

Slaton's New Russell Addition Schedules Grand Opening Sunday p.m.

Opening of Slaton's new Russell Addition, due west of the city, will be staged at 1 p. m. Sunday, March 20, at the new addition which eventually will house 100 Slaton families. Home furnishings for the show houses are being provided by Self Furniture, Bland's Furniture, Slaton Hardware, McWilliams Dry Goods and Rona's Dress Shop. Landscaping of all the houses will be by Truett Babb. Floral arrangements in the two houses will be by Chrisman Floral and Slaton Floral. The homes feature built-in ovens, surface units, cabinets, three bedrooms, one and two garages, brick trim and all brick houses with central heating, lawn lights, etc. Sunday's Grand Opening celebrates more than a year of planning by Russell, Brewer, J. F. Reissig and Williams. The 30-acre site's plat was okayed by the Slaton City Commission in November of 1959 with street paving started that month. First construction got underway on December 23, 1959 and the group now has eight houses under construction, five sold, and two to be show houses and no for sale presently. The curved-street addition will be filled with Fascination Homes, a name devised by the quartet, according to Brewer. Brewer said, "These houses are being offered to the public to help fill what we feel is a definite gap in the development of Slaton as an outstanding rural community . . . low cost housing." "Most of the homes to be sold in Russell Addition are designed for occupancy by the average wage earner. They are expected to help fill the need here for low-cost, low-down-payment housing, which has perhaps been deterring the progress of the town. However, we also will offer housing at slightly graduated prices to suit the taste of most any prospective home owner. In all we have about 30 plans for customer selection with houses ranging in prices from $11,750 up. FHA and conventional loans will be available on all houses, at the option of the buyer." Reissig said the houses could be constructed in from 45 to 60 days from time of closing, weather permitting. The addition will also feature a park, to be located between Lubbock Street and Terry Drive the only street in the addition with a "new" name. Also, a new elementary school is expected to be constructed near the addition, across Union Road to the south. The proposed new four-lane highway will be located immediately to the west of the Fascination Homes. Lots along the highway will have a high retaining wall or fence to insure privacy for occupants. There will be no through streets in the addition but easy (See New Addition Page 5)

First Annual Slatonite Cook Book Edition Is Due On March 31st

The First Annual Slatonite Cook Book Edition will be published Thursday, March 31st. The Cook Book Edition, it is hoped, will bring together the top recipes of many outstanding Slaton and area cooks in one publication, a handy reference throughout the year for subscribers and special purchasers of the edition.

Slatonite publisher Joel R. Combs this week urged any Slaton woman (and the men cooks, too!) who would to phone, write or bring in their favorite recipe for publication in the edition. Prizes, ranging from a set of plastic dinnerware, will be awarded to the recipes judged best in each of five categories. The categories are Meats and Poultry, Salads, Desserts, Pastries and Vegetables or side dishes. Any woman anywhere in the world is invited to and requested to submit her most successful recipe for the edition, which, it is sincerely believed, will be a unique and lasting publication serving well as an excellent guide to fine food fare for any occasion.

The edition will be printed tabloid size, inserted in each subscriber's copy of The Slatonite and also in those sold on news stands, plus extra copies for those clubs, organizations or individuals requesting them, as long as they last. An independent judging team comprised of persons not connected in any way with The Slatonite, will judge each recipe and name winners in each of the five categories. You don't have to be trying for one of the prizes, though, to send in your recipe, it will be enjoyed by all who read it nonetheless. We sincerely hope you will submit your favorite recipe as soon as possible. By no later than Thursday, March 24th?

Thank you. JRC

Absentee Voting In City Election Starts

Veterans To Meet

There will be a meeting of Lubbock County and surrounding areas of Veterans of World War I at the City Hall in Slaton, Friday night, March 18 at 7:30 p. m.

Bring the wives. Mr. McKinney, the 19th District Commander, will explain the Legislative program and the New Pension Bill.

Field Is Reduced To Six In Ward Four; Places On Ballot Decided

Absentee voting in the April 5th City Election is now in effect in the office of the City Secretary, City Hall.

No ballots had been cast late Wednesday morning, the first day of absentee balloting, according to J. J. Maxey, city secretary, but a heavier-than-usual turnout is predicted by some observers.

The field reduced to six in the Ward Four Commissioner's race this week when R. J. Clark requested Maxey to leave his name off the ballot. That leaves six vying for the post, L. L. Dixon, a Negro Baptist pastor; Roy Martinez, Latin-American; Albert Grigsby, J. C. Champion, Key Ely and A. A. Gartman. H. G. Stokes is unopposed in Ward Two. Incumbents Howard Swanner in Ward Two and T. A. Worley in Ward Four declined to see re-election.

Absentee balloting will continue until through April 2. Polls will open in the two wards in City Hall, at 8 a. m. on Election Day and close at 7 p. m.

Phil Brewer has been appointed Judge in Ward Two and John D. Webb in Ward Four. The two judges will appoint clerks to assist them in holding the election.

All persons who are qualified voters under the State Constitution and who have lived in Slaton for the last six months preceding the election are qualified to vote.

No small amount of interest has been generated in the election through the possibility of electing either a Negro or Latin-American to the commission. In either event, it would be the first time in the history of the community. Chances appear rather bright for just that result at this stage in the campaign. Poll tax payments in Ward Four were extremely heavy last January among local Negroes and Latins and the two minority factions have been working together to get their candidates elected to the City Commission, as well as the School Board.

Add to this the fact that there are four Anglos in the Ward seeking election as commissioners.

Drawings for places on the ballot were conducted in Maxey's office this week and your ballot, if you reside and vote in Ward Four, will have the candidates listed in the following order:

The ballot in Ward Two will, of course, bear only the name of H. G. Stokes.

Meanwhile, in other City political news, the City Commission has passed a resolution giving notice that it will submit certain charter amendments to the voters in an election to be held, probably in May.

The proposed changes would alter the method of electing commissioners from ward levels to an at-large basis. If adopted by the voters, the amendments would reduce the possibility of any minority faction being represented on the City Commission and, likewise, increase the probability that an all-Anglo commission will hold the reins in City Hall.

Let's Try Again! . . .

Styles in clothing, in civic activities and in home construction, along with many other things, change with each generation but at certain intervals seem to return to many of the original designs. Short skirts and long skirts come and go, old colonial homes go out of style for a time and then some one restores one or two and colonial style architecture comes back with a rush, and rodeos become popular, then recede only to come back more popular than ever.

So it has been with civic programs and one that used to be quite popular in Slaton was a Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up campaign that was promoted at this time of the year. Several times the Boy Scouts took active part. We had a Boy Scout Mayor, a Boy Scout Chief of Police and several Boy Scout policemen for one day and several Boy Scout Inspection Teams were appointed to visit the business houses of the town to see that the premises had been made clean and free of fire hazards. If any of these teams found rubbish or unsanitary conditions they called it to the attention of the property owners and things were corrected at once.

The Boy Scout and Clean-up campaigns were promoted by some civic organization and as long as it was continued the merchants, the home owners and the residents of Slaton took a keen interest and co-operated with whole hearted spirit.

Of course it is expected that all the people of Slaton will, and should, keep the town in tip top shape, at all times, but a Clean-up campaign spot lights the importance of keeping our town at its best and it could be that a rousing "whoopiedo" for one day, or for a whole week would, be worth while, especially if the help of the Boy Scouts could be obtained.

The Purpose Of A Newspaper

There are people, newspapers, institutions and governments that recognize only one side on many problems that concern the public. When a Government, like Russia, is in position to enforce its will on the public it does not hesitate to do so. Many institutions would do the same thing if any one of them could gain the power to do so.

In every town where a newspaper is published, there are pressures to influence its news columns and in many cases to place the newspaper in the position of a judge or a court of law.

This is not the place, or purpose, of a newspaper. It would not be to the advantage of any community, large or small to give any newspaper the power or influence to dictate the way a town or community should be run, or operate, and the Slatonite should not take the position at any time to tell the citizens of this town or this precinct how it is to be governed.

It is a newspaper duty to report the news fairly and to co-operate in any and all movements that are to the advantage of the public but when it comes to trying to influence the voters for or against any questions, such as the one of allowing or prohibiting the sale of liquor in Precinct 2, it is not in the province of the Slatonite to try to influence its readers one way or the other. If it were not a question where the people decide then it would not be one where voting would be required. As an institution that believes in the good old American system of leaving it up to the voters the Slatonite will be as impartial in its policy as the United States and the Texas State Government we say vote the way you believe is right. That is the way it should be in free county.

On Being A Child

Do you know what it is to be a child? It is to be something very different from the man of today. It is to have a spirit yet streaming from the waters of baptism; it is to believe in loveliness, to believe in belief; it is to be so little that the elves can reach to whisper in your ear; it is to turn pumpkins into coaches, loveliness into loftiness, and nothing for everything, for each child has a fairy godmother in its soul.—Francis Thompson.

"Congress surely is a strange place," commented a visitor as he watched the proceedings on the floor of the House. "A man gets up to speak and says nothing. Nobody listens—and then everybody disagrees."

GOOD QUESTION

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: James Hill, of the Knox County Herald, does a little day-dreaming in this column.)

Having worked over a long list of things a couple of nights ago that I have been saving up to worry about in my spare spare time, between midnight and morning, I got to thinking there might be a few things that should make me, and other folks in Knox City, feel a little bit better than good.

The main one that came to my mind, is that perhaps out here where things are few and far between perhaps we are out of the target area for missiles, atom bombs and flying saucers.

It must be unpleasant to live in and around Fort Worth and Dallas where so many secret things are going on and where the Russians would drop some of their secret explosives first thing, and where I suppose most of the residents keep their necks stiff, most of the time, from looking up with the expectations of unwelcome things dropping at any time.

As for us out here where the air is pure, our consciences clear and where there is very little to destroy except rattle snakes, skunks and a few well to do natives, it would hardly be worth the ammunition to blow us up.

With these happy thoughts in mind I turned over on my stomach, laid my troubles aside and spent the remainder of the night dreaming of pulling three pound bass from a puddle no bigger than the bath tub.

Most everyone I know in Knox City is on a diet. The women are endeavoring to keep, or get, as thin as a paper clip and most of the men have ulcers.

One woman phoned me and wanted to know if I could give her the details of a diet of honey and apple cider vinegar, that is supposed to cure arthritis, enlargement of the hips and tired blood, and I know one man who eats very little else but wheat germ, a bad habit that sounds as if it might become contagious.

There are other people in K.C. who live mostly off of lettuce, carrots and filtered air. Most all of them will tell you exactly what the doctor said and how worried the doctor is about the run down condition their particular case is proving to be.

If things continue their present trend, the doctors and the drugs costs in Knox City will be more than the rent and the grocery bills and we'll all be on reducing diets that will no doubt produce future Knox Citizens that will be so skinny that they will have to stand in one place thirty minutes to produce a shadow.

Here is an item sent to us from "Just Around Town" in the Ballinger Ledger. Most of us can see ourselves in every incident:

When the other fellow takes a long time to do something, he's slow. But when I take a long time to do something, I'm thorough.

When the other fellow doesn't do it, he's too lazy. When I don't do it, I'm too busy.

When he goes ahead and does something without being told, he's overstepping his bounds. When I do something without being told, that's initiative.

When the other fellow states his side of a question strongly, he's bullheaded. When I do, I'm being firm.

When he overlooks a few simple rules of courtesy, he's rude. When I skip a few, I'm original.

When the other fellow does something that pleases the boss he's polishing the brass. When I do something that pleases the boss, I'm cooperating.

When the other guy gets ahead—he gets the breaks. When I manage to struggle ahead, Man! Hard work did it!

An eight year old girl once received a pin cushion from an aunt who was wealthy, but conservative with her money.

At her mother's insistence the little girl wrote a thank you note to her aunt, here is what she said:

"Thank you so much for the pin cushion, it was just what I wanted, but not very much. Yours truly, Genevieve."

Dear Editor:
I see where a 1960 model Boy Scout can get rank with a 5-mile hike which formerly took a 14-mile jaunt.

Some critics claim this shows that Scouts are getting soft, but my self-propelled scout neighbor says it's just a matter of bringing Scouting up to date.

Says the old style Boy Scoutism with emphasis on motorless hiking just had to go, on account of nowadays walking is right down with the 17-inch TV and paying cash as a symbol of underprivilege.

THURSDAY, MARCH 17
Read Psalm 32:1-5

For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled. (Psalm 90:7.)
A certain atheistic farmer once proposed to demonstrate that he could violate the laws of God without suffering any serious effect. Accordingly, he cultivated an acre of ground entirely upon the Lord's Day in deliberate violation of the Fourth Commandment. At the end of the season he reaped a good harvest and boasted of what he had done. A pious old neighbor said to him: "Remember, God doesn't always pay in October, but He always pays."

This is the common experience of humanity. God always pays. Human misery, as Psalm 90 suggests, follows in the wake of human sin. Early man interpreted misery as a result of God's anger at man's sin. Rather, it is because God has established the universe as a moral order, and those who violate the moral law suffer thereby. Horace Bushnell said: "We are punished by our sins not for them. We are rewarded by our virtues and not for them."

Because God has made the universe a moral order, sin always makes for misery. Repenting of our sins and right doing always make for peace.

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we would come to Thee in true repentance.

We would acknowledge our sins and pray for Thy cleansing. We would lay hold of Thy forgiving love. In Christ's name. Amen.

New Type Telephone Statement Scheduled

Some telephone customers in Slaton will be getting a new type Long Distance statement with their next telephone bills.
J. C. Oakley, manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has announced.

Oakley said the new type bills are the result of a new, faster, more efficient method of billing out-of-town calls. He said Slaton was chosen as one of the pilot cities for this new service; and that gradually "electronic billing" of out-of-town calls will be introduced in other cities in Texas where Southwestern Bell operates.

According to the telephone company manager the new system works like this: Long Distance operators will record information about each call on a special card with a magnetic pencil. (Oakley explained every Long Distance operator marks down information about each out-of-town call she handles.
The place called, the telephone number there, and the caller's telephone number, are at present written in a long hand code on a special slip of paper.
The call is then timed by a special clock and forwarded to a clerk who computes the charges for billing purposes). Under the electronic billing system this information will be recorded in the form of "bubbles" or special marks instead of the long hand code now in use.

Since the marks are made with a magnetic pencil the "bubbles" or slips of paper can be processed through an IBM machine which will translate the marks into billing information and then print it on the bill mailed to the customer.

Because of the immense training job involved, operators are being trained a few at a time, and not all Slaton operators have finished this training at present. Some operators will continue to use the old motion on out-of-town calls.

"As a result of training a few operators at a time," Oakley said, "it is possible that a customer might not get an operator trained in the new method each time he places a call. As a result this customer will receive two Long Distance statements with his monthly bill. One statement will be for calls billed under the old method and the other for calls billed electronically. We plan to include explanatory information with each bill so the customer will not think he's being billed twice."

Oakley emphasized not all customers will get the new bills during March. "It is conceivable," he said "that a customer could make several out-of-town calls and never get an operator trained in the new method. In that case his Long Distance bill would look the same as it always has."

Oakley said the complete changeover would take about three months.

During 1959 in Texas alone, more than five and one-half million dollars in crop hail damage claims were paid by insurance companies. Statistics show that equally that amount of loss was suffered on crops that were not insured. Your Texas Farm Bureau agent can or a you complete details of the Farm Bureau policy that allows you more insurance per acre than any other policy. Texas Farm Bureau maintains their own staff of adjusters so

THEY HAD A GOOD TRIP

Don and "Doc" Crow recently returned from a very successful deep sea fishing trip in the Pacific off the west coast of Mazatlan, Mexico. Don reports
"beginners' luck" for the four-day trip. The two caught 10 Marlin and the sailfish shown and lost about 10 more when they "threw the line" or broke it. The sailfish shown by Don weighed 65 lbs. and took about 20 minutes to land. The 200 lb.

Marlin shown by "Doc" took a while longer with some of the catches putting up battles for as long as an hour and 45 minutes. They got one "double catch" and boated both of them, Don said. The Marlin caught during the stay weighed up to 250 lbs. and were up to eight and a half feet long.

SHOW HOUSE

Brewer, J. F. Reissig, Ed Williams and Alton Russell, left to right, stand before two show houses to be open to the public Sunday during the Grand Opening of the new Russell Addition, in western Slaton. The houses have been fully furnished by Self Furniture, Bland's Furniture, Slaton Hardware, McNamee Dry Goods, and Rona's Dress Shop.

New Addition

main thoroughfares is curbing and gutters streets in the addition to be completed this summer. Lynn streets are now paved as part of Terry provided for those persons who might live in the addition and work in Lubbock.

"The homes are being built to meet a current need here," Brewer said, "and, if necessary, to encourage Lubbock citizens to move here."

The original plot purchased by Russell amounted to 46 acres of which the new highway will take approximately 18, leaving 30 acres for the development, which is inside the city limits.

That last fact, Fascination Homes representatives pointed out, insures purchasers all facilities available to the rest of the city, i.e. water, gas, electricity, police and fire protection and representation in city government affairs.

Construction of the houses will be controlled by an architectural committee, Brewer said, to insure conformance to certain specifications designed to give the overall area an attractive appearance.

One and two bathrooms, three bedroom houses are available, featuring personal landscaping by Truett Babb, lawn lights, central heating, brick trim or all brick, one and two-car garages and built-ins.

The FHA approved subdivision is the result of long and tedious planning and working with FHA's land planning department as well as work with the organization to get maximum loans on the houses, Brewer pointed out.

"We have worked closely with the architect to get the best plans in West Texas, we feel," he said. There will be no stucco or asbestos siding houses in the addition, he continued, with homes of comparable value grouped together. The streets will all be 36 feet wide and the development will be landscaped with trees and shrubs planted, Brewer added.

Lots are available in varying sizes, with the standard being of 60 foot front, 120 feet deep. Some are much larger.

The four principles in the addition first began talking the development of a low cost housing project in April of 1959. Russell had owned the land for about 10 years. Eventually the four "got together" on the idea and went to work, their efforts to be climaxed with the Grand Opening and showing of the two houses Sunday.

Alton Russell, who lives about two miles out on Cemetery Road, has long been a farmer in the Slaton area. He also did a brief stint on the railroad with Santa Fe.

Brewer is another native of Slaton. He has been in the insurance business here since 1951, when he started in that field with his father, the late J. H. Brewer, who died on August 8, 1958. The business was originally established in 1929. Phil is married and the father of one daughter, Amy. The family address is 410 W. Garza.

Reissig is a native of Slaton and the area. He was born in Lynn County and raised in Slaton. Jake started in the construction business in 1954 and has built a number of houses here. His mother, Mrs. Hilda Reissig, lives at 705 S. 20th. He lives in Lubbock with his wife and children.

Ed Williams, Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. manager, was elevated to that position with the company here in 1957. He has lived in Slaton since 1950, starting his career with the lumber firm in 1954. Ed is married and the father of two children, a boy and girl. The family address is 340 S. 10th.

After the Grand Opening this week end, open house will be observed each succeeding week end all day Saturday and from 1 p. m. Sunday and by appointment during the week.

The Golden Time

When Mom and I got married, golden weddings seemed just as remote to us as they probably do to you. Matter of fact, folks celebrating them seemed like museum pieces!

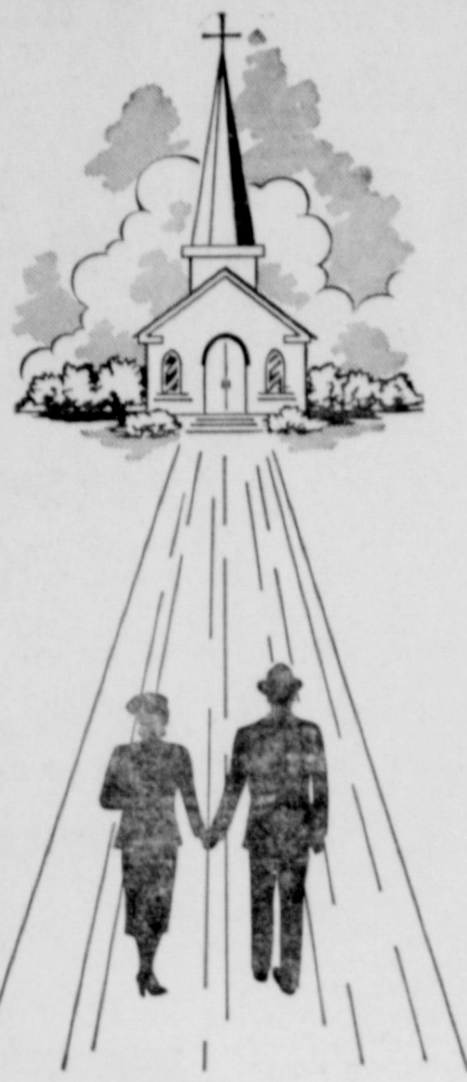

Now here we are, posing for our fiftieth anniversary picture! Funny part of it is that we don't feel a bit like "old folks!"

Still, a couple can't be married for half a century without putting in a lot of living. Mom and I have. There were times when we were so happy we thought we'd burst . . . other times when it didn't seem as if we could find the strength to keep going another minute.

Through it all, we've had our church. It's hard to put into words how important that's been. Maybe you'll get an idea when I tell you this. When Mom asked me what I'd like to do to celebrate our anniversary, I said, "First of all, let's go to Church. I want to say a little prayer of thanks."

Mom smiled at me. "So do I," she told me.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

JUST TALK

BY A. M. J.

Working as one of my scouts for high class material for this column Mrs. Claud Anderson donated the following poem explaining that she feels sure a great many Slatonite readers will appreciate the sentiment expressed in the verses.

It was sent to Mrs. Anderson by one of her close relatives who is nearly ninety years old and should know what she writes about.

I'M FINE
There's nothing the matter with me
I'm just as healthy as I can be,

I have arthritis in both my knees,
And when I talk, I talk with a wheeze.

My pulse is weak and my blood is thin,
But . . . I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

Arch supports I have for my feet
Or I wouldn't be able to be on the street.

Sleep is denied me, night after night,
And every morning I am a sight!

My memory's failing, my head's in a spin,
But . . . I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

The moral is, as this tale we unfold,
That for you and me who are growing old,

It's better to say "I'm fine" with a grin Than to let 'em know the shape we are in.

—just talk—
Several weeks ago I reported that one of the extra large Kittens left a very touching reference to the "Good Old Days" at the Slatonite for me.

A telephone call from Joe Grabber denied the accusation. It was Joe who left it for me and he said that he might have been classified in his younger days as somewhat of a Tom Cat but this is the first time he has ever been called a Kitten.

It is a dangerous business trying to steer a newspaper column through the sea of names that surround such an enterprise.

—just talk—
With all the hullabaloo in the papers, over television and radio, I have gotten myself in a big lather about the elections, but last week when I sat myself down long enough to try to decide who I would vote against I found out that although I live in Slaton, and have met all the requirements to vote, I do not live on the right street and am going to have to sit on the side lines when the City election comes up. Having neglected to find out what County offices will be open for candidates I have no idea who is running for the office and unless they start making some dirty cracks about each other I will be as cold as a toad when the county and state elections come up. If I am going to swear and be darned that I am a pure blood Democrat before I may cast a vote I may just get sore and become a Dixiecrat or a whig, whatever that is. If there are others so confused about politics we might meet some and form a new party to sure need straightening out.

—just talk—
Not long ago I was along behind my wife in store pushing the cart and ping a few expensive items to the receptacle as we along and came home some rusty looking bowl, pale and dejected looking an apple that looked like lyn Monroe at her best, cooked the beetles two then they were so large bounced like tennis balls we dumped them out. matatoes had a flavor out gelatine and the eggs like a 1958 potato. I like this take all the out of helping to shop eating hot house fruits vegetables. It is best to home and raise and things do not turn out.

—just talk—
Things are getting mighty pore shape when men who sell poisons things admit that they have something to get some kind of weed or I thought I had them last summer when I pooped off some of my paration to kill nut grass that time I could not thing and felt rather myself because I had stumped. Last week I phone call from Joe and he reported that just what I need to do. Now all that I need money to pay for the man to spray the ground lot of confidence in the on the package.

—just talk—
Being of a contrary nature have been trying an experiment to see how the people are in Slaton. I get in the way of folks street or in the store I cause me, are you in my So far, after several months have had but one person show that they understood I had said. She was a lady standing at a news and she looked at me and mind had slipped its me and she sidled away as possible. Maybe she was

—just talk—
It seemed that every time I removed my old daughter's shoes, I untie a series of knots in shoelaces. Exasperated, I'd her one day: "How always manage to get knots in your shoelaces?"

"Me?" she answered. "I don't even know how to tie a knot!"—Mrs. J. W.

Texas Safety Association Supports New Insurance Plan; Tells Why

By J. O. Musick
General Manager
Texas Safety Association, Inc.

In January the Texas motorists began operating their private vehicles under the new Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan—a plan which is expected to reward 1.3 million insured Texas automobile owners with a savings of $20-million each year. Furthermore, and maybe more importantly, it is believed by its proponents that the new plan will have a salutary effect on traffic accidents that is difficult to measure in dollars and cents alone.

How did the plan come about? Why change from the old system? Is it an equitable plan, or does it deal unfairly with many thousands of Texans? Who's going to get rich off of it? These are only a few of the questions posed by statesmen and laymen alike in recent weeks.

To begin with, the plan is not new, it is merely a refinement of what has been in effect since 1952.

In 1957, the 55th Texas Legislature wanted to know why auto insurance rates were 45% higher in Harris County than in Dallas County. In essence it found out that the drivers in Dallas County (which made up a portion of one of ten insurance-rating regions in Texas) were simply a lot safer than the drivers in Harris County. But what about the safe driver in Harris County? He paid the same as an unsafe driver, just as the unsafe driver in Dallas County got off light because of his neighbor's carelessness.

Rightfully so, Senators and Legislators from the 55th didn't see the equity in this plan and authorized the State Board of Insurance to make a careful study of various merit rating plans with an eye to seeing what could be done to reward the individually safe driver in Texas.

After an exhaustive study of merit plans in Canada, California (8 other states have similar systems) and from 43 foreign countries, the framework of the Texas plan was formed. A continuing study was made by the actuarial staff of the Board and Texas Department of Public Safety as they delved into the facts and figures of 40,365 drivers' records. With the statistical information compiled from this source they arrived at various percentages of credits, surcharges and time-coverages in the new plan.

Proponents of the plan do not declare it infallible, but the plan does combine the thinking and experience of some of the most brilliant insurance men and safety experts in the State.

How Does The Plan Work?

Households where drivers have a three year record of no chargeable accidents, or chargeable convictions for moving traffic violations, will be entitled to a 20% discount below regular premium rates. With one point against them, the household will pay the regular rate. With two, three, four, five, six or more against them (you can get four points for driving while intoxicated), the household will pay a corresponding 20% increase for each point, up to 100% increase.

Why A Point System?

Studies show that there is a direct relationship between highway accidents and convictions for moving traffic violations. The group of drivers who run up a record of convictions have a much greater chance of being involved in accidents than does the group motorist who drives in a lawful manner. Statistically, the group of drivers who received a point, in 1959, that will count against them are three times more likely to have an accident in 1960 than is the group of drivers whose safety-consciousness has kept them from having an accident or being ticketed for a moving traffic violation.

Is The Plan Equitable?

Many opponents have expressed doubts the fairness of the plan because of the three year period in which it reaches back for its records. They say that had many Texans known they were going to be penalized they would have protested minor or traffic infractions in court. There is some merit of truth in their arguments and undoubtedly many of these people would have won their cases. But if these drivers are truly safe drivers, with the one exception they speak of, they will not be charged any more for insurance than they now pay, too, they will have a chance to prove their safety ability and earn a discount in the years ahead. Approximately 75% of the motorists in Texas are lawful and accident-free drivers, thus the burden of paying for the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan will be shifted to the shoulders of the unsafe drivers who are causing the most accidents.

In time all Texas motorists could benefit from the plan, even those who have an occasional point chalked up against them, because safety experts believe the plan will encourage safe driving with a resultant reduction in traffic accidents which will lower insurance rates for all.

Who's Going To Get Rich?

If anyone is going to "get rich" off the new plan it is certainly not the insurance companies; they are running the greatest risk of any group. About the only persons who stand to make a financial gain are the safe drivers.

Will Every Accident Cost Points?

There are many exceptions in the assignment of points for an accident or traffic ticket. For example, suppose you are backing out of a parking place in a shopping center and accidentally scrape the fender of the car next to you, you would not be assigned points against you, unless the damage exceeded $25. Also, if you are ticketed for defective lights or other equipment, except brakes, you are not assigned points. Numerous such exceptions none of which would reflect on a person's driving ability are incorporated in the plan to make it equitable.

Will Courts Bog Down?

It has been charged that Texas' court system will create a serious bottle neck in handling the expected influx of traffic ticket appeals. This, unfortunately, is possible, but it is not an argument against the plan. Instead, it points up a greater need for a revision of our traffic court system. For many years the Texas Safety Association, National Safety Council, Texas Bar Association, the Governor's office and others who must cope with traffic problems have fought for legislation that will make Texas' traffic courts as modern as our state's highways.

There will be strong criticism to the plan for months to come, but it is not likely to come from well informed sources, unless they are outspokenly opposed to rewarding individual motorists for their safe driving.

Texans now pay in excess of $440-million each year for traffic accidents, not to mention the suffering caused by the loss of nearly 2500 lives and over 125,000 injuries. This is a burdensome price indeed, the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan could do much to reduce these costs.

Vehicle Safety Inspections Are Lagging

Motor Vehicle Safety inspections in Lubbock County have slowed to a snail's pace as only 11,981 vehicles were inspected during January.

The inspections brought the total checked since September 1, when this year's sticker went on sale, to 26,968 or 51.9 percent of the 52,000 registered vehicles in the county.

Captain Alan Johnson, Supervisor of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service in this Region of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety has urged vehicle owners to have their vehicles inspected as early as possible to avoid delays in the last minute rush.

In past years crowds during the last few days before the deadline have lined up for several blocks waiting to get into the inspection stations.

The safety inspection sticker which must be on all registered vehicles operated over public streets, roads and highways must be obtained at any of the authorized vehicle inspection stations in the county.

ton Is Top Cash Crop In Texas

Station — Cotton is valuable cash crop although it now ranks acreage to sorghum. For five years, 1952-1956, Texas cotton crop, in seed and seed, had an average value of more than $100,000,000. This was three times the average of wheat, sorghum and rice during the same period.

Trends in cotton production in the State is one of the most interesting features. The bulletin points out that since 1933 cotton production in Texas has been shifting from certain areas to others. A remarkable shift has been made to the extreme western, northwestern and southern portion, or to the Trans-Pecos, High Plains and Rio Grande Plains of Texas. These areas accounted for about 12 percent of the acreage at the start of governmental control programs in 1933, but now have more than one-third of the acreage and more than half the total production. During the same period, the Blackland, Grand and Coast Prairies, and the East Texas Timberlands experienced the greatest decline in percentage of planted

Irrigation Well Drilling During '59 In Increase Over Previous Year

LUBBOCK—The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has announced that in 1959, commercial well drilling within the Water District increased almost two-fold over 1958. In 1959, a total of 1518 wells were drilled, as compared to 879 wells in 1958.

Officials of the Water District explained that because of the need for pre-planting irrigation water on crop land in the spring of 1959, the first six months of that year showed a tremendous increase in drilling activity when compared to the first six months of 1958. The latter half of 1959, however, was about equal in number of wells drilled to the last six months period of 1958.

The District reports that very little new land is being placed under irrigation for the first acreage.

It may be obtained by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-938.

time even though additional wells are being drilled. Most new wells are drilled to obtain additional water with which decreasing irrigation supplies may be supplemented. Wells in the southern High Plains of Texas are generally decreasing in capacity, consequently, new wells added to an irrigation system are used to regain quantities of water originally pumped from fewer wells.

Another factor which probably had a bearing on increased drilling activity in 1959 is that generally excellent crops were harvested over the southern High Plains area during the fall of 1958. The good harvest not only re-filled the area's sagging pocketbook, but it was also instrumental in creating an optimistic feeling within individuals toward making additional capital investments.

Over 98 per cent of the water pumped from wells in the southern High Plains is pumped for agricultural irrigation purposes.

In Lubbock County during 1959, 318 permits were issued by the district, as compared to only 179 in the previous year, 1958. During '59, there were 210 new wells drilled, and 20 replacement wells. Twenty-two efforts during the year were dry holes. In 1958, only 104 new wells were drilled and nine replacement wells. During that year, there were eight dry holes drilled.

The Slaton, Texas Slatonite, Thursday, March 17, 1960 21, cotton is not regarded as planted under provisions of the Soil Bank Act or the Great Plains Program—A farm must plant 75% of the allotted acres or acreage must be released, at the County ASC Office; otherwise the allotment on the farm will be reduced in 1961.

A farmer who releases his allotment acres can maintain the cotton allotment history on his farm, provided cotton is planted one out of three years.

If you don't plan to use all or part of your 1960 cotton allotment acres—go to your county ASC office and release them before it is too late to get history credit on your farm.

Cotton growers who would like to have their cotton acreage increased—must apply for additional acres, on the form provided, if they want to get their share of the released acres. They should, also, assist their ASC committee by encouraging non-growers to release unwanted cotton acres.

Apply NOW for the acres you actually want and will plant. Your request will furnish your County Committee with justification necessary to obtain released acres from counties with "excess acres." There were around 1/2 million "available" cotton allotment acres that were not utilized in 1959.

Final dates for release and reallotment of released acres has been set for each county. If you don't know what these dates are, it will pay you to find out and act before it is too late.

Violations Involved In Fatal Wrecks

Over 90 percent of fatal accidents on Texas highways involve a traffic violation for which a ticket could be issued if the driver at fault is not a victim.

A study of Department of Public Safety traffic reports by the Association of Texas Fire and Casualty Companies shows that only one time in 12 is there no moving traffic violation in fatal rural accidents.

The Association's study found:

- In one-automobile fatal accidents, 84 percent involve traffic violations.
- In fatal accidents involving two or more automobiles, statistical experience shows there are violations more than 99.5 percent of the time. In 18 percent of multiple-vehicle accidents only one driver is guilty of a ticketable offense.
- In accidents which cause injury—but not deaths—traffic violations are involved in about 80 percent.
- In non-injury accidents, 84 percent involve traffic violations.

On an overall basis, traffic violations are present in about

Crew Leader For Slaton Area Census

Appointment of crew leaders for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing in this area was announced today by Supervisor E. E. Ken of the Census Bureau's temporary district office in Lubbock.

Each crew leader will supervise about 20 enumerators in the big nationwide census which begins April 1. Crew leader training began March 9 for rural crew leaders while their city counterparts will start training on March 14. Topics to be covered in the training sessions include procedures for recruiting of census takers, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and the supervision of census takers to insure a complete and accurate count.

The crew leader is one of the key people in the field operations of the 1960 Census of Population and Housing. It is his responsibility to recruit and train the census takers; plan and allocate work assignments; review the work of the census takers and take remedial action where necessary, and to handle problems of difficult enumeration.

Carroll W. Richards of Slaton is crew leader in this area.

A. A. Gartman Announces For City Commissioner Ward 4.

In making my announcement for City Commissioner for Ward 4 in Slaton I would like to let the voters know that I have lived in this part of Slaton for over 30 years and have been a tax payer for 20 years in this ward. My home is at 400 So. 8th. We reared our 5 children in Ward 4.

I think I know the needs of this part of town. I think our part of Slaton is just as good a part of town as any other part of Slaton. If you elect me your next City Commissioner I will go to the City hall and work for and cooperate with the people in Ward 4, 100% at all times.

I will see that our part of town gets their part of the tax money in street, water, and sewer improvements. I think our part of Slaton is entitled to our part of the TAX money, and whether it be the whites part, colored or latin American part I think all should be represented.

So a vote for A. A. Gartman will be a vote for a man who will work hard at the job and represent you 100% at all times. Remember the City election April the 5th and I will thank you. This announcement paid for by A. A. Gartman.
