Unemployed Texans Are To Get Jobs

Lubbock Joins World In Observance Of Armistice Today

Varied Events Are Scheduled For This City

American Legion Breakfast To Open Day; Parade, Ceremony At Tech; Football And Big Dance Slated

Stores Will Close

Alumni And Former Students Of Texas Tech Are To Stage Luncheon; Many To Take A Part In Parade

FIFTEEN years ago at 11 o'clock this morning the big guns of the western front were silenced.

So unbroken with gunblasts was the quiet that men believed they had become deaf. Around the world sped the good news of the Armistice. Some of the men, who minutes before had been spraying death among each other, were trading cigarets and hardtack for schnapps.

Will March Today

Today, men who were America's armed youth and boys who were unborn then will march together at 10 a. m. in commemoration of the World war's closing.

A parade, a flag ceremony, a college football game, and a dance with countless intermediate affairs, among them an American Legion and Veterans of Foreign wars breakfast and a Texas Technological college alumni luncheon, are on the local program.

Remember "Over There"

Many of those who march today will remember columns of unshaven dirty and half asleep men moving toward the front lines, of light ambulances going forward and returning with tires scraping the fenders. They will recall archie puffballs around a Fokker, high overhead, spotting for German artillery, or men scattering as the little daisy cutters came with a whee-esh and a blam. Some perhaps were in Paris hospitals; and, if they were rational enough to know of the Armistice they probably sneaked out to join gay Paree's three-day celebration.

Marching units in the parade, which will move from City hall at 10 o'clock, will be members of the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion auxiliary, Spanish-American war veterans, Confederate veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Gold Star mothers, the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Camp Fire Girls.

Giant Pep Rally Held Last Night

Around a crackling bonfire last night, collegiate witchcraft lured the spirits to prod the Matadors to retaliate for the humiliating defeat with which an underestimated Cowboy eleven branded them here last year.

Following a pep rally at the gymnasium, in which President Bradford Knapp was principal speaker, freshman flares set off the huge pile of timber heaped on Texas Technological college campus at the end of Main street.

The mighty Matadors were assured they would take the field against the Simmons university Cowboys with the united support of the student body, local citizens, and former students. Yells were led by Bill Stubbs and his assistant, P. J. Minter, and Gene Loper, the frosh yell leader.

Administration Applies The Brakes To Buying Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The administration gently applied the brakes to its gold operations today and, whether as a result or not, the downward sweep of the dollar was checked.

For the first time the fixed price of domestic newly mined gold was established at a point below the dollar price of the yellow metal in London. Soon afterward the dollar steadied and turned moderately stronger.

With London dispatches telling of an exchange rate of $5.13 to $5.15 to the pound and a gold quotation there of $33.26, at the lower exchange figure, the domestic price was set at $33.20, five cents greater than yesterday.

Soviet Decision Is Thought Near

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—In a three hour conference at the White House tonight, President Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet foreign minister, reached an understanding which is expected in official quarters to lead to an early announcement on Russian recognition.

Litvinoff, however, parried questions on leaving the White House almost at midnight. Asked if the conversation with the president was "pleasant," the chubby Soviet diplomat smiled and said: "conversations with Mr. Roosevelt are always pleasant."

William C. Bullitt, special assistant to Secretary Hull and an authority of Russian affairs, participated in the discussions. Bullitt said that the time for further parleys on recognition had not been set, but he added: "Obviously there will be further conferences."

Abandoned Motor Car Is Found By Police On Road Leading To Dam Area; Father Silent On Ransom Demand

(By The Associated Press)

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 10. — Ransom of $40,000 is demanded of Alexander J. Hart, wealthy merchant for the return of his 22-year old son, Brooke Hart, the object of a statewide hunt as a kidnaping victim.

An anonymous telephone caller said the money must be paid "if you want to see your boy alive again," but gave no instructions as to the manner of payment.

Unite In Search

Department of Justice agents, the police of San Francisco and San Jose and peace officers of the entire bay district united in the hunt a few hours after the disappearance of young Hart after he left the department store in which he recently had been made a partner with his father.

San Jose police questioned Tony Barcelona, 25, asserted underworld character, but released him after several hours of apparently fruitless examination.

San Francisco police said they had no clues, but Captain of Detectives Charles Dullea stated he had "been informed" that the abductors would get in touch with the Hart family some time today and that his force was awaiting such a development.

Motor Car Found

Search of the Calaveras dam area, 25 miles northeast of here, was made in the hope of picking up the trail of the young merchant. His motor car, its lights still burning, was found early today on a road leading to that district, in which many deserted cottages are located.

The elder Hart remained silent as to the ransom demand and what his course would be. He received a telephone call from San Francisco

The safe had been buried at the side of the road. When the borrow ditch was extended outward, the vault was discovered. A tractor was used to pull it free from the hole.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10. (AP)—Deciding the $75,000 judgment awarded Mrs. Miriam Y. Read, Oakland matron, against Claire Windsor, film actress, for the alienation of Mrs. Read's former husband was "excessive and unreasonable," Superior Judge J. P. Sproul granted the actress a new trial today.

The heart balm judgment was awarded Mrs. Read several weeks ago by a superior court jury following a sensational trial during which the actress' associations with Alfred C. Read, Oakland broker, were aired.

Mrs. Read had sued for $100,000, charging the blonde Miss Windsor with stealing Read's love.

Armistice Day And The Veteran

By EDWARD A. HAYES
National Commander, The American Legion
(Written for The Associated Press)

ON ARMISTICE DAY the thoughts of American World War veterans, who have kept their associations of the service alive through membership in the American Legion, turn to war, its causes, the victory, the sacrifices and peace, which they understand probably better than anyone else.

As an individual, the average veteran wants no more of war if he can avoid it with honor. As a class, a similar attitude is shown in the year-by-year programs of the Legion. Carefully studied plans of education have been advanced since the earliest days of our Legion existence to promote better understanding in order to avoid wars and looking toward permanent peace.

At the same time we believe the way to insure peace while this process of understanding and education is advancing is to enforce the Golden Rule among nations through adequate national defense.

WHEN we speak of adequate national defense we mean the recommendations of the only experts in the world who know what that means for the United States—the high commands of our army and navy. It naturally follows, therefore, that the Legion believes we should get away from the position of third place for our navy and seventeenth place for our army.

For the navy we believe we should live up to the provisions of the London naval treaty. We believe our army and the component civilian parts should be maintained in accordance with the national defense act of 1920 as amended and as our army officers advise.

ARMISTICE DAY is the occasion for celebration of victory. It is a day on which the veterans believe their service should be recognized and appreciated. It is a day of thanksgiving that the world was released from the wholesale destruction and bloodshed and that peace was restored.

This year it has another and special significance to all veterans, if they have an ounce of comradeship left in their hearts for those who suffered the most and are still suffering.

Just as they feel that Armistice Day is the occasion for thanksgiving on the part of those who did not serve in the war, as well as for those who did, in like proportion do they feel that it should be brought home to the American people that were it not for the disabled veteran, whose compensation has been cut for economy this year, victory would not have been possible.

THIS will be the only day, too, in the lives of most veterans, that they can ever celebrate as a glorious victory in which they participated. We are rapidly becoming too old to take part in another war, if it should come, which God forbid. That we did have a part in a great victory gives us the feeling of security in our assumption that we have a right to be heard as a class in the perpetuation of the ideals of Americanism, loyalty and patriotism, for which we once did our part without reservation and with no thought of reward.

President Roosevelt was said to be convinced that the government has authority under the recovery act and in all probability that will be done.

Effective Dec. 5

The licensing would be effective in the interim from December 5 until congress enacts some form of control legislation for the production and distribution of distilled products and beyond that time if congress does not act.

Huey Long Gets Barrage Of Eggs And Stink Bomb

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 10. (AP)—An odorous bomb tonight was dropped from an upper story of a building and a barrage of eggs was tossed in the direction of Senator Huey P. Long as he mounted the city hall steps here to deliver his speech on redistribution of wealth and a new tax program.

The eggs missed the senator, but some broke on the steps. Long started his speech.

He came here tonight in a semi-windup address after warning his audiences at Natchitoches and Lessville not to attempt to heckle him.

Senator Long today claimed credit for putting President Roosevelt in the White House.

His progress through the state on a stump tour already marked by the bruised heads of hecklers and the shouted defiance of his critics, Long told rural audiences in north Lousiana that "no newspaper or politician has had the nerve to say that Roosevelt could have been nominated at Chicago if Huey Long had not been there."

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

ON DAYS such as this, when people all over the world are celebrating the signing of an armistice that brought an end to war, it is hard to conceive that so many nations and people are looking forward to and planning for more wars. It is hard to believe that people who are yet paying in money and health and ruined lives for a past conflict could calmly arrange for another.

It seems to me that nations and men would make every effort to avoid conflict, that they would be willing to concede political ideals and forget their greeds for other things—that they would do anything in the world to avoid another war.

Continued peace should be our aim and today when we pause to breath a prayer of thankfulness for the ending of one great conflict we should add a devout plea for an amicable conclusion to the troubles that now brew—an appeal for an end to wars.

"YOU BRING THE DUCK"

THIS happened Thursday. We called the president of one of the campus clubs at Texas Technological college to ask about a rumored duck dinner Sunday evening. "Well, it all depends," he answered. "I'll call you tomorrow. The boys are out duck hunting this afternoon."

MORE ABOUT DAN

THAT mystery about Dan, the police dog was cleared and again shrouded following a column devoted to the dog the other day.

* * *

Mrs. W. B. Powell telephoned in to say that she knows all about Dan. She remembers from the time that he was a pup—which was between thirteen and fourteen years ago Dan and his brother were given away. Maurice Powell, Mrs. Powell's son, received one of the pups and named him Tris. The other was given to M. M. Mitchell, a barber here and this pup grew into Dan, she believes.

Dan started following Mr. Mitchell to town and that is how he happened to become accustomed to being in the city. Evenutally he started spending all of his time down here, Mrs. Powell says. Dan still goes to the Powells and sleeps on their porch or in front of their fire when the days are cold. The collar he wears is one that originally belonged to Tris, Mrs. Powell says. Tris died years ago after eating some poisoned meat. Mrs. Powell adds that Dan never cared much for children but has always liked to hang around town.

Then, to shroud that in mystery, Alberta Johnson, who is Mr. Mitchell's sister-in-law — the Mitchells have moved to Marfa—says they did have this dog Dan of which Mrs. Powell speaks, but that he was poisoned years ago and that this Dan at police headquarters is another one.

BUY A POPPY

BUY a poppy today from the American Legion auxiliary. You don't have to pay any stipulated amount for the flowers and the money goes to help those men who were young and vigorous when they marched away to the World War—men who came back crippled or ill. It is fitting that a part of our remembrance should be to help these men and their families and buying a poppy will do that.

These poppies we wear here were made by men in Texas institutions, by the way. These men get paid for their work. Everyone else who is connected with the poppy sale does it as a part of his patriotic duty. Buy a poppy.

Proceeds of the sales will go to ex-service men who are in hospitals and to families of these men and of others who died in the World War.

Statewide Proration Hearing Being Set For November 28

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—The railroad commission today set November 28 for another statewide proration hearing in anticipation that a new oil production allowable for Texas would be issued November 20 by the federal oil administration.

The prospective federal order would allocate the crude oil production for the nation among the respective states for December and likely would become effective December 1, the commission said. Under Texas law ten days notice of a hearing must be given.

The commission today concluded a statewide hearing on allocation of the November Texas allowable with receipt from the federal government of an official communication allotting Texas 875,000 barrels daily during November as its share of the nation's production.

A permanent order closely following the field allocations set by the commission in a temporary order several days ago was expected to be issued late today.

Andrew Volstead Breaks His Silence On Repeal Question

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10. (AP) — Andrew J. Volstead broke his silence over prohibition repeal today and in a public letter to local newspapers said the "wets" had won "through politics, through the lavish use of money, the rankest kind of propaganda and brazen nullification of the constitution."

In his first public comment since repeal became a certainty, the co-author of the dry enforcement act asserted "the drys were over-confident" and that "in the near future another campaign for outlawing the traffic in liquor" was probable.

The letter was sent from Granite Falls where the former congressman now practices law.

Complaints On NRA Offered

Non-Compliance In Provisions Of Recovery Act Charged To Nine; Overtime Working Is Major Complaint

Lubbock NRA compliance board members, meeting Thursday night in the chamber of commerce, heard nine complaints of non-compliance with NRA provisions.

Most of the complaints were based upon overtime working, which automatically dropped the wage below the required minimum, and one was of display of the Blue Eagle insignia in advertising by a firm alleged not to have signed an NRA agreement. Each complaint will be considered separately and the employer named will be interviewed.

Three of the larger produce houses, upon petitioning the board, were granted temporary concessions, by which they will not be required during the two weeks prior to Thanksgiving and two weeks prior to Christmas, to pay a minimum of 22 1-2 cents an hour for turkey picking.

It was explained that inexperienced pickers which the produce houses could not afford to use, without such a concession, could be employed to receive a required 4 cents a bird. Experienced pickers, it was said, would earn as much or more than the minimum under either provision.

The produce house representatives said they anticipated an abnormally heavy run of turkeys this season. The difference between the amount inexperienced pickers could earn in an hour at 4 cents a bird, and the 22-1-2-cent-an-hour minimum set forth in the produce code, would be too great for the produce houses to bear in the seasonal rush, it was contended.

BREACH HEALED

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP) — Healing of the breach that for two years has alienated the Dallas Advertising League from its district organization was effected here this morning at the opening session of the convention of the tenth district, advertising federation of America.

About 150 delegates had registered before noon Friday. Edgar Kobak, of New York, federation president, spoke at a luncheon. The convention at a Saturday luncheon will honor General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator.

CHARGES AIRED

EDGEWATER, N. J., Nov. 10. (AP) —Charges that the Ford Motor company is hiring unemployed men from the state emergency relief administration to replace strikers in its Edgewater assembly plant were aired at a meeting of the strike committee today.

J. Glenn Anderson, counsel for the strikers, told the group he had learned that at least 10 men had been sent to the Ford employment office from the relief offices in Edgewater, Fort Lee and Hackensack.

Verdict Of Suicide Given In Death Of Army Officer

MIAMI, Ariz., Nov. 10. (AP) — Lt. George R. Sutherland, 28, of the eighth United States cavalry, El Paso, killed himself, a military court has decided, because he felt himself "honor bound" to make his insurance available "to save the wife of a friend from disgrace."

The findings of the court, unofficially made public here, were dispatched today to the commanding officer at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Elkins Solomon, assistant manager of a Globe wholesale firm, who said he had been a close friend of the dead man, related to the military court that Sutherland had told him a friend's wife in the east was in financial difficulties, and that he, Sutherland, was honor bound to take his own life so that his insurance could be used "to save the wife of a friend from disgrace."

Recognition Of Russia By U. S. Said To Be Important

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 10. (AP) — The Vatican newspaper, Osservatore Romano, described the "United States' recognition of Russia" today, as "one of the most important and historical postwar facts."

The paper added that recognition is "in no sense ideal "but is merely a question of trade.

"Tolerance for communistic ideas is something unthinkable to the American mentality, whose conception of life is separated from communism by an ocean much deeper than which separates the new from the old world," it continued.

Rather Drab Outlook For The Farm Family In 1934 Is Being Pictured

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A rather drab outlook for the farm family in 1934 is painted by the department of agriculture although some improvement over the previous year is expected.

Farm income may increase, the department's annual analysis says, "and there are reasons for anticipating this increase will somewhat more than offset the probable advance in the level of prices of the commodities that farmers buy."

However, the assumption is made a large proportion of farm families still will be available to buy only the bare essentials. While favorable prospects for farm prices are noted, the department assets, debts and taxes will absob much of that increase.

The department estimates farm income for 1933 will be about 24 per cent higher than 1932.

"Probably the greatest improvement in income is occurring in the southern states, where farmers are not only obtaining higher prices for cotton but also are receiving substantial payments for reducing the acreage of cotton this year," says the report.

Department Of Agriculture Official Is In Lubbock On Inspection Jaunt

Here on an inspection trip, Dr. Elmer Lash, assistant chief of the division of tuberculosis eradication of the bureau of animal industry, U. S. D. A. Washington, is renewing boyhood friendships and college fraternalistic life with Dr. I. E. Barr, president of the board of city development.

The two men were born near St. Joe, Mo., and as boys were friends. Later they attended the same Kansas City veterinary college and entered the profession about the same time, Dr. Lash going into government service as did Dr. Barr. The latter turned to the commercial field.

"I am on an inspection trip, getting acquainted with our men in the field and learning their problems," Dr. Lash said. "One thing that impresses me is the fact that the depression has seen no letup in the campaigns to eradicate tuberculosis in dairy cattle. We are making as many tests now as we did before the depression."

The work began in 1917 and more than half of the counties of the nation are now free, he said. There are 13 states free of the disease; North Carolina, Maine, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, North Dakota, Idaho, Utah, Wisconsin, Nevada, New Hampshire, West Virginia and Kentucky. The latter two were added as of November 1.

"Our work in Texas is getting along very nicely," Dr. Lash said. "There are a good many counties in the state that have rid themselves of the disease and more are being added all the time. We have nine federal men working in this state."

Dr. Lash is accompanied by Dr. H. L. Darby, Fort Worth, head of the federal work in Texas and Dr. L. C. Crabb, state veterinarian, will be here Saturday. The three men are going to Clovis and will return and spend the week-end here.

Grand Jury To Probe Slaying

Dallas County Body Begins A Probe Into The Slaying Of Mrs. Toy Woolley On Sunday At Her Home

DALLAS, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Dallas county grand jury today began an investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Toy G. Woolley at her home last Sunday by calling Miss Nona Woolley, 20-year-old sister of the woman's husband who has been charged with murder.

The only eye-witness, Miss Woolley was closeted with the jurors more than an hour and made a lengthy statement to the district attorney's office.

Robert Hurt, district attorney, said that neither Miss Mae Cantrell, Woolley's first wife, nor her father, J. J. Cantrell of Carlton, Tex., would be subpoenaed before the jury. He said that affidavits made by them during the investigation would be sufficient.

Cantrell at his home today said Woolley had talked to his daughter in Austin by long distance telephone several times since Sunday.

Mrs. Woolley was shot a short time after she had given her husband a gun she originally had planned to give him as a Christmas present. She gave it to him so he could use it to hunt ducks.

Black-Draught Gives Refreshing Relief

William Hamm To Take The Stand In Kidnaping Trial

ST. PAUL, Nov. 10. (AP)—William Hamm, jr., will take the stand as chief government witness in the trial of four Touhy gangsters charged with his abduction last June 15, Joseph B. Keenan disclosed today.

Keenan, special government prosecutor, said the millionaire brewer would not be the first witness but would take the stand some time during the federal court trial in which the government expects to call "about a dozen witnesses."

Hamm himself was in the heavily guarded courtroom as a spectator today. He was accompanied by an armed guard. Keenan's disclosure came as selection of prospective jurors proceeded with 15 men and women in the jury box shortly before noon.

A lull came after Federal Judge M. Joyce finished questioning Fred P. Fellows, general secretary of the St. Paul association of commerce, who admitted knowing Hamm and W. W. Dunn, city sales manager of the Theodore Hamm brewing company, of which Hamm is president.

Paul In Macedonia

Text: Acts 16. 9-15, 25-31

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson For Nov. 12

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of The Congregationalist

OUR lesson deals with the event in all Paul's missionary journeys that has become outstanding in its reference and symbolism.

It is a striking incident—this vision of Paul, in the night, of the man of Macedonia standing by his bedside and beseeching him to come and help them. Whether the vision was merely a dream, or a dream that somehow was the expression of Paul's waking thoughts and aspiration it must have been very impressive.

For Paul such experience was a direct call to action and a summons from God himself. It was his nature immediately to respond.

The vision came to him at Troas in Asia Minor, and immediately he crossed the sea of Macedonia. The significance of the journey was the transportation of the gospel from one continent to another and the beginning of that long history of Christianity in Europe in which, in outward form at least, the Christian Church was to have its most notable progress and triumph.

PAUL made his way quickly to Philippi, an important city of Macedonia that henceforth was to occupy a very important place in his life and in the records of Christianity. Here the success of the gospel began with the powerfully dramatic incidents in the local jail.

Paul and Silas, in that persecution to which the apostles of any new faith or teaching ever are prone to be subject, had been thrown into prison without regard either to righteousness or justice. And here at midnight, while the two disciples, in the inner darkness of the prison with their feet fast in the stocks, prayed and sang praises, the earthquake came that threw open the prison doors and made it possible for the prisoners to escape.

The sternness of Roman justice was indicated in the readiness of the jailer to kill himself, believing that all his prisoners had escaped, when there came to him the reassuring voice of Paul, "Do thyself no harm, for we are all here."

The details of the remarkable story need not be recorded, but one never should lose either the perspective or the grandeur of this first conquest of the Christian faith in Europe.

THE "Macedonia call" has become the symbol of all such appeals and missions of the gospel in new lands and environments. Again and again, either in response to outward summons or inward promptings, the spirit of the gospel has sent its missionaries forth on missions of conquest that have been almost as dramatic as these scenes in Macedonia.

In these newer conquests of the gospel, also, the triumph has not been without danger and sacrifice and courage. It is out of the darkness of the night, when men have toiled in faith and in joy that they could be the servants of the cross, that light has dawned and victory has come.

It is in these things that the Christian finds hope of the ultimate triumph of good over evil, of light over darkness, of right over wrong, and of love over hate. The present situation of the world is dark and discouraging, but it is a great privilege and an inspiration to turn at times like these to such a lesson.

The world's hope lies in that power of the gospel, that not only has loosened bonds and opened prison doors, but that has changed the hearts of jailers and turned persecutors into saints.

Pair Charged After Killing

Two Oil Field Workers Being Held In Jail; Officers Put Blame For Affair On Rival Love Affair

WEST COLUMBIA, Tex., Nov. 10. (AP)—Two oil field workers, J. W. Williamson, 50, and Robert Hanson, 35, of West Columbia, today were charged with murder in a double slaying Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Callie Baker and Jeff Anderson, 39, another oil worker, were found shot to death in a room of the home.

Officers blamed the killings on a rival love affair. Mrs. Baker, estranged from her husband, had been receiving attentions from Williamson, Sheriff Jimmy Martin said, but Anderson of late had been favored, the officers learned.

Hanson is a close friend of Williamson. Both are held in jail at Angleton. The charges were filed here before Justice J. L. Main, who had returned a verdict of murder in both cases.

All three men had been going with Mrs. Baker at times, officers said. Mrs. Baker has lived here about 10 years. She is survived by a small daughter.

Statement Regarding Youth Is Issued Here On Friday

A statement regarding Bruce Knight, 13-year-old pupil, who was found in a seemingly dazed condition Thursday morning at Avenue O and Tenth street was issued yesterday by H. C. Bowlin, principal of Central ward school.

The principal's statement follows: "Bruce Knight came to the principal's office about 9:30 (o'clock Thursday morning, stating that he had left some remedial homework, which had been assigned him, at home. He was permitted, rather than instructed, to go home for this work. He attended school in the afternoon. His mother, in an interview with the principal, stated that he frequently made excuses to avoid doing things, and that she believed it to be his own frameup."

Principal Bowlin said the statement was made to correct a report that the boy had been sent home because he did not have written classwork assigned to him. When found, the boy's hands were tied in front of him with a handkerchief. Principal Bowlin said it was the boy's own handkerchief.

Remember Last Season?

Last fall an underdog Cowboy team came to Lubbock and humbled Texas Tech, 13-12, in a surprising upset. Determined not to be caught napping again, the Matadors have kept this defeat uppermost in their minds during the week's training grind, and are particularly pointing to Mr. Carl Pee, Simmons' most highly regarded ball-freighter.

Simmons' senior starting eleven will carry slightly more weight than any set-up Cawthon may send into the fray. Orville McLeod, 232-pound tackle and his running mate, Carr Spraberry, 200 pound draft, pack a little more poundage than Tech's McWilliams and Baker. McLeod has been out several weeks but is now back in form and is expected to play a stellar game. Spraberry is also just over the effects of falling out of a pecan tree.

This Man Pee

Guy Creighton and Co-Captain Pee head the cast in the Rancher secondary. Pee, 195 pound linecracker, has been blasting southwestern gridiron lanes for the last three years. Creighton, short, swart, 170 pounds and all there, is a hip-throwing 10-second man who can go places in a broken field.

Eugene McCollum, who is good on either end of a pass, and Johnny Hill, fullback round out the starting backfield.

Co-Captain G. L. Heustis and Odell Winters hold down the wings. Both are seniors, Huestis having two varsity letters, and Winters a recruit from Hillsboro Junior College, one fall's experience as a regular. Jim Neely, another veteran is a likely replacement.

Kenneth Bentley and J. B. Neely, guards, have been under the gridiron guns together for the last six seasons, playing a couple of years at Abilene High in a manner to gain all-state mention. They both weigh around 175 pounds and are exceedingly hard to stir from their tracks.

Center duties are cared for by Lloyd Cope, a heavily stacked 185 pounder with one year's experience on the varsity.

Injuries Pursue Team

Coach Cranfill has this season been unusually pursued by the injury jinx, and casualties have whittled his squad down to less than two elevens. The team is, however, in finer fettle physically than it has been at any time during the season since the violent Canyon game.

Yesterday Coach Cawthon was faced by the possible loss of big Gwynn Dowell, offensive satellite of the Haskell tilt, who was injured in an inter-squad scrimmage. If Dowell is not ready, McIlroy will take his place in the line-up.

McKeever, Butts, and Curfman will probably get the first call today in the other Matador backfield assignments. Cawthon has been at loss himself, thus far in the season, to definitely catalogue the first stringers" in the secondary out of the 10 to 15 possibilities. More or less all of the men have shone up well at various times but none have been consistent.

Line Coach Smith's task of selection has been less difficult. McWilliams and Captain Baker have had the inside track on the tackle berths all along, and, similarly, Hitchcock and Martin have been the standouts on the flanks.

Barton has seen the most service at pivot, although he is being closely pressed by Priddy, Crawford, and of late, Fortner.

Gaines Davis, rotund sophomore, has been getting in a lot of time at one of th eguards, and will be running up against former mates at Abilene high today. Greer or Turner will work at the other guard position.

With very few ducats remaining early yesterday the game promises to be a sell-out. Tickets may still be procured at the J. & J. Sporting Goods store, up until noon today, when the ticket board will be moved out to the box office at Matador field. Bleacher seats will be sold at the gate.

Up 'n At Him!

PEE

And here's the guy the Matadors are after today. He's Carl Pee, ace of the Simmons backfield, who made the Techsters look pretty sick a year ago come Thanksgiving day and who is back to repeat. Abilene fans say he's tougher than anything on the Tech team, because he "took out" Tech's toughest last year. He sports the number 22 on his jersey.

Lamesa Trounces Slaton, 12 To 0

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Nov. 10.—Held scoreless three quarters by a stubborn defense, the Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa High school clicked successfully in the final period to score two touchdowns and defeat the Slaton High Tigers, 12 to 0 here this afternoon. The victory gives Lamesa undisputed championship of quadrant four of district two B.

Both teams showed defense power, with Lamesa having a slight edge. The locals made nine penetrations to none for Slaton and led 15 to three in first downs. The Tornadoes completed four out of five passes attempted, but made most of their yardage by line plunges. Punting was above average for both teams.

About 2,000 spectators saw the game. A specal train from Slaton brought about 300 fans and approximately the same number came by automobile.

The Tornadoes will meet the winner of quadrant three, expected to be either Spur or Crosbyton, before Nov. 24.

Levelland Wins Over Littlefield

LEVELLAND, Nov. 10. (Special)—Coach Ameral Payne's Levelland High school Bearcats showed power and plenty of it here this afternoon to smother the Littlefield High school team, 44 to 0, and win the quadrant championship in this division of the Class B District 2.

Playing before the largest crowd of fans to assemble here in several seasons, the Bearcats completely overpowered and outclassed the fighting Wildcats from Littlefield. Levelland's gridders put a much heavier team on the field, and this added weight came in most handily.

Silas Leddy, giant fullback, was the particular thorn in Littlefield's side, carrying the ball for most of Levelland's gains.

Levelland scored once in the first period, again in the second, three times in the third quarter and twice in the final chapter.

SCHREINER INSTITUTE WINS

KERRVILLE, Nov. 10. (AP) — Schreiner institute scored a touchdown and a field goal in the last half today to defeat Ranger Junior college's football team, 9 to 0.

Sam McCord, substitute halfback, kicked the field goal from the eight-yard line in the third period, after a pass from Beard to Steen had gained 35 yards.

In the final period, Beard heaved a pass over the goal line to Johnny Neece, rangy end, who scored Schreiner's only touchdown.

Westerners Go Into Temporary Lead After Close Win Over Stubborn Plainview Team On Hale County Gridiron

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 10. — For 24 hours, at least, the Lubbock High school Westerners are leading the race for the District One football championship of the Texas Interscholastic league. Technically, or mathematically, they are entangled in a three-way tie for the leadership, but they have won twice as many games as any other member of the circuit.

The Westerners took the lead this afternoon, but only after wracking the nervous systems of some 500 Lubbock fans who went to Plainview and watched them eke out a 14 to 6 victory over Ralph Dorsey's fighting Bulldogs.

By winning an up hill battle that might have turned either way, the Westerners went one up on Amarillo and Pampa, who have played only one conference game each. Lubbock defeated Borger in an earlier title game. Pampa and Amarillo play tomorrow afternoon at Harvester Field a game that will determine the favorite of the district. Amarillo is given an edge, and by winning will go into a temporary tie with Lubbock for the district lead.

Need All They Have

Forced to call upon their last resources to stand off a desperate Plainview attack and to push over the necessary, the Lubbock schoolboys ran up against a team whose display of power they evidently did not anticipate. The Bulldog team which bowed to Amarillo, 60 to 0, was improved one hundred per cent when it played its' traditional game with Lubbock today.

It was the strongest Plainview team Lubbock has played since the palmy days of 1926 and 1927. It was a Bulldog team that deserved everything it got. It was a "money" team, possessing everything re-

Crosbyton Chiefs Smash Ralls, 6-0

(Special To The Avalanche)

CROSBYTON, Nov. 10. — Thirteen may be unlucky for some, but not the Crosbyton High school Chiefs. In their thirteenth annual game with the Ralls High Jackrabbits here this afternoon, the Chiefs won, 6 to 0, for their first victory of the series. They previously had lost 10 and tied two.

Wayne Wren, sturdy Crosbyton fullback, pushed over a touchdown from the five-yard line in the fourth quarter after Babe Cox had skirted end for thirty yards.

The teams were evenly matched, most of the game being played in mid-field with neither threatening seriously to score. The locals were in scoring distance when the game ended.

Robert Blackwood starred at tackle for Crosbyton, and E. Crump and Tige Powell were outstanding for the visitors. Crosbytbn made no substiutions.

About 2,000 saw the game.

Roofers Win Over Federals And Newsies Smash Icemen

The umpire was the only man on the floor who could get the Avalanche-Journal indoor baseball team out last night, and he stopped the proceedings after five innings. The Publishers and the Peoples Icemen had scored a total of 50 runs at that time, 35 of them being for the newspaper team, and Umpire Marty Fiedler called it a game.

Lydick Roofers and the Federals tangled in a closer and more exciting contest, the Roofers scoring heavily in the third and sixth innings to win a 12 to 6 contest.

The lineups:

Roofers—L. Taylor, lf; Freeland, 1b; R. Taylor, p; McClure, 3b; Flake, cf; Lawson, ss; Littrell, 2b; Bumpass, c; Poston, rf.

Federals — Robinson, cf; Smith, 2b; Scott, ss; Higgins, 1b; Slater, rf; Breedlove, 3b; Ingram, 2b; Alexander, c; Tatum, lf.

Abilene Christians Defeat Austin College Kangaroos

ABILENE, Nov. 10. (AP)—Abilene Christian college stepped up to a second place tie in the Texas conference standings this afternoon by defeating the Austin college Kangaroos, 13 to 0. The victory was the Wildcats' first in the conference this season, their two other starts having resulted in ties.

A. C. C. scored on the next to last play in the second quarter and the final play of the third quarter. Bill Maxwell, Wildcat quarter, whipped off tackle from the two yard line for the first counter, and Ezzell place kicked the point. Captain Gray had set up the score by blocking Shelton's punt and returning to the Austin 12-yard line.

Maxwell also figured in the next touchdown. He returned Shelton's short kick to the Austin 16 yard line, and two plays later passed to Lloyd Raymer, who received the toss on the five yard line and dodged across the goal. Ezzell failed to convert.

Longhorns And Hogs Seek To Protect Leads

Steers To Clash With Baylor Bears And Razorbacks Will Tackle Rice Owls; Ponies Meet Aggies On Kyle Field

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks and the University of Texas Longhorns, Southwest conference pace makers, will strive Saturday to protect their undefeated conference records.

The Razorbacks are at Houston for a game with the Rice Owls who faded from the championship race several weeks ago but loom as dangerous opponents for the Razorbacks.

Steers Tackle Bears

The Longhorns and the Baylor Bears will engage in a setto at Austin that has Longhorn supporters whistling in the dark and taking a prayer and a hope with each step.

The third conference combat will be at College Station between the invading Southern Methodist Mustangs and the Texas A. & M. Aggies. The Mustangs are out of the championship running. The Aggies with one win and one defeat have an outside chance at the crown.

The Texas Christian Frogs 1932 champions who lost their chance to retain the title last week by dropping a 7 to 0 game to Baylor will play an intersectional game at Fort Worth against North Dakota.

Semi-Final For Hogs

Feverish interest of conference fans will center on games at Austin and Houston. Should Texas and Arkansas emerge victorious the championship issue will be squarely up to them when they meet November 24 at Austin. The Razorbacks will be playing their semi-final conference game when they tie into Rice. A victory will leave them with four consecutive conference wins and only one more championship game to play.

Coach Fred Thomsen and his team arrived at Houston Friday and announced ready for a tough game. The Razorbacks in fine condition following last week's rest, Thomsen planned to start at least ten lettermen.

Bears Have Power

It will be homecoming day for the University of Texas. The Longhorns confident that Bohn Hilliard conference scoring leader will get loose for a touchdown have prepared for a stiff combat. Baylor surprised the public last week by defeating Texas Christian. The Bears have revealed increasing strength with each game. The two boys due to give the Longhorns plenty of worry are Frank James and Jim Petty two of the best pass catching ends in the conference. Jack Pearce who scored the touchdown that beat Texas Christian is Baylor's running threat.

The University of North Dakota, 25 strong, arrived at Fort Worth Friday night. The Texas Christians are on edge and keen to atone somewhat for last week's defeat.

Ready to fill the air with passes, the Southern Methodist Mustangs are determined to eliminate the Aggies from the conference running. Coach Ray Morrison will start Shelby Burt, a new man in the backfield. Burt is regarded as the best passer on the Methodist squad.

Title Clashes Dominate Grid Picture Today

Civil War Stage Of College Football Reached; Chief Interest Is Concentrated On Sectional Struggles

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP) — The Civil war stage of the college football conflict, with its full accompaniment of tumult and shouting dominates the embattled gridiron scene tomorrow from coast to coast.

Although there are several notable intersectional skirmishes, such as the drive of the Georgia Bulldogs to make it four straight over Yale and Ohio State's attack on Pennsylvania's defense at Philadelphia, the chief interest and biggest crowds of the day will be concentrated on the sectional struggles.

Stanford Meets U. S. C.

Headed by Stanford's invasion of Southern California's massive ballwick, the Los Angeles coliseum, where upwards of 85,000 are expected to turn out, ten of the country's outstanding games in the east, midwest and far west appear certain to draw an aggregate of 500,000 spectators.

Georgia alone among the seven major teams unbeaten and untied moves out of its home sector. Unless their line is greatly weakened by the loss of a star center and injury to the team's best guard, the Bulldogs of the south seem likely to gallop off again with another victory over Yale before about 55,000 bargain-day customers at New Haven's big bowl.

Undefeated Teams Favored

Michigan, Oregon, Nebraska, Army, Princeton and Duke, the other six standout teams with spotless records, do not face serious opposition on the whole. Of the six, Oregon has perhaps the toughest prospect in the battle with Oregon state at Portland. Both are undefeated, both are hot rivals of Southern California for the Pacific coast title and anything can happen. Oregon had a touchdown margin last year.

Michigan's close call against Illinois may inspire the Wolverines to stage another big onslaught against

Baylor Bears' Ambitions Soar As Texas Game Looms

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP) — Baylor's Golden Bears, heartened by their victory of last Saturday in which they banished Texas Christian university from the Southwest conference title chase, are ready and anxious tonight to administer the University of Texas its first conference defeat of the season.

Coach Morley Jennings indicated he would start the same lineup that ruined the titles hopes of T. C. U.

Texas was favored to win but being the under dog meant little to the Bears. They also were doped to lose last Saturday.

Baylor last defeated Texas in 1926. In the last five games against the Longhorns, Baylor has not scored a single point.

JAVELINAS BEATEN

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Corpus Christi college-academy grid team defeated the Texas college of Arts and Industries frosh team from Kingsville here today, 14 to 6. Poole and Jones scored for college-academy, with Isbell place kicking the extra points. Prejean fullback, made the Yearlings' only score. He returned a kickoff in the second period 90 yards for a touchdown.

AGGIE HARRIERS WIN

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 10. (AP) — The Texas Aggies defeated the University of Texas Longhorns, 29 to 26, in a dual cross-country meet today. George Wilson, sophomore Longhorn runner, set a new course record, covering the 3.8 miles in 18 minutes and 50 seconds. Bob Taylor, Aggie runner, placed second.

LOBO FROSH LOSE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 10. (AP)—Getting off to an early start, the New Mexico State college Aggie freshmen defeated the University of New Mexico frosh, 21 to 7, here today by running up three touchdowns in the first two periods of the game.

Lubbock And Lamesa Polo Teams To Meet Sunday At Littlefield As Meet Opens

We Must Keep The Faith!

ARMISTICE DAY brings reflections, some happy, many otherwise. So reticent is the average service man that it is sometimes difficult to ascertain his precise feelings as he looks back upon that historic moment in which Armistice Day was born 15 years ago.

But it is not so difficult to ascertain the thoughts of others. And one of them is that there are in America today hundreds of thousands of young men, married, holding responsible jobs, finished with their schooling, who were too young to be in service when the armistice ended the World war. The World war, to them, is a distant memory. Even to the rest of us, who were older then and knew something about it, it seems far away, blurred by time.

Yet, in the bramble-grown gullies and ravines of the Meuse-Argonne region, in the over-grown dugouts and machine gun nests of Belleau Wood, and in the tangled region about Chateau Thierry, there are still lying, undiscovered, the bodies of more than 1,300 American soldiers who were killed in action.

This is something in the nature of a reminder for all of us.

We tend to put unpleasant experiences out of mind. Whether we gained or lost by them—whether they were closed episodes or left us with new problems to solve—we resolutely go to work to forget them. We tell ourselves, "Well, anyhow, it's OVER."

We have been doing that with the World war.

It is not only the pain and suffering of the war that we put behind us. We put behind us, also, the vast hopes and high ideals with which we entered the war. We were keyed up, then, to a higher point than we have been able to reach since. We were ready for sacrifices. We had our eyes on an ideal.

And today? Well, we don't like to think about those things. We know that we have somehow missed the ideals and the hopes. We have come down to earth again, and it is uncomfortable to remind ourselves of it. So we try to forget.

But—there are still 1,300 unidentified bodies of our soldier dead lying where they fell, on the battlefields that our ideals and our hopes brought into being. And they will not let us forget.

Those 1,300 boys, who have lain for 15 years in snow and rain with bits of lead and steel in the dust of their hearts, died for something. They had a dim, possibly confused notion that the world would somehow be a better place because they died. They surrendered themselves to a force that moved the hearts of their country. They paid with their lives for a belief that a new day could be made to dawn on earth.

The rest of us were spared. We lived on, to taste the joys and ecstacies and victories of daily life that those lads missed forever. We were permitted to go on with our work and our play as before.

But with this privilege went a responsibility. To see to it "that these heroic dead shall not have died in vain" is our greatest task. Somewhere between 1918 and 1933 we have lost the great vision that sustained these young men on their last march. Nothing—nothing that you can imagine—is more important than that we regain that vision and act on it.

AN ARMISTICE DAY PRAYER

By REV. MARSHALL RHEW

Our Father who are in heaven,
We pause in the midst
Of our hurried living,
In memory of an endless
Line of men
Who marched into a valley of death,
Never to return again.

May their dying not be in vain.
May we this day renew with thee
Our vow to them—
Our vow to end all war.
And though our method of Ending war
Be a different method
From that which they used,
Grant us a devotion to our cause
Like unto that which they had for theirs;
Give us a willingness
To give up everything,
Even unto death,
In carrying out our way.

We pause in the midst
Or our seeking knowledge
Lest we forget
There are many things we do not know;
Lest we forget
That so-called Christian nations
Have gone to war.
And may yet go to war against each other.

Forgive us, we pray,
That we live in a world of war—
That we live in a world
That has not yet learned
How to live at peace with itself.

We would remember this day
One who walked the shores
Of a Galilean lake,
Who spoke of a Kingdom of God,
A brotherhood of man.

Hasten the day when
Thy kingdom of peace on earth
And good will among all men
Shall be realized on this
Our good earth.
Amen.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

SECRETARY of Agriculture Wallace took a few shots as a result of being stuck out front on the hotly controversial sugar quota negotiations.

It will be recalled a quota agreement was reached some days after months of struggle but was rejected by the administration.

Apparently Wallace was told to down-thumb the agreement and give his own reasons.

The real reason was the Cuban quota. This must be agreeable to the Cuban government. Unfortunately Washington is not at all sure the wobbly Cuban administration is going to stick.

So Wallace announced to the refiners, growers and their associates that the agreement was temporarily out the window because of unsettled conditions in Cuba.

The State department immediately let out a yell.

ACIDITY: Wallace then back-tracked his line of reasoning and said the benefits of the agreement accruing to the 42,000 sugar beet farmers in this country would be far offset by lofty sugar prices to millions of other farmers.

Again the heat was turned on—this time from the farm belt. Agriculture's boss was told his figures on the number of beet farmers and prices were all wet.

Wallace finally decided the quotas were rejected for "high reason of state." The State department blandly said it didn't know what he was talking about. There the matter rests.

DUTIES: Manufacturers and importers of cordage and binding twine have raised an interesting question in an interesting way.

Cord and twine, along with hundreds of other products, are now importable duty free. Under the terms of the Recovery act the President is bound to protect American code adherents from foreign competition by lifting tariffs clear up to complete embargo.

Can the President take an article off the free list and tax it or bar it? The question is important because so many things are on the free list.

GUNNERY: Gus Gennerich, personal body guard to President Roosevelt and a former lieutenant of New York police, has very definite ideas on crime suppression.

First he would use guerilla methods in fighting guerillas. "Don't give them any more of a chance than they give the people they spray with machine guns."

He reasons the war on kidnapers, racketeers and other hoodlums is just as much a war as was the late unpleasantness in France.

The Roosevelt aide would form a picked force of 500 men into the "United States Police" with broad powers which know no state lines. Trial of the mobsters inadvertently brought in alive would be by court martial. Penalties up to the firing squad would be invoked immediately on establishment of guilt.

Gus further would make possession of a gun a capital offense. He would not even permit police to own their own weapons. All firearms in circulation would be subject to instant check.

Hunters would call at armories in season for their shotguns, sign for them and return them when the hunting was over.

REBUFF: Senator McKellar of Tennessee apparently has lost himself a constituent.

The Senator recently has been advocating Russian recognition and repeal of the immigration laws, according to this aggrieved gentleman. Taking issue with these views the constituent wrote McKeller a letter of protest.

He got a reply from D. W. McKeller, Secretary (brother Don) stating the letter would NOT be shown to the Senator.

NOTES: Senator Bob Wagner of New York, chairman of the National Labor board, has had some tall orders in his career but recently he got one that took his breath away. . . . A Pennsylvania lady, writing in a cultured hand, requested "Please send me complete information on capital and labor.". . . Barney Baruch addressed officer students at the Army War college the other day. . . . He does it once a year. . . . Having been head of the War Industries board, he lectures the Army officers on pooling patents, price-fixing, purchasing, etc., in time of war.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE Swope plan for handing industry back to itself was a back-door move to bolster NRA. The opposition has been feeding on red meat lately and something had to be done to head off wholesale rebellion at an awkward time.

The chief complaint from the business moguls has been that they no longer have authority to manage their own affairs. What could be sweeter than to imply that some day they will get that authority back? Many a time a tasty dish of hope has killed off an appetite for insurgency.

The odd thing is that when the Swope plan was first broached two years ago it aroused no enthusiasm whatever. Now it looks like manna to starving individualists in comparison to the profit famine they think the government has inflicted on them. Many of its present adherents believe it could be jettisoned when once adopted and the government was out of the picture.

MOTORS: The automobile makers will try to recapture the declining popular urge to buy by bringing out new models much earlier than usual. The tool and die-makers' strike is being cleaned up with that goal in view. They're not sure it will work but they'll try anything. This should make happy news for the steel companies—and they need it.

PERISHING BY THE SWORD

"Whoever kills with the sword must be killed with the sword." Revelations 13:10.

Today we celebrate the victory. Victory? Dare anyone believe that we won that war? It cost America alone enough money to buy the entire state of New York—including the wonder city of the world. The total cost of the war would erect a $100,000 hospital in every town, village and city of the world, and then leave $37,000,000,000 for medical research. We nor any other nation won that war. By the way of the sword we all perished.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

TANKS

The tank was invented by Major-General Swinton of the British Army, based on the propelling principle of the caterpillar farm tractor invented by an American, Benjamin Holt of California about 1900. A large number of tanks was manufactured in Britain between August, 1916 and March, 1917. To prevent the secret from leaking out to the enemy the British government permitted it to be whispered about that the huge machines were intended to carry water to the British armies fighting in Egypt. They were called "cisterns" or "reservoirs" at first, but later the shorter work "tank" was adopted and stuck. The tank was the surprise of the World War, and offset the Central Power's initial superiority in machine guns and central mobility. Both the "Poison and its Antidote" (Machine Gun and Tank) are based on American inventions

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOAN WARING, pretty Memphis girl, and BOB WESTON, son of a millionaire, meet in Memphis and fall in love. They become estranged through the scheming of BARBARA COURTNEY, who is trying to win Bob for herself.

PAT WARING, Joan's younger sister, is in an automobile accident in which JERRY FORRESTER, her escort, is killed. Heartsick, Pat runs away to New York. Joan follows and begins a search for Pat and also a search for a job.

She is engaged as a masked singer at a night club. Handsome BARNEY BLAKE, the owner, proves a steadfast friend.

Joan finds Pat, very ill. During Pat's convalescence, Joan and Barney are drawn closer together. Joan, believing Bob is lost to her, promises to marry Barney. Pat becomes Barney's secretary and soon he realizes that it is Pat he loves instead of Joan. Nevertheless the wedding plans go on, because Pat insists that Joan must not be hurt.

Joan wakes one night to hear Pat sobbing bitterly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVIII

Joan sat down on the edge of Pat's bed. "Pat, darling," she said, "what are you crying about?"

She threw an arm about the other girl. Like a child, Pat pillowed her head against Joan's arm. "Silly of me to cry," Pat whispered brokenly, "when there's no reason."

"But there must be a reason. Please tell me, dear!"

Could Pat be grieving about Jerry Forrester? No, that did not seem likely. Pat had seemed perfectly happy for weeks. And it was just as unlikely that Pat was homesick. She adored the excitement of New York. She was never tired or bored.

Suddenly Joan believed she understood. It must be that Pat was in love. How blind she had been not to understand! All at once Joan saw that Pat had changed. She was more subdued now. There was a becoming reserve about her.

"Who is he?" Joan asked.

There was a moment of silence. Joan felt Pat's arm grow tense against her own. Then came Pat's usual cheerful voice. "Now, won't you listen to Mrs. Detective!"

"Pat, dear, forgive me for saying this, but I hate to think you might seriously care for Vance. I've thought from the first that he is Jerry's type. I'm sorry if I've hurt you."

"Don't worry," Pat said. "I'm using my head now. I have to!"

Then it was Vance. Joan was amazed at the revelation in the grim young voice. How selfish she had been. So absorbed in her own unhappiness she had failed to remember that others had problems too. She had known of course that Pat was seeing a good deal of Vance Nicholas but it had never occurred to her that Pat's interest was so deep.

"Pat," Joan said slowly. "I can't quite believe it. Of course he's good looking—"

"Well, if you had had eyes you would have noticed that I was giving him all my time."

"I did notice, but I didn't think it meant anything."

"No use worrying, Joan. Guess I've got another case of puppy love, as mother would call it. I'll get over it, I suppose, but it's painful while it lasts—like mumps and measles."

Joan sighed. If she and Pat were only at home tonight! Nothing about this new life seemed real. Memories of those weeks at home, memories of Bob seemed a hundred times more genuine.

Unconsciously Joan had hoarded every memory, every gesture of Bob's. She could still see the steadiness of his eyes, the little trick he had of drawing his brows together, a frown that was not frowning at all—just concentration, the ominous set to his chin when he was angry and the teasing smile which revealed his firm, white teeth.

She must not allow herself to think of him. This absorption was shutting out every one. Even Pat. And Barney, too.

Barney had seemed troubled and preoccupied lately. He had ceased to question her about the date for their wedding. Perhaps he had been hurt by her lack of enthusiasm.

Pat said in a quiet voice: "Joan, when are you are Barney going to be married?"

Joan's heart thumping, her mind veering frantically away from the decision again. "I don't know. Why?"

And then Pat's sober voice. "Well, I think you ought to set a definite date."

So Pat had noticed that Barney was troubled. After a long moment Joan said slowly, "Yes, I guess we should. We'll make it soon, Pat. And announce it later. I don't want a lot of fuss and excitement. You know how popular Barney is. We'll just walk off some day and be married."

Pat was laughing queerly. "I was just thinking," she said, "that my last chance has gone to be maid of honor and walk down the aisle with you—and Barney."

Lying in the darkness, Joan battled with herself and won. She would put aside the dream existence in which only Bob was real. She would think of practical things—home, companionship, protection.

"I'm going shopping this afternoon," she told Pat at noon next day. "Ask Barney to let you off early. I want you to come with me."

"You want me to help!"

"Of course, Pat. Don't you want to?"

"I only meant I'd be selecting things I like, Joan—"

They spent the early part of the afternoon buying lingerie—lovely, lacy, frilly things, piled in lavish heaps on the counter before them. The saleswoman lifted a negligee from a hanger.

Capitol Chatter

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—No longer will delinquent taxpayers, including many large ones be permitted to go for years without rendering to the state that which the state has levied as its due.

The state tax board, for years an office maintained principally for research purposes and which lacked both the personnel and the laws necessary to make it an effective organization, has started a campaign designed to bring into the state's depleted coffers much revenue in the form of back taxes.

There was an insistent demand in past legislative sessions to abolish the tax board as an unnecessary barnacle on the ship of state. The 43rd legislature, however, in its regular session, decided something ought to be done toward collecting delinquent levies and nominated the tax board to do the job.

A law was passed giving the board increased powers and an adequate personnel. Provision was made for appointment of assistant attorneys general whose sole duty would be to file tax suits against those who failed to heed the state's warning and lay the cash on the barrel head.

The drive is being centered principally on those who have failed to pay their occupation, gross production, gross receipts, franchise, inheritance and gross premiums on insurance taxes. Since the duty of collecting the state ad valorem taxes is placed on the local officials the state board will not be bothered by this problem.

While the tax board was made the central tax enforcement agency, the other tax agencies were not relieved of their duty in tax collections. The law requires that all taxes 30 days delinquent be certified to the state tax board for enforced collection if necessary.

Collections already are beginning to come in and the board has adopted a "pay or be sued" attitude toward delinquents.

The auditing department of the board recently completed an audit of 2,000 companies that are delinquent in franchise taxes and the fiindings were turned over to the legal department.

In cooperation with the comptroller, the board is preparing suits against a number of delinquent oil companies in which foreclosure of the state's tax lien and sale of the property of the companies will be sought, the board announced. Many of these suits, the board reported, will involve several hundred thousand dollars in taxes.

The money found in letters that find their way to the Dead Letter Office goes to the Treasury Department as miscellaneous receipts.

Lubbock Negro Badly Injured

Negro Policeman Fires Four Shots Into Body Of Man As He Threatens To Shoot As Result Of Fight

Milton Blanford, 38-year-old negro policeman in The Flats, shot and possibly fatally wounded Paul Quinn, another negro, at 11:30 p. m. Friday. The shooting occurred in the 1700-block of Avenue A.

The policeman said he fired four shots from a .41 caliber revolver after Quinn had threatened "to shoot it out" and had "made a gun play" by "opening up his bosom."

Fight In Cafe

Quinn, who lived in the 1700-block of Avenue C, and a negro woman, Mary Johnson, 23, were fighting in a cafe, Blanford said. The policeman placed Quinn in a taxicab to carry him to the station, but Quinn got out of the car, cursing Blanford, the latter said. Quinn was shot at twice in the abdomen, and he a flesh wound in his right hand.

Quinn shot and killed a negro at Crosbyton and was tried for the slaying, said Blanford, a witness of the other shooting.

The wounded man was carried to Lubbock sanitarium in a Stahler ambulance. An operation was being performed early this morning.

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Foreign exchanges continued to attract the major share of attention in financial markets today. With the dollar steadying—rallying at times, in fact—speculative interest on the buying side of stocks and commodities waned, and quotations dipped.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation posted a gold-buying price of $33.20, up 5 cents, which was under the world market level on the basis of sterling's London opening. Most observers felt that Washington's willingness to let its quotations go under London for the first time indicated an attempt to brake the dollar's fall after the swift depreciation which had already occurred this week.

United States government bonds and the high grade investment list were still soft but extreme losses in some instances were curtailed. There were intimations that weakness of gilt edge securities had caused concern in official quarters; whether this had contributed to the morning's gold price decision at Washington was not revealed.

On the stock exchange, some of the gold mining shares firmed a bit toward the close.

Volume fell off to 1,378,110 shares.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Trading in cotton was only moderately active today and prices fluctuated without developing any definite trend. The course of sterling exchange was the dominant factor and the close was 3 to 4 points net lower.

The opening was firmer although Liverpool cables were a shade lower than due. First trades here showed gains of 11 to 13 points with December up to 9.91 and March to 10.17 while May reached 10.31. The market soon turned easier, however, as sterling declined and there was also a fair amount of hedge selling. December dropped to 9.81 and March to 10.05, down 10 to 12 points from the opening highs and unchanged to 1 point up compared with yesterday's close.

Near noon the market rallied 6 to 7 points but in the afternoon, the market weakened with stocks and easier sterling and there was considerable week-end liquidation. Prices made new lows for the day right at the end with December at 9.77 and March at 10.01 or 14 to 16 points below the highs of early trading. The close was at the lowest, December showing net loss of 3 points and March 4 points.

Port receipts 64,979, for week 297,190, for season 3,925,751, last year 3,674,340. Exports 57,423, for week 240,541, for season 2,738,103, last season 2,438,879. Port stock 3,959,192, last year 4,436,419. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 131,435, last year 161,393. Spot sales at southern markets 52,497, last year 11,778.

by glass from the windshield of the car driven by Barton.

Frank Cravens, about 18, and Mauldin Osburn, about 20, who were injured in an automobile mishap near Plainview, were treated at Lubbock sanitarium. Cravens' left arm was lacerated, and Osburn has a scalp wound.

Report Unconfirmed

A report that a young woman named Mary Evelyn Stewart was injured when she fell or was pushed from a special train which carried students to the Lubbock-Plainview football game Friday was unconfirmed. Neither hospital had a report of having treated her.

A. A. Tapp, 56, was injured seriously early Friday as he led some horses to water at his farm home a miles southeast of Dowd switch, about 5 miles southwest of Lubbock. He suffered a fracture of both shoulder blades, severe shock, and possibly internal injuries, it was said at Lubbock sanitarium. A Stahler ambulance brought him here about 9 a. m.

Entangled In Lines

Although none saw the accident, Tapp was believed to have become entangled in lines of horses he was leading, and to have been kicked and possibly dragged.

Jim Williams, who with Bert Robertson was injured gravely in a truck mishap Thursday near Tatum, remained unconscious at West Texas hospital last night. Williams' skull was fractured.

Robertson also was in a critical condition, suffering of a back broken in three places, a broken rib which punctured a lung, and internal injuries. Both men live at Ropesville.

An automobile accident near Littlefield late Thursday, in which Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Williams of Lubbock were injured, was reported Friday. Mrs. Williams is a daughter of Dr. O. C. Boone of Lubbock. They were hurt when their Plymouth coach overturned twice.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10. (AP) — Limited supply of beef steers and yearlings in today's trade sold at generally steady prices with a few sales listed at a spread of 4.00@5.85. With price change at eastern dressed beef markets continually to work on a weak to lower basis this week the live trade was forced to follow suit. Consignments of yearlings and live steers averaging under 1,000 lbs. were given first choice but even so selling averages for the week ruled steady to 15 lower. Offerings scaling over 1,100 lbs. met a slow demand at weak to a quarter lower figures in most cases. Kinds weighing around 1220-1400 lbs. showing a loss of 15 to 25 cents. Light mixed yearlings and fed heifers around 700-850 lbs. were in popular demand and at several markets these light cattle brought the week's top. Chicago listed choice around 700 lbs. heifers at 6.50 for the week's high point. Stockers and feeders closed steady at most points with most steers selling around 3.75@4.50.

Hogs sold at steady to higher levels at most markets with St. Louis showing a top of 4.35. A few desirable 225 lbs. butchers sold to shippers at 4.50 in Chicago but for the second consecutive day that market was reported in a deadlock at a late hour with around 23,000 unsold.

Slaughter lambs cleared at mostly steady prices although some points noted weak to a quarter lower levels. The general bulk of desirable fat kinds made 6.50@7.00 with a few closely assorted lambs in Chicago at 7.15.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP)—Hogs 1,-200; steady to 10c lower; top 4.30; 185-260 lb. truck hogs 4.20@4.30; 160-180 lb. lights 3.65@4.15; packing sows 3.25@3.50.

Cattle 800; calves 500; hardly enough cattle or calves on sale to make a market; some good heavy fed steers held around 4.25; few butcher cows 1.75@2.25; heavy slaughter calves mostly 2.75 down.

Sheep 1,000; few good weeled lambs 6.00, or steady.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP)—Fair demand for cash grain on the Fort Worth market continued today.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads, on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to delivery point:

Delivered Texas gulf ports: export rate, or Texas common points: wheat No. 1 hard 86 3-4@87 3-4. Barley No. 2 nominally 60@62; No. 3 nominally 58@60. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 1.03@1.05; No. 3 milo nominally 99@1.02; No. 2 kafir nominally 91@93. No. 3 kafir nominally 88@90.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn No. 2 mixed 62 1-2@63 1-2; No. 2 white 64@65; No. 2 yellow 63@64; Oats No. 2 red 45 1-2@46 1-2; No. 3 red 44 1-2@45 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORTS

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Bumped into by preparations for a double holiday, grain prices underwent material setbacks today, notwithstanding new upturns of gold values and of British exchange.

A disturbing factor was word from Liverpool that market confidence there had been shaken by demoralization of exchange rates. Besides, numerous commission houses here advised that after a recent advance of nearly 24 cents in wheat and about 13 cents in corn, the market position of grains had been somewhat weakened for at least the time being and that profit-taking was in order.

Wheat closed unsettled 7-8 to 1 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 3-4 to 1 cent down, oats 7-8 to 1 1-8 off and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to an equal gain.

Officials had voiced a theory that a man repulsed five or six years ago when he attempted to shower attentions on Mrs. Hayter, a Lawton club woman, may have had some connection with the triple slaying. Other investigators have advanced a theory of double-murder and suicide, blaming the son, Sidney, for the deaths.

Dr. A. J. Weeks, Southwestern Christian Advocate editor, told of the progress of the church organ.

Dr. John H. Hicks, professor at Southern Methodist university, preached tonight.

The conference voted to hold its next annual session jointly with the other four Texas conferences in celebration of the Texas centennial. Dallas, it was understood, was favored for the meeting place.

Bishop Sam R. Hay Is Speaker At Corsicana

CORSICANA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Bishop Sam R. Hay told the Central Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, today that stinginess and stealing were ruining the world.

The bishop made the statement after the report of Dr. J. F. Rawls, treasurer of the general board of missions, had been read. Dr. Rawls reported that 12 missionaries had been withdrawn from foreign fields because of lack of funds.

The bishop also took occasion to censure ministers who did not take proper care of the parsonage and church grounds, stating that there were a number of pieces of church property that were disgraces, and telling the preachers that he could tell what was on the inside of the house by the appearance outside.

The conference adopted the report of the committee on ministerial supply and support, which set a minimum salary of $1,000 a year and a house and made provisions for a regular percentage to be contributed by pastors receiving above the minimum for aiding those who fell under the scale.

After considerable discussion, the conference agreed to participate in the Texas Methodist centennial in 1934.

California will pay $69,430,350 as its share to the school districts of the state this school term.

Pair Held For Bank Robberies

BRISTOW, Okla., Nov. 10. (AP)—Clarence and Otis Eno, brothers, suspected by officers of connection with the Wilbur Underhill-Ford Bradshaw outlaw band, were arrested here today by Kansas and Oklahoma officers.

Officers said the pair was wanted for questioning about the $13,000 Okmulgee bank robbery November 2, the $6,000 Baxter Springs, Kan., bank robbery two months ago and a York, Neb., bank holdup.

Their mother, Mrs. Mary Eno, and Hazel Winn also were arested.

Officers found $1,859.05, much of it in nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars, in an apartment where some of the group had been living.

Westerners Win

quired of a club to thrill and exhilerate a screaming crowd. It had everything, that is, except the necessary power to produce touchdowns after consistent gains in midfield.

Score Through Air

The Westerners scored first. On a field entirely void of turf, a field that would have been an awful quagmire had it rained, the Westerners pushed from midfield, where a Bulldog punt went out of bounds, to the Plainview 22-yard line. Rufus Ryan, captain and galloping ground gainer of the Lubbock forces, slipped around right end for 15 yards on the first play. Granbury, playing a snappy halfback game, carried the ball in four plays to the 22. Then Rayburn Hale stepped back on flimsy footing the field afforded, and tossed a spot pass to Charles Calhoun, playing the left end position again, and Calhoun went over the pay strip for a touchdown. Starkey Whitehorn kicked from placement for extra point.

Goal Line Stand

Then came an onslaught which resulted in Plainview's touchdown. Lubbock failed to return the Bulldog kick-off, and Ryan and Newton were held for no gain. A 15-yard penalty moved the Westerners back to their 15-yard line. Hale was back on his 5-yard line to punt. The Bulldog line charged and Davis, left tackle, broke through to execute a perfect block. The kick ricocheted back in Lubbock's end zone, where Foster, Bulldog guard, fell on it for a tonchdown. Covington rushed in to replace T. Dean and to try for point, but it was awry.

Half-way of the second period, the Westerner team made one of the finest goal line stands the writer has seen this season. Fullback Johnson, one of the chief threats of the Plainview offense and defense, and Ervin Dean drove the ball to Lubbock's 4-yard line after a poor Lubbock kick had been returned to its 33-yard line. Plainview tore at the Lubbock line for a first down on the 3-yard mark. With four plays to make it, they advanced to the one-foot line on the third charge and fumbled the ball. A mass of Lubbock linesmen fell on it, and Hale kicked safely behind his goal line.

Lubbock's second touchdown came in the third period, and was the result of the most sensational play of the game. Back up to their own 25-yard line, the Westerners came out to the 36 when Waymond Newton intercepted one of Walker's numerous passes. Then the team made a path for Ryan around right end. Going nearly to the sideline and coming face to face with Plainview's unblocked secondary, the fleet-footed captain reversed his field, squirmed through a mass of would-be tacklers and tore down the middle, 64 yards, to go across the goal line with his nearest pursuer 30 yards behind. Again Whitehorn kicked goal for the 14th point.

Bulldog Drive Stopped

The fourth period was a fight in Lubbock territory, but the staunch Lubbock line held fast. A Bulldog drive from its own 20-yard line was stopped on Lubbock's 40, and Walker had to kick out. Nor could the Westerner offense gain against Plainview's heavier wall. Fighting to the last ditch, the Bulldogs held ground plays almost perfectly. Ryan and Newton were the only Westerners able to gain ground, and this on wide sweeps.

Red Doherty, G. B. Wimberly and Howell Young played sterling football in Lubbock's line, the latter outscrapping Plainview's touted Captain Farmer and dimming Farmer's hopes for all-district honors. For Plainview, Johnson, Erv Dean and Covington in the backfield, and Mabry and Leonard Foster in the line disported themselves in fine fashion.

Lubbock gained 181 yards from running plays, chalking up 10 first downs. Plainview, although outgaining Lubbock in the first half, gained 169 yards on the ground and made six first downs, four of them in the first half.

The lineups:

Lubbock — Calhoun and Whitehorn, ends; Doherty and Wimberley, tackles; Phillips and Hodges, guards; Young, center; Hale, quarterback; Ryan, left half; Granbury, right half; Newton, fullback. Substitutions — Aycock for Hodges; Barnes for Aycock; Griggs for Calhoun.

Plainview — Leonard Lowry and Mabry, ends; Davis and Randall, tackles; Foster and Evans, guards; Farmer, center; Leon Lowry, quarter; T. Dean, right half; E. Dean, left half, and Johnson, fullback.

Substitutions — Covington for T. Dean; Buntin for Covington; Walker for Buntin; Covington for E. Dean.

The treasury had ruled that it would have to collect the taxes until the president proclaimed repeal, refunding them if necessary.

Automatically Dies

Attorney General Cummings said today that no formal proclamation by the secretary of state was necessary to make repeal effective but that the 18th amendment would automatically die when the 36th state has ratified the 21st amendment. That will be, it was indicated, when Utah acts in convention at about 3 o'clock on the afternoon of December 5.

Setting up supervision that will facilitate revenue collections.

Protecting legitimate industry from illicit competition.

Armistice Day

guard band, directed by Harry LeMaire, will parade. Capt. Ben Condray, will have charge of the colors in the march. Capt. Jack Walden will direct firing of a salute on the Technological college campus.

The flag ceremony will be conducted there. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the college, will speak.

A majority of stores and offices will be closed from 10 a. m. to noon so employes and patrons may participate in or attend the parade and climaxing ceremony. The chamber of commerce and Lubbock county library also will be closed those two hours. Banks and city and county offices will be closed all day. The postoffice will close at noon.

Formal Armistice day observance will begin at 6 a. m., when members of Allen Brothers post, No. 148, of the American Legion and other former service men will attend a "dutch" breakfast in the Lubbock hotel, and will end with a dance beginning at 9 p. m. in the auditorium. The Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts will sponsor the dance.

Alumni and former students of Texas Technological college will have an annual homecoming luncheon in the Lubbock hotel, going from there to Matador field to see the Texas Tech-Simmons university gridiron battle.

Registration for the luncheon, sponsored by the alumni association, will begin at 10 o'clock in the hotel.

D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area council Boy Scout executive, has instructed Boy Scouts to be at City hall in uniform at 9:30 a. m. for placement in the parade.

THREE FOUND DEAD

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10. (AP)—City Councilman George W. Konig, 42, another man and a woman were found dead in a two-room gas-filled apartment here today. Each was partially dressed.

Coroner B. P. Herzog rendered verdicts of accidental death. He said they had been dead 10 or 12 hours.

GIVEN DIVORCE

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 10 (AP)—Frances Meany Schofield, one of the Meany sisters, aquatic stars, was granted a divorce today from Edmond H. Scofield of Port Chester, N. Y.

ACTOR IS DEAD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 10. (AP) — Suffering a relapse after an appendicitis operation, Hugh Trevor 30, film actor, died suddenly today at a hospital here.

Bodies Of Four Men Removed From Wreckage Of A Plane

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10. (AP)—The bodies of four men, one of them an internationally famous surgeon, were removed today from the twisted flame-swept wreckage of a transport plane which crashed on a hillside in a heavy fog near here last night.

Dr. Robert C. Coffey, 64, noted for his original contributions to surgery, Herman Cohn of Portland and Arthur S. Trostler of Chicago, passengers, and Pilot A. W. Davis were killed. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Four were injured and two slightly hurt.

Title Clashes

Iowa. Nebraska figures to clinch the Big Six lead at the expense of Kansas and Duke's powerful team should not be extended to down the "cellar club" of the Southern conference, Maryland. In the east, Army and Princeton look to have too many big guns for either Harvard or Dartmouth, respectively. The Cadets, however, are not likely to enjoy anything like the 46-0 romp they had at the Crimson's expense a year ago.

Purdue Battles Irish

No game holds forth the prospect of more drama than the attack of unbeaten Purdue upon the shell-shocked football citadel of Notre Dame, beaten and not even able to score in its last three games. Until the Boilermakers lost Purvis, considered the Big Ten's best all-around back, the only question seemed to be how big a score they would run up against Notre Dame. Purdue is still the favorite but the feeling persists that the fighting Irish are over-due to break loose in a big way and that circumstances may make Noble Kizer's Boilermakers the victim. There is no less interest in this game because Kizer's name has been so conspicuously mentioned as a possible successor to Hunk Anderson as Notre Dame's head coach in 1934.

The Pittsburgh sector, always one of the hottest in the east, will feature the attempt of the burly Pitt Panthers to stop "litle" Duquesne, the team coached by Elmer Laydan that has rolled up eight consecutive victories. Ordinarily Pitt is one of two notches above its neighbor in the gridiron world, but the record of the "Dukes" this season is such as to warrant the chance of a big upset.

Fordham vs. N. Y. U.

New York's biggest metropolitan rivalry finds Forham the decided favorite over New York university while Columbia entertains the hard-charging Navy in a game that looks like a toss-up.

On the west coast, Stamford and Southern California may wind up in a scoreless tie unless one or the other regains offensive power so far conspicuously missing in their major contests. California appears a slight favorite over Washington. Amos Alonzo Stagg probably already regrets that his College of the Pacific team is obliged to face the giant Gaels of St. Mary's.

Alabama Favored

Along the Dixie battlefront, Alabama looks too rugged for Virginia Poly in the leading intersectional affair. South Carolina's place among the unbeaten in the Southern conference is at stake against North Carolina State. Meanwhile, Mississippi plans a surprise attack on the Tennessee Volunteers in the Southeastern circuit.

Out in the wide open spaces, Utah's Rocky Mountain champions figure to be well tested by Colorado, the high scoring team of this circuit. Arkansas aims at its fourth straight victory in the Southwest conference at the expense of Rice while Texas figures to smoke out the Baylor Bears.

Mrs. H. A. Wimberly, whose husband is a San Angelo dentist and ranch owner, is in Lubbock for several days visiting her brother, Spencer A. Wells, at Hotel Hilton.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN, No. 18

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The foremost of the charging warriors went down to quick death beneath the long, stout club of the ape-man. Now his lithe, sinewy figure was among them, striking right and left with mighty power and fury. Then over the frightful din, Tarzan lifted his voice in a series of sudden weird screams, a sound so terrible that the savages could not believe their ears.

Yet with their own eyes they had seen this white man open his mouth to pour forth his awful cry. A moment they hesitated. There came a mighty crashing in the jungle behind them. As they looked in the direction of this new noise, there broke upon their startled vision a sight that may well have frozen the blood of braver men than these black warriors.

Leaping from the tangled vegetation of the jungle's rim came a huge panther, with blazing eyes and bared fangs. And in his wake a score of ponderous, shaggy apes lurched rapidly toward them. Half erect upon their short bowed legs, their long arms reaching to the ground, the frightful horde advanced. The beasts of Tarzan had come in answer to his call!

No wonder the Wagambi blacks scattered for their lives. Heavy spears were hurled and apes went down, never to rise. Sheeta's tearing claws ripped and tore at black hides. Akut's yellow tusks found the throat of more than one glistening savage. And Tarzan of the Apes was here, there and everywhere, urging on his fierce allies, and himself taking a heavy toll with his keen knife.

that were demure, yet with a touch of sophistication. Soft, creamy lace added richness to the satin.

"Like it Pat?" Joan asked.

"It's a dream."

The saleswoman held the negligee up against Pat's shoulders. "It makes your blue eyes bluer," she smiled. "This shade would not be quite so good for you," she said to Joan, "because your eyes are darker."

"But it's for Joan," exclaimed Pat.

"Oh, I'm sorry. I thought you were—" the saleswoman broke off in confusion. Joan smiled. The woman thought Pat was selecting her own trousseau. No wonder! Joan knew that her own expression was far from bride-like.

"I'll take it," Joan said.

"But Joan!" Pat protested. "It isn't your color."

"It will do well enough," Joan said.

"Well," said Pat, "when it comes to clothes, you hold the record for enthusiasm."

It was that way with everything. Whatever Pat admired Joan purchased. "Anyone would think we were buying my trousseau," Pat said on the way home.

A number of packages had arrived before they reached the apartment and were neatly stacked on the floor of the living room, mute evidence of the busy afternoon. Joan gathered them up and carried them into the bedroom, dropping them on the window seat.

Aren't you going to unwrap them?"

"Not tonight," said Joan.

Pat thought Joan looked tired and Joan, meeting Pat's wondering eyes, thought her sister looked weary. It really was much too soon after Pat's illness for her to be on her feet all afternoon.

"I'll finish the shopping tomorrow," Joan said. "I'm afraid this afternoon was to much for you. There's not much more to get. I'll need another evening dress and a traveling outfit."

"Oh," said Pat, "you'll be going away?"

"Of course," said Joan, smiling. "Barney hasn't said anything about it recently but he used to be talking all the time about the cruise we were to take. Some place in the tropics. It's a cruise he thinks is just perfect."

"Oh," said Pat. Her voice held a hollow note.

"Pat—" began Joan wonderingly.

"It's just that I'll be lonely while you and Barney are gone," said Pat from the dressing table, behind a big powder puff.

"Six weeks will be gone before you realize it," Joan assured her. "Pat, dear, why don't you go home for a visit while we're away?"

"No," said Pat brightly. "I'd rather not. Don't worry about me! You know I'll find plenty of ways to amuse myself here." Evidently Pat was herself again.

The doorbell rang. "It's probably Barney," said Joan and turned from the window.

"Let me," said Pat, and was off like a flash. Joan heard her open the door and after a moment Barney's voice, "Well, what's happened here?"

"We've been shopping for Joan."

"For Joan?"

"Buying her things, Barney. I thought you understood why I wanted the afternoon off."

Joan did not hea rBarney's reply but when they were alone together later she said, "Barney, can you imagine Pat being upset because we'll be leaving her?"

"Leaving her?" queried Barney.

"On our trip," said Joan, wondering why she needed to explain. "Maybe we'll have to take Pat along with us."

"No!" said Barney. Joan looked at him, surprised. She had never heard his voice so vehement. She had been teasing him, of course. It was strange he had not understood that. Something had certainly gone wrong with Barney's nerves.

It was then that Joan made her decision. "Barney," she said, "let's get married soon."

Think Woman Thief Victim

Nude Body Of Woman Is Found Near Van Horn And Officers Believe That She Was Victim Of Jewel Thieves

EL PASO, Nov. 10. (AP)—An attractive woman about 35 years old, whose nude body was found near Van Horn Tuesday morning, probably was the victim of jewel robbers from whom she had been fleeing from California, Sheriff Chris P. Fox said today.

She was stripped of all clothing by the thieves for examination at their leisure for diamonds sewed in the lining, Sheriff Fox believes.

This development came after Las Cruces, N. M., police reported that a woman with a black eye, wearing gray pants, a brown coat, black boots and sun glasses jumped out of an automobile there Sunday and asked for a policeman.

She was traveling with two men in a California automobile.

"Two men in a California licensed automobile have been following us," she told Deputy sheriff Victor Royball. "They tried to run us off the road between here and Lordsburg, N. M., I think they are after my diamonds."

Roy Ball drove the woman about Las Cruces seeking the automobile she described. They could not find it and the woman and the two men with her registered at a Las Cruces hotel in separate rooms. The woman gave the name of Mrs. Lee Hirt and one man registered as J. E. Anderson, Fort Worth. The other man did not register. They left the hotel Monday.

Mystery was added to the case when attendants at a tourist camp reported that two men and a woman resembling the three who registered at the hotel, stayed at the auto camp Sunday night under the names of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Barton and E. Leonard.

Sheriff Fox thinks the same party registered at both places to confuse pursuers. The description of the woman who asked for police protection in Las Cruces is the same as that of the woman who rode with two El Pasoans from Ysleta to Fabens and there the woman was forced over her protest into an automobile by two men in a California licensed auto late Monday.

Sheriff Fox said the woman possibly left her companions at Ysleta in an effort to confuse her pursuers and had the misfortune to be discovered by the pursuers at Fabens.

Coon Huntin' Again Popular

BORGER, Nov. 10. (AP)—Coon huntin' is becoming a popular pastime in Borger again.

Local coon hunters have been stirred to action primarily because of the elusiveness of "Old Daddy Blue," who for six years has evaded the efforts of hunters to bag him. Now they are sending out invitations for hunters from the country around to "bring in your dogs and try your luck."

A party of five hunters and seven dogs made another effort for the old coon recently.

"Hunters from all over the panhandle have tried to get him with some mighty good dogs," said T. J. Moss. "We would like for anyone who enjoys the sport to bring his dogs and try to catch him."

PLANT WARMS VATICAN

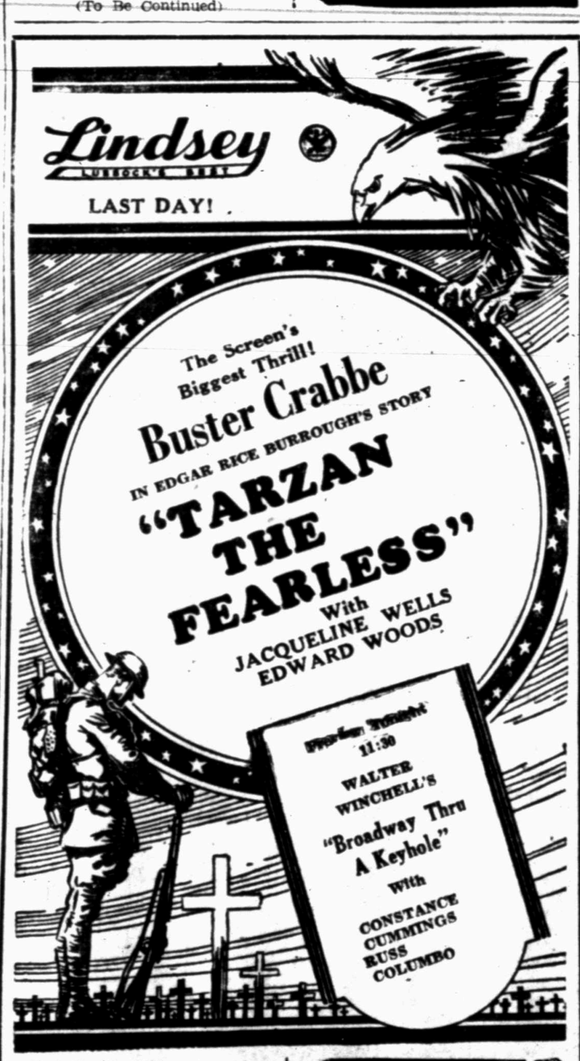

VATICAN CITY, (AP)—A new hot water heating plant operated by electricity will warm residents of the Holy See this coming winter. Current comes from the powerful generating plant which lights the pope's domain.

AFTER THE "FLU"

Mr. W. H. Yount of 849 E. Dale St., Springfield, Mo., said: "Quite a few years ago I had the flu and it left me with a hacking cough and a soreness in my chest. I had no energy. I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it straightened me up in good shape, the cough disappeared and I had real 'pep' and strength." Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y.
