Deep Tests Set In North Howard Area

Two new deep field wells have been set for drilling in North Howard County.

Warren Petroleum Corp. and H. S. Moss of Abilene have already begun operations on the No. 2 Ellis Iden in the Oceanic-Pennsylvanian field 19 miles northwest of Big Spring. It is preparing to run 13⅜-inch casing at 400 feet.

Location for the project is 1,320 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of the northeast quarter of section 26-33-T&P. Rotary contract is to 8,500 feet.

In the Luther Southeast Siluro-Devonian field, Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. is to drill the No. 1-A L. H. Merworth.

Contracted to 10,300 feet, the well is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 22-32-t2n-T&P. That is about 15 miles north of Big Spring and on a 79.63-acre lease. Operations are to begin immediately.

GARZA LOCATIONS

Locations have been announced for two new tests in the Huntley-Glorieta field five miles northwest of Post in Garza County.

Seaboard will drill one as the No. 4 B. D. Huntley. Location is 1,923 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of section 12414, A-647, TTRR survey.

Bardwell & Moore of Levelland No. 1 Davies-Montgomery is 30 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 1216, TTRR survey and on a 7.3-acre lease.

Both these wells are to drill to 4,200 feet.

DRILLING REPORT

Phillips Petroleum No. 1 Quartz, West Borden County wildcat, has plugged back to 8,426 feet. Operator has begun swabbing on perforations in the Dean sand at 7,703-812 feet.

Sunray Oil Corp. No. 1 J. F. Criswell in Northeast Scurry County is at total depth of 7,230 feet in lime and preparing to drillstem test. Electric logs have been run.

Sun Oil No. 1 Medlock, Nolan prospector, is preparing to re-acidize after some swabbing. When the swab had been pulled one time the well kicked off and flowed for one hour, making five barrels of oil with a trace of acid water. The flow then died and operator swabbed three and one-half hours. Recovery was six barrels of oil with a trace of acid water.

Harper — Huffman No. 1 Ida Mae Oldham, Northeast Howard County venture, is drillstem testing at 9,344-383 feet. The hole is bottomed at 9,383 feet in lime.

Also in Howard County, Texas Pacific No. 1 Huden has acidized the pay with 3,000 gallons. It recovered the load and flowed 99 barrels of new oil in 10 hours through a 24-64th-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1,020-1. Gravity of the oil was 41 degrees. The flow in the last hour was eight barrels.

Magnolia No. 1 Foster, South Dawson prospector, is at total depth of 11,916 feet and conditioning the hole. A bridge plug was set at 11,847 feet.

Texas Is Sunny And Hot Again

By The Associated Press

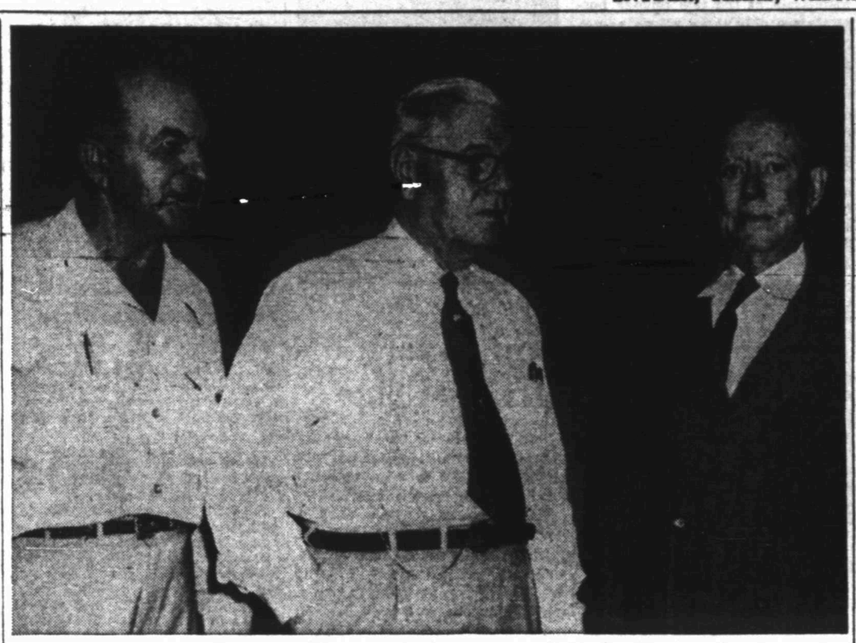
Texas was sunny and hot again Wednesday.

Forecasters said there might be isolated sprinkles near the coast and in West Texas but weren't too hopeful.

It got to 107 at Corsicana, 104 at Dallas and Fort Worth Tuesday. Waco, Mineral Wells and Cotulla had 103, Austin, Tyler, College Station, Presidio, Laredo, Wichita Falls and Texarkana 102. Abilene, Lufkin, San Antonio and Del Rio had 101.

Two persons collapsed in 98-degree heat in Houston Tuesday. Mrs. Augusta Milen, 80, was treated at a hospital and released. Knute Haffling, 57, was admitted to a hospital for observation.

Skies were virtually clear early Wednesday. Dalhart and Amarillo had morning readings of 67 and Salt Flat 68. Elsewhere, pre-dawn temperatures were in the 70s and 80s.



LEAD SHIVERS RALLY HERE

Pictured above are three of the leaders of a Shivers-for-governor organization meeting in which Harley Sadler, right, state senator, publicly announced that he would actively support Shivers in his campaign for re-election to a third term. Sadler was a speaker at the meeting at Ballard's Cafe banquet room. With Sadler are, left, R. E. Gracey, chairman of the Shivers campaign for the 24th senatorial district, and Lee T. Stinson, Scurry County chairman. (Lee Watson photograph)

Sadler To Aid Shivers Drive

Harley Sadler of Abilene, state senator for the 24th district, announced Tuesday night in Snyder that he planned to campaign actively in behalf of Gov. Allan Shivers between now and the second Democratic primary election on Aug. 28.

Sadler said he had hesitated to enter the campaign because "I didn't want the people of my district to think I was trying to tell them how to vote."

Now, however, other members of the state legislature have made public announcements in connection with the governor's race, and Sadler said he felt that he should make his own stand clear.

"The governor needs no defense," Sadler declared in a brief address before a group of Gov. Shivers' supporters who met at Ballards Cafe last night to map plans for getting out the vote on Aug. 28.

"If you study the record you will find that Gov. Shivers is one of the greatest, if not the greatest, governor Texas has ever had," the veteran legislator declared.

Sadler said he felt that Shivers' understanding of the legislative process and his demonstrated ability to cooperate with both the house and the Senate weighed heavily in the governor's favor.

As for the governor's integrity, Sadler said he considered the lengthy list of campaign charges ridiculous.

"I have been personally associated with him in the legislature and since he has become governor, and I am confident that Allan Shivers has never used his political position for personal gain," Sadler asserted.

Also here for the meeting last night was R. E. Gracy of Roscoe, campaign chairman for Gov. Shivers in the 24th senatorial district. Gracey and Lee T. Stinson, Scurry County chairman, both spoke at the rally.

Plans for organizing forces to get out the vote on Aug. 28 were conducted under leadership of Harold Bennett, county Democratic convention chairman. Future meetings are to be held at precinct level, and possibly another county-wide meeting will be held before the second primary election, leaders of the rally said.

Calls Farm Bill Victory For All

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower voiced great satisfaction with Senate passage of his farm program today but declared emphatically he does not regard it as a political victory.

He said yesterday's vote, giving him the flexible price support system he has fought for, should be regarded as just another step in a program designed for the welfare of the American farmer and for a healthy, stable economy benefitting all Americans.

The President said there are several discrepancies between Senate and House versions of the legislation he would like to see ironed out in conference.

These include, he said, a dual price plan for wheat, and a wool program with no time limit. And he said he'd like to see the final version leave the dairy price support program as it is—that is with the 75 per cent of parity figure recently established by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The Senate vote assured the administration of enactment of a plan which would permit farm price supports to be moved up or down as stocks vary.

Both houses adopted a variable range of supports between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity, so that question will not be at issue in the conferences to iron out difficulties.

The Senate voted 62-28 for final passage of the measure once given no better than a 50-50 chance.

Mercury Up Again

The mercury edged toward the top of the thermometer again yesterday to register a maximum temperature of 103 degrees. The lowest temperature recorded overnight was 71 degrees, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said. At 7:30 the temperature was 78 degrees.

WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Clear to partly cloudy and hot this afternoon, tonight and Thursday.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy and warm this afternoon, tonight and Thursday with widely scattered thundershowers.

EAST and SOUTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Clear to partly cloudy and warm this afternoon, tonight and Thursday. A few isolated thundershowers near the coast. Gentle to moderate mostly south winds on the coast.

Ike Hopes To Avert Strikes At A-Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he will use every legal means at his command to prevent strikes at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky. atomic energy plants.

The President told a news conference this is one field in which the government cannot tolerate a cessation of work.

He made this comment when a newsman told him production workers at Paducah have voted to strike for higher pay tomorrow and that the situation at Oak Ridge is touch-and-go.

Eisenhower said he hadn't heard about the Oak Ridge situation. But he went on to say he is prepared to use all the power Congress has given him to prevent strikes at atomic installations.

He did not discuss specifically whether he will seek a no-strike injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act.

He could do this without delay at Oak Ridge, where a fact-finding board has laid the legal ground work by making a report as a result of a previous labor dispute.

Such a board report is a required preliminary to injunction action under the Taft-Hartley law.

The 930 CIO workers at the Paducah atom bomb factory voted yesterday and last night to wait no longer for their demand for a "substantial and justified" raise in pay.

A strike vote was called after Barney Sanders, president of the Paducah CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, pulled out of the Oak Ridge talks.

Sanders declined to give figures on the secret balloting but said the strike was wanted by "a substantial majority."

There was no immediate reaction from Oak Ridge except a "no progress" report on negotiations. Oak Ridge employs about 3,500 CIO production hands.

E. F. Hitchcock, federal mediator in the Oak Ridge talks, said last night: "I don't think the Paducah vote will have any direct effect on the meeting we have scheduled for tomorrow. It's difficult to predict beyond that."

The Oak Ridge local of the CIO union has asked a raise of 21 cents an hour.

The salary range at the plants at present is $1.58 and $2.40 an hour. AFL workers at the Oak Ridge plant, also involved in the demands for more money, have asked 19 cents an hour and have refused 6 cents.

Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co. operates both the Paducah and the Oak Ridge plants.

Sanders and his delegation left the Oak Ridge talks yesterday and called the strike vote immediately.

Taylor Holds Slight Lead

By The Associated Press

Former Sen. Glen Taylor, the one-time singing cowboy who campaigned for the vice presidency in 1948 with Henry A. Wallace on the Progressive party ticket, took the lead today in the race for the Democratic Senate nomination in Idaho.

In Nebraska, Rep. Carl T. Curtis defeated Gov. Robert Crosby in the feature Republican Senate race.

And in Arkansas, Gov. Francis Cherry apparently lost his bid for renomination.

Taylor, trying for a political comeback, held a lead of less than 2,000 votes over State Rep. Claude Burtonshaw, a college professor, for the Democratic Senate nomination.

"It looks good," Taylor said, but he withheld a victory claim pending the counting of votes from missing precincts.

Sen. Henry C. Dworshak easily won renomination in the Republican primary in Idaho.

In the race for the Democratic nomination for governor of Arkansas, which is equivalent to election, Cherry apparently lost by less than 5,000 votes to Orval Faubus, a weekly newspaper publisher.

John Asserts U. S. Plan For War Caused Switch

Charges Nazism Is Being Revived

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—Dr. Otto John declared today he went over voluntarily to the Comunists in order to warn the world against what he called U.S. plans for a new war which would destroy Germany. He said he is now going to work for peace.

John told a news conference in the Soviet sector of Berlin he deserted as West Germany's security chief on July 20 to expose what he termed revival of Nazism in West Germany and to tell the "real truth" about the European Defense Community treaty.

Acting West German Chancellor Franz Bluecher called a special Cabinet meeting in Bonn to consider John's charges. The opposition Socialist party demanded a special session of Parliament to investigate what the Socialists called John's "treason to democracy." They asked also for the resignation of Interior Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

Appearing before more than 400 correspondents of the world press, John declared he went over to the Reds to join what he described as the only forum he could find to warn the world the United States is using Britain, France and the Bonn regime as "tools" for another war which would destroy Germany.

In Bonn, Allied and West German officials plunged into special conferences to consider the impact of John's own statement he had voluntarily deserted to the East.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government and the U.S. High Commission had contended John was lured or tricked into East Germany by the Communists.

Nattily dressed, nervous for a while but finally at ease, John read a long, prepared statement and then jousted with correspondents in a rapid fire question and answer period.

He answered them all, in his way, quietly and firmly, with one exception.

Asked about the wife he abruptly left behind when he crossed into the Soviet sector the night of July 20, John said he would not discuss private matters.

He said that during his recent trip to the United States, he "gathered that out of the hysterical fear in the United States, another war is being prepared and that the German people would suffer most from this war."

Only last week the West German government offered a reward of $119,000 for information that would clear up John's sensational disappearance. Asserting that he was being held in the East against his will, the Bonn government also asked the three Western Allies to appeal to the Russians for his release.

In his prepared statement, John said not the slightest harm had been done to him or would be done in East Germany.

Using a German expression, he asserted: "None of my hair has been twisted or will be twisted here."

After reading his lengthy prepared statement, John answered questions from the correspondents.

Asked when he first thought of going to East Germany, he said: "The consideration which caused me to go over to East Germany had already been on my mind for quite a time. But I was still trying to find out whether there were enough anti-Fascist people to cooperate with."

He added, without elaborating, that "something became clear to me on July 20."

He was asked why he had not spoken thus at a news conference in Bonn, Copenhagen or London.

He replied: "I knew I had to stay in my own country if I was to remain active. If I had said all this somewhere in the West, I would have been imprisoned."

Asked if he had expressed his doubts about the democracy of West Germany during his talks in the United States, John said tersely: "No."

Asked why not, since it was a "good platform" for that, he replied they "should have been able to tell that from my attitude."

This may account for the fact that U.S. intelligence assigned Wolfgang Hoefer, German-born agent, to shadow John. Hoefer, a schooldays' chum of John, committed suicide one day after the doctor's defection to the East became known.

No Diagnosis Of Polio Made Yet In Case

John Thomas Finnerty, 30, Lamesa Highway, is in Hendrick Memorial Hospital at Abilene today for observation of possible polio.

The polio nurse at the hospital reported late this morning that there has been no definite diagnosis. His condition was fair.

There have been seven Scurry County cases of polio reported to the County Health Unit other than one victim who died earlier this year. There has also been one Borden County case.

The new patient was admitted to the polio ward at the hospital yesterday afternoon after Dr. Carl Dillaha of Snyder had diagnosed the case as suspicious of polio.

An employe of Lane-Wells Co., Finnerty has three children.

Officials here for the past few days have been attempting to supress rumors that a pollo epidemic has begun in Snyder. Forrest Beavers, officer of the Scurry-Borden chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said he does not consider the cases to have reached epidemic stages here. The local chapter is preparing to start a new fund campaign, as are chapters throughout the country, for aid to local and national budgets. Local funds here have already been exhausted on patients stricken this year and last, and national funds have run out. One-third of the amount raised in the regular drive this year was used for national research.

Cases reported to the health unit in Scurry County this year are Michael Beckham, 3; Glenda Fay Langley, 5; Fred James Wilkinson, 2; Lillie Mae Sneed, 6; Lois Elizabeth Pinkerton, 3; and Eddie Brown, 12. The disease was fatal early this year to Braxton Perry, a Snyder man. The one Borden County victim is Delwyn Keith Davis, 1, now in Hogan-Malone Hospital at Big Spring. All the Scurry victims are in Hendrick.

Miss Leah Davis, county health nurse, said about 775 cubic centimeters of gamma globulin have been issued to physicians here to be administered to contacts of the victims.

Ruth Woodner Jackson, New York television performer and divorced wife of builder Ian Woodner, testifies before the Senate Banking Committee on the "mystery" of what became of $219,000 worth of checks in a nine million dollar apartment-hotel construction project in Washington.

State Printing Contracts Hit By Yarborough

By BRUCE HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Ralph Yarborough has charged Gov. Allan Shivers with "awarding printing contracts to a printing concern controlled by his family." Three state officials replied that the firm Yarborough referred to received only 1.1 per cent of state printing business last year and that it would have been illegal to award the contracts to any other than the lowest responsible bidder.

Yarborough, Austin attorney, and Shivers are opponents in the Aug. 28 runoff election for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Yarborough said in a radio speech at Lubbock Tuesday night state printing contracts had been awarded a publishing company "of which Allan Shivers was one of the three original incorporators and stockholders." He said he referred to the Times Publishing Co. of Mission, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and added, "In spite of a constitutional prohibition the governor has been awarding printing contracts to a printing concern controlled by his family."

Shivers campaign headquarters at Austin issued a statement in which Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and State Board of Control members C. F. McAuliff and R. C. Lanning said the contract awards were proper.

They said the Times Publishing Co. of Mission received only about one per cent of the state's printing business last year and that it was the lowest responsible bidder. The Board of Control is in charge of state printing matters.

McAuliff and Lanning said, "It would have been illegal for the Board of Control to have awarded contracts to any than the lowest bidder."

Shepperd said, "I have investigated the whole transaction. There is nothing wrong with it." He added, "Allan Shivers is not a stockholder, officer or a director of the Times Publishing Co. of Mission and has not been such since he became governor of Texas."

SEVEN NATIONS TO WELD PACT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven countries were reported ready today to join the United States in drafting an alliance they hope will check further Red aggression in Southeast Asia.

Simultaneous announcement in all eight capitals is expected late this week. The various foreign ministers reportedly will meet Sept. 6 at Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines, to weld the pact.

Nations said to be ready to attend are Britain, France, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

U.S. diplomatic officials acknowledged there appears to be no chance that such Asiatic countires as India, Burma, Indonesia, and Ceylon — all of which have important stakes in Southeast Asia — would agree either to attend the meeting or to associate themselves indirectly with the military objectives of the alliance.

American officials, however, are clinging to some hope that India and other "neutralist" nations in Asia will join in the economic phases of the proposed pact.

Members of the proposed alliance, it was said, would pledge to cooperate to improve economic conditions in the region. Cooperative action would include technical aid projects.

On the military side, members would promise to challenge any aggression in Southeast Asia. No specific line would be drawn against the Reds, informants said, but it would be understood informally that the non-Communist parts of Indochina would be covered, even though these states would not be pact signatories.

Despite limited Asiatic membership, American officials were pictured as confident the pact would discourage any new Red attack in Southeast Asia.

Although American policy makers were reported to be disappointed that India has declined thus far to support the alliance, they also were understood to feel this will not be fatal to success of the anti-Communist lineup.

Secretary of State Dulles, who first proposed the united action idea last March 29, would represent the United States at the conference.

Afterward, Dulles is expected to fly back to the capital before going to New York to lead the U.S. delegation to the United Nations in the fight to prevent Communist China from winning membership in the U.N.

Soviets Honor British Group

MOSCOW (AP)—The British embassy polished up its best china, silver and glass today for Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov.

The No. 1 Russian makes an unprecedented appearance tonight at an embassy banquet honoring former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and six other Labor party leaders visiting Moscow en route to a three-week stay in Communist China.

Malenkov and other top Soviet leaders set the pace for Attlee's top-drawer reception—the biggest given a Western delegation since World War II—with a four-hour dinner party last night at the country home of the late famed Russian writer Maxim Gorky.

The British guests described the atmosphere as one of greatest affability. After dinner Malenkov strolled into the garden with the only woman visitor, Dr. Edith Summerskill, and picked her a bouquet of phlox and gladioli.

The Russians whisked the Laborites and British Ambassador Sir William Hayter off to the Gorky villa, 22 miles from Moscow, only two hours after they arrived in the Soviet capital by Russian military plane. It was the first time in memory the Soviets had entertained high-ranking Westerners in an informal country house atmosphere.

Rumor Stevens May Get Portugal Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Resignation of M. Robert Guggenheim as ambassador to Portugal has revived speculation that he may be succeeded there by Secretary of the Army Stevens.

The White House yesterday made public an exchange of correspondence in which Guggenheim tendered his resignation "for personal reasons and because of the factor of health" and Eisenhower accepted the resignation with "earnest wishes for your full and speedy return to health and vigor."

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary said Guggenheim's successor hasn't been chosen yet.

Twenty-Seven Ask Absentee Ballots

Twenty-seven persons have applied with the county clerk for ballots to vote by absentee in the second primary election, and 11 of those had voted by noon today.

Deadline for honoring applications for ballots is midnight Aug. 24.

Fifth Cease-Fire Into Effect Today

By JOHN RODERICK

SAIGON (AP) —The fifth and final cease-fire in Indochina took effect today, officially ending the world's last active war. But the peace stirred no fanfare in this capital city of South Viet Nam.

Commanders of the French Union troops and the Communist-led Vietminh ordered their opposing forces to lay down their arms in South Viet Nam at 8 a.m.

The order was mostly a formality. Fighting had tapered off since the cease-fire became effective two weeks ago in North Viet Nam.

The Geneva agreement to end the eight-year-old war called for truces in five stages to enable the Vietminh to get word to their scattered guerrillas.

After the North Viet Nam cease-fire July 27, the armistice reached Central Viet Nam Aug. 1. It became effective in the kingdoms of Laos and Cambodia Aug. 6 and 7.

Today in this city of two million French, Vietnamese and Chinese, police and military stood at the alert to counter expected Vietminh demonstrations. Armed with tommy guns, they kept a watchful eye on pedestrians and motor traffic, military helicopters hovered low.

Otherwise, the day seemed like any other. It was no holiday and there were no outward signs of either rejoicing or sadness.

The final truce today in South Viet Nam marked one of the few periods when the world has been free from full-scale war since Dec. 9, 1934, when Mussolini's Italian troops clashed with Ethiopian soldiers on the frontier of disputed Somaliland.

Under the Geneva agreement, Vietminh bands operating in the south are to withdraw into specified pockets and then be evacuated to the north. The French, meanwhile, are withdrawing their forces from above the 17th Parallel, which will divide Viet Nam.

At Tansonnhut airport, a few miles outside Saigon, French planes kept up their daily shuttle trips to Hanoi and Haiphong, bringing thousands of straw-hatted refugees to new homes here in the non-Communist south. French authorities said the planes are ferrying 3,300 persons a day.

Preparations also are moving ahead for an American fleet to help move the several hundred thousand Vietnamese who want to get out before the Hanoi-Haiphong area — last French holding in the north — is turned over to the Vietminh.

Yesterday Rear Adm. L. S. Sabin, commander of U.S. Amphibious Forces in the Western Pacific, examined dock facilities in Haiphong. An unspecified number of American transports already are standing off Haiphong, waiting to start loading.

Moving and resettling the refugees is the most pressing problem that the peace has thrust on the anti-Communist South Vietnamese government. But it also faces a constant threat in the Communists' attempts to make inroads in the Vietnamese army and spread propaganda among the civilians. The Vietminh aim is to capture countrywide elections the armistice agreement provides will be held in mid-1956.

Reports from independent sources say desertions from the Vietnamese army have mounted steadily since the Geneva settlement.

President Declares Relations With Russians Must Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United States could not possibly serve its interests by severing diplomatic relations with Russia.

The President also told a news conference the free world is building up a structure which he believes will be impervious to any Communist assault.

As for waging a preventive war against the Communist world, as some people have urged, Eisenhower said there is no such thing as a preventive war—that it would be unthinkable for this country to undertake such a project.

Eisenhower's remarks came in connection with a request for comments on views expressed by Gen. Mark W. Clark, retired former U.S. commander in the Far East, who told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee yesterday that he favored breaking relations with Russia and reorganizing the United Nations to exclude the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said he feels that, in general, many world tensions have eased in the last couple of years and the free world now has a better chance than before to obtain a solid peace.

The conference also touched on these other matters:

ATOMIC-LABOR — The President said he favors using all possible legal devices to avert a threatened strike at atomic plants in Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky. This was in reply to a question as to whether he plans to ask Atty. Gen. Brownell to seek a strike-blocking injunction under the Taft-Hartley law.

Paducah production workers voted last night to go out on strike tomorrow and the situation at Oak Ridge also is touch-and-go.

FARM—The President congratulated Senate leaders on pushing to approval a farm bill based on the administration's call for a shift from the present rigid price-support program to flexible supports. He said he wanted to make one thing very clear—that the administration victories reflected in the bills passed by the Senate and House were in no sense political victories.

Eisenhower called them steps toward a stable economy and therefore measures which will benefit everyone.

THE ECONOMY — The White House is preparing a report on the American economy as of mid-year 1954 and the report shows a very hopeful picture, the President said. He added that the survey will be made public in a day or so.

In a related field, Eisenhower said he did not care to speculate at this time whether it will be possible to cut income taxes next year and balance the federal budget.

SPEECH ON CONGRESS—The Chief Executive disclosed he is at work on an address reviewing the accomplishments of Congress. He declined to shed any light on just when he will make the speech, and laughingly declined to say anything about such accomplishments until the session has been completed.

CABINET — The President announced he will be host Friday to the members of his Cabinet at his mountain lodge retreat at Camp David near Thurmont, Md., about 65 miles north of Washington. There will be a light lunch, the President said, a buffet supper in the evening and swimming for those who want a dip.

Another Full-Scale Fight On Atomic Law Looms In Senate

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is heading into another fight on a bill to loosen up the law on atomic energy and its uses. The Senate recently finished a two weeks' battle on the subject.

Democrats who made the first fight are lining up for the new one. Several points in the bill irritate them. One of them covers patents. This is an ABC on the patent dispute.

Briefly, the patent law says: An inventor — an individual or a firm — can get a patent on an invention for 17 years. During that time the inventor alone has the exclusive right to use that invention for his own profit. He can, if he wishes, sell it or let someone else use it also, either free or for a fee. At the end of 17 years the patent expires and the invention becomes public property and anyone can use it.

At this moment no private firm has atomic patents. Because of the secrecy involved and the terms of the 1946 atomic energy law, the government has had complete ownership of all atomic developments. It holds over 700 patents.

The government's AEC—Atomic Energy Commission—not only did its own atomic developing in government-owned plants but had the help of some big corporations working under contract.

Because they were working for AEC, those firms could not under the 1946 law get any patents on discoveries they made. But at least they got knowledge on atomic development, with the government paying the cost.

The bill the Senate is about to consider would allow private business to develop atomic energy not only for the good of the country but for private profit. President Eisenhower doesn't want a few firms, which had AEC contracts, to get a monopoly through knowledge gained while the government paid them.

So a bill, which the House passed July 26 to let private industry develop peaceful atomic power for private profit, said among other things:

The AEC would carefully examine any application for an atomic patent. If the AEC was convinced the discovery resulted from work done for the government, no patent would be granted, and the discovery would become public property.

Some Senate Democrats argued this wasn't tight enough protection against eventual monopoly by a few big firms. After much debate, the Senate voted this provision:

Any firm granted an atomic patent, for the first 10 years after obtaining if would have to grant a license for its use by anyone who wanted it. For a fee, of course. A firm which got the license could use the invention for the full life of the patent. This was called "compulsory licensing."

Some Republicans argue this violates the constitutional provision which says a patent holder shall have exclusive rights to his discovery.

Since the House and Senate bills differed on this and other points, a committee from both houses was set up to work out a compromise. They came up with a bill which did this on patents:

It knocked out the Senate's "compulsory licensing" provision and kept the House provision: that the AEC could reject any patent on an invention resulting from work for the government.

Then the compromise bill added this:

Since any firm holding an atomic patent and wanting to build a power plant would have to get AEC permission, AEC should give preference to a patent owner who agreed to let other firms use it.

Senate Democrats say compulsory licensing is the best protection against monopoly and want that to become part of the new law. The House passed the compromise bill with hardly a murmur Monday. The Senate may tackle Friday.

Annuities Now Cost Less For Taxation

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than a million taxpayers will get a tax cut under new rules for taxing income from annuities or life insurance included in the giant tax revision act just passed by Congress.

The new rules apply to income received after last Dec. 31.

In annuities, you generally pay so much a year to an insurance company. Then at a fixed age or year, you get back so much a year for the rest of your life, or for a fixed number of years.

The big question, taxwise, is how much of the money paid to you is simply a return of the money you paid in—and how much is interest or profit and therefore taxable.

Under the old law, you first figured the total amount you paid in—the total cost of the policy to you. Then you were taxed each year on 3 per cent of that cost. The remaining annuity income was tax-free.

For example, say a policy cost you $10,900 and at age 65 you were to get back $1,200 each year for the rest of your life. Under the old law, 3 per cent of $10,900, or $327, would be considered taxable income each year. The other $873 a year would not be counted as income for tax purposes.

This would continue until the $873 of tax-free income a year added up to the cost of the policy, or $10,900. From then on—in this example from the 14th year on—you would be taxed on the full $1,200 a year.

This sudden increase in taxes was considered a hardship in many cases.

Under the new law, you first figure your total cost just as before. Then you figure your remaining years of life expectancy, or the fixed number of years, over which you are to receive repayments. Then you divide your cost by this number of years. That is the amount of income you can receive tax-free, and the rest is taxable.

In the example above, say you had a life expectancy of 10 years, or a fixed 10 years in which the policy says you are to receive $1,200 a year. Your total cost of $10,900, divided by 10, amounts to $1,090—and that amount of annual income is considered tax free. You would pay taxes on the remaining $110 each year.

These amounts would remain the same throughout—even after you had recovered the full cost of your policy, and even if you actually lived longer than your life expectancy.

Thus, under the old law, you would pay taxes on $327 a year for a while and then you would pay taxes on $1,200 a year. Under the new law you would pay taxes on only $110 a year throughout.

The new rules are different in cases where an employer contributes much of the cost of an annuity or pension policy to an employe. If the employe receives back all of his cost within the first three years of payments to him, he doesn't pay any tax during those first three years. Then after three years, he pays income taxes on the full amount he receives.

Experts estimate this would apply in 95 per cent of the cases where employers contribute to pension or annuity contracts. So the new life expectancy rules will chiefly benefit those who buy commercial annuity policies on their own.

There's one helpful provision in the new act. You don't have to go through complex arithmetic to figure how much of your annuity is taxable. The insurance company, when it starts payments to you, will compute your life expectancy and tell you how much of your annuity income will be taxable.

Another provision gives a big cut in testate taxes. Under the old law, if you paid premiums on a life insurance policy, proceeds of the policy were considered part of your estate when you died. Your survivors paid an estate tax on them. But from now on if you make the policy irrevocably payable to your beneficiary, it is not included as part of your taxable estate. This provision alone is expected to reduce taxes about 25 million dollars for about 10,000 taxpayers each year.

But another change will increase taxes for some. Under the old law, the beneficiary of a life insurance policy could leave the principal with the insurance company and receive tax-free interest in annual installments. Under the new law, this interest will be taxable for anyone but a widow. And a widow will pay taxes on any such interest which exceeds $1,000 a year.

Child Is Killed In Struggle Over Gun

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A 10-year-old boy tried to take a loaded revolver away from his little niece last night but she put up a fight and the gun discharged, killing her.

The little girl was Teresa Robitailla, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Robitailla, Pawtucket, R.I.

Homicide Detective Steve Salas said the accident occurred in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steele. Steele and two other men had been loking at a .38 caliber revolver which Steele had thought of buying.

Salas said the men had entered a back room in the house, leaving the loaded revolver in the kitchen.

Teresa, who had been playing in the backyard, walked into the kitchen and picked up the gun. As Steele's son, George 10, tried to take it away from her the accidental shot struck her in the chest, emerged through the left shoulder and lodged in a wall. She was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Missing Child Found On Steps Of Rectory

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. (AP) — Three-year-old Sharon Yacko, object of an intensive search since she vanished from an orphanage Saturday, was found unharmed on the steps of a church rectory last night.

Police said they would continue their hunt for the person who kidnaped Sharon from her bed. The blonde child was left on the steps of the rectory in nearby Union City by someone who fled before the doorbell ring could be answered.

Police Commissioner Patrick Sullivan said Sharon was too confused and tired to give any account of what happened to her. All she said was that a "man got her clothes."

Group Interested In Loan Association Meets

About a dozen persons interested in organization of a building and loan association here held their second meeting in the district courtroom last night.

The group appointed a committee headed by L. A. McClanahan to attend a meeting with the state banking comission in Austin next week. Members of the group are McClanahan, Wayland Holt, Walter Hales, Bob Dupree, and Frank W. Wilson.

McClanahan said there are now 40 persons pledged to purchase capital stock in the building and loan association if it can be organized here.

Well-Wishers Help Mayor To Celebrate

DALLAS (AP) — A song-singing throng of 3,000 well-wishers helped Mayor Bob Thornton of Dallas celebrate his 75th birthday at a barbecue in Fair Park last night.

A hill-billy band played while the crowd consumed 2,600 pounds of barbecue.

The president of the Republic National Bank, Fred Florence, called Mayor Thornton "a great builder and a man of sound vision." He listed among the mayor's accomplishments his early work of raising $600,000 to publicize Dallas nationally and his work in making the State Fair of Texas "the best in the world."

Mayor Thornton responded with "I'm not retirin', not takin' out—I'm just startin' over."

"There are too many things I want to do around Dallas," he added.

Birthday presents to Mr. and Mrs. Thornton included a silver punch bowl and an Angus heifer.

Guatemala Dissolves Units Backing Guzman

GUATEMALA (AP)—In a sweeping new blow at supporters of deposed President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, Guatemala's ruling junta has dissolved political parties, Communist-dominated labor unions and Red front organizations which backed the ousted regime.

Representatives of the CIO and AFL already are working to establish new unions on an anti-Comunist basis.

About 40 per cent of the crop income in Kentucky comes from tobacco.

Telephone Is Better Bet Than A Compass

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The phone rang in the Howard Brickey home. It was from Austin, Tex. But when the operator told the unidentified caller to deposit $1.55 the caller hung up.

The Brickeys were worried. Their 10-year-old daughter, Linda, was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. May Farmer, in Austin. They tried to trace the call, fearing it was from a hospital.

Then their phone rang again. It was Linda, reporting from 800 miles away. "I'm lost downtown in Austin.

Mrs. Brickey, relieved, told her which bus to catch to reach grandmother's house.

Oh yes, Linda hung up the first time because she didn't know how to tell the operator to make the call collect.

School Board Meet Postponed Tuesday

A meeting of the school board scheduled last night was indefinitely postponed because of the inability of the majority to attend.

One trustee was ill, one out of town, one presiding at a political rally, and one called to another business session. Another was also absent. Two who attended discussed a few current school matters with the superintendent, the business manager, and the secretary for the board, who is also tax collector for the district.

No action was taken, and the meeting was postoned for a later date this month, which is to be announced later.

Still Trying To Raise Money For Damages

Members of the family of a 21-year-old man tried in corporation court yesterday did not raise money to pay for damages he did to the city jail Monday night, but attempts are still being made to pay for the damages, George Killam, Jr., corporation judge, said.

The man was charged with intoxication and disturbance of peace.

Killam said that the man pleaded guilty to the charge, but that his fine has not been set pending payment of $50 to the city for the damages to the jail.

Americans spend almost nine billion dollars a year on alcoholic drink.

Railroads Plan For Meet On New Terminal

GALVESTON (AP)—The Santa Fe Railroad, which is considering an order permitting the line to build a direct line to Dallas from North Texas, seeks an early meeting with two railroads serving Denton, Tex., it was disclosed yesterday.

He said the meeting with officials of the Texas & Pacific and MKT railroads would be to discuss track connections and interchange of traffic.

The ICC had ruled Santa Fe could build the cutoff to Dallas, but said it must go through Denton.

Argument On Kent County Seat Goes On

CLAIREMONT — Three of Kent County's four county commissioners held a meeting here Monday morning and voted to bring the county records back.

Jayton has been designated the Kent County seat after a long siege of court action following a disputed election over the moving of the county seat. The commissioners court has not acted on the final court mandate, however, and the three commissioners meeting here Monday say no action can be taken toward locating a new courthouse in Jayton until the county's records are returned to Clairemont.

Commissioners meeting here were Mark Cave of precinct 4, Jim Wyatt of precinct 2 and A. C. (Ab) Cargile of precinct 3. The fourth commissioner, W. R. Rodgers of precinct 1, met with County Judge John H. Montgomery in Jayton Monday. They could take no official action, however, because they did not constitute a quorum. Montgomery said he believed it would be illegal to move the records from the county seat (Jayton) and that he would have a further statement after conferring with the county attorney, Dawson Bryant. Montgomery also said he was conferring with the state attorney general's office.

Writer Is Scheduled For Appearance Here

Mrs. Billie Davis, writer of the story "I Was a Hobo Kid," which was published in the Saturday Evening Post last year, will speak here Sept. 17 before a joint meeting of civic clubs.

Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools here, announced at Lions Club yesterday Mrs. Davis plans to be here.

Speaking to the club yesterday was the Rev. Edgar Hubbard of Kemp, father of the Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here. The talk was on "Life, God's Rich Gift."

John Eckstadt was presented a pin as past secretary of the club.

Ballots Exhausted

HOUSTON (AP)—They ran out of absentee ballots twice here yesterday.

Absentee voters waited while additional ballots were rushed to Harris County Courthouse.

At day's end, 977 votes had been cast for the Aug. 28 runoff primary since Monday morning.

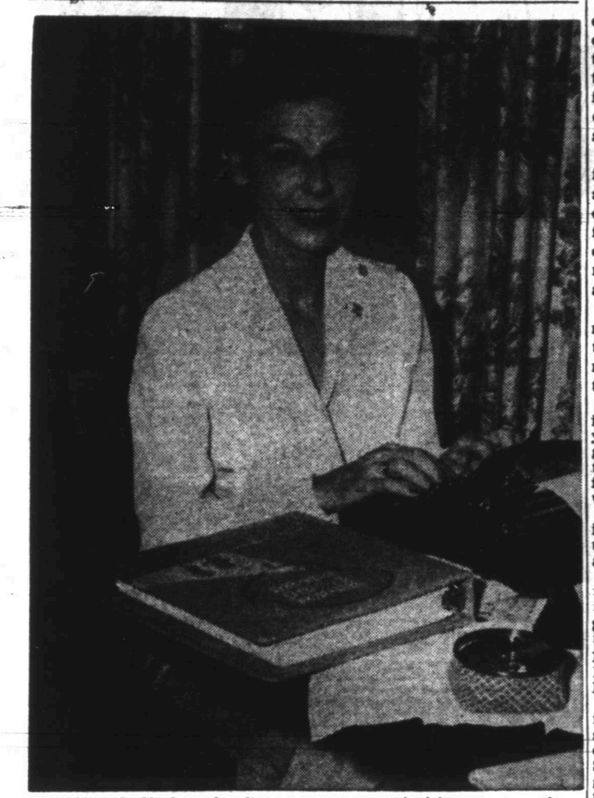
WOMEN



Mrs. G. M. Smead writes a report on a television program she has seen for her correspondence course in television technique. Mrs. Smead, who recently moved to the Sunray Gasoline Plant camp, likes Snyder but finds her studies so time-consuming that she hasn't had time to explore much yet. (Lee Watson photograph)

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Snyder Newcomer Finds TV Study Fascinating

"Just an amateur," says Mrs. G. M. SMEAD of herself when she talks of her writing, acting and other theatrical experiences.

If an amateur, as the history of the word suggests, is someone who does a job for the love of it, this newcomer to Snyder certainly qualifies.

Her dramatic dark eyes flash as she speaks of her past experiences in amateur theatricals, her interest in writing, and particularly of the course in television techniques which she is now working on.

Shortly before leaving Tulsa, she had written the script for the Episcopal Church's spring festival and helped plan the staging of it.

"I wasn't there for the festival," she said, "but my friends said it turned out very well."

It was about this time that the television course was suggested to her.

"I was a little uncertain about my abilities," she said, "but my husband insisted on my taking a chance to see what I could do."

So she enrolled in a correspondence course which involves every phase of television, and it has consumed so much of her time that she has hardly had time to realize she has moved to a new town.

She can be found almost any time of the day and part of the day and part of the night at her typewriter in the living room at house Number 5, Sunray Gasoline Plant camp.

This is the first time the Smeads have lived in an oil camp, and Mrs. Smead is finding it a neighborly place to be.

"People have already been asking me if I would be interested in a little theater here," she said. "And I'd love to work with one—I've had experience with them before."

The Smeads had lived in New England — an area known for its interest in the theater — before they moved to Tulsa ten years ago.

Mr. Smead had been a pilot—first for the Air Force, then with his own flying company, and last with Barnsdall Oil. When the company consolidated with Sunray, he became a gasoline tester, which is his job here in Snyder.

The son of the family followed in his father's footsteps and has recently completed the first phase of cadet training. He's now stationed at Columbus, Miss., and the Smeads are keeping their fingers crossed against the hope that Jerry might be sent to Lubbock next.

Mrs. Smead also has her eye on the Lubbock television stations and hopes she might get some experience there. First, the course will probably take her to Louisville, Ky., for studio training.

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5488.

Sandwich making, as well as eating, can be an adventure. Give each filling a special personal touch by using your own imagination. Little things that can be easy for the beginner and yet a real challenge to the expert are necessary for creative sandwich-ery.

Flavor combinations of various foods make experimenting with sandwich fillings fun. Sharp, pungent flavors go best along with mild foods. For example, mildly flavored cream cheese is a wonderful medium for onion, horseradish, and spicy seasonings.

Texture of foods, such as smoothness and crispness, is also important. Crunchy foods like celery, radishes, nuts and pickles add interest to sandwiches.

Once you have prepared a culinary sandwich creation, call on your imagination again in planning garnishes. The best garnishes are those which add color and whose flavor enhances that of the sandwiches.

A favorite sandwich trick of the imaginative homemaker is to dress up an already popular sandwich and make it something special.

PEANUT BUTTER GOURMET

½ cup peanut butter
¼ cup milk or cream
8 slices crisp bacon, crushed
½ cup chopped celery
12 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine
Lettuce, if desired

Combine peanut butter with milk or cream and mix until smooth. Add crushed bacon and celery, mixing until well blended. Spread bread with butter or margarine. Spread peanut butter mixture on 6 slices of bread and cover with lettuce and remaining slices of bread. Makes 6 sandwiches.

EASY FROSTING

Soften one package of cream cheese with four tablespoons of cranberry jelly, and then gradually add one pound of confectioner's sugar. Work it into a fine smoothness. This will frost a 9-inch cake.

CLEANING TIP

Have you ever tried using an old-fashioned blackboard eraser for some soapy jobs around the house such as rug washing or window cleaning? It's a real handy item since it can itself be washed in hot soapy water. After rinsing an eraser, slap it hard against absorbent paper or cloth on a flat surface to blot out the excess moisture.

Bride Feted At Coffee

A gift coffee was given at the country club Tuesday morning honoring Mrs. Charles A. LeBlanc, who was Mary Sue Boren before her recent marriage.

Mrs. G. B. Clark, Jr. poured coffee for the guests at a table decorated with white zinnias. Mrs. Novis Rodgers played piano selections.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. J. D. Scott, Mrs. Ophelia Blackard, Mrs. Ray Cockrell, Mrs. Novis Rodgers, Mrs. Wilson Connell, Mrs. P. W. Cloud, Mrs. Garrett Harrell, Mrs. G. B. Clark, Jr., Mrs. Weldon Johnson and Mrs. Leland Herod.

The register was signed by 75 guests.

Queenmaker Gives Orders Like A Drill Sergeant

By BRYAN HAISLIP
AP Newsfeature Writer

WILMINGTON, N.C. — "Shoulders back, chin up . . . watch those knees . . and smile, smile!"

Mrs. Hannah Block barked the orders like a drill sergeant. Her eyes narrowed critically as she watched Pat Sheppard, long legs swinging smoothly from a taut black bathing suit, glide across the living room.

Coaching beauty queens is Mrs. Bock's hobby. When the summer contest season comes, she turns her home into a school for hopeful title seekers.

As instructor, she is a combination fairy godmother and Simon Legree. She shares secrets learned from nine years experience in the beauty contest arena, but she demands hard work.

She can whip up a smart wardrobe on a limited budget, or put together something really fancy if the money is available. Her keen eye discovers a girl's assets and faults, and her quick mind finds a way to accent the first and camouflage the second.

In turn, the girls must give their whole attention to the job. They must learn to walk with natural grace, to talk nibly and intelligently, and to eat with proper fork and manners.

"I must walk a hundred miles a day," sighed Pat, rubbing a trim ankle. For the 19-year-old beauty, training under Mrs. Block is like military basic — with no passes off the reservation for dates.

"My girls" are her first concern. Title winner or not, the training helps in poise and confidence, she explained.

But a contest rouses Hannah's fierce competitive instinct. Her burning ambition is to bring in a Miss America winner.

On her way to that goal, she has coached a Miss Lions International, a Miss Lions National, and a second place winner in the Miss V.F.W. contest.

Her instruction helped Janice Harvel of nearby Carolina Beach—now Mrs. Paul Brown and the mother of two girls—win the state, national and international Miss Lions competition in 1949. Two years later, another pupil, Barbara Womble of Wilmington, took the state and national titles but lost in the international round. Gaye Herring of Pink Hill, also a Block student, placed second for the national Miss V.F.W. title in 1950.

So far, Hannah has failed to crack the first major hurdle in the Miss America race — the Miss North Carolina contest to pick the state's representative in the Atlantic City Pageant. This year she had two contenders out for the title. In addition to training Pat, who won the Miss Kinston contest, she coached Geraldyn Colkitt, Wilmington's entry.

The major aim of the training is to develop confidence and charm that will not wilt under the contest spotlights. "I've seen girls faint or go into hysterics under the strain," Mrs. Block recalled. Competition promoted among the girls training in her living room accustoms them to the pace.

Hannah has the looks to compete for a title on her own. With an 18-year-old son, she still has a figure trim enough to wear a hugging empire waistline without embarassment. Her black hair is sheared close and crisp. Electric brown eyes add sparks to her rapid, laghter-filled conversation.

With the exception of $25 won years ago in an Easter Parade contest, her awards have been for brains rather than beauty. She was selected Wilmington's "Woman of the Year" in 1953, a tribute to civic activities embracing 19 different clubs.

Unknown Has Play Produced

DALLAS (AP)—Margo Jones' Theatre '54 presented an amusing new comedy by an unknown author last night as its fourth production of a summer season featuring new plays.

The comedy is "Sea Change" by William Case of New York. It is the story of a day-dreaming, young lawyer's secretary who takes a 7-day Caribbean cruise before marrying the unglamorous son of a grocery chain magnate. On this first trip outside Fort Wayne, Ind., she gets herself involved in two shipboard romances.

The plot is old, but in telling his story young Case examines with revealing humor everything from Russia to the Readers Digest, Midwestern conventions, psychology, the sex life of Frenchmen and young girls on the prowl for a man.

He does this with dialogue that is often witty, as in stateroom scenes between heroine Sally Giles and her cabin mate, Shirley Duke, who means to get a man before the cruise is over.

Sometimes the lines are obvious and hackneyed. Also Case pokes fun at so many targets that he achieves a scattergun effect.

Nevertheless, the capacity first night audience found a lot in the play to laugh at and warmly applauded Case when members of the cast pushed him into the center of the arena stage at the end of the performance.

Theatre '54's regular company under the imaginative direction of Association Director Ramsey Burch gave the play a fine production.

Versatile Jeanne Gal was very much the unpredictable Sally Giles. Louise Noble was good as her cabin mate. The men in the girls' lives were Charles Braswell as an opinion poll taker; Michael Garth, as a dashing French ship's officer, and Michael Dolan, as a salesman who specialized in winning free cruises.

Antonio Klimowicz, the 24-year-old Polish stowaway who hid aboard a freighter to seek political asylum in England, tells interviewers in London how the Polish crew had tried to get him to return to Communism. Klimowicz had been in seclusion since British police forcibly removed him from the freighter Jaroslaw Dabrowski July 31 over the protests of ship officers who sought to return him to Poland.

Stanky May Not Get To Stay With Cards; Opposition Grows

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Stanky's chances of sticking as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals appear to be growing slimmer day by day.

Unless there is a sudden change for the better in the Cardinals' fortunes, and none is in sight, owner Gussie Busch is going to have to decide how much longer he can stick with Stanky in face of mounting opposition.

The source of Stanky's present difficulties is his pitching staff. He talked hopefully about his mound corps during the spring, especially after the purchase of Vic Raschi from the Yankees. But it hasn't been good, even at the start, and the staff has gone from bad to worse.

Raschi took his lumps last night in an 11-0 trouncing by the Milwaukee Braves. It was the seventh loss for the veteran righthander, who has won eight. Cardinal pitchers have completed only 27 of 110 games and only one this month.

The Cards sank to sixth place with the loss. Eight of the 10 Milwaukee hits went for extra bases. Del Crandall, Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Eddie Mathews all hit home runs.

Even with another two years on his contract Stanky must be mighty uncomfortable.

There was a lot of good pitching last night, too. Jim Wilson of the Braves gave St. Louis only three singles in winning his eighth game without a loss.

Johnny Antonelli and Marv Grissom combined in a three-hitter as the New York Giants shaded Pittsburgh 2-1. The Giants got only four safeties off Dick Littlefield and Johnny Hetki.

Lefty Mel Parnell of the Boston Red Sox scattered four hits in beating Washington 4-0. Ned Garver spaced five singles in Detroit's 4-0 triumph over Cleveland.

The Braves gained a game on second place Brooklyn, which lost to Philadelphia 6-3, but stayed 7½ behind the Giants.

The New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 5-2 and moved within three games of the Indians.

Baltimore whipped the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and Cincinnati edged the Chicago Cubs 2-1.

Cleveland's pennant drive was stymied temporarily by Garver, who lowered his earned run average to 2.21, lowest in the league. Wayne Belardi's 11th homer, in the fourth inning, provided the only scoring until the eighth when the Tigers ran wild on the bases.

Bob Grim gave up 10 hits to the Athletics but kept them scattered in becoming the first rookie to win 15 games this season.

Parnell's victory for the Red Sox was his first this season. The lefthander has been sidelined with a broken wrist most of the year. Ted Williams had a perfect night with two singles and two walks.

A day game between the Senators and Red Sox was rained out.

Ford, Blount Appear To Be Quarterbacks For Big Game

DALLAS (AP)—Ken Ford of Breckenridge and Sammy Blount of Deer Park are due to be the keymen in the T formation attacks of coaches Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech and Jess Neely of Rice in Saturday night's all-star football game of the Texas Coaching School.

Dodd, who coaches the North squad with the split T, apparently has settled on Ford as his quarterback while Neely had Blount working most of the time yesterday as he taught his conventional T to the South squad in opening workouts.

Dodd pretty well named his starting lineup for the big game but Neely said he hadn't progressed enough to decide which 11 boys will get the call although he took time out to talk enthusiastically about Walter Fondren, the great back of Lamar (Houston). Fondren undoubtedly will open at left halfback.

Neely used both Blount and Bill Clements of Huntsville at the vital quarterback post. But Blount, a versatile young man who poses a strong passing threat, got the most attention.

Dodd was thinking about the air power of the South apparently as he devoted most of yesterday afternoon's drill to pass defense. Dodd also has an adept thrower in Ford.

Dodd cited Fred Maples of North Side as an outstanding end and put him down for a starting job. The other end will be either Dalton Hicks of Comanche or Ronnie Mason of Woodrow Wilson (Dallas). Tackles will be John Boles of Terrell and Bobby Jack Oliver of Abilene, with Jack Morgan of Kilgore and Tommye Parker of Ballinger at guards and Garland Warren of Denton at center.

Larry George of Crozier Tech (Dallas) looked to have the fullback job with either Charles Dixon of McCamey or Ray Amsters of Brownwood at right halfback.

Neely's starters probably will be Carl Carpenter of Port Arthur and either Larry Cowart of Brackenridge (San Antonio) or Bill Anderson of Refugio at ends, Jim Steitle of Edison (San Antonio) and Jerry Cornelison of Temple at tackles, Mat Georges of Harlingen or Will Wyman of McCallum (Austin) at guards and Louis Del Homme of Baytown at center. In the backfield it probably will be Blount at quarterback, Fondren and Mickey Smith of Lamar (Houston) or Johnny Elam of Luling at halfbacks and Jimmy Phipps of Waco at fullback.

One change was made in the South squad today. Wade Kerr of Judson Grove, a back, became ill in practice yesterday and was sent home. Curtis Reeves of Wichita Falls was obtained to replace him.

Ed Dudley of Pampa, who reported with an injured back suffered in the Greenbelt Bowl game last week, was found to have only a bruise and will be able to play. An X-ray yesterday revealed the injury was minor and that Dudley didn't have a fractured rib as feared.

Moore Picked To Win Over Maxim Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, still a great fighter as he nears his 38th birthday, is a 5-8 favorite to whip stolid, young Harold Johnson in a 15-round title bout tonight.

The globetrotting 175-pound ruler, now a Miami resident, will be seeking his 19th straight victory when he steps into the Madison Square Garden ring at 9 p.m., (EST) against the muscular, 26-year-old contender from Philadelphia.

It will be the fifth scrap between the two Negroes in a series dating back to April 26, 1949. The first time the clever and experienced Moore floored the ex-sailor twice and won decisively. The next three were all close with Moore winning two and Johnson one.

Johnson's ten round triumph on Dec. 10, 1951 was Archie's last defeat. The strong-armed Moore edged the Philadelphian Jan. 29, 1952 and went on to sweep 17 other fights, including three title contests with Joey Maxim.

In building up a 12-fight victory streak of his own, Johnson, son of a former heavyweight boxer, defeated Ezzard Charles and Nino Valdes, the two leading heavyweight contenders.

Although the match between the two leading light heavies has been long awaited, the promoting International Boxing Club probably will be satisfied with a crowd of 8,000 and a gate of $30,000 at a $10 top. The telecast and the local radio broadcast will bring in another $50,000. Moore will get 40 per cent of the net gate and radio-Tv money while Johnson is down for 20 per cent. If Johnson wins, he'll have to give Archie a return fight within 90 days at a 30-30 split of the purse.

Funny Things In Longhorn

By The Associated Press

Baseball may be bewildering at times in the Longhorn League, but consider the things they do. Like Tuesday night:

Joe Bauman hit his 54th home run of the season with two out in the top of the ninth. It gave Roswell a 3-2 victory over Carlsbad and erased two circuit records: home runs (he set the mark of 53 last year) and runs batted in. He's got 181 now, compared to the 180 record set in 1950 by Tom Jordan, then of Roswell.

Sweetwater dropped its 12th straight game when it lost to Midland, 10-4. Midland scored 5 runs in the first inning, 4 in the second and that was that.

Athletics Consider Two Offers To Buy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A board of directors meeting of the Philadelphia Athletics is faced today with two offers to buy the American League baseball club.

One comes from a Chicago businessman who wants to move the team to Kansas City. The other was presented yesterday by a syndicate seeking to keep the A's in the Quaker City.

Today's meeting follows talks between the Philadelphia group and Roy Mack, executive vice-president of the A's.

The "basis for settlement" by a group headed by financier Albert M. Greenfield and drug store executive Harry Sylk was the second offer for the club within a week. Chicagoan Arnold Johnson recently said he would buy the club for a reported 4½ million dollars and move the team to Kansas City.

The exact nature of the local syndicate's offer was not disclosed —possibly to allow Earle Mack and his father, Connie, now 91, to weigh the two without the pressure of public opinion.

Roy wants to keep the club here and maintain an active part in its affairs. Earle and his father have indicated they want out soon and that the club's financial situation is too precarious to continue operating much longer.

It has been indicated that the Johnson offer probably would mean a two million dollar cash split for the three Macks.

Greenfield, on the other hand, has estimated that it would take about 4½ million dollars to "salvage" the club, of which only a million would go to the Mack family.

Some Places Won't Change

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Figuring figures is fascinating — and the Texas League pennant chase isn't at the moment. A few facts about games Tuesday night:

Scores: Houston 10, Dallas 4; Shreveport 3, Tulsa 2; Fort Worth 3, San Antonio 1; Beaumont 8-2, Oklahoma City 2-10.

Hits, 95; runs, 45; errors, 7.

Shreveport kept a 5½ game lead, only Houston is in second now instead of San Antonio, with Oklahome City still four full games ahead of fifth place Tulsa.

And that clear division of the first and second division seems permanent at the moment.

Shreveport spotted Tulsa two runs in the first inning, won it on three singles by Joe Koppe, Don Spencer and Ed Mickelson in the seventh. John Andre won his 17th game.

Willie Brown nailed another spike in Dallas' cellar door with a home run and double that sparked the one-sided Houston victory over his ex-mates.

Carroll Beringer stopped San Antonio on two-hits and Cal Felix's 19th homer helped Fort Worth win, too.

Oklahoma City and Beaumont traded hits and runs and came out just about all square, as did their doubleheader.

The same teams meet Wednesday night — at Dallas, Oklahoma City, Fort Worth and Tulsa.

Losses Don't Hurt Pirates

By The Associated Press

In the Big State Baseball League Tuesday night, Waco —lost.

Big news? In a way. That cut the Pirates' first place advantage to a mere 12 games.

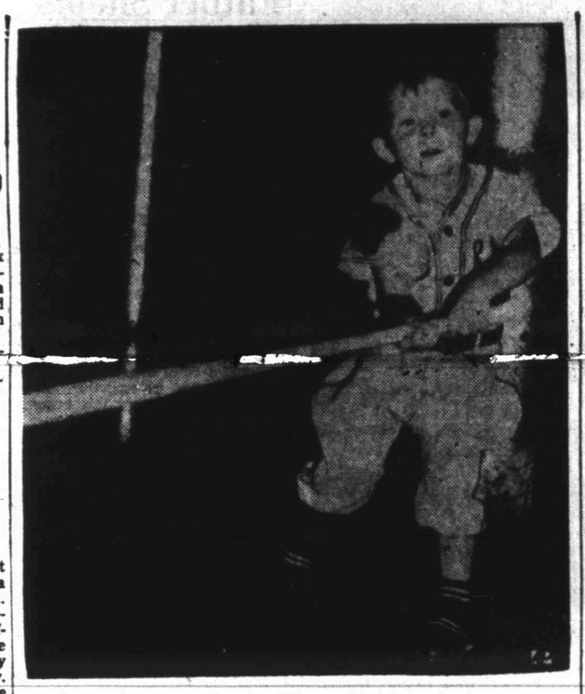
Tyler, which has almost as firm a grip on second as Waco does on first, beat the loop leader 6-1.

Austin edged Temple 5-4, Del Rio blanked Galveston 7-0 and Corpus Christi smothered Harlingen 13-2.

Tyler solved Don Kildoo's pitching in the sixth inning. Before Waco came up with some answers to the tough Tiger batting, Tyler had shoved over three runs in the eighth to clinch the game.

Juan Perez and Steve Karis hit home runs and Fred Smith pitched five-hit ball to give Del Rio its whitewash over Galveston.

Hardy Nettle's three-run homer in the eighth gave Austin its slender victory while Corpus Christi had an additional nine innings of batting practice in walloping Harlingen. Jim Vitter won his 17th game for the Clippers.



PINT-SIZED HITTER

Citizens around Burkburnett, Tex., won't be surprised if Doak McDonnell becomes an all-around athlete when he growns up. Doak is only three years old, but he's already showing some of the older boys how to hit and catch a baseball, dribble a basketball and throw a football. Here he takes a healthy swing at a baseball.

Parnell Is Back, And In Good Shape

BOSTON (AP)—A more confident Mel Parnell, injured nearly four months ago, took a new lease on life today and so did the Boston Red Sox after his four-hit shutout against Washington.

"I was afraid that I was all washed up—that it was too late for me to start over again," admitted the 32-year old lefthander.

The one-time ace of the Sox mound corps, making only his sixth appearance since his wrist was broken by a pitched ball against the same club April 24, allowed only two runners to get as far as second base in giving up three singles and a double for a 4-0 triumph last night.

"My arm had been worrying me for a long time," Mel said. "I was worried before this game. But once I got started I felt great."

The victory was Parnell's first of the season against three losses and his first complete game. A two-time 20-game winner for the Sox since arriving here in 1947 Parnell was hit by a pitch thrown by former roommate Maury McDermott in Washington a scant 11 days after the current campaign began.

Since that time he had lasted a total of only 8 1-3 innings in five appearances before last night.

Moore Fighting Anyone But Maxim Doesn't Appear Legal

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Somehow it doesn't seem legal: Archie Moore defending his light heavyweight title and Joey Maxim not in the other corner.

Pal Joey and Archie the Gypsy had a lock on the 175-pound division for so long that Doc Kearns almost — remember, I said almost — ran out of new cities for the tour. They started in St. Louis, moved west to Ogden, Utah, and closed temporarily in Miami. At one stage, the good doctor was talking nonsense about a "fight to the finish" in Las Vegas.

While Joey and Archie fiddled, young Harold Johnson burned. For years, Moore played the role of the neglected warrior. Once he got the title, he had eyes only for Maxim. Johnson's screaming for a Moore bout fell on deaf ears.

This is the night that Johnson gets his chance in the Madison Square Garden ring. Because he is younger — 26 to 37 — and because Archie is supposed to be having trouble making the weight, there are some who give the Philadelphia Negro a good chance to win.

Now it may be that Johnson, too often a reluctant warrior on the big time, will rip and tear into Archie with the pent-up fury of a fighter scorned. More likely, he will try to outbox him, banking on the champ tiring down the stretch.

The four previous bouts between these two men do not suggest that Moore's title is in too much danger. Archie won three of the four, dropping Johnson twice in the first bout. The last three were close but the old master seemed to have the youngster's number.

In light of past experience, it should be noted that Archie hasn't been weakened by other weight-making bouts. Last January he had legal trouble with his wife too. He walked the streets in a plastic jacket, trying to sweat it out, and had to peel off five pounds the day of the fight. Then he went into the ring and put on one of his superior performances.

Six weeks later he was a rotund 190 against big Bob Baker for a Miami Beach bout which he won by a knockout. As recently as June 7, the champ weighed a pudgy 189 plus while stopping tough Burt Whitehurst.

The last time we saw Johnson he looked anything but a champ in winning over spoiler Jimmy Slade at St. Nicholas Arena. Johnson won the fight all right but he refused to take chances in a lackluster job.

The way it looks from here, Moore's heavier punch and his proven ability to go 15 rounds will make the difference against a man who never has fought 15 rounds and may be overawed by the importance of the occasion.

Port Neches Will Do Okay This Season

DALLAS (AP)— Gene McCollum's Port Neches Indians won the class AAA state schoolboy football championship last fall to the surprise of most everybody. He hopes, but isn't too sure, he can do as well in 1954.

Back this season are 20 lettermen, including eight 1953 starters. That brilliant backfield is intact.

The team still has the blinding speed of 1953 yet is much bigger and McCollum has pretty well resigned himself to being on the spot as the 1954 campaign opens.

The backfield is made up of Jackie Hathorn at quarterback, Gordon Leboeuf and Ronnie Choate at halfbacks and Earl Sheffield at fullback. Bobby Laborde, who was a sensation in the Big Spring game when he carried the ball 64 yards on five plays for a touchdown, also is back and McCollum thinks he'll be a starter.

McCollum says he needs one end and a center to make his team as well-balanced as it was last season. One fine wingman is back — Clark Bienvenu, who missed eight weeks of the 1953 campaign because of an injury. Gene also has one tackle and two guards who were starters last year.

Shawnee Wins, Even If It Needs Money

By The Associated Press

Shawnee ignored its financial difficulties and romped to a 16-0 shutout victory over Pauls Valley in the Sooner State League Tuesday night.

The triumph enabled the Hawks to increase their league-lead over McAlester to 12½ games. Lefty Joe Roberson turned in a four-hitter as his mates smacked out 15 hits.

The Shawnee Athletic Assn. announced Tuesday the club couldn't meet its Aug. 15 payroll without emergency aid. A meeting of fans was called for Wednesday night.

Lawton moved to within 1½ games of the second place Rockets by beating them, 4-3, although outhit 8-6.

The number of buffalo in the United States and Canada has increased from about 600 in 1899 to about 35,000 today.

Dodgers And Tigers Still Tied For Lead

The last regular night of Pony League play is set for tomorrow night.

The Scurry Butane Dodgers and Courthouse Tigers remained tied after play last night when the Dodgers downed the Lions Phillies 10-5 and the Tigers gained a forfeit from the Von Roeder Red Sox, who could not field a team at game time.

The Dodgers had little trouble taking their win. In the second inning they got seven runs, two brought in on Roe Lashaway's triple and one on Ronnie Baker's three-bagger. In the fourth, Hollis Cox brought in one for the Phillies with a triple. Dwayne Overman doubled for the Red Sox with none on.

Johnny Griggs was winning pitcher. Going three innings, he struck out four, walked three, and allowed no hits. Ronnie Baker pitched the rest of the game, giving up three hits, walking four, and fanning eight. Loser was Jackie Tucker, who went five innings for eight hits, one walk, and two strikeouts. Mickey Craig pitched the last two innings for the Phillies for three hits, two walks, and three strikeouts.

Landy Didn't Tell About His Cut Foot

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—John Landy admitted yesterday he accidentally cut his left foot the day before he and Dr. Roger Bannister ran the "Miracle Mile" and said he tried to keep the injury secret so it could not be construed as an alibi.

After a day of denying published reports, the Australian miler reluctantly acknowledged the stories were true. He told reporters he stepped on a photographer's discarded flash bulb, inflicting a cut that required four stitches.

The accident occurred at 3 a.m. Friday. Andy said yesterday the cut "didn't bother me in the slightest."

Despite the injury, Landy paced the field in the mile until the closing yards when Bannister spurted past him to win in 3:58.8.

Landy was clocked in 3:59.6.

Lions May Have Big Disadvantage Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit Lions President Edwin Anderson claims his team will be at a "terrific" disadvantage against the college all-stars here Friday night.

Anderson said at a luncheon honoring the collegians yesterday the pros will find it difficult to match the collegians because of rules governing the game.

Under the rules, consented to reluctantly by Lions coach Buddy Parker, the so-called "two-platoon" system is outlawed.

The game will be under last year's college substitution regulations, requiring players to play on both offense and defense most of the time.

Parker is expected to play some of his stars only briefly. Among these is ace quarterback Bobby Layne, who may appear only a few minutes on offense because of fear of injury.

BUSINESS BLOCK BURNS

Firemen in the smoke at right still pour water onto the smouldering ruins of three business blocks destroyed by fire in Beverly, Mass., in the center of the North Shore city 18 miles from Boston. Included in the business blocks were two banks. The fire, believed of suspicious origin, caused damage estimated at a million dollars.

Foreign Watchers Keep Vigil On Portuguese Goa Conditions

By HAROLD K. MILKS

Nova Goa, Portuguese India (AP)—Portuguese Goa, which legend says was saved from invaders by a miracle two centuries ago, is depending today on different forces to halt a threatened march from India on Aug. 15.

The presence of a team of observers from six other nations, proposed this week by Portugal and agreed to by India, may postpone or even avert the invasion.

But if the foreign watchers don't have that affect, the Portuguese say they are ready. Gov. Gen. Paulo Bernard Guedes, grayhaired leader of Portugal's government here, has alerted all troops and police to repel any attempt by a "liberation army" to invade this ancient fountainhead of the Christian religion in the Indian subcontinent.

Behind these forces stand more than 300,000 Goan Christians whose forefathers helped to send the earliest Roman Catholic missionaries into India. Christians now number more than five million in India.

Portugal and the Latin nations supporting its defense of Goa regard the battle against Indian demands for a merger of the territory with the Indian republic as a holy war.

The action, they say, is in defense of the shrine of St. Francis Xavier — the Portuguese missionary who led the Catholic march to Goa and died more than 400 years ago.

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Nehru's government rejects both the claim that it is threatening the ancient fountainhead of the Christian religion in India and that the merger with India movement is a violation of Portuguese sovereignty. India, says its spokesmen, is simply supporting "legitimate attempts of the Goans themselves to win freedom from colonial suppression."

The Portuguese, and many Goan leaders here, dispute this argument. India, they say, is attempting to foment a movement both within and without the Portuguese territory to throw Portugal out of the subcontinent.

The Indian government has repeatedly asserted that it intends when and if it wins possession of Portuguese India, to retain and defend both the religious and cultural developments there.

Since 1510, when the Portuguese entered what is now Goa to help drive the Mogul armies from this territory, it has been the center of Catholic religious activity not only for India but for the whole of Southeast Asia.

The miracle which saved Goa from invaders two centuries ago directly concerned St. Francis Xavier, whose body in a great silver casket is the area's most prized religious shrine.

Military defense against the Mogul hordes seemed hopeless. The military governor of the colony prayed for divine assistance. He grasped from its shrine in Goa's cathedral the staff of St. Francis, which had been preserved as a holy relic. The invading armies turned back before reaching Goa. The staff still is handed over to each new governor general to give him strength to defend Goa.

With or without the staff, Gen. Guedes has ample strength today to drive back "volunteers" from India. But it will take a greater miracle than that of two centuries ago to save Goa for Portugal if Nehru decides to send his regular army and air forces against Goa in support of any "liberation movement."

DOG HERO PARADES

When neighborhood kids in Denison learned that Tang, a Collie owned by Capt. and Mrs. Maurice Dyer, won an award as the most heroic dog in the U.S. they quickly formed an impromptu parade. Tang, seemingly a little weary, is in the middle. Tang has savd four children from death or injury under wheels of automobiles by pushing them from the street in the last three years, two of them in the last eight months. He will accompany the Dyers to Chicago for the presentation of awards August 18, which includes $1,000 in bonds and a gold collar and chain for Tang.

Father Shoots Daughter, Self

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A truck driver shot to death his 18-year-old daughter who was to become a bride Aug. 24. Then, before his terrified 10-year-old son, he said "you're going to see some fireworks now" and killed himself.

Justice of the Peace Arthur Boening ruled murder and suicide in the deaths yesterday of Dietrich Mohlenhoff, 42, and his daughter Ella.

Mohlenhoff's brother-in-law, H. Koening, told officers Mohlenhoff was opposed to Ella's scheduled marriage to Ray Minor, 27, who lives in a trailer next to the Mohlenhoff farm home near here.

Sheriff's chief investigator Oscar Warnke and investigator Dean Jones pieced together this account from witnesses:

Ella, Adolph, the brother, and a sister, Bernice, 9, were at Koening's home. Ella said she was going to drive home to pick up a nightgown and dress for her mother, who was hospitalized yesterday morning in a nervous condition. Adolph followed her on a bike.

He arrived some five minutes after she and came on Ella's body in a pool of blood on the front porch.

The boy ran into a bedroom, where he found his father with a shotgun. The boy quoted him as saying, "You're going to see some fireworks now." He said his father then propped the shotgun on the door facing, placed the barrel against his chest and tripped the trigger with a small stick.

Adolph raced to the Koening home. The family told officers there had been family arguments in the past over Ella's planned marriage.

The mother had not been told of the shootings.

House Fails To Sell For Price Of Dollar

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—A 216-year old colonial house was scheduled for destruction today. No one would buy it for $1.

The People's Credit Union, owner of the house, had offered the old home for sale for $1 provided it was moved off land needed by the firm. Moving costs were reported to be prohibitive.

Note Of Discretion

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barbers of California closed their convention here on a note of discretion: the addition of Sen. McCarthy to the "do not discuss" list.

"McCarthyism is so controversial that in barber shops it should be classified, just like religion always has been," Vernon L. Rose told the Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of California yesterday. He is serving his 26th term as secretary-treasurer.

Sfc. Maurice O. Blackwell, 35, of Snyder is now serving with an Army railway battalion in Korea. He has been overseas since January and is a mess sergeant. An Army man since 1941, he served in the European theater during World War II. He has the bronze star medal and UN and Korean service ribbons. Both his wife and his father, R. L. Blackwell, live in Snyder.

Recount Of Votes At El Paso Continues

EL PASO (AP)—A recount of El Paso County votes in the close race between U.S. Rep. Ken Regan and State Sen. J. T. Rutherford in the July 24 Democratic primary continued today.

The court of inquiry was asked by Regan's supporters. Final official returns indicated Rutherford unseated Regan by 149 votes.

A recount of votes in the Smeltertown box tallied with the original count, 114 votes for Rutherford and 40 for Regan. A recount of precinct 17 ballots was to be finished today.

Dist. Atty. William Clayton said he would ask Dist. Judge David Mulcahy to order a recount in another box.

All Nice And Clean

DETROIT (AP)—"It was so nice and clean I couldn't know it was there," Edward Kubasiewicz said. He was explaining how he happened to walk right through a 20-by-70 inch plate glass window in a front door at police headquarters.

Kubasiewicz, on his way to get a driver's license, wasn't even scratched.

Four Sisters Set Wedding

SEATTLE (AP) — The wedding bells will chime in unison Saturday for four sisters. They will be married at a single ceremony to sweethearts whose occupations range from lawyer to newspaper publisher.

Superior Court Judge Malcolm Douglas will perform the mass ceremony uniting:

James D. Astel, publisher of the Forks, Wash., Forum, and Marion White, of Seattle.

Walter Roberge, mayor of Forks, and Mrs. Emily Baarstad, a widow who operates a Forks motel.

Fred J. Wettrick, Seattle attorney, and Dolores Lopez, operator of a millinery shop here.

And Herbert Delmonico, San Francisco millinery designer, and Mrs. Carmellita Coffman, also of San Francisco.

All eight have been married previously.

Astel, who met his bride-to-be here last November, said the four couples met through business and social contacts.

The ceremony will be private and there will be no attendants or best men.

Bride Seeks Entry To U.S.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Pfc. William G. White, 24, Kelliher, Minn., and his Czechoslovakian bride of 24 hours were en route today to Winnipeg, Man., to seek her entry into the United States.

White and Erny Pinsker, 27, were married yesterday in a ceremony on the International Bridge connecting this city with Ft. Frances, Ont.

Erny, who is in Canada on a nonquota visa, cannot join her husband in the United States until she obtains the proper papers. The Whites hope the U. S. consul in Winnipeg will solve their problem.

The couple's wedding climaxed a two-year romance that began in Frankfurt, Germany, where White was stationed and Erny worked in a home. She left Czechoslovakia in 1946 with her mother and five brothers and sisters.

Minister Takes Up A Variety Of Chores

DENNIS, Mass. (AP)—The Rev. S. C. Vern Bowman, rector of Holy Spirit Episcopal Church, has been doubling in brass this week.

He played the part of a doctor in Richard Aldrich's production of "Heaven Can Wait" at the playhouse here. He also wrote a review of the play for the newspaper Cape Codder.

Without referring to himself by name, the rector wrote of his performance: "It was obvious the frustrated ham reading the lines of the doctor was having the time of his life. Let us hope this is not the beginning of the disintegration of the American theater."

Woman Is Appointed To Serve As Constable

WEST GREENWICH, R. I. (AP)—Mrs. Jewell McCrudden became this town's first lady constable today—because of a recent dispute between two women in a cafe.

Police Chief James G. Albro said that in the cafe hassle one of the women accused the other of having a knife concealed on her person. Police deputized Mrs. McCrudden to make a search. She didn't find a knife, but gained a constable's job to carry out similar duties when needed.

PREPARING TO BLAST

A trickle of mighty Niagara River splashes through a man-made channel at Prospect Point, Niagara Falls, N.Y., scene of the tnunderous rockfall of July 28, as workmen prepare for blasting operations that will send another 3,000 tons of rock into the gorge. Drilling for dynamite charges has begun. Engineers plan to blow away the overhanging chunk of rock at the extreme right.

New Carpet Mogul Keeps Enthusiasm

NEW YORK (AP)—"It takes a damn good man to owe a million dollars," said Eugene T. Barwick.

It takes a pretty good fellow to go on from there and earn a million dollars, too. On both counts Gene Barwick is quite a guy.

Now only 40, Barwick in five years has parlayed $4,500 cash into a 30-million-dollar yearly business in tufted carpets. This has given him a reputation of being one of the top boy wonders of industry.

While some rug manufacturers were using their product to deaden the sound of their own falling tears, Gene has built his capreting firm to a point where it is now the fifth largest in the world.

"But we believe there is room for a 100 - million - dollar - a - year business in tufted rugs and carpeting," he said, "and we are willing to be the first."

Barwick figures he can do this if he can make wall-to-wall carpeting customary in the American home, and if he can mass produce carpets cheaply enough so that a housewife will feel she can afford to change them every time she changes her draperies.

Small tufted cotton rugs boomed during the war period, but many manufacturers thought housewives no longer would buy them when wool was more plentiful.

"They liquidated," said Barwick, "and they were wrong."

In 1948 Gene, who had served as a naval lieutenant in the Aleutians during the war, quit his job with a Chicago mail order firm. He had been buying its carpeting for years and felt he knew the kind women wanted—inexpensive but durable.

"I met a bedspread manufacturer who had gone broke for $70,000," he said. "And I taught him how to make tufted cotton carpets.

"I had only $4.500. I invested $2,500 in a latex-coating machine that would keep the carpets from skidding. Then I took to the road and the other $2,000 went into selling expenses. Did it work? It had to work."

It worked so well that in mid-1950 the firm was doing a three-million-dollar business. The partner, deciding no good thing lasts forever, sold out to Barwick.

Gene kept right on expanding, went into debt developing new and more efficient machinery. Now he has five plants in Georgia, machines that can turn out a 9-by-10-foot tufted cotton, nylon or rayon carpet every 29 seconds. Weavers from Scotland and England come to study his new techniques.

Youth Drowns While Taking Instruction

VICTORIA, Tex, (AP)—Royce Darnell, 19, drowned near here yesterday while practicing underwater pipelaying.

The youth, wearing a heavy diving helmet, was in 20 feet of water while an instructor for a construction company relayed diving and pipe laying techniques from the surface.

When he didn't answer four emergency signals, the instructor, Tom Broome, and two other students went down and pulled Darnell up.

Broome said water rushed into the helmet.

Bara Is Recuperating

ONLY BRUISED

Michael Lewis, 13, of near Greenville, Pa., was pinned for three hours by this 2-ton boulder which toppled on him as he was playing. A big motor crane was brought three miles from a plant near Greenville to lift the boulder. Michael suffered only bruises.

Three Of A Kind

HORSEHEADS, N. Y. (AP)—Three cars collided at an intersection yesterday and the drivers found they had more in common than dented fenders.

Police identified the motorists as Mrs. Margaret Robinson, Ralph L. Robinson and Clifton G. Robinson. They were not related.

About a quarter of U. S. hospital patients are cared for in government hospitals.

Finds One Wife He Doesn't Recognize

DETROIT (AP)—Oscar C. Black, 28, was charged in a polygamy warrant yesterday with having three wives, but he insisted the charge should be only bigamy.

"I've never seen you before," he told Mrs. Edna R. Black, who said she has been Black's wife since 1949.

Black was confronted with three women in the prosecutor's office. Mrs. Lillie G. Black said he married her in 1943. Mrs. Belle Carney Black said he married her last Saturday in Toledo, Ohio.

Complying With Law Is A Costly Process

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Peggy Huston complied with traffic laws yesterday but she told police it cost her a $2,500 diamond ring.

The woman reported that as she gave the arm signal for a left turn the ring apparently fell off her finger. She discovered her loss moments later, returned to the intersection but couldn't find the ring.

About 800 A.D. in Ethiopia, crushed coffee beans, molded together with fat, were eaten as food.

Lost 45 Pounds With Barcentrate

"The first time I took Barcentrate, I lost 45 pounds," writes Mrs. Harold Newburn, 517 Tulane Ave., Lubbock, Texas. "I take it now as an aid to regularity and to appease my appetite."

And Mrs. L. H. Davis, 5606 Clay, Houston, Texas, says: "I have lost about 8 pounds taking Barcentrate. I want to continue until I have lost 25 pounds."

If the very first bottle of Barcentrate doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You can get Barcentrate at any Texas druggist.

Manufacturers Take Another Look At New Paris Fashions

NEW YORK (AP)—Brassiere and corset manufacturers are taking a second look today at Parisian dressmakers' new ideas about the female figure.

Some are now saying there can be gold in flattening out those curves.

The exaggerated bosom and the pinched-in waist were a bonanza for the industry. But how many manufcaturers in any industry that leans on fasion balk at a change?

If the hour-glass look runs out, as Paris decrees, it might lead hordes of women to think they needed a new wardrobe—from the skin out.

At first the foundation garment makers feared the flat look would mean a return of the corsetless days of the 20s. Now most of them say the foundation garment—though a somewhat changed one—will still be necessary if the new duds catch on.

Some doubt that they will, however. They contend Paris may set the fasion for the comparatively few in the high-style world. But they say the mass market in this country usually follows the taste, if any, of the reigning Hollywood movie star. Present contenders for that title all tend toward the lush side.

"If the new style catches on, we can profit from it," one foundation garment expert says. "Bosoms will still be there. In the new styles they just aren't top heavy."

"Word from Paris is that it will take new foundations to achieve the new silhouette. We'll have to learn to make them—and to sell them."

One selling point the industry spokesmen are sharpening up is that women's waists will be freer. The new foundation garments will let out some of the pinch in the middle. They will hold the hips more tightly—but make them look slimmer, less rounded.

"That's where most women have their trouble, anyway," another girdle fashioner says. "The present styles of pinching in the waist and accenting the hips makes some of them look a little unattractive."

Manufacturers doubt if the new fashion, supposing it catches on, shows up much in the stores before spring.

Retail store buyers can bite a few nails in the meantime, pondering that situation. Manufacturers say that ordering of fall merchandise has been below normal. Stores are being cautious while they wait to see if all the pleasant predictions about an uplift—in business generally, that is—comes to pass in the fall.

Now they can wonder if the garments—inner and outer—that they are stocking will be considered old hat in a few months. Or whether—as a sizable number loudly contend—that American women will have nothing to do with a style that de-emphasizes glories which with time have been developed into something quite impressive.

And the men? First reaction was bitterly critical of anything tending to change sidewalk scenery.

But manufacturers who champion a change contend that men will find that the bosom line is only "higher, softer and more feminine."

The garment and textile industries have been looking for something to lead them out of their business slump. Who knows? Perhaps the gals, should they all rush to buy new outfits, will blaze the trail. Might even give the nation's economy a little nudge all on their own.

Hoover Willing To Help In Campaign

By RELMAN MORIN

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Former President Hoover says he will be "glad to help in any way I can" in Republican political campaigning between now and the November elections.

He was completing a round of visits in his native Iowa today.

They began yesterday in his birthplace at the nearby village of West Branch, where more than 10,000 people gathered to honor him on his 80th birthday. After the "birthday party," he flew to Mason City and was scheduled to dedicate a school there and another in Cedar Rapids before flying to New York this afternoon.

The nature of his speech at West Branch aroused considerable speculation as to whether it was an opening gun in the GOP political cannonading. He blasted the Democrats for presidential "misuse of power" in both domestic and foreign policies during the 20 years they were in office.

Before he left his hometown, a reporter asked him if he intends to make any campaign speeches this fall.

"I have no specific plans," he said, "but I'll be glad to help in any way I can."

Hoover's appearance, on his 80th birthday, deeply surprised people who had not seen him in some years. He was full of vigor. He marched through a warm sun, delivered a lengthy speech without a falter, rode dusty miles to dedicate schools in Iowa City and West Branch — and was still in a joking mood at the end of a long day.

"Some people have to endow a school to have it named after them," he told a crowd at a new elementary school. "I am more fortunate."

The force with which he attacked the actions of the Democrats, and the applause he evoked, showed that he is still capable of taking part in a political affray.

Among the major points he made were:

1. "Unrestrained presidential actions have resulted in a shrinking of human freedom over the whole world. From these actions came the jeopardies of the cold war. As a by product, these actions have shrunk our freedoms by crushing taxes, huge defense costs, inflation and compulsory military service."

2. "Our tacit alliance with Soviet Russia spread communism over the earth."

3. "More terrible were such agreements as our recognition of Russia which opened the headgates for a torrent of traitors."

4. American "acquiescence" in Soviet annexationist policy "extinguished the liberties of tens of millions of people" in Poland, the Baltic states, Mongolia, North Korea and China.

5. These actions were a "misuse of power."

6. Socialist doctrines had gained headway in the United States, and elsewhere in the world; the Socialists "furnished the boarding ladders by which the Communists captured the ship of state."

7. Individual initiative, enterprise and courage are stultified by Socialist doctrine and practice.

8. "Spies and traitors, when exposed, sought sanctuary for their infamies in the Fifth Amendment. Such a plea of immunity is an admission of guilt.

9. What the nation needs now is "to restore the checks and balances of power, to reinvigorate state and local governments, and to deflate bureaucratic empires."

Hoover charged that during the 20 years immediately after his administration the White House "encroached" on both the legislative and judicial branches of government.

The whole speech was one of the strongest attacks on the Democrats since the 1952 presidential campaign.
