President To Close World Parley Today

Truman Given Roaring Welcome At Temporary International Capital

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25—Cheering, applauding crowds running into many thousands gave President Truman a roaring welcome upon his arrival today to close the United Nations conference.

Standing in his open car, a trench raincoat about his shoulders, Mr. Truman waved his gray hat to the crowd and smiled his thanks for the biggest and noisiest acclaim since he assumed the presidency.

The city's police traffic bureau estimated the throng at 250,000 people. It said there were 100,000 in seven long blocks on Market street alone.

Threads 25 Miles Of Streets

Mr. Truman traveled through 25 miles of suburban and city streets. In downtown San Francisco ticker tape floated from many windows and confetti poured down upon the parade, in which the chairmen of 50 delegations to the security conference participated.

The procession followed formal greetings at Hamilton Field and ended at the President's headquarters in the Fairmont hotel where he held a reception for all the conference delegates.

His head bared to a stiff breeze which ruffled his hair, Mr. Truman obviously enjoyed the occasion.

He seemed, too, to have had a full measure of pleasure out of the playing of the "Missouri Waltz" at the airport.

Greeted At Portland

The President flew from Portland, Ore., where he was greeted by other cheering thousands in a 90-minute visit, while en route here from his vacation at Olympia, Wash.

Stopping at the debarkation hospital near the airport, the President exchanged greetings with dozens of the wounded who had been brought out into the yard.

During the long ride from the airport to his hotel Mr. Truman stood all the way, constantly waving his hat at the crowds.

Gov. Earl Warren and Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco participated in the ceremonies.

The President's formal address had been completed for delivery about 5.00 p. m. Pacific war time tomorrow. It will bring the long conference to a close.

The President will fly the charter of the new world organization back to Washington for submission to the Senate next Monday for its ratification, stopping over in Independence, Mo., and Kansas City for home-coming celebrations Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Truman's welcome today was in sharp contrast to his appearance here as a vice presidential candidate last October. His address then, at a downtown hotel, was heard by only a few hundred members of the Commonwealth club.

Labor Front Brightens In Some Areas

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO'S labor picture brightened last night as a union back-to-work order appeared to have broken the 10-day truck strike, but elsewhere in the nation more than 76,000 workers remained idle.

End of the Chicago strike, in progress since June 16, was seen as officials of the Independent Chicago Truck Drivers' union directed 6,000 members to resume work today.

A settlement appeared imminent in a Detroit AFL-CIO jurisdictional dispute which has left 30,000 auto workers idle and had threatened to spread to an additional 36,500.

Proposal Approved

Daniel W. Tracy, assistant secretary of labor, disclosed at Washington that the AFL building trades department already has approved the proposed agreement, details of which were not made public. CIO officials have yet to accept the proposal.

About 1,500 of these 30,000 idle CIO maintenance workers, and spread of the AFL-CIO dispute to embrace all the 38,000 CIO maintenance workers might force closing within a few days of 300 factories.

Included in the number idle in the Detroit AFL-CIO row were 22,000 at the Packard Motor Car company, 7,500 at the Budd Wheel company and 145 at Chrysler corporation.

Other Detroit strikes kept additional thousands away from their posts over contract disputes including more than 6,000 in the Ford Motor company's River Rouge plant, 650 at Hudson Motor Car Co., 975 at the Aeronautical Products Corp., 500 at the Stinson Aircraft plant and 700 in 12 yards of five retail lumber companies.

Chicago Grievance

The Chicago truck strike was a protest against a War Labor board wage award below what the unions demanded. The drivers, earning $42 to $51.50 for 51 hours, asked an increase of $5 a week for 48 hours but were awarded $4.08 for 51 hours.

In Akron, O., CIO United Rubber Workers voted for the third time in five days to continue their strike at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company. Eighteen thousand workers were idle and the union contended the strike was provoked by the company's failure to adhere to WLB directives for adjustment of grievances.

B-29s Batter Japs Heavily; Yanks Tighten Luzon Trap

Trapped Nips Face Squeeze

MANILA, Tuesday, June 26 — A gain up to six miles northward by the U. S. 37th Infantry division and a thrust southward by the 11th Airborne division troops and guerrillas tightened a vise on an estimated 20,000 Japanese now "thoroughly trapped" in the Cagayan valley of northern Luzon, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Extent of the advance by the southbound forces, which landed Saturday near the north coast port of Aparri, was not disclosed, but they had made 11 miles in the first few hours after their unopposed descent by parachute and glider.

The two forces were approximately 50 miles apart at last reports.

Guerrillas In Center

Between them, and now only four miles north of the hastening 37th division, were American-led guerrilla forces in the Cagayan province capital of Tuguegarao. These guerrillas seized the town last week and since have fought off constant enemy counterattacks.

Status of Tuguegarao was in doubt today as the Japanese continued their blistering counterattacks, but the enemy had little to gain in recapture of the fire-blackened ruins of the town as Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's 37th Buckeye relief column drew near.

The 37th, driving down Highway No. 5 alongside the Cagayan river, destroyed an undisclosed number of Japanese heavy 150-caliber artillery pieces and killed 175 enemy soldiers and captured 20.

Positions Not Given

There was no definite word of present positions of the 11th Airborne division and Sixth Army elements thrusting south from the coast, but a headquarters spokesman disclosed that they had captured Aparri airfield, the first the enemy erected in the Philippines after invading at Aparri on Dec. 10, 1941.

10 Big Plants Pin-Pointed

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Tuesday, June 26.—Between 450 and 500 B-29s struck 10 Japanese aircraft, ammunition and ordnance factories in daylight about noon today in the largest demolition, pin-point mission ever flown against Japanese war industry targets.

Five of the factories were in the Nagoya area; two in the Osaka sector, two in the Gifu area near Nagoya, and one was at Akashi, 10 miles west of Kobe.

The Superforts were escorted by Iwo-based Mustangs of the Seventh Army Fighter command. The strike was from medium altitude.

Good weather permitted visual bombing of several targets but cloud cover required precision instrument bombing of some objectives.

Over 3,000 Tons Dropped

The Superforts dropped more than 3,000 tons of high explosive bombs in the most powerful strike of the 21st Bomber command's new phase in Superfort operations—complete blasting destruction of Japan's war industry, already seriously crippled by the fire-bombing campaign which burned out 112 square miles of Nippon's industrial areas.

Ten targets for one mission [illegible] the second largest number of objectives for a single day. On April 26, strikes were made against [illegible] Kyushu island airbases in neutralizing raids in support of the Okinawa invasion.

All Previously Damaged

All plants bombed today had been damaged previously, [illegible] were engaged directly in aircraft production. Four produced guns and ammunition.

One of the five Nagoya plants hit was the Chigusa factory, which produces ammunition components for the Japanese Army.

The plant was located in a densely built-up area but was surrounded by a block-wide fire break.

Targets near Gifu were the Mitsubishi Aircraft Co.'s Kagamigahara plant, both hit in the last Superfort mission Friday.

At Osaka, the Superforts struck the Osaka plant of the Sumitomo Light Metal Industry Co. and the Osaka Army arsenal.

Widespread Aerial Blows Lash Japs; Landing Reports Ignored

MANILA, Tuesday, June 26 (AP)—A series of hard aerial blows at the Japanese on Borneo, Formosa and at many points throughout the East Indies was reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Ground action on Australian-invaded Borneo was limited to patrol operations, MacArthur's communique reported, with no indication how near the Australians had reached to the Miri oil fields on the north coast.

Off Borneo, Allied planes destroyed four coastal vessels and damaged others being built in the Pontianak area on Borneo's west coast.

Balikpapan Battered

The often-bomber east coast port of Balikpapan was hit again, and the Tabanio air field was cratered while fuel dumps were set afire along the north coast. There was no confirmation of repeated Japanese claims to have beaten off a landing attempt at Balikpapan.

Formosa was bombed again, the Kobi alcohol refinery being set aflame. It was important as a producer of an ingredient needed in Japanese aviation fuel. Night raiders also set large fires at the Toshien barracks on Formosa.

Far-ranging blockade planes wrecked three freighters and destroyed two sailing ships southwest of Hong Kong, set fires at an arsenal near Canton, and bombed oil storage facilities at Nanking, 150 miles up the Yangtze river in China Saturday night and Sunday.

JAP TOLL HEAVY ON GUINEA, BOUGAINVILLE

MANILA, Tuesday, June 26 (AP)—Australian ground forces cleaning out bypassed Japanese garrisons on New Guinea, Bougainville and New Britain have counted an additional 1,128 dead and captured 33, raising enemy casualties in those areas since Jan. 1 to 9,725 counted dead and 226 prisoners, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The Australian Diggers, supported by New Zealand and Australian planes, have made their biggest haul on Bougainville, where 4,810 Japanese dead have been counted since the first of the year, plus 80 captured. The New Guinea toll was almost as great: 4,743 killed and 144 captured.

German Communists Urge New Coalition Government

(By The Associated Press)

The German Communist party, declaring the Germany of the moment was not suited for a Soviet-patterned government, urged yesterday that the vanquished National form a coalition parliamentary government.

In a manifesto, reported from Berlin by Tass News agency, the party called for development of private enterprise and the profit system, for free elections, and for confiscation of the large estates of Nazis, Junkers and imperialists, in favor of landless peasants. The German people, the document asserted, bear part of the guilt of the Nazi party, and Germany should pay war reparations.

British Candidates

In Britain, 1,674 candidates—a near record—were nominated for the general election July 5, in which 640 seats in the House of Commons will be filled.

Prime Minister Churchill, Conservative, opposed by Alexander Hancock, retired shoe manufacturer running as an independent, began a 1,000-mile campaign tour through England and Scotland, and called for "a great majority" for his party if he is to "continue to serve." He pledged firm alliances with Russia and the United States.

A dispatch from 21st Army group headquarters said U. S., British, and Canadian troops were expected to march to Berlin before July 1, with the Big Three to meet in that capital perhaps 10 days later.

Austria Occupation

At Allied headquarters in Rome, it was disclosed that U. S. and British forces may move into sections of Vienna and their occupation zones of Austria within three weeks, with Gen. Mark M. Clark commanding American troops.

Legal experts of the United States, Britain, France, and Russia will meet today in London in a war crimes conference, and perhaps draft a three-point "bill of indictment" as a general basis for the trial of Nazi leaders and their blood-stained organizations.

In London also, radio propagandist William Joyce, better known as "Lord Haw Haw," formally pleaded innocent to a charge of high treason.

Island Bases Said Essential

HONOLULU, June 25 (U.P.) — Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the Army Air forces, believes the United States must have unrestricted use of island bases in the Pacific after the war to keep the peace.

"The future peace of the world depends on our doing this," he told a press conference yesterday on his return from a tour of the Pacific. "Indeed, the fate of mankind may depend upon it."

Cites Air Power

"We are today probably the greatest air power in the world. We must use it against Japan and are making plans to use it to make the final stage of the assault against Japan easier."

He said the United States should not permit anything to interfere with the full play of its air power. The United States in the years to come no longer can rely on "passive defense—mere bases here at home," he said.

"I've come back convinced that

Jap Deaths On Okinawa Mount

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, Tuesday, June 26 — Four small Japanese aerial assaults, the first against Okinawa ground installations since that island was secured Thursday, caused minor damage to American airfield installations Sunday.

Two of the raiders were shot down.

Presumably, no attacks were made against U. S. shipping off Okinawa, since Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz made no mention of such a raid in today's communique.

Mopping up operations yesterday netted another 794 Japanese prisoners of war for a total of 8,696. Of the total, 2,854 are reported to be labor troops. Yesterday, Nimitz reported 101,853 Japanese had been killed.

AIR WING ONE SINKS LARGE JAP TONNAGE

GUAM, Tuesday, June 26 (AP)—Search Liberators, Privateers and Mariners of Fleet Air Wing One have sunk 122,645 tons of Japanese shipping since beginning operations "over enemy waters," and damaged another 128,890 tons, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

His communique described combined Army, Navy and Marine aerial blows at the whole length of Japan's island empire from the southern Ryukus to the northern Kuriles Sunday and Monday.

Pilots of the "workhorse" aircraft of Fleet Air Wing One accounted for 36 Japanese planes and damaged 24 others in their

County Turns Over 33 Miles Of Roads For Care By State

County commissioners Monday afternoon signed copies of agreement forms whereby the state will construct and maintain at no cost to Lubbock county 33 1-2 miles of paved roads to be designated a part of the state highway system.

The four designations, one in each county commissioners precinct are:

Idalou to Hale county line, 11 miles; from five miles west of Slaton to U. S. 87, 10 miles south of Lubbock, 8 1-2 miles; from Slide west to Hockley county line, 8 1-2 miles; from 2 miles northwest of Shallowater to Hale county line, 7 1-2 miles.

The agreement forms were mailed to the court by S. C. McCarty, district engineer of the state highway department, of Lubbock, together with copies of the order of the commissioners' court for each road designation.

Construction must await an indefinite date when materials and labor problems have thawed.

P. B. Penney of precinct 1 had asked 11 1-2 miles of road, and got 8 1-2; Ben Mansker of precinct 2 got one of his designations, but failed to get the second, a road that would have been built from four miles southeast of Slaton to McClung, approximately six miles; T. L. Holt of precinct 3 asked 17 miles, received 11; Vol J. Farris of precinct 4 asked 17 miles, got 7 1-2.

Local Contracts Let

In addition, the commissioners let contracts for roads in three precincts, to be paid for out of their own road and bridge funds. In precinct 3, Holt let a contract for three and a half miles, for

Judiciary Wage Hike Cut Back

AUSTIN, June 25. (AP) —Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today struck from a judiciary appropriation bill an item of $413,000 intended to provide pay raises for all judges in the biennium beginning Sept. 1.

The governor said it was his opinion approval of the bill would have lessened public confidence in the judiciary.

He added that he had asked the 49th legislature to redistrict the state for judicial purposes in response to public demands and the legislature had failed to redistrict.

Action Explained

The governor said further:

"I have received many letters complaining about the increase in judicial salaries provided . . . I am conscientiously aware of the opinion that if I approve this bill it will delay judicial redistricting in the next legislature. It is my sincere belief that the present legislature should have given the people a redistricting bill before they increased the salaries of the judges.

"I have tried to consider the matter fairly from every standpoint, including the rights of the people on one hand and consideration for many fine judges who occupy the bench in Texas today. My conclusion is that it would lessen public confidence in the judiciary if I should approve this bill."

Approval of the bill without the pay raise item leave all judges on their present pay schedules.

The Governor also vetoed a bill appropriating $55,000 to pay county and independent school district taxes on state owned prison lands on grounds it conflicts with a statute requiring that taxes be paid out of revenue derived from operation of prison farms.

He approved a $27,637,952 departmental appropriation bill, an increase of $4,149,830 over appropriations for the current biennium. More than half of the increase was caused by increases in salaries of state workers in the lower pay brackets. The remainder was for new positions and services within

Former Pampa Girl Held For Slaying

NEW CANAAN, Conn., June 25 (AP)—Police sifted today through at least two versions of the shooting of a submarine sailor by cute, dark-haired Mrs. Imogene Stevens, 24, of Pampa, Tex., and wife of an Army major, as a coroner called an inquest for Tuesday.

Mrs. Stevens, before being sent to county jail in default of $50,000 bond on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the Saturday night slaying of Albert Kovacs, 19, of Norwalk, a two-year veteran of Pacific action, told Police Chief Otto Schmidt, he said, that she fired three shots in self-defense.

James Kovacs, 26, who was with his brother, on leave from the Portsmouth, N. H., naval base, and witnessed the shooting differed in many points in Mrs. Stevens' story, and in a newspaper interview, declared emphatically that "Albert never made any attempt to attack Mrs. Stevens."

Engineer Aboard Warship Backs Into Hole, Plugs It Up

KANSAS CITY, June 25. (AP) — Lt. Comdr. Wayne A. Parker, Oklahoma City, told here today of his experiences as a human plug.

Parker, engineer officer on the U. S. S. Ringgold, backed into a gaping hole two and one-half feet below the water line when fire from Jap shore batteries ripped the vessel.

"That jagged hole was mighty uncomfortable," he admitted, adding, "it cost me five minutes of anxiety and a new pair of trousers."

The former Oklahoma City university football star was awarded the Navy Cross for his action, which occurred in the battle for Tarawa in 1943.

Ceilings Set On Grain Sorghums

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP) — The OPA today set dollar-and-cent price ceilings for all sales of grain sorghums, effective immediately.

The new base ceilings, which replace "freeze" prices previously in effect, include:

For all states between the Pacific coast and the Mississippi river except Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, from $2.16 to $2.76 a hundred pounds.

The base prices are ceilings at the farm for No. 2 grain sorghums, OPA said, adding that prices for other grades and qualities are computed by the applications of discounts provided in the regulation.

In cases where producers deliver grain sorghums to elevators, maximum prices may be increased three cents per hundred pounds.

ACTION SAID TO MEAN INCREASE FOR TEXAS

DALLAS, June 25. (AP) — Specific dollar-and-cent ceilings for grain sorghums established today by the national OPA office generally mean a 10-cent increase for growers in Texas and Oklahoma, C. W. Nichols, regional OPA price executive, said today.

The new ceilings will permit parity prices to producing farmers during the 1945 crop, he said.

Nichols said these prices would be allowed: Nueces, $2.24 per hundred pounds; Kleberg, $2.22; Jim Wells, $2.22; Live Oak, $2.24; Bee, $2.27; San Patricio, $2.27; Refugio, $2.29; Aransas, $2.29. All Texas Panhandle area bordered by and including, Andrews, Midland, Glasscock, Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Coleman, Callahan, Shackelford, Throckmorton, Baylor and Wilbarger counties will be allowed a ceiling price of $2.16 per hundred pounds.

Commutations Given Convicted Nazi Spies

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Death sentences of two men convicted as Nazi spies have been commuted to life imprisonment by President Truman.

The pair, William Curtiss Colepaugh and Eric Gimpel, were captured shortly after they were landed from a German submarine at Frenchmans' Bay, Me., the night of Nov. 29, 1944. Tried by a 7-man military commission at Governors Island, N. Y., they were sentenced to hang.

The War department, in an announcement Saturday, said the president's action was based upon recommendations of the secretary of war and the judge advocate general.

West Texans To Get New Stocks Of Sugar

FORT WORTH, June 25. (AP) — Relief from the sugar shortage in West Texas was in sight today when OPA district Director J. H. Kultgen announced that nine carloads of sugar are being shipped to Fort Worth, Weatherford, San Angelo, Abilene, Quanah, Wichita Falls, and Denton.

The shipments will help to relieve sugar shortages which have affected housewives, restaurants, bakeries, and other manufacturers using sugar.

Kultgen said the sugar should arrive by Friday and that part of the shipment would be on the shelves of retail stores by the first of next week.

OPA Opponents Set Up New Battle Lines

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—A new attack on the Office of Price administration—through its pocketbook — was planned today by opponents.

The House Appropriations committee recomended $174,500,000 for the agency for the year begnining July 1, and foes said privately they will try to cut it deeply. Legislation to extend the OPA's life another year is awaiting final passage.

The sum is part of a $3,134,031,456 deficiency supply bill laid before the House by the committee. It is $17,854,173 below budget estimates. It covers $1,975,000,000 for lend-lease.

Argentine Cowmen Want Price Increase

BUENOS AIRES, June 25. (AP)—Argentine cattle breeders today asked for a 20 per cent increase in beef prices paid by Great Britain as the sole buyer on behalf of the Allied pool, when they continued conversations begun last week with H. S. E. Turner, special representative of the British food ministry.

The demand was made by Jose Maria Bustillo, president of the Argentine Rural society, and Nemesio De Olariaga, president of the confederation of rural societies of Buenos Aires and La Pampa, spokesmen for the breeders.

Fight On Permanent FEPC Hits New High

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The fight over continuing the Fair Employment Practices committee hit new intensity today with the agency's head saying it may continue operating on a volunteer basis even if Congress gives it no money.

Chairman Malcolm Ross said the FEPC may go ahead regardless and another member, a negro, reported plans for a demonstration "more dramatic than a march on Washington."

This member, Milton P. Webster, international president of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, told a news conference he couldn't disclose the nature of the demonstration now but "we are not going to take it lying down."

He referred to slow action on legislation for a permanent FEPC. The House appropriation committee approved today a $125,000 fund earmarked for liquidation of the agency in the three months after July 1.

Southerners in Congress, meanwhile, girded for a filibuster to talk to death any attempt to give FEPC a congressional appropriation. Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) threatened to "talk 'till Christmas, if necessary, to stop funds for a lot of peckerwoods to go around and meddle into other people's business."

There were still two faint chances that FEPC may get operating funds: (1) A Senate Appropriations committee amendment to the war agencies bill to give FEPF $446,200 for the 1946 fiscal year, and (2) The House Appropriations committee resolution to give FEPC $125,000 to liquidate itself, which FEPC supporters undoubtedly will try to convert into a regular operating fund if it ever gets to the floor.

Question Of Russia In Jap War Revived

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press News Analyst

LINKED with General Marshall's statement that the "great imponderable at the moment" in the war with Japan was "whether or not Russia will enter" that conflict, the disclosure that military lend-lease supplies are still being shipped to the Russians via Siberia is bound to stir speculation.

According to lend-lease Administrator Leo T. Crowley the movement is "sponsored by our military leaders" and is to be continued until "highest" American authorities "advise us that they think it should be discontinued."

Crowley brought out sharply in his testimony, given in secret some weeks ago and published Monday, that this departure from the rule that ended other lend-lease shipments to Russia on Germany's surrender was not necessarily based on any definite knowledge of Russian intentions as to Japan. The "mere possibility" of war with Russia, he said, "acts to pin down in northern Manchuria" Japanese troops which might otherwise be used against Chinese or Allied troops elsewhere in Asia.

As a diversion move, therefore, continued lend-lease shipments to Russia obviously serve to enhance Japanese uncertainty over what to expect in the north.

Testimony such as that given by Crowley and Marshall necessarily passed under careful government scrutiny before it was released for publication.

Up to now the policy of the Washington high command has been to soft pedal talk of what Russia might or might not do in the Pacific.

WHAT IS BEAUTY?

POETS long since dead have wondered just what constitutes true beauty and publicity directors for cosmetic companies seem to be thinking about the same question this summer.

Two little essays setting out the value of their particular toiletries came to the desk Monday. The one suggests you cleanse, refresh and smooth your skin with its company's essentials, "to create the illusion of perfect beauty." The other, after advocating a particular make and shade of face powder, sets out the color is important, since "color may add the illusion of beauty."

Who was it who said if women naturally were as leaden faced and as painted as they make themselves to appear by artificialities, they would be of all people the most miserable?

LOOKING COOL

SUMMER heat can be the arch enemy of beauty and the thief of daintiness for the woman who isn't careful to look and feel unwilted. Here's one suggestion for keeping fresh and cool: Use colognes often and lavishly, in a variety of ways, if you would stay flower-fresh and fragrant.

The uses are many and varied, unending for the imaginative:

After bath or shower, cologne is a requisite that makes a hot day liveable.

A few drops on your hairbrush, before brushing and in the rinse water for stockings and lingerie, leaves a lingering ever-so-faint fragrance.

Sprinkle some on your shoulder pads when dresses return from the cleaners; it's a good perfume extender and keeps closets pleasantly scnted.

If you're a career girl, keep a small bottle handy in your desk for mid-afternoon freshening.

The light-scented essence is best, rather than the heavier scent to depess you on enervating days.

COMMENDABLE — When the giant Queen Mary, her graceful lines garbed in drab wartime gray, steamed into New York harbor last Wednesday, she was loaded to the gunwales with 14,000 American troops returning from the European theater of operations. That in itself isn't so news-making we suppose, although it certainly brought joy to thousands of homes fortunate to have soldiers on the big old boat.

What was especially pleasing to the writer was to read that the Queen Mary's captain said it was a pleasure to have the American soldiers aboard; that they acquitted themselves as gentlemen.

When 14,000 soldiers behave themselves, despite crowded conditions and the necessary restrictions on such a trip and win commendation from the English captain, it helps us just that much more to reach a better understanding with our British allies.

Evidence Shows Argentina Failed To Eliminate Nazi Penetrations

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 25 — A Senate committee received State department evidence today that Argentina has failed to eliminate a single case of suspected German economic penetration.

Appearing before a military subcommittee studying Nazi plans for a third world war, Assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton submitted documents summarizing results of a department campaign to stamp out Axis spearheads in Latin America by supplanting enemy control over various business enterprises with friendly ownership.

Clayton said that in the case of Argentina—most recent western hemisphere member of the United Nations—there are 104 such spearheads "in which no action or non-elimination action has been taken to date." Four others are in the process of elimination, he said, but none has been eliminated completely.

Brazil Eliminates Spearheads

Brazil, on the other hand, has eliminated completely 48 listed spearheads, has 70 others in the process of elimination and has none in which no action has been taken.

The spearheads, Clayton said, are "companies which are known centers of espionage or other aggressive activity. Elimination means that the company has either been liquidated, seized and operated by the local South American government in question, or sold to non-Nazi interests."

Haiti showed 25 complete eliminations, Chile 22 and Ecuador 19.

Results "Encouraging"

Clayton said results have been "encouraging," adding:

"It seems a safe prediction to say that German economic and political penetration in this hemisphere has, for the most part, been dealt a blow from which it will probably not recover; and that the prospects are reasonably bright for the substantial elimination of Axis spearhead firms even in the areas where they still survive."

Noting that victory in Europe has brought an end to such former problems as blockade) shipments of supplies from Germany to dangerous firms in this hemisphere and reestablished trade relationships, Clayton added:

Nazi Loot Is Worry

"What we do have to worry about are those persons who may be hiding Nazi loot or flight capital, and about the control of German investments in all of the republics."

The subcommittee, headed by Chairman Kilgore (D-WVa) ordered its hearings on the basis of secret German documents showing how the Nazis hoped to hide behind a front of postwar industrial progress while maneuvering toward a new attempt at world domination.

Clayton, detailing Allied efforts to thwart Axis war-making possibilities in any field, told of Nazi looting of wealth and property, including art objects in countries overrun by the German armies.

The latter, he said, "because of the ease with which they can be concealed and smuggled, constitute one means by which the Nazis could transmit property abroad to be converted into cash for use in armament research and development, espionage, or propaganda."

Brains, Skills Involved

But flight of capital, Clayton said "is not of treasure alone; the brains and skills of men are also the subjects of German efforts to save potential strength for another war."

Saying this is particularly true of German scientific and managerial personnel, the witness recited instances in which he said Germans sought to set up businesses in foreign countries by supplying their own equipment and the men to run them.

"In a certain neutral country," Clayton said, "the German electrical company, Telefunken, bought a plant in the summer of 1943. The plant was immediately modernized and enlarged. It now has complete facilities for testing the most intricate short wave radio equipment, and magnificently equipped laboratories for research on the ultra short wave and tone frequency field."

Russian Delegates To Attend Meeting

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—A British foreign office spokesman said today that Russia, reversing her previous stand, has decided to send two representatives to London for a conference on the trial of major Nazi war criminals.

The conference will open in London tomorrow with delegates from the United States, Britain and France in addition to Russia.

The four countries will discuss procedure and a date for trials of Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, former German foreign minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, former deputy fuehrer Rudolf Hess and 100 or more other high Nazis.

Russia at first had ignored invitations from the United States and Britain to send a delegation to London, but apparently changed her mind almost on the eve of the opening of the conference.

Robert H. Jackson, Supreme Court justice and chief American prosecutor of war criminals, will represent the United States.

He has proposed that all top war criminals be tried simultaneously on a charge of conspiracy before the end of summer. Britain endorsed the proposal.

What Is Wrong When Prayer Fails?

Thirty years ago, in Forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young Englishman named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes A great change came over him. He realized the strange Power that Knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problem of health, death, poverty and wrong, can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Thirty years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had hade a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

He was about to be sent back to England to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet." He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his twenty-one years in the Far East. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

Within ten years, he was able to retire to this country with a fortune. He had been honored by fellowships in the World's leading geographical societies, for his work as a geographer. And today, 30 years later, he is still so athletic, capable of so much work, so young in appearance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this paper a 9,000 word treatise. He says the time has come for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, free of cost or obligation, to sincere readers of this notice For your free copy, address The Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. S-376, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.—Adv.

How to keep your Eyes Cool this Summer

Wear Calobar Sun Glasses

Calobar lenses are soothing to Summer-hot eyes. They are an effective guard against the headaches and tired eyes brought on by hot Suns.

And here's the reason. Calobar is a genuine absorptive lens that actually filters out the Infra-red (heat) rays as well as useless ultra-violet rays. So highly does the U. S. Government think of Calobar, that U. S. specification for the lenses used by Army flyers in their goggles, reads "Calobar or its equivalent."

You can get Calobar ground and polished lenses in your choice of a wide variety of attractive ZYL and metal frames. If you need glasses at all times, your eye-physician (Oculist) can arrange to have Calobar lenses ground to your prescription.

Hit-Run Driver Is Still Sought

Police continued to check "several good leads" Monday night in the hit-and-run injury Saturday of four-year-old Harold Wayne Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hall of 214 Ave. U.

At Lubbock General hospital last night the youngster was reported resting better but attendants said it was not evident whether his condition had improved. He suffered a bad concussion, bruises and abrasions but apparently no internal injuries.

May Not Be Woman

Investigation centered on two automobiles, one a Levelland vehicle. License numbers, with the exception of key letters, of both cars were supplier officers by witnesses. Investigators indicated that conclusion of investigation might show that the driver of the car was not a woman, as first believed.

Citing the inability of witnesses to determine the key letters on the license plates of the suspected vehicles, several officers took occasion to criticize the make-up of this year's automobile tags. They said it is almost impossible to tell what the key characters are at an appreciable distance. The numerals can be made out but the letters, much smaller and placed one above the other, are hard to decipher on a moving vehicle, they claimed.

Police Swamped By Theft Complaints

Police were swamped with theft complaints Sunday and Monday.

An automobile that was stolen from Hub Motor company lot was recovered yesterday afternoon in Lamb county. A suspect was seen to leave the car.

Police listed these reports:

Stolen from Mrs. S. H. Assister, 3117 Twenty-first, silverware, four bedsheets and a large quantity of baby clothes; from Mrs. C. S. Weir, 2706 Ave. F, tire and wheel; from Charles H. Scott, of Plains, tire; from Mrs. Roy Saage, Slaton, clothing valued at $15; R. L. Pace, Shallowater route 1, tire; from K. B. Harris, 2313 Fourteenth, tire and wheel; from C. W. Terrell, 1723 Twenty-fourth, lawn mower; from Curtis E. Brown, Slaton route, tire and wheel; R. M. Coleman, 2201 Sixteenth, tire and wheel; from a Lt. Bronner, 1810 Thirteenth, flashlight; from O. D. Stevens, 1805 Ave. V, sunshades; from a Mr. Goodeve, 1907 Thirteenth, a flashlight; from George V. Arnold, 1612 Fifteenth, a Masonic ring; A. C. Jackson, 2113 Sixteenth, a watch.

James M. Wallace's residence at 917 Thirty-third was burglarized of $6.50 in pennies.

Musical Program Is Presented For Legion

A musical program presented by young Lubbock musicians featured the regular meeting of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion Monday night at the Legion home, 910 Texas Ave.

Misses Louan Hardy, Virginia Belle Gamble and Dorothy Nell Barrett comprised a violin, cello and piano trio. A vocal number was offered by a duet of Misses Jean and Louise Anderson, and a trio number by the Andersons and Joyce Watson. Miss Louan Hardy played violin solos and Charles Byers, a member of the post, sang a solo number, with Mrs. J. M. Hall as accompanist.

Louis Murfee and J. O. Cade were appointed chairmen of two committees to nominate lists of candidates for post offices for the ensuing year. The committees will report at the next regular meeting and officers will be elected at the following regular meeting.

H. J. McCabe, head of the Legion's junior baseball program, reported interest high in this summer's league games.

Chester A. Hubbard, post commander, presided.

Civil Service Wage Hike Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP) — A pay increase averaging 15.9 per cent for most government civil service workers moved close to enactment today when the House approved a Senate - House conference report.

Approval of the Senate is indicated tomorrow, and the bill then will go to the White House.

The bill also calls for time and a half overtime after 40 hours, as compared with the present rate of time and one twelfth.

In addition to the salary increases, the legislation provides for accelerated within-grade promotions, and time and one-half payment for work on holidays. The latter provision goes into effect after the war.

DALLAS, June 25. (AP)—Clyde Hood, assistant U. S. district attorney, said here today that an appeal brought by Fred Hurse, a negro soldier sentenced to hang for the slaying of two other negro soldiers at Camp Hood a year ago, has been dismissed by the Fifth Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

Hood said the soldier had filed his appeal but never perfected it.

Unable to furnish bond of $5,000. Hattie Mae Martin, 29-year-old Slaton negro woman, remained in county jail Monday night charged with assault with intent to murder her ex-husband, Charley Thomas, Sunday at Slaton. Thomas suffered four slashes across the abdomen with a knife. The woman told officers that she was attacked by Thomas in a cafe. The last report to the sheriff's department said that Thomas, who was believed slightly improved.

Bill Mabray, assistant chief of police, said Julio Hernandez, 40, had been released on his own recognizance after a shooting scrape near Hernandez's residence at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning which resulted in the wounding of two Mexican youths. Alfonso Urtado and Dionico Zuniga both suffered pistol shots in the legs, Mabray said. Hernandez told police that the shooting occurred after a group of Mexican youths appeared at his place and "started trouble."

C. V. Noble, 78, of 2101 Thirteenth, was admitted to Lubbock General hospital at 11:30 o'clock Monday night after suffering a stroke. Noble was brought to the hospital in a Plains Funeral home ambulance. Extent and seriousness of his illness had not been determined at midnight.

Condition of Wade Yandell, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Yandell of Brownfield, who suffered a broken neck Sunday afternoon in a diving mishap at Buffalo Lake, was "fair" late Monday night, attendents at Lubbock General hospital reported. The youth was at the lake with a group of boys and girls from Brownfield and Lubbock when the accident occurred.

C. A. Sumner, a civilian worker at a local army installation, was charged with aggravated assault Monday, the sheriff's department said. Officers said the complaint was filed in connection with an alleged dispute which arose between Sumner and tenants of his property.

Injuries not believed severe were received by Bailey England, 21, of 1915 Ave. N, and Jack Scott, of 1406 Ave. U, when their automobile overturned and struck a tree Monday on Ave. P between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets. Police said England was driver. Both England and Scott suffered bruises on the head and body, police said.

Autos Collide, One Plunges Into Store

One of two automobiles which collided at 8:20 o'clock Monday night at Fifteenth and Ave. W went on to plunge into the front part of Service Food store and damaged it an estimated $250.

None was injured seriously although both cars were badly damaged, police said.

The car which hurtled into the store was driven by L. B. Edwards, 62, a salesman of 2319 Fifteenth, according to Patrolmen Clarence Newton and R. V. Penny. The other vehicle was reported driven by John Lonham, 14, of Lubbock route 2, and owned by Arnold O'Neal.

Newton said Edwards received a "skinned knee."

Both automobiles had to be removed by wrecker. A police diagram showed that Edwards' car was hit on the side toward the front.

Edwards was driving a 1940 Nash, Lonham a 1940 Buick.

Island Bases

we must have a bridge across the Pacific. Otherwise, how will we ever be able to defend ourselves?"

Arnold pointed out that a superfortress was capable of flying thousands of miles non-stop and could strike anywhere in the world.

"An enemy given this plane or the improved version of the future would be able to destroy our cities . . . unless we have use of these bases," he said.

To Operate From Okinawa

In response to a question, he said the United States probably never would have enough bases in the Pacific to accommodate all its air strength. He said B-29s soon would begin to operate from Okinawa in addition to the Marianas.

He praised the American conquest of Iwo and said some 1,100 B-29s carrying 11,110 crewman had made emergency landings there, most of them after bombing Tokyo and other priority targets in Japan.

Arnold endorsed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's suggestion for a single department of national defense including all branches of the nation's armed forces.

Tax Free Soldier Vote Tops List Of Amendments Set For Texas Vote

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with proposed constitutional amendments on which Texans will vote in a special election Aug. 25).

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 25—Texans will determine Aug. 25 whether men and women who bear arms or otherwist serve the armed forces shall vote without payment of a poll tax, if otherwise qualified.

This proposed amendment to the constitution is first on the ballot for the Aug. 25 special election. Three others are submitted on the same date.

It is self enacting which means, if adopted, men and women in the armed forces in time of war or for one year after the close of the calendar year in which the war ends or who were in the armed forces for 18 months prior to an election may vote without payment of the poll tax.

Otherwise Qualified

They must, of course, be otherwise qualified as to age and residence to vote in Texas.

The privilege will not apply to members of the regular armed forces, professional soldiers and sailors. It extends to citizen soldiers, members of the armed forces and its reserve and components, the United States Maritime service and the United States Merchant Marine.

The constitution does not now extend this privilege although the legislature passed a bill extending it to soldiers in 1919 and 1920. The validity of the bill was not questioned.

The 48th legislature which ended its general session in June passed a bill giving soldiers and sailors poll taxless voting privileges for 1945 and 1946 but Gov. Coke R. Stevenson vetoed it.

Is Self Enacting

He noted that the constitutional amendment is self enacting and no further legislation will be necessary if the people approve the amendment.

The soldier vote amendment will appear at the top of the Aug. 25 ballot in this form: (For or against) the amendment to Article VI of the constitution of Texas, providing that any person in the armed forces of the United States, or the armed force reserve of the United States, or of any branch of component part thereof, or of the United States Maritime service, or the United States Merchant Marine, or who has been a member of same within eighteen months prior to the holding of any election in this state authorized by law, and is otherwise a qualified voter, shall not be required to pay, or to hold a receipt for the payment of, a poll tax in order to vote at any such election, if same is held while the United States is at war or within a certain stated time thereafter."

Experts Meet Today To Plan War Trials

LONDON, June 25. (AP)—Legal experts of the four major western Allies will meet here tomorrow to plan procedure for the war crimes trials of ranking Germans.

The United States advocates a collective trial before a military high court. A responsible informant said Great Britain would support the American plan.

Justice Robert H. Jackson will represent the United States at tomorrow's meeting, which may settle the time and place of the trial. Attorney general Sir David Maxwell Fyfe will represent Great Britain; I. T. Nikotohenko, deputy president of the supreme court of the U.S.S.R., Russia; and M. Falco, court counsellor, France.

Canada's forests cover an area of 1,220,400 square miles or more than one-third of the total land area of the Dominion.

Jaycees Launch Two New Drives

Bob Lawrence, Curtis Publishing company employee on loan to the War Production board, made the principal talk before the Junior Chamber of Commerce at their weekly luncheon in the Hilton hotel Monday, setting them off to one of two drives to be conducted by the club in the near future.

First of the drives was brought up by Frank Bando and with a unanimous vote the club chose to devote one day during the week to aid the 7th War Loan drive and couple this with a stressing of new driving patterns in downtown Lubbock.

One day this week as yet unset, club members will take to the streets as auxiliary policemen and any person caught violating driving, parking or pedestrian laws (such as jay-walking) will be given choice of buying a bond or paying a fine.

Committee Is Named

Details are to be worked out by a committee headed by Bando and composed of Frank Boone, Walter Switzer, Tom Settles and Joe Stanley. This group will hold conferences with Chief of Police Don Reeder and Mayor O. W. Ribble before announcing definite plans.

Lawrence spoke regarding the current paper shortage, which he described as growing steadily and alarmingly worse.

Telling the group that the paper business was twice as large as the meat business and that a current shortage of 4 billion pounds exists, Lawrence said that the city was burning two tons of wrapping and boxes daily.

The WPB official said that it was up to Lubbock as "a patriotic community" to save all wrapping paper and parcels possible and said the Army's increased supply lines would also increase the problems faced by the public in securing paper and cardboard parcels.

Responsibility Cited

Lawrence said that the newspapers and magazines used but 19 per cent of the total paper used in the United States and that the merchants of Lubbock must assume responsibility of saving their boxes, separate from other garbage, or that there would "just be nothing with which to wrap goods."

Glenn Woody, president elect of the club, appointed Sam Stron, Bill Sellers and Roy Faulkner to draw up a plan for contacting merchants, as individuals, and stressing the need for saving paper. A business house to business house canvass will be made if the group elects to sponsor the drive, with mimeographed forms showing what is needed handed to each firm head.

Outgoing president, Cliff Cummings, presided at the meeting with Woody as program chairman.

Navy Completes Plan For 'V-J' Discharges

DALLAS, June 25. (U.P) — The U. S. Navy has worked out a point discharge system, but it will not be announced until the war with Japan is over, Vice Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of naval personnel, said today.

Jacobs said the Navy will continue to grow for an indefinite period. He refused, however, to predict how long the present rate of induction—nearly 50,000 men a month—will continue.

The Navy currently is releasing only enlisted men over 42 and a few officers over 38.

Building In Texas Cities Is Approved

DALLAS, June 25. (AP) — The Regional War Production board office today was notified the WPB had approved several construction applications from Texas cities, one of them a $140,000 project for fire stations at Fort Worth.

The City of Fort Worth's application for permission to construct one fire station and one combination fire and police station, has been approved, the regional office said.

Other approvals:

Central Power and Light Co., Corpus Christi, addition to ice manufacturing plant at Raymondville, Tex., $131,267.

R. N. Smith Theaters, Mission, Tex., a theater at Raymondville, $33,000.

David Smason and Sara Smason, Karnes City, Tex., a theater, $13,000.

Lee Bell, Clarendon, Tex., a theater, $20,500.

Viennese Joyful Over New Occupation Plans

VIENNA, June 23. (Delayed) (AP) —Viennese greeted with outspoken joy today the announcement that the Americans and British were preparing to assume Vienna occupation zones along with the Russians who have been in control since April 10.

The announcement has been awaited since a joint American-British party conferred with Lt. Gen. Blagadatov at his headquarters at Hietzing, just outside Vienna, three weeks ago. It came just after the triumphal return of the old mayor, Karl Seitz, from a Thuringian hospital prison where Americans freed him.

Vienna now is operating under a provisory government approved by the Russian occupation authorities.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

SAN ANTONIO, June 25. (AP)—The Seven Texas track stars who will participate in the National AAU meet at Randall's Island, N. Y. next week-end will compete as a team under the banner of the San Antonio A. C.

The San Antonio Junior Chamber of Commerce raised enough money by subscription to make $1,000 available to the athletes. Of this amount $380 was furnished by the National AAU.

Haese, who is at Fort Sam Houston, is a high and broad jump specialist.

Others making the trip to the AAU are John Donaldson of Rice, who had the best discus throw in the nation this season; Earl Collins of Texas, National Collegiate Athletic Association 200-yard dash winner; Bob Umstattd of Texas, one of the nation's leading milers and half-milers, and George Raborn of Texas, a top shot-putter.

The National League played before 102,960, and the American League was close behind with 102,146. Largest crowd was the 44,508 in Wrigley Field, Chicago, for the Cub-St. Louis Card games. The best previous Sunday attendance was on May 20, when 187,399 fans paid their way into the parks.

Greenberg To Break Into Lineup Sunday

DETROIT, June 25 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers came out today with the announcement that sent a thrill all around this sports-loving town—Hank Greenberg will return to the lineup on Sunday.

Once the terror of American League pitchers, the slugging ace will be making his first appearance on a diamond of organized baseball since he entered Uncle Sam's Army four years ago.

Capt. Greenberg of the doughboys, placed on inactive duty by the Army but subject to call, has been working out daily since last Thursday, 24 hours after he arrived in town as a civilian.

The Tigers are going to give him back his old spot in left field, where he last was seen on May 6, 1941, the day of his farewell which he marked with two home runs.

Henry To Graduate, Rice Foes Can Relax

HOUSTON, June 25 (AP) — Encouraging note to 1946 basketball opponents of Rice Institute:

Big Bill Henry, twice All-American and the greatest point-maker in Southwest Conference history, received his diploma today.

Henry, with another year of eligibility before him if he chose it, only recently definitely made up his mind to go ahead and graduate. He will go into business in Houston.

The former Highland Park, Dallas, player scored 817 points in three seasons at Rice.

Henry holds the conference record for a single game—41 points—and the league season record with 280.

Departure of Henry and Bill Scruggs, who also graduated today leaves only Ed Murphey, squadman, and Roy Goodearle, manager as members of the 1945 team still in school.

Roach To Step Into Houston Ring Tonight

HOUSTON, June 25 — Broad shouldered Lavern Roach and little Gilbert Garcia closed out their workouts, and pronounced themselves ready for tomorrow night's five round battle in a Houston bond show card that will have the amateur scrappers taking the spotlight in the South.

Roach, a Marine sergeant from Plainview, fighting under the banner of the Cherry Point, N. C., defeated Garcia in the team matches of the Golden Gloves earlier in the year, when Roach was representing the East and Garcia the West. The fight then was a three round affair, but tomorrow's battle will be over five rounds.

Army Plans For Oversea Sports

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, June 25 (AP)—U. S. Army athletic officials are seeking major league all-star baseball teams and National League football teams for exhibitions in Europe, Col. Kenneth E. Fields, director of the Army's athletic program in this theater, said today.

Fields, who recently succeeded Lt. Col. Frank McCormick, said that McCormick now was in the United States attempting to arrange exhibitions by outstanding professional athletes and teams for American troops in the various armies of occupation or those awaiting shipment home.

Fields said it was hoped that the major league all-stars could be flown to Europe before the current season ends on Sept. 30. He added he hoped they would be here for the "victory games" carnival planned for late August in the huge stadium at Nuernberg.

Fields said the Army entertained no hopes of bringing the major league pennant winners to this theater because the weather would be too bad in October.

Fields also disclosed that McCormick would return to Europe early in July but expected to go back to his post as director of Athletics at the University of Minnesota this fall.

The program here is set up so that every American soldier could participate in some form of athletics.

Most of the troops will participate in the mass-phase of the sports program which includes touch football, softball, volleyball in units from company zie upward. The plans also call for competition among the better teams of all units leading up to the theater championships in baseball, softball, tennis, golf, swimming, track and field, archery and horseshoe pitching.

In the theater championships there will be teams for each Army, plus one from the Navy, one from the Airforce and one from the communications zone—chosen by elimination in tourney fashion.

Ralph Garnett Gets Hole In One Sunday

The "golfer's dream" came true Sunday afternoon for Ralph Garnett, Lubbock Country club golfer, when he dropped the ball into the cup on the No. 3 green with a 125 yard shot with his No. 7 iron for a hole in one.

Garnett was playing an exhibition round with a foursome that also included M. K. Dean, Otis Felty and Truman Hutson, who back up Garnett's claims for fame.

Return Of Stars To Cards Boost Hopes

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—Those St. Louis Cardinals are surging upward again, but there's nothing uncanny about their performances of the past week and a half, says Manager Billy Southworth.

"For the first time in weeks, I've got my whole ball club in there. For longer than I care to remember, we had one or more of them out at a time with injuries or ailments.

"Now Martin and Kurowski both are back, and the infield is stronger. Kurowski's batting punch was badly missed, too."

There's little doubt of that in the Cards' record of the last week and a half. Before they opened a ten-game road trip at Pittsburgh a week ago Friday, they had been floundering around in fourth place, with a good chance of dropping much lower.

They lost their first game against the Pirates, and then came back to take the Bucs three straight, 13-10, 7-0 and 6-2. Then the Cincinnati Reds edged out a 1-0 victory in 13 innings, but the Cards won the next one, 4-0. Coming to Chicago, they knocked the wind out of the Cubs' sails with 5-2, 6-4 and 8-2 victories before they dropped a 6-3 decision.

That's a neat .700 pace for a team on the road.

"Yes, I know that's a good record, but we can tell better about it in another two weeks. Remember, we have two more weeks on the road before we go back home," the Cardinal chief said.

He didn't want to talk pennant talk—"too early in the season to have any idea"—and he said the boys weren't, either.

"We all want to win our fourth in a row, but we can't worry about that now. We'll go along, game after game, and see what we have to beat, he continued.

CHICAGO, June 25. (AP) — Johnny Hopp, St. Louis Cardinals' rightfielder who was felled by a pitched ball in the second inning of yesterday's first Chicago Cubs-Cards game, will be ready to leave Illinois Masonic hospital "in a day or two," attendants said today.

Ray Prim's fast ball struck Hopp on the right side of the head, and he was carried unconscious from the playing field.

White Sox Star Is Still Best Hitter

CHICAGO, June 25. (AP) — The baseball season is pushing toward the half way mark and still venerable Tony Cuccinello, Chicago White Sox third baseman, merrily swings along as the junior circuit's No. 1 hitter with a .342 overage.

It's getting to the point where the rest of the league's sluggers are taking turns trying to overhaul the consistent "Gooch," who slumped five points last week but holds the lead by 15 points over George Case of the Washington Senators.

Case surged nine points to .327 during the week to wrest the runner-up spot from Nick Etten of the New York Yankees, who dropped eight points to a third-spot .320.

Meanwhile, Bob Estalella of the Philadelphia Athletics nose-dived 24 points from third to seventh with .297. Official statistics for games played through Sunday showed Bob Johnson of the Boston Red Sox in fourth place with .314, while Vern Stephens of St. Louis, banged 11 hits in 22 trips, made the week's best showing—a 24-point climb to fifth with .312.

Holmes Holds Lead In National Hitting

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves, added a point to his National League batting averages during the week ending with Sunday's games but his lead was cut to 20 points by the surge of Brooklyn's Goody Rosen.

Rosen, tied for third with Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants at .354, zoomed to .366 in the statistics compiled today while Holmes' mark hung at .386.

During the week, Rosen smacked out 14 hits in 32 trips to the plate for his 12 point gain. Actually, he hit at a .437 pace for the seven-day period.

Holmes tacked on his additional point with 10 safe knocks in 25 attempts.

Whitey Kurowski of the St. Louis Cardinals, runner up to Holmes a week ago, fluttered to third place at .357, identical with his aggregate of a week ago. Phil Cavarretta of the Chicago Cubs, hopper over the slipping Ott into fourth place with .353 to Ott's .341.

Civilians, Jaycees Win Softball Tilts

The Lubbock Army Air field Civilians and Junior Chamber of Commerce turned in city league softball wins Monday afternoon, the LAAF Civilians winning a 9 to 5 victory over the West Texas Hospital Nurses in a womens game, while Jaycees won the mens game over O. K. Garage, 14-10.

The womens game was a well played battle, with White outpitching Eubanks for the victory. McNeely caught for the winners, and Archet for the losers.

The men's game was a comedy of errors, with Pope and Sellers forming the battery for the winners.

Formal Establishment Of Polish Unity Government Due This Week

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 25.—A Moscow dispatch said today that the New Polish unity government will be established formally in Warsaw this week.

Edward Osubka-Morawski, premier of the present Soviet-supported Warsaw government, probably will hold the same post in the new government with Stanislaw Mikolapczyk, former premier of the Polish exile government in London, as vice-premier.

Recognition Expected

The United States and Britain were expected to announce recognition of the new regime soon after it takes office. They simultaneously will withdraw recognition of the London exile government, which has denounced the new unity government as illegal.

Major problem confronting the Allies was the disposition of the Polish armed forces loyal to the London government. These include sizeable army units in Italy, Germany and the Middle East and air units which flew with the RAF.

Their opposition to the present Warsaw government was demonstrated anew last night at Glascow. Nearly 100 Polish soldiers and seamen mobbed Dr. Jan Jagodzinski, editor of the Warsaw regime's Polish press agency, after a theater meeting which he had addressed.

Attack Described

"When I finished my meeting," Jagodzinski told newsmen, "I went to the back door of the cinema to get some fresh air. The door was broken open and about 100 Polish soldiers and sailors broke into the hall.

"Then they tried to lynch me, but police intervened," he said.

Jan Drohojowski, technical adviser at the Moscow conference to Mikolajczky, said the new unity government would ask all Poles whose devotion to democratic principles in the present and in the past cannot be questioned" to return to Poland to cooperate in its reconstruction.

Dr. Adam Pragier, minister of information in the exile government, charged that at least three-fourths of the cabinet offices in the new unity government would remain in the hands of Communists from the present Warsaw cabinet.

Under the new government, he said, no verbal guarantees could secure the promised "free and unfettered elections" in Poland because of alleged communist domination of the government.

The London Times called the Polish agreement a most happy augury for the forthcoming Big Three meeting "for with this long-standing obstacle removed the great statesmen will be free to devote themselves to the many issues of even wider import for Europe and the world."

Sgt. Weldon Hudnall Now Officially Dead

Sgt. Weldon S. Hudnall, who had been missing in action since October, 1944, is declared officially dead, according to information received by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hudnall of Lubbock, through the International Red Cross via the War department.

Sgt. Hudnall was among the group of Japanese prisoners of war that were shipped from Manila in the Philippines on Oct. 24 headed northward for internment in Japan. The ship upon which they were quartered was sunk some 200 miles off the coast of China, the letter to his parents said.

Five of the Americans aboard were said to have reached the mainland, and four others were reported picked up by the Japanese. The remainder aboard were officially considered as dead the announcement said.

Hudnall, 24, attended Lubbock schools and withdrew from Lubbock High school to enter service with the Army Nov. 8, 1939. He sailed for the Philippines June 25 of 1940 and was captured by the Japanese at Corregidor in May, 1942.

One brother, Sgt. R. L. Hudnall, 26, is at home with his parents at present en route to Nebraska for further service. He has been stationed at Bryan Army Air field for some two years.

TEMPLE, June 25 (AP)—Walter R. Humphrey, 41, for more than 15 years editor of the Temple Telegram, will become editor of the Fort Worth Press July 15.

He will be returning to a newspaper on which he was assistant city editor prior to coming to Temple.

Humphrey, who won national note with his writings on McCloskey General hospital for wounded war veterans and who sponsored many civic features in Temple, said today he regretted leaving this city where "I am well-rooted" but that the opportunity at Fort Worth was "too good to pass up."

Maj. Frank W. Mayborn, who has been in the news division of the SHAEF public relations department in Europe, will return to Temple next week and will be editor and publisher of the Telegram. Harry Blanding becomes managing editor.

Humphrey in three months would have rounded out 16 years with the Telegram.

Pointing To Prosperity

Prospects For New Automobiles

ANNOUNCEMENT that token manufacture of automobiles will be resumed this fall, to be increased in the first quarter of next year and in subsequent months, has started speculation about the effect of the demand for automobiles on postwar employment.

The statistics are encouraging. The number of automobile registrations dropped from 32,507,000 at the end of 1941 to 25,608,000 at the end of 1944. That is a net loss of approximately the number of cars which were manufactured in a good sales year prior to the war.

Today the average age of cars is eight years, while in peacetime it was six years. Considering these figures with other factors, notably the number of people who are saving to buy a new car, it is estimated that the demand for new cars in the years immediately following the war will run to 10,000,000 or 12,000,000 annually.

Since about half the material going into cars comes from outside the industry, and many lines of business are dependent on car operation for their profit, the stimulating effect will be widespread.

The economic forecasters are thus seen to be well within the limits of probability when they predict a high employment rate for the automobile and related industries following the war.

Headed For Potter's Field

SHORT but merry was the career of the luxury liner Normandie, and tragic is her finish. The world's largest and most opulent vessel, she queened it just four years and four months in the de luxe tourist trade of the North Atlantic.

When war broke out in Europe in September, 1939, the canny French Line left its $60,000,000 beauty tied up at a pier in the Hudson river at New York. From that day to this her vicissitudes have been many, but never since has she traveled a yard under her own power. It is doubtful if she ever will again.

The Normandie was seized by the United States when Hitler set up the puppet Petain regime. The U. S. assumed ownership of the vessel December 16, 1941. Fires swept her the ensuing February 9.

That was the beginning of a discreditable end for the Normandie. The Navy raised her at a cost of $3,500,000 to be fitted as a troop transport. But her keel was bent, her sides sprung. Now she is tied up a Bayonne, N. J. The French Line cannot use her again. Her shape is not adapted for a plane carrier.

There she is, perhaps to be sold for scrap metal, the glorious creature whose maiden voyage just a decade ago was heralded the world over.

In many respects, the Normandie's career is remindful of that of a young girl of good family, with health and beauty and a promising life before her, who falls into evil days and ways, only to wind up in Potter's Field.

Help For The Philippines

THE Japanese looted the Philippines. They hauled away machinery to Japan. In the fighting, bridges, harbor works, roads, railroads, power plants and factories were either wrecked for military reasons, or disabled for economic advantage.

The Filipinos must have a lot of help from this country. But willing as this country may be to help them, the fact of their independence bars much help. The independence of the Philippines was brought about by native politicians and American businessmen and farmers who wanted to get rid of the competition offered by Philippine products sent into this country duty free.

These groups will oppose lowering the tariff. They will oppose any change in the immigration quota system, which now allows only 50 Filipinos a year to enter the United States. Labor does not want the competition in this country of Filipinos who will work long hours for low pay.

The government of the Philippines is allowed to borrow only 10 per cent of the property valuation of the islands. Destruction of property in the war so reduced values that the government has practically no borrowing power. Some way must be found to get more money.

Private investors will shun such a risk, but the United States has a reputation for fair treatment for the Filipinos which it must maintain if it is to recover and hold its prestige in the Far East. It has an obligation to restore the Philippine economy which it failed to protect from the Japanese aggressors. Extending this help may not be good business, but it is good national policy, and in the long run it may pay dividends in trade throughout the Orient.

The One Minute Sermon

Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass: For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.—James 1: 22, 23, 24.

The transients just kept us going. My father was counting on the summer trade to get us out of the red. He decided to specialize in sea food, serving a real Shore Dinner every Sunday. Lobsters were abundant in our bay. Cod sold for three cents a pound and haddock four. You could buy clams, already shucked, for 15 cents a quart. It looked like a good thing.

Late in May he set Boshy to work building lobster traps and buoys. He himself wrote out notices and arranged for them to be posted in all towns within a radious of 20 miles.

On the following Saturday we began to get ready. There was the cleaning to do, the silver to polish, the butter to mold, the Bills of Fare to print—we called them Billafares—to say nothing of the cooking. None of us sat down a minute.

By Sunday all of us felt the strain. My father jumped every time the telephone rang. My mother kept scrutinizing the sky, though there wasn't a cloud in it. Sue was bossy. She was going to wait on table, and it was going to her head completely. "Do this," she snapped. "Do that." Julia and I were sulking because we had to help in the kitchen. Mrs. Guptill was irritable. It wasn't the extra work that upset her, but the lavishness she saw about. The shelves lined with pies. Four long pans of rolls rising. Great heaps of doughnuts. Shortcakes in double layers. The big kettles ready for the chowder and lobsters.

The first car made its appearance just before 1 o'clock—a red Maxwell runabout with shining black cushions: It had two passengers, the driver and a woman whose face and head were swathed in a bright green veil. (Green was easy on the eyes, so people said.) Benjamin helped the woman out, and Julia led her at once to the parlor.

The driver had no sooner taken off his goggles and his wind cuffs than five or six loafers gathered around.

"Another coming," someone called out.

We listened. Sure enough. Soon it appeared, a black, two-seated Packard with enormous headlights of polished brass.

One of its passengers rose and stepped out on the running board to give it balance while it made the curve. Then it pulled up behind the Maxwell. Five men, wearing dusters, leaped out in a light, springy way, though they were middle-aged and heavy. They shook hands with my father and the driver of the Maxwell.

"Some road."

"Yes, siree."

"How are your brakes doing?"

"Fine. How are yours?"

"Jim dandy." The speaker stroked his car affectionately.

The sound of a horn interrupted them. Looking up we saw an automobile almost upon us. Yet there had been no chugging. No knocking. A tiny line of steam was appearing from below its body.

Julia poked me. "Look at the ladies," she hissed.

There were three of them in the back seat, wearing identical striped silk coats. But that wasn't all. They wore hoods and masks over their faces, and the masks were fitted with isinglass.

The White drew up behind the Packard. It was the first time three automobiles had ever been lined up together in our village. We were so impressed that for an instant no one spoke. Then my father said, "Good day," as befitted the occasion, and himself stepped forward to assist the ladies.

Julia and I together led them to the parlor. We went slowly, for they stumbled about a good deal on the stairs, not being able to see well indoors. Once there, we hung around, waiting to discover what was behind those ghoulish masks. . . . It was quite a surprise to see three normal faces. The lady who had come in the Maxwell was lying down on the settee, resting from her journey. Driving was exhilarating, but it was hard on the back, they all agreed.

When the dinner bell rang, they hurried downstairs to join the men. Then they all crowded into the dining room.

At 4 Sue came down to the kitchen to tell us what was going on. One guest, she said, was dozing on the settee in the parlor. Some of the others were rocking on the piazza, not saying much. My father had taken the driver of the Packard up to his office for treatment. The party in the White were just about leaving. They had taken a bag of doughnuts to eat on the way. They would come back next Sunday, they had promised.

When everyone had gone, Julia and I went into the office where my mother was counting the money she had taken in. Her cheeks were flushed, and her eyes were beaming.

"We're practically home," she said.

Raids Change Tone Of Wedding Rites

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25 (AP)—American air raids have put a slight crimp in Tokyo's romance department, but there's still a flourishing wedding business operating literally on a bargain basement basis.

Radio Tokyo disclosed that since many marriage ceremonies had been interrupted by bombs, department stores have converted basements into combination air raid shelters and marriage halls, complete with bridal trousseau, shinto rites and traditional wedding banquet of rice and red beans.

One hundred yen covers everything, Tokyo said in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

But in the event of a raid, the bride must quickly slip into her "air raid outfit" and take shelter. After it's over, she can switch back to her wedding attire and the ceremony proceeds.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WHEN there was a story in the newspapers about two congressmen having a fist fight the other day, a friend said to me:

"I wish our representatives would be more dignified. They wouldn't do that sort of thing in the British parliament."

BRANDEIS

My friend has gone back to California, but, gleefully I mailed him a clipping today.

It was a little story from London and told about Lady Astor interrupting a speech which Aneurin Bevan, former butcher boy and now a member of Parliament was making.

Bevan didn't like the interruption and said so. Lady Astor kept on interrupting him.

Whereupon the dignified M. P. exclaimed:

"It really is intolerable when this old gasbag gets up and gabbles away."

So you see, I wrote to my friend, the English can be human, too.

One of the characteristics I have always liked about America is the absence of dignity and the simplicity of our official lives.

For instance, it gave me a feeling of warmth when I read about Mrs. Truman being busy with her old home in Independence, Mo., ready for the summer.

I can just picture her—in an old gingham dress, with a few specks of dirt on her face, her nose may be a little shiny, and not all ready for any company that may drop in.

That, to me, is America. I wouldn't want to see our First Lady with a crown on her head or a scepter in her hand. There is just as much dignity to a broom as to a scepter if the bearer herself has dignity of character and if the broom is a practical symbol of American womanhood.

I REMEMBER some years ago when Al Smith was running for President.

"Can you imagine Al and his Katie from a block just off the Bowery sitting in the White House?" a very dignified magazine editor asked me. "Can you picture them as hosts at a reception to foreign ambassadors and their wives?"

"Yes, I can" I said "because Katie and Al have something that many of their guests would lack—character, honesty and position that came to them by ability and effort."

Somehow I think good old Britain has gone a long way when a member of parliament can call another a gabbling gasbag without the Lion hiding his head in shame.

Jesse Jones Emerges The Victor

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

JESSE HOLMAN JONES no longer sits in the cabinet, but he has won the big fight which led to his final break with President Roosevelt and his retirement from public life in favor of his arch-enemy, Henry Wallace. Uncle Sam will not enter the manufacturing business as chief competitor of private industry.

The Texan still insists blandly that he does not know why he was fired by FDR. He denies that it was in retaliation for his alleged participation in the unhappy revolt of the Lone Star Democrats against a fourth nomination. He says that he gave Mr. Roosevelt convincing proof that he had no part in that affair.

But the inside story is that the late Chief Executive knew and disliked Mr. Jones's program for postwar reconstruction, and preferred the more radical views held by the CIO's favorite at the Chicago convention, Mr. Wallace. As Secretary of Commerce and Federal Loan administrator in the postbellum era, the Houston man would have exerted tremendous influence in shaping the future of industry in the United States.

TUCKER

"I can do almost anything I want under RFC legislation," Mr. Jones told Mr. Roosevelt in an unguarded moment, and the President never forgot that remark. The Texan was let out so that he would not be in a position to dominate the economic scene after Japan is defeated.

That assignment was to fall to the Iowan, who has long advocated that the government owes every man a job, even if it requires permanent subsidies or actual operation of the $11,000,000,000 worth of factories built by Washington during the war.

JOBS: President Roosevelt's promise of 60 million jobs was based on a plan by which Uncle Sam would operate these plants either directly or by leasing them in an arrangement to maintain high wages, full employment and high prices by federal subsides. FDR turned over to Mr. Wallace and a few industrialists the task of devising blueprints for this program.

Among the principal beneficiaries and cooperators were to be the manufacturers who received so many war contracts during the Roosevelt administration — Henry Kaiser, Andrew Jackson Higgins and R. J. Reynolds. They were to use new metals and techniques to turn out planes, automobiles, ships, radios, household appliances. They would have bought or leased their present state-financed properties at written-down figures.

Under the Roosevelt-Wallace scheme, the government would support the current high level of pay, personnel and prices. That is the essence of the Wallace 60 million job program as embodied in the measure sponsored by Sen. James E. Murray of Montana.

R. J. Thomas of the Union of Automobile Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, tried to inaugurate this system as soon as it was announced that Henry Ford's Willow Run plant would be closed down on August first. He had the backing of Philip Murray and Sidney Hillman. But Mr. Truman, in line with recommendations he made when he headed the Senate committee which bore his name, shied away from this suggestion.

He seems to favor the Jones philosophy. "Uncle Jesse" believes that postwar industry should be shaped by such naturel factors as proximity of populous markets, a large supply of labor, raw materials and availability of transportation facilities. He is opposed to forcible feeding, and he does not uphold trying to make a remote wilderness bloom with machines and chimneys simply to prove an economic theory.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE conqueror's welcome to General Eisenhower by Washington, New York, Abilene and the capitals of the Old World raises the question of his future.

Is he to go back to semi-obscurity as "proconsul of Berlin?" Or has the nation another important job for him—one beyond a strictly military task because he is more than a professional soldier?

LEMAN

Ever since President Truman's inauguration, worried Warwicks have been suggesting names for a new Secretary of State. That official is now next in line for the Presidency.

Edward R. Stettinius, r., while praised for much of his work at the San Francisco Conference, is not yet considered by most authorities a big enough man should fate again cause an empty chair in the White House. This is a major reason for Mr. Truman's suggestion that the Succession act 1886 be changed to permit the Speaker of the House to become an emergency Chief Magistrate.

New York political experts think they have hit upon a "natural" — Dwight Eisenhower for Secretary of State. His stature as an executive is now so great that he would command respect in every chancellery and, in event of a vacancy, would be fully capable of filling the highest office in the land.

In fact, his forceful simplicity in speaking, his universal appeal, his radiant smile — all demonstrated in his recent city appearances — together with his record, make him a potential candidate eventually for President.

IDOL: Regardless of the charter which will emerge from the Golden Gate, realists agree that the seeds of another world conflict will not be sown if the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union stick together.

There is no one on the horizon more fitted by experience and disposition to unite the Big Three states in peace than is the five-starred general who kept the Grand Alliance functioning in war.

Reports from abroad picture him as the idol of Europe. Wherever he has appeared people have been spontaneous in tribute to him, equaling the homage to Woodrow Wilson in the 1918 first flush of victory, before the laurel wilted.

"Few Englishmen and none from another land," declared the Times of London on his appearance in the British capital, "have established a stronger hold on the admiration and affection of Londoners." The Soviet Union bestowed on him its supreme badge of honor. Paris street crowds responded as if the immortal Foch were in the parade.

Good will of such magnitude is an asset of incalculable value to the United States. Should General Eisenhower be appointed Secretary of State, his prestige at once would pave the way for international cooperation.

TALENTS: Manhattan diplomats fear that his talents will be wasted as merely one of four "policemen" administering Germany under the orders of whippersnappers in the State department's bureaucracy.

Some generals — the unfortunate Ulysses S. Grant, for example — have failed miserably when raised above a field headquarters tent. The peace-loving U.S.A. shrinks ordinarily from calling in the military to handle civil affairs.

But "Ike" is the antithesis of a sword-rattler. It is difficult to picture this modest, good-natured gentleman from Abilene, Kansas, as a swashbuckling "man on horseback."

Because of our inherited antipathy to brass hats in mufti posts, we overlook that many of the world's greatest soldiers were statesmen of first rank. In fact, in the old days a general had to be a diplomat and often he was the head of his government — Charlemagne, Cromwell, Frederick the Great, Napoleon and Bismarck, to name only a few.

Edible paper will be available after the war, and perhaps we shall then be able to digest the columns of Walter Lippmann and Dorothy Thompson.

The Question Of Presidential Succession

Monroney Bill Offers Solution

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — This matter of the Presidential succession, which President Truman dropped into the lap of Congress, isn't a simple and easy problem

The President has recommended a line of succession to the Speaker of the House and thence to the President pro tem of the Senate as a democratic procedure because these are elective officials, rather than as provided at present to cabinet officers, beginning with Secretary of State, who have not been elected.

STOKES

The principle is recognized as sound. But this suggested solution has raised some questions—one, at first glance, that the party to which the President does not belong might capture the House in a mid-term congressional election—that happened only so recently as 1930—and the death of a President would elevate to the White House a man not of the party that controlled the administration.

This might conceivably cause disturbance and confusion. Moreover, no political party is inclined to look kindly upon losing the Presidency by default, as it were, even though it probably would lose the Presidency in the next election. Loss of the House in mid-term elections has invariably been followed by loss of the Presidency two years later.

Monroney Offers Bill

There are also other possible complications. Therefore there seems to be sound sense in the suggestion embodied in a Presidential Succession bill introduced some time ago by Rep. Mike Monroney (D., Okla.), for a commission to study the problem to find a permanent solution to replace any temporary method that might be devised.

Congress meanwhile could enact a bill that would take care of any contingency that might arise until a permanent method could be enacted, either by Congress or through a Constitutional amendment.

The Monroney bill provides for a line of succession to the Speaker of the House, pending a report by the commission and action upon it. As a longtime plan, the Oklahoma congressman has suggested a novel idea, that is, that not only a Vice President but an assistant Vice President be chosen who would succeed to the Presidency in event both the President and Vice President died or were disqualified. This would provide for almost any contingency.

THIS is in line with his general thesis that the solution of the problem should be well-defined and reflect as far as possible, the will of the people as expressed at a regular, general election. He does not look favorably upon any solution that would call for special elections which, in the case of a choice of Chief Executive, might be upsetting.

Mr. Monroney also would have the proposed commission look into other related matters never definitely settled. One is the question of the disability of a President. Who, for example, should decide whether a President is disabled? This almost became a problem in the Woodrow Wilson administration and it might have been a problem now if President Roosevelt had not died but had been incapacitated by illness.

June Electoral College

Another is the question of changing the Electoral College system which almost became a serious problem in the case of Texas and other Southern states in the last election. Another is the decision as to who would become President in case both the President and Vice President were unable to take office on inauguration day.

There is also another question. It is raised by the perpetuation in key places, often in both the Speakership and Presidency of the Senate, of Southerners because of the one-party system in the South which guarantees longevity in office and eleates Southerners through the seniority rule Both the present Speaker and the President Pro Tem are from the South.

THE Southern bloc is almost like another party to other elements in the Democratic party.

Southerners, also, are elected on a restricted sufferage, because of poll taxes and "white" primaries, or both. It would seem that any change which provided a line of succession to either branch of Congress should be accompanied with removal of such restrictions so that membership from the South would be truly representative.

Efforts To Stop News From Rome To Cease

ROME, June 25 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Arthur J. McChrystal, Allied headquarters censorship chief, announced today that the censors would abandon their efforts to stop news dispatches on the grounds that they might cause inter-Allied friction.

"Censorship in this theater will apply only to matters that affect the Japanese war and not another thing," he said, unless "a serious situation develops in this theater which would brink troops into an operation role, or a possible operation role.

were captured in dispersal areas near the field.

As the Cagayan valley campaign thus sped towards its climax, MacArthur also disclosed that the Japanese had lost their major supply base in Luzon's mountains west of the Cagayan.

This base, in the Balud valley nestling amid the peaks of the high Cordilleras, has now been dubbed "Death Valley" by the Americans, who found thousands of dead Japanese in an eight-mile stretch littered with destroyed vehicles and smashed supply dumps amid the tall grass.

Advance Into Valley

The 130th regiment alone accounted for more than 400 Japanese killed in its 11-day advance into the Balud valley.

On the southeastern Philippine island of Mindanao, where another cleanup campaign is in progress, Maj. Gen. Roscoe B. Woodruff's 24th Infantry division crossed the Tomogan river on Saturday, outflanking a Japanese wedge between Talomo and the Davao river.

The 24th was within 28 miles of a junction with the 31st Infantry.

On both Mindanao and Luzon the air forces gave close support to all ground actions. On Mindanao more than 100 Marine dive-bombers and Mitchell medium bombers hit the Walde area of the Agusan river valley for the second consecutive day. That is the enemy escape route from Bukidnon province.

daily activity over empire seas, a period of about 10 weeks.

A small enemy ship and several small craft were damaged by bombing, strafing and rocket attacks by Army and Marine fighter planes in the Sakishima group of the southern Ryukyu chain. Medium bombers of the Fourth Marine Aircraft wing damaged a cargo ship and a transport in the Siikoku area June 24, and swept over the Marshalls and Palaus June 25.

Another small cargo ship probably was sunk and two others damaged by Eleventh Army Air force Liberators off Paramushiro in the Kuriles. Eleventh Air force bombers also pounded air installations at Kataoka on Shumushu, in the northern Kuriles.

Hundreds Of Houston Meat Markets Closed

HOUSTON, June 25. (AP)—The meat counter shutdown of the Retail Grocers association was almost unanimous here today.

Chain stores and a scattering of independents kept their meat departments open. They reported no buying rush; apparently Houston housewives had stocked up over the week-end.

Somebody, however, was buying plenty of live cattle on the Houston market. The trade was brisk and prices showed no indication of falling. Buyers from Beaumont, Port Arthur, Lufkin, and other towns were much in evidence.

No exact check of the stores closing their markets could be made because of the number. Pat S. Stone, executive secretary of the retail grocers, estimated the total at about 800—more stores than the association has members. He said dozens of non-members in Houston and in the smaller Harris county towns had closed, too.

Mr. Stone repeated his previous statement that the meat departments will stay closed until the retailers can buy meat at the OPA ceilings for the wholesale level without having to pay side money.

County Highways

$19,911.25.

In precinct 2, Mansker let a contract for a half-mile of road to cost $1,710.52, and in precinct 4, Farris let one for $3,708 for building a half-mile of road and repair of existing highway.

All roads will be of caliche base with double asphalt surface.

J. R. Fanning was successful contractor in all, closely pressed in the bidding by Van Earl Sams of Childress.

Holt and Mansker will each divide costs of the mile road north from Roosevelt school to the Acuff farm-to-market road. Holt, in addition, will build to run a mile west of Idalou and two north. Farris' road will run from the McWhorter school to the highway, also will connect with the existing highway in the Arnett-Benson addition. He also will repair existing paving in that addition.

Permitting the state to accept from the city of Laredo and Webb County Tuberculosis association a hospital and 10 acres of land, the institution to be operated by the state.

Permitting counties to maintain county parks.

Remitting a portion of state property taxes for 10 years to Colorado, Fayette and Jackson counties for flood control purposes.

SWPC Empowered To Act For Veterans

DALLAS, June 25 (AP) — The Smaller War Plants corporation has been granted power by the surplus property board to act as purchasing agent for World war II veterans who want to buy war surplus equipment or to maintain small businesses.

Morton R. Harrison, regional SWPC director here, said the SWPC, beginning July 1, was granted permission to use its priority preference as a federal agency to buy up to $2,500 in surplus equipment for veterans before it goes on the open market. The SWPC may also extend the veteran credit or make him a loan of up to 85 per cent of the purchase price, he said.

Applications should be made to the SWPC office here.

Meanwhile, the regional War Food administration offices here announced receipt of an order providing for preference certificates which require dealers to give priority to purchases of farm machinery by veterans. The certificates will be issued by county agricultural conservation committees.

Contract Assigned On Incendiary Bombs

DETROIT, June 25 (AP)—Chrysler corporation announced today that a contract for more than 7,500,000 incendiary bombs for use against Japan has been assigned to the Evansville, Ind., ordnance plant.

The bombs are made of metal loaded with a mixture of magnesium, gasoline and other incendiary materials. Each weighs about 10 pounds, is about 24 inches long and three inches in diameter. It is a hexagonal case, fitted with nose and tail assembly. Thirty-eight of the bombs are loaded, honeycomb-fashion, into a large metal container, which, as a single unit, resembles and is aimed as a bomb from the bomb-bay of a plane. The time fuses, igniting a bursting cord, open the 500-pound loaded container in mid-air, scattering the 38 smaller incendiary missiles over a wide area.

New Poultry Price Plan Is Announced

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP) — OPA today installed a new zone system for the pricing of poultry, incorporating the recently announced 1.26 cents a pound average increase in young chicken prices.

The new ceilings, covering all poultry except ducks, become effective July 1. They do not alter the general level of prices except for the young birds.

The zone system replaces the basing - point procedure under which prices in each city were figured on a complicated system of major market prices and freight rates.

The new prices give cents-a-pound ceilings within each zone of the country. Two price tables were provided, one for turkeys and a second for other poultry, with the zones differing because of varying geographic practices in production and distribution.

Document Indicates Discussion Of Spanish Entry Into War In 1941

By JACK FLEISCHER
United Press Staff Writer

ROSENHEIM, Germany, June 25—Captured German documents revealed today that Germany and Italy attempted to bring Spain into the war on the Axis side in February, 1941, but failed because of Spain's lack of food and military materiel.

The effort was revealed in a memorandum to Adolf Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop by Nazi Deputy Foreign Minister Ernst von Weizsaecker based on a long conversation between Gen. Francisco Franco and Benito Mussolini at Bordighera on the Riviera.

If Spain eventually did come into the war, the memorandum said, she would have expected to receive both Gibraltar and French Morocco.

However, Franco advised Mussolini that Spain could not enter the war at that time because the country was suffering from famine and was completely unprepared militarily.

"Spain," Weizsaecker reported, "wanted to cooperate further with the Axis in order to make its contribution to final victory.

"But Spain was suffering literal famine and was completely unprepared militarily. Franco therefore was not capable of effective contribution to the victory of the Axis powers.

"In any event Spain's entry into the war was dependent on two conditions: first, upon economic and military aid; second, upon more precise definition of article five of the known program of the three powers. In this definition it would have to be said that Spain received French Morocco in addition to Gibraltar."

The reference to "article five" was not expanded but appeared to concern some secret agreement for division of territorial spoils of the war.

Franco, Weizsaecker reported, assured Mussolini that no political commitments were involved in economic agreements he was then negotiating with Britain and the United States.

"Regarding military action against Gibraltar," Weizsaecker said, "the attack would have to be made by Spanish forces even if with the support of German forces."

Weizsaecker reported that Franco submitted a list of Spanish military and civil needs and added that il duce believed "Spain was not in a position to enter the war; even if Germany were prepared to deliver everything which Spain desired, a period of several months would be necessary alone for the transportation of these things."

Former Aide Says Rommel Killed Self

WIESBADEN, June 25 (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's former chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Fritz Bayerlein, has told Allied officers the Desert Fox committed suicide to avoid the death penalty for allegedly participating in the attempt on Hitler's life last July.

The officers related today that Bayerlein, now convalescing from a heart attack in a prisoner of war hospital, said a high official of the German war department visited Rommel last September, handed him a pistol and said:

"You will handle it this way or you will be brought before a people's court."

At that time, Bayerlein said, Rommel was recovering from wounds received in an attack by an American fighterbomber, which strafed his car while it was on the road.

Newlyweds' Arrest Is Trying Ordeal

SHREVEPORT, June 25 (UP)—Shortly after a newly married Army couple registered at a hotel Saturday night, two local police officers walked in and told them they were under arrest for theft of an automobile at Texarkana.

"We didn't steal any car," the young bride exclaimed. "We just got married and we're on our honeymoon."

A check disclosed it all was the idea of a practical joke expert who called from Texarkana, said he was the bride's father and asked police to arrest the pair.

The honeymoon continued, but the groom announced he would start hunting for the jokester.

TRIESTE STRIKE CALLED

TRIESTE, June 25 (AP)—A general strike was called here today to protest the disbandment at Allied reguest of the "Guard of the People," an unofficial police force formed during the Yugoslav occupation. The strike halted all work at docks, stopped transportation and closed all shops.

Returned Marine Vet Asks More Munitions

NEW YORK, June 25 (U.P.) — A Marine officer came back from Okinawa hellfire today to tell war workers that our Pacific armies can't whip Japan without a flood of weapons from home.

Lt. Col. Jack Hawkins, 28-year-old leatherneck from Roxton, Tex., told a press conference that "Okinawa is just the beginning of the final death struggle with Japan. And if you could see the enormous expenditure of materiel that went into that victory, you'd know that it will take plenty more to keep us going."

The blond Marine, graduate of the Naval Academy, landed on Okinawa after escaping from a Japanese prison camp in the Philippines. He had been captured at Corregidor.

He is scheduled to tour war plants.

The West Point graduating class of 1915 produced more than 30 generals.

Carpenter Takes Up Bryan's Post

Serving as county tax assessor collector since Sept. 1, 1937, H. B. Bryan resigned his position Monday morning to enter private business, and Bedford F. Carpenter, chief deputy in the tax office, was named by the county commissioner's court to succeed him.

The resignation was offered in an unexpected letter to the court immediately upon its convention this morning. Bryan asked that he be relieved effective July 1. His letter read, in part:

"It has been a privilege to serve the citizenship. . . . My association with the commissioners court and with other officials has been pleasant. My intention is to enter business. . . ."

Associated With Roofing Firm

To newsmen, Bryan said he had become associated with Lydick-Hamilton Roofing Company, Inc., of 425 Ave. N. The following statement from C. H. (Brownie) Hamilton of 1913 Twenty-third further explained:

"I wish to announce after 13 years as manager that I have sold my interest . . . to H. B. Bryan, who will take over active management of the company July 1.

"I will be associated with my bother in the Hamilton Roofing companies at Fort Worth and in Roswell, N. M., and will continue living in Lubbock."

Bryan also became half owner and partner of Wayne Martin in Hamilton-Martin Sheet Metal works, having acquired Hamilton's share, it was announced.

Began Work In 1930

Bryan began work in the tax office Oct. 1, 1930, and was appointed tax assessor-collector Sept. 1, 1937, to fill out 16 months of the unexpired term of Hurley Carpenter, resigned. He four times was elected to the position.
