Says Witness To Slaying Non-Existent

FORT WORTH (AP)—Government spokesmen denied today a report in the Fort Worth Star Telegram that a witness is being held under protective custody who can identify Lee Harvey Oswald as President John F. Kennedy's assassin.

The newspaper said an informed source identified the witness as a Negro porter who worked at the Texas School Book Depository Nov. 22. He will appear before the Warren Commission investigating the assassination, the source said.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington, Edwin O. Guthman, said Sunday night "There is no truth to the story at all and no such witness exists."

Dallas County Sheriff Bill Decker said "I know absolutely nothing about it. I do not have such a person in my custody."

Police Chief Jesse Curry said "The Dallas Police Department knows of no eye witness to the assassination."

In its first edition for Monday, the Star Telegram said the source referred to the man as an eyewitness and said he worked on the sixth floor from which the assassin fired the bullets that killed Kennedy and wounded Gov. John Connally.

After publication of the story, the newspaper said, the source called to revise his original story in several instances. One revision was that the alleged witness was actually on the fifth floor at the time of the shooting, which he heard and did not see, the newspaper said.

The story said the Negro man surrendered to officers the same day and told them "I was scared to death. I thought he (Oswald) was going to kill me too."

The newspaper said the Negro man related "Oswald almost stepped on me when he ran past me down the stairs. I know it was him."

The source said the man hid behind crates after he heard the shots followed by footsteps coming down the stairs.

Roy S. Truly, superintendent of the depository said "The only janitor we have is still working there. I know nothing about all this."

Truly added "There is no indication that any employe of the depository is under protective custody."

Mrs. Oswald Takes 'Proof' To Panel

By W. B. RADSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) —Mrs. Marguerite Oswald took "new evidence" before the Warren commission today which she says will prove that her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, did not fire the shots that killed John F. Kennedy.

The 56 - year - old practical nurse, who asked for a chance to appear before the presidential tribunal investigating the Kennedy assassination, is expected to contradict testimony made last week by Oswald's 22-year-old widow.

Marina Oswald told the commission, and later a news conference, that she did not like to believe that her husband killed President Kennedy Nov. 22 in Dallas, but the facts would not permit her to reach any other conclusion.

Sessions of the commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, are closed, but Mrs. Marguerite Oswald told reporters Sunday night:

"I think my son is innocent, and I think I can produce evidence that he is innocent. I have documents, letters and other evidence. I think I can present a good case."

She said she has evidence which has not been brought out previously in the complex probe of the assassination, but refused to explain just what it would show.

Mrs. Oswald said she has been without work since the assassination, but had received $900 in gifts from persons who had written her.

"I've had 1,500 letters protesting the way my son was tried in a few hours and convicted," Mrs. Oswald said.

Oswald was shot down two days after Kennedy's death by Dallas night club operator Jack Ruby.

Planted Bombs Kill Americans

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) —Two bombs planted by terrorists destroyed a bleachers during a softball game in Pershing Stadium Sunday night. Two U.S. servicemen were killed and 23 other Americans were injured.

An entire American family was injured. The father was kept in the hospital, but his wife and their young daughter were released after treatment. Three other women also were wounded slightly.

Vietnamese police reported they had arrested three suspects in the bombing.

The bombs had been planted under six inches of earth about 20 feet apart beneath the bleachers and presumably were set off electrically by Communist Viet Cong terrorists from some distance away.

Names of the victims have not been released pending notification of their next of kin.

In Washington the State Department issued a statement saying:

"This is the most serious of the series of incidents which the Viet Cong have perpetrated against the Americans, starting in 1957. We are resolved to continue extending full assistance to the government and people of Viet Nam in their struggle to put an end to such Communist terrorism."

The carefully prepared bombing brought to three the toll of U.S. servicemen's deaths and to more than 27 the number of Americans wounded by Viet Cong guerrilla action in the Saigon area in a week.

It was feared more such bombings would be directed against Americans in a campaign of terror.

The scene of the bombing was Pershing Field, an athletic field near Saigon Airport used exclusively by U.S. service teams.

Authorities said the bombs appeared to be U.S.-made, 20-pound aerial fragmentation bombs.

There was speculation that the guerrillas had warned Vietnamese residents that the bombs would be set off during the game.

Commissioners Court Hears Proposal On New Coliseum

No action was taken this morning at the regular meeting of the Scurry County commissioners court with regard to the petitions they had received last week asking for an election on a coliseum building for Snyder.

Meeting with the court, however, were James Rittenberry and Dr. Floyd Golden representing the Amarillo architectural firm of Rittenberry and Rittenberry and Associates. The architects presented their proposals for their firm's work on a coliseum.

The court approved bills for goods and services for the month of January, and also discussed methods of bill approval which would permit the hospital to take full advantage of discounts offered if bills were paid by the tenth of the month.

The commissioners were to reconvene this afternoon with the main item of business to be the appointment of election judges for the various voting boxes in Scurry County.

White Pupils All Join In Boycott

By REX THOMAS

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—The entire white student body boycotted Notasulga High School in the face of impending desegregation today while at nearby Shorter, the integrated high school was closed because of a bomb threat.

Only six white pupils out of a student body of about 125 showed up at Shorter, where a spreading boycott also gained rapid momentum.

The school was closed for the day after a telephoned bomb threat, but there was no disorder. Six Negroes have attended Shorther High since last Wednesday.

None of the six Negro pupils assigned by a federal court to Notasulga High made an attempt to enter the school when it reopened today after a two-day shutdown resulting from a fire.

Only one white pupil came to school at Notasulga High and he left immediately when he learned he was the only one there.

Mayor James Rea, refused to admit the Negroes last Wednesday because he said the school was overcrowded.

Rea said that with the boycott, there was no longer a crowded condition and that there would be no need for further use of a new city fire prevention ordinance. It was used to stop the Negroes when they first appeared last week.

"It was our stand all along," the mayor said, "that it would be unsafe for the Negroes to be in there. If the attendance gets down below the danger point—and apparently it has—they can bring them on."

The white boycott developed over the weekend. The pupils decided to transfer to other schools rather than go to class with the Negroes.

Saboteurs Sought In Rail Blast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Investigators sought today to track down saboteurs who dynamited a 91-car freight train and a work train derrick of the strike-harassed Florida East Coast Railway.

No one was injured in the blasts Sunday—10 miles apart—which caused damage estimated by W.L. Thornton, the carrier's chief operating officer, at more than $250,000.

"It was definitely sabotage," Thornton said. "I am not implying the unions are to blame. No one knows at this time who did this."

George Leighty, chief negotiator for the 11 striking unions, said "we know absolutely nothing about it." He said union members had been warned not to resort to violence.

The sabotage was the worst directed against the 577-mile railroad, which operates between Jacksonville and Florida City, south of Miami, since the nonoperating unions struck Jan. 23, 1963. Railroad officials said there have been 146 incidents.

About 1,200 union employes struck, idling about 800 others. They demanded the 10.28 cents-an-hour pay raise agreed to by nearly all class one railroads on a national level. The Florida East Coast line, which was not a party to the negotiations, said it couldn't afford the raise, and wanted to bargain separately.

There has been no passenger service since the strike, but freight service has been built up to four trains each way daily, using supervisory personnel and non-union workers. The railroad now has a work force of about 700.

Judge Denies Transfer Of Jack Ruby Trial

By JAMES MANGAN

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense chief asked today that Ruby's trial on charges of murdering President Kennedy's accused assassin be transferred to another city without going into any evidence. Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown overruled him.

Chief defense attorney Melvin Belli made the motion after Judge Brown ruled against him on two other counts:

A motion that would have required the state to turn over to the defense, its evidence against Ruby.

An attempt by Belli to read aloud newspaper stories about the killing of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby.

Ruby shot Oswald Nov. 24, two days after Oswald was charged with murder in the Kennedy assassination and the killing of Dallas patrolman J. D. Tippit.

Ruby, 52, returned to court to watch his lawyers fight to have his trial moved to another city on grounds that he cannot get a fair trial here.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said he would not object to having the newspaper stories entered in evidence but did not want them read aloud. Brown agreed, saying that if they were all read into the record "we will be here for 25 years."

"If it will prevent my client from being hanged," Chief Defense Council Melvin Belli said, "I will spend the rest of my life here."

Belli added that he thought the articles should be read because it would be impossible for the judge to get the full impact of them by 'judicial osmosis."

A horrified national television audience watched as Oswald, 24, was shot to death as he was being transferred from the city jail to the county jail.

The defense contends that Ruby cannot get a fair trial here because of newspaper stories about the shooting.

The first story Belli started reading was one quoting Wade as saying the trial was important to Dallas because it would show whether the courts and the laws would prevail or whether one man could take into his own hands the role of executioner.

It quoted Wade as saying he would ask the death penalty and was sure that a Dallas County jury would return a just verdict.

Ruby talked at length with newsmen before the change of venue hearing began.

Fighting back tears, he said mail from many people and a telephone message relayed to him from ex-boxer Barney Ross had given him a big lift while in jail.

Ruby said Ross had telephoned his sister, Mrs. Eva Grant of Dallas.

Belli began the hearing by saying "Dallas had integrity and can hold its head up with any city in the world." After praising Dallas he said he hoped his appearance as defense counsel would "make Dallas a little broader."

At this point, Wade objected and asked Brown to instruct Belli to get on with the evidence. Brown did so.

Wade said he will fight vigorously to keep the trial here.

Unless the case is transferred, Ruby's trial is scheduled to begin in Judge Brown's courtroom on Feb. 17.

The defense claimed "Dallas County cannot judge Ruby fairly while the state, the nation and the world judge Dallas."

Rights Bill Debate Ended

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted today to cut off debate on the civil rights bill in an effort to bring it to a final vote this afternoon.

Using their heavy majority to stifle Southern talk against the bill, the civil rights forces rammed through a debate limiting motion by 211-73.

Under it all debate on the controversial job equality section will end at 1 p.m. (EST).

But foes of the bill, chiefly southerners, could still cause difficulties and delay in reaching a final roll-call vote.

The House met early and was prepared to sit late in an effort to get the 10-part bill to a final vote.

The biggest question was what final form the employment section might take.

The Southern opposition made only a token effort to knock the section out of the bill during a 10-hour session Saturday and concentrated with some success on amendments designed to make it unwieldy, if not unworkable.

They also succeeded in using up so much time the leadership was forced to abandon its effort to reach a final vote Saturday night.

Republicans, who had hoped to leave town for the start of a week of politicking at Lincoln Day rallies, tried to keep the House in session all night, if necessary, to pass the bill. They failed, 169-159, to keep the legislative session going and then lost 220-175 when they tried to block adjournment.

The long Saturday session was marked by the first successful attempts by Southerners to get amendments approved over the bipartisan forces supporting the bill.

They got enough Republican help to add discrimination based on sex to the bill's ban against discrimination in employment because of race, religion or national origin.

They also won enough Republican support to exempt religious schools from coverage by the proposal and successfully supported a Republican amendment that would prevent any employer who refused to hire an atheist from being charged with discrimination.

When it looked as though an amendment to include discrimination because of age might be added too, the civil rights force had rallied enough votes to kill it, 123-94, calling the vote "a real test of responsibility" for those who professed to be trying to help Negroes gain better employment opportunities.

Peddles Plan In Athens

ATHENS (AP)—An intensive U.S. drive to calm the Cyprus crisis centered today in Athens.

Undersecretary of State George Ball, acting as President Johnson's trouble shooter, held a series of conferences in London Sunday, then flew to Athens and opened talks with U.S. ambassadors to Greece, Turkey and Cyprus and Greek officials. From Athens he goes to Turkey.

Ball's aim is to win acceptance of a plan for an international peace force, dominated by British and American troops, to keep the peace on Cyprus. The island republic has been torn by fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Diplomatic sources said Greece has accepted the plan, but Turkey has some reservations. The chief stumbling block is Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, who wants any international force answerable to the U.N. Security Council.

Workers Still Load Red Wheat

HOUSTON (AP)—Longshoremen said they would continue loading a freighter with wheat bound for Russia today despite threatened efforts by a group of picketers to stop them.

"Our men will work," said Willie Wells, president of Local 1273 of the International Longshoremen's Association.

The leader of the pickets, Robert M. Kennedy, a 45-year-old Houston cabinet maker, said his group would form again today and picket if the longshoremen cross their lines.

He said his crew would picket all ships that come to Houston to take on wheat for Russia whether or not the stevedore work goes on.

Kennedy said he hoped to have as many pickets out today as he did yesterday when 50 men, women and children showed up.

The union officials vowed their men would continue working despite the effort to halt the loading of 600,000 bushels of wheat sold to the Soviet Union by the Continental Grain Co., New York.

The loading, which began late Friday about the 17,000-ton British freighter Inverewe, is more than three-fourths completed and was expected to be finished today.

The pickets carried signs Sunday which read: "Why trade wheat for bodies?" "Starve Communism." "Don't feed killers." "American wheat for Americans," and "Boston tea party and Houston wheat party."

Both Wells and Raymond Duncan, president of ILA Local 872, said the sale had been approved by the federal government and the maritime unions. They suggested any complaints be forwarded directly to federal authorities.

US Denies Committment To Review Panama Treaty

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high Latin American source has claimed the United States committed itself in 1962 to renegotiating the Panama Canal treaty, but the U.S. State Department says no such a greement was made.

"There is not and never has been a secret governmental agreement between the United States and Panama concerning treaty relationships," a State Department spokesman said in a prepared statement Sunday night.

Earlier, the Latin American source said Panamanian officials told the Inter - American Peace Committee last month that a memorandum signed in 1962 committed the United States to renegotiate the 1903 treaty, under which the United States runs the canal.

Efforts by the committee to set up U.S.-Panama negotiations after rioting Jan. 9 on the Canal Zone border collapsed over U.S. refusal to agree in advance to Panamanian demands that the talks include renegotiation of the treaty.

A committee of the Organization of American States is now looking into Panamanian charges that the United States was an aggressor. The committee is seeking a basis for new U.S.-Panama talks.

"There is no difference in the attitude of the U.S. government today toward treaty revision and that which existed in June 1962," the State Department said.

"A memorandum being circulated by Latin American sources never constituted agreement of any kind," it said. "It is simply a memorandum of conversation describing certain conditions which might entail treaty revision."

Arturo Morgan Morales said the agreement was signed shortly after talks in Washington between President Kennedy and Panamanian President Roberto Chiari. As presented by Morales, the memorandum said the two presidents had agreed to appoint high-level representatives to discuss mutual problems including the treaty.

Huge Tax Cut Bill Rounds Final Turn

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax cut bill which will save taxpayers more than $11 billion yearly moves at full speed today to a House-Senate conference and could be signed into law within three weeks.

The final leg of the bill's long Capitol Hill journey starts when conferees representing the Senate and House huddle to consider more than 150 differences in the tax cut versions passed by the two branches.

Although the Senate and House are $500 million apart on over-all reductions, most of their differences are considered minor.

Not in controversy are the cuts for individual and corporate taxpayers.

Taxpayers subject to withholding deductions will have an estimated $800 million more in their pay envelopes every month.

The extra money for 80 million individuals and 550,000 business taxpayers is expected by the administration to give the national economy a shot in the arm to inoculate it against a business slump.

The Senate passed the bill Friday ahead of schedule. Its version called for an $11.6 billion reduction.

The House measure passed Sept. 25 provided for cuts of about $11.1 billion.

Most reductions in both plans would be effective retroactively to Jan. 1 of this year.

Somewhere between the two figures, the conferees hope to reach agreement before Feb. 22, which would leave the Senate and the House six working days to consider the compromise and send it to the President before March 1.

The President wants quicker action. He would like to have the lower withholding rates go into effect as soon as possible. The bookkeeping machinery to do this takes an estimated two weeks or more to get into high gear.

Wages and salaries are now subject to 18 per cent withholding rates. The House voted to drop this to 15 per cent for this year and 14 per cent starting next Jan. 1. The Senate, at the President's prodding, voted to drop the rate to 14 per cent immediately to put more spending money into workers' pockets.

The Senate and House voted to cut individual rates from their present 20 to 91 per cent range to 14 to 70 per cent. Two-thirds of the reduction would become effective this year and one-third next year.

Both branches voted to reduce existing corporate rates from 52 per cent to 50 per cent this year and to 48 per cent next year.

Texas Lutheran and St. Edward's are tied for second with 3-2 marks.

St. Mary's edged Texas Lutheran 51-49 last week to take over undisputed first place.

Alaska Tries Honor Plan On High School Smokers

By G. K. HODENFIELD
A.P. Education Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Many high school students are habitual smokers, and it's almost an even bet that the recent government report linking cigarettes and lung cancer won't discourage the habit.

That is the opinion of high school principals attending a national convention in Chicago, given in response to an Associated Press questionnaire.

Almost two-thirds of the principals surveyed said 20-60 per cent of their students smoke regularly. More than one-quarter place the figure at 40 per cent or more.

The principals were asked: "From your observations, do you believe the government report has tended to discourage student smoking?"

Fifty-six per cent said "yes," 44 per cent said "no."

Virtually all the principals reported their schools regularly provide classroom instruction about the dangers of smoking.

The rest said such instruction has been added since the surgeon general's report last month singled out smoking as a serious health hazard.

The principals reported that state laws which prohibit teenagers from purchasing or using cigarettes are "usually not enforced" and "completely ineffective."

Many local governments limit their legal efforts to barring smoking on school buses or within several hundred yards of the school buildings.

Several principals reported they have taken action into their own hands.

At Sibley High School in West St. Paul, Minn., students caught smoking on the school grounds are suspended on the first offense and expelled for the second.

Estimates of the percentage of students who smoke ranged from "none," at Duchesne (Utah) High to 60 per cent at Milford, Mich., and Hamden, Conn.

Over-all, 38 per cent of the principals reported that up to 39 per cent of their students smoke habitually. Twenty per cent said 20-29 per cent, 14 per cent said 30-39 per cent, 12 said 40-49 per cent, and 16 per cent said 50-60 per cent.

Several principals reported efforts by students to discourage their classmates from smoking.

Leslie D. Wells, principal at West Anchorage, Alaska, High said, "A new honor plan no-smoking campaign this year tended to discourage the habit and show our younger students that the school family does not believe people of high school age should smoke. Speaking from experience, it is working as well or better than a get-tough policy."

Drunken Elephants On Rampage

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Drunken elephants are terrorizing railroad workers based at a small station in South Africa's Kruger National Park, a large game reserve.

At this time of year some elephants get drunk after eating fermented berries which have dropped from the Maroela trees growing in the park. Like some humans on a bender, some pickled pachyderms become extremely aggressive and unpredictable.

One worker was returning from a party with friends when a drunken bull elephant tossed him off his bicycle and stamped the machine into the ground. The African suffered two broken ribs and cuts on his face, but escaped.

Another worker was sitting on his veranda when he heard a crack in the backyard.

"An old outcast bull elephant we call 'Patrolman' was tearing some fruit trees apart," he said. "Suddenly the wind changed and he came for me. I shut the kitchen door just in time.

"He ran around the cottage for about five minutes, trumpeting and flapping his ears, drunk as can be. Then he stormed off into the bush."

Freedom Vs. Communism

Alexander Hamilton (1757-1804), brilliant American statesman, said, "The fabric of American empire ought to rest on the solid basis of the consent of the people."

Joseph Stalin (1879-1953) was Generalissimo and Dictator of Russia. Stalin was intelligent but without mercy. Under his rule he ordered arrests and execution of millions of people, without trial or investigations, creating conditions of fear and even despair.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This may sound like a silly problem, but it is very serious to me. My husband travels a lot and I am terrified to stay alone at night, so he gets me a room at a motel while he is gone. I get all upset several days before he leaves and I'm unbearable to live with. I realize how stupid this is, and we really can't afford the extra expense, but I just can't help myself. I am so ashamed of my problem that I don't tell people about it. When my neighbors see me coming home the next morning, I can imagine what they must think. What should I tell them when they ask me where I was the night before?

AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID: Tell them you spent the night at a motel. They'll never believe it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am a teenage girl who figured something out that might help parents. When a girl goes on a date with a boy she likes pretty well, she usually gives him a goodnight kiss. In order to discourage this (I guess) most parents leave the porch light burning. Most kids, not wishing to put on a show for the whole neighborhood, take the hint. But they soon take to saying their goodnights in a parked car on a back road. Parents who want to protect their daughters from a tender goodnight kiss at the door may unknowingly be encouraging a wrestling match in a parked car. Thank you.

A GIRL WHO KNOWS

DEAR GIRL: A brute who would wrestle a girl for a kiss in a parked car is not about to settle for a "tender goodnight kiss" at the door. The porch light should be ON until everyone who's OUT is IN. And the place for a goodnight kiss is IN the house.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: May I add something to your answer to the sixth-grader who was ashamed of his mother because she had a foreign accent? Every American, except the American Indian, descended from foreigners. But foreigners brought more to our shores than an accent. They brought knowledge, ambition and talent. These are the things that made America great. Don't be ashamed of Mom because your teacher asks her to repeat something. Teachers are used to that. I also want to assure you that your "good looking American father knows your mother from way back, and he is used to her English by now. A person who can communicate in a language other than his own (no matter how broken) is working toward a better understanding. And understanding only shall lead us to the peace that we are all praying for. Abby, no matter how tired I am, I always find time for your column. Please reciprocate and find space for my letter.

Optimist Club Changes Meeting Time; Now Meet For Breakfast

The Snyder Optimist Club, formerly a club which met at noon for a luncheon meeting, has changed their meeting time to 7 a.m. and will meet on Thursdays for breakfast.

At the last meeting, Larry Smith, boy scout executive, spoke to the club on the explorer phase of scouting. Explorer scouting, said Smith, makes it possible for teenage boys to realize the benefits of scouting and to continue to grow to be useful citizens.

The club discussed plans for the oratorical contest to be held this spring and appointed members to speak at local schools. Junior McCormick will speak at the high school, A. C. Floyd at Lamar Junior High School; and Tommy Ivison at Travis Junior High.

At the last meeting Keith Pitner was welcomed as a new member and John Noble returned after a leave of absence.

Beauticians To Observe Beauty Week

If it is true that "Love makes the world go 'round," then our community will be fairly awhirl during the week of February 9-15. This is the week chosen by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association for their annual loveliness festival, National Beauty Salon Week, and their 1964 theme, "You'll Love the New Hair Styles" is not only designed to bring women into the salons, but it holds special promise for many of the less fortunates in our community.

During "National Beauty Salon Week" more than 26 local members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Unit 77 will pack their combs, brushes, scissors and other hairdressing paraphernalia for a series of beauty excursions to the following institutions: Nursing Home, Shutins, and Hospital where they will offer free haircuts, permanent waves, shampoos and the new Spring hairdos to the hospitalized and institutionalized persons. They will also give underpriviliged children permanents and haircuts.

Mrs. Bobbie Cannon, Chairman of the local National Beauty Salon Week program, explained, "Projected figures indicate that there will be a steady growth in the demand for beauty services, and hence in the opportunities for careers in the field of Cosmetology. "National Beauty Salon Week" gives us an excellent chance to tell people about these career opportunities, and at the same time, to inform the public about the efforts of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association to increase opportunities, standards and goals of the beauty professions."

Similar celebrations will take place in over 1,000 communities throughout the country. Last year the 67,000 members of the National Hairdressers donated more than 500,000 free beauty services to shut-ins at hospitals and institutions. This year even more "loveliness gifts" are expected to be provided by the organization.

President of the local NHCA Unit is Merlyn Pinkerton.

THE HAND ROCKS THE CRADLE---

Attempt To Isolate Cuba Is Not A Howling Success

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's effort to isolate Fidel Castro is beginning to look sick if only because business is business.

It's not a one-way street, either.

A British newspaper, the Daily Mail, complained bitterly over the weekend because a leading British physiologist, unable to get enough research funds for his work in his homeland, is leaving for the United States.

This is a frank acknowledgment of business rivalry at a time when the United States is complaining bitterly because British and French firms are selling Castro millions of dollars' worth of buses, trucks and tractors.

They are not the only friends or allies who are dealing, or are expected to deal, with Cuba.

Spain is expected to buy 200,000 tons of Cuban sugar this year, the Netherlands and Japan about 100,000 tons each. Castro in turn is expected to buy things from Japan.

This country was angered perhaps even more when France recognized Red China which this country would like to isolate, just as it would Castro. So far it has kept Red China out of the United Nations.

President Charles de Gaulle, being very practical, said it was just the practical thing to do, since the reality is that the Red Chinese run the China mainland. He is also butting into Southeast Asia and Latin America.

The British prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, even made stepped-up British trade with Cuba sound like a device for destroying Castro's revolutionary fervor.

He defended it this way: "People become less Communist when they're more comfortable."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, running for the Republican presidential nomination, as usual has a simple answer. He says he'd use warships to stop British or French ships from carrying cargoes to Cuba.

Since he's not president, he wouldn't have to take the responsibility for what might happen afterward if President Johnson followed his advice.

For instance:

What would happen to this country's various alliances if it tried to stop its allies' ships with American warships? What would happen if they ignored the warships' orders to halt?

The United States can't very well go to war with Cuba without risking the loss of its world influence or war with the Soviet Union. And no administration in a presidential election year is likely to come to terms with Castro.

So there doesn't seem much it can do except to try to persuade its allies and friends not to overdo this business of business with the Cuban.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAGAS

QUESTION: How did sagas come to be written?

• • •

ANSWER: On many a winter evening long ago, Norse families grouped around the roaring fires, which in their dwellings were often in the middle of the room, and listened to stories about great heroes or legends of the Scandinavian gods. These stories were the sagas, either sung or told, often by special singers called "skalds."

In the 800's and 900's A.D. the Vikings plundered Europe and then settled down to colonize Iceland. Many of the finest sagas developed in Iceland during this period. Such were the famous written sagas of Snorri Sturlusen, composed during the 1200's, which tell us so much about Scandinavian poetry, history and mythology. Other Icelandic sagas give fascinating details about Leif Ericson's trip to Vinland the Good, or America, in A.D. 1003. Although they are not always historically accurate, the sagas give us a vivid idea of life in the Viking days, and of the ideal of courage which inspired the Norsemen to deeds of extreme daring.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Can you guess where it was Leif Ericson really landed in America and stayed for a while—Maine, Cape Cod, or further south? Recently, remains have been found which experts say pinpoint the location. It is in an isolated area in the northern part of Newfoundland.

(Karen Adams of Chattanooga, Tenn., wins today's grand prize of a 20 volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.) 2-10

Columnist Opens His Mail Again

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you're looking for a new status symbol, why not be the first in your neighborhood to own a live buffalo? You can buy one from the U.S. Department of Interior for 3,300 buffalo nickels—$165.

Valentine's Day originally was for the birds. It is celebrated on Feb. 14, because that is the time when doves begin to pair. Americans this year are expected to send some 480 million valentines.

Fire, man's greatest friend against the cold, is also one of his most tragic foes. Fires last year cost nearly 12,000 U.S. lives.

America has more stockholders than union members. Women outnumber men among the 17 million who own shares in industry—and housewives make up the biggest single occupational group.

A government bureau reports that the average man's posterior covers 179.4 square inches and exerts an average pressure of .92 pounds for each square inch.

Our quotable notables: "Every cloud has its silver lining but it is sometimes a little difficult to get it to the mint"—Don Marquis.

It is often said there's no place like home. Well, in England there's a hamlet called "No Place" with a population of 29.

Sound advice: "The education of teen-agers would be insured if parents would pull a few wires: television, telephone and ignition"—Catholic Digest.

The high cost of living has caught up with cats and dogs. Some of the nation's 22,000 veterinarians charge $5 for an office visit and $10 for a home call. A major operation plus convalescent care for a pet can cost $1,000 or more.

Quickies: Americans wear out 60 million decks of playing cards a year. Women consistently leave longer cigarette butts than men. There are more than 8,000 drugs in use today, including a tranquilizer for minks to make them more reproductive. Julius Caesar devised one of the first known codes to keep his correspondence secret.

It was Benjamin Disraeli who observed, "Every man has a right to be conceited until he is successful."

Macmillan Quits Politics

LONDON (AP) — Harold Macmillan, who served his country in war and peace, announced today on his 70th birthday he is saying farewell to politics.

"After 40 years in the House of Commons," the former prime minister said in a letter, "I really cannot undertake the full duties of a conscientious member."

His letter was addressed to conservative party officials at his subconstituency of Bromley.

Since stepping down from a seven-year term as prime minister after a prostate operation four months ago, Macmillan has seldom been seen in Parliament.

Macmillan's career spanned the perilous days of World War II and the cold war. He became prime minister in 1956.

Macmillan probably will devote himself mainly to his family book publishing business.

As a former prime minister he can go to the House of Lords if he wishes.

Ends Plane Ride; Dies In Propeller

NORTH AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — It was an exhilarating ride for Nancy Thompson, 16, flying in a small plane.

When the pilot, George E. Martin, 45, a New York City detective, landed the two-seater piper cub Sunday at Zahn's Airport near this Long Island community, Nancy couldn't wait to tell her schoolmate, Martin's daughter, Judy, 16, all about the ride.

Nancy, of nearby Wantagh, leaped from the craft and ran straight into the spinning propeller. It killed her instantly.

Turbulent Winter Games Finally Grind To A Close

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The turbulent ninth Winter Olympics has sighed to a close, nursing bruises, pondering lessons and wondering whatever happened to the snow.

Russia scooped medal honors with 11 golds, eight silvers and six bronzes. The United States placed eighth in medal standings.

The final Olympic event—the spectacular 90 meters ski jump—was watched in bright sunshine Sunday by a crowd of 70,000, the largest of the games.

The gold medal went to Norway's airborne Toralf Engan with Veikko Kankkonen of Finland second and another Norwegian, Torgeir Brandtzaeg, third.

America finished with one gold medal won by Terry McDermott, a barber from Essexville, Mich., two silvers and three bronzes.

Perhaps the most impressive U.S. finish was in the men's slalom on Saturday. Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., won the silver medal and Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., the bronze. Those were the first American medals in men's skiing in Winter Olympic history.

Even before the games started, there were shocks and alarms. First the weather stayed fair and snowless, and the ski runs had to be hand-packed with snow brought in from neighboring valleys. There never was any snowfall for the games.

Then there were two deaths in training with a British tobogganist and an Australian skier the victims. The games eventually settled down to bruising and bloody clashes between the swarming Austrian police and most everybody that fell out with them.

Cameramen and journalists ended up in jail. Three American team members—Bill Marolt, 20, Aspen, Colo.; George Farmer, 25, Seattle, Wash., and Mike Hessel, 21, Eugene, Ore.—also got arrested. They stood up in court, wearing their bruises like badges. The police complained the Americans made all the trouble.

As the time came for extinguishing the Olympic flame in Sunday night's closing ceremony, calm returned to this mountain-rimmed Olympic site.

Russia took the ice hockey title after being pressed to the end by the Canadians, once the champions of them all.

The Alpine skiing events went to the Alpinists with Austria's Egon Zimmermann capturing the men's downhill and his countrywoman Christl Haas taking the women's event.

Austria won one other Alpine title, and France took the other three through Francois Bonlieu (men's giant slalom), Marielle Goitschel (women's giant slalom) and Christine Goitschel (women's slalom).

The Scandinavian countries swept all of the Nordic men's events as expected with Russia's Claudia Boyarskikh picking up three gold medals in the women's division—one of them for a share in the cross country.

Russia's Lidia Skoblikova made history by becoming the first athlete to win four gold medals at a Winter Olympics. She scooped the pool in the women's speed skating, invincible over every distance from 500 to 3,000 meters.

Russia's grasp was broken when the men took over, but the Soviet Union still picked up one gold, with the other three speed skating titles going to McDermott, Sweden's world champion Jonny Nilsson and Norway's Knut Johannesen.

Holland's Sjoukje Dijkstra, overwhelming favorite for the figure skating title, won with hardly a check in her elegant stride. Germany's Manfred Schnelldorfer took the men's championship, and the pairs were won by Ludmill Belousova and Oleg Protopopov of Russia.

OH YOU KIDD! — Billy Kidd, 20, of Stowe, Vt., is shown in action in men's slalom at Winter Olympics in Lizum, Austria, near Innsbruck, in which he took second place. Kidd and Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., took silver and bronze medals in the event, the first time Americans have won medals in men's skiing at the Olympics. (AP Wirephoto)

Lincoln Cage Teams Win 1 Of Three

Lincoln High School's girls basketball team won a 54-52 overtime decision over Sweetwater, while both the Lincoln A and B boys teams dropped decisions to Sweetwater teams.

In the girls game, which was tied at 48-48 at the end of regulation play, Mary Goosby had 22 points, 4 of them in the overtime period. Evelyn Braziel had 16, Johnnie Goosby 12 and Pearlie Scott had 4. Pearlie Scott also pulled down 10 rebounds.

Joseph Crayton scored 27 points, but the Lincoln boys A team still went down 83-76. Vernon Clay had 19, Lindwood Durst 18 and Brady Cobbs had 12. Clay had 11 rebounds. Tommy Floyd scored 28 points for Sweetwater.

The Lincoln boys B team dropped a 59-52 decision as Langston Powell scored 18 points, Paul Barnes 14, Mathel McLaughlin, Billy McClain and M. C. Powell 6 each and Howard Todd 2. McClain got 14 rebounds.

South's Cage Giants Whirl Into Stretch

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

College basketball has hit the top of the stretch with a quartet of Southern cage powers bunched near the head of the pack.

Kentucky, Davidson, Vanderbilt and Duke are among the nation's top ten, and all four will be in the thick of this week's scramble for conference and national honors.

Kentucky, No. 3 in last week's Associated Press major college poll, meets Southeastern Conference foe Mississippi State tonight. The Wildcats, tied with Georgia Tech for the lead in a wide-open SEC scramble, ran their season mark to 17-2 Saturday by routing Mississippi 102-50.

Eighth-ranked Vanderbilt is involved in the week's major SEC scraps. Vandy, one-half a game behind in the league race and 17-2 over-all, has toughies with Georgia Tech on Wednesday and Tennessee on Saturday. The Commodores, beaten by Tennessee in their SEC opener, nipped LSU 66-54 Saturday.

Fifth-ranked Davidson, 18-1, preps for Saturday's showdown at seventh-ranked Duke, 15-3, with two Southern Conference games. The Wildcats, idle last Saturday, will try to increase their league lead against Richmond Tuesday and Furman Thursday.

Duke, meanwhile, seeks a 28th straight Atlantic Coast Conference victim at Virginia tonight. The Blue Devils made it 27 in a row by slugging Maryland 104-72 Saturday.

The rugged Missouri Valley Conference rates top billing tonight, however, as fifth-ranked Wichita puts its MVC lead on the line against upstart Duke.

The Shockers, 17-4, dropped their first Valley decision in seven starts Saturday at Bradley 76-74 while Drake topped St. Louis 70-57. Drake, 4-1 in the MVC and 14-4 over-all, has climbed from last year's league cellar into this season's runner-up spot.

UCLA and Michigan, the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 clubs, each won Saturday.

Two Streaks Fall, Another Goes On Line

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Long track and field winning strings by Gary Gubner and Bill Crothers went by the wayside over the weekend, Hayes Jones extended his and still another one goes on the line today.

Manhattan, holder of the longest current conference track championship skein, goes after its 15th straight Metropolitan Intercollegiate indoor title in a two-day meet in New York today and Tuesday.

Gubner, the huge New York University shot putter, and Toronto's Crothers were upset in the Los Angeles Times meet Saturday night. Crothers quite literally.

The 23-year-old pharmacist, shooting for his 20th consecutive indoor victory at 1,000 or 880 yard, tripped on an opponent's heel in the 1,000, sprawled on the track but got up and just missed catching Jim Dupree at the tape.

Stuart's Bat Is Lucrative Weapon

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Someone once tried to tell Dick Stuart there's more to baseball than swinging a bat.

Stuart, baseball's Cassius Clay sans verse, obviously wasn't convinced and today has his most lucrative contract to prove his philosophy is profitable if not necessarily altogether correct.

Boston's big first baseman signed his 1964 contract last Saturday. It is believed to call for a $7,500 raise, making Stuart one of the highest paid players in Red Sox history at $40,000.

Stuart cracked 42 home runs, second best in the American League, and topped the league with 118 runs batted in and 319 total bases. His .261 batting average naturally was overlooked as he was named the Comeback of the Year in the AL.

After all, he hit a lowly .228 with a meager production of 16 homers and 64 RBI for the Pirates in 1962.

Another of Boston's league leaders, batting champion Carl Yastrzemski, also returned his signed contract Saturday. Yastrzemski reportedly also received a $7,500 raise, which gives him a $27,500 salary following his .321 performance in 1963.

Veteran right-handed pitcher Bob Friend signed with Pittsburgh Sunday. Friend, entering his 14th season with the Pirates, should become the most worked pitcher in their history. His 3,019 innings pitched are topped only by Wilbur Cooper's 3,201 from 1912 to 1924.

Among others who signed during the weekend were outfielder Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers and pitchers Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels, Phil Regan of Detroit and Earl Francis of Pittsburgh.

Then there's the first baseman who signed with the Dodgers. He's Dick Nen, the rookie who hit a dramatic ninth-inning home run last season that sent a crucial game with St. Louis into extra innings.

The Dodgers eventually won the game and shortly afterward clinched the National League pennant.

Boys' Club Teams Play Close Games

Boys' Club 5th grade basketball teams played some close and exciting basketball games Saturday morning at Lamar gyms. The Rockets lost two 1-point decisions to the Cyclones and Mustangs by 11-12 and 10-11 scores. The Tigers had to play two overtime games, losing the first one 16-18 to the Falcons and winning the second one 15-14 over the Mustangs. The Bobcats dropped two games, a 16-10 game to Cyclones and 31-0 to the Falcons. The Falcons are leading the league with a 4 won none lost record. The Tigers have won 3 and lost 1. The Mustangs are 2 and 2, with the Rockets and Bob Cats still 0 and 4.

In the 6 th grade games played Saturday afternoon the Wildcats were the only team that won 2 games — they defeated the Tornadoes 26-23 and the Eagles 16-14. The Lions lost 13-23 to the Eagles and beat the Stallions 30-18. The Bombers lost to the Stallions 15-17, and won from the Tornadoes on a forfeit. The Lions, Eagles and Wildcats are tied in league standing at 3 won and 1 lost. The Stallions and Bombers share a 2 and 2 record and the Tornadoes are 0 and 4.

Solid Driver Gives Nicklaus Meet Title

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) —Jack Nicklaus remembered something Arnold Palmer showed him two years ago and used it to advantage in winning the $50,000 Phoenix Open, an event Arnie had captured the past three years.

"He used a driver on all the holes and won by a mile," Nicklaus recalled as he pocketed the first prize check with a 66 and 72-hole score of 271.

The burly young pro from Columbus, Ohio, proved his ability with a driver when he blasted 350 yards off the tee on the fourth hole and then hit hole high, six feet away from the hole on the 305-yard fifth hole. That brought a birdie and eagle and sent Nicklaus into the lead to stay en route to his first 1964 victory.

"You hit a driver and you have a chance for birdies," Jack explained. "You may hit behind trees a couple of times, but overall it's to your advantage to use the driver."

He proved it with a finish three strokes ahead of the tourney's Cinderella man, Bobby Brue, a former Milwaukee amateur star who got into the event only because 11 others dropped out. Brue, 29, was the last alternate admitted to the field, yet he put together rounds of 70-67-67-70 for a 274.

Until he bogeyed the 15th hole Brue appeared to have a chance of catching Nicklaus, who had three bogeys himself on the back nine after a 30 going out. As it was, bespectacled Bobby collected his largest golf check —$4,000.

Deadlocked at 275 were Gary Player of South Africa, making his first 1964 United States start, and San Diego's Gene Littler. They had 72 and 67 respectively the final day.

George Bayer, the third round leader, went over par on the final two holes to finish at 276 despite being only two strokes behind Nicklaus through 16. He three-putted both the 17th and 18th greens. Big Jack birdied the 18th to boost his margin.

Palmer wound up with 278 and a tie for 11th place.

Aggies, Raiders Facing Showdown

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

It won't decide the championship but it could go a long way toward it if Texas A&M should win a crucial Southwest Conference basketball game with Texas Tech at Lubbock Tuesday night.

The Aggies already have beaten all of the top contenders except Texas Tech—and on the road at that—and if they could trim the Techs in their own bailiwick would be in the position of getting all of the tough ones on their home court the rest of the way.

Texas A&M stayed unbeaten and ran its string to six straight last week by trouncing Baylor 83-58 and Arkansas 72-64.

Texas Tech moved into undisputed second place by tumbling Southern Methodist 85-83 on the Methodist's home court. The Red Raiders, with a 5-1 record, can pull into a tie for the lead with A&M if they win the Tuesday night game.

The way the crowd is building up, this game appears to be considered as for the championship so far as the fans are concerned. The ticket demand is so great the game will be piped into an auditorium adjoining the coliseum by closed television. In that way the crowd can be built to 13,000.

Only five teams are conceded to be in the championship race and one of those—Arkansas—is just hanging on mathematically. The Razorbacks, who took thumpings from Rice and Texas A&M last week, now are 3-3.

Rice and Southern Methodist are tied for third with 4-2 records.

Defending champion Texas is 2-4 while Baylor and Texas Christian are 0-6 and all three are being written off as contenders for anything.

Southern Methodist put the crusher on Texas last week when the Methodist edged the Longhorns 76-74 in an overtime game. Rice beat Arkansas 76-63 and Baylor 82-65 to stay in the race.

Southern Methodist plays Arkansas at Fayetteville Tuesday night while Texas Christian and Baylor clash at Waco and Texas and Rice tangle at Houston.

Saturday night Texas Tech plays Texas at Austin, Texas A&M gets Rice at College Station and Arkansas and Baylor clash at Fayetteville. Southern Methodist and Texas Christian play at Fort Worth in a day game that is being televised.

Twenty - three contestants were present for the first shoot of the year of the Canyon Gun Club Sunday. A number of out-of-town contestants were present for the shoot.

First place in the shoot was won by Glen Bowlin with a score of 100 and 10 Xs. Bowlin did his shooting with his "Old Faithful," a 222 Remington Magnum.

There was a fourway tie for second and third places with Dubb Tubb and Bill Emerson of Snyder and H. B. Reagan and W. L. Wheat of Big Spring all scoring 100 with eight Xs. Bill Emerson finally edged out W. L. Wheat for second place.

Bill McLennan received the "Crying Towel" for the day with a score of 92 and no Xs. It was reported, however, that McLennan had a lot of competition for the bottom spot.

Lamesa Is Alone In 2nd Place

Lamesa's Tornadoes took over undisputed second place Saturday night in the District 3-AAA basketball race by bouncing the Brownfield Cubs, 76-52.

The game, originally scheduled for Friday night in Brownfield, was delayed until Saturday night when officials failed to show up in Brownfield on Friday.

The victory put the Tornadoes on the inside track for a second place finish and the right to represent the district in the Interscholastic League playoffs. Loop-leading Snyder is ineligible for playoff play.

Only two district playing dates remain on the 3-AAA slate. Snyder, with a 7-1 won-lost record, goes to Sweetwater for a game Tuesday night and then returns home to close out the season here Friday night with the Brownfield Cubs.

Lamesa, 6-2, goes to Colorado City on Tuesday night and then entertains Lake View in what could be a crucial game on Friday night.

Brownfield will be at Lake View on Tuesday night, and Sweetwater will be at Colorado City on Saturday night.

Lamar Tech After Title

By The Associated Press

Lamar Tech goes after the first basketball championship of the Southland Conference this week.

The Cardinals, leading the league with a 5-1 record, journey to Jonesboro Saturday to clash with Arkansas State, the second place team that's only a half-game back.

Lamar Tech can clinch the title if it wins. Otherwise, Arkansas State would take over the lead and put the championship on the line Feb. 27 when the two teams meet in the last conference game of the season.

Lamar Tech swamped Trinity 125-89 last week to hold on to first place. Arkansas State won two games, beating Arlington State 82-76 and Abilene Christian 92-66.

There are only two conference games on the schedule this week with Arlington State and Trinity virtually settling the cellar spot at Arlington Friday night and then the Lamar Tech-Arkansas State clash Saturday.

Damage Is Heavy In College Fire

BELTON (AP)—One of Mary Hardin-Baylor College's main buildings burned in a Sunday morning fire. Cause of the $600,000 blaze was undetermined.

The three-story structure, erected early this century, housed administrative offices, the Alma Reeves Chapel and the departments of sociology, religion and journalism.

The building was virtually the center of the college's activities. The Baptist school has an enrollment of 593 this school term.

Fire Marshal Frank Hamner placed the loss at $600,000. The building and contents were insured for $156,000.

Most of the inside construction of the limestone-brick faced building was of wood, and the whole structure was in flames when firemen arrived.

The college is one of the oldest in Texas. It was chartered in 1845 by the Republic of Texas. Virtually all of the school's records burned in Sunday's fire, although a few in a vault were saved.

The president of the college, Dr. Arthur K. Tyson, was out of town on a speaking engagement when the fire broke out.

Leningrad Story Touching Even After Twenty Years

By PRESTON GROVER

LENINGRAD (AP) — At the time the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, people of this city were eating hides, dogs, cats, rats, grass, glue, pine needles—anything at all to remain alive in one of the worst sieges of modern history.

Now, 20 years after it ended, the city commemorates the hour that the German blockade was broken by attacks from within and from outside.

Before the blockade ended, a third of the population had starved to death, 632,253 people by official count. Disease had little part in it. They starved, dying cold and alone in bed, falling by night in the snow in the streets, or on the threshold of the factories they tried to reach to perform their daily tasks and earn their ration cards. To the people who survived, it seems incredible now that they did it.

The Germans, aided by the Finns, threw a blockade around Leningrad in the cold fall of 1941 and twisted it so tight that for weeks and months all but the tiniest trickle of food was shut off.

Finally a thin dribble of food, gasoline and other supplies began coming in over a road across the ice of Lake Ladoga, where the Russians held a narrow beachhead. The story of that road itself is an epic of suffering, disaster and sheer human determination. Trucks loaded with starving people being evacuated across the lake in the night plunged through hidden shell holes, dumping scores of people into icy water from which they were too weak to scramble. Survivors around them were too weak to pull them out.

Not since the German siege of Paris in 1870 had a great world city suffered a hunger siege. Hitler announced his intention to starve Leningrad into surrender, then to obliterate it.

Leningrad was totally unprepared for siege, and apparently Soviet authorities thought for a time the city was a goner. They shipped out much vital machinery ahead of the Germans, and over 600,000 people, and even some food.

When the besieging armies finally closed in, in mid-September, 1941, the city had supplies of food for hardly a month for its two million.

An Intourist employe in Leningrad, Sinitsyn, said he was in the city at the age of 14 with his mother. His father was in the navy. Without bitterness he told what happened.

"After awhile you got used to the hunger if you kept busy." He and his mother worked in a hospital.

"Think of a piece of bread like that," he said, and marked out the back of his hand from the knuckles to the wrist. "That had to do for all day."

His grandfather was a good scrounger. Almost every day he came back with two or three frozen potatoes he had dug up near the front lines, where few others would go. There were four in the family. Sometimes it was only the remaining tops of carrots gathered in the field.

Once he returned with a cowhide.

"We burned the hair off, then grandmother boiled it for hours on the little stove. We all huddled in the kitchen. After several hours of boiling the hide turned into a sort of jelly. When it was cooled we ate it. It was very good. At least it seemed so then.

"Every morning when we went out, there were dead people in the streets," he said.

Among the relics of the Leningrad siege is a tin diary of a 10-year-old girl, Tania Savich. It is no Anne Frank diary. It records only d ths.

The little notebook had an alphabetical index. Under the Russian letter for J was a report of the death of a sister. It was written with a thick blue crayon.

"Jenia died 28 Dec. 12:30 in the morning, 1941."

Under B was Babushka, grandmother, who died Jan. 25, 1942.

Then went an uncle, another sister. Under the M was: "Mama, 13 May at 7:30 morning, dead, 1942."

Later came a page saying simply: "All dead."

Finally, under the letter O was "Odna," for alone, in Russian. Her cold hand had scribbled: "All alone, Tanya." There was no date.

Neighbors found her later, starving. She died crossing the lake in an evacuation convoy.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Got hold of this book today filled with legends and there is a very interesting one from the colonial times in Mexico about a lady known as La Llorona (The Weeper) who apparently is still with us.

She roams the streets of cities around the country wailing and weeping and everyone is scared silly of her.

This book says she used to be a beautiful but humble maiden named Luisa and a gentleman of the high social world fell in love with her. And being a gentleman, he set her up in a cozy little home and visited her often enough to get a fair size family started.

Nobody frowned on such things in those days but this fellow, Don Nuno de Montes, began getting some noise from his family who wanted him to marry a lady of his own category and forget Miss Luisa and the children. So like an obedient young man of that era, whose father controlled the finances, he finally agreed it was the decent thing to do.

We can assume he called by the vine-covered cottage one afternoon and the children ran out shouting, "Daddy, Daddy' can I have a nickel?"

However, he must have replied, "Well, I just dropped by to say adios since I am getting married next week and will you kids throw wome water on your mother who just fainted in the doorway?"

Then the legend says Miss Luisa walked about for days like a punchy wrestler but on the morning of the main event, she wrapped herself in a dark veil and crashed the wedding at the big cathedral here. And after everything was legal she rushed home maddened with grief and daggered the children and began running wildly through the streets weeping for them, which is how she got the name of La Llorona.

Of course the law intervened and shortly after, she was tried and executed. And the chroniclers say that on the same day Don Nuno became grief - stricken and was buried after committing suicide. (In those days it was considered ill mannered to bury people unless they were pretty dead.)

At any rate, the Weeper was no easy lady to get rid of and she began coming out nights to walk the streets wailing and sobbing and making a terrible fuss. When the wind moans off the mountains here, mothers clutch their offspring to their bosoms and say it is La Llorona roaming around to stir up trouble.

Apparently she was pretty mad at Don Nuno and decided to revenge herself on all men, which doesn't give you a very good impression of Miss Luisa.

And this book says sometimes she walks around like a young, well-dressed, attractive lady and of course there is always some fellow who will tip his hat and say, "Evening Ma'am, how about if I accompany you down the street a ways so none of these wolves molest you?"

Then she lifts her veil and all he sees is a skeleton which makes him faint from fright and he doesn't regain consciousness until twelve noon the next day.

Maybe the constables find a fellow lying stiff on the sidewalk one morning and they rush him to the hospital. The doctors find nothing wrong, not even with X-rays and blood tests, but as the clock strikes twelve he raises up and says, "Whooie!" in a pale voice.

And the cops and doctors look at each other and say, "For Heaven's sake, all he did was peek under La Llorona's veil. Next!"

You have to watch all ladies, especially the ones who look sharp and are veiled up.

Game Birds Hazard To Texas Jets

HOUSTON (AP) — The runways of nearby Ellington Air Force Base have become the favorite pre-mating grounds for hundreds of one of Texas' dwindling wild game species, the attwater prairie chicken.

And the 500 or so birds have gotten a number of important people concerned. The birds are a flying hazard.

Not only is Ellington the field from where the nation's astronauts log their jet flying time, it is national headquarters for the Civil Air Patrol and a base used by the Texas Air National Guard.

The chief concern is over what might happen should one of those prairie chickens, about the size of a ringneck pheasant and weighing three to four pounds, get sucked up in the air intake of a jet plane.

The accepted theory of why the chickens are on the runways involves two considerations:

1. This has been a good production year for the chickens throughout the whole region.

2. Increased construction in the vicinity of Ellington, mainly the Manned Spacecraft Center and related housing, forced the chickens to new areas for feeding and nesting.

Besides this is "booming" time. Booming is when the cocks gather up a few hens for the coming mating and nesting season.

The time is usually in January and February, but they got started earlier this year, showing up in large concentrations in late December. They're still at it.

Among those looking into the chicken problem are Col. Lewis P. Ensign, base commander; Ted R. Tally, ground safety officer, and Capt Richard B. Jenkins chief of security and law enforcement.

It is said Col. Ensign would like to open the season on the birds to base personnel, but there is no open season anywhere in the state on attwater prairie chickens, because of their generally decreasing number.

Japan, Soviet Union Sign Trade Pact

TOKYO (AP)—Japan and the Soviet Union today signed an agreement calling for $142 million in Japanese exports to the Soviet Union and the sale of $130 million in Soviet goods to Japan in 1964.

The agreement sets the trade volume for the second year of a three-year Japan-Soviet trade agreement. Its terms represent a 16 per cent increase in Japanese exports to Russia and a 3 per cent increase in Russian sales to Japan over the previous year.

Cooperatives Open Annual Convention

HOUSTON (AP)—The Texas Federation of Cooperatives, the Houston Bank for Cooperatives and the Texas Cooperative Association open their annual three-day joint convention today.

More than 1,500 cooperative stockholders and members began registering Sunday.

Guest speakers today will be Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Volcano Eruptions Chase Islanders Out

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—About 3,000 persons have been removed from Paloe Island in the Lesser Sundas following increased activity of Rokatenda volcano, Antara news agency reported today.

The refugees were taken to nearby Flores Island. Dense clouds of smoke have poured continuously from the volcano since it erupted last month.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRIAL NEWS

TWO OF THE CLEVER AND TIMELY decorations for the Valentine season are displayed here by Harold Bennett, owner of Bennett's Office Supply. In the background, incidentally, is a part of the fountain pen display, and, on the wall, a portion of the picture frames stocked by the firm. Valentine's Day, or any special day, is brighter with decorations from Bennett's.

'SPECIAL DAY' ITEMS FOUND AT BENNETT'S

Valentine's Day is a special day. And for a special day one needs special things.

Special things like those found at Bennett Office Supply. Because whatever the special day —whatever the season, Hallmark and Bennett's prove the new and novel accents which make seasonal festivities a success.

For Valentine's Day Bennett's have such items as centerpieces for the table, plates, cups, napkins — all carrying out the Valentine theme. Similiar assortments are available for any special day or for special events such as bowling parties, birthdays, anniversaries, and so on.

Hallmark valentines, of course, are to be found at Bennett's. All sizes and types are there, from the "kids" assortments which have 30 valentines in a package for just 29 cents, to large beautiful cards which convey just the perfect sentiment.

Especially interesting in the Hallmark collection this year is their "Heirloom" line of cards which are copies of the valentines which were sent around the turn of the century. The cards fold out, and each section is complete with fat-cheeked cherubs, roses, and cupids. Those who have a touch of nostalgia for the "good old days" will thank Hallmark and Bennett Office Supply for making this Heirloom line of cards available.

So whatever the season, or whatever the occasion, those who want the newest in decorations or favors go first to Bennett Office Supply on the north side of the Snyder square.

Predicts End Of Racial Segregation

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mississippi newspaper editor Hodding Carter said in an interview published today "I have hopes that before 10 years, the problem of racial segregation will be overcome."

"The situation is changing favorably," Carter said in the interview, published by Excelsior, a Mexico City morning newspaper.

He predicted President Johnson will win the coming presidential election "especially if the Republicans put up Barry Goldwater."

Patch-Up Is Still Speculation

AUSTIN (AP) — President Johnson's weekend stay in Texas left unanswered the question of whether he and Gov. John Connally have reconciled their differences over the state's U.S. Senate race.

Johnson left Sunday afternoon following the funeral of Mrs. J. C. Kellam, a long-time family friend and wife of the manager of the Johnson family television station. The death brought on the surprise Texas trip.

During his two - day stay, Johnson talked with Connally only briefly over the telephone, not about politics.

Connally said he had no chance to talk to Johnson after the funeral, which both the Johnson and Connally families attended. He said he had intended to invite Johnson to the governor's mansion after the services.

"Sunday he asked me if we didn't have anything to do to come out to his ranch, but we told him we'd already made plans to go to our ranch (in Floresville)," Connally told newsmen. "This was the only weekend we had to go."

Only a week ago U.S. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen withdrew as a challenger of U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough's bid for re-election. Kilgore's decision reportedly resulted from White House pressure.

Kilgore would have had the strong backing of conservative Texas Democrats, including Connally, if he had opposed Yarborough, a leader of Texas liberals.

Johnson spent the weekend at his ranch, leaving once to drive 15 miles to a Fredericksburg church. He left the ranch Sunday in time to visit Kellam and his two daughters before the 3 p.m. funeral. The Presidential partly left Austin immediately after the funeral.

State Still Has Some Dry Areas

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Heavy Snows and widespread rains have materially helped the farm moisture situation.

But John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said at midweek there still are dry areas where recent rains haven't filled stock tanks. He said the overall situation looks much better.

Heavy feeding of livestock still is needed, he said, and there are some reports of losses. In central and southern areas, pastures are greening but cool season grasses, clovers and weeds are still short but are expected to come along fast with warm weather.

The Panhandle had heavy snows and high winds that caused drifting. The job of getting out feed was made most difficult by blizzard conditions.

Helpful moisture fell over most of the South Plains. Wheat had been standing still. Cattle conditions are normal with feeding on. A shortage of labor for irrigating and tractor driving is reported. This may slow vegetable planting.

Moisture varying from showers to three inches fell over the Rolling Plains, but half of the 22-county district still was short on moisture. Grain growth is improving in wet counties.

Most of North Central Texas now has adequate surface moisture. Grains are making some recovery but are providing very little grazing. Ranges are poor, stock water is scarce and heavy feeding continues.

Rains of .50 to 1.50 inches fell over Northeast Texas but the moisture situation still is critical. Vetch, clovers and grains are making a slow recovery. Pastures are depleted. The hay supply is short and because of the high prices, stockmen are limiting hay feeding in many instances. Cattle deaths are reported, due to the feeding of too much grain and not enough hay.

Light to heavy rains fell in the lower Edwards Plateau area of far West Texas and will help winter weed growth. A general rain is needed. Feeding is continuing, lambing and calving are beginning, and some goat shearing is under way.

Rains of one to four inches covered West Central Texas last week and brightened prospects considerably. Stock water is needed. Grains, grass and weeds will benefit at once. Livestock are holding their own due to the warmer weather but heavy feeding is needed.

General rains of one to three inches and warmer weather helped Central Texas. Grains are greening but grazing is very limited. Heavy feeding is necessary.

Soil moisture is now adequate in East Texas but feeding has increased to offset the lack of grazing. Cattle marketing is heavy.

Rains varying from 1.50 to 2.00 inches in the upper Gulf Coast and Southeast Texas area aided temporary pastures which are beginning to furnish some grazing. Stock tanks in the west are low.

Moisture in far South Texas still spotted. It was about adequate in the Valley, short to adequate in the Coastal Bend and short to very short, except in Medina and Uvalde counties, in the northern part of the district. Flax and Oats are responding to the moisture and warm weather. The onion harvest will begin soon. Ranges vary from below to above average.

Visitors And Local Citizens Share Beacon Lodge Benefits

For the weary highway traveler the Beacon Lodge offers everything that a really first class motel can offer.

But not all of the good things at the Beacon are reserved for the traveler.

One of the most popular spots at the Beacon Lodge is the restaurant, and it's available to everyone in Snyder just as it is to guests of the motel. And guests and local citizens agree that it's hard to find better food or better service anywhere than at the Beacon Lodge restaurant.

The Beacon staff pride themselves on the quality of the food served there. One thing that guarantees this quality is the fact that each order is prepared to order. Nothing is cooked ahead, and then saved until it's ordered.

It may take just a few minutes longer, but each customer is assured of having that fresh, home-cooked taste with every bite.

Open from 6 a.m. until 10 p.m. every day, the Beacon Restaurant offers a full menu for each meal.

Especially popular is the Beacon Special — a thick, prime steak cut from heavy beef. Served with salad and French fried or baked potatoes, the Beacon Special steak compares with steaks costing far more than the $1.75 charged by the Beacon Restaurant.

The experienced cooks, Jack Newsome and Corky Frazier, and waitresses Shirley Giddens, Greta Lewis, and Inell Thompson, all strive to make every guest's meal at the Beacon a pleasant experience.

The Beacon Lodge is located east of Snyder at the traffic circle. In addition to the excellent restaurant, the Beacon offers its guests beautiful, spacious rooms, morning coffee, phones, television, room music, central heat and refrigerated air, wall to wall carpet, a 10-acre playground, and most important, genuine Texas hospitality.
