A Fine Recipe For Chili

By Glenn Shelton

My rotund friend John C. White dropped by the other day packing the famous Dallas County Jail chili recipe. Being a lover myself of the tart victual, thought perhaps you, too, might like a copy. The recipe is supposed to have been developed by former Sheriff "Smoot" Schmid for men in the Dallas County pokey, but its fame spread quickly beyond the prison walls and soon achieved world recognition. Julie Lee Wright, nationally known food authority, called it "one of the ten best recipes since 1930." She also called it "the best chili I ever tasted."

Now, personally, I think good chili is one of the tastiest foods devised by man, but poor chili is worse than no food at all. That's why I prize any good chili recipe, or value any good commercial chili on the market.

Anyway, here is the recipe: 1/2 lb. or 2 cups ground beef suet, 2 lbs. ground beef, 3 buds garlic, 1 1/2 tbsps. paprika, 3 tbsps. chili powder, 1 tbsp. comino seed, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. white pepper, 1 1/2 tbsps. finely diced dried sweet chili pods, 3 cups of water.

FRY OUT SUET IN HEAVY KETTLE. ADD MEAT, FINELY DICED GARLIC, AND SEASONINGS. COVER. COOK SLOWLY 4 HOURS, STIRRING OCCASIONALLY. ADD WATER; CONTINUE COOKING ABOUT 1 HOUR UNTIL SLIGHTLY THICKENED. SERVE PLAIN OR MIXED WITH EQUAL PORTIONS OF COOKED DRIED PINK OR RED BEANS. SERVES 6. (DRIED CHILI PODS MAY BE OMITTED).

Try this recipe the next time you have a hankering for good chili. If it's half as good as they say it is, save me a bite.

OFF ON A TANGENT — Was reading the other day about an argument between two gourmets. They couldn't agree whether the onion in a hot dog should go on top of or under the wiener. Their argument got hotter than a hot dog and ended up in a brawl and lawsuit. In my opinion, they both were wrong; the onion should "surround" the wiener. Right?

A BEE, IF IT FLEW AN AVERAGE OF A MILE, TO A SOURCE OF HONEY, MAKING ENOUGH TRIPS TO PRODUCE A POUND, IT WOULD HAVE TO FLY THE EQUIVALENT OF THREE TIMES AROUND THE WORLD.

Wichita Falls ranks 131st in size among cities of the U.S.

CONGRATULATIONS to the kids of Rider High who published an exceedingly clever April Fool's Day edition of "Rider Roundup." We all agreed here at this paper that Rider staffers did themselves proud.

THE MAILBAG — "Undoubtedly, your hippo stew springs from an out-of-state source. Name one red-blooded Texan who would eat such a dish without carrots, quartered, onions and a pinch of garlic."

LBJ To Open Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson will officially open the World's Fair on April 22, Mayor Robert F. Wagner said Monday night.

Wagner said the ceremony will be for 16,000 invited guests in Singer Bowl inside the fairgrounds. He said Johnson accepted by telephone the invitation tendered last December.

Homage Paid City Elections Are Slated Today

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The deep-throated roar of distant guns paid homage Monday to the memory of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, echoing across two main scenes of his long life, the U.S. Military Academy and New York City, his last home.

At both places, 19-gun salutes were fired at noon.

Across the nation, on the high seas, and at all American installations around the world, flags were lowered to half-staff.

During the week of mourning, his body will lie in repose in New York, the Capitol rotunda in Washington, and in the MacArthur Memorial rotunda in Norfolk.

He chose Norfolk as his last resting place because his mother, the former Mary Pickney Hardy, was born, reared and married there.

MacArthur's body was brought to New York from Washington by motorcade Sunday night. He died in Walter Reed Army Hospital at the age of 84.

At 8 a.m. Monday an honor guard of Army, Navy, Marines Coast Guards, and Air Force men took station around the casket containing MacArthur's body in a New York funeral home.

The body was clad in simple sun tans—the tropical uniform he wore in the Pacific War and during the summer in the Korean War.

Clusters of five stars, denoting his rank, glittered from each shoulder. But none of his many decorations was attached to the shirt.

The casket, of cold rolled steel, is the standard Army issue. It rested on a catafalque draped in black.

Only members of the family and intimate friends were permitted in the funeral room Monday. One of the first to arrive was Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney. Whitney first knew MacArthur in the Philippines, then served with him in the Pacific and during the period when MacArthur was directing the postwar occupation of Japan.

Incumbent R. V. (Pete) Claytor, only candidate presently holding a seat on the council, seeks re-election to Place 5 against Mrs. Joyce McDowell, mother of four and the second woman to announce in a Wichita Falls city race.

Former alderman Winston Wallander opposes K. C. Spell, twice mayor and once councilman.

Wallander, who resigned from Place 1 in March, is a Wichita Falls nurseryman.

Harry Campsey, an oil company executive, and Kenneth Hill, representative of an insurance firm, are seeking Wallander's vacated post.

Most sought-after post on the council is Place 6, where four candidates are pitted for the seat. Cletus Schenk, Edwin (Ed) Baggett, A. J. Otte and James A. Williams, second Negro in the city's history to be a serious candidate for the council, are all running.

Eleven Seek Voter Support For Five Posts

City taxpayers will select their mayor and four councilmen Tuesday out of 11 candidates. Polling booths are listed on page 13.

City Clerk Bill Hicks counted 72 absentee ballots filed in the municipal election, indicating about 7,500 voters will mark their preferences Tuesday.

Polls at the 33 locations will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Voters must have paid a current poll tax or hold a valid exemption, be a resident of Texas for at least a year and have been a resident of Wichita Falls for at least six months prior to the election.

Only unopposed candidate is W. Leroy Daniel, running for Place 4 on the city council.

Incumbent R. V. (Pete) Claytor, only candidate presently holding a seat on the council, seeks re-election to Place 5 against Mrs. Joyce McDowell, mother of four and the second woman to announce in a Wichita Falls city race.

Mrs. Alice Pond, resident of Wichita Falls since 1914 and prominent in club, civic and church activities here for almost half a century, died at the family home, 2309 Farrington, Monday night following a long illness.

Mrs. Pond, wife of Ralph K. Pond, a member of a pioneer laundry-operating family here, came to Wichita Falls from Dalt, Tex., in 1914.

A graduate of the Wichita Falls High School in the class of 1915, she attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas and married in 1918.

Funeral services will be held from the Hampton-Vaughan Chapel Wednesday at 2 p.m. with Dr. William E. Wright, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in the Riverside Cemetery under the Direction of Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home.

Mrs. Pond's activities in the civic and social life of the community included a wide variety of organizations. In addition to her leadership in the First Christian Church, she also was associated with the 1930 Study Club, the Criterion Club, the Woman's Forum, the Knife and Fork Club and the Women of Rotary. She was an avid gardener and was a member of the Good Earth Horticultural Club.

She is survived by her husband, Ralph Pond Sr., of the home, one son, Ralph Pond Jr. of 1607 Singleton; one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Niblack of Rodgers, Ark.; her mother, Mrs. F. P. Warren of 2205 Tenth, and five grandchildren.

FOR STORM VICTIMS Tornado Fund Drive Begins

The Wichita County Red Cross Chapter announced Monday an emergency appeal for funds to help support the organization's disaster relief efforts in behalf of Wichita Falls tornado victims.

Chairman Hal L. Dyer said that contributions will be used to supplement local and national Red Cross funds which are being expended to provide food, clothing, shelter and medical care to tornado sufferers.

The Salvation Army also is in need of funds to cover their expenses on disaster operations. Contributions may be made directly to either of these organizations.

ARC funds will be used to help families who may need long term assistance with the repair and rebuilding of homes, replacement of household furnishings, or meeting other tornado-caused needs they cannot meet with their own resources.

Red Cross presently has four mobile units feeding victims and workers in and around the disaster area. These units are from ARC chapters in Dallas, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Lawton, Okla.

Tom Wagner, director of the ARC disaster operation estimated Monday that the cost of the operation will run "several hundred thousand dollars." He said that by mid-afternoon Monday, more than 120 families had applied for rehabilitation assistance.

Wagner further stated that the disaster headquarters located in the old Times Publishing Co. building, at Seventh and Scott will remain open until all victims have had adequate opportunity to apply for assistance.

All Red Cross assistance is given as an outright gift, and the ARC does not make loans to disaster victims, officials said Monday.

"Those of us who have been fortunate in being spared from this catastrophe are urged to contribute to the Wichita Falls Red Cross Disaster Fund," Dyer said.

Contributions for the Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund may be delivered to the disaster headquarters at Seventh and Scott, mailed to the same address or call 723-0711 and a representative will pick it up.

As of Monday evening the ARC had already received donations from 12 persons totaling $463 in anticipation of such an emergency fund drive, officials said.

and approved shortly afterwards by voice vote in the Senate.

Speakers in both houses said the money is only a small portion of what's needed to rehabilitate the state.

"Only a drop in the bucket compared with the need," said Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., who introduced the bill.

The measure provides supplemental money for the President's Emergency Relief Fund, which had dipped to $14 million because of outlays for damage caused by the flooding Ohio River earlier this year.

Johnson, in requesting the money, said it will come from $400 million allotted for contingencies in the budget and will not affect budget totals for the current fiscal year.

The President's fund is limited to aid for public facilities such as sewers and roads. The President earlier made $5 million available to the state for rehabilitation of facilities.

In another relief move, Johnson ordered about $2 million made available from other funds for loans for home replacement or repairs.

These funds are part of $53 million appropriated this year for the Farmers Home Administration and placed in reserve by the Budget Bureau, the White House said. The loans will be at 4 per cent and run up to 33 years.

White House press secretary George Reedy said Johnson spent some time Monday studying disaster reports made by Edward McDermott, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, who toured the disaster area shortly after the quake.

Rep. Ralph Rivers, D-Alaska, thanking the House for its speedy action, said the private sector of Alaska's economy needs help since there was no insurance coverage for earthquake damage.

SBA Making Funds Available

By NATHAN FAIR
Disaster victims seeking sizeable financial aid will be served at the Red Cross center, Seventh and Scott, by Hal Martin, representative of the Small Business Administration's regional office in Dallas.

With an office on the second floor of the former home of the Times Publishing Co., manager Frank Hudson will work with Martin to help secure home and business loans with rates at three per cent to be paid in up to 20 years.

Updated Loss Figures
Just released figures prepared by city engineer Frank Farlow assisted by the city tax office showed:

261 — buildings totally destroyed;
16-75 per cent damaged;
24-50 per cent damaged;
96-25 per cent damaged;
84—slightly damaged.

In the El Rey Trailer Courts on Burk Burnett Highway, of a total 76 units, 31 were totally destroyed and 25 units suffered partial damage.

Robert E. West, SBA regional director for an area including Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas, said Monday that every effort will be made to advance the government loans in from ten days to 2 weeks time.

"We are mobilizing all available personnel to get set up here. We realize the need is urgent and valid, and we hope to meet each individual problem as best we can," West told Publisher Rhea Howard in a conversation at the Chamber of Commerce.

Bankers And SBA
Earlier in the day, Wichita Falls bankers met with Martin to discuss the loan plans of the SBA. In the president's conference room of the chamber, Martin told them of a participation program allowing banks to share an interest in loans advanced.

However, no immediate decision had been made to join the Administration's program.

During Hurricane Carla two years ago, West said the SBA made loans totaling $17 million. "Here, the insurance situation is a little different. Many of the people suffering damage in Hurricane Carla had no insurance."

FREE CLOTHING — R. A. Bata, disaster director for the Seventh-Day Adventist Services of Texas from Fort Worth, shown far right, is leading the effort of distributing free clothing to tornado victims in Wichita Falls. The vans moved into Wichita Falls as soon as word was received on Friday's killer tornado. The church group has two such vans operating in Wichita Falls — one from Amarillo and one from Fort Worth. All clothing distributed by the group is sized, cleaned, mended and free of charge. Shown are a group of Seventh-Day Adventist volunteers at one of the vans on the disaster site Monday. In addition to the clothing van some 35 men of the Medical Cadet Corp came in to aid disaster victims with their commander, Captain Dexter Beary.

BOOK SALE STARTS — The doors of the American Association of University Women's book sale shop opened Monday morning with a wide variety of books being offered. Proceeds from the sale will be used for the scholarship fund of the AAUW, which is used to assist local students. Stray Dog Costs Absent Owner $10

Wichita Falls' new dog ordinance was exercised Monday by Corporation Court Judge Titus Mitchell when a citizen charged with owning a straying dog forfeited bond of $10 for failure to appear at a hearing.

A complaint filed March 27 by James M. Cowley of 4210 Emerson resulted in the action.

Cowley alleged that the owner's dog, "Tillie," was "out of his own yard and clearly loose from all restraint."

"I had asked these people before to keep this dog penned up, but I guess it didn't do any good," Cowley said Monday night.

"I think the dog ordinance is a fine thing," Cowley said. Dog in question was a part German shepherd and collie, female.

Sheppard Awards Two Contracts

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — Two contracts were awarded Friday by the Procurement Office at Sheppard Technical Training Center, said Maj. Walter B. Sloan, procurement officer.

M. D. McDaniel Co. in Wichita Falls received a contract on the project to alter steam heat mains for its low bid of $8,598.

Other firms and their bids were Morris Plumbing Co. of Wichita Falls, $14,503; Roark Construction Co. of Wichita Falls, $14,736; Charles D. Hughes of Wichita Falls, $15,925.

Work is to begin immediately and is scheduled for completion the first part of July.

C. F. Miller Construction Co. of Wichita Falls was awarded the contract to repair the disposal and salvage warehouse, building 2135 in the Kell Field area.

Other firms and their bids were B. H. Alexander of Burkburnett, $10,119; Curtis Tate Construction Co. of Wichita Falls, $10,749; Guthrie Construction Co. of Iowa Park, $12,603; K. P. Construction Company of Altus, Okla., $18,048; Roark Construction Co. of Wichita Falls, $10,590; Campbell Construction Co. of Wichita Falls, $11,490; and J. A. Simmons Co. of Petrolia, $36,700.

Work is to begin immediately and is scheduled for completion in mid-August.

Both projects were 100 per cent set aside for small businesses.

cosia Monday night and gunned them down, Turkish Cypriot Vice President Fazil Kuchuk charged Tuesday.

The incident posed a serious new crisis for U.N. forces who had just arranged a cease-fire between warring ethnic communities in western Cyprus.

Two bodies were discovered in a field by the British shortly before midnight. One man survived, although "wounded," and he said the fourth might still be alive in the field.

The survivor said the four had been taken from Famagusta Gate in Nicosia by men armed with automatic weapons, lined up and shot, according to the Turkish account.

The survivor of the shooting, Husnu Hassan of Paphos, told Turkish officials at his hospital bed that the party of Turks first stopped at the central police station as their van headed toward town from the southern city of Limassol.

He said that after they were interrogated for an hour and a half they were released and went on to Nicosia, about 1 1/2 miles away.

At Famagusta Gate, the Turks were halted again, according to Hassan, and were taken outside town for about four miles where they were beaten with guns.

rican Carla were not covered for floodwater damage, or "wind-driven water," Martin said.

Many Insured

"We have found that a high percentage of people suffering loss in Friday's tornado are insured, thereby leaving only about 15 per cent of the people needing loans to restore their homes and businesses," he said.

An authority of the National Board of Fire Underwriters has set insured damage at $2.4 million.

Other Financial Aid

Other financial aid available to disaster victims was being made Monday by the American Red Cross.

Disaster director Tom Wagner told Monday how relief work here would run "into hundreds of thousands of dollars."

"The Red Cross spent $396,000 in Waco when the tornado hit there," Wagner said. "I doubt whether the bill here will be that high, but it will be substantial."

"We don't sell" assistance, we give it away. Anybody who tries to sell items or aid to relief families will no longer be a representative of the American Red Cross," Wagner added.

Wagner estimated some 50 families at Sheppard AFB and 70 families in FHA and public housing authority were being sheltered.

"We will continue our 'mass care' program for as long as necessary, but we expect the need to diminish by Thursday afternoon," he said.

Burglar Takes $700 In Two Break-ins

The Wichita Falls Country Club and Pro Shop was burglarized of about $700 between the hours of 6 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. Monday, it was reported to the Wichita Falls Police Department.

Investigating officers discovered the burglar escaped on foot and that the same person committed both burglaries.

Police reported that about $300 was taken from the Country Club and about $400 from the Pro Shop.

Several suspects were questioned in connection with the crimes but no arrests were made Monday.

WEATHER FORECAST — Partly cloudy and cooler weather is forecast for Wichita Falls Tuesday. Scattered showers are expected in the south and central portions of the nation Tuesday with possible snow over the central plains and plateau. It will be colder in the entire plains region with milder temperatures over the rest of the country. (AP Wirephoto Map) the city's plans for clearing the area.

"The 24-hour police blockade of the area will be lifted at 6 p.m. Wednesday," he said.

"However, police and K-9 units will patrol the area heavily for some time. No one will need a pass to enter after that time," he said.

All city officials remained at two broken areas, Sunset Terrace and Lincoln Heights, while Sheppard Air Force Base crews worked to repair damage there.

Maj. Gen. Robert M. Stillman reported to chambers of commerce authorities Monday that "no other essentials other than power were lost in the tornado damage, and we have a mobile transformer now working for that."

Thanks From Sheppard

"I want to express thanks for the support of the community in offering assistance to Sheppard," he said. "We appreciate it!"

He reported no military fatalities, the dependent fatality, and 69 treated for injuries at the base hospital.

Asked if possible health hazards had developed from the wreckage, Davis said a potential danger zone near the El Rey Trailer Courts were being tended to by city health authorities.

"There is no danger now, of course, but there could be if we let it go. However, the situation is being corrected right this minute," Davis said Monday afternoon in Municipal Auditorium.

He said pictures of the disaster and a detailed chronology would be prepared in booklet form as information to cities which might someday face a similar disaster.

Learned Lessons

"I wish we had known what to do when it happened," he said. "Perhaps we can pass on the lessons we learned from all this, so that others will be prepared for tornadoes."

What wreckage is trucked away from the two areas by city crews will be burned or dumped in ravines, he noted.

"We're trying to find a place to put it all," he said.

First Polaris Fired From WICHITAN'S SUB

In a telephone call to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Bryce, 2900 Ninth, Monday night, Commander Thomas Alan Bryce of the USS Henry Clay reported the firing of the nuclear-powered submarine off the coast of Cape Kennedy Monday "a complete success."

It was the first firing of a Polaris missile recently from the submarine since it was commissioned over a month ago and was witnessed by Secretary of the Navy, Paul Nitze and Eugene Zuckert, Secretary of the Air Force.

Commander Bryce called his parents from Cape Kennedy. His home base is Charleston, S.C.

At the invitation of the Commander Bryce, several officials from Sheppard Air Force Base toured the Henry Clay while visiting Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., with Col. Dalene Bailey, deputy commander at SAFB, last week. They were Maj. Billy B. Brown, Maj. George R. Strader and Capt. Richard J. Griffin.

EMERGENCY REPORT

Nine traffic accidents, which injured four persons, were reported to the Wichita Falls Police Department Monday.

They were:

At 1900 Sheppard Access Road, where a car driven by Elmer Alton White, 54, of Burkburnett hit a steel wire fence. He was injured and was hospitalized.

At Ninth and Polk, an accident involving Lesley Wayne Betts of Iowa Park and Annie Beck Walters of 700 1/2 Taylor injured 19-year-old Betts. He was at Wichita General Hospital Monday night.

At 3000 Kemp, a mishap involving Glenn E. Tedford Jr. of 3005 Speedway as the driver of a vehicle which struck a utility pole injuring Tedford, 18, and Mary Beth Elderton, 18, of 1405 Hunt. The youths were at Wichita General Hospital with scalp lacerations and possible head injuries Monday night.

At 3905 Grant, involving Ronald W. Watkins of 1820 McGregor and Clinton H. Long of Holiday, Tex.

Fifth and Holliday, Jerry Wayne Allen of 3106 Avenue Q and Enoch R. Owen of 1308 Fourth.

Holliday and Holliday Road, a vehicle operated by Dovey Duncan Wilkes of 1311 Sixteenth hit the road curbing.

Kemp and Avenue R, Clinton L. Broday of 2200 Ellingham and Vicki B. Morgan of 4102 Stearns.

Fifth and Broad, Walter B. Briscoe of 1207 North Tenth and Martha P. Moore of 4416 Westward.

And at Lucas and Sunnyside, involving Doris Wist Bachman of 2104 Hayes and Bobbye Kelley of 1645 Best.

Chamber Takes Step For Accreditation

Another step in acquiring national accreditation for the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce was taken Monday noon when members of the board and action group chairmen met in a call session with Lester Flesner, national chamber representative.

The call board meeting was held with Flesner to "validate" the evaluation report submitted to the national chamber following the Wichita Falls chamber's application for accreditation several weeks ago.

Third and final step in the program will be voting on the request during the annual National chamber meeting in Washington D.C. the latter part of this month, Flesner said.

Flesner said his visit to Wichita Falls had a two-fold purpose that of giving an interpretation on accreditation and to ask all attending the special meeting to fill out a 12-point questionnaire.

He outlined the objectives of a chamber of commerce as jobs, business climate and profit. "Purpose of the accreditation program is to separate those chambers who are trying to do a good job from those who are camouflaging under the chamber name," Flesner said.

In speaking to the directors on their weaknesses he said that the program is under-financed and that a city the size of Wichita Falls should have $100 minimum dues. However, this does not mean the chamber will have to accept his recommendation on the minimum dues figure.

Flesner praised the Wichita Falls organization's committee structure and ended his portion of the program by asking each person at the meeting to fill out a questionnaire, concerning their own ideas toward the working part of a chamber of commerce.

In other business Mayor John Gavin was appointed chairman of the military affairs action group, to fill the unexpired term of R. C. (Dick) Rancier, who is being transferred to Dallas by his company.

The board also elected Johnny Allred to fill Rancier's unexpired term on the board of directors.

It also was agreed that the chamber would draw up a resolution commending Rancier for his many civic duties during his residence in Wichita Falls and for his untiring service to the chamber. He is immediate past president of the organization.

Maj. Gen. Robert M. Stillman, commander of Sheppard Air Force Base, attended the call meeting and gave a brief report on the status of the base after Friday's tornado, which did extensive damage.

He said that the base suffered no military fatalities, and that only one dependent was dead. Some 60 persons, both military and civilian, were treated at the hospital for injuries sustained in the disaster.

The old hospital area of the base was destroyed by the tornado, but Gen. Stillman pointed out that most of these buildings were going to be razed.

He cited the main loss as coming from equipment stored in the unused buildings including commissary and hospital supplies.

One hangar was lost as well as some training equipment, but the commander assured the board that "the flow of training students would continue as scheduled."

No base essentials other than power were completely destroyed by the tornado and a mobile transformer is now supplying power to the military installation. He further stressed that the Strategic Air Command area received only hail damage.

The board approved the suggestion that Jennings authorize voting rights to chamber members, as many as six, during the national meeting.

Math Professor Going To Missouri School

William J. Kennedy Jr., mathematics instructor at Midwestern University, has been selected by the National Science Foundation to attend a summer institute at the Missouri School of Mines, Rolla, Mo., according to university officials.

The institute, running from June 8 to July 31, will involve the study of numerical and statistical methods of digital computing and analog computation.

Kennedy received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Oklahoma State University and joined the MU faculty in September.

Gen. Stillman then voiced his appreciation to the many offers to help which have been coming into the base since Friday's disaster.

Mrs. Elaine Cropper reported on the recent bid made in Midland for the Texas Women's Bowling Association Convention and thanked the chamber for their effort in this. Wichita Falls barely lost the bid to Austin.

Mrs. Cropper also presented Mayor Gavin with a thank-you plaque.

John Estes, president of the chamber, announced that Rex Jennings, executive vice president, and himself would attend the national chamber meeting in Washington D.C. April 26-29.

The board approved the suggestion that Jennings authorize voting rights to chamber members, as many as six, during the national meeting.

MISS BURKBURNETT Burkburnett—Miss Sue Revier, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Revier here and a sophomore at Texas Christian University, has been crowned Miss Burkburnett for 1964. She will compete in the Miss Texas Pageant in June.

Red Cross Board Meeting Today

The regular monthly board meeting of the Wichita County chapter of the American Red Cross Tuesday at 10 a.m. will include a study on the Red Cross disaster service to tornado victims in Wichita Falls.

George Clevenger, chapter manager said Monday, the meeting will be held in the City National Bank building and will be highlighted with an explanation on rehabilitation plans now being started in the city.

This will include helping victims rebuild their homes, providing furniture, clothing and other needs for normal living.

Burglar Takes $700 In Two Break-ins

The Wichita Falls Country Club and Pro Shop was burglarized of about $700 between the hours of 6 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. Monday, it was reported to the Wichita Falls Police Department.

Investigating officers discovered the burglar escaped on foot and that the same person committed both burglaries.

Police reported that about $300 was taken from the Country Club and about $400 from the Pro Shop.

Several suspects were questioned in connection with the crimes but no arrests were made Monday.

then celebrating his 83rd birthday and had the cadets as visitors. Kelly is the son of World War II hero, Coln P. Kelly Jr. Cadet Homer J. Holland of Mukwonago, Wis., is in center. (AP Wirephoto)

Court Declares Children Neglected

Two children were declared dependent and neglected by an opinion from the Second Court of Civil Appeals in Fort Worth, thereby ending a year-long dispute between courts in Wichita and Johnson Counties.

Notified of the decision Monday, County Attorney Don Short said the Wichita County Probation Department, headed by Howard G. Large, will proceed to place the two Brooks children in a "licensed child placing agency."

Chief Justice Frank A. Massey noted in the opinion that a decision by a district court here that the children were neglected "would be upheld." Case was styled "Mack Henry Brooks et ux vs. Wichita County."

"In view of all the evidence, we cannot say the court (Wichita County) abused its discretion in placing the custody in the probation department," according to the opinion by Judge Massey.

Nicotine derives its name from Jean Nicot, who first took tobacco from Florida to Lisbon, where it became popular.

Firemen Have Pix

Personnel at the Sheppard Air Force Base fire station have two pictures recovered from the tornado debris that might be of sentimental value to some person. One picture is of a small boy holding a puppy, with the wording "Connie and Fritz" on the back, and the other is of children opening Christmas gifts in 1968, with a little blonde-haired girl holding a doll.

The pictures are at Building 944 at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Wallace Foes Press Drive In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Administration Democrats drove hard in the closing hours of Wisconsin's presidential primary campaign to win what amounts to the nation's first public referendum on the civil rights bill now before the Congress.

They were spurred by President Johnson's decision to put his personal prestige on the line, vulnerable not only to dissident Democrats but to Republicans as well in Tuesday's open primary.

Mounting White House concern over the candidacy of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who has based his challenge on opposition to what he calls the "civil wrongs bill," brought the President himself to endorse Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, the favorite son leading the state pledged to Johnson.

"A patriot and a leader in whom we can all take pride," Johnson said in a telegram read to a Madison audience Sunday night by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski, who came to Wisconsin to join Reynolds' team last Friday.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, summing up the 1960 primary when Wisconsin voting "was an essential step in my brother's campaign for the presidency," said in a message to the same group that the vote would have a bearing on the civil rights action.

"A substantial victory for Reynolds' slate will pay a deserved compliment to a great governor," Kennedy said; "but more important it will bolster and reinforce those who are making the good fight for human dignity in the United States Senate."

It was impossible to predict whether, or to what extent, Republicans would move into the Democrats' intra-party fight. Wallace made an open bid for Republican support.

However, Rep. John W. Byrnes, the favorite son whose list of delegates are unopposed on the statewide ballot, also has criticized Wallace and urged fellow Republicans to stay in their own primary, and his advice has been repeated at major party levels.

State Elections Supervisor Leo Fahey has predicted that a million voters will turn out, only about 200,000 short of the 1960 record when the late President John F. Kennedy won a majority of delegates from Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

At stake are 46 Democratic and 30 Republican national convention votes.

Reynolds has said Wallace may get 100,000 votes "from fanatics"; Wallace retorted he would consider 25,000 a "good showing."

The Alabama governor, shaken by a hostile crowd that reportedly slugged two members of his party and hit Wallace himself with a picket sign

Sunday at Kenosha, Wis., remained at his Milwaukee headquarters.

No More Fig Leaves

HEMEL HEMPSTEAD, England (AP)—People said that a nude statue of a discus thrower in the town center was indecent. So the council bought artificial fig leaves. But then stealing the fig leaves became a great sport. "We shan't buy any more leaves. It's a pity people are so narrow-minded," Town Manager A. W. Thomas said.

CHEVELLE by Chevrolet

It's got young ideas about size, style and power

It's fun to drive a car with young ideas. Even more enjoyable when it's a Chevelle, built by Chevrolet. Because then you're driving a car with youthful styling and frisky performance plus the features that make Chevelles so practical to own.

Chevelle's sociable size makes it especially appealing. It's shorter than big cars, so it's easy to handle and park. But that's hard to tell from the inside, because there's so much comfortable room for people and so much luggage space.

Apart from its bold, exciting lines and luxurious interior, Chevelle will climb a hill or pass on the highway with a wide margin of safety. A choice of engines makes sure of that.

Now's a wonderful time to get the most fun from a new Chevelle and a great trade for your old car. Because spring-time is Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's. You can choose from eleven elegant Chevelles, including convertibles, wagons, sedans and Super Sport models.

Trade 'N' Travel Time is a great time to test drive one of these beautiful Chevelles. And if it gives you young ideas about how best to enjoy a vacation this year, don't be surprised. That's just another good reason for seeing your Chevrolet dealer now.

MacArthur Highly Regarded By People Of Philippines

EDITOR'S NOTE — At the time of Pearl Harbor, Carlos P. Romulo was a major in the Philippine army reserve. Douglas MacArthur was commander of American and Philippine forces in the Philippines. Romulo became his aide and later went with him to Australia, rising to brigadier general. He remained with MacArthur through the drive back to the Philippines. Later Romulo became Manila's ambassador to Washington, and he now is president of the University of the Philippines. He has written for The Associated Press this assessment of MacArthur's place in the hearts of Filipinos.

By CARLOS P. ROMULO
MANILA (AP) — Perhaps no other American private citizen in the United States today was more popular with the Filipinos than General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

This popularity is the more paradoxical because the Filipino nation at this very moment is in a phase of intense nationalism. It has learned to be more reserved even in its most sincere praise of America or of Americans; and it has come to refine its regard of our continuing friendship with the American people with the sobriety of qualified affirmation.

But the popular regard by Filipinos for Gen. MacArthur was almost an exceptional case. It seems strange when one perceives that it seemed to isolate MacArthur, the private American citizen, from the rest of America; from his past and continuing connections with its institutions, or from his inescapable belongingness to the American Society.

One way of stating the exceptional quality of Gen. MacArthur's popularity with Filipinos is to say that it was inextricably tinged and dominated by the sentiment of love.

The involvement of MacArthur in the general life of the Philippines was almost simultaneous with the phenomenon of a personality that is also greatly loved by the Filipino people. I refer to President Manuel L. Quezon. The pages of Philippine history are warm with references of their having worked together.

During the commonwealth era when the Philippines was still under American colonial rule, Gen. MacArthur was one American who collaborated—even in the political connotations of the word—with President Quezon. He believed in the rightness of Quezon's cause; he affirmed Philippine independence at a time when it was heretical for an American to do so.

MacArthur worked with Quezon as an American; a party to the American colonial policy and it was, therefore, expressive of his sincere liberalism and of his democratic politics that he could also repudiate the colonial vice of believing but not practicing the principle of equality. MacArthur behaved naturally in the principle of equality, that the Filipinos came to learn: That while he was in the official service of the colonial policy of his country the Filipinos came to be convinced that he was one of and for them.

As an Army man, he was not beneath making a moral pledge. And it was this pledge, the famous "I shall return" that became, for a society in crisis, a source of strength.

No other phrase uttered during World War II can claim to have the same power to evoke friendship and loyalty, honor and integrity, than MacArthur's utterance.

To the Filipinos, therefore, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was more than an image: He lives even in the very language of their hopes, of their threatened illusions and he is real even in the very center of crisis and despair. So that for the Filipinos, to mention him is nearly to say all in Philippine-American friendship.

Three Herd Sale Grosses $36,060

Ringgold, Tex. — A total of $36,060 changed hands here Monday afternoon during the Chandler-Johnson-Stewart-Angus Production Sale.

Following the auction it was announced that 129 animals representing the three herds of

C. W. Chandler of Ringgold, Flynn W. Stewart and children of Wichita Falls and Art Johnson, Ryan, Okla. had sold for a per head average of $280.

The bull division buying was paced when T. R. Milton of Vernon, Tex. purchased the top seller. The high selling individual brought $900 and was consigned by Chandler. The animal, Chandler's Bandolier 70 was sired by Chandler's Bandolier 4 and his dam was Chandler's Miss Burgess 16.

Lot 66 consigned by the Stewart family was the high selling individual in the female division of the auction. The 17-month-old heifer, Gammie S 5, sired by Eileenmere S 375, was purchased by C. W. Hayes of Abilene, Tex. for $495.

Final figures showed that 29 bulls sold for $6,195. The average per head was set at $295.

In the female division, 108 animals were sold for $29,865 and an average of $277 per head.

The auction started at 12:30 p.m. with Ray Sims of Belton, Missouri serving as auctioneer.

West Point Gives Military Farewell To Famed General

By CHARLES L. WEST
WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The corps and the academy so much in his thoughts during a lifetime in service to the flag gave a military farewell Monday to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

Under a drizzling sky, the 2,500 cadets of the U.S. Military Academy stood at attention, hands held to caps and visors. Six guns boomed a final salute. Nineteen times the cannon roared. The bluffs of the Hudson River returned a muffled echo of the funeral cadence over The Plains.

Great Loss

"This great loss brings a sadness to the hearts of all West Pointers which will not be dimmed by time," said Maj. Gen. James B. Lampert, academy superintendent.

"Just as he assured us that his last conscious thoughts would be the corps — our thoughts will ever turn to this dedicated American soldier, who will ever stand as example and precept to the men of West Point."

The cadets formed just before noon in front of Washington Hall — 24 companies of that Gray Line, sworn to win America's wars and protect her peace.

Farewell To Cadets

Within the cadet mess hall before which they stood facing the parade ground, MacArthur had bade the cadets farewell on his last visit to West Point, two years ago on May 12.

"Yours is the profession of arms," MacArthur told them then, "the will to win, the sure knowledge that in war there is no substitute for victory, that if you lose, the nation will be destroyed, that the very obsession of your public service must be duty, honor, country."

Duty, honor, country — the motto of the corps. The words, a chorus throughout his farewell speech, are chiseled into the souls of West Pointers and the face of Washington Hall.

MacArthur never returned, but his heart never left.

Vision Of Academy

"Always before me was the vision of West Point, that greatest military institution in the world," the five-star general had written.

A chill, but gentle breeze blew the half-staffed flag flying on Trophy Point beside the cannon.

Lampert finished speaking and a cadet officer stepped forward to read the superintendent's formal notification to the corps of the death: "This nation has lost in Douglas MacArthur, one of its most distinguished and courageous soldiers. The United States Military Academy has lost one of her most illustrious and beloved sons."

MacArthur, first captain of the corps, was graduated in 1903 with the highest scholastic record here in 25 years. He returned 16 years later to serve three years as superintendent.

Snap To Attention

Moving as one body, the cadets snapped to attention, saluting as the West Point band played the Alma Mater whose last stanza includes the words:

Belgian Doctors Charged In Death

By TOM OCHILTREE

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Two striking doctors were arrested Monday on charges of failing to help a person in distress—an 18-month-old boy who died of what police described as a serious lung ailment.

The police said the doctors—one of them the mayor of the town of Olen—did not answer the call of the boy's parents for six hours.

"The doctors' federation, fostering a strike of Belgium's 12,000 doctors and dentists in a dispute over socialized medicine, contended, however, that the parents had indicated to the doctors that the boy's illness was not serious and that the six-hour time lag was not unusual.

Stage Protests

Elsewhere in the country, union members staged protests against the doctors' strike.

With the strike in its sixth day, the doctors charged that the nation's socialized medicine system would destroy the privacy of patients, particularly women.

They said they would not poison the traditional physician-patient relationship by allowing government inspectors to probe into the ailments of people and discover the treatments given in various cases.

Government sources disputed the doctors' claim saying great care would be taken to see that people's private lives remain private.

Growing Alarm

Growing alarm manifested itself in government circles as the strike showed no sign of ending.

The doctors issued a statement saying Premier Theo Lefevre's left-leaning coalition government had badly underestimated the strength and determination of the physicians.

Lefevre presided at an emergency Cabinet meeting and then told newsmen his government would not negotiate with the striking doctors until they had returned to work.

To undertake talks in present circumstances, he explained, "would jeopardize the authority of Belgium's parliamentary system of government."

Could Be Punished

He said a doctor could be punished under the law for failing to answer an appeal for help from any person but did not elaborate on that theme.

Belgium has had a national health system, covering five million of its nine million inhabitants, since World War II. Only farmers, shopkeepers and other self-employed persons are outside the plan.

The doctors and dentists charge the new law forces them to operate under the system whether they want to or not, places them under tighter government control and tends to hamper free exercise of their professional skills.

Lefevre's government, a coalition of Socialists and Social Christians, came to power in 1961 with a promise to reform the country's debt-ridden national health scheme.

Free Treatment

This revision calls for free medical treatment for widows, orphans, retired people and those disabled by war or industrial accidents except where such persons have an income of more than $1,500 a year. The health fund now has a deficit of $30 million. If the doctors' present demands for higher fees are met, an additional $10 million would be added to the system's annual cost. The total health budget stands at $360 million.

Murder Charge Filed In Shooting

Murder without malice charges were filed Monday afternoon against Frank Ross, 43-year-old Wichita Falls Negro, in the shooting death of Roy Lee Polk at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Ross was arrested shortly after the shooting spree at 109 Lake which sent Polk, also a Negro, to Wichita General Hospital with fatal injuries from a .380 caliber Beretta automatic. A Knox City coroner ruled death by bullet wound in the heart.

Discharged from the U.S. Air Force a year ago, Ross lives at 404 Sullivan. He was released from Wichita County Jail on $1,000 bond Monday night.

WHY JAMES WILLIAMS IS AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE

James Williams (X)
for City Council, Place 6,

The only candidate for Place 6 with current experience in the Wichita Falls City Government.

JAMES WILLIAMS BELIEVES

- That a sincere effort toward efficiency in city government should be undertaken to produce new economies and a reduction in taxes.
- That all sections of Wichita Falls should be represented equally by all members of the City Council.

That East Wichita Falls, struggling so diligently for community improvement, has a responsibility to develop leadership and offer the service of its leadership to the City Council. No section of the city should shirk this responsibility.

James Williams was appointed to the City Traffic Commission in 1962 by Mayor Kenneth Johnson. He continues to serve in that position of responsibility.

He is a charter member, pioneer and present member of the Board of Directors of the East Side Community Development Association.

He is active in his church and has served as chairman of the Board of Deacons for the past 15 years.

He is a landscape contractor and a member of the Business and Professional Men's Club of East Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls needs James Williams' experience in City Government

(Political Adv. paid for by James Williams and the Citizens Committee for better government)

Court Rules Barnett, Johnson Not Entitled To Trial By Jury

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. and former Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi lost their plea for a jury trial on criminal contempt of court charges.

The Supreme Court ruled against Johnson and Barnett, 5 to 4 Monday.

They are accused by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, La., of willfully disobeying court orders barring them from interfering with the admission of James H. Meredith to the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1962.

Barnett was governor at the time, and Johnson lieutenant governor. Johnson succeeded Barnett in the governor's office last Jan. 1.

Way Open For Trial
Barring further legal maneuvering by Johnson and Barnett, the Circuit Court may now try Johnson and Barnett. They may ask the Supreme Court to reconsider their case. They have 25 days in which to do this.

Neither man had any immediate comment on Monday's ruling or on their plans.

In other cases with racial overtones, the court: —Struck down unanimously breach of peace convictions of 65 Negro students arrested in 1960 in a racial demonstration in front of City Hall in Rock Hill, S.C. The court took the action in a brief unsigned order.

It said the Negroes assembled in a peaceful, orderly fashion in front of the City Hall to protest segregation.

No Violence
The order added that no violence or threat of violence occurred, and traffic was not disturbed. It cited earlier decisions that held that convictions cannot stand upon evidence that showed no more than the peaceable expression of views contrary to those of the majority of the community.

—Struck down, again by a unanimous vote, the murder conviction of two North Carolina Negroes on the grounds that Negroes were systematically excluded from the grand jury that indicted them.

The Negroes, Jesse James Arnold and George Dixon, are under death sentence in the robbery-slaying of George T. McArthur in his small store near Kinston, N.C.

One Issue Decided

The court's majority in the Barnett-Johnson case stressed that only one issue was up for decision—whether Johnson and Barnett were constitutionally entitled to be tried by a jury, rather than by the Circuit Court.

Four of the justices generally regarded as the court's consistent liberals—Chief Justice Earl Warren, and Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Arthur J. Goldberg—voted for a jury trial.

These four often have been criticized by segregationists such as Barnett for their positions on civil rights cases. But court observers saw nothing inconsistent in their position.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., who often votes with Warren, Black, Douglas and Goldberg, left them Monday. Along with Justices Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White, he comprised the majority.

Brief Review

After a brief review of the

Greer Wheat Group Elects

MANGUM, Okla. (Special) — Orvis McGuffin is new president of the Greer County Wheat Growers Association.

He was elected to the position at a recent meeting of the organization.

Hurman Moore, former president, is new vice president, and W. T. Snipes is secretary.

At the meeting, Gus Page, grain marketing specialist from Oklahoma State University, gave the principal address.

Page spoke on foreign markets for wheat, on improving the grade of wheat and on standards of grain which will be required by the milling industry.

Earl Abernathy and Bob Kerr, Altus, told what role the Greer County Association can play in the state and national wheat growers organizations.

case, Clark, author of the majority opinion, wrote: "The alleged contempters are not entitled to a jury trial as a matter of right."

Rejecting the contention of Johnson and Barnett that persons charged with criminal contempt have a constitutional right to a jury trial, Clark said: "That claim has been made and rejected here again and again. It has been the law of the land, both state and federal, that the courts — except where specifically precluded by statute — have the power to proceed summarily in contempt matters."

Black, in a dissenting opinion concurred in by Douglas, said Johnson and Barnett, "like others charged with crimes, should have their cases heard according to constitutional due process, including indictment and trial by jury."

Destroy Notion

"It is high time, in my judgment, to wipe out root and branch the judge-invented and judge-maintained notion that judges can try criminal contempt cases without a jury. It will be a fine day for the constitutional liberty of individuals of this country when that at last is done," Black said.

In another dissenting opinion,

Goldberg maintained "defendants have both a statutory and a constitutional right to have their cases tried by a jury."

Goldberg's opinion, concurred in by Warren and Douglas, rejected the government's "necessity" argument, advanced by Solicitor General Archibald Cox, that the independence of the federal courts would be seriously undermined if their orders could be nullified by an unsympathetic jury.

Price Of Liberty

"That is but another way of putting the oft-rejected assertion against trial by jury, that some guilty men may be acquitted," Goldberg wrote. "This possibility, however, is the price we have chosen to pay for our cherished liberties."

Federal marshals and troops were used to get Meredith into the University of Mississippi in September 1962. He has since been graduated, and is the only known Negro to have attended the university.

During the rioting at Oxford, stirred by the court-ordered admission of Meredith to the university, two persons were killed.

Young Farm Meets Slated

GRAHAM, Tex. — Two extension service specialists will visit Young County Tuesday and Wednesday to work with farmers on problems of irrigation and insects, announced L. M. McCarroll, county agent.

Tuesday's visitor will be Wayne Keese, irrigation specialist. Keese will be on the Jack Atwood farm south and east of Graham. The day's activities will start at 9:30 a.m. The first item to be observed will be a newly planted Coastal bermuda field where determination of pumping expense will be made.

During Wednesday's meeting, Weldon Newton, entomologist from Texas A&M University, will discuss insects.

Newton plans to cover all phases of insect work with special emphasis on fruit trees, gardens, shrubs and ornamentals. He will also be available to answer any question that farmers might have concerning insects in cotton, grain sorghums, small grains and other field crops.

McCarroll stated that the insect meeting will be held in the Courthouse in Graham at 2 p.m.

Six Wichitans were charged in three separate burglaries here Monday afternoon by Asst. Dist. Atty. Charles Butts.

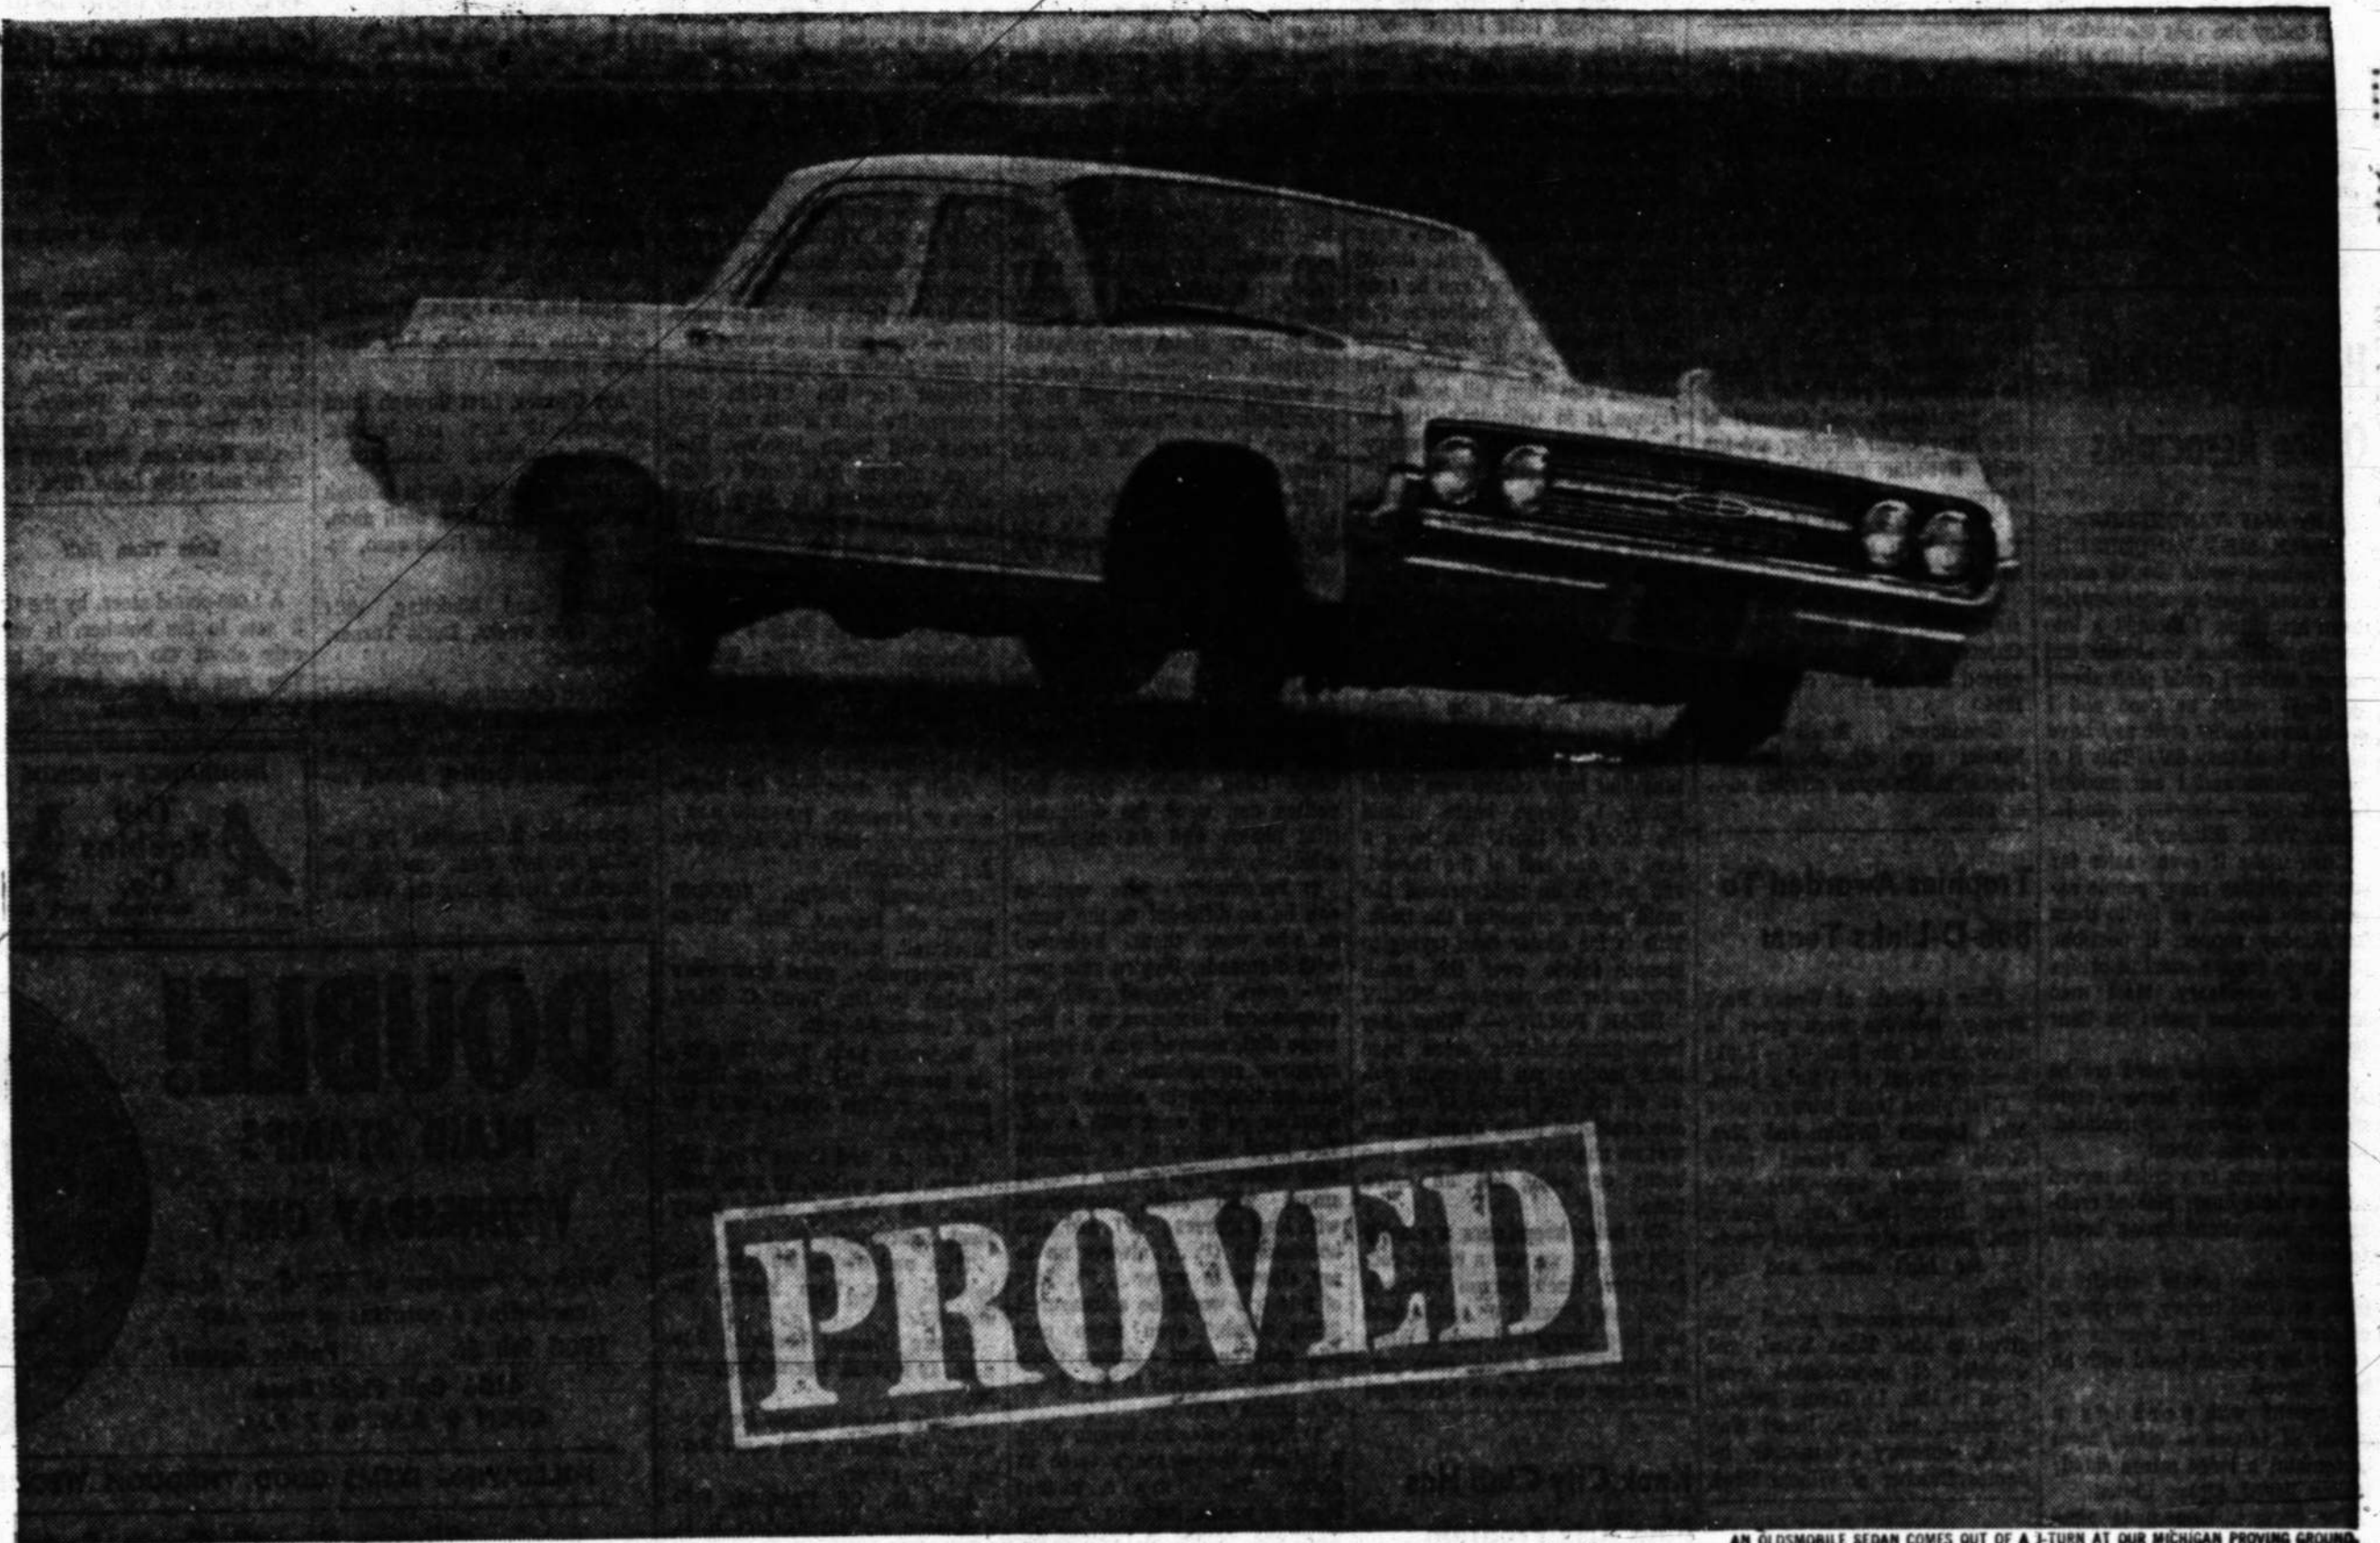

Charged with burglary of a coin-operated machine were Felix Leija, 18, of 1406 Thirty-Sixth; Glyn Otis Gotcher, 18, of 1318 Thirty-Sixth; David Gotcher, 20, of 1318 Thirty-Sixth; and Timothy Ray Grace, 23, of 1107 Monroe.

The quartet is accused of breaking into a laundromat at 1515 Monroe Saturday night. They were arrested at 12:51 a.m. Sunday by city police officers.

Also charged with entering a home where his mother was once a maid was 17-year-old Eugene Sanspree of 1605 Thirty-Second. Young Sanspree allegedly broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison at 2710 Hamilton Drive and took $220 in cash from a woman's purse. Police recovered $202 over the weekend.

Recently discharged from the Texas Department of Corrections, Tommie Len Cotton stands charged with burglary of a home at 2911 Hill at noon Saturday.

Cotton holds a previous conviction for burglary and repetition.

AN OLDSMOBILE SEDAN COMES OUT OF A 3-TURN AT OUR MICHIGAN PROVING GROUND.

ALL AROUND THE CLOCK ALL AROUND THE CALENDAR ALL AROUND THE COUNTRY ALL AROUND THE CAR

An Oldsmobile sedan speeds onto the skid pad and the driver spins the steering wheel as far as it will go. This is the J-turn the engineers at our Michigan Proving Ground use to test wheel design and suspension. And to prove that the tires will stay on the rims without loss of air pressure, despite the stresses and strains of doing it over and over again. We use tests this tough because, to us, proving a car all around means testing every part, from the wheels to the roof, to know just how well it will do for you. That means thousands of hours of outdoor challenges. It means testing cars indoors on specially built precision laboratory equipment. Other times, it means driving a car into the countryside on a winter's night. Whether it's done in Michigan, at Pikes Peak, in Arizona, or on the public highways, it means testing GM cars the long way, the hard way, the right way... on the world's truest proving grounds. And testing before they go into production. That's why a GM car is so likely to be worth more when you buy it, as you drive it, when you trade it in.

Drama Is Played Daily At Bethania Hospital

By MARTHA B. STEIMEL

A drama in which the villain is death or pain plays daily at Bethania Hospital and for Mother Marie DeLourdes, now the Mother Superior at the hospital, it is a drama which began nearly 30 years ago.

She was one of nine Sisters of the Holy Family of Nazareth who were here on March 9, 1935, to begin operating the hospital purchased from Dr. J. R. Hargrave and Dr. M. M. Walker. Then there were 30 beds and Mother DeLourdes was the pioneer administrator of the hospital.

There have since been three additions to the original building—three new acts of the constant drama of life that Mother DeLourdes sees. The second act began in 1943 when two floors were added. In 1948 the annex was completed and on April 6, 1959, the new wing was dedicated to bring the hospital to its present stage of development.

Mother DeLourdes was not here for that dedication ceremony but she did return to Bethania to become Mother Superior, and to her fifth anniversary of the new wing Monday had a special meaning.

As she bustles about the hospital today she sees the fruits of industry, prayers and faith of the original staff—eight Sisters (there now are 22 heading the various departments), 85 employees (there are now 400 full and part-time employees), 30 beds (now there are 175), a medical staff of 85 (now there are 130).

How To Entertain Office Associates

By AMY VANDERBILT

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: My husband would like to entertain about seven or eight couples from his office. I thought a late Sunday afternoon (cocktails and dinner) which I could plan ahead of time would be good and I could serve buffet style as I have no help (and they do!). This is a new position and I am anxious to do it right—however, simple."

I can make it even easier for you. On Sunday many people expect only supper, so invite them for Sunday supper. If possible, seat them for the meal at bridge tables if necessary. Most men hate to balance plates on their laps.

A Sunday supper need not be elaborate. Simple, home-style dishes are always appreciated. Here are some ideas:

Baked beans in a crock served with a whole ham; pickled crabapples; hot, sliced brown bread (canned).

Homemade potato salad; a plate of sliced turkey, tongue or chicken; small, hot biscuits; or crusty hot French bread with an herb spread.

Spaghetti with perhaps a choice of sauces—clams, meat or tomato; a large mixed salad; Italian bread sticks; Chianti.

For dessert, homemade pineapple upside-down cake or a good pudding (Floating Island) or, of course, fruit and cheese are all fine. And no man ever refuses homemade chocolate brownies.

For some other interesting new ideas, you and other readers may send me a post card requesting Pretzel Recipes. You will be amazed, as I was, to discover how many dishes can make use of the popular pretzel.

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: Recently, while attending a large convention, our company was entertaining a large group of executives and their wives. Many taxis were necessary. In one were the president of an invited company and his wife, another company guest and his wife and the wife of our company president. The guest-president ignored the carfare and let the hostess pay it. What is your opinion of this?"—Mrs. S. L., San Francisco.

He should certainly have offered to pay the fare. But the hostess, in turn, should have insisted on doing so as this was a business situation, the expenses for which the company doing the inviting was responsible.

"On my return to Wichita Falls after many years of absence, I was saddened with the loss of several members of the staff who had dedicated themselves to the hospital in its early days and who, through illness or death, are no longer with us," Mother DeLourdes said.

She was here when the Bethania Auxiliary was organized in 1935—and it's still going strong—but the Bethania Sweethearts and the Lay Advisory Board began their functions in 1958 and 1959, respectively, while she was away. The schools of X-ray Technology and Licensed Vocational Nursing have been added, too.

"As I view the hospital in its entirety, I think of all of us as so many available characters playing their best role in an immense, constant drama of life, entitled 'Victory Over Death,' she said.

There is a complicated network of workers—some in the crisp starched white of a registered nurse, some in the black linen suits of office personnel, some in ordinary dress. But all combine to make Bethania what it is today—a forward-looking institution with a compassionate heart.

Eisenhower Becomes Senior Army General

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the death Sunday of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower became the senior general in the U.S. Army.

Eisenhower, who was restored to his five-star rank after he left the presidency, and General of the Army Omar Bradley are the only five-star generals in the Army.

Eisenhower's date of rank is Dec. 20, 1944; Bradley's is Sept. 20, 1950.

The nation's only other five-star officer is Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who received his fifth star on Dec. 19, 1944.

Eisenhower, Bradley and Nimitz are all on inactive status, but five-star officers never retire.

Trophies Awarded To Bob-O-Links Team

After a picnic at Weeks Park Friday, trophies were given to members of the Bob-O-Links Bowling Team of Village Bowl.

First place team winners were Mrs. Lovella Griffin and Mrs. Neida Duncan. Second place team winners were Mrs. Mildred Drury and Avis Mearns. Mrs. Mearns also received trophies for high series and high score.

The achievement award was given to Mrs. Edna Ward, and trophies of appreciation were given to Mrs. La Donna Benton, president, and Mrs. Pearl Walbrick, secretary-treasurer, by James Butcher of Village Bowl.

Ammons-Mullins Vows Exchanged

HASKELL, Tex. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Ammons were married in the parlor of First Baptist Church of Stamford.

The bride is the former Minnie Virginia Mullins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Mullins of Stamford, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Ammons.

The Rev. Jack Sutherland officiated in the 8 p.m. ceremony March 27. Musicians were Mrs. Sutherland and Mrs. James Self.

Miss Maudie Ann Mullins was her sister's maid of honor, and Wayne Ammons of Lubbock was best man for his brother. A reception was held after the wedding.

The bride was graduated from Stamford High School and is employed by the First National Bank in Stamford. The bridegroom was graduated from Haskell High School and McMurry College, Abilene, and is now a coach at Clyde High School.

Cleaning The Paint Brush Doesn't Have To Be Messy

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—I clean paint brushes in a large can that has an attached lid. Let the brushes stand until clean and when ready to remove from the cleaning solution, close the lid as much as possible and slowly pull the brushes out. You will not have to squeeze this excess liquid out by hand.—MARIANNE

DEAR POLLY—A small piece of foam rubber carpet padding makes a wonderful typewriter pad. It not only protects the table surface but keeps the typewriter from sliding around. This is especially good for a portable. Put the cloth covered side of the pad next to the typewriter.

My elderly mother hates addressing envelopes as her handwriting is shaky and hard to read. Every time I send her a package, a bunch of stamped envelopes, addressed to me and other members of the family, is included. She especially appreciates them and I hear from her more often.—MRS. D. L. S.

DEAR POLLY—Those who have more than one teen-ager who goes out at night should leave a light on that can be seen from the parents' bedroom. The last youngster to come home should turn out the light. The parents can then tell when everyone is in without getting up to check, or worse still, worrying about it.—MRS. E. M. L.

DEAR POLLY—When making covered buttons, fold the material in eighths and it will be easy to cut a circle for the covering. Baste closely around the edges leaving a couple of inches of thread on each end. Pull up through the metal backing and the bottom top will be smooth and even.—LOUISE

GIRLS—When covering buttons that have clamp-on metal backs, I always baste around the circle of fabric but have a knot in one end of the thread, and pull it up tight around the mold before attaching the back. This is far easier than trying to smooth fabric over the small prongs for the purpose.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When my twin grandchildren were born their mother put fingernail polish on the big toenail of one so she could tell them apart. There was no chance of one getting two baths or being fed an extra time.

To help keep ours a closely knit family, we use a round robin letter. Each person writes a letter and sends it on to the next one in a prescribed order. When it comes home again, each person takes out his own letter and

Knox City Club Has Fine Arts Program

KNOX CITY, Tex. (Special)—Mrs. E. Hob Smith was leader for a fine arts program for members and guests of The Knox City Study Club recently at the Woman's Club House.

She introduced Mrs. George Graham, wife of the executive vice president of Hardin-Simmons University, who spoke on "The Art of Gracious Living." Mrs. Graham gave ten rules for gracious living emphasizing integrity, education, kindness and patience.

Piano selections were played by Linda Reed. Norman Arnett presented 15 members of his Beginner's Band from the local school who entertained the group with several numbers.

Mrs. George Davis conducted a short business session. She and Mrs. E. R. Carpenter and Mrs. Smith reported on the recent meeting of the Santa Rosa District held in Wichita Falls. Mrs. Smith also announced the club is sponsoring a pancake supper April 7 in the school cafeteria. Supper will be served beginning at 6 p.m. Proceeds will be applied to the fund to build a shelter in the City Park.

Hostess for the Thursday meeting were Mmes. Claud Reed, Martin Smith and C. C. Hoge. Guests were Mmes. Russell Boyd and Paul Hoge, Knox City, and J. E. Geer and W. D. Payne of Rule.

Archer Delphians

Hear Review

By Mrs. Seay

ARCHER CITY, Tex. (Special)—Mrs. Joe D. Slack was hostess for the guest day meeting of the Amity Club Friday.

Mrs. Virgil Seay reviewed the book, "Bible in Pocket, Gun in Hand" written by Ross Phares, professor of history at San Jacinto College in Pasadena. Phares writes mostly on frontier religion. In this book he told of the experiences encountered by pioneers as they attempted to move westward from the East. In spite of the obstacles and the Indians, they still spread their religion with their guns in hand.

Following the review Mrs. Jimmy Horany sang two numbers accompanied on the piano by Mrs. R. D. Schlomach.

Members of the Alpha Archer Delphian Club were guests.

The next meeting will be April 17 at the home of Mrs. Ed Pridoux, 1543 Mesquite, Wichita Falls.

Varied Program Offered On YWCA Spring Schedule

There's something for everybody in the YWCA Spring schedule—twist lessons to photography; auto mechanics to judo; sewing to first aid; art to tumbling—you can have your pick.

Mrs. Louise Brown, executive director for the YWCA, said courses for both adults and teen-agers will begin Monday. Two trips, one to the World's Fair with sightseeing in New York City and Washington, D.C., thrown in, and the other to Six Flags Over Texas, are planned.

The Y-Teens and Blue Belles will go to Six Flags May 4 in two chartered buses. The World's Fair trip dates have not been announced.

The schedule for the activities is as follows:

April 13: shorthand for beginners or brush-up, 7:30-8:30 p.m.; six lessons, Mrs. E. M. Ewen Jr., instructor.

Beginning bridge, 7:30-9:30 p.m., six lessons, Mrs. Milton Blackwell, instructor.

Photography, guest instructors headed by Dr. Twen C. Berg, six lessons, 7-8 p.m.

Beginning judo, 7:30-8:30 p.m., six lessons, Sgt. George Humm, instructor. This class also is for teen-agers.

April 14: Red Cross First Aid Course, four weeks, 10 a.m. until noon, no charge, Mrs. Jerry Neal, instructor.

Trips and Swim, 7-9 p.m., six lessons, Mrs. Tom Moran, instructor.

Square Dance Lessons, 8-10 p.m., 10 lessons, Bernie Fry, caller.

Square Dance course for teen-agers, 10 lessons, 7:30 p.m., Bernie Fry, caller.

April 15: Oil Painting, 9:30 a.m.-noon, six lessons, Mrs. R. L. Thompson, instructor.

Sewing, individual instruction, 12:30-3:30 p.m., ten lessons, Mrs. Gordon-Sawdy, instructor.

April 16: Sewing, individual instruction, limited class, 9 a.m. until noon, eight lessons, Mrs. Sawdy, instructor.

Powder Puff Mechanics, 10 a.m.; single class in emergency car care, no charge, Ralph Watkins, instructor.

Intermediate Bridge, streamlined course, 7:30-9:30 p.m., six lessons, Mrs. Milton Blackwell, instructor.

Teen Agers, Twist Lessons, 7:30 to 9 p.m., four and a half hours, Mr. and Mrs. Neal McNabb, instructors.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY—Frederick, Okla. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher Sr. were honored by their eight children with open house held recently in celebration of the couple's golden wedding anniversary. Fred Fisher and Sarah Bierig were married March 28, 1914, in Fairview, Okla. Hosts for the celebration were Mmes. Martha Krasser, Mollie Beisel, Rachel Davenport, Elsie Lowery and Ruth Zitterkob and Fred, Adam and George Fisher. Guests included friends from Lawton, Okene, Isabella and Fairview, Okla., and Oklahoma City.

NCO Wives Club

Maps Plans

At Recent Meet

SHEPPARD AFB, Tex.—New committee chairmen assumed duties as they made plans for future activities during the monthly business meeting of the Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. John W. Welles, chairman of the newly instituted hostess committee, welcomed Mrs. Ray Carter as a new member.

The need for a new instructor for the base CHAP swimming program was revealed by Mrs. John Griffin, representative to Family Services. The Auxiliary voted to donate $50 to help defray the cost of the special training required for this work.

Social chairman, Mrs. James L. Shipman, announced plans for a husband and wife dinner party to be held Saturday evening, May 2, in the Colonial Room of the Non-Commissioned Officers Open Mess. There will be cards and dancing following the dinner. Reservations will be required.

Also scheduled for April is a Newcomers' luncheon April 9 at 1 p.m.; and games day April 16 from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Mrs. James Pate is to direct arrangements for games days.

All NCO wives who move into Wherry and Capehart Housing Units will be welcomed by Mmes. William West and Doyle McKinney. Mrs. Robert Claunch will be in charge of the continuing drive for new members.

Following the business session, door prizes were awarded at the Thursday meeting to Mmes. Alfred Tournant, Leon Hairston and Hazel Hinch, and the special prize went to Mrs. Ervan Tech.

Ann Landers Says

When You Ante A Dollar You Contribute To Racket

Dear Ann Landers: Your column seems to deal with all human experience and I heartily approve. I hope you will print this letter as a runner-up to the letter from the parent who wrote that her teen-age son was accosted by a pervert while hitchhiking a ride home from a music lesson. Here is the other side of the coin.

I gave a lift to a forlorn-looking boy about 14 years old. After he had been in the car three minutes he announced that if I didn't give him a dollar he would shout that I had tried to molest him and I'd be in for it.

I'm a businessman who can't afford any trouble, so I gave him a dollar and let him out at the next light.

I told some friends about this the next day and learned that they had had similar experiences. So, please pass the word, Ann Landers. Nix on hitchhikers.

—ANONYMOUS

Dear Anonymous: I've already passed that word and now I'd like to pass another word. I'm also against bribes and shakedowns. Blackmailers will continue to flourish so long as there are people who have macaroni where their spines belong.

Every time one of these little creeps collects a buck it encourages him to shakedown the next sucker. When you caved in, my friend, you gave financial and moral support to a dandy little racket.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister gave us an attractive tavern-type wall clock, a charming set of Dickens characters and other nice gifts.

Recently we completed our recreation room which is in the basement. Last night my sister and her husband were among the guests we invited to a party. She called me upstairs "to have a few words."

In scolding language I was told she did NOT give me those beautiful gifts to decorate "a basement." She ended up saying I had terrible taste, and then criticized every room in the house. To top off her speech she made some unflattering remarks about my husband and released venom which must have been stored up for 25 years.

Does a person who offers a gift have the right to tell the receiver where or how the gift should be used?—COLUMBUS

Dear Columbus: The giver has the right to expect a thank you—nothing more.

Now would be a fitting time to tell your sister you appreciate her thoughtfulness but in the future her good wishes will be sufficient—and she can please skip the gifts.

Dear Ann Landers: Why does the average American slob think he is entitled to drink two or three cups of coffee for a dime? Do they think all restaurant proprietors own coffee plantations too?

Some people who sit with that second or third cup of coffee don't even drink it. They slosh it around for 15 minutes, then leave it. Please print my letter and educate the ignorant public.

—GROUNDS DOWN

Dear Down: My expert on coffee tells me that a pound of high grade commercial coffee costs approximately 80 cents a pound. This should yield about 50 cups of coffee.

Restaurant owners who serve coffee in china cups figure breakage at 1 1/4 cents per cup. Cream and sugar come to roughly 2 cents, bringing the total cost of a cup of coffee to 5 1/4 cents. Most restaurants will fill your cup the second time for the same dime. When they do, they lose 1 cent on the deal.

Thanks for writing. I'll have more respect for that refill from now on.

Ann Landers' frank and informative new book, "Teen - Agers And Sex" is now available at your book store.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of the Wichita Falls Record News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

IT'S FROM A TUB—This sofa is made from an old fashioned iron bathtub, complete with claw feet although they are hidden by a corner of the bed. The candle sconces are two pieces of an old ceiling light fixture.

TOWELS ON THE WALL—Five colorful linen tea towels make a conversation piece when they are

THIS WAS A STOVE—A lamp and some decorative iron work have been added to this small wood burning stove. It's a table now.

Furniture From Junk Pile Is Challenging Hobby

By MARTHA B. STEIMEL

Take an old fashioned bathtub, slice off one side as far back as the claw feet, add some paint and a few slabs of foam rubber covered with silk and you'll have a sofa.

You'll have a sofa if you have the imagination and the ingenuity the Ralph Swinford used when they bought an old fashioned iron bathtub, sliced off one side, etc.

Their tub-sofa — or sofa-tub — has an elegance you wouldn't expect from anything so ordinary as a 50 year old bathtub. They painted it a dull avocado green, touched the rough cut edges with gold paint to give it a baroque look, stuck some big round flat earrings and a brass ewer in the holes left where spigots and spout used to be and the effect is surprisingly empire in feeling.

They have put the sofa in their guest room and it fits in beautifully with the slip-covered round table; the mock-canooped bed and the brass stool and table which complete the furnishings.

A small wood burning cook-stove — the kind people used in summer kitchens — the pole from a mid-1930's bridge lamp and a sizeable chunk of wall paneling from a razed mansion all are in use or soon will be used in the Swinford home.

"They're all Ralph's ideas," Mrs. Swinford says. He has always enjoyed probing in second hand stores and junk shops and his ability to see a finished product in a piece someone else has discarded is behind some of the interesting items in their home at 2707 Darwin.

Take the cookstove, for instance. It has a lamp attached now and is a conversation piece table in their den. The bridge lamp pole ties together five unusual linen towels for a wall decoration also used in the den.

The towels are hung from dowel rods and each has a patriotic design which fits in perfectly with the early American theme of the den. Gold cords connect them with the lamp pole.

The Swinford's current project is refurbishing a large piece of wall paneling from the old J. I. Staley home. It eventually will hold a mirror and is being painted a stark white and accented with touches of gold.

A massive piece of wooden fretwork, also from the Staley home, has been antiqued and will be the base for a marble commode in the entry of the Swinford home.

The fun of converting what some people call junk into interesting, unusual and inexpensive decorative accents is a hobby both Mr. and Mrs. Swinford expect to enjoy for years and years to come.

Antitrust Law Violation Ruled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided Monday acquisition of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp. by El Paso Gas Co. violated antitrust laws.

Justice William O. Douglas wrote the opinion.

Justice John M. Harlan said he agreed with the court's decision on the merits, but dissented "from its preemptory ordering of divestiture." He wanted the case sent back to the U.S. District Court in Salt Lake City.

The ruling was given on a Justice Department appeal from findings by U.S. District Judge Willis W. Ritter in Salt Lake City that the Dec. 31, 1939 multimillion-dollar merger had no reasonable probability of substantially lessening competition or of tending to "create a monopoly."

Robert Willman of New York writes, "I thoroughly enjoyed your article, about the intelligent 'off-beat' opening lead that often works when the orthodox opening lead fails."

"It also might be mentioned that the player who uses intelligence is apt to have more luck than the strict book player. I am thinking of the hand, shown herewith."

The orthodox lead is the king of diamonds. South isn't happy with that lead, but he sees a chance if West has all the key cards. He simply runs off his eight spades. West's last five cards will be the king-jack-nine of clubs and ace-queen of hearts. Dummy's last five cards will be the ace-queen-ten of clubs and two hearts. West must discard first. If West throws a club, a heart is discarded from dummy and dummy takes three club tricks. If West throws the queen of hearts, a club is discarded from dummy and a low heart lead knocks out West's ace. Dummy makes two club tricks and South makes his king of hearts.

"If West really thinks before leading, he will realize that declarer can stand a diamond lead and that dummy will almost surely show up with the ace and

Akers-Jackson Vows Are Read In Grandfield

GRANDFIELD, Okla. (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. William F. Akers are at home in Weatherford, Okla., where they are continuing their studies at Southwestern State College following their marriage March 27.

The bride is the former Miss Marsha Lou Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jackson of Grandfield. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Akers of Quanah.

The couple was married in the home of the bride's parents with the Rev. G. K. Elsworth, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Grandfield, officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a white linen sheath and carried white carnations.

The couple was attended by Randy Akers of Quanah, brother of the groom, and Mrs. Robert McDonald of Norman, Okla. Mrs. McDonald was attired in a pink suit and wore a white carnation corsage.

At the reception in the bride's parents home the serving table was covered with a white cut-work linen cloth. Mrs. Randy Akers and Mrs. McDonald assisted.

The bride was graduated from Grandfield High School and is a junior art education student. The groom was graduated from Quanah High School and is a pharmacy student. Both are members of the Honor Society.

HEALTH ADVICE

Tuberculosis Continues To Be Dangerous Disease

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: Is tuberculosis as easy to catch and as dangerous as when it was first discovered?

I know that certain precautions have to be taken with patients, but must they be isolated? Is it true that the germs live three years after leaving the body? No, I am not a TB patient. — F. J. C.

Tuberculosis patients are restricted only to the degree necessary for safety. They need to be in hospitals. They cannot be left at home, because while the disease is active they may spray dangerous and often deadly germs with every cough and sneeze.

It's best to keep them away from other people for the time being. They can have visitors, but are taught the necessity for covering the mouth and nose with tissue at each cough or sneeze, and how to keep at a safe distance from others.

Yes, tuberculosis is as easy to catch as it ever was, and as dangerous — unless it is treated. Here is a quotation from one of the TB and Health Societies. This happens to be from Michigan:

"Dreams of conquest of this lumbering giant of human diseases (tuberculosis) following discovery of drugs in the early 50's are dimming. The facts of life are that tuberculosis is here to stay for a long time..."

"Tuberculosis has settled into an obstinate pattern of resistance to known methods of detection and treatment."

In that one state, 3,157 new cases of TB were discovered last year. For North America, make it 75,000 to 100,000 new cases a year.

With drug treatment, and sometimes surgery, most patients (if they found out about their disease in time) become "negative." They no longer are walking germ-sprays, and then can continue treatment at home.

No, it's not true that TB germs survive for three years. The germs die quite soon after leaving the body.

TB is spread, not by germs that somebody produced last week or last month, but by the fresh, deadly ones being coughed or sneezed or otherwise distributed by (a) patients who don't care about other people; or (b) people who don't yet know that they have, and are spreading TB.

That's why I will continue to remind readers to be suspicious of a chronic cough, unexplained temperature or loss of weight, and to be checked periodically for their own protection and the safety of others.

TB spreads in just one way — person to person.

Dear Dr. Molner: A few years ago I injured the nail on my big toe. It became black and loose, so I thought it would come off but it didn't. It is still black and adhered only at the root.

Is there anything I can do to loosen the nail so that it will come off? — MRS. S. E. W.

This is not a do-it-yourself job. It will be painful without an anesthetic, and suitable precautions against infection are mandatory. So have an orthopedic surgeon or a podiatrist do it for you.

Headaches! You can beat them. Write to Dr. Molner in care of the Wichita Falls Record News for a copy of the booklet, "How To Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Bier Awaiting MacArthur In The City He Called Home

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Scarcely two months ago, the city of Norfolk, port of the sailor home from the sea, opened its memorial to a supreme hero of the Army—Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

That chilly Jan. 26 was a day to remember, but the greatest drama was to come. The formal dedication was set for May 30—and MacArthur was to be here in the city he called home. Now the general is dead. In somber respect, Norfolk prepared Monday to do him honor.

In the memorial's vaulted rotunda, his bier awaits.

Around the general there, in the new splendor of a building that once was Norfolk's city hall and courthouse, many of his treasures are arrayed. There are his corn cob pipe, his much-beribboned uniform coat, his private papers, hundreds of mementoes from the 84 years that ended Sunday in Washington's Walter Reed Hospital.

Within the marble walls of the place created to MacArthur's honor and memory, his body will repose, on public view from 6 p.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Saturday.

At 9:30 Saturday morning, the funeral will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church, which has stood for 225 years.

The memorial building was crowded with about 400 persons Sunday when, at 2:55 p.m., a telephone message informed Supt. Jack Wallin that MacArthur was dead.

Guards closed the doors to new visitors. Those who were there were asked to leave.

"A couple of women cried," said Wallin. "Some peoples' jaws dropped. I guess they felt funny being in the memorial when he died."

The workmen came and began dismantling the iron railing that surrounds the crypt where MacArthur will be entombed.

The First National Bank of Arizona opened the first flyin bank in the U.S. near the Phoenix Sky Harbor.

Disdain For Danger Shown By General

HOUSTON (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was described as a front-line general with the utmost disdain for danger by a retired Houston businessman who was his chauffeur during World War I.

"The general was always where there were things going on," said V. H. Brady, 72, in an interview.

Brady was MacArthur's chauffeur from November, 1917, until May, 1919. He estimated he drove the general some 25,000 miles in France during combat and then in Germany during the occupation period.

"He had a complete disdain for danger," Brady said. "He always wanted to be a field commander instead of a staff officer."

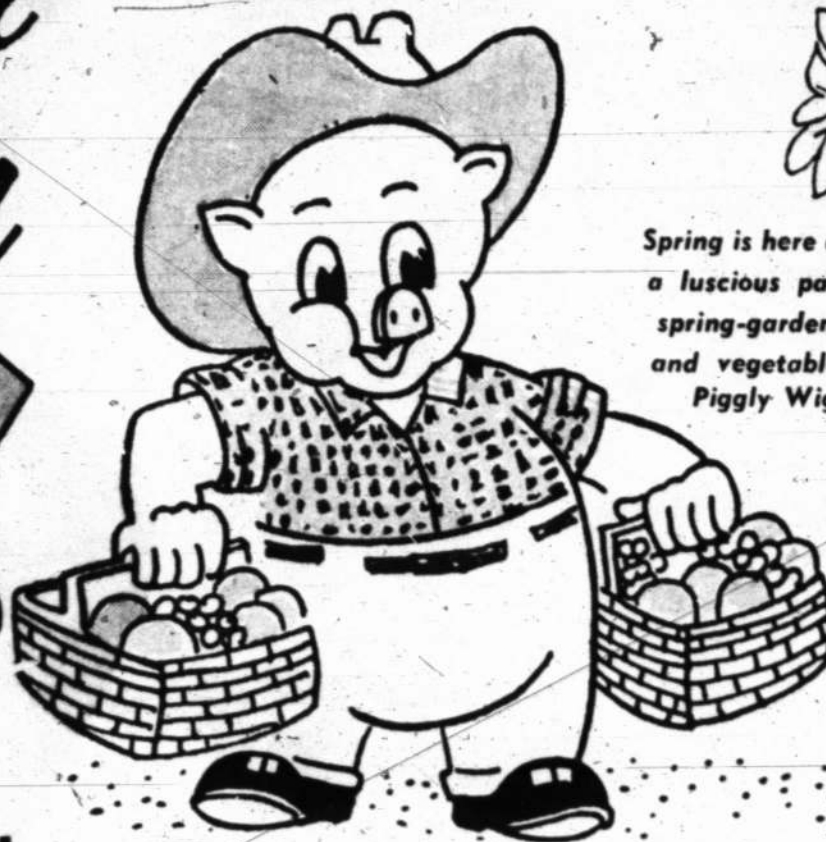

"He never carried a pistol—just a little old derringer—and he never wore a gas mask."

Wichita Dairy Show Planned

Final plans for the Tri-County Dairy Show will be made here Tuesday night as the Wichita Falls area DHIA association members meet, announced B. T. Haws, Wichita County agent.

The meeting of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association group will start at 8 p.m. at Underwood's Cafeteria in Southmoor Shopping Center.

Haws pointed out that the annual North Texas dairy show date is April 30 and he urged dairy men throughout the area to make plans to enter top animals from their herds.

Complete details concerning the show will be announced following Tuesday night's meeting, stated Haws.

Spectators Shout At Crimes Trial

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Spectators shouted "Kill him! Hang him!" Monday at the Auschwitz war crimes trial after testimony linked a defendant with the death of Jewish children.

Former SS Sgt. Oswald Kaduk jumped to his feet when a witness testified that he personally drove the children at pistol point to the gas chamber of the Auschwitz concentration camp.

Ludwig Woerl, once chief trustee at Auschwitz, said the children, aged 4 to 11, had turned to him after they had been selected to be gassed.

Woerl said he went to find out if anything could be done to save the children.

"I was told there is nothing to be done, that it was an order from Berlin."

"When I returned I saw the children being led away and who drove them forward at pistol point? It was Kaduk. Where is he?"

"Here!" Kaduk shouted from the defendant's bench. "This is not true. You're not quite right in your head."

"You are not facing me with a pistol today!" the witness yelled back. And from the audience voices shouted, "Beat him dead! Kill him! Hang him!"

DISTRICT PRIZE — This beautiful Zenith Trans Symphony Radio will become the property of one of 19 county spelling champions Saturday at Midwestern University, site of the 10th annual district spelling bee, sponsored by the Wichita Falls Re-

British Condemned For Yemen Bombing

CAIRO (AP)—Italian Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat Monday condemned the British bombing of Port Harb, in Yemen, and added that "in principle" the Italian government is opposed to all foreign bases.

Saragat is nearing the end of a three-day visit to the United Arab Republic.

Britain said its planes bombed the border fort after repeated Yemeni attacks on the British-protected South Arabian federation.

Braves Foil Colt's Stint

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ken Johnson pitched perfect ball in six of the seven innings he worked for the Houston Colts, but the Milwaukee Braves caught up with the Colt right-hander for four straight hits in his other inning and beat Houston 2-1 in an exhibition baseball game Monday.

Joe Torre, Gene Oliver, Frank Bolling and Roy McMillan cracked successive singles to account for both Braves runs in the second inning. Johnson later walked a batter but then retired 16 straight before leaving for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

The victory was the 15th in 20 starts for Bobby Bragan's Braves this spring. Manny Mota, a utility man hit a grand slam homer, high-lighting a six-run Pittsburgh seventh inning as the Pirates whipped the Minnesota Twins 12-4.

Bob Bailey and Willie Stargell got three hits apiece as the Pirates collected 15 safeties.

Robin Roberts and Chuck Estrada hooked up to pitch shut-out ball while Baltimore Orioles scored an unearned run in the ninth inning for a 1-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Chicago White Sox made a pair of first inning runs stand up and defeated the New Mets 2-1. New York's only run came on a homer by loser Tracy Stallard.

Cincinnati jumped on Philadelphia starter John Rozer for three runs in the first inning and went on to beat the Phillies 5-3. Deron Johnson homered for the Reds and Gus Triandos and Cookie Rojas connected for Philadelphia.

The Detroit Tigers rallied for six runs in the last two innings and whipped the Kansas City Athletics 8-7. Dick Green homered for the A's, who produced a 14-hit attack but still lost their fifth straight and 16th in 21 starts.

Willie Mays had a pair of doubles and a triple and scored three times as the San Francisco Giants outlasted the Chicago Cubs 9-7 in a Cactus League game. Bob Hendley and Bob Shaw, acquired in an off-season deal with Milwaukee, shared the pitching for San Francisco.

Bo Belinsky hurled seven strong innings as the Los Angeles Angels dumped the Cleveland Indians 7-1. Belinsky and Bob Duhba combined to hurl a three-hitter.

Sandy Koufax went seven innings as the Los Angeles Dodgers halted the New York Yankees 5-1 in a night game. Frank Howard led the Dodger attack with two hits and ran his spring average to .400 with six hits in 15 trips since reporting to the club last week.

JACK NICKLAUS, AT 23 YEARS OF AGE, BECAME THE YOUNGEST EVER TO WIN THE MASTERS GOLF TOURNAMENT WHEN HE SCORED 286 TO DEFEAT RUNNER-UP TONY LEVIA BY A STROKE.

A MASTERS REPEAT?

Nicklaus' Stock Up With Soggy Course

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A monsoon-like rain flooded the Augusta National course Monday, canceling practice rounds, and the stock of defending champion Jack Nicklaus soared as probable winner of the 28th Masters Golf Tournament.

"Because of his power, Nicklaus has to be a big favorite on this course," said Sam Snead. "If the rain continues and the course is soft, he should make it a runaway."

The Augusta Weather Bureau

could offer little encouragement for powder puff hitters in the field of 90 who might want to wrest the crown from the 24-year-old Columbus, Ohio, slugger, who hits the ball higher and farther than any man the game has ever known.

Heavy showers were expected to continue through Monday night and most of Tuesday, perhaps pouring as much as two inches of water over the lush fairways of the 6,980-yard layout. The meteorologist at the local airport said he was unable to predict likely weather for the tournament which opens Thursday.

"We hope there will be some partial clearing Tuesday, and we may see some sun," he said. But he wasn't sure. The Augusta course drains quickly and dries out fast.

Local amateur weather seers were pessimistic.

"We are in a sort of pocket here and you can't predict the weather," one said. "But this looks like the kind of rain that sometimes last a week."

Such would be bad news for any in the star-studded international field except the blockbusters, notably Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Snead.

Most of the Masters participants were on the scene. They sat around the locker rooms forlornly watching the rain come down like a waterfall.

One of the most concerned was Ben Hogan, who at 51 after years of fighting edgy nerves and putting frustration, is back on his game—a threat to become the oldest player ever to capture the title.

"For my game, the course must be fast, both the fairways and the greens," the Texas Hawk said. "I will be hitting clubs 1 and 2 longer than the big hitters and position is important to me."

"If the course dries out, I hope to make a good showing. If 284 is enough, I might even win it." A score of 286 won last year for Nicklaus, seeking to become the first Masters champion to win consecutive titles.

Hogan, once so frightened of a five-foot putt that he couldn't bring back the blade, said he suddenly has recovered his putting nerve. "I don't know it happened, but I just got to a point I could strike the ball again. It may be different when the tournament starts."

The graying Texan, who set the tournament record of 274 in 1953, has had successive rounds of 71, 71, to over the par 36-36-72 course. He has been practicing here a week.

"From tee to green, I am playing all right, although I would like to be sharper," he said. "The good thing is I can putt again."

The Public Image Versus Hayden Fry

Ted Leach

Southern Methodist football coach Hayden Fry has been concerned lately with reports of recruiting irregularities concerning his team, charging other schools in the Southwest Conference are guilty of spreading rumors that hamper the Pioneers in their quest for football brawn.

Recently, Dallas Morning News columnist Roy Edwards devoted his time and talent to a little item titled "An Image in Public," in which he explained that some scribes in the SWC circle are concerned over Fry's public image.

Reports Edwards, "The concern is not shared by Fry."

Well, fine. But should the press shoulder the blame for Fry's public image, or is the coach himself the one putting his foot in the wrong spot?

The article goes on to explain that anytime a coach undertakes the task explaining what happened after his team has lost a game—he runs the risk of being accused of alibiing. This, Edwards says, has happened to Fry.

WAIT 'TIL FRY SPEAKS

Killing a little time in Dallas one afternoon during Cotton Bowl week, we happened to stop by one of the hotel lobbies waiting for a writer friend to complete an interview.

The SMU-Oregon contest in the Sun Bowl was being televised and there was a big crowd around the tv set watching the Mustangs taking a solid beating. They trailed by a couple of touchdowns and time was running out.

Two Dallasites standing close by were noting that things weren't going well for the Pioneers, too.

"Well, I guess SMU is going to lose another one," one noted. "Yeah, it looks that way," the other said. "But wait until Fry has a chance to talk with the Dallas News after the game. When it's all over you won't even know they lost."

CAGE, PREP HONORS

Junior John Henry Young and senior Royce Heller have been honored by coaches in District 8 of the NAIA in all-star selections. Young was named to the first team along with NEA All-American Lucious Jackson of Pan American, Preston Vice and Russell Noll of McMurtry, Mitchell Edwards of Pan American and Lou Balentine of Wayland.

Heller made second team along with Bernie Popp of Austin College, John McGirk of Pan American, Wayne Diamond of LeTourneau Tech and Wayne Knipp of East Texas Baptist.

Young also drew another honor. Harless Wade of the Dallas Morning News picked the 6-5 center on his all-Texas small college squad. The team includes all Texas collegiates other than Southwest Conference players.

Jackson, Jim Barnes of Texas Western, John Savage of North Texas State and Vice were first team choices.

We had a chance this season to see four of the five of Wade's dream team in action. We would have to believe that they could beat a like squad from the SWC.

although there would be a lot of centers on the club.

And another Midwestern note. Coach and athletic director Dennis Vinzant has turned author again, this time with an interesting little story titled "The Hully Gully Shuffle Offense" which appears in COACH & ATHLETE, January vintage.

Also of interest was the center section of this mag which was devoted to picking a 70-man All-America prep squad. E. A. Gresham of Graham, Curt Amundson of Fort Worth Brewster, Warren McVea of San Antonio Brackenridge, Albert Piarro of Big Spring and Larry Peel of San Antonio Highlands were named.

What happened to Linus Bear of SA Jefferson?

Royals Attempt To Check Fall

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals staged a practice drill Monday aimed at checking Boston's bid to sweep the Eastern Division playoffs of the National Basketball Association in four straight games.

Boston leads 3-0 in the best-of-seven series and one more Cincinnati defeat would give the Celtics their eighth straight divisional championship Tuesday night.

The theories for the Royals' dismal showing are many, ranging from Jerry Lucas' ailing back to being too "tight" and the general excellence of Boston's star Bill Russell.

Jack McMahon, the Royals' coach, thinks none of these accounts for the situation.

Sports In Brief

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Eddie Cotton of Seattle was named boxer of the month by the World Boxing Association Monday for his rematch victory over Johnny Persol.

Cotton, who had lost a questionable decision to Persol, scored a technical knockout in the return bout and regained the No. 1 challenger's role.

He edged out Luis Rodriguez and Bobo Olson for the monthly honor.

Because of his troubles, former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston was dropped from the monthly ratings.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts announced Monday night they had traded offensive guard Palmer Pyle to the Minnesota Vikings for Steve Stonebreaker, a linebacker and tight end.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The president of Memphis State University says Negroes who can meet MSU's scholastic requirements and have the required athletic skills will be given the same consideration as any other athlete in the school's sports program.

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League bought pitcher Joe Schaffernoth from the Cleveland Indians' organization Monday. Schaffernoth, then with the Jacksonville Suns, was the league's most valuable player in 1962.

BOSTON (AP) — Fred Bruney, defensive backfield coach of the Boston Patriots, resigned Monday to accept a similar post with the Philadelphia Eagles of the rival National Football League.

AUSTIN (AP) — A scholarship fund in memory of Ed Olle, longtime University of Texas sports official who died Friday, was established Monday by the University's Ex-Students' Association. Services were held in Austin for Olle Monday.

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — Nelson Cullenward of the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin captured the national golf writers championship Monday with a two over par 39-35-74, extending to two years the dominance of left-handers in the annual tournament at the Dunes Golf and Beach Club here.

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Schmidt, whose present contract was due to expire this month, has been signed to a new two-year agreement as coach of the Boston Bruins.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "Don't judge a fighter by the way he looks in the gym. You don't win 'em there."

That was the comment from Angelo Dundee, manager of light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano, after an awkward show by Pastrano Monday in three rounds with sparring mates.

Tryouts Postponed For Sheppard LL; Reset For Monday

Tryouts for the eight-team Sheppard Little League have been postponed until next week because of last Friday's tornado and out of respect for General Douglas MacArthur, it was announced Monday.

Civilian candidates won't be allowed on the base this week, it was pointed out, but will be able to participate in tryouts beginning on Monday, April 13.

Twelve-year-olds vie for berths on one of the eight teams at 6 p.m. Monday. Eleven-year-olds take the field at the same time Tuesday, 10-year-olds on Wednesday and 9-year-olds on Thursday.

Selection for the teams will be made on Saturday, April 18.

Since the Little League season begins May 2, teams will only have two weeks of practice.

Veterans, Rookie Join '500' Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Two veterans and a rookie were named Monday to drive three conventional roadsters in trials for the Memorial Day Indianapolis 500 mile race.

Jim Hurtubise of North Tawanda, N.Y., was assigned a new D.V.S. Offenhauser-powered roadster which he had out for tire tests last week. D.V.S. Inc. already has Eddie Sachs in the field in a new rear-engine model.

Bud Tinglestad of Dayton, Ohio, will drive a Federal Engineering Special for Dan Levine of Detroit and rookie Johnny White of Warren, Mich. will be in the same Norm Delmer roadster that Paul Goldsmith qualified last year.

Fullmer Is Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Promoter John Squaglia announced Monday signing middleweights Don Fullmer, and Fred Roots for a 10-round fight in Sacramento Civic Auditorium April 14.

Leafs Pick Up Additional Help

TORONTO (AP) — Trailing by a game in the Stanley Cup semifinal playoffs, the Toronto Maple Leafs brought in reinforcements Monday for the sixth game against the Montreal Canadiens Tuesday night.

The Leafs called up four players from the Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League but Manager - Coach Punch Imlach said only one will dress for Tuesday's game.

Defenseman Kent Douglas, last season's rookie of the year with Toronto, arrived early Monday. Al Arbour, a defenseman, and forwards Gerry Ehman and Ed Litzenger were due later. All three are former National Hockey League players.

Under NHL playoff rules, each team can dress 17 players in addition to the goalie. The Leafs have been using only 16. Imlach would not say which player he plans to use. He said the other three would be on hand "in case someone calls in sick."

Houston's Williams Tries To Up Stock

HOUSTON (AP) — Veteran Cleveland Williams of Houston, seeking a heavyweight championship bout, meets unranked Tommy Fields of Los Angeles in a scheduled 10-round match Tuesday night.

Williams, ranked fifth among the heavies by the World Boxing Association, has won 59 fights, lost five and has one draw. He has more knockouts to his credit with 49 than any fighter in the heavyweight division.

Other teams, in order of finish, were:

Quannah No. 1 with 653, Electra No. 1 with 667, Quannah No. 2 with 714, Seymour with 759, Childress with 777, and Electra No. 2 with 783.

Hirsch had two individuals in the running for medalist honors but did not enter a team. Neither managed to gain a region berth.

Pack, Duncan End Series Here Tuesday

The Wichita Falls Coyotes, with a penchant for losing, try to snap a five-game losing streak against Duncan, Okla., here Tuesday afternoon.

The contest, which completes a home-and-home series, unfolds at 4 p.m. in Spudder Park.

With only one more non-conference contest on the schedule, a meeting with crosstown rival Rider April 14, the Pack is doomed to enter 4-AAAA play with a losing record. Hopes of reaching the .500 mark this season are slim—and not unusual.

A previous meeting with Duncan resulted in loss No. 5, a 6-3 affair. Other defeats include two to Lawton, Okla., 5-2 and 4-3, and to Denton in a doubleheader, 3-1 and 6-1.

Asked to explain the losing streak, coach Mack Keck said the Coyotes were unable to come up with timely base hits. They have hit fairly well this season, but don't collect the safeties with men on base.

"Duncan hit everything we threw up there and stopped any threats we made with four double plays," he said, giving an indication that the Demons are strong both at bat and in the field.

The Coyotes batting order Tuesday will include: Jerry Phillips, cf; Jimmy Boyd, lf; Mickey Pemberton, rf; Trent Capps, ss; Mike McBride, 3b; John Runge, 1b; Mike Jenkins, c; Al Syverson, 2b; and Louis McKown, p.

McKown has one loss, the 4-3 contest against Lawton.

Pitt Lands Three

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Three University of Pittsburgh players were named Monday for the East squad in the All-America Bowl football game in Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium June 27.

They are halfback Paul Martha, Pitt's leading rusher last season, fullback and place kicker Rick Leeson and center Charles Ahlborn.

Title Elimination Begins In July

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and Eddie Machen will meet in a title elimination fight in Sweden July 5 or 12, it was formally announced Monday by Machen's manager, Walter Minskoff.

Al Bolan, who will co-promote the 12-round fight with Edwin Ahlquist of Sweden, confirmed the announcement via telephone from his New York office.

Bolan said one of three cities are in the bidding for the match, including Stockholm and Goteborg. He couldn't identify the third city.

Shoemaker Changes Mounts For Derby

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Northern Dancer, winner of the Flamingo and the Florida Derby, will have a new rider when he meets Hill Rise in the Kentucky Derby.

Willie Shoemaker, who guided Northern Dancer to victory in the two big Florida races, will switch to Hill Rise in the Derby. Bill Hartack will ride Northern Dancer.

In the latest line on the Derby, Northern Dancer and Hill Rise are 5-2 co-favorites.

Horatio Luro, trainer of Northern Dancer, announced the switch of riders shortly before leaving Monday for Lexington, Ky. His horse also left by van for Lexington's Keeneland Race Track.

His Deeds Live On

The old soldier is gone, slipped into the shadows of history. What the rigors of a score of campaigns, the enemy shells on a dozen battlefields, the dangers and demands of three wars failed to do, the remorseless hand of time has accomplished.

The death of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur is mourned not only by his countrymen but by millions the world over.

The name MacArthur immediately brings to mind the picture of the stern-faced hero of the Pacific war with the scrambled egg insignia on his cap and cornob pipe and tieless, open collar, who in the darkest days of World War II uttered both a promise and a battle cry with the words: "I shall return."

Yet MacArthur had already completed 38 years of distinguished service in the Army before his name became a household word after the Japanese invasion of the Philippines. Graduated from West Point with highest academic honors in 1903, he took part, as a captain, in the Vera Cruz expedition of 1914. In World War I, although a brigadier general, he saw personal action in the bloody St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives, among others, and was wounded twice.

By the time the war clouds were gathering again in the 1930s, he had served as superintendent of West Point and commander of the Army's Philippines Department and had reached the top of the military ladder as Chief of Staff.

(It was in this last capacity that he was ordered to disperse fellow veterans with tear gas during the Bonus March in Washington.)

Then came World War II, and as if he had not lived and done enough to fill the lives of any number of men, MacArthur's contribution to history was far from ended with the signing of the peace. It is to MacArthur, who as occupation commander virtually wrote the postwar Japanese constitution himself that the Japanese owe their present democracy and the spectacular release of their native energies from the bondage of totalitarianism.

Brilliant and wise administrator that he was however, MacArthur was foremost a warrior, and a victory as startling as any in American military history was to be his with the landing at Inchon during the Korean War.

But the world had changed, and complete victory in Korea was not for him or any man. His removal by President Truman, said to have been dictated by the realities of the nuclear age, served only to increase his stature in the eyes of many Americans. It also made him seem more human, less a god.

At last came the long-delayed triumphant return to his homeland, the parades and accolades, all capped by his moving speech before Congress. His "fading away" from public life was but the beginning of a new career as a corporation board chairman.

Now MacArthur the man is dead at 84. Yet, as he truly said, old soldiers never die. Not the great ones.

NOTEBOOK

Good Natured Rivalry

By WASHINGTON STAFF
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—A good-natured rivalry now exists between Minnesota Sens. Hubert Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy, who have both been mentioned as possible 1964 Democratic vice presidential nominees.

Humphrey was recently telling some friends about a new hotel he had stopped at the week before. "It was pretty nice," the senator said. "They even gave me the senatorial suite."

"That's nothing," someone pointed out. "When Gene McCarthy stayed there, they gave him the presidential suite."

"Aha!" answered Humphrey. "I'll have to tell Lyndon about that. That'll take care of McCarthy."

Most everyone knows that Sen. Barry Goldwater made his final, winning proposal to his wife, Peggy, in a telephone booth on New Year's eve some 30 years ago.

Not too many may know, however, that soon after that Peggy went off on a long round-the-world trip.

Refusing to be fazed, Goldwater got her trip schedule down cold and then mailed off huge packets of letters to greet her at extended stops. Within each packet, individual letters were carefully marked for opening at particular times on each day.

The senator's relentless courtship left its mark on him. Even today he's still showering Peggy with flowers and gifts.

When one or two of Pierre Salinger's White House associates heard the first rumors he might leave his job as press secretary to run for the Senate in California, they laughed them off.

Says one: "It would not have surprised me a bit to have Pierre (an accomplished pianist) tell me some day that he was going off on a concert tour."

As every other cabinet member, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has taken a frequent ribbing about the government's "Harvard-Egghead" image. McNamara was well aware of this subject at his last Pentagon swearing-in ceremony—Cyrus R. Vance (Yale '30) as deputy secretary of defense and Stephen Ailes (Princeton '33) as secretary of the Army.

"They might be Ivy Leaguers," McNamara pointed out, "but there's not a Harvard man in the lot."

Quake Warning System

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—At the very time the Alaska earthquake struck, there was a confidential proposal in government hands for a coordinated government-university research attack aimed at producing some of the basic facts necessary to build an earthquake warning network.

It has not yet been approved.

Recent break-throughs in instruments and methods have opened the door to a whole new world of earthquake research possibilities which scientists say could end the frustrations of the past 30 years.

Geophysicists interviewed here say we now have the tools to do the research needed to develop a crude earthquake prediction system for major communities—probably within 10 years, certainly within 20.

"It would, of course, only predict quakes likely to cause important damage to people and property. The system would likely skip predictions of quakes occurring in the wilderness and in deserts unless they'd produce nasty effects at a distance."

Such warnings would not be correct every time any more than weather predictions are. Scientists would be happy if their first system was right one time out of three. The predictors would probably err on the side of caution, predict more quakes than would actually occur. They'd hope not to miss any important earthquakes near population centers.

One reason for this scientific optimism: There's been greater-than-expected success in predicting the eruption of volcanoes in a pilot project. Working in the Hawaiian Islands, scientists in this experimental project are able to foretell volcanic eruptions with an accuracy of 50 per cent. That is, half the eruptions they predict actually occur. The other potential eruptions are underground lava flows pushing upward which die away without surfacing.

The U.S. Geological survey is continuing to improve its techniques.

One of the most promising leads for the prediction of earthquakes is by measuring the strain rocks are undergoing in the major fault line areas. This can be done in part with strain gauges, which measure the actual change in shape or length of rock formations. The other technique is to measure the speed at which sound waves move through the rocks. (The speed varies according to the strain which the rock is undergoing.)

If the earthquake specialists can determine how much strain different types of rock formation and fault lines endure before slipping, what strains cause what size slips and something about how long it takes for a particular overstrain to result in a slip, then they'll be on the way toward making crude predictions.

As a preliminary, this involves a major co-ordinated study of an important earthquake fault. One proposal favors the great San Andreas fault in California. By seismic, geodetic, magnetic, gravimetric and geologic measurements they'd attempt to determine the elastic properties of the rock formation in the area, the vertical extent of the fault line, how much strain has so far been accumulated over the region of the fault line and carefully map the lines of stress through the region.

All this earthquake work will have a major by-product. The more U.S. scientists find out about earthquakes, the better they will be able to detect and pinpoint Russian underground nuclear explosions. The big problem now is that it's impossible to distinguish between some earthquakes and some types of camouflaged underground nuclear explosions.

Banker Is Innocent Publicity Victim

EDITOR'S NOTE—Drew Pearson's column is written today by his associate, Jack Anderson.

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The political potshots at Bobby Baker have struck down an innocent victim, Irving S. Lichtman, chairman of the District of Columbia National Bank, who suffered a heart attack after he came under Congressional fire.

He was so upset over the bad publicity, say friends, that his heart couldn't take it. He is now in the hospital in serious condition.

Because his bank had loaned money to Baker, Lichtman was pilloried on the House floor by Congressman Oliver Bolton, Republican, Ohio, who dredged up charges from an old lawsuit that the banker had "violated both the usury law and the loan shark law of the District of Columbia."

The Congressman neglected to add that the lawsuit had been thrown out of the Florida courts, then had been dismissed twice more by the D.C. courts.

Four days after Bolton's blast, the plaintiffs went back for still another try. They used the identical language in their court appeal that Bolton had offered up in the House. But Judge David A. Pine was unimpressed.

"I do not want to be imposed on," he lectured the plaintiffs, "by having a rehearing of what Judge McGarraghy has already heard and decided."

Yet the congressman gave these discredited charges national publicity, and Lichtman during his distress had a stroke.

Baker's Banks

Of the 15 banks that have done business with Baker, it is significant that the Republicans singled out the D.C. National Bank for special attack.

Other banks, including two in the District of Columbia, loaned Baker more than the $125,000 he was able to borrow from D.C. National. Contrary to charges, the loan was also secured by the deed to Baker's house, which was appraised at over $150,000.

Although it is true Baker bought stock in D.C. National, he paid exactly the same price as all other stockholders at the time. Comptroller of the Currency James Saxon has flatly denied that his office received the slightest political pressure from Baker or anyone else in the bank's behalf.

The real inspiration for the attack on D.C. National came from the old-line banks, which are bitterly opposed to Saxon's anti-monopoly policies. He has been trying to break their hold on the charters to dozens of new banks.

D. C. National, for instance, was the first new national bank chartered in the District of Columbia in 29 years. By attacking it, the old-line banks hoped to weaken it and reverse Saxon's policies.

The clamor against D. C. National was first raised by Sen. Hugh Scott, Republican, Pennsylvania, who, on more than one occasion, has tried to influence the rulings of the comptroller of the currency. His Philadelphia law firm has also represented banking interests.

Scott's charges were picked up by Congressman Bolton, who happens to be a director of the Cleveland Trust Company. In 1953, he intervened with his fellow Ohio Republican, then Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, to get a charter for the Lake County National Bank of Painesville, Ohio, in which the Bolton family has substantial holdings.

In other words, the chief accusers have engaged in precisely the same kind of political activity that they are now trying to hang on D.C. National.

Delirious Defector

A Polish security officer, who spied for the United States for three years then escaped to the west when his game became too dangerous, has suddenly started spreading delirious tales on Capitol Hill.

He is Col. Michal Goleniewski, who was recruited by the Central Intelligence Agency as a "defector in place" in 1958. He had access as a Polish liaison officer to the secrets of Russia's KGB spy agency and was able to smuggle out valuable information until he was forced to flee in 1961.

Like anyone who crosses the KGB, he has been in constant fear of his life, and the strain has been too much for him. Last summer he began having hallucinations.

Though a Pole, he fancied himself a Romanoff, a member of the Russian royal family. He also mistakenly thought he had hemophilia, a tendency to bleed profusely from the most minor cuts.

Then he began seeing communist agents behind every other desk at the CIA, the agency which not only had recruited him but was still paying his bills.

Goleniewski also spun a wild yarn about how $1,000,000 in CIA funds had fallen into KGB hands half of which had been pumped back into the United States to finance communist operations.

These stories inevitably reached Capitol Hill, where they were eagerly believed by Sen. Strom Thurmond, Democrat, South Carolina, and Congressman Michael Veighan, Democrat, Ohio, who take a conspiratorial view of events.

They have talked to the disturbed defector, who has offered no evidence except his own tortured testimony. Sadly, the CIA has tried to persuade Goleniewski to get psychiatric help, but he is darkly suspicious that this is a plot to silence him.

Perhaps those who so eagerly swallow his fantastic tales should consult psychiatrists, too.

INSIDE REPORT

Young Republicans

WASHINGTON — The Young Republican National Federation, unruly offspring of the Grand Old Party, is mapping a campaign of all-out resistance against parental supervision by party leaders.

Ever since the YR's exhibited a pronounced Right wing posture at their uproarious national convention in San Francisco last June, many adult party leaders have felt some fatherly discipline is in order. The result: proposals to put the YR's under the thumb of the Republican National Committee now are pending.

But the tough, young conservatives who lead the YR's are fighting back. Their strategy is mapped out in a confidential memorandum sent to two dozen carefully selected conservative young Republicans around the country. The author of the memorandum is Donald D. Myers of Phoenix, Ariz., a YR activist close to the Goldwater-for-President campaign.

The Myers memorandum begins by describing the recommendations of a study committee headed by Meade Alcorn, a former Republican National Chairman. "The obvious purpose of the Alcorn recommendations is to bring the YR's (because of their conservative leadership) ... under more direct control of the National Chairman," Myers warns.

Myers is dead right. The Alcorn report would place a member of the Republican National Committee on the YR executive committee ("a foot-in-the-door" recommendation, to use Myers's description). More important, the Alcorn report would give the party's National Chairman authority to name the YR executive director—a power now held by the Young Republicans themselves.

Along with the rest of the Alcorn report, these recommendations were approved by a voice vote at a closed-door session of the Republican National Committee last Jan. 11. But the Myers memorandum contends that Rep. William Miller of New York will not put these recommendations into effect before he steps down as National Chairman in July.

"We are not worried about Bill Miller," says Myers. "He has stated that he does not intend to inaugurate the recommendations and we trust him. The problem is what might happen under our next National Chairman."

What Myers does not say is that the new National Chairman might be a man sympathetic to the Alcorn recommendations if Sen. Barry Goldwater is not nominated for President. Accordingly, Myers directs the two dozen YR conservatives to prepare a backfire.

Key YR's would ask conservative members of the Republican National Committee "to verbally express their willingness to write a letter to the National Chairman stating, in effect, that having had an opportunity to reflect upon the importance of the (Alcorn) report and some of its shortcomings, they would not now vote for it and would object to its implementation."

Then Myers comes to the point: "It is our thought that a new National Chairman, finding some 50, 75, or more such letters on file regarding the Alcorn report, would not choose to implement it and create the discord which would accompany implementation."

That's as far as Myers goes. But if these efforts should fail and the Alcorn report go into effect anyway, conservative YR's might go it alone—replacing the Republican National Committee's cash subsidy with money from individual donors.

All things considered, no National Chairman is likely to provoke a rebellion among the YR's so close to a Presidential election. Nevertheless, the distasteful memory of the 1963 San Francisco convention lingers on for many Republicans.

What really disturbed these Republicans about the YR's at San Francisco was not the fact that 75 per cent of them backed Goldwater—who was then the overwhelming choice of Republicans in all age groups. Nor was it the rowdy rough-house tactics on the convention floor.

Instead, Republican leaders were upset at the spectacle of young men, some in the early 20's, officially taking positions well to the right of the party's main stream without any restraint or guidance. That's why the Alcorn recommendations quite likely will be brought up again in 1965 even if they are smothered in 1964.

Reds In World Bank

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
And PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Highly significant moves are underway to make Russia a member of the $15 billion International Monetary Fund and the $21 billion International Bank for Reconstruction & Development (World Bank).

Such membership would open Khrushchev's obtaining the big long-term foreign credits he urgently wants to push his recently announced gigantic $40 billion chemical and agricultural development program.

Britain, panting to expand its Iron Curtain trade, is spearheading the backstage drive to bring the Soviet into the IMF and World Bank.

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home initiated the hush-hush overtures to Russia—with the knowledge and encouraging approval of key-placed members of the Johnson administration.

Foremost among them are Dr. Walt Rostow, head of the State Department's Policy Planning Council, and McGeorge Bundy, foreign affairs adviser to the President.

Home discussed this far-reaching proposal during his visit with President Johnson several months ago. Since then there have been further exchanges through diplomatic channels.

According to a memorandum circulating in the highest government levels, Home reported Khrushchev is intensely interested in joining the IMF and World Bank.

The Kremlin ruler was portrayed as prepared to meet the monetary requirements of the two international financial organizations, but raising objections to other crucial stipulations—the submission of detailed information on gold reserves and balance-of-payment (foreign trade).

In addition to providing this now closely-guarded information, the Soviet would have to put up more than $500 million in gold-and-give-notes-for-another half billion in its own currency to be admitted to the International Monetary Fund. Such membership is mandatory for admission to the World Bank.

To join the latter, the Soviet would have to pay in 10 per cent of its subscription—estimated at around $200 million. Of this amount only one per cent would have to be in gold or dollars; the balance would be in rubles.

Other Backers

The heads of both powerful international financial organizations are credited as favoring Russian membership.

George Woods, president of the World Bank, and Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, president of the International Monetary Fund, are privately letting it be known they approve this British-initiated and U.S.-supported move.

Schweitzer, who is on cordial terms with President de Gaulle, has undertaken to win his endorsement. No serious difficulty is anticipated.

Johnson administration insiders are saying that Dr. Rostow views Russian membership in the IMF and World Bank as very desirable as it would tend to make the Soviet "more dependent on the West and less aggressive."

This theory is strongly opposed by other government authorities.

The International Monetary Fund, with $15 billion in subscribed capital, has 103 members. The only Communist participant is Cuba. Of the total subscribed capital, the U.S. has paid in $4.125 billion.

The International Bank for Reconstruction & Development (World Bank) has $21 billion in subscribed capital. Of the 102 members, Yugoslavia is the only Communist country. Cuba withdrew from the Bank after Castro came to power. Of the Bank's subscribed capital, the U.S. pledged $6.35 billion, of which it has paid in around $1.7 billion.

Presidential Personalities

Washington hostesses are getting the word they must have caffeine-free coffee on hand when they entertain the President.

He is very fond of the beverage, especially after a hearty meal. But it's barred on doctors' orders, so the President drinks a caffeine-free variety. He has a favorite brand, and alert hostesses know what it is and stack a supply for him.

The President and Mrs. Johnson dine out several or more times a week. They are more gregarious that way than any of their predecessors in years, particularly President and Mrs. Eisenhower. Old friends head the President's list of favorites, especially newsmen.

He is very fond of dining informally with them, particularly reporters who cover Congress where he spent most of his Washington career. He enjoys gossiping with them about what's transpiring backstage on Capitol Hill.

Red is the President's favorite color, and he delights in seeing Mrs. Johnson wearing it. Most of the gowns and other clothes he selects for her are that color. Both the President and Mrs. Johnson are wary about picking clothes for their two daughters. They prefer to choose their own—and have firmly made that known.

That widely reported White House wedding for Lynda Bird seems to be no more than a report. When a college chum asked Lynda Bird how her wedding preparations were coming along, she replied, "You know more about them than I do. Don't believe everything you hear and read about my family and me."

Dow Jones Hit New High With Fourth Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced for the fourth straight session. Averages again posted historic highs. Trading was heavy.

Coppers recovered from their scare selling of Friday. Profit taking continued among airlines. Electronics staged a late rally.

The list had a scrambled appearance during the entire session. Gains in the market averages were accounted for by selective strength among blue chips. Union Carbide rose 1 1/2. Woolworth 1 1/2. Southern Pacific 3/4. American Smelting 3/4. and Texaco 1/2.

A drop of 1 1/4 by American Telephone featured a spotty utility section. AT & T's mammoth $14 billion stock offering came to an end and trading eased in rights to subscribe to the stock.

Coppers responded in lively fashion to a published report quoting the Chilean Ambassador as saying his government is strongly opposed to nationalization of copper mines or to increased taxes on the mines.

Weekly steel production was reported at a ten-month high but the leading steels were mixed. The Federal Reserve Board reported that in February consumers added to their installment debt by the largest amount in more than four years.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 1.77 to a new high of 824.76.

Volume was 5.85 million shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .8 to a new record of 304.1 with industrials up 1.3 and rails up .8, both to record peaks, and utilities down .2.

Of 1,371 issues traded, 634 rose and 444 fell. New highs for the year totaled 160 and new lows 26.

Party Honors Area Pioneer

NOCONA, Tex. — About 100 persons attended the 93rd birthday party of Sarah Ellen Orrell, Montague County native, in the Nocona Club House Sunday.

For convenience of guests, the birthday party was held earlier than the actual event, April 6. Mrs. Orrell was born on the date in 1871 in Forestburg.

She was married Oct. 16, 1887, to James F. Orrell, who died July 10, 1952.

Seven of her nine children are still living. Four live in Montague County — Mrs. Vallie Burk, Bailey Orrell, and Mrs. Fay Thurman, all of Nocona, and Mrs. Ada Jackson of Forestburg.

Others are Mrs. Lous Lowrie of Henrietta, Mrs. Estie King of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Ruby Mitchell of Beaver, Okla. A sister, Nannie Gillum, lives in Lubbock. She also has 26 grandchildren, 52 great-grandchildren, and 21 great-great-grandchildren.

Treasury Bar Wants To Be Consulted On Appointment Of Judges

The State Bar of Texas asked Monday that the next governor of Texas promise to consult with the bar before appointing state judges.

The request went to all three gubernatorial candidates — Gov. John Connally, Democrat; Don Yarborough, Democrat; and Jack Crichton, Republican.

"It is the hope of this committee that if you are elected governor and a judicial vacancy occurs, you will consult with this committee as to the qualifications of prospective judicial appointees," said Vernon Hill of Mission, chairman of the bar's committee on selection, compensation and tenure of state judges. Hill said his group will propose no nominees.

In a speech at Midland, Don Yarborough proposed that the maximum old age pension must be raised, "using as our goal California's maximum pension of $176 per month." The present Texas maximum is $83.

Connally said in a speech at the Northeast Texas Industrial Development Council at Longview that Texas was second only to New York last year in new plant locations. "We are offsetting the give-away programs of our competitors by means of aggressive local leadership and an atmosphere of good business and good government," he said.

U. S. Senatorial candidate Gordon McLendon, Democrat, continued a Texas tour Monday with movie and tv actors John Wayne and Chill Wills.

At a Fort Worth breakfast, McLendon said civil rights is the main issue in the senatorial race. He said Sen. Ralph Yarborough voted for the public accommodations section of the pending civil rights bill in committee but has tried to remain silent otherwise on the bill.

Robert Morris, Republican candidate for the senate, said in Houston that if elected he will propose a bill to take away from federal courts "any jurisdiction in the area of prayer and Bible reading and put it back in the state courts where it belongs."

George Bush, another GOP senatorial candidate, said in Victoria that never before in the history of this nation has it been so important to maintain a strong, vigilant military.

A growing rift between Communist China and Russia could conceivably explode into "world wide violence," he said.

Robert Baker, Democrat candidate for congressman at large, said in Jasper the incumbent, Rep. Joe Pool, is concerned only with the problems of Dallas "and hasn't taken time out for the people of East Texas."

Touring Club Slates Ft. Sill Gymkhana

The Wichita Falls Sports Car Club will join Lawton's Comanche Touring Club Sunday for a gymkhana in the Students officer's parking lot at Fort Sill.

A technical school will be included at the Tuesday meeting following the Gymkhana.

Traveling in Caravan, the WFSCC will meet at Murphey Motor Co. and depart about 9 a.m. Several other clubs from North Texas and all of Oklahoma are expected to compete in the event.

Events have been scheduled for all sports car classes, G.T. classes and a Ladies class. Following registration at 10 a.m. Sunday, practice will begin at 11 a.m. and events will start at 1 p.m.

WFSCC's regular bi-monthly Tuesday meeting, April 14, will gather at Murphey Motor Co. and go to Jerry Aggrina's in Iowa Park where the technical instruction will be given.

Russians Attempting To Discredit Peking

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union swung into a concentrated campaign Monday to discredit the Chinese Communists on a worldwide scale.

Premier Khrushchev lashed out in a friendly note about the United States, saying: "The United States is an imperialist country but its government judges the world situation so soberly."

In Moscow, Khrushchev's propaganda organs opened up heavily on the Chinese. Government press officials summoned foreign correspondents to a news conference to hear Bobo-dyan Gafurov, deputy chairman of the Soviet Committee for Afro-Asian Solidarity. Gafurov charged anew that the Chinese are deliberately inciting the black and yellow races against the white race.

He said this reminded him of racists who urge white supremacy.

"I do not see any difference," he said, "between those who advocate the supremacy of the white and black races over the yellow, and those who strive for supremacy of the white race over the black and yellow."

Gafurov recently returned from an African-Asian solidarity conference in Algiers, where caused $2.6 million in damage.

Asked whether it was true that he once compared Chinese racial theories with those of the Nazis, Gafurov replied: "The line of the Chinese is very much like racist theories that existed in Europe."

Soviet worries about Chinese influence in various Communist parties was illustrated by an article appearing in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, spotlighting the situation in Ceylon. Peter Keuneman, general secretary of the Ceylon Communist party, said in the article, which covered two-thirds of a page, that the Chinese are doing their best to take over his party.

"This," he said, "is no longer a question of ideological differences, this is gross interference in the internal affairs of a fraternal party."

Wise: You face to buy at the drop of a tip.

Wise: You look behind the tip for facts—and often find only rumor. For you, facts are what count. You've heard that many an investor has found trouble because he accepted a rumor at face value.

Wise: You let your hopes run away with your judgment.

Wise: You have in mind, perhaps, building a second income from dividends. Or giving your money a chance to grow with American business. But you know that stocks, like other property, can tumble in price as well as climb. That some companies may make no profit, pay no dividends. So with your broker's help you check a company's earnings and dividends and try to decide what its prospects are. And you consider bonds for your particular situation.

MU To Have Visiting Profs

Dr. Ralph A. Smith and Dr. Wesley N. Laing will be visiting professors at Midwestern University during the second summer term, Dr. William Whipple, director of the division of social sciences and humanities, said Monday.

Dr. Smith is currently with the faculty of Abilene Christian College, and Dr. Laing teaches at Pan American College in Edinburg, Tex. Both will teach in Midwestern's history department.

Dr. Smith will teach ancient, Near East, Greece and Rome histories, while Dr. Laing will instruct U.S. History from 1877 to 1920.

Laing received his B.A. and

M.A. degrees from Baylor University and his doctorate from the University of Virginia. Smith earned his B.A. degree at Stephen F. Austin College and his master's and doctor's degree at the University of Texas.

Dr. Whipple said the visits of these educators on the MU campus will be in harmony with the university's intention to bring in visiting professors for the purpose of increasing the breadth of instruction in the college.

Breaks Into Store

DIJON, France (AP)—It was late and he was tired so Alessandro di Meo, 37, from Milan, Italy, lit a cigar and sat down in an easy chair. The police, however, didn't take kindly to his breaking a furniture store's window to get into the chair.

PURCELL PRESENTS FLAG — Congressman Graham Purcell, right, presents a flag that has flown over the United States Capitol to Brownie Troop 102 of McGaha School. In making the presentation, Purcell gave a brief talk on respecting the flag. Maggie Jones, a member of the group had written to Gov. John Connally requesting the flag, and the governor referred her to Con-

Montague Team Wins Plaques

NOCONA, Tex. (Special) — Three Montague county Future Farmers of America chapters won plaques in the land judging contest held at Gainesville. Saint Joe placed first in the junior division, Prairie Valley, second; followed by Whitesboro, and Muenster 5th.

In the senior division Whitesboro, 1st, Forestburg, 2nd; Sherman, 3rd; Prairie Valley, 4th; Nocona and Muenster. Plaques were given to the top three teams in each event.

The contest was sponsored by the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District and included FFA teams and 4-H clubs from

Curator To Help

Vernon Museum

VERNON, Tex. (Special) — Curtis Tunnell, curator of anthropology for the Texas Memorial Museum at Austin, will come to Vernon Tuesday to work with the Red River Valley Museum to arrange display of the J. Henry Ray Indian artifacts collection. Museum President Dr. James J. Muirhead, has announced.

Dr. Muirhead said that display cases have now been completed for the museum, which will be housed at Wilbarger Memorial Auditorium. The museum board and various local committees seek to develop local historical program.

The Ray collection, assembled in the Red River Valley area surrounding Vernon, is expected to form the museum nucleus and has a definite influence in choice of the museum name. Ray is a retired grocer, and Mrs. Ray, active in local community affairs, is a charter member of the Sorosis Club.

'Attilla' Performed

ROME (AP) — Giuseppe Verdi's "Attilla" was performed recently at the Rome Opera House for the first time. Banned in his lifetime by the Austrians who then ruled Italy for its anti-Austrian theme, the opera later was all but forgotten. Critics said the music was powerful.

Legion Plans District Meet

American Legion members from throughout the 25th District of the state will convene here Saturday and Sunday for the district's annual convention.

The Hansboro Post 843 and its auxiliary will be hosts for the convention which will feature talks by James W. White Sr., deputy vice commander of the Legion's 6th District; Robert L. Nelson, 25th District commander from Dallas; Mrs. James W. White Sr., deputy vice commander of the auxiliary.

Other speakers will include Mayor John Gavin of Wichita Falls; Sheriff Ham Vance; John McKeely, deputy Legion commander from Electra; Mrs. Robert L. Nelson, 25th district commander of the auxiliary from Dallas; and Mrs. Wellington Hancock, 25th District president from Wichita Falls.

Host commander of the auxiliary is Connie McCallan. Unit president is Mrs. Sophia Williams and A. W. Crawford is convention chairman.

Trustees Elected

NEWCASTLE, Tex. (Special) —Trustees for the Newcastle public schools were elected. Voters selected three of six candidates to fill three posts. N. D. Graham received 138 votes and Preston Bruton and John M. Camp received 127 each to win.

Children of families affected by the tornado may continue to attend classes at City View School, even though they are moved outside the school district, and free school bus service will be provided, it was announced Monday by Lee Wade, superintendent of the school.

Wade said bus service will be extended to Iowa Park, Lynwood and Sheppard Air Force base, with details of pickup points to be announced as soon as details of the number of students is established.

This arrangement assures students of their schooling without interruption.

German Guard Flees

BERLIN (AP)—An East German border guard fled to West Berlin early Monday. The 24-year-old came in full uniform, carrying his weapons, without being observed, West Berlin police said.

JAMES HARTLINE

Furniture Man Is Blood Donor

A trustee of Friberg school, James Hartline, has given a gallon of his rare A negative type blood through the Red River Regional Blood Center to become a member of the Red Cross Gallon Club.

He received a recognition pin to wear in his lapel and a commendation from the Wichita Falls Times and Record News.

Hartline is manager of the furniture department at Sears, Roebuck & Co. in Wichita Falls and active in the Methodist church. A veteran of two years in the navy, his interests include fishing, bowling, and cattle raising.

He and his wife, Joanna, and son, James Samuel, reside on Route 4, Box 111, outside of Wichita Falls.

New Industry Sets Up Here

Announcement of the completion of a new plant of 4,000 square feet for T-H-E-M Service Industries at Loop 165 and Hilltop Ave. was made Monday by officers of the corporation.

The firm is engaged in the sales and servicing of truck refrigeration equipment, and hydraulic, electrical and mechanical equipment. The firm also offers complete servicing facilities for area space ground equipment for use by the United States Air Force.

The firm will hold an open house, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 15. More than 150 Air Force officers from bases in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana are expected to attend the affair.

Officers of the corporation are Harold G. Johnson, president; E. K. Bond, vice president; and E. L. Bond, secretary and treasurer.

Joe B. Wolverton, president of Industrial Development, Inc., issued a statement Monday congratulating the corporation on the completion of its new plant. Wolverton stated: "On behalf of the board of directors and all members of IDI, we are certainly thrilled at the announcement that T-H-E-M Service Industries have completed their new and expanded facilities. This is another indication that Wichita Falls is an ideal location from which to serve the Southwest market. We congratulate the corporation and its officials on their tangible expression of confidence in the future growth and progress of Wichita Falls and wish them continued success."

Sunday Times Available

A limited number of copies of Sunday's Times, containing several pages of pictures of tornado damage, are available at Times Square, 13th and Lamar.

The pictures include a repeat reproduction of the great view of the tornado funnel that was first printed in half-page size in Saturday's Record News.

Believe me,
 I've cooked on both...and a GAS range is cleaner.
 You broil with the broiler door closed.

Mrs. J. J. Foster has cooked on both gas and electric ranges and she knows from experience.

Dirty trick on a clean kitchen—but most electric range manufacturers recommend leaving the broiler door slightly open. Not so when you broil with gas—you shut that broiler door! The flame consumes the smoke. Stands to reason, with the door shut, no greasy smoke can possibly pour out into your clean kitchen. Nice!

What's more, flame does something wonderful to a good steak. Flavor! Mmm-marvelous. Modern, automatic gas ranges have all the advantages: no hangover heat, the Burner-with-a-Brain and many more. No wonder Mrs. Foster bought her new gas range. Now how about you? They're on sale now at your gas appliance dealers. See them!
