

Strawn Opener Is Now Assured In S-C Upton Area

Oscar Bourg Drilling Company and Clark Development Company are assured of a commercial producer and a discovery from the Strawn line of the Pennsylvanian at their No. 1 University of Texas, South-Central Upton County wildcat.

The well flowed a total of 550 barrels of 40.8 gravity oil and no water in 48 hours from perforated section in the Strawn at 8,570-8,612 feet. That flow was after the perforated interval had been treated with 2,000 gallons of acid.

Different sized chokes were used during the flowing. However, operator says that the chokes used would average out for a 27.64th opening off of the tubing for the entire 48-hour period. The well was still flowing at last report. The flow is steady and regular. Gas-oil ratio is around 1,300-1. It is expected that a potential test gauge will be taken in a few days.

Near Rankin
This new field opener is four miles southwest of Rankin and 600 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 18, block 15, University survey.

This discovery was made by Bourg and Clark at the wildcat which was originally drilled by Republic Natural Gas Company and Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware as their No. 2 University of Texas.

Dry Ellenburger
Those concerns drilled it to a bottom of 11,200 feet in barren Ellenburger. They then farmed the hole and five quarter sections adjacent to it to Bourg and associates to test the Strawn section which had logged slight shows of oil and gas when that zone was drilled through.

Bourg and Clark ran casing through the Strawn zone and perforated it at 8,570-8,612 feet. They swabbed between three and four barrels of oil per hour from it naturally.

The 2,000-gallon acid injection was then used and the 550 barrels flow in 48 hours resulted.

Interested observers expect the wildcat to complete for a settled flow of around 250 barrels of oil per day.

Oil Unloads On Ellenburger DST In Scurry Test

American Trading & Production Corporation No. 1-A Elmer Howell, Central-East Scurry County exploration, has found good shows of production in the Ellenburger.

It is a stepout to production in the Hermberg-Ellenburger field 10 miles east of Snyder.

The project took a four-hour drill-stem test in the top of the Ellenburger at 7,355-7,406 feet. Gas surfaced in 10 minutes and continued in a steady blow for the remainder of the period.

Unloads
No fluid came to the surface while the tester was open. When 17 stands of drill pipe had been pulled the string started unloading oil.

The test had recovered a total of 5,830 feet of fluid in the drill pipe. Pulling of the tester was still in progress at last report.

Complete information on the full recovery will not be available until the rest of the drill pipe has been racked.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 62, block 3, H&C survey.

This project has already shown as a possible discovery from the sand in the Canyon and also from a sand section in the Strawn. It recovered free oil in drillstem tests in both these formations.

Spraberry Trend May Be Extended West In Upton

Good possibilities of extending the Upton County portion of the Spraberry Trend five and one-half miles west were found on a drillstem test in the Wilshire Oil Company, Inc. No. 43-41 Ganit, wildcat 15 miles north of Rankin.

Operator tested the interval in the lower Spraberry from 7,892 to 8,062 feet. Tool was open four hours. There was a fair blow of air throughout the test. Recovery was 110 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. Some of that fluid was free oil. There was no formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 50 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 30 minutes was 200 pounds.

Operator was preparing to circulate (Continued On Page 12)

Nation's Safety Margin Fading, Says Rayburn

Pact Outlines Terms Ending Wire Walkout

WASHINGTON—(P)—Union and company officials agreed Friday on terms for ending the Western Union strike. The agreement provides for a wage increase for the union, but only if the company gets government permission to boost telegraph tolls.

The 30,000 Western Union employees, members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, have been on strike 51 days. Under the terms, the earliest date for resumption of full-scale telegraph service would be Monday.

The agreement was reached after an all-night session climaxing a week of intensive negotiations. It included two big ifs:

1. Western Union must get federal authority to increase telegraph rates.
 2. The pact must be ratified by the membership of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union. A union spokesman said such ratification is in doubt.
- Announcement of the agreement was made by Cyrus Ching, head of the Federal Mediation Service, and officials of the union and company. The company said the workers would be back on the job Monday. W. L. Allen, international president of the CTU, said, however, that such a return would be contingent.

City Will Contribute $500 Water Monthly To Beautify Hospital

The City of Midland agreed Thursday afternoon to cooperate to the extent of $500 monthly in a program to beautify the grounds of Midland Memorial Hospital.

The City Council approved the proposal after a request had been submitted by a delegation including directors and shareholders of the Midland Memorial Foundation.

The city, under the agreement, will appropriate $300 monthly for water to be used on the grounds and $200 monthly for water used inside the building.

Tom Campbell, one of the group presenting the proposal, explained that hospital leaders still faced the task of "completely selling the hospital to the people of Midland."

Clubs To Assist
"First, however," he said, "we are going to have to make the surroundings out there pleasant. We want to plant grass and shrubbery and beautify the grounds. We are asking the city to help us with water."

Harvey Herd, another member of the delegation, explained that various garden clubs and other groups in the city already have promised to assist in beautifying the grounds.

Others who spoke included Frank Stubbeman, chairman of the shareholders; Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the board of trustees, Al Vineyard and Olin Prather.

W. P. Parrott, 63, Dies; Rites Saturday

W. P. Parrott, 63, of 1506 South Main Street, died Friday in an Odessa hospital, where he had been ill the last three weeks.

Parrott, who came to Midland in 1927 from Benton, Ill., served 12 years as president and secretary of the carpenter's union local here. He was associated with the Houston Hill contracting firm.

Survivors include the widow of the home; two daughters, Charlene Eber and Mrs. Jill Holder of Odessa; three sons, Donald of Midland, Ralph of Snyder and Glen of Camp Drum, N. Y.; two brothers, Harry of Odessa and Glen of Crane, and two sisters, Mrs. Ernie Weedman of Seaside, Mo., and Mrs. Josephine Asline of Hominy, Okla.

Funeral services will be held at the Rev. W. E. Ellis Chapel at 3 p.m. Saturday, with the Rev. Jimmie Dolan of the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Odessa officiating. Interment will be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Texas Polio Cases Take Sharp Upturn

AUSTIN—(P)—Forty new polio cases were reported in Texas last week, three times the seven-year average for this time of year.

The state health department reported the year's total number of cases has reached 496.

Storms Lash North Texas, Lawton, Okla.

By The Associated Press
A tornado did minor damage Friday morning at Lawton, Okla., and nearby Fort Sill. Rain fell in the North Texas wheat country and some wheat fields were flattened by hail.

At least three buildings were damaged by the tornado which struck Lawton at 5:15 a.m.

Wind sucked out windows of several Lawton buildings. Some doors were pulled off. One sheet iron building was leveled, and a garage was torn down. The damage was confined to the southern portion of Lawton. Minor damage was reported at Gate No. 4 at Fort Sill. No injuries were reported.

Hail Damages Wheat
Three separate hailstorms hit Lawton, a wheat-growing center about 30 miles northwest of Wichita Falls. The first, which hit about 7 p.m. Thursday did the most damage. The 35-minute storm destroyed up to half of some wheat fields almost ready for harvest. Stones as large as an inch and a half in diameter also damaged automobile tops and roofs.

Hail also fell at Frederick, Lawton and Grandfield, Okla., also in the wheat belt. Hailstones as large as golf balls were reported at Frederick.

Heavy rains in the Red River area north of Elberta did some damage to grain and other crops.

Early Friday, a thunderstorm hit Dallas, bringing brief showers and wind in gusts up to 60 miles an hour. Another thundershower fell in Abilene.

The forecast called for more widely scattered thundershowers in North Central Texas and the Panhandle.

Seniors Take Off On Annual Outing

Sleepy-eyed, but ready for a full day of fun, 112 seniors of Midland High School left at 5 a.m. Friday for the annual senior trip to the Caribbean Caverns.

After a tour of the cavern in the morning and lunch, the seniors were to go swimming and boating in the afternoon at Caribbean Beach.

The group will leave at 9 p.m. for Midland, after a chuck wagon barbecue at 5:30 p.m.

Acting Department Head Becomes Chief Of Police

Harold Wallace, who has been acting head of the department the last month, was named Thursday afternoon as chief of police of the City of Midland.

Announcement of the appointment was made by City Manager W. H. Oswalt before members of the City Council, who unanimously approved the decision.

Wallace was named to the position, succeeding C. R. (Rube) Hemmingsway, who resigned a month ago under fire, one year and two weeks after joining the police department as a patrolman.

A short time later, he was named the department's first full-time detective and became acting chief when Hemmingsway resigned following a City Hall fracas, which also brought the resignation of Judge Fred Hartman of Corporation Court.

Oswalt said he was pleased with developments within the department during the last month and that "any skepticism I may have had about Mr. Wallace's abilities to handle the job has been overcome."

Wallace, the father of three boys, entered police work in 1942 as a special investigator for the Lone Star Ordnance Works at Texarkana. In 1946, before entering the Navy, he was chief-deputy sheriff of Clarksville in Red River County. He returned to that post after the war and then was in business in Clarksville before coming to Midland.

INTERRUPTED—FBI agents interrupted Howard Hildebrandt, top left, former detective, and red-haired night club singer Gloria Dale on a spending spree in New York, and arrested them in connection with a $100,000 robbery at the Quonset Point, R. I., Naval Air Station. Also arrested was Robert LaPlante. The men are charged with robbery on a government reservation and Miss Dale was held as a material witness.

Changing Mind Costs $250, Three Months Of Freedom

It cost Silvester Mora $250 cash and three months of freedom to change his mind.

Mora was arrested March 26 and charged with aggravated assault in connection with the stabbing of another Latin American in a beer tavern.

When brought before County Judge Clifford C. Keith he pleaded guilty and was fined $150 plus a 90-day jail sentence.

He subsequently withdrew the guilty plea, however, and demanded a jury trial.

Thursday, a County Court jury heard his story as well as the country's case presented by County Attorney Reagan Legg.

The jury deliberated, decided Mora was guilty and fixed his punishment at a $400 fine and a six-month jail sentence.

Crisis In Aviation Mounts Despite Oil Strike Easing

DENVER—(P)—Even though a strike of oil industry pipe line and refinery workers neared an end Friday, shortage of aviation gasoline became more serious.

Commercial air lines announced drastic reductions in flights. Airlines asked Secretary of the Interior Chapman to decontrol aviation fuel in view of the spreading contract settlements. There was no immediate government reply.

Earlier, Chapman said restrictions on aviation fuel would have to continue for some time, at least until June 3.

American Airlines cancelled 42 flights Thursday. On Saturday, it plans to cancel from 104 to 146 other flights.

C. R. Smith, president, said that unless the PAD order is modified, other flights might be cancelled Sunday, reducing the line's national service by 75 per cent.

The suspensions will knock out all service at Miami, drop 38 flights in and out of Chicago and four in the Philadelphia area.

Pan American Airways dropped eight more regular fare flights to London, Paris and Frankfurt Thursday.

Other flights cancelled involved service to Bermuda, Hong Kong, Beirut, Helsinki and London.

United Air Lines reports it has not cancelled any DC-6 flights, but has reduced mileage affecting only twin-engine, all cargo, coach and charter flights.

New Cancellations Will Not Reduce Air Service Here

Woody Campbell, station manager for American Airlines here, said Friday that a t h a t effective Saturday, American will discontinue 104 flights as a result of gasoline shortage due to the current oil strike.

"Sunday, unless the PAD order is modified, 75 per cent of American's nationwide service will be cancelled," Campbell stated.

Midland already has lost two AA flights, but Campbell said the Saturday order does not affect the two remaining flights. He does not know what Sunday may bring.

Boatner Starts Task Of Splitting Up Reds

KOJE ISLAND, KOREA — (P)—Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner Friday prepared to split the Communist prisoner-of-war population of this riot-torn United Nations prison camp into smaller groups.

U. S. tanks converted to bulldozers cleared ground for new barbed-wire-enclosed compounds for the 80,000 North Korean and Chinese Communist POWs.

Scientist 'X' Is Indicted For Perjury

WASHINGTON — (P)—Joseph W. Weinberg, a scientist who helped develop the atomic bomb, was indicted Friday on charges he lied when he denied under oath to a congressional committee that he had been a member of the Communist Party.

Weinberg is the man who was long described only as "Scientist X" by the House Un-American Activities Committee during an investigation of atomic spying.

Friday's perjury indictment, returned by a federal grand jury here, is based on testimony Weinberg gave to the House committee.

Weinberg figured prominently in the committee's investigation of spying at the wartime University of California Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley.

In the early stages of its investigation, the committee referred to Weinberg merely as "Scientist X," but later identified him and called him a witness.

The indictment is based on Weinberg's appearance before the committee May 25, 1949.

Legion Auxiliary Will Conduct Poppy Sale Here Saturday

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Midland, the annual observance being sponsored by the Midland Chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Midlanders will observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in honor of the nation's war dead and by making contributions for the welfare of war's living victims, the disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

Auxiliary representatives will be out bright and early in downtown Midland to pin the bright red poppies, made by disabled veterans at Legion, Texas, on the coats, shirts and blouses of as many persons as possible. The sale will continue throughout the day.

Mrs. Alvyn Sturges, poppy chairman, is in charge of poppy distribution here. All the workers will be unpaid volunteers.

No price will be asked for the poppies, but contributions to the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the Auxiliary will be received.

Mayor Perry Pickett has proclaimed Saturday as Poppy Day in Midland, calling upon citizens to observe the day by the wearing of the memorial poppy.

Solons May Seek Officers' Scalps In Kojie Incidents

WASHINGTON — (P)—Unless new facts develop about the incidents at the Kojie Island camp for Red prisoners of war, Senator Bridges (R-NH) said Friday, some U. S. officers should be demoted.

An official report on the capture and release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, former commander on Kojie Island, now in the hands of the Communists. The report is from the Tokyo headquarters of Gen. Mark Clark, new Far East military boss.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), as acting chairman, called a special session of the Senate Armed Services committee to examine the report Friday afternoon. He termed the Kojie incidents "a fiasco."

SEATTLE, WASH.—(P)—United Nations warplanes smashed a huge industrial complex southwest of Pyongyang Friday in the culmination of what the Air Force called the greatest saturation bombing attack of the Korean war.

The attack near the North Korean capital began Thursday morning and ended at 4 p.m. Friday. Almost 800 fighter-bomber sorties were flown against the target.

Burned and blasted in the assault were a Communist hand grenade arsenal, the surface works of a coal mine, storehouses and almost a half-mile of machine shops and warehouses. They were along the north bank of the Taedong River between Pyongyang and its port city, Chinnampo.

Rain squalls sweeping down from Manchuria blotted out the target area late Friday afternoon.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

BONN, GERMANY — (P)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson arrived Friday to sign the West German peace contract. He also will confer with the British and French foreign secretaries and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

WASHINGTON — (P)—Senator Morse (R-Ore) said Friday the government "must break the back of a union" if its members refuse to work under government seizure of a plant for national security reasons.

WASHINGTON — (P)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said Friday the Communists have now reached a point where their propagandists are reacting "desperately, furiously to the growing strength and determination of the free world."

FONTAINEBLEAU, FRANCE — (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, his voice heavy with emotion, bade farewell Friday to the officers and men of NATO's Central Sector Command, which he termed the "key field headquarters in the defense of Europe."

Texan Raps Arms Negligence In Plea For Aid To Allies

WASHINGTON — (P)—Speaker Rayburn told the House Friday, "We have lost air superiority to Russia and 'The margin of our atomic superiority' is daily disappearing."

He said clogged American war production lines resulted from "criminal negligence" which should be investigated.

Rayburn left the speaker's chair to deliver one of his rare speeches in support of a $6,889,100,000 foreign aid program for next year, which the House is considering.

The Texas Democrat attacked opposition demands for foreign aid cuts up to one billion dollars and opposed a partisan approach to the bill. This "is not election year in Soviet Russia," he said in his prepared speech.

"Every time we reduce the defense program of our Allies, by so much we reduce our security," Rayburn said.

"If the price of freedom is eating hockeys and molasses, I'm for that," Rayburn said.

At another point he said the price of freedom has always been high, "but the price of defeat is death and slavery."

The speaker, mentioned as a possible Democratic presidential candidate, said:

"I'd rather see my party go down in defeat and never arise if it should attempt to deceive the American people by holding out to them false promises of a reduction of their burdens based upon the false promise that this government has done, and is doing, all that it can do to assure the security of the nation."

Rayburn referred to testimony of Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, that certain types of ammunition had been rationed because of production shortages. This subsequently has been denied, most recently by General Ridgway.

The speaker said it is "outrageous" that "we can't supply our soldiers with adequate ammunition."

"It is one thing for a man to fight with a fighting chance for his life. But it is quite another for him to have his throat cut without a chance because of a 'clogged production line'."

'Criminal Negligence'
"I don't know who is responsible for this bit of criminal negligence. But we ought to find out quickly."

Rayburn said it was a relief to learn from Gen. Matthew Ridgway's speech to the joint session of Congress Thursday that the military situation in Korea is satisfactory. Ridgway also said previously there was no shortage of ammunition for the United Nations forces.

Probably the most dramatic idea is to make movies, to preserve forever those utterly precious motions and expressions of Babyhood. But if you would start with the price of a couple of fine steaks, then get yourself a simple little box-flash camera and you can't miss. These inexpensive little jobs are so easy to use, we'll bet that every picture will be a winner.

A Curious Paradox

Officially the British government still recognizes Red China. But a truer index of British-Chinese relations is the action of Britain's business interests in abandoning their huge investments in Communist-held mainland areas.

By this move British corporations are tossing to the winds a sum variously estimated at from $850,000,000 to $1,400,000,000, which is represented by factories, docks, warehouses, shipyards, hotels and other establishments.

They are giving up because under Mao Tse Tung's Red regime they have been hounded by fines, special taxes, and the necessity of paying full wages to their Chinese employees even though their business has been at a virtual standstill for long months.

Whereas these firms once used 10,000 Britishers, the total is down to 120, and these now wish to get out. In short, British business managers merely wish to recognize a fact. Their business substantially has been killed and they have been subjected to intolerable burdens and interference. There is no sane reason to hang on.

To a proud trading nation, a country fabled for its overseas enterprise, decisions of this kind are extremely hard. Already Britain's trading empire has shrunk almost beyond the worst imaginings of a decade ago. Now it formally is accepting another shrinking of its effective economic orbit.

Since the Reds' harassment of British business in China has been deliberate, it naturally must be concluded this is the result Mao seeks. He is getting rid of British trade influence in his territory.

We shall see hereafter what advantage this brings to the Chinese. On the basis of performance to date, we may be forgiven for doubting the gains. To put Britain's sizable enterprises into Red Chinese hands will be pretty much like turning over the management of General Motors' central office to the overnight clean-up squad.

It is a curious paradox that despite these uncomfortable realities British policy still calls for recognition of Mao.

Theoretically there may be sound international law in support of accepting a regime which has full control of the area it rules. But in practice British recognition has been a fiasco. The British diplomatic representative at Peking has been snubbed steadily since his arrival more than two years ago.

Obviously the policy has no advantage and has degenerated into an empty formula. Winston Churchill's government might be moved to cancel it out were it not for Labor Party and other opposition. The opponents seem to argue that any gesture of conciliation toward China is a hopeful thing, even if it produces nothing.

Perhaps it can be said most accurately that Britain recognizes China but China does not recognize the British. How long this one-sided display of international good intentions can sensibly continue is hard to guess. But the precipitate withdrawal of British business is the tip-off on the way things really are.

Strange World We Live In Nowadays

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Secret Chinese cable involves Congressman Judd; Judd interceded for General Wedemeyer; Potato puzzle shows need for price supports.

WASHINGTON — For months able Congressman Frank Karsten of Missouri has been sitting on various congressional proposals to investigate the China Lobby. He has been authorized by his committee chairman, Congressman William Dawson of Chicago, to proceed with a probe of mis-expenditure of U. S. funds sent to China, and various material along this line has reached his hands. However, Karsten hasn't moved and some people are wondering why.

Here is a secret Chinese cable which may give the answer. It indicates that in any probe of the China Lobby, other congressmen would be involved, and members of Congress have an unwritten rule against embarrassing a fellow member of the "club."

The cable dated March 1, 1951, was sent to Chiang Kai-Shek from his military attaché in Washington, Gen. Fee Tung-Kan, and involves Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota. It indicates first, how American politics have been mixed up in Chiang's affairs; second, how changeable Chiang sometimes has been about different American leaders.

The cable reads: "Yesterday your humble subordinate called upon Congressman Judd to deliver your oral message. Judd requested me in turn to cable the following message to you: 'Last year Congressman Judd cabled General MacArthur persuading him to appoint General Wedemeyer to go to Formosa to assist us. However, General MacArthur, after his visit to Formosa, discovered that we were utterly disgusted with General Wedemeyer and intended not to accept him. Therefore, the proposal made by Judd ended without action. Now, Judd is trying to convince us to forward a secret message to General MacArthur expressing our intention of welcoming General Wedemeyer.'

Interesting Angles
One significant question raised by this cable was whether Congressman Judd was violating the Logan Act by trying to get certain U. S. officials appointed to foreign posts.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
Very few part score contracts develop exciting situations. It may be difficult to make seven or eight tricks, but difficulty and excitement are not necessarily the same.

In today's hand, however, I think we have the exception—an exciting hand played at only two clubs. The end situation is very unusual and I suspect that most players will not force it even though they can see all of the cards.

When North opened the bidding with one spade, South toyed with the idea of raising to two spades. He finally decided that his hand was too strong for a simple raise; and he therefore temporized by bidding his long suit. North was glad to pass since he had made a very doubtful opening bid.

West opened the king of hearts and continued with the ace. After some hesitation, West then shifted to a trump.

Declarer played a low trump from dummy, and East won with the queen of clubs. East then returned a low trump to dummy's ace. Declarer now tried the diamond finesse and was somewhat relieved when the queen of diamonds held. He next cashed the ace of diamonds, hoping that the king would drop.

When this hope failed, he cashed the queen of hearts and led the jack of clubs.
East won with the king of clubs and had to return his last trump. (A diamond return would have established a diamond in dummy, with the ace of spades as the entry to it; and a spade return would make the play of that suit easy for South.)

When East returned his last trump declarer had three spades and a trump in his own hand and had to save only four cards in dummy. Which four cards should he save in the dummy to win three of the last four tricks?

South saved two spades and two diamonds in the dummy. He next led a low spade to dummy's ace and returned the jack of diamonds. East had to cover with the king (since otherwise South would discard), whereupon South ruffed.

Declarer now led a spade, and East was forced to win with the king of spades. East now had to lead a diamond to dummy's ten, thus giving declarer his eighth trick.

The outcome, 1-SH8RU, UetaoinUU

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South Pass
1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass
N. T. Pass
You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-7-3-2, Hearts 7-3, Diamonds K-Q-8-7-5, Club 2. What do you do?
A—Bid two diamonds. You can not afford to make a forcing bid since North has shown a minimum opening bid. If the hand is a misfit, you don't want to get too high. Nevertheless, with your unbalanced distribution you should avoid a no-trump contract.

"Are you sure she wouldn't be happier—if I were gone?"
"If you go like this, she'll be tortured by a sense of failure and guilt all the rest of her life."

LAWRENCE looked into Basil's eyes for what seemed a long time. Actually it must have been no more than 30 seconds. Lawrence sighed and closed his eyes. "Clever. The one thing—that would make me go on."

The eyes opened again. "What if I did this myself?"
"I didn't hear a word of that," lied Basil as Perditia came back with mustard and water.

She obeyed.
Lawrence sipped coffee slowly. His lips became less blue. "Now you must walk," said Basil.
"Walk?" Lawrence blinked drowsily.
"I'll hold you up, but you must make the effort yourself."
"I'm sleepy."
"That is why you must walk."
LAWRENCE leaned heavily on Basil, shuffled over to the window, back to the bed.
Perditia watched, eyes wide, tearless, bright.
"Can't I help?"
Basil looked at her. "You're not strong enough. Physically or mentally. Better leave us."
She went out. With a sigh, Lawrence sat on the edge of the bed. "You can't rest yet."
"I'm so tired."
Basil slapped his face smartly. Astonishment opened Lawrence's eyes. Anger brought him to his feet. Then he smiled. "Thank you."
They began to walk again.
"Where is your bottle of codeine pills?" Basil asked him.
"The bathroom."
Lawrence stumbled as they crossed the bedroom. In the bathroom, he stretched a shaking hand toward a bottle on a glass shelf. The bottle crashed to the tiled floor, splintered in shards. Lawrence stumbled again, caught the washstand to steady himself, tripping the pills.

Kefauver Builds Up Record In Taking Stand On All Questions

By PETER EIDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In the first 100 days of his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee visited in 25 states, entered 10 primaries, made 30 major addresses and at least 300 whistle-stop talks, had been on radio or TV once or twice a day and had shaken 117,459 hands—or some such number. Anyway, slowly but steadily the tall Tennessean has been building up a record of where he stands on every single issue.

To Washington political writers this is somewhat remarkable because they never considered him wired for sound. Even when his Senate crime investigation was going full tilt, dragging information out of him always was tough. He always was soft-spoken and shy to the point of seeming embarrassed during an interview.

This has caused some doubts about what kind of a President he might make. He has had little or no executive experience.

When congressional votes have been counted, Kefauver usually has been found on the side of the people—for progressive and liberal reform rather than reaction.

He has not voted the straight New Deal Democratic line. He has changed his mind on some issues. Kefauver's opponents say this is a sign of weakness. His supporters say it proves that where the senator has found himself in the wrong, he has admitted it.

Thus while Senator Kefauver first voted against the Taft-Hartley act, he now says he would not repeal it, but would amend it to limit use of injunctions and modify the flat closed-shop ban.

Separately, Kefauver has been openly critical of President Truman for his seizure of the steel mills to prevent a strike.

At Odds With Truman
The senator also has differed with the President on the Administration's Brannan farm plan. Kefauver supports the farm price support program, however, and he favors a higher parity level to include the farmer's own labor in computing production costs.

Kefauver has likewise opposed compulsory health insurance. But he is in favor of more federal aid for hospital construction and the training of more doctors. He is for more federal aid to general education, too.

In this connection, Kefauver favors Senator Lister Hill's bill to allocate oil royalties from federally-owned tidelands for education. Senator Kefauver was absent when the last Senate vote was taken on returning tidelands to state ownership. If present he would have voted for federal ownership.

The two issues on which Senator Kefauver was hardest hit by Senator Richard Russell during the Florida

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In the first 100 days of his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee visited in 25 states, entered 10 primaries, made 30 major addresses and at least 300 whistle-stop talks, had been on radio or TV once or twice a day and had shaken 117,459 hands—or some such number. Anyway, slowly but steadily the tall Tennessean has been building up a record of where he stands on every single issue.

To Washington political writers this is somewhat remarkable because they never considered him wired for sound. Even when his Senate crime investigation was going full tilt, dragging information out of him always was tough. He always was soft-spoken and shy to the point of seeming embarrassed during an interview.

This has caused some doubts about what kind of a President he might make. He has had little or no executive experience.

When congressional votes have been counted, Kefauver usually has been found on the side of the people—for progressive and liberal reform rather than reaction.

He has not voted the straight New Deal Democratic line. He has changed his mind on some issues. Kefauver's opponents say this is a sign of weakness. His supporters say it proves that where the senator has found himself in the wrong, he has admitted it.

Thus while Senator Kefauver first voted against the Taft-Hartley act, he now says he would not repeal it, but would amend it to limit use of injunctions and modify the flat closed-shop ban.

Separately, Kefauver has been openly critical of President Truman for his seizure of the steel mills to prevent a strike.

At Odds With Truman
The senator also has differed with the President on the Administration's Brannan farm plan. Kefauver supports the farm price support program, however, and he favors a higher parity level to include the farmer's own labor in computing production costs.

Kefauver has likewise opposed compulsory health insurance. But he is in favor of more federal aid for hospital construction and the training of more doctors. He is for more federal aid to general education, too.

In this connection, Kefauver favors Senator Lister Hill's bill to allocate oil royalties from federally-owned tidelands for education. Senator Kefauver was absent when the last Senate vote was taken on returning tidelands to state ownership. If present he would have voted for federal ownership.

The two issues on which Senator Kefauver was hardest hit by Senator Richard Russell during the Florida strong coffee.

Basil took a hypocritical cut of his bag. After a moment Lawrence's eyelids fluttered. Basil put an arm around his shoulders and pulled him up in the bed. "You must make an effort. You must keep awake."
Lawrence looked at Basil with bleared eyes. "Why?"
"For your daughter's sake."
"Are you sure she wouldn't be happier—if I were gone?"
"If you go like this, she'll be tortured by a sense of failure and guilt all the rest of her life."

LAWRENCE looked into Basil's eyes for what seemed a long time. Actually it must have been no more than 30 seconds. Lawrence sighed and closed his eyes. "Clever. The one thing—that would make me go on."
"Of course, it takes more courage to live than die," answered Basil. "But you have courage."
The eyes opened again. "What if I did this myself?"
"I didn't hear a word of that," lied Basil as Perditia came back with mustard and water.
Lawrence began to mutter incoherently to himself. "Should be glad... dispatch himself... further suffering... free self... prison... rack... torture... Perditia. The lost one. Lost. Wandering in Limbo. All supposed to know each other. Rosamund, Rosamund. Rose of the World. 'Belle Dame Sans Merci.' No. Not Keats. Coleridge."

"Is Death that woman's mate? Her lips were red, her looks were free, Her locks were yellow as gold. Her skin was white as leprosy. The Nightmare-Life-in-Death was she."

Horror filled Perditia's eyes. She whispered, "His mind... wandering..."

For a moment, Basil thought he was too late. Then exploring fingertips found a thread of pulse. Perditia sobbed. "He seemed all right when we left Dr. Zimmer's, but..."
"Later. Bring me dry mustard, lukewarm water. Start a pot of strong coffee."

Basil looked at her keenly. "I wonder..."
After the second vomiting, Basil sent Perditia for the coffee. "Take a cup yourself," he told her. "You look ghastly."
"Never mind me."
"Doctor's orders. I can't have you collapsing while I'm busy with him."
She obeyed.
Lawrence sipped coffee slowly. His lips became less blue. "Now you must walk," said Basil.
"Walk?" Lawrence blinked drowsily.
"I'll hold you up, but you must make the effort yourself."
"I'm sleepy."
"That is why you must walk."
LAWRENCE leaned heavily on Basil, shuffled over to the window, back to the bed.
Perditia watched, eyes wide, tearless, bright.
"Can't I help?"
Basil looked at her. "You're not strong enough. Physically or mentally. Better leave us."
She went out. With a sigh, Lawrence sat on the edge of the bed. "You can't rest yet."
"I'm so tired."
Basil slapped his face smartly. Astonishment opened Lawrence's eyes. Anger brought him to his feet. Then he smiled. "Thank you."
They began to walk again.
"Where is your bottle of codeine pills?" Basil asked him.
"The bathroom."
Lawrence stumbled as they crossed the bedroom. In the bathroom, he stretched a shaking hand toward a bottle on a glass shelf. The bottle crashed to the tiled floor, splintered in shards. Lawrence stumbled again, caught the washstand to steady himself, tripping the pills.

Taft Bloc Claims Control Of Vital Party Committee

WASHINGTON—(P)—Backers of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio Friday claimed they will control the party machinery through which delegate contests must pass before reaching the floor of the presidential nominating convention.

Rep. B. Carroll Reece, Southern manager for Taft, told a reporter surveying the Ohio senator's supporters will hold the majority vote in more than half of the 53 state and territorial delegations to the convention opening in Chicago July 7.

Reds Finally Agree To Three-Day Break In Armistice Talks

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—Red delegates Friday agreed to a three-day recess in the tightly deadlocked Korea armistice talks after the Allies' new chief delegate told them "our stand is unshakable—we will make no further concessions."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, who has been demanding daily meetings at Panmunjon, agreed to the recess. But he demanded that Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., new senior UN delegate, set the time of resuming the talks.

Harrison told newsmen he made the recess short "because we want to get an armistice."

The next plenary session—the sixty-seventh since negotiations began more than 10 months ago—will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

An hour after the meeting adjourned, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, former chief Allied delegate, left the United Nations Command advance camp here. He expressed confidence "an equitable and honorable armistice" will be achieved.

Joy will become superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Report Completed On POW Rioting

TOKYO—(P)—A military board here has completed a review of the U. S. Eighth Army report on prisoner of war riots on Koje Island and the seizure of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Red POWs.

A spokesman for Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations commander in the Far East, said the report had been forwarded to the Department of Army in Washington. It was accompanied by a recommendation from Clark.

There was no indication what Clark recommended or whether the reviewing board, headed by Maj. Gen. N. Bryan, had made any changes in the Eighth Army report, submitted by Gen. James A. Van Fleet.

New Tactics Enable MIG's To Hurt U. S. Jets, Declares Ace

TOKYO—(P)—America's newest jet ace said Friday the Communist MIG-15's recently began to use a new foul weather defense tactic that has proved effective against U. S. Sabre jets and bombers.

Col. Harrison R. Thynge, commander of the Fourth Fighter Interceptor Wing, said the fast Russian-made MIG's are controlled by radar observers on the ground and fly out of heavy overcasts to strike Allied planes.

Red pilots only recently began flying in bad weather, he added. The colonel told a news conference MIG pilots no longer are trainees.

"They are using their best pilots in brand-new planes," he declared. Asked if some MIG's are manned by Russian pilots, Thynge replied:

"When we come up against a real hot boy up there, we get the impression he's a Russian. You see some funny things up there. Sometimes we get close enough to the enemy cockpits to notice differences in size and types of clothing. Sometimes we'll be shooting at one guy and the guy on his right won't do anything about it to help him. They must have difficulty in transmitting instructions—there must be a language barrier."

"Some of the pilots may be Russians and possibly some of the boys are Polish or German—fighting for the pay. We have heard Russian used in exchanges between pilots—that's a known fact."

"We know we are getting their best and that's exactly what we want to do," said the 34-year-old pilot from Pittsfield, N. H. He shot down eight German planes in the World War II and has destroyed five MIG's and damaged five in Korea.

13 Persons Hurt In Kansas Tornado

LAWRENCE, KAN.—(P)—A tornado dipped into Lawrence Thursday and then swept eastward uprooting trees and wrecking farm buildings.

At least 13 persons were injured, none seriously.

The twister caused little damage in this Eastern Kansas university town. Most of the damage was in rural areas between here and Kansas City, 25 miles to the east.

The tornado winds dissipated in rain and hail north and south of Kansas City.

Delegate Struggle Shifts To Northwest, Deep South

By The Associated Press

The Northwest and the Deep South were the arenas Friday for the Taft-Eisenhower and Kefauver-Harriman-Russell jousts for presidential nominating votes.

At Spokane, Washington Republicans convened a two-day session at which the state's 24-vote delegation will be chosen. Gen Dwight Eisenhower had the edge in advance figuring over Senator Robert Taft of Ohio.

At Baton Rouge, Louisiana Democrats met in convention to name a 20-vote delegation to the party's national convention. Louisiana was one of four Southern states which went States' Rights Democrat in 1948.

The Seattle representatives apparently held the balance of power in Washington. They have agreed to vote as a unit and for Eisenhower at Spokane, where they comprise almost one-third of the state delegation. Taft forces are sniping at this agreement as undemocratic and improper.

Russell Gets Boost
Senator Russell of Georgia got a boost from North Carolina Thursday in his quest for the Democratic nomination. Russell forces won full endorsement for him at a Raleigh convention.

Although the 32-vote delegation was not instructed on how to ballot at the party's July 21 nominating convention in Chicago, a poll showed 16 1/2 votes favored Russell.

OPS Officers File 60 Potato Cases

WASHINGTON—(P)—More than 60 court actions in 13 states have resulted from the government's six-week-old drive to stamp out illegal dealing in white potatoes. The Office of Price Stabilization said Thursday.

Ohio, with 22 cases, leads in alleged violations of OPS regulations. Lambert O'Malley, acting price enforcement director, said, New York is second with 10 cases.

Texas has two and Oklahoma has four cases, he added.

O'Malley said the charges involved both sales at over-ceiling prices and tie-in sales.

Report Shows Gain In Plane Casualties

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Civil Aeronautics Board reports 326 persons were killed and 51 seriously hurt in 114 airplane accidents involving U. S. airlines last year.

By comparison, 213 were killed and 19 seriously hurt in 101 accidents in 1950.

The board gave the figures Thursday in its annual summary of accidents. The report included both domestic scheduled lines and the irregular airlines.

It said Alaskan air carriers had 19 accidents, four of them resulting in 16 deaths.

It gives this old familiar sign new meaning

WOULD you be interested in getting one gallon free with each tankful of gasoline you buy?

Then we can tell you this: It will certainly be worth your while to read this brief story of Buick's new Airpower carburetor.

Truth is—a skillful driver can just about double the bonus we mention, if he makes the most of what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

The reason you can get such a bonus traces to a pair of simple facts:

- (1) It's a mixture of gasoline and air that gives you power.
- (2) Buick engineers have come up with a four-barrel automatic carburetor that lets you use more gallons of air per gallon of fuel.

Most of the time, only two of these barrels are needed—and they feed such a thrifty mixture that you use less gasoline at 40 mph than you'd formerly use at 30.

But—when you want a quick burst of eager power—you can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed—and come up with the highest horsepower that Buick's Fireball 8 Engine ever delivered.

Of course, any man who's buying a car as fine as a ROADMASTER wants a lot more than extra miles from a tankful of gas.

He wants the distinction of extra room, extra comfort, richer fabrics and all the other refinements that make a car truly fine.

He wants to ride with solid security, confident poise and lordly silence.

And, while he may not admit it, he yearns for a car that's full of fun.

All this, we promise you, and more will be yours when you take the responsive wheel of a ROADMASTER.

How about doing that—soon?

from sleeping uncovered in the cold. Now Uncle Bunkum had come for a little vacation-visit with Daddy Ringtail and the other folks at the monkey house. Poor Uncle Bunkum. How he hobbled around on a crutch from the ache of the rheumatism he thought he had.

"Hi!" laughed Uncle Bunkum. "I can't get around very fast, you know. Nossir, I can't go for the picnic by the Whispering River. Too much rheumatism. Go on without me, you folks."

But Daddy Ringtail answered that Uncle Bunkum simply had to go. Why, the picnic really was all for Uncle Bunkum to make him happy. Many folks were invited—the Hufflepuffs, and Old MacDonald, and Dr. Shoobug too, if he could get away long enough from his business of looking after sick folks.

Daddy Ringtail said a happy day and Uncle Bunkum said a happy day, but then Uncle Bunkum said he couldn't be going to the river for the picnic. No sir. "I have rheumatism," Uncle Bunkum said.

"Mmmmm," said Dr. Shoobug. I think maybe he was about to say some doctor-words about rheumatism, and what to do about it if someone had it, but Uncle Bunkum didn't really have it, remember.

Through the air and from down by the river came a loud cry of "Uncle Bunkum! Daddy Ringtail! Dr. Shoobug! Scrambled coconut picnic sandwiches! Scrambled coconut picnic sandwiches! Everybody come and get them!" It was Mother

Ringtail calling. Uncle Bunkum dropped his crutch. He sniffed at the air. He shouted: "Scrambled coconut picnic sandwiches! Here I go!" Away he ran like the wind. Daddy Ringtail and Dr. Shoobug ran with him. Yes, because no one ever ought to be late for supper, especially a supper of scrambled coconut picnic sandwiches. Happy day! Mildand Pitcher Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal has been sold conditionally to Brownsville of the class B Gulf Coast League. Gabby will report to the club Sunday.

Blumenthal had been suspended by Longhorn League officials recently after he had refused to report to the Statesboro Club of the Georgia State League after having been optioned there by the Midland Indians.

A change of scenery may do Blumenthal good. He is a good pitcher but simply failed to hit his stride in early games with the Indians.

Three still is no definite word as to just when Scooter Hughes will join the Indians.

Officials of the club have wired Scooter for information about when he can report, but so far—no reply.

Bob Slaybough, the 20-year-old St. Louis Cardinal prospect who lost the sight of one eye when struck in the face by a line drive two months ago, is ready to start pitching again.

The hot young prospect has had his quota of hard luck, what with rheumatic fever preventing him from competing on prep and college teams. . . . If he makes the grade he will set no record in pro circles, however. . . . One of the top performers in the Texas League is Houston's Octavio Rubert, who also has sight in but one eye. . . .

Maybe it's the heat. At any rate, Big Spring Manager Pat Stacey now seems to have his Cubans working under a full head of steam.

The Broncs have won their last four games, storming out of the league cellar with a ferocity which is making other teams in the league cast an apprehensive eye Stacey's way.

The secret of Big Spring's win streak seems to be good pitching. In beating a fading Vernon nine Thursday night, Bert Estrada sacked up his fourth win of the season against no losses.

It ain't (if you'll pardon our grammar) exactly baseball, but pert Polly Riley, one of America's better women golfers, doesn't think she'd have much chance if she had to play against the men.

Before sailing for Britain with the United States Curtis Cup team recently, the little Fort Worth girl got into the male vs female debate stirred up this Spring by Fred Corcoran, head of the women's PGA.

Polly said she would like to see that projected match between Babe Didrikzen Zaharias and Billy Maxwell, a match incidentally which originally had been set for Odessa.

"It would be interesting and Babe might win if she had a very good day and Maxwell had a bad one. But day in and day out I don't think 'a girl' would have a chance."

By the time Reporter-Telegram sports fans read this issue of Diamond Dust, we'll be well on our way toward Houston and a vacation.

Necks, Cats, Eagles Win; Buffs, Padres Split Pair

By The Associated Press

Whoever started that superstition that the seventh inning stretch was good luck for your team didn't know beans about the Texas League. You've got to be ahead earlier than that in this pitcher's loop—or you lose.

At least that's what the winners in four of the five games Thursday night proved. For instance: Besumant blanked Shreveport for six innings and went on to win, 8-2, and add a half-game margin to their first place cushion. Fort Worth regained the runner-up position, winning, 2-0, and spicing their runs in the second while Jim Meitton blanked Tulsa all the way. Dallas didn't score in any inning, so Oklahoma City, with Hugh King administering four-hit hurling, took a 5-0 decision. And in the only game that saw a loser get ahead, Houston took a 1-0 lead in the fourth only to bow, 2-1, to San Antonio in a first game of a doubleheader.

Al Papp then pitched Houston to a 12-3 nightcap victory. The Missions were able to muster runs only in the seventh and ninth frames.

The Fort Worth-Tulsa card included two games originally, but rain washed out the second game in the fourth inning, the Cats ahead 3-2.

Oilers Hike Lead In Win Over Braves

ODESSA —(P)— A big seven run first inning which featured a grand slam home run by Leo Eastham put the Odessa Oilers well on their way to victory here Thursday night as the Odessa crew stopped the Sweetwater Braves, 12-3, to move further into the Longhorn lead.

It was a case of wild pitchers that gave Odessa the big first inning lead. Orlando Rodriguez started on the hill for the Braves but couldn't find the plate, walking three straight before delivering a Gopher pitcher to Eastham, who parked it over the right field wall some 360 feet away.

Dean Higgins then was ushered in, but could do no better walking the next three hitters before Oli Grajeda came on to stop the first inning outburst, but only after Felix Castro doubled with the bases loaded.

Grajeda finished the game for the Braves, giving up 11 more runs on 11 base hits. Rodriguez, however, was charged with the loss.

For Odessa it was Wes Ortiz who started on the hill and the slight right-hander went to the fourth inning before giving up any hits. Ortiz faltered in the seventh frame and Mike Lopez came on to finish up the contest. Ortiz gets the win, his third of the season against two losses.

Lobos Gain Notch On Leading Clovis

By The Associated Press

Lamesa's domination of Albuquerque jammed the Lobos a little closer to the lead Thursday night in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Lobos won their third straight from the Dukes, this time, 5-2, while Lubbock was giving the second-place club a boost by bouncing the leaders, Clovis' Pioneer.

14-4. Clovis now is ahead by a game and a half.

In the other encounters, collar-bound Amarillo and Borger both lost. Abilene snapped a five-game losing streak with a 11-4 win over Amarillo.

And Jack Phillips' four-for-four night at the plate enabled Pampa to scorch Borger, 13-4. Phillips' hits included a homer and a double to assure Pitcher Max Molberg's fifth decision.

Black Indians Whip Paris Bombers, 8-2

The Midland Black Indians defeated the Paris, Texas, Bombers, 8-2, Thursday night in Indian Park here, with Johnny Williams hurling a no-hitter for the hosts.

T. A. Hall with two singles led the Midland batting attack. Abbott Mitchell was on the mound for Paris.

The same teams meet again at 8 p.m. Friday in Indian Park.

Joe Conrad, Ray Gafford Pace Golfers

FORT WORTH —(P)— A couple of Texans, Joe Conrad of San Antonio, the golfing collegian, and Raymond Gafford of Dallas, a veteran professional who plays only occasionally on the PGA tour, led the $200,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament into its second round Friday.

The Red-haired product of North Texas State, the school that's kingpin of college golf, and Gafford, lean pro of Northwood Club of Dallas where the National Open will be held next month, shot two-under-par 68 Thursday to top the field of 42 players by a stroke.

Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., veteran campaigner, had a 69. Bu Conrad, Gafford and Ford were the only shotmakers able to beat par over windy, rugged 7,035-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Big Shots Trail
Tommy Bolt of Durham, N. C., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso equalized par 70.

Otherwise, the big shots of the golf trail found the course tough to handle. Ben Hogan, the Texan who now registers out of Palm Springs, Calif., and three winners of the National Open championship, took a slumping 74 and complained that the greens were slow and he couldn't sink the putts. But Gafford and Conrad like the greens and their putting was excellent.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., the defending Colonial champion had a 72 and was in striking distance along with Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who also did 72. But a stroke better than they was Jerry Barber of Pasadena, Calif., a little-known pro, who had a 71.

Conrad is the first amateur ever to lead this select tournament.

The second round went out at noon Friday. The third round will be Saturday and the final Sunday.

Cards Edge Yanks By 13 To 12 Count

The Cards edged the Yankees, 13 to 12, in Thursday action in the South Little League, with Douglas Hampton getting a triple and three singles in four times at the plate to pace the winners' attack. Yippee Rankin also aided the Card cause with a homer and triple.

Gerald Cates was credited with the win and Herbie Paris was the loser. Cates got a triple and single in three times at bat.

Bratton, Flanagan Tangle Friday Night

NEW YORK —(P)— Johnny Bratton and Del Flanagan have been staging a battle of words all week. If they put as much fire in their punches Friday night there may be some unexpected fireworks at Madison Square Garden.

The two welterweights clash in an 8 p.m. 10-rounder which will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast from coast to coast.

Eddie Jacome Goes On Hill Friday Night

ROSWELL —(P)— The Roswell Rockets pummeled Joe Peraza for 18 hits here Thursday night to take an easy 12-3 win over the Midland Indians in the first of a three-game series.

Every man in the Roswell lineup hit and every man scored in the easy conquest of the visiting Indians. Roswell was trailing 3-2 in the fifth when they pushed across a pair of runs to take charge of the game. The Rockets scored steadily thereafter, picking up two runs in the sixth and three in each the seventh and eighth frames.

Midland held in check by the eight scattered hits given up by Andy Alonso, opened the scoring with two runs in the third inning. Tito Santiago led off with a single and Dempsey Albritton waited out a base on balls. Lorenzo forced Santiago at third. Albritton and Lorenzo scored on Julio de la Torre's long double down the right field foul line.

Peraza scored the Indians' last run of the night in the fourth inning when he led off with a single and moved to second on a walk to Woody Pennington. Santiago's single scored him.

Alonso was not in trouble after the fourth inning and worked smoothly in marking up his third win of the year.

The two teams will meet here again Friday night. Eddie Jacome is slated to carry the mound chores for Midland and Rookie Ron Peterson is expected to do the pitching for Roswell.

Brooks Hold Lead As Sens Gain On Tribe

By RALPH KODEN Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitchers sparked both on the mound and at bat in both leagues Thursday with National League hurlers stealing the show with four shutouts.

Curt Simmons, showing no signs of rust following his tour of Army duty, turned in the gem of the day. The lanky left-hander pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-0, three-hit triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Simmons fanned eight, walked five and aided his own cause by slamming a three-run, inside-the-park home run in the sixth inning to seal his third triumph and second straight shut-out.

Zeros were the order of the day at Boston, where the Chicago Cubs and Braves traded shutouts. Bob Rush blanked the Braves, 3-0, on four safeties in the opener and contributed to the attack by driving in a run on a single and double.

Warren Spahn turned the tables in the nightcap, scattering nine hits in hanging up a 5-0 victory. Home runs by Bob Thorpe and Sam Jethroe eased Spahn's load.

Lefty Monte Kennedy put in a strong bid for a regular, trick by pitching the New York Giants to a 6-0, four-hit victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Kennedy walked only one and fanned two in besting Gerry Staley, who was seeking his eighth triumph. Staley has lost two games, both at the hands of the Giants.

Rough Day in Brooklyn
Pitchers encountered a rough afternoon at Brooklyn, where the Dodgers came from behind to beat Cincinnati, 8-7, and protect their half-game lead over the Giants.

The Dodgers, fresh from their record-making, 15-run first inning against Cincinnati Wednesday night, tallied four runs in the eighth inning to wipe out a 7-4 deficit.

Mickey McDermott pitched and helped beat the Boston Red Sox to a 3-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians. McDermott singled in the ninth and slid home with the winning run when Johnny Pesky and Billy Goodman followed with singles.

The loss cut Cleveland's lead over the runner-up Washington Senators to two games. The Senators whipped the Browns, 4-2, in a night game at St. Louis. Home runs by Ed Yost and Mickey Vernon off former Senator Gene Beardon and a ninth-inning relief trick by Tom Ferriek helped Bob Porterfield to his fourth victory.

Rain washed out the game between the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox. Philadelphia and Detroit were idle.

Artesia Belts Fading San Angelo Nine, 6-5; Bauman Swals Homer

SAN ANGELO —(P)— The Artesia Drillers edged the San Angelo Colts, 6-5, here Tuesday night in a game featured by three home runs. Joe Bauman's fourth homer in 29 games for Artesia tallied what proved to be the two winning runs in the top of the ninth. Cotton Russell, coming in as a pinchhitter with two men on in the bottom of the ninth, slammed one over the right field fence to bring the Colts to 6 to 5 but reliever Ray Riley, after walking two men, retired the side and preserved the victory for Milton Marshall.

Through seven innings of play, the game was a tight pitcher's duel between Marshall and Bob Garza. The Colts holding a 2-1 lead on the strength of Ken Kowalk's solo roundtripper in the sixth.

The drillers broke the game open in the eighth inning when with one out, Garza hit Herb Harrow with a pitched ball and walked Bauman. Rudy Briner forced Bauman at second, Harrow moving to third. Three straight singles by Paul Halter, Pete Pichan and Jim Ackers tallied three runs and pushed the drillers into a 4-2 lead, a margin that was increased to 6 to 2 by Bauman's ninth inning homer.

The score:
Artesia 000 100 032—6 10 2
San Angelo 010 001 003—5 5 1
Marshall, Riley and Briner; Garza, Tinkler and Flores.

Ship Makes Rescue Dash With Oxygen To Save Baby's Life

LONDON—(AP)—The U. S. transport Washington reported Friday a tiny, premature baby saved from death by a sister ship's rescue dash with vitally needed oxygen still is in critical condition.

The Washington radioed U. S. Navy headquarters here it expects to reach Southampton Saturday morning.

The Navy ordered an ambulance to stand by the docks with an incubator.

The baby, Emily Rebecca Roselle, was born three months prematurely on the Washington four days ago. She weighed two pounds, three ounces at birth. Her mother, Mrs. Janet Roselle of Dallas, Texas, is enroute from America to England to join her husband, Sgt. Leland E. Roselle of the U. S. Air Force.

Makes 300-Mile Dash
The refrigerator ship Bluejacket made a 300-mile dash to rendezvous with the Washington Thursday night only a few hours before the transport's oxygen supply was due to run out.

The Bluejacket — operated, like the Washington, by the Navy-directed Military Sea Transport Service — put 350 cubic feet of oxygen aboard for the baby.

A U. S. Air Force B-29 air-sea rescue plane arrived on the scene a few hours later to drop a further supply by parachute.

The Washington advised the plane by signals that the oxygen delivered by the Bluejacket would be sufficient to see Emily through to Southampton.

JayCees Hear Talk On City Park Plans

City Councilman Ray Howard told the Midland JayCees at a Friday noon luncheon that the City Council will meet Monday with the County Commissioners Court to solicit the county's financial participation in a city park improvement program.

Howard said the county would be asked to "take over the West End park completely, while the city would undertake improvements of the Wadley tract."

The councilman said it would be much better for the proposed park improvements if the county joins with the city in bearing the expense. He indicated, however, the city will go ahead as funds will permit to improve parks, even if the county does not participate.

Reds Protest Iran Acceptance Of U. S. Military Assistance

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Soviet Union charged formally Friday that Iran's acceptance of American military aid violates the 1921 Soviet-Iranian treaty admitting Russian troops to Iran if that country's soil is used by foreign military forces hostile to the Soviets.

The Kremlin made its protest in a note delivered by Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky Thursday to the Iranian ambassador here. It accused Iran, a Russian neighbor on the south, of "cooperating with the U. S. government in the implementation of the latter's aggressive plans against the Soviet Union."

Observers consider it likely that, because of the Russian protest, Iran will reconsider her acceptance of the U. S. aid and, if she does not, the Soviets will follow up with another strong protest.

Senate Passes New Immigration Statute

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate, with few members present, Thursday night shouted approval of new immigration legislation.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), sponsor of the bill, told the Senate its 392 pages revising, unifying and adding to present immigration law were necessary to protect the American way of life.

Opponents of the measure, during a week of often bitter debate, called it harsh, unduly restrictive and similar to Nazi racial ideology.

The bill now goes to conference with the House, which passed a similar measure last month, 206 to 68. The Senate passed it on a voice vote.

Senators Lehman (D-Lib.-N.Y.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.), who led the opposition, said before passage they hope President Truman will veto the bill if it reaches him.

The bill as passed by the Senate includes these provisions:

1. It would retain the present immigrant quota system, based upon U. S. population makeup in 1920.

2. It would increase slightly the number of immigrants eligible for admission each year.

3. Naturalization laws would be revised.

4. Immigrants with needed skills would get preferential treatment.

5. Bars against Asiatics would be lifted, but strict limits would be imposed upon the number of Asiatics who may enter the country.

Army Returns Rail Operation To Owners

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Army will return full control and operation of the nation's railroads to their private owners Friday, Undersecretary Karl R. Bendetsen announced.

The action will end 21 months of Army possession, control and operation of the rail transportation systems. They were seized in August, 1950, by direction of President Truman, to avert a strike.

The issues finally were settled this week with acceptance of a peace plan by management and leaders of the three unions involved, representing engineers, firemen and conductors.

The Army said its field organization, which was established in the Summer of 1950 to administer and direct rail operations, will be dissolved as quickly as possible.

Army seizure of the rails never was more than a token operation.

Pact—

on approval of the terms by the union membership.

Contract Terms
The basic terms of the contract involve these things:

1. A shift from the 48-hour work week to one of 40 hours, with no change in pay, for those hired before Nov. 1, 1941.

2. A flat 10-cent-an-hour increase for workers hired after that date.

Those hired after the 1941 date were employed on the basis of a 40-hour week, receiving 40 hours pay.

3. Abandonment of the union shop among WU employees but establishment of what a mediation spokesman called an "agency shop."

4. Employees working 35 hours a week would get a flat $22-a-month increase.

5. Messengers would receive an increase of five cents an hour. WU workers would not have to join the union as heretofore. It was explained, but those who decline to become union members must pay dues.

Company spokesmen would not say how much rate increase would be asked of the Federal Communications Commission, but Allen said he understood the company would ask a flat 10 per cent boost.

Allen said the union "is in accord with the application and we offered our cooperation and support to the company's application for such a rate increase."

'Farraginous' Wins Spelling Bee Title For Doris Ann Hall

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Doris Ann Hall, 13, of Hudson, N. C., who refused to be discouraged by being spelled down last year, is the new National Spelling Bee champion.

She out-spelled the runner-up, Marjorie Pollard, also 13, of Graston, Pa., and 49 other state champions Thursday to win top place and first prize of $500 and a trip to New York.

It was a nip-and-tuck finish between the two, both of whom competed last year.

"Farraginous" was the word that finally tripped Marjorie in the thirty-eighth round.

Doris Ann misspelled "cicerone" with a final "I" under the contest rules, Marjorie would have won if she herself had spelled correctly that word and one more.

But she left out an "R" in "farraginous" and Doris Ann, spelling it correctly, went on successfully to "vignette" and the title.

The runner-up received $300.
