Reds Studying Armistice-In 30-Days Plan

MUNSAN, Korea, Sunday, Nov. 18. (AP)—The Communists may reply today to a dramatic Allied proposal to complete a Korean armistice within 30 days—a week before Christmas.

Subcommittees of the opposing sides were to meet at Panmunjom at 11 a.m., (8 p.m., Saturday, CST) for the promised Red reaction.

The United Nations negotiators Saturday made this four-point proposal:

1. Hostilities to continue until a full armistice is signed;
2. The present battleline to form a provisional cease-fire line and basis for a provisional demilitarized zone;
3. This line and zone to become the final versions provided a complete armistice is reached within 30 days; and
4. If an armistice is not completed within the deadline, the negotiators will start over by drawing a new provisional cease-fire line based on wherever the battle line may be at that time.

The Communists said the proposal "seems in the main to be in accordance with our principles," but said they wanted to ponder it. They promised to give their detailed "comments"—at Sunday's session.

Communist acceptance would mean renewed meetings by the full five-member truce delegations for consideration of these other armistice points:

Exchange of prisoners; behind-the-lines inspections to make sure an armistice is observed; and recommendations on eventual withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea.

With a new Allied divisional attack in progress on the Western Front and sharp action all along the line, there was the prospect that the battle line would change in the Allied favor if the Communists did not accept promptly.

It seemed probable that the question of exchanging prisoners would inject Communist atrocities into the armistice talks.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, verified Saturday an Eighth Army officer's report that approximately 5,500 U. S. prisoners of war had been slaughtered by the Reds since hostilities began nearly 17 months ago.

Ridgway expressed regret over the manner of the disclosure, but added:

"The shocking impact of the brutality which has been revealed should have been no surprise to the American people."

Snyder Truck Dealers Say Sales Are Up

Truck dealers here report that their sales have been much higher than normal for the past month, but all say there is a shortage of trucks.

"We had our biggest month of truck sales in history last month," Paul Keaton, owner of Snyder Truck & Tractor Co., International dealer, said. Keaton has been International dealer here for about five years.

DELIVERIES CUT

Wade Pipkin, owner of Wade Pipkin Motors, Ford agency, said his sales had shown a big jump in the past four to six weeks, but that a shortage of steel was cutting his allocation of trucks considerably.

"Our sales are up, but our delivery is down," R. B. Sears, owner of Sears Motor Co., GMC dealer, said.

"The company has allocated us one truck for November and one for December—after that I don't know how many they can deliver," Sears said.

"We have had the demand for trucks, but weren't able to sell because we just don't have the trucks to deliver," J. C. Ezell, owner of Ezell Motor Co., Dodge dealer said.

Most dealers reported the big cuts in deliveries were in the heavier trucks. Pickups and smaller trucks are still coming through from the factories, but in smaller quantities than earlier this year. One exception was Keaton who said he is still able to get bigger trucks easier than the smaller ones and pickups.

During August and September Sears Motor Co. received about 15 trucks compared to the two they will get the rest of this year.

"All the pickups and small trucks have been put on allocation with us, but the big ones have not been allocated," Keaton said.

Keaton said that the Sweetwater branch house which is distributor for most of West Texas in the International line reported the biggest sales in the past month of their history.

U. S. BUYS HEAVILY

Most of the dealers said government purchases of trucks is causing the shortage on the consumer level.

"The government is taking practically all of the heavy Dodge trucks produced now," Ezell said.

Steel is being diverted from truck production into the building of heavy fighting equipment, too, the dealers said.

Shivers Says No To $100 Per Plate Dinner For Democratic Party

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP)—Gov. Shivers isn't interested in attending a Midwestern Democratic fund-raising rally at Chicago.

He received a notice of the meeting, including a return card.

"If he wanted to put up $100 for his plate, he was asked to indicate that on the card. Then in return he would have received a formal invitation," a secretary said.

"The governor was not interested. He did not return the card."

Shivers, an anti-Truman Democrat, recently was elected chairman of the Southern Governor's Conference.

Coldest reading previously reported this season was 26 according to Mrs. Strayhorn.

GOAT MEAT GIVEN AWAY

Goat meat may take the place of turkey on some tables here Thanksgiving. Freshly killed ones were being given away to any who would take them away about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Eleven were killed, a few injured, and about 25 scattered when the pickup truck and trailer in which they were being hauled overturned about two miles north of town on the Clairemont Road. Bay Fort, of Eden, a passenger in the truck said another vehicle crowded theirs off the highway, causing them to overturn. Driver of the truck was J. E. Hughes, also of Eden. The men, neither injured, said they were en route to Lubbock, and discovering they were on the wrong highway, were slowing down to find a place to turn around.—(Staff photograph).

Reports That More Heads Are To Topple As Scandal Widens

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Congressional investigation of federal tax scandals was pushed on a widened from today amid reports that other heads may roll in the wake of President Truman's firing of Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle.

A House Ways and Means Committee mapped new hearings for Monday into Southern California tax matters as President Truman was reported in Key West to have passed the word that a government house cleaning is in prospect.

At the same time Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo) said in Washington that "The obvious next step is to fire Attorney General J. Howard McGrath."

A highly placed White House adviser had said earlier that Mr. Truman's firing of Caudle as chief of the Justice Department tax division "is just a starter."

Caudle resigned "by request" because of his "outside activities," and Mr. Truman was reported to have said other government executives may expect the same treatment if their own outside activities — however legal — contribute to charges against the administration.

Newsmen were told the President had his anger up "over disclosures that have reflected on him and his administration."

"He hopes that any of those whose activities are open to question will step out of their own accord," the White House source stated.

The demand for McGrath's ouster was made by Curtis in a statement which said the attorney general "shares equal responsibility for Caudle's outside activities, including his notorious expense-paid trip to Italy this summer in behalf of two wine merchants."

"Additionally, Mr. McGrath, as head of the Department of Justice is responsible for that department's failure to act not only in the serious internal revenue scandals, but also in his obvious refusal to perform his duties when the disclosures of wrongdoing involving the Reconstruction Finance Corporation became known."

Reds Deny Killing American Prisoners

TOKYO, Sunday, Nov. 18. (AP)—The Communists broadcast violent denials today that they had murdered more than 5,500 American prisoners since the Korean war began, but Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said the slaughters were all too true.

The report, which shocked the Western World, was issued Wednesday by Col. James M. Hanley, head of the U. S. Eighth Army's legal section and, as such, in charge of assembling war crimes data.

In a statement Saturday, General Ridgway, Supreme United Nations commander, confirmed the authenticity of Hanley's report but did not mention any figures.

Ridgway said, "The shocking impact of the brutality which has been revealed should have been no surprise to the American people. The basic facts have long been known."

The general stated that all verified deaths, from whatever cause, had already been reported to relatives. He expressed regret that the manner in which Hanley's compilation was released had caused fresh anguish to the kin and friends of men missing in action.

"It has been concluded some months ago that at an appropriate time, when the accumulated evidence warranted and when due coordination had been effected with the proper authorities in Washington, this evidence should be made public," he said.

"That this coordination was not properly effected at the time of this release is of the utmost regret to this headquarters."

The general intimated, however, that he regarded Hanley's action as an act of providence.

"It may perhaps be well to note, with deep reverence, that in his inscrutable way God chose to bring home to our people and to the conscience of the world the moral principles of the leaders of the forces against which we fight in Korea."

The Communists, who had kept silent for three days, started a series of angry denials Saturday and continued them Sunday.

The Peiping Radio, quoting a North Korean Headquarters spokesman, alleged that the atrocity report was a "fabrication."

Ignoring the evidence that Colonel Hanley had acted on his own responsibility alone, the Reds charged that the disclosure was made as a deliberate American government policy "to stir up new war hysteria in the United States" and to block a Korean armistice.

It went on to charge that it was the Americans, and not themselves, who murdered war prisoners.

The Red broadcast, however, gave no supporting evidence.

Jury Acquits 4 Orange Police

BEAUMONT, Nov. 17. (AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted four Orange policemen of charges of violating the civil rights of a Negro, Levi Dorsey, now dead.

Freed were Police Chief Alvin V. Keown, Assistant Chief Henry L. Stanfield and Patrolmen Osval Alvie Folsom and George Powell.

The jury deliberated for five hours.

The officers were indicated in September of one count of violating Dorsey's civil rights and a second count of depriving him of his civil rights.

Dorsey died in February a few days after being released from the Orange City jail where he was held on a charge of robbing a cafe. The federal charge did not allege the officers were responsible for his death.

They were charged with beating him and keeping him in an unheated cell.

Leroy Dorsey testified he was ordered to beat his brother.

Defense witnesses said Leroy attacked his brother in a cell and the two were separated by the officers.

Doctors testified the Negro died of pneumonia.

The FBI investigated after the Orange County grand jury had dropped the case. The officers, freed in $1,000 bail each, continued on their jobs until the trial.

UN to Debate Monday Allies Peace Proposal

PARIS, Nov. 17. (AP)—The United States, Britain and France won U. N. committee approval today for opening of debate Monday on their arms limitation proposals, which include a call for an eventual count of atomic weapons.

The 60-nation political committee at the same time overrode Soviet Bloc protests and shelved Russia's peace package for discussion much later in the assembly. Western speakers attacked the Moscow proposals as old and oft-defeated.

The vote to take up the Western Three-Power Plan was 45 to 5 (Soviet Bloc), with five abstentions.

A Russian attempt to have the Moscow plan listed for discussion immediately after the three-power plan was smothered 38 to 6, with 19 abstentions. India joined the five Soviet Bloc countries in supporting this procedure.

McHaney, shown being placed before the screen of the machine by Jimmy Bulger, operator. Yesterday 323 persons were x-rayed in the opening day of the service. The unit will be in operation in the courthouse Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Sen. Johnson Charges Arms Aid to Europe Is 'Far Behind Schedule'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) sharply accused a top defense officer today of "confusing and misleading" reports on arms shipments to Europe.

Instead of being "well ahead of schedule," Johnson said the facts are that the shipments "are lagging far behind the originally programmed schedules."

Johnson is chairman of the senate preparedness subcommittee which has been running a check on the whole defense program. The group has complained that the rate of defense production has been too slow.

His blast today was aimed directly at Maj. Gen. George H. Olmsted, director of the Office of Military Assistance.

Olmsted called in reporters Wednesday and told them that arms deliveries for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) actually were ahead of what "we told Congress we would be able to do by this time."

The general even removed secret labels on some shipments to France to back up his reports.

Senator Johnson, in a lengthy statement, said he "was surprised and even shocked" to read this.

The Senator said Olmsted's public reports contradicted secret data previously given the preparedness subcommittee. He sent Senate investigators to ask an explanation from the general.

Johnson said the truth was that "when the original schedules for arms shipments to NATO countries broke down," military assistance officials set up new schedules they knew could be met "and then blithely announced that ever thing was ahead of schedule."

"This is an outstanding example of the type of thing that has created widespread suspicion concerning the integrity of our government," the Senator said. "The public has become weary of confusing and misleading pictures of conditions painted by officials who apparently do not believe that the public can be trusted with the facts."

Johnson said he could pick out parts of the secret military reports on European arms shipments that "could paint a very black and depressing picture."

"That black and depressing picture would not reflect the facts accurately," he continued. "But it would be as valid as the super-optimistic view presented to the public by General Olmsted."

Johnson said he is "not seeking to blame General Olmsted for the failure to deliver arms to NATO countries on schedule."

He said studies by the subcommittee staff indicate that the "lag is due to circumstances beyond his control."

"But I wish to enter a strong protest against the all too prevalent practice in certain government circles of double-talk statements designed to convince the public that 'everything is for the best in this best of all possible worlds'," the Senator said.

Seven Garages Apply As 1952 Car Inspectors

Seven Snyder car agencies and garages have reported that they have applied to the State Department of Public Safety to be licensed as motor vehicle inspectors.

According to a new state law which goes into effect next year, drivers must have their cars inspected and certified as safe before buying license plates for 1952.

STANDARD CHARGE

Most of those who have applied for the inspectors' license believe they will be prepared to begin inspections on or before Jan. 1. A standard rate of $1 per inspection has been set by the state, and 25 cents of the fee will go into state funds.

Snyder dealers say motorists will be required to have their cars inspected annually before purchasing license plates, each time they trade cars, and after any wreck in which their car is involved.

The Texas law was passed this year after it proved successful in Pennsylvania. When the Pennsylvaiania law was passed in 1933, 13 per cent of the state's accidents were caused by defective vehicles, compared to about three per cent from the same cause now.

Any Texas garage is eligible to apply for the inspector's license. The garage owner, if he has sufficient space, can set up an inspection station for very little capital. Snyder dealers say each station must have a light tester to check focus and candle power of head lights. Some will also have brake testing machines, while others will check brakes in road tests.

STATE SCHOOL

Some of the Snyder agencies and garages have already sent representatives to a one-day school conducted by the State Department of Public Safety in Abilene. The department is giving instruction to those who will inspect the cars.

Included in the auto parts to be checked in the inspection will be all lights, brakes, windshield and wipers, front end, horn, muffler and exhaust pipes, and steering device. Those who have applied believe each inspection will require from 30 minutes to one hour of their time.

More than 7,500 vehicles are registered in Scurry County, and all the inspectors expect a last minute rush for inspections before the registration deadline for 1952.

Midland Man To High Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Chapman said today Bruce K. Brown will resign as deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) June 1.

Brown will be succeeded by J. Ed Warren, independent oil operator of Midland, Tex., who recently retired as president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. Warren will join PAD's staff as an associate deputy April 1.

Brown left the presidency of Pan-Am Southern Corp., New Orleans, a year ago to serve as deputy to Petroleum Administrator Chapman. As with most industrial leaders recruited for defense-agency positions, he had agreed tentatively to remain about a year.

Chapman in a news announcement expressed "great regret" at Brown's departure and said:

LEAVES MONEY TO PROMOTE DRINKING

SALEM, Mass., Nov. 17. (AP)—The Essex County probate court has received the will of a Los Angeles woman providing for the promotion of liquor drinking if anyone refuses her bequest.

The will filed Friday contained this proviso:

"In case any request is refused, it is to be given to some saloon keeper's society for the promotion of liquor drinking There is a good reason, a family reason, for this order."

That paragraph was in the $1,134 will of Miss Nancy Alma Livingston.

2 Big Planes Collide, One Ends In Crash

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 17. (AP)—Two four-engined transport planes on training flights — one blind on instruments — crossed tails in a collision 2,000 feet above Oakland Airport today.

One tail-less transport spun to earth and exploded, killig its crew of three and burning nine persons in automobiles near the crash scene.

The other transport, with a stabilizer wrecked, limped to a safe landing with three aboard across the bay at San Francisco Airport.

One of the nine burned was a boy, Donald Gaskin, who looked up a moment before the doomed Overseas National Airways plane hit — just in time to "see two pilots throw up their hands in front of their faces."

Donald was among eight of 10 boys in a pickup truck who were burned, none seriously.

Chief Pilot Ralph Shope, Oakland, landed the crippled California-Eastern Air Lines transport at San Francisco.

A&I President Denies Block To Sanitation

KINGSVILLE, Nov. 17. (AP)—The president of Texas A&I College today denied as unfair charges made in Austin by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, that the school had been uncooperative in a clean-up campaign on the polio-struck campus.

Dr. Ernest H. Poteet, A&I president, said:

"We have tried in every way to assist the team of sanitarians sent down by the State Health Department. We regret that some of the conditions that existed on the campus last year still have not been cleaned up satisfactorily but we have tried and are still trying to correct them."

In Austin Dr. Cox had told newsmen that the Health Department's efforts to clean up conditions at A&I have met with "no cooperation from college officials."

Terming the situation very serious, Dr. Cox told the Associated Press:

"We sent a team of sanitarians down there, enough to clean up the whole town. But we can't get cooperation. The city of Kingsville is most cooperative, but not the college."

Dr. Cox said he would not describe the polio outbreak as an epidemic.

Iranian Blames British Policy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—An Iranian spokesman blamed British Prime Minister Churchill's "Empire" politics today for the failure of American sponsored efforts to settle the British-Iranian oil dispute.

Hossein Fatemi, deputy prime minister of Iran, said his country and Britain are now in a contest of "pressures" to see which one can hold out longer without revenue from Iranian oil. He predicted Iran would win because "I don't think the economic situation in Great Britain is any better than ours."

Texas Pelicans Delivered As Louisiana Continues To Fume

LONDON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Texas beat Louisiana 4 pelicans to 0 today.

The big-beaked birds wound up a plane flight of more than 5,000 miles as a gift to Britain from Texas.

"All this to beat Louisiana," grinned tired and unshaven James T. Carter, news editor of the Galveston News, who brought the birds here as personal luggage.

Both Texas and Louisiana offered pelicans to Britain after hearing that St. James's Park, opposite Buckingham Palace, now is without its traditional pelicans.

Texas, however, didn't wait for any formal acceptance of its offer. Carter gathered up the pelicans, hopped a plane and headed for London.

Louisiana, the Pelican State, yelled foul and called Texas a claim jumper.

DIPLOMAT ACTS

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden took what diplomats would call a apparent step to ease the tension. Eden instructed his man in New Orleans formally to accept the Louisiana pelicans with "much gratitude."

The Louisiana pelicans are expected to come along later. The Eden message to Louisiana through British Consul General Alan David Francis might be considered the day's diplomatic consolation prize.

Told of Eden's Louisiana message, Carter smiled:

"He's late, isn't he? The Texas birds are here. While Louisiana waits, Texas figured we'd just bring 'em over."

Carter was met at London Airport by Major I. K. V. Bobkirk, baliff of the royal parks, and Tom Hinton, birdkeeper at St. James's park.

Carter explained the birds were named "Gal," "Yes," "Ton" and "Tex."

CARTER NAMES BIRDS

"We caught them around Galveston, but we didn't have time to find out their sex," Carter said.

"But with four birds, there's bound to be a pair."

Birdkeeper Hinton said it was difficult to determine whether the pelicans were boys or girls, adding:

"We may have to keep close watch on them for weeks."

The Texas pelicans were taken to the London Zoo to get used to English weather before being turned loose in the park.

Hinton was kind of gloomy about how the birds would get along in Britain's cold and rainy winters, but said stoutly:

"We shall do our best."

As honorary ambassador to the park of St. James's in charge of pelican affairs, Carter will lunch in the House of Commons Monday with Minister of Works David Eccles. The royal parks are administered by the minister.

Carter also is hoping to see Prime Minister Winston Churchill. The Texan is scheduled to leave by plane Monday night.

Truman Draws Line Of Battle To Meet Southern Democrats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Talk of political revolt against President Truman and his civil rights program is running strongly through the South today. But no one seems quite sure how the rebellion will be staged—if there is one.

States' Rights leaders still are groping for a positive course of action—some means with which to defeat Mr. Truman and block a civil rights platform plank without abandoning the Democratic party entirely.

This became clear in the past few days during the Southern Governors' Conference at Hot Springs, Ark. The anti-Truman forces know where they're headed but they don't yet know how they're going to get there.

On the other side, pro-Truman forces in Dixie have begun to speak out boldly against any rebellion that would split the party. They seem disposed to challenge the States' Righters in a dispute that threatens to grow into a bitter family quarrel in the South.

FIGHT PROMISED

Young Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas discosed this mood recently when he said: "We're going to fight for the South. We can't take it for granted."

The Hot Springs conference also showed Mr. Truman can make peace with his Southern political foes—for a price. But the cost tag on the peace package apparently is no bargain for the President.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Caroline, Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia and other States' Rights leaders made it clear the cost would be:

(1) Eliminating Mr. Truman as the party candidate for President next year.

(2) Eliminating the issue of civil rights legislation from the party platform.

House speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas told the Southern governors in a plea for party loyalty that the Democrats might be able to get together on a platform. Some hopefully interpreted this as a possible hint that a compromise platform might be agreeable to Mr. Truman.

SPECULATION BLASTED

But Mr. Truman blasted this speculation. He told reporters Thursday in Key West that his "State of the Union" message to Congress in January will commit the Democratic Party to campaign in 1952 under his "Fair Deal" banner.

He added his program will be part of the platform regardless of who is the Democratic nominee for President. And his program includes civil rights bills.

Thus he appeared to draw the lines of battle. He didn't sound like a man holding out an olive branch to the Southern Democrats.

Rumblings of a "Beat Truman" campaign have been heard in the South for the past several months. They are certain to grow louder with the approach of the Democratic convention next July if Mr. Truman decides to run again.

Some Southerners had expected this campaign to take definite form this month during a States' Rights rally at Selma, Ala., and the Southern Governors' Conference.

But the Selma meeting and the governors' conference passed without any move by the States' Righters to launch an organized revolt.

There were some signs anti-Truman forces may have felt the "Beat Truman" drums were sounding off too early in the game.

The word has gone out that the Dixie forces will not try to agree on a specific campaign plan until they know what Mr. Truman is going to do.

Suit Filed For Half Interest In Oil Company

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 17. (AP)—Attorney Thomas W. Lanigan of Grand Island, Neb., said today he has filed a suit in federal court in Cheyenne, Wyo., on behalf of an Elkhorn, Neb., man who seeks half of Dr. Victor Ziegler's interest in the Bonanza Oil Company at Worland, Wyo.

Sale of the Bonanza stock to an independent Texas group for about $20 million is near completion, Ziegler, Bonanza's president, said earlier this week.

Lanigan said J. Robert Warren claims he and Ziegler prospected together for 10 years and that the Bonanza Field near Worland was a joint venture.

The attorney said he also has filed on Warren's behalf, claims of ownership of all leases involved. The claims were filed in the federal and state land offices in Wyoming, he said.

Zieger, former geology professor, claims to have developed the Bonanza Field which now has 10 wells capable of yielding 25 to 30 thousand barrels of oil a day. The first well was brought in a year ago.

About 40 persons originally invested in the venture and later were issued stock. The number of stockholders has increased with resale of some of the original stock.

Man Awarded $25 Per Week in Damage Suit

A verdict to award the plaintiff $25 a week compensation for 108 weeks was rendered by a district court jury Friday in the case of Woodrow Gibson vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association.

Gibson, 27-year-old former oil field worker, was seeking the maximum, $25 a week, for 401 weeks. In his petition, he calimed total and permanent disability, compensation for which would amount to $10,025, and requested it be paid in a lump sum.

The jury's verdict was that the $2,700 awarded be paid in weekly amounts of $25. The plaintiff alleged his injury occurred May 31, 1950, while he was working for Moran Bros. Drilling Co.

The insurance association was represented by Ross Hemphill of Snyder and Fred T. Porter of the Dallas law firm of Leachman, Matthews & Gardere. Gibson was represented by Frank Sentell of Snyder, Judson Francis and John O. Wilson of the Dallas firm of Gallagher, Francis & Bean.

Red Workers Told To Infiltrate, Sabotage

BERLIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—The pro-Soviet World Federation of Trade Unions openly proclaimed today a policy of infiltrating agents into non-Communist labor groups to sabotage Western rearmament.

The policy of boring from within was outlined by Benoit Frachon, French member of the WFTU's executive committee, in a three and a half hour speech in East Berlin. He told 200 top officials of the Red federation that Western military programs must be crippled at all costs.

Georgia Comes To Life To Drop Auburn 46-14

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 17. (AP)—An oft-belittled Georgia ground attack grew to awesome maturity today and sparked a 46 to 14 rout of bewildered Auburn.

Halfbacks Lauren Hargrove and Zippy Morocco and Fullback Dick Raber, whose ground gaining efforts had been puny, came to life to make a seive of an hitherto stout Auburn defense.

Raber thrilled a crowd of 25,000 with three touchdowns and Morocco ran for two. Hargrove raced 79 yards for another. Freshman Bobby Dellinger added a seventh score from the two after setting it up with a 24-yard dash.

President's Statement Raises Predictions He's Not Running

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—President Truman's assertion that the new Democratic platform will reemphasize the "Fair Deal" has strengthened Washington speculation that Mr. Truman won't run again.

Some Democrats think the President expects the party to make defense of his administration its chief domestic issue and will be satisfied to seek this sort of vindication without running again himself.

Senator A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) predicts publicly that Mr. Truman won't be a candidate.

The Truman statement was the top development in a week that brought Gov. Earl Warren of California officially into what now shapes up as a Republican nomination race between Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and the field. The picture is still obscured by the silence of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as to whether he will run.

The Eisenhower people pushed Senator Lodge (R-Mass) to the forefront as their campaign manager. But it apparently remains for Lodge and Senator Duff (R-Pa) to get some direct word from the general on a trip to Paris next month that they can translate into campaign assurances of his availability for the GOP nomination.

Mr. Truman told his Thursday news conference at Key West that the "Fair Deal" will be in the next Democratic platform regardless of who runs.

He told the same conference, in a discussion of another matter sure to have political repercussions, that he wants to get at the bottom of reports of tax collection irregularities. The next day he fired T. Lamar Caudle, assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's tax division, for "outside activities" incompatible with his official duties.

The President's statement about a 1952 "Fair Deal" platform was of particular interest to Southern Democrats. To States Righters from Dixie it was a signal that the party probably won't accept any of their demands for a new place in the Democratic Sun, nor will it soften its stand on the politically-explosive civil rights issue.

Southern demands for more weighty voting power—through return to the rule that required a two-thirds vote to nomination in the convention, and otherwise—are expected to be presented to the July convention by Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

Linked with this, of course, will be a Southern demand that the party's platform plank on civil rights be couched in only the most general of terms.

If the Southerners don't get this—and Mr. Truman and his forces will go a long way toward retaining iron control over the convention—then the Dixie contingent must be ready for some other venture.

Price Daniel Hits Truman

GALVESTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel says both political parties in Texas should seek candidates who would uphold the annexation treaty between Texas and the United States.

He told the Texas Editorial Association convention Friday the only way to remedy the tidelands situation and other "powers in Washington such as the recent censor imposition" is for "Texans to rise in their traditional fighting spirit and pick the right kind of 1952 presidential nominees."

Daniel said President Truman ignored the contract of Texas annexation by seeking to take away the tidelands which the U. S. agreed by treaty that Texas should retain.

Referring to Mr. Truman's recent order on information, Daniel said it is only through newspapers that people know what is going on.

W. R. Beaumier, publisher of the Lufkin Daily News, urged delegates to keep up a vigorous fight for legislation to preserve Texas forests.

In The State of Texas

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE NEW TEXAS "SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW"

1 Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952. On this date, the new Safety Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).

2 What Must You Do After An Accident? Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.

3 You Don't Have to Carry Liability Insurance, But . . . If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.

4 It's Easy to Establish Financial Responsibility with a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.

5 What is the Minimum of Your Liability? The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.

6 Select An Established Insurance Agent. — The agents listed below know the insurance business and represent well-known dependable capital stock insurance companies. These agents are not of the kind that are here today and gone tomorrow. Their names are listed in the telephone directory. A telephone call will find them ready to serve you—not only NOW—but YEARS from now. Call the one of your choice.

Only two among the eight seniors leaving the ranks of the Snyder Tiger football team this year have lettered all four years in high school. They are N. J. Harrison, back, and Don Keller, guard. Keller was all-district tackle in 1950. Both were team captains this season.

Seniors other than Keller and Harrison who played their last game Friday night represent every position on the ball club. At the extreme left, Back Bill Cain points at the injured foot of Back Clifford Green, sitting, who could not play the last three games. Others, from left to right, are Guard Armin Hegenheiser, End Bill Voss, Center R. W. Thornton, and Tackle W. G. Birt. Both Green and Voss were on the mention list of all-district players in 1950.

Unheralded for their work in high school football are the team managers, who care for equipment, render first aid, and take care of anything the players need. Here, Managers Ray Courtney and Garland DeLoach inspect their field kit, which they use in every game to keep players in shape.—(Dale Walton photographs).

High school coaches and players kept their eyes on the junior high school eighth grade team, which will contribute several players to the Tiger squad next year. Just beginning to pick up their football know-how from Coach Horace Bostick, they came out of season play with an even number of wins and losses. Many times they played ninth grade squads of other schools because of a difference in junior high schools. Two opponents were from AAA schools, which they may face in district play next year.

OPEN SEASON

By DALE WALTON

Deer season in Texas got off to a shooting start Friday, and Snyder hunters made a mass migration to Central and East Texas to get in on the early game.

Snyder dealers who sell hunting license report that they have sold more than 500 license for this year, and they add that about half those who bought them are returning in the Texas season.

Most hunters are going to the central part of the state, near Mason, Brady, and Junction, while others move east of Snyder, close to Strawn, believing deer will be more plentiful there this year.

More than 3,000 hunters had moved into leases near Mason by Friday, and very few leases were left. They believe there will be considerably less deer this year than last.

Turkeys are few and far between because of the prolonged summer drouth, and those who bring them back should be considered masters of the art of hunting.

Snyder hardware and sporting goods dealers report that rifles and ammunition are moving fast, but they add that the supply is holding out. They have had a big increase in sales during the past week, mostly of 30 calibre, and larger.

While most hunters are shooting in Texas, some are going out of state to the mountains of New Mexico, where they say deer are much more plentiful and hunting much safer. Most of the Colorado hunters are back with plenty of meat.

* * *

County Judge Edgar Taylor took his rifle and red cap to Junction this week, where he will have his first experience at deer hunting. He commented that since everyone else is hunting deer, he might as well learn.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Holcomb went to Ozona Thursday, where they will spend several days hunting deer.

* * *

Hunters might take heed to a few statistics on last month's violations of Texas Game and Fish Commission rule. According to Vernon Skagg, chief clerk of the commission, $8,462.98 was collected in fines and court costs as a result of game breaking during October.

Several of the major cases involved illegal shooting of deer and wild turkey before the season opened, some for headlighting deer, and others for hunting deer at night.

Twelve persons were arrested for hunting deer from cars. One hunter was arrested for shooting doves with a rifle.

The money collected from hunters in October came from fines for 303 cases.

* * *

A hunter near Bracketville was shot and killed yesterday morning by a game warden, who said the hunter was spot-lighting. The warden, who was released on $1,000 bond after being charged with murder without malice, said one shot was fired at him before he fired at the hunter.

Ira's Season Ends in Loss To Coahoma

Ira footballers rounded out their season Friday night with a loss to Coahoma 51-33 to give them a district record of no wins and seven losses.

Scoring more against the powerful Coahoma squad than against any other this season, the Ira team used passes to make most of their gain.

After the Coahoma crew scored three times. Ira Quarterback Sonny Thompson passed to End James Maupin in the second period, and Maupin ran it to a touchdown to make the play worth 70 yards.

Ira received the kickoff after the half, and Halfback Linnon Burney, the receiver, ran it back 90 yards for another Ira score.

Coahoma scored again, and Ira struck back in the third quarter with another Thompson - Maupin pass play good for 60 yards and another score. The two repeated the performance early in the fourth period making 50 yards and a TD.

Near the end of the game, Thompson tried running the ball and surprised the Coahoma team by racing 20 yards to pay dirt. The squad made three extra point tries good during the game.

Tarleton, Arlington Tie

ARLINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—A touchdown in the last four seconds helped Tarleton State to a 20-20 tie Friday with Arlington State. The touchdown was for 10-yards on a pass from Tommy Hudspeth to Clyde Hill. Don Deal Converted.

Allen Academy Tops

BRYAN, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Allen Academy ramblers were smeared Friday night by the Bucaneers of Blinn Junior College of Brenham, 31-0, and Allen's hopes for second spot in the conference were washed up.

Colorado City Wins Last Game As Snyder Moves to Triple-A

One of the hardest working defensive organizations Snyder has used this year was not enough to keep the Colorado City Wolves from adding another to the long line of wins over the Tigers in the last few years.

Playing before probably the smallest crowd of the season in the Tiger Stadium, Snyder was outplayed and outscored in the second and fourth periods to a 13-2 defeat from the Wolves.

FIRST SCORE

While the first quarter saw the two teams remain in midfield, the Wolves picked up more steam in the second quarter when Back Steve Scott rushed through right guard early in the period to a touchdown after another back, George Swann, had set it up with several short jabs and one 10 yard plunge. Conversion by Quarterback Berman Corbell failed.

After the Tigers lost the ball on downs on the Wolves' six yard line, Corbell attempted to punt out but missed the snap from center. The ball went past him out of the end zone for a Snyder safety and two points.

Yardage gain of the two teams was near equal in the first half, but the Wolves rolled in the second half, picking up 146 yards on the ground to Snyder's 17.

SECOND SCORE

After the Wolves ran off six consecutive first downs, Scott took a handoff on the one yard line from Corbell and plunged over for another score. Corbell's kick was good for another point, and Colorado City took up its winning lead of 13-2.

The Tigers' main offensive gain was made by Halfbacks Dan Burns and Gerald Crawford and Fullback Jackie Grimmett on handoffs from Quarter Burney Hagins. Hagins tried several passes, as did Back N. J. Harrison, but only one was completed for 40 yards gain. Another Hagins pass completed to End Bill Voss was good for another 40 yards, but was called back because of an infraction of the rules.

Defensively, the Tigers worked together better than usual during most of the game, with Guards Don Keller and Armin Hegenheiser and Tackle W. G. Birt serving as obstacles in the Colorado City offensive path.

The Tigers missed their last chance to defeat the Wolves in a district game before moving up to AAA competition. Next year the Tigers will be in District 1AAA with Midland, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Vernon, Plainview, and Lamesa.

Top Pro Ball Games Sunday

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—The New York Giants and Cleveland Browns—heated rivals after facing each other only four times—tangle here Sunday in the National Football League's No. 1 attraction of the day, if not of the season.

To the winner goes first place in the loop's American Conference, and probably the championship itself. The Browns, who have won six straight games after losing their opener, hold a slight advantage on the Giants, who sport a 5-1-1 record.

The National Conference also has a couple of important games, with the Los Angeles Rams (5-2-0) and Chicago Bears (5-2-0) trying to break their deadlock for first place.

The Rams are rated strong 14½-point favorites over the winless but dangerous New York Yanks in Los Angeles, while the Bears are given a 13½-point edge over their ancient rivals, the Green Bay packers.

Other games find Washington at Pittsburgh, Detroit at Philadelphia and the Chicago Cardinals at San Francisco.

Hermleigh Defeats Trent 12-7; Ends Conference Leader

The mighty Hermleigh Cardinals became the undisputed District 5B champions Friday night when they rolled over Trent 12-7.

The Cardinals will now meet Sanderson, District 6B champ, for the bi-district playoff on Nov. 30. Place for the game has not been set.

In the Friday game, Cardinal Fullback Dicky Wall set up his own touchdown and finally plunged over from the four-yard line to give Hermleigh the lead of 6-0 in the second period.

No scoring resulted in the third quarter, but early in the fourth period a Trent player intercepted one of Quarterback Floyd Jacker's passes, and Trent Quarter Jimmy Winn and Half Weldon Beasley made the outstanding play of the night on a pass-and-run scoring good for 79 yards. Winn's kick was good to place Trent on top 7-6.

With less than two minutes to play, the Cardinals were on the Trent 15 on a fourth down when Hacker passed to End Jimmy Cooper, and Cooper was on the one yard line before he was dragged down. Wall then made a dive through the line to chalk up another Hermleigh score and win of 12-7.

A win for Trent in the game would have placed Hermleigh and Robert Lee in a tie for the championship. Hermleigh finished the district play with six wins and one loss to Robert Lee's five wins and two losse.

The Cardinals moved up a notch in district standing from last year, when it placed second to Stanton. Hermleigh was the top district team in 1948 and 1949, winning bi-district in 1948.

Scoreless Tie In Illinois And Ohio State Tilt

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17. (AP)—Ohio state's in-and-out Buckeyes knocked some of the luster off unbeaten Illinois' hopes for a Rose Bowl bid today, as they held the seven-time winners to a scoreless deadlock.

A crowd of 79,457 watched the twice-beaten Bucks halt several Illinois surges deep in Ohio territory to put the first blemish on the record of the Western Conference leaders.

The vaunted Illinois ground attack was held to a net gain of 48 yards by the powerful Ohio line. Six times Illinois was inside the Ohio 35-yard line, and twice were inside the 10, but failed to score.

Ohio surged into the shadow of the Illinois goal twice but muffed a field goal attempt from the 8 once and lost the ball on downs on another try.

Soldiers Drop Another Game

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17. (AP)—By the margin of Carl Sempier's placekick, Pennsylvania squeaked home a 3-0 winner over Army's aroused underdogs today.

Non-winners over Army since 1942, Penn converted a fumble into a touchdown midway in the third period after trailing 6-0 at halftime. Sempier's extra point following Chet Cornog's 3-yard scoring slash did the job.

Breaks came fast and furious. One set up the Army's 27-yard scoring march that ended with Fred Meyers driving over from the one in the second period.

FOOTBALL SCORE TO TROOPSHIP

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17. (AP)—To Corp. Wayne Holder:

In case you missed the broadcast, Lubbock High beat Odessa High Friday 21-7.

Sometimes it's hard to pick up broadcasts on a troopship bound for Japan. But radio station KFI broadcast the score for you, anyway.

You recall, before you shoved off for Japan Thursday night, you called your mother, Mrs. Marian Holder of Lubbock, and said: "I've just got to know how that game comes out."

Well, the minute the game was over she called a newscaster at KFI and told him, "I thought maybe they'd be listening to your news broadcasts on his ship."

"Will you put it on?" she asked.

The newscaster couldn't refuse.

More Benefits To Vets Of War II and Korea

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Veterans of World War II who returned to active duty and were disabled after the outbreak of fighting in Korea may receive vocational training, the Veterans Administration said today, "even though they may have already trained under the GI bill."

The provision for additional training, VA explained, was incjuded in legislation approved last month. It authorizes veterans with service-connected disabilities suffered after June 27, 1950, to take training "if they need it to overcome the handicap of those disabilities," VA said.

Titles Being Grabbed Off All Over State In Schoolboy Play

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

Seventy-one of the eighty district champions of Texas schoolboy football had been determined by Friday and four more were to be decided Saturday.

Sixty-one of these champions are in Class AA and A which start the play-off for state titles next week. It is in these classes that the four additional champions must be determined.

Class AAAA, which has another week to go in the district campaign, has five of eight champions — Lubbock in district 1, Ysleta in district 2, Ray of Corpus Christi in District 6, Lamar of Houston in District 7 and Baytown in District 8.

Only Lubbock, Ray and Lamar are undefeated and untied in Class AAAA. Lubbock kept its perfect record intact Friday in beating Odessa 21-7 to clinch the District 1 title, Ray smashed Laredo 36-0 in racking up the District 7 crown. Lamar won its title Thursday night by whipping Austin of Houston 34-13. Ysleta clinched its title last week. Baytown Friday night whipped Port Arthur 7-0 for the District 8 title.

In Class AAA six titlists have been determined — Midland in District 1, Breckenridge in District 2, Grand Prairie in District 3, Temple in District 5, Conroe in District 6 and Edison (San Antonio in District 7.

Midland won its title Friday night by whamming Sweetwater 39-0. Breckenridge beat Graham 47-7 for its championship. Grand Prairie, the only undefeated, untied team in the entire division, raced over Greenville 42-7. Temple won the feature game of the week in trimming Palestine 24-0 to knock the latter from the unbeaten, untied class. Conroe won its championship by downing Galena Park 21-7 and Edison won its title Thursday night by beating Burbank of San Antonio 19-0.

In Class AAAA the championship of District 4 where Sunset (Dallas) is in front and District 5 where three teams — Texarkana, Wichita Falls and Waco — are in a virtual tie for the top will be decided next week. In District 3 where Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) leads, the title was to be determined Saturday night if Poly (Fort Worth) lost to Fort Worth Tech. Otherwise it will be next week.

Shamrock was picked as the representative of District 1, and Littlefield of District 7 in Class AA and Tomball was named to represent District 25 in Class A Saturday to complete the State play-off brackets except for one place in the lower divisions of Texas schoolboy football.

Whitney played Itasca at Hillsboro Saturday night to decide the District 12 title in Class A.

The Orange Bowl junior international invitation tennis tournament is slated for Dec. 26-30.

Longhorns Put Down Frogs By 32-21, Throw Loop Into Tie

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. —Texas upset favored Texas Christian and its brilliant spread formation 32 to 21 in a wild and furious Southwest Conference football game today broken open by Gib Dawson's 61-yard scoring run on a pass from Dan Page.

The defeat was TCU's first in the conference, and put Texas Christian into a tie with Rice which defeated Texas A&M, 28 to 13. Each has three victories against one defeat.

To win Texas had to come from behind. Texas Christian took a 14-7 lead in the second period by scoring one touchdown on an 80-yard march and another after recovering a Texas fumble two yards from Texas' goal.

The play that assured victory for Texas came at the start of the second half with the score deadlocked at 14-14. With the ball on Texas 39, Page passed low and fast to Dawson, who caught it on the TCU 35 and romped all the way to score. Texas clinched matters with a 97-yard march a few moments later, Barney Sewell scoring after Page fumbled almost on the goal line.

The fancy spread formation of Texas Christian provided plenty of thrills but the hard charging Texas line managed to master it after being baffled during the early stages of the game. The game was played in crisp weather before 55,000.

It was a game of much offense and little defense, with just about every kind of dramatic football situation — fumbles, a blocked punt, interceptions galore, long runs and swirling action up and down the field.

Texas drew the first blood in the opening period when J. T. Seaholm blocked Ray McKown's punt and June Davis recovered for Texas on the TCU six. Don Barton carried over from the four.

TCU promptly came back with a touchdown scored at the start of the second period on an 80 yard march, Malvin Fowler passing from the four to John Medanich for the tally. TCU then took the lead 14-7 when James Jones pitched behind Don Barton and Morgan Williams recovered for TCU two yards from the Texas goal. Bobby Jack Floyd dove over.

Texas evened the score at 14-14 with only a minute to play in the first half on a pass by Don Page from the TCU 24. It was intended for Gilmer Spring, but two TCU defense men converged on him and the ball was batted right into the arms of Jimmy Pace who caught it on the two and scored easily.

With victory safely salted away, Texas nevertheless kept up its offensive drive in the final period and Don Barton scored the fifth touchdown of the game after fumbling a pitchout on the TCU 20. He promptly picked the ball up and ran right end to make the score 32-14.

TCU charged right back on a 50-yard pass from McKown to Ted Vaught who was brought down from behind on the Texas 18 by Howard Brooks. McKown bulled his way for 15 and Bobby Jack Floyd squirmed over for the final score as the game ended.

Keith Flowers, the big TCU linebacker, was responsible for making the game as close as it was. He knifed through the Texas line repeatedly and spoiled many Texas plays before they started. Page's passing was phenomenal. Texas completed seven out of nine passing attempts for 190 yards, while TCU completed 18 out of 33 for 200 yards. Texas outgained TCU by rushing 203 to 93.

Raiders Make Tulsa Fight To Win 21 to 14

TULSA, Nov. 17. (AP)—Texas Tech's upstart Red Raiders, unmindful of Tulsa's vaunted offense battled to the last gun today before bowing 21-14 to the Golden Hurricane's superior power and experience.

Shoved all over the field, but yielding only one touchdown in the first half, the Raiders came back to scare the daylights out of the hurricane and its 12,000 backers in the stands.

The Raiders tied the score the first time they got the ball in the third quarter on a 57-yard drive that ended with half-back Jim Turner slashing 15 yards for a touchdown.

After Tulsa quickly retaliated with two long touchdown marches, Texas Tech still refused to quit. Defensive End Ken Kummer blocked a punt by Tulsa's Jack Egan and in three plays Halfback Don Lewis went 22 yards for the Raiders' second tally.

Tulsa had its spectacular first-half touchdown to thank for its victory. It came after a 79-yard first quarter push in which Parsons went once for 37 yards and Halfback Jack Crocker sped a dazzling 40 over the goal line.

Another 79-yard drive by Tulsa broke the third quarter tie. Billy Parsons netting the touchdown from the five.

He connected again in the fourth from the eighth to wind up a 61-yard Hurricane march.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 17. (AP)—Head football coach Clyde Smith has made it official that he'll quit at Indiana University when this season is over.

Baylor Gives Wake Forest Worst Beating

WACO, Nov. 17. (AP)—Larry Isbell bombarded his Baptist cousins from Wake Forest with two touchdown passes and guided Baylor to a third tally in less than four and one-half minutes today. Baylor rolled from there to a smashing 42 to 0 victory.

Isbell scored once. Baylor end Stanley Williams made a brilliant catch of one of Isbell's second-quarter payoff pitches and threw key blocks all afternoon as Baylor gave Wake Forest its worst drubbing and only shutout of the year.

Linebacker Cosimo Brocato also shared much of the Baylor Bears' glory, picking off two Wake Forest aerials to start Baylor goalward and kicking all the extra points.

But Isbell, with his fancy flinging, fine running, great punting, and cagy generalship was the big show. His one-yard sneak for a last quarter score was almost incidental. He hit the button on 13 of 19 passes for 155 yards. He romped through the line for 22 and he punted 7 for a 39.4 average.

Isbell fired 5 and 7 yards for the first and third tallies to Harold Riley and Williams, his favorite receiver.

A rare 15-yard penalty against Wake Forest helped Baylor move to pay dirt the first time. Wake Forest back Larry Spencer was hit in the head by his teammate's punt, interfering with the Baylor safety's chance to receive a punt, and Baylor got possession on the Deacons' 18.

Fullback Richard Parma piledrived to the 5, and Isbell found Riley in the end zone.

Baylor right half Jerry Coody fumbled away two touchdowns, but got across the goal once on a twisting 25-yard dash around left end in the second quarter.

Don Carpenter also scored on an end sweep of 14 yards in the third period, Williams throwing the vital block to clear the way. Parma smashed through the middle from the 4 at the end of a 64-yard surge. Isbell's one-yard counter climaxed a 91-yard drive.

Wake Forest	0	0	0	0	—0

North Texas Mixture Of Ground and Aerial Attack Produces Win

DENTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—The North Texas Eagles put together top flight passing and ground attacks today to undermine Fresno State 62-0 before some 5,000 fans.

Coach Oatis Mitchell's high flying flock counted in every quarter as they tacked up their 8th victory of the season.

Stymied for only a short time early in the game, the Texas group, under direction of Quarterback Richard Harvey, mixed aerials and a ground attack to score once in the first, three times in the second and third and twice in the final.

DARK HORSE QUEEN

NEW IBERIA, La., Nov. 17. (AP)—High school football players couldn't decide on a Homecoming queen — each wanted his girl to rule over the celebration.

Somebody came up with a candidate for queen—one who had literally kept the team together.

So New Iberia went out Friday night and won a 37-24 victory for its Homecoming Queen grey-haired Mrs. Mary Brigandi Landry, the school's mathematics teacher who has spent much of her spare time over 30 years giving extra tutoring to players struggling to stay eligible.

SMU Levels Hard Beating Against Hogs

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP) — Passing both for and against brought Southern Methodist a 47-7 victory over Arkansas today — the worst defeat the Methodist have administered to the Razorbacks in history.

Fred Benners passed for four touchdowns, Benton Musslewhite for another and Jerry Norton's throwing set up a sixth. The seventh Southern Methodist score also was the result of passing — Arkansas' an interception of a Lamar McHan aerial brought it.

Each time the Methodists put on a touchdown drive it was after gathering in an Arkansas pass.

The Razorbacks could no more handle the Methodist aerial circus than they could fly a kite in a cave.

SMU tried to run only a little in the first period and didn't like the big, tough Arkansas line. Then it turned to throwing the ball almost exclusively.

Big Bill Forester scored two touchdowns, Benny White two, Jimmy Hawn one, Benton Musslewhite one and Bob Hooks one while Sammy Stollenwerck kicked five extra points.

Southern Methodist passed for an astonishing 421 yards but ended with a minus nine rushing.

The Arkansas touchdown was the result of passing — McHan's. His throwing set the ball on the three in a 44-yard drive Lew Carpenter made one and Murray Elton rammed over for the score. Edsel Nix kicked the extra point.

Rice Ruins Day For A&M By Romping Away With 28-13 Win

HOUSTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Rice rode the deadly passing of Dan Drake and the slashing smashes of Teddy Riggs to a 28-13 victory over Texas A&M today and a share of the Southwest Conference lead.

Twice Drake connected on touchdown tosses and Riggs broke loose for 80 and seven yards for the other two tallies as the Owls, preseason pick to be everybody's cousin, added the bewildered Aggies to a growing list of fallen brethren.

A&M, its dreams of old-time renown long since punctured, scored first, but ran into another last quarter nightmare. Charley Hodge was on the receiving end of the touchdown passes from Dick Gardemal and Ray Graves.

The sophomore-laden Rice team ticked off 289 yards rushing to 149 for Texas A&M and piled up 94 yards passing to 90.

Gardemal's six - yard pass to Hodge shortly after the second period began started the scoring. Darrow Hooper kicked the extra point.

Then late in the quarter, Rice rolled 95 yards and Drake pitched the last 20 to Sonny McCurry with just 50 seconds to go.

Bill Wright kicked the extra point —his first of four — to deadlock the score.

Rice smashed right back in the third, rolling 51 yards in nine plays with Drake passing the final 12 to Howton.

A&M came right back to move 56 yards in 6 plays and Graves' pass to Hodge covered the final 24 on the first play of the fourth period.

But that was the Aggies' last gasp and before the crowd of 58,000 could catch its breath, Riggs cut loose on his 80-yard scoring run. It came on the first play after the kickoff and the Pearsall Pounder cracked through tackle and ran completely away from a quartet of chasing Cadets.

The final Rice touchdown came just before the game ended and was set up when Howton intercepted Graves' pass on A&M's 19. On the fifth play, Riggs again romped through the Aggies to score.

It was a happy home-coming for Rice exes and was just another in the amazing saga of Jess Neely's youngsters, the ones who have fumbled and frittered away golden chance a score of times, but managed to pick up the blue chips in five of eight games.

For A&M, powered by Billy Tidwell, Bob Smith, and Glenn Lippman it was a case of too much Rice. The Big Owl line seldom bent and cracked open on even fewer occasions.

Texas A&M	0	7	0	6	—13
Rice	0	7	7	14	28

Texas A&M scoring: touchdowns —Hodge 2; conversion - Hooper.

Rice scoring: touchdowns — McCurry, Howton, Riggs 2; conversions-Wright 4.

Maryland And Vols To Meet

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Maryland will meet Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day.

The Sugar Bowl said Friday night Tennessee ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press' weekly poll, and Maryland, the No. 5 team, had accepted invitations.

Both are undefeated, untied, and many experts claim untested.

Maryland accepted the bid to the Jan. 1 game in the face of an anticipated Southern Conference ban on postseason games when Conference presidents meet Dec. 14.

Maryland president Dr. H. C. Byrd said he accepted the invitation without first asking permission of conference members. He said he followed the "pattern of past procedures."

Dr. Byrd said he would expect conference members to approve a Maryland request for permission to play.

Conference Commissioner Wallace Wade said he was "surprised" that Maryland had accepted the bid without consulting other members.

Notre Dame Takes 12-7 Win Over N. Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 17. (AP) — Notre Dame made an early two-touchdown lead stand against a desperate closing bid by North Carolina today to wrest a savagely fought 12-7 decision from the Tar Heels.

After a scoreless first period the Irish took charge. An 11-play drive covered 55 yards for the first Irish touchdown, Freshman Halfback Paul Reynolds covering the final yards.

The Irish swept to a second touchdown midway of the third quarter with a sustained march 84 yards.

In the third Carolina's Freshman Tailback Connie Gravitte passed to Halfback Jack Cooke from Notre Dame's 37 to the eight. Cooke went the rest of the way.

More Undiscovered Oil Than Discovered Existing In U.S.

HOUSTON, Nov. 17. (AP) — Stretching from Gulf waters to the Canadian border and out to the Pacific is an area of plains and mountains where geologists say there is more oil to be found than has yet been discovered.

This vast area, covering over half the United States, is the scene of a dozen or more widely separated oil areas in which major discoveries have been made in recent years.

They include the Permian Basin of 46 thousand or more square miles; the Williston Basin, which covers two-thirds of North Dakota, parts of South Dakota, Montana and laps over into Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Canada; the Uintah Basin of Northwestern Utah and a part of Colorado. Geologists say this may become one of the nation's most prolific pools.

INTO GULF

They drop from lofty peaks of the California Sierras to the Cuyama hills, and invade the Gulf off Louisiana.

They sweep across the 50-year veteran Texas Gulf Coast where new discoveries in the Wilcox, Yegua, Cockfield, Frio and other prolific pays added to an area that has long been a major producer.

They shine brightly under an Eastern Colorado sun to vie with waving wheat of the almost 100 thousand square mile Denver-Julesburg basin, and as gas fields in the San Juan basin of Northern New Mexico and Southern Colorado and in the redlands of Western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Dotting the plains, mountains and valleys are many other smaller strikes of recent years that constantly push the total of known reserves higher.

RICH PERMIAN BASIN

High on the southwestern plains is an area covering 55 counties in Texas and four in New Mexico that makes up the Permian Basin.

Some 200 million years ago this area was a great inland sea. That was during the geologic times kown as the Permian Period. Coral reefs were laid down to form an enormous porous limestone deposit.

It extends roughly from Floyd County on the north, through Chavez County, New Mexico, on the West.

Competent oil geologists say it is greater than any other recent development in the United States. No one will even venture an estimate of its total ultimate recovery possibilities.

The Permian Basin is divided roughly into three channels or areas.

MIDLAND CHANNEL

They are the midland, which includes the Scurry and more recent Spraberry; the Delaware, running from Reeves County North, and the Central Basin Platform, which extends from McCamey, near the old Yater Field, north and a little west to Hobbs, N. M.

As late as 1948, before the lush Spraberry and Scurry pay came in, this central basin was described as the most significant part of the area.

But that's all changed now.

20 BILLION BARRELS

The Spraberry alone, it is now thought, may contain up to 20 billion barrels of recoverable oil.

That is two-thirds of today's total, known, measurable reserves.

And the Scurry known reserves are said to exceed a billion barrels.

Over a few mountain peaks and desert sands into Northeastern Utah and Northwestern Colorado is a rocky wonderland which geologists say may become one of the world's most prolific oil fields.

That is the Uintah Basin, covering 8,000 square miles.

Geologists use an interesting yardstick to come up with such a surprising estimate of the area's potential.

Gilsonite fissures, found in recent wells and ancient bitume outcroppings caused by petroleum leakage millions of years ago, occur in fractured zones which sometimes measure as much as six miles wide and 17 miles long. They vary from a few inches to 19 feet wide.

PREHISTORIC CRUDE

It is estimated that leakage to fill that zone alone would take from 200 million to two billion barrels of prehistoric crude.

And this seepage, according to geologists, is only a fraction of the buried petroleum reserves.

The Uintah pay faces the snow-capped Uintah Mountains and covers a wide area of pastured valleys. The 1.5 million acre Ute Indian Reservation covers a large part of it, and the big pay reputedly is on this land.

Carter Oil Company, an affiliate of Standard Oil of New Jersey, drilled several dry holes but hit pay in its Ute Tribal No. 1 at 9,392 feet in June, 1949.

TERTIARY SANDS

Other wells have been drilled. To date, 25 exploratory tests have been drilled in the basin. Pay is from the Tertiary Sands. Earlier production had been found in the shallower Pennsylvania Sands, but it was the Ute No. 1 which set off the big play.

Two pools were found this year. They are Red Wash, by the California Company, and Duchesne by Carter and Continental Oil Company. The other producing field is the Roosevelt, brought in by Stanolind Oil and Gas Company and Carter.

These three fields were producing 1,155 barrels daily last week and total production had topped 517,000 barrels.

Plans of operators call for 50 wells in 1952.

CRACK TRAIN CRASHES FREIGHT

Rescue workers search through the wreckage of the Atlantic Coastline railroad's "Havana Special" after it sideswiped a freight train at Hortense crossing near Nahunta, Ga. Station agent James Strickland, 24, was burned in the wreckage as he tried vainly to flag down the passenger train. The passenger train engineer was killed; about 30 passengers were injured.

Latch-Key Children Expected To Be Mobilization Problem

BY Dr. MARTHA M. ELIOT
Chief
Children's Bureau

How many "latch-key" children are there in the nation?

There is no statistical way of telling until these "latch-key" children emerge as juvenile court cases; until, even if they do not become law - breakers, they emerge in society as personalities confused by problems of maladjustment.

What is a "latch - key" child? A case was reported to us at the Children's Bureau. The child lived, with his mother, in an overcrowded subdivision. His father had deserted the family. His mother had to be the breadwinner.

LEFT ALONE

Each morning, when she went to work, she left her five-and-a-half year old son at home to play.

"And when the children come home from school at twelve o'clock that is the time for you to go to kindergarten," she told him.

The little boy stayed home and "played" during the morning. He had no warm food for lunch. When twelve o'clock came, and he saw the returning children, he would run off into the backyard and hide. He was a chronic kindergarten truant.

To other children in the neighborhood, he was an unhappy little boy who compensated for his unhappiness by being very aggressive, perpetually getting into fights and being selfish about his toys.

He was, for all practical purposes, a "latch - key" child.

NO ALTERNATIVE

His mother, caught in an economic vise, had to continue her job in order to provide the essentials of life for herself and her son. She could not afford to place her child in a private day care program operated by an individual for profit. The day care program sponsored by public and private welfare agencies, where fees would be charged in relation to her ability to pay, had long waiting lists.

The mother could only "wait it out" until her child could enter primary school, and even then she had no assurance his primary education would not be on a half-day basis, because of over-crowded school conditions.

This is a very real problem and we have good reason to believe that the case cited here, found in a large eastern city, is neither unique nor unusual.

What can be done about it?

Just before World War II broke out, the Children's Bureau called a conference in Washington to discuss immediate steps to be taken to assure adequate day care for children of working mothers. The conferees declared themselves of the belief that "when mothers go to work there is an obligation on the part of the community to help parents plan for their children in such a way that the children shall gain and not lose by the experience."

STANDARDS SET

As a result of the conference, standards on day care were established for programs whether "public or private, free or pay, all-day or party-day, under home, school, public - health or social service auspices."

Ten years have passed, and in the gathering mobilization we can again expect an increasing number of mothers to be drawn into employment.

During the decade, there has been general acceptance of the standards set up for day care of children. But the communities of the nation have become lackadaisical in supplying enough good programs for such care to meet the mounting need.

State and local authorities should give as much thought to developing adequate day care programs as they do to developing adequate school programs. The nation's resources in children should not be weakened by depriving growing minds and bodies of the chance for full, normal development.

Royal Couple Arrive Home

LONDON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Princess Elizabeth returned with the Duke of Edinburgh today from their six-week trip to Canada and the United States and declared—just like any non-royal tourist—"It's grand to be back home."

Thousands of Londoners were on hand in a pelting rain to cheer the princess, but it was her little son, three-year-old Prince Charles, who was her first concern.

She almost knelt on the red carpet in dingy Euston Railway Station and hugged him close.

The Duke ruffled his son's hair and said, "How he seems to have grown."

In fact the self-assured Charles practically stole the show.

The crowd grinned at his obvious amazement at the size of the engine wheels. His questions about the locomotive and his excited dancing up and down when the grenadier guards band struck up a tune caused appreciative murmurs.

The radiant princess kissed her mother, Queen Elizabeth, and greeted her sister, Princess Margaret.

After 10 minutes at the station, the royal party drove to Buckingham Palace. There the travelers were reunited with King George, who is recovering from his serious lung operation, Queen Mother Mary, and the princess' daughter, Anne, who will be two in January.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gilliam, 2410 Avenue E, received a telephone call Friday night from their son, Corp. Henry A. Gilliam, who was in San Francisco at the time. He has been in Japan for three and one-half years serving in the armed forces.

He will arrive in Snyder tomorrow for an extended visit.

"BUFFALO HUNTER AFTER JAVELINAS"

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—That buffalo hunter from Nebraska was sent to South Texas today to find wild pigs to shoot instead.

W. C. Glazener of the Game and Fish Commission directed Jim Townsend of York, Neb., to Pearsall where the javelina hunting is good.

Townsend showed up at Amarillo Friday ambitious to hunt buffalo. He had a copy of the game commission's digest of 1951 laws showing there is an open season on buffalo in 31 Texas counties.

The season is open, but there aren't any wild buffalo. It's one of those laws the legislature passed a good many years ago and never bothered to repeal.

Second Operation Is Performed on Wiman

T. D. Wiman, Jr., who had hoped to return home yesterday from Dallas where he had undergone a spinal operation, was operated on again Friday morning after a blood clot was discovered in his leg.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lynch, Jr., who live next door to the Wimans, said they received a card from him yesterday telling of the operation. He is reported recovering satisfactorily, however.

The occurence of the blood clot is expected to delay his return home about four days. Wiman's sister, Mrs. Silas Devenport, and her husband went to Dallas yesterday to visit him at Baylor Hospital.

Men Overseas Ask For Flags Of Home State

BELTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Wherever fighting Texans go, it's a pretty sure cinch that the Lone Star Flag goes, too.

And it's almost as sure that the flag was arranged to be sent by Mrs. Horace Kelton of Belton, a vice president and state chairman of the committee on flags, Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

Most of the requests from overseas for Texas flags go to the desk of Gov. Allen Shivers.

But Texas doesn't have a state fund for flags for proud Texans.

Arrangements were made last year for the DRT to take over.

They did. Letters with foreign postmarks are stacked on the desk in Mrs. Kelton's sun room.

A Marine wants a Texas flag "to fly over here in Korea.

His letter continues:

"It's very hard to find a Texas flag here and a lot of people have asked me what one looks like. . . I'd like to have one not only to show them, but also to have something to cherish from my home state. The flag will be very well placed in a position so as to kind of plant a little piece of home here."

From the USS Osprey, a minesweeper, 20 per cent of whose crew members are Texans, came a request for a flag with the suggestion that the "display of a Texas flag along with our national colors would effectively dampen the enemy's morale. . . "

And the well-typed letter of Lt. junior grade, declared "I was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1945 and moved to Dalhart, Texas, after graduating. As a result I hold only a commission in the U. S. Navy. I would greatly appreciate a commission in the Texas Navy."

Members of the state flag committee for Daughters of the Republic of Texas are Miss Mildred Cherry, Galveston; Mrs. Walter Keith, Fort Worth; Miss Carrie Allen, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Herbert Davenport, Brownsville; Mrs. O. M. Farmsworth, San Antonio; Miss Jamie Hess, Dallas; Miss Exa Hornsby, Austin; and Mrs. J. L. Lockett, Houston; Mrs. Laura Talbot, Waco.

More Shows of Oil Are Made In Wildcat Southwest of Gail

Brinkerhoff Drilling Co. No. 1 Clayton and Johnson, Central South Borden County wildcat, eight miles southwest of Gail, has found more shows of possible production in the Pennsylvanian lime reef.

This prospector ran a one-hour drillstem test at 8,050-73 feet recovery was 10 feet of free oil and 110 feet of oil - cut drilling mud. There were no signs of water.

The exploration then deepened to 8,093 feet and it has run a drillstem test at last report on the interval at 8,071-93.

No gas or fluid had come to the top at the time the tool was closed after 20 minutes.

When the tools were pulled and the hole is conditioned, it is planned to drill 20 to 30 feet deeper and try another test.

This wildcat topped the Pennsylvanian lime at 8,044 feet on a datum of minus 5,601 feet.

It had its first shows of petroleum in a drillstem test at 8,043-65 feet. The tool was open two hours and 45 minutes.

Gas surfaced in 45 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the tester was open. Recovery was 270 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud. That fluid was estimated to have been between 50 and 75 per cent oil. There was no water.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 125 pounds. Shutin bottomhole pressure after 30 minutes was 3,600 pounds.

This possible new field opener is 662.2 feet from the south and 658.2 feet from the east lines of section 37-32-t&p-T&P. It is one and one-half miles southwest of the Seaboard Oil Co. No. 1 Clayton, a deep dry hole which had some slight shows of oil in the Pennsylvanian. But that zone also made water and it could not be completed as a producer.

The Brinkerhoff No. 1 Clayton and Johnson is 14 feet high on the top of the Pennsylvanian lime to the same marker in the Seaboard failure.

Oil Drilling Ahead Of Same Period Last Year, Commission Says

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—Oil and gas well drilling continues at a fast pace in Texas, the Railroad Commission said today.

Applications cleared for the week ended today totalled 392. For the year so far the total was 18,407 compared with 15,073 in the same months of 1950.

There were 170 oil well completions last week, including 13 wildcats. There were 41 gas wells and 135 dry holes statewide.

Oil well completions so far this year are still considerably ahead of last year, the commission's weekly summary showed. The total was 9,758 so far in 1951 compared with 9,351 in 1950.

The commission also reported an 11,666 barrel daily increase in the average calendar dry allowable for the week ended today. Total was 3,009,103 barrels compared with 2,997,436 barrels daily for the week.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If this very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 39 Pounds
"I was really hungry and enjoyed eating the meals obtaining Barcentrate," says Mrs. Lillian Flowers, 342 Locust St., San Antonio, Texas. "I have lost 39 pounds and feel so much better and look 10 years younger."

Lost 15 Pounds
Mrs. D. C. Baker, Rte 81, Bryan, Texas, writes us as follows: "I weighed 168 pounds when I commenced to take Barcentrate. After one month I have lost 15 pounds and am going to reduce to what it used to be down to 150 pounds. I have recommended it to friends taking Barcentrate and they are losing weight also."

Scurry Cotton Census Called Important to Future Farming

Recording the total cotton acreage in Scurry County is very important to farmers who wish to raise a maximum number of acres in future years, according to Elsworth Jones, secretary of the Production Marketing Association.

Jones said the Department of Agriculture has instructed all PMA offices to submit a report including the total acres of cotton in the county this year and during following years.

Scurry County was not limited to any cotton quota this year, but Jones warned farmers that the county may have a government allotment limitation in some future year, and the allotment may be determined from a history of cotton acreage over a period of several years. If farmers report their cotton acreage, it will go into the total for the county, but future quotas may be small if all farmers do no cooperate, the PMA secretary said.

Farmers may use one of two methods to have their cotton acreage recorded. They may either have their land measured by a recorder hired by the PMA, paying $3 per farm plus $1 for each extra plot of cotton, or they may submit an estimate of cotton acreage to the PMA office. Jones said is office is mailing questionnaires out to county farmers requesting their figures on cotton acreage.

Scurry County was under government restriction in 1950 with a quota of 84,067.5 acres of cotton and the full quota was use by the farmers. Each farmer's allotment was figured on a percentage basis from his total acres in cultivation.

Agriculture Committeemen Are Elected

Results in the election of new community agricultural committee men and delegates to the county convention were announced yesterday by Elsworth Jones, secretary of the local Production Marketing Association.

Jones said ballots were counted Friday from the four communities in Scurry County for the new committee, which will take office on Dec. 1. He added that county convention delegates will meet Nov. 26 to elect county committeemen for 1952, who will also take office in December.

Duties of the new committeemen are to work with the farmers of their own community and with the county committee on conservation and problems of the county agricultural program.

Jones said a total of 218 votes from county farmers were cast in the election. Farmers of each community voted only on committeemen from their own section of the county.

Recovery On Stock Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—A faltering advance this week carried the stock market another notch higher along the recovery route.

The performance of the market in the past five days—with time out for Armistice Day—was nothing to get excited about, but it did represent a small measure of progress.

Today the Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 10 cents at $96.60, just 50 cents higher than a week ago. The session was exceptionally slow with only 460,000 shares changing hands, the lowest since April 21 when the total was 390,000 shares.

Today's market was well within the pattern of the week. With the AP average of 60 stocks up 10 cents at $96.60, the industrial component advanced 30 cents, and both the railroad and utilities components held unchanged. The market narrowed down to only 792 individual issues of which 295 advanced and 247 declined with 4 new highs and 13 new lows.

The curb market was mixed.

Nearly $2.5 billion was cut in October from the market value of securities on the New York exchange.

The exchange reported that as of Oct. 31 there were 1,484 stock issues aggregating 2,592,310,888 shares with a total market value of $106,439,230,097.

At the end of September there were 1,481 issues aggregating 2,580,767,874 shares with a market value of $108,911,371,293.

Only two major divisions of stocks advanced in October—petroleum and natural gas and real estate.

Long Distance Dial System Through Texas

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP) — Fourteen Texas cities will join Nov. 24 a nationwide network which will enable their long-distance operators to dial direct any of the more than 15 million telephones in a thousand cities.

Cities to join the net work are Abilene, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Galveston, Jacksboro Lubbock, Marshall, Port Arthur, Tyler, Corsicana, Mineola, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

W. L. Prehn, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company general manager for Texas, explained:

"The result will be speedier and more efficient long distance service for telephone users in these 14 Texas cities. The system will enable more calls to be transmitted during the peak hours of the day."

This system enables long distance operators to punch out a series of 10 digits setting in motion complex equipment which automatically selects a route for the call to travel over and rings the telephone desired in any of the cities connected to the system.

Corsicana and Mineola both have manuel systems which mean that incoming calls will be received by operators who then complete the calls to the subscribers.

Austin and Midland will be joined to the system Dec. 16. A dozen other Texas cities will be linked to it next year, Prehn said.

Education And Roads Take Big Bite Out Of Texas Tax Dollars

AUSTIN, Nov. 17. (AP)—Nearly 40 cents of every state tax dollar in Texas is spent for some form of education.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's annual analysis of state spending also showed that 24 cents of each dollar goes for highways and road debts and 21 cents for public welfare, including old age pensions.

That accounts for 84 cents of each tax dollar. Other items include one cent for protection of persons and property, five cents for correctional and eleemosynary institutions, three cents for conservation of health. Total revenue receipts from all sources were $622,080,973.

Man Given Right To Distribute Estate

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17. (AP)—By court decree, R. Dwight Merrill, Seattle lumber man, becomes sole custodian of the $12.5 million radio and automobile fortune left by the late Thomas S. Lee.

Superior Court upheld the document which Lee wrote in 1934, giving Merrill, his uncle, the estate "to divide as he sees fit." Merrill has said he will distribute the estate among relatives of Lee's mother and father.

Lee, son of the late Don Lee, jumped to his death from a 12th story window last year. He had been adjudged mentally incompetent before that.

THANKSGIVING, 1951

Turkey isn't the only mainstay for Thanksgiving dinners. Mrs. J. C. Evans, above, 3741 Highland Drive, ladles appetizing baked ham slices onto her silver platter. Pineapple rings rim the tempting dish, an example of why Mr. Evans gained 20 pounds the first month they were married. In the center picture Marjorie and Jerry McDowell, children of Mr. and Mrs. Buster McDowell, find it more fun to play a seasonal game of pilgrims and Indians than the usual cowboys and redskins.

With Thanksgiving only four days away, Snyderites are already plunged into the holiday spirit. The traditional turkey will find its way to many a table come Thursday, and the scene above will be re-enacted in households throughout the city. Mrs. M. K. Stevenson, 2901 Thirty-eighth Street, finds daughter Cheril is an eager helper, while Kristin, the other daughter, declines to show any interest in the bird until it is baked and ready to yield a drumstick for her Thursday.

Learning the history of the first American colonies is fun when the young students illustrate the story of the Mayflower. The free-hand frieze above is one of the many projects school children are undertaking for the Thanksgiving season.—(Lee Watson photographs.)

Larry and Barry, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hoefer, 3774 Avenue V, get a preview of a holiday treat from their mother. She made the uncooked fruit cake early and will chill it until dessert time on Thanksgiving Day. The three third graders in the upper right picture are, left to right, Brenda Pitts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pitts; Carl Ann Voss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Voss, and David Wiman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Wiman. Their teacher is Mrs. Dan Hamil at Central Elementary.

WOMAN'S FORUM

Holidays ahead! And will Thanksgiving Day find local women deep in meal preparation?

It'll be about half and half, as usual, with some families going to visit relatives and others putting extra leaves in the table and getting out stacks of plates and silver to accommodate dinner guests for the day.

Dr. and Mrs. D. K. Ratliff, 3105 Avenue T, plan to have Thanksgiving dinner with her mother in Fort Worth. Then at Christmas, it's Mrs. Ratliff's turn to prepare the holiday meal.

* * *

The family gathered around Mrs. Bill Teaff's table Thursday will find the traditional turkey dinner. And, Mrs. Teaff says, the main requirement is "plenty of food." A coconut pie will likely be the dessert, as it's a favorite with her family, she adds.

* * *

"My husband always wants plenty of dressing and gravy with the turkey," says Mrs. R. L. Nash. She recalls an amusing experience they had during the war when they lived in New York and Washington, D. C. "We would go into a restaurant and order turkey and dressing, and it didn't take us long to discover that the natives around there considered gravy the 'dressing.' So we learned to order turkey and 'stuffing,'" she explains. This brought to mind another amusing incident involving sectional differences in food which occurred when she lived in Miami, Fla.

"I lived with some other girls from Texas, and we decided we wanted some red beans," she relates. Evidently, Florida folk don't know about red beans and corn bread, so Mrs. Nash and her friends had the beans sent from Texas. "Our land lady volunteered to cook them and to make a long story short, she dumped the whole sack full and had three pans full plus some in a dishpan," she laughs.

* * *

Mrs. Joel Hodges, 3812 Highland Drive, says her family plans to spend the holiday with her husband's relatives in Sweetwater. But when it comes her time to cook the turkey, she uses her electric roaster at a slow temperature. And their favorite holiday salad is a special boon since it can be made ahead of time. This is what she uses for the colorful congealed salad: 1 cup ground raw cranberries, 1 cup sugar, 1 package cherry flavored gelatin, 1 cup hot water, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1 cup crushed pineapple well drained; 1 teaspoon grated orange peel, ½ cup walnuts or pecans and 1 cup chopped celery. Combine the cranberries and sugar; dissolve the gelatin in hot water and add pineapple juice. Chill until partially set. Add cranberry mixture, pineapple, nuts, orange peel and celery and congeal.

* * *

Mrs. R. H. Odom's husband and son are planning a Thanksgiving deer hunt, but she's looking for her daughter and daughter-in-law over for dinner. To top off the meal she says the dessert will probably be a mock angel food cake which is a favorite around her house. This cakes doesn't take as many eggs as most angel food recipes call for, she explains, but the icing and fresh nuts, cherries and dates makes a real holiday treat.

* * *

Ray Cranberry salad is something Mrs. C. C. Miller's family can expect to accompany the main turkey course. She is planning to prepare the meal at their country home.

* * *

Mrs. Herman Trigg, 909 Twenty-seventh Street, says her family will be going to Mr. Trigg's mother's home in Brownwood for the holiday, providing their young daughter recovers from a minor ailment.

* * *

At the Jack Berry home, 601 Twenty - ninth Street, apple sauce cake is sure to be on the menu Thursday, Mrs. Berry says. She uses fresh apples which yield a moist cake and tops it with a butter cream icing.

* * *

Since he is the only grandson of his maternal grandparents, Ross Hemphill, Jr., and his parents will spend Thanksgiving Day in Dallas with Mrs. Hemphill's family. When she bakes a turkey, this cook says she finds wrapping the bird in aluminum foil makes the meat especially moist. A pumpkin chiffon pie is favorite dessert at the Hemphill's.

ASK MILDRED

Send your questions to Mildred Sparks, County Home Demonstration Agent, Courthouse or to the Daily News.

Mrs. Sparks, is it all right to tumble dry all wool blankets? Mrs. S.

Yes, it is all right to do that but research by the U. S. Wool Bureau shows that there is slightly more shrinkage when dried by that method.

* * *

Several questions have come up lately on caring for suede. I would like to pass along this following information published by Leathercraft Processing Co.

The first fact that every consumer should know about suede is that it is a leather, a tanned skin with the flesh side rubbed into a nap. It is a primary definition. Suede skins are limited by the size of the lambs from which they are taken.

Careful matching and selection of skins makes a suede garment look as though it is cut from a single piece. But natural differences in the skins are accepted as a part of the character of suede clothing. Cockle marks are another natural mark of suede; those are scars on the animal's skin—not frequent but sometimes there. In spite of being leather, suede is not an all weather garment. Heavy rains are harmful to suede, completely drying it out.

It is important to remember that suede need not be pressed. Wrinkles will easily hang out. There should be a warning against "steaming" suede; remind consumer again that suede is leather, moisture and oils will dry out from the skins.

Almost all suede will rub off particularly in the first few wearings. Consumers should be told to expect this. Wearers should not attempt to spot-clean suede. Sometimes, competent cleaners can spot-clean; if there is a bad stain the whole garment should be cleaned. The same, however, would be true to cloth.

Home attempts at cleaning too often result in removing some of the dye. The wearer should also know that brushing suede merchandise with a soft bristle brush, with special attention to the collar, cuffs and closing after each wearing, is the best general care for removing surface dirt harmlessly. Gently brushing with a piece of matching suede, if this is furnished with the garment, is another good method.

Other methods may prove harmful. Suede requires no more frequent cleaning than fabrics of comparable colors. Suede spils evenly and for that reason frequent cleaning is not necessary.

Important don'ts are: don't keep suede garments enclosed in bags for long periods of time; and don't keep suede in a hot closet. Lack of air and excessive heat may cause discoloration. The spots to be particularly avoided are: liquor and cleaning fluid, both of which are harmful to the dyes; water in excess, ink, grease, and sticky sugary stains. In many cases cleaning and re-dyeing will take care of these spots. One manufacturer explains that sections can be replaced if spotted or harmed beyond cleaning.

Mrs. Kirby Jack Tatum

Mr. and Mrs. Tatum Wed Here, Will Live In Post

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Jack Tatum are making their home in Post following their wedding which was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon last Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

The bride is the former Miss Freida Zonelle Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, 3011 Avenue T, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Tatum of Waco, Tex., are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. I. E. Biggs, the bride's uncle who is pastor of the Paducah Methodist Church, read the double ring ceremony. Background for the ceremony was of greenery, with baskets of woodwardia fern, giant white chrysanthemums and pompom mums decorating the alter. White tapers in candelabra were lighted by Annette Blum of Snyder and Joe Davis, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a high standing collar and fitted bodice buttoned in back. Long sleeves trimmed with seed pearls tapered to points over the hands. The gathered skirt extended to form a circular train, and the fingertip veil of illusion was gathered to a lace halo oranmented with seed pearls.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white and red roses tied with satin and festooned with loops of pearls.

Miss Lynn L. Logan of Snyder was maid of honor. Her floor length gown was of rose satin with matching net overskirt. Bridesmaids were Miss Elois McDow, Miss Kaye Weber and Miss Mary Frances Alford, all of Snyder, and Miss Nancy Hill of Lubbock. Their gowns were fashioned like that of Miss Logan's and were teal blue. All attendants wore headdresses matching their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of white chrysanthemums tied with chartreuse ribbons.

Gretchen Boyd, of Hobbs, N. M., cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a pink satin gown with pink net overskirt and carried purple tipped chrysanthemum. Annette Blum, the candle lighter, also wore pink.

Jimmy Tatum, the bridegroom's nephew from Dallas, served as ring bearer. Gene Woods of Denton, Tex., was best man, and ushers were the following: Floyd Bennett, Jr., San Angelo; Kirk Rabb, Jr., and Gene Kennedy, Post, and Don Ramsey of Snyder.

Wayne Pitner, organist, presented a pre - ceremony musical program including "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach, "Will O' The Wisp" by Nevin, and Debussy's "Claire de Lune."

B. K. Min of Abilene sang "If God Left Only You," "I'll Walk Beside You", and "Wedding Prayer" accompanied by Mr. Pitner. The organist also presented traditional wedding marches and played Stickles' "Meditation" during the ceremony.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the room. The table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of red and white roses and white gladioli. The three-tiered cake was topped with red roses. Mrs. C. A. Ramsey served the cake, and Miss Edith Blakey presided at the punch bowl. Miss Dorothy Taylor presided at the bride's book.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride wore a plum colored suit with mauve and gray accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

She was graduated from Snyder High School and attended McMurry College. Mr. Tatum was graduated from Waco High School, received his degree in pharmacy from the University of Texas and is employed as a pharmacist at Post.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included the bridegroom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Something a bit different along the party line was given Friday night by employes of the Diamond-M Industries. The group had a "galloping" record party, which turned out to be a jazzed - up version of a progressive dinner.

The affair began at Miss FLORANCE DUNIGAN'S apartment with hors d'ouevres. Then it was on to Miss RUTH DAVIS'S home, 312 Thirty - fourth Street, for the soup and salad and a record session. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. EWING, 2905 Avenue W, served the main course of spaghetti and meatballs, along with musical background of the record player. Mr. and Mrs. JIM KINCAID, 3789 Dalton Drive, served dessert and coffee and showed an Austrian movie he'd brought from overseas.

Also in on the fun were Mr and Mrs. W. P. THURMON and E. S. DONNER.

For her daughter's wedding last Sunday, Mrs. FRED DAVIS chose a teal blue crepe dress with brown accessories, worn with a white carnation corsage. Her daughter, who's Mrs. KIRBY JACK TATUM now, was married in a chantilly lace gown made by her mother. Mrs. Davis had the dress and veil all complete, but when she brought it out of its box for Freida to have the final fitting, they had a momentary shock. The dainty illusion veil had split where it was folded. In the midst of last minute wedding preparations, Mrs. Davis dashed back to the dry goods store, bought another length of veiling and hurriedly constructed another.

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the files of THE SCURRY COUNTY TIMES for Nov. 18, 1926.)

Sam Nation, genial and hustling manager of the Farmers' Produce Co., bought in one day, last Wednesday, 29,900 pounds of turkeys for which he paid $8,002.22, or an average of twenty - six and three-fourths cents a pound.

This was perhaps the largest amount of money ever paid out for turkeys in one day in Snyder, especially for turkeys raised in the county. The turkey crop in Scurry County is getting larger every year, but it could easily be trebled, if our farmers would only pay more attention to turkeys and less attention to cotton.

The grocery store of Brown & Taylor was entered some time last Sunday night by breaking out the glass in the front door. The thief or thieves worked the combination which had been left on "safety," and opened the safe. There was something like $650 in the safe in cash and checks, which was taken.

This building is to have a floor space of 80 feet by 90 feet with a large orderly room, store room, shower baths and all modern conveniences. This will be one of the largest and best equipped armories in the state.

In one of the most thrilling football games seen here in many a day, Snyder last Thursday downed the strong Littlefield high school team 7 to 6. This was the second time this year that the team has met defeat and the second time they have been scored upon. Space does not allow us to mention the many "thrillers" of the game, however, spectators who know a real football game when they see one say it was one of the best they have ever seen.

Taft Holds Small Margin Over Truman in Presidential Poll

(In a series of surveys on political sentiment, the Gallup Poll has tested the popularity of various presidential candidates and shown how voting sentiment would divide if the opposing candidates were Eisenhower vs. Truman and Warren vs. Truman.

Following is a report of a "trial heat" between Senator Taft and Mr. Truman.)

BY GEORGE GALLUP

PRINCETON, N.J., Nov. 17—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the overwhelming presidential favorite among G.O.P. county chairmen, beats Mr. Truman by only a narrow margin in a presidential "trial heat" among the nation's voters.

When a representative sample of these voters were asked how they would vote if Taft were running against Truman, here is the result:

TAFT vs. TRUMAN

Taft	45
Truman	42
Undecided	13
	100

The Ohio Senator is far more popular within the Republican party organization than he is with the voting public at the present time.

Evidence of this can be seen in the fact that he finished far in the lead in the Institute's poll of G.O.P. county chairmen reported last week.

Of 1,727 county chairmen who cast ballots in that poll, 1,027 named Senator Taft as the man they would prefer to see nominated for President by the G.O.P. General Eisenhower finished second with 375 votes, Harold E. Stassen third with 94.

But when running against Harry Truman, Senator Taft does not do as well as either General Eisenhower or Gov. Earl Warren of California.

"Trail heats" involving those two men showed the following vote:

EISENHOWER VS. TRUMAN

Eisenhower	64
Truman	28
Undecided	8
	100

WARREN vs. TRUMAN

Warren	5
Truman	33
Undecided	12
	100

Last spring a "trail heat" between Mr. Truman and another possible Republican candidate, Harold E. Stassen, found Stassen running ahead by approximately 3-to-2.

* * *

WHERE 'IKE' HAS ADVANTAGE

These survey results raise an important question:

Who are the people who favor Eisenhower against Truman, but do not favor Taft?

The difference in the vote is due largely to the relative ability of the two men to attract followers from the ranks of Independent voters and Democratic voters.

Eisenhower is more popular among both these groups than Taft is.

Taft runs 30 percentage points weaker than Eisenhower among Independent voters, and 23 per cent weaker among Democratic voters.

Among regular Republicans, on the other hand, Taft's strength is virtually equal to that of Eisenhower.

The following table compares the standings of Eisenhower against Truman among voters who classify themselves as either Republican, Democrats or Independents:

In trial heat against Truman, Per Cent Preferring:

	Eisenhower	Taft
Republicans	94	87
Democrats	36	13
Independents	570	40

The survey also reveals an interesting difference in the vote of sex.

In the case of Taft, a majority of men with opinions prefer him, while a majority of women with opinions prefer Truman.

In the Eisenhower - Truman "trail heat," a large majority of both men and women voters pick 'Ike' in preference to Truman.

* * *

PARTY STRENGTH FACTOR

Any analysis of the current political situation must necessarily take account not only of the popularity of individual candidates but also of the basic strength of the parties. A survey on party strength, just completed by the Institute, will be reported Wednesday.

One significant indication of the popular appeal of the Democratic party, as divorced from Mr. Truman's own personal popularity, came last summer when the Institute ran a "trial heat" between Senator Taft on the Republican ticket and Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson on the Democratic ticket.

In that race Vinson finished ahead of Taft—in contrast to today's survey showing Taft leading Truman. The figures were 43 per cent for Vinson, 37 per cent for Taft and 20 per cent undecided.

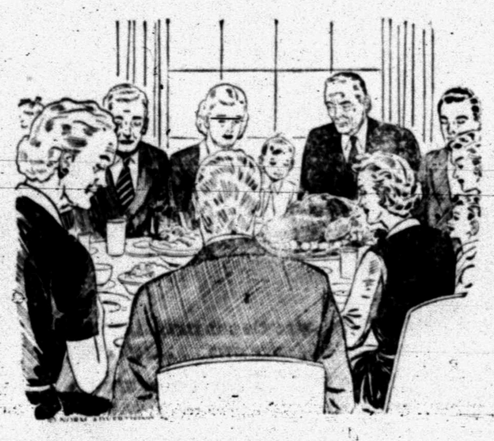

* * *

PREVIOUS RACES

Today's survey is the third this year in which Taft and Truman have been matched against each other.

Last April Taft ran ahead of Truman by 8 percentage points, the figures being 47 per cent for the Ohio Senator, 39 per cent for Truman with the rest undecided.

In July Taft's lead was 5 points, and in today's survey it is 3 points.

College Heads Meet To Talk Sports Cleanup

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Ten college presidents meet here Monday to see what can be done to de-emphasize intercollegiate sports.

The committee, headed by Dr. John A. Hannah of Michigan State College, has been set up by the American Council on Education.

And it meets at a time when college sports have been rocked by scandal and torn by indecision.

There have been the basketball horrors, in which athletes have been found in cahoots with gamblers. The violations fo West Point's stern code. The alleged alteration of records at William and Mary. The growing importance of a bid to a bowl game for the artistic and financial success of a football season.

Colleges have met these problems in various ways.

Some have said their basketball teams could no longer play in Madison Square Garden, as if that were the scene of all sports sin.

Some have dropped spring football practice, in an effort to put less stress on the importance of football.

Some have tossed in the towel and given up football altogether.

COUNCIL ASKS HELP

At their meeting here Monday and Tuesday the college presidents intend to come up with no answers. But they do hope to learn what the main problems are, and how best to uncover the causes that produce them.

The council has called for help in its studies.

From the National Collegiate Athletic Association — a member of the council — will come Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson of Chicago and Asa S. Bushnell of New York.

Six Snyders in U. S. But Only One for Buffalo Hide Trader

As a name for a town, Snyder doesn't do much for the imagination.

It doesn't, for example, sound as interesting as Agua Nueva or Indian Creek, and it hasn't the novelty of Dime Box or Happy.

But people who name towns, apparently, don't care too much, because there are at least six towns in the United States named Snyder and another in Montana, which came out Snider. There is also a branch post office in Buffalo, N. Y., which bears the name, and Pennsylvania has a Snydersburg and a Snydertown which apparently came from the same Snyder stem.

The out-and-out Snyders, outside of Texas' Snyder, are in Arkansas, Colorado, Montana, Nebraska and Oklahoma. According to the latest available census figures, none of these towns had a population of more than 5,000 persons with the exception of Snyder, Tex. Snyder, Texas, and Snyder, Okla., had the best rated post offices, with Snyder, Neb., rated third class.

There are certain advantages to the name, too. It is short enough to fit well the address side of a picture post card, and has two syllables for emphasis in pronounciation. And, despite its lack of poetic appeal, it doesn't grate quite as badly as Tomball or Needville.

Yep. Could be better, but it could be worse, too.

Incidentally, Snyder, Tex., is supposed to have been named for Pete Snyder, who operated a trading post for buffalo hunters as early as 1872.

Allotment Of Steel By PAD Doesn't Mean Discrimination

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP) — The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) hopes to convince the little oil and gas operators it is not discriminating against them in handing out steel supplies.

PAD represents the whole petroleum industry in bidding for steel against armament manufacturers, automobile makers and other users. PAD then has the job of apportioning the supplies it gets for the oil and gas industry.

Competition for this steel is keen ...Some must go into pipelines, tankers, refineries, some for wildcat drilling and some for new wells In undertaking to show that distribution within the industry is as equitable as possible, the PAD has asked 153 large oil and gas operators for permission to display facts and figures on the quantities of steel they have been allocated. This request went to companies which drilled 40 or more wells in the past year.

ALLOTMENTS CITED

For the first quarter of 1952 PAD has made primary allotments to 1,855 oil and gas operators for the purchase of tubular steel for drilling purposes.

The agency said 409,2550 tons of tubular goods were available for domestic operations in the period. In denying 1,026 requests for steel, PAD said about two-thirds failed to qualify for primary allotments. It said this group may file new applications for supplemental allotments.

For the quarter, PAD tentatively allotted 46,750 tons of steel for foreign petroleum operations and 10,000 tons for Canadian operations. Both are subject to a likely 10 per cent reduction.

A primary allotment of 272,000 tons was made available to larger operators — those drilling more than 11 wells in a 12-month period. About 30,000 tons were placed in field stocks to satisfy the normal development needs of small operators.

MONTHLY TONNAGES

The remainder was set aside for supplemental allotments, except for 22,200 tons placed in regional warehouse centers for emergency use by operators drilling wildcat tests.

The monthly tonnages earmarked for emergency wildcatting needs by warehouse centers include: Oklahoma City, 600; Houston, 400; Alice, Tex., 300; Odessa, 1,500; Wichita Falls, 400; Shreveport, 500; Harvey, La., 400; Ballinger, Tex., 300.

PAD also has set up three other priority brackets next in order for wildcatting if and when more metal is available.

The first of these brackets is for the drilling of extension wells, those radiating out from a wildcat test which has struck oil, to help define the boundaries of the new pool.

The second category is for off-set wells, which would permit a landowner or lessee to tap pool which jointly underlies his holdings and adjacent property, in order to protect his share of the reserves.

The third priority bracket is for drilling required to preserve validity of leases.

Two Finals In Sharon Ridge

Three new locations and two completions have been reported in the Sharon Ridge 170 field.

S. B. Roberts of Abilene will drill two of the locations on the C. A. Williams lease three and one-half miles southeast of Ira.

The No. 15 Williams is 330 feet from south and 1,250 feet from west lines of section 192-3-H&GN. The No. 16 Williams is 990 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of the southwest quarter of the same section, block and survey. The No. 15 is to be started immediately, with the No. 16 to start by Dec. 1.

NEW LOCATION

S. C. Herring will drill the other location as the No. 1 H. D. Bealey. Location is 330 feet from south and west lines of section 143-3-H&GN and about 10 miles south of Snyder. Operations are to begin at once.

S. B. Roberts reported completion of the No. 14 C. A. Williams for 35.49 barrels of 28 gravity oil on a 24 - hour pumping test. Gas-oil ratio was 20-1. Pay was topped at 1,704 feet, with total depth 1,750 feet.

Drillsite is in lot 4, section 1, block 1.

POTENTIAL

LeMay Oil Co. No. 10 A. C. Mills, drilled in section 1-1-J. P. Smith survey, pumped 24 hours to make a potential of 42 barrels of 28 gravity oil. Gas - oil ratio was 50-1. The well was acidized with 10,000 gallons of acid.

Top of the pay section was at 1,689 feet. Total depth is 1,725 feet.

Terry Well Ordered Plugged, Abandoned

J. C. Williamson of Midland is preparing to plug and abandon his No. 1 Gunn, Southwest Terry County wildcat.

This prospector had indicated possibilities of a discovery from the San Andres - Permian, but a 60-hour swabbing test showed a decrease in the oil yield and a large increase in the water recovery.

That caused the order to be issued to plug the project.

Location was 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 7-C-29-psl. It was 15 miles southeast of Brownfield.

The wildcat topped the San Andre at 4,470 feet. Elevation is 3,155 feet. It set 5½-inch casing at 4,884 feet.

The project drilled to a total depth of 4,938 feet and the open hole was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid.

After the load and residue had been swabbed out the prospector swabbed new oil at the rate of 10 barrels per hour, with a shakeout of from 10 to 15 per cent salt water.

Tanks were erected and the well was then swabbed for 60 hours. During that testing the oil showed a big decrease and the water showed a big increase.

During the last 12 hours of the 60-hour swabbing test it produced 14 barrels of oil and 34 barrels of salt water. That brought about the abandonment.

the latest treating has been recovered. Testing is continuing.

This possible new discovery from the Spraberry is five and one-half miles northeast of the Benedum multipay area and it is 662.8 feet from south and 660.3 feet from east lines of section 9-D-L&SV.

Top of the Spraberry is at 6,448 feet. Elevation is 2,611 feet. The 7-inch oil string is cemented at 6,397 feet.

Completions In 2 Sand Zones

Two completions in sand areas of Scurry County have been reported to the Railroad Commission.

In the George Parks - Cisco sand pool, Standard Oil of Texas completed the No. 17-S George Parks for 308 barrels of 41.2 gravity oil. This potential was calculated from a 10-hour flow through a 32-64th-inch choke with casing pressure zero and tubing pressure 125 pounds.

No water was present. Gas-oil ratio was 708-1. Pay was topped at 8,060 feet.

Location is in section 447-97-H&TC.

The Texas Co. No. 192-F P. L. Fuller, drilled in the Fuller sand area, was potentialed for 803.16 barrels of 42.4 gravity oil. The eight - hour flow was gauged through a one-half inch choke. Casing pressure was from 125 - 50 pounds and tubing pressure was from 300 - 125 pounds. Gas - oil ratio was 115-1.

Top of the pay was at 5,225 feet. Plugged - back total depth is 5,244 feet, with casing perforated from 5,225-5,239 feet.

Drillsite is in section 652-97-H&TC.

Spraberry Trend Maps Ready at Midland Firm

A complete set of maps covering Spraberry trend areas is now available from Midland Map Co., C. E. Prichard, manager, said today.

The area is covered by three maps, each available in one piece. Each map shows access roads and dates of latest postings on well, leases and fee information. Counties covered by the maps are Dawson, Borden, Martin, Howard, Midland, Glasscock, Upton and Reagan.

Run Casing In Nolan Wildcat at 6,013 Feet

Union Oil Co. of California No. 1 TL, wildcat one and three-quarter miles south of the Lake - Trammell - Canyon sand field in North-Central Nolan County, is running casing at 6,013 feet, total depth, in Pennsylvanian reef lime.

The lime was topped at 5,985 feet.

On a one-hour drillstem test at 4,987½-6,010 feet, recovery was 1,760 feet of free gas in the drill pipe, 60 feet of salty gas cut mud and 470 feet of salt water.

Flowing pressure was from 1,000 to 350 pounds and 15-minute shut-in pressure was 2,300 pounds.

Shows also were logged in the Canyon sand which probably will be tested through perforations.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 33-X-T&P.

Possible Spraberry Discovery Near Stiles

White Eagle Oil Co. No. 2 Ringo, Northwest Reagan County wildcat, nine miles northwest of Stiles, is reported to be swabbing new oil at the rate of five and one - half barrels per hour from open hole at 6,448-6,506 feet.

No formation water is being recovered with the oil, according to the reports of the testing which are from unofficial sources.

This oil is being made after the wildcat had been Hydrafracted with 2,200 gallons and Stratafracted with 4,000 gallons. The reports say that most of the residue from

Funeral Today for R. E. Gray, Resident of Snyder Since 1923

Funeral rites will be held this afternoon at 2:30 for R. E. Gray, 76, retired merchant and long time resident of Scurry County who died early Saturday morning in the Snyder Hospital following a long illness.

Gray, who moved here in 1923 from Carthage, Tex., has been a Snyder resident since. He was widely known in the county while he operated his furniture store here. Setting up his business on the square, he remained there until 1930, then moved the store to the East Highway, where he stayed until he retired in 1949.

Born in Starville, Tex., Gray lived in Kaufman County during the early part of his life, travelling for a grocery company. He moved to East Texas about five years before coming to Snyder. In 1907 he was married to Carrie Osborne in Farmersville. He was the youngest and only surviving member of his family.

Funeral services will be held in the First Methodist Church, where Gray had his membership, and interment will be in the Snyder Cemetery. The Rev. M. W. Clark will officiate, assisted by Rev. W. W. Adcock.

Gray is survived by his widow, who resides at 701 Twenty-ninth Street; one son, Robert Gray, Jr., of Stone Mountain, Ga.; two daughters, Mrs. L. D. Harris of Abilene and, Mrs. P. W. Cloud of Snyder; and eight grandchildren.

Bolger - Barnes Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Texans Holding Down Some Of Top South American Positions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—The State Department doesn't have a breakdown by states of the origin of its diplomatic personnel stationed throughout Latin-America, but Texans seem to predominate.

A department official handling personnel matters, speaking unofficially, said:

"I don't think there's any question but that more of our people in embassies throughout Central American and North America are from Texas than from any other state.

"There's a reason. They have grown up as neighbors to the Mexicans. Many of them have been bi-lingual since childhood, and they understand the Latin - American temperament better than the average person from other states."

TWO TEXANS TOPS

Two Texans, incidentally, are top men in the divisions of the State Department headquarters here which are concerned with relations of the American republics.

Tom Mann of Laredo is deputy assistant secretary of state for Inter-American affairs. Richard R. Rubottom of Corsicana is Deputy Director of the Office of Middle American Affairs.

The new U. S. ambassador to Venezuela, confirmed by the Senate last Oct. 2, is Fletcher Warren. A native of Wolfe City and still a legal resident of that community, Warren graduated at the University of Texas in 1921. The 5-year-old diplomat entered the department's foreign service late that year after serving briefly as student supervisor of the Texas School for the Deaf.

HIGH IN EMBASSIES

Although no lists are available showing by states the legal residences of those in Latin-American service, a check through the records showed a number of Texans holding important positions at various embassies.

Here are thumbnail biographical sketches of some of them:

George B. Winstead, 50, former city editor of the Houston Post and in charge of publications at Texas A&M College from 1938 to 1947 went to Mexico with the foot-and-mouth disease commission in 1947. Now stationed in Managua, Nicaragua handling the "Campaign of Truth" program.

Kennedy M. Crockett, 31, a native of Kingsville but a legal resident of Laredo. Attended Arlington State College and the University of Texas. Served as a vice consul at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. Served in Honduras in 1946, and is now in Mexico City handling visa applications of Mexicans and other persons wanting to visit this country.

'Givon' Parsons, 39, former Abilene retail shoe store owner who worked as a ship yard supervisor in Houston during World War Two. An attache of the embassy at Bogato, Colombia, he entered foreign service in 1944. Served at Matamoros, across the Rio Grande from Brownsville. He went to Costa Rica in 1948 just a week before a revolution broke out there, and had to make a trip behind combatant lines to escort 17 American citizens to safety.

IN BOTH WARS

Harry B. Pangburn, 28, was born in Acapulco, Mexico, while his father was serving there as vice consul. He moved to El Paso in 1931. A graduate of Stanford University, he served during the war in both the Army ground forces and the Air Corps. He was assigned to Bogota, Colombia.

V. Harwood Blocker, 48, native of Hondo, where he worked in a bank a a book-keeper before entering foreign service. His wife is the former Hazel Silliman of San Angelo. Now stationed in Mexico City, he has also served in Peru and Brazil. He is in charge of the Mexican farm labor program, under which nationals of that country are permitted to work temporarily on farms in the United States.

Dale Long, 43, a native of Mississippi but a legal resident of Dallas. Served in the Navy from 1927 to 1947. Now serving as a radio specialist in Bogota, Colombia. For a while during the war he served as an instructor in Navy program at Texas A&M College.

FOREIGN SPECIALIST

Mrs. Gertrude W. Leonard, 42, a native of Amarillo but now a legal resident of Corpus Christi, worked in a bank in the Gulf coast city before joining the foreign service in 1945. She is disbursing officer, handling financial affairs, at the embassy in San Jose, Costa Rica.

William Dickson Calderhead, 32, attended public schools in El Paso and worked in the army's finance division before joining the State Department in 1944 and going to Seville, Spain. He was transferred to Costa Rica in 1948.

Helen E. Geen of Dallas, who worked with War Foods Administration there during World War Two, worked in Costa Rica and Mexico before going to her present position in Port Au-Prince, Haiti. Her father is Arthur H. Geen, who works for The Dallas News.

Race Through Mexico Slated

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17. (AP) — Some of the best American and European stock cars and drivers race up the length of Mexico next week in one of the world's toughest tests.

The 1,933-mile race from near the Guatemala frontier to El Paso has challenged the skill of 104 drivers from eight countries.

Champions of the United States, Italy and France start with drivers of lesser fame from Tuxtla Guitierrez in the southern jungles next Tuesday. Five days of racing with one day of rest will take the hardier ones to Ciudad Juarez, opposite to El Paso, Nov. 25.

Twisting mountain stretches of the Pan-American highway over much of the route make the race a gruelling one. It is a paved highway so that lower-power European cars will be at less disadvantage than on dirt roads.

The race is limited to modified stock cars. The leading European contender is probably a new Italian Ferrari. The driver is Alberto Ascari of Milan, Italian champion. His co-driver is Luigi Villoresi. Ascari is second to Juan Manual Fangio of Argentina as 1951 world champion. He and Villoresi, a top driver for years, are members of the Ferrari team which swept European tracks last summer.

Fist place prize is $23,180. Other prizes range down to $1,159 for tenth place.

Among Americans entered is William Sterling of El Paso.

Cafe Owner Pleads Guilty to Possession Of Liquor, Is Fined

James Edward Riley, operator of Riley's Cafe, 2403 Avenue S, was fined $200 plus court cost of $23.50 Friday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal liquor possession. The case was filed Friday.

Riley, 48, is also under bond of $500 after pleading innocent to a similar charge filed Nov. 7.

A fine of $73.50 including cost, was assessed Aurelio Sisneras, 32, of Albuquerque, N.M., when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Representative Of Social Security Is Expected Here Tuesday

Arden McNatt, field representative of the Abilene office of the social security administration, will be in Snyder at the courtroom at 2 o'clock Tuesday. He can be contacted there for more information about the amended social security law. He also will assist anyone who needs help in filing a claim for retirement or death payments.

Clean Up In Tax Department To Take Many More Months

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP) — The congressional investigation into charges of corruption and misconduct within the nation's tax gathering service appears headed for a long run on the Washington stage.

Although barely four months old, it already has brought to light alleged irregularities on a wide scale. More than a score of federal tax agents have resigned, been fired or suspended. Two collectors have been indicted.

All this happens when the taxpayers are being asked to foot a $60 billion tax bill — highest in peacetime history.

INQUIRY WIDENED

The investigation has now been widened to include virtually every phase of the tax collection process — not the least being prosecution of tax frauds by the Department of Justice.

The inquiry seems likely to continue indefinitely — certainly until next summer, and possibly right up to the 1952 political campaigns.

If it ends before the campaign starts, the inquiry could have a profound effect on the voters when November rolls around again.

The investigation was started June 1 by a subcommittee of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

One scandal after another rocked the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Six collectors were among those who got out of the service or were let out. Two later were indicted on charges of bribery, tax shakedowns and other misconduct.

COMMITTEE FUNDS UP

Starting with a modest $50,000, the subcommittee headed by Chairman King (D-Calif) recently acquired another $150,000 and probably will ask the House for a additional $150,000 after Congress reconvenes in Jahuruy.

In August, as the subcommitee's findings developed, Internal Revenue Commissioner George Schoeneman resigned because of "ill health." His place was taken by John B. Dunlap, a big, hard-jawed Texan, who had President Truman's promise of a free hand in "cleaning up the mess."

Suspensions came thick and fast under Dunlap's reign.

Dunlap declared "nobody has had to prod me."

Out of the cooperation developed between the bureau and the subcommittee have come several steps which seem certain to have far-reaching effect on future actions of top tax officials.

TAX COLLECTORS RETURNS

The first was an order by Dunlap for an audit of the income tax returns of all internal revenue officials.

The hearings produced evidence that some officials were getting by without having their returns checked. In the case of Joseph P. Marcelle, who resigned by request as collector in Brooklyn, the report on an audit of his tax returns listed an understatement of income of $11,419 in 1948, and unsubstantiated deductions totalling $23,097 from 1945 through 1949.

The second step undertaken by Dunlap—at the recommendation of the subcommittee — was distribution of a questionnaire to reveal the financial status and net worth of all revenue agents dealing with the public — about one-half the revenue bureau's 52,000 employees.

It requires a listing of not only the agents' incomes, but that of their families as well. It also asks about such things as loans, gifts, mortgages and stock transactions.

"What we're after is the answer to the big picture—we intend to get it," said Dunlap.

SNYDER CONCERNED

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Dunlap's chief, has also pledged to go along with the committee in what King has called "restoring public confidence in the integrity of the internal revenue bureau."

Snyder has made no attempt to hide his concern over the effect of the disclosures on the tax-paying public. "We don't like it," he told newsmen, "but we intend to collect the taxes anyway."

The subcommittee has uncovered instances of agents enjoying extended winter vacations with their families, expensive automobiles, and multiple bank accounts—while earning around $4,500 to $6,500 a year.

Asked where they got the money, some agents said they had "sure-thing" systems for horse race betting. One reported spectacular luck hitting the "daily double" at Belmont Park — on a horse that was not running on the day in question.

Both Sides' Peace Proposals Before UN Called Insincere

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

SAN FRANCISCO — The sixth United Nations assembly opened in Paris with a peace offensive launched by President Truman, in which he made a proposition which he knew, in advance, the Russians would reject, and which was promptly answered by Andrie Vishinsky in the same spirit, with a set of proposals he knew his opponents would reject.

The San Francisco Examiner appropriately headlined Secretary Acheson's opening remarks: "Achson's offers "Peace In Blistering Speech." Thus are peace offers always made today, with neither side meaning peace or war. I do not believe that the president meant his own proposals seriously.

I cannot imagine that the United States would ever seriously agree, with the world as it is, to have nationals of other states taking a perpetual census of our war preparations, our armed forces camps, our atomic energy and armaments plants, unless the national were our allies. I can no more envision the American Congress or people welcoming a horde of Communist spies in such an endeavor than I can imagine the Soviets welcoming a similar horde of American census takers. It's just not serious.

• • •

The administration, deeply perturbed that the Russians have been running away with the peace offensive, felt it had to come up with a countermove. But neither side will convince any sensible person until the tone of voice changes. If our government wants even to make effective propaganda it should coordinate the speeches of its leaders. While President Truman and Secretary Acheson were calling, in Washington and Paris, for inventorying armaments with a view to their reduction, Gen. Omar Bradley was calling in Chicago for an expansion of American airpower—this year!

One would think that the administration would command its generals to observe appropriately solemn silence while it was launching a proposal for the reduction of arms, to give its propaganda an air, at least, of sincerity.

• • •

The question is how long the so-called free peoples will endure this preposterous means of conducting anti-diplomacy by mutual abuse in the name of the "last best hope of peace."

The lack of accurate descriptions is progressively paralyzing all thought. More and more the U.N. has become a forum in which not only do the great powers engage in mutual recriminations but the small states also barter for advantage over the great powers and of one another. In no sense is it a deliberative body aimed at obtaining a consensus based on reason or law. It is a committee of foreign offices, meeting in the atmosphere of a cock pit, in which no one is prepared to yield an iota of interest to any conceivably higher considerations.

Perhaps the U.N.'s greatest use is to provide opportunity for delegates to get together privately for what might be rational discussions. But it also affords opportunities for the bartering of votes between small states on issues in which one is interested and the other indifferent, and on the "You uphold me on this and I'll back you on that" basis, regardless of the world effect.

• • •

The Soviet Union stays in though repeatedly voted down because the Soviets have never taken the U.N. seriously. They throw their votes for any decision bound to stir up trouble in an area outside their control, use the meetings to study tensions that can be exploited, and use the veto to block decisions unfavorable to themselves, or merely to register protest. Otherwise, the Soviets rely on themselves, commit themselves to nobody, and maintain at all times freedom of action—to advance where advancement entails a minimum of risk; to retreat, too, when that appears, for the time being, more prudent.

Vishinsky declared he could hardly sleep for laughing. Why not? While Westerners spill their blood in half a dozen places, the Soviet Union is picking up real assets at rock-bottom prices. While the West prepares for and denounced the coming Hot War, the Soviets concentrate on winning the cold war.

1952 Will Be Low Point In Car Making

DETROIT, Nov. 17. (AP)—Next year's indicated four million passenger car output may be the defense emergency's low point.

That's the view of many of the nation's auto makers. They have worries about materials, of course. But they appear to have won their contention that automobiles are essential to the national economy — in war time even more than in peace.

They hear, too, that the special type of steel they use in car construction probably will be in easier supply from now on. They are hoping for an improvement in the copper situation, for they haven't yet developed a satisfactory alternate material for the red metal.

It takes more than steel, naturally, to build automobiles, but an easing in the steel outlook lifts a big load from the auto industry's production planning department. Some production managers believe 1952 may see defense stockpiles big enough to permit an increase in allocations to civilian operations.

However, insofar as copper is concerned this is a hope rather than an expectation. So the effort to find a substitute for copper, or to further reduce the amount of it now used in each car, is being pressed vigorously in the industry's engineering laboratories.

To anybody inclined to question the need of four million more new passenger automobiles next year the company heads say the nearly 26 million vehicles built since the end of World War II has barely kept up with replacement needs. They note that considerable current thinking appraises motor transport needs by pre-war standards.

Actually, they say, transportation requirements are on a considerably higher plateau than they were a decade ago and production planning has to be on that basis.

One of the industry's top sales authorities has said there will be a demand for five million new passenger cars annually for the next decade. At the same time he expressed concern that the nation's highway system will not be able to handle all the motor vehicles that will be needed in the years immediately ahead.

Announcing!
A display of currency, all this coming week, showing money in use from the early days of our Country to the present.

"Well, if that is the case," said King Charles, "let them issue their own coins if they have a mind to. They must be honest dogs, after all, to use the Royal Oak."

You and your family are cordially invited to view this display, which we feel, will prove both interesting and educational.

The showing will be in the lobby of the Bank and will start November 19th lasting through November 24th.

In this interesting presentation is paper money from early Colonial days that in our imagination we might see as having passed through the hands of George Washington or Alexander Hamilton or Thomas Jefferson.

There is money that was in use when the White House was burned in the War of 1812 . . . money that could have been used to buy or release slaves . . . Texas' own Treasury Notes from the stirring period when this State was a Republic . . . money used on both sides while the battle of Gettysburg raged. Practically all phases of history are represented by the money currently in use in each period.

Mrs. Jack Bowden, above, Thirty-first Street and Avenue X, bastes a turkey in preparation for the annual day of Thanksgiving which most Snydyerites will observe Thursday. The celebration goes back to 1621 when the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth gave thanks for the first harvest. Electric roasters, deep-freezes and other modern kitchen equipment were unknown to the early Americans, but the feast they prepared has become traditional. Cranberries, pumpkins and other accompaniments for the turkey will find their way to the feast tables just as they did 330 years ago when the colonists and American Indians gathered to give thanks. Look inside for a host of holiday recipes to help you with preparing for sharp appetites.—(Lee Watson photograph).

Not Everyone Can Look At Tax Returns

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—No one outside the Internal Revenue Bureau ever sees the income tax return of most people. There are exceptions.

It's a crime for any employe of the bureau to tell about anyone's return unless he does so under conditions laid down in the law.

Your federal tax return is a secret document—up to a point. Since there are exceptions, of course, some day you may be one of them.

The exceptions, if they could be summed up in one sentence, would be federal or state agencies engaged in some work connected with tax returns.

COMMITTEES CAN SEE

For example: Under the law the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee which handle tax legislation, can see individuals' tax returns.

But a member of the senate's foreign relations committee, which doesn't touch on income tax problems, might like to look at a neighbor's tax return. Under the law he couldn't see it.

A good recent example of all this is shown in the House Subcommittee investigating the scandal surrounding some of the Internal Revenue Bureau's own tax collectors who were fired or quit under fire.

That committee, since it's dealing with a tax problem, has had access to the tax returns of those collectors themselves.

HOW TO GET RETURNS

There are various ways in which tax returns can be obtained from the bureau by people not connected with it: In some cases the President must give permission; in others the Collector of Internal Revenue can do so.

The tax officials of a state—but only for some purpose connected with administering their own income tax law—can get the federal return of an individual, provided the governor of that state approves, and asks the Internal Revenue Bureau for it.

Egypt Wants Vote In Sudan

PARIS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Egypt told the United Nations today she is willing to withdraw her officials and armed forces from the vast, cotton-growing Sudan to permit a plebescite if Britain will do the same.

Egypt's Foreign Minister Mohammed Salah el Din said the "necessary machinery, atmosphere and preparation could be provided with the cooperation of the United Nations."

He added he was "more than sure "the British would not accept

The Egyptians a month ago cancelled their 1899 agreement with Britain providing for joint Anglo-Egyptian rule of the million-square-mile Sudan, Egypt's southern neighbor.

Britain refused to recognize this one-sided action. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Parliament the British would remain in the Sudan until it becomes self-governing—probably by the end of 1952—and can decide its own future.

Egypt has about 1,500 troops in the Sudan. Britain has about the same number, plus 5,000 men in the British-commanded native defense corps and 5,000 native police.

The Sudan's government is headed by a British governor general appointed by the Egyptian king. The administration is staffed by both British and Egyptian officials and there is an elected legislative assembly of Sudanese.

El Din described his proposal as a "frank, clear-cut challenge to the United Kingdom."

Combine ham, mayonnaise, and horseradish. Remove all crusts from bread. Cut bread lengthwise into slices ¼ inch thick. Spread with softened butter and with ham mixture. Place olives in a line crosswise at one end of the bread; roll bread starting at the end of slice. Wrap roll in a damp cloth or in olled paper and place in refrigerator for several hours. When ready to serve, cut crosswise into slices — any thickness desired. This makes sufficient filling for 1 full length slice of bread which will cut 8 thin pinwheels.

Use peanut butter instead of ham; omit horseradish — Mrs. Lewis Loewenthal.

DRIED BEEF ROLLS

Spread 1-8" thick slices of dried beef with a mixture of cream cheese and India relish. Roll and chill.

Use potato salad instead of cream cheese. — Mrs. Phil Nathanson.

CAVIAR BLINTZES

Season caviar with onion and lemon juice. Place ½ teaspoon on small thin pancakes and roll. Serve with sour cream (Smetina) seasoned with Tabasco Sauce and salt. — Mrs. Phil Nathanson.

LETTUCE ROLLS

Cut (1 x 3 inch) strips from lettuce leaves. Place ½ teaspoon of mixture of cream cheese, horse radish, few drops Tabasco Sauce, and a small amount mayonnaise on the lettuce and roll. Chill.—Mrs. Murray Cohen.

Make dough as for Bread Sticks. Let rise. Roll in small pieces the width of finger and twice the length, tapering at ends. Shape into rings or pretzels, pinching ends well together. Let stand on floured board, only until they begin to rise.

Fill large, shallow pan half full of water; when very hot, but not boiling, drop rings in carefully one, at a time. Let cook under the boiling point on one side, then turn (with skimmer) on the other and let cook.

They must be light, keep their shape and not break apart when handled. Place in hot oven (400 degrees) on thin baking tin.

If desired, sprinkle with salt and caraway seed and let bake until crisp and golden brown.

Place slices in cake pan with some brown sugar, melted butter, and pecans in the bottom of pan. Cover and when double in bulk again, bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes.

BEDBUGS HARD ON COMPETITION

HANAU, Germany, Nov. 17. (AP)—Paul Sonnefield, 54, started serving a four-month jail term today for hiring his nephew to place bedbugs in the rooms of a rival hotel.

Fritz Thimm, 24, told a German court he got 60 marks ($14.28) from his uncle for letting out 30 bedbugs in the rival hotel after he booked a room under a cover name. Several patrons were bitten.

The court convicted hotelkeeper Sonnefeld of "deliberately damaging" the health of the victims. Thimm got away with a 340 mark ($80.92) fine.

Three Die In Roof Collapse

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 17. (AP)—Collapse of a roof during construction killed three men and injured at least 20 others Thursday at the Reynolds Metals Co. San Patricio plant.

The roof was on a 70-foot ore storage silo.

Glennen James Tucker, 40, and Vincente Charo, 27, both of Corpus Christi, and Marcelo Valasquez, 25, of Kingsville, were killed.

Nineteen of the 21 men working at the top fell with the debris—30,000 pounds of concrete in addition to timbers and steel.

Four others were buried at the bottom of the silo.

Two of the men at the top scrambled to safety.

Rescuers worked more than two hours to dig the men from the floor of the structure. Only entrance was a four-foot square hole in a wall.

Torches were used to cut through the reinforcing steel to reach some of the injured.

Can We Sit By WhileKnowing Of Atrocity

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—There is no parallel in American history to the cold-blooded massacre of some 5,500 U. S. prisoners of war by the Communists in Korea.

It is the greatest atrocity committed against our nation since its founding.

It negates the principles upon which our republic is built—the value of the individual and human rights.

In the seven-year struggle to achieve American independence the U. S. Army estimates "at least 4,044 American soldiers were killed" in battle.

Yet in less than a year-and-a-half of the "police action" in Korea the enemy has murdered in cold blood more than 5,500 captured and defenseless American troops. They have murdered more Americans than died to make us a free people.

The figure is almost too shocking to comprehend. For these outright murders of our men are only a small fraction of our total Korean casualties—now at the 100 thousand mark.

The murders of our men are only a small fraction of the murders committed by the Reds among captured South Korean troops and the South Korean civilian population.

But the number of disarmed Americans they have brutally shot down or clubbed to death makes the Custer massacre of the Indian Wars or the Malmedy massacre of the last World War look like misdemeanors.

These massacres in Korea are no more legendary than the massacres of Hitler, and no more to be condoned.

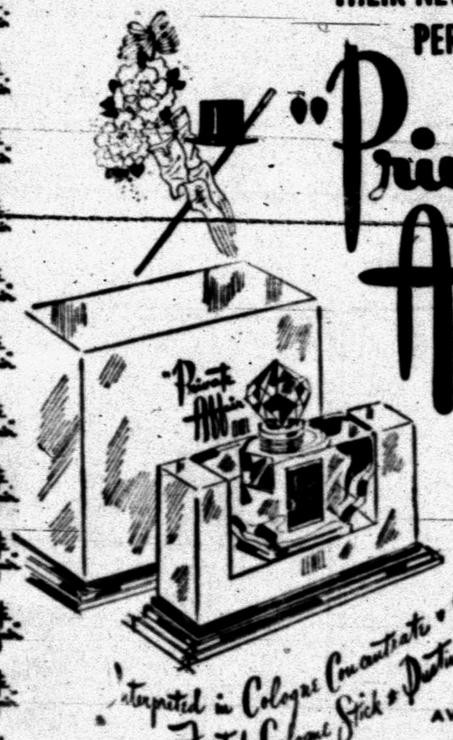

In the prison at Taejon in September of 1950, I saw the corpses of 400 civilians shot by the retreating Reds. What crimes had these folk committed? The crime of many consisted in the fact that they owned a rice paddy, were landlords or merely had remained indifferent to the communist cause.

In the courtyard of the Taejon City Jail I watched as they dug out the bodies of a line of American soldier prisoners. They had been tied together at the wrists, forced to kneel in a quickly dug ditch, then shot down. Two of the American boys died holding each other in a final handclasp.
