Governor Asks For Farmers' Ideas On Aid

By The Associated Press

Gov. Allan Shivers Thursday called for immediate response from farm leaders and small farmers and ranchers on whether they think Texas should seek benefits of the federal drought disaster program.

He said he wanted wire replies today so he could decide tomorrow whether to act or not.

"I think if we're going to take any action, it should be taken immediately," he said.

His request for wires went directly to county agents, farm editors, editors, and county judges in areas he considered most seriuosly affected by the drought. He asked each to contact at least six small farmers and ranchers to determine if they want the program in Texas and what they think the benefits will be.

Shivers said he has also wired Under-Secretary of Agriculture C. J. McCormick to determine the benefits of the program for small farmers and ranchers and how soon assistance could be given.

Shivers said he was "amazed if not astounded" to find at a drought conference he called Wednesday that state leaders did not know what the federal drought program involves.

"There's no question that some small Texas farmers and ranchers need help," he said, "but I don't want anybody to mislead them about what they can expect to get."

Shivers Wednesday questioned political implications of a move to declare the state a drought disaster relief area less than three months before the Presidential elections.

"We've had the drought about three years," he told a meeting in Austin. "I don't know whether this being a particular year has anything to do with it." Asked what he meant by "particular year," he answered that this was an election year.

He was addressing about 75 West Texas farmers, ranchers, agriculture officials, bankers, chamber of commerce leaders and others attending his hurriedly-called drought conference.

'DILLY-DALLYING' CHARGED

Some sided with the governor in seeking the delay. Others were inflamed at what was called "dilly-dallying."

Dairyman-Farmer Joe Bob Shelton of Brownwood said, "We're at the end of our rope. We have come to a point where we need some help that we're not able to get at home."

James McAnelly, assistant manager of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, added: "We didn't come here to talk politics. . . . If we dilly-dally around, it's going to be too late. I think it's time we did something."

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, backing the Shivers stand, said the governor had not been slow to act but had waited to hear from the farmer before doing anything.

VANCE IS DOUBTFUL

B. F. Vance, state director of the USDA's Production & Marketing Administration, was doubtful specific information could be secured on how the program would work.

Shivers wanted to know if farmers would get hay at subsidized prices, what kind of herds it could be used for, and what would happen to hay prices. He asked Vance to seek the best answers possible from Under-Secretary of Agriculture C. J. McCormick, who attended the West Texas drought conference in Abilene Monday.

Shivers noted farmers had been receiving emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration since 1951, when Secretary of Agriculture Brannan declared Texas a disaster area under another law.

Thornton On Way To Texas To Help Ike

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 21 (AP) —Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado headed for Texas today to campaign in behalf of GOP Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Thornton's plane took off shortly after 10 a.m. (CST) and was due at Fort Worth about 1 p.m.

The Colorado governor said he will confer on the Texas campaign plans with Jack Porter, who headed the Texas delegation for Eisenhower, and ex-Congressman Ben Guill.

"My services will be at the disposal of the Texas leaders for Eisenhower," Thornton said.

Thornton flew to Kansas City early today from Boise, Idaho, with the Eisenhower party for the presidential nominee's conference of Midwest party leaders.

In Dallas, Thornton is to open formally the new Eisenhower for President county campaign headquarters at the Adolphus Hotel.

The 41-year-old Texas-born Colorado chief executive was to arrive at Love Field by private plane. Following ceremonies at the Dallas County Ike headquarters he was to go to Fort Worth where he will open state headquarters on the 24th floor of the Continental Life Bldg.

Ready to meet him at Dallas were a delegation of Dallas Republicans headed by County Chairman Walter Fleming Jr.

Gov. Thornton will be principal speaker at a barbecue at Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth tonight.

Thornton was one of the leaders in the fight at the GOP national convention to get the Eisenhower delegation from Texas seated.

Equalization Board Has No Callers Today

The Snyder school district tax equalization board went into session this morning, but had no complaints this morning in the meeting.

Hardy Scarborough, assessor - collector, said that he did not expect anyone to come before the board, because most persons are satisfied that school taxes are already equalized as well as possible.

"Only about four tax payers have complained during the year that their school taxes are not equal, but none had serious complaints, and I do not believe any of them will appear before the board today," he said.

Members of the board said that no changes in the school tax setup are planned by them.

With nothing to do but sit in the tax office just west of the city hall today, the board members were passing the time away playing dominoes.

"But even the game is slow," Ernest Taylor, a member of the board, said.

Borden Wildcat In Hobo Field Is Abandoned

Standard of Texas has plugged and abandoned the No. 6-E-14 T. L. Griffin, a wildcat near the Hobo field in South Borden County.

A three-hour drillstem test was run in the Pennsylvanian reef from 7,148-176 feet. There was a fair blow of air at the start which increased in five minutes and continued for the remainder of the test period. Recovery was 150 feet of salt water cut mud and 995 feet of salt water.

NEW POTENTIAL

A correction has been made in the potential of Superior Oil Co. and Intex Oil Co. No. 1 Eva F. Laws, Northwest Scurry wildcat.

The official potential for the well is 84 barrels of 38.5 gravity oil with no water. The test covered a 24-hour period on the pump: Gas-oil ratio during that time was 119-1.

A potential of 159.5 barrels of oil had been reported for the well earlier. This apparently was not meant to be the official potential but only a gauge. The potential was taken shortly after this gauge when the well had been shut in after cleaning out.

DRILLING REPORT

The Texas Co. No. 1 M. A. Fuller, Scurry wildcat, is drilling below 7,369 feet in lime and shale after a drillstem test from 7,232-304 feet. With the tool open two hours on the test, recovery was 30 feet of gas cut mud with a trace of oil. There were 1,700 feet of free gas in the drillpipe. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 505 pounds, with 15-minute shutin pressure zero.

Ohio No. 1 Gaskin, West Kent wildcat, is drilling below 1,345 feet in anhydrite and shale.

Shell Oil No. 1 Burnett, King County wildcat, is at total depth of 6,718 feet in an unidentified formation and taking a drillstem test.

Union Oil No. 1 Loggie, Borden wildcat, is drilling below 7,365 feet in lime and shale.

RELEASED BY RUSSIANS

Charles Noble of Detroit, Mich., who told of seven years spent in Russian zone prisons, holds hands with his wife, Hildegard, in their West Berlin apartment. The 60-year-old camera manufacturer said in an interview he was finally released by the East Zone on July 4 of this year and was shipped to West Berlin where he is now awaiting approval from Washington to return to his home. He was trapped in Germany in World War II with his family and was not permitted to leave by the Nazi regime, he said. He was imprisoned by the Russians in 1945.

Truman Doesn't Know Of 'Mess' At Capitol

Secret Government Report On Oil Cartel Has Been Revised

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—A secret government report on alleged monopoly practices of seven international oil companies has been revised, shortened and "made more diplomatic."

The report—billed as an outline of price-fixing manipulations that added to the cost of U. S. foreign aid programs—is to be made public Monday.

It already has become a campaign issue, along with the orders which have kept it suppressed since Federal Trade Commission (FTC) staff members wrote it a year ago.

Dr. Walter Adams, economic counsel to the Senate Small Business Subcommittee which will handle publication of the document, told a reporter the language has been changed, and in some portions "made more diplomatic lest it cause international repercussions that could hurt this country in the cold war."

Adams denied vigorously that it had been "censored or watered down for political reasons."

"It is still a very hot report," he said.

Word had leaked out long ago that the report, among other things, accused the seven companies of charging exorbitant prices for oil delivered to European countries receiving U. S. dollar aid. Adams said this section remains in the report.

Adams said lawyers for the Standard Oil Company of California were given a preview of the report yesterday and were allowed to make photographic copies of some sections which named their firm among the seven.

He said Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, chairman of the subcommittee and the Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee, had authorized this privilege for all American companies named "in order to be fair to them."

Adams added that Sparkman has reserved next Wednesday and Thursday for public hearings at which the oil companies may reply if they desire.

The FTC has acknowledged that the report names these seven companies as engaging in cartel and monopoly practices: Standard Oil of California, Standard Oil of New Jersey, The Texas Co., Socony Vacuum, and Gulf Oil—all American companies—and the Anglo-Iranian and Royal Dutch Shell Oil Companies, incorporated abroad.

Saturday Evening Post Never Right

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Truman said today there ought to be some new blood in the Democratic Party but he knows of no mess in Washington.

At a news conference with the accent on politics, Truman said he had no comment on the way the Democratic candidates, Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman, have started their campaign. He said too that:

He doesn't have to read what the opposition says—he knows ahead of time what it is going to say and it's all wrong.

He thinks he knows more about the government than anyone in the United States.

Certainly Stevenson can have the advantage of the good research which fortified his own campaign speeches in 1948. Stevenson can have all the information he wants—and so can Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential nominee. Truman said he will give them the truth and if they want to use it, it's up to them.

While the Democratic Party can stand some new blood, that doesn't mean we are going back on what the Democratic Party has done in the last 20 years.

There was no comment on Sparkman's statement that the recent steel strike had been mishandled.

Nor did the President want to go into any detail on the incidents involving daughter Margaret, Secret Service and Swedish newspapers.

In response to a question, Truman said he hadn't made any personal inquiries but had read reports regarding charges in the Swedish press that Secret Service men accompanied his daughter had used rough-house tactics.

He said no new instructions are planned for the Secret Service guards because they are always right and don't need any.

On another international matter, Truman had nothing to say about the calling of a new Communist Party Congress in Moscow, sizing it up as none of his business.

At one point, he took a swipe at the Saturday Evening Post, saying it is always wrong. That was in response to an inquiry whether he intends to answer an article in the magazine that said he gave the country false information about a grain shortage. Truman said he hadn't read the article and didn't intend to. He said he almost never reads the Post becase it is always wrong. Asked how he knows, whether he got a briefing on such things, the President said all he needs to do is look at the table of contents and he knows.

Another line of questioning centered on an exchange of correspondence between Gov. Stevenson and a Portland newspaper editor which referred to "the mess in Washington." Truman said he had no comment because he knew nothing of any mess.

A reporter noted that Stevenson has said something "to the effect that he wants to bring a refreshening of what's gone on for 20 years."

It was then that Truman spoke of infusing new blood into the Democratic Party while declaring there will be no turning back on what the party has done for 20 years.

While the questions were popping along similar lines, tossing at Truman what the Democratic candidates have been saying, he was asked whether "you have any feeling of being a target." He said he can't possibly be a target on the Democratic side because he is the key of the campaign. Of course he will be a target of Eisenhower and his cohorts, Truman said.

As to how he is a campaign key, he said the Democratic Party must run on the record of Truman and Roosevelt adminstrations.

He said he couldn't comment on Stevenson's statement to a news conference yesterday that corruption has been "proven" to exist in Washington because he hadn't seen an article on it.

As for Eisenhower's remark yesterday at Boise, Ida., that the administration is applying "the philosophy of the Left," Truman said he hadn't read that either, or the Republican nominee's statement that the government does everything but come in and wash the housewife's dishes.

That, Truman said, will be gone into rather carefully a little later on, but it will be on the stump, not at a news conference.

Asked how he keeps up with general matters such as these if he doesn't read about them, Truman said he knows more about government than any man in the United States. And he said he knows exactly what the opposition is going to say. Read Wendell L. Willkie, he suggested. Read Thomas F. Dewey. He said you get a repeat—it's all been said before.

More Die Of Polio As Cases Are Less Numerous In State

By The Associated Press

Two more Texans died from polio Wednesday night.

New cases continued, but the State Health Department said the incidence—higher this year than in any previous year—was on the downgrade.

The latest deaths were those of Mrs. Pearl Crews, 20, Sugar Land, who died in a Houston hospital, and David Lee Beal, 21-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Beal of Fort Worth.

Incidence has touched two-thirds of the state's 254 counties and State Health Officer George W. Cox—who reported 214 new cases for last week—fears his earlier prediction of 3,000 cases may be exceeded.

Already, Texas' 2,784 cases excede the number reported in 1950, the record year until now.

Still on the downgrade, the disease continued to kill and cripple Wednesday.

A 29-year-old expectant mother, Mrs. Ellen Simmons, died of the disease in Dallas and doctors were unable to save her baby. Mrs. Simmons illness was diagnosed as polio at 1 p.m. and she died in a respirator at 7:45 p.m.

Three new polio cases in Dallas, all four-year-old children, boosted Dallas' polio count for the year to 258, only 58 less than for the entire year in record-breaking 1950.

Eleven new cases at Houston pushed the count there to 363 cases and 12 deaths compared with 111 cases and six deaths for the same period last year. The Harris County total was 230 and eight deaths against only 28 cases and no deaths at this time last year. Non-resident cases treated in Houston totaled 213 and 10 deaths, compared with 21 cases and no deaths a year ago.

Five new patients, three children and two adults, were reported at Waco, bringing the McLennan County toll for the year to 79.

A Lockhart girl and Elgin youth were admitted to Breckenridge Hospital in Austin Tuesday, raising the non-county total there to 53 since Jan. 1.

Dr. Cox's latest report said 54 counties reported polio cases last week. Three counties — Cochran, Denton, and Terrell—reported their first cases of the year one each. The mysterious malady has now struck in 172 counties.

In Houston, meanwhile, the condition of Barry Bishop Jr. continued to improve although he was still seriously ill.

Bishop's father, press attache at the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City, said the boy had perked up considerably and asked for a book to read.

Korean Farmer Has Wild Ride

WITH EIGHTH ARMY, Korea (AP) — Somewhere in Korea there is a farmer who never will forget this day.

He was plowing a field when his ox stepped on a mine.

The ox was blown to bits. The farmer was scratched in the chest.

Allied troops took him to a nearby evacuation hospital for treatment. A little iodine and some bandage patched him up nicely. To show his appreciation, the farmer offered to help around the hospital tent for a while.

But by and by he got sleepy, lay down on a stretcher inside the tent, and soon was fast asleep.

A helicopter landed to pick up a wounded South Korean Marine and fly him to a hospital ship at Inchon.

A sergeant said the wounded Korean was right by the tent door.

Medics rushed into the tent, picked up the first stretcher and lashed it to the outside of the helicopter. The "egg-beater" took off for Inchon with its burden — the sleeping farmer.

The farmer awakened high in the air. It was worse than a dream. The helicopter blades whirred crazily overhead. His beloved earth lay several thousand feet below. Only a thin piece of canvas held him aloft.

The farmer yelled and lashed his arms wildly.

The pilot waved back reassuringly and flew on toward Inchon. He understood no Korean.

On the ground at Inchon, the farmer made his plight understood — between gasps.

The pilot flew him back to the hospital, this time inside the helicopter.

Arriving there, the farmer trudged slowly back to his field, still shaking his head.

TWENTY MILLION MATCHES BLAZE

HOUSTON, Aug. 21 (AP) — Twenty million matches burned early today—but nobody got a light.

The matches were in a steel box car at the Houston Central Warehouse. No estimate of damage was made and the cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Three Pilots Rescued From Enemy Waters

TOKYO, Aug. 21 (AP)—Three American pilots were fished unhurt from Communist waters off Northwest Korea yesterday after they ditched their crippled aircraft, U. S. Far East Air Forces said tonight.

Two were rescued by a helicopter flown by Capt. Edwin L. Leonard, Spokane, Wash.

Leonard first picked up a Sabre jet pilot, Lt. Norman Schmidt of Boulder Creek, Calif. On his way back to U.N. lines with Schmidt, Leonard dropped down again, within range of Communist shore batteries and rescued a Marine fighter bomber pilot, Maj. J. B. Griffin, Jacksonville, Fla.

A thunderjet pilot, Lt. G. L. Whisenhunt, Cushing, Okla., was hauled to safety in a helicopter flown by Capt. Walter E. Karutz, Sacramento, Calif.

None of the rescued pilots was injured. All managed to fly their crippled planes over water and parachuted.

Crewmen aboard Leonard's helicopter included Lt. James P. Kirkland, Port Arthur, Tex. In Karutz's crew was Lt. Walter L. Johnson, 106 E. Houston St., Highlands, Tex.

UN Bombers Make Raids On Pyongyang

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U. N. B29 Superforts, B26s and fighter-bombers left Communist factories, stockpiles and troop installations in flames today in two massive raids over Northwest Korea.

Thirty-eight Okinawa-based B29s hurled 350 tons of bombs on Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, last night and early today after civilians had been warned to get out.

The Air Force said the big bombers rubbed 400 acres of troop, supply and industrial areas and left huge fires burning at opposite ends of the city in the four-hour strike. All 38 planes returned safely despite Red anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition.

More than 100 B26s and fighter-bombers followed with a daylight bombing of a giant cement plant at Osu, about 50 miles south of Pyongyang. Returning pilots estimated they destroyed 63 buildings and damaged 29 others.

The Osu raid was the third big Allied bombing of Communist targets in two days. The Air Force said 59 buildings were destroyed Wednesday in a 200-plane Navy and Air Force smash at the Red buildup area near Namyang, 25 miles northwest of Pyongyang.

Swift U. S. Sabre jets destroyed three Communist MIG15s and damaged two more in high-altitude dogfights over Northwest Korea Wednesday.

The raid on Pyongyang was the third in six weeks.

Shivers Will Fly To Illinois Saturday For Talk With Adlai

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers said today he will confer Saturday with Gov. Adlai Stevenson on issues in the Democratic Presidential campaign.

The Texas governor said issues he plans to talk over with Stevenson to get his views include foreign policy, corruption in government, taxation and spending, the federal budget, civil rights and tidelands.

Stevenson earlier wired Shivers that he was taking a few days' vacation but would be back in Springfield for the conference Saturday, Sunday or Monday. He left choice of a specific day up to Shivers.

Shivers plans to leave for Illinois by plane early Saturday from Wichita Falls where he will attend the Oil Bowl football game tomorrow night. He expects to arrive in Springfield about 9 a.m. (CST) Saturday.

Shivers has repeatedly refused to take a personal stand in the presidential campaign until he learns Stevenson's views, particularly on the tidelands question. He says he will not support a man who does not favor state ownership of the potentially oil-rich tidelands.

He has also expressed belief that Texas Democrats will be influenced greatly by the stand the Democratic nominee takes on tidelands.

Until Stevenson's stand on the issue has been made clear, Shivers has said he believes Texas is in "the doubtful column" as to how it will vote in November.

All Candidates File Expenses

All the county candidates for the second Democratic primary filed sworn statements of their campaign expenses, Pat Johnston, county clerk, said today.

Average expense per candidate for the entire election was $272.87, according to the combined reports of the eight candidates. The eight reports totaled $2,182.94.

According to the statements filed throughout the campaign, the candidates' expenses were as follows: C. E. McGaw, $502.58; Haskell O. Beard, $72.60; Tom J. DeShazo, $80.45; R. L. Terry, $86.20; Edgar Taylor, $387.05; Lloyd Merritt, $528.76; Homer Whisenant, $324.30, and L. P. (Pat) Moore, $201.

Moore reported that $23 of his expense was spent for approximately five barrels of coffee and a few watermelons.

Liberty Ship Is Rammed By Tanker, Sinks; All Are Saved

DOVER, England (AP) — Two British lifeboats hauled the 37 crewmen of the American Liberty ship Western Farmer from the gale-swept English Channel early today after their freighter rammed by a Norwegian tanker, split in two and sank.

The lifeboats landed Capt. Gunnar Utvik of Galveston, Tex. and the rest of his crew — some bruised and battered but all safe — at this famous old port of Southeast England and at nearby Ramsgate.

The 11,732-ton tanker Bjorgholm, out of Oslo, came through without serious damage. She stood by until the rescue boats picked up the crew of the ill-fated 7,1239-ton Western Farmer, a 9-year-old veteran of World War II.

The collision occurred shortly after 10 p.m. last night in a wind-driven rain near the Goodwin Sands — the "channel graveyard" eight miles off the Southeast Coast of England.

The tanker's bow, one survivor related, smashed into the freighter amidships — "right into the radio room." The crash put the American ship's engines and radio out of action, but emergency signals from the tanker brought rescue craft rushing to the stormy scene.

As searchlights from the rescue ships played over the wallowing wreck, the forward part of the stricken ship broke away and the crew abandoned her, some taking to the ship's boats and others going over the side straight into the rescue craft.

The forward half sank almost immediately, but as we left, the after part was still afloat but sinking slowly," said First Engineer Dulcilio Santiago of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The two big lifeboats, meanwhile had assembled the survivors — Capt. Utvik and 23 others in one that brought them to Ramsgate and the other 13 in a Dover boat.

The Western Farmer, which sailed under the name Henry Lomb during the war, was on her way to Bremen, Germany, with a load of coal from Norfolk, Va. She was owned by the Western Navigation Co. of New York.

The survivors, soaked and covered with grease and oil, were taken to a local seamen's club and given hot drinks, food and dry clothing.

At another point off Britain's East Coast, a small British trawler, the 260-ton Magnolia, blew up and sank in seven seconds. Three of the crew were killed; eight were rescued.

Another Justice Department Official To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top Justice Department official was reported today to be a prime target of House investigators in hearings starting next Tuesday.

Rep. Chelf (D-Ky), chairman of investigating the department, declined to identify the official beyonds saying, he is still in the department.

Most of the top assistants to former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath have resigned or have been given new duties in a department shake-up instituted by McGrath's successor, James P. McGranery.

The subcommittee is known to have been working on one official "in particular" for some time, and investigators reported they now think they have the "missing link" of evidence they needed.

Chelf gave no indication of the nature of the committee's case but said there would be some "surprising revelations."

Since taking over the Justice Department helm, McGranery has got along well with the department critics on Capitol Hill and has won Chelf's praise for his "co-operation" in the ensuing shakeup.

Committee sources say the shuffle is not yet completed, and predict that others in the department will go on to complete what Chelf terms "that new look."

One of the latest to go was James A. Mullally, 52, long-time lawyer in the department's Criminal Division, who was suspended late yesterday pending an investigation of "outside activities."

Mullally recently had been assigned to the division's racket unit, which has been correlating reports from special grand juries assigned to racket investigations around the country.

McGranery declined to elaborate on the reasons for his suspension, but other department officials said it had "nothing to do with cases which he has been handling in the Criminal Division."

The announcement of the first all-union Communist Party congress to be held in Moscow Oct. 5 is regarded as bringing Malenkov again to the fore as Stalin's protege and his probable successor.

Bond Set On Man After Aggravated Assault Charges Are Filed

Bond was set at $100 in county court this morning by Judge Edgar Taylor for Billy McComb, 27, Snyder oil field worker charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

The charge was filed yesterday upon a complaint by Floyd Hulse, who said in a signed statement that McComb assaulted him with a tire tool yesterday.

Keith Merrick, county attorney, quoted Hulse as saying that he was riding home from an oil rig with McComb in McComb's car and that McComb struck Hulse with a tire tool during an argument between the two.

Mexico Starts Sending Cattle To U. S. Again

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21 (AP)—Mexican cattle will start moving northward across the Rio Grande on Sept. 1 for the first time in six years.

But the Mexican government still has not decided how fast the flow will be.

Government export plans are in the hands of President Aleman and will not be made public until he approves them.

During the war, Mexico exported about 400,000 cattle a year to the U. S. Then the foot and mouth disease came along in 1946 and the border was ordered closed. Now that the plague has been stamped out the border will be reopened Sept. 1.

Mexico's problem is to make sure that enough cattle remain in the country to feed her own people and to keep 18 packing plants running. The plants were built after the closing of the border to shipped canned or frozen beef.

At the same time Mexico wants to export as many live cattle as possible to bring in the dollars.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials have estimated that Mexico could ship the same 400,000 head as during the war without upsetting her home markets.

On the other hand the National Stockmen's Association estimated yesterday that it could ship 500,000 cattle without difficulty. The association, due to end its convention earlier this month, is staying in session to be ready to protest the quotas if they are not high enough.

Earlier some cattlemen predicted that transportation problems would limit U. S. shipments to the best cattle, leaving older cows and less desirable animals for the packing houses here. They said no quotas would be necessary.

Butcher Here Will Be Sent Back To Oklahoma

A Snyder butcher was arrested by the sheriff's department last night on a warrant from Enid, Okla.

Pat Rippy, about 38, was being held here today for return to Enid, Oklahoma, where he is wanted on a forgery charge.

Rippy waived extradition, a sheriff's deputy said, adding that the sheriff from Garfield County, Okla., was sending deputies here today to return Rippy to Enid.

Amarillo Bank Named In Suit

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 21 (AP)—The First National Bank of Amarillo was named as a defendant in a suit filed yesterday by the Central Surety and Insurance Corp. against creditors of the bankrupt Garden Grain and Seed Co.

The suit was filed in Federal District Court against every creditor of the company that holds a claim to stored grain lost in the alleged "manipulations" of Wayne S. Marteney, ex-president of the defunct Garden City, Kan., firm.

Bonds upon the lost grain amount to $147,000. This amount is divided between the Central Surety and Exchange Corp. ($348,200) and the Trinity Universal Insurance Co. (approximately $75,000).

The Central Surety claims amount to more than the bondings themselves. Last Aug. 13 the Central Surety filed with the bankruptcy court for a percentage reimbursement of all funds to creditors holding bond claims.

Artists Ignore Nude Model Posing For Them

BELMONT, Calif. (AP)—Two Belmont ladies, both amateur artists, were quietly painting a clump of trees yesterday when an ancient car pulled up and a man popped out.

He quickly stripped to the raw and struck a model's pose in front of their easels.

Fiery Leader Of Germany's Socialists Dies

BONN, Germany (AP)—The strongest foe of West German rearmament and alignment with the West, Socialist chief Dr. Kurt Schumacher, died here last night. He was 56.

The fervent leader — second only to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as a political force in postwar Germany — succumbed to blood circulation ailment. A cripple with only one arm and one leg, he had been failing ever since his health was ruined in Nazi concentration camps.

Quiet, soft-spoken Socalist Party Vice Chairman Erich Ollenhauer is slated to inherit Schumacher's party leadership. Ollenhauer is expected, however, to keep pushing the Socialists on the same nationalistic course opposed to communism on the one hand and European federalism and common defense on the other.

The son of a Prussian official, Schumacher studied law and the labor movement and entered politics as editor of a provincial Social Democratic paper. His life was a stubborn battle against chronic ill health and political enemies.

He lost an arm fighting in World War I. The Nazis threw him into a concentration camp in 1933. Ten years of brutalities and poor food permanently weakened his stomach.

Amputation of a leg after he was stricken with thrombosis in 1947 failed to dampen his fervor or will to fight. He kept battling, opposing almost every phase of Allied policy toward the federal republic and trying to halt the Adenauer government's steps toward European federation and defense.

Hoyt Wilhelm, knuckleball pitcher for the New York Giants, was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge during World War II.

Black Market Feeding Reds Needed Dollars

TOKYO (AP) — U. S. military authorities and Japanese police said today they have arrested some American servicemen and 73 Japanese, Chinese and Korean nationals in connection with what they called a three million dollar a year black market ring that feeds dollars to Communists.

Maj. Jack Elliott, judge advocate for the Far East Air Forces, said the ring operates in this manner:

Military payment certificates, used in lieu of money by U. S. forces in Japan, are spent illegally by servicemen in bars, hotels, restaurants and for taxi fares. The certificates are not supposed to be used in dealings with Japanese. The certificates reach money dealers who then pay other servicemen to exchange them for dollar drafts or money orders.

The money orders and drafts are turning up in Hong Kong, off the Red China mainland, Elliott said, and "it's a conclusion anybody can make that the dollars are going to the Communists" to give the Reds "dollars they need to support their operations in dollar areas over the world."

Night Club Operator Released On Bond

George H. Wilson, 28, operator of the Star Nite Club charged with two counts of selling liquor in a dry area, was released from the county jail last night on $1,000 bond.

A sheriff's deputy said this morning that she was not authorized to tell who sureties are on the bond, adding that the information must come from the sheriff. Sheriff Lloyd Merritt was not available this morning to tell who sureties are.

Wilson was arrested Aug. 16 after the charges were filed in county court by two liquor control board agents. He had just been released the day before after paying a fine of $500 plus $23.50 court cost for illegal possession of liquor as a result of a raid made on the club Aug. 14.

Ike To Get Dinner Just Like Mrs. Snow Fixes For Men Folks

KASSON - DODGE CENTER, Minn. (AP)—Mrs. Henry Snow hopes Gen. Eisenhower will like her chicken dinner. But the friendly farmwife isn't likely to have an attack of nerves over the prospect of entertaining the Republican candidate for President during the National Plowing Contest Sept. 6.

"I don't know what they expect," said Mrs. Snow as she treated a group of visitors—among the first of many—to apples from the Snow orchard.

"I'm just going to fix a dinner like I do for the menfolks. And I hope they like it."

The Snow farm in South-Central Minnesota is a neat and pleasant layout, but no gentleman farmer's showplace. It felt the glare of national publicity suddenly this week when Eisenhower accepted an invitation to address the plowing contest. Upwards of 100,000 visitors are expected both for the contest and to hear the GOP candidate make his first major farm address of the campaign.

Local sponsors of the affair—as earnest as they are unruffled—want the outside world to get a few points straight.

In the first place, it's not just a plowing contest. The main billing is "National Soil Conservation Day," and farmers are more concerned with soil conservation than in who plows the straightest furrow fastest.

Second, there's a good deal of local and understandable concern about which of the three tiny towns almost equidistant from the Snow farm gets its name into the national headlines.

If the show is described by outsiders as "near Kasson," the folks in Dodge Center and Mantorville aren't going to like it. And vice versa.

The three towns together don't total 3,000 persons, and this point they're sure of: You won't be able to see the towns for the visitors on the big week end.

Is the Eisenhower visit going to influence any votes in the Snow family?

Henry Snow, a tanned and wiry dirt farmer, every bit as calm as his wife, says with a laugh:

"Just say we're independents."

Items Sent As Prankster Calls

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—For the second time in about a year strange and sundry things have been turning up at Mrs. Wilmore Alexander's front door—and back door, too.

First there was an auto salesman, then an auctioneer interested in selling her furniture, then two typewriters and an adding machine were delivered. Next a garage man came to fix a flat that wasn't, and then a new battery, and a load of concrete blocks and a taxicab.

The harried housewife said she couldn't explain it. The stuff came in response to telephone calls she hadn't made, and the pranksters who placed the orders always insisted on "the best."

Last year about this time, she said, her house was flooded with rabbit food, straw, a load of rock and an ambulance on a rush call.

Secret Records Of Air Fields Found In Home Of Chinese General

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — Secret code boks and "top secret" information on all airfields in Chinese Nationalist territory were reported yesterday to have been found in the home of a dismissed Nationalist general.

The home belonged to Lt. Gen. P. T. Mow, former chief of a Chinese Air Force purchasing commission in Washington. He now is in a Mexico City jail, accused of failing to account for at least 25 million dollars in Nationalist funds.

Nassau County police, and Nationalist officials searched the Tuesday on a search warrant obtained by the Nationalists. Dist. Atty. Frank A. Gulotta impounded the records.

Lacking a bar guide, we are hunting something to drink in hot weather besides Tom Collinses and salty dogs. We'd like to know something different. W. W.

Why not try a Planter's Punch? There's one such punch which is attributed to Savannah and here's what you do:

First chill the glasses. Use a wine glass of good Jamacia rum or two ponies, to taste; two jiggers of Cognac brandy; juice of one lime or ½ lemon and ½ jigger of fresh pineapple juice.

Pack the glasses tightly with finely shaved ice, pour in the liquids previously mixed, stir briskly for a moment with long spoon or swizzle stick. Garnish with a finger of ripe pineapple, a cherry or a bit of orange. Serve when glass frosts. There's no dodging the fact that you must expect to use decent rum. This recently born swarm of new, strange rums can no more replace even a fair Jamaica, Barbadoes or Haitian rum, than Mr. Kreisler can play the E. Flat Nocturne on a turnip crate ... The cognac lends the original touch here.

I read your suggestion for watering plants which I thought was good. Here is another way I thought you might like to have: Place several potted plants in a galvanized steel wash tub and spray them from above — leaves and roots will benefit at the same time. This method also causes excess water and dirt to collect in the tub which eases the clean-up problem considerably.

Catholics Are Getting Results From Ads Run

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The advertising program of the Knights of Columbus has been so successful the national convention has voted to increase next year's appropriation from $500,000 to $750,000.

Supreme Advocate Luke E. Hart told the delegates yesterday that more than a million inquiries have been received as a result of the ads and that 94,723 have been enrolled for Catholic instruction by mail.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Mrs. M. M. O'REAR is back from a music workshop conducted by Fred Waring and his company in Boulder, Colo. She is high school music instructor and directs the school choruses.

Composed of over 200 high school and college music instructors the classes sang six hours a day and had two-hour lectures. And Mrs. O'Rear says they ran through some 70 songs in the one-week period.

Waring leaves much of the directing up to subordinates but in one class he was teaching the method of tone syllables. Mrs. O'Rear says he used simple phrases such as "Three Blind Mice," or just anything so that the classes could practice the tones. Then in a subtle manner, he began chanting "Eisenhower for President." The class began chanting after him almost without realizing what the words were. This happened after Waring spent an afternoon on the golf course with Ike, Mrs. O'Rear says. Before long some of the strong Democrats got in their plug and chanted back, "Stephenson for President."

Mr. O'Rear went along, too, but his wife says his plans to fish were interrupted by his taxi-ing her to the classes and back.

"The Signal" is a lively little magazine published by Southwestern Bell Telephone. In the latest issue is this bit:

"A newspaper reported an incident which transpahred recently in McAllen. As the paper tells it: A woman got on the wahr and tried to telephone the nearby town of Pharr. The hahrde hand on the switchboard thought she was reporting a fahr. So without stopping to inquahr, she sounded the fahr alarm and aroused the entahr community. Most of the volunteer fahr fighters had already retahred. They began to perspahr and struggle into their fahrfighting attahr. It was the nicest little mixup you could desahr."

The magazine comments further: "Inspahred by the entahr affair, the newspaper warned its readers that 'Some people are used to damyankee accents,' and suggests they acquahr the habit of spelling plainly on the telephone. "When you mean Pharr, say Pharr," it advises, "And when you mean fahr, say fahr."

Dock Being Constructed Here And Floated To South America

PITTSBURGH, Aug 21 (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp. is building a huge iron ore dock—more than 1-5th mile long—in Texas and floating it to Venezuela.

The pier, to be used in loading iron ore on ocean-going ships, is being constructed in three sections at Orange, Tex., by U. S. Steel's Consolidated Western Steel Division. Each section will be towed to South America by big tugs.

The first dock section was launched last April and floated across the Gulf of Mexico, the Caribbean Sea, Gulf of Paria, and up the Orinoco River to Puerto Ordaz, the South American ore terminal of Big Steel.

The other two dock sections will get the same treatment when completed.

The finished units are large steel structures which closely resemble over-sized barges. They were given a barge-like design to make it possible to float them to their destination.

In Venezuela, the three dock sections will be assembled as one unit in a fixed position.

The unique steel marks the first time a steel producer has prefabricated an iron ore dock. The novel construction design and transportation feature are saving months of work which would be required to build the dock piece by piece in the conventional manner at the site.

The finished pier will be connected by railroad and highway to Cerro Bolivar, U. S. Steel's fabulous mountain of iron ore, 90 miles south.

Much of the ore will be shipped to the corporation's huge new steel plant now under construction at Norrieville, Pa., on the Delaware River near Philadelphia. Some cargoes will be transshipped to U S. steel plants in Pittsburgh and Alabama.

At Orange, Tex., on the Sabine River, dock construction is being carried on its shipways used to build destroyers in World War II Each section takes the space needed for two destroyers.

Believed to be the largest steel structure ever built in the form of a barge, each dock section measures 82 feet wide, 376 feet long and 15 feet deep. Each weighs 2,250 tons and has 13 miles of welding. The honey-combed interiors have both transverse and longitudinal bulkheads.

The dock sections had to be made seaworthy for their one and only ocean voyage. On arrival holes are cut in each structure to permit the free flow of water when the Orinoco River reaches flood stage. Otherwise, buoyancy would exert heavy pressure against the side and bottom.

Once fixed in place, the dock will rest on caissons anchored on rock at the bottom of the river.

Woman Shot, Burned With Cigarette: No Trace Of Assailant

HOUSTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Hounds, a plane and a posse have found no trace of the fiend who shot Mrs. D. K. Marks in the side and burned her with a cigaret.

She is the daughter-in-law of Emil Marks, whose LH-7 Ranch is the home of the largest known herd of vanishing Texas Longhorns.

Mrs. Marks said the prowler was after money. She was blindfolded from behind while she washed dishes on the 5,000-acre Marks Ranch in Harris County.

Hospital attendants said today her wounds are not considered serious.

Movies Not As Offensive To Catholics In 1951

NEW YORK (AP)—A Roman Catholic official says American and foreign movies proved somewhat less "morally offensive" in 1951 than in 1950.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. Masterson, executive secretary of the church's Legion of Decency, made the statement yesterday before the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae.

In 1950, Masterson said, more than 20 per cent of the domestic-made films were disapproved That same year, about 53 per cent of foreign films were considered "bad in whole or in part."

In 1951, he said, the percentage of "morally offensive" American movies dropped to 18, while 41 per cent of foreign films were disapproved.

Grand Prairie Soaring Meet In Second Day

GRAND PRAIRIE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Contestants in the National Soaring Meet here crossed their fingers today and hoped any more accidents in the event would be no worse than yesterdays'.

Robert W. Breiling, 29, Schenectady, N. Y., was released from a McKinney hospital after treatment for minor injuries after his sailplane was destroyed in a crash.

Breiling was en route to Muskogee, Okla., when the crash occurred.

Two pilots who tied Tuesday for first place in the 12-day contest stayed neck and neck yesterday. Bill Coverdale of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Bill Ivans of San Diego, Calif., attempted to reach Wichita, Kan., but neither made it.

Ivans soared 297 miles to Arkansas City, Kan., and Coverdale made it to Ponca City, Okla., a distance of 278 miles. Tuesday both had flown to Amarillo, Tex., 327 mile from the contest site here.

Richard Johnson, Starkville, Miss., attempted a flight to Kansas City, Mo., yesterday but had to land at Pittsburgh, Kan., a distance of 373 miles.

Johnson was trying to break his own distance record made last year when he soared 545 miles from Odessa, Tex., to Salina, Kan.

King-Sized Cigarettes Bring Premium On German Black Market

BERLIN (AP) — U. S. Army post exchange stores in Germany have been told to cut down sales of king-sized cigarettes to stem the flow of the coveted "longies" to the German black market.

King-sized types are a premium-priced item on the black mart, where they bring a seller 18 marks ($4.28) per carton. Regular size cigarettes yield 15 to 16 marks — 50 cents or so less.

PX employes said an Army survey showed that between 35 and 40 per cent of all cigarettes sold recently in Army stores in Germany have been king-sized. The long variety accounts for only about 8 per cent of total sales in the U. S.

Blank Charge Brings Suit For Damages

BROOKVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A blank charge from an American Legion cannon scorched the seats of his pants, Thomas Lee of Indianapolis charged in Franklin County Circuit Court yesterday.

He asked damages of $444.44 from Peter Fohl and Paul Milbourne, members of the Brookville American Legion post.

Lee said the Legionnaires fired the cannon in a parade at Indianapolis two years ago. He asserted he was only six inches from the muzzle, and the blast ruined his $20 trousers. He added it cost him $39 for medical treatment and he had to lay off work for a while.

Big Date Crop Awaiting Iraq

BAGHDAD, Iraq — September is date month in Iraq.

A blazing sun over the lower Tigris and Euphrates river valleys —with average maximum daily temperatures over 100 degrees — ripens the fruit of the date palms to a deep amber brown.

The dates will soon be ready for picking from the country's more than 35,000,000 trees.

More than 80 per cent of the world's dates come from Iraq. In the last three years shipments abroad from the port of Basrah on the Persian Gulf averaged more than 200,000 tons annually. Another 100,000 tons or so is consumed inside the country. The export value of Iraq's dates is estimated at more than $16,000,000 annually.

Dates have been cultivated in Iraq since earliest recorded history. Clay tablets found in archeological excavations have revealed a listing of 50 types of dates grown 4,000 years ago. There are more than 300 different kinds now.

Today a group of date palms graces the center of the royal coat of arms of Iraq.

The palm tree's wood is about the only fuel in an otherwise treeless land. Its branches provide material for mats and roofs. The tough fibres of its bark are used for ropes.

MAINLAND VERSION OF A FAVORITE HAWAIIAN MEAL
. . . Chicken loau, chopped spinach in cocout cream, and pineapple Hawaiian style

Hiwaiian Feast Served Best From Flower-Ladened Tables

A holiday in Hawaii, the Pacific paradise of brilliant sunshine, exotic flowers and haunting music, may seem as remote for the family as the final payment of the 20-year house mortgage.

Yet, all the color and fun of a Hawaiian feast can be brough to the backyard almost any late summer evening.

The perfect expression of hospitality in Hawaii is the luau, or celebration feast which had great religious significance in the ancient days. Although modernized, it today retains the joyous spirit of old and it is as traditional as the fragrant flower lei of Hawaii, which is always bestowed with a kiss.

The foods of Hawaii are delightful and distinctive, with hints of flavors of many countries, yet unlike the foods of any other people. There is an abundance of unusual vegteables, salad greens and lush fruit. The blue waters around the Islands abound in different kinds of fish. Favorite meats of the area are poultry, beef, and Go as native as you wish, as pork, and these are frequent ingredients in the flavorful foods of Hawaiian feast can be brought to elaborate as the occasion calls for or as simple—but do be happy nd gay.

Many Flowers

For the luau in Hawaii, ferns and green ti leaves cover the table and flowers are strewn down the center of the long table. Golden fresh pineapples. bananas, and other tropical fruits add almost as much color as the flowers—the gingers, anthurium, bird of paradise, Vanda orchids, and a profusion of other tropical blossoms only a native could name.

So if you want to treat the family and friends to a Hawaiian supper, deck the table with flowers—and the guests, too, with leis.

Roast Pig

The "piece de resistance" of the traditional luau is the whole roast pig, baked for hours in an imu or underground pit that has been lined with fresh ti leaves and covered over with more leaves, red hot rocks, wet matting and earth. Before the pig goes into the pit, the center cavity is filled with hot rocks, and the pig is wrapped in wire to hold it together when it is cooked.

The pig may be roasted with bananas and sweet potatoes or breadfruit. These are served on ti leaves. Traditionally, no eating utensils are used at the luau and the food is eaten with the fingers from a ti leaf. Individual bowls and knives and forks have become permissible for the unintiated, but the food at the true luau is still eaten finger-style.

Without roast pork, a luau becomes more of a poi supper. Poi is a kind of fermented taro root paste, which is too strange for most Americans, but it is a staple cereal at Hawaiian meals. An ambitious backyard chef might do his own South Texas version of the Hawaiian roast pig; but the poi, even if available, probably wouldn't be appreciated.

Caucasian Style

For a haole or Caucasian style Hawaiian dinner, the menu might include laulaus, chicken luau, baked sweet potatoes, pipikaula (jerked beef tenderloin), haupia (coconut pudding)and fresh pineapple or pineapple sherbet.

Laulaus are made of pork and fish with chopped taro leaves (similar to spinach). Small pieces of fat fresh pork and salted fish are arranged on large ti leaves and tied securely. Corn husks or parchment paper would have to substitute here. These are steamed three hours or more, and served in the wrapping.

The chicken luau is a flavorful dish of well cooked chicken which is cut into serving dishes and fried, then combined with spinach in coconut cream.

The baked sweet potatoes and bananas are cut in half and served on a green leaf before each person. Each guest also receives a small serving of the salty jerked beef tenderlion, and a tiny square of the sweet huapia.

Mainside Version

A more practical version of the Hawaiian meal would be chicken luau with chopped spinach in cocoanut cream, a crisp salad of greens seasoned with an oil dressing and pineapple Hawaiian style for dessert. You will want to serve coffee of course. That is "kope" in Hawaiian should your guest wish to know.

Your flower-trimmed table could be set with modern platters and colorful pottery dishes. wooden bowls and trays. Candles stuck in halves of cocoanut shells might add effectiveness to the setting.

CHICKEN LUAU

Large frying chicken, cut in serving pieces
Flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup water
1 cup milk, heated
1 4-oz. package shredded cocoanut
2 pounds fresh spinach
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup water

Salt chicken and roll pieces in flour. Melt butter in heavy skillet and fry chicken until lightly brown. Cover and simmer until chicken is tender, 20 to 30 minutes.

Pour hot milk over shredded cocoanut. Let stand 20 minutes and simmer 10 minutes. Wash spinach and remove stems. Lay in bunches on cutting board and cut in 1-inch strips. Boil with onion in salted water about 5 minutes. Drain. Add spinach and cocoanut milk to chicken. Simmer 5 minutes. Serve hot. Six portions.

Cut thick pieces from the top and bottom of pineapple. Run a knife around inside of pineapple close to rind. Remove center one piece. Cut center in half lengthwise then again and continue cutting lengthwise until 6 or 8 wedge-shaped sticks are formed. Refill shell to serve. If the center core of the pineapple is hard cut this off before placing pineapple sticks in the shell.

Another dessert which would be quite in keeping with the Hawaiian idea would be papaya sherbet or mango sherbet. Just use the fresh papaya or mango, mashed to a pure in place of apricot puree in your favorite apricot sherbet recipe or you may find mango nectar on the fancy foods shelf.

Curry Supper

Curry suppers are popular in Hawaii. Chicken lamb or shrimp may be used but cocoanut cream makes it Hawaiian.

Fluffy rice and a tray of condiments are "musts" with the curry and at least six should be offered with the dish. Typical condiments for the curry are crumbled crisp bacon, finely chopped green onion, chopped hard cooked egg yolk, chutney, pineapple, pickles grated cocoanut, chopped nuts, golden raisins, sliced lemon, and grated cheese.

HAWAIIAN CURRY

2 cups hot milk
1 4-oz. package shredded cocoanut
2 cloves garlic chopped
2 teaspoons ground ginger
3 green onions, chopped
1 to 2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
one-third cup flour
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
3 cups cooked boned chicken meat

Pour hot milk over cocoanut and let stand 30 minutes. Add garlic ginger and onion to cocoanut and milk. Combine curry powder and 2 tablespoons butter in top of milk mixture and cook over hot water about 2 hours stirring frequently. Strain through double thickness of cheese cloth.

Blend flour and remaining butter in top of double boiler. Add strained cocoanut milk. Stir and cook over hot water until the sauce is thick and smooth. Stir in salt and cream. Add chicken and cook quite slowly to prevent curdling. about 20 minutes. Serve hot on cooked rice, and if you wish top with chopped, toasted almonds. Whole, sauteed bananas are delicious served with chicken almond curry, but do have an attractive assortment of curry accompaniments, as well.

There is an oriental flavor to Hawaiian short ribs or pork or lamb riblets. These might be your choice for the supper meat.

HAWAIIAN RIBLETS

3 pounds ribs
1 cup soy sauce
1 teaspoon ground ginger

If short ribs are used, cut meat from bones and pound to flatten it slightly. Mix soy sauce and ginger. Pour over meat and let stand about 2 hours. Drain the meat. Lay on broiler rack and broil near flame until well browned. Turn. Spoon sauce over meat. Broil until brown, and serve hot. Season with salt.

Cut pork ribs or lamb riblets in small servings pieces. Proceed as above, browning ribs quickly. Then tender in oven, keeping moist with sauce

Hawaiian bisque. while as little known in this country, as most Hawaiian foods, might well be a conversation piece at almost any dinner, or it might be included on the menu for your Hawaiian vacation feast.

HAWAIIAN BISUE

1 qt. chicken stock
½ lb. peanut butter
1 cup heavy cream
1 oz. white rum
Grated cocoanut

Dissolve the peanut butter in 2 cups of the heated stock, add to the remainder of the stock, and blend in cream. Just before serving, add the rum, and sprinkle grated cocoanut over each portion. Serves six.

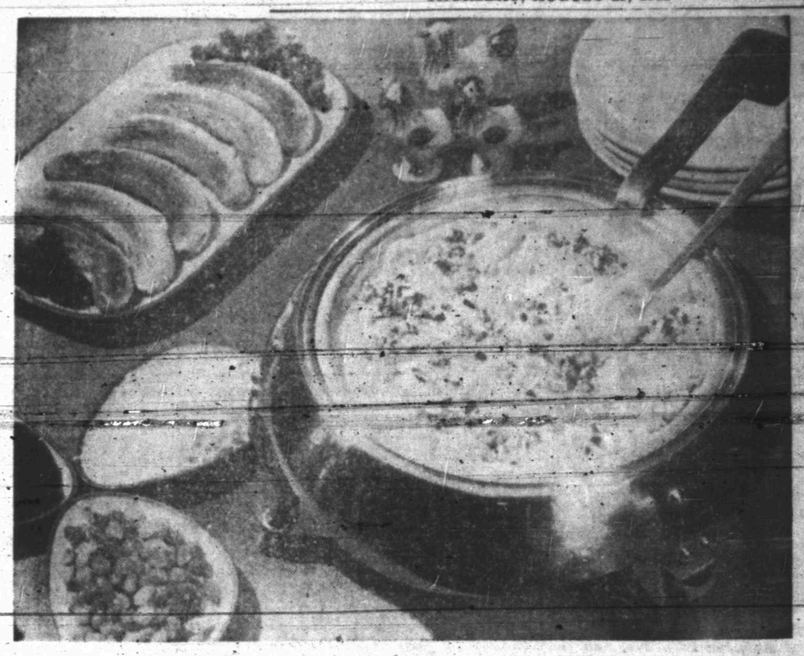

Young Fry Treat

If you don't want to tackle a supper menu in the Hawaiian theme, at least plan a Hawaiian milk shake treat for the youngsters. This is almost a meal in itself, and will be a treat on the back steps, or for six thirsty boys and girls gathered around a table centered with fruits and flowers.

HAWAIIAN MILK SHAKE

5 large bananas
1 quart milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 pint ice crem

Peel bananas, crush in a large bowl. Beat with a rotary beater until smooth. Add milk and vanilla; beat to blend, or whip mixture in a blender. Pour into chilled glasses and float a scoop of ice cream on each. Garnish glasses with generous slice of unpeeled banana. Serve with peanut cream patties or some other favorite cooky from the grocer's cake and cracker rack.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Baby Shortage As Result Of Depression Hurts Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—A shortage of babies is the latest bogey of business—not now certainly, but perhaps just around the corner.

Or, to put first things first, chances are the nation's marriage rate will turn downward over the next few years—a delayed-action bomb left over from the depression years when the baby crop fell off.

It's these babies of the thirties who will be entering the marriage market. And there are two million fewer persons today in the 17 to 26 year bracket than there were 10 years ago.

This eight per cent drop in the age group most susceptible to the wedding march could mean:

1. A drop in the demand for new homes.

2. A slackening in the demand for furniture, appliances and the various textiles that furnish homes.

3. And, in time a temporary drop in the birth rate, which might affect the various industries that clothe, feed and care for babies.

It could also mean a temporary let-up—around 1960, say—in the pressure for more school rooms, which are now just beginning to bulge under the crush of the bumper crop of war babies, which will grow even greater in the next few years.

COLLEGES MAY SUFFER

The over-all population, however seems sure to continue to grow in the United States, as the life span is extended. And in time the 18¼ million babies that have been born here in the last five years—breaking all U. S. records—will be reaching the marriage age.

The short baby crop of the depression years is now reaching the colleges, and their business offices fear enrollments will be sharply down—with the draft also taking its toll. The colleges look for some help from the extension of the GI bill of rights to Korean War veterans.

Businessmen also note the shortage of secretarial, clerical and industrial apprentices because of the smaller number of youth in the age group where business customarily finds its recruits.

Because "the high point of new marriages has been passed for a time," says Ben H. Hazen, president of the United States Savings & Loan League, "1952 may be the last million housing unit year for a while."

CUT SEEN IN NEW HOMES

He says that for three years now the nation has been building homes at about twice the rate of the growth of population. So he thinks the postwar housing boom is due to wane.

For nearly 10 years now the nation's total of new households has been increasing by about 450,000 a year. The marriage rate, already slackening, seems due to drop further, says Theodore H. Silbert, president of the Standard Factors Corp., a commercial financing firm. It finances clients who make the many things that go into homes.

He thinks that as a result the increase in the number of new households (either homes or apartments) will be cut down to between 100,000 and 200,000 a year for perhaps the next 10 years.

This will be a nice market for the homebuilders, furniture and appliance and textile men—but far from the lush one they have had since the war. And Silbert warns his clients to make their plans accordingly.

Merchants, however, will have plenty of customers in other age groups. The death rate is falling. The number of persons over 65 increases steadily.

Aly Khan Is One Day Late In Leaving For Louisville, Kentucky

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Prince Aly Khan is staying on for another day in Hollywood.

He was scheduled to leave by air last night for Louisville, Ky., to buy and sell horses, but delayed his departure 24 hours. No reason was disclosed.

Aly has been seeing his estranged wife, actress Rita Hayworth, frequently during his visit here, but there has been no word to support the possibility of a reconciliation.

Son Drowns, Father Dies Of Heart Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — A 9-year-old boy drowned in Brooklyn's Gowanus Canal yesterday, and his father died of a heart attack rushing to the rescue.

The victims were John J. Cassidy, 50, and his son Robert.

The youngster had been playing along the canal bank when he fell in.

Miss Alma Rollins, assistant director of public health nursing of the State Department of Health in Austin, has been a visitor in Snyder this week with Miss Leah Davis, city - county health nurse.

Ken-Tooki Not To Sail Across Mediterranean

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—Safety-minded French officials say an adventuresome Chicago youth and his crew of three aren't going to sail from this port on pingpong balls.

The maritime authorities have ruled that 26-year-old Richard Millers raft Ken-tooki—which floats on 75,000 pingpong balls in steel drums—is not a fit craft for his dream voyage across the Mediterranean.

Their decision appeared to have sunk the Miller expedition before it really got started.

Plans for the non-scientific excursion were laid this summer in the bars of the Paris Latin quarter. Fellow students donated most of the pingpong balls. A former British Royal Air Force pilot, Michael Jones, another American, Don Knidler, 26, of Jessup, Md., and a slim 23-year-old British nurse, Muriel Grand, volunteered as a crew.

The four bobbed down the Rhone River from Lyon this week. Two then quit the expedition. Undaunted, Miller and Jones were rounding up more volunteers when the French officials put a halt to the venture.

Plan Agreed On To Stop New Strikes At Atom Energy Plant

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — A plan to block any further unauthorized walkouts at the billion-dollar atomic energy plant was agreed upon by union and management officials yesterday.

While there was no word on whether the dispute involving AFL carpenters had been settled, the agreement, drawn up by President Truman's atomic energy labor relations panel, was signed four hours after the carpenters withdrew their picket line at the plant.

The declaration of policy provides penalties for workers taking part in wildcat walkouts and failing to return when ordered by the company and the union.

Although only a third of the 22,000-member work force went through the picket line yesterday, a spokesman for the F. H. McGraw and Co., prime contractor, said normal operations are expected today. The series of walkouts began over a week ago, reportedly caused by strife within the union local.

Yesterday, state police and sheriff's deputies were on guard to see that those who wanted to work were allowed to pass.

The agreement provides the following machinery for handling any future disturbances:

When a stoppage occurs the company will contact the union involved to learn if it was authorized. If the walkout was not, the union will notify its members to return. Failure to do so makes the member liable for discipline provided by the union's constitution and by-laws.

The company also will be required to inform workers the stoppage was unauthorized and request them to return. Any employe who remains out will be fired or disciplined.

The panel said the policy may be extended by the consent of the parties involved to other projects for the atomic energy program in the vicinity.

Girl's Body Is Found In Road

RIVERSIDE Calif. (AP)—A mysterious speeding car was the only clue today to the brutal slayer of Kathryn Knodel, 16, whose battered, nude body was found on a desert highway early yesterday.

Motorist Fred Lacy told officers he met a fast-traveling automobile a few moments before he came upon the body on a lonely road near Palm Springs.

Police said it apparently had been thrown from that car. The vehicle could not have passed without running over the body, police said, and there were no tire marks on the girl's flesh.

Chemical tests are being made by sheriff's officers here today to determine whether the girl was raped.

The Redland High School student's death was attributed to skull fractures. Her head bore the marks of many heavy blows from a blunt weapon, possibly a tire iron. Five of these were deep enough to have caused death.

The girl had been dead two hours when her body was discovered. Oak leaves and red earth in her hair indicated she had been slain somewhere in the Redlands area not far from her home, and the slayer had driven down into the desert, where he dumped the body.

Maryland Republicans Are Supporting Mac

BALTIMORE (AP) — A determined bid for write-in votes for Gen. Douglas MacArthur may be made in November in Maryland if a group of dissatisfied conservatives have their way.

It all depends, at this point, on whether similar dissident groups in other states will make the same move.

G. I. Whitmer, Baltimore insurance man and a leader in the Maryland movement, said a group of Marylanders most of whom were part of the defunct Marylanders - for - Taft committee, are dissatisfied with the platforms of both parties and would move on their own.

Williams And Boggs To Head Delaware Ticket

DOVER, Del. (AP) — U. S. Sen. John J. Williams and Rep. J. Caleb Boggs will head the Republican ticket in this November's general election in Delaware.

OUT ON A LIMB

Unknown Pitchers Carrying Bums To Another Loop Pennant

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — For many years it was possible for a baseball man to win wide respect as a sage by observing that pitching was 87½ per cent of the game, but that was before the current Brooklyn set out to spoil the racket.

There probably isn't a fan in the country, outside Brooklyn, who could name three Dodger pitchers if you gave him Preacher Roe to start with. Ask him to name their ace and chances are he would guess Don Newcombe, who has been peeling Army spuds since 'way last spring.

Want to know who the Dodgers' three leading winners are? Okay, their names are Billy Loes, Joe Black, Wade and Carl Erskine, and don't call me a liar. Know how many games the best of them, Erskine, might win before the season ends if he is real lucky? Maybe 16-17.

So that it won't come as a complete surprise in the World Series, would you relish the name of the Dodgers' best pitcher, who almost invariably shows up around 4 or 11 p. m. to rescue the third Dodger pitcher? He's Joe Black, a Negro rookie who wasn't on the club roster in the spring.

If you're curious about Roe, who was the hottest thing in flannels a year ago, he's had a season you wouldn't believe. He finished only six of his first 16 starts, but still stood 7-0 in the victory column. Then he really came unstuck. He developed some back trouble and for two months wasn't able to go nine innings. He went the route Tuesday in blanking Cincinnati.

Remember Ralph Branca, the wheelhorse who threw the ball Bobby Thomson hit? Well, Ralph couldn't beat anybody and got a sore arm and was placed on the disabled list, whence he is just returning. Clyde King, who won 14 last year, comes in from the bullpen on rare occasions when Black needs rest. Clem Labine, like Branca, had arm trouble and was brought back from the minors only a year ago.

That pretty well accounts for the old gang. Taking their places in the almost daily parade of Brooklyn throwers have been; in addition to Wade, Erskine, Loes and Black, such minor league hopefuls as Joe Landrum, John Rutherford, Ray Moore and Chris Van Cuyk.

What has been proved, of course, is that the club is such a sound one otherwise, both offensively and defensively, that it can pound the whey out of the weak sisters even when its own hurling is mediocre. When the Dodgers get a really well-pitched game themselves, as they do now and then, they're virtually unbeatable.

Athletics Are Making Serious Bid To Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — It's beginning to look as though Jimmy Dykes' hustling band of Philadelphia Athletics are starting to make another stretch run reminiscent of last year's final quarter putsch.

With a come-from-behind 4-3 win over the Detroit Tigers last night the Philadelphians moved into a tie for fifth place with the Chicago White Sox, eight games behind the first-place Yankees.

And to make their threat serious, the A's have as well a balanced squad statistically as there is in the league. Three of their number either lead or are near the top in almost every hitting department.

Ferris Fain, Dykes' swarthy first baseman, is making a substantial bid to retain the league hitting crown he won last year. He is setting the pace with a .341 mark, 14 points ahead of his closest pursuers, Dale Mitchell of Cleveland and the Yankees' Gene Woodling, who are deadlocked in second place with .327. The A's first sacker, whose forte is consistency, went four-for-five last night.

After a slow start Fain rose gradually, from the low 200s by virtue of two long hitting streaks, one for 24 games, a league high this year. He also seems to have abandoned the habit of aiming for the fences. The results speak for themselves, as his 140 hits are second best and his 36 doubles are tops in the league.

The long ball department is in the hands of Gus Zernial. Gus set the pace last season in home runs the runs batted in and is making motions toward the double crown again. He stands third in homers with 22 and third in RBI's with 78.

Second String Pitchers Lose Ground For Loop Leading Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — Win today's game today and worry about tomorrow's game tomorrow.

That's an old baseball saying in which Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees apparently doesn't concur.

At the least it looks that way with the pilot of the world champions holding out his two ace pitchers — Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi—for the two-game series against the red-hot Cleveland Indians opening in Yankee Stadium tomorrow.

"Old Case," obviously concerned with Al Lopez's sluggers breathing down his neck, twice had led with second-string hurlers against the second-division Chicago White Sox.

And twice he has seen his proud Yanks go down to defeat. As a result today they hold only a one-game margin over the Indians and that's in the win column. They're all square on the losing side—50 games each.

That's the shortest lead held by the champions since June 14, when they paced Cleveland by a half-length.

Stengel, however, will try again today to whip the Pale Hose with a second-string pitcher. He has nominated rookie Tom Gorman, a righthander with a 4 and 1 record. Should Gorman fail and the Indians again beat the Boston Red Sox, the standings tonight would show Cleveland leading by one percentage point.

Present plans call for Reynolds to hurl tomorrow's game against the Indians with Raschi getting Saturday's assignment.

Either one or both were ready to pitch against Chicago but Casey chose to gamble with Johnny Schmitz Tuesday night and lost.

Then yesterday the Yankee manager tried to slip his bullpen brigade past the White Sox. Johnny Sain took a quick whipping as he was belted for six runs in the third.

Harry Schaeffer (who didn't get a pitch over the plate), Jim McDonald, Joe Ostrowski and Bill Miller trailed Sain in a forlorn array with only Miller looking like a major leaguer as the Sox won, 12-3.

FOR CHURCHILL — Four black swans from Australia's South Perth Zoo are enroute to Winston Churchill to replace others killed by marauding foxes on the British Premier's estate.

Love Fizzles For Pen Pals

DINGLE, Ireland (AP) — Frank Haydstak started back to his Johnstown, Pa., home last night without even a final wave from blue-eyed Breda O'Sullivan, his Irish pen-pal who found his name and address in a bottle.

Breda, in fact, harvested oats on her mother's farm while Frank climbed aboard the bus for Tralee. No one else came to see him off either, not even the disappointed Dingle folk who hoped that a romance would cap the couple's six years of letter writing.

Frank flew to Ireland two weeks ago to meet the young collene he had known only through letters that started the day she found the bottle with his name and address on the Dingle shore. Frank had thrown the bottle overboard from the troopship on which he was returning from World War II army service in Europe.

A week after his arrival, both flatly denied there was any romance. But one of the local folk said that Frank "looked a very disappointed man, indeed" as he rode away last night in the rear of the bus.

Communists In Russia Will Change Spelling Of Politburo

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Because the Communists always want a fairly small, rigidly disciplined organization, not everyone in Russia is a member of the party. Out of a population of more than 200 million people, probably not more than 10 million are permitted to belong.

The number may be smaller. Before he's admitted, a would-be member is screened. Party members must vouch for him. And after he's in his work and loyalty to the party are watched and examined.

But the Russian Communists, who set the style for Communists everywhere, protest they have a really democratic setup.

Theoretically, all party members are expected to argue sincerely on any issue the party is trying to decide. But, once the decision is made by majority vote, they must obey the party's will absolutely.

Actually, the decisions are made at the top by Stalin and his hand picked lieutenants who form the Politburo, which runs the party. Since the party runs Russia, the Politburo runs the whole show.

But if the Politburo just kept on doing this indefinitely from within the Kremlin walls, without even pretending to let the party members think they have a say, it couldn't keep up the democratic fiction very long.

So Stalin and his friends decided long ago there should be a national congress every three years. But they got pretty careless about it. The last was held in 1939.

Yesterday announcement was made in Moscow that there'd be another congress, the first in 13 years, in October. Why now? The usual guessing game started in the Western capitals.

Stalin has never been considered a Confidential Charley. So there will not necessarily be any connection between the real reasons for the congress and any reasons Stalin may give for calling it, before or after.

So the guesses will range from the most ominous and sinister Communist motives to a simple desire on Stalin's part to keep up democratic appearances or tighten the strings on party members getting careless.

The only amusing note in the Moscow announcement was the news that the Politburo will be abolished and replaced by a "Praesidium." The only possible effect this can have is the added difficulty of spelling Politburo under the new name.

'Not Unusual' Engine Fire On Ike's Plane

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Exhaust gases from one of the engines on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chartered plane burst into flame when the engine was being started at the Cheyenne Airport tonight. It was described by a United Air Lines official as "a normal occurrence, not a bit uncommon."

Carl Hempel, UAL station manager at Cheyenne, said, "There absolutely was no engine fire. The gases in the exhaust blooped and the starting crew squirted some chemicals to put out the flames. They do that quite often."

Eisenhower's plane stopped at the Cheyenne Airport to permit Wyoming Gov. Frank Barrett to leave the plane. He had accompanied Eisenhower to Boise. The Eisenhower plane proceeded on schedule to Kansas City, Hempel said.

Stevenson Put On Demo Ballot In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana Democratic leaders pledged to Gov. Adlai Stevenson the party's 10 electors and rooster emblem but withheld endorsement.

The 100 - member Democratic State Central Committee whipped up a 77-9 vote yesterday to assure the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket full billing on the ballot.

It was a victory for Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, the national party nominees, although members said they were not necessarily endorsing them and certainly were not endorsing the party platform.

A top party platform leader who asked not to be identified said the action gave the nominees "a seat in the balcony instead of the front row of the party."

Members snuffed out a "split ticket" move by a 58-32 vote.

Committee Vice Chairman W. J. Erikson of New Orleans termed the final decision a big Stevenson victory because "it pledges our electors to the ticket."

In the past, the committee usually has not pledged its electors.

Two electors, W. Scott Wilkinson and Grove Stafford, promptly resigned after blasting the national party. They will be replaced by action of congressional district committees.

Gov. Robert Kennon, strong anti-Trumanite who refuses to discuss Stevenson or Sparkman, said he was not surprised at the committee's action.

"Members made it easy for the people of the state as a whole to see the difference between the national Democratic platform and the ideals of our Louisiana party," Kennon said.

"With that information, and with the action of the committee before them, Louisiana voters can make a clear-cut choice between the two parties."

Ginny Simms May Be In Contempt Of Court

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Ginny Simms' ex-husband says the singer has ignored his demands for custody of their children for the summer vacation.

As a result, Superior Court yesterday ordered Miss Simms to show cause Aug. 29 why she should not be held in contempt of court.

Her former husband, Hyatt R. Dehn, industrial engineer, said that under the terms of their 1951 divorce he was granted summer custody of David, 6, and Conrad, 2.

Oklahoman Put In PAD Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Appointment of Harris Bateman Bartlesville, Okla., as director of the Materials Division of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) was announced yesterday.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman said Bateman will serve as deputy director until he takes over his new job Oct. 1.

Bateman has been chief engineer for Cities Service Oil Co. at Bartlesville and has worked wth that company and its affiliates since 1927.

He will serve under and then succeed Richard M. Morrison who will return to private industry on Oct. 1.

Chapman also announced these other PAD appointments:

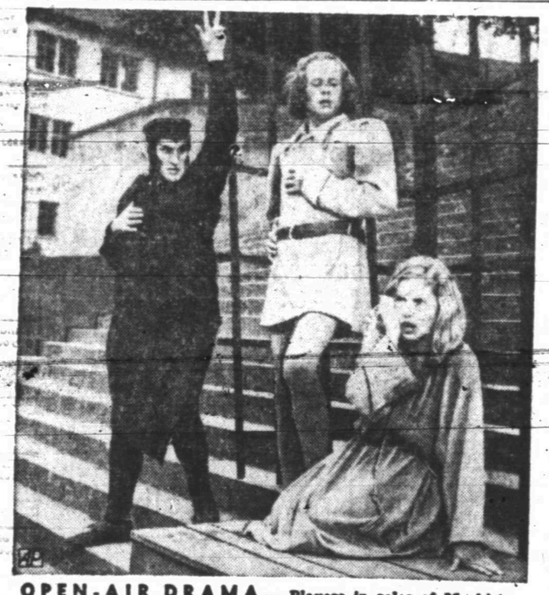

W. G. Donley of San Francisco, economic counsel for the Standard Oil Company of California, to be assistant director of the program division, succeeding Robert C. Steves, who has returned to a post with the same company.

Joe Hall of Bartlesville, a statistician with the Phillips Petroleum Co., to be chief of the program division's domestic petroleum branch as successor to John J. Dorgan, who has returned to the Continental Oil Co., Houston.

Byron E. Francis of Omaha, Neb., who has been assistant to the vice president in charge of operations of Northern Natural Gas Co., to be special assistant to the director of the gas facilities division.

Chapman said the four new officials will serve PAD without goverdment pay.
