Army Will Send Riflemen To Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army riflemen will be sent to South Viet Nam to strengthen security at some 75 locations where Americans are based, it was learned today.

About 1,100 troops, including some military police, will be spread around the country in detachments.

The infantrymen and MPs will relieve helicopter mechanics, cooks, supply clerks and others who have had to stand guard against attacks from Communist guerrillas.

DOUBLE DUTY Since the Reds made a damaging border attack on a barracks compound and an air field at Pleiku earlier this year, many Americans have had to double duty at many posts — their regular jobs and standing security guard as well.

The infantrymen and MPs are part of the several thousand reinforcements agreed on at the time of Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor's conferences here about 10 days ago.

Most of the additions — which will reach South Viet Nam over a period of months — will be applied to strengthening the logistics system in the country.

LOGISTICS BASE On top of straightening out deficiencies, it is obvious the move will lay a logistics base to support larger U.S. combat forces if a decision should be made to introduce them into South Viet Nam.

Among other things, the Army will develop port facilities and supply points at various cities

Russians Won't Talk About Nik

LONDON (AP) — Russians just don't talk about Nikita Khrushchev any more, says former U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon told reporters at London Airport Sunday that he tried to look up the former Russian premier during a visit to Moscow Saturday.

"I didn't try to see him at embassy level," he said. "About the only person to mention him was a cab driver. All references to him have been removed and people refuse to talk about Mr. K."

Judge To Rule On Eubank Petition

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, said at noon today he would announce his ruling on the habeas corpus petition of Jack Eubank sometime this afternoon.

An informal discussion of the matter with Lanny Hamby, court-appointed attorney for Eubank, and Wayne Burns, district attorney, before lunch led to the announcement that the hearing would be held this afternoon.

Eubank is held in the county jail on a fugitive warrant. He faces extradition to New Mexico, if the habeas corpus petition is denied, to resume serving a life sentence for murder which he interrupted in 1957 by walking away from a New Mexico prison farm.

Hamby indicated that in the event the court denies the writ,

Snow Dusting Southern Cal.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California, snow dusting its mountains, basked in a sun on a 1 December-in-April weather today.

The result: Nearly 4,000 vacationers were trapped Sunday in the nearby Angeles Crest area of the San Gabriel Mountains when the snow a r e a dropped to the 2,000-foot altitude.

Heavy rains, which have doused the area for the last two weeks, turned to snow in surrounding mountains over the weekend.

Snowplows worked all day clearing the roads, while below on the valley floors, it was warm enough for spring planting.

The Weather Bureau said it was one of the latest local snowfalls on record.

he will appeal to the state Court of Criminal Appeals.

From the tenor of the informal discussions in the judge's chambers this morning, courthouse observers believe that the petition would be denied in the local court.

Eubank has been in jail here since early March, when he was arrested on a tip from New Mexico authorities that a man calling himself Bob Johnson and who had lived here for seven years was in reality Jack Eubank, formerly of Carlsbad, who escaped prison in New Mexico in 1957.

Eubank declined to waive extradition and the governor of Texas granted the governor of New Mexico's request that the man be extradited. The writ petition followed.

and five other Latin Americans were riding. Cueller's bond had not been set this morning.

The incident occurred just inside the Martin County line, 27 miles south of Lamesa, according to Deputy Sheriff Pete Thewanger of Stanton. Witnesses to the stabbing said the seven men in the car had driven from Lamesa to "The Line," west of Stanton, earlier in the night and were returning home. They stopped to talk to two men in another car, and the argument started as they were ready to leave.

Agullar was taken to Stanton where he was pronounced dead, and was then transferred to the Braun-Phillips Funeral Home in Lamesa, where services are pending. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Agullar.

Thewanger said Cueller was arrested at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cueller, 11 miles south of Lamesa. Dawson County officers aided in the arrest on a warrant issued in Stanton.

The other men who witnessed the stabbing were taken to Stanton for questioning and then released.

Linda Darnell Services Held

Private funeral services were held today for actress Linda Darnell, 43, who died of burns Saturday.

The Dallas beauty suffered burns over 80 per cent of her body in a fire at the home of friends in Glenview Friday.

Miss Darnell's adopted daughter, Charlotte Lola Marley, 17, flew to her mother's side shortly before the actress' death.

Miss Darnell was the guest of Jeanne Curtis, former secretary to the actress, and her daughter, Patricia, 16. Mrs. Curtis' husband, Richard, was out of town when the fire broke out in the living room of the two-story Curtis town house.

The actress was found unconscious by firemen in the living room, where a few hours earlier she had watched one of her old movies on television.

The actress was married and divorced three times. Her husbands were Peverell Marley, a cameraman; Philip Liebmann, a New York brewer; and Merle Robertson, an airline pilot she divorced in 1963.

Thousands Of Minnesotans Fleeing Flood

ST. PAUL, Minn., (AP) — Three National Guard units were ordered into the battle today against Minnesota's costliest flood in history, a major disaster which has driven an estimated 20,000 persons from their homes.

The raging Minnesota River continued its relentless destruction. The Mississippi was swelling, and smaller rivers throughout the state spilled over their banks.

DISASTER AREA President Johnson declared 39 counties a disaster area Sunday and promised full federal help. The federal aid will apply only to public facilities such as schools and buildings.

The Red Cross estimated 20,000 Minnesotans homeless. Highway bridges were closed by high water.

Late Sunday night, Gov. Karl Rolvaag ordered an engineers battalion on duty at Hutchinson, about 50 miles west of Minneapolis. The Corps of Engineers moved at Hutchinson, driving 200 families from their homes about presidential block and part of the business district were inundated.

BUILD DIKES Some heavy equipment used last week at Mankato, where the Minnesota River severely was ordered to Hutchinson. The machines will be used to build dikes to pair highways.

Colorado City (SC) — Harry Lee, 46-year-old Colorado City Negro, was a s seriously wounded shortly after 10:30 p.m. Saturday when he was shot in the stomach. A 37-year-old Negro woman was released on $1,500 bond, set by Justice of the Peace T. E. Arnold, following the shooting.

Chief of Police Leon Yeager said Lee was shot once with a .32-caliber pistol at the home of the woman on South Waco Street.

Lee's physician said the man was in satisfactory condition at Root Memorial Hospital, although extensive surgery was necessary in his abdomen.

"Just plain lucky," the physician said. "The bullet barely missed the aorta by a hair. If the bullet had pierced the large artery, he would have been dead before he got to the hospital."

The bullet ranged downward, lodged in the hip, and was not removed.

Frank Ginzle, county attorney, said police and the sheriff's office were still investigating, and that no charges would be filed until District Attorney Weldon Kirk arrives in Colorado City.

Ruiz Killed In Car Crash

LAMESA (SC) — Pedro Ruiz, 28-year-old Mexican from Cienfuegos, Mexico, died following a one-car accident seven miles north of Lamesa about 7 p.m. Sunday. The car, driven by Ruiz, reportedly went out of control on a farm-to-market road in the Woody Community.

Investigating officers said Ambrosio Chacon, 31, another Mexican National who worked on the Doyle Terry farm, told them the right door to the car flew open and that Ruiz was thrown out. The car rolled on top of him.

A farmer, H. E. Pieper, came along and tied a chain to the overturned car and pulled it off Ruiz, but the man was apparently dead at the time. A Braun-Phillips ambulance from Lamesa picked up the man, and also took Chacon to a hospital where he was treated for a dislocated shoulder, cuts and bruises.

Ruiz's body is being held at the funeral home pending authority from the Mexican Consul to transfer it to Mexico.

Johnson Signs Measure In Schoolhouse's Shadow

HOUSTON (AP) — President Johnson, sitting in the shadow of "the little school of my childhood," has signed into law a $1.3-billion education aid bill he says will bring "quality and equality to schooling."

At a simple ceremony Sunday two miles from the high point of a busy weekend that saw him pay his respects to Houston's futuristic baseball stadium, select retired Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. as new chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, and sound a fresh note of American determination.

Johnston, with his first teacher sitting by his side, said of the education bill: "As President of the United States, I believe deeply no law I have signed or will ever sign means more to the future of America."

Behind him was the tin-sheathed home which 53 years ago was a one-room schoolhouse where, as he told several hundred spectators as well as his old teacher, Kate Dedrich Loney, 72, of Rough and Ready, Calif.:

"I started school when I was 4 years old, and they tell me, Miss Kate, that I recited my lessons while sitting on your lap."

Plunge Into Married Life

PISA, Italy (AP) — Tino Feola, 24, and his bride Clara, 23, literally plunged into matrimony.

They are members of a parachutists' club. After their wedding Sunday, they bailed out of a C119 flying boxcar over a big meadow outside Pisa to start their honeymoon.

Wishing them well were 243 fellow chuting enthusiasts from Milan, Bergamo and Brescia. A few went up with them and took the leap.

Believing that a wife should always follow her husband, Tino went down first. Clara came right after him. Then they drove off — in a car — for the rest of the honeymoon.

Church Official Turns Godfather

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Eugene Carson Blake, chief executive officer of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., addressed a Harlem congregation Sunday after becoming godfather of a member's child.

Dr. Blake became the spiritual sponsor of Roland K. Fortune Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland K. Fortune, of the Church of the Master.

In his sermon, Dr. Blake praised President Johnson's concept of the Great Society as "a vision of what is possible as never before."

schoolmates assembled for the occasion from all parts of Texas were ready to testify this was true.

Thus it was fitting that, in setting a precedent by using only one pen to sign the bill, Johnson handed the writing instrument to Miss Kate.

Of the new law, Johnson said: "It represents a major new commitment of the federal government to quality and equality in the schooling that we offer our young people. By passing this bill, we bridge the gap between helplessness and hope for more than five million educationally deprived children in America."

178 HOSPITALIZED The Red Cross reported 178 injured were admitted to hospitals. Near Lima, in the Cairo-Bluffton area 12 were killed; 18 died in Lorain County near Cleveland. Gov. James A. Rhodes declared the tornado-smashed communities a disaster area.

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A Dallas County grand jury reconvened today to consider evidence against four white men charged in the slaying of the Rev. James Reeb of Boston. Circuit Judge Blanchard McLeod said the grand jury had 27 cases to consider and probably would not finish until Tuesday morning. No indictments will be made public until all cases are completed.

County Opens Bids For New Hangar

Howard County Commissioners Court voted this morning to spend on the project as a step to further the chances of the program being stationed here.

Jones Construction Co., Big Spring, was the apparent low bidder. His base bid was $28,367. If the walls are provided with colored panelling, the price would be increased $900. He said that he would need 120 days to complete the building.

This element also injected a problem into the discussion. The flight training program is scheduled to get under way Aug. 1 when the first group of students will arrive here. The question arose whether the building would be ready in time.

Second low bid was that of Ray Dunlap Construction Co., Big Spring. His base bid was $28,488. The alternate bid would be $982 higher. The time he required for the job was 88 days.

Other bids: Snody Construction Co., Midland, $35,940, plus $965, time 75 days; U. S. Likins, Abilene, $35,710 plus $1,300, time 75 days.

It was also announced that county road and bridge workers are at the airport today digging out the concrete piers which support the jet on permanent display there. The new building will occupy the present site of the display.

The plan is to remove the jet trainer to a new site and re-install it on the original piers. Webb AFB has said it would be ready to lift the jet from its place today.

Arrested In Cafe Break-In

Three Latin Americans were arrested by police about 10:40 p.m. Saturday in connection with a break-in reported about 10 p.m. at Zora's Cafe, 1100 Lamesa Drive.

A burglary charge was filed this morning with Justice of the Peace Walter Grace against Robert DeLeon, 19, in connection with the break-in. No bond had been set this morning.

Charges were reported pending against the other two men, both 17 years of age. The three were arrested in the 900 block of North Goliad Saturday night. Two Latin American girls in the car, both juveniles, were released late Saturday.

Reported taken in the break-in were 13 cases of beer and three pounds of coffee. Officers said a door was forced open on the northeast side of the cafe for entry.

Juan Sanchez, received treatment at Cowper Clinic Hospital Saturday at 1:45 a.m. Sunday for a knife wound on his left arm. Sanchez told police the cutting occurred somewhere on Lamesa Drive, but he could not identify his assailants.

About $30 was reported taken from a soft drink machine at 310 E. 4th Sunday, at a service station operated by T. F. Lowe, Sand Springs.

The signpost for domestic cotton allotment has been extended one more week, Gabe Ham-mack, in charge of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, was notified today. The new deadline is this Friday evening. Previously the signpost had been extended one week.

Felony Check Charge Filed

A felony worthless check charge, repeated filed last week against Anton Rinald, 39, Corpus Christi; is the 47th such charge filed by Sheriff Aubrey Standard's office through the worthless check department in the past 12 months. Rinald has been arrested in Corpus Christi on a local warrant and will be returned here to face trial, Standard said.

Standard said that the check Rinald wrote was cashed by a local lumber yard. A survey was made by the check department which led to the identification of the man and revealed that he has several convictions back of him for similar offenses. The check department also established his whereabouts and the arrest followed.

The department has also filed 185 misdemeanor check complaints in county court in the same 12 months the 47 felonies have been lodged in the 118th District Court, Standard said.

Raborn New CIA Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. headed back for Washington today, this time to become the new chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Raborn, 59, was tabbed for the spot Sunday by President Johnson. He succeeds John A. McCone, the West Coast industrialist who became head of the super-secret agency in 1961.

There have been reports since last December that McCone wanted to return to private life.

The selection of his successor was announced shortly after the President signed the $1.3-billion school aid bill while weekend at his Johnson City, Tex., ranch.

NATIVE TEXAN

Raborn, like the President a native of Texas, was on hand.

Asked when the job switch would take place, the President replied that Raborn would return with him to Washington today.

Raborn will leave the vice presidency of Aerojet General Corp. of Pasadena, Calif., to take over his new post. He retired from the Navy in September 1963, after serving as deputy chief of naval operations for research, a job in which he also was based in Washington.

Johnson chose Richard G. Helms, 52, a onetime newspaperman, as Raborn's deputy director. Helms has been deputy director for plans since the CIA was created in 1947. He succeeds Lt. Gen. Marshall S. Carter.

1935 GRADUATE

Helms, a native of Saint Davids, Pa., is a 1935 graduate of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

McCone, 62, has served under the last four presidents. He was deputy to the undersecretary of defense in 1948, undersecretary of the Air Force in 1950-51. He became chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission in 1958, leaving that spot for the CIA assignment.

Raborn, a 1928 graduate of the Naval Academy, has been a naval aviator and was a command officer in the Pacific during World War II. He was responsible for developing the fleet ballistic missile system, notably the Polaris.

'Watchdogs' Have Wings

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Chickens will be used as watchdogs against disease in a number of New Mexico communities this year.

The State Health Department will station sentinel flocks around the state to guard against outbreaks of encephalitis — the sleeping sickness which was blamed for 32 deaths in Houston, Tex. last year.

John W. Doll, insect control specialist with the department, said encephalitis shows up in fowl before appearing in humans.

The flocks will be located mainly in areas with large infestations of mosquitos, carriers of the disease.

Texas Man Drowns In Louisiana Lake

JONESVILLE, La. (AP) — A 31-year-old Conroe, Tex., man, Ernest Andrews, drowned Sunday while fishing in a lake three miles north of Jonesville.

Soviet Sources Hint 'Peace Wish'

LONDON (AP) — Soviet sources are quietly spreading the word in London that their country wants to help the United States end the war in Vietnam.

Before and after President Johnson's offer for talks, Russian informants have been suggesting that neither Moscow nor Washington wants the Viet Nam war extended.

They say both countries recognize that Red China, if rampant in Southeast Asia, could imperil world peace and that something needs to be done to check Peking's position in North Viet Nam.

JOINT EFFORT

To achieve these goals, Soviet sources imply, Moscow and Washington must find ways to cooperate. The Johnson peace plan seems to approach such a basis although the Russians seem to think it needs to be revised at least so the National Liberation Front — representing the Viet Cong guerrillas in the South — can be represented at any peace talks.

This is a big difficulty. The United States is unlikely to agree to dealing with the Viet Cong. But the Russians must — to back up their own oft-repeated pledges — get the South Vietnamese Communists into the negotiations picture, or risk condemnation by Communists around the world.

Still, there are important implications in the Soviet hints, which seem to point toward a Moscow yearning for some sort of tacit understanding between the superpowers to defuse the Southeast Asia situation — and perhaps even contain the Red Chinese.

INFORMAL CONTACTS

This sort of Russian thinking is being outlined in informal contacts on a variety of levels among diplomats, politicians and newsmen.

It appears to fit into information reaching key Western governments through the official network of communication with Moscow. A highly placed Soviet diplomat discussing Viet Nam recently with a British colleague remarked in Moscow: "When fire breaks out firemen don't argue about their duties."

By The Associated Press
St. Louis and Philadelphia are expected to emerge as the top contenders in a six-team National League race and the New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles are selected to fight it out in the American League according to the pre-season comments of 20 big league managers.

Didn't Get Away

Red Bell (r) and David Ayers (l) hold a 62-pound catfish Bell caught early today at Moss Creek Lake. Bell caught the big one on a line and reported that the fish must have given the slip to other fishermen as he found six hooks in the big cat's mouth and lines wrapped around its body.

Coming Home First

tion, before the season opened today with an unusual game program. The only teams not scheduled to start today, Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox, will play their first game Tuesday at Baltimore.

Of prime interest on the program expected to attract 268,900 fans was the first official indoor game at Houston's domed stadium where the Astros were to meet the Philadelphia Phillies in a night game.

The St. Louis Cardinals, the World Series winners, opened defense of their National League pennant in Chicago.

In other day games Milwaukee helped Cincinnati stage its traditional gala opener, the Los Angeles Dodgers took on the New York Mets at Shea Stadium and San Francisco was at Pittsburgh for a duel of new managers Herman Franks of the Giants and Harry Walker of the Pirates.

The New York Yankees were at Minnesota and President Johnson was to throw out the first ball at Washington before the game between the Boston Red Sox and the Senators.

There were two night games on the American League schedule, Detroit at Kansas City and Cleveland at Los Angeles.

In the latest round of odds at Las Vegas the Yanks were 4-5 favorites in the American League with Baltimore 5-2 and Chicago 7-2. In the National League the Giants were 3-1 with the Cardinals, Dodgers and Phillies bunched at 7-2 and the Reds 4-1.

Reds Post Top Record

By The Associated Press
Baseball's exhibition season has ended with the Cincinnati Reds on top in the Grapefruit-Cactus standings and Sandy Koufax' priceless pitching arm on ice.

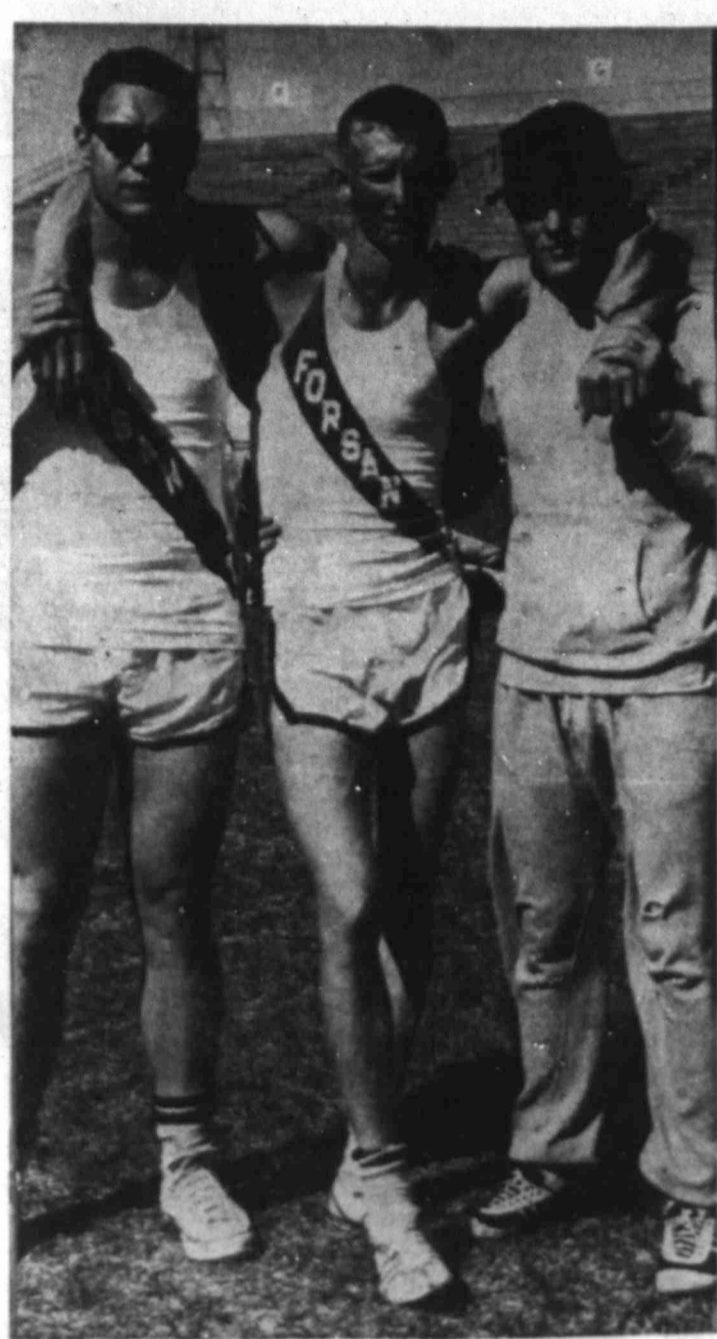

Despite an 8-1 loss to the Chicago White Sox Sunday, the Reds paced major league clubs with a 19-9 record in pre-season play, which wound up Sunday night with Baltimore's 5-0 victory over Houston at the Astros' $31.6-million domed stadium.

Koufax, the ailing Los Angeles Dodgers ace, tested his arthritic elbow for the first time in two weeks, working three scoreless innings in a 2-1 victory over Washington, and then had the elbow encased in ice.

Houston's Nelson Fox set a Texas indoor record for breaking up extra-inning games when he singled home a 10th-inning run that gave the Astros a 3-2 afternoon nod over the New York Yankees.

The visitors won the opening game, 2-1, but the locals powered back in the second game to take a 1-0 win.

Dub Hallmark scored the winning run for Morton's in the second game after getting on base with a walk. He stole second, and then waited until second baseman Joe Sharpnack hit a double into left field.

Morton's collected five hits in the second game from Abilene pitcher Bob Hanna, while Billy Paul Thomas gave up only three hits. Sharpnack added another double in the third inning of the second game. Thomas was the winning pitcher.

The locals drew first blood in the opening game when first baseman Oakley Hagood hit a double and was brought home by Sharpnack. That was all the scoring for Morton's as pitcher Gene Silvers allowed the locals only three additional hits. Cot-

Jack's Pack Cheers His Record Victory

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus stands out today as the greatest golfer in the world and Jack's Pack has taken over from Arnie's Army.

Still admittedly on cloud nine after spread-eagling the world's finest field with a record Masters score of 271 for 72 holes, 17 strokes under par, the now jovial strong boy from Columbus, Ohio, seemed to be as happy over winning over the galleries as with his fantastic feats on the course.

TREATED COLDLY
The 25-year-old blond bomber, treated coldly by some fans before, received tremendous ovations from the opening round. His final round Sunday seemed like a triumphal parade before galleries which swelled to more than 25,000 at times.

"It felt great to hear the crowds cheer me and it definitely helped my game," said Nicklaus. "I'm not an outgoing person like Arnie (Palmer) and Gary (Player) and I guess some of the fans resented me for winning when I was so young. Maybe it's because I've matured, too."

Nicklaus, who came to the Augusta National Golf Club a week in advance to make a determined bid for the title he first won in 1963, broke the tournament wide open with a fabulous, record-tying, eight-under-par 64 on Saturday.

Palmer, the 1964 champion and a record four-time winner of the Masters, called Nicklaus' four rounds of 67, 71, 64, 69, "the greatest 72 holes of golf ever played. His tremendous putting was the difference."

Bobby Jones, a living legend of golf and originator of the Masters, paid the muscular Ohioan the same compliment.

Palmer and Player, of South Africa, the other member of golf's formidable "Big Three" tied for second with 280 each after being deadlocked with Nicklaus for first with 138 at the halfway mark.

Palmer had rounds of 70, 68, 72, 70 for the par 36-36-72, 6,980-yard course that was massacred under a birdie barrage Thursday and then held off further mass assaults. Player had rounds of 65, 73, 79, 73.

"Nicklaus just played fantastic golf," said Player.

A non-winner on the winter circuit, Nicklaus collected $20,000 of the record $140,075 Masters purse. This put him in first place on the PGA's official money winning list for the year with $34,400. Player and Palmer each received $10,200.

Mickey Decides This Is Her Last Full Year

DALLAS (AP) — Mickey Wright, one of the greatest woman golfers, has made her decision — this will be her last full year on the tour.

After 1965 she will be playing only a few tournaments a year.

Miss Wright said, after winning the Baton Rouge Open a week ago, that she would decide in the ensuing two weeks, while the woman's tour was idle, whether to retire.

But she needed only half the time to make up her mind. She won't be back in 1966, she said from her home here Sunday night.

In the fall she will enroll at Southern Methodist University, majoring in business administration. Among her ambitions, upon giving up golf, is the stock market.

"I'll enter Southern Methodist if I can pass the entrance exams," she said cautiously.

Miss Wright has been playing the tour for 10 years, has won about $180,000, 13 tournaments in a single year, $31,600 in a year, shot a 62, had a stroke average of 72.46 and won 64 tournaments, all women's records.

"There just isn't anything left to accomplish in golf," she said. She is only 29 years old, which isn't too old to be a college coed but it is rather young to be retiring. But what are you going to do when there's nothing else to win?

Sports Scene

With HARDY PRICE

No less than 27 members of District 2-AAAA were represented in last week's best track marks in the state. Big Spring's Johnny Hughes was atop the 180-yard low hurdles with 18.6, Joe Jaure was tied with five other lads for the fourth best time in the 100-yard dash with 9.5, and the 440-yard relay team was in 12th position with a 42.4.

Other District 2-AAAA trackers in the top brackets were John Kennedy of San Angelo with a 9.5 in the century, Ross Montgomery of Midland with a 9.6 and Cooper's Jerry Wagner with a 9.7.

Montgomery and Kennedy both had identical times of 21.6 in the 220-yard dash. Wagner led the entire state in the 440-yard run with a time of 47.9. In the 880-yard run Robert Monteith of Abilene was second with a 1:54.5 and Tommy Peacock of Cooper was third with a 1:55.7.

David Caffey of Cooper was the only district representative in the mile run with a 4:26.7. Others in the low hurdles behind Hughes included Chuck Clark, Odessa, 19.1; Bob Lindsay, Midland, 19.2, and Charles Cannon, Permian with a 19.3.

The only events for which the district did not have representatives were the 120-yard high hurdles and broad jump. First place in the high hurdles was held by Sammy Maddox of Dallas Kimble with the highly respectable time of 13.8.

Cooper held down fifth place in the mile relay with the time of 3:19.7. Jim Huffman of Permian was the only man in the shot put with a distance of 57.1, only three feet behind first place. The discus was another story with four lads from the district in the top 10 — David Graham, Cooper, 171-6; Billy Bassett, Permian, 170-0; Teddy Stewart, Permian, 169-9; and Skippy Sprull, Odessa, 169-5.

Tim Haines of Permian held down sixth place in the high jump with a leap of 6-5. In the pole vault, Pinto Beene of Abilene Cooper and Larry Smith of Abilene were tied with marks of 15-1 1/2. Bruce Mauldin of Abilene was seventh with a leap of 13-6.

This merely illustrates the point that District 2-AAAA produces some of the finest track talent in the state. Abilene Cooper is the defending state champ and a few years back Abilene High was the perennial state champ. It is a shame that not enough people care about track to take the time to see a meet or support a team.

Steers To Meet Cooper

The Big Spring Steers will be at home Tuesday to meet the Abilene Cooper Cougars in a District 2-AAAA baseball encounter.

Cooper threw the district race into confusion Saturday by downing defending district champ Midland Lee, 7-6. Big Spring dropped its opening game last week to Lee, 3-2, then beat Odessa 4-3.

Hank Pope will be set to work for the Steers Tuesday and coach Roy Baird reports the entire bullpen ready for relief duty. This includes Freddy Mears, Gary Mears, Bobby Griffin and Charles Burdette.

Coach Tom King said today that Whatley was sick and Anderson had cut his hand over the weekend, but it is too soon to tell if the two would be out of action Tuesday.

Safecracking School Held To Aid Police

By BOB POOS
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — At large in the St. Louis area are 152 men who have undergone a thorough course, conducted by experts, in how to open safes.

All but one are policemen, from 35 Missouri and Illinois communities around St. Louis. The other is this reporter.

The men attended a course at the St. Louis Police Academy conducted by Robert Wilgus and Henry Self, executives of the Diebold Safe Co. of Canton, Ohio. The firm has made, among other special projects, the safe that holds the famous Hope diamond in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

The two experts make trips around the country periodically to familiarize authorities with methods employed by safecrackers.

Capt. Lester Martin, head of the St. Louis police burglary and robbery detail, said the lessons would be valuable to police for two reasons.

"First, it will help us in our instructions to merchants on how to prevent burglaries and safe jobs so far as it is possible to prevent them," he said.

AIDS POLICE
"And it will aid us in our evaluation of evidence when we examine the scene of a safe job or similar theft."

Wilgus has been 15 years in the business of striving to make entry-proof vaults.

Self, in a way, got into the business from the other side. For 14 years he was in a section of U.S. Army intelligence which was interested in ways of opening safes. After Army service, he entered the safe business.

Wilgus explains that there are basically two kinds of safes: records protectors and money-protection vaults.

Much to his chagrin, too many people who keep large sums of money around depend on the records-protection type. This is simply a large box with inner and outer plates of sheet steel surrounding fire insulation material.

SAFES "PEELED"
It is this kind of safe that is usually pried, blasted, drilled or burned open or "peeled."

Sophisticated money safes these days, Wilgus says, virtually are impregnable. His firm has one type that hasn't been entered forcibly since it was invented in 1960. "And some people have tried pretty hard to do it," he said.

"But some day it probably will be solved and then we will have to come up with something new," he added.

World War II, among other things, brought forth many new tactics for getting into places that aren't supposed to be gotten into. Scientific uses of explosives, drills and other techniques for opening vaults eventually found their way into the underworld.

Safe manufacturers had to develop materials that resist carbide drills and reduce diamond drills to dust. They invented counterthief and counterspy devices that seal safe doors so firmly that even the safe companies have trouble opening them once they are tampered with.

Municipality Level Revived

LA JOYA, Tex. (AP) — This Mexican border town, population 75, has a set of duly elected officials, the second to be elected in 39 years.

Mayor Leo J. Leo and City Commissioners Guadalupe Alaniz and Arnaldo Trevino, who were elected last Thursday, were sworn into office Sunday.

La Joya elected its only other officials in 1926, and city attorney Jim McKeithan denied reports that the city government was revived to get federal government help.

"Most of the government War on Poverty programs are not handouts," McKeithan said. "They involve only a few office salaries or something like that."

"This is not an attempt to get a handout. It is an attempt to get the people of La Joya to pull themselves up by their own boot straps."

Baja California Rail Line Studied

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Studies for the building of a railway line linking Mexicali and Ensenada in the Lower California Peninsula are underway, a spokesman from the ministry of public works has announced.

The informant said the study is being made at the special request of President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz and has branched into two possible routes.

The first would start at Estacion Victoria and terminate in Ensenada, with a total length of 200 kilometers and an estimated cost of $16,800,000.

The computer also matched Sandra Kanninen, 19, of Brigham and Dale Pearce, 22, of Nampa, Idaho.

They announced their engagement Sunday night.

Three Young Men Killed

DALLAS (AP) — Three young men believed to have been students at North Texas State University were killed Sunday night when their compact car hurtled off Interstate 35 onto a cross street 15 feet below just north of the Dallas city limits.

The Farmers Branch Police Department identified the victims as:

Harold Ray Green, 23, of

The police dispatcher said two of the youths carried North Texas student identification cards.

The vehicle was northbound when it veered across the south lane of traffic and off the expressway in Farmers Branch, a suburb in northern Dallas County.

Breakfast Given For Bykotas

Bykota Class members of the First Baptist Church held the 33rd annual pre-Easter breakfast Sunday morning at Holiday Inn.

Fifty members and guests were served about tables that were decorated with seasonal flowers. Programs were shaped as Easter bunnies and plate favors were miniature boxes holding candy eggs.

Glenn Faison gave the invocation, and Mrs. B. N. Ralph, president, welcomed the guests and introduced the visitors. Mrs. H. L. Derrick, assistant teacher, gave the devotional thoughts, and the Rev. Robert F. Polk offered prayer at the conclusion.

Mrs. Ruby Billings read the class history, telling the story of the breakfasts which originally were held on Easter morning. In later years the date was set on the Sunday before Easter.

"Arise, Sing, 'Tis Easter Morn" was sung by Faison who was accompanied by Jack Hendrix.

Following the program the group heard the Sunday school lesson taught by Mrs. R. T. Newell.

Arrangements for the affair were made by Mrs. Billings, Mrs. Derrick and Mrs. Beulah Crabtree. Mrs. Nola Irwin arranged the program.

Past presidents introduced included Mrs. Roy Green, Mrs. O. C. James, Mrs. Armour Long, Mrs. Irwin, Miss Nell Brown and Mrs. Billings.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Maude Prather, Midland, and Mrs. Vernay Cook, Garden City.

Thumbtacks Save Unsightly Marks

Walls can be saved from picture marks with the use of thumbtacks.

Just stick a thumbtack at each corner of the back of the frame, letting it extend about an eighth of an inch. This allows for circulation of air behind the frame and prevents picture marks.

Chic Gals Look Poor On Special Occasions

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Fashion Writer

There are special occasions, special seasons when it is both wise and chic to look poor.

Certainly the special season is now, income tax filing time. Who would be foolish enough to wear her sable during a meeting with an internal revenue?

An example of a special occasion is any time a chronic sponger phones to say he must see you about a personal matter.

Other such occasions are when encountering business and professional persons with escalator fees dependent on an appraisal of your apparent ability to pay.

LOOKING POOR

Looking poor has proved to be such an invaluable guard against getting poorer that inverse fashion snobbery has set in. While the impoverished try desperately to hide the fact, the well-heeled strive to look down-at-the-heels.

Often the poor looking little rich girl's motives are happily misunderstood. Some charitable people assume that she is a democratic soul struggling for identity with the masses.

No matter why. The result is that her wardrobe need no longer be denied the beauty of patches, bandanas, denim, calico and peasant blouses just because she can afford silks, vicunas and chinchillas.

A star in her poor wardrobe that has been here long enough to be more than a passing fancy is the poor girl sweater. The enigma of this simple, curve-hugging ribbed flat-knit garment is that despite its hault contour appeal, it has not been priced out of range of the poor working girl.

FASHION BADGE

An interesting combination of haut couture fancier and working girl is the Parisienne mannequin. She has adopted the poor girl sweater as her off-hours uniform. It's her fashion badge of honor.

Strolling down the Champs Elysee or the area of the couturier showrooms, Rue Faubourg St. Honore, she wears flats, a short sheath skirt, usually belted, always topped by her poor girl sweater.

In America the style has replaced shell blouses under suit jackets during the winter, and has teamed up with all kinds of fancy pants of the sports nature for spring and summer. The sweater has the ability to survive, though vogues rapidly evaporate into a misty past. It has become a bit of fashion democracy which, like the hot-dog, happily and permanently belongs to everyone.

ABWA Speakers Tell Of District Meeting

The purpose and activity of the "Friends of the Library" which was offered to the representatives attending the convention.

The convention was held at the Ramada Inn where registration was Friday, followed by a western barbecue that evening.

Saturday there were displays, a symposium, luncheon tour and a reception. At the banquet Saturday evening, entertainment was provided by the Madrigal Singers of Phoenix College, and the keynote speaker was Dr. W. Ballentine Henley.

Workshops were held Sunday afternoon and an address was given by Peggy Flanagan, national president. The last item on the agenda was the presentation of bulletin and scrapbook awards.

It was announced that next month's meeting would be a salad supper in the home of Mrs. LeFevre, 308 W. 18th, where Dr. Floyd Riebold of the state hospital, will be guest speaker. He will bring two teenage patients from the hospital to assist him with the program. Also, at that time, Mrs. Leonard Burks and Mrs. Harvey Wooten will report on the workshops they attended at the convention.

There were 22 members and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Dawes.

Easter Story Told At Forum Meeting

The story of the resurrection was told by the Rev. Henry Salley for members of the Modern Woman's Forum who met Friday with Mrs. W. E. Moren, 1301 Eleventh Place. Rev. Salley was introduced by Mrs. Fred Whitaker, program chairman.

Following a brief business discussion, refreshments were served to 11 members.

The April 23 meeting will be at Coker's Restaurant when Mrs. Whitaker will be hostess. Mrs. Harwood Keith and Mrs. Moren will have the program.

Tea Honors Bride-Elect Saturday

Miss Bonnie Belda, bride-elect of Grant Eugene Giles, was complimented Saturday afternoon at the Big Spring Country Club with a tea given by Mrs. H. C. Ernsting, Mrs. Allen Hamilton, Mrs. Cal Guilliams, Mrs. Robert Stripling and Mrs. Clyde Angel.

Mrs. V. J. Belda, San Fernando, Calif., mother of the honoree and former Big Spring resident, greeted the guests, along with Miss Belda and her sister, Miss Diane Belda.

For the affair Miss Belda wore a brown and white silk tweed striped suit suit, the sleeveless jacket worn over a white silk blouse. Her corsage was a beige orchid. Her mother wore a blue suit with deep colored neckline while her sister chose a beige linen frock accented with an orange tie and brass buttons. Their corsages were white orchids.

Miss Sandra Lane, Miss Louise Jackson and Miss Betty McWhirter assisted the hostesses in registering the guests and serving.

The refreshment table was laid with a floor-length satin cloth. A lavish, high arrangement of white snapdragons, yellow Dutch iris, yellow spoon chrysanthemums and fern held in a gold and white cupid epergne was the centerpiece. Yellow napkins embossed with the names of the bridal couple completed the color scheme along with the delicately tinted cakes. Silver punch and coffee services were used.

The yellow and white floral theme was repeated at the registry table.

Sixty friends were included on the guest list.

Hostesses presented Miss Belda with an electric broiler.

College Meeting Speakers Examine Common Market

The Beta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma heard the program, "Nations of the Common Market," at a Saturday morning meeting in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College. The speakers were Mrs. Claude Miller and Mrs. J. M. Payne.

Mrs. Miller discussed the nations of the common market and their industrial growth since forming the common market. She noted the economic effect, too, on the people of the countries of the common market.

Mrs. Payne spoke of the effects of the common market on the rest of the world, comparing the exports and imports of these countries with other major countries of the world.

Mrs. Rogers Hefley introduced a guest, Mrs. E. A. White of Eastland, who led the group in singing the sorority song. The committee report on personal growth was given by Mrs. James Wilcox, and Miss Movelda Rhine gave the report on ceremonies.

Coffee was served to approximately 40 members and guests by the hostesses, Mrs. Harold Heaton, Mrs. E. W. Alexander, Mrs. Jack Douthit, Mrs. Dayton Barrett and Mrs. Frank Milligan. The table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers surrounded by Easter eggs and bunnies.

Mrs. Hefley announced that the May meeting would be the initiation of new members and appointed a committee to make arrangements for the program and dinner.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Place Mats Line Shelves

Dear Heloise: I line my refrigerator shelves with white lace plastic place mats. The lace permits circulation while keeping the shelf rods clean.

These mats are especially good under milk cartons or soft drink bottles and are easy to wash along with the dishes, then ready to put back on the shelves. Mrs. P. M. Goldrick

Oh Gals:

This is about the most wonderful idea I have come across in a long time. Here's why:

Circulation is the answer to a refrigerator operating properly. The lace mats allow perfect circulation to continue.

Also, because they are plastic, the mats may be laid in the bottom of your dishpan before putting in your dishes (so they will soak longer and the goo will come loose) and rinsed quickly under your hot water faucet, given a quick shake and replace immediately.

They can be cut ANY size or shape to fit THAT particular space which your special need calls for. Such as milk cartons, those tiny jars that sometimes tip and fall over on the refrigerator spokes.

Many of you write that you line your shelves with foil, freezer paper, etc. DON'T do this. Eventually it will ruin the motor.

Besides, it cuts down the proper, free, flow of cold circulated air and it is not distributed evenly as it should be.

So... I say to you, if you want to line the shelf where you keep your milk and spilly objects, then use those lace-type place mats. They're O.K. in my book and are the perfect answer.

And every bit of thanks to that doll, Mrs. Goldrick, for putting us wise to this... Heloise P. S. I just learned that those of you who have that damp-type refrigerator, that you can put lace type place mats in the bottom of your dehydrator and the excess moisture will drip through the lace and prevent slushy vegetables too! Try that if you have a scrap left. I did. It's great.

Dear Heloise:

It's so discouraging to mother, who has just cleaned house, for her small boys to walk in with loose bits of grass, dirt, gravel, etc., which falls out all over the floor and carpeting.

I solved this problem: Roll the cuff of the jeans under (instead of up!) one turn (as deep as needed). The jeans not only look neater but the cuffs cannot gather all that mess. Mrs. Carl Towns

Dear Heloise:

The next time you fix spaghetti and meatballs, try broiling the meatballs instead of frying them.

One can broil at least 20 large meatballs at a time on a cookie sheet (the kind with four raised sides!)

The sauce can be prepared while the meatballs are broiling and when they are done, just scrape up the meat juices from the bottom of the cookie sheet (leaving the grease behind) and add to the sauce.

Add meatballs to the sauce in the last 15 minutes of cooking. Concetta Wachs

True and great. I tried it. Heloise

A Devotional For The Day

But Jesus said, "Let her alone. Why must you make trouble for her? It is a fine thing she has done for me." (Mark 14:6, NEB)

PRAYER: Help us, our Father, in our judgment of greatness. Send the Holy Spirit into our hearts so that we put the right value on the lives of those whom we are prone to consider little people. Wherever we are, guide us so that we may make our contribution to peace in the world. For the Master's sake. Amen.

Unnecessary Prying

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher (D-N.J.) had taken up the cudgel against what he believes unnecessary prying by government agencies into the lives of its employees. He and a number of other congressmen have taken a dim view of questions ostensibly designed to reveal the loyalty or emotional stability of those answering them.

They got on to it when one government employee rebelled at answering such questions as whether his sex life was satisfactory, whether evil spirits possessed him at times, whether he believed Christ had performed miracles, etc.

Digging into it, Rep. Gallagher and other congressmen discovered that numbers of agencies employed these psychological tests, many of which posed intensely personal questions or were blood brothers of the old trap: "When did you stop beating your wife?"

Besides being an improper invasion of individuals' privacy, these questions, when answered, constitute a file which might forever plague those who answered them. Pledges of secrecy are no good, and even if they were today, they might not be tomorrow.

Some of the larger businesses, like government agencies, have begun to delve more deeply into the lives of their employees. The practice is equally deplorable in business, for there are some things that are nobody's business but that of the sovereign soul.

Besides, as was pointed out by one syndicated columnist, there is not yet genuine reliability in the tests. Given to 50 inmates, and a like number to 50 Army officers, civil service employees and professional people on the outside. You guessed it—those on the outside were the ones who showed definitely to be off their rockers.

Idle Charge

In the heat of personal exchanges, people sometimes utter things that should not be said. A case in point is the recent broadside by Rep. John Dowdy to the effect that the Supreme Court had cleared the civil rights bill in advance. He later admitted that his reliable authority was third-hand information.

The proper way to question a bill is to deal with its merits. Many members in Congress are concerned about constitutionality of certain aspects of the pending bill. Even among its most ardent supporters, there is a mounting fear that so much will be injected into it that it will be held unconstitutional. These and other things make the charge all the more puerile.

Forthright Policy For Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's latest speech on the Viet Nam situation is one of the best expositions of American foreign policy that has been presented since the "cold war" began. The advisers who helped to compose it also deserve credit because they accurately assembled the facts that make up the consensus of American thinking today.

The President avoided the mistake made by the United Nations in Korea when consent was given to participate in a cease-fire which never was followed by the signing of a peace treaty.

THIS TIME there is no self-imposed restriction upon the United States to withhold military action while peace talks are proceeding. The Communists cannot with impunity, therefore, string out peace discussions year after year while at the same time conducting clandestine violations of a cease-fire agreement.

So when Mr. Johnson declared that he would enter peace talks unconditionally, it means that the United States retains its freedom of action and can punish the enemy and retaliate whenever there are aggressive acts.

THE KEY WORDS in the President's speech are these: "We will not be defeated. We will not grow tired. We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

Having said this, however, the President made a constructive suggestion along an entirely different line when he called for an international program for development of Southeast Asia, starting with a cooperative effort by the countries of that area. He urged Secretary-General Thant of the United Nations to use his prestige to initiate such a plan, and invited "all other industrialized countries, including the Soviet Union," to become participants. He added: "For our part, I will ask the Congress to join in a billion-dollar American investment in this effort as soon as it is under way."

THIS MOVE has been wrongly interpreted by some as merely a kind of sop to those who have been criticizing the continuing of the war. Its significance is deeper. This is the first time that the United States in recent years has publicly declared a policy that goes beyond governments and into the hearts and minds of the peoples themselves.

Whether because of timidity or indifference, the United States has not carried on a campaign directly to the peoples of the Communist-dominated countries. It has not endeavored to show them how much better off they would be if they had a free government.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON rightly discussed the need in Southeast Asia for homes for millions of impoverished people. He said:

"Each day these people rise at dawn and struggle through until the night to wrestle existence from the soil. They are often wracked by diseases, plagued by hunger, and death comes at the early age of 40."

"Stability and peace do not come easily in such a land. Neither independence nor human dignity will be ever won, though, by arms alone. It also requires the works of peace."

"THE AMERICAN people have helped generously in times past in these works, and now there must be a much more massive effort to improve the life of man in that conflict-torn corner of our world."

This is a welcome note in the outline of American foreign policy. It needs to be followed up by radio and every other form of communication. For history has proved that, if ideas are conveyed to a few, they spread to many by word of mouth, which indeed is the most effective form of communication in existence today. The Communist governments will, of course, reject the proposal for economic aid, but the seed will have been planted among the people.

THE SPEECH was remarkable because of its forthrightness and its scope. Sooner or later peace talks will begin, and it looks now as if the advantage then will be on the side of the United States.

What is the meaning of the words, "Lead us not into temptation" in the Lord's Prayer? I believe God is a just God and find it difficult to believe He would lead anybody into temptation. K. L.

There are times when God brings His children into situations which are designed to test them. Abraham, Job and Christ all passed through these testings for their own strengthening and for the glory of God. However, this petition that we shall not be led into temptation, does not refer to such testings from the hand of God, but rather from our own willful entering into places or conditions where we would be tempted of the devil. The first Psalm begins with a picture of the process of falling into sin: Walking in the counsel of the ungodly, standing in the way of sinners, and finally, sitting in the seat of the scornful. It is our prayer that God will deliver us from this willful entering into temptation. You can rest assured that God is a just and holy and loving God and He will never harm us. He sent His Son to save us and to deliver us from the power of sin. And, if tempted, we have His promise in 1 Corinthians 10:13: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man. But God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able, but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it."

FDR's Guiding Light: Social Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — In her autobiography, Eleanor Roosevelt said she once asked President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who died 20 years ago today, if he believed all he had been taught about religion.

Roosevelt, a warden of the Episcopal Church, replied: "I never really thought about it. I think it is just as well not to think about things like that too much."

And once, asked about his philosophy, he said: "Philosophy? I am a Christian and a Democrat — that's all." The two answers give an insight into the man and the mind.

HE WAS NOT an intellectual. He could not think in abstract terms. He was not even a wide reader. His vision was limited and unorganized.

He didn't see the depression coming any more than President Herbert Hoover did. When it did come he had no plan for coping with it, as he showed by trying to outdo Hoover in promising economy.

But he had a far greater sense of action and of the power of the presidency than Hoover. And, because his mind was not frozen, he had brains enough to know he needed ideas. To help him, he called in intellectuals.

With their help and the needs of the country he patched the New Deal together, a bit at a time, and some of the bits were no good and had to be discarded.

ALTHOUGH HE was president a little more than 12 years, the New Deal was finished in his first five, ending with enactment of the 40-hour work week in 1938. By then foreign troubles had become overpowering.

Roosevelt's foundation stone was his temperament. A warm man, with a concern for people, he was responsive to their needs and for the first time gave millions a sense of belonging. No wonder millions wept when he died.

His guiding light was a sense of social justice and, because he had no philosophy, he was flexible and could accept change.

He was aristocratic, which gave him a sense of ease, and rich enough to feel secure within himself. Out of both came his self-confidence. The flexibility and the self-confidence enabled him to welcome challenge.

These qualities, and his faith in his country, made him the greatest cement-mixer in American history. Inheriting a shattered country, his task as he saw it was to glue the pieces together, sometimes with fresh cement.

THE NEW DEAL had been called a revolution and it was, insofar as it broke with the callous American past by making, for the first time, the government responsible for the general welfare.

But he was basically a conservative and so was his revolution which can be seen by looking no further than at those two other revolutions of his day, fascism and communism, which were then itching to take over the world.

More Jewels In The Mail

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Insects are still man's worst enemy. According to the World Health Organization, insect pests cause half of all human deaths and destroy or consume about a third of all the food man grows.

How much did groceries cost you last year? The average U.S. family spent $1,500. It is estimated that you can save up to 10 per cent of your bills if you put blinders on your wife before sending her to the supermarket.

THE STATUE of Liberty is the largest statue ever made. America's No. 1 glamor gal is 151 feet and one inch tall from base to torch; weighs 225 tons, has eyes 2 1/2 feet wide, and a waist 35 feet thick.

Expense account living dates back at least to the old Romans. When the Emperor Augustus set up his government budget in the year 5 A.D. he included an allowance for entertainment.

A modern six-room house has 20 to 25 light sockets, and a modern automobile now has up to 40 light bulbs with a total candlepower of 100,000.

Politicians are more likely to suffer from an ailment called catagelophobia than one called mythophobia. The first is the scientific term for fear of ridicule, the second is a fear of telling lies.

Around The Rim

"Is", And "Can" And "Don't"

One thing and another: Scholars from the University of Chicago and the University of North Carolina have compiled a list of 3,300 words used most frequently in the English language.

The word used more than any other, the survey shows, is "is." But I don't know.

I'M INCLINED to think that the favorite word among kids, from toddlers through the teenage set, is "can" and the word of rebuttal for the adults who look after their needs is "don't."

Regardless of education, according to the college appraisal, most people use only 403 words in more than 80 per cent of their daily conversation. You've heard of the poverty of language. Most of us stay on a starvation diet. After all, Webster's dictionary lists more than 450,000 words.

THE WORD "is" pops up in people's speeches an average of 439.62 times per 10,000 words.

It is followed in popularity, the survey shows, by "the," "and," "a," "to," "I," "that," "it," "he" and "of."

Incidentally, for the information of the parent, just shrugging the shoulders — a patented way of replying when you don't know whether to say "yes" or "no" to your offspring — can't be interpreted as a figure of speech and therefore isn't listed.

In this era of togetherness, the word "we" ranks no higher than 99th in the poll.

CONSIDER THE case of the fellow in Jacksonville, Fla., recently who returned to his home to find it had been looted.

"Boy," said he, "they must have used a truck to haul all that off."

He was right. Another inventory showed his truck was gone, too.

THERE'S NOTHING like being sure.

A 47-year-old housewife in California, bent on suicide, first shot herself in the foot the other day.

When the police questioned her at the hospital, she explained:

"I wanted to see if a gun shot would hurt before I tried to kill myself."

Political Intensity In California

WASHINGTON — The date is soon to be set for a trial likely to make political history, for at issue is an unprecedented form of political character assassination.

The four men indicted in Los Angeles for criminal conspiracy to libel Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R., Calif.) are to have a preliminary hearing. The widely circulated affidavit which is the basis of the indictment was shown by the district attorney's investigators in evidence before the grand jury to be wholly false. A new low in political smears, it alleged that Kuchel had been arrested on a morals charge.

KUCHEL HAS long been the target in California of the extreme right in his party because of his moderate-to-liberal stand. What is astonishing in the light of last November's election and in view of the latest attempt to destroy him is that these same elements are retaining their grip on major party organizations and offices.

In a three-way split in the California Republican Assembly recently Cyril Stevenson Jr., a Berkeley realtor and militant conservative, was elected president. William E. Exline, spokesman for a minority of 22 of the delegates, pointed out that the convention had failed to adopt a meaningful resolution against discrimination in voting rights. The majority of delegates, however, approved the so-called Liberty Amendment calling for a constitutional amendment to repeal the income tax. But Exline went on to make a remarkable disclosure:

"IN THE convention we were solicited for a most curious cause. We were asked to help two of the four men currently under indictment for conspiracy to libel Senator Kuchel, the greatest vote-getter in modern Republican politics."

After a protest at the start of the convention extreme-rightist pamphlets were removed from the Assembly headquarters. One addressed to "Dear Fellow Patriots" also contained an appeal to help two of the indicted men, describing them as "two of California's most active and dedicated constitutional conservatives." The two are John F. Ferguson, who resigned as a public relations executive for Eversharp-Schick, Inc., at the time of his indictment, and Jack D. Clemmons, a police sergeant who resigned after nearly 15 years of service when the indictment was returned.

ACCORDING TO the testimony of one of the district attorney's investigators, Ferguson said the purpose of the affidavit "was to get rid of Kuchel." The other two indicted were Norman H. Krause, a former police officer, and Francis A. Cappell, of New Jersey, publisher of the Herald of Freedom.

What makes the continuing grip of the rightists all the more remarkable is that Republican moderates believe they have a good chance next year of winning the governorship and recapturing some of the ground lost during the past decade.

KUCHEL HAS not yet decided about the governorship. The trial will be a trip through the sewers of political extremism. And so bruising was the ordeal of the attempted character assassination that Kuchel is tempted at times to step out of politics entirely. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

The Morse Code

WASHINGTON — Does Gimbel's tell Macy's? No, and the government of the United States doesn't tell its people where exactly the $3 billion Foreign Aid bundle is going to be distributed.

The asserted reason for not making public the country-by-country, project-by-project giveaways is that practically every embassy in town would turn itself into a lobby and storm Capitol Hill, whereas now the embassy lobbyists concentrate on the White House, State Department, Defense Department and AID. But Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) sees murkier motives in the administration's handling of the Foreign Aid Package — and probably he's right to some extent.

MORSE FEELS that the Federal Establishment — this administration as well as previous ones — maintains a contempt for the legislative branch, especially on any matter that pertains to the national foreign policy. The fetish for secrecy exists everywhere in government, but it is most pronounced in the military and diplomatic fields. Here, the theory of papaknows-best gets its strongest enunciation.

THE THEORY is readily defensible on the upper levels, such as the President's private decision on whether to use nuclear bombs, nausea gas or napalm in the Viet Nam war. But the theory becomes progressively vulnerable on the descending scale. For example, there are scores of aides in the State and Defense Departments who work closely with Secretaries Rusk and McNamara in the laying out of specific aid and weapon programs. The secretaries could hardly get their work done without trusted subordinates having access to the facts. But the other day a senator on the Foreign Relations Committee was refused permission by administration flunkies to take some papers back to his office where he could study the details with the help of an aide.

MORSE SAYS that 85 per cent of the top-secret documents are over-classified. They are kept out of the public domain less to deprive the enemy of information than to prevent newspapers and voters from finding out how AID and defense dollars are squandered.

Morse says he and other senators can't do their duty to their constituents under the wraps of super-secrecy. He fears that the rise of military costs — some of them hidden away within the Foreign Aid bill — is shifting inordinate authority to the Defense Department. Although the Foreign Aid Bill won't come to debate for another month, Morse has already submitted an amendment which would dismantle the whole AID structure and has built it anew.

HE WOULD SET an arbitrary ceiling which would allow us to aid no more than 50 nations after 1967 instead of about 70, as we do now. He would give economic aid only to countries that show a desire for free enterprise and a rule of law. He would send military aid only where it furthers the defense of the United States. He would end unnecessary hush-hush.

Many senators have come to think as Morse does on these matters, only he had a laid-out plan.

Baby Deer

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — So many baby deer are being abandoned by their mothers that a deer orphanage has been opened for them in the Stelvio National Park.

Park Gamekeeper Paolo Andio says one reason the deer are abandoned is that they wander away from their mothers and are petted by campers. When the deer returns to his mother she smells the human-scent and refuses to care for the baby.

Great Wall

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek archaeological Service has begun reconstruction of the Wall of Justinian, near the Corinth Canal.

The great wall, built in the Byzantine period, was known as the Examilion (six miles) because it was six Roman miles long. It was destroyed during the earthquake of 551 A.D. and rebuilt by the Byzantine Emperor Justinian in 527-565 A.D.

Christians Of World Note Holy Week

VATICAN CITY (AP) — This week is a major one for three of the world's leading religions. The Christians are observing Holy Week. The Jews begin celebration of Passover on Friday. Moslems begin the Feast of the Sacrifice today.

Pope Paul VI led Roman Catholics into Holy Week Sunday, expressing concern for world peace. But he voiced faith that mankind's hope for peace may not be in vain.

The pontiff blessed palms in the Sistine Chapel and celebrated Palm Sunday Mass in Italian before thousands in St. Peter's Basilica. He also spoke to 25,000 Romans and tourists from his apartment window.

BLESSING MENACED
"Again today peace fills our feast day and concerns the world which always has such great need for peace and which feels this blessing of peace so menaced," the Pope said.

"Instead, certain situations place us in doubt whether mankind is any longer able to maintain peace. But the feast of today teaches not only that peace is a duty, but that it is possible."

In divided Berlin, the East German Communists opened their wall again today to West Berliners going to visit relatives in East Berlin during Holy Week. A comparative few crossed the wall today. More than 400,000 West Berliners have received passes, but the big crush will not come until next weekend, for the Easter holidays.

GOOD FRIDAY
East Berliners are not allowed to visit West Berlin.

For the first time in several years, the start of the Jewish Passover, which celebrates the escape of the Israelites from Egypt, coincides with Good Friday this year. The Jewish festival extends for seven days after Friday's Passover supper.

The Zionist Federation of Great Britain and Ireland appealed to the Soviet Union Sunday to permit Soviet Jews who have relatives in Israel to emigrate to that country.

In Jerusalem, three of Israel's Moslem leaders appealed to the government of neighboring Arab countries to allow Israeli Moslems to participate in the traditional pilgrimage to Mecca, Medina and Mt. Ararat during the Feast of the Sacrifice.

Arab countries do not recognize Israel and usually do not allow its citizens to travel across their borders. There are about 180,000 Moslems in Israel's population of more than 2 million.

Estes Witness In Theft Trial

SPEARMAN (AP)—The second trial of Robert Earl Clements, a figure in the dealings of Billie Sol Estes, opens today.

Estes, now serving a 15-year sentence for mail fraud, is being brought here from the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to be a witness for the state. He will be kept each night in the jail at Amarillo, 92 miles away, because Spearman does not have a federally approved jail.

Clements, 69, is being tried on an indictment for theft by false pretext of a $37,690 check in connection with the sale of Superior Manufacturing Co. in 1960 to Harold Orr and Ruel Alexander of Amarillo.

He was convicted of the charge in Amarillo in 1963 and sentenced to two years in prison. The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals overturned the conviction because of a technically faulty indictment. The second trial was moved here on a change of venue.

Superior Manufacturing Co. ostensibly made thousands of steel fertilizer tanks, and mortgages secured against them provided Estes with millions of dollars before his agricultural enterprises collapsed in 1962. Most of the tanks proved to be non-existent.

Well Blazing Out Of Control

WEATHERFORD (AP) — A roaring gas well fire shooting flames 60 feet high continued out of control today 10 miles west of Weatherford.

The blaze was touched off about 8 p.m. Sunday night as the new well blew in.

Texas Highway Patrolman E. R. Nelson of Mineral Wells said the rig's owner—the Tolo Gas Co. of Weatherford—was bringing in world-famous fire-fighter Red Adair of Houston to snuff out the fire.

Nelson said Adair was expected on the scene late today.

Legislators Seek Solution To Tech Issue

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislators open a brief week today with efforts toward resolving Gov. Connally's differences with Lubbock lawmakers over a Texas Tech medical school.

Lawmakers have agreed to a long Easter weekend, adjourning Thursday until next Tuesday.

Before the recess, solutions may be reached to the Tech issue and to a committee roadblock to Connally's proposal for four-year terms for the governor and other statewide officials.

Connally has told Lubbock lawmakers he will veto the medical school bill by the Tuesday deadline unless they recall it and make the proposal subject to study by the newly-created college coordinating board.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

(© 1965 by The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠ 3 ♥ A J 9 4 ♦ 6 3 2 ♣ A K 10 7 5

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

1 NT Pass 3 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four clubs. Partner obviously has only three hearts, else he would have given an immediate raise. No trump is out because of the singleton spade, so the only course open is a return to clubs.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠ 6 3 2 ♥ K Q J 8 ♦ K Q 9 3 ♣ 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

3 ♣ Double Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Four hearts. This does not do full justice to your holding and such mild action might result in missing a slam, yet no other step seems entirely satisfactory. We prefer to make a little allowance for the possibility that partner may have been acting under some degree of pressure. This is the toll we occasionally pay to preemptive bids.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

♠ A 4 ♥ A 10 8 8 6 2 ♦ Q 3 ♣ A K 7

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

2 NT ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Inasmuch as your hand can take seven tricks, a jump is indicated and the obvious jump to three hearts is the approved procedure.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠ K J 5 4 ♥ A J 6 ♦ 9 7 2 ♣ 9 6 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

3 ♦ Pass 3 NT Pass

4 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. Up until this point you have done nothing more than tell partner you had a minimum spade response, which might have been worth only six points. Actually your hand is worth nine points and, in view of partner's vigorous bidding and your assertion on the second round that you had a minimum, you should take one aggressive step by way of advising partner that you have the ace of hearts. The rest should be up to him.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠ K J 9 6 4 ♥ A J 6 2 ♦ Q 10 5 4 6

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♣ Double 1 ♥ 2 ♣

Pass 2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. With a singleton club, you are not disposed to support the no trump immediately. If possible you would like to elicit a spade preference from partner. The bid of three hearts will serve the purpose. If partner is well protected in the minor suits he is given the opportunity to proceed to game in no trump.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠ Q 10 9 6 3 ♥ Q 5 2 ♦ A 7 5 4 2

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♣ Double 1 ♥ 1 ♣

Pass 1 NT 4 ♥ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have a strong hand opposite partner's double, including distribution it is worth 11 points and you are odds-on favorite to make a game. Our choice is for a bid of four diamonds.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

♠ A ♥ 6 5 ♦ J 8 7 3 ♣ K Q J 9 8 7

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

Pass 1 ♣ 2 ♣ 2 ♣

2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three clubs. With a spade opening virtually assured, you must step with caution in case partner does not have the ace of clubs. The rebid of the minor suit will serve as a warning to him. If his hand does not contain the ace of clubs he should realize the danger of proceeding in no trump.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠ Q 6 5 ♥ 9 5 2 ♦ K 5 4 3 ♣ K 7 5

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

What do you bid now?

A.—Our inclination is for a bid of four spades. It does not appear that sufficient defensive values are held to defeat the vulnerable game contract. We prefer, therefore, to make the sacrifice bid which should not prove too expensive.

FDR Died Twenty Years Ago Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman dedicated a small marble memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt today and said, "The only monument that mattered to him was the continuing commitment to his ideals and purposes — to his vision of a just society and a peaceful world."

Harriman joined with friends of Roosevelt and members of his family for the ceremony — held on the 20th anniversary of the wartime president's death.

The monument is small and simple, like he wanted it. It is located where he wanted it — on a little triangle of land near the National Archives Building on busy Pennsylvania Avenue.

SERVE MEMORY

"Today we execute his own expressed desire," Harriman said in his prepared speech, "and we do so knowing that we serve his memory best as we carry forward the ideals and purposes to which he gave his life."

"This is the monument which would please him most," said Harriman, who served Roosevelt in various posts and recently became ambassador-at-large after a period as undersecretary of state.

Harriman said of Roosevelt: "His greatness lay in the strength of his passion for plain people everywhere. He spoke for the 'forgotten man' not only in his own country but throughout the world."

Harriman recalled that when Roosevelt died he was ambassador to Moscow, "and even in Communist Russia people felt they had lost a friend. They felt they had lost the man who could lead the world to the peace they craved."

AMERICAN IDEAL

He said Roosevelt "spoke of the great American ideal in terms that all men could understand."

"In this spirit," Harriman continued, "he rallied the free peoples in the war against German and Japanese aggression. And, in this spirit, he sought to use the intimacies of the wartime alliance to lay the basis for the collaboration of peace."

The ambassador noted that Roosevelt in 1941 said that if the United States loses the sacred fire of liberty it will reject the destiny that George Washington and the other Founding Fathers worked so hard to establish.

"That sacred fire still burns today — by the grave over at Arlington and on the fronts, whether in Alabama or Viet Nam, where men fight for liberty, and in the White House itself," Harriman said.

ONLY DAUGHTER

Anna Roosevelt Halsted, only daughter of the late president, was to accept the monument in behalf of the family.

It is the capital's first monument in the man who served as president longer than any one else — 12 years and 40 days. A bronze plaque on it tells how Roosevelt called in his friend, Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter in 1941, and asked him to remember this wish:

"If any memorial is to be erected to me, I know exactly what I should like it to be. I should like it to consist of a block about the size of this (putting his hand on his desk) and placed in the center of that green plot in front of the Archives Building."

WANTS IT PLAIN

"I don't care what it is made of whether limestone or granite or whatnot, but I want it plain, without any ornamentation, with the simple carving 'In memory of...'"

The monument, a block of white Vermont marble, is 6 feet 10 inches by 3 feet, 8 inches and 3 feet, 3 inches high. It is inscribed simply:

In Memory Of
FRANKLIN DELANO
ROOSEVELT
1882-1945

No Protest On Boycott

To the Editor:

Right - wingers lately have been accused of subverting our nation's heritage. One of the main points in the campaign against conservatism has been the influence the rightists have over business and the organizations who support the opposite philosophy.

Saturday Review condemned the Birch Society for their insistence to use their consumer power for their cause. Now, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has announced that there will be a nationwide boycott of all products coming from Alabama—not one firm, but every business in the state. But there is no loud voice of protest to this grave injustice. Saturday Review does not condemn it, because it is in the interest of "civil rights."

Family Life Professor Speaks At Symposium

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adults — not young people — have the greater need for sexual education, maintains Dr. Lester A. Kirkendall, professor of family life at Oregon State University.

"Adults constitute the deprived group; they are the ignorant, they are the obstructionists," he told a weekend symposium at the University of California San Francisco Medical Center.

MAJOR NEED
The symposium dealt with sex education for teen-agers.

Kirkendall asked, "Who is to teach?" and answered that, "Sex being what it is and humans being what they are," both teachers and learners will continue to be everyone.

"One of the major needs is for our educational programs to strike at attitudes of fear and disgust (about sex) which so permeate all of our efforts that they change education into propaganda," Dr. Kirkendall said.

The symposium title, "The Uncertain Quest: The Dilemmas of Sex Education," indicates there are no definitive answers on how to transmit knowledge about sex to the next generation, said Dr. Ralph Lane Jr., University of San Francisco sociologist.

SCHOOLS ROLE
Several speakers urged that schools take the major responsibility for sex education, questioning that parents are qual-
