Golfers and prospective golfers should avail themselves of opportunities and advantages offered by the country club, said T. C. Williams, chairman of the meet.

H. T. Huffman Is Low Bidder On Steel Welding At Ball Stadium

H. T. Huffman was given the contract for the welding work for the $13,000 football stadium now in progress of construction on the basis of low bidding to the school, according to O. J. Russell, president of that body.

Two bids were asked for; one based on the job and the other on the hour. The school board accepted the one based on the hour, believing, said Mr. Russell, that the work could be done at a less cost than by the job. It is understood there were several bidders under these conditions.

All other material for the stadium has been ordered by Superintendent Wilson, Mr. Russell stated, and there will be no other bidding on any part of the construction.

TO VETO ITEM EAST TEXAS INSTITUTION

AUSTIN, May 13 (U.P.)—The Texas legislature's appropriation of $817,000 for construction of a West Texas hospital for the insane will be approved, Governor Allred announced today.

He said he will veto a companion item of $817,000 for an East Texas insane hospital. The bill leaves the location of the hospital to the State Board of Control to be erected on a site donated west of Meridian 100.

"The Board of Control recommended only the West Texas hospital," Allred said. "The legislature has not yet raised any revenue and we cannot afford both. The bill would not have passed if I had not told some of the members I would veto the East Texas hospital."

TWO POSSIBLE SESSIONS SEEN

AUSTIN, May 13 (U.P.)—Indications of two possible sessions of the legislature was seen here today in Governor Allred's announcement that truck legislation will not be submitted as a topic at the "first" special session.

One special session has been mentioned by the governor if the senate fails to vote on repeal of the pari-mutuel racing act.

A stricter drivers' license law was assured today when the senate finally passed the bill with slight amendments from the way it had previously passed the house.

Representative Fred Harris of Dallas believes the house will accept the senate changes. Principal change is to eliminate a 50-cent examination fee.

The new bill makes two important changes. It requires examination for persons who do not now hold state drivers' licenses and it permits suspension of a license by the State Safety Department.

Senators also voted to keep the appropriation to aid rural schools to $5,000,000 a year. An attempt to raise the amount to $6,080,000 was killed.

Nye Fails to Obtain Immediate Action

WASHINGTON, May 13 (U.P.)—Senator Gerald Nye failed today to obtain immediate senate action on his resolutions calling on the State Department to learn from Ambassador William Dodd the name of a "certain American billionaire" to whom Dodd attributed dictatorial ambition.

Nye asked unanimous consent for immediate senate action on his resolution.

The resolution called on the State Department to ask Dodd to submit to the senate the name of the man who he said in a recent letter, was reputed to have a billion dollars and the ambition to establish a dictatorship in this country.

In Cleveland, 6,000 workers in the Fisher Body plant struck in protest against alleged discrimination by plant foremen, and because of the company's reported failure to settle grievances.

In Saginaw, the plant of three General Motors subsidiaries were shutdown as the result of strikes. The corporation said that 8,000 workers were out.

The Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants at Janesville, Wisconsin, remained closed and 2,500 persons were idle.

POLICE USE TEAR GAS ON STEEL STRIKERS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 13 (U.P.)—Police fired tear gas at striking Jones & Laughlin steel workers today as the Committee for Industrial Organization mobilized its "entire forces" to make independent steel producers sign union contracts.

Most serious violence of the strike occurred at the Aliquippa, Pennsylvania, plant where half of Jones & Laughlin 27,000 workers are employed. Police said they discharged "five or six" tear gas bombs into a group of 250 pickets.

LOCAL RAINS AID GARDENS, RANCHES, CROPS

A scant half-inch rain last night added to the showers of the past few days, brings a smile to the farmer, rancher and gardener who have been watching longingly for moisture to aid crops, grass and garden truck. Rains appear to be general with strong winds which did little damage in this section. Reports of hail in some sections farther west say crops were injured.

Grain is heading and appears thin on the group with short stems. Moisture will add length to the stalks and cause heads to fill out for more grain, improving the weight and quality. Ranches will receive renewed stock water supplies and grass will be kept green.

Irish potatoes and beans are just coming into fruiting and these will be aided. Berries were just showing tinges of turning ripe and these will be aided. Sandy land that had not yet been turned will be listed and planted to cotton, peanuts, and feed crops. Corn will be stimulated in its growth.

Thunder showers drenched portions of Texas early Thursday as a mass of cold air slipping southward from the Rocky Mountains encountered warm current from the Gulf of Mexico.

Strong winds preceded the storm reaching a velocity of 43 miles an hour in Dallas.

Abilene had 52 of an inch rain; Dallas 24; Wichita Falls .08; Palestine .04; Austin .22; San Antonio .10 and raining; Del Rio .06 and Corpus Christi a light shower.

Facts About Bible Distribution

An increase, over the previous year, in the distribution of the Scriptures, both at home and abroad, of more than half a million copies (542,205) was reported by the American Bible Society at its 121st annual meeting held this week at its headquarters in New York City. During 1936 there were distributed by the society 290,003 Bibles, 398,486 Testaments, and 7,078,822 portions of the Scripture making a grand total of 7,767,311 volumes in 166 languages and dialects and in an additional 26 characters including the different systems for the blind. The inclusion of the year's distribution brings the grand total of volumes of Scriptures distributed by the American Bible Society, since its organization in 1816, to 276,354,391 volumes. Workers, or co-workers, to the number of 2,898 helped in the distribution, more than a thousand being volunteer workers.

IN THE UNITED STATES

The work of the Bible Society in the United States is divided into ten districts with an additional four divisions taking care of the work among the negroes.

Two important services given by the society last year were the provision of Scriptures for the young men in the CCC camps, who received through their chaplains nearly 47,000 Scripture volumes. Since the organization of the camps several years ago the society has spent almost $10,000 in providing with Scriptures the promising young Americans enrolled in them. Early in 1936, for the various flooded areas throughout the United States and the two sections in the South struck by tornadoes the society distributed nearly 11,000 volumes, of which about 3,000 were Bibles.

THE BIBLE SOCIETY MOVES

The year 1936 will always stand as a milestone in the society's history because of the removal of the headquarters from the old red brick Bible house at Astor Place to the new fireproof Bible house at Park Avenue and 57th Street. The move was made July 20-23 with dedication services on November 15-20. For almost fifteen years the finance committee of the society had been looking for a new location. After looking at over a hundred different sites the building at 57th Street and Park Avenue appeared to the board to meet its requirements best.

Over 858 volumes of Scripture in 152 languages and dialects, printed from 1498 to 1936, were added to the society's historical collection of printed Scriptures, as well as quantities of day on languages and editions. The society's library, which contains Scriptures in more than 670 different languages and dialects, is the largest collection of this kind in the United States and is housed in the library on the second floor of the new Bible house, where it is open to visitors.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY BUTCHER

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Lots of statistics pour out as the various government bureaus these days, but there is one thing on which there is no single statistic.

That is the rising tide of government payoffs. The latest word on that is from the President's Committee on Administrative Management, which is authority for the statement that between June 29, 1932, and June 29, 1935, the civilian employees of the executive branch of the federal government increased from 578,231 to 824,259. That is a gain, in four years, of 246,028, or more than 40 per cent.

Perhaps that gives you a clue as to why it is always hard to trim federal expenses. Every one of these employees defends his job resolutely and most of them have direct influence with a congressman who appointed them. When you cut budgets, you cut jobs. And that's where the shoe pinches.

Incidentally, this rise is a tendency that runs throughout all government, not merely the federal government at Washington, though attention centers here at the moment. In 1921 there were 82 people working for national, state and local governments for each 100,000 of population. In 1931 there were about 250. In 1931, around 400. And today nearly 600. The New York Trust Co. not long ago estimated that in 1934, 10 per cent of the national income was being paid to government officeholders in salaries, federal, state and local.

Admittedly it would reduce government operation costs to cut these rolls, but the thing usually assumed—that many of these people do little or nothing—isn't true. It is simply that during the last four years something like 50 new government bureaus and agencies have been set up which have never existed before. Very few have been abandoned. It takes people to man them, and you can't cut personnel to any real extent without abandoning whole functions and activities. And that is where the congressional shoe pinches, not to mention the pin pricks from constituents who must be looked after in their jobs.

DARTY lineups are doing some strange dances these days. The statement of former President Hoover praising the recent Supreme Court labor decisions left some Republicans gasping. But what will they think when they learn that Ogden Mills has been giving a series of lectures before the New School for Social Research in New York? The New School is known to be somewhat more conservative than Calvin Coolidge.

Mills, discussing at the New School the future of the Republican Party, said: "It is the sole residuary legatee of the tradition in the United States that the individual man has rights independent of and prior in nature to government, and that no government may deny him these rights without arresting progress and making them slaves."

A rousing peroration, to be sure, and the purest kind of an echo of Thomas Jefferson and that arch-radical, Tom Paine, whose writings once inflamed America to revolution. All of which helps explain why many Republicans and Democrats as well, are wondering today just where their party lines are drawn, anyway. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

AFRAID to Love

BY MARION WHITE © 1937 NEA SERVICE INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOAN HENDRY, heroine, secretary to John Hendry.
JOHN HENDRY, mining investment broker.
BOB ANDREWS, Hendry's junior partner and Joan's fiance.
SYBIL HENDRY, sociolite, John Hendry's niece and Joan's rival in love.
PHILIP HENDRY, Sybil's brother.
DOROTHY STARKIE, Joan's childhood friend.
CHARLES NORTON, California mining promoter.

Yesterday, Hendry closes his $50,000 deal with Norton and the cash is brought to Hendry's home, awaiting payment. Sybil taunts Joan with the information that Philip has just purchased "some choice gossip" in San Francisco.

CHAPTER XX

FOR the first few moments following Sybil's announcement, Joan wanted to get up and run from the house. Her heart died within her breast, and she prayed that a bolt from the sky might kill her, too. Yet she managed to hold herself terribly calm, as if these were her last minutes on earth, and she had to go out with dignity.

If only Bob might get on the train to Washington first . . .

At the moment, however, he was mildly curious.

"So Philip is in San Francisco," he remarked. "He seems to have a pretty wide territory for his survey. What's the gossip, Sybil?"

Sybil laughed with delight. "Oh, I can't tell you, Bob," she said archly. "Not yet."

Joan bristled with infinite relief. Perhaps, she thought, she will make a bargain with me. A bargain wherein I shall promise to disappear in return for her silence.

If she plans to do that, then she will not speak of it now. She will wait until Bob has gone. She will wait.

As the minutes slowly passed and Sybil said no more, Joan was sure that was her intention. What she could not guess was that Philip had merely phoned from his hotel in San Francisco to announce his arrival in that city, following the trail. "I'm getting warmer," he had said. "It won't be long now."

And Sybil had amplified his words to amuse herself.

FINALLY it was 10 o'clock and Bob was preparing to go, and Joan and Sybil were exchanging good night pleasantries in meaningless but adequate phrases. Even in the few minutes that she was alone with Sybil upstairs in the rose and silver boudoir, there was nothing said. Not even when Sybil graciously retrieved the black kid gloves Joan had dropped, and their hands met—Sybil's burning and feverish, and Joan's cold and clammy as death. Whatever was in Sybil's mind, she gave no hint of it. She murmured only, to cover the confusion of the moment: "What lovely gloves, Joan! I like the petit-point trimming."

Driving the few blocks to the Inn in Bob's roadster, Joan said her silent farewell to him. The words she might have said—the words which might have expressed the depth of her love for him—she could not bring to her lips.

Bob chatted on, all oblivious to the tumult within her, because now, after she had steeled herself to meet the first shock, she found that her actions obeyed her will more easily.

THEY found Mr. Hendry and Norton in the grill, chatting amiably over brandy and soda. And even with the pressure of her own tragedy overwhelming her, Joan felt a moment of concern lest the two men become a little glib and drop some careless remark about the money in Mr. Hendry's possession.

Norton's words, as she and Bob came upon them, gave rise to a greater foundation for her fears.

" . . . in those days, you old softie," he was saying to Mr. Hendry, "we thought nothing of having our entire fortune in our pockets—a few gold nuggets tied up in a dirty handkerchief. All this talk of thieves and robbers—bosh! Don't be an old woman, John!"

He laughed boisterously, and his manner attracted attention.

He rose quickly and gallantly, however, as he saw Joan approaching their table.

"If it isn't our little Sunshine Girl!" he said blusteringly. "Ask her to join us, John. I don't have a convincing way with the ladies. Here's a chair, my dear!" He drew it out for her with exaggerated chivalry.

Then, seeing Bob in her wake, he added carelessly: "Oh, hello, Andrews."

"Hello, Mr. Norton. I wonder if I might leave Miss Barrett with you for just a moment while I talk to Mr. Hendry?"

"Nothing would please more," Norton smiled with satisfaction, and he resumed his seat quickly.

"Run along, both of you, and don't hurry back."

connections at Pennsylvania station. After Bob left them, Norton also considered the time.

"John," he said presently. "I think I might as well get that 11:10 train, too."

"Don't do that, Charley," Hendry objected. "Why not stay in Green Hills for the night? I can put you up."

"No, thanks, John. I get to New York seldom enough, and when I do I like to sleep with Broadway ringing in my ears. Unless," he added, "you need a stout feller like me for protection tonight."

He laughed insinuatingly.

"Shush, Charley! You're a reckless fool!"

At that moment, as if in answer to her silent wish, Joan heard the merry laugh of Dorothy Starkie in the corridor beyond the grill.

The next instant, Dorothy entered. Joan waited to hear.

"Will you excuse me, Mr. Hendry?" she pleaded. "It is my friend, as I thought, I'd like to speak to her a moment . . ."

"Run along, my dear. Run along."

Joan's panic was mirrored in her face as she dragged Dorothy off to a deserted corner of the dressing room.

"It's Sybil," Joan whispered. "She knows. She knows everything."

"Who said so?"

"She did—practically." Joan repeated Sybil's peculiar remarks about Philip's secret survey. "I'm sure it has to do with me, Dorothy. He went to Chicago first—then to Seattle. That seems more than coincidence. And tonight he called up from San Francisco with some choice gossip. Those were Sybil's exact words . . ."

"That doesn't prove anything," Dorothy said severely. But she was frowning, nevertheless.

"Where's Bob now?"

"Upstairs, packing a bag. He's leaving for Washington immediately. Dorothy, that's the only thing I'm grateful for. He doesn't know yet. He won't know—until I've gone . . ."

Dorothy's frown deepened, but she realized that this was not the moment to argue.

"Keep your chin up, Joan," she said instead, "until we put Bob safely on the train. Or would you rather be alone—"

"No, come to the station with us. That Mr. Norton is taking the same train, too. We wouldn't be alone, anyway."

"All right, I will. Come now, you need powder on your nose. And a little lipstick—Joan, even your lips are white! Darling, don't tremble so . . ."

Cunning She-Wolf Is Finally Caught

MERIDIAN, (U.P.)—"Old Four-Toes" has at last been caught. An old and cunning she-wolf, known to trappers in Bosque county in central Texas, because of two missing toes on her left front foot, for years menaced livestock.

Ranchers and stockmen tried in vain to trap her. Even skilled trappers failed to bag the old wolf. Many ranchers believed the wolf, who was termed "the mother of all wolves," had almost human intelligence, for she consistently outsmarted trappers.

Lee McCullough, stationed in Meridian, set out to trap "Old Four-Toes." For several years she eluded traps set for her. Last month, however, McCullough found the wolf in one of his regulation traps.

Ranchers, whose livestock had suffered from the depredations of the animal, rejoiced at the news of the wolf's death and yet were sorry, too.

"Things will be a little tame, now that 'Old Four-Toes' is gone," one rancher remarked.

play their very best in order to show the Lions and businessmen who have made the trip possible, their sincere appreciation. A great trip for these youngsters and we are glad for them.

MADE a flying visit to the East Ward school today. saw Principal T. C. Williams and his fine little group of fifth graders working away as quietly and pleasantly as possible. These teachers at East Ward have instilled into the minds of their pupils the general idea emphasized in the entire system—that of self-control and keeping the students so happily and busily occupied that they have no time or inclinations for other thoughts.

TWO LITTLE girls volunteered readings for us. Betty Sharp and Allene Ely, the first recited the "Village Blacksmith," the latter, "Children's Hour." Could have listened longer, but this shows the outside activities of the school, visited other rooms and was intrigued with the study of cotton in Miss Lucy Kittrell's second grade. Model home. Furnishings... weaving of rugs... and little booklets made by pupils. Saw other work of students. Mrs. Minnie Hill with the first graders and her blackboard work. Mrs. Modena Dulin with her third graders, almost too busy to stop. Miss Lucille Stansell out with the measles. regret we didn't get to meet her... and her room which we are told is a good one. A delightful visit. Janitor Spoon tending his shrubs and roses. all taking pride in their work. Parents, it will pay you to see them at work.

M. WILLIAMS said some fine things about his little group and from what we saw, more could have been said.

U. S. Employment Near 1929 Level

WASHINGTON—Reports on the rising tide of employment continue to come in. The latest one from the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that non-agricultural employment is near the 1929 figure with 34,138,000 employed in the United States in March, 1937.

This revised estimate of the Bureau represents an increase of 8,241,000 in the number of non-agricultural employees since the low point of the depression in March, 1933 and an increase of 2,298,000 since March, 1936. It brings the total of employed in non-agricultural lines to within 1,239,000 of the figure for March, 1929.

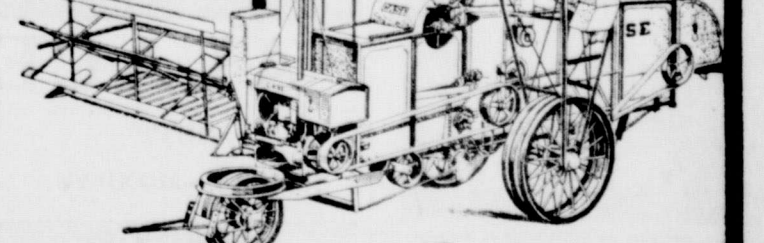

The Bureau report coincides with the survey recently released by the National Association of Manufacturers, which estimated that with approximately 11,000,000 persons on the payrolls, employment in the manufacturing industries as of April 1 had reached 1929 levels. The Association also reported a shortage of skilled labor in manufacturing becoming more apparent every month. At the same time the Association urged a comprehensive census of the unemployed so that expenditures for relief could be curtailed if unemployment figures are lower than now estimated.

IRISH BURN BRITISH FLAG; WRECK STATUE

DUBLIN, Ireland, May 13 (UP)—Anti-British demonstrations in connection with the coronation of King George VI were climaxed today by an explosion which wrecked the equestrian statue of George II, his ancestor.

A bomb tore the horse from a 15-foot pedestal and hurled it 20 feet. The king's figure was blown from the horse and both arms torn off.

The blast was the culmination of more than 24 hours of "twisting the British lion's tail," during which a British flag was burned in public.

WOMAN FOUND HANGING FROM ROOM WINDOW

FORT WORTH, May 13 (UP)—Mrs. M. H. Mountcastle, 63, of Mineral Wells was found dead today hanging outside the window of her hospital room.

Attendants found the woman hanging by a small rope tied to a bedpost. Death was by strangulation. Peace Justice Marvin Beatty returned a verdict of suicide.

The woman had been brought to Harris hospital yesterday by her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Waite, of Dallas. Nurses said that Mrs. Mountcastle had been an ideal patient until her death.

The body was taken to Mineral Wells for burial.

Yazoo Basin County New Fishing Waters

CLARKESDALE, Miss., (UP)—Floods which swept over north Mississippi and Yazoo basin counties during the first months of the year developed new fishing waters that are filled with fish.

Fish were turned into backwater areas in schools and were distributed by the high waters in several new lakes, bayous and ponds.

Negroes have been living almost exclusively on fish caught from these lakes. In some instances, men, women and children have gathered at the lakes for fish fries and hundreds of fish have been removed during the day.

JOBS CALLED YOUTH'S NEED

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET TO BE FRIDAY NIGHT

By TOMMY LA MORE

The Juniors and Seniors are due for a surprise on the evening of Friday, May 21 when the Seniors will be honored by the Juniors with a banquet. The theme and menu of the occasion will be kept a secret and will not be disclosed until the night of the dinner.

This is an annual event and the seniors are looking forward to it with much anticipation, while the juniors are trying to give the seniors a banquet they will long remember. An interesting program is being planned and several guest speakers will be present. The junior sponsors are planning the program without the aid of their pupils so it will be as big a surprise to them as it is to the seniors.

The juniors have been working all year preparing for the banquet by sponsoring several programs and having a large carnival to raise needed proceeds.

Members of the committee that are planning the dinner met Monday at a luncheon and discussed and drew up plans for the occasion. Miss Martha Graves, one of the live wires back of the movement stated this morning that "One of the largest senior and junior classes in the history of the high school will be served at the banquet and we are trying to make the classmen feel that this is one of the best banquets they ever attended." Other sponsors that are helping Miss Graves are: Mrs. E. L. Hazelwood, W. E. Cooper, and R. L. Maddox.

Following the dinner there will be a big dance given for the students of the two high classes.

U. S. TO MARK CONSTITUTION'S 150th BIRTHDAY

PHILADELPHIA, May 13 (UP)—A four-month celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution will begin tomorrow in Independence Hall.

A re-enactment of the signing at the first session of the Constitutional Convention of 1787 will signal the beginning of a nation-wide observance of the day, 150 years ago when delegates from the 13 states grouped around the document and affixed their names.

Chief attraction in the adjacent State House where the Senate and the House of Representatives met in chambers barely large enough to accommodate their few members, will be the original rough draft of the Federal Constitution.

Despite the nation-wide significance of the day and the series of important anniversaries which follow through the summer, the city fathers of Philadelphia have jealously guarded their right to observe with a superior display of patriotism their pride in the birthplace of the United States government.

Liberty Bell Guarded

Mayor S. Davis Wilson, for one, has adopted the motto "The Liberty Bell Shall Not Leave Philadelphia" and has thwarted attempts to carry the bell to Washington for ceremonies there.

City officials have planned four months of continuous celebration to end Sept. 17, the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution.

On opening day, Philadelphia men in colonial dress will re-enact the first Constitutional convention in the chambers of Independence Hall. The meeting will be opened by the banging of an ancient gavel, carried to Independence Hall by Boy Scout couriers from historic Valley Forge.

Mayor Wilson will strike the Liberty Bell with the gavel and radio listeners will hear a series of dull sounds. The ring was taken out of the bell when it cracked a century ago.

Concerts are Arranged

The rough draft of the Constitution will be unveiled as choral groups sing patriotic airs to the accompaniment of the Philadelphia police band.

Nearly 600,000 persons—mostly school children—will take part in exercises during the day, and at Convention hall a huge pageant and festival in which 1500 persons will participate will be directed by Edwin C. Broome, superintendent of schools.

On May 15, invitations to the celebration, destined for the governors of the 13 original states will roll off the old printing press used by Benjamin Franklin.

Special ceremonies will be held at Independence Hall for descendants of signers of the document, and patriotic exercises and band concerts will be offered daily in the park behind the Hall.

PAY TO SEE MYSTERY FLOWER

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UP)—Queues form up every day at Nugodena near here to see a mystery flower which botanists have identified as a rare species of arum lily. Admission is charged to see the flower and smell it. One of its peculiarities is an extraordinary strong scent.

4,000 Balloons Used In Insect Survey

More than 4,000 yellow balloons about 8-9 inches in diameter, each carrying a numbered tag to be detached and dropped in the mail by the finder, are to be released in an interesting experiment to determine the effect of winds upon the spread of the cotton flea hopper, and other injurious insects. This experiment is being conducted cooperatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Releases are to be made from South and Central Texas areas where cotton weeds or goatweeds are abundant and during a period when the cotton flea hopper adults are migrating to cotton or about May 12 to June 1. It is already known that these insects are carried considerable distances on the winds, and it is hoped that additional information may be obtained regarding the direction of the air currents and the probable distances that the insects might drift. Persons finding the balloons are requested to fill out the tags with location where found, their own name and addresses, so that acknowledgment may be made with information regarding the experiment. No postage is required. It is desired that the balloons be allowed to settle to the ground nearly so.

Releases of the balloons made in the following counties: Madison, Brazos, Milam, Burleson, Lee, Bastrop, Guadalupe, Gonzales, Bexar, Comal, Lavaca, DeWitt, Houston, Harris, Nueces, and San Antonio.

Allred Will Approve West Texas Hospital

Dress Bill Jails Ex-Follies Beauty

The arrest of Mary Nolan (above) in a $1-a-day New York rooming house for failure to settle a four-year-old dress bill disclosed that misfortune had overtaken the girl, who, as Imogene Wilson, was famous as a Follies beauty and later had made a comeback in the movies. Ill when arrested, she was taken to the prison ward of Bellevue hospital.

TO VETO ITEM EAST TEXAS INSTITUTION

AUSTIN, May 13. (UP)—The Texas legislature's appropriation of $817,000 for construction of a West Texas hospital for the insane will be approved, Governor Allred announced today.
He said he will veto a companion item of $817,000 for an East Texas insane hospital. The bill leaves the location of the hospital to the State Board of Control to be erected on a site donated west of Meridian 100.
"The Board of Control recommended only the West Texas hospital," Allred said. "The legislature has not yet raised any revenue and we cannot afford both. The bill would not have passed if I had not told some of the members I would veto the East Texas hospital."

TWO POSSIBLE SESSIONS SEEN

AUSTIN, May 13. (UP)—Indications of two possible sessions of the legislature was seen here today in Governor Allred's announcement that truck legislation will not be submitted as a topic at the "first" special session.
One special session has been threatened by the governor if the senate fails to vote on repeal of the pari-mutuel racing act.
A stricter drivers' license law was assured today when the senate finally passed the bill with slight amendments from the way it had previously passed the house.
Representative Fred Harris of Dallas believes the house will accept the senate changes. Principal change is to eliminate a 50-cent examination fee.
The new bill makes two important changes. It requires examination for persons who do not now hold state drivers' licenses and it permits suspension of a license by the State Safety Department.
Senators also voted to keep the appropriation to aid rural schools to $5,000,000 a year. An attempt to raise the amount to $6,000,000 was killed.

MANY IDLE AS STRIKERS ARE SITTING FIRM

DETROIT, Michigan, May 13. (UP) Strikes in three cities brought idleness today to approximately 16,500 General Motors employees, as the corporation and the United Automobile Workers Union sought to end labor conflicts that threatened their recent "permanent peace" pact.
In Cleveland, 6,000 workers in the Fisher Body plant struck in protest against alleged discrimination by plant foremen, and because of the company's reported failure to settle grievances.
In Saginaw, the plant of three General Motors subsidiaries were shutdown as the result of strikes. The corporation said that 8,000 workers were out.
The Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants at Janesville, Wisconsin, remained closed and 2,500 persons were idle.
A strike of welders at the No. 2 Fisher Body plant at Flint was settled today, and 2,000 men returned to work.

POLICE USE TEAR GAS ON STEEL STRIKERS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 13. (UP) Police fired tear gas at striking Jones & Laughlin steel workers today as the Committee for Industrial Organization mobilized its "entire force" to make independent steel producers sign union contracts.
Most serious violence of the strike occurred at the Aliquippa, Pennsylvania, plant where half of Jones & Laughlin 27,000 workers are employed. Police said they discharged "five or six" tear gas bombs into a group of 250 pickets.

LOCAL RAINS AID GARDENS, RANCHES, CROPS

A scant half-inch rain last night added to the showers of the past few days, brings a smile to the farmer, rancher and gardener who have been watching longingly for moisture to aid crops, grass and garden truck. Rains appear to be general with strong winds which did little damage in this section. Reports of hail in some sections farther west say crops were injured.
Grain is heading and appears thin on the group with short stems. Moisture will add length to the stalks and cause heads to fill out for more grain, improving the weight and quality. Ranches will receive renewed stock water supplies and grass will be kept green.
Irish potatoes and beans are just coming into fruiting and these will be aided. Berries were just showing tinges of turning ripe and these will be aided. Sandy land that had not yet been turned will be listed and planted to cotton, peanuts, and feed crops. Corn will be stimulated in its growth.
Thunder showers drenched portions of Texas early Thursday as a mass of cold air slipping southward from the Rocky Mountains encountered warm current from the Gulf of Mexico.
Strong winds preceded the storm reaching a velocity of 43 miles an hour in Dallas.
Abilene had 52 of an inch rain; Dallas 24; Wichita Falls .08; Palestine .04; Austin .22; San Antonio .10 and raining; Del Rio .06 and Corpus Christi a light shower.

H. T. Huffman Is Low Bidder On Steel Welding At Ball Stadium

H. T. Huffman was given the contract for the welding work for the $13,000 football stadium now in progress of construction on the basis of low bidding to the school, according to O. J. Russell, president of that body.
Two bids were asked for; one based on the job and the other on the hour. The school board accepted the one based on the hour, believing, said Mr. Russell, that the work could be done at a less cost than by the job. It is understood there were several bidders under these conditions.
All other material for the stadium has been ordered by Superintendent Wilson. Mr. Russell stated, and there will be no other bidding on any part of the construction.
Work of removing the old seats and sodding and terracing the field will be accomplished next week. Poles on the north side of the lighted field will be moved back to give more room for the run-way but those on the south side will remain as placed, not being necessary to be removed, said Mr. Wilson.

My station is all on its own. My living's got to come mostly from just you people right here. I want your steady trade, so's to build a real growing business. And there's where it helps me a lot, I can tell you, to be selling Conoco Germ Processed oil. You see it makes customers and keeps them for me. It's patented—the only oil that can Oil-Plate your engine. Meaning that a definite part of this oil always fastens direct to every working part... forms a real Plating of oil, which can't run down. Other oils will "dry off" every time you park, but Oil-Plating can't, so you'll never make any hard, grinding starts. And that ends the worst wear of all. Or when you're hitting it up all day, you won't find this real Oil-Plating rubbing right off, like just some plain little drops of oil. Oil-Plating's not thinning out either, nor burning right up. Which gives you mighty solid reasons why Oil-Plating means more mileage from your engine and your Conoco Germ Processed oil. Besides making customers, I get a kick out of changing you to an oil I can believe in myself, right to the limit.

WOMAN FOUND HANGING FROM ROOM WINDOW

FORT WORTH, May 13. (U.P.)—Mrs. M. H. Mountcastle, 63, of Mineral Wells was found dead today hanging outside the window of her hospital room.

Attendants found the woman hanging by a small rope tied to a bedpost. Death was by strangulation. Peace Justice Marvin Beatty returned a verdict of suicide.

The woman had been brought to Harris hospital yesterday by her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Wale, of Dallas. Nurses said that Mrs. Mountcastle had been an ideal patient until her death.

The body was taken to Mineral Wells for burial.

Crime committed by boys cannot be cured by reformatories nor penitentiaries in the opinion of Earl G. Stanza, St. Louis, president of Optimist International. His solution is "a fair chance for the boys to earn an honest living."

Yazoo Basin County New Fishing Waters

CLARKESDALE, Miss. (U.P.)—Floods which swept over north Mississippi and Yazoo basin counties during the first months of the year developed new fishing waters that are filled with fish.

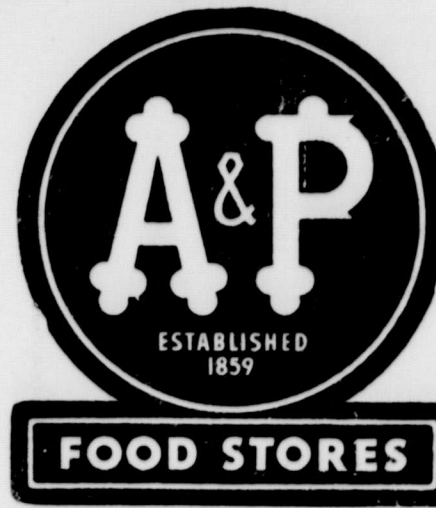

Fish were turned into back-water areas in schools and were distributed by the high waters in several new lakes, bayous and ponds.

Negroes have been living almost exclusively on fish caught from these lakes. In some instances, men, women and children have gathered at the lakes for fish fries and hundreds of fish have been removed during the day.

U. S. TO MARK CONSTITUTION'S 150th BIRTHDAY

PHILADELPHIA, May 13, (AP)—A four-month celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution will begin tomorrow in Independence Hall.

A re-enactment of the signing at the first session of the Constitutional Convention of 1787 will signal the beginning of a nation-wide observance of the day, 150 years ago when delegates from the 13 states grouped around the document and affixed their names.

Chief attraction in the adjacent State House where the Senate and the House of Representatives met in chambers barely large enough to accommodate their few members, will be the original rough draft of the Federal Constitution.

Despite the nation-wide significance of the day and the series of important anniversaries which follow through the summer, the city fathers of Philadelphia have jealously guarded their right to observe with a superior display of patriotism their pride in the birthplace of the United States government.

Liberty Bell Guarded

Mayor S. Davis Wilson, for one, has adopted the motto "The Liberty Bell Shall Not Leave Philadelphia" and has thwarted attempts to carry the bell to Washington for ceremonies there.

City officials have planned four months of continuous celebration to end Sept. 17, the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution.

On opening day, Philadelphia men in colonial dress will re-enact the first Constitutional convention in the chambers of Independence Hall. The meeting will be opened by the banging of an ancient gavel, carried to Independence Hall by Boy Scout couriers from historic Valley Forge. Mayor Wilson will strike the Liberty Bell with the gavel and radio listeners will hear a series of dull sounds. The ring was taken out of the bell when it cracked a century ago.

Concerts are Arranged

The rough draft of the Constitution will be unveiled as choral groups sing patriotic airs to the accompaniment of the Philadelphia police band.

Nearly 600,000 persons—mostly school children—will take part in exercises during the day, and at Convention hall a huge pageant and festival in which 1500 persons will participate will be directed by Edwin C. Broome, superintendent of schools.

On May 15, invitations to the celebration, destined for the governors of the 13 original states will roll off the old printing press used by Benjamin Franklin.

Special ceremonies will be held at Independence Hall for descendants of signers of the document, and patriotic exercises and band concerts will be offered daily in the park behind the Hall.

Meal Furnished by East Texas Gardens

DALLAS, (AP)—Tomato juice from Jacksonville, fried chicken and cream gravy from McKinney, black eyed peas and turnip greens from Athens and other tasty morsels from East Texas gardens tickled palates of delegates Tuesday at a luncheon of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

The East Texas food, cooked and served in East Texas style, greeted the diners on the last convention day.

TO PREACH FRIDAY

L. L. Burleson, employee of Humble Company, will preach Friday night at 7:30 at the Fundamentalist Baptist church, it was announced today.

play their very best in order to show the Lions and businessmen who have made the trip possible, their sincere appreciation. A great trip for these youngsters and we are glad for them.

MADE a flying visit to the East Ward school today... saw Principal T. C. Williams and his fine little group of fifth graders working away as quietly and pleasantly as possible. These teachers at East Ward have instilled into the minds of their pupils the general idea emphasized in the entire system... that of self-control and keeping the students so happily and busily occupied that they have no time or inclinations for other thoughts.

TWO LITTLE girls volunteered readings for us... Betty Sharp and Allene Ely... the first recited the "Village Blacksmith," the latter, "Children's Hour." Could have listened longer... but this shows the outside activities of the school... visited other rooms and was intrigued with the study of cotton in Miss Lucy Kittrell's second grade... Model home... Furnishings... weaving of rugs... and little booklets made by pupils... Saw other work of students... Mrs. Minnie Hill with the first grade and her blackboard work... Mrs. Modena Dulin with her third graders, almost too busy to stop... Miss Lucille Stansell out with the measles... regret we didn't get to meet her... and her room which we are told is a good one... A delightful visit... Janitor Spoon tending his shrubs and roses... all taking pride in their work... Parents, it will pay you to see them at work.

MR. WILLIAMS said some fine things about his little group and from what we saw, more could have been said.

Elwin Skiles Sees Making of Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich., May 13 (UP)—How Pontiac cars are built was witnessed at first hand today by Mr. E. L. Skiles, son of Mr. A. I. Skiles of Cisco, Texas, who was a visitor at the Pontiac factories here. Mr. Skiles spent several hours going through the plants under the direction of a guide who explained the various processes in automobile manufacture as each manufacturing department was visited. One of the most interesting points according to Mr. Skiles, was the final assembly plant where the complete assembling of the car, from the frame to the finished automobile is to be seen. Here the shining new cars taken from under the visitor's eyes and roll off the end of the final assembly line at the rate of one a minute. The huge forge plant, where giant machines forge out crankshafts, cams and other parts, and the sheet metal division in which fenders and other sheet metal parts are stamped out on huge presses and costly dies, were among other impressive sights, Mr. Skiles said.

Eastland County Oil Development

EASTLAND, May 13 —Completed recently as a gasser testing 3,750,000 feet daily with 500 pounds rock pressure, the L. L. Welburn No. 1 W. U. Fox, lot 49 leagues 3 and 4, McLennan county school land, six miles southeast of Eastland, is being drilled to 1,420 feet for possible oil production. The test, drilled by Price and Thompson, was recently sold to Welborn, of Senatobia, Miss., and whose No. 2 W. U. Fox was plugged when dry at total depth of 1,419 feet. Gas in the No. 1 Fox was topped and dry sand at 1,086 feet and was bottomed at 1,102 feet. A late report placed the drill at 1,300 feet in the No. 1 Fox. Ray T. Hoff No. 1 White, which reached an oil producing sand last year and which is sought in the No. 1 Fox, was 1,300 feet south-west of the No. 2 Fox. Materials were being moved in for Dorothy Oil company No. 1A Halcomb heirs, section 1, block 4, H & TC Ry company survey, 340 feet north and 900 feet west of the northeast corner, two and a half miles north of Eastland. The 1,600-foot test is approximately one mile northwest of the same company's No. 1 J. W. Henderson which was completed several months ago for 6,000,000 feet of gas. States Oil Corporation No. 8 G. T. Parrack, SW 1/4 section 7, H&TC Ry. company survey, block 4, seven miles north of Eastland, was drilling below 1,150 feet. Operators were still awaiting favorable weather to run tubing in the completion of Hoffmann & Pace No. 1, J. S. Dodd, subdivision 11 of the Brownson subdivision, William Van Norman survey, five miles south of Ranger and southeast of Eastland, as a gasser in the upper Ranger sand, 3,108-1,328 feet. Wind has blown gas from the well over the boiler. The test had been drilled in the Duffer horizon and shot between 3,370-3,440 feet. Operator was to plug I. S. Cruise No. 1 T. H. McGlothlin et al, three miles southeast of Ranger, H. Hutson survey. The operation was an attempt to open an old hole drilled by Sinclair in 1919. Schaffner & Son filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill No. 3 C. N. Anderson, Stephen Jones No. 283 survey, Brown county, one mile west from Crosscut. AGED PENSIONS EFFECTIVE IN FIVE YEARS

By REED S. DUNHAM
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—The Social Security act represents the American government's broadest effort to minimize the hazards of poverty due to old age or loss of jobs.

It is designed, furthermore, to assist needy children, the blind and to safeguard the public health. It comprises four general sections:

1. Contributory old age pensions becoming fully effective in 1942.

2. Unemployment insurance, generally becoming effective within two years of enactment of state co-operative legislation.
3. Federal grants to states for aid to dependent children, the blind and aid to the U. S. public health service, the federal vocational rehabilitation service and to develop maternal and child-welfare programs.
4. Temporary grants to states to provide pensions to the aged before the national old age pension plan becomes fully operative.

Two Taxes Provided

To finance this huge endeavor, two new taxes are provided.

The first, levied jointly upon employers and employees, is designed to provide funds for old age pensions. It started Jan. 1, 1937, at a rate of 1 per cent for employers and 1 per cent for employees. The rate increases gradually to a maximum of 3 per cent upon each employer and employee in 1949.

The second tax is levied for unemployment compensation. It falls solely upon employers so far as the Federal government is concerned but it is operation is somewhat complex due to the Federal-State co-operative nature of the legislation.

Enacted Aug. 14, 1935, the Social Security act went into operation Jan. 1, in its most important phases—old age benefits for retired employees and compensation for unemployed workers. Some 27,000,000 persons have become eligible for future benefits. That figure ultimately is expected to reach 40,000,000.

Few States Have No Laws

Only a few states have not taken advantage of at least one form of supplementary assistance. About 1,500,000 persons are receiving cash grants. The most extensive present social security benefit is the old age program, entailing registration and eventual benefits to all employees except those in agriculture, private domestic service, government, maritime occupations and a few other types of employment.

When contributory old age pensions become effective, in 1942 workers who reach the age of 65 and retire receive monthly benefits until death, ranging from $10 to $86 depending on the amount of money they have earned.

Before annuity payments begin a worker receives lump-sum payments at 65 or later, upon retiring, equal to 3.12 per cent of his earnings from Jan. 1, 1937. The estate of an employee who dies before he is 65 receives a lump-sum payment on the same basis both now and after 1942.

Unemployment insurance requires co-operation of the state. Laws to provide payments to workers who become jobless have been enacted by all but five states and approved by the Social Security Board.

18,500,000 Now Protected

This about 18,500,000 workers already have been given protection under the act against hazards of future unemployment.

Although the act does not require participation on the part of employers of fewer than eight persons, some state laws require that employers of more than one participate. The cost of administering state laws is paid by the government.

Generally, one week's benefits will be paid for each four weeks of employment in the preceding two years, with a limit of 15 or 16 weeks on compensation and a waiting period of several weeks without payments following the loss of job. Such payments may not be made until two years after first payments to state unemployment funds are made. Most states do not require contributions to these funds by employees.

One or more of the three forms of public assistance already is operative in all states but Nevada, Kansas, Tennessee, Georgia, South Carolina and Virginia. All of these but South Carolina and Virginia have enacted laws to start all three forms—aid to the needy aged, children and blind—but the state statutes have not yet been approved by the board. Virginia has a law for child assistance. South Carolina has no laws at all.

Under provisions for the aged the Social Security board may make grants to states to aid in payments up to $30 a month to persons past 65. The program now covers 1,260,000 persons in 42 states. Blind assistance is given 32,600 persons in 29 states.

In 28 states with approved laws, 331,000 dependent children are receiving assistance in their own homes under Social Security. For their care, the act provides that the Federal Government shall pay one-third of the cost, up to a total of $18 for the first child and $12 for each additional child.

Congressional appropriations provide federal funds for the programs except for age benefits and unemployment compensation.

Urges Drivers To Check Costs of Running Car

A regular check-up of his routine expenses in operating an automobile will reveal some startling facts to the average motorist, and will cause a sharp revision in his estimate of the relative cost of various items, J. H. McKinney, Goodyear dealer at 711 Ave. D, told automobile owners here today.

He will find, if his driving habits are normal, that his greatest operating expense will be gasoline, and his lowest tires and tubes, Mr. McKinney said.

"Goodyear engineers recently analyzed the operating expenses of a group of fleet owners operating hundreds of cars on Goodyear tires," he explained. "It was found that during the life of a set of Goodyear tires, for example, that five times as much money would be spent for gasoline as for the entire set of new tires, four times as much would be spent for insurance, license and depreciation, three times as much for garage rent and repairs, and twice as much for washing, lubrication and miscellaneous expenses."

"To the average motorist who probably makes expenditures for his car as the necessity arises, without keeping any records of costs this information is apt to be surprising. It should be remembered, however, that accurate records are vital in the commercial operation of a fleet of automobiles, so these figures are unquestionable in their accuracy. Naturally there was some variation where driving and other conditions differed, but the ratios given are for the average of all groups, and it is safe to assume that the average pleasure car will hold about the same ratios as the average fleet-operated car."

Nevertheless, it would be interesting for local motorists, when planning for the coming touring season, to figure their own personal operating costs. In most cases they will find that the cheapest thing on their car is the best tires they can buy, and that the added safety of new quick-stopping tires makes the purchase of a complete new set a low-cost, long-range investment.

Scouts Plan Rally At Eastland May 13

EASTLAND, May 13—One hundred and fifty scouts and scouters from 15 troops in the north half of the Comanche Council Trail are expected at a rally Thursday night, May 13, at 7:30 in the Eastland softball park.

Attendance will be from Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge, Colony, Carbon and Gorman.

"Sometimes the freshmen are sent to get their own paddles," Kaufman said. "They ask me if I can't make especially soft ones. I can't do it, I tell them. Best thing is to put shingles where you're going to get hit."

FOOD PROBLEM AT CORONATION TAXES LONDON

LONDON, May 13 (AP)—London caterers are faced with the task of feeding the 1,000,000 spectators who will stand along the route of the coronation procession Wednesday. Further preparations must be made for those who will occupy government seats, witness the Coronation in Westminster Abbey, or occupy seats in homes and office buildings.

In that racket holders must be at their seats not later than 7 a. m. and in some instances 2 hours earlier, it will be necessary to make provisions for supplying them with breakfast. Those not fortunate enough to hold tickets will be standing along the route all night and will create a constant demand for food.

To meet the demand, numerous preparations have been made by all branches of the catering trade. Hyde Park and Green Park, both on the Coronation route, will remain open all night before the Coronation and refreshment buffets and marquees will give continuous service.

Children to Get Milk

Canteens serving milk and hot soup also will be erected in Hyde Park by the Milk Marketing Board. The board will supply each of the 140,000 children from the London schools with a carton containing one-third of a quart of milk free of charge. This is the amount each child is entitled to have for a half-penny every morning at school.

The 12 marquees in the parks will be open every night until May 20 from 6 p. m. until midnight, when the parks close. This will be for the benefit of those who come to London to see the flood lighting. These arrangements are intended to provide for the million without seats.

More than 200,000 sandwiches as well as cakes and pastries in large quantities are included in the provisions for the 85,000 persons who will occupy the government stands. The buffets where these will be served will have a covering in case of rain or sunshine. In addition, boys in uniform will go through the stands with cigarettes, candy and other light refreshments.

Nobility to Be Served

Peers and peeresses who attend the ceremony in Westminster Abbey will be supplied with a fork luncheon at the House of Lords at a cost of $2.65. It will consist of light dishes, sandwiches, cakes and coffee.

Wines, spirits and minerals also will be available for which cash payment will be taken at time of ordering. The first breakfast will be served for the Officers of State at 5:30 a. m. A buffet will be served in Westminster Hall for those occupying seats in the Old Palace Yard.

One large store is providing breakfast for the occupants of the seats it has let at prices between $9 to $30 ($45 to $150). Hotels and restaurants are making plans to feed the millions who will swarm over other parts of London after the coronation.

British Marriages Rise; Divorces Drop

LONDON (AP)—The popular belief that the marriage and birth rates of Great Britain are falling off and that the population is declining is disproved by the latest statistics issued by the Registrar-General.

The figures show that there were in 1935, the last period of calculation, more marriages, more babies and fewer divorces.

The marriage rate was 17.2 persons per 1,000 population, compared with 16.9 in 1934 and 15.3 in 1932. There were 598,756 births, an increase on the 1933 total. The population of England and Wales is now estimated at 46,645,000. At the 1931 census it was 39,932,337.

The number of decrees nisi made absolute in respect of dissolution or annulment of marriage was 4,069—a decrease of 218 from the high record of 1934.

Conoco Launches Advertising Drive

Convinced that newspaper space represents the most advantageous medium for merchandising its products as evidenced by substantial increases in sales of Conoco germ-processed motor oil following past newspaper advertising campaigns Continental Oil company is again launching a large-scale advertising campaign in some 1400 carefully selected papers in all sections of the nation. The campaign will continue into September and will be distinguished by the fact that it will feature the local dealer as well as the company's oil.

Surveys conducted by Continental's advertising department showed two factors which decided the nature of the forthcoming campaign. First, it was ascertained that the best sales results followed the use of newspaper advertising; and second, that the average motorist is far from concerned with the mileage he obtains from his motor oil than any other single factor.

Correlating this information with the fact that Continental distribution is now conducted entirely through local independent dealers, the advertising campaign will stress that each dealer is a "mileage merchant" who, in order to retain his customers and gain new ones, must sell mileage in the form of a motor oil which will give efficient service.

Proposes Vacation For School Children

FORT WORTH, May 13 (AP) — Here's a conservation idea that wouldn't need study to win the support of school children: A two-week vacation each spring when Texas wild-flowers are in bloom.

That is a suggestion by Mrs. J. L. Mims of Fort Worth, well-known conservationist. She suggested that the vacation begin sometime between April 16 and 26 because "that's when Texas wildflowers are blooming their most gorgeous colors."

Mrs. Mims also suggested that somebody open a "pilgrimage bureau" to direct visitors—and natives—to the places where flowers are most beautiful. Most persons seeking the sites of beautiful wild-flowers fail to go to the right places, she said.

Oh yes, there was an added suggestion regarding the two-weeks spring vacation for school children to enjoy "Texas in bloom." The two weeks would be added on the regular term before it ended for the summer!

CLOWNING IS SAID TO BE SERIOUS WORK

By RICHARD M. MOREHEAD
United Press Staff Correspondent
GAINESVILLE, May 13 (U.P.)—Clowning for a circus is serious business.

Take Bill Basinger's word for it. Basinger, who weighs 250 pounds, is the star clown for the Gainesville Community Circus, a civic show that has gained national renown in its eight-year existence. When he's not clowning for the circus, Basinger operates a Gainesville restaurant.

"Half of 'em who take up clowning drop out," said Basinger. "It's too hard work. You've got to take this business of being funny seriously. A man can walk a tight-rope and there it is. But the clown must sell every gag, like a book salesman. People dare you to make them laugh."

One night late in April, Basinger closed his cafe at the end of a day and drove to the decorated tent for the opening night of the three-ring Gainesville circus. He put on ludicrous white make-up and a grass skirt around his ample midriff.

From the performers' tent, he rode into the arena behind Peggy, an educated pony. Clue inside, Peggy staged a "sit-down strike" and Basinger pushed her around the arena for the remainder of the act. The crowd of 2,500 roared.

Dr. S. M. Yarbrough, Benny Saylors, an accountant, J. J. Vaughn, an attorney, and A. T. Wells, high school mathematics teacher, are the other regular clowns.

The show has about 120 performers and technicians, and more than half of the 100 waiting for a place in the cast want to be clowns.

"Show me a banker, oil man, or state operator—I don't care how much money he has—and I'll show you a man who'd rather be a circus clown," said Leon Gilmore, president of the unique troupe.

The circus has toured more than 5,000 miles since 1930 and is booked for almost three months "on tour" this summer. Except for a few students in the cast, all the performers must keep up with their regular jobs throughout and drive 75 miles or more after work to take part in the circus.

The project originated in 1929 when the advent of talking pictures caused the Gainesville "Little Theatre" to be left without a stage for its productions. Morton Smith, publisher, suggested that the players put on a burlesque circus at the county fair building. The circus was a success, and the next year it became a serious all-summer circus.

The company now owns its own tent and $10,000 worth of equipment. Performers provide their own costumes.

This year's bookings include Greenville, Abilene, the Pan-American Exposition in Dallas, and Texas A. & M. College at College Station.

"You just watch," said Gilmore. "We'll wind up in Madison Square Garden."

TALL HAIRDRESS DEVISED

DENVER (U.P.)—A tip for the short girls who want to appear taller—Paye Osborn, dissatisfied with her 5 feet, 1 inch stature, originated a new style of hairdress which brings her up to 5 feet, 4 inches. And Miss Osborn should know all about coiffures, etc. She's vice president and treasurer of the Colorado state board of cosmetology.

POLICEMAN HAS LUCKY DAY

PASADENA, Cal. (U.P.)—Good luck, like misfortune, seemingly never comes singly. On the day that Lieut. Harry Thomas of the police department received a $5,000 inheritance, he caught an escaped Mexican convict with a $200 award attached to him.

NAZIS OVERHAUL KITCHEN TRAINS

BERLIN, May 13 (U.P.)—Germany's two up-to-date automobile caravans have returned to the "round house" for overhauling.

The primary function of these two highway motor trains, with their huge kitchens, beds, work-shops, loudspeakers and so on, is two-fold: to serve the multitudes which assemble at national functions of the state and Nazi party, and relief work as disasters.

The trains, as described, by the German official news agency, travel as complementary sections. The "Deutschland" houses the technical department in its 38 cars, which are to be increased in number to 80. It carries 50 miles of rubber cable and 100 miles of electric wiring. The train has facilities for supplying emergency electric light to 25,000 homes at one time.

Five hundred loudspeakers are designed to bring the words of the Fuehrer to the ears of 2,000,000 persons simultaneously—the main purpose of the system, comments the German official news agency.

The "Deutschland" can accommodate 180 beds. It carries a central power plant in one of its cars, cabinet and iron workshops, water and fuel tanks, laboratories, radio and film equipment in others. The unit, which serves as the office of the train's director has a movable stage which can be raised through the top of the car to a height of 21 feet. The train's speed is 40 miles an hour.

The second motor caravan, the "Bayern" comprises 100 separate units. This section carries the kitchen. So vast are its facilities, according to the German news service, its soup kettles served 350,000 meals in a single day at the National Party Day in Nuremberg last year. The kitchen is being equipped to provide three meals a day to 250,000 persons.

The trains last served at the Harvest Thanksgiving Festival, at Buckeburg in the fall of 1936. After a strenuous season, they returned to home base, Munich, where overhauling and renovating began.

Rebel Battleship Sunk by Loyalist Airplane

When Spanish government planes bombed and sank the rebel warship Espana, above, in Biscay, off Santander, it was the first time in world history that a big battleship had been air attack under war conditions. The battle was dramatic. A little British freighter in the Bilbao blockade. The 15,452-ton Espana dove to and the freighter ran for Santander. The freighter opened fire and the battleship flashed radio calls for aid. Thirty-two Loyalist planes took to the air, circled over the Espana and began dropping bombs. There was a great boom. The Espana sank.
