UNITED FUND COLLECTIONS REACH TOTAL OF $8,258

As of the end of last week Aransas County's United Fund campaign, which has been underway since Oct. 1, reached a total of $8,258 in pledges and cash toward a goal of $11,500.

Contributions continue to arrive daily at Chamber of Commerce headquarters but more dollars from more people are needed to reach the goal, according to Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., campaign chairman. He urges winter visitors to participate in this community effort to help pay operating expenses of 11 charity, welfare and youth oriented organizations.

"Many of our winter visitors consider this area their second home and have made a practice of giving to the United Fund in past years," he said. "We hope that many more of our parttime citizens will join them in this important project," he added.

Contributions may be mailed or taken to the Chamber of Commerce office. One of the organizations receiving a minimum amount of support from the local United Fund is the United Services Organization which represents the coordinated effort of six member agencies which include YMCA, YWCA, National Jewish Welfare Board, National Catholic Community Service, Travelers Aid-International, Social Service of America and Salvation Army.

In Germany there are three USO facilities and a fourth will be opened soon to serve some 200,000 U.S. troops stationed in that country. In the past 18 months USO has received requests to open 20 additional centers overseas.

Aside from overseas centers, USO operates 85 permanent facilities in the states, and USO shows continue to circle the globe to entertain at remote outposts and at veterans and military hospitals.

THANKSGIVING CLOSINGS

In observance of Thanksgiving Day, most local business establishments, both banks and other financial institutions, and governmental buildings will be closed.

Aransas County Courthouse and City Hall will be closed on both Thursday and Friday, and there will be no city garbage pickups on Thursday but there will be on Friday.

The Post Offices at Rockport and Fulton also will be closed on Thursday.

The Rockport Pilot, which also will be closed, wishes everyone a joyous Thanksgiving.

Farm Bureau, Cattlemen in New Project

San Pat-Aransas County Farm Bureau & Independent Cattlemen Assoc. of Aransas County have joined an all-out, statewide effort to increase consumption of meat, poultry and dairy products during the holiday season, according to Bill Janacek of ICA, chairman.

The organization will promote the giving of certificates for these products as holiday gifts, he said. "We think this is a positive approach in assisting those commodities which are in serious trouble," he explained.

The local ICA leader said there are two ways this can be done conveniently:

(1) Through giving gift certificates (redeemable in those commodities) at grocery stores. "We are providing gift certificates to stores which do not have their own, along with colorful gift envelopes," he said.

(2) Through giving a check or money order. Farm Bureau will provide an attractive message card (explaining the gift idea) along with a nice gift envelope. The Chamber of Commerce office has a supply of both items, free of charge.

The Texas Farm Bureau & ICA is helping to coordinate the effort on a statewide basis along with many other agricultural groups. The Texas Department of Agriculture has committed its TAP (Texas Agricultural Products) program to the promotion. The Texas Retail Grocers Association and large food chains are also participating.

State Farm Bureaus in several other states are carrying on similar promotions, Janacek said. "This can truly be an effective campaign if we all work at it," he declared.

Mrs. A. C. Hamon, librarian, displaying "The Bird Life of Texas," a gift to the Aransas County Public Library from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Love.

Library Gets Bird Books

The Aransas County Public Library has acquired one of the most comprehensive literary works dealing with bird life that has ever been published, according to Mrs. A. C. Hamon, Librarian.

The two-volume set of "The Bird Life of Texas" by Harry C. Oberholser, which was recently presented to the library, is being acclaimed by critics as one of the outstanding literary efforts of the century.

Dr. Oberholser began this monumental work almost 75 years ago. His first field trip was to the Big Bend in 1901. He was accompanied on this trip by the celebrated wildlife artist Louis Agassiz Fuertes (1874-1927) whose paintings and drawings are used to illustrate the book.

The author used his own recorded observations which he continued to make until his death in 1963, but he didn't depend on these alone. He used everything he could find dating back 400 years to the notes of Alvar Nunez Cabaza de Vaca who recorded quail in what is now Val Verde County during his 1535 jaunt through the area.

Also used were the notes of Stephen H. Lang's expedition in 1820, Audubon's bird count in 1837, ornithological data from railroad surveys, and detailed lists made by individual collectors.

He didn't neglect the Rockport area, either. Dr. Oberholser obtained much valuable information when he visited and conferred with the late Connie Hager, our own Bird Lady of Rockport.

At the time of his death on Christmas Day in 1963, Dr. Oberholser was condensing his work from the original three million words to about one million. He was being assisted by Edgar B. Kincaid, Jr., who is recognized as the most knowledgeable contemporary students of Texas bird life.

Kincaid edited and updated the material to February 1973. The illustrations that Kincaid selected for use in the book include 36 in color and 36 in black and white by Fuertes, many of which were made on the 1901 trip to the Big Bend.

The Bird Life of Texas is no dull documentary. It comes to life for the reader in the discussions of the ecology of the birds as they reveal so much about the early history of our state.

City Votes to Increase Rates For Collection of All Garbage

With the cost of everything going up almost every day, you can now add another.

Jan. 1, 1975 and which will raise the rates for garbage pickup service throughout the city.

Complete details on the rate hikes will be published in the

Thanksgiving Service Set

The Aransas County Ministers' Association will sponsor the traditional community Thanksgiving service November 27, 7:30 p.m., to be held this year at the First Presbyterian Church, 514 North Live Oak.

The service will begin with an old-fashioned song fest and continue with special music by the Junior High School Choir. The Reverend Josef Barton will preach the sermon.

Following the service, refreshments will be served in the Fellowship Hall, courtesy of the local H.E.B. Store.

The Aransas County Ministers' Association, open to all area clergy, exists to help strengthen Christian awareness in our community. Financial support for the organization comes exclusively from the offering received during the annual Thanksgiving service.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Two Auto Crashes Occur

Trooper Bill Hill of Texas Department of Public Safety reports two auto accidents.

The first happened Nov. 20, 2.1 miles north of Rockport on Highway 35 involving cars driven by Marjorie Raines of Rockport and George A. Bergman III of Center, Texas. No one was injured and only minor damage resulted to the cars.

The second accident happened 1.7 miles west of the city on FM 881 on Nov. 20. Cars involved were driven by Jane Browning and Millie Mack of Rockport. No one was injured and there was no damage to the Mack vehicle and only minor damage to the Browning car, according to Trooper Hill.

Future Phones Are Described

A look into the future of telephone communication was provided by Roy Wickerham, Southwestern Bell's science demonstrator out of San Antonio, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Nov. 20 at Ramada Inn. He was introduced by Ron Maples, the company's district manager in Corpus Christi.

Wickerham demonstrated some of the studies now being conducted at Bell Laboratories on human memory and how it relates to work being performed on designing computerized memory systems for application to telephone switching equipment. Members of the audience participated in several memory testing demonstrations.

He said 93 per cent of homes in the United States have telephone service, the highest percentage of any country in the world. Most long distance calls in this country travel by microwave, although some cable transmission continues in use.

Wickerham said as many as 17,000 messages can be transmitted simultaneously by microwave, but even this will prove inadequate to handle the growing volume. Also, insufficient channels are available for the increased volume.

A newer system designated millimeter wave guide is being introduced right now, with widespread use planned for the immediate future. It involves use of a pipe-like device about two inches in diameter with a lining of tightly wound copper wire.

This device is buried underground and is capable of handling half a million simultaneous telephone calls. The system has been under development since 1931, Wickerham said.

Electronic switching systems now being developed, coupled with computer memory devices, will make telephoning faster, easier and more accurate, he asserted. With the new devices it will be possible to call commonly used numbers by dialing only two digits instead of the present seven.

Pilot early next month when a copy of the ordinance is published in the paper in accordance with law.

At the same meeting, Franklin Kelly of Sinton, whose workers haul the garbage from the local dump grounds to a sanitary landfill near Sinton, said he wants the city to guarantee to pay him $1,505 a month for this service.

He said this is the amount the city estimated he would receive when he entered into a contract with the city 9 1/2 months ago. He said that during this period he has been receiving only about $1,200 a month.

The Council informed him that to consider such a request would require that Kelly write a letter to the City of Rockport making such a request. He said he would do so immediately.

In another matter, James Frazier of Porter & Frazier, Certified Public Accountants, of Aransas Pass, presented the annual audit report of the City of Rockport.

Among the highlights were the following:

Revenues for year ended Sept. 30, 1974: estimated revenue, $228,017; actual revenue, $257,351.16; revenues exceeded estimate by $29,334.16.

Expenditures: appropriations, $208,437; expenditures, $238,151.13; expenditures exceeded appropriations by $29,714.13.

Assessed value, based on 1973 tax roll, was listed at $8,031,900.

On another subject, Percy Kennedy, head of the store planning division of H.E.B. Food Stores, appeared before the Council. He admitted that H.E.B. built a concrete slab on the west side of the store some time ago for an unloading ramp, that they did not know it was 5 1/2 feet over the city right-of-way, and that "someone failed to seek a building permit from the city."

He said H.E.B. was "very sorry for the mistake, that we paid a fine of $150 for this error on our part, and now we would like to ask that the city lease that small portion of land to us so we can continue to use it to unload our trucks."

The Council voted to table any action until the city staff and H.E.B. could negotiate a proper lease that would be acceptable to both the city and H.E.B.

In other matters, the Council:

--Appointed Mrs. "Pepper" Everett to succeed Port Little as a member of the Board of Adjustment. Little moved to Leakey, Texas.

--Agreed to hire a new employee for the utility department for a six-months training program under a grant from the Coastal Bend Work Experience Program. The salary will be paid by the federal government.

--Accepted the bid (the only one submitted) from Bruce Mayes to paint the exterior of City Hall for $300.

--Received a request from Chief of Police James Craigmile to replace "Yield" sign with "Stop" sign at Broadway and Liberty Streets. Craigmile said 14 auto crashes have occurred at this intersection in the past two years. Council agreed to ask the State Department of Public Safety to survey the situation, and then put up "Stop" sign if state says O.K.

Local Tennis Tournney Set

The Racquet Club's first annual fall tournament has been set for Dec. 7 and 8 on the local club's eight tennis courts.

Key Allegro Tennis Club members have been invited to participate also.

The tournament will include seven divisions, and trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in all divisions. The trophies will be presented at a dinner for players, members of their families and friends at the club restaurant Sunday night following completion of final matches.

Also, refreshments will be served at courtside Saturday night. This event will be "on the house."

In both men's and women's singles there will be two groupings, one for the more skilled players and the other for the less skilled. Other events will be men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles.

Entry fees will be $3.50 per player in the singles and $2.50 per player in the doubles events. The fees will be used to buy trophies and balls and to pay other tournament expenses.

Tournament entries will be made with John Gutzke, club professional, in person or by telephone at the pro shop, telephone 729-0880. Deadline for entries is Thursday, Dec. 5, but prospective players have been urged to enter as early as possible to aid scheduling.

Schedule of matches will be set up by the tournament committee which also will arrange pairings for doubles.

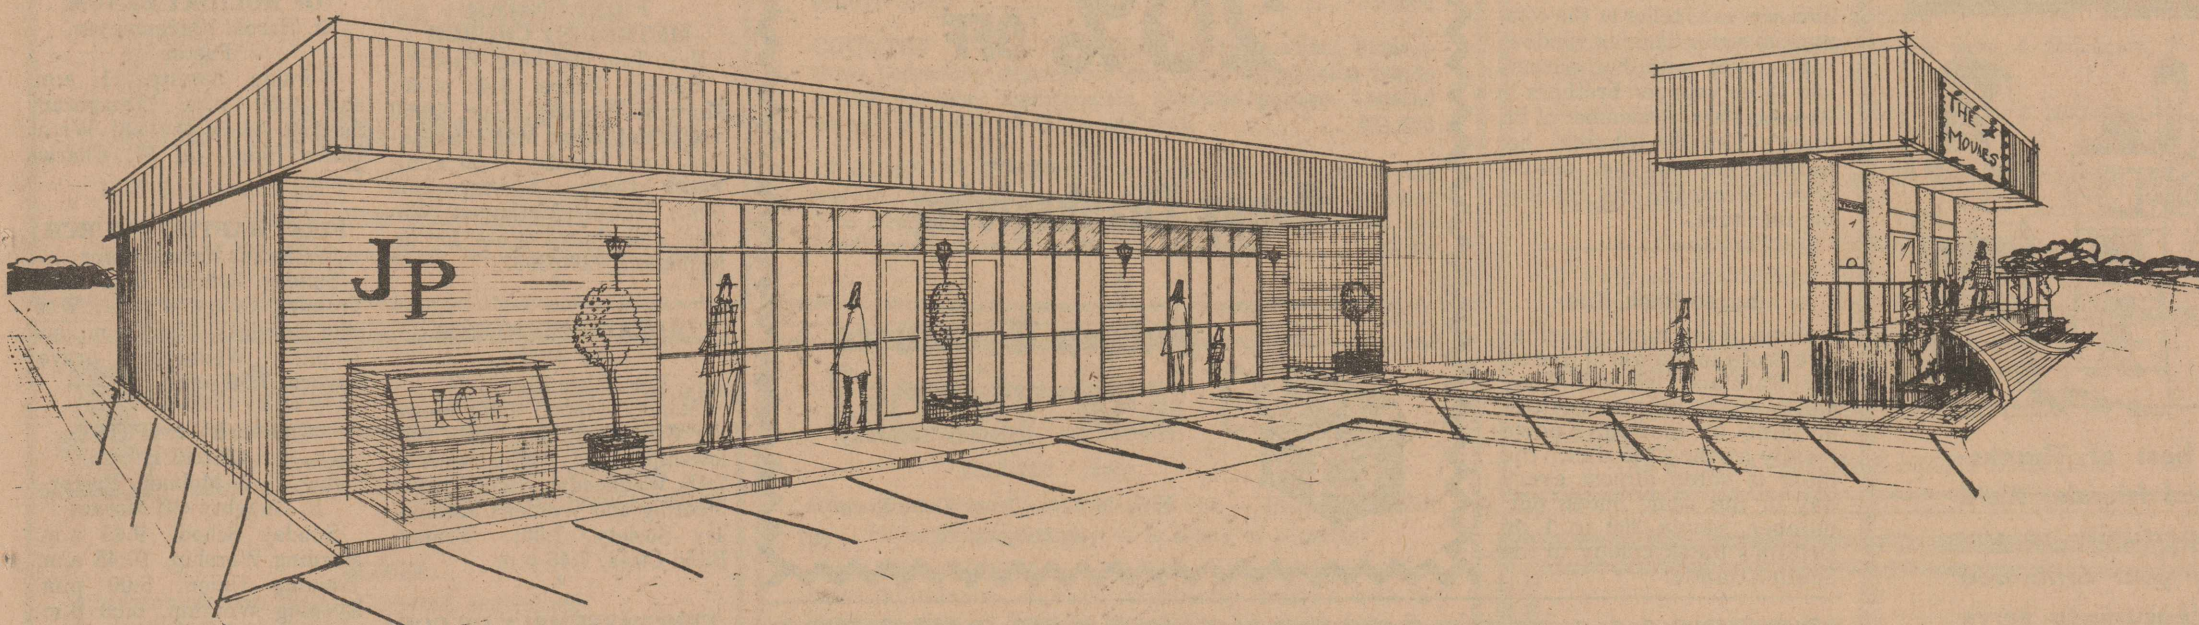

Most of the matches will be played during daylight hours Saturday and Sunday, but depending on the number of entries, some of the matches may be played on the lighted courts Saturday night.

Spencer Hosts C.O.G. Meet

Four federal grant applications submitted by the Nueces County MH-MR Community Center for review and comment were tabled by the Coastal Bend Council of Governments at Ramada Inn Nov. 22, though some members felt the action was meaningless.

COG representatives, meeting at Ramada Inn at a luncheon for which Emory M. Spencer of Rockport and Mayor Price K. Johnson of Refugio were hosts, also adopted an operating budget of $612,716 for next year and approved an area plan for programs on aging only after considerable comment.

Johnson questioned consideration of MH-MR applications for federal funds totaling $95,910 to help finance projects budgeted for $130,890 after it was reported the applications already were rejected at the state level.

It was reported too that the MH-MR center was in the process of appealing the state denial.

"How could these applications be denied if they haven't been before us?" asked Johnson. "Why are we wasting our time if the applications have already been to the state?"

Johnson said he thought the purpose of COG review and comment was to maintain some local control over local projects.

"Are we just a rubber stamp?" he asked.

Corpus Christi City Manager Marvin Townsend also raised a point of inquiry about the MH-MR applications. "Why do these even have to come before us -- is there any regional significance in the projects?" he asked.

The applications were tabled on a motion made by Phil Dudley of Corpus Christi. He proposed that the applications be set aside until an audit of center operations is complete, if such an action wouldn't affect state funding.

After Dudley's reference to state financing of the projects, it was reported that the question was moot since the state already had acted.

The operating budget approved by COG members is 20 per cent higher than the 1974 budget. A so-called pass-through budget approved in the amount of $681,633, was said to be 49 per cent higher than the sum budgeted for this year.

The council approved an area plan and a grant application for $203,488 for programs on aging, with some reservations.

Townsend was successful in getting the original motion amended to include a COG request that the executive director and the governor's committee on aging take all steps necessary to increase the funds allotted for program delivery.

Townsend's concern was that more than half the funds involved in the project were allotted to program planning and program advocacy. A greater amount of the money should be allotted to delivering the program, he maintained.

Rockport Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr. objected to the "continual reference to poverty" in the area plan for the program on aging. Falk and Johnson also questioned the accuracy of percentages of persons over 60 in their respective cities.

Falk's first objection was that transportation services are needed by older persons who are not necessarily poverty stricken.

"I don't know why you have to be broke to get facilities," Falk said.

The council authorized executive director Robert R. Weaver to execute a contract with Ernst & Ernst to conduct an audit of COG's 1974 fiscal activities. The $4,500 contract will not cover expenditure of funds by delegate agencies but Weaver was asked to inquire into the spending of these funds by the agencies and report back to the membership.

"We're asked to allocate sums to these agencies annually and we're curious to know if the money is actually spent for the projects we have approved," Falk remarked.

An international flavor was added to the local tennis scene last week when Bob Vuilleret, owner and teaching professional of Club Saint Tropez at Toulon on the French Riviera, played several sets of tennis with members of two local tennis clubs. Monsieur and Madame Vuilleret were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martyn at Palm Harbor.

Lamb Hash, Too

Some of the most imaginative cooks in the world live on the Falkland Islands. They can prepare infinite varieties of lamb or mutton. Known locally as the "365 diet," the meat is eaten almost every day of the year. Sheep outnumber people 300 to 1 on Britain's bleak colony in the South Atlantic.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by L. D. NUCKLES

The desert bighorn sheep is a native to Texas, but, especially since white men came on the scene, he has had a hard row to hoe. There were never very many bighorns in the state because of the limited area where suitable habitat exists - only in the mountains west of the Pecos river. With the coming of the white man his troubles increased. Hunting took its toll, especially in the late 1800's when many of the sheep were killed to feed the people who worked the mines in that inhospitable area.

The real problems came, however, with the flocks of domesticated sheep and goats. These domesticated animals competed with the bighorns for the scanty food supply, and, what was even worse, brought diseases which further decimated their numbers (scabies and bluetongue). By 1902 their numbers were so low that they were considered highly endangered, and in 1903 the season was closed to try to protect the few that remained. In 1945 the total population of bighorns in Texas was estimated to be less than 100 animals. The last evidence of native bighorns in the state, a skull, was found north of Van Horn in 1956.

In 1954 a program was started by the Parks and Wildlife Department (then the Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission) to try to restore the bighorn to the state as a game animal. A 40-acre enclosure was built with a one-acre catch pen on the Black Gap Game Management Area and an additional 427 acres was fenced to provide enough range for the sheep to live in at least a semi-wild state. Six bighorns, three rams and three ewes, were trapped in Arizona and moved by air to this enclosure. Supplemental feed and watering places were provided.

During the period 1960-1971 a total of 86 lambs were born and 23 sheep were known to have died from a variety of causes. This left 69 sheep in the Black Gap enclosure and grazing pressure was very high. To relieve this pressure 20 sheep were released in 1971 into the relatively unprotected, unfenced expanse of the management area. Since that time some lambs are known to have been born to the "free" sheep. In the summer of 1973 seven sheep were released in the high, rugged country of the Sierra Diablo Wildlife Management Area in Hudspeth County.

I don't really think we will ever have a huntable population of bighorns in Texas - but we may have a few wild animals that can be seen by our descendants, if they're interested enough to pack in to those remote areas where the sheep can survive.

Insurance Men Attend Seminar

Corpus Christi Independent Agents Association held a seminar on the proposed Texas Multi-Peril Policy Thursday, November 21, at the Sheraton Marina.

Leading the seminar were two underwriters from the Hartford Insurance Group and the St. Paul Companies, who are travelling throughout Texas on behalf of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents briefing agents on the Texas Multi-Peril Policy (TMP for short).

The TMP is a comprehensive business policy giving a broad coverage of perils. Within one individual policy, businessman will be able to obtain four areas of coverage: Property, Liability, Crime, and Boiler and Machinery. However, the policy cannot be written without mandatory Property and Liability coverages.

As the buyer and the producer of insurance become more familiar with the TMP, they will both realize the simplification in dealing with the insurance market on a multi-peril coverage basis versus a monoline coverage basis.

The TMP's greatest advantages to the insurance buyer (the businessman) will be its package price and an insight to an organized scope of insurance needs.

It is believed currently that the new policy will be approved by the State Board of Insurance by the first of 1975, with the following businesses becoming eligible at ninety-day intervals in the following order: January 1 - Motel-Hotel and Office; Institutional; Apartment House; Mercantile; and Processing or Servicing and Industrial.

Although the TMP will not help all businessmen, it may revolutionize the writing of business insurance in the state of Texas.

Independent insurance agents of Rockport attended.

Homemakers Meet Dec. 3

On December 3 the Aransas County Young Homemakers will hold their monthly meeting at the High School Homemaking Department. Visitors are welcome to attend and collect Christmas food, decoration and gift ideas.

A brief business meeting is scheduled at 7:00 p.m. with the program directly afterward. Club president Carol Winkler will illustrate cake decorating with a Christmas flavor.

Each member will be given the opportunity to decorate cup cakes which will be provided by Glenda Blankenship. Mrs. Winkler will also provide the members with her recipe for petit fours and icing.

Jane Browning will display her flour dough decorations which she made and hand painted herself. Everyone can look forward to learning how they can do this at home.

Marilyn Bennett will present some Christmas gift ideas that can be made, primarily shadow or memory boxes. These are fun and easy to make for friends and relatives who enjoy gifts with a personal touch.

Members are welcome to invite guests to join them.

HONORED — Miss Alicia Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory M. Spencer, has been selected by Las Donas de la Corte to represent Rockport as a Duchess in the Buccaneer Coronation Pageant, "Court of Ageless Wisdom," the evening of May 1, 1975 at Memorial Coliseum in Corpus Christi. Miss Spencer will share honors at the Coronation and other social activities with all members of the Court.

The Buccaneer Coronation Pageant, presented for the first time in 1954, is Corpus Christi's largest and most spectacular social event. The entire program is sponsored and executed by the members of Las Donas de la Corte.

The traditional Buccaneer Days celebration, a colorful event, has become a Texas institution. It begins with the landing of pirates, in the Jean Lafitte manner, who capture and take over the city for a week of Frivolity. The celebration's theme is rooted in the salty legends of the sea, particularly as they pertain to the swashbuckling Buccaneers who infested the Gulf Coast a Century ago. Jean Lafitte is the celebration's "patron saint" and, before he made his peace with the federal government, he is thought to have used the numerous inlets and lagoons along this section of the Coast as a hideaway after his depredations on vessels plying the Gulf.

Skylabs

The successful 59½-day flight of the three astronauts manning Skylab II indicates man is able to live in space for long periods without suffering ill effects.

The Skylab III mission is currently being planned; there is talk of a 70-day attempt. In the future space-men will likely be able to spend months aloft, and in greater comfort than today's small vehicles allow.

The once-feared unknowns and dangers of a few years ago involving survival in space have thus largely and finally been removed by Skylab II, which is significant and gratifying for all mankind.

The Veteran of Foreign Wars was founded 75 years ago.

Nursing Home Folks Have Fun

Local individuals and organizations have been active in supplying entertainment for residents at Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center, Inc.

Recently at the Center activities got off to a most happy and entertaining start. Tuesday evening they had a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Viola Sanders, one of the residents, given by her two daughters, Mrs. Buelah Rhodes and Mrs. Dorothy Sorenson from the Houston area.

Also present were Mrs. Rhodes' husband, Chester, and Mrs. Leon Sanders, Jr., a son of Mrs. Sanders from Aztec, New Mexico. Cake and punch were served to all the residents and a host of friends.

The entertainment for the evening was furnished by a country western group from Rockport. Vernon Kleypas, Pee Wee Parr, Bill Cooper, and Howard Black compose the group.

Then Mrs. Hope Rangel brought her Spanish dancers who are always enjoyed by the residents at any time. The guest of honor received quite an array of gifts from her relatives and friends, including an orchid corsage from a granddaughter and a phone call from her youngest daughter.

Thursday morning the Pentecostal ladies were out to bring their program of song and meditation. Also Thursday and Friday the ladies spent time getting their hair fixed in order to look pretty for church, week-end passes, and friends and relatives who come to the Center to visit.

Saturday is usually a leisure day and Sunday begins with a non-denominational church service for all who wish to attend. Sunday afternoon, the First Assembly of God Church group led by Mrs. Bonnie Hall came out and had a nice program in sermon and song which is always enjoyed.

Thanksgiving is almost here and Christmas is just around the corner and if there is anyone who would like to donate just one strand of garland, a decoration, homemade or bought or just any kind of decorations they would accept and appreciate it very much.

A very special thanks goes to the Presbyterian Church ladies of Rockport for their nice box of jewelry delivered by Mrs. John Leslie.

Rockport area residents at the Center include Vada Durwood, Herietta Alsheimer, Lela Crawford, Wanda Crawford, Madeline Robbin, Ethel Cross,

Lamar Woman's Club Meets

The Lamar Woman's Club held their Nov. 20 meeting in the Emerald Room at the Sea Gun Restaurant. Hostesses were Mrs. James Boyd, Mrs. Robert Koch and Mrs. W.J. Stricklin.

The tables were beautifully decorated in the fall colors and Thanksgiving theme. Mrs. Harold Pugh assisted.

Guests were Mrs. Pat Pike and Joe Hugenberg, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who gave a talk.

Members present were Mesdames G.D. James, Bill Poole, Otis Stubbs, Allan DuBose, C.G. Cook, G.B. Williams, H.D. Baxter, James Boyd, F.M. Brown, Lory Clark, George Dunn, Troy Garner, W.T. Stricklin, J.B. Greeson, Edward Hall, Robert Koch, G.D. Lingo, M.O. Maxwell, M.H. McKinsey, Ernest Nesloney, Harold Pugh, Bob Woody, James Anderson, Loraine Farnham and Mrs. Harold Farnham.

Thursday, November 28, 1974

This being the Thanksgiving season, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the good Lord for:

A wonderful wife, two fine children, their mates and four grandchildren.
Enjoying good health, particularly in view of the fact that I underwent surgery in July.
For the blessings, guidance and forgiveness that the Lord has shown me throughout my life.
For the fact that our closest relatives (who are friends as well as relatives) selected Rockport for their home, giving us the opportunity to be with them often.

For the fact that my mother and father (now deceased but who lived long, useful happy lives) were such wonderful parents.
For the fact that we wound up living in Rockport after spending most of our lives up north in cold weather and big cities where you constantly rushed to go to work or go anywhere.
For the fact that we have developed close friendships with some mighty nice people in this area.

For a low pressure job which I thoroughly enjoy. For membership in a church which has a good minister, a friendly congregation, and a house of worship which offers inspiration to all who attend.

For a modest amount of financial security which (unless everything falls apart economically) should keep us solvent and enable us to live out the remainder of our lives enjoying each day.
It's great to be alive and living in Rockport and I thank the good Lord for making it possible.

Odd Animals
African bush babies are curious, monkeylike animals that cry like infants, swivel their heads, wiggle their ears and walk straight up trees on suction cups.

Distributive Education Here

Distributive Education has been added to the curriculum at Rockport-Fulton High School this year.

Distributive Education, or DE, as it is commonly called, is a vocational training program designed to attract people to and train them for occupations in sales, merchandising, marketing and distribution of goods and services to consumers.

There are three kinds of DE programs: pre-employment, where classroom instruction and lab work only is given; cooperative, in which the student has classroom lab and individual study in his or her field, and actual work on the job. The third kind is a combination of the other two, and quite naturally is called a combination program. RFHS has a combination program.

Students receive training in the basics of selling, additional training in basic business math, personal hygiene, and spelling. Pre-employment is open to sophomores and juniors who are sixteen or over.

Cooperative students are juniors and seniors sixteen or over. Besides their classroom study, they receive supervision from their training sponsor. Some examples of training stations are grocery stores, small retail businesses, department stores, filling stations, banks savings & loan associations, restaurants, drug stores, etc.

Sixteen students are presently enrolled in pre-employment and thirty-three in cooperative. Businesses taking part and aiding in the program are Butane Hardware, Corky's Restaurant, Dairy Queen, Goose Island State Park (Service), Green's Drive In Grocery, HEB Foods, Key Allegro Motel, Kleins' Bait Stand

Former Local Youths Star At Laredo

Laredo Junior College set a single game team scoring record over the weekend during two basketball wins at Alvin.

The Palominos pounded Southmost of Brownsville 114-65 to eclipse the old one-game mark of 112 points three years ago against the Texas A&I Junior Varsity.

LJC also whipped Gulf Coast Bible College of Houston 103-47. In that game, sophomore Steve Mayes poured in a school record 33 points. The old standard was 29 held by Ruben Vela three years back.

Host Alvin also topped Southmost and Gulf Coast easily in the round-robin affair.

LJC with four wins against two losses, returns home Saturday night to play Alvin.

LJC coach Dave Segler was pleased with the Herd's showing, especially the rebounding. "We got after them on the boards. Both teams had a 6-8 boy," said Segler.

Laredo hauled in 77 rebounds against Southmost and 65 against Gulf Coast. Three-Danny Davis, Mayes and Kevin Wickhom--were in rebound double figures in the first game. Davis had 16, Mayes and Wickhom 14 each.

Mayes hit for 24 points against Southmost. Davis had 18, Donnie Setterbo and Darrell Wishom 15 apiece and Gary Langham 10.

Four others besides Mayes scored in twin digits in the nightcap. Wishom had 16, Wickhom 12 and 10 each for Setterbo and Mike McCaskey.

LJC shot a school record 106 times against Southmost, converting 47.

Laredo (114) -- Steve Mayes 24; John Vick 9; Donnie Setterbo 15; Mike McCaskey 5; Darrell Wishom 15; Kevin Wickhom 7; Danny Davis 18; Lupe Almanza 4; Arthur Raymond 2; Carlos Elizondo 4; Gary Langham 10.

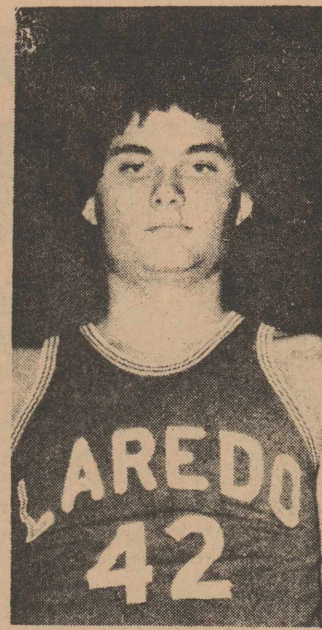

Southmost (65) -- Kevin Fitzgerald 19; Fred Montanero 14; Martinez 12.

Laredo (103) -- Mayes 33; Vick 10; Setterbo 6; McCaskey 10; Wishom 16; Wickhom 12; Davis 2; Almanza 8; Elizondo 4; Langham 2.

Gulf Coast (47) -- Steve Chiles 18.

LJC CO-CAPTAINS

Mike McCaskey and Steve Mayes, a pair of sophomores from Rockport, have been named co-captains for the Laredo Junior College basketball team this year. McCaskey is a 5-11 guard and Mayes, a 6-7 postman. McCaskey and Mayes were chosen by teammates.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In reference to a letter to the editor published in the November 21 edition of the Pilot concerning the Equal Rights Amendment, I feel that the information about the amendment has been seriously misconstrued.

Thirty-three states have ratified the ERA to date. The Texas legislature passed the ERA two years ago and Texas voters approved the Equal Rights Amendment in the November, 1972 election. Ratification by five more states before March, 1979 will add this 27th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The Amendment will remove sex as a factor in determining the legal rights of men and women. It will primarily affect government action. It will not interfere in private relationships and the guaranteed right of privacy. The general principle is: If a law restricts rights, it will no longer be valid; if it protects rights, it will be extended to both men and women.

There are some laws on the books forbidding discrimination against women, but there is no clear constitutional protection. Women in some states are still not recognized as mature, responsible adults. They cannot serve on juries, start a business, get a mortgage, control their own property, their own paychecks, or the property and money of their children on the same basis as men.

Men need the ERA to assure equality of protection for widowers as well as widows and so that families in which both the husband and wife work receive the full benefits of their labors, including equal social security benefits.

With a volunteer army in effect, being drafted is a dead issue. Congress can already draft women if the need arises. Men have always been exempted for a variety of reasons, including family responsibilities, and so will women be. ERA will end the practice of demanding higher qualifications for women than for men in the armed forces, and so open up the possibility of military job training and veterans' benefits to more women if they choose to join the services.

Title VII and recent court decisions have invalidated labor laws, originally intended to protect women from being exploited on the job and often used to bar working women from getting jobs at better pay.

and the ERA insures that such laws will not be reinstituted. The ERA has nothing to do with forcing anyone to work.

The purpose of day care centers is to make it possible for women to work, but no law has been proposed to force children into a day care center.

In Texas, the question of who has child custody is determined by what would be best for the child. Texas has no alimony, anyway, so ERA will not affect either of these two problems.

Criminal laws against rape and other sexual offenses will still be valid under the ERA. They are and will remain crimes against persons. Courts will have to stop giving a longer prison sentence to a woman than to a man for the same offense.

Write to your state legislators and ask them to continue to support the ERA which has already been passed.

I AM A WOMAN CONCERNED AT 37,
(Mrs.) Kathleen Bryan

Dear Editor:

The letter you printed last week stems from a rising controversy regarding the Equal Rights Amendment which was ratified in Texas April 9, 1972 by a majority of 4 to 1. I would like to answer the charges set out in that letter, and in statements being sent to several local clubs.

The National Federation of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs still actively supports the amendment, and has spent many years in the past working for the goal that all people might enjoy equality of rights under the law. The amendment itself is entitled "EQUAL RIGHTS FOR MEN AND WOMEN". There are many other legal benefits given to both sexes by the ERA.

The following answers to the listed questions were written by Mrs. Hermine Tobolowsky, a Dallas Attorney, and printed in the November issue of "The Texas Business and Professional Woman" magazine. If anyone would like more information, or assistance, they are invited to call Miss Lola L. Bonner, Attorney at Law, or Mrs. Loyce Ogle, President of the Rockport Business and Professional Women's Club.

We feel that both sides of the issue should be reviewed carefully.

The following are answers to the mis-statements in "Ladies! Have you Heard?" Under the question, ARE YOU SURE YOU WANT TO BE LIBERATED?, the statement is made that a "tiny minority of dissatisfied, highly vocal, militant women" want to "liberate" American women. Apparently, they are referring to the supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment. Most of the representative groups supporting ERA are nationally recognized groups including such responsible groups as the American Bar Association, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, AAUW, etc., groups that certainly do not fit the picture described in the opening paragraph of the 2 pages of misinformation printed under the name of "Women Who Want to be Women."

"THE MOST DRASTIC MEASURE" the claim is made that ERA strikes at the foundation of family life. Another misstatement. It actually strengthens the family by establishing a real partnership in law as well as in fact in the marriage relationship and strengthening the bonds between men and women. It will give women the opportunity to protect themselves from selfish husbands who might try to convey away all of the family property in those states which still leave all of the family assets in the hands of the husband. It will force Congress to change Social Security laws to eliminate the discrimination that prevents a husband from drawing on his wife's Social Security account even though the married woman pays the same social security as her male counterpart, it will eliminate too many unjust laws to attempt to enumerate them here.

"DO YOU WANT TO LOSE YOUR RIGHT NOT TO WORK?" The claim is made that ERA will abolish the right of a woman not to work. There is NO State in the Union with a law forcing any man to work nor is there any such Federal law, hence the Equal Rights Amendment could not possibly force women to work -- that would be inequality. In the W.W.W.W. sheet, the Yale Law Journal is misquoted; what it actually says is quoted in an article on Texas Equal Rights Amendment in the Texas Tech Law Journal, Volume 5, No. 2 page 637 as follows:

"In this regard, the Yale Law Journal states: 'The Equal Rights Amendment would bar a state from imposing greater liability for support on a husband than on a wife merely because of his sex. However, a court could equalize the civil law by extending the duty of support to women ... If husband and wife had equal resources and earning capacity, neither would have a claim of support against the other. HOWEVER, IF ONE SPOUSE WERE A WAGE EARNER AND THE OTHER PERFORMED DOMESTIC LABOR FOR THE FAMILY, THE WAGE EARNING SPOUSE WOULD OWE A DUTY TO THE SPOUSE WHO WORKED IN THE HOME."

Thus ERA will not change the way people live their lives. Husbands doubtless will continue to be the primary breadwinners in the majority of families.

There is absolutely nothing in ERA to require parents to put their children in federal day care centers, ERA affects only laws that apply differently to men and women. Many states, including Texas, presently have laws requiring a wife to support a husband who needs support if she can do so -- no law forces either a husband or a wife to support the other if he or she does not have the means to do so. In summary, NO law now requires either men or women to work and ERA would not change this--if there were any such law forcing anyone to work, we would not have so many on welfare.

"WILL THE ERA HELP DIVORCED WOMEN?" The claim is made that women will lose the customary right of child custody, support and alimony and be forced to pay child support and alimony. No State in the Union gives a woman the right of child custody by law--all states provide that custody shall be decided on the basis of what is best for the child and hence custody laws do not favor one sex over the other and will not be changed by ERA. While men are the ones usually required to pay child support, women also have a moral and legal obligation to support their children--it is usually the men who pay because they have the finances to do so, but women can be ordered to pay and in some cases are presently required to pay child support. This would not be changed by ERA. Besides, any decent mother or father will support his or her children to the best of his or her ability. There is not and never has been any alimony in Texas and most other states have abolished alimony. If a State does have alimony, we see no reason why a husband should not have a claim if his wife is financially able to pay just as a wife should have a claim against a husband.

"WHAT ABOUT OTHER EFFECTS ON FAMILY LIFE?" makes the claim that if ERA passes, wife and children will not be required to wear the name of the husband and father and it will create confusion. In some countries, wife and children do not take the name of husband and father and there are some decisions in this country to the effect that they do not have to do so, but ERA will not prohibit continuation of the usual practice of the wife assuming the name of her husband and the children going thereby. Nor will ERA have the effect of permitting homosexuals to "marry" and adopt children -- Mrs. Tobolowsky says she knows of no lawyers who think it will have that effect nor do the W.W.W.W. sheets identify the "leading law counsels" who so state. Remember, the American Bar Association supports ERA.

"DO YOU WANT TO LOSE YOUR RIGHT TO PRIVACY?" The statement is made that there could be no segregation of the sexes in "prison, reform schools, public restrooms, etc." This ignores the fact that the Supreme Court has repeatedly held that there is a Constitutional Right to privacy and that ERA does not repeal other Constitutional Rights--it only repeals discriminatory statutes. The Constitutional Right to privacy also applies to segregation of military barracks. (See Supreme Court Griswold vs Connecticut).

"DO YOU WANT TO LOSE YOUR RIGHT NOT TO BE DRAFTED?" The public is misinformed that women have a present right not to be drafted. On the contrary, there is no right not to be drafted by either men or women. By the end of World War II there were a number of bills introduced in Congress to draft women and had the war lasted another 6 months, women would have been drafted. Texas passed a bill in 1957 to draft women into the militia in time of war. This does not mean that women with small children will be drafted--you will recall that under the present draft law, men with small children were deferred. "DO YOU WANT PROTECTIVE LAWS AGAINST SEX CRIMES?" The W.W.W.W. sheets indicate that ERA will abolish laws against sex crimes. This is totally untrue. No criminal sex laws apply only to one sex. They prohibit a criminal act and ERA does not require that criminal acts go unpunished. They are designed to punish the criminal because he or she has performed a criminal act not because of the sex of the offender.

"WILL ERA HELP WORKING WOMEN?" The W.W.W.W. sheet indicates that ERA will adversely affect women in industry because it will invalidate all protective laws for women, such as weight lifting restrictions, etc. ERA does not require the repeal of any protective law--only that its "benefits" be extended to both sexes. Since men die at a younger age than women and suffer more from stress diseases, such as heart, ulcers, they obviously need protective laws just as much as women.

Under the present practice, so-called "protective" laws have been used as an excuse not to promote women, not to hire them in the more lucrative jobs. However, there have been several Federal Court decisions holding that "protective" laws which apply only to women violate the Equal Employment Opportunities Act and are thus invalid. As a result many states have already repealed such laws or extended their benefits to men to bring them in line with the federal law. In other states, including Texas, the Attorney General has ruled such laws invalid if they apply to women only. ERA will not prohibit one sex schools if the schools are private and privately financed, but it will prohibit public one sex schools and since they are supported by tax payers, men and women, this is as it should be.

The Constitution protects separation of Church and State and guarantees religious freedom, hence the claim by W.W.W.W. that ERA will interfere with church internal policy is incorrect.

There is federal court authority to the effect that once a state has ratified a constitutional amendment, it cannot legally revoke that ratification.

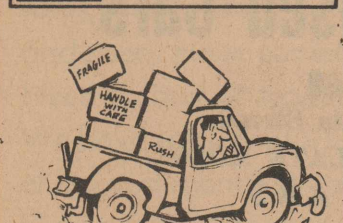

Thank you for printing the "other side."

Five Reasons Why Your Chamber of Commerce Suggests You Should Trade At Home

1. Convenience of having goods and services available at home is too often taken for granted. Trading with local merchants of your choice is not just a part of our system of free enterprise; it's usually being recognized and called by your name, it's a desire on the part of the local merchant that you be satisfied with your purchase since you are not only a customer but you are his neighbor and most often his friend. So you see there is more to having goods and services locally available for your convenience . . . it's a way of life mutually enjoyed.
2. Your local merchant shares your local tax base. With our oil and gas reserves decreasing each year local investments sharing our tax base are becoming increasingly important. On top of this, the local sales tax refund relieves everyone's property tax burden accordingly. Other cities and counties are concerned with their tax problems and this is as it should be. We are concerned with our local tax matters and strongly feel these obligations can best be met by supporting local interest.
3. Your local merchant shares support of your local church, your school activities, your civic club, your United Fund, your safety programs, your law enforcement and your local responsibilities of just being a citizen in this community.
4. Your local merchant is easier to contact and influence when goods or services are not what they should have been. Generally, complaints from local customers will always have a higher priority with the successful local merchant for he knows you are his best potential repeat customer, whereas an out of town customer may or may not come back.
5. By having goods and services locally available your local merchant most often saves you money. If the costs of leaving the community to shop are fairly evaluated, usually it is cheaper to shop at home. We would all be very unhappy with the added expense if for one week we were required to drive elsewhere for every single item we needed that week.

In considering this advertisement appealing for your support it brought to mind there are usually two sides to each coin. We are sure not all of us have always done all we could to earn your support and this is an appropriate time for us to make a few pledges to ourselves and to you.

Five Pledges We Will Be Trying Harder To Earn Your Support

1. We pledge to be more mindful of you, the customer, and to do a better job of helping you meet your needs.
2. We pledge to prove more worthy of your support by congenially servicing your needs.
3. We pledge to do our best to satisfy your complaints and do so as one neighbor for another.
4. We pledge to furnish you product knowledge or technical advice sufficient for you to get full benefit from your purchase.
5. We pledge to keep goods and services available to you at hours that will meet the general public requirements.

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL MERCHANTS AND BY DOING SO WE JOIN HANDS IN HELPING ONE ANOTHER MEET OUR COMMUNITY NEEDS.

CHAMBER CORNER

Thanksgiving is extra special this year in Rockport and the citizens of our area have made it so.

We are more than thankful to 38 enthusiastic and responsive people and businesses in our area for their contribution in beautifying Rockport. As you drive through Rockport, glance over at the ski basin and enjoy the lovely palm trees donated by these generous supporters.

Also, observe the new facade of the Chamber of Commerce building has with the colorful listing of all these donors printed on a large plaque at the front entrance.

It is such an encouraging and heart-warming delight - particularly in this time of distress with human relations - to see our people band together, and do so joyfully to make our surroundings more pleasant...for everybody!

Thanks for giving: Cleveland Carpets, Sipe Real Estate, Wagley Lumber, Rockport Electronics, Dr. G.M. Pattillo, Rockport Pilot, Rockport Auto Supply, Sportsman Manor, Duck Inn.

Appliance Service Center, Ray's Texaco, Roatan Drugs, Rockport Racquet & Yacht Club, W.R. Sanders, Dr. J.M. Shellenberger, Encina Plaza

Book Gallery, Carl Duckworth, Dr. J.M. Spriegel, Peirce Drywall, Islander Boutique, Evelyn Hull, Sea Gun Inn, McMahan Electronic Security Services, Live Oak State Bank, Al's Dental Laboratory, Joe's Exxon, Dr. Ron Levy, Glass, Sorenson & McDavid, Ralph E. Hines, Shep's Package Store, Rockport Home & Garden Club, Rotary Club, Peninsula Oaks Garden Club, Woman's Club of Aransas County, RYSCO, Ramada Inn, Pearsons Garden Center, Lee Wideman, Tom Rogers and Linny & Tira Landrum.

Another token of appreciation we want to share with you came to our attention recently when William McConnell, Dallas, wintering in Rockport, made a point to come by the Chamber thanking us for the "Chamber Corner" fishing information. L.D. Nuckles, Parks & Wildlife, helped this office in editing this information for our fishermen and we know for that reason it is "authentic and no fish tale!" Brady McMullen has joined the Chamber this past week. He will be running a bay fishing guide service from Palm Harbor.

Wishing each of you a joyful Thanksgiving holiday!

Consumer Market Report

College Station-Citrus fruit quality is nearing its peak as more grapefruit and oranges come to market, one consumer expert reported this week.

"Don't pass up oranges with a greenish tinge," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advised.

"Greenish-looking oranges are the ripest fruit of all, and they're green because of a phenomenon known as 're-greening'—due to a return of chlorophyll to the skin during warm weather," she added.

Apples and fresh cranberries are other good seasonal choices this week, the specialist said.

Moderately priced fruits are grapes, bananas, tangerines, and tangelos.

Vegetable bargains focus on cabbage, carrots, sweet potatoes and rutabagas.

Also hard shell squash, cooking greens, sweet potatoes and dry yellow onions.

At meat counters, turkey is plentiful, but chicken prices have advanced, Mrs. Clyatt noted.

"Pork values include Boston butt, end chops, liver and quarter-lobes cut into chops. Smoked items worth checking are semi-boneless hams, picnic, bacon, frankfurters and roll sausage.

Beef prices are down in general with bargains on chuck cuts, ground beef, sirloin steak, beef liver and stew meat.

Consumer Watchwords: Nuts are half shell—and half nut meat, with few exceptions. It takes about two pounds of nuts in the shell to make one pound of nut meats.

So, if already-shelled nuts cost more than twice the price of unshelled nuts, the unshelled nuts are less expensive.

Large Lobsters

American lobsters measuring about two feet long and weighing more than 30 pounds have been recorded. One specimen had a weight of 44-1/2 pounds, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Longest City

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Your holiday dressing is a complement to a perfectly baked turkey or chicken. Most homemakers have their own secret addition to make their dressing a little different. However, this is a good basic recipe for a large crowd. It can be divided very easily -- 1/3 or 1/2 will probably be enough for the average family.

Dressing

- 2 c flour
- 2 c corn meal
- 2 t baking powder
- 1 t soda
- 1 t salt (if none in broth)
- 6 large onions, chopped
- 1 large stalk celery, chopped
- 1/2 lb. oleo or butter
- 9 eggs

Pepper and poultry seasoning to taste
Buttermilk

Combine all ingredients in a large mixing bowl. Make soft batter by adding buttermilk (amount can vary). Pour into a well greased baking pan. Bake at 400 degrees until well done. Remove from oven and stir to crumble. Pour broth or giblet gravy over the dry dressing until moist. Return to oven and brown. Keep hot until served with turkey.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Early detection is one of the best weapons in the hands of medical personnel for combating short-term or possible long-term illness.

For this reason, screening services play a vital role in State Health Department services. Screening turns up diseases in persons who are unaware of any difficulty, as well as reassuring those in good health. One of the biggest screening efforts both in Texas and the nation now is for hypertension—or high blood pressure—which can produce severe problems. Another sinister disease which can be found by screening is diabetes. The Health Department's Chronic Disease Division provides diabetes screening services to local health departments, various regional offices and special projects where adequate nursing services can provide follow-up services on suspected cases.

Diabetes was the fifth leading cause of death in Texas in 1972 and second cause of blindness. Therefore, the value of screening can be clearly shown, since early detection plays an important role in the future of diabetes victims.

Screening services are channeled to those at high risk of getting the disease. Experience has shown those at high risk to be close blood relatives of diabetes victims, those persons more than 45 years of age, the obese and the parents of a nine-pound-plus baby when the parents reach age 45.

In diabetes screening, a blood sample is taken and deposited in a vial which contains a preservative to protect the blood sugar. The sample then is sent to a Health Department laboratory for analysis. If blood sugar exceeds a certain level, the individual is re-checked with a follow-up examination.

Screening services are provided for other diseases by other divisions of the State Health Department. Among these are the PKU program for newborn; dental and medical screening through the Title XIX programs for children on the Welfare Department's Aid to Families of Dependent Children roles; hearing, sight and dental screening in the school system; screening of females for cancer; tuberculosis testing; and screening for venereal disease. Screening goes hand in hand with prevention.

It is difficult to measure the effects of preventive medicine, and this difficulty adds to the lack of understanding in expanding its role.

Preventive services may be classed as primary—averting the occurrence of the disease; secondary—prevention controlling progression of a disease from its early stage to a more severe stage; and tertiary—prevention which involves rehabilitation, as in the case of a stroke victim.

Providers of preventive medical services include such major groups as doctors, dentists, veterinarians and other professionals.

One of the easiest preventive services to recognize is in the field of immunization. A look at the State Health Department's morbidity reports emphasizes the drop in such diseases as diphtheria, measles, rubella, polio, pertussis—diseases which in the past came to be expected as natural risks. Last year, for the first time, not a single case of paralytic polio was reported in Texas. Compulsory immunization of school children, plus emphasis on pre-schoolers, helped produce this record.

There has been another change in the health field in the direction of prevention. This is in the field of epidemiology. To the layman, an epidemiologist can best be described as a disease detective. Major concerns of epidemiology are discovery of factors essential to or contributing to disease occurrence, and developments of methods for disease prevention.

Historically, epidemiology had its birth in relation to the study of the great epidemic diseases such as cholera, plague, smallpox, yellow fever and typhus. Until the 20th Century, these epidemic diseases were the most important threat to human life and health.

Galveston Bay Oyster Outlook Down This Year

Austin -- Galveston Bay oyster populations are on the mend after the heavy damage inflicted by 1973 floods but any increases in the harvest will not show up until the 1975-76 season.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist Bob Hofstetter of Seabrook is optimistic about next year's season but less than enthusiastic about this year's oyster season which runs from Nov. 1, 1974, to April 30, 1975.

According to a report prepared by Hofstetter in September, flooding on the Galveston Bay watersheds last winter destroyed almost all oysters in Trinity Bay and did moderate damage to oyster populations in Galveston and East Bays.

Along Red Fish Bar, a primary harvest area in mid-Galveston Bay, market oysters declined 51 percent below levels of previous years.

Overall samples taken at reefs indicate a drop in the average number of market oysters per bushel from 24.4 in October 1973 to 22.8 in October 1974.

Oyster spat (young oysters) setting was delayed until September and October 1973. It is the combination of reduced numbers of market-sized oysters and late spat sets which prompts Hofstetter to issue gloomy predictions for the season starting in November.

"Winter flooding on the watersheds (of Galveston Bay) caused the State Health Department to close all but West Bay to oystering from Jan. 25 to Feb. 21, 1974," states Hofstetter's report.

Total harvest reflected the shortened season: some 130,251 barrels of oysters were taken from Galveston Bay during the 1972-73 six-month season as compared to 45,590 barrels in 1973-74. Oyster production in November 1972 was only 833 barrels less than the entire 1973-74 harvest.

Harvest totals for this year depend on fishing pressure, a factor which can not be determined at this time. The condition of the Louisiana oyster fishery as well as the Galveston Bay shrimp industry will influence the number of oyster fishermen in the bay. This season few Louisiana oystermen are expected to fish in Texas waters since Louisiana is looking forward to its best oyster season in 20 years.

During November 1973, an average of 74 boats worked public reefs in Galveston Bay, some 75 to 85 percent of which were Louisiana boats. By December the average number of boats dropped to only 21 and they were mostly local vessels.

But things are looking up for next year. "A significant oyster spat set occurred throughout Galveston Bay in June," says Hofstetter's report.

"Setting was much more abundant in 1974 than in 1973. By the end of September 1974, the June spat averaged 1 1/4-1 1/2 inches long."

Oysters in the shell must be at least three inches long before they can be kept. Some of these sub-market-sized oysters which are two to three inches long should reach market size later in the season.

"If environmental factors remain favorable," the report continues, "the spat should contribute to an increase in the 1975-76 harvest."

The Nov. 1, 1974 - April 30, 1975 season applies to sports and commercial oystering in Galveston, Matagorda and San Antonio Bays. The Laguna Madre south of Port Mansfield is open to oystering the year round.

All that is required of sport fishermen who take oysters by hand for personal use is a $4.25 fishing license and a $5 sport oyster dredge license. Sport oyster dredges cannot exceed 14 inches in width.
