Resigned Deacon Arrested After Dallas Preacher Escapes Noose In Church

CONGREGATION ROW BLAMED FOR ATTACK

Part-Time Pastor Stripped And Hanged From Chandelier

OBJECT OF THREATS

Victim Sees Assault as 'Example' for Regular Minister

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—B. P. Brown, part-time preacher and hotel baggage man, who was stripped of his clothes by four masked men today and hanged to a chandelier above the pulpit in the North Dallas Baptist church, tonight blamed dissension among the members of the congregation for the attack.

The hanging he said the man told him, was "an example," to his pastor, the Rev. H. P. Marler. A former member of the church who recently resigned as a deacon was arrested this afternoon for questioning.

"We've had trouble at the church, all right," he told newspaper men. "Some of the members want Brother Marler to resign. They don't like me, either, but they are going to have a hard time running me off," Brown said.

Attended Church

He said he didn't know who the men were, "but they were at church last Sunday morning and heard me pray to have strength to forgive my enemies. One of them told me he heard me pray in public Sunday."

Brown said he and Rev. Mr. Marler had received numerous threat letters during the last three months, Brown receiving the last one Tuesday. Federal postal authorities were expected to investigate the sending of the letters through the mails.

The volunteer preacher said he left the hotel where he works shortly after midnight, taking the last bus to the suburban district where he lives. When he alighted from the bus and started walking toward his home, a masked man suddenly stepped in front of him, leveled a gun at him and commanded him to walk to the church, two blocks distant.

Victim Bound

"On going into the church auditorium," Brown said, "I saw three other men standing near the chancel rail. Without a word between them they tied my hands behind my back and tied my feet together. A noose was put about my neck

Last Rites Friday For John H. Taylor, Pioneer Contractor

Funeral services for John H. Taylor, 49, building contractor, planing mill operator and pioneer citizen of Wichita Falls who died at a hospital here early Thursday morning following an illness of six months, will be held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Floral Heights Methodist church.

Dr. C. M. Simpson, the pastor, will officate, assisted by Dr. S. A. Barnes of Dallas, former pastor of the church. Burial will be in Rosemont under the direction of the Merkle Undertaking company.

The body will remain at the home, 1609 Taylor street, until the funeral hour, when it will be removed to the church.

Resident Here 25 Years

Mr. Taylor had been a resident of Wichita Falls almost continuously for more than 25 years. He first came here in 1906, but moved away for a short period between that time and 1909, when he returned and since had made his residence here.

Throughout his entire career he had engaged in some form of the lumber business. He founded the first planing mill to operate in Wichita Falls. It was located in what is now the heart of the downtown section. Later the mill was removed to a location on Ohio avenue, and still later to its present location on Oak street. The concern is known as the Falls Sash and Door company, of which Mr. Taylor was president. It was almost destroyed by fire about two weeks ago. Mr. Taylor at the time was in a hospital, where he had been six weeks prior to his death.

He engaged in the construction contracting business here for years. Homes built here by him number into the hundreds.

Business Leader

During his lifetime he was prominent in business affairs here and evinced great interest in civic undertakings. He was a member of the chamber of commerce and during 1927 and 1928 he engaged in special committee work for that organization.

He was active in the affairs of his church, which he joined at Krum, Texas, in 1904. He had been a member of the board of stewards of the Floral Heights Methodist church here since 1920.

He held affiliation with Masonic bodies, among which were Moslah Shrine temple at Fort Worth. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World, and the Hoo-Hoo club of Wichita Falls.

WORLD BEAUTY PRIZE FOUGHT

Easterwood to Contest Galveston Result

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—Returning to Dallas today, Colonel William E. Easterwood Jr., announced that he had employed legal counsel to contest the award made to Miss Northern Kentucky, ranking her as Miss United States, and to fight what he termed to be an injustice to all the nine Texas girls who entered the annual international beauty pageant at Galveston earlier in the week.

Colonel Easterwood said one of the first telegrams he opened upon arrival here came from a Dallas woman who charged friends of the judges had given out the information that judges were instructed to make no awards to Texas girls for fear it would result in Galveston losing the annual beauty contest.

"The friends of the Texas beauties have no objections to Miss Northern Kentucky receiving the award of $500, but we do insist that they receive justice in the honors," Colonel Easterwood said.

The decision of the judges will be contested, first on the fact that the judges were instructed against a Texas girl, secondly, that all the entrants received letters advising them not to use cosmetics, and that the violation of this rule was permitted only by the winner, and third that Miss Northern Kentucky was disqualified by reason of the fact that she had been in commercial movies in Cincinnati," Colonel Easterwood said.

Easterwood said another point for contest was that every contestant, except Miss Northern Kentucky, was required to pay $100 for a float.

Tulsa Woman Near Death After Swallowing Poison Dose Here

Calling an ambulance after taking poison in an upstairs hotel Thursday night, a 37-year-old Tulsa, Okla., woman is in a critical condition at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital here.

Attending physicians said that there is little doubt but that her bichloride of mercury dose will prove fatal.

The woman arrived here Thursday afternoon from Amarillo. She explained that she was ill and without money, but that if given a room she would be able to pay for it Friday. Shortly after 9 o'clock the woman left her room and went down to the street where she collapsed in a cafe. A few minutes later the Merkle ambulance, which she had previously called, arrived.

She told police who questioned her at the hospital that she made the attempt on her life because of despondency over ill health.

An investigation of the woman's room in the hotel revealed that she had also taken gas.

"I have committed no crime," she told officers. "I have no one but myself."

HERRERA DIES FOR SLAYING

Two Mexicans Reprieved By Sterling

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, June 19. (AP)—Ofilio Herrera was electrocuted in state prison early today for the murder of Sheriff A. T. Murray of Mason county.

He was pronounced dead at 12:20 a. m.

Asked just before he entered the electric chair if he had a statement, Herrera said: "Antonio Chavez is an innocent man." Chavez was indicted with Herrera but his case has not been disposed of.

In a last interview with newspapermen about two hours before the execution, Herrera declared he had been "framed" in his trial. He laughed at first and said he "was feeling pretty good."

He seemed inordinately proud of the fact that his head had not been shaved as is customary, but had merely been clipped.

Writes Long Song

"I seen 23 men go through that door," Herrera said, "and I was hoping the governor would help me until the last."

He said he had written a song with 83 verses and a book dealing with Bill Smith, executed some time ago. It was Smith and his shouts of "Oh! Jones," that led a third man many months ago to write a sketch of the death house that later was adapted in the Broadway melodrama, "The Last Mile."

Herrera called newspapermen back after they had left to say:

"I'd like to make a last request. Please don't put anything in the paper that I didn't say."

A bunch of roses lay on his bunk. He said he wanted them to be sent out with his body.

DOOMED MAN DIES ALONE

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, June 18. (AP)—Two of three men scheduled to be electrocuted in state prison early tomorrow got executive clemency this afternoon and the third, Ofilio Herrera, was left to die alone.

The two, Nicandro Munoz and Victor Rodriguez, received in almost a transport of joy news that Governor Sterling had allowed them reprieves of 20 days. Herrera visited by a number of his relatives for the last time, said nothing, so far as prison officials knew. What Munoz and Rodriguez said was in their native language and nobody could understand but the warden's secretary who took the news said, "folks they almost shook my hand off."

Herrera had seen more of death row, perhaps, than anybody who ever occupied it. He had been here two years. He had seen 24 men leave before him, 20 to die and four to serve life sentences.

He was convicted of murdering Sheriff A. T. Murray of Mason county four years ago, and in all the time since had tried every recourse to escape the penalty. His first death sentence was reversed by the court of criminal appeals but the second trial brought the extreme penalty again.

Munoz and Rodriguez, both Mexican aliens, were convicted of participation in the murder of Bert Ellison, a customs inspector at Weslaco on last Aug. 9. Their alleged confederates were Margarito Rodriguez who was slain by officers, and Jose Maria Lopez, who was sentenced to serve life here.

Herrera's visitors included his wife, his young son, his father and a brother.

Standard Boosts Oil Price To California 'Proration' Producers

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18. (AP)—A five and a half cent per gallon increase in the price of gasoline, effective tomorrow, was announced by the Standard Oil company of California here tonight.

Simultaneously the company announced increases of from 20 to 40 cents a barrel in the prices it will pay for crude oil.

The 5½-cent increase in the company's tank wagon price will bring gasoline to dealers to 13 cents in Los Angeles and 13½ cents in San Francisco, including the three-cent state tax. This will mean an increase in the price paid by motorists here to about 16½ to 17½ cents a gallon.

The crude oil increase applies only to oil produced in accordance with the allowable quantities set by the California state-wide curtailment committee. The Standard company explained its action was intended to point the way "to end the most disastrous economic breakdown ever experienced by the California oil industry and to remove a serious menace to the economic welfare of the community."

Shortly after the announcement, a similar increase was announced by the Shell Oil company. Other distributors were expected to follow suit, raising the retail price throughout the entire Pacific coast area by tomorrow and bringing relief to hard-pressed producers.

Hoover Consoled by Bumper Crops Seen on Unenthusiastic Tour

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE

WASHINGTON, June 18. (US)—President Hoover returned to the White House late today, after making a political tour of the middle west, an active and energetic candidate for renomination and reelection. Whatever the general reaction may have been, or may be, from the three addresses he delivered the president himself felt quite content. He also felt more hopeful of recovery from the depression after a look at the flourishing countryside and at factories in operation along the route he traveled.

He was sure that the drouth is over and that the land will have bumper crops. While this may result in much lower prices for farm products, it will serve the useful purpose of giving employment to a great number in the harvesting and be a boon to the railroads in transportation, in the opinion of the president. The drouth last year was a contributing factor to the depression and had much to do with the situation in which the railroads find themselves, the president believes.

Observes Factories

The president also was pleased to note a general improvement in the industrial situation. He found factories in the smaller communities working full time and that the larger manufacturing industries are beginning to show increased activities.

Although he did not see any textile mills, he received a report while

CRANFILL CURB FAILURE SEEN BY GOVERNOR

Executive Has Promise Of Etex Backing For Legislation

COMMITTEES AGREE

Adoption of Acreage Unit Scheme Urged After Longview Meet

AUSTIN, June 18. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling's statement today that a special session of the legislature to pass oil legislation seemed nearer instead of farther away as a result of recent developments in East Texas came as a surprise to many persons in the capital.

The governor explained by stating that most East Texans believed the new plan of stabilization would fail and that he had been advised they would help pass legislation strengthening the proration powers of the railroad commission in the event that should happen.

Institution of the Cranfill plan was due to be completed at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Cooperation of virtually all operators in the field was expected to be required to make the plan successful.

Ruling Awaited

The railroad commission was awaiting an opinion from the attorney general's department before deciding whether to issue an emergency order in line with the plan. Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general in charge of oil litigation, was expected back in Austin tomorrow. The commission doubted its authority to issue an order without a hearing after 10 days' notice.

Meanwhile the 17th East Texas oil proration injunction suit was filed against the commission by the Arkansas Fuel Oil company. Lloyd Price of Fort Worth, attorney for the company, said the suit was filed to adjust his company's allowed production rather than increase it. The Arkansas company had been permitted an increased production because an offsetting lease was violating proration.

COMMITTEES ASK ADOPTION

LONGVIEW, Texas, June 18. (AP)—Reduction of oil production in the East Texas field under the Cranfill plan of allowing 300 barrels daily per 20-acre unit was indorsed this afternoon at an executive session of the East Texas proration advisory committee, meeting with the East Texas arbitration committee of which Capt. J. F. Lucey of Dallas is chairman.

The ratification was made in the form of a recommendation to be forwarded at once to the state railroad commission requesting adoption of the plan as a commission order, to be put into effect "as soon as possible."

Pipe Lines Agree

Pipe line men attending a caucus here today pledged their cooperation, terming the plan the only solution at hand in the controversy over proration in the field which has raged for several months. Those attending the meeting were mostly smaller pipe line purchasers owning loading racks served by gathering lines.

Disturbing Airmen To Know Fate Today

WASHINGTON, June 18. (AP)—Secretary Lamont will decide tomorrow the commerce department's attitude toward the aviators who President Hoover complained disturbed the Harding memorial dedication ceremonies Tuesday at Marion, Ohio.

A report on the incident was received late today from the Detroit office of the aviation branch. While it was closely guarded pending scrutiny and decision by Lamont, indications were given that disciplinary action had been recommended against at least some of the fliers.

Mexican Catholics Fight Priest Limitation Measure

MEXICO CITY, June 18. (AP)—President Pascual Ortiz Rubio today was receiving a constant stream of protests from Catholics throughout the country urging him to intervene against the enactment of an anti-religious measure in the state of Vera Cruz.

Dispatches from Jalapa, the capital, said the bill, limiting the number of priests to one for every 100,000 inhabitants, had passed its second reading in the state legislature yesterday and was almost certain to be adopted.

en route that they now are working 95 per cent of normal.

The president was also pleased to observe that new industries are springing up which in his view will eventually absorb much of the surplus labor. These are for the manufacture of new devices for the home.

The president will now remain in Washington through the summer and devote his energies and efforts to his duties as president of the United States.

No More Tours

It was definitely stated that he will not make another tour this year and has even abandoned his contemplated visit to the national parks, with several speeches en route and a vacation of some five or six weeks at his old home at Palo Alto, Calif.

All of those about the president on his trip were unable to analyze the attitude of the thousands who turned out to see him or hear him speak. It was only on rare occasions that he received what might be termed enthusiastic applause. He did at Indianapolis where he addressed the Indiana Republican Editors association and some 5,000 guests. He promised them that the United States woud emerge from the depression more prosperous than ever.

Marion Pleased

He was warmly applauded at Marion when he said that Harding had been betrayed by his friends and had accomplished more in constructive legislation and executive organization in his two years of office than almost any other president. It was also regarded as significant that former President Coolidge paid the president such a high compliment in introducing him that he effaced himself as a future nominee and became the supporter of President Hoover for renomination.

At Springfield his speech at the rededication of the remodeled Lincoln memorial, in which he classed Lincoln as the greatest American of all times, brought tumultuous applause.

President Hoover will make unemployment insurance one of the issues of his campaign, it was learned. He is determined that it should be conducted by private enterprise, however, and not by the government.

Regarding regulating the stock exchanges, the president is said to feel that it should be done to prevent a recurrence of the wild speculation which preceded the panic, but that the states should do this.

Bus Holdup Losses Reduced to $145.25

SHREVEPORT, La., June 18. (AP)—A recheck of losses in the holdup of a Shreveport-Houston passenger bus near Keithville, La., last night revealed today that three robbers obtained only $145.25 instead of $281.25 as originally reported.

Miss Eula Mae Taylor, nurse, reported to the Shreveport Journal from New Willard, Texas, today she lost only about $7. It was first reported she lost $150. She saved $13 by concealing it in her clothing, she stated.

and the other end of the rope was thrown over a chandelier.

"Before they pulled me off the floor, they asked if I had a 'dying request.' This made me mad and I told them my wife knew what my dying request would be."

Then they kicked him and slapped him, he said, and tore his clothes off him. He exhibited a bruise on one of his legs which he said was made by his assailants.

Prayer Helped

"After pulling me off the floor, they put a folding chair under my feet, just below the tops of my toes. As they went away, one of them told me the chair wouldn't hold my weight even if I got my feet on it.

"I felt alone at first but after praying a bit, I felt like God was present."

He said he kicked about and the rope stretched until his feet rested on the chair, when he stood on tiptoe. He tore off strips of adhesive tape with which the men bound his mouth and began calling for help.

His wife had become alarmed at his failure to return and summoned Rev. Mr. Marler and police. They were attracted to the church by Brown's cries and quickly cut the rope, liberating him.

Winnie Bank Suspects To Be Held at Anahuac

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 18. (AP)—Investigation of the robbery of the bank at Winnie, Chambers county, apparently had shifted to Anahuac, Chambers county seat, today, when all suspects held here were released, except two who are due to be transferred to Anahuac tomorrow.

Another suspect taken to Anahuac Tuesday is being detained there. The Chambers county attorney told officers here of new developments in the investigation but these were not disclosed.

Periodical Pains Relieved In 3 Minutes

Month after month some women still suffer needless pain, but those who know simply go to a drug store or soda fount, get a package or dose of "B-C." and get perfect relief in 3 minutes, continuing their duties in pain-free, easy comfort.

"B-C" is the formula of two North Carolina druggists, contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of headache, neuralgia and periodical pains, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under one to three hours.

"B-C" stops the pain, quiets the nerves, is perfectly harmless. No other preparation like it. Nothing else gives such profound relief. Ask your druggist, he knows.—Adv.

bitration committee with the proration advisory committee, Captain Lucey's group met with three area committees of five members each representing the Longview, Henderson and Kilgore areas.

Captain Lucey was named chairman of the arbitration group at a mass meeting Monday at Tyler, when the plan suggested by Tom E. Cranfill of Dallas, president of the Independent Petroleum association of Texas, was indorsed.

90 Per Cent Unite

C. P. Burton, of the Burton Drilling company, appointed at the Tyler mass meeting as a representative to confer with proration violators, made a report in which he stated he had conferred with 38 violators in the East Texas field and 90 per cent had agreed to abide by the Cranfill voluntary production reduction plan.

The other 10 per cent he said faced individual problems which could be solved and were not especially opposed to the plan.

A. B. Capers, Lathrop pool proration umpire, said operators were showing a spirit of unusual cooperation under the Cranfill plan.

The common agreement at the Tyler mass meeting Monday was that production in the entire field would be pinched in at 10 a. m. Saturday, although some operators were allowed until 7 a. m., June 26, pending completion of arrangements to abide by the agreement.

Legion Plans For 'Kid' World Series

HOUSTON, June 18. (AP)—The American Legion will stage its "kid" world series for the country's junior diamond title here late in August or early in September, it was announced here by Russell Cook, national chairman of the American Legion Americanization committee.

Some 30 boys, the survivors of more than 500,000 youngsters who this spring started the legion competition, will be here to battle for the title in a best two out of three game series.

A host of baseball notables, including Judges Landis, high commissioner of baseball, will attend. Two major league umpires will handle the series.

The major leagues each year donate $50,000 toward deciding the national junior champions.

DUCE CLAIMS ITALY'S YOUTH

Premier Holds Stand On Church Interference

PARIS, June 18. (INS)—Children belong to the state alone, Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy told a correspondent of the Paris newspaper, Le Journal, which today printed an interview with the Fascist dictator on the subject of the quarrel between the Italian government and the vatican.

"I will not admit," said Il Duce, "that anybody, absolutely anybody, touch in any way that which belongs to the state. My formula is clear: everything within the states, nothing outside the state, nothing against the state.

"I wish that there be religion throughout the country. Religion is indispensable, not only for the people, but for the elite and for science, which it completes. I wish that children may be taught their catechism. I will send them to communion in a body on Sunday, in their Fascist uniforms or otherwise.

"For that I let the priests work," Mussolini continued. "The rest is politics, and politics—well, I am politics."

Then, with his great eyes burning with zeal, the dictator declared: "We are reconstructing Italy into a great Italy."

Il Duce told his interviewer, Jacques de Marsillac, that he believed that he had undertaken a task not often tried during the course of history. The antique city which was often created by some strong man had nothing in common, he said, with a nation of more than 42,000,000 inhabitants.

Numerous warnings were given action Cattolica before its clubs were suppressed, said the premier. Control of the youth federation, he said, had fallen into the hands of politicians hostile to Fascism. He had informed the vatican, he declared, of the danger of re-awakening anticlerical opinion.

The explosion occurred just before about 600 employes were to go to work. Five or six men were cut and bruised when they were hurled to the floor. The blast occurred in a high pressure ammonia pipe lipe.

Two of the dead were identified as Frank Clisse of Baltimore and T. F. Tutterow of Greensboro, N. C. The third was not definitely identified.

Advertisers See New Product Need

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—The Advertising Federation of America asserted today in a resolution passed at its annual convention, that the widest possible distribution among workingmen of "an equable share in the profits of production is necessary for business to realize its full development."

The resolution was a modification of a proposal considered by the resolutions committee. The original proposal was to stand flatly against wage reduction.

The modified statement was adopted unanimously at the closing general session of the annual convention, which has devoted much of its attention to causes and cures for the business depression.

The convention expressed a conviction that there is enough latent business power in those gainfully employed to absorb a great deal more goods, and that buying can be stimulated by establishing confidence in the future and by skillful advertising to stimulate desire for new products.

WAY TO STOP EPIDEMIC OF "ATHLETE'S FOOT" FOUND BY SPECIALISTS

With millions of people in the country today infected with "Athlete's Foot" germs, it is very probable that you may have this common ailment and not know what it is.

Your toes may have tiny, itching blisters between them. Perhaps the skin has become thick and moist, turned red or white in color, or even developed a scaly dryness.

If you notice any of these conditions, which are the common symptoms of this stealthy form of ringworm, take no chances on serious infection. Apply ABSORBINE JR. at once and freely, as recommended by authorities.

For after careful experiments with the disease, a famous New York laboratory found that this mild, soothing, yet powerful, antiseptic not only checks but actually kills the tinea trichophyton germs which cause "Athlete's Foot."

It is wise to use ABSORBINE JR. after every exposure to wet surfaces—in public places and even in your own bathroom. For the tiny germs breed and lurk simply everywhere, and are always ready to attack. At all drug stores, $1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

First District Women Plan Rules For Art Scholarship

Rules and regulations governing the Mrs. M. P. Bewley Memorial Scholarship and Loan fund, given by the first district T. F. W. C. as an art scholarship, were completed Thursday when members of the committee in charge met in Breckenridge at the home of Mrs. B. H. Trammell, chairman of arts of the first district.

The scholarship loan will be made to artists, either boy or girl, of the first district, though the school attended will not be confined to the district. Good health, good moral character, the necessary credits and proven necessity are the four requisites that must be possessed by the person securing the loan. The amount available promises to go over $500 before November when it will be reported at Lubbock.

Arrangements were made for printing of stationery and applications and rules arranged by the committee will be distributed as soon as they are in print.

A message was delivered to the committee from Mrs. Sally Blythe Mummert, art teacher of Fort Worth, that she has established in her school another Mrs. M. P. Bewley Memorial scholarship.

Mrs. B. K. Trammell of Breckenridge will be chairman of the permanent committee; Mrs. J. D. Meredith of Moran was elected secretary and Mrs. David Warren of Bowie treasurer.

Mrs. Trammell served a delightful luncheon at a beautifully decorated table to Mesdames Julian Oppenheimer, R. E. Buchanan and Bob Barker of Fort Worth, Mrs. J. D. Meredith of Moran and Mesdames Ben G. Oneal and W. M. Cason of Wichita Falls.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

All my life, roads and little foot-worn paths have had a fascination for me. When I start out for a drive, the little crooked dirt roads that lead away from the main traveled highways would always woo me into their rough ways if I had not somewhere I must go.

The sight of a smooth paved state or national highway with cars passing one another continually is an everyday thing. But when a road turns off into the hills, one can imagine shady lanes and rippling streams and silence and peace.

I have seen country roads that beckoned miles away. From the top of one hill, it seems miles to the white spot that means a hill in the distance. Those were the roads of Nebraska where hill followed hill with sturdy farmhouses, great barns and silos, little white schoolhouses and black hogs ringed round their necks with white, Hereford cattle and uncountable chickens promising, with the wide fields of corn, that every one may be fed.

I have seen roads through the hills of Tennessee where elderberry blooms by the side of the road and trees meet over it and you never know what is over the next hill; where winding lanes lead up to old log houses; where cedars in long avenues show early settled places. The unknown road—the one that tourists do not travel, is always the beckoning one.

The road between the cradle and the grave is not all that it promises to youth. Custom makes a person follow the traveled path. Even though I am quite a staid and settled person, there is still a lure in the road of adventure.

I can see with the eyes of that young man or woman who starts out to see the world. History has left marks that have a fascination nothing else can hold. Standing on such spots, feeling the hovering spirit of mortals long since passed—this is a rich experience.

But there is something quite as beautiful in the little bypaths. Here young people wandered in the days of fresh young love. There a path leads up a hill to an old family burying ground with time-marked stones graven in short sentences that are stories in miniature.

A forsaken farmhouse has been a home. Perhaps they came to an unbroken piece of land and worked through long summer days clearing it and harvesting crops. Perhaps there were children and they grew into manhood and womanhood and went to the city. Perhaps an old couple grew too old to farm alone and went to live with a son where they fed a few chickens and looked after a cow and remembered the misty fields on a spring morning or after a summer rain.

Anything that touches the human family in intimate phases is of interest. On the highway, people put on a coat that makes them invulnerable. You may not see into their hearts.

And one may go on a solitary walk and not see what comes to him, but there are moments when you stand still with a fast beating heart and see divinity about you.

June Busy Month For Gardeners In Texas

By BERTHA M'KEE DOBIE

June brings to our gardens some of their showiest blossoms—gladioli at their best, dahlias, and the early zinnias borne when the plants are in full vigor. It is a time to enjoy the greenness and the bright contrasting blossoms, to feel rewarded for the labors of spring. But, though there are few major undertakings in the garden during June, many lesser activities interrupt the leisured hours.

Time to Order Iris

It is, for one thing, time to order iris. The catalogs are just out. Those who expect to be home during the summer to care for their plants, will profit by a season's growth through June and July planting; and even those who desire shipment postponed until September or October will do well to order while stocks are undiminished. Since English, French and American originators introduce dozens of varieties each year, and since the total number of varieties offered is well toward a thousand, selection is obviously not an evening's pasttime. Some catalogs group together varieties of the same colors and describe them with admirable minuteness. Readers who have not hitherto grown iris might like the names of some reliable growers in different parts of the country—though it is not incumbent to order iris from a specialist. Some good addresses are Schreiner's Iris Gardens, Riverview Station, St. Paul, Minn.; the Longfield Iris Farm, Bluffton, Ind.; Indian Spring Farms, Inc., Baldwinsville, N. Y.; Southern California Iris Gardens, Pasadena, Calif.; Weeds Gardens, Beaverton, Ore., and Fairmont Iris Gardens, Lowell, Mass.

A recent report from the iris test garden at College Station indicates, in so far as a two years' test can be conclusive, that all varieties of iris will grow in Texas. Now is the best of all times for dividing and resetting iris in the garden, and for cementing friendships with a gift of prized rhizomes.

June is a season of staking and tying. Nothing so helps the trimness and tidiness of a garden as well-staked plants. Sprawling plants that should grow tall take more than their share of room and are unable properly to display their blossoms, which, hanging low and even touching the ground, become muddied. Some plants, such as cosmos, have such shallow roots that if they are left unstaked a gusty wind blows them tipsy and partially exposes their roots, so that they die before their time. Staking should not be postponed until it is needed, lest stormy weather beat the plants low. Stakes should, of course, be inconspicuous. A dead bush used to do for beans in the garden, but it will not do for flowers. An unpainted stick or branch is ugly enough. Satisfactory stakes are of either wood or bamboo, each painted green. Wooden stakes can be obtained in any desired length from lumber companies and painted at home. Many people prefer bamboo because it is light and does not rot easily. Some plantsmen offer bamboo stakes for sale in small diameter for slight plants and in larger diameter for heavy plants. Better than strips of soft cloth, which tie the plant to the stake without injury but do not look well, are green tape especially adapted to the purpose and raffia. Some plants that should be staked at once, if they have not already been staked, are zinnias, especially if planted far apart and in partial shade, where they grow tall; dahlias; summer cosmos; gladioli; and chrysanthemums. Chrysanthemum in particular should receive this attention, and at once. Too often in fall great masses of bloom lie on the ground and lose half their beauty. Cluster chrysanthemums bordering the grass in uneven line have a beauty of their own, but they are spoiled for cutting, with their crooked stems and sullied edges.

Pinching Buds

Largest blooms of zinnias, dahlias and chrysanthemums are induced by pinching out all but a few buds as they form. A zinnia on which only the top growth is allowed to remain will produce one flower of remarkable size, but when it is gone the plant is worthless. It is interesting to treat a few plants in this way and observe the result, but most zinnia plants should be allowed to grow as spreading as their nature dictates. If large chrysanthemums are desired, all buds on a stem except the central one should be pinched out, but if for garden mass cluster blooms are desired, the central bud only should be pinched in order that the cluster be not too compact for beauty. If the tops are pinched out of plants,

STARR'S DEATH NEAR SOLUTION

Suicide Theory Strengthened by Letter

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—The probability that Starr Faithfull, beautiful Greenwich Village girl, whose supposed slayer has been hunted on two continents for 10 days, committed suicide, drew nearer tonight to a status of fact.

A liner plowing westward in the Atlantic was believed by the state to bear a solution of the girl's mysterious death. This important evidence was contained in a letter in the possession of Dr. G. Jamestown Carr, ship's doctor of the Cunarder Franconia, which put Starr ashore in a tug when it last sailed on May 29.

The letter supported the suicide belief because a sentence in it said, "before you receive this letter I shall be dead."

Today Dr. Carr informed the Associated Press by wireless from the liner Laconia, on which he will arrive next Monday, that he would make no public statement before he had submitted the letter to the proper authorities. Previously he had revealed to friends in England the suicidal import of the missive.

Dr. Carr, described by Stanley E. Faithfull as "an old time friend of the family," was Starr's confidant; she wrote him the letter after his ship departed and dispatched it by a faster boat so that it awaited him in Liverpool.

A Fifth avenue department store salesgirl had luncheon with Starr Faithfull on Friday, it was disclosed today, but when police sought her for questioning she had left the city, reportedly for a vacation in the West. Efforts were made to have police in other cities find her.

A woman described as Mrs. Jack Barr of Larchmont, Ky., today was said to have told police that a girl named "Loretta" had seen Starr in Grand Central station on the Friday preceding her death, or Thursday evening.

Childress County Pair Battle For Land Rights in States' Dispute

CHILDRESS, Texas, June 18. (AP)—For 40 years Mr. and Mrs. James W. Scott, whose postoffice address is Hollis, Okla., have lived in the same house and on the same tract of land, yet have been citizens of one territory, two states and three counties.

And after 40 years of tilling and improving the farm as their own, they do not have a clear title, and are regarded by the laws of Texas as trespassers.

It will require a favorable decision of the Texas supreme court and a special act of the Texas legislature to make them homeowners.

The Scotts live near the border line between Texas and Oklahoma, in a strip of land whose surveys have been under dispute for more than half a century. They settled in 1891 while Texas and the federal government were wrangling over Greer county, then a part of Texas. They were told they could buy the land for $1 an acre and have 40 years in which to pay for it, with interest at 3 per cent.

In 1896 the strip of land was declared a part of Oklahoma territory, and the Scotts filed on their farm as homesteaders. President Roosevelt gave them a patent to the land in 1902. When Oklahoma became a state in 1907, Harmon county was formed out of part of Greer county, and the Scotts found themselves in a new state and a new county.

But the dispute over the Texas-Oklahoma boundary was not yet ended. Finally it reached the supreme court of the United States, which in 1930 awarded a strip of 28,000 acres, including the Scott farm, to Texas. Accordingly Mr. and Mrs. Scott now live in Childress county, Texas.

Texas Wins

On the theory that Texas had owned the land all the time and had never sold it to any one, the state declared the tract school land, and a lawsuit now pends to determine whether heirs of John L. Wortham, a former state official who filed for the land more than 30 years ago when it was generally accepted as part of Oklahoma territory, have a valid claim.

Should the state win out, a bill will be introduced in the legislature to validate titles of those now claiming the land. Should the Wortham heirs win, the Scotts and others probably will be ejected.

Paris Doctor Tells How to Reduce Fat Safely

Dr. Walter Thalmann, for years physician in the Hospital St. Louis, Paris, France, and Polyclinic Hospital in Vienna, has created a sensation by placing his public endorsement upon an American reducing discovery called ROBEX.

Dr. Thalmann, when retained to give his expert opinion of the ROBEX formula, said:

"Men and women who desire to take off 10 or 12 pounds a week, will NOT find the way through ROBEX. Many women today are 'going crazy' to reduce because they want to retain their youthfulness and keep their husband's love.

"These women try to get this overnight, and in doing so lose pep, become irritable, pale and drawn-looking.

"I welcome the ROBEX formula because it brings about GRADUAL—and therefore SAFE—reduction. As you lose in weight the ROBEX way, you gain in energy and attractiveness. I place my heartiest approval upon ROBEX."

ROBEX tablets are the easiest thing in the world to take—just four a day—one after meals and at bedtime. Thousands of folks who formerly suffered physical discomfort and mental tortures of obesity, have lost in weight and gained in appearance, simply by taking ROBEX.

Do not let excess fat rob you of love, happiness, health. Tear out this clipping. Start the ROBEX treatment today. Druggists here hand back your money unless you are satisfied with results! Reducing advice free in every package.

ANN PENNINGTON
Famous stage and screen star, still radiantly youthful, tells how to stay alluring

"I NEVER MIND telling my age," says dainty little Ann Pennington. "As long as a woman doesn't look old, I don't see why birthdays should worry her.

"And nowadays there isn't much excuse for looking one's age. Any one who really wants to can keep youthful charm right through the years.

"We on the stage, of course, guard youth as our most priceless treasure. Without it, we can't hope to hold the admiration we have won.

"So no matter how busy we may be, we give our complexions the most diligent care. A skin with that soft glowing sort of look is always appealing. For years I have used Lux Toilet Soap regularly. It does leave my skin so youthfully smooth and fresh!"

Countless other lovely stars agree with this famous dancer about Lux Toilet Soap!

In Hollywood, 605 of the 613 leading actresses use it. And this fragrant white soap is official in all the great film studios.

Surely your skin should have this gentle, luxurious care!

WHO WOULD DREAM to look at these recent photographs that she is 39 years old—appeared first in the Follies way back in 1913! This fascinating little dancer, whose irresistible charm has won hearts by the thousand on the stage and on the screen, says: "I advise the woman who would keep youth to give her complexion careful regular attention. TEXANS FIGHT FREIGHT JUMP

Protests Pipe Up Against Proposed Increase

WASHINGTON, June 18. (AP)—Protests against the proposed 15 per cent increase in freight rates piled up today before the Interstate Commerce commission.

Telegrams and letters, many of them addressed to President Hoover and sent even before the petition was presented to the commission yesterday, came from officials, business houses and private citizens denying the claim of the railroads that an emergency exists warranting increased freight rates.

They demanded almost without exception that the commission reject the proposal and most of those addressed to the president asked him to use his influence to prevent an increase.

Protests were received from Cuero Cotton Oil and Manufacturing company, Cuero, Texas; W. A. Nabors Fruit company, Winnsboro, Texas, and Higginbotham Brothers & Co., Comanche, Texas.

Some of the letters and telegrams simply protested against the proposal. Others said the railroads should remedy their situation by wage cuts or that relief should be granted them through taxes on motor trucks.

Assorted Sheep and Cattle March To Music Down Michigan Boulevard

CHICAGO, June 18. (UP)—City dwellers were offered an opportunity today to see how a steak looks before it is smothered in onions; how lamb chops appear in the original, and how ham looks before it is served on a plate with candied sweet potatoes.

Michigan boulevard—the avenue of fashions—towered on one side by skyscrapers and beautiful hotels and flanked on the other by historic Grant park, was the place selected for several thousand hogs, cattle and sheep to grunt, moo and bleat to the accompaniment of 14 bands, all marching together in one gigantic parade.

The idea was to proclaim to Chicagoans that "meat prices are down." It was conceived at a recent meeting of middle western meat producers, retailers, bankers and railroad officials who agreed that visual advertising must be employed to stimulate the buying of meat at present low prices. Similar parades will be held in other metropolitan centers if present plans are carried out.

Today's two-mile parade provided a unique spectacle for the city. The "fat of the land" literally was on display. In regular marching order, the Shropshires, Hampshires, Cheviots, Dorsets and Southdowns of the sheep world were to parade behind the Berkshires, Poland Chnas, Duroc Jerseys and Chester Whites of the hog tribes. In another section, blue-blooded Shorthorn, Herefords, Aberdeens and Galloways displayed beef "in the flesh."

Besides the animals and bands, the pageant included more than 100 cowboys and cowgirls in correct moving picture costumes; 55 floats and hundreds of marchers representing agricultural societies, retailing associations and meat producers.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has the deepest producing oil wells ever drilled. In the Big Lake area of the Reagan county field is one bore that penetrates into the earth almost a mile and three-quarters—8892 feet. Another in the same area, drilled to a depth of 8697 feet, had initial production of 2,738 barrels of oil and 52,268,000 cubic feet of gas.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Unique new manufacturing establishment at Brownsville will take Texas carrots, huge quantities of which are grown in the valley, and transform them into (1) a syrup, said to be similar in taste to maple; (2) a juice, declared rich in vitamins and food values; and (3) a breakfast food, manufactured from the pulp after the sugar and juice contents have been extracted. The plant, first unit of which is expected to be in operation by the end of the summer will handle 16 tons of carrots daily.

With a Petroleum building for oil men, a Cotton Exchange building for cotton concerns, a Medical Arts building for medical and dental practitioners, Dallas is now to have another "class" building—a $1,000,000 "Legal Tower" for lawyers.

Legion Official Facing Sentence For $2,500 Theft

PONTIAC, Mich., June 18. (INS)—Willis M. Brewer, former national vice commander of the American Legion, today was sentenced to serve six to 15 years at the Jackson state penitentiary for alleged embezzlement of funds of the legion's billet for orphans at Otter Lake, near here.

Brewer, also one time commander of the legion, was found guilty of allegedly stealing $2,500 while serving as chairman of the board of trustees for the orphans' home.

Sentence was imposed by Judge Parm C. Gilbert, who agreed to cut six months from Brewer's long term if he pays a $500 fine.

Brewer, though attaining the high positions in the legion, did not actually serve in the army. He was drafted, spent 17 days at a training camp and then was sent home because of illness.

Farmers in Wilbarger Hold Portion of Grain

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, June 18.—With the best wheat crop in many years being harvested, Wilbarger county farmers were being offered only 38 cents per bushel here Wednesday, and the price is expected to be five or six cents lower before the week closes. Oats were quoted at 14 cents, with virutally none being sold, farmers preferring to hold for higher prices or use them for feeding purposes.

The peak of the harvest season will be reached here by June 20 to 25, if weather remains favorable. The local labor supply is ample to meet all requirements, it was said by County Agent Pattillo and W. N. Martin, chairman of the agriculture committee of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce.

Well, anyway, the movie business is fundamentally "sound."

School-Room Movies

EVER since Shakespeare made his famous remark about the unwilling school boy reluctantly trudging off to his lessons, it has been taken for granted that children, in the very nature of things, are bound to dislike going to school.

Improvements in methods of teaching within the last few decades have probably lessened this old antagonism of childhood toward its education. But the children have not yet been entirely converted. Most of them, even now, would rejoice to see the schoolhouse burn down just as their fathers before them would have rejoiced.

Once in a while, though, one gets a glimpse of future possibilities—a glimpse that brings conviction that schools eventually will be different. A long start has been made already. A great deal more undoubtedly will be accomplished during the next generation.

All of this meditation is provoked by a little catalog recently issued by the Eastman company—a catalog showing a long list of educational films devised for use in schools. The thing opens amazing vistas to the mind of one who got his "three R's" in the good old way.

Consider the possibilities of the school-room movie. What could not be done with it? Could any book or blackboard-talk hope to compete with a well-devised film?

Look back at your own school days. You studied, among other things, geography—for long months, poring over uninteresting books and emerging with only the haziest idea, after all, of the world you live in.

Can you imagine getting geography through movies? Wouldn't a couple of dozen selected films inform a child about this world in a way that books could never equal? Furthermore, the child would remember what he learned—and he would look forward to the next lesson.

Not all lessons could be taught that way, of course. Such bugbears of childhood as arithmetic, spelling and grammar can never be sugar-coated very much. But plenty of things could be taught through the films. A child could be informed about his world and the people who live in it, and the job could be done quickly and thoroughly.

The very smallness of the film catalog mentioned above is impressive—because it shows that the surface has hardly been scratched. The movie can be one of the greatest allies the school teacher ever had. When it finally gets used to its fullest potentialities, it is a safe bet that the school children won't be half as eager to have vacation time come around.

More Unwise Censorship

ONE of the most unpleasant bits of news to come out of Washington in months is the recent disclosure that the treasury department has started censoring the radio broadcasts and press releases of the public health service.

Recently a public health service broadcaster suggested that it is wise to eat less meat than usual in the hot days of summer. Instantly a flood of protests poured in from meat packers and livestock associations.

Oddly enough, the government listened to these protests. Now the public health service officials have been notified that all radio broadcasts and press releases hereafter must get the O. K. of the treasury secretary's office before they go to the public.

However this is disguised, it is censorship—and censorship of a peculiarly stupid and dangerous kind. If government health experts cannot speak their minds freely because their official superiors are afraid of offending private business men, the health service might as well go out of business.

Anti-Power Backing

WHEN W. C. Mullendore, vice president of the Southern California Edison company, told the convention of the National Electric Light association the other day that Senator Norris of Nebraska and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania are leaders of a "self-appointed anti-power group" he erred in one rather important particular.

These two men are, to be sure, leaders in an anti-power group; but they were not exactly self-appointed. The voters of Nebraska and Pennsylvania, respectively, appointed them—by thumping good majorities, too. The majority of the voters of these two states seem to look on the power question precisely as Messrs. Norris and Pinchot look on it. If that constitutes a "self-appointed" group it is an uncommonly large one.

Cotton Seed Waste Found to Contain Needed Foodstuffs

HEIDELBERG, June 18. (UP)—Discovery of a new source of valuable foodstuff, containing vitamins A, B, C and E, is claimed by Casper Schmitt, chemist here. The source is cotton seed waste, after the oil has been extracted.

The substance, which he calls "florida albumen," is tasteless and odorless. It contains more than 50 per cent pure albumen. It already has been introduced in Egypt, where it is mixed with coffee and cocoa, increasing their nourishing powers without affecting their flavor. It also contains aluminum salts and some phosphate.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

HORATIO ALGER—Horatio Alger Jr., the author of 120 "success stories," was a failure himself. According to his own confession his life was one of continuous frustration. He suffered from an inferiority complex, and was the severest judge of the mediocrity of his literary output. "Misery filled the days and nights for me," he wrote in one of his letters, and he died a total failure.

CHARLES JUSTICE—Even as Guillotin died by the guillotine bearing his name, Charles Justice, an inmate of Ohio state prison at Columbus, Ohio, died in the electric chair designed by himself. And his name seems somehow foreordained to the fate he suffered.

$20 A WEEK

by ROB EDEN

THE STORY SO FAR:

Due to his mother's objections, Sally Blair gives up Peter Douglas with whom she is in love. She decides to forget there is such a thing as love and marry a millionaire. By persistent efforts she becomes the acting secretary for Harvey Davidson on a yacht cruise. Davidson is the head of the insurance firm for which she had formerly worked as a $20 a week typist. Peter, a guest on the cruise, comes to her room late one night and is seen by Linda, Davidson's daughter, who is also in love with him. Linda threatens to tell her father and cause both Peter and Sally to lose their jobs, unless Sally promises never to see Peter again. For the sake of Peter's future, Sally accepts, but asks Linda to arrange for her to be Mr. Davidson's regular secretary.

CHAPTER XXVI

Sally didn't trust herself to see Peter this time, so she wrote him a note, trying to pretend as she penned it that it was to some stranger who meant nothing to her, almost succeeding until she read it over. The words on the paper were so cold when she looked at them. So unkind. Three short lines in which she told Peter she wouldn't see him again, ever, and signed herself merely Sally Blair.

Because she was afraid if she had too long a time to think over the note that she would change it some way, some kinder way, she rang immediately for Mrs. Moore and gave her the envelope to be delivered to Mr. Douglas. Even when the woman was in the corridor, she thought of calling her back, tearing up the note, starting another. It was all she could do to sit in the chair in front of the table. When she couldn't stand it any longer, she opened the door, and looked for Mrs. Moore. She was out of sight, so Sally ran up the stairs, and gazed up them. No, Mrs. Moore was gone, Probably by now she was knocking on Peter's door, he was opening it, taking the note . . .

She stood for some time at the steps, leaning against the rail, her temples throbbing. Mrs. Moore joined her presently.

"I was just coming down to tell you I delivered the note," she said smiling, a curious note in her voice.

"To—Mr. Douglas?"

The Note Is Delivered

"Yes, he opened the door, and I handed it to him. He seemed quite delighted when he looked at the envelope. I didn't know you knew him. Miss Linda wouldn't approve, your sending notes to him."

"Business," Sally murmured and rushed back to her stateroom, sick at heart, and disgusted with herself. The picture Mrs. Moore had given her—Peter delighted to have the note, eager to read it probably. Oh, it was too terrible! She shouldn't have been so hasty . . .

She should have talked with him again—no, she couldn't. The note had been all right. It would settle the question, once and for all.

Peter would know definitely when he read the note that she didn't want him. He wouldn't guess that she did, that she was sorry for the note even now and wished to recall it. He'd never know that . . .

She'd stay in her cabin for dinner, and all during the evening, so she wouldn't see him on deck. Tomorrow the same thing, except for the hours she spent with Mr. Davidson. Of course, he wouldn't come tonight as he said he would. Not after the note. She'd never see him again as the Peter who loved her.

The dinner was exceptionally good, but she had no appetite when the tray came. The heart seemed to have gone out of her, and she sat staring at the silver dishes in front of her, not seeing them at all. Conscious only that Peter was lost to her—forever. He must hate her, after the note. Horrible to be hated by some one you loved so much.

If they could only be friends, but they couldn't. She knew that much now. Impossible when you loved a man as much as she loved Peter Douglas, and couldn't have him, to be friends.

A knock on the door but she didn't hear it. Another and she called wearily, "Come in." Only Mrs. Moore to gossip, she supposed, so she didn't look up. But it wasn't Mrs. Moore, it was Cynthia Cross, sweeping into the small cabin majestically in a long flame colored satin dress.

Sally rose and returned, with a bewildered look, the brilliant smile Mrs. Cross gave her.

"I just dropped in for a little visit, Miss Blair," Mrs. Cross said easily as she dropped on the bed, and fanned herself with a great orange feather fan. "Hot in here, isn't it?"

The girl admitted it was and opened the port hole a little more. She was puzzled by the visit, and could find no cause for it.

Yesterday, and all day today Mrs. Cross had been perfectly unconscious of her presence on the Merlin. Once in the afternoon, Sally had met her in the corridor, and Mrs. Cross had looked beyond, as if the temporary secretary of Harvey Davidson wasn't a person to speak to.

And now she was paying a little call, sitting on the bed fanning herself. Smiling.

"Go ahead with your dinner, my dear," Mrs. Cross urged. "Don't let me interrupt you."

But Sally said she had had enough, and pushed the tray farther over on the table. The curious visit was a diversion anyway. For when Mrs. Cross was here, she couldn't think about Peter so much.

The fan continued to wave slowly, and Mrs. Cross continued to smile, her slightly prominent front teeth gleaming white, her painted orange finger nails as exotic as her gown.

No one could look at Mrs. Cross and not admire her. She wasn't beautiful for her mouth was too thin, her features a trifle coarse. No rouge on her cheeks, only dead white powder, and the thin orangy red line her lips made. On her left cheek close to her temples was a black beauty mark, making her chalky skin even paler, and more startling.

"Yes, I thought I'd come down to see you for a few minutes—we don't dine until 8:30, you know, so I had a little time. I've been meaning to since we started—but you know how things are."

Sally nodded, as Mrs. Cross expected her to do, but she was wondering why if Mrs. Cross wanted to see her so badly she hadn't stopped on the stairs this afternoon, instead of going by as if she didn't exist.

"I hear you're going to be Mr. Davidson's secretary," Mrs. Cross said at last.

That was it, then. That was the reason for the visit, although for the life of her Sally couldn't imagine why it occasioned a personal call. Congratulations, she supposed vaguely.

"A nice position for you, my dear." The girl didn't like the "my dear." And the way Mrs. Cross said it was distinctly patronizing.

But how did Mrs. Cross know? Surely Linda hadn't told her.

"It's not certain," Sally stammered, embarrassed.

"Oh, but it is. I heard Linda ask Mr. Davidson, and heard him consent. Certainly very nice of Linda, wasn't it? But she's a dear girl. I'm fond of her." Sally was quite sure from her tone of voice that she wasn't very fond of Linda. "I thought you knew by now!"

"No—" If what Mrs. Cross said was true, then she was Harvey Davidson's secretary, and Linda had kept her promise. Queer, though, that she should hear it from Mrs. Cross. Perhaps Linda had sent her. Queer, too, that she didn't feel more joy at the news. A month ago she would have been delirious with pleasure. Now, it left her cold.

"I'm going to ask you to do some little favors for me while you're working for Mr. Davidson. You won't mind, will you?" Mrs. Cross went on, still waving the fan gracefully.

The girl looked quickly at the orange figure. A method in the call. Then she wasn't Linda's messenger . . . The visit had been for a definite purpose. She waited to hear what was coming.

"I'll pay you, of course, for your trouble, you needn't worry about that. As much as you ask." There was a significant pause, during which Sally knew Mrs. Cross wanted her to say something, but she was determined not to.

"Mr. Davidson is so forgetful about some things—you'll understand when you know him better, and there are so many things I can help with, if I only know what he is going to do—" Another pause, and Sally squirmed uncomfortably. What was coming? Why did Mrs. Cross think she could help him? And Mr. Davidson didn't appear to her to be in the least forgetful. Of course, she had only seen him really, been with him once. She couldn't call those flashes of him she had had at the office anything. In fact he appeared well poised, extremely able to take care of himself.

"If you could manage every day to give me a list of his appointments, I'd be everlastingly grateful to you, and it really would be a help to him. I'm only trying to be helpful to him."

The girl was beginning to understand, although Mrs. Cross had worded her request very diplomatically. Mrs. Cross was a wily woman, a clever woman. She didn't in the least want to be helpful to Harvey Davidson, but she wanted to have a complete report of every movement of his so she could keep track of him. Plain bribery, that's all there was to it. Because she wanted to hear what else her visitor had to say she continued her silence.

"I'll pay you $50 a week for your trouble." The fan hid her face for a moment, but when it appeared again, it was smiling, eager, affable.

"I don't think I could," Sally said coldly. "I'm sorry."

"Would you consider more money?"

"No, thanks." How she could be so polite to Mrs. Cross she didn't know. Fifty dollars a week for giving information about Harvey Davidson! Was it worth that much to Mrs. Cross? Evidently, for she was offering it.

"I'm sorry, too. If you decide to accept my offer, let me know." And Mrs. Cross and the fan arose.

"I'm sure I won't."

Sally opened the door for her and Mrs. Cross left without a backward glance, holding her long train in one hand, and whirling her fan in the other.

So this was the woman who wanted to marry Harvey Davidson! Sally was amused. Mrs. Cross didn't know it yet but she had a rival, and her rival was Mr. Davidson's secretary, Sally Blair.

Why not? I'm young, more attractive than Mrs. Cross. Why not? No answer yet from Peter. Wasn't he going to answer?

Peter wasn't, although Sally did not know then, and she didn't know either that her note was lying in the waste paper basket in Peter's room torn to bits, and that Peter at this moment was kissing Linda.

Q.—Do men and boys buy as many shoes as women and girls?—J. F.

A.—Judging from the number made, they do not. In 1929 there were 361,402,000 pairs of shoes manufactured in the United States. Of this number 94,770,000 were men's, 22,993,000 boys' and youths', 131,303,000 women's, 39,927,000 misses' and children's, 23,750,000 infants', and 48,659,000 miscellaneous. This last group includes such shoes as athletic and sport shoes.

Q.—Why is colonial furniture of so many styles?—P. C.

A.—Colonial refers merely to the time before the union was formed. New England and Virginia were settled by the English, New York by the Dutch, and Louisiana by the French. The colonial furniture of each section resembled the furniture which had been brought to that part of the country. Almost all colonial furniture was a simplified reproduction of the more elaborate furniture made abroad. A few designs originated in this country.

Q.—Why are governors' conferences held?—D .C.

A.—The factors which brought the establishment of the governors' conference were the growing centralization of power at Washington, the shifting uncertain status of state's rights, and the lack of uniform laws. The first meeting was held at the White House in 1908. It was called by President Roosevelt, and the principal subject considered was the conservation of natural resources. The functions of the governors' conference are officially declared to be: Exchange of views and experiences on subjects of general importance to the people of the several states, the promotion of great uniformity in state legislation, and the attainment of greater efficiency in state administration.

Q.—How large a nugget of gold has been found?—W. D. P.

A.—The largest recorded piece of gold ever found was a nugget called the Welcome nugget taken from Bakery hill, Ballarat, Victoria, Australia, on June 11, 1858, at a depth of 180 feet from the surface. It weighed 2,195 troy ounces and was also one of the purest ever recorded, being 99 per cent pure.

Q.—Are gyroscopes the fastest turning wheels in existence?—T. H. S.

A.—The bureau of standards says that the speed at which gyroscopes turn is from 10,000 to 20,000 revolutions per minute. Small internal grinding wheels are sometimes driven at 50,000 revolutions per minute.

Q.—How many members have the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars?—R. G. L.

A.—American Legion has about 824,000 members and Veterans of Foreign Wars about 400,000.

Q.—Does the speaker of the house vote on any question before the house if he chooses?—F. B.

A.—The clerk of the house of representatives says that the speaker is also a member and has every right to vote the same as any other member. He does not often exercise this right.

Q.—What is the present government of Armenia?—H. H. M.

A.—A Soviet Armenian government was established in Erivan in December, 1920. Since that time the Armenian Communist party has been governing the country. With the financial support of Soviet Russia, Georgia and Azerbaijan, the Armenian government has established peace and a measure of prosperity.

Q.—How many languages are there in the world?—R. R.

A.—Since it is difficult to decide what constitutes a language authorities differ. Some give the number as 1,000; others, as high as 5,000 and 7,000. The actual number of languages recently computed by the officers of the French academy is 2,796.

Q.—Were chickens included in the livestock brought over on the Mayflower?—J. R.

A.—One authority says: "It appears that the only domestic livestock aboard the Mayflower were goats, swine, poultry and dogs."

Q.—Do electric storms occur at sea?—H. N. S.

A.—Such storms do frequently occur with great intensity and there is one spot particularly in the north Atlantic ocean, between latitude 4 and 10 north and longitude 18 and 23 west, which is visited by almost constant storms, accompanied by lightning and thunder with violent falls of rain.

Q.—What does the word "episcopal" mean?—E. M.

A.—It means governed by bishops, and is taken from the Latin "episcopalis."

SOONER PHONE SUIT MAPPED

State to Ask $510,450 For Capital Fees

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 18. (UP)—The attorney general's office today started drafting a suit seeking $510,450 against the Southwestern Bell Telephone company for alleged failure to pay fees on invested capital.

The suit ordered by Gov. William H. Murray who announced his intention of forcing utility companies to reduce rates even "if I have to use submarines, bombing planes, grape shot and shrapnel."

The suit will be based on records in the secretary of state's office and the corporation commission. The telephone company's report in the corporation commission shows that it had a total invested physical capital in Oklahoma of $47,450,000 as of Dec. 31, 1930.

Records in the secretary of state's office show the company paid a $1,002 fee in 1920 on $10,000,000 of invested capital. Statutes of 1921 require payment of 1-10 of 1 per cent fee on invested capital and filing of an affidavit each year.

Information given the attorney general's office on which the suit is being based alleged the company owes the state $37,450 in fees. A penalty of $25 a day for failure to pay the fee is imposed by law. Auditors said this amounted to the amount the state will ask in the proposed suit.

Telephone company officials said today the interstate features of their business exempted them from payment of such a fee and that they would base their defense upon this contention.

Hermit of the Seas Launches New Craft for Long Voyage

PARIS, June 18. (UP)—The Firecrest II, 10-ton sloop, has been launched from the French naval construction yard along the Seine at Sartrouville for Alain Gerbault, hermit of the seas, and within a few months the lone mariner will be off again in his desire to put thousands of miles between himself and civilization.

The cruise this time will be to the South seas, where Gerbault was received by the natives as a king and even today possesses a harem, dancing girls and a cocoanut orchard.

Spartan Tastes

The Firecrest II is especially designed by Gerbault for long cruises and is fitted with so few comforts that only a hermit could enjoy travel in it. The exterior is far more costly and elaborate than its interior.

With a deeper draft than the first Firecrest, the new boat will be better at sea but will not be able to penetrate the lagoons and ride over reefs as the first boat did.

The cockpit is like the opening in an Eskimo canoe, barely two feet across. It is fitted with a flexible covering so that when the seaman sits in his pit he can fit the covering tight up to him and keep the boat dry inside.

Quarters Secret

Gerbault has guarded the secret of the ship's interior, but it is understood to be comparatively spacious. Divided into two cabins, it also furnishes space for storing water and provisions for 15 weeks at sea. Gerbault has never been bothered with a fastidious appetite and the provision lockers are fitted to carry simple canned foods and fruits.

The sails are cut after the lines of a Marconi sloop, easily tended by one man. Gerbault will test the yacht this summer and by winter may start from the Mediterranean on his second lone cruise of the world, starting east this time instead of west.

Tiny Cross-Bred Beast Adopted as Army Mascot

SAN ANTONIO, June 18. (AP)—Alamo Belle, a combination Spanish jack mule and Shetland pony, was presented to the second division at Fort Sam Houston by William B. Krempkau, secretary of the Pioneer Freighters' association on behalf of that organization.

The animal, bred on the ranch of Judge James Luby, president of the Pioneer Freighters, is 3 years old and is only 28 inches high—no larger than a new-born colt. Johnny Schaffer, grandson of Judge Luby accompanied the mule to San Antonio to attend the presentation ceremonies. Col. W. E. Welsh, chief of staff, accepted the odd mascot for second division headquarters.

Cleaners' Organization Upheld by Ruling

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 18 (UP)—Organization of dry cleaners to increase prices is not a violation in restraint of trade, Attorney General J. Berry King ruled today in an opinion to W. L. Coffey, Tulsa county attorney.

King said that the statutes are not violated when the organization is plainly a move to obtain a higher price for labor.

MISHAP DELAYS RUTH'S PLANS

'Hard' Landing Postpones Ocean Flight

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—A society girl's golden dream of being the first woman to fly alone across the Atlantic received a temporary setback late today when Miss Ruth Nichols, 26, damaged her plane at Floyd Bennett field.

She had hoped to get off today for Portland, Maine, en route to Harbor Grace, N. F., where she plans to start her solo voyage across the North Atlantic to Paris.

Late this afternoon she took off from Jersey City, heavily laden, for Floyd Bennett airport on Barren island off Brooklyn. At the latter field she was to take aboard still more fuel and hop for the north.

She had difficulty, however, getting away at Jersey City, and when she landed at Floyd Bennett field, New York City's new airport, she came down hard.

The plane, a streamlined, high-wing cabin affair, struck the ground on its right wheel. A tail skid cracked off, a bulkhead in the fuselage was damaged and the landing gear strained.

Mechanics said it would probably take a couple of days to repair the damage and the probability was Miss Nichols would not take off until Monday.

Escaped Slaying Suspect Gives Up

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 18. (UP)—John W. Strickland, 36, escaped slayer-convict from the state penitentiary, surrendered to Sheriff Stanley Rogers today.

Strickland was serving a life sentence for the slaying of Irene Summers, 21, in a hotel here four years ago.

Shortly after daybreak Strickland appeared at Sheriff Stanley Rogers' home and told Mrs. Rogers his story.

Strickland said he "walked out" of the penitentiary prison farm May 3 because his mother was seriously ill at Arrington, Ga.

"I got a letter from home," he told Rogers. "I left that night and hitch-hiked back to Georgia. Five days ago mother got better and I hitch-hiked back.

"I am innocent, and I hope to get a parole."

To smokers who are hard-to-convince

WE LIKE nothing better than to induce hard-to-convince smokers to switch to Camels for just one day.

For we know that after they have made a real test, it will be mighty hard to lure them away from this famous brand.

It's not easy to smoke parched-dry cigarettes once you have known the delights of perfectly conditioned Camels.

After inhaling the cool, soft fragrance of the Camel Blend of choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos protected by the Humidor Pack, your throat protests against the bite and sting and harsh hotness that comes from crumbly, dry tobacco.

No matter where you pick them up, in any land, in any climate, Camels are the same fresh, factory-prime cigarettes.

For the Humidor Pack of moisture-proof Cellophane air-seals all the flavor in and keeps out weather, dust and germs.

This is no mere advertising story. It is a recitation of fact that has made the whole country conscious of a new superiority in Camels.

If you are hard to convince, won't you switch to Camels for just one day? Then leave them—if you can.

GOREE GIVEN TWO YEAR TERM

Newcastle Stabbing Suspect Convicted

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, June 18.—Found guilty of assault with intent to kill Constable Jim Bob George at Newcastle, Lee Goree was sentenced to two years imprisonment by a Young county jury in the 30th district court Thursday afternoon.

George was stabbed Aug. 17, 1930, when he walked in on a poker game in which Goree was an alleged participant. Goree received a four-year sentence in his first trial reversed on appeal.

GRAHAM, Texas, June 18.—After several hours of deliberation, the jury which heard the trial of Phil Beatty, charged with failure to stop and render aid after an automobile accident before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court here Wednesday was discharged shortly before noon Thursday because of inability to agree on a verdict.

At the conclusion of its efforts to reach a decision, the jury stood 10 for acquittal and two for conviction, the court was told. The accident out of which charges against Beatty grew occurred on a principal highway within the town of Olney on Jan. 18, 1930, and cost the life of Miss Jimmie Lee Landreth of Padgett, who was allegedly run down by an automobile. Beatty, formerly a resident of Olney, was returned from Denver for trial.

Lee Jackson entered a plea of guilty Thursday morning to a liquor charge and was given one year in the penitentiary by the jury. The defendant was said to have been convicted on a similar charge in Palo Pinto county in 1927, and for theft in 1930.

300 Attend Dinner For Dallas Pastor

Approximately 300 persons attended a banquet at the First Christian church Monday night honoring Dr. L. N. D. Wells, pastor of the East Dallas Christian church who spoke here in behalf of the $8,000,000 pension fund campaign of the church.

Naming as his reasons for urging the pension fund, the psychological victory it would mean to the church, the effect such a fund would have in securing the best among young men for the ministry, the gratitude due men who have given a lifetime of service to the church, self-respect, business and honor, Dr. Wells delivered a powerful plea for a 100 per cent pledge.

Four of the cards handed to Dr. R. B. Wolford, chairman of the local campaign, after Dr. Well's address, accounted for one-fifth of the $10,950 quota of the local church.

The invocation was delivered by B. D. Sartin and Dr. H. T. Wood introduced Dr. Wolford, who was in charge of the program. R. E. Shepherd led a singsong and Mesdames Wayne J. Holmes and Harry Fuller presented an amusing and clever skit, "The Crystal Gazer."

Free Vaudeville Bill Draws Crowd of 4,000

Local and out-of-town entertainers presented a 90-minute program of varied numbers Thursday night on the west lawn of the Memorial auditorium before the largest audience assembled thus far in 1931 for the city park department's weekly vaudeville show.

According to C. C. Bunnenberg, city park department superintendent, Thursday night's attendance approached the 4,000 mark, and the program proved one of the best heard this year. The platform from which open-air programs are presented has been attractively equipped.

Feature numbers on Thursday night's excellent bill were solo tap dancing by Miss Marion Mendenhall, solo dancer of the Gordon Shay orchestra; accordion numbers by Max Rainey, and solos on both guitar and harp by Guy Rogers Jr. Music by Leo M. Underwood's junior band was interspersed with solos offered by other performers. Other entertainment on the bill was as follows:

Misses Evelyn and Elta Rose Franklin and Stella Evans (Junior college trio), popular songs.

Betty Jane Hughes of Amarillo, songs with ukulele accompaniment.

Opal Mitchell (Tucker school of art), piano solo, "Falling Waters."

Doris Crabtree of Los Angeles, tap dance, accompanied by her mother.

Ben Bushfield of Leo M. Underwood's class, trumpet solo.

Kenneth and David Shamwell (Tucker school of art) piano duet, "Johnnie Jumps Up."

RITES SAID FOR JACK PIONEER

Scores Pay Last Tribute To T. N. Brown

Special to The Record News.

JACKSBORO, Texas, June 18.—Funeral services for Thomas Norman Brown, 69, pioneer merchant and business man of Jacksboro and second county school superintendent of Jack county, were held here at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the First Methodist church.

Hundreds of persons paid tribute to the leader in many of Jack county's business and civic enterprises, and the scores of floral tributes from all over Northwest Texas which were massed at the bier voiced the esteem with which he was held in this section.

Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Garrett of the First Methodist church, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Mallard of the Presbyterian church. Survivors include the widow; a daughter, Mrs. E. A. Deaton of Wichita Falls and a son, Aynes Brown of Jacksboro; one granddaughter, Frances Ann Deaton of Wichita Falls; a sister, Mrs. W. I. Light of Hobbs, N. M.; and two nephews, Frank and Eugene Nicholson of Wichita Falls. Judge and Mrs. E. W. Nicholson of Wichita Falls were also among the number of persons from Wichita Falls who attended the services.

Mr. Brown was born at Scottsboro, Ala., Oct. 29, 1862. He joined the Methodist church at 10 years of age, and had been active in church work the greater part of his life. In youth he was so handicapped by defective eyes as to be unable to attend public school except for brief periods. He entered the University of Nashville, however, with only three years of preparation, and in 1883 graduated from Peabody university as the youngest member of his class.

He taught school in East Tennessee for two years and came to Jack county in 1885. He was twice chosen as county school superintendent. He was married to Elsie Aynes at Jacksboro in 1890. He entered the mercantile business in Jacksboro in 1895, and continued in this work and as a cotton merchant until 1926 when he retired from the mercantile field. He continued his cotton business until his death. He was an active member of the K. of P. lodge for 40 years, with a membership at Weatherford.

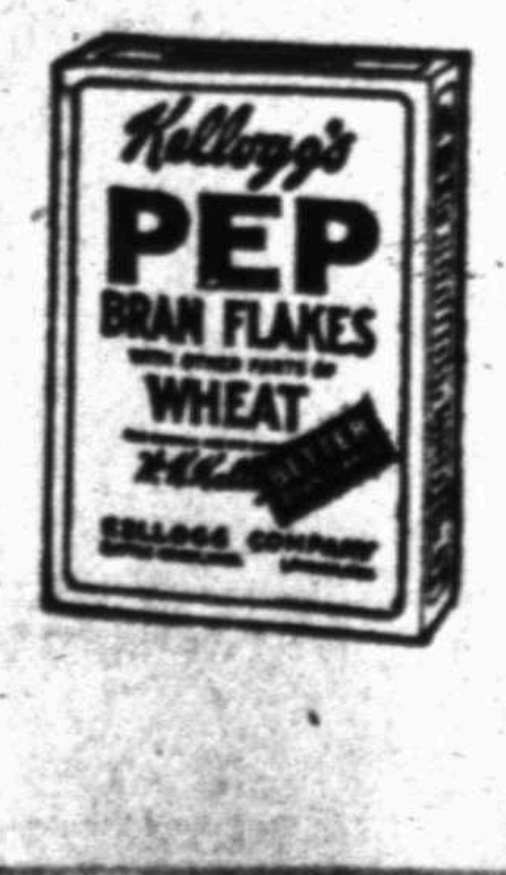
Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES



The quality you want . . the price you approve★

If the things you want most in a motor car have cost more than you care to pay—and if the cars you felt you could easily buy have not quite satisfied you—here is a timely message . . .

A lot of people just like you have found in Pontiac both the quality they want and a price they approve.

Suppose you are driving a Pontiac for the first time. What do you find?

Going along at medium speed, you notice how smooth and quiet the engine is. You wonder how it will be at high speed, and a test shows it is just as smooth. For Pontiac's 60 h. p. engine is big enough to do all you ask without laboring.

Over a back road, Pontiac's "rubber insulation" at 43 points in the chassis surely does take up road shocks and gives Pontiac fine-car riding ease. So do the four hydraulic shock absorbers, and the other niceties of design.

You examine the Pontiac interior, and at once you see that the upholstery is genuine mohair or whipcord. You find that seat springs are deep, cushions soft, and the driver's seat easy to adjust the way you like it.

How about protection against heat, cold, and rain?—you ask. And you learn that the fine Fisher-built Pontiac body is weather-tight and leak-proof. Everything has been done for your complete comfort.

There remains only Pontiac's effect on other people. Glances you notice along the street, and the comments of your friends soon settle that! You know you are right in your judgment.

But don't stop at this imaginary test. Take a new Pontiac out on the road and ask it to do everything you want a car to do. Let it prove that it has the quality you want—then ask the price. It's a figure you will warmly approve.

CIGARET TAX REPEAL ASKED

Druggists Bored With Talk Of Liquor Sales

DALLAS, June 18. (AP)—The Texas Pharmaceutical association today adopted emphatic resolutions condemning the new state cigaret tax and urging its repeal. Representative Paul Finn of Sunset assured the convention he would introduce a bill to repeal the tax if he were returned to the legislature at the next session.

E. B. Oliver of Longview was elected president of the association at the concluding session this morning.

The association condemned the cigaret tax in strong terms, declaring that the major portion of the burden of collecting the tax would fall upon druggists.

A. H. Seely, chairman of the resolutions committee, said cigarets sold by druggists were sold at almost no profit to the stores but were kept because of public demand.

Speakers declared they were heartily tired of discussion over the problem of druggists handling prescription liquor and the convention tabled action on a resolution proposing that government dispensaries take over the burden of handling prescription alcohol.

The legislative committee reported the resignation of Walter H. Whisenant of San Antonio and his replacement by Henry Hein of San Antonio.

Other officers named besides President Oliver were L. C. Brenner, Gonzales, first vice president; Lee Stinson, Snyder, second vice president; Walter D. Adams, Forney, re-elected secretary; Sam P. Harben, Richardson, treasurer; R. B. Brown, Dallas, and A. A. Stolte, Waco, trustees; Dr. Chester Duncan, Dallas, historian; J. W. Graham, Austin, home secretary; and as new members of the executive board, Sam Harden and Shine Phillips, Big Spring. Holdover members of the board are C. B. Seely, Belton; C. C. Harris, Houston; Henry Hein, San Antonio; and Marvin Anderson, Fort Worth.

The executive board will meet later in Dallas to select the next convention city.

Final Preparations Made For Boy Scout Camp

Final preparations were being made at Camp Ephiraim Griffin at Diversion dam Thursday under the direction of Scout Executive Frank B. Creighton for the opening of the two week's summer camp for the Wichita Falls area next Monday morning.

Mr. Creighton is scheduled to spend Friday in Electra and Vernon on his monthly tour of inspection among scout troops in those places, it was announced.

The commission gives Lieutenant Bailey an assignment as assistant surgeon in the regular army, his parents said. After receiving his M. D. degree at Baylor, he is serving his interneship at St. Paul's hospital in Dallas.

State to Seek to Lift Ban Of Western States on Texas Potatoes

AUSTIN, June 18. (AP)—Efforts to have western states lift their bans against importation of Texas agricultural products, especially Irish and sweet potatoes, are being made by the state department of agriculture. Negotiations are being directed by J. M. Del Curto, chief Texas entomologist, who is attending the meeting of the western plant quarantine board of Cheyenne, Wyo., June 17 and 18.

Del Curto said before leaving for the meeting that prospects for having the quarantines lifted were bright.

Several of the western states maintain quarantines against potatoes from any part of Texas although only crops in certain areas are affected. Efforts to have the ban removed on Texas crops shipped from certified pest free areas will be made, Del Curto said.

Lifting of the quarantines would be especially helpful to Texas farmers at this time, Del Curto said, because of the increased acreage planted in potatoes. The sweet potato acerage in Texas has trebled in the past two years with plans being made for further increased acreage, according to Del Curto.

Del Curto will deliver an address to the plant quarantine board on "The Legal Status of State Quarantines." It will deal with attempts of Texas to enforce its quarantines against the shipment of citrus nursery stock from Florida.

Texas is the only state that belongs to two plant quarantine boards, the western and the southern. Del Curto is vice president of the southern board.

DUNCAN, Okla., June 18.—Designation of a new state highway in Carter and Garvin counties linking Duncan with Sulphur this week climaxed a long fight waged by the Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

One of the important features of the new route is that it gives a state maintained route to connect Sulphur and Medicine Park, the two best known southern Oklahoma recreational centers.

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city, that Allison's Drug Store says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back.—Adv.

TWO DASHING NEW

Ford Convertible Cars

Ford

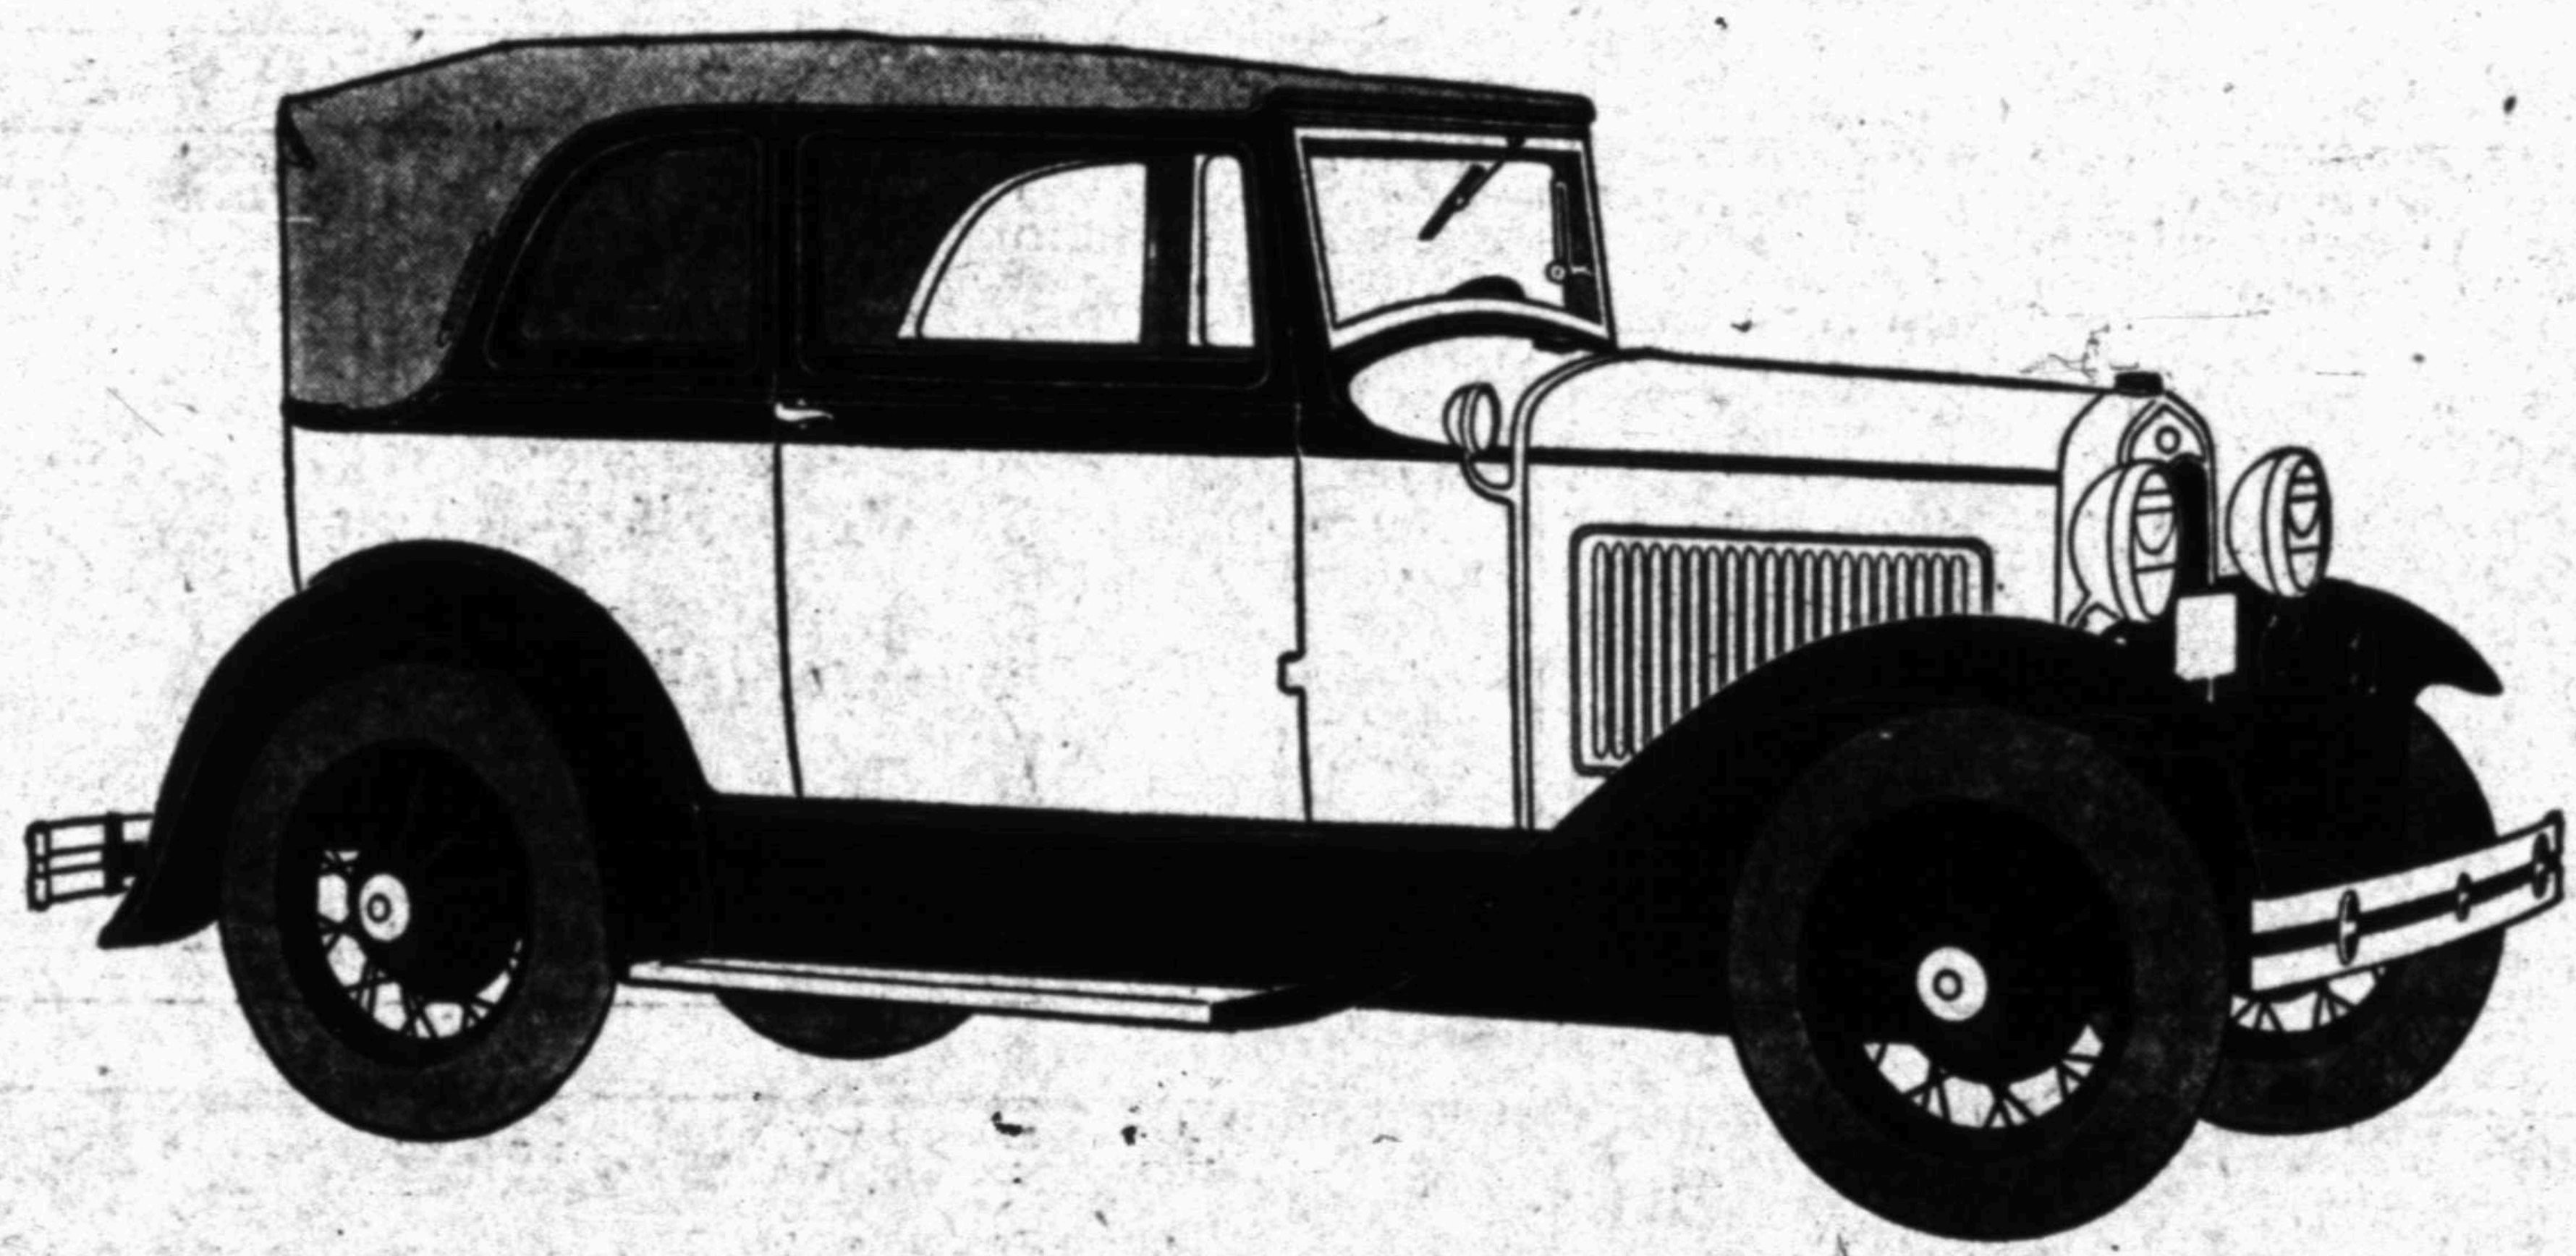
IN THE past few months, the Ford Motor Company has introduced three new five-passenger bodies—the Town Sedan, De Luxe Sedan and Standard Sedan. To this distinguished group are now added the Convertible Sedan and Cabriolet.

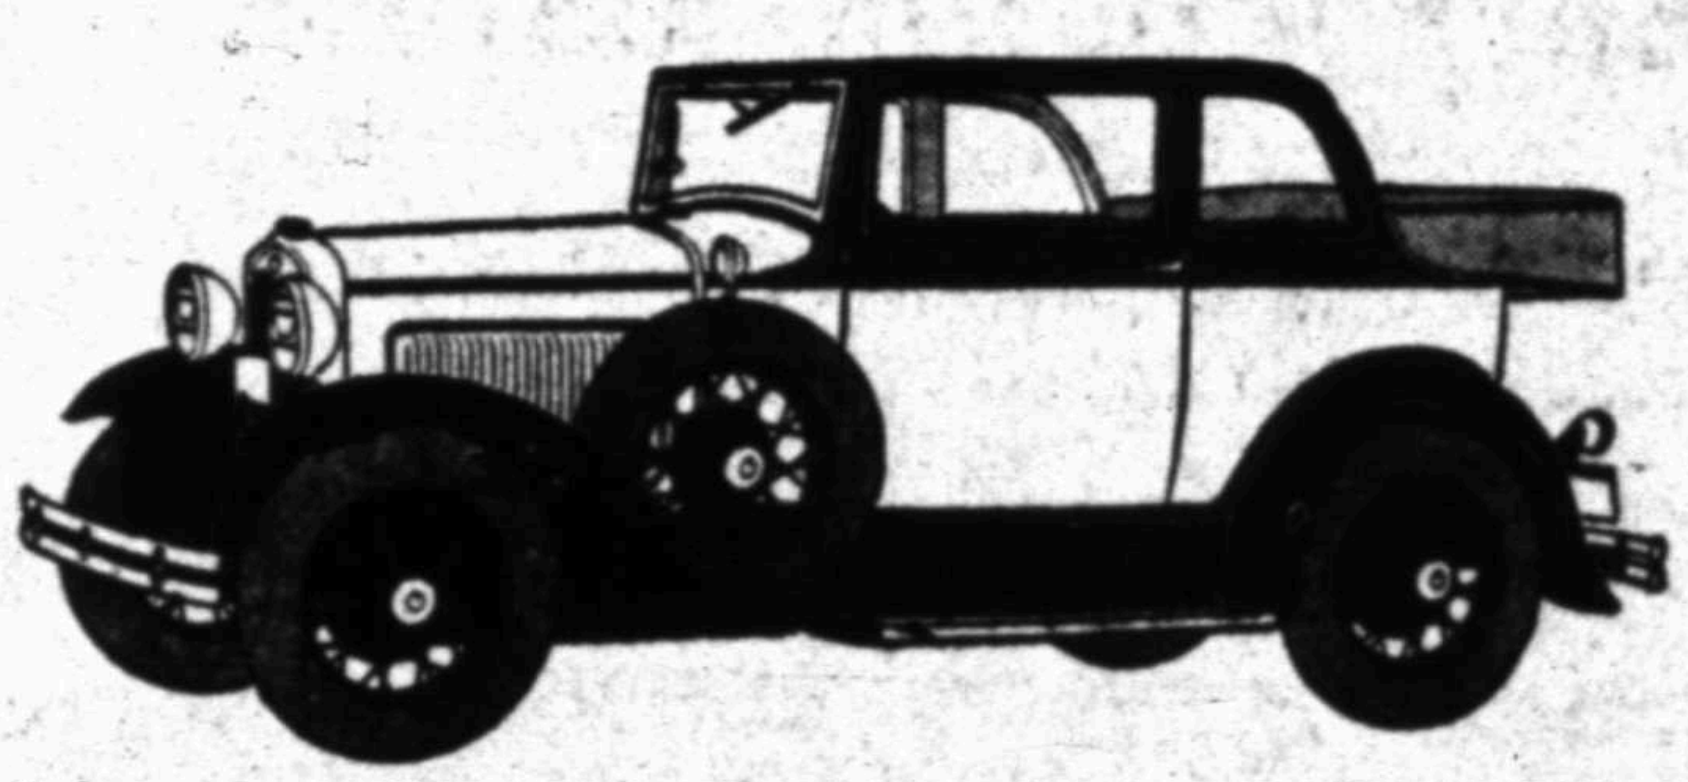
These latest Ford bodies are of particular importance at this season not only because of their distinctive style and beauty, but because of the convertible feature. Each is really two cars in one.

On bright, clear days and moonlit nights, you may enjoy the exhilarating dash and freedom of an open car. When skies are overcast, or winter comes, the substantial attractive top gives you the snug comfort and protection of a closed car. The change is made quickly and easily.

See these new Ford cars at the showrooms of Ford dealers and make special note of their careful finish, rich upholstery and beautiful colors. You will take pride in their striking appearance and their satisfactory performance over many thousands of miles.

THE NEW FORD CONVERTIBLE SEDAN





AN ENTIRELY new Ford body of impressive grace and style. Great care has been taken to make the top sturdy and substantial. Only four clamps are needed to hold it securely in place—two at the windshield frame and one on each of the rear-quarter side frames. Snaps fasten the non-shrinkable, fast-color top material to the sides. The solid frame for window and door supports is a distinctive feature. Seat cushions and backs are genuine leather, with arm rests for rear seat passengers. Driver's seat is adjustable. Side fender-well for spare tire is standard equipment. There is a choice of de luxe body colors. Most exposed bright metal parts are made of Rustless Steel. The slanting windshield is made of Triplex safety polished plate glass.

Dinner: Boiled fresh beef tongue; vegetables en casserole; salad of shredded cabbage; jell-o or jell-well.

Thursday

Breakfast: Small slice of ham; well cooked waffle; stewed apricots.

Lunch: Fresh fruit; glass of sweet milk.

Dinner: Baked Belgian hare; buttered beets; spinach; celery; dish of berries.

Friday

Breakfast: French omelet; Melba toast; stewed raisins.

Lunch: Large glass of tomato juice.

Dinner: Broiled fillet of sole; string beans; eggplant; salad of stuffed tomatoes; no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast: Toasted breakfast food with cream; stewed figs.

Lunch: Buttered spinach; carrots; celery.

Dinner: Stuffed beef rolls; green peas; salad of cold cooked asparagus on lettuce; gelatine snow.

*Fresh asparagus on toast: Cut off the tough ends of fresh asparagus and set aside to be used for soup. Cook the stalks tied together with a string, standing in a tall can which may be covered. Add water only to about one inch from the end of the tips of the asparagus so that the more tender tips do not cook as rapidly as the stalks. If a coffee can is used, place lid on upside down, for if the lid is clamped down tight there will be an explosion after can fills with steam. When stalks are tender but not overcooked spread on freshly made Melba toast, dot generously with butter and cover with hot cream. This is a delicious and nourishing dish for either breakfast or lunch.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Sunburn

Question—P. J. writes: "I have a very fair skin and it stays red with sunburn all summer. Can you suggest something to make my skin tan?"

Answer—Your skin will gradually become more tanned if you will regulate the time your skin is exposed to the sun each day. If your skin is fair you will never be able to get the same tan that a brunet gets, but there should be some satisfaction in the knowledge that the blonde really gets more good from the ultra-violet rays of the sun than the brunet who tans so quickly. When the skin becomes dark with tan the curative chemical rays of the sun are shut out more than with the fair, pink skin.

Melba Toast

Question—M. B. B. asks: "May Melba toast be eaten more than once a day by a person who is constipated?"

Answer—Melba toast must be considered slightly constipating, so should be used sparingly by most people. It is important to eat more of the non-starchy vegetables to supply bulk.

Floating Kidney

Question—W. H. D. asks: "Can a floating kidney be cured without operation?"

Answer: A floating kidney may usually be raised to position through developing the abdominal muscles. Sometimes it is a good plan to go to bed for two or three weeks and take exercises while remaining in the recumbent position. If there is any ache in the kidney this can be overcome if you will assume the knee-chest position two or three times daily, thus allowing your kidney to slip back into normal position.

Jackson Farmer Tests Profit Of Wheat Pasture

ALTUS, Okla., June 18. (UP)—Pasturing cattle for the market on young wheat has been found more profitable than allowing the grain to mature and sell it, according to C. F. Monk, owner of several farms near here.

A profit of $21.50 per acre on a field of 80 acres, or a total of $1,720 was made by Monk on a wheat filed which he used to pasture 180 head of cattle, he reported.

A deficit of $160.50 on 250 acres of wheat allowed to mature for the market was expected by Monk after he deducted the cost of production and marketing.

Monk, who keeps a strict account of his farm receipts, is enthusiastic about the prospect.

The 180 head of cattle were allowed to pasture on the wheat for three months. During that time Monk fed them cottonseed cake to the value of $2.25 a head each month. He marketed the cattle for a gross return of $2,800 and after deducting total expenses had a net profit of $1,720, he said.

Total cost of seeding the 250 acre tract was calculated at $312.50. Threshing and hauling to market cost approximately $650. His yield on the tract this year he expects to approximate 5,000 bushels which if sold at 25 cents a bushel will gross $1,750. From this he will deduct one-third for rent while his total expense of production will be $1,337.50, leaving a loss of $160.50 on the 250 acres.

SALES STOPPED

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 18. (AP)—A warning directing the Big Indian Syndicates of Dallas, Texas, to stop offering oil securities in Missouri without a permit was issued today by the state securities department.

A threat of cease and desist orders unless the provisions of the state securities law are complied with was contained in the warning.

GEORGE PAYNE STOPS SPUDDERS IN HOUSTON OPENER, 4-2

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

It can be taken as reasonably certain that Wichita Falls will not have night baseball this year. It may have the night game next year, but next year's events will have to decide that issue.

After weeks of discussion, weeks of conference, in person and by mail, between local civic forces, the officials of the Wichita Falls baseball club, and the high officers of the St. Louis Browns, controlling power of the Spudders, the effort to bring the night game here apparently has fallen flat, despite an almost overwhelming sentiment among both local and out-of-town patrons in favor of the change.

The St. Louis powers may, it is true, change their mind at the last minute and order the installation of lights here but, as President William E. Huff pointed out yesterday, it is too late in the season now for the club to take the burden of expense which the night plant would entail. Mr. Huff, who himself favors night baseball, and is anxious to see the arcs placed here, said only a sudden visit from Santa Claus, bringing with him the $10,000 necessary to make the installation, would make the night game possible this year. And Santa Claus, in addition to doing most of his traveling in December, is not in the habit of dropping $10,000 in anybody's stocking.

The Spudder prexy, who has been harassed world without end the last few weeks listening to arguments pro and con, pointed out Thursday that the Spudders, returning here Saturday, will spend about half of July on the road, and also about half of August, returning to close the season in September. With only three major home stays in which to match expenses with gate receipts, it appeared highly doubtful to the president that the club could see the light installation in any other perspective than one tinted with red ink. And undoubtedly the president's viewpoint is shared by the controlling powers in St. Louis.

Despite the gloom cast over their efforts, the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, which has led the ballyhoo for night baseball, has not stopped in its tracks, and continues to plead with the St. Louis office for something which they believe will not only increase the revenue of the club, but provide a real entertainment at night for citizens of this section of the country. A mass of facts and figures, it was understood, was mailed to the Browns' offices Thursday, the data being designed to show that there are enough employed people in the city and surrounding territory deprived of the opportunity of day baseball, to provide a crowd of about 5,000 for opening night, that number being absolutely necessary the first night to meet the first obligations incurred by installing the lights.

It is to be hoped that even if the chamber's efforts are unsuccessful this year, the Browns will awaken to the possibilities of the night game here in time to provide a plant for the 1932 season.

It is none of our business, of course, and we may be chased from the park for disputing a decision, but we believe the St. Louis Browns "booted a chance" in not installing lights here early in the season. It is not only that that makes me want to start an argument, but the reasons the Browns advanced for not installing the arcs. In the words of L. C. McEvoy, vice president and active manager of the Browns and their subsidiaries, the parent club did not install lights here because the night game was still regarded by them as a "novelty" and because the night game "might have an effect on the players, when and if they graduate to the major leagues, where the day game is played exclusively."

The first of these reasons, as we see it, is so antiquated it is trailing a full-grown beard, while the second is highly questionable. The only "novelty" we see in night baseball at present is that clubs that formerly drew crowds by the hundreds are now drawing them by the thousands. And that is one kind of "novelty" the Wichita Falls club could certainly put up with. If the St. Louis office still considers night baseball a novelty, it must be because it has not taken the trouble to investigate the success it has had in the Texas league this year. The "novelty" part of night baseball wore off last year, when it was first tried in the Western, the Pacific Coast, the Texas and other leagues. Now only a scant perusal of statistics reveals it is an established business, without which some minor leagues could not exist. When Mr. McEvoy, on his recent visit here, spoke of the night game as a novelty, we wished at the time he could have attended a night game at Huston, which was and still is drawing immense crowds; or, for that matter, a game at Shreveport, where even the lowly Sports, as we have said before, draw not less than 1,000 paid customers each night at home, in spite of the fact that they're sunk far down in the heap. To regard the night pastime as a novelty at this stage is simply to confess that the holder of the opinion doesn't know much about what is going on around him.

As for night baseball affecting the player's ability in the daylight major league games, this also is doubtful. A little more time is needed, however, to make the test. Give the present crop of Texas leaguers destined for things higher up a full season under the arcs, let them go to the majors, and we will see how they perform. But it is a certainty that those players who last year got in about a half season under the arcs have not been so seriously affected. Dizzy Dean pitched lots of baseball under the arcs last year, both in the Western league, and with Houston, but that didn't seem to keep him from holding the Pittsburgh Pirates to three hits last fall. Les Mallon of Fort Worth played a number of night games last season, and he's making a pretty good player for the Phils. So with a number of others.

But the Browns saw otherwise on these matters, and have delayed the installation here until it's now about too late to consider it for this year. They know their business, of course, but the Rambler cannot help but be convinced that it would have been a success here. We invited readers to express their opinion, and between 20 and 30 letters have been published in this corner the last few weeks, every one favoring night baseball as a blessing which would give people something to do at night. The baseball offices here Thursday received a letter from Haskell, signed by 150 residents pledging their support to night baseball here. Instead of booting the chance at the first of the season, we believe the Browns should have tested the attitude of the public, started a campaign to get the opening-night crowd, and started the thing rolling in the first or second month of the season. Then, more than likely, there would have been no talk at all about the possibility of Wichita Falls losing its franchise.

Spudders Push Over Their Runs in Ninth

Special to The Record News.

HOUSTON, June 18.—George Payne was invincible in the pinches until the ninth here Thursday night, Houston winning, 4 to 2. Payne fanned 12 men.

To start the game, Garms tripled to right, the hard-hit drive going between Sturdy's hands. Allday fanned on a wide curve. Manager Schultz pulled in the infield on Buc Stanton, dangerous hitter, and the strategy worked, Stanton shot a hard grounder to Selph, whose perfect throw to Funk caught Garms at the plate. Gullic fanned.

With the count three and two, Hock lined to left. Rollings walked, and went to third when Selph rattled the boards in left with a double. Peel got a Texas leaguer double into left, Rollings scoring, and Selph stopping at third. Medwick scratched a hit through short, scoring Selph. Sturdy hit into a double play, short to second to first.

Hock lined a double to left center in the third. Rollings singled off the pitcher's glove, Hock going to third. Selph forced Rollings, short to second, Hock tallying. Peel singled to left, sending Selph to third. Medwick lined to third, no advance. Sturdy rolled to first.

Medwick walked and Sturdy bunted him to second in the sixth. Sanders fanned. Funk lined a single over third, scoring Medwick. Payne whiffed.

In the ninth, Euller fanned, Bradbury, batting for Steengrafe, singled through third, and scored on Garms' triple to right. Garms scored when Allday singled to right. Stanton popped to second. Gullic flied to left.

Diving Diana

Here's a brand new brand of arrow-nautics, performed by Georgia Coleman, of Los Angeles, national diving champion. It's just part of her training for the forthcoming national A. A. U. championships, wherein she hopes to retain her title. She leaps from a springboard and, at the top of her flight, aims and shoots an arrow at a target at the end of the pool. She declares it to be a splendid way of perfecting time and balance in the air. Anyway, it makes a remarkable picture.

Walter Hagen Smashes Par in First Round of Western Open Golf Tourney

MIAMI VALLEY CLUB, Dayton, Ohio, June 18. (AP)—Walter Hagen found the range of the rolling fairways of the Miami Valley course today and shelled it with a record-smashing 68 that shoved him one shot in front of a closely bunched field in the western open golf championship fight.

Flashing the same form that made him one of golf's immortals a decade ago, the Haig just about made the first 18-hole round of the 72-hole struggle a one-man show until Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del. came in late with a 69 to do some crowding.

Olin Dutra, the Spanish caballero from Long Beach, Calif., and Charles Garringer of Indianapolis, landed third with 70's, the only other par-shattering performances turned in by the field of more than 100 entries. One shot away from them and three away from Hagen came Gene Sarazen of Fresh Meadow, N. Y., the champion they must beat, and Gene Marchi, assistant professional on Miami Valley championship course. Five stayed close up in the running with 72's, one over par. They were J. B. Rooney, Columbus, Clem Weichman, Portsmouth, Ohio; George Von Elm of Detroit; Bob MacDonald, Chicago; Emmett French, Southern Pines, N. C.; Densmore Shute of Hudson, Ohio. Charles "Chick" Evans of Chicago had a 73, as did Mortie Dutra of Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Hill in Finals Of Women's Tourney

ST. LOUIS COUNTRY CLUB, June 18. (AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City beat par again today and advanced to the semifinals of the fifth annual women Trans-Mississippi golf tournament along with the Oklahoma state champion and two St. Louis women.

The Kansas City golfer defeated Mrs. Rossmore Kohn, St. Louis, 9 and 7 in the third round.

A tournament favorite, Lucille Robinson of Des Moines, faltered today and fell the victim of Mrs. I. S. Hynes, St. Louis, one down in 19 holes.

Mrs. J. Walter Beyer of Tulsa defeated Ann Webster, Kansas state champion, one up.

Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace of St. Louis defeated Elizabeth Douglas, also of St. Louis, 4 and 3, in the quarterfinals.

Harvard and Yale Crews Ready for Race

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 18. (AP)—A confident Harvard varsity crew and a determined Yale eight today ended almost nine months of preliminary toil and retired to their neighboring quarters to await the word that will start their 69th dual regatta.

Harvard will come down to its Thames river stake boat tomorrow night as the season's only undefeated crew and the favorite to defeat a Yale eight that has made a gallant recovery after being humiliated by Columbia and Cornell. The Crimson has not had a rowing victory since 1927.

Ascot Race Crowd Soaked by Downpour

ASCOT, Eng., June 18. (AP)—Butterflies of fashion, gathered at Ascot today to see Gen. Charles Lambton's Trimdon win the classic guild cup, were rained on again and the old fashioned umbrella remains the conventional style note for well-dressed English folk.

A storm burst over the great pageant of fashion and horseflesh just as King George and Queen Mary were starting their ceremonial drive down the course. Royal landaus were hurriedly closed, their majesties driving past the stands in a pouring rain.

The storm disappeared as quickly as it had rolled up and the sun came out brilliantly before the race.

The king smiled under his white topper and the queen beamed under her toque of gold as Trimdon was declared the winner, for in the pilot seat was the king's own jockey, J. Childs, who had been loaned to General Lambton for the race.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 18. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under liquidation combined with some local, southern, Wall street and western selling. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 25@28 points.

The opening was barely steady, 6 to 9 points lower in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables. The initial offerings were fairly well taken, apparently, by trade interests and covering but the selling continued, and after some little irregularity the market worked lower. Offerings were not particularly heavy, but the demand was decidedly less active than recently, and the selling became more aggressive later in the afternoon, when it seemed to be encouraged by the action of grain and stocks. Lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when July sold at 8.46 and December at 9.08, with the general list showing net losses of about 26 to 29 points. The close was within a point or two of the lowest.

Houses with Liverpool connections were among the sellers here early, while some of the early buying was attributed to trade and brokers with Japanese connections.

Exports today were 3,600, making 6,534,139 so far this season. Port receipts 2,554. U. S. pork stocks 3,104,864.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 18. (AP)—A quiet morning the cotton market was followed by considerably more activity in the afternoon, with a downward trend that brought net declines of 25 to 27 points at the close. The close was steady 25@27 points down for the day.

Liverpool came in 4@6 penny points worse than due and private cables stated that there was local and foreign liquidation with poor offtake. Manchester cabled that business in cloths and yarns, is slow in developing.

October closed at 8.87, 2 points above the low and 25 points net lower for the day and December closed at 9.10, 3 points above the low and 26 points net lower for the day.

Increased Pressure on Stocks Brings Little Net Change on Dull Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 18. (US)—Stocks were subjected to increased pressure today but volume on the whole was restricted to just above a million shares. The market seemed to be reflecting more than anything else an indisposition to follow prices upward even on moderate bulges. Except in a limited group of issues no concentrated selling was apparent, although there was a free supply of most stocks.

A contributing factor in the mental attitude of stock traders was the further decline in wheat prices to new lows, possibly with the increased opposition to the railroad rate advance from agricultural interests also an influence in light selling of the railroad shares.

The entire market performed as a unit, however, and it is just as reasonable to assume that the recent recovery which in the rails, for example, ran to considerable proportions has induced continued profit-taking.

Free Market

The market itself plainly demonstrates that no attempt is being made to peg prices; rather, the disposition in important quarters is to allow an absolutely free market without any evidence whatever of distress developing. Huge speculative operations have been in the main curtailed, and pool managers are disinclined to oppose the quite apparent desires of the powers-that-be for the continuance of extreme dullness and minimum price fluctuations.

This attitude holds as well for the bear element. From supposedly reliable sources, it is learned that aggressive bear activities have been very greatly curtailed and in some important instances completely terminated.

This latter statement might apply particularly to Westinghouse, which today held its price despite heavy trading which at one time forced it into new low ground. The close, however, found a slight net gain on the day. Huge amount of short covering took place in this stock.

Case Threshing, however, was unable to resist the selling pressure which has been concentrated against it for weeks. The stock broke 6½ points net but here, too, considerable covering was reported taking place on the decline. Case is near its former low for this year. Its action suggested at least temporary suspension of the bull campaign which had been inaugurated with Westinghouse, Case and American Can as bulwarks.

Recession was the order throughout the list, with steel common down over a point, General Motors ¾ of a point, Chrysler a full point, American Can 2½ and similar declines in all groups. Selling of General Motors was reported coming from Detroit and Mid-West centers. Some of this supposedly represents liquidation of bank loans.

Utility Decline

Although United Corporation participated with other utilities in the general decline, the buying of United was reported to be of very high-grade. It is of a type which is content to ignore immediate and intermediate fluctuations in confidence that the long-term trend will substantially benefit the stock, which represents of course the entire public utility industry of the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other populous states.

Left to itself the market is reflecting the continued general apathy toward purchasing stocks under existing conditions. Failing to receive any encouragement from industries such as steel, building and automobile, the general disposition is to ignore these groups until concrete evidence of improvement appears.

The railroad department of the list probably will attract renewed interest from long-pull buyers on any further reaction since it is generally recognized that unless the railroads receive aid in the form of higher rates the only alternative left for them to preserve their earning power will be employed; the reduction of wages. The next effect of a wage reduction on railway net income will be as satisfactory to the roads—and to some executives is preferred—as an increase in rates.

Distinctly encouraging trend reflecting type of recent buying is again disclosed in the weekly federal reserve report on brokerage loans, showing a further reduction of $71,000,000 during the past week.

TRADE TRENDS

Copper—Because of the lowering of the foreign price of copper to parity with eight cents a pound in the domestic market, export sales took a spurt Thursday, amounting to 2,000 long tons. The new export price, a drop of a quarter of a cent, is 8.275 cents, c. i. f. European base ports. Buying continued small in the domestic market, where there is a good inquiry for the metal at 7¾ cents, although no sales have been reported at that figure. The domestic price remained at eight cents a pound.

Food Prices—Wholesale food prices, as measured by Bradstreet's weekly food index, have steadied again after dropping slightly last week. The index number this week is $2.14, the same as last week, but as compared with Jan. 1 of this year the decline is 11.5 per cent, while the drop from the like date of last year is 22.5 per cent. Weekly price changes in Bradstreet's list of 87 commodities of all kinds continue the improvement shown in the previous week, but the declines were fewer, numbering 16 against 18 in the previous week.

Silver—Bar silver held steady, being quoted unchanged at 28⅝ cents an ounce in New York, and 12⅝ pence in London.

Zinc—The price of zinc continues easier, with buying small and prime western quoted at 3.30 to 3.35 cents a pound, east St. Louis, compared with 3.35 cents a pound previously. The price applies to early deliveries, as there is little inclination to sell much into the future because of the strong probability that curtailment now under consideration will result in sufficient reduction to bring domestic output under consumption.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 18. (AP)—Big rainfalls in Canada and federal farm board refusal to pledge the withholding of surplus stocks of old wheat from the market tumbled grains down hard today. July and September wheat dropped beyond the season's previous bottom prices and to the lowest level in 35 years. Reports from the southwest indicate that the movement of newly harvested domestic winter wheat was increasing rapidly.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅝@1⅛c lower, corn unchanged to 1⅝c down, oats ⅛@⅜c off, and provisions unchanged to 10c up.

Stop loss selling accompanied the downward swing of wheat, and the market closed at almost the day's bottom figures. Advices that Russia had unexpectedly chartered vessels for the export of 100,000 tons of grain, about 3,750,000 bushels, was a disturbing factor not offset by word of a fair amount of export business overnight in United States old crop winter wheat. Widespread notice was taken of a statement by a Chicago trade authority that the market was burdened by the fact that 200,000,000 bushels of wheat in the United States was held in the hands of one agency under what might be termed a unified control, and that is was obvious from the action of the markets abroad that European importers had no intention of readjusting prices upward in the face of this big holding.

Withdrawal of buying support let the corn market undergo a collapse for July contracts. Much of the selling of July corn, however, was simultaneous with buying of September. Oats sympathized with weakness of other cereals.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive to upturns in hog values.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, June 18. (US)—Traders feel that the farm board policy, while not affecting foreign prices directly, is affecting the export demand. Little export inquiry has been noted for new crop stuff in the Southwest. What bids are in the market are about 1c out of line.

The Southwest was reported trying to get a bid from the Duluth market on 100,000 bushels of hard winters. The reports said nobody was interested.

Russian shipments of wheat were small at 176,000 bushels, but a London cable said the Soviet shippers had chartered room for 100,000 tons of grain.

With the technical firmness in July corn relieved at least temporarily by increased offerings from the country, the last of the bullish local interest seemed to leave the market. Sentiment toward the deferred deliveries has been decidedly bearish because of the favorable crop weather.

New Mexico Company Extends Gas Line

SAN ANGELO, June 18.—Placing into operation of a high pressure natural gas line from El Paso to Deming, N. M., Douglas and Bisbee, Ariz., and Cananea, Mexico; building of a small refinery on the Grayburg Oil company's Hugh Burch lease in Eddy county, and preparations by the Santa Fe to bridge the Pecos river at Lovington, N. M., and lay five miles of track from Carlsbad to the United States Potash company's plant in Eddy county are among late developments in New Mexico's capitalizing of its natural resources.

The new natural gas line from El Paso into Mexico is an extension of a line from Lea county, N. M., and is operated by the Western Gas company. It was tested and placed in operation on June 8. In testing a pressure of 750 pounds to the square inch was maintained for 24 mours. It is planned to operate the line under pressures ranging from 300 to 600 pounds, at which approximately 33,000,000 cubic feet of gas can be delivered daily. At the maximum working pressure of 750 pounds, 53,000,000 cubic feet of gas can be run daily.

The refinery of 120 barrels daily crude capacity, which is under construction on the Grayburg's Burch lease in section 19-17-30 in Eddy county, will be operated by Gray Coggin and association. They plan to begin operating this week. Products of the plant will be gasoline, distillate and fuel oil.

Flower Gardens Return Highest Rewards in June

the bush spreads and more bloom results. If quantity of bloom is desired, tops should now be pinched out of late chrysanthemums, zinnias, and snapdragon grown for fall flowers. On the other hand, no kind that depends for its fineness upon stately spikes of bloom should ever have the tip removed.

Pruning, or shearing, of annuals after their first bloom, before seed have had time to ripen, often results in a second crop of flowers. The whole business of a plant is to reproduce its species, and, like a bird that has failed in rearing its first young of a season, a plant on which no seed pods are allowed to form, will try again. Verbena and sweet alyssum are two kinds that respond well to this treatment, each continuing to bloom until freezing weather. The blooming period of many annuals and perennials, among them larkspur, stock, canterbury bells, phlox, petunias, columbine, pinks, zinnias, daisies, Iceland popies, feverfew, and snapdragons is greatly prolonged if all withered flowers are picked.

Roses often suffer from improper removal of withered blossoms. People go through a rose garden snipping the heads off between their fingers, and then wonder why the fall flowers are so small and the stems so short and limber. Rose stems, except those that are virtually new canes, should be cut to leave only two or three eyes. Now that there are longer fine flowers to be discolored, spraying against fungi should be resumed and continued every two weeks until the infection disappears or until fall blooming begins. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is a good saying, as applicable to black spot on roses as to human health and affairs.

Summer is a season for little fertilizing. Still dahlias and zinnias will produce larger blooms if liquid manure is applied about once a week from the time the first buds appear. Zinnias especially are greedy plants that can transform into bud and flower a great deal of fertilizer even during hot weather, and blossoms of show size can be grown only by its liberal use. Later on beginning probably with September, chrysanthemums should be given applications of liquid manure until such time as the buds show color.

Summer is a season of much addition to the compost heap. Certain kitchen refuse, such as corn husks and peelings of various kinds, can go into it instead of into the garbage can. Grass clippings, dead flowers from healthy plants, and weeds are all materials for the mixture known as compost. Since decayed vegetable matter is quite sour, occasional sprinklings of lime, which also increases bacterial activity, should be added to the heap—unless, of course the resultant fertilizer is to be used on plants requiring a distinctly acid soil. Garden refuse becomes compost the sooner if some soil is mixed with it and the mass turned and wetted now then. Two years are required for thorough decomposition.

Rotations of Flowers

And oddment of garden practice applicable in part to June is rotation of flowers. More than three centuries ago Sir Francis Bacon wrote an essay on continuous bloom in the garden; it is a delightful essay and very good horticulture. Every garden club in the land considers the topic at some time during the year. But what is here meant is not bloom in one corner in March and in another in October but something like continuous bloom in a single spot, the two-crop practice, or at any rate theory, of the farmers. In parks and public grounds of various sorts, when one kind of flower has finished blooming, another takes its place, so that the ground is left bare only a few days, while the soil is being remade. Private gardeners might follow this way of doing much more than they do. Plants for setting in may be purchased from plantsmen or grown in a seed bed. Bloomed-out larkspur or popies can be replaced with zinnias—either seed or plants—cosmos, marigolds, or chrysanthemums for late bloom; tulips or pansies, with petunias. A series of three members is quite possible. Between hyacinths, nemastylis, grape hyacinths, and daffodils preparing to bloom, candytuft may be planted during a warm period in February. Candytuft planted in the fall grows three feet tall, but planted in February it grows from 15 to 18 inches tall. Candytuft will be bloomed out by July, when seed of dwarf zinnias may be put in, to bloom during late summer and fall. Some other plants good for late planting to take place of earlier annuals or bulbs are periwinkles, balsam, and portulaca. Seed of these and of cosmos and marigolds may be planted successfully until July. Rotation of bloom in an edging can be secured by interspersing plants of earlier and later varieties or by planting an edging of a later-flowering kind just behind one of an early-flowering kind. A perenenial edging may be of Alyssum saxatile compactum alternating with Iberis sempervirens; the first blooms very early for a short time; the second, later for a very long time. Planted just behind a very early edging, perennial lavender phlox (Phlox divericata) will sprawl its blossoms over the plants that flowered early. Candytuft, planted late so that it will not grow tall, is good to bloom about and between other edging plants.

Oklahoma, however, showed an increase of 18.9 per cent in shipments, totaling 18,399,000 gallons with West Texas increasing 14.9 per cent, totaling 4,159,000 gallons of gasoline. These were the only areas to show a gain in gasoline movement for the week. Production showed a gain throughout the area with the exception of West Texas, where the output was curtailed. Production totaled 48,701,000 gallons, a gain of 2.8 per cent.

Negroes Held In Burglary

Three Jailed After Robbery Of Farmer's Home

Three negroes were arrested here Thursday by city police in connection with the burglary of a farm home in Archer county last week. They are being held in the city jail here and probably will be charged in Archer county Friday, it was said.

The negroes were arrested by Detectives Luke Hart and O. A. Roberson, who recovered practically all articles taken from the home, which belonged to Fred Vollmer and is located a short distance within the Archer county line on the Archer City road.

Vollmer and his wife were in a field shocking wheat when two of the negroes were said to have driven up in an automobile and entered the home, taking articles of clothing, a watch, several pieces of jewelry and a purse containing a small amount of money. The third negro is alleged to have received and concealed the stolen property.

Ground Broken For New Henderson Refinery

HENDERSON, Texas, June 18.—The Central Refining company has broken grounds for their new 10,000 barrel refinery to be built at Frier's Switch north of Henderson on the Missouri Pacific railway. This new plant and tank farm is being built on location across the tracks from the East Texas Refining company's Henderson plant which was the first refinery to be erected in the East Texas field. Construction of Central's new refinery will be rushed to completion with both day and night crews.

According to H. C. Chadwick, superintendent in charge, this new refinery was first announced as a 7,500 barrel plant but latest reports reveal that the company will build a 10,000 barrel plant instead. Tank equipment has already arrived and construction work will be in full swing within the next few days. The West Texas refinery is running at full capacity of 6,000 barrels daily.

British Trade Overtures Seen as U. S. Menace

WASHINGTON, June 18. (AP)—British trade propaganda in Argentina is described as a "veiled attack on Argentine-American friendship" in a study by George J. Eder, chief of the commerce department's Latin-American division.

In his report, one of four being sponsored by the Carnegie Peace Foundation, Eder named Sir Malcolm Robertson, British ambassador to Argentina, as a chief proponent of the slogan, "But from those who buy from us." He also said the visit of the Prince of Wales recently was designed primarily as an attack upon American mercantile supremacy in the Argentine.

Stamford Church to Dedicate New Educational Building Sunday

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, June 18.—June 21 will mark the realization of a long-cherished dream by the First Baptist church of Stamford when they officially open their new three-story educational building. This building is just completed and was submitted to the church by the contractor, Ed Jones, this week. The building was started in March and built during the depressive period because of the great saving in labor, material and equipment and in order to furnish work.

The building is a three-story, brick structure wis five assembly rooms, 30 classrooms and a lobby on each floor connecting with the main auditorium. It increases the Sunday school capacity of the First Baptist church by about 500. The third floor will house the intermediate and junior departments; the second floor will house the young people's department while the basement will contain the cradle roll department, the beginners' department and rooms for two mothers' classes, as well as a large banquet room to be used by the Business Men's Bible class. The building cost $15,000 and it is estimated that at least one-fourth has been saved by constructing the building at this time.

The formal opening of this building will be held on Sunday. Dr. F. S. Groner, under whose ministry the present building and auditorium were erected, is to be chief speaker of the day. He is now president of the college of Marshall and was for 10 years secretary of missions for Baptists in Texas. All former pastors of this church have been invited to be present. President J. D. Sandifer, president of Simmons university, has been invited to take part in the services and a large number of people, many of whom are former members of the church, have signified their intention of visiting here on that day.

This building has been erected under the leadership of Rev. Sam Morris who has been pastor here since Sept. 1.

ROTARY HEARS DR. CASTNER

100 Million Spent Annually On Mental Patients

Maintenance of institutions in the United States for the care of people afflicted with mental and nervous disorders was discussed by Dr. C. W. Castner, superintendent of the Wichita Falls State hospital, before members of the Rotary club at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

"People of this country spend $100,000,000 annually," he said, "in the care and management of more than 300,000 patients. Texas has eight such institutions, and in them takes care of 11.209 persons. Of that number, 1,644 patients are in the local hospital."

Discussing the building appropriations for the next year, totalling $208,000, Doctor Castner said that a new ward building for men will be included in the program of improvement. While the hospital now has a stated capacity of 1,825, he said, the proportions of men and women included in the present total of 1,644 patients are such that the women's quarters are overcrowded.

Rotarians were asked by Roy J. Daniel to support the Fourth of July program being sponsored by the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion. Dr. H. T. Wood, speaking for the Junior chamber of commerce, asked the attendance of Rotarians at the welcome to be given the Spudders upon their return Saturday afternoon.

Singing and dancing by juvenile artists, and a singsong lead by R. E. Shepherd, were included in Thursday's program.

Park Department To Give Radio Programs

Free radio entertainment from 8 to 9 o'clock on Tuesday and Saturday nights of each week beginning next Tuesday, June 23, will be furnished to the public on the west lawn of the Memorial auditorium by the city park department, it was announced Thursday by C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent.

Through the presentation of a radio equipment by the Nunn Electric company, it was announced, the additional two periods of free entertainment for the public has been made possible. A member of the park department staff will be in charge of the program, and will select from the air such broadcasts as prove most entertaining to the audiences, it was said.

Should atmospheric conditions or interference prevent satisfactory reception of broadcasted programs, it was announced, records of recent issues will be used to provide the outdoor programs on schedule.

Federal Agents Open Final Drive To "Mop Up" Al Capone's Gang

Negroes Prepare For 'Juneteenth'

Many boots will lack their daily shine Friday, various shops will endure improvised janitorial service, some washtubs will sit surprised in idleness, and the ironing of next Sunday's shirts can wait, for Wichita Falls' negro population will go a-celebrating. Friday is "Juneteenth."

Emigration of local colored people to other parts has been under way noticeably all during this week. Bedding rolls, fishing tackle, picnic baskets bespoke the purposes behind smiling dusky faces which filled outward bound automobiles.

Festivities planned for Wichita Falls negroes will be staged at Lake Wichita, beginning with a big barbecue feast at 11 a. m., and concluding with a dance at the pavilion Friday night.

Announcements Thursday of those in charge specified that white people will be welcome to visit the Emancipation day celebration during the day.

J. W. Harris was arrested here; Betty Lou Richardson at Borger, and C. N. Jeffries, alias J. T. Jackson, is at large, District Attorney Roy St. Lewis said.

CHICAGO, June 18. (UP)—The United States government began today to "mop up" what is left of Al Capone's gang.

With the "big bullet" himself under a plea of guilty, leaving the lesser lights of his gang to shift for themselves, the government sent scores of agents out into the underworld to round up the 68 other gangsters who were indicted with their chief and charged with 5,000 violations of prohibition laws.

Federal prosecutors promised that this final thrust against gangland would snap the last bond that has bound Chicago to the underworld.

By the time the gang leader enters Leavenworth penitentiary shortly after June 30 many of his thugs, liquor peddlers, torturers, visemongers and gunmen also will be under sentence, federal agents predicted.

Plea Strengthens Case

The same overwhelming mass of evidence which put sudden fear of the law into Capone likewise is available against his 68 hirelings, federal agents pointed out. "Scarface Al's" plea of guilty was believed to have served to strengthen the case against them.

Meanwhile, Capone's reputation as a "trader" took another slump when federal officials denied definitely that the gang leader had "made a deal with them."

"We have made no promise to be easy with Capone," said Assistant District Attorney Victor La Rue, who pressed the liquor conspiracy indictment against him. "In pleading guilty, he simply threw himself on the mercy of the court, and we see no reason why he should be granted any unusual amount of leniency."

No Leniency Promised

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson therefore may mete out any sentence he deems proper within the legal limits, when Capone appears before him June 30. The maximum punishment which the gangster may receive is 34 years at hard labor and fines totalling $90,000 on both prohibition and income tax charges.

BURGLARS RAID STORE

Merchandise valued at $50 was taken by burglars who broke into the Red and White grocery at 706 North Grand street Wednesday night, according to a report to police Thursday.

Included in the loot was a large quantity of cigarets and tobacco, razor blades, fresh meat and soap. Entrance to the place was gained after a rear window had been broken.

'HISTORY DAY' SET SATURDAY

Wichita Books on Sale At Stores and Banks

Saturday, June 20, has been selected as "Wichita Falls History Day" by the Pioneers' committee which has sponsored throughout this week a campaign for the distribution of Miss Jonnie Morgan's recently published history of this city, according to Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, chairman.

Bringing to a close the six days' canvass of the city, which already has resulted in the sale of a large number of the books, Saturday's program calls for the Wichita Falls history to be on sale at McClurkan's store, P. B. M., Perkins-Timberlake, the North Texas Furniture company, the City National bank, First National bank and Wichita State Bank & Trust company.

Personal canvassing of various parts of the city by young women of the Junior forum has been under way since Monday morning. Results of their work will not be known until after the conclusion of the campaign, it was said, but those in charge indicated that a large number of books already have been delivered.

An interesting element in Miss Morgan's decision to write a history of this city was revealed by Mrs. Carrigan. When Miss Jonnie Morgan was a child, she came through Wichita Falls with her parents, en route to Vernon to visit S. A. L. Morgan, well known here. This city was chosen at that time, it was said, by Miss Morgan's parents as their future home, their continued residence in Austin being avowedly for the purpose of completing the children's schooling there. During all those years, it was stated, Miss Morgan had held constantly before her the idea that Wichita Falls was the one city in the state in which to establish her home. Since graduation from the university, she has been here as a teacher in the public schools.

Junior C-C to Hold Final Luncheon Today

Russell Kolp, one of the five delegates to the national convention of the Junior chamber of commerce, will give an account of activities of the meet during the Junior chamber's membership luncheon at the Wichita club Friday noon, it was announced Thursday.

The luncheon will be the final meeting of the organization until September. Judge John C. Kay has been selected to deliver the principal address.

Immediately following the program the final industrial tour will be sponsored. The trip will be made to the New Ice company's plant at 601 Burnett street for a demonstration of ice in the process of manufacture. At the close of the tour, according to Ralph Pond, chairman of the industrial committee, the party will visit the Dr. Pepper Bottling company, 607 Burnett, for refreshments.
