Another 837,000 Eligible For Release

Army Lowers Points; Fathers Are Exempt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) — All fathers were made draft-exempt today and the Army and Navy announced further reductions in discharge requirements which would make 837,000 more persons eligible for release.

Selective Service instructed local draft boards not to induct any more fathers and not to accept on a volunteer basis any father having three or more children.

Fathers of one or two children may continue to volunteer.

To Lower Points Oct. 31

When the war ended, the drafting of fathers was restricted to men under 28 and today's order removed that one remaining category from the draft.

On Dec. 31, the Army point score will be cut from 55 to 50 for enlisted men and from 73 to 70 for officers. Six hundred thousand men and women will become eligible for separation in that branch.

The Navy program will affect 237,000 more persons between now and Feb. 2. Critical scores in the Navy drop Jan. 1 to 36 for enlisted men and 43 for officers; to 23 for enlisted Waves and 29 for Wave officers. These are one-point reductions from the present scores.

Other Drops Set

Further one-point reductions go into effect Jan. 15 and Feb. 2 for most enlisted men, and for Wave personnel on Feb. 2.

The Navy's schedule calls for release by Feb. 1 of half the 3,000,000 subject to demobilization, and by April 1 of two-thirds. One-third are out now.

In the Army the length of service required after Dec. 31 for separation of enlisted men will be reduced from 48 to 42 months and from 51 to 48 months for male officers except medical department officers.

Length Of Service Included

Length of service will be computed for the first time in the case of WAC personnel, although the critical score will not be reduced. Enlisted WACs will be eligible if they have had two years and six months of honorable service, and WAC officers after three years and three months.

Length of service include total active commissioned and enlisted duty since Sept. 16, 1940. The adjusted service rating point score is computed as of last Sept. 2.

The age criteria for all army medical and dental officers, except plastic surgeons, will be reduced from 48 to 45 years.

The Army said it would continue to discharge personnel in this country who are no longer needed and who do not qualify for overseas duty, even though they lack sufficient points or service.

Fire Wrecks House But $1,200 Hidden In Tin Can Spared

ROCKYFORD, Colo., Dec. 19 (AP)—Fire destroyed Mrs. Pete Montoya's home today but spared the $1,200 she had hidden in cans.

After firemen had conquered the blaze in the 15 below zero cold, Mrs. Montoya searched through the embers and found the money intact. Part of it was mustering out pay of her son, Benny. The rest was for a payment to have been made on the house tomorrow.

Labor Session Stalled Again

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—The question of profits and prices and their relation to wage increases stalled the General Motors fact finding board today.

Following the pattern already set by the oil wage fact-finding body, Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison of the GM panel told a news conference that, after preliminary

FORD WALKOUT ENDS

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 19 (AP)—Striking production workers of the Ford Motor company of Canada, out since Sept. 13, in a vote announced shortly after 9 p. m. CST tonight, decided to accept the Federal government's plan to return to work.

arguments tomorrow, the GM board would recess until it decides whether testimony on profits and possible price increases will be allowed in evidence.

Hearings will resume Saturday if the board has made up its mind, he added.

Garrison said that at conferences today the CIO United Automobile Workers insisted that the board study the profit-price phase of the dispute involving union demands for a 30 per cent wage increase. On the other hand, the company flatly opposed raising the issue.

Asked whether, when the question is decided, either company or union might withdraw from the hearings, Garrison said he would "rather not discuss" this possibility. He added, however, there was "some risk" of such a withdrawal.

Await White House Ruling

The oil panel now is in recess pending a statement of White House policy on whether federal fact-finding boards should take possible increases into consideration when recommending a wage increase.

However, Garrison emphasized that unlike the oil panel, the GM board would decide the price-profits question on its own.

Garrison explained the company had taken the position that, since it was not pleading "inability to pay" its profits and price were irrelevant.

The union, he said, did not wish

Pearl Harbor Group Seeks More Time

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The joint Senate-House committee investigating Pearl Harbor decided tonight to ask Congress for authority to continue its inquiry and complete hearings by Feb. 15.

The committee now is operating under a resolution requiring a report and conclusions by Jan. 3.

The extension of time was decided in an executive session and announced by Chairman Barkeley (D-Ky).

Ferguson Asks More Time

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) voted against the Feb. 15 extension, contending that more time than that would be needed.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) was recorded as voting present. Barkley said three other Republicans and five Democrats approved the motion which was put by Rep. Keefe (R-Wis).

The committee authorized Barkley—as he put it—"to cruize around in legal circles" for new counsel.

To Quit During Holidays

William D. Mitchell, former attorney general, and his staff have resigned effective Jan. 3 on the ground that the committee was taking too much time in its cross examination of witnesses.

Barkley said also that the committee hopes to complete the testimony of Admiral R. K. Turner, former Chief of Navy war plans, by Friday night. If unable to do this Turner will return to the stand for a Saturday session. After that the committee will adjourn until Dec. 31 for the Christmas holidays.

Barkley May Quit

The chairman said he had not yet decided whether he himself would ask to be excused from the committee to devote more time to his other duties.

The committee received evidence today that the Army feared a German-Japanese move into South America in June, 1940, screened by a naval raid on Pearl Harbor and sabotage of the Panama canal.

The Army went on an immediate alert in Hawaii and Panama, then reduced it after several weeks when nothing unusual happened.

U. S. Move Is Explained

Army documents submitted in response to queries from Rep. Franke Keefe (R-Wis) explained the reasons for alterting Hawaii and Panama a year and a half before the Japanese actually struck. The information was provided by Lieut. Gen. George V. Strong in behalf of Gen. George C. Marshall who was unable to give it from memory when he was a witness.

Strong, chief of war plans five years ago, recalled that the Army

Three Killed As Trains Collide

LULA, Ga., Dec. 19. (AP)—Two sailors and a locomotive engineer were killed today in the crash of a freight train into the rear end of the Piedmont Limited, Southern railway passenger train, in snow and ice-covered terrain near White Sulphur, Ga., five miles from here.

Eight persons were taken to a Gainesville hospital for treatment. A number of less seriously injured, many of them sailors, were given first aid by doctors at the wreck, about 65 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Many Cut, Bruised

Trainmen said the fact that the limited carried at its rear two empty day coaches trailed by an express box car prevented the wreck from being more serious. Seventy-seven sailors enroute from Gulfport, Miss., to Norfolk, Va., were in the third day coach from the rear.

Next was the diner, which, Steward F. W. Oswald of Washington, said was nearly full to its capacity of 48 and was left in confusion by the crash. Passengers were thrown to the floor amid food, dishes and glassware and nearly everyone suffered minor cuts or bruises, Oswald added.

Wainwright's Testimony May Help Seal Gen. Homma's Fate

MANILA, Dec. 19. (AP) — The man who won't be there is likely to be the most damaging witness against Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma when the former commander of Japanese forces in the Philippines goes on trial charged with responsibility for atrocities involving the deaths of [illegible],000 American and Filipino prisoners of war.

Homma, who pleaded innocent at his arraignment here today, heard the date of his war crimes trial set for Jan. 3. He also heard that Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, who was forced to surrender to him after a heroic but hopeless defense of Bataan and Corregidor, would be—by deposition — one of the prosecution's chief witnesses on the death March of Bataan and other barbarities.

At Dallas, Tex., Wainwright said he was "relieved" to know he would not have to go to the Philippines to testify in person, but added:

"I can give definite evidence to show that General Homma, as commander of all Japanese forces in the Philippines, was most certainly responsible for the atrocities to Bataan.

"General Homma has said he didn't know anything about the Death March and the sadistic actions of his troops in dealing with captives. As commander-in-chief of the Philippines, it was his business to know he is directly responsible for the actions of his men."

Lt. Col. Frank E. Meek, chief prosecutor in Homma's case, said the Death March of Bataan would dominate testimony at the trial and that he expected presentation of the prosecution's evidence would require about 10 days.

Cold Hits New Low In State

(By The Associated Press)

It's been a long, long time since it was as cold in Texas as it was yesterday, the weather bureau said.

And the forecast for today is colder in the south and central portions.

Coldest spots were Amarillo, 5 degrees, and Pampa and Plainview, 6 degrees.

Sub-freezing weather was general.

Season's Records Fall

Season records were toppled. At Waco, the 20-degree reading was the lowest in two years. Gas consumption hit an all-time high, and some pipes and radiators were broken. A brisk 33-mile wind blew.

Fort Worth's 16 was the coldest day since Dec. 15, 1943.

At Plainview, it was the coldest in six years.

Twelve degrees at Wichita Falls was the coldest day since Dec. 15, 1943.

Snow In Corpus Christi

At Dallas, 16 degrees was reported, the lowest in almost two years. Corsicana's 19 was the coldest Dec. 19 since 1943. Gainesville's 20 set a winter record for 1945.

Snow flurries were reported in Corpus Christi, as the first freeze of the year hit the coastal city. Temperatures were 31, and colder weather is forecast.

Temperatures dropped from 65 Tuesday to 35 yesterday at Laredo.

Tyler had 16-degree weather, coldest of the year.

Houston had a hard freeze. The temperature went down to 25, coldest since Jan. 9, 1944.

The plumbing business in Abilene was brisk from frozen pipes yesterday after the temperature drpped to 17, lowest since Jan. 14, 1944. A low of 22 was expected last night.

Cold weather was drawing cattle some in the San Angelo area, but for the most part both sheep and cattle were in good condition. Some feeding was in progress, particularly in the areas which had been dry most of the late summer and fall.

FIFTY-SIX DEAD AS COLD WAVE CONTINUES IN EAST

(By The Associated Press)

The chilled, and snow-covered eastern half of the nation was offered more of the same diet of snow and cold last night that has caused at least 56 deaths.

Since one of December's bitterest cold waves started moving east from the Rockies about two weeks ago, the weather pattern has been snow, followed by clearing and colder followed by moderation and more snow.

While a fresh storm dumped from three to nine inches of snow from Eastern Kansas to the Atlantic seaboard, temperatures began to plunge again in the south and northwest and colder weather was forecast for the entire snow belt.

Deaths directly attributed to weather conditions occurred in 16 states, with New York leading with 11 fatalities. Cause of deaths included exposure, sledding accidents, fatal falls on slippery pavements and traffic accidents in blinding snow storms.

UNO Adherence Bill Sent To President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—Congress today completed action on legislation making the United States a full partner in the United Nations.

This sent the measure to President Truman, who informed the Senate today that Secretary of State Byrnes will head this nation's delegation to the UNO meeting in London Jan. 10.

Other members of the delegation nominated by Mr. Truman are former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, who will be the principal U. S. delegate, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Future Policy In Japan Set By MacArthur

By DUANE HENNESSY
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 19.—A determination to keep a firm hold on the Japanese people and their future while affording opportunity for "a completely vanquished enemy to correct the error of its ways" was reemphasized by General MacArthur today in instructions to his commands.

Japan must support Allied objectives, MacArthur said, but to impose upon the nation "any form of government not supported by the freely expressed will of the people is contrary to the Potsdam terms."

To Use Hirohito

Control will be exercised as much as possible "through the Emperor and other instrumentalities of the Japan government found suitable," the instructions stated.

Japanese will be given every opportunity to carry out his instructions voluntarily, but if they do not act, "orders will be given to appropriate commands to require compliance," the supreme commander added.

He promised Japan's civilian population that it would be freed of any interference with liberty and property rights. Historical, cultural and religious objects and installations, "including the several imperial palaces, will be carefully protected and preserved."

Fenced In On Islands

The Allied chief stressed that Japan's sovereignty would be limited to the main islands of Honshu, Hokkaido, Kyushu and Shikoku, and 1,000 smaller adjacent islands, including the Tsushima group in the Korean strait.

Japan will be completely disarmed and demilitarized, he said, and "the authority of militarists and the influence of militarism will be totally eliminated from her politics, economic and social life. Institutions expressive of the spirit of militarism and aggression will be vigorously suppressed."

To Encourage Liberties

MacArthur noted that the Japanese people would be encouraged to develop a desire for individual liberties and respect for fundamental human right, particularly freedom of religion, assembly, speech and press. Formation of democratic and representative organizations would be encouraged, he promised.

On addition to insuring that Japan will not again menace the peace of the world, the occupation objective is to establish a "peaceful and responsible government which must respect the rights of other states," he added — but one which will support the objectives of the supreme commander as reflected in the ideals and principles of tre United Nations charter.

The government, he said, should conform to the principles of democracy.

Heavy Fighting Flares In China

CHUNGKING, Thursday, Dec. 20. (AP) — The Communist New China Daily News today said in a dispatch that "intensive" fighting broke out Tuesday within a radius of 20 miles of the cities of Peiping and Tientsin.

The dispatch was received as National government and Chinese Communist leaders were reported ready to "go the limit" with peace concessions to impress Gen. George C. Marshall, new U. S. ambassador to China, who is due in Shanghai late today.

Using Swarms Of Planes

The dispatch said government troops, supported by Japanese and puppet troops, opened a drive "under cover of swarms of planes." Communists retaliated in self defense but were forced to yield numerous villages, it added.

Another dispatch to the same paper said the government had moved four armies to reinforce the southern sector of the Peiping-Hankow railroad between Hankow and Sinyang, 110 miles north, and began an attack on Communist held areas to the east and west of the railway.

Observers here said the Chungking government was prepared to go farther than their Communist rivals, who likewise were repre-

Truman's Plan To Merge Armed Forces Is Bitterly Assailed

Rep. Vinson Charges New Program Would "Sink Navy;" Solons In No Hurry To Approve President's Proposal

By WILLIAM. R. SPEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—President Truman, the constitutional commander-in-chief, laid out a course for complete unification of the Army and Navy today to a divided Congress and wrangling service chiefs.

He told them, in a detailed message to Congress, that "further studies of the general problem would serve no useful purpose. There is enough evidence now . . . "

Bitterest comment came from Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), chairman of the House Naval committee. It would "sink the Navy," Vinson's statement said; it "smacks of the Germany of the Kaiser and of Hitler; of Japanese militarism"; "I am shocked . . . "

Plan Favored By Army

What the President recommended was largely what the Army has favored and the Navy has opposed:

A single "department of national defense" headed by one cabinet member in place of the present War and Navy departments;

An equal footing in this department for the Army, the Navy and an Air force, with a civilian assistant secretary for each:

New Roles Explained

A single chief of staff to be the top military commander of all three branches of the service, with individual military commanders of the Army, Navy and Air force;

Broader discretion for the President and the new defense secretary to set up such coordinated bureaus for the three services as they see fit.

Navy Issues Order

Clerks read the long-waited message in the Senate and House at noon and Congressmen who commented to reporters indicated there would be no rush to give the President the bill he wants.

Chairman Manasco (D-Ala) of the House Expenditures committee said his group would start hearings next month and that he has "an open mind." The Senate Military committee has been studying the matter for some time.

At the Navy department, orders were issued immediately directing Navy and Marine officers "to refrain from opposition" to the President's stand "in their public utterances, except that when called as witnesses before committees of Congress they will, of course, give frankly and freely their views."

Forrestal May Quit Now

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal has been expected, for some time, to resign soon. Whether the White House pronouncement now would hasten this development was not apparent immediately.

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitiz, recently named chief of naval operations, originally favored unification but later reversed his stand. But Mr. Truman, when he announced the appointments of Nimitz and General Dwight D. Eisenhower as Army chief of staff, told a news conference he expected the two would be found in the same boat when he finally said his say.

Navy To Retain Forces

The President wrote that "of course the Marine corps should be continued as an integral part of the Navy."

He also recommended that "the Navy should, of course, retain its own carrier, ship, and water-based aviation." But it was noticed

Education, Loan Provisions Broadened

Congress Gives Vets Additional Benefits

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Congress passed a broad revision of the G. I. Bill of Rights today, liberalizing rules on loans and education for veterans.

The measure, amending the original law of last year benefitting veterans of World War II, now goes to the White House.

The House adopted it, 134 to 23, on a standing vote, and the Senate shouted its approval a short time later. It was a compromise after weeks of heated controversy.

Will Boost Benefits

One purpose was to simplify the law. New features include:

1. Removal of a requirement that tuition fees, unemployment compensation and defaults on loans be deducted from any future federal bonus.

2. Increase in subsistence allowance for G. I. students from $50 to $65 monthly to those unmarried and $75 to $90 for those married;

3. Expense-paid correspondence courses and short technical courses;

4. Removal of a requirement that men over 25 must show their education was interfered with to be eligible for educational benefits;

5. Increase in maximum government loan guarantee from $2,000 to $4,000 on real estate, thus permitting a maximum $8,000 loan, with the government guaranteeing half;

6. Real estate loans to be arranged by recognized lending agencies, the veteran and the local appraiser of the Veterans administration, an agreement of the three to be binding on the administration. Business loans still would require administration ap-

Foreign Ministers Get Down To Business In Big Parley

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 19—Generalissimo Stalin, just returned to Moscow after a lengthy vacation, received U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin today and the Russian leader was reported looking "well and rested."

Byrnes and Bevin are in Moscow conferring with Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov on the multiple problems facing the world. They met for the fourth time today in a session lasting one hour and 15 minutes.

New Session Set Today

A fifth session will be held tomorrow, but indications were it would be short too, for Molotov sent out invitations today for a formal diplomatic reception which will start at 6 p. m.

U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, who was present during the Stalin interview, said the Generalissimo "looks very well."

"Even better," Harriman said, "than when I saw him at the end of October. He has a fine tan."

Harriman visited Stalin while the Generalissimo was vacationing near Sochi in the Black sea area.

Harriman did not divulge the nature of Byrnes' talk with Stalin but the conference lasted one hour and a half.

Following Byrnes to the Kremlin were Bevin and British Ambassador Sir Archibald Clark-Kerr.

A luncheon given by Molotov interfered with today's conference and cut it down in length.

Chinese Official In Talks

No announcements were made as to what was discussed during the hour and 15 minutes they talked but an informative source said the three men continued their "explorations" on the basic questions they have on their agenda.

During the morning the Chinese Ambassador Foo Peng Sheung called on Bevin. The Chinese representative called on Byrnes Monday.

It was confirmed that both Bevin and Byrnes have seen

Delivery Aid To Be Sought Soon

CHIEF Goodfellow, anonymous head of the campaign to assure a Merry Christmas to every needy boy and girl in Lubbock, has turned his attention to plans for delivery of gifts on Christmas morning and announced last night that an appeal would be made for help in that direction "within the next day or two."

"I know," he said, "that Lubbock men will help this year deliver the gifts as they always have. Just watch The Avalanche-Journal, and when you see the appeal made, report as requested at that time."

Donations Still Coming

Meanwhile, the financial end of the drive continue to run "on its own power," a total of $82.61 coming in during the day—$42.61 from a "hat-passing" at the Rotary club and the rest in straight donations. The latest report on contributions reads:

Previously Reported	$2,287.66
Painters Union Local No. 343	25.00
Master Steven Kahn Meloe	5.00
Allegro Music Club	10.00
Lubbock Rotary Club	42.61
	$2,370.27

Cash donations may still be made to Chief Goodfellow, c/o The Avalanche-Journal, although the fund already is more than $800 over the $1,500 goal.

Suspect In Morton Case Free On Bond

Fred Pair, 58, of Bledsoe, held in Lubbock county jail on federal charges in connection with the armed robbery of the First State bank at Morton Sept. 5, was released late Wednesday under $10,000 bond set by Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner.

Pair's bond was reduced from the $25,000 set at time of his arrest several weeks ago. A former Dickens county deputy sheriff, Pair was one of four charged in the $17,000 robbery, the others being Matt Kimes, who died in a Little Rock, Ark., hospital after being hit by a poultry truck, Ollie Oliver Melton, 38, and Olaf Alvin (Chick) Rogers, 39. Pair was the only one held at Lubbock.

Hirohito Gave Approval For Tojo As Premier

Emperor Helped Plot War On U.S.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series based on the memoirs of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, pre-Pearl Harbor Premier of Japan who committed suicide Sunday to escape arrest as a war criminal suspect).

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 19—Prince Fumimaro Konoye said in his memoirs that Emperor Hirohito, knowing that war with the United States was probable in 1941, refused to let a prince of the Imperial household become premier and himself gave the nod to Hideki Tojo for the post.

The ex-premier's memoirs, released to the Associated Press three days before Konoye's suicide Sunday said Tojo had suggested the Emperor's cousin, Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni, for the premiership on Oct. 16, 1941.

That was the date when Konoye's third cabinet was broken by Tojo with the support of Army hot heads, the former premior wrote.

Konoye gave no direct reason for the emperor's refusal to permit Higashi-Kuni to take the office, but the memoirs quoted Hirohito as saying:

"I had thought that Higashi-Kuni was suitable as chief of the general staff. I think much thought mut be lent to a member of the Imperial family taking part in politics. It might be all right in time of peace, but I wonder how it would be especially when there is danger of war."

Hirohito Outlined Plan

Japan was on the brink of war when the Emperor waas asked to make a decision on a new prime minister. The protracted peace negotiations between the United States and Japan had bogged down.

On Sept. 5, 1941, at a meeting attended by Hirohito, Japanese leaders drew up a list of essentials. Konoye listed them as:

1. A determination to "complete preparations for war with the latter part of October as the general date.

2. A determination to take all diplomatic steps possible to avert war.

3. An assertion that "if by the early part of October there still is no hope for success of our diplomatic negotiations immediately, there will be determination to start war against the United States."

"There is somehow an impression that war is the main thing and diplomacy comes after it," Hirohito told his leaders.

No Evidence Of Violence Said Found In Carlan Baby's Death

CHELSA, Mass., Dec. 19. (AP)—Tiny Ronald Carlan, central figure in New England's outstanding kidnap hoax, died as "asphixiation and actue respiratory infection" and "there was no evidence of violence," Medical Examiner William J. Brickley said today in a preliminary report.

As Events moved swiftly, the Boston psychopathic hospital reported it had completed examination of Mrs. Rose Carlan, the baby's mother. Judge John W. McLeod set tomorrow for a court hearing of the murder charge against her.

Report Not Complete

As Judge McLeod advanced the hearing, originally scheduled for next Monday, Chelsa police said they would go ahead with it providing a full report was received from the medical examiner. Otherwise, they added, they would request a postponement.

The medical examiner officially informed District Attorney William J. Foley on the results of his partially compelted autopsy on the six months old baby's body.

The infant was reported kidnaped on Nov. 28 by the mother, who later told police he actually died Nov. 24 but that she concealed that fact from relatives and friends in fear they would say she had neglected her baby.

Dr. Brickley said his complete report could not be made until state chemists had completed their analysis of some of the baby's vital organs. He was unable to say when the full report would be ready.

The medical examiner said the child could have smothered by turning over, face down, in his crib during the time he was left alone in the Carlan flat while Mrs. Carlan attended a "welcome home" party given in her mother in law's flat upstairs in honor of a relative just back from Navy service.

Port Arthur Woman's Death Investigated

HOUSTON, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Although the autopsy was not complete clinical reports today indicated that Dorothea Houghton, Port Arthur school teacher who died under mysterious circumstances Saturday, was the victim of a virus infection.

Dr. Louis A. Crapitto, county health officer, said it appeared that infectious polyneuritis, a virus infection sometimes resulting from influenza, may have settled in her spine or brain.

She fainted while walking down stairs in a hotel lobby and then warned officers to "stand back. I've had the flu." A few hours later she died and doctors refused to sign a death certificate until an autopsy was performed.

There was no evidence the fall or external injuries contributed to her death, the doctor said.

Molotov individually twice.

The British and American talks with the Chinese ambassador developed as a writer for Pravda protested the presence of large American armed forces in China as "one of those factors of the countemporary international situation which rightfully alarms the Democratic public, not only of China and the United States but of the whole world."

Similarly, following reports that the Soviet expert on Japanese affairs had been summoned to the conference, Izvestia commented sharply on affairs inside Japan.

Jap Occupation Scored

Izvestia complained of "Japanese militarists in the toga of democrats." The newspaper said many Japanese war criminals had been arrested and will face trial, and added:

"But how many war criminals are not only free, but are even continuing to take part in the state life of Japan?

"At the present moment in the halls of the Japanese Parliament, an experiment is going on, which, although little understandable at first glance, could sooner be called a farce."

Both Byrnes and Bevin talked with theri Iran advisers before today's sessions, and it was evident that the question of the newly proclaimed government in Azerbaijan province and the continued presence of occupation troops of Britain, Russia and the United States in Iran were getting close attention from the statesmen.

Stroke Proves Fatal To Mrs. T. B. Smith

Mrs. T. Bascom Smith, 56, wife of the secretary-treasurer of Hest-and-Kimbell company, wholesale grocery concern, died about 10 o'clock last night in West Texas hospital where she had been under treatment since Monday night when she suffered a stroke at her home, 2023 Sixteenth.

The family had lived here about 16 years.

Funeral services are to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist church, with Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor, officiating under direction of Sanders Funeral home. The body will be taken overland to Abilene, where burial will be made Friday afternoon in the Eula cemetery, near there.

Survivors in addition to the husband are one daughter, Mrs. T. Euel Liner of 2427 Twenty-fifth street; two grandchildren; and four brothers, G. C. Osborne of Abilene, E. B. Osborne of Lamesa, Bryan Osborne of Whittier, Calif., and Charles Osborne of Los Angeles.

HST's Plan Assailed

immediately that he did not specify the Navy's extensive land-based air activities in this connection.

The President noted that merging the armed forces would provide "unity of command in outlying bases." He said that "all military authority" at each base "should be placed under a single commander who will have clear responsibility for security, who can be held clearly accountable, and whose orders come from a single authority in Washington."

Other Points Given

Eight additional arguments were advanced by Mr. Truman for his plan:

1. It would make for coordinated strategic planning and budgeting;

2. Economies would be achieved in supply and other functions;

3. "Inter-service differences" would be minimized and the armed forces would be beter coordinated with the rest of the government;

4. "Civilian control of the military establishment" would be strengthened "if the President and the Congress had but one cabinet member" to deal with;

5. It would "provide parity for air power." Mr. Truman held that this could not be done with the present two departments, and that to do it through a third department for air "would complicate tremendously every problem of coordination that now exists;"

6. It would best coordinate training for combined land, sea and air operations;

7. It would use "our limited resources for scientific research" to the best advantage;

8. It would remove "highly undesirable" differences between Army and Navy personnel policies. The President cited differing Army and Navy policies on promotions, discharges, awards and officers selection.

LEAVES FOR SHANGHAI

MANILA, Thursday, Dec. 20. (AP)—General Marshall, U. S. envoy to China, took off in a transport plane at 8:08 a. m. today (6:08 p. m. Wednesday, CST) for Shanghai.

avoid demands which Marshall—bearing China's hopes for a way out of the morass of civil strife—might consider unreasonable.

Rousing Welcome Set

Preparations were made to give Marshall a rousing welcome in Shanghai when he arrives by plane from Manila.

President Truman's special envoy is scheduled to fly on to Nanking Friday for his first meeting with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The World Daily News said Marshall would accompany Chiang back to Chungking for the opening of the momentous conferences with government and Chinese Communist leaders.

Fighting Is Lagging

China's civil strife appeared to be lagging as interest turned toward the forthcoming talks in Chungking.

A Chinese press dispatch said the Communists had lifted the long siege of Inner Mongolian Paotow and Kweisui, giving government troops control of the Peiping-Suiyuan railroad — most important east-west line in northern China.

Liu Chieh, vice-minister of foreign affairs, confirmed meanwhile that National troops had not yet entered Mukden greatest city in Manchuria, contrary to previous reports.

To Enter City Any Day

Minister of Information K. C. Wu told a press conference at which Liu appeared, however, that "detailed arrangements have been made" with Russia for entry of Chinese soldiers into Mukden.

Liu said the result of a plebiscite under which Oouter Mongolia decided on independence had been submitted to the government and procedure was being studied for recognition and the exchange of diplomatic missions.

UAW EXECTED TO TURN DOWN FORD OFFER TODAY

DETROIT, Dec. 19. (AP)—The CIO United Automobile Workers union probably will formally reject the Ford Motor company's 12.4 per cent wage rate increase offer at tomorrow's meeting of management and union representatives.

The union, demanding a 30 per cent increase from the nation's car makers, already has informally turned down the Ford offer, made yesterday. Highest increase yet proposed by management in the current wage fight in the industry, the offer was described by Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO Ford director, as "completely unacceptable."

Ford offered what company officials termed a 15 cents an hour increase. General Motors, whose plants throughout the country have been tied up by a UAW-CIO strike for nearly a month, previously had offered a 10 per cent increase, estimated to amount to 13½ cents an hour.

END OF GREYHOUND BUS DISPUTE SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach sought tonight to end the 49-day strike of Pennsylvania and Central Greyhound bus lines by appointing a fact-finding board to investigate the wage dispute.

The secretary conditioned his appointment of a five-man panel on resumption of operations, without penalties to the 4,000 strikers, and with the proviso that any wage concessions would be retroactive to midnight October 31, when the strike began in 18 eastern states.

The offer was not immediately picked up by the companies or the union, however, despite an official statement from the labor department quoting conciliation chief Edgar L. Warren as saying that he had verbal agreement from the parties on "substantially" the conditions stipulated by Schwellenbach.

The company presidents, in Cleveland, said they wanted to study the labor secretary's order setting up the panel.

Christmas decorations which caught fire from burning candles in the show window of Ribble's flowers shop, 1004 Main, was extinguished by firemen at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday. Slight damage resulted from the blaze.

A police patrol car, driven by Bob Akinson, who had stopped in the Ave. H underpass to help move a stalled car in the other lane, was struck from the rear at 9:35 p. m. Wednesday by a car driven by Leonard Rogers, 16 of route 1, Slaton, according to the police report on the mishap. No one was injured.

Three O'Donnell men, who had told a story of running into a wagon and team of horses late Tuesday night, were released Wednesday after paying fines on charges of drunkenness, police reported. The sheriffs of Lynn and Dawson counties and the Texas Highway patrol investigated the story, but did not find a wagon or team to substantiate it, officers said.

Myth On 'Inscrutable' Chinese Smashed By Cultural Head

By JOHN RODERICK
Associated Press Staff Writer

YENAN, China, Dec. 19 — The "inscrutable" Chinese? That's just another old, romantic notion — a myth that Westerners have taken far too long to correct.

Listen, with us, to Ko Chung-Ping, and watch his Yangko dancers perform. You'll realize, as we did, that Chinese people laugh and cry just like people in Kennebunk Port or Santa Barbara.

Shy and Vivacious

Ko, the 45-year-old chairman of cultural groups in this border region, is shy but warm and vivacious. Above his straggling beard and thin mustache he peers with bright, merry eyes. When he smiles, his mouth widens over rows of uneven teeth, and when he talks his voice is low, almost inaudible—as though he were apologizing for presuming to make his opinions public.

That is the Ko of everyday life. But as we sit in a Yenan guest house with our feet toasting on a charcoal brazier, the idle talk turns to poetry, his major love, and Ko becomes a new man. He talks now without hesitancy; his thin, expressive hands punctuate his speech as he tells of his poems, "Songs in the Night," and others, written, he agrees to recite. And in the wavering light of the candles he begins the first stanza of "To The Comrades."

Forget Desolate egions

We forget we are in one of the most desolate regions of the world, a few hundred miles from the Gobi desert. Ko's voice rises loud and clear into song—then breaks, like water against a rock, to the still level of ordinary speech. To the Western ear, this half-song, half-recitation to which the Chinese language is so admirably adapted is strange and compelling.

His listeners feel that here is a medium new to European and American art. In Ko's mouth it is powerful. His hearers join in his urge to rally against the Japanese, to die defending the land—and then he sits down, half-smiling, half-afraid he has been too obtrusive.

SPAAF Personnel To Get Holiday Leaves

South Plains Army Air field officers and enlisted men heard good news Wednesday from their commanding officers, Col. H. O. Bordelon.

"As an added reward for a job well done, all officers and enlisted men on the post may go home for Christmas," the colonel's announcement said.

The job well done was the removal of more than 1,000 planes from the field in the past two months by enlisted and civilian personnel at the field. The planes had to be "unpickled" so that they could be flown to Kingman, Ariz.

"All runways, taxi strips and aprons on the field are now clear of planes and open for landing of planes," Col. Bordelon said.

The soldiers were given until Jan. 7 to report back to their station. Civilian employes, also given holidays, may work at their own discretion during the Christmas season.

Col. Bordelon was the only officer on the field who was uncertain of whether he would be given a holiday leave or not. Should he be given, time off he plans to go to Oklahoma City to be with his family. Otherwise they will come here for Christmas.

THOSE NOT NEEDED FOR LAAF CLOSING GET LEAVES

Officers and enlisted men at Lubbock Army Air field who are not needed for the final closing of the field will be given Christmas leaves, Col. Wm. G. Snaith, Dallas, acting commanding officer, said Wednesday.

Col. Snaith and his staff were in the process of determining who could be given leaves this afternoon, he said. All leaves would be contingent on closing of the field scheduled for Dec. 31, as all officers and enlisted men will receive transfer orders by that time.

Col. Snaith succeeded Col. Harold N. Holt today, Col. Holt having been granted a 30-day leave. He left this morning for Philadelphia, Pa., to spend Christmas with his family and more than likely will not return to the field before it closes, it was said.

Police Seeking Blind Date Of Houston Girl

HOUSTON, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Police looked today for the blind date of an 18-year-old girl.

Many Get Long Yule Holidays

Most government offices in Lubbock will take advantage of Christmas day falling on Tuesday and close from Saturday, Dec. 22, until Wednesday, Dec. 26, a survey shows.

A recent directive limited federal workers to 40 hours per week, closing most local offices on Saturday, thus enabling workers to take a four-day holiday at Christmas time.

Two Days For New Years

Most offices also announced their intentions of closing both Dec. 31 and Jan. 1 for New Year's observance. Two Saturdays, Dec. 29 and Jan 5, however, will find the offices open, as is not the custom, to make up for the extra holidays.

The Post Office and the U. S. Army recruiting station will close on Dec. 25 and Jan. 1 only.

The U. S. Navy and Marine recruiting offices, not closed on Saturdays, will observe two-day holidays on Monday and Tuesday of both holidays.

Dec. 24, 25, 31 and Jan. 1 will find closed the U. S. Employment Service, the Agriculture Adjustment Agency, the Farm Security administration, the Social Security board, the Office of Price administration area rent office, the Veteran's administration and the Income Tax offices.

Compensation Opening

The FSA will remain open Saturday, Dec. 22, and Dec. 29 to compensate for the two Mondays lost by vacation.

The other offices will open the two Saturdays following Christmas day, Dec. 29 and Jan. 5. The Veteran's office in the Lubbock National Bank building is usually open on Saturday but will close on the one before Christmas unless directive stating otherwise is received.

R. E. Key, area rent director, said his office would be closed as usual on Saturday, except Dec. 29 and Jan. 5, and announced new office hours of 9 a. m., to 4 p. m.

Hollywood buzz-buzz also says that Victor is secretly engaged to June Haver, with whom he is shown, above, in his first screen assignment since discharge from the Coast Guard. Victor denies marriage plans. Says he: "I can't, I like her too much."

PHONE US PLEASE

CHRISTMAS to many families means a time for reunions, for open houses, for eggnog parties. The society desk would appreciate calls of personals from those who are planning to entertain Christmas guests or who are going away for Christmas. It appears 1945 is going to be the best holiday many of us have had in a long time.

FROM CONG. MAHON

IN his "Sidelights from Washington" column Cong. George H. Mahon points out perhaps there has never been a more difficult time than this. "During 1945 we have celebrated VE day and VJ day," he writes, "and we will soon celebrate Christmas day, but a reassuring atmosphere of peace and good will can hardly be found. There is strife and turmoil, suspicion, doubt and uneasiness. Many are cold and hungry. Angry words are hurled across the sea.

"But the same courage that sustained us in war will sustain us in peace. America is at her highest pinnacle and at her greatest moment of prosperity.

Cong. Mahon reminds one that after World War I, we looked forward through rose-colored glasses and with complete assurance to the golden age, but we came to grief. Now we are fully aware that this is a sick world, he continues, and we face our problems with "humility and in fearful recognition of the pitfalls before us."

"After all, at Christmas time it is good to remember that God is in His heaven and that He will never forsake the humble and contrite heart. We may be sure that righteousness will continue to exalt a nation; we may be equally certain that nothing else will."

As certain as the little town of Bethlehem where Jesus was born still stands, just so sure and clearly marked is the message which God's Son defined concerning peace on earth and good will toward men, he concluded.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS

AMERICAN Christmas customs stem largely from pagan rites developed long before the birth of Christ, according to an article prepared for the Encyclopaedia Britannica by Mary Emogene Hazeltine, principal of the University of Wisconsin Library school.

Of American celebrations of Christmas, the custom of exchanging gifts is one of the few that springs from the Christian era. Christmas candles, bonfires and Yule logs arise from the heaten customs observing the winter solstice, December 21, when the days begin to lengthen.

The exchange of gifts, according to the Britannica article, was originated by a bishop, born in the Third century, A. D., who was later made the Netherlands' patran sain of children—San Nicolaas—Santa Claus, as the American contration of his name calls him, had a reputation for making secret gifts during the Christmas season. In France gifts are exchanged on New Year's instead of Noel and in Italy presents are distributed on the Epiphany, the celebration day of Christ's baptism.

CHRISTMAS trees spring from ancient German days when the tribes made sacrifices to the sacred oak tree of Odin, the article states. When the missionary St. Boniface traveled to Germany in the Eighth century and saw these celebrations he persuaded the natives to substitute a fir tree for the oak and to adorn it in tribute to the Christ child. Thus was born the first true Christmas tree.

St. Francis of Assisi is responsible for the birth of two widespread Christmas customs. He originated the use of the creche, a miniature tableau of the Nativity, in 1224, and since then the manger scene is the heart of the Roman Catholic celebration. St. Francis also encouraged the singing of Christmas carols, and they passed from Italy to France and Germany and then to the United States, always retaining their fervent and religious style.

During the Middle Ages the entire Christmas season was celebrated in equal fervor with that now shown on Christmas day. In some lands the celebration lasted from December 24 to January 6—Twelfth night—and in others from December 21 to February 2. By the year 1644 Christmas in England had become such a wild orgy that the Puritans forbade its celebration by law.

TOYS ARE ASKED

WOMEN of the First Baptist church are planning to bring Christmas cheer to a number of Lubbock Mexican children and are asking for contributions of discarded toys and clothing. The gifts may be left on the porch at the home of either Mrs. A. V. Weaver, 1901 Broadway, or Mrs. M. L. Hogan, 1912 Seventeenth.

It's our opinion that most children not only have about three dozen too many toys but they are generous to give them away if they are asked. If you put it up to the youngsters, we know the porches will overflow and you will be instrumental in making little Mexican children very happy.

Brunette Harper And Col. Jack S. Jenkins Marry At St. John's Church Wednesday

At St. John's Methodist church Wednesday night at 6:45 o'clock, Dr. H. I. Robinson read a single ring wedding ceremony for Mrs. Brunette Beard Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Beard, and Col. Jack S. Jenkins, Army Air corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Jenkins of Levelland. L. G. Beard of Vernon gave his sister in marriage.

Miss Mary Evelyn Pickle, organist, played "Ave Maria" and "Clair de Lune" and accompanied Mrs. A. J. Thompson who sang "I Love Thee" and "Always." The organist offered "Indian Love Call" during the ceremony.

Capt. and Mrs. Jack Harris of Dennison were attendants.

After a wedding trip to Mexico City, the couple will be at home in Orlando, Fla., where Col. Jenkins will attende an aeronautical school. For travel the bride is wearing a gray wool bolero suit with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college where she was a member of Sock and Buskin, Alpha Psi Omega, honorary speech franternity and Ko Shari social club. She was winner of the 1944 College Capers contest and received a contract to sing in the Century room of the Adolphus hotel in Dallas.

Col. Jenkins is a graduate of Levelland High school and attended Texas Tech where he was majoring in Mechanical engineering and was a member of Kemas social club. He was commissioned in February, 1939. He wears the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters and the Purple Heart. March 3, 1944, Col. Jenkins led the first formation on United States A.A.F. fighter planes to fly over Berlin. He was commanding officer of the European 55th Fighter Group in England. Col. Jenkins was a German prisoner for 13 months.

House Of Lords Averts Crisis By Approving Loan From U. S.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Traveler

LONDON, Dec. 19.—England's august House of Lords has averted an extremely dangerous crisis for itself by bowing to the will of the labor government and voting for the United States loan.

It is possible the Lords might have destroyed themselves had they defied the government. The British press had published the blunt warning that a revolt on the part of the peers would spell their end as a legislative body.

Legislation Pushed Through

The House of Lords lost most of its authority in 1911 when liberal Prime Minister Asquith jammed through the so-called Parliament act which deprived the Lords of their veto power over Commons.

Asquith first carried the issue to the country in a general election. With that, Commons passed the act depriving the Lords of their veto, and the measure then cemae before the upper chamber itself.

Naturally the Peers revolted against committing hara-kari and it was then Asquith threatened that if the Lords didn't accept the act he would advise the king to create a sufficient number of Liberal peers to ensure its passage —advice his majesty was bound to accept. So the Lords bowed to the inevitable.

Must Pass Three Times

Under the parliamentary act Commons has to pass and repass a measure through three separate sessions in order to nullify opposition to the Lords. Thus the upper House can delay legislation.

It was because of the danger of delay in the matter of the loan that the old Asquith threat was revived in the press.

Because the Lords have been shorn of their main powers, and because few of the 800 or more noble gentlemen turn out for the sessions (the attendance generally begin from 50 to 70), the impression has spread abroad that the upper house is mainly a display room for ermine and coronets. That's an erroneous idea.

It should be remembered that at most, or at least many, of the peers are created because of distinguished public service.

Thus the active part of the House of Lords comprises men of all walks. Obviously such a body of men comprise an invaluable advisory board for Commons, and their debates have great influence on legislation in the lower House.

Churchill To Visit U. S. Early In '46

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—The White House disclosed today that Winston Churchill, former British prime minister, is coming to the United States early next year.

The White House said Churchill would leave England by ship for New York about the middle of January. The announcement, made simultaneously in Washington and London, added that Churchill's medical advisor, Lord Moran, has suggested he spend "a month or more in a warm climate and to have a complete rest."

Churchill will discuss "world affairs" in an address at Westminister college, Fulton, Mo., March 5. The former premier will be introduced there by President Truman.

"Mr. Churchill does not contemplate any other public engagement in the United States at the present time. He will be accompanied on his visit to Florida by Mrs. Churchill and his daughter, Mrs. Sarah Oliver," the announcement said.

College Musicians Entertain Rotarians

Three artists and a six-girl chorus presented a musical program arranged by Dr. Julien Paul Blitz, head of the Texas Tech music department, to the Lubbock Rotary club at their luncheon Wednesday in the Hilton hotel.

Miss Joyce Watson sang "Kiss Me Again" (Herbert), "Always" (Berlin) and "Holy Night" (Adams) accompanied by Miss Imogene Webster. Pvt. Roger Hall played two violin selections, "Spanish Dance" and "Poem". A chorus from Tech music department sang Christmas carols.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones was program chairman and introduced Dr. Blitz. Members were reminded that Jan. 15 will be ladies night for the Rotary club at Tech Social Center. Rex Webster, who was recently released from the Navy, was welcomed back to the club as a member.

Visiting Rotarians were Seth Alston of Lovington, N. M., Bob Bowers of Brownfield, Edd McLaughlin of Ralls and Joe T. Salem of Sudan.

Wainwright Says He Has Evidence Against Former Jap Chief

DALLAS, Dec. 19 (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright said here today he "can give definite evidence to show that Gen. Masa Haru Homma was most certainly responsible for the atrocities of Bataan."

Gen. Wainwright, by deposition, will be one of the principal witnesses at the war crimes trial of Gen. Homma.

Gen. Wainwright said he was "relieved" that he will be permitted to testify by deposition and not be required to return to the Philippines.

He said in an interview:

"I can give definite evidence to show that Gen. Homma, as commander of all Japanese forces in the Philippines, was most certainly responsible for the atrocities of Bataan.

"Gen. Homma has said that he didn't know anything about the Death March and the sadistic actions of his troops in dealing with captives. As commander in chief of the Philippines, it was his business to know and he is directly responsible for the actions of his men."

Gen. Wainwright said he did not "hold it against" Gen. Homma for insisting upon the surrender of all forces in the Philippines after Gen. Wainwright first attempted to surrender only the Corregidor units.

"I would have done the same myself," he said.

"But I hold it against him for permitting the brutal treatment of my men."

Soviet Writer Scores U. S. Troops In China

MOSCOW, Dec. 19. (AP)—Pravda writer N. Sokolovsky said today "the existence of big American armed forces in China rightfully alarms the Democratic public not only of China and the United States, but of the whole world."

"This alarm," Sokolovsky wrote, "does not become any less in the light of the numerous statements of opinion by former U. S. Ambassador Hurley."

Jumbo Webster Gets Posthumous Award

The Air Medal has been posthumously awarded to Flight Officer Walter E. (Jumbo) Webster, son of Mrs. C. E. Webster of 2204 Ninth, who was killed July 28 on a filght from India to China, it has been announced by headquarters of the India-China division of the Air Transport Command.

Nazi SS Said Trained To Breed New Generation Of Warriors

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Dec. 19. — The notorious Nazi SS (Schutz-Staffel) was trained to prepare all Germany for brutal warfare, and at the same time was used as a vast breeding organization to beget a new generation of warriors, the American prosecution told the international military tribunal today.

For the second straight day, as the United States pursued its attempts to convict the SS, SA and other German organizations of criminality, the American prosecution was urged by the court to save time by discarding large parts of its documentary evidence.

150 Witnesses Asked

Meanwhile, the tribunal revealed that the 21 Nazi leaders on trial have requested almost 150 witnesses for the defense case. Thus far, the tribunal disclosed, 85 requests have been granted. The requests, made by attorneys for the defendants, were accompanied by the reasons the witnesses were sought, and indicated many of the defendants would take the line that they often had worked against their fuehrer.

Ernest Kaltenbrunner, chief of the once-feared security police, again was in an Army hospital, where doctors gave him only a "fair chance" for recovery from a second cranial hemmorhage. The first had prevented his appearance at the opening of the trial last month.

Urged To Have Sons

Presenting the case against the SS, Major Warren Farr (Dorchester, Mass.) chief U. S. prosecutor of Justice Robert H. Jackson's staff quoted Heinrich Himmler's orders for SS men to sire children —legitimate or otherwise—at every opportunity.

One of Himmler's letters introduced by the prosecution said "German women and girls of good blood can fulfill a high obligation, even out of wedlock, by becoming mothers of children of soldiers going to the front."

But when Farr began reading Himmler's proposal that every good Nordic German should produce four sons, he was interrupted by Judge Francis Biddle, who asked:

"Is that one of the crimes alleged?"

The prosecutor said he sought to show that Nazi rulers intended the SS "to be the living embodiment of the master race" which "would be in a position to dominate all Europe for centuries."

Texas Denies Rumors Involving Students

AUSTIN, Dec. 19 (AP)—University of Texas officials today issued a statement denying recent widespread rumors concerning incidents involving women students.

Investigation of these rumors proved that they have no foundation in fact, said the statement.

"Several weeks ago a student residence was burglarized and another was entered by a man who apparently carried ether," said the joint statement by Dorothy L. Gebauer, dean of women, and Arno Nowotny, dean of men.

"In neither case did any harm come to a student.

"One or two additional incidents of less serious nature have been investigated and appropriate steps taken to prevent recurrence.

"It is earnestly hoped that any circumstances of an unusual nature will hereafter promptly be reported to the office of the dean of men or to the office of the dean of women.

"Police officials declare that such incidents are on an unward trend in the nation and that they are a symptom of postwar conditions."

The university administration announced that it and city officials have redoubled efforts to make available in the university area more police protection and better lighting facilities.

Job Referrals Here Only 90 In Week

Only 90 persons were referred to local jobs during the week ending Wednesday, according to the weekly U. S. Employment Service report. This is a sharp decline from past figures that have ranged up to and above 300.

There were 52 men and 38 women sent from the USES office, 1114 Tenth, during the period to prospective jobs and only 53 of this group were hired, including 37 men and 16 women, the survey shows.

There were 179 job openings listed on the labor market report with 149 persons registered as wanting jobs, the latter figure including 111 veterans.

Veteran contacts at the office totaled 281, also a decline from the past figures.

Principal demand for labor came for services, (cooks, maides, waitresses, etc.), with 79 needed; 44 skilled workers were sought; 37 clerical and sales workers; 10 unskilled workers; and nine semi-skilled were requested by local employers.

All servicemen are exempt from having to purchase hunting and fishing license in Louisiana.

News Briefs

Funeral rites will be held at 10 a. m. today in Rix chapel for Joseph R. Dickerson, 69, of 1502 Thirty-third, who died late Tuesday. Rev. Ben D. Johnson, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, will conduct the service, after which the body will be shipped to Houston for burial Friday afternoon in Forest Park cemetery. A grandchild survives, in addition to relatives previously listed.

Higgins Has Proposal To Aid Labor Strife

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Boat-builder Andrew Higgins, who blamed the Wagner Act as the root of his labor troubles when he closed his strike-bound plants last month, today tossed to the Congressional winds his own suggestions for amending the act "to make labor as equally responsible as management."

Drawn up in legal form and ready for the "hopper" and titled "the free enterprise act," the Higgin's proposals chiefly were:

1. Labor unions would lose certification and bargaining privileges if they commit any of a list of offenses construed as unfair labor practices.

2. At least 75 per cent of the employes must agree before a closed shop can be adopted.

3. Labor unions which "provoke work stoppages" would be responsible to pay back pay to all persons out of work during the period.

4. Federal recognition would be given to state legislation regulating labor unions.

82,000 Pacific Vets Stranded On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Eighty-two thousand homebound Pacific soldiers may be stranded in West coast ports on Christmas unless a jam of rail facilities is cleared, the Army predicts.

Many Navy men due for discharge or leave likewise may have to spend a forlorn holiday away from home, the Navy said. No figures were available, however.

While the number of soldiers and sailors awaiting transportation mounted to 100,000, the Office of Defense Transportation stepped in and ordered all western railroads to move troop trains or empty cars for troop shipments "just as fast as their regular passenger trains" from now until March 1.

With Christmas only six days away, the situation will become more critical since the Army announced it expected 110,700 more troops to reach port by Monday.

MARKETS TO CLOSE

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Nearly all the nation's security and other markets have announced plans to close on Monday, Dec. 24, making a three-day week-end extending from Sunday through Christmas day. Without exception they will be closed on Christmas and New Year's day.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Cruiser Captain Is Acquitted Of Inefficiency In Loss Of Ship

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—A Navy general court martial today acquitted Capt. Charles B. McVay 3rd, of inefficiency in the loss of U. S. S. Indianapolis, but withheld announcement of findings on that charge that negligence on the part of McVay contributed to the disaster.

Under Navy regulations, a general court finding involving any degree of guilt is withheld from publication pending a review by higher Naval authorities.

880 Lives Lost

The negligence specification charges that McVay failed to have the Indianapolis on a zig zag course in waters where enemy submarine contacts had been plotted.

The Indianapolis went down last July 30 between Guam and Leyte, with the loss of 880 lives, after it had been torn by two heavy explosions.

The court deliberated more than two hours before announcing its findings on the charge of inefficiency.

Record To Be Reviewed

Under court martial procedure, the record affecting the charge of negligence will be forwarded in strict confidence to the judge advocate general of the Navy who will review it for legality.

The record may also go to the chief of the bureau of personnel for recommendations on the basis of McVay's record. Then it will go to the Secretary of the Navy who may announce the final verdict.

Captain McVay said he had no statement to make on the court's action.

Before the officers of the court retired to deliberate on their verdict. They heard summations by prosecution and defense counsel.

Texas Boosts Crude Oil Production To Aid Fuel Shortage

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (AP)—Texas will produce an estimated 2,027,175 barrels of crude oil daily in January, and more if needed, to meet an acute shortage of fuel oil for heating.

The railroad commission today issued its January proration order increasing allowable production considerably over December. It set its next proration hearing for Jan. 11, early enough to hear and act on reports of whether or not the increase was enough to meet the fuel oil demands.

"If it was not, we will give them some more," said Chairman Olin Culberson of the oil regulatory body.

Extra Day Added

The commission's January proration schedule permits a maximum daily production of 2,122,696 barrels of crude oil, but estimated underproduction of 4.5 per cent of the allowable would reduce the probable average flow to 2,027,175 barrels.

This was 252,175 barrels daily more than the U. S. Bureau of Mines' estimate of needed production of crude alone. Indicated production of 160,259 barrels daily of natural gasoline and distillates would increase the total liquid petroleum production in Texas to 2,187,434 barrels daily.

The indicated increase for January was accomplished by adding one producing day generally to fields over the state. Thus, the big East Texas field, which had 20 producing days in December, will have 21 in January. Generally, the pattern calls for 26 producing days in January compared with 25 in December.

The Panhandle field remained exempt.

PRICE BOOSTS GRANTED ON KEROSENE, HEATING OILS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) — OPA, acting to avert threatened shortages of kerosene and heating oils in the East, today ordered immediate temporary price increases for these products in two areas.

The increases, which will continue in effect through April 30, ner a half cent a gallon for kerosene, range oil and No. 1 fuel oil, and two-tenths of a cent a gallon for No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4 fuel oils.

In the Gulf coast area, the price hikes apply only to sales by refiners and tanker terminals for shipment to the East coats area.

The increases are being granted in the Gulf coast area, OPA explained, because it was a major source of supply for the East.

From 1930 through 1944, 3,691 jacks and 1,818 jennets were registered with the standard jack and jennet registry, Kansas City, Mo.

Pelly Is Little Town But Some Big Ideas

PELLY, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Pelly has established itself as a little town with big ideas.

Not only do its 5,000 residents want to annex neighboring Baytown and its 9,000 population but they want a city manager form of government just like the big cities.

At a council meeting last night Pelly voted to adopt the manager form of government and Mayor E. D. Cleveland began taking applications for the job. The council explained today its decision to hire a manager was because of the rapid growth of the city.

Two More Deaths Are Probed In Cline Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—The investigation into the activities of Alfred Leonard Cline, 56-year-old ex-convict held here on a Dallas, Tex., murder charge, was broadened today to include the death of two more women.

The number of persons police believe died under suspicious circumstances after their association with the former choir singer reached 10. Seven were elderly widows, one an 18-year-old girl and two men.

Picture Is Identified

The deaths of two Fort Collins, Colo., women in 1925 were the latest to be introduced into the investigation. The women were Cline's first wife, Mrs. Bessie Hannah Lentz Cline, and a young woman, Annabelle O'Laughlin, with whom he allegedly eloped.

Meanwhile, San Francisco authorities said that attendants in a Macon, Ga., mortuary had identified a picture of Cline as the man who ordered the cremation of the body of a woman under the name of Mrs. Alma Willa Carter of San Francisco.

Police believe she was Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter, Bloomington, Ind., widow.

Waiting To Be Compared

Photostats of the signature of an "F. L. Klein" on signed Macon mortuary and hotel registers have been forwarded to San Francisco for comparison with Cline's signature.

Dallas authorities forwarded to San Francisco police the hotel signatures of an "F. L. Klein" who ordered the cremation of a woman identified there as Alice W. Carpenter. San Francisco police contended that she was Mrs. Delora Krebs Cline, Chicago widow and Cline's last known wife.

These signatures will be compared with a signature Cline allegedly wrote in Portland when he orded the cremation of a woman he said was the former Mrs. Krebs, but who police suspect was Mrs. Isabelle Van Natta, missing San Francisco widow.

Houston Dealers To Build Homes For Vets

HOUSTON, Dec. 9. (U.P.)—Houston lumber dealers today pledged themselves to building homes for returning veterans in 1946 as they went on record as endorsing OPA's fight against black market lumber.

At a meeting yesterday the Houston retail lumber dealers passed resolutions commending the OPA in its fight against the black market lumber trade and recommended that dealers throughout Texas begin building homes for servicemen as soon as materials are available.

"We should be going good withing six months, but many items present a worse bottleneck than lumber," Lynn Boyd, president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, said. "There are plumbing fixtures and electrical supplies, for instance."

"We are advising everyone to postpone building if it is at all possible. Personally, I wouldn't build a house for myself for another year."

THE MANNER in which certain District 1-AA grid players stood out in the minds of those who watched them the closest, coaches and sports writers, was mirrored in the announcement Wednesday morning of the All-District 1-AA team selected by the Amerillo Globe News

The Avalanche-Journal announced its All-District team several days ago, taking only the votes of the coaches of the six clubs in the race. With only six ballots to count, there was less voting done, but it got the ame results.

The small vote with only the six head coaches found only trouble in selecting a set of ends for the two teams, and lacked enough votes to break an eleven man tie for a fourth backfield post.

The addition of the votes from assistant coaches and sports writers.. broke this tie in the backfield, and reshuffled the ends. The Amarillo selection admitted the most heated competition came in selecting the ends. In the backfield it was the same picture, five boys battled for the first team, and Plainview's Jack Weldon nosed out Plainview's Jack Williams.

Borger carried off the second team Borger carried off the second team berths on both teams, with Eicke of Brownfield getting the fourth spot on the Amarillo team, where the tie was broken.

The Amarillo voting found the same top five ends. On the Lubbock team, Glasgow of Amarillo led the ends, with Bond of Plainview and Dunham of Pampa tied for the other end position. This gave Gerald Davis of Lubbock and Houston of Amarillo the second team wing positions.

At Amarillo Houston jumped to the top to tie with Bond for the wing posts on the first team. One vote behind each of them were Davis of Lubbock and Glasgow of Amarillo on the second team. One vote behind them cafe Dunham of Pampa, well ahead of any other end.

Only one player, George Brewer, was picked first at Lubbock by every coach. On the Amarillo team, three were picked by everyone. They were Brewer,Harland, Collins of Amarillo and Jim Terrell of Pampa at tackle.

Yep, you can say that the boys picked this year on the All-District 1-AA team are really all-district stars, proven and tested in every way.

The same two Lubbock boys, Brewer and Presley, were picked on both teams. Others mentioned at Amarillo included Gerald Davis at end on the second team. Noel Sikes got honorable mention as a back. Dick Schmidt was honorable mention as an end. O. C. Foster and Wayne Cobb had honorable mention at tackles, and Stoney Wall was fifth high guard in the district.

I'll be seeing you.

Coach Bob Berry Back At East Texas State

COMMERCE, Tex., Dec. 19—Bob Berry, tiny mite of the Lone Star conference, has resumed his job as head football coach at East Texas State after an absence of three years. He had been in the Navy.

A Lt. Comdr., Berry's first assignment was at Hensley Field. He returned here from Alameda, Calif., where he was assigned to the admiral's staff. Returning with the East Texas mentor was Darrell Tully, who, incidentally, entered the Navy the same time Berry did.

Tully, a Lieut. in the Navy before being discharged, is a member of the coaching staff.

Lufkin Coach Given $1,000 Diamond Ring

LUFKIN, Tex., Dec. 19 (U.P.) — Coach R. M. (Puss) Erwin of the Lufkin High school Panthers today wore a $1,000 diamond ring, given him last night at the team's annual football banquet by Lufkin fans and the town's Lions club.

Twenty-two squad members were awarded letters. Mike Brumbelow, a coach at Texas Christian university, was principal speaker.

Chalk Talks Feature Longhorn Workouts

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (AP)—Coach D. X. Bible kept his champion Texas Longhorns indoors today for more than an hour of chalk talks and signal drills and then sent them out into freezing weather to do plenty of running to get in shape for their Cotton Bowl battle against Missouri.

All last week the Steers engaged in rough scrimmages and lengthy offensive and defensive drills, but icy weather has kept them from settling down to hard work this week. However, plenty of head-knocking is scheduled for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday before the boys lay off for Christmas.

Frogs Name O'Neal Most Valuable Star

FORT WORTH, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—"Most valuable player" was the way members of the Texas Christian university football team described J. C. O'Neal, tackle and co-captain of the 1945 Frogs, at an election Tuesday.

O'Neal played nearly all of every game on the past season's schedule.

OAKES STILL SICK

COLUMBIA Mo., Dec. 19 (AP)—Roland Oakes, starting right end, was still in the hospital today and three other Tiger regulars were nursing colds that kept them away from practice, but Coach Chauncey Simpson said he believed he would be able to take along all 36 of his gridmen when the University of Missouri squad departs Friday for the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Schoolboy Semi-Finals Due To Pack In 50,000 Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

More than 50,000 are expected to jam stadiums at Fort Worth and Houston Saturday for the Texas schoolboy football semi-finals.

Sell-outs appeared certain at both places—in fact, all tickets offered yesterday for the Highland Park-Wichita Falls game at Fort Worth were snapped up immediately.

Reports from Houston indicated that Rice stadium, which takes care of over 27,000, will be filled to capacity for the battle between Goose Creek and Waco.

Tickets All Sold

Fort Worth's Farrington field handles better than 20,000 and with all tickets at Fort Worth, Highland Park and Wichita Falls already sold, it was planned to either put in end zone bleachers or sell 5,000 standing-room places.

With capacity houses seeing all of the state play-off games, the largest crowd in history for the finals is expected next week—provided the game is staged in a stadium large enough to accomodate the turn-out.

Torres Wins Again In Wrestling Show

Ted Torres, the Chicago speedster, hung up another win here last night beating Tom Felis in the main event of the weekly wrestling show at the Lubbock Horse and Mule arena.

Torres brought his favorite hold into use to subdue the newcomer to the local mat, after the two had gained the main event nod in the opening rassel-royal by being the survivors among the six starters.

Torres took the first fall of the match in 11 minutes with his wagon wheel roll hold. Felis brought into play a series of knee bumps to win the second fall in 21 minutes, and even the match.

After eight minutes of the third fall, Felis again fell victim to the wagon wheel roll, and Torres was the winner.

Milt Olsen gained the decision over Charley Trijo in the semi-final of the card. The first fall lasted ten minutes, with Olsen winning it with a series of drop kicks and a jack knife. Trijo employed the same drop kick method to even the match in 21 minutes by taking the second fall.

Olsen returned to the ring, meaning business, and it took him only two minutes to smother Trijo with a series of knee jacks and a body pin.

Ivan Jones won the opening preliminary by a default, gained because Joe Parker, the other new comer to the show, was unable to come back after the rassel-royal.

Parker was the first of the six eliminated, and was thrown into the ropes, his right leg catching between the ropes and hitting against the ring post. He snapped a tendon in his leg and was advised by a doctor at the ringside to forfeit the match.

The word "derrick" comes from the name of an English hangman of the 17th century.

Class AA Teams Given Shakeup

PALESTINE, Tex., Dec. 19. (AP)—Conroe was elected to membership in the District 12-AA football competition at a meeting of the district executive committee at Nacogdoches last night.

At the same time, Athens and Livingston were dropped, Bonner Frizzell, Palestine superintendent of schools and chairman of the committee, said today.

PASADENA SEEKS SPOT IN HOUSTON DISTRICT

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 19. (AP) — The Interscholastic League today took under advisement Pasadena's request to be assigned to District 13-AA, Rodney J. Kidd, athletic director of the league said.

The request was presented the league's executive committee by V. W. Miller, superintendent of schools at Pasadena. Pasadena has been assigned in a Class A district, but enrollment there now exceeds 500 and must be reassigned to a Class AA district, Kidd said.

Kidd said several days would be required to study the request before the committee would announce a decision.

Kidd said a delegation from District 14AA (Port Arthur) was in Austin this morning to protest Conroe and Pasadena both being assigned to that district The delegation learned, however, that Conroe had been assigned last night to 12AA. Having no objections to accepting Pasadena alone, the delegates returned home happily," Kidd said.

ATHENS IN VAN DISTRICT

ATHENS, Tex., Dec. 19. (AP) — Athens High school, which was ruled out of District 12-AA football competition at a district meet in Nacogdoches last night, has been placed in the Van district, R. J. Kidd, state director of athletics, said today.

BALLINGER IS REJECTED

SWEETWATER, Dec. 19.—The application of the Ballinger Bearcats to graduate to the District 3-AA schoolboy family was rejected here last night by a secret ballot of the district executive committee. The fight against Ballinger's entry into the league was reported led by Odessa schools. The count was announced as a 4 to 3 no vote by the committee.

Bramlett To Captain Navy Team In 1946

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 19. (U.P.) —Leon C. Bramlett, an end, will captain the 1946 Navy football team. Athletic Director Capt. Charles Humphrey revealed yesterday.

Bramlett's home is at Clarksside, Miss. He succeeds Dick Duden, a graduating senior and also an end.

Top Comeback Is Hank Greenberg

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, a 34-year-old inspiration to every returning serviceman, staged the biggest comeback in sports in 1945 with a grand slam home run that won the pennant for Detroit on the last day of the season and his slugging for the victorious Tigers in the World Series.

Hailed by a majority of the 74 sports editors participating in the annual Associated Press year-end poll, the discharged Air Force captain picked up 29 first place votes, nine second place ballots and four thirds for a total of 109 points, outdistancing all opposition.

Second place went to Ben Hogan, another ex-serviceman, who earned 30 points by cleaning up in the pro golf circles at Nashville, Montgomery, Portland and Orlando after his discharge.

Sarah Palfrey Cooke, who returned to competition after three years of inactivity to defeat Pauline Betz and win the national tennis championship and No. 1 ranking, placed third with 28 points and received five first place nods.

Next came Bo McMillin's Indiana football team that won the Big 10 championship and Tony Cuccinello, Chicago White Sox veteran infielder, who led the American League in batting all year until the final day when he lost out to George Stirnweiss of New York by one point. Each had 21 points.

Other outstanding comebacks, determined on a basis of three points for each first place vote, two for second and one for third; (First place votes in parentheses):

Tony Cuccinello (3)	21
Washington baseball (4)	20
St. Mary's football (5)	16
Hank Borowy (2)	11
Bobby Feller (1)	10
Cleveland pro football (2)	10
Chicago Cubs (1)	10
Happy Chandler (2)	9
Meryll Frost (2)	9
Columbia football	8
Claude Passeau (2)	7

Lone Star Loop Sets Rules On Servicemen

COMMERCE, Tex., Dec. 19 (AP)—The final revision of Lone Star conference regulations favored the ex-servicemen, L. I. Smith, president of the conference said today.

Faculty representatives met in Dallas today and unanimously agreed to allow any ex-serviceman to be eligible immediately upon registration, with the following stipulations:

1. Competition while in service will not count as a part of the athlete's allowed four years of intercollegiate competition.

2. Pre-service intercollegiate competition in the Lone Star conference or elsewhere will be counted on the usual basis except that the transfer rule will not apply to an ex-serviceman unless he has attended some other college after being discharged.

The conference is resuming athletics after being out during the war.

At the same time public relations and news service directors got together and mapped plans for furnishing sports coverage to Texas newspapers and press services.

A temporary organization was perfected with Jim Roebuck of East Texas State as chairman and Mrs. Dude Neville McCloud of North Texas State secretary.

Our Ships, And China

Mr. Forrestal Creates A Stir

SECRETARY of the Navy Forrestal created considerable stir in Congress with his proposal to turn over excess American fighting ships to the Republic of China.

In addition to helping China with ships, Forrestal advocated that the President be authorized to detail naval officers and enlisted personnel to assist China on all maritime matters.

Most of the criticism took the form that the United States would thus be using its Navy to play world politics and to give Chiang Kai-Shek a stronger hand in his fight with the Communists.

If Forrestal meant that the U. S. make an outright gift to China, his critics might have a case. For those Chinese Communists capable of reasoning would view such a step as a bold move to help Chiang at their expense. In view of State department instructions to General Marshall to try all means to negotiate a settlement between the two Chinese factions, a gift of fighting vessels to the republic might be highly improper at this time.

The current U. S. policy in China, according to high officials, is based largely on the necessity of removing Japanese troops to their homeland. Thus they explain the continued presence of American fighting men in China and the use of U. S. planes to transport Chiang's troops.

Therefore, the presentation of fighting ships to Chiang obviously could not be passed over as a necessary means of helping expedite the Jap transfer.

But if Forrestal proposed that the release be effected on a business basis—money received for value rendered—there seems to be no valid reason why the United States should not thus dispose of any surplus ships. The central government evidently would not be able to make a cash transaction, but it might be able to meet liberal terms.

Evan a sale of ships to Chiang doubtless would displease the Communists, but they would be without a sound foundation for argument, since it is generally conceded that a nation has the privilege of selling what it pleases, when it pleases and to whom it pleases.

Let's Keep A Real Record!

SOONER or later, suggestions for a world flag will start flowing in to the United Nations organization. With that in mind, we should like to pass along the word that someone ought to make it a point to write down in large, black letters, on indestructible paper, the name of the person whose flag is accepted. If this is done, maybe we can sidestep a re-currence of the controversy which long has raged on and off over Betsy Ross.

Some authorities say Betsy made the first United States flag and presented it to General Washington. Others claim she didn't, either; it was a couple of other people.

However, there is no doubt that Betsy, a Philadelphia girl, made flags for the government. There are official records to show that she manufactured ships' colors in 1877.

Betsy came of a large family, one of 17 children. She was the daughter of Sampel Griscom, who is credited with building most of historic Independence hall in Philadelphia. At 21, she eloped with John Ross, and thereupon drew the wrath of her Quaker consorts, who disowned for "marrying out of meeting."

It was when a gunpowder blast killed her husband that she turned to flag-making. Loving her work, in which she justifiably felt strong patriotic pride, she made flags until her death in 1836 at the age of 84.

Over her grave at Philadelphia, the Stars and Stripes still fly.

Those Jap Cyclotrons

SEVERAL American scientists have been doing a lot of sobbing over the destruction of Japan's five cyclotrons.

They term the action by U. S. occupation authorities "barbarism," "wanton and stupid" and a "crime against humanity." They point out that the great, complicated machines do not make atomic bombs, but merely are research instruments.

The 200-ton apparatus may not manufacture atomic bombs but, according to what we read in the scientific pieces, it is necessary to the research which must go into the making of the super-destructive missles.

We cannot understand the scientists' viewpoint, and, furthermore, cannot quite grasp what drives them to believe as they do, unless it is an affinity for strange instruments, regardless of whoever possesses them.

It would be folly to leave the Japs with anything with which they might use to evolve some death-dealing contraption. The destruction of the cyclotrons was a part of the Allied plan to eliminate every vestige of Japan's war-making potential. The scientists use the phrase, "crime against humanity," eroneously. The occupation officials are not guilty of committing any overt act; instead, they sought to remove some of the chances for perpetration of another "crime against humanity."

Hay fever is one of the worst of diseases. You can't cure it and it won't kill you.

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the 38th of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II.

UNREMITTING PRESSURE

IT had always been the concept of the United Chiefs of Staff that Japan could best be defeated by a series of amphibious attacks across the far reaches of the Pacific. Oceans are formidable barriers, but for the nation enjoying naval superiority they become highroads of invasion.

MARSHALL

Japan's attack on our fleet at Pearl Harbor gave her a tremendous but nevertheless temporary advantage. The Japanese had reckoned without the shipyards of America and the fighting tradition of the United States Navy. Even before parity with the Japanese fleet had been regained, the Navy successfully maintained communications with Australia and had undertaken limited offensives in the Solomons to halt the enemy advance. A desperate courage stopped the Japanese before Australia in the now historic battle of the Coral Sea and then shortly afterward utterly smashed the Japanese advance toward the United States itself in the decision action at Midway.

The broad strategic allocation of resources among the theaters was controlled by the Combined Chiefs of Staff, but the actual control of operations in the Pacific had been retained by the U. S. Chiefs of Staff. At the Casablanca Conference, the Combined Chiefs agreed that Japan must be prohibited from further expansion and from consolidating and exploiting her current holdings. This resolution was agreed upon even though we were at the very moment having great difficulty in concentrating sufficient resources to defeat the European Axis.

Global Warfare

It has been declared axiomatic that a nation cannot successfully wage war on two fronts. With a full appreciation of the difficulties and hazards involved, we felt compelled to wage a war not only on two fronts, but on many fronts. Thus we arrived at the concept of global war in which the vast power of American democracy was to be deployed all over the earth.

At the TRIDENT Conference of May 1943 in Washington when the specific strategy of the global war was conceived, it was determined to step up the pace of the advance on Japan. Then a few months later, in August 1943, at the QUADRANT Conference in Quebec, the specific routes of the advance on Japan were laid out. Gen. Douglas MacArthur was directed to continue his operations up the New Guinea coast to reach the Philippines by the fall of 1944. Operations in the Gilberts, the Marshalls, and the Marianas were agreed to, and it was forecast that by the spring of 1945 we would be able to secure a lodgment in the Ryukyus on the threshold of the Japanese homeland.

Admiral King was confident that somewhere during the advances, probably during the Marianas or the Philippine campaigns, the United States fleets would meet and decisively defeat the Japanese Navy. No long-range military forecast could have been more accurate.

At the QUADRANT Conference General Arnold proposed an air plan for the softening of Japan It was later approved and carried into execution. It called for the establishment of bases in China, in the Marianas, and other Pacific Islands from which would operate the huge B-29 superfortresses then only just going into productior

At the turn of the year 1943 Army forces in the South Pacific arear were added to General MacArthur's strategic command. It was the intention of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to maintain the initiative, advancing by amphibious flanking actions on the Philippines and the Japanese Islands from the south and from the east. The advance across the tremendous reaches of the Central Pacific was placed under the command of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz. There were two axes of the operations on the southern flank—one in New Guinea commanded by Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, the other in the Solomons under Admiral William F. Halsey.

It was General MacArthur's intention to proceed by a series of envelopments up the coast of New Guinea and into the Philippines. We now enjoyed superiority both on the sea and in the air. He was therefore able to land his troops where the Japanese were weakest and confine their stronger forces in pockets from which, because of incredibly difficult terrain an dour air and sea superiority, they could never break out. As a result there were at the time of surrender hundreds of thousands of Japanese troops isolated in the jungles of the Pacific islands, dying on the vine and of no further use to their Emperor. As General MacArthur reported toward the end of 1944:

"he enemy garrisons which have been bypassed in the Solomons and New Guinea represent no menace to current or future operations. heir caacity for organized offensive effort has passed he various processes of attrition will eventually account for their final disposition. The actual time of their destruction is of little or no importance and their influence as a contributing factor to the war is already negligible. The actual process of their immediate destruction by assault methods would unquestionably involve heavy loss of life without adequate compensating strategic advantages."

Even with the intense preoccupation in the campaigns in Europe durin gthe past two years, this great nation had been able steadily to increase the resources available in the Pacific until at the moment of German collapse General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz were established on the threshold of the Japanese homeland and the industries and cities of Japan were crumbling under our aerial bombardment. The U. S. Navy dominated the Pacific The Commonwealth Government, under President Osmena, had been reestablished in power and in residence i.. the Philippines.

Sadler For Governor Campaign Is Pushed

DALLAS, Dec. 19 (AP)—An application from friends of Jerry Sadler to place his name on next summer's Democratic primary ballot as a candidate for governor was received here today by W. H. Kittrell, Jr., secretary of the state Democratic executive committee.

Sadler, former railroad commissioner, has returned to civilian life after serving as lieutenant colonel in the Army.

The application was filed by "ex-sergeant Earl Forbes and 100 ex-servicemen and friends of Jerry Sadler at Arp, Texas." It was accompanied by a money order for $100 to cover the required filing fee.

Kittrell accepted the application, but said he would notify Forbes that it was customary for a candidate to file such applications himself. Certain required information also was lacking.

Kittrell said, however, if the application is amended to meet legal requirements, Sadler legally will be in the governor's race, even though he personally files no application.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

WELL Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, New York's little flower-mayor, is going to retire to private life at the end of this year, but—

—heretofore only New Yorkers had to listen to him, but after January 1 of next year his voice will blare into the ears of millions of people over a coast-to-coast network at a reputed salary of $100,000 a year.

The Little Flower will be a commentator on the radio. He will talk about everything—as he has always done—in his own inimitable voice and style, he will rant and rave and cry bloody murder—and he will do a lot of good.

BRANDEIS

Mayor LaGuardia and I have not been very good friends. He hates criticism and I have criticized him often. But I like the little guy and I wish him well. He has courage and isn't afraid to call a spade a spade. And, goodness knows, that sort of stuff is necessary nowadays.

However, I thoroughly disagree with him on something he said at the press conference when his new connection was announced.

A reporter asked him whether he would be under any restrictions in his radio talks.

"Have I ever been?" he answered" If I were I would have to change and I told my wife that if I ever changed she should take out my old army .45 and shoot me."

Well, if I didn't change all the time I should ask my wife to shoot me.

Every right-minded person changes continually, and anybody who isn't willing to change is a stubborn, childish, self-centered, opinionated fool.

What kind of people would we be if at 45 or 50 we still were the same roisterers and lightheads that we were at 20?

What good is experience unless it changes us?

What is progress but change?

Would you go back to the life of fifty years ago? What if none of us had change? We would still have kerosene lamps and horse-drawn street cars and radio, and the airplane would be unknown.

What if medicine hadn't changed? Where would penicillin be and the sulfa drugs and all the other new cures and preventives?

LOOK at yourself. Compare yourself with the you of your adolescence—or even with the you before Pearl Harbor.

Why, it is change alone that can make this a better world and change alone that can lead us from barbarism—of which there is still entirely too much—to real civilization.

So just don't kid yourself, dear Mayor Fiorello. In spite of yourself, you are changing—if you don't believe it just wait until the old arthritis sets in.

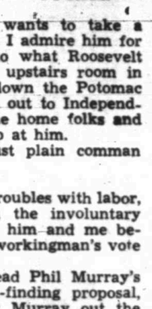

HST "Takes Inventory"

Asks Opinions On His Service

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT Truman's political aides have recently taken to canvassing his friends for their reaction to his eight months' Presidential record and to ask— their opinion on his chance for re-election in 1948. The survey constitutes an admission of their secret concern over such embarrassing postwar difficulties as domestic labor disputes and foreign disappointments.

A particularly astute politician from the Far West, who has been mentioned as a possibility for a cabinet post, pulled no punches in giving his present-day estimate of Mr. Truman's status and prospects. Since he is a man of positive opinions and a racy style of speech, his remarks should be given in quotes.

TUCKER

"First, since you ask me," he said, "stop trying to humanize Truman too much. The American people know that he is just an ordinary human being, and they like his qualities of simplicity, modesty and sincerity. But don't keep on ramming those things down their throats. They have been taught to look up to the presidency, and it won't hurt to let them crane their necks a bit in doing it.

"Another thing! If Truman wants to take a drink and play a bit of poker — I admire him for it because I do, too—let him do what Roosevelt did. Invite a few friends ot an upstairs room in the White House or taken 'em down the Potomac on his yacht. But don't send him out to Independence or Carruthersville where the home folks and the reporters can gawp and yawp at him.

"That isn't hypocrisy. It's just plain comman sense!

TOUGH: "You ask me about his troubles with labor, espeecially the CIO", continued the involuntary adviser. "That's a tough one for him and me because he can't afford to lose the workingman's vote in '48. I can't either.

"My first impulse, when I read Phil Murray's defiance on the President's fact-finding proposal, was that the boss should throw Murray out the window pronto, as Roosevelt gave the gate to John L. Lewis when the coal miner got sassy.

"That might not be smart politics right now, although I have a hunch that the American people would like it. They don't want to see their President bossed or led around by a few labor leaders who couldn't be elected dog catcher.

WALLACE?: "But why not put Henry Wallace to work on the labor crowd? Here is a real chance to see whether Henry can pull his oar in the political boat!

"He has been the darling of the CIO-ers. He was the Hillman-Murray candidate for Vice President at Chicago, and he might have made it if Truman hadn't been their second choice, to stop Jimmie Byrnes. He has carried their torch for 60,000,000 jobs, government favors to the unions and for all their liberal ideas.

"If a Democratic organization man were kicking up as Murray is now, Truman would send Bob Hannegan around to straighten out the party worker or else—. Well, why doesn't Truman call Henry to the White House and ask him to work his magic on the CIO-ers? If I were the President, I would say to Henry, 'I'll give you 48 hours to fix things up with the labor crowd or to pack your toothbrush, and get back to Iowa!'

"I know that you inherited Henry from Roosevelt, and that you gotta keep him to appease the liberal bunch. But why don't you try to find out whether he has the influence with the left and labor factior that he is advertised to have?"

SABOTAGE: The Vinson-May scheme to sabotage the administration's program for an Army-Navy merger reveals for the first time the existence of a novel situation behind the scenes in the War and Navy departments. These two sponsors of a separate air force admit privately that their proposal is designed to block the plan for unification of our armed forces.

Vinson, who heads the House Naval Affairs committee, makes no secret of his ulterior purpose. He and his friends in the fleet have openly testified against the Presidential program. They at least have been frank and honest.

But May, chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, shows by his action that the generals are not unanimous for the merger. The officers, under pressure from their superiors, have gone on Congressional record for the change, but they have taken this method of outflanking it without subjecting themselves to discipline. A secret ballot at the Pentagon building would be negative by about 70 per cent.

ORPHAN: Chairman Vinson has no hesitancy in explaining the Navy's bread-and-butter reasons for opposition to lumping that branch with the Army and the Air Forces.

Under unification, argues the Georgia member, the top figures in the organization would be the President, the Secretary of National Defense, the Secretary of War, the Undersecretary of War and the Chief of Staff.

Recognizing that Mr. Truman is an "Army" rather than a "Navy" man, the admirals figure that the four officials listed above, and especially the Chief of Staff, would be drawn from the military rather than the naval forces.

"The Navy," say Vinson, "would become an orphan. We would have to beg for money for the surface and air arms from men who favor the Army. Moreover, if we get both unification and universal military training, with the Army in charge of both reforms, the United States will be a militarized nation."

TEXAS
By Gordon Shearer

AUSTIN.—Terror comparable to the Clyde Barrow era may come again to Texas if the general public doesn't awaken to the postwar crime wave, State police declare.

Though thefts and burglary lead the crime parade, forgery and swindling is costing Texans $6,000,000 annually. Hundreds of war plant workers have changed from protecting American rights by making guns to armed robbery, police say.

Col. Homer Garrison, veteran director of the Department of Public Safety, said he is not surprised to find crime increasing. Colonel Garrison blames juvenile delinquency as troublemaker No. 1.

"It's the greatest problem facing the country today," he said. "The predominant age of arrest of persons engaged in crime for the past year is 17 years for boys and 19 for girls.

DELAYED: After four years of waiting, Lt. Frankie M. Bryant and his wife, Edith, are continuing their honeymoon.

Two weeks after their wedding in 1941, Lt. Bryant left for overseas. He thought he would go to South America, where Edith was going to join him. Instead he was sent to the Philippines and a short time later was captured by the Japanese.

He was interned in four different prison camps.

Now he has returned home to Fort Worth and the Bryants have gone on their honeymoon.

AWARDS: Three high school students, two from Texas and the third from Oklahoma, have been awarded Savino scholarships to the North Texas State college School of Music.

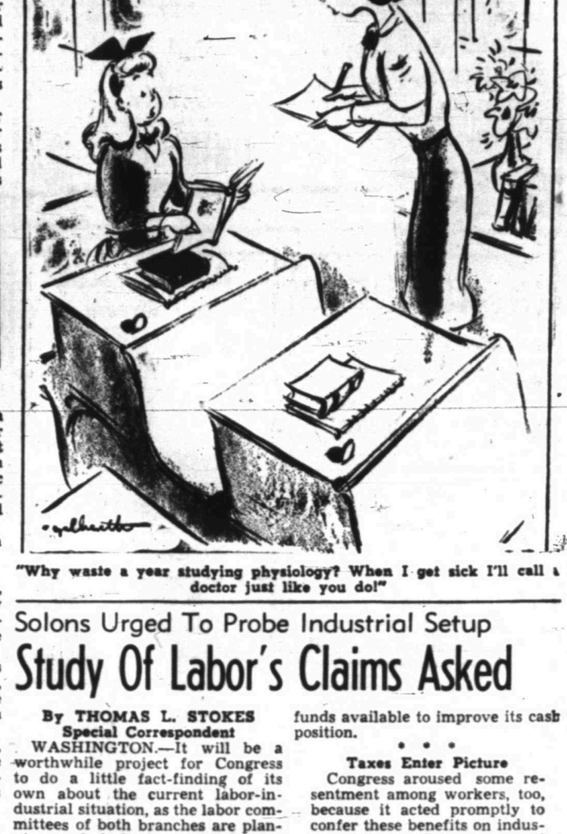

Miss Mary Lou Colvin of Tulsa, Okla., was named winner of the piano scholarship. Miss Margaret Bomart of Amarillo won the voice scholarship, and Miss Louann Hardy of Lubbock was awarded the violin scholarship.

The one-year scholarships are given by Domenico Savino of New York.

Solons Urged To Probe Industrial Setup

Study Of Labor's Claims Asked

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—It will be a worthwhile project for Congress to do a little fact-finding of its own about the current labor-industrial situation, as the labor committees of both branches are planning to do before legislation is drafted.

STOKES

Some things need to be cleared up.

It is obvious that some basic matters of bread and meat are at stake in the strikes that have caused so much concern here. Workers don't go on strike at the beginning of winter, accepting a stoppage of income and facing a dreary Christmas season on the picket line, without real grievances that go to the essentials of living for themselves and their families.

They came into the era of peace, after having made a contribution to the war that was praised on every side, to find a cut in their wages and with prices of everything they had to buy still up and going higher.

There is a striking contrast with the situation of their bosses involved, too, which was very cogently put by Philip Murray to the Senate Labor committee.

Industry Enjoys Boost

The workers, the CIO president said, "have suffered a cut which in view of the present level of prices has brought them substantially below standards accepted by authorities in government and elsewhere as necessary for the maintenance of minimum healthful living conditions.

"They suffered this cut in the face of the most amazing profit levels in the history of American industry. I am afraid that it is an unfortunate fact that members of Congress have not fully digested and considered the implications of the financial situation of American industry at the close of this war.

"THE Securities and Exchange commission has estimated that the net working capital of all United States corporations will be about $50 billion at the end of 1946. Their liquid reserves will have increased by $25½ billion since 1939.

"In 1945 corporate profits, after taxes, are estimated to run almost three times as great as the prewar average of corporate profits after taxes. It is estimated on the basis of thoroughly reliable data that profits after taxes in 1946 will equal or exceed the wartime levels."

This makes for a comfortable situation for industry, particularly big industry in which workers now are trying to get wage increases. But beyond that Congress has been most generous to industry. It not only repealed its excess profits taxes, but also moved up the date for making some billion of refunds available to improve its cash position.

Taxes Enter Picture

Congress aroused some resentment among workers, too, because it acted promptly to confer these benefits on industry while it still has not acted on President Truman's request for increased unemployment benefits, and only now is completing action on a much diluted form of the "full employment" bill.

Labor has charged that big industries are exploiting this favorable position to strike at it, pointing out that big corporatons, such as General Motors, can afford to face strikes without any appreciable losses immediately. The excess profits tax repeal becomes effective the first of the year. By a sutdown of production meanwhile corporations can save themselves excess profits taxes for the rest of this year. It also is charged that some companies are delaying reconversion and resumption of full production for the same reason.

SENATOR Morse (R., Ore.), a member of the labor committee, is curious about all this and wants the committee to get the facts. He wants to find out, he says, "whether some in industry are taking advantage of tax savings to carry on a fight with labor at the expense of the whole public." Perhaps Congress, he suggested, should consider preventing the use of corporation funds in this way to fight labor.

What Senator Morse, former public member of the War Labor board, wants to find out are some factors that have been overlooked in the present conflict. The public interest demands that they be brought to light.

Western Union Faces Threat Of Walkout

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (U.P) — The country's Western Union telegraph operators with the exception of those in New York City have been told to be ready to strike Jan. 7 unless the wage demands are met before then.

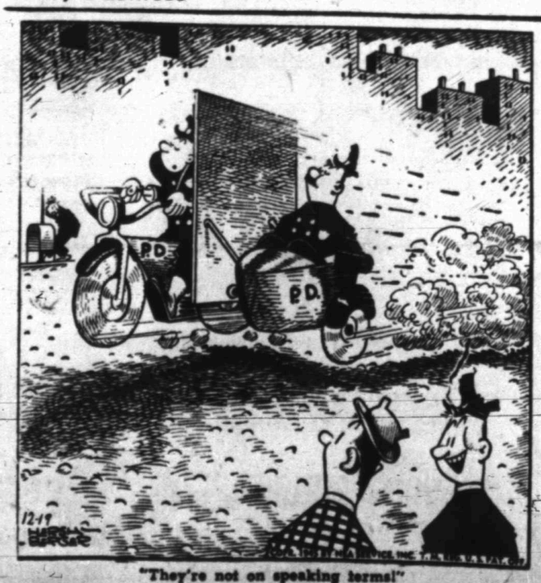

Approximately 48,000 operators are involved. They are members of the commercial telegraphers' union. The New York City operators are not affected because they are members of the CIO.

The Jan. 7 strike date was disclosed in a telegram sent to the various union locals by the union general committee. The committee also warned against any premature strikes. It said that members encouraging walkouts before the strike date would be expelled.

Union members voted approximately 6 to 1 in favor of a strike in a National Labor Relations board election Dec. 1. They are seeking a 25 per cent wage increase. That would amount to about 15 cents an hour each. There also are 13 issues before the U. S. Concilation service.

SELECTED ISSUES ADVANCE

NEW YORK, De. 19 (AP)—Steels, retail stores and aircraft generally advanced fractions to around a point in today's stock market but there were plenty of unchanged and fractionally lower issues.

The feeling in Wall street was that the sharp selloff on Monday served as a substantial technical correction of the recent advance to 15-year highs. Tax selling still appeared, however.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite declined .1 of a point to 74.8 of 886 issues dealt in, 472 advanced, 251 declined and 163 were unchanged. Volume aggregated 970,000 shares against 1,350,000 yesterday.

General American Investors hit a new yearly top on an increased dividend payment announcement.

Higher were Bethlehem, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Consolidated Vultee, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe and Southern Railway.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Sperry, American Telephone, American Can, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris, Southern Pacific and Texas Co.

Rails advanced in the bond list.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP) — The cotton futures market moved through a quiet session today as traders appeared to await fresh incentives. After displaying early steadiness on mill buying, the market eased on scattered hedge selling.

Futures closed 5 cents a bale higher to 35 cents lower.

Exes Map Great Stadium Rally

Replying to numerous inquiries, Jason O. Gordon, president of the Lubbock chapter of the Texas Tech alumni, said Wednesday that no personal solicitation campaign will be made immediately in an effort to raise funds toward the $300,000 athletic stadium planned for the college.

The steering committee for the drive, meeting last night in Gordon's office, planned the program for a stadium rally to be held Jan. 7 in a local hotel, details of which will be announced soon. As a result of discussions, the committee suggested that donations be by chock, wherever possible, and urged that address of the person contributing be included so that college files on contributions could be complete. The cancelled check also would serve as a receipt and as memento for the persons part in financing a new stadium for Tech.

January 7 Rally

The Jan. 7 rally is planned for all persons interested in Tech, including wives and husbands of alumni, as well as alumni, Gordon reported.

He said persons wishing to make contributions are to mail their checks, money orders or cash to the Texas Tech Foundation, Stadium Fund, Box 96, Tech Station in Lubbock.

Drive By Ex-Students

Gordon said donations had begun to come in regularly through the mails and a successful campaign is promised. The drive was organized by a group of ex-students meeting Monday night.

Forms are being printed and will be distributed at the January gathering for solicitations. The forms will be filled in showing the complete address and amount contributed by the former students. These lists will be kept in duplicate, one copy for the alumni files and one for the foundation.

Gordon requested that persons wishing to give any amount from $1 upward send their donations immediately to the given address.

Those attending the steering committee meeting were Chairman Leonard Latch, Maurice Cowan, Brodie Puckett and Gordon.

Milk Strike Starts In Albuquerque Area

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 19. (U.P.)—The Albuquerque milk strike went into effect today and the OPA predicted no settlement can be reached until "producers resume deliveries and negotiations can proceed in an orderly fashion."

Of 233 producers in the four counties composing the Albuquerque milkshed, 220 have signed to participate in the strike, according to Mrs. Frank Schulmeister of Albuquerque.

Five hundred gallons of milk was diverted to Santa Fe today, Mrs. Schulmeister said, adding that the city recently has been 2,000 gallons a day short of its needs because of the price demand situation.

The producers are asking an increase in the ceiling price of butterfat from 92 to $1.20 a pound. Producers are now awaiting action of OPA officials in Washington.

Bernalillo, San Juan, Torrance and Valencia counties comprise the Albuquerque milkshed.

Short Illness Fatal To James E. Mullings

Funeral arrangements had not been completed late last night for James Edwin Mullings, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings of 3504 Ave. P, Bryan McDonald and Son funeral home reported. Mullings died late Tuesday at the family home following an illness of eight hours.

He had been in ill health for several years but his condition was not serious until he was stricken early Tuesday.

Other survivors are two sisters, Miss Martha Ellen Mullings of Los Angeles, Miss Juanita Fay Mullings of Lubock; and a grandmother, Mrs. F. C. Yaws of Lubbock.

The family has lived here 5½ years.

Four Hurt Here In Two-Car Collision

Four persons were injured in a two-car collision one mile east of the city limits on the Idalou highway about 5:25 p. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Glenn Thrush of route 1 suffered head and chest injuries, and was in most serious condition of the four. She is in West Texas hospital for treatment and further examintion of injuries this morning.

Joyce Thrush, 8-year-old daughter of Mrs. Thrush, suffered a broken shoulder. She and Mrs. Allene S. Chapman, route 1, who suffered bruises and lacerations, were given emergency treatment.

Winston Fletcher Foreman of 1412 Fourteenth, suffered bruises and lacerations. Foreman was driver of a coupe, coming toward Lubbock, and Mrs. Chapman was driving a coach east and making a left turn toward a dirt road at time of the accident, according to report of Texas Highway Patrolmen T. A. Rowland and Tom Majors, who investigated.

The cars were damaged considerably.

Pearl Harbor Probe

had these factors in mind at that time:

The British had evacuated Dunkirk June 4, the French fleet was in danger of falling to the Germans.

Sabotage Hints Revealed

Japan and Russia had "composed their differences" over the Manchurian border with a new agreement, June 10, "leaving the Japanese free for any adventure."

Brazilian sailors had tipped off U. S. authorities that Japanese sailors were talking about orders from Tokyo to sabotage the Panama Canal when their vessels passed through the Atlantic-Pacific link.

Strong conferred with Marshall, then chief of staff, and other high officers. They concluded that if the British Isles fell to the Nazis "a hostile move" on South America was immediately possible.

Blow At Hawaii Possible

"A diversionary attack on Hawaii was not unlikely," Strong added.

Thus, in Marshall's name, Strong put the Pacific garrisons on war alert, June 17.

The fleet made a feint toward the canal, hoping to draw any saboteurs there out of hiding by such an overt move toward the Atlantic.

But nothing untoward happened. So the alert was reduced.

After this information was developed, Rep. Keefe questioned Vice Admiral Theodore S. Wilkinson sharply about the Navy's knowledge at that time. Wilkinson, former chief of naval intelligence, said he thought the alert was simply "a practice maneuver, and very well carried out."

Wilkinson said he knew the United States wasn't "bluffing" in its stern diplomatic exchanges with Japan and:

"I didn't think the Japs were bluffing either but I didn't think they'd risk a war with America. I didn't think the Japs would attack the United States direct."

He had this impression up to Dec. 7, 1941, Wilkinson testified.

ATTACK CAUSED DEATH

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (AP) —Justice of the Peace T. E. Johnson has returned an inquest verdict that Beverly Ann O'Neill, 20, University of Texas student from Kaukauna, Wis., died of heart disease. Johnson had ordered an inquest after the student was found dead in bed, Nov. 30.

British Traitor Goes To Death For Broadcasting For Germans

By ROBERT C. DOWSON
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 19—John Amery, broken in body and spirit, was hanged in Wandsworth prison today for broadcasting Nazi propaganda in betrayal of his king after a death-cell reconciliation with his famous politician father, Leopold S. Amery.

The 33-year-old son of the former India secretary went to his death about 9 a. m. in the drab southwest London prison barely a mile from his father's town house.

Notice Is Posted

At 9:08 a. m. a notice was posted on the prison gate, "the judgement of death was this day executed on John Amery."

Amery had pleaded guilty on Nov. 28 to charges of broadcasting from Germany during the war and trying to enlist British prisoners of war in a "free corps" to fight beside the Germans against the Russians.

The traitor's father and mother visited the death cell last night and bid him farewell.

Visited By Brother

This morning, shortly before the execution hour, Amery's younger brother, Julian, visited the death cell with a tearful young woman believed to be John' actress wife, Una Wing, whom he had married in Athens before the war after a fight with his family.

The man who sprung the trap on Amery was Albert Pierrepont, the man who executed Joef Kramer, "Beast of Belsen," and 10 other Belsen concentration camp officials in Germany last week.

Once Was Playboy

Once a continental playboy who loved flashy automobiles, the shrunken, sickly traitor had become a polite and quiet man in his final weeks of life. When the prison governor told him his last chance of reprieve was gone, Amery replied, "thank you very much, sir."

At his trial he smilled crbokedly when the death verdict was announced and refused to say a word to defend himself.

The traitor's father has been a power in Conservative politics for 25 years. A schoolmate of Winston Churchill's, he served in the wartime coalition government of secretary of state for India.

John Amery led a turbulant, erring life. He left Britain in a huff when his family frowned on his marriage with an actress. They were married in Athens. Later he was involved in a bad check charge.

He fought for Franco during the Spanish Civil war, lived in France early in this war, and began broadcasting for the Germans in 1942. He tried to enlist British prisoners into the Legion of St. George and made Axis propaganda speeches in several European countries.

Cotton Destroyed In Fire In Oklahoma

HOBART, Okla., Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed 4,600 bales of cotton and one section of the Traders' compress here early today with damage estimated at $500,000.

Fire Chief Earl Harvey reported the fire was still raging at midmorning and was being fought by two fire department units.

The blaze broke out at 7 a. m., in the west section of the three sections of the huge compress. This section included the engine room and press.

Harvey said firemen were seeking to confine the blaze to the one section and prevent its spread to thousands of bales of cotton in the other sections.

He said the five-above-zero temperature made fire fighting "extremely difficult."

No injuries had been reported.

News Briefs

Christmas edition of The Westerner World, Lubbock Senior High school publication, was distributed to students and teachers Wednesday. The eight page special edition featured a red Santa Claus and the inscription "A Merry Christmas to You" across the center of the front page. The edition carried many special holiday features and Santa Claus letters from the students.—Mary Faye Bonds is editor of the school paper and Jackie Mueller and Mary Lou Lindsey are associate editors.

Funeral services for Horace Randal, 78, of Dallas, who died there Tuesday night, will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. today in Brownfield, Lubbock relatives have been informed. Randal formerly lived in Lubbock and Brownfield and he is the grandfather of Randal O. Kershner of the Slaton highway. A daughter, Mrs. John Eckert, lives at Brownfield.

A Christmas tree, party and program for Milam's Opportunity home will be given at 7 o'clock tonight at St. John's Methodist church, by the church's Hand-in-Hand class. The class, of young adults, will present gifts—and there will be a Santa Claus. The 41 children of the home will be taken to the church and delivered back at the home after the program.

Two Asphyxiated In Apartment In Laredo

LAREDO, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Double funeral services will be held this afternoon for an elderly woman and her son who were asphyxiated in their apartment.

Neighbors who had worried about not seeing them since Sunday entered the apartment last night of Mrs. Ethel W. Morton, 65, and her son, Genaro W. Morton, 32, and found them dead. A gas stove was burning. They had been dead about 36 hours.

Mrs. Morton, a member of a pioneer Corpus Christi family, had lived here for 18 years. The son was a civil engineer.

Surviving are Laredo city councilman Alphonse Leyendecker, a son of Mrs. Morton, and Mrs. Mamie Villareal of San Antonio, a sister.

TREATY HEARINGS SET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee announced today that public hearings would begin Jan. 21 on ratification of the pending Anglo-American oil treaty. Signed several weeks ago in London, the pact provides for collaboration of American and British interests in developing the oil resources throughout the world.

New Trouble In Iran Reported In Moscow

MOSCOW, Dec. 19. (AP)—A Tass dispatch from Tehran said today Iranian military and police forces were administering mass punishment in the city of Resht to those showing sympathies for the newly established autonomous government in northern Iran.

In the village of Charbash, near Resht, Tass said, soldiers and gendarmes were reported to have tortured and shot 16 persons and wounded 14 others seriously.
