'Artificial Astronaut' Sent Around Earth, Capsule Recovered In Atlantic

BY FORCE OF ARMS

U. N. Ends Rebel Regime In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations announced today a forcible end to Katanga's secession from the Congo. U.N. troops downed military resistance in a blood-spilling fight of several hours at Elisabethville, the provincial capital.

President Moise Tshombe fled, denouncing the attack, and the Leopoldville central government appointed an administrator to take over the mineral-rich province.

"The Katanga secession is over," U.N. headquarters here was told by its Elisabethville representative, Conor Cruise O'Brien. "Katanga is now a Congolese province."

This would mean an end to the independence of the lush, copper-laden plateau land proclaimed by Tshombe 14 months ago.

It also would mean diversion of millions in tax revenues from Katanga's $900-million annual production to the treasury of the deficit-run central government.

Casualties among Elisabethville defenders were undetermined.

Swedish sources said one U. N. soldier, a Gurka in Indian ranks, was killed. They reported five Swedes and seven Indians wounded. U. N. headquarters here said two U. N. soldiers were killed and five or six wounded.

Premier Cyrille Adoula announced the Katanga army—stripped of its 500 or so white mercenaries by another show of U. N. force Aug. 28—will be integrated with troops of the central government's commander in chief, Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

Adoula told newsmen he had asked the United Nations to take over all essential services in Katanga and his government has declared a state of emergency in the province.

A radio report picked up from Elisabethville said Tshombe, after reaching a safe hideout, issued a statement.

"The United Nations tricked me right to the end. Only last night they gave me a solemn promise that they would not go against Katanga," he said.

77 Die As Plane Falls In Africa

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—A French jet airliner falling its way through a heavy fog crashed and burned in a rocky ravine Tuesday night. Air France officials said all 77 persons aboard perished.

Three U.S. citizens, an Arabian prince, the Australian ambassador to Cairo, a Moroccan diplomat and two Soviet citizens were among the victims, an Air France spokesman said.

the Katanga government. Nor would they disarm Katanga's troops, they said," the statement said.

"Early today they told me they were arresting three of my ministers and wanted to take me to Leopoldville."

Adoula said three of Tshombe's ministers, including Interior Minister Godefroid Munongo, have fled. Munongo is considered the strong man of the province. About 150 U. N. Irish soldiers were reported surrounded by 500 Katanga soldiers in the mining town of Jadotville about 60 miles from Elisabethville.

Adoula said that Tuesday night Katanga forces set fire to a U. N. garage and when U. N. troops went to put out the blaze they were fired on by mercenaries from the Belgian consulate.

A Katanga tank later fired on a U. N. vehicle near the post office and a general battle broke out, he said.

Packaging Clothing

Boxes of usable clothing, blankets and furniture at the Big Spring Salvation Army Post await delivery to the disaster area where Hurricane Carla passed. A drive has been under way to collect these items. Workers from Webb AFB have collected the material and volunteers at the post have sorted them and prepared them for shipping when instructions are received where to send the articles. Left to right are Mrs. W. H. Whorton, Airman Bill Sken, Maj. Robert L. Short, post commander, and Sgt. B. E. Frather.

U.S. Takes A Long Stride

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States took a long stride toward manned orbital flight today by rocketing a Mercury space capsule into orbit and recovering it after one sweep around the earth.

The two-tone capsule, which carried an "artificial astronaut," was fished from the Atlantic Ocean 161 miles east of Bermuda by the destroyer USS Decatur at 12:14 p.m.—just over three hours after it roared away from Cape Canaveral on the nose of an Atlas missile.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the capsule will be returned to Cape Canaveral as soon as possible for study.

The single orbit of the earth had taken one hour and 46 minutes.

The capsule was launched from the Cape Canaveral test center at 9:04 a.m. (EST).

The capsule is identical to the one a man is expected to ride on a three-turn orbital flight in a few months. The robot spaceman—a small gray box of instruments—was designed to "breathe, sweat and talk" just like a human astronaut.

LONG LEAP

Full success for the trial would be a long leap forward in the program aimed to match or surpass Russia's manned orbital flights.

NASA officials spotted the landing point as 160 miles east of Bermuda, some 40 miles short of the planned impact point.

That created some delay in the recovery operation. The USS Decatur, a destroyer, was the closest ship. It arrived about noon EST.

Helicopters also were dispatched from the USS Plymouth Rock, an LSD which is the flagship of the recovery fleet.

Reverse rockets were set off as the space traveler sped over the Mexican west coast, to slow it for a descent into the Atlantic east of Bermuda. There the move was made to recover the Project Mercury capsule, just as would be done if a spaceman were aboard.

REAL SPACEMAN

A fully successful operation would be a long stride toward the time, hopefully—but not certainly within this year—when a real spaceman will fly the route on a three-turn orbit.

An automatic timing device fired the three small slow-down rockets attached to the base of the capsule at 10:33 a.m. as the vehicle neared the end of its single whirl around the globe. As a backup, a ground station at Guaymas, Mexico, sent a radio signal to ignite the rockets.

The intention was to slow the capsule by 350 miles from its orbital speed of 17,520 m.p.h. This was enough to ease the craft gradually back to earth under the pull of gravity.

The flawless performance of the Atlas and spaceman were reported by the Mercury control center from the instant of launch.

Shortly after the rocket blasted off in a swirl of flame the tracking station on Bermuda picked up clean signals from the booster and capsule.

CONFIRMED

The NASA confirmed that the capsule had achieved orbit 20 minutes after liftoff.

An announcement said the Atlas engine flung the two-ton capsule free at a point 500 miles down range from Cape Canaveral at an altitude of 90 miles.

The shot could start this nation on the long road to overtake the Soviet Union's lead in the space race. Two Soviets, Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov, have been reported returned safely from orbital trips.

The United States also has two experienced spacemen in Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom. They survived brief 15-minute suborbital flights which provided valuable data for the orbital rides. No further suborbital launches are planned.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the main goals of today's flight were:

1. To place the capsule in orbit and bring it back to earth in a preplanned area, all automatically.

2. To test Mercury's worldwide tracking, data-gathering and flight control network.

3. To test the thousands of devices in the capsule in orbital flight.

4. To determine how well the space craft withstands re-entry heat expected to reach 2,000 degrees and re-entry forces eight times the pull of gravity.

Duty Call

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy moved today to call another 1,957 reservists to active duty next month to bring 13 reserve air squadrons to full strength.

Death Count Reaches 19 In Hurricane's Wake

GALVESTON (AP)—Hurricane Carla, retaining a killer punch with its flood-producing rains, took four more lives today while Gulf of Mexico coastal residents still sought to return home.

The death count reached 19 along 250 miles of coastline laid waste by 175 mile winds, severe tides and from floods reaching into Kansas and Missouri.

Latest reported deaths were four persons whose station wagon was swept off a road at Waverly, Kan.

Texas and Louisiana coastal residents faced a mammoth task of rebuilding and cleaning up after Carla, one of the mightiest hurricanes ever to roar out of the Gulf.

The freeway to Galveston became clear of tides today, for the first time since Sunday, and residents began flowing back to the island in a heavy stream, impeded by sightseers.

Some other coastal cities and towns could not be reached by land.

Southwest down the coast from Galveston, Aransas Pass Mayor E. W. Tarrant declared his town and Mustang Island quarantined. No person may enter without valid reason and then only after receiving typhoid shots. Water and food was being brought in by boat.

In Galveston, guards shot one suspected 18-year-old looter in the foot and arrested eight others as suspected looters.

Homer Garrison, head of the state police conferred with the governor and issued a stern warning to souvenir hunters and sightseers.

Garrison and Daniel decided that only persons with official business would be passed through roadblocks manned by armed law officers in areas not cleared for rehabilitation.

Crews of workmen on a special train loaded with mobile equipment rolled into the stricken areas to restore communications.

Spokesmen for Southwestern Bell said 143,301 telephones were out of service at one time or another.

At least seven tornadoes kicked up by Carla's winds caused damage and in some cases deaths before and after the hurricane struck.

Tornadoes Kill 5 In Louisiana

JONESBORO, La. (AP)—Three days of Hurricane Carla-spawned tornado terror left at least five known dead, others possibly missing and heavy property damage through Louisiana today.

A rash of tornadoes began striking the state last Sunday. Few touched ground, but one killed four-week-old Nancy Ann Simon, the first victim of Carla, when it struck Kaplan.

Tornadoes harassed the state Monday at Indian Village, St. Joe and Plaisance, three small hamlets scattered through the southern section.

As Carla spun northeastward through Texas Tuesday, a killer twister struck the Jonesboro-Hodge section of north-central Louisiana.

Four persons were killed and at least 30 were injured. Damages were estimated near a quarter-million at Hodge.

Not Another?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Esther, with peak winds at 130 miles an hour, churned on a west-northwest course today as the tropical Atlantic tossed out hurricanes in Roman candle fashion.

Betsy, Debbie and now Esther have sprung in the past two weeks from the tropical storm nesting grounds off Africa's west coast.

A hurricane hunter airplane from San Juan, P.R., penetrated the storm early today and estimated the center about 1,400 statute miles east of San Juan. The hurricane was moving west-northwest at about 12 m.p.h.

Esther was labeled a "dangerous hurricane" and shipping in her path was warned to exercise caution.

Forecasters Elbert Hill said the course, if unchanged, would carry Esther to the U.S. mainland. But he emphasized it was too early to determine if other weather factors would alter Esther's course.

To Help After Hurricane Carla

Four telephone operators with the Southwest Bell Telephone Company in Big Spring left this morning to join 15 others from the Midland District to assist with telephone service in the coastal

Gas Well Fire Is Still Burning

MONAHAN (AP)—A gas well fire between here and Fort Stockton still burned today after it was momentarily controlled.

The fire followed an explosion Saturday that killed 2 workmen and injured 73. Two others were missing and presumed dead.

Efforts to put out the blaze are being directed by Red Adair, an oil well fire fighter from Houston.

ATOM EXPERT CITES NEED FOR SHELTERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, world-famous nuclear scientist, is advocating a massive national effort to build atomic shelters. He has built one for himself.

The answer is no. Dr. Teller's explanation: he considered the question carefully on a personal basis, he told AP science writer Alton Blakeslee in an interview, and decided as a proponent of civil defense to work for community shelters in a crowded area like his home town of Berkeley, Calif.

Individuals, he says, can do something to reduce their personal risks in a nuclear war. But community action can provide more and better shelters which could be reached quickly by a great number of people.

Witness Says She Heard Screams, Saw Feit Leave

AUSTIN (AP)—A young Edinburg woman testified today that she saw the Rev. John B. Feit, a Roman Catholic priest, hurry out of the Sacred Heart Church on the night he is accused of attempting to rape a Pan American College coed.

Mrs. Maria Christina Tijerina, speaking through an interpreter, said she heard screaming and saw Father Feit come quickly out of one door, but turn and re-enter the church when he saw Mrs. Tijerina.

She was the third witness in the trial of the Roman Catholic priest in district court here. The priest is 27.

Asked to describe the man she saw at the church, Mrs. Tijerina pointed at Father Feit and said in English: "That's him."

She testified she also saw Miss Maria America Guerra, who testified Tuesday that Father Feit attacked her March 23, 1960, while she knelt before the altar saying her rosary.

"Miss Guerra was walking fast, crying, screaming and asking for help," Mrs. Tijerina said through the interpreter. "She told me a man had caught her in the church."

A prosecutor asked the interpreter what other interpretation could be made for "caught." Joe Alama answered "grabbed."

Defense lawyer Fred Seman moved for a mistrial four times during Mrs. Tijerina's testimony. The motions came after the witness mentioned a lie detector test she was given at McAllen after she signed a statement in April 1960.

Mrs. Tijerina said Father Feit "had a big white piece of rag or towel in his hand" when he came out of the church.

Miss Guerra had testified her attacker tried to stuff a white handkerchief in her mouth and she escaped only after biting him on the finger.

Miss Guerra testified for nearly six hours Tuesday.

Aid Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today approved a $4,196,600,000 foreign aid money bill.

THOSE NUCLEAR EGGHEADS DON'T KNOW NOTHIN' NOHOW

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton man planned to build a nuclear blast shelter.

The original design was produced for testing at the Nevada proving grounds. Nuclear engineers claimed it would withstand five times the pressure of an atomic blast and keep out gamma rays and fallout.

Its estimated cost was above $2,500. The resident hired a contractor. An engineer approved the plans. A 17-foot pit was dug in his backyard.

Then he applied to Montgomery County officials for a building permit.

His application was denied.

County engineers questioned whether the shelter would hold up the six feet of earth the man planned to pile on top of it. (See Page 2-A.)

Sub Teachers Given Pay Raise

Substitute teachers in the Big Spring School system were granted a pay raise of $2 a day, bringing their schedule to $12 a day, by action of trustees at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

"We are on the low end of the substitute teacher pay scale," Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, said, "and are experiencing difficulty in getting top quality teachers."

Sebron B. Williams, director of curriculum, pointed out that some other schools in the area paid substitute teachers higher salaries, although none approached the pay scale of a regular teacher.

An inexperienced teacher drawing the state minimum gets $22.30 a day.

The proposal was immediately adopted unanimously.

Trustees increased travel allowance from seven cents a mile to eight cents a mile. This figure is the same as the state mileage allowance.

The increase does not raise the budgeted expenditure for travel, but may curtail traveling if the total budgeted is expended. The measure passed by unanimous vote.

A request made by T. Sgt. Marvin Lease at Webb AFB to enroll his child who is under school age was turned down. Trustees decided to stay in line with the present policy of not allowing underage children to enroll.

At present, if a student has completed half of the school year at an accredited school he will be allowed to complete the year despite being under age. Students must be six years old before Sept. 1 of the year in order to begin school here.

Membership in the Texas Association of School Boards was renewed by vote of trustees. The annual cost is $100.

Tentative plans were made for

GOOD DAY FOR FUND

Another good day greeted the Bible Class Fund today and pushed it a notch nearer the homestretch.

The Philathea Class of the First Methodist Church, perhaps the longest continuously organized Sunday School Class in town, boosted the cause with $100, contributing to a $170 day. This pushed to $2,609.19 the amount so far raised on a $3,500 goal from volunteer contributions. This year there are five classes of Bible at the high school, a record number.

Most Could Survive Blast Of Atom Bomb

EDITOR'S NOTE—By taking the necessary measures now, a world-famous nuclear scientist says, the United States could survive the blast of an atom bomb.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The date is some dreadful tomorrow.

The holocaust of nuclear war suddenly sweeps the United States.

But 90 per cent of Americans could actually survive, declares Dr. Edward Teller of H-bomb fame.

And in three to four years, they could rebuild desolated industries, cities, schools, homes. Democratic institutions would function again.

Lingering radiation would be a problem, but not insuperable, he says. The human race would not perish. Nor would future generations be destined to be born misshapen monsters.

Dr. Teller is convinced this country and other nations could survive despite the "doomsday" fear which grips and paralyzes millions of people in the face of nuclear war.

Indeed, he regards this attitude and lack of defense as a temptation for a well-prepared nation to launch thermonuclear war.

BID TO PANIC
It is an invitation to panic and wholesale, needless loss of life if bombs ever fall, says the famous physicist of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory of the University of California.

Three steps could create the defense for insurance against war, or for national survival if it comes. Dr. Teller said in an interview challenging many general conceptions:

1. Building shelters against fall-out and against the blast and fire from nuclear bombs.

2. Stockpiling surplus food, machinery, machine tools, generators, building materials—the essentials to generate power, start factories, build more machines, transport people and goods, and assure communications.

3. Planning organized efforts to carry people through the terrible early days, and the hard, demanding, cooperative labor to rebuild modern civilization.

It would cost billions of dollars, perhaps an average of $4 billion for some years, Dr. Teller says.

FIRST STEP
"A first step could be simply to distribute our surplus foods to strategic places throughout the country. This could be done in half a year."

"I believe the Russians will be more likely to attack if we are not prepared."

"It is quite clear the Russians are doing more than we are in creating a defense. I have heard they have good shelters for at least a fraction of their population. They are not in fine shape, but they are ahead of us."

"With a system of defense, and organization, we could win a war. By showing we are prepared, we could avoid it," says the Hungarian-born scientist.

Dr. Teller warns the time is short.

Soviet resumption of nuclear testing is frightening, he says. For it could mean the Soviets have been testing new weapons secretly underground in the past two or three years, and have decided to make open tests simply to answer some final questions.

DON'T CARE
The Soviets knew open testing would force or irritate the United States into more testing, and arouse adverse opinion.

But an edge won through secret testing could mean "they are so far ahead in weaponry they don't care what we do."

Dr. Teller says "if we don't prepare, 100 million Americans could die in the first days of an all-out war. Thirty to forty millions more could die from starvation and disease. The United States would cease to exist."

"But I firmly believe 90 per cent of our population could be saved. It means 20 million would die, and this is terrible to contemplate. But why not try to give 90 per cent a decent chance for survival?"

Nuclear war "would be one of the most horrible things imaginable, and everything should be done to prevent it."

But, he adds, he is dismayed by "those who say that a nuclear war necessarily means the end of everything."

NOT EVERYTHING
"The fear of radiation is much greater than it deserves to be. It is not true that radiation, even from an all-out war, would destroy all forms of life."

"And it is simply not true that if war came, everything is hopeless."

"We can prepare."

"One-third of our people would not even be in danger, because they don't live near targets the bombs hit."

"One-third could be protected well enough by fallout shelters. One-third would be in trouble, but they could have a 70 per cent chance of survival, if given decent shelters."

Flood Waters Bare 3 Towns

PORT O'CONNOR, Tex. (AP)—Receding waters uncovered three smashed towns today. They were Port O'Connor, Port Alto and Olivia, which got the full fury of Hurricane Carla.

Bob Brister of the Houston Chronicle said Port O'Connor doesn't have a business building standing. The town had about 950 residents.

Three structures remain of the several hundred homes and cottages that made up the resort village of Port Alto, near Port O'Connor.

Olivia, another small fishing resort, was flattened. At least two persons were found dead. Several were missing.

Rescue workers sorted through debris, dead animals, overturned boats, house roofs and live rattlesnakes.

The two dead were Jose Salinas, 55, and his son, Domingo, 17. They drowned when their house near Port Alto collapsed.

Other members of the Salinas family waded to safety.

Billy Madden, 75, Port O'Connor fisherman, was missing and presumed dead.

Evacuees stared in disbelief when they returned.

Red Plan For Corridor Interference Is Revealed

BERLIN (AP)—The Communists may try to interfere with Western flights to Berlin after staging incidents at this old German capital's airports, say West Berlin officials.

Communist East Germany already claims the right to control the air corridors into this city 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain. The claim is challenged by the United States, Britain and France.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's office reported Tuesday it had learned of plans to sneak East German agents into the crowds of refugees and others at West Berlin's Tempelhof and Tegel airports during the next few days.

The agents then would throw themselves on the ground and shout: "I don't want to be kidnapped."

The East Germans claim that many of the refugees who streamed into West Berlin before the Reds threw up a wall through the divided city were lured by Western intelligence agents and spirited away by air to West Germany.

Many refugees still are in West Berlin awaiting air transportation out of the city. East Germany controls road, rail and canal transport over the 110 miles of Communist territory between the city and West Germany. The air corridors are the city's last union, the major opposition group, did not take part. It urged Dominicans to tell the OAS committee, made up of the United States, Ecuador, Colombia and Panama, that the opposition rejects any idea of holding elections as scheduled next May as long as "the family of the dictator (Trujillo) still exercises effective and real control over all national institutions."

While President Joaquin Balaguer is the nominal head of the nation, the real power is generally considered to rest in the hands of Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., chief of the armed forces and son of the slain dictator.

Russia Sets Off Another Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has touched off another nuclear blast in the atmosphere—the seventh since it resumed testing 13 days ago.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the blast had the force of several million tons of TNT.

Baptists Give Hurricane Aid

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Baptist leaders gave $25,000 from their contingency fund Tuesday to aid the victims of Hurricane Carla.

Members were urged to replace the $25,000 in a special relief offering to be collected at their churches next Sunday.

The Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas unanimously approved the offering at a Dallas meeting.

Baptists also were asked to be "good Samaritans by providing food, clothing and other usable materials."

The board said the relief collection should not curtail giving to another special offering for state missions which will be taken in Baptist churches Sunday.

"The disaster of Hurricane Carla calls for a hearty response by Christians to relieve human suffering in the spirit of Christ," said a special committee of the board which was set up to direct plans for aid to the distressed area.

A three-point proposal to cut the denomination's $13,688,000 budget by 5 per cent for the remainder of 1961 to make up a 15 per cent deficit in operating funds was approved.

4 Dead After Dominican Riots

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Tanks and troops restored order today after rioting by opposition political groups left four dead and more than a score injured.

The violence was sparked by the arrival of a four-man team from the Organization of American States Tuesday. They are investigating the possibility of lifting some of the diplomatic and economic sanctions on the Dominican regime that took over after the assassination of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo last May. The opposition fears this would entrench Trujillo's heirs in power.

There were conflicting versions of what happened near Duarte Bridge over the Ozama River around noon Tuesday, when a crowd of about 5,000, mostly from a nearby working class neighborhood, gathered to greet the OAS delegates.

Opposition eyewitnesses claimed that a car filled with armed forces and plain clothes police jumped out of their unmarked car and fired pistols and automatic rifles into the crowd.

But Col. Marcos Jorge, chief of the national police, said an air force sergeant, Victoriano Cruz Hernandez, was angered when the crowd stoned his car, emptied his revolver into the demonstrators and then fired his automatic rifle.

Cruz Hernandez was turned over to civilian authorities for investigation, Jorge said.

The OAS caravan was chased about a mile toward the city by the crowd. Demonstrators chanted "liberty" and "brutality" and beat on the cars. Some carried placards deriding the U.S. representative, Ambassador Morrison, for accepting a medal from Trujillo. He has said the State Department advised him to accept it.

Jorge said two policemen were wounded in the shooting and six were hospitalized after being stoned. The opposition said about 15 in the crowd were wounded by bullets.

Some of the opposition leaders claim the police have provoked numerous riots—killing more than a dozen demonstrators in past weeks—and are trying to weaken the opposition by branding it as pro-Communist.

IN THE RIGHT PLACE

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 3800 West Highway 80 P.O. Box 1281.

There are people in this community who not only are sincerely seeking to be the church of Christ; but are seeking in the right place. They are going to the Bible for their instructions, their doctrine, their correction, their reproof. They take the Bible as their only guide.

"All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness" (II Tim. 3:16).

These people also recognize that the Scriptures must be rightly divided (II Tim. 2:15). There are two Testaments; not one. If the Old Testament were binding on us the same as the New, why are there two Testaments (or wills)?

He taketh away the first, that He may establish the second. By the which will we are sanctified... (Heb. 10:10, 11).

Hence people must seek to be the New Testament church, if they are to be right.

I have found a people who seek to be New Testament Christians. Could they be the true church? Come and see.

10 BIG DAYS TO SAVE—NO MONEY DOWN

Louisianans Return Home

CAMERON, La. (AP)—Women and children began the long, possibly sad journey down muddy coastal roads today—many not knowing what they would find left of homes battered by Hurricane Carla.

A day earlier husbands, fathers and brothers had returned to this town of 5,200 to inspect damages wrought by giant tides and Calcasieu Lake floodwaters. Many remembered the same trip 4 years ago when Hurricane Audrey took 590 lives and destroyed $11 million in property.

Louisiana officials placed crop losses in the millions.

More than 40,000 escaped to the higher, safer cities to the north last weekend when Carla made a mad rush toward the Louisiana-Texas coast and veered to Texas.

The storekeepers, trappers and fishermen made the 30-mile journey south to Cameron Tuesday. Most traveled by boats. Water still covered most roads.

To the surprise of many, homes were undamaged by the winds. Most felt the ravaging salt waters of the Gulf.

Cameron apparently escaped a major disaster, but there were many reminders of Carla's visitation.

Dead snakes, muskrats, birds—all forms of wildlife that abound in the verdant marshlands—cluttered the roadways into Cameron. A monumental cleanup job was in the offing.

"I wish I had stayed in Lake Charles," said Lee Broussard, even though his home was undamaged.

Rayburn Declines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn has asked that plans to strike a gold medal in his honor be dropped.

Twister Bounces Off Latex

LATEX, Tex. (AP)—A tornado hit the United Gas Co.'s property at this Louisiana border community at dawn today, destroying a home and injuring two persons.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cabiness were hurt when the twister wrecked the company house in which they lived. Five other houses were damaged. Cabiness is a warehouse worker for United Gas. The couple was taken to Panola County Hospital at Carthage.

Reports indicated the tornado confined its destruction to the United Gas property. The compression plant itself escaped damage.

Latex is in Northeast Texas, 20 miles southeast of Marshall.

Douglas En Route To Mongol Nation

MOSCOW (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas passed through Moscow Tuesday en route to Ulan Bator, capital of Outer Mongolia.

He will be the highest ranking American ever to visit that remote Asian country, which is not recognized by the United States.

Parsons Retirement Issue Is Unsettled After Trustee Meet

The question of whether Floyd Parsons, former superintendent, is eligible for teacher retirement during his tenure as a consultant with the Big Spring Independent School District remained unsettled after discussion by trustees at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Previously trustees had voted to retain Parsons as a consultant at a minimum teacher's pay of $2,695 until Feb. 1, 1962 to qualify him for retirement with 30 years of service in the Texas school system. This was increased to $3,135 with the State raise of $810.

According to an interpretation by the Texas Education Agency, given to trustees Tuesday, to qualify for teacher retirement a person must render one-half day of service each day for 4 1/2 months at the minimum state salary. This means that Parsons must work for the school district 2 1/2 days a week. It does not matter whether this work is done while he is here or at Little Rock, Ark. where he is superintendent of schools.

The question arose whether the business manager could legitimately certify that Parsons was complying with all these requirements while he is away from Big Spring. The business manager must certify that all persons for whom funds are sent in for teacher retirement are eligible.

Other consultants for the school are on a contract basis. Since they do not work half-time for the schools, they are not eligible for teacher retirement.

A contract with Shasta Ford Company for a driver education car was submitted for action and was approved unanimously. The school receives use of the vehicle, a 1962 four-door sedan, for a maximum cost of $175 a year.

Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, discussed the effect of the sales tax on athletic admissions and other sales made by the school.

Enrollment figures in the schools were given for Sept. 8, 1961 with a total of 7,000 students enrolled. On Sept. 7, 1960, the comparable date a year ago, the figure was 6,900.

UAW Orders End To Strikes

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers today ordered local unions to end strikes at General Motors factories as quickly as they conclude at-the-plant working agreements.

The UAW also called off a scheduled 2 p.m. Thursday meeting of its General Motors Conference which had been summoned to wrap up a new three-year contract with the world's largest automaker.

The union urged intensification of local-level bargaining "to reach sensible and satisfactory solutions to local problems at the earliest possible date." It said the GM conference meeting was being delayed to permit local union officers to remain at their plant bargaining tables.

Scout Roundtable Planned Thursday

The first Roundtable group meeting for Scouts and Cubs is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the old student union building of Howard County Junior College, Bill McRee, Scout executive, said Wednesday.

The Cub theme for October will be "Sleepy Hollow Land," and will be directed by Gene Campbell, Round-table leader. All Cub leaders are requested to be present, including Cub Masters and Den Mothers.

Boy Scout leaders will be led in their theme, Morse Code, by Garrett Patton. The highlights of the program will be signaling and signal devices, including wig-wag, flashlighting, heliograph, buzzer, and blinker.

McRee said the first Big Fall Round-up Round Table will be emphasized at the meeting.

Optimist Club Hears Musicians

Police Seek Statement From Slaying Suspect

Big Spring police were attempting to secure a statement from Mrs. Mildred Louise Friar Wednesday morning at a local hospital where she has been under treatment for shock following the fatal shooting of her estranged husband Monday night.

Chief Jay Banks said the woman had been in no condition for making statements since the shooting occurred around 10:30 p.m. Monday. She was in an hysterical condition, when officers arrived at the scene at 811 Lancaster, and was taken to the hospital.

"We have issued a warrant, and she is under arrest in the hospital. We have also issued orders that she be released to us when she is able to leave the hospital," Banks continued. "Officers of our department making the investigation

Monday night were acting on my orders."

The body of Vernon L. Friar, 34, the victim, was taken to Austin Tuesday night by River Funeral Home ambulance. Rites are pending there at the Wilke - Clay Funeral Home.

The shooting occurred at Mrs. Friar's residence on Lancaster when the victim was alleged to have broken into the home.

Mrs. Friar was charged with murder with malice, following a ruling by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter that death was due to gun shot wounds not self-inflicted.

Police were called to the scene by a River Funeral Home ambulance driver who had been called earlier.

A complete investigation was made by police under Capt. Walter Eubanks, including photographs of the scene, and questioning of witnesses. Eubanks called Chief Banks from the scene and told him what he had found and continued the investigation.

Vernon Friar, a former employee of Texas Electric Service Co., had recently moved to Abilene following divorce proceedings filed by Mrs. Friar.

The divorce suit was dismissed Tuesday at the district court office.

The Friar children, Jesse Ladd, 11, and Andrew, 2, are under the care of Mrs. Friar's mother, Mrs. Lillie Bell Willford.

Mrs. Friar was employed as a secretary in the office of Mrs. George Zachariah, chief dietitian at the VA Hospital in Big Spring.

Kennedy Sends Aide To Texas

HOUSTON (AP) — President Kennedy is sending the director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization to Texas to inspect the damages left by Hurricane Carla.

Gov. Price Daniel said Tuesday night Frank B. Ellis will arrive here Thursday from Washington.

Daniel also said the President may come to Texas after federal and state agencies survey the hurricane areas.

Daniel talked with the President by telephone shortly after arriving in Houston Tuesday night to begin his own inspection.

"The President renewed his expressions of interest in our situation," Daniel said. "And he said he would be glad to make the trip after the surveys are completed if it was determined it would be helpful."

Daniel also said Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson probably will fly to Texas either this week or next week.

"He said he would be guided by the reports he receives on the extent of the disaster," he said.

Daniel Tuesday checked the tide and wind damage at Texas City and Galveston.

He was to confer in Galveston with County Judge Pete LaValle and other officials.

"Right now, it would appear Galveston and Texas City have the greatest need for additional state help from the standpoint of food, health and the protection of property," he said.

Two National Guard units that moved into the Galveston-Texas City area were reinforced by a third unit.

Daniel said the third unit was sent as a precautionary measure to protect homes and property.

"I gave him a report on the situation," Daniel said. "I told him that while property damage was severe, the toll in human life and injury was, as so far reported, far less than had been expected."

President Changes Meeting Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a last-minute switch in plans today, arranged separate conferences with two separatist emissaries instead of a joint meeting with the two.

The White House said the change in plans was requested by the two visitors, President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. No additional reason was given.

Kennedy was expected to tell them this country wants and expects negotiations with the Soviet Union on a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis, but that he sees no prospect of a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev unless advance negotiations give promise of a successful outcome.

Tech Ex Goes To Pan American

EDINBURG (AP) — Robert Burks, 34, was hired Tuesday as registrar at Pan American College.

Burks will report here from Levelland where he was Dean of the evening college at South Plains College. He is a graduate of Texas Tech.

This Is Mortifying, But—

Downtown Lions Club members were mortified to have to sack electric light bulbs by the light of lanterns Tuesday, but sack them they did. President Elbert Beall, left, general chairman Wesley Deas, center, and Jimmy Ray Smith, one of the division chairmen, were among those preparing for the annual bulb sale next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It turned out that the Clover Bowl building didn't have electric power connected, so the redoubtable Lions borrowed lanterns for illumination and bundled up the sacks of light bulbs. Proceeds from the sale go to the blind and sight conservation fund, crippled children camp, and other welfare activities.

Water Service For Addition OK'd

Water service for Muir Heights Addition, to be developed by E. C. Smith, will be available following approval of plans by the city commission Tuesday night.

The system, to be paid for by the developer, will cost approximately $4,700. The city will install and operate the system. Equipment will revert to Smith when the area is tied in to the South Mountain system later.

Bruce Dunn, director of public works, made recommendations to the city manager for eight-inch lines on Hearn and Willard Streets to the south and north of the property, with the city paying for the 2-inch oversize from six-inch.

An electric powered pump, with 500 gallons per minute capacity, will be placed in series in the line in Hearn Street right of way just east of Parkway Road. A 10,000 - gallon pressure tank will be placed at the northeast corner of the intersection of Theo and Willard streets. Smith will provide property for this tank with the agreement that it would revert to him when the tank is abandoned. A telemetering line will be run on existing poles for pump control purposes.

Dunn recommended that the entire system be built at one time. It will provide water for the 34-acre tract in Muir Heights and also can provide water for an adjoining area where the plan is worked out with Smith.

Jim Nichols of the Freese, Nichols and Andrees engineering firm of Fort Worth, presented photographs of several different types of elevated storage tanks for the commission's approval. The commission authorized cost estimates for the 1.5-million-gallon tank to be erected in 1962. Bids will have to be called for in November to have the tank in time for installation and tie-in on the new system when needed in the 1962 program.

John Stanley and George Zachariah were appointed as a committee to work with City Manager A. K. Steinheimer on problems at the city dump ground. They will consider moving the grounds or providing better protection against fires, which have caused considerable trouble recently. The city has not burned trash in several months, but persons hauling their own trash to the ground have set fire to it.

Salvage rights at the dump ground are contracted each year and the present contract expires Sept. 30. The committee will make its recommendations at the commission at the next meeting.

Base-Community Panel To Meet

The recreation - education committee of the base - community division of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has been convoked for a 12 noon meeting at Webb AFB on Thursday. James Tidwell, chairman of the sub-section, said that the panel would follow up on suggestions made at a meeting of the division last week.

Miss Henrichs Gets Scholarship

Hellene Henrichs, who was valedictorian of the 1961 class at Garden City High School, has been named recipient of a Clayton Foundation scholarship.

The announcement was made by W. D. Watkins, general manager of Paymaster Oil Mill Company at Abilene. It is a division of Anderson, Clayton & Company, Inc. The fund was established by W. L. Clayton, one of the founders of the company and is used to provide higher education aid to deserving students who are children of employees of Paymaster.

Hellene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Henrichs, St. Lawrence, and her father manages the gin there. Hellene plans to attend Texas Tech.

Mrs. Jackson Posts Two Bonds

Evelyn Darlene Jackson, under indictment for writing a worthless check over $50, posted two $1,500 bonds Tuesday and has been released from county jail.

Her husband, W. C. Jackson, who has four indictments hanging over his head, is still in the jail. He has not posted the four $7,500 bonds set in his case.

The Jacksons, formerly in the used car business in Coahoma, were returned to Big Spring from Hot Springs, Ark., last week.

City To Buy 5 New Cars

Bids on five new automobiles for the city will be called for on Oct. 17, following authorization from the city commission Tuesday night. Four trade-ins will be considered and one car will be an outright purchase.

The new Chevrolet, which was damaged heavily in an accident at Third and Gregg last week, will be sold as junk for $749.50 following a discussion of the cost involved to repair the car.

All new cars will have special and heavy - duty equipment and will go to the police department. Two cars now being used by the department will go to other city divisions where older cars are being used.

Purchase of a check certifier, with the signature of Mayor Lee O. Rogers attached to the printing mechanism, was authorized by the commission to be paid out of present funds. Mayor Rogers now has to manually sign approximately 200 checks twice each month, in addition to many other papers. It was pointed out that at times the signing was necessary when Mayor Rogers was not available. In securing the safety of the city clerk's office will have keys and both will be necessary to place the machine in operation.

Bids will be called for to provide a new Addressograph-Graphotype and equipment for the city hall to allow installation by Jan. 1 when the new cycle billing for water customers will go into effect. The commission authorized purchase of a used machine if still available. If still available, bids will not be required.

Sewer service was authorized for a small area at the intersection of Marcy Drive and US 87 where septic tanks are now being used. The city will run lines to access areas where drive-in eating places exist. Septic tanks are overtaxed in the area. City Manager A. K. Steinheimer said, and when the service is made available owners will be required to connect.

The commission authorized the transfer of property rights from the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center. The latter owns the building and operates facilities for the former. The city owns the real estate on which the building is located and the lease will be transferred to the Rehabilitation Center.

Jack Shaffer appeared before the commission, representing Lloyd Curley, builder of apartment houses between Grafa and Miami streets north of Marcy Drive. He requested permission for paving the alley behind the apartments to permit access, by occupants, to garages in the rear. He also requested permission to pave the area in front of the buildings to provide access and parking. A part of the area is on property dedicated for FM 700 widening.

The commission agreed to the paving of the alley to meet city specifications, and asked the city manager to present plans for the paving in the front to State Highway Department engineers for approval. Shaffer said Curley would agree to whatever specifications that met with city and state approval because it would provide better access to the property until the highway is widened. Both projects if approved, would be paid for by Curley.

Maris Claims Foul In Race

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's been a claim of foul in that home run race that's heading into the home stretch with Roger Maris holding a three-length lead over fast-clothing Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle losing ground.

Maris, the leader with 56 home runs, angrily criticized plate umpire Hank Soar last night after the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in a rain-shortened contest that cost Maris and Mantle at least one at-bat apiece.

Reduced to a three-game edge over Ruth's record 60 home runs of 1927, Maris cited Soar for what he called poor balls and strikes calls. "I didn't get too many strikes," complained the Yankee slugger, "yet they were being called strikes. I was swinging in self defense."

Both Maris, who now needs four homers in the next nine decisions to tie Ruth's mark in the allotted time, and Mantle were held harmless by Billy Pierce and Frank Baumann. But each had a single before the game was called in the last of the sixth.

The triumph kept the Yankees within 1 1/2 games of the Detroit Tigers, but lowered their magic number to seven. Any combination of seven wins or Detroit losses will bring New York its 11th pennant in the last 13 years and the first for rookie manager Ralph Houk.

The Tigers kept pace by beating Kansas City 3-1 for Frank Lary's 20th victory. And Washington whipped Boston 5-1 on Pete Burnside's three-hitter. Los Angeles-Minnesota was postponed. Baltimore and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Maris and Mantle were instrumental in the Yankees 13th consecutive triumph with Maris wheeling home with the winning run in the fifth on Elston Howard single. He had opened with a single and moved up on Mantle's base hit. Maris, who went to the plate four times, also walked in the first and scored, while Mantle who has 53 homers, struck out and fled deep to center in his other at-bats.

Ralph Terry (14-2) won it for the Yanks although tagged for eight hits—one the game's only homer by little Luis Aparicio.

Al Smith began the final inning with a double to left center and Nellie Fox moved him to third with a sacrifice. The Yanks pulled the infield in and held Smith at bat for FM 700

McGAHA MAY BOSS TRIBE

CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmie Dykes will not be retained as manager of the Cleveland Indians, The Associated Press learned today.

One of the current Cleveland coaches, Mel McGaha, is expected to become manager for 1962 with Dykes shifting to a National League club as a coach. Dykes has coached in recent years at both Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Cabe Paul, the Indians' general manager, would neither confirm nor deny the information.

McGaha joined the Indians' coaching staff this season after leading Toronto to the 1960 International League pennant.

Beman Loses In Amateur

By JACK STEVENSON

Three former champs and an Irish better kept the United States Amateur Golf championship from being completely wide open today in play that will see only 36 survivors by nightfall.

Defending champion Deane Beman fell Tuesday before veteran Billy Joe Patton, but ex-titlists Harvey Ward Jr., Charlie Coe and Jack Nicklaus all whipped through the second round.

So did three-time British champion Joe Carr of Ireland, a witty fellow who laced a couple of drives about 300 yards while over-

Pitt Is Pick Over Miami

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)

—Punts or punts? Touchdowns or tee shots? Halfbacks or hooks? Picking this year's first football winners at the scene of the National Amateur Golf Tournament, Pittsburgh over Miami: Your first TV dish of the season. The visiting easterners are proud of their line, bulwarked by Kallenbach and Vignali.

Iowa State over Drake: Once this one was the climax of the year for both clubs, now it is the opener with Big Eight Cyclones the heavy favorites because of their dedication.

West Virginia over Richmond: The Mountaineers are on their way back with Holdirsky and Colvard leading the way.

San Jose over Brigham Young: If you can't run the hundred in 10 seconds flat, there's no need for you to try out for the San Jose backfield.

Virginia Tech over William & Mary: Tech is the favorite for the Southern Conference title but William & Mary has a batch of newcomers who could be tough.

Tulsa over Hardin-Simmons: White and Escandon make Tulsa the best in the abbreviated Missouri Valley Conference.

Wyoming over Montana: Football is a way of life with the Wyoming students.

Florida State over George Washington: The new regime at George Washington gets off on the wrong foot. This could be the year Florida State reaches its much desired big-time rating.

Skipping over the others: South: Virginia Military over Marshall, Memphis State over the Citadel; Furman over Presbyterian, Catawba over Davidson. Midwest: Cincinnati over Dayton; Miami over Villanova; Wichita over Toledo. West: New Mexico State over Arizona State of Flagstaff; Utah State over Texas Western; Utah over Colorado State University.

Others in the picture are Billy Spears, who drove an E Stock car in the races and Glenn Cavitt, who has a car but who did not race to race because of illness in the family. Hukabee plans to go to Abilene this weekend, where he will compete in a two-day double-point meet.

Darrell Johnson Emerging As Hero In Redleg Drive

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It had been a dreary season for Darrell Johnson, who started out as a coach for the St. Louis Cardinals, was fired with Manager Solly Hemus, hooked on with the wealthy Philadelphia Phils, then was unceremoniously sold to Cincinnati.

But now Johnson is a hero for the National League-leading Reds, who beat the Chicago Cubs 7-2 Tuesday night as the reserve catcher drove in three runs with a pair of doubles in a victory that boosted the Reds edge over second-place Los Angeles to 4 1/2 games.

Johnson, 34, with a .233 major league batting average, has been hitting at a .275 clip since he was purchased by the Reds but his exploits had to share top billing with Don Demeter's.

Demeter made the woeful Phils anything but as he crashed three homers and a single, driving in

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Not long before his Plainview Bulldogs took the field here last weekend, coach Herman Smith was quoted as saying:

"Our boys have really worked hard and are actually ahead of where I expected them to be at this time. The boys this year are easy to work with, too. But they're just not big enough or fast enough. I expect we'll probably have two more bad years before things start picking up."

Smith seemed to sense he was in for a licking before he ever arrived here. Coach Emmett McKenzie expected his troops to come in a winner.

The decisiveness of the victory (36-0) surprised McKenzie, however, and, no doubt, shocked a lot of the Steers' followers. They went to Memorial Stadium willing to settle for a touchdown victory and came away convinced that, had they been so a-mind, the Steers could have won by 60 points.

McKenzie and his aides wisely decided to experiment with their lineup, after the decision had been safely shattered away. The regulars were stable and the shock troops took over, with good results.

After a few moments of indecision, caused, no doubt, by a mixup in the line, Rickey Wisener came onto his own as Jerry Tucker's chief understudy at quarterback. He put on quite a show, considering the fact that he was a halfback on the B team last year (and hobbled by injuries most of the season).

The Steers were puzzled for a while by a reverse play Plainview was using, wherein an end came around and got the ball, but they adjusted quickly and the Bulldogs soon found themselves losing yardage on the play.

It likely will be a long, long season for Plainview, which was being outmaneuvered by the Big Spring reserves late in the game.

However, Smith has only six seniors on his entire squad. Trent Jordan, who ran about as well as anyone on the Plainview club, is only a sophomore. Those two big ends Plainview fielded, Jim Mull and Ray Gonzales, are juniors.

It was a bad time for Plainview to renew its football relationship with Big Spring.

The last time the two teams met (1955), the Steers squeaked to a 21-13 victory, after having whammed the Bulldogs the previous year, 34-7.

Big Spring hadn't run up as many as 36 points on a foe since October, 1954, when the Steers routed Yaleta, 39-12.

Tim Marcum, whose father coached here during the war years, was being heavily counted on to quarterback the Snyder Tigers this fall, suffered a wrist separation in an early season scrimmage and may have to take it easy for a while.

Winner of the recent Labor Day Invitational Golf Tournament in Decatur was Glenn Smith, who grew up here and who later coached the golf team at Odessa College. Glenn was also one of the better known basketball officials around.

Smith put together rounds of 73 and 76 for a 36-hole total of 149 in winning at Decatur. The course there was converted to grass only last summer.

Glenn is now owner and operator of two drive-in restaurants in Decatur. He's also president of the Decatur Country Club.

Odessan To Meet Dallas Belter

DALLAS (AP) — Curtis Cokes of Dallas and Manuel Gonzales of Odessa will meet here Thursday night for the Texas welterweight championship but it will be for only 10 rounds.

Originally it was scheduled the customary 12 for a title fight but the state boxing commissioner ruled that 10 rounds were enough to put the title on the line after Gonzales had expressed a preference for 10 instead of 12.

Webb AFB Wins Softball Crown At Harlingen AFB

The Webb AFB Dusters edged the Lackland Warhawks, 3-2, in a ten inning pitcher's duel last Saturday night at Harlingen, to capture the 1961 ATC Southern District (base-level) Softball championship.

The Dusters from Big Spring are currently playing in the command conference (base-level) play-offs at Lackland AFB. The Webb-based 3560th M and S Group are the district and conference squadrons-level titlists.

Webb notched an unearned run in the bottom of the tenth to nab the command crown. Jack Long bested Frank Karass for the victory. Webb coasted to a 2-0 lead behind Long's one-hit pitching until the seventh frame when the Warhawks knocked the score on a fielder's choice—a double by Karass and a Duster miscue.

Bob Pekar batted in Frank Kenney to give Webb its first run in the opening frame. Singles by Leon Childers and Ed Rosenberger, coupled with a Lackland bobbie accounted for another Duster tally in the fourth.

Tom Curran reached first on an error in the bottom of the tenth, went to third on Kenney's safety, and scored on a fielder's error.

Karass, losing Warhawk hurler, struck out 16 batters and walked none. Long, who pitched unrelieved for Webb, was voted the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

Webb reached the championship match by squeezing Lack-

Team Spirit Helps Steers Succeed, Says McKenzie

In an appearance before the Big Spring Quarterback Club last night, coach Emmett McKenzie of Big Spring High School paid tribute to the 1961 Steers "as clean a bunch of boys as I ever worked with."

"All we've got, really is team spirit. Individually, they can't compare with most of the clubs we'll be facing but, as a team, they're going to be hard to beat."

The biggest crowd of the season flocked to the Quarterback Club's meeting, which was held in the cafeteria at the high school.

Films of the Steer - Plainview game, which the locals won by a score of 36-0, were screened for the benefit of the audience.

McKenzie, in his running commentary of the game, said the club's blocking, especially the downfield blocking, played a major role in the success of the Steers.

To open the entertainment for the evening, baton twirler Diana Travis was presented in a twirling act that drew warm applause.

McKenzie told the gathering he would prefer to wait and give a scouting report on Snyder until after the Steers play Andrews this weekend. Snyder is the next football foe of the Big Spring club, which is idle until Sept. 22.

Co-captains Roy Bennett and Jimmy Felts urged renewed efforts on the part of the membership committee to sell membership dues.

Felts said the club would not have enough money to carry on an active program throughout the school year until more money was in the club's coffers.

Membership fee in the club is $1 and Bennett stated the organization "needs at least a thousand more members" to achieve all its goals.

Felts announced that several football officials, headed by Pete Cook, would be on hand next Tuesday to interpret rules, signals and etc.

Negroes To Play In Washington

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Negro players on the San Francisco 49er squad said Tuesday they will play in their team's National Football League opener against the Washington Redskins Sunday.

The nine players had been asked by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and the San Francisco chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to refuse to play because the Redskins have never hired a Negro player.

Defensive back Abe Woodson, selected as spokesman for the players, said, "This is different from situations where there are segregated audiences and things like that."

Cowboys Oppose Steeler Eleven

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, who didn't win a game their first season in the National Football League, start their second campaign Sunday and Coach Tom Landry wouldn't be surprised if they won one right off.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, with Texan Bobby Layne at the throttle, will be the Cowboys' first foes of the new season. The Steelers and Cowboys clash in the Cotton Bowl.

Landry said before the season started that "I figure we'll be an even bet to win any game we play." He hasn't changed his opinion much.

Richest Race Is Set At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The world's added, $400,000 gross, futurity will be run in Chicago in 1962 at Arlington Park.

The race, which will be held on the first Saturday in September next year, will combine the Arlington Park and Washington Park futurities, annual tests for 2-year-olds. Announcement of the 1962 combination was made Tuesday by Mrs. Marjorie Lindheimer Everett, president of Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises, Inc., which operates Washington Park and Arlington.

The single race, which replaces the pair of $100,000 added events, will reward the winner with approximately $200,000.

How To Provide More And Better Water

Twenty-two men from Big Spring, Stanton, Coahoma, Midland and CRMWD registered for the first night class on Basic Water Works Operation Monday night at the Big Spring Filter Plant. Sam Wilson, left, standing, is the instructor for the 20-hour course.

22 Area Men Register For Water Works Course

Twenty-two men, all employed by water districts or departments in the Howard County area, registered for the 20-hour course of training for basic water works operation Monday night. The school is being held at the Big Spring Water Filter Plant with Sam Wilson, Texas A&M Engineering Extension Service, as instructor.

The 20-hour course will enable men to apply the work on their Class C certifications in operation of water works. It will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. each night for eight days. The Unit I course is primarily for water works employees, who have not had previous training, to improve the level of efficiency in water works operation and acquaint class members with new developments and individual responsibilities.

Any employee of a water or sewerage system may attend the courses held regularly over the state and 10 employees of the Big Spring systems were enrolled Monday night.

Wilson began the course by telling the group what water meant to the world and that pure water is an absolute necessity to life. He will use this lecture method supplemented by using charts, slides, work sheets, demonstrations and other types of teaching aids. The school is being held at the filter plant because of the laboratory.

Enrolled the first night were: D. McEvers, Ralph Thorp, C. E. Miller, L. V. Anderson, L. V. Thompson, Bill Fox, Ralph L. Coates, G. L. Ponder, Eligio Alanta, and M. C. Cervantes of Big Spring; O. J. L. Moorhead, A. R. Kimble, R. K. Taylor, O. L. Harrington, and Leney L. Tyler, of CRMWD; Truman D. Rich, Coahoma Water Supt.; Henry Ringhoffer, Stanton Water Dept.; Bill Gentry and J. A. Wakefield, Midland Engineering Dept.; and J. H. Nixon, Midland Water Dept., and Harold E. Johnson of Freese, Nichols and Endress, Fort Worth. Roy Hester, Big Spring Water Treatment Plant superintendent, who took over the operation of the plant while the other men attended class, helped to organize the school which is sponsored jointly by the City of Big Spring, and the Engineering Extension Service of A&M, cooperating with the Texas Education Agency.

Former Webb Officer Gets Illinois Post

Walter Dakin (Duke) Williams, formerly stationed at Webb AFB as a legal officer, has been confirmed as assistant United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Illinois.

Williams is the husband of the former Joyce Croft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Croft, and is a brother of playwright Tennessee Williams.

Carl W. Fieckert is the U. S. attorney for the district and announced the appointment had been confirmed. Williams was sworn at the first of the month at the Federal Building in East St. Louis by U. S. District Judge William G. Juergens.

Williams, 41, is a native of St. Louis and was graduated from the Washington University School of Law in 1942. Afterwards, he was a fighter controller in India and Burma for the Army Air Corps. Upon separation for service, he became an instructor in law at St. Louis University and was in private practice with the firm of Martin, Peper & Martin in St. Louis.

In 1951 he was recalled to service and was assigned to Webb AFB. It was here that he met his future wife, who was secretary to the commanding officer. He was active in various affairs, particularly literary fields. After leaving here he went to Formosa and then to Scott AFB as judge advocate. He held the rank of major when he retired. The Williams have two children and live at 409 Abend Street in Belleville.

Oklahoma Rejects Legislative Plan

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma voters rejected Tuesday a proposed change in the constitutional formula for House of Representatives membership.

The issue remained alive with the announcement of plans for circulation of an initiative petition for a new legislative reapportionment plan.

Voters gave emphatic approval, however, to another constitutional change which would remove a loophole from criminal statutes. The House reapportionment proposal had 25,229 yes votes and 67,757 no votes.

Vote on the proposal to authorize trial of accused persons in any county where evidence shows the crime might have been committed was 90,071 for and 23,367 against with 3,138 precincts counted.

A Devotional for Today

"Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations?' (Mark 11:17, RSV). PRAYER: Lord, teach us how to pray. May we pray in times of joy as well as of sorrow. May we keep a chapel in the soul ever open to Thy presence. Hear us as we worship Thee and pray the prayer Jesus taught us. "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen." (From The "Upper Room")

The Suspicious Series

Since announcing the suspension of atomic tests, Russia has exploded six nuclear devices, several of them major bombs detonated above the ground.

The ability to do this within the space of a couple of weeks underlines again the duplicity of Russia in blandly negotiating a test ban while preparing to continue testing. This is not to say that our nuclear research had been halted during the period of cessation, for we would have been utter fools to have done that, but we were not poised to begin wholesale testing the moment the barriers were pulled down.

This puts us at no great disadvantage

A Hopeful Approach

Last December the Colorado River Municipal Water District invited operators in the Sharon Ridge oil field here to explain problems connected with the pollution of the watershed from which the district hopes to draw water for a new lake. Unplugged, improperly plugged wells, and salt water disposal pits are strongly suspected as a source of salt water polluting the river. Since the district's permit cannot be validated unless and until steps are taken toward pollution control and abatement, the help of operators was sought in attempting to alleviate the situation.

The Sharon Ridge Operators Salt Water Disposal Committee, a product of the meeting, has been searching diligently since that time for a plan of massive attack for salt water disposal. Mesa Pipe Line Company has agreed to enter into contract with the committee and the individual operators for purchase of the water and disposal of the salt water. The would be done by the installation of two gathering systems, one for the oil, the other for the water. In both cases title to the fluid would pass to Mesa at the tank battery. For this service, Mesa would take a 17-cent differential in crude oil price (based on an average sour crude posting), and impose an 8-cent a barrel charge for salt water collection and disposal. After five years the price differential would drop to 10 cents a barrel. Already the crude from the area sustains some price penalty, hence the disposal item may become the critical item. In those cases where an operator is raising 40 barrels of water to three of oil, the charge might be about half as much for water disposal as the gross value of the product. But such instances may underline the extreme marginal quality of such wells. While their abandonment might cost the landowner some slight royalty, gain in potentially better ground water for the landowner may more than offset it.

In any rate, it is to be hoped that most operators can see their way clear to respond to the committee's proposal, the only current practical approach to the problem. It will put pollution control within reach—commendably by volunteer efforts—will sustain the bulk of production in the area, and will mean quite as much to landowners in the future as it does to the district.

After almost eight months, although he has remained outwardly calm through it all, the central question of his presidency is whether he would have done better if he had tried to assert more leadership?

Abroad, his main dilemma is premier Khrushchev who from the beginning threatened a showdown on Berlin and has never stopped jabbing him. The great bulk of Kennedy's actions have been simply reactions to Khrushchev's actions.

At home, from the start, concern about unemployment has hovered over him from the day he took office. Then it was 5,400,000. Now it is 4,542,000. This is still an unsolved problem.

His MAJOR domestic task has been dealing with Congress. Fear that a combination of conservatives in both parties in Congress could flatten him and his programs pushed him into compromises, some of them perhaps unnecessary.

With Congress his list of accomplishments is impressive. So is his list of setbacks. Here are programs he wanted and got from Congress:

Housing, increased minimum wage, aid to depressed areas, liberalized social security, beginning of a new, long-term Latin American aid program, a start toward effective civil defense, creation of 73 federal judgeships, an increase in manpower and materials for the armed forces.

CONGRESS CHOPPED to pieces his ideas on federal aid to education, brushed aside the crux of his plea for medical care for the aged, set aside his tax reform suggestions until next year, and, while approving a long-term foreign aid program, rejected his plan for borrowing money for it—one of his cardinal points in this field.

He and his Democratic leaders in Congress, particularly in the House, have been criticized for plain ineptitude in handling the education program. He gave up on one item altogether.

This was his 1960 campaign promise to push a civil rights program through Congress early in 1961. He not only didn't push such a program. He didn't even offer it.

In dealing with this very conservative Congress he knew from the beginning he faced serious trouble, perhaps defeat, on civil rights, medical care for the aged, school aid.

He could try to dick and compromise item and item with his opponents, like any politician in Congress.

2. Through far more forceful leadership he could seek to overcome the opposition—by direct appeal to the people over the heads of Congress—to try to bring public pressure, in addition to his own, on senators and representatives.

He chose to dick and compromise, a method familiar to anyone who, like himself, had served in Congress. Except on national defense, he made no direct appeal for popular support.

Kennedy Has His Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has had to live with trouble from the day he took office. He has had some successes, suffered some major jolts, and much of the time has been on the defensive.

After almost eight months, although he has remained outwardly calm through it all, the central question of his presidency is whether he would have done better if he had tried to assert more leadership?

Abroad, his main dilemma is premier Khrushchev who from the beginning threatened a showdown on Berlin and has never stopped jabbing him. The great bulk of Kennedy's actions have been simply reactions to Khrushchev's actions.

Around The Rim

The Real Bugaboo

Kids have always said they hated school to start again. I did, when I was a kid, but I suspect that those who say it now have the same sort of reservations that I had. Their reason for hating to see September roll around is probably different from mine.

Of course I regretted to give up the freedom of lazy days of play, what time Mom wasn't driving herself to distraction trying to get those weeds cut. Even when we were driven to the extremity of work—which was, in all candor, pretty seldom—it wasn't like having to prepare a recitation for the next day.

IF WE WANTED to linger just a little longer at the gravel pit, or come in belatedly from our latest efforts to organize a circus, or to round up the stick-horse remuda, we maybe got a scolding—but we weren't counted tardy. Sometimes when Mom thought growing children required a little "nap" or rest after lunch, it was confining but not like squirming in an arched back pine desk, fighting to keep your eyes open and your ears closed.

So the freedom of summer did have its compensations when it came to school. But it didn't provide that wide collection of friends that kids pick up at school, nor the brisk contests in baseball, shinney, or wolf-over-the-river. Though possibly we don't realize it, we couldn't find during the summer an adequate substitute for the camaraderie that grows up in a classroom—the pride of a good turn at reading, the awe of discipline when the teacher got enough of the class showoff, or the competition in the spelling line. Sure we chafed at these things but secretly we fed on them as we did the chances to indulge in a bit of elocution, or to dust the erasers, or ring the big bell.

SO IT WASN'T SO bad after all. Why then the great reluctance to hear old Central's bell calling us across a campus grown up in summer weeds? Well, I'll tell you. It was those shoes!

About the time in spring that the first grass was coming through good, we began to shuck our shoes. By the time school was out we were going barefoot or barefooted, as we said. By mid-summer we could walk gingerly through a patch of goateads without too much trouble, and by fall we could almost stand on a live coal without flinching. The bottoms of our feet were about as wide and as thick as a baseball glove.

BUT SCHOOL MEANT the return to shoes—new shoes. Manufacturers had some odd ideas that a boy's foot should be long and narrow, that the flap should button over the instep, and that the sole should be as rigid and tough as oak slab. How can a boy study or pay attention when the sole of his foot has been compressed into folds, and is sweating so that the steam oozes up through the button-holes? It was torture such as only civilization could impose. The miracle is that we held on until October, by which time we had succeeded in scuffing the toe out of the shoes, running them over at the side and down at the heel. They felt pretty good then, and school no longer was so bad. —JOE PICKLE

Americans Dominate Bermuda

CARLTON BEACH, Bermuda. — I hope that what follows will not wear out my welcome in these lovely islands. But truth compels me to report that in 20 years since I was last here, the once-civilized British intonation has been transmogrified into grass-roots Americanese. There was a time when it took my ear a good 48 hours to become attuned to the Blighty speech pattern; now I feel I have never left home.

AND—may Her Majesty forgive me!—something more drastic has happened. The most burning question in Bermuda today is not "Will there be a third World War?" but "Do you think Maris will tie the Babe Ruth home-run record?" There are, I am assured on the best authority, more baseball than cricket fans in these islands. During the World Series, work stops while fans tune in on the games.

INDEED, the other night at a formal banquet celebrating the opening of a new American hotel, the Carlton Beach, the ceremonies were stopped cold by an excited Bermudian who climbed to the dais to announce that the Yankees had just won another game and Maris had hit another homer.

From the applause and the "hear! hear!" one would have thought that word had just come through that the old empire was back in business.

"Is all this seeming Americanization of Bermuda traceable to the rude influx of us American tourists?" I asked D. Colin Selley, a personable young man who was born here and is now an officer of the Bermuda News Bureau.

"DON'T USE that adjective!" cried Colin Selley in accents of purest Midwest corn. "You are speaking of the bread and butter we love!" With a population of only 50,000, the islands were inundated in 1960 with 150,000 tourists, for let some $37,000,000 in Bermuda. The figures for 1961 are running 12 per cent higher than a year ago.

Tourism is by far the largest and most profitable industry here. The handsome new American hotel, the Carlton Beach, with 200 air-conditioned rooms, is testimony that financial interests from home are interested in getting in on the gold rush.

AT THE MOMENT, the hotel is a chief tourist attraction for both residents and visitors. After absorbing the stunning use of brilliant colors in the hotel's public rooms, everyone rushes out to see what I am told is Bermuda's only waterfall. This man-made miracle leaps 45 feet from the rocky ledge, on which the sickle-shaped hotel is built, into the Atlantic.

The waterfall is an unplanned and unexpected byproduct of the hotel's desalinization plant. The transformation of sea water into fresh water may still be a sometime thing elsewhere, but in Bermuda it is here and now. For its drinking water, Bermuda from the beginning has been dependent upon rainfall—all wells here yield salt water.

THE CARLTON BEACH, a real luxury job, is the third hotel here to install a system to distill fresh water from salt. The plant not only supplies the hotel with 35,000 gallons of fresh water every 24 hours (at a cost of $1 per 10,000), but with a really beautiful waterfall. It is the excess, doubly salted water that tumbles so impressively into the sea. (Copyright, 1961, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Holmes Alexander

What Kind Of Butter Is It?

Holmes Alexander has left on a brief European vacation. During his absence a number of prominent and interesting guests will contribute columns.

By JOHN M. BAILEY, Chairman, Democratic National Committee

It is a time-honored custom for a candidate for public office to bespeak in ringing tones his faith in the American way of life and the ability of its patriotic citizens to cope with any problem. Thanks to Holmes Alexander, I am able to express a few thoughts on this subject.

Usually this ringing peroration is delivered without much relevance to the issues at hand, but recent events seem to me to be pointing to a very real debate in 1962 over which political party really has faith in America and its people.

IS IT THE Republicans, who said we couldn't afford to compete with Russia in the space race, or the Democrats who have tried to mobilize all our resources on an urgent program in this area?

Is it the Republicans, who didn't think we could afford strong conventional military forces to give us an alternative between nuclear war and humiliation, or is it the Democrats, who are strengthening our ability to deal with brush fire wars?

Is it the Republicans, who didn't think we could afford adequate housing, good schools, medical care for the aged, steps to aid depressed areas and to accelerate our economic growth and combat a growing problem of unemployment, or the Democrats, who have vigorous programs of action in all these areas?

THESE QUESTIONS are at the heart of the present Republican efforts to create a phony issue by telling the American people that we must choose between "guns or butter." If the choice were between an adequate defense or luxuries and gadgets, then the issue would be real and the choice, would be evident—we would have to choose the guns and to forego the needless luxuries.

But I discovered on a recent television appearance with the Chairman of the Republican National Committee that the "butter" he is talking about is a far cry from the non-essential gadgets and mink-trimmed novelties of the electric tooth brush and cocktail mixer type. I discovered that what the Republican Chairman considers to be useless frills are what I consider sound investments in the basic necessities of a strong and healthy society.

WHAT THE Republicans want us to give up are we strengthen our defenses are such things as aid to education, decent housing, help for depressed areas, medical care for the aged and other programs for the general welfare which Republican Chairman Miller contemptuously described as "and so forth and so on."

It seems to me that when we find out what the "butter" is in the glib Republican catch-phrase of "guns or butter," then we begin to develop a very genuine issue, a basic point of disagreement between the two political parties. It turns out that the Republicans are merely using our need to strengthen our defenses as an excuse for the obstruction to domestic programs that they have opposed continuously ever since the first days of the Roosevelt Administration.

WE DEMOCRATS say that in our struggle with Communism, we need those domestic programs more than ever. We recognize that if we avoid nuclear warfare (which no sensible American desires as a quick way to settle our differences with Khrushchev), then we are in for a long-range struggle with the Communists.

We need a strong and growing economy with full employment, to provide military strength and a decent living for our citizens. We need better schools to provide the mental muscle needed for our struggle against the Communists. We need a healthful society with all our citizens having the opportunity to share fairly in our national product.

THE LESSON seems to me to be plain. We are not going to win our struggle against Communism by reducing our standard of living toward the low standard imposed upon the people of Russia in order to support the Russian military effort. How many uncommitted nations will be won to our side by a retreat from the American dream? How many uncommitted nations will be won to our side by a vigorous march toward the fruition of that dream? The answer is obvious. I think the American people want the President and the Congress to promote the general welfare. I do not think they regard social progress as a needless luxury.

THAT IS THE real issue which the Republicans raise when they talk of "guns or butter." If they are honest enough to spell out the programs they would jettison during our period of accelerated defense, they will help to afford the voters a clear cut choice in the 1962 elections. And that choice, I am confident, will be to move resolutely forward with President Kennedy and the Democratic Party, the party which has faith that America and its people can do what they need to do. Blow Against Private Enterprise

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration has crossed the Rubicon. It has decided to make war on conservative economics and embark on a course of radical economics. It is ignoring the risk that it may plunge the country into more unemployment within the next 18 months and bring about perhaps the worst recession since the 1930's.

For President Kennedy has determined to put certain limits on business profits and the return of investments that stockholders have hitherto expected when putting their savings into private enterprise. The net result could be the gradual collapse of the private-enterprise system in America and the beginning of the era of socialism which Nikita Khrushchev has predicted will inevitably lead to Communism in another generation in the United States.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY's crucial step came a few days ago when he openly threatened the steel industry with reprisals by government unless it agreed to forego any price increases at this time. Mr. Kennedy vaguely promised that next year, when the unions ask for still higher wages, he would urge "moderation." He didn't define the term. But the entire business world noted that Mr. Kennedy significantly refused to ask the unions at this time to forego the additional wage increases scheduled for them at the end of this month under a contract signed early in 1960 after a long strike.

THE STEEL industry thus far has absorbed a 10 per cent rise in labor costs since 1958 without a price increase. Fair play would seem to require that, since the steel industry has already absorbed this large increase in wages without a price rise, the least that Mr. Kennedy might have done was to ask labor to cancel its increase scheduled for October 1 this year.

But the Kennedy administration is sitting in the Cabinet, as Secretary of Labor, the man who was general counsel of the biggest steel union in the country. Had there been a Secretary of Commerce in a Republican administration who had previously been a leader in the steel industry—either as president of a large company or as its principal negotiator just a few months earlier during a major strike—the howl that would have gone up about "conflict of interest" would have been heard from coast to coast.

INDUSTRY has no voice in the Kennedy Cabinet. The Secretary of Commerce is afraid of his shadow and allowed himself to be influenced by the radicals in the administration when he ordered the virtual suppression of the Business Advisory Council which had existed for decades as a means of communication between business and the executive branch of the government.

President Kennedy's procedure in writing a letter to 12 steel companies and in immediately making it public is the subject of sharp criticism. He did not invite these steel executives to come to Washington beforehand to give their side of the issue. He took them by surprise as he issued his letter and threatened restrictive measures if they didn't obey.

This is one of the most surprising moves any President has made in recent years, and it is small wonder that it is being regarded as the beginning of a series of hostile acts to throttle American enterprise and to pave the way for nationalization or socialization of the larger industries in America.

MR. KENNEDY himself has never been regarded as a radical, but he has surrounded himself with advisers who sincerely believe in government ownership. Advising their advice, they can hardly refrain from advocating a philosophy which could eventually mean the end of private capitalism in America. Every one of these advisers hates Communism and all that Mr. Khrushchev stands for, but, as is the case in Britain with the Socialist Laborites who favor nationalization of industry, they don't always realize the ultimate consequences of current action.

Mr. Kennedy is not himself an economist. He finds himself lost in economic jargon and economic arguments, and tends to follow what seems to him a plausible policy. His economic advisers concede that it is a "most hazardous undertaking" to estimate future output and profits in steel, but they did it just the same and took no account of the need of different companies to buy new plant and equipment or to continue to earn a proper return of investors' money. Instead, a blanket order was favored that would cut profit margins and let labor have its October 1 increase just the same.

MEANWHILE, the Department of Justice is engaging in a crusade against large business enterprises by brandishing antitrust suits in their faces almost every day. It is interesting to note that the executives of the 12 companies which got the President's identical letter are virtually forbidden to discuss it with each other, since the subject is price making. The steel companies could be hauled into court for price collusion if they as much as sat down together to discuss what kind of replies they should make as an industry.

INDEED, the future of all trade associations in America may well be in jeopardy if the Kennedy administration cries out "price fixing" every time business leaders go to an annual convention of their industry to discuss common problems, including threats coming from foreign competition. The annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute had, for instance, long been scheduled for this week, but it was cancelled for fear that any meeting of steel executives at this time would be misunderstood. And all this happens in "free" America. (Copyright, 1961, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Those Unpoetic Remarks

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a young poet gets tired of hearing: "If you ask me, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow said it all." "How do you guys get paid—by the line or by the rhyme?"

"Could you knock off a couple of funny stanzas about my cousin and his wife? They're celebrating their 10th wedding anniversary next week and, just for laughs, I'd like to have something come to surprise them on the occasion."

"There's nothing in the mail, dear, except three more rejection slips."

"In a way he's like Western Union—full of messages for mankind. The difference is that Western Union knows where to deliver them."

"I understand he's a stand-in writer for the fellow who writes those high-shave jingles."

"You couldn't exactly call Algonquin a mute, inglorious Milton. For one thing he isn't mute—unfortunately."

"They tell me you're a poet, young fellow. That's nice. What do you do for a living?"

"I'm leaving you, Algonquin, and going home to mother. No, it's not because I'm mad at you. But at mother's I can at least be sure of eating."

"Algonquin kind of reminds me of Alfred Tennyson, particularly when he runs out of razor blades and doesn't shave for a month or two."

"I didn't actually say he doesn't have ability. All I said was his lack of inspiration barely rises above his lack of perspiration."

"He really hasn't published anything noteworthy ever since that mimeograph machine broke down in the office where his sister works."

"Algonquin isn't proud. He'd be glad to write for the little magazines. The trouble is that so far he hasn't found one small enough for his kind of verse."

To Your Good Health

Aspirin Helps In Treating Arthritis

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. "Dear Dr. Molner: What is the best treatment for arthritis? Will diet help? I am taking 12 aspirins per day, three at a time. When I first went to the doctor, I could hardly walk. Now I am much better." —Mrs. M. H.

The best treatment for arthritis is the one that does YOU the most good. However, it may not be the best for somebody else.

The fact that you have improved is evidence that you have a treatment that suits you.

There are all degrees of rheumatoid arthritis, from mild to severe. Some cases develop gradually, and are readily arrested and begin to improve. Other cases (especially among young people) develop suddenly, progress at a furious rate, and not only cause a great deal of pain, but also deform joints badly.

A sudden, fulminating case doesn't respond to the treatment that would be best for an ordinary one. A violent case might require cortisone, bed rest, splints, physiotherapy.

But an ordinary, garden-variety case can do much better with aspirin and moderate activity—but NOT bed rest. There's quite an argument, scientifically, as to whether aspirin isn't the superior of all other drugs for such cases. Personally I doubt that we yet know enough to give a positive answer to such a broad question, but we certainly do know that aspirin, for all it's being an old, common and inexpensive drug, still ranks as an excellent one. If there are individual cases that respond to cortisone or related steroids, or other drugs, so be it. Aspirin still holds up its head in any company.

What to do, or not to do, for arthritis: First, keep to a balanced diet. No "trick diet" has shown itself to be helpful. If a patient is overweight, or is gaining weight, this puts added strain on the joints, so control or reduction is important. But special foods aren't required.

Reasonable activity is necessary. Using an arthritic joint keeps it operative. Not using it allows stiffness to develop. In most cases a rule of thumb is use a joint up to the point of pain. A twinge, or some stiffness, is not "pain."

If contracture (tightening) of muscles is threatening, a splint worn at night will do much to prevent deformity.

Heat is always good: hot water soaks, infra-red, hot water bottle or electric pad. Don't, of course, risk burning the skin, but let the heat soak in.

Mental attitude is also important. It's not unusual (nor is it surprising) to find arthritic people tense and worried. This tenseness doesn't help and it can harm. So in some cases sedatives are really useful to get a patient to relax.

The big "don'ts" of arthritis are: Don't give in to the ailment; don't be too inactive; don't try every remedy that anyone suggests. Follow a consistent program outlined by your doctor, and look forward to the fact that steady care, while it may be slow, will do some steady good.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I've been told that onions will cause anemia. Is that true?—M. J. B." No. There is absolutely no ordinary food you can eat that will cause anemia. I often wonder who dreams up pointless rumors like this, when there are so many serious problems to which people might better devote their brainpower.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper requesting a copy of his booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Pollard Purchases Chevrolet Agency

Formal opening of the Pollard Chevrolet Company as the Chevrolet center for this area is being announced today.

William J. (Bill) Pollard, formerly of Roscoe, has assumed charge of the business as successor to Tidwell Chevrolet Company on East Highway 40. All employees have been urged to continue, and the personnel is virtually unchanged, Pollard announced.

"Naturally we are delighted to be a part of Big Spring and this area," he said, "because we believe the city and neighboring communities have a great future, and we believe that our Chevrolet center can play a part in that development."

Complete service will be emphasized, he said, for not only will new and used cars be part of the organization, but automotive service of all types for

Wm. J. (Bill) POLLARD both trucks and cars will be stressed. "When people think of transportation," he added, "we hope to be of such service that they will think of us as a transportation center."

Pollard is a native of Avery and was graduated from high school there. Later he went to Sam Houston State College where he obtained his degree and then entered service. In 1950 he earned his master of arts degree and for the next three years was the vocational agriculture instructor at Winnsboro. While there he also made the friendship of Leroy Tidwell, who later got him interested in the automobile business.

In 1953 he acquired the Chevrolet agency at Roscoe, and it was a natural step, for he already had a brother in the automotive field at Carlsbad, N. M. and at Scotts Bluff, Neb. His business at Roscoe grew steadily until he was a logical choice to succeed Tidwell, who has obtained a downtown agency in Los Angeles, Calif. and has sold his interest here to Pollard.

Pollard was married in 1957 to Miss Lara Mae Broadwell in Roscoe. They will establish their home here as soon as they have acquired a house.

Pollard has been active in various affairs, and is a member of the Methodist Church and Masonic Lodge.

C. Y. Clinkscales, who has probably had more experience in the Chevrolet field than anyone in West Texas, will continue as sales manager, said Pollard. Marshall Cates is the service manager, Pat Patterson the truck stop foreman; Annette Howard the office manager; and D. A. Sellers the parts manager.

Pollard invited all residents of the area to visit the plant and to get acquainted.

Hensley Buys Control Of Bank In Paris

Announcement is made that J. R. (Bill) Hensley has purchased a majority interest in the First National Bank of Paris, Texas, in a transaction consummated today.

Hensley formerly was president, with majority control, of the First National here. He acquired the Paris bank holdings from the Murchison interests of Dallas. He is joined in the purchase by Jerry King, who is resigning as executive vice president of the First State Bank & Trust Co., of Mission, to become president of the Paris institution.

Hensley himself is to become chairman of the executive committee. He said he will spend considerable time in Paris on organizational matters for the next few months, but does not plan to stay there permanently. King will be the chief administrative officer.

Hensley said he and his family plan to continue making Big Spring their home.

They came here in August of 1957, and a year later Hensley bought majority interest in the local First National from Murchison. He sold this earlier in the year to an Odesa group. The First National of Paris is listed with $250,000 capital, and $250,000 surplus. Deposits approximate $100,000.

Moskalenko, who has probably had more experience in the Chevrolet field than anyone in West Texas, will continue as sales manager, said Pollard. Marshall Cates is the service manager, Pat Patterson the truck stop foreman; Annette Howard the office manager; and D. A. Sellers the parts manager.

Pollard invited all residents of the area to visit the plant and to get acquainted.

School Board Accepts Portable Classrooms

The 10 portable classrooms purchased by the Big Spring Independent School District for $55,000 have been officially accepted from the contractor.

Trustees voted unanimously to accept them after an inspection of buildings at Goliad Junior High prior to the regular board meeting Tuesday. Other buildings had been previously seen by board members and all had been inspected by the architect, Jimmy Fox.

Fox told board members that the buildings were completed by mid-August and had been inspected Aug. 28 after the contractor applied the finishing touches.

Six classrooms are at Goliad Junior High and one is at each of Airport, Bauer, Cedar Crest and Washington Elementary schools.

The question of installing a gutter between the six buildings at Goliad was discussed by trustees, but no action was taken. They agreed it would be better to wait until it could be determined if the lack of a gutter would be going from one room to another unpleasant for students.

The six buildings are arranged in two rows of three each with a concrete walkway between them. The roofs do not meet and during rainy weather, runoff from the roofs might cause students to become wet. Gutters between the buildings to catch the water and channel it away from the walkway had previously been proposed. Cost has been estimated at about $300.

Fox reported on progress at Lakeview. He estimated that the addition would be completed during the first part of November. This would be a week or more behind schedule because of trouble with the roof.

Masonry work is completed. Electrical and plumbing roughing-in has been finished and all structure steel is up, he said. All materials required are on hand so there should be little delay before the project is completed.

NATO An Easy Atomic Target, Russian Claims

MOSCOW (AP)—Marshal Kiril S. Moskalenko, commander of Soviet rocket forces, said today the U.S.S.R. could wipe out North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense bases with short-range tactical nuclear rockets alone.

"To defeat these, ballistic long-range rockets are not needed," Moskalenko wrote in an article in the Defense Ministry paper Red Star and distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass. "Even operational tactical rocket arms would suffice."

Moskalenko said the Russians have intercontinental rockets which can deliver anywhere on earth "a nuclear warhead with the TNT equivalent of several million tons."

6 Ordinances Passed, IS 20 Annex Planned

Six ordinances were read and passed at Tuesday night's city commission meeting, and one will be drawn for consideration at the next meeting to annex a strip along NW Twelfth from the Snyder Highway to the Andrews Highway and IS 20 intersection.

The ordinance amending the city's zoning ordinance to change the designation of the Cole property in South Big Spring from IF-2, residential, to a Planned District for the purpose of creating a housing development, was passed on final reading. The area is bounded on the north by Mittel Acres Addition, on the east by Donley extended, on the south by undeveloped land, and on the west by Mittel Ave.

The first reading of an ordinance to change the zoning of both sides of Wood Street, from State to Rosemont, on recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission, was considered and passed. The ordinance requires a 53-foot setback for future buildings on the north side of Wood, to allow a screening wall to be built between the property and residential area. A 60-foot setback is required on the south side which adjoins developments on Eleventh Place.

An ordinance establishing the policy of the City of Big Spring concerning wrecker and towing service, storage, and impoundment of vehicles when requested by the police department, was passed on emergency reading. The ordinance will set a standard of service to be provided by wrecking and towing companies, including types of equipment, storage and impounding facilities, protection, and insurance.

It will also provide a rotation system of calling for wrecker service. Two classes of wreckers were established, one of which will be for towing and removing disabled or wrecked vehicles, and the other capable of hauling, towing, or removing vehicles requiring heavy wreckers.

Democrats Set Fund Campaign

The Dollars for Democrats campaign will get under way Sept. 22 with a target of completion by Oct. 2, Wayne Basden, county campaign chairman, announced today.

Basden said that several persons would be named to assist in the effort, and Wade Choate is one who will be available at the courthouse. He urged that contributions to the party be sent to him at Box 526.

One third of the money raised is used in Howard County, one third goes to the state level, and one-third goes to the national party organization.

Every Democrat is invited to participate in this effort, Basden emphasized. A minimum of $600 is the county goal in this special financial effort.

"Political parties are the instruments for effective government in the United States," he observed. "Yet they cannot exist to carry out their work without finances, and thus we are asking the members of the party to contribute as an expression of interest in their party and our system of government."

Neel's Appaloosa Has New Honors

Neel's Cindy, 5-year-old Appaloosa mare, took second place in halter class for aged mares at the B&W Club horse show at Tatum, N. M. Saturday, and first place halter and grand champion mare, at the Lea County Fair, Lovington, N. M., Sunday.

Whistler Joe, a young stallion owned by T. Willard Neel, took fourth place in halter, first place in junior reining and grand champion reining at the Tatum show.

Cindy, owned by Mrs. Neel, has won seven first places, three second places, one third place, six grand champions, and one reserve champion, in the aged mare class, since the showing started in May.

After All The Noise, Paar's Berlin Show Was A Dull One

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—After all the expressions of alarm, headlines and admonishments growing out of the taping of a Jack Paar show on the threshold of East Berlin, the least a viewer could expect Tuesday night was an enlightening, informative show.

Alas, the well-publicized program proved as dreary and dull as the Berlin weather.

Paar, jaunty in cap and raincoat, stood with his back to East Berlin during most of the show, excitedly rehearsing stories already thoroughly explored in American newspapers and calling attention to passing traffic and remote buildings.

For about two-thirds of the longest hour in recent TV, the most interesting sight was East Berlin cameramen eagerly taking pictures of Paar and his aide, actress Peggy Cass.

When Paar's cameras did turn on West Berlin and the American soldiers, there seemed to be comparatively few of them. The comedian had a brief, serious interview with Col. J. R. Deane Jr., who later was admonished by the Defense Department for his part in the show.

Deane said that he "didn't expect any trouble here," that his wife and five children "wouldn't leave Germany for all the tea in China," and praised a new rifle recently issued to his command.

Miss Cass climbed to the second-floor command post overlooking the Friedrichstrasse entrance to East Berlin and asked the soldiers on duty where they came from and how many children they had.

Paar introduced another squad, consisting of perhaps a dozen soldiers, which rotated the command post responsibility. The only curiosity seekers around seemed to be a group of officers standing nearby.

We left Jack sitting on a curb in a downpour of rain explaining, "We just wanted to bring you some natural stumbling around here."

Had it not been for the excitement surrounding the taping, the program would have attracted no attention at home at all. It certainly was not worth taking chances in a delicate situation for a program like that.

Ed Sullivan, after all those pasted-together summer shows made from bits and pieces of old winter programs, gets back to new programs Sept. 24. With the exception of last Sunday's reprise of his tenuous tribute to musician Alan Lerner and Frederick Lowe, the Sullivan summer shows have been dull and disappointing. Danny Thomas will headline the fall premiere for Ed.

means that Kennedy will not get the full-fledged aid to education program he is certain to propose again next year.

Congress may enact some fringe benefits for colleges in 1962, but the classroom construction and teacher salary assistance he has plugged for seems to have little chance for enactment. The House pigeonholed a measure of this nature after it had been passed by the Senate.

The theory is that these controversial proposals need to be sugar coated with extension of the popular impacted areas and National Defense Education Act programs. The first of these gives federal aid to school districts crowded with children of federal workers. The second provides scholarship grants as well as loans for scientific equipment.

Kennedy showed he was well aware that the extension of these two programs for two years, as the House and Senate now have voted, would make it difficult to get any education legislation through next year.

He wrote Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana urging a one-year extension so the impacted areas and NDEA programs could be re-examined in 1962. He said such action would "provide the best assurance that re-evaluation of legislation affecting education will take place early next year."

Mansfield read the letter to the Senate shortly before it voted on a proposal by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., for a one-year extension of both measures. But the President's prestige wasn't sufficient in this case and a 45-40 defeat resulted. The Senate then adopted, on an 80-7 roll-call vote a proposal by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., extending both programs for two years.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy took a prestige-denting political licking when the Senate sided with the House in voting to continue two school aid programs until 1963.

For all practical purposes this action, accomplished Tuesday on a 45-40 Senate vote, probably means that Kennedy will not get the full-fledged aid to education program he is certain to propose again next year.

DEAR ABBY First Thing Is To Set The Date

DEAR ABBY: I have been arguing with my daughter for a week now. She tells me she is "engaged," but she does not have a ring. Is it proper to give a bride shower without one? I say no. She says her boy friend can't afford a ring right now. How do you feel about this?

INQUISITIVE

DEAR INQUISITIVE: All that is really necessary for an "engagement" is a mutual promise to wed. The ring is only a symbol. Bridal showers are in order only after the wedding date has been set.

DEAR ABBY: In the area where I am employed as a secretary most of the restaurants leave much to be desired. I found a small, quiet place owned and operated by a couple who serve good food. Since I eat lunch alone I always bring a magazine to read while waiting to be served, and while eating. Imagine my amazement when the proprietor asked me not to bring any reading matter into the place again as I was holding up a booth for four. I told him I was sorry, and I wouldn't trouble him further by my business. I want you to tell me if it is considered rude to read in a restaurant while dining alone.

NOT INTENTIONALLY RUDE

DEAR NOT: If you read only while waiting to be served and during your meal, the proprietor
