Wellington fourth graders show off the chicks they hatched last week in a science class and 4-H project. The students incubated eggs for 21 days in a homemade incubator and opened an egg each day to observe development. Clockwise, from lower left, are David Rudy, Hattie Blacksher, Pamela Klinekole, Joyce Baker, Charlotte McIntosh, Eva Coronado, Cynthia Shrubs, Chastity Gray, Ashley Spillman, Holly Hudson, Jennifer Hale, Norma Lugo, Paula Britten and Shawn Flowers.

Fourth Grade Incubates "Eggs to Chicks" Projects

When does a baby chick's heart begin beating?

How long does it take for this tiny baby to get out of his shell, once the eggs are "pipped"? And that's what you call the first hole made by the chick's beak from inside the shell.

The fourth grade science class of Wellington Elementary School has the answers—first hand.

They've just incubated and hatched 50 "eggs to chicks" and they will repeat the process, for the next three weeks. Marie Sango of Dodson gave the eggs.

"Eggs to Chicks" is a joint project of Collingsworth 4-H Clubs and Wellington 4th grade science class, says Nancy Janes, extension agent who proposed the project to Melvin Cardwell, elementary school principal.

Duane Dodson, fourth grade science instructor, gave the instruction for his and Beverly Hudson's rooms.

Locating 50 fertile eggs took some hunting. Dodson donated a setting, as did

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, a former home demonstration agent, and Cardwell added more.

Dodson explained each day's progress and provided general information.

He taught the children to

Wellington Clean-up Drive Set April 23-27

Wellington's city-wide clean-up week is slated for Monday through Friday, April 23-27 when all people living inside the city limits are asked to clean up around their premises, both business and residential.

This is an annual event sponsored jointly by the City of Wellington and Chamber of Commerce. Plans were announced by City Manager Glen Taylor and C-C president Tommy Hudson.

The usual clean-up format will be followed.

Residents are asked to clean their premises of trash, rubbish and refuse, putting it in alleys behind their homes or businesses. It will be picked up by City of Wellington trucks for next week only.

The city trucks and loaders can handle items of all size, but Glen Taylor, city manager warns that everything found in an alley will be hauled off.

"If you have something that is in an alley now, that you want to keep you will need to get it onto your property, where there can be no mistaking that it is to be left there.

"The city is not responsible for items that are left in an alley being hauled off," Taylor said.

City trucks will start at 1st and Haskell Streets, the northwest corner of the town section, and continue to work south and east. The trucks will go through the alleys one time only. They will not return.

This work will begin Monday, April 23, and continue through all alleys until the entire city is covered.

Wellington will have more than the usual number of dead trees and large shrubs due to the winter cold, Taylor pointed out.

Thursday, April 26, has been earmarked for hauling off dead trees and heavy junk that will require front end loaders and dump trucks.

The city will not dig up trees, Taylor emphasized, but it will haul off trees and large shrubbery that have been dug up.

The city manager also

Hope Thomas to State UIL Event

Hope Thomas, WHS sophomore placed third in the UIL regional prose reading contest, and this has qualified her to advance to the state UIL finals, according to Gay McAlister, speech instructor.

The regional contest was held in Lubbock Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14.

Hope read "Molly Means" by Margaret Walker as her final number, Mrs. McAlister said.

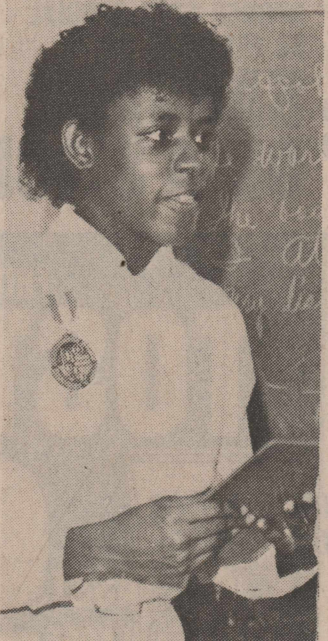

"It was a close contest, with 9 students participating. The closeness of the contest was pinpointed by one student's remark: 'This is the hardest round I've ever been in.'"

The second place winner in prose reading was Amy Hancock of Clarendon, so that two of the three high students in that event are from District 2-2A.

Hope is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas.

Three other students from Wellington participated in the regional contests.

Allison Neeley, a senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neeley, entered poetry reading; Wesley Reeves, freshman, competed in ready writing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Reeves.

Karla Huff, a sophomore, represented the district in typing. Her parents are the Rev. and Mrs. C.M. Huff of Dodson.

Mrs. McAlister will take Hope to the state contest in Austin April 26, 27 and 28.

Little League Meet Apr. 24

Wellington Little League will meet Tuesday, April 24, at the Farm Bureau Hospitality Room at 7 p.m. to make plans for the 1984 season.

All interested parents are urged to attend, said Nick Gilley, president.

Applications for Tee Ball, Little League and Senior League should be turned in through the school or directly at the Tuesday night meeting.

"We need several volunteers to help in coaching positions and we will have a work-day on April 28 to get the fields in condition for play," said Gilley.

Little League teams will play at their own field located on the veterans of Foreign Wars grounds. Tee-Ball teams will play in Ellison Park and Senior League will play on the softball field at Marian Airport.

There will be four Little League teams, two Senior League teams and possibly three Tee-Ball Teams this year.

The applications to play will be handed out in school this week.

Youngsters who are 6 years of age before August 1, both boys and girls, are eligible to play Tee-Ball.

To play Little League, they must be 9 years of age before August 1. Again both boys and girls are eligible.

Boys and girls must be 13 years of age before August 1 in order to play Senior League ball.

"We are looking forward to having another good season," Gilley said.

The first game will be played on May 14 and work is still under way on the season schedule.

Play will be under regulation Little League Rules.

The Wellington Little League organization is chartered with the National Little League Association having headquarters in Williamsport, Pa.

One part of the April 24 meeting will be to organize concessions.

Two Men Indicted in Separate Bank Cases

A grand jury sitting in U.S. District Court in Amarillo returned separate bank fraud indictments against two men who were both former presidents of Wellington banks.

There is no connection between the two actions covered in the indictments.

Chester A. (Chet) Long, 58, was indicted Wednesday, April 11, on a charge of forging a name on a fraudulent note for $175,000.

Billy Frank Moseley, 44, was indicted on a charge involving forgery of a name on a bank note for $15,000, a note which was not authorized by the person whose name was signed on the note.

Long was former president of City State Bank of Wellington and came here from Bartlesville, Okla.

Moseley is a former president of Wellington State Bank and also was formerly an officer of City State Bank.

The indictment against Long alleges that on or about May 6, 1980, he made a false entry in the records of the bank on a note and that the note for $175,000 was owed to the bank by J.L. Diamond, a stockholder in the bank.

The indictment further alleges that "whereas in truth and in fact" the entry was false and the name of J.L. Diamond was forged on the note.

The indictment against Moseley alleges that on or about August 28, 1981, by an entry on a note, he obligated Camille Starkey and the Camille Starkey Estate to pay Wellington State Bank of Wellington, Texas the sum of $15,000 "whereas in truth and in fact" Camille Starkey and the Camille Starkey Estate did not authorize nor consent to the defendant signing such note and obligating said estate.

Moseley left employment at Wellington State Bank in November, 1982 and Long left employment at City State Bank in September, 1981.

Since that time, J.L. Diamond of Bartlesville has bought Long's stock in City State Bank, a spokesman said.

Church of Christ Builds New Fellowship Structure

Construction of a new fellowship hall for Bowie Street Church of Christ began Tuesday, April 17, Haun Kite, minister, announced.

The 40x70 foot building is located across the alley immediately west of the church fronting toward Childress Street. Cost of the new building is estimated at $100,000.

Steve Davis Construction Co. has the contract for the building, and completion is due the last of August or early in September.

The congregation has been thinking about such a building for several years, but planning and decision making did not come until recently, Kite said.

The Church has some money on hand for the new fellowship hall, but a major fund drive will be held on Sunday, April 29. "We'll try to raise a good bit for it then," the minister explained.

Members of the building committee are Chester White, Jack Neeley, D.C. Thomason and Dick Judd.

The multipurpose building will be on a slab foundation, which was poured Tuesday. It will be of brick construction with exterior walls of light brick matching the church. The pitched roof will have a 5-foot elevation for every 12 feet of width, not so steep as

Absentee Vote Opens

Absentee voting for the First Democratic Primary election opened Monday, April 16, and voting by personal appearance will continue through Tuesday, May 1, according to Doug Seal, Democratic county chairman.

Helen Gollighugh, county-district clerk is in charge of the absentee voting at her office on the 1st floor of the court house.

Voting hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The office will be open during the noon hour for the convenience of those who have regular working hours. It will be closed Saturday and Sunday of each of the remaining weeks.

In order to be counted mailed ballots must arrive by the time the mail runs on election day, Saturday,

May 5.

The deadline to receive an application for a ballot to be mailed is also Tuesday, May 1.

"Anyone who would like to mail an application for a ballot should call the office and we will send an application you can sign and return. We will then send a ballot after the application is received," continued Mrs. Gollighugh.

Those who because of physical disabilities cannot come into the office to cast a ballot, may notify Mrs. Gollighugh or one of her staff and a ballot will be taken to curbside.

turn the eggs every day until the 18th day. Each day, they broke one egg to see for themselves the progress since the day before.

On the third day, they saw a tiny heartbeat. Then equally tiny blood vessels began appearing across the egg yolk. They continued to monitor the growth going on within the shell.

There was much excitement and less study on the 21st day--the eggs hatched! Chicks were distributed among those wanting them.

Knowing the full schedule of classroom teachers, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service provides assistance for many of these projects, Mrs. Janes points out.

"It is not our intent to provide additional work or projects for teachers to do. Our intent is to simply supplement and enrich what you are currently teaching," Mrs. Janes explained.

The project materials are written in a teaching plan format and are designed to assist the teacher by providing a series of "learning by doing" lessons for youth in science, agriculture and human development.

Cantata to Be Presented at 1st Methodist

A special presentation of the Easter Cantata, Jesus of Nazareth, will be given in the sanctuary of 1st United Methodist Church Saturday, April 21, at 7 p.m.

This will be the second time the cantata has been given this Easter Season, as it was also sung as part of the community-wide Easter Services, sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance Sunday, April 15.

The cantata is directed by Ron Long, associate pastor of 1st Baptist Church and the choir is made up of members of choirs from several churches in the community.

the roof of the church.

Plans call for a covered passageway to join the two buildings, and for this purpose, the church secured from the City of Wellington the closing of this portion of the alley, in exchange for right of way across the north side of the church property from the alley to Bowie Street.

Besides the fellowship hall, the building will have a complete kitchen and other facilities.

points out that the responsibility for keeping vacant lots clean and free of trash, weeds and unwanted items lies with the owner or lessee. By city ordinance vacant lots are to be kept clean the year around. Weeds are to be kept down and water puddles drained throughout the season as a precaution against mosquito breeding and as a harboring place for rats, snakes, and possibly skunks which have moved into town during the past several years.

Hudson gave additional reasons for the special effort to clean up around businesses and homes.

"We don't ever know when there will be prospective businesses come --in to look at Wellington in view of a new location.

"They will be comparing us to all the other towns they are looking at.

"The nicer looking we can keep Wellington, the better chance we might have of landing a new business or industry or even a new retirement couple.

"There is another thing to consider: Wellington is ours. We need to keep it clean."

He made a final plea: "When you are out in the car with disposable pop cans or plastic cups or paper napkins, do something with them instead of throwing them out on the street. That is a continual thing, not for just clean-up week."

Few people realize that bats are gentle, intelligent, meticulously clean, and frequently beneficial animals to man. They eat pest insects, are nature's most important seed dispersing mammal, and pollinate many valuable crops of fruit and nuts.

Easter Week Services Set at Our Mother of Mercy Church

Easter Week Services to be held at Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church were announced by the Rev. John Dalton, priest.

These will be Holy Thursday service at 8 p.m., Good Friday services also at 8 p.m. and the service on Easter Sunday at the regular hour, 11 a.m.

Father Dalton explained that the Holy Thursday service is in commemoration of the institution of the Eucharist, or Lord's Supper. It also commemorates the washing of the disciples' feet by the Lord.

After this service, there will be a time of adoration and prayer which will begin about 9 p.m. and continue until 11:30, when the community can come in and spend some time in prayer.

The Friday service "commemorates the death of Jesus on the Cross, and it also is in commemoration of the cross itself as the instrument of our Salvation," said Father Dalton. There will be the reading of the Passion from the Gospel of St. John, and the communion service will be held again that night.

The regular services will be held Sunday morning, with the additional parts relating to Easter.

The Easter Vigil, or midnight mass, will be at Holy Angels Catholic Church in Childress this year, beginning at 11 p.m.

Father Dalton said the community is invited to attend these services.

Father Dalton serves the churches at both Wellington and Childress and lives at the rectory in Childress.

Quail Ex-Student and Class Reunions Set

Quail ex-students will come from across the country Saturday, April 21, to observe the 35th anniversary of the founding of the reunion.

Ironically, it was not ex-students who established this institution, it was the 1949 Quail senior class, who chose a reunion instead of a class gift to the school.

As it turned out, they did bequeath a gift that preserves its memories.

Donald Langley has reminded that the banquet will be held in the Booster Club building on the old school campus.

Registration and visiting will begin at 5 p.m. and the buffet style at 7.

Everyone who has ever been associated with the Quail School, whether he graduated or left before finishing his work, is a part of this celebration and we invite you to come, Langley said.

The barbecue will be catered by Hens and Fins of Lubbock, with all the chicken and fish the alumni can eat.

Quail Classes holding their own reunions Saturday April 21, along with Quail Ex-Students reunion, have announced plans. All will be held Saturday afternoon..

The graduates of 1939 will hold their 45th anniversary reunion in the club room of the Booster Club building on the site of the Quail School.

Visiting will start at 2 p.m.

They will meet at 4 p.m.
The reunion organizer is Sweden Pettitt of Yukon Okla. and Avyrilla Clay White of Quail is helping. She is a class member.

June Howell Tofte of Lake Oswego, Oregon and Carolyn Carter Musgrove of California are 1949 class members who plan to attend the reunion.

1954
The class of 1954 will hold its 30th anniversary reunion in the Farm Bureau Hospitality Room, Wellington. Visiting will start at 2 p.m. and continue through the afternoon.

Wayne Lacy, Huntsville heads the arrangements. Helping here are his mother, Mrs. Robert Lacy, and the two class members still here, Jimmy Langford and Virgil Patterson.

Those coming are asked to bring pictures, annuals and clippings.

Class mothers were the late Mrs. A.M. Saunders, Mrs. Esta Pearl Smith Peebles, and Mrs. Henry Langford. Herman Moseley was superintendent and Mrs. LoRhae Morgan sponsor.

The 1959 class will celebrate the 25th anniversary of its graduation with a reunion in the home of Mrs. P.C. Cummings, 1611 Graham St. starting at 2 p.m.
Annell Lacy Simcoe of Green Brook, N.J. and her mother, Mrs. Robert Lacy will be hostesses.

Those coming are asked to bring class memorabilia. Some class members have not seen the others since they returned from the senior trip to Colorado Springs, Colo.

There were 18 in the graduating class and most will be here.

Residents of the surrounding area are urged to come and visit during the morning and afternoon.

Ex-students who are coming home are urged to visit the old school sites--the Dodson School and those rural schools who after a time became part of the Dodson district--and to visit their home places and call on shut-ins.

There will be no program at the dinner, as officers believe that the visitors are more interested in visiting with classmates they have not seen for several years.

CLASS OF 1954
The Dodson Class of 1954 will celebrate the 30th anniversary of its graduation with a luncheon Saturday, April 21 in the home of Mrs. Bob Garton, 1528 Cindy, Mangum. The time will be 1 p.m.

Mrs. Garton (Marilyn Hunt) and Mrs. Bundy Moore (Jeanette Swift) will be the hostesses.

The class members, their spouses and guests, will spend the afternoon visiting. Later those attending will either come to Dodson for the annual Ex-Students Reunion banquet, or continue with their own plans.

There were 10 members in the graduating class, but only six are living. At least four are due to be present and it is hoped that all 6 can attend.

Class parents were Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Ford. She is deceased but Ford, who lives at Vernon, is being invited. Ruth Aaron (Hightower) Norman was the sponsor and the late T.E. Lennon was superintendent.

This is the first reunion the 1954 class has held in several years.

Norwood Girls Picked by U.S. Achievement Academy

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that three Samnorwood girls have been named 1984 United States National award winners in one or more categories.

They are Sandy Henard, Tammie Henard, and Betty Sue Kincannon.

Sandy Henard, a Samnorwood high school student, was named for qualities of leadership, leadership service and science. Her nominations were made by Floyd Foster and Mrs. Jane Sheer.

Tammie Henard, who is a Samnorwood junior high student, was chosen as an awards winner in English, History and Government, leadership, leadership service and science.

She was nominated for these national awards by Mrs. Sheer, Mike Smith and Floyd Foster.

Sandy and Tammie are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Henard and Mrs. Jan Bloyd of Amarillo. Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patrick.

Betty Sue Kincannon is a sophomore and was a National Award winner in science. She was nominated by Foster.

She is the daughter of Dee Kincannon of Dozier.

The award is a prestigious honor and the academy recognizes less than 10% of all American junior high and high school students.

The biographies of these girls will appear in the United States Achievement Academy official yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school personnel, and upon the standards of selection set forth by the academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher or director.

St. Jude Bike-a-thon Nets $1,200

The St. Jude Children's Research Center Bike-a-thon raised more than $1,200 in Wellington Saturday, April 7, Chairman Billy Jackson reported.

Fifteen boys and girls ranging in age from 5 to 15 years "Rode for Terry" around Ellison Park for a total of 375 miles.

The riders circled the park for approximately two and one-half miles, and Brant Gray rode the greatest distance. He was also the top money raiser.

Other participants were

Kelley and Dustin McKinney, Jamie and Toby Jackson, Jeanne Needham, Sam Needham, Lonnie Needham III, Terry Guthrie, Larrie Black, Cody Phillips and Brett Winn.

Billy Jackson and Danny Gray co-chairmen, report that co-operation from townspeople was excellent, with donations and pledges exceeding expectations.

"The Wheels of Life Bike-a-thon for Terry was a great success and showed that Wellington understands the importance of research being done at St. Jude Hospital, Jackson said. Everyone who rode did a wonderful job," said Jackson.

The $1,200 raised from the ride will help continue the research into childhood cancer and other catastrophic diseases.

Riders have been asked to wear their "I'm Riding for Terry" bracelets as they collect their pledges. Terry is a leukemia patient who symbolizes all the children of St. Jude. She is now 8 years old and has been in remission for almost three years.

HAPPY EASTER!

Fair Needs Ideas, Workers

Ideas and volunteer workers for the 1984 Collingsworth County Fair will be welcome, Billy Jackson, overall chairman, declared Tuesday.

Although the fair is almost 5 months away, work has already begun putting the fair together, he pointed out.

"If you have an idea for some new feature, or for an old idea with a new twist, please let us have it,"

Jackson continued.

The Fun Fair chairman should be named before the end of the month, and the search is on for a parade chairman or co-chairmen. Some new ideas are in the formative stage for this colorful event.

Jackson is looking beyond the Wellington community for some exciting entertainment, he indicates, but every bit of the considerable talent Collingsworth has to offer will be called on.

"We have so many capable people with innovative ideas, we urge you to put them to work in behalf of the 1984 Collingsworth County Fair."

Anyone with an idea to put forth, or who is volunteering himself to work in the fair should contact the Chamber of Commerce office, 447-5848, or by calling Jackson at his Lone Star Gas office, 447-2990.

FACTS & FIGURES

Poolside Tips

To keep your family healthy and "in the swim" this summer, set up standard pool safety rules.

Statistics show that more than 2,400 young children drown each year. Youngsters should be taught to enjoy the water but with a healthy respect. Some rules you might consider:

• No young child should swim or play in the water without adult supervision.

• Water safety instruction should be a part of every family's summer.

Make adult supervision a must when children are in the pool.

New "Ramie" In Spring Clothes

Don't be surprised if your new spring dress looks like linen, but lists ramie on the fabric content label. Since ramie resembles linen, but is less expensive, it's being used in many spring and summer fashions, says Becky Saunders, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service clothing and textiles specialist. Like linen, ramie is brittle and has a tendency to wrinkle, she explains. But it's also stronger and softer than linen as well as mildew resistant. Ramie fabric may have some problems, such as forming balls on the surface or breaking in places

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Janes

DYE EASTER EGGS--NATURALLY

The first Easter trail Peter Cottontail hopped down was in Pennsylvania, and that first trip took place in 1728, long before commercial egg dyes became popular.

Back then many Pennsylvania Dutch children used natural dyes from herbs and foods to dye the eggs that were then exchanged as tokens of good times to come.

This Easter your children might enjoy making their own dye (with your help) as well as coloring the eggs. They might even learn something about the many uses of foodstuffs along the way.

For softer, lighter shades, prepare the dye and strain it to remove the herbs, roots or foodstuff used to obtain the color. Then, dip and turn pre-cooked eggs in the dye until you get a pretty shade. To create a deeper shade, simply make the dye and cook the eggs at the same time, allowing the eggs to simmer for as long as 20 minutes to reach the deepest hues.

Another method of dyeing eggs is to wrap raw eggs in bits of the dye-making plant or food, and then tie them in cheesecloth. When the eggs are boiled the dye is transferred directly to the eggshell, leaving a unique mottled effect.

Adding vinegar or alum to the dyeing mixture will increase the strength of the dye.

Here are some "recipes" for various colors:

For yellow dye use chamomile tea or dandelion blossoms, pour boiling water over the tea or blossoms, cover and let stand for half an hour. Strain the liquid and add a teaspoon of vinegar and the dye is ready.

Make gold dye by simmering two tablespoons of turmeric for 20 minutes. Add a teaspoon of vinegar before dyeing eggs. Since turmeric does not dissolve, the coloring will be slightly marbled.

A brass-brown shade results from onion skins, even red onion skins. Place the skins in a pan of water and simmer until the desired shade is obtained. Strain the liquid and add a teaspoon of vinegar and the dye is ready.

Lavender-blue eggs can be made with blueberries or grapes. Crush the berries or grapes by hand or in a blender. Add water and simmer for a few minutes. Strain the mixture and add a teaspoon of vinegar to complete the dye. Use a similar method to make robins-eggs blue from cabbage.

Mint leaves will make pale green Easter eggs. Pour boiling water over mint leaves, cover and let simmer for half an hour. Strain the mixture and add a teaspoon of vinegar to complete the dye.

Any of the dye-stuffs can be wrapped around or folded against a raw egg and enclosed in cheesecloth and then boiled to obtain unusual patterns of color on the egg.

EDB Effects Studied

The effects processing and cooking have in reducing levels of ethylene dibromide, EDB, in foods have yet to be determined, notes a food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. EDB, a fumigant used on grain and citrus, has been shown to be carcinogenic to laboratory animals, but it is not known at what levels it could be dangerous to humans. EDB residues are reduced by factors of 100 to 200 as grain is processed into flour and flour into consumer products. Consumer products marketed in ready-to-eat form have generally not been found to have positive residues of EDB.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

SENTENCED TO UNEMPLOYMENT

AUSTIN — If the Texas Legislature demands that funding, high school graduation requirements and curriculum apply to only academic subjects in our public school system, then we are disenfranchising thousands of the youth of this state and sentencing them to the unemployment rolls.

The Select Committee on Public Education is proposing that this be the case with our educational system and the Legislature will have the responsibility to decide if this radical change to virtually eliminate vocational training is to take place. Nearly one-half of all 16-19 year-old Texans enter the labor force upon or soon after they leave high school. The overall unemployment rate in Texas among vocational education graduates is less than half that rate. Students who take vocational education are less likely to become unemployed.

It has been estimated that between $100 and $250 million in state dollars could be saved by scaling back or eliminating state support for vocational education in our public schools.

Elimination or scaling back of state support would place the burden of financing vocational programs at the local level. Local school districts are already over-taxed and vocational programs would have to be cut drastically.

The fact cries out: academic subjects are not enough preparation for most jobs in our economy.

There are 428,000 annual job openings in Texas. About 290,000 job openings this year in Texas will require vocational-technical types of skills. That means seven out of ten job openings require occupational training.

Many employers, particularly large companies, prefer to do their own in-house training for jobs requiring vocational-technical skills. However, most employers do not have the luxury of providing their own training.

About ninety-five percent of all businesses in the United States are small, with fewer than 100 employees. Small businesses employ nearly one-half of all workers and generate nearly 60 percent of all new jobs.

The small employer does not have the resources to provide in-house training and, therefore, must rely to a large extent on job applicants possessing some occupational skills. A stratified random survey of 5,000 Texas employers conducted by the Texas Advisory Council in 1983 asked if job applicants need occupational job related skills in addition to academic skills to be hired in entry level jobs requiring less than a bachelor's degree.

Thirty-two percent of the 1,143 employers who responded said job applicants need both academic skills and occupational skills to get hired at most or all entry level jobs with their company. Another thirty-six percent said applicants need a combination of the two for at least some entry level jobs. Thirty-two percent said applicants need only academic skills.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Dallas multi-millionaire H. Ross Perot revealed last week he has spent $500,000 of his own money in formulating his select committee's education reform plan.

And he warned he will spend more—however much it will take—to make sure teachers don't water down his reforms when the Legislature meets this summer to raise their salaries.

Perot is taking on just about the entire state education establishment, including the State Board of Education and several teacher groups, and predicts a battle against that alliance of educators.

"If you water down the system (of proposed reforms) to put through a pay raise, you play a trick on the people. I won't be a part of that," he said.

Governor Mark White has promised to call the Legislature back into special session about June to consider raising taxes to raise teacher salaries and pay for reforms.

But that promise may not be kept, if Perot's committee continues to take its time in revising a teacher pay scale for Texas. Unless Gov. White calls the session before the panel winds up its report, the delays are moving the vote on a tax hike closer and closer to November Election Day. And lawmakers are reportedly balking at deciding on a tax hike just before election time.

White's Tax Plan

Meanwhile, Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis gently but firmly urged Gov. White to begin preparing his tax legislative package to assure ample time for scrutiny by the lawmakers.

White has promised to draft a specific tax bill, but whether it will be a sales tax, a gasoline tax, or a tobacco and alcohol tax is yet unclear.

Lewis' reminder that the time is drawing near for a specific plan was described by some as a politely worded challenge. White tried to rush a hastily prepared tax bill through the Legislature's waning days and found himself stalemated in the House Ways & Means Committee.

What's the Cost?

White has been holding off drafting the tax plan, because he wants to see the final cost recommendation of Perot's panel.

No sense in writing a plan to raise revenues until one knows how much one needs to raise, he argues.

But Lewis asserts the House and Senate members, will need ample time, more than 60 days, to study the tax bill before they can vote on it.

Thus, time drags on and Perot may not have to spend another half-a-million dollars to kill a tax bill. The longer he drags out his committee's tenure, the greater the odds that Gov. White will postpone the matter until the Legislature meets in regular session next January—after Election Day.

Alligator Hunting

Alligator shoes and purses may come back into vogue in the near future if the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department takes the reptile off the endangered species list.

The state agency is holding public hearings to set up rules for alligator hunting, possibly as soon as this fall. The last alligator harvest was in 1969. Since then, riding in comfort on the endangered species list, the state's alligator population has reached over 100,000.

Prisons Less Crowded

A population that is declining in Texas is the state prison inmate count.

Two years ago the state was buying tents to house more than 4,000 inmates in the overcrowded prison system. Last week the Justice Department reported the Texas prison system is now operating at 91 percent of its population capacity.

The reason for the decline is an early release program which has brought the count down from about 38,000 to 35,000.

Inquiry Sought

A Dallas House member wants the Appropriations Committee to conduct a special investigation into whether some state agency officials have lied in their budget requests and then cheated on spending.

Dallas Democrat Steve Wolens maintains he has seen clear abuse, but the committee chairman turned down his request to order the review, or to vote on the proposal.

Clayton's Papers

Former Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton, who served a record eight years with the gavel, has given the personal papers chronicling his 20-year political career to the library of his alma mater, Texas A&M University.

"I had no choice but to give them to Texas A&M. My wife said she'd kill me if I brought them all home," he cracked.

The documents which fill 280 boxes are being cataloged for research in the Aggie archives. Included are videotapes of legislative action.

Sarpalius Named to Post on Radioactive Waste Disposal

AUSTIN - Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby today announced the appointment of State Senator Bill Sarpalius (D-Hereford) to serve with legislators from other States to monitor the disposal and storage of high-level radioactive waste.

The National Conference of State Legislatures has organized the working group under the provisions of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 which mandates legislative involvement in facilities selection for disposal sites. The legislative group will act as a forum to air legislative views on all aspects of the Department of Energy's (DOE) high level radioactive waste siting program. In addition, the group will be advised of the latest technological advancements in testing and drilling programs for such waste.

"The disposal of high-level nuclear waste is a problem which we must be fully prepared to deal with," Lieutenant Governor Hobby said. He added, "I am pleased to have a legislator with the background of Senator Sarpalius collecting information and presenting our views before the committee. His district is concerned with the siting problem, and therefore it is important that he have firsthand information about what is going on at the national level on this critical issue."

Hightower Sets Farm Bill Hearings

Washington, D.C. - Congressman Jack Hightower announced today that two days of hearings will be held in the 13th Congressional District to give the public an opportunity to comment on the development of the 1985 Farm Bill now being planned by congressional committee.

Hightower, who will chair the hearings, has scheduled them for Monday, April 23, at 2:00 p.m. in Amarillo; and Tuesday, April 24, at 10:00 a.m. in Vernon. Both meetings will be held at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in those communities: Farmers, ranchers, agribusiness and all other interested representatives of farm concerns are invited to attend and testify, as is the general public.

"I want to give food producers and others in our part of Texas a chance to tell Washington exactly what they believe should be done to make our farm programs work better," Hightower said. "I will be taking the actual transcripts of everyone's testimony back to the full House Agriculture Committee, and it will become part of the record for the committee members to review as they develop the 1985 Farm Bill.

"It's very difficult if not impossible for most people to take time to go to Washington, so I thought I should try another approach," Hightower said. "It's essential that we start early this year to establish more effective, long-term solutions to the problems we now face in our farm communities, as well as future problems that we can see down the road. It's also essential that the policy makers in Washington hear directly from the people who know the most about the problem," Hightower said.

Individuals interested in testifying should provide a written copy of their testimony if possible. An official stenographer will also record testimony for eventual presentation to the House Agriculture Committee by Hightower. Those wishing to testify should contact the nearest Hightower District Office in: Amarillo - 806-376-2381 Vernon 817 - 553-4321 Wichita Falls 817-767-0541.

The number of people wishing to speak will be limited by the time available. Comments should be limited to no longer than ten minutes per person as much as possible.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT REPORT by Don Reeves

WEATHER AFFECTS DISEASE CAUSING ORGANISMS

Although weather is not directly responsible for plant diseases, it does influence disease-causing organisms and may increase or decrease certain diseases.

The fungi, bacteria, nematodes and viruses that cause plant diseases are influenced by weather conditions.

Knowing what conditions favor disease-causing organisms will make it easier to know when to expect plant diseases and how to control them.

By carefully watching for plant symptoms, it's possible to determine whether these microscopic organisms are present in the plant. However, early recognition is necessary to prevent serious disease attacks. Once a disease problem is progressed, little can be done to control it.

Some disease organisms cause more plant damage in cold soils than in warm ones. "Damping-off" is a particular problem in beans, peas, okra and cotton in cold soils. Waiting until the soil is approximately 70 degrees F. will help prevent this condition. Other organisms require hot conditions to grow and thrive. Charcoal rot and cotton root rot can completely kill healthy plants by damaging stems and root systems.

Becoming familiar with crop diseases and the conditions under which they occur will allow one to plan control strategies.

Weather is not the only factor necessary for disease to occur. The pathogen or disease-causing agent must be present along with a susceptible host plant. If any of these factors are altered, control is possible. Disease-resistant varieties are one way to combat disease problems.

Knowing crop diseases, conditions necessary for their growth, and preventive measures can lead to a successful crop yield without major losses.

To The People of Collingsworth County

We need to compare our town at this time and the way it was three years ago. If you will notice how much quieter and less breaking in, stealing and law breaking than has been in several years. We need a Sheriff that will stand up for the people and not turn his head when the law is being broken, no matter who they are. We had the other side for years and it is a very welcome change.

I am sure all the voters will want to keep it this way. We need Kenneth Maxwell as Sheriff of Collingsworth County.

Golf With The Swingers

BY MARY SANFORD

Hamburgers with all the trimmings were served to the Wellington Country Club Women's Golf Association Thursday night, April 12. Hostesses for this meeting and meal were Lyna Hurst, Mary Nell Holton, and Eugena Sherman.

These lucky women were aided by their husbands, who also did the dishes and cleaned the kitchen, while the women attended the business meeting.

I am sure that most of the other husbands are hoping that this act doesn't start a precedent. But it was appreciated by those present.

Some more appreciation goes to Chuck Wilbur, Larry Adams, Grant and Edna Wooldridge. Chuck and Larry made new doors for the kitchen cabinets that Bennie and Henry Sullivan had given and Grant and Edna remade the silverware drawer.

Now the kitchen is beginning to look like a kitchen instead of a stop-gap between the pro-shop and the club room.

President Bennie Sullivan announced that the next money-making project will be the formerly postponed Garage Sale. Friday and Saturday, June 1 and 2 will be the new dates.

Co-chairman for this project will be Lorene Jenkins and Lyna Hurst. Edna Wooldridge and I (Mary Sanford) will work with them.

Betty Cochran, tournament chairman, announced that the two immediate women's tournaments are the first Greenbelt Round Robin Scramble to be held in Childress April 25 (Wednesday) and the Wellington Country Club Women's Novice Scramble here Saturday, May 5.

Tee off time will be 10 a.m. but coffee and donuts, will be served at 9:30. Following the scramble there will be a covered dish salad luncheon, where the winning teams will be announced.

The entry fee will be $5 per person and mulligans will be sold.

The final piece of business at all meetings is the presentation of awards of previous Ladies' Day Play.

It is always fun to see what co-chairmen have chosen for each play day.

We usually keep our scores and putts on the 9 holes we play on Ladies' Day. Lyna and Eugena collect our score cards after each play, then later check them for whatever contest they have decided on for that day. So since we usually are playing in the dark, so to speak, it makes us try harder on each hole. But if it is an off day, and everything goes wrong, there is still a change to win sometimes, as that might be the day they choose high score or most putts for winning.

I think that is why we keep playing this game. We are encouraged by our fellow players whether we play good or bad.

The winners this month are:

March 4: poker hand day: Billie Holton won for most of one number; Betty Cochran and Vickie Parker tied for 2nd. With these 3 winners, I assume the numbers were less than 8s.

March 21: over-under day on hole No. 5, Edi Williams won the under with a birdie and Katie Davis and Eugena tied for most overs.

April 11: high-low-slit day: Bille was low, and Virginia Williams was high.

My readers are often saying that I put myself down in these articles. Okay people, I finally have something good to say even though I still don't believe it.

On March 21, and again on April 4, I won the chipping pot. Besides that, on April 4, I had 12 putts on 9 holes. How about that? My little old putter was really swinging for me that day.

I used a youth size short putter because if I used the regular length it would hit me in the eye every time I leaned over it. So hooray! hooray! I finally did something worth bragging about.

The next regular business meeting will be May 10 with Jackie Wilkerson, Vickie Parker and Melanie Jeffrey as hostesses. Don't forget to come.

Observing Easter

"Jesus said, I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." John 11:25.

Easter, the day on which we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord, should find us worshipping Him in His Church. He is alive! His presence fills the sanctuary! All things are made new. It is the time of beginning again. Attend church and join your neighbors in singing praises to God for His Glory and Power and Love; and some of this Resurrection Joy and Power will come to you.

ACS Program Recruits 8

Eight new volunteers have been recruited to serve in the Road to Recovery Program of the American Cancer Society's Collingsworth Unit, according to Morie Smith, program co-chairman.

Among those who were recruited to drive cancer patients to and from treatments are:

Bettie Byrd, Rt. 1, 447-5659

Mrs. Rodney Myrick, Rt. 6, Box 19, 447-5640.

Lonetta Ingram, 812 East Ave., 447-2293.

Morie Smith, chairman, Rt. 1, 447-5838.

Treva Stallings, co-chairman, P.O. Box 304, 447-2625.

Mrs. Don Jones, P.O. Box 172, 447-2284.

Pauline Masten, Rt. 1, 447-2318.

Dollie Mae Wilson, 1808 Ellison, 447-2871.

The new volunteers attended an orientation program at Wellington State Bank in Wellington. They learned about the American Cancer Society's cancer control program, what chemotherapy and radiation therapy involve, and some common patient concerns during the treatment process. In addition, they had the opportunity to speak to some veteran Road to Recovery volunteers.

"We can always use more transportation volunteers," said Mrs. Smith. "Anyone who would like to join us should call me at 447-5838 or Treva Stallings at 447-2625."

1984-85 Hunting Seasons Changed

A standard statewide quail season was one of the major changes among the 1984-85 hunting seasons adopted by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission recently.

The Nov. 3, 1984-through Feb. 24, 1985 quail hunting season is the first in the state's modern history without exceptions for various counties or regions.

The Commission also set the white-tailed deer hunting season for Nov. 17, 1984 through Jan. 6, 1985 in most counties. Exceptions include certain counties in the Panhandle which will have a season of Nov. 17-Dec. 2. These will be announced.

The 9-day mule-deer season in the Panhandle will be Nov. 17-25.

The Commission made no changes in the pheasant season but increased the daily bag limit in Panhandle counties from two cock pheasants per day to three. The Panhandle season will be Dec. 8-23.

The requirement that the head and both feet of pheasants be retained on the carcass until reaching their final destination was modified; retention of only one foot will be required in 1984-85.

The squirrel season was closed in certain western Panhandle counties and in Eastern Panhandle counties which had a 6-month split squirrel season, there will be no closed season, no bag limit.

PUBLIC NOTICE

CUSTOMER NOTIFICATION
HIGH NITRATE

Dear Dodson Water Customer:

The City of Dodson, Texas has been notified by the Texas Department of Health that the water being supplied by our system exceeds the maximum constituent level for Nitrate specified by the Department's "Drinking Water Standards" which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act"; Public Law 93-523 (U.S.).

The limit is set at 10 milligrams of Nitrate (as nitrogen) per liter of water. The amount of Nitrate (as nitrogen) in the water we supply was reported to be 14.0 mg/l milligrams per liter.

Adults and children over the age of 6 months need not be concerned about drinking water from the tap. An excess Nitrate intake by an infant under the age of 6 months may reduce its available oxygen supply and possibly produce "blue baby" symptoms. Parents are advised to find other sources of drinking water, such as bottled water, for their infants under 6 months of age. All doctors and hospitals in the area have been notified of this situation.

PLEASE BE ADVISED THAT BOILING YOUR WATER WILL NOT REMOVE NITRATE. EXCESSIVE BOILING WILL ACTUALLY INCREASE ITS CONCENTRATION.

The City of Dodson, Texas has applied to the Texas Department of Health for an exemption from the Nitrate requirement while we search for alternate sources of supply and investigate available treatment techniques which would lower the Nitrate to an acceptable level. In the meantime, please follow the precautions mentioned.

Caring for Elderly Can Be Stressful

Caring for elderly parents and other relatives may be the next big family issue to confront our society, says aging specialist Dr. Judith Warren.

The elderly most affected by illness -- those 75 and over -- have grown by nearly 40% in the last ten years, says Warren, a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Many of the family caregivers are middle-aged women, who may still have teenage children at home, or "young-old" women about ready to retire.

For all family caregivers, adult day care and adult sitter programs in a community can make it possible to keep a loved one at home longer than would be possible without help, she maintains.

Wyatt to Address Greenbelt Coop

Dr. Kenneth Wyatt, noted artist, author, and speaker will address Greenbelt Electric Cooperative's Annual Membership Meeting Friday, April 27 at 2 p.m. at the Bura Handley Community Center in Wellington, Texas. Registration begins at 1:30 p.m.

Five grand prizes of $100 energy credits to be applied to a member's electric bill head a long list of door prizes that includes a free gift for each member who registers at the meeting. Wyatt, first president of the Texas Cowboy Artist Association and winner of many cultural and civic awards, began his distinguished career as a minister. His current calling is an "artist, speaker and author, primarily a western artist working in oils, watercolor, pencil, pastel, charcoal and sculpture." But it is difficult to decide if he is most respected for his artistic gift or his "gift of gab."

He received high honors at numerous Texas Cowboy Artists annual shows; he has been an after-dinner speaker for the Knife and Fork Clubs. He held nine Methodist pastorates in Texas between 1944 and 1967, the first at only 14 years of age. His work in art has produced prints, Christmas cards, greeting cards, note cards, limited edition prints and bronze sculptures, in addition to originals. Jim Morriss, general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, will serve as master of ceremonies at the meeting.

All members are urged to attend. No reservations are needed, and the press is cordially invited. For more information, contact David Pruitt, Greenbelt Electric manager, at 447-2536.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Janes

TEXTILE TRENDS
AFFECT LAUNDERING
Economic conditions during the last few years have caused some consumers to buy lower priced, and sometimes lower quality textiles. There are many good quality textiles on the market at a good value. But when consumers buy clothes of poor quality or textiles they don't know how to care for, the result may be an increase in laundering problems.

The dramatic increase in imported garments is a case in point.

Some are of lower quality, construction and finishing than American-made garments. Dyes may be somewhat unstable, leading to problems with dye-bleeding during laundering.

Many people are also buying reverse blends in shirts without realizing they may require more care. Although the leading shirt fabric for men continues to be a 65% polyester/35% cotton blend, there is an increased demand for reverse blends of 35% polyester/65% cotton. Yet for a wrinkle-free look reverse blends require touch-up ironing, even when the appropriate washer and dryer cycles have been used.

Several new polypropylene fabrics are being used for garments such as thermal underwear, active sportswear, knit fleeces and women's lingerie. These fabrics must be air dried because of their sensitivity to dryer heat.

With the sharp increase in the use of silk in women's dresses, blouses, men's shirts and summer jackets, consumers are questioning how to care for the garments. Some silks are washable and others are labeled "dry clean only". Washable silks should be treated gently, with a short wash, milk detergent and minimal agitation to avoid fiber damage. For wrinkle-free silks, press while damp.

County Man Responsible for Company Combinations

A combination of two energy companies is watched with interest in Collingsworth County, but not for the usual reasons.

Parallel Petroleum Corp., with headquarters in Midland and Cambridge and Nail, of Amarillo have announced that they have signed a letter of intent for the combination in a new corporation of Parallel and certain producing oil and gas properties owned by 6 limited partnerships managed by Cambridge and Nail.

The transaction was put together by Larry Oldham, who was raised at Samnorwood, and who is currently vice-president of finance and in charge of acquisitions for Parallel.

Oldham, the son of Mrs. Lenora Oldham, was also the founder of Parallel.

Frank Delay, president of Parallel, stated that the transaction would involve the issuance of shares of common stock of the new corporation to the limited partnerships in a tax-free exchange and a simultaneous reorganization of Parallel into the new corporation.

Properties acquired from Cambridge and Nail are located in Wheeler, Hemphill and Roberts counties. They represent undivided working interest in 30 gas wells and 5 oil wells.

Gas and oil reserves attributable to the producing properties of the 6 limited partnerships managed by Cambridge and Nail were estimated to be 2,260,266 Mcf of gas and 27,653 barrels of oil as of March 31, 1984, as estimated by independent petroleum engineers.

On a combined basis, reserves would be 304,492 barrels of oil and 2,554,855 Mcf of gas.

Delay and A.L. Nail of Cambridge and Nail stated that based on independent engineering reports, the newly created corporation would have a estimated future net revenues of approximately $14.3 million on an escalated basis, which when discounted at 10% would be approximately $8.4 million.

They further stated that on an unescalated basis, the estimated future net revenue would approximately $11.2 million which when discounted at 10% would be approximately $7 million and that the newly created corporation would have substantially increased cash flow, positive working capital, no increase in staff or overhead costs and would continue to be free of bank debt.

The stockholders of Parallel would own 55% of the outstanding shares of common stock of the newly created corporation and Cambridge and Nail partnerships would own 45% of the total number of common shares outstanding.

Approval of Parallel's stockholders and of the Cambridge and Nail partnerships will be required. The transaction is subject to the filing of a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission and various state regulatory bodies, receipt of necessary government approvals and execution of a definitive agreement.

Parallel Corp. is engaged in exploration for, and development and production of oil and gas in Texas and New Mexico.

The company has 4,834,754 shares of common stock outstanding which is

Teacher Career Meeting Called

AMARILLO - State Senator Bill Sarpalius of Amarillo has called for a meeting of Panhandle teachers and administrators for April 19 in Amarillo to discuss a controversial proposal to institute a career ladder for public school teachers.

Sarpalius said the meeting will be at 6 p.m. at the Caprock High School Auditorium at 3001 East 34th in Amarillo.

During the two hour meeting, the consultants responsible for developing the career ladder will present their findings. Included on the agenda will be a discussion of other educational proposals of the Select Committee on Public Education headed by H.

Ross Perot.

"The Select Committee is nearing completion of its report to the Legislature concerning proposed improvements to public education. While many of the recommendations may become the law in Texas, I have strong reservations to several of the proposals."

"The career ladder-based compensation program for teachers is one of the most important recommendations. I need the views of the educational community before I can make a decision on what it will mean to teachers in the Panhandle. This is the best opportunity educational interests in the Panhandle will have to be fully informed on the subject and to express their views," Sarpalius said.
