WOMAN SHOT THREE TIMES, MAN TWICE

Double Murder Mystery

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Firemen and police answering a call to a blazing car found the badly burned bodies of a young man and woman, both shot several times, Sunday near Austin's City Park.

Police Lt. Robert Scott identified the two as Thomas Matzilevich, 21, and his wife, Katharine, 18, of Massachusetts.

TCU STUDENT

Police said Matzilevich was a student at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth and his wife was a former student.

Matzilevich was identified as the son of a prominent neurologist from Natick, Mass., near Boston. Investigators said Mrs. Matzilevich was the daughter of the superintendent of schools at Worcester, Mass.

A municipal judge, Allen Hill, ruled it was a case of double homicide. He said an autopsy disclosed the woman was shot three times and the man twice, each with a different caliber weapon.

Officials asked Boston police for help in their efforts to identify the slain couple.

The bodies were discovered after a parks employe noticed smoke and radioed for assistance about 8:45 a.m. Sunday. County fire patrol and sheriff's units, Austin firemen and city police responded.

BURNING CAR

Firemen found the burning car about 25 feet south of a City Park road under a large grove of juniper trees and about one-fourth mile from the Lake Austin park, which is west of town.

"When I arrived, the car was pretty well gutted," said the county fire patrol chief, Lee Basore.

He said the automobile was enveloped in flames and a fiery stream of gasoline fumes was blasting from the vehicle's uncapped tank.

Basore said the bodies were lying next to the car, the man slightly under the driver's side and the woman about three feet outside the passenger side door.

Both were burned beyond recognition. Several apparent gunshot wounds were visible near their chests.

TENNIS BALLS

An empty two-gallon gasoline can was close to the dead man. A spout from this can lay underneath the body of the woman.

Both were wearing tennis shoes. Two tennis balls were on the ground beside the woman.

"Here's where the fire was started off," Basore said, pointing to a charred patch of grass about 15 feet from the back of the late model sedan.

A faint trail led from the burned grass to a spot directly below the gas tank of the vehicle. The tank cap lay nearby.

Scott said there was a pistol close to the dead man. Several cartridges in this .38 caliber revolver had exploded in the intense heat, the lieutenant said.

Officers found shell case fragments 20 feet from the car.

Also in the charred debris were the remains of what investigators said they believed were scales like those used by pharmacists and chemists for weighing small items.

PILL BOX

Texas Ranger Wallace Spiller who helped city detective Sgt. Jack Moody and Sgt. Bobby Simpson in the case, came across a small pill box near the car, police said.

Sleeping Booty

DALLAS (AP) — When gunman robbed Sharon Tildea, 28, of $3,650 worth of jewelry Sunday night, he made her take a little white pill which he said would put her to sleep, she told police.

The jewelry included a $900 ruby ring, a ring set with 1 diamond and valued at $2,000, and a diamond watch worth $750.

Bike - Plane Damaged

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An airplane that probably ranks as an environmentalist's dream — it's combustionless — is undergoing repair at the Franklin Institute here.

The "Liverpuffin," powered by one man laboriously pedaling a bicycle-driven propellor, weighs 300 pounds, including the pilot, and resembles an oversized model airplane.

Using all his effort, a pilot can fly the craft about 20 yards with a flight time of about two minutes.

Liverpuffin was built by students in an aeronatical engineering class at the University of Liverpool in England. It was damaged while in transit from the international transportation exhibition in Washington, D. C., to Philadelphia.

Haig Kurkjian, an aeronautical engineer who is repairing the plane with the help of his son, said the craft is a rare specimen in the United States.

"Princeton University is the only school in the United States which is experimenting with the use of manpowered airplane engines," he said. "In the United States we tend to go for more economic gains and therefore we think something like this isn't practical."

Pickled Freeway

DENVER (AP) — A 20-foot tall vinegar vat sprung a leak Sunday and made the Valley Freeway smell like pickled concrete.

Policeman Richard Walker, answering a call at the Speas Vinegar Co. plant, said he smelled vinegar 10 blocks from the scene.

Firemen who estimated 10,000 to 20,000 gallons leaked out, said metal bands holding the redwood planking that comprise the tank slipped. Vinegar poured from the slats.

Traffic slowed on the Valley Freeway as motorists, holding their noses, tried to look at what was happening.

REMOVE HANGER FROM STOMACH

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A county jail inmate who supplements his diet with spoons, coat hangers, toothbrushes and tubes of tooth paste was in satisfactory condition today after doctors removed a coat hanger from his stomach.

Earnest John Lloyd, 27, of Boise broke the hangar into pieces and swallowed them Saturday in the jail. He was taken to a hospital and operated on for a third time.

Twice beore he underwent surgery to remove spoon handles.

Lloyd is in jail awaiting trial on a rape charge.

Troop Strength Dips Another 300

SAIGON (AP) — American troop strength in Vietnam dropped another 300 men last week to 47,200 the U.S. Command reported today.

It was the smallest cut in seven weeks. The current target is a force of 39,000 men by Sept. 1.

Not included in the report are about 100,000 U.S. Navy and Air Force personnel fighting the Vietnam war from bases in Guam and Thailand and ships off the Vietnamese coast.

Latest Thing In Big Crime: Bicycle Theft

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California is plagued with the latest thing in major crime: bicycle theft.

There are apparently new kinds of motives, thieves and even customers.

Until two years ago bicycle theft was a minor problem. Thieves generally had transportation, not money, in mind.

But in 1971 an estimated 400,000 to 500,000 bikes valued at up to $30 million were stolen. In some areas of the state the increase since 1969 has been 300 per cent.

The figures aren't exact—and that's part of the problem. There is no statewide bike licensing or listing of stolen bicycles.

One advantage for the thief: the stakes are not as high as in other kinds of theft. One official says this has attracted drug addicts to the business: "If an addict breaks into a house and steals a television set, that's a felony. Bike theft is a misdemeanor."

Still another advantage: Authorities have a hard time proving a bike is stolen.

And another: there is a ready market and thieves try to fill a demand rate that often exceeds the supply.

"I stole 300 bikes," one former thief anonymously told a Los Angeles Times reporter recently. "On my best night I stole 15. They were easy to steal and easy to sell. I took orders and always ran about 10 behind. Everybody who gave me orders knew it was a rip-off."

Japanese Radical Gets Life In Pen

LOD, Israel (AP) — An Israeli army court convicted Japanese radical Kozo Okamoto today for his part in the Lod airport massacre of May 30 and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

The 24-year-old defendant stood and listened impassively as the verdict of the three lieutenant colonels was read. After it was translated into Japanese, he sighed deeply.

FOUND GUILTY

He was found guilty of all four charges filed against him. Death is the maximum penalty for three of them, but Israel has executed but one person, Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann. And the prosecution asked for a life sentence.

Okamoto had pleaded guilty in court and before the trial signed a confession admitting that he and two other Japanese attacked the crowd in Israel's international airport on May 30 with machine guns and grenades, acting on behalf of a Palestine guerrilla organization. Twenty-eight persons were killed, including the other two terrorists, and 70 were wounded.

In a statement Thursday at the end of the four-day trial, Okamoto said his organization in Japan, the United Red Army would continue its attacks in the cause of world revolution.

UNRIPENED IDEAS

The president of the court, Lt. Col. Abraham Frisch, said Okamoto's declaration was "a mixture of unripened ideas . . . concerning his and his friends' frustration" with the modern world, its social structure and regimes.

He said Okamoto had taken on the massacre "willingly and in full consciousness."

In the early stages of his interrogation before the trial, Okamoto asked repeatedly to be executed or to be allowed to commit suicide. The military commander for the Lod area, Maj. Gen. Rehavam Zeevi signed an agreement with Okamoto promising him the general's pistol to kill himself with if he made a full confession. Zeevi testified that he later told the young Japanese the agreement was dead because Okamoto had not provided "truthful information."

Laird Links 'Eagletown'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird suggested today the Democratic presidential nominee, George McGovern, has agreed to support the Air Force's new F15 jet fighter plane as the price for getting Sen. Thomas Eagleton as his running mate.

"St. Louis is known as Phantomtown U.S.A., and it will be known as Eagletown, U.S.A.," Laird quipped with a play on words and Eagleton's name. The F15, dubbed the Eagle by the Air Force at its rollout last month, is intended to replace the F4 Phantom—workhorse plane in Vietnam—which is also built by McDonnell-Douglas in St. Louis.

WILL REST, CHART CAMPAIGN

McGovern Flies To Black Hills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, flew today to the Black Hills of his native South Dakota for two weeks of rest, staff reshuffling and strategic planning for the fall campaign against President Nixon.

The vacation spot picked out weeks ago in anticipation of McGovern's victory in last week's Miami Beach convention is a lodge at Sylvan Lake in Custer State Park, near the gold rush town of Custer, south of famous Mount Rushmore.

CAMPAIGN LEADERS

The South Dakota senator will be accompanied by a small personal staff. Starting later this week, his top political advisors, financial planners, and his running mate, Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, of Missouri, will come to the lodge for conferences.

The shape of McGovern's campaign organization is largely settled.

Gary Hart, the 35-year-old Denver lawyer who managed the senator's drive for the Democratic presidential nomination, will head the organization, with George Cunningham, a McGovern aide for 17 years and now his administrative assistant, as deputy.

PRESS JOB

The three regional coordinators are expected to be Eli Segal, who managed McGovern's California campaign; Harold Himmelman, number two man in the Ohio primary; and Rick Staerns, who supervised the senator's efforts in non-primary states. Their exact roles are scheduled to be worked out later in the week when Hart and Frank Mankiewicz, the senator's national political director until now, return from a brief Virgin Islands vacation.

Mankiewicz and Frederick G. Dutton, who joined McGovern in California and has been at his side since, are scheduled to be the top traveling advisers. Other staff positions, including traveling press secretary, remain to be filled.

One major decision that will have to be made before the end of the South Dakota stay, expected to be July 29, is how to allocate the time of both McGovern and Eagleton in the five weeks between then and the traditional Labor Day start of the formal presidential campaign.

While Nixon was at the Western White House in California, Chairman Clark MacGregor of the Committee for the Re-election of the President and Sen. Robert Dole, GOP national chairman, took over the politicking.

Eagleton said Sunday that a McGovern administration would probably grant draft resisters amnesty on a case-by-case basis, and he added on taxes:

"I think at some time in the future, perhaps in the year '74 or so . . . if we are going to accomplish some of the things we must do domestically . . . we must have the added revenue to do it.'

INCOME OVER-HAUL

Eagleton, on the CBS television-radio program "Face The Nation," also said McGovern's proposal for a $1,000-per-person income redistribution plan is undergoing a complete overhaul.

Speaking up for the Republicans, MacGregor and Dole said their party is ready for any attempt to make the Vietnam war a campaign issue.

Both men said it is too early to tell how much of an issue the war will be. But Dole added: "If they want to make it an issue, we're ready.'

MacGregor appeared Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" and Dole on NBC's "Meet the Press.'

Eight Hurt In Jessup Prison Riot

JESSUP, Md. (AP) — The Maryland House of Corrections remained quiet early today as officials tried to assess the situation at the maximum security prison following a 12-hour riot that left four guards and four inmates injured.

"It was the worst damage I've seen," said Gov. Marvin Mandel, whose agreement to meet with an inmate delegation finally prompted the last few hundred of the rebelling prisoners to return to their cells about 5 a.m. Sunday.

Many fires had erupted sporadically almost from the onset of the inmates' rampage. Officials said the trouble began Saturday evening with an escape attempt in the outdoor recreation yard.

Initial estimates of damage ran as high as $1.5 million.

Mandel, after meeting with the inmate delegation, said he would look into some of the grievances. He said there were no demands voiced by the inmates.

Specifically mentioned, the governor said, were the areas of medical service and the classification board, which assigns inmates to the various institutions within the state corrections system.

Warden Ralph L. Williams told newsmen complete control had been restored at the maximum security prison and that all 1,500 inmates were confined to their cellblocks.

The entire western portion, the focal point of the fires and destruction, was soaked with water late Sunday and troopers said the air was still acrid from burned-out mattresses, benches and furniture.

Several officials blamed a lack of guards and other alleged inadequacies for the uprising which prison officials admitted ran "out of control."

TV Bias Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — A former president of CBS News has announced that he is resigning his post as a director of the American Institute for Political Communication in a dispute over the release of an institute press report charging bias in network television newscasts.

Sig Mickelson made public Sunday his resignation from the organization in a letter to Edward M. Glick, the AIPC's managing director. He said he was unaware of the study's methods or the base of the bias charge, though the report was issued on stationery bearing his name, along with those of other members of the board of directors.

The report said the institute's study had found "a significant degree of bias" against the Vietnam war and in favor of Sen. George McGovern in the programs monitored during the first half of June.

AF Sergeant Fatally Shot

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An Air Force sergeant from Louisiana was fatally shot early today as he drove from a tavern, officers, said. Two women in his car escaped injury.

The victim, assigned to the Security Service here at Kelly Air Force Base, was identified as Calvin John Dickerson, 24, of Thibodaux, La.

Sheriff's officers said witnesses reported that a shot was fired through the rear window of the sergeant's car, striking him in the back of the head.

His date and her sister jumped from the moving auto, which rolled across a street and into a fence bordering Kelly, investigators reported. They said witnesses could give no reason for the shooting.

Dickerson was dead on arrival at Wilford Hall Air Force Medical Center.

Trustees OK Juvenile Plan

Howard County Commissioners today received notification from trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District that the district will cooperate in obtaining a Criminal Justice Council grant for the county juvenile department.

At their last meeting, county commissioners adopted a county to certain percentages of support of the juvenile department over the three-year period for which the Criminal Justice Council funds would be granted.

INCREASED FUNDING

In the first year, the county agreed to pay 25 per cent of the total operating cost of the department, 50 per cent the second year and take up total support of the department in three years. The resolution is a requirement of the Criminal Justice Council.

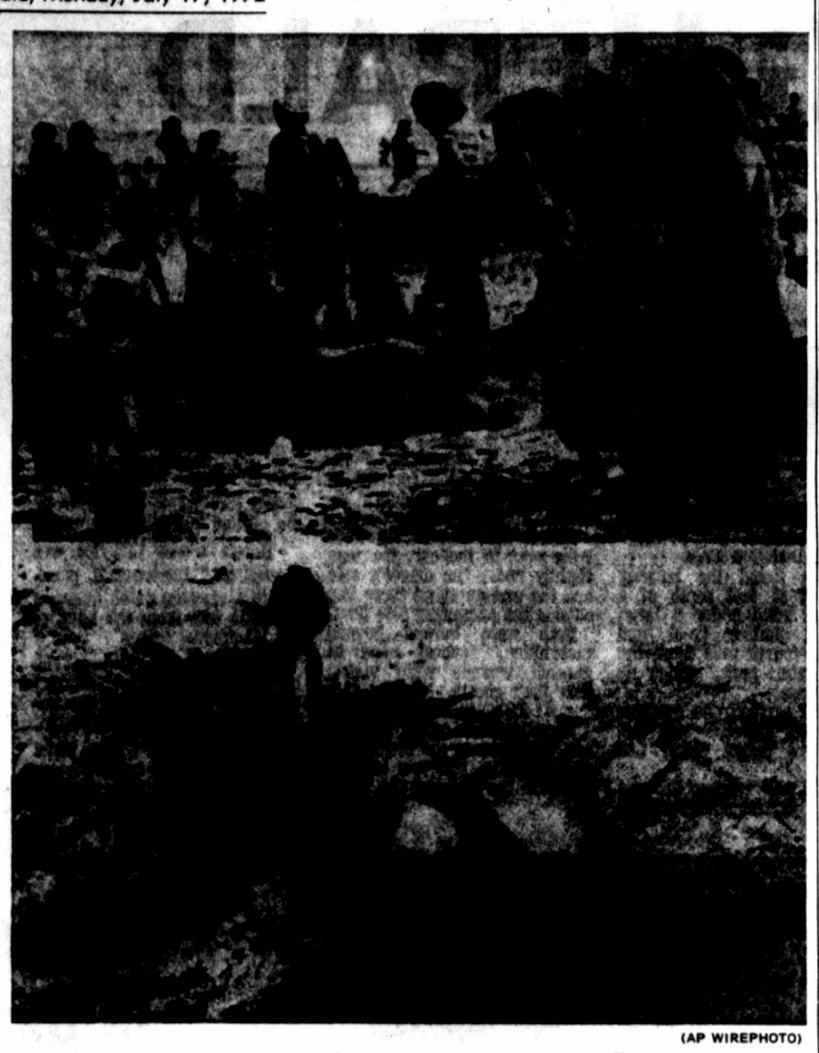

The funding, according to Keith Jones, juvenile officer, would allow him to employ a female juvenile officer and a full-time secretary for the department.

Juvenile department operations are funded on a three-part basis by the county, 40 per cent; school district, 20 per cent; and city of Big Spring, 40 per cent.

SCHOOLS WILLING

School trustees notified the county of their willingness to share their portion of the increased cost at the end of the Criminal Justice Council grant.

City commissioners are expected to discuss their portion in the funding at their meeting Tuesday.

No Written Lease Exists For T-41 Flying School

Lack of a written contract with Central American Airways for its lease of hangar facilities at Howard County Airport had commissioners in a quandary today.

County Commissioner Bill Crooker inquired if their were any terms in the contract with CAA by which the county can take any action against the airways company to recover back rent. According to Commissioner Crooker, CAA owes the county $5,000.

Verbal agreements are all that the county has with CAA, according to Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor.

She told commissioners that the only written contract the county has with CAA was approved in 1968 for three years. In 1969, she said, the county commission raised CAA's monthly rent payments to the current $525 per month, and the rate changes were penciled into the 1968 contract, which expired in August 1971.

NEW CONTRACT

Commissioners decided that a contract should be drawn up for CAA officials' signatures in August for renewal of the contact.

As for payment of back rent, Mrs. Black said the CAA had notified her that their contract for providing T-41 training craft and hangars for the first phase of Webb AFB pilot training had been renewed for another year.

Mrs. Black said that CAA had told her that the company will be receiving approximately $22,000 for administering the T-41 program on Aug. 8 and will be able to pay the county the back rent on Aug. 10.

W. D. Berry, local Civil Defense director, was in court today to tell the commissioners of prospect of obtaining surplus road equipment to be sold by the federal government.

According to Berry, the federal government is returning no longer needed heavy equipment from federal and military overseas properties, and local governments may apply through Civil Defense to purchase the equipment.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell appointed Commissioners Jack Buchanan and Bill Bennett to a committee to meet with Marvin Hansen, acting road and bridge administrator, to determine what the county might need.

After the committee reports its findings, Judge Mitchell is to prepare a letter of purchase application on behalf of the county for the equipment through Berry's Civil Defense office.

Grand Jury Will Convene Tuesday

Howard County grand jurors will convene in 118th District Court at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Evidence in 38 criminal cases is to be presented.

In addition to the 38 cases scheduled, for the district attorney's office has tentatively slated 11 other cases for presentation.

District Attorney Wayne Burns was in Stanton today to select cases for presentation to a Martin County grand jury.

Martin County grand jurors are scheduled to convene Friday if the Howard County session is completed.

No Arrest Of Man Wanted In Marijuana Case

A Big Spring man under warrant by Midland police has not yet been located for arrest. He is Herbert Daniel Storen, 22, wanted in connection with a shipment of marijuana. This was pushed up along with the recipient of the shipment by Cleveland, Ohio police last Tuesday morning, according to Captain Jack Jones, Big Spring Police Dept.

Arrested in Cleveland was Christopher Butler, 21, Big Spring, on a charge of possession of marijuana.

Storen, according to the warrant, allegedly initiated the shipment from Midland Air Terminal. From information provided by Big Spring and Midland police departments, Cleveland officers were able to make the arrest.

Bomb Blast In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — A bomb exploded outside the Montreal Forum early today under a truck loaded with equipment for a concert in the arena tonight by the Rolling Stones, a police spokesman reported.

No one was reported hurt, but the windows on the north side of the building were broken.

Peter Rudge, manager of the British rock group, said the concert would take place as scheduled.

The Forum building covers a whole block and is the home of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

BALL OF FIRE

The building watchman, Gaston Lesage, 56, was siting by the back entrance about 15 feet from the truck.

"There was a hell of a bounce," he said. "All those windows broke, a ball of fire came out from under the truck, and then there was a lot of smoke."

The motive for the bombing was not immediately apparent.

A police bomb squad was investigating the possibility that another explosive device had been placed under another truck parked nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClellan said they were sitting on their front porch when they heard the blast.

McClellan said the explosion took place just in front of a truck parked at the back entrance of the Forum. The truck had brought in equipment for the rock concert.

PHONED FRIEND

"I went down to the sidewalk and all I could see was a cloud of smoke and glass lying all over the street." Mrs. McClellan said. "I phoned a friend down the street and she said all the windows in her apartment were broken."

Violence has occurred in other cities where the Stones have held concerts as part of their current six-week North American tour.

In San Diego, Calif., several persons were arrested June 14 when rioting broke out after holders of counterfeit tickets to a Stones' concert were turned away.

The next night, police in Tucson, Ariz., used tear gas to disperse a crowd of 200 to 300 window-breaking youths who tried to crash a concert.

When the Stones appeared at the Metropolitan Sports Center in Bloomington, Minn., June 18, several hundred gate-crashers caused $1,000 to $1,500 damage to the facility. Eight persons were arrested and several policemen were injured.

The current Stones' concert tour covers 30 cities. In marks the first time they have visited the United States in 2½ years.

An appearance at the Altamont Speedway 35 miles east of San Francisco on Dec. 6, 1969, during their last concert tour produced a day-long traffic jam along Interstate 205, and four deaths, including one stabbing, in the crowd of 300,000.

The Stones returned to San Francisco in early June. There were no incidents and the group grossed $90,000 in four concerts there.

Burglaries Are Cleared

Captain Jack Jones, Big Spring Police Detective Division, reported today two house burglaries have been cleared up.

The burglary of the residence of Narres W. Dickerson III, 1321 Kindle, on June 27 has been solved. Arrested in connection with the case in which $572 in household articles were taken is a 16-year-old Big Spring minor.

He is in custody by authority of the Texas Youth Council and has been referred to Keith Jones, juvenile probation officer.

A second case of burglary involving $510 in household goods took place at the residence of Hector Perez, 1203 Madison, between June 30 and July 11. Arrested and charged with burglary of a residence is Gilbert Tarango Franco, 22, 314 NE 10th St. Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter has set bond at $2,500. Franco is being held presently by Big Spring police department.

VANDALISM

Royce Cook, 4004 Parkway, reported vandalism to his car. A rock had been thrown through the windshield. Damage was estimated at $75.

City Finance Chief Arrives

Big Spring has a new city financial director today. Jerry R. Massengale reported for work in his new position this morning.

Massengale, 30, come here from the financial office of the City of Amarillo, where he was employed as an internal auditor, the past four years. Two and one-half years before he was employed in Amarillo as a collector and the assistant loan manager for Commercial Credit Corporation.

Massengale is married. He and his wife Sharon have two sons, Steve, 3, and John, 1. These members of the family remain in Amarillo until their home there is sold.

Massengale holds a baccalaureate degree in accounting from West Texas State University. He was in the U. S. Army Reserve.

Work Day Draws 150

Westside Community Center was visited by an estimated 150 volunteer workers Saturday morning in response to a plea to help get a new building in shape for fall programming.

Amid a never harmonious chorus of happy whistling, accompanied by the constant exchange of friendly insults, painters and policemen, teachers and city officials, Sunday school classes and club members renewed old acquaintances and encountered new friends.

Most important though, the paint met the wall the construction scraps were carted away, windows were washed; partitions were placed.

A retreat from the heat, a canopy, sheltered the service of lemonade, coffee and cookies.

Additional labor is needed on woodwork inside the building. draperies have yet to be installed and landscaping must be continued, so more help is needed.

During the coming months, tables, lamps, games, books, bookcases and all furnishings pertinent to an effective community center will be needed.

Regular programming begins in September.

Local Scouts Are Inducted

The Lone Star district furnished one of the largest groups at the Order of Arrow work weekend and induction ceremonies at the Boy Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains. Thirty one participated.

Inducted into the OA (ordeal) were Carl Evans, Keith Bagnell, Jim Purcell, Gregg Bonner, Tony Munoz, Pat O'Daniel, Kevin Herm, Bret Kruse, A. C. Neighbors, Jim Tipton, David Kimble, John Allensworth, David Smith, John Winkle and Mark Taylor, and two leaders, Clement R. Jones and A. L. Webb.

Elevated to Brotherhood were Ray Don Myers, Thomas Marvin Jr., Dan Greene, Michael Barbee, Richard Crandall and Bobby Roever, and two adults to make it a father-son affair, Don Myers and Tommy Marvin.

The district also fielded an Ordeal team comprised of Eddie Young, Lynn Ashley, Paul Newton and John Bagnall.

Participants on projects with others included David Stull, C. B. Grizzard, Robert Downing, Brian Jones, Ron Mercer Jr., and William Allensworth. Projects launched at the work weekend were three new latrines with hot and cold water, retaining wall for the mess hall, relocation of archery range to provide more camp parking, preparing the Buffalo Hall floor for tile, transporting pole pins to the upper mountain park area where a well will be drilled as part of new development.

Rev. O. R. Graumann of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, Fresno, Calif., died Sunday at 12:15 p.m. following complications of open-heart surgery performed three weeks ago.

He is the brother of A. A. Graumann, Big Spring. Rev. Graumann was here in February of 1970 to perform the wedding ceremony of his niece, the former Miss Beth Graumann, now Mrs. James H. Swisher.

He is survived by his wife, Gertrude, and four grown children, three sisters, three brothers, and 24 nieces and newphews, among whom are Mrs. Swisher and Keith and Jonna Graumann, Big Spring.

A. A. Graumann and his family will atend the funeral in Fresno at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, Wednesday 1:30 p.m.

P. Y. Tate Rites Set For Tuesday

P. Y. Tate, 62, owner of a plumbing supply store and who for years operated a trading post under his name, died in a hospital here Sunday 1 p.m. He had lived here for 40 years.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. in Nalley Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Jack Clinscales, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, and Edler B. R. Howze, pastor of Primitive Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in the Mount Olive Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

He was born Jan. 6, 1910, in Erath County and married Marie Myrick in 1931 in Roswell, N. M. He came to Big Spring in 1931 from Slaton. He was a member of the Westside Baptist Church.

Survivors are his wife Marie, of the home; one granddaugher, Ronda Ray Andrews of Big Spring; one great granddaughter, Lisa Andrews of Big Spring; one brother, Mack Tate of Big Spring and one sister, Mrs. Zora Elkins, of Hamlin.

Pallbearers will be Jim Mitchell, J. B. Hollis, Tom Stevenson, W. C. Ross, Harold Pearce and Kenn Hill.

J. R. Wyatt Dies, Services Tuesday

LAMESA — Services for James Ramus Wyatt, 81, who died Monday 7 a.m. at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, will be 4 p.m. Tuesday. They will be at the Downtown Church of Christ with Bill Allen, minister, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Newton Starnes, First Methodist minister. Burial will be in Lamesa Cemetery under direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Mr. Wyatt, who was a native Texan, had lived here for the past 47 years. He was a retired farmer and a member of the Downtown Church of Christ.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mattie Wyatt; one son, Col. Othel Wyatt, Petersberg, Va.; several stepchildren, including Mrs. Laura Metcalfe, Santa Calara, Calif., Mrs. Chloretta Townsend, Elsinore, Calif., Lindley McFarlin, San Antonio, Roy McFarlin, Fort Worth, Mrs. Leona Wilson, Lamesa; three sisters, Mrs. Gladys Bane, Coleman, Mrs. Ethel Gilbert, Graham, and Lula Wyatt, of Virginia. He also leaves a brother, Clyde Wyatt, Waco, two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Col. Hampton's Mother Expires

Mrs. Berah Hampton, 87, died at 10 a.m in a hospital here Monday after a long illness.

Funeral Arrangements are pending at River-Welch Funeral Home.

She was born Nov. 23, 1884 in Kentucky and had come here from Michigan March 1. Mrs. Hampton was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are two sons, Lt. Col. Bowden Hampton, Big Spring, and James C. Hampton, Berkley, Mich.; two daughters, Mrs. Juanita Boggs, of South Carolina, and Mrs. Ruth L. Beaver, Dearborn Mich. She also leaves 10 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and one brother, Hays Bowden, Dearborn Mich.

THEFTS

MISS NUDE WORLD BLONDE, 36-24-35

NAKED CITY, Ind. (AP) — Carol Tucker, a five-foot blonde from Portsmouth, Va., was named Miss Nude World Saturday in the pageant at the Naked City camp near Roselawn, Inc.

Miss Tucker, 24, who represented Canada in the pageant, walked off with the $1,000 first prize. She said she was very surprised that she won, and that she entered the contest because she considered it a challenge.

About 30 contestants participated, while about 4,000 spectators — and newsmen — watched.

Miss Tucker presented credentials of 36-24-35. She weighs 110 pounds and has green eyes.

The first runnerup was Judy Day, 23, Milwaukee, who represented India in the contest.

Judges in the pageant included singer Johnnie Ray, actress June Wilkinson and television personality Archie Campbell of the "Hee Haw" series.

Promoter Dick Drost, who owns Naked City, said the contestants were judged on figure, beauty and poise.

Drost will stage the fourth annual Miss Nude America contest at Naked City Aug. 12. Last years winner was Valerie Craft, a Chicago entertainer.

Long And Short

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband was recently hired by a man who has got to be some kind of weirdo. Listen to this:

This man owns his own business, and he refuses to hire a man who is taller than he is. (He's about 5 feet 7. Fortunately my husband is 5 feet 5.)

My husband says the other employes told him that the boss doesn't want any big men around him, but he digs big women! His secretary is a head taller than he is, and his wife is even taller than his secretary.

I've never heard of such a nutty hangup, and am not crazy about my husband working for a kook like this. If you can figure it out, please let me know. SHORTY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Obviously the boss doesn't mind being looked down upon by women, but he dislikes being dwarfed by another man. It probably has something to do with his competitive attitude toward men, and a desire to be "mothered" by women. If your husband has achieved his full growth he has nothing to worry about.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have just spent the last month painting the outside of our house, including the white picket fence on our side. Our neighbors of 20 years said they would paint their side of the fence. I gave them what was left of a gallon of the paint I used so it would match.

Yesterday they spray painted their side in the wind! I wasn't at home at the time, and came home to find white paint all over our grass, planter boxes, a whole bed of flowers, the house, the sidewalk, and a natural wood gate.

Our neighbor shouted over the fence, "Isn't that a mess? — Sorry about that."

I was sick and speechless. We will have to replace all the plants, and hope the grass doesn't die. Our gate must be resanded and we will try to ignore the rest. What do you think we should say to these neighbors? WHITEWASHED

DEAR WHITEWASHED: Say, "After we've figured out how much it will cost to repair the damage you did, we'll give you the bill. Sorry about that, too."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Please help us settle an argument: I wrote to some good friends of ours who live out of town, asking them to take a vacation trip with us. Since these people are notoriously slow letter writers, I added, "Naturally, you are our first choice, so please let us know as soon as possible if you can make it, because if you can't, we want to ask somebody else."

They were insulted, and said we were rude. Were we?

OUT OF LINE?

DEAR OUT: No! On the contrary, they should have felt flattered.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In reference to your recent advice to "Confused" concerning marriage between a Lutheran and Catholic, neither of whom wanted to be married in the other's church. Recent changes in the Roman Catholic Church now permit a Catholic to be married by a minister, rabbi or civil official when there is sufficient reason and permission of local bishop is obtained.

Sincerely,

LT. R. L., CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN, U.S.N., MILTON, FLA.

Dowdy Aide Sentenced

BALTIMORE (AP) — A witness in the Rep. John Dowdy bribery trial has been assessed a five-year sentence, probated.

The witness is Myrvin C. Clark, who testified he delivered $25,000 bribery money to the congressman from Athens, Tex.

U.S. District Court Judge Rosze, C. Thomsen, who sentenced Clark after a guilty plea, praised Clark for "telling the truth" before the grand jury and on the witness stand.

Clark, 52, pleaded guilty to conspiracy charges stemming from the Dowdy case and entered a no contest plea to charges arising out of an attempt to defraud a Baltimore manufacturer in a scheme which allegedly involved the misuse of former House Speaker John W. McCormack's office.

Dowdy, who continues to serve in Congress, has appealed his conviction and sentence of 18 months imprisonment on charges of taking the bribe. Dowdy did not seek re-election.

Clark testified that Nathan Cohen, president of the now defunct Monarch Construction Co., supplied the $25,000 cash in an attempt to sidetrack a Justice Department investigation of his home repair firm.

Only Sure Way To Reform Insurance Mess In Texas?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The only sure way to reform insurance regulation in Texas is to eliminate the State Board of Insurance the board's former chairman said Sunday.

Larry Teaver, whose appointment to the board was rejected by the Senate July 7, appeared on "Capital Eye," a radio-television news panel show.

"We cannot eliminate the influence of the (insurance) industry without" getting rid of the board and replacing it with some other means of regulation, he said.

Teaver asserted that the remaining two board members, Durwood Manford and Ned Price, are dominated by insurance companies.

"Both members have been on the board approximately 12 years. They were not insurance men at the time of their appointment, and their only source of education has been the company people. They are totally oriented in the company direction. I have had many instances on the board where company people would actually come in and order the board to issue orders," Teaver said.

The former chairman said the board should be replaced either by an elected insurance commissioner or by a nin-member, part-time citizen board.

Spitting Pets Ordered To Leave

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Two pet llamas with the habit of spitting at a neighbor have been ordered to leave the Dr. E. H. Rentschler property.

The county planning commission has given Rentschler, who has kept the animals in a 1½-acre area for five years, until November to dispose of the woolly beasts.

Kenneth Disney complained that the llamas spit at him when he got near the Rentschler fence. He said one of the animals kicked him once.

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor tells me I have a germ called salmonella and has given me antibiotics for it, but it doesn't seem to clear up. Is it dangerous and can it be cured? — Mrs. G.M.

Salmonella infection, at last getting some deserved publicity, is vastly more prevalent than people suppose, largely because it is passed off as "something I ate" or "intestinal flu" or some other such vague identity.

The germ is harbored in the intestinal tract and in the excreta, and is spread largely through food that has become contaminated, or by the fingers.

Recent warnings about turtles as pets are an example of this. Turtles often carry the germ, and youngsters who play with the critters and then forget to wash their hands can easily be infected.

Other domestic animals (cats, dogs, cows, chickens, pigs) also can carry the germ. Salmonella is, indeed, a very common germ.

Salmonella also can multiply very rapidly, and a small contamination can become a flourishing one quite rapidly. It accounts for a great deal of the "food poisoning" at church or community dinners, on picnics, etc.

The symptoms are in the digestive tract — diarrhea, vomiting, abdominal cramps. They appear from one to several days after exposure.

Generally speaking, salmonella infection is more a nuisance than dangerous, but it can make life thoroughly miserable for a few days.

Antibiotics usually subdue it readily, but having it once doesn't protect you from having it again. If your case hasn't responded to treatment, I would supect some source in your environment from which it keeps recurring. Cracked eggs, for example, are a possible source — the germs multiply with great rapidity in raw egg. But cooking destroys the germs, and that's why I am suspicious of raw eggs and want mine cooked.

Some individuals become chronic carriers of salmonella which I suppose could be the case with you. A more potent antibiotic may be necessary. I presume you have told your doctor that you don't seem to be throwing off the germ as readily as expected.

Guests were served refreshments from a table laid with white net over yellow linen and appointed with silver. The centerpiece was of yellow and white daisies.

Miss Carlile, who was attired in a navy and white dress, was presented a corsage of yellow carnations. Similar corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs. Elton Carlile, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Marshal Day.

Menswear Designers Wage War

ROME (AP) — Italian men's designers have declared war on the classic dinner jacket.

In fact, the fall-wintcr collections shown here Sunday spurned any kind of dressy evening wear. The closest one designer came to it was with shantung kimono-type jackets or the military tunic of some comic strip character.

Designers appeared to have passed the word around to concentrate on sporty outfits with their tweedy jackets, plaids and fancy checks.

The couturiers widened their ties and kept their jackets narrow, though seldom marking the waist. One favored high buttoned vests that peeped out from the suit coats.

Valentini squared shoulders and gave many of his outfits an almost oblong shape. In particular, he designed suede-cloth uniform tunics, closed by a zip fastener, from which a polo-neck sweater emerged.

He used the same style for an evening suit, all black except for the hand-painted gold patterns across the top. This outfit was closed under one arm giving the impression it had been molded over the model.

In many cases, the designers did away with buttons and closed jackets with a zipper. One couturier, however, not only kept buttons but covered them with the same fabric as his suits.

Magical Spell Of Old Barn Lures New Home Builders

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Television-Radio Writer

There has always been a romance between women and old barns that casts its spell even more when they are exposed to bucolic scenery. Now young homemakers have caught on to the magical spell of the barn and many traipse countrysides trying to find one they can afford to buy.

The sad truth is that old barns in accessible areas are expensive to buy with land and expensive to renovate, more so if the barn is to serve as a year-round home.

But does an old barn need to be old? One house hunter asked herself that paradoxical question after seeing a number of old barns that defied repairing and cost a mint. But she couldn't bring herself to abandon the idea and her thoughts jelled when she wondered why they do not build barn-style architecture for houses. Why not? So she's planning to build a new-old barn and she expects it will cost her less than another kind of house.

She is not the first to make this decision. And, in at least one instance, a woman succeeded in making her barn so large it is really an eyesore.

But, currently, this barn seeker has invested in a piece of land a little distance from the beaten path, so that she can still be with it, but not overwhelmed by the traffic.

Next, she will engage an architect to design the barn-style house with rafters and collar-beams exposed. She envisions a gambrel roof that she admires on barns, a bit picture window where the hayloft normally is and maybe some skylights in the roof. A big pair of double doors will further complete the picture.

The interior will be a combination den-lodge-barn room with a big stone fireplace, random-width flooring, kitchen, bath. On a three-side rustically built balcony, she will have bedrooms.

Old barn architecture will give her the opportunity to use rustic barn materials—pine, rough-sawn cedar. Outside she may have the boards treated to look old. (If there is time she might even have the wood buried in compost and manure to age it, but this, she admits, would be a big job.)

The advantage of a barn-type house is that it will be stripped of its extraneous doodads. No fancy moldings or complicated doors or windows. Maintenance of a barn-type construction, as she envisions it, would be easy, and painting could be held to a minimum if the exterior is left to weather or it could be painted barn red so that fading looks attractive.

She expects no opposition from her husband. In her opinion, most women would have little difficulty selling a husband on the idea of a barn. The average man is not usually as neat as women are and couldn't care less about a gussied-up interior. He doesn't want to worry about washing down walls, tiptoeing over wall-to-wall carpet or painting the exterior of a house.

Although most people cannot fatham why the barn represents such an inspiring concept in living to them, it may be that it is the only architecture, aside from modern design, that is compatible with today's lifestyle. Where it is difficult to get the average builder to do a modern house, if indeed one would prefer the contemporary exterior to the traditional one, he may well relate to the barn style. And if one is lucky enough to latch on to an old carpenter, he may even have helped his father build one.

One may see old barns advertised for sale if removed from their location, but if this idea is entertained it should be a carefully thought-out project. It is not easy to remove an old barn with its heavy timbers, and if one is to reconstruct it, the boards must be preserved. When such barns are offered free to takers, one can afford to risk it. But if one has an investment at stake, every lost board would be a tragedy.

In one area where four men worked for a week removing an old barn, their patience proved to be an exercise in futility. When their truck arrived to pick up the old barn wood, which they planned to erect on another site, someone had beaten them to it.

'ROUND TOWN

We're almost in the exact middle of the vacation period and the weekend has found a number of people leaving on trips and other families are entertaining the children or friends here.

* * *

The L. B. EDWARDSES have their daughter, MRS. KELLEY LAWRENCE 11, and her three sons, Dennis, David and Donald here from Houston. Along with them are their friends, MRS. JERRY WOOTEN and her sons, Brent and Shane. The Lawrence boys will remain here until Aug. 1. They are also visiting their other grandmother, MRS. KELLEY LAWRENCE SR.

* * *

Two families, traveling in campers, left early Saturday for a fishing trip in the Ozarks. MR. and MRS. CURTIS STRONG and the children and MR. and MRS. L. K. GLADDEN and their son will travel together to Arkansas for the vacation.

* * *

The CLYDE ANGELS were in Brownwood over the weekend to attend a reunion of the Angel family.

* * *

MR. and MRS. K. H. McGIBBON are in Bloomington, Ind., where they took their three-year-old grandson back home to his parents, DR. and MRS. CHARLES WEBB. The Webbs and the older boys had left the youngster here while they took a vacation trip.

Bridge Tournament Slated In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — The 21st annual summer tournament of the Fort Western Bridge Unit No. 183 is to be played at the Tarrant County Convention Center here from Aug. 4-6. The event has been sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge League, Greenwich, Conn., the national organization and assigned sectional rating for award of master points. Trophies are to be presented.

To encourage newcomers to bridge to compete in tournament competition, a special event for tyros, those having no more than nine master points, is scheduled for Aug. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Men's and women's pairs are on the program at 1:30 p.m., Aug. 4, and the master's pairs match, limited to those having at least 20 points, is to be played at 7:30 p.m., that day.

The two-session open pairs is on the program at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m., Aug. 5.

The Swiss team of four, the pastime's most popular event on Aug. 6 at 12:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m., is the final match. Its acceptance has been world-wide because it is an opportunity to acquire more points for life master, the game's highest designation, without diluting the caliber of play, said Dr. Henry G. Gardiner, spokesman for the sponsoring organization.

The hospitality program includes social hours, dancing and the traditional buffet on the final day.

A. Kennety Stone, Fort Worth, has been named senior director. He is to be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Emery, Wichita Falls, the only husband-wife directing team in the country. All are on the staff of the national organization.

About 600 are expected to compete for the points and trophies.

Job Ad Turns Tears To Smiles

Eva Furst, 58, was unhappy when her daughter Trudi gave up an unsuccessful operatic career to become a fashion model. She was unhappier still when Trudi advertised for a job.

But tears turned to smiles at the arrival of the first answer to the ad. It was from Widow Furst's brother Willy, who had been separated from the family during the war and had never located his sister afterwards.

Class Entertained With 42 Party

The Barbara Reagan Class of the First Baptist Church was entertained with a 42 party at the home of their teacher, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Friday night. Mrs. Hogan was assisted by Mrs. L. K. Gladden, for the affair at which husbands were guests.

Mike McCrearys Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Michael L. McCreary, 1306 Wood, announce the birth of a daughter, Lara Lynn, at 5:12 a.m. Monday at Medical Center Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed 8 pounds, 2¾ ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs.. C. E. Wisener of Abilene, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McCreary, 1302 E. 18th.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

No doubt there are many folks who've wondered what to give an elderly person as a gift. Here's a suggestion.

My mother has had her 84th birthday. I don't know why I never before thought of the gift that we got for her.

It was a transitor radio, which she dearly loves!

In the summer when the flowers are all so pretty, she likes to sit out in the backyard. Out goes that transitor with her! She says it is such company when she is enjoying the beautiful outdoors. She listens to the news and all the talk shows.

Being an ardent baseball fan, she really knows now what team is playing where, and who is winning or losing!. . . Lucille Natoli

How sweet of you. I can just see your mother rooting for her favorite team!

A bushel of love and good wishes to you and to your dear mother. . . . Heloise

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Here's an idea for a faded chaise longue cushion . . .

I bought a pretty flowered (but inexpensive) twin fitted sheet with the elastic in the corners to use for a cover.

Not only does the sheet stay on better than anything else I've tried, but that old cusion looks 100 per cent better! . . . Betty Pavek

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise:

I received one of your books as a gift while I was in the hospital.

It does make a dandy present. You can put it down any time you get tired without breaking a trend of thought (as with some other book).

You also can learn something new! So often you do a thing for years without realizing there's an easier way.

It was nice chatting with you. . . . Hilde Hopkins

* * *

Dear Heloise:

My two boys are seven years apart in age.

The older one outgrew some of the toys he had. Because they were still too advanced for the baby, they were put away.

When the baby was old enough to enjoy these toys, I put them in good shape with a bit of soap and water.

Small children do not examine for newness, so the toys were thoroughly enjoyed the second time around with no expense at all. . . . Muriel Angelillo

* * *

Dear Heloise:

While preparing fresh green beans for freezing, I hit on these two ideas:

First, instead of snapping the beans by hand, I used the scissors. It seemed to be faster and easier for me.

Since I had too many beans to blanch at one time, and because I didn't want to boil water more than once, I used the basket of my deep fryer.

The beans in the basket were put into the boiling water. When the beans were ready to come out of the water, I just picked up the basket and the beans drained themselves.

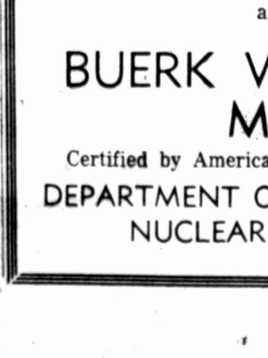

And I could use the already boiling water again until all the beans were blanched.

It really saved me a lot of time! . . . Sally DeVaney

A LOVELIER YOU

Light, Loose Attire Is Air Conditioning

By MARY SUE MILLER

What's your system for keeping cool? It's surprising how many of us cling to outmoded ideas on the subject that cause us avoidable discomfort and disarray.

These are cool facts: Scanty attire will not keep you cool on town or city streets. Neither will dark cover-ups like jeans with murky clinging bodyshirts. This carries on down to bare feet in flimsy strip sandals.

Acting like a thermostat to regulate the body's own cooling mechanism is non-constricting clothing — light-weight, light-colored, absorbent and cover-up. Thus a brimmed straw hat, long-sleeved cotton voile dress, sheer pale stockings and ventilated kid pumps perform like a personal air-conditioning system.

You'll know that is so when you think how desert nomads always wear white. Our own researchers have worked with weight and colors, and proven light shades in thin fabrics to be coolers.

"Non-constricting" apparal is vital to the scheme. Tight underpinnings or collars, armholes, and belts not only make for heat but for chafe.

Over and above clothing, a mere film of makeup and a sleek hairdo are cool and look it. The gels offer the skin a natural, healthy finish in summer. Protein pomade polishes and smooths your locks into place. Add just a touch of ferny cologne and you will be the cool one.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Everything you need to know about deodorants, anti-perspirants and depilatories is contained in my leaflet, "Strictly Personal." All doubts are cleared up about why, what, when and how to use these safeguards of femininity. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

NEW RADICAL—ANYONE NEAR AGE 30 WHO WEARS BEADS

Political Convention Glossary Of Useful Terms

By MICHAEL O'CONNOR
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — With the Democratic National Convention over, it might be appropriate to begin a primer for Republicans to read for use in Miami Beach next month.

As they say, Republicans don't need any lessons about such things as practical political instructions. But some Democrats went to Florida last week thinking the same thing and went home muttering.

The problem, it appears, is how politicians interpret new election expressions. For the Grand Old Party's homework here are a few of the established terms and what they actually meant for Democrats in convention.

Political consultant with resume — Anyone who worked for Hubert H. Humphrey, Edmund Muskie, Shirley Chisholm, Henry Jackson, John Lindsay, Sam Yorty, Wilbur Mills, George Wallace, etc., etc., in 1972.

VOICE VOTE

New politics — An institution accredited in all states where inmates are qualified to run the asylum.

Voice vote — The manner in which an issue is resolved amicably whether 13 or 3,015 delegates are on the floor at 6 a.m.

NEW RADICAL

Democratic Party debt — An estimated $9.3 million but best illustrated by sharp words between delegates and restaurant employes on the size of tips in a tight year.

Convention parliamentarian — A failure in high school debate with a slight hearing problem who has trouble reading lips.

New radical — Anyone near age 30 who wears beads.

Point of order — Tipoff to delegation chairman for master convention hall control panel to turn off your microphone.

Slippage — A term often used to describe a candidate's slow loss of delegate support. It is most appropriately used now to indicate the direction a delegate goes when he sees the size of a one-week hotel bill in Miami Beach.

GOOD FIELD, NO HIT

Viability — The political quality necessary for any man who indorsed Muskie in March, leaned to Humphrey in April, had "strong feelings" about Mills in June and now believes that Democrats have the power to "disagree without being disagreeable."

A visceral candidate — Good field, no hit.

Cohesion — The sticky sensation one experiences after peeling off stockings after wearing the same pair during a 22-hour day.

Some Structures Moved Three Or Four Times

LARGE BUILDING HELD UP FOUR YEARS AGO (83 FT. X 26 FT.)

"We have moved several building three or four times. It makes you think you did a good job." That's the pride of Charles Hood House Moving.

A bonded and insured firm with 25 years of experience, this conscientious firm has moved innumerable structures in the Howard County area.

Recently, Hood moved an 83 by 26 foot building from Webb Air Force Base to Midway, just off Interstate 20 on the Moss Creek Road. The same structure Hood moved on the base about four years ago to be used as part of the hospital.

OLD CUSTOMERS

Charles Hood thanks his old customers for repetitive requests of services. Satisfied customers speak for themselves, and, it would seem, that anyone who has had a house moved by Charles Hood will be happy to have him move the same house again.

The reputable company is equipped with only the finest in heavy-duty moving equipment designed to move any house in Big Spring. Structures can be moved to new location in the city or in the county.

Hood has a fine reputation for taking every precaution to prevent damaging a building in raising, transporting or setting in on a new foundation.

Proper bracing and anchoring is assured. In fact, Charles Hood guarantees his work. His men stay with customer until he is completely satisfied.

Because Charles Hood is a local mover, he will be here to stand behind his work.

Bonded, insured and reputable, Charles Hood is ready and able at the disposal of the customer for any house-moving task. Phone 263-4547 or 263-3046 at any time of the day or night for quick, efficient and safe transferral of any type structure. Feel free to call on the Hood office on North Birdwell Lane.

Use Braille Code

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Work by engineers in three countries to develop an auxiliary switchboard console using Braille code may help provide more jobs for blind persons. The console, connected to a switchboard, has a panel with holes corresponding to the buttons on the regular console. It has pins which rise and fall to identify incoming calls and busy lines. The unit was built in Holland by a Swedish firm at the request of the local Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co. Ltd.

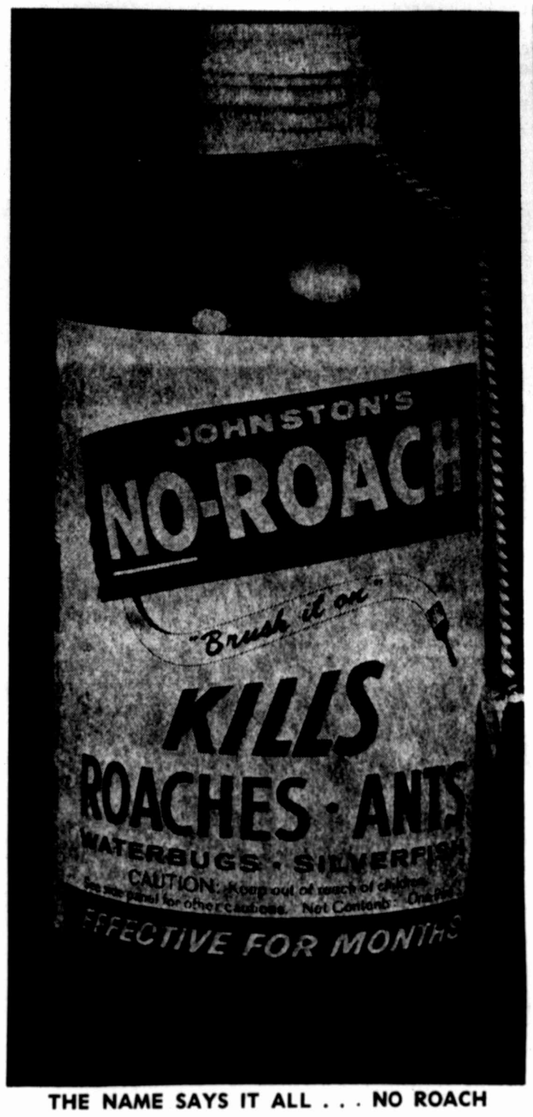

SHAKESPEARE:

What's In A Name?

And the Johnston people answered: "A complete description of our product . . . that's what!" As a matter of fact, the Johnston people are absolutely right. They make a product called No-Roach. The name says it all: No-Roach. What No-Roach promises . . . what No-Roach does . . . all right in the name. And if the Johnston people were to add to the name of their product enough letters to describe how to use No-Roach, it would still be a short, simple name. Like "brush-on".

That's all there is to Johnston's No-Roach. Just brush it on . . . and the cockroach population will begin to decrease immediately. That's true of any other crawling pest problem you might have, too. Johnston's No-Roach is a compound that quietly, very discretely works for you night and day . . . infecting every insect that crawls across its path with a deadly poison that lingers long enough for the carriers to get back to the nests and infect the unborn eggs. And No-Roach does this without any attention from the housewife, not even any tell-tale odor to give away the secret.

Easy-to-use, odorless, and . . . as the name tells you . . . effective. What more could any householder ask for? No more . . . say the Johnston people. Just ask for Johnston's No-Roach . . . as simple to use as it is effective.

THE NAME SAYS IT ALL . . . NO ROACH

You can obtain Johnston's No-Roach at: Safeway, Furr's Piggly Wiggly, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. Dist. by Kimbell.

Keaton Kolor Extending Big Thank You To Big Springers

In a new building, offering to the amateur and professional photographer more services than ever before, is the same reliable Keaton Kolor that has come to be known over West Texas as the place for the fastest service.

Last month's Grand Opening of the new location at 1309 Gregg St. has given Keaton Kolor a renewed confidence in its services to Big Spring. Hundreds of hometowners and children of Big Spring participated in the grand opening celebration, wherein a hundred rolls of film were given away with a processing order and children's cameras were given away to the first hundred children to go by the new building.

NEW ADDITION

Keaton Kolor wants to extend a great big Texas "Thank you" to Big Spring for the warm response to the opening of the new building.

To round out the selection of nationally known Kodak equipment, a line of famous greeting cards has been added aid in the presentation of selected family photos to be sent to distant relatives.

The beautiful Ambassador, occasion greeting cards will make the perfect accompaniment to any photo of the kids to be sent to grandma and grandpa. The Ambassador line will be at Keaton Kolor very soon.

It should not be forgotten that Keaton Kolor still offers the one day processing of Kodakolor film which made the concern famous several years ago.

Keaton Kolor's reputation is founded on the idea that family photos need not require several days in processing. Submit your film for processing one day to Keaton Kolor, and the results are ready for you one day thereafter on the famous high-quality Kodak color processing papers.

Those who perfer to process their own photographs, whether it be black-and-white or color, have the famous Kodak processing chemicals and materials from which to choose for reliable results every time.

Whether an Instamatic camera or a $200 Vivitar lens is the desire of the shutter-bug, Keaton Kolor can get — and they can get it fast. At 1309 Gregg in Big Spring is big city photo service at the small town price.

NO WAY TO TREAT A LADY — Ride 'em, Sheila. And that she did. Sheila Bussey of Longview, Tex., kept aboard the bull named Snake long enough Sunday to win her second goround in the Girls Rodeo Association Western Roundup — and win All-Around Cowgirl honors. Earlier this season Miss Bussey won the only other GRA-sanctioned all-girl rodeo, at Duncan, Okla.

Province's Bloodiest Since 1922

BELFAST (AP) — Nearly 4,000 Roman Catholic women and children camped overnight in a football field after leaving their homes in a Belfast battle zone to protest the British Army's occupation of the area.

Five more deaths Sunday pushed Northern Ireland's toll this year to 236 killed, already the worst since 232 died in sectarian battling in 1922. A land mine killed two British soldiers at Crossmaglen; a policeman and a civilian were shot in Belfast, and an 18-year-old youth died in a riot in Strabane.

The Catholic women and children followed their priest, Father Jack Fitzsimmons, out of the Lenadoon Avenue area Sunday claiming the army's show of force was "endangering their lives."

The troops and gunmen of the Irish Republican Army have been squared off in the area since last Thursday. Despite army fears that the exodus was planned to clear the ground for a massive IRA attack, there were only sporadic incidents.

Father Fitzsimmons and other community leaders negotiated until after midnight with British officials in an attempt to get the troops pulled out. Meanwhile, the women and children bedded down in the open or in tents at nearby Casement Park.

They left their men behind to guard their homes against looters.

The Lenadoon area is a modern housing development where the IRA's 13-day cease-fire broke down last week in a row over housing allocations.

Early today, troops claimed they had shot two gunmen in a squad of four that traded shots for two hours with the army across the Andersonstown area, of which Lenadoon Avenue is part.

Fischer Backs Down On Threat To Go Home, Holds Game Edge

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer goes into the playoff of the third game of the world chess championship today holding the initiative over titleholder Boris Spassky of the Soviet Union.

The American challenger, after keeping the match in suspense with protests against TV and movie cameras, forced the start of the third game Sunday to a private room offstage.

Spassky threw the competition into doubt early today by saying he would refuse to play again in the private room. Chief Referee Lothar Schmid announced shortly after noon, however, that the adjourned game would go on in the main hall where the 24-game match began last Tuesday.

DISTURBED HIM

Fischer had said that the cameras in the main exhibition hall of the Sports Palace disturbed him.

The opening of Fischer's 41st move was the signal for the resumption of play.

The 29-year-old Brooklynite backed down on a threat to fly home Sunday and appeared for the third game in a small upstairs room of the Reykjavik sports hall. Spassky, 35, playing the white pieces, had already made his first move.

Fighting to overcome the Russian's 2-0 lead, Fischer forced Spassky to the defensive midway in the 5-hour, 18-minute session. At adjournment he was in a position to threaten the Russian's king. At the pause, each player had his king, queen and one bishop remaining while Fischer had six pawns to Spassky's five.

Isaac Kashdan, the international grandmaster analyzing the match for The Associated Press, said Fischer had excellent winning chances. He said in a clash of grandmasters, the one pawn advantage could be decisive.

Spassky won their opening game at Reykjavik last week and was declared winner of the second by forfeit when Fischer failed to appear because he objected to hidden television cameras filming the match.

Officials overruled the American's appeal against the forfeit, and until the last minute it was uncertain if Fischer would continue. He and two lawyers assisting him in Iceland had seats booked on a Sunday afternoon flight to New York, but they did not leave. Instead, at Fischer's insistence, the match was moved to the small room and the audience of paying fans in the big sports hall downstairs watched on closed circuit television. Apparently Fischer had no objection to that TV equipment.

But Referee Lothar Schmid announced he had moved the third game into the private room "just for today . . . just to save the match."

Schmid said the rest of the games would be played in the hall.

Spassky's aides described the offstage room as a "chess cupboard" and warned that the Russian would not play any more games in it.

B52s Keep Up Heavy Raids, Reinforcements Move South

SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 100 U.S. B52 bombers and a naval task force of more than a dozen cruisers and destroyers blasted North Vietnamese positions on both sides of the demilitarized zone today in some of the heaviest bombardments of the war.

The raids were in support of a 20,000-man South Vietnamese counteroffeive on the northern front. They had the two-fold objective of destroying North Vietnamese troops and supplies already on the battleground and cutting off reinforcements and war materials reportedly moving south.

The Saigon command reported light fighting on the edges of Quang Tri, the provincial capital which fell to the North Vietnamese May 1. It said South Vietnamese paratroopers driving from the East had inched their way to within 200 to 300 yards of the Citadel, the 19th century fortress in the heart of the city.

A dozen B52s struck north of the demilitarized zone on both sides of the port city of Dong Hoi against elements of two North Vietnamese divisions. U.S. military sources said the troops were on the move southward, presumably to join two badly battered divisions in Quang Tri province.

More than 80 giant Stratofortresses struck to the North, West, South and Southwest of Quang Tri city, dropping about 2,500 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese positions.

The U.S. Navy said the destroyer Shelton destroyed nearly 30 North Vietnamese emplacements and triggered 10 secondary explosions in bombardment near Quang Tri city. Other ships of the 13-vessel task force firing from offshore included the guided missile cruiser Oklahoma City, flagship of the 7th Fleet, and the destroyer escort Hepburn.

Another task force made up of the destroyers Robison, Hammer, Warrington and Hull bombarded transshipment points and storage areas above the DMZ. The 7th Fleet said the Hull and Robison also destroyed two boatloads of supplies taken off freighters—presumed to be Chinese—at a point southwest of Hon La island, about 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. The freighters were not attacked.

The U.S. Command reported that American fighter-bombers flew more than 240 strikes against North Vietnam on Sunday. All of the raids were well below Hanoi in the southern half of the country.

Postal Employe Becomes Texas Legion Commander

HOUSTON (AP) — A Nederland postal employe, James P. Holley, was named District Commander of the Texas Department of the American Legion here Sunday as the fourday, 54th annual state convention came to a close.

Holley led a field of seven in the hotly contested race for the commander's post.

The election campaign was an unexpected one following the withdrawal of former Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr, who had been unopposed.

Carr withdrew from the ballot last week after being indicted by a federal grand jury in Fort Worth for allegedly siphoning funds from National Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, a now defunct firm formerly controlled by convicted Houston financier Frank Sharp.

The Legion delegates also approved a resolution asking the U.S. Congress to approve increased educational benefits for Vietnam veterans.

The present training allowance is scarcely adequate to keep the veterans in school, the resolution said.

New Legion officials in addition to Holley include Quincy Main of Harlingen, historian; Lawrence Dennis of Kingsland, judge advocate; J.M. Martinez of Laredo, sergeant at arms; I. G. Sheppard of Brownsville, treasurer; Clayton Mann of Wichita Falls, national executive committeeman; and Robert P. Walsh of San Antonio, alternate committeeman.

The Rev. James H. Murray of Houston was reappointed chaplain and Larry Lahaie of Kilgore was reappointed membership chairman.

Holley said after his election he and other Texas Legionaires will attend the national convention of the Legion Aug. 20-23 in Chicago. Among those attending will be Joe L. Mathews of Fort Worth, the only announced candidate so far for national commander of the organization.

Wilbur's Bill

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. (AP) Any aspirations Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., might have for the presidency or vice presidency apparently won't jeopardize his House seat.

A special Arkansas law, approved this year especially for Mills, provides that any Arkansan who seeks the presidency or vice presidency also shall be eligible to seek any office in Arkansas.

The legislation whisked through the Arkansas General Assembly under the fanciful appellation, "Wilbur Bill."

Mills is unopposed for re-election to the House.

Diamond Rush In Arkansas

MURFREESBORO Ark. (AP) — For the price of admission fortune hunters may hunt for diamonds on a finders-keepers basis in the only diamond-producing mine in North America, located near Murfreesboro.

Since the 80-acre Cater of Diamonds first was mined commercially in 1906, more than 60,000 stones have been discovered. While most average 50 diamonds to a carat, about 8 per cent have been of gem quality.

The largest was the Uncle Sam. Discovered in 1924 and weighing 40.23 carats, the gem was cut to 14.42 carats.

In early 1972, the state purchased the Crater of Diamonds from a private concern for $750,000 and it now is a state park.

Bikers, Fans Stage Battle

ELDERSBURG, Md. (AP) — State police said three persons received gunshot wounds and two others were stabbed in what officials described as a "bloody confrontation" at a rally of some 2,500 cyclists and fans near here.

Authorities charged 11 persons with violations ranging from carrying a concealed weapon to assault with intent to murder in the Sunday afternoon melee.

The disturbance erupted as cyclists were told by rally organizers that scheduled races were canceled because of the crowd's rowdiness, police said.

About 30 riot-equipped state troopers were called to the rally site to quell the disturbance.

One of the arrested, Eugene L. Johnson Jr., 27, of Wilmington, Del., was charged with assault with attempt to murder, state police reported.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SEX URGE (Q.) My boy friend and I have only one problem. We want to have sex. We are about to go crazy. We are both very much in love, but I have promised myself to wait until I married. I have told him this and he said OK, but we both keep on wanting to. Please help us. He is 18 and I am 14. — Hurting in Maine.

(A.) I am afraid you and your boy friend may be spendng too much time alone together with too little to do. When a boy and girl do this, sex almost inevitably is hard to resist.

See less of the boy, and when you are with him arrange to be with other people too. Sports events, parties, swimming, dancing, church activities — places where there is a crowd — seek them out. You will be safer.

* * *

AWAY FROM HOME: (Q.) I have just graduated from high school and am going to a nearby town to a beauty school. The course will last two months. I will receive about $200 a month, and will live with my aunt during that time.

My question is how much I should pay her for my board and room. I will eat at least two meals a day with her. She will also do my laundry. — Nearly 18 in Wisconsin.

(A.) The answer depends largely on your aunt's attitude and on her financial status. Discuss finances frankly with her. She may refuse to let you pay anything. If this is so, you should give her a nice thank-you gift after your "visit."

If you pay, I would consider $85 to $100 a month reasonable and fair.

Space-Age Food

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — A research scientist from Yorkshire has suggested that on future missions space men may be able to eat furniture in their craft.

Dr. Tim de Dombal, addressing a caterers' asociation conference in Sussex, explained that bulkheads made of compressed meats may be the answer to the problem of feeding men on long space missions. "Instrument panels used for only part of the journey could be built from prepared vegetables," he said.

Bucs Clobber Astros Twice

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are a mess medically, but their National League East lead is growing as fast as their casualty list.

Roberto Clemente's virus, Richie Hebner's strained ankle tendon and Bill Mazeroski's pulled thigh muscle forced manager Bill Virdon to doctor his lineup for Sunday's doubleheader with Houston.

The wounded Pirates swept the two games by identical 3-2 scores, but they paid the price in bruises.

In the opener, Robertson was struck on the wrist by a pitch with the bases loaded in the 10th innings and forced across the winning run.

In the second game, Bruce Kison, recently bedridden with a virus, hurled a four-hitter despite a line drive that left its mark on his right buttock.

The two victories widened Pittsburgh's hold on first to 4½ games over the New York Mets, 7-3 losers at San Diego.

Houston, which has lost six straight and nine of 12 to Pittsburgh, limped out of town trailing Cincinnati by five games in the West Division.

"I'll do almost anything to get an RBI—but not this," Robertson said after the opener, rubbing a bruise left on his right wrist from a pitch from Fred Gladding.

Texas Wins On Perfect Bunt

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — As a player, Ted Williams was never particularly concerned about bunting.

"But as a manager, I've come to appreciate it as a make-you-or-break-you play," the Texas manager said after his Rangers beat the Cleveland Indians 3-2 in 12 innings Sunday night. "We haven't been bunting very well and it's probably cost us a few games. Tonight we won a game with a bunt."

Lenny Randle singled with one out in the 12th and took second on reliefer Horacio Pina's perfectly executed sacrifice bunt. Dave Nelson's single to center sent Randle, who had moved to third on a wild pitch, home with the game-winning run.

Two Miles To Go, And Kenyon Runs Out Of Gas

By The Associated Press

Old pro Joe Leonard had known all along that he didn't have the fastest car in Sunday's 200-mile race for Indianapolis-type cars at Michigan International Speedway.

But he knew he could finish the race and that was what he set out to do—hoping for a bit of luck along the way.

He got it with less than two miles to go. Mel Kenyon, another warhorse racer, was leading Leonard by almost a lap. Suddenly, Kenyon's Gilmore Special-Offy lost power going down the back stretch. He was out of gas.

Leonard moved into the lead and went on to win handily over Wally Dallenbach in an STP—Lola, with Kenyon coming in third and Sammy Sessions fourth. Lee Kunzman, a rookie, was fifth.

In other weekend activity, Chevrolet-driving Bobby Allison won a 300-mile race for Grand National cars of the National Association For Stock Car Auto Racing at Trenton, N.J. His race speed was 114.030 m.p.h. Bobby Isaac was second in a Dodge, Richard Petty third in a Plymouth, Fred Lorenzen fourth in a Chevrolet and Cecil Gordon fifth in a Ford.

ASTROS SCORE — Houston Astros pitcher Tom Griffin, in jacket, leaps for the plate ahead of throw to Pirates' catcher Manny Sanguillen during action in first game of doubleheader in Pittsburgh Sunday afternoon. Griffin was safe on the second inning play at the plate. The Pirates won both games and shoved the Astros five games back of Cincinnati.

Colbert Bogies Last Hole But Wins Milwaukee Open

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jim Colbert said he played the best pressure golf of his life in posting his second victory in seven years on the pro tour, but the Greater Milwaukee Open nearly lasted one hole too long Sunday for the 31-year-old Kansan.

Colbert was 14 under par for the meet and nursing a two-stroke lead when he bogeyed the 72nd hole. Then he watched under heart-stopping tension while charging George Johnson and steady Bud Allin, the final twosome, each barely missed birdies which would have forced a sudden-death playoff.

Colbert's final 69 on the par 71 Tripoli Golf Club course earned his $25,000 with a 13-under total of 271. Johnson, who had shared the second and third round leads with Colbert, finished a stroke behind along with Allin, Grier Jones and Chuck Courtney.

Courtney's 64 Sunday was the tournament's best single round, but it was Johnson, one of seven blacks on the tour, who electrified the crowd of 13,250 with a spectacular finishing kick.

Johnson, whose only pro victory was in the 1971 Azalea satellite meet, fell to seven-under with a double bogey on the third hole and bogeys on each of the next three.

But he started the back nine and birdied 12 and 13 to close to within two strokes.

Cards Keep Unblemished Record, Beating Colts 4-1

PLAINVIEW — The Big Spring Cardinals stretched their season's record to 16-0 here Sunday with a 4-1 victory over the Plainview Colts. The two teams meet in Big Spring next Sunday in a double-header.

The Cards jumped to a short lead in the first when Rodriquez walked, advanced on fielders' choices and came one on Zapata's single. The Colts knotted it in the bottom of the first on Barron's triple and Zapata's single. Rodriquez, safe on a fielder's choice, and P. Martin Martinez, who had singled, came home in the sixth on Benny Marquez' single. Olague singled in the seventh, advanced on a passed ball and concluded the scoring on J. Martinez' single.

Jody Flores, on the hill for the Cards, handcuffed Plainview with four hits, three of them singles, allowed only two walks. All nine Card hits were singles.

Marsha Talley Sets Record

SNYDER — Girls from Garden City fared well at the Snyder Invitatinal Track Meet here Saturday.

In the PeeWee division, Coleen Colvert placed second in the broad jump and third in the 75-yard dash. Sharon Smith was first in the 75-yard dash and third in the broad jump.

The team of Carol McPherson, Tammy Sawyer, Patsy Blizzard and Donna Reid was fifth in the relay in the Midget division.

Crystal Overton, Danetta Schaffer, Bebee Doe and Keitha Coffman were fifth in the relay in the Bantam division.

Miss Blizzard captured third place in the 50-yard dash and sixth in the 100-yard dash.

In the junior relay, Lisa Schaffer, Janice Fowler, Evette Coffman and Vicki Reed were fourth-place finishers.

Marsha Talley won the 100-yard dash in the intermediate division with a time of 10.8, a state Junior Olympia record. She was also first in the 220-yard dash with 25.4.

The team was coached by Miss Talley, a student at Garden City High School.

Crenshaw Wins Mississippi

DALLAS (AP) — Ben Crenshaw is right on schedule for his personal goal to capture the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship and if hard work means anything, the 20-year-old University of Texas ace, should make it.

Crenshaw, the NCAA co-champion, shot three-under par golf to down Houston stock broker John Paul Cain 4-and-3 Sunday to add the 69th Trans-Mississippi Golf Championship to a long list of titles.

Little League District Tournament Opens Today

The District Three Little League Tournament begins tonight when the Texas League of Big Spring plays Midland Northern. Game time is 8 p.m. at the American League park on the HCJC campus.

Several hundred fans are expected for the first encounter, and stands will accomodate around 900.

Players will be introduced on both teams, and each will receive a pin denoting that they participated in the district tournament. There is no admission, but a collection will be taken.

The tourney will continue through July 27 when the championship game will be played. There will be one game each night except Sunday.

Teams from Big Spring will be in first round action through Thursday. Big Spring International will play Midland Northwestern Tuesday night, Big Spring National will play Midland Southern Wednesday and Big Spring American will play Tower Thursday night. Friday, North Central and Eastern of Midland will play.

The winner of this tournament will earn the right to play the District Four champion Aug. 1 at the American League Park. The winner of that contest will go to Waco for the State tournament beginning Aug. 7. The Regional tourney follows that, starting Aug. 14 in St. Petersburgh, Fla. The Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa., comes after that. It begins Aug. 22.

FROM DESPERATION

Pair Of Pinch Runners Pay Off

By The Associated Press

When you're hot, you're hot and when you're not, you're probably the Milwaukee Brewers.

The baseball Brewers were stuck in one of their cold spells Sunday—six losses in eight games including a 1-0 two-hitter at the hands of California's Rudy May in the first game of their doubleheader.

What's worse is that the second game was also 1-0 in California's favor as Milwaukee came to bat in the bottom of the eighth inning. The Brewers weren't cold—they were frozen.

Clearly, it was time for action and so Manager Del Crandall used his old pinch runner for a pinch runner move.

The double pinch runner strategy paid off—helped considerably by George Scott's two-run single—as the Brewers rallied for a 2-1 victory and a split of the doubleheader.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Oakland rapped New York 5-2, Detroit shut out Kansas City 2-0, Boston whipped Minnesota 6-1, Texas defeated Cleveland 3-2 in 12 innings and Baltimore downed Chicago 6-1 in the rain-abbreviated first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The nightcap was washed out.

Kiwanis Keeps Up Hot Streak

Kiwanis spotted the Optimists three runs in the first inning Saturday and then came back to capture a 5-4 victory to remain in a first place tie in the Hi-Junior League.

John Thomas Smith was the star of the game as he scored two runs, hit a double and a triple and batted in four runs. Larry Stanley scored two runs and had a hit for the winners.

For the Optimists, Gary Evans and Mark Taylor each scored on a run on two singles.

Smith was the winning pitcher, and Vito Garcia was the loser.

Kiwanis now has an eight-game winning streak. Its season record is 11-4, which ties it with the Tigers. Each team has one regular season game left. The season concludes Wednesday night with a game between the Indians and the Optimists, two teams out of contention for the title.

Soph Playoff Resumes Today

The second game of the Sophomore League playoffs will be played tonight between the Red Sox and the Cubs. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Red Sox won the first game of the series Friday, 8-1.

The third game, if necessary, will be played at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

As Goes California?

That old saying, "As Maine goes, so goes the nation, has for some time been supplanted in the minds of students of this country's changes and attitudes. Now it seems California is the best barometer of what the future holds. The sprawling West Coast state is always out front, observers note, often forecasting by its actions what is yet to come in the rest of the nation.

For that reason, California developments are closely watched — Californians' taste in clothes, their chosen forms of entertainment, their political preferences, all are under the microscope. Even California court decisions, such as the recent one abolishing the death penalty in the state, are given close attention as probable forecasts of decisions perhaps years away in other states and in the federal judiciary.

There will be rapt attention then, given the California balloting this fall because of the presence thereon of a binding referendum to legalize the private use of marijuana by adults.

California law regarding referendums is unique. There, voters can enact legislation by the referendum route, with only a petition signed by the required percentage of voters necessary to place a measure before the electorate. The legislature is bypassed completely. So it is that the marijuana legalization will come up for the first ballot test in the nation.

Already machinery is in motion in California to sign up legions of young voters — who are expected to support legalization. This in turn will have an effect on California's presidential vote. And the presence of the pot referendum will no doubt mean a record total of votes in California this November.

The vote will have great importance for the rest of the nation too — including influence on possible federal legislation to amend the nation's drug laws. At best, the referendum will produce debate on the issue.

Boost For Aerospace Industry

Government approval of an export license for sale of $150 million worth of Boeing 707 jetliners and related equipment to Communist China is the next-to-last step of opening a major new market for American goods.

Unless the deal hits some unforeseen snag, the way could be cleared for selling billions of dollars worth of airplanes to the Chinese. The sale also would open the door for export of other U. S. products.

The initial sale would be for cash, with the Chinese buying 10 jets, plus spare engines and other parts, ground support equipment and a training simulator.

Experts on China's aviation system estimate that country will need about 90 new jet transports in the next 10 years, including smaller, shorter range planes.

If Peking buys American jets, it would be a large commitment over a long term. China would tie its air transportation system to the United States for years. The U. S. would be the souhce of maintenance and spare parts. Peking also would probably buy U.S. navigation aids and airport equipment. Thus, the sale would be a boom to the aerospace industry and to this country's poor international trade and balance of payments situation.

BILLY GRAHAM

Since the Bible says: "Doth not even nature itself teach you that if a man have long hair it is a shame unto him?" Corinthians 11:14. I would like to have your answer about the controversy about long and short hair. D.W.

Through the centuries hair styles have changed like other fashions, and when hair is worn longer than average, the wearer has always come in for criticism.

One of the few references in the Bible to the length of hair for men is in Judges 13:5. These are the words of the angel of the Lord to the wife of Manoah, the mother of Samson: "For lo, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and no razor shall come on his head: for the child shall be a Nazarite unto God . . . and he shall begin to deliver Israel out of the hand of the Philistines."

Samson's long hair was a symbol of his vow to God. It is generally assumed that the prevailing hair style of the patriarch's was long. We also know from paintings and photographs that American colonists wore their hair rather long, or in the event of baldness wore wigs. Styles have alternated from clean-shaven to beards, and from close cropped hair to shoulder length.

Paul's counsel which you quote was to the effect that men's hair should differ from women to distinguish the sexes, but he went on to say, "But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God." I Corinthians 11:16.

Parley Analysis

CONVENTION ANALYSIS — Democratic national conventions in the past have rarely held all-night sessions — at least not one evening after the other — but the current conclave assembled at Miami Beach is unlike any gathering of the Democratic party in recent decades.

THE PRESIDENTIAL nominee, Sen. George McGovern, has been busily engaged for the last three days in trying to figure out who is to be the vice-presidential candidate. Obviously, he would like to have seen Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts accept the vice-presidential nomination. The next man who could have bolstered the ticket is Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, who is chairman of the House Ways and Means committee. But, in the convention itself, the delegates waited to be told by the winner.

Sen. McGovern's forces were in charge of the platform committee which submitted its work to the convention at a session that lasted 11 hours Tuesday night. A minority report was proposed by Gov. George Wallace which favored a ban on forced busing, but this was defeated and a plank adopted to encourage more and more busing. An extensive tax-reform program was rejected as well as attempts to approve endorsement of abortion and certain homosexual rights. When the session ended at 6:20 a.m. Wednesday morning, three delegates were sick with exhaustion.

THE MOST INTERESTING thing about the convention was the absence of unity. The "old-liners" did not mingle much with the youthful "reformers" and seemed to feel that the latter weren't familiar with conventions and what should or should not be accepted. Some of the governors left the convention with negative comments, and it is evident that Sen. McGovern is going to have a big task in working for harmony with the members of his own party in a number of states. Gov. Wallace's appeal to the convention to take a stand against forced busing reflects the opinion of voters not only in the South but in other areas of the country.

PERHAPS ONE OF the most difficult dilemmas that has arisen for Sen. McGovern is the attitude of the labor leaders. Most of them do not favor his candidacy, and there are indications that labor's support might not be forthcoming to him in the campaign. Sen. McGovern undoubtedly will make efforts to conciliate labor leaders, but as of today the opposition of union labor to him is very strong. This is strange for a Democratic candidate for the presidence. He has usually been able to count on the active backing of unions throughout the country and particularly on the help of labor leaders. Some observers believe that labor will "sit out" the campaign altogether. But it would be unprecedented.

A PRESIDENTIAL campaign is expensive to finance, and the Democrats are not likely to get much assistance from "big business." If they also do not have the support of the unions, one wonders where the money will come from to provide them with the necessary funds unless they are able to patch up their differences with some of the groups that are at present antagonistic to the nominee.

THERE HAS been a good deal of talk about a third-party movement such as occurred in the 1968 election, but it has been indicated by Gov. Wallace that he likely will not repeat that nameuver this time. The probability is that his supporters will be left free to vote as they please. Many of them, of course, will depart the democratic ranks on the school-busing issue.

Take Heart From Hope

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A million Americans now undergo plastic surgery each year. Back in 1946, only an estimated 15,000 people had face-lifts.

If your teen-ager is moping because he can't make up his mind what career to follow, tell him to take heart from Bob Hope, the multimillionaire superstar. He had the same trouble. Before going into show business, Hope worked as a dance instructor, clerk, boxer, and newspaper reporter.

Hunters don't have to hit ducks or geese with their pellets to kill them. A study showed that three per cent of the wild fowl population wintering in the United States dies each year of lead poisoning from swallowing shotgun pellets that have fallen into their feeding waters. That is a million birds each year destroyed inadvertently by hunters.

Quotable notables: "Every life is a work of art, shaped by the man who lives it." — G. Lowes Dickinson, English scholar.

Unusual legislation: In Elizabethan England you could be hanged if you opened and read the message in a floating bottle. The law was passed after a fisherman found a bottle containing an important political secret. The Queen then appointed an official "Uncorker of Bottles" who was solely authorized to read their contents.

Mighty waters: Ocean currents are one of the strongest forces visible in nature. They may travel only a mile a month or as fast as 100 miles a day. The largest in the world is the current around Antarctica. According to the National Geographic Society, it carries more than 100 billion tons of water a second.

Worth remembering: "Nothing makes a man go places like a woman who likes to."

Safety note: The reason experts warn motorists against excessive smoking while driving is that smoking puts more carbon monoxide in the blood stream. This can deprive the brain and eyes of the total amount of oxygen they need to function at top capacity.

It was the philosopher Goethe who advised, "Whatever necessity lays upon thee, endure; whatever she commands, do."

Major Flaws In F14

John Cunniff

By FRED HOFFMAN
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy found 43 major flaws in test models of its new F14 fighter plane during a preliminary evaluation late last year, according to congressional testimony made public today.

Sixteen of those deficiencies related to safety.

The Navy told a House Appropriations subcommittee that "corrective action is under way" and that a majority of the repaired aircraft would be ready for testing this summer.

This testimony, which also with the F14, came during closed-door budget hearings last April.

An F14 crashed into Chesapeake Bay June 30, killing its civilian test pilot. Navy sources said divers still are recovering pieces of the plane and that cause of the crash has not yet been determined.

The specific problems detected during evaluation flights by Navy pilots last November and December were referred to only sketchily in the April report to the House subcommittee.

But testimony by senior admirals under questioning indicated deficiencies involved engines stalling, difficulty in recovering from spins, and flight range, among other things.

In addition, the congressmen were told that 10 deficiencies were found in the system controlling the Phoenix missile, the F14's principal weapon. Most of these problems, too, will be straightened out, the Navy assured the subcommittee.

The F14 is designed to serve the Navy in fleet air defense and air superiority missions in the late 1970s and the 1980s.

Despite Pentagon claims that eventual purchase of 313 F14s.

The Grumman Corp., builder of the F14, has notified the Navy that it is financially unable to build the next batch of 48 F14s unless its contract terms are improved.

The Navy has taken the position that it has a valid contract and that it expects Grumman to perform under its terms.

the F14 is indispensible for the Navy in future years, the project has come under intense fire for congressional critics because of its escalating costs. The Pentagon lists the price of an F14 at $16.8 million, up from $11.5 million last year.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., claimed Saturday that the cost will be $20.8 million.

Asks Daughter To Unseat Father

CHICAGO (AP) - Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., has asked the daughter of Sen. Charles Percy to help him unseat her father in the November election.

Pucinski, who is challenging Percy for the Senate seat, wrote Mrs. Sharon Rockefeller, who participated in the Democratic fund-raising telethon July 8-9, that he read with great interest that she will be working to put a Democrat in the White House this fall. And Pucinski said he would be most grateful for whatever assistance she could give him in his campaign.

CRADLE ROBBER

KUWAIT (AP) —A 60-year-old man was arrested for marrying a 9-year-old girl, police reported. The man and the girl were not identified.

A statement said police had gone to the house to collect a debt. The man was arrested after the girl answered the bell saying she was his wife.

Police also arrested the mulah Moslem priest who conducted the marriage and two Syrians who acted as witnesses.

Great Eating

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Some one remarked recently that he didn't know until he left home that Jello was regarded as a salad rather than a dessert. His mother had conned him into thinking that gellatin outranked pie and ice cream as a delicacy — when all the while she was seeking to cut down on the family's calory intake and trying to keep the family's food budget from comparing with the national debt.

HIS REMARKS made me hark back to the days when my own mother was planning the family menus and making do with what the ice box and the cupboard contained.

She sometimes referred to us as finicky eaters because we didn't especially go for green beans and corn bread soaked in sweet milk.

The principal staple in our diet was leguminous seeds, which we called "red" beans. Soaked all night and cooked with salt pork over a slow fire, they made for great eating.

"They stick to your ribs," was her explanation for encoring with the tasty morsels.

ON COLD DAYS, we could expect a yam baked in the oven with its jacket intact, after we had raced home from school for the noon meal, that and a helping of beans and perhaps a portion of roast beef. What we called "light bread" was a treat that wasn't served every day.

I've sat at the table many times and watched the patriarch of the family mix syrup with his beans and eat the mixture with relish. He was a great meat eater, too, and when he was home he insisted on steak because it gave him strength to stoke the fires of the locomotives he tended in his early railroad years.

MOTHER NEVER cooked "out of a book." What recipes she got were handed down to her from her mother, who has been taught them by her mother.

Mashed potatoes were offered regularly, occasionally salvaged in the guise of potato salad. In those days, which can never come again, Irish spuds were selling for four cents a pound and less. For that reason, they showed up much more regularly on our dining room table than turnips, corn or squash.

A SUMMER offering for which we developed a great appetite was green onions, which likely as not was grown in a remote area of the back yard. We didn't mix vegetables together as they do today, but partook of them separately. Apples, for instance, were never chopped into a salad but were eaten whole — between meals.

In ways, breakfast was the best meal of all — probably because it had been 12 to 13 hours since the evening meal. Dry cereal, when it was in the house, somehow tasted better in the evening than in the morning.

HOT CAKES were served just often enough to keep up petitioning for more — the maternal parent was not a woman of excesses.

Her idea of what a growing brood should be served was bisquits and gravy, with perhaps a couple or rashers of bacon or sausage if one of the neighbors had killed a hog.

Wastefulness was a sin. Mother saved the bacon grease until she had enough to make her own soap, and she tackled that chore in a huge washpot in the back yard.

Old Greenbacks

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Federal Government has money to burn — really it does!

OFTENTIMES VISITORS to Washington are shown a small spiralof whitish smoke coming from a small stack in the center of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. They are told that it comes from the burning of old worn out bills. Actually, old currency is burned at each of the 12 Federal Reserve banks and not returned to its source of printing for destruction as is usually supposed.

Since the country has become so environmentally conscious, other methods of doing away with unusuable paper money are being investigated.

FEDERAL RESERVE Banks are now beginning to grind up cash. This, however, has its problems also. It is simply what to do with the fine, light green fluff left after it is pulverized.

One idea is to recycle it into stationery. This has been ruled out because of secret service regulations. They say someone might get the idea that because the special type of paper is fortified with the tiniest if filament it could possbly be used to reconstruct the bills for the benefit of counterfeiters.

THE FEDERAL Reserve Bank in Dallas is reported to have come up with a customer for ground-up greenbacks for a price of $10 a ton. In that form, of course, it would make no difference whether it was a George Washington $1.00 bill or a Grover Cleveland $1,000.00 bill — the intrinsic value would be the same for the $1 billion annually retired.

Thus far only one sales outlet has been developed to buy the finely chopped up cash. This customeris the David Mud and Chemical Company, which is experimenting with using the ground-up currency, turned into a thick slush, as mud in well-drilling process. Another idea not yet tested to the extent of approval, is converting the old greenbacks into a roofing material.

IF OUR Government continues to crank out more money, there will probably be more to dispose of as time goes on. New bills are printed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing here in Washington located at 14th and Independence Avenue, and on down the street at 12th and Constitution Avenue is the Internal Revenue Service. An old joke still stands — "They issue it here and take it away down there."

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor:

The world is all adither about the state of our present generation in regards to morality and infidelity to all things their parents have so carefully nurtured them to righteous living, etc., and then throw up their hands and say "Where did we go wrong?"

In their school years they learn their reading, writing and arithmetic and learn that the world operates on certain facts that are unchangeable, such as two plus two equals four, and a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. Then our young adult picks up last Friday's edition of the Herald and reads on the Church Page that the idea of women bishops is being considered by some of the denominations, which is in opposition to the word of God in regards to the structure of his church. I. Timothy third chapter says, "a bishop must be blameless, the husband of one wife. "Needless to say this is a qualification no woman can meet. Then our young adult reads Billy Graham's column in Wednesday's issue wherein Mr. Graham upholds the principle that we must be opposed to whatsoever is contrary to the mind of God.

One group says "do as you please! Another groups says "do what God ordains!" And the young adult is unable to balance his thinking with the elders of his generation, who on one hand say "take it easy," but are in reality throwing it all out the window." Is it any wonder the young folk are confused?"

Dear Sir:

The last paragraph of the editorial concerning the Democratic Convention which appeared Sunday was most disturbing to me. As an avowed Democrat, I am gratified for the opportunity to participate as a spectator in the political affairs of our nation. I also plan to be a "participant" in the Republican Convention.

I consider your remarks in giving a higher priority to the television scheduling than you give to the selection of our country's presidential nominees both unenlightened and inappropriate.

TUESDAY, JULY 18

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until sundown you have an excellent chance to put into motion the decisions you made the past several days. Your keynote now should be, "I produce results." You can certainly do so through your own ingenuity and resourcefulness. However, take it easy tonight and get a good rest and don't annoy those in power.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Ideal day for paying bills, making collections, attending to government affairs, and good for pleasing romantic tie. The day can be most productive, but care is required during the p.m. Others are not in a very good mood.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Try to reach a better understanding with mate during a.m. Then cement improved relations with partners. You have to use care not to upset a clever partner in p.m. Avoid one who has a trick up his or her sleeve.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can get rid of all that extra work early in the day if you labor intelligently, so get at it quickly. Take the health treatments you need in p.m. Make this a constructive day, p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get into the activities that please you the most during spare time, but take care you do not argue with mate in p.m. Put those fine skills to work also. Bigwigs will appreciate them.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try to do what mate or other family ties expect of you and make them feel happier and more secure. Get rid of tensions quickly. Take a little time for meditation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get into whatever is of an inventive nature and accomplish much today. Rest on your laurels in p.m. Plan better ways to be highly efficient in the future. Stop all that fussing and worrying.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can consult with experts if you want to handle those money problems really well, and also plan for increased income. Cut down on expenses immediately. Take it easy tonight and rest so you build up your energy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can now push those personal aims easily provided you do favors for others. Plan how to be more socially active and popular, successful. Show you have true savoir faire.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have clever methods for quietly convincing bigwigs you deserve backing you want. You are able to help others get rid of their big problems, but do not spend much money. Advance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be thoughtful of good pals and show how much you appreciate them. Do some angling that will help you gain your aims. Save time by being alert to what has to be done next, otherwise you waste time. Keep active.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show your talents to bigwigs and bring about fine results and benefits now. Get your ideas across in civic matters. Show you are a person of ability and charm, warmth. Think.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Use your finer principles in aiding the people you like who look to you for assistance. Show you are most understanding. Find the information you need and then put it to work intelligently.

Raza Unida Leader Hints Close Race

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Votes of Mexican-Americans will be a determining factor in the November general elections and Democrats cannot take those votes for granted, a leader of the Raza Unida party said Sunday.

Ramsey Muniz, who has been campaigning throughout the state as candidate for governor with support of Raza Unida, said, "Mexican-Americans will demand firm commitments from Democratic leaders at the national level before they cast their votes."

At the same time, Muniz said he did not believe the Spanish-speaking population would vote for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Dolph Briscoe.

He said Mexican-Americans in Texas are demanding more of the national leaders of the Democratic party "who have always taken the Mexican-American vote for granted."

This time, he went on, "our people will want something in return for their votes. They want to know what the Democrats have to offer, and we are not talking about welfare programs or handouts, but opportunities to better ourselves, to have better jobs and more educational opportunities.'

He said Mexican-Americans "want to participate more actively in the decision-making process of the political system."

"We are tired of serving on meaningless advisory boards," he said.

Muniz, whose party recently submitted 23,000 signatures to the Texas secretary of the state to get on the November ballot as an official party, says he expects official ratification of the political group within the next two weeks.

He added he felt that the presidential race between Sen. George McGovern and President Nixon "will be very close in Texas—it will be like the Nixon-Kennedy campaign."

YOU CAN'T CALL ME 'BOY'

Philadelphia Plan

By ROLAND DRAUGHON
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"You can't call me 'boy'—then tell me you mean 'apprentice boy'."

Those are the words of an angry, young black man.

He's Nate Brown, a 27-year-old plumber's apprentice who has worked more than three years under the federal government's Philadelphia Plan.

The Philadelphia Plan was set up in 1969 to integrate white-only building trade unions.

Since that time, the number of blacks integrated into the unions is either exceptional or deplorable, depending on whom you talk to.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Blacks worked 13.4 per cent of all federal construction in Philadelphia's five-county area in 1971, according to a report from the U.S. Labor Department. That exceeded last year's goal of a 9.8 per cent average.

So statistically the model integration project is not just a success, but it's ahead of schedule.

But blacks and civil rights organizations say the statistics mask what has really happened.

Blacks worked 165,802 manhours out of 1,233,378 total manhours worked last year, the federal report said.

A normal work year for tradesmen is between 1,700 and 1,900 man-hours, according to the General Building Contractors Association.

In 1969 the city Human Relations Commission found 85 blacks out of more than 9,000 men in five of the building trade unions.

MORE DATA

Thus, 88 black tradesmen, only three more than found in 1969, working an average of 1,900 manhours each, would post more hours than the 165,802 cited by the Labor Department for blacks last year.

Figures on the number of blacks in the unions are not available, the department said. And the number is a well-kept secret among the unions. There are currently "eight or nine" blacks in Elevator Constructors Local No. 5, said Robert Williams, local manager.

Williams refused, however, to give a reporter their names and phone numbers. "Our members don't like for us to give out that information," he said.

IN SOME CASES

The federal report covered 126 projects valued at $554.9 million. Only one craft—the steamfitters—failed to meet its minimum goal for 1971.

Minority steamfitters worked only 18,010 of the 184,007 total manhours worked, or about 10 per cent instead of the 11-15 per cent set for that craft.

The forced-hiring project was federal imposed on the five-county area after the commission reported that minorities represented, in some cases, as little as .5 per cent of an individual union's membership in a city 34 per cent black.

Six trades here were tagged "critically" lacking minority representation: ironworkers, electricians, plumbers, sheet-metal workers, steamfitters and elevator constructors.

The Philadelphia Plan requires that contractors on federal projects exceeding $500,000 guarantee that minorities perform a graduated percentage of the total labor.

UNDER FIRE

The project has been under fire from contractors and unions since it began. Now blacks attack it as an empty gesture on the part of the federal government.

Contractors argued it violated the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Hiring percentages were called "quotas"—prohibited in the act.

The U.S. Supreme Court turned down an appeal last October from a group of contractors contesting a lower court ruling upholding the plan's legality.

The high court ruling should have pushed the project forward. It didn't.

What the forced hiring has accomplished and where the project is headed continues to be the subject of a running dispute among blacks, unions, contractors and federal officials.

Officals of the six critical trade locals generally don't like to discuss the project. When it is discussed, the hiring percentages are attacked.

"It's the best piece of union-busting material that has come out since Taft-Hartley," said Williams of the elevator constructors.

DEADLY WORK

"We don't think a man should have the right to work because of the color of his skin," Williams said. "We don't think unqualified workers should be hired over qualified workers. And that's what's happening in the Philadelphia Plan.

Got Bomb Threat Idea From Tube

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Police arrested two 14-year-old boys after tracing their ninth phone call threatening to blow up a jet airliner unless they were paid 10 million yen.

The boys said Sunday they wanted the money—about $32,500-to buy plastic model planes and got the bomb threat idea from television programs, the police reported.

The boys threatened to have an accomplice blow up a Boeing 727 then en route from Tokyo to Sapporo unless the airline, All Nippon Airways, paid up.

The plane, with 121 persons aboard, made an emergency landing at Sendai, and a two-hour search found no bomb. The boys were caught telephoning from the home of one of them at Iwamizawa, 50 miles east of Sapporo.

TRAFFIC DEATH TOLL MOUNTS

Four Perish In Motel Fire

By The Associated Press

A highway crash which took the lives of five motorists helped to swell the weekend toll from violence in Texas.

There were reports of 38 deaths, including 23 in traffic, between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

FLAMING WRECK

At last 10 persons died of gunshot wounds, among them an unidentified young man and woman in a double slaying which puzzled Austin authorities. Bodies of the two, burned beyond recognition, were found beside a blazing car Sunday in the state capital's City Park, and police determined that both had been shot several times.

The collision which killed five occurred about a mile east of Waxahachie on U.S. 287 shortly before midnight Saturday. It claimed the lives of Charles V. Ingram, 34, and Carlos Ingram, 8, of Fort Worth; Ewell S. Hill, 19, and Nancy Gale Ford, 19, of Waxahachie, and Clyde W. Harris, 47, of Sanger.

These were among the other victims:

Robert C. Martin, 22, of Denison died in the flaming wreckage of his sports car Sunday after a head-on collision near the village of Southmayd in Grayson County.

Linda Kay Ekdahl, 26, a Corpus Christi school teacher, was killed Sunday in a two-car crash a mile north of Kendy in South Texas on U.S. 181. Garland W. Dorries, 51, of San Antonio suffered minor injuries.

Pedro Sanchez Milina, 52, of Jourdanton, a father of seven, burned to death Saturday night when a car hit a bridge railing, overturned and caught fire near Jourdanton

DEAD INDENTIFIED

At Navasota in Southeast Texas a chain-reaction crash killed Michael A. Gernez of Donna and George C. Thomas of Houston.

A two-car collision in Houston Saturday cost the lives of three members of an Arlington family. They were William Harbes, 52; his wife Jean, 49; and their daughter Carolyn, 15.

A Virginia youth met death and his brother was injured Saturday when their car and a truck collided about 10 miles north of San Antonio on Interstate 10. The dead youth was identified as Michel Clemons, 17, of Alexandria.

Separate shootings claimed the lives of two men in Houston late Saturday night.

Officers arrested a 50-year-old man Sunday in the shooting of Edward W. Hayes, 32, during an argument at a party.

Four persons perished in a San Antonio motel fire that broke out about 11:15. Officers listed two of the dead as Carl Bann, 42, and Anita Simpson, 40. The other two were burned beyond recognition and were not identified at once. A.J. Williams, 80, was taken to a hospital in critical condition from burns.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♡AKJ 9 4 ◇AKJ 8 6 2 ♣4 3
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	?

What action do you take?

A.—Three diamonds, intending to bid and rebid hearts if circumstances permit. It is not necessary to take any more drastic action at this particular time inasmuch as a game forcing signal has already been flashed.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK 2 ♡KQ10 3 ◇KJ 5 ♣Q 7 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—One heart, with two hearts as a very close second choice. A three no trump bid is tempting, however, the top limit of that call is 18 points. On this hand, however, we have an additional ten and the added factor that the queen of clubs, in view of partner's bid, is apt to be worth more than the two points normally assigned to it. While our preference has been for an approach bid, we would not look down our noses at anyone who chose a three no trump bid.

Q. 3 — Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A 8 7 4 ♡A 9 2 ◇7 3 ♣KQ 6 2
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ◇	Dble.	Pass	1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—Your double is of minimum proportions, and it is not appropriate for you to make a free raise. If partner has any constructive values, he will act again and a delayed raise by you will indicate you had no distinct excess values.

Q. 4 — Your partner has opened with one spade, and you hold:
♠KQ 8 4 2 ♡7 6 5 ◇9 2 ♣K 5 3
What is your response?

A.—Two spades. This is an evenly balanced hand and is worth only nine points in support of spades. It is, therefore, just a raise.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠J 9 2 ♡J 6 4 ◇8 3 ♣A 7 6 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♡	Dble.	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A raise to three spades is clearly indicated. Up to this point you have promised no values whatsoever, and yet you have distinct support for partner who has shown a very fine hand by doubling first and then bidding at the level of two later.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠10 5 4 2 ♡A 10 9 7 ◇AJ 9 ♣AJ
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South
1 NT	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. This hand does not measure up to the requirements for a double of one no trump. The takeout doubler should have a hand presumably as strong as the one he has doubled. To double one no trump, therefore, he should hold at least 16 points.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AJ 7 2 ♡AJ 9 4 ◇KQ 9 3 ♣6
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
Pass	1 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—We recommend a trap pass, as calculated to produce the best results in the long run. A takeout double might result in an awkward situation if partner responds two clubs.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠A 6 2 ♡KJ 9 3 ◇QJ 9 8 ♣10 9
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
2 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

What is your opening lead?

A.—Without straining the imagination, one can visualize a short suit in dummy and, in order to impair the ruffing value of that otherwise feeble dummy, it is essential that the ace of spades be led, to be followed immediately by another spade.

Connally Will Encourage Demos To Vote For Nixon

FLORESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — John Connally, the former Texas governor who became the only Democrat in the cabinet of Republican President Richard M. Nixon, minced no words about his party's presidential nominee.

He will "do everything in my power," Connally declared, to encourage Democrats to vote for the re-election of Nixon instead of casting their ballots for Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic contender.

Returning to Texas after a three-hour meeting with Nixon at San Clemente, Calif., Connally rested from a 15-nation tour at his ranch near here in South Texas.

He told newsmen after the San Clemente meeting that he will not support McGovern but will work to get Democrats to vote for Nixon. He said he will remain a Democrat.

Relaxing from his 35-day around-the-world journey which he made at Nixon's request, Connally spent part of Saturday touring his ranch. President Nixon was guest there earlier this year.

Mrs. Connally described the trip with her husband as "a series of one-night stands" and said she was glad it was over, altho hug ehhad a"w onderful although she had a "wonderful time."

Automotive Innovation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Highway safety requirements demand licensing of drivers according to the level of their ability, Franklin M. Kreml, president of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, told a Transpo '72 conference recently.

In addressing the International Vehicle and Highway Safety Conference, Kreml advocated the issuing of licenses for limited purposes such as "Daylight Driving Only," "Automatic Transmission Vehicles Only" or "Non-Freeway Driving." Another recommendation was that of offering classes of licenses such as "elementary," "Intermediate" and "Master."

"It is no longer adequate to issue a single license for operation of all private cars under all conditions," said Kreml.

"For safer highway travel we must improve the skill of drivers even as we produce safer vehicles and better roads," he said.
