Stepson Held For Murder of Portland Man

Mysterious Slaying
Financier Thought
Solved by Arrest

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5 (AP).—George Phillips, 38, was arrested today on suspicion of murder in connection with the fatal beating of his step-father, James Peters, Portland, Oregon, financier.

Peters, on a holiday visit here with his family, died of injuries suffered Tuesday night when, Phillips said, a stranger attacked him.

Detective-Lieutenant Ray Giese said Phillips' story of the attack was vague and conflicting.

Phillips told detectives he and his stepfather grappled with the man after a slurring remark had been made about Peter's adopted daughter, Betty. He said he knocked the man down, but that he arose and followed them to a parking lot, where Peters was killed.

Betty said her father had a premonition of death, saying the day before: "We never know when we are to die, but I know I'm not going to live long; I feel death is very near."

An autopsy report showed Peters died of a traumatic cerebral hemorrhage and contusions, complicated by a heart ailment.

Peters' wife was asleep at the time of the altercation, she told officers. She said the party went to several Hollywood cocktail lounges and were collecting souvenir match covers.

He was the president's third appointment to the tribunal, other being Senator Hugo Black, Alabama, and Solicitor General Stanley Reed, Kentucky.

Frankfurter has been one of the principal legal advisors of the president since he assumed office and it was predicted several months ago that he would be nominated for the supreme court post.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie lived in Fort Worth for more than 15 years before moving here and building the hotel court, one of the San Angelo's finest. In Fort Worth Mr. Wylie was with the flour concern for around two years and for a number of years was sales manager of the Scott Bros. Grain Co.

Indictment Against Brother Of Governor Alford Quashed

HOUSTON, Jan. 5 (AP). — Special Asst. U. S. Attorney General Henry A. Schweinhaut and Walter E. Gallagher said last night they would appeal to the U. S. supreme court Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly's decision Wednesday to quash an indictment against Renne Alford Jr., and Neal Powers.

Schweinhaut and Gallagher were here to prosecute the indictment charging Alford, brother of James V. Alford, Texas' governor, and Powers, former Texas assistant attorney general, with conspiracy to violate the Connally hot oil act.

The prosecutors said they would take their appeal of Judge Kennerly's ruling to the high court on a special act which allows the government to appeal decisions that involve the validity of an act of congress.

Constitutionality of the federal law, originally passed in 1935 and extended and amended by congress in 1937, was upheld by Kennerly in an order sustaining a general demurrer filed by the defendants' attorneys. Originally, a violation of the law was a misdemeanor but by the 1937 act made a felony. The law, unless extended by congress, will expire in June, 1939.

Lawyers for Alford and Powers attacked validity of the indictment and constitutionality of the law in the federal indictment here.

The 10 counts charged in the indictment were alleged to have occurred when the first Connally act was in effect. Specifically, the three men were accused in the true bill of having transported, or caused to be transported in interstate commerce, oil produced in violation of Texas' proration laws in the Conroe, Texas oil field.

In holding for the defendants, Judge Kennerly's written opinion said:

"Viewing the matter from all standpoints, I think it must be held that there is and can be no certainty that congress, by passing the law for the indictment and prosecution of those who violated it while it was in effect, I think the defendant's demurrer to the indictment and the motion to quash the indictment must, for that reason, be sustained and the case dismissed," the judge's opinion read.

Renne Alford Jr. is an attorney in Dallas. His brother, Governor Alford, has been nominated as judge of the Southern federal district of Texas and is scheduled to take the bench after his retirement from the governorship on January 17.

Powers, Tyler attorney, formerly served as an assistant attorney general under Governor Alford when the governor was Texas' attorney general.

Both Renne Alford Jr. and Powers surrendered after the indictment was handed down last September 9 and have been at liberty under bond.

Opens Way for Tax Increase In Country

Military Program
Expected to Cost
Billion and Half

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP).—President Roosevelt asked vast sums for national defense today in a multi-billion dollar budget that projected another deficit and unprecedented public debt of $44,458,000,000 (billions) by 1940.

His annual report to congress on the nation's finances advised against "violent contraction" in spending or "drastic new taxes." He opened the way, however, to "moderate tax increases" to meet the increased expenditures of $422,000,000 for armament and farm relief costs.

He called for $3,955,562,200 for federal spending during the fiscal year beginning next July and estimated the deficit for this year at $3,326,348,200.

He asked $1,600,000,000 for national defense, including $500,000,000 to speed up the armaments program.

He requested $968,158,851 for the Agricultural department activities, including $553,000,000 in subsidies to farmers.

He asked $1,500,000,000 for the WPA and $110,000,000 for flood control.

An appropriation of $1,000,000 was asked for the State department for its flood control project on the lower Rio Grande and $1,000,000 for canalization of the Rio Grande.

He also urged the civilian conservation corps be made permanent.

The president, in asking congress for a supplemental appropriation of $875,000,000 to carry work relief through next June, recommended strict legislation imposing penalties for "improper political practices" in relief.

He opposed turning administration over to local boards as suggested in some quarters.

Three-Fifths of His Debt to Society Is Paid by Al Capone

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 5 (AP). — Al Capone paid three fifths of his financial debt to society Wednesday. The government had a lien for $7,692.29 outstanding against the dethroned gangster king until his Chicago lawyer, Abraham Teitelbaum, handed $37,692.29 to Edward E. Douglas, acting clerk of the Federal District Court. The sum represented all of four he is out costs, $7,692.29, and $30,000 in fines. There remains $20,000 in fines to be paid.

Douglas said the payment clears the way for release of Capone from Alcatraz Island prison where he has been serving a ten-year sentence for income tax evasion. That term and $30,000 in fines were imposed on three felony counts when in 1931 the government convicted the nation's then Public Enemy No. 1 for failure to pay $215,080 tax on an estimated income of $1,038,654 for 1925-29. An added year and a $20,000 fine were imposed on two misdemeanor counts for failure to file returns.

Capone is suffering from paresis, a disease of the brain, and while normal three weeks out of four he is a dangerous man the other week. The government plans to keep him under treatment, probably in another federal institution.

With time off for good behavior, Capone would be eligible for release from Alcatraz Jan. 19. The extra year originally was scheduled to be served in the Cook County (Chicago) jail.

Teitelbaum declined to comment on Capone's immediate future, saying only "I am not at liberty to discuss my client's affairs; the case is still pending."

The remaining $20,000 would have to be paid after Capone serves the extra year before he can be ultimately released, unless he takes a pauper's oath and serves an extra thirty days in lieu of payment.

35,000 Employees of WPA Will Go Under Civil Service Feb. 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP). — Amid a storm of charges of politics in relief, administration officials announced Wednesday that 35,000 administrative employees of WPA would be placed under civil service Feb. 1.

Col. E. C. Harrington, new relief administrator, said the move would involve all administrative personnel in Washington and the field, with the exception of a "small number of policy-making positions."

He said the step was mandatory under a Presidential order approved last June 24 and that he heartily endorsed it.

Meanwhile, there were other congressional moves to correct what some senators called "bad political situation" within the WPA.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) said he would draft legislation to "put more teeth" in civil service provisions against political activity.

Testing for Drunkenness

Drunks behind the wheel are potential murderers and certainly drastic prosecution should follow wherever it is shown that a driver who figured in an accident was intoxicated.

But blood tests and other tests have not been shown to prove drunkenness conclusively in all cases. Doctors and courts still are looking for fool-proof proof.

A recent case in Toronto points up the fact that capacity to absorb alcohol without drunkenness ensuing varies with the individual.

According to a blood test, the driver of an auto that killed a man should have been absolutely drunk—unable to walk or answer questions. Yet the driver, said the coroner, appeared quite normal and showed no signs of drunkenness.

No drink at all while at the wheel of an auto is the safe rule, but science has yet to devise a sure-fire test for drunkenness.

Bravo, John Bull

Our English cousins, ever conservative, are engaged in the good old American custom of debunking.

The targets are some of London's purse-poor peeresses who, for a fee, arrange that socially ambitious women be presented at court.

Some half a hundred applications for presentation to the king and queen have been rejected by the Lord Chamberlain on the ground the applicants paid the peeresses to sponsor them.

Of course, the rejection slips will be couched in superlatively polite language. But it is to be hoped there will be enough sting in them to waken some of our good American friends to the absurdity of their positions as seekers after whatever prestige attaches to a court presentation.

JOHN T. FLYNN

By JOHN T. FLYNN

NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

Here is a fact that might well make American citizens take notice.

Between 1930 and 1937 England built 2,186,000 dwellings.

In the same period, the United States, with almost twice as many families, built less than half that number.

Never in the 25 years that I have been interested in the low-cost housing movement have I heard so much talk about housing as in these years 1930 to 1937—particularly in the last six years. But never, perhaps, has so little been done.

If one confines his interest in housing to newspaper headlines, one might suppose the present administration had done a gigantic job in the field of low-cost housing. Here are some more figures on that point.

From 1930 to 1937 public agencies in England built 496,000 dwellings. In the same period public agencies in the United States built 29,559.

The simple truth is that public low-cost housing has been the tragic failure of this administration. The reasons are plain. And a survey of them reveals the responsibility to rest upon the real estate interests of the cities and the President.

REAL ESTATERS MISTAKEN.

IN the case of the real estate interests, every possible obstacle to low-cost housing has been interposed by them upon the principle that this was putting the government into private business.

Of course private business is not in the low-cost housing field. There is no profit in low-cost housing.

Therefore no one goes into the business. And no one can be blamed for it. But nevertheless low-cost housing can be made a great boon to private business.

The housing business has two sides—construction and ownership.

Low-cost government housing does not mean government would go into the construction business. The building is done by private contractors, the materials are furnished by private contractors. The government merely puts up the money.

It does not even need to become the owner. In fact it prefers to see ownership vested in private municipal corporations. Nothing would so stimulate private business as a real low-cost housing program.

HERE'S HOW ENGLAND DID IT.

WHEN Baldwin set in motion the present housing program in England he assembled a group of wealthy men, mostly of noble families.

Before the discussion had gone far, one ancient person said: "Public housing! That sounds too much like socialism to me."

To which another distinguished conservative earl replied: "My word! You talk like an American."

The short-sightedness of excessive conservatives fighting bogies has been a great obstacle to housing here.

But more responsible has been the President. He has talked about housing, but done nothing. And in the days when he might have done something he made the agent and representative of the reactionary New York real estate interests his special adviser and co-ordinator on housing.

So when anyone tells you about all that we have done for public housing, quote him the figures given here. In England public agencies built 496,000 houses, while in America, with twice the families, public agencies built 29,559.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

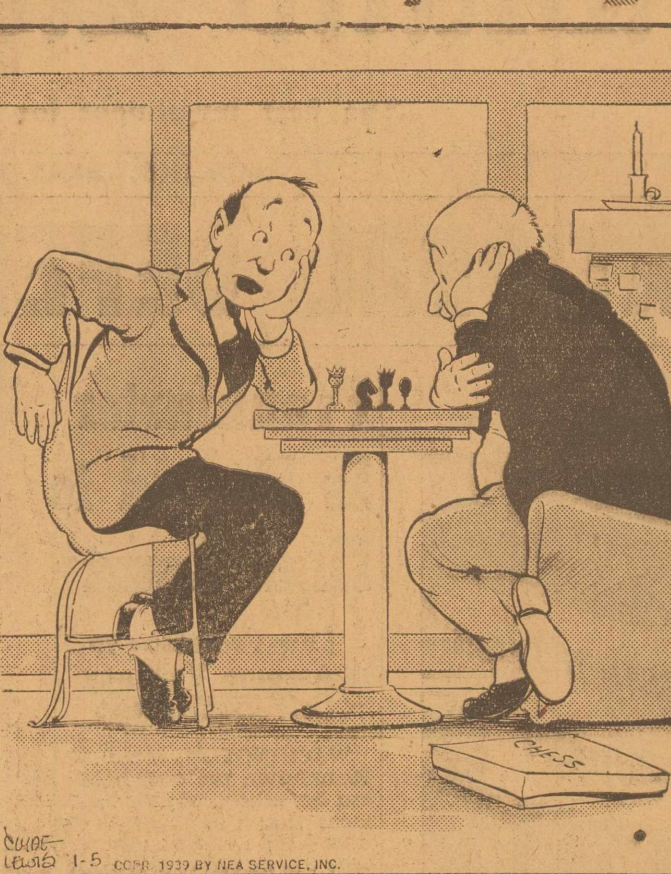

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, rashes under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Biography of Fountain Pen Rivals Fiction Story in High Adventure

MILWAUKEE (U.P.)—This is the biography of a fountain pen and a tale that carries one through all the phases of "human emotions."

In the history are scenes which few people experience during the course of a life time. This fountain pen is the property of Henry Fuller, a member of the American College of Life Underwriters.

The close association between Fuller and his pen dated back to 1909 when Fuller acquired his prize possession in a drug store at Whitewater, Wis., for a penny.

No sooner had Fuller claimed ownership when the pen started on a series of wild adventures.

At the time Fuller was Whitewater's two miller and in 1910 when the young man delivered mail, the pen was the instrument with which receipts for registered letter were signed. All went well until the winter of that year when a blizzard forced the junior mail man to trek 25 miles. Both he and the pen suffered, the mail carrier being severely frost bitten and the ink in the pen completely frozen. Both recovered.

This episode past, the pen next attended various schools and no doubt aided its owner in writing untold examination papers. Both came through with flying colors and then came the war.

Fuller and pen went overseas. In France all went well until one blustery morning in September 1918, the British, the 30th division Fuller and pen crashed the Hindenburg line.

Forty days later surgeons at the base hospital in Le Harve completed extricating shrapnel. "Pen" too had been covered with blood and glory and the two embarked on an excruciating ambulance journey from Portsmouth to London. Fuller won his first lieutenant bars and the pen rose 100 per cent in its owner's estimation. The journeys of the two, however, were not over and after the Armistice it was discovered that Fuller had contracted tuberculosis, so the two tarried at Fort Snelling, Minn., Prescott, Ariz., and Denver. At the hospital the pen helped its master while away many idle hours.

So much for the heroic deeds of the pen and its scholastic experience. A brighter side also was its lot for it was with the same pen that Fuller wrote the love letters to the woman who later became his wife.

Then the pen joined Fuller in a business career. In lighter moments the pen too has shone for it was used by Edgar Guest, all of the boys of the R.O.T.C. and many business leaders in signing autographs.

"I bought the pen for a penny and wouldn't sell it for a million," is Fuller's comment.

A salad-and-dessert course was served at tea time to guests and the following members: Mmes. L. A. Absher, Cowden, Roy Downey, Hoffer, R. T. Mobley, J. B. Richards, W. H. Street, Payton Thurmon, L. A. Tullos, Frank Williamson, and the hostess.

Diane Buffington Honored at Party On Sixth Birthday

Honoring her daughter, Diane, on her sixth birthday anniversary, Mrs. Bernard K. Buffington entertained with a party at her home, 514 Holmesley, Wednesday afternoon from 4 o'clock until 5:30.

It was a "Charlie McCarthy party," with the famous little comedian of the air dominating the party favors, games, and contests. Allan Nelson and June Hazlip were winners in the contests.

The refreshment table was decorated throughout in pink and white with appropriate "Happy Birthday" greetings. The pink-and-white marble cake was decorated in pink and white and lighted by six white candles. When cut, the cake was found to contain fortune telling favors.

New Year's Ship Is Featured in Party Accessories

The New Year's "Ship of Good Hope" featured appointments for the bridge party with which Mrs. R. R. Richter entertained members of the Slam club at her home, 213 S. Big Spring, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Tallies with ship design were employed at the three tables of bridge played. Corresponding New Year colors were used in package wrappings.

Playing prizes went to Mrs. Joe Dobson for high score and for traveling prize; to Mrs. R. L. Bailey for second high score in the club; and to Mrs. J. C. Moore for high score guest.

Wednesday of next week the club will meet with Mrs. Bridges as hostess at the home of Mrs. John Webb on E. Indiana street.

Friends, Informality and a "Leftovers" Supper Make a Jolly Sunday Evening

Kidney bean and cheese salad flanked by cold cuts and pickles—just the main dish for a friendly Sunday supper.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Service Staff Writer.

SUNDAY supper begins the new week amiably. A few close friends, a few good dishes, informality—that's the formula. From the roast and vegetables left over from dinner you can make a strong clear soup for the first course. Strain and serve in bouillon or tea cups with heated croutons.

Kidney Bean and Cheese Salad. (Serves 3)
One package salad gelatin, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup cold water.

Breakfast: Grapefruit juice, sausage patties with fried apples, corn bread, cherry marmalade, coffee, milk.

Dinner: Roast lamb, barbecue sauce, mashed potatoes with turnips, Brussels sprouts, kumquats and lettuce salad, steamed carrot pudding, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

Supper: Consomme in cups, kidney bean and cheese salad, cold cuts, crabapple jelly roll, tea, milk.

ter, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 2 tablespoons tomato ketchup, 1 cup cooked kidney beans, 2/3 cup celery cut fine, 1/2 green pepper shredded, 1/2 cup grated American cheese.

Dissolve salad gelatin in boiling water, add cold water, salt, vinegar and ketchup. Chill until mixture begins to thicken, then add remaining ingredients. Pour into mold or shallow pan and chill until firm. Unmold or cut into squares to serve.

Crabapple Jelly Roll. (Serves 3)
Some kind of roll or delicate pastry belongs in the late Sunday gathering. This jelly roll recipe is the type most people like. Bake it several hours before serving.

Three eggs, 1 cup sugar, 5 tablespoons water, 1 cup sifted cake flour, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup crabapple jelly.

Beat eggs until very light. Add sugar, beating all the while. Add water and beat well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to the egg mixture. Beat quickly until well mixed. Add flavoring and pour immediately into a buttered jelly roll pan and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 15 minutes.

When baked, turn upside down on a cloth sprinkled with powdered sugar. Cut edges off cake so it will not split when rolled. Spread with crabapple jelly, roll carefully by holding one end of the cloth high with both hands, and the cake will roll itself over and over into a large roll. Wrap in a towel until cool.

FEMININE FANCIES
By Kathleen Eiland

New color combinations for spring, expected by some to achieve great favor, is that of the ever-welcome navy and mustard. One example of this is the costume which employs a draw-neck top of navy and a flaring gathered skirt of the mustard edged with navy.

"Ferdinand the Bull," that delightful creature who preferred sniffing flowers to fighting matadors, is now being immortalized in designs for cotton cloth. We can imagine the delight of small girls in housecoats or blouses and the gruff pleasure of boys in gay shirts made of this cloth. For on it, Ferdinand's life story is told in vivid, colored pictures—sniffing the flowers, resting under the trees, being carted away. There's even an arena packed with people and also there's a picture of Ferdinand disporting himself before various watching citizens.

But of course you may not like Ferdinand. In that case you probably will like the "Dude Ranch" print. Older girls who have a penchant of dreaming about cowboys will instantly choose this for housecoats or what not. In soft, autumn-like colors are ranged scenes of cowboys and dude ranch guests, horses, the ranch house, and various wild animals, trees, and other things the visitor out west would look for and enjoy.

Nor does this complete the tale of the new pictorial cottons. There still remains Texas' own—the Hill Billy design with W. Lee O'Daniel, Happy Horace, Texas Rose, the flour barrel, Hilly Billy flour, and such slogans as "Pass the Biscuits Pastry" all mixed higgledy-piggledy with the Alamo, oil derricks, Texas cattle, and similar subjects in a design as mad as that of the year's political campaign.

Approximately 960 nurses still draw pensions in England, because their health was ruined by active war service.

Drivers who fall asleep at the wheel are the cause of more than 70,000 automobile accidents annually.

Find New Method of Psychology Teaching

AUSTIN. — On the presumption that few children are problem children, but every child has problems, Drs. O. B. Doolittle and B. F. Holland of the educational psychology department at The University of Texas have evolved a new approach to the college study of educational psychology.

Students in freshman psychology classes at the University have studied their material for several years and have been asked to present comments and criticisms of the text. Revising on the basis of these student suggestions, the two men prepared the volume, "Fundamentals of Educational Psychology," which was recently issued by a national publishing house.

That the method they pursued has been successful in the eyes of the teaching profession is evident by the fact that more than a dozen colleges and universities of Texas and Arkansas have adopted the book as a text for freshman psychology courses.

In presenting their material the authors have sought to proceed from the concrete to the abstract and from the simple to the complex. They have endeavored to present educational psychology as the science that deals with the nature and behavior of pupils, and to keep before themselves and their readers a four-fold view and description of the pupil: the educational, the physiological, the genetic and the social.

Model Spurs Art Interest
TOLEDO, O. (U.P.) — A heavy increase in enrollment in the commercial art class of Macomber vocational high school for boys has been noted by instructors. The reason? A real, live model — Jeanne Franke, pretty graduate of girls' vocational classes, has been hired by the board of education to model clothes for the class.

DURBAN NATAL (U.P.) — Farmers in some parts of Natal who make application for telephone lines five years ago are still waiting for them in some cases, it is revealed by the press.

Mrs. Haygood Is Leader for Study Of South America

South America, much in the headlines during recent weeks because of the Lima Conference, was studied at the first 1939 meeting of the Modern Study club held at the home of Mrs. F. C. Cummings, 1002 W. Wall, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. H. Schouten, president of the City-County Federation, was a club guest and spoke on the Federation.

A business meeting preceded the program for the day.

Mrs. J. M. Haygood was study leader.

A paper on "The Christ of the Andes" was presented by Mrs. Fred Turner.

Mrs. H. E. McRae read a paper on "South American Cities and Their Personalities."

Mrs. Haygood then led a round table discussion on "The 'Good Neighbor' Policy of the Americas."

Tea was served during the round table, lending a pleasantly informal atmosphere conducive to general discussion and expression of opinion.

Members present were: Mmes. Haygood, L. C. Link, McRae, P. A. Nelson, A. H. Riley, F. R. Schenck, Tom Seely, S. S. Stinson, Turner, M. A. Park, C. K. LaGue, J. J. Kelly, and the hostess.

Junior Music Club Holds First Meeting After Holidays

Junior Music club met Wednesday at the Cornhusk studio with 13 members present.

Singing of "Texas, Our Texas" followed calling the meeting to order. Old and new business was discussed and the social committee reported a hayride. Members told where they went and what they did over the holidays.

The group was entertained by a piano solo, "Venice Melody," by Van Cummings; a poem, "Our Ship of Joy," by Martha Jane Preston; a piano solo, "In Flowerland," by Eugenia Holmes; and the "Story of Haydn," by Mrs. Lee Cornells.

After the story, slides were shown for a contest on answering questions about it.

KEZAR FALLS, Me. (U.P.) — Game Warden Verne Black had to use five rounds of ammunition, but he finally killed a 400-pound bear whose hideout had been mistaken for a rabbit's burrow by a frightened novice hunter.

STOP Coughing and Stop It NOW

Enjoy A Good Night's Rest

BUCKLEY'S MINTURE certainly makes short work of relieving those stubborn, old long-on-coughs and colds that other cough remedies fail to touch, according to Mr. H. A. Allen.

Mr. Allen says: "For years I suffered every winter with a terrible cough. I have had many sleepless nights and coughed until tears ran, and my stomach ached. I started again with the same old cough this year—by far the largest-selling cough medicine in all cold Canada. One or two doses and stubborn tough hacking coughs are often on their way. And it's only a few cents at drugstores everywhere. Money back if not delighted. City Drug Store, Taylor Pharmacy. (Adv.)"

'Underground Surveyors' Will Hold Convention

AUSTIN.—Three hundred "underground surveyors" of the Southwest will convene on The University of Texas campus February 3 and 4, for the second annual conference on Foundations Engineering and Soil Mechanics. W. R. Woolrich, University engineering dean, revealed here today.

Highlighting the conference will be three lectures on foundations by Dr. Karl Terzaghi of Vienna and Boston, "father of soil mechanics."

The two-day parley of Southwest foundation experts is sponsored by the University's College of Engineering and Bureau of Engineering Research.

Soil Mechanics—the study of foundations for large buildings, dams, and highways—was brought to the front in engineering circles by Dr. Terzaghi during the early 1920's, Dean Woolrich added. "Engineers of the Southwest are fortunate in being able to hear Dr. Terzaghi," Dean Woolrich said.

HIGH SCHOOL, ATLANTIC WIN; BULLDOGS MEET McCAMEY TONIGHT

Two Winners Gain Tie for League Lead

The Atlantic and the High School teams went into a tie with Stanton and the Petroleum Pharmacy clubs for first place in the league standings last night when they came through with wins over the Texas and Service Drug teams, respectively.

The Atlantic team reached the top by hanging up a 20-10 win that was slow and uninteresting throughout. In the meantime, the high school lads definitely stamped themselves as one of the favorites for the league flag by using every player on the roster in hanging up an easy 59-21 win over the pill rollers.

The high school team will meet the strong McCamey Badgers at the high school gymnasium here tonight. The game will start at 7:30 and admission will be 25 and 10 cents. The Badgers are reported to have come up with another good team this year and the Bulldogs, because of the rapid improvement made by them lately, should assure a bang up game.

The Atlantic and Texas teams wasted the first five minutes of the game without a score being made. Kennedy of the Texas team then laid in a crisp and was followed by Kyle of the Atlantic with two goals. Score at the end of the first quarter was 4-2. During the second period Kennedy laid in a free shot, Malloy and Jones got fields goals to give the Atlantic an 8-3 lead at the half.

Throughout the third period only six points were made—four by Doran of the Atlantic and two by John Hart of the Texas. In the last period, Drake of the Atlantic got hot and tossed in three goals from out near mid-field to sew up the game for the Atlantic boys. Peterson got a field goal and John Hart a free one for the losers.

If the first game was uninteresting because of lack of scoring, the last one was uninteresting because of too much scoring by one club.

The high school youngsters got a couple of points in the first ten seconds of the game when Arrington laid in a crumple, and with Gee and Dodson alternately hitting the bucket in rapid succession, had rolled up a 21-4 lead at the end of the period. Second and third stringers took over in the next quarter and ran the score to 27-6 at the half.

Coach Myer started his first five again in the third period and the boys continued their lightning play by making the score 49-12 before the final period started. Substitutes again took over and made 10 points while giving up nine in the final quarter.

Gee paced the winners with 15 points but Dodson was close behind him with an even dozen. Two other boys, Ford and Cotlier, got into the league "big 12" by bagging seven points each. Armstrong and Koetza got six points each to lead the losers.

SAW SUGAR BOWL GAME
Among Midland people who attended the TCU-Cape City football game at New Orleans Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dufy, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Boynton, H. B. Dickerson, C. F. Kimball, B. H. Blakeney and David Wofford.

VISITED IN EAST
Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Scharbauer and daughter have returned from a visit with his mother at Albany, N. Y. They also went to New York City, Boston, Flint, Mich., and to points in Canada.

VISITED FATHER
B. H. Blakeney returned yesterday from a visit with his father, P. B. Blakeney, at Monroe, N. C. On his return trip, he attended the Sugar Bowl game and winter sports festivities at New Orleans.

If you may have believed in the idea that Friday the 13th is unlucky, this year, for Friday, January 13th, 1939, will be a lucky day for all West Texas. (Adv.)

The PAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS.

There must be something to that Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde business. The last time Midland fans got a look-see at the high school team—about two weeks ago—it was the opinion of virtually all that Bob Myer had a club composed of a green bunch of kids that might turn into a pretty good team by the time the season ended. Certainly, no one expected any immediate change.

But Myer cut his Christmas vacation short, returned to work and in the space of a week has turned out a sharp shooting aggregation that has racked up a couple of victories in the past two nights and definitely appears to be headed somewhere.

The Bulldogs handed the Courtney team a defeat Tuesday night and bounced right back last night with a one-sided win over the Service Drug team. You may not have heard of Courtney, but all schools that participate in basketball in this area have. The boys from Martin county won the district tournament last year, only to be ruled out when a man was found ineligible. Most of the club has been here.

Tonight, the Bulldogs get what is rated a severe test when they meet the strong McCamey Badgers on the local court. The record of the Badgers for the year isn't known but they are annually one of the top teams of this area and are reported to have a veteran club back this year.

We missed the league games played Monday night, but will go on record now as saying none of the four clubs that played that night will push the Bulldogs around. The Bulldog substitutes don't appear to be so potent but as long as the first five is in the game they will make it interesting for any of them.

Bud Taylor and Thad Steele got back into town yesterday after having a very "footballish" year-end. And, according to Thad, they still didn't see the nation's top college team in action. He's ready to tell anyone that TCU would beat either Duke or USC by three touchdowns.

While on the coast, the two should have got their fill of football for a while. They saw the Rose Bowl game, a game between two professional clubs and a game between the high school stars of Hollywood and Chicago.

A lot of you can remember a big All-American tackle at USC a few years ago named Ernie Smith. He is the man Bud is after to play in the line here next fall. All he did was score a couple of field goals from behind the 40-yard line, finally missing one from the 47 and slap ball carriers all over the field—so Bud says. Thad adds the information that Smith kicked off once for his team and kicked the ball through the goal posts and 13 yards past before the ball landed. However, that didn't count as three points. The goal posts in professional ball are on the goal line, which made the kick only 73 yards—and that is really place kicking.

In case some of you haven't noticed it, we have a new constable—none other than our old friend Raleigh D. (Big) Lee. At the right is a picture of that Little George McEntire declares he took of the new officer as he was being sworn in. For a long time, Big Lee carried guns on both hips, therefore is not short legged like some of the cops that have always carried guns on one hip only. Some folks say Big Lee was a cowboy but got so big he couldn't ride anything but draft horses in his work. These were too big for working cattle so he quit and started "firing" on the old Midland-Northwestern railroad. We're not saying he was too heavy for the engines—but he is still here and the railroad is not. In case some of you haven't met him, and doubt expressions that he is tough, you have our consent to find out for yourselves. If you follow our advice, you won't.

Longhorns to Meet Owls in Conference Opener Saturday

AUSTIN. — A successful practice season concluded, the University of Texas basketball team will open its Southwest Conference season against the Rice Owls at Houston Saturday night.

Coach Jack Gray indicated Wednesday he would use Capt. Willie Tate, Bobby Moers, Oran Spears, Thumman Hull and Chester Granville in his starting lineup, with Elmer Finley, W. D. Hout, Tom Neils and Warren Wiggins as first-line reserves.

He did not specify which Longhorn would attempt to guard Frankie Carswell, Rice's hot-shot sophomore whom the Texas sophs learned to respect in the Rice-Texas freshman series last year. Spears, Moers and Granville are considered the Longhorn's best at blanketing an opposing star.

The Steers have been gradually gaining momentum in practice this week after a letdown from the strenuous five-day tournament in which they participated at Oklahoma City last week.

In winning four of their five games there for second place in the tournament they ran their practice percentage to 800—eight victories, two defeats. The Longhorns have lost to Kansas and Warrensburg Teachers of Missouri, the latter in the finals of the Oklahoma City tournament.

Their victims include San Marcos Teachers twice, Killebrew Pipeline, Kansas, Southeastern Oklahoma, Westminster of Missouri, Emporia Teachers of Kansas and the Baylor Bears.

Ed Price will carry his Texas Yearlings to Houston for a curtain-raiser with the Rice frosh. Not up to the standard set by last year's good Yearling team, Price's charges are not expected to win.

Tate, Bobby Moers, Oran Spears, Thumman Hull and Chester Granville in his starting lineup, with Elmer Finley, W. D. Hout, Tom Neils and Warren Wiggins as first-line reserves.

AUSTIN, Jan. 5. (AP) — Announcement of Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel that he would not appoint any member of the legislature to a position for which senate confirmation is required may save him a lot of grief.

It will keep legislators from seeking appointments to this and that. One member had been appointed to something, others probably would have been clamoring for appointments.

It will be interesting to watch the stand of Rep. Abe Mays on administration policies. Undoubtedly he was greatly disappointed by failure to land the job of secretary of state, which pays $500 a month.

O'Daniel's announcement of policy concerning appointments was in connection with his consideration of a man to head the department of state. He wrote members of the legislature, asking if they would approve Mays as secretary, but later concluded such appointment would contravene the constitution.

O'Daniel interpreted the constitution as prohibiting the appointment of any legislator to a state office where confirmation by the senate would be required.

One hundred and ten ducks was the bag limit during the Christmas holidays of a party of hunters which included Lon A. Smith and G. A. Jerry Sadler, members of the railroad commission.

The hunt was in Louisiana and the party of 11, another member of which was Mayor W. E. Lea of Orange, were guests of Gov. Richard Leche. Gov. Leche, however, was unable to attend the hunt. Each hunter, Commissioner Smith reported on his return, obtained the legal limit.

Smith and Sadler were not successful in what Sadler had said just before leaving for Louisiana would be an attempt to "hear the lion in his den," that is to say, induce Louisiana to curtail its production of oil. Some Texas oil operators long have complained that Louisiana is getting more than its share of the national market for crude and Sadler asserted he and Smith would try to do something about it. Smith said they were unable to find any Louisiana officials who had anything to do with oil regulation.

Recently Louisiana boosted its oil allowable 3,700 barrels a day, which made it 10,000 barrels daily more than recommended by the Federal Bureau of Mines. The bureau makes and estimate monthly of market demand for oil of each state.

Texas' complaint against Louisiana is one that every oil producing state makes against all other states that produce crude in large quantities. They all declare their own allowances are too low and the other fellows' are too high.

The interstate oil and gas compact, of which Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, is chairman, is an attempt to get the oil producing states to cooperate in production regulation. Members of the compact are Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Illinois and Colorado. Louisiana and California are conspicuous non-members.
