THE GIFT THAT TOPS ALL OTHERS at the F. J. Chapman home on Thirty-second Street isn't under the tree, although Cynthia, who'll be 2 in February, and Brad, 3, are quite interested in investigating the packages there. For the whole family, the gift of life which was almost lost less than a month ago by Mrs. Chapman, is really their greatest gift. Mrs. Chapman suffered a heart arrest following an operation, and is the first patient in Cogdell Hospital to have a successful resuscitation. Her comment was, "I'll never complain about anything again."

The Greatest Gift: Life

By DICK ROBERTS

The words "Merry Christmas" are on everyone's lips these days. For many people, the thing that will make their Christmas a merry one will be that they can be "home for Christmas."

"Merry Christmas" and "home for Christmas" have a very special meaning this year for a young Snyder couple and their two children. It almost wasn't a merry Christmas, and Mrs. F. J. Chapman almost wasn't home for Christmas.

It was Nov. 28 when Mrs. Chapman entered Cogdell Hospital for surgery. It was to be major surgery, true, but for the doctors it was considered routine.

And when Mrs. Chapman was wheeled into the operating room the next morning, little did the doctors dream that before she was to be returned to her hospital room 25 hours later, they would be called upon to use all their life-saving skill and thousands of dollars worth of equipment.

Today Mrs. Chapman recalls that the way the doctors told her of her brush with death went something like, "Well, young lady, you tried to pull a trick on us — you let your heart stop beating. But we pulled a trick on you — we started it again."

So there it is in layman's language — a simple description of a cardiac arrest — a terrifying moment in any doctor's experience when, for no obvious reason at all, a patient's heart stops.

For years, a cardiac arrest was synonymous with death. Then came the miracles of heart massage, and machines that could take over the missions of the vital organs.

Mrs. Chapman, of course, remembers almost nothing of her ordeal. She says she has a vague recollection of thinking that she was not in the room she ought to be in, but the doctors involved have vivid recollections.

The staff surgeon at Cogdell Hospital had completed the operation. Everything had gone well. The nurses with the patient were preparing to transfer her from the operating table to a wheeled cot.

The doctor was relaxing in the hall outside with a cup of coffee and preparing to write his instructions for the floor nurses. Then it happened.

The door to the operating room opened, and in a voice which undoubtedly carried a note of urgency, a nurse said, "Doctor, I think you'd better come back in here!"

The doctor's eyes went not to the patient, but to the TV-like screen on the cardiatacyscope. There, where the electronic picture of the patient's heart action had been strong and true throughout the long operation, was a picture of trouble — not a picture of a heartbeat, but only a flickering line which indicated nothing more than a muscle spasm.

Every good surgeon knows what needs to be done. But every surgeon also has to take a split second to realize that this has really happened to him, and to his patient.

It took just two quick steps to the side of the operating table. There the doctor applied external massage in a technique he had learned earlier in the year at Dallas.

It worked! The heart started, and the electronic tracing of the heart action looked right again. No one spoke. And then, 45 seconds later the beautiful picture went away.

Again the same procedure — again the same heartbeat, and again it stopped.

It was a time for decisive action

Legal Liquor On Market In Impact

IMPACT (AP) — Legal liquor was sold in Taylor County Saturday for the first time in more than six decades.

Impact Mayor Dallas Perkins bought the first bottle at the C. C. H. Inc. package store in Impact, a tiny community on the northern outskirts of Abilene.

Business was brisk all day long with most customers not awed by the photographers clustered around the stores. One man said "This is the first stuff I've ever bought over the counter."

The Liquor Control Board Thursday granted three liquor licenses for Impact. The 47-acre town was incorporated over the protests of many persons in Abilene, the home of three church colleges which has been "dry" for 60 years.

As Liquor Control Board agents watched Saturday for possible violations of state laws, one agent said "The sudden opening of Impact liquor stores probably left Abilene bootleggers holding the bag with a large stock of liquor at Christmas time."

In addition to the C. C. H. Inc. store, owned by John McCown, a store operated by Charles Daily of San Antonio opened late Saturday.

Roy Jackson of San Angelo must renegotiate his lease for a store at Impact before he can use his liquor license issued Thursday by L. C. B. administrator Coke Stevenson in Austin, agents said.

First Prisoners To Arrive Early Monday

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pan American World Air Lines said without attribution Saturday night that its planes will bring the Cuban invasion captives to Florida Monday, with the first load of 100 or more men scheduled to arrive at 7:30 a.m. EST.

A spokesman for the airline said it would fly cargo to Cuba starting Sunday at 5:30 a.m. and begin the prisoner freedom flights the next day.

Four Clipper planes, provided by the line, will bring the prisoners to Homestead Air Force Base south of Miami for processing and treatment if needed.

The SS African Pilot, crammed with $11 million in medicine and food, was scheduled to depart Port Everglades, north of Miami, late Saturday for Havana.

An objector, Douglas Voorhees, of Miami, was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge when he shouted protests and tried to throw a box of medicine into the harbor. Security at the scene was tightened.

Loaded with part of the $53 million dollars worth of medical and food supplies offered in exchange for the captives, the freighter African Pilot was bound for Cuba from Port Everglades, Fla. The vessel, with cargoes from 20 railroad cars and 50 trucks, was due in Havana Harbor Sunday.

U.S. government officials making preparations to receive the prisoners at Homestead Air Force Base, south of Miami, said plans called for the first of four charter planes to leave Sunday morning from Miami to get them. The others would leave later in the day.

Three Cuban Red Cross members who arrived by charter plane from Havana inspected the barter shipment, at Prime Minister Fidel Castros request, and reportedly gave approval.

A spokesman of the Cuban Families Committee, which is pushing the barter deal, said this might speed action sufficiently to bring the prisoners back Sunday.

Earlier, James B. Donovan, of New York, chief negotiator with Castro in the deal, told Ernesto Freyre, Families Committee secretary by telephone from Havana that it looked like Monday for the arrivals.

Red Cross officials in Washington expressed optimism that the entire prisoner group will be back by Christmas Day.

On their arrival at Homestead, the returnees will be given physical examinations and a warm meal. The public will be barred.

A reunion with loved ones will follow at Miami's Dinner Key Auditorium.

Cold Wave Hits State

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau issued a cold wave warning Saturday for all of Texas.

The forecasting agency said temperatures could drop as low as 10 above zero in the upper Panhandle Sunday morning.

Accompanying the drop were biting winds of 20 to 35 miles an hour.

Lighting Contest Winners Are Told

Winners have been announced in the Jaycee's Christmas lighting contest.

Darrell Parrish, chairman of the project for the club, announced the following winners.

In outdoor lighting, first place, Mrs. Billy Greenfield, 2608 Avenue U; second, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wood, 2705 Thirty-eighth Street; third, Mrs. C. C. Bane, 2807 Thirty-eighth Street.

The first prize in this contest was an electric yard light. Second place wins an electric blanket, while the third place winner receives an electric mixer.

In the Jaycee's religious door and window contest the judges awarded first place to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martin, Jr., 1901 Merrill Street. A $25 savings bond was awarded for first place in this category.

Second place, and the $10 prize went to Gerald Walton, 3717 Avenue U. Third prize, of $5 was awarded to Mrs. Robert W. Roush 2207 Forty-third Street.

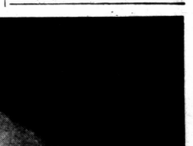

Not placing in the top three, but rating an honorable mention was the door decoration of Mrs. J. A. Mills, 2107 Forty-first Street.

A good number of entries were received in the contest, Parrish said, most of which were received in the last few days before the contest entries closed. He expressed his appreciation to all who entered, and urged that all who have decorations be sure to light them through Christmas night to give Snyder a truly festive look.

Soviets Fire New Atmospheric Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced Saturday the Soviet Union detonated another atmospheric nuclear blast in the arctic, the 26th reported by the AEC in the current test series.

COMPLETELY HAND DONE was this window which was a part of the winning entry in the Jaycee-sponsored religious scene contest. The scene was entered by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martin, Jr., 1901 Merrill Street.

OUTDOOR LIGHTING WINNER—Mrs. Billy Greenfield, 2608 Avenue U, was the winner of the outdoor lighting contest. She combined luminaries, floodlighting, and interior lighting. The interior lighting gave a stained glass effect to the front door.

KINDERGARTEN CHILDREN AND ART WORK

Christmas Busy For Children, Too

BY LUCY DYSART

If Santa just happened to be looking Friday morning at Snyder Children, he would have seen the brightest twinkling eyes and dearest smiles in all the world as this group from Peter Rabbit Kindergarten finished their stained glass art work depicting the sacred family and the miracle of Christmas.

Parents often make the mistake of believing that only they are busy—but it just "t 'aint so"—the children are just as busy in their own preparing and anticipating for the ever-glorious Christmas season, from creating masterpieces of tree decorations and actual trimming, making invaluable and unbuyable gifts for parents to smearing delicious cookie frosting.

For children, Christmas is chock full of ageless traditions and many not-too-well-kept secret desires for that jolly old elf.

We asked three questions that seemed to hold the most wonder and excitement for each 5-year-old. What they like the very most about Christmas, what they were most thankful for, and what did they ask Santa for.

SALLY MATHIS: "I like the Christmas tree the very best and to ride my bike in the park, and Santa's presents under the tree. I'm most thankful for my little white kitten. I asked Santa for a doll, a nurse kit and a bike with training wheels."

BRYAN LITTLEPAGE: "Gosh, the presents are best. I'm thankful that we celebrate Jesus' birthday and I asked Santa for a punching bag, BB gun that doesn't shoot real BBs and a whole lot of things!"

KERRY ANN HOLT: "I like my white Christmas tree with all different colored lights. I give thanks for all the good Christmas food. All I want from Santa is a Kissy Doll and that's all."

LUCILE DYSART: "Santa Claus and my Christmas tree are what I like best. I thank God for Baby Jesus. I want Santa Claus to bring a bathing suit, a beach ball and a cowgirl suit with black boots."

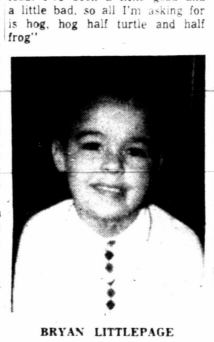

DON STOKER: "I'm thankful for God and like my Christmas tree best, but I sure want Santa to bring a play gun, some rubber boots and a new holster."

CHUCKIE ANDERSON: "I've been real good so I asked Santa for some guns, a football helmet and football outfit and a cowby suit and boots. I'm most thankful for guns and presents and I like everything real good."

WAYNE BALL: "I sure like Christmas decorations best, but I'm thankful for Christmas and food. I've been a little good and a little bad, so all I'm asking for is hog, hog half turtle and half frog"

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) —A hit - run driver struck and killed a 46 - year-old Texas woman two miles south of Texarkana on U.S. highway 71 Friday night, state police said.

The victim was Louvell Tucker of Waskom, Tex. The body was taken to a Marshall, Tex., funeral home.

Police were searching for the driver of the car that hit the pedestrian, then roared away.

BLACK AND GOLD

By Janis Atwood

Holiday spirit was felt by most SHSers this week as preparations were made for the Christmas holidays.

In assembly Monday, the 6th grade choirs sang some of the songs they sung at the annual Christmas program Tuesday night. The combined A Cappella and Girls Choirs, under direction of Mr. Roger Gee, also presented Christmas songs to the student body.

• • •

Each advisory decorated its door in a religious scene. The doors were then judged and the winning advisories were Mrs. Jones' senior advisory, first place; Mr. Freeman's junior advisory, second place; and Mrs. Rosson's sophomore advisory, third place.

All of the doors were very pretty and it must have been hard for the judges to make the winning selections.

• • •

The annual Distributive Education banquet was held Monday night. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the DE sweetheart, Miss LaGuita Read, a junior at SHS.

• • •

The Art Club held its Christmas dinner at the Village Restaurant. The members presented their sponsor, Mrs. Lillian Jones, with a "lazy Susan" for Christmas. After eating, those attending sang songs. Attending were Mrs. Jones, Paulette Jones, president of the club, Jane Williamson, Daphene Short, Jay Williamson, Mike Poe, Blake Roberts, Sandra Brinner, Susan Richardson, Glenn Ward, Jesse King, Susan Gracey, Ann Pitts and Janis Atwood.

• • •

Quill and Scroll pledges received their pins Thursday night at the home of Miss Carolyn Payne, sponsor. Miss Kathryn Northcutt, also a sponsor, was present. The annual and paper staffs presented Miss Payne with a gold charm and a pole lamp. Miss Payne presented the two staffs with their Christmas present. The present was the naming of class favorites, which was to have been publicized in the Tiger's Tale on Friday. Everyone there was happy over the selections, as was most of the student body when they found out Friday.

• • •

The senior class favorites are Judy Richardson and Paul Daniel. Also running were Karen Robinson, Kay Smith, Felicia DuPont and Malcolm Bolger. Junior class members elected Ann Chapman and Danny Aycock as their favorites. Mary Brice, Diana Ator, Jimmy Wilson and Bill Stewart were also junior candidates. Sophomores elected Jane Boren and J. N. Wall as their favorites. Other sophomore nominees were Connie Robinson, J. B. Murphy, and Kenneth Dower.

• • •

In an assembly Friday, Marta Burity was presented a camera by the student body. Dr. Clinton read a very inspiring letter written by Stig-Olaf Fernstrom, our first foreign exchange student of three years ago. Presentations also were made to students who had written essays that were published in essay anthologies.

The Christmas holidays began at 2:15 p.m. Friday, when all classes were dismissed until Jan. 2, 1963. I hope everyone has a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Yule Funds Are Slim At Boys Ranch

Lagging funds likely will cause a slim Christmas this year at West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo.

Executive Director Morris H. Craig said the ranch is more than $2,000 behind in gifts and donations from the same period last year.

"It's been a month-to-month struggle," said Craig. "A lot of folks seem to think the memorials can carry us through. They can't because they rarely average more than $2 to $3 each."

West Texas Boys Ranch now has 64 boys, which is its capacity. It was established in 1947 as a home for dependent, neglected, homeless and predelinquent West Texas boys. It is operated solely from gifts and donations. It has no endowments, and it does not receive any federal or state financial aid.

The ranch operates on a close budget, Craig said. "We have to make every penny count in order to provide for our boys." The annual operating budget is approximately $100,000.

Persons in the Snyder area may contribute to the ranch by sending donations either to the ranch itself, or to Pat Moore at Ira. Moore is on the board of directors.

Slight Lull In Drilling

The holiday lull failed to bring any marked decline in rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin oilfields.

Reed Roller Bit Company's Friday survey showed 235 active rigs. This is eight below the previous week's count and just nine below the count for Dec. 22 last year.

Scurry County's rig count dipped from 6 to 3, and Borden County's total declined from 5 to 4. Fisher County was up from 5 to 6, and Kent County was up from 2 to 3.

Lea County, New Mexico, the usual leader, had 39 active rigs, one more than last week. Andrews and Ector Counties had 19 each.

Pack 36 In Meeting Here

Cub Scout Pack 36, sponsored by the East Elementary Parent-Teachers Association, held its December meeting Monday night at East Elementary.

The following Cubs received their promotion to rank of Wolf and received their awards: Gary Weaver, Ricky Billingsley, Gary Ables, Jackie Murray, and Stephen Haskell. There were three Cubs to be promoted to the rank of Bear and received their awards. They were Danny Chastain, William Patterson and Jerry Hardin.

A Gold and a Silver Arrow Point for the Wolf rank went to Byron Huffman and Darrell Ross. Hollis Campbell was awarded a Silver Arrow Point for the Wolf rank.

Denner and assistant denner badges were awarded to Danny Chastain, Tom Ed Wilson Michael Mize, Jerry Hardin, Stewart Ray Sims, Davis West and Allen Shockley.

Dens number 3 and 4, led by Mrs. D. J. Smockley and Jean Campbell, displayed some of their den's handicraft work. Mrs. Shockley's den collected a box of clothing for the Goodfellows, also.

Pack 36 is composed of four dens and these dens are led by Mmes. Shockley, Campbell, James Tucker and Wanda Huffman.

Plea Is Entered

Paul Edgar Martz, who gave his address as Cabin Courts, pleaded nolo contendere Saturday morning in county court to a charge of DWI.

Mantz was fined $50 plus costs of $26.35 plus three days in jail. The charge was filed by the sheriff's office.

THE FIRST ITEM OF BUSINESS—at the police department Christmas get-together Friday afternoon was the cutting of the cake. Radio operator Margaret Wood gets advice from Chief Chester Simons and Sgt. A. E. Crowley. Coffee and cake were enjoyed by the entire force and gifts were exchanged.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am so mad right now I am seeing red! I want to find out if my daughter did the right thing. She is 17 and her name is Anette. Three weeks ago Anette's best girl friend asked if she could borrow her floor - length formal for the prom. Annette had just broken up with her steady and had no hopes of going to the prom herself, so she said yes. The night before the prom one of the nicest boys at school called and asked Anette to the prom. She said NO because she had promised her dress to her friend. I say she was a fool. She should have said YES and asked for her dress back. What do you say?

ANNETTE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I say you should be proud of a daughter who puts her promise to a friend above a date to the prom. Too bad Annette didn't think of "borrowing" a dress from another Cinderella who wasn't going to the ball.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Do you have any suggestions on how to handle a 16 - year - old son who threatens to beat you to death with his fists? I am 52 and can no-longer handle him. I have had to back down from several challenges lately and it is undermining my position of authority. He reads your column. In fact, I think it's the only part of the paper he reads.

DAD

DEAR DAD: Apparently when you were bigger and stronger than your son, you controlled him by the threat of your physical strength. You taught him well that might made right. Now he is reacting to your own harsh form of discipline. Or he might be emotionally disturbed. Consult a doctor on how to reestablish normal relations with him.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy at school who asks the girls if he can kiss them to see how their lipstick tastes. He says he can tell if their lipstick is expensive or cheap. What do you think of such a boy? He is in the 9th grade.

NINTH GRADE GIRL

DEAR NINTH: When a boy wants a kiss, one excuse is as good as another. But if a girl lets an acknowledged "lipstick taster" get that close, the GIRL is cheap.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I know what you will think of me when you read the unforgivable thing that I have done. I am married to a wonderful man. I have three beautiful children. They all favor their father. I have reason to believe I am expecting another man's child and I am sick with shame. So many innocent ones will be hurt by it all. Should I tell my husband the baby isn't his? He would surely know it because he and this man are as different as night and day. I have thought of leaving him and the children, but I have no place to go. I have also thought of taking my life and the little life to come, but I can't bear the thought of leaving my children motherless. Please tell me what to do. I am—

SUICIDE BENT

DEAR SUICIDE BENT: Don't tell your husband (or anyone else). The baby could be your husband's. Stay home and resolve to be a good mother to ALL your children, and a good wife to your husband. Pray for forgiveness. (The Lord is merciful.) And ignore all alternatives except remaining where you are and doing your job.

with no time to waste. Quickly and without thought of anything other than getting to the heart, he surgeon cut through the flesh and ribs to expose the heart. Already it had started to swell and turn blue.

Grasping the heart in his hands, he simulated the heart action, squeezing, releasing, squeezing, releasing.

The minutes dragged on — the surgeon's arm began to ache. The patient made no breathing effort while the massage continued. Her respiration was maintained through a tube inserted directly into the windpipe and oxygen was supplied by an anesthetic machine.

Four times the heart acted like it wanted to beat. Four times it couldn't quite get going again. For 20 minutes measured by the clock, and for a near eternity measured by anxiety, the massage of the helpless heart continued.

During the massage it was decided to irritate the heart. Directly into the heart muscle itself went the needle of adrenalin. It helped. The heart jerked, and finally went back to work. Calcium chloride was also used to help the heart along.

Then came the big moment when the surgeon decided to close the incision. The heart was on its own.

Across the country about 10 per cent of the patients who suffer a heart arrest survive. But about half of those who survive never have a complete recovery. If the brain is deprived of oxygen for just a few minutes, irreparable damage will occur.

And so, late that evening, it was more than just a routine visit when Mr. Chapman was taken in for the first time to see his wife.

"Do you know who this is?" the doctors asked the patient. Although still partially under the influence of the anesthetics, Mrs. Chapman said "Sure — that's Skinny — that's my husband." Then, and only then, did the doctors feel sure they had one of the five percent — one of those cardiac arrest cases which would make a full recovery.

That night Mrs. Chapman told the doctors "My chest hurts."

"I wonder how that could be," the doctors said. "It was your throat we were working on."

Two days later the little story about the "trick" was told.

The Chapmans are looking forward to a merry Christmas at home. Their gratitude to the doctors and to Cogdell Hospital is limitless. After all, it was the surgeon, the doctors, and the equipment of the hospital, all working together that made possible the surgeon's final remark — "I see no reason why there should be any further complications in this case."

OUR VIEW

Public Junior College Still Most Economical Facility

Two events in state news of the past week were of particular interest to Snyder people who are studying a possible proposal to establish a public junior college.

The courts held that junior college districts may levy and collect taxes on property (as they have been doing all along) to finance their operations.

And Gov. Price Daniel recommended an increase in tuition fees at state colleges and universities. The governor's budget proposal for 1964-65, which must be acted upon by the legislature in its 1963 session, recommends that tuition charges at state colleges be increased from $50 per semester to $100 per semester.

Most state colleges of the four-year, or senior, variety, and virtually all privately endowed and denominationally supported colleges are confronted with sorely taxed facilities and faculties. Indications are that the private, or denominational colleges and universities all will be limiting their enrollment in the future, as indeed many already have done so or announced intentions to do so.

Larger state colleges and universities enforce limitations by various methods. Their tuition fees are substantially lower than those of the private schools, but their needs for additional finances are so great that many experts feel that higher tuition is justified.

Public junior colleges, many of them established in recent years, are attracting thousands of students in localized areas which they were designed to serve. At the same time, older junior colleges are being converted into four-year colleges because their enrollment has soared and demands for their services have been increased. Still, it appears that the state is unable to keep pace with its higher education needs.

And still the public junior college appears to be the most economical method for providing the first two years of college work for students.

Backstage...

One thing seems to be sure in Scurry County, and that is that we're not likely to have a new courthouse or jail any time soon. And since that's so, several people have been wondering why we can't have the present courthouse improved just a little. The improvement we have in mind today is the addition of the elevator that some ladies talked to the commissioners about last Monday. When the idea first came up several months ago, almost everybody thought it would cost about $40,000. But then an elevator man came by and took a look, and made an estimate that was way less than that — only about $15,000 for the elevator itself. Of course a shaft will have to be built, but that shouldn't be too much. So for the sake of the folks who have a hard time getting up to see the social security man on the second floor, and for the sake of us who huff and puff something awful before we get to the top floor, we hope the county can do something soon.

Adenauer Faces Uncertainty In Final Year

By JOHN WEYLAND

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer at 86 is entering his last year in office with what is widely regarded as a shaky government and a weakened position.

Uncertainty apparently lies ahead for West Germany, probably the most stable big power in Eruope during the long period when Adenauer was at the height of his power.

To form the new coalition government he had to give his reluctant promise to resign next fall. He then will have served 14 years as chancellor.

The crucial factor in Adenauer's situation is that he has become a lame duck, with all the disadvantages that go with it. He must be wary of long-term commitments in international negotiations, since his successor might have other ideas. In domestic matters politicians are looking ahead to the time when he won't be around; that means his views will tend to carry less weight.

The new government probably will do well to hold together until Adenauer bows out, though it is supposed to last until 1965 elections. Diplomats, politicians and journalists in Bonn see a possible collapse within months, even weeks, because the member parties are the same as before and the recent government crisis increased their bitterness toward one another.

Adenauer's Christian Democrats who lack a majority in Parliament, are back in coalition with the Free Democratic party. The two often clashed in the old coalition because of sharp differences over domestic policy.

The Free Democrats speak for big business. They want unhindered competition, a balanced budget and a minimum of expensive social legislation.

The bigger party, the Christian Democrats, needs broad support. It tries to provide at least a little something for everybody. This has produced steadily increasing government spending.

The 1963 budget, to be presented next month, is likely to bring conflict within the coalition. Adenauer has re-emphasized his party's insistence on a new welfare program. Free Democratic Chairman Erich Mende is out with a tough statement on maintaining the value of the mark.

Adding to instability is the willingness of the left-leaning Social Democrats to negotiate at any time on a new big coalition that would give them their first taste of power. Adenauer made overtures to this party during the recent crisis and could do so again if the Free Democrats try too hard to get their way.

The end of the Adenauer era would promise to come off more smoothly if a question mark did not hang over his successor.

Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard can only hope that his popularity as the "father of the economic miracle" will keep him towering over his rivals and bring him victory.

Adenauer considers Erhard weak and politically inept.

As his new defense minister Adenauer brought in Kai-uwe von Hassel, a rising politician in the Christian Democratic party. As defense minister he will gain national prominence and could turn into a threat to Erhard.

This will be particularly likely if economic troubles worsen. The growth rate of the gross national product dropped to 4 per cent this year from 10 per cent in 1961.

Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, an ambitious and able man, is another possible alternative to Erhard.

Thus it looks as if a three-way struggle for the chancellorship will take place—at least behind the scenes—during the coming months.

Little change in foreign policy is looked for, since all leading politicians are united on the need for a strong Europe and a close alliance with the United States.

Hanging over the political situation is the Spiegel affair, which brought down the old coalition. The treason action against the news magazine over an article critical of the armed forces is only in its initial phase, with no formal charges placed and no trial date set. As it develops, more revelations could rock the government again.

The Spiegel affair emphasizes dissatisfaction with Adenauer that has been growing since he backed out on a promise in 1959 to move over to the largely ceremonial job of president. His admitted involvement in some aspects of the affair, which repeatedly exposed government confusion, generally is regarded as having tarnished his image with the public.

Despite all this, there is no tendency to write him off as a has-been whose importance will unfailingly dwindle during the next 10 or 12 months. His mastery of politics is legend and he seems fully capable of somehow exercising much of his old authority.

Working for him is the general high respect in which his overall career is held by the West German people, even those who have reservations about recent activities. He is accepted as a historical figure who raised his country from the ruins of World War II to a position of international power and respect.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Daily News:

In the December 11 and December 12 issues of the Snyder Daily News, Inez Robb, in her syndicated column, defended Adlai Stevenson. According to her, ". . . a crude hatchet job on the American representative at the United Nations has been attempted." She presents Stevenson as a strong, tough-talking anti-communist. Here are some facts about Mr. Stevenson which do not correlate with Columnist Robb's image. They came from the book, No Wonder We Are Losing, by Robert Morris (former chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.)

"During World War II it was determined that a large proportion of the radio operators on our merchant ships were communists. About 88 of these foreign agents had been removed when Adlai Stevenson came to their defense via a letter to the Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Stevenson said . . . The problem presented here by the present method of administration of Public Law 351 is whether identification with communism, even if sufficiently proven is sufficient ground to disqualify a man without some other evidence of incompetence or unreliability in his job as a radio operator on a merchant ship. In other words, in view of the present military alignments, political considerations, and shortage of radio operators, should we discharge operators because of their political opinions only?"

Is a Communist a member of a conspiracy bent on world conquest or, as Stevenson implies, only someone with different "political opinions"?

In 1958, World Brotherhood held a "seminar" in Bern, Switzerland, attended by internationalists from all over the world, including eight Americans, two of whom were Eleanor Roosevelt and Adlai Stevenson. Here is a summary of the conclusions reached by this group: "We must recognize that the communist countries are here to stay and cannot be wished away by propaganda. All is not bad in communist countries. Western nations could learn from communist experiments. We should study ways to make changes in both systems—communist and ours—in order to bring them nearer together. We should try to eliminate the stereotype attitudes about, and suspicion of communism. We must assume that the communist side is not worse than, but merely different from our side."

To say that the Communist side is not worse than, but merely different from our side is to equate the Communist system and its slave labor, secret police, mass murder, starvation, and socialist collectivization with the American (capitalist) system of individual freedom, private ownership of property and economic abundance.

Is it any wonder then, with Adlai carrying the ball for the US that the UN has condemned the anti-Communist government in Portugal, waged war with paid UN mercenaires against the anti-Communist Tshombe, arranged for the delivery of Dutch-held West New Guinea to pro-Communist Indonesia, and voted into the UN as a "new nation" the Russian province of Outer Mongolia?

Long Sparks Tigers To Overtime Victory

By Jerry Jackson-
News Sports Editor

Senior shotmaker Stuart Long delivered the goods when they were needed the most here Friday night in leading the Snyder Tigers to their second home court overtime triumph, coming from behind to dump the Hamlin Pied Pipers 58-55.

With the victory, the Bengals kept above the high-water mark for the campaign with five wins and four losses. The Pipers, who had been beaten more decisively by the Tigers in their opener, plunged to 3-8.

Snyder, just slightly over a week ago, had gotten past Levelland in overtime, also, by another three-point margin — 54-51.

It was Long who spurred a spirited fourth-quarter rally that brought the Tigers victory in a first-class hair-raiser. He scored 8 of his 18 points in that period, including two goals that were necessities in the final minute of play.

The Tigers trailed by no less than 8 points with less than six minutes to go in the game — 38-46 — before they began to close the gap. Long hit a 10-foot jumper from the side with a half-minute left to put the Bengals abreast for the first time, but a bucket by Hamlin's Larry Butler with 15 seconds to go put the visitors ahead once again at 54-52.

Long's tieing goal came moments later with a mere two seconds showing on the clock to throw the contest into overtime.

Long hit another basket from the top of the key early in the overtime period to put the Tigers ahead to stay. Sophomore Drew Bullard drove in for a layup with 30 seconds left in the three-minute period to help take the pressure off during the waning moments.

The Pied Pipers who made good on 17 of 34 free throws during the game to bring them to the brink of victory (Snyder lofted only 14 and connected on 6), missed out on their overtime opportunities by missing three gratis tosses. Their only point during the period was a free pitch by Larry Butler after the Tigers had already built up their four-point lead.

Van Newberry sparked the Pipers in point production with 23 points to take scoring honors for the night. He was held to only six points during the entire second half, however.

Jimmy Wilson and Darrell Aldridge each had 10 points for the Tigers to be second to Long in Tiger individual scoring. Aldridge contributed four of his points during the tumultuous fourth quarter before fouling out with 1:28 remaining in the regulation game.

Mike Shivers ranked second to Newberry in Hamlin scoring with 10 for the night.

B Team Victor, Too

Snyder B avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of Hamlin B by ringing up an easy 65-43 win in the opening contest of the same evening.

Snyder B's record now stands at 4-6.

As in the varsity game, a big second half pushed the Tigers home, as they trailed by 29-30 at halftime before rallying to outscore the Pipers by 16-7 in the third period. From there they coasted on in, the game turning into a near rout as it progressed.

Scoring leader Leslie Anderson sparked the winning attack with 21 points — 13 of which were accumulated in the last half. Jerry Vestal was close behind him for the Bengals with 18.

Ronnie Tiechelman raced to 14 points in the first half, but was held to only two during the last two periods for 16 points and Hamlin scoring honors.

Snyder B is not scheduled to hit the hardwoods again until January 1, when Seminole B will be the foe. The Tiger varsity, prior to its Seminole engagement of the same date, will take part in Lubbock's Caprock Holiday Tournament slated December 26-29.

White Bass Rise Important Event

By The Associated Press

The rise of the white bass from obscurity to prominence is the single most important fishing event of our time. At least that's the opinion of one Central Texas writer.

The white bass, the writer says, provides more sport than all the other species combined, keeps some semblance of balance in the lakes and many times can be caught by anyone who can get a bait in the water.

"And on the dinner table the white bass will rank right up there with the best," he said. "You couldn't ask much more of a sport fish."

Generally fishing and television don't mix. An Oklahoma trio fishing in Lake Texoma proved recently, however, that it does.

Deciding they wanted to fish and watch a football game they hooked up a TV set aboard the 21-foot cruiser from which they were fishing. The fish upset the trio's plans, though, when they yanked at the bait so much the anglers had to turn off the television.

They really didn't mind—they sacked up 251 sandies and one of the fishermen said he didn't figure they missed "too much of their favorite program."

One outdoorsman who combines fishing and gardening advises that the ideal use for spoiled fish is to bury them around flower beds or shrubbery. This is the best possible fertilizer, he says.

A group of four hunters in Northeast Texas had a hard time doing it, but they finally got the prize they were after—a 28-pound bobcat. The men chased the cat unsuccessfully for three hours one night and finally bagged him after more than a four-hour chase the following night.

The 1963 state bass tournament returns to Lake Belton April 18-21. Inquiries about the contest indicate it may be the largest in Texas' history.

If anyone is in the market for a large pet, in fact a 400-pound bear, he should contact the supervisor of Fish and Wildlife Department, Navajo Tribe, Window Rock, Ariz. It seems the tribe is seeking a home for the bear until spring.

They say they will ship it postpaid to the first one who asks for it. A food note: It likes soda pop.

The 1963 Houston National Boat and Sport Show will be held in the Houston City Coliseum Jan. 18-22. Included in the show will be a fisherama for youngsters, National Aeronautics and Space Administration exhibit, Texas Game and Fish Commission wildlife exhibit and a Miss Mermaid beauty contest.

Also part of the show will be gifts of five boat-motor-trailer rigs valued at $9,500.

Whitney—Black bass fishing picking up with good catches of sand bass also coming in.

Possum Kingdom—Anglers getting numerous bass strings, including one of 86.

Grapevine—Barger fishing spotty, but some good strings of crappie being taken.

Freeport—Offshore fishing good.

Port Aransas—Excellent trout run in progress with anglers also getting small redfish and some sheepshead.

Galveston—Overall catches off considerably although trout fishing may pick up.

Bridgeport—Crappie biting good.

Tourney Set In Arkansas

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State College will play host to teams from three conferences in the first annual Arkansas State Holiday Basketball Tournament here Dec. 28-29.

Tulane University of the Southeastern Conference, Texas A&M of the Southwest Conference and Atlantic Coast Conference will join State for two days of doubleheaders.

Texas A&M plays Tulane in the first game and Virginia plays Arkansas State in the second game on Dec. 28. Losers and winners vie against one another Dec. 29.

J. A. (Ike) Tomlinson, athletic director, said this will be the first invitational college tournament ever staged in northeast Arkansas.

It also is the first time that State's Indians have met major basketball teams, he said.

Arkansas State's big guns are Jerry Rook, who averaged over 20 points a game last season, and Don Shatley, a quick floor man.

'Boxing For Funners' In Matches Here

A rousing card of 14 bouts was reeled off at the Scurry County Boys' Club Friday night, as the Club set its "boxing for fun" program into motion.

No card is planned for this coming Friday, according to director Herb Barnett, but they will be staged on each successive Friday after that until further notice. Barnett reports that 69 boys are working out and participating in the program as of now.

Results of Friday's matches follow. All are decisions unless specified otherwise.

Sawyer To Scout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eddie Sawyer, former manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, has been hired as a full time scout, Gene Martin, farm director of the National League baseball club, announced Saturday night.

Cards Deal Blackwell Triple Loss

HERMLEIGH — With five performers leaping into double figures, Hermleigh's Cardinals romped to a 75-53 cage victory over Blackwell here Friday to complete a sweep of three games for the evening.

The Hermleigh girls won with ease also, by 63-46, and Hermleigh B team nudged Blackwell B 34-32 to complete the picture.

The Card varsity, after a slow first half which saw them hitting only 29 percent from the field, doubled that percentage in the second half to win going away. Hermleigh left the court at intermission nursing a 32-31 lead.

Dane Hudnall meshed 20 points to lead the scoring onslaught. J. B. Roberson was close behind with 19, while Don Taylor had 12 and Tom Winters and Billy Ray Kubena 11 each to help pace the well-balanced Redbird attack.

Robert Cook topped Blackwell scoring with 15, followed by Mickey Campbell and Hindman with 14 and Courtney King with 10.

Jolene Roberson bucketed 35 points to push the Hermleigh girls to their victory. Helping matters along were Carolyn Roemisch with 19, Marilyn Darden with 7, and Kelly Mayes with 2.

Blackwell's Kay McCarley nabbed scoring honors for the game with 38.

Curtis Brown was high man for the Cardinal B team with 9 points. Scoring honors in that one went to Blackwell's Bill Varnes, who rang up 16.

Color Line Broken As South Wins

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Big Willie Richardson broke the South's color line in the North-South college all-star football game Saturday and carried the Rebels to a 15-14 victory when he scored on an 80-yard pass play with 37 seconds to go.

Jerry Woolum of Kentucky threw the pass. Then he whipped another to his teammate, Jerry Gash, for the two-point conversion that proved the actual margin of victory.

Richardson, Little All-America choice from Jackson, Miss. State College, ended his college career with a dazzling pass-catching performance that won him honors as the South's most valuable player.

Bob Paramore, another Little All-America from Florida A&M Negro college, who was chosen along with Richardson, made it a greater day for his race by winning the Sportsmanship Award for a fine running performance on a bad ankle.

The desperate, game-winning pass caught the Yankees, who were favored by seven points, by surprise. The lanky, long-striding Richardson caught it at the North 40 and ambled untouched across the goal.

Little Jerry Gross of Detroit had pitched the North into a 14-7 halftime lead.

The Detroit 168-pounder passed 7 yards to Lonny Sanders of Michigan State for the first touchdown in the opening quarter.

The South struck back quickly to tie it up 7-7 on a 48-yard throw to Richardson.

In the second quarter Gross hit Walter Sweeney of Syracuse and Tom Hennessey of Holy Cross with three passes and from the 10 Dave Francis of Ohio State smashed over in two plays.

Oilers, Texans Poised For Showdown Fight In Houston

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — The well-balanced Dallas Texans challenge the pass-minded Houston Oilers in a Texas showdown Sunday for the American Football League championship.

Dallas will be trying to wrestle from the defending champions the title Houston has held since the AFL was organized in 1960.

The Oilers are favored by 6½ points in the Texas feud that will be televised nationally (3 p.m., EST). An overflow crowd of 37,000 is expected at Jeppesen Public Schools Stadium.

Records leave little choice between the two teams. Both won division titles with 11-3 records. They rank one-two in the AFL in both total offense and total defense. Neither gained a wide statistical edge while splitting two regular season games.

Houston's attack, as in 1960 and 1961, centers on the explosive passes of George Blanda. The old pro of 13 years is backed by such top runners as Charlie Tolar and Billy Cannon, but about two out of every three yards the Oilers gained this season resulted from passes.

Dallas blends the brilliant passing of Len Dawson, the AFL's player of the year, with the power and speed of Curtis McClinton, the rookie of the year, and Abner Haynes, the league's leading ground gainer in 1960. The Texan formula has resulted in near-perfect balance in that Dallas gained 2,456 yards in 14 games on passes and 2,407 yards rushing.

Blanda set a league record this year by having 42 passes intercepted but he rallied the Oilers from behind six times and Houston moves into its third title game seeking an eighth straight victory. Blanda had only 22 interceptions last season, when he preceded Dawson as the league's player of the year.

Dawson threw three touchdown passes as the Texans ran over Houston, 31-3, in late November while intercepting six passes and recovering three fumbles. A week later Blanda bombed Dallas for a 14-6 victory as the Houston defense prevented the Texans from crossing the Oiler 34-yard line the first 55 minutes.

Dawson set a league record with a .609 percentage compiled while completing 189 of 310 passes for 2,759 yards and 29 touchdowns. Blanda completed 197 of 418 for 2,810 yards and 27 touchdowns.

Houston led the league in total offense, averaging 355 yards per game to 347 for runner-up Dallas. The Texans led in defense with 282 yards, compared to 295 for second place Houston.

Dallas clinched the Western Division championship Nov. 18 but Houston had to maintain its seven-game winning streak to take the Eastern title by 1½ games over the Boston Patriots.

Both teams are in near perfect physical condition, but Dallas will be without Chris Burford, a star end who was injured four weeks ago.

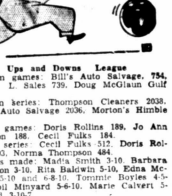

Dawson threw 26 touchdown passes before Burford was injured and 12 of them were to the former Stanford end.

Houston won the first AFL championship in 1960 by defeating the Los Angeles Chargers, 24-16. The Chargers later moved to San Diego and lost to the Oilers, 14-3, in the 1961 title game.

Windham Lost To Aggies Indefinitely

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Windham, Texas A&M's leading basketball scorer and rebounder, has been lost to the Aggie team indefinitely with a groin injury.

Windham, averaging 20 points per game through five contests, was injured when he went up for a successful field goal in A&M's 67-61 victory over LSU Friday night.

Demons Win 2nd Crown

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH (AP) — Dumas fought back from a three point deficit in the second half Saturday to dump Pharr-San Juan-Alamo 14-3 and successfully defend its Class AAA state schoolboy football championship.

The highly-favored Demons, rated a three-touchdown favorite in some quarters, finally overcame a 3-0 Bear lead in the third quarter and added a clinching touchdown with two minutes left in the game.

The spunky Bears, fighting a terrific weight disadvantage, twice stopped the burly Demons with sensational goal line stands but could never penetrate the Dumas defense for a touchdown drive.

Dumas swept through the season with a 13-1 record and added a second trophy to the one picked up last year in the finals against Nederland.

A crowd of 4,100 turned out in chilly but sunny weather to view the encounter in Texas Christian University's Amon Carter Stadium.

Julian Miller tallied the first Dumas touchdown when he plowed in from the 1 and quarterback Joe Parsons tacked on the finale on a spirited seven-yard spurt around left end.

Bucho Gomez put the South Texans out front in the second quarter on a 25-yard field goal after their second straight scoring drive stalled deep in Dumas territory.

The outclassed Bears awed the crowd from the outset with daring offensive maneuvers and brittle defensive work, spurred by James Crawford, Danny Cantu, Arnoldo Romero and Larry Hendrick.

But in the end, it was the stout Dumas defense that made the difference.

The West Texans completely dominated the second half as Parsons, Miller, Norman Bonner and Gary King punched out methodical yardage that kept Pharr in constant trouble.

The Demons should have picked up two additional points, but the officials overlooked the infraction.

In the third period, Bear kicker Mark Seitz got off a 35-yard punt while standing out of the end zone, an automatic safety if observed by the officials.

The infraction came after the Pharr forward wall had held the Demons inches from the goal. However, Dumas took the kick and marched 31 yards in seven plays to crack the scoring barrier.

Miller crawled in for the touchdown with 3:03 left in the quarter.

Parsons' seven-yard TD scamper later capped a 35-yard drive that consumed 10 plays.

Only once in the final 24 minutes did the Bears push into Dumas territory. This came with only seconds to play and Doug Holtzclaw killed the threat with a pass interception after Pharr-San Juan-Alamo had moved to the 33.

Fireworks were plentiful in the first half despite the low point production.

Garry Emrick sliced through the hulking Dumas line at one point in the first period and nearly found an opening for a 71-yard touchdown romp. But he was pulled down from behind an instant before breaking into the clear and had to settle for 16 yards.

Likewise, Parsons nearly chilled the Bears midway through the second stanza on a wild dash down the right sideline. Parsons, a senior, rolled 25 yards from his own 11 before finally being pushed out of bounds.

The Bears twice had touchdown opportunities, but the first withered on four expired downs at the Dumas 21, and the second stalled at the Dumas 8 and Gomez booted his field goal from the 15.

Penalties prevented the Demons from cranking up a scoring drive on a couple of occasions while the Bears saw their hopes dashed several times by butter-fingered pass receivers.

Bonner, Parsons and King contributed 64, 58 and 40 yards respectively for Dumas while Poppy Rodriquez, a snappy 146-pound halfback, compiled 86 for Pharr.

Parsons also contributed 49 yards on 7 of 10 pass completions.

Herron Paces Rotan To Triumph By 39-6

By JERRY PILLAR

TEMPLE (AP) — Quarterback Steve Herron ran for two touchdowns of 85 and 45 yards and passed for two others to give mighty Rotan the Class A football championship here Saturday with a 39-6 victory over Ingleside.

Herron ran the opening kickoff back 85 yards to put the Yellowhammers into a lead which they never lost.

Ingleside's lone touchdown came when Bobby Jones plunged over from one yard out in the last quarter.

Herron's two touchdown passes went for 6 and 58 yards. He hit Joe Frank Garcia for the 6-yarder and followed it up by hitting Lenis Polnac with a 58-yarder.

Ingleside's Mustangs, an upset team all year, could not find the strength to overcome Herron's leadership and a superior hitting Rotan line. Rotan was so in control of the game that they needed to punt only twice during the game.

Rotan's second tally came when Polnac plunged over from one yard out. Two Herron passes of 27 and 15 yards set up Polnac's plunge.

Rotan led at the half with a 33-0 bulge. The Yellowhammer's lone second half tally came when Eddie Lang took a punt on his own 27 yard line and raced 73 yards for a touchdown with two minutes gone in third quarter.

Until the final quarter, Rotan had scored every time it got the ball.

Herron puzzled the Mustangs throughout the game with his run-pass option plays.

Rotan amassed 162 yards rushing to 180 for the Mustangs. Herron threw four of nine passes for 103 yards, to spell the difference in the game.

Ingleside was led by quarterback David Blaschke to its only tally. Baschke took a punt on his own 25 and returned it to the 40 before being snared by Bill Ashton. Blaschke led the team to the Rotan 32 when alternate quarterback David Whitney hit end Benny Fregia with a pass down to the Rotan 5 yard line.

Two plays later Jones plunged through the awsome Rotan line.

Ashton led the Rotan defense with five unassisted tackles and several other assists at his linebacker position.

Former professional great Sammy Baugh sat in the stand with 2,500 other spectators to watch his son, Rruce, carry the ball as Rotan fullback. The younger Baugh ran over a two - point conversion after Herron's 58-yard pass to Polnac. The only other conversion Rotan made during day was Ashton's kick.

Houston Crushes Miami In Tangerine Bowl By 49-21

By DUKE FERGUSON

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Sparked by the sensational running of sophomore halfback Joe Lopasky, the University of Houston steamrollered over Miami of Ohio 49-21 Saturday in the 17th annual Tangerine Bowl football game.

Lopasky exploded for four touchdowns, including a 70-yard punt return, and kept a crowd of 7,500 on its feet much of the game.

The fast Texas team swapped touchdowns with a gallant but outclassed Ohio squad in the first, third and fourth periods. The telling quarter was the second when the Cougars slashed through the Redskin line on the ground and through the air for four tallies.

Miami struck fast and hard in the opening minutes of the first period, scoring after intercepting a pass by Houston quarterback Billy Roland. Halfback Scott Tayler scooped the aerial in and put Miami on the Houston 27.

A few plays later Miami scored on an 8-yard pass from quarterback Ernie Kellerman to end Gerald Myers. End Bob Jencks converted for the extra point.

The Texas squad then broke loose and scored five touchdowns before the halftime gun.

Lopasky scored the first Cougar touchdown on a 3-yard run. McMillan kicked the first of his six conversions. It was all Houston in the second quarter. Fullback Bobby Brezina plunged over from the 1 for the second tally, and took a pass from quarterback Billy Roland for the third.

Lopasky capped the half with a blazing 70-yard punt return to put Houston ahead at halftime 35-7.

It looked like a total rout when the Cougars scored again at the start of the third quarter on a Roland pass to McMillan.

However, Miami was still to be contended with.

Quarterback Ernie Kellerman switched to the shotgun system and caught the Houston defense off guard.

The 167-pound sophomore uncorked a barrage of left-handed passes and runs that finally connected for another Redskin tally when he plunged over from the 1. Jencks again converted.

But the Cougars put the finishing touches on their second bowl victory, moving to the Miami 4 where Lopasky bulled his way through the line for another score.

Still fighting, Miami moved the ball to the Houston 10 in the fourth period and sent halfback Bill Neumeier over for another score.

But Houston, apparently better acclimated to the warm southern temperatures, added an insurance touchdown when Lopasky bulled in a pass from Roland for his fourth score of the game.

This is Houston's second bowl victory in as many appearances. The Cougars beat Dayton 26-21 in the 1951 Salad Bowl at Phoenix.

Football Game Only Part Of Big Cotton Bowl Week

DALLAS (AP) — When you speak about Cotton Bowl Week, it brings to most minds the big football classic. But that's just part of a vast program.

It is something of a sports extravaganza, with beauty queens, parades and a host of other affairs thrown in.

This year's Cotton Bowl Week includes college and high school basketball, bowling and tennis tournaments, a skeet shoot and a rodeo — although it will not be the National Finals Rodeo, which had been held here for the past three years.

The non-football events will be climaxed by the Cotton Bowl Festival parade preceding the game Jan. 1.

Thirty - two of the state's high school basketball teams will begin play Wednesday morning in the 23rd annual invitational tournament. Four gyms will be used at the start. The tournament queen will be crowned at 7 p.m. Wednesday. The tourney runs through Saturday.

The Cotton Bowl Rodeo begins a five - day run at the State Fair Livestock Coliseum Thursday night, with the first of seven performances at 8 p.m. Other performances are at 8 p.m. nightly through New Year's eve with 2 p.m. matinees Saturday and Sunday. The rodeo is sponsored by the State Fair of Texas.

Also on Thursday, the Cotton Bowl College Basketball Tournament sponsored by the Southwestern AAU starts at the Dallas Memorial Auditorium with 16 teams beginning play at 9 a.m.

The sixth annual Cotton Bowl Tennis Tournament starts at the Automobile and Recreation Building at State Fair Park. The basketball tournament will continue through Monday with no games on Sunday. The tennis meet will wind up Sunday.

A basketball game between SMU and the University of Tulsa is scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the SMU Coliseum.

There will be competition Saturday, Sunday and Monday in the 10th annual Cotton Bowl Singles Classics and Ragtime Doubles Classics at the Industrial Bowling Center.

The Cotton Bowl Skeet Championships, a 200-target, 12-gauge shoot, will take place Saturday and Sunday at the Dallas Gun Club on Highway 183.

A number of special functions are scheduled for Monday, Dec. 31, including the Cotton Bowl Breakfast sponsored by the Downtown Quarterback Club at the Downtown Y.M.C.A., the Texas Sports Hall of Fame luncheon at the Sheraton - Dallas Hotel sponsored by the Texas Sports Writers Association and the Salesmanship Club of Dallas, and a style show at the Statler Hilton.

The Cotton Bowl Festival parade, with "fabulous fantasies" as its theme, on Tuesday will have 31 bands from seven states and 26 floats. The parade is sponsored by the Cotton Bowl Council.

Kickoff for the 1963 Cotton Bowl football classic is at 1:45 p. m. (CST) with pre - game pageantry due to begin an hour earlier.

Illinois In Fifth Win

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Undefeated Illinois rang up its fifth successive basketball triumph Saturday, outlasting Oklahoma in a thriller 93-90, after the Illini trailed seven times by nine points.

Illinois, No. 8 in The Associated Press poll, led 91-90 with 13 seconds left. Oklahoma then called time to set up a play.

Oklahoma's Farrell Johnson tossed the ball in bounds. But Illinois' Dave Downey intercepted and drove half the length of the court for the clinching basket.

Just as the buzzer sounded, Oklahoma's Jerry Haddock pushed in a rebound but it was ruled the game already had ended.

Oklahoma, now 4-4, was well ahead in the middle stages of the game. However, Illinois spurted to an 85-76 margin with 2:34 to go, mainly on the scoring of Bill Small.

Small tallied 26 points on 13 field goals—10 in the second half. Downey was Illini runner-up with 21.

Brackenridge Eagles Upset Borger, 30-26, For Title

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

ABILENE (AP)— The skinney-legged Brackenridge Eagles rode the passing arm of little Victor Castillo and the flying feet of slippery Warren McVea to an upset 30-26 victory over Borger for the Texas schoolboy Class AAAA football championship Saturday.

Castillo, one of the great passers of schoolboy history, threw for 256 yards and three touchdowns and set up another. McVea, the finest runner, scored three touchdowns and the team that lost three games but came back had won the second state championship in the school's annals.

It was a bitter disappointment for Borger, which reached the finals for the first time with an unbeaten, untied record.

A crowd of 10,000 watched one of the most thrilling and sensational games on record and was on its feet the last five minutes as Borger made a gallant bid for victory.

With 1:39 left Borger, led by its great fullback, Lee Johnson, who ran for 156 yards, had advanced to its 49 and seemed on the way to a touchdown. But Brackenridge braced like a brick wall and took over on downs, then ran out the clock.

Brackenridge saved the day with its glittering triumph on this cold, windy occasion. The San Antonio school was the only South Texas team to win a state championship—the other three went to West Texas.

Borger started out with the 15-miles-per-hour wind at its back and got eight points. Brackenridge then got the wind to its back and rolled to three touchdowns in the second period.

Brackenridge led 24-8 at the half. Borger narrowed it to 24-14 in the third period.

The passing of Castillo, the running of Negro McVea and the pass-receiving of the talented Pete Bautista told the story as Brackenridge won the state championship twice in 15 years—taking it each time it reached the finals.

There were Negro players on both teams; the first time for this to happen in a Class AAAA final.

Castillo passed 13 yards to Bautista for the first Brackenridge touchdown. He threw nine yards to McVea for the second. He passed 20 yards to McVea for the third.

McVea smashed over from the 2-yard line for the final Brackenridge touchdown, which came in the fourth period as Borger began to threaten.

Castillo ran over two points and passed to Johnny Pessina for four. Thus Castillo accounted for all of the Brackenridge points except six.

Brackenridge started out by fumbling a pitchout to give Borger the ball on its 9. The Eagles held on the 2 and took over, but Castillo was tackled in the end zone by John LaGrone and Joe Coffer for a safety.

Borger got a touchdown late in the period with a 49-yard run by Johnson setting it up. Wayne Rape made it from the 1-yard line.

Then action moved into the second period and Brackenridge rolled merrily to three touchdowns to actually sew up the game.

The last half belonged to Borger which started the third period by driving 85 yards to a touchdown, scored by David Dillingham with a 10-yard blast. Rape failed to run over the conversion and this proved fatal.

Borger got two touchdowns in the final period, one on a 32-yard pass from Rape to Joe Robinson and the other on a 1-yard plunge by Jerry Wilson, the injured halfback who got to play only a small part of the game. Rape fumbled the ball on one try to run over the conversion and he failed on a pass trying to get the other one.

Bautista caught five passes for 121 yards and McVea took six for 74.

Brackenridge was impotent on the ground with only 22 yards while Borger, which plays possession ball, ground out 206. But Brackenridge with its 256 yards in the air had 278 total offense compared to 285 for Borger.

Brackenridge	0 24 6 6—30
Borger	8 0 6 12—26

Bor—Safety (Castillo tackled in end zone by LaGrone and Coffer)

77-Yard TD Gallop Propels Missouri To 14-10 Victory

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Bill Tobin, taking advantage of a key block by Andy Russell, broke loose for a 77-yard touchdown run in the third quarter Saturday to break up a defensive deadlock and give Missouri a 14-10 victory over favored Georgia Tech in the fourth annual Bluebonnet Bowl football classic.

Russell, with two interceptions, then paced the powerful Missouri defense—the fifth best in the nation—as it protected the 14-7 lead by turning back three late Tech threats by giving up nothing more than a 26-yard field goal by Billy Lothridge.

A fumble recovery at the Missouri 15 paved the way for Lothridge's three-pointer late in the third period and two interceptions gave the Engineers late chances at the Tiger 23-and 22-yard lines before Russell made his game-saving pass thefts.

Missouri, a touchdown underdog, never trailed in a game witnessed by a crowd of 55,000 and a national television audience.

The Tigers took a 7-0 first period lead with a 67-yard drive that Jim Johnson climaxed with a 21-yard touchdown. Tech matched this with a 61-yard second quarter surge to tie the score as Joe Auer, behind perfect blocking, scored on a 6-yard run.

Tobin, a 193-pound senior from Burlington Junction, Mo., broke loose on his game-winning run on the second play after a punt by Lothridge was killed at the Missouri 20.

After Paul Uderhill had picked up 3 yards, Russell's neat block permitted Tobin to break through into the secondary and moved across the goal untouched. Don Toner, Engineer defensive back, made a desperate dive at the 15-yard line but could not get his fingers on the Tiger halfback.

The two long touchdown drives gave Missouri its only serious threats but they were all the Tigers needed.

In addition to the two late opportunities smashed by Russell's interceptions, Tech also lost an early second quarter chance when Roger Phillips intercepted a Lothridge pass at the Missouri 19.

Tobin, with 114 yards in 11 carries, was named the game's most outstanding back, receiving 15 votes to 10½ for Johnson. Conrad Hitchler, Missouri end, was the outstanding lineman with 12 votes to six for runner-up Rufus Guthrie, Tech guard.

Problems Of Titans Discussed

HOUSTON (AP)—The executive committee of the American Football League discussed the financial problems of the New York Titans for 4 hours and 10 minutes Saturday but took no action.

"Nothing was resolved," said Commissioner Joe Foss. "I apprised the club owners of the New York situation."

There had been speculation the sale of the Titans might be approved Saturday but Foss said before the meeting got under way no formal action would be taken here.

After the meeting, Foss would not speculate on when the league will act.

"I wouldn't want to guess," he said.

The lague's annual meeting is scheduled next month in San Diego.

Harry Wismer, owner of the Titans, arrived in Houston about the time the long afternoon session broke up and did not participate in the discussions. He said weather had delayed his plane's arrival.

Foss and other league officials have spent considerable time in New York the past month helping straighten out the Titans' financial problems and participating in negotiations for sale of the franchise.

Foss said the executive committee discussed nothing except the New York situation.

Palmer To Play In Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Golfer Arnold Palmer, the dominant figure in the game today, will try for one plum that has eluded him in seven tries.

Palmer notified officials he will compete in the $53,000 Los Angeles Open Jan. 3-7.

Winner of eight tournaments this year, including the Masters and the British Open, Palmer has never been even close to the top money in the Los Angeles fixture.

CARD OF THANKS A-3

MESSAGE OF THANKS
To our host of friends and relatives, we take this method to extend our most sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who came to our relief so quick, and gave of their best to aid us in so many ways. your prayers, words of condolence, sympathy, and deeds of kindness. When the dark cloud of sorrow hovered over us so sudden, as the messenger of death invaded our home & took from our midst our Husband and Father.
You helped us so much to bear our burden. To all of you we are grateful and will always remember how loyal you were.
As it is impossible to remember all by name at this time, we want you to know we shall always be indebted to everyone that contributed in any way. To those who came to the hospital, to our home, to those who brought so much nice food, for the very pretty flowers, telephone calls, telegrams, letters, and cards of sympathy, to those who served the food etc. Especially do we wish to thank Doctor Hartley, Doctor Rogers and the nurses who worked so long & gave their best and we are sure they did all that was human. It is possible to do. Also we want to thank Reverend Jimmie Nelson, Reverend Campbell and Reverend Browder who administered the last rites as well as Brother Virgil Mote and his choir that so ably brought the message in song.
May God bless each and everyone is our Prayer.
Mrs. B. A. (Richard) Harden and Children

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Browsing through the newspapers is a most edifying experience and we just noticed a feature story on a gentleman named Wilbur Glenn Volvia who passed to his reward 20 years ago.

Apparently, Mr. Volvia and the Lacandon Indians of southeastern Mexico were pen pals because they had some similar thoughts.

The thing people considered curious about Mr. Voliva was his insistence that the world was flat as a pancake. In fact, he had a rather poetic type of philosophy about this matter which he summed up as: "The World Is Flat And That Is That."

The story described Mr. Volvia as the iron-willed ruler of Zion, Illinois, and he had signs around town announcing that traitors, thieves and thugs would find his city hotter than the bad place.

He forbid his natives to drink, dance, smoke, play cards, take medicines or consult doctors. see movies, attend other churches, use cosmetics, eat pork, lard, oysters or fool around with ouija boards.

And Mr. Voliva instructed his schools to teach the children that the world was flat, FLAT, FLAT.

He would be considerably cheered today in knowing that his theory is still adhered to by the Lacandon Indians and nobody is about to tell them diferent.

The Lacandon world is flat and you can say what you want about satellites flying around but all they do is go in a big circle like an orange swinging on a string over a table. Science is all right for a pastime but the truth is something else.

In the Lacandon world, the sun gets up early every morning and says, "Well, here we go again." The sun is a sort of person.

Then he makes a trip across the sky just like Apollo, or whoever it was that went around in a fireball chariot for the Greeks, and comes 6:30 P.M. he sets.

And since he has arrived exhausted to the other side of the world (no dimensions mentioned but it sounds like a tedious journey something has to be done about it.

So two gentlemen load the sun into a hammock and carry it back under the earth to the starting line for the next day's run.

Of course, the Lacandones are much more liberal than Mr. Veliva because they do not hang signs around warning people against evil and nobody cares a fig if the other fellow wants to take a pill or a nip of sugar cane gin now and then or even hold a outja board session.

After you cover the flat theory, there is a startling difference in the beliefs of Mr. Voliva and the Lacandones.

The Lacandon world was made by a fellow named Nohotsakyum who smokes cigars and eats beans and is married to a lady named Nainohotsakyum. And having a wife with a name like that, he probably spades off a very dry martini now and then and sits there muttering to himself, "Whyn't I marry somebody named Ana?"

Nohotsakyum apparently had nothing to do so one day he patted out the world, just like a tortilla, and then started putting people and things all over it.

The Lacandones say he decided to grow a few items that might come in handy so he created corn and bananas and garlic and cane. With a menu like that, imagine going into a Lacandon restaurant when the waitress comes to take your order you say, "A bowl of bananas and garlic please."

Now when the world has had it, a huge jaguar comes along and eats the population and everyone somehow ends up living in the sky with Nohotsakyum, just the way he does.

Mr. Voliva would certainly disapprove of such an existence in the after-world but it doesn't sound bad provided Nohotsakyum passes out decent cigars.

SECOND TIME AROUND—Eleanor Powell says she's having the time of her life in her second career. She once quit show business to be the wife of Glenn Ford but after their divorce she resumed dancing in night spots and will soon make her television debut. (AP Wirephoto)

Cricket's Absence Is Break For Tina

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Many an old Warner Bros. musical featured the earnest young hopeful who took over for the star. It could happen right on the Warner lot.

The star is Connie Stevens, long the chirpy Cricket of the television soapbuster "Hawaiian Eye" and leading lady of some of the studio's soapier features. She and Warners have had their own vendetta in recent times and she is now AWOL, swearing never to return.

This creates the opportunity for young Tina Cole, a pert blonde who belongs to Hollywood's grow-who belongs to Hollywood's grow-show biz hopefuls. The daughter of musician Buddy Cole and Yvonne King, of the singing King sisters, Tina has taken over the female interest in "Hawaiian Eye."

She sings in the Golden Dragon Room by night and operates the information desk of the Hawaiian Village Hotel by day. So far she has had little more to do than say "They went that way" to sleuths Troy Donahue, Bob Conrad and Grant Williams.

But things may pick up. She has a long-term contract that includes recording for the WB label. The studio has high hopes for her.

Probably no starlet ever approached a career with greater realism.

"I had a year of college and I plan to continue taking courses to get my teaching credential," says Tina. "An actress can find work only so long. Teaching is steady work."

Tina comes by her level-headedness—and her talent—naturally.

The King sisters, long one of the country's top vocal teams, quit the business for several years to mother their respective families. Now the act is reunited and playing dates from Las Vegas to Europe.

Young Tina got into the act for some of her seasoning.

"I was watching them sing one night at Lake Tahoe," she recalled, "and I could tell my mother's voice was getting more and more hoarse. Finally she couldn't sing any more, and she called me on stage to take over for her."

Tina had a few singing dates of her own, but was working in an Oakland optometrist's office when Warner summoned her to sub for Connie. She had tried out for a contract months before.

What's ahead for her? It could be like the old musicals in which Ruby Keeler stepped out of the chorus line and became a star. Or she could end up teaching. She seems able to adjust to either.

Retail Sales Dip Slightly

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas retail sales dropped 2 per cent in November following a 9 per cent October rise, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported Saturday.

Primary reason for the November drop was a decrease in the volume of sales of durable goods.

Total sales for November were 4 percent above the same month last year and sales for the first 11 months of this year stood at 8 per cent ahead of 1961.

The bureau estimated total sales this year would reach $12 million.

The 10 per cent drop in sales of durable goods in November was due primarily to a big decrease in sales of automobiles which rose a spectacular 26 per cent in October.

Nondurable goods showed a 1.4 per cent rise in November but were not enough to offset the decline in sales of durables.

Nondurable sales were 1 per cent above the November, 1961 level.

Frank Jr. Has Approval Of Sinatra

By DORIS KLEIN
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The slender singer in the pork pie hat was belting out,

"All of me—

"Why not take awwwwl of me..."

In a corner of the recording studio, a slim boy who bore a striking resemblance to the singer was staring into space, bobbing to the rhythm.

When Count Basie's band bounced the last beat, 18-year-old Frank Sinatra Jr. walked over to his dad.

"How did I do last..." the boy started to ask. His father interrupted, "Just a minute, son."

As young Frank walked away, a press agent told senior, "He's anxious to know what you thought of his performance last night."

"I know," said Frank, "but he can wait. He's a little young."

What Junior didn't know then was that his father had cut short his recording rehearsal the night before to watch young Frank perform on Jack Benny's television show.

It was the first time father had seen son perform and the first time young Frank had appeared on a coast-to-coast hookup.

"Frank laughed and roared through the whole show," a crony who was there said afterward. "He kept saying, 'the kid is really good'."

If Sinatra Sr. has had some rough going in his two broken marriages — to Nancy Sinatra, mother of his three children, who divorced him when young Frank was 6, and to actress Ava Gardner—most in Hollywood agree he has scored as a father.

His eldest, Nancy, 21, made her show business debut with her dad, but put her career in low gear after marrying singer Tommy Sands.

Frank's youngest, Tina, 14, likes to sing, too, according to Frank Jr. but, says Frank Sr., "if she does, she hasn't told me yet."

It's Frank Jr. who probably is the closest to his dad right now.

People outside the close-knit Sinatra circle began noticing the father-son resemblance last summer at Disneyland when young Frank wandered over to the Elliott brothers and asked for a chance to sing with their band.

"I didn't tell the leader who I was," said young Frank, "and he asked me, 'What makes you think you can sing?'

"I told him, 'I wouldn't be asking if I thought I'd make a fool of myself.'"

Afterward, a bass player, who used to be with the late Tommy Dorsey—where Frank Sr. got his big boost — recognized young Frank.

"But they didn't know who I was until I'd finished singing," said Junior.

The band asked him back to sing in an all-Dorsey show. He later appeared on a local Los Angeles television program—"I was scared and I was terrible."

Then the Benny break came along.

What does Frank think of his boy as a performer?

"He's more of an actor than a singer. His tonal quality's pretty good. But he needs more training. He's studying music and I want him to finish college."

Despite the knocks he has taken, Frank is all for his boy's show business career. "If that's what he wants."

IN FRANCE, the yule log is an age-old tradition of the Christmas season. Long before the holiday, the yule log is cut and carried home, to burn throughout Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Buche De Noel With Demitasse

For country folk, a yule log is easily accessible. But the people of Paris long ago found a symbolic replacement for it, one so delectable that it has become part of the Christmas Eve feast. This is the Buche do Noel, a luscious log-shaped cake, fashioned of light batter and frosted with rich mocha cream. When coffee is served at dessert time during Christmas reveillon, this traditional cake is there to accompany it.

Warm Cheer With Coffee

The Buche do Noel is a work of art and naturally takes a little special care. But the preparation of Christmas sweets is one of the joys of the season and decorating this cake should delight any proud cook.

The coffee you serve with the delectable Buche do Noel should be every bit as worthy as the cake itself. For your special holiday entertaining, make it demitasse. This is coffee brewed a little richer than usual, served in your handsomest coffee service. Hot, fragrant coffee and Buche do Noel — perfect ending to a perfect Christmas feast!

BUCHE DO NOEL

½ teaspoon salt
4 eggs
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons dark cocoa, unsweetened
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup pancake mix
1 cup whipping cream
½ cup fine, granulated sugar
Mocha Butter Cream

Grease bottom and sides of jelly roll pan, 10 x 15 x 1-inches. Line with waxed paper. Grease again thoroughly. Add salt to eggs. Beat until thick and lemon colored. Combine sugar and cocoa. Add gradually to eggs, beating well after each addition. Stir in vanilla and pancake mix. Beat until smooth; batter is quite thin. Spread evenly in pan. Bake at 400 F. for 12 minutes. Sprinkle a towel generously with confectioners sugar. Loosen edges of cake and turn out on towel. Peel off waxed paper and roll cake up in towel. Let stand 20 minutes. Meanwhile whip cream with fine sugar. Unroll cake. Spread thinly with some of Mocha Butter Cream, then with whipped cream. Roll up, wrap firmly in aluminum foil and chill or freeze until ready to use. Frost with remaining Mocha Butter Cream. Mark with tip of knife or small spatula to resemble bark. Cut off a thin slice. Unroll slice, cut in half and re-roll halves to make two small "stumps." Place on top of roll. Decorate with vine and leaves made with green icing. Sprinkle here and there with falked coconut to resemble snow. Makes 12 servings.

MOCHA BUTTER CREAM

¾ lb. unsalted butter
¾ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons cark cocoa
1½ tablespoons instant coffee

Cream butter to soft consistency. Combine sugar, cocoa and instant coffee powder. Sift through fine sieve. Add tablespoon at a time to flutter, continuing to cream.

The 'Sucker' Fights Back

HOW TO COPE WITH . . . By Merrill Pollack

Civilization has had certain concomitants which make strong men weep and stronger men gnash their plastic teeth. Among these many irritants have been dunning letters, phoney advertising bait and infuriating entanglements in the paper work of larger corporations.

The author has carved out a sphere of combat between the householder and the modern boogey men of so - called civilized living. And in this sphere he has written a sometimes bitterly humorous commentary on our daily life.

Who has not fumed at waiters who disappear? Who has not erupted at the inane complexities of dealing with public utilities and other service organizations? Who has not become apoplectic at honey-voiced telephone salesmen and overbearing, supercilious employees of the department stores?

Pollack has taken the absurdities of all these eroding, nasty phenomena of civilization and has applied to them the most likely weapon possible — the brassy, counter - attacking evasion. He has prescribed the antidote which is most likely to succeed, the nervy, demanding screams of the outraged sucker.

Much of his book is concerned with the ways and means of defeating credit managers and bill collectors. In that respect, it degenerates into the devious methods of the four- flusher. But it also contains many suggestions for fighting brass with brass.

Pollack's book contains some labored humor, but it will serve as a reader who is jolly well fed up with the nonsense we all live with.

Library To Be Closed Monday Through Wednesday

The Scurry County Library will be closed Monday through Wednesday of this week.

Traditionally Christmas week is the slowest week of the year for library patronage, and in view of this fact the management of the library have decided to take additional days for a well-earned rest for the library employes.

History Of Solo Rulers

KINGS, COURTS AND MONARCHY. By Harold Nicholson.

For the history - minded, this is an engaging volume.

Sir Harold has taken for his subject the whole theme of one-man rule. He examines its origins in magic, religion and warfare; penetrates into the eras of dictatorship, feudalism and the conflicts of secular and religious hierarchies, and concludeh with an approving view of the British constitutional monarchy under which he lives.

It scarcely seems likely that he intended to make parts of his books utterly terrifying to modern readers, yet a good many of them may have that reaction in perusing some of his chapters.

Specifically, there are some ghastly details about the degenerates who came into brief power in the latter days of the Roman Empire; there are some unnerving referenees to the crudities of the feudal system; there are many disillusioning passages on the French monarchs and Nepoleonic era, and some disturbing tales of the caliphates.

The book is crammed with illustrations, from paintings, drawings, sculptures, architecture and cartoons of the various periods. These help to lighten the sometimes professorial text.

It is not light reading. But it gives the patient reader a full-fledged appreciation of what some of our ancestors went through.

Cornbread And Sausage Stuffing

8 small pork sausage links
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup boiling water
2 packages (8 ounces each) dry seasoned cornbread stuffing
1 cup finely diced celery

Cook and brown sausage according to package directions; drain and slice into narrow saucepan melt the butter in the boiling water over low heat. Remove from heat. Stir in the stuffing, celery and sausage. Makes enough stuffing for body and neck cavities of a 10 to 12 pound ready-to-cook weight turkey.

BROWNIES—This group of young ladies are Brownie Troop No. 271 of West Elementary and were on their way to the Snyder Nursing Home to entertain patients with Christmas carols Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Helen Block is leader and Mrs. Ray Houpt is co-leader of the 26 members.

The Life Of Tom Dooley

PROMISES TO KEEP. By Agnes W. Dooley.

At his death in January 1961, at the age of 34, Dr. Thomas A. Dooley had reached out across the world to let people everywhere know what one intensely devoted man could contribute to the humanitarian cause.

He had been in the center of the valiant, excruciating endeavor to evacuate refugees from northern Viet Nam. He had taken a small medical mission into the remote places of Laos. And he had worked tirelessly to raise the money to establish medical missions in other parts of thw rorld.

He left behind four inspiring books — "Deliver Us From Evil," "The Edge of Tomorrow," "The Night They Burned the Mountain" (these three later were gathered into one volume) and "Dr. Tom Dooley — My Story." His friends and associates had compiled another book about his final days, "Before I Sleep."

This book is a biography by his mother, with some interpolated sections by his brother Malcolm. And there is an epilogue consisting of one chapter, "Letter to a Young Doctor," intended to be a part of a book which Dr. Dooley did not have time to complete.

The biography draws strongly on the doctor's many letters. It is admiring and naturally biased, but it is a good summation of his whole life. There are passages which admit frankly that he was an impatient, egocentric man who was a hard taskmaster, and a man who knew the value of personal publicity. Yet these factors are placed in the perspective of the larger goal which Dr. Dooley drove himself so hard to achieve.

Here in one volume is a review of his career, and from it the reader learns that he displayed not only the devotion of a devoutly dedicated man, but also the magic gift of being able to communicate to others the idealism which inspired his own acts.

Know how to steam dried fruit that you want to stuff with peanut butter or fondant or nuts for dessert treats? Put the fruit in a strainer and suspend over boiling water. Cover the fruit in the strainer (using a saucepan or skillet lid) and steam for several minutes or until fruit is as soft as desired.

Pearls For Whom?

AP Newsfeatures

Planning to give pearls for Christmas?

Here's some advice on the best styles for specific ages:

Teen-ager: The short necklace, called the debutante style, of small graduated cultured pearls is the best way to introduce a young girl to her first piece of real jewelry. And this is a style that can be worn by her in later years as a bib with pearls and other necklaces. The circle pin of cultured pearls is another delicate, sedate design, flattering to a young girl.

Women of all ages: The double strand choker is a prize gift. If she already has one, have a special clasp made, or select from among many on the market which combine delicate pearls with other gems. If the budgeting is really tight, a single lustrous drop pearl on a chain makes a delicate pendant; simple ring with a solitaire pearl, or a single pearl bracelet are appropriate at good prices.

Men: Tasteful cultured pearl tie-tacks, stickins, cufflinks and formal shirt studs.

When a recipe calls for ¼ cup of an ingredient, use a ¼ cup nest - type measure; there are 4 tablespoons in ¼ cup, but using a tablespoon as a measure may not give you the same accuracy.

Miss Terry And Mr. Mathews Exchange Vows In Church Of Christ Ceremony

Clovis Ann Terry became the bride of Richard Harrison Mathews Saturday evening at seven o'clock in a candle light ceremony at the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Terry, 2249 Sunset and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harrison A. Mathews of Austin.

Mr. Mathews, father of the groom and minister of the University Church of Christ of Austin officiated.

The doubble ring vows were exchanged before a background of flocked greenery and hurricane lamps with burning pink tapers. Hurricane lamps entwined with flocked greenery in the windows and white poinsettias in the foyer completed the setting.

Wedding music was presented by a group from the Abilene Christian College Acappella Chorus. Roger Gee of Snyder, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pure white delustered satin designed and made by her mother. It featured a bateau neckline and bouffant dome shaped skirt, detailed with hand made fabric roses, cascading into a full chapel train. Her scalloped veil of silk illusion was edged in pearls and held by a satin pill box complemented by a single fabric rose. She carried a bouquet of hycianths and pink elf roses with holly foliage. Her only jewelry was a gold cross.

Mrs. Kenneth Wallace of Dallas attended the bride as matron of honor and Miss Sondra Allen of Derby, Kansas was maid of honor. They wore full length gowns of delustered satin in American beauty rose designed with bateau neckline and bell shaped skirt. Their headdresses were matching satin pill boxes complemented by a single fabric rose. They carried bouquets of single happiness rose and pink carnations.

Jannie Woodall of Savoy, Texas dressed as the other attendants, and Linden Terry, brother of the bride, lighted candles.

Marrisa Kramar of Beaumont and Melinda Johnson of Dallas were flower girls. They wore full length gowns of white delustered satin trimmed with a wide sash of satin in American beauty rose. They carried white baskets of rose pedals.

William Mathews of Austin attended his brother as best man. Kenneth Wesner of Cordell, Oklahoma was groomsman.

Ushers were Kenneth Wallace of Dallas, James Thompson of Lubbock and Robert Randolph of Abilene.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Terry wore a moss green lace sheath dress with matching velveteen coat and accessories. Mrs. Mathews, mother of the groom wore a rose satin dress and coat and matching accessories. Their corsages were orchids.

The reception followed at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. The brides' table was laid with an organdy cloth with silver and crystal appointments. Pink tapers and wedding bouquets decorated the table which held a tiered white cake with cascades of pink roses topped with a silver cross. The grooms' table was set on an off white cut work cloth with a gold coffee service and spiced ring cake. A gold candelabara and holly was used as a center piece.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Kenneth Aldridge, Sue Taylor, Karen Kerley, Marsha Hurst all of Snyder; Linda Shaw of Hobbs, New Mex., Ann Brazzil of Midland, Jan Cothran of Abilene, Lorraine Freeman of Arlington, Carolyn Gaines of Roswell, Barbara Allen of McCamey, and Mary Lee Taylor of Lamesa. Jan Satterwhite of Abilene registered guests. Reception music was furnished by Mrs. Charles Small.

For traveling the bride wore of pale blue wool suit with a jeweled hat and reflection accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

After the holidays the couple will be at home in Nashville, Tenn.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School and will be a January graduate of Abilene Christian College.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Austin High School and Abilene Christian College. He is now a student at Vanderbilt School of Medicine in Nashville, Tenn.

Out of town guests were from Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Brady, Abilene, Hobbs, N. M., Lubbock, San Angelo, Meridian, Sweetwater, Midland, Nashville, Tenn., Cordell, Okla., Beaumont, and Madison, Ala.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Martha Ann Woman's Club Friday evening.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Devers, 2315 Fortieth, announce the marriage of their daughter, Deanne, to Airman William J. Sims, Jr. The couple exchanged vows in the chapel of Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, on December 2, at 4:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sims, Sr. of Port Aransas are parents of the groom. The bride is a teacher in the Corpus Christi Public School system. Airman Sims is stationed at Lackland AFB at present, but is awaiting orders.

ENGAGEMENT REVEALED — Mrs. Claude H. Miller, 2805 Avenue Y, announces the engagement of her daughter, Margaret Ann, to Mr. Jimmy Lloyd Talbot, of Albuquerque. The event is planned for March 2, in Snyder. Miss Miller is presently a student at Abilene Christian College. Mr. Talbot is a graduate of Sul Ross College at Alpine.

She Selling Castle Built By Husband

WINNIPEG (AP)—Want a six-room stone castle in the seclusion of a rural back road, with interior decoration by an accomplished artist and the comfort of oil heat?

Mrs. William Stark may have what you're looking for. And the price is under $10,000, including 320 acres of land.

She can vouch for the workmanship. Her late husband, built it painstakingly, stone by stone. Her artist brother did the interior decoration and dozens of his paintings hang on the walls.

The 1½-story castle complete with turret is a striking sight to motorists near this community in the cattle and grain-growing country east of Lake Manitoba and 120 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

Mrs. Stark, a sprightly 71, has lived there alone since her husband's death more than a year ago. She put the house on the market after deciding to move to Ontario and live with a sister.

Finished in 1944

It was a reluctant move. Mrs. Stark watched every step of its construction after moving to Ashern as the bride of a Scottish immigrant homesteader in 1930.

Construction, with native granite from the Starks' land and surrounding countryside, began a few years after that and the final stone was set in place in 1944.

A plaque on one wall identifies the castle as "Glencorra, built in spare time by W. Stark, stonemason and farmer, homesteaded 1911."

He did it when he could, whenever he could get the time. We had a herd of cattle—he milked some and I milked the rest. Those were the hard days when we got $15 for a cow and $5 for a calf.

"There was a log house originally but my husband dismantled it piece by piece and replaced it with stone."

Window ledges are colored with paint applied with a turkey feather, so skillfully finished they are almost impossible to distinguish from pink marble. The living room is beamed and panelled with hand-painted trim in baronial style.

This is the work of Mrs. Stark's brother, the late Brodie Crawford, an artist who specialized in church decorations. Among his most noted works are a series of hand-painted symbolic shields in St. Paul's Anglican cathedral in London, Ont.

Holiday Puddings Figure For Fancy Fare

Steamed plum puddings, yearly on the Yuletide scene, shape up for the season as Date-Nut Stars and Cherry Bells. The Stars glow with chopped dates and walnuts, while the Bells ring out their flavor favorites, cherries and slivered, toasted almonds.

The Cherry Bells, each a half of a pudding steamed in a custard cup, are garnished with maraschino cherry "clappers" and holly sprig. They're lavished with a Fluffy Almond-Butter Sauce. The Date-Nut Stars steamed in star-shaped molds, are served with smooth Vanilla Sauce, a cooked custard with whipped cream.

DATE-NUT SPARS

1 cup granulated sugar
2½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons baking soda
1½ cups chopped walnuts
2 cups chopped dates
¾ cup ground suet
3 eggs well beaten
2 cups buttermilk
1 quart (½ inch) soft bread cubes

Combine sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, sale, baking soda, walnuts, dates and suet. Combine eggs and buttermilk; add soft bread cubes Add liquid to dry mixture Put a 1-3 cup of pudding mixture into each of 18 greased (8 oz.) star-shaped molds; cover tightly with aluminum foil. Steam for two and a half hours, or until pudding is firmly set. Remove aluminum foil and allow to cool for about five minutes; loosen sides with spatula and unmold. Serve hot with Vanilla Sauce Garnish center of star with a holly sprig.

VANILLA SAUCE

1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup light cream
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine egg, sugar and cream in top of a double boiler Cook over simmering water until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and cool. When cold, add vanilla extract and fold in whipped cream. Yield: 1¾ cups Vanilla Sauce

CHERRY BELLS

1 cup milk
1 1-8 cups brown sugar (firmly packed)
2-3 cup ground suet
1 ½quarts soft bread crumbs
1 cup eggs, well beaten
2 teaspoons cinnomon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ cup slivered, toasted almonds
2 cups frozen cherries, thawed
24 drained maraschino cherries

Combine milk, brown sugar, suet and soft bread crumbs with beaten eggs. Mix connamon, nutmeg, salt, baking soda and baking powder together; add to bread crumb mixture Fold in almonds and thawed cherries Put a ½ cup of pudding mixture into each of 12 greased (6-ounce) custard cups cover tightly with aluminum foil. Steam for 2½ hours or until pudding is firmly set Remove aluminum foil and allow to cool for about 5 minutes; loosen sides with spatula and unmold Slice each pudding in half, vertically and place cut sides down on a serving plate. Garnish with a maraschino cherry at the bottom of each bell and a holly sprig at the top. Serve with Fluffy Almond-Butter Sauce. Yield: 12 servings

FLUFFY ALMOND-BUTTER SAUCE

¼ cup butter or margarine
1¼ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 egg
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon almond extract

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg, nutmeg and almond extract. Blend together with a rotary beater; chill. Serve with Cherry Bells. Yield: 1½ cups Fluffy Almond-Butter Sauce

Note: Stiffens upon standing several hours in the refrigerator, but softens again at room temperature.

Chef Coffee Cake

1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 eggs (separated)
1 tablespoon limon juice
½ cup milk
½ cup blanched slivered almonds
½ cup sugar mixed with ½ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter (melted)

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream the ¼ cup butter with the sugar and lemon rind; beat in yolks well, one at a time, then lemon juice. Add flour in three additions alternately with milk, stirring just until smooth. Beat egg whites stiff; fold in. Turn into 9 by 9 inch baking pan Sprinkle almonds over top, then sugar-cinnamon dribble with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven about 30 minutes. Cut in squares in pan and serve warm.

No matter what cook books tell you, store both soft and crisp cookies in airtight containers — but not together!

A pound of walnuts, after shelling, should yield two cups of nutmeats.

Music Students Presented In Christmas Program

soc sunday with 4 col piz recital jo

Pupils of Mrs. Wayne Bethel presented an evening of Christmas music Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Carols from the early century as well as light modern carols were played. There were several organ-piano duos on the program also.

Following the program Mrs. Bethell presented the Memory Award in the Elementary Division to Jimmy Maxwell. Miss Pam Lee was winner of the Intermediate and Advanced Division.

As a climax to the evening of music, there was a strange appearance of a Jolly Old Man, wearing a red suit and carrying a large bundle, none other than Santa Claus himself. He gave the pupils their presents and also candy for the others.

Those participating in the recital were: Triesta Angel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Angel; Sharon Aylor, daughter off Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Aylor; Sallie Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Bartlett; Lea Bassham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Bassham; Ronald Clinton, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Clinton; Pam Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cole; Lea Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Cornell Chews Vegetables, Poisons Bugs

To bring you more tender vegetables, researchers at Cornell University are chewing a number of varieties by machine. They have fitted teeth to a shear press to check hardness, stringiness, toughness, rubberiness, crispness and mealiness. The gadget also will help determine relationships between vegetable texture and maturity.

In anothr experiment, using a sensitive instrument called an aktograph, Prof. Robert Patton can determine through tell- tale movements of insects how effective certain insecticides are.

For instance, he can check how long it takes an insect to be poisoned by neuromuscular chemicals (chemicals that affect the nervous system).

The device records twitching movements produced by the doses. Without the recording instruments, scientists would have to watch insects constantly for up to eight hours.

Parathion, for instance, has been determined to be 10 times more effective on crickets than on wax moths.

The aktograph also helps trace the paths different chemicals take in getting into insects. As an example, DDT has penetrated a housefly through soft pads on the bottom of the feet. When houseflies walk through DDT, tremors occur in 51 minutes.

Modern candy makers say that stirring fudge does just as good a job as beating — and saves a lot of energy.

The Gardeners Corner

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

A measure of cankerworm control is possible without resorting to chemical spray. Apply a band of sticky material to the tree trunk. This will trap some of the wingless female moths as they crawl up the tree to deposit eggs.

The cankerworm is the small caterpillar that swings from trees on silken threads at leafing time in the spring.

Apply a two - inch strip of cotton batting around the tree trunk about six feet off the ground, then cover this sith a wider strip of tar paper and smear with a layer of "Tree Tanglefoot" or similar material. The cotton prevents the moths from sneaking under the band.

The best time to set the trap is mid - fall. The sticky substance should be renewed once or twice before the end of December, and again next April and May. The bands may be taken off in mid-June.

There is a "family reunion" this fall at the Morcom Amphitheater of Roses in Oakland, Calif. Peace and Alpine Glow are appearing with their glamorous debutante daughter, Tropicana, the striking orange - red hybred tea rose that shares All- America honors for 1963.

Peace is the popular one of the parents. Gardeners are much less familiar with Alpine Glow.

In our own garden this season, we became very fond of a newcomer there, Sterling Silver, a lavender - color hybrid tea with a delightful scent and attractive bud shape. We planted Sterling Silver as a novelty, considering the unusual color in much the same light as a chocolate doughnut.

Our most prolific bearer was the gorgeous pink grandiflors Queen Elizabeth. The bush grew taller (nearly six feet) and stronger than any of the other varieties and produced twice as many blooms as its nearest hybrid tea competitor.

Still our favorite, however, is the old, velvety, deep red hybrid tea, Crimson Glory, which outscents all other roses in our backyard.

There are three newcomers in the Armstrong catalog, all hybrid teas: Floriade, an orange-scarlet import from Holland; Columbus Queen, a long - stemmed pink, and Summer Sunshine, billed as the yellowest yellow.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

By Dr. Robert E. Gosselin
Director
Poison Information Center
Mary Hitchock Memorial Hospital
Hanover, N. H.

As babies begin to crawl and walk, and as their natural inquisitiveness grows, they become susceptible to accidental poisonings. Surprisingly boys between the ages of one and three are statistically more likely candidates for poisoning than are girls in the same age group. Since the most common cause of infant poisoning is the accidental swallowing of drugs medicines and household chemicals, the basic rule for prevention is simply this. Place all potentially harmful substances in places that are completely inaccessible.

The substances that cause accidental poisoning are present in most every home. And wherever they are present, danger lurks.

Drugs and medicines account for about one-third of the accidents. About 18 per cent of the accidents are caused by swallowing detergents, cleaners and car polishes. Insecticides, rodenticides, insect repellents, bleaching solutions, and disinfectants are some of the other substances involved.

Storing harmful substances in household containers that babies associate with food and drink is another contributory cause of poisoning among babies. The number of people who store poisonus substances such as kerosene and gasoline in soft drink bottles is appalling.

In more than 50 per cent of the accidents, kerosene, benzene, turpentine, ammonia, bleaching agents, solvents, furniture polish and insecticides were stored in such containers as drinking glasses, soda bottles, mayonnaise jars, coffee cans, milk bottles and fruit jars. In most cases, the containers were in open places such as on tables, shelves, floors, under sinks or on window sills.

If these substances had been kept in their original containers and placed in out-of-the-way areas, where babies and young children could not reach them, the occurrence of poisoning would have been eliminated.

Two Spicy Pumpkin Pies

4 eggs
1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) pumpkin
2 cups firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon pumpkin pie spice
1 can (14½ ounces) evaporated milk
1-3 cup heavy cream
2 unbaked 9 - inch pie shells

Beat eggs until foamy; add pumpkin, sugar, salt and spice; mix well. Scald the undiluted evaporated milk and the cream. Gradually stir into pumpkin mixture; turn into pie shells. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven 15 minutes set oven control to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking 30 to 40 minutes or until a silver knife inserted near the center comes out clean. Place on wire racks to cool and serve warm with vanilla ice cream.

Mau Mau Manager Is Headed For Top Post In Free Kenya

EDITOR'S NOTE—Who is Jomo Kenyatta? The blood-seeking leader of the savage Mau Mau? The English-educated politician likely to be independent Kenya's first prime minister? A bloodshot, fading old man? The nervous whites of Kenya wonder as tribal voices rise in chorus for the rolling green land that once was theirs.

By STANLEY MEISLER

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The words came cold and clipped from the government secretary with gray hair and pale English skin.

"When that man enters a room," she said, "I can feel the hackles rise up and down my back. Even if I don't see him, I can feel that man."

That man is Jomo Kenyatta. A court has convicted him of managing the savage Mau Mau uprising in Kenya. A British governor has condemned him as "the African leader to darkness and death."

Yet within a year or two, when the colony of Kenya assumes independence, Jomo Kenyatta likely will be the new nation's first prime minister.

The gray-haired Englishwoman and other white settlers watch this onrush to power helplessly, with distaste and bitterness. To them, a man streaked in evil and blood is reaching for their rolling, green land.

But whites number no more than one per cent of Kenya's six million people. Africans see a different Kenyatta. To them, rather than streaked in evil and blood, he is hallowed with martyrdom and the glory of nationalism. His reach for rolling green land is theirs.

When independence comes, the votes of Africans will outweigh the distaste and bitterness of whites.

Kenyatta, now over 70, is minister of state in the Kenya government and president of the Kenya African National Union, the colony's majority party. Only a little more than a year ago the British released him from almost 10 years of imprisonment and restriction. His closeness to rule now would have been inconceivable to the white settlers a few years ago.

No one can doubt the hold of Kenyatta on the Africans of Kenya. He demonstrates his magnetism anew at every political rally.

"Uhuru," he shouts and flicks the whisk over his shoulder.

The Africans jump and shout "Uhuru" ("Freedom") back at him.

From afar, his eyes seem penetrating and deep. He creates an aura of power.

In public, Kenyatta evokes an image of command. In private, at least in an interview in his government office, the image changes.

Age has made his face flabby. His eyes, which seem so penetrating from afar, are weak. Despite his many years of study and lecturing in England, he now gropes for English words and loses sentences.

All in all, in private, he impresses a visitor as an ineffectual old man.

Which, then, is the real Kenyatta? The old man now or the Mau Mau then.

Kenyatta, grandson of a witch doctor, was born around 1890 in the Kikuyu tribal lands that surround Nairobi, the capital of Kenya. When Kenyatta was born, however, there was no Nairobi. And there were no white settlers.

Modern Kenya did not begin until after the British completed their railway in 1901 from the coast opening the healthy highlands of Kenya to white settlers.

The settlers took land that seemed uninhabited and unyielding and molded magnificent farms and pastures out of it.

Kenyatta was president of the Kenya African Union when Mau Mau burst across Kenya in the early 1950s. Mau Mau wanted to tear the land back and ravage their white rulers.

When British troops ended the struggle in 1956, the death total had reached 13,423 Africans (mostly Mau Mau) and 95 white persons.

Did Kenyatta ignite and manage Mau Mau? In the eyes of officials there is no doubt.

F. D. Corfield, a long-time British colonial officers who completed the official Kenya government report on Mau Mau in 1960, was so convinced of Kenyatta's involvement that he did not bother to list his name in the index.

No Snow, But Brazil Will Celebrate

By FRANK BRUTTO

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—There is no snow for Brazil's Christmas, but "Jingle Bells" and "White Christmas" are popular tunes.

It is midsummer in this hemisphere, in downtown Rio de Janeiro, near Copacabana Beach where the bikini-clad girls are mahogany brown and a 50-foot Santa Claus dwarfs traffic.

In back of the Santa Claus, against a cliff, are a giant painted star and the greeting "boas festas" (happy holidays).

Towering over all—a constant reminder of the nation's basic plights—is one of Rio's favelas, the rickety, high-perched shanty towns of the poor.

Brazil has the biggest deficit in history (one trillion cruzeiros or nearly $2 billion). Beans and rice are scarce in a spiraling inflation that has raised the cost of living about 60 per cent for the year. But Brazilians appear determined to celebrate in a wave of spending.

Part of the motivation comes from the rapidly declining value of the cruzeiro. This monetary unit dropped this month to 850 to the dollar—the lowest ever—and threatened to go even lower as printing presses worked overtime to produce paper money to meet Christmas bonuses.

Gaily wrapped Christmas packages hang from trees in Rio's business areas, brightly lighted at night. Here and in other cities and towns the nativity scene, complete with shepherds and animals, is a constant reminder of the birth of Christ.

In Marshal Floriano Peixoto quare, the heart of Rio, is a lifesize scene of the nativity.

A singular touch this year is a lighted rosary on the giant statue of Christ the Redeemer on Corcovado Mountain. The rosary was placed there as part of a crusade for family prayer by the Rev. Patrick Peyton, who has campaigned for prayer for a quarter century in 45 nations.

People In The News

By The Associated Press

Pope John XXIII has a Christmas creche in his apartment in Vatican City. A spokesman said the creche, at the entrance to the Pope's private chapel, was specially made in Germany for him.

Robert C. Foster, director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, said in Pittsburgh he believes "there is a chance of a breakthrough" in achieving disarmament. The nuclear arms race, he said, is "too costly" for both the Soviet Union and the United States and both countries are increasingly conscious of the dangers of a nuclear war.

President Tito of Yugoslavia has left Kiev for home after an 18-day political fence-mending visit with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Caroline Kennedy, 5, is getting a house for Christmas—a gingerbread one. It's a gift from the children of Yorkville, a New York City area which is predominantly German, to the President's daughter. It was sent to Palm Beach, Fla., where Caroline and her parents will spend the Christmas holidays.

The world's largest natural amphitheater, the Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles, has such superb acoustics that performers hardly need microphones to be heard in the farthest rows. The 120-acre bowl seats 20,000. In 40 years of concerts, rain has postponed only three performances.

Junior Editors Quiz on PYGMIES

QUESTION: Why are Pygmies so small?

• • •

ANSWER: These tiny jungle people have always fascinated explorers. They inhabit various localities, such as central Africa and the Malay Peninsula, mostly in dense forest near the equator. Pygmies live by hunting and gathering roots and forest plants. They are simple folk, caring little for the elaborate ceremonies and costumes of their larger neighbors, although they are said to have a sense of fun and to like music. The pygmy's bow is tiny, but he is an expert with it and his arrow is deadly, for he often smears its tip with poison. Certain groups of Pygmies also use the long blow gun which can throw a poisoned splinter with extreme accuracy. Pygmies are about 4-1/2 feet tall. Scientists think that the small size is due to "mutation," that is, to the variations which nature constantly experiments with, as if she wanted to find just the right thing for the right place. The little Pygmy, with his small stomach, gets along very well in the dense forest where game is scarce and others might starve. Also, he lives in thick jungle which other natives don't want to occupy. This isolation has probably helped to keep him small.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: It would be fun to cut out the jungle picture and color it, using crayon or water color. The pygmies could be a brownish gold and the leaves rich green. Do you see the orchids between the pictures and the white butterfly? These could be colored brilliant yellow and pink.
