community was about to be hit with another economic blow.

Dell Haltom, Richard Munoz

communities. The program, known as CheckPrint, cut forgery/fraud by check totals by more than 50 percent in San Angelo after its implementation.

With the CheckPrint system, businesses have check writers place their thumbprint on the check next to their signatures using an inkless stamping pad. The thumbprint is a secure method of identification, Foerster said.

"You can alter signatures, social security numbers, driver's licenses, but the one thing you can't alter is your thumbprint," he said. "It's the one sure deal and a lot of these people that do this know it."

Foerster said the forgery/fraud meeting would be held at 5 p.m. on May 7 at the Colorado City Civic Center. The meeting will cover some preventative measures to help eliminate forgeries, including tips on how businesses can prevent forgery by establishing a policy for taking checks, and by educating their employees on "trouble" signs associated with passing forged checks.

There will be no charge for the meeting and all business owners and/or managers are welcome.

City council votes to split permit fees with Main Street

Saying they wanted to give potential downtown investors an incentive to rehabilitating historic buildings, the Colorado City City Council took an unusual move last week, voting to give part of the money earmarked for the municipality to the Main Street Program's rehabilitation fund.

Council members, by a 4-3 vote, approved a measure that would give Main Street's 501(c)3 fund half of the local permit fees required for developers. The other half will remain with the city.

"We're trying to preserve buildings that in some cases may be 50 years old," said Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum. "This is a small price to pay for the restoration of our buildings."

The council's move comes as the result of a request by Colorado City attorney Ty Wood, who submitted a request to the city recently asking that permit fees for renovations to buildings in the Colorado City Historical Business District be waived. The estimated savings for buildings receiving $30,000 in upgrades is approximately $160 — or about 1 percent. Wood purchased the old Corky's Hardware building in downtown and is rehabilitating the structure.

The council decided against doing away with the permitting fees completely because it did not wish to show preference to any business owners — downtown or otherwise.

Council approves construction of 120-foot communications tower

Bigger evidently is better when it comes to communications towers.

AllTel Communications received permission from the Colorado City City Council last week to construct a 120-foot monopole tower in the 500 block of 5th Street. The new tower, the company hopes, will help it improve cellular phone service in the community.

AllTel representative Michael Crain said construction on the new tower could begin later this year, depending on how rapidly the company could sign a lease with landowner Wes Smith and remove the existing 90-foot tower.

The city had to approve AllTel's request to rezone the property from a retail district to a business district prior to any deal. The council also had to grant the company a variance to erect a 120-foot tower.

Council members said the current tower was not in compliance with zoning specifications as it reached 90 feet. Zoning requirements in that area do not allow for towers of more than 60 feet.

AllTel, along with the owner of the property, will have to maintain the lots, per FCC requirements.

Theatre to show 'Rocky Balboa' this weekend

The 3M Palace Theatre, in its effort to thank the residents of Mitchell County for their support of the historic Colorado City landmark, will be showing three movies free of charge this weekend, including the final installment of Sylvester Stallone's "Rocky" series.

On Friday evening, beginning at 8 p.m., theatre owners Marcus and Beatrice Monroe will show "Rocky Balboa." On Saturday, the couple will show "Everyone's Hero" at 3 p.m. and "Eragon" at 5 p.m. before re-airing "Rocky Balboa" at 7:30 p.m.

Council gives tentative approval to $33,055 in funds

Tommy Wells
Colorado City Record

The hotel/motel tax checks aren't in the mail, but they could be soon, according to the Colorado City Council.

Soon as they have receipts from what organizers used the money for a year ago.

City council members, in an effort to ensure the municipality is following state and local guidelines, decided to suspend the issuance of any 2007 hotel-motel tax funding until the groups that were awarded funds from last year submit receipts. The city is required by the state to collect receipts for funds awarded to verify they are being used to promote tourism and draw visitors into the community.

"We want to disperse the funds," said Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum. "We know these people are doing good things. We just have to make sure we are doing what we are supposed to be doing."

According to Colorado City City

Manager Paul Catoe, the city is prepared to award more than $33,000 in hotel/motel funding to 12 groups, including the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and The Heart of West Texas Museum. A total of $55,555 was requested from the city in March.

The chamber of commerce will likely be the largest recipient of funds again this year. In the city's allocation process, $20,000 was earmarked for the chamber. The amount is the same given to the organization last year — and $10,000 less than the chamber had asked for in their original request.

The Heart of West Texas Museum was allocated $3,000, while five groups were approved for $1,500 in funding. Among the $1,500 recipients are the Colorado City Antiques Association, The CC Riders car club, the July 4th Fly-In, the Colorado City Main Street Program and the expanded Juneteenth Celebration.

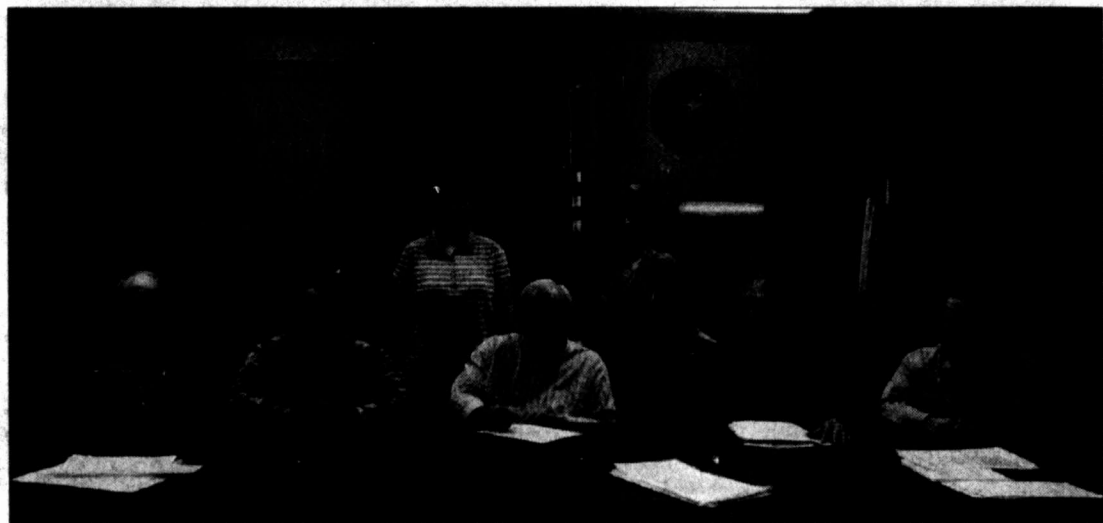

The annual Boer Goat Cook-

Off will receive $1,000, the St. James Baptist Church will net $705 to help promote its gospel singing event.

Other groups tentatively set to receive funds are the Mitchell County Reunion ($350), the Colorado City Volunteer Firefighters' Burn-Out event ($500).

Catoe said city officials attempted to balance the allocations between groups as much as possible.

The council will take up the issue again at a later date.

Gray, Gibson to perform at C-City Opry on April 19

Two legendary entertainers will take the stage at the Colorado City Opry House on Thursday, April 19, beginning at 7 p.m.

Country music great Claude Gray, who has charted 27 songs during his illustrious recording career, will be performing many of his hits, including "The Family Bible," "I'll Have Another Cup of Coffee," "I Never Had The One I Wanted," and "If I Ever Need A Lady I'll Call You." Gray has performed for many years on the Grand Ole Opry, and has toured throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. Prior to coming to Colorado City, he had performed in Branson, MO.

Former lead vocalist with "The Platters" Virgil Gibson will sing many of the group's hit songs, including "Only You," "The Great Pretender," "Twilight Time," "Smoke Gets In My Eyes," and more.

The Platters were, a possibly still are, one of the most beloved music groups in the world.

Also performing will be D'Lynn Wall, and a top quality band.

Tickets for the show are $15 at the theater. The theater doors will open at 6 p.m.

KCCB

"This is something that helps the entire community," said Bob Reily, KCCB's president. "It will make our city more attractive and help people remove items that they might not be able to get rid of otherwise."

Reily said volunteers were greatly needed this year as early reservations for large-item pick-ups had approached nearly 70 on Monday. The deadline for residents to contact the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce to schedule pick-up service was Wednesday, April 18.

Individuals interested in volunteering for the clean-up can do so by going to the First Baptist Church parking lot at 8 a.m. on April 21.

"We do need workers," Reily said. "We will have coffee and doughnuts beginning at 8 a.m. for the volunteers, and serve lunch when we finish at noon," Reily said.

The volunteers' lunch will be served at All Saints Episcopal Church.

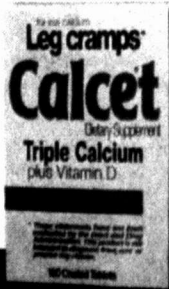

Reily said residents who are transporting limbs can take them to the corner of east Highway 80 and Country Club Road -- the site of the old drive-in theater. Old appliances are to be taken to the back lot of Fred Lentz Machinery, at 1709 West Point Avenue. Items other than limbs and appliances should be taken to the landfill prior to the landfill closing at 1 p.m.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH The first woman in Wrangler jeans

I had a great visit with Berva Dawn Taylor in Doole, Texas the other day. Her husband Dan was sitting on the tailgate of his pickup when I drove up to their place. Their young grandkids were buzzing around on go-carts.

Dan and Berva Dawn are rodeo royalty. They've both done just about everything there is to do in the sport. Dan works Cheyenne every year. Berva Dawn grew up being called Bummy, a name her father gave her because she was always bumbling around with her brothers and sisters, who were older.

"I didn't know I had a name until I went to the first grade," says Berva Dawn. "I was going to get a belt with my name on it and I thought it would be Bummy. But my mother told me I had a pretty name."

Berva Dawn is an Indian name meaning a beautiful flower unfolding in the morning light. My mother had an Indian woman working on the place when I was born and she helped name me. She grew up on a ranch in Idaho.

"It was about 90 thousand acres. Every once in while our horses would get out and head for the Tetons. We had a real job getting them back. We had plenty of wells. Water was just seventeen feet deep and came out freezing cold because it came from ice caves underground. We used to skip school and go to those ice caves and have a picnic."

Berva Dawn became an excellent horse rider. She rode her horse Dobber bareback with no bridle. She'd climb on that horse and ride full speed to her friend's house two miles away.

Her father J. C. (Doc) Sorensen had the Flying U Rodeo Company and produced rodeos all over the western United States.

In Salt Lake City, Berva Dawn rode in her first grand entry when she was four years old.

In 1949, Berva Dawn was chosen as a Sponsor Girl for the Madison Square Garden rodeo in New York City. The team consisted of girls from western states and notables like Gene Autry and Roy Rogers. They appeared at events and were interviewed on radio and television to promote rodeo.

One of Berva Dawn's jobs as a sponsor girl was to ride a thoroughbred horse in a race at Rockingham Park in New Jersey. She rode a jockey saddle and wore silks. Her riding skills impressed everyone in the stands.

Another job she had was to model at style shows. She dragged a mink coat down the runway of Saks Fifth Avenue.

Berva Dawn spent a lot of time at the ice skating rink at the garden. She became an excellent skater and grew to love the sport of hockey.

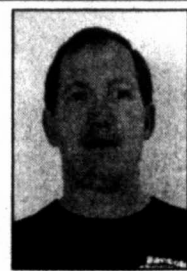

A master tailor named Rodeo Ben made clothing for many rodeo stars.

When Wrangler decided to make a line of jeans for women, the company chose Rodeo Ben to make them. He took Berva Dawn's measurements and created the first pair for her. She appeared in ads all over the country.

I rubbed my eyes and glanced at my wife.

"This boy needs to cut back on the amount of television he watches," I said.

Anyway, I set out to break down our lineage as best as I could, being as precise as possible.

I explained how the governments of Europe had been strict, on opposing religions during the late 1600s and 1700s, and that many people had decided they would rather live in a new place where they could practice religion as they pleased.

I have to tell you, Rowdy lost all interest. In the time it takes to blink your eyes, he had started bouncing up and down like he had swallowed a bag of Mexican Jumping Beans.

"You have to tell it to them in a way he can understand," my wife said. "He's just a sixth grader, not a college professor."

She, as always, was right.

"Look, it all started a really long time ago. This dude from somewhere really far away decided he didn't want to hang out there any more. So, he hopped on a row boat and paddled his way from somewhere in Scandinavia to here. When he got here, he met this hot chick whose parents had paddled her, too. After a while, they got married and had 50 or 60 kids. One of those kids was named Bervel (I didn't make it up. I'm just telling the story) who grew up, and for some reason no one really knows went to Oklahoma."

"I don't know how long it took him to paddle here," I said when Rowdy's hand sprang into the air. "Probably a day or two."

Rowdy put his hand down.

"Now, while he was in Oklahoma, Ol' Berv hooked up with a Cherokee maiden (not squaw ... which is politically incorrect and will get your ears seriously boxed by an Indian woman) and brought her back to Texas. Bervel and Gladys had some kids ... one of which was named Bobby."

"You keeping up, boy?" I asked.

"Well, Ol' Bobby he met the daughter of some Irish immigrants one day while stealing candy from her. Faye said since she had to feed him anyway, she might as well marry him ... so she did."

"I don't know how much candy she had ... or if any of it was chocolate," I said as Rowdy thrust his hand into the air again.

Rowdy put his hand down.

"Bob and Faye had a lot of kids, one of them was a borderline genius ..." I started.

At this point, Rowdy interrupted, screaming he knew who it was I was talking about.

"It's you, dad!" he said. "It's you. You're the borderline genius."

I smiled and patted him on top of the head. He gets his brains from my side of the family.

"You're right," I said. "It was me. And, after I had grown up and got paroled from the United States Navy, I met you mother and we had you."

"What about mom's family? Where are they from?" he asked.

"They're from the circus," I said.

THE NEW OWNERS of Loraine Seed & Delinting, LLC join a growing Loraine business district, sharing office space with Richard Munoz Trucking LLC. The Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Program and Third Planet Windpower, LLC are also in the building, which is located at 101 N. Taylor.

by three since the start of the year as Third Planet Windpower, LLC. has opened three offices in town, as has the Texas Bollweevil Eradication Foundation.

The three purchased the facility, which has two large buildings and 11 office spaces, from Von Roder.

Munoz, who has operated his trucking company, Richard Munoz Trucking, LLC out of the facility for the past six years, said keeping the site open was important for himself, as well as local farmers.

"Personally, I didn't want to have to move my offices, so I kind of needed this," he said. "Plus, we talked to a lot of farmers in the area and they told us it was needed, and that if we bought it they would come here."

"We feel like it will help everyone by having this here," he said.

We feel like it will help everyone by having this here. It's good for us. It's good for the little barbecue place, the store and even the bank.

Dell Haltom
Co-owner of Loraine Seed & Delinting

"It's good for us. It's good for the little barbecue place, the store and even the bank."

Haltom said the three new owners have made numerous improvements to the facility since purchasing the property, including completing a facelift to the interior.

The facility delints cotton -- removing the fuzz from the outside of the seed -- so farmers can re-plant their fields.

In addition to its work in preparing cotton seed, Haltom said the company will be able to clean wheat at its Snyder plant this year. The three plan to move the wheat-cleaning operation to Loraine next year.

"I think it's great we could keep this here in Loraine," said Haltom. "When Max came and said he wanted to get out, we all thought it would be a good idea to try and keep the business, and try to keep it here."

TFSA seeking proposals for new 500,000-acre CRP to wildlife habitat

Texas Farm Service Agency (FSA) is asking federal, state and local agencies as well as private or non-profit organizations to submit proposals for a new 500,000-acre Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) to improve habitat for high-priority wildlife species nationwide. Nearly 40,000 acres has been allocated to Texas.

"The State areas for Wildlife Enhancement (SAFE) initiative provides an opportunity to develop grassroots conservation projects to address high priority wildlife needs through habitat restoration," said Keith Hiser, Executive Director for the Mitchell County FSA. "This initiative further extends the positive environmental impacts of the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP)." With more than 36 million acres enrolled, CRP is the nation's largest, voluntary private-lands conservation program. CRP practices improve water quality, air quality and wildlife habitat.

SAFE will enable the public, producers, state and federal agencies, non-profit conservation organizations and others to propose areas where new CRP acreage may be established to address the habitat needs of endangered, threatened or high-priority fish and other wildlife species.

Interested entities can submit a SAFE proposal for consideration to the local FSA Office or directly to the Texas FSA State Office attention: Sammy Orange, Conservation Chief, P.O. box 2900, College Station, Texas 77841. Although no deadline for submitting proposals has been set, Hiser encourages organizations to act quickly.

The national FSA office in Washington, D.C. has set a November 1 deadline for receipt of all state proposals," said Hiser. Because these proposals must go through a two-tier review process at the state level prior to review in Washington, we would like to begin receiving proposals as soon as possible."

Eligible landowners in approved SAFE areas may enter into new CRP contracts with USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC). Approved program participants will receive an annual CRP rental rate equivalent to soil rental rates for the county plus an annual maintenance payment.

For SAFE proposal details and protocol, contact the Mitchell County FSA at 325-728-2651 or visit the national web site at: <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>; click on Conservation Programs.

Flexible, combination leases could alter terms of DCP

The Texas Farm Service Agency (FSA) reminds agriculture producers that flexible and combination leases may alter the agreement terms of the Direct and Countercyclical Program (DCP).

"FSA rental regulations have been in effect for nearly 10 years, but recently have attracted interest due to the popularity of flexible or combination leases," said Keith Hiser. "These rental provisions are in place to protect both landlords and tenants, as well as to insure compliance with payment limitation rules."

The key determinant in terms of how FSA interprets producer lease agreements is whether the landlord shares in the production risk of the crop. Leases which are based on a share of the crop or proceeds are considered share leases and must be reported as such by the producer when signing up for DCP payments. In addition, producers must report shares on a field-by-field basis when certifying crop acreage.

Previously, many producers rented land for a specified cash rent fee only. Due to crop and market conditions, renters and landlords are becoming more creative in the way rent agreements are structured. "While this is certainly acceptable, renters and landlords must have a clear agreement, and convey their rental terms to their local FSA office," said Hiser.

If rent in a lease agreement is based on the amount of crop produced or the income derived from that crop (whether or not the crop is actually grown), or any combination of the two, it is a share lease and the landlord must receive a share of the DCP contract payment. This is because the landlord now shares the risk in the crop. The more pounds or bushels produced or the higher price received for that crop creates a higher rent.

Signup for the 2007 DCP is currently underway at all county FSA offices and continues through August 3, 2007.

Snyder pancake breakfast to benefit mission trip

Come and enjoy an All You Can Eat Pancake Breakfast on Saturday, April 21st from 7:00 to 11:00 a.m. at The Word is Life Deliverance Church, 315 Coliseum Drive in Snyder. The proceeds will benefit a mission trip to Guatemala for the Joy in Jesus Team. Tickets are $5.00 each and children under 6 eat free. Tickets are available at The Colorado Record Newspaper office in Colorado City. They can also be purchased at the door the day of the breakfast.

The Joy in Jesus Team will return to Guatemala in May. This will be the third year for the Snyder based team to travel to Central America to hold a Joy in Jesus retreat. There will be 10 ladies making the trip this year. Those attending will be Dorothy Petersen, Renee Floyd, Pearlene Nolan, George Anne Brown, and Nathalie Kelley from The Word is Life Deliverance Church; Martha Dillard and Kim Gorman,

First Baptist Church of Snyder; Kathy Raymond, Lighthouse Assembly of God; Jane Rushing, Lighthouse Community Church in Sonora; and Claudia Sanchez from Christian Temple in Colorado City.

Several years ago the leader and coordinator, Dorothy Petersen, spent some time in Guatemala with missionaries Charlie and Pat Reynolds, formerly of Snyder. As Dorothy visited with Pat and some of the missionary women living there, she saw a need to bring the joy of Jesus to these women. She was inspired to create a retreat atmosphere in that country. The Joy in Jesus retreat provides a time and place close to the homes of the missionaries where they can take time out from the demands on their lives and ministries and spend time being refreshed in the presence of the Lord. The 3 day retreat will be held this year at the Lutheran Retreat Center in Antigua, Guatemala.

Drop off armloads or truckloads of wood such as downed trees and brush any time between now and the lighting of the fire. KCCB volunteers will be checking the bonfire location frequently. Chemically treated wood, metal, plastic or garbage cannot be accepted.

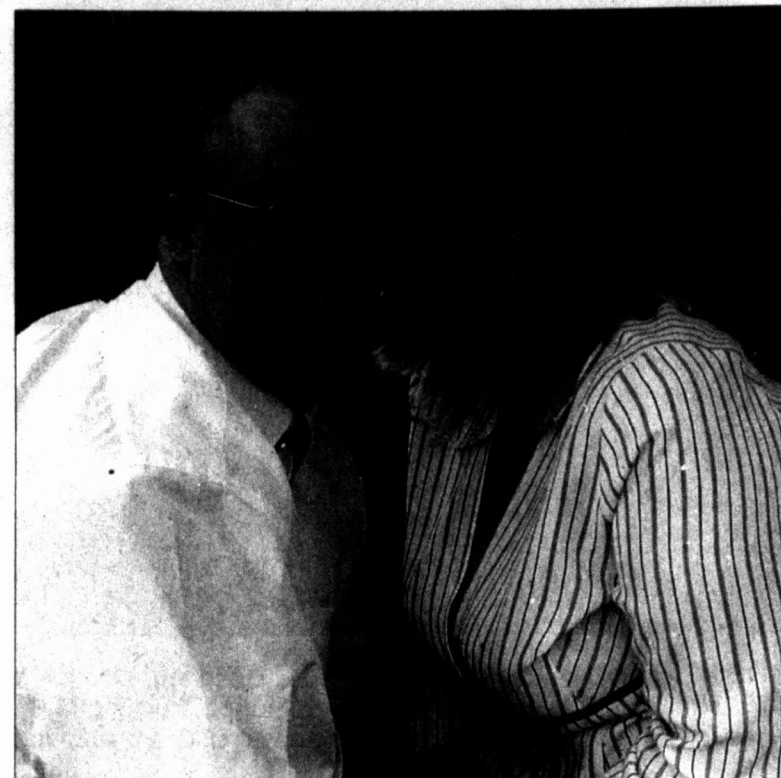

Further information can be obtained by calling 278-3766, 728-8624 or 728-2553.

There will be plenty of room for tailgating. Remember to pack lawn chairs and blankets as well as telescopes for stargazing. Feel free to bring snacks, beverages and trash bags.

The Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department will light and tend the fire and watch over the dying embers throughout the night following the event.

Tex Blankenship will be there with his barbeque pit to grill hamburgers.

Hand drummers of all paths are welcome and everyone is encouraged to bring drums of all kinds, rain sticks, flutes and rattles to help raise our spirits in an expression of celebration and gratitude of this occasion.

Rios named editor-in-chief of Angelo State Ram Page

Ram Page Managing Editor Jennifer Rios has been named editor-in-chief of the publication for the 2007-08 school year.

Rios, 21, will spend her senior year beginning next fall in the Ram Page's highest position.

"I'm looking forward to next year," Rios said. "All that has gone on this semester has got me really excited about being editor and calling the shots."

Rios has been with the Ram Page since the spring of 2006, when she was named copy editor. Before that, she spent a semester as a contributing writer.

"When I first started working for the Ram Page, I was scared I wasn't good enough," Rios said. "I contributed for a semester just to see my byline in the paper."

Rios said she is very glad to get the chance to be the editor of a newspaper.

"I probably won't get that chance again for a long time," she said. "If I start in a newsroom, it could be while."

One of the biggest upcoming challenges for the Ram Page, Rios said, will be to fill some positions of outgoing staff members.

The Ram Page will be losing half of its staff members after this spring.

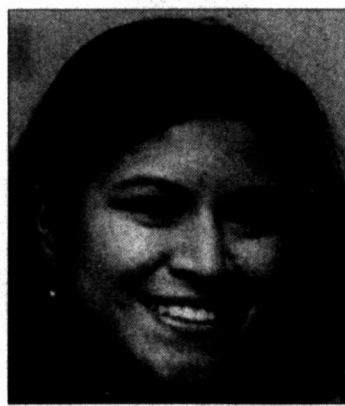

"I would like to have a dedicated staff because I enjoy working with people who are passionate about what they do," Rios said. "I know a lot of these positions can be demanding at times."

She said having to replace staff members is nothing new.

"This year we started off with a new staff, and it's all about learning the dynamics of the staff and how to work with and get along with them," Rios said.

Besides working for the Ram Page, Rios also worked for ASU's office of news and publications for two years. Rios said that above everything else she hopes more people come to recognize and respect the Ram Page.

Jennifer Rios
...named Editor-in-Chief

"I'd like to see more student feedback," Rios said. "Whether it's in letters to the paper or comments on our website, I'd like to see more interaction."

Another exciting opportunity for Rios will be an internship at the San Angelo Standard-Times this summer. Each year, the executive board of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors selects aspiring journalists from college and universities in the state to serve as Buster Haas Interns.

The intern programs, established in 1998 to help diversify Texas newsrooms, provides minority students an introduction to community journalism at daily newspapers of 20,000 circulation or smaller.

Thank you....

How to say Thank You to all who showed concern during my recent illness is something I have been trying to do for a couple of weeks. You never know how many friends you have until something happens.

Although I didn't choose to be sick, I feel blessed to have my friends and family surround and support me during this time. Thank you all for showing me what true friendship and love really is.

A special thanks goes to Dr. Dee Roach, Dr. Harold Smith, Neurosurgen, Devin McCoy, PA, Neurosurgery and Dr. Duriex and staff at Consultants in Infectious Diseases, along with the Mitchell County Hospital and Covenant Hospital in Lubbock. Without your concern and care, I wouldn't be writing this today.

To all my family and friends in Mitchell County, I want to thank you for all your prayers, phone calls, plants, fruit baskets, visits and cards. When I needed a boost, someone was always there with a kind word of concern, a card and some other expression of caring. You will never know how much it meant to me to know there were so many people in Mitchell County pulling for me!

I'm back at work (most of the time) and look forward to seeing you! Stop by anytime!

Lady Wolves sprint to 5-2A district crown

Carl Graham
Colorado City Record

The Colorado High School Lady Wolves track team brought home the District 5-2A track and field title last week, accumulating 126 points to run away with all the marbles on Saturday in Merkel.

"The girls did great," said coach Anita Graham of the team. "Everyone worked hard for this day. Even with the windy conditions we had some of our fastest times and best throws."

Two Lady Wolves -- LaCresha

Johnson and Crystal Stewart -- starred at the meet. Johnson and Stewart each turned in outstanding efforts in five events.

Johnson came home with three gold medals, a second-place, and a fourth-place finish. She won the District 5-2A title in the 200-meter dash, and the triple jump. She also ran the anchor leg on the Lady Wolves' first-place winning 800-meter relay squad, and ran the second leg on the Lady Wolves' 1,600-meter relay that placed second.

Stewart finished second in the 400-meter, fifth in the 100-meter dash, and ran the fourth leg on the girls' 1,600-meter relay. She also finished third in the shot put.

Others CHS standouts advancing to the regional meet by placing in the top three were:

Letesha McDuffie and Breanna Green join Johnson and Lauren Munoz as qualifiers on the CHS 400-meter relay team that placed third in district; Brianna Ortiz, Johnson, Kandace Johnson and Crystal Stewart make up the 1,600-meter squad.

Stewart, Kandace Johnson, Guerra and LaCresha Johnson

comprise the 800-meter relay team. The team placed first in the District 5-2A standings.

Guerra also qualified for the regional meet in the pole vault. She placed second with a 9-foot mark. Donnica Fowler was third in the 100-meter hurdles; Paige Newby won the discus with a toss of 136-10 1/2 and took second in the shot put with a throw of 36-0 1/2.

Stewart was third in the shot.

Individuals that placed, but did not qualify were:

Iesha Taylor, 5th, shot put; LaCresha Johnson, 4th, long jump;

Tonya Vera, 6th, 800-meter run; and Breshnae White, 6th, 200-meter dash.

In the JV division, Lisa Salazar placed third in the shot put, Amy Armenta placed second in the 800-meter run and sixth in the 400-meter dash and Crystal Wilson and Candice Aoyama placed fourth and fifth, respectively, in the 1,600-meter run.

The Lady Wolves has two weeks to prepare for the regional competition and will probably participate in a regional qualifiers' meet this weekend.

Colorado City Record

First-year Colorado High School tennis coach Zeb Burleson has had a good inaugural season at the helm of the Wolves' tennis program as he is sending four individuals to the Class 2A regional tennis tournament at Abilene Christian University on April 25-26.

Taking second-place in District 5-2A boy's doubles this season were Matthew Wilson and Ashton Raschke, while senior Catherine Dolan defeated teammate Morgan Maddox to win the gold and Maddox taking the silver in singles.

Dolan is not a newcomer when it comes to winning district championships in tennis. She will be advancing to the regional round for the third time of her high school career.

Maddox's will be making her second trip to regional tournament. She teamed up with CHS graduate Dara Kelly last year to place second in girl's doubles. Wilson and Raschke, like Dolan and Maddox, are regional veterans. The two will be returning to familiar territory when they re-meet, only two CHS individuals competed. Jose Gonzales punched his ticket to the regional meet by placing second in the 1600-meter run with a time of 5 minutes and 6.12 seconds. Gonzales also competed in the 3,200-meter run, finishing in fifth place.

Finishing in sixth place in the 1,600-meter run was Nick Davila.

Midland Trinity's all-state player Preston Midkiff just missed hitting for the cycle last Tuesday at the Mitchell County Sports Complex, hitting a double, triple and home-run in the Chargers' 10-3 rout of the Colorado High School Wolves in a non-district matchup.

The Wolves' game with Midland Trinity was a late-season addition by CHS head coach Scotty Bruington in an effort to help the team avoid having to go through a 10-day stretch without a game.

Ritchie Atkinson started on the mound for the Wolves, but gave way to Simon Reyna in the fifth inning. Edgar Ventura pitched the final inning.

The three pitchers gave up a total of eight hits, but the Wolves committed two errors behind them.

Midland Trinity scored two runs in the top of the first inning, and then added three more in the second before the Wolves were able to get on the scoreboard.

The Wolves were able to add another run in the bottom of the fifth.

Lady Renegades take second in Abilene softball tournament

Carl Graham
Colorado City Record

The Colorado City Lady Renegades, a 12-and-Under softball team, participated in a fund-raising softball tournament in Abilene last weekend, winning five games while losing two. The effort garnered the team a second-place finish in a 12-team field that sported some of the Big Country's top squads.

On Friday, the Renegades won their first game by a score of 12-3 against the Wylie Waverunners. Destyne Gaona led the Lady Renegades with a solid effort on the mound.

On Saturday, the team returned to play six games throughout the day with the first one being a win over the Eula Grit. Alexia Espinoza was the pitcher in the team's 9-2 win.

In their next outing, Colorado City suffered a tough 11-6 loss to the Texas Heat of Abilene.

Miranda Reyna pitched well despite the loss.

The team rebounded with an 8-5 win over the Wylie Grove team. In that game, Espinoza was the pitcher of record.

Later in the day, the Renegades defeated Sweetwater Raze, 17-11, in a slugfest. Colorado City was forced to play an extra inning before pulling off the win. Espinoza was the winning pitcher.

In their next contest, the Renegades took on the Clyde Crossfire, and dealt them a 12-3 setback with Miranda Reyna getting credited with the win.

Reyna came back in the final game to pitch against the Texas Heat, a team that had given them an 11-6 loss earlier in the day. This time, the Heat only won by a 9-8 margin.

Coaches for the team are Vince Gaona, Henry Reyna, and Ryan Costabile. Players for the Renegades are Miranda Reyna, Alexia Espinoza, Destyne Gaona, Kristine Gaona, Raegan Costabile, Shelby Cogburn, Brittany Ward, Olivia Luera, Ann Marie Morrison, Lexi Hopper, Reanna Krapf and Kelly Salazar.

Westbrook claims 12-7 win over rival Loraine

Carl Graham
Colorado City Record

The Westbrook Lady Wildcats pushed across six runs in the top of the seventh inning to hold off the Loraine Lady Bulldogs and nab a 12-7 win over their cross-county rival Friday afternoon.

Milina Funderburg struck out 12 Loraine batters in the contest -- the first between the two longtime Mitchell County rivals.

Senior Lady Bulldog Annette

Davila absorbed the loss, despite turning in a solid effort in the pitcher's circle.

The Lady Wildcats scored three runs in the top of the third inning while Loraine pushed across one in the bottom of the frame to make the score 3-1 after three innings.

Loraine tied the score at 3-3 with two runs in the bottom of the fourth inning.

Westbrook answered with two runs in the top of the fifth inning to go back up 5-3.

Loraine, after the Lady Wildcats had tacked on another run, cut into the WHS lead to one, at 6-5, with two runs in the sixth.

The Lady Wildcats offense hit stride from there, grinding out six runs.

Loraine has suffered through a 0-9 season this year while Westbrook, though in their inaugural season, has district wins over Aspermont and Loraine.

Lady Wolves have eyes on postseason

Congratulations to the Colorado High School Lady Wolves track team for qualifying 11 girls for the regional track meet and winning the district meet.

I am hoping that the majority of these girls will get past regional and go on to state. Senior Paige Newby is trying for her fourth straight year of advancing to Austin to compete in the state Class 2A discus throw. She won the last two years.

Newby is busy not only in trying to return to Austin for the discus, but is also competing on the Lady Wolves' softball team that has hopes of going a long way in the playoffs as well. Coahoma and Hawley are currently tied for first place in district with the Lady Wolves firmly planted in second. They have three losses in district, two to Coahoma and one to Hawley -- via a couple of controversial calls in Hawley.

Colorado City plays the Hawley here this coming Friday in a rematch.

LORAINE NEWS

By Bessie Vaughn
Loraine Correspondent

Speaking of our Centennial year—it was voted on June 1st, 1907, and certified four days later on June 5th, 1907, to become an incorporated city named Loraine.

The community will be doing some celebrating this year, combining city, school, our bank, and church this year in October during school homecoming week-end with several activities being scheduled during that time. We will be working toward this end.

In the absence of Ina Vay McAdams playing the piano at the First Baptist Church was former piano player Vida Mae McDaniel providing the piano music for those attending church last Sunday.

Joyce Honeycutt and daughter Betty Darnell came to Loraine to visit their sister and aunt, Gerrie Wooddell and her husband Dub as well as other family members last week. Joyce lives in Arkansas and Betty had been visiting her for several days before she brought her back home to Loraine. Joyce returned last Saturday after having a great visit here.

Jan Millering had foot surgery this past week, but she still kicked her heels up on her birthday last week. Aaron and Nancy Thomson of Colorado City, her brother and sister-in-law, took her out to eat at Skeets for a nice birthday meal. Belated Happy Birthday Jan!

Absent from critter casa bed and breakfast was Beep-Beep, who is off looking for a soul mate. He has his eye on a cute long legged bird that is from Post. Beep-Beep has been nesting there with another wife-less roadrunner Sam who is a good snakeologist.

Beep is home sick for critter casa and still remembers the land lady cooking for a pot belly pig and a dog. After they were fed she gave him some roast, gravy, and strawberries with whipped cream with insects. His last significant other turned out to be quite a bird brain and too materialistic. She had the biggest and best of everything, but left him for a road runner with longer legs. Beep Beep, Good luck with the bird in Post!

Irving Jarrett was her last Friday to visit with Marie Hare and Lucille (Jarrett) Frazier. He also visited at the senior center to have lunch while here and visited with old friends that were there.

We have concerns at this time for Don Richburg. He is currently in an Abilene Hospital. Most of you will probably remember that his dad was the late Homer Richburg. We send a get well greeting to him.

The Loraine First United Methodist Church attendants enjoyed special music Sunday by Billie Powell at the organ just prior to the pastor's message. She played "Come Holy Spirit". It was nice to have Mrs. Sidney Airhart from Trinidad, Texas visit Sunday.

Ralston Bruce was in a Midland Hospital recently, but at this time he is back at the Valley Fair Lodge facility. We have concerns for his well being and send prayers out.

Hank and Jan Millering are hosting company at this time. Cathy Martel and husband Delbert Baker are guests at this time. The couple lives in Trinidad Colorado. Both couples love to play table games and they play a game called "Murder". I hope they don't make each other mad and just have fun.

Carl and Sandy Graham had lots of company last weekend. His sister Jean from Lancaster came in Thursday night, and on Friday his sister Lee Franklin of Colorado City joined them to get ready for an estate sale at the Graham house in Loraine. Carl's brother Tom of Ft. Worth along with his wife Jennifer and children Jenna Paige and five-month old James (Jimmy) came to help out with the sale. Others joining the fun were his nephew John along with wife Gidget of Lancaster and nephew Stephen Fortenberry along with his wife Stephanie of Temple.

The sale did not go very well due to very cool weather with a lot of wind gusts. Several items were left to be sold so you might call to see what is left that you may need.

The group all met at Lee's for a terrific brunch on Sunday morning with lots of visitation.

We will miss Evelyn White as she has moved as of last week to San Angelo where part of her family now resides. Evelyn was living at the Taylor-Witta apartments. We wish her good luck and hope she likes living in San Angelo.

Dorothy Haltom told me last Sunday that she was doing pretty well at the moment. He children, Edgar and Glenda, along with Barbara and Calvin Haltom of Abilene, visit her each Saturday and bring her lunch. We are glad she feels some better.

Hershall Williams recently went to the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring, and on Monday, April 16th, went to Abilene Regional for more tests on his heart condition. We wish him well and hope that he gets a good report from the doctor real soon.

Last Monday, April 16th, Aubrey Wilson and Friends provided music and a nice lunch of steak fingers, mashed potatoes and gravy, corn, rolls and bread pudding were served.

On Wednesday, April 18th, Bingo will be played and seniors will be dining on Lasagna, carrots, jello, garlic bread, and pudding.

On Friday, April 20th, visitation along with a super meal of green enchiladas, Spanish rice, refried beans, and salad along with garlic bread and cake will be going on at the center.

On Wednesday, April 25th, the center will be filled with music by Debby Mitchell who is always a huge hit with the seniors.

A meal of chicken and dressing along with sweet taters, green beans, cranberry sauce, giblet gravy, rolls, and birthday cake will be served.

On Friday, April 27th, the McAdams Family will be picking and grinning for those attending with a meal consisting of Salmon patties, scalloped potatoes, black-eyed peas, salad, rolls, and applesauce.

Last Wednesday Mary McMullin gave her traditional nutritional program on medical research for the elderly. It was enjoyed by all that attended the program.

Visitors at the center last week included Tom and Sharon Cole of New Mexico along with Irvin Jarrett of Midland.

I hope everyone has a pleasant and safe week!

Loraine duo earn state UIL honors

Loraine High School students Lindsey Martin and Joe Martinez were recently named to the University Interscholastic League's State One Act Play Honor Crew. Both participated in the school's One Act Play show of "Elvis and Me."

Martin, a junior, and Martinez, a sophomore, are two of only 40 students from across the state to receive the honor. The two will travel to Austin next month to participate in the state One Act Play competition, which is scheduled for May 2-5.

Students selected will be involved in a learning experience otherwise available only to state meet participants. They will be prepared for their responsibilities by the state meet staff and crews. In order to provide the best learning experience, the students selected must be allowed to participate fully in production operations for the complete state meet.

Orientation for honor crew will begin at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, May 2. Preparation and production activities are scheduled from 6:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. for the three days of the state meet.

The honor recognizes outstanding technical theatre students as part of the UIL state meet production activities and is issued after careful evaluation of past years and consultation with teachers and many administrators.

SHOW

The weekend will get underway on Friday, May 11, when the CC Riders stage their annual Sonic Cruise and "Poker Run". The cars involved in the car show will travel to the Sonic Drive-In from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Plaques and prizes will be presented to the cruise winners at 9 p.m.

Registration for the Sonic Cruise and the Poker Run will begin at 6 p.m. in the First National Bank parking lot. The entry fee for the cruise is $10 per car, while the fee for the Poker Run is $5.

Pre-registration will be accepted until May 10.

The car show, which is being held this year in honor of former CC Riders member Dickie Partlow, will be held Saturday, May 12, in and around the Railhead Building in downtown Colorado City. The show will begin at 8 a.m. and run through noon.

T-shirts and dash plaques will be awarded to the show's top three winners in each division at 3 p.m. during the awards ceremony.

Partlow, who was a longtime active member of the Riders' organization, passed away late in 2006. Club members decided to stage this year's show in his honor, Ratliff said.

"We decided to hold this year's show and dedicate it to him," he said.

The car show, one of the largest in the area, annually attracts more than 100 cars to downtown. The money raised through the show goes toward scholarships for area high school seniors.

There will be several divisions in the show, including classifications for: Muscle Car (1959 through 1979); Street Rod (pre 1949); Race Car; Motorcycle; Restoration in Progress; Pick-up (pre 1960); Original (pre 1980); Classic Car (1955-1979); Late Model (post 1980); Pick-up (post 1960); Antique (pre 1955) and 4x4.

Glass trophies will be presented to the "Best of Show," "Best Mopar," "Best Ford," "Best GM," and "Best of the Rest."

Abilene's Jason Heffernan and Colorado City's Tom Scott were both big winners last year. Heffernan walked away from the car show with three awards, including Best of Show for his 1967 Camaro. He also won Best Paint and top honors in the race car division.

Scott captured top honors in the Best of the Rest division and the Antique category with his 1951 U.S. Army jeep.

The entry fee for the show is $20 for those who register prior to May 10, and $25 for those that register

Former C-City star completes Boston Marathon on Monday

Carl Graham
Colorado City Record

BOSTON -- Former Colorado High School star athlete Kendra Anderson fulfilled her dream last Monday -- she ran in her first Boston Marathon.

Competing in a field of more than 23,000 runners, Anderson said it was an experience of a lifetime to actually compete in the event.

"It was really exciting," said Anderson, who ran alongside former college basketball friend Lauren Harris. "The first three miles of the course went very slow, but as the race went on we were able to set a much steadier pace."

The course covers more than 26 miles through the Boston area and is one of the most popular of all marathons held in the United States.

Anderson said more than 98 percent of those who start the race actually finish.

Anderson will not know what place she actually finished in the race for another week or two.

"We were not running to win the race," said Anderson. "We just wanted to run the course, set a good pace, and complete the race."

As to her future plans on running the event again.

"Oh for sure, this event sort of grows on you," she said. "We are definitely planning on coming back here next year."
